SIGHTS, FACES SEEN

Bob Higgins did it. He always has said he would stay home rather than get on a boat or airplane. This week the Arizona fair had a greater lure for him than his fear of airplanes, and he left Thursday, via air, for the Arizona fair.

Jimmie Allred who was hunting quail with three companions near Post was seen by his companions "to run a short distance and shoot, run a short distance and shoot." This was repeated several times. The fellow hunters were sure Jimmy was having extra good luck. Jimmie finally made his way back to the group and asked why they didn't help him out when he was signalling them to help him find his way back. Other members of the party were Marlin Gilliland, D. C. Kinsey, and Bob Lawrence.

Mrs. R. C. Childers, chairman, is calling a meeting the "The American Homes" Department of the Deaf Smith County Federated Women's Clubs for 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, January 9, at the county court room.

"Time doesn't mean anything to a hog", remarked Alex O. Thompson, in explaining how to take time exposures, such as his this week of the Ford home, winner in the decoration contest. We're still trying to decide just exactly whether Alex was talking about himself or someone else.

Mrs. Wilma Clark, who had worked for Streu Hardware since February, is now employed at the office of county tax assessor and collector, filling the place of Miss Ruth Loerwald, who had worked there two and a half years. New employee at Streu's is Mrs. Delmo Williams.

Cecil Williams says her brother, Guy Gilliland, still regularly adds a P. S. to his letters, just as he did to his Santa Claus letter, 1907 style, published in the Christmas issue of the Brand. Gilliland now lives in California.

Ralph Smith announced yesterday that there will be a zone meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the Legion home in Bovina where Dr. D. H. Reed, department commander of New Mexico, will be the principal speaker. The meeting is open to the public, Smith said, and all legionaires and auxiliary members are urged to attend.

The Hereford Implement Company has two new employees. Miss Bobbie Brownlow has accepted a secretarial position, and C. V. Burgess, Jr., has returned to work for the company, after having recently attended to his farming interests in Oklahoma.

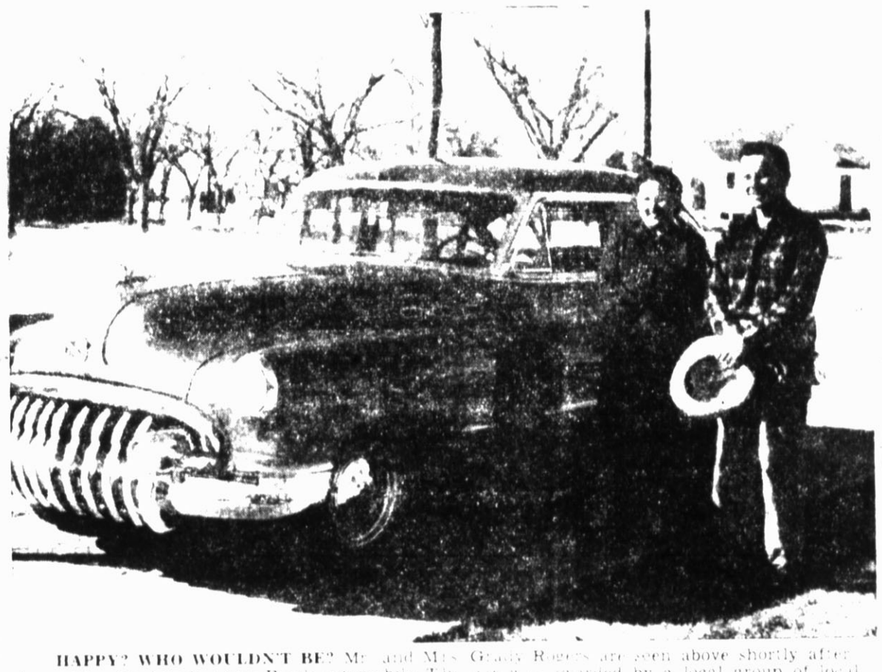
R. J. Cramer and sons, who recently moved here from Lubbock, report their newly opened upholstery business is getting off to a good start. Mr. and Mrs. Cramer and sons are all employed in the business.

Bob Thompson has turned the keys to the clerk's office over to Alex Thompson, county abstractor. Seems the cutlines under the picture of the newly installed county officers in the Thursday Brand had a typographical error, reading "Alex O. Thompson, county and district clerk." A. O. Thompson's official title of "county abstracor", Robert Thompson's name, and the name of another official were ommitted.

There will be a Zone 1 meeting of the American Legion and Auxiliary Tuesday night at 8 p. m.

Attend Sun Bowl Game

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McCracken and children and her father, M. L. Steele were among the many from Hereford to attend the Sun Bowl football game held in El Paso on New Years Day.



HAPPY? WHO WOULDN'T BE? Mr. and Mrs. Grady Rogers are seen above shortly after being presented with a new Buick automobile. The car was awarded by a local group of local men, who said that $2,800 in profits will be used to finance the annual Rotary Club 4-H show in Hereford this spring. Mrs. Rogers, who was confined to bed with "flu" when the car was delivered, became so excited that she jumped up, donned her clothes and rushed out to make an inspection. Her smile proves her statement that winning the car was "good medicine."

Large Group Will Take Physicals

Thirty-six men are scheduled to leave by chartered bus for Amarillo Monday morning at 8 o'clock to take pre-induction physicals, announced Mrs. A. Petersen, selective service secretary.

Following is the list of men ordered to report Monday:

Raymond Leslie Alrum, Dawn; Edwin Robert Hart, Farwell; Oral B. Gulley, Farwell; Edgar Anthony Birkenfeld, Nazareth; Leander John Reimart, Hereford; J. J. Bonds, Jr., Happy; John Alexander Mayhew, Dimmitt; Julian Charles Huseman, Nazareth; Robert Peyton Ramey, Hereford; Johnnie Pete Cockerham, Hereford; Charles Edd Osborn, Stephenville; David Valentine Acker, Nazareth; Tibb Burnett, Amarillo; Clyde Allen Layman, Hereford; Jerry Eugene Brown, Amarillo; James Allen Inman, Canyon; Pat Campbell, Amarillo; David Meade Cunningham, Hereford; Jimmy Doyle Whitaker, Hereford.

Seven boys whose order to report for examination was postponed because of school are John Calvin Henderson, Canyon; Lloyd Earl Lust, Dimmitt; Kenneth William Wheeler, Amarillo; Nelson William Stephenson, Dimmitt; Phillip E. Blythe, Amarillo; Billy Mac Thomas, Canyon.

Bill Reford Beyers' order was postponed because of the illness of his father.

Tires Are Stolen From Three Autos

Sheriff J. C. Reese reported no new clues had been turned up to clarify the mystery of the tires stolen from three different automobies in Hereford Wednesday night.

The front wheel and tires of a 1948 Hudson were stolen from the car while it was parked in front of a house at 511 McKinley.

Another combination tire-and-wheel robbery took place in front of the home of Elmer Reynolds. The vehicle from which the tires were stolen is the property of the county, Sheriff Reese said.

The third tire robbery occurred in the northwest part of town when the rubber was lifted from a late-model Buick.

Sheriff Reese said in all probability one person or group of persons was responsible for all three robberies.

FRANK JONES, winner of the first prize in the High School division of the Christmas Short Story Writing contest sponsored in December by the Brand, stopped by the office this week to receive his award of $10. His was the only picture which did not appear in the Christmas issue of the Brand. Reason? Well, Frank lives more than 20 miles out in the country and he could not be contacted before he returned to school. Mrs. Corinne Jennings, assistant librarian, said the young writer does as much—if not more—reading than anybody else in Hereford.

Mag Peddlers Hike Checks, Don't Deliver

A Hereford lady wrote a $4 check to a young woman who claimed she was selling magazines. Not long afterward, the check returned. The $4 had become $14 and the lady has never received her magazines.

That story with different persons and slightly different amounts, according to Sheriff J. C. Reese happened several times in Hereford. A group of purported magazine salesmen decended on the town in December, sold subscriptions for all sorts of magazines, pocketed the money therefrom (raised the amounts when they could) and no case is on record of any of the persons having received their magazines.

Sheriff Reese said the group of "salesmen" swarmed over the town, and that one young woman in particular had "duped" a large number of customers. Although she appeared at the Chamber of Commerce offices and requested a permit, C. of C. Manager Tom McFarland refused to grant the permit when the woman declined to permit investigation of her past and present circumstances and those of her companions.

Reese and McFarland joined one another to warn citizens of the town to beware of salesmen and other canvassers who do not have permits from the Chamber of Commerce.

The young woman who sought but did not gain a permit at the Chamber of Commerce office in December claimed to have been representing the Union Circulation company, Incorporated, No. 5 Columbus Circle, New York 19, New York.

"It appears that everybody who did business with the woman and her companions have been stung", Sheriff Reese said.

Scouters Invited To Scout Meeting

All scouters and persons interested in scout work have been invited to attend a dinner and the regular meeting of the Deaf Smith district of the Llano Estacado council of the Boy Scouts. The meeting will be held at 12:30 p. m. at the Hereford High School cafeteria.

The meeting will honor the workers of Hereford and the Deaf Smith district, who have devoted much of their time and efforts to the promotion of scout activities.

The invitation to scouters, includes those who are engaged in work with cubs as well as those working with scouts and older groups.

Funeral Monday For Trader Jack

[illegible] will be held M[illegible] at 2:30 at Gospel Funeral Home for J. S. Lee, age 78 years and 12 [illegible] Hereford resident. Jack is survived by [illegible] Jack, Jr. Rogers and [illegible] Jack.

Jack Lee knew how unwise it was to be [illegible] as he was known by his friends.

Services for the deceased are [illegible] Friday afternoon, [illegible] conducted by Rev. [illegible] pastor of the Hereford Baptist church. The body will be laid to rest in the Hereford cemetery.

Trader Jack lived in a little cabin at 5[illegible] Main Street. It was in the cabin where he owned a [illegible] pet. According to the county records available, he was born in Indiana.

Mrs. Dealtha Bradley, county welfare executive said yesterday that Trader Jack was taken to the Deaf Smith County Jail Sunday simply because she and county officers, Sheriff J. C. Reese and Deputy S. B. Berry believed he would be better cared for there than in the small cabin in which he lived. The condition of Trader Jack was called to her attention Sunday. She and the two officers went to his home and found he had no fire at all and he was not able to talk coherently. His mind seemed to be in a daze but he seemed all right physically. At one end of the cabin were identical bunks, she said, one for Trader Jack and another for his much loved dog. Because of his condition, Mrs. Bradley said he was unable to keep himself clean.

At the jail, the welfare executive reported, three men gave him a bath and he was provided clean clothing from the welfare agency. He seemed to be in no pain, she said, however, he was examined by Dr. L. B. Barnett on Wednesday and arrangements had been made Thursday, before he died, to move him to the hospital.

"I don't know how else we could have done it. If anyone else had been there, I believe they would have done the same," said Mrs. Bradley, expressing the same sentiment as that of the county officers.

B&PW Sponsors Play Tuesday

The Business and Professional Women's Club is sponsoring the presentation of "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" by Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre at the high school auditorium Tuesday evening at 7:30. The play is designed especially for children, but will thrill adults as well.

Miss Della Stagner, B&PW president, said season tickets may be purchased before the performance, which is the first of three scheduled for this season, or at the door on the night of the first performance.

From the moment Rebecca appears on the stage, she gets herself in situations which may seem extremely funny to an unbiased observer, but not to her spinister aunts, who have never had a child live with them before and to whom "Rebecca's" exuberance indicates merely that discipline has been left out of her upbrining.

"'Rebecca' is not a naughty child," says Clare Tree Major, founder and director of the Children's Theatre, "not intentionally. She just has too much imagination. Telling a fairy tale to some playmates in the back yard, it is the most natural thing in the world for "Rebecca" to snatch the clean lace curtains from the drying line, and drape them over her head to give her a veil and a train, held on by a coronet of roses from the back porch to make her a princess. To stern Aunt Miranda this is not imagination but just plain naughtiness.

"In strict New England fashion, she believes the best treatment for naughtiness is to be sent to bed without supper, which, as is seen in the play, has a disastrous effect on 'Rebecca'."

But Kate Douglas Wiggin's memorable book, "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," adapted for the stage by Clare Tree Major, paints "Rebecca" for all her pranks, as a captivating little girl who not only succeeds in winning but returns in full measures the respect and affection of her aunts.

Inclusive Program Outlined By C of C

A [illegible] Post Ad[illegible] of the Board of the Chamber of Commerce Thursday night in the Jim Hill Hotel.

Phases of the program include highway promotion, trade extension and road work, industrial development, airfield, civic program including county fair and livestock show for Deaf Smith County, and surrounding area, Cowtown for the agricultural committee are Robert [illegible] J. R. Allison.

A [illegible] civic affairs program under the chairmanship of Ray Convert will [illegible] by RIA (Rural Telephone Association) protect, city park, and civil defense.

Wayne Edwards heads the Retail Merchants committee, which will work on four separate projects, including a monthly bulletin service, a Hereford Needs contest, canvassing permits and check identification systems. The "Hereford Needs contest" will be waged throughout several weeks, and three prizes will be given to the three persons who make the best suggestions about Hereford's need or needs.

All present members of the Chamber of Commerce have been cordially invited to attend the kickoff breakfast Wednesday.

Banquet Date Set

January 23 is the date set for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet, which will be held this year in the Jim Hill hotel ballroom. A renowned speaker, Frank Streetman, has been obtained as the main feature of a program which is slated to prove entertaining for all who attend.

Besides the Streetman address, two or three novelty acts are being planned for the program, McFarland said. Streetman, who speaks to audiences throughout the United States—and makes a living doing it—is known as a humorist with a "Will Rogers type of wit."

Only 495 Voters Have Paid Poll Tax; January 31 Last Day to Pay

Worth Covington, county tax collector, yesterday urged all citizens to pay their poll taxes as soon as possible in order to avoid a last minute rush on January 31, the deadline for paying the poll tax. He also reminded taxpapers that this month is the last month to pay other taxes without penalty, the penalty starts on February 1.

This year is not a regularly scheduled election year, but it is possible for important called elections to be held during the year. "You cannot vote in any election, if you do not pay your poll tax," Covington reminded.

Last year 2505 persons paid the poll tax here, the largest number who have ever paid the tax in the county. Covington said the average election year here has run 18 to 22 thousand. Only 495 poll taxes had been paid yesterday.

Covington said the other taxes are coming in fairly well with approximately 80 per cent already collected.

Applicants Are Many; Jobs Few

Applicants for a wide variety of positions are in abundance, but openings are few at the local office of the Texas Employment Commission in the court house, according to Tom Bourland, representative.

When the commission first came to Hereford, it served primarily in the agricultural industry, but now it has branched out to cover nearly all positions except professional.

Applications are now on hand in the following classes: skilled laborers, such as carpenters, brick layers, etc.; farm laborers, and non-farm laborers.

Bourland said the number of persons now unemployed is probably due to the fact so many construction contractors do not operate in the winter months and due to the decline in farm activity.

Chapel Choir of HSU To Be Here

Bob Lawrence, education director of the First Baptist Church, extends an invitation to the public to attend the presentation of the Hardin-Simmons university chapel choir Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the church here.

Composed of 55 voices, the choir is directed by Euell Porter, chairman of the voice department in the HSU school of music.

Two local girls, Audrey Hood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Hood, and Reba Dones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dones, will sing in the choir. Members of the choir will spend Tuesday night here as guests of members of the First Baptist Church.

The choir, making its second annual tour, sings selections from the most devout church music of Palestina, Bach, Billings to Jerome Kern melodies. Modern folk songs and negro spirituals are also on the program.

There are more women voices in the choir than men. There will be approximately 20 men and 35 women in the concert. All performances are given from the phalanx position, thus permitting a crossing of voices, making a better blend of tone.

Choir members are dressed in white flowing robes with purple trimmings. Shoes of comparable colors are worn.

Two special groups will accompany the choir. They are a women's trio and a freshman quartet. The trio, which has been singing together during their high school days in Hutsville are Jean and June Hardy and Doris Chandler.

The freshman quartet consists of David Ward, Tyler; John Burgess, Huntsville; Ronny Bates, Brownwood; and Roy Lowe, Amarillo.

Soloists with the choir are: are: Gertrude Bryant, Iraan; Mary Ann Lester, Palestine; Doris Chandler, Huntsville; and Bill Hardage, Vernon.

Williams Will Instruct In GI Vocational School

Delmo Williams is transferring this week from the Parmer County Vocational School to the Deaf Smith county school where he will be an instructor, announced Charles Crowell, coordinator, this week.

Williams is replacing Harvey L. Perkins, who was called into service. He reported to the selective service board at Bryon on December 22.

The school resumed classes on Friday, after having a two week's Christmas vacation.

Dollar Day Will Be Held Monday

Merchants of Hereford have set aside Monday as Dollar Day in order that local shoppers may have a chance to take advantage of the usual good buys in January.

Last Tuesday was scheduled as Dollar Day, but many farmers and townspeople, too, were unable to shop local stores because of the weather. Some of the merchants are repeating values listed for last week, while others have complete list merchandise they wish to close out in order to make room for the new spring styles.

This issue of the Brand is filled with Dollar Day advertisements.

Offices Are Opened In Evans Building

Three offices opened for business this week and others are now complete in the new Evans building, which makes the west side of the 300 block on N. Sampson a complete unit of modern business buildings, filling in the gap between Hereford Implement and Jim Hill Hotel.

Wayne Evans said yesterday six of the new offices will be rented and the seventh used as a demonstration room or customer's room for the implement company. Evan's new office opens into the implement building, as does a large new parts storage room, which space has allowed the removal of parts from the service department, making an increase in size for that department.

Now doing business in the new building are the Selective Service Board in the north front office, the Wesson Real Estate company in the south front office, and Gib Howard, county attorney, who has a private office on the south side of the hallway.

The building is modern throughout, including light green plastered walls and asphalt tile floors in each office. The front of the new building features big plate glass windows.

Who Did The Most For Town In 1950?

What individual contributed the most to Hereford in 1950?

The time to select Hereford's "Man of the Year" is again drawing near and members of the Lions Club secret committee have asked for help in making the selection.

The committee, known only to the Lion Club president, has asked that citizens of the community make nominations, listing reasons for their nomination, sign the sheet and mail it to Lion President Wayne Edwards, Hereford, Texas who will turn all nominations over to the committee.

"Your suggestions will be appreciated," Edwards said. "The committee feels that the selection this year will be difficult and they have asked for constructive suggestions. Deadline for mailing the nominations will be January 15," he concluded.

It was also pointed out that the man selected for the honor should have contributed to advancement of the community, rather than basing the selection on a popularity basis.

The annual award will be presented by the Lions Club at the Chamber of Commerce banquet in Jim Hill Hotel January 23, and will be the fifth such award. Wayne Edwards received the first award for his activities in 1946, W. C. Reeves for 1947, Dr. L. B. Barnett for 1948, and Mayor W. E. Dameron for 1949.

Salesmen Must Have Permits

Chamber of Commerce Manager Tom McFarland issued a warning this week to residents to quit buying from salesmen who do not have a permit from the Chamber of Commerce or the City Hall.

"In one case the amount of a check given a salesman without proper permit was raised", he said and indicated possibly another such case is on record. Some local individuals have subscribed to magazines through salesmen four months ago, and have not received an issue.

McFarland said a different bunch come to town every week or 10 days selling magazines or other items. "It is not hard for reputable persons and companies to obtain permits for selling," McFarland pointed out, adding that it is for each person's own protection that he find out whether or not every salesman who comes to his door has a permit to sell.

The C. of C. manager also requested local people selling here to obtain a permit in order that the worthiness of the cause they represent may be determined.

Two Men Are Fined And Given Sentences

Gilbert Ray Webb of Missouri, age 23, and Jack Claude Bailey of Athens, age 33, both plead guilty of theft and were fined and given jail sentences by County Judge L. H. Foster in court this week.

The two men were arrested by city police Tuesday night and admitted having stolen a battery from the Pinkert Welding Shop the previous evening. They also admitted, when questioned by county and city officers, taking other items around Hereford, including four tires and three wheels out of cars parked at the Hereford Hudson Company lot.

Judge Foster fined Webb $200 and costs, plus 30 days in jail, and Bailey, $100 and costs, plus 30 days in jail.

Jaycees Commended For Christmas Work

At least one citizen of Hereford appreciated the efforts of the Junior Chamber of Commerce when the organization staged its annual Christmas lighting program for this year.

Mrs. John P. Slaton, in a letter to Jaycee Secretary Bill Howard, said "Most of all I appreciate what your organization has done for our town and want you to know that I have been behind you one hundred percent in every project you have put over, and as far as I can, I will continue to be."

Mrs. Slaton, winner of the third prize award in the home lighting contest thanked the Jaycees for the award. She went on to say that "This is our town and it will be the kind of town we make it. Again thank you."

Howard said the Jaycees were very grateful for having received the kind word of appreciation from Mrs. Slaton. So far no other letters of commendation for the Jaycees efforts have been received.

Joins Navy

Gene M. Roberson, son of Mr and Mrs. Charles Roberson of Hereford, has joined the U. S. Navy. He left Wednesday for San Diego, California, where he will enter training.

THE WINNER—Pictured above is the Roy Ford home, winner of the Jaycee-sponsored Christmas home decoration-lighting contest during the Christmas holidays. Following the Christmas theme, the decorators arranged Santa Claus and his reindeer in the act of alighting on the roof of the home. The W. C. Hromas home took second prize, and third prize went to Mrs. John P. Slaton, whose home is at 60 1-25 Mile Avenue. Parliamentary Lesson For Club

A parliamentary drill was featured at the meeting of L'Allegra Club held Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. V. C. Hopson. Mrs. James Edmonson, president of the club, conducted a business session when Mrs. Wanda West, an associate member, was welcomed as a regular member of the club.

Mrs. Jack Brown, program leader, conducted the lesson in parliamentary law choosing a program in reverse to present "How Not To Conduct a Club Meeting."

Members attending the session were Mesdames Darrell Blanton, Jack Brown, James Edmonson, Donald Henslee, Gerald Gollehon, Hilton Higgins, O. G. Hill, Jr., Richard Ireland, Lee Kent, Walter London, Jr., Dick Lucas, Marlin Pierce, Bill Waldrep and the hostess.

Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Rush are now on vacation, visiting in the East. They plan to be gone about 10 days.

Week end guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Henbree were his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Alva Hembree and children, Dannie and Lucy, of Los Angeles, Calif. They Alva Hembrees had been visiting relatives in Shawnee, Okla.

TWELFTH NIGHT, an ancient English custom, came to life in Hereford Friday evening, when the burning of Christmas trees for most of the town took place. Cubs brought brilliant color to the flames when they tossed corncobs, treated with flame-coloring chemicals, into the blaze.

Twelfth Night Celebration Friday Evening Is Termed Successful

Seventy or eighty cub scouts, their parents and leaders, and a large number of other residents attended the "Twelfth Night Celebration" Friday evening when the burning of Christmas trees for most of the town was featured.

The event was sponsored by the cub scouts.

Mrs. Homer Brumley, publicity chairman, said the affair probably will become an annaul cub scout event because it was so well received Friday night.

The pack meeting, including cubs in seven dens, composing two packs, was held preceding the bonfire. First on the program was the flag ceremonial, conducted by the den chiefs, after which Cub Master Bruce Miller led group singing.

The honor banner was given Dens 3 and 4 of Pack 50, who tied in the number of parents in attendance. Each den will keep the banner two weeks.

Mrs. Edd Cox conducted a question and answer period bringing out Christmas traditions to explain the origin and meaning of the Twelfth Night celebration, an old English custom.

Makes Awards

Harold Meacham, cub master, presented wolf awards to Wendell and Edsell Rows, Jimmy Conkwright, Larry Edwards, and Durwood Jacobs. Miller presented bear awards to Robert Kinsey and Joe Reinauer, and the lion arrowpoint award to Archie Scott.

Coy Patton, cub scout commissioner, announced plans for the annual Blue and Gold observance, which is the birthday celebration, to be staged the second week in February. Instead of the regular pack meeting, the annual pot luck supper will be Church at 7:30 in the evening held at the First Christian when each cub will bring his family and sandwiches and cookies. On February 11, the cubs will attend church in a body. A display of handicraft will be placed in Streu's window on February 10.

Patton also announced the den chiefs will finish their training course on Wednesday and Friday nights of next week.

Bob Wilson introduced two new committee members, Rex Lee and Bill Waldrep of the Lions Club, which sponsors Pack 50. He also announced that on Monday at 12:30 at the high school cafeteria the adult workers of the scout and cub scouts will be guests of the district committee at a luncheon.

Mrs. Bob Wilson explained the making of hygrometers and gave a leather craft demonstration.

Light The Fire

After the pack meeting, the group marched to the lot across from the swimming pool where John Hicks, field commissioner, lighted the big heap of Christmas trees. While they burned, cub scouts threw chemically treated corn cobs into the pile and watched them throw out colored flames.

To close the twelfth night celebration, the Hereford Fire Department extinguished the blaze.

Hereford FFA Meets Thursday

The Hereford chapter of the Future Farmers of America held their regular meeting Thursday night, January 4.

Bedford Forrest was named chairman of a commitee to work on a party for which every boy in FFA will invite a girl as his guest.

Stanley Slagle reported tickets had been bought for the rodeo at the Ft. Worth Fat Stock Show. He reported also that transportation was being secured for the trip to Ft. Worth.

Entertainment was provided in the form of a "Liar Contest." The winner was Commie Smith, whose prize was a pie thrown in his face. Other members participating in the contest James Henderson, Ike Ford, Don Veigel and Stanley Slagle.

Members present were James Alston, Ray Dean Axe, Joe Betzen, John Byers, Larry Cannon, Raymond Cummings, Gene Dickson, Bobby Dziuk, Wilfred Erdman, Lee Ford, Bedford Forrest, Leon Frerick, Joe Hacker, James Henderson, Herman Hund, Bob Manning, David McDuff, Jack McCracken, Francis Miles, Richard Pickens, Charles Russell, Don Russell, Stanley Slagle, Commie Smith, Carl Strafus, Joe Streun, G. W. Suggs, Leslie Thompson, Anthony Urbancyyk, Don Veigel, Garry Walker, Wayne Walser, Leonard Walterscheid, Kenneth West, Shelby Whitfield, A. L. Williams, Lewis Ray Womble and Bob Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Williams have returned home from southeast Texas where they have been since the first part of December. They say home looks good to them here.

Leases Flood Clerk's Office

By use of a photo recording camera, County Clerk Robert Thompson and an assistant, Mrs. Juanita Owen, are able to do in three hours recording that would require a good day's work for 12 expert typists.

Oil and gas leases which have poured into the clerk's office for recording in recent weeks have created a huge volume of extra business.

Thompson said 12 expert typists could copy and proof about 50 oil and gas leases on one day. The work, now being done with the recording camera, requires about an hour of rexposure of 50 leases and two hours for developing, fixing, washing, and drying with two persons working.

Before the days the recording cameras were used by county clerks, the flood of oil and gas leases in a county created a terrible problem for the clerks. Thompson went to Snyder to inspect a similar method used there. The Snyder clerk said he was 2500 instruments behind when the oil boom struck there. After obtaining a recording machine, he was able to get his work up to date in three weeks.

Another story is told of the office in Rush County where the boom hit and the clerk had to record oil leases by the typewritten method. Typists were hired in abundance and even worked under a shelter on the courthouse lawn to try to take care of the needs.

Thompson explained the present system of photographing absolutely prevents any chance of typographical error. The photographic copies themselves are bound in the usual type binder. With a new attachment obtained for the machine, the copies will now be about 10 or 12 per cent larger than the original instrument, the size of photographic copies were made when the office first started using the process.

This system is in general use throughout the country, said Thompson. The Amarillo office of the county clerk uses the process for all recordings. Here it has been restriced to oil and gas leases.

"Leases have slowed down some now", said Thompson, "We were getting an avearge of 20 a day, compared to 4 or 5 per day now." Thompson predicts, however, that the recording of royalty and mineral deeds will run heavy.

Despite the great help the photo recording camera renders, there is pelnty of work in connection with handling the oil and gas leases in addition to the huge volume of other papers handled at the office. "Each oil and gas lease is handled 12 times besides the mailing", said Thompson. The lease is recorded in six volumes, listing several items in each.

The clerk's office charges 15 cents per 100 words for recording. The average warranty deed runs about $1.25 and the oil and gas lease, $4.00, Thompson said.

Business at the office this year has doubled that of last year, the county clerk pointed out. Part of that he attributed to gains other than gas and oil. Last year only three persons were employed at the office which now hires four regularly and two part-time. In 1948, 2,864 instruments were recorded; in 1949, approximately 2200, and in 1950, 4400. These instruments which have to do with land titles. Chattel mortgages are not included.

The Dexigraph Photo Recording camera used by the clerk's office belongs to the A. O. Thompson Abstract Company.

COMPARING A PRODUCT with the original are Mrs. Juanita Owen, left, and County Clerk Robert Thompson, right. They are standing by the Dexigraph Recording Camera with which they are able to record in three hours time, oil and gas leases which would require a good day's work for 12 expert typists. The machine is the property of A. O. Thompson Abstract Company. —Brand Staff Photo

Price of School Lunches Is Raised Because of Increase in Expenses

Increase of food prices and additional help necessary for operation of the three school cafeterias has made it necessary that the price of school lunches be increased, effective Monday, January 8, Supt. George L. Graham stated this week.

"During the first four months of school, we have served over 68,000 meals at a loss of approximately $3,000", he said. "This increase will enable us to operate our cafeterias on a sound financial basis and we shall be able to continue serving well balanced and palatable meals. Although you as parents realize what the increased food costs mean, we thought you would appreciate this explanation."

It was necessary that the school hire additional help in the cafeterias when the Shirley School cafeteria was opened this fall, bringing the total to three.

The increase will raise the lunches in the elementary school cafeterias from 20 cents to 25 cents, and the junior high and high school cafeteria from 25 cents to 30 cents.

Following is the school lunch menu for the week, January 8-12:

Monday
All meat Franks Stuffed with Cheese.
Potatoes with Creaf Sauce.
Bread, Butter, Milk

Tuesday
Meat Balls with Tomato Sauce
Mashed Potatoes
Orange, Apple, and Banana Salad.
Bread, Butter, Milk.
Peanut Butter Cookies.

Wednesday
Pinto Beans, Catsup, Onions
Mixed Chopped Greens
Cornbread, Butter, Milk.
Cabbage and Carrot Salad.
Fruit Cobbler.

Thursday
Beef Stew with Potatoes, Tomatoes, Carrots & Onions.
Peanut Butter, Raisin, & Orange Sandwiches.
(Using ½ whole wheat bread)

Friday
Glazed Ham Patties.
Buttered Potatoes
Lettuce Wedges.
Hot Rolls, Butter, Milk.
Cranberry Gelatin Salad.
Cinnamon Apples.

COMING DOWN—The decorative lights which gave to Hereford a yuletide atmosphere are coming down. City workmen are busy "unstringing" the lights across main street. Friday night Jaycees joined in the work to bring down the lights and store them away for another year.

A HIGHLIGHT OF 1950 for the home demonstration clubs was the aluminum tray making. Many of the members became quite adept at hammering, painting, and etching with acid on the trays. Shown above are Mrs. Earl DeHart and Mrs. Pat Robinson, members of the Cultural Home Demonstration Club. That is an ivy growing on the wall above Mrs. DeHart's head, not a hat. —Photo by Doris Mahaffey

Plan Annual Scout Meet

Plans have been completed for the annual meeting of the Llano-Estacado Council, Boy Scouts of America, which will be held Thursday, January 25, in the Herring Hotel. The Llano Estacado Council is comprised of nine Counties and two Townships in the Panhandle which include, Dalhart, Texline, Conlen, Channing, Hartley, Stratford, Dumas, Sunray, Skelly Community, Continental Carbon Plant, Middlewell, Bivins Station, Exell, Vega, Wildorado, Claude, Canyone, Happy, Hereford, Friona, and Amarillo.

J. Lee Southern, Chairman of the Program and Arrangements Committee, announced the time and place after the meeting which was held at the Blockstone Hotel Coffee Shop.

The annual business meeting will open at 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon on January 25, with President S. G. Stockton presiding, and the annual ladies night dinner will be held at 7 o'clock in the Crystal Ballroom.

At the business meeting reports will be received from chairmen of the Operating Committees, and Officers will be elected for the new year.

An attendance contest will be held between the area Districts for the ladies night dinner, and the four District Chairman of the Council will serve as attendance chairmen—the Dallam-Hartley-Sherman District, R. C. Buckles of Stratford; Moore County District, B. Edwards of Dumas; Deaf Smith District, Robert L. Thompson of Hereford; and the Amarillo District, Loren W. Young, of Amarillo.

The Program and Arrangements Committee is composed of J. Leo Southern as Chairman, Renus H. Kelly, Floyde Garwood, all of Amarillo, Henry A. Tuck of Dumas, and D. C. Kinsey of Hereford.

Tray Making Project Fascinates Many Women of Deaf Smith County

By Mrs. R. C. Childers

Ladies of the Cultural Home Demonstration Club enjoyed the tray-making project as much or more than ony other project carried last year. Almost everyone in the club made from one to three trays and several women made many small trays, converting them to hot dish mats by gluing cork to the base.

Aluminum for the trays was bought cooperatively by the club, which was a saving to each one participating.

Many trays were made varying from small ash trays to huge 18-inch serving trays. Mrs. E. W. Hobson was the first to complete a tray. It was a large tray with a bird design etched with acid; other trays were hammered.

Mrs. Earl Dehart hammered several trays of several different sizes and shapes, while others painted trays in the most facinating designs.

A special meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Louie Oleson when a number of trays were hand painted with a paint called Decal. This is a paint that can be used on glass, china, or meal. It can be fired at a low temperature to make it more durable. Mrs. C. S. Barclay painted a huge 18-inch tray in a red strawberry design, while Mrs. Raymon Childers hammered the same design on a large serving tray.

Mrs. J. T. Richardson made a number of hot dish mats by cutting a design in the trays with a sharp instrument, and gluing cork to the base.

Mrs. Grady Parsons was asked to give the tray etching program to the other clubs of the county.

The trays were given shape after the design had been painted. When acid is used in decorating, the tray is given its shape first, so that when the acid is poured into the tray it will not spill. The shape is given with a large pair of pliers or some sort of wrench. The jaws of the wrench to be used are wrapped heavily with cloth and then used on the edge of the aluminum tray to give it the shape desired.

Mrs. E. F. Duckworth, who moved on the Bob Lindsey place over two years ago, was responsible for the tray making project in Deaf Smith County. She had previously had the training in a club in another part of the state and was quite willing to show her information.

H. D. Club Elects New Officers

South Hereford Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. D. H. Bryant.

New officers elected were Mrs. S. S. Williams, president; Mrs. Carroll Hagar, vice-president; and council delegate; Mrs. Franklin Miller, recording secretary; Mrs. Olin Russell, treasurer; Mrs. J. P. Slaton, reporter; and Mrs. Lowery Walker, parliamentarian.

The program for the afternoon was on the subject of magazines with Mesdames Lowery Walker, Franklin Miller and Carroll Hagar giving discussions and conducting a magazine exchange.

The next meeting will be held with Miss Evelyn Bell on January 16, and the next council meeting will be held on Saturday, January 27.

Assembly of God Revival Reported Making Progress

Rev. S. E. Eldridge, pastor of the Assembly of God Church here, said the church was "very well pleased with the progress of the revival," which has been going on one week, and which will continue for at least another.

Rev. Eldridge reported both the interest and attendance had beed good so far. Services are being held twice daily at the church. Morning services are at 10, and evening worship is at 7:30.

"The ministry of Evangelist and Mrs. J. V. Oaks is a real inspiration," Rev. Aldridge said. He urged all in the community to "come and hear these fine young people."

The evangelist and his wife may be heard on radio station KPAN Monday through Friday at 8:45 a. m., Rev. Eldridge said. Another special program will be held Sunday at 1 p. m. All programs originate in the church, Rev. Eldridge pointed out, and are carried on the radio by means of remote control. The church also sponsors another program at 8:45 on Sunday mornings. The Sunday morning program consists of 15 minutes of organ music. Mrs. S. E. Eldridge, wife of the Assembly of God Church pastor, is the organist who presents the programs.

Vegetable Soup Is Appetizing Dish For Cold Wintry Months

There isn't anything more appetizing on cold wintry days than vegetable soup. Served with corn bread sticks and a fruit salad or dessert it can make a whole meal at lunch or for an early evening meal.

Here is Mrs. P. H. Gililland's recipe which makes enough for a large family or may be kept in the refrigerator and re-heated for subsequent use. During the summer months when garden vegetables are plentiful Mrs. Gililland cans large quantities of the soup for winter use, but it is just as good made with canned vegetables and what fresh vegetables are obtainable.

Vegetable Soup
1 medium soup bone
2 diced carrots
3 large diced potatoes
½ small can English peas
½ cup rice
¼ cup Pearl barley
¼ small crushed onion (if desired)
½ cup diced celery
¾ cup shredded cabbage
¼ cup tiny green lima beans (canned)
1 No. 2 can tomatoes
1 can Campbells Chicken Noodle Soup
2 or 3 pods fresh okra sliced (not canned)
Salt and pepper to taste

Select a beef bone with a good deal of meat on it and place in very large kettle with two gallons of water. Salt to taste and allow to boil slowly 2 to 3 hours. Skim broth and add enough water to bring liquid to 2 gallons again. Add carrots, potatoes, celery, rice, barley and cabbage and cook an hour or so over medium fire. Add all the rest of the ingredients and cook over slow fire for 1½ or 2 hours. Add salt and pepper to taste and more water if necessary.

If you want the soup for the noon meal a convenient way to make it is to cook the beef bone the afternoon before and place in the refrigerator over night. In the morning proceed as directions are given.

Denver - Subject Of Study At LaPlata Club Session

Mrs. Charles Newell was hostess for the LaPlata Clubs first meeting of 1951 in her home Tuesday evening.

Mrs. J. R. Johnson, president, conducted a short business session when Mrs. Ray Downey was welcomed as a new member. Members made their contribution to the Jaycee - Christmas lighting fund.

Mrs. Johnson was in charge of the program which continued the study course "Cities Underlined", giving the background story and present outlines of Denver, Colorado.

Quoting from the book "Timberline" by Gene Fowler, Mrs. Johnson styled the city tops in scenery, weather and lawns, but far from the mile-high in "git-up-and-git."

"In the first place Denver doesn't want to become a big-time city and has planned against such an eventuality. During the war the soldiers liked the town so well that many have returned to make it their home and it continues to rank high in entertainment," she said and related the incident of "The Unsinkable Mrs. Brown," a Denver woman whose heroic efforts saved the lives of many at the time of the Titanic disaster. Mrs. Johnson also told of Denver's many educational institutions, its wonderful scenery for miles around, and the friendly hospitality of the people.

Members present were Mesdames W. E. Blood, Homer Brumley, Les Combs, Dalton Criswell, Emil Dettman, D. S. Dodson, J. R. Johnson, Elmer Patterson, A. J. Schroeter, Urlin Streu, Morris Thompson, Ray Downey and the hostess.

Black-eyed Peas Featured At New Year Annual Dinner For Couples

Ten Hereford couples carried out the Texas tradition of eating black-eyed peas on January 1 for luck at an annual get-together held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lipscomb Monday night.

For the past five years the group have been observing the date at a dinner featuring black-eyed peas given in the home of one of the couples in the group. Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Click gave the initial dinner and the Jim Blacks were hosts last year. Informal fun and games made up the entertainment for the evening.

The ten couples include: Mr. and Mrs. Frank A. Gyles, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Fluitt, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Black, Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Gilbreath, Mr. and Mrs. Reed Williams, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Cox, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gilliland, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Click and the hosts.

Watch Party Is Birthday Fete

A birthday party in the form of a watch party honored Jack Renfro New Years Eve when Mrs. Renfro entertained at the Renfro home to mark both events. The guests made up three tables of players and canasta games were enjoyed.

Those making up the party to watch the old year out and the new year in were Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Weir, Mr. and Mrs. Monty Baker, Mr. and Mrs. Mack Noland, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Fatheringham, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Story and the hosts.

LAE Club Holds Federation Day

Mrs. George Suggs was the first 1951 hostess for the L.A.E. Club when a meeting was held in her home Tuesday afternoon. Topics of interest from "Federation News" were given in answer to roll call.

The Federation Day program was built around the objects and achievements of the national and state organizations.

Mr. W. L. Jones discussed the subject "Achievements Through Federation" telling of the progress of the General Federation and naming outstanding objectives, dwelling particularly on the Girl Scout Home in Washington.

Mrs. George Benson will discuss the topic of Federation further at the next meeting which will be held with Mrs. Phil Radovich.

Those present were Mesdames; N. D. Bartlett, Jr., W. L. Jones Luther Lesley, Sanford Smith, Jim Whelan, B. A. Riddell, and the hostess.

Clubwomen Are Urged To Express Ideals By Activities

Clubwomen will have to do more than listen to radio commentators and talk about tolerance in their programs if they fulfill their obligations as citizens in the days ahead, said Mrs. J. W. Walker of Plainview, past president of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, and editor of the Texas Clubwoman, TFWC magazine in an address sponsored by the Bay View Club Thursday afternoon in the Presbyterian Church. Mrs. J. P. Slaton, chairman of the year book committee, introduced the speaker and guests were members of clubs affiliated with the TFWC. Mrs. Paul Mathers, president, presided.

Mrs. Walker spoke on the theme of the Bay View Club course of study "American Ideals as Expressed in Literature" showing that her interpretations of American ideals involves action instead of mere words.

"The first thing for which we are responsible as citizens is knowledge. If we acknowledge as citizens that it is impossible for us to study the world situation for ourselves and come to our own conclusions we are throwing the door wide open to communism. We should approach our problems with certainty and authenticity and forget about the radio commentators who speak without rhythm or reason", Mrs. Walker said. "We will never triumph over communism by words—but by making that disparity between our ideals and our practices disappear."

Do Clubwomen Really Care

"Do clubwomen really care whether it is more important in this country to hold and administer wealth, which forms the basis of the Texas Tidelands squabble, than it is to hold and administer principles? It is time for us to examine our ideals, men and women alike, and measure them to our actions.

"When we read about the United Nations program in the press we must remember that we only get a smattering of its achievements. I have attended U. N. sessions and I tell you now, it is our only hope regardless of its inefficiencies. Clubwomen can help the cause of the UN in its efforts for peace through knowledge gained by personal study and action."

In conclusion Mrs. Walker urged the clubwomen to rememebr that it is not a matter of whether men or women take the lead, but a matter of right ideals in citizenship. She believes women must take an intelligent study of military measures now being taken and quoted from a well known poet; "Our thought must become very humble in order to set our feet on the path of knowledge."

After the address the social committee of the club served refreshments from a New Year table done in pastel colors of Spring. A massed arrangement of pink carnations and sweet peas, acacia and English lavendar showered with pink and yellow ribbon was placed at one end of the table and Mrs. F. T. Roloson presided over the silver coffee service at the other end of the table. A happy New year greeting was spelled out in silver letters across the center and cakes and other dainties picked up the colors of the flowers in decorations.

Members of the social committee are Mesdames; Henry Benson, Will S. Kerr, J. R. Allison and Frances Houston.

Mrs. Walker Eentertained

Mrs. Walker was honor guest at a luncheon given by Mrs. J. P. Slaton, chairman of the year book committee, upon her arrival, Thursday noon. Other guests were Mrs. Phillip Barkley, and Mrs. Wayne Evans, members of the year book committee, Mrs. Bob Wilson and Mrs. J. W. Spradley.

Simple Rites Are Held For Finley - Janssen Marriage

Miss Glenna Finley and Dorrell Janssen exchanged wedding vows Saturday morning, December 30, in the Church of Christ parsonage with minister Bob Wear officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Finley and parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Janssen.

Only the immediate members of the two families attended the service.

The bride wore a simple frock fashioned of winter-white crepe with small black velvet hat and black accessories. Her corsage was of red rose-buds.

Miss Zelma Allmon was the bride's only attendant. She wore a forest-green taffeta dress with a white carnation corsage. Kenneth Finley, brother of the bride, was best man.

Mr. and Mrs. Janssen are both graduates of Hereford High School, completing their work with the class of 1950. They will make their home at 401 Lawton St.

Mr. Janssen is employed by the Rodgers Grain Company at Dawn.

The couple was honored Sunday at a dinner given by her parents with Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Winters of Canyon and Jack Belt of Amarillo as out of town guests.

Library Receives Many New Books To Interest Adults and Children

Mrs. J. J. Boydston, librarian, and Mrs. Corinne Jennings, assistant librarian, this week unpacked a large variety of new books at Deaf Smith County library, which now serves 3000 readers. About half of the 3000 readers holding cards at the library are active, said Mrs. Boydston.

Many of the new books are for adults and many for children, including a wide variety of subjects. The librarian explained that the library tries to keep new books coming in frequently, usually making two book orders each month.

Adult Books

The following books are being put on the shelf this week for adults.

"Sun in Your Eyes", a book about Mexico, by Arnold.

"Joy Street", an outstanding new novel by Frances Parkinson Keyes. Other new novels include "The Gentle Infidel" Shoonover, "The Traitor" by William L. Shirir, author of "Berlin Dairy"; eR"turn to the Beach", Shedd; "The Nymph and the Lamp", Roddall; "Sycamore", Wagoner.

All ages will enjoy "Cooky" by Faulkner and "That Useless Hound" by Whitney, two fiction books. said Mrs. Boydston.

A non-fiction book which will interest many parents is "How to Help Your Child in School" by Mary and Lawrence K. French. The book is designed to help parents and school children of all ages.

One of the new humorous books is the life story of Emily Kimbrough, "The Innocents from Indiana". Other new non-fiction books for adults include "My Neck of the Woods" by Louise Diekinson Rich, author of "We Took to the Woods" and "Happy the Land"; "Gandhi-fighter without a sword", Jeanete Eeaton; "The Complete Book of Built-ins" by Hennessey who gives more than 125 ideas for the home craftsman including full instructions on making everything from radiator enclosures to complete storage walls; "Saints, Sinners, and Psychiatry", a book on psychiatry by Camilla M. Anderson, M. D.; "Lift Up Your Heart" by Sheen, author of "Peace of Soul"; "On the Wisdom of America" by Lin Yutang "Snow, Ice and Penquins", Chas. Lee; "Calculated Risk", a biography by Gl. Mark W. Clark; "Life on the Range Today", C. L. Sonnichsen; "The Serene Cincinnatians", Harlow.

Texas history lovers will enjoy the new book, "Cowboys and Cattle Kings". High school boys and men will especially like "Kon-Tiki" by Heyerdahl, the story of six men crossing the Pacific on a raft with 80 actual photographs of the voyage.

Children's Books

Mrs. Boydston said the new books received this week for children will be of special interest to children from the first through the eighth grades.

Mary Estelle Le Grand, Lt. V. Young Will Wed

The engagement and approaching marriage of Miss Mary Estelle LeGrand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louie LeGrand, to Lt. Virgil Young, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Young, was announced at a tea given by the bride-elect's mother at the LeGrand home Saturday afternoon. The wedding is scheduled to take place on Sunday January 28, in the First Baptist Church.

Announcement of the approaching marriage was made at the refreshment table with the news of the romance "Mary Estelle and Virgil-Jan. 28" attached to three tapering white candles which formed the background for the floral center piece. An arrangement of pink and blue carnations and sweet peas carried out the bride-elect's chosen colors with bluebirds, for happiness, fluttering nearby. A miniature bridal couple were shown on the path which led to a tiny white steepled church.

MISS MARY ESTELLE LeGRAND

The hostess was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Ida Ricketts, Mrs. Eldon Morgan and Mrs. A. O. Thompson. Mrs. O. M. Dickey presided at the silver tea service.

Miss LeGrand is a senior student at Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene. Lt. Young graduated last May from Texas A & M College and entered the Army in September. He is now stationed at Camp Hood. Both are Hereford High School graduates both having been born and reared in Hereford.

Miss LeGrand has majored in religious education at Hardin-Simmons and Lt. Young will study for the ministry at the Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth when he is released from the Army.

Those attending the tea were Mrs. Hardy Benson and daughter Mary Lou, Mrs. R. H. Cagle and Nancy, Mrs. Owen Stagner and Donna Jean, Mrs. F. A. Tucker and Inez, Mrs. J. O. Newell, Mrs. O. M. Dickey, Mary Helen McGilvary, Martisha Ramey, Mrs. Syd Barclay, Mrs. J. J. Buckner, Mrs. Fred Welch and Jane, Mrs. Chas. Dones and Reba, Mesdames; Bob Lawrence, A. N. McRight, Wayne Evans, G. W. Newsom, Bruce Beene, George LeGrand, E. W. Young, C. E. Leasure, Jr., Robert Barkley and members of the house party.

ANY HOSTESS WOULD BE PROUD of this place setting, arranged of paper linen to aid the busy housewife who finds time in her daily activity to arrange a simple, but attractive dinner. Design in the individual place mats and doilies is a good match for the silver and crystal used, and plain paper linen napkins are found practical by all hostesses whose time is limited. A simple arrangement of roses flanked by tapers in crystal holders add an air of elegance to the setting.

Chinese Monroe Doctrine

The preliminary efforts to arrange a cease-fire in Korea were halted by the demand of the Chinese Communists that it be accompanied by a promise on the part of the United States to allow the island of Formosa to be taken over by the Communist regime in China. The Chinese, according to reports, intimate that a "free and independent Korea" might be a part of the deal by which the United States would agree to withdraw the Seventh Fleet, which now prevents the invasion of Formosa.

The United States declined to make any concessions to Peiping or to negotiate about Formosa until the cease-fire became effective. Diplomats were inclined to the belief that Formosa is not the end of Communists designs but that it is the beginning of a drive to expel Western influence from Asia. In fact, Sir Benegal N. Rau, the Indian representative to the United Nations, has referred to the tendency on the part of the Chinese Communists to establish a "Monroe Doctrine" for Asia. This means the expulsion of non-Asiatic influence, including the United States, Great Britain and other Western nations. It is believed that the Chinese entertain aggressive policies which go far beyond Korea.

The hand of Communist Russia appeared plainly when the General Assembly of the United Nations proposed the appointment of a comittee to arrange a cease-fire in Korea. The Soviet Union asked for a day to study the proposal and then its representatives stated that Chinese Communist forces would go home if all United Nations forces are withdrawn from Korea. Apparently, the Russian delegate made it clear that United Nations forces should be withdrawn first, which means that withdrawal of the Chinese armies must be taken on faith. There is little likelihood that the United Nations will agree on this basis.

Past Mistakes

During and immediately after the last war, when price controls and rationing were in effect, a large part of the available supply of many commodities and some foods were siphoned off into the black market. Meat was one of them—and "no meat today" signs became commonplace in stores.

This obviously deprived most consumers of their proper share of the nation's meat. And, in addition, it presented a definite danger to the public health. A number of essential medicines have their origin in the glands of meat animals. These glands are carefully saved by the legitimate packers. They were not saved by the black market operators, whose sole aim was to make a big profit in a hurry.

In April, 1946, one of the leading manufacturers of medicines, Parke, Davis and Company, said: "The available supplies of animal glands during the past several years have been constantly decreasing . . . At present the situation is perhaps more critical than at any time since the beginning of the war, and we believe that one important cause is diversion of cattle away from the regularly inspected packing houses into black market channels. This, of course, not only presents a danger from supplying the public with uninspected meats but results in a total waste of all the animal glands, fats, hides, and other by-products." At about the same time, another leading producer of medicines, Eli Lilly Company, said: "If the black market situation continues much longer someone must be prepared to accept responsibility for shortage of essential drugs such as insulin, and other important drugs such as bile, pituitaries, thyroid and anti-anemia preparations. Our present procurement is very much short of minimum needs and appears to be getting worse right along."

We can profit from the mistakes of the past. Arbitrary economic controls generally create worse problems than those they are supposed to cure.

Iran Turns

Russia's interest in her southern neighbor Iran is well known and Russian influence seems to be picking up in that country, while our prestige declines measurably, due to reverses in Korea and Washington's reluctance to finance a development plan for Iran.

This country, weak in a military sense, knows what its fate would be in a major conflict. Consequently, many leaders believe that it would be better to accept the hard-bargaining terms of the Soviet Union than to serve as a battleground for a great conflict.

Recently, the Russians negotiated a trade agreement, which, it is believed, opens northern Iran to Russian economic penetration. In addition, Soviet negotiators are in Iran now to discuss a financial arrangement between the two countries. An indication of the shifting attitude of Iran toward the United States and Russia is seen in a discontinuance of the "Voice of America" programs, which were considered "offensive" to the Soviet Union.

Things One Remembers

Early in World War II Life magazine ran a photograph of a bound Chinese lying on the ground and trying to roll away from Japs who were torturing and killing them with bayonets. It was a horrifying sight.

A recent issue of Life ran two pages of illustrations showing five grownups dressed in approved dude ranch fashions. They went hunting in New Mexico equipped with a "truck, horses, dogs, lariats and high-powered rifles but not a single 155-mm. howitzer."

They treed a bear cub, roped its forepaws so it could not fight took it out on the prairie, and turned it and their dogs loose. After tiring of watching this form of cruelty, they again roped it and as the cub sat on the ground pulling against the lariat attached to the saddle horn of a mounted rider, one of the five advanced to within 12 feet of it, and using a rifle with telescopic sights shot the helpless animal dead.

Life is to be complimented for giving a photographic record of this wanton and uncalled for example of "civilized" cruelty to contrast with its previous illustrations of "uncivilized" cruelty. One related to humans, the other to dumb beasts, but the spirit that motivated both shocking exhibitions differed only in degree.

It is all right for a man to know what he does not know but there is no reason for him to brag about his ignorance.

THE Washington Merry-Go-Round

Truman's Temper

ALL presidents, being human, sometimes lose their temper. And Harry Truman, being intensely devoted to his family, has an understandable tendency to shoot from the hip when it comes to his wife and daughter.

However, those on the inside of the White House know that presidential fuse-blowing is not confined to protecting his family. More and more the President's temper has influenced public policy. Quick decisions, swayed by personal peeve, can affect the lives of millions, and the public has a right to know about them.

Take, for instance, price controls. Failure to impose price controls has shot up the cost of living by billions of dollars, has increased the cost of rearmament to Uncle Sam, and started an inflation spiral which may do inestimable damage.

Yet congress long ago voted presidential power to impose price controls. In fact, Republicans led in giving the President more power than he requested. However, this power has not been used.

Anti-Baruch

One reason is that Bernard Baruch came down to Washington and helped persuade the Republicans to vote these powers; and the President hates Bernard Baruch. He hates him with a passion that distorts and discolors his judgment. When Baruch's name comes up in conversations, dispassion and reason leave the President.

The hatred began when Baruch declined an invitation to serve on a committee of Democrats to raise money during the 1948 campaign. The President then wrote him a letter not unlike the one sent to music critic Paul Hume; later, he fired Baruch's brother as ambassador to Holland and timed it to occur on Baruch's birthday. Bernie, once a frequent caller at the White House, has never been near there since.

Later, the President blamed Baruch for getting revenge on him by blocking confirmation of Truman's close friend, Mon Wallgren, as chairman of the national security resources board. Baruch denies this. But his influence with southern senators is considerable, and White House advisers gave him credit for the fact that Wallgren was never confirmed.

Anti-Taft

Another illustration of what presidential peeve can do to national policy is Sen. Bob Taft.

For a long time the President has been wanting to get the bipartisan foreign policy back on an even keel. But the cornerstone of such a policy is Senator Taft—most influential Republican on capitol hill.

For his part, Taft has made no secret of the fact that he would like to be summoned to the White House. When other Republicans, Senators Wherry and Wiley, return from presidential conferences, Taft has queried them like a cub reporter afraid of getting scooped. And when he heard that the White House might call him in last week, Taft was like a schoolgirl about to go to her first prom. He even offered to cancel a trip to Yale, where he is a member of the board of trustees.

But the President who has a personal prejudice against Taft, would not invite him.

Pearson Prediction

Another illustration of presidential peeve which upset his own applecart was the proposed loyalty review board, composed of Judge John Parker of North Carolina, Judge John Patrick Higgins of Massachusetts, and Adm. Chester Nimitz. White House advisers had sold the President on appointing this board to supersede the Tydings committee for the purpose of thoroughly examining the question of communism in the state department.

A nonpartisan board of judges, it was argued, would lift the question of state department loyalty out of partisan politics and give a categoric answer to Senator McCarthy. The President, at first, was all for it.

Then this commentator predicted that the board would be appointed. Immediately the President got peeved. He was not, he made it clear to advisers, going to help to make a "Pearson prediction come true."

The bipartisan loyalty board was scrapped, McCarthy's charges became the chief issue of the campaign, and some of the President's stanchest supporters were defeated.

Palace Guard

Every member of the White House secretariat knows what the President's peeves and pet aversions are. But up until recently they did little to put a quietus on them. In fact, the man who tried hardest to buck the President on certain idiosyncrasies, Clark Clifford, was the object of an intense and jealous campaign by John Steelman.

The White House staff know, of course, that anything even remotely critical of his wife or daughter makes the President blazing mad.

Maim Street — by Ralph Stein

The—— BOOTLEG ——Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm near Bootleg at least is consistent; he's starting 1951 off about like he started 1950 or any other year in the past.

—o—

Dear editar:

With 1951 right on our heels or it may already be here, I ain't seen a calendar in several days, I been goin over in my mind some of the things that may confront us in the next twelve months and if there was any way of runnin the years backward instead of forward it might be safer to stick with 1950 all over again and not venture out into the unknown, according to some people's way of thinkin, but as for my policy is to let it keep comin. Stalin ain't gonna live forever.

I predict there is gonna be a world here long after Russia stops boilin over and while I ain't acquainted with no Russians or Chinese I don't believe any country can keep most of its men in uniform forever. Sooner or later they got to bust out and fight or the thing gets monotonous, and the world is just too big and has too many contrary people in it for one nation to run it, not to mention whip it even for a short time.

Therefore, I don't care how gloomy the outlook may be, life is gonna hold together in 1951 and I for one intend to keep on doin pretty much as I have in the past. At the start of the new year, I wish to say that I will do my part but can't nobody convince me hanging the front gate would improve the world situation and I intend to let it sag. It sagged through two other world wars and it can sag through the next, as far as I'm concerned. And the same thing applies to the roof, rain in the atomic age ain't gonna be no wetter than it's been in the past and anybody who objects to it leakin through on him in my house can move over to a dry spot or stay where he is and get wet. Also, subscribing to a newspaper might be one way to keep informed but I know a man who takes four papers and he ain't got no more reliable notice on what's gonna happen than I have, thunder, I know some folks who produce newspapers and they don't know any more than anybody else what's comin off next. I intend to depend on my usual methods of getting literature durin 1951.

Russia's aim may be to get everybody so jittery ain't nobody worth anything, but I can tell her right now she's run up against a stump when it comes to me.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Well the New Year started out just fine for us with music sweeter than all the bells—

"Raindrops on our window pane."

Course, it may not be nearly enough but moisture is moisture and we can always hope for a bigger drop in the bucket next time.

The Safety Council came into existence at a most opportune moment and we shall also be forever grateful to K. N. Oliver who mans Hunters delivery station wagon for helpin' us out of the bog so to speak on the new grade east from south main street.

As many times as we've been stuck in snow in years past and have had the unpleasant experience of puttin' on chains while muddy ice water dripped into our ears off the fenders it seems we would know better than to leave home without a shovel.

Fire out at the back now-a-days usually only means that somebody has been inspired to burn the trash but time was when we were never sure whether it was wash day, hog killin' time or the wimmen' folks renderin' the lard or makin' up a pot of soap.

Rob Schoolhouse

The sheriff's office this week was continuing its investigation of the pre-Christmas robbery of the Sudan school tax office, in the high school building there. They broke into the building at night and escaped with school funds totaling between $300 and $400, the Sheriff reported.

An exact figure on the amount taken awaited a check on the tax receipts of the office immediately before the robbery.

Nine Fires-Four Days

Fire Chief H. B. Johnson and the Levelland volunteer fire department answered nine calls in four days last week and this week.

Johnson's only comment was that he was "tired," and that he wished folks would be more careful about letting grass fires get started.

Probably the greatest damage was suffered in a blaze which swept the compressor building at the Consumers Co-operative refinery shortly after 9 o'clock Saturday night.

Panhandle Scorer Dies

Maurice Gridley Armstrong, 46, Lefors, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Armstrong died Friday morning, Dec. 22, at Worley Hospital, Pampa, while undergoing surgery. He had been ill for 15 weeks.

Funeral services were held at 10 a. m. Dec. 23 in the First Methodist Church, Lefors, of which he was a member, with Rev. Walter V. O'Kelly, minister of the church officiating, assisted by Rev. Dan Baltq, minister of the Baptist Church. Music was by the church choir. Burial was in McLean Cemetery under the direction of Blackburn-Sims Funeral Home of Pampa.

Pallbearers were J. F. Morris, Bill Mullins, Bill Smith, Bill Cole, S. Smith and R. Rutledge.

Armstrong was born Jan. 1, 1904, in Rockton, Ill., and came to Panhandle with his parents in 1908.

He was a graduate of Panhandle High School and was on the first football team that the school ever had, scoring the first touchdown for the school. He received his B. A. from the University of Texas in 1929.

Woman Commissioner

By JEN WIESER

The first woman ever to hold office as county commissioner of Precinct 1 hasn't found that being a woman is a disadvantage in the job. The constituents expect just as much from her as they would of a man, and are apt to be a little more critical.

But fear of a man-sized job doesn't haunt Mrs. A. S. Partain. Any woman spunky and determined enough to return to high school and complete her education after a 15-year interim of homemaking and rearing a daughter isn't likely to be stumped by a demanding job.

Negro Beats Woman

Mrs. Wayne Lewis remained in a "serious" condition at the Edgar-Renegar hospital here Friday afternoon following an assault by an 18-year-old negro man Thursday night.

Mrs. Lewis, wife of the owner and operator of Wayne's Restaurant, suffered a skull fracture and severe concussions when she was attacked by the Negro who had hidden in her automobile. The assault came after Mrs. Lewis entered her automobile to drive home from work.

Golden Gloves Tourney

Plans are underway for this city's second annual District Golden Gloves Boxing Tournament. Dates for the event, which will again be under the sponsorship of the DeShazo-George American Legion Post, have been set as Thursday, Friday and Saturday, January 11, 12 and 13.

Jack Stroup is director of the 1951 tourney, replacing Jack Griswold, who was recently called back into military service.

Scene of the bouts will be the American Legion Home, where a ring is being erected in the center of the spacious auditorium. Chairs and bleachers are being moved in and Director Stroup declared that seating accommodations for at least 1,500 persons will be provided.

Convicts' Christmas

Rules governing Christmas packages this year will be fundamentaly the same as last year. Each inmate will be allowed to receive one Christmas package between December 20th and December 30th, with certain restrictions.

One food package will be allowed. It may contain home cooked meats and cakes, cheese and fruit. No exceptions will be made.

Misunderstanding Understood

There apparently was some misunderstanding in connection with a news story published Dec. 21 in the Stratford Star.

In part, it said: "Stratford boys and girls basketball teams will not be allowed to play further games in Dalhart it was decided Wednesday morning (Dec. 20) by school officials."

The story indicated the basis for the action was reported unsportsmanlike conduct Tuesday night (Dec. 19) when the Stratford Elks A and B cage clubs played the Dalhart Wolves and Coyotes in Dalhart.

However, whatever the misunderstanding was that gave rise to the story, all appears now to have been straightened out. Supt. H. F. Railsback and Wolf Coach Gene Sunderman of Dalhart this week end conferred by telephone with Supt. C. D. Holmes of Stratford.

New Dumas Hotel

"With good luck and adequate building materials, Dumas should hold formal opening in a brand new hotel about September 15 of next year", said E. A. Lewellen, general contractor for the new hotel, during official ground breaking ceremonies Tuesday afternoon at 1:30.

On hand for the occasion were members of the Moore County Hotel Corporation board of directors and several businessmen and hotel stockholders from throughout the area.

Board president Jim Crabb sank the first shovel into the cold ground at the site on the corner of Eighth and Dumas Avenue.

New Oil Well

A fourth commercial producer has been added and a new location staked in the South Brownfield-Canyon pool of central Terry county.

Honolulu Oil Corporation and Union Oil company of California No. 1 J. McGowan, one-half mile southeast of the pool discovery, was potentialed naturally for 676.5 barrels of 43-gravity oil daily plus five-tenths of

SUNDAY'S CURRENT QUESTION

Most Think Christmas Decorations Should Be Down By First Of Year

How long do you think Christmas decorations should be left up in homes and in streets?

Mrs. H. S. Cloyd—Just during the Christmas week. I think to leave them up a few days after Christmas is all right. I don't think they should be left up more than the week following Christmas.

Mrs. A. T. Stowers—I think just through the holiday week. Two or three weeks before and then during the holidays after Christmas, I believe, would be the proper length of time to leave up the decorations.

G. E. Gollehon—I'd say January 2nd should be the last day for the decorations. I think they should be put up about December 15.

Mrs. Henry Hastings—Well, I don't know. I'm always so glad to get shut of mine, I usually try to get rid of them by the first of the year. They become such a hazard—fire and all that, you know—that I think they should be taken down by the first of the year. Then, too, the Christmas spirit is pretty much gone by the first of the year. I think that's the best time to take them down.

Estelle LeGrand bride-elect of Lt. Virgil Young. Guests included Hereford High School and college classmates of the honoree.

Gifts of lingerie were presented to the honoree by Cherry Ann Forrest, Reba Dones, Donna Jean Stagner, Inez Tucker, Mary Lou Benson, Nancy Cagle, Jane Welch, Martisha Ramey, Betty Catherine Owen, Louise Leasure and the hostess. The bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Louie LeGrand was also a guest.

Library...

"The Story of Lassie" by Rothwell and Weatherwax, tells of Lassie's discovery and training and includes 50 obedience training lessons for your dog, illustrated by Lassie.

Non-fiction books for children include: "The Thankful People," Bass; "Let's Read About the Hawaiian Islands", Fergusson; "Cry of the Thunderbird", the American Indian's own story, Hamilton; "Owls" by Zim; "Abraham Lincoln", friend of the people, Judson. A story classed as legend because it deals partially with real characters and partially with fiction is "Better Known as Johnny Appleseed" by Hunt.

Classed as miscellaneous are the following children's books: "Rambling Halfback", McCormick; "Cowboy Joe of the Circle S", Rushmore; "Sylvan City", Pascal; "Just Plain Maggie", Beim; "Noah and his Ark", Hall.

Among the large number of new fiction books for children are: "Tomas and the Red Headed Angel", Garthwaite; "Toughey", Burleson; "Dapple Gray", Hinkle; "Texas Star", Meadowcraft; "Horseman Hal", Tousey; "Lance and Cowboy Billy", Coggins and Dennis; "The Tall Stallion", Hoffman; "The Pony Express", Adams, a story based on fact; "The Midnight Horse", Edwards; "Caliban's Colt", Nye; "Code of a Champion", Litten; "T-Bone", the baby sitter, Newberry.

The librarian said children always love the jungle books. Two new ones are "South American Jungle Tales", Quiroga, and "Bob Clifton, Jungle Traveler", Hogue.

Two HD Clubs Hold First 1951 Meetings

North Hereford Home Demonstration Club met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Mary Bodkin with new officers installed. Those assuming duties were Mrs. Paul Hoff, president; Mrs. Bob McQuigg, vice-president; Mrs. H. E. Pettyjohn, secretary and Mrs. R. A. Fullwood, reporter. Department chairmen were nominated and committees were appointed.

Roll call was answered as members told interesting news of chosen subjects for the year. Members decided to bake a cake for each meeting, slices to be sold for refreshments, to raise funds for club projects.

New club policies were adopted and Mrs. H. E. Pettyjohn read "Don't Call Me Broadminded". The next meeting will be with Mrs. Frank Wilde on January 18.

Members present were Mesdames; R. A. Fullwood, M. H. Koelzer, Oscar Vaughn, Herbert Boardman, Fred Saltzman, Bob McQuigg, Otto Olson, Paul Hoff, H. E. Pettyjohn, M. L. Fraley, and the hostess.

Ford H.D. Club

Members of the Ford Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Hardy Benson. Group singing provided recreation with Miss Hilda Strafuss at the piano.

The program consisted of interesting magazine articles. Miss Strafuss read "The Unopened Letter" and Mrs. Jackie Bishop read "New Years Greetings From my House to Your House." Mrs. Maxey Dowd led a discussion of Anemia and its symptoms.

MEET MRS. MARY McINNIS shown with a group of her fourth grade students who are holding "spudettes", little figures made of potatoes, an outcome of a language lesson in dramatization. The eskimos and igloo on the desk were used in a geography lesson. Mrs. McInnis, a graduate of North Texas State, Denton, has just started work on her master's degree. This is her second year to teach in the Hereford schools.

MRS. J. F. WARD RETURNS HOME

Mrs. J. F. Edward returned Tuesday from her annual Christmas vacation trip. Leaving Hereford on December 22 Mrs. Ward visited relatives in Wichita Falls, a son, Roy Ward, in Denton and relatives in Dallas. She stopped for a visit with a friend in Grand Saline and at Cleburne spent some time with one of the boys she had assisted, Ted Clancy, and family. She saw Betty Roath whom the Win One Class of the Methodist Church sponsors at the Methodist Orphanage at Waco, visited with a nephew there and had a short visit with Miss Laura Edwards, returned missionary from Korea, who had been sponsored by the local Society of Christian Service.

In Abilene she spent New Year's Eve with a brother, Jesse McMinn and his son, Ollie McMinn, pastor of the Baptist Church there. On Sunday she attended the McMurry College Church.

Many Guests Visit

Several guests visited on different days last week in the home of Roberta Campbell and Buddy Bob. Among them were her mother, Mrs. R. L. Campbell of Silverton, who had recently been visiting in South Dakota; a sister, Mrs. Ernest Jones of Phillip, S. D.; Mrs. Pearl Cross of Wichita, Kansas, Miss Ruth Cross and her nephew, Joe Cross, of Canyon; Miss Lalla Brown of Amarillo, and Miss Anna Lee Henderson of Silverton.

Gigantic JANUARY Clearance!

We have been advised by both our West Coast and Eastern manufacturers that a sale at this time, in the face of rising prices and possible production curtailments, is inadvisable. However, in line with our policy of keeping our stock fresh and consistent with the changing styles, we are not altering the plans for our semi-annual clearance sale. We point to these facts by way of emphasizing the real values and the savings available during this event.

"Sweet Laundry Day..."

You'll sing, too, when Reddy takes over and takes the back break out of wash day. No more bending over tubs when you have an automatic electric washer, no more long trips out to the clothes line when you bring the sunshine inside with an electric dryer, no more waiting for hot water when an electric water heater is at work. Ironing, too, is a sit-down snap with an electric ironer. Start building your wash day quartet now — washer, dryer, ironer, water heater — and you, too, will be in "clothes" harmony on wash day.

Experts Are Asking You What Makes Our Drouth?

By Robert E. Ford
Associated Press Staff

Does anyone in Hereford know the cause of the fall and winter drouth which has left Texas ranges seared and crop lands too dry for planting?

If so, the weather bureau would like to know.

Weathermen can tell what conditions will cause rain. But so far they can't always tell what's behind those atmospheric conditions.

Precipitation is caused by a number of very complicated weather situations. A couple of them are relatively unimportant to Texas. Here's how the weathermen explain the chief cause of rain in the state at this time of year:

All through the year, a series of high pressure areas and low pressure areas follow each other down from Siberia, along the Pacific coast to about the Canadian border. Sometimes they keep coming south and reach Texas. Again, they turn toward the midwest and east. This occurs more often in summer than in winter, causing the dry summers with which all Texans are acquainted.

The low pressure areas—we'll explain that term in a minute—contain moist air and it's relatively warm. Besides, winds circulating in these areas pull great masses of warm, moist air off the Gulf of Mexico, adding more moisture to the air.

Right behind this low pressure area comes a high pressure area. Then, greatly simplified, this happens: The cold air, coming in contact with the warm, moist air causes the warm air to condense its moisture. That brings rain. The same thing happens when you have an iced drink sitting in a warm room. Drops of water form outside the glass. That's the same principle.

Normally these high and low pressure conditions dip well into Texas at this time of year, and there's usually enough rain to make crops. This year, they've been starting toward Texas, but before getting here, they've veered east and crossed the midwest and moved on toward eastern states.

That's what the weathermen can't explain—why the low and high pressure areas have been changing course before reaching this part of the nation.

Jerome Namis, chief of the extended forecast section of the U. S. Weather Bureau, says the condition is abnormal but not unnatural. He says the situation probably occurs about once or so in 20 years. It happens in Europe as well as the United States.

"We can't answer the ultimate question as to what caused the first move away from the normal," he said. "We can only say that it is abnormal but not unnatural."

The "high" and "low" pressure designations refer to barometer readings. When the air is heavy, the mercury is pushed up in the tube, causing a "high" reading, and that's your high pressure area. The reverse is true for low pressure areas.

Contrary to some beliefs, moist air is lighter than cold, dry air.

The movement of these areas across the United States is caused by the world spinning on its axis. But there's little or no change in the way it spins from year to year, so that can't explain why Texas has a drouth.

Texas has had a couple of good high pressure areas moving through the state this fall—you'll remember them as severe cold waves. They were preceded, as usual, by low pressure areas, but these lows did not have as much moisture as usual. In addition, a high, west wind complicated the picture and very little moisture fell. Some snow fell but not enough to break the drouth.

The low-high series brings rain usually for several reasons. The highs are themselves cold. They slip under the warm air left by the lows and force it up. This causes expansion, which further cools the air, and as the moist air gains altitude, it runs into still colder temperatures.

A couple of other sets of circumstances sometimes brings rain to Texas. Occasionally warm air will slip into the state from the southwest, override a mass of cold air, and we get drizzling rains.

Hurricanes usually bring rain, due to the mixing and churning of various layers of air.

Even these situations have been few this season.

Jeal Gilliland has returned to her home in Dallas after visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hastings, and Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Gilliland during the holidays.

Mrs. J. B. Sowell, Jr., visited her mother in Tahoka part of last week.

BOTH THE LIONS AND ROTARIANS were fascinated by the mink displayed and the story told by the Wisconsin mink rancher, Larry Moore, who is pictured with Beverley Barkley, Lion sweetheart. Moore addressed the Lions Wednesday at noon and the Rotarians Friday at noon at regular meetings. The mink rancher attributed fancy mink to the combinations of genes through scientific breeding. Moore moved his family to Hereford this year in order that his children may have advantage of climatic and nutritional facilities of this area.

NORTHWEST HEREFORD NEWS

Moisture Is Welcomed in Northwest Hereford; Roads Are Really Rough

By Mrs. R. C. Childers

The moisture received in this vicinity was really appreciated. It is thought that about an inch of moisture was received, in the form of sleet, rain and snow.

The school bus did not run until Wednesday morning due to weather conditions.

It is reported that the roads in this vicinity are really rough, especially the roads that the school bus has to travel. The roads in general have been very slippery and dangerous to be on. It has been almost impossible to get into the fields with trucks or any sort of vehicle to get bundles of dry feed for livestock. This bit of moisture has put many happy smiles on the wheat farmers faces.

Dairy Cows

The dairy cows fell off in production due to the bad weather, but can soon be brought back to normal production with a few days of warmer weather, feed and care.

Leo Bedenorz is back in this vicinity testing the milk from each cow for butter fat and production. By this means the dairyman knows what each cow is doing, and can readily know which ones are in peak production and which ones are not.

Robert Kershen's herd is freshening a few all along. He is now milking 14 head. The majority of his herd is brown Swiss.

Cooke Girl Improved

The reports are that Carolyn Cooke is making satisfactory progress. It is thought that, with everything in her favor, they will return home Sunday. They plan to come by plane. We of this vicinity will be happy to have them home again.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson left Friday for their farm home near Pampa. They have been visiting in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Johnson this week. They plan to return the first of next week.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Barclay plan to leave this week for Tucson, Ariz., for Mrs. Barclay's health. Miss Lill Hoover, a former nurse of the Deaf Smith County hospital plans to go with them. They plan to be gone several months.

Baptist W. M. S. Holds Luncheon

The Woman's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church held its monthly luncheon and program at the church Wednesday. The Fenderson Circle served as hosts and arranged tables to represent winter scenes. Lighted globes of the world carried out the program theme "God is Moving—Who Can Hinder" and an open Bible marked the speakers table.

Mrs. S. B. McLallen, president, presented the business part of the program and Mrs. Carroll Whiteside and Mrs. Ralph McCullough gave prayers.

Mrs. Jack Roberson was leader for the day. Mrs. O. M. Dickey presented the devotional lesson and Mrs. J. T. Wood was soloist.

Topics discussed were "Look At Today's World", Mrs. O. G. Hill, "Isaah Presents God's Plan", Mrs. Carroll Whitesides; and the concluding prayer was given by Mrs. D. C. Kinsey.

Announcement was made that the Hereford church will be hosts to the Associational Meet next Thursday beginning at 10 o'clock. Lunch will be served by the W.M.S. at noon.

Guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McGehee during the holidays were their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Stark of O'Donnell and Mrs. Ruth Gautier and children of Eldorado, Kansas.

Charles Inman, who has been seriously ill for some time, is improving gradually. He is the father of Fred Inman and Woodrow Inman of this vicinity.

AUNT MIRANDA (Eileen Ryan) looks on disapprovingly and Aunt Jane (Diane Hopsia) beams with delight as Rebecca (Sally Wreszin) goes into raptures over the first new dress she has ever owned, a pink calico, which the aunts made her before her arrival. She has always had to wear her elder sister's clothes when Hannah outgrew them. A scene from the Clare Tree Major Children's Theatre production "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm" which will be seen on the stage of the High School Auditorium on Tuesday, January 9, at 7:30 o'clock under the sponsorship of the Business and Proffessional Club.

Santa Fe Couple Tell Of Strange Land, Its People, And Its Fun

DANCING DIPLOMATS. By Hank and Dot Kelly. Illustrations by Gustave Baumann. Albuquerque: University of New Mexico Press. 254 pp. $4.00.

Excerpts from a review by Jon Glidden, whose pen name is Pete Dawson, writer for The Saturday Evening Post.

A heart-warming book, in which the reader gets a glimpse of Peru, particularly of the Amazon jungle, far different from any in the guide books. He meets characters as strange as the land itself: soldiers, diplomats, politicos, remittance men. And he eavesdrops on a charming and compelling love affair.

Henry W. Kelly of Santa Fe, the "Hank" of this book, fought vainly to get World War II armed forces to overlook a painfully weak pair of eyes. Failing this, he studied extensively to gain admittance to the diplomatic corps. His first assignment took him to Lima, Peru, where his fluency in Spanish and his understanding of the Latin temperament made him thoroughly at home.

There he met Dot Smith, more commonly known as Shanghai Dot, in charge of the Embassy file room. Dot, only recently repatriated from war-torn China by way of the exchange ship Gripsholm, immediately became the one girl on Hank's horizon. Whereupon, Hank was promoted to Vice Consul and shipped over that horizon, across the lofty Andes, to take charge of the U. S. Consulate in tropical Iquitos, an isolated, steaming jungle town. The long-distance, highly competitive courtship which follows makes nail-biting reading. So much so, that the blissful chapter dealing with their marriage and honeymoon is a welcome, needed breather.

It is the following portion of the book, however, that points most clearly to Hank's unquestioned gifts as a writer. A keen observer, with a great understanding of his fellow man, be that man white, tan, or black as Amazon ooze, there is a definite artistry in the way Hank so sharply draws his Iquitos characters in the broad canvas of the book. You feel the stickiness, the wetness, the torment of insects, the itching rash that plagued everyone.

They loved to dance, Dot and Hank, and the dances held by the military and diplomatic Four Hundred of Iquitos were bizaare, lusty affairs featuring la raspa, la varsoviana, the schottische, and the polka.

There is history aplenty in this book, yet it is so skillfully and interestingly inserted that even the most critical will enjoy it and profit from it. If you want to know about mahogany and rubber, Hank has set it down. He takes you through the long and bloody Ecuador-Peru controversy, the final stages of which he shared.

Had Hank lived a century ago he probably would have been either a Mountain Man or a whaling captain. His instincts were inquisitive; he was an adventurer and explorer at heart. A fine, fun-loving man, he lost his life three years ago while trying to navigate the flooded waters of the Rio Grande river along its most treacherous stretch, near Pilar, New Mexico. He left behind him many friends who will miss him always. This book should make him many more.

New Year's Dinner Is Surprise to Roy Hills

A surprise New Year's dinner was given Sunday for Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hill with 26 persons attending.

The first surprise came when Mrs. Hill's sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kemp and three daughters of Muleshoe, arrived. A niece, Mrs. Bill Millem and family of Muleshoe and two brothers, I. E. Fish and A. W. Fish and families were unable to attend because the children had measles.

Friends attending were Mrs. Guy Williamson and children.

By Mrs. W. R. Moore

Opening the New Year, this community received a light rain and snow Monday night and Tuesday. The farmers are planning for a prosperous year. The wheat is looking better after the hard freeze almost killed it.

The children went back to school Tuesday after a two-weeks vacation for the Christmas holidays.

Miss Joyce Moore of Plainview spent the holidays in the home of her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wheeler and daughter of Plainview spent Saturday night in the W. R. Moore home.

The friends and neighbors of this community extend their sympathy to Mrs. Bob Axe and boys for the passing away of their grandmother and mother.

Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Wheeler visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. E. Dygert in Raton, N. M., on New Year's Day.

Will Shugart is spending several weeks with a sister and brother in Fort Worth.

Louisa's Letter

The following letter was written in answer to a reader who wrote a letter in September. I am publishing it in full as Mrs. McCoy seems to have worked out a very satisfactory way of living.

"My Dear Mrs.—

After reading your letter tonight I could not resist writing you, as I am a widow myself; have been for over 15 years. So naturally I realize what you mean by loneliness.

But I think the answer Louisa gave you a good one for you to abide by.

I had a wonderful husband, the best ever and we had two sons who are now married and have families of their own. My oldest son has a wife and two children, four and one year old. My youngest son lives in Detroit and has a son two years old. I live with my oldest son and visit the youngest each year on my vacation.

After my husband's death I lived a suit case life, going from one to the other but I was miserable. Neither of my sons wanted me to work.

And then one son was called in the service in 1942 and I started to work the same month as a saleslady in a little dress shop. My other son was called into service and stayed overseas 2½ years. His wife and I lived together and we both worked. We took a course as nurse's aide and worked as nurses after we finished our eight hour jobs. We were tired but it kept us from thinking of our worry and loneliness.

I have been working nine years and live with my oldest son. I know I can never be as happy as I once was but I've always tried to make others happy and by doing this it helps me. So do try to do something extra to keep your time occupied and see if it doesn't help.

If you could be lucky enough to find the right man, marriage might be best but I have seen so many mistakes in second marriages here in my home town that I have never been interested in men.

I enjoy my work and writing is one of my hobbies and I have quite a few pen friends which keeps me busy after dinner. I also belong to the Woodmen's circle, am one of the officers. We have two meetings a month besides the convention. I am a helper in the Beginner's Sunday School Department, which I enjoy very much.

I think that the sorrier we feel for ourselves the lonelier we get. Would be glad to have a letter from you if you care to write me.

Mrs. Mamie McCoy
Box 84, Murray, Ky.

I publish this letter because it may help some other lonely widow.

Deaf Smith County Women Enjoyed Part in United Nations Program

By Mrs. R. C. Childers

The Cultural Home Demonstration Club is proud of its United Nations flag and what it stands for. They are proud to have had a small part in the United Nations program in Deaf Smith County.

The women in Deaf Smith county enjoyed their part in the gave them a chance to meet and enqoy the associations of one another and yet acomplish a worth while task.

A meeting date was set with Mrs. Paul Corbett as hostess, to make the flag. But the flag making kit didn't arrive, so this meeting had to be posponed. The material however did arrive at a later date and the flag was made and flown at the local post office.

Sample flags were sent to the 48 states. The blue in the flag suggests blue skies and blue bonnets, and the white, the cotton valley or winter snow. Many stitches have gone into the making of these flags, each stitch a prayer for the success of the U. N. for one world and one peace.

The total of flags made in Deaf Smith County were 12. Most clubs ordered their materials, but one local merchant was able to get the flag-making kits.

The United Nations program was started with the club presidents, council delegates, clothing demonstrator and her partner from each club attending the demonstration on the flag-making program in Hereford.

Makes First Flag

The first flag was made by the Fairview Home Demonstration Club for United Nation's Day, October 24.

The flags were displayed in front of local business houses, at the post office, community centers and schools.

There were eleven special programs or ceremonies held in this county celebrating United Nation's Day, four, newspaper stories, one picture, and one radio program.

Mrs. Argen Draper, county home demonstration agent, said "The United Nations program was well received and has helped home demonstration club work." Mrs. Draper also said "The county people appreciated the flag program."

In two of the local schools the principles took the United Nation's flag to each room and explained the symbols of the flag as well as the purpose of the flag-making program.

Miss Doris Leggitt, District Agent, talked to the community group at the Daniel school on the subject, "United Nations and What it Means to Us."

Other groups and organizations who cooperated in the flag making program were the County Federation of Womens Clubs, Study Clubs and local dry goods stores.

Recent Letters

In the Crusade for Freedom a letter was received recently from Director M. L. Wilson, who points out that the crusade is an answer of the free people of the United States to the so-called Stockholm Peace Petition.

It is part of the widespread expression of the feeling of of the American people about the situation that they and the rest of the world are now in, he said. A nation-wide organization has been set up to help circulate the freedom scrolls, so that all people will have an opportunity to sign them indicating their suppor of the movement.

The signed scrolls are to be enshrined in the base of thebell tower, which will house the new Freedom Bell in Berlin.
