Truman To Submit Military Aid Plan To Solons Monday

Heavy Rains Soak Three Texas Cities

THREATENING thunderclouds hung over Lubbock and the South Plains throughout Saturday, but it was three downstate points that received the rain—in near flood proportions.

Heavy downpours flooded streets in Greenville, Gladewater, and Kilgore Saturday, sending the Sabine river out of its banks, the Associated Press said.

However, there was no immediate flood threat to the cities.

Rain Light In Area

Meanwhile, only scattered showers fell over the South Plains despite threatening conditions of heavier downpours throughout most of the day.

The mercury soared to 91 degrees at the Weather bureau station north of Lubbock Saturday afternoon despite a brief sprinkle earlier. The humidity remained high.

The Weatherman said more hot weather was in prospect today and Monday, with a forecast of temperatures in the mid-nineties.

Some Damage Caused

Showers were reported over portions of Floyd county Saturday, with light rains at South Plains, Dougherty and at the Stringer ranch in the west part of the county. Light falls were reported at Plainview, west of Matador, Post, near Dickens, sprinkles at Tahoka, Muleshoe, Littlefield, Seagraves, Anton and Morton. Reports of hail damage to crops at Goodman, 25 miles northwest of Morton, Friday night were received.

Near cloudbursts struck the three downstate points, causing some damage, pouring into business houses in Greenville drowning out cars and bringing rivers up.

The state picture as reported by the Associated Press showed:

At Gladewater, radio station KSIJ was knocked off the air for almost 10 hours. About one-fourth of the telephones were out of order, but most of them had been repaired late Saturday.

At Greenville almost eight inches of rain overflowed storm sewers and water backed up in many downtown buildings, almost a foot in some. Hundreds of automobiles were drowned out.

Sabine River Rose Rapidly

The Sabine river at Gladewater rose rapidly. At 6 p.m. it had reached 20.83 feet and was still rising. Flood stage there is 26 feet. The Lake Charles, La., Weather bureau predicted the Sabine would crest Monday morning at 32 feet in Gladewater.

The rise was expected to reach the business and residential sections of the town. Oil men said the rise would force many oil

Officers Renew Efforts To Curb Offenses

Losses In Amarillo Crime Wave Mount

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

AMARILLO, July 23. — Amarillo and Potter county law enforcement officers renewed efforts Saturday to bring the current Amarillo crime wave into check and to erase the talk of "Little Chicago" from the city's name.

Police Chief Sid Harper called for co-operation from the public and Sheriff Paul Gaither put his deputies on 16-hour shifts and added four night patrol cars after a $6,000 safe-blowing job in a grocery store early Saturday morning.

The robbery was the fourth in a series of grocery store crimes within a month, and followed a Thursday night hijacking of a service station. Total loot from the grocery stores has been estimated at $19,000.

Harper and Gaither both issued "crack down" orders to their men Saturday night and said every effort will be made to halt the crime wave.

Harper said: "Public apathy and disinterest is partly to blame for this crime wave."

He explained that the public has not been entirely co-operative with officers in aiding some investigations and said, "If law enforcement is desired it has to be backed up and paid for."

Claims More Men Needed

Harper said he had only 52 uniformed patrolmen, working in three shifts. Total strength of the police department, including detectives and office workers, is about 100 persons.

"We can cover one section of Amarillo well, only if we neglect another," Harper said. "All criminals have to do is pick the place and the time."

Harper, and Amarillo newspapers, have been campaigning for an increased police department budget. The new department budget will be up for discussion in October.

In a front-page column this week, The Amarillo Daily News pointed out that the city is fast becoming known as "Little Chicago." Charging that "the main trouble is public apathy," the newspaper said the police "are doing the best they can with what they have."

Police Push "Roundup'

Police have been conducting an intensive "roundup" campaign for the past 10 days. The city jail, built to accommodate 30 guests, carried 30 to 50 prisoners nightly before the latest efforts to check crime. Now, scarcely a night passes without 100 in jail.

Sheriff Gaither got into the act Saturday by issuing the new orders on work hours. Gaither, with 10 working deputies, had eight on the day side and two at night. Now, he has eight working at night, with seven deputies on the 16-hour duty status.

(Law enforcement agencies in Lubbock the past week said that they were taking precautions to see that none of the suspects forced out of Amarillo by the

$200,000 Civil War Treasure Reported Found In Arkansas

(By The Associated Press)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., July 23.—Arkansas officials were notified today that a $200,000 Civil War treasure has been found in the state.

The secretary of state's office received a letter from Miss Helen M. Wilcox, Philadelphia attorney, saying:

"I am interested in removing from Arkansas a cache of gold coins and would appreciate your directing this letter to someone who could give me the state's laws on removing this gold.

Asks Information

"It is estimated these coins are worth approximately $200,000 and were buried there sometime during the Civil war."

The letter was turned over to Attorney General Ike Murry, who wrote Miss Wilcox for more information which would enable him to form an opinion.

Murry didn't mention to Miss Wilcox that the 1949 legislature passed a law which gives the state any personal property abandoned for seven years or more.

The attorney general explained to a reporter, however, that a living relative of the person who buried any such treasure could claim it.

Audit Of Hobbs City Books Being Made; Ordered By Comptroller

HOBBS, N. M., July 23. (INS)—An audit of the Hobbs city books is now under way on orders of the state comptroller, J. D. Hannah.

Hannah ordered the audit when he suspended Mayor J. Paul Heard recently.

Later the state comptroller reinstated Heard, but did not call off the audit, which is being conducted by D. M. Sproul and Joe Bell, Clovis certified public accountants.

Repeal Of Excise Levies Is Urged

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—All-out repeal of wartime excise taxes at this session of Congress was urged today by Senator George (D-Ga). He said it would stimulate business and employment.

George, ranking Senate tax expert as chairman of its Finance committee, told reporters that the special wartime taxes could be wiped out at once if President Truman and Congress cooperate.

He referred to taxes now collected on sales of furs, railroad and airline tickets, most jewelry, and a long list of other items.

Sees Repeal As Boost

He said his repeal proposal would not cover the permanent federal excise taxes on such products as liquor, cigarettes and tobacco.

George said removal of the wartime levies would mean a loss of about $1,500,000,000 in present government revenues.

But the Senate leader said the Damage Estimated At $100,000 Caused By Blaze At Quanah

QUANAH, Texas, July 23 (AP)—A fire which swept through a large downtown business building destroying three separate businesses was brought under control late tonight.

Fred Haynes, manager of the Quanah hotel, said the flames wiped out the Lion Auto store, the Texan Shoe shop and the Marrow and Conn cotton office. All three were in the two-story building.

Haynes said he understood the fire started in the auto store when a battery machine exploded.

Haynes said a hardware store adjoining the two-story structure might be damaged to a small extent. A two-hour fight by the Quanah and Chillicothe fire departments kept the flames from spreading.

Sheriff M. C. Owen of Hardeman county estimated the damage would total "at least $100,000."

Atomic Data Curbs Urged

By JACK BELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 23 — Senator Knowland (R-Calif) threatened today a Senate fight to tie President Truman's hands against giving atomic bomb data to Britain or any other nation.

Knowland, member of the Senate-House Atomic committee, said in a statement he believes that under the 1946 atomic energy act "the executive branch of this government and the Atomic Energy commission have no legal or moral right to disclose information regarding our atomic weapons to any other nation without the approval of the Congress of the United States."

He thus brought into the open the issue members of Congress said was raised at a hush-hush Blair House conference of 16 top government officials with President Truman recently.

Solon Has Backing

Whether the President, by his own action alone, could give Great Britain the final know-how on the making of atomic weapons is the question said to have caused explosive argument at the conference.

Indications were that Knowland had the sympathy, if not open backing of most Republicans of the Senate-House committee as well as some of the Democrats.

Knowland's statement said:

"Until the approval of Congress has been obtained or unless suitable world wide controls, approved by Congress, can be instituted as envisioned by the Baruch proposals for international atomic safeguards, I shall vigorously oppose, as a member of the joint committee and on the floor of the Senate, any effort to transmit such atomic weapon information to any other nation on the face of the earth.

Can't Be Recalled

Once the information is imparted it can never be regained. I believe this issue is of great magnitude to the future of our republic. Opposition to revealing weapon information without congressional approval will, in my opinion, be intense."

Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) declined comment. There were signs that he shares Knowland's view.

The act bars export of fissionable materials and of atomic weapons. It says no information on

Senate Leaders Accept Aid Cut

WASHINGTON, July 23 (AP)—Most Senate leaders accepted without much protest today a slash of more than a half billion dollars in foreign aid spending during the next year.

But they promised a battle royal on the Senate floor next week against a long string of what they called "crippling amendments" to the multi-billion dollar European recovery program.

Amendments Scored

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Foreign Relations committee was the latest to back up the economy move but warned against rigid restrictions on ECA and its administrator Paul Hoffman.

"I intend to support the 10 per cent cut in funds for this year voted by the Appropriations committee which has given this careful consideration," Connally told a reporter. "In the main I do not want to cripple or hamper Mr. Hoffman by amendments. I think he is doing a fine job."

Connally thus lined up with his Republican teammate on foreign affairs, Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich), in accepting the bulk of a cutback of about $525,000,000 in foreign aid spending for the fiscal year that started July 1.

Silence Shrouds Okinawa After Island Battered By Typhoon

TOKYO, Sunday, July 24 (AP)—A U. S. Air Force plane flew over the stormy Pacific today in an effort to penetrate the veil of silence shrouding Okinawa since a typhoon hit the island yesterday with 126-mile-an-hour winds.

There has been no communications with the American island base since 1 p. m. yesterday. An hour earlier a weather observation plane had dived into the storm center and reported it directly over the island. It said the center, or "eye," was 40 miles in diameter.

The observers said it was dead calm inside the "eye" but they could see heavy seas lashing the island where the U. S. 20th Air Force has hundreds of planes and thousands of men and their families.

Despite the absence of word from Okinawa, Far East Air Force headquarters here expressed little cause for alarm.

Mystery Witness Tells Investigating Group UN Secretariat Is Terrorized By Communist Agents

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 23. — A mystery witness has told Congress the United Nations secretariat under Trygve Lie is terrorized by Communist agents who force employes to become their tools.

A Senate Judiciary subcommittee made public today the testimony of "Witness No. 8," not otherwise identified. His story was given secretly in broken English.

The witness proposed that the senators seek the ouster of Lie, Norwegian born secretary-general of UN, and urge appointment of a "capable" successor.

At Lake Success, N. Y., acting Secretary General Byron Price described the witness' testimony as "fantastically untrue."

"This is the nuttiest story I have heard yet," Price said in an official statement issued at UN headquarters. He added:

"I am in a position to know that the charges relating to the policies of the United Nations are fantastically untrue.

"I am sure that no fair-minded person will attach significance to the statement of a mysterious, so-called 'official' who attempts wholesale character assassination of his colleagues but refuses to give his name."

Communist pressure comes from "the top," said No. 8. He charged that high United Nations officials from democratic countries fail to resist it.

He said the Reds seek to use the secretariat and UN service for Soviet purposes. Lie, at Lake Success, said through an assistant the testimony was "fantastic."

Lewis' Work Order Studied

By PHILLIPS J. PECK
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 23—John L. Lewis' decree of a three-day work week in the nation's soft coal mines is being studied tonight by the Justice department for possible anti-trust law violations.

This was disclosed on the eve of an investigation by a Senate Banking subcommittee into the United Mine Workers president's action.

An administration legal expert said the Justice department is "watching" the situation but knows of no action it can take in the case at this time.

Legal Questions Arise

Unions are exempt from the anti-trust statutes but under certain circumstances officers of unions would be liable to prosecution.

The official said union leaders could be held guilty of violating the anti-trust laws if it is proved that action taken by them is not for the benefit of the union and its members.

He said also that a court would have to determine the question of how far a union could go in restraint of trade even for union benefit.

Lewis ordered the three-day work week into effect last June 30 to stabilize the bituminous industry during a period of overproduction, dwindling markets and falling prices. It may continue for four or five months.

The administration official said he could not even "guess," if the rationing of work continues indefinitely, whether the Justice department will find any reason to act in the case.

Another government attorney said the department would have to prove some conspiracy between Lewis and the operators. He added that this would be "very difficult."

The UMW chief asked the industry to agree to the program but the mine owners refused for fear of federal anti-trust action. They condemned the program and will protest the UMW's action before the senate committee Monday.

A group headed by Sen. Robertson (D-Va) is inquiring into the three-day mine work week as part of its probe of the power exercised by industry-wide labor organizations.

Sections Of Albuquerque Flooded By Heavy Downpour

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., July 23 (INS)—The northeast sector of Albuquerque was wringing itself out today after a flash flood turned streets into canals last night.

City workers were forced to cut a ditch across North Second street to drain off the flood. Streets were eroded by the water flow, and cellars of houses in the area were flooded.

Officials said damage was generally light.

Heavy Costs To Area Seen If Move Okayed

Meeting Slated On Westchester Plan

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

TWO COSTS and risks which residents of the "Westchester" area must assume if they vote next Saturday to incorporate as a municipality were cited yesterday as plans were completed for a mass meeting for them in the chamber of commerce at 5 p. m. Monday.

As the arrangements were made, spokesmen both for Westchester and the chamber of commerce emphasized that all residents of the area are invited to attend.

Personal letters of invitation to be present were mailed to all residents the chamber of commerce knew about. But some there undoubtedly were overlooked.

Hope To Reach Agreement

H. D. Grant, president of the chamber of commerce, and W. G. McMillan, one of the leaders in the Westchester movement, joined Saturday in assuring these people they have a cordial invitation to attend.

Attendance, however, will be limited to residents of that area, city officials and members of the chamber of commerce sponsoring the meeting. The space available in the chamber of commerce, Texas avenue and Ninth street, will not accommodate a larger meeting, Grant explained.

Chamber officials are hopeful the meeting will result in cancelling the special election next Saturday on the proposal to incorporate this large area, which virtually adjoins the city limits on West Nineteenth street.

Would Face Problems

Leaders in the incorporation movement have said they are advocating the creating the adjoining municipality as a "protection" against annexation to Lubbock and the payment of city taxes "until we are assured of some return for our money."

Information was produced Saturday, however, that if they should incorporate, they either will have to spend substantial sums on themselves or accept serious risks and responsibilities of several kinds.

For example, if they incorporate, they will have to assume responsibility for the construction

Court In Galveston Gets 'Bang' Out Of This Man's Defense

(By The Associated Press)

GALVESTON, July 23—A Galveston negro proved his point in corporation court today but he had to shoot himself to do it.

William T. Maule, was charged by Detective Sanders Davis with rudely displaying a pistol on the street. Maule pleaded not guilty and said the small black automatic was harmless. To prove his point, Maule pointed it at his temple and pulled the trigger.

The loud report brought chuckles from the courtroom and Judge Edward A. Jahn dismissed the charge.

It was a cap pistol.

Four Injured In Car-Truck Crash

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

MATADOR, July 24. (Sunday)—Four persons were under treatment in Matador clinic at 1 a. m. this morning for what was believed to be serious injuries sustained in an accident on Highway 82 one mile east of Dickens shortly before 11 p. m. Saturday.

Injured are C. C. Smalley of Dickens, side injuries and possible fractured ribs; his wife, Edna, lacerations about the face and neck; and their two children, Gregory, 8, broken nose and possible fractured leg; and Thomas, 6, bruises and shock.

The accident occurred when the car Smalley was driving plowed into a trailer truck staled about midway from the bottom of the hill. Another car had stopped at the scene.

A man identified as John Barker of Seymour, driver of the other car, said he almost ran into the truck, but managed to stop in time, and had got out to see what was

Violent Quake Kills Scores In Turkey

ISTANBUL, Turkey, July 23 (AP)—Scores of persons were reported killed today in a violent earthquake in the vicinity of Izmir, Turkey's second largest port on the Aegean sea.

The quake started at 5.08 p. m. (9:08 a. m. CST) and lasted five seconds. Karaburun, at the entrance of an estuary leading to Izmir, was reported to have been the worst striken community in the area. Telephone lines and other communications between Izmir and Karaburun were disrupted, preventing an accurate check on casualties.

More than 100 houses were reported razed at Karaburun, which has a population of 7,000.

Congress Split Over Proposal

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 23—President Truman will ask Congress Monday for a highly flexible program of arms aid abroad —including a $45,000,000 fund for emergency use, and $155,000,000 to stimulate armament production in Europe.

The President's proposals, totaling $1,450,000,000 for countries on the cold war front all over the world will cover several kinds of aid it was learned today.

European partners in the Atlantic security treaty would get the bulk of it to strengthen them against Red aggression.

Of the total, $938,450,000 would go to North Atlantic pact countries for arms plus technical training and assistance. The figure also includes the cost of delivery of the goods. Another $155,000,000 would go for stimulation of arms production.

Other Nations To Get Aid

Another $300,580,000 in arms, training in how to use them and delivery costs would be earmarked for countries outside the treaty.

The emergency fund would get $45,000,000 and administrative expenses would require approximately $11,000,000.

About 40 per cent of the weapons which would be supplied are now in surplus or reserve stocks of the armed forces. They would be repaid for weapons which they shipped abroad.

It was reliably reported that the arms bill will specifically state that provisions of the atomic energy act which forbid shipment of atomic explosives abroad are not to be changed by passage of the arms legislation.

Stop-Gap Plan Urged

Mr. Truman hopes to win Senate and House approval for a program which would not nail him down now to deliver to any particular country during the next 12 months an exact amount of war material. In that way, administration officials believe, the President can meet more effectively conditions which are not possible now to forecast. It is proposed he be allowed to have the arms dollars around within reasonable limits.

Meanwhile, Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) called for submission only of a stop-gap foreign arms

Woman Is Fined In Liquor Case

A Lubbock woman was charged with liquor law violation and six men were charged with vagrancy following a Saturday afternoon raid by officers of the Liquor Control board and city police at the rear of 112 N.-Ave. O.

The woman, who gave her name as Virginia Santabanez, 23, entered a plea of guilty to the charge and her fine was set at $250 by County Judge Walter Davies. She remained in the county jail after failing to pay the fine.

Officers said they found 18½ cases of beer, some iced down in a tub, and a case of wine.

Five Plead Guilty

Five of the six men found about the premises entered pleas of guilty to vagrancy charges. Two were released after paying $15 fines and the others remained in the city jail.

A 20-year-old Ada, Okla., man, arrested by police here on charges of vagrancy Saturday, was being questioned by city detectives and Dawson county authorities for possible connection with the hijacking of a Lamesa service station attendant May 21.

The suspect has admitted knowing three other Ada men, all under charges of armed robbery as a result of the hijacking, who are being held in Lubbock county jail pending trial after twice escaping from the county jail at Lamesa.

COMPROMISE VIEWS TO BE AIRED

Rayburn, State Officials Slate New Tidelands Meeting Monday

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 23—A new conference to begin Monday between state officials and Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) may settle the controversial oil-rich tidelands ownership issue.

Rayburn said today he thinks the meeting will be the final one on the issue and that some decision should be reached within a day or two.

Representatives of the three states with valuable off-shore oil deposits — Texas, Louisiana and California—will give their views on compromise legislation suggested by Rayburn in earlier talks.

Should efforts of the speaker to settle the issue fail, it is considered likely Congress will not pass any tidelands legislation this session.

The dispute then might go before the U. S. Supreme court in suits the government says it will file against Texas and Louisiana.

The high tribunal already has decided the government has paramount rights over submerged lands off California.

Winston Churchill Calls On Great Britain To Regain Economic Independence By Earning Own Livelihood

(By The Associated Press)

WOLVERHAMPTON, Eng., July 23 — Winston Churchill said today the Conservative party's main aim is to restore the greatness of Britain.

"The first essential step is to regain our economic independence by earning our own livelihood," he said.

Socialism and Communism, he charged, differ only in methods.

The wartime prime minister, speaking before 40,000 in the soccer arena, said the Labor (Socialist) government had steered Britain near a ruin which would "carry many other nations with us into chaos and Communism."

"Never before in the history of human government has such great havoc been wrought by such small men," Churchill charged.

The Conservative statesman denounced "Socialist spendthrifts and muddlers" in a speech bidding for public support in the parliamentary election due before the Labor government's five-year term ends in mid-1950.

"We mean to set the people free, so far as possible and as soon as possible, from wrong-headed planning and from official interfernce with our daily life and work," he said.

"Our Tory (Conservative) faith is that the gifts and genius of our men and women, if released, will not be found unequal to the first task and duty of every community, namely to earn its daily bread."

The crowd cried "good old Winnie" as he entered the stadium. He waved his high-crowned derby and, with his inevitable cigar jutting from his lips, gave the V-for-victory sign.

ECONOMIC BLOCKADE BLAMED

Reds Suffer Setback In Plans For Industrialization Of China

By FRED HAMPSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

SHANGHAI, July 23.—Speeches by two top Chinese Communists within the last couple of weeks indicate the Red timetable for industrializing China has been set back possibly for years.

The delay, which also means postponement of the effort to bring socialism to China—since it was upon the industrial structure that socialism was to grow—is being blamed on the western economic blockade.

It all seems to add up to the fact that the Reds cannot make their conquered cities function.

These cities were to have been the cores from which the industrializing process would spread; but the cities are a mess. The paper plans which called for vast transformations are being altered.

The Nationalist blockade of the Communist coast, drouth, floods, famine and an uncontrollable labor situation, are immediate problems.

These and other developments seem to have convinced the Reds that they can expect little or no aid from the West; and Russia does not have what they need.

Chou En-Lai, China's No. 2 political Communist, told the Sino-Soviet Friendship association in Peiping:

"United States imperialism and Kuomintang (Nationalist) reactionaries are scheming to blockade China economically. Chinese must be mentally prepared for a blockade of eight to ten years."

(As a matter of fact, the United States and other western powers have refused to recognize the Nationalist blockade of Red China, but western businessmen have found that the chances for profitable commerce with the Reds are too small to justify the risks.)

Chou compared China to Russia after the 1917 revolution, when the western powers limited their economic traffic with the Soviets.

All this is in contrast with statements of Red leaders as recently as two months ago. (That was when they took Shanghai and were bubbling over with optimism.)

Then they said China must take help wherever she could get it, because western aid was essential to industrialization. Now, recent events seem to have convinced the Reds that they cannot depend on western assistance.

This may mean that they feel they have alienated the West through failure to keep trade open and through their propaganda, and with such episodes as the Olive case. (U.S. Vice Consul William M. Olive was arrested in a minor traffic case in Shanghai July 6, and held for three days incommunicado. The Reds announced they had "educated" him in the period, but the U.S. consul general said they had brutally beaten him.)

Whatever the reasons, the Reds seem to have given up hope of important aid from the West. As this hope has declined, they seem to have accelerated their efforts to squeeze out foreign business and individuals.

This is logical enough, as the only reason they ever wanted foreigners to stay in China was to help their industrial program.

Part of this shift in policy involves an effort to lessen the burden imposed by the half-dead seaports. Without maritime trade, the port cities are nothing but liabilities. Projects for moving millions of people out of Shanghai (estimated population 6 million) have been discussed, and small starts have been made. However, economic pressures in Shanghai may take care of this for the Reds.

As one businessman remarked, "All they need to do to get the people out of Shanghai is to keep rice at its present high price."

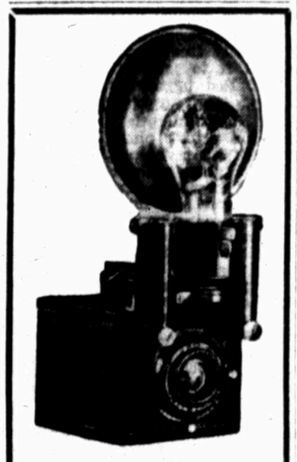

Reducing the populations of coastal cities is to go hand in hand with removal of coastal industries to inland centers. However, industries require electricity, and the interior cities don't have much of it.

All last winter the Communist leaders emphasized that their chief effort was being shifted from the peasantry to the laborers in big cities.

Now they seem to have shifted back to emphasis on the countryside. For example, Gen. Lin Piao, top man in central China, called for placing the center of effort in the country to "create the prerequisite conditions for development of the cities."

This is a complete backflip in Red planning.

The grandiose industrial production drives that the Reds had launched seem in retrospect to have been sparked by a huge propaganda campaign, and not much else.

Fossilized Limestone Wall Features New C-C Building

By EMMETT SHOCKLEY
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

One of the interesting features of the new $250,000 Chamber of Commerce building at Texas Avenue and Ninth street, soon to hold an open house for the public, is the solid wall of fossilized limestone facing Texas avenue.

This "eye-catching" facade, and it was designed with that purpose in mind, is composed of almost 24 tons of Cordova shell limestone, mined in Travis and Williamson counties north of Austin, and shipped here by truck.

Shells Are Noticeable

Shells of marine snails, clams, oysters, and the cartwheel ammonite, a marine animal somewhat resembling today's nautilus, all have left clear impressions abundantly throughout this decorative stone.

"The stone is soft and damp when mined, says W. G. McMillan, contractor for the building. "The miners cut it into blocks with saws. But when it dries, it becomes tough and hard."

The stone is expensive. McMillan estimates that it costs at least twice as much as ordinary building limestone.

Stone Is Light

"Its chief value lies in its decorative qualities," says E. H. McMurtry of Atcheson and Atkinson, designers of the building. "Although it is expensive," he said, "this deficit is counterbalanced by its attractiveness and the advertising it can do for a building.

"It catches the eye, and this is especially desirable in a building which houses our Chamber of Commerce," he said.

Over 50 Million Years Old

Geologists at Texas Technological college estimate it to be over 50 million years old. About that time, they said, southeast Texas was under water. Shellfish died, and as their shells broke up on the ocean floor, they formed a slimy ooze. As tons and tons of this material piled up, the lower layers crystallized into limestone.

Many shellfish were buried alive in the ooze before it hardened, permanently recording their impressions.

McMurtry said that the San Jacinto monument near Houston is constructed with the Cordova limestone.

It withstands the rigors of the South Plains weather with ease. Eleven years ago, it was used in the building now housing the Paul Graham Co., at 1205 Thirteenth street. The stone still looks like new.

At least two other Lubbock buildings have used it to decorate their fronts. The Holsum Bakery, 202 E. Broadway, and the building housing the Lee Optical Co., at 1210 Broadway, both have this stone.

The Chamber of Commerce will handle many thousands of inquiries from Lubbock visitors while in their new building. No doubt some of them will talk about "that unusual stone," in the east wall.

'52-20' Unemployment Program Will End; Many Veterans Still Eligible For Benefits

By VERN HAUGLAND
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, July 23—The "52-20" program dies Monday night but thousands of veterans may be eligible for its benefits for years to come.

The program since September 1944, has funneled $3,600 million to some 8,770,000 World War II veterans during their unemployment.

State unemployment agencies, functioning for 13 years for the benefit of the whole public, have paid out $6 billion.

The 52-20 benefits paid through May were $3,051,958,059 in unemployment allowances which allow a maximum of $20 a week up to a total of 52 weeks, and $570,882,765 in self-employment allowances. The latter include $100 a month for not more than ten and two-fifths months for unemployed farm workers and others working for themselves who earn less than $100 a month.

Few Exhaust Benefits

Only 839,737 veterans exhausted their full benefits. The World War II population at the end of May was 15,163,000, all entitled to unemployment aid.

At least seven bills were submitted in the 81st Congress to extend the expiring program for from one to five years.

No action was taken on them. The nearest approach was a unanimous vote by the Senate Labor committee Friday to extend unemployment benefits for a year, but to drop the self-employment provisions.

The bill was believed to have little chance of passing the Senate. Rep. Rankin (D-Miss), has bottled up a similar measure in the House by his Veterans committee. Rankin is strongly opposed to extension of the program, and has urged adoption of a bonus instead.

As the program enters its final hours, 650,000 veterans are on its rolls.

The Veterans administration said the majority of them would draw their final checks at the end of this week.

Many Remain Eligible

Possibly ten per cent of the 650,000 may remain longer on the rolls.

They are:

1. Veterans who have been discharged since July 25, 1947, after war service. Their benefits were to continue for two years from discharge or the official end of hostilities, whichever was the latest.

2. Veterans who enlisted or reenlisted under the voluntary recruitment act, between Oct. 6, 1945, and Oct. 5, 1946, and whose benefits continue for two years from the date of expiration of the period of enlistment. Some signed up for as long as six years.

The Veterans administration said benefits will stand in these cases despite expiration of the law.

New York leads in the states from the standpoint of unemployment allowances paid to date—$365,567,478.

Next in order are Pennsylvania with $335,248,545 and California with $209,026,406.

States where payments have totaled less than $200 million but more than 100 million are Texas, Michigan, Massachusetts, New Jersey, Illinois and Ohio.

Mississippi leads in self employment allowance payments, totaling $52,984,351.

Next in order are North Carolina, $45,211,541, Texas, $43,983,104 and Alabama $38,611,807.

Will Conduct A FREE CLINIC
For The Hard Of Hearing
At HOTEL HILTON
Mon. - Tues. July 25-26
10:00 A.M. to 5:00 P.M.

He will answer such questions as:

Can you hear people talking but not always understand them? Can the strain and discomfort of head noises be eliminated? Which is your better ear? Why does hearing loss become progressively worse? How does the strain of even partial deafness affect the nervous system? How many physical ailments can be traced to impaired hearing?

What are the imminent physical and emotional dangers that can easily develop from faulty hearing? Is it true that poor hearing can lead to total deafness unless the proper preventive steps are taken? The startling answers to these and many other vital questions about your health and your hearing will be answered expertly for you in this clinic. Mr. Hammer takes a personal interest in your individual hearing problems, and will demonstrate for you how normal hearing can again be attained. Simply attend at the time mentioned above. An evening appointment for a demonstration in your own home may be arranged. This is a regular part of Acousticon's public service program, without cost or obligation.

A MEMORY BOOK OF PROGRESS OF LUBBOCK AND THE SOUTH PLAINS 1873 — 1949

The fertility of the South Plains soil never was a secret to the early day pioneers. They knew from the native vegetation and teeming wild life that the land would produce abundantly if cultivated.

But agricultural development was relatively slow. The first farming was on the small scale necessary to provide for localized needs. More populous markets were too remote and methods of transportation too slow to justify the production of farm surpluses.

Numerous crops were grown—milo maize, kaffir corn, Indian corn, sorghums and others. Practically every home had its vegetable garden, and usually they flourished. Watermelon feasts were important events on the summer social calendars.

Nor was there any doubt in the minds of most of the pioneers that cotton would grow on the Plains. No one can say positively who planted the first cotton nor when. Probably a good many early day farmers grew small patches of the staple. Rollie Burns planted three acres in 1888, and he estimated the yield at a half-bale per acre. But he did not harvest it. Cotton was not grown in quantity because gins were not available to make it a practical and profitable crop.

But the time inevitably had to come when the South Plains were started toward the position they now occupy as one of the world's greatest cotton-producing regions.

MEN KNOW THEIR HOUSEKEEPING

Lubbock's Versatile Firemen Can Qualify In Many Lines

By CLIFF BLACKBURN
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Lubbock's firemen are, perhaps, the best housekeepers in the city. They cook their own meals, bake bread, tidy up their quarters and do most of the things usually considered to be a "woman's work."

Besides these chores, they find time to put out an average of two fires a day in the city.

Lubbock's firemen come from every walk of life. There are barbers, musicians, mechanics, veterinarians, watchmakers and even gunsmiths on the roster of the Central fire station.

Department Expands

The men put these trades to an active use to keep the long hours on duty at the station from becoming boring. Chief W. E. Twitty of the Central Fire station makes stocks and sights for foreign made guns, and has quite an assortment of finely tooled rifles in his collection. Fireman Rex Johnson makes and flies model airplanes. He was a first prize winner in the recent Lubbock Plymouth Model Plane contest. Others in the fire house do woodworking or machine work to while away the time between blazes.

Lubbock's fire department has really expanded in the last few years, said Capt. Tom Crowe of the Central fire station. Eight years ago there were only 14 men on duty at the fire station while today there are a total of 58 firemen in Lubbock and 22 more have passed their examinations and will start their duties soon, he said. There are three fire stations in the city now and another under construction, which will be completed next month.

As far as equipment goes, Lubbock has the most modern and up-to-date that money can buy. Two new $14,000 pumpers are in use now at the Central fire station and another has been ordered and will be in use next month. Two "boosters" are at the station and one at each of the other stations. A booster is a truck that carries a 266 gallon water tank, Capt. Crowe explained. He revealed that 95 per cent of Lubbock's fires are extinguished with these booster trucks as it is much faster to use them than to attach a hose to a hydrant.

The biggest and most expensive piece of equipment the fire station has acquired is an $18,000 aerial ladder truck. The ladder will reach 85 feet into the air or about five floors. The truck was ordered three years ago but delivery was delayed until several months ago. Today the same type truck costs over $20,000.

Hose wagons, boosters, and pumpers all are part of the equipment at the other city fire stations.

There are 14 men at all times in the fire station waiting for alarms. They are not allowed to even leave the building without the chief's permission. As a result, they live in a small city within the station. They have their own barber shop, kitchen, bakery, sleeping quarters, and recreation rooms. Each man must be able to cook to be a fireman. Two men are assigned each week to do the kitchen chores for the others. "If a man can't cook here," Capt. Crowe said, "we soon break him of the habit."

Most of the men are married and the twenty-four hour shifts are a little hard on their home lives, they agreed.

The firemen have their clothes arranged in such a way over their boots that they can be dressed and on their way down the pole in about two seconds, Capt. Crowe said. The fire trucks are rolling along Lubbock's streets 11 seconds after the alarm gong sounds in the station.

All fire alarms come through the Central station and then are relayed to the station in whose district the blaze has been reported. The Central fire station always sends equipment and men to aid the other stations.

The life of a fireman isn't the safest in the world, the captain stated. While the rate of injury and death have been slight so far, he said, those figures are subject to change every time the alarm sounds.

The firemen have put out a total of 258 fires so far this year.

A stiff civil service and physical examination are necessary before a man can join the ranks of Lubbock's fire department. Two firemen, along with Fire Marshal Bradley Black and Chief Twitty, are sent each year to a firemen's school held at Texas A & M. The city pays all of their expenses.

Sliding down the poles in the fire station isn't as exciting and dangerous as the layman might be led to believe, Capt. Crowe revealed.

"We have only had one man break a leg in the eight years I have been here," he said.

Capt. Crowe laughed at the age-old tradition that firemen are inveterate checker players. "We don't even like the game here," he remarked.

About the quickest fire the men at the Central fire station ever put out, Capt. Crowe stated, was the one in their own building several years ago when one of the trucks started to go up in smoke. "We didn't have any trouble finding that blaze," the captain said.

Son On Business Trip Runs Into Vacation Bound Parents

MANCHESTER, Ia., July 23 (AP)—When Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Arp left Davenport, Ia., on their vacation and their son left Davenport on a business trip they didn't expect to run into each other.

The son stopped en route to the Dakotas on his business trip. As he backed away from the curb he ran into a passing automobile.

It was his father's car. No one was injured, but the car of the elder Arps was considerably damaged.

Beauty Contestants Take Part In Parade

Everyone loves a parade.

Especially when the participants are clad only in bathing suits, sun hats and high heel shoes.

Nine of the 12 Miss Lubbock contestants rode convertibles behind a police escort through downtown Lubbock Saturday afternoon.

The new cars were lent to the sponsoring Jaycees by the authorized automobile dealers here.

Police Sgt. Harold McInroe and Motor Officers Walter West and Curtis Morris provided the escort while Jim Crook of the Chamber of Commerce served as parade master.

Jack Blankeship, chairman of the Jaycee sponsord project to be held at 7:30 p.m. Thursday at the Lindsey theater, Saturday also announced the name of a new entry.

She is Miss Peggy Whitty, 19, who stated she will either sing or recite at the contest.

Her entry compensated for the loss of Miss Dorothy Blair, West Texas Gas company employe, who said she will not be able to be present at the contest.

Meanwhile, Miss Fay Martin, 21year-old contestant, announced she will present a "Mae West" skit. "Just to make things interesting," she promised.

Rail Sabotage Is Blamed On Reds

MEXICO CITY, July 23 (U.P.)—New acts of "Communist-inspired" sabotage against Mexico's government-owned railways were reported today following jailing of three men accused of wrecking a passenger train last week.

The newspaper La Prensa said loosened rails had been discovered on the line 25 miles south of Pachuca, "narrowly averting a catastrophe."

Troops Patrol Tracks

Federal troops immediately were sent to patrol the tracks to "avoid another tragedy like that at Guadalajara," the newspaper reported.

Authorities at Guadalajara filed formal charges against three former railroad workers for sabotage of the night passenger train from Manzanillo last Saturday night.

One of the men, Eleno Ayala Quinero, 33, broke down after 15 hours of intensive questioning by federal agents and testified that the trio committed the crime "at the orders" of a local Communist party leader.

Quintero said he and the other two workers, Faustino Padilla and Francisco De La Mora, stole two locomotives from the Guadalajara train yards and abandoned them on a curve near the city. The passenger train ploughed into the engines. One man was killed and four injured in the wreck.

Quintero said the Communists began planning a sabotage campaign against the National railways almost a year ago to "gain control."

Brannan Calls On Farmers To Cut Down On Unsafe Practices

WASHINGTON, July 23 (U.P.)—Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan called on the nation's farmers today to eliminate unsafe practices and "booby traps" which claim 19,000 farm lives each year.

He made the appeal over a nationwide radio hookup arranged by the American Broadcasting company's "American Farmer" program. The special broadcast was a preview of national farm safety week which begins tomorrow.

"Unsafe practices and 'farm booby traps' must be eliminated," Brannan said. "The saying that 'accidents just will happen' has been too long accepted as an apology or an excuse for unsafe acts. It is high time we revenged this negative thinking.

"It is time we discarded the notion that accidents are something inevitable and substitute in their place some intelligent planning toward farm accident prevention."

Cost Of State Road Repair To Increase

AUSTIN, July 23. (AP)—Maintenance of the state highway system for the fiscal year beginning Sept. 1 will cost $17,895,295, the State Highway commission estimated in its budget today.

This will be a $2,716,083 increase over costs for the current year.

Expansion of the highway system by 2,241 miles since last September will account for most of the increase, state highway engineer D. C. Greer said. However, he noted that the average annual cost of upkeep per mile will advance $48 to a new high of $527.

Virtually all of the mileage added to the system the past year has been in the farm-to-market road category, Greer said.

"This mileage represents a permanent obligation to the department, which must bear the increased maintenance cost year after year. Our maintenance bill will be still greater next year as more roads are added," he observed.

Greer reported that the state-maintained road system now totals 32,038 miles.

$20,000 Becomes 'Shredded Cabbage' In Rail Accident

ST. LOUIS, July 23. (U.P.) — Postal officials today had a sack of shredded green paper on their hands, all that was left of $20,000 strewn along a railroad right of way when a mail pouch broke open.

Inspector W. L. Noah said the accident occurred at Marshfield, Mo., 175 miles southwest of here. The mail sack, "kicked off" a fast-moving train, bounced off the station platform and fell under the train wheels.

The greenbacks were scattered profusely along the right of way.

Noah said virtually all the money was recovered and, although it looks like "shredded cabbage," it will be redeemed.

Northfield Congregation Slated To Move Into New Church Soon

MATADOR, July 23. (Special)—The congregation of the Church of Christ at Northfield, northeast Motley community, will be worshioping in a new church building within a short time.

The new church is to be a gift of B. F. Simpson, resident of the Northfield community 53 years.

Simpson donated two acres of ground for the structure and is paying construction costs of the building, which are expected to run approximately $6,500. The building is of rock veneer finish, and is nearing completion.

The new church is located near the old one-room community church which was built some 40 years ago. The old building originally was used as a Methodist church, but in later years has been used by all denominations.

Simpson helped pay for the old church years ago.

Memo to Plymouth Salesmen

Value-wise buying makes a sweet set-up for you—

You sell the car that likes to be compared!

In the new car market today, the accent is on value. This makes a sweet setup for Plymouth salesmen . . . for you have the great new car that was built to compete — feature for feature, dollar for dollar—with any car at any price!

Ask your prospective customers to look at all three of the leading low-priced cars —or even at cars costing hundreds of dollars more. Ask them to compare — wheelbase, compression ratio, braking action, engine life, riding comfort, interior beauty, ease of handling, cost of upkeep — everything!

But just looking at a car isn't enough. The best way to judge a new car is by its performance. Urge your prospects to drive "all three." Ask them to put Plymouth performance up against any car selling at anything like the same price. When you do this—the new Plymouth does all right!

Vatican's Move Against Reds Has Profound Effect In Europe

By J. KINGSBURY SMITH
European Director, INS

PARIS, July 23 — Pope Pius XII's recent degree excommunicating all Communists who may be Catholics is having a profound effect today in Europe.

Reports from the various capitals indicated that the Vatican's drastic move against Communism has caused a stir from one end of Europe to the other.

It appears to have been received generally as an open declaration of spiritual war against Communism, and thus one of the most important developments in the history of the Catholic church.

Crisis Of Conscience Created

In western Europe it has tended to strengthen the widespread conviction that Communism and Christianity are incompatible.

Some leading western European statesmen are of the opinion that it meant the Vatican has abandoned hope of any genuine general settlement between Soviet totalitarianism and the western civilized world.

Diplomatic advices reaching Paris from behind the iron curtain reported that the effect of the Pope's historic step has been to creat a crisis of conscience among millions of Catholics in the Soviet sattelite states of eastern Europe.

Voluntary Support Forbidden

Many of these Catholics have become associated with Communist organizations in the hope of improving their lot in the Communist-dominated countries. They have joined Communist labor or social groups, attended Communist mass meetings and subscribed to Communist literature. In some cases they have been compelled to do so in order to keep their jobs and obtain ration tickets.

While the Vatican decree makes an exception in those cases where Catholics have become associated with Communism under compulsion, it forbids any voluntary support directly or indirectly of Communism.

Catholics Deeply Affected

Since association with the Communist organizations in the satellite countries involves all sorts of privileges for workers, such as extra ration coupons, cheap vacations and priority in obtaining living conditions, the Vatican proscription invokes the conscience of the faithful against Communism in a manner never before witnessed.

Reports from western embassies and legations in the eastern European countries state that news of the Vatican decree has deeply affected the Catholic masses and has caused consternation among the Communist regimes.

This appears to be borne out by the vituperative reaction of the Communist political leaders, who have intensified their attacks on the Vatican and the Catholic clergy.

Kremlin Task Complicated

It is estimated that approximately 30 million Catholics are affected by the Pope's decree in Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Poland and Romania.

Western diplomats believe that the probable refusal of the majority of these Catholics to support Communism will greatly complicate the task of the Kremlin in seeking to consolidate Soviet domination of eastern Europe.

The possibility is foreseen that dramatic consequences may follow the diversion of Catholic workers away from Communism in some of the satellite states as a result of the Pope's edict.

In Italy and France, the Vatican decree is expected to prove a severe set-back to the recent Communist efforts to win over discontented Catholic workers.

However, western diplomats believe the Pope's move was prompted primarily by events in eastern Europe. Especially the mock trial of Hungarian Cardinal Mindszenty and the persecution of Czechoslovakian Archbishop Beran.

Denison Herald Plans Special Edition On 60th Anniversary

DENISON, July 23. (AP)—The Denison Herald celebrates its 60th anniversary tomorrow with a special edition. The edition also is dedicated to development of truck farming in the Red River valley.

Reviewing its history from July, 1889, the Herald reported it was the first small-town paper in Texas to install a typesetting machine, rotary printing press and full-leased Associated Press service. Installation of teletypesetter equipment for handling both local and Associated Press copy is one of the latest strides of the North Texas daily.

Fred Conn has been publisher since 1945 and previously headed the advertising department while Millard Cope, now publisher of the Marshall News-Messenger, was Herald publisher. Claude Easterly, editor, is a native Denisonian who started with the Herald 24 years ago as a cub reporter.

J. Lee Greer, for many years publisher of the Herald, still lives in Denison after selling to the present management in 1940.

Exploding Engine Seriously Injures Railroad Watchman

PECOS, July 23. (AP)—A railroad worker was injured today when the engine he was steaming up in the yards exploded.

He is Francisco Reyes, 22, engine watchman for the Pecos Valley Southern Railway company. His condition was critical.

The front end door of the engine was blown some 1,000 feet. Most damage, however, was in the firebox and cab at the back.

W. C. Tutley, manager of the Pecos Valley line, said cause of the explosion was undetermined. A federal boiler inspector will make an inquiry.

The railroad is from Pecos to Balmorrhea.

Burglars Break Into 11 Stores While Train Drowns Out Noise

MELBOURNE, Iowa, July 23. (AP)—Working swiftly under the cover of a rumbling train which drowned out the noise of breaking glass, thieves systematically raided this small town early today.

Mayor Al Sanderman said the thieves broke into 11 of the 16 business places in this town of 500 persons. They escaped with $100 cash and did $300 damage, he said.

Sanderman said the burglars apparently took advantage of a passing train to speedily smash the door glass of stores.

One Killed, Two Seriously Hurt In Auto Collision Near Conway

AMARILLO, July 23 (AP)—Mrs. Bernice Coulson of Elk City, Okla., was killed and two other persons were seriously injured in a head-on automobile collision last night three miles east of Conway on U. S. Highway 66.

James Wilbur Coulson, husband of the dead woman, suffered serious injuries in the mishap some 35 miles east of here.

Paul R. Clark of Albuquerque, N. M., was in a Groom hospital in "critical" condition.

State highway officers had not determined the exact cause of the accident.

Seagraves Minister Scheduled To Begin Plains Revival Series

PLAINS, July 23. (Special)—Rev. Earl Allen, pastor of the Seagraves Baptist church, will begin a series of revival services at the Plains Baptist church on Wednesday, August 3. The services will continue through August 14.

Rev. Billy Lewis of Whiteface will conduct song services during the revival, said Rev. W. P. Brian, pastor of the Plains Baptist church.

Storm-tossed seas and flooded rivers are blamed for the fact that New Zealand's whitebait fishermen, who normally catch upwards of 1,000 tons, have had a disastrous season.

Visitor Commends Colorado Town For Its 'Quiet Noise'

WALSENBURG, Colo., July 23. (INS)—Walsenburg residents were claiming today that their city has "quiet noises," and were quoting a letter from a Colorado visitor to prove it.

The editor of a Walsenburg paper received a note signed "Mrs. H. D. F., Blue Earth, Minn.," who apparently overlooked the effects of high altitude on lowland dwellers.

Mrs. H. D. F. said she and her husband stayed overnight in Walsenburg. She said she noticed how quietly traffic moved through the streets, and was planning to write a commendation of the "city's anti-noise campaign."

"Then when we reached the top of La Veta Pass the next day," she continued, "my ears popped. Apparently they had been plugged during our visit to your city. Someday I want to return and listen to those quiet noises."

Red Political Leaders Deny Race For German Republic

BERLIN, July 23 (AP) — Soviet zone political leaders disavowed today any intention of racing western Germany in setting up rival republics.

No preparations are under way now to establish a central government for eastern Germany, they said.

Revival Series Set To Start At Wolfforth Church Friday

WOLFFORTH, July 23. (Special)—A revival is to be held at the Wolfforth Methodist church beginning Friday, August 5, and continuing through August 14.

Rev. T. M. McBrayer, pastor of the Dalhart Methodist church, and father of Rev. O. A. McBrayer, pastor of the Wolfforth Methodist church, will preach at the services.

Services are planned for 10 a. m. and 8:30 p. m. daily. The morning services are to be conducted on weekdays only.

BERNARD VINCENTI FINDS A HOME

Young Attorney Lands Plane In Lubbock And Decides To Remain

By LONNIE HUDKINS
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Bernard C. Vincenti is the type of fellow who gets "up in the air" at the slightest provocation.

And it's easy for the 33-year-old bachelor to get "provoked" because he owns a four-passenger Navion airplane and flying conditions are right perfect on the South Plains.

Vincenti, who lives at 3411 Twenty-eighth, "landed" in Lubbock May 1. Before he came here, he was a practicing attorney in his home town, Baltimore, Md.

Will Take Exams

The former Johns Hopkins university fullback will appear before the Texas Bar association board the first Monday of October to gain permission to practice law in Texas under provisions of the reciprocity bill.

"Bernie," as he is known to his new-found Lubbock friends, selected the Hub city of the South Plains for his new home because of "it's cleanliness, friendliness and economic future."

"There are more diversified activities here from which the economy of the city can draw from," Vincenti explained, "than in Baltimore. Besides, this is a growing country and young men are welcome."

Visited Major Cities

Vincenti visited all the major cities in Texas in his plane before he selected Lubbock. "I also flew to all the major cities in the West," said the scion of Baltimore distillery interests.

"I am flattered to be in Lubbock," he said. "It is one of the few cities I have seen that has a good appearance from both the air and the ground," he added.

Since his arrival, Vincenti has joined the Jaycees and Knights of Columbus. During his spare time, and he has lots of it until October, he flies and swims. "I would like to find a tennis partner, too," he mused.

Enlisted In Air Corps

He was admitted to the Maryland bar in October 1941 after his graduation from the University of Maryland law school. He enlisted in the Army Air corps three days after Pearl Harbor and was discharged Feb. 18, 1945, as a captain after having served in the Canal Zone.

"That's another reason I wanted to come to Texas," Vincenti chided. "When I was in the Air Corps, most of the pilots I knew were Texans while I, who had a commercial pilots license before I enlisted, was on the ground as a motor transportation officer.

"So, I figured Texas must have something."

NEWCOMER—Bernard C. Vincenti and his four-passenger Navion landed at Municipal airport May 1. The 33-year-old bachelor liked Lubbock so much, he stayed. While waiting to appear before the State Bar association board, he passes the time away by flying over Lubbock and the surrounding South Plains. He has already flown 760 hours in the small craft in the last two and a half years. (Staff photo by Tyler Curtis.)

Officers Shifted To Halt Mexican Influx

ST. ALBANS, Vt., July 23 (AP)—From the nation's northern border today came a report of trouble with aliens on the southern border. James Butterfield, district commissioner of immigration and naturalization for the Vermont district, which includes Maine, New Hampshire and stretches west to Clayton, N. Y., gave the report.

Butterfield said 20 of his patrolmen were ordered to temporary duty on the Mexican border because of increases in the number of aliens slipping in from Mexico.

In Washington Willard F. Kelly of the immigration and naturalization service said that there is a "terrific influx" of Mexicans entering illegally.

Kelly, assistant commissioner for enforcement, added that most of the Mexicans entering or trying to enter the country illegally are looking for work.

During the year ended June 30, 1949, he said, the Mexican border patrol apprehended 279,379 aliens trying to enter illegally or already in the U. S. illegally. Most of these were Mexicans, he said, and a good many of the cases were "repeaters."

Kelly said the current transfer of patrolmen from the northern to the southern border represents a readjustment of force. Such readjustments are made as required by changing conditions, he explained.

Widespread guerrilla activity has slowed down most Greek reclamation work.

Mexico Asked For Men Accused In Million Dollar U. S. Swindle

MEXICO CITY, July 23. (U.P.)—The U. S. embassy today asked the Mexican government to arrest three bank officials implicated in a $1,000,000 California bank swindle.

At the request of District Attorney Edmund G. Brown of San Francisco, the embassy filed a demand for the extradition of Alberto Aldrete, jr., John Aiessio and Floy Martinez.

The three officers of the Banco Del Pacifico are accused of "manipulations" in floating a loan from a San Francisco bank for expansion of a large tower California brewery.

The ministry of foreign relations, announcing the extradition request, hinted it would not turn the three Mexican citizens over to U. S. authorities because Mexican law prohibits extradition of its nationals.

Brown flew to Mexico City in April in an earlier attempt to bring the trio to San Francisco for prosecution, but failed to secure their extradition.

New Officers Elected At Meeting Of Spur American Legion Post

SPUR, July 23 (Special)—At a recent meeting of the Williams-Puckett American Legion post of Spur, M. P. Vannoy was named commander for the coming year. He succeeds Joe Jeffers.

Vannoy is local supervisor for the Farmers Home Administration.

Other officers elected were Alton Foreman, first vice commander; [illegible] Hicks, second vice commander; L. O. Boothe, adjutant; M. C. Hurst, finance officer; Willis Jernigan, chaplain; Cal C. Wright, historian; W. F. Patrick, child welfare officer; G. W. Grimes, sergeant at arms; C. B. Chandler, service officer; J. B. Haralson and Joe Jeffers, directors.

The officers are to be installed August 11.

Basic Science Board Is Named

AUSTIN, July 23 (AP)—A six-man state board of basic science examiners was appointed today by Gov. Allan Shivers.

The board, one of the new agencies created by the 51st legislature, will examine applicants for licenses to practice any phase of the healing art on six different subjects: Anatomy, bacteriology, chemistry, public health, and hygiene, physiology and pathology.

Appointees Named

Appointed to the board were:

Dr. Asa C. Chandler, biology professor, Rice Institute, Houston.

Dr. Henry B. Hardt, chairman of the department of chemistry, Texas Christian university, Fort Worth.

Dr. W. Mayne Longnecker, biology professor, Southern Methodist university, Dallas.

Dr. Cornelia M. Smith, chairman of the department of biology, Baylor university, Waco.

Dr. Ophelia C. Wesley, acting head of the department of biology, Daniel Baker college of Southwestern university, Brownwood.

Brother Raphael Wilson, premedical adviser, St. Edward's university, Austin.

Acting Chairman Named

Shivers named Dr. Hardt acting chairman for organization purposes. Dr. Hardt and Dr. Chandler were named for six-year terms, Dr. Longnecker and Dr. Smith four years, and Dr. Wesley and Dr. Wilson, two years. Subsequent appointments will be for six years.

In view of a constitutional prohibition against one person's holding two state positions of honor, trust or remuneration, no faculty members from state-supported colleges were placed on the board.

The basic science law, a compromise between Texas doctors and chiropractors, ended a long standing fight between the two groups. Doctors said the bill was designed to raise standards of all persons practicing the healing art, thereby protecting the health of the public. Chiropractors said the bill, as originally introduced, was an opening wedge to drive them out of business.

Both sides voiced satisfaction with the measure as finally passed.

Funeral Rites For Victim Of Truck Accident Set For Today

LAMESA, July 23 (Special)—Funeral services for Joe L. James, O'Donnell man who was fatally injured Friday morning when a gravel truck backed into him and pinned him to his own truck while he was changing a tire, will be conducted here Sunday afternoon.

The services will be at Higginbotham Funeral home chapel at 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon with Rev. John H. Johns, pastor of First Baptist church at O'Donnell, officiating. Burial will be in Lamesa cemetery.

No investigation had been conducted into the accident by the Dawson county sheriff's department, and a Texas Highway patrolman told a reporter that since the accident occurred on private property, no investigation would be conducted by that agency.

James was rushed to Lamesa General hospital where he died at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon. Hospital officials said his death was caused by internal injuries.

Survivors include his wife, Audrey; five brothers, Ed of O'Donnell, O. C. of Lubbock, Jack of Santa Barbara, Calif., Virgil of Oxnard, Calif., and Fred of Fort Worth; and one sister, Mrs. Maudie Bell McKee of Pietown, N. M.

Olive Kailasam, Indian child prodigy violinist, is leaving for America to study.

Hale County Conservation Leaders Plan Aerial Tour Thursday For Study Of Farming Methods

PLAINVIEW, July 23, (Special)—Hale county soil conservation leaders will be literally up in the air Thursday over the subject of soil erosion and how to prevent it.

Under the sponsorship of the Hale county SCD, Flying Farmers of America, and the extension service, twenty airplanes will make three tours of Hale county. Carrying at least 50 persons on each trip the tour will survey, from the air, both good and bad farm practices and their results, according to Manuel W. Ayers, Hale county agent.

Flights Are Scheduled

The flights will take off from the Hale County Airport at 8 a.m., 9.30 a.m. and 11 a.m. Starting to the south they will pass over the Brown Stock Farm, the Tilson, Robertson and Frogge places, swing in pass over the farms of Red Heard, Biffle's, W. S. Amend's and then turn west.

The flights will pass within sight of Abernathy but will continue over the C. M. Barrick farm, G. M. Carr's and the Anton-Irish oil field along the Double Mountain Fork of the Brazos. Turning north now the 20 planes will fly over E. B. Stanley's, Ralph McFerrin's, Sand Hills, Reddinger's and then over a badly eroded area near Runningwater Draw.

The return to the airport will also encompass the Weaver, Painter and Robinson farms to the northwest of Plainview.

More than 150 interested business and farm leaders are expected for the aerial jaunt. While 50 are making a flight, a program of movie pictures and lectures has been planned. It will take place in one of the airplane hangers and refreshments will be provided.

"We need to give more and more attention to conserving our greatest natural resource," Ayers said yesterday. "We want city dwellers to become aware of this great problem as well as the farmer and ranchman."

Methods Are Illustrated

The tour will illustrate many different types of soil conservation methods. The first point will show four types of irrigated pastures and how they utilize the rainfall to greatest advantage and prevent the valuable topsoil from washing away.

Vetch and rye and vetch and clover pastures will be the next objective. These pastures are on the Tilson and Robertson farms.

Truck farming and general diversification will be shown at Heard's farm. The operators this year are Mike and Tom Mizokami, Japanese growers who will soon harvest cabbage, cantaloupes, cauliflower, carrots, onions and tomatoes.

A heavy yield of barley in what was once a lake bottom until properly drained will be seen on the Biffle farm.

A 649 acre farm that carries 600 head of cattle will be seen at the Scott Amend place. Various improved pastures of orchard grass, brome, fescue, vetch and clover account for the heavy load of feeding stock.

An oil well in the center of a lake will be shown at John Lutrick's. Lutrick sacrificed no tillable land to the producing well.

Terraces, bench and level will be seen next. The once eroded 50 acres of C. M. Carr will now present the appearance of a well terraced farm that will be planted to wheat this year.

At Sand Hills wind erosion will be clearly illustrated. Ayers says this land once belonged to the adjoining county but moved in to alter the terrain.

All of the remaining points of interest will concern similar projects as those mentioned above. Truck farms, alfalfa fields and pastures and varying terrains and how they are kept intact.

Newspaper, radio and farm magazine representatives will also participate in the tour. Through them Ayers hopes to pass the bird's-eye view along to others on the South Plains.

Maddened Black Panther Mangles Gorilla Before Attendants Use Gun On Loser

SPOKANE, Wash., July 23 (AP)—A maddened black panther and a huge gorilla battled in jungle-like fury for two and a half hours at Spokane's Liberty Lake amusement park last night before attendants of a wild animal show killed the mangled gorilla.

About 400 spectators saw the 185-pound panther tear off the gorilla's right arm and rip his 312-pound body while the keepers vainly tried to separate them. The animals had come together through an unlocked cage door.

When it appeared plainly that the animals were fighting to the death and could not be separated, an attendant shot the losing gorilla with a .32 caliber rifle.

Shrieks Blood-Chilling

The shrieks and cries of anguish could be heard for more than a mile around the resort lake as the two wild animals clawed, slashed and tore at each other in the five-foot compartment on a truck.

A 600-pound lion in an adjacent cage added to the blood-chilling cries as he roared and lurched against the bars all during the fight.

The rare $2,000 panther still was so enraged after the shot ended the fearful battle, he had to be subdued by chloroform before he could be led from the cage.

The animals were part of the Ruby Wild Animal show appearing at Liberty Lake.

Two Airmen Die In New Mexico Crash

EL PASO, July 23 (AP)—A soldier who hitched a ride on a small L-17 Air Force plane stumbled and walked five miles to report the crash in which two officers died.

Killed when the plane crashed on a flat mesa near San Marcial, N. M., during thunderstorms were Capt. James A. Brice, 28, son of Col. and Mrs. Charles S. Brice of El Paso, and Capt. L. T. Gray, jr., 30, of Shreveport, La.

Pvt. Theodore D. Lumento, Fort Bliss soldier who hitched a ride on the craft, was in a dazed condition when he arrived at the Diamond A ranch, but was not seriously injured.

The plane had taken off from Kirtland Air Force base at Albuquerque, N. M., at 9:15 p. m. Thursday. Immediately after the take-off, weathermen at the field tried to reach the pilot by radio to warn him the weather was closing in, with thunderstorms all along the route to Biggs Air Force base here.

Robert A. Johnson of the Diamond A, reached a telephone about 10 a. m. yesterday and notified Fort Bliss. The search party had to use horses to reach the crash.

Brice is survived by his parents, wife and two children. Gray is survived by his wife, Mrs. Thelma P. Gray of Shreveport.

Woman Killed, Three Hurt When Blast Wrecks House

SUFFIELD, Conn., July 23 (AP)—A terrific explosion which literally blew a seven-room dwelling apart, killed a woman, critically injured her husband and seriously injured their two sons here last night.

The woman, Mrs. Howard B. Caldwell, 50, died almost instantly, the medical examiner said, when the blast razed the two-story frame dwelling on Bridge street.

State police Captain Leo Carroll said that the cause of the blast was a complete mystery. There was no odor of gas about the ruins, he said.

Coffie County Invited To Attend Paducah Soft Water Welcoming

PADUCAH, Texas, July 23. (AP)—All Cottle county has been asked to come to Paducah tomorrow to welcome soft water.

The official welcoming ceremonies begin at 4:30 p.m. (CST).

Then at 6:30 p.m.—soft water starts gushing into mains from the water plant and wells west of town.

After that long-awaited event, a basket lunch picnic.

Plans For Special Class To Be Talked

Mrs. Josephine Ballenger, principal-teacher of the public school class for physically handicapped children, Saturday said she will talk to parents wishing to place their children in the class from 2:30 p.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Mrs. Ballenger, who just returned from Dallas, where she attended a special workshop for handicapped children at SMU, will receive the parents at her home, 1617 Ninth.

Only children that are crippled, who have poor vision, defective hearing, heart trouble, speech disorders or suffer nervous disorders will be accepted in the class, she said.

The Monroe Doctrine was announced by President James Monroe in his message to Congress in 1823.

Tumbling Instruction Slated In Parks Rest Of Summer

Beginning this week, a tumbling instructor is to work with boys and girls on each of four neighborhood park playgrounds for the remainder of the summer.

Bill Beal has been employed by the recreation department to teach one night a week at the four parks, on the following schedule: Burns, Twenty-third and Ave. K, Mondays; Pioneer, Seventh and Ave. T, Tuesdays; Wagner, Twenty-seventh and Monroe, Wednesdays; and Carlisle, Twenty-seventh and Ave. W, Thursdays. All classes are to meet for one hour, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The tumbling will be a part of the program of activities supervised by the City Recreation department. There will be no charge. Boys and girls of all ages may participate, it was announced.

Boys and girls interested may see the director of the respective playgrounds for further details.

Economy is Also a Cadillac Word!

Over the years, there has come into being what amounts virtually to a Cadillac vocabulary.

There are literally scores of words which, applied to automobiles, call Cadillac almost instantly to mind.

Few can hear such words as "Character," "Prestige," "Quality," "Craftsmanship," "Precision," "Distinction"—and a host of others—without associating them with Cadillac.

But there is one potent word which applies with equal emphasis to Cadillac—but which motorists, in the past, have not so readily associated with the car.

That word is Economy.

With its marvelously efficient new high-compression engine, the 1949 Cadillac delivers gasoline mileage which actually approaches that of the popular low-priced cars. It is almost unbelievable for a car so large and luxurious.

And, of course, Cadillac dependability and long life have become traditional. In fact, the full life-span of a Cadillac has never been accurately measured.

Yes, "Economy" is also a Cadillac word and belongs in the Cadillac vocabulary.

Have you inspected and driven a 1949 Cadillac? If not, you owe it to yourself to do so—for it is truly a revelation in what a motor car can be and do.

You are most welcome to visit our showrooms.

Economic Outlook Chief Problem In Five Sections, Survey Shows

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute Of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., July 23.—Unemployment and the fear of it has become the number one problem worrying the people in five sections of the country questioned in a nationwide survey by the American Institute of Public Opinion.

The unemployment worry has jumped into first place in those areas just in the last few months. In March, people in most sections ranked the high cost of living and the housing shortage ahead of unemployment as the top problems facing their section.

The situation today is shown in the following survey results:

"What do you think is the MOST IMPORTANT problem facing this section of the country today?"

The West Central farm states show the least concern over joblessness, ranking it third in importance in their section. In the Southern states, the civil rights question is given top ranking by the voters interviewed.

Following is the vote by individual sections:

PACIFIC COAST
(Cal., Ore., Wash.)

1. Unemployment	31%
2. Housing	13
3. High cost of living	10
4. Conservation & irrigation	7
Others	36
Don't know	9

The above figures are averages for the entire section and do not apply to any one state within a section. Each table adds to more than 100 per cent because some voters named more than one problem.

The survey results correspond roughly with the actual unemployment situation as judged by the percentage of persons covered by unemployment insurance who are collecting benefits. As of the week of May 1, according to data supplied by the Social Security administration, the proportion of people collecting benefits was greatest in the New England section, high on the Pacific Coast, especially in California, and lowest in the West Central farm section.

Economists point out, however, that the total picture of employment in the United States is still excellent. As of early June the monthly report of the labor force, issued by the Bureau of the Census, showed 3,778,000 unemployed, and 59,619,000 employed in the civilian labor force.

Philippine Official To Consult MacArthur On Pacific Union

MANILA, July 23. (INS)—The Philippine minister to Tokyo has been instructed to consult General Douglas MacArthur for "clarification of his official view and possible role in the projected Pacific Union against Communism."

A foreign office spokesman said today the instructions were sent to Minister Bernabe Africa because "General MacArthur is virtually the instrument of American military policy in Asia."

He pointed out that President Elpidio Quirino has already expressed the hope that Japan, because of her strategic position in the Far East, can be included in the anti-Communist alliance.

Meanwhile, President Quirino prepared to leave Tuesday for Washington, D.C., to discuss the projected alliance with President Truman.

The foreign office spokesman said Quirino also was expected to ask increased Marshall plan aid for the Philippines.

HALE HAY HARVEST HEAVY — Hale county farmers have been busy making hay while the South Plains sun shines. The crew shown above is working on the 28 acre alfalfa patch of W. K. Schoppa, two miles south of Plainview on Highway 87. The field is having its third cutting. The first cutting this year produced 54 tons; the second, 42 tons, and the current harvest is 45 tons. Schoppa says there will be two more cuttings this year and they will run more than 40 tons each. Left to right on the baler and sled are: W. E. Ferguson, J. L. Ferguson and W. K. Kirk, all of Plainview. A waiting truck hauls the baled hay off to a ready market. (Staff Photo by Edward Welsh.)

Man Accused Of Being Red Stays Far Above Newsmen

OKLAHOMA CITY, July 23 (AP)—Giovanni Rossi Lomanitz preferred a high, hot seat atop a water tower yesterday rather than talk to newsmen about charges of Communist activities.

The House un-American Activities committee Thursday accused Lomanitz, 28, of being a Communist party organizer.

The committee said this activity took place early in the war at Berkeley, Calif., where a group of young scientists worked on atom bomb research.

Newsmen discovered Lomanitz working as a $1.20 an hour laborer at a power company plant under construction near here.

Goes To Top Of Tank

Fellow workers warned him that reporters and photographers were looking for him. This sent him up 110-feet of steel girders to the top of the water tank.

He remained there for almost two hours in 100-degree temperature.

He took the laborer's job June 21 after he was discharged from a teaching job at Fisk university, Nashville, Tenn. His dismissal followed an appearance before the committee.

He refused, on constitutional grounds, to answer questions concerning alleged Communist affiliations.

Construction Superintendent "Shorty" Matson asked reporters why they didn't leave Lomanitz alone.

"He doesn't want to see you and that's all there is to it," Matson said.

"He's a damn good working man, trying to make an honest living."

Increase In Services Shown In City

Lubbock Businesses Flourish As Patrons Try To Beat Heat

By HOUSTON HARTE, JR.
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Hot weather is not frowned upon by everyone in Lubbock. For some it means big business.

Utilities here, with the exception of the gas company, enjoy a brisk upswing in operations as the mercury starts its upward trend. Ice and bottling companies also show a nice increase in business, and the City Recreation Department has a heyday during the three summer months.

The water department reported the use of 19 million gallons of water every day last week, when the temperature hit 100, 97 and 99 degrees. This is far above the average of 13 million gallons a day for the summer. The normal winter usage is between 8 and 9 million gallons.

Keeps Customers Cool

The electric power companies here estimated that their increase in kilowatt hours was about 6.2 per cent per customer for the summer over the winter. Due to the longer days and the displeasure incurred by a housewife bending over a hot stove, less power is used in the homes during the summer. However, theaters, stores and office buildings have found it profitable to use air conditioning. Keeping customers and employes from blowing their tops with the heat puts a terrific increase on the power load which causes the general overall increase. The biggest load comes between 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. every day, the hottest part of the day.

Business gets a break in the summer where ice cream is concerned. A check with local creameries shows that there is an average of over 75 per cent increase in ice cream sales during the summer.

Ice companies have anywhere from doubled to quadrupled their volume of business for the summer. Most of this increase goes into the homes, but crushed ice for drug stores and ice for other commercial accounts have also risen.

Recreation Setup Busy

A check with local bottling companies shows that they are averaging over 90 per cent more volume, with business getting better as the summer goes on. This estimate was made by comparing the month of June with February.

The gas company depends largely upon heating for its livelihood, so it naturally wouldn't show an increase during the summer months. The gas company's refrigeration and irrigation accounts normally do grow in the summer, though.

The City Recreation department, which only operates in full swing for three months out of the year, can hardly compare its summer operations with that of winter. The department only employs seven persons the year round, but in summer this jumps to 44, most of these serving in a supervisory capacity.

Has Big Budget

For its three busy months, the department will operate on an estimated budget of $49,667.50 this year. This figure included money to install electric floodlights for two softball fields in Wagner park. Opposition to these lights from residents living in the area caused the department to abandon the plan.

In addition to the estimated budget, the Recreation department has spent some $24,000 on improvements to the Municipal swimming pool. Most of this went into the installing of a recirculating and filtering plant. The money for this project was taken from bonds totaling $79,000 voted in 1945 for improvements to the pool and construction of a new pool. Increased construction costs have delayed completion of plans for the new pool.

An accurate estimate of the overall costs of all these services for the summer is impossible to compute, but it can easily be seen that keeping cool is no cheap matter.

CLEAN BURGLARY

ST. LOUIS, (AP)—Police said two youthful burglars confessed they couldn't resist the urge to take their Saturday night baths at the home of one of their victims. Arrested several days later, the pair admitted that "The bathtub looked so pretty we couldn't resist."

STREET IS COSTLY PROBLEM

Repair Work Is Slated Soon On Chughole-Marked Thirty-Fourth

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Good news for Thirty-fourth street motorists was the Saturday announcement of County Commissioner R. O. Short that he is going to have deep chugholes repaired ths week by county road crews.

The corduroy-pleated, cavity-ridden thoroughfare for a long time has been described by irritated motorists in uncomplimentary terms of varying degree.

The repair of sink-holes in the street will give only temporary relief, but it should help a situation so bad that many drivers have lost hub caps and blown out tires in recent months.

Carrys Heavy Traffic

Thirty-fourth street has been a problem street for years, and particularly so since it was paved.

It was formerly considered an outlying road, of little more importance than a farm-to-market road.

But Lubbock's amazing and continued growth has made the street one of the main east-west traffic arteries of the city and a vital link between the outlying residential area and downtown. Further, it is an important link and shortcut for through traffic to and from the southwest.

Consequently, paving designed for light traffic has had to bear heavy traffic from the day it was completed.

Numerous Repairs Made

The southwestern extensions to Lubbock's city limits have placed part of the street within the city, but much of it remains under the county's maintenance jurisdiction. From Ave. H to Five Points, the road lies in precinct 1.

Repairs have been necessary virtually from the day it was completed.

J. R. Fanning was contractor on the paving. Carlisle A. Tubbs was engineer, both for design and supervision, said Short.

Tubbs and Fanning were both out of town.

New Coats Necessary

Short recalled that the street was paved from Five Points to Tyler avenue in 1945, and from Tyler avenue to Ave. H in 1947.

What the job cost no one could say Saturday. Mr. Short said he had destroyed his records of it. The county auditor's office said the county records had either been destroyed or stored in the basement of the courthouse where they were not available.

At any rate, the hot-topping of the street from Tyler to Ave. H was completed one Saturday afternoon, Mr. Short recalled. Two coats of asphalt surfacing were applied over the six-inch caliche base.

The next day, Sunday, saw the street take heavy traffic. It was an unusually hot day and the traffic was permitted onto the street too soon. Mr. Fanning immediately put a sweeper to work to protect it with gravel, but a third coat of asphalt became necessary after a few months.

Improvements Are Planned

However, the erosion of the street from the edges continued. Fast, heavy traffic created corduroys in a short time. The sorduroys in a short time. The corduat Ave. Q and College avenue, where stop signals cause heavy braking of automobiles.

And meanwhile, plans are going forward for widening the street from 22 to 64 feet, installing curb, gutter and drainage on that portion that now lies within the city limits for a distance of a mile and a half between Ave. Q and Monroe avenue.

The city commission has approved the project and work will begin when property owners are signed up, said R. L. Oldham, city director of public works.

Short said he had held discussions with City Manager Steve Matthews and Director of Public Works Oldham seeking to work out paving and widening of the entire street on a co-operative basis.

Under tentative plans, it was proposed to widen the paving from its present 22 feet to 64 feet, install curb and gutter and drainage facilities and eliminate dips which are now located every few blocks.

No cost estimates have been prepared.

The street is not part of the Texas Highway department's highway dispersal system and therefore no state or federal aid can be obtained for improving the road.

DANES GO FOR SPORTS

COPENHAGEN. (AP)—Most of Denmark's four million inhabitants are members of one or more sports clubs.

Gymnastics is the favorite sport with 171,000 members. Soccer clubs have 123,000 active and 212,000 inactive members, handball 75,000 members, shooting 48,000, badminton 30,000, track and field 28,000, and swimming 28,000.

STREET OF HARD KNOCKS — The car wheel above is pictured in one of numerous sink-holes on Thirty-fourth street which County Commissioner R. O. Short says will be repaired this week. Eleven such holes, all at the edge of the asphalt-surfaced paving, were counted between Ave. H and Polk avenue. From Polk avenue west to Five Points the road is in good condition. Much of the complaint against the poor condition of paving on Thirty-fourth may be remedied when the City of Lubbock widens and paves Thirty-fourth from Ave. Q to Monroe avenue. (Staff Photo.)

Experimental Oil Shale Mine To Hold Month-Long Trial Run

WASHINGTON, July 23. (AP)—The Bureau of mines said today its experimental oil shale mine near Rifle, Colo., will hold a month-long trial run starting Sept. 7.

Mining engineers, mine equipment makers and oil company representatives especially are invited to watch the demonstration which will be open to the public, bureau director James Boyd said.

The bureau will make a new calculation of shale-mining costs during the demonstration, Boyd said. Earlier test runs have resulted in direct mining costs of less than 50 cents a ton and production rates exceeding 100 tons for each man-shift underground.

Currently the mine is working a rich section of the Green River formation, known as the Mahogany ledge, on naval oil-shale reserve No. 1. The ledge, ranging in thickness from 70 to 90 feet, contains an average of 30 gallons of oil to a ton.

Total reserves in Colorado are estimated at 300 billion barrels of sale oil.

ATTENTION, GROWERS!

The Canning Plant formerly known as Dorman Foods, Inc., has been acquired and will be operated in the future as TEX-PLAINS CANNING CO.

We hope to be able to develop the plant into a large scale processor of vegetables and related items produced or grown on the South Plains, thereby creating a good cash market for your products. To do this, we need your support and cooperation in growing the crops which can be profitably grown by you and processed and packed by the Canning Co.

The TEX-PLAINS CANNING CO. is locally-owned and managed. Mr. John Andrews, who has many years experience in food processing and distribution, will be general manager of the operation. Just now we are vitally interested in discussing Black Eyed Peas, Lima Beans, Spinach and Green Bean acreage for fall harvesting and packing.

We welcome a visit from you, but if inconvenient at this time, and as time is running short for this season, if interested please fill out the form below, mail promptly, and we shall be happy to call on you soon.

Texans' Interest Low In Record Number Of Proposed Amendments

By JOE BELDEN
Director, The Texas Poll

AUSTIN, July 23 — Very few Texans seem to be interested in the record number of constitutional amendments proposed by their State Legislature.

Even repeal of the poll tax, the most controversial change suggested by the lawmakers, has not made much of an impression upon the public mind. Only six per cent of the qualified voters questioned in a recent statewide survey could name poll tax repeal as one of the amendments to be voted on.

Three per cent were aware that the Legislature had submitted an amendment to make women eligible to serve on juries. Less than one per cent could recall each of the other eight amendments.

Election Set Nov. 8

The ten amendments, the greatest number ever proposed by the Legislature in a single session, will become effective only if approved by the voters in a special election November 8.

The purposes of the amendments are as follows:

1. To repeal the poll tax as a requirement to vote.
2. To make women eligible to serve on juries.
3. To permit the Legislature to set up rural fire prevention districts.
4. To raise pay of legislators to $3,600 per year, and to require the Legislature to meet annually.
5. To permit the Legislature to set up city-county health units.
6. To authorize civil service systems for county employes in counties of over 75,000 population.
7. To allow lunacy cases to be tried before a judge, without jury, when either the person, his lawyer, or a relative waives trial by jury.
8. To authorize creation of county hospital districts by vote of the people in a district.
9. To authorize a statewide retirement system for county officials and employes.
10. To allow a district judge in a district having more than one county to issue orders enforceable in any county in the district without his having to go to the particular county to issue the order.

The Texas Poll tested public interest in these amendments one week before the Legislature decided to change the election date from September 24 to November 8. The September 24 date had stood until the closing days of the session, and the Secretary of State had gone ahead with statewide publication of the amendments in preparation for the election as originally planned.

Interviewers asked a cross section of the adult population this question:

"On September 24, a special election will be held on a number of propositions to change the Texas Constitution. Which of the propositions have you heard or read about?"

	All Adults	Voters Only
correctly	7%	10%
Named one or more
Couldn't recall any	93	90
	100%	100%

The above figures do not necessarily mean that all those who couldn't recall any of the amendments had never heard or read about them. Some persons might have heard or read about one or more, but their interest was not sufficient to retain the information. Interviewers for the poll were instructed not to help anyone refresh his memory.

This test showed that qualified voters are slightly more interested in the amendments than the general adult public. For instance, while six per cent of the voters knew about the poll tax repeal amendment, only four per cent of all the adults questioned said they had heard or read about it. The women-on-juries proposal was recalled by only one per cent of the general public, as compared to three per cent of the voters.

Attack Against Wife Of FDR Denounced

LAKE PLACID, N. Y., July 23 (INS)—Former Governor Herbert H. Lehman of New York said today he was "deeply shocked at the attack of Cardinal Spellman on Mrs. Roosevelt."

Cardinal Spellman had lashed out at Mrs. Roosevelt's support of the Barden bill which would deny federal aid to parochial schools.

Lehman, who has been prominently mentioned as a possible Democratic Senatorial nominee in November, said in a strongly worded statement:

"The issue is not whether one agrees or disagrees with Mrs. Roosevelt on this or any other public question. The issue is whether Americans are entitled freely to express their views on public questions without being vilified or accused of religious bias."

Mrs. Roosevelt Defended

He added:

"Mrs. Roosevelt has been a public figure for twenty-five years. Her every act has been a matter of record. In that splendid record I do not know of a single act or word that would in the slightest degree indicate bias or prejudice against any religion or any race . . . She will, I am confident, retain the trust and the affection of all peoples irrespective of creed or race."

Cardinal Spellman in a letter to Mrs. Roosevelt, made public yesterday, accused her of writing documents "unworthy of an American mother" in supporting the bill which proposes aid for public schools but none for parochial or private schools.

Mrs. Roosevelt has remained silent on the Catholic prelate's charges but was understood to be framing a private reply to him.

300 Tulsa Children Recovering From D. D. T. Spray In Theater

TULSA, July 23. (AP)— Three hundred children were recovering today from a severe case of the "D.D.T.s."

As they watched a special movie cartoon matinee the theater air conditioning system picked up a city health department insecticide spray being applied outside as an anti-polio measure.

No one stayed to see the show.

Escaped Huntsville Convict Captured By Wichita Police

WICHITA, Kas., July 23. (AP)— Thomas J. Snider, 27, who reportedly escaped from the Huntsville, Texas, penitentiary the night of Oct. 12, 1948, emerged from a small downtown hotel here yesterday and asked officer Stanley Hamlin why police were surrounding the hotel.

Hamlin said Snider first denied being wanted as an escapee, but admitted his identity and escape.

Station Lt. William Ross quoted Snider as saying he was serving a 1-to10-year sentence at Huntsville on two burglary charges when he escaped.

Houston Woman Jumps From 14th Floor Of Building

HOUSTON, July 23. (AP)— A 50-year-old woman leaped to her death today from the 14th floor of the Sterling building in downtown Houston, clasping a money-filled handbag in one arm.

Police identified her as Lana M. Humphrey, operator of a small cafe.

A purse, still swung around her arm, had an identification card, $230 in currency and two notes, police said.

The woman's crushed body landed on the roof of a two-story annex on the west side of the building, after she made the suicide leap. It rolled several feet more, within inches of the spot where another woman jumped to her death three weeks ago today.

On a window ledge on the 4th floor, police found the woman's red shoes and spectacles.

Wedding Date Set In August For Movie Star James Stewart

HOLLYWOOD, July 23 (INS)— Gloria Hatrick McLean and James Stewart today set their wedding date for August 9.

They will be married at 5 o'clock that day at the Brentwood Presbyterian church by the Rev. A. Dean Osterberg, pastor of the church. It will be Jimmy's first marriage and the second for Gloria.

Immediately after the ceremony, a reception will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bolton in Beverly Hills.

and maintenance of their streets, alleys and highways.

They are entitled to these services from the county or state. They would be entitled to them from Lubbock if they should be annexed to the city.

But, if they incorporate, the cost and responsibility will be theirs.

Fire Protection Important

A more serious consideration mentioned Saturday was the matter of fire protection.

Some of the leaders of the incorporation movement have expressed confidence that if they should incorporate, Lubbock would come to their aid in fighting any serious fires which might break out. Some of the Westchester leaders have argued quietly they would not have to spend a cent for fire equipment and protection, because they would get it free from the Lubbock fire department.

Insurance authorities said Saturday that this is a protection upon which the Westchester residents could not depend.

The City of Lubbock might be willing to help Westchester in time of fire emergency, but the fire insurance companies might object.

Lubbock's fire insurance rates are based, in large degree, upon the instant availability of the city's fire fighting equipment and personnel.

Might Arrest Payments

If a fire should break out inside the city while firemen and equipment were busy in Westchester, the insurance companies might refuse to pay for the losses in the city.

They almost certainly would scale their payments downward if there was reason to believe that the fire in the city would have been less costly if the equipment sent to Westchester had been available.

Even the possibility that the city's fire fighting equipment might be sent into the suburbs might result in a boost in Lubbock fire insurance costs.

To avoid such an increase, the city commission might be called upon for assurance that Lubbock's fire-fighting capabilities would not be weakened at any time by allowing equipment and personnel to be sent outside the city limits in the numbers needed to fight a serious fire there.

The implications of this prospect are that Westchester residents would have to arrange for their own fire protection—which would be costly, or take their chances.

Includes Costly Homes

The Westchester area lies only a few blocks beyond the present western city limits along the Levelland highway, which is a prolongation of Nineteenth street.

The area proposed for incorporation comprises about 2,000 acres —approximately three square miles. It is roughly triangular in shape, and about 1 3/4 miles in greatest length from east to west and 1 1/4 miles in greatest width from north to south.

According to various counts, approximately 130 to 140 families have homes there, including some of the costliest in the entire Lubbock area. Others cost only a few thousand dollars.

If the area should ever be cut up into lots and fully developed, sites are available for nearly 4,000 homes and a population of 15,000 to 20,000 people.

No Heavy Population Seen

Some leaders of the incorporation movement profess confidence that this would never happen. They contend the greater part of the area will remain in "small estates." They argued that the maximum number of houses likely to be erected will be 700 to 800.

The point of this argument seemed to be that water supplies from private wells will always be ample for 700 or 800 families. Their contention, in brief, was that they don't have to worry about water.

But they acknowledged, at the same time, that a denser development would create a serious water problem. They don't have water for a population of several thousand.

They professed confidence, however, that property owners in the area would never allow a dense development.

But most of the Westchester area is now farm land.

If some property owner should see a chance to make a financial "killing" by cutting his land up into lots in the middle of this "exclusive" area, no one could stop him.

Grant said, however, that the various pros and cons of the Westchester matter will be threshed out at the meeting Monday afternoon. Everyone desiring will have the opportunity to be heard.

The meeting is expected to determine definitely, one way or the other, whether the special election next Saturday will be called off or held as now scheduled.

previously had announced that the administration fight will be aimed not at this reduction, but the long series of amendments approved by the appropriations group.

Stands By Cuts

But Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn) stuck by all reductions ordered by his appropriations committee as well as the numerous riders and amendments it approved.

The appropriations group voted a total of $3,268,380,000 for the second year of the Marshall plan, plus a $150,000,000 fund for Export-Import bank loans to the European nations. The bill also carried funds for occupied areas, trimmed 10 per cent below requests.

Tidelands Talks

most directly involved indicate California and Louisiana may come to the meeting prepared to endorse the Rayburn proposal, but that Texas will not yield on several major points.

Louisiana Favors Compromise

Louisiana's Lieut. Gov. William D. Dodd, has said he thinks the compromise should be accepted as the best settlement his state is likely to get.

He said he also thinks Texas and California seem closer than ever to agreement.

The Texas School Land board has decided several features of the Rayburn proposal could not be accepted.

Composed of Gov. Allan Shivers, Land Commissioner Bascom Giles and Attorney General Price Daniel, the board has jurisdiction over the public domain of Texas.

Daniel has been the most insistent in refusal to yield on points he believes rightfully come under jurisdiction of the states.

Points in the compromise proposal never have been made public by Rayburn.

Terms Are Outlined

He has said he is afraid the states will lose everything eventually in the Supreme court if they do not agree with federal authorities.

Louisiana Attorney General Bolivar Kemp, who has been in on the discussions, said the main points in the compromise are:

Federal control and management of all oil and gas leases except in inland waters—such as lakes, bays, harbors.

An allocation to the states of 62½ per cent of future revenues from tidelands not more than three miles out from shore; 50 per cent from tidelands farther out up to the edge of the continental shelf.

A waiver by the government of claims to tidelands revenues already collected by states.

Guarantees for the states of control of inland waters and of jurisdiction in all coastal waters over fish, oysters, shrimp and other marine life.

The Texas land board raised these objections:

The compromise bill does not vest ownership or title to any part of the disputed property or minerals in the state.

It treats Texas the same as all other coastal states limiting its boundary to three miles, in spite of the fact its gulfward boundaries were fixed at three leagues (10½ miles) by the Senate when it was a republic.

The bill does not provide for acceptance or approval by the Texas legislature.

Churchill Calls On

Attlee delivered a rival political speech before a miners rally.

"The strength of Churchill's language is in inverse ratio to his knowledge of the subject," Attlee said. "It is unfortunate that his words are taken at their face value in other countries. They just don't realize it is just Winnie's sentiments."

Attlee asserted the Conservative platform — pledging, among other things, to do a better job with Socialist laws already enacted and to halt further nationalization of industry—was dishonest and "only to a great piece of window dressing."

Outside Aid Cited

Churchill told the Wolverhampton rally Socialism is a costly fallacy and "its most direct expression, nationalization, is a failure."

The Socialists "have brought Great Britain low alike in prosperity and reputation, both at home and abroad," he said.

"They have squandered the reserves and resources which had been gathered in the past and have darkened and narrowed the future of every man, woman and child in this famous island.

"It is all the more amazing that they should have brought us down like this and given us such hard times during four years when they have not only been eating up our savings but have enjoyed the advantage of outside help on a scale never known in the history of any country in time of peace.

"The United States and the Dominion of Canada together have given to us subsidies which amount to nearly £2,000,000,000—£1,750,000,000 ($7,000,000,000) have come into this island by loan or gift from these two great capitalist countries, who also have their own troubles and burdens to bear. . . ."

"Our Socialist spendthrifts and muddlers have dissipated every overseas asset they could lay their hands on and, in addition, have exacted and extracted from our people a higher rate of taxation than was required at the very height of the war."

Churchill said the sterling area's dollar holdings of $1,600,000,000 "are the last reserves that stand between us and insolvency."

"The present government," he said, "have obviously no effective plan for dealing with this imminent peril."

Churchill said the greatest help Britain can give the world "is to stand erect in her native strength." Every country west of the iron curtain has made a better comeback than Britain, he said, even defeated Italy and Germany.

He charged that "nationalism spells the doom of trade unionism."

Labor unions form the backbone of the Labor party.

Woman Suffers Minor Injury When Struck By Car In City

Mrs. Ruth Brown, 45, of 3402 Ave. H, was slightly injured about 9:10 p.m. Saturday when she apparently walked into the side of a car at the intersection of Broadway and Ave. J.

Garlin N. Adams, 46, of Lubbock route 2, driver of the car involved took the injured woman to Lubbock Memorial hospital where she was found to have suffered a minor laceration on the back of the head.

program until the advisory council to be set up under the North Atlantic pact can name a defense committee to draft defense measures.

This view was shared by Senators Taft (R-Ohio) and Smith (R-NJ), who said in separate interviews that the pattern of overall defense should be decided before the United States starts supplying arms to European nations.

But Vandenberg said he would reserve decision until he saw the Truman proposals.

Urges "Base" Moves

Vandenberg also repeated his previous call for President Truto take up the other objectives if the so-called Vandenberg resolution passed by the Republican 80th Congress from which the Atlantic pact stemmed.

The Michigan senator said that these call on the President to work for (1) a voluntary agreement to remove the United Nations veto on settling world disputes peacefully, (2) an arms reduction agreement, or, if these efforts fail, (3) an amendment to the Un charter under provisions permitting a review by a general conference.

He urged that they be pursued to the utmost.

Several senators who voted for the Atlantic pact when it was ratified last week, as well as most of the 13 who opposed it, have indicated they will fight any large scale arms outlay at this time.

Chairman Kee (D-WVa) of the House Foreign Affairs committee said that he would begin hearings on the highly complicated measure at once. He expressed confidance that it would be passed by the House after considerable debate. Secretary Acheon probably will be first witness at hearings expected to start Tuesday.

But the House committee, like the rest of Congress, appeared to be deeply split on the issue of supplying arms to other governments in peacetime even with a "cold war "going on.

In fact some experts doubted whether the administration would succeed in getting it through both branches of Congress before the hoped-for adjournment in early September.

ALLIES MAY GET LATEST MODEL WEAPONS

WASHINGTON, July 23. (INS)—Official sources said today that the European arms aid program President Truman will send to Congress Monday will call for latest-model weapons for America's Atlantic pact allies.

The President is also expected to make clear, in his 2,500 to 3,000 - word message, that the United States has no intention of supplying atomic bombs to other pact signatories.

The program, it was learned, will call for the manufacturing of fresh armaments rather than the disposal of surplus war materials to Western European nations to aid them in the fight against Communism.

Reports are that the President will ask authority to provide $800 million worth of newly-manufactured war weapons to those nations receiving aid, but these reports lack confirmation from any official quarter.

The arms program is to be sent to Congress along with a number of documents intended to impress legislators with the need for quick implementation of the Atlantic pact, ratified by the Senate this week.

Eddie D. Maines, 41, of 101 Avinger addition, was placed under $250 peace bond Saturday afternoon after a hearing before Justice of Peace C. E. Lynn. The man's wife, Vivian, complained that he threatened to do her bodily harm. Maines had not posted bond late Saturday.

Henry McDede, 25-year-old Lubbock negro was charged in Corporation court with theft under $5 on complaint of Otis Stans, another negro, that McDede had stolen his billfold July 18. McDede pleaded guilty before Judge Solon Lea and was fined $15.

Fines Are Assessed

Two AWOL sailors, one a Lubbock youth, were picked up by city police Saturday in compliance with a telegraphed request by California authorities. Both are wanted for questioning in connection with a car theft in San Diego. The pair are Joe Parham and Nelson Cullum. Cullum told officers his home is in Monticello, Georgia.

The following judgments were signed by County Judge Walter Davies Saturday:

James Carter, 51, a negro of 11 miles east of Lubbock, $100 and court costs on a plea of guilty of a charge of possession of untaxed liquor; and T. G. Sims, 34-year-old negro of 2810 East Ave. L, $500 and costs for transporting whisky, beer and wine. The sheriff's office also held committments on Sims for $5.50 and court costs on two previous liquor law violation convictions.

Also in county court, R. M Crabtree, 52, of 1809 Main, pleaded innocent of drunk driving and posted $400 bond set by Judge Davies.

James Redman of Ropesville told police that a black 1936 Ford, license AP 2648, had been stolen from the parking lot at the Keeton Packing house east of Lubbock. The keys had been left in the car, Redman said.

Ernest Jones, jr., of Lubbock route 6, reported theft of a red and green bicycle from the 800 block Broadway Saturday afternoon.

Floyd County Judge, Family Vacationing On West Coast

FLOYDADA, July 23 (Special) —Floyd County Judge G. C. Tubbs and Mrs. Tubbs currently are vacationing on the West Coast. They were accompanied by their daughter, Mrs. Mary L. Clark of Biloxi, Miss.

The family will visit with Judge Tubbs' mother, Mrs. G. W. Tubbs, of Mendicino, Calif., and with a sister. Judge and Mrs. Tubbs also will visit their daughter, Mrs. Wilmer O. Jones jr., who resides in Anahein, Calif.

Final Events Held In Scurry County Rodeo

SNYDER, July 23. (Special)—The annual rodeo at the Scurry County Rodeo grounds here drew to a close tonight as final contestants vied for the $3,000 in cash prizes offered.

Over 3,000 people attended the final performance and as they filed from the grounds, R. D. Parks, president of the Scurry County Rodeo association, commented, "This is by far the best of any annual rodeos held here."

A heavy rainfall Friday afternoon cancelled the 7 p. m. street parade and sponsor's events so a double session took place tonight.

Some Winners Reported

Some of the winners in tonight's contests were:

Wild cow milking—first, Alf Beaver, Fluvanna; junior ribbon roping—first, Bordon Reeder, Gale; senior steer riding—three men, John Farris, J. N. Eicke and Weldon Perry, completed rides; calf roping—first, Riley Miller, Fluvanna; junior steer riding—Ken Loso, Billy Pylant, and Jim Cary completed rides; barrel race —first, Rose Mary Rice; flag race —first, Sadie Smith, Gale; and five men completed rides in the saddle bronc riding contest..

Mystery Witness

and put out those already here.

Attorney General Clark disclosed last week that more than a score of United Nations employes are being investigated.

Witness No. 8 might be a Czech. He told the committee that "the Communist influence" in the UN secretariat could never have developed to the extent it has "if there had not been pressure from the top."

Employes Frightened

"People, even of democratic conviction, who don't like to lose their positions, become instruments of the Communist apparatus or are too frightened to resist and to take a clear-cut democratic standpoint," he said.

"There must be," he said "a machine within the UN which sees to it that employes including Americans, are of Communist inclination.

The witness said the only assistant secretary-general who resisted was "the Australian, Commander Jackson" and added he was fired last summer under pressure from Arkady Sobolev, Russian assistant secretary in charge of the security department.

Jackson "was dismissed by Trygve Lie on the insistence of Sobolev," the witness said.

"Swallow Everything"

At another point he remarked:

"The people are so afraid of losing their well paid jobs there, under the pressure which is coming from the top, that they are swallowing everything which Trygve Lie wishes."

An unidentified senator broke in to remark:

"I think that is the kind of thing that we want to know, the domination of the top, which is communistically inclined, controlling the action of the secretariat."

The witness: "Yes, and terrorizing the whole secretariat."

Among other things in his testimony, the witness said that iron curtain nations are favored over democratic nations in receiving UN fellowships for studies in the United States.

Terrorism Claimed

It was in connection with this discussion that he said:

"Why doesn't the United States government speak clear language with Mr. Trygve Lie? Say, 'We know what you stand for.' If you say, 'no more of this (if I may say) monkey business, not any more fellowships mostly for the iron curtain countries. . .'

"Why shouldn't you bring pressure on the United States delegation or advice on the United States delegation to them not any more Mr. Trygve Lie, that we want there a man who is capable to take care in the right way."

The witness said Communists within the UN aim to keep employes "who are of democratic conviction under pressure and terror."

NEWS BRIEFS

Funeral services for Fred Freeman, sr., 69, of 2104 Twenty-ninth, who died Friday after fracturing his hip ten days ago, were held at 4 p.m. Saturday, in Decatur. Christian Funeral home there was in charge of arrangements.

Fred McDonald of Ralls is resting as well as possible following bone surgery performed Monday at Harris Memorial hospital in Fort Worth, according to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alex McDonald, 2221 Eighteenth. He will be a patient in the hospital for three weeks.

A set of eight keys on a ring were found Friday on the street and turned in to the Lubbock county sheriff's department. The owner of the keys may have them by calling at the sheriff's office and identifying them as his property. The keys looked as if they had been used almost daily and had apparently been lost only a short time before they were found, the office said.

A 15-year-old Cameron youth was brought from Slaton to Lubbock Memorial hospital about noon Saturday for treatment of injuries suffered in an accident at a bakery owned by an uncle there. The boy, Gwenneth Fleming, nephew of Barney Wilson, of Slaton, suffered a compound fracture of the right arm when the arm became entangled in a bread-mixing machine.

New Lamesa Industry Formally Dedicated; Products Of Plant Featured In Style Show

By EDWARD WELSH
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

LAMESA, July 23. — Lamesa's newest industry and the only plant of its kind on the South Plains was officially dedicated in appropriate ceremonies Saturday night. It is the Delta Manufacturing Company's modern, fireproof, brick building at 1001 N. Fourth street. The firm will manufacture denim and khaki work clothing for the Southwestern states.

Calling the industry "a tribute to the community and a farsighted move on the part of the company officials" Mayor Sam Richardson, acting as master of ceremonies, introduced officers of the company, key employes and visitors from many parts of the state.

Carl Rountree, Lamesa attorney and a director of the new firm, made the address of welcome and told the audience of 300 assembled in the plant that he was proud to be "associated with the directors of the Delta company and was glad to have such fine citizens added to the population of the community."

H. C. Ingram, president of the company, responded to welcome.

"We are sure we have made a wise move," Ingram said. "We studied the town very carefully. We liked its people and its future possibilities. For that reason we consolidated two other plants, closed them and have moved the entire operation to Lamesa. We like you people and we want you to like us."

Following the brief addresses a style show featuring the company's products, known as "Scott's Level Best" garments, were modeled by members of the Beta Sigma Phi sorority. Gilbert Watson announced each of the models and explained the type of garment being worn.

The Delta plant is approximately 140 by 150 feet. It contains a stockroom, storeroom, offices 20 by 75 feet and the balance of the floor space is utilized for manufacturing.

All the latest machinery is used for cutting, sewing, forming button holes, applying zippers, pressing and many other operations. One cutting table is 120 feet long and ten feet wide. With electric power shears as many as 75 thicknesses of denim or khaki fabric are cut into various shapes and patterns for assembly. There are 80 sewing machines.

At present some 125 persons are employed. More than 95 per cent of them are women. Ingram stated that the number of employes will probably double in the near future and sales are expected to top $1,000,000.

Refreshments were served after the style show by a committee under the direction of Mrs. Matt McCall, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

Officers and directors of the new firm are: Ingram, Rountree, L. W. Fellers, Fredericksburg, vice-president; Fred Mathiesen, Fredericksburg; treasurer, Cecil Blanton, C. A. Eiland, C. A. Hollinsworth, all of Lamesa, directors.

Members of the Chamber of Commerce advertising and industrial committees, headed by Kermit Ashby and Jim Moody, respectively, acted as hosts to the visitors. All were dressed in garments produced in the factory at Lamesa. The plant will continue to have open house Sunday and Monday to permit the public to view the whole operation.

Kilgore reported 6.4 inches after 2 p.m. Friday. Big Sandy, 12 miles west of Gladewater, reported about 7 inches.

Greenville reported 7.80 inches of rain fell by 11:30 p.m. Most of that—7.72 inches—fell in the two-hour period between 9:20 a.m. and 11:20 a. m. Rolls of thunder and streaks of lightning came with the rain.

Lightning Struck Church

About eight miles to the north an electrical storm hit Wolfe City about 9:30 a.m. Lightning struck the Baptist church but damaged only the steeple.

Shortly after noon the rain stopped at Gladewater.

Also in East Texas Lufkin got .93 inch of rain, Tyler .63 and Texarkana a trace.

More than half an inch of rain fell at Seymour during the day.

Spotted showers fell during the afternoon in Midland and the vicinity. Midland had heavy showers Friday night.

Late in the afternoon a thunderstorm and light rain hit in Waco. Marfa reported a thunderstorm.

Rainfall reported included: Texarkana 1.08 inches, Presidio .28, El Paso showers, Palestine .27, Beaumont .09, Galveston .50, Midland .05, Childress .19, Lufkin .23.

"industrial" application of atomic power shall be given nations until there is an international control agreement.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) former chairman of the Senate-House committee, has contended that A-bomb making comes under the industrial clause and thus bars the exchange of information.

British Deny Report

Chairman David E. Lilienthal of the Atomic Energy commission is reported to believe the President has authority to exchange atomic information with the British.

Such an agreement would bypass Congress. A Democratic official has emphasized that Mr. Truman at the Blair House meeting was not threatening to act without officially consulting Congress.

British officials have denied they have made any demand upon this country for technical know-how, they have said they would like to be kept up to date on developments.

Testimony before the Senate-House committee has disclosed that this country had a new type of bomb much improved over the wartime models dropped on Japan.

The British have a lever, if they choose to use it. American contracts with British-owned mines in the Belgian Congo, where a large share of the world's usable uranium comes from, expire this year.

Harper, after studying the latest robbery, said, "It was a well-cased job, well planned and expertly executed by someone who not only knows his burglaries but also his explosives."

Early today, burglars blasted a wall safe from its concrete block at the Ideal Food store, taking the safe and its contents with them. Officers believed nitroglycerine was used to blow the safe. Entry was made through a smashed window of the store's bakery department above the store.

The series of grocery store robberies began June 23, when two men took $134, passed up $900 in another cash register and locked seven early-arriving employes in a vegetable cooler vault.

On July 9, two gunmen believed by police to be the same pair, locked up 11 employes of a supermarket, forced the manager to open a safe and made off with $11,000 in cash and checks.

Just last Monday, July 18, two gunmen forced the manager of another supermarket to open a safe for $1,650. The manager was locked in a meat locker where the temperature was 33 degrees. Remained there for 35 minutes before other employes arrived to let him out.

The Thursday night hijacking of a service station was pulled by two men and netted $81.09.

He said that the taxes now are causing unemployment and shutdowns in a number of industries and specialty lines. If this trend can be halted and reversed, George said the savings in federal relief costs "might be tremendous."

Solon Recalls Promise

Previously George and most Democrats on his committee voted against a partial removal of the wartime excise taxes sponsored by Senator Edwin C. Johnson (D-Colo) and most Republicans.

George said that when Congress imposed the wartime levies "we promised to take all of them off six months after the end of the war."

Annual Junior Rodeo Planned At Post Arena For Three Days

POST, July 23. (Special) —The second annual Southwestern Champion Junior rodeo will be unwound in the Post Stampede arena Aug. 11, 12 and 13, it was announced today.

There will be three night performances and a special matched roping on the last afternoon of the show. This unusual rodeo, which is the world's original all-junior rodeo, was originated by Alvin G. Davis of Post.

It is run by a board of 15 junior directors under the supervision of the Post Stampede and it is open only to boys and girls 18 years of age or under. It even features a junior clown and junior specialty acts.

Six Events Scheduled

The clown for this year's show is Dale Winders of Earth, with his mule, Pancho. Trick riders and trick ropers for the show are Ted and Betty Lamb of Dallas. Nat Fleming of Wichita Falls is the announcer and Goat Mayo of Petrolia is furnishing the stock.

There will be six events: calf roping, hat race, bull riding, ribbon roping, cowgirl sponsor and a state championship junior cutting horse contest sponsored by the National Cutting Horse association.

More than 200 contestants from all over the southwest are expected to be entered in the show and some of the best cutting horses in Texas will be seen in action.

The six boys in the special $600 matched roping all distinguished themselves in Texas rodeo arenas in competition with other juniors as well as adults. The boys who will rope three calves each are Bill Teague of Crane, Jim Bob Altizer of Del Rio, Scotter Fries of Bandera, Bob Thompson of Stinnett, Jimmy Bird of Jost and Clay Cade of Alpine.

A long parade will open the show just prior to the first night's performance and another parade will be held on the last afternoon.

Many distinguished personalities are expected to be present for the show. One special guest of the rodeo committee will be Rene Ricado, jr., of San Jose, Costa Rica, son of the former president of that country.

Alvin G. Nance is managing director of the show. Carter White, another well known Texas 4-H boy, is assistant manager and secretary, and Jimmy Bird is the arena director. Judges are Ed Sims of Walsenburg, Colo., Lewis Nance of Justiceburg, Harold Childs of Santa Fe, N. M., and W. J. Tipton of Post. All proceeds from the show go to the Garza county 4-H building fund.

GETS HOLE-IN-ONE

PORTCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—Jesse B. Jacobson, 20, failed to break 100 but he did get a hole-in-one. Playing the Green Valley course his tee shot went into the cup on the 131-yard third hole. He used a No. 8 iron, switching from a No. 7 on the advice of another player. His 18-hole score was 100.

Numerous Towns In State Celebrating Rodeos, Festivals

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

All the whooping and hollering over Texas these days is just the annual outburst of hometown pride.

It's the time of rodeos—cowboy reunions—boom town celebration — annual picnics —grape festival—peach and melon festival — any excuse for a whangdang.

It's an old Texas custom.

Numerous Events Held

Fort Worth set aside eight days to celebrate its 100th birthday. The celebration — called the Festa-cade—wound up Saturday night. Attendance by Thursday night at the nightly show had reached 21,-239.

Burkburnett closed its boom town birthday celebration Friday with a downtown parade and free movie— and a rodeo, of course.

De Leon celebrated a good peach and melon crop with a three-day festival ending Saturday night. Watermelons were free for everybody who came. No rodeo, though. Instead, a square dance every night.

Claude had to delay its opening parade for the Caprock roundup Thursday for 30 minutes while a light sprinkle drifted through a dust storm. Rodeo and big street dance every night through Saturday.

Snyder opened a four-day rodeo Wednesday night, Llano staged a beginner's rodeo Saturday night, Ranger closed its three-day rodeo Saturday night—just to mention a few.

Bastrop opened its second annual homecoming Friday, with a rodeo every night through Sunday.

And there are still more to come—the Top O'Texas rodeo and horse show at Pampa, the Monahans rodeo opening July 27, Big Spring rodeo Aug. 3-7, the 13th annual XIT Reunion in Dalhart July 28-31.

And a grape festival, too. That will go on Monday and Tuesday at the laboratories near Montague in North Texas.

WIDOWS ARE DIFFERENT

OSLO, Norway (U.P.)—Divorced women prefer bachelors when they remarry, the Oslo statistical bureau finds. Widows, however, very often marry widowers or divorced men, and for many years the figures have been constant, the bureau said.

Lockney Will Start Cleanup Campaign

LOCKNEY, July 23 (Special)—Lockney's new garbage collection system—part of an overall sanitation program undertaken by the city and its residents—was put into operation here this week.

Under the present setup, a garbage truck will pick up trash and garbage in the residential area twice a week, and in the business district every day. The pickup system is under the direction of Brownie McDowell.

McDowell has announced that his truck will cover the residential area west of Main street on Tuesday and Saturdays, and the area east of Main on Mondays and Fridays.

Lockney residents have been askd to co-operate by placing their garbage and trash in covered cans in their alleys. During inclement weather when the unpaved alleys are impassable, garbage is to be placed in cans on the front curbs in order that it can be picked up from the street, it was announced.

No charge is to be made for the collecetion service.

Peron To Lay Down Party Line In Big Argentine Political Rally

BUENOS AIRES, July 23, (AP)—President Juan D. Peron will lay down the new Peronista party line Monday in opening the biggest political rally ever staged in Argentina.

Six thousand delegates from different parts of the country are gathering here for a five-day powwow, the three-year-old party's first national convention.

In his keynote address Peron is expected to stress party loyalty and disciplinary measures for those who do not go along with the Peronista program. The party has been purging itself of rebellious elements recently.

Peron was elected president in 1946 for a six-year term. He controls a well oiled political machine which has captured every provincial election since 1946. The three branches of government—executive, judicial and legislative—are firmly in the grip of Peron and his supporters.

Argentina's 95-year-old constitution was changed recently, at Peron's request, to make a president elegible to succeed himself in office.

Solons Gives Okay To Huge Sum For Kirtland Field Housing

ALBUQUERQUE, July 23. (INS)—A two million dollar housing construction program for Kirtland Field Air Force base at Albuquerque has been approved by a House Armed Services committee in Washington.

Col. Harold A. Gunn, Kirtland commandant, said the addition of the Kirtland construction fund to a military construction bill indicated that the Albuquerque base is now considered a permanent Air Force installation.

Col. Gunn pointed out, however, that Congress still must approve the military construction funds in a separate measure. Approval by the House committee constitutes only an authorization, he said.

Newark Cab Drivers To Be Enlisted In War Against Crime

NEWARK, N. J., July 23 (AP)—Public Safety Director John B. Keenan today disclosed a police plan to provide descriptions of all wanted bandits to the city's 1,000 taxicab drivers.

"This city will be hotter than ever for the hoodlum who thinks he can pick up an easy dollar at the point of a gun or knife," Keenan said.

Keenan said the cab drivers will in effect become "private eyes" for the police. He added that it doesn't mean they will spy on passengers or become amateur detectives.

They will, however, keep their eyes peeled for men wanted for holdups, and report suspicions to the police, he said.

Number Of Polio Patients Show Sharp Decline At San Angelo

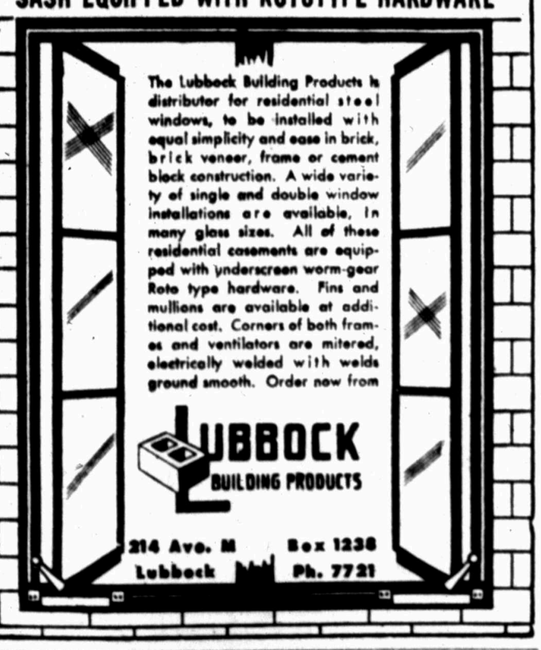

SAN ANGELO, July 23 (AP)—Only 48 victims of polio remained under treatment here today as the disease continued to lose its epidemic punch in West Texas.

During the 24-hour period ending at midnight Friday night, only one patient—an adult from Big Lake—was brought to this city for treatment. During the same period six patients were dismissed from local clinics.

SCENES AT SWIMMING CLASSES—It would be impossible to show the 8,000 persons who have taken advantage of the free swimming classes given by the City Recreation Department. But these pictures give some idea of the daily crowds since the city pool at Mackenzie State park opened June 1. Lessons in swimming will be given right through the summer, with another period of instruction opening August 1. At the same time, Red Cross Junior and Senior Life Saving classes will be held for all those who can qualify. Also starting on August 1 will be a special water instructor's class for adult men and women. And all during August special diving instruction classes will be held. These pictures show various phases of the instruction at the popular swimming pool. In the top picture is shown one of the complete classes to go through the swimming training program. With them, in the center rear, are four of the instructors, Bill Harless, Costin Bufkin, Ben Wilson and Floyd Rector. Giving artificial respiration to Rector is Harless in the picture at left below, while part of the life saving class looks on. This type of training will never be forgotten and would save a life sometime. The picture to the right of the life saving one shows a group of the younger boys and girls ducking their heads under water. This is done to give them confidence and to get used to the water. Advising them are Bufkin and Wilson, left to right. The two smaller phatos show methods of carry when a person is being rescued. At left, Harless uses the "tired swimmer's carry" to tow Rector to safety, Rector being held in Harless' arms. At the right, Harless uses the "cross chest carry" to bring Rector, held firmly by Harless' arm, to safety. (Staff Photos By Tyler Curtis.)

Abilene Blue Sox Drop Lubbock Hubbers, 6-4

Stop That Plunge!!!

ABILENE, July 23. (AP)—Will Roca was accorded more timely support by his Blue Sox mates and bested John Myers in a neat pitching duel here tonight, Abilene defeating Lubbock 6-4.

The Blue Sox had to rally three times to pass Lubbock and come out winner. They took a lead in the second on hits by George Sturdivant and Bobby Fernandez, and Lubbock tied it up in the third on a hit by Myers, followed by two Blue Sox fumbles and a single by Jim Prince.

Lubbock went ahead with a run in the fourth after consecutive short singles by Mike Dooley, Charles Willis and Buddy McCallum ,loading the bases. Myers hit into a double play, but Dooley scored from third. Duarte grounded out to Greer, who handled 13 chances at shortstop tonight.

In the same frame George Sturdivant led off for Abilene with a homer to tie the score, and Fernandez hit the second of three consecutive doubles which, with a single, gave him a perfect night at bat. He stole third and scored on Olie Moreno's fly to center.

Fernandez third double and Calvino's single made it 4-2 for Abilene in the sixth, but Lubbock tied it up in the seventh after two outs, Nelson hitting a homer, followed by consecutive singles by Prince and Bo Dempsey. Dooley hit a fly to left center of which Concepcion made a sensational catch, but Umpire Crain ruled interference and Dooley was safe. Roca walked Willis to force in Prince with the tying run.

Myers walked Concepcion and Sturdivant in the seventh, Fernandez and Earl Perry scored them with singles to put Abilene ahead for keeps.

Time Running Out For Securing Reservations To Texas Tech Tilts

Time is running out for persons to make reservations for season tickets for Texas Tech's six home football games.

Morley Jennings, Tech athletic director, reminded grid fans that they have until August 10 to make reservations for the approaching season. Season reserved seats will cost $14.58 and season box seats will cost $17.70. Both prices include tax.

Reservations may be made by calling the athletic office, or by addressing a letter to the office. Checks or cash do not have to accompany letters.

Lamesa Defeats Oilers, 10 To 8

LAMESA, July 23. (Special)—The Lamesa Loboes took their sixth straight win here tonight in a series opener with the Pampa Oilers, coming from behind to take a 10-8 decision behind splendid relief pitching by Lefthander Dempsey Sterling, who won his fourth game with no defeats.

A crowd of 1,433 fans saw Sterling limit the Oilers to one hit in the last 6 2/3 innings while his mates staged two big rallies to overcome six unearned runs counted by the visitors in the first frame.

Pampa's half-dozen first inning tallies came on only three singles plus a hit batsman and five Lamesa errors. The Oilers scored two more tallies in the third before Sterling replaced Joel Locke, who was victimized by sloppy support while allowing six hits.

Lamesa collected 14 hits off Roy Parker, who was tagged with his eighth defeat after 11 straight wins, and Charlie Bodine. Parker giving up all the Lobo runs.

Pioneers Gain 15-7 Win Over Amarillo

AMARILLO, July 23 (AP)—The Clovis Pioneers battered Steve Lagomarsino and Bob German for 17 hits which included five home runs and as many doubles and defeated Amarillo 15-7 in the series opener here tonight and snapped a brief winning streak for the Gold Sox.

Glenn Coats and Ray Bauer had two homers apiece for the winners and each added a single. Bauer driving in six of the Clovis runs.

Stanolind Cops 5 to 2 District Softball Win

PLAINVIEW, July 23 (Special)—Near capacity crowds watched the fourth night of softball in the West Texas District Softball tournament here, with Stanolind of Levelland, Anthony's of Plainview and Polk Street Methodist Church of Amarillo advancing through victories.

Stanolind turned back Estelline 5-2, Anthony's whitewashed 66 Bar of Borger 2-0, and Polk Street Methodist tripped Cities Service of Plainview 12 to 6.

Top performance of the night was turned in by Bill Howton, youthful Plainview hurling star, who allowed the Borger entry only two hits in hurling his second game of the tourney.

Howton Whiffs 14

Howton, the Rice student, was in fine form as he went the distance. He whiffed 14 batters, gave up only three bases on balls and allowed only two hits. One of these was a single by Tommy Ward in the fourth and a double by James Witt, with one out in the seventh.

A fast double play in the fourth may have saved Howton's shutout, for Bob Bogle took a line drive and flipped it to Lupey Meador at first to double a runner off the base. Jack Atkins singled both runs home in the first inning. John Long had reached first on an error, was sacrificed to second and stole third. Runt Burch walked and stole second. And both runners counted on Atkins' single.

Estelline Takes Lead

Estelline went into an early lead on single runs in the first and second innings, but couldn't hold the lead. The Stanolind team scored once in the fourth and sacked away the game in the fifth with a two-run rally.

In that frame, Cecil Rowe reached the initial sack on a single and advanced when R. R. Parsons, the manager, was safe on an error. Bobby Young banged a single at this point to plate both Rowe and Parsons with the runs that won the game.

Henry Moran started the game for Levelland, but gave way to Young, who finished strong to gain the win. Ec Anthony, losing hurler, also turned in a good game, but three errors behind him hurt. Anthony struckout six, Young three, but Anthony gave up four walks to a single pass by Young.

Polk Street Methodist wasted no time slugging the Cities Service nine of Plainview into submission, scoring nine runs before the Plainview team could dent the rubber. And by the time they did, the game was safely stowed away.

Hits and errors turned the final game of the night into a disappointing exhibition for the Plainview fans. There was no question about the superior team.

Local VFW Splits With Abilene

ABILENE, July 23. (Special)—The Lubbock VFW softball team came near to winning the state title here tonight but faded in the second game to place second to Abilene in the tourney which began Thursday.

Lubbock won the first game, 3-2, to hand Abilene its first setback in the tournament, but in the second contest Abilene had too much power and won easily, 9-2.

Loy Hubbard pitched the first tilt for VFW, and he had fine control as he limited Abilene to only three hits. He started the second game and was charged with the loss.

Lubbock was held hitless by two Abilene hurlers, but wildness in the first inning gave them the victory. Three runs in the first frame on three walks, one hit batter, and an error provided the margin of victory, and Lubbock protected its lead although two runs were scored by Abilene in the sixth.

Jim Joe Reiger paced the attack in the second game with two hits; F. W. Baker and Smokey Hale singled, and F. C. Jackson doubled. Abilene scored twice in the first and once in the second and added three runs in the fourth and sixth. In the fifth inning Hale singled and was doubled home by Jackson. Earlier, in the fourth, Fowler reached second on an overthrow of a play at first and scored when Jim Joe Reiger singled. Bryan Clark led Abilene's hitting with a double and two singles.

Locals Will Go After Their Fourteenth Win

Winner Of Series To Represent Area One In State Meet At Bryan On August 2-5

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche-Journal Sports Writer

When Lubbock's American Legion Junior baseball team meets the Odessa Blue Sox at 8:15 p.m. Monday at Rosenthal field, it will be seeking its 14th straight victory without defeat and the first game of a crucial three-game area championship series.

The winner of the series will represent Area One of the Legion program at the state meet in Bryan August 2, 3, 4 and 5 in a double elimination tournament to decide the champion of Texas from the four area winners.

Move To Oiler Park

The second and third games of the Odessa series will be played Wednesday and Thursday nights at Oiler park in Odessa. If one team wins the first two, then the third will be unnecessary.

TICKET SALES ARE HEAVY

Tickets for the Monday night contest are 50 cents for adults and nine cents for children. Advance ticket sales are reported to be heavy. Members of Junior league teams and their coaches will be admitted to the game free if they wear their team jerseys. Teams will sit together and be introduced to the crowd before the game.

Lubbock's winning record is nothing short of sensational although teams in this division are considered weaker than those in Division Two. One of the victories was a forfeit by Plainview in district play.

The Allen Bros. team won the district title in a tournament held here by defeating Spur, 5-3, and Levelland, 12-9 and 13-0. Bi-district tussles with Hereford followed, and the Lubbock nine emerged with 16-1 and 11-3 victories. Then, in the divisional finals against Wichita Falls, 10-4 and 3-1 triumphs followed.

Odessa's season record is not known, but the team is generally rated as a tough one to beat. The Blue Sox won the district title by defeating Big Spring after taking their hair of the district in a play-off with Lamesa. Then in the divisional series, Odessa topped El Paso, 13-6 and 10-7.

White Probable Starter

Pitching duties for Odessa Monday will probably fall to Bobby White, a righthander. White did not see service in either of the division contests and should be ready to go in the first Lubbock tilt. If White does not pitch, then Bobby Britt, who stopped El Paso in their first game, will go to the mound. The other mound ace is Lefthand-

Albuquerque Takes Two From Gassers

BORGER, July 23 (AP)—The Albuquerque Dukes lowered the boom on the Borger Gassers, sweeping both games of the double header tonight 6-2 and 8-3. The doubleheader marked the first two of four games to be played in three days in Huber park.

Breisinger went the distance on the hill for the Dukes, allowing but five hits and walking four during the seven inning tilt. Seven Gasser batters went down via the whiff route in the second game, as the big Borger bats failed to boom for the second time tonight.

Neither team could manage a score for the first three frames in the nightcap, but Albuquerque for the second time tonight surged forth in the fourth inning. The Duke's six big runs came as Tommy Fox singled to start things rolling. Maul singled him to second and Fiscalini advanced both runners with a sacrifice. Hershel Martin loaded the bags, drawing an intentional pass. The Gasser strategy failed to come through as Atyd. Dawson singled Breisinger with a double scoring Fox and Maul. Okrie struck out and Breisinger singled in Martin and Atyd. Dawson singled Briesinger to third and McClain singled him in for the runs in the fourth.

Between The Lines by Joe Kelly

Short takes on a Friday afternoon, or, you never know what you can think of when you sit down at a typewriter. . . . Ice skating may make its debut in Amarillo this winter, along with exhibition ice hockey. Dory Detton, wrestling promoter and wrestler, hopes to set up a rink in the city with the help of the Pitt Electric company. . . . Hockey teams would be brought in from Oklahoma City, Albuquerque and other points to put on exhibition games. That might be the start of hockey in West Texas (with apologies to Fort Worth). . . . Butler field in Amarillo is no more. It was sold recently to the Panhandle and Santa Fe railway for use as an industrial area. The Amarillo school board accepted a bid of $12,805 for the property.

Roy Parker, the fine Pampa lefthander, now has won 11 straight games. When he was here, Roy was complaining, of all things, about his hitting. He snapped out of that fast. . . . Joe Bauman, former Gold Sox first baseman, is slugging the ball hard for an Elk City, Okla., semi-pro club. . . . Three former Pampa players with the same club are Tony Range, Jack Riley and Mitch Chetkovich. Range and Riley were mainstays of the club last year, Chetkovich was dropped early this season. . . . Bob Bray, Amarillo Times sports editor, became a father this past week. Congratulations, Bob. . . . According to the averages, Doug Lewis was the top Sox hitter last week with a .359 average. Dick Gentzkow had the most Sox home runs, 17. All Amarillo marks were far under Hubber records at this point.

We'll make a prediction this Friday afternoon on which we're writing this—If Albuquerque, Abilene or Lubbock suddenly start winning right now, they'll run off with the pennant. If they don't, they'll all slide down. . . . In the way of promotion, the Austin Pioneers' management takes the Texas cake. They soon will give 1,000 orchids away to women coming through the gates. They also have scheduled a beauty contest and an appearance by Al Schacht. . . . We were sorry to see Eddie Melillo of Lamesa optioned to Gladewater, but glad in a way. He always was poison when playing the Hubbers, both at bat and in the field. . . . There's a lot more girls' softball activity on the South Plains than shows, with Ralls, Plainview and many other towns supporting the sport. But there's none here.

Attention George Schepps—We know that Greenville is in sad shape, but so is Lubbock. How about getting us a hard-hitting leftfielder and a pitcher capable of winning consistently? If we don't have both—and soon—the Hubbers will be lucky to remain in the first division. The race is getting tighter than a schoolboy in a new pair of shoes and the only thing that is saving the Hubbers — temporarily — is Albuquerque's failure to win. But Albuquerque went to the Pacific Coast league and picked up a pitcher and outfielder to help them. We need the same kind of help. Don't know whether you'll take this advice kindly, since a recent letter indicated you thought the Hubbers were in good shape.

What's this about dissension at Denver City in the Oil Belt league? They lost Billy Jernigan and they are in a fair way to lose Dorrance Guy. After all, semi-pro ball isn't aimon pure and a debt is a debt. . . . Whether the Bluebonnet-Sunbeamers have the same trouble ironed out on their club remains to be seen. . . . Jack Zeller, former Detroit bigwig and now a scout, asked Royce Mills recently if he had a good sinker. Rooster said that he didn't and in five minutes, Zeller taught him one. Mike Dooley says that it's a honey. . . . Mills passed on the good deed by teaching Don Hensiek how to sharpen his curve. It's making him a better pitcher, even though he's lost two games, both of them because his team failed to support him at the plate.

Roxy Middleton, a Boston Braves scout, was in Amarillo recently. He's expected here before long. . . . Another visitor to Gold Sox activity was Milton E. Price, league president. He also is expected here during the Hubbers' next home stand. . . . Milton said he thought the umpiring this year was comparable with last year—which means that it's lousy. . . . Ray "Big Train" Clements, who will gently tangle with Ginger, a bear, at Sled Allen's arena come Wednesday night, thinks he could be heavyweight boxing champ. . . . Big Train said that he'd gladly challenge Ezzard Charles on a winner-take-all basis after he, Big Train, had had two months to get in shape. You can bet on one thing, there'd be more slugging than in the pantywaist Charles-Jersey Joe Wolcott bout.

Pair Tie For Inverness Lead

TOLEDO, Ohio, July 23. (AP)—Melvin (Chick) Harbert and Bob Hamilton had a strangle hold today on the top prize of $4,000 with two rounds to go in the $15,000 Inverness four ball matches.

Harbert, the game's longest hitter, and former PGA champion Hamilton won two matches today to zoom into a commanding lead with plus 14, an edge of nine over their nearest foes in the 16-man eight-pair battle of birdies.

The surprise leaders won a four up victory over Sam Snead and Dick Metz this morning, and then came back this afternoon with a 29-31-60, an 11-under-par tournament record equalling score to snatch a six up decision over E. J. (Dutch) Harrison and Jim Turnesa.

Harbert and Hamilton have won four of their five matches, and have ripped strokes off every hole on the course. They've scattered 38 birdies and a pair of eagles over the entire layout and have a long lead in the race for the $300 prize for the most sub-par holes. They're tied with Mangrum-Palmer at 60 for another $300 for low score for a round.

A double play, Salman, Bennyfield and Perry, helped the Amarillo cause, if any was needed.

Glen Perry, with two singles in three trips, and Elbert Newell, with a single and double in three, paced the losers, while John Wilson, with two singles in three trips, and James Sims, with a single and double in three, led the winners.

Two games will be played Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday nights, with game times at 8 p. m. and 9:30 p.m. The schedule Monday night calls for Polk Street to meet the Floydada Merchants and the San Jacinto Baptists to play Murrell Furniture of Plainview. Tuesday night, Ward's Grocery of Plainview meets 66 Bar and Anthony's plays Canyon. Wednesday night Lubbock Barber college plays the winner of the Ward - Bar game and Stanolind Oil meets the winner of the Merchants-Polk Street contest.

Odessa Blue Sox To Play Legion

The heaviest hitters on the Blue Sox team are Dawton Hughes, big catcher, and Charlie Clover, first baseman. Hughes smashed a 360-foot homer out of Oiler park in the first El Paso contest.

Starting for Lubbock in the first game will be Benny Day, young portsided hurler with seven victories this season. In addition to pitching, Day has snapped out of an early season hitting slump and is now batting .280, hitting safely in his last five games.

All-around heads-up play has been one of the bright spots of the Allen Bros. team this year, and this factor can be attributed to the hours of coaching put in by Sam West, Herman Brown, Joe Holmes and others connected with the Legion team, and willingness to learn by team members.

Brown Paces Lubbock

Leading the Lubbock hitting attack all season has been shortstop Bobby Brown. Brown has hit safely in all 12 games, compiling a .539 average with 21 hits in 39 official times at bat. He leads his team in home runs with five and has three triples and two doubles.

Catcher Tommy Yelvington is batting .404 and has hit safely in nine games. Included in his hits are one homer, three triples, and three triples.

With a .375 average is Centerfielder Jimmy Sexton, and he has belted one triple in 15 hits, going hitless on two occasions.

Close on the heels of Sexton and tied at .367 are Third Baseman Powell Hinson and Leftfielder Johnny Tatum. Each of the players has 11 hits in 30 plate appearances. Hinson has two triples and two doubles, and Tatum has three triples.

All other batters are below .300.

Waxahachie Gains 1 To 0 Win Over Waco In Legion Playoff

WAXAHACHIE, July 23. (AP)—Waxahachie evened its bi-district playoff series with a 1-0 victory over Waco in an American Legion junior baseball game here today.

Waco won yesterday's first game 4-3.

Today's game was scheduled for seven innings but went nine before a run was scored. Kenneth Owens singled to open the ninth for Waxahachie. He went to second on a passed ball, to third on an error, and on home when Bobby Boatman hit a bounder to third base.

The two teams will meet again tomorrow in Meridian for the last game of the series.

SPORTS Slants

BY CHUCK HUTCHESON

If, in the course of one of our warm summer afternoon, you should ever crave excitement, I have a sure-fire formula for supplying same.

Just stroll into the nearest barber shop and strike up an all-out debate with the question, "Who was the greater ball player — Babe Ruth or Ty Cobb?"

You'll get action a-plenty, pardner, and pronto.

Probably no topic is baseball history has been the subject of as many heated discussions as this Ruth-Cobb matter, which remains unsettled, and which still will be so when this column is finished and forgotten.

Indeed, the question has gained such stature in the sporting world that more than two pages of Frank G. Menke's "Encyclopedia of Sports" are devoted to a comparison of the two baseball immortals.

The hitch is that after reading the comparison, you wind up right back where you started — wondering who was greater, Ruth or Cobb.

Even so, it makes interesting reading, particularly right here in the thick of the pennant scrambles, with St. Louis breathing hot down the Dodgers' collars, the Yanks breezing along smoothly, and Lubbock racing Albuquerque for the cellar as though there were a tornado headed in this direction.

So, without further ado, let us examine the individual records of the colorful Bambino and the flying Georgia Peach.

Taking them alphabetically, which puts Cobb at bat first, here goes:

His 24-year batting average was .367, the highest in baseball history. He had 892 stolen bases, and 23 times hit above the .300 mark. He was league batting champion 12 times, nine of them in succession. He batted above .400 three times. He had the most total bases in American league history, 5,863; the most hits, 4,191; and the most runs, 2,244.

Cobb's total baseball earnings came to "only" $600,000, but he also hit close to 1.000 in the financial league. He invested heavily in General Motors and Coca Cola stock when both were new ventures, and is now said to be the world's wealthiest ex-major leaguer, with about $7 million.

Moving over to the Ruth side of the ledger, the first job is to correct the mistaken impression of many fans that the Babe was strictly a slugger.

He began his big league career as a pitcher, in fact, and in five years compiled a sparkling record of 66 victories and 35 defeats. During this time, he won three World Series games without a loss, and established a record of 29 consecutive Series innings.

In all, he played 22 seasons. He had 729 home runs (Series included), and had 60 circuit swats in one season, 1927. He led the league in homers 12 times, and hit 15 roundtrippers with the bases loaded. He won the league batting championship once, with .378 in 1924, and had a lifetime average of .342. He was walked 2,056 times, and struck out 1,300 times. In one World Series, he hit .625, an all-time high.

As a player, Ruth earned slightly more than $1 million in salary, World Series "cuts" and exhibition tours.

There you have the figures, Mr. Fan. Now what do you think?

Don't sell Lubbock's team short in the American Legion state playoff. Slender Benny Day, the Allen Bros. club's hurler, has improved considerably this season, and his southpaw slants may give the highly-rated "downstate" Legion crews more than a little trouble. . . . Coaches throughout the Plains area are dusting off their suitcases in preparation for junkets to the coaching school in early August at Beaumont. Most of the region's mentors will be there . . . Officials of the district softball tournament at Plainview decided not to schedule any Sunday games. The tourney finals probably will be played next Saturday night or the following Monday . . . Today's the day of the first annual Lubbock Jaycee flag tournament at the Meadowbrook golf course. Starting time is 1:30 p. m. . . . At their present clip, the Philadelphia Athletics will shatter all major league double-play marks. They've averaged one and one-third twin killings per game . . . American league lefthanders are enjoying a great year against Detroit. Southpaws have beaten the Tigers 17 times in 29 decisions this season.

District Two TAF Softball Tourney Will Open August 8

The District Two, Texas Athletic Federation softball tournament, will be held at Jumbo Webster Field here beginning August 8, with single elimination rules existing.

All entries must be sent to Curtis Barrett, tournament director, City Hall, Lubbock, not later than August 5. Entries must include $20 per team entry fee and 19 players must be certified not later than August 5.

Trophies will be given to the first and second place teams and the winning team will be given expense aid for the trip to the state tournament at Corpus Christi August 25 through 27. Admission to the games will be 50 cents for adults, nine cents for children.

Fort Worth Cats Defeat Missions

SAN ANTONIO, July 23 (AP)—The Fort Worth Cats took full advantage of the wildness of Ray Shore and George Hooks tonight to take the rubber game of the series from the San Antonio Missions, 7 to 4.

Bob Milliken was the winner though he had to have help from Carrol Beringer in the eighth.

DALLAS EAGLES DEFEAT HOUSTON BUFFALOES, 8-5

HOUSTON, July 23 (AP)—The Dallas Eagles prevented the Houston Buffs from making a clean sweep of the three game series here tonight, jumping on three Buff pitchers for an 8-5 victory before more than 4500 fans.

Homers by Ben Guintini and Ralph Rahmes and Bill Serena's two-run triple on a 3-0 pitch were the game's big blows.

Lan Franconi was the winning pitcher, but he received four innings of assistance for the victory from Floyd Speer.

All-America Conference Will Buck Free Substitution Rule

NEW YORK, July 23. (INS)—The All-America conference is going to buck the free substitution trend in football this fall by continuing to permit only one player from each team to enter a game while the clock's running after each play.

Commissioner O. O. Kessing, who announced conference rule changes today, said proposals to liberalize the substitution provision were rejected in a mail vote of league members.

A minor change will allow a kicker to return without an intervening play in case of a foul on a kick play if he has been replaced before the infraction was made known.

Seagraves Takes Lead In Oil Belt

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche-Journal Sports Writer

SEAGRAVES, July 23. — Seagraves' Oilers today took over undisputed possession of first place in the Oil Belt baseball league by edging out the Denver City Gassers, 7-6, before a capacity crowd of 1,000 fans at Graham field.

The Oiler triumph was Seagraves' second win this week over Denver City, and broke a first-place deadlock between the two teams.

Lefty Faulkner pitched 10-hit 11-strikeout ball to gain the victory. He left Gasser runners stranded on the basehits in all innings except the first and third.

Faulkner's mates chipped in with a 12-hit attack on three Denver City hurlers, Jackie Martyn, Denny Davidson and Marshall (Hook) Epperson. Martyn was the starter and loser.

Gassers Open Scoring

The Gassers opened the scoring with three runs in the second. R. D. Prather smashed a homer over the leftfield wall after Ed Gorman had walked for the first two tallies, and the third came on Jackie Cook's triple and Martyn's double.

Seagraves scored once in the third. Charles Galey was hit by a pitched ball, and advanced on Charles Wood's single. Sonny Willingham worked Martyn for a walk, filling the bases, then Galey came home on Phil Ragland's infield out.

The Oilers forged ahead with three markers in the fourth. Faulkner opened with a double and moved to third on Bill Cope's infield out. Red Deathrage brought Faulkner in with a single. Galey walked. Wood's single scored Deathrage and moved Galey to third.

That was all for Martyn, who gave way to Davidson. Little Denny promptly walked Willingham and Ragland, forcing in a run before Charlie Lawrence grounded out to end the uprising.

Denver City Fights Back

Seagraves padded its lead with three more tallies off Davidson and Epperson in the fifth. Faulkner again lit the fuse by singling. Cope followed with another single, and both runners advanced on Deathridge's sacrifice. Galey's single to right scored Cope and Faulkner, with Galey taking second on the throw-in. He then scored on Wood's single.

Denver City fought back vainly with three runs in the seventh. Doc Keel walked and took second on a passed ball. Thomas Hilton's grounder got through Ragland at shortstop, Keel scoring on the error. Landreth doubled to move Hilton to third. A wild pitch let Hilton score, then Gorman singled to drive in Landreth.

Seagraves' hitting honors were well distributed. Charles Wood led the way with three singles, while Lawrence, Faulkner, Cope and Deathridge had two hits each.

Today's line score:

DENVER CITY	020 000 300	6 10 2
SEAGRAVES	001 330 00x	7 12 2

Martyn, Davidson (4), Epperson (5) and Landreth; Faulkner and Deathrage, Gentry (4).

Cardinals Stage Late Rally To Overcome Brooklyn Dodgers, 5-4

Pittsburgh Downs Boston Nine, 12-9

BROOKLYN, July 23 (AP)—The St. Louis Cardinals staged a two-run ninth-inning rally with two out today to whip the Brooklyn Dodgers, 5-4, and cut the Brooks' National league lead to a half game. The triumph was the runner-up Cards' second straight victory over the Dodgers in the crucial four-game series which ends Monday.

Marty Marion singled home Stan Musial with the tying run and Joe Garagiola singled across Lou Klein with the winning run before a turnout of 28,396 fans.

The Cards had trailed, then tied the count in the seventh only to have Brooklyn take the lead again in its half of the seventh, 4-3.

Musial walked to start the final frame and Jack Banta, second Dodger pitcher, was relieved by Erv Palica. Palica, making his fifth appearance in as many days, fumbled Nippy Jones' bunt and both runners were safe.

Pior Signed As New Deal Coach

MONROE, July 23 (Special)—H. T. Pior, a 1938 graduate of East Texas State Teachers college, has been signed as head football coach at New Deal High school it was announced today.

Pior will succeed W. C. Hodges, who piloted the Lions last year.

The new coach has had a long record as assistant coach since graduation. He was a guard in football at East Texas and played on the championship team of the Lone Star Conference for two years.

He spent two years at Monument, N. M., and then went to Sherman, where he was line coach and head coach of basketball and track for three years. Since midterm of 1949, Pior has been at a Junior High school in Lubbock.

Preparations are being made to have one of the best football seasons in years. The first game will be on Sept. 9 against Abernathy and the game will be played on the new athletic field. The new field has new lights and will be one of the most modern Class B athletic plants in West Texas.

New Deal still needs an assistant coach to teach mathematics and work with Junior High school boys.

Jaycees Take Boys Club Game, 16 To 13

Three games were played in the Boys club baseball program Friday, and the Jaycees took the Junior league contest with a 15-13 victory over the Exchange club.

Leading the Jaycees was Sidney Butts, and he banged out a triple and three singles. Charles Moore collected two triples and two singles for the Exchange. Exchange scored seven runs in the first inning to go way out in front, but it could not hold the lead.

The Pee Wee and Pygmy games were turnabout decisions. The Pygmy Dodgers beat the Red Sox, 20-8, but the Pee Wee Red Sox defeated the Dodgers by the same, 20-8, score.

Leading the attack of the Pygmy Dodgers in their lopsided victory was Jerry Blair. The youthful slugger pounded out a triple, double, and two singles. Norvell Johnson paced the Red Sox with a triple and double.

Leading the Pee Wee Red Sox was Wendell Akin with two singles, and for the Dodgers it was Joe Cox with two singles.

Monday in the Pee Wee and Pygmy leagues the Indians play the Yankees. In the Junior league it will be the Methodist Men vs. Jaycees.

Detroit's Tigers Knock Over League-Leading Yankees, 2-1

Bob Feller Hurls Tribe To Victory

DETROIT, July 23. (INS)— New York's league lead over the second place Cleveland Indians was cut to four and a half games today when the Detroit Tigers knocked over the Yanks, 2 to 1, at Briggs Stadium.

The Tigers' Art Houtteman bested rookie Duane Pillette in a pitchers' duel, giving up but five hits as compared with six off his younger opponent.

Detroit scored both of its runs in the first inning on Pat Mullin's double to right, Vic Wertz' walk and George Kell's double to the leftfield wall.

New York's run was scored in the second frame. Joe DiMaggio walked, moved around to third on Charley Keller's double, then came home on Bob Brown's fly to Dick Wakefield.

The victory for Houtteman was his eighth of the season.

Coaltown And Armed Capture First, Third At Arlington

CHICAGO, July 23 (INS)—Calumet Farm's Coaltown and Armed bracketed Dixiana's Star Reward today to take first and third places in the 20th running of the Arlington Park Handicap.

The race was Coaltown's all the way, with three others trailing the front trio home before 27,127 spectators.

GOUGH TAKES FIRST PLACE

SHREVEPORT, July 23. (AP)—A 70 on a rain-soggy course gave first place to Lt. Col. Jamie Gough of Barksdale Air Force base in the air training command golf tourney. He wound up the play yesterday with a 274 for the 72 holes. Lackland Air Force Base of San Antonio won team honors with a total of 1,157.

City Open Tennis Resumes Monday

Activity in the Lubbock City Open Tennis tournament should break out anew Monday, following a lapse of activity the past two days.

Early results enabled two chamions to be named. Donald Lance was the first winner, taking the junior boys' singles crown, and then he teamed with Harold Gann to win the boy's doubles title. Gann defeated Pat Wiman to advance in the open singles division.

Returning to defend three titles which he won last year is A. J. "Jake" Broyles, Texas Tech star who last year won the men's singles, men's doubles and mixed doubles.

Broyles' partner in the mixed doubles will be Virginia Broyles, and C. R. Hutcheson will team with him in the open doubles.

Opening play in the men's open division will be Broyles and A. E. Cook. Both drew byes in the first-round matches. Bill Stelly is scheduled to play Emil Beck this week, and the winner will advance to a match with Mike Shaw. H. L. Burgess, sr., drew a bye and will play the winner of the match between Jim Burgess and Sherman Norton, likely to be played Monday.

There has been no play reported in the men's novice singles, and 14 entries still remain. Activity in the men's novice doubles class has not begun.

Byes in the men's open doubles advanced Wiman and Shaw and Burgess and Burgess to a quarter-finals match. Broyles and Hutcheson drew a bye and will play the winner of the Gann-Ed Scudday team vs. Charles Beath-Norton combination.

No action in the men's doubles, novice division, has been reported.

Donald Lance and Gann have advanced to the finals in the boys' singles. Lance dropped George Sewell, 6-1 and 10-8, while Gann was defeating Julian Kornfeld, 6-3, 6-3.

Activity in the girls' and women's divisions has been limited, and Joan Wallace defeated Joan Bolinger, 6-2 and 6-4, to advance to a finals match with Shirley Chapman.

In mixed doubles Gann and Wallace defeated Bolinger and Jack McCabe, 6-1, 6-0.

First-round matches in the women's singles have Annabelle Lee vs. Bolinger; Susie Conklin Vs. Virginia Broyles; and Marjorie Cone Vs. Frances Reid.

In women's doubles Conklin and Dee Bee Turner are scheduled against Mrs. John Wilson and Bolinger.

Mixed doubles put Broyles and Broyles against Sewell and Thelma Wilson.

TAF Boxing Set August 2

The District 2, Texas Athletic Federation Boxing tournament will be held in Brownfield August 2 and 3 at the Jaycee Rodeo arena, and a large group of boxers are expected to enter.

There will be both a novice and an open division with all winners receiving a trophy. All winners in the open division will be sent to the state TAF meet in Fort Worth August 11-13. Since the Amarillo district does not hold a district tournament, participants from that area will be eligible to fight on the Brownfield program.

The tournament is sponsored by the Brownfield Jaycees, and admission to the fight program will be $1.50 for reserved seats, $1 for unreserved ringside, and 65 cents for general admission.

The rules of the tournament will be the same as those used by the AAU. Entries should be sent to Sonny Wall at 411 East Main street in Brownfield as soon as possible.

All amateur boxers are invited to fight in the tournament. Novice boxers wil be matched with someone in their own class.

40,000 USE MACKENZIE POOL

Lubbock Said To Be Outgrowing Present Swimming Facilities

Lubbock seems to be outgrowing the present swimming facilities, according to the report from the City Recreation department, but despite the overload on the pool at Mackenzie State park the new filtration system has kept the water in the pool pure enough to drink.

From the time the pool opened on June 1 until July 15, more than 40,000 persons have used the facilities at the park, and before the season ends August 31 more than 80,000 persons are expected to swim at the pool.

8,000 Get Instruction

A large portion of the persons using the pool have been enrolled in the free swimming classes offered by the Recreation department. In the month and a half period 8,000 persons took advantage of the instruction periods.

A special water safety instructors' class to adult men and women will be offered beginning August 1 and continuing through August 27. The classes will be held from 7 to 9 p.m. for those persons who work and cannot take the course offered in the mornings.

As an added inducement to get people out to the pool, the department is taking reservations for private parties. After the pool closes at 9 p.m. private groups can use it until 12 midnight. The only charge made for this special service is the regular admission price plus $1 per hour for life guards and one manager.

Another stipulation is that there must be at least 25 persons in the party for at least two hours of swimming. The number of life guards depend on the size of the party. For information concerning private parties telephone 9346.

The annual citywide swimming and diving meet will be held Thursday, August 31, at the pool, and schedule of events will be announced later. Medals and trophies will be given all winners. Special classes in diving will be given on Saturday mornings in August from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

During the week in August instruction will continue for beginners in swimming in the morning, and life saving, first aid, and instructors classes will be held.

French, Italian Davis Cup Teams Battle To 1-1 Tie

PARIS, July 23 (INS)—French and Italian Davis Cup teams battled to a 1-1 deadlock today in opening singles matches of the European zone finals at Paris.

Marcel Bernard, top ranking French star, downed Marcello Del Bello of Italy, 6-4, 6-3, 4-6, 2-6, 10-8, in a long and hard fought duel.

Italy's No. 1 player, Gianni Cucelli, also was extended to five sets to defeat youthful Robert Abdosselam, 1-6, 6-8, 10-8, 6-4, 6-2.

SAUCIER OUT OF ACTION

WICHITA FALLS, July 23 (AP)—Frank Saucier, leading hitter in the Big State league, will be sidelined from two to three weeks. The Wichita Falls Spudder catcher was injured last night by a foul tip in a game at Temple. Five stitches were required to sew up his injured thumb.

Conyers Leads Texas Batting

(By The United Press)

Lanky Herb Conyers, Oklahoma City first-baseman who took over the Texas league batting leadership during the week ending June 12, boasted a 22-point margin over the field Saturday as he ended six straight weeks at the top of the heap.

During that time, he has remained constistently above the .350 mark with the exception of one week when he dipped to .348.

Conyers also leads in doubles (36) and hits (137).

Latest league averages through games of July 20 show he picked up four points during the week to post a .357 mark, 22 points ahead of Cal Abrams of Fort Worth in second place at .335. Abrams dropped 12 points during the week but managed to hold onto second spot.

Burns, Witte Tie

Russ Burns of Tulsa, who has pulled into a tie with Dallas' Jerry Witte for the RBI lead with 99 each, climbed from sixth to third in the batting race with a .333 mark, 11 points ahead of Solly Hemus of Houston.

Ray Murray, Oklahoma City catcher, also edged into the top five at .323 as Bob Bundy of Fort Worth and Ben Guintini of Dallas dropped out.

Witte still had a wide lead in home runs with 32, fourteen more than teammate Bill Serena, and was tied for second in runs scored with Milt Nielsen of Oklahoma City at 79 each, six behind the leader, Tulsa's Johnny Lane.

Preston Ward of Fort Worth led in stolen bases with 22, two more than Bill Martin of San Antonio. Ransom Jackson of Oklahoma City led in triples with ten.

Indians Hold Lead

Oklahoma City, which deposed Dallas as the team batting leader two weeks ago, slipped a point during the week, but still held the lead at .284 as the Eagles continued their downward plunge from .283 to .279.

The Indians led in hits (989), doubles (210) and triples (40); the Eagles in runs (607), home runs (104) and RBI's and Ft. Worth led in stolen bases with 109.

Dallas' disabled Roy Sanner continued to set the pitching pace with a nine-nothing record, but there were several others with good marks. John Gibson of San Antonio had a 6-1 record, Al Olsen of Oklahoma City a 9-2 mark, Hank Wyse of Shreveport an 11-4 record and Tommy Reis of Oklahoma City a 12-5 record.

Joe Landrum of Fort Worth had won the most games (13), but had dropped nine.

Clarence Iott of Beaumont led in strikeouts with 113 and walks with 107 as compared to Oklahoma City's Dick Rozek with 109 strikeouts and 101 walks.

Man Tackles Beast In Wednesday Match

Clements To Meet Ginger, The Wrestling Bear, In Arena Event

A rowdy wrestler with hair all over his body, instead of just on his chest, will be the main attraction Wednesday night when Ginger, the wrestling bear, meets Ray "Big Train" Clements in a special event.

This event should provide plenty of action for the fans at Sled Allen's arena, and one of Ginger's favorite holds, the bear hug, will probably be demonstrated frequently in the 45 minute match.

Clements, who has been having a successful streak of victories in the local ring, will be up against a wrestler with a weight advantage, tipping the scales at 310, and pure animal instinct in the art of wrestling.

Weidner, Blackley Go

The main event, two out of three falls with an hour time limit, will be between Bill Weidner and Gene Blackley. Weidner is a returnee to the local ring, having been absent for a year. His opponent, Blackley, will furnish plenty of opposition for the Bostonian. Blackley is the rough and rugged type wrestler who loves to win and does little worrying about the method used. Last week Blackley wrestled Gust Johnson, the hustling Swede, to a draw in the semi-final event in one of the better matches seen in the arena.

Riley Donates $50

Tex Riley, who lost to Ray Clements in a winner take all match last week, will donate $50 to the polio fund in Lubbock, another stipulation of the bet that he could tame Clements. He will make his donation to a member of the polio committee in the ring Wednesday.

Also in the ring with Riley will be Lester Welch, his wrestling opponent of the evening in the preliminary event. In addition to being a wrestler, Welch is the keeper of the bear. If he needs help in the match, he could call on Ginger.

Matches start at 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, and tickets will be on sale that day until 5 p.m.

PLAYMATE FOR CLEMENTS — Wednesday night at Sled Allen's arena, Ray "Big Train" Clements may meet his match at long last. The Lubbock wrestler has agreed to meet Ginger, the nationally famous wrestling bear. It's apt to be quite a lark for wrestling fans, but Clements takes a dim view of this type of entertainment. He promises that he will reform his bad man antics for this match.

Baltimore Orioles Announce Sale Of Mikan To Dallas Nine

NEWARK, N. J., July 23 (AP)—The Baltimore Orioles of the International league today announced sale of pitcher Johnny Mikan to Dallas of the Texas league.

Mikan was sold to make way for the reinstatement of pitcher Johnny Wittig. Wittig recently returned to the Orioles after a trial with the Boston Red Sox.

Mikan, a southpaw, lost the only three games he started for Baltimore this year.

An American firm has been employed to make extensive surveys of power and water utilization projects in Greece, Athens reports.

All-Star Gridders To Begin Training

EVANSTON, Ill., July 23. (AP)—Head Coach Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma's Sugar Bowl champions began greeting college gridiron heroes of the 1948 season today as training officially opened for the annual All-Star football game in Soldier Field Aug. 12.

A hand-picked squad of 68 players will tangle with the Philadelphia Eagles, champions of the National football league, in the traditional gridiron season curtain-raiser. A majority of them have signed with pro teams and will be seeing action throughout the fall.

Wilkinson, a member of the 1937 All-Star group after playing at Minnesota, and his staff will begin a rigorous 20-day training period at Northwestern university. They have high hopes of revenging last year's 28-0 defeat handed Frank Leahy and his All-Stars by the Chicago Cardinals. The pros hold a winning edge in the series of 8-5. Two of the contests have ended in ties.

Because there is so much high-caliber talent around, Wilkinson, like all his predecessors, will players for first, second, third, etc., teams. He has the material for any kind of formation he wishes, single wing, double wing, the T or the so-called split T which he has made famous at Oklahoma.

The split T, derived from the type of line spacing used, has the quarterback in a ball-carrying role when the defensive alignment presents an opportunity. It is expected to be the fundamental offensive weapon used.

SEDGMAN NET WINNER

MONTREAL, July 23 (INS)—Australia swept into the Davis Cup North American finals today as Frank Sedgman scored a straight set, 6-2, 6-2, 6-0, singles victory over Montreal's Brendan Macken to eliminate Canada, 3-1.

Action Set Today In Cotton Belt

All eight teams of the Cotton Belt league are in action today, with interest centered on the game between Shallowater and Ropesville at Ropesville.

The Shallowater team needs a victory to preserve its narrow percentage-point over Cooper, which today plays the Wolfforth Wolves at Slaton.

Other games today send the Wolfforth Eagles to Meadow, and Smyer to Lubbock for a game at the Fourth street-College avenue diamond.

The result of one of last week's game still is undecided, pending settlement of a protest in the Shallowater-Meadow game. A disputed decision in the ninth inning resulted in a 10-10 tie when play was discntinued. Sonny Arthur, league president, said this week that the game probably will be replayed from the point of protest at a later date.

In other games last week, Ropesville trounced Lubbock, 9-4, Cooper edged out Smyer, 5-3, and the Wolfforth Wolves drubbed their fellow townsmen, the Eagles, 22-7.

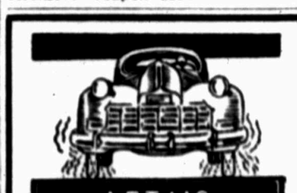

The league standings:

TEAMS	W	L	Pct.
Shallowater	6	1	.857
Cooper	6	2	.800
Wolves	7	3	.700
Eagles	5	3	.625
Ropesville	4	6	.400
Lubbock	4	6	.400
Meadow	3	7	.322
Smyer	1	9	.100

HOPPE MAKES PREDICTION

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., July 23 (U.P.)—Willie Hoppe, one-time boy king of billiards, predicted today that Ezequiel Navarra of Argentina would be the next three-cushion world champion. Hoppe, 61, is vacationing here following a non-title match with Navarra in Buenos Aires last week. The Argentinian trounced Hoppe 1,500-1,318.

TO GO OUTSIDE AND LOOK AT THE PAINT ON YOUR HOME!

Well, go on, it won't cost you a thing to LOOK! Or maybe you are afraid of what you'll see. Maybe you know that if you look close you will see the grey places, the chipped and cracked places that are small but give your home the atmosphere of dinginess. Why greet your friends with gloom? Why not put that inexpensive but important coat of paint on and be PROUD of your home?

If yours is the average home in West Texas, it needs a fresh coat of paint —so why not treat it to the BEST next time you paint? Not only for beauty, but for protection and durability, VALSPAR is the paint you'll choose if you're the intelligent person you tell yourself you are. The life of a house depends to a large extent on the quality of the paint used to protect it.

VALSPAR STANDS UP FINE!

An intelligent person will naturally choose the paint that does not crack, chip or peel, that resists grime and holds its true colors longer. VALSPAR PAINTS actually defy abuse! They don't crack and peel because, in their formula, allowance was made for the expansion and contraction of materials and VALSPAR expands and contracts with the painted surface. Now, Go on . . . look at your house then tomorrow come down and see the beautiful surface colors available in VALSPAR — the paint that "stands up fine."

JESTER'S CHOICES FOLLOWED

Shivers Names Board For State Hospitals And Special Schools

AUSTIN, July 23 (AP)—A nine-member board for Texas state hospitals and special schools, created by the 51st Legislature, was named today by Gov. Allan Shivers.

The governor, in announcing appointment of the new board which will take over Sept. 1, followed to the letter the list of persons selected by the late Gov. Beauford Jester.

The board will assume administration of state institutions previously known as "eleemosynary institutions," except for the Gatesville school for boys, Gainesville school for girls, and the Brady school for negro girls.

Gilmer Temporary Head

Those three institutions were placed under supervision of the youth development council, also created by the 51st Legislature.

Claud Gilmer of Rock Springs, the Gilmer of the sweeping Gilmer-Aikin education program and a former speaker of the House, was named temporary chairman of the nine-member group.

He will serve as acting head of the board until election of officers at the group's first meeting.

Shivers, in making the appointments, said that "literally scores of highly capable persons have been suggsted for this important board."

Choices Called Excellent

"This list," he said, "represents Governor Jester's final judgment, and I am happy to carry out his commitments. . . ."

Shivers said he considered the late governor's choices "a most excellent selection."

Board members, in addition to Gilmer, will be:

W. W. Barnett, Mexia businessman; Dr. Edgar Ezell, Fort Worth psychiatrist; Dr. W. C. Goddard, Austin physician; Rt. Rev. John E. Hines, Austin, bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal diocese of Texas; R. C. (Doc) Lanning, Jacksboro, former state senator; W. N. Martin, Vernon businessman; Mrs. Lawrence Tarlton, Fort Worth; and H. B. (Pat) Zachry, San Antonio contractor.

The board, at its initial meeting, will name an executive director at a salary of not more than $10,000.

The new agency takes over administration of the institutions, with the exception of the three training schools, from the state board of control, which previously had powers over all "eleemosynary institutions."

Authority was given the board under the legislative act to appoint managers over each of the institutions.

Parker County Asks Ruling On Hustling Auto Registrations

WEATHERFORD, July 23. (AP) — Parker county has asked the state attorney general to decide if the county is "hustling up" out-of-county motor vehicle registrations.

County Judge Joe Dodson says the ruling is needed to clear the way for the county's part in the farm-to-market road program.

Dodson said Monday that his county's part in the rural road program was being held up pending investigation of the alleged illegal sale of $23,000 in car license plates to non-residents.

Dodson said it appeared to him that the State Highway commission thinks the county is "hustling up" cars in order to get its one-half of the license payments.

Dodson said that he, and the commissioners court, was certain that the attorney general would not find the county at fault in taking out-of-county license payments.

"My request outlined the facts and left the breakdown of legal questions involved up to the attorney general's department," he said.

State highway engineer D. C. Greer said that a check of Parker county records showed the sale of plates to motorists from Tarrant, Dallas, and other counties. Greer pointed out that the state gets half of the license receipts up to a total of $175,000 annually. In big counties the state gets all of the license payments when the $175,000 mark is passed.

"If the residents of big counties like Tarrant and Dallas buy plates in smaller counties, the state is being cheated," Greer said.

Dodson said today that many motorists in Weatherford and Parker county register in other counties — either for convenience, to keep from paying minor traffic tickets or to escape payment of city and county car taxes.

He said no action on the county's part in the road program would be taken until the legal opinion is received.

Mercy Plane Readied For Flight To Marooned Men In Greenland

PARIS, July 23 (INS)—A four-engined plane was tuned up in Paris tonight for a mercy flight to parachute supplies and equipment to a French expedition marooned in the middle of Greenland.

The plane, a B-24 Liberator, will leave for Iceland tomorrow on the first leg of its journey.

The party's six caterpillar vehicles suffered mechanical breakdowns.

The rescue plane will try to drop 70 tons of equipment to the expedition.

County Pay Boosts Won't Be Affected By Veto Of Tax Bill

Governor Allan Shiver's veto of a bill that would allow counties to retain 10 per cent of the state-levied automobile taxes, which many communities planned to use for the salary raises authorized for county employes, will have no effect in Lubbock county, J. Y. Boyd, county auditor, said Saturday.

"The planned salary boosts for our county officers and employes went into effect on July 1 and will be seen at the end of this month," the auditor said. "The passage or failure of the bill in question had little or nothing to do with them. The commissioners court knew before the raises were made that probably the increased tax revenue under discussion would not be forthcoming so it wasn't counted upon," Boyd revealed.

Bill Declared In Error

The governor did the correct thing, the county official stated. The bill was definitely in error.

Governor Shivers vetoed the bill, which was passed overwhelmingly by the House and Senate, at request of officials of several counties.

These officials say that a mistake was made in a Senate amendment, and, had the measure become law, instead of increasing the county revenue to 10 per cent of the taxes derived from auto sales would have taken from them the two per cent that they retain at the present.

However, some counties, such as Potter, that had relied upon the promised extra taxes to pay for pay boosts, will suffer.

Under the present two per cent commission, the tax is hardly worth what it costs to collect, a Potter county official claimed.

Two El Paso Men Die In Train-Truck Crash

EL PASO, July 23. (AP)—Manuel Talauera, 34, and Perfecto Duran, 23, of El Paso, were killed shortly before noon Saturday when a beverage truck in which they were riding moved into the path of an eastbound T and NO passenger train at the Tornillo, Texas, crossing.

V. J. Worcester, El Paso, engineer on the passenger train was struck by flying glass and had 10 stitches taken in his cheek and mouth.

The truck was demolished and the engine was badly damaged. Talavera's body was carried nearly 300 feet from the crossing.

MEN READ CAREFULLY
I want to talk to ten men who are really ambitious in securing a position that will give them steady employment the year around. In other words there are no laying off periods. Consistent income is the income that really counts.
It doesn't matter what your past employment has been. We teach you our work. It will be necessary that you be willing to get along on $75 or $80 per week the first four to six weeks while learning our work. If you are mechanically inclined or can handle men in a supervisory capacity or your present income is not satisfactory, answer this now. You must be able to give the names of three persons who will vouch for your honesty and integrity.
We prefer men who are married or who have some sense of responsibility and have a car.
We will present our plan only if wife accompanies you. Her happiness is contingent upon your success, and we feel that she should know completely from the first what you will be offered.
Therefore, if you are honest and of good character, a willing worker and neat in appearance, apply Lubbock Hotel, 8 p. m. Monday, July 25th only, ask for Mr. Givens. This applies to men living in and near Lubbock.

NEW CAR GUARANTEE
On Used Cars

NEW CAR GUARANTEE ON LATE MODEL USED CARS

What does this mean to you? Just this: A car so guaranteed is in such good condition that Womble is willing to give it the SAME guarantee that it had originally. That is, if any repairs are needed within 90 days or before 4000 miles, whichever comes sooner, Womble will pay ALL the bills. Not applicable to lights, tires, battery or glass, or to damage caused by accident, neglect or abuse.

50-50 GUARANTEE ON OLDER MODEL USED CARS

Under this contract, Womble will furnish all needed repairs on a 50-50 basis. That is, you pay half, we, Womble, pay half, on all parts and labor. This guarantee is extended for thirty (30) days or 1000 miles after date of sale.

Wall Street

MARKET ACTIVITY HEAVY

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—Two of the biggest deals on record added this week to Wall Street's reputation as the world financial capital.

Startled stock traders saw the ticker tape record Tuesday's sale of 250,000 shares of Commonwealth and Southern Corp. Common at $4.50 a share. That much stock had never before sold in a single block before at the exchange.

The tape spelled out the sale Friday of a block of $5,353,000 worth of American Telephone and Telegraph bonds. That was one of the largest single transactions in dollars and cents, that the exchange had on its bond record books.

The transfer of 250,000 shares of C and S was quickly followed by sale of a block of 150,000 shares. Before the close Tuesday total sales in C and S mounted to nearly 800,000 shares almost equal to trade in all other stocks combined.

A week ago Friday, a federal court ordered over the opposition of a group of stockholders, a plan for dissolution of the utility empire which Wendell Willkie once headed.

The market kept on rolling ahead on its summer rally from the 4½-year-low hit on June 13. Everything went along smoothly until Thursday. Selling took on a keener edge and prices took the worst spill of three weeks or so.

Closing prices, and changes for the week, of some leading stocks:

General Motors $60.13 up $1; U. S. Steel $32.87 up 62 cents; Commonwealth and Southern $4.62 up 37 cents; Chrysler $50 up $1; Sears Roebuck $40 up $1.25; International Harvester $35.62 off 25 cents; American Telephone $141.75 up 50 cents; Anaconda Copper $38 off 25 cents; General Electric $36.87 up 12 cents; Dow Chemical $47.25 off 12 cents; Philip Morris $45.75 up $1.87; Santa Fe $66.25 up $1.37; Southern Pacific $36.62 off 25 cents, and Standard Oil (NJ) $67.12 up 62 cents.

On the curb: American Gas $44.37 off $1.87; American Natural Gas $24.87 up 12 cents; Arkansas Natural Gas A $9.25 up 25 cents; Cities Service $47.25 up 75 cents, and Kaiser Frazier $4.75 up 25 cents.

New Firms Boost Total Texas Employment By 1,608 In Month

AUSTIN, July 23. (U.P.)—Forty new firms locating in Texas last month hired 1,608 persons, the highest new employment total since August last year, the Texas Employment commission announced today.

Average employment in the new June establishments, the TEC added, was also the highest mark set since the commission began its industry report in March, 1947.

The new firms included manufacturing, 14, hiring 633 workers; wholesale and retail trade, 19, employing 570; service industries, 4, with 147 workers; contract construction, 2, and 250 employes, and transportation, communication and public utilities, 1, with 8 new workers.

Houston led Texas cities with 9 new firms hiring 378 employes, the TEC report said, while Corpus Christi, Dallas and San Angelo tied for second with 5 new establishments apiece. Longview and Fort Worth had 4 each, Amarillo and San Antonio, 2 each, and Waco, Austin, El Paso and Beaumont, 1 apiece.

Two San Angelo Youths To Be Tried On Delinquency Petition

PLAINVIEW, July 23. (Special)—Two San Angelo youths, returned here from Lubbock Friday in connection with a series of car thefts, will appear in Hale county court Tuesday under a petition of delinquency based on one of the thefts.

The youths, both juveniles, have admitted stealing seven cars and a pickup truck during a 24-hour "joyride" from Dalhart to Lubbock. The vehicles were stolen from eight towns along the route, including Dalhart, Borger, Dumas, Panhandle, Tulia, Plainview, Amarillo and Hale Center. All were recovered, the Texas Highway patrol has reported.

Lubbock police arrested the youths Friday afternoon on suspicion of car pilfering shortly after the motor of the car reportedly stolen by the pair at Hale Center had "burned out" on the Amarillo highway about two miles north of Lubbock.

A rotating projectile travels farther and straighter, and its path is a flatter curve; hence the "rifling" of a rifle barrel.

Grain

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, July 23 (AP) — Flour buying in the northwest gave support to wheat futures today. Mill brokers took to the buying side and advanced prices about a cent. Other grains held to a firm course without making any substantial gains.

Brokers said the flour buying came from the rank and file bakery trade and was for delivery on and after September 4. Wheat at Minneapolis showed a greater response to the flour buying than wheat here. There were no estimates available on the amount of flour bought.

Wheat closed ¼-2¼ higher, September $2.05¾-¾, corn was unchanged to 1 cent higher, September $1.39¼-½, oats were ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, September 65¼-½.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, July 23 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard 2.19¼-2.27¼.

Oats No. 2 white 81¼-82½.

Corn No. 2 white 1.84¼-1.85½.

Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo per 100 pounds 2.15-2.25.

Wall Street

MARKET ACTIVITY HEAVY

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—Two of the biggest deals on record added this week to Wall Street's reputation as the world financial capital.

Startled stock traders saw the ticker tape record Tuesday a sale of 350,000 shares of Commonwealth and Southern Corp. Common at $4.50 a share. That much stock had never before sold in a single block before at the exchange.

The tape spelled out the sale Friday of a block of $5,353,000 worth of American Telephone and Telegraph bonds. That was one of the largest single transactions in dollars and cents, that the exchange had on its bond record books.

The transfer of 350,000 shares of C and S was quickly followed by sale of a block of 150,000 shares. Before the close Tuesday total sales in C and S mounted to nearly 800,000 shares, almost equal to trade in all other stocks combined.

A week ago Friday, a federal court ordered over the opposition of a group of stockholders, a plan for dissolution of the utility empire which Wendell Willkie once headed.

The market kept on rolling ahead on its summer rally from the 4½-year-low hit on June 13. Everything went along smoothly until Thursday. Selling took on a keener edge and prices took the worst spill of three weeks or so.

Closing prices, and changes for the week, of some leading stocks:

General Motors $60.12 up $1; U. S. Steel $32.87 up 62 cents; Commonwealth and Southern $4.62 up 37 cents; Chrysler $50 up $1; Sears Roebuck $40 up $1.25; International Harvester $35.62 off 25 cents; American Telephone $141.75 up 50 cents; Anaconda Copper $28 off 25 cents; General Electric $36.87 up 12 cents; Dow Chemical $47.25 off 12 cents; Philip Morris $45.75 up $1.87; Santa Fe $46.25 up $1.37; Southern Pacific $36.62 off 25 cents; and Standard Oil (NJ) $67.12 up 62 cents.

On the curb: American Gas $44.37 off $1.87; American Natural Gas $24.87 up 12 cents; Arkansas Natural Gas A $9.25 up 25 cents; Cities Service $47.25 up 75 cents; and Kaiser Frazier $4.75 up 25 cents.

New Firms Boost Total Texas Employment By 1,608 In Month

AUSTIN, July 23. (U.P.)—Forty new firms locating in Texas last month hired 1,608 persons, the highest new employment total since August last year, the Texas Employment commission announced today.

Average employment in the new June establishments, the TEC added, was also the highest mark set since the commission began its industry report in March, 1947.

The new firms included manufacturing, 14, hiring 633 workers; wholesale and retail trade, 19, employing 570; service industries, 4, with 147 workers; contract construction, 2, and 250 employes, and transportation, communication and public utilities, 1, with 8 new workers.

Houston led Texas cities with 9 new firms hiring 378 employes, the TEC report said, while Corpus Christi, Dallas and San Angelo tied for second with 5 new establishments apiece. Longview and Fort Worth had 4 each, Amarillo and San Antonio, 2 each, and Waco, Austin, El Paso and Beaumont, 1 apiece.

Two San Angelo Youths To Be Tried On Delinquency Petition

PLAINVIEW, July 23. (Special)—Two San Angelo youths, returned here from Lubbock Friday in connection with a series of car thefts, will appear in Hale county court Tuesday under a petition of delinquency based on one of the thefts.

The youths, both juveniles, have admitted stealing seven cars and a pickup truck during a 24-hour "joyride" from Dalhart to Lubbock. The vehicles were stolen from eight towns along the route, including Dalhart, Borger, Dumas, Panhandle, Tulia, Plainview, Amarillo and Hale Center. All were recovered, the Texas Highway patrol has reported.

Lubbock police arrested the youths Friday afternoon on suspicion of car pilfering shortly after the motor of the car reportedly stolen by the pair at Hale Center had "burned out" on the Amarillo highway about two miles north of Lubbock.

A rotating projectile travels farther and straighter, and its path is a flatter curve; hence the "rifling" of a rifle barrel.

American Ratification Of Pact Termed Great Step Toward Peace

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

America's ratification of the North Atlantic treaty bids fair to be a tremendous contribution to global peace and progress.

Acceptance by the world's greatest power was essential to endow the 12-nation alliance with success. Basically the pact is designed to afford powerful mutual defense against aggression. It is a commitment of one for all and all for one.

Without the adherence of the United States, Europe would have been thrust headlong into a slough of despond — worse off than when the fact was proposed, for seven nations already had ratified it. The powers of aggression would have been strengthened.

To Aid Development

But the alliance is far more than merely a defensive agreement. By ensuring peace it will facilitate the rehabilitation of western Europe's war-shocked countries. And it will safeguard the development of our democratic way of life which will allow us to escape the yoke of totalitarianism and maintain the status of free men.

There is nothing in the pact which conflicts with the spirit of the United Nations. However, since such an alliance is a unique and far-reaching commitment it is small wonder that the peoples of the various countries concerned, and especially we of America, should have insisted on examining the proposition throughly before accepting it.

As things stand we are not committed to any eventuality which we wouldn't encounter if there were another major war in Europe. It is scientifically possible for rain to fall on your neighbor's house across the street without falling on yours. But it's mighty improbable.

Lesson Is Learned

By the same token there is virtually no chance of America escaping involvement in another European upheaval. We've learned that lesson (or should have) the hard way in two world wars. We know that preparedness is the best form of security pending the arrival of the happy day when mankind will subscribe to the tenets of the sermon on the mount.

Of course it's natural that the average citizen should be anxious about the heavy cost of supporting the alliance. For example the White House announced yesterday that President Truman will send to Congress Monday a proposed program of foreign military aid to back up the Atlantic Pact. It is understood that the proposed authorization will be for $1,450,000,000 for foreign military aid, of which $1,130,000,000 would go to America's associates in the Atlantic treaty.

However, our past war experience — and it has been tough during the last generation — has demonstrated that preparedness is the cheapest form of security. Apropos of the question of reviving Europe and Asia for peace, President Truman had this to say in an extemporaneous foreign policy speech at a Shrine dinner in Chicago last Tuesday:

"And I am saying to you: 'which is better, to spend three or four or five billions a year for peace, or to spend a hundred billion dollars a year for another war?"

There would seem to be only one answer to that cogent question. It's cheaper to ensure peace than to go to war.

Former Top Nazi Given Sentence

PARIS, July 23 (AP)—Otto Abetz was sentenced yesterday to 20 years at hard labor for war crimes committed while he was Nazi ambassador in occupied Paris.

A 12-man military tribunal deliberated for about an hour and 50 minutes over testimony presented since the trial began July 12.

Connected With Slaying

The 46-year-old Abetz was charged with complicity in the killing of Georges Mandel, former French minister of the interior; aiding in sending French Jews "to the east"; aiding in deportation of Frenchmen for forced labor in Germany; pillage of French art treasures and other crimes.

Abetz contended he had always worked for a German-French understanding and during his term as ambassador had done many things to aid France in the face of harsh orders from Berlin.

The conviction and the 20-year penalty were recommended by the prosecution.

Abetz has been held by the French since he was captured at a Bavarian health resort Oct. 25, 1945.

Nude Shoulders, Built-In Fad Due In Female Styles

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 23.—Nude shoulders and boned bodices will reach their fashion peak next fall—if the pinch doesn't take the punch out of them.

Designers are starting their third straight year of promoting the American woman from the bustline up.

But from the bustline down, she's still more cramped than curvaceous.

The designers say their wire and bones technique has shaped up considerably since the experimental days of '46. They also point out that dressmakers are in as tight a spot as their customers' torsos—since obviously a strapless gown must fit-snug to stay-put on the average American woman's figure.

Built-In Fad

As Hattie Carnegie put it: "You can't use tacks!"

But with the new flat-chested look of fashion, abetted by such oldtime styles as flapper fringe and head-hooding clothes) women appea to be slinking back into the boyishness of the 1920's.

Some costlier dresses like those of Lilly Dache, have wired bras sewn into the bodices. Adele Simpson, too, believes in preserving the female figure by providing a built-in uplift.

Ninety per-cent of the boned bodices, however, are made with a minimum of man-hours and man-appeal.

The high-style designers indicated this week that strapless, bare-shouldered gowns will reach their peak of popularity this winter, but will dim out of the fashion picture as skirts get shorter a year from this fall.

Off Deep End Again

A few style experts, however, say that the boned bodice will become as classic as the corset and the uplift bra, which (as in the case of the corset and uplift) may raise a stir in the medical profession.

Leading New York doctors, quizzed on the subject, said that the boned bodices are not healthful.

Dr. Ruth Ewing, gynecologist, warned:

"A dress that's tightly boned around the bustline could probably be worn for three or four hours without damaging the body tissue.

"But long wear of such a garment may conceivably contribute to the formation of cystic condition."

Most doctors agree that the style trend is "theoretically wrong."

Anything a woman wears that is tight around her torso will keep her in a cramped, abnormal position, they said. The dangers of holding in the bustline with bones and wiring is greater than the same confinement of the hips and abdomen.

Dr. Charles Cameron, medical director of the American Cancer society, reflected the general attitude of most of the physicians when he said:

"Apparently women are suffering the swing of the pendulum of fashion away from the civilized scheme of things, as they did in the armored days around the turn of the century.

"But it's not alarming—or the American Medical association would have issued a warning to American women to beware the boned bodice."

Joe N. Rose Named C.R.O.P. Chairman Of Dickens County

SPUR, July 23 (Special)—Joe N. Rose, Dickens county resident, was named county chairman of the 1949 Christian Rural Overseas Program at a recent meeting.

The C.R.O.P. drive in Dickens county will seek money and commodities for shipment overseas.

Other county officials of C.R.O.P. are E. E. Lee, treasurer; George S. Link, jr., publicity director; and Rev. C. Melvin Ratheal, secretary.

Rev. James McCauley, Rev. Willis Jernigan, Rev. Lee Vaughn, Rev. Cal C. Wright, and Mrs. Bob Crockett were named vice chairmen and will make up the county executive board.

Rev. McCauley was named chairman of the executive board. Another meeting of the county unit is to be held August 19.

Modern Society Is Blamed For Major Problem Of Alcoholism

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., July 23. (AP)—"It does little good to treat alcoholic individuals without treating the social and economic forces that make persons susceptible to alcoholism," Dr. William G. Mather, professor of rural socialigy at the Pennsylvania State College, says. The presence of alcoholic individuals in a society is a symptom of maladjustment in that society, Dr. Mather says. Alcoholism can flourish in societies where there is considerable economic insecurity, great competitive strain, prevading fear of current or impending war, and dislike of children.

"All of these are present in our own society," Dr. Mather says.

Plans For Ellenburger Wildcats In Southeast Garza County, South Terry Revealed; Stanolind Takes Leases In Dickens

An Ellenburger wildcat is set for Southeast Garza county, about 15 miles southeast of the town of Post by Seaboard Ail company of Delaware and Republic Natural Gas company.

It will be their No. 1 OS Ranch (Connell estate). The drillsite is at the center of the southeast quarter of the southwest quarter of section 2, block 5, GH&H survey.

The deep zone is expected to come in above 8,250 feet. Drilling is starting soon with rotary tools. The operators own a large spread of acreage in this region.

Terry Wildcat Planned

Tide Water Associated Oil company has filed an application with the Texas Railroad commission to drill a 12,000-foot, rotary tool wildcat in South-Central Terry county as its No. 1 J. P. Nystel, et al.

It will be 660 feet from north and west lines of section 9, block C-38, psl survey, about 14 miles south of Brownfield.

The projected depth is scheduled to allow an exploration into the Ellenburger. Operations are starting immediately.

This venture was reported unofficially several weeks ago as the company's No. 1 Anderson.

Contributions are being made to the drilling of the test by Amerada Petroleum corporation Cities Service Oil company and The Texas company.

Stanolind Oil & Gas company has taken 10-year commercial leases on a checkerboard spread of approximately 150,000 acres in West Dickens county. Consideration was a cash bonus of one dollar per acre with an annual rental of 50 cents per acre.

The spread extends from the town of Spur north to the Motley County line. Stanolind now is making seimograph surveys of the acreage.

Larger tracts included in the deal are 20,000 acres from Swenson Land and Cattle company, 9,000 acres from M. M. Edwards, 9,000 acres of the McAtter lands and 4,000 acres of the Windham lands.

The remainder of the leases, secured from a large number of owners, were of smaller acreage.

Drilling was continuing at Barnsdall Oil company No. 1 Billie Williams, wildcat four and one-half miles southwest of Tahoka in Central Lynn county.

Last report had it beyond 10,057 feet in lime.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 2, block 8, EL&RR survey.

In Northeast Lubbock county, three miles northwest of Idalou, Slick-Moorman Oil company and C. W. Chancellor were making hole with their No. 1 Cloud, wildcat, 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from south lines of section 22, block D, L&SV survey.

The venture had reached 4,334 feet and was boring ahead in San Andres-Permian lime.

The Ellenburger has come in for Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Flanagan, east offset to the Ellenburger discovery of the Flanagan field in South-Central Gaines County, about 12 miles south of Seminole.

Top of the deep zone was called on 12,240 feet, about 55 feet to 60 feet low the pay opener. The offset has drilled ahead to 12,255 feet and was running surveys prior to setting casing in the top of the Ellenburger for testing. It is due to make more hole before attempting completion.

Location is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of section 9, block A-23, psl survey.

To Attempt Completion

Magnolia is to attempt completion in the Clear Fork-Permian with its No. 2 Flanagan, 660 feet from south and west lines of section 9, block A-23, psl survey.

It indicated production on a drillstem test in the top of the Clear Fork, which was entered at 6,350 feet, and showed signs of pay in drilling ahead to 7,170 feet, total depth.

On the current bottom, a two-hour and 30-minute drillstem test with packer at 7,070 feet recovered 2,511 feet of free gas in drillpipe and 118 feet of oil and gas drilling mud, with no water.

Operator ran a Schlumberger survey, then set seven-inch casing on bottom with 400 sacks. Further procedure was waiting for cement to cure.

Testing was continuing in the Flanagan-Clear Fork at Shell Oil company Inc., No. 2 Hawkins, one-half mile south of the Ellenburger strike and 660 feet from south and east lines of section 8, block A-23, psl survey.

It was pumping to test from open hole at 7,128-7,260 feet. Last gauge showed 89.3 barrels of oil and 51.41 barrels of water in 24 hours.

Drilling was continuing toward the Clear Fork at Shell No. 3 Hawkins, twin well to the field opener, 560 feet from east and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 8, block A-23, psl survey.

It was beyond 6,446 feet, penetrating lime.

Drilling In Lime

Shell No. 1 Andrews, five-eighths of a mile northeast of the deep discovery, was under 10,005 feet, drilling ahead through lime toward the Ellenburger.

It is 660 feet from south and west lines of section 2, block A-23, psl survey.

San Andres-Permian production in the Cedar Lake field of Northeast Gaines county has been extended one location east by the completion of McMillan and Peterson of Midland No. 1 Scanlon Foundation, offset to the pool.

It swabbed 24 hours to make a potential gauge of 232 barrels of 35-gravity oil, following a 7,500-gallon acid treatment in the pay formation at 4,725-4,820 feet.

This new producer is 539 feet from east and 1,350 feet from south lines of section 121, block M, EL&RR survey.

Outpost Is Slated

Humble Oil & Refining company is starting operations immediately on an outpost to the recently discovered Doss-Wolfcamp field in Southwest Gaines county, which was opened by the completion of Ralph Lowe No. 1 Cunningham, et al-Shell, Wolfcamp-Permian strike 10 miles southwest of Seminole.

The new exploration will be Humble No. 5 Helen Cunningham, et al, staked 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 4, block A-24, psl survey. Elevation is 3,665 feet.

With rotary tools, 9,100 feet of hole is to be made to attempt Wolfcamp production.

Also flanking this discovery, Ralph Lowe No. 1-B Cunningham was drilling under 3,260 feet in lime and shale.

A south offset to the pay opener, it is located 1,980 feet from south and west lines of section 4, block A-24, psl survey.

Forest Oil corporation and Anderson-Prichard Oil corporation were making new hole with their No. 1-A Parmer County, Southeast Gaines county wildcat, about 15 miles southeast of Seminole and 860 feet from west, 660 feet from south lines of labor 12, league 317, Parmer CSL survey.

It was past 3,528 feet in lime on last report.

Drilling also was continuing at Samedan Oil corporation and Anderson Brothers No. 1-E-A Andrews, Ellenburger wildcat in the Robertson field of South-Central Gaines county, 15 miles south of Seminole.

This exploration, 660 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 191, block A-24, psl survey, was beyond 4,006 feet in anhydrite.

Third Producer Indicated

Third producer in the Spraberry-Deep field of east-central Dawson county has been indicated for Seaboard Oil company of Delaware No. 6-D Spraberry, north offset to the discovery well of the pool.

The prospector cemented seven-inch casing at 6,511 feet with 200 sacks and drilled ahead to 6,633 feet. A two-hour drillstem test was run in the Spraberry on that depth with packer at 6,411 feet.

Gas reached the surface in 30 minutes and a good blow remained at the top for the rest of the period. Recovery was 3,800 feet of clean oil and 100 feet of drilling mud.

Coring ahead and drillstem testing at frequent intervals, pay has been indicated 6,852 feet, where the last test was run, showing a little free oil and signs of gas. On last report, the venture was drilling ahead from 6,891 feet in lime and shale.

It is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 38, block 34, T-5-N, TP survey.

A long north extension to the Levelland field of southeast Cochran county has been completed at H. L. Cain & Homer G. Maxey of Midland No. 1 L. S. Roulain, et al, exploration located 467 feet from north and east lines of the lease in the north half of tract 8, block 130, subdivision 2 of Carson CSL survey.

Flowing six hours through a one-inch choke, the well made a 24-hour potential gauge of 187.68 barrels of oil, with gas-oil ratio 1,600-1 and no water. Gravity of the petroleum was 31 degrees.

Formation Is Acidized

The pay formation at 4,835-4,883 feet, in the San Andres lime section of the Permian, had been acidized with 20,000 gallons.

Good prospects of San Andres production have been encountered by the Atlantic Refining company No. 1-C Masten, southwest Cochran county exploration classed as a development well in the Levelland field.

The open hole zone at 4,985-5,050 feet was treated with 10,000 gallons of acid and swabbed for 24 hours. It made 44.6 barrels of oil and 27.4 barrels of acid water in that time.

Attempting to develop more pay section, operator was coring ahead toward 5,100 feet, where another acid injection will be made for further testing.

Location is 694.4 feet from south and east lines of the northwest quarter of labor 18, league 133, Armstrong CSL survey.

An unidentified lime formation thought to be Pennsylvanian yielded water on a drillstem test at Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1 Masten, slated 12,000-foot wildcat in southwest Cochran count, about 14 miles southwest of Morton.

The tool was open two hours at 10,250-10,351 feet. Recovery was a 600-foot water blanket, 500 feet of salty, sulphur drilling mud and 4,500 feet of salty, sulphur water.

This venture, 660 feet from north and west lines of labor 18, league 135, Armstrong CSL survey, was drilling ahead from 10,361 feet in lime.

Stanolind Oil & Gas company has decided to drill ahead to around 12,000 feet before giving up its No. 2 Holt, outpost to the discovery well of the Landon-Devonian field in south-central Cochran county.

The prospector was last reported below 11,124 feet, penetrating lime. It is running considerably low to the pay opener.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 3, block L, psl survey.

Also flanking this field, Stanolind No. 1 Grollman was under 7,706 feet, drilling lime.

It is 660 feet from west and 407 feet from south lines of section 4, block L, psl survey.

To Abandon Wildcat

Ryan, Hayes and Burke were preparing to plug and abandon their No. 1 Miller, northeast Borden county wildcat, on total depth 8,500 feet in the Ellenberger. Only very slight signs of oil, insufficient for commercial production, were encountered.

Top of the Ellenburger was picked at 8,466 feet.

The dry hole is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 418, block 97, H&TC survey.

In south-central Borden county, Seaboard Oil company of Delaware was making new hole with its No. 1 Jerry Clayton, wildcat, from 8,005 feet in lime.

It is 662.5 feet from east and 660.3 feet from south lines of the southwest quarter of section 47, block 32, T-4-N, TP survey, about five miles east of the Good field, where two outposts were being deepened by Seaboard and Pan-American Production company.

The firms' No. 4 Good, 780 feet from north and 1,968.1 feet from west lines of section 37, block 33, T-4-N, TP survey, was past 4,942 feet, penetrating lime.

Seaboard and Pan-American No. 5 Good, the other flanker, 660 feet from west and 660.5 feet from south lines of the northwest quarter of section 37, block 33, T-4-N TP survey, had reached 5,170 feet and was boring ahead in lime.

Approximately six miles to the south of this pool, Seaboard has staked a north outpost to the Vealmoor field, where production is from the Canyon-Pennsylvanian.

Surface Pipe Set

Designation is the concern's No. 7 H. N. Zant, spotted 660 feet from north and east lines of the northwest quarter of section 28, block 32, T-4-N, TP survey.

With rotary tools, drilling is starting immediatey toward 8,000 feet, proposed depth.

Sinclair Oil & Gas company was continuing toward the northwest Borden county Ellenburger with four outposts to its No. 1 Williams, discovery 11 miles northwest of Bail.

About one mile west and slightly south of the discovery, the company's No. 1 Pratt was below 3,874 feet, drilling lime and shale.

It is 660 feet from east and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 44, block 32, T-6-N, TP survey.

Sinclair No. 1 Reynolds, outpost one and one-half miles to the north and slightly west of the strike and 660 feet from south, 1,980 feet from west lines of section 33, block 32, T-6-N EL&RR survey, was continuing from 3,540 feet in lime and anhydrite.

Flanking the pay opener 1,320 feet to the east, the cocern's No. 1 Turner was under 2,860 feet, penetrating lime and anhydrite.

It is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 46, block 32, T-6-N, EL&RR survey.

Sinclair has spudded and set surfaee pipe on its No. 1 Bryan, 1,320-foot north outpost, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 40, block 32, T-6-N, TP survey.

Bottomed on 285 feet, the venture was waiting for cement to cure on 13⅜-inch casing cemented at 262 feet.

"MUST FINISH MY SON'S WORK"

Mother Of Solon Killed In Air Crash Seeks Seat In Congress

By MARTHA KEARNEY
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 23—The next woman elected to Congress may be the gray-haired, 54-year-old mother of a World War II hero who is now campaigning, she says, because "I must finish my son's work."

She is Mrs. Robert L. Coffey, sr., of Johnstown, Pa., mother of the late Democratic congressman Robert L. Coffey, jr.

A colonel in the Air force reserve, he was killed in April—just five months after his election to Congress—when his jet plane crashed in New Mexico on a cross-country training flight.

No Previous Experience

Ironically enough, Curry Brindley Coffey lost another son, William, in an almost identical crash during the war. Her only surviving child is a third son, John Coffey.

Mrs. Coffey, who was born in Cullman, Ala., has had no previous political experience although she has been active in local civic affairs ever since she and her husband established their home in Johnstown 15 years ago.

A special election to be held on Sept. 15 will decide whether she wins her late son's congressional seat. It had been held by Republicans for the five terms previous to his election in November.

J. Howard McGrath, chairman of the Democratic national committee, has boosted Mrs. Coffey's candidacy several times. The women's division of the committee has also gone out of its way to support her publicly.

After graduation from the Cullman high school and the Alabama agricultural school at Lineville, Ala., Mrs. Coffey went into business for herself and opened a millinery shop.

Speech Is Dignified

She was married at the age of 23 and went to live in Chattanooga, Tenn., where her husband was engaged in the manufacture of brick products. In 1934 the family moved to Johnstown, where it has made its home ever since.

Mrs. Coffey's acceptance speech, when she agreed to run for Congress in the special election, was made in two short, dignified, poignant sentences.

She said:

"I accept. I must finish my son's work.

Congressional wives have just about given up hope that Congress will adjourn before Labor day. Most of them have resigned themselves to sitting it out as comfortably as possible for the summer in the hot and humid capital.

This has kept many congressional families separated against their will.

To Leave Washington

Mrs. Olin D. Johnston, wife of the Democratic senator from South Carolina, has finally decided to leave Washington briefly to join her three children.

She plans to spend a month at Isle of Palms, just off the coast of her native state, where Olin D. Johnston, jr., Sallie-Leigh and Elizabeth are vacationing.

Mrs. Edward J. Thye, wife of the Republican senator from Minnesota, is waiting impatiently for Congress to quit so she can have a visit with her daughter Jean, who is holding down a job in Chicago.

Family plans call for Jean to join her parents at the family farm near Northfield, Minn., just as soon as the senator and Mrs. Thye can leave Washington with the congressional session behind them.

Rep. and Mrs. Karl Stefan, (R-Neb.), probably have the most ambitious plans of all for family reunions—although it looks as though time were running out on them.

Hope For Visits

The Stefans have been hoping to be able to leave the capital in time to spend some time in Chicago with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Askren on their way home to Nebraska for a vacation.

Then they had hoped, after a rest in their home state, to go on to Washougal, Wash., for a visit with their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Stefan, jr.

These, and many other congressional families, are getting used to the idea by now that time is growing short and it is doubtful whether they will have any vacations at all.

A conviction which is not made any easier to bear by the intense heat in the nation's capital and the complete cessation of all social activity.

Wichita Falls Vote On Bond Issue Indicated At Meeting

WICHITA FALLS, July 23. (U.P.) Wichita Falls taxpayers today had reason to believe they will vote sometime in the future on a $3,000,000 bond issue.

The city council and heads of city departments discussed last night a program calling for the expenditure of approximately $3,000,000. The money would be spent for improving the city's water and sewer system and for meeting critical needs in the fire department, the park system and city street maintenance.

No decision on a bond issue was reached at the meeting. But council members informally agreed that a bond issue proposal probably would be made in the future.

The tentative proposals included the following expenditures: water system, $1,500,000; sewerage system and disposal plant, $750,000; fire department, $200,000; parks, $150,000; street improvement, $400,000, and cemetery, $100,000.

New York School Children To Give Funds To Hebrew School

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—Eight students from the Erasmus Hall High school are publishing a book about Col. David Marcus. Col. Marcus was killed in the fighting in Palestine.

The book about him is for children from six to 10. The project started as a class exercise and grew into a major program. After consultation with Mrs. Emma Marcus, the colonel's widow, the eight students have decided to give royalties from the book to the Colonel Marcus Scholarship fund for the Hebrew University in Jerusalem.

Marcus attended a New York High school went to West Point and was New York City commissioner of prisons before going to Palestine as an officer in the Israeli Army.

Retail Training Specialist Teaches Course At Brownfield

BROWNFIELD, July 23 (Special) — A 10 to 12-hour course in "Selling Today" is being taught here by Miss Lucille Dunn, retail training specialist on the staff of the University of Texas, Industrial and Business Training Bureau. The course is being offered by the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce in cooperation with the Distributive Education program.

Classes are being held at the West Ward school building and the next one will be at 7:30 o'clock Monday night. There is still time for those wishing to take the course to enroll, according to David Nicholson, manager of the chamber of commerce.

If sufficient interest is shown, another course, "How to Supervise Employees," will also be taught by Miss Dunn.

Hoover Library Has Huge Collection Of Rare War Documents

PALO ALTO, Calif., July 23 (U.P.) —A Norwegian forwarded a remarkable set of Nazi occupation posters to Stanford University's Hoover Library No money, but would the library please send him a case of Scotch? He has to entertain a lot of foreigners.

A woman editor in war-ravaged Greece sent the library a valuable collection of underground newspapers. Would the library please send a one-volume Shakespeare? The Nazis had burned her books.

Similar incidents are countless. But is it mostly the diligent and sometimes fearless work of a world-flung staff that has made the Hoover Library on war, peace and revolution today the world's largest collection of 20th century social literature.

Now, with eight floors of the library interior completed after wartime construction relays, library employes are shelving many of the valuable World War I and postwar documents recently acquired.

Secrets Included

Built at a cost of $750,000, the 285-foot new Romanesque tower now has 14 floors of working space. They house more than a million items collected in 60 countries, in 35 languages.

Included are rare, secret memoirs of foreign chancellors and cabinets, significant state papers of Revolutionary parties and governments. There are even some 300 sealed envelopes some of which cannot be opened for many years.

The library today is also a teaching institution, offering post-graduate courses to those preparing themselves for governmental or private service in international affairs. It conduct sresearch in many fields.

It was while directing relief operations in Europe after World War II that former President Herbert Hoover got the idea of a library to house documents on the causes and consequences of war and revolution and the problems of peace.

Specifically, the story goes, it was while crossing the North Sea in 1914 that he decided to take the lead in establishing such an institution. Instead of being concerned about enemy mines in the North Sea, he was reading in Andrew White's autobiography the observation that most of the French revolutionary documents had been lost.

Helped By Pershing

Hoover talked Gen. John J. Pershing out of 15 members of the AEF. Most of them were historians of various rank. Hoover set them to work and soon material was flowing by the bale, in empty food ships, back to Stanford, from where Hoover was graduated in 1895.

Today, the library maintains full-time collectors in several countries, but it still gets material through luck or the devoted work of alumni or persons who want to help in building up the library, "a tower to peace."

An American sergeant, a former Stanford student, spotted in Germany Julius Streicher's personal file of his Nazi newspaper, Der Sturmer, and forwarded it to the library.

There's no telling what the day's mail may bring forth from the staff collectors, or hundreds of contributors. By freight and mail, the documents pour in, at present faster than they can be catalogued and shelved.

And no one knows what's in some of the 300 sealed collections, deposited with stipulated dates for opening. There's a persistent rumor they include the memoirs and diary of Mata Hari.

Borrowing Money From Woman Results In Dire Consequences, Even In New York

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—An argument early today over whether a man should borrow money from a woman had this chain of consequences:

A rifle was fired but no one was hit; a man leaped from a window and was seriously hurt; another man fell into the East river, and later was booked on felonious assault charges.

Police gave this account:

William Sarich 37-year-old cab driver, approached a party in a second-story restaurant and borrowed $5 from Martha Kelly Jackson, 40. William Levadas, 31, and another man present, objected, saying a man shouldn't borrow from a woman.

The argument hit a climax when Sarich produced a rifle and fired at Levadas, who, unhit, leaped from a window to the ground, suffering a possible broken neck.

Police later picked up Sarich, who said he had thrown the rifle in the East river. Taken there to help police search for it, he fell in. Dragged out by police, he was taken to a station house and booked on assault charges.

Police didn't find the rifle.

HUSBANDS PROTEST

The suggestion of Graham Hutton, famed London economist, that housewives should receive pay checks paid direct by a firm out of a husband's salary has caused "a minor sensation," British commentators say.

Bond Election Will Be Staged At Olton

OLTON, July 23 (Special) — Voters of Olton Independent School district will vote August 6 for the second time on a $140,000 bond issue to finance construction of a new elementary school and cafeteria and repairs to existing buildings, J. T. Jones, superintendent of schools, said today.

The district voted recently on a similar bond issue, which was narrowly defeated.

The new structure is expected to cost $125,000, while $15,000 is to be used in repair of the existing class room structures, Mr. Jones said.

G. T. Sides is president of the Olton Independent school district board of trustees. H. A. Hysinger is vice president and B. A. Dodson is secretary, tax assessor and collector.

J. B. Millsap is high school principal and Fred Gordon is grammar school principal.

CHIEF UNIMPRESSED

DETROIT (U.P.)—Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy didn't see eye to eye with a woman who complained of the "immodesty" of a policeman who wore "shorts and nothing else. Not even a gun or a badge." "I wear shorts myself," Toy said. "They're wonderfully comfortable."

NIX ON FIREWORKS

COLVILLE, Wash. (U.P.)—Declaring that firecrackers have caused several of the more than 30 forest fires in his district this year, fire warden John Link has asked county commissioners of all northeastern Washington counties to ban the sale of fireworks next year.

Alarming spread of malta fever (Brucelosis) recently caused Mexico City to order stricter vigilance over milk pasteurization plants.

SPACE SHIP CREW COULDN'T DRINK FROM CUP

Aviation Medical School Anticipating Trip To Mars; Problem Of Gravity Investigated

SAN ANTONIO, July 23. (U.P.)—The Air Force school of aviation medicine thinks trips to Mars will be made in "not too distant a time."

To that end, research workers at the school issued a statement today on the problems involved.

Dr. Hubertus Strughold said the matter of oxygen will be comparatively simple.

"Only perhaps half a ton of oxygen would be necessary for each man on a trip to Mars and back," he said.

Reduced gravity will be the main physiological problem.

"In gravity-free space, the body will be exactly as light as the surrounding air in the ship," Dr. Heinz Haber explained. "Thus, swimming movements will propel the crewman through the air exactly as the movements of a fin move a fish through water."

Exercise Forced

Body activities will slow down because of less demand on them as the result of weightlessness.

"Crew members will probably have to force themselves to exercise with something like tension springs just to keep their muscles from atrophying," Strughold said.

Eating and drinking will call for special implements. Drinking from a cup or through a straw will be impossible. Dining will require special clamps instead of forks and spoons. Uncontained, the liquid and food would be thrown to the ceiling by lifting movements.

Topnotch forced ventilation systems will be necessary to blow away expelled breath. Otherwise, the exhausted air would remain in front of the spaceman's face, posing the danger of asphyxiation unless it was pushed away after each exhalation.

Pressure Suits Required

A pressure suit will also be standard equipment, along with a portable oxygen supply and perhaps a portable heating system.

"Space flight will make demands that are possibly beyond human tolerance," Strughold declared. "Space craft must essentially be adapted for the crews that will man them. Thus, space medicine has the job of determining, as far as possible, what conditions men will meet and what requirements the engineers must fulfill."

What would such trips accomplish?

"Scientific return alone would be incalculable in ultimate value. Samples brought back to earth would provide possibly even a new era for geologists, botanists, biologists, astronomers, meteorologists. Knowledge would be increased a thousandfold; the possibilities for research and application would be literally without limit."

From space, weather processes could be followed from beginning to end and weather forecasting would be practically infallible, they said. The value to agriculture would be inestimable.

In the more immediate future, the school's findings may prove of value. Plans are now on the boards for planes to fly at 100,000 feet and perhaps to travel from New York to Paris in less than an hour. Conditions likely to be encountered at such height and speed will closely resemble those of interstellar space.

Shaw Says "It's A Question Of Time"

Famed Irish Playwright To Observe Birthday At Work

By THOMAS C. WATSON
INS Staff Correspondent

AYOT ST. LAWRENCE, July 23—George Bernard Shaw said today he will spend his ninety-third birthday next Tuesday working because "when you're ninety-three your time is shortening and I have much to finish."

The Irish playwright and essayist departed from character to make a mellow response to the question put to him by International News Service on how he expected to spend his birthday.

"By working of course," said Shaw. "I cannot afford to celebrate. It's not a question of money; it's a question of time."

New Play Written

He has accomplished much since his last birthday. He has written a new play, finished a book, published sixteen biographical sketches and written many "letters to the editor." All are self-revealing, pungent and on the whole an entertaining and enlightening commentary on current affairs.

Between his ninety-first and ninety-second birthdays Shaw wrote his play "Buoyant Billions" for the Malvern festival, but it was not presented as the local government authorities would not grant the necessary license to repair the bomb damage on the theater.

"Well, save it for next year, what's twelve months in an eternity," was Shaw's comment on this setback.

So the play comes on next month at the hastily reconditioned theater in the heart of the beautiful Cotswolds. For the first time Shaw will not be present at the premier.

For the 1950 Malvern festival Shaw has another play ready, "Farfetched Favors," which has to do with the world of the post atomic-bomb era.

Gives Up Apartment

The prolific dramatist — he loathes being called a "playwright"—has given up his Whitehall court apartment overlooking the Thames with views of the houses of parliament and St. Paul's and taken a smaller furnished one.

His vast store of books, and most of the apartment's contents have been sold.

He parted from them without regret, at least so he wrote to his agent. Yet many of the books were collected by the late Mrs. Shaw, and included many of Oscar Wilde's first editions with the usual Wilde flambuoyant inscriptions.

"Get the highest price you can and don't hesitate to cash in my name. It ought to increase the price and I need the money," Shaw wrote to the auctioneers.

Have Shaw Annotations

Many of the books have typical Shaw annotations in the margins. There is one book on Dante, with Shaw's marginal note of:

"Except sexually only fools can love one another . . . I preach justice instead, even to those I hate."

As to the many bundles of private letters, Shaw condemned them to the incinerator. But a friend saved them from the flames and soon they will appear in the mighty tome of GBS he is preparing.

The great man looks frailer and thinner than ever. His facial skin is almost transparent, and the one-time flaring "rubrious beard" is now white and wispy. But the steely blue eyes still sparkle, and the high-pitched voice retains its old fire and clarity.

Thousands of letters and cables of congratulation are pouring in, delivered by the young and brisk Ayot St. Lawrence mailman. Shaw pretends to ignore them. But it is certain that once thy have been indexed and laid out in order he will read through them.

Will Miss Trip

But only the senders will know whether any acknowledgement will be despatched. He still pretends to hate birthdays.

"I've had far too many of them," he told this reporter. "Why do people keep reminding me of my getting old? I am too well aware of it myself."

He is going to miss his trip to Malvern this year. He usually spent a month there rehearsing his actors, either chiding or cheering them. Then he indulged in his five or six-mile walk along the Malvern hills.

But his ninty-third birthday will be spent puttering around the small, trim little suburban garden he maintains in his modest house in Ayot St. Lawrence.

A few visitors may pop in to see him—or try to. He will be sure to sneak away after his vegetarian lunch for his usual forty winks. And nothing must disturb that rite.

He will carry on with his writing and probably pen a few letters.

And he will be abed shortly after he has heard the "eleven o'clock news" on th BBC, forgetting all about ninty-three years of toil and fun, of triumph and failure—with triumphs distinctly predominant.

LUBBOCK AVALANCHE-JOURNAL

Women's News

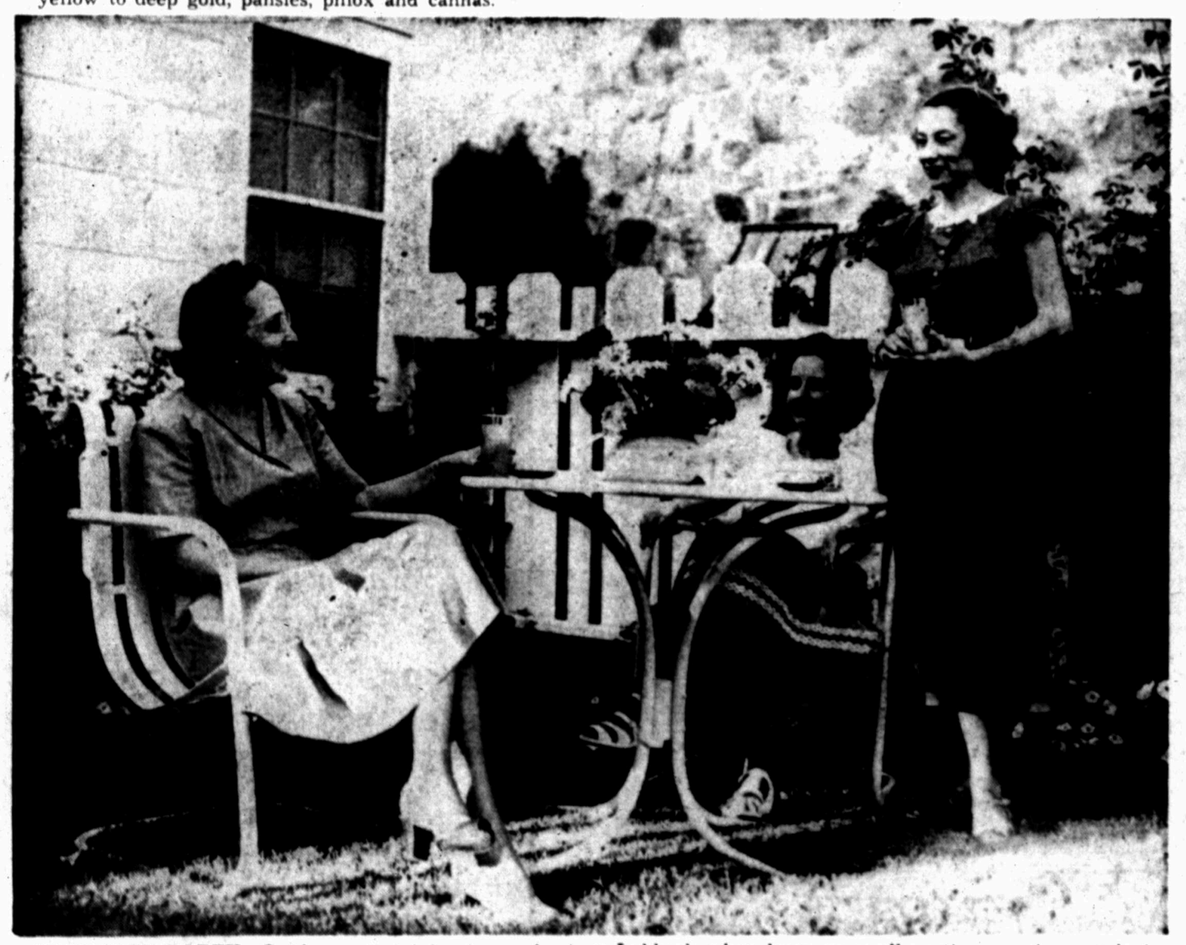

Lubbock, Texas, Sunday, July 24, 1949

SUCCESSFUL GARDENER—Mrs. Dixie Lowe is pictured near a huge colorful and verdant spot in the northwest corner of her backyard at 2802 Twenty-first. Mrs. Lowe, whose garden attracts passersby the summer long, says she favors perennials, which are easy to grow, rewarding the gardener who thins and discards and uses insecticides. Petunias and verbenas border the flower bed and other beauties to be found are daisies, day lilies that range from pale yellow to deep gold, pansies, phlox and cannas.

COLORFUL SPOT—When guests call at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lewis on the Levelland highway, they cannot sing too many praises of their beautiful garden, which naturally, is planted in order that as one season merges in another flowers constantly are in bloom. At the present day lilies in their vari-colored beauty are highlighting the scene. Hugh Lynn, 8-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis, and his prize-winning wire-haired terrier, Duchess, pause during a romp to pose for that ever-popular picture, a boy and his dog.

BACKYARD PARTY—Outdoor entertaining is popular i n Lubbock when large or small parties are given or just when a few friends drop in. Miss Dorothy Levey, above, chats with Mrs. Jack Payne, seated ,and Mrs. Elmer Godwin shortly before a backyard coke party given in her honor at the Godwin home, 2107 Twenty-eighth. Miss Levey, whose home is in Dallas, is a former Lubbock resident.

FOR YOUNGER SET—Table games, interrupted by time out for cool lemonade, are popular with members of the younger set. Bettye Armstrong invited a few friends over for games Thursday afternoon in the yard at her new home, 3304 Twenty-third. Starting at the left and going clock-wise, the girls are Joyce Worrell, Christine Toles, Nancy Harrington, Bettye and Pat Montgomery. (Staff photos).

Parties Are Compliments To Summer Brides-Elect

WEEKEND parties and those planned for next week are primarily for brides-elect. Misses Charlotte Scoggin, Jo Ann Kuykendall, Alyce Howell and Imogene Boyd are among those being complimented.

Both Miss Scoggin and Miss Howell were honor guests at a brunch given by Mrs. Bert LaRoe and her daughter, Mrs. Bill Franklin, Friday morning in the LaRoe home at 1913 Twenty-fifth. Thirty guests called.

The table was laid with an Italian cutwork cloth and decorated with red and white flowers, and from it was served chicken a la king in pastries, cinnamon rolls, frozen fruit and coffee.

In the H. G. Lawson home, 1602 Ave. X, at noon Friday, a luncheon was given in Miss Scoggin's honor. Hostesses were Mesdames Lawson, Gormley Holman of Wichita Falls, Clay Thompson and E. F. Alford and guests were:

The honoree, her mother, Mrs. A. L. Scoggin, and Mesdames J. B. Cardwell, Wesley Read, R. O. Bennett, W. C. Wood, Joe Nislar, O. L. Nislar, Fred Brown, Bill Franklin, N. A. Payne, Harold Wall, J. W. Ross, L. E. Grimes, Darwin Bigness and Sam Allred.

Garden flowers were used to decorate. The honoree, who will marry Edward Nahigan August 5, was presented a gift of china.

Courtesy To Two

A Saturday afternoon dessert bridge given by Mrs. W. C. Barnett and her daughter, Miss Dorothy Barnett, in the J. C. Stansell home, 2105 Twenty-ninth, was a courtesy to Miss Scoggin and Miss Kuykendall.

China doll vases centered each table. Other floral arrangements were of marigolds and daisies. Each bride-elect was presented a gift of silver by the hostesses.

Tea guests were mothers of the honoree, Mrs. G. P. Kuykendall and Mrs. A. L. Scoggin and others on the list were Misses Marjorie Allen, Jean Eisenberg, Carolyn Cole, Betty Jenkins, Bettye Thomson, Lyn Lowrey, Joann Lee, Jo Simmons, Brentie Sue Thompson, Paula Fix, Carolyn Lockhart, and Mesdames Bill Franklin, John Hampton, Gormley Holman of Wichita Falls, Hal Langford, Bill Price of Dallas, and Fred Brown.

Miss Kuykendall and Miss Scoggin will share honors again Tuesday when Mrs. R. S. Miller, 2205 Sixteenth, gives a morning party for them. A 1 o'clock Tuesday bridge-luncheon has been planned for Miss Scoggin by Mrs. Bryan McDonald and Mrs. Don Brooks at the McDonald home. Mrs. W. C. Wood and Mrs. R. O. Bennett will entertain Friday morning at Lubbock Country club with a party for the bride-to-be.

Give Luncheon Friday

Mesdames Z. A. Kimbro, Jeff Watson, Clifton Barrier and A. E. Coffman were hostesses at a Friday luncheon at Hilton hotel given with Miss Kuykendall as honor guest. She and John Schneider of Los Angeles are to be married August 18.

Daisies and golden glow centered the table and a gift of silver marked the honoree's place.

Places were laid for other guests who were Mesdames G. P. Kuykendall, G. E. Dawson, Grady West, Rem Thomson, J. H. Hackfield, Avery Fix, Bill Pride of Dallas, W. C. Barnett, John W. Broome, Bill Roberts, and Misses Chloe T. Dawson, Margaret Ann West, Bettye Thomson, Mary Frances Hackfield, Paula Fix and Margaret Barrier.

The bride-elect is to be complimented at a Wednesday morning brunch planned by Mrs. Jess Levens. A Thursday morning party is to be held at the George Deardorff home by Mesdames Deardorff, G. E. Dawson, Cecil Cagle, R. V. Williams and J. D. Nelson. Mrs. Rem Thomson and her daughter, Miss Bettye Thomson, will honor Miss Kuykendall at a Friday morning brunch.

The first of a series of parties for Miss Imogene Boyd, who will marry Lucian M. Moore August 5, will be a tea to be given Thursday night by Mrs. Bill Cooke and Mrs. A. L. Cone at the home of the latter, 2324 Seventeenth.

Mrs. G. L. McClellan, Mrs. E. E. Corcorran and Miss Sara Woods

Town Talk

TO COMPLIMENT Miss Dorothy Levey of Dallas, formerly of Lubbock, a coke party was given by Mrs. Elmer D. Godwin and Mrs. Jack Payne Thursday afternoon in the backyard at the Godwin home, 2107 Twenty-eighth.

On the list were Mesdames Hurley Carpenter, Joe Callaghan, Hilton McCabe, Lancey Price, R. S. Prothro, Marlin Smith, Ed S. Hall, Harmon Jenkins, J. G. Keyes, J. N. Eichelberger, James F. Dunn, Clem Boverie, Lottie Hilton, Luther Godwin, Dr. Pauline Miller, and Misses Lucille Collier and Helen Hart.

Miss Levey is a houseguest of the Elmer Godwins.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lawson will be hosts at a 7 o'clock dinner tonight at Hilton hotel. Honor guests will be Miss Louise Leftwich and the Lawson's son, Homer Lawson, who are to be married Monday night.

The 24 guests will be members of the couple's wedding party and their husbands and wives. Crepe myrtle will be used to decorate.

The traditional bridesmaids' luncheon honoring Miss Leftwich's attendants was given Saturday at Lubbock Country club by her sisters, Mrs. Doyle McLeod and Mrs. Don Slaughter, and Mr. Lawson's sister, Mrs. Gormley Holman of Wichita Falls.

A doll made of styro foam and dressed in aqua and yellow net and satin which centered the table was surrounded by flowers in pastel colors, predominately yellow and aqua.

Covers were laid for Mrs. J. R. Leftwich, Mrs. Lawson, Miss Leftwich, the hostesses, Miss Clarice Graves of Birmingham, Ala., Miss Martha Lee Adams, Miss Carolyn Lockhart, Miss Joann Lee, Miss Brentie Sue Thompson and Miss Augenia Luker.

Dr. and Mrs. Leon Upshaw who returned recently from a year in Ankara, Turkey, are expected to arrive in Lubbock tomorrow for a visit with Dr. and Mrs. Ivan G. Mayfield and to make arrangements

Betrothals Are Revealed For Four Young Couples

JULY HAS shared honors with other months for a time of news concerning engagements and newlyweds.

Mr. and Mrs. Warlick Carr, who married in the late spring, were honored at an open house given by Mr. Carr's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Carr, Friday night in their home at 3001 Thirty-sixth.

Mrs. Waggoner Carr and Miss Anna Casey alternated in presiding at the punch bowl.

Members of the house party were Mesdames H. D. Stanley, Edna Chapman and George Brewer and they were assisted by Misses Virginia Carr, Mary Beth Toles and Shirley Chapman.

A colorful centerpiece of talisman roses and daisies, arranged by Mrs. Sally Jones, was on the refreshment table.

One hundred guests called.

Mothers' Club Meets To Plan Activities

St. Elizabeth's Mothers' club, which organized recently, held a called meeting in the home of Mrs. W. Harvey Melton, 1724 Twenty-eighth, Friday to make plans for this fall.

Mrs. Melton presided and the group adopted the constitution which was read by Mrs. L. E. Brown. Mrs. James Pavlicek, yearbook chairman, made a report.

The 20 members attending voted to sponsor a children's style show in September.

Meetings of the club are to be conducted each second Tuesday at 2:45 p. m. at St. Elizabeth's school.

Helen Lois Simpson To Wed In August

Mr. and Mrs. Marion K. Simpson of 2124 Twenty-third are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Helen Lois Simpson, to William David Draper, son of Mrs. Roy Draper of the Tahoka highway, and the late Mr. Draper.

Five Entertain With Thursday Gift Party

Miss Estelle McLaughlin, bride-elect, was honored at a shower given Thursday night in the home of her aunt, Mrs. A. J. Smith, 2401 Fourteenth, by Mesdames Smith, R. E. Penney, Harry Bryant, J. L. Martin of Clovis, N. M., and George A. Barber of San Antonio.

A white linen cloth covered the table which was decorated with white and blue daisies. Mrs. Bill Patterson and Miss Sibyl Pirtle served guests and Mrs. Louella Kendrick was at the bride's book.

Thirty-five persons called. Miss McLaughlin will marry Robert E. Johnston, jr., Saturday.

The wedding will be performed on Friday, August 19, at 8 o'clock in the evening at First Baptist church.

Wanda Jean Medlock To Wed Mr. Carroll

The wedding date of Miss Wanda Jean Medlock and Ward W. Carroll which is Saturday, August 13, is being announced by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Medlock of 2514 Ruby. Mr. Carroll is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Carroll of Panhandle.

Miss Hannigan Will Wed Fort Worth Man

Mrs. E. A. Myatt of 1509 Seventh is announcing the approaching marriage of her daughter, Dohna Jo, to Richard John Hannigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Hannigan of Fort Worth.

The wedding is to take place Saturday, August 6.

Miss Cocannouer Is To Wed Mr. Crume

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Cocannouer of 3519 Twenty-fifth, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Lauwanna Cocannouer and Floyd E. Crume, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Crume of 706 Ave. R. The wedding will take place Aug. 16.

The Woman's Angle

By Margaret Turner

NEVER was Daniel Webster's warning so timely as now: "If we abide by the principles taught in the Bible, our country will go on prospering; but if we and our posterity neglect its instructions and authority, no man can tell how suddenly a catastrophe may overwhelm us and bury all our glory in profound obscurity."

SCATTERINGS

BILLBOARDS showing beautiful women serve as telling instruction in the art of makeup, because they are executed by artists who know correct shapes of mouths, eyebrows, general contour, placement of rouge and perfect proportion . . . Whatever happened to that old-fashioned word, "muskmelon?" . . . Irving Berlin considers his song, "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor," to be an important composition which will grow in stature, somewhat like "God Bless America." One of the songs in "Miss Liberty," musical comedy by Robert Sherwood and Berlin, the idea was inspired by the poem on the pedestal of the Statue of Liberty. But what's most important about the song is that the composer will cede copyright proceeds to the Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts.

Wonder if linotype operators know the word "cliche" stems from the print shop. In the days before linotype operators, when type was set by hand, thoughtful typesetters recognized that certain phrases or combination of words occurred very frequently. Examples: "By the skin of your teeth," "We view with pride," "Now on the other hand," etc. So they made up such groups of words in little type bars to save themselves the trouble of setting them just before deadline. The name given the bars was "cliche," from the French — to sterotype. From overuse these expressions became trite, hackneyed phrases and are now glorified with the printer's term cliche.

AND WHY NOT?

WE'D like to organize a movement to discourage people tuning out of a friendly conversation until the moment arrives when they can introduce their two cents' worth.

We are tired of doing our bit, without listeners, knowing that each member of the group is about to top what we say.

In our movement we'd like to interest certain married people who never listen to each other or to anyone else, including us.

Wonder why people when buying newspapers pick the second or third one down in the pile instead of the one on top?

PHOTOGRAPH CONTEST

BECAUSE there are a number of excellent amateur photographers in Lubbock and many handsome dogs, we hope that someone in our city enters the second annual dog photo contest sponsored by the Gaines Dog Research Center, New York City.

The theme of this year's contest is "Your Family Dog" and prizes totaling almost one thousand dollars are being offered for photographs involving actual family pets or of situations and activities in which the family dog could well play a part.

A post card request to the Gaines Dog Research Contest, 250 Park Avenue, New York, 17 will bring a copy of the official contest rules. Only interesting, appealing pictures are desired, with no limit on the number submitted by a contestant.

We hope Mr. and Mrs. Sherrill Boyd of Post, both cracker jack photographers, will send in a picture of their cocker spaniel standing on his hind legs and holding a bottle of soda pop for as long as it takes to swig it down. In color, it would be a knock out, but unfortunately only unretouched black and white photographs will be accepted.

Through The Coral Doors

Howdy Folks,

No news from Anne and James this week, but got to read some interesting "Market doings" in Fredda's letters on my weekly visit through the coral doors.

Fredda really must have done some scurrying around to do all the things she wrote about from Chicago these past two weeks. She said the buyers were there from everywhere and the firms were all so busy that she was making appointment at seven in the mornings in order to get to see them. Fredda had only one comment to make on that long debated subject—"Is furniture going down in price?"—Fredda said that all the less expensive furniture had gone down approximately 10 per cent and that the better furniture was staying the same and from all indications would be there for a long, long time.

Fredda's trip will bring many nice surprises to all of us—Already there were samples of beautiful fabrics—those wonderful designs that only Fredda can find—coming into the studio. She described lots of mighty pretty sounding lamps and accessories that she had bought, but I'll just have to wait until they come in to tell you about them.

You know, it's the traditional custom at Decorators Studio for a complete change to be made at the Studio while Fredda is at market—So go by to see the Studio's new face—new tables, lamps, and accessories are out and arranged very attractively — and more of those fascinating table setups that Josie and Bee dream up together —What a place! Busy as it always is — it's my favorite spot to sit and relax.

See you there . . .Broadway and N.

Beauticians Study Methods Of Satisfactory Service

The best methods for keeping a woman happy while she is undergoing the rigors of beauty service is being studied in Lubbock by beauticians. How to cope with a customer who arrived 20 minutes late for an appointment when the schedule is crowded is among some of the problems considered by beauty shop managers and operators in a special course on "Customer Service and Public Relations."

"It takes more than special technical information and mechanical skills in a beauty shop," says Miss Gertrude Prince, training specialist from the University of Texas and State Board for Vocational Education, distributive education division.

The first series of training classes in the training institute have been completed during the last two weeks. A series of new classes for managers and operators will begin July 25 and continue through Aug. 10.

To Offer New Classes

Two new classes will begin in "Customer Service in Beauty Salons, "scheduled to make it possible for those who have not participated to do so.

The course on "Customer Service in Beauty Salons" will be held from 8 until 9 a. m., beginning Monday and continuing for five executive days for two weeks, at Hemphill-Wells Beauty salon. The course also will be offered from 8 until 10 p. m. at Esther's Beauty shop, beginning Monday and continuing Wednesday and Friday and Tuesday and Thursday of the following week.

The second executive course in "How to Supervise Operators" will begin Tuesday, meeting again on Thursday and other dates to be decided. This course will be taught at Arlene's Beauty school.

All participants at the training institute are to attend a graduation banquet at the Hilton hotel Aug. 3 at 8 p. m.

Playlet To Be Given For Methodist WSCS

Advice to Wives Whose Husband don't Save Money

Are you having trouble putting away something as security for the future?

Owning a home of your own is a real step toward security, and today (like never before) it is possible to buy a home and pay for it like rent. When you're buying your own home, the monthly payments not only give you shelter now, but the payment also goes toward making that home completely yours . . . free of debt.

The value of a home cannot be measured in dollars and cents when you consider the happiness and comfort and contentment which a real home of your own can give you and your family. Children grow up as a real part of the neighborhood and community in which they live . . . with a chance to enjoy all the pleasures of "being a part" of the things that happen.

This is a very easy way to save money, and to accumulate a "nest egg" that may someday see your family through difficult times . . . why not act now? See FORREST tomorrow and learn how you can build for a bright future.

Couple Marries

THE marriage of Miss Margaret Oleta Stewart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl O. Stewart of 2419 Twenty-first, and Coke Clifton Toliver, son of Mrs. Margaret Toliver of Mullin, was read Saturday night at 8 o'clock at the wedding chapel of the Brownwood First Methodist church. A double ring ceremony was performed before an altar arranged with white gladioli and woodwardia fern.

For her wedding, the bride wore a street length dress of white organdy, designed with a fitted bodice and a closely tucked yoke fastened in front with tiny covered buttons which extended to a soft round collar. Tucks of graduated width accented the rippling gathered skirt. She wore a short veil of bridal illusion, falling from a coronet of illusion and orange blossoms and she carried a ribbon flowered orchid on a white Bible.

Following tradition, she wore, for something old, a strand of pearls which the bridegroom brought from the South Pacific, and she carried, for something borrowed, a white linen handkerchief belonging to her mother. Mrs. Toliver was the 160th bride to wear a blue garter belonging to Mrs. Robert J. Allen. For good luck, she put a penny in her shoe.

Miss Ruby Stewart who attended her sister as maid of honor wore a sheer ice blue dress fashioned with a V neckline and a flared skirt. She carried a colonial bouquet of Marguerite daisies.

Rex Williams of Mullin served as best man.

The bride's table, at the reception given at the church after the ceremony, was laid with lace and, centered by an arrangement of white gladioli. The bouquets of the bride and her attendant and

Wedding Ceremonies Highlight Social News In Lubbock

Miss Leftwich Is To Wed Monday Night

THE MARRIAGE of Miss Mary Louise Leftwich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Leftwich, 3313 Nineteenth, and Homer Hampton Lawson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Lawson, 1602 Ave. X, will be solemnized at 8:30 o'clock Monday night at St. John's Methodist church with Dr. L. N. Lipscomb officiating at a double ring ceremony.

A reception will follow at the home of the bride's parents.

The altar will be banked with baskets of white gladioli and woodwardia fern, huckleberry and white tapers, and gladioli and tapers will mark the bridal aisle.

Bob Scoggin, church organist, will play "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life," "I Love You Truly" and "The Rosary" preceding the wedding solos, "Wonderfu One" and "Because," to be sung by Miss Eugenia Luker. During the ceremoney "Indian Love Call," "The Waltz You Saved For Me" and "Again" will be offered.

The bride, who will be given in marriage by her father, is to wear a wedding gown of heavy white satin fashioned with a yoke of illusion and off-shoulder neckline of satin folds caught with bugle beads. Seed pearls and bugle beads highlight a diamond design centering the fitted bodice which is buttoned to the waistline in the back. The self-covered buttons fasten the long tight sleeves and the full skirt sweeps into a long train. Her three-quarter length veil of illusion will be attached to a beaded Dutch bonnet and she will carry white orchids showered with bouvardia.

To Attend Bride

Mrs. Don Slaughter will attend her sister as matron of honor and bridesmaids will be Miss Clarice Graves of Birmingham, Mrs. Doyle McLeod, Miss Joann Lee, Miss Brentie Sue Thompson and Mrs. Gormley Holman of Wichita Falls.

They will wear yellow organza dresses made with off-shoulder necklines, wide scalloped ruffles and full skirts over hoops. They will wear crownless picture hats trimmed with yellow velvet streamers and will carry straw baskets filled with yellow and aqua daisies.

Michele and Suzette McLeod, flower girls, are to wear aqua organza, made off-shoulder and ruffled from waist to hemline. They will carry baskets of daisies.

Thomas E. Pirtle, jr., will serve Mr. Lawson as best man the ushers will be Buddy Boles, Gormley Holman, Gene Gray, George Clifton Riek and John Halsey, jr.

Baskets of white gladioli will deck the fireplace, the terrace and hall for the reception and summer flowers will be placed in the entertaining rooms.

To Go To Colorado

The couple will leave for a wedding trip to points in Colorado and will be at home at 1604 Ave. W after Aug. 1. For travel the bride will wear a black sheer wool bolero suit with red and white tie silk blouse and sash and black and white accessories. She will wear a corsage of white orchids.

The bride, a graduate of Lubbock High school, attended Stephens college and Texas Technological college and held memberships in Las Cresas and Ko Shari clubs.

Mr. Lawson also is a graduate of Lubbock High school and is to graduate from Tech college in January where he is a member of the D ible T association.

Rosborough and daughter, Gail, of Colorado Springs; Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Watson of Marshall; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Carroll of Big Spring; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wellman and family of Fort Worth; Mrs. C. V. Smith and Miss Nettie Bird of Waco and Charles O. Lankford of Texarkana, Ark.

King-Martin Wedding Is Read On Saturday

In a double rink wedding ceremony performed at First Christian church Saturday night at 7:30 o'clock, Miss Geane Edwena Martin became the bride of Kenneth Roy King. The vows were read by Rev. W. F. Ferguson, Baptist minister, before an altar banked with baskets of pink and maroon gladioli and greenery. Tapers lighted the setting, and white satin ribbon marked the bridal aisle.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. K. Martin of 2508 Twenty-second and the bridegroom is son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. King of Odessa.

A prelude of organ music including the following selections was offered by Mrs. Wayne L. Kelly, "Ava Maria," (Schubert), "I Love Thee" (Grieg), "Yours Is My Heart Alone" (Lehar), "Intermezzo" (Mascagni), "Traumerei" (Schumann), "In a Monastery Garden" "Ketelbey), "Cantilene Nuptials" (Dubois), and "Evening Star" (Wagner). The organist played "Liebestraum" (Liszt) as Miss Mary Jane Hinchey and Miss Polly Gossett lighted candles and presented the DFD club song during the ceremony. She also accompanied the soloists, Mrs. Bill Cope and Winstead Laymance. Mrs. Cope sang "My Wonderful One" and "At Dawning" and Mr. Laymance sang "Through the Years" and offered "The Lord's Prayer" (Malotte) as a musical benediction. The traditional wedding marches were presented by Mrs Kelly.

The bride entered the church with her father. She was wearing an ivory satin gown which she had designed with a fitted bodice with a square neckline accented by a double bias fold of satin, and long fitted sleeves which came to points over the hands. Tiny buttons extended down the back of the dress through the circular yoke of the skirt, and unpressed pleats fell from the yoke diagonally to form a chapel length train. Her veil was of chantilly lace edged in hand drawn ecru lace. She carried a purple orchid with bouvardi and white lace, showered with rosette silk.

Carrying out tradition, the bride's something old was opal and amethyst necklace, a gift from her parents, and her something borrowed and blue was a handkerchief of her mother's which had been sent from France by Mr. Martin in 1918.

Miss Vicki Martin, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her gown of dusty rose taffeta was styled with a fitted bodice, off-shoulder bertha and gathered skirt. She carried a cascade of maroon glamellias surrounded by pink and satin. The bridesmaids, Misses Doris Smalley and Nancy Wilson of Claude, were gowned in blue green taffeta designed with fitted bodices, off-shoulder berthas and gored skirts. Their cascades were of maroon glamellias arranged with blue green net and satin.

The candlelighters' dresses were in yellow green taffeta and they

Clark-Harrison Wedding Is Read Saturday Night

IN a simple service read by candlelight Saturday night at 8 o'clock at St. John's Methodist church, Mrs. Marie Dawkins Harrison of Lubbock and Dr. David Lee Clark of Austin were united in marriage.

Rev. C. E. Fike, sr., performed a double ring ceremony before the fern and gladioli decked altar.

Mrs. Earl Powell of Puerto de Luna, N. M., organist, played love songs preceding and during the ceremony and offered the traditional wedding marches.

The bride wore a dress of aqua Chantilly lace over the same color taffeta fashioned with smartly designed bodice and full skirt that slightly tipped the floor. Her hat was a French model in aqua malline and ostrich tips. For something old the bride wore a cameo encrusted in pearls, a gift from the bridegroom. It formerly was a gift from Dr. Clark to his mother, who wore the pin during her lifetime. For something borrowed the bride carried an orchid on a white prayer book, which she had presented to Mrs. Paul Lerret of Fort Worth on the occasion of her marriage several years ago in Denton.

Sister Is Attendant

Miss Eileen Dawkins, who served as her sister's maid of honor, wore a peach organdy and lace combination dress with tightly fitted bodice and billowy skirt. She wore lace mittens and an organdy halo hat and carried a nosegay of peach gladioli.

Dr. Clark was attended by Ed Bennett of Austin and the bride's brothers, Ross C. Dawkins of Odessa and Kirby Dawkins of McCamey, were ushers.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Dawkins, pioneers of Callahan county and long-time residents of Abilene. She has been on the staff of the English department at Texas Technological college since 1943; formerly taught in Abilene High school, Hardin-Simmons university and the University of Texas.

Native Of Kentucky

The bridegroom, a native of Kentucky, is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lindsey Clark of Prestonsburg, Ky. In his youth he came to Texas to attend the college of his uncle, W. L. Mayo, founder and president for many years of what is now East Texas State college at Commerce. Mr. Clark attended the University of North Carolina and took his doctorate at Columbia university. He has taught in the University of Maine, and for the last several years he has been professor of English at the Universit of Texas.

Following the ceremony, guests were honored at a reception in the Yaqui room of the Hilton hotel, which was decorated in a color scheme of green and white.

The lace-covered table was centered with white gladioli, flanked by white tapers. On one end was the wedding cake and at the other was the punch bowl. The cake was an all-white double ring, the ring being joined by two wedding bells caught in the talons of two love birds.

MRS. DAVID LEE CLARK

Mrs. L. B. Cooper greeted guests and serving at the refreshment table were Mrs. Earl Powell and Mrs. Margarette W. Walker.

Assist In House Party

Assisting in hospitalities were Mesdames Homer Simons, Abilene; Ross Dawkins, Odessa; Kirby Dawkins, McCamey; Ruth Russell, Misses Eileen Dawkins, Earl Powell, Daisy Chambers of Hobbs, N. M.; Mildred Dulaney of Waco and Frances Osborne of Corpus Christi.

Immediately after the reception, Dr. and Mrs. Clark left by automobile for an extended wedding trip through the northwest United States and Canada. In September they will return to 2800 Posey Lane, Austin, to live in their new rambling ranch style home.

For traveling Mrs. Clark chose beige gabardine with dark brown accessories.

Don Karnes Is Honor Guest At Yard Party .

Don Karnes, who has returned from Santa Fe, N. M., where he spent most of the summer, was surprised with a wiener roast given in the backyard of his cousin, Mrs. Jean Gideon.

Outdoor games were enjoyed by Jo Dell Meyers, Rita Kay Bumpass, Barbara Jo and Donna Beth Exum, Linda Paul, Jackie Harkey and Jan Karnes, Clinnon and Jerry McCall, James Harrel Exum, Lewis and Jerry McFarland, Jack Don and Sammy Lanham.

Ring Service Is Performed

Miss Margrette Ruth Tarver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Tarver of 2419 Thirtieth, became the bride of Andrew R. Hogan, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hogan of 311 Ave. R, in a double ring ceremony performed Friday night at 8 o'clock by Rev. Jack A. Welch at Central Baptist church.

Greenery, baskets of gladioli and candles decorated the altar and candles marked the cented aisle.

Gerre Hancock played "Traumerei" as Mrs. Joe F. Tarver, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Mack McClintock, sister of the bridegroom, lighted candles. He accompanied Travis Hammer as he sang, "Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life" and "O Promise Me." During the ceremony, "Beautiful Dreamer" was played.

Mr. Tarver gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a white organza dress designed with a lace yoke, sweetheart neckline, long sleeves tapering into points over the hands and a full skirt which extended into a train. She wore a braided headband and carried orchids and white carnations on a white Bible. For something old, she carried a handkerchief carried by her mother on her wedding day; for something borrowed, she wore a veil belonging to Mrs. Bill Fortenberry; and for good luck, she put a penny in her shoe.

In Bridal Party

Miss Betty Smith of Ralls, maid of honor, wore a pink eyelet organdy dress fashioned after the bride's and carried rosebuds. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Bill Tarver, sister-in-law of the bride, Miss Joyce Hamilton, Miss Donna Woolman and Miss Beth Hardin of Plainview, were dressed identically to Miss Smith. Mrs. Tarver wore yellow, Miss Hamilton was dressed in aqua, Miss Woolman wore blue and Miss Hardin, orchid. They wore hats to match and carried rosebuds. Candlelighters were dressed in blue.

MRS. A. R. HOGAN, JR.

Micky Fawcett, nephew of the bridegroom, was best man and Wayne Dean, Bill Tarver and Joe F. Tarver brothers of the bride, and Gerald Howard were ushers. Jim Edd Kennedy was ring bearer.

Mary Welch, flower girl, wore pink eyelet organdy and carried rose petals in a white basket.

A reception followed in the Tarver home. The lace covered refreshment table was decorated with tapers, flowers and a three tiered wedding cake. One hundred guests attended. Baskets of gladioli decorated the house.

For a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride wore a navy blue suit with white and navy accessories. The couple will be at home at the Adams apartments, Slaton highway.

Both the bride and bridegroom attended Lubbock High school. Mr. Hogan is employed at American Optical company.

Britain's motor industry recently exceeded its monthly export target of $22,000,000 by a total of $2,400,000.

Don McInturff of Sudan was best man and Bill Walker of Longview and Lawrence Stone were groomesmen. Ushers were Ted Forsythe, James Stanley, Johnny Davis and Ed Hooker of Henderson. Paul King, brother of bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Wedding guests attended a garden reception at the Martin home following the ceremony. Parents of the bride and bridegroom and members of the wedding party assisted with hospitalities. Others in the houseparty were Mesdames R. S. Wilkinson, Russell Ray, C. G. Rook, W. L. Bradshaw, W. F. Martin, O. V. King, J. L. Benton, F. A. Kleinschmidt, Clark Zachary, Fred Rea, L. E. White, James Bellah, Don McInturff, Howard Taylor, and Misses Jo Ann Forbes, Betty Martin, Billie Freeman and Bertha Phillips.

An arrangement of summer flowers decorated the bride's table and baskets of maroon and pink gladioli were placed about the garden.

Out-of-town guests were from Odessa, Slaton, Colorado City, Muleshoe, Marfa, Claude, Abilene, Crane, Sudan, Stephenville, Dallas, Longview, Elida, N. M., and Shreveport, La.

For a wedding trip to points to New Mexico and Colorado, the bride chose an aqua gabardine suit with brown aligator shoes and bag and ecru hat, gloves and blouse. She wore an orchid corsage.

After August 1, the couple will be at home in Odessa where Mr. King is employed by the King Constructn company. Mrs. King is a graduate of Slaton High school and Texas Technological college where she was a member of DFD social club. Mr. King is a graduate of Lubbock High school and Texas A. & M. college.

Abernathy Church To Be Wedding Scene

ABERNATHY, July 23—In a double ring wedding ceremony to be performed tonight at 7 o'clock at the Methodist church, Mrs. Avis Barrick Fuchs, daughter of Mrs. Clinton M. Barrick, and Woodrow W. Allen of Sweetwater, son of Mrs. H. F. Allen of San Angelo, are to be married. The candlelighted setting will be decorated with greenery and white and picardy gladioli. Rev. George Turrentine will read the service.

Mrs. Harry Williams, pianist is to present a prelude of wedding music and accompany Mrs. Douglas Chapman as she sings "Because" and "Always." The pianist will play "I Love You Truly" during the ceremony and offer traditional marches.

Given in marriage by her brother, Clayton Barrick, the bride will wear an ankle-length afternoon dress of salmon pink Chantilly lace fashioned with a low-cut neckline and a full skirt gathered to a basque bodice. She is to wear matching mits and carry a gardenia bouquet centered with lilies of the valley. Her white straw hat is decorated with lilies of the valley and her opera pumps are of salmon pink linen.

Miss Jackqueline Small of Lubbock who is to be maid of honor will be dressed in white cloque made similar to the bride's dress. She will carry picardy gladioli and wear the same flowers in her hair.

The junior bridesmaid, Eva LaVerne Fuchs, daughter of the bride, and candlelighters, Billie Ann Watts and Mildred Carr, are to wear dresses identical to Miss Small's. They will wear picardy gladioli in their hair and the junior bridesmaid will carry a gladioli bouquet.

Edd C. McLeroy of Floydada is to be best man and Joe Meador of Lubbock and Hilburn Barrick, brother of the bride, will be ushers.

At a reception to be held in the Barrick home, the bride's table will be laid with a Quaker lace cloth and centered with the bride's bouquet and candles in silver candelabra. Miss Angelina Kveton and Miss Gladys Dawson will serve the wedding ring cake. Miss Betty Jo Jackson is to preside at the punch bowl. Others in the houseparty will include Mesdames M. A. Coy, Clayton Barrick and Hilburn Barrick.

After a wedding trip to Colorado, the couple will be at home in Sweetwater where the bridegroom is assistant county agent in training. Both the bride and bridegroom are graduates of Texas Technological college where the bride was president of the Home Economics club, vice president of Forum, a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, Alpha Chi and Junior council, was president and business manager of Casa Linda and was recognized in Who's Who in American Universities and Colleges. She has been teaching home economics in the Abernathy school. Mr. Allen was vice president of the Aggie club, a member of Block and Bridle and the Tech Rodeo association. He was listed with the campus Who's Who.

For her wedding trip the bride will wear a beige dressmaker suit in silk shantung with a white summer felt hat and gloves, brown shoes and bag and a gardenia corsage.

Miss Ratliff, Sister Return From Trip

Miss Merle Ratliff and her sister, Mrs. Inez Clift of Austin, have returned from Banff Springs, Alberta, Canada, where 600 Altrusans from various parts of the world met for a biennial international convention.

In addition to the United States and Canada, England, Korea, Brazil and Mexico were represented.

After the five-day convention, Miss Ratliff and her sister continued to Lake Louise, the Columbia ice fields, Vancouver, Victoria and returned home by way of Seattle and Portland.

They visited in 13 states and three Canadian provinces.

Mrs. Bob Unger and daughters, Judith Ann and Linda Diane, have returned to their home in Redding, Calif., after a two week visit with her mother, Mrs. Flora Jane Ranton, 1508 Twenty-sixth. Mrs. Unger is the former Flora Nell Ranton.

F. Balch Is July Bride

The wedding of Miss Fernova Balch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Balch of New Home, and Bobby Fillingim, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Fillingim, sr., took place Sunday, July 17, in the New Home Baptist church at 12 o'clock noon. Rev. C. E. Strickland read a double ring ceremony.

The altar was decorated with pink gladioli, fern and white ribbon.

Mrs. Henry Heck of Idalou played the wedding music and accompanied Boswell Edwards as he sang "Because" and Miss Eudania McCormick as she sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a lace-trimmed white street length dress with corresponding accessories. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid corsage showered with orchid carnations.

In Wedding Party

Billy June Balch, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Bernice and Betty Mary Fillingim and Dorothy Ann Balch were bridesmaids. Diane Newman was flower girl and Russell Balch was ring bearer.

A. C. Fillingim, jr., served as best man and Don De Galch, Buck Fillingim of Hico and Carl Armes were ushers.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the church with Leta Dell Roland, Eudania McCormick, Nelva Armes and Emadene Robinson serving wedding and cake to 200 guests.

Miss Joy Dean McClintock presided at the guest book.

When the couple left for a trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the bride wore a brown and white linen suit with matching accessories.

IN CRAIG HOME

Guests of Mrs. G. H. Craig, 2261 Twenty-sixth, have been her daughter, Mrs. Sue Prewitt of Midland, her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Keller of Oklahoma City, and her brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Haynie and Marlene, of Amarillo.

tapers burning in crystal candelabra flanked the gladioli bouquet.

Leave On Trip

After August 1, when the couple returns from a wedding trip to the Gulf Coast, their home will be in Lubbock.

The bride is a graduate of Lubbock High school and the bridegroom is a graduate of Mullin High school. Both have completed work for degrees at Texas Technological college and will graduate in August. At Tech, Mrs. Toliver was a member of Las Chaparritas social club; Alpha Chi, honorary scholastic fraternity; Theta Sigma Phi, honorary fraternity for women in journalism; Kappa Alpha Mu, honorary photographic fraternity; and Sigma Delta Pi, honorary Spanish fraternity. She is a member of the women's staff of the Lubbock Avalanche and Journal publications.

Mr. Toliver, at Tech, was a member of Delta Sigma Pi, international professional business administration and commerce fraternity. He served in the South Pacific during the war.

Miss Katye Faye Sawyer and Miss Lurlene Ballard returned Thursday night from a two weeks vacation in Mexico City.

British Hospital Complains Of Irish Workers Switching Jobs

ORPINGTON, England, July 23 (AP)—A new kind of Irish question is before the Ministry of Labor in London. It's what to do with men and women who sign up in the Republic of Ireland to do nursing in Britain, accept a free four-pound ($6-dollar) ride over and then leave their hospitals to take other jobs.

The management of the County Hospital here, which complained to the ministry about this, said 15 of 33 such recent recruits already have left.

One young Irishman, it reported, stopped only long enough to have a cup of tea.—Also free.

Five luncheons have been given for the bride with Miss Mary Dunn, and Mesdames Ruth Russell, Ruth D. Wilson, Margarette W. Walker and James L. Quicksall as hostesses. A Mexican supper was given in the bride's honor by Mrs. L. D. Rainey, and an Italian supper was served by Mrs. O. D. McCoy Tuesday night for the honoree and a group of friends.

Mrs. W. B. Gates gave a tea for Mrs. Clark and Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Cooper entertained a large group of friends at a tea given in their home last Sunday. Miss Sue Rainey and Mrs. George Langford were hostesses at a coke party held for the bride recently in the Langford home.

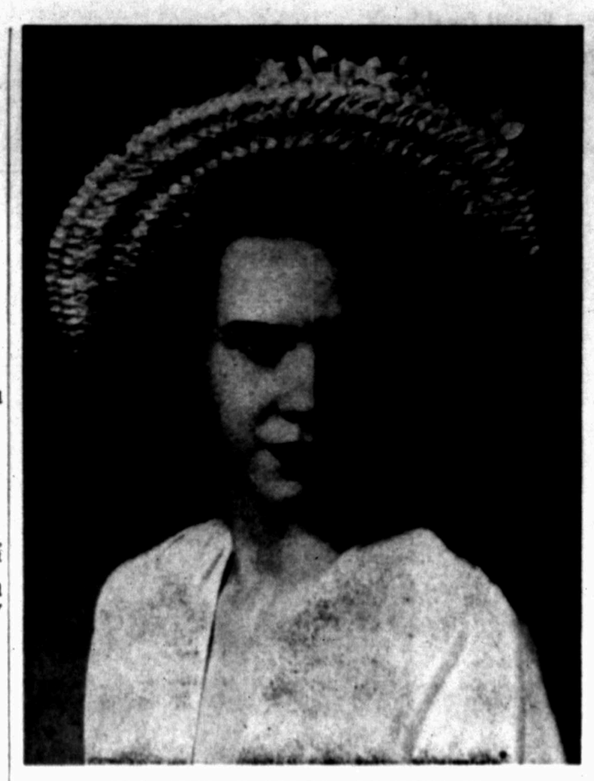

Italians Lose Post-War Freedom To Blow Auto Horns Long, Loud

ROME, July 23 (AP) — One of Rome's post-Mussolini freedoms is slowly being snuffed out. That is the freedom to blow your automobile horn.

Acoustic signaling, as it is called in Italian road manuals, was strictly tabco in Rome during the Fascist Regime. With the fall of Rome, June 4, 1944, Italians went on a tremendous toot. The seven hills rocked — and continued to rock for five years — to the unrestrained sound of automobile horns.

Editorials finally began appearing in the Rome press calling for a return to the once-oppressive days of silence. And just the other day, traffic signs were erected near the Palazzo Venezia. They show horns with lines drawn through them — meaning don't blow them around here.

Hogsett-Killough Wedding Is Read In Wichita Falls

Miss Mary Priscilla Killough, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clive Killough of Ralls, became the bride of Charles Gordon Hogsett, jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles G. Hogsett of Rotan, in a single ring ceremony read Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at the First Methodist church in Wichita Falls by Rev. Alfred Freeman.

Baskets of white gladioli decorated the church altar.

There were no attendants. Only parents of the couple and a few other relatives and close friends were present for the wedding.

The bride wore an afternoon dress of white crepe made with a deep neckline, sleeves cut in with bodice and horizontal tucks releasing fullness in the bodice and drapery at each side of skirt front. The bride wore a wide brimmed off-the-face hat of white straw and her other accessories were white and she carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

The couple has gone to Yellowstone National park, the bride traveling in a tailored suit of brown Irish linen with brown and white accessories. After Sept. 1 the couple will be at home in Austin where the bridegroom is attending the University of Texas.

Mrs. Hogsett received her B. S. degree from McMurry college, Abilene, and has done graduate work in art at the University of Colorado. For the past two years she has taught art in the public schools of Plainview and Wichita Falls. Mr. Hogsett also received a B. S. degree from McMurray college and expects to take his M. B. A. degree from the University of Texas in January.

ABOUT THE LAWSONS

A handsome couple seen around a great deal since January are now happily plans and plans for their completing their wedding first home which will be at the Lindsey apartments. The couple, Louise Leftwich and Homer Lawson, had their first date in December, and by January, Homer had proposed. The engagement became official in March and the wedding will take place Monday night.

Louise, the last of the J. R. Leftwich girls to marry, will wear the wedding dress which her two sisters, Mrs. Doyle McLeod and Mrs. Don Slaughter, were married in.

Both the bride and bridegroom-elect have the same recreational likes which center around outdoor activities such as swimming and fishing. Homer is majoring in agriculture at Tech, and when he graduates next January, the couple may move to a ranch.

When the Lawsons return August 3 from their wedding trip, they will begin supervising the redecoration of their apartment. Their plans are to make the living room and dinette walls a warm shade of gray and to cover the floors with dark blue rugs. The living room furniture will be rose beige and the dining room furniture is to be mahogany. In the bedroom will be a green and maroon color scheme and butternut furnishings.

Roseann Richter is thrilled about the new car her parents gave her Thursday . . . Royce Blankenship is expected home this weekend from a three weeks trip to Colorado and New Mexico. Before he left on the vacation he was dating Jan Howard . . . Both Lamar Jackson and Ted Forsythe are making preparations to enter medical school this fall. They are graduates of Tech . . . Ruth Cowart who has B. A. and M. A. degrees from Tech will re-enroll at the college this fall to begin work on a Ph. D.

SPEAKING OF Furniture
By FREELAND GROCE

THE FIRST IMPRESSION

When introduced to someone, your first impressions are usually lasting ones. The same thing applies to the entrance hall of your home. Make this introduction an interesting one.

No matter what the size of the entrance hall, or vestibule, you'll be showing good taste and thought if you follow two simple rules.

(1) Keep whatever furniture you use against the walls. Space makes this necessary. And face your most important bit of furniture toward the door if at all possible.

(2) Mirrors. They reflect your thoughtfulness as a host, and if the hall is rather on the small side, mirrors will also create the illusion of greater size.

Of course, the hall is the traditional setting for Grandfather clocks, so use that one you have stored in the attic. As for other furniture pieces, a chair or two should complete the picture. Don't crowd the hall until it looks like a storage room.

When you greet visitors at the door, have that entrance hall a prelude to the harmony of the rest of your home.

If we can be of help in any way, please call on us. Our suggestions are yours for the asking.

WHITES, NEGROES WORK TOGETHER

Lubbock Negro Nursery Helps Eliminate Pathetic Conditions

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

It wasn't to long ago that two small negro children burned to death in a house in the flats.

Their mother, forced to work had no one to leave them with and her only solution was to lock the children in the house during the day while she was working.

That particular day, she came home to find the house in ashes and her children dead.

On another occasion, welfare workers asked a negro woman whose children were playing in her yard.

"I don't know," was her reply. "I just keep them." Further questioning indicated that the woman kept the children during the day while their parents worked. But she did not know them, their names or where they worked.

Nursery Established

It was such conditions as these that led to establishment of the Lubbock Negro nursery, with a white board and a colored board to operate it.

Recent election of board officers gave the members a chance to review the work done so far and the tasks yet to be accomplished.

John Austin has been named chairman of the white board. Other officers are Mrs. Arnold Maeker, vice chairman, and Mrs. Lucille Smith, secretary. They succeeded Al Glassman, former chairman; Mrs. L. L. Miller, former vice chairman; and Mrs. R. Fred Adkins, former secretary.

Other members of the white board are Mrs. W. G. Dingus, W. Criglar, Bernie Whitfield, M. C. Stone, George Woods, Edwina Woods, Letha Mae Smith and Wakefield Jones.

Approximately 25 children are now attending the day nursery while their parents work. Their parents pay for the nursery privileges on a sliding scale according to their ability to pay and the number of children they have at the nursery.

The nursery is housed in a former Army barracks across the street from Dunbar school. Most of the alterations have been made on a voluntary basis. Paint has been donated and members of negro organizations will paint the building's interior.

Members of the white board have seen the following work accomplished during the past year: The building has been moved to its present location, remodeled, and plumbing has been installed. Equipment has been purchased. The nursery has been operating since Jan 1.

The board has spent approximately $8,000 to do this work.

Plans for the coming year include complete furnishings and equipping of the nursery, painting the interior and landscaping the grounds.

Schedule Given

Another principal aim is to make the nursery available to negro mothers who cannot afford to pay, and therefore need the service worst of all.

A healthy, wholesome attitude prevails at the nursery. It is under the direction of Pammella Woods, who received her nursery school training in California. She is assisted by volunteer workers, including her sister, Edwina Woods, and Estella Jackson. Pearl Younger is cook for the nursery.

The children observe the following schedule: 8 to 9 a. m., inspection; play; 10 to 10:30 a. m., fruit juice; 10:30 to 11:30 a. m., activities indoors or outdoors, depending on the weather; 12 to 12:30 p. m., lunch; 12:30 to 1 p. m., "washing up" and preparing for nap; 1 to 3 p. m. nap; 3 to 4 p. m., play.

The nursery is financed by two principal methods—donations and benefit funds and fees paid by the parents of children in the school.

Wayne Henley, representing the Lions club; and Mrs. V. T. Brady. Mrs. Maeker represents the Junior Welfare League.

Members of the negro board are E. C. Struggs, John Fair, D. S. Cook, E. D. Reed, C. Thomas, E.

Burglars Take Small Safe From Amarillo Supermarket

AMARILLO, July 23. (AP)—Burglars took a small safe containing approximately $6,000 from an Amarillo supermarket last night.

They used dynamite to blast the safe from its concrete mounting, Glen Battin, district supervisor for Ideal Food stores, said. The burglary was at Ideal Food store number three, near the downtown area.

Battin said the burglars gained entrance by sawing a hole in a partition separating the market from an upstairs bakery.

Premium Record Cards Microfilmed By VA In Preparation For Payment Of Dividends

DALLAS, July 23 (AP)—Veterans administration officials said here today that about 1,400,000 premium records cards have been microfilmed in preparation for payment of G-I insurance dividends next January.

Earlier this week the VA in Washington said application blanks for dividend payments would be available to vetrans on Aug. 29.

Records Are Forwarded

The record cards microfilmed here are for veterans in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi. Nationally, the microfilming job was the largest since V-mail operations during the war.

Dallas VA officials said the microfilm records would be forwarded to Washington for use in issuing the dividends.

The application blanks that veterans will receive next month are in three dtachable parts. One part carries instructions. Another portion contains blanks to be filled in by the veteran or his beneficiary. The third part is a post card which the VA will mail back to the veteran indicating the claim is being processed.

Most Veterans Eligible

The application forms will be handed out at every post offic, VA office and veterans' service center.

Generally speaking, any veteran who kept a GI life insurance policy in force more than 90 days will be entitled to a dividend. Beneficiaries of deceased veterans who carried the insurance will be eligible for dividends.

Dallas VA officials estimated about 800,000 Texans will have the right to ask for dividends .

Italians Aided By Mysterious Friend

ROME, July 23 (AP)—Someone in Argentina is reported showering so much money on residents of the north Italian city of Moderna that police there are getting curious.

The mysterious benefactor calls himself only "an emigrant from Modena." Dispatches say he has been sending postal money orders for $50 each to Modenese—mainly students. So far some $2,500 is reported to have arrived.

The dispatches said none of the recipients has relatives in Argentina.

Last night police halted payments, while they tried to find out the identity of the source.

Russian Refugee Practices Art Of "Illuminating" Manuscripts

VATICAN CITY, July 23 (AP)—If you were to look casually at the Papal bull by Pope Pius XII announcing the coming of Holy Year in 1950, you would probably take it for a document hundreds of years old. Only a reading of its Latin text, or an expert knowledge of the laborious ancient art of "illuminating" manuscripts, would tell you it was produced this year.

The Holy Year Bull looks, except for its freshness, like manuscripts preserved in museums the world over which were the work of the monks and nuns of the Middle Ages, or earlier. But it was done by a frail poverty stricken Russian refugee named Basilio Sumbatoff, who believes himself to be the only person carrying on the old art here.

Sumbatoff is 56 years old, and has lived in Rome for 30 years. He had no artistic training. He came to Italy a near invalid after serving as an officer in the Czar's army during World War I.

He makes barely enough to keep himself and four dependents alive and clothed. Sumbatoff illuminates from 30 to 40 manuscripts a year. Most are parchment documents of Roman Catholic orders.

He drifted into this work ten years ago, working for a Polish cardinal.

Health Authorities Admit They Cannot Halt Infant Dysentery

MATTAWA, Ont., July 23 (AP) Health authorities admitted today they were helpless to halt an epidemic of infant dysentery that has killed 12 babies and has struck more than 50 others.

Dr. R. B. Marchildon said penicillin and sulfa drugs have been administered to the victims without success. All those hit by the disease have been between seven to 12 months old.

Dr. J. A. Bergeron, city medical officer, said the doubling of population in this northern Ontario lumber town in the past year coupled with inadequate sanitation accounted for the outbreak. Mattawa has no waterworks or sewage system.

Egypt is increasing its production of teel, the fiber most similar to jute.

Lubbock Residents Build Own Home And Public Is Invited To Open House Today

Mr. and Mrs. George Wortmann are having open house from 1 to 6 o'clock this afternoon at their newly-finished all-masonry home at 3514 Thirty-fourth street, and there's a story behind it.

For the past ten months the Wortmanns have been at work building their own home—a job that has occupied nearly every spare moment, and taken a lot of hard work.

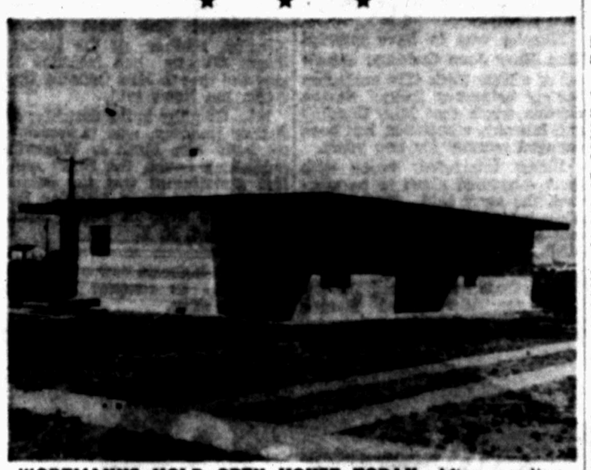

On May 29, the Sunday Avalanche-Journal in a special home-building supplement described the progress they were making.

Hundreds Pay Visit

Wortmann said the story resulted in visits to the site by hundreds of readers.

So the house was finished Saturday, after ten months of hard work, and Mr. and Mrs. Wortmann and their two children, George, jr., and Carolyn Ruth, are inviting the public to see the "finished product."

The home, "which definitely qualifies as one of the finest and most unusual small homes in Lubbock, was completed at a cost of less than $5.80 per square foot. The usual contract cost of such a home is $10 per square foot or more.

WORTMANNS HOLD OPEN HOUSE TODAY—After spending ten months building their own home and doing most of the work themselves, Mr. and Mrs. George Wortmann are holding open house from 1 to 6 o'clock this afternoon to show off the finished product at 3514 Thirty-fourth street. They decided to have open house after an article describing the house appeared in an Avalanche-Journal building supplement May 29 and resulted in hundreds of visits to the site. This view shows the house as it looks finished. (Staff Photo).

Was Built To Last

And it was built to last. With 2,080 square feet, the home is constructed of concrete blocks stuccoed outside and plastered on the interior, with concrete slab floors throughout and a built up roof laid on wood deck and two by ten wood joists.

It contains living room, dining room, den, kitchen, bathroom and two bedrooms. A covered porch or patio virtually adds another "summer living room" to the home.

When the public arrives this afternoon the home will be completely finished. The living room and bedrooms are carpeted, the dining room, kitchen and den are floored in the lightest colors of asphalt tile available.

The rooms sport unusually fine plaster walls. That's understandable, since Wortmann is a plastering contractor. Many hours went into the building of plaster cornices in the living room and dining rooms.

Paintings Are Included

In the dining room, a built-in grapevine pattern in the cornice was painted by a Lubbock artist and friend of the Wortmanns, Mrs. Glenn Smith, whose husband is assistant fire chief.

Mrs. Smith also painted a beautiful yucca plant on the built-in wood-burning fireplace. The fireplace is a "heatilator," which provides wall ventilation and maximum utilization of the fireplace heat.

The house is also to be heated with a floor furnace, built so that easy access may be gained to it although it is installed in a concrete floor.

The house contains steel casement windows throughout.

The interior color scheme features farm pastel colors. The living room and master bedroom are done in tropical green, the dining room walls are canary yellow, the bath and kitchen are finished in white and the children's bedroom is papered over the plaster in a predominantly blue Mother Goose wallpaper. The hall and den are finished in Alamo buff.

Mrs. Wortmann's favorite spot is the kitchen, where she has 13 feet of kitchen cabinets along one wall, an unusually large cabinet space for a small home. She also has a double sink with an electric garbage disposal unit, and the kitchen is arranged so that all appliances are at hand with a minimum of walking back and forth.

Mr. Wortmann's favorite room is the den, although the master bedroom is a close second.

The outside of the modernistic house is basically white, with trim in light pastel green and dark green.

An Unusual Feature

The outside of the house features an unusual item, a concrete walk adjoining the house wall on all sides except the north. The Wortmanns plan to extend the walk around the north side later on.

Children would probably find the fish pond the most exciting part of the house. Located in the middle of the front yard, the pond is built in the shape of Texas. The Wortmanns haven't had time yet, but they plan to border it in flagstones.

Although the cost of the house was low in terms of dollars, the thought and work that went into it cannot be measured in dollars, the Wortmanns think, and Wortmann said he wouldn't sell it for any price.

They plan to move into it for good Monday.

Auto Industry Drop Expected

BY DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

DETROIT, July 23—The auto industry expects a let down in sales late this year.

It isn't making any secret of that expectation. A decline in sales is customary in the auto industry during the winter months. None of the company heads will venture a guess as to how much of a decline is to be expected. Most of them say, however, that it should not be any greater than was the decline experienced last year.

But that did none of the car makers any harm. It ran into March of this year and led many industry analysts to predict all kinds of upsets before the end of 1949. They professed to foresee major price reductions and even a price war by mid-year.

Demand Bounced Back

Yet the demand for new cars bounced back sharply late in March and has carried well beyond the point where sales-inducing price reductions were predicted. With one or two exceptions there have been no major price cuts. Certainly there hasn't been any price war; there isn't likely to be one this year.

Price cuts of nominal proportions are expected before the year's end. They probably will be announced as new models are introduced. It would take a lot of courage for any car maker to put out a new model right now with a higher price tag.

The more conservative of the car industry's analysts believe sales will taper off this winter just as they did last year and then bounce back again. They do not believe at this time that the expected decline will be great enough to materially affect production schedules.

Clinic Is Scheduled Aug. 15 At Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Center

A periodical clinic will be conducted Aug. 15 at Lubbock Cerebral Palsy Treatment center, Dr. Esther Snell, director of the center, said Saturday.

Dr. Charles Sadler of Amarillo and Dr. E. T. Driscoll of Plainview will be present.

Parents planning to bring their children as new patients were asked to register the children in advance at the center, 1317 Tnth. Some previous patients will be re-examined. Patients are re-examined at least every six months.

Lubbock Mortgages Show Slight Drop

Mortgage loans on non-farm properties in Lubbock showed a slight decrease from May to June, figures compiled Saturday indicated.

During June 135 mortgages totaling $772,486 were filed at the office of Louie F. Moore, county clerk.

During the preceding month, 148 mortgages totaling $855,440 had been recorded.

Lubbock real estate men, however, almost unanimously agreed that the decline was not as large as might have been expected during the annual "summer slump" in real estate transfers.

During the month of June mortgage loans were made by the following classifications of lendors: savings and loan association, 10 loans totalnig $64,213; insurance companies, 25 loans totaling $142,135; banks and trust companies, 37 loans totaling $265,525; individuals, 34 loans totaling $89,018; and all other mortgages, including mortgage investment companies, 29 loans totaling $211,595.

The largest individual mortgage loan on non-farm property recorded during the month of June was in the amount of $19,500. Two $15,000 loans were made and numerous loans of $10,000 were completed.

Borger Man Is Charged After Shots Fired On Main Street

BORGER, July 23. (AP)—Two shots rang out on the main street of this West Texas oil town early today. Both missed. Sheriff Hugh Anderson said the lucky target was O. H. Austin, an electrical contractor.

Charlie Case was charged with assault with intent to kill. He posted $2,000 bond.

The shooting took place about 12:25 a. m. (CST). Anderson said he heard the two men argued over a $25 check Austin gave Case, who owns a recreation club. Both men live at Borger.

AD BLOCKS THE STREET

KIEL, Germany (AP)—When a store here advertised silk stockings on a live model in the window, an all-male crowd blocked the street. Police finally stopped the show and moved the crowd along, including eager viewers clinging to lamp posts.

Birthday Party Is Scheduled Sunday

AMARILLO, July 23 (AP)—Because Santa Claus and the stork sometime arrive the same day, there'll be a Christmas birthday party here Sunday.

Lewis Nordyke originated the idea in his daily column, "Random Thoughts," in the Amarillo Daily News.

Last year 2,300 persons from Amarillo and vicinity met in front of Nordyke's home to receive birthday presents they usually fail to receive because their birth date is celebrated at the same time as Christmas.

The party will again be on Nordyke's lawn—and he'll furnish the usual birthday cake and lemonade.

Legion And Auxiliary Members Are Guests At Plains Meeting

Members of Allen Bros. post, American Legion, and its auxiliary, were guests Thursday night at a meeting of the MacFargo post and auxiliary at Plains.

Lubbock visitors took part in installation ceremonies. Sid Lowery, deputy service officer, was installing officer for the event. Harve Kendrick, past commander, conducted the initiation ceremony for the Plains post and auxiliary. Speakers from Lubbock included Lowery, Kendrick and O. G. Drake, first vice commander.

Mrs. Albert Morrow of Morton, district auxiliary president, installed the newly elected officers of the Plains auxiliary. Mrs. Riley Duff, Lubbock, assistant district president, served as conducting sergeant-at-arms.

Members of the Lubbock auxiliary were guests Thursday afternoon at a meeting of the new auxiliary which has been formed at Idalou.

CASTLETON'S Exquisite Pattern—

Ma Lin by Ching-Chih Yee

MADE IN U.S.A.

Ma Lin, named for the 12th Century Chinese master, with its deep warm colors and unusual treatment of design, is steeped in Chinese tradition. Created by Ching-Chih Yee, well-known contemporary artist for Castleton, it reflects the timeless loveliness of an ancient culture. . . Castleton's ivory-toned body, exquisitely translucent, brings out the beauty of the colors and fragility of the design. . . On the classically restrained Century Shape this unusual pattern will find favor not only with the conventional but also with the modern minded hostess, for Ma Lin is complementary to all periods and motifs.

MOTHERS TOLD TO STOP WORRYING

GI's In Japan More Occupied With Jiu-Jitsu Than Women

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, July 23.—Most American GI's in Japan are more interested in jiu-jitsu than geisha girls — and American mothers should stop fretting.

The tip came today from the number-one woman executive with the 8th Army of occupation: Katharine Donaldson, staff adviser for Japan's 91 service clubs.

Miss Donaldson, who looks like a fraternity housemother and talks like a grown-up tomboy, stopped in New York enroute to her headquarters in Yokohama, after a six-months' recruiting tour of the U. S.

Mother Curious

She pulled off her seersucker overseas cap, shook her short gray curls, and said:

"The mother of one of the 8th Army boys came 15 miles to see what I looked like, because she heard a lot of propaganda about the GI's going berserk in Japan.

"When she saw me, she said, 'you look like a nice, safe woman. I guess my boy's all right'."

That experience impressed Miss Donaldson. After five years of living in the Orient, supervising entertainment for the occupation forces, she didn't realize "what silly rumors can skip across oceans." She said:

"Look, if I'm a nice, safe woman, there are hundreds of others just as nice and safe—and a whole lot prettier—working with me. And though this sounds immodest, the American boys like us and our type of entertainment best.

Plenty Of Entertainment

"Maybe it's because we keep them so busy. . ."

She opened her duffle bag and pulled out programs from each of Japan's 10 big-city service clubs, 55 on-post clubs, and 26 swanky beach hotels for men on leave.

Each day was packed with hourly entertainment—from "surf siestas" and "candlelight symphony hours" to "canasta class" and "beginners' dancing lesson with Doris at the piano."

Miss Donaldson claims that she could never keep up the social pace of a Japan-stationed soldier, in spite of the fact that she looks younger than she did 22 years ago when she got her first job.

But that was because she worked at being old in those days.

"I was 21," she recalled, "and I wanted to do social service work in the worst way. They needed a director for the neighborhood settlement house in New Brunswick, N. J., and of course they needed a matronly woman.

Ability To Boss

"I dressed in my mother's clothes, swacked my hair back and borrowed bifocals. Got the job, too."

Since then, she's been supervisor of a New Jersey social service center, director of a settlement house in Washington, Pa., and supervisor of recreation for the American Red Cross in the Far Eastern theater of operations.

"The list sounds," she said, "as if I were talented. But when you come right down to it, the main reason I'm in this work is that I never could spell, never could add, never could play the piano and wasn't blonde and beautiful enough to go into the movies."

Furthermore, she added, she always had the ability to boss people around. She recalled her "first real success" in life as managing the first money-making bake sale her high school ever had by running it her way and allowing no back-talk.

Since Miss Donaldson also allows no back-talk in her interviews, the only way to check her abilities is to check the record:

She was the youngest settlement-house director of her time on the first job, the first person to win a federal grant for a recreation agency ($69,000 to the New Brunswick house), and the first woman supervisor of Red Cross entertainment in the Far East.

As one of her GI's once said:

"Jiu-jitsu's a neat trick—but so is Miss Donaldson!"

Boy Dies Following Blow From Baseball

ALTOONA, Pa., July 23 (AP)—Thirteen-year-old Ronald Wagner finished his newspaper route, stumbled up the steps of his home and gasped:

"Mother, I'm going to die—I've got such a terrible pain in my head."

Rushed to the hospital, Ronald died yesterday of a brain hemorrhage.

Deputy Coroner Edgar Walls said Ronald was struck in the head three days ago by a thrown baseball during a sandlot game.

But he kept right on playing and didn't complain until he collapsed at his mother's feet, Walls said.

Thailand Places Restrictions On Foreign Worker Employment

BANGKOK, July 23 (AP)—Premier Phibun has drawn up a list of six categories of professions which will be restricted from now on to Thai (Siamese) workers only.

The professions:

Forestry; production and distribution of charcoal; ice production and distribution; soft drink factories; syrup and flavouring factories; printing plants (Thai language).

Further, it was decided, all rice mills and sawmills must have at least 25 per cent Thai workmen.

IN DOGHOUSE

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Dog catching, police decided, may call for fast footwork, but not zigzag driving. Officers pulled Frank W. Hammond, 52, off the dog catcher's wagon, and Acting City Judge John C. Shively fined him $85 for drunken driving.

Autos In Amarillo Damaged By Horses

AMARILLO, July 23 (U.P.)—Who said the old grey mare ain't what she used to be?

Two of the "critters" created havoc here last night with a lively demonstration against the modern automobile.

Three cars were heavily damaged at a busy, downtown intersection when the team, hitched to a wagon and weed-cutting machine, suddenly broke loose and made a mad stampede across the sidewalk, dragging the wagon into the three parked vehi...

Electric Lawnmower Is Blamed In Death Of Beaumont Woman

BEAUMONT, July 23. (AP)—Mrs. Eloise Maonio, 42, died today while mowing her grass with an electric lawnmower.

Justice of the Peace David Bush said she apparently was electrocuted. He withheld his official verdict pending further investigation.

Lubbock Youth Injured In Collision Of Two Vehicles

H. E. Read, 19, of 2410 Fourteenth, was treated at West Texas hospital early Saturday morning for a minor head injury suffered in a collision of his pickup automobile and a heavier truck at 6 a. m. at the intersection of Madison and Allen.

McDonald ambulance rushed him to the hospital, but he was released after treatment, the hospital reported.

Read was driving west on Allen just prior to the mishap, while the heavier truck driven by M. C. Wilson, 30, of Lubbock route 2, was traveling north on Madison.

Justice Frank Murphy Reported Planning Marriage Prior To His Death Past Week

WASHINGTON, July 23. (U.P.)—The Washington Daily News said today in a copyrighted story that Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy, who died Tuesday, was secretly engaged to be married next month.

Murphy was to have married Miss Mary Joan Cuddihy, daughter of a New York City publisher. Society columnist Evelyn Peyton Gordon wrote that Miss Cuddihy and Murphy, a bachelor, had been engaged secretly for two years.

Illness interfered twice with their scheduled plans to be married, the story said. Their latest plans were for a quiet wedding in mid-August at Mt. Clemens, Mich., the News said.

Received Ring

Miss Cuddihy attended the funeral for Murphy at Harbor Beach, Mich., according to the News. When she returned to New York, the News said, she wore an engagement ring—a pearl surrounded by diamonds.

The News said she received the engagement ring from George Murphy, brother of the justice. Frank Murphy had intended to give the ring to Miss Cuddihy this week, the News said.

Miss Cuddihy is the daughter of Arthur Cuddihy, who is associated with the Funk & Wagnalls publishing house, the News said. Her grandfather was the owner of the now-defunct Literary Digest. She lives in Forest Hills, Long Island, N. Y.

Actress Anne Shirley Plans To Divorce Producer Adrian Scott

HOLLYWOOD, July 23 (U.P.)—Actress Anne Shirley said today she will divorce producer Adrian Scott, one of 10 "unfriendly witnesses" cited for contempt of Congress for refusing to say whether or not they were Communists.

Miss Shirley returned from Europe this week with her nine-year-old daughter, Julia Anne. Scott remained in Paris where he is directing a picture.

The Scotts were married Feb. 9, 1945 in Las Vegas, Nev. They have an adopted son, Michael, 6, who remained with his father in Paris. Actor John Payne, to whom Miss Shirley formerly was married, is the father of her daughter, Julie Ann.

Man Argues With Cook And Is Killed

CHICAGO, July 23. (U.P.)—Mrs. Eleanor Loveck, 39, admitted today that she stabbed her 67-year-old employer to death in an argument over whether they should have corned beef or veal chops for supper.

Mrs Loveck, housekeeper for William Dolmagie, said that he brought home corned beef. The argument started after she went out and bought veal chops.

During the quarrel, she said she stabbed him three times with a butcher knife.

ROAMING The CAP ROCK

by Edward Welsh

A LARGE painted sign on the window of the Lorenzo Variety and Dry Goods store last week suggested that a new and very startling style might be in the offing. They advertised women's dresses "one-half off." A check with manager and partner L. D. Trantham proved that it was only the price that be being cut off.

Hans Nelson recently completed a fine new home in Lorenzo. It is located at the end of the main street and has a huge picture window in front. It is a fine example of the modern trend in rural community dwellings.

Business Is Better

C. L. "Chick" Pierot, Lorenzo druggist who came to my aid after a photo flash bulb exploded in my hand, says that business is 15 per cent better than it was a year ago.

"We have more items back in stock now and despite the lower prices our dollar volume is up," Chick says. "I can't understand why people are complaining because we are as well off or better than we have ever been."

On the other hand, "Doc" H. M. Lowe, druggist at Idalou, finds business off form last year. "It isn't down much," he admits, "but it is lower."

"Personally I think some readjustment is healthy and I'm not griping. Lower prices is part of the cause. Some of the drop might be due to our recent hail losses. People want to feel their way along for a few weeks."

Institute Is Staged

Dave Nicholson, hard working, aggressive manager of the Brownfield Chamber of Commerce, inaugurated a retail training institute this past week that was well attended by employers and employes. The classes last from two to three weeks and are instructed by Miss Lucille Dunn, a retail specialist from the University of Texas.

I slipped down off the Cap Rock, just on the edge, last week for a visit to Post. The town looked quiet in the afternoon sun but business was humming. There is a new oil play on the edge of town and several new deep wells are being sunk.

E. A. WARREN, editor of the Post Dispatch weekly, is busy installing a new Babcock press in his outstanding newspaper plant. He hopes to have a complete engraving set-up in the near future too.

On the walls of Warren's modernistic business office you will find a collection of pictures taken in the New Hebrides. Warren took these pictures while serving with the Navy in the South Pacific. They are real pieces of art.

School Remodeling Program Underway

BROWNFIELD, July 23 (Special) — An extensive remodeling program, voted by members of the Brownfield school board shortly before the close of the 1948-49 term, is under way at all schools in the district, Supt. S. P. Cowan reports.

Work at the city schools includes re-roofing of the high school building, gymnasium and East Ward building. The interior of the high school building is being repainted and a new natural lighting system indoctrinated to conform to standard practices for the introduction of natural lighting in classrooms.

The East Ward school attic is being insulated to improve heating conditions. Painting is being done at the Jessie G. Randal primary school where miscellaneous plumbing work also under way.

Plaster work, repainting of the interior and improvements to the lighting system is going on at the Gomez elementary school west of Brownfield.

At the Phyllis Wheatley school in the colored section, both the interior and exterior of the school building are being repainted and improvements made to the heating system.

Communists Call On Authors To Improve On Party Publications

MOSCOW, July 23 (AP)—"Pravda" has called on the authors of books and phamphlets about party work to improve their writing and their style. "It is possible and necessary," said a leading editorial, "to write about party work in a lively and graphic way. It is a noble task to show from concrete examples how party organizations achieve successes in economic and political work."

The editorial cited several examples of excellent phamplet work and party literature but added:

"Oblast publishing houses are at present, alas, producing very few such works. A number of phamplets are written in a dry style and contain mainly general reflections supported occasionally by isolated facts. Many are written in a sterotyped and sometimes even illiterate language."

Judge Tries Out New Methods In Curbing Traffic Violators

SUFFOLK, Va., July 23 (AP) — Readin' and writin' and 'rithmetic —that'll make speeding penalties stick' Trial Justice Marshall Bowden's arithmetic consisted of dividing the usual $50 fine for speeding or reckless driving by two. But in lieu of the other $25 he required two youths to read and twice write out, in longhand, a magazine article on teen-age killers at the wheel.

"After all," said the Judge, "traffic fines are levied to help convince the driver as to the error of his ways. Exposing young drivers to the article on 'teenicide is the best way I know of to do that."

Atomic Official Faces Sentence

SANTA FE, N. M., July 23. (U.P.) Tracy Snelling, ousted public relations director at the nearby Los Alamos atomic project, faced a term of one year to 18 months in prison today for embezzling Red Cross funds.

The 37-year-old former navy officer pleaded guilty to embezzlement of $1,008 in Red Cross funds which he collected as chairman of a fund-raising drive at Los Alamos.

Snelling stood rigidly at attention as District Judge Louis Armijo sentenced him.

The official, whose disappearance touched off a four-state search which did not end until he suddenly turned up at FBI headquarters in Dallas last Wednesday, related morosely that he took the Red Cross money because of many family troubles.

Several In Hospital

He was paid $8,500 a year in the Los Alamos post, but he had only $1.25 when arrested. He could not raise the $5,000 bond.

He told officers that five members of his family were in the hospital during the past year. His wife's mother also died during that time, he said. Mrs. Snelling and their two children left yesterday for her home in Des Moines, Iowa.

Snelling, who earned four battle stars, a Philippines campaign ribbon and a unit citation during 40 months of naval duty, stands a chance of serving only eight and one-half months in prison, with time off for good behavior.

Border Trouble In Near East Mounts

KARACHI, July 16 (AP) — The attempts of a claimant to the Afghan throne to recruit an army in the troubled tribal area between Afghanistan and Pakistan are putting a new strain on relations between the two Muslim nations.

The claimant is Amin Jan, whose brother, Amannullah, vacated the throne in 1929 and now lives in Italy. Amin Jan wants to replace the present king, Zahir Shah, and figures an army might help.

Amin Jan is German-educated and has an English wife. He was arrested in Peshawar following his brother's abdication and was deported by the British to Rangoon. Later he was transferred to the Madras and Allahabad jails. He was released in 1948 and allowed to proceed to Pakistan.

He already has made one start on an expedition to Kabul, Afghanistan's capital. But on reaching the border he found the number of his irregulars — Mahsud tribesmen—had dwindled to 30. Amin Jan called the expedition off.

The major result was to stir up a new dispute between Pakistan and Afghanistan, already arguing over control of the tribal belt which stretches along the frontier.

Kabul radio complained that Pakistan was backing Amin Jan. Pakistan replied that it had warned the Afghans about his activities and urged tribesmen not to join him. Observers here, however, declare that Pakistan would be pleased to see Amin on the throne because it might ease the present tension.

County Attorney Refuses To File Charge Against Himself

HOBART, Okla., July 23 (U.P.)—Kiowa County Attorney Carpenter Hughes today refused to file charges against himself after being arrested on a complaint of drunkenness.

Hughes denied claims of a highway patrolman who said he was drunk. He was released from jail yesterday after spending the night there when the patrolman arrested him. Rev. Truce Lewellyn, pastor of the First Christian church, also said the county attorney was intoxicated.

Assistant County Attorney Fred Cunningham refused to file charges against his boss when the highway patrol requested it. He explained Hughes, as his superior, did not approve the action.

Asked who gave Hughes his freedom, Cunningham replied, "no one did. He was just let out."

The Curious Reporter

OPAL DIXON

THE QUESTION

What do you think of the proposal to organize a new town of Westchester west of Lubbock?

THE ANSWERS

Dr. R. S. PERSHING, 1809 Broadway, dentist: "I think the city ought to make some concessions and let the other people be better off as a part of Lubbock than they would be organizing a new town. They ought to make concessions on taxes until those people get service."

E. R. HOOVER, 2020 Fifth, salesman for Big Smith Work Clothes: "I would oppose it, because I think it would be in the best interest of Lubbock for it to be incorporated into the city of Lubbock, rather than separate from Lubbock."

E. H. HIGGINS, 43 Westwood Village, railway postal clerk: "There's argument on both sides of it, of course. For the residents of that community, they would be doing an injustice to themselves because as an independent community they wouldn't be able to provide city conveniences such as fire protection, city water, sewerage and so forth, as provided by the city of Lubbock, without undue hardship from taxation for so small a community. The cost of such protection per capita would be greatly more than it would be as a citizen of Lubbock."

J. V. BEAUCHAMP, 1809 Ave O, manager of Ben E. Keith Co.: "I think that it would be harmful to the future of Lubbock and the people of that community can just hold off long enough from receiving the benefits that utilities will have to offer they will be happier to remain a part of this fast-growing community. The bugaboo seems to be that if they pay city taxes they should be entitled to all the benefits the city has to offer, such as utilities, and if they are patient they will have the benefits as it grows. Their wells and septic tanks are going to be too close and they are going to have to look for other means for their water supply and they'll need city benefits."

E. W. SAWYER, East Broadway, Texas Employment commission placement manager: "I might not be entitled to answer, since I have lived in Lubbock only six weeks. I did live formerly in Dallas and that question was discussed there plenty whether Highland Park and University Park should be incorporated into Dallas. The big question is that the people who live in those places make their money in the city of Dallas, as it would be here with Lubbock. I don't think it's a fair plan. The only way it can be settled is for the city and property owners to work it out. The thing I can't understand is why Lubbock hasn't extended its city limits before. Another question I have is: Is the city in a position to furnish water, gas and sewerage?"

JOE PERKINS, Plainview highway, special officer for county: "I'm against it, because we're not able to keep up that town out there. They may fall down or something if they organize a new town and it would be up to Lubbock to help them. I came to Lubbock before there was a railroad. We came in and fought the battle in the early days and build Lubbock up and we should stick together. Lubbock is the oldest and should have jurisdiction over anything that joins Lubbock."

Baker Is In Hospital After Tangling With Pie Machine

OAKLAND, Cal., July 23. (U.P.) Anton Clemmensen, a baker, was in a local hospital today after crawling into his revolving electric oven to oil it before putting his pies to bake.

Somehow the machinery started. By the time he was rescued, Clemmensen had dislocated a shoulder, received a deep cut on the side of his head, and lost his lower plate.

JAY STOPS BREAKFASTS

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A bluejay's hunt for a quiet nesting place caused a number of residents in one section of the city to miss their morning coffee. The jay, with house-keeping in mind, picked its way into a power transformer.

It took several hours for power repairmen to discover the electrocuted bird and the reason for the power failure.

Revolt Reported In Shangri-La

By HAROLD GUARD
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, July 23.—There's trouble in Shangri-La, according to official reports reaching London today.

The government of India announced it was sending a political officer to Lhasa, the "forbidden city" of Tibet, to investigate reports of a rebellion.

Usually reliable Chinese sources said the revolt had broken out against the Chinese Nationalist government, which claims jurisdiction over Tibet.

Predictions Made

The reports followed predictions made two years ago by the 13-year-old Dai Lama of Tibet. He said his horoscope predicted difficult times for Tibet during the next three years.

The forecast was made when Australian Group Capt. Rex Bandit planned an expedition to climb Mt. Everest. He applied for the necessary visa from Tibetan authorities. Finally he was told that political conditions for the next three years were against mountain climbers.

The Dai Lama's horoscope also was reported to have forecast his assassination by a foreigner. All foreign visas were cancelled until the end of 1951.

Shrouded In Obscurity

Since this prediction the fabulous forbidden city of Tibet has been shrouded behind the mists of obscurity.

Disorders in Tibet were reported in July of last year when supporters of a former regent named Jachen attempted to overthrow the present regent, Dala.

Jachen was said to have been arrested at the start of the trouble and later to have died in prison.

Two other leaders were sentenced to have their eyes removed, to receive 250 strokes with the lash and to be imprisoned for life.

The current trouble in Tibet is believed to be directed again against the regent Dala. He has always been subservient to the Chinese Nationalist government. This has aroused the resentment of the Buddhist llamas. They always fought against government forces used to stop the revolt.

"Tokyo Rose" Claims Broadcasts Were To Entertain U. S. Troops

SAN FRANCISCO, July 23 (AP) —"What, no beer?" mused the lady known as Tokyo Rose. "What sort of a war is this?

"Well, let's sing first, then write Ickes afterwards. Maybe he'll run a pipeline to you."

A New York writer, Dale Kramer, testified yesterday at the treason trial of Iva Toguri D'Aquino that he jotted down those remarks from one of the defendant's scripts of a Radio Tokyo broadcast to United States troops. The occasion was in early September, 1945, after the surrender, when as a reporter for "Yank," he interviewed Miss Toguri.

Trial In Recess

The three-week-old trial of the Los Angeles-born deefndant is in recess until Monday. She is charged with eight acts of treason through her activities for Radio Tokyo during the war.

Kramer said the defendant told him she had not used the name "Tokyo Rose." She also said, he testified, that she did not feel she had committed any treasonable act, although he said she seemed to feel there was some possibility there could be a charge against her.

Kramer quoted her as saying she decided aagainst getting Japanese citizenship because of the many difficulties; as for Portuguese citizenship, through her marriage, she decided not to take any steps in that direction either because people might say she was doing it just to avoid trouble.

Charge Is Denied

Miss Toguri told him, said Kramer, that in going on the radio she thought she was to entertain troops—that was the way it was put to her by allied prisoners of war. She denied, he said, having broadcast to United States soldiers that their wives and sweethearts were being unfaithful while they were fighting in the jungles.

Kramer testified he advised her to get an attorney, although he never said that anything she might say might be used against her. Did she tell him she was constantly under police surveillance?

"Well," Kramer said, "I gathered that, from her having to report to the police so often."

From his interview notes, he read several "characteristic" excerpts from her radio scripts:

"Greetings, everybody, how are my victims? All ready for a vicious assault on your morals?"

"This is your sworn enemy and playmate, Ann; this is your little Ann, with a program of dangerous and wicked propaganda. (She usually broadcast as Orphan Ann).

"This is dangerous enemy propaganda, so beware."

Brownfield City Council Okays Construction Of Guard Armory

BROWNFIELD, July 23 (Special) — The city council has approved the construction of an armory for Heavy Mortar Co., 142nd Infantry, Texas National guard, on a 15-acre tract of land owned by the City qust south of Coleman Park, Capt. Sam J. Privitt, commanding officer, announces.

Further plans for the proposed armory, which will cost $17,000, await a satisfactory report following the next federal inspection, which is to be held within the next 60 days.

At previous federal inspections the guard unit has received unsatisfactory reports because of a lack of personnel. The present strength is 46 and the required strength is a minimum of 65 men. An enlistment campaign is under way with cash awards of $28 offered men bringing in ten members.

Fainting Spells

Case History No. 2139; young lady; age 20; symptoms; convulsions and fainting spells with a sequence of severe headaches. Was very nervous. This case first noticed her trouble about four years ago when she had her first symptom of losing consciousness and biting her tongue; especially during certain periods of the month. Also, she had colon trouble.

History Of Accidents

This particular case has had several bad falls and while she was in school playing basket ball she had a severe fall and injured her neck.

Came To Stephens Chiropractic Clinic

After taking different kinds of treatments from both physicians and other chiropractors with no results she decided to come to the STEPHENC CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC where the so-called hopeless DO get well. X-Ray pictures were made of her spinal column which showed that the vertebrae in her spine were badly distorted, especially at the base of the brain. A new instrument that has recently been invented called the STEPHENS SPINAL PROTRACTOR revealed that the first two vertebrae in the neck had a twenty-five (25) degree misalignment. In other words these two vertebrae were off center 25 degrees. The Neurocalograph (a product of the Palmer School of Chiropractic) and the Neurocalograph (a product of General Electric) determined the degree of nerve interference caused by nerve pressure leading to the affected region of her body.

What Specific Chirophactic Has Done For Her

After a series of SCIENTIFIC CHIROPRACTIC SERVICE in the STEPHENS CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC this case has shown remarkable improvement. Her fainting spells are almost a thing of the past, with only a spell of slight duration occasionally. Her nervousness has disappeared. She is gaining in looks, strength, and feeling better generally. She is still under observation and comes in for a check-over by the Neurocalograph, that wonderful instrument of precision that automatically and electrically transcribes the nerve pattern on a nerve chart designed by the General Electric Laboratory, of New York. She said, "I am glad that I came to get well because this clinic does things different than anybody else that I have ever gone to."

Communist Press In Germany Opens Campaign Against Jazz

BERLIN, July 23. (AP) — The Communist press in eastern Germany is troubled about imported jazz. One contributor to the "Neues Deutschland," official organ of the Russian-backed Socialist Unitey (Communist) Party, branded jazz as a "trash export article." He complained that even Russian-controlled radio stations in the eastern zone play boogie-woogie and similar stuff. This started a debate on the subject in Red papers.

When the American military government newspaper, "Neue Zeitung," ridiculed the Communist press debate, "Neues Deutschland" fired back with a front page editorial. It called boogie-woogie a "symptom of American obscurantism." "Those who dance boogie-woogie dance to the pipers of Wall Street,' 'it said.

Age Is No Laughing Matter To Secretive Stars Of Hollywood

BY BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, July 23—Jack Benny jokes about being perennially 38, but to many movie stars age is no laughing matter.

Probably nowhere in this troubled world is age so important a factor as in Hollywood. Some stars conceal their birthdates with atom-bomb secrecy. Many are led by studios, press agents or vanity to falsify their ages.

This can start at an early age. Until recent years, Shirley Temple's announced age was a year younger than she actually was. Reason: Her studio wanted to make her seem more precocious.

Stars Born On Days

It's enough to drive an obit editor batty. Recently I had to check the birth date of Bing Crosby. His brother, his studio and the book of his life gave three different years. The correct one seems to be 1901.

The official studio biographies always provide a snicker. They will say, "Miss Glomm was born January 26." That's all. It would seem that film stars are born on days, but never in years.

Most of the stars' ages can be obtained from old records. Only Hedy Lamarr and George Raft have managed to keep theirs a mystery. Someone who should know once told me Raft is 53.

Jolson Lad At 60

Al Jolson proclaims the news that he is a mere lad of 60 and offers his driver's license as proof of the date. But a driver's license is far from official, and his friends declare he is beyond 60.

Gloria Swanson makes no bones about being 50. She admits it freely because most people think she's older, having been in the public eye so long. Likewise, people are surprised to learn Loretta Young is only 36; she's been in the movies 22 years.

A Hollywood reporter has to be diplomatic concerning ages, as I have sometimes discovered by trial and error. Once I was talking to a veteran glamor girl about movie stocks. She said she had bought into one company when the stock was 40, but it quickly plummeted to 9.

"You'll never see 40 again," I commented unwittingly.

Luckily the gal had a sense of humor and replied, "you can say that again, boy."

Employe Treated For Burns After Explosion Of Pants

YREKA, Cal., July 23 (U.P.) — Ivan Harzell was being treated for second degree burns today suffered when his pants exploded.

The 26-year-old county agricultural commission employe was working in a field with a sodium chlorate weed killer that impregnated his trousers. The highly inflammable chemical was touched off by friction when he put his hand into his pocket.

Built-In Age Is With Us, Bringing Along Feelings Of Fear At Opening New Doors

BY HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, July 23 — This is the built-in age.

Nobody any longer wants anything unless it is also guaranteed to have at least a couple of other features built into it.

This goes for practically everything from brassieres to bookcases, from three-color ice cream to cigaret boxes that play "Yankee Doodle" when opened.

Think I'm kidding? Well, over in Glasgow they've just developed a blouse with built-in perfume. Makes a girl smell sweet in any flavor she wants for months and months.

Cars Are Something

But this international craze to build something into something else probably has reached its true flower in the motor car and household gadget industries.

An automobile used to be a vehicle to get you from here to there. But now cars are gradually taking the place of the old-fashioned home. You can shave in them, listen to a concert, smoke, carry on a long distance telephone conversation with Paris, or push a button and slice your mother-in-law in half with an automatic sliding window. About the only thing you can't do in them is play a tuba.

Cabinet Doors Fearsome

Take what happened to the simple broom. It used to be a straightforward instrument for gathering dust out of odd corners. Then they turned it into a carpet sweeper. Then it developed into the vacuum cleaner. And what won't it do now? It'll paint walls, wax floors, dry the baby, manicure the furniture and shampoo your rug or your dog or your wife.

Furniture has become so complicated by built-in gadgets that you can't even tell its function from an outside look. Soon we'll have to hang an index on each piece to know all it is capable of.

As it is now I always have a moment of fear when a host asks me to pull open the door of a new cabinet in his living room. I never know whether the thing will dump a sack of laundry on the floor, flip out an x-ray picture of my lungs, spray me with martinis, roll out into a sofa bed or just show another television wrestling match from Chicago.

Two Raccoons In Custody After Daring Invasion Of City Office

OAKLAND, Cal., July 23. (U.P.)— Two masked intruders were in custody today after breaking into the Oakland city council chambers.

The two were raccoons. They led the mayor, two Argentine diplomat visitors, janitors, clerks and newsmen on a merry half-hour chase yesterday before being run down. Only casualty was Vice Mayor Scott Weakley who was bitten on the finger before the culprits were captured.

THAT'S RIGHT

BOSTON. (U.P.)—Sign in a Water Street barber shop: "We need your head to run our business."

TENNESSEE CASHES IN

NASHVILLE, Tenn., (U.P.) — The federal government came through with a check to pay for damages incurred in Tennessee more than five years ago. State officials thought the check was worth waiting for. It was a $2,147,647 check to repay Tennessee for highway damage by heavy army equipment during summer army maneuvers in 1943-44.

Hollywood Wolves Not So Bold, Arlene Dahl Claims

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, July 23—Footloose Hollywood Romeos are neither as numerous nor bold as reputed to be, reports Arlene Dahl. Miss Dahl, a red-headed reason to whistle if ever I lunched with one, says the only passes made at her are "mental" passes.

The mental pass, intended to promote friendship, goes like this: "I have a new record I'd like you to hear." Or if he's an actor (and Arlene says he usually is): "I have a scene to rehearse. Wonder if you'd run through it with me." Arlene says she hasn't fallen for such ruses. Sure, Arlene will rehearse his script with him—at the movie studio next day.

A typical Lothario—or wolf, as he is more commonly called—dresses sportily. He drives a flashy convertible. Maybe he's only a slight acquaintance, but at cocktail parties he mutters, "I'll call you. What's your number?" Arlene wails, "He thinks he's doing you a great favor!" He talks a lot—about himself. Bachelors at large, out to meet every new face, aren't confined to actors, Arlene says they include "producers and directors who've been married millions of times and still haven't found the right girl."

Fox Unidentified

A nicer type of gent hereabouts is described by Arlene as the fox type. He sends a girl flowers, takes his time getting acquainted and is very considerate. One foxy admirer has been sending Arlene flowers without even signing his name to the cards. "I hope to find out who this guy is," she said with a pretty smile of speculation.

She doesn't think she'd ever marry an actor. "I don't think an actor and actress make each other happy. There's always a case of jealously." Arlene is such a beauty that her studio has decided to let her win James Mason away from Ava Gardner in "East Side, West Side." ("I don't see how it figures," Arlene says modestly.) Besides being a looker, she designs many of her clothes. Cooks, too. Norwegian meat balls are her specialty. Both of her parents were born in Norway. Arlene was born 23 years ago in Minneapolis.

She gets marriage proposals from overseas. An Italian poet's proposal, in prose, was "the most beautiful thing you ever read." A Dutch boy wanted her to adopt him. The catch was that he was 19 years old.

Weekly In Britain Shows Rapid Growth

LONDON, July 16 (AP) — The London feature weekly "Reveille" boosted its circulation from 80,000 to over a million in five and a half months after the government dropped restrictions on newspaper sales, officials of the paper said.

"Reveille," which was a weekly for servicemen during the war, was re-vamped for general circulation two years ago when its founders were bought out by owners of the mass circulation "London Daily Mirror" and "Sunday Pictorial." The circulation increase, one of the most spectacular in Fleet Street history, started in January when the restrictions were ended. Sales figures rose to 800,000 in the first three months of the year.

"Reveille" had a staff of 12 when the Mirror-Pictorial interests took it over from Hipwell Publications for about $280,000. It now has a staff of 60. The tabloid-size 16-page paper specializes in featurized news and photos ranging from animal pet pictures for children to busty "cheesecake" for grandpa and the lads at Eton. Gardening, fashion, and home-making columns are featured.

Death Is Climax To Big Birthday Party

NEW YORK, July 23 (AP)—Last night was a big night for middle-aged Edward Rubenstein — a happy party of friends, a Manhattan supper club, and a big birthday cake in his honor.

Rubenstein had just finished a dance at the Versailles restaurant when a headwaiter brought the birthday cake to his table. Seven friends grouped around as Rubenstein prepared to cut it.

Other diners stopped their conversations to watch.

Meeting Of Legion Post Will Be Conducted Here On Tuesday

A regular meeting of Allen Bros. post of the American Legion scheduled for Monday night has been postponed until 8 o'clock Tuesday night because of the Lubbock-Odessa Legion baseball game at 8:15 o'clock Monday at Rosenthal field, J. R. Eagan, retiring commander, announced Saturday.

Eagan urged Legionnaires to attend the ball game and wear their Legion caps.

The Tuesday night Legion meeting will see the installation of officials for the coming year. They include Wayne D. Groce, incoming commander, O. G. Drake, first vice commander, and Don Davis, second vice commander.

Woman Seeking Divorce From Sixth Husband Faces Charge

LOS ANGELES, July 23. (AP)—Mrs. Adah Hamann, seeking a divorce from her sixth husband, was somewhat embarrassed when he countered with a charge she had forgotten to divorce one of her five previous spouses.

As she stepped to the stand to testify yesterday, the husband, Walter Hamann, 48, retired insurance executive, had her arrested.

Mrs. Hamann, also 48, was paled on a Nevada fugitive warrant charging her with bigamous marriage. She is charged with failing to divorce James Baisinger, whom she married in 1929. Mrs. Hamann said she thought Baisinger obtained a divorce after their separation in 1932. The current divorce trial was continued until later.

Where "Economy Means Waste;" Brass Hats Are On Friendlier Terms

The Same Old Story

WHEN a bill known as the Reorganization Act of 1949 became a law a few weeks ago, its supporters proudly announced it would result in greater efficiency and more economy in the federal government.

So what happens?

Proceeding under the new law, the President has proposed his "Reorganization Plan No. 1." He would create the new Cabinet Department of Welfare, consolidating within it the functions of numerous other governmental agencies, each on an expanded scale.

There is not even the pretense that the step would reduce the total operating costs of those agencies. On the contrary, the new department would require more employes and cost more money for about the same work.

The cost would be increased enormously if the President should succeed in obtaining approval of his compulsory health insurance program, which the Department of Welfare would administer. It apparently is Mr. Truman's idea that, if he can get the new department, approval of the compulsory insurance program can be obtained more easily in order to give the welfare agency something to do.

But, without considering possibilities of the future, the one fact of most concern to taxpayers is just this: The first results of the so-called "economy" reorganization act are another blow aimed at the taxpayers' dwindling pocketbook, and to foster further regimentation by the increasingly powerful federal government.

A Sensible Plan

REGARDLESS of the outcome, the Chamber of Commerce has adopted a sensible and democratic plan in sponsoring a meeting Monday afternoon of residents of the "Westchester" area with city officials to discuss the objections of some of those suburbanites to annexation to Lubbock.

The "Westchester" matter demands first consideration because it is the most pressing. Residents there are scheduled to vote next Saturday on a roposal to incorporate as a separate municipality which virtually would adjoin the present city limits on West Nineteenth street.

Without a single exception, residents of "Westchester" to whom we have talked have disavowed, vigorously, all desires to do anything injurious to Lubbock. Monday's meeting seems likely to provide the test of whether the numerous "Westchester" spokesmen actually have meant their profession of this kind.

This does not mean they should submit to discrimination in matters of city taxation, without assurances of a return for their money equitable with that of other Lubbock taxpayers and residents. On the other hand, if "Westchester" residents imagine they can insist upon, and get, preferential treatment over residents of other suburbs which may be annexed, the meeting is likely to result in failure.

Hopes for a successful meeting would be brightened, if not assured, if participants could establish it on the basis of: "What is best for Lubbock?" If this should be done and if individuals had groups, both in the city and the suburbs, would prove by actions their willingness to make reasonable concessions in behalf of the community welfare, the meeting is likely to produce actions of great constructive value, including the setting of a splendid and needed example.

But, regardless of that, the meeting is the best way to attack the problem. Reasonable men and women who share pride in Lubbock, and the desire to make this a better and greater city, are likely to get further by sitting down and talking matters over face-to-face than in any other way.

If they cannot iron out differences in this manner, then probably they cannot be ironed out at all. We cannot believe the "Westchester" matter is of that hopeless character, nor that Lubbock men and women will confess their inability to find the solution of a problem which affects the present and future welfare of the entire community.

"A political purge is quietly taking place in the Soviet Union." It's so quiet you can hardly hear the report of the firing squad.

FOREIGN OIL IMPORTS SEEN AS THREAT TO TEXAS

Union, Management Seek To Solve Oil Problems

By SARAH McCLENDON

WASHINGTON, July 23 — A slim clean-shaven, honest-looking individual named Carl Mattern representing the CIO Oil Workers union, was being introduced around the hall at the executive committee meeting of the Independent Petroleum association here this week by what would have been called in Russia a capitalist.

The situation seemed a bit odd. It was odd. Here was H. P. Nichols, president of the East Texas Oil association, a group with great wealth, seemingly proud to introduce the young workmen from his home town of Tyler, who is director for the international union in Texas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Arkansas and Mississippi.

Mattern looked different. He did not have a paunch. He did not sport a large diamond on his hand as did Al Buchanan of San Antonio. But other than that, there was little difference. After all, had not most of the boys of the IPAA, rich fellows now, most of them, hadn't they started out as toolpushers, roustabouts, and roughnecks? They just managed to get a toehold in here, struck it rich, bought elsewhere and went on to new booms.

Example Of Good Relations

But what is important about this is what could not happen in Russia. Big, rich, successful private enterprise under the capitalistic system had voluntarily asked the representative of the workers to come in and sit at their innermost council tables. They had asked this man to consider with them to help work out the problem that will so vitally affect both management and labor in the future—the question of imports and cutbacks, world supply and demand, world trade, new strategic economic theories on what formerly was the individualist's paradise—the oil industry.

This reminded me of President Truman's labor-management conference when President Clement of the Pennsylvania railroad sat down to the table with the head of the red caps and held a friendly conversation.

Are you an expert adviser? Mattern was asked.

"I don't know just what I am doing here, but I was asked to come. I don't know whether I'm a lamb among lions. But I'm here."

South Solution To Problems

THEN he explained that unemployment in the oil industry is the fear gripping both management and workers.

"It is true, that most of our members work for majors rather than independents, but we are interested in this oil imports situation, for what affects one group affects other laborers. We are vitally concerned that so much tax money have been lost to the state of Texas by this thing, money that would have gone to the schools and the old age pension fund."

Then Mattern revealed that the CIO Oil Workers in Texas had undertaken a big research job. They have brought in experts to study the economies of various Texas communities. They wanted to see what could be done to help the state better its financial condition and weather any economic storms.

Send Our Petition

One thing they learned was that one third of all the income to Texans comes from the sale of crude oil. That makes his foreign import situation, whereby foreign oil is being allowed to displace sale of Texas oil, so vital to the state.

Then Mattern released a copy of a letter that he has sent to every local union in District 3 of the nation. It is to ask that each union man carry around a petition and get as many business and profissional men to sign it as possible urging that the Texas Railroad Commission grant relief from oil cutbacks.

He also asked them to notify Governor Shivers, Senator Tom Connally and Lyndon Johnson, their congressmen, Speaker Rayburn and President Truman.

"Urge them to do something to save the jobs and the buying power of Texans," wrote Mattern to his union followers. "Tell them our house is on fire. And this great flood of foreign oil will not put it out." This last thought was quoted from the Kilgore News Herald.

Unemployment Is Problem

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

WELL, as I told you yesterday, we were knee-deep in maps and folders trying to figure out where to go on our trip.

The sun was shining and it was not too warm, so we both felt quite spry.

BRANDEIS

California — that's where we would go.

But not the short way, via the Santa Fe Trail or the Lincoln Highway.

No, we had done that before, and in summer it would be hard to get accommodations.

We'd go the long way—through Canada, via Banff and Lake Louise, to Vancouver, down to Seattle, Portland, San Francisco, our old home, and eventually to Los Angeles, where we could figure out how we'd get back.

We thought we might return via Texas, the Gulf Coast, New Orleans, etc., etc., etc.

But all this was before I had started to figure the cost of this wonderful trip that looked so enticing and so colorful on the maps.

It also was before the mailman came.

But then the mailman did come. There was the usual lot of stuff, and there was also a pretty chartreuse-colored envelope with a white border, addressed to "Mr. and Mrs. Erich Brandeis."

It was obviously an invitation, although we did not know anybody in the Massachusetts city from which it came.

So, still full of our anticipated seven or eight-thousand mile trip, I opened the envelope.

A neat little folder was inside.

I opened it.

MIX PLAY AND WORK

See The Human Side

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, (AP)—A howl came up from some quarters of Congress when Secretary of Defense Johnson sent the joint chiefs of staff to White Sulphur Springs, West Virginia, to mix play with work. Some of the brass hats thought the idea was foolish. However, the trip did more to bring about harmony at the Pentagon than anything since unification.

PEARSON

For the first time, the chiefs of staff got to see the human side of the other fellow. Though they worked only two hours a day, they accomplished more routine paper work with less bickering than all day in their Pentagon offices.

Most of the time was spent on the golf links where Army Chief of Staff Omar Bradley shot the best game—a neat 75. Air Force Chief of Staff Hoyt Vandenberg's best score was 84, whereas Chief of Naval Operations Louis Denfield didn't even play. He just tagged along to kibitz.

The generals and admirals also split up in sharing rooms. Vandenberg stayed with the Army's Maj. Gen. A. M. Gruenther, secretary to the joint chiefs. Bradley bunked with Rear Adm. A. D. Struble. Denfeld's assistant, and Denfeld shared quarters with Lieut. Gen. Lauris Norstad, Vandenberg's assistant.

After playing and living together, they are now working more like a team.

Brooklyn Streetcars To Vienna

Paul Hoffman's Marshall plan-ECA has been going in for the usual hush-hush regarding any information reflecting scandal or inefficiency.

However, it can be revealed that when a batch of old Brooklyn streetcars was shipped to Austria recently to revitalize Vienna's transportation system, the taxpayers got socked an extra $73,000. The overcharge is on the books of the All-Transport company of New York City.

The company was hired by Austria to transport ECA goods purchased in this country—including the Brooklyn streetcars. However, ECA auditors made a spot check, discovered that the profits ran unsually high and started a thorough investigation.

They found that All-Transport shared its business with Overseas Terminal corporation, which turned out to be nothing but a dummy company. Thus, Overseas Terminal would charge its parent company for services, which amounted to All-Transport billing itself. The result was to boost profits.

All-Transport also chartered the Norwegian ship, Millbank, to haul goods to Austria. But instead of charging bulk rates, the company collected berth rates the same as if the goods had been sent over by regular freight. The company also neglected to give Austria credit for some non-ECA goods carried on the same ship.

These tactics ran up the profits of the All-Transport company—and the bill of the American taxpayers. Since the cash was put up by Uncle Sam, ECA is now negotiating with Austria to collect the excess profit. Austria, in turn, will have to recover from the All-Transport company.

ONLY a few White House insiders know it, but the idea for President Truman's $300,000,000,000 national income plea which he sent to Congress recently, originated with a conservative New York businessman, not a supposedly starry-eyed fair dealer.

Prompting Truman's plea for national income expansion was gruff, tough Lewis S. Rosenstiel, chairman of the board of Schenley Industries. Trotting around Washington, Rosenstiel had pointed out to cabinet members that America has never tried to win the peace as hard as it has tried to win wars. He pointed out that "the world is not overproduced, but underconsumed and underinvested."

Rosenstiel also told Truman advisers that the nation needs more pay for labor—a most unorthodox doctrine to come from big business. In fact, Rosenstiel went on record for a 5 per cent annual increase in wages for labor for the next five years to expand purchasing power where it is needed most, among the lower bracket consumers. In turn, Rosenstiel wants labor to step up its efficiency 4 per cent every year.

Rosenstiel evolved much of his plan after a recent trip through Europe which convinced him that halfway measures would not win the peace against a dynamic foe like the Russians. Talking to Secretary of Labor Maurice Tobin the other day, the Schenley chairman said:

"We spent three hundred billion dollars plus untold misery, lives and suffering to win the war. We ought to be willing a pay a third as much to win the peace. We can't have peace until the peoples of the world can see themselves moving toward a higher standard of living. We've got to raise that standard here and abroad."

Tobin was so enthusiastic about the Rosenstiel "win the peace plan," he wanted to trot his guest right over to see President Truman.

NOTE—At the Treasury department, Rosenstiel urged Secretary Snyder to take a fresh look at the tax laws, start figuring out incentives for making business expand, not contract. Rosenstiel urged Snyder to take the initiative in reviewing tax incentives for business expansion rather than have Congress do it for him.

Surplus Women Want Husbands

Government agencies are usually bored with burdensome mail. But the other day the Interior department received the following inquiry from Mrs. Krsta Tchossitch of Whittier, Calif., which it has not yet been able to answer:

"Department of Interior,
Washington, D. C.

We are a group of lonely widows living here in Whittier with no hope of meeting men of our ages and marrying again—ages 30-60. I, as our spokesman, am writing to this department in the hope that I might be able to obtain the answer to the following questions: Where in the United States is there an abundance of men? Do you get letters from men working on government projects in far off places saying that they are also lonely? If so, where are these places? The few men here in California that we have met are so spoiled that they do not value love and the devotion and a good home that a good wife can give them.

I am enclosing a self-addressed letter for some kind of a reply. If you know of any other office where I might obtain this information please inform me.

Sincerely,
Mrs. Krsta Tchossitch,
Whittier, California."

"STRATEGY FOR LIBERALS"

Major Social Problem Tackled

"BEAU JAMES," by Gene Fowler.
"STRATEGY FOR LIBERALS," by Irwin Ross; (Harper).

IRWIN ROSS tackles the major social problem of our time—how to achieve maximum economic security without sacrificing the freedom of the individual to the goliath state—in his first book, "Strategy for Liberals."

Sub-titled "The Politics of the Mixed Economy," the book presents a carefully detailed program for realizing what Ross believes to be necessary political and economic reforms, mid-way between the extremes of complete laissez-faire and the dictatorial state, if the basic principles of American democracy are to be preserved.

The "mixed economy," as interpreted by Ross, is probably best defined as a system of partial socialization. The author believes that the so-called "boom and bust" cycle in American economy—with its attendant threat to our democratic freedoms—can be avoided only through firm government control over certain aspects of the economy, and nationalization of at least a few key industries, along the lines established by the Labor Government in Great Britain.

Outlook For Future

"LAST CALL FOR COMMON SENSE," by James P. Warburg; (Harcourt, Brace).

THE tenth in James P. Warburg's series of treatises calling for peace by peaceful means is "Last Call for Common Sense." It is an appraisal of the status of world peace in 1948, and the outlook for the future, as seen through the eyes of a prominent advocate of world government.

In the greater part of the book, Warburg presents ten of his 1948 speeches. Though repetitious in argument, the speeches discuss from all angles Mr. Warburg's ideas on the need and means to achieve a basic foreign policy change by the United States and her political cohorts, which might lead to world peace through cooperation.

In his conclusion he proposes a detailed plan for mastering the world's current dilemma through common sense before we reach a "point of no return."

Lurid Overtones

"RAIN OF ASHES," by James Neugass; (Harper).

"RAIN OF ASHES," by James Neugass, is another novel of New Orleans with lurid overtones of sex.

It is the story of wealthy, cold, stubborn, self-centered Sybil Ewart, weak-willed Charles Morand, her husband, who would rather play baseball than be the financier his wife desires, and their separate struggles to find happiness in New Orleans, then New York.

The story is marred by the constant use of vulgarity, more for its own sake than for the advancement of the plot.

Horror Story

"WORLD FULL OF STRANGERS," by David Alman; (Doubleday).

DAVID ALMON has written an odd and brutal book in "World Full of Strangers." At the end you may wonder what point was made, but meanwhile it will have held your interest.

Alman writes well and has a fine sense of characterization of New Yorw types. His heroine has been seduced and made pregnant by a young policeman during the war-time absence of her fiance. The latter is a dreamer type who does nothing about the situation when he returns. The policeman, a vicious individual on the financial make, seemingly takes a sadistic pleasure in persecuting the girl. In a sense, it is a horror story, and, as such, highly effective.

Story Of Outsider

"THE INSIDE STORY OF AN OUTSIDER," by Frans Schoenberner; (Macmillan).

THIS AUTHOR, who came to this country from his native Germany eight years ago this month, has started life three times, he says, first as a baby, then after service in World War I, and finally as a refugee from Nazism.

His years as editor, particularly of "Simplicissimus," wer described in "Confessions of a European Intellectual." A bit slighter but just as lively reading, this book is about his third life. Its range is wide, from Goethe to Gide, Schweitzer, Wolfe; from Switzerland to Southern France, Spain, Portugal and the U. S. from the uncleanliness and disorder of French concentration camps to a home in East Haddam, Conn.; from a callous American vice consul in Nice to welcoming New Yorkers.

Humerous Incidents, Too

Some of his observations, ever when not new, are sobering as for instance his charges that some well known German novelists were slow to speak out against Hitler. But there are humorous incidents, too. The monocle he chose because it was cheaper than glasses gave him the air of a man with unlimited money and influence, and he could laugh at the lionizing of Lion Feuchtwanger who, even in detention, had two valets at his beck and call.

But most frequently Schoenberner return sto the puzzling subject of his own uncertain status: A publicly professed foe of Hitler, he was constantly taken for just another German. It was bad enough in the early years when, as vociferous complainants against Hitler, he and fellow expatriates were sometimes made to feel that all would be well if only they would shut their mouths. But it was worse when, with the fall of France, he was interned, and when, with the attack on Pearl Harbor, he was classified here as an enemy alien.

This official refusal to differentiate between his deadly enemies and himself, between black and white, puzzles him, when it doesn't amuse him. When a man runs with the hounds, it seems an especially flagrant injustice to lump him with the wolves; and as Echoeonberner implies, it's no help to the hunters.

Civil War Story

"THE RUNNING THREAD," by Drayton Mayrant.

"THE RUNNING THREAD," by Drayton Mayrant is a romantic novel about Charleston at the time of the Civil War. It is also the story of an Irish lass whose family sent her away rather than let her marry an English soldier. Her brother and sister-in-law took her with them to America under false pretenses, and Dinah refused to live with them once she landed in South Carolina. Instead, she became the ward of the Bay family, and gradually became accepted as one of their own. Her love for Maurice Bay, the young son of the family, furnishes the romance. The story moves swiftly through a mass of excellent Civil War detail.

Southside Baptist Church Will Hold Services In New Building

Members of the Southside Baptist church will worship in their new building for the first time this morning. Other services today are planned for 2:30 p. m. and 8 p. m.

The new structure, located just south of the old building at Forty-fourth and Overton Drive, in southeast Lubbock, was constructed entirely by labor donated by members of the church and its friends. It is of frame and stucco construction. Overall dimensions are 30 by 80 feet. Included in the building are two Sunday school rooms at the front and a Junior Sunday school department in the rear consisting of an assembly room and four class rooms.

To Keep Old Building

The congregation plans to retain its old church structure for use as an educational building.

The new church home is the first unit of an overall plan calling for an extensive educational building large enough to care for 600 in Sunday school, and an auditorium sufficiently large to accommodate the same number in worship service. Such a church plant would, at present prices, entail an expenditure of approximately $200,000.

"These plans are contingent upon the future growth of the church and the southeast section of Lubbock, a growth which the members of the Southside Baptist church confidently believe is sure to come," said Rev. Fred McPherson, pastor.

Membership in the church totals 175 persons, reflecting a gain of some 65 members since Rev. McPherson assumed the pastorate of the church two years ago. Rev. McPherson came to the Lubbock church from Calvary Baptist church of Midland, which he was instrumental in organizing several years ago.

Church officials have extended a cordial invitation to the public to attend worship services at the new church today.

Memphis Pastor To Hold Revival Here

Rev. H. C. Walton, D. D., pastor of the Central Cumberland Presbyterian church of Memphis, Tenn., will arrive in Lubbock early this week to begin a series of revival services at Cumberland Presbyterian church here, Rev. Brown C. Welch, pastor, announced yesterday.

The first service will be held at 8 p. m. Wednesday. Services, which are to continue through Aug. 7, are scheduled at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. weekdays. A Saturday morning service will not be held, and regular Sunday services are planned for 10:55 a. m. and 8 p. m.

Rev. W. H. Cheatham of Daingerfield, Texas, former pastor of the Longview Cumberland Presbyterian church, will lead the singing. He has aided in revival services at the local church for the past three years.

Rev. Walton served as moderator of the Cumberland Presbyterian General Assembly several years ago. He was the youngest church official to hold that office. He has held services in Lubbock twice before.

Lubbock Minister Scheduled To Continue Revival Services

Revival services at Temple Baptist church, which have been held the past two weeks with Rev. Scotty Alexander, of Enid, Okla., as evangelist, are to continue this week.

Rev. McWaters, pastor of the Midway Baptist church, Lubbock, will preach at services Monday through Friday nights. He replaces Rev. Alexander, who has departed to fill other speaking engagements.

Rev. Ralph G. McCoy, pastor of the Temple Baptist church, will deliver the sermon at tonight's worship service.

Church officials said that the revival series conducted by Rev. Alexander was a great success. They reported that 12 persons became affiliated with the church during the evangelistic services.

First Presbyterian Church Bible School Opens Monday

The annual Bible school of First Presbyterian church will open at 9 a. m. Monday and will continue for two weeks, Bible school workers have announced.

Classes are planned for children between the ages of four and 14. Miss Shirley McRee, director of religious education at the church, will be in charge.

Superintendents of the various departments are as follows:

Kindergarten, Mrs. R. J. Cheatham; primary, Mrs. Joe Dennis; junior, Mrs. J. O. Cade; and intermediates, Mrs. Morys H. Hines.

The school will be held from 9 until 11:30 a. m. weekdays, Saturdays excepted.

Local Church To Have Joint Meeting Followed By Social

A joint meeting of the Men's Fellowship and Women of the Church groups of Westminster Presbyterian church is to be held at the church at 8 p. m. Monday.

A "Program of Progress" will be the topic of speakers from the two organizations. Special music is planned. A social hour is to follow the program.

INTRODUCING LUBBOCK'S MINISTERS—Rev. Fred McPherson, pastor of Southside Baptist church, Forty-fourth and Overton Drive, today is celebrating his second anniversary as pastor of the church. He received his BA degree from Hardin-Simmons university in 1930, and was graduated from Southwestern Baptist Theological seminary, Fort Worth, in 1935. Rev. McPherson has held pastorates at Jayton, Stanton, and Midland. He served 44 months as an Army chaplain during World War II, and was stationed much of that time in the southwest Pacific. Upon release from his duties with the Army, Rev. McPherson returned to Midland as pastor of Calvary Baptist church, which he was instrumental in organizing several years previously. He came to Lubbock from Midland. Last fall he served as Lubbock county chairman of the Christian Rural Overseas Program, and currently is serving as training union director in the Lubbock Baptist association. Rev. and Mrs. McPherson and one son, David, 14, reside at 501 Forty-fourth. (Staff Photo).

TO HOLD REVIVAL — Rev. J. Thurmond George, pastor of First Baptist church of Duncan, Okla., will initiate a series of open-air revival services Monday at College Avenue Baptist church. Services are to be held at 10:30 a. m. and 8 p. m. daily, and are to continue through July 31. Rev. Bob Ramsay, educational director of the church, will be in charge of the singing. Rev. Abe Hester, jr., is pastor.

Houston Couple Slated To Preach At Services In Local Church

Rev. and Mrs. Vernon Driggers of Houston, will preach this morning at the worship service at Bethel Tabernacle, Sixth and Ave. L, Boyd McSpadden, pastor of the church, announced.

The Houston couple will preach tonight at an open-air service conducted by the church at Seventh and Ave. O. Their sermon topic for the evening service is "The Painted Devil."

Special music is planned by Rev. and Mrs. Driggers, as well as by Rev. and Mrs. McSpadden. The public is invited to attend.

Open-Church Group Announces 76 Texas Churches Enrolled

The Open-Church association, whose principal purpose is to encourage daily use of churches for private worship and mediation, announces that 76 churches in Texas are now enrolled as open-churches.

Open-churches in this area include St. Paul's on the Plains Episcopal church, Sixteenth and Ave. X, Lubbock; St. Mark's Episcopal, Plainview; and St. Andrew's Episcopal, Amarillo.

Elsewhere in the state, open-churches are located in the Austin, Fort Worth, Houston, Galveston, San Antonio, and Waco areas.

Project Non-Sectarian

Texas churches co-operating with the Open-Church association are of Congregation-Christian, Disciples of Christ, Episcopal, Lutheran, Methodist, and Presbyterian denominations, and are open daily. Their clergy is available to anyone in need of personal guidance.

These churches are a part of nearly 4,000 churches throughout the United States that are co-operating with the Open-Church association. This association consists of a small group of lay workers. It is non-sectarian and its voluntary program functions entirely under endowment.

The association was incorporated in 1942 under the educational and charitable laws of Massachusetts. It operates on a non-profit basis, with headquarters in the Community house, Gloucester, Mass.

WILL CONDUCT SERVICES HERE—Evangelist Phil McAlmond, of Los Angeles, will begin a Divine Healing campaign today at Foursquare chapel, Thirty-fourth at Ave. J, the church pastor, Rev. Sidney Westbrook, has announced. The 20-year-old evangelist is widely known on the West Coast for his ministry of faith. Services are scheduled for 8 p. m. daily.

Youth Revival Is Slated In City

A youth revival, to be conducted by the young people of Calvery Baptist church, will begin today and is to continue through July 31, church officials have announced.

The theme of the revival is "Jesus Saves." Bob Bratcher, young mission volunteer to Africa, will be speaker at the services. Bill Sweeney, a student at Wayland college, Plainview, has been named song leader.

The revival is being sponsored by "Soldiers for Christ," a volunteer mission band.

Misses Connie Wood and Mary Joplin will be pianists at the services. Other young people working in the revival include Jesse Clark, president and general chairman; Norma Kelly, publicity; Doris Stanley, visitation; Trena Reeton, program chairman.

Services are to be held at 8 o'clock nightly, in addition to an 11 a. m. Sunday service. A fellowship in which all Baptist churches will participate, will be held at 9:30 o'clock tonight, following the evening service.

The public is invited to attend the services. A special invitation has been extended to the young people of other churches in the city.

Committee Chairmen Named For Lubbock View Christian Church

Department chairmen of the executive committee of the newly-organized Lubbock View Christian church met recently to set up permanent committees for the coming year.

Committee chairmen include: Worship committee, Floyd Read, evangelism, John T. Howell, jr.; Christian education, missions, and benevolence, Ronald Canaday; membership, Odis Hackney; property, Elliott Taylor; and stewardship, Frank Haden.

KENDALLVILLE, Ind., July 23. (AP)—A little country church held Christmas services five months early in the belief that the regular yuletide season has become too commercialized.

But Santa Claus didn't show up at the Wayne Center Methodist church last night. It was too hot for anyone to dress up in the fur-trimmed outfit.

Besides, the services were arranged to emphasize the religious aspects of Christmas rather than the holiday side of it.

As the congregation passed through the church doors, they were greeted by a brightly lighted 20-foot Christmas tree around which June bugs and other insects fluttered, attracted by the colored bulbs.

"Christmas is so commercialized in December that we thought a July celebration would be a good thing," said Mrs. Charles Longyear, sr., president of the ladies' auxiliary which arranged the program.

The Rev. Harold Bachert, pastor of the church, said he thought it was a "splendid idea" because the "spirit of Christmas is something that need not be confined to the holiday season."

As the menfolk sat in their short sleeves and women fanned themselves, Mrs. Virginia Smith opened the program by singing "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas."

"Then assistant choir master Ned Weihmiller led the congregation in singing "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear" and "Little Town of Bethlehem."

Before a manger filled with new-cut hay, churchwomen wearing their husband's bathrobes depicted Mary, Joseph, and the shepherds as Mrs. Archie Weber read the Christmas story from the Bible.

Instead of exchanging gifts, the church members put little cotton stockings filled with coins in the offering plates. The special offering will be used to support Methodist children and old folks homes.

The program closed with an 11-year-old boy playing "Silent Night" on the accordian. The congregation sang the old tune reverently as a warm south breeze stirred through the church.

Then everybody enjoyed cake and ice cream set out in the church social room on tables decorated with little Santa Clauses and yule logs.

"It wasn't an elaborate affair," said Mrs. Walter Pankop, vice-president of the auxiliary. "But it was real nice—just a little country church social. It really felt like Christmas."

Missionaries Will Speak At Church

Rev. and Mrs. Bronell A. Greer, missionaries in India for the Church of the Nazarene, will speak to the congregation of Williams Memorial Church of the Nazarene, North Fifth at North Jefferson Ave., at 8 p. m. Monday.

Rev. and Mrs. Greer currently are spending their first furlough in the United States since embarking for India five years ago. In India, they were stationed at Mehkar, Berar.

The couple has been engaged in literature work and Christian education in India. Rev. Greer has published a number of booklets in the Marathi language for use by Indian preachers. In addition, he has begun publication of the "Preacher's Magazine" for preachers in that country.

Prior to entering missionary service, Rev. Greer was pastor of the Church of the Nazarene at Lexington, Okla. He is a graduate of Bethany-Peniel college, Bethany, Okla.

Officials and representatives of a number of Nazarene churches in the South Plains area are expected to attend the Monday night meeting, which will be open to the general public.

British Claim Millions Held In Russian Slave Labor Camps

GENEVA, SWITZERLAND, July 23 (AP) — The British government claims to have documentary proof of vast slave labor camps in the Soviet Union. It says about 10,000,000 men, women and children are held in them.

The British delegate to the United Nations economic and social council, Corley Smith, yesterday made public a set of documents he said were laws and regulations covering the forced labor policy of the Soviet government.

The British published photostatic copies of what they claimed were the original Russian texts, running to 8,500 words, plus full French and English translations.

These documents will form the basis of Britain's case against alleged Russian slave labor which is being investigated by the council under terms of an American motion approved last March 7.

One of the demands then was for a survey by a U. N. commission of conditions inside the Soviet Union. Russia denounced this as a plot by Britain and America to get spies into her territory.

Previous attempts to bring the slave labor question to a head have been stymied by Russian assertions that there was no forced labor in the Soviet Union and that western claims to that effect were "imperialistic propaganda."

Contents Fantastic

The British are reported to feel that these documents will now force the Russians to some more definite action than a mere shrugging off of the charges.

Smith said that if Russia permits the commission to go to Russia, Britain will give it the goahead to look for slave labor in British colonies — a Russian counter-charge.

He described contents of the papers released yesterday as "so fantastic that if we didn't have this photostatic copy you couldn't believe it."

The documents bear the title "corrective labor codex of the Russian Soviet federal socialist republic" and deal with the classes of people to be sent to labor camps, the treatment to be given them, and all other phases of running such camps.

The documents say that forced labor is under the supervision of the internal affairs ministry, which also controls the secret police.

Oil Imports

have laid off employes during the last few months or have posted layoff lists to be effective soon: Atlantic, Humble, Skelly, Pan American, Magnolia, Cabot Carbon, United Carbon, Phillips, Pure, Ozark Chemical, Arizona Chemical, Sinclair, Stanolind and a horde of independents. This list is not a complete one, and it is being held to every day.

"Widespread unemployment in the oil industry is not just an unpleasant memory of the 1930's—it has its foot in your door today. Texas, a State whose economic future is so dependent on its abundant supply of oil, is receiving a blow below the belt.

"Pipeliners and chemical workers, production hands and rigbuilders, employes in carbon black and gasoline—these and many others are being laid off today in increasing numbers. As companies curtail operations for exploration and production of oil, the wave of unemployment washes over supply stores, railroads, steel mills, coal mines and many other industrial functions on our economic shores. Our government is handicapped by loss of tax revenue and the stability of our communities is upset.

Commission Draws Cutbacks

"Since January 1, 1949, the Texas Railroad Commission has ordered cutbacks in oil production aggregating about 700,000 barrels per day. During April, alone, delivery of Texas crude to refineries was reduced an additional 203,000 barrels per day while some other states were given upward adjustments. The net reduction for all states during April, however, was 212,000 barrels per day.

"During the same month the importation by American companies of cheap foreign oil amounted to 398,000 barrels per day.

"Texas refineries used 1,702,000 barrels of it in April. Citizens of Texas are now asked to pay a premium "American" rate for gasoline made from the foreign oil that is putting themout of employment! (Amusing situation, isn't it?) A warning note to refinery workers is that American oil companies imported 5,832,000 barrels of refined products during April, an increase of 725,000 barrels over March.

"One hundred and sixty-six counties in Texas produce oil. In 1948, the value of that oil was $2,313,921,034.92—nearly 38 percent of the estimated total value of all money items and services produced during that year by Texans. As we now consider that our state stands to lose about $30,000,000 per year in taxes because of cutbacks since Jan. 1, 1949, we begin to realize to what extent school funds, highway programs and other progressive services to our communities rely on the production of oil.

"This letter is not just a routine Union assignment—it is a request that you perform an emergency duty for yourself and your family, your community, and your continued right to a portion of the wealth you have produced and should continue to produce."

"This letter is not just a routine Union assignment—it is a request that you perform an emergency duty for yourself and your family, your community, and your continued right to a portion of the wealth you have produced and should continue to produce."

Goodbye, oratory and pompous politicians. Here are scientific facts and decisive organized effort Something new has been added to Texas!

Senator Dennis Chavez, New Mexico, likes to create a little fun at staid Senate Public Works hearings whenever he can. This week after Herbert Ball, who is in charge of flood control for the Albuquerque district, hed finished testifying for the giant flood control project on the Middle Rio Grande, sponsored by the Senator, Chavez commented that Mr. Ball was from Texas. "All good Texans come to New Mexico to live," he said.

Ball, who is from Brownwood, just grinned. Later, he said:

"One of my best friends is Senator Tom Connally of Texas. First time I ever voted, I voted for him. Everytime I come to Washington, I have a visit with him. Even during the time that Tom Connally was fighting for Texas water and opposing every project that would come up in the Senate for New Mexico, I had a lot of fun coming here and keeping up my friendship with the two opposing factions—Senator Connally and Senator Chavez."

Looking At Life

Then the subtitle, "A nursing Home for the Frankly Fastidious," printed in heaven-blue ink.

THE text, following was in softbrown:

"Softly played music is wired to cheerful private rooms which are equipped with telephone and signal system.

"There are facilities for physiotherapy with registered nurses constantly on duty to give individual attention.

"Special diets come temptingly served from a bright modern kitchen.

The rates were printed on Page Four — nothing but the rates: Single Room, $25.00 per day. Double room, $18.00 per day per person.

I passed the folder over to my wife.

She didn't say anything. Neither did I.

P.S. We think we'll only go as far as Minnesota on our trip. Nursing homes are expensive.
