WEATHER OUTLOOK FOR NEXT 30 DAYS — These maps, based on those released by the U. S. Weather Bureau, show the precipitation and temperature forecast for the next 30 days. (AP Wirephoto Map)

Sunshine Finally Breaks Through

Sunshine finally broke through the clouds today, after the Snyder area experienced another night of fog and drizzle.

At the same time, a warming trend developed as a cool front receded to the north.

Snyder had an official measurement of .10 of an inch of moisture in the 24-hour period ending at 7:30 a.m. today, while the overnight low temperature was 53 degrees, or 10 degrees above the previous day's low.

Much of the northern half of Texas had turbulent weather Thursday.

The front, along a line from northwest of Wichita Falls to west of Lubbock, moved slowly northward.

Behind it lay areas hard hit by torrents of rain and the floods they spawned, heavy hail and high winds.

But forecasts called for nothing more serious than scattered thundershowers in East and Central Texas and thunderstorms in West Texas through Saturday.

Odessa, Midland, Dallas and Fort Worth caught the worst of the Thursday disturbances.

The Trinity River went on a quick rise and its tributaries went out of their banks after rains of up to seven inches poured down on Fort Worth, Dallas and rural sections west of Fort Worth.

About 125 families were forced from their homes as water from creeks poured into the oft-flooded Fort Worth suburb of Richland Hills.

Police set up a patrol system to prevent looting. Most residents returned to their homes after waters receded.

The Trinity reached a crest at Dallas of 32 feet during the night and began falling. The Weather Bureau said a sharp rise will occur on the river from Rosser to Trinidad in the next few days with a crest at Rosser Saturday at about 28 feet and around 30 feet at Trinidad Monday or Tuesday. Some lowland flooding is expected.

Rain, wind and hail hit Midland for the third straight night.

Plate glass windows in the west Midland suburban business district were shattered by three-quarter-inch hail.

Winds of 45 m.p.h. and rain that ranged from an official .36 inch to half an inch downtown were measured.

Odessa had heavy rain and hail with some stones as large as apples.

Two tornado funnels were sighted over Monahans in far West Texas during the afternoon. No damage or injuries were reported although one of the twisting clouds reportedly touched ground in open country south of town.

Hail and .65 inch of rain were reported around Monahans.

Hopes Dim In Steel Parleys

PITTSBURGH (AP)—David J. McDonald, president of the striking United Steelworkers Union, expressed pessimism today about a quick end to the nation-wide 80-day old steel strike.

As he arrived at a midtown hotel to resume negotiations with the steel industry representatives, McDonald was asked if he was still as hopeful as he had been Thursday.

"Well, I'm afraid I'm not hopeful," he replied.

R. Conrad Cooper, chief industry negotiator, arrived moments after McDonald but declined to comment on McDonald's statement. Cooper also declined to comment on possibilities of an early end to the costly strike.

Today's session was the third in two days since President Eisenhower told both sides he wanted to see quick progress.

The bargaining teams met for 1½ hours, then recessed for lunch until 2:30 p.m. (EDT). There was no comment.

The negotiators moved from New York to Pittsburgh one day after President Eisenhower called both sides to Washington and—in separate meetings—scolded them for letting the costly dispute drag on.

The President returns from a vacation Oct. 8 and his remarks were widely interpreted as meaning the United Steelworkers and the industry have only until then to break the long impasse without direct government intervention.

Except for a brief exchange of quips with newsmen before the opening session Thursday, the negotiators acted like busy men with much on their minds.

"If Oct. 8 actually is a deadline, it means only seven days remain for the union and industry to show some indication that the half million striking steelworkers soon will return to the mills.

What the President would do if the deadline passes without a progress report is problematical.

Eisenhower could invoke the Taft-Hartley law and send the strikers back to the mills for an 80-day cooling off period.

President David J. McDonald of the United Steelworkers headed the four-man union negotiating team. The industry team of four was headed by R. Conrad Cooper, a U.S. Steel Corp. executive.

The union is seeking a wage package, improvement that McDonald estimated would cost the industry about 15 cents an hour for each man. The industry wants workers to forego any improvements that would increase labor costs.

The U.S. Labor Department estimated the steelworkers' average hourly wage at $3.11 an hour in June.

In addition to the half million striking steelworkers, unemployment in allied industries has soared toward the 200,000 mark.

Oklahoma's Income Tax Plan Blocked

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—This is the day Oklahoma's income tax withholding system was to have become law.

But it was blocked Thursday by a State Supreme Court order which directed Secretary of State Bill Christian to file referendum petitions for a state-wide election on the controversial act.

Gov. Howard Edmondson backed withholding. Opponents claimed the State Tax Commission has enough authority to check federal returns to see if anyone is not paying state taxes.

Two Will Share Actor's Estate

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Actor Edmund Gwenn, who died Sept. 6, left an estate of approximately $4,000.

His will, filed for probate Thursday, leaves equal shares to his former wife, Minnie Terry, and a sister, Elsie Kellaway, both in England.

Rebellion In Dock Strike Is Quelled

By GERALD MILLER

NEW YORK (AP)—Port activity from Maine to Texas was paralyzed today by a strike of union dock workers. A threatened back-to-work movement by a big Brooklyn local failed to materialize.

The rebellion apparently was squelched by top union leaders as the walkout shipping tieup entered its second day on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts.

An industry official put its cost at 20 million dollars a day.

The Brooklyn 12,000-man local of the International Longshoremen's Assn. is headed by Anthony (Tough Guy) Anastasia and often has been a thorn to top union chiefs.

It voted Thursday to call off the strike in its territory, possibly as a result of heavy damage suits threatened by employers.

It wasn't clear who ordered them back, but a few minutes later the union president, William V. Bradley, reported from his Manhattan headquarters that the strike was 100 per cent effective from Maine to Brownsville, Tex.

He pointedly noted that this included Brooklyn.

Bradley already had issued a stiff notice to lower union leaders that he expected full cooperation in the strike. He notified Anastasia by telegram that all internal union problems and questions would be threshed out at a meeting of officials later today.

Ships stood marooned in harbors, unable to take on or discharge cargoes. Railheads at harbor points were nearly silent, the result of an order by the Assn. of American Railroads halting movement of most freight to the two coasts to prevent huge pileups on unmanned piers.

Normally bustling docks echoed only to the occasional tread of a watchman or picket, and passengers from luxury liners carried their own bags and pushed luggage carts to and from ships.

Along the coasts about 200 freighters were tied up. In the port of New York, largest and busiest in the nation, only a handful of men were seen, in contrast to the nearly 20,000 stevedores employed daily.

The unexpected strike, which stunned union leaders, waterfront employers and mediation officials, erupted early Thursday in ports along the Gulf coast. It began only a few hours after an agreement reached here for a 15-day contract extension appeared to have averted the threat of a general walkout.

When the Southern workers struck, union officials called for a complete walkout and dashed hopes for an early settlement.

Southern longshoremen refused to extend their contracts when they failed to get from shippers in the South an agreement to make any new contract gains won by the union retroactive to Oct. 1.

Such a provision was the key in the extension agreement reached between the New York Shipping Assn. and ILA representatives for the north Atlantic ports.

In quick succession Thursday:

1. new York shippers assailed the ILA for "flagrant violation of agreements," threatened one of the largest and costliest damage suits ever filed against a union," and balked at attending a hastily called negotiation session set up by a federal mediator.

2. These shippers refused to do any more bargaining until the ILA leadership demonstrated it could control its men.

3. Bradley declared, "The men will not go back to work until we get a full agreement (on a new contract.)"

4. The New York Board of Trade sent a telegram to President Eisenhower, terming the strike a national emergency and asking him to take steps to end it.

Texas Ports Are Crippled By Strike

By The Associated Press

Shipping was shut down from Lake Charles to Brownsville Friday in a longshoreman strike for higher pay.

About 35 ships were left at their docks when 7,000 or so workers left their jobs after their contract expired at midnight Wednesday.

Another 39 vessels sailed with full or partial cargoes shortly before the deadline.

The strike does not affect oil tankers.

The walkout was ordered after the breakdown of negotiations between the South Atlantic and Gulf Coast division of the International Longshoremen's Assn. and the West Gulf Maritime Shippers.

Union spokesmen said a last-minute negotiation session was halted when management representatives refused a union demand that any contract signed be retroactive to Oct. 1.

The meeting was called in an effort to achieve a 15-day contract extension.

James O. Hubbard, federal mediator, said no new negotiations have been scheduled.

Negotiators from Atlantic ports had agreed on a 15-day extension but the union withdrew after receiving word that Galveston negotiators from Gulf ports could not arrive at an agreement.

The union seeks a 26-cent hourly wage hike immediately with additional 15-cent increases in 1960 and 1961. The union earlier had sought a 30-hour work week with no cut in pay from the 40-hour week specified by the old contract. When the strike began, the average hourly wage was $2.74.

Red Chinese Celebrate Anniversary

TOKYO (AP)—To the strains of "How Good the People's Communes Are," 1½ million Chinese danced and sang all night in Peiping's Square of Heavenly Peace to celebrate China's first 10 years of Red rule.

The noisy spectacle, which the Communist New China News Agency said was repeated throughout the China mainland, was witnessed by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, Red Chinese Chairman Mao Tze-tung and other top Communists from around the world.

Today Khrushchev and Mao got down to business again in their third conference since the Russian leader arrived Wednesday. A Peiping broadcast announcing this parley gave no indication of the topics.

The fun-making came after a huge military demonstration of artillery pieces, tanks, jet bombers and fighters and a parade of 709,000 civilian marchers in the Chinese capital.

After the big parade the Red news agency reported, "Workers, students and communie workers from the vicinity of the city began to flock into the square, bringing with them Chinese and Western musical instruments."

Khrushchev and the other Communist leaders watched from atop the high gate in the square.

There was no word of when Khrushchev will return to Moscow. The Soviet leader came to Peiping officially to attend Thursday's celebration of the 10th anniversary of the Communist capture of mainland China.

But he also is telling Mao and his chief aides about his talks with President Eisenhower and his American visit, and presumably he is trying to bring Peiping's policy in line with his new peace line resulting from his American trip.

Movie Prescribed For Tired Jury

EAST ST. LOUIS, Ill. (AP) — U.S. Dist. Judge William G. Juergens decided the jury in a perjury trial, locked up since Monday, could use a break after testimony ended Thursday.

The judge instructed the bailiff to take the jury to a movie, "but not a Perry Mason movie or one that has anything to do with court procedure."

Saunders Case Is In Hands Of Jury

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—A district court jury argued today whether former Insurance Board Chairman J. Byron Saunders lied to a legislative investigating committee.

The four women and eight men—four of them Negroes—began deliberations after they received the precedent-setting case Thursday night.

They retired for the night at 11:30 p.m. and announced they would resume deliberations at 9 a.m.

The trial marks the first time in Texas history a person has been indicted for perjury in connection with testimony before a legislative body.

Saunders appeared March 15, 1957 before a House committee looking into the collapse of the ICT Insurance Co. of Dallas.

He is accused of lying to the group six times. Conviction would carry a 2-10 year prison term.

Saunders, 49-year-old attorney now practicing in Tyler, listened intently and chain-smoked Thursday as four attorneys—two each for the state and the defense—made their final pleas.

Arguments were bitter on both sides.

The state charged a "cover-up" in describing an oil lease deal between Saunders and BenJack Cage, Dallas promoter who operated ICT Insurance Co. and more than 60 other ventures.

Cage fled to Brazil after his conviction on charges of embezzling funds of the ill-fated insurance firm.

Defense attorneys used the term "sell out" in alleging the House [illegible] summoned Saunders for the sole purpose of trapping him on perjury charges.

John Cofer, chief attorney for Sunders, told the jury, "They are trying to put this man in the pen on innuendo, on suspicion and on what someone else told somebody else."

The six perjury accusations were cut [illegible] by the charge to the jury by Dist. Judge Mace Thurman. In his hour-long address to the jury, Thurman directed the panel to give particular consideration to the oil lease deal.

The charge said the jury must convict Saunders if it considers the oil deal was not a legitimate business transaction between Cage and Saunders. Saunders said it was, and that monthly checks of $300 and $500 paid by Cage to Saunders in 1954 and 1955 were in payment for the lease.

Safe Drivers To Get Insurance Benefits

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN (AP)—Safe drivers in Texas will save 20 million dollars next year in insurance premiums while accident-prone motorists will have to shell out that much more.

This will result from the insurance plan effective Jan. 1 announced by the state board of insurance Thursday.

From a study of more than 40,000 accident reports at the Department of Public Safety, the board calculated motorists operating 57 per cent of the state's automobiles will save 20 per cent in premiums. These are the ones who have had no accidents in the last three years.

Another 16 per cent of the drivers will pay the same rates while the remainder will find collision and liability rates increased up to 100 per cent.

The premium will depend on the number of accidents or charges against the motorist in the preceding 36 months. For example, a driving while drunk charge would place a motorist in a classification bracket which would increase his rates by 60 per cent.

Here is how the plan works.

Mr. and Mrs. Tex Alamo live in Beaumont. They own a 1959 medium priced car used by Tex in driving to and from work. They are the only operators. The vehicle is insured for $5,000 and $10,000 bodily injury, $5,000 property damage, $1,000 medical payments and $50 deductible collision.

The cost of the premium is now $113 a year. The policy expires May 15, 1960. If during the 36 months ending 90 days before the new policy is written, the couple has no accident, the rate will be sliced to $90.

But if Alamo is responsible for an accident causing more than $25 property damage and his wife is fine twice for running red lights the cost of the new policy jumps to $181, an increase of $68.

The state is divided into 26 territories with separate standard rates based on the number of vehicles, accidents and other factors. Under the above conditions, a similar policy in Houston costing $134 could be cut to $107 or increased to $215. In Sherman, the policy now would cost $91 and could be reduced to $73 or increased to $145.

Texas has the only plan of this type, said chairman Penn Jackson, but individual companies have used a similar program in about half a dozen states.

The new plan applies to all private passenger autos or any vehicle of the truck type with a load capacity of 1,500 pounds not used for commercial purposes. Taxicabs and commercial vehicles are not eligible.

Under the point system, the motorist is bracketed into a classification depending on the number of points charged against him. Two points are charged for each accident involving $25 damage or bodily injury. One point is charged for running a stop sign. Four points are charged for conviction of driving while drunk, etc.

Philippine-U. S. Row Is Discussed

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The Philippine and U.S. delegations to the U.N. General Assembly held separate post-mortems today on a luncheon quarrel between two of their leading members.

Walter S. Robertson, former U.S. assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs, and Leon Guerrero, Philippine ambassador to London, swapped heated personal criticisms at a luncheon the U.S. delegation gave Wednesday for a number of Asian delegates.

Observers at the U.N. expected the incident to have little or no lasting effect on Philippine-American relations. But the feeling in Manila was that it would further complicate conclusion of a new treaty covering U.S. bases in the Philippines. Negotiations on the treaty have been deadlocked for months.

Robertson in a statement said Guerrero was rude and arrogant to him and a lesser member of the American delegation. The Filipino accused Robertson of trying to pressure the Philippine delegation into doing his chores for him and of "thinking in terms of a bygone colonial age."

The Philippine delegation planned to meet today to discuss the incident. The U.S. delegation studied the statements the two men issued to reporters after reliable informants revealed the

The informants gave this summary of the heated exchange:

Robertson and Guerrero discussed Tibet, Communist China and Philippine-U.S. differences over war damage payments and other subjects.

At one point Robertson remarked that Guerrero evidently was following the political line of Sen. Claro M. Recto, unsuccessful Nationalist candidate for president of the Philippines in 1957 and an opponent of U.S. military bases in his country.

Later another member of the U.S. delegation put in a word, and Guerrero objected to being "forced into an argument with a first or second secretary." At this, Robertson accused Guerrero of rudeness, and Guerrero remarked that Robertson was "not used to Filipinos talking back to Americans."

Boy's Eyes Aid Woman

SEATTLE (AP) — Mrs. Duane Vincent, 45, is a Seattle housewife who has yet to see clearly the faces of her husband or of her two young sons.

Thursday night, because a young boy thought of others, Mrs. Vincent underwent a delicate cornea transplant that may sweep away the clouds that have obscured her vision since she was a tiny girl.

Mrs. Vincent was stricken with influenza at three. Since then she has been barely able to distinguish light from shadows without the aid of powerful eyeglasses, which gave her 28 per cent vision.

The corneas were from the eyes of Robert Lee Jenness, 12, who was killed Wednesday night when the motor scooter he was riding was struck by a car.

Only three months ago, Bob, his father, mother and sister willed their eyes to the Providence Hospital eye bank.

The bandages are to be removed from Mrs. Vincent's eyes this weekend, probably Saturday. Doctors say they won't know for several months whether the operation has been successful.

Mrs. Vincent's thoughts before the operation were of Robert's parents.

"I have two boys, too," she said. "One is almost the same age as their boy. Our son, Guy, is 10.

"I know what they must be going through."

New Income Tax Forms Unwrapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — Uncle Sam has taken the wraps off a new income tax form.

It has fewer questions, fewer instructions and fewer blanks to fill than the standard form it will replace for many taxpayers.

But it will be just as painful as ever when it comes to that final blank on the total tax due. The tax rate is unchanged.

The short cut form, called 1040W, will be mailed to about 17 million Americans between Christmas and New Year's. You can use it if your income consists of wages and salary—regardless of the amount—plus not more than $200 of dividends and interest.

The 1040W is the first all-new tax form in five years. Plans for it were announced several weeks ago, but its format was kept secret until Thursday. No significant changes were made in other tax forms.

There are just two pages to 1040W, compared with four in the standard 1040 form. Eight pages of instructions will come with 1040W, compared with 16 for 1040.

If you have income other than wages and salary and have received more than $200 in dividends and interest this year, you must file the regular 1040 form.

The 1040W probably won't speed up the processing of returns. But it will cut the annual paper order for tax forms by one million pounds. However, this saving has been more than offset by a 34 per cent increase in paper costs.

Total Eclipse Of Sun Is Observed

Space-minded man stared at the firmament today as it unfolded one of its most majestic spectacles—a total eclipse of the sun.

On both sides of the Atlantic, observers watched as the moon slowly blacked out the earth's source of light, leaving a radiant corona shimmering in the darkened heavens.

Clouds obscured it for many ground watchers in the Boston area, and interferred somewhat at Canary Island stations off the coast of Africa — both sites at which the eclipse was total.

Astronomers and students, however, took to planes to soar above the clouds for a clear view of the celestial display.

"The sun appeared to rise at 6:41 a.m. at the eastern edge of a vast sea of clouds," wrote AP staffer Don Guy, who watched it from a plane over Massachusetts. "It rose partially eclipsed, and looked like a brilliant crescent with the horns pointing upward.

"For nine minutes, as the sun rose, the moon progressively darkened more than more of the solar surface. Suddenly at 6:50 the last brilliant streak of sunlight vanished and the glowing solar corona ringed the moon.

"Several astronomers noted the so-called Bailey's Beads effect when an instant before totality the sun shone in long streaks through deep valleys on the edge of the moon."

On the earth below, the dawn-bright landscape turned to night again as the sun disappeared.

It was so dark at noon on the streets of Las Palmas, Canary Islands, that vehicles had to use their headlights.

In many other parts of the world, partial eclipses were seen.

In the Western Hemisphere, the eclipse was visible in varying degrees from Greenland to Florida and as far west as Michigan.

In the Canary Islands, where scientists from five nations gathered to study the eclipse, it could be seen through breaks in scattered clouds.

Watchman Caught With Shoes Off

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) — Night watchman Willie Gole walked softly — and that might have been the reason two thieves were able to steal several dozen doughnuts from the restaurant he keeps an eye on.

Gole told police he saw the two snatch boxes of doughnuts left by a bakery driver outside the door.

He couldn't give chase, said Gole, because he had his shoes off.

Dallas Case Jurisdiction Is Denied

EASTLAND (AP) — The 11th Texas Appeals Court upheld today a lower court which refused to accept jurisdiction in the Dallas school system integration dilemma.

The board thus has no legal guidance on whether it should follow Federal Court orders to integrate or follow state laws which call for civil and criminal penalties [illegible] without a favorable referendum.

The appeals court agreed with a Dallas District Court that the school system and its board have yet suffered no penalties and thus no controversy legally exists.

The board earlier indicated it planned to appeal the case as high as possible, which would be to the Texas Supreme Court, if it obtained no guidance in the appeals court.

A Federal District Court also has refused to accept jurisdiction.

Both the federal and state suits were filed by the board to seek guidance on which authority it must follow the United States or Texas.

The board is under federal court order to integrate "with all deliberate speed," but no date has been named.

Kids In Roy Hit Jackpot This Year

ROY, N.M. (AP) — Kids in Roy really hit the jackpot this year.

Last summer the town's water supply failed and Saturday night baths were forgone for a couple of weeks.

Now new troubles have beset this cowtown—the school's furnace is on the blink.

The state health department called the leaky old furnace a definite hazard and closed the school Thursday.

Producer's Wife Is Suing For Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Movie producer Howard W. Hawks' wife is suing for divorce and asking that he be restrained from spending community assets on his racing stable.

The complaint, charging physical and mental cruelty, was filed Thursday.

Mrs. Hawks, 31, a former model, asked $3,450 monthly temporary alimony and custody of their son, Gregg Kenneth, 4.

The couple married in 1953. Hawks is 63.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. Francisco Lopez, Gen. Del., are parents of a son weighing eight pounds and six ounces born at 8:21 p.m. Thursday at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Rie Denies Slayer Role

NEW YORK (AP)—Radio operator Willem Van Rie said today he is perfectly willing to face Boston charges in the death of pretty Lynn Kauffman because "I have nothing to fear."

Van Rie, 30, has acknowledged a shipboard romance with the 23-year-old woman during a voyage from Singapore on the Dutch freighter Utrecht. But he insists he had nothing to do with her mysterious death.

"I did not murder her," he asserted in a statement issued through his attorneys today.

"The last time I saw her, she was in her room. She wasn't even unconscious."

Miss Kauffman's body washed up on an island in Boston harbor Sept. 19. She had disappeared the night before as the ship was sailing for Brooklyn.

The vessel's radio operator, who has a wife in Holland, was arrested here Tuesday after an investigation by Boston authorities. He is being held without bail, pending a hearing on a Boston warrant charging him with being a fugitive from murder.

Taken To Abilene

L. C. Carmichael was taken from Cogdell Memorial Hospital here this morning to Hendricks Memorial Hospital in Abilene by Bolger ambulance.

Juan D. Peron was overthrown as President of Argentina on Sept. 19, 1955.

It's wise to package the lunchbox foods attractively, using waxing paper sandwich bags, cellophane or foil wrap, adding gaily decorated paper napkins. It's also important to keep the lunchbox fresh. Just rinsing isn't enough. After washing, rinse out both with a solution of baking soda, then follow with a fresh water rinse.

Who will eat my bread?

Remember the Little Red Hen who asked for help in planting, harvesting, and grinding her wheat? No one would help so she did the work herself. But when she asked "Who will eat my bread?" . . . they were all willing to assist.

Texans find food for thought in this familiar nursery tale. Back when our rural community had no electricity, poles had to be set and the lines strung to pierce the darkness. No one was willing to do the work so rural people formed electric cooperatives and built their own electric systems. But now that the hard work has been done would you deny these democratic institutions the fruits of their labors?

We feel that the locally owned, business managed, tax paying Texas Electric Cooperatives should harvest the fields they have been cultivating for two decades. The Electric Cooperatives of Texas brought a new way of life to our rural community. . . . . They should continue to serve the areas they helped to develop.

COLLARS do new tricks in sweaters for campus wear this fall. Among the collar cues rating highest marks with the college crowd are fluffy looped shawl styles, shaggy Raggedy Anns, trim middy squares, king-size cape collars and raccoon-framed hoods that can be worn over the shoulders or pulled over the head.

Sweaters are the backbone of every college girl's wardrobe—in textured bulky units, brushed mohairs, looped knits and fur blends worn with color-cordinated skirts, shorts or slacks, they're a campus must.

Handsome dimensional tweedy knits, bold harlequin patterns and bright colors enliven the outdoor scene. Softly detailed pullovers are mated with tweed or flannel skirts for classroom wear. Wonderful fuzzy mohairs, deeply scooped and collared, in high colors such as hot pink or curry, make a splash for dress-up o asions.

Best news of all in American wool-knit sweaters today is easy washability with the scientific cold-water soaps, specially formulated for wools. What's more, the wool usually has been permanently moth-proofed in the dyeing process.

HONOLULU (AP) — Walking is not considered a means of exercise in Indonesia — it's a necessity and a means of moving from one place to another. There's too much walking in Honolulu.

This was the way two Indonesian women lawyers summed up their visit to Hawaii with aching feet.

Trudging across the University of Hawaii campus, Tapi Omas Simatupang, 29, and Hoo Nio Tan, 28, have had a tiring sample of the popular exercise here.

In Indonesia, the two women explained, nobody walks anywhere because transportation is cheap and plentiful. For only a few cents, they can take a pedicab, called the "betja," any distance in Jakarta.

"The climate is so hot and the transportation so cheap, everyone is lazy," said Hoo Nio.

But she did add that much walking is done in homes.

The women are attending orientation classes at the university.

Arms Proposal 'Loaded'

THE HOUSTON CHRONICLE:

Did Premier Khrushchev's speech on disarmament to the United Nations represent "the most spectacular peace movement on record" which Dimitri Manuilsky predicted in 1930 the Soviets would launch some day? With electrifying overtures and unheard-of concessions" that would put the "stupid and decadent" capitalist countries to sleep and cause them to rejoice to co-operate in their own destruction.

Khrushchev's proposal has its superficial attractiveness of course as would any plan for general disarmament. But there is only a complete package whereby the free nations would be almost entirely disarmed while Russia, with its still huge conventional forces, would have Western Europe at its mercy after American troops were withdrawn and nuclear weapons and air forces have been abolished.

The free world won't fall for such a proposal in the light of Russia's past aggressions and in view of the loopholes contained in it, notably the Reds' obdurate refusal to permit inspection and their misuse of the veto power in the security council.

We can only judge the future by the past. Russia did not disarm after World War II while all other nations did. Russia is guilty of innumerable aggressions, some direct, some indirect. The Soviet leaders always have said that one system, communism or the free way of life, would destroy the other. To quote Manuilsky again, "War to the hilt between communism and capitalism is inevitable." As long as the Reds believe that, any "peace proposal" they make will be phony.

Movie Set Is Lure To Satchel Paige

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Leroy (Satchel) Paige is Hamlet with a baseball.

"To be, or not to be, an actor" —that is the problem of baseball's famous Negro pitcher.

The greatest barnstorming hurler the game ever knew has fallen in love with the movie industry after playing his first role. He is featured as a post-Civil War U.S. Cavalry sergeant.

"It was all new to me," confessed Ole Satch. "I had nothing but a baseball in my hand for the last 35 years.

"The hardest part was learning to cry. In one part, after burying three of my buddies, I had to cry. It wasn't easy. It's been many a year since anyone ever saw me cry.

"Buit pitchef - makin' is fascinatin,' particularly when you see how they make the wind blow and the rain fall, and then put the whole thing together. I'd like to do more of it if they want me."

But Paige also still loves baseball, and clings to a thread of hope that the big leagues will summon him again.

Satch, one of 14 children, quit school in the eighth grade to play ball. He had a tremendous career, but it wasn't until 1948, in the twilight of his prime, that he had a few brief seasons in the big time with the Cleveland Indians and the St. Louis Browns.

His furrowed face and wire-thin frame—he stands 6 feet 3½—give him the look of an aging gnome on stilts. But he retains a great individual dignity, based on an unshakeable confidence in his ability.

His midnight - colored hair has no streaks of gray. Although the record books list his birthdate as July 7, 1906, he still likes to make a mystery of his age.

"I'm somewhere between 40 and 60," he said. "If I told anybody my real age, they wouldn't believe it. Nobody in the world would.

There is no doubt, however, that whether he's 53 or older, the legendary hurler is one of the most durable players who ever knuckled horsehide.

"They pamper players today," he said mildly. "When I started there wasn't much money around, and we had to play for the real love of it.

"This year I pitched in 75 games. The scouts tell me I still can throw a faster ball than any man in either league. I'm good for two or three innings any day. But they tell me it wouldn't look right for a young pitcher to be pulled out of a game and replaced by a man old enough to be his daddy. It would shame their spirit."

Satch is noted for his colorful phrases, such as his advice, "Never look behind you. Something may be gaining on you."

Asked his secret of durability, Satch said: "Get your rest, eat light, keep busy, and don't agitate yourself if you want to stay activefied. I could tell you I did it by eating radishes, but it's the Man upstairs who keeps me moving around.

"Never let your head hang down. Never give up and sit down and grieve. Find another way. And don't pray when it rains if you don't pray when the sun shines."

Paper can now be made from all cellulose fibers which come from wood, linen, paper, rayon, etc. But, in 1955 wood pulp and waste paper comprised 96 per cent of the raw material for new paper.

Red China, U. S. In Absurd Position

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Red China are caught in a myth wrapped in irony within a dilemma.

The myth: This country insists Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists on Formosa are the legitimate government of all China and not the Red Chinese who have now controlled the entire mainland for 10 years.

The irony: This country has pressured Chiang into agreeing he will not try to retake the mainland by force. Without force it seems certain he can never go back to the mainland or conquer its Red masters.

The dilemma: How can this country agree with world communism on world problems—like disarmament—unless Red China, which the United States refuses to recognize, is included?

True, through better relations with the Soviet Union, the United States could settle problems involving only the U.S.S.R. and the West, or instance, Berlin, which has nothing to do with China.

But it seems impossible to think of settlements on world problems without agreement with the Red Chinese. Agreement would almost of necessity require closer relations.

Therefore, if relations with the Soviet Union improve, it seems like relations with Red China will, too, although this will go against the grain of many in this country who are strong for Chiang and violent against the Red Chinese.

A lot of things happened in 1949. This country, which had been giving Chiang billions of dollars in aid while his government was on the mainland, suddenly washed its hands of him. His government was corrupt and his situation hopeless.

That same year the Communists took over the mainland. He fled to Formosa, an island 100 miles away, and set up shop there with the remnants of his government. Even in early 1950 President Truman refused to intervene between him and the Reds who threatened to take Formosa. Truman refused to protect him.

This changed instantly when the Korean War began. Truman ordered protection for Formosa. This has been American policy ever since. The Red Chinese by their subsequent tactics froze this American policy solidly.

They sent "volunteers" into Korea; they were branded aggressors by the United Nations; they still hold American prisoners; they have repeatedly shelled Formosa; they continually threaten to retake it.

Although 32 nations have recognized the Red regime, this country not only refuses to do so but has been able to keep the Reds out of the United Nations.

Only a few weeks ago in the U.N. this country blasted Red China in these words: "In nine years it has promoted six foreign or civil wars—Korea, Tibet, Indochina, the Philippines, Malayan, and Laos. It has fought the United Nations."

Last year Secretary of St. John Foster Dulles visited Chiang on Formosa and the two issued a joint statement in which Chiang agreed he would not try to use force to retake the mainland and throw out the Reds.

It was clear why. The United States wouldn't help him make the try. Without such help he could do nothing. Thus, in effect, he agreed to die of old age on Formosa, while claiming to be the rightful master of the mainland.

Thus the United States and Red China are, in an almost absurd historical position.

Tax Bills Due To Continue Rising

NEW YORK (AP) — Think your tax bill is high? Just wait, Brother, you haven't seen anything yet.

Federal taxes have leveled off —except for that boost in the gasoline tax. But state and local expenses continue to rise—and that adds up in the end to only one thing: Higher taxes.

If you live in a city, the landlord is likely to come around and say the rent must go up because the property tax has risen.

If you live in large or small communities you are told that the school tax must go up because there are so many more children, that the property tax must go up because there is so much more need for services, and that the sales tax must go up, too, because there are so many more public employes to be paid.

In states that have income taxes the story is the same.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics in Washington takes note of the national trend in its living cost index. One of the reasons the general index continues to rise, despite occasional temporary relief from seasonal drops in food prices is that taxes are on the upgrade.

The Department of Commerce reports that taxpayers are turning over a record 16 billion in taxes to the states in which they live.

A pricate research group, the Tax Foundation, notes that in the last six years state spending has risen from 13 billion dollars a year to more than 22 billion, and that local spending has shot up from 15 billion to 25 billion dollars.

The fast growth in population gets most of the blame. But there are other factors. The increased cost of materials, higher pay scales for government employes, and a big jump in the number of these public servants.

The number of federal civilian workers has leveled off at roughly 2¼ million. But the number of employes at the state and local government levels continues to rise. It is now around six million, almost double what it was at the end of World War II.

This rise in the total on the payrolls has been accompanied, quite understandably, by a climb in the pay per person.

Combined with what state and local authorities pay out for new facilities, this has pushed spending to its record level. It seems sure that the spending will hit a new high in the present fiscal period.

It will still outstrip the income derived from rising taxes. It will be met by more borrowing. Sometime the taxpayer will have to foot the bill.

The answers: One is to cut spending. The other is to raise taxes.

Neither is politically popular. But some day one or the other must be faced.

To coin a most applicable slogan, the Dodgers were as frustrated as a bunch of guys trying to put toothpaste back in the tube yesterday. A very anemic showing at the plate of the West Coast representatives, who scrambled, faltered, failed to hit in the clutch, and fielded like bush leaguers.

A complete reversal of form is in order if they are to keep their heads above water, but it's still an infant series and such a reversal is definitely within the realm of possibility. It's true that "one game does not a series make," but needless to say, the Sox cleared an awfully big psychological barrier yesterday in the trouncing.

Big Third Inning Humiliates LA

THAT BIG seven-run third inning was a nightmare of blunders for Los Angeles, the kind you dream about after you've eaten one too many enchiladas the evening before. Started out tame enough as Luis Aparicio lined out. But if anyone had suggested that Luis would also be responsible for the second out of the inning, he would have no doubt been branded somewhat of a crackpot. However, that's just what happened.

Little Nellie Fox followed with a double and came home on Jim Landis' single. Then Ted Kluszewski, the big guy with the thigh-sized arms, parked one for two more tallies. This blow brought on the removal of Dodger starter Roger Craig, who stepped down off the mound in favor of Chuck Churn, a side-arm slinger whose pitching motion originates from left field.

The first man to face tobacco-chewing Churn was Sherm Lollar, who looped a lazy can o' corn out to short left center field. Both Wally Moon and Duke Snider claimed squatter's rights on said fly ball, and bumped into each other in an effort to establish their claims. The ball dropped for a two-base bobble charged against Snider. Then Billy Goodman singled sharply to score Lollar, after which Al Smith contributed a two-bagger and went to third on another miscue by Snider, this time on a wild throw-in which skittered past second. Goodman loped home on the blunder.

Continuing, Jim Rivera bounced a dribbler to Neal, whose peg to home plate hit approximately six feet shy, permitting Smith to score. Then, to add insult to injury, pitcher Early Wynn clobbered a couple-bagger to the outer garden, which brought Rivera home.

Haven't forgotten Aparicio and that second out, have you? He and Fox grounded out to end the nightmare.

Sign That Parrot Up, Walt!

IT WAS AN extremely long afternoon for Walt Alston's Dodgers, and a particularly trying time for Duke Snider. In fact that little parrot who came on in the between-inning commercial looked a whole lot better than poor Duke. He (the parrot) strutted around there for a while like he owned the network, then went into his act as he turned a couple of flip-flops, all the while banging out "Look sharp. Feel sharp. Be sharp" on the typewriter. Now, I'll admit that he made two errors (both typographical), just like Duke did, but he did correct both of them, whic is more than Mr. Snider was able to do. And another thing, he was having to jump up and hit the keys with his big toe, which I considered to be an accomplishment of sorts since parrots don't have fingers like people.

Personally, I think that Duke could pick up some helpful pointers from the little rascal if he'd just humble himself enough to ask.

Series Record Falls

LOS ANGELES (AP) — One record gone and more to follow. So it was today as the Dodgers sold out huge Memorial Coliseum for the three World Series games scheduled here.

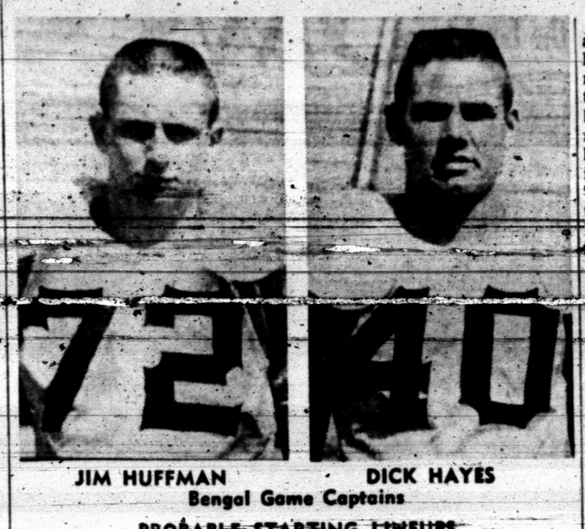

Crowds of 92,000-plus are insured for Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, if the Tuesday game is necessary, and already broken is the paid attendance mark for one Series game.

That was 86,288 for the Boston Braves-at-Cleveland game Oct. 10, 1948.

Havana Leads Series

HAVANA (AP) — Ray Shearer put on a one-man show Thursday night as Havana beat Minneapolis 3-2 in 10 innings and took a 2-1 lead in baseball's Little World Series.

The Havana right fielder singled home a run in the eighth to tie the score a 2-2, got off a beautiful throw to third on Stu Lockins' single in the top of the tenth that cut down Minneapolis' Carl Yastrzemski trying to go from first to third and singled home Tony Gonzalez with the winning run in the last of the 10th with two out.

Bums Giddy After Pasting By Sox

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The Los Angeles Dodgers don't want to be accused of leaving their game in the National League playoffs with the Milwaukee Braves.

After that 11-0 pasting by the Chicago White Sox in the World Series opener Thursday, there was curious reaction in the two teams' dressing rooms.

The Sox, who have waited 40 years for such a moment, generally were a bunch of deadpans. The Dodgers laughed off the whole thing.

"If you think we feel bad now how do you think the Braves feel!" shouted the veteran Dodger utility man, Don Zimmer.

"Yeah, how do you think the Braves feel?" echoed Duke Snider.

The general conclusion was that it seemed to be a heck of a time to bring up the Braves, beaten two straight in the pennant playoffs.

Snider, first baseman Gil Hodges and other old hands of previous Dodger Series grinned as if they had been caught stealing watermelons.

"If we lost 2-1 we would eat our hearts out," said Snider. "But 11-0, hell we just got beat and the best thing to do is grim and bear it."

Nellie Fox, peppery Sox second baseman, was surprised at himself for feeling the Series opener was just another game.

"I've never even seen a World Series game except on TV," he said. "I was expecting to get a little tense, but nothing ever happened. I felt more tension in the pennant race. Of course, playing in your home park might have something to do with it."

Big Ted Kluszewski summed up his reaction in his first World Series game this way:

"Those two homers were the greatest thrill I ever had. But that is as far as my feelings went. I didn't feel like jumping up and down, if you know what I mean. And doggone it, it bothers me. I was expecting that different feeling but nothing happened."

Early Wynn, 39-year-old winning pitcher, just shook his head and said:

"There was no tension. All the guys had made up their minds to go out and give it all they had just like we've done all year. There was a job to do, and we did it. That's all."

Morris Sets Hot Pace In Texas PGA

By B. F. KELLUM

MCALLEN (AP)—Players in the $5,000 Texas Professional Golf Assn. Tournament teed off for the second round today hoping a new course might cool off red-hot Bobby Morris of Dallas.

Morris found the par 72 Shary Municipal Course at Mission to his liking Thursday, firing a 6-under-par 66.

Elroy Marti, Houston veteran, was two strokes off Morris' pace with a 4-under-par 68.

Seven players—including defending champion and favorite Earl Stewart Jr. of Dallas—were in third place with 3-under-par 69s. They included Tod Menefee, San Antonio; James Dixon, Andrews; Doug Higgins, Fort Worth; Tom Burke, Corpus Christi; Palmer Lawrence, Longview and Jake Clark, Alice.

Morris, head pro at the Dallas Country Club and president of the Texas PGA, carded eight birdies while firing a 2-under-par 34 on the front nine and a 4-under-par 32 on the back nine. He bogied two holes.

A huge gallery moaned as Byron Nelson of Roanoke missed the short ones. The veteran campaigner wound up in a four-way tie for fifth place with a one-under-par 71.

Four golfers—LaFayette Franks of Dallas, Cotton Hill of Shreveport, La., Charles Tims of Odessa and Dudley Bell of Houston—were tied for fourth with 2-under-par 70s.

The field of 87 played at the par 71 McAllen Country Club here today and will move back to Mission for the third round Saturday. The final 18 holes will be played here Sunday.

Podres Confident Of LA Triumph

By CHARLES MAHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) —Johnny Podres, the deadpan Dodger who slew the Yankees four years ago, faced a friskier if less frightening sort of dragon today with quietly conveyed confidence that this World Series won't end the way it started.

"I have no idea how many games this thing will go," he said, "but I know we're going to win it. Sure, we got skunked Thursday, but I think our ball club should really be more relaxed right now than we've been all season. We just went through eight real tough games to get into this thing. We won the big ones to get here and I don't see why we can't win 'em now."

Podres, who whipped the Yankees 8-3 and 2-0 in the 1955 Series, scoring the shutout in the seventh and deciding game, acknowledged that today's assignment was one of the most critical of his career.

"But I don't feel any pressure on me," he said. "That is, no more than usual. I know this ball club of ours is going to score some runs, and the Sox aren't going to get 11 every day. We've been coming from behind all year, and we'll do it again."

In the 1955 Series, Podres was facing a team dense with desire to knock down the fence. The White Sox, in spite of their robust behavior Thursday, try to execute a more subtle form of execution — killing you a piece at a time.

Weaver Out, Has Surgery

A severe jolt to Snyder football fortunes was felt when it was learned that halfback John Weaver was forced to enter Methodist Hospital for surgery on an injured shoulder.

The injury was sustained last week in the Big Spring game, it being a shoulder bone separation.

Weaver is presently confined in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock and was to have undergone surgery at 10:00 this morning.

"It takes a worried man to sing a worried song." Or so states a little musical ditty which is currently issuing forth from most of the country's juke boxes. If such be the case, then there are three such men right here in Snyder who have justifiable cause to be crooning just that type of song today. These three men are none other than Tiger Head Coach John Conley and his two assistant mentors, Elvasee Bertish and Don Robbins.

For since this time last week the injury list has skyrocketed, and several of the local grid warriors will find themselves involuntarily sitting out the Permian game in Odessa tonight. Halfback is the position which is in saddest shape, in that Jesse Crawford is the only boy available to spell Jim Fitzgerald and Marcus Strickland, who will be starting at the halfback slots. Other halfbacks not slated to see action will be Spencer Dyer, who is out with a broken arm, John Weaver, who is plagued by a shoulder separation, and junior Perry Culwell. Also, fullback Wayne Berry will see little or no action, as he fell victim to a sprained knee this past week.

In addition to the injury-riddled backfield, a key lineman has been placed on the doubtful list due to a severe cold. He's starting offensive guard Tommy Minton, who is also the Tigers' kickoff specialist.

The Panthers of Permian will enter the game tonight in quest of their first victory of the season, a very misleading factor. For their losses have all been to strong AAAA teams—Pasadena, Amarillo Tascosa and Lubbock Monterey—and all have been by narrow margins. The Tigers sport a 2-1 record, having rolled over Andrews and Big Spring following an opening game loss to Borger.

Defensively, Coach Conley has indicated that he will start Charlie Gladson and Stanley Woolever at the ends, will have Barry Walker, Jim Robinson and Mike Moffett backing the line, with Jim Huffman and Reg Scarborough holding down the tackle slots, Dave Wiman the middle guard, and Crawford, Hayes and Strickland patrolling the outer pastures of the secondary. The offensive lineup will read as stated, with the possible exception of Woolever in at right tackle instead of Johnny Richardson.

Tickets for the 8 o'clock clash will remain on sale at the Administration Building until 5 this evening, and a good turnout of local fans is expected to make the trip over to the Oil City to witness the proceedings.

Jr. High Teams Show Up Well

Snyder's Eighth Graders continued their winning ways last night in Big Spring, as they downed the Runnels bunch, 16-0.

The first TD culminated a 60-yard drive early in the second quarter, as Ygnacio Benites plowed over from two yards out, then added the extra points for an 8-0 bulge.

Snyder's other touchdown belonged to Benites, too, as he skirted left end on a 60-yard scoring scamper. Edward Schultz ran over the conversion.

Playing conditions were on the miserable side of things during the game, as water was standing over a lot of the field.

Runnels' most serious threat was stymied when, with first and goal to go on Snyder's five yard line and the score standing 8-0, a Big Spring bobble was recovered by the locals, thus preserving the shutout.

In another game against Runnels Travis' Seventh Graders had an old-fashioned defensive battle, while winning by 8-0.

The only touchdown of the contest was scored in the second quarter on a 55-yard jaunt by halfback Leslie Brown, with Tommy LaFountain running over the extra points.

The only other big gainer of the game came on the final play, as Brown raced 30 yards before being bounced out of bounds on the Big Spring 20-yard line.

Good, aggressive defensive play was the keynote of the game, with the local line performing very well throughout.

In a game played in soggy Tiger Stadium last night, Lamar's Seventh Graders fashioned a storybook finish against Sweetwater, as they scored two fourth quarter touchdowns and salvaged a 14-14 tie.

Sweetwater mounted the point-producing bandwagon early, as they took to the air and scored two touchdowns on 30-yard passes in the first quarter. And that's how things stood going into the final stanza, as Lamar started to make some static of their own.

Halfback Jay Williamson counted first, as he barrelled around end on a 10-yard scoring jaunt, with the extra point try failing. Then, following the ensuing kickoff, the visitors bobbled on the first play attempted, after which Fullback Tom Kincaid tallied on a four-yard run. Kincaid also added the two all-important extra points on a run around left end, which upped the count to a final 14-all.

SWC Bracing For A Wicked Weekend

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Baylor, which probably would have preferred to have a breather, tries to stop mighty Louisiana State Saturday for the honor of the Southwest Conference.

Most critics view it as hunting with the switch and the Golden Bears have the switch—a team as inexperienced as LSU is experienced. This game features a gaudy intersectional schedule in which the league will be pressed to do better than break even.

Southern Methodist tries unbeaten Navy at Dallas, Rice rolls against Duke at Durham, N.C., Texas hosts California, Texas Tech meets Tulsa at home and Texas A&M goes to Mobile to tackle giant-killer Mississippi Southern.

The league already is ahead in intersectional football for the season with an 8-3 record but two of its members have taken lickings from LSU—Rice and TCU.

Top-ranked SMU also was upset by Georgia Tech.

Fogbound Locals Shutout

It was a spooky, eerie evening last night at Tiger Stadium, as a heavy fog curled and swirled over the playing area; engulfing players and fans alike. And Sweetwater's and Midland's goblins gobbled up Snyder's Freshman and "B" Teams, respectively, to add to the effect.

The Fish went under by 42-0, as they fell victim to a terrific first half on the part of the Sweetwater lads. Snyder played them on even terms the second half, but the damage had been done prior to this time, thanks to a big 26-point first quarter on the part of the junior Mustangs.

In this wild ten minutes of play, the visitors scored twice on long passes from Stewart to Young, the first covering 65 yards and the other 42. Sweetwater's radar must have gone had at that time, for they groped their way to the rest of their TD's via the land route. These came as the result of first quarter runs of 58 yards by Young and 30 by Bradberry, a second quarter run of 87 yards by Bardberry, and a four-yard scamper in the final stanza by Martin, with only 0:37 left in the game.

The locals' offense was spotty, but looked good on several occasions, as some fine runs were chalked up.

The "B" Teamers played a bang-up game in their clash against Midland before going down, 8-0. Most of the play in this game took place between the 20's, and heads-up ball was displayed on the part of the locals in their losing efforts.

The sole touchdown of the game was made in the early stages of the second quarter, as Weems swept end for the final 14 yards needed. Schreiner ran over the extra point to cap off the scoring for the evening.

The rest of the contest was a see-saw affair, with neither team being able to muster up a successful scoring drive.

Chief ball carriers for the locals were fullback Bob Pena and halfback Joshua Johns, with Eddie Phy and Steve Free originating the plays as alternate men under.

Two Pee-Wee Games Slated Tomorrow

Inclement weather forced the postponement of the scheduled Pee Wee clash between the Bears and the Hotshots yesterday, but play will resume tomorrow morning at the Central Elementary Field.

A doubleheader will be reeled off at that time, with the Frogs testing the Hotshots at 9:30, and the undefeated Bears going against the Colts at 11:00.

McM Sets NAIA Pace

KANSAS CITY (AP)—East Texas State, Lamar Tech and McMurry College drew a lot of NAIA football attention this week.

East Texas was No. 1 and Lamar Tech No. 2 in the first NAIA poll. McMurry led the NAIA in total offense with 457 yards per game, standing fifth in passing with 177.6 and ninth in rushing with 279.7.

McMurry was ranked sixth in the poll. Texas A&I ranked fifteenth.

Terry O'Brien of McMurry stood fourth in total offense with 173.3 yards per game and fifth in passing with 151.3.

TCU-Arkansas—Hard to figure but TCU is a hesitant choice.

Navy-SMU—SMU by a touchdown.

Rice-Duke—Everybody else is taking Duke, there's one vote for Rice.

Texas-California—This looks like Darrell Royal's best team at Texas; California doesn't appear up to making it tough.

Tech-Tulsa—Tech could be riding for a fall after winning two but the choice is Tech.

A&M-Mississippi Southern—Be ware of the outfit that likes to knock over the top boys but A&M ought to make it.

TCU-Arkansas—Hard to figure but TCU is a hesitant choice.

Texas, which hasn't been scored on in its last three games; Tech, which has won two this season; A&M, which surprised by toppling Michigan State last week, and SMU, despite its opening loss, are favored to win their games but the margin isn't high except in the case of Texas.

Duke is a mild favorite over Rice and LSU is a top-heavy choice over Baylor.

TCU vs. Arkansas is a tossup.

The average took a sharp dip last week when only four selections came through out of seven. So, hopefully:

LSU-Baylor—Baylor can't do it but it would be the upset of the year if it did.

Huh? Trojans Favored Over Big 10 Buckeyes

By JACK CLARY
Associated Press Sports Writer

For the Dodgers to play in a World Series is nothing new. But for Southern California or any of its West Coast brethen to be favored over a Big Ten football team these days is remarkable.

That's the case tonight when Ohio State goes into the Los Angeles Coliseum as a two-point underdog against the Trojans.

The Trojans have run by their first two opponents — Oregon State 27-6 and Pitt 23-0 — in easy fashion.

Ohio State edged Duke in the final two minutes 14-13 last week. The Bucks beat USC 20-7 in the 1954 Rose Bowl and layed a 13-13 tie in their only other recent meeting.

Kentucky, loser of its first two Southeastern Conference games, moves to Detroit tonight to play the University of Detroit, which won its first two games.

The other major action tonight finds West Virginia at George Washington trying to protect its Southern Conference winning streak of 29 games.

The Big ten has a real dogfight of its own to top Saturday's national card when Northwestern travels to Iowa. Both won decisively last week, Northwestern 45-13 over Oklahoma, and Iowa 42-12 over California.

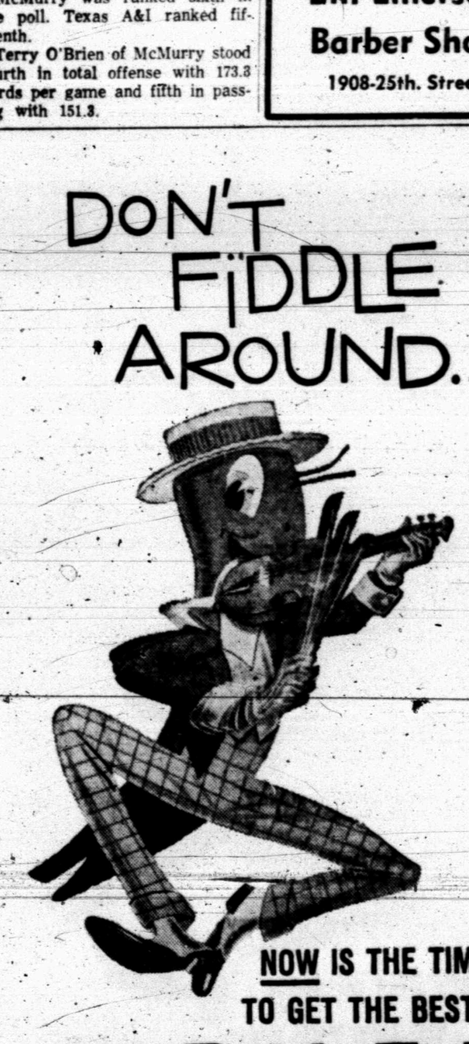

The rest of the big activity is in the South and Southwest. Top-ranked Louisiana State meets Baylor of the Southwest Conference at Shreveport, Louisiana, the Tigers third consecutive SWC foe. They licked the other two — Rice and Texas Christian. Baylor won its only start.

Georgia Tech, which established itself as a contender for LSU's Southeastern Conference title with its 16-14 upset of Southern Methodist last week, meets sixth-ranked Clemson, the best of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

California travels to Austin, Tex. to meet unbeaten (2-0) and unscored upon Texas in the national TV game (NBC-TV, 4:30 p. m. EST). The Longhorns are ranked 10th in the latest Associated Press poll.

Third-ranked Mississippi figures to have an easy time with Memphis State. Tennessee (No. 9), which broke Auburn's unbeaten string at 24 last week, plays Mississippi State in a SEC affair.

Army (No. 4) invades the Big Ten to play Illinois. Eighth-ranked Notre Dame goes downstate a bit to play Indiana neighbor Purdue.

THE REV. LESTER ROLOFF
. . .to speak here

Guest Speaker At Calvary Baptist

Evangelist Lester Roloff, pastor of the Alameda Baptist Church in Corpus Christi, will speak Monday and Tuesday nights at the Calvary Baptist Church here.

He will speak at 7:30 p.m. on each of the two evenings at the local church, which is located at 2300 Thirty-fifth Street.

Rev. Roloff is heard daily over 31 radio stations in seven different states and one in Puerto Rico. The programs are known as "The Family Altar."

Rev. Roloff is founder of "The City Of Refuge" seven miles from Austin, an institution to treat alcholics and care for derelicts and unfortunate people. He also founded "The Lighthouse" to care for juvenile delinquents. The Lighthouse is a houseboat located some 40 miles down the intercoastal canal adjoining the King Ranch.

A big bunkhouse has been built in connection with the Lighthouse which has allowed more room for the work and the boys.

The Roloff Evangelistic Enterprises hope to begin an old folks home in the near future.

Rev. Roloff is a pilot and flies to most of his appointments.

CROP Plans To Be Made

A meeting of ministers and youth leaders of churches of Scurry County will be held at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon in the banquet room of the First Baptist Church to plan this year's CROP Halloween activities.

Through sponsorship of the Christian Rural Overseas Program, youths of Scurry County started last year an annual fund drive each Holloween, instead of the usual trick-or-treat.

Jerry Edwards, chairman of the Junior Chamber of Commerce CROP committee, said the program is sponsored jointly by the Jaycees and the Snyder Ministerial Alliance.

Youths who participate in the drive collect donations for CROP instead of taking candy or other treats when they knock on doors Halloween night," he said.

The money collected is used to purchase government surplus food and other surpluses for distribution to needy people throughout the world.

The Rev. Harry Vanderpool, pastor of the First Methodist Church, is the Ministerial Alliance's chairman for CROP.

The Sunday afternoon meeting will be held to organize the campaign this year, and to divide participating youths into groups so that all of the Snyder area will be covered, Edwards said.

UNEQUALLY YOKED TOGETHER

(Question) "What does it mean to be 'Unequally yoked together'?"

(Answer) To be unequally yoked is to be so associated that a great burden will be placed upon the believer in Christ. It would cause undue hardship upon the Christian and place him at a disadvantage in trying to serve the Lord. It could be in business wherein an unprincipled associate would urge and have the power to force a Christian into unlawful practices. It might be in the marriage bond where a Christian is bound to an unbeliever. Paul says, "Be not unequally yoked with unbelievers: for what fellowship have righteousness and iniquity? or what communion hath light with darkness? and what concord hath Christ with Belial? or what portion hath a beleiver with an unbeliever? and what agreement hath a temple of God with idols?" (1 Cor. 6:14-16) I do not believe that this urges a Christian husband or wife to depart from their unbelieving mates without a great effort to convert them. "If any brother hath an unbelieving wife, and she is content to dwell with him, let him not leave her. And the woman that hath an unbelieving husband and he is content to dwell with her, let her not leave her husband. For the unbelieving husband is sanctified in the wife, and the unbelieving wife is sanctified in the brother: else were your children unclean; but now are they holy." (1 Cor. 7:12-14) Each Christian as such, might win their unbelieving mate by their chaste behavior after having humbly presented the plea of Christ. (1 Peter 3:1-6)
