Germans Will Ask Payment

Injustices Are Being Claimed

Bill To Czechoslovakia For Reparations Planned; Will Likely Be Powerful Lever

By LOUIS P. LOCHNER

(Copyright, 1938, By The Associated Press)

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—Germany is preparing to bill Czechoslovakia for "reparations" dating back to the birth of the republic and neutral observers consider the demand a powerful lever to force Czechoslovakia into Germany's Danubian economic system.

The claims were represented as based on "injustices inflicted by the Czechs on the Sudetens since 1918" but a spokesman for the German delegation in the international Czechoslovak settlement commission said they would be "most reasonable."

Most Difficult Problem

The question was the most difficult problem confronting the commission constituted by the four-power accord at Munich to supervise and direct cession of Sudetenland to Germany.

German financial experts were understood to be drawing up on a bill for such damages and informed observers believed Reichsfuehrer Hitler would be insistent to the point of driving a hard economic bargain with the Prague government.

It was indicated Germany would not consider the Sudeten question solved unless reparations were paid, but there was no indication of the amount to be claimed.

Keeping Careful Ledger

It appeared the Sudeten Germans had been keeping a careful ledger of everything they believed should be "repaired" by the Czechoslovaks.

One of Konrad Henlein's eight points enunciated April 24 at Karlsbad called for "removal of injustices inflicted since 1918 and reparations for the damages caused thereby."

Even as the Czechoslovaks were withdrawing today from ceded areas, Der Angriff, organ of Minister of Propaganda Paul Joseph Goebbels, pointed out:

Provision Is Made

"Provision has been made for keeping exact count on everything in the way of Sudeten property that the Czechs take with them."

Under section II of the Munich accord the Prague government was

Sudetens Shot From Ambush

(By The Associated Press)

AIGEN, Germany, Oct. 5—At least 10 Sudeten Germans were killed by shots fired from ambush near Krumau today when the Czechoslovak town gave itself up to rejoicing over the Sudetenland's "liberation" to Germany.

Krumau lies about three miles behind the fortified line and so far has not been occupied, but the population gathered to celebrate.

Czechs Return Suddenly

Reports said Czechoslovak gendarmes and authorities who left yesterday suddenly returned and ordered removal of nazi decorations and swastika armlets and seized all weapons.

The nearby village of Weichsel came under the fire of snipers.

Ten Sudeten dead were counted this afternoon. The bodies were left on the streets as relatives feared to remove them.

Krumau, which could be reached by highway yesterday, was isolated today.

Spectacular Training Given To Fort Bragg Defenders

FORT BRAGG, N. C., Oct. 5. (AP)—Forty-five air corps war planes gave spectacular training today to Fort Bragg defenders in combatting tactics which officers said had been employed in Spain and China.

Feints and other maneuvers by three successive attacking waves from Langley Field, Va., tested resources of anti-aircraft gunners and pursuit plane pilots comprising "blue" forces in the army's biggest aerial defense maneuvers.

Six attack planes, each bristling with five machine guns, hummed in over the horizon 12,000 feet up, dropped down almost on tree tops and in theory engaged machine gun batteries ringing the Fort Bragg air base.

LONG PRISON TERMS

METZ, France, Oct. 5 (AP) — A military tribunal today condemned a man, his wife and their two sons to 20-year prison terms on charges of espionage on behalf of Germany. The four were arrested in September, 1937.

Dunking Finally Is Accepted Socially

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 5—Doughnut-dunking with no holds barred was approved today by Emily Post.

Informed that Mrs. Gertrude Binney Kay had told Emerson college's class in social usages at Boston that dunking is "all right at an informal house party or a little snack after theatre," Mrs. Post laughed and agreed.

"Any place that would have doughnuts would be like a picnic where you could do pretty much as you pleased," Mrs. Post said. "Of course, you wouldn't have doughnuts at a formal dinner anyway."

Mrs. Kay added that dunking was never correct under any circumstances "unless you hold the doughnut you are dunking between the thumb and third finger of your right hand."

Mrs. Post opined, however, "it doesn't matter much how you hold it. If you are going to dunk, you are going to dunk. But dip it not too far and spread it not too wide."

Plan To Divide Spain To End War Refused

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 5—A plan to partition Spain into two nations—one a democracy, the other a dictatorship—has been broached to the Spanish government, which rejected it, government spokesmen here disclosed today.

They asserted the plan, its origins obscure, would form part of international discussions aimed at ending the Spanish war as part of a general European settlement.

Proposals Brought Up

It was hinted "certain powers" brought up the Spanish partition scheme at the Munich parley Sept. 30 which arranged for giving Germany slices of Czechoslovakia, Europe's other major trouble zone.

At all events it was clear the Spanish problem, temporarily displaced by the Czechoslovak crisis, had come to the fore again since it figured in all talk of a four-power agreement for appeasing Europe. Britain, France, Germany and Italy would be the four powers involved.

In Rome the British ambassador, Lord Perth, and Foreign Minister Count Galeazzo Ciano have been holding a series of conferences aimed at putting the Anglo-Italian Easter friendship pact into effect.

A Prior Condition

A Spanish "settlement" presumably involving withdrawal of Italian soldiers fighting with the insurgents, was a prior condition Britain made to operation of that pact.

Spanish government sources here said the partition proposal ran into a stumbling block when it came to the attention of the Barcelona government.

Premier Juan Negrin speaking in the Cortes (parliament) last Friday indicated he opposed such a division, and the Barcelona newspaper La Vanguardia said yesterday Spaniards on both sides would unite if

Four Persons Hurt In Auto Accident

As the result of an automobile accident about 10:45 o'clock Wednesday night on the outskirts of Lubbock on the Idalou highway, four Lubbock persons were injured and three required hospitalization.

Roy Chapman, about 20, of Ralls and Russell Cook, about 19, of Littlefield, both students of Texas Technological college, suffered injuries and were rushed to Lubbock sanitarium in a Sanders ambulance. They are living at 1808 Ninth street.

Chapman suffered laceration of the left arm and a bruised lip. Cook suffered severe lacerations of the face and neck and was most severely injured.

E. D. Chadwick, about 45, of 2017 Avenue M, city employe, suffered a nose injury and lacerations of the nose and lips. He was given emergency treatment at West Texas hospital.

Mrs. Julia Free, of 2015 Avenue M, who was in the car with Chadwick, suffered a leg injury, but was taken to her home without medical treatment.

D. O. Wilkerson and T. C. Laws both of the Texas Highway patrol, investigated and said the machines met head-on. Relatives of Chadwick said they were told the Chadwick car was stopped.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 5. (AP)—The federal grand jury today indicted Meyer Sopher, 23, ship's messboy charged with theft of jewelry from Mrs. Lawrence Tibbett, wife of the singer, during a voyage from Australia to California.

American Plan For Isolation Is Impossible

British Labor Spokesman Says Future Of United States Is Bound In Europe's Destiny

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, Oct. 5—J. W. Stephenson, British labor spokesman, appealed to American labor today to "think and act internationally" because the future of the United States is "irrevocably bound up with the destinies" of Europe and the far east.

Addressing the 58th annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, Stephenson declared "we simply must be internationalists."

America Cannot Be Separate

"It is impossible to cut the world in half," he said. "America cannot be separate, detached. You are in and part of this changing world.

"You cannot live in isolation, and you cannot remain outside or be indifferent to what is taking place in Britain, in Europe, in the far east, or in any part of the world."

His plea for international labor co-operation was cheered by A. F. of L. leaders, who a year ago voted to reaffiliate with the International Federation of Trades unions.

Proposal Is Pending

Pending before the resolutions committee is a proposal calling on the convention to endorse "the peace policy as enunciated by President Roosevelt for collective action of all democratic and peace loving nations of the world and quarantining the aggressor to prevent further bloodshed and war . . ."

Stephenson, appearing as a fraternal delegate from the British Trades Union congress, said the trend in the world is toward unemployment.

"Social and political stresses," he asserted, "are certain to arise from this economic disorder."

Lashes At Dictatorship

Another British laborite, Joseph Jones, president of the Mine Workers Federation of Great Britain, lashed out at the dictatorship of Europe.

"There would have been no crisis in Czechoslovakia," he said, "if the Anglo-French foreign policy had been of firmer texture in recent years."

"It was expected that Hitler would cash in on the obvious weakness of the French and British policy in relation to Abyssinia, Austria and Spain."

Before the British delegates spoke, the convention pledged all its support and resources to the railroad brotherhoods in the event of a strike against the nation's carriers

Slayer Facing Death Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 5—Sardonic little Adam Richetti whiled away the prison hours in silence tonight as officials prepared for his death in the lethal gas chamber at midnight tomorrow.

The tight-lipped pal of Charles "Pretty Boy" Floyd was condemned for his part in the Kansas City union station massacre of four officers and their prisoner.

All Hope Disappears

What hope Richetti might have held for escaping execution glimmered today when Gov. Lloyd C. Stark announced he would not interfere.

Richetti was the only participant in the union station massacre to go to trial.

Floyd was killed by Ohio officers and a gang feud brought death to Verne Miller, third member of the accused trio.

Hitler Says Other Countries Dealing With Entire Nation

BERLIN, Oct. 5. (AP)—Reichsfuehrer Hitler, back from a victorious entry into Sudetenland, urged his people tonight to help foreign nations realize they were dealing not with "one man, but with an entire nation."

Opening the annual winter relief campaign at Berlin's sportspalast, the fuehrer made a fervent appeal that all Germany contribute.

"No sacrifice can be too great for our community spirit," he said. "Foreign nations will then realize they are not dealing with one man, but with an entire nation."

Man Helps His Assailant To Get A Suspended Sentence

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 5. (AP)—John R. Porter, an oil broker shot down in his office here six months ago, helped the man who shot him get a suspended sentence in district court today.

The defendant, 69-year-old Sam Bennett of Fort Worth, Tex., received a one-year suspended sentence after Porter argued in his behalf.

Bennett drew a gun during an argument with Porter over a lease and in a scuffle the gun discharged.

Revolt Pressed In Britain On Munich Pact

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Oct. 5. — Winston Churchill, Great Britain's unpredictable elder statesman, struck out with all the force of his oratorical skill tonight, leading a revolt of two score conservatives against Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's Munich bargain with Adolf Hitler.

Declaring "disaster of the first magnitude has befallen Britain and France," Churchill hit the hardest blow of all in the third day of parliamentary debate on the "peace of Munich" and Britain's share in the partitioning of Czechoslovakia.

Bid For Soviet Support

The house of commons also heard Sir John Simon, chancellor of the exchequer, bid for Soviet cooperation in guaranteeing Czechoslovakia's diminished borders and assert that Britain "had no intention of trying to exclude Russia from any future settlement of Europe."

Churchill said flatly "I cannot support the government motion" asking a vote of confidence and predicted "all countries of central and eastern Europe will make the best terms they can" with Germany now, warning that Britain herself was even in danger of being drawn into the nazi orbit.

An Unanswered Question

Undertone of the parliamentary thunder was an unanswered question whether the growing revolt within conservative party ranks would force Chamberlain to call a general election soon. It was understood the prime minister was reluctant to take such a step.

He is pressing forward, with the four-power Munich accord and a separate anti-war agreement signed by Adolf Hitler already at hand, aiming at a bargain with Premier Mussolini for eventual peace in a divided Spain and settlement of thorny Mediterranean problems.

Prominent Texas Educator Is Critically Ill At Belton

BELTON, Oct. 5. (AP)—Dr. J. C. Hardy, president emeritus of Mary Hardin-Baylor college and for 25 years the institution's president, was critically ill at his home here tonight.

Members of his family were at the bedside.

Dr. Hardy, past president of the Baptist convention of Texas and of Mississippi A. and M. college, retired from active direction of the college's affairs in the summer of 1927 because of failing health.

However, he had remained actively associated with the school.

Dr. Gordon G. Singleton of Mercer university succeeded him in the presidency.

Mighty Yankee Sluggers Grab Opening Game

Superb Fielding Seen On Both Sides As American Leaguers Take Cubs In 3-1 Victory

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

WRIGLEY FIELD, Chicago, Oct. 5.—Everything a championship team must have to win great games—power, pitching, superb fielding and that intangible something called luck—combined to send the mighty New York Yankees off victorious in their quest for a third straight, record-breaking sweep of World series baseball plunder this chill, blustery day.

Before a crowd of 44,242, the Yankees chilled the hot Chicago Cubs, 3-1, in the opener. They beat the best Gabby Hartnett and his gallants had to offer, belting their pitching pride, General Bill Lee, for 12 hits, four of them by Catcher Bill Dickey, who equalled a series record.

Dean To Oppose Gomez

The defeat left the Cubs with no alternative than to take a long gamble in tomorrow's second game by sending the once great, but now ailing, Dizzy Dean to the mound against the long invincible Lefty Gomez.

Dickey and Big Charles (Red) Ruffing, strong-arm men of the Yankee batting and pitching departments, were heroes today for the world champions, but pressing them was almost the entire Yankee lineup, who came through not only at bat but afield.

Fans Expected Power

Fans expected only power. They say one of the greatest infield combinations of the modern age in Lou Gehrig, Flash Gordon, Frank Crosetti, and Red Rolfe. They made one error—Tommy Henrich made that trying to make an impossible catch—but they clicked so superbly behind Ruffing's nine-hit pitching that three of the four times the Cubs opened innings with hits, their hopes were snuffed out.

Opportunity, or luck, rapped but once for the world conquerors and they cashed in. In the second inning after Lee had excited admirers with two strikeouts in the opening inning, the champs combined two hits, both singles, with Lee's only walk and an error by Billy Herman to manufacture the two runs they needed to win.

Cubs Always Threatening

The Cubs always seemed to threaten but tight defense and Ruffing's control, so perfect he walked not a batsman, carried them through.

The Yanks were not alone in fielding gems, the Cubs tying the Yanks with a pair of lightning double plays. Gordon, Crosetti and Gehrig each turned almost sure hits into outs. So did Ripper Collins, the big money playing man operating on first. Bill Jurges, who made perhaps the greatest catch with a bare-hand stop of Joe DiMaggio's ter-

Terror Grips Town As Lion Is Freed

(By The Associated Press)

WILDWOOD, N. J., Oct. 5 —An escaped circus lion clawed to death a man who tried to halt it and had this south Jersey resort in a grip of terror for two and a half hours tonight before one of a police and fire posse killed it with a pistol shot at ten-foot range on ocean-front boardwalk.

The mutilated body of Thomas Saito, 37, a Japanese, was found under the boardwalk 150 yards from where the beast had dragged him down into the maze of piles. Only the top of his shirt remained on him.

Alarm Is Sounded

The lion pounced on the Japanese as he alighted from an automobile with a woman. The woman's screams sounded an alarm which brought a posse of all the town's two score police and firemen to stalk the beast under the boardwalk with searchlights.

Two policemen pumped three shots into it, but it eluded them several times until Patrolman John Gares brought it down with a shot through the eye.

Meanwhile, an armed cordon closed off a four-block area along the Atlantic ocean, and terrified parents herded up their children.

How the lion escaped was a mystery, but police suspected children opened its cage.

Escaped Once Before

The lion escaped seven weeks ago and at that time scratched its owner, Thomas Doblish, who forced it back into the cage before it had gone more than a few feet. The cause of that escape also was a mystery.

Doblish and his wife had been here all summer running the "wall of death," a bowl with almost perpendicular sides in which motorcyclists spun around. Mrs. Doblish rode in an auto with one or the other of their two lions beside her. The other lion never gave any trouble.

Returned To Its Cage

Virginia Murray told police she saw the lion amble along the boardwalk, return to its cage and, unable to get back in, walk off again along the boardwalk, deserted at this time of year.

A hundred and fifty yards from its starting point, the lion encountered Saito and, when the Japanese stepped into its path, leaped on him with a snarl and dragged him down under the walk.

After a chase among the piles with only four-feet headroom, Patrolman Gares crossed the boardwalk and in the dim light saw the lion bounding at him rapidly along the cedar pier. The beast was less than ten feet away when Gares shot.

It was more than an hour later that the mutilated body of Saito was found in a dark recess under the casino arcade.

Export Market Is Returning

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5—Secretary of Agriculture Wallace declared today Republicans were guilty of "misrepresentation" in circulating statements the Roosevelt administration permitted large increases in agricultural imports to the detriment of American farmers.

In a letter to Senator Bulkley (D-Ohio), Wallace said the farmers' export market was being regained after falling in 1932 to the lowest level in 42 years.

Sold "Down The River"

The letter replied to one from Bulkley enclosing cards quoting Rep. Bertrand H. Snell of New York, Republican leader, as stating the New Deal had "sold the American farmer down the river" by allowing large increases in imports. The Ohio senator said the cards had been broadcast throughout the country.

Wallace said the Snell attack compared farm imports in 1932 "when our trade with the rest of the world had collapsed, with imports in 1937 when farmers were regaining prosperity."

Asserting administration foes "give only one side of the picture," he said imports of corn and wheat, the commodities most affected by the drouths of 1934 and 1936, had practically ceased since the bumper 1937 harvest and that in recent months these crops had been exported in "great quantities." Pork exports also have jumped since last year, he added.

Hamilton Gives Reply For GOP

Skeptical Reception Is Given Proposal For Cooperation; Labor Truce First Goal

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5—John D. M. Hamilton, Republican national chairman, charged tonight that "name-calling" by the Roosevelt administration caused business and employment to slump.

This was Hamilton's reply to a statement issued on behalf of the administration last night which said that recovery had been retarded because of name-calling by labor and industry. The statement suggested that peace conferences be substituted for quarreling.

Business Is Retarded

Hamilton said:

"Of course business has been retarded by name-calling. It has been retarded until we have virtually as many jobless men and women today as we had in 1933 . . .

"It has been retarded by the unrestrained denunciation heaped on legitimate business and free enterprise for five long years by the Roosevelt administration. . . .

"Who does not remember the characterization of those with ability to create employment for others as 'economic royalists?' "

Get Skeptical Reception

Meanwhile, the administration suggestions received a friendly but somewhat skeptical reception at the capital.

Some legislators said it was a good idea—if it would work.

Several remarked that before any hope could be held out for peace between industry and labor, the American Federation of Labor and C.I.O. would have to patch up differences. And they were pessimistic about prospects for closing that breach.

Senator Logan (D-Ky), an administration supporter, interpreted the presidential suggestion as indicating Mr. Roosevelt was prepared to act to obtain industrial peace.

Must Unite Labor

"The first big job," he said, "is to get labor united. Then, labor could be brought together with industry."

Senator King (D-Utah) said, however, he saw little chance for labor to settle its internal dispute.

One official said that before the president offered his proposal for improving relations between business and labor, representatives of the A. F. of L, C.I.O. and National Association of Manufacturers had conferred secretly with the same purpose in mind.

The significance of those parleys, they said, lay in the fact they were

Girl Given 60-Day Prison Term For Aiding Bandits

(By The Associated Press)

LEXINGTON, N. C., Oct. 5—Lula Belle Kimel, 22-year-old daughter of a jailer, pleaded guilty tonight to charges she helped two prisoners gain their freedom. County Judge D. L. Pickard sentenced her to 60 days in jail.

Her father, T. C. Kimel, who locked her in jail yesterday after her purported confession, and her mother took her home tonight under $200 appeal bond.

Lula Belle sat with bowed head as Sheriff Raymond Bowers related she confessed she released James Godwin, 19, and gave him the keys with which he went upstairs and freed Bill Wilson, 21,

"Godwin begged me for a long time to release him, told me that he had got religion and that he could never harm anyone again if I would let him out," the sheriff testified Lula Belle told him.

Shortly after Godwin, charged with first degree burglary, and Wilson, charged with a holdup, left the jail, police began receiving reports of holdups. One man, Donald Moss of High Point, was fatally shot as he stepped from his car. Godwin and Wilson were charged with the crimes.

Search for the pair centered tonight in the vicinity of Hickory.

Today, the iron epoch of Dictators,
It is expedient that the people die for one man."

THE VILLAGE LIFE

A MAN reader sent us an article clipped from The Kiwanis magazine, "How to Live in a Village" written by Frank Farrington who is past president of a Kiwanis club in New York. While Lubbock is past the village stage, many of us remember a few short years ago when conditions were similar to those described by Mr. Farrington. They are not so different today.

He goes so far as to list ten things the villager may well consider in order to acquire and retain the respect and good will of fellow citizens and to get the most out of life:

1. "Be one of us. In speaking of village institutions say 'our' not 'your.' Be an insider, not an outsider.

2. "Now that you live in our village, as quickly as you can, make it your village too. Act as if you like it. It is your home town now. Develop an interest in what is going on and show it.

3. "If you come to this village from another community spare us the frequent recital of what they did back where you used to live, and how they did it, save as we ask for information.

4. "Get acquainted with your neighbors and meet any advances they make. Don't hang back but don't shove.

5. "Be prepared to overlook some little impositions without being aroused to stand up too strenuously for what you consider your rights. Bear and forebear. There will come times when you will want forbearance from others. Don't wear a chip on your shoulder.

6. "Don't resent the fact that your personal affairs are the subject of gossip. The most interesting subject of conversation in the village as elsewhere is fellow humanity. Haven't you found it so?

7. "Don't develop an inferiority complex because of the criticism leveled at village and rural life by writers who look upon the city as the be-all and end-all of existence outside its precinct save votes and mail order customers.

8. "Judge every village custom, activity, interest, institution on its merits as a village matter, not in contrast with what the city has to offer.

9. "If you do not like village life, it may be your fault or the fault of the village. There are people who cannot be contented anywhere.

10. "And lastly, bear in mind the words of Abraham Lincoln who said 'I like to see a man proud of the place in which he lives. I like to see a man so live that the place will be proud of him.'"

AND ANOTHER THING

ANOTHER THING the writer omitted which we like about living in a small city are the human relations you may have with folk in various walks of life. We've never been in a large city when we didn't feel almost overwhelmingly lonely. Here walking to work morning after morning we look forward to speaking to the filling station attendants, the postman, the office girls, the policeman, the drugstore clerks, many of whom we have known for years. We would miss cheery greetings we receive almost daily from the cashiers at the Citizens National bank, from L. E. Davis and petite Marguerite Whipp.

To the many people who are moving here to join us in building a greater Lubbock we believe this morning's advice is timely. One word from Mr. Farrington, "you may be damned if you try to influence community affairs before you have lived in a new place long enough to understand situations."

A variety of interesting entertainments has kept many Lubbock women residents on the go this week.

Mrs. F. A. Kleinschmidt, who with Mr. Kleinschmidt spent the summer abroad, was speaker at a monthly tea given for the Tech Faculty Women's club Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the lounge of the women's dormitory. This opened the season for the group.

Wives of new faculty members in various departments were introduced.

Hostesses were Mrs. J. O. Ellsworth, chairman, and Mesdames S. S. McKay, R. C. Goodwin, Kleinschmidt, Cecil Horne, M. E. Ogdon, O. V. Adams, M. E. Heard, C. B. Qualls, W. H. Bledsoe, A. W. Evans, Allan L. Carter and Fred Sparks.

Gives Highlights

Mrs. Kleinschmidt described costumes and customs of natives in England, Scotland, Ireland, France, Italy and Germany and gave humorous highlights of the trip. She told of the changing of the guards in London, of a trip along the English and Scottish lakes and a tour of the Shakespearean sector. She and Mr. Kleinschmidt were fortunate enough to be in Paris at the time King George and Queen Elizabeth visited there, and they saw Mussolini in Rome.

Dahlias centered the refreshment table which was covered with organdy and net. Salad, nuts, cheese straws and coffee were served to 71 women.

For Bride-Elect

The First Christian church annex gave the environment Wednesday afternoon for a tea and shower honoring Miss Pauline Phillips, bride-elect, which was given by Mesdames T. Teal, J. Will Moore, J. H. Eubank, R. W. Walker, Fred Rea, L. W. Squyres and N. L. Benson.

The hostesses are members of the church woman's council. Miss Phillips has been an active member of the church since childhood.

The reception was the first of a series to honor the young woman who is to marry Bedford Caldwell of Tahoka October 16.

Invitations were extended to 150 guests.

The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth and appointments carried out the bride's chosen colors of silver and blue.

The gifts were presented by little Phyllis Ann Phillips, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Q. M. Phillips of Levelland and niece of the honoree, and Ben Ray Eskridge, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Eskridge. The children were dressed as a bride and bridegroom.

One Hundred Attend

Approximately 100 girls attended a Girl Reserves meeting at Senior high school Wednesday afternoon. Martha Parnell presided for a short business discussion then Marjorie Sneed presided for an illustrated program on art which included:

FRESH FRUIT CANAPE

Here is a fresh fruit canape suitable to serve as appetizer for any meal. Cut cantaloupe meats into one-inch, crossway slices. Place on paper doilies on serving plates. Heap up centers with chilled grapes removed from the stems.

A PLACE FOR EVERYONE

To encourage neatness and family cooperation, assign a shelf or drawer to each member of the family to hold all school equipment, favorite magazines, music and other personal effects.

To prepare mint for storing in a covered jar, wash it well in boiling water, then shake off as much water as possible and spread the mint in a shallow pan. Heat it slowly until it is well dried, then break it up with the fingers and put it in the jar. You'll have mint that may be used for flavoring sauces, meats or salads.

Ten Volumes Of Books Are Given To Slaton Library

SLATON, Oct. 5. (Special)—Daughters of the Pioneer Study club this week gave the high school library a 10-volume set of the complete works of Washington Irving. Mrs. Vern Johnson, president, and Miss Myrtle Teague, treasurer, presented the books to Joe E. Webb, superintendent.

A health program will be waged by the club soon, beginning with purchase of scales for the Junior high school and the weighing of children at intervals in order that health charts may be kept. Underclothed and underfed children will from time to time receive aid from the club.

Officers besides Mrs. Johnson and Miss Teague are Mary Watkins, vice-president; Joan Drewry, recording secretary; Miss Margaret Hanna, auditor; Miss Lea Beth Drewry, corresponding secretary; Miss Evelyn Mansker, parliamentarian; and Mrs. H. G. Sanders, jr., reporter.

With the aid of other groups in town the club also plans to donate new window curtains to the city club house.

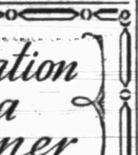

Flowers Are Sent To Fair In Progress At Graham

Ten dozen dahlias were sent by six members of the South Plains Dahlia society to Graham by bus Tuesday morning to be exhibited at an annual fair that opened there Wednesday morning. The flowers were requested after a Graham woman had seen pictures of the dahlia display at Panhandle-South Plains fair. She wrote that because of a dry summer the Graham fair would not show many local flowers.

There are about 400,000 Christian hymns in existence.

German-American Bund And Ku Klux Klan Reported Working Hand In Hand

Target Ranges Are Operated

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5 (AP) — The house committee investigating "un-American activities," heard testimony today the German-American bund and the Ku Klux Klan were working hand in hand in some sections of the United States.

John C. Metcalfe, a committee investigator and former bund member, listed the Klan with a group of other organizations he said the bund was seeking to consolidate in a nazi-fascist movement in this country.

"The bund," Metcalfe said, "believes the Klansmen will be among the host of 'kameraden' who will join in a battle to the death against its enemies when their 'der tag' arrives."

Others Are Named

He named among the other groups the Italian black shirts, the Unranian brown shirts, the silver shirts, the gold shirts of Mexico, and the Russian National League of America.

Previously, Metcalfe told the committee the bund had established pistol and rifle ranges in some cities to instruct its "storm troops in shooting." Target ranges, he said, are in operation in Philadelphia, Buffalo, Reading, Pa., and Detroit. During the summer troopers practiced at night, he added.

The witness testified that the announcement that storm troopers would be trained to shoot was made to the Astoria, N. Y., post by Leader H. Schwarzmann in July, 1937.

Demonstration In A Safety Show Is Planned Today

What happens to an automobile tire when it blows out will be demonstrated today in a safety show sponsored by Gunn-Hinerman on Avenue Q north of Broadway, according to announcement Wednesday.

The car will be moving at low speed when the casing will be blown out with dynamite, the announcement said. City officials and others interested have been invited to be present.

Another feature will be a blowout at high speed of a Goodyear Lifeguard, described as a new safety achievement which turns a tire failure into a slow leak.

The Lifeguard, it was explained, consists of an inner tire inside an outer tube, both joined at the base, air passing from the inner to the outer through a single tiny vent. When a blowout occurs, air escapes from the outer tube instantly but from the inner tire so slowly that it absorbs the drop of the car, permitting the driver to come to a safe stop.

Condition Of W. L. Massey Is Reported Unchanged Here

Condition Wednesday night of W. L. Massey, 32, of Arp who was severely injured that morning, remained unchanged, according to authorities.

Massey was injured when the automobile in which he was riding overturned near Ralls early Wednesday.

Officers of the Lubbock district of the Texas Highway patrol investigated.

He was taken to Lubbock sanitarium where attendants said he had received head and chest injuries, several fractured ribs and serious lacerations of the face. His skull apparently was fractured and his chest was crushed, information continued.

J. B. Starritt, also of Arp, another occupant of the car, escaped with minor injuries.

Massey and Starritt, according to information here, are cotton pickers and had found work near Ralls. They reported they were driving to the farm where they had been employed when something happened to the car, causing it to overturn with Massey pinned beneath.

Dozens Of Workers Are Late To Work But A Little Dog Provides A Good Excuse

DALLAS, Oct. 5. (AP)—Dozens of workers were late getting on the job this morning but a little black-and-white dog provided a good excuse.

Ten street cars were brought to a standstill during the rush hour when the frightened pup scooted along a trestle trying to find safety.

The first car stopped to let him pass on. The dog darted to the other track, stopping traffic there. Finally he edged under car No. 739 and stayed there while more cars arrived and stopped.

An operator at last retrieved the dog and delivered him safe and sound to authorities at city hall.

Winter Wheat Crop Is Said Getting Off To Bad Start

WASHINGTON, Oct. 5. (AP)—The 1939 winter wheat crop is getting off to a poor start, the weather bureau reported today.

Drouth conditions, the bureau said, prevailed in much of the plains and Mississippi valley region, where the bulk of the fall-sown bread grain is produced. Rain was said to be needed for germination of many fields already seeded and for plowing of unplanted areas.

The bureau said early seeded wheat and rye had made good growth in South Dakota and were about ready for grazing, but that late sown grain needed moisture.

Oklahoma and Texas also were said by the bureau to need moisture.

AUSTIN, Oct. 5 (AP)—The state's general fund deficit stood at $16,133,006 today, an increase of $1,969,371, the treasury department announced.

The statement was coincidental with a call for payment of general fund warrants through March 31, 1938. The amount of the call was $98,414. The department also announced purchase for investment of fund warrants through February, 1937, providing they have not been discounted.

The superficial area of the earth is 196,950,000 square miles, nearly three-quarters of which is covered by water.

No Cause For Jitters Seen

AUSTIN, Oct. 5. (AP)—Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the interstate oil and gas compact, said today he felt no apprehension over the crude petroleum price structure.

He was commenting on talk heard in oil circles the last week that weakness of the gasoline market had placed crude prices in their most hazardous position in a long time.

Position Is Excellent

Thompson said the statistical position of the industry was excellent, production was under the strictest control in history and balanced consumption, stocks of crude were at a 17-year low, wages and hours were good and the public was getting the best product at the best prices of all time.

He concluded "jitters" weren't unusual to the oil industry, expressed confidence the "present mild attack" would pass on as others had and said it looked as if oil men would have to give more study to economics.

"The oil industry never was in a better statistical position than it is today," Thompson said. "We are producing 200,000 barrels daily less than is being consumed. This balance of production of crude oil with consumption of gasoline has always been the ideal which has been hoped to be possible of achievement. It has been achieved.

"But now they say that gasoline is weak on account of economic maladjustment. It seems there is always some sort of jitters present in the oil business."

He asserted the regulation of prices was neither possible nor desirable, adding that "in all these so-called limitation controls it is unexpected and unusual that upsets the applecart."

He listed as factors in the current oil situation the importation of oil from Mexico and South America, the discovery of the Illinois field, the advance in technological application and the expansion in use of heating oil during the last two years together with the possible effect on the last market of the economic recession.

O'Daniel In Austin Yesterday For Study Of The Problem Of Water Conservation

AUSTIN, Oct. 5 (AP) — W. Lee O'Daniel, governor-nominate, was in Austin today to study the problem of water conservation.

Mrs. O'Daniel, her husband said, came for two reasons:

"Pat and Mike."

Their sons are freshmen at the University of Texas.

O'Daniel planned to sit in all day at a statewide conference on water resources of Texas and make as few remarks of his own as possible.

"I'm here to learn," he said.

He added:

He still is receiving plenty of suggestions on how to finance old age assistance but has reached no conclusions.

He still considers himself pledged against a sales tax and recalled he once made a trip to oppose it before a legislative committee.

He will meet again with a senate committee studying economies in government when the committee has something to report. They met recently in Fort Worth.

O'Daniel said he would return to Fort Worth tonight.

State-Confiscated Oil Sold At Auction; Bid Rejected

TYLER, Oct. 5. (AP) — Approximately 86,000 barrels of state-confiscated oil sold here yesterday at public auction, going to Marvin McMurrey for 31 1-2 cents a barrel.

McMurrey owns the Tyler refinery. He obtained the oil after the price was run up from opening bids of 15 cents.

Chief Deputy Sheriff Tom Crook rejected a bid of 80 cents a barrel for oil in steel storage tanks. Bryan Payne, Tyler oil operator, offered that price, saying he would not buy oil in earthen storage because of water and mud it probably contained.

Payne said the state probably could make money by storing the oil in steel tanks at five cents a barrel and receiving around 80 cents instead of 30 or 31. Tom Rowell of Longview, assistant Texas attorney general, took Payne's proposal under consideration.

Crook rejected Payne's bid on the ground a court order required all the oil to be sold in bulk.

NEW BRAUNFELS, Oct. 5. (AP)—The vanguard of an estimated 800 delegates expected to attend the annual state convention of the county judges and commissioners was arriving here today.

Registration begins tonight with a pre-convention dance also scheduled.

Many state officials are on the program which opens tomorrow and continues through Saturday with Governor-Nominate W. Lee O'Daniel scheduled as guest speaker Friday morning. United States Senator Tom Connally will speak at a banquet Friday night.

Several Articles Exhibited At Fair Are Reported Lost

Several articles which were exhibited at the 1938 Panhandle-South Plains fair have been reported to authorities of the fair association as having been lost.

They were:

An antique celery stand belonging to Mrs. E. L. Corley of Shallowater. She said the article had been presented to her parents as a wedding gift in 1872.

A white baby dress belonging to Mrs. Ira Turner of 204 Avenue P. The dress was described as having been embroidered in colors and having tucks.

Two yards of lace belonging to Mrs. J. R. Harmon of route 1, Lubbock.

WHY FALSE TEETH WEARERS HAVE Bad Breath

You can't notice any odor from your plate or bridge—but others can! Dentists call this odor "denture breath" and it's serious. It comes from a mucin-scum that collects on plates and bridges. This scum is almost invisible—but it can make your breath so bad that friends shudder. It can breed decay-bacteria that infect your other teeth, actually hurt your health and spoil your pleasure.

Ordinary brushing cannot get this scum off plate or bridge—can't protect you against "denture breath." But just try Polident! Polident not only cleans—it actually purifies plates and bridges without brushing. It gets every bit of scum, tarnish, stain and odor—dissolves it away and leaves your plate sweet and clean as new.

Your breath will be fresher, your mouth feel cleaner—and your plate last longer and look better. Polident is approved by dental authorities. Good Housekeeping and tens of thousands of users. Long-lasting can costs only 30¢ at any drug store. Adv.

POLIDENT

Cleans, Purifies Like Magic

Put plate or bridge in ½ glass of water. Add a little Polident powder. Leave in 10 to 15 minutes—rinse—and it's sweet and purified—ready to use!

N. Y. Tests Prove Women Can Lose FAT

Ask Your Doctor If It Isn't Good Way. Read EVERY Word —

NEW YORK, N. Y.: A test conducted by a prominent N. Y. physician and a nationally known newspaper woman proved there is a harmless, effective way to lose fat, if you'll only STICK TO IT and give it a fair trial.

In 40 days, 5 women lost a total of 286 lbs. EVERY woman lost fat—the average loss per woman being 11½ lbs. The women first of all ate sensibly. And for proper functioning they took a little daily dose of Kruschen Salts. If you have the slightest doubt about this Plan just ask your own doctor about its safety and merit.

And this is important to know:

Kruschen is not just one salt as some people may ignorantly believe. Rather, it's a blend of 6 active mineral salts (see on box) which, when dissolved in water, make a healthful mineral drink similar to the waters of famous European Spas where wealthy fat women have gone for years.

Here's the Kruschen Plan: Just take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in hot water every morning for better functioning. Go light on fatty foods and sweets—eat plentifully of lean meats, fresh fruits and green vegetables. Plan to do this faithfully for 28 days and see if you don't lose fat and feel healthier and younger. A jar costs but a few cents and makes 5 gallons of a most highly efficient mineral health water. At druggists everywhere.—Adv.

YOUR MILEAGE MERCHANT backs up his personal assurance of easy winter starting and oil economy by OIL-PLATING YOUR ENGINE —more than an oil change!

JUST because this is in print instead of coming direct from Your Mileage Merchant's lips doesn't change the fact that he backs every word personally. How does he go through with that? By giving your engine the only OIL-PLATING. That's not mere words; it's what patented Conoco Germ Processed oil DOES.

Activated by an ADDED man-made compound—ADDED to oil's best natural qualities—ADDED to the best refining—this exclusive Germ Processed oil ADDS itself direct to the inner engine surfaces... unites so thoroughly that every working part stays constantly OIL-PLATED.

Does the chrome plating on the bumpers drain down every time your car stops? Neither does OIL-PLATING in your engine. When you want to start up again, after hours of wintry parking—after nights or even weeks in the coldest garage—you've got ready lubrication faster than instantly!—in advance of the fastest oil-circulation. For drain-proof OIL-PLATING has stayed lastingly plated all the way up, to make things slide lightly and swiftly for your starter and battery. That also tells you why you're rid of costly starting wear. And OIL-PLATING stays in as long as you use Germ Processed oil. The gauge-stick gives Your Mileage Merchant his strongest backing. Switch in Time!

Social Welfare Units May Be Given Home By State

AUSTIN, Oct. 5. (AP)—A plan to give state social welfare agencies "a home" was disclosed here today.

Senator Vernon Lemens of Waxahachie said he and Senator Morris Roberts of Pettus probably would recommend to a sub-group of the senate finance committee coordination under a new board of all state social welfare departments.

Old age assistance, child welfare, teachers retirement and general relief now are administered by the board of control. A setup to carry out assistance to dependent children and needy blind has yet to be worked out permanently.

The sub-group, of which Lemens and Roberts are members, is preparing to draft a departmental appropriation bill for attention of the next legislature.

Lemens said he believed both the federal government and the board of control would approve the plan to get social welfare agencies under another board, which might be composed of three members.

"The board of control," he said, "is essentially not an administrative body, but was intended to supervise other departments. It does not have facilities for administrative work and its proper functions are entirely different.

"An agency will have to be set up to care for dependent children and needy blind. Why not bring everything together?

"It will be recognition the social security program is here to stay. It has been kicked about, anchored nowhere. Our plan is to give it a home."

Few More Than 3,500 Studes Are Registered At Tech

When business offices of Texas Technological college closed Wednesday afternoon, a few more than 3,500 students had registered, according to authorities at the college.

An increase of 350 is shown by the 1938 figure as compared with 3,154 for the first semester of last year, until this year the largest total for any one semester.

Club Governor On Visit Here

First official visit of the new district governor of Rotary International district 127 was made yesterday to the Lubbock Rotary club by Linton H. Estes, of Wichita Falls, who in July succeeded J. Edd McLaughlin of Ralls. He also held an assembly of directors and committee chairmen in the Lubbock hotel in the morning, attended by a score of Rotarians.

President Warren P. Clement, who presided at both sessions, introduced Governor Estes. "It was one of the most interesting assemblies I have ever attended," said the speaker of the morning session. He praised the growth of the club and also the town. "Lubbock is known as a most hospitable city," he said, "and I have found it so."

Information Obtained

The official added he had gotten "information from this club that I can pass on to other clubs. He referred to a request he had received from another club about the world's record 100 per cent attendance. This record, according to information from Rotary International, is 506 consecutive full attendance meetings. He quoted the three main requirements of all Rotarians, pay dues promptly, attend meetings regularly and do your duty when called upon. He stressed regular attendance rather than an attempt to get every member present every week.

Ray Farmer, one of the chairmen, introduced Capt. W. W. Leggé of the state highway patrol, who gave a resume of the activities of the patrol in the Texas fight against traffic accidents. "Lubbock and the state have made great strides in accident prevention," he commented. Monthly deaths were reduced from 168 in 1937 to 135 so far in 1938.

Sgt. W. M. King, who is in charge of a safety lane here, also spoke on that work. He explained the new method of testing cars, outlined some of the more common excuses motorists give for defects. Three per cent of the traffic deaths, he pointed out, are due to defective mufflers. Last month, he said, driving in the center of the road caused more deaths than any other cause. Faulty brakes account for 17 per cent of fatal accidents.

Two new members, W. T. Strange and Dr. O. R. Hand, were received. Neil H. Wright was asked by President Clement to formally induct them into the club.

Law With Teeth In It To Put Curb On Drunk Driving Urged

DALLAS, Oct. 5. (AP)—C. J. Rutland of Dallas, chairman of the Texas safety traffic commission, today urged enactment of a law with teeth in it to curb drunken driving.

He told a luncheon group it was becoming increasingly difficult to obtain convictions for drunken driving because juries were too lenient and because political influence often intervened.

Rutland likewise suggested a new Texas traffic code, more adequate driver's license laws and a motor vehicle inspection enabling act.

Two Bank Messengers Robbed By Bandits Of $60,000

OTTAWA, Ill., Oct. 5. (AP)—Two robbers held up two bank messengers as they left the postoffice today and fled with a shipment of $60,000 in currency, from the federal reserve bank of Chicago. The robbers fled in an automobile.

The messengers, Assistant Cashier Ray E. Thomas, 43, and Draft Clerk Charles O'Reilley, both employes of the First National bank, were not harmed.

Jail Systems Being Flayed

ST. PAUL, Oct. 5. (AP)—Homelike cottages for juvenile offenders were recommended and the county jail system was assailed as "flagrantly undemocratic" today by speakers at the annual congress of the American Prison association.

The cottage plan of institution was recommended as the only reasonable type for juveniles in a report to the national conference of juvenile agencies by E. H. Roselle, New Haven, Conn., chairman of the committee of planning and development of institutional plants.

Most First Offenders

G. Howland Shaw, chief of the division of foreign service personnel, Washington, D. C., said nearly a million men, women and children, are sent to county jails every year, some frequent inmates of penal institutions but "almost one-half are first offenders, sent to jail because they cannot pay their fines."

"This is a flagrantly undemocratic procedure," he said. "The well-to-do pay their fines but the poor must go to jail and are subjected to the contagion of degrading associations and miserable living conditions found in many of our jails and the individual's family, deprived of his earnings may have to appeal for public relief."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—

Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 25 cents. Stubbornly refuse anything else.

HERE'S HOW THEY WORK

The Goodyear LifeGuard is a two-ply reserve tire inside a conventional tube — both inflated through the same valve... If casing and tube fail at any speed, the inner tire holds enough air to support the car until it can be brought to a safe, smooth stop without ruining the tire or injury to the occupants... Goodyear LifeGuards are needed in any make or brand of tire. They are manufactured to fit old or new automobile, bus, truck and motorcycle tires.

EAST MET WEST ON THE PACIFIC COAST when three of the navy's seaplanes dipped before the U.S.S. Pennsylvania, named for an eastern state, during a display of naval and air strength. Ominous war threats abroad have directed greater attention toward the neutrality law and U. S. key defense units.

WHATEVER THE CRISIS or the threat of war that could involve the British empire, the parasol is ever-present among England's statesmen, and War Minister Leslie Hore-Belisha is no exception. Pleasant-faced despite the great emergency arising from the Czech-German question, the minister arrives at 10 Downing St. for a cabinet meeting.

ALL MATERIALS they need, except manpower, would be made available to England and France if U. S. adopts policy advocated by Sen. M. M. Logan (above), Kentucky Democrat.

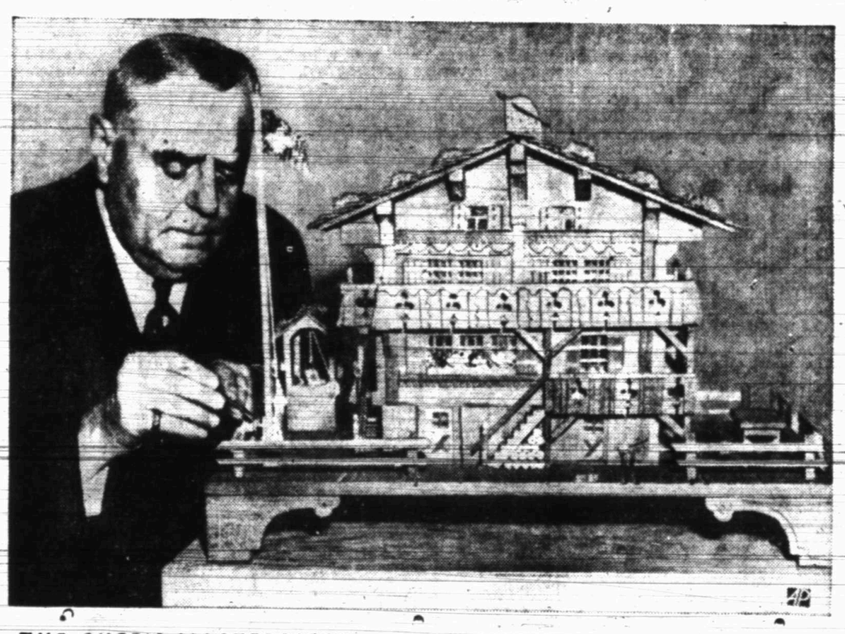

NEGOTIATIONS between Polish President Ignace Moscicki (above) and Czech President Eduard Benes over the Czech-Poland boundary dispute have been resumed.

FASHION'S CLOCK turned back to restore the old-fashioned ostrich boa to current favor, along with other modish whims from Victorian era. This 12-foot boa is copied from one Paquin designed for the Duchess of Portland.

THE FOOTSTEPS OF THEIR FATHERS point the way for these German boys, who marched along to the barracks during the last world war. This picture made 20 years ago in Berlin may be prophetic; the little boys are grown soldiers now.

THE CHEF'S MASTERPIECE turns out to be an elaborate Swiss chalet instead of something edible. When Oscar of the Waldorf at New York was pondering on his entry in the third annual arts and crafts exhibit for Waldorf employes he turned to wood-carving, his boyish hobby. He carved this two-foot-high chalet out of cigar box wood, spent 150 hours on task.

EVEN A QUEEN becomes a "subject", where the annual Red Cross rally is concerned. Wearing the regal robes in which she appeared as queen of the 1938 president's cup regatta, Miss Elizabeth Reed is enrolled as first Red Cross member in the District of Columbia roll call rally. Chairman Norman Davis is pinning on the Red Cross membership button.

Pledges Totaling $3,500 Are To Be Sought In Boy Scout Sustaining Drive

Breakfast Will Open Campaign

A kickoff breakfast at 8 a. m. at Hilton hotel will signal the start of a one-day Scout sustaining club membership drive which will close with a dinner at 6:30 o'clock tonight, according to Marion Sanford, general chairman.

Pledges totaling $3,500 are the objective of the campaign.

Stimulating interest among workers, he added, will be the fact that two rival teams designated as "wranglers" of the "Horse Fly" and the "Mosquito bar" ranches will compete.

Teams Have 40 Members

Two teams, each of approximately 40 members, have been appointed and designated as the "Horse Fly" and the "Mosquito Bar" ranches, with Charles H. Read and C. H. (Brownie) Hamilton the respective foremen. Each foreman will be served by six "straw bosses," each of whom heads a committee of "wranglers," Sanford explained.

The foreman of the winning team will be privileged to clip the shirttail of the loser when and where he chooses, according to the contest rules.

Women Are To Aid

Participating in the campaign also will be a women's committee headed by Mrs. Marvin McLarty and composed of the following members: Mmes. John Spikes, M. E. Heard, Roy McKinney, L. B. Wright, J. C. Sanders, A. C. Jackson, George Brewer, Alex McDonald, F. H. Zeitz and E. J. Lowrey.

The personnel of "ranch" organizations follows:

Horse Fly—Strawboss DeWitt Landis and Wranglers Arlie Crites, Bruce Collier, Q. F. Parker, Wayne Henly and C. I. Wall; Strawboss A. T. Cocanougher and Wranglers J. A. Fortenberry, H. Exhibit Of Fine Arts Will Be Staged Here Oct. 10-14

To raise funds to buy pictures for Junior and Senior High school an exhibit of fine arts is to be displayed during National Picture week, October 10-14, in room 109, 207, and 210 at Junior High school from 3 to 4 o'clock.

The exhibit is sponsored by the reading and art classes.

Tickets will be sold for 10 cents by the students. The student in the 8th, 7th, and 8th grades who sells the most tickets will receive a prize.

The exhibit consists of 105 large colored reproductions of old and new masters.

Some of the old masters represented are: Gainsborough, Titian, Da Vinci, Terborch, Murillo, Van Dyke, Raphael. A few of the modern masters are: Ben Foster, George De Foster Bruch, George Innes, Earnest Albert, Frank Duveneck, Gardner Symons, Bruce Crane, Williams W. Wyant, Harry Vincent, Robert Wesley Amick, and Gusrave Wiegard.

Neff Talks At State Session

AUSTIN, Oct. 5 (AP)—Former Governor Pat Neff, the "daddy" of conservation in Texas, today told W. Lee O'Daniel, governor-nominate, he would have no more important problem than preservation of the state's natural resources.

Neff who in 1922 called the first statewide conservation conference addressed a similar meeting here attended by 200 persons who will discuss what to do about utilizing surface and underground water supplies.

Neff said the conservation program began in Texas after serious floods of 1922. Since then lakes have appeared in formerly barren places and Texas is gradually learning to make the most of its water supplies, he said.

Urged To Push Program

The former governor admonished his listeners to push the program forward.

Governor James V. Allred stressed the need for cooperation among citizens, industry and government for effecting what he termed a "major water and soil conservation program" in Texas.

He said flood control was but one essential in a comprehensive program, adding that water and soil conservation were also necessary.

The conference, sponsored by the Texas Watershed association, listed as other speakers R. J. McMahon, state reclamation engineer; Maj. E. A. Wood, director of the Texas planning board; F. O. Hagie of Washington, D. C., secretary-manager of the National Reclamation association; V. E. Schoeffelmayer, agriculture editor of the Dallas Morning News, and Clarence De Busk of Jacksonville, executive vice-president of the watershed association.

New Japanese Ambassador To U. S. To Be Appointed Soon

TOKYO, Oct. 5 (AP)—The foreign office announced today that Kensuke Horinouchi, vice-minister for foreign affairs, would be appointed ambassador to the United States in succession to Hiroshi Saito if the Washington government gives its approval.

Formal announcement of the appointment was withheld until the formalities of seeking Washington's agreement are completed.

The foreign office said Ambassador Saito, who has held the Washington post since 1934, was being recalled because of poor health.

Thunder, which is the loudest common noise, never has been heard unmistakably more than about 20 miles from the flash.

State Petition Names Officers

BORGER, Oct. 5. (AP)—The state filed a petition today asking that two prison officials be cited for contempt and making it mandatory for them to appear in district court here Oct. 14 to give their reasons for releasing Arthur Huey before his prison term expired.

The petition filed at Stinnett by Attorney General William McCraw and District Attorney W. L. McConnell, named Warden W. W. Waid and O. J. S. Ellingson, manager of the Texas prison farm system.

It further asked for an order, should reasons for the release be unacceptable to this county, commanding the officials to apprehend Huey and return him to the penitentiary.

Huey, serving a term for embezzling county funds, was released recently from the Huntsville penitentiary on a writ of habeas corpus signed by Judge Fountain Kirby of Groesbeck.

Governor James V. Allred ordered an investigation of the release shortly thereafter.

Teachers To Gather In Slaton Saturday

SLATON, Oct. 5. (Special)—Vocational home economics teachers in Lubbock county who are interested in a 12-month high school teaching program in that subject have been invited to a meeting Saturday morning at 9:30 in the home of Mrs. Dayton Eckert, home economics director of Slaton High school, at 515 West Garza street.

With Mrs. L. M. Hargrave from Frenship school of Wolfforth acting as chairman, the group likely will formulate plans for a 12-month vocational home economics program to be presented at a meeting October 14 in Lubbock with Miss Esther Sorenson, district supervisor of this area from the state department of homemaking, presiding.

During the summer months superintendents of schools in Lubbock county met and discussed recommendations of the new plan of work as given by the state department, later informing vocational teachers of the county that they had been asked to experiment with the 12-month program.

Teachers expected to attend are Mrs. Hazel Duncan Arnold, Shallowater; Miss Velda Beth Gulledge, New Deal; Miss Mary Knight, Roosevelt; Miss Eloise Wilke, Cooper; Miss Ruth Ford, Lubbock Junior High; Mrs. Eckert, Mrs. Hargrave and Miss Sorenson.

The group will select a chairman and a secretary for the year.

Mrs. Eckert will serve a 12 o'clock luncheon for those attending the meeting.

Full-Time Librarian Chosen At Slaton Junior High

SLATON, Oct. 5. (Special)—Myrtle Ragsdale of this city has been named full-time librarian in the Junior High school, which position has been provided for through NYA funds.

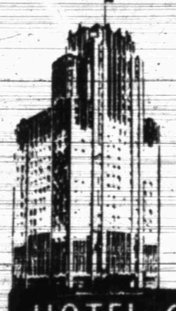

Miss Addie Lea Morrison has been acting in the capacity of librarian in addition to carrying a full-time teaching position.

McCarthymen Continue Baseball Dominance By Lashing Chicago In Opener

Gomez And Dean Are Slated For Hurling Today

rific smash in the fourth inning, and Herman, though his one error in the second sent in the first Yankee run and set up another.

As fortunes go, only DiMaggio, leading hitter of the champs, and Ruffing went hitless. Henrich and Gordon had a pair of hits, the others settling on one each—all but one coming off Lee's delivery before he was perked for a pinch hitter in the eight and replaced by Jack Russell in the ninth. Runnsell yielded but one hit—a double by Crosetti—in the inning he worked.

Crowd Pays $210,025

The large crowd paid $210,025 to see one of the best played games in series history. The players' pool swelled to $107,112.75.

At the start, it looked as if Lee finally would get even with the Yankees. He started by fanning Crosetti, got Rolfe at first after a spectacular stop by Collins and then whiffed Henrich.

Ruffing, calm and collected, was nicked for a single by Stanley Hack, who reached him for three of the nine hits he allowed, but escaped as Dickey caught him cold trying to steal second. Herman was easy and Frank Demaree fanned.

As the second opened, DiMaggio grounded out, but Gehrig worked Lee for a walk and ran to third as Dickey pumped the first of his four singles to right.

Both Runners Safe

Phil Cavarretta made a powerful heave to Hack who, evidently figuring he couldn't get Lou as the throw was a bit high and wide, whirled and tried to nail Dickey going into second. His throw was late and both were safe.

George Selkirk slapped a slow roller at Herman but, in his rush to make the play at the plate, he juggled and dropped the ball and Lou was safe. Then Gordon stepped up, smacked one to left and the second Yankee run was home.

The Cubs pushed over their only run in the third. Collins singled to right, paused as Jurges struck out, and took second as Dickey grabbed Lee's slow roller along the third base line and just nipped him at first. Hack singled to right, scoring Collins, taking second as the relay to the plate missed. Herman singled off Rolfe's glove but Crosetti picked it up, whipped it to Dickey and Hack was out on a close play at home.

Miss Scoring Chances

Missing chances with bold base running and tight playing by the Cubs, the Yankee marauders smashed out four hits over the succeeding three innings only to miss scoring opportunities.

But as Ruffing went along, keeping his pitches so accurate and low that not a Yankee outfielder made a put-out until the sixth inning, the Yankees picked up another run.

Henrich bounced a double off the rightfield brick fence, stuck on second as Gehrig struck out, and DiMaggio flied to right. Dickey drove him home with a tall one to left.

After that, it was a case of lightning double plays, more spectacular stops by both teams and no scores.

Cubs Have Great Chance

The Cubs had a great chance in the seventh. Cavarretta singled but Carl Reynolds hit to Crosetti, who stepped on second and pegged to Gehrig for a double play. Hartnett slashed to right and it went for a triple as Henrich, trying for a shoestring catch, let the ball roll to the fence. Collins' hot drive was scooped up by Crosetti for an easy out.

Jurges started the eighth with a single but a fielder's choice and a great stop by Gordon ended the rally with a double play. Gordon speared Hack's liner backhanded and made a perfect relay to Crosetti, who got Ken O'Dea, pinch hitter for Lee, at second.

In the ninth, with two out, Henrich fumbled Cavarretta's single, allowing him to reach second but the game ended as Reynolds popped to Gordon.

Odds on the Yankees, naturally, dropped to almost prohibitive figures, not only because of the fine all-around play of the Yankees but World series tradition. Of 34 world series, the team winning the first game has gone on to win 25 times. And tomorrow, the Cubs must come out with a gamble on Dean against Gomez, a pitcher who has not lost a World series game in five starts.

Scenes Reminiscent Of Golden Era Reenacted At Cub Park

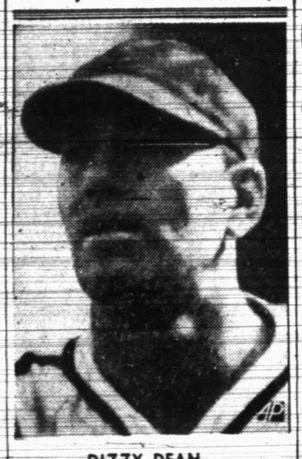

WRIGLEY FIELD, Chicago, Oct. 5. (AP)—Scenes reminiscent of the golden era days of baseball were reenacted today as a wild, joyous mob of fans stormed the gates of Wrigley field to watch the mighty New York Yankees cool off Gabby Hartnett's hot Chicago Cubs in the opener of the 1938 World series.

Though it was chilly, cloudy and windy—better football weather than baseball—the exultant fans, many of whom stayed in line all night, filled the bleachers 20 minutes after the gates opened at 10 a. m. (E.S.T.), four and a half hours before game time.

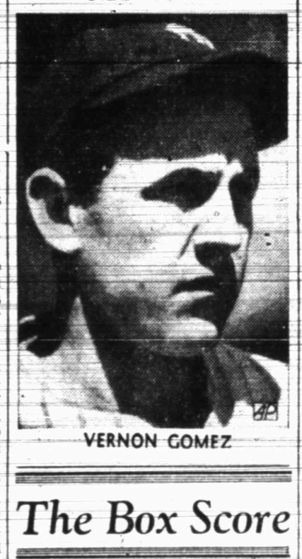

Ticket windows were closed for all but those wishing to risk $3.30 for standing room. Scalpers mingled

HAWLEY ATHLETIC BOSS

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 5.—A long-striding son of the hills—Roy McKinley (Legs) Hawley—has stepped into the athletic directorship of the University of West Virginia. He succeeds Harry Stansbury, who resigned to direct the state's chamber of commerce.

CRIPPLES POPULAR

NEW YORK, Oct. 5—Three of the five pitchers who led in a cereal company's national most popular player poll were Lefty Bob Grove of the Red Sox, Carl Hubbell of the Giants, and Dizzy Dean of the Cubs, who spent half the season in clinics.

Coaches Are On Guard Against Over-Confidence

Fear that the Red Raiders aren't taking as seriously as desirable Saturday night's game with Oklahoma City university caused Coaches Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith to drive the Tech varsity lads through another quite rigorous workout yesterday afternoon.

The regulars who played against Duquesne last week were still taking things a bit easier, but the shock troopers came in for lots of attention. Anxious to break into the lineup and get started on that "letter," the reserves did not exactly bear out the fears of the coaches; they seem anxious indeed to battle the Goldbugs in another interstate game.

Ducats Are On Sale

And game time is 8:30 o'clock Saturday night.

Tickets for the contest are on sale at the usual downtown agencies—Hilton Hotel lobby, Lubbock hotel drugstore, Sam Rosenthal's Hub Clothiers, Mark Halsey Drug No. 2, and Tech Drug—and are moving rather slowly. Price is $1.65 for reserved seat, including tax.

In an effort to bring the old fans and create new ones, the athletic department is throwing the gates open to all boys and girls under 12 years of age, who reside on the South Plains. Officially, it's Parents Day at Tech Saturday, but the youngsters also will be special guests.

New Plays Are Coming

The Red Raiders themselves hope they are attraction enough to bring out a large crowd. They'll be pulling a lot of new plays, featuring forward and lateral passes, and the game should be colorful from that standpoint, if not from the angle of strong opposition. Although it is to be remembered that the Techs and the Goldbugs have played some close games.

Tickets for the Texas Tech-School of Mines game have arrived for local distribution, and may be purchased at the Hotel Hilton lobby office. The game is to be played Oct. 22, at Fly Field, Odessa.

Locals Drill Again On Pass Defense

No doubt Westerner opponents will find passing a bit harder against the locals than it has been heretofore.

While Coach Weldon Chapman's charges are taking things more or less easy with no game carded this week, they are working on that pass defense overtime.

The Capitol Hill Redskins passed to their second touchdown that spelled defeat for the Westerners Friday night.

Regulars Back For Work

Coach Chapman is determined that no repetition will occur if teaching defenses against aerials will help any.

Regulars were back in uniform Wednesday afternoon after receiving two off days to recuperate from bruisings received at Oklahoma City. Everyone except Paul Sparkman and Rusty Johnston, both out for most of the season, are in good condition.

Howard Martin, reserve halfback who was thought to be out of uniform for two or three weeks, has recovered and is doing daily chores.

Alford Leading Candidate

Dummy line scrimmage also was stressed yesterday afternoon.

Right now the foremost concern of Lubbock coaches is to spot the best replacement for Johnston's halfback post. Howard Alford looks like the goods now. Clifton Hill is being shifted from his end position to try for the job.

The position, however, is wide open. Jack Lovin, Martin and J. B. Privitt still are making their bids and one of them may prove more suitable than Alford.

The average working week in Japan is 62 hours.

Yanks Look Like Playboys; Odds And Ends Of Series

By EARL HILLIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Oct. 5—The Yankees looked as blase as Park avenue playboys.

The Cubs, hot as the Indian summer sun during their pennant surge, seemed chilled by the gale-like winds of a dreary day.

That's a thumbnail sketch of the proceedings this afternoon as the New York World champions took the first step toward realization of a third straight world title.

Tomorrow the eccentric Lefty Gomez hurls against the unpredictable Dizzy Dean — and they may light a firecracker under a series which opened in such matter-of-fact fashion.

The Cubs played brilliantly afield but they appeared unable to recapture the fire and fight with which they subdued the Pittsburgh Pirates to win the flag. Old Gabby Hartnett visited pleasantly through the afternoon with Umpire Charley Moran; Bill Lee took a couple of "cat naps" and Carl Reynolds and Bill Herman obligingly hit 'em where they were. It was all very satisfactory for the McCarthy company.

The Yanks had the fight the Cubs were supposed to have. Frankie Crosetti bellowed loudly when he fanned in the first and Lou Gehrig made a lusty beef which nearly had him tossed out of the game in the eighth. Lou, thinking he should have drawn a walk only to be called out as the ball, caught by Hartnett, ticked his bat, started as if to push Umpire Moran around before Coach Fletcher pushed Lou toward the dugout.

The Yanks won the ball game but the Cubs took honors for staging the afternoon's most dramatic bit. In the sixth, with Henrich on second, one out and Gehrig at bat, old Tony Lazzeri poked his head out of the dugout and yelled to Hack at third. Hack whispered a moment with Tony, then talked to Lee, who in turn conferred with Hartnett. And as the crowd buzzed, Lee fanned Lou with a low, breaking pitch—exactly the kind of ball Tony advised for the occasion.

Texas Aggies Drill On Tech Grid During Stopover Here En Route To Pacific Coast

The Texas Aggies, enroute to San Francisco where they play Santa Clara in one of the upper bracket intersectional games Saturday, drilled for two hours Wednesday morning at Texas Tech stadium during a five-hour between trains stopover here.

Coach Homer Norton sent his squad of 31 players through a brisk workout, offensive practice predominating the drill. He pronounced his squad in good physical shape, barring a few holdover aches and pains from last week's brush with Tulsa university. Dick Todd, ace back of the Farmer squad, however, seemed in the best of health as he ran, passed and kicked, and returned punts.

"We're heading for a lot of trouble, I think," quoth Norton. "Santa Clara has one of the best teams in the West this year, and we—well, we have room for improvement."

A workout was scheduled for Barstow, California, Thursday afternoon. The Aggies expected to arrive in San Francisco Friday morning.

The Aggies arrived in Lubbock on the 8:30 northbound Santa Fe, started working out an hour later, and stayed on the field two hours. They left at 1:30 on the west bound, for Clovis and points west.

A hundred or so spectators viewed the Aggies from the sidelines during the workout.

Several Aggie fans are accompanying the team west, the entourage traveling in two special cars. Assistant Coaches Bill James and Lil Dimmitt, Sportscribe Jinx Tucker of Waco, the club physician and trainer made up the official party.

After a session with Coach Norton of the Aggies, Coach Pete Cawthon of Tech said that chances were some brighter for completing arrangements for a Texas Tech-Texas Aggie game for next September.

AUSTIN, Oct. 5 (AP)—Three new faces appeared likely for the Longhorns' starting backfield Saturday against Oklahoma in Dallas at the conclusion of today's practice.

Gilly Davis, running star of the L. S. U. game last Saturday is certain to direct the team from left halfback, while a two-letterman senior and an untried sophomore appear in line for two other positions. They are Bill Forney, who will be at the blocking back position and Nelson Puett, jr., son of a Longhorn grid immortal, who will be at right halfback. Wallace Lawson completes the starting backfield.

Pair Of Tigers Are On Injured Chart

SLATON, Oct. 5 — Friday night Coach Curtis Hamilton's Tigers will no doubt feel the effects of elimination of two lettermen, James Halliburton at guard and Carlon Stotts at end, as results of injury received in previous games, when they engage the White Deer Bucks at 8 o'clock on Tiger field.

The Tigers have not once this season had their goal line crossed. They have defeated Floydada 25-0 and Snyder 18-0 in non-conference games. It is expected that a much tougher foe awaits them Friday, because White Deer has defeated Littlefield 32-0, Canyon 38-0, and Phillips 37-7 this season.

With Halliburton and Stotts out of the picture Hamilton announces the following as his starting lineup: R. W. Wicker, left end; Truman Shelton, left tackle; Floyd Reynolds, left guard; Billy B. Clack, center; Rolfe Carter, right guard; Jack Brown, right tackle; Lealand Scott, right end; J. B. Ward, quarter back; Charles Austin, left half; Charles Dickson, right half; and J. C. Tucker, full back.

Cowhands Turn "Iron Men," Play Twice This Week

Coach Walker Nichols' Cowhands turn "iron men" this week with games scheduled at Spur and Olton.

Friday night the Westerners' little brothers journey to Spur to joust the Bulldogs, then they go to Olton to battle the Longhorns Saturday night.

Overdoing the thing on games came as a result of schedule mixups in signing contracts between Spur and Lubbock officials, Coach Nichols said.

SOONERS GET READY

NORMAN, Okla., Oct. 5. (AP) — Dummy scrimmage against Texas running plays and pass formations kept the University of Oklahoma football squad working overtime today as Coach Tom Stidham prepared the Sooners for their clash with the Longhorns at Dallas Saturday.

The freshmen, employing Texas formations, put across only one touchdown in 37 plays from the varsity 20-yard line.

Stidham said he would take more than three full teams to Dallas, leaving here at 7:30 a. m. Friday.

Bulldogs, Post Play Tonight

(Special To The Avalanche)

TAHOKA, Oct. 5—Everything is in readiness here to shove night football off to an auspicious start Thursday night.

Coach Bob Harlow has his Bulldogs in fine fettle to make things 100 per cent for local fans. The Post Antelopes are determined to spoil the pigskin end of activities.

The contest will open shortly after 8 o'clock. It was originally scheduled for Friday afternoon, but was moved up when lights were installed in order not to conflict with other district games.

A pep rally of Tahoka fans tonight set off the spark of holiday-like festivities.

At 7:15 Thursday night, the 75-piece state championship band from Slaton and the 80-piece Lamesa High school band will head a demonstration, with others from Littlefield, Levelland and Post, and probably others, taking part.

Sen. G. Hobart Nelson and Coach Pete Cawthon of Texas Tech will head the list of speakers.

Colored Elevens To Meet Here

With vengeance in their hearts, the Lubbock colored high school football players are drilling hard these days in preparation for Saturday afternoon's conflict with the Abilene colored high school team here.

The game will be played at the Hubber baseball park, the field having been prepared for football activity starting at 2:30 o'clock Saturday. A gridiron is being layed off in front of the grandstand and the players, accustomed to tumbling around on dirt fields, expect to attract a large crowd of fans, both white and colored.

Admission will be 25 and 35 cents.

The Lubbock team played at Abilene last week, and, in the words of Principal E. C. Struggs, "we were slipped up on. They beat us 26-6, but our boys are on to their tricks now, and we'll probably beat the Abilene team here. We have some good boys on our team, and we hope to play several games at home. If the folks come out to see us Saturday."

Grid Crowds Will Hear More Than Music At Intermissions

AUSTIN, Oct. 5. (AP) — Football crowds this year may hear more than music at half-time intermissions.

The Texas Public Safety department has asked athletic directors of all colleges, universities and high schools to use their public address systems in spreading safety propaganda.

The department has suggested announcements which call on fans to drive and walk safely.

Tyler Twins May Start Game Together For First Time

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 5. (AP) A peek behind the canvas guarding Louisiana State's secret football practice for Rice revealed today the Gormley brothers may play together for the first time on the same L.S.U. team Saturday night.

The Gormleys are twins from Tyler, Texas. Dick is first string center but Jack, an end, has been playing on the Tiger second team.

Coach Bernie Moore now has Jack working on the first team, retiring Ogden Baur to Jack's old post.

NEW FACES FOR HOGS

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Oct. 5. (AP) It appeared likely today a new defense and new faces would greet fans when Arkansas meets Baylor here Saturday.

Coach Fred Thomsen has spent much time this week on pass defense while Coach Glen Rose has worked on the line.

Stout and Carter may be started as tackles in place of the veterans Mays and Stallings.

Gloyd Lyon, just off the injured list, probably will join the backfield starters along with Larimore, Eakin and Cole.

BRUINS LOOK RAGGED

WACO, Oct. 5. (AP)—The Baylor Bears looked ragged in drill today against freshmen gridders running Arkansas plays. Frosh passes clicked frequently.

Coach Morley Jennings concentrated on a running attack with the passing game practiced in the long dummy scrimmage that preceded play with the frosh.

Bivins and Nelson, who were out with injuries yesterday, returned to play.

Hartnett Growls And Raves In Dressing Room

By CHARLES DUNKLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Oct. 5.—A tense and brooding silence ruled the Cubs' clubhouse as Manager Gabby Hartnett trooped in with his players—beaten 3 to 1 in the opening game of the World Series today.

Then the grumbling and snarling started.

"What the hell," screamed Hartnett. "Those guys better look better tomorrow than they did today or they had better look out. They were just lucky, that's all. They got three cheap runs. A base on balls and an infield boot gave them a couple of them. Lee should never have had a run scored on him, the way he was pitching."

Suddenly Hartnett's voice rose to the breaking point he was screaming so loud.

"Get Ready, Diz"

"Get this you guys," he yelled. "We'll battle them silly tomorrow. They're more scared than we are."

Pulling on a big black cigar, Hartnett went to his private office and dropped his 220-pound frame into a chair. Then he mumbled to himself. "Oh, I have an announcement to make. I got to make this one myself."

He jumped up, dashed to the middle of the players' dressing room and shouted:

"Dean goes tomorrow."

The great one, completely naked, was reading a telegram in front of his locker when Hartnett announced him as tomorrow's pitcher. He didn't say a word. Asked what he expected to do against the Yankees, Dean, grim and sober, said:

"I ain't making no predicaments. I'll give them all I've got; that's the best I can do."

Hartnett, besides praising Bill Lee's work, also lavished praise on Frankie Crosetti, Yankee shortstop, who played a sparkling game.

"That pickle-headed so and so really was the guy that beat us," Hartnett said. "He cut off the tying run at third base and was in a couple of double plays that really hurt us. He really played a hell of a game."

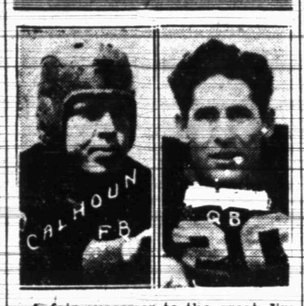

Lee took his defeat solemnly. He said he made a mistake in pitching two bad pitches, inside, to Bill Dickey, Yankee catcher who got four for four.

PONIES GO EASTWARD

DALLAS, Oct. 5. (AP)—Thirty-six Southern Methodist university football players entrained tonight for Friday's contest at Chicago against Marquette university's Golden Avalanche of Milwaukee.

The Mustangs will work out tomorrow afternoon at St. Louis.

Introducing Red Raiders

A fair successor to the great Jim Neill as a running, plunging, passing, kicking back at Texas Tech is CHARLEY "Calamity" CALHOUN, left, above, a Lubbock High school product who last year as a sophomore took over almost complete possession of fullback duties at Tech . . . A punter deluxe, and one of the best defensive back on the squad, as well as a fine offensive blocker, Calhoun made his big impression as a sophomore against Loyola at New Orleans last year . . . He has continued the good work in the three victories Tech has earned this season, although at the moment he is quite battered up as a result of taking active part in the hard game against Duquesne last week . . . The team's leading touchdown maker last year, Calhoun has started out to repeat . . . He stands 6 feet, 1 inch high, weighs 176 pounds, and is hard as nails . . . He shines particularly at punting and on short line plunges . . .

A wiry lad you'll hear plenty about before he's through is DUDLEY AKINS, junior from Hillsboro . . . Nobody heard much about him until he brought the fans to their feet with a 60-yard punt return against Duquesne here last year . . . But he's good at that sort of thing . . . Fast and hard to get off his feet, Dudley, who weighs only 155 and stands 5 feet, 10 inches tall, plays safety when he's in the game, and plays it sensationally . . . He runs usually at left halfback, but can quarterback when called upon.

Cowboys Launch Home Card This Afternoon

Opening their home schedule of four games, Coach Mule Davis' Junior high Cowboys entertain Littlefield Junior high at 3:15 o'clock this afternoon at Westerner practice field.

The Cowboys last week won their first start at Spur, the Junior high team there falling victim, 14 to 0.

An admittance price of 15 cents will be charged today.

All-American Hunt Starts Anew; Two Choices Back

By BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—Since nine of the players who made the 1937 Associated Press all-America football team were seniors, the race for positions on this year's all-star squad is bound to be an unusually lusty and wide-open one.

The two hold-overs, Marshall (Biggie) Goldberg of Pittsburgh and Jerome (Brud) Holland of Cornell, have gained a lap on the field by submitting determined bids with the season barely started.

Goldberg Hasn't Slowed Up

Goldberg, who doesn't appear slowed up by his shift from halfback to fullback, probably will show the way to his Panther mates when they meet Duquesne, Saturday. Holland, a constant threat on end-around plays, scored one of Cornell's two touchdowns against Colgate on his specialty and, with George Peck, Hal McCullough, Al van Ranst will be gunning for big game once more when the Ithacans play Harvard this week end.

Nine of the 22 players who won places on the second and third all-Americas are upholding the honor of their alma maters.

Of the five backfield men, the one who has taken the biggest step toward promotion is Sid Luckman, Columbia's quadruple threat who will operate behind one of Lou Little's best lines in one of the east's main battles against Army at West Point. Luckman and Bob MacLeod who should be the spearhead of the Indians' attack on Princeton in a game that may prove whether or not Dartmouth's advance rating has been the product of inflation.

Last year's second-stringers in the running again are Davey O'Brien of Texas Christian, a star forward passer in a section where passing on first down is orthodox rather than heresy; "High-knees" Bill Osmanki of Holy Cross, the best of many good Crusader backs, and triple-threat John Pingel of Michigan State. O'Brien and T.C.U. meet Temple at Philadelphia Friday night, Omanski and Holy Cross enter the serious part of their campaign against Manhattan Saturday at Worcester, Mass., and Pingel and the Spartan should have a breather with Illinois Wesleyan.

The four linemen left over from the reserves would form a neat nucleus for any coach. One is Ki Aldrich, O'Brien's teammate and one of the finest centers the Southwest conference has produced. The others are Gregory Zitrides of Dartmouth, Francis Tweddell of Minnesota and Al Lezouski of Pitt. Tweddell's Saturday assignment will be to help the Gophers open their bids for another Big Ten title against a Purdue team that is fast and shifty and lacks Minnesota's bulk and experience.

In England, the chances against having twins are 80 to 1.

Stratton Beats Hagen Two Out Of Three Falls

Apparently the gas was bad even in the first row ringside.

At least in the ring Walton Stratton and Jack Hagen did the dipsy-do for nearly five minutes before the Boston "strengthy" one won the deciding fall of the main event last night at the Auditorium.

No jaws were broken as swift rights and lefts landed in that vicinity throughout that setto. Hagen slammed the Bostonian around considerably, then made the mistake of getting slammed just once which was sufficient.

Stratton won that fall in 14 minutes, pinning the Louisiana butcher boy after said slam.

About the most spectacular part of the entire scrap was Stratton's application of a "thunderbolt" hold—Hagen found that to be the power dive of rassling—when he won the second spasm in 17 minutes.

Hagen had taken the opener with a series of slams, ending the fall by pinning the loser in 16 minutes.

Old Joe Kopecky and John Nemanic didn't show too much action in their semi-windup brawl, which the South Texan won in 25 minutes. He got the "uncle" cry from the Coloradoan with a crab hold.

Scotty Williams beat Jack Hendrix in the curtain raiser.

Local Poloists Prep For Albuquerque Go

Lubbock and Plainview polo teams are busy practicing this week for an appearance next week at the New Mexico State Fair in Albuquerque.

Members of the local club leave Wednesday for the New Mexico city. They will play against the Plainview club, and possibly another club, in a special polo tournament on Oct. 13 and 14, as feature attractions at the state fair.

Two clubs from the West Texas polo tournament conducted here in September had been invited to the New Mexico fair. Traveling expenses will be paid by the fair association. Thirteen horses will be transported from here, and a similar number from Plainview.

Lubbock players who are to make the trip are Bob Hester, Claude Hurlbut, Ben Parkinson, J. H. Cooper and Guy Smith. The Plainview squad will be composed of Blackie Norris, Clyde Bradley, Marvi Shurbert and Lloyd Phillips.

The Smith Brothers club of Lubbock took the regular Lubbock team to a cleaning in a practice game here last Sunday, 3 to 2. The Lubbock team will practice on its home field, the fair park racetrack infield, until Wednesday.

Warning Given By Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, La., Oct. 5. (AP)—Louisiana today warned bidders who might want to lease mineral rights to several small islands on the gulf coast that the state would fight to maintain its asserted ownership.

The federal government claims it is owner and Secretary Ickes has called for bids for leasing the islands for exploration for oil, gas or other minerals.

Warning Is Given

However, Lessley P. Gardiner, first assistant attorney general of Louisiana, said today he was entering an advertisement in newspapers warning prospective bidders Louisiana was the rightful owner.

Gardiner issued a statement signed by Lucille May Grace, registrar of the state land office, and Gaston Porterie, state attorney general. It said Louisiana owns the islands and neither the United States nor any of its officers has the right to lease them.

"The state of Louisiana," it said, "will enforce and protect its rights as owner of said lands and . . . as owner to oil, gas and other minerals therein and thereunder."

Ickes To Receive Bids

Ickes announced he would receive bids until noon of Oct. 31 on the islands in two land parcels, 295.77 acres on east Timberlier island, also known as Bird island, and 81 acres on two smaller adjacent isles.

The federal government claims it owns the islands because they are part of the area contained in the Louisiana purchase but were not part of the area ceded Louisiana when it became one of the United States in 1812.

Timbalier first was surveyed by government engineers in 1837 and the land claimed by the federal government as site for a military reservation.

Gomez And Dean

closed ticket windows, asking and getting as high as $25 for regulation $5.50 grandstand tickets.

Many sleepy eyed fans, who stood in line for two days, surrendered their spots for $10. "Happy" Felsch of Milwaukee who says he's a distant relative of the old White Sox star, was the first fan into the park, earning the honor by camping here sicne last Wednesday.

Kenesaw Mountain Landis, commissioner of baseball, was early and banging at the gates before they were opened.

"You'll have to go through the press gate", shouted a gate attendant. The old judge fumed and sputtered and was just about to stalk off when someone recognized him and let him in after apologies. The judge inspected the playing field and found it in perfect condition with two giant tarpaulins ready for immediate action.

Parking spaces, charging from one to two dollars, reaped a harvest. So were owners of homes overlooking the field along Waveland and Sheffield avenues, who opened their doors to fans who were willing to pay two dollars or more.

Fifty-two internal revenue agents, 350 policemen exclusive of scores of traffic officers, and 737 ushers were on the job. Andy Frain, impresario of ushers, brought six captains from California and another half dozen from Brooklyn, where the boys are used to everything, to supervise handling the crowds.

Frain said the early gate crashers tried every gag in the books during the first half hour. Some posed as ball players, electricians, carpenters and detectives. One sprightly fellow tried to crash his way in by carrying two saws and a ladder. Frain said the sale of bleachers was accomplished within 30 minutes, a record in his book.

The brisk wind shifted to the northwest, blowing toward the right field seats, 353 feet away, a great break for Joe McCarthy's gunners.

The Cubs, resplendent in their freshly laundered white uniforms with blue caps and socks to match, came on the field first and got the customary home town salvo of cheers. Coach Roy Johnson dished 'em up in batting practice, starting immediately, two hours and 15 minutes before game time.

Hartnett, sporting his usual beaming smile, was quiet and nervous.

Gabby displayed the first and third fingers of his throwing hand. They were raw and red.

Belting into the brisk wind, the Cubs failed to give a pre-game home run display as they batted around twice.

Rogers Hornsby, former Cub manager, was an early arrival.

"The Cubs will win today," said the Rajah, "but the Yanks should win the series."

The ankees, led by Arthur Fletcher, coach and clubhouse lawyer deluxe of the team, arrived in two buses chaperoned by six motorcycle policemen. They landed on the field at 12:52 (E.S.T.) more than an hour and a half from game time.

Dr. John F. Davis, Cub physician, applied a thin layer of cotton and salve on Hartnett's two injured fingers.

Mayor LaGuardia of New York, another early arrival, posed with Joe DiMaggio and Lou Gehrig. He then perched himself in a box behind the Yankee dugout.

"The Yanks by a landslide," said the mayor.

Paul Schrieber, only batting practice pitcher known who always gets out in for a full world series share, did the chucking. The Yanks sent a shiver down the spines of the Cub fans, hammering pitch after pitc into the seats, Bill Dickey hit two in succession into the rightfield bleachers. So did Lou Gehr , Tommy Henrich and George Selkirk. Every regular except Lefty Gomez knocked one out of the lot. The Yanks looked like free wheeling big berthas.

Professional "bea men," who arrange and run the whole ceremony for their clients, are available in Budapest.

Well Which Heralded Discovery Of Biggest Oil Pool In World Continues Upon Pump

KILGORE, Oct. 5. (AP)—Dad Joiner's original Daisy Bradford No. 3 pumped her routine 20 barrels allowable on the anniversary today of her birthday that nine years ago heralded the discovery of the world's greatest oil pool, the vast East Texas field.

Little note of the occasion was taken today in the four boom counties from whose 133,000 acres 25,542 wells have spouted more than 1,225,000,000 barrels of "black gold". Engineers estimated the pool's ultimate recovery would be more than three billion barrels.

Joiner Struck It Rich

C. M. (Dad) Joiner, who now lives in Dallas, struck it rich in East Texas after two previous attempts failed. He sold his well and 4,000 acres of land for a reported million dollars to H. L. Hunt but he remains active in oil exploration.

The discovery well is listed as Hunt Production company No. 2-A Daisy Bradford, Ximines survey, in the south end of the Rusk county field.

One Point Decided

The international commission, representing Germany, Italy, France, Britain and Czechoslovakia decided one important issue today—the basis for selection of Czechoslovak areas for plebiscites.

The commission bowed to the German viewpoint and agreed to accept population figures as of Oct. 28, 1918—the day the Czechoslovak state came into existence—as the guide as to where the people will be called on to vote on union with Germany.

The commission further agreed that a 51 per cent Germanic population should be considered sufficient to declare a village or district to be German.

For the first time since 1914-'18, Great Britain has formally mobilized her whole fleet, mightiest navy in the world. Nearly 400 warships, totally 1,900,000 tons of fighting steel are ready for war. Her sea-going man-power, too, is ready, with King George's royal proclamation of a state of emergency adding naval reservists to the navy's 112,000 men.

Rules For Slaton Competition For Valedictorian Are Given

SLATON, Oct. 5. (Special)—Only students who have had four years or less of work in Slaton High school will be eligible this year for competition in the race toward the honor of valedictorian, according to Superintendent Joe E. Webb.

Webb explained that heretofore students have prolonged their schooling in order to attend the fifth year and evade strong competition with the hope of attaining the position.

Also a student must take four subjects per term, one of which must be a required subject, to be eligible and must attend school both semesters.

Transfer students from other high schools are not eliminated from eligibility, Webb said.

Seven Lubbock Lions Attend Meeting Held At Morton

Seven Lubbock Lions yesterday noon attended a meeting of the recently formed Morton Lions club. Boone Horne was chairman of the delegation which included President Robert H. Bean, Clyde Fortune, J. Doyle Settle, Noel Stalnaker, Charles Adams, jr., and Huddleston Wright.

President Bean made the principal talk, discussing Lionism and work of the club. Regular weekly luncheons will be held each Wednesday. Meeting was in a Morton church.

Our Jumbled Marriage Laws

ONE of the interesting probabilities in the approaching session of Congress is renewed advocacy of a constitutional amendment which would take regulation of marriage and divorce out of the hands of the states and place it with the federal government.

While the measure admittedly has little chance of passage, the fact remains unless the individual states reach a closer uniformity of marriage and divorce laws, the citizenship eventually may become disgusted. A federal marriage and divorce law may be the result.

Under prevailing conditions, one state —North Carolina—does not permit divorce for any reason. New York recognizes only infidelity. But in some states there literally may be scores of grounds. In some, the mere fact that one or the other of the married couple wants a decree is, in actual practice, the only reason needed. Disparity almost as extreme governs the couples who propose to wed.

Such conditions cannot continue indefinitely. Otherwise we soon will reach the point where a divorce applies only in the state where granted. Any such divorced person who weds again and moves to another state may discover he is living in adultery as defined by the laws of that state.

That would be an intolerable condition and, if affecting too large an area, will inevitably lead to federal regulation so that marriage or divorce in any part of the United States must be so recognized in all parts. Let it be hoped that the nation never be forced to the necessity of that extreme.

A Saga Of Courage

SOME among the young men and women here for the recent opening of the new term of Texas Technological college may not have acquired the wisdom of full maturity. But certainly they possess the courage of youth.

Reference is made to many among the young men and women who came to Lubbock on less than a shoestring, so to speak. They were without means except perhaps a few dollars. They were sustained by hope, by the spirit of youth and by burning desire to go to college. Their hope was that once here, they might do something which would enable them to remain and continue in school.

So they proceeded with all the requirements of enrollment except the payment of fees. They attended classes. Somehow they must have managed food and shelter. Meanwhile they were seeking and hoping for jobs, or perhaps loans, or some other method which would enable them to stay.

Finally, it became necessary for college authorities to call a halt. Yesterday, and in this delay the authorities were most lenient, the rule was invoked: "no fees, no classes." To the credit of some 30 or 40 would-be students, they were in there fighting until the last whistle blew. A few did manage to remain. But to most, Wednesday became a day of disappointment, of hopes momentarily crushed.

But they have shown the stuff of which real men and women are made. Such courage as theirs is one of the surest guarantees of success. They may be down for the moment, but soon they will be on their feet scrapping harder than ever. They may be discouraged for an instant, but they aren't the type who can be quitters. Otherwise they would have quit days ago.

Many, we predict, will return. Perhaps their fortune will be happier, and probably they will not have to make so many sacrifices in their striving for an education as now would be the case. They will, at least, have benefitted from their experience which, at this moment, may seem so disappointing.

With Our Contemporaries

"I have always been a staunch supporter of the women and their absurdities of fashion, but this season they have gone a bit too far, (or maybe it is not far enough, even for a liberal) when they started wearing the so-called doll hats on top of the new scooped-up hair-do," admits Jeane Suits the chatterer in the Lockney Beacon.

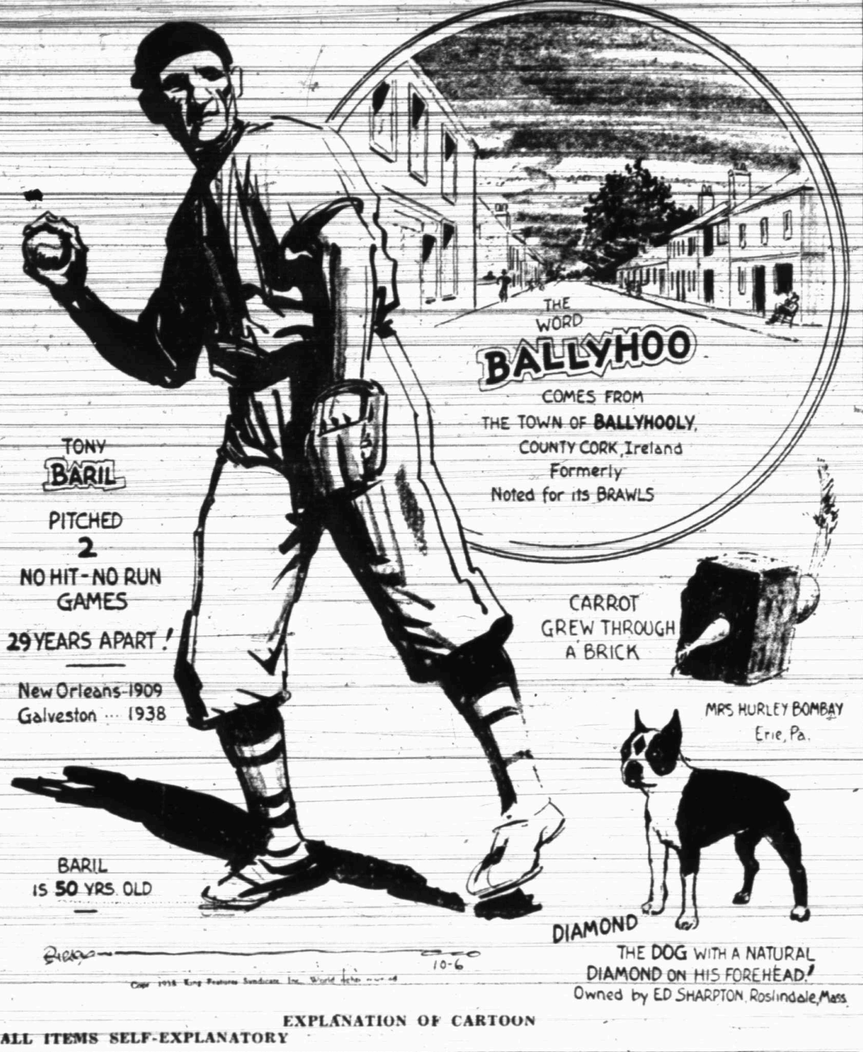

The One-Minute Sermon

Then said I, Wisdom is better than strength: nevertheless the poor man's wisdom is despised, and his words are not heard.

The words of the wise men are heard in quiet more than the cry of him that ruleth among fools.

Wisdom is better than weapons of war: but one sinner destroyeth much good —Ecclesiastes 9: 16 and 17.

"The Clouded Moon"

By Max Saltmarsh
Copyright, 1938, By Associated Press

The Characters

Hugo Stern, handsome author, living on the French Riviera.

Archie Lumsden, myself, Hugo's friend.

Rene Geiss, a singularly unpleasant cartoonist.

Yesterday: From a waitress in the Bar Alsacien we secure Eve's lucky penny and learn that Eve fled from a dark man whose right index finger was missing.

Chapter 11

The Beautiful American

Hugo started in pursuit of Geiss's red car at a breakneck speed. He was a magnificent driver but a trifle too reckless for my liking at the best of times, and the pace he was setting would normally have made my blood run cold. But now I found myself yelling at him to go faster.

The road was heading out into the country. Soon it seemed that we were running onto a cape, for I could see blue water on either hand, and as we climbed, Hugo slackened speed a trifle.

"Now which will it be?" he soliloquized. "The hotel itself or Eden Roc? I hate to damp your expectations, but it's more than likely we're about to surprise a simple rendezvous with a pretty lady."

"Baron Stahl is staying at the hotel," I reminded him, but he shook his head.

"No, no. The man's devilish clever, and he won't take unnecessary chances. From now on it's a case of Geiss and Baron scarce regret that they must be strangers yet," as the old song says."

As he spoke he pulled in under the lee of a rough wall and I climbed out after him. We were on the crown of the cape. To the left a closed gate and an imposing driveway led to a vast building that I guessed to be the hotel. Straight ahead another gate, halfopen, gave on a winding path descending to shrubbery, through which I caught a glimpse of a long, low building. A painted name or one gatepost told me that this was Eden Roc, and next minute I saw, parked with a dozen other cars under a clump of pines to the right, the red Delage.

"Well, well," said Hugo, strolling across to her. "Our friend has been driving hard, to judge by the dust he's collected." He drew an exploring finger across her bonnet. "And red dust, too," he added on a different note. "That means he wasn't traveling the main road. Let's have a squint at the gasoline-gauge. If your young henchman was right and he filled up before starting, that ought to tell us something."

He bent his big shoulders over the dashboard and whistled softly. "Almost empty!" said he. "Archie, either he's got a leak in his tank or he's traveled farther than we have this afternoon."

I had leaned over his shoulder to have a look myself, and now I slid a hand gently down the side of the cushion. "Even into Italy and back," I added, fishing out a small, blue-gray packet of cigarettes. "Use Egiziano aren't sold this side of the frontier."

He nodded, momentarily preoccupied. "Italy it must have been, but not one of the coast towns. Geiss has a pretty taste in tobacco, and he wouldn't buy these if there was anything more exotic to be had. But where did he go, and whom did he see when he got there? I'd give a lot for a heart-to-heart talk with our gentleman."

"You won't get it," I retorted. "The minute I set eyes on that bird, I'm going to crown him."

"You'll do nothing of the sort," he answered tartly. "You'll have the goodness to remember that more than your simple pleasures are involved. Express a mild surprise at his faulty memory, but leave the rest to me."

As he spoke, he was leading the way down the winding path and into the little building, and descended a kind of ladder to a long, narrow, green-walled room with a well-stocked bar at one end.

'A Pretty Sight'

The place was built on the brink of a little cliff that fell sheer from the windows to where, far below, the sapphire sea surged and bubbled round jagged black rocks. From a door beyond the bar a flight of steps led down to the water's edge, and there were terraces leveled from the rocky pinnacles crowded with sunbathers on gaudy orange mattresses.

There was one in particular who attracted my attention, a short, paunchy, dark-skinned fellow, whose costume consisted solely of abbreviated green bathing-trunks. I watched him for a moment, then he turned and glanced upwards at the windowed terrace and I saw that it was Baron Stahl.

"Well," said Hugo at my elbow, "what d'you think of the playboys of Europe? There are more millionaires to the square inch in this bar than anywhere else in the world."

I jerked my thumb towards the window. "The only one that interests me," I said, "is displaying his unbeautiful person on the rocks down there. But where's his partner in crime?"

"There he sits," Hugo replied.

I followed the direction of his pointing finger and saw the man we were looking for, squatting, solitary, on a pinnacle of rock overhanging a small jade-green pool, strangely like a morose and brooding bird of prey.

"What's he up to?" I pondered. "And what do we do now?"

Hugo grinned. "One answer does for both questions. We wait here till we find out." He broke off sharply. "Hello," said he on another note, "there's a pretty sight."

A small speed-boat had come into view, swooping down in a graceful arc towards a jetty on the right, and in its wake, skimming on a pair of water-skis and straight and beautiful as some statue of Praxiteles, came a girl in white bathing-suit, her arms outflung to control the guide-ropes from the boat. The boat drifted casually alongside the jetty, and she climbed on shore. And then she looked up and I got the shock of my life.

She was staring straight up at the open windows where we stood, as if she were looking for someone, and for an instant I had a clear view of her face, with the wide, dark eyes, the delicate tip-tilted nose, and the warm, red mouth.

I gasped, feeling as if I had taken a punch in the wind. "Hugo, she's the living image of—"

Ottilie Wills

He trod on my foot, accurately and a good deal harder than was necessary. "Of someone who isn't living," he finished for me. "Take a reef in your tongue, can't you? We mustn't speak that name here, and what's a casual likeness?" But I noticed that his eyes never left the girl's face and he was white under the sun-tan.

She had left the jetty now, and an elderly woman in the black uniform of a lady's-maid was swaddling her in a thick white woolen wrap, when suddenly, from just under our window, sounded a voice like an angry foghorn. "Ottilie!" it bawled. "Will you come here this minute? You'll catch your death of cold!"

I looked down, straight on to a head covered with a shock of iron-gray hair, set on a pair of broad shoulders. The voice had definitely emanated from the head, and as I watched, its owner emphasized his point by thumping violently on the naked rock with a formidable-looking, rubber-tipped walking-stick.

The girl waved back at him, laughing; then with a leisurely grace that was very pretty to see, she strolled towards him, wrapping her white robe more closely about her.

"Why, Uncle!" she said, in a deep, husky voice that carried clearly to my ears, "it isn't as cold as all that!"

A man had come up and was standing behind her, a stocky, swarthy man in green bathing-trunks. High up as we were, I could see the uncouth mat of black hair on his chest and the obsequious smile on his fat little face.

"Baron!" she said, and all the laughter had gone from her voice. "How did you get here so soon? It's only ten days since we said goodby in New York!"

The short man bowed from where his waist should have been. "It is so simple," he explained, but on a lower key, so that I had to lean out and strain my ears to catch his words. "I say goodby to you in New York, and five minutes later I get a cable calling me to Paris on business. You cross in one fast ship—I in another. I transact my business and say to myself I like a little holiday. I come here and have the surprising fortune to meet with you again!"

"Most surprising," she said dryly, "considering that my uncle told you himself where we were going." She drew her robe closer still. "I believe I am cold after all," she informed her relative. "I'll meet you in the bar." And in a flash she was gone, running towards the foot of the stairs.

I looked at Hugo. "He followed them here!" I said under my breath, and received his foot with still greater force on my instep.

"What your mouth wants is adhesive tape!" he said bitterly. "Come over and have a drink."

The crowd at the bar had thinned and we found a vacant place at the counter. "Tell me, Charles," said Hugo, as the barman set a couple of White Ladies before us, "who's the old gentleman in black down below there?"

The man's face lit up. "That one, Mr. Stern?" said he. "The old American gentleman? Why, that is Mr. Wills. And the young lady is his niece, Miss Ottilie Wills. Very pretty, eh?"

Hugo whistled softly. "You mean Virgoe Wills?" he asked, and when the man nodded, "Archie, that's devilish interesting. That's Virgoe Wills, the American banker. As rich as Croesus, but much more human."

I fumbled for his foot on the barrail and made satisfactory contact with it. "What you mouth needs," I retorted, with a beautiful feeling of being all square at the turn, "is an oversized bath-towel stuffed into it. Can't you see she's here?"

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

AMERICA'S still shaky economic ship weathered the test of a general war threat with surprising steadiness, in the opinion of those who finger the controls and charts. The European scare afforded opportunity for a short, shakedown cruise—a trial spin—in stormy waters.

Speculative and short interests tipped the stock market, but most key securities moved within a limit of only seven points during the crisis. They dropped from a level of 103 to 96. Since oil and chemicals didn't spurt sensationally in response to prospective demand, the supposition is that Wall street reacted to domestic rather than foreign factors, with the exceptions noted. Not even such a sensitive world commodity as wheat tumbled or skyrocketed out of the ordinary, in view of the gravity of the situation abroad.

Retail buying continued to hold up. Unemployment decreased perhaps 450,000 (an estimate) through August and September in a contra-seasonal movement. Inventories declined in durable lines to the point where they no longer burden the price of production schedules. Thus business and industry progress into the fourth quarter in a fairly happy mood.

• • •

BUOYANT: The forecasters make no promise for a long period, but they look for the same steady, non-spectacular improvement noted since the June adjournment of Congress and inauguration of the spend-lend counterattack. Too many incalculable factors dim the horizon for them to adjust their sights beyond January 1.

The general business index level (production, sales, wages, etc.) currently hovers around 92, as against 76 in early June. It will probably hit a peak of 95-98 between now and Christmas, whereas 1937's top was about 117. That advance won't deplete the ranks of 10,000,000 plus now out of work, or reduce the monthly bill of $275,000,000 for W. P. A. But it should provide a better psychology than prevailed last fall and early winter.

Optimistic prospects lie in the automobile and construction industries and peak expenditures for both P. W. A. and W. P. A. On the debit side may be listed Congressional uncertainties, the elections, dropping farm prices, a railroad walkout, general labor troubles, the monopoly hunt and uneasiness over the permanence of the Munich agreement. But if recent history repeats, the ship will roll but not sink from such a succession of shocks.

• • •

PEACEMAKER: Not even the late Charles F. Murphy nor Tom Taggart could have managed the quarrelsome New York Democrats' convention more skillfully than James A. Farley did. It was the first test of his diplomacy and leadership since F. D. R. delivered several body blows at the state machines.

The national chairman's predicament was personal and political. Key figure was the resentful Governor Herbert Lehman, whose relations with the White House have steadily soured. Had Mr. Lehman refused to stand for reelection, he would have forced a fracas on the floor between Rep. James Mead and Attorney-General John Bennett. Those fighting and popular Irishmen had notified the leaders that they would sacrifice gubernatorial ambitions only out of deference to the governor. Mr. Farley also made a bid for the support of Mayor LaGuardia by naming Charles Poletti for the lieutenant-governorship. The fiery Mayor likes neither Governor Lehman nor his G. O. P. opponent—Thomas E. Dewey.

It was the Dewey scare which produced such a well-balanced ticket, racially, politically, geographically. Jim argued that the boys, for their own selfish sakes, couldn't afford to lose New York on the eve of the 1940 campaign. It might, he pointed out, make Dewey a national figure and help to restore the enemy to power in the state and nation. White House consideration was that such a loss would encourage Roosevelt foes everywhere, and probably cost him his hold on the party two years hence—also in the next Congress.

• • •

HUMOR: The onesidedness of the National Labor Relations act was forcibly impressed on members of the National Press club, whose roster includes such famous names as President Roosevelt, almost every Cabineteer, John L. Lewis and William Green.

Under the prodding of a C. I. O. emissary, the 60-odd employes asked a vote on the question of choosing a C. I. O. union as their exclusive bargaining agency. For legal and practical reasons the governing board decided to raise no objections, present no arguments pro or con. But the aforesaid Lewis representative circulated a placard relating the advantages offered by C. I. O. affiliation. Club officials branded the document as 90 per cent erroneous on wages, overtime, working time, sick benefits, etc. But had they attempted to refute it, they might have paid a $5,000 fine and landed in the housegow, also jeopardizing the freedom of Comrades Lewis and Green.

The vote was 33-21 against signing up. A humorous feature was that the man who forced the ballot—a club member—has never contributed to the annual Christmas fund for employes. "He's strong on shaking hands and promising," said a colored waiter, "but he's short on tipping."

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE Democrats outsmarted the Republicans in the selection of their respective New York state tickets. Governor Herbert H. Lehman did not consent to run again for his present office until after the G. O. P. had nominated racket-buster Thomas E. Dewey. He would not have consented if the Republicans had named anyone else.

Lehman definitely did not want the nomination. He much preferred to go to Washington as a short-term senator. Reports that the White House persuaded him to change his mind are so much prune juice. The feud between the governor and President Roosevelt may have been advertised as more intense than it actually is, but just the same Mr. Lehman isn't going out of his way to oblige his former friend and patron. The man who induced Lehman to sacrifice his personal wishes to the interests of the party was James A. Farley—and no one else. Lehman has complete confidence in Farley's political judgment and the two are working closely together with 1940 in mind—which doesn't bode so well for Mr. Roosevelt's control of his home state Democratic delegation two years from now.

Although Farley publicly decried talk that nobody could beat Dewey but Lehman, he privately felt the same way. He sold Lehman himself this idea and impressed upon him how important it was for the Democratic party to carry New York this year. Lehman finally gave in and agreed to run again for governor—on condition that the G. O. P. picked Dewey and provided his close friend and adviser Charles Poletti was named for lieutenant governor instead of William M. Bray. Bray is a machine politician and a protege of the O'Connells of Albany (Tammany's upstate allies.) He and Lehman haven't exactly been harmonious teammates.

FORESIGHT: New Yorkers who knew the late Thomas Masaryk well disclose that the 'father of Czecnoslovakia" was not at all happy about including the Sudeten Germans within the boundaries of his newly-born state in 1918. He foresaw that their dissatisfaction would some day lead to serious trouble.

But the Allied statesmen, especially Premier Clemenceau of France, overrode his scruples when they drew their new map of Europe in 1919. They agreed that Czechoslovakia needed the Sudeten mountains as a defensible frontier and Clemenceau gave his pledge that France would never under any circumstances permit Germany (or Austria), to reclaim the Sudeten area.

Masaryk acquiesced—he could do nothing else—but he never got over his apprehension that has recently been so dramatically justified.

Side Glances---By George Clark

"She refuses half her milk and you aren't even worried! I don't understand how you could have raised five children, mother."

Texas Topics---By Howard Marshall

AUSTIN, Oct. 5. (AP)—A teacher at the University of Texas who had met Adolf Hitler and heard him deliver addresses says much of his power over the German people rests on his oratory.

The teacher is Mrs. Sara Lockwood Williams, widow of the late Dr. Walter Williams who founded the University of Missouri School of Journalism. Mrs. Williams is an instructor in journalism at the University of Texas.

When Hitler delivered his first formal address to the German nation after his accession to power, Mrs. Williams had a seat near him. She was in Germany with her husband.

"Anyone who has seen him in action on the platform can easily understand why he has such a hold on the German people," she said. "He is the most dynamic speaker I ever saw.

"His whole body works, every muscle. He uses short sentences and very strong words. His speeches nearly always are long, two hours or more. He seldom, if ever, reads them."

• • •

Not After Hitler!

Edward Clark, secretary of state, was chatting with a friend in a capitol corridor. A captain in the Texas National guard, he was in full uniform.

This correspondent approached. Clark raised a hand.

"Listen," Clark cried. "I want to get this straight and quickly: I am not on my way to stop Hitler!"

Then he explained he had donned the uniform to attend funeral services for H. H. Carmichael, director of the Department of Public Safety. Carmichael was a colonel in the National guard.

IT is not the purpose of this column to settle arguments over election bets, but for once this writer will take a chance. A "situation" has arisen out of the season's political disturbances.

It seems certain "wise guys" last July placed long-odds bets on the belief Gov. James V. Allred would resign before his current term expired.

They would aver they could "name the next governor." The stakes were set. Then they would name Walter Woodul on the assumption Allred would step down and be succeeded by the lieutenant-governor.

But Allred hasn't resigned and has said he would not. He has, however, left the state—he went to Oklahoma—and the question has been raised whether Woodul became "governor."

• • •

Here's The Law

Authorities on the constitution, which discusses the offices of governor and lieutenant-governor in considerable detail, depose as follows:

1. A lieutenant - governor, acting as governor, may do anything a governor may do. He may issue clemencies and call the legislature into special session. He may declare martial law.

2. He takes the same oath as the governor. So do members of the legislature and all state officers.

3. When he substitutes for the governor he receives the same salary as the governor.

4. Folks addressing the lieutenant-governor when he is acting as governor always call him "governor." He sits in the governor's chair in the executive suite, may put his feet on the governor's desk and may smoke the governor's cigars, if he can find any.

• • •

THE authorities at the same time make the additional points:

1. The lieutenant-governor subling for the governor signs all official papers "acting governor." That's how Woodul designated himself in his latest stint at the chief-executiveship.

2. If a governor resigns, the lieutenant-governor, to succeed to the honor, must take a new oath.

3. Bob Barker, secretary of the Senate, said that if the lieutenant-governor took the oath as governor he would cease to be lieutenant-governor. Twice Barker stopped a president pro tempore of the Senate, who was about to act as governor in the absence of both governor and lieutenant-governor, from taking the oath as governor. Barker said he had legal support of his declaration that if the presidents pro tempore had taken such oaths they would automatically have ceased to be senators.

R. E. Gray, assistant attorney-general, asked for a "shotgun" opinion, took a long breath and opined:

"I don't believe a lieutenant-governor or a president pro tempore of the Senate could be construed to be a governor because he acts as governor."

TARZAN THE FEARLESS No. 48 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

As Mary stood at the foot of the death-ladder, Dr. Brooks, her father, and Bob Mason, her fiance, bowed their heads in resignation. There was no hope for her now. But the crafty mind of Jeff Biggers was actively seeking some means of saving her—and himself.

Jeff had seen in the giant emeralds that glittered in the fingertips of the Tree-God. In the outer world they would fetch a fortune. Even in this moment, when death was near, Jeff's greedy soul ached for them. Suddenly an inspiration flashed through his thoughts.

From the talk of the savages, which he understood, Jeff had gathered that they were eager to lay hands on Tarzan. And his own hatred of the ape-man made him sympathetic to their designs. Perhaps he could make a profitable deal with them. "Kagundo!" he called.

The witch-doctor turned. "I will capture Tarzan," Jeff announced, "if you will give me the emeralds." Kagundo's frown changed into a sinister smile. "If you will capture the Tree-Demon alive, you shall have ten emeralds; if you kill him, only five!"

Engineers Plan Meeting Here

More than 800 invitations to civil engineers of the state and New Mexico will be mailed today welcoming them to attend the fall meeting of the Texas section of the American Society of Civil Engineers here Oct. 28 and 29.

The invitations were supplemented by letters from the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce.

Numerous speakers have been scheduled and will participate on the program.

Speakers On Program

Among them are: W. D. Twitchell of San Angelo; Carl E. Slaton, mayor of Lubbock; J. T. L. McNew, member of the American Society of Civil Engineers and president of the Texas section; Marlin R. Smith, jr., of Lubbock, associate member and Lubbock city engineer; Carl F. Izzard of Austin, assistant highway engineer of the United States Bureau of Public Roads; Winfield Holbrook of Plainview, vice-president and general manager of the Texas Land and Development company; and Hans Kramer of Conahcas Dam, N. M., captain of the corps of engineers.

Among the entertainment features will be pre-convention entertainment the night of Oct. 27; a woman's entertainment program the afternoon of Oct. 28; dinner dance at the Lubbock hotel that night; an inspection of Texas Technological college that afternoon; and a barbecue at noon, Oct. 29, at the stock judging pavilion at Tech given by the West Texas Gas company and the Texas-New Mexico Utilities company.

Programs have been mailed to the state's civil engineers.

HIGHER PRICES SEEN

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—The buying tide which began to flow into security markets a week ago with the fading of war fears washed scores of stocks today to the highest prices registered in a year or more.

The share market ran its record of advances on the "peace" upswing to six out of the last seven sessions. Industrial stocks on the average finally emerged on the upside out of a zone they had been stalled in for more than two months.

With traders crowding into the market on hopes the change in the European situation would expedite world business recovery, particularly in the United States; the rapidity of the rise in security prices began to resemble the sudden lift in the last ten days of June.

The Associated Press composite price of 60 stocks, down to 44 before the news of the four-power Munich conference, today reached a new high for the year at 51, up 1.5. It was the highest point for the average since Oct. 9 a year ago.

Buyers favored building supply, motor steel, electrical equipment and other industrial shares. But rails and utilities also participated, as did bonds and commodities in a sweeping march.

Westinghouse soared 5⅝ to 112½, Du Pont 5½ to 144, U. S. Steel 2½ to 61⅞, Santa Fe 4 to 39 and Chrysler 2⅞ to 78⅛. General Motors boomed nearly 2 to 50⅛.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 5 (AP)—Scattered buying based on improved outside markets and a lower private crop guess supported cotton prices here today and the market closed steady, net 5 to 9 points higher.

Weather conditions over the growing region and the weekly crop summary were favorable but failed to attract aggressive selling and the market was on the upgrade during most of the session in quiet trading.

Oct. contracts closed at 8.32-bid, Dec. at 8.34, Jan. at 8.31, March at 8.30-bid, May at 8.23@8.24, July at 8.23 and Oct. (new) at 8.08-bid.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 5 (AP)—Cotton advanced into further new high ground for the current movement today on a moderate demand which found offerings light. December sold up from 8.17@8.25 and closed at 8.24. Final quotations were 8 to 11 points net higher.

The market opened 6 to 7 points higher in response to steadier cables and on foreign buying. Administration views expressed at Hyde Park that the price of cotton and wheat was too low attracted considerable attention. There was some commission house buying but trade price fixing and buying from abroad represented the principal demand. Some early sellers rebought when southern hedge selling was restricted.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 5 (AP)—The average price of middling cotton at ten southern spot markets today was 11 points higher at 8.47 cents a pound; the average for the past 30 market days was 8.20 cents.

Africa, at its greatest width, equals the distance from Capetown to Cairo.

Cuts In Crude Oil Prices Announced

TULSA, Oct. 5. (AP) — Crude oil price cuts were announced today by the Standard Oil company of Louisiana in Louisiana and Arkansas and by the Kanotex Refining company, Arkansas City, Kas., and the Omar Refining company, Tulsa, in parts of Kansas and Oklahoma.

Kanotex lowered its top of $1.15 a barrel to $1 on its Kansas and Oklahoma takings and Omar posted a like reduction for the Lamont pool of Grant county, Okla., making its new top $1.15.

Purchases by Kanotex include oil from the Blackwell-Ponca City area of Oklahoma and the Wellington and Cowley areas of Kansas.

Omar operates a 5,000 barrel refinery at Garber, near Enid, Okla.

The Standard of Louisiana reductions affected all fields in which the company buys crude. The price was cut 17 cents to a top of $1.05 in north Louisiana and South Arkansas excepting Smackover, Ark., where the reduction was two cents to make the new price 73 cents, and Rodessa, La., where 20 cents was lopped off to make the new top also $1.05. South Louisiana's schedule was reduced 16 cents.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 5 (AP)—Spurred by advances of securities, the Chicago wheat market late today overcame earlier fractional losses and scored material net gains of 1¼ cents a bushel.

Highest prices reached by wheat were current at the last, with speculative interest notably broader than heretofore of late. Contributing to the upturn of quotations was evidence that North American wheat export sales totaled 800,000 bushels, mostly from the United States, and that export purchases of corn amounted to 400,000 bushels.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ⅞ to 1¼ cents higher compared with yesterday's finish, Dec. 64⅛@64¼, May 64⅞@65, corn ¾ to ⅞ up, Dec. 46@46⅛, May 47⅞, oats ⅜ to ⅝ advanced, rye showing ¾ of a cent jump, and provisions unchanged to 10 cents bulge.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, Oct. 5. (AP)—Demand for grain was slow here today. Estimated receipts were: wheat 41 cars, corn 4, and sorghums 1. Cars manifested Tuesday were: wheat 24, corn 1.

Wheat No. 1 soft red winter 76 3-4 to 77 3-4; No. 1 hard (ordinary) 76 to 81 1-4.

Cleanup Day At Slaton Is Set

SLATON, Oct. 5. (Special) — Thursday afternoon has been designated by school heads as official cleanup day for high school building and grounds.

Both boys and girls have been divided into groups according to classes and assigned to specific projects. Teachers taking charge of the girls are Miss Irene Armes and Mrs. R. M. Nash, freshmen; Miss Eufa Tidwell, sophomores; Miss Maud Dean, juniors; and Mrs. Dayton Eckert, seniors; these four groups will clean the inside of the building including windows, pictures, desks, boards, erasures, lockers, trophy cases and their contents and teachers' offices.

Boys To Take Part

Boys' groups will be supervised by Jack Miller, freshmen; High School Principal Ray Boyd and Melvin Sisk, sophomores; Superintendent Joe E. Webb and J. G. Wilhite, juniors; and John Rayburn, seniors; these groups will do general work about the grounds, while three special groups will take care of duties assigned them in specific locations. Band boys under Clyde Rowe will clean the southeast quarter of the high school campus; football boys under Curtis Hamilton will clean the premises of the athletic field, mow the grass and line the gridiron; vocational agriculture boys under A. C. Strickland will trim and whitewash trees and clean barrow ditches around the campus. Commissioner Ben Mansker has agreed to furnish a grader for special needs in the cleanup campaign.

Said Superintendent Webb, "We hope to get city officials back of a plan to furnish water to the school in aiding a beautification program which we plan to initiate in the near future." The work of landscaping the campus and plotting grass, flowers, trees and hedges will be done with the aid of the student body. Boyd plans to take care of the project during next summer.

Benes Resigns As Czech President

By ALVIN J. STEINKOPF
Associated Press Staff Writer

PRAGUE, Oct. 5—Eduard Benes, who helped found the Czechoslovak republic 20 years ago, stepped down from the presidency today and left to a new government the task of leading the shrinking nation through dark hours ahead.

The repeated target of Adolf Hitler's condemnation, Benes relinquished his post with the explanation "my remaining in office might constitute an obstacle to the new conditions which now confront the state."

The full council of ministers accepted his letter of resignation which was read to the nation over the radio by General Jan Syrovy, Prague's one-eyed premier.

Benes' letter said the government "will be a government of calm, of order, of economic efforts and of social reconstruction."

"But I realize that in these new conditions it is essential for me to withdraw from office. That does not mean that I evade my responsibility in this difficult situation . . .

"I only wish to facilitate the development of the policy of the government, both in external and internal affairs."

Syrovy made a radio appeal asking the nation to remain calm.

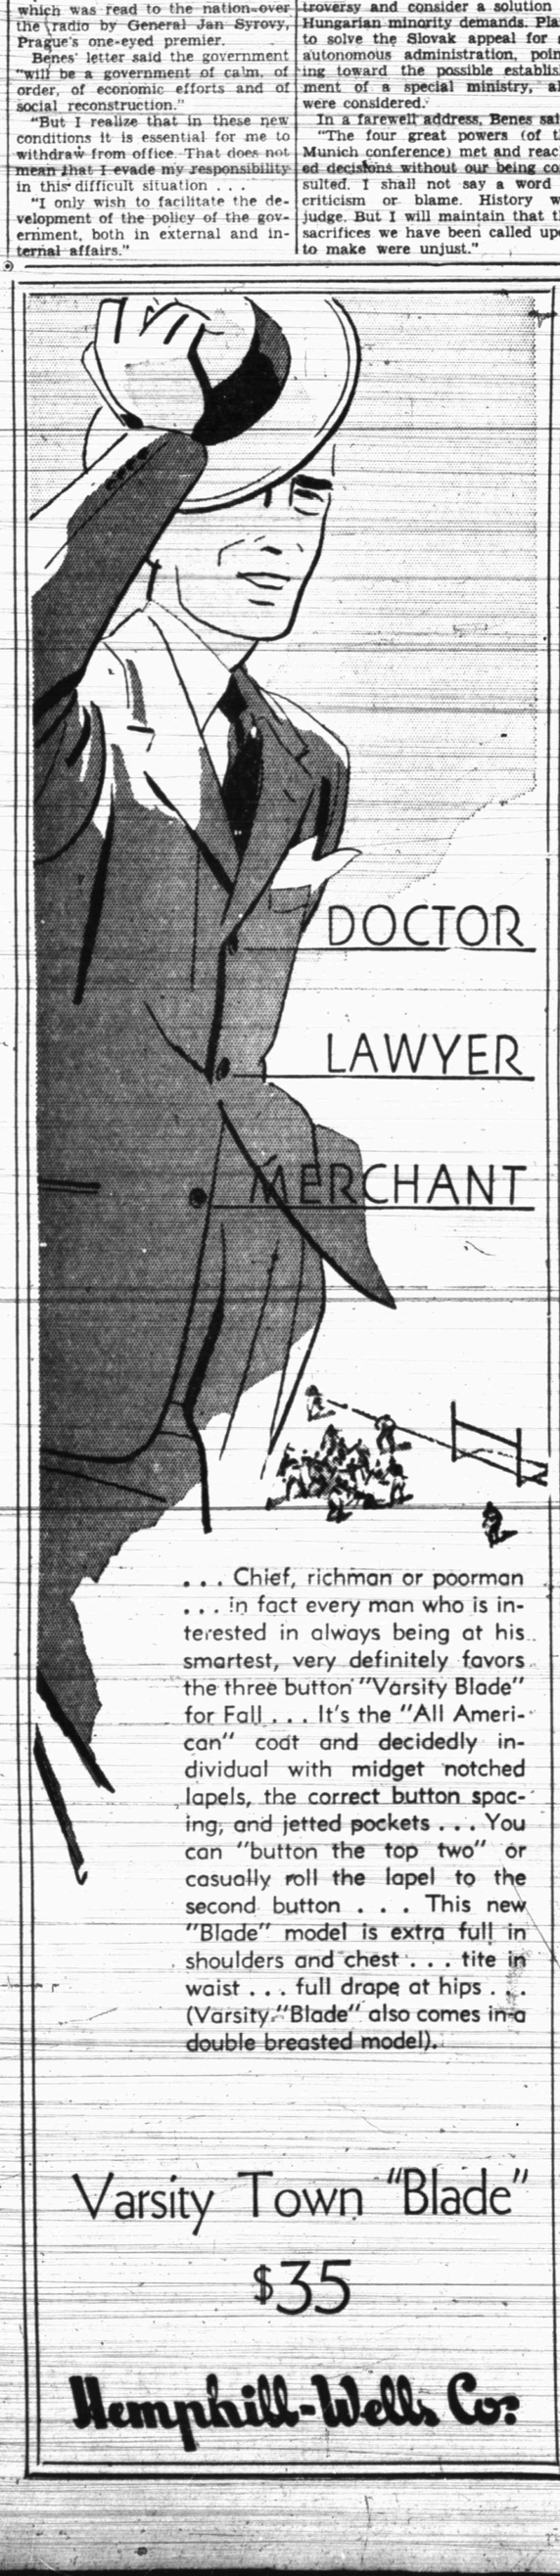

Both houses of parliament will be called within a fortnight to elect a succesor to Benes.

The premier said "our policy will aim at friendly relations with everybody. . . . We shall do everything in our power to give satisfaction to the justified claims of the Slovaks and sub-Carpathian Russians (Ruthenians). Our state will be based on equality of the three peoples."

To Settle Details

Government representatives were named to two commissions to settle details of the Polish frontier controversy and consider a solution of Hungarian minority demands. Plans to solve the Slovak appeal for an autonomous administration, pointing toward the possible establishment of a special ministry, also were considered.

In a farewell address, Benes said: "The four great powers (of the Munich conference) met and reached decisions without our being consulted. I shall not say a word of criticism or blame. History will judge. But I will maintain that the sacrifices we have been called upon to make were unjust."

Business Hike Being Sought

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Oct. 5 (AP)—President Roosevelt hopes that labor and industry will get together to bring about an upswing in the nation's business.

This report was given today by persons close to the White House who said Mr. Roosevelt believes that, if name-calling and bitterness is ended, the country may look forward to general economic improvement.

Not So Glowing

It was said that present economic conditions are not nearly as gloomy as they have been painted in some reports, that employment is picking up more than seasonally and that the nation may anticipate improved business during the remainder of this year provided prices are kept within a proper range.

Government policy, friends of Mr. Roosevelt said, calls for keeping prices of some commodities from going through the roof and for bolstering quotations on commodities which now are under-priced.

Copper was cited as an example of a commodity whose price should not go too high and wheat and cotton were listed as products for which current prices should be raised.

White House authorities said the recent European crisis has had its parallel in the nation's industrial and economic problems. They asserted that while Europe was engaged in sabre-rattling and army mobilization, some people in this country were misrepresenting the government's policy, making dire forecasts of the future and building bogey-men to frighten the people.

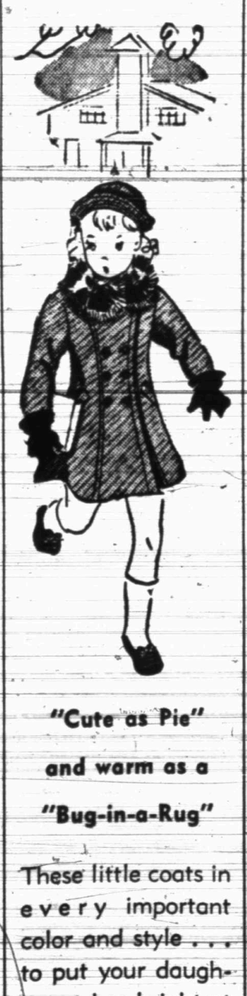

San Marino Republic has an area of only 38 square miles and has a frontier line of 24 miles. It is located in the heart of Italy.

Review Of Dental Case Is Rejected

AUSTIN, Oct. 5. (AP)—The supreme court today declined to review a case in which a lower court had refused an injunction against enforcing a law regulating dental advertising.

The action in effect upheld validity of the law passed by the 45th legislature.

It sustained decisions of both a San Antonio district and civil appeals court to which G. W. Sherman, O. K. and J. E. Mayo, L. M. Hamman and J. V. Robinson had taken an attack on the law. The next step may be to ask the supreme court to reconsider.

Opponents of the law had attacked its constitutionality, charging, among other things, it violated the constitutional guarantee of freedom of the press and speech.

The opinion of the civil appeals court asserted the license to practice denistry was a property, not a vested right and might be revoked for cause.

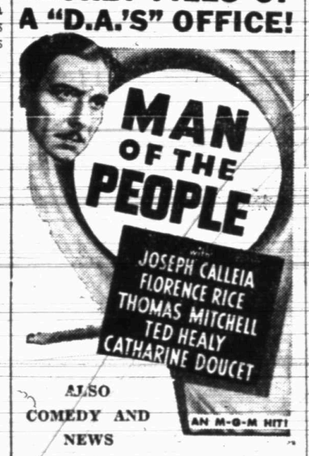

It said further the statute had no bearing on the freedom of the press because the press could continue to publish what it saw fit and the act should not be nullified because "conjectural" revenue of the press might be cut off.

Examination Necessary Before Issuing Marriage License

AUSTIN, Oct. 5. (AP)—Health certificates for men applying for marriage licenses can be issued legally only after laboratory tests show the applicant is free from venereal disease, Attorney General William McCraw said today.

In an opinion sought by County Attorney Tass Waterson in behalf of the Texas Social Hygiene association, McCraw said there was no question that the certificate required by state law requires "a thorough and complete examination according to the high standards of the medical profession."
