Live Oak School Open

The new air-conditioned Live Oak Elementary School is now open, serving 250 pupils in grades one through four.

Pupils and teachers were transferred from Rockport and Fulton Elementary Schools by bus, and desks and other equipment were moved by trucks.

The boys and girls and the teachers obviously are delighted with the comfort of air conditioning and the ample space provided by 12 classrooms. Cafeteria personnel serve approximately 210 youngsters each school day for the noon meal.

The school has nine teachers. Each of the four grades has two sections except first grade which has three sections. Principal Pat E. Smith announced the teachers as follows:

First grade: Mrs. Cepha Jesse, Mrs. Nora Peurifoy, Mrs. Eloyce Haigood. Second grade: Mrs. Jane Eller and Mrs. Nadine Goodman.

Third grade: Mrs. Ruby Rasco and Mrs. Bette Foster. Fourth grade: Mrs. Maurine Underwood and Mrs. Tillie Frye.

Although the building is not fully completed and the completion date is sometime away, the general contractor, O. J. Beck & Sons, released the building to the school district and is now in the process of putting the finishing touches on the building.

Central Power and Light Co. is now installing street lights at strategic places about the campus. The grounds are not yet completed but plans are being made to level and sprig the soil.

Smith said, "The entire school plant is certainly one that the people of Aransas County can look to with a great amount of pride. The only problem has been bus transportation but this will be solved in a very short time."

The Corpus Christi Symphony Guild will have its 12th annual benefit ball Saturday, Oct. 7th at 8:00 in the evening at the Corpus Christi Country Club.

Mrs. Jerry Wendell will be the honoree for Rockport and will be joined by 12 other "jewels" from area cities. Mrs. Wendell's gown for the occasion will be furnished by Signora Fontana of Rome, and will be accessorized with jewels from Lichtenstein's.

West has authorized opening SBA offices in Alice, Robstown, Sinton and on Corpus Christi Beach. The office on Corpus Christi Beach will be at 3933 Timons rather than 4002 Surfside as previously announced.

Salvation Army Does Good Job

Many local people have expressed appreciation for the service performed here by the Salvation Army immediately following the tornado and flooding.

The Salvation Army is one of the agencies which is helped financially by every local person who contributes to the United Fund Campaign beginning Oct. 10.

The Salvation Army were here, consulting with local officials as to how they could be of greatest service and also operating a canteen in Fulton for the benefit of disaster workers.

Mayor Delmar R. Hiller received several phone calls from Salvation Army state headquarters asking if additional personnel were needed and offering up to $200 in outright grants to assist.

"After the worst part of the emergency had passed," Mayor Hiller said this week, "we advised the Salvation Army Crew to proceed south where much more assistance was required. I was greatly impressed by the help provided here by the Salvation Army."

Red Cross Helps Here

The American Red Cross which will be aided by the United Fund has spent $12,952 by Wednesday noon for disaster relief in Rockport and Aransas Pass, a Red Cross spokesman announced.

Robert Siegler, director of Red Cross operations here, also announced that registrations for Red Cross assistance in meeting hurricane-caused recovery needs of individual families will close Friday night, Oct. 6.

The Red Cross personnel are operating at an office in the local courthouse.

All victims are urged to register if they are unable to meet some or all of their own needs if they have not already done so. The Red Cross office is open daily from 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m.

This is what the Red Cross is doing:

1. Help meet your family's immediate needs for temporary shelter, food, clothing, and emergency medical and nursing care. If you need this kind of help, report immediately to the nearest Red Cross disaster office or emergency shelter.

2. Help you bridge the gap between what you can do toward your own recovery and what you need. For some families Red Cross help may include:

Food, clothing, and maintenance. Repairing or rebuilding of owner-occupied homes. Replacing furniture and other household necessities. Providing medical and nursing care and hospitalization. Replacing occupational supplies and equipment.

All such help is an outright gift of the American people through the Red Cross.

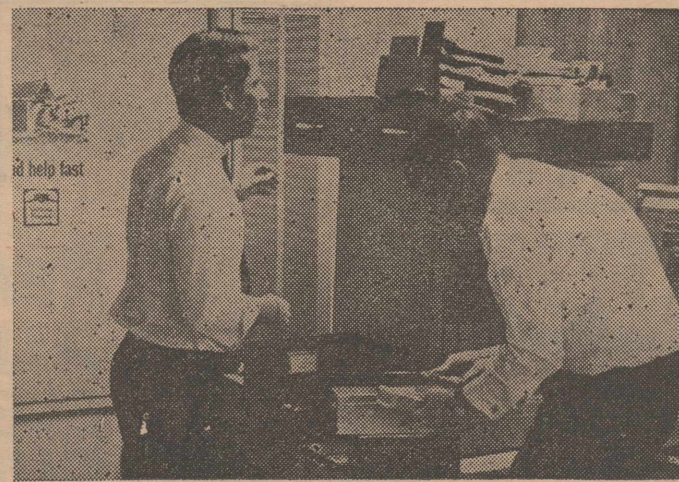

"We know you have lost some things that no one can replace, but we will help provide those essentials that you cannot provide for yourself. Enough time will be taken to plan wisely with you and to verify certain essential information, such as home ownership, income, and liabilities, to determine what you need. Each family's situation is dealt with individually and in confidence. Red Cross help is given as quickly as possible, with consideration given to health, age, or other problems that might create unusual conditions," Siegler said.

"We cannot help if you do not apply," Siegler warned. "To date, 144 families have applied for assistance which is given as an outright grant and not as a loan."

The Oct. 6 deadline for applications was set to enable case workers to get out in other areas to process applications. The close of applications does not mean close of operations.

The Red Cross never sells food or any other disaster supplies, never takes liens on homes, and never asks for repayment for Red Cross disaster assistance. Any statements to the contrary are false. You can help by reporting rumors, with the name

Headquarters, Region V, of the Parks and Wildlife Department hosted the annual state-wide meeting of the Department's Inland Fisheries biologists in Rockport on Oct. 3 and 4.

These conferences are held in order to bring all Inland Fisheries personnel up-to-date on the work going on in the state.

Panels of biologists discussed such subjects as exotic fish introductions, marine fish in fresh water, and the treatment of disease and parasites in hatchery ponds.

Other biologists took up rough fish control, effects of commercial netting, vegetation control, fish-stocking, and the use of electrical current in fisheries work.

Each biologist goes to his home station after such a meeting with renewed interest in his work and a good idea of how his investigations are contributing to the overall effort.

By Robert Oliver

The Fighting Pirates of Rockport-Fulton High School will meet the Taft Greyhounds in Pirate Stadium on Oct. 6. The game will be the first District 28AA home game for the Pirates.

The Greyhounds have a season record of 1 win and 2 losses while the Pirates have a season record of two wins and one loss.

County Applies For Federal Aid

The Commissioners Court of Aransas County has made application to the Office of Emergency Planning "to arrange to have the appropriate Federal Agency perform emergency work essential to the health, safety and welfare of the people and property."

This move followed President Johnson's action in declaring a major disaster area in that part of South Texas (including Aransas County) ravaged by Hurricane Beulah's winds, tornadoes and flooding. The President set aside $2.5 million in Federal funds to help restore public facilities.

Prior to applying for Federal aid, the County had placed at $1,145,200 the approximate damage caused in the County to 96 miles of roads, damage to county buildings, damage to drainage ditches, costs for mosquito control and health problems, debris cleanup and rewiring of hurricane shelters.

In its application the County requested that the appropriate Federal Agency perform the following emergency work:

—Utilize or lend, with or without compensation, to Aransas County, equipment, supplies, facilities, personnel and resources other than extension of credit under the authority of any Act.

—Distribute, through American Red Cross or otherwise, medicines, food and other consumable supplies.

—Donate or lend to Aransas County, for their use or distribution, surplus equipment and supplies.

—Perform, on public or private lands, protective and other work to preserve life and property.

—Provide temporary housing or emergency shelter.

—Clear debris and wreckage, and make emergency repairs and temporary replacement of essential public facilities, such as roads, bridges, water and sewer systems and public buildings of Aransas County.

The application, signed by County Judge John D. Wendell, states that the commissioners

United Fund Raises Goal For Emergencies

As a result of the disaster information gathered by a fact finding committee, the United Fund Board of Directors this week raised the goal for this year's campaign from $11,250 to $12,000. The additional $750 will be used for emergency demands.

The drive will be launched with a kickoff breakfast at 7:30 a.m., Tuesday, Oct. 10 at the VFW Hall. Joe Bush, campaign chairman who will give the main talk at the breakfast, urges all workers to please attend.

Local clergymen have been invited to participate in the program. The breakfast will be cooked and served by Boy Scouts and Girl Scouts. Costs for the breakfast have been donated by a number of generous individuals, and will NOT come out of United Fund money.

Participating agencies which will receive financial assistance from the United Fund are Aransas County Emergency Corps, American Red Cross, Salvation Army, Aransas County Youth Council, Aransas County Recreation, Boy Scout Council, Girl Scouts, Gonzales Warm Springs and the USO.

The report of the fact finding committee gave a revealing picture of needs and some of the fine work performed by various people and organizations during and following the tornado and the flooding. The committee was composed of chairman R. L. Eckman, Joe Joe Bush and Col. Walter Falk. Excerpts of their report follows:

"County Judge John D. Wendell instructed that barracks building 180 at Aransas County Airport be opened as a shelter. We went to that building and found Ken Jackson's wife and three small children and her mother. She had received some food but the children needed clothes. They had lost their house and belongings in the Fulton tornado."

"We also met Leon Perez who has a wife and seven small children. They lost a house and everything. They are receiving food and clothing. Judge

"To the citizens of Rockport and the surrounding area, you are to be commended for your willingness to cooperate in such a time of emergency."

"Regardless of the worth of any Civil Defense plan, if the citizens do not cooperate, it is of no value."

"Thank you all."

EXPLOITATION OF AREA CRITICIZED

"You have here the only unspoiled place in Texas, the blue water along the coast where people can come and enjoy themselves. For the sake of Texas, keep it that way."

That was the challenge placed before the residents of the Rockport area by Olin Culberson, member of the Railroad Commission of Texas, who gave the principal address at a special dinner meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

As a member of the state's oil governing body, he ex-

TV IN THE TRACTOR

A tractor manufacturer is reported testing farmer's reactions before marketing a new tractor equipped with television, heater and air conditioner, AM-FM radio, foam rubber padding with leather upholstery throughout and a steering wheel that moves up and down. The TV can be used to watch the machinery behind the tractor (through a camera mounted in the rear) but would also bring in the local station.

This could be the beginning of a new era in farming, the end of the trend away from the land. With tractors like these no farmer would have trouble finding hired help or keeping his sons on the farm. At the first sign of labor trouble he'd simply install a bar in his tractor and that would end the strike. His men might even pay to work for him.

There's a minor technical difficulty with all this however. The tractor in question sells for $10,000—without the accessories. With them—why a farmer might have to trade a few of his Cadillacs to afford them.—Ottawa Journal.

CHURCHILLIAN MASTERY

Who had, or has the greatest speaking voice of the past 25 years? This was the question asked in a poll conducted by British Industries Corp., marketers of record playing equipment, among visitors to a high fidelity show in New York. The winner was Winston Churchill, closely followed by Franklin D. Roosevelt and John F. Kennedy.

Not surprisingly, actors received a substantial number of votes, including Richard Burton, Orson Wells and Sir Laurence Olivier. Also among the favorites was Congress' organ-throated orator, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen.—Beatrice (Neb.) Sun.

SLEEP WRIGHTS

A British pediatrician, Dr. Hugh Jolly, may be quite correct when he says that it's not too important whether a child is sent to bed early in the evening.

Dr. Jolly may have a jolly time with children playing around the house until all hours but whether the kids need their sleep or not he should realize that parents have home rights, too. One of those rights is to have a few minutes of peace and quiet at the end of the day.—Dallas Times Herald.

EDITOR'S VIEWPOINTS

ANSWERING THOSE NOSEY PEOPLE

Time was whenever a corporation, charitable foundation or government agency was confronted with a problem it couldn't solve, a committee was appointed to make an investigation. Then nothing would ever have to be done about it.

Nowadays, we are a little more astute. We conduct a survey. We send out questionnaires to everyone in the country asking them to fill in the blanks. By the time these questionnaires have been returned, we make another survey to see if the people have changed their minds in the meantime.

A Dartmouth professor, with the help of his sociology students, admitted recently that he is mailing 5,600 questionnaires to the public schools in Chile which would require 10,000 man-hours of work to fill out properly and return. Someone has figured it out that if all the surveys currently being made by mail and private interview were paid for at hourly rates of pay on a minimum wage basis, they would cost more money than the current national debt.

This leads us to the point of this editorial which is, can people who answer questionnaires be depended upon to tell the truth? What does a person say when he is asked, "If you are overweight, is it because you eat too much, or do you have glandular difficulty?" And if such surveys are not taken under oath, what good are they?—Orlando Sentinel.

COFFEE CRITIQUE

The American housewife brews "an absolutely terrible cup of coffee." Such is the criticism of Pan American Coffee Bureau experts who say there's a direct relationship between poorly prepared coffee and the declining coffee business.

Still America's No. 1 import, our consumption of the world's coffee production has fallen from 70 to 46 per cent over the past 20 years. Coffee people say this may have serious economic and political effects between this country and our Latin American neighbors who produce the larger portion of the world's coffee supply.

How does the coffee-brewing housewife err? PACB folks say her most flagrant misdeeds are (1) reheating stale coffee; (2) perking it to death; (3) using the improper grind for the family pot, and (4) failing to clean the coffee pot thoroughly.

We sympathize with the people who are concerned with what goes on between the bean and the cup. We have no such problems. We brew our own.—Birmingham News.

Badgers Stop Pirates 48-6

By Robert Oliver

The Fighting Pirates of Rockport-Fulton High School bowed to the Bishop Badgers 48-6 last Friday night in Bishop. The game was the District 28AA opener for both schools and was considered the "game of the week."

Both the Pirates and the Badgers were undefeated and unscored on going into this game.

As the game got underway, it appeared that the Pirates were going to be difficult to handle for the Badgers. Then suddenly Bishop became the team they are known to be and the one-sided scoring began. The Pirates showed a lot of fine defensive play but it wasn't enough to halt the rolling Badgers.

To the closing minutes of the game, with the score, Bishop 48 — Rockport 0, Quarterback Chris Edwards stepped into Pirate paydirt, thus destroying Bishop's unscored on record. The conversion by Ruford Huff was blocked and the game ended with Bishop winning 48-6.

The Pirates are a long ways from being out of the district title race and this week will be a fresh start for the squad.

Three water connections and three sewer hookups were made last month in Rockport, according to city records.

50TH HOME COMPLETED IN OAK TERRACE IN THREE YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Harris T. Papahronis have occupied their new home in Oak Terrace, the 50th in the development of this subdivision. This home marks the completion of homes on all building sites on Oak Avenue, one of four streets in the subdivision, each street being one mile long.

Wagley Lumber Co., developers of this subdivision, have now started construction of homes on Pine Street. The first home completed on this street was recently occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Emmett White. There are eight homes in various stages of construction on this second street in the development.

The progress in Oak Terrace Subdivision points up vividly the growth of this area. This 50th home was completed just three years after the subdivision was opened. Starting with 160 acres of brush land, the developer cut the streets, leveled the land, and handled the complete homebuilding process from the foundation through landscaping yards.

Homeowners represent a cross-section of business in Aransas County, including school teachers, employees of oil companies, utilities, fish and game industry, insurance, car sales, barbering, drilling, farming, electricians, carpenters, and three retired couples.

Papahronis, purchaser of the 50th home, is an engineer for Hunt Oil Co. and White is superintendent for Vermillion Construction Co.

Miss Priscilla Carleton Wesley C. Purdy Exchange Vows

Letters to the Editor

Hurricane Beulah has done heavy damage to the beach road from Prairie Road in Fulton, north for two miles. For the second time in six years the taxpayer's money must be spent to rebuild the road—or must it? Should it? Or would closing the road and maintaining tax values of the property along the shore not be the wiser course to follow? As motor traffic increases on Fulton Beach Road, property values decrease, and lowered property values never help any community. Careful and objective examination of the facts should be made before Fulton Beach Road is rebuilt. The taxpayer's money will again be wasted unless a costly concrete breakwater is provided. A far simpler, more economical, and reasonable solution to the problem would be to close Fulton Beach Road to motor traffic and use the money and the additional tax revenues on better recreational facilities for the entire community.

A more beneficial and less costly use of the bay shore North from Prairie Road is hereby proposed. Let the roadway revert to trails to be used for hiking, bicycle riding and horseback riding. Close it to all motor traffic of any kind, with the exception of county maintenance vehicles. At present there are no stretches of beach in the county where residents of the area or visitors can walk or ride bikes or horses in peace and safety, where bird watchers can sit quietly to observe the water birds, where children can wander along the shore for any distance without fear of being run down by speeding cars or painters settle themselves for long quiet hours at their easels. The "bike and hike trail" in the heart of Austin has proved popular with young and old to find it a haven of rest and recreation. Our visitors would be pleased to find a stretch of sea shore in the Rockport area where racing cars would not interfere with their walks or rides. Many have expressed disappointment when they do not find such a place here. The county has an opportunity to offer this community a unique recreational attraction. What other resort area in the coastal bend could advertise such an attraction? We have often heard a reasonable complaint: "Unless we want to go fishing, there's nothing to do!" Aransas County has a wonderful chance to satisfy a long felt need—a "bike and hike and horseback trail" along the shore of Live Oak Peninsula.

Signed by a number of property owners.

This and That

JOHN KINSEY

It's too bad that it takes a hurricane in order for the good in most people to show through. But that's the way it is.

A thousand stories could be told about the wonderful way that Rockport area people responded to help victims of the tornado and the flooding caused by Hurricane Beulah.

There was the case of one couple whose home was destroyed by the tornado. Not only did they receive many offers to move into the homes of friends and others who scarcely knew them, but spontaneously a private fund raising drive was started to help them get back on their feet.

Then there was the example set by local clergyman in leading able bodied adults and youthful members of their churches to homes where mud, debris and other marks of the flooding remained. Men and women of all ages pitched in and did a fine job of cleaning up.

Not only did local people respond to the call for help, but individuals and organizations outside the city also came to the aid of Rockport area victims. Clothing, food and medical supplies were brought here.

And if any local person wondered whether his out-of-town relatives and friends were concerned about his welfare, the thousands of telephone calls which came pouring into this area were ample proof that the kinfolk and friends really cared.

By Robert Oliver

The Rockport-Fulton Junior Varsity squad lost to the Bishop Junior Varsity 44-0. The game was played in Rockport last Thursday night.

The previous week, the Pirates Junior Varsity had defeated the Mathis squad 80-0. However, the Pirate squad was unable to do anything against the large and strong Bishop team.

The Pirates had many good plays but were unable to get any drive going.

This week, the Junior Varsity will go to Taft to meet the Greyhounds and get their second victory.

While Beulah Blew

you were cooking with gas

Even while Beulah was doing her worst, you still had hot meals when you wanted them if you had a gas range in your kitchen. And your gas water heater delivered plenty of hot water to wash the dishes.

During this storm, as usual, Aransas Natural continued to deliver plenty of good natural gas to Rockport area homes and businesses, even Key Allegro.

The only interruption was in tornado-struck Fulton where some gas meters were snapped off when homes were wrecked.

In nineteen years, through every kind of weather, Aransas Natural has never let you down.

EXPERTS SAY WORMY BIRDS OK FOR FOOD

Many doves being killed this year are found to be heavily infested with parasites in the form of both round and flat worms, according to Tom D. Moore, regional director of the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department. "The flesh of the infested birds is not affected by the parasites, and they can be utilized for food," Moore said.

These worms, commonly found in both quail and doves, ordinarily inhabit the internal organs of their host and are removed and discarded when the bird is dressed. In very few instances do the parasites ever touch the edible portions of the birds. Should they be the type that inhabit the muscular tissue, they are rendered completely harmless by thoroughly cooking the meat.

Moore went on to say that during the recent whitewing hunt, many hunters who found their birds infested with these worms discarded the birds as unfit to eat. This was an unnecessary waste of this highly desirable game bird.

The only President to become chief justice of the Supreme Court was William Howard Taft. He was appointed in 1921 by President Harding.

Fort Worth Writer Praises Fishing Here

Herb Owens, outdoor writer for the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, recently was invited to visit the Rockport area. Following is the article he wrote after his visit:

The sun had cleared the eastern horizon, the fog had lifted and Danny Adams was fidgety.

"Do you guys want to sleep all day or fish?" he scolded.

Here it was broad daylight and we hadn't put a hook in the water, which was a bad way to start as far as Adams was concerned.

We were going after redfish this morning—J. C. Barr of Port Aransas, Roy Swann, Corpus Christi outdoor writer, Adams and Ed Harper. Adams is a hunting and fishing guide working out of the Sandollar Motor Hotel here and Harper in general manager of the resort. They both know their way around the bays, reefs and channels in this part of the coast.

"We're wading the mud flats this morning," Harper announced. "They've been taking some big reds up in St. Charles Bay. Yesterday two fishermen came out with 17 that weighed over 8 pounds apiece."

There's nothing like that sort of information to get all passengers in the boat in a hurry. Adams revved the sterndrive and headed northeast across the mouth of Copano Bay, cut north into St. Charles Bay and followed the channel between Lamar and Blackjack peninsulas.

To the left was Goose Island State Park, to the right the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge. It was a 45-minute run before Danny eased the boat to a stop, where Swann and I went over the side and into thigh-deep water, fishing gear in hand.

The boat left us, went about 3/4 of a mile farther into the bay and there Adams anchored and the other fishermen got out. When we had fished to the boat we would take it ahead of the others, anchor and fish on ahead. When they reached the boat they would do the same. That way we could work several miles without having to back-track.

Swann used live shrimp under a popping cork and I threw a silver spoon, casting to swirls in the water and against grass along the shoreline. The tide was in, the water clear and conditions were just right for reds, according to Swann.

Conditions may have been right, but either the big fish weren't there or weren't in a mood to hit. We picked up a pair of small, saucer-size flounder and Swann hit a school of small reds, taking six on six casts, but all were shy of the 14-inch legal size.

We were about a mile from the refuge and waterfowl kept us watching the sky—a flight of pintail ducks; a gaggle of snow geese; a lumbering group of white ibises; a spectacular pink line of roseate spoonbills.

When Swann and I reached the boat we climbed in and headed toward Adams, Harper and Barr. As we neared them Harper's rod suddenly bent under a jolting impact and Ed hung on with both hands.

"He's got one, and it's a good one," Swann announced. It was a good one, indeed. Even from a distance you could see the wake of the line as it cut through the 2-foot water and occasionally a swirl announced that the big fish was there, fighting for his life.

Harper stayed with it, changing positions as the fish made its runs, feeding line under pressure and reeling when the occasion arose. Barr and Adams stopped fishing to watch, but not before casting toward the spot that Harper had hung his fish. If there were more there, they didn't want to miss them. Swann cut the engine and we drifted, watching the battle between man and fish. Ed finally wore it down, brought it in close, strung it securely, then worked loose the hooks on the spoon. "Anybody want to match weights on the biggest?" he smiled. Nobody did.

We fished another half mile, Adams took a nice 3-pound flounder, but that was the only strike the five of us had.

We had agreed to leave at noon and it was 12:20 now. "Those big reds are back here somewhere," Danny said. "If you want to run a couple more miles, maybe we can pick up some."

Everybody wanted to, but there were schedules to meet, appointments to keep and five empty stomachs, so we had to be content with Harper's 12-pound red and a string of about 15 smaller trout, reds and flounder.

Money may be filthy, but it will buy a lot of soap and disinfectants. — Somerset (Mass.) Spectator.

Archery Deer Hunting Canceled

Damage caused by Hurricane Beulah has forced cancellation of the archery deer hunting season scheduled for the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge, it was announced today by Regional Director William T. Krummes of the Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife.

Citing the impossibility of getting the refuge roads in passable condition by Oct. 1, when the season was scheduled to start, Mr. Krummes said that aerial surveys of the 47,261 acre refuge near Austwell in Aransas County had shown that the high tides had completely covered the refuge with salt water. As the tides receded, fresh water from the heavy rains associated with Beulah's passing had again covered the refuge, dealing a second damaging blow to the refuge's shell road system.

Krummes said that the full story on conditions at Aransas National Wildlife Refuge must wait until flood waters have drained away.

The bow season which was scheduled for Oct. 1 would have been a repeat of the 1966 season, in which 3,500 archers killed 185 buck deer during a 30-day season.

Fishing Industry To Be Helped By Replacing Vessels

The U. S. Department of the Interior has two programs which will help the fishing industry replace vessels lost in Hurricane Beulah. These programs are handled by Interior's Bureau of Commercial Fisheries. Richard Whiteleather, Acting Regional Director at St. Petersburg Beach, Fla., says that the Bureau is making every effort to assist in the stricken area.

He further states that new commercial fishing vessels may be financed through the Bureau's Mortgage Insurance Program which insures mortgage up to 75 per cent of the cost of construction. These mortgages have maximum interest rates of six per cent, 15 year maturities, and one per cent insurance premiums. The purchase of used vessels many be financed through the Fisheries Loan Program directly from the government, instead of from private sources as in the Mortgage Insurance Program.

Small Business Administration disaster loans, designed to take care of losses not covered by insurance claims, also are available to assist in restoring applicants to pre-storm status. These loans will be processed by local SBA offices in the disaster areas. Mr. Whiteleather says that the Bureau's staff will channel applications and inquiries to the proper agency since Federal help undoubtedly will be important in rehabilitating the fishing fleet and processing plants in the storm damaged areas.

For more detailed information and application forms, write to the Regional Director, Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, P. O. Box 6245, St. Petersburg, Beach, Fla. 33736.

Wendell had told us about this family and he also had told us about the American Red Cross setting up an office in the Courthouse to help people.

"We went to the disaster area and interviewed a number of the victims. Some of these people had learned of the Red Cross and were receiving assistance.

"We called at the Red Cross office in the Courthouse on the first floor and found a trained worker in charge, Miss Elizabeth O'Rourke of Chippewa Falls, Wis., who is employed by the Red Cross. While in this area she works under instructions of local authorities. She will remain here during the emergency. She has one assistant, a local girl, and will have more if necessary.

"At 11 a.m. Friday, Miss O'Rourke had processed many claims and many more victims were waiting at the Courthouse. A Red Cross director was here today and probably will be here daily.

"Mayor Hiller states that the Salvation Army representatives were here and will return if requested. When not working, the men slept in the County jail and were fed by the City. They remained until Thursday when they were informed they were no longer needed.

"In Rockport there are nine representatives of the Salvation Army who are authorized to issue drafts. Mrs. Ruby Hart issued a draft for $25 to one victim.

"Herman Johnson, local Civil Defense Director, is now having the ditches and all standing water on city property sprayed. Also, he says Rockport is near the top of the list for aerial spray."

DID YOU KNOW THAT:

In a survey made of the pine-hardwood area of East Texas in 1965 it was estimated that there were about 33 billion board feet in standing timber. This volume is sufficient to construct about 3 million wooden homes, according to the Texas Forest Service. The forest resources of Texas are an important economic asset to all Texans, providing wood and wood products, labor and payroll.

Zip-a-List Kits Distributed This Week

Rockport letter carriers have started delivery of Zip-a-List Kits to every household in the area.

Postmaster Maynard Rowan urged all residents to use the postal cards contained in the kits to obtain the zip codes needed for addresses in their personal mailing lists.

Each household will receive eight cards with spaces for the addresses to be "zipped" by the post office and for the return address. No postage is required.

The project is part of a program to make zip codes accessible to the mailing public and thereby increase the use of the codes in mailing addresses. In addition to the kit, which is folded like a closed accordion, a separate card is being delivered to remind residents of the local zip code number.

"Zip code is necessary all year round to increase the efficiency of the postal service," Postmaster Rowan said, "but it is more important than ever around the holiday season. This year, the Post Office Department expects to handle well over nine billion pieces of mail during the Christmas rush. Zip code will be a great help in delivering that mail accurately and on time."

Zip-a-List users are reminded to print clearly and to include their return address so that the post office will know where to deliver the completed form. Last year, thousands of people throughout the nation forgot to include the return address and their efforts to cooperate in the project went for naught.

Extra kits are available at the post office.

The above resolution and application was approved by County Commissioners W. B. Allen, Raymond Owens, Mrs. Wanda Sparks and Albert Wofford.

August Shrimp Landings Sets New Record

Domestic landings of headless shrimp in Texas amounted to 11.3 million pounds in August 1967, according to Orman H. Farley, Bureau of Commercial Fisheries, Galveston.

This was a record volume and second only to July, 1967 landings.

The Brownsville-Port Isabel area landed a record 3.4 million pounds in August. White shrimp landings from Texas estuarine systems were the poorest on record for all bays except San Antonio in the Coastal Bend area.

The following data represent landings of headless shrimp for specified areas and periods:

Port Arthur-Sabine: 139,000 pounds, Aug. 1967; 877,400 pounds, Jan.-Aug. 1967; 783,400, Jan.-Aug. 1966.

Galveston-Seabrook: 973,200, Aug. 1967; 4,303,700, Jan.-Aug. 1967; 1,929,800, Jan.-Aug. 1966.

Freeport: 2,940,500, Aug. 1967; 9,306,900, Jan.-Aug. 1967; 4,265,600, Jan.-Aug. 1966.

Matagorda-Palacios: 246,300, Aug. 1967; 902,900, Jan.-Aug. 1967; 521,800, Jan.-Aug. 1966.

Port Lavaca-Port O'Connor-Seadrift: 599,000, Aug. 1967; 2,234,200, Jan.-Aug. 1967; 1,032,900, Jan.-Aug. 1966.

Aransas Pass-Rockport: 2,949,800, Aug. 1967; 9,939,700, Jan.-Aug. 1967; 6,216,100, Jan.-Aug. 1966.

Brownsville-Port Isabel: 3,431,300, Aug. 1967; 12,260,300, Jan.-Aug. 1967; 9,302,700, Jan.-Aug. 1966.

Totals: 11,279,100, Aug. 1967; 39,825,100, Jan.-Aug. 1967; 24,052,300, Jan.-Aug. 1966.

Shrimp trawl vessels worked uninterrupted throughout August in waters adjacent to the Texas coast. The area east of the Colorado River to south of Galveston was again host to several trawlers as in the previous two months.

Vessels working brown shrimp made unbroken trips at will as weather conditions were ideal and processing facilities in port unloaded and provisioned vessels for sailing, preventing loss of time at dockside.

Catch per night averaged about 700 pounds in all areas beyond 20 fathoms. Several large trawlers from south Texas ports worked water beyond 35 fathoms east of Aransas Pass to southeast of Freeport for brown shrimp.

Vessels working white shrimp inside 10 fathoms made only sporadic, poor catches throughout August. Small boats working bay waters found only scattered small concentrations of small white shrimp in all systems except San Antonio Bay.

The Galveston area, thus far, has the poorest crop of white shrimp in recent years. However, in late August fishermen reported signs of very small whites in upper Galveston Bay.

New large trawl vessels entered the shrimp fishery throughout August as all major ports recorded maiden voyages for new vessels. Plans for additional harbor space and processing facilities were finalized in August by interested parties in the Brownsville-Port Isabel area.

The harbor extensions will alleviate some of the space problems that are inherent with all major ports. The processing facilities when completed will make Cameron County host to the largest, most seafood processing complex in the free world.

For the safety and convenience of travelers, the Texas Highway Department—marking 50 years of public service during National Highway Week, Sept. 24-30—maintains more than 1,100 safety rest areas, roadside parks and scenic turnouts.

1968 Chevrolets

The 1968 Chevrolets are the very essence of modern design. Every line, every curve is in close harmony. It's a smooth, uncluttered look with roof lines compatible with body lines, grilles and bumpers that blend gracefully into long, rounded fenders. Clean, flowing, beautiful in their simplicity, these '68 Chevrolets are rich and advanced in styling beyond any you've ever seen.

A MORE SILENT RIDE

And for 1968, we've gone to every length to give you more peace and quiet inside. The most sophisticated computers have been used to strategically place body mounts and successfully isolate noise and vibration. Shock absorbers have been improved. The wheel stance on many models is wider for greater smoothness. Exhaust systems have been redesigned to make them whisper-quiet. Even the clocks tick more softly. A sound car is a silent car. The '68 Chevrolets are the most silent, highest quality cars we've ever built.

BETTER PERFORMANCE

There are new engines, a bigger standard Six and V8. There's a new 250-hp V8 you can order that runs on regular fuel. Many new engine components increase dependability and keep your new Chevrolet running stronger. There's a new rear axle ratio you can add for greater economy. On most engines equipped with automatic transmissions, there's a special heater for the carburetor which gives you more efficient performance in cold weather. And with every engine, you get the new GM exhaust emission control.

UNIQUE ASTRO VENTILATION

There's a whole new idea in ventilation, called Astro Ventilation, for Camaro, Corvette and the elegant Caprice Coupe. It's also available on many other models. By opening two new vent-ports on the instrument panel, you bring in outside air that can be directed where you want it. This way, you can leave your windows rolled up and add still more to your peace and quiet.

PROVED SAFETY FEATURES

You get the proved GM-developed energy absorbing steering column, folding front seat back latches, dual master cylinder brake system with warning light, plus many more new features. Among them: energy absorbing front seat backs, and safety armrests that shield the door handles.

MUCH MORE THAT'S NEW

There are new roof lines, some formal and graceful, others sporty and quick. There are new instrument panels, richly designed and all controls within easy reach. There are new interiors, new vinyls, new fabrics, new colors. There are models with Hide-A-Way windshield wipers and headlights that disappear behind grilles. There are new side marker lamps, new recessed taillights. There's even a new ignition alarm buzzer that reminds you not to walk away and leave your keys in the car.

These are the newest, the most different, the most dramatically changed Chevrolets ever. And they're at your Chevrolet dealer's now. You'll thoroughly enjoy slipping behind the wheel, experiencing the smooth new handling and library-quiet ride and, more than anything, seeing and feeling the even greater quality built into every new Chevrolet for 1968.

Be smart! Be sure! Buy now at your Chevrolet dealer's.

There's more quality and value built into Chevrolets than ever before, making every new 1968 model an even better buy!
