Clay Is Called Home To Give Berlin Report

By GEORGE BRIA
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Wednesday, July 21.—Gen. Lucjus D. Clay, American commander in Germany, flew to Washington last night in an Army plane. He will report on the growing Berlin crisis.

Clay took off from Frankfurt, accompanied by his political adviser, Robert Murphy, and will outline current strife with the Russians to the Department of the Army.

Before he left, announcement was made that American air power in Germany would be bolstered by 75 jet-propelled fighter planes.

The American moves followed a surprise Russian announcement that they were prepared to supply all of Berlin with food. The Russian announcement was labelled "propaganda" by Allied spokesmen who tended to discount it in view of the fact that it would defeat the apparent purpose of the Russian blockade of Berlin.

Jets May Be Escorts

U. S. Spokesmen in England said that 75 "Shooting Star" jets, comprising a full group of fighters, would arrive in Scotland Aug. 4 on the aircraft carrier Sicily, and would be flown to Germany—but not to Berlin.

Another 16 fighters of the same type are enroute to Germany in the first east-bound jet crossing of the Atlantic. In addition 60 giant B-29 Superfortresses have arrived at three RAF air fields in England for "training missions."

There was some speculation the jets might be used as escorts for the flying freight wagons now supplying blockaded Berlin with food, if the western powers decided that step is necessary.

Counter-Measures Studied

The report of Clay and Murphy, the top American policy makers in Germany, is expected to play a major part in deciding the next American step in the battle to break the Russian blockade. Sharp counter-measures have been reported under consideration since Russia refused to yield to stiff protest notes from Britain, France and the United States. Proposals have ranged from excluding Russians from Allied routes in other parts of the world to the drastic step of sending an armed supply convoy through Russian barriers.

The Russian promise to supply food to Western Berliners was not put into practice today. The Russians said they would help feed all of the city's residents, including 2,000,000 in the western sectors, with the aid of 100,000 tons of bread and grain to be shipped from the Soviet Union.

Skeptical Of Offer

Both the American and British military governments were skeptical of the Russian offer. Gen. Clay said "the proof is in the performance, not in the statement."

Registration For Draft To Start Aug. 30

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 20.—President Truman today ordered all American men 18 through 25 to register for the draft between Aug. 30 and Sept. 18.

No one would predict when actual inductions will begin. But this can not be before Sept. 22, or 90 days after Mr. Truman signed the draft bill making it law.

Eighteen-year-olds, not subject to the 21-month draft, may begin enlisting in the armed services tomorrow. By volunteering for one-year and then serving a longer period in the reserves they may avoid the draft later. By law only 161,000 of the 18-year-olds may be accepted.

All Must Register

Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey, selective service director, emphasized that all men 18 through 25, unless they already are in the active armed services, must register.

Whether or not a man is exempt from the draft makes no difference, he said. All must register, unless they now are in the regular forces and on active duty.

General Hershey estimated that this means approximately 9,500,000 men will sign up at America's 4,000 draft offices in the 20-day period beginning Aug. 30.

The registration dates are staggered, with men 25 signing up first, men 24 next, and so on.

Registration Dates Set

President Truman's proclamation calling for registration set these dates—

Men born in 1922 after Aug. 30 will register first of all on Aug. 30. These are men of 25, about 300,000 of them, who would be ineligible after one more birthday.

Next to register will be all born in the year 1923. Some of these will be 24, some 25. But all born in 1923 will register Aug. 31-Sept. 1.

Persons born in 1924 will register Sept. 2-3; 1925, Sept. 4 or Sept. 7; 1926, Sept. 8-9; 1927, Sept. 10-11; 1928, Sept. 13-14; 1929, Sept. 15-16; and persons born in 1930 before Sept. 19 must register Sept. 17-18.

Boys born on or about Sept. 19, 1930, will register on their eighteenth birthday, or within five days of it.

Registration will take place in the United States, Alaska, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and the Virgin islands.

Just because registration dates are ordered by age groups does not mean men will be drafted in that order, selective service headquarters said today.

"This has not been decided yet," they said.

Neither has it been decided how many men will be called That, said selective service, is up to the Army, and will depend a lot on how many volunteers are signed up.

"The Army orders men, and we

City Expenses Show Sharp Hike In Year

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of three discussions of the proposed city budget for the fiscal year which started last April 1 upon which the city commission has scheduled a public hearing at the city hall Thursday at 2 p. m.)

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

ACTUAL operating expenses for the city of Lubbock, as proposed in the new budget, have climbed more than 20 per cent in one year—from $1,232,577 last year to $1,580,244 for this year.

Of the larger amount, $1,038,895 is for "general" departments, such as police, fire, health and others. Last year this was $779,536. Electric department expenses have increased from $312,466 to $372,782 and waterworks from $140,575 to $168,567. In 1941, the last pre-war year, the electric department operation cost only $137,592 and waterworks only $65,492. The costs have skyrocketed since then.

KIEFER

Costliest in operation of all city departments is the electric. The budget provides, in round figures, $60,000 more for it than last year. Of this increase, about $24,000 is in salaries. Supplies bought from low bidders and maintenance account for most of the rest.

The biggest salary increase in the department is proposed for Truman Green, superintendent. The budget gives him a boost of a flat $100 a month to a total of $580 a month, including the $80-plus cost-of-living bonus. Most of the remainder of the increase is provided for skilled workmen. The city has had to pay them more to hold them.

Salaries in the department are pretty good. Typists get $170 a month, including bonus. Clerks get $200 up; mechanics $270 up; meter readers $220 up. A night-watchman is paid $230. Salaries account for about $186,000 of the departmental budget — almost exactly half.

The same general picture applies in the water department. Salaries account for almost exactly half of the $28,000 increase proposed in the budget. The largest would go to N. B. McCullough, superintendent, who would get $75 a month more, boosting him to $515, including bonus.

City offciials contend that either Green or McCullough could make more elsewhere than the city proposes to pay them.

City Gains From Setup

Despite increased operating costs, the electric and water departments are shown as highly profitable enterprises for the city.

Gross revenue of the electric department is estimated at $825,000, which probably is conservative. Thus it is expected to pay for its own operations, provide $152,138 to apply on revenue bonds voted last year, pay for $46,025 and still leave a net operating profit of $254,000 for the general fund.

The net from the water department is estimated even higher—at $350,000, not including $90,000 in permanent improvements to be paid out of earnings during the year. In 1941, the net from the electric department was $311,000 and from waterworks an even $200,000.

The estimate net from the two

State Tax Rate To Be Slashed

AUSTIN, July 20 (AP) — Taxpaying Texans will see a 30-cent per $100 valuation drop in their state property tax bills for this year.

The automatic tax board today set the ad valorem tax rate at 42 cents per $100 valuation, as compared with the current 72 cents.

The reduction came from an extremely healthy condition of state finances which is expected to continue through the next fiscal year. State Comptroller George H. Sheppard estimated the general revenue fund would have a bulging $96,524,990 by the end of the 1948-49 fiscal year, eliminating necessity for the statutory 30-cent general revenue tax to be levied this year.

Levy For Colleges Made

The 42-cent levy included 35 cents per $100 valuation for the available school fund, two cents for Confederate pensions, and five cents for college building bonds.

It was the first levy for the college building bonds, authorized by a constitutional amendment adopted at the polls last August.

Army Equipment Is Reported On Move

SALINA, Kas., July 20 (AP)—A heavy rail movement of Army equipment from Camp Phillips to the eastern coast, bound for England, appeared to be underway today but a cloak of silence was drawn tightly about the operation.

It was understood through a source, considered reliable but who refused to be quoted, that 240 flat cars were loaded with gun carriages, vehicles, ambulances, and command cars.

The shipment was reported to have been designated for Liverpool, England, but no one in an official Army capacity would comment.

Texas Farmer Sits In Mexican Jail After Labor Hunting Trip

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD
Associated Press Staff Writer

REYNOSA, Mexico, July 20.—H. Edwin Harris, Rio Grande valley farmer, passed his 24th hour in the community cell of a Mexican jail here tonight, charged with trying to hire five cotton pickers to harvest the crop on his 115-acre Lyford, Texas, farm.

Harris, a graduate of Texas A. & M., onetime State department employe and an intelligence officer in the second world war told the Associated Press in a telephone interview:

"Hiring cotton pickers from Mexico to harvest crops in the valley has been going on as long as I can remember. I knew it was supposed to be against the law but I didn't figure anyone took it seriously on either side of the river.

Hopes For Private Cell

"I can see now how wrong I was I am in a vermin-infested cell with about 150 people. At first, all I could think of was getting out. Now all I'm hoping for is to get into a private cell. I think I'm going to get sprung tomorrow morning but right now

One Person Dead In Mine Blast

McCURTAIN, Okla., July 20 (AP)—Rescue crews searched the fire-seared Lone Star coal mine here late today for Lars Vinge, 54, missing after an explosion that killed a fellow miner.

Millard Hatley, 27, died of suffocation after the blast, which general mine superintendent Campbell Cameron said was set off by the derailment of a loaded string of coal cars in the main shaft.

Nineteen other workers walked to safety through a vertical airshaft of the slope-type mine.

Search Is Underway

Cameron said 10 men were in the shaft seeking Vinge, including four of those who escaped.

The mine chief said the searchers were entering the mine through the air shaft, down a 364-foot stairway. The fire, he said, was burning between the shaft and the mine's mouth.

"We'll let the fire go until we see what the chances are of finding Vinge," Cameron said. "We'll probably be here all night."

The mine, operated by the Lone Star Steel Co., was just starting production after having been closed since August, 1945. In full operation, it employs between 75 and 100 men. One of several properties in the area operated by the company, it is only two miles from another coal shaft where 73 miners perished in a March 20, 1912, disaster.

Ford, Auto Workers Union Fail To Reach Agreement

DETROIT, July 20 (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. and the CIO-United Auto Workers ended the first of their new stop-strike wage talks today with no sign of having reached an agreement.

Meeting for five hours after a six-day halt in the negotiations, both sides left the session with a terse "no comment."

They agreed, however, to meet again Wednesday (2 p. m.).

When the session broke up, union negotiators went into a private and unexplained conference—possibly to discuss the setting of a strike date.

Jewish-Arab Fighting Mars Truce Order

By BENN FELLER
INS Staff Correspondent

TEL AVIV, July 20—Full-scale Jewish-Syrian fighting was reported tonight in Palestine's extreme northeastern "finger" in violation of the United Nations truce.

Syrians and Israelis also clashed at Tel Aziziyat, in Syrian territory four miles east of the Palestine border.

Sporadic fighting broke out in the Palestine central plain, south of Haifa, and on the Egyptian front in southern Palestine. Unidentified planes flew over Haifa, but dropped no bombs.

Attacks Are Repulsed

(On the Mediterranean island of Rhodes, UN mediator Count Folke Bernadotte announced he will begin new Arab-Jewish peace negotiations in a few days. He said his first task will be to establish supervisory bodies.)

Two Syrian attempts to cross the Jordan river between Lake Hule and Lake Tiberias in northern Palestine were repulsed. Jews said that the Syrians sustained "heavy losses."

Israeli planes bombed the Syrian village of Banias, about a mile across the northern frontier.

The battling in this region apparently is based on last-minute efforts by both sides to solidify what has been "a fluid front" throughout the Holy Land war.

Aircraft Driven Off

(A Damascus communique said that Jewish attempts to capture Tel Aziziyat had been repulsed. The Syrians said the Jews launched mortar and aerial attacks against the town, but that Arab forces "replied effectively."

((The communique also said that an Israeli aircraft raid on Capernaum on Lake Tiberias had been driven off.)

Jewish sources said that Egyptian forces in the south tried unsuccessfully to cut an Israeli supply route to Zionist settlements in the Negev desert.

Egyptian armor was said to have attacked the town of Hatta, 10 miles east of the Egyptian base of Al Majdal.

French Seeking Strong Leader

PARIS, July 20. (AP)—The names Edouard Herriot and Paul Reynaud were most mentioned for premier tonight as the French searched for a strong government to speak for them in the four-power dealings they expect over Berlin.

Premier Robert Schuman resigned last night after the Socialists quit his cabinet and voted against his defense budget.

Friends of former Premier Herriot were especially anxious to have the 76-year-old president of the National Assembly come back and head the government through what one of them described as the "trying months ahead."

Politicians Worried

Reynaud, last premier before the surrender of the Germans in 1940, was opposed in some quarters because his name is linked with the disaster of 1940.

But some of those close to Herriot were afraid he was too old and feeble to take over the government.

Politicians seemed worried about what they had done in forcing Schuman's resignation, especially when the news from Berlin seemed more disquieting than ever. Socialists who voted against the cabinet blamed Schuman's Popular Republican movement for refusing the $40,000,000 defense budget cut they demanded The Radical Socialists, the most conservative of the three groups in the cabinet, blamed both the others.

Lubbock Man Is Injured As Cars Collide Tuesday Night

James Henry Kee, 49, of 702 Ave. E. was taken to West Texas hospital by a Plains ambulance for treatment of possible neck injuries last night about 6:40 p. m., after the car he was driving was in collision with one driven by Clifton A. Rozell, 35, of Canyon camp, at Main street and Ave. H, just north of the courthouse.

Kee was going north across Main on Ave. H and Rozell was making a left turn off Ave. H onto Main. The Rozell vehicle struck that driven by Kee on the left side, doing considerable damage to both automobiles. The accident occurred about 6:40 p. m.

Patrolmen Lassiter and Wilkes of the city police investigated. Kee was unconscious upon arrival at West Texas hospital, but later regained consciousness. Rozell was charged with negligent collision.

14 Paint Companies Indicted On Federal Anti-Trust Charges

PITTSBURGH, July 20 (AP) — The U. S. government today charged some of the nation's largest manufacturers in the billion dollar paint industry with conspiracy to fix prices of paints and wood finishes.

Indictments handed down in federal district court here named 14 companies which make nearly half the nation's paints, varnishes, enamels and lacquers, and 20 officials of these firms.

Attorney General Tom Clark said at Washington the cases were instituted as part of the anti-trust program aimed at "illegal conspiracies" in the housing field.

TUNE IN SATURDAY NIGHT!

Avalanche-Journal And KFYO To Be Election Party Hosts

THE Avalanche-Journal will be host to the South Plains throughout Saturday night in a big Election Returns party over Radio Station KFYO, 1340 on your dial.

As is customary on election nights, The Avalanche-Journal's election reports—covering state, district and precinct races—will be given the public as soon as they are received and compiled.

From governor to constable, results in all races will be tabulated and carried forward throughout the night, so the public may keep abreast of its actions at the polls.

Wires of the Texas Election Bureau will bring in state reports, covering all races, including legislative and congressional. The State Senate race in this district will be covered, county by county, through co-operation of The Avalanche-Journal, the Big Spring Herald, and the Plainview Herald. Reports of important races in neighboring counties will be gathered and compiled by The Avalanche-Journal's own staff, which also will handle reports on the voting in all Lubbock county precincts.

DEWEY MANAGER SCORES RECALL

Special Session Can't Pass GOP Platform, Leader Says

By JOHN BOWEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 20—The Thomas E. Dewey camp said today that the 1948 Republican platform can't possibly be written into law by what it called the "rump" session of Congress starting next Monday.

Herbert Brownell, jr., Governor Dewey's campaign manager, handed down the word. He told a news conference—

"The Republican platform calls for the enactment of a program by a Republican Congress under the leadership of a Republican president.

"Obviously, this cannot be done at a rump session called at a political convention for political purposes in the heat of a political campaign."

Truman Criticised

Brownell wouldn't say what he meant by "rump" session, but his criticism was leveled at President Truman's announcement of the Congress call when he accepted the Democratic nomination last week at Philadelphia.

At that time, Mr. Truman ticked off a list of measures he wants passed. Many of these, he said, the Republicans supported in their platform. He said he would give them a chance to carry out their pledges.

Brownell issued his statement after discussing the substance of it, he said, with Dewey.

He said it would be wrong to read into the statement any idea that Dewey wants Congress to take no action at the forthcoming session.

Congressional leaders undoubtedly will meet early next week, Brownell said, to discuss what the session can and should do.

The session may open with a filibuster.

A Republican leader, Senator Wherry of Nebraska, hinted broad-

LUBBOCK POLL

Johnson Boosts Lead In Survey

Voters in Lubbock and vicinity will go to their respective voting places Saturday, and cast more votes for U. S. Senate candidate Lyndon B. Johnson than for either of his two major opponents combined, if a public opinion poll taken this week on the streets and sidewalks of Lubbock is indicative.

Roger Southall, an Avalanche-Journal reporter went out on the streets with a total of 513 ballots and a sealed ballot box. Each ballot had on it the following words, "For United States Senator I favor ....." Following were the names of the three senatorial candidates, Lyndon Johnson, George B. Peddy, and Coke Stevenson, with a blank beside each. Persons polled, all patently of voting age, were asked to indicate the candidate they favored, after which they folded their ballot and placed it in the sealed box, which was not opened until the poll had been completed.

Totals Are Given

The reporter then tabulated the results. Ten of the ballots were eliminated from the count, because voters had failed to indicate a favorite, had "no opinion", or had otherwise mutilated the ballots.

Tabulation of the remaining 503 ballots showed:

Lyndon Johnson	290
George Peddy	55
Coke Stevenson	158

Thus, candidate Johnson received 77 more votes than the combined ballots cast for his opponents.

In a poll taken week before last on the same candidates, 350 potential voters were asked to indicate their favorite candidates. Similarly, a number of the ballots were disqualified from the final count because of voters' failure to

Scattered Rains Fall Over South Plains

While Lubbock failed to get any rain from the Tuesday afternoon thundershowers that hung high on the horizon, the city did get something else, the hottest day of July, a sweltering 99 degree reading between 3:30 and 4 p. m., according to the weather station north of town.

The only precipitation that "counted" was measured at Bledsoe, Amherst and Muleshoe where .25 inch of rain was reported during the afternoon. Showers also fell at Littlefield, Levelland and Morton, but scarcely heavy enough to aid the farmers.

The Weather man continued to boost area farmers' hopes for rain. However he refused to pledge a general downpour, but confined his forecast for today to "scattered afternoon and evening thundershowers." And, temperatures today are predicted to be about the same as Tuesday despite partly cloudy skies.

EMPORIA ALMOST ISOLATED

Flood Waters Threaten Several Kansas Towns; Warnings Issued

SOUTHEAST and central sections of Kansas were threatened today by major floods of streams fed by up to six inches of torrential rain in the last 24 hours.

Warnings of possible widespread flash floods were issued by U. S. Weather bureau river forecasters.

One hundred persons were reported evacuated at the small town of Saffordville.

Three National guard officers and 20 enlisted men were sent to Abilene after city officials appealed for help in flood evacuation. Special warnings were issued at Iola and Burlington to expect "the worst floods ever."

Iola and Burlington are on the Neosho river. The Neosho and the Cottonwood are out of their banks along virtually the entire length of the upper reaches.

Iola lies on comparatively high ground and is not seriously endangered, but thousands of acres of rich crop land are in the flood area.

Emporia, lying between the Neosho and Cottonwood rivers, was virtually isolated today as the latter stream rose to a record high

Reds Indicted For Plotting Against U.S.

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, July 20—Twelve U. S. Communist party leaders and members were indicted today on charges of advocating the overthrow of the United States government.

Among them was William Z. Foster, head of the Communist party of America.

Seven of the group, including General Secretary Eugene V. Dennis, were arrested and arraigned on the charges.

The others, named along with the first seven in secret indictments returned by a federal grand jury investigating alleged subversive activities, were being sought.

"Frame-Up" Charged

A formal statement by the Communist party, released a few minutes before the seven were arraigned, denied the charges and characterized them as a "monstrous frame-up."

One of the group was arrested and arraigned in Detroit, Mich., tonight. He was Carl Winters, 41, chairman of the Michigan state council of the Communist party and a member of the party's national committee.

The others were taken into custody in New York City. All those arraigned here entered pleas of innocent, and the same plea was entered for Winters in Detroit.

City Official Arrested

The other four under arrest were

New York City councilman Benjamin Davis; John B. Williamson, trade union secretary for the party; Henry Winston, party organizational secretary; and Jacob Stachel, educational secretary.

All 12 indicted were identified by federal authorities as members of the Communist party's national board. Davis and Winston are negroes.

The five being sought were identified as:

Irving Potash, manager of the CIO furriers joint council of New York City; John Gates, editor since July, 1947, of the Daily Worker, official organ of the Communist party in the United States; Robert G. Thompson, chairman of the New York state Communist party; Gilbert Green of Chicago,

Trial Ends In Hung Jury Here

The murder trial of Walter Eckels of Slaton, former deputy constable, resulted in a hung jury late Tuesday night and Judge G. V Pardue of 99th district court declared a mistrial

The jury, which had deliberated from shortly before 6 p. m. to 11:45 p. m. was deadlocked six to six, it was unofficially reported, and had been divided about the same during numerous ballots.

Eckels, a deputy constable at the time, was charged in the shooting of Clyde Tune May 22 in the railroad yards at Slaton.

Defense Rests Case

The defense rested its case at noon Tuesday, and rebuttal testimony was offered by the state in the afternoon. The defense, Judge Pardue said, had predicated "two incompatible defenses"—accidental homicide and self-defense, but indicated the jury would have to decide between the two claims.

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin represented the state, assisted by Assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr and special prosecutor Roy Sansing of Higgins. E .A. Blair and Grady West were counsel for the defense.

George G. Hall was foreman of a jury otherwise composed of W. L. Harris, I. W. White, Buel Hall, Joe S. McIlhaney, G. W. Williams, R. J. Maloney, J. W. Cox, R. E. Jones, Albert Owens, Eck Wheeler and C. C. Files.

Financier Urges More Positive Policy In East-West Dispute

NEW YORK, July 20. (INS)—Financier James P. Warburg charged tonight that the present deterioration in East-West relations could be arrested if the United States proposed a positive plan of action.

The noted economist and financial adviser to the 1933 London world economic conference suggested that the plan should call for the withdrawal of all armed forces west of the Soviet frontier and a treaty guaranteeing of the neutrality of the entire European continent.

He told Columbia university faculty and students:

"This, combined with an agreement to promote rather than obstruct East-West trade, would relieve the present tensions and free the European nations from the burden of supporting essentially useless military establishments."

Opposition To Plan Seen

Warburg admitted that many Americans would oppose the evacuation of Europe by the western powers because of widespread belief that the Soviet Union would not stick to its agreement.

He also acknowledged that opponents to his plan might say the Russians could return to the evacuated areas—chiefly Germany—more easily than British and American contingents once they were withdrawn across the channel or across the Atlantic.

"To this", he said, "I would reply:

"First, that, sooner or later, we shall in any case have to believe in the possibility of reaching an agreement that will be kept—or else accept the inevitability of war.

Second, that, by withdrawing our forces from the continent we should not be giving up an effective physical barrier to a Russian advance, but merely a psychological barrier, which exists because the presence of our handful of soldiers makes it clear that a Red army advance would start a shooting war.

"Much the same sort of psychological barrier would be erected by the proposed treaty.

"Neither with or without their present contingents on the continent would Britain and the United States be able to prevent the Red army from over-running Western Europe; they would, in either case, have to embark upon a war to subjugate Russia and once again liberate Europe from occupation."

Monotonous California Weather Drives Man Into Arms Of Law

MINEOLA, N. Y., July 20 (U.P.)—Conrad Simonis, 43, faced trial on an abandonment charge today because he didn't like California weather.

He was arrested yesterday on a two-year-old complaint charging him with abandoning his wife and four children. Appearing in Nassau county court, he explained that he had successfully fought extradition while in California, but the weather had driven him home and into the arms of the law.

"I spent $4,000 successfully fighting extradition," he said. "But that monotonous California weather got me. Always bright and sunny. Day after day, bright and sunny. I couldn't stand it."

Simonis was released in $1,000 bail for trial during the fall term after pleading innocent to the charge.

U.S. Bomber Is Held On Azores

SANTA MARIA, Azores, July 20 (AP)—The flying fortress which landed here after an unauthorized trans-Atlantic hop, is reportedly loaded with bombs. One of its passengers has admitted he is en route to Palestine. He has no passport.

The mysterious B-17 bomber which flew from Halifax to the Azores in 11 hours without a radio and with one engine cowling missing, is being held by Portuguese authorities with the agreement of the American consul in the Azores.

It was detained under an international regulation covering undocumented aircraft, when it landed at the Santa Maria airport Sunday.

Boston Flight Declared

The ship flew here after its pilot Irwin R. Schindler of Miami, Fla., had told Canadian authorities he was going to Boston.

The bomber was impounded by Canadian officials last week when it landed in Halifax after a flight from an airport in Westchester county, N. Y.

(Air officials in Halifax said last night there was a good possibility the craft landed at an isolated emergency field before flying the ocean where nine extra passengers and extra cargo were taken aboard when it landed here.)

U. S. Probe Underway

The U. S. Coast guard had a plane ready on Saturday which was to have escorted the bomber back to the United States from Halifax. However, the B-17 took off unescorted and switched off all its lights as soon as it was airborne. It carried only two parachutes. There also was a spare engine aboard.

(In Washington State department officials said the crew may be returned to the U. S. They said U. S. Consul Clifford R. Wharton has been sent to Santa Maria from Ponta Delgada, Madiera, to investigate the case. No State department license has been issued for the plane.

One of the passengers—Philip Mark — has no passport. He says he lost it when he left Halifax.

Garland Motor Plant Placed On Auction Block By WAA

GRAND PRAIRIE, July 20 (U.P.)—The former Conintental Motors plant at Garland will go on the auction block on Friday, August 20, WAA officials announced today.

The modern, air-conditioned plant, built at a cost to the government of $2,000,000, has 193 000 square feet of floor space in the main factory, WAA said.

Kearl Wallace, regional WAA director, was notified by Arthur May of Washington to hold the auction. May is director of WAA industrial divisions.

The former Continental plant has been described as one of the best pieces of property in the southwestern WAA area's offerings.

Hope Abandoned For Mexican Labor Aid

DALLAS, July 20 (AP)—Jay C. Stilley, executive secretary of the Texas Cotton Ginners association, said today "it is my opinion that under no circumstances will we receive contract labor from Mexico this year."

Stilley, just returned from Mexico City, where he sought to have the Mexican government lift a ban on the sending of laborers to Texas, made the statement in a bulletin to association members. The ban was laid down last year because of alleged discrimination against Mexicans in Texas.

Many Interviews Held

Stilley reported that he interviewed 20 Mexican government leaders and Walter Thurston, U. S. Ambassador to Mexico. He said Manuel Aguilar, head of the consular section of the Mexican foreign office, gave him this statement:

"It is with regret that we inform you that government officials have not changed their stand regarding contract labor for Texas for 1948. Lack of positive action by Texas to stop discrimination against persons of Mexican descent as well as nationals was the deciding factor in foreign office consultations on the matter, which have gone as far as President Miguel Aleman.".

Tests Give Indication Of New Oil Field Northeast Of Olney

DALLAS, July 20. (AP)—Tests indicate a new Mississippi lime oil field at a wildcat well two miles northeast of Olney in Archer county.

At the J. J. Lynn no. 1 Jack Neale, located in 2-BS&F (A. P. Neale survey), oil flowed on a drill stem test yesterday at 5,198-208 feet. Mississippi lime was topped at 5,168 and it logged dry Mississippi at 5,168 feet. Oil saturated lime was logged at 5,198-208

In a drill steam test, it showed gas in six minutes and flowed oil after an hour. It was shut in and it cleaned itself of oil in the drill pipe.

Operator was preparing to set oil string around 5,178 feet. Bottomhole pressure was 2,875 pounds in fifteen minutes, considerably higher than normal. The discovery prospect is four miles west of Caddo and Mississippi lime production drilled by H. W. Snowden and Bobbie Burns on the Morrison lease.

Moss has been found growing in al old hat abandoned high in the Alps by a mountain climber.

THAN THEIR YEARS

How do you feel at the end of a day? Is that old time pep and drive lacking? Have you checked-up on your blood strength lately? Thousands now regaining glowing good looks and vitality through the release of vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a general run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Many Voters Believe Wallace's Third Party Is Run By Reds

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., July 20 — Perhaps one of the reasons why the Wallace Third Party has not been able to increase its following is the belief held by many American voters that communists dominate the party.

Politicians of both major parties have tried to pin the communist tag on the followers of Henry A. Wallace since his party was launched six months ago. Apparently their efforts have succeeded, because when a national cross-section of voters are asked whether they agree or disagree that the Wallace Third Party is run by communists, these are their answers:

Yes, run by communists	51%
No, not run by communists	21
No opinion	28

Politically speaking, it makes slight difference whether the charge is accurate or not, because obviously voters cast their ballots according to their own personal beliefs. Wallace himself has made several denials of the charge, and there is some speculation that his Third Party will openly break with the communists during the Philadelphia convention which begins today.

Even among groups of voters to whom it supposedly makes the greatest appeal, the communist label for the Third Party is strongly accepted. These include younger voters, farmers, and union members. However, the large group of independent voters, among whom Wallace will have to recruit a major part of his following, are less inclined to say the party is dominated by communists. The following table gives the figures by occupation, age and party affiliation:

Occupation	Agree	Disagree	No opin.
Prof. & Bus.	54%	28%	18%
White Collar	51	25	24
Farmer	54	16	30
Manual	49	18	33
Union Members	48	22	30
Age
21-29 years	47	27	26
30-49 years	50	22	28
50 & over	53	17	30
Party Affiliation
Republicans	59	16	25
Democrats	50	19	31
Independents	42	32	26

While the Wallace Third Party has been tagged as communistic the two major parties themselves are far from free of damaging labels. For instance, when people are asked whether they believe it to be true that "the Republican Party is run by a few big businessmen of the country," this is what they say:

Yes, run by a few big businessmen	47%
No, not run by a few big businessmen	37
No opinion	16

Voters in the survey were also asked whether they agreed or disagreed with this statement: "The Democratic Party is run by labor leaders of the country?" The answer to this question were:

Yes, run by labor leaders	40%
No, not run by labor leaders	43
No opinion	17

When it comes to the two major parties there is considerably more disagreement among the various population groups as to whether the statements are true or false. But a third or more of all groups agree with the accusations of outside control.

Party orators will constantly reiterate these charges throughout the campaign. Polls taken in later stages of the campaign will reflect any material changes in voter attitudes.

Dr. Rhee Named First Head Of New Korean Republic

SEOUL, July 20. (INS)—Dr. Syngman Rhee, 73, a conservative veteran of the Korean independence movement, was elected today as first president of the Korean republic, recently proclaimed by the national assembly in Seoul.

The American-educated rightist leader received 180 of the assembly's ballots as against 13 cast for the moderate rightest leader, Kim Koo, who favors unity negotiations with Koreans in the Russian-occupied north.

Rhee, a descendant of the old Korean kingdom's last dynasty, was eduacted at George Washington, Princeton, and Harvard universities and was active in Korean independence activities in Hawaii, China and the United States. He is a staunch anti-Communist.

The aged patriot Lee Si Yung was elected vice president of the republic.

Dallas County Justice Of Peace Candidate Succumbs

DALLAS, July 20 (U.P.)—Roy Alderson, 63-year-old attorney who was a candidate for the Dallas county justice of the peace post for precinct 1, place 2, died of a heart attack at his home about 9 a. m. today.

Alderson, who has been serving as chief clerk in Justice of the Peace Lew Sterrett's court, was found dead in bed by his wife, police said.

Alderson's opponents in the race to name a successor to Sterrett, who is running for county judge, were to have been Pierce McBride and H. B. (Buddy) Dyer.

Alderson had been endorsed by the Dallas County Bar association for the position.

Sudden Decline Is Reported In Nation's Crude Oil Production

TULSA, Okla., July 20 (U.P.) — The nation's crude oil producers reversed a trend by showing a decrease in production after weeks of setting new records, the Oil & Gas Journal reported today. Average daily production for the week ending July 17 was 5,439,875, a decrease of 35,580 barrels from the previous week.

Texas accounted for most of the decline with a loss of 37,025 barrels. Oklahoma declined 4,700, Michigan 1,150, Colorado 1,860 and the eastern area 1,250 barrels.

Kansas chalked up a major gain of 5,250 barrels and other increases were reported by Kentucky with 1,400, Mississippi, up 1,220, and Montana 1,050.

Production in Florida and Nebraska remained unchanged.

Hungary produces 700,000 tons of raw steel per year. That is more than the combined steel production of Rumania, Yugoslavia and Turkey.

Tune in Henry J. Taylor, Mutual Network, Mondays and Fridays

The Woman's Angle
By Margaret Turner

THE American woman movement, which once packed political dynamite, has collapsed because women have frittered away their power at the polls, Susan B. Anthony, II, grandniece of the nineteenth century's champion of women's rights, declares in an article in a current national weekly. "The crusade for women's rights, launched with a shout a century ago, has subsided to clubroom murmurings and a few pieces of commemorative statuary." Miss Anthony says in a thought provoking article, "We Women Throw Our Votes Away." "The stupid tradition that political party action is unwomanly has been kept alive by the inept tactics of major women's organizations. There are exceptions, but most clubs shrink from practical politics . . . American women haven't formed a voting bloc, nor have they joined political parties in enough strength to the men's game. Consequently they have not won their economic and legal rights."

If the 43,000,000 women in America voted together," we would make the much feared veterans vote look like political popcorn," Miss Anthony declared. "We probably could name the next president of the United States, the author says. "But we won't. "Women had trifling influence, if any, on decisions made this summer at the Republican and Democratic conventions."

THE Woman's Angle thinks that women are losing out in the political field because they have not taken it seriously enough. Just out of curiosity we queried the last fifty women we talked with about their preferences at the polls Saturday. It was disheartening to discover that many were not even going to vote because they had so little interest; others said they could not express an opinion before they talked with their husbands; some said they thought politics, like religion, is personal and not to be discussed with just anyone.

One woman said she didn't bother to vote because she always thought they were enough people without her vote being needed. An alarming number had failed to pay their poll taxes. Of course some women were interested, knew for whom their votes would be cast and said they enjoy the privilege of suffrage.

BACK to Miss Anthony. Women have done little with the ballot to write "equal pay for equal work" into law, she said and housewives have no more economic independence now than they did 100 years ago. Women still meet formidable obstacles in entering the professions; are still the victims of old, discriminatory and civil rights laws. And what does she propose:

That women get into political parties with the men, because that is where issues are decided. Unless they do take an interest in what is going on and what is decided by popular vote, women have no right to "blather about their duties as citizens," or their "duties as workers."

AN airmail letter was received in Lubbock Monday from an Alabama ex-serviceman, now a junior law student, who signed his name only as Frank. He is in love with a girl named "Betsy," and has reason to believe that he may be able to get in touch with her through a Mrs. J. Van Page, whom he believes to have recently moved to Lubbock from Lamar, Colo. If anyone knows Mrs. Van Page or "Betsy" he is asked to reach Frank at either of the following addresses: RFD, Route 1, Box 259, Montgomery, Ala., or c/o Dr. John Greene, Whistler, Ala.

CONTROL LEGISLATION STUDIED

Foreign Agents Said Entering U.S. Through UN 'Loopholes'

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 20—Congress today made public a State department disclosure that hundreds of subversive agents, linked with Soviet-trained "terrorists," are entering the United States through the United Nations and other international organizations.

At the same time the State department official in charge of diplomatic visas declared that a "higher authority" in the department ordered an alien admitted to the country despite evidence that the visitor had distributed subversive propaganda.

"Loopholes Described"

The official, William Harlow, told a Senate immigration subcommittee—the same group which described the UN "loopholes"—that under the UN organization act "conceivably they could bring one hundred thousand" subversives into this country.

Harlow explained that under the act the U. S. must grant visas for UN personnel and other persons accredited to the world organization.

He did not name the "higher authority" or the individual he ordered admitted. He charged that "every representative of an iron curtain country is a threat to the security of the United States; otherwise they would never get out of their own country."

A subcommittee spokesman said another official of the State department submitted information some time ago on the UN loopholes. The subcommittee will draft legislation seeking to end the practice.

Warning Sounded

The official, Robert C. Alexander, chief of the department's entire visa division, warned:

"The question has arisen whether we are not going to build up in this country within the next few years a large number of people who have no sympathy for us or our form of government, and yet who are brought here under cover of the international organization immunity act, and whom we can't get rid of. . ."

He estimated that between 15,000 and 20,000 persons have entered the United States through connection with the UN and other international groups.

Alexander cited the example of a foreign journalist who he said "is conferring here with other persons who were trained in terroristic activities behind the iron curtain."

The subcommittee held three hearings today to coordinate its findings for submission to Congress when it reconvenes in special session Monday. Revelations by witnesses included:

. . . R. Clyde Larkin, chief of the State department's visa security division, admitted that his office is "five or six months" behind in checking on visa-holders suspected of being subversive. He said 868 such cases are on the backlog list.

. . . Harlow reported that potentially subversive foreigners roam the nation at will, instead of being restricted to the vicinity of UN headquarters. He observed that "one even attended a news conference of the secretary of state."

Air Lines Station Here To Enter National Contest

Taking part in the OTO (On-Time-Operation) contest in August to attempt to find the "best station in the nation" will be Continental Air lines' Lubbock station.

Special emphasis will be aimed at station delays.

Continental Air lines have offered to provide a three-day expense-paid vacation on its system, with transportation for the winning station manager and two of his agents.

Information has not been received here what other lines will participate in the national contest. Braniff airways plan to participate here on a local basis, whether or not taking part on a national basis.

Braniff and Continental, operating with the same personnel at the field, will work to outdo the other in their on time-operation records. Keeping records constantly of such operations, they each have recorded one delay of two minutes each this month. The delays are recorded if the flight is longer than 10 minutes going out after time of arrival. They are not based on late flights, if they were late arriving but went out within the 10 minutes' period.

In the national contest, the OTO factor will be computed by dividing total departures for August into total delays in minutes on a systemwide basis.

UN Officials Angered By Latest Charges

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., July 20. (INS)—The United Nations reacted with deep shock and growing anger tonight to charges in Washington that subversive elements are flooding into the United States through UN doors.

Although UN Secretary General Trygve Lie is absent in Europe, the sentiment among the ranking assistants at Lake Success was that the U. S. State department should put up convincing evidence to substantiate the allegations, or withdraw them.

An official UN spokesman stated:

"The United Nations has not received any complaints from the State department of the nature charged in Washington."

Top level UN officials and observers foresaw an extremely damaging effect on the prestige of the 58-nation body. Some even charged they suspected a drive by unrevealed elements in the U. S. capital to block the $65,000,000 loan for the Manhattan headquarters site.

Failure by the last Congress to approve the $65,000,000 building loan already has caused some of the smaller UN members to agitate for removal of the Lake Success headquarters to Geneva. Such a decision would have to be taken by a two-thirds vote in the General Assembly at the regular meeting in Paris next September.

KEYNOTER NO. 3?—Charles Howard, Iowa lawyer and publisher, has been prominently mentioned as keynoter for the Third Party's convention in Philadelphia, July 23-25. The convention will officially nominate Henry Wallace and Sen. Glen Taylor as its candidates.

Many delegates and UN officials are convinced that the forthcoming request in the special session of Congress for approval of the UN loan is closely linked with the testimony to the congressional committee by State department Official Robert C. Anderson.

Lubbock Youth Is Sweepstake Winner In Model Plane Contest

Chances of being one of 21 Texas youths selected to compete in an international model plane contest in Detroit in mid-August were improved Sunday afternoon by Jerry Longley, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert J. Longley of 2509 Twenty-third, when he took three first places in the first annual Plainview model plane contest to capture sweepstake honors.

Jerry, a student and part-time physics instructor at Texas Tech, won firsts in the Class D speed contest, Class D open free flight, and in his specialty, model plane stunt flying.

The previous week, Jerry had emerged from a similar contest held at Amarillo with two first places and one second place performance. Similar contests are held over the nation under the co-sponsorship of the Plymouth corporation and local Plymouth dealers, and top performers in each state are chosen to fly their planes in the international competition on tap in Detroit. Lubbock has not scheduled a model plane meet.

Other Lubbock winners included A. E. Irwin, second place in the open speed division with 93.5 miles an hour and second in Class C open speed; Kenneth Smith, first in Class A open free flight; Bob Riley, first in senior Class B free flight; Memes Carpenter, second in Class CD senior sport flying.

GOT QUICK RHEUMATIC RELIEF WITH MERTOX

"For the past 15 years I have been bothered with frequent rheumatic pains in my left shoulder. This trouble later spread to my right shoulder also," writes Mr. J. C. Kirkland of Dallas. In my work I have to use my arms a lot, and my shoulders were beginning to stiffen up. After taking Mertox Compound for a short time this condition was quickly corrected, so that now I am free from rheumatic trouble and free of the aches and pains. I was also troubled with gas and bloat, which were very painful. I felt tired and rundown; just seemed to have no life or pep at all. Had severe headaches, too. The gas would seem to press against my heart and lungs and make it hard to breathe. Now I can eat anything, even meat, which was impossible before taking this splendid medicine. My bowels are now regular and I do not have to get up at night as I did before."

You can get Mertox Compound from any Texas druggist at the new REDUCED price

We're building
ONE EVERY 45 SECONDS
but that's not fast enough for America!

Service wherever you go

In just two years we've built and sold more fine cars than any other new manufacturer in automobile history.

Why? Because America fell in love with the KAISER and the FRAZER on sight. Folks are streaming into Kaiser-Frazer showrooms and learning from present owners how dependable these two great cars are. They're learning — from people who drive them — how soundly they are built . . . how economical they are . . . how much joy there is in owning one.

THESE ARE THE MOST-COPIED CARS IN AMERICA, road-proved by 250,000 owners in two billion miles of driving.

Because plenty of Americans insist on comfort, convenience, style and value, traditional leaders had to "move over" — as Kaiser-Frazer became the fourth largest manufacturer of motor cars in the world in two short years.

Why wait? Enjoy your new car this summer. You'll get fair treatment and highest trade-in allowance.

Builders Warned Of Veterans Preference On New Residences

Veterans preference in the sale of new single-family residences, and in the renting of housing accommodations under certain circumstances, is still required by federal law under the housing and rent act of 1948, according to Roy B. Carnes, area rent director here.

Carnes said those handling such properties should be guided by the law, and he was joined in this caution by Frank B. Potter, U. S. attorney for the Northern Texas federal district, who said that "our office will act immediately on any case of veterans preference which is referred here."

The law requires that all single-family residences completed on or after June 30, 1947, or rent accommodations in structures built since that date, must be offered for sale or rent exclusively to veterans for 30 days after completion, then if not taken may be offered to others, Carnes said.

If the price on the property, either for sale or rental, is changed, veterans preference at the new price must be posted for seven days just as it was at the original price for 30 days, the director added.

Citing questions and complaints about such properties, Carnes said some builders and contractors seem to be unaware of the requirements, and pursuant to reported violations, added that an increased staff of investigators had been authorized by Congress and that complaints would receive prompt attention.

Also joining in the effort to increase housing for veterans, Philip W. Yager, special assistant in charge of veterans affairs in the U. S. Attorney General's office, has said that his office will give precedence to all cases filed on veterans preference.

Carnes suggested that veterans or builders who have complaints or who need information on this phase of the housing program are invited to write or call at the area rent office, on the second floor of the Owens building at Tenth and Ave. K.

Theater Here Receives Permit For $16,000 Electric Sign

City Building Inspector Lloyd Ross issued a permit Tuesday for a neon electric sign costing $16,000 for the Palace theater.

Clark Abbott, Griffith Amusement Co. manager here, said the sign will be animated, three color and spread over most of the Main street and Avenue J fronts of the theater entrance.

Other permits included three for residences costing $31,000 and one of a concrete block apartment costing $11,000 at 2419 Eighth.

The residence permits were: Paul Graham, 3211 Twenty-first $17,000; H. R. Taylor, 3501 Twenty-ninth, $7,000, and F. F. Foster, 2309 Ninth, $7,000. J. H. Penn got the apartment permit.

The leaves of the luminous moss are only one cell in thickness, and stand erect with their flat surfaces turned toward the light.

Railroad Industry Opens Huge Fair Near Lake Michigan

CHICAGO, July 20 (AP)—The Chicago railroad fair, a huge display of rail transportation covering 50 acres along a mile of Lake Michigan shore, opened today in the nation's biggest rail center.

The exposition, sponsored by 38 of the nation's carriers, commemorates the 100th anniversary of the first steam train from Chicago. It also marks the centennial of the joining by rail of the east and west.

Exhibits Part Of Fair

Exhibits depicting the growth of the railroad industry in 100 years, pageants and special side shows are part of the fair. Sponsors describe the fair as the biggest show ever produced by any industry and as a miniature world's fair. Companeis that service and supply the carriers also are participating in the fair.

The fair grounds, about one-fourth the size of those used for a century of progress in 1933 and 1934, extend along the lake shore from 20th to 30th street south.

The fair will continue for six weeks. Officials predict an attendance of 2,000,000. It will be opened daily from 10 a. m. to 10:30 p. m.

Old Trains Shown

Featured performers of the "Wheels A'Rolling" pageant at the fair are 19 old-time locomotives and trains dating back to 1829. The pageant is shown on a 450-foot outdoor stage, which bears three full-size railroad tracks. Also included are 220 performers, 800 period costumes, and such props as the world's first automobile and 100 horses and oxen.

Thirteen tracks have been laid by the Illinois Central for the displays.

Motor driven replicas of Chicago's first train and of a new streamliner also make trips through the grounds. A miniature streamliner provides trips for children. Visitors may test coach and lounge car seats by riding a specially constructed merry-go-round.

Pilot Killed When Jet Plane Crashes At Base In Utah

HILL FIELD, Utah, July 20. (INS) —An Army pilot was killed today when his F-80 shooting-star jet plane crashed and exploded as it approached for a landing at Hill field.

The pilot was identified as Lt. [illegible] M. Floyd, 27, of Scottsboro Ala.

Witnesses reported the high-speed plane struck the ground about one-half mile from the field runway. The plane exploded on impact.

Lt. Floyd was one of a 12-jet plane group on a navigation training flight from March Field, Cal. The group had scheduled a refueling stop at Hill field.

Lt. Hill was attached to the 94th fighter squadron, 1st fighter group.

Mangled Body Of Crane Oil Worker Found Near Midland

MIDLAND, July 20 (AP) — The mangled body of J. P. Jacobs, 37, Crane oilfield worker, was found on the Texas and Pacific railroad right of way about ten miles west of here early today.

Justice of the Peace B. C. Girdley of Midland said preliminary investigation indicated an eastbound T. & P. freight train struck Jacobs between 4 and 5 a. m. as he was crossing the tracks. Jacobs' brother-in-law, H. B. Wagley of Odessa, said he and Jacobs were driving toward Midland when they stopped and Jacobs went across the nearby tracks.

Women Voters League Presses Drive To Stir Election Interest

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

No tea parties for the Texas League of Women Voters this summer.

The league is out—2,500 women strong—to get the women, and everybody else, interested enough in their state government to vote in the election Saturday.

"And they're doing a marvelous job," said Mrs. Martin Row of Dallas, state president.

Merchants Aid Drive

"The local chapter in Denison plans to take a list of Denison people who paid their poll tax and call every one of them Friday and Saturday to remind them to vote.

"They've distributed tags to the merchants to put on their packages—'make a note, be sure to vote'—and the merchants are doing it.

"The local league in Midland has displays in a dozen downtown windows with blown-up pictures of the ballots and a reminder to vote."

And it's paying dividends. Mrs. Row said that in the 21 Texas towns and four colleges where there are local leagues, the women report more interest than ever in the coming election.

"The Dallas county women went out in station wagons to distribute a voters' guide containing answers to questionnaires on county candidates.

Sponsor Political Meetings

"Down in Houston and Galveston they're holding large candidate's meetings. They ask all the candidates to come and speak for five minutes — about themselves only; that's the only way to get their qualifications."

The state league makes no endorsements. They want to get the facts out and then the people out to vote.

The state league has published a booklet containing answers to questions on qualifications of all state and U. S. Senatorial candidates in this summer's races. Local leagues add their own district, county and city candidates.

"The men are so busy they don't have time to get all the facts; that's what we're doing," explained Mrs. Row.

Other state officers in the league are Mrs. David Trammell, Fort Worth, first vice-president; Mrs. William Penn, Midland, second vice-president; Miss Mary Montgomery, Beaumont, secretary, and Mrs. Banks Upshaw, Dallas, treasurer.

Group Of Tech Students Will Take Course In Mexico City

Mexico City is the destination of 13 advanced Spanish students at Texas Technological college who are leaving Lubbock this morning to study Spanish civilization in Mexico under the direction of T. Earle Hamilton, associate professor of foreign languages.

The students are traveling in three private cars, and will make their first stop in San Antonio, where they will stay in the Gunter hotel one night. Next stop will be the Regina hotel in Monterrey, and from there to Ciudad Valles, where they will stay in the Hotel Valles one night and then go on to Mexico City. The students will be required to attend classes daily, and will go to the outskirts of the city once or twice a week to study monuments of the early civilizations of Mexico. The purpose of the trip is to give advanced students an opportunity to acquire fluent speech of the Spanish language and learn the culture and civilization of Mexico, Hamilton said.

Students making the trip are: Mrs. Laura Boedeker, of Kermit; Mrs. Calvo Boydstun, of Lubbock; Billy Bufkin, of Hobbs, N.M.; Miss Joyce Byrom, of Hobbs, N. M.; Phillip K. Kemp Jr., of San Angelo; Miss Jane Parsons, of Texarkana; Mrs. Daisy K. Ramer, of Lubbock; B. T. Smith, of Lubbock; Betty Su Walker, of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. K. Carter Wheelock, of Lubbock; Miss Nancy Wilson, of Claude; and Mrs. Mildred L. Little, of Lorenzo.

The Giant Moa, a New Zealand bird now extinct, weighed about 500 pounds.

Tech Graduate Gets Unexpected Start To Stage Career

A recent Texas Tech graduate who never aspired to dramatics is now playing the romantic lead in the current production, "Ever Since Eve," on the stage of the Greenwood Playhouse, in Peaks Island, Maine He is James Henry Simpson, 23-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Simpson of Roby.

Protege of the imminent New York stage producer, Robert Paine, the current production is the second in the spiraling career of the talented young actor; the first in which he played the leading role was "Ramshackle Inn."

No Stage Aspirations

The strange part about the whole thing is that James Henry had no stage aspirations whatever, even as a boy, and later as a college student. Son of prominent stock farmers, he was born and reared near Roby and since his boyhood interests seemed centered around agricultural matters, he appeared destined for a career in that field.

In Roby High school, of which he is an honor graduate, young Simpson received his first stage experience, appearing in junior and senior class plays. His education in Texas Technological college was interrupted for the time of his Army service. After his discharge he returned to Texas Tech, where in June, after three and one half years of college work and 165 credit hours, he received his degree in landscape design, graduating with a B average.

Refused Movie Chance

Early in his senior year, Simpson was spotted by a Hollywood talent scout who offered a career in the movies. He was not interested because he wanted to finish his college education.

Dividing his extra-curricular activities between his major, horticulture, and his minor, speech, the summer stock actor served as president of Sock and Buskin dramatic club and was a charter member of Alpha Zeta, honorary agriculture club.

He had turned down the screen test, but Producer Robert Paine would not take "no" for an answer After innumerable telephone calls from New York, James Henry found himself on the way to Maine and an unexpected career on the stage, just three days after graduation.

Lubbock Woman Who Never Has Had Song Rejected Soon To Begin Reaping Rewards

Mrs. M. F. Stanton of 2324 Broadway, an attractive red-haired song lyrics writer, holds the distinction of never having had any of her songs rejected. And this summer and fall she will reap some of the rewards for her series of songs.

About two years ago she was suffering an attack of tonsilitis and was at home all day. She decided to make an attempt at writing a song. She sent it to a publishing house, which forwarded it to Bob Carleton, who set the lyric to music.

Since that time she and Carleton have collaborated, but she has never met him. She and her husband plan to leave Aug. 10 for California, partly for a vacation, partly to meet publishers of her work and Carleton. An autograping party, date or place for which have not been set, is to be held for her because of a book of poems, "The Singing Heart," which she has written and which is to go on sale, probably in November.

Bermuda Trip Planned

In September, she will be eligible for a trip to Bermuda on an all-bills paid vacation, as prize for winning first place this month in the Hollywood Search for Talent song contest with her song, "Irish Molly 'O'."

She also will be eligible to submit any new songs to the Hollywood Screen Writers association, an agent being assigned to attempt to place the material with a motion picture. She was given membership in the Hollywood Screen Writers association for her composition, "Oh, Mister Owl," last month.

Other published compositions of which she is author include "Aloha Gave Me You," "If I Had a Million Hearts," "My Man Don't Care," and "Lost Beguine."

First printing of 1,000 copies each has been made of each of the published compositions and some have gone into the second printing of 5,000 copies each.

Book Novel Underway

The songs and the poetry do not represent the extent of her creative work, because she also has written short stories and is working on a book-length novel. Editors of two national magazines have asked to keep two short stories longer to consider them, and the Exposition Press has asked to be the first publisher to see her book when it is completed.

She has written poems which have been published in magazines. She won honorable mention in the "American Poets and Song Writers of the United States" publication.

Her mother, Mrs. Betty Sheets of Hot Springs, Ark., has written songs, ballads and sacred music, but did not encourage her daughter to begin writing because of possible disappointments. Mrs. Stanton sent her first song to Nordyke publishers, the publishers of some of her mother's lyrics.

Most of Mrs. Stanton's songs have been sent to Nordyke and Arlington publishers.

Resident Here 5 Years

Mrs. Stanton, whose full name is Elizabeth Bernice Stanton, writes under the name Elizabeth Stanton. She is known to her friends as "Bernice."

She has lived in Lubbock about five years. She and her husband returned here about two years ago after he had served about three and one-half years in the Army

Each song of hers that has been published has BMI (Broadcast Music, Inc.) rating, which means that it is suitable for broadcasting.

One of the compliments she has received was from Nordkye publishers, stating she "definitely has what the music buying public wants in song materials."

Carleton, who writes music for her lyrics, composed the music for the movie, "New Orleans."

PONTIAC

A Product of General Motors

Fine for its Second owner too!

Recently, a large group of used car owners were asked what car they would buy if they were buying new cars today. Those who own used Pontiacs led them all in saying they would buy new cars of the same make they are now driving.

In other words—according to this survey—a used Pontiac is more satisfactory to own than any other make of used car.

Of course, that could mean only one thing: Pontiac's dependability and long life are outstanding, and Pontiac's fine performance lasts throughout the years. There could be no finer endorsement of a new car than this—and we trust you won't forget it when you order your own next car.

Remember, too, Pontiac is the lowest priced car in the world offering GM Hydra-Matic Drive*—a tremendous advance in better motoring.

It's wise to choose a Pontiac—a car so fine that even its second owner is sure to like it.

*General Motors Hydra-Matic Drive and White Sidewall Tires optional at additional cost.

Hubs, Pampa Split, 8-6, 9-7

Hubs Gather 23 Hits From Oilers

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

A light dust storm right after the close of last night's twin bill at Rosenthal Field was appropriate and in the spirit of the occasion, the Lubbock Hubbers and Pampa Oilers creating quite a gust with their total of 49 base hits that allowed them to split, Pampa winning the first tilt 8-6 and the Hubbers taking the second 9-7.

All in all, it was a night for the hitters, with the visitors collecting 26 in the two games and the Hubbers garnering 23. There may have been some pitchers in the vicinity, but they definitely didn't have much to do with the proceedings.

George Payte was hurling himself a pretty fair string of goose eggs against the Hubbers in the first game. Then he was hit on the leg by a line drive that nearly knocked him over in the sixth. After that the Hubbers owned him and he was forced to depart. Howard Bass managed to stagger through in relief to protect the game, even though the Hubs came up with a five-run rally that almost was good for the victory.

Larue Outlasts White

Roy Larue, a newcomer to the Hubber hurling staff, didn't exhibit too much in the second game, but he outlasted Foster White and Merlin Hubbard for the victory. He allowed only three hits after the third inning and not a run in the last three, as he tightened considerably. He may be able to help the locals in the stretch.

Gene Hixson, in the initial tilt, scored the Hubbers' first run in the fifth, when he poked a homer over the Avalanche-Journal scoreboard in leftfield. Up to that time we couldn't get a runner home, but that seemed to waken the team. And in the sixth, when Frank McAlexander's screaming, low liner hit Payte on his leg, that really helped.

Pampa had taken an 8-1 lead through seven innings, when the Hubbers roared out to threaten. Floyd Walker pinch hit for Royce Mills and doubled, Ramsey running for him. Jackie Wilcox punched a single to center and Hixson followed with a walk to load the sacks. Manager Jackie Sullivan got two runs in with a single and Virgil Richardson, first to greet Bass, drove home another counter with a single to left. Don Moore drilled a single to right and two more runs came in.

Second Tilt Different Story

But then Bass tightened and the rally ended when Ramsey, this time appearing as a pinch hitter, forced a runner at third.

The second game was a different story, the Hubbers blanking Pampa in the first frame and getting one run home when, with two out, Sullivan smashed a sharp homer to leftfield. Pampa came back on two hits, doubles, and a walk to take the lead, 2-1.

Lubbock rallied for two in their half on a double, two singles and another double, making the game 3-2 in favor of the home forces. But Pampa quickly unknotted the count in the third's top half on four hits, one of which was a triple by R. C. Otey, an error and a walk good for four runs and a 6-3 margin.

Hixson's second homer of the right, coming in the fifth with no one on, helped the Hubber cause, although two runs in the fourth clinched the contest. In that frame, Hixson opened with a walk and went to third on Sullivan's poke through Otey. Richardson doubled Hixson home, Sullivan going to third. Chick Fowler, with a perfect night walked and Frank McAlexander forced him at second, Sullivan scoring.

The Hubbers go on the road now and will be gone for six days, playing Lamesa three games and moving on to Abilene for three more.

Red Sox, Exchange Club Win Kid Games

The league-leading Pee Wee Yankee nine suffered their second defeat of the season Tuesday afternoon when Glen Higginbotham hurled the Red Sox to a slim 8 to 7 victory over the leaders.

Charles Biggs smashed out a homer with two on in the third inning to start the Red Soxers off on their victory march. The Yankees came back however behind Glen Davis, who batted out a single and a homer in three times at bat, but just couldn't overcome the Sox hitters.

In the Junior League, the Exchange Club squad came from behind in the seventh inning to score 8 runs and clinch a 12 to 8 win over the Methodist Men. Charles Brewer went the route for the winners. Bobby Craig paced the Exchange batters with two doubles and a single in four, while for the losers, Jimmy Crawford smashed out a homer and a single in three times at bat.

Going into the first of the seventh, the Men were ahead 7 to 4 when the Exchange opened up and scored run after run, with Brewer starting them off on the glory road.

The Dodgers are slated to meet the Tigers in the Pee Wee league afternoon tilt today, while in the second affair, the ABC's will tangle with the Optimist nine of the Junior league.

Redlegs Topple Braves, 9 To 6

CINCINNATI, July 20 (AP)—Home runs, accounting for six markers, turned the tide for the Cincinnati Reds today as they toppled the league-leading Boston Braves 9-6 before a crowd of 3,804.

A five-run outburst in the sixth inning, featuring Johnny Wyrostek's three-run homer, overcame an early Boston lead and three more counters in the seventh put the game on ice for the Reds. Ted Kluszewski's circuit blow scored two of the seventh inning runs.

The victory broke a five-game losing streak for young Herm Wehmeier, giving him his sixth win as against five defeats.

Bill Voiselle, a ten-game winner, fell to his seventh loss.

LUBBOCK MORNING AVALANCHE
Sports
PAGE EIGHT. LUBBOCK, TEX., WEDNESDAY, JULY 21, 1948

OPPONENTS — Jose Andres of Dallas, classy little featherweight shown above, and Tony Olivas, equally skilled ring mechanic, right, will meet in one of the two main eight-round fights Thursday night at Rosenthal Field. Andres is a hard puncher who once carried Bantamweight Champion Manny Ortiz to a 10-round no decision. Olivas hasn't fought quite as much, but has earned widespread respect for his ability fighting out of El Paso. Both men move fast in the ring and have knockout ability in either hand. Andres is on the comeback trail, after resting since early 1947, and will be out to make a good showing.

Jaycee Fighters Hold Preliminary Workouts

If you haven't bought your ticket for the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce fights Thursday night at Rosenthal Field, it isn't too late. But if you wait much longer, it will be and the fan who misses the 42-round card is going to lose.

Yesterday several of the principals worked out at Sled Allen's arena before a small crowd of sightseers. Among those on hand were J. D. Kirkpatrick of Petersburg and Bill Henderson of Levelland, two South Plains fighters with promising futures.

Henderson sparred a couple of rounds with Bill Louderman, who is fighting Howell Steen of Lubbock in an eight-round main go, then met Jose Andres, who will fight Tony Olivas in the other eight-round feature.

Fighters Look Good

Kirkpatrick sparred three good rounds with Joe Music of Lubbock, the heavyweight billed for a four-round preliminary fight against Tommy LeNoir.

Both local boys looked so good that it was hard to believe they were the same fighters who fought in the Golden Gloves here only last February. Both are more polished, both hit sharper and both are in top physical condition.

The Dallas fighters, in addition to Louderman and Andres, included Middleweight Abner Bettingfield, who sparred Andres and Louderman, and Johnny Brown, a welterweight, who worked out only lightly and did not spar. All the incoming Dallas fighters appeared to be in good condition and Mickey Riley, trainer and promoter, guarantees that each one will be fighting his hardest to win.

Dick Griffin, El Paso promoter, is due to arrive with his contingent today. In his group will be Featherweight Tony Olivas, Lightheavyweight Baltimore Hernondez, Middleweight Enrique Villa, Welterweight Skeets Gilbert and Heavyweight Tommy LeNoir.

Meanwhile Jaycee officials announced that tickets were going so fast that they might have standing room only by fight time. General admission tickets went on sale Monday and were selling rapidly, so rapidly that the Jaycees had to open Tuesday morning.

Tickets may be obtained by calling the Jaycee office at 6861 between 12:30 and 4:30 p.m., or by calling at the special ticket desk in the Hilton Hotel.

Sunbeams Nose Culligan's, 2-1

Bakers, Sunbeamers Win Softball Tilts

Two of the quarter-finalists in the district A.S.A. softball tournament were determined Tuesday night at Jumbo Webster field when the powerful Thomas-Sunbeamers and the Baldridge Bakery nine pounded out wins over bracket opponents.

The Sunbeamers copped the opening tilt in the special three-game bill by nosing out Culligan's Soft Water team from Plainview, 2-1, in an extra-inning duel.

Jackie Neel, ace Sunbeam hurler, held the Culligan crew to a single hit, but the Plainview nine pushed across an unearned run in the sixth frame to take the lead in the setto. E. J. McKnight, Culligan pitcher, led off the sixth stanza with a walk, then was secrificed to second. McKnight attempted to steal third and the throw got away from Sunbeam Shortstop Claude Spears — who was covering the bag — and McKnight came home on the error.

Game Secure In Eighth

The Thomas-Sunbeamers deadlocked the count in the sixth on Willis James' homer over the left field fence, then won the game in the eighth when, with the bases loaded, James was hit by a pitched ball to force in the winning run.

The potent Baldridge nine chalked up an impressive win over the Golden Light Coffee crew in the nightcap, 10-0. Blazin' Bill Kiser hurled no-hit, no-run ball for the Bakerymen, and not a single Golden Light batter reached first. Kiser struck out 15 men in the six-inning encounter, with the other two batters going out on pop flies to the infield.

The Bakerymen backed up Kiser's briliant mound effort with an 11-hit attack which was paced by home runs off the bats of Jim Reiger and Clarence Tillery.

Dewey Carr hurled creditably for the Coffeemen for four innings, but a three run barrage in the fifth and a four-hit assault in the sixth clinched the wip for the Baldridge team.

Bennett Motors Advances

Bennett Motor of Seminole advanced in the lower tourney bracket by shading Baker-Fleming of Plainview, 3-1. The Baker-Fleming representatives took a one-run lead in the second stanza, as Al Kemp scored on an error, but the Motormen tallied three runs in the third frame to notch the triumph.

B. B. Brewster was the winning hurler, limiting Baker-Fleming to three scattered hits, while Big Leon Burch was charged with the defeat.

Another three tilt card is scheduled tonight at Jumbo Webster field, with Cloverlake Dairy meeting Chapman Motor of Abernathy in the opener at 7:15. Amherst battles Happy's Bottling Works of Tahoka in the second setto at 8:30, then the Thomas-Sunbeamers and Baldridge tangle in a feature game at 9:45.

The linescores:

FIRST METHODIST WINS

The City League's First Methodist nine blasted out a 15 to 8 win over Lubbock Barber College Tuesday afternoon behind the hurling of Chuck Dunnham. The winning catcher was Douglas Adams. No homers were hit during the game.

ECONOMY MILLS WINS

Economy Mills trampled the Sanders Motors nine, 19 to 6, in a one sided Industrial League tussle Tuesday at the Wagner Park ball diamond. Jesse Clark was the winning pitcher.

Abilene Edges Loboes, 5 To 4

ABILENE, July 20. (Spl)—Manager Dixie Davis' single with one away in the ninth drove in Bernise Coapland with the winning run here tonight as the Abilene Blue Sox edged by the Lamesa Loboes, 5-4.

The score was deadlocked at 4-4 going into the home half of the final stanza, but a double by Coapland and Davis' bingle provided the margin of victory for the Blue Sox. The triumph was Abilene's fourth straight win over the fading Lamesans.

Coapland, young right-hander, chalked up his seventh win of the year for the Sox.

Dewey Williams Suspended For Mishandling Umpire

CINCINNATI, O., July 20. (U.P.)—Catcher Dewey Williams of the Cincinnati Reds today was sitting out a five-day suspension for putting his hands on rookie umpire Frank Bascoli during an argument in last Saturday's game with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

However, Ford Frick, National League president, ruled that Williams may enter the lineup if Ray Lamanno, the Reds' only other receiver, is injured. Any such game in which he catches will not be considered a part of his suspension.

Frick, who handed down the suspension yesterday, also fined Williams $100 and gave Reds manager Johnny Neun a $50 fine for their part in the argument with Bascoli.

Detroit Edges Yanks, 2 To 1; Bosox Gain Win

NEW YORK, July 20 (AP)—Virgil Trucks dropped the New York Yankees to within a single game of the fourth place Boston Red Sox today as he hurled Detroit to a 2-1 edge in the odd game of their three-game series.

George Kell, who collected three of Detroit's eight hits off Allie Reynolds, doubled to start the game-winning rally in the ninth. With two out, Hoot Evers singled to left, scoring Kell with the tie-breaking run.

The Yanks bunched two of their six hits in the fifth for their only run. Cliff Mapes' double was followed by Reynolds' single through the middle of the diamond.

Louis Reported Set To Meet Lesnevich

Writer Claims Joe Will Fight Again

DETROIT, July 20. (AP)—John Roxborough, long-time manager and friend of heavyweight champion Joe Louis, said today "a lot of pressure" is being brought on the Brown Bomber to junk his retirement plans and meet Gus Lesnevich in New York in September.

"So far it's just pressure, though," Roxborough insisted.

"There have been lots of stories since Joe beat Joe Walcott and said he would retire. But so far about all the writers have done is try to discover a reason why Louis shouldn't quit."

Louis himself was on a golf course and was not available for comment.

Joe Promised His Mother

Roxborough said, however, that he had talked with Joe early this afternoon regarding stories of a possible Louis-Lesnevich fight.

"He tells me there is absolutely nothing to it," Roxy added emphatically.

"I'm going to talk with Joe again tonight and we may have some kind of a statement then," Roxborough said. "But it's just pressure talk so far; they're trying to force Louis to come back."

Joe's mother, Mrs. Lillie Brooks, who had exacted a promise from the Bomber that the Walcott fight would be his last, also heard of reports that a Louis-Lesnevich fight was in the making.

"What do you think of the prospect of Joe going back for one more fight?" she was asked.

"I won't let myself think about it," she replied. "I don't want him to fight again."

Joe's mother said the champ had given her no reason to believe he won't stick by his announced plans to retire.

Editor Names Fight Date

Louis will come out of retirement to defend his heavyweight title against light heavyweight king Gus Lesnevich at the Yankee stadium, Sept. 22, according to a copyright article by editor Nat Fleischer in the September issue of Ring magazine.

Fleischer said Louis indicated he is weakening in his retirement stand and is willing to come back for just one more fight. First Lesnevich must win decisively over Freddie Mills at London July 26.

"I can't go on from one round of golf to another," Louis is quoted as telling Fleischer, "I have to look forward to something more exciting. Maybe I should meet Lesnevich. I can beat him. I still will be able to retire unbeaten like Gene Tunney."

Dog Races Slated At Seagraves July 30-31

SEAGRAVES, July 20 (Special)—Two big nights of dog racing are scheduled here July 30 and 31. The events, sponsored by the Seagraves Amusement corporation, will be held in the new rodeo and baseball arena, fenced and equipped with a covered grandstand and bleachers.

Nearly a hundred racing greyhounds are expected to be entered in the two-evening racing programs. Races will feature both one and two-year old dogs, as well as futurity events for all ages.

Lubbock Entered

Dogs which have been racing on the electric tracks of Florida and TiJuana, Mexico, will be entered, together with entries from Fort Worth, Dallas, Waco, Abilene, Paducah, Big Spring, Amarillo, Levelland, Brownfield and Lubbock.

Mrs. Camilla Gordon, secretary of the grey hound racing association, and B. L. "Jack" Powell, prominent racing dog owner, both of Levelland, are assisting in making arrangements for the coursing meets, which will be the first to be held in this part of the country.

Jack Rabbits To Be Used

Live West Texas jack rabbits, trained for speed and agility in previous races, will match their speed with some of the fastest greyhounds in the United States during the two evenings.

Lights are to be installed this week at the arena in preparation for the night races. Racing programs will start each evening at 8 p. m. Admission prices will be $1.00 for adults and 25c for children.

Telford Defeats Goldman In Open

Lindsay Telford earned the right Tuesday afternoon to meet Raymond Marshall Sunday for the City Open golf crown, by defeating young Jimmy Goldman, 3 to 2.

Telford shot a five under par throughout the sixteenth hole, with Goldman shooting a one under par, in their championship flight semi-final match over the Meadowbrook course.

The smooth shooting Telford will battle it out Sunday afternoon with one of Lubbock's links aces, Raymond Marshall, who defeated veteran golfer Chick Trout in their semi-final shoot Monday afternoon. Marshall went the course with a six under par, while his opponent couldn't better a two under par through the fifteenth hole.

The Marshall-Trout match was considered one of the crucial matches in the Open, and a tough battle is expected when tourney medalist Marshall comes up against the long drives and smooth shooting of Telford for the City Open title.

One semi-final setto in the second flight was played Monday with Chick Trout, jr., defeating Dick Roundtree one-up in 19 holes. Don Nichols defeated Troy Peeples, one-up in a third flight semi-final.

American Legion, Lubbock Auto Win Industrial League Games

The American Legion nine defeated the Post Office, 5 to 2 in a hard fought Industrial League battle Tuesday afternoon, with W. D. Broughton hurling for the winners and Presley Parham for the losers. The Legion team shut off a Post Office rally in the first inning with a double play.

In another Industrial league tilt Tuesday, Lubbock Auto trampled Bennett Motors, 7 to 2, behind Ross Fewell, who got three for four. The winning pitcher was Raymond Heintze.

Peat moss usually is found in compact mats along the banks of streams and on the surfaces of bogs and small lakes.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

Deep sea fishing is the big drawing card for anglers at the present time, with at least three Lubbock and South Plains groups planning expeditions. One Lubbock party, which included Mr. and Mrs. Chick Trout, sr., Mr. and Mrs. B. C. McCasland and Tom Baker of Plainview, left Tuesday morning for the Port Aransas-Corpus Christi region. Trout said that the anglers would charter a boat and go out after the "big ones" for about three days.

Blair Cherry, the efficient Texas university grid mentor, admitted yesterday that "the Longhorns will get beat at least once this fall." That, of course, has been a safe bet in the Southwest conference for 20 years. Season after season the "loaded" teams start an impressive win string—only to be upset by a lower-ranked eleven. It seems to be a fact in the Southwest conference that the pre-season favorite is the special target for all other schools, with one of the lower teams eventually beating the favorite.

The record book is full of such incidents. The Texas Aggies had a national championship eleven in 1939 and, even before the '40 season opened, were conceded the loop crown by all the grid experts. The Aggies, paced by a pretty fair fullback—John Kimbrough, marched toward their second undefeated season and a sure spot in the Rose Bowl. Then, on Thanksgiving day, an unknown squad of Texas Longhorns surprised the football world by defeating the potent Aggies by a lone touchdown. The "Immortal Twelve," as they are known on the Steer campus, included Pete Layden, Jack Crain, Mal Kutner, Vern Martin and Buddy Jungmichael.

The surprising Texas gridders were only juniors when they clipped the Aggies, so they were hailed as the "wonder team" when the 1941 schedule opened. Moving with a power seldom seen in this, or any other, conference, the Steers chalked up top-heavy triumphs over Colorado, L.S.U. and other non-conference foes. But one Saturday afternoon the fighting Texas Christian university Horned Frogs turned in the surprise of the week by scrapping to a deadlock with the heralded Longhorns, then the roof fell in the next week when lowly Baylor actually defeated the Steers.

The most recent chapter in the upset-history of the Southwest conference was written last fall, when a favored Texas university powerhouse was nosed out by Doak Walker's Southern Methodist Mustangs, 14-13. The one point defeat was the only blot on the complete Steer schedule, but it cost them the conference championship.

Now the Mustangs are in the "hot seat." They have a stellar squad headed by such stars as Walker, Kyle Rote, Paul Page, Frank Payne, Dick McKissack and enough burly linemen to make any coach happy. But, if the old jinx is still working, they'll be beaten at least once in conference play. And it will be a rare thing indeed if any of the SWC elevens scrape through with an unmarred record. There are just too many potent teams in the loop.

The pre-season selections of the "experts" are about the same choices that any well-informed fan would make. Heading the list is, of course, Southern Methodist, followed in order by Texas university, Texas Christian, Baylor, Arkansas, Texas Aggies and Rice. The reason for Rice's sudden decline from the top spot in '47 to the lowest slot in '48 is apparently the loss of the players that sparked the last two elevens. Carl Russ, Rice's rough and tough fullback, has "flunked out," and scatback George Walmsley has graduated. Gone from the line are three All-Americans—the Weldon Humbles, H. J. Nichols, the Magees and the Williams'.

Since Texas Tech plays four of the Southwest teams, including Southern Methodist, it is not impossible that the Raiders will score one of the major upsets of the season.

Tag Team Match On Mat Card Tonight

An Australian tag team match will feature the regular weekly wrestling card tonight at Sled Allen's arena, with Al Getz and Frank Hill Murdoch tangling with Bill Weidner and George Curtis in the two of three falls setto.

Getz, the durable Dutchman from Pittsburgh, and Murdoch are two of the roughest grapplers to perform in the West Texas circuit, but they face capable foes in "Boston Bill" Weidner and Mississippi's George Curtis.

Rowdy Pat O'Dowdy is slated to clash with George Lopez, Tampico, Mex., speedster, in the two of three falls semifinal event. O'Dowdy is a fixture of arena mat cards, always turning in a crowd-pleasing exhibition, but Lopez has compiled a brilliant record in his appearances here and will be favored to upset the veteran.

Tickets will go on sale at 9 o'clock this morning at Wylie's drug. Matches start at 8:30 p. m.

Mosses have been known to build up deposits of limestone by becoming encrusted with lime, with only the green tips showing.

Softball Tilts Set For Tonight

RALLS, July 20 (Special) — A women's Invitational Softball tournament will get underway here Wednesday night at 8 o'clock with the Texico Squaws of Ralls meeting Floydada in the first tilt. The second game, which is scheduled to start around 9 o'clock will bring together the Brown's Construction team from Abernathy and the women's team from Caprock.

Thursday night the Reddy Kilowatt team from Tuco will take on the Farmer team in the first game, followed by a game between the College Avenue Co-eds from Lubbock and the Gibson Plumberettes from Plainview.

The winners of the games Wednesday night will meet the Thursday night winners in a two-game series Friday night with the two winners from the Friday tilt going into the finals, which are slated to be played next Monday night.

Trophies for the winners of the first and second places have been donated by Ralls businessmen and other individuals. Small entrance fees are being charged the teams entering, but admission to the games will be free to the public.

Show Horses From Brandeis Stables To Be Auctioned

OMAHA, Neb., July 20 (INS)—Standout show horses from the stables of the late George Brandeis, Omaha merchant, will be auctioned next Monday at Ak-Sar-Ben field in one of the greatest midwest horse sales in many years.

"Miss Livingston" is among Brandeis horses to go on the block. The merchant turned down many offer for the five-gaited champion from some of the nation's top trainers.

Other top contenders to be sold include "Robin King," "Victory Call," "Chestnut Genius," Perky Peavine," and "Ace's King.'

See how easy it is to have Safe Headlamps

SAFE driving at night begins with safe headlamps. They reduce eye-strain, lessen fatigue, prevent accidents. Here's all that needs to be done. If your car is an older model, very likely the reflectors need polishing; dimmed-out bulbs or cracked lenses should be replaced, and loose or dirty wiring connections cleaned and tightened. If your car is a later model, with Sealed Beam lighting, a burned-out headlamp can be made "as good as new" with a Sealed Beam replacement unit.

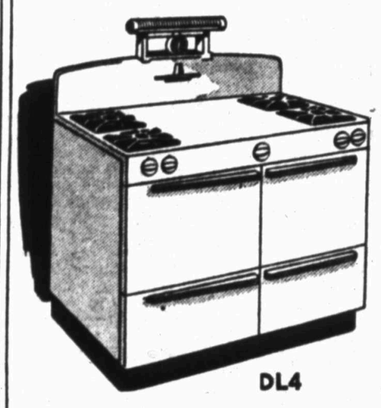

Whatever the age of your car, headlamps should be checked for "aim" at regular intervals — and after any minor collision.

For headlamp service, and all kinds of automotive service, our competent mechanics, modern service methods and original-equipment parts assure you of dependable workmanship.

Two Men Held In Burglaries

Two Lubbock men were arrested by a sheriff's patrol Monday night after they had allegedly loaded a pressure pump and tank into their car, and one of the men confessed Tuesday that he and his companion had committed seven burglaries here recently, the sheriff's department reported.

Dep. Sheriff Earl Horton and Texas Ranger Razz Renfrow, who took the statement, planned Tuesday afternoon to seek recovery of additional property, chiefly plumbing fixtures admittedly taken from residences under construction.

Two Are Surprised

The arrests were made by Deps. Sheriff Carl Francis and F. A. Bolen, who were cruising on North College Ave., on the south side of the canyon.

They surprised the two defendants, who had not been charged late yesterday, and pinned them in the glare of flashlights. The pump and tank were in the men's car.

The man who made the confession is 27, his companion 22 and an ex-convict, Horton said he and Renfrow had been told.

Burglaries Listed

The statements said that the following burglaries had been done by the two:

July 2, they entered the B. (Red) Black residence at 4701 Thirty-fifth and took a lavatory, a commode, and light fixtures.

July 3, they burglarized two houses in Gordon Bozeman addition three miles from Lubbock on the Idalou highway, and took a lavatory and a commode from each.

July 11, they entered a house a half-mile east of Country club and took a lavatory and commode that had been installed. Property was owned by J. C. McClellan, they said.

July 15, they burglarized the $25,000 residence of C. R. Nix north of Country club and took a sweeper, 100 feet of cord, a new water heater and chrome bath fittings.

July 19, they took a commode and water reservoir from the A. L. Stovall residence at Thirty-fifth and Filmore.

Took Carpenter's Tools

Then, Monday night, they entered a house where E. W. Cox was working, at 3900-block Forty-fourth, and took a quantity of carpenter's tools.

They then drove to the place where they loaded the pressure pump and tank, the confession concluded.

U. S. Reds Indicted

Ill., district chairman for the Communist party at Chicago, and Gus Hall of Cleveland, Ohio, chairman of the Ohio Communist party.

Bail Is Set

The indictments charged all with "conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow of the United States government by force and violence."

The six arrested in New York City were arraigned before Federal Judge Vincent Leibell, who set bail at $5,000 for each.

The six were named in one indictment which charged them with violating the Smith act by "unlawfully conspiring, together with other persons unknown to the grand jury, to organize as the Communist party of the United States, a society or group to teach and advocate the overthrow of the United States by force and violence."

Bench Warrants Issued

Six additional indictments, to which the defendants also pleaded innocent, charged the men with holding membership in the Communist party, "knowing well that said Communist party was and is a society or assembly of persons teaching the overthrow of the United States by force and violence."

Irving Saypol, chief assistant U. S. attorney, described the Smith act as an act which characterizes as illegal any activities which advocate or teach the overthrow of the government by violence.

Bench warrants were issued by Federal Judge Vincent J. Leibell at the request of U. S. Attorney John F. X. McGohey. The judge then recessed the special jury "subject to call."

The Sun gave this account of the investigation.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation began the probe after a tip in 1943 from the wife of a Communist party member. She told of activities of "Kremlin agents who were federal employes in many cases."

FBI Presents Evidence

The grand jury began hearing evidence presented by the FBI in March 1947. Hundreds of Communists were called before the jurors.

A "wall of secrecy" was placed around the jury's work by Attorney General Tom Clark.

Several "well known (Communist) party officials" are on the list of those indicted. Some are longtime U. S. residents but not citizens.

If the original indictments are successful, further charges will be pushed "against those party members who were employed by the new deal in government jobs which required taking an oath of allegiance to the United States."

SEN. MURRAY LEADING

HELENA, Mont., July 20 (AP)—Incomplete unofficial returns two hours after Montant's primary election polls closed tonight gave leads to Democratic Senator James E. Murray of Butte who seeks reelection and John W. Bonner of Helena, seeking Democratic gubernatorial nomination.

The Giant Moa that once lived in New Zealand stood about nine feet high.

Clay Called Home

The British officially labelled the offer "pure propaganda" and promised that "the British with the United States of America will continue to supply the food necessary for the western sectors."

Shoppers who ventured into the Soviet sector of Berlin to make purchases of rationed foods were sent back empty handed by storekeepers who refused to honor their coupons.

"We have strict orders not to supply persons living in the western sectors of the city and I have just confirmed them in talking with the food offices," one baker said. Another said "maybe there would be a change Aug. 1."

Planes Again Set Record

The Russian announcement said the Soviet-supplied food would be sold only for eastern-zone currency.

The announcement was timed to coincide with a statement by the Western Allies that they would be unable, because of the blockade, to deliver proposed increases in food ration scales for their sectors of the city.

American cargo planes meanwhile delivered a new record load of supplies to the city. The U. S. Air Force announced that 282 planes brought in 1,601 tons of food and other supplies in a 24-hour period.

The tonnage included 17 tons of steel matting for a new runway being constructed at Templehofr airport. Completion of the runway, expected in five weeks, will enable the Americans to bring many more planes into the crowded air field.

Cost Is Rising

Records showed that weather has been such that more than 6,500 of the 18,000 flying hours accumulated by American pilots since the air lift began have been under instrument conditions.

Maj. Gen. William E. Hall, air adviser of the U. S. military governor, made a "rough estimate" that flying food and fuel to Berlin already has cost about $1,500,000 for only the technical side of the operation—gas, oil and spare parts. The estimate did not include labor costs for thousands of German workers on the ground.

The RAF, too, kept up a fast pace in the finest flying weather in weeks. Approximately 850 tons of supplies were landed at Gatow airfield by 202 British planes in 24 hours.

The Russians meanwhile tightened their land blockade. They clamped the autobahn shut to west-bound American vehicles from Berlin today. The first nine American vehicles attempting to reach Helmstedt in the British zone were turned back by Russian guards at their checkpoint east of Helmstedt. The reason given was that the Americans did not have Russian visas.

British authorities sent a "very strong protest" to the Soviet military administration against the flight of a formation of Russian Yak fighters over Gatow airport yesterday.

The Soviet fighters flew over the airport, which is in almost constant use by RAF transport planes flying food and supplies into Berlin, at a height of about 1,500 feet.

City Expenses

departments this year exceeds $600,000. Without that, and to obtain an equal revenue, the tax rate would have to be raised to $2.25.

In addition to that, the revenues are paying for new generating equipment which will almost double the quantity of electricity the electric plant can produce.

Police Budget Boosted

Among "general" city government departments, most people seem more interested in police than any other.

The budget this year proposes to increase the operating budget of that department by approximately $56,000—about 28 per cent—from $200,085 last year to $256,035.

The authorized personnel will be increased from 70 to 80, including nine additional patrolmen and an assistant chief. These will absorb practically all the budget increase. The budget provides $9,000 for additional automobiles.

The budget also proposes a substantial increase for fire department operations, from $111,155 last year to $175,065. Practically all of this is for salaries of additional firemen, largely made necessary by the new Texas avenue substation. The budget also provides $30,000 for another substation near Third street and College avenue.

The budget proposes increases in practically all other city departments.

Additional Workers Included

The appropriation for the city manager's office would be boosted from $14,205 to $22,100. The city manager's salary of $12,000 a year would not be changed. The biggest item of increase proposed there is for a "director of public works," a new position, at $630 a month, including bonus.

The budget also proposes another new job—a purchasing agent—at $305 a month, plus a stenographer costing $190 a month additional.

Cost of the personnel departments, which did not exist three years ago, would be raised to $9,060 from $6,008 last year.

The cost of the legal department, which was $250 a month seven years ago, would be hiked to $20,070 for the year. Last year it was $18,209. City Attorney Vaughn Wilson is paid $586 a month and his assistant, Si Marbut, $380.

The engineering department, one of the busiest in the city government, is held fairly steady. That cost would be raised about $3,000, from $23,955 last year to $26,995. City Engineer John Ruhmann is put down for $530 a month.

The provisions for remaining city departments will be listed tomororw, along with a suggestion in connection with the budget which is urgently needed as a protection to city and citizenship.

Curtain Torn From Past As Rookie Cop Fights For His Life

By ARTHUR W. EVERETT
Associated Press Staff Writer

DETROIT, July 20—Twenty-three years ago a rookie cop died in his wife's arms of a bandit's bullets.

Today the woman sat again in the hush of a big city hospital, holding another rookie policeman tight as if trying to keep him from following his father in death.

The woman was white-haired Mrs. Helen Kaliszewski, 46. The prayers she breathed softly were the same ones she said in vain a generation ago.

"Reliving Awful Dream"

The boy she held this time was her son, 22-year-old patrolman Casimer Kaliszewski, jr. He was shot down early today by unidentified assailants as he walked an East Side beat.

He was given only a slight chance to recover after receiving seven blood transfusions.

"It seems to me now that I am reliving an awful dream," Mrs. Kaliszewski muttered, half to herself.

Twenty-three years ago her husband, Casimer, sr., was shot in a bank holdup. He died six months before his son was born.

"I didn't want my husband to be a policeman," Mrs. Kaliszewski said. "We had been married only four months when they came to me and said Casimer had been shot. He lived only a little while after I got to the hospital."

Curtain Torn Away

The widow pushed back her hair, grown silver in those 23 years. Then she went on with an effort:

"When the officers came to our home today and told us that my boy was shot, too, it was as though some one had torn a terrible black curtain off the past. I hope God will spare us a second time.

"I cried alone when my son said he wanted to be a policeman but I didn't want to argue against it."

Then Mrs. Kaliszewski turned to glance at her son's 21-year-old wife, Delores, keeping the same silent vigil that she herself kept 23 years ago.

"The wife of a policeman knows every unspoken terror in the world," whispered the older woman as the 23 years slid away again.

"Just like his Daddy," she sobbed.

Johnson Leads

indicate a favorite, or because the ballots were mutilated in some way, and a total of 344 ballots actually were counted as eligible.

Of this number, balloting was as follows:

Lyndon Johnson 176
George Peddy 39
Coke Stevenson 127

In the first balloting, then, in which a total of 344 qualified votes were cast, Johnson received 12 more votes than the combined votes cast for the other two candidates.

In this latest poll, ballots cast were 185 short of being twice the number cast in the first poll, yet Johnson's lead over the combined votes cast for his oppenents in the latest poll were almost exactly 6½ times that in the first poll.

Voters In All Groups

One hundred fifty nine more eligible ballots were cast in this week's poll than in the previous one. In this increase, Johnson gained 112 votes over those cast for him previously, Peddy gained 16, and Stevenson gained 31. Thus, candidate Johnson gained almost 2⅓ times as many votes in the increase as did his opponents together.

The reporter, in conducting the poll, attempted to get as nearly perfect a "cross section" of local voters as possible.

People who cast ballots ranged in age from those who had just reached voting age and who will be accorded a "free" vote in Saturday's elections, on up to voters who are past 60 and thus are entitled to vote in elections without the required poll tax receipt. Occupations of those casting votes included barbers, waitresses, soda fountain workers, school teachers, college students, salesmen, housewives, store clerks, shop owners, college professors, farmers, city, state, and federal employees, truck drivers, retired persons, seamstresses, mechanics, office workers, doctors and nurses, automobile dealers, telephone switchboard operators, grocers and grocery store employees, lawyers, bankers and bank employees, jewelers, druggists, carpenters, contractors, tailors, and bus and cab drivers.

JOHNSON LEADS POLL TAKEN IN WICHITA FALLS

WICHITA FALLS, July 20. (Special)—A poll of 300 persons of voting age here—taken during the noon hour on three downtown street corners adjacent to the city's three national banks—showed the following Wichita Falls opinion on the U. S. Senate race:

Lyndon Johnson 180
Coke Stevenson 99
George Peddy 21

The poll, which shows Johnson with a clear majority over his opponents with plenty of votes to spare, was taken by The Wichita Falls Times and Record-News.

Captain Larsen Is Transferred

Capt. Vincel Larsen, who has been in charge of Salvation Army work here since September, 1945, announced yesterday that he is being transferred to similar work in Concord, N. C., where he is scheduled to report for duty on Aug. 11 for his frist assignment out of Texas.

Larsen and his wife, also a captain in Salvation Army work, came here from Paris, Texas, in Sept., 1945, and had previously had assignments at Houston and Dallas.

Active In Civic Affairs

In addition to his religious work, Larsen has been active in several civic and service organizations, including the Junior Chamber of Commerce, the Lubbock County Welfare association, and the Lions club, of which he was third vice president. He also was vice president of the Lubbock Ministerial Alliance.

He said he was grateful for the interest and cooperation of the public which helped to bring a marked increase in all phases of SA work here. The general activities program was more than doubled, he said, and quadrupled in some phases. The total operational budget increased from about $16,000 in 1945 to more than $38,000 in 1947.

Capt. and Mrs. Larsen expect to leave here on Aug. 3 or 4, following a few days vacation, he said.

He is to be succeeded here by Capt. Wesley Gregory, who is now stationed at Port Arthur. He is married, and has two children. He is to report on Aug. 11, and in the meantime the work here will be in charge of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Earl Hall of Houston, who plan to enter the Salvation Army training college in the fall.

Texan Sits In Jail

I'm far back in this jug."

Harris, a 31-year old, brown-haired, brown-eyed native Texan, a 170-pound man, six feet one-inch tall, was arrested Monday afternoon.

"I borrowed my father-in-law's car, crossed the river at Reynosa," he said. "On the Mexican side of the river I saw some Mexicans on the river bank. I stopped to talk with them and just then up came the law.

"They got out of their car with their guns waving. I had seen plenty of guns before in the Pacific, but you never get used to guns being pointed at you. I was plenty leery—didn't know what to expect. They brought me to this federal jail. When I got out of the Army, after four years, my wife and I decided to farm because we wanted peace. And look at me now!"

Texan Formally Charged

Harris was formally charged today before Mexican immigration chief Andres Guerra with attempting to recruit Mexican nationals to work in the valley.

His case will come before Reynosa federal Judge Marin Espinosa tomorrow at which time he may be admitted to bail.

Today Harris' wife visited him. She and a relative appealed to U. S. Consul Henry Krausse at Reynosa.

"He couldn't do anything about getting me out," said Harris, "but he did send me a deck chair to sit on. I really was happy to see that chair."

The prisoner stated that 14 cotton pickers are harvesting the crop on his farm,

"I needed five more hands. Everyone else gets pickers over here."

Phone Interview Arranged

The Mexican government does not allow the contracting of Mexican laborers to work in Texas because of alleged discrimination.

"They talk about discrimination," said Harris, "but I never discriminated against a citizen of Mexico in my life. I have a nice place for them to stay at my farm and I pay a bonus. The price for picking cotton now is $1.50 per hundred but I pay $1.75."

When the Texas Associated Press learned that Harris had been jailed, a call was put through to the Reynosa prison and the Mexican authorities brought the prisoner from his community cell and allowed him to be interviewed by telephone.

Harris said Mexican immigration chief Guerra "has treated me fine. He's really a nice fellow."

Mexican immigration inspectors said Harris was apprehended as he reportedly bargained with an unnamed Mexican agent to ferry workers across the river, 200 yards from the Mexican immigration headquarters."

Car Is Impounded

"The negotiations hadn't reached any such stage," Harris chuckled when informed of this. "I have been foolhardy, I guess, but they don't have anything on me as bad as that."

The immigration officers impounded Harris' car.

"I hope my father-in-law gets that car back," he said.

Born in Raymondville, Harris was graduated from Raymondville High school and from Texas A. & M. college. Then he entered the State department and was sent to the consulate in Costa Rica. He speaks Spanish fluently. During the war, he was an intelligence officer in the Pacific with the Fifth Air force. Harris and his wife were married during the war. They have no children.

"I had no idea the recruiting situation over here had tightened up like this," said Harris. "I'd like to get out a warning to other valley farmers. I thought the situation was just like it always was, but boy, was I wrong!"

War Hero Declares U.S. Diplomats In France 'Fatheads'

NEW YORK, July 20 (AP)—Former Lt. Audie Murphy, America's most-decorated World War II soldier, today called U. S. diplomatic representatives in France "fatheaded" and said some are "laying down on their jobs."

He said they are "too lazy to get out and do their job."

Murphy, who holds more than 20 decorations for war service including the Congressional Medal of Honor, has just returned from a trip to France. He received two of France's highest medals while there.

Diplomats Assailed

He assailed American diplomats during a radio interview. Said Murphy, without mentioning any names:

"Frankly, from seeing the people we have to represent the states in France, in the consulates and so forth, I think that some of these fat-headed diplomats . . . are laying down on their jobs.

"I don't know why or how except that maybe they're too lazy to get out and do their job."

He said he had heard "quite a few" complaints against American representatives while he was in France and that "I heard complaints from Americans in France."

"Tourists who are going there now," he added, "are finding out the kind of people we really have there to represent America."

Complaints Not Discussed

State department officers in Washington said they were not in position to discuss Murphy's complaints, since he gave no specific instance of alleged shortcomings. They said there might be a reply if he had something concrete to talk about.

Their own information does not jibe with Murphy's report, these officer said.

On his specific point of officers in Paris "about 20 or 30" years too long, officials cited the department policy of rotation every four years and said it is adhered to as nearly as possible.

Draft Registration

just deliver the number they request," the draft office said.

First Call To Be Small

Secretary of Army Royall said recently that the first call will be "relatively small." The draft calls, he said, might total about 30,000 a month.

When the draft law was first worked out, it was estimated that about 200,000 men would be drafted by the fall of 1949. During the next two years, a maximum of 606,882 may be inducted.

The draft law, which has a legal life of two years, authorized the armed forces to build manpower up to 2,005,882 men. This includes the Navy, Marines and Air Force, which hope to get most of their men through volunteers.

Selective service said its 4,000 draft boards will be ready by deadline time. General Hershey said 13,000,000 draft and registration cards have been prepared.

State Tax Slash

That amendment reduced the general revenue fund tax from 35 cents to 30 cents but made mandatory the levy of another 5 cents for the building bonds.

The new five cents tax prevented the ad valorem levy from dropping to the 37-cent low levied two years ago when the general revenue fund had built up a similar healthy surplus.

Although the college building constitutional amendment is involved in court litigation, Sheppard said the levy of the tax it authorizes is mandatory. If courts hold the amendment invalid, he said, the five cents levied under the amendment must be returned to the tax payer.

Ruling Awaited

The tax board instructed Sheppard to hold up certification of the new tax rate until instructions are received from the attorney general on the mechanics of handling the revenue collected for college building purposes pending final disposition of the court fight. The instructions were expected within a few days.

Law calls for the levying of the general revenue tax only when a deficit is anticipated in the general revenue fund. The anticipated surplus left the board without power to levy such a tax under the legally prescribed formula. Law also sets the rates, without giving any discretion of the automatic tax board, for the taxes for schools, Confederate pensions and college buildings.

The automatic tax board is composed of Gov. Beauford H. Jester, Comptroller Sheppard and State Treasurer Jesse James.

Taxes under the new rate are payable beginning Oct. 1.

Flood Waters

of 28.4 feet. East, west and south highways were cut off by the two rivers and water flooded the main thoroughfare for the first time in history.

Flash floods on all streams emptying into the Kaw river were predicted by river forecaster Ralph Aldrich, who said sharp rises also were due on the Marias Des Cygnes river.

Wichita, Chanute, and Hutchinson, victims of earlier high water, apparently were spared this time.

AGAINST FORCE

THE HAGUE, July 20. (AP)—The five nations of the Western European union were reliably reported in agreement tonight against any show of force against Russia in Germany. A communique at the close of the two-day meeting of the foreign ministers of Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg said they were in complete gareement on a "number of international problems."

Soil Conservation Meeting Conducted At Texas Tech

In the second of 14 such meetings over the state, representatives of the state soil conservation board discussed with supervisors of soil conservation districts in this area a more coordinated program in promoting soil conservation at a meeting in the Aggie Memorial auditorium at Tech Tuesday.

In the course of the meeting, under the chairmanship of Sid Payne of Tulia, a memorandum of understanding which has been drawn up between the state soil conservation board and Texas A. and M. College, was discussed, in an attempt to promote better understanding between the two groups as to what each is trying to do and is doing. A report of the meeting was given by W. N. Williamson, extension service district agent.

The meeting is one of a series of 14 being held over the state, according to J. D. Prewit, acting director of the extension service. The first meeting of the series was held Monday at Amarillo. The third is set in Vernon today.

Funeral Services To Be Held Thursday For J. W. Jones, 69

Claimed by death at his residence on route 5 Monday afternoon was J. M. Jones, 69, a retired farmer who had resided here for the past 24 years.

Funeral services, originally planned for Wednesday, are now scheduled for 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning at the Central Baptist church because of delay in arrival of relatives.

Rev. A. A. Brian, pastor of the Brownfield Baptist church will officiate. He will be assisted by Rev. Jeff D. Welch, pastor of the local church.

Survivors include his wife, four sons, J. L., D. W., and W. L. Jones, all of Lubbock, and Lonnie L. Jones of San Pedro, Calif.; a stepson, Albert Story of Clauene, and four daughters, Mrs. J. E. Wheeler and Mrs. Myrle Johnson of Hawthorne, Calif., Mrs. Fred McCrummen of Roswell, N. M., and Mrs. Christine Rhode of California.

Woman Snake Collector And Trainer Dies From Cobra Bite

LONG BEACH, Calif., July 20 (AP) — Grace Olive Wiley, well known reptile collector, herpetologist and entomologist, died today in a hospital about 90 minutes after she was bitten by one of her Sumatra cobras.

Miss Wiley, about 55, was declared to be one of the few people able to train venomous cobras and several of her snakes had appeared in motion pictures.

She was bitten in the finger as she tried to induce the small Sumatra cobra to arch its back and spread its hood for a photograph, to have been taken by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Mannix, Malibu, Calif. The pictures were for a magazine article on Miss Wiley's reptile farm at Cypress, 12 miles east of here.

Mannix said that after the snake struck, Miss Wiley put the reptile back in its cage and then gave Mannix and his wife first aid instructions. She was taken to Long Beach community hospital.

GUERRILLAS SUMMONED

ATHENS, July 20 (AP)—A high American military source said tonight Markos Vafiades has summoned guerrillas from all over Greece to the Grammos mountains. The fresh troops are to support his depleted forces which are preparing for a show-down fight with government troops.

Residents of the South Plains who are former residents of Runnels county have been invited to pack a basket lunch and attend a reunion picnic scheduled for 10 a. m. Sunday, Aug. 1, at Mackenzie State park. Mrs. A. B. Forbus of Abernathy, who issued the announcement, said the group is scheduled to meet east of the swimming pool.

Dr. Joe Bigsby of Oak Cliff, Dallas, husband of the former Mrs. Allie Reeds of Lubbock, died as result of a heart attack in his Fort Worth office Monday afternoon. Burial will be conducted in his former home at Kirksville, Mo. Mrs. Marshall Harvey has gone to attend the funeral services.

Members of the Lubbock Optimist club meeting for luncheon Tuesday at Hotel Lubbock heard songs by Rex Webster, accompanied at the piano by Roy Bass. The club voted to stage a picnic at the barbecue grounds at Mackenzie State park on Aug. 23. J. M. Finley of Austin was an out-of-town guest.

An open air revival, sponsored by the Central Baptist church, opened Sunday on the Plainview cutoff road north of the city, Rev. Jeff D. Welch, pastor, announced Monday. The revival, which is held at 8 p. m. each day, will continue through next Sunday with Curtis Carroll, evangelist, in charge of services. When the weather threatens the meeting is transferred to the church building, 1311 Eighteenth.

Thomas G. Nelson of Forty-third Memorial hospital about 8 o'clock last night, Rix Funeral home said, but was dead upon arrival, apparently as a result of a heart attack. No further information was available.

Mrs. Donald T. Davis of 903-B College Ave. died about 8 p. m. Tuesday in the hospital at Littlefield, Rix Funeral home reported. A Rix ambulance went to Littlefield last night and returned the body to Lubbock. Other details were not known last night.

ly that civil rights legislation demanded by President Truman may come up for Senate debate when Congress starts work after convening Monday.

Automatically this would turn on a storm of angry southern oratory to talk the bill to death. It could serve to drive deeper the wedge between the harmony-seeking Truman followrs and the Dixie wing of the Democratic party.

Program Undecided

Unlike President Truman, Wherry said he is not so sure enough votes could be mustered to cut off debate. This would require a two-thirds majority.

Wherry, who acted as GOP floor leader most of the recent session, told reporters that the party leadership has not yet decided on any program. But he observed—

"The only legislation in the President's program that I know of that is ready is these civil rights bills."

The Senate has passed housing and federal aid to education bills, which the President wants. But Wherry noted that other measures on his program have not cleared Senate committees.

Civil Rights Bills Pending

The implication was clear that if the Senate is to go to work on any part of the President's list anytime soon, it will be on civil rights.

Three civil rights bills are already on the Senate calendar. They are—

1. A measure to combat lynching.
2. A proposal to outlaw the poll tax in federal elections.
3. A fair employment practices bill intended to prevent racial or religious discrimination in hiring.

They were included in Mr. Truman's civil rights program that split his party wide open.

He challenged the Republicans to make good on this program and on their own platform. But he put at the top of the list housing and a legislative attack on the cost of living.

Loan To UN Urged

Two other proposals of less controversial nature were added today to the points which Mr. Truman is expected to cover in his message to Congress next Monday or Tuesday. They are—

1. Ratification by the Senate of the international wheat agreement. Under this agreement, the United States, Canada and Australia would supply to Britain and other importing countries 500,000,000 bushels of wheat a year for five years within a specified maximum of $2 a bushel and a minimum graduating from $1.50 the first year of $1.10 the fifth.

2. A $65,000,000 loan to the United Nations to complete its headquarters in New York. Proponents contend there is danger that Russia may try to persuade the UN to move to Europe.

The White House said Mr. Truman regards the two proposals as important in the overall peace program.

Peat mosses have reclaimed vast areas of wasteland, turning them into peat, which makes a useful fuel, and forming fertile soil.

Stassen And Dewey Will Confer Today

NEW YORK, July 20 (INS)—Harold E. Stassen arrived in New York by plane from St. Paul today and will confer tomorrow with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey at the GOP presidential nominee's Pawling farm.

Stassen, one of Dewey's bitterest rivals for the nomination, is determined to help the Republican cause in the fall campaign for the White House.

Pledges Support

On arrival at LaGuardia field, Stassen said:

"I will actively support Gov. Dewey and Gov. Warren and will carry on to strengthen the liberal forces in the Republican party."

The former Minnesota governor left the airport for a New York hotel and will drive up to Pawling tomorrow morning.

Asked what post he'd like in the cabinet if Dewey is elected, he laughlingly told newsmen: "You know all the questions."

Governor Dewey, resting at his farm since the Republican convention in Philadelphia, plans to confer later this month with Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, probably in Washington.

While in Washington, Dewey also is expected to confer with House speaker Martin and House majority leader Charles Halleck.

Bond Set For Youth Accused Of Theft

Bond of $1,000 was set in justice court of C. E. Lynn Tuesday for Willie Johnson, 17, charged with theft over $50. The complaining witness, Beatrice Hereford, negro woman, charged that Johnson had stolen $100 from her. Johnson, in a statement, to city police, said that the amount was only $80.

June Woodrum of 1912 Twenty-fifth street reported to police that a gold wedding band, set with 10 small diamonds, had been stolen from her. Value was placed at $100.

Three persons charged in connection with alleged failure to leave information at scenes of Sunday accidents had been arrested, police announced today.

Fines Are Assessed

They said that David Specter, 73, of Wichita Falls and Lupe Carresalez, 20, of Meadow route 1 had been fined $50 each on pleas of guilty, and that a 16-year-old newspaper route boy was arrested for questioning of juvenile officials.

Police said the arrests followed radio communication with the automobile registration division in Austin.

C. L. Thomas, of 502 Ave. B, said a souvenir pistol of Japanese make had been stolen from him.

Lubbock County Blood Bank Discussed At Lions Session

The Lubbock Lions club heard a discussion of the Lubbock county blood bank at the weekly luncheon Tuesday at Hilton hotel, and a short film on operation of such a project was shown.

Meanwhile, a group of club members and friends were enroute East for the convention of Lions International in New York City after an early morning takeoff in a chartered bus.

Mrs. W. H. Agee urged continued public cooperation in the blood bank. She said that in its eight days of operation to date 86 pints of blood had been secured, and that 40 pints had been used in hospitals here, not including that donated by members of the walking blood bank.

An appeal for a full turnout at the polls Saturday by those qualified to vote in the first Democratic primary, was made by Rod McDougal.

Two new members were introduced. They were A. B. Reese and J. M. Crook.

Club President Wayne Henly, who with several others is to leave Thursday for Dallas to join the Texas special train to the New York convention, announced that the board of directors had elected Dr. Sam Hitch as third vice president to succeed Capt. Vincel Larsen, Salvation Army commander here, who is being transferred to Concord, N. C.

Program was in charge of Cliff Freeman. Invocation was by Capt. Larsen.

French Cabinet Crisis Comes At Critical Time In World Affairs

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

The fall of Robert Schuman's middle-of-the-road government in France comes at a particularly inopportune time. Neither the left nor the right in France can take over without shattering one or more of the bases on which European recovery is being built.

The spectacle of George Bidault, going home to an uncertain fate right in the middle of the Hague conference on international military and economic cooperation, comes as a particular shock.

The foreign minister has been a tower of strength in the French babel of indecision over the future of Germany, the federation of Europe, the firm Allied policy in Berlin, and rearmament of western Europe.

The Schuman government had done much to dispel a widespread feeling in the United States that France, with her multiplicity of party shadings, was politically unmature and an undependable partner. Washington economic authorities were beginning to express happy surprise over improving French conditions.

There were some slight indications that President Auriol might ask Schuman to attempt to reform his government. However, this would require renewed cooperation of the Socialists, who have 103 seats in the Assembly, and by the De Gaullists.

The Socialists are definitely opposed to French rearmament, one of the keys to the entire American-European defensive program upon which Bidault was working at the Hague. The De Gaullist rightists are just as violently opposed to the reconstruction of Germany as the key to European industrial recovery.

HOUSTON MAN CLAIMED

HOUSTON, July 20 (U.P.)—Third degree burns received last Saturday when his home was destroyed by fire proved fatal today to Walter Virgil Thomas, 47. He died in a Houston hospital from burns that covered almost all of his body. A neighbor rescued Thomas when he was trapped in his frame home.

Cosden Oil Company Board Votes $2.50 Share Dividend

BIG SPRING, July 20 (AP)—Directors of the Cosden Petroleum corporation yesterday voted a dividend of $2.50 per share on account of accumulated dividends being in arrears on preferred stock.

The directors also authorized rebuilding of a cracking unit.

All directors were reelected and R. L. Tollett of Big Spring was re-named president. There was no estimate of the cost of the catalytic cracking unit, which replaces a thermal unit partially destroyed by fire. Construction will begin Jan. 1, 1949.

Area Wheat Farmers Reminded To Practice Careful Tillage

Farmers of this area who grow wheat are being reminded, on completion of harvest, that in preparing their land for the next crop they should follow practices that will use the stubble in protecting the soil against wind and water erosion, allow rain to penetrate deeper, and condition the soil for larger yields next year.

The reminder came from W. M. Nixon, regional agronomist of the U. S. soil conservation service at Fort Worth.

Observing that "most of the wheat farmers of this area are already using sub-tillage methods that leave the stubble essentially in its original position," Nixon added that such practice is especially important this year because wheat was cut much nearer the ground on account of short stems from dry weather, and the stubble therefore is short.

Emphasizing that land should not be plowed in such a way as to turn the crop residue completely under, leaving the surface bare, the agronomist explained that subtillage leaves the land in a cloddy condition which resists erosion and favors deeper rain penetration.

The practice also kills weeds, and covers the shattered wheat so that volunteer growth can be destroyed as soon as it breaks through the surface, if such is desired, Nixon said.

Services Slated At Idalou Today For Eastland Resident

EASTLAND, July 20 (Special)—Last rites will be read at the Idalou Baptist church at 4 p. m. Wednesday for General G. Reed, 83, of Eastland, who died Monday afternoon at the home of a son, Boyd Reed, near Becton, where he had been making his home for several weeks.

Rev. Joe Matzenbacher has been named to officiate, the interment will be in Idalou cemetery under direction of Rix Funeral home of Lubbock.

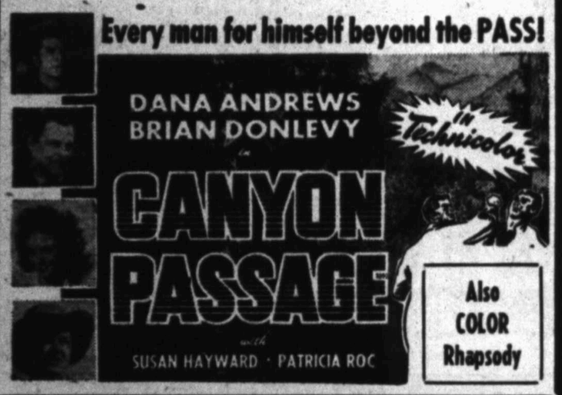

Survivors other than Boyd Reed include five sons, L. B. Reed of Eastland, Malcomb and R. G. Reed of Stephenville and Lewis and Loyd Reed of Bisbee, Ariz.; five daughters, Mrs. R. L. Copeland of Eastland, Mrs. Florence Herder of Wiemaar, Mrs. J. T. Fortner of Moran, Mrs. Oscar Parker of Gordon and Mrs. B. V. Rieves of Stephenville, 29 grandchildren and 10 great grandchildren.

Eleven Texas Tech Students Leave For New Mexico Study

Eleven students of history and anthropology at Texas Technological college are leaving Lubbock this morning for a six-week stay at Glorieta, N. M., where they will dig in the Pueblo ruins there, as training in archaelogical technique, according to Dean W. C. Holden, head of history and anthropolgy at Tech.

Students from Texas Tech have been digging in these same ruins since 1933, and have excavated 70 rooms used by the Pubelo Indians, and a Kiva, or Indian ceremonial room. In addition to these, artifacts of all kinds have been discovered, including pottery sherds, flint, charred corn, and grinding stones.

Those making the trip are: W. M. Pierce Jr., director of studies on the trip; Miss Marion Johnston, of Escota; Miss Jane Holden, of Lubbock; Joe Webber, of Clovis, N. M.; Jerald Henderson, of Dallas; Mrs. Otto Rea, of Lubbock; Miss Mary Ellen Clanton, of Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Grinard, of Veterans' Village; Mrs. Ethel Raney, of Lubbock; Charles R. Arnold, of Fort Worth; and Jean Quinn, of Lubbock.

Waco Radio Station Executive Succumbs In Houston Hospital

HOUSTON, July 20 (AP)—Walter Henry Klentzman, 60, an executive of radio station WACO in Waco, died here early today in a local hospital after a lengthy illness.

Klentzman was born in Bellville but left there as a young man and became a clerk in a Waco shoe store.

Klentzman was visiting relatives here during the Christmas holidays when he became ill.

He was a member of Fidelis lodge No. 1127, A. F. & A. M., Karem temple, Lions club and secretary of the Knife and Fork club in Waco.

Peggy Cummins Leaves Hollywood For New Break In England; Bogart Gets Top Role

By DOROTHY MANNERS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, July 20—Peggy Cummins is out of 20th Century-Fox—a rather sad finale to the loud tom-tom beating when she was brought to Hollywood from England for "Forever Amber."

Peggy did not appear in the released "Amber," as you know. The picture was re-made with Linda Darnell. And after that heartbreak, Peggy's luck seemed to go sour. In spite of a really excellent performance in "Moss Rose," she never quite got going again as a hot attraction.

Far from being out in the cold, however, the little Cummins girl goes to England to make "The Case of Lady Brooke" for Alexander Korda and Gregory Ratoff.

Myrna Loy is the star, but Ratoff, who has always believed in Peggy, says her role is a top one.

Davis To Slow Down

Another contract expected to chill is Bette Davis with Warner Brothers. This, it is said, will be by mutual consent—in fact, very mutual on both sides.

Davis wants to make no more than one production a year. She wants to be free to select her scripts and sign with the companies who have just the right material for her.

But before she wants anything else, she wants a good long rest which she will take at Butternut farm.

Bogart In New Film

Here comes another name change for a leading lady—yet, Candy Toxton, cover girl beauty, formerly with MGM, gets into the lead opposite Humphrey Bogart in "Knock On Any Door" under the new title of Susan Perry.

When Candy signed a long term contract with Columbia they told her they did not like her name. After a meeting of the minds, it was decided that she should sign up as Susan Perry. So, if you hear of George Raft dating a gal by that name, it is just his old flame, Candy.

"Knock On Any Door" is Bogart's first independent for Columbia so this picture kicks off with a clean slate for everybody.

There is something maddening about the timing of the academy awards. Some years are so lean in outstanding performances it is hard to vote a "best."

But 1948 lines up as a heartbreaker. From the women alone—there are already so many brilliant performances about to break, they might all be winners in an ordinary year.

There is Jane Wyman's poignantly brilliant deaf-mute in "Johnny Belinda." There is Barbara Stanwyck's hair-raising performance of sheer terror in "Sorry, Wrong Number." Olivia De Havilland in "The Snake Pit" is still another blue ribbon portrayal. So is Ingrid Bergman in "Joan Of Arc"—say those who have seen her. We also have Irene Dunne's beautiful, warm, unforgettable playing in "I Remember Mama."

It is all enough to drive a top star to acting serials on television.

When Bud Abbott and Lou Costello make their first independent for William and Edward Nassour, they will be a brand new Bud and Lou.

When I asked, "how do you do that?" the answer was, "none of the usual Abbott and Costello gags will be used." That I gotta see.

Anyway, the Messrs. Nassour tell me their production will be strictly a comedy thriller with a jungle background. They are hoping to clear the title, "Don't Bring 'Em Back Alive," which may take a bit of doing because of Frank Buck's long association with "Bring 'Em Back Alive."

Fight Opens To Keep Fort Worth 'Home' Inmates From Voting

FORT WORTH, July 20 (AP)—A fight was launched today to keep the 118 inmates of the Tarrant county home from voting in the Democratic primary Saturday.

Elmo Irby, Democratic county chairman, said two candidates for county commissioner of precinct 3 asked him what the law was on county-supported persons taking part in an election.

He quoted them a statute which reads to the effect that all paupers supported by the county are barred from voting.

Irby said the two candidates—J. D. Thompson and Carl French—indicated they would place supervisors at the voting box at the home to keep inmates from voting. It has been the custom in previous years for men and women at the home to vote.

American Officials Probe Shooting Of U.S. Soldier

SEOUL, July 20. (INS)—American occupation authorities today pressed on investigation into the death of a United States soldier in a skirmish on the 38th parallel border between the Soviet and American zones of Korea. A second was wounded in the ambush.

The American soldiers were ambushed yesterday by an undetermined number of Koreans near Kaesong and pinned down by grenade and small arms fire.

The American patrol repulsed the Korean attackers with carbine fire.

John Steele
COUNTY ATTORNEY
Second Term

A county attorney cannot manufacture a case where the officers have not made a case to start with. Would YOU want to be put to the expense of defending a case against you where there is not sufficient LEGAL evidence against YOU? John Steele is not a BOY WONDER nor a CRUSADING WITCH BURNER. JOHN STEELE has prosecuted AND defended MANY cases. Neither of his opponents has ever prosecuted nor defended a SINGLE criminal case. ENOUGH SAID?

State Candidates Bear Down In Campaign

Foreign Policy In Spotlight

(By The Associated Press)

The world situation continued to give U. S. senatorial candidates talking points today.

Candidate George Peddy in San Antonio thought the world situation serious enough that "people who are responsible for our government should be there on the job."

Later in a speech he described world peace as "far more important to the people of Texas and America than any other issue, domestic or foreign." He urged quick restoration of military power.

Johnson Scores Critics

Opponent Lyndon Johnson, tenth congressional district representative, lashed at "politicians who build campaigns on suspicion and mistrust of their own government." In a transcribed address for radio broadcast from Austin, he defied critics to point to "any government, anywhere, anytime" that has surmounted such problems as ours has.

Earlier at Fort Worth he urged modern planes now so they will be ready in 1951 "when Russia gets the bomb."

Candidate Coke Stevenson went to Bryan on another hand-shaking tour of small towns. He scheduled three more statewide broadcasts this week.

Stevenson's state headquarters said a state legislator, Rep. Wayne W. Wagonseller of Fruitland, and a former state legislator, Tom Bullock Hyder of Denton, would make broadcasts in Stevenson's behalf.

Debate Challenge Issued

Roscoe Collier of Dallas and three other senatorial candidates who withdrew in his favor will speak in city park at Dallas Thursday evening. Collier announced $100 would be given to any one of "the so-called big three if he will meet us in debate." The other candidates are Terrell Sledge of Kyle, Cyclone Davis of Dallas and Dr. E. B. Clark of College Station. Collier said Davis is offering the $100.

Sledge, who has become Collier's campaign manager, returned to Dallas Tuesday from what he called a "Paul Revere" swing through the southeast, seeking funds to finance a statewide radio broadcast by Collier.

"I hitchhiked rides and slept on grass," Sledge said. "I haven't slept in a hotel since this campaign started."

Collier stated Tuesday that he favors universal military training; repeal of the Taft-Hartley act; tax revision, but not reduction until the debt has been paid; private enterprise. He said

"Where the Sky on the South Plains"

Lubbock, Texas, Wednesday, July 21, 1948

Gaines Stepout Locations Made

South Plains oil attention is focused on west-central Gaines county, where locations have been made for immediate drilling on two stepouts.

Cities Service Oil company and The Atlantic Refining company have filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas, covering their No. 2 Proctor, to be 10 miles northwest of Seminole, and adjacent to the same operators' No. 1 Proctor, recently completed discovery from the San Andres-Permian.

Gaines Stepout Slated

It will be 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 335, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey. The exploration is slated to go to at least 6,775 feet, to test the Clear Fork Permian. That makes it a wildcat, and there is no production in the adjacent areas of the Clear Fork.

Tide Water Associated Oil company No. 1 J. M. Shelton is to be a stepout from Clear Fork production in the North Riley field, in west-central Gaines county.

It is located 660 feet from north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 404, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey. It is contracted to 7,000 feet, to test into the zone which is making oil in three nearby wells. Drilling with rotary is to begin immediately.

Ellenburger Test Set

American Republic corporation No. 1 Susue Koonsman is to be a 7,750-foot wild cat in Northeast Scurry county, to hunt for and test the Ellenburger.

It is 2,115 feet from north and 3,290.3 feet from east lines of section 240, block 2, H & TC survey That puts it eight miles northwest of Camp Springs, and 15 miles northwest of Snyder. Drilling is to begin at once.

This venture is on a block of about 10,000 acres, which had been held by The Imperial Agency of the Netherlands government. American Republic has secured a one half interest in the Block in return for assuming the obligation to drill the wildcat.

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Winston, south-central Scurry county wildcat, four miles south of Snyder, and 330 feet from north and west lines of tract 72, Kirkland and Fields survey, was coring ahead from 6,853 feet in Pennsylvania lime.

In the United States, the supply of peat is estimated to contain 12 million tons of dry fuel.

Services Set Today For Slaying Victim

Duty Denied Bail In Fatal Shooting Here

Bail was denied Tuesday morning to Hildred Milton Duty, 28-year-old taxicab driver, in connection with a charge that he murdered James W. Hickman, 55, of 2701 Thirtieth, with malice aforethought at 9:35 p. m. here Monday.

Duty, who has a prison record in both Texas and California, said that he was medically discharged from the Army after 1,027 days of being AWOL.

The charge was sworn to by City Detective Lee Rice, jr., and filed by District Attorney Lloyd Croslin in the court of D. W. Robertson, justice of peace. It will be investigated by an Aug. 9 grand jury in the 72nd district court of Judge Dan Blair.

Services Set Today

Funeral services for Hickman will be read at 4 p. m. today in Plains Funeral home chapel by Dr. M. Norvel Young, minister of Broadway Church of Christ. Burial will be held in Lubbock cemetery under direction of Plains Funeral home.

In a dying declaration made by the victim at West Texas hospital, Hickman told Croslin that his daughter, Oleta, about 27, had "turned Duty down" about six months ago and that "it has been hell since then."

He said he, his wife and his daughter had been threatened with death since he and Duty were taken into court on a March 15 charge that they were carrying guns illegally.

He told Croslin, before his death at 11:30 p. m. on an operating table, Duty pulled a gun on him on one occasion, a long knife on another, both recent occurrences.

Threats In Letters

Also, Hickman said, he and the daughter had received threats in letters.

Hickman, yardmaster here for the Santa Fe railroad, gave Croslin this account of the Monday shooting—after having been informed that he apparently was about to die:

Hickman went to a cafe just west of the city bus station, he began, and drank coffee. He was en route to work, and was carrying his lantern.

Saw Duty Across Street

He said he saw Duty standing across the street northward from the bus station when he went for coffee. Duty was still there when Hickman came out of the cafe, the victim said.

Then, Duty motioned for Hickman to come across the street to where Duty stood, Hickman said. First accounts of the shooting erroneously said Hickman motioned to Duty, officials said.

Hickman told Croslin that he believed Duty wanted to talk with him. He said he had been thinking things over and wanted to adjust differences with Duty peacefully.

Stepped Behind Car

When Hickman was almost to where Duty stood, Duty stepped behind a parked car, on the west side of Ave. J in 1000-block, Croslin was told.

Then, Hickman continued, Duty stepped from behind the car and, without any statement, fired twice.

Hickman, hit in the stomach, told Croslin that Duty then ran. Duty had been following him since March, Hickman said.

The victim said he was alone at the time of the shooting, but believed that someone standing nearby might have been with Duty.

Hickman told Croslin that, when the men first had their difficulty, he had thought about killing Duty, then changed his mind.

Third Such Incident

The shooting was the third such incident in the last two months involving the alleged slaying of fathers by suitors seeking to marry the victims' daughters, officials said.

The official reports show that Hickman charged March 15 that Duty rode beside a bus on which Hickman was a passenger and pointed a pistol at him. Duty charged on the same date that Hickman was carrying a gun. A pistol was found in Hickman's possession. Another was found behind the seat of Duty's car Hickman paid a fine of $100. Bond of $800 was set for Duty, who pleaded innocent.

Surrenders To Police

Johnson Gives Texans' Views

By TOM STONE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WACO, July 20—Lyndon Johnson said today he had found in his grasshoppering trips throughout the state that "Texans want people of the world to fight Communism wherever it tries to take hold."

The U. S. senatorial candidate landed here in his helicopter and held a press conference in a hotel suite.

Office Seeker Tired

Johnson was tired and throat-weary, so he made himself comfortable.

His long-sleeved white shirt with French cuffs was open three buttons down at the neck.

In his hand was an edition of the morning newspaper here. He took a pair of horn-rimmed glasses from a monogrammed shirt pocket and slipped them on.

Johnson's campaign slogan is "preparedness . . . peace . . . and progress."

He read the headlines: "French government falls in political crisis."

"White House decision on Berlin move may be ready."

"American stoned to death in Cairo."

"Stock market takes worst dip since '46."

And he added from memory:

"The Russians are target practicing in the American corridor . . . the stock market takes a big dip . . ." He looked up from the paper, his face solemn and serious.

"The people who do the betting know that the betting is bad," he

2,373 Sign Up For Tech Summer Term

At 5 p. m. Tuesday 2,373 students were enrolled for the second term of the summer session at Texas Technological college, which is over 100 more students than have previously registered for the second summer term. The highest enrollment before this year for the second six weeks was 2,265, recorded last summer.

Registrar W. P. Clement said the final figure will probably settle between 2,350 and 2,400 students.

Yesterday was the only official day of registration, but students who were unable to register Tuesday will be allowed to register today and tomorrow. All who register later than 5 p. m. today will be charged a $2 service charge for late registration.

365 ABSENTEE BALLOTS COUNTED

Candidates Promise To Halt Card Passing Here Saturday

Lubbock will not be littered with candidates' cards Saturday, date of the first Democratic primary, it was announced Tuesday afternoon.

At least, 27 candidates so pledged.

County Judge Walter Davies, who called the meeting, said the handful of candidates who had not so agreed "probably will conform, but just haven't got around to making announcement of intentions."

Meanwhile, the deadline for absentee voting passed Tuesday and Louie F. Moore, county clerk, announced that 365 absentee ballots had been counted at 5 p. m Tuesday. The number after the final tally is expected to be something over 400.

Candidates who subscribed to the decision not to hand out campaign literature Saturday did so as a courtesy to voters, it was explained, assuming that "the publi had made up its mind how it will vote, and handing out cards at the last minute probably would not help either the candidate or the voter."

Those who had signed the pledge, or had telephoned their agreement were:

Pat Corley, candidate for commissioner of precinct 4; R. O. Short, for commissioner of precinct 1; G. V. Pardue, for 99th district judge; Louie F. Moore, for county clerk; J. B. Johnston, for tax assessor-collector; T. O. Heald for commissioner of precinct 1; L. D. Pendleton, for county treasurer; Ben Mansker, for precinct 2 commissioner; J. B. Palsy Group Meets Here

By ROGER SOUTHALL
Avalanche Staff Writer

When members of the parent group of West Texas Cerebral Palsy club met Tuesday night in the parlor of First Baptist church, they heard Miss Esther Snell, physio-therapist and director of the local cerebral palsy treatment center, discuss case histories and point out the progress being made in treating palsy cases.

Miss Snell arrived here recently from Palo Alto, Calif., where she was a teaching fellow at Stanford university and physio-therapist in that institution's cerebral palsy treatment center. She heads Lubbock's newly approved palsy center, and will supervise treatment of cases when the program gets underway about August 15 or 20.

Early Treatment Urged

In her talk, Miss Snell emphasized that while treatment of cerebral palsy may begin at any time, it is best to begin early in childhood—as early, in fact, as eight months of age. Formerly, children were not treated at such an early age, but experiments have proved that most effective results can be gained from early treatment.

The Lubbock cerebral palsy treatment center, sponsored jointly by Lubbock Crippled Children's society and the local Rotary club, is located at the present time at the Cottage school, Second street and Vernon, and will move from there about August 15 to another temporary location on Main street behind West Texas hospital, at which place the center will remain until a permanent treatment center is built, construction of which is to begin in forthcoming months.

While the center is located at Cottage school, Miss Snell will not give treatment or clinic aid, unless unusual circumstances require, but will meet with parents and their children to study case histories and make arrangements for later treatments. Miss Snell will be at the school on weekdays from 1 until 5 p. m., and has asked that parents and their children confer with her during those hours. Since the school is not located on a mail delivery route, any inquiries from out-of-town people may be addressed to Miss Snell at 2112 Sixteenth.

Palsy treatments and clinic aid will begin after the center has moved to its second temporary location in 1300 block Main street. There will be treatments for affected children, and also instructions to parents on how to teach and care for such children at home. The work will be done under the direction and prescription of local doctors and psychologists.

• NO ORDER-TAKER

The People's Man

THE inconsistencies of those who are doing everything in their power to keep Lyndon Johnson out of the U. S. Senate provide one of the most astonishing features of the present senatorial campaign.

One segment of Mr. Johnson's opposition is using a technique which can be summarized in this way: "Don't vote for Lyndon Johnson. He's a New Dealer."

At the same instant, the element of the Johnson opposition made up of labor bosses argues: "Purge Lyndon Johnson. He supported the Taft-Hartley Labor Regulation bill. He opposed the President's veto of that bill."

Those who have mapped the master strategy of the campaign against Mr. Johnson thus charge in one breath that he is a slave of the New Deal. In the next, they assail him for his support of the Taft-Hartley law, which the New Deal tried by every device in its power to defeat.

Seldom in politics anywhere has there been a more flagrant or more obvious attempt to play both ends against the middle in a desperate bid for votes.

IT is true that Mr. Johnson went along with most of the Franklin D. Roosevelt policies during the earlier years of his service in the lower House of Congress. So did nearly the entire membership of Congress—Democratic and Republican—and the overwhelming mass of the American people.

Mr. Johnson usually did support the government's policies when the fate of the nation and the world was suspended in such precarious balance during the war that disunity in the law making branches would have invited catastrophe.

But Mr. Johnson's record throughout his career supplies ample proof that he exemplifies the type of statesmanship which does his own thinking and which refuses to accept, blindly and unquestioningly, the orders of the party politicians in power.

The Taft-Hartley bill is one of many examples of his independence in such matters. The administration did everything it could to persuade Congress to sustain the President's veto of the bill. Mr. Johnson helped to override the veto.

Mr. Johnson also supported the measure proposing to give the individual states title to submerged oil lands. The administration opposed that legislation. He voted against the administration consistently on rent control proposals. He supported the 70-group air force which the administration tried to defeat. He played a leading role in the successful fight to provide a record sum of $200,000 for an investigation of Reds and Red-sympathizers—a measure toward which the administration was more than lukewarm.

MR. Johnson has demonstrated, in short, that he voted as a member of the House according to the convictions of Lyndon B. Johnson. Clearly, he took no orders from the White House, or any other political bigwigs.

As a member of the United States Senate, he can be relied upon to continue that splendid record. His record is the assurance that as a senator, his conduct in every controversial matter will be in accordance with his sincere convictions as to what are the preferences and the best interests of the people he serves.

The people of Texas need in the U. S. Senate a young man with the experience of a dozen good years in Congress behind him; who is attuned to our times and the needs of a changing world; who has the ability to find out what the nation most needs—and the energy and enthusiasm to do the job that is needed.

In short, Texas needs Lyndon Johnson in the U. S. Senate.

AND now there were other voices. Aunt Alice's and then Aunt Helen's, both exceedingly cordial.

"Come in, won't you? How very nice to see you! We thought we'd have tea in the garden. Alice dear, see if you can find Patience."

Patience flew downstairs. She stopped short on the threshold of the sitting room.

"Ah, here you are, dear child," said Miss Helen. "Mr. Taylor, this is our niece Patience."

Gravely they shook hands. Gravely Paul, unnoticed by the two ladies, winked at Patience.

"How do you do?"

"How do you do?"

"Let's go into the garden," said Miss Helen.

Tea was served on the best Staffordshire tea service. Certainly, thought Patience, her aunts were out to impress Paul favorably. But where on earth had they met him?

Still, it was enough that he was here. And that when he looked at her his eyes told her that despite all that had passed he was still in love with her. Just as hers were most likely telling him that she too was in love with him. Only how was he going to feel towards her when she told him about Roger—about Paris?

After tea, Aunt Helen suggested that Paul and she might care to take a stroll around the garden together. "Or perhaps you'd like to show Mr. Taylor that very pleasant walk through the woods?"

Patience looked at Paul.

"Shall I?"

"Why, yes, I'd love it."

Patience smiled at her aunts.

"We won't be very long."

"That's all right, dear child."

Paul said as they set off: "Just the moment we're out of sight I'm going to kiss you."

Patience's heart leaped.

"Oh, Paul!"

"I am, darling. We've a lot of leeway to make up, you and I." He looked back over his shoulder. "I'm afraid it's just a bit too soon yet."

"It certainly is. Don't forget too that we've only just met."

"Yes, that's a point."

"PAUL, how did you get here? I simply couldn't believe it. I thought I must be dreaming when I heard your voice in the hall."

Paul grinned.

"History, my sweet, repeated itself."

Patience stopped short.

"How do you mean?"

"Your estimable aunts picked me up on the train!"

"Paul, they didn't!"

"Indeed they did. And they were much quicker about it than ever you were."

Patience swallowed hard.

"That must have been then last Monday evening."

"That's right. Last Monday as ever was. I came upon them both hurrying for the 6:30 and helped them with their suitcases. We all three went down together."

They were almost out of sight of the garden now. Paul helped her over a stile. A tree hid them completely from Miss Helen and Miss Alice, who were still sitting placidly where they had left them.

Paul put his arms around Patience, but she struggled free of them.

"Paul, I've got to talk to you."

Paul looked down at her.

"Must you? Couldn't I kiss you first, and then we'll talk after?"

"No. You see, After I've told you what I'm going to tell you, you may not want to kiss me."

Paul said it sounded ominous. And privately decided that he was glad he'd gone to see Roger Dickson. Otherwise he might be feeling decidedly uneasy.

"Fire ahead."

"I was in Paris last week-end."

"Good for you."

SHE stared at him. "But you don't understand. I was there with Roger Dickson. Oh, Charlotte was with us as well. Charlotte by the way is my twin sister. I was going to tell you about her that day on the train, but after what you said I couldn't possibly. And —well—" She hesitated, fearful as to how he was going to take it—"Roger and I lost the 'plane back."

Paul took her hands.

"Darling, what does Roger Dickson mean to you?"

"Nothing—at least—well, I suppose I did sort of find him attractive. I was so lonely, and so wretched without you. We—we had quite a lot of fun together over there."

"Fun?" His eyes searched her face. "No, it's all right. Don't tell me," he said quickly.

But she knew that she'd got to. She'd not be happy in her mind otherwise.

"He kissed me," she faltered.

She waited. Her heart shook. And then miraculously his arms were tight about her, and it seemed he had forgiven her, because he was kissing her and telling her he loved her. That indeed, as she must surely know, right from the very first moment he'd seen her he loved her. And that this time, he was going to make very sure that she married him.

Back in the garden, Miss Helen and Miss Alice were chatting happily together.

"I think he's a very delightful young man," said Miss Alice. "He's got such charming manners."

"I know. I must confess I like him very much indeed. He seems too so entirely suitable."

Miss Alice drew a little wistful sigh.

"I wonder what Patience and he are doing now."

Miss Helen looked at her.

"Doing, Alice? Whatever do you mean?"

"Well, dear—a young man and a young girl—he might—well, he might possibly be holding her hand."

THE END

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

ALL of us have our great moments occasionally.

It may be a wonderful romance—with moonlight and roses thrown in.

It may be the day we receive our college diploma or a Medal of Merit.

BRANDEIS

It may be the moment when the preacher makes us one, or our promotion to vice president in charge of gaskets.

However, there is one great moment I am sure neither you nor I ever have experienced or ever expect to experience.

"Few things have I known in the way of emotion," wrote Vladimir Nabokov, a Russian, in an American magazine recently, "that could surpass in richness and strength the excitement of entomological exploration."

(Entomology, to save you the trouble of looking it up in the dictionary in case you don't know, is the study and sciense of insects.)

"Isn't that just like a Russian?" you may say.

I thought so, too, until I read the announcement of a new book called "The Insect Guide," written by an American scientist, Dr Ralps B. Swain, and illustrated by his wife.

These two devoted years of study to their subject and months and months of work to the book.

To judge by its contents they, too, like Nabokov the Russian, must have been in ecstasy over their task, and I admire them thoroughly for the fervor with which they rally in defense of some greatly misunderstood bugs.

For instance, "it has not been demonstrated that roaches spread disease," writes Dr. Swain, nor is "the common bedbug a proven disease carrier."

So, please, hereafter swat a bedbug if he bites you, but please don't libel him.

HERE is something you may want to try some time. If you do I wish you'd let me know how it came out (no pun intended).

"Fried or roasted termites are a delicacy to certain African natives," writes the good doctor of entomology. "The Indians of our Southwest and Mexico use the so-called honey ants for sweetening . . . North American Indians use the larvae of the long-horned beetle as food . . . Aborigines of the intermountain area eat Mormon crickets, dried and roasted.

"An imaginative cook might find even more palatable ways of preparing them."

I showed this to my wife just after she had complained for the nine hundred and ninety-ninth time that it is difficult to make up menus day after day and year after year."

"Here is a change," I said. "Why don't we have some fried termites for an appetizer and roast crickets for our entree?"

You should have seen the look she gave me. I even think she turned slightly green in the face for a moment.

Demos Seek Votes

By RAY TUCKER

PHILADELPHIA — The Democrats' deepest fear as they prepare for the Presidential campaign is of a mass defection on the part of the labor leaders and voters whom Franklin D. Roosevelt kept in line for four elections.

The desertion so far has assumed greater proportions than they had expected, which explains the extremely forceful pro-labor plank in the platform and several convention speakers' charge that the G.O.P. had "sold out to the interests."

Despite formal invitations and private pressure by President Truman, no top labor boss delivered a speech before the Democratic party here. William Green, A. F. of L. president, has said that his people will not vote for the Dewey-Warren ticket, but it is recognized that he cannot speak for his union with any authority.

TUCKER

Philip Murray, C. I. O. head, was one of the original Eisenhower rooters, despite his ignorance of the military leader's views on all problems of close concern to the workingman.

Daniel J. Tobin, head of the A. F. of L. teamsters' group, has apparently quit active politics, although he headed the Democrats' labor division during several Roosevelt campaigns.

BACKING: Jack Kroll, the C.I.O.'s political director, was a Senator Pepper man until the Florida legislator's one-man boom collapsed. James B. Carey, the C.I.O.'s secretary-treasurer, said at Philadelphia that he did not expect to support President Truman. And, of course, there is general belief that John L. Lewis, United Mine Workers' chief, will oppose the man in the White House.

If Mr. Lewis does not make a speech for the Republican ticket, it will probably be because the Albany man's strategists think it would hurt more than it would help. But they would appreciate his secret backing in such states as Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Kentucky, Ohio etc.

LATCHKEY: Labor's indifference to Mr. Truman, according to its spokesmen, is not due to the way he has terminated several strikes and outsmarted Mr. Lewis' resort to court action.

Nor does it derive from the fact that, for one reason or another, he does not seem to be able to make his requests on their behalf stick on Capitol Hill. These factors contribute to their prospective walkout, but they are not determinative.

Like the politicians of Mr. Truman's own party, the union leaders believe that 1948 will be a Republican year and, naturally, they want to "ride the gravy train." They want the White House latchkey to hang as low for them under a possible Dewey regime as it did during the early years of the Roosevelt administration.

There is no evidence that a few labor bosses with headquarters at Washington, not to mention their fat salaries, control the vote of the estimated 15,000,000 workingmen and women of the United States.

But when the "big shots" turn thumbs down on a candidate for high office, it is usually because they know how their constituents feel on the subject or object of their antipathy.

Like the politicians, they have to eat, too.

SCHEME: Michael Di Salle, the youthful mayor of Toledo and an Ohio delegate, had advanced the idea of a special session at the Democratic national convention even before it was announced by Mr. Truman.

His Honor discussed it with several White House managers during the Philadelphia party, if it could be called that.

His Honor had suggested that Mr. Truman summon the GOP-dominated Congress into special session during the late summer or early autumn, and challenge it to enact into law the bright promises of their platform, especially their pledges on civil rights, federal aid to education, health and housing.

The only kink in the scheme is that a majority of the Democratic members of House and Senate may attempt to filibuster against translating their own platform promises into law.

Few convention resolutions committees in recent years have devoted so many agonizing hours to framing a document of principles as the Democrats did during last week's Philadelphia heat.

STARS: The two parties feminine stars were generally regarded as the oratorical flops of the convention—Clare Booth Luce, Republican playwright, and Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas, erstwhile movie actress. If there was any advantage Mrs. Douglas seemed to possess it.

Neither televised glamorously. For attractive women, their voices were stridently harsh and raucous, especially Mrs. Douglas'. And from the reaction in the hall and on the part of television audiences, both spoke in extremely poor, smart-alecky taste.

Both appealed to a spirit of intolerance, bigotry and political passion which threaten as nasty a campaign as the U. S. experienced in the Hoover-Smith struggle of 1928.

If two cultured and educated gals pull hair the way they do, what can be expected when the men get going in what may be one of the most slambang and critical contests in recent history?

It is hoped the prediction that the world will end before 1948 does is in error. With all its faults, the world is a handy thing to have around, and if it were to disappear we should probably miss it considerably—for a week or so, anyway.

"War would be virtually impossible if everything were put on a strictly cash basis," asserts a columnist. Yes, and so would living, for a number of persons.

A generation or so ago, in order to kiss a girl a man had to catch her under the mistletoe. Now he only has to catch her—and she heartily cooperates by running towards him.

"The human body is capable of sustaining an immense load," asserts a physiologist. Yes, particularly in the case of the American taxpayer, who is carrying the world around on his shoulders.

In many a case these days there is one recourse left to a woman who has been disappointed in love: She can go back to her husband.

Most political speeches fall into one of these two classifications: (1) Those that don't mean anything; (2) those that do mean anything.

A psychiatrist says a person who talks to himself is mentally unbalanced. We should think that would depend upon what he said to himself.

We are pessimistic enough to believe that as long as there are people in the world they will have considerable trouble with one another.

ALL OF SOUTH NOT BACKING MOVE

Southerners Facing Heavy Odds

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The current attempt of some elements in the South to break away from President Truman and split the Democratic party in its traditional stronghold finds the South, itself, splitting in turn into groups to set up a counter-rebellion against the self-appointed state righters.

This is helpful, in its way, because it shows dramatically that the whole South can not be herded together under the Confederate flag. This resistance to the anti-Truman movement springs from various motives — personal conviction, awareness that the Civil war is over, and in some cases is dictated by practical political considerations.

STOKES

A symbol is the South Carolina federal Judge, J. Waties Waring of an old Charleston family, who even while the southerners were rebelling at the Philadelphia convention against the Truman civil rights program, was declaring calmly from the bench that no subterfuges could be used by South Carolina Democratic party officials to keep negroes from voting in party primary elections. He announced bluntly that anybody who violated his decision would be jailed for contempt.

Court Backs Up Ruling

To the negro standing before him who had brought a case against discrimination, he said:

"It's a disgrace and a shame when you must come into court and ask a judge to tell you you are an American."

Those words might well become historic.

There are many people all over the South who look upon extension of the franchise as a primary civil right that must be granted to make the South and its politics truly democratic. The judge was merely backing up the United States Supreme court in its outlawry of the "white primary" and the Supreme court was only upholding the Constitution.

The South Carolina democratic party, like some in other southern states, has used all sorts of devices to evade the dictum of the Supreme court against the "white primary." It was a decision by Judge Waring some months ago against such a dodge that was sustained by the Supreme court. But the Democratic party in South Carolina cooked up another by requiring negroes to take an oath upholding segregation before they could vote. It was this against which Judge Waring struck the other day, and the chairman of the state Democratic executive committee subsequently directed that his order be fully carried out. That looks like progress.

Significantly an element of the South Carolina democratic party composed of upstate farmers and mill-workers came forward recently in defense of negro voting. This recalls an often forgotten chapter in politics of the South which was an alliance after the Civil war of the same sort of elements with negroes in a common front to impose their economic welfare. That alliance was destroyed during the populist era in the South, when it became effective politically, by appeals to prejudice and institution of the "white primary" to deny negroes the vote. Its revival today, despite similar appeals to prejudice, is a hopeful sign.

It is interesting that it happens in the state which led the way to secession in the sixties, and the state which has provided, in Governor J. Strom Thurmond, the presidential candidate of the new confederate movement organized at Birmingham. This alliance may impede Governor Thurmond in lining up his state electors against President Truman.

Some Ignore Move

It bespeaks the ferment all over the South today out of which may come something not anticipated by the Birmingham revolutionaries. For other elements in the South will refuse to go along with this rump rebellion, including church groups, labor groups, and independent citizens who are working quietly in behalf of extension of civil rights.

But the most effective deterrent perhaps is plain practical politics.

It is noteworthy, for example, that outstanding party leaders in the South kept aloof from the antics at Philadelphia and are having no part in the Birmingham movement, such men as Senator Walter F. George of Georgia and Harry F. Byrd of Virginia, prominent conservatives, who naturally would be enlisted first, if possible, to give the revolt weight and character.

While Governor Ben T. Laney of Arkansas was, for a time, the candidate of the southern revolters for president at Philadelphia, he refused to become the candidate of the Alabama and Mississippi "walk-outs" at Birmingham. Senator Richard B. Russell of Georgia who ultimately was given the votes of southerners at Philadelphia, also refused to join the Birmingham rebellion.

Governor Laney is reported ambitious to run for the Senate in 1950 and the others have important party posts in Congress which they do not care to jeopardize. That is a strong influence that mimimizes chances of much success for the southern rebellion.

MARKET MAKES COMEBACK
NEW YORK, July 20. (AP)—The stock market landed on its feet today after three days of tumbling prices.
On the heels of Monday's decline, sharpest in nearly two years, prices rallied fractions to six points or so. Rail and oil stocks started rolling forward and most of the market followed suit.
Turnover of 1,460,000 shares were considerably under yesterday's 2,560,000.
Superior Oil rebounded six points on a single sale after a 20-point plunge Monday.
Gains running to an extreme of five points were posted for Skelly Oil 141, Richfield Oil 42¼, Standard Oil (NJ) 81½, U. S. Steel 78½, Republic steel 28¾, General Motors 60⅛, Boeing Aircraft 24⅝, Curtiss-Wright 11⅝, Southern Railway 45⅛, Santa Fe 110⅛, General Electric 39⅝, and American Woolen 53⅝.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT
NEW YORK, July 20. (AP)—Cotton futures were irregular in dull trading today. Light mill buying and short covering met only limited hedge selling. Failure of the ECA to give a breakdown on authorizations for the current quarter to Marshall plan countries left cotton traders uncertain as to volume of exports for the period. Good cotton crop weather and dullness in textiles created a hesitant tone.
Commission house selling in the final hour depressed prices which closed around the lowest of the day.
Futures closed 40 cents to $1.00 a bale lower than the previous close.

AVERAGE PRICE
NEW ORLEANS, July 20. (AP)—The average price of middling 15/16-inch cotton today at ten designated southern spot markets was 60 cents a bale lower at 33.48 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 35.35; middling ⅞-inch average 30.35.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, July 20. (AP)—Improved flour demand brought aggressive mill buying into the wheat pit at the board of trade today. At times wheat was more than 2 cents above the previous close, and generally profit cashing was well absorbed.
Corn and oats advanced with wheat, the December and September corn scoring great gains.
Oats were under pressure part of the time, and July oats could not develop much steam. Bookings of oats were placed at 300,000 bushels, corn at 156,000 bushels and wheat at 120,000 bushels.
At the finish profit cashing had eaten into the advance and wheat was ½ higher to ⅝ lower than the previous close. July $2.25¾. Corn was 3¼ lower to ⅝ higher, July $2.07¼-07. Oats were ⅛ to 1¼ lower, July 78-80½.

FORT WORTH REPORT
FORT WORTH, July 20. (AP)—Wheat No. 1 hard 2.31-35.

Newton, less than 10 minutes after the shooting.
"I just shot J. W. Hickman," he was quoted as saying.
He reached into his pocket and surrendered a .25 caliber pistol
He said he believed Hickman had something in his hand when Hickman crossed the street, but allegedly admitted that he did not believe Hickman had a gun.
He gave a statement to E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney, wherein he admitted serving penal terms in Texas and California. He also gave details of his service record. Pharr said he was charged with burglary at Killeen a brief time after he had been inducted and that, when taken back into service after a two-year penitentiary term, he deserted.

Arrests Are Cited

His record shows arrests at various times and on various investigations at Amarillo, San Antonio, Chicago, Denison, San Francisco, and Lubbock.
Tom Garrett, jr., was charged with murder with malice in the slaying of Alvis Graves on June 9. He was released on $5,000 bond the next day.
Richard W. McGee, Lubbock insurance salesman, still is held in Lubbock county jail without bond on a charge of murder with malice of R. L. Allston, Lubbock grocery association executive, who was fatally wounded at his Colonial apartments residence on July 7.

Foreign Policy

on matters of foreign policy he would "support the secretary of state whoever he may be."

March Given Backing

The governor's race picked up steam.
Candidate Denver S. Whiteley of Houston withdrew in favor of Caso March, endorsing him as "the strongest candidate now opposing the present administration."
Present administration leader, incumbent Gov. Beauford H. Jester delivered his second political broadcast of the campaign. He reviewed again the state's accomplishments of the past year and a half.
At Houston opponent Roger Q. Evans said in an address that "the people of Texas are sick and tired of the kind of administration we have had and now have in the governor's office." "Beauford Jester's term is a continuous record of broken promises," he charged.
Opponent March at Waco labelled states' righters as "Jestercrats" who he said had delivered Texas tidelands into the hands of the oil companies. March said they are the "undercover boys" he is out "to get" at precinct, county and state Democratic conventions.

He said of an opponent without calling his name . . . "It's unbelievable that one who expects to serve in the Senate can discount the idea that preparedness is an issue."
Someone asked him what he thought the results of Saturday's first primary election would come out.
"Johnson will shape up like this," he said of himself in the second person:
"Johnson 52 per cent, Stevenson 38 per cent and the rest of them in the race 10 per cent."
He handed out a five-page statement.
It said in part:
"Texans want peace, Texans know that we must be strong if we are to get peace . . . Texans know that the primary job confronting the next United States senator from Texas will be to lead the fight for preparedness and peace."

More Men Than Women Eligible To Vote In Texas This Year

By JOE BELDEN
Director, The Texas Poll

AUSTIN, July 20—Unlike the nation as a whole, Texas has more men than women eligible to vote this year, a study by The Texas Poll reveals.

The study, conducted as basis for The Texas Poll's scientific surveys of the voting public, shows men outnumber women by a ratio of 3 to 2 on the poll tax records in this state. Nationwide estimates of both the Democratic and the Republican parties show women outnumber men voters by a slight margin.

The Texas Poll study also discloses:

1. Eligible voters in cities of over 50,000 population account for more than one-third of the Texas electorate. One-fourth live on farms and ranches; the rest in small and medium-size towns.

2. Five per cent of the eligible voters are negroes. The majority of these live in the big cities.

3. Proportionately more women than men are found among the young voters of the 21-29 age group.

The Texas Poll sampled the poll tax rolls of every county in the state in order to design its scientific cross section of the electorate. The results of this sampling, supplemented by official census estimates and returns from the poll's continuous surveys of the adult population, show this is how the Texas electorate is made up:

By age groups:	Men	Women
30-39 yrs	24	27
40-49 yrs	25	23
50-59 yrs.	19	17
60 Up	14	10
	100%	100%

By race:
Negro	5%
White	95
	100%

By sex:
Men	60%
Women	40
	100%

By place of residence:
Cities 50,000 or more	35%
Towns 10,000 to 50,000	12
Towns 2,500 to 10,000	16
Towns under 2,500	12
Farm or ranch	25
	100%

By section of state:
Panhandle-South Plains	9%
North Texas	19
East Texas	19
South Texas	17
Central Texas	11
Southwest & Valley	15
West Texas	10
	100%

By socio-economic levels:
Upper middle	38
Lower middle	30
Low	21

In making its pre-election surveys to measure strength of candidates, The Texas Poll breaks down its cross section into 75 or more assignments to interviewers in every part of the state. Each interviewer receives a prepared questionnaire to be used in interviewing specific quotas of men and women voters, of various age groups and economic levels, who live in town and in the country.

The interviews conducted by the field reporters represent the opinions of a scientific cross section of the statewide electorate. A survey may be based on a cross section of 500 interviews, 1,000 interviews, 1,500, or more. Each includes, among other things, a measure of likely voters only, The Texas Poll makes its pre-election forecasts.

This year The Texas Poll will publish forecasts in the U.S. Senate race and the governor's race. These forecasts will be based on a cross section of 1,500 interviews conducted between Monday, July 19, and Friday, July 23.

In past years The Texas Poll has published ten forecasts in election contests. All of these were based on surveys conducted about five days before the election. On the average, the poll has missed the winner's standing by 3.2 percentage points, when compared with official election returns.

News Briefs

Major Harold Fulghum of the local recruiting station has announced that Army and Air Force enlistments of men 18 years old will begin here today. Applicants enlisting under this new directive will be exempt from the draft upon completion of 12 months service in either Army or Air Force. The quota set up for the area under the Lubbock recruiting district calls for 15 white applicants to be accepted for the ground forces, two for the Air Force, and two negro applicants for the ground forces between July 21 and Aug. 31. Fulgum said the quota would be filled on a first come, first served basis.

Newly appointed superintendent of Shannon West Texas Memorial hospital at San Angelo is Tol Terrell, former Lubbock man and son of Mrs. B. T. Terrell of 2324 Fourteenth. Terrell has been superintendent of Harris Memorial hospital in Fort Worth the past nine years.

The Knights of Columbus, Council No. 2008, will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in the parish hall at St. Elizabeth's Catholic church. New officers will be installed, with J. J. Moore, district deputy, presiding. Refreshments will be served.

Mission Study Is Conducted At First Methodist Church School

Mission study on negroes was conducted at the fourth additional session for primary and junior children of the First Methodist church school Tuesday morning at the church.

Ada Mitchell and T. R. Albert, pastor of Mt. Vernon Methodist church, negro visitors at the session, sang "Steal Away" and "The Lord Is My Shepherd."

Piano accompaniment was played by Ned Hardin. Mrs. C. C. Chambers gave the devotional. Mrs. Claud H. Dalton reviewed the book, "My Dog Rinpy." Other adult leaders were Mesdames George Box, A. F. Harrison and G. F. Hill.

Following the program, the group was taken by chartered bus to Carver Heights, where visits were made to the Mt. Vernon Methodist church and parsonage and Chatman hospital and residence.

The additional sessions are held on Tuesday mornings and are in addition to regular church school on Sunday. Twenty-seven children attended this morning.

James P. Hart of Travis County for Associate Justice
Supreme Court of Texas
Place No. 2

Using standard public opinion sampling methods, a representative cross-section of Texas voters was asked to choose between these two statements: "The best candidate for Supreme Court is one who has been (1) a county judge and a district judge, or (2) a district attorney, district judge, assistant attorney general of Texas and a judge on the Texas Supreme Court."

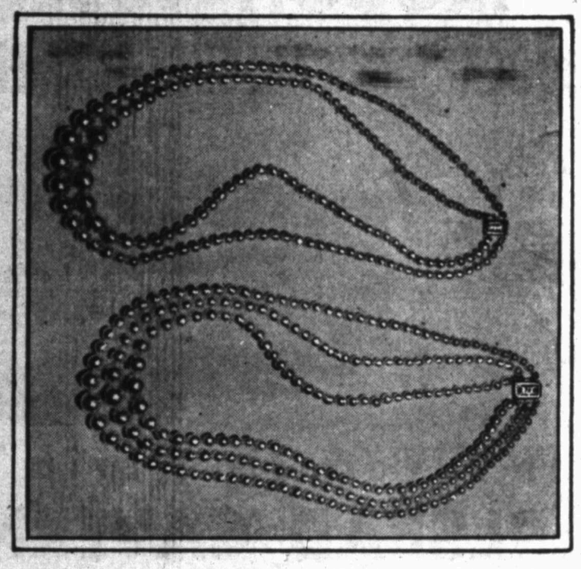

82% of persons interviewed said the man was best qualified who has been a district attorney, district judge, assistant attorney general and a judge on the Texas Supreme Court.

The Only Candidate for Place 2 With This Experience Is James P. Hart!
