Garcia to Work With A&M in Santo Domingo

Danny Garcia, vocational agriculture teacher in Wellington high school, has resigned to accept a place with Texas A&M College on a project that will take him and his family to the Dominican Republic before the first of the year.

In brief, he will be one of 11 farm technicians who will work with farmers in Santo Domingo to help improve their farming situation.

The family will leave about Sept. 1 for College Station, where both Danny and Joyce Garcia will enroll for special training in the Spanish language prior to their going to Santo Domingo.

Garcia will be a member of an aid mission of the Agency for International Development, an agency of the United States Government. Development of agriculture is considered the most important priority in the program as it pertains to Santo Domingo, Garcia was told. This is borne out in information carried recently in U.S. News and World Report.

The agency has a contract with Texas A&M University for 11 top technicians in forage crops, vegetables and cattle, and Garcia will be one of these.

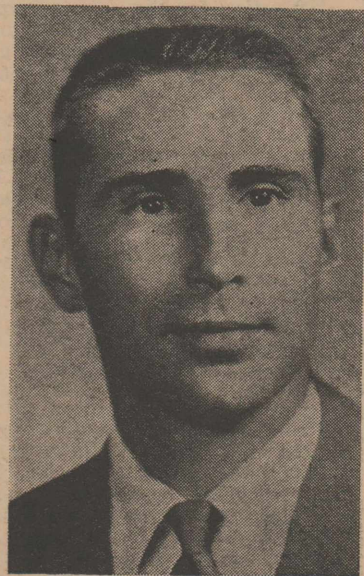

This team will help the people of Santo Domingo decide which crops make sense, which they should get at first, and which crops have a market. Marketing, credit and education are other phases of the program.

"As far as I know now, I will work in the field with farmers, helping them with their crops," Garcia said.

Garcia, who spent his childhood in Puerto Rico and whose father still lives there, has been in the Wellington school system 8½ years, one and one-half as a science teacher and 7 as vocational agriculture instructor.

Top Amateur Performers to Compete in 3-Night Rodeo

Top amateur rodeo performers from a four-state area will compete in Wellington's first big three-night rodeo, with stock that will fit the calibre of the riders.

The rodeo will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 19 through 21. It is sponsored by the Glynn Moore Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and will be held in the VFW arena at the northwest corner of town. All sessions will start at 8 p.m.

Final plans for the rodeo were announced early this week by Jake Leach, VFW commander.

There will be 7 big events each night, head and heel steer roping, bull riding, saddle bronc riding, bareback bronc riding, calf roping, bulldogging, and the barrel race, an open event.

Crowds of several thousand are expected for each of the three performances.

New bleachers have been constructed on the east side of the arena to give a seating capacity of approximately one thousand, reported Sheriff John Rainey, who is helping with plans. These are the same steel and wood construction as the bleachers already on the west side. Besides these, spectators may park their cars at all points around the arena not occupied by the bleachers.

Additional lights were installed to make this one of the best illuminated smaller arenas in the Panhandle. One row of lights was strung from east to west about mid-way down the arena. Two powerful lights were placed near the chutes.

Charles Plummer, Jr., of Elk City, Okla., is furnishing the rodeo and it is considered by rodeo fans and performers a like as "rough and mean." Plummer is considered one of the top producers of amateur rodeo stock in the southwest, and he has a big following of top performers, many of whom will ride out of the chute here during the three-day event.

The biggest thrills will come from the bull riding, the rodeo sponsors predict. In a recent performance put on by Plummer, only one bull was ridden and that was one time only.

Leach and Rainey have received inquiries from points as

Fair Features Farming in the Nuclear Age

The ancient occupation of farming will step into the modern nuclear age at the 1965 State Fair of Texas Agriculture Show in Dallas October 9 through 24.

The central exhibit of the huge attraction in the Agriculture Building will depict solar energy as the source and the subsistence of all living matter on this planet. A symbolic green plant, The Good Life Tree, will illustrate how chlorophyll converts the sun's energy into food for all animal life.

A supporting exhibit will include a mock-up of Texas A&M University's $10,000,000 Nuclear Science Center, the largest of its type between the Mississippi and the Rocky Mountains. Use of the Center in producing radio active substances for research in fertilizer application and in animal heredity will be explained.

Other exhibits flanking the solar energy display will develop in depth the role that energy plays in food preservation, in programming life growth and in poultry science. Additional exhibits will explain the nature of insecticides and herbicides as chemical servants of agriculture, the objectives of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, the growing problems of water supply for the expanding population, animal research and the agricultural aspect of recreation.

Scientists of Texas A&M University are cooperating with State Fair of Texas officials in planning the 1965 Agricultural Show, which will be open daily free of charge to State Fair visitors during the sixteen-day season opening October 9.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. That Section 49-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, be amended so that the same will hereafter read as follows:

"Section 49-b. By virtue of prior Amendments to this Constitution, there has been created a governmental agency of the State of Texas for forming governmental duties which has been designated the Veterans' Land Board. Said Board shall continue to function for the purposes specified in all of the prior Constitutional Amendments except as modified herein. Said Board shall be composed of the Commissioner of the General Land Office and two (2) citizens of the State of Texas, one (1) of whom shall be well versed in veterans' affairs and one (1) of whom shall be well versed in finance. One (1) such citizen member shall, with the advice and consent of the Senate, be appointed biennially by the Governor to serve for a term of four (4) years; but the members serving on said Board on the date of adoption hereof shall complete the terms to which they were appointed. In the event of the resignation or death of any such citizen member, the Governor shall appoint a replacement to serve for the unexpired portion of the term to which the deceased or resigning member had been appointed. All moneys becoming a part of said Fund thereafter shall likewise be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund.

"When a Division of said Fund (each Division consisting of the moneys attributable to the bonds issued and sold pursuant to a single Constitutional authorization and the lands purchased therewith) contains sufficient moneys to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division, the moneys thereof, except such portion as may be needed to retire all of the bonds secured by such Division which portion shall be set aside and remain a part of such Division for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, may be used for the purpose of paying the principal and the interest thereon, together with the expenses herein authorized, of any other bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board. Such use shall be a matter for the discretion and direction of said Board; but there may be no such use of any such moneys contrary to the rights of any holder of any of the bonds issued and sold by said Board or violate any contract to which said Board is a party."

All lands thus purchased shall be acquired at the lowest price obtainable, to be paid for in cash, and shall be a part of said Fund. Such lands heretofore or hereafter purchased and comprising a part of said Fund are hereby declared to be held for a governmental purpose, although the individual purchasers thereof shall be subject to taxation to the same extent and in the same manner as are purchasers of lands dedicated to the Permanent Free Public School Fund."

moneys of said Fund in conformance with the Constitutional provisions authorizing such bonds; but the moneys of said Fund which are not immediately committed to the payment of principal and interest on such bonds, the purchase of lands as herein provided, or the payment of expenses as herein provided may be invested in bonds or obligations of the United States until such funds are needed for such purposes.

"All moneys comprising a part of said Fund and not expended for the purposes herein provided shall be a part of said Fund until there are sufficient moneys therein to retire fully all of the bonds heretofore or hereafter issued and sold by said Board, at which time all such moneys remaining in said Fund, except such portion thereof as may be necessary to retire all such bonds which portion shall be set aside and retained in said Fund for the purpose of retiring all such bonds, shall be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund to be appropriated to such purposes as may be prescribed by law. All moneys becoming a part of said Fund thereafter shall likewise be deposited to the credit of the General Revenue Fund."

"Said Veterans' Land Fund, to the extent of the moneys attributable to any bonds heretofore issued and sold by said Board may be used by said Board, as is now or may hereafter be provided by law, for the purpose of paying the expenses of surveying, monumenting, road construction, legal fees, recordation fees, advertising and other like costs necessary or incidental to the purchase and sale, or resale, of any lands purchased with any of the moneys attributable to such additional bonds, such expenses to be added to the price of such lands when sold, or resold, by said Board; for the purpose of paying the expenses of issuing, selling, and delivering any such additional bonds; and for the purpose of meeting the expenses of paying the interest or principal due or to become due on any such additional bonds."

Beetles Strip Trees of Leaves Over County

By Sam Helmers, County Agent

If your Elm trees are defoliating and the leaves are skeletonized, you are under attack by the Elm Leaf Beetle.

Numerous elm trees in town and around rural homes are in pretty bad shape.

The heavy premature defoliation weakens the trees and makes them subject to attack by other bark beetles and borers as well as diseases.

Your trees should be sprayed with one of the following insecticides in 100 gallons of water:

2 pints of 57% emulsifiable Malathion or 1 quart of 25% emulsifiable DDT

To keep your trees from being attacked next year you should spray them in March so that the over-wintering beetles will be destroyed.

Malathion and DDT are poisonous to humans, fish, birds and wildlife and should be handled with care. Do not let the spray form under the trees or along street curbs.

Swinburn Acting Tulia Postmaster

A former Collingsworth County school man has been sworn in as acting postmaster at Tulia.

He is Vance Swinburn, who was superintendent of the Dodson schools for several years and county school superintendent in this county before moving to Tulia, where he was superintendent of schools for 17 years before retiring in June 1964.

Swinburn will serve as Tulia postmaster until an examination is called by Civil Service to fill the position.

CJC Sets Date to Pre-Register

The registrar's office of Clarendon Junior College has announced that pre-registration will be held during the period of Aug. 23-31. Office hours will be from 9 to 5, Monday thru Friday, and 9 to 12 on Saturday.

The purpose of pre-registration is to allow freshmen students who have indicated their intention to attend Clarendon College to register, to have ample time for consultation, and to complete their schedules prior to the time of regular registration.

Such an arrangement is an advantageous one, particularly for the student who often feels bewildered and frustrated with his first experience of enrolling in college, and who might find classes which he wishes to take already filled and consequently closed.

Mrs. Jean Moore, registrar, advises those students who are eligible for pre-registration to take advantage of this convenience offered by Clarendon College.

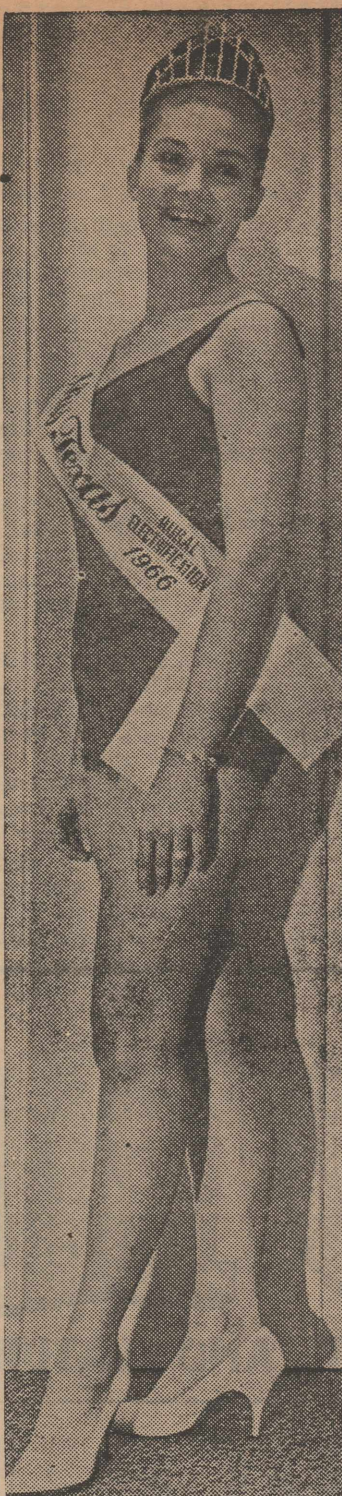

85 Pounder Bites Dust

AUSTIN.—Fishing reports to Texas Parks and Wildlife headquarters indicate that luck ran better at the 38 state parks with access to angling waters this spring, according to W. M. (Mark) Gosdin, assistant director for parks.

He said most of the visitors still prefer catching panfish for the table and that perch and crappie "cooperated."

One of the largest fish reported early in the season was an 84½ pound yellow cat that was caught off Lake Whitney State Park, said Gosdin, and was the largest fish ever caught in that north central Texas lake.

LOOKING AHEAD

by Dr. George S. Benson

LET SAM PAY THE RENT

One of the major directions our welfare state has taken in the past 30 years has been toward the provision of housing for its citizens.

It is as if this particular necessity of shelter were entirely beyond reach of both the poor and the not-so-poor.

One of the depression antidotes was government insured private mortgages and, later, direct loans to some citizens at favorable interest rates supposedly unavailable from private lenders.

All these government plans were meant to encourage construction activity, along with the low cost housing in urban centers and lush apartments in redevelopment projects.

Apparently some planners thought of government housing efforts as supplying living quarters for people. But it is perhaps this factor, wherever there is a subsidy effect in the federal involvement that has come to be least valuable to the national well-being.

Such efforts, closely resembling as they do the socialist pattern, apparently do lead us to the view that the state should eventually accept responsibility for all of our housing.

Having succeeded in putting a roof over the heads of a good many voters, the federal government now wants to do something for the renter who earns too much to live in public housing and not enough to afford "decent" private housing.

It is supposed that there may be some 4 million families in this category, for whom the Great Society wants to assume responsibility. Rent supplement (subsidy is a word they avoid) are expected to require $500 million for payments to landlords for the first four years in a 40-year program that some say could cost $13 billions.

The Housing Law as finally passed this year, will pay rental subsidy to only those eligible by reason of low income for public housing, but the idea of such subsidy for other voters in the middle-income range will certainly be the subject of renewed effort by the socializers in the next Congress, until it is approved.

If it were not such a sad commentary on the extent of socialism's penetration into the American pattern, and so expensive, it would read like a joke on human nature. The bill squeaked by the House after minor modifications, and passed the Senate. It has yet to become apparent to the American people just what it is all about.

As planned, families with incomes well past the national median can have you help pay their rent for them.

This is clearly another way to redistribute the wealth of the nation—by having taxpayers assume this kind of obligation.

The idea of the rent subsidy is that the Housing Administrator should pay an amount

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER
Thursday, August 19, 1965

equal to the difference between the free-market value of the house or apartment and one-fourth of the renter's income.

As introduced in the House, it might have made possible a family earning $250 a month (poverty level) renting a $100 apartment for only $62.50.

But the family might have also moved into a $200 apartment, still paying only $62.50.

In that state, the subsidy portion of the measure is supposed to be pegged to public housing. But this housing varies around the country, and is still likely to offer some hair-raising examples of welfare statism.

The minority report of the House committee pointed out that the whole idea would mean billions for "creating a national system of unequal opportunity in housing." Rep. Talcott of Calif., a member of the committee, believes the program could lead to subsidies for the rents of more than half the families in the U.S.

Few families would wish to buy homes and assume home ownership responsibilities if high class, subsidized apartments or houses are available to them for less than the very lowest mortgage payments.

Also the boon-doggling possibilities for builders and operators have not gone unnoticed.

This is the way subsidies go. And it is in the nature of a politically-inspired Great Society to endeavor to find something to offer everybody.

The sad fact that the subsidy people overlook is that this kind of thing is making spineless jelly-fish out of erstwhile tough, independent, hardworking Americans. Such plans take away the incentives to learn, earn, and save.

Why should a person strive to raise his own living standard through his own efforts (rewards for his industriousness or skills) if everything is already available on application to the government. Might as well go fishing.

Surely the Congress is not going to continually welcome regressions from freedom that make us dependent, palms-up pawns of the State.

6 Whoopers Boost Flock

AUSTIN. — Tidings that at least six young already have been hatched in the Whooping Cranes' nesting area in the far north, has just been spread along the Whooper Network comprising both official and unofficial observers.

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department reported that word of the new additions to the long-imperiled crane flock further strengthened hopes for the future of the giant white birds.

Forty-two whoopers, including ten 1964 young migrated northward this spring from the Texas coast wintering grounds. Until the surge of successful hatches last year, some wildlife restoration authorities had despaired of the cranes' ability at self-preservation in their natural habitat, and had considered plans for expansion of captive nesting projects.

Eight cranes now are in captivity, including one 1964 arrival rescued from the Great Slave Lake area after it blizzed a wing in learning to fly.

Here is the communique in part from the Canadian Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources, signed by W. E. Stevens, regional superintendent, and quoting N. S. Novakowski, service biologist at Fort Smith, Northwest Territory:

"He reports that five nesting pairs laid two eggs each this year. Four of the pairs hatched single chicks, while the fifth produced twins, making a total hatch of six young (so far) this year. This is the second good hatch and provides the basis for a little more optimism for the species. "Periodic aerial surveys (of Wood Buffalo National Park) will be continued throughout the summer."

The whoopers made a comparative early take-off this year from the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge near Austin, where their ancestral wintering ground.

The Patent Office kept weather data before the Weather Bureau was founded.

Plan Now on Replacements For Lost Cotton Acres

Faced with the possibility of further cotton acreage cut, Collingsworth farmers should begin even now to look for a money crop to cover those lost cotton acres.

There is increasing interest in guar this season, and several thousand acres of this crop are now growing over the county. This is the time, rather than next spring, to study its possibilities. Watch it, trace its growth through the remainder of the season, study its requirements and then decide if it's the crop for you.

Soybeans also have proved themselves adapted to the county and have made them a part of their farming programs. There may be other new crops that could take their place in our agricultural system.

Cattle prices are more favorable and there are indications that this industry will contribute more to our economy than in several seasons. A reconsideration of feedlots, on large or small scale, may be in order.

Loss of cotton acreage is an economical disturbing thought, but we will be better off if we plan our 1966 crop year now and not at planting time.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 2, 1965. SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 27 proposing an Amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas, amending Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding a new Section 48b, so as to create as an agency of the State of Texas the Teacher Retirement System of Texas, vesting the general administration and responsibility of said system in a state board of trustees to be known as the State Board of Trustees of the Teacher Retirement System of Texas, authorizing said Board to invest assets of said system in various obligations and subjects of investment, subject to certain restrictions stated therein and such other restrictions as may hereafter be provided by law; providing that such Amendment shall be self-enacting and shall not alter, amend or repeal Section 48a of Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas, as amended by Section 48b thereto.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Article III of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding Section 48b thereto which shall read as follows: "Section 48b. There is hereby created as an agency of the State of Texas the Teacher Retirement System of Texas, the rights of membership in which, the retirement privileges and benefits thereunder, and the management and operations of which shall be governed by the provisions herein contained and by present or hereafter enacted Acts of the Legislature not inconsistent herewith. TALK ABOUT ESCALATION

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where the War against Poll Taxes is about won, except for some minor mopping-up operations, so the voting rights of the poor are going to be preserved.

But my under mind neighbor says the Income Tax also had ought to be abolished, because it can take away a citizen's voting rights, too.

Like if you don't pay this tax, you are apt to get put in the penitentiary, and even the new Voting Rights Law don't crack down on backward states which take away a person's sacred voting rights when he is in stir.

News is that the Commission of Education is threatening to cut off federal funds to any college where there is a fraternity which turns down anybody wishing to join it.

My social stinker neighbor says this is opportunity barking at his door, so he is leaving at once for his favorite college, where he expects to learn and luxuriate at leisure for the rest of his life.

He figures he can draw down a rich subsidy from several of the flossier frats, just by agreeing to not make them take him in.

I see where the Medicare program won't help any old character who don't have $40 to trigger it off, plus money enough to pay his doctor or surgeon.

My aching neighbor also notes that this deal does not pay for hiring an anesthetist and many old folks may have to take their surgery awake.

Says he reckons, though, after a citizen has had his money removed by Form 1040 year after year without an anesthetic, he may have his pain resistance built up to where he can stand getting his appendix removed the same way.

Lots of people here lately have reported seeing flying saucers or other strange objects in the sky, but the experts keep telling us there are no such things.

My fed-fearing neighbor says he has got faith, and if Washington says there ain't no flying saucers, then there ain't, even if he sees one.

He says lots of other people believe all federal gospel, too, and it would spread happiness if some bureau big would assure us that the taxes we think we're paying are figments of our imagination.

I see where Congress is studying about a law to make people prettyify their premises even if they are broke, if some official takes a notion.

My beautyless neighbor says this beautification spree could get out of hand. We're apt to get our environment so beautiful it sub-beautiful people won't fit in it.

And then would likely come a law that if some bureaucrat decided a man's wife wasn't beautiful enough to match his house, he would have to have her remodeled or trade her off for a prettier one.

My fence-row philosopher neighbor says that the old-fashioned type Congress used to pass some laws and turn down some, but obviously our present Congress does nothing.

He says from down here it looks like the boys have got a bad case of passing fever, so that any piece of paper touched by LBJ gets passed into a Law. And he expects if the President accidentally dropped an old laundry ticket in the Capitol floor some morning, by noon it would be a law of the land.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER EIGHT ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 2, 1965. HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 87 proposing an Amendment to Section 1-a of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding to said Section as presently written, the following provisions: requiring automatic retirement of certain District and Appellate Judges at age seventy-five (75) or such earlier age not under seventy (70), as may be provided by law; creating a State Judicial Qualifications Commission and providing for its composition and the qualifications, methods of selection and terms of office of its members; defining the functions and procedures of said Commission, including the duty to investigate, and hold hearings in respect of, disability and misconduct of District and Appellate Judges and to make recommendations to the Supreme Court of Texas; and providing for the removal or removal of such Judges; empowering the Supreme Court of Texas, in its discretion, to retire such Judges for disability and to remove them for misconduct; upon recommendation of the Commission and consideration of the record made before it; defining misconduct for which said Judges may be so removed; providing that the proceedings of said Commission shall be confidential until filed in the Supreme Court with recommendation for retirement or removal; and providing that the removal provisions hereby established shall be alternative to and cumulative of those provided elsewhere in the Constitution.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Section 1-a of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended so that said Section shall hereafter read as follows:

"Section 1-a. (1) Subject to the further provisions of this Section, the Legislature shall provide for the retirement and compensation of Justices and Judges of the Appellate Courts and District and Criminal District Courts on account of length of service, age and disability, and for their reassignment to active duty where and when needed. The office of every such Justice and Judge shall become vacant when the incumbent reaches the age of seventy-five (75) years or such earlier age, not less than seventy (70) years, as the Legislature may prescribe; but, in the case of an incumbent whose term of office includes the effective date of this Amendment, this provision shall not prevent him from serving the remainder of said term nor be applicable to him before his period or periods of judicial service shall have reached a total of ten (10) years.

"(2) There is hereby created the State Judicial Qualifications Commission, to consist of nine (9) members, to wit: (i) two (2) Justices of the Supreme Court; (ii) two (2) District Judges; (iii) two (2) members of the State Bar, who have respectively practiced as such for over ten (10) consecutive years next preceding their selection; (iii) three (3) citizens, at least thirty (30) years of age, not licensed to practice law nor holding any salaried public office or employment; provided that no person shall be or remain a member of the Commission, who does not maintain physical residence within this State, or who resides in, or holds a judgeship within or for, the same Supreme Judicial District as another member of the Commission, or who shall have ceased to retain the qualifications above specified for his respective class of membership. Commissioners of classes (i) and (ii) above shall be chosen by the Supreme Court with advice and consent of the Senate, and those of class (iii) by appointment of the Governor with advice and consent of the Senate.

"(3) The regular term of office of Commissioners shall be six (6) years; but the initial members of each of classes (i), (ii) and (iii) shall respectively be chosen for terms of four (4) and six (6) years, and the initial members of class (iii) for respective terms of two (2), four (4) and six (6) years. Interim vacancies shall be filled in the same manner as vacancies due to expiration of a full term, but only for the unexpired portion of the term in question. Commissioners may succeed themselves in office only if having served less than three (3) consecutive years.

"(4) Commissioners shall receive no compensation for their services as such. The Legislature shall provide for the payment of the necessary expense for the operation of the Commission.

"(5) The Commission may hold its meetings, hearings and other proceedings at such times and places as it shall determine but shall meet at Austin at least once each year. It shall annually select one of its members as Chairman. A quorum shall consist of five (5) members. Proceedings shall be by majority vote of those present, except that recommendations for retirement or removal of Justices or Judges shall be by affirmative vote of at least five (5) members.

"(6) Any Justice or Judge within the scope of this Section 1-a may, subject to the other provisions hereof, be removed from office for willful or persistent conduct, which is clearly inconsistent with the proper performance of his said duties or casts public discredit upon the judiciary or administration of justice; or any such Justice or Judge may be involuntarily retired for disability seriously interfering with the performance of his duties, which is, or is likely to become, permanent in nature.

"(7) The Commission shall keep itself informed as fully as may be of circumstances relating to misconduct or disability of particular Justices or Judges, receive complaints or reports, formal or informal, from any source in this behalf and make such preliminary investigations as it may determine. Its orders for the attendance or testimony of witnesses or for the production of documents at any hearing or investigation shall be enforceable by contempt proceedings in the District Court.

"(8) The Commission may, after such investigation as it deems necessary, order a hearing to be held before it concerning the removal or retirement of a Justice or Judge, or it may in its discretion request the Supreme Court to appoint an active or retired District Judge or Justice of a Court of Civil Appeals as a Master to hear and take evidence in any such matter, and to report thereon to the Commission. If, after hearing, or after considering the record and report of a Master, the Commission finds good cause therefore, it shall recommend to the Supreme Court the removal or retirement, as the case may be, of the Justice or Judge in question and shall thereupon file with the Clerk of the Supreme Court the entire record before the Commission.

"(9) The Supreme Court shall review the record of the proceedings on the law and facts and in its discretion may, for good cause shown, permit the introduction of additional evidence and shall order removal or retirement, as it finds just and proper, or wholly reject the recommendation. Upon an order for involuntary retirement for disability or an order for removal, the office in question shall become vacant. The rights of an incumbent so retired to retirement benefits shall be the same as if his retirement had been voluntary.

"(10) All papers filed with and proceedings before the Commission shall be confidential, and the filing of papers with, and the giving of testimony before, the Commission, Master, or the Supreme Court, shall be privileged; provided that upon being filed in the Supreme Court the record loses its confidential character.

"(11) The Supreme Court shall by rule provide for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court. Such rule shall afford to any judge against whom a proceeding is instituted to cause his retirement due process of law for the procedure before the Commission, Masters and the Supreme Court in the same manner that any person whose property rights are in jeopardy in an adjudicatory proceeding is entitled to due process of law, regardless of whether or not the interest of the judge in remaining in active status is considered to be a right or a privilege. Due process shall include the right to notice, counsel, hearing, confrontation of his accusers, and all such other incidents of due process as are ordinarily available in proceedings whether or not a misdemeanor is charged, upon proof of which a penalty may be imposed.

"(12) No Justice or Judge shall sit as a member of the Commission or Supreme Court in any proceeding involving his own retirement or removal.

"(13) This Section 1-a is alternative to, and cumulative of, the methods of removal of Justices and Judges provided elsewhere in this Constitution.

Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of the State at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1965, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

"FOR the Constitutional Amendment providing for the automatic retirement of District and Appellate Judges for old age, creating the State Judicial Qualifications Commission, defining its functions; and empowering the Supreme Court, upon recommendation of said Commission, to remove District and Appellate Judges for misconduct and to retire such judges in cases of disability."

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment providing for the automatic retirement of District and Appellate Judges for old age, creating the State Judicial Qualifications Commission, defining its functions; and empowering the Supreme Court, upon recommendation of said Commission, to remove District and Appellate Judges for misconduct and to retire such judges in cases of disability."

Post Office Enters New Efficiency Plan

Postmaster L. B. Bratten announced this week that all Wellington post office employees will be asked to take part in the new Postal Efficiency Plan announced Wednesday, July 22 by Postmaster General John A. Gronouski.

"The Postal Efficiency Plan includes comprehensive programs for improving postal service and reducing costs," Bratten said. "It is our way of helping President Johnson fulfill his pledge to provide more effective and efficient government services."

In Washington, Postmaster General Gronouski termed the plan's twin objectives of economy and service betterment "a matter of highest priority" and called for total involvement of all employees through the post office suggestion program.

Semi-annual reports will be made to the President, Gronouski said, and realized savings will be reverted to the Treasury or applied to improving postal service.

A local committee will be organized to fulfill the two purposes of the plan:

1. Reduce costs.
2. Improve service.

Ideas generated by individual employees will be taken up by the committee. Accepted ideas will be passed on to Washington for possible application on a national level. Employees whose ideas are adopted nationwide will be given national awards. The postmaster general will personally oversee the programs.

Postmaster Bratten will be

Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Wells

This is more of a travel log than a column for it concerns our week in Austin, Houston and Mineral Wells. The excuse for going was a checkup at the M. D. Anderson Hospital in Houston; but we did considerable more than that.

Our first stop was Austin where we were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Berger who recently moved to Austin from Hondo. He is the newest member of the Texas Water Commission which is a very important committee for Collingsworth County at this time and probably will be for years to come. Mr. Berger still owns the papers at Hondo and Seguin; but is devoting his full time to his duties as a member of the commission.

We spent the day touring the campus of The University of Texas in company with the Berger children. Although they live in Austin the campus was as new to them as it was to our son. One of our trips was to the top of the tower of the main building. This is the tower where many of the famous libraries belonging to The University are stored, and it is also the one that caught on fire three days after we were there. As I noticed the news pictures showing the smoke billowing out of the structure eight stories below the observation tower I felt very comfortable being on the ground.

We ate at the Commons, which is a cafeteria located in the Student Union Building. The food is excellent and considering the times is quite moderate in price. After lunch we visited several other buildings and wound up at the Journalism Building, where we found Dr. Dewitt Reddick, head of the Journalism School the only faculty member present. He had completed a seminar for teachers of Journalism in high school that morning, and teachers from such places as California, Pennsylvania, etc. kept coming by or calling to tell him goodbye. Dr. Reddick's book on high school journalism is considered to be one of the best in the nation and he has brought the School of Journalism along until it is now considered among the best three or four in the United States. The School which was very good in the early twenties sank to a low estate during the regime of Gov. Jim Ferguson and had to be hidden away in the School of Business Administration. Ferguson vetoed each and every appropriation for the School of Journalism as long as he was governor.

We ate breakfast with Sen. and Mrs. Clint Small and Henry did justice to the sumptuous repast by taking three helpings of the bacon, sausage and eggs not to mention toast, jelly and milk. Mrs. Small was quite pleased for she is accustomed to cooking for growing boys. One of her grandsons, Ed. Small, 6-4, 220 pounds, is on the Longhorn football team. The Smalls were quite interested in hearing the news of Wellington, and he told me that he intended to remodel the West Texas Utilities building in the near future which will make three that will have a new look next year.

The people of Austin, particularly those connected with the University, were still in a state of shock over the strangulation murder of two co-eds. They were appalled at the brutal and gruesome murders and rape of one of the girls by a young man who had lived in a swank apartment on Manor Road. Although Cross had confessed, the police were reluctant to give information to the press due to a peculiar ruling of the courts regarding the rights of those accused of a crime. It begins to look like the scales of justice are being tipped more and more in favor of the criminal and the venal much to the harm and danger of the innocent.

From Austin we drove over the lovely coastal plain crossing the Colorado River five or six times and the Brazos once before entering Texas' largest and fastest growing city. We have a route picked out from Austin that takes us right through the goose capital of the world through Rosenberg right by the Shamrock-Hilton to the vicinity of the Texas Medical Center without getting into more than three or four minutes of minor Houston traffic.

Sunday morning we attended services at St. Paul's

Methodist Church, a beautiful old church with Gothic type stained windows, that is located on main street near the Medical Center, Herman Park and Rice University. We had intended to go to the First Methodist downtown, but two of the members of our family procrastinated so we were five minutes late when we approached St. Paul's so we stopped and went to church there. The pastor was on vacation so the sermon was by the head of the Religious Institute of the Texas Medical Center, a former pastor of St. Paul's.

Sunday afternoon we went by the M. D. Anderson Hospital to visit Lee O'Neil who was scheduled for an operation the next morning. He came through it in excellent shape and was in real good humor when we left Thursday. In all probability he will be back home in Lubbock next week. We also called Mrs. Fred Bourland but failed to contact her at her apartment at the Park Towers; but we learned that her treatments were proceeding satisfactorily. She will be home the latter part of this week.

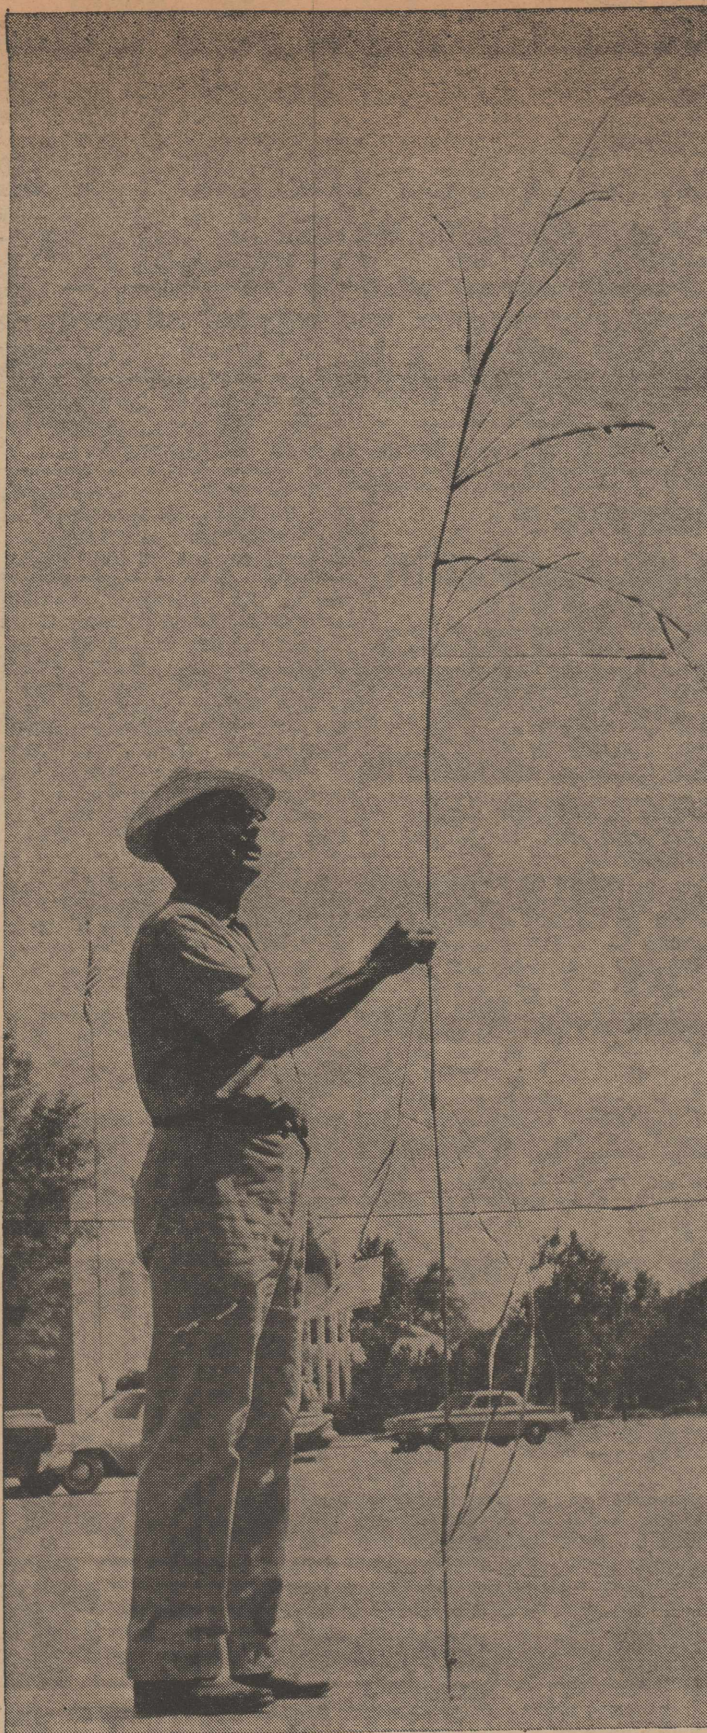

Monday night we went to the Dome to see Robin Roberas make his debut with the Astros against his old teammates, the Philadelphia Phillies, who cast him off mainly because he was too good a guy to throw the bean ball. As a result too many batters took a toe hold and knocked a home run. He is still the winningest right handed pitcher in baseball today and the night we saw him pitch he became the Robin of old holding Philadelphia to four hits and getting two walks and a two bagger himself while driving in two runs and making two himself in the 8 to 0 shutout of his old buddies. We had good box seats and Robin warmed up directly below us. He started warming up twenty minutes ahead of game time and as I watched the ease of his movements and the increasing speed of the ball I began to have the feeling that something might be in the offing for the Phillies.

We went early enough to be able to eat at the Astrodome. The food was good and not although high priced as is everything else connected with this phantasmagoria that Judge Roy Hofheinz has created on the rice fields that were once the outskirts of Houston. I had son of a gun, Henry ate barbecued chicken and Louise had shrimp creole and all were good including the side dishes. A visit to the Dome is an experience regardless of what kind of a game is being played in the 72 degree and colder weather. Judge Hofheinz is the big shot now; but now that he has broken with Mr. Smith who owns much of the land around the Dome and has yet to get a major professional football team in the Dome, I can't help remembering the fabulous Glen McCarthy and the Shamrock Hotel. McCarthy does not run it anymore.

Our last evening meal in Houston was with the Marshall Wells. He had recently returned from a two weeks all expense paid vacation in Paris with his lovely daughter Marsha who will enter the University of Texas this fall. Marshall was connected with the U.S. Embassy for years and his old friends looked him up and he says he did not buy a single meal in all the time they were in Paris. Marsha has had four years of French in high school and since both of her parents speak the language fluently the lovely young girl had no trouble conversing with the young men of her age. I received the impression that she spoke French too perfectly with a young Belgian who spoke no American at all to suit her discriminating father. Anyway, he got her back to the U.S. safe and single.

We came back home by a slightly different route from the shortest. We bypassed Austin to the south going directly to Marble Falls through some beautiful country along the Perdenales in the Lake Travis region and not too far from the LBJ ranch. From Marble Falls we drove to Lampasas and directly north to Mineral Wells, where we spent the night in the old Baker Hotel which the people of that city have renovated and opened. The menu is the same and is as good as in the old days and we found it a most pleasant place to stop.

We returned home to find the fields green; but also to find a letter from the IRS saying that the computer machines said we had not paid the government for the money we withheld from the employees' salary up to June 30. Our records as well as

SOME HOEING!

Former County Man Buried Here Wednesday

Burial services were conducted here Wednesday, Aug. 18 for a Plainview man who spent his boyhood here, John Franklin Wood, 39. He was manager of Bryan's College Food Store.

Funeral services at Plainview were conducted at 10 a. m. Wednesday at the College Heights Baptist Church with the Rev. Luther Bradley of Childress officiating.

He was born at Frederick, Okla., and was the son-in-law of Mrs. R. L. Blackshear. He had not lived here since World War II.

Survivors include his wife, Jeri; a son and daughter, Johnny and Toni, of Plainview; his mother, Mrs. Georgia Wood of Noble, Okla.; and nine brothers and sisters: Mrs. H. C. Montgomery of Amarillo, Mrs. Tom Montgomery of Norman, Mrs. Willie Bandy of Indianola, Okla., Mrs. Edward Roland of Banning, Calif., Horton Wood of Chattanooga, Okla., Jim Wood of Ulysses, Kan., and Paul Wood of Denton.

the microfilm at the bank showed he had sent this money in on July 8 and it had been cashed on July 27 with the appropriate numbers from the IRS. We got it straightened out but that does not mean that it is straightened out in that realm of political appointees who do not even know how to feed the right numbers into a machine. It just goes to show that you can't have a perfect vacation even if you think you have had one at the very outskirts of your home city.

I told Judge Howard Riggs, the tax man, about this incident and he said it was nothing. He told me about a computing machine in Alabama that went haywire and wrote 5,000 (five thousand) refund checks before they discovered what it was doing, and they were mailed back to the taxpayers. But instead of writing the checks for the amount of the tax or the difference due, the machine was writing the checks for the equivalent of the persons' earnings for the past year, according to Judge Riggs. Now that is the type of machine with which I need to become acquainted.

"This is going to be one of the fastest, most thrilling rodeos produced in the eastern Panhandle and Western Oklahoma area this summer," declared Leach.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Post members took over the rebuilding of the rodeo arena last year and completed the fences, judges' stand and one side of the bleachers in time for the first Youth Rodeo, which they set up as an annual event.

In sponsoring the three-day amateur rodeo this year, VFW members point out that they are setting it up on a long-range program and that it, also, will be an annual affair.

Their aim is to make it one of the top rodeos in the Panhandle, drawing some of the leading amateur performers who make the summer rodeo circuit.
