DALLAS BOND ISSUES.—Dallas county and the city of Dallas are going strong for bond issues. In an election this week bonds totaling $13,400,000 were voted. About half the issue is to be used for building highways and the rest for levee and traffic-way improvements. Recently $25,900,000 in bonds was voted for a city improvement plan to cover a period of five years. Dallas, like most other cities, finds it must keep its public improvements up with its growth, or else the growth will stop.

PITS SEVERAL CITIES.—Editor Price of the Marshall Messenger quotes something from this column about a "certain" old town in Texas of about 18,000 people, "a shop and factory city, a well-kept, clean place, a busy trade mart" that has no other part than the crowded "courthouse square," and says it fits Marshall so well that he wonders if I could have been writing about that city. I could, and I could have said the same thing about a number of other towns in Marshall. In most respects Marshall is a fine place, but it does sadly neglect to provide parks and playgrounds for the people who can't afford to drive over to Caddo Lake when they want to rest awhile away from the noisy sidewalks. The car owners who must start and support movements for parks are too well satisfied with their own ways of getting recreation to think much about others not so fortunately situated, and Marshall is by no means the only place to which this applies.

AUSTIN-HOUSTON BRIDGE.—The Highway commission has awarded a contract for a bridge across the Brazos river on the Austin-Houston highway between Washington and Waller counties. For a long time this has been one of the most traveled roads in Texas, and the public has had to endure much delay, inconvenience and expense in crossing the river at that point by ferry.

MISUSING THE HIGHWAYS.—The Caldwell county grand jury in its report calls attention to a practice that applies to several counties in Texas as well as to Caldwell. Farmers, in many places, have taken down their fences, and plow the land right up to the roadway, using it for a turnrow, and dragging the plowed dirt into the road, making it slick and dangerous for travel after rains. Another complaint is that the county is not co-operating as it should in widening the right of way on highways to 80 feet to meet the requirements of the highway commission. Under the ruling of the commission, maintenance is to be stopped on state highways under 80 feet wide.

PLAINVIEW GETS NEW ROAD.—The Fort Worth and Denver railway line, under construction from Estelline to Lubbock, has reached Plainview and is expected to be completed to Lubbock by April 15. There is more railroad building in Texas and more planned than at any previous time since the Interstate Commerce Commission began to restrict the construction of competitive lines in the same territory.

WATER PLANT BRINGS MILLION.—The water plant that supplies the city of Breckenridge has been sold to New York interests for approximately a million dollars, the deal including the city water system and pipe lines to the reservoir on the Clear Fork of the Brazos river. No better evidence could be given of the faith in the future of Breckenridge than the investment of this large sum by capitalists, who usually put out their money where the returns will be both profitable and permanent.

NON-COTTON ZONE FIXED.—Acting on the recommendation of the state pink boll worm commission, Governor Moody has declared Breckenridge county a "non-cotton" zone, in which the planting of cotton will be prohibited. Regulations providing for the sterilization of seed, the inspection and fumigation of all cotton shipped from the zone, and other provisions to be announced later are to apply to Loving, Winkler, Andrews, Ector, Crane, Upton, Midland, Martin, Dawson and Glasscock counties, and to those parts of Borden and Howard to the southwest of a line formed by the Colorado river.

COPPER REFINERY LOCATED.—A $5,000,000 copper refinery employing 750 men is to be erected at either Houston, El Paso, Orleans or Los Angeles by the Dodge corporation and the Als Copper company, which refinery and smelter at N. Y.

Federal Building for Cisco Looms

COMMITTEE OF 3 ANSWERED CREAGER CALL

Indications seem most favorable for Cisco to secure a modern federal building at an early date.

When Hon. R. B. Creager, Republican leader, was here several weeks ago as the guest of F. A. Blankenbiller, J. W. Triplitt and other friends, he made the statement that the national public buildings committee had agreed to include Cisco in the next building program, adding that he would take pleasure in notifying Cisco when the matter came up for official action.

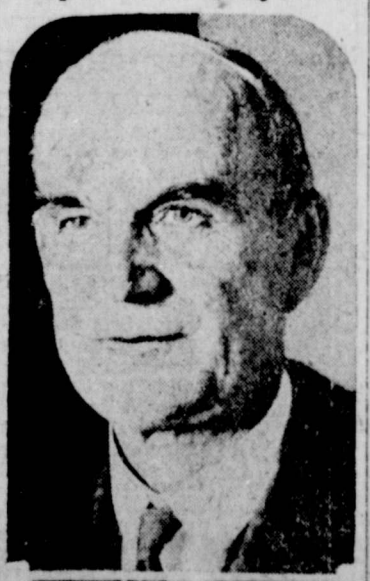

Friday, in keeping with that promise, Mr. Creager wired the Cisco chamber of commerce to send a postoffice committee to Washington immediately.

Friday night at a meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce that body voted to send Guy Dabney, J. M. Williamson and P. A. Blankenbiller to Washington to confer with the public buildings committee. They left for the national capital Saturday.

The fact that Mr. Creager saw fit to wire the committee to come to Washington immediately is taken here as an indication that Cisco is being favorably considered by the committee, which would naturally want to confer with local people authorized to speak for the city regarding the matters that will necessarily have to be settled before the building is located.

Friday night at a meeting of the board of directors of the chamber of commerce that body voted to send Guy Dabney, J. M. Williamson and P. A. Blankenbiller to Washington to confer with the public buildings committee. They left for the national capital Saturday.

Maudlin Sympathy Wasted on Robert Hill Now in Jail

Robert Hill, confessed Cisco bank bandit who was recently given a 99-year sentence, looks out through the bars at the Eastland county jail with a smile. Many people, who have heard the story of how Hill was left an orphan at the age of 11 and was sent to a reformatory instead of an orphanage, have visited him in jail. Ladies, young and old, have talked to him, sent him flowers and dainties to eat. A fat negro mammy who had visited a colored prisoner looked at the 22-year-old life-terminator and said, "He's a nice looking kid, which is an accurate description of Hill, who looks not at all like one that is going to try to 'make good' when he goes to the penitentiary. The prisoner seems to appreciate the interest that people are showing in his welfare."—Eastland Tribune.

CISCO FIREMEN WILL STAGE A PLAY APRIL 27

The Cisco fire department will stage a theatrical performance here April 27, when the play, "Rose Time," a musical comedy will be put on by local talent. This was definitely decided at the meeting of the department Friday night when about 30 of the voluntary firemen were present, said R. T. Redies, secretary of the fire department. The cast will include both male and female performers, and those having stage talent are requested to assist the fire boys in making "Rose Time" a big hit.

Other business transacted was the election of two fire policemen, Hoyt Agnew and Leonard Eppler were elected to preserve order at fires for the ensuing year.

STEPHENVILLE GETS 1929 MEET P-T. A. PEOPLE

ABILENE, April 7.—Stephenville will be hostess city to the 1929 convention of the first district Texas Congress of Mothers and Parent-Teacher. Selection of the next meeting place was made by members of the executive board of the convention in a session held at the conclusion of the three-day convention of the district here. Coleman also extended an invitation to the convention for the next district meeting. By a recent re-districting of the state, Coleman county was included in the first district. Taylor county was placed in the sixth district. According to the re-districting plan Texas now consists of 15 instead of 10 districts. The five additional districts were created January 19, by the state board of managers, with the assistance and approval of the district presidents.

TWO INDICTED FOR DEATH OF TWO MEXICANS

AUSTIN, April 7.—Two men were indicted in Upton county in connection with the alleged slaying of two bank bandits in Rankin last June, which was disclosed in a telegram received by Ranger Captain Frank Hamer from District Attorney Joe Montague of Upton county. Captain Hamer recently testified before this grand jury concerning charges of a "hoax" which was profiting through the Texas bankers association's offer of rewards of $5,000 for each dead bank bandit. Hamer charged that the Rankin killings were a "hoax" and that two men killed at Odessa were "framed." One of the indicted men is under arrest. The other has not been apprehended as yet and neither name was disclosed.

Vocational Pupils Held Meeting At Lee Diversified Farm Friday; Splendid Program Was Rendered

The agricultural and livestock contest and demonstration held Friday afternoon at the R. Q. Lee diversified farm, about three miles southeast of Cisco, was attended with more interest, and was one of the most successful yet held since the employment of an agricultural vocationalist for Cisco. The contest was held under the auspices of E. H. Varnell, agricultural vocationalist of the Cisco high school and the Cisco chamber of commerce, and all matters were arranged and carried through with clocklike precision. The throng that attended the demonstration was estimated at 400, many farmers and others of mature years being among those present. Besides Varnell's vocational class of the Cisco chamber of commerce, the following rural schools of the county were represented: Dothan, Flatwoods, Okra, Nimrod, Seranton, Dan Horn, Bluff Branch, Friendship, Bedford and Mangum.

Peters Welcomed Guests. The welcome address was delivered by J. E. T. Peters, secretary of the Cisco chamber of commerce. The "Problem of the Country School" was the subject of a splendid talk by Miss Beulah Speers, county school superintendent. "Sing Song," was discussed by Guy Quill, county executive of the Eastland County Boy Scouts. Col. R. Q. Lee, in a splendid talk, explained why he was interested in agriculture, and J. J. Youngblood, superintendent of the Cisco schools, made an unusually good address on the necessity of an education.

Varnell had the matter well in hand, and after the talks the vocational pupils and others were divided into groups and conducted over this model farm, where they were shown the many improvements in farm methods that have been installed by Mr. Lee, while at the same time the vocational pupils were instructed in the use of the improved equipment, and the reasons why better methods were more profitable. During the afternoon those in attendance were served with soda water and Esquimaux pies, by the Cisco Coca Cola Bottling works and the Banner Ice Cream Co.

Boys Judge Cattle. After refreshments instructions were given the boys attending.

1000 YEAR OLD BISCUIT FOUND IN NEW MEXICO

DENVER, April 7.—A biscuit which is estimated to be 1000 years old was recently received by Dr. Etienne B. Renaud, head of the University of Denver department of Archeology from Dr. Frank H. Roberts, author and historian of New Mexico. The biscuit was found by Dr. Roberts in a pueblo near Aztec, N. M. These ruins were abandoned between 1,000 and 1,300 B. C. according to Dr. Renaud. The biscuit was brown in color and as light as a feather after surviving ten centuries in the dry atmosphere of the southwest. The bit of the ancient food will be given to the chemistry department of the University of Denver in order to determine whether there is any food value remaining.

OLDEST BOTTLE OF WINE IS IN GERMAN MUSEUM

SPEYER, Germany, April 7.—The famous Speyer wine museum claims to house the world's oldest wine. It is contained in a bottle of Roman design found in the vicinity of Speyer. The flask is more than 1700 years old, according to archaeological experts. In the course of the centuries that have passed since the Roman legions left Germany's soil, the liquor has thickened to such a degree that it is now undrinkable.

Dr. T. T. Roberts, president of Randolph college, returned home Friday night from a ten days' stay in West Texas, where he went in the interest of the college. Dr. Roberts said he met with a most enthusiastic reception in every town he visited, and came home with pledges to the endowment fund of the college. He visited the Christian churches at Fort Stockton, Marfa, Alpine, Pecos, Midland and Big Spring.

While at Alpine I was entertained by Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Bright, both strong supporters of the college. They both were most enthusiastic for the school, and said with all West Texas behind the college Randolph need want for nothing. "But I found all are eager to help make the school a success in every place I visited. On this trip I secured church bonds for the endowment fund of $16,000, in addition to about $300 cash from miscellaneous sources," Dr. Roberts said. "The churches voting bonds were Alpine $5,000; Big Spring, $5,000; Fort Stockton, $1,000, and Marfa, $5,000." Dr. Roberts will return to Midland today as that church now has the matter under advisement, and he anticipates a nice sum from the Midland congregation.

While in Alpine Dr. Roberts attended a banquet for the Petroleum Highway association Monday night. The proposed route will intersect the Bankhead highway at Cisco, which if built will give Cisco three important highways. "I met Claude Wild, former resident of Cisco and at one time president of the Cisco chamber of commerce, who addressed the meeting, in which he called attention to the fact that Cisco was a pivotal point on the proposed route. I was called upon and made a talk to the delegates. I felt pretty much at home at the banquet, for besides Mr. Wild I met some friends of H. S. Drumwright, and enjoyed the banquet all the more by reason we had much in common to discuss," Dr. Roberts concluded.

SEVENTY-FIVE SUMMONED TRY INGRAM BROS.

EASTLAND, April 7.—Special venire of 75 men each have been drawn from which to select juries to try the cases of Tim and Buford Ingram, charged with robbery with firearms in connection with the robbery of the postoffice and grocery store at Nimrod in Eastland county on March 7. The cases have been set for trial on Monday, April 16.

"Harmony Group" Democrats Change Name, Reorganize

AUSTIN, April 7.—The "Harmony Democrats" of Texas reorganized tonight, naming Lynch Davidson, former candidate for governor, as permanent chairman, and renaming the group "Democrats of Texas." W. E. Spell, Waco, was named first vice chairman. Recommendations of the reorganization for two vice chairmen in each district, which will result in a total of 36 vice chairmen, were adopted. The report denied the Republican prohibition law, and endorsed a "dry" plank for the Democratic national platform.

W. D. Hobby, ex-governor, urged the group to make the state chairman name Governor Moody as delegate at large to the national convention, and chairman of the Texas delegation.

the family were still in the ashes Saturday morning, when Sheriff Hart and Cisco police again visited the scene, in an effort to gather more evidence.

Desk Sergeant R. D. Redies, one of the officers visiting the farm, said that without doubt the oldest girl's throat had been cut with some sharp instrument. Further indications of foul play were found in the fact that each room had a door opening to the outside, two in front, and two in back. There also were windows through which the victims could have escaped had they been aware of the fire.

One officer advanced the theory that the girl found at the entrance of the clothes closet would not have remained there if she had been alive when the fire started, but have either fled through the nearby door, or awakened the other victims.

BIG FREEZE THREATENING FRUIT CROP

TYLER, April 7.—With a rapid fall of temperature this afternoon and a predicted freeze before morning, fruit and truck farmers expressed great anxiety for fruit, berries and other spring crops. The temperature began to drop in mid-afternoon, when the thermometer read 79. Before midnight the mercury had fallen to 40. A further fall is predicted before morning. This would mean a crop loss for this section of approximately $1,000,000.

On last Friday night a fire occurred at the home of J. G. Webster, on West Fifth street, which soon consumed the house and contents. On account of the distance from the fire station and the muddy condition of the streets, the fire boys were unable to reach the scene of the fire in time to be of any great assistance, other than to adjoining property. Only a very few of the household goods were saved. Mr. Webster's loss is something over $5,000, with $3,000 insurance. He has rented the residence formerly owned by Dr. Jones, on Broadway, and will occupy it while he is planning and rebuilding.

BERLIN OFFERS REWARD FOR GIVING FIRE ALARM

BERLIN, April 7.—In order to insure quicker action against fires the Berlin Municipal fire brigade has decided to pay a reward of $500 to every person who notifies the next fire station of any fire. The fire brigade thereby takes up an old pre-war custom, abandoning the inflation period because at that time the misery of the people was such that unless it was their own property that burned, they paid little or no attention to even the biggest fires and did nothing to alarm the brigade.

KISS HER AND TELL HER SO

You're a neat little wife at home, John.

As sweet as you'd wish to see; As faithful and as gentle hearted. As fond as wife can be; A genuine home loving woman. Not caring for fuss and show; She's dearer than life to you John. Then kiss her and tell her so.

Your dinners are promptly served, John.

As likewise your breakfast and tea; Your wardrobe is always in order. With buttons where buttons should be. Her home is a cozy nest, John. A haven of rest you know; You think she's a rare little treasure.

Then kiss her and tell her so.

She's a good wife and true to you, John.

Let fortune be foul or fair; Of what ever comes to you, John. She cheerfully bears her share; You feel she's a brave, true helper. And perhaps far more than you know. Twill lighten the end of the load, John. Just to kiss her and tell her so.

There's a cross road somewhere in life, John.

Where a hand on a guiding stone. Will signal one "over the river." And the other must go alone. Should she reach the milestone first, John.

'Twill be comfort 'mid your woe To know while loving her here, John.

You kissed her and told her so.

KANSAS GRAVE MARKER

SEEKS VICE PRESIDENCY

LEAVENWORTH, Kas., April 7. —Julius H. Textor, a local grave marker, has announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for vice-president of the United States. Textor declares that his campaign for the nomination will be closely modeled after the tactics which won nominations for the late William Jennings Bryan. It is his plan, he says, to enter the nation's convention at Houston, and stamped the gathering solely by his "oratory." Bryan's "Cross of Gold and Crown of Thorns" speech will be his guide, Textor asserted.

CHOICE IN CHINA

"China is burning with a passion to become a modern nation," says Maurice Hindus, traveler and writer. And it is going to pursue one of two courses. China will follow the course of western freedom and progress, or the course of Bolshevik blight. The educated and intelligent Chinese, he says, especially those educated in America, want to take the Anglo-Saxon path. But the peasants, who are an enormous majority, are being saturated with Russian propaganda. So it comes back to the same old problem, with the same old choice for the western nations to make. The powers may continue to irritate China by claiming special privileges, threatening and bulldozing that country instead of treating it with respect. In that case they will drive China into the arms of Russia, despite the heroic efforts of Nationalist leaders to stem the Bolshevik tide. Or the western powers, taking their cue from American ideals of friendliness and fair play, may deal squarely and courteously with China, as an equal among nations, and thereby win that once great empire as a friend and associate for the future. The Chinese race is worth befriending and cultivating for itself. It is doubly so because of the menace behind it. Russia has settled down to an indefinite course of Communism, and Russia is determined to dominate Asia. The outcome of present conflicts in China will vitally affect America for a century.

Cisco Loboes Smother Haskell in First Game of Year

Little and Coldwell Were Hurt and Out Early, But Eddleman and Teammates Rose to Occasion

The powerful drives of Capt. "Shenle" Eddleman featured the Big Dam Loboes' win over Haskell high school Friday afternoon, when the Loboes won the first spring football game in the Oil Belt by the score of 46 to 0.

Eddleman made four touchdowns, played a smashing defensive game and carried the ball oftener than any man on the field, simply driving his way down the field.

The first touchdown of the game came when Eddleman took the ball on a split back and ran twenty yards for a touchdown.

On the first play of the game the Loboes lost Little and Coldwell, two of their best men. Coldwell suffered from a shoulder injury, while Little injured an arm.

Eddleman made the second touchdown of the game on a buck through the center of the line.

In the second quarter, Slatton, Lobo tackle, broke through and blocked a Haskell punt and the ball bounced back with such force that it rolled thirty yards into the end zone, where Miller fell upon it for a touchdown.

Eddleman made the next touchdown on one of his powerful thrusts off-tackle.

The Loboes completed a pretty pass for the last touchdown of the first half.

In the third quarter Meadows took a pretty pass from Kellogg for a touchdown.

Eddleman then made his last drive for a touchdown and Coats ended the scoring when he skirted tackle for a touchdown.

Bedford kicked three out of five attempts at the extra point and Kellogg kicked one.

One of the features of the game was a play on the kick-off by Kellogg. Lobo quarter back, Haskell kicked off and the ball rolled near the sideline and into the end zone. Kellogg picked up the ball and started walking as if to carry the ball to one of the officials. He walked about thirty yards before the Haskell team became suspicious and tried to tackle him. Kellogg then broke into a run and carried the ball an additional fifty yards, making a total of eighty yards on the return. Pratt, McCanlies, Miller, Meadows, Slatton and Stockard all played good defensive games.

Slatton, 190 pound Lobo tackle, played one of the best games of his career, smothering many of Haskell's players behind the line.

Haskell could only make two first downs against the Loboes. Kimbrough was their outstanding man with Ratliff and Watson playing good defensive games.

The Loboes will go to Haskell for a return game on April 20.

An effort is being made to get other spring games.

Between halves the Cisco high school girls held the preliminaries in the thirty and fifty yard dashes of their interscholastic track meet.

Following is the lineup:

Cisco	Position	Haskell
C. Stockard	Left End	Watson
L. Miller	Center	Reynolds
Miller	Right Guard	Gilstrap
Coldwell	Right Tackle	Sanders
Meadows	Right End	Ratliff
Kellogg	Quarter	Pitman
Little	Right Half	Smith
Eddleman	Full	Kimbrough

1000 YEAR OLD BISCUIT FOUND IN NEW MEXICO

DENVER, April 7.—A biscuit which is estimated to be 1,000 years old was recently received by Dr. Etienne B. Renaud, head of the University of Denver department of Archeology from Dr. Frank H. Roberts, author and historian of New Mexico. The biscuit was found by Dr. Roberts in a pueblo near Aztec, N. M. These ruins were abandoned between 1,100 and 1,300 B. C. according to Dr. Renaud. The biscuit was brown in color and as light as a feather after surviving ten centuries in the dry atmosphere of the southwest. The bit of the ancient food will be given to the chemistry department of the University of Denver in order to determine whether there is any food value remaining.

OLDEST BOTTLE OF WINE IS IN GERMAN MUSEUM

SPEYER, Germany, April 7.—The famous Speyer wine museum claims to house the world's oldest wine. It is contained in a bottle of Roman design found in the vicinity of Speyer. The flask is more than 1700 years old, according to archaeological experts. In the course of the centuries that have passed since the Roman legions left Germany's soil, the liquor has thickened to such a degree that it is now undrinkable.

Easter style show of new STUDEBAKERS

.. months in advance of other makes

WE cordially invite you to attend our Spring Showing of the newest motoring modes as created by Studebaker. In beauty and grace of body lines, these Studebaker and Erskine fine cars lead the fashion. In luxury of finish and appointments they anticipate the style trend in tomorrow's smart motor cars. Brilliant color combinations and newest pastel shades sponsored by fashion authorities—Damson Plum, Antelope Tan and Gold Bronze—Spruce Green, Dove Grey and Old Ivory—Burgundy and Deauville Sand—Tapestry Blue, Duskblu and Carmine.

In The President Eight, upholstery is of two-toned broadcloth or mohair in colors harmonizing with the body themes. Door panels finished in antique walnut, embellished with etched silver medallions. The Commander Regal has such luxuries as seat cushions 9½ inches deep, silk assist cords, smoking sets with electric lighters. The Dictator Royal has decorative door panels, bright metal parts of chromium plate and onyx driving fitments. The Erskine Six is most tastefully fitted, even to arm rests and ash receivers.

If you paid many thousands, you could not surpass these Studebaker and Erskine cars in modishness, luxury of finish and richness of appointments. Their championship performance proves the brilliance of Studebaker's engineering genius. HIGHWAY JOBS SINCE JAN. 1ST. TOTAL $6,418, 633

AUSTIN, April 7.—Since January 1 the highway commission has launched nearly six and a half million dollars of highway construction. The exact figure for contracts awarded since January 1 is $6,418,633.

Approximately $7,000,000 more of construction contracts are in sight for the next 100 days, and if the department's funds hold out, it is proposed to continue at this rate for the entire year. If this program can be followed out the year 1928 should turn in about $24,300,000 of contracts let.

In addition to the 341 miles of asphalt topping which was contracted for the past week, there remains, already laid upon, 35 miles in five counties, which is being held up because the counties have not provided sufficient right-of-way. The counties have been given until April 24 to provide the needed width.

Approximately 540 miles more of rock and gravel highways, located in the north and northwestern parts of the state, will be granted asphalt topping later in the year, the contracts to be awarded probably in July.

Ford and Glenn, Lullaby Boys, At Palace Theater

Cisco will play host today to Ford and Glenn, "Lullaby Boys" of station WLS, Chicago. The boys are scheduled to appear at the Palace theater in a program such as brought them their great popularity with the radio audiences.

In making their appearance at the Palace theater, the original "Lullaby Time," the greatest single radio feature ever scheduled, are not forsaking the radio, it is announced. They are simply being loaned to a limited number of theaters by station WLS in order that they may be able to fill some of the hundreds of requests for personal appearances that have come to them in the past two years. On these trips Ford and Glenn are looking forward to meeting as many of their young and old admirers as possible, but each Saturday evening they will hustle right back to the old WLS stand in the Hotel Sherman, Chicago, where they will give their radio performance as usual.

Kitty Hawk, N. C. To Memorialize First Airplane

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., April 7.—A monument commemorating the first heavier than air flight of Orville and Wilbur Wright off the North Carolina coast a quarter century ago, has been completed and turned over to a group of sponsors here. The memorial, an obelisk of grey Vermont marble, was carved by P. A. Berry, of Elizabeth City. It will be placed in the yard of the Methodist parsonage at Kitty Hawk, N. C., near the scene of the first flight. The monument plan was sponsored by Captain W. J. Tate, keeper of the government light-house depot at Coinjock, Currituck county.

At the top of the monument is a replica of the first glider, and underneath is the following inscription: "On this spot, September 17, 1900, Wilbur Wright began the assembly of the Wright brothers' first experimental glider which led to man's conquest of the air. Erected by citizens of Kitty Hawk, N. C., 1926."

PLAN LEGION TRIP TO SAN ANTONIO AND THE BORDER

While in San Antonio recently, National Adjutant James F. Barton, of the American Legion, worked out plans for the Legion national convention in the Alamo City October 2 to 12 and for side trips to the Mexican Border following the convention.

In the lower group, Barton (second from the left) is receiving from a group of Mexican girls an invitation for the Legion to visit the cities along the Rio Grande. Trips to Brownsville, Eagle Pass and Laredo are being planned.

She was a freshman from the state of Oklahoma. In spite of his world renown and something

Why buy performance that CHRYSLER "72" has obsoleted?

CHRYSLER "72" performance obsoletes all other performance at its price or even for $1000 more.

The first Chrysler, four years ago, put in the discard the cumbersome, bulky vehicles of its day.

Chrysler "72" performance widens that margin of superiority.

No other car today approaches it for roadability, hill climbing, acceleration, dependability, comfort, ease of handling, style, safety, long life and appearance.

For Chrysler's engineering genius and precision manufacture have gone steadily forward to greater heights.

That is why the "72" today gives you performance that sets the pace for the entire industry for years to come. 75 brake horsepower. 72 miles and more per hour. Vibrationless smoothness that only a Chrysler counterweighted 7-bearing crankshaft can give. Flashing acceleration in traffic. There are no hills to the "72."

Longer chassis with no side-sway—spring ends mounted in rubber shock insulators give consummate ease of riding.

Why pay a premium for the out-of-date performance others give? See and ride in the Chrysler "72." You will realize then how Chrysler "72"—at less money—makes a dead letter of all other performance in its field today.

At War On Prohibition

THE LONG-RANGE debate between Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York (left) and William G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, continues, with the latter declaring the one fundamental issue to be: "Shall a State be permitted to disregard any portion of the Constitution which it elects not to obey?" The Governor had asserted the Volstead Act was a part of the laws of New York State, and no further enforcement laws were necessary there. Said Mr. McAdoo: "Police enforcement is the principle and normal function of the State Governments. Deprived of the effective cooperation of the police of the States, the Amendment becomes a nullity. This is what happened in New York and Maryland." (International Newsreel and International Illustrated News)

Juris Would Ban Marriages of Children in Illinois; Suggests Age of Consent be Raised to 25

By FRANCIS L. ARMSTRONG
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

CHICAGO, April 7. — "Child" marriages would be banned by law in Illinois, according to a proposal of Judge William J. Lindsay, who has heard thousands of divorce proceedings here.

Before his appointment to the criminal bench in superior court of Cook county, Judge Lindsay watched the stream of wrecked matrimony pouring through his court and concluded that youth is a serious handicap for any marriage.

Girls should be prohibited from marrying before they are 21 by the law Judge Lindsay suggests, and the boys would not be given the opportunity to assume the yoke before they are 25.

The present Illinois law sets 16 years as the girl's age and 18 as the boy's.

"Marriage under economic difficulties are often followed by divorce," Judge Lindsay points out.

Almost Children

"In my court I have watched hundreds of married couples who were almost children apply for separation because of financial troubles. Unconsciously, the young wife feels a rankling resentment that her husband is unable to provide for her as she would like to live, and as she has been used to living in her parents' home."

"I don't mean that the young wives are intentionally disloyal, but when a girl can't have the kind of clothes her youth demands and can't dance and see movies as she wants, there is bound to be a feeling of dissatisfaction."

"Father has been working years and he has the earning power to satisfy the demands of his daughter's youth."

"But the young husband, if he marries at 18, is scarcely out of high school. There is no niche in the financial structure which will yield him enough to support a wife."

The age limit proposed by Judge Lindsay, he believes, would be the minimum at which marriage can be successful.

"If a boy goes to college, he is 22 when he graduates, at least. Three years is not a long time to allow him to become financially capable of caring for his wife."

"As for the girl, she is scarcely settled enough to know her own mind, or to be able to undergo the minor financial stringencies of matrimony until she is at least 18."

Judge Lindsay's View

Judge Lindsay does not maintain that youthful marriages are the result of "puppy love" as has been charged by many observers. He finds the sole fault with the uncertain economic structures of such unions.

Youth, however, has an ardent supporter in its matrimonial ambitions in Judge Joseph Sabath, another experienced divorce arbiter of the Chicago courts.

The boy who counts the days until he can marry at 18 with a salary of $20 a week finds Judge Sabath his friend.

"I married when I was 17 and never regretted it," Judge Sabath says. "I would do the same thing again. Parents coming into court seeking separation for their married children have been told my views."

"There is a period in married life when a couple is becoming acclimated. They become used to married life and its obligations more easily if they are young."

A NEW HIGHWAY IS DESIGNATED IN HARRIS CO.

AUSTIN, April 7.—Designation of a new state highway in Harris county, from Laporte Road, near Deer Park, to the San Jacinto battleground, has been announced by the state highway commission. The highway will bear the historic designation of 4-21-36, the day of the battle of San Jacinto, where Sam Houston's whipping Texans swept over the hosts of Santa Anna to epoch-making victory.

The highway commission will require Harris county to furnish a 120 foot right of way, and $50,000 in county funds, it was stated. Eighty feet of highway will be improved, and a 20-foot strip on each side will be reserved for planting trees.

It is proposed to conduct a contest among the school children to select a name for the highway, and the name of the child submitting the selected name will be placed on a plate beside the highway. Commissioner Johnson said.

Ancient Gold Mine Rediscovered When Big Dam Went Out

LOS ANGELES, April 7. — The waters from the ruined St. Francis dam, which dealt death to approximately 400 persons the night of March 12-13 last, uncovered a gold mine in their mad rush. L. Z. Johnson, geology expert for the district attorney's investigating committee, told of the gold discovery while testifying before the coroner's inquest over the Los Angeles county victims of the collapsed dam. The gold was not present in very large quantities, he said. One of the first discoveries of gold in California, antedating even the famous Sutter Creek discovery, was made in this same San Francisco canyon.

Turkestand Adopts Death Penalty For Female Debauchers

MAHACH - KALA, Turkestan, April 7.—The death penalty has been invoked to curb a mara for criminal assault on girls which has cropped up in all parts of the Soviet Union. Two Persians who became Soviet citizens were convicted and shot to death for attacking a 19-year-old girl, Mary Salitkova, and her illegitimate child, 3 years old. The men were charged with luring the girl to their apartment by a fake newspaper advertisement asking for a servant. Three men bound and gagged her and held her a prisoner in the house for two days. Police raided the place on her complaint. The trial lasted only two hours. Two of the men were executed 48 hours later and the third sentenced to 10 years hard labor in the Turkestan fortress prison.

PROPOSED BUS RULES TO BAR BOOZE DRIVERS

AUSTIN, April 7.—Motor bus operators, city and county officials, and all parties interested or involved in the operation of motor buses, have been invited to attend a meeting of the railroad commission here April 14, at which time rules and regulations for the conduct of motor bus companies will be considered for adoption.

The commission has prepared a lengthy list of rules and regulations, which is being sent to all parties involved, and at its hearing, will consider testimony of all interested parties. It is said, as to the adoption, amendment and alteration of the proposed rules.

Among the proposed rules is one that would bar from service as a bus driver any person "who drinks intoxicating liquor either on or off duty." Another would require the driver of a bus, to turn off the lights of the bus when crossing a railroad crossing after dark in order that he might be sure to see the headlight of a possible approaching train. EASTLAND NASH COMPANY

R. E. SIKES, Manager,

Eastland, Texas.

DEAR FRIENDS:

"Easter is a joyous season all over Christendom and is marked by the giving of gifts second only to the Christmas. Naturally these gifts should be of a kind that are enduring and which may be kept for years by the recipient."

I swiped that out of a book—pretty good, isn't it? And it's the truth, too.

But there's something I got by nosing around the store that is suitable for Easter Gifts, such as Diamond Bar Pins, Green Wrist Watches and that Super Plate Inlaid Holmes & Edwards Silverware.

You'd be surprised at the number of things Mr. Locke has for Easter Gifts, Wedding Gifts and other kinds of Gifts. You'll always find something beautiful and appropriate at this store.

Inaccuracy of School Histories Make American Laughing Stock of World, Lt. Colonel Dickson Says

WASHINGTON, April 7.—School-book historians may be responsible for the next great war in which America will be involved, in the opinion of Lt. Col. Thomas J. Dickson of this city, chaplain general of the Military Order of the World War. Dickson will appear before the house education committee April 11 to denounce in scathing terms, he declares, the "inaccuracies" in school histories.

This type of historian, Dickson declared today, is doing more to cause another war involving the United States than any other force charged with the education of youth.

Lt. Col. Dickson, in France two years, wartime chaplain of the 6th field artillery which is credited with firing the first shot of America's participation, is on the war-path against some hundred odd histories in use in the schools throughout the country. In the "den" of his modest home in upper Sixteenth street, Dickson has copies of virtually all the histories published in the United States, and he takes a keen delight, although somewhat outraged, in dissecting them for errors, some ridiculous and amusing, but others, he says, vicious and calculated to do considerable harm to the country's youth.

World Will Laugh

"Unless these histories are corrected we are doomed to become the laughing stock of the world," Dickson declared. "They vaunt the prowess of the Americans, deny credit to the allies equally in action and belittle the courage of the enemy. I expect to continue to protest the teaching of such stupidity before every tribunal with power of decision. A large publisher of school histories told me it was 'none of congress business' to take action looking to the correction of errors in the histories used in the nation's school. I disagree with him."

The history of Perry and Price relating that dogs were used in the world war to carry aid to the wounded, and another by Montgomery asserting that these dogs assisted Red Cross nurses in locating the wounded, was particularly assailed by Dickson.

"Such stupidity is worse than shell-shock to a soldier," Dickson said.

"Historians Forman, Murrey and others fight 1,200,000 men for 47 days on a piece of ground, which could not have been more than three by five miles in area. Mace has the Germans 'dumbfounded' at Chateau-Thierry when Pershing struck them and in six hours captured as much ground as they had spent six days in getting possession of. Pershing, as a matter of fact, never commanded troops in action closer than 50 miles to Chateau-Thierry."

The fighting army chaplain charged Schlesinger with gross inaccuracy in writing down for history that German exertions came to a halt in July of the last year of the war. Garner and Henson's history, he says, had the enemy "quailing" as of July 18. This statement he declared not a fact.

Laughs at Pictures

Dickson then turned to some of the pictures with which histories are illustrated, and criticized some of them for not conveying a true picture of what was meant to be conveyed.

"Leonard and Jacobs," he said, "put in a picture of George Washington, then eclipsed it with one of Toussaint l'Ouverture all dolled up with boots, spurs, sword, lace and a plug hat with a feather stuck in it a child would never forget, which is more than 20 per cent larger than that of Washington. Then follows a total eclipse with a picture of a statue of Booker T. Washington more than 40 percent larger than that of Washington."

Historian Fite, he found, in a new addition "seems to leave out Pershing and gives 15 lines to Coxey's army. Stone wrote a big history, gave the wrong date for the firing of the first shot of the war, left out all troop action and devoted 36 lines to the Ku Klux Klan.

"Gregory and Guiteau leave troops at Hindelgem and let the children scratch around all over Europe wondering where Hindelgem is.

"Wertenteker has 250,000 maneuver as accurately as a moving picture film run backwards, while Long has 40,000 fighting men to the mile on a battle line without stopping to figure what this means.

"Then there is the history by Morris. He does not mention the German drives, gives 8 lines to Coxey's army, 16 lines to Powhatan, mentions Villa and leaves out Pershing, and another by Bryant intended for young children, which says the 'enemy' was the most merciless army the world has ever known."

Cisco Operators Open Extension Cross Cut Field

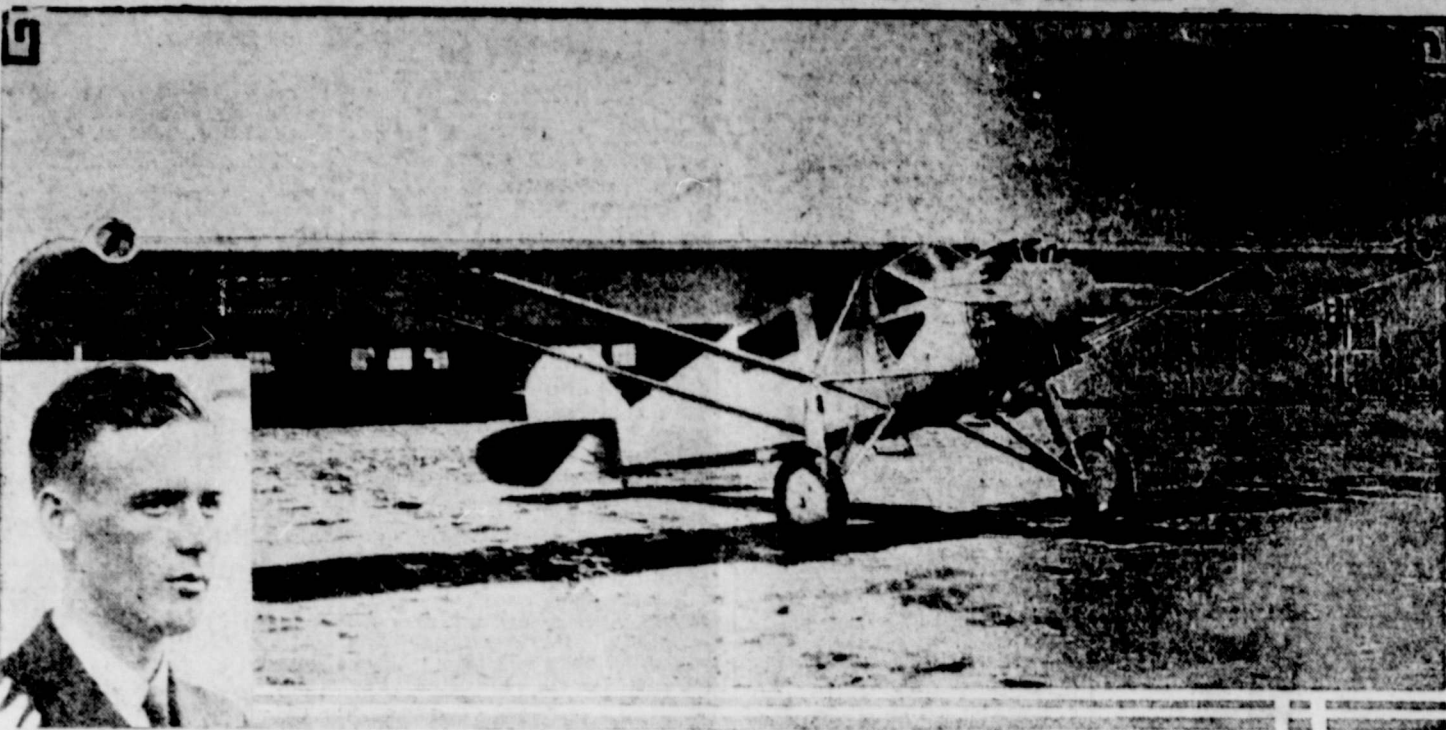

CROSS PLAINS, April 7.—A new pool is thought to have been opened by Cranfill & Reynolds four miles south of Crosscut since their J. B. Eubanks No. 1 a mile and a half from the closest production, is flowing at 15-minute intervals at the rate of 30 barrels an hour. Estimates on the well when completed vary from 800 to 1,000 barrels. The sand was touched at 1,210 feet and drilled ten feet. The well is located 1,250 feet from the north and 150 feet from the east line of Cranfill & Reynolds' 80 acre lease on the J. B. Eubanks tract of the Robert Mitchell survey No. 141. This is the only well that has been completed in the Crosscut area in several months and other tests are expected to start immediately.

Tom Bryant has rig up for his deep test on T. N. Pinkerton tract four miles northeast and plans to start drilling the first of the week. The progress of his well will be followed with much interest. Other operations not reported this week.

NAMED MAIDS OF HONOR BY HARTSFIELD

Mrs. W. P. Pulley and Miss Florence Pulley, wife and daughter of W. P. Pulley, have recently been complimented with appointment by J. M. Hartsfield, commander of the R. E. Lee camp, U. C. V., of Fort Worth, to his official staff as maids of honor at the Confederate reunion to be held at Little Rock, May 8 to 11. These ladies now have the matter under advisement, and if it is determined that they can attend the reunion their acceptance will be forwarded to Commander Hartsfield at an early date. This is a deserved and appreciated compliment to these ladies, as both are active in the U. C. V. organization locally. Commander Hartsfield is also commander of the Fort Worth Texas Brigade, U. C. V.

Frank Langston's Win of Essay Writing Contest Increases Lead of Cisco All Around Champions

THE EASTLAND GAME TUESDAY BE LOBO TEST

A report was sent to Mrs. E. E. Keen, of the history department of Cisco high school, and one of the directors of the Eastland county inter-scholastic league meet, states that Frank Langston, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Langston, 401 West Third street, won the essay writing contest in the county meet. Cisco already had a sufficient number of points to win the all-around county championship and this victory increases the lead over Eastland, who won second place. Cisco won a total of 120 points. Eastland had 87 points and it was not known by Mrs. Keen whether they won a place in the essay contest or not.

Langston, besides winning the essay writing, won third place in the half mile run in the track meet held the same day.

The county meet holds contests in debates, declamation, spelling, tennis, volleyball and track and field events. In winning this meet Cisco high school added a loving cup and a beautiful "Victory" Trophy, a design of the "Goddess of Victory," to their trophy case.

"Bootleg Bonded" Distinguishes A Brand of Liquor

PITTSBURGH, April 7.—Prohibition has brought another new term. It is "bootleg bonded" and denotes all that species of liquor which, while known to the purchaser as not to be the real bonded article and sold at a price below the original, yet is replete with official-looking labels and seals. There was a time when a cheaply printed label slightly resembling that used on some brand of "fond memory" was sufficient guarantee for any bootlegger to claim that was the "real stuff." In the place of the "Four Roses," "Old Crow" or "Old Smuggler" of 1908, the liquor of 1928 appears under three brands: "moonshine," "bootleg-bonded" and "real stuff."

Under the first classification are said to fall all of the poisonous varieties which have given bootleg liquors the reputation they bear. It is in the second and third classes in which the majority of prohibition dissenters find their solace, and it is here that the progressive dealers vie with one another in their efforts to give their product that highly-desired genuine look. But "real stuff" in 1928 is as scarce as brass rails.

GRUBBING RIGHT OF WAY OF OPLIN ROAD COMPLETE

CROSS PLAINS, April 7.—Grubbing of the right of way on the new road leading west to Oplin has been completed and work is progressing on the fencing, which will soon be finished, and the grading of the roadbed will begin next week. It is stated. There is much work to be done which will take time, but from present indications the road will be opened for travel by early summer. The opening of this road, traversing south Callahan county, will mean much and there is little doubt but that it will eventually become a state highway.

WAR NURSE BECOMES COMMANDER OF POST

CASPER, Wyo., April 7.—One of the few women veterans of the world war to be commanders of American legion posts is Miss Mary B. McPake, who recently became commander of the George Vroman post No. 2 here. She succeeded General Burke H. Sinclair, who resigned as commander. Miss McPake served as an army nurse in France during the war. She was elected vice commander of the post last September.

ARKANSAS TRAPPER GETS HORNED RABBIT IN TRAP

AMITY, Ark., April 7.—What is believed to be a most unusual freak of nature has been discovered here in the form of a rabbit with horns. The animal was caught in a trap near here by William Short. The rabbit is normal in every way except that a horn, measuring about 2½ inches in length protrudes from behind each ear.

Christian Society, Met

Friday Afternoon

The Woman's Missionary society of the First Christian church met Friday afternoon at the church, with Mrs. Ina C. Query, leader for the afternoon's program. Mrs. John Elkins, president of the society, called the meeting to order. After the roll call and a brief business session, Mrs. Query took charge of the program. Rev. Thomas Lenox opened the meeting with a prayer, followed by a song, "Wonderful Savior." The devotional lesson was read by Mrs. Query, after which sentence prayers were offered by the members. Several interesting talks and discussions were made. Among those entertaining was Miss Mary Query, who drew a picture in colors while the "Old Rugged Cross" was being sung. This closed a series of prayer services which had been given at the church Monday, Wednesday and Friday. A special Easter offering was given. Mrs. Elkins gave an interesting report of the Abilene convention that she attended.

Blue Bonnet Bridge Club

Met Wednesday Afternoon

Mrs. A. E. Willig was hostess to the members and guests of the Blue Bonnet Bridge club Wednesday afternoon at her home on West Fifth street. The room was attractively decorated with suggestions symbolic of Easter. The tallies and favors carried out the Easter motif. In the game the high score prize was awarded Mrs. R. A. Williams for the guests, and Mrs. W. T. Graham was awarded the high score for the club members. The hostess served a very artistic salad plate to the following guests and members: Mesdames O. T. Maxwell, Cleve Johnson, Henry Benham, W. T.

Graham; R. A. Williams, J. H. Meyer, Ed Elliott and Moran.

Music Study Club Met

With Mrs. S. E. Hittson

Mrs. S. E. Hittson was hostess to the Music Study club Friday afternoon at her home on West Twelfth street. After a brief business session a very interesting program was given on "Music Today and Tomorrow." The following members gave interesting papers: Mrs. Wm. Hoyt, Mrs. H. E. Burnett, Mrs. H. I. Stock and Mrs. Hittson. A most enjoyable social hour was then spent, at which time the hostess served dainty refreshments. The club adjourned to meet Friday, April 20, at the home of Mrs. H. V. Price in Humboldt.

Hostesses to First

Industrial Arts Club

Mrs. J. J. Youngblood and Mrs. C. L. Orr were joint hostesses Thursday afternoon when they entertained the members and guests of the First Industrial Arts club at the home of Mrs. Youngblood on West Ninth street. The house was artistically decorated with cut flowers and pot plants. The meeting was opened with a song, "America." There were 19 members and three guests answering roll call with "What I Can Do to Help With the Legislative Program." During the business session the club voted to place ten good pictures in the rural schools. A liberal donation was given for a needy family in El Paso. The club also voted to sponsor a picture show the date to be announced later. One of the interesting features of the show will be the opera to be given by Mrs. C. C. Morris. The following interesting program on "Legislation" was given, with Mrs. P. J. Connally leader. Mrs. H. A. Bible gave a splendid paper on "History of the State Constitution and Its Need of Revision." Mrs. B. C. Boney gave a paper on the "Educational Bill." Judge J. D. Barker gave a very educational talk on "What Laws of Special Interest to Women Have Recently Been Enacted." The hostesses served dainty refreshments, after which the club adjourned to meet April 20.

Kindergarten Pupils Enjoy

Easter Party Friday

The pupils of the Holmes kindergarten enjoyed an Easter party Friday morning at the home of Mrs. Holmes, on West Seventh street. The diversion for the morning was playing games and having readings by several of the pupils, after which they engaged in an Easter egg hunt. Little Nanella Bible and Charles Yates were awarded the prizes for finding the greatest number of eggs. Gene McClung was awarded a prize for being second in the hunt. Mrs. Holmes, assisted by Mrs. Charles Yates and Mrs. H. A. Bible, served dainty refreshments to the following members of the kindergarten: Harry Gray, Gene McClung, Gene Ames, Harry Farmer, Charles Yates, Eugene Graf, Wayne Coffee, Calvin Graf, Elter J. Corner Sixteenth street and F avenue. Full Easter service this morning. The entire service from the beginning of the Sunday school to the close of the regular service will center around the resurrected Christ. An Easter story without the resurrection story is like a perfect day without sunshine. Come to our service and let the Easter sunlight shine deep into your souls. The pastor will preach on the topic, "What Does Easter and the Resurrection Mean to me?" There will be no service tonight. H. P. PEIMAN, Pastor.

FIRST BAPTIST.
E avenue at Ninth street. Beautiful and impressive service this morning beginning at 11 o'clock. The singing of hymns, congregational reading of Psalms, a group of special hymns and scripture readings by the choir, and the sermon by the pastor on "The Supreme Purpose"—all are combined in such a way as to bring out the beautiful spirit of the day. Another special and well prepared service is ready for you at the evening hour, beginning at 7:45. At this time the congregation will be heard again in "good singing" while the choir will offer a special chorus. The pastor will speak on, "The Uttermost Salvation." This morning at 9:45 the Sunday school will open its departmental assemblies and classes for all ages. At 6:30 the young people come together for their programs in five B. Y. P. U. The general assembly of the young people at 7:40 after their separate group meetings is something worth while. Our goal is 100 for today. We welcome you to any and all of our services; you will feel at home and come again. ACKER C. MILLER, Pastor.

EPISCOPAL.
Church school at 10 o'clock a. m. Rev. Harry Lee Vender will celebrate Holy Communion at a union service at 11 o'clock Easter morning. The church school will present a little two-act play, "Resurrection," at the church at 4:04 West Seventh street at 4 o'clock Sunday afternoon, in which the cast will be as follows: First Roman Soldier—Eric Hall Dwyer; Second Roman Soldier—Edward Stock; Third Roman Soldier—St. John; Jean Parsons. First Disciple—Vance Rominger. Second Disciple—Hubert Stock, Jr. Cleopas—Elizabeth Parsons. Another Disciple—William Parsons. Mary—Elizabeth Walker. Mrs. H. I. Stock will give the children an Easter egg hunt, just after the conclusion of the program, at Electric park, east of the ice plant.

FIRST CHRISTIAN.
You are cordially invited to attend services today at the First Christian church. An interesting program has been arranged. The Christian Endeavor and young people of the church will have a sunrise prayer meeting on College Hill. The Bible school at 9:45 at the church; numbers will be given from the different departments. The sermon at 10:45 by the minister. Musical numbers have been prepared for the day. The evening program will start at 7:45. This promises to be one of the best meetings of the day. Subject, "Christ at the Door." Go to church today. Take some one with you. It will make the world better.

Two Breckenridge Women in Hospital: Shot Through Lung

BRECKENRIDGE, April 7.—Two women, Mrs. G. W. Reid, about 50, and her daughter, Miss Frankie Reid, are in a local sanitarium in critical conditions are the result of bullet wounds sustained at their home just north of the high school building. Mrs. Reid sustained a wound in the chest, the bullet entering at the front and passing entirely through her body, examination at the hospital revealed. Miss Reid was shot in the back. Both bullets were fired from a 22 calibre rifle, officers stated. No motive for the shooting was known. Mrs. Reid, officers said, had been in bad health for some time and had only recently been returned from a sanitarium where she has been undergoing treatment. The shooting took place at about six o'clock this morning. A son of Mrs. Reid had risen at five o'clock to go to work. Miss Frankie Reid had not yet gotten up when the shot which wounded her occurred. Both she and her mother were reported to have been shot through the lungs. Mrs. Reid according to members of the family, had a dread of intruders and had required her son to keep the small rifle continually loaded as protection against intrusion.

District Woman's Missionary Union To Meet Wednesday

The Cisco-Breckenridge District Woman's Missionary Union of Texas meets with the First Baptist church Wednesday afternoon. This district is composed of Eastland and six surrounding counties; Palo Pinto, Jack, Erath, Shackelford, Stephens and Callahan. Delegations from the missionary societies of the churches in this section will be here for the meeting this week.

The feature of the program will be a missionary pageant given by the young ladies of the First Baptist church on Wednesday evening. This is designated as "Young People's Night," at which time special attention will be given to the work of the societies for the young people.

It is announced that the public is cordially invited to attend the meeting.

BEAUTY THAT INDUCES GUESTS TO PROLONG THE DINNER

There are dinners where food literally holds the fort alone. Silently everyone bolts what is placed before him, bent on rushing through the meal and out of the dining room. Such dinners are ordeals for everyone present. But at the perfect dinner, an easy flow of entertaining conversation discloses the real enjoyment of guests, and the pride and ease of the hostess. The food might be the same, its the setting that makes such a tremendous difference. You will find guests lingering over every course with such furnishings.

"Carry a Ball and Time Them All"

The Ball Watch has been identified with railroad time so long and has proven so dependable as a time keeper that when a railroad time piece is mentioned the mind instantly turns to the Ball Watch. When the third locomotive ever built in the U. S. A. was given its first run in 1831 it was timed by a Ball watch. The world famous 999 locomotive made its record run of 112.5 miles per hour and was timed by a Ball Watch.

The progress of steam engines has gone hand in hand with improvements in watches. Engines have grown bigger while watches have grown smaller and their efficiency has increased constantly.

You too can own one and always have the correct time.

Inter-Continental Link Plan Transit Interests

By WILSON WATERS
International Illustrated News
Staff Correspondent

YOU may be able to make a direct trip to Europe. Plans have been suggested by Gen. W. W. Atterbury, president of the Pennsylvania R. R. system, for a fast four day service across the North Atlantic.

Montauk Point, at the eastern tip of Long Island, would be the American terminal of the express steamers and connections will be made there by the Long Island Railroad, one of the Pennsylvania lines, Atterbury said.

His announcement, made in a letter to Representative Fred A. Britton (R.), of Illinois, was the first declaration that the Pennsylvania system is prepared to give full co-operation to the new ship service which its backers declare will revolutionize trans-Atlantic passenger transportation.

"If we were asked to become financially interested, we would, of course, be glad to give the matter careful consideration, but at this time can hardly say what our position would be in that respect."

Atterbury endorses Montauk Point as a terminal for the express lines, pointing out that much time could be saved by rail connections there for passengers, mail and urgent freight and express matter. He said:

"A fast fleet of passenger ships between Montauk Point (Fort Pond Bay) and Europe is of great importance to the country and of special interest to our railroad.

"Fort Pond Bay is a natural safe harbor and presents no engineering difficulties."

"In shape the bay is semi-circular and in area it is fairly comparable with that section of the Hudson River between Twenty-second street and Forty-second street. The general depth of the bay is about five feet more than the draft of the largest passenger ship afloat."

Commenting on the letters, Representative Britton said:

"I am hopeful that Summer of 1930 will see the inauguration of four day ships across the ocean."

DeLeon Will Form American Legion Post Near Future

DE LEON, April 7.—De Leon ex-service men had the matter of organizing a post of the American Legion brought to their attention by Assistant State Adjutant Ernest C. Cox this week, and in all probability a post will be organized within the next two or three weeks. Mr. Cox, who lives at Corsicana, and is a member of the Texas legislature from Navarro county, spent the day Wednesday here seeing the men who saw service in the late war. Before leaving Thursday he had the matter outlined and well along toward organization. Local ex-service men will now take the matter up and apply for a charter. Fifteen charter members are required to start a post. There are many more veterans of the world war in the environs of De Leon than that number.

NEW FIRM OPENS FOR BUSINESS IN CISCO

Pritchard & Roberts is the style of a new firm that has recently opened business at the corner of D avenue and East Seventh street, in the building occupied by the Cisco Transfer Co. The members of the firm are Lee Pritchard and Gid Roberts, both well known Cisco men. Roberts stated that they would deal in used cars, real estate, collections, and handle all things to be sold or bought except merchandise. In this paper they are advertising their business in which they bid for the patronage of Cisco.

OKLAHOMA MAN ON TRIAL FOR 22-YEAR-OLD MURDER

TISHOMINGO, Okla., April 7.—A man is scheduled to go on trial here April 28, for the murder of his brother-in-law nearly twenty-two years ago.

James W. Duncan was slain here July 24, 1906. His brother-in-law,

William Watterson, was arrested as the assassin and indicted. He escaped from jail, and with his small daughter disappeared. Recently Watterson attempted to communicate with a brother living near here, but the letter went into the hands of Sheriff Robert Phillips.

Watterson was captured on a ranch in Nevada, and returned here to face the murder trial.

Vocational Pupils

The demonstration in selecting grain sorghum seed, in dairy cattle, in hogs and chickens. The girls were given demonstrations in canning vegetables and chickens by Miss Ruth Ramey, home demonstration agent. Besides Miss Ramey, Mr. Varnell was assisted in this work by J. C. Patterson, Eastland county agent; John Stovall, of the Bankhead Feed Mills, and by County Agent Lockridge and Home Demonstration Agent Miss McKinnis, of Stephens county.

To further impress each of the vocational pupils with the instructions of this demonstration those of each of the schools represented will write essays on "What I learned during my half day spent on the R. Q. Lee diversified farm." Each of the essays will be graded, and prizes will be awarded. The winner of each school will be given a cash prize of $1 offered by the Cisco chamber of commerce, while a grand prize of $5 will be awarded for the best paper submitted.

Varnell's plan of dividing the attendance into groups proved a happy thought, as each group was under instructors, who gave instructions in the methods of selecting and judging the demonstrated, and then the vocational pupils were taught to do by doing—they were made to do the judging of the livestock and selecting of the grain sorghums.

At the conclusion of the demonstration the children and their parents left for their respective homes loud in their praise of the work being done by Mr. Varnell and the interest taken in their school activities by the Cisco chamber of commerce.

particularly impressed with the thorough manner in which Mr. Varnell conducted the meeting and demonstration. Everything went off in the best manner possible. The children and their parents seemed greatly interested in the proceedings," said R. Q. Lee, Saturday, when asked his impressions of the demonstration. "Adults were among the 400 present. Varnell had the contestants arranged in different groups according to ages, with two instructors for each group. I was in charge of the adults, and took them over the farm, showing them the grounds, the dairy cows, barns, chickens and other matters of interest. I think it was a huge success."
