Cabinet Member Dies Of Heart Attack Today

Secretary, Ill With "Gastro-Intestinal Upset" Since Last Week, Was Veteran Of Spanish-American, First World Wars

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 28—Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox, 70, died at 1:08 p.m. (EWT), today at his Washington home from a heart attack.

The Navy secretary became ill last week.

The death of the secretary was announced to the Navy throughout the world by Acting Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal.

Know was stricken with a "gastro-intestinal upset" while attending the funeral in Manchester, N. H., last week of J. A. Muehling, his business partner for the last 40 years. He returned to his office Tuesday morning but about two hours later became ill and went to his home. The secretary suffered a severe heart attack as he prepared to go to bed Tuesday afternoon.

Pause In Respect

Forrestal, in announcing the death over the Navy's loud speaker system, asked all department employes, many of whom were at lunch in cafeterias, to pause in their activities in respect to Knox.

Knox had been in the cabinet since July 11, 1940. President Roosevelt summoned him to serve, as France fell, in the critical month of June 1940 at the same time he asked Henry L. Stimson to become secretary of war. Both men were Republican leaders, Knox having been his party's vice-presidential nominee in 1936.

His death on the eve of the European invasion prevented the rounding out of an official career that began with the defeated Allied forces of the world falling back across the channel into England, spanned four years of slow recovery made possible by America's entrance into the war and came finally to the apparent verge of the last great phase before victory.

Never Doubted Victory

Knox never doubted that the United States and its allies would be victorious if they moved fast enough and armed in time. In a sense he "qualified" for the cabinet by preaching American preparedness in pre-war years and by early advocating that this country take its stand firmly with the forces opposing world fascism. A long-time critic of President Roosevelt's domestic policy before the war, he saw eye-to-eye with the President on all vigorous foreign policy measures.

Navy Opposes One Command

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, April 28—Acting Secretary of the Navy James V. Forrestal today opposed consolidation of the armed services into a single department of national defense with a warning that "size is no guaranty of efficiency."

His views, clashing directly with those of Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson and other high Army officials, were expressed before the select House committee on postwar military policy, now studying the proposed Army-Navy merger and related problems.

Opposes Complete Control

Opposing any step that would threaten complete Navy control over its air arm, Forrestal declared it would not be wise to press for immediate merger legislation at a time when the nation was confronted with complicated and important military operations.

He explained his position with an analogy between the proposal and the experience of big corporations in the matter of consolidation.

"I think any executive of a great corporation resulting from consolidation will tell you how difficut it is to preserve the vitality and initiative of these units which as separate entities had those qualities," he said. "Once swallowed in the amorphous mass of a new organization they are apt to be

Easing Of Pay Bans Is Urged

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 28—Abandonment of federal wage controls over incomes up to $150 a month for single workers and $200 for family heads was urged today by a special Senate committee which pictured 20,000,000 persons in white collar and low income groups as living now "between subsistence and privation."

The subcommittee headed by Senator Pepper (D-Fla) recommended that the War Labor board relax the little steel formula to allow employers to raise salaries or wages up to those levels without WLB approval.

In addition, the group called for increased funds for the Office of Price administration to enforce more rigid price controls and check "the present inflationary trend."

"Inflation Already Started"

Listing clerks, teachers, stenographers, local government employes, pensioners and veterans' dependents as among those hardest hit by increased living costs, the report said that for them "inflation has already begun."

Testimony taken during two months of hearings showed that the low income groups "dwell constantly in a borderland between subsistence and privation, where even the utmost thrift and caution do not suffice to make ends meet," the subcommittee found, adding:

"Their standards of dress and nutrition, their continued education, their health safeguards, and such modest security as they have

Allies Complete 5-Day Invasion Of Hollandia

Air Bases Seized; Both Sides Are Set For Fight In India

BY RICHARD C. BERGHOLZ
Associated Press War Editor

The five-day conquest of the big Japanese air base at Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, was marked "completed" today by Gen. Douglas MacArthur without a single show of strong enemy resistance, but the Japanese apparently don't intend to give up so easily in their faltering invasion of India.

Southeast Asia Allied headquarters reported heavy Allied reinforcements are pouring into the Kohima sector, advance point of the enemy's Indian drive, and Tokyo radio said Nipponese troops have launched a general offensive at Kohima. Allied and enemy planes were active.

Four Airdromes Won

In five days, MacArthur's forces on New Guinea have won three airdromes at Hollandia within bombing range of the southern Philippine islands, plus one at Aitape 150 miles southeast and another at Madang, 280 miles farther southeast. In addition, MacArthur announced the fall of Alexishafen, 10 miles north of Madang.

Only 274 Japanese were killed and two dozen captured in the five-day campaign, MacArthur said. Three thousand veteran enemy marines had been drawn out of the Hollandia area by pre-invasion feints and probably more than 4,000 fled to the hills rather than battle invading Americans.

The commanding general of the Allied troops at Aitape estimated 51,000 Japanese are trapped in a 200-mile stretch of coastal area southeast of Aitape.

Wewak Airfields Blasted

Fifth Air force planes, already operating from the Hollandia airdromes, staged a 60-ton raid on the four Wewak airfields 250 miles southeast of Hollandia and a Navy Liberator bomber sank 10 troop-laden enemy barges, two cargo ships, fired two fishing boats and shot down an enemy bomber 700 miles northwest of Hollandia.

Other Allied planes ranged far into the Central Pacific to blast Woleai atoll in the western Carolines and Truk and Satawan in the Carolines.

Presaging mighter blows against Japan's Pacific defenses, MacArthur and Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, Allied commander-in-chief of the Pacific, conferred prior to the Hollandia invasion to achieve "a maximum of cooperative effort" in the two commanders' converging operations.

Lt. Marshall Formby Not To Be Candidate

Lt. Marshall Formby, state Senator from this district, who is serving in the Army "somewhere in England," will not be a candidate for re-election in the 1944 elections, he has announced through his secretary at Austin.

"Naturally, it is with deep regret that I decide not to run again, for my service in the Senate was an enjoyable experience," Senator Formby's statment said. "However, I feel that our district will need someone present in Austin throughout the session in 1945."

Senator Formby was elected to the Senate in 1940. He enlisted in the Army as a private in 1942 and is now serving as a lieutenant in the U. S. Corps of Engineers in England.

Civilian Production Depends On Success Of Coming Invasion

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Success of the Allied nations in the approaching invasion of Europe may turn more than a third of America's war production into the manufacture of civilian goods.

When Japan is the only major enemy left in the fighting, says Charles E. Wilson, War Production board executive vice chairman, "35 per cent of the productive capacity now tied up with war work will be available for peacetime production."

Limited Production Possible

But he added that, until Germany collapses, "only very limited civilian production will be possible," and there was emphasis on this point from Wilson's chief, WPB Chairman Donald Nelson who declared that the WPB was "not going to do one single thing that would interfere with the war effort."

The outline of production plans and aims was given at a meeting with the newly formed automobile labor advisory committee of seven CIO and AFL leaders.

The WPB officials said the labor leaders conceded that plans for the eventual conversion of the automobile industry from wartime to peacetime production must be made now but agreed that civilian cars may not yet take their place on the assembly lines.

Paris Area Target For 14th Straight Day Of Bombings

Points Off Of 8 Vegetables

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Tomatoes, corn, beets, asparagus and four other vegetables will be added Sunday to the list of processed foods housewives may buy without ration stamps.

May values announced today by the Office of Price administration include a zero point rating for canned spinach, leafy vegetables, blackeye peas and garbanzo beans, a foreign dish ingredient.

The move making eight additional vegetables point-free was taken to clear store shelves for the new season's pack, now in production.

"Bargain Sale"

"The present low values on canned vegetables may be compared to an old-fashioned year-end bargain sale," said OPA Administrator Chester Bowles. "When the supply of 'point bargains' has disappeared, higher 'point prices' will have to be restored to spread new supplies evenly through the year."

Current values on No. 2 can sizpes of the more important vegetables made point-free are: Tomatoes, 8 points; corn, 8 (vacuum packed 6); asparagus, 10; beets, 3; leafy greens, 4, and spinach, 6.

In other changes in processed food values, reductions are ordered for all condensed and concentrated soups, the type generally sold. From the current four-point value on 10½-ounce cans, two points are trimmed for clam chowder and other seafood soups, while all other kinds are cut one point.

Big Aircraft Exhibit Is Opened In Dallas

DALLAS, April 28 (U.P) — A $30,000,000 aircraft exhibit opened a three-day showing today with Miss American Aviation, Carolyn Cassidy of Louisville, Ky., cutting the ribbon across the free gate into the mammoth tent housing the Southwest Aircraft and accessories exposition at Mustang airport.

Army, Navy and industrial exhibits will vie with a huge display offered by the Civil Aeronautics administration for interest of aviation enthusiasts, while captured German, Italian and Japanese planes also will be exhibited.

High-ranking military officials and representatives of the 21 Latin American nations will attend the show, while Sunday will find more than 50 of the nation's aviation writers on hand as one stop of their flying inspection trip of the Southwest.

Allied Bombings Near Pitch Of 8 Tons A Minute; Big Night Raid Hits Germany

BY PHIL AULT
United Press War Writer

LONDON, April 28.—Allied air fleets bombed France including Nazi broadcasts said, the Paris area today to run the pre-invasion bombardment of Europe into its 14th straight day at a pitch now approaching 500 tons of explosives an hour, or eight tons a minute.

Striking in the wake of a mighty British night assault on Germany, France and Belgium, the daylight raiders swarmed out across the English channel and Straits of Dover despite heavy clouds that in earlier months would have grounded them.

Marauder medium bombers of the 9th U. S. Air force, escorted and covered by RAF and Allied fighters, led the daylight parade with an attack on an airfield in northern France, followed by Flying Fortresses that raided another airdrome at Avord, 130 miles south of Paris.

No Fighters Seen

Fortress crews said they saw no enemy fighters, though they encountered heavy anti-aircraft fire. 1st Lt. Mark Wilson of Alamosa, Colo., said the raid obliterated the target.

Thunderbolt and Mustang fighters escorted the Fortresses, while Lightning fighter-bombers attacked another unidentified airdrome in France.

The Nazi-controlled Paris radio reported Allied air attacks on "numerous localities in northern France and certain objectives in the Paris region."

MacArthur-Nimitz Conference Forged Link In Commands

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, April 28 (AP) — Adm. Chester W. Nimitz and Gen. Douglas MacArthur, who command a giant battle arc extending for 6,000 miles from the recaptured Aleutians to the tip of Japanese-held Java, have emphasized the forging of solid links between their command areas by holding in March hteir first conference of the Pacific war.

One result of their meeting at MacArthur's headquarters for the purpose of achieving "a maximum of cooperative effort" became apparent in the swiftly-concluded invasion of Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea.

Admiral Nimitz' warships helped destroy 101 Japanese planes and provided the curtain of fire under which General MacArthur's soldiers landed with small losses to roll back the feeble opposition. It was the first large-scale use of Admiral Nimitz' fleet in direct support of a MacArthur invasion.

At MacArthur's advance headquarters in New Guinea, Associated Press War Correspondent C. Yates McDaniel wrote today concerning the recent conference that the next step "might place equally strong units of MacArthur's Army and Air forces under Nimitz' command."

MacArthur's and Nimitz' command areas merge at the Solomon islands.

Roaming Alligator Pet Of Dallas Man

DALLAS, April 28 (AP) — A. H. Gist, Dallas attorney, read today of an alligator which has been lolling on the front lawns of an exclusive residential district, and exclaimed: "That's my alligator."

"I gigged him five years ago at Caddo lake and brought him home for a pet," Gist said. "He was a little fellow then — 14 inches long — but he chewed a rope in two and got away."

Dr. I. J. Morris reported that the 'gator, which he said was six feet long, had been sun-bathing on his lawn and that a policeman had taken a shot at it.

"I don't think the buckshot did more than knock out a couple of teeth," the doctor stated. "From the way he cleared those lily pads though, I'd say he was practically scared to death."

Alvin Aly, Highland Park policeman who blazed away at the 'gator with a shotgun said: "He sprang straight up into the air, dived into the lake and that's the last I saw of him."

Aly said the reptile was six feet long.

Gist said he would help hunt the alligator, "but I don't want him back."

Inter-Regional Highway Plan For Texas Is Waiting Approval

AUSTIN, April 28 (AP) — State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer says the highway department will study all existing master city plans and take advantage of all engineering data available before it begins spending money on the proposed inter-regional highway system in Texas.

Speaking to the Texas section of the American Society of Civil engineers, Greer said the department intended to co-operate with city planning organizations in the event the inter-regional plan is ultimately approved by Congress.

Plan Being Formed

Recently at a state highway commission meeting, Chairman Brady Gentry told city representatives that the plan was still in nebulous form.

Greer said the old idea of by-passing cities was being abandoned, and the modern tendency seemed to be to route major highways through city arteries. This, he explained, was because it was found that half the motorists questioned preferred to drive through cities rather than around them.

There will be no over-night wonders accomplished if the inter-regional plan is adopted, he said, adding that its completion might take 20 years.

Move For Probe Of Seizure Is Given Approval

Resolution Pushed Through House Rules Committee And Sent To Floor; Demos And Republicans Join In Demanding Action

(By The Associated Press)

WASHNGTON, April 28—A resolution proposing an investigation of the government's seizure of Montgomery Ward and company's plant at Chicago was pushed through the powerful rules committee of the House today and sent to the floor for consideration.

Bi-partisan support put the resolution offered by Rep. Dewey (R-Ill), through the committee after it had been amended by the rules group to call for a general investigation "with respect to the seizure."

The committee eliminated from the original resolution the words "with a view to determining, among other things, the auhtority in law for such seizure and whether the opinion of the attorney general rendered in connection with such seizure discloses adequate grounds for reaching the conclusion that such seizure was authorized by law."

Select Committee Planned

The resolution would authorize a select committee to conduct the inquiry.

Rules Committee Chairman Sabath (D-Ill) said after the action, "I don't know when the resolution will come up in the House. I'll have to consult with the speaker and by that time I think everything will be settled and adjusted."

Representatives Cox (D-Ga) and Smith (D-Va), co-author of the Smith-Connally act for handling labor disputes, joined with Republican committee members to obtain right-of-way for consideration of Dewey's resolution.

Rep. Dewey (R-Ill), author of the resolution, appeared as the first witness before the committee, declaring the seizure "is a high-handed and un-American procedure."

The resolution would set up a special committee of Congress to investigate the ard seizure.

A.&M. Political Setup Charged

(By The Associated Press)

COLLEGE STATION, April 28—The board of directors of Texas A. & M. college became convinced that the college's far-flung extension service was used as a political machine to help Dr. T. O. Walton, former president of the college, to hold his job, Director Neth L. Leachman of Dallas testified today.

Leachman was a witness at a Senate committee hearing on administrative changes at the college, including the discharge of Dr. Walton and H. H. Williamson as extension servise director last August.

Two Things Cited

"There has been nothing to cause ill feeling or ill will in the whole institution except these two things and they are tied together," Leachman testified, adding:

"Williamson was put in that job to help Dr. Walton hold on to his job."

He asserted the board's effort to remedy political conditions in the extension service had caused a great deal of adverse publicity but "when you have a cancer you must cut it out, suffering the necessary pain."

Answering committee questions, Leachman said the political activity he mentioned was directed only toward Dr. Walton and Williamson holding their jobs, that it was not concerned with races for statewide or district elective offices. Regarding the board's decision not to re-elect Dr. Walton and Williamson, Leachman testified:

Tried To Be Judge

"I've tried to be a judge in the matter and come to a conclusion. The board has to go on the theory that if in its best judgment a change is necessary, then the change should be made. If it did otherwise, it would be derelict in its duties.

"I don't think the legislature is going wild and change all the laws

Ward's Begins Legal Fight

Plant Barred To Top Executives

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 28 — The big Montgomery Ward and company began a legal fight today against government control of its Chicago facilities shortly after two of the firm's top executives — Board Chairman Sewell Avery and President Clement D. Ryan —were barred from their offices.

Wayne C. Taylor, undersecretary of commerce and federal operating manager of the properties, reported soldiers patrolling the buildings had been instructed to keep the two men out on grounds that they "have refused to cooperate with the government."

Dismissal Asked

Company counsel then asked Federal Judge William H. Holly to dismiss an injunction obtained late last night by Attorney General Francis Biddle restraining Ward executives from interfering with government operation of the local plants.

After listening to arguments by the firm's attorneys and Biddle, the judge announced he would hear further pleas Monday and probably would render a decision Tuesday.

The legal attack was based in part on the contention that seizure of the properties in keeping with an order from President Roosevelt was unconstitutional.

The Ward attorneys also stressed the contention that the concern was not engaged in war production.

Immediate Hearing Ordered

The jurist ordered an immediate hearing and subpoenaed Taylor for testimony in litigation stemming from Avery's refusal to extend an expired contract with

Two Fugitives From Chain Gang Caught

Charges will be filed this afternoon against two men identified by police as having broken from an Oklahoma chain gang Tuesday at Granite, Okla., and who were arrested late Thursday night after Little Super-Market at Seventh street and Avenue Q had been burglarized here.

One of them, 27, was discovered hiding in the store by Glynn Hudgens, city-county officer, and Military Policeman Sgt. Pat Davidson, the other hiding nearby. Charles Bowman, store manager, said $4 to $5 was missing from the store and several packages of cigarets. The man in the store had $3.61 in his pockets when arrested. The other, 26, was run down in a foot race.

A third man was sought here, after his escape from officers who blocked streets and alleys soon after getting information of the burglary.

Officials were continuing to investigate possibilities the three men might have abandoned a stolen car here.

Port Neches Visited By Rubber Officials

PORT NECHES, April 28 (U.P)—Col. Bradley Dewey, national rubber administrator, and his traveling party today inspected synthetic rubber factories here.

Dewey was en route to Lake Charles, La., and Florida from Houston, where his party spent yesterday touring rubber plants.

He said he believed that approximately half of the nation's synthetic rubber facilities installed to meet wartime demands could be kept open after the war ends, "particularly low-cost units, like at Port Neches and around Houston."

"WHAT cake, Kate?"

"Why, that wonderful, easy-to-mix cake that everybody's talking about. Just watch me!"

"No creaming?"

"No creaming. And see—the dry ingredients go in all together. What's more—you beat the batter only three minutes!"

"And do you really get good cake?"

"You sure do! If you follow the directions exactly... and use the ingredients called for... you get the loveliest, lightest, finest cake! You know... the kind you always expect from Double-Acting Calumet!

"These new cakes taste even richer ... keep fresh longer, too!"

"Yes, folks, whether you're making one of the new quick-mix cakes, or following one of your old favorite recipes—Calumet's Double-Action is what you need to protect your batter! It works first in the mixing bowl and then in the oven—and those two actions together give you a triumph of fluffy lightness every time!"

TRY THIS CALUMET RECIPE!

Speedy Spice Cake (2 eggs)

2 cups sifted Swans Down Cake Flour (Not ordinary flour)
2 teaspoons Calumet Baking Powder
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups sugar
½ teaspoon each cinnamon, cloves, and allspice
½ cup vegetable shortening
¾ cup milk
2 tablespoons molasses
2 eggs, unbeaten
1 teaspoon vanilla
Praline Topping

• Sift Swans Down Cake Flour once; measure into sifter with baking powder, salt, sugar, and spices. Have shortening at room temperature; stir just to soften. Sift in flour mixture; add ½ of milk, molasses, eggs, and vanilla. Stir until all flour is dampened; then beat 1 minute. Add remaining milk, blend, and beat 2 minutes longer. Grease 10x10x2-inch pan, line bottom with waxed paper, and grease again. Turn batter into pan and bake in moderate oven (350° F.) 40 minutes, or until done.

Spread hot cake carefully with Praline Topping, a small amount at a time. Return cake to oven and bake 5 minutes longer.

Note: Time may be taken out to rest, but count only actual beating time. Or count beating strokes. Allow 100 strokes per minute. If electric mixer is used, proceed as directed, using low speed. Scrape down bowl and beater often during mixing.

Praline Topping. Mix together ½ cup firmly packed brown sugar, 1 tablespoon Swans Down Cake Flour, 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon water, and ½ cup finely chopped nut meats.

Women Of America Asked To Turn Attention To Homes

By EMILIE BASEL
United Press Staff Correspondent

ST. LOUIS, April 28 — Mrs. Lafell Dickinson of Keene, N. H., grey-haired, motherly, new president of the General Federation of Women's clubs, called on the women of America today to turn their attention again to their homes to give their children the moral sturdiness other nations have found when beaten to the earth by war.

Mrs. Dickinson, mother of two daughters and the first small-town woman to head the Gener Federation, said that the easy American way of life during the last 20 years was "cheap and transitory."

She assailed motion pictures, orts, speed and the craze for fashions for "increasing the laxity in standards as reflected in literature, morals and manners" of America.

Installed For 3-Year Term

Mrs. Dickinson was installed for a three-year term today along with other officers elected in yesterday's balloting. The convention held a final forum on public welfare, wound up its business, and prepared to leave for home.

Other officers seated today were Mrs. J. L. B. Buck of Richmond, Va., first vice president; Mrs. Miriam C. Houghton, jr., Red Oak, Ia., second vice president; Mrs. Oscar Ahlgren, Whiting, Ind., recording secretary, and Mrs. Volney W. Taylor, Brownsville, Tex., treasurer.

Mrs. John L. Whitehurst, retiring president, revealed that the "Buy A Bomber" bond drive that ended with the election of officers netted $102,128,660, with Maryland leading the federation by buying $10,991,655 worth of bonds.

The convention, after a heated debate, adopted a resolution asking Congress to appropriate "not more than $50,000,000 annually" for a school luncheon program to be matched by state funds and administered by state superintendents of schools.

Revival Of Country Church Said Needed

KANSAS CITY, April 28 (AP) — Soil and forestry conservation programs have their place in the well-being of rural America, but what is more important, says Gov. Thomas L. Bailey of Mississippi, is the rehabilitation and conservation of the deserted and decaden country church.

One of 386 lay delegates to the quadrennial general conference of the Methodist church in session here, Gov. Bailey has been busily patrolling the corridors outside the assembly hall shaking hands and proclaiming: Methodism must return to the farm land from which it first drew its strength.

In an interview, Governor Bailey said an excellent illustration of what has happened to the Methodist church in rural areas is shown in the occupations of delegates here. "There's only one real dirt farmer here, Earl Elijah of Clarence, Ia." he says. "Isn't that an awful thing for the church to have to admit?"

Bailey, who has been named head of a sub-committee on rehabilitation, believes that if the church gets to work right away, surprising results can be noticed within a relatively few years.

Missionaries Rescued In Dutch New Guinea

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, April 28 (AP) — One hundred foreign missionaries, including 40 nuns, have been rescued at Hollandia, Dutch New Guinea, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today.

"It is with peculiar pleasure that I can report the rescue from the enemy in the Hollandia operations of 100 foreign missionaries, including 40 nuns," MacArthur said in a special release.

"These include 13 Americans, seven Dutch, three Poles, one Australian, one Czechoslovakian and the remainder Germans. They were originally stationed at mission stations along the north coast of New Guinea.

"The rescue of these Christian workers seems an especially beneficient act of providence."

"I DISCARDED HARSH LAXATIVES"

Ex-Constipation Sufferer Praises Kellogg's All-Bran

Taking nasty doses—for constipation due to lack of "bulk" in the diet? Then read this letter.

"I wish to submit this voluntary testimonial about KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN as a remedy for constipation. For years I found it necessary to take so-called patent laxatives. They gave me only partial aid. Since starting to use KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN I have discarded artificial aids. My reason for sending this note is to help those who are in the same boat I was."—Wm. F. Fraser, 90-10 Barr Place, Hudson Heights, N. J.

More and more people write in about the joyous relief they get from KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN. It really gets at one common cause of constipation — lack of certain cellulosic elements in the diet. For ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements, which help to fluff up and prepare colonic wastes for easy, natural elimination. Remember, KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative or medicine, it is a grain cereal — a gentle-acting "regulating" food.

If your constipation is due to a bulk-deficiency in the diet, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly, as cereal or in several muffins. Drink plenty of water. See if you don't enjoy lasting relief. Get genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek. A.B.V.

Three Miss Serious Injuries In Collision

A taxicab and another automobile smashed together at the Main street and Avenue H intersection about 10 o'clock this morning and three persons, one of them a 3-months-old infant, were dashed to the paving, and the cab was overturned — yet none was injured sufficiently to require hospitalization.

Police gave this account:

The cab, occupied only by Ray Wheeler, 26, of 1404 Twenty-third street, was being driven east on Main street, a light coach by J. M. Ayers of 502 Avenue A south on Avenue H.

The cars were in collision; two doors of the coach flipped open and two women, one of them Mrs. J. H. Hawkins of Lubbock route 6 were thrown out. Mrs. Hawkins was holding Linda Sue, her infant daughter, but protected the child so that it was not injured. Mrs. Hawkins was bruised and shaken. She and her baby were taken to Lubbock General hospital for examination.

Police had not completed investigation, and had not listed the other woman in the car.

Drivers took the names of several witnesses to the crash, police said.

Teachers' salaries in the U. S. dufing he school year 1942-43 averaged $1,550.

Reds Pressing Romanian Push

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, April 28 (AP) — The Russian army is pressing a determined offensive with powerful tank-supported forces north of the Romanian city of Iasi and fierce battles are raging in that area for the second successive day, a Romanian communique said today.

The bulletin said that local Russian penetrations were "sealed off or reduced by counterattacks. Moscow made no mention of such an offensive.

The Russian communique said no important changes had occurred on any of the fronts.

Nazi Vessels Attacked

The communique declared however, that Russian torpedo launchers and Red army aircraft still were making steady attacks on German water craft in the area of Sevastopol, apparently seeking to prevent evacuation of Nazi forces from the beseiged Crimean port.

The Moscow bulletin said that a regiment of Germans was wiped out by Russian artillery fire when enemy forces were observed deploying for an attack on one sector of the second Ukraine front.

Both the Germans and Romanian communiques said Russian attempts to break through on the lower Dnestr were repulsed.

From Stockholm came a report that the Germans were awaiting a new Soviet drive on the Salla sector in Finland on the far northern front. The Swedish paper Aftonbladet in a dispatch from Helsinki said the Germans had repulsed a Russian attempt to break through there.

Paris Area Raided

U. S. government monitors said single planes were over western Germany this morning.)

11,000-12,000 Tons

With the tonnage of bombs dropped on Axis Europe totalling 11,000 to 12,000 in the 24-hour period ended early this morning, the Allied air offensive appeared to have reached the scale which Prime Minister Churchill predicted only two months ago would be "beyond the dimensions of anything yet employed or ineed imagined."

Up to 1,000 RAF bombers participated in a four-pronged assault last night, bringing to perhaps 6,000 the number of Allied planes that had battered Germany's Atlantic wall and rear areas in the 24-hour period.

Hundreds of four-engined Lancasters making up the bulk of the huge fleet turned Friendrichshafen, site of aircraft and radar plants on the shores of Lake Constance in southwest Germany, into a burning pyre visible for 100 miles.

Reports from the Swiss-German frontier said the raid was unprecedented in fury with all Friedrichshafen appearing to be engulfed in a "single sea of flames." The attack lasted an hour, during which terrific explosions shook buildings on the Swiss shore of Lake Constance.

"The whole sky over the German side of the lake was split with orange colored fires and explosions that revealed every detail of the landscape, while the roar of bombers, anti-aircraft fire and bomb detonations melted into a deafening, overawing concert," a Zurich dispatch said.

Zurich said the Dornier works, which previously had escaped severe damage, was "completely afire," along with other industrial plants. Two bombers crashed in Switzerland, but most crewmen survived.

Friedrichshafen Hard Hit

An estimated 1,100 of night's total 2,800-ton bomb load was believed to have been dropped on Friedrichshafen in 10 minutes during one of the most concentrated attacks ever made.

Heavy attacks also were made on railway yards at Mon Montzen, Belgium, 10 miles southwest of Aachen on a branch line leading to Liege, and Aulnoye, in northern France. Germany uses both yards to supply and reinforce its anti-invasion forces on the channel coast.

Twin-engined Mosquitos rounded out the night's offensive with a blockbuster attack on Stuttgart, one of southern Germany's main war production centers. At least four enemy fighters were shot down during the various attacks, while 36 bombers were lost.

Ration Changes

ms to preserves and apple, grape, mint and plum jellies in one-pound containers are reduced two points to a new value of two. But raspberry and strawberry jams and preserves, in short supply, are increased to 16 points a pound jar, double the present value.

Also sharply boosted is the value of cranberries and cranberry sauce, up eight points to a new total of 15 for a No. 2 can. Prevailing high point values on all other canned fruits are maintained.

To slow the rapid movement of tomato catsup and chili sauce, the ration cost of these items goes from 23 points to 30 for a 14-ounce bottle, but spaghetti sauce, packaged with cheese, gets a value of three instead of six points for an eight-ounce j

Tomato Juice Up

Heavy demand hikes the point value on a 46-ounce can of tomato juice two points to 18, while the six-pound size will cost 36 points.

Also listed on the May chart are p int values for home canned foods that are sold. For containers over 14 ounces and including one pound-two ounces, points assigned are: Fruits, 10; juices, 2; vegetables, 1; spreads, 4; and special products, 12.

The point-free rating assigned last month for all frozen foods is continued through May.

Firm Policy On Eire Supported

The United Nations cannot afford to be too easy on Eire, H. C. Pender, professor of government at Texas Technological college, said at the luncheon of the American Business club today noon in the Hilton hotel.

Speaking on "Diplomacy as an Instrument of War," Pender said we have to be tough in our demands of Eire because the lives of our boys are involved; the success of the greatest military movement in history is involved. Victory means too much, he added, to allow the Irish to allow espionage in their nation.

Irish Hate British

"The Irish hate the British to such an extent they are literally starving themselves to death and are now virtually isolated from the rest of the world due to the fact that shipping to that country has been curtailed," he said.

He pointed out that the situation is also complicated in Turkey and "we are not getting anywhere with that nation." Two factors stand in the way in Turkey. They are the Mohammedans, who seem to be leaning toward the Axis; and the proximity of Russia. The Turks are afraid of the Russians as they are virtually "next door neighbors." Turkey, consequently, if farther away from entering the war now than ever before, because they will not align themselves with any nation for fear of offending Russia.

Pender was introduced by M. T. Hill, program chairman. A special guest at the luncheon was Mrs. Grace Dyess, director of the new city recreation department. J. Ray Dickey, club president, presided.

hamstrung by the very inertia of size.

"The point I am making is that size is no guaranty of efficiency."

Forrestal is acting head of the Navy department in the absence of Secretary Frank Knox, who is confined to his home with a stomach and intestinal ailment.

Necessities Are Different

He emphasized that the military necessities of the United States cannot be compared to those of Russia or Germany. Those countries, he pointed out, are dependent largely on the use of military power on land.

"Ours is a problem which is a composite of that of Japan, Great Britain, Germany and Russia, and it should be viewed and studied accordingly," he said.

The problem, he went on, should be approached with special reference to the geographical situation of this country, taking into consideration how American forces have operated in this wart how the joint chiefs of staff have functioned; and how the individual procurement services of the Army and Navy have operated.

"There are no easy solutions to a problem with so many facets as this" he warned.

Model For Rest Of World

Discussing the proposed consolidation of the present air services, Forrestal said that the U. S. Navy's use of air power has provided a model to the rest of the world. The Japanese Navy, he said, copies the United States both in material and tactics. The British Navy, he said, borrows its air arm from the RAF and has "neither means nor personnel with which to develop the use of air power at sea."

He conceded that the Army's experience with air power might be different from that of the Navy.

He suggested that the committee take no action until it heard such naval leaders as Admirals Chester W. Nimitz, William F. Halsey, jr., R. Kelly Turner, Harold R. Stark, and Royal E. Ingersoll. These men are now away fighting a war, he said, and it is hardly likely that Congress would want to call them back from their duties at this time.

been able to set up against future need are being foregone in a desperate attempt to meet the demands of the moment."

Narrow Living Margin

The report held that a $50 a week salary for a family head left only a "very narrow margin of living" under present price conditions, whereas millions are subsisting on incomes at or near half that level.

As examples, the subcommittee cited social security board figures showing more than 2,000,000 local government employes averaged $28.85 weekly in October, 1943; 4,500,000 so-called 'white collar' workers were paid $28.69 in 1943; over 1,000,000 teachers received less than $1,550 for the 1942-43 school year, and that 4,500,000 recipients of old age and dependency awards received far less, an average of $26.46 monthly in the case of old age aid.

Although the labor department index has indicated a 23.4 per cent living cost rise in the last three years, the committee said it believed the actual increase was greater than that.

Funeral Set Today For Mrs. Landers

Funeral services were to be held this afternoon at 4:30 o'clock in the Rix Funeral chapel for Mrs. Minnie L. Landers, 80, who died at her home in Wolfforth this morning at 4:30 o'clock. Services will be conducted by Rev. W. K. Clements of Monroe. Burial will be in Lubbock cemetery with Rix Funeral home directing.

Death came as a result of a fall about a week ago, in which Mrs. Landers received a broken hip.

Survivors include two sons, Warren and Mason Landers, and one daughter, Mrs. J. A. Gibbs, all of Wolfforth.

LEADERS SLOW IN RECOVERY

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP) — The stock market, for the third successive session, was a selective recovery affair today with many leaders still having difficulty in participating.

From the start the list encountered intermittent profit taking flurries. Offerings were fairly well absorbed in most cases and, by midday, assorted specialities including distillers, were ahead a point or so. Rails, steels, coppers and utilities held to a slim groove throughout. While losers were plentiful near the close, fractional advances were in the majority. Dealings expanded a bit but transfers for the full proceedings were under 600,000 shares.

In front most of the time were American Bosch, Schenley, Distillers Corp., Houston Oil, Santa Fe, Bethlehem, Chrysler, General Motors, Woolworth, Dupont and Oliver Farm. Backward were Corn Products, Montgomery Ward, American Telephone, Texas Co, Westinghouse, J C. Penney and Kennecott.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP) — Cotton futures declined today on commission house and New Orleans liquidation, reflecting disappointment over failure of the mid-April cotton parity price to show an expected increase.

Futures closed 70 to 85 cents a bale lower.

Flooded Mississippi Threatens Two Towns

(By The Associated Press)

Swollen dangerously high by the flooded Missouri and Illinois rivers, the Mississippi was tearing today at levees protecting Dupo and Harrisonville, Ill., forcing authorities to order evacuation immediately of lowland residents in those districts.

The three rivers already have torn open levees and inundated well over 500,000 acres in 58 counties of Missouri and Illinois. To the west, the Arkansas river in Oklahoma had its third highest flood stages, and in Wichita, Kans., flood damage to homes from the same river was estimated by the Red Cross at more than $1,000,000.

The floods have taken a toll of 24 lives in Illinois and Missouri. Six deaths in Missouri were on the Mississippi in the St. Louis area.

The Missouri river was expected to crest today at Jefferson City, Mo. Some streets there already were under water. The Missouri's crest is expected to reach the Mississippi late Saturday and raise the stage of the latter to 39 feet at St. Louis by Sunday night.

Nearly 10,000 Illinois and Missouri militiamen, coast guardsmen, Italian prisoners of war and volunteer workers, were patrolling levees and strengthening weaker points on both sides of the Mississippi.

Man Drowns, Officer Missing At Victoria

VICTORIA, April 28 (U.P.) —The public relations office at Matagorda peninsula gunnery range reported today that an enlisted man had drowned in a fall from a boat en route to the mainland, and that an officer-instructor was overdue from a combat training flight and presumed lost.

Resuscitation efforts failed to revive S/Sgt. Noah D. Mason of Knoxville, Tenn., after he fell into the bay at Port Lavaca Tuesday night.

Search of the surrounding coastal area and the Gulf of Mexico has failed to reveal a trace of 2nd Lt. Stanley G. Stiner, 19, or his plane in which he took off last Tuesday morning.

Roosevelt Sends Army Promotions To Senate

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — President Roosevelt today nomjnated two more major generals to be lieutenant generals. If they are confirmed it will bring to 35 the Army's total holding that high ranks.

The two whose names were sent to the Senate were Lewis Hyde Brereton, commanding general of the Ninth Air force based in England, and Barney McKinney Giles, chief of air staff, headquarters AAF, Washington, D. C.

Brig. Gen. Elwood Richard Quesada, commanding general 9th Air force support command, was nominated for promotion to major general.

ATTACK UNCONFIRMED

LONDON, April 28. (AP)—A Japanese communique, broadcast by the Tokyo radio, declared today that Japanese submarines had attacked a force of Allied aircraft carriers east of the Marshall islands Wednesday and had scored two hits on one carrier. There was no Allied confirmation of the reported action.

CARLSBAD CADET KILLED

CARLSBAD, N. M., April 28. (U.P.) — Aviation Cadet Paul C. Hogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Hogan, of Sheffield, Mass., was killed today when a bombardier training plane from Carlsbad Army Air field crashed near Albuquerque, N. M., while on a combat training flight.

Sergeant Walks Out On His 'Blind Date'

BLYTHEVILLE ARMY AIR FIELD, Ark., April 28 (U.P.)—Sgt. Mortimer Kassewitz had always been slightly skeptical of blind dates, but when Sgt. John A. Works said, "Come on down and meet the new girl in my office," he thought he would take a chance.

He hurried off to comb his hair and adjust his tie and presented himself a few minutes later at the Flight Surgeon's office at the Blytheville Army Air Field, where Works was assigned to duty.

"Where is she?" asked Kassewitz.

"In the other room," said Works. "Just bust on in and introduce yourself. Her name's Dorothy."

He walked through the door of the other room right into Dorothy arms, then turned and walked right out again.

Dorothy is the new skeleton in the Flight Surgeon's office.

RESOLUTION ADOPTED

ST. LOUIS, April 28. (AP)—The General Federation of Women's clubs adopted a resolution today calling on Congress to speed legislation to make Alaska the 49th state. The resolution was introduced by Mrs. Mildred R. Hermann of Juneau, Alaska.

Ward's Begins Legal Fight

a CIO union as he had been directed to do by the War Labor board and the White House and widely watched as a gauge of the WLB and presidential powers.

George Christensen, a Ward attorney, claimed the seizure of the company facilities violated the fourth and fifth amendments to the constitution, and that allegations in the complaint filed by Biddle were false. The Ward petition added that the properties "do not constitute any plant, mine or facility equipped for manufacture, production or mining of any articles or materials which may be required for the war effort."

Shareholders' Meet Held

President Ryan was admitted to the main building long enough to preside over a perfunctory meeting of the Ward shareholders, but after the session was shifted to the Blackstone hotel he told newsmen he had been ordered to leave.

Asked if he would cooperate with the federal manager, he replied: "I recognize no constitutional authority but that of the board chairman."

Avery, who was carried out by soldiers, did not return to his office today.

Ugo Carusi, assistant attorney general, said business was going on as usual.

Christensen told Judge Holly that Montgomery Ward's fundamental position was that "the Chicago plants are not the kind of plants to which the (War Labor disputes) act applies."

Yesterday Avery not only was barred but carried out bodily from the plant by two soldiers. The dispute stemmed fror Montgomery Ward's refusal to extend a contract with the CIO union at the plant.

Conference Is Held

Officials of the union involved, the CIO United Mail Order, Warehouse and Retail employes, disclosed they had begun conferences with "the new management" — represented by Taylor and Biddle —on steps to be taken to put into effect WLB orders calling for extension of the contract and its disputed provisions for maintenance of union membership, dues checkoff, seniority rights, grievance machinery and arbitration of disputes.

Samuel Wolchok, international union president; Leonard Levy, international vice president; Henry B. Anderson, president of local 20, and Francis Heisler, the local's attorney, conferred with Taylor and Biddle, the union statement said.

"We stand ready to give the government the fullest cooperation," Wolchok said.

To Attack Restrainer

A temporary restraining order to prohibit Montgomery Ward and company, Avery and other officials from interfering wit the government, issued late last night, will be attacked promptly today, the Ward counsel, Winston, Strawn and Shaw, disclosed.

Silas Strawn, head of the law firm, said Federal Judge William H. Holly, who issued the restraine. and set a hearing for 2 p.m., would be asked orally to dissolve the order.

The order, petitioned for late y terday by Attorney General Biddle, ended 10 days of stout resistance by Sewell L. Avery, the company's board chairman, to government seizure of the plant.

Case Watched Closely

The government seizure, accomplished after two fail es, was made Wednesday with the aid of federal troops. The light court proceedings followed a day of many developments in the case which is being watched as a gauge of the President's power to take over a business claiming non-war activity and a test of the War Labor board's ability to enforce its directives.

Judge Holly's order not only enjoined interference by company officials but called upon them to surrender company records, which had been asked by Bidd' in his petition for the injunction. He set a hearing for 2 p.m. today on the dissolution, modification or extension of th. order.

The night court session came as a surprise, the proceedings being unofficially scheduled for today.

pertaining to the college because Dr. Walton was not re-elected. I don't think the college is run for the benefit of a president. It should be run for the benefit of the students and the state."

Working On Revision

Leachman said the board was working on a revision of college rules and that changes tentatively approved included extending teaching tenure from one year to two years and lowering the retirement age from 70 to 65 years.

It was his testimony that Dr. Walton as president had suggested rules changes but for a long time had made no specific suggestions and that one proposal Dr. Walton made eventually was a rule change which the attorney general said was invalid in that it conflicted with the neptism law.

The Dallas director said state statutes charge the directors with many responsibilities that can not be delegated to the college president.

Navy Secretary Knox Dies

to Frank Knox. As a rough rider he was in Cuba with Theodore Roosevelt in 1898. During the first World War he became an artillery officer in France, there earning under fire the title "colonel" by which most of his long-time friends knew him. Few knew his full name — William Franklin Knox.

Too Old For Uniform

In this war he regretted that he was too old to go into uniform again, and he gave all his energy to the job of being civilian boss of the biggest American navy in history.

When Knox became Navy secretary American was faced, as he saw it, with at least a two-ocean war and it had an inadequate one-ocean Navy. His big job therefore was to promote the building up of the fleet.

He rarely claimed any special credit for what he contributed to this task, but it was with the utmost pride that he announced from time to time the addition to the growing fleet of new battleships, aircraft carriers and other craft.

Only last March 14 he told a press conference that nearly a dozen ships a day would go into service in 1944. A few months earlier, on Navy day last October, he had stated his lifetime philosophy in a general order to the fleet:

"To the men of the fleet I say with confidence and with pride: Seek out the enemy—and destroy him! Today, tomorrow and tomorrow we must attack!"

Japs Claim Shooting Down Chinese General

(By The Associated Press)

The Berlin radio, broadcasting a Japanese dispatch, said today Japanese planes had shot down a four-engined bomber escorted by two fighters over Burma and declared there was "every indication" that it carried Gen. Chen Cheng, Chinese vice-minister of war.

The report added that that Gen. Chen was sent to India on March 30 by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek to consult with Admiarl Lord Louis Mountbatten, Southeast Asia commander, and afterward had made a tour of the battlefronts. Gen. Chen was the hero of the Chinese victory on the Yangtze front last year.

Nips' New Offensive Is Serious Menace

By DeWITT MacKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Chungking's announcement that the Japanese have captured the important railway junction of Chenghsien, in their new offensive in the Yellow river region, emphasizes the menace of this drive. It is a serious threat to an already terribly hard hit China.

While the ultimate aim of this fresh assault isn't wholly clear, it has the appearance of being a defensive measure calculated to remedy bad weaknesses in the Nipponese continental fortress.

The underlying strategy probably is the idea that if Nippon can hang onto this fortress she may be able to tire the United Nations out and achieve a stalemate. Indeed we know from reliable source- that the Japanese militarists recognize they can't win. They're going to salvage what they can, and already are planning another war against the western world twenty-five years hence.

Railway One Objective

Chungking believes that one Japanese objective is to secure full control of the great trunk railway which runs from Peiping in the north clear down to Canton and Hongkong on the south coast. Their purpose is to strengthen their interior communications in China and so try to offset the Allied ravages on Nipponese sea communications.

There are two other objectives which the invaders likely have. The 1,800 square miles or more which they already have overrun along the Yellow river is a vast wheat growing area that is expected to produce a record crop this season. The Japanese need this grain for their armies and home consumption, and aren't concerned with the fact that millions of Chinese are dependent on it to keep them from starvation.

The Nipponese are operating in considerable strength, estimated at 70,000 men. The fact that some of these have been withdrawn from Manchuria may mean that the Japanese are worrying less about Russia's intentions.

Hopkins' Illness Has Delayed Briggs Trial

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Harry Hopkins' illness has delayed the trial of George N. Briggs on charges of forging the "Hopkins letter," but Justice department attorneys now hope Hopkins will be recovered sufficiently to permit it to open on May 22, it was learned today.

No definite date has been set, however, by the U. S. district court.

The government expects Hopkins, advisor to President Roosevelt, to be its chief witness against Briggs, former assistant to Interior Secretary Ickes. Briggs is accused of forgery, false pretense, and mail fraud; of falsely representing that Hopkins wrote a letter purporting to show a political connection between Wendell Willkie and the White House.

Shipment Of Onions Hits Peak In Valley

LAREDO, April 28 (AP) — The marketing news service reported today that 326 carloads of onions moved out of South Texas last night, breaking all previous one-night records and boosting season shipments to 1,040 carloads.

The coastal bend area provided 164 of the carloads and Laredo was second with 69. The winter garden district shipped 54 and Eagle Pass sent 35.

Faculty Honors Tech President

Members of Tech Faculty club honored President and Mrs. Clifford B. Jones at a dinner in women's dormitory No. 2 Thursday night. Dr. Jones is to retire as Texas Technological college president June 1.

Clerical workers in all the college's divisions joined faculty members in paying respect to the couple. It was the club's final meeting of the year, and it was turned into a general farewell affair.

Lockard Heads Club

Robert I. Lockard was elected president of the club to succeed Ray C. Mowery in the annual election of officers. Miss Martye Poindexter was elected vice president to succeed Major Frank Hangs; Mrs. Margaret Manicapelli secretary to succeed Miss Vivian Johnson, and E. R. Heineman treasurer to follow Miss Annah Jo Pendleton.

The club presented Dr. and Mrs. Jones with a dozen service plates in Mrs. Jones' Wedgwood pattern. Oscar St. Clair made the presentation and Dr. Jones gave the response.

Board Chairman Speaks

A short talk was made by Chas. C. Thompson, chairman of the Tech directorate. Mrs. Thompson was also present. The Thompsons live in Colorado City.

Four musical numbers were presented by Dr. and Mrs. Julien Paul Blitz. Dr. Blitz played the cello with Mrs. Blitz as piano accompanist.

Mowery was toastmaster.

Bid Awarded For Remodeling City Hall For New Department

Guy H. Gilstrap was awarded contract to remodel first floor space on the first floor of the city hall into headquarters for the new department of recreation at the semi-monthly meeting of the city commission Thursday afternoon. His bid of $312 was the lowest of four submitted.

The city manager, Marlin R. Smith, jr., was authorized to buy the necessary furnishings, the estimated cost being around $400. He also was authorized to order ledger sheets, bills and meter sheets printed for the city water and light department, cost estimates being approximately $700.

Chlorine Purchased

Purchase of 24,000 pounds of chlorine from Southern Alkali corp. of Dallas at 8 cents per pound also was approved. It is used in purifying city water. The price is the same that has been paid during the past several years, the city manager reported. Only one bid was submitted.

Citizens National bank was reappointed city depository for the next two years.

After extensive discussion and study by a special committee, members of the commission concluded that it would be impractical to reduce city water rates to encourage victory gardens sufficiently to be of any benefit. The rate cut was suggested in a communication from a committee representing local garden clubs.

Commissioners pointed out that even a very substantial cut in existing rates would amount to less than 50 cents per month to the average consumer. Yet the aggregate of this lost revenue to the city would be so substantial that it would be necessary to make up the difference elsewhere — probably by increasing the tax rate. Officials reminded that all profits from the water department go into the city general fund, from which operating costs of the city government are paid.

The commission authorized the city manager and Police Chief Don Reeder to designate representatives to attend the joint meeting of the Texas Traffic Courts conference, the Texas Safety association and the Texas Police association in Dallas May 9 and 10. A plaque awarded to Lubbock for having had the best traffic safety record of any Texas city between 25,000 and 50,000 population during 1943 is to be presented on that occasion.

All members of the commission attended the meeting. They included Mayor W. O. Ribble and Commissioners W. B. Price, Hub Jones, Fred Childress and J. Ray Dickey.

Torpedoman Escapes From Philippines

PASSAIC, N. J., April 28 (AP)—Husky and tanned, Chief Torpedoman Marvin H. De Vries was home today after escaping from the Philippine islands, where he was left with the remnants of a PT squadron in May, 1942.

De Vries, who did not say how he escaped, arrived at his home yesterday and said he had been flown across the Pacific. He said he had remained behind on the island of Mindanao on May 1, 1942, after General Douglas MacArthur and other officers and technicians had been flown from the island.

With other survivors of the torpedo boat squadron which had been commanded by Lt. Cmdr. John Bulkeley during the Japanese occupation of the islands, De Vries lived with natives, he said.

The 6-foot torpedoman said that it was on his PT boat that MacArthur and his family made part of the trip from Corregidor to Mindanao. He added that President Manuel Quezon of the Philippines also was on his boat.

Home Care Of Meat Important

Home is an important conservation center in wartime. Correct methods of storing and serving meat can do a great deal to conserve it in the home so it will yield the greatest number of servings possible. Spoilage and waste are the two enemies of these objective and the thrifty homemaker's practices are directed to eliminate them.

Without proper care food will spoil either before or after cooking, Jessie Alice Cline, home economist, states that uncooked meat keeps best when it is stored uncovered or loosely covered in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Removing the wrapping also prevents the paper from absorbing the meat juices.

Store Cooked Meat Covered

Cooked meat should be stored in a covered container in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Drying out of the meat is thus prevented.

When purchasing ready-to-serve meat in large quantities it is helpful to remember that cured dry and smoked sausages keep almost indefinitely in the refrigerator.

All meat bones should be saved to use in making soup stock. Cool stock quickly and refrigerate. If stock is not used immediately it should be heated to boiling daily to prevent spoilage.

Carving Needs Sharp Knife

Careful carving of a roast does a great deal to increase the number of servings it will yield. The most important tool to supply the carver is a sharp knife. A sharp knife used on a properly cooked roast will prevent crumbling of meat which wastes the precious edible portions. Roasts that are allowed to stand in a warm place for at least 30 minutes after they are removed from the oven will carve more easiy than those brought promptly to the table.

Serving each person two thin slices will seem more generous than one thick slice and will help to make the meat go further.

Utilize every bit of left-over meat. There are so many ways in which even the smallest piece can be used in combination with other foods that not one bit should be wasted.

SOYA SPOON BREAD

Three-quarters cup corn meal, ¼ cup soya grits, 1 teaspoon salt, 2 cups cold water, 1 cup milk, 2 or 3 eggs, separated, 2 tablespoons melted fat.

Mix together the corn meal, soya grits, salt, and water. Let the mixture come to a boil and boil 5 minutes, stirring constantly. Add the milk, beaten egg yolks, and melted fat. Beat the egg whites stiff and fold into the mixture. Pour into a well-greased baking dish and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for about 1 hour. Serve at once from the baking dish.

You never "sausage" good point value as there is on ready-to-serve sausage items. They give their point and money's worth. From one pound of any meat loaf you can get from 10 to 14 slices; from one pound of bologna, 12 to 14 slices; one pound of dry sausage, 30 to 35 slices. In one pound there are 8 or 9 frankfurts.

KITCHEN KORNER

Try bacon-wiches for Saturday supper. Saute cheese sandwiches in bacon drippings or spread drippings on outside of sandwiches to be toasted. Gives them a delicious bacon flavor.

Flavor vegetable cream soups with frankfurt slices. Or cubes of salami, bologna, or leftover meat are tasty additions to cream of pea soup, potato, bean, celery, or cauliflower soup.

Speaking of the spice of life, these "variety" meats yield from four to five servings per pound—liver, kidneys, hearts, brains, sweetbreads, and tongue.

Here's a note for kitchen books. In the way of steaks and chops, figure 3 to 4 servings in one pound of veal, pork and lamb chops; 3 to 5 servings in a pound of veal steak; 4 to 6 servings in a pound of hamburger; 4 to 5 servings in a pound of beef round steak, flank steak, or porterhouse. From 4 pounds of shoulder potroast of beef you can serve from 10 to 12 people.

Pastry Scraps: Make up pastry for several pies at once, wrap dough in waxed paper, and it will keep for 7 to 8 days. It's simon-simple to whisk together a pie for dinner.

As an omnious note, don't work pie dough too much and don't add too much water. There are two common causes of failure in pastry.

To create a Creole, flour, season and lightly brown 4 lamb chops. Arrange in baking dish and sprinkle with ½ cup diced onion and chopped green pepper to suit your taste. Combine ½ cup tomato soup and ½ cup water and heat to boiling point. Pour over chops. Cover and bake at 325 degrees F. for about 1½ hours.

Liver and sour cream harmonize perfectly. Dredge liver with flour, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and saute in bacon fat. Turn frequently. Add ¾ cup sour cream and cook until thoroughly heated. Sprinkle with finely chopped parsley.

Liver is fork tender and perfect in flavor when braised with tomato juice, vinegar, lemon juice, or sour cream. Long, slow cooking puts any meat on the tender side.

Wives who cook for their husbands serve them home-made pies with tender, flaky lard crusts. The pies are apple, cherry, lemon, pumpkin, chocolate, custard and mince . . . in that order.

Know why lard is the perfect shortening for the perfect pie crust?—It has high shortening value, gives just the right amount of flavor to the crust, and makes a flaky pie crust.

Don't be stuffy! Try stuffed bacon rolls. Combine 2 cups bread crumbs, 1 small chopped onion, and 1 tablespoon minced parsley. Season with salt and pepper and moisten with hot water. Place 1 heaping teaspoonful on end of each of 12 bacon slices. Roll slice around dressing and fasten edge with toothpick. Broil, turning freqeutly to brown all sides.

FLORIDA BAKED ALASKA: Children love it!

Citrus Fruits Are Plentiful And Add Variety To Diets

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS
Associated Press Food Editor

Now is the time to make the most of citrus fruits. Other fruits customarily on the market are scarce and high priced. But we've raised a bumper citrus fruit crop, and though the demand is heavier, most of us are able to buy, at reasonable prices, all the oranges, lemons and grapefruit we want. What are you doing with yours? Squeezing them? A good thing, too, but I hope you don't strain them. You lose a lot of food value that way.

I never tire of citrus fruit juice, but I like oranges and grapefruit used a great many other ways too. With almost no other fruits to draw upon, except those which some of us prudently put up last summer, it behooves us to serve these vitamin-packed citrus fruits often as dessert. But please don't just cut them in two and loosen the sections. What else? Here's what!

First, because it's the most fun, and perhaps the most unusual of all, I want to tell you about the dessert which is illustrated here. It's easy to do, but it looks like the work of a French chef.

Florida Baked Alaska

4 large Florida oranges
2 egg whites
4 tablespoons sugar
Few grains salt
½ pint vanilla ice cream

Cut slice off top of oranges about a third of the way down. Using a sharp knife, loosen sections, cutting along dividing membranes and skin. Beat egg whites stiff; gradually add sugar and salt, beating constantly, until whites stand up in peaks. Have ice cream frozen very hard. Pile two tablespoons of ice cream on center of each orange and top with meringue, being sure that meringue completely covers ice cream and top of oranges. Place on baking sheet. Bake in 450 degree oven three or four minutes, or until meringue is lightly browned. Serve at once.

Let's not forget grapefruit, either. Here's a dessert your family will cheer about.

Grapefruit Crisp

4 grapefruit
4 tablespoons fortified margarine
1 teaspoon cinnamon
¾ cup sugar
½ cup flour

Section grapefruit. To do this easily, cut slice off top and bottom. Using a sharp knife, "shuck" off peel and outer membrane by cutting off in strips from top to bottom of fruit. Remove sections by inserting knife between dividing membrane and lifting out section. Put grapefruit sections into baking dish. Blend together margarine, cinnamon, sugar and flour until crumbly. Spread over grapefruit. Bake in 375 degree oven about 30 minutes. Serve hot or cold.

And here's one that gets in lemon, too. Don't forget—those little yellow things are packed with vitamins!

Orange Sponge Pudding

3 egg yolks
½ cup orange juice
Grated rind one orange
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1½ cups sugar
3 tablespoons flour
4 tablespoons fortified margarine
1½ cup milk
3 egg whites, beaten stiff, but not dry

Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon-colored. Mix in juices and rind. Add all other ingredients except whites. Beat vigorously. Fold in whites. Pour into baking dish and bake in 350 degree oven 45 minutes. This will be sponge on top and filmy custard underneath. Serve hot or cold.

Hot Biscuits Can Pep Up Your Meals

Whether there are two people in your family or ten, there is something about a batch of baking powder biscuit dough that inspires you to do all kinds of interesting things and incidentally to improve the tone of your meals no end. There is no occasion for wartime meals to be dull and grim. Liven them up. Hot biscuits is one way to do it. Of course you know that lovely flaky biscuits can be made with no-point lard and that's no small consideration these days.

Hot biscuits don't have to have butter for a spread. Try honey for a change, or some of your home-made jellies or jams. Here is a combination hard to beat. A dessert made with rich biscuit dough in the following way: Pat the biscuit dough into a shallow baking pan and arrange drained sliced canned cling peaches over the top. Sprinkle top with sugar and bake in a moderately hot oven. Serve with canned peach syrup which has been slightly thickened. The combination of cling peaches with the biscuit dough will become one of your choice desserts.

GOOD FOR CHILDREN

Mashed or sieved calavo, seasoned with a bit of salt, makes excellent food for young children. The generous quantity of fruit oil is readily digested.

"She holds the record for collecting waste fat."

To protect minerals and vitamins when cooking vegetables, cover them with little or no water.

Be sure not to prepare fruits or vegetables until just before cooking.

To measure a fractional part of a cup of shortening, fill the cup with water, pour off water equal to shortening required, and add shortening until water rises to the cup rim.

Wipe off meat with a damp cloth as soon as it comes into the kitchen, place flat on waxed paper or dish and store in the coldest part of the refrigerator. Meat should not be soaked as it will lose flavor and vitamins.

When the flavor of butter is really needed for such things as hard sauce or plain white icings, conserve butter by using part vegetable shortening and part butter.

If you start your makeup with a completely clean face and do a thorough job of makeup with your first application it is possible to make it last for an entire day.

Armour Ideas Make the Most of Meat

Baked Treet with Raisin Sauce—Low Point Dinner

For a quick and easy—and a most flavorful dinner-meat-dish—follow the recipe given here. It's Treet—heated in the loaf and served with a delicious raisin sauce.

Treet is Armour's meal-in-a-minute meat—ready to eat, just as it comes to you. It's a blend of fine ham and choice pork shoulder . . . seasoned delicately and vacuum cooked in the tin, right in its own natural meat juices. No wonder Treet tastes so good!

Open 1 tin of Armour's Treet, and place the whole loaf in a baking pan. Cover with ¼ cup brown sugar and bake in 350° F. oven for 30 minutes. Cook ½ cup seedless raisins in 1½ cups boiling water, until soft. Combine 4 tbsp. cornstarch, 2 tablespoons sugar, ½ cup orange juice and 1 tbsp. lemon juice and add to raisins. Cook over low fire until clear. Pour sauce over Treet and serve. Makes 4 generous servings.

Always keep extra tin or two of Treet on hand—it's a wonderful meat for breakfast, lunch or dinner. Grand served hot or cold.

FEATURING QUALITY FOODS!

Even on your busiest days
be sure your House Cleaning is Sanitary House Cleaning
...for Greater Health Protection!

HAVE YOU noticed how some days turn out to be extra busy ... crammed with things to do? Yet, busy as you may be, you can't afford to neglect family health, especially now when there are fewer civilian doctors and medical facilities. A simple yet important health-protective measure is the use of Clorox in routine cleansing. Cultivate the healthful habit of Clorox-Cleanliness ... the type of cleanliness recommended by health authorities.

WHY TAKE CHANCES!

In the Kitchen make sure sanitation is not slighted, even on those extra busy days, for infection dangers can spread rapidly. High standards of sanitation are easily attained with Clorox. It disinfects, deodorizes, also removes stains from dishcloths, china, glass, tile, enamel, linoleum, wood surfaces; and it destroys mold ... reducing risk of food spoilage.

In the Bathroom, too, protective cleansing measures are important as an added health safeguard. For in the bathroom germs may be easily transmitted and as a result, it can be the most dangerous of all home "danger zones" ... unless made sanitary. Make hygienic cleanliness the rule by using Clorox in routine cleansing of washbasins, bathtubs and toilets.

In Laundering, Clorox gently bleaches dingy white cottons and linens snowy-white (brightens fast colors); makes them fresh, sanitary ... removes stains, scorch, mildew; and Clorox lessens rubbing, thus prolonging the life of hard-to-replace linens. By using Clorox in regular laundering process you assure whiter, brighter washes, greater health protection.

Clorox is ultra-refined, free from caustic, an exclusive, patented quality-feature. It has the same full strength, same high quality standards, today as always. Simply follow directions on the label which also lists many important personal uses. Always ask for Clorox by name.

Travel Bans On Denmark Eased

STOCKHOLM, April 28 (AP) — Travel restrictions which have virtually isolated Denmark since Monday were relaxed by the Germans today insofar as they affected transport between Denmark and Sweden.

Danes holding visas now will be allowed to leave Sweden and return although persons seeking to travel to Germany by way of Denmark still must obtain special transit visas.

A Malmo newspaper, Sydsvenska Dagbladet, reported the Nazis were strengthening their air units and massing troops in Denmark as a precaution against invasion.

Reports Are Doubted

(Similar reports received in London were viewed with some skepticism.

(The opinion was expressed in London that the overall disposition of Nazi forces had not been appreciably changed in several weeks. The count was thought to be 140 to 150 divisions facing Russia—cut from a peak of 180 to 200 divisions by the Red army's onslaught—about 55 in France and the low countries, some 25 in Italy, around 20 in the Balkans and Greece, 10 to 12 in Norway, seven in Finland and two or three in Denmark.)

American Legion For G. I. Bill Of Rights

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Leaders of the House veterans' committee defended their delay in reporting the Senate-approved "G.I. bill of rights" today as several hundred members of the American Legion, which would like to see the measure passed, gathered in Washington for spring committee meetings.

Chairman Rankin (D-Miss) and Rep. Edith Nourse Rogers of Massachusetts, ranking Republican member, declared the House group is taking its time because of a desire to "get a bill that will be workable."

The legion's week-long sessions, starting today and culminating in a meeting of the national executive committee, are being held in Washington for the first time. Legionnaires frankly said the reason was that the "G.I. bill," providing benefits for veterans of World war 2, is before Congress.

A legion announcement said those attending would, perhaps, "witness final enactment" of the measure.

Aviation Agreement With Britain Seen

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—American officials have advised the British government that the United States does not intend to use its superior resources in long-range airplanes to squeeze Britain out of competition in commercial aviation after the war.

The British, in response, have recognized American claims based on huge investments in military airbases in British territories and have promised that their empire-wide network of airbases will be available to the commercial planes of all nations.

Informal Meeting

The exchange of view on these two points was made informally by Adolf Berle, assistant secretary of state, and Lord Beaverbrook, the lord privy seal, during Berle's aviation talks in London recently. The fact of the agreement, just now coming out, is regarded in official quarters here as a high point of practical goodwill in British-American relationships.

The United States has a strangle-hold on long-range planes and the facilities to produce them because of an agreement made early in the war that this country would in the main build bombers capable of flying to England with a consequent saving in shipping space. The British have concentrated on fighters.

To give the British and equal break after the war, it has been decided to make big planes available to them at fair cost.

Different Situation On Bases

With respect to bases the situation is shomewhat reversed. At the direction of the Army and Navy the U. S. has spent untold millions developing airbases in the British empire for military purposes. Some will have commercial use: many will not.

Some U. S. observers believe that since many of these bases would be useless after the war, it would be better to seek an agreement for free access to all British bases. There was considerable concern here lest the British should flatly refuse such a proposition.

Berle obtained from Beaverbrook, however, word that the proposition was not unacceptable.

EXPLANATION IS ASKED ON LEASING OF BASES

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — Rep. Hebert (D-Lt), pursuing a proposal that bases leased for 99 years from the British be taken over permanently, asked the Navy department today to explain the yardstick that was used when the "over age" destroyer exchange was made in 1940.

Hebert, chairman of the House naval subcommittee whose acquisition idea was rejected by Prime Minister Churchill in Commons discussion recently, wrote Navy Secretary Knox asking:

"How did our government arrive at a monetary value in obtaining the leases as compared to a similar value if we had requested permanent possession of the bases?"

The 99-year-leases on eight western hemisphere bases were granted in exchange for 50 destroyers. Hebert's group, after a tour of the Caribbean, called for outright acquisition in their report to Chairman Vinson (D-Ga) of the full naval committee.

Emphasizing that he is "friendly" to Britain and wants "only to sit down and talk this over," the Louisianan said nevertheless that there are some unsettled questions and he would prefer not to wait 99 years to have them arise.

Forces In Italy Swap Blows

BY REYNOLDS PACKARD
United Press War Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 28—Allied and German combat patrols traded increasingly heavy blows on the Anzio beachhead and on the Adriatic coastal front yesterday, a communique disclosed today, while bad weather grounded most of the Anglo-American air forces for the second successive day.

Tank-led 5th army skirmishers struck out against the Nazi beachhead lines three miles southwest of Cisterna, knifing deep into the enemy positions before withdrawing with a half dozen prisoners. A second patrol successfully cleared the enemy from a forward area four miles northwest of Littoria, but a third raid launched by an Allied platoon 2½ miles northeast of Carano was repulsed by heavy German mortar and shellfire.

Nazi Attacks Broken Up

Nazi patrols attempted two counter-blows south of Cisterna and in the Carano sector, but both were broken up by Allied artillery and rifle fire.

On the Adriatic front, the Germans hurled two relatively strong attacks against the Allied lines near Ortona and Tolla, 4½ miles inland. The Nazis threw about two platoons into each assault, but failed to break through the Allied defenses. A third enemy force of unknown strength infiltrated the British positions north of Crecchio but was driven back by a determined counter-attack.

Cassino Sector Quiet

The Cassino sector of the main 5th army front generally remained quiet, apart from a brief exchange of fire between Nazi tanks and Allied artillery three miles southwest of the town. The Allied gunners scored hits on two enemy tanks, apparently setting fire to both.

Allied air forces flew about 180 sorties without loss yesterday, carrying out reconnaissance missions over the battle lines and attacking an ammunition dump near Magliana. Not a single enemy plane was sighted throughout the day.

NEW NOTE TO SWEDEN

LONDON, April 28 (AP)—Britain was understood today to be preparing another—and probably a stiffer—note to Stockholm concerning Sweden's ballbearing exports to Germany following Stockholm's reply to previous United States and British representations. Parallel action is expected from Washington and Moscow, it was understood. Secretary Hull said the previous reply was unsatisfactory.

River Authority Said Water Project Model

AUSTIN, April 28 (AP) — The Lower Colorado River authority was cited to the Texas chapter of the American society of Civil Engineers here yesterday as a model for a "multiple use" water development project.

The speaker was Trigg Twichell, hydraulic engineer for the United States Geological survey, who said:

"The Lower Colorado River authority development has set the pattern for future development of our surface water resources which must precede the major industrial and other developments that are to come.

"In addition to the power development, stored water now guarantees the successful irrigation of more than 100,000 acres of rice land. Water is also available for the expansion of industrial and municipal supplies.

"This worthy project has demonstrated the economical value of utilizing the erratic run-off of a Texas river."

Revenues to date, he said, indicate that the total investment would be satisfactory from a financial standpoint.

Twichell emphasized the importance of fully developing and conserving water resources if the state is to continue to grow industrially and in population.

Reduction In Cabaret Tax Rate Advocated

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate finance committee advocated today reducing the 30 per cent federal cabaret tax to 15 or 20 per cent contending that less revenue would be obtained by the government under the increased levy than under the old 5 per cent tax.

The 30 per cent tax is applied where patrons are permitted to dance and George said he had received "numerous" complaints that this was putting many clubs out of siness.

A bill to cut the tax back to 10 per cent has been offered in the House by Rep. Knuuon (R-Minn) of the House ways and means committee.

Liberty Ship To Be Named For Clapper

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — A Liberty ship built at the St. Johns River Shipbuilding company will be named the Raymond Clapper, the Maritime commission said today in announcing that the Jacksonville, Fla., yard won a safety contest conducted during March.

Ten ship yards competed for the honor of having the name of the late newspaper columnist and radio commentato assigned to a vessel. Clapper was killed in an airplane accident in the South Pacific.

Military Group To Clear Record

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — Disclosing that a high-ranking Army officer was censured by the War department because he testified without clearance from department channels, members of the House military committee today demanded to know—in the words of Chairman May (D-Ky)—"who is running the committee."

May promised to back up a demand of Rep. Sparkman (D-Ala) that the unidentified officer be reinstated and his record cleared.

Friction has existed between the committee and the Army for some time, committee members said, largely because of the War department's hesitancy in furnishing reports on legislation under consideration.

Severe Reprimand Given

Sparkman told the committee "a very severe reprimand" was given an officer who testified some time ago on amendments to the soldiers' and sailors' civil relief act. The officer testified at Sparkman's personal request, the Alabaman said, and since he had not had time to obtain the usual department approval he emphasized that the views expressed were his own.

As a result, Sparkman said, the officer no longer is in uniform.

Although he wrote Stimson last November and requested that the reprimand be taken from the officer's record, Sparkman said he has received no reply. Unless there is a satisfactory explanation soon he added, he plans to introduce legislation to correct the officer's record.

Water Is Rationed To Valley Residents

HARLINGEN, April 28 (AP) — City water users in Harlingen and San Benito have been placed on limited rations due to the drying up of the Rio Grande river bed along its lower reaches.

Harlingen Mayor Hugh Ramsey said today that if farmers cannot have water for irrigation, city dwellers should not water their lawns and should reduce their consumption of water in every way.

In San Benito, Mayor J. W. Spradley asked citizens to use water sparingly. Manager W. Raymond Smith of the San Benito irrigation district said: "All the water that we have is in our irrigation canal; there is none left in the river."

Although there was a small rise due in the river, it was feared that it would be absorbed by the dry sands of its bed.

CANNED FOOD RELEASED

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — The War Food administration announced today that it is releasing 678,214 cases of canned vegetables and fruit juices to the trade for sale to civilians. The stocks include canned corn, orange juice, pumkin and sauerkraut, not needed for government war uses.

Chinese Situation Reported Improved

CHUNGKING, April 28 (AP) — Considerable improvement in the Chinese situation in northern Honan province was announced today by a Chinese army spokesman, who said Japanese forces driving on Loyang from the southeast had been hurled back about 10 miles.

Another enemy column which for a time menaced Loyang from the east has been halted in strategic Hulao pass, the spokesman said, and a Japanese drive down the Peiping-Hankow railway has been blunted 40 miles south of Chenghsien, a strategic junction, now in Japanese hands.

Chinese military authorities announced earlier in the day that enemy troops entered Chenghsien the morning of April 22, confirming front dispatches that had indicated several days ago the city had fallen.

Bamboo Selected As Wood Pulp Substitute

SAVANNAH, Ga., April 28 (AP) —After experimenting six months, the Herty foundation laboratory announced today it had selected bamboo, which can be grown in South, as a substitute for wood pulp in the manufacture of paper.

Bruce Shuttle, the foundation's laboratory director, announced the tested bamboo me strength tests comparable to that of the highest testing chemical pulp made.

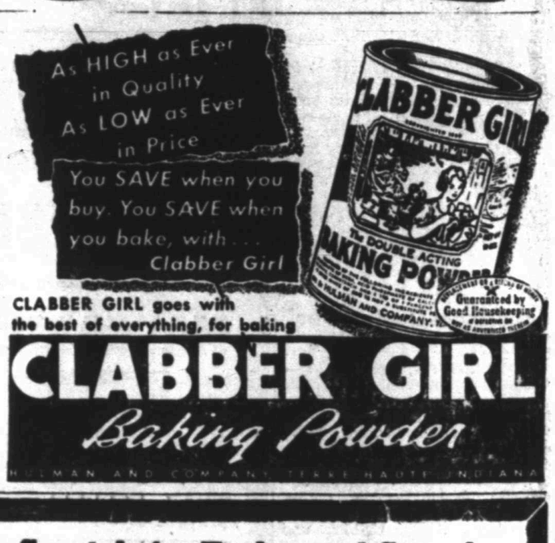

Suttle pointed out that Bamboo could stand for years without damage while southern pine is unsatisfactory for pulp several months after being cut.

Ten per cent of ardium's use is in making luminous coatings for clock handles, gun sights and military instruments.

Racial Crisis Warning Given

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — Representative Sumners (D-Tex) told the House today that forces in this country are trying to speed the "natural adjustment" of the white and negro races and in so doing are defeating their own objectives and taking the country toward a "serious crisis" in race relationships.

The legislator, who is chairman of the House judiciary committee, said the racial problem is growing more acute and imperils wartime unity.

The recent Supreme court decision holding negroes are entitled to participate in Texas Democratic primary elections only intensified an "already existing strain" in inter-racial relationships, he said, a strain that is moving "toward a serious crisis in the relationship between the white and colored races."

Signs Support Conclusions

"All the signs of the times support this conclusion," he told the House. "I do not know anybody who doubts it."

Rep. Jensen (R-Iowa) interrupted Sumners to say, "The blame belongs purely and distinctly at the door of the New Deal and most of it at 1600 Pennsylvania avenue (the White House). Everybody knows that. I think the gentleman from Texas wants me to say this so he won't have to say it."

Rep. Marcantonio (AL-NY) asserted there would be "unres so long as they (negroes) are deprived of votes, Jim-Crowed and treated as second class citizens."

Jimmy Mattern Makes Fast Trip In P-38

DALLAS, April 28 (AP) — Jimmy Mattern, round-the-world flier and test pilot for Lockheed, arrived here Thursday from Los Angeles in a P-38 Lightning and said he had made the trip in three and a half hours, an average of 387 miles per hour.

Taking off at 2 p.m. Dallas time, he landed at 5:30 p.m.

The flier, a native of San Angelo, said he would have done better if he had had a tail wind.

Tobin's No-Hitter Boosts His Stock

Browns Continue Winning Streak

(By The Associated Press)

The secretary is hereby instructed to cast one unanimous ballot for Jim (Nothin' Ball) Tobin as a member of the 1944 National league all-star team.

Even if Tobe doesn't get anybody out from now until the Pittsburgh classic in July, his feat of hurling the first no-hit, no-run game since 1941 and hitting a home run yesterday to help the Boston Braves trim Brooklyn, 2-0, rates him the job. If he hadn't walked Paul Waner in the first and ninth he would have tossed the first perfect game in the league since 1880.

Four Hits In 27 Innings

In three appearances the former Yankee farmhand who was traded to Boston by Pittsburgh for one John Lanning way back in 1937, has yielded a grand total of four hits, has blanked the opposition for 26 innings and pitched 12 successive hitless frames.

Outside of getting his name in the record books as the first Brave to throw a no-hitter since Tommy Hughes did the trick in 1916, old Abbadaba's most immediate reward was a guarantee of a week's free room rent from his hotel manager.

While history was being made in Boston, the St. Louis Cards were getting back into the win column in the only other National league game. Walker Cooper's pinch-hit double in the ninth gave the Red Birds a 3-2 nod over Cincinnati.

The St. Louis Browns sets a new American league record with their eighth straight victory since the season opened. When the Brownies trimmed Cleveland, 5-1, behind Nelson Potter, they collected only four safeties but made them good for five scores with the help of seven walks from three Cleveland hurlers.

Another St. Louis triumph today would tie the modern big league mark for most consecutive games won at the start of a season, held jointly by the 1918 Giants and the 1940 Dodgers.

Hal Newhouser's brilliant four-hit performance as Detroit shaded Chicago, 2-0, in 12 innings likewise was lost in the excitement over Tobin's feat. Newhouser hooked up with Thornton Lee in a 0-0 southpaw battle until Catcher Bob Swift doubled with two on in the third overtime heat. The blow, and Rudy York's rejection, made good news for the Tiger fans.

The New York-Philadelphia and Boston-Washington games in the American, and New York-Philadelphia, Chicago-Pittsburgh tilts in the National were postponed.

Interest Mounts In Junior Setup

Junior baseball registration in Lubbock soared over the 200 mark Thursday with more cards coming in, denoting mounting interest in the project, H. J. McCabe, chairman of the American Legion committee handling the starting of the program in Lubbock, announced today.

Plans will be pushed rapidly to have everything ready to go as soon as possible. A meeting has been called for Ma 9 for all sponsoring organizations, sponsors and coaches to work out the final plans for the starting of the leagues.

School Dates Set

Dates also were set Thursday for the holding of the baseball school preceding the start of the league play. The schoo' will be held May 24-25-26 and 27, but site and instructor have not been named.

Many of those who registered during the past two days are players who took part in the leagues whe held in Lubbock in 1941. The use of these boys in the older bracket leagues should provide teams with some seasoned stars around which to build some fast teams.

At the present rate of registration, it is thought that two leagues will take care of the demand. If this plan is followed, one league will be made up of boys from 12 to 14 and the other league take in boys from 15 to 17 years of age.

SCHOOLBOY BASEBALL LOOP IS PLANNED IN AREA

G. L. Farrar, superintendent of schools in Frenship, was in Lubbock Thursday pushing the formation of a schoolboy baseball league for schools of this area.

A meeting has been scheduled for Saturday morning at 10:30 o'clock at the office of the county school superintendent with seven schools invited to attend. It was also pointed out that any other in the area that have teams, and are interested, are invited to attend.

Field Is Problem

The main problem will be the finding of a suitable field on which the schoolboy teams can play. The league leaders want to play all the games in Lubbock, using this city as central meeting place for the teams in order to conserve travel.

Teams from Frenship, Ropes, Cooper and Idalou have been playing and are expected to be represented at the meeting. Invitations have been sent to Abernathy, Shallowater and Petersburg.

Games will be played in the afternoons for the rest of the school term, ending sometime late in May.

COLLEGE STATION, April 28 (AP) — Where the 1944 Southwest conference track and field championship is to rest will be pretty well decided here tomorro' when Texas, Texas A. and M., and Rice hook up in a triangular meet.

Southern Association To Open Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

With nearly all squads pared to player limits, Southern Association clubs squared off today for 1944 openers in Atlanta, Memphis, New Orleans and Nashville tonight.

The switch from daytime to night for openers was made to accommodate war workers.

Manager Johnny Riddle of Birmingham named 19 players to make the trip to New Orleans.

In New Orleans the Pelicans planned a light drill today with Manager Fresco Thompson giving special attention to outfielder Theodore Klonowski, who joined the club yesterday.

If the weather is right, Memphis is expecting an opening night crowd of more than 7,000.

Fans Must Think They're Fooling

Despite Win Streak, Brownies Failing To Draw Home Crowds

BY JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 28 — St. Louis fans apparently figure that the Browns are merely kidding in their brilliant start of the pennant campaign.

Only 1,106 were at Sportsman's park yesterday when Luke Sewell's lads beat Cleveland, 5 to 1, for their eighth straight victory, establishing a new American League record for a get-away winning streak.

This sprinkle of spectators — in a park that can accommodate 34,000 — brought the total to 11,798 who have turned out to encourage the Browns on their four afternoons at home. The total includes 2,021 for the home opener, and 7,709 at Sunday's double header with the White Sox.

Play White Sox Today

The Browns, who yesterday broke the 1933 Yankees' opening seven-game streak, were slated to try to equal the modern major league nine-game streak today against the White Sox at Chicago. This record is shared by the Giants of 1918 and the Dodgers of '40. The Brownies hoped that their efforts at Chicago's Comiskey park would be conducted in less privacy than at St. Loo.

There is nothing new about this privacy in connection with American league baseball at St. Louis, where Owner Don Barnes of the Browns is reported to have dropped more than a half million dollars since he became president of the club in November, 1936. For years Brownie games have been poorly patronized, and apparently there is little hope for improvement. Their home attendance was the worst in the majors, at least for the past two seasons. They drew 256,000 in 1942, and 215,295 in '43.

Still, one would imagine that a city with a population of more than 816,000 could work more enthusiasm for a club trying to break a winning streak record. That turnout of 1,106 certainly didn't do justice to the brand of ball the Browns have been playing this season — regardless of the club's disappointments in previous years.

Playing Heads-Up Ball

Sewell's men have been playing head-up ball. The club has been getting much better pitching than expected; the infield has been clicking, registering 11 double plays in eight games; and timely hitting has included six doubles, three triples and three homers. In beating Detroit, Chicago and Cleveland, the Browns registered a total of 37 runs more than double the opposition's 18.

Only two pitchers had to be lifted for relief — Jack Kramer in the opening game, and Rookie Newman Shirley in the sixth. Kramer came back later to go the full distance against the White Sox. Steve Sundra pitched a three-hitter against the Tigers, and later beat Cleveland. Nelson Potter achieved two victories; and Rookie Sigmund Jakuchi won his lone start.

However, the St. Louis success has been featured by sparkling play of the infield — George McQuinn, Don Gutteridge, Verne Stephens, and Mark Christman. If this quartet continues to click afield and at bat, the sixth place Browns of '43 will put up a hard fight for a first division berth.

MONTGOMERY'S FINALE

CHICAGO, April 28 (U.P.)—Bob Montgomery, the Army-bound Philadelphia lightweight puncher recognized as champion in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania, enters the ring for the last time for the duration tonight against Joey Peralta, rugged Mexican contender.

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 28 — When theA.A.U. advised the Penn relays to toss out Soldiers Al Blozis and Archie Harris, Secretary Dan Ferris apparently wasn't worried so much about the possibility that 2,000 kids would be "tainted" by competing against professionals as the likelihood that the A.A.U. would be accused of butting in where it wasn't concerned . . . But, come to think of it, the A.A.U. exists largely to draw the line between amateur and professional and it has worked out a fair compromise to allow service participation in most events . . . From a competitive standpoint, there wouldn't be much difference between allowing Pvt. Blozis to meet this year's college shot putters and letting Sgt. Joe Louis fight in the Golden Gloves because he's a soldier.

A ROOKIE A DAY

Frank Mancuso, Brown's catcher; his name alone ought to make him the club's No. 1 receiver. He's a brother of the Giants' Gus. After the 1942 season at San Antonio he got a chance with the Browns and a chance as O.C.S. at Fort Benning and took the latter. . . . On his fifth jump as a paratrooper he apparently thought he was Ernie Lombardi and got his left foot entangled in the guide lines; result a badly wrenched left knee, side and back and an honorable discharge. He's tall, dark and handsome, which shouldn't hurt attendance on ladies' days.

BOOT ON THE OTHER FOOT

Wendell Lalime, who used to have trouble making folks believe his tall but true tales of salmon fishing at Newport, Vt., now is complaining about too much credulity. In a recent business men's Red Cross basketball game, Howard Davis ended the show by kicking the ball the length of the gym and out the window . . . To make the story better, Lalime reported the ball landed in a passing freight car and was carried to Montreal. Now he and Davis hiding up alleys to avoid questions such as "how did you know it was the same ball?"

Bagby Still Peeved As He Leaves For Post

ATLANTA, April 28 (AP)—Jim Bagby, jr., 17-game winner for the Cleveland Indians last season, declared today that his feud with Cleveland's manager, Lou Boudreau, "Will never be settled."

"That business Boudreau and me burying the hatchet was the bunk," said the lanky pitcher as he swung abroad a northbound train and headed for Maritime service boot training at Sheepshead Bay, N. Y.

Bagby's dispute with Boudreau flared last season after the Indians' manager benched him for "being out of condition." Bagby denied it.

Bagby said he hoped to return to baseball after the war—but not with Cleveland.

Grid Scrimmage Is Set Today

Westerners Plan Inta-Squad Game

Coaches J. Mule Davis and Dixie White will put the Lubbock Westerners through the second intra-squad scrimmage game of the spring football camp this afternoon at Chapman Field. The scrimmage will start at 4:15 o'clock.

Both squads have been bolstered by the use of track men for this battle and another real scrap is expected by railbirds who have watched the teams prepare for the second clash.

The scrimmage last week resulted in a 14-to-12 win for the Blacks over the Whites, winning on the margin of extra points, but the Whites have put in a busy week overcoming this defect.

Key Men Out

The two squads will feel the loss of some key men today through injuries and four stars of last week's battle will be missing. T. J. Price and John Paul Jones are both nursing injuried knees, Johnny Gamble is laid up with a hip injury and Johnny Pearson will be out of town.

The backfields will draw the brunt of the new power from the track men, and both sides will have two veterans added to the backfield. The Whites will have Jim Lowrey and Bueron Lindsey in the backfield while Johnny Davis and R. W. Moyers have been added to the Blacks' backfield.

The probable starting lineups as announced by Davis are:

Whites	Pos.	Blacks
G. Davis	LE	Benefield
Lawson	LT	Knight
Foster	LG	Wall
Pressley	C	Haley
McGowan	RG	Crawford
Yandell	RT	Giles
Harris	RE	Collier
Lowrey	QB	Cole
Lindsey	LH	Sikes
Booker	RH	J. Davis
Brewert	FB	Moyers

Six Games Played In Softball Loops

Softball in the Lubbock grade school loops hit a new peak Thursday as six games were played. Another game played Wednesday was reported.

Central Ward was the only school to turn in a clean sweep during the day, both boys and girls of that school winning over K. Carter Coyotes. The Central Ward boys won a well played 5-to-1 victory while the girls outslugged the Carter girls to win 16-to-10.

The Sanders Sandies split with the Hunt Pioneers while Wilson Wranglers and Dupre Dodgies were doing the same.

The Sanders boys nosed out an 8-to-7 victory while the Hunt girls were blasting out a 16-to-4 victory to even the series. Wilson's boys team coasted in with a 9-to-1 win over Dupre, but the Dupre girls nosed out a 17-to-16 victory over Wilsbn as Christine Toles, the Dupre pitcher hit two home runs to help along the cause.

Wednesday afternoon, the Dupre girls staged a wild slugging uprising and romped off with a 34-to-10 victory over the Hunt girls.

Coach Not To Shift Parker's Schedule

SAN ANTONIO, April 28 (AP)—There will be no change after all in the schedule of flyin' Charley Parker, Thomas Jefferson's great school boy sprinter.

Coach Barlow (Bones) Irvin had planned to use Parker in the mile relay in an effort to add another first place in the state meet at Austin next week since the battle for the title looked like virtually a dead heat between Jefferson and Brackenridge.

Irvin had figured his sprint relay team without Parker good enough to take first place but Jack Grieder, a star member of the quartet, injured a leg muscle in the regional meet and can not participate. Therefore, Parker will not run the quarter mile either individually or in the mile relay but will stay with the spring relay team.

This means Parker will run the 100, 220 and relay in his final meet as a schoolboy. Parker holds the state record in both sprints at 9.5 and 20.6 and was a member of the sprint relay team that set the present state standard of 43.1.

Service Teams Plan Track-Field Meet

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 28 (AP) — Nine other Army Air fields and the University of New Mexico's Navy unit were bidden today to compete for track and field honors here May 20 with Kirtland Field's Flying Kellys.

Invitations were mailed to air bases at Hobbs, Carlsbad, Roswell, Las Vegas, Fort Sumner, Alamogordo and Deming, N. M., and Amarillo and Lubbock.

Kirtland field's athletic department said the "GI" tournament was scheduled with the viewing of giving this region a successor to the annual border conference track and field meet, discontinued in 1942.

J. W. DEERING, of 1301 Twenty-fifth street, claims some powers of prophecy—and well he may.

Back in 1923, Mr. Deering was in charge of the school at London, in Kimble county.

Needing a speaker for an important convocation of his youngsters, he asked a 30-year-old lawyer, banker and rancher of Junction to make the address. The lawyer-banker-rancher agreed, and in introducing the speaker to his charges Mr. Deering told the youngsters:

"Some day this man will be governor of Texas."

Mr. Deering, 30 years a teacher, was right. The lawyer-banker-ranchman was—and still is—Coke R. Stevenson, already Texas' governor for three years and who appears to have a lead-pipe cinch on holding the job until January 1, 1947.

Incidentally, at the time of Mr. Deering's prophecy Governor Stevenson had no idea of ever entering state-wide politics. When he did enter that field seven years later it was only because he failed to get the man of his choice to run for the legislature and so ran himself in order to remove an incumbent whom he considered ineffective.

Since that time the governor has been constantly in state office, serving twice as speaker of the House of Representatives; being twice elected lieutenant-governor; as governor by succession and then by election.

He is currently running for his second elective term.

OLDTIMERS around and about who remember Curtis A. Keen will be interested to know he has been in overseas service since last August—and will not be at all surprised to learn that recently received here are pictures showing Curtis—an Air Forces colonel—beating an African war drum in company with a collection of dusky native tribesmen!

Colonel Keen, who formerly commanded Rosecranz Field, St. Joseph, Mo., now commands Headquarters Station No. 2, North African Wing, Army Air Forces Transport command.

The colonel could not give his exact whereabouts, but it is an important aerial crossroads through which pass various "brass-hats" of the Allied war machine. "Even the boss, himself, has been here," Keen noted, apparently referring to President Roosevelt.

Colonel Keen is still the friendly "mixer" he was when he was chamber of commerce manager here and later one of the founders of Plains Agricultural Journal, which was fore-runner of the present Avalanche-Journal organization. One of his African chums is the chief of the tribe, a graduate of Oxford and a practicing attorney until he went to "chiefing" on a full-time basis.

Pictures of Colonel Keen show that his long, lean frame of earlier days has been upholstered somewhat by the years—he must be around 47. They also show he has a chestful of "costume jewelry," which is Army slang for campaign ribbons and decorations.

He was a U. S. Army flier attached to the Italian army in World War 1 and in that campaign was decorated by both the American and Italian governments and picked up a Purple Heart, to boot.

We are advised that the chamber of commerce in our war-jammed capital city is considering placing at strategic points signs reading:

You are about to enter Washington. Please don't!"

IN every city, town and village in the U.S. today employers are wondering how many of their former employes, now in the armed services, will return to their jobs after Victory—assuming, of course, that death does not intervene.

The business men of Genesee county, New York, not only wondered about the possibilities—they did something about trying to answer their own questions. They organized a committee among their leaders and surveyed, as nearly as possible, their entire crop of former employes now in uniform.

In a letter sent to 3,000 fighting men who called Genesee county home before December 7, 1941, the committee asked: "Do you intend to return to your prewar job here after the war is won?" Thus far, 1,034 of the 3,000 have replied and here is the box score:

546 said they wanted their old jobs back; 130 have other plans; 99 want other jobs because of specialized training they have received in the services; 92 had not made up their minds; 75 will go back to school for further educational training; 58 hope to enter business for themselves; 23 want to move to other communities with which they have become familiar while in uniform, and 11 want to stay in their particular uniformed service.

Assuming that Genesee county's fighting men are fairly representative of the boys in service, the Lubbock and South Plains employer can break down the survey and get a pretty fair picture of what he can expect when Johnny comes marching home.

J. B. HUTTO, who has retired from farming and now lives at 810 Avenue J, brought us an interesting volume the other day. It is described as "A Sequel to Webster's Elementary Spelling Book," or "A Speller and Definer." It was printed in Philadelphia in July of 1845 and was authored by William G. Webster, the son of Noah Webster, the lexicographer whose early American dictionary charted the paths of all his successors.

There are 12,000 words in the book and while most of its definitions are brief, they still fill the bill.

The book originally was the property of the L. M. Stine family of Sinclair county, Ala., the parents of Mr. Hutto's late wife.

Incidentally, William Webster pays a tribute to Father Noah on the first page of the book. There in it is stated that Noah Webster "taught millions to read, but not one to sin."

Feminine Viewpoint

BY RUTH MILLETT

(Copyright, 1944, For The Journal)

A YOUNG man about to go in the army wrote a plea to the editor of his home town paper, with this explanation: "I love my parents but they don't love my wife. I can't understand why."

MILLETT

The plea, reduced to a few words, was: "Let me go away feeling that you and my wife are friends, and that if she needs your help or you hers, I will know the help will be given."

The young man who wrote the letter to the editor said he thought if the undersigned plea were published, his mother and father might see and read it and apply it to themselves—and he wouldn't have to hurt their feelings by telling them how he felt.

There must be thousands of young husbands who are feeling the same way—for there are certainly that many families in which parents don't care for the girl their son married.

They would make an effort to care—or at least to get along peacefully until the war's end—if they knew how much it would mean to their son. And they would let him know about it.

WRITE CHEERFULLY

A YOUNG husband would feel mighty good if his mother wrote him: "Mary was over to dinner last night. She is well and getting along fine, though it is easy to see she misses you terribly. You would certainly be proud of her if you could hear her talk about her job at the war plant."

But he certainly wouldn't feel very good—or very kindly toward his mother, if instead she wrote: "Mary never drops by to see us now that you are away. I guess she is too taken up with that new job of hers to have any time for us. I don't see why she feels she has to work when you are sending her enough money to live on."

This Curious World

BY WILLIAM FERGUSON

Today's Journal Editorial

NOT SO GOOD—NOT SO BAD

While certainly not greatly reassuring, the report by Dr. Frederick H. Lahee, chief geologist for an important oil company, to the meeting of the National Oil Scout's and Landmen's association in Dallas the other day that oil reserves in the United States decreased 189 million barrels during 1943, was not as alarming as it might have been.

The encouraging aspect of the report was the estimate that the known recoverable oil reserves in the nation still exceed 19 billion barrels.

This would indicate that if the decline should continue at the rate mentioned by Dr. Lahee, this nation still will have enough oil at the present fantastic rate of usage to last more than 100 years. Not many people are capable of worrying too much about the problems of 100 years from now.

Less encouraging are the facts that 1943, for the first time, saw a decline in known reserves and that the figures on those reserves are nothing more than estimates. No one knows with certainty whether the reserves actually exist in the quantities mentioned.

Perhaps the best summation of his report would be that, while the oil picture for the United States could be much brighter, it still lacks a great deal being as dark as it might be.

Peter Edson's Washington Column

Dear CIO, Love From AFL!

BY PETER EDSON

Journal Washington Correspondent

LABOR leaders frequently protest that the so-called "capitalist-owned-and-controlled press" doesn't print the truth about labor and that a labor-owned-and-controlled press is therefore necessary to give the working people the true facts of life. Taking a leaf from this book of precepts, it behooves every person who would be well informed to scan the AFL and the CIO press clip sheets and handouts from time to time to see which way the fur flies.

EDSON

The two top editors and public relations experts for these outfits are Phil Pearl for the AFL and Len De Caux for the CIO. Both have offices in Washington, both used to be newspapermen themselves, both are well and favorably known to the minions of the capitalist press, both are nice guys. They are even friends, and collaborate on many joint labor publicity stunts. Also, both write columns for their house organs — pardon, labor newspapers.

If there is anything to this line that only the labor press tells the truth, you would therefore expect to find the pure truth, the unvarnished truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth in the writings of these two columnists. On this assumption, we shift you now to our listening post in the American Federation of Labor News Service.

PEARLS FROM PEARL

THE next words you read will be a selection from the column, "Facing the Facts With Philip Pearl." Mr. Pearl:

"No matter how clear, consistent and forthright the policies of the American Federation of Labor may be, the Communist brain trusters in the CIO and their brothers in intellectual pansyism on the Daily Worker find no difficulty in distorting and misinterpreting them.

"That's no trick at all for these boys for they have been trained in a school of mental prestidigitation which can denounce the war one day as a sordid imperialistic struggle and embrace the cause of the United Nations the next day as a holy crusade for freedom.

"With the same magic, the CIO Communists manage to slap the polltaxers in the south with one hand and grasp the paw of Frank Hague with the other.

"Caught right in the midst of villifying the Badoglio regime in Italy by Stalin's sudden recognition of that regime, the CIO Communists, with reptilian ease, squirmed out of the hole and found complete justification for Soviet Russia's action.

"How such completely unprincipled and thoroughly hypocritical puppets of Moscow can ever hope to turn the workers of this country against the American Federation of Labor, is beyond us."

That, ladies and gentlemen, was Mr. Philip Pearl of the AFL.

SAYINGS BY DE CAUX

WE shift you now to the CIO Union News Service. The next words you read will be a selection from the column, "Looking Ahead," by Len De Caux. Mr. De Caux:

"This column has always been kind to misunderstood AFL leaders.

"We know that brainless bluster, pigheadedness, emotional tantrums and apparently aimless malice are often symptoms of some psychological maladjustment.

"We can appreciate the inferiority complex that must develop in those who vainly seek to compete with such a vigorous and modern movement as the CIO . . .

"Most of the aging hierarchy of the AFL executive council is as much out of step with its own rank and file as it is with the times.

"The scurrilous abuse of the CIO, disruptive attacks on labor unity, the kowtowing to reaction that mark so many statements issued in the name of the AFL represent that movement about as much at Hitler represents the American people."

Ladies and gentlemen, you have just read two examples of fearless, honest journalism as practiced by the labor press. You are urged to believe every word of it, because labor newspapers say they don't print anything that isn't so.

LUBBOCK EVENING JOURNAL

An independent Democratic newspaper published every afternoon except Saturdays and Sundays, and consolidated on Sunday mornings, only, with Lubbock Morning Avalanche to Lubbock Avalanche-Journal by Avalanche-Journal Publishing Co., Inc., 1211-13 Texas avenue; entered as Second Class Mail Matter in the Postoffice at Lubbock, Texas, under Congressional provision.

Ernie Pyle Leaves Anzio Beachhead En Route To New Post

Loading Hospital Ships Sometimes Painful

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Ernie Pyle has finished a tour of duty under fire on the Anzio beachhead and is en route to a new writing assignment. Do not be surprised if Ernie's dispatches in the near future bear the dateline: "With Eisenhower's Invasion Troops in Continental Europe.")

BY ERNIE PYLE

Journal War Correspondent

NAPLES, Apr. 28 (By Wireless) —When the time finally came for me to leave the Anzio beachhead I had a choice of coming out by airplane, by LST supply ship or by hospital ship. I chose the hospital ship, because I'd never been on one.

At the beachhead the hospital ships lie two or three miles out while loading. Ambulances bring patients from the tent hospitals to the waterfront. There they are loaded on the small, flat-decked LCT's, which have canvas over the tops to keep off rain.

ERNIE PYLE

Usually more than half the men in each load are walking cases. They sit or stand at one end of the deck, while the litter cases lie in rows at the other. I went out to the hospital ship with such a load of wounded.

Once out there we had to lie off and wait for an hour or so while previous LCT's finished unloading their wounded. As we lay there the officials in charge decided to transfer the walking wounded off another LCT onto ours. So it drew alongside, threw over a line, and the two ships came against each other. The slightly wounded and sick men jumped across whenever the ships hit together.

Rough Treatment Described

A heavy swell was running and the ships would draw a few feet apart and then come together with a terrific bang. It was punishing to the wounded men. I stood among them, and every time we'd hit they'd shut their eyes and clench their teeth.

One mature man, all encased in a cast, looked at me pleadingly and said:

"Don't those blankety-blank so-and-so's know there are men here who are badly hurt?"

Occasionally shells screamed across the town and exploded in the water in our vicinity. The wounded men didn't cringe or pay any attention to this near danger, but the pounding of the ships together made them wild.

ONCE alongside the big white hospital ship, the wounded are hoisted up by slings, just as you'd hoist cargo. A sling is a wooden boxlike affair which holds two litters on the bottom and two on top. Up they go as the winches grind. Litter bearers wait on deck to carry them to their wards. The merchant seamen also pitch in and help carry.

Each badly wounded man carries his own X-ray negatives with him in a big brown envelope. As one load was being hoisted up, the breeze tore an envelope out of a wounded man's hand and it went fluttering through the air. Immediately a cry went up, "Grab that X-ray, somebody." Fortunately it came down on the deck of the smaller ship below, and was rescued.

It took about four hours to load the more than 500 wounded and sick men aboard our ship. As soon as it was finished we pulled anchor and sailed. Hospital ships, like other ships, prefer to sit in the waters of Anzio just as short a time as possible.

Ships Well Fitted

Our hospital ships run up to Anzio frequently, because we want to keep our hospitals there free for any sudden flood of new patients. Also, being in a hospital on the beachhead isn't any too safe.

The hospital ships are mostly former luxury liners. Right now most of the ones here are British, but the one I came on was American.

Its officers and crew are all merchant seamen. Its medical staff is all Army—10 doctors, 33 nurses and about 80 enlisted men. Maj. Theodore Paulk of Pontiac, Mich., commands.

These ships ferry back and forth on trips like this for a few months, then make a trip back to America with wounded. My ship has been back to the States three times since it first came over less than a year ago.

IN a sense a hospital ship is the nearest thing to peacetime that I've seen in a war zone. The ship runs with lights on all over it, the staff has good beds and good cabins, there is hot water 24 hours a day, the food is wonderful.

I was given a top bunk in a cabin with one of the doctors. After nosing around into all the nice conveniences of the place, I discovered we also had a toilet and a shower.

I asked unbelievingly if the bath worked. They said sure it worked. So I took a bath for half an hour and felt very weak and civilized and wonderful afterwards.

Alfalfa, Onion & Orange Land

8600 Acres—All Can Be Irrigated From Wells

Well located in the famed Winter Garden district of Texas, 105 miles southwest of San Antonio. Railroad switch on the land. Eight (8) miles of all-weather roads through the land. Six (6) miles Nueces River frontage. 6,000 acres river bottom land that will grow alfalfa and onions very successfully, and make very large yields. 1,800 acres more land well adapted to Rhodes grass. Oat pasture in the winter time, and all kinds of fall, winter and spring vegetables. 200 acres real good pasture land. Cost over $100,000.00 to improve it, and can be colonized within three years, according to my judgment, in tracts of 40 to 160 acres to net the owner or owners over a million dollars.

I want to sell half of this land, as I am not able to hold it all, or, would sell two-thirds of it, as I am forced to sell some of my land, as I own too much. There is one man who is farming 150 acres of this land this year, in onions. I believe he will make over $50,000.00 net on same. Mr. J. W. Little is farming the same kind of land 10 miles away, in alfalfa, and claimed to have made over $200.00 per acre, net, last year. There is lots of turkey and deer on this land, and fish in the river, and lots of other wild game. The land that is now in cultivation is worth more than the price asked for all of it. All that is in cultivation has plenty of water from wells, and plenty of water to irrigate with. The whole tract can be irrigated from the wells.

For quick sale, priced $30.00 per acre. My representative, Mr. W. H. Wilson, Carrizo Springs, will show you the land. I will be in Carrizo Springs during the next ten (10) days, so come to see this land immediately if you want to make a fortune. Can be had on liberal terms.

Write or wire for proof, and will send you a 64-page booklet, with plenty of proof to convince any sane man.

Von Papen Summoned To Berlin To Report

(By The Associated Press)

Franz von Papen, German ambassador to Turkey, is returning to Berlin this weekend, and a German propaganda broadcast said today he would not take back to Ankara the German views on Turkey's suspension of chrome shipments to the Axis. This raised the possibility Germany was considering a break of relations with Turkey.

"The German ambassador in Ankara, Franz von Papen, has been summoned to Berlin to report," a Berlin emission said. "A spokesman at the foreign office declined on Thursday to discuss the question of Turkish-German relations before publication of a German communique concerning suspension of Turkish deliveries of chrome."

WASHINGTON, April 28 — Here's why airmail letters sometimes take so long to reach you.

Some of them go by train instead of plane. Some that go by plane are delayed because of the heavy burden on the planes.

The situation is improving, has a good way to go.

The Postoffice department, however, says the great bulk of airmail still moves by air.

Army Took Planes

This is the department's story:

After Pearl Harbor the armed forces, needing transport planes in a hurry, turned to the American commercial airlines which at the time had 324 planes. The armed forces took 153.

But after Pearl Harbor the amount of airmail began to climb dizzily.

Airmail figured in pound miles—the number of pounds multiplied by the number of miles flown—rose from 1,761,200,000 in January, 1941, to 2,593,500,000 in January, 1942, and to 4,667,800,000 in January, 1943.

Figured on a yearly basis, the pound miles of airmail climbed from 22,294,963,000 in 1941 to 56,693,451,000 in 1944.

Load Still Increasing

In the first three months of this year the airmail load was still increasing, being 30 to 40 per cent greater than the same period in 1943.

Thus, while the number of planes carrying the mail was cut almost in half, the amount of mail to be carried more than doubled.

A sack of airmail may arrive at an airport, scheduled to leave on a certain plane. When it gets there, that plane already may be jammed with other airmail. So the sack has to wait for a second plane.

May Be Sent By Train

That means a delay. But if the second, or a third plane, is also crowded, then that sack mentioned above may be sent by train so that it will not be delayed too long.

The Army has turned back to the commercial airlines now 36 planes. This still is far from putting the lines back to their peacetime plane total.

But in the months ahead they expect more planes from the Army.

So, the Postoffice department says, gradually movement of airmail entirely by plane is coming closer.

Two-thirds of the world's people spend their whole lives producing food.

Stanton's Feeds are making their way by the way they're made.

Minerals, which every animal needs to grow and produce, are not as plentiful in the grains and roughages you feed today because wind and rain and former crops have taken them from our soil. Mineral deficient soils result in mineral deficient crops. These deficiencies must be made up if the livestock which feed on these crops are to be made healthy, vigorous and productive. Stanton's ManAmar Feeds supply the vital minerals, along with equally essential vitamins and animal proteins. They are made with ManAmar and B-D Plus which, in turn, draw all these elements from their richest storehouse, the sea. Ask your Stanton dealer today how to put Sea Power into your poultry and livestock rations.

MANAMAR
ManAmar supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials — fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "Complex." Made from ocean life, it supplies "sea power".

Travel Ban Goes In Effect In Britain

LONDON, April 28 (U.P.)—Bass for the biggest sea and air-borne invasion ever planned, moved nearer "D day" today with the imposition of a ban on all travel overseas and continuing German air raids on what Nazi broadcasts said were ship massing in English ports.

Some 50,000,000 persons in the British isles virtually were quarantined from the rest of the world at midnight last night, when all but a handful directly involved in preparations for the invasion were forbidden to leave the country.

Their only link with the outside world was tightly-censored communications and ships and planes heavy with military cargo and soldiers moving toward the points from which they will pour across the water into western Europe.

The ban on travel abroad was announced nearly a week ago, but those who previously had received exit permits were permitted to leave up until midnight last night. Henceforth, only those involved on the most urgent government business which cannot be postponed will be allowed to go overseas.

Foreign diplomats, with the exception of those from the United States and Russia, previously had been forbidden to leave the country, send diplomatic pouches abroad without prior censorship or communicate with the governments in code.

The official Nazi DNB agency reported that German bombers in "considerable strength" last night continued their attacks on "enemy ship concentrations, important targets and harbor installations along the English southwest coast."

Every night during the past week, the Germans have sent planes scudding along the east, south and west coasts. Red flares have been dropped, presumably to help reconnaissance photographers.

Nazis Report Concentrations

Previous Nazi reports had asserted that the Allies were massing in British waters the largest concentration of shipping since Dunkirk, presumably for the impending invasion.

However, the scale of the German attacks fell far below the scale of those by the RAF on the French invasion coast in the spring and summer of 1940, when a Nazi landing in Britain was believed imminent. The Germans also have confined their efforts to night, whereas the RAF attacked concentrations of barges and ships along the channel coast around the clock.

King George VI paid his second visit to invasion troops within three days yesterday, reviewing ceremonial parades and holding inspections over a wide area of the country.

Lubbock Man Is In Crew With Noted Pacific Bombardier

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story was written by Master Technical Sergeant Maurice E. Moran of Pittsburgh, Pa., and released by United Press).

GUADALCANAL, (Delayed) — The Red Bird lays eggs which the Japanese can't stomach.

There is only one Red Bird in the South Pacific. The bird's nest is in a big Liberator bomber. The eggs are on the 500-pound explosive variety and their destructive effect on Japanese airdromes, personnel and installations is terrific.

McCORMICK

The Red Bird never crows about the eggs.

But Major John Q. Kissner, 27, of Kennett, Mo., skipper of a U. S. Army Air force Liberator squadron and pilot of the Red Bird's Liberator is not so inarticulate. Without equivocation, the major says:

Red Bird is the best bombardier in the South Pacific. He hasn't missed his target yet."

From Erie, Pa.

That should make people in Erie, Pa., proud, for the Red Bird is First Lt. William L. Byrd, 22, of Erie.

Lt. Byrd's shock of red hair made his nickname "Red Bird" a natural. He's a colorful character, but you never find that out from him. His reputation has been built by his crew and squadron mates, which makes it more authentic.

"No one could ever get Red Bird to admit that he's ever hit anything," said the major, a massive man who was associated with his father, John E. Kissner, in the drainage contracting business in Dublin, Miss., before he became a bomber pilot. "Observers in other planes always claim his hits for him. But to my knowledge, in 40-odd combat missions over Kahili, Rabaul, Buka, and Tarawa, Red Bird hasn't failed yet to lay his eggs on the target."

Proud Of His Crew

The major is pretty proud of the rest of his crew also. There are none better, he says, than First Lt. William J. Martin, 37, of Mobile, Ala., the navigator, and First Lt. Kenneth N. McCormick, 21, of 1420 Avenue M Lubbock, Tex., the co-pilot.

Red Bird has another accomplishment which rates him as much respect as his ability with a bomb sight. That's his poker playing.

"The guy never misses filling an inside straight, either," a pilot lounging in the briefing room said, rather ruefully.

Deal Is Near With Spain

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — Prospects for a quick settlement of Allied negotiations with Spain appeared brighter today than at any time since they were begun two months ago with Anglo-American imposition of an oil embargo on Spain.

The one point which has forced a long delay in conclusion of the conversations has been Spain's export of wolfram (tungsten) to Germany and it now seems that Spain is about to agree to Allied demands, authoritative sources averred.

Other Delays Cited

It was pointed out, however, that the discussions were virtually completed several times in the past but disagreement within the Spanish government prevented their conclusion.

The settlement is expected to set a flat tonnage quota of Spanish shipments of tile ore to Germany rather than a percentage of previous trade.

Since considerable amounts were shipped during the first two months of this year it was possible that the agreed quota will leave very little if any wolfram for Germany in 1944, thus drying up her imports from Spain for use in building up resistance to the invasion.

State Headquarters Blamed By Ousted Draft Board Member

BROWNSVILLE, April 28 (AP)—Harbert Davenport, who was dismissed as a member of a Brownsville selective service board, today said "the attack" on him and three members of the board's clerical force came from state selective service headquarters in Austin.

"The attack has come entirely from Austin," he said. "General Hershey is a victim of misrepresentation by those he thought he had a right to trust."

Davenport stated that state headquarters was "gradually usurping control of local draft boards through policy supervisors and audit-inspectors."

Ability To Irritate

"These men," he said, "have been chosen more for their abilities to irritate than for their administrative ability."

He declared he found most of them to be arrogant and truculent and that they deliberately sought to irritate him.

"These men visit the local board offices and do all in their power to transfer the work of the boards from the unpaid administrators in whom it was placed by act of Congress to the clerk of the board and other paid personnel. These in turn are told in effect that to hold their jobs they must take orders from state headquarters instead of from the local boards.

"The local boards are told, more or less tactfully, to classify registrants at the behest of state headquarters or else resign."

Davenport said he had written to Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) on Sept. 20 and cited this as the crux of his disagreement with the state headquarters and the reason for his being removed from the office by an order from national draft headquarters.
