

On The BEAM

By J. W. King, Sr.

It is so dry and hot the editor's think tank will hardly work this week to dig up a subject suitable for discussion in this column.

Crops in this area are in various stages. Some fields of cotton have been up and growing for several weeks and in some instances have been plowed and hoed. This size cotton seems to be doing fairly well but where it has just come up or had not been up long enough to root before the moisture was gone it is about to give up the ghost. Maybe it will rain yet in time to save most of the crop.

The News reported last week that it had been informed no sewer mains could be laid. After the paper came out the City Secretary informed us that perhaps some sewer mains can be laid after all which makes us glad for there are some extensions that are badly needed.

Picture Contest of Servicemen Closed

Last week The News ran the last of a series of pictures of ex-servicemen and women who served their country during World War II.

The contest ran for 13 weeks and each week during the contest the pictures were identified to win a subscription to The News. The pictures were identified correctly by someone each week except last week. No one ever turned in a correct identification of the men pictured last week.

The pictures have been interesting and reminded us again of the fine young men and women who served their country from this area, a large number of whom have since moved away.

Cotton Classification Free To Farmers

Farmers can take the guesswork out of selling their cotton with a green card.

This green card shows that the cotton has been classed by the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration. A green card, showing the grade and staple is issued for every bale of cotton classed. Farmers belonging to cotton improvement groups receive this classification without paying a fee. Also, they receive a daily USDA price quotation sheet to keep them posted on what cotton is worth.

Both services come from PMA's cotton classing office, Abilene, Texas. Manager of this office is H. J. Matejowsky.

Any group of farmers organized to promote improvement of cotton adopts a variety, files an application, arranges for sampling and meets certain other requirements for its members is eligible for these services.

The application which covers all farmers in the group, should be mailed to the Abilene cotton classing office as soon as all members have planted their cotton. It is located at 1407 S. First Street, P. O. Box 2001.

Man Killed In Highway Accident

A 65 year old man formerly of Lake Village, Arkansas, identified by Highway Patrolman Herman Seale from papers found in his clothing as George W. Roberts, was killed instantly Tuesday afternoon about four miles east of Loraine.

Robert's 1942 Mercury sedan, traveling east, was following close behind a truck and apparently was unable to see because of the road dust. His car crashed head on into a 1947 International Tractor cable dump, owned by C. M. Campbell of Sweetwater, contractor for the road construction. Willie Fred Frazier, 24, of Roscoe was driving the tractor.

Because of construction where the accident occurred it is necessary for traffic going east to travel with one side of the car on the shoulder in order for traffic going west to pass. Highway patrolmen said Roberts' car was about two feet to the left of the center stripe on the old highway.

Roberts' body was taken to the Wells Funeral Home in Roscoe and attempts were being made Tuesday night to contact relatives.

A 32nd degree Mason, he is a past WM and is a past president of the Lion's Club.

Sadler set installation ceremonies for June 26th. Also at that time the post will hear reports from youngsters attending the Boys and Girls States.

Junior Sadler, selected Tuesday as the chairman of the Bloodmobile drive to Mitchell County, announced P. C. Smith as co-chairman today. The Veterans of Foreign Wars will sponsor the visit in Colorado City and Sadler is Commander of that group while Smith is trustee.

Colorado City Jaycees pledged full support to the drive at their Wednesday meeting, according to President Ray Noble.

Sadler and more than thirty five members of various organizations met at the Educational Building of the Methodist church Tuesday afternoon, with Mrs. Bonnie Burt, local Red Cross secretary, and Field Representative of the Red Cross from Fort Worth to discuss the visit of the portable unit to Colorado City.

Sadler says that plans are being laid to sign two hundred donors for the one day visit, which is scheduled for July tenth.

"Every ounce of this blood will go to our armed forces overseas," said Sadler, and we feel that this is an opportunity for our homefolks to support our fighting men."

The unit will set up in the American Legion Hut at the corner of Third and Chesnut, and the Federation of Women's clubs has volunteered to furnish and serve refreshments to donors.

Mrs. Burt stated Wednesday night that the project had been cleared with City and Council Health Departments and the local hospital, and releases mailed to Red Cross headquarters today.

FERTILIZERS & PESTICIDES

Farming and ranching gets just a little more complicated each year.

In these days of stepped up production, higher crop quotas, advances in mechanized equipment and changing economic conditions, the farmer and ranchman has to keep constantly re-adjusting his seasonal plans if he is to operate at a profit. In addition to keeping pace with day-to-day developments, he has to look ahead and anticipate future conditions that may have a bearing on his situation.

A crystal ball might be a big help in this respect. But since few, if any, of us have this advantage, then a little planned thinking is the next best method.

One thing is certain this season. Due to a mild winter, Texas may face one of the worst insect infestations in the last 20 years. And, of course, we must constantly practice those conservation measures which will keep our soil in top-notch shape.

A heavy volume of pesticides and fertilizers are expected to be needed this year to support the high level farm output. Farmers are urged to order their supplies well ahead of the time for application.

These are difficult and frustrating days for private citizens and public officials alike. Congress is still in session, and in all probability I will have little opportunity to visit about the District prior to the primary date.

The sermon subjects for the church of Christ next Lord's Day will be "What Do Ye More Than Others?" and Sunday evening, "A Discussion of Baptist Doctrine." All are invited to hear these subjects discussed.

MORE ON RELIGIOUS FAKES: We read, "There came also a multitude out of the cities round about unto Jerusalem, bringing sick folks, and they were healed EVERY ONE". (Acts 5:15). The apostles healed all and did not shun the hard cases such as cripples from birth; blind from birth; and even raised the dead.

CAN MEN MIRACULOUSLY HEAL TODAY AS DID THE APOSTLES? No, they cannot. They do not have the power of the apostles. If men could miraculously heal today (as some blasphemously claim) then we could bring all the sick folks, and they would be healed every one. Of course there are false apostles in the land today who have deceived the people. (The Bible knows of no such expressions as praying till the answer comes) Doctors say that 80 percent of the sick would get well eventually without the services of a physician. Many think they are sick with invisible ailments who are not organically ailing.

Last summer I saw an exhibition of this so called faith healing—a deaf woman was put before the audience, and after much screaming and ungodly heathen practices, the woman left the stage just as deaf as before this act of abomination began.
