Johnson, Kosygin Fail To Resolve Differences

Premier Calls Talks 'Useful'

NEW YORK (AP) — President Johnson and Premier Alexei N. Kosygin have failed to resolve any of their differences over such major world issues as Vietnam and the Middle East, but they intend to keep in direct contact on these and other problems they debated in their Glassboro summit conference.

The conference ended Sunday night after the two men had spent almost 10 hours together in two days at the small New Jersey town south of Philadelphia. Both told a cheering rain-drenched crowd of their desire to promote peace in the world.

FAMILIAR ATTACKS

Kosygin returned to New York in a helicopter provided by the President and held a news conference at the United Nations. There he abandoned the smiling countenance displayed at Glassboro and reverted to familiar Soviet attacks on Israel in the Middle East and the United States in Vietnam.

Johnson returned to Washington and said in a broadcast statement that "no agreement is readily in sight on the Middle Eastern crisis, and our well known differences over Vietnam continue."

But he added:

"I believe it is fair to say that these days at Hollybush have made the world a little less dangerous."

TOUGH TASK

Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko, now in New York, were left with the hard task of trying to negotiate some concrete accords out of what Johnson called "the spirit of Hollybush." They are expected to begin a series of talks in a day or so.

Hollybush is the name of the home of President Thomas E. Robinson of Glassboro State College where Johnson and Kosygin met on Friday and Sunday.

RISK REDUCED

The major impression left by the conference was that the two leaders, while failing to resolve any of their major differences, had at least demonstrated the intention to keep their conflicts in bounds and thus reduce the risk of nuclear war.

The two leaders took sharply different lines in their postconference statements. Johnson conceded the persistence of disagreements but emphasized his hopes for the future. Kosygin focused on his demands for an Israeli rollback in the Middle East and renewed the Soviet accusation of U. S. agreession in Vietnam.

Asked whether Johnson would receive as warm a welcome in the Soviet Union as Kosygin had received at Glassboro, the premier indicated that Johnson would not be invited under present conditions.

PEACEFUL POLICY

"I believe," he said, "if aggression were ended and a truly peaceful policy were pursued, the welcome of President Johnson in the Soviet Union would be truly cordial indeed."

The premier called the Glassboro talks "useful" because they gave the President and him an opportunity to "compare positions on the questions discussed." He made no reference to a point which Johnson stressed — the chance for the two to at least talk directly about their discords.

Referring to Vietnam and the Arab-Israeli conflict, Johnson said: "I was very glad to hear the chairman's views face to face, and to have a chance to tell him directly and in detail just what our purposes and policies are — and are not — in these particular areas."

EYE TO EYE

"Meetings like these do not themselves make peace," Johnson said at another point in his report to the nation after returning to Washington. "We must all remember that there have been many meetings before and they have not ended all of our troubles or our dangers.

"But I can also repeat on this Sunday afternoon another thing I said on Friday: that it does help a lot to sit down and look at a man — right in the eye — and try to reason with him, particularly if he is trying to reason with you.

"I said on Friday that the world is very small and very dangerous. Tonight I believe it is fair to say that these days at Hollybush have made it a little smaller, too, but also a little less dangerous."

SECRECY

A little more than half of the 10 hours the two men spent together was spent apart from their advisers, attended only by interpreters. This gave them unusual opportunity to talk in full secrecy about their disagreements and about the possibilities of future action to narrow them.

This gave the Glassboro meeting a possibly greater significance for the future than the public statements indicated. But it was not known whether Johnson and Kosygin explored the prospects for action which might become possible under changing circumstances.

Friendly Chat

Mrs. Ludmilla Gvishiana, daughter of Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin, chats with President Lyndon Johnson at Glassboro, N.J., yesterday prior to summit talks between the two world leaders. Mrs. Gvishiana later spent the afternoon with Mrs. Lyndon Johnson and Lynda Bird at Island Beach State Park as the guests of Mrs. Richard Hughes, wife of New Jersey's governor. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Leaders Losing
GOP Race Wide Open

WEST YELLOWSTONE, Mont. (AP) — An indicated drift among Western Republican governors away from the two current top contenders pointed in the direction today of a wide-open scramble for the 1968 GOP presidential nomination.

By all of the recognizable but not always dependable signs, Gov. George Romney of Michigan and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the 1960 nominee, are losing ground to two men who say they are not candidates.

Toward Reagan

The flight of party conservatives from Nixon toward Gov. Ronald Reagan of California, shown at last week's meeting of the Young Republicans in Omaha, was acknowledged by Gov. David M. Cargo of New Mexico as a phenomenon that is becoming widespread.

Cargo, a Michigan native and close friend of Romney, has every reason or promoting Romney's candidacy. He had been expected to come up with a statement at a Jackson, Wyo., meeting later this week seeking to put a majority of the GOP governors behind Romney.

Praises Rocky

Instead, Cargo is talking in terms of heading an uncommitted New Mexico delegation to next year's nominating convention. He was expansive in his praise of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York.

After a survey, Cargo said 16 o the 25 Republican state executives privately think Rockefeller is the best qualified and most-likely-to-succeed candidate against President Johnson.

If this represents sentiment among the GOP executives, and if Romney should falter in the primarie Rockefeller might represent a replacement despite his protestations that he will never seek the nomination again.

Primary Risk

These primaries are looming larger in the calculations of the governors. They are wary of going out on any political limb for a candidate who might fail to make a creditable showing with the voters.

Although Cargo said he thinks the 18 GOP governors he counts as moderates ought to get together on a candidate by next November, there was a great deal of doubt this would happen because of the primaries.

Name On Ticket

Reagan's name will be on the ballot in free-for-all contests in such states as Nebraska, Oregon and possibly Wisconsin. The feeling is that Romney will have to win the first test in New Hampshire to keep his flag flying. Rockefeller, on the other hand, may escape entry in these contests on the basis of his declaration that he is not a candidate.

'Grave Misgivings'

NEW YORK (AP) — William Gurvich, who has worked as New Orleans' Dist. Atty. Jim Garrison's chief private investigator in his investigation of the assassination in Dallas of President Kennedy, says he has "grave misgivings" about the inquiry.

Gurvich told the New York Times, before leaving New York for New Orleans, that he would ask Garrison to take "an entirely new look at the whole matter."

A member of Garrison's staff said Friday that Gurvich "has not been part of the Kennedy investigation for the last two months."

Gurvich denied this.

Gurvich said his misvigings concerned "the behavior of certain people in the district attorney's office and the criminal procedures employed in this case."

"When I return to New Orleans," he said, "I expect to confront Mr. Garrison as a gentleman, as a friend and as his aide.

"I will thoroughly explain my feelings to him and ask him to take an entirely new look at the whole matter. The results of this meeting will determine my status as a member of his staff."

Gurvich, 41, said he had "no reason to believe that Dist. Atty. Garrison does not believe that there was a conspiracy to assassinate President Kennedy hatched in New Orleans."

Storms Deal South Plains More Damage

By The Associated Press

Weekend storms left crops battered anew and roads awash in parts of the South Plains today, and a stalled cool front straddling the state posed a threat of more punishing weather.

Up to 5.75 inches of rain deluged farms near Littlefield, northwest of Lubbock, washing out entire fields of young plants.

SHOWERS WELCOME

At the same time, however, welcome showers dampened normally dry sections of far West Texas and moisture-shy sections of the Panhandle.

Shower activity continued into this morning through North Texas, hit in places by occasionally violent thunderstorms Sunday evening.

HENRIETTA SOAKED

Henrietta, about 15 miles southeast of Wichita Falls, was soaked by 3.5 inches of rain that fell within a six-hour period early today.

Hail accompanied the downpours around Littlefield, where E. C. Hill reported his farm gauge caught 5.75 inches of moisture and neighbor Jimmy Starnes measured four inches.

CROPS DESTROYED

Some growers of wheat, cotton or grain sorghums estimated the intense storms wiped out one-fourth of their crops. Water covered several farm roads in the Littlefield vicinity.

In the Davis Mountains around Alpine, meanwhile, a soaking 2.20 inches of rain fell with a promise of range grass for stockmen.

Measurements elsewhere included Lubbock 1.60, Shamrock 1.56, Memphis 1.35 and Wink 1.03.

LUBBOCK FOG

And El Paso's .58 inch compared with a total of only .36 inch previously this year.

Cooling was limited from the latest cool front, which dawdled early this morning along a line stretching westward from Texarkana a little south of Dallas and close to San Angelo.

Behind the front temperatures stood in the low 60s before dawn and there was a little fog around Amarillo and Lubbock. Temperatures held in the low 80s at some points in South Texas.

'HOT' IN LAREDO

Top marks Sunday afternoon ranged up to 102 degrees at Laredo. The mercury reached only 63 at Lubbock and 64 at Amarillo.

Forecasts held a promise of widely scattered thunderstorms again by evening over the western third of Texas. It was expected to be clear to partly cloudy elsewhere.

Farm Land Bill Axed

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. John Connally has vetoed a bill to implement a 1966 constitutional amendment that says farm land may be taxed only on its value for agricultural purposes.

The amendment was written to protect farmers on the fringes of cities from having their land taxed at its value for real estate development, which would be much higher than its agricultural value.

Connally said the amendment required no separate implementing act and said the bill's definition of agricultural use differs from that of the constitutional change.

The bill authorized each county to set up a board to determine agricultural value of land for taxation purposes.

But Connally said the constitutional amendment "specifically makes the county tax assessor responsible for determining whether the land qualifies for the designation as to agricultural use. The amendment makes no mention of a board of any type to administer the provisions."

Terrorists Destroy Oil

ADEN (AP)—Terrorists blew holes in three huge oil tanks in Aden's harbor area today, destroying around 40,000 tons of oil. There was no fire.

A spokesman for the Mobil Oil Co. said "we are doing all we can to stop the flow but the charges blew off the valves."

The terrorism is the work of rival Arab nationalist groups—mostly pro-Egyptian—who want to seize control of the Federation of South Arabia when Britain grants independence next January.

U. S. Air Raids Yield Diminishing Returns?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some top U. S. officials are beginning to think the air war against North Vietnam is yielding diminishing gains while toughened ground defenses are raising the price in U. S. warplanes.

Certain of them believe it might be a good idea to limit the bombing essentially to the supply routes running south through the narrow neck of North Vietnam and to cut down strikes against heavily defended industrial-type targets in the Hanoi and Haiphong areas.

But other authorities argue that to do so would result in swelling the volume of supplies and equipment to Communist forces in South Vietnam.

MORE RED GUNS

Those holding this general view say the Communists have been emplacing many more antiaircraft guns. in the 150-mile long North Vietnamese panhandle, and that concentrating attacks there would not likely reduce the toll of U. S. planes.

Moreover, they contend that the movement of material should be interdicted not only at the lower end of the funnel but at the top where it enters the infiltration pipeline. Officials inclined toward a slowdown in the air war are not all civilians. Some military men also have doubts about the effectiveness of the bombing.

And those favor at least continuing the present level of air strikes — and possibly an intensification — are not all military.

It is known, however, that the Joint Chiefs of Staff unanimously and vigorously oppose any easing off of the air attacks on Communist military targets in North Vietnam.

TARGETS UNTOUCHED

The Air Force and Navy were authorized last Feb. 22 to start hitting what one military source called "more lucrative targets" of an industrial and economic nature.

Now there are not many major targets left untouched. Yet the North Vietnamese continue to push their war effort in South Vietnam without any apparent letup.

Many bombed facilities have been rebuilt or put back in shape for at least limited use. So U. S. raiders make repeated returns to hit them again.

North Vietnam's biggest iron and steel complex, the Thai Nguyen steel mill 38 miles north of Hanoi, is reported to be completely out of production. But it took at least 10 raids to achieve this.

One of three major MIG jet fields has been bombed and strafed at least nine times. But military officers do not claim that the Kep base, 37 miles northeast of Hanoi, is out of action. They have seen too many examples of North Vietnamese ability to make quick repairs.

The most important targets still untouched are Haiphong harbor and three MIG fields in the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

It is U. S. Policy to spare Haiphong harbor and its approaches from attack for fear that raids might force the Soviet Union into a confrontation with the United States.

The military chiefs long have urged closing Haiphong, through which an estimated two-thirds of North Vietnam's military and civilian imports are channeled, much of it in Soviet ships.

DIKES BOMBED

The Communists claimed again this spring that U. S. planes bombed dikes in the Red River Valley.

If the dike system were wiped out, great areas of rice-growing land would be flooded and spoiled, but not even the most hawk-like advocates of punishing North Vietnam advocate thus striking at the civilian food supply.

In about 2½ years of sustained bombing, U. S. military sources said, it is calculated that these major results have been achieved:

—More than 75 per cent of North Vietnam's petroleum and ammunition dumps and depots destroyed.

PLANTS RUINED

—More than 75 per cent of its power plants ruined. The only one of North Vietnam's 12 major power plants which has not been bombed is at Lao Cai near the North Vietnam-Red China boundary.

U. S. pilots are ordered to stay 25 to 30 miles from the border to prevent overflights of Chinese territory.

—More than 50 per cent of North Vietnam's bridges are claimed to have been destroyed. However, the North Vietnamese have demonstrated skill at quickly replacing bridges with temporary spans.

—More than 30 per cent of North Vietnam's cement plant capacity has been destroyed, officers said. Cement is used to repair roads and airfield runways, as well as shattered buildings.

Lake Helped Some By Borden Rains

Rains inched nearer Howard County Monday and even sneaked over the north county line.

Meanwhile, heavy rains fell over parts of Borden County and gave relief to parched ranchlands.

At noon Monday, Lake J. B. Thomas had reaped mild benefit from early morning showers. The lake had come up .34 of a foot and was at elevation 2,242.50 accounting for 1,700 acre-feet increase. This was little over five billion galions. O. H. Ivie, general manager of CRMWD, said the inflow was continuing at the rate of one inch per hour.

At the dam, early morning rain amounted to 3.5 inches. Gail reported two inches of slow rain which began at midnight and wus continuing at 9:30 a.m.

The Rich Anderson ranch southwest of Gail reported 1.2 inches of slow rain.

At Ackerly, however, only .2 inch fell. About three miles to the northeast, however, .9 inch was measured.

Ed Simpson, north of Luther in north - central Howard County, reported .6 inch, which gave young crops and pastures a timely boost. The Read farm southwest of Vincent reported an inch of slow rain at 8 a.m. today. This was in a section missed by last week's spotted showers.

The Reef Fields plant in northeastern Howard got around half an inch precipitation.

Saturday night and Sunday morning Lamesa came in for 3.4 inches.

Big Spring got only sprinkles Monday morning and the parched areas of the northwest part of the county remained untouched by water.

Here Are Tips For Overcoming Marriage Gap

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you're a 19- or 20-year-old girl concerned about your chances of marriage—you may be justified in worrying.

The Population Reference Bureau says 800,000 of you had better depart from tradition in husband-hunting or you may not make a catch.

The problems: There are 3.6 million girls in those age brackets but only 2.8 million 21- and 22-year-old men, the traditional targets of the younger girls.

Suggestions for overcoming the marriage gap? Try someone your own age or considerably older, wait a few years and see what happens, or find a career you'll really like—permanently.

Kosygin Wings Toward Cuba

NEW YORK (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin left the United States for Cuba today after an historic nine-day stay in this country during which he met with President Johnson and pleaded the Arab cause before the United Nations General Assembly.

The Russian's big turboprop aircraft, Ilyushin 18, lifted off a runway at Kennedy Airport at 12:07 p.m. and turned south toward Cuba on a flight expected to take just over four hours.

Kosygin would be the first high-ranking Soviet official to visit the Caribbean regime of Prime Minister Fidel Castro since Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan traveled there in 1962.

Johnson and Kosygin met for more than 10 hours in the little college town of Glassboro, N.J. last Friday and Sunday. They appeared affable after each session, but neither retreated from stated positions on Vietnam or the Middle East.

Before taking off, Kosygin held an impromptu news conference at the airport during which he indicated, as he did Sunday, that President Johnson might not be welcome to visit the Soviet Union at present.

Asked if he had invited Johnson to Moscow, Kosygin said:

"First of all, I think we should have a relieving of tensions in the world."

The Soviet leader was noncommital when asked if he intended to stop over in Paris to see French President Charles de Gaulle after going to Cuba.

"That I can't say," he said. "We haven't made a decision yet."

Then Kosygin passed down a line of newsmen, shaking hands with many of them.

He also thanked Johnson, New Jersey Gov. Richard J. Hughes and the people of New York for the "hospitality accorded me."

Pope Deplores Plight Of Palestine Refugees

VATICAN CITY (AP) — Pope Paul VI created 27 new cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church today, deplored the plight of Palestine refugees, and appealed for the internationalization of Jerusalem.

The new princes of the Church included four Americans.

The Pope also called on all Vietnamese—North and South to "once again love each other as brothers" and to work to rebuild their country into a free and independent land.

CLOSED CONSISTORY

Pope Paul spoke in a closed consistory he held with 35 members of the Sacred College of Cardinals to confirm the 27 prelates he nominated May 29 to join them.

The meeting lasted 23 minutes.

Speaking of the Middle East crisis, the Pope said the fighting between Israel and the Arab states had worsened the problem of Palestine refugees and "made evident the overly precarious and inadequate situation of the holy places in Jerusalem, which are dear and sacred for every Christian heart."

"The Holy City of Jerusalem," he declared, "must be for always what it represents — a city of God, a free oasis of peace and prayer, a place of encounter, of elevation and of concord for all, with its own internationally guaranteed statute."

Wednesday, at a semipublic consistory, the Pope will present the red biretta — the three-ridged pillbox hat — to 24 of the new cardinals. Thursday, they will join him in celebrating Mass in St. Peter's Square, a public ceremony being held outdoors for the first time so that more people may attend.

The other three new cardinals are the papal nuncios, or ambassadors, to Catholic Spain, Portugal and Italy. Because of the Church's special position in those countries and their concordats with the Vatican, the three nuncios will get their red hats from the chiefs of state.

The consistory increased membership in the College of Cardinals to 118, its largest in history. U. S. membership is also its largest at eight.

The new U. S. cardinals are Archbishops John P. Cody of Chicago, John J. Krol of Philadelphia and Patrick A. O'Boyle of Washington, D.C., and Msgr. Francis J. Brennan, a native of Shenandoah, Pa., who has been dean of the Roman Rota, the Church's highest appeals court in marriage matters and Church punishments.

Troopers Kill 105 Commies

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese paratroopers and South Korean marines bore the brunt of ground fighting in Vietnam Sunday and reported killing 148 Communist soldiers.

Only light and sporadic contact was reported by U. S. units conducting 21 major ground sweeps.

U. S. headquarters reported 153 American air missions over North Vietnam Sunday, almost all against supply routes. As they have for almost a month, American pilots avoided the Hanoi-Haiphong region. The official reason given was bad weather.

WEAPONS SEIZED

South Vietnamese paratroopers scored the biggest success of the day in the 1st Corps area just below the 17th Parallel dividing Vietnam. On a search-and-destroy operation the paratroopers jumped a major enemy force and reported they killed 105.

Supported by armored personnel carriers and air strikes, the airborne battalion of about 500 men overpowered what was evidently an enemy company or more. The South Vietnamese said they captured 19 weapons, including seven mortars and machine guns, and suffered only "light casualties."

GUERRILLAS FLEE

A South Korean patrol ran into a guerrilla band in coastal Phu Yen Province and killed 43 while suffering no casualties, according to Korean headquarters. The fight lasted 2½ hours. Then the guerrillas fled.

U. S. headquarters reported an unusual rescue Sunday when a big twin-rotor Chinook helicopter flew into Dinh Tuong Province about 40 miles southwest of Saigon to save a group of infantrymen trapped inside an armored personnel carrier.

The 13-ton vehicle had been blown up and overturned by a mine. The big chopper raised the vehicle so medics could get out the wounded. It was not known how many casualties there were.

SCATTERED CONTACT

Troops of the 173rd Airborne Brigade reported scattered contact in the central highlands area where Communist forces chopped up a paratrooper company last Thursday. Night bivouacs of the 173rd were harassed by grenade-throwing enemy but no major fights developed.

U. S. headquarters said late reports showed 106 North Vietnamese regulars died in the battle in which 80 U. S. paratroopers were killed and 130 wounded.

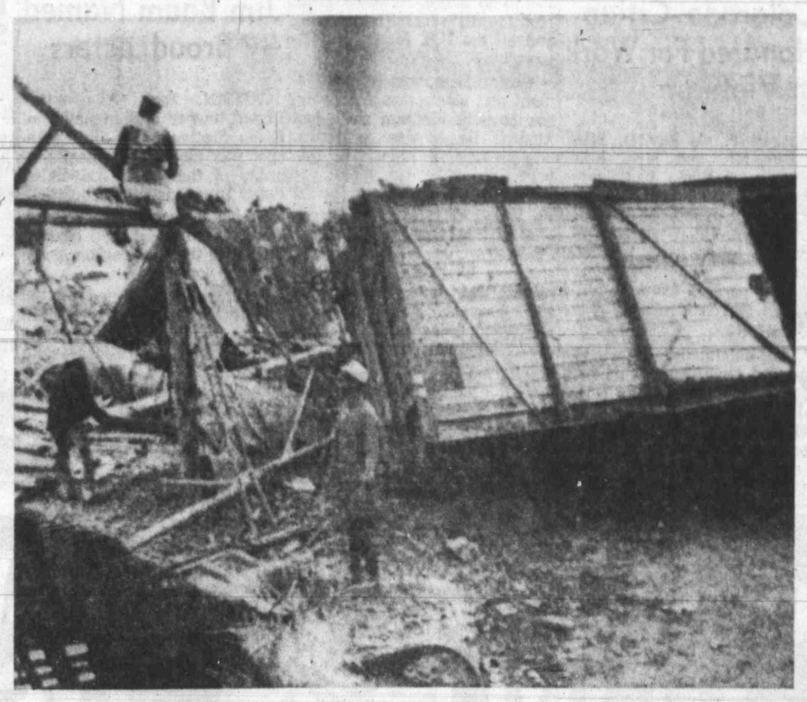

RAILS RIPPED

Military headquarters reported bombing weather over North Vietnam was generally good everywhere but in the Red River valley and the Hanoi-Haiphong area.

Navy and Air Force pilots ranged over the panhandle area stretching south from Hanoi to the 17th Parallel, mostly hitting roads, rails and truck and barge convoys.

Navy destroyers operated off the coast near Dong Hoi, shelling cargo barges on the coastal waterway. The Navy said seven barges were sunk by five-inch gunfire from a destroyer.

Over South Vietnam, B52s struck at enemy troop concentrations, emplacements and tunnels 62 miles northeast of Khe Sanh in the northwest corner of South Vietnam.

Officers Purged

BELGRADE (AP) — The Yugoslav news agency Tanjug in a dispatch from Cairo reported about 650 officers of the Egyptian army have been purged by the Nasser government. In the first days of military reorganization after the June 5-10 Mideast war 70 Egyptian generals were sacked, Tanjug said.

TPA Okays New Building

GALVESTON (AP)— Texas Press Association members have approved the design and cleared the way to start erecting a headquarters building in Austin.

They also honored the late publisher Carl L. Estes of the Longview Daily News and Morning Journal, whose $10,000 gift in 1965 launched a campaign for funds to build the structure.

This was done near the end of the TPA's summer convention here last weekend.

The building is designed around a hall of honor in which will hang plaque-type photos of Texas publishers who have made sizable contributions to the project.

Aubrey McAlister ,chairman of the building fund from Bonham, said the committee plans to make immediately the first plaque of the type to be used in the hall of honor.

The memorial plaque will be presented to Mrs. Carl L. Estes to hang in the late publisher's office in Longview until the state building is completed.

Gifts from Estes and approximately 50 other Texas newspapers have made it possible to plan the building and to break ground for construction later this year, McAlister said.

Hail Rips Nebraska

By The Associated Press

Hail pounded areas of Nebraska Sunday night and heavy rains deluged several Southern states while fair weather dominated the Midwest and Far West.

Almost two inches of rain doused Savannah, Ga., in six hours. Pine Bluff, Ark., reported 1.15 inches in the same period.

The Midwest continued under the domination of a clear and mostly cool high pressure area. Temperatures were below normal, but skies were generally sunny in the Great Lakes region.

Scattered showers developed along the edge of the cool air across the Southern states and northward through the Great Plains.

Texan Sinks Barges

SAIGON (AP) — Maj. Frank L. Yow, 32, of Commerce, Tex., was among F105 Thunderchief pilots taking part in a U. S. Air Force raid Saturday along the Rao Nay River 23 miles northwest of Dong Hoi. The airmen said they sank 10 enemy barges.

Rain Torrents Claim Five Cave Explorers

LONDON (AP) — Tornadoes and violent thunderstorms roaring across northwestern Europe over the weekend killed at least 22 persons and injured nearly 200.

A tornado that smashed parts of a half-dozen villages near Douai, France, left seven dead and about 110 injured. Six persons were killed and 17 injured when a tornado swept through parts of the Netherlands. Weathermen said it was the same tornado that struck the French villages.

Across the channel in Britain, five cave explorers drowned in an underground cave when water rushed in from a stream swollen by torrents of rain.

Weathermen said the extreme conditions were traceable to the collision of a hot, dry mass of air with a damp air mass off the Atlantic.

Rites Planned For 22 Marines

JACKSONVILLE, N.C. (AP)— Memorial services were planned today in the chapel at the nearby New River Marine air facility for 22 Marines killed Friday in the crash of two helicopters.

Thirteen other Marines were injured in the collision 500 feet over the base. The helicopters were on training missions.

A board of inquiry consisting of officers from the base is investigating the accident.

Police Check On Traffic Mishaps

Two minor traffic accidents reported Sunday have been investigated by the police.

A collision Sunday morning in the 1300 block of East Fourth involved Silberio M. Guiterrez, Coahoma, and Jerry Wayne Nichols, 509 E. 13th.

Fourth and Gregg was the scene of an accident later in the day between Juan Delagurza, 511 NW 11th, and Edwin Warren Bell, 1100 N. Gregg.

Cops' College Lures 1,475

NEW YORK (AP) — The student arose from his desk, adjusted the pistol at his hip, and began to discuss his homework assignment: "Romeo and Juliet."

The student is a policeman, and he is enrolled in what is thought to be the nation's—and probably the world's—only liberal arts college for policemen, John Jay College of Criminal Justice.

It is a school where the policeman can examine his profession—and search for an understanding of his alienation from the society he is sworn to protect.

NO ACCIDENT

The heavy emphasis on liberal arts is no accident.

"These are men who want to know about themselves," said the college president, Leonard E. Reisman. School officials believe that it is this training that will determine a policeman's ultimate worth.

"A policeman's job is a lot more than just walking down the street and trying doorknobs," said Dick Ward, a senior and a patrolman in the detective division of New York's Police Department.

"You've got to be doctor, lawyer, psychiatrist, marriage counselor and father confessor. You've got to be a nice guy on one side of the street and the meanest guy on the other side if you run into trouble. That's part of the job."

SPLIT PERSONALITY

This split personality forced upon policemen, and demands heaped upon them to stop an exploding crime rate—while at the same time being more humane and tolerant—have driven a wedge between policemen and society.

"Everybody loves a fireman—but not us," said a student-policeman.

John Jay's faculty comes from both the academic field and the practical side of police work, and sometimes the two are found in a single person. In none is this more true than Reisman, who looks like he might once have been a tough precinct sergeant.

LAW PROF

He is, in fact, a former deputy police commissioner, Manhattan assistant district attorney and assistant state attorney general. He once practiced law on Wall Street and for a time taught criminal law at Columbia University and at New York University.

The fledgling college, an outgrowth of the Baruch School program, is housed in the striking marble and glass Police Academy building, a few blocks from Gramercy Park in mid-Manhattan.

Settling into a black leather rocking chair in his office, Reisman said: "There's a growing realization that the police of the future must be college trained. When you recognize that the New York City police budget is over $400 million, you want to see that it's in good professional hands.

FOUNDED IN '65

"It's quite clear in New York City that you're not going to be able to attract college-trained men in great numbers for many years," he said. "So the police department must recognize that the way to get college-trained men is to have them attend school after they become policemen."

All but a few of the 1,475 students at John Jay, founded in 1965 as a branch of the City University of New York, are policemen, policewomen, federal agents or correction officers who attend part time. The rest are high school graduates interested in becoming policemen.

EMOTION EYED

Mike Fleming, a patrolman for 2½ years, discussed his own feelings of what it means to be a policeman:

"The police department tries to tell you that when someone attacks a policeman, he's attacking the government and not the policeman. But we don't buy that one hundred per cent. The policeman sees so much emotion worked up and aimed at him he knows they're attacking him simply because he is a policeman.

"But this college program shows us that we're not just soldiers for eight hours. A man becomes reborn into society. He learns to put up with the frustrations that come with the job of being a policeman."

Although the college is geared to the needs of the policemen, it discourages them from attending full time. Only one policeman carried a full schedule in the spring semester.

DRAMA COURSE

The fact that the students attend only part time, however, means that it takes eight to 10 years to earn enough credits for graduation. Fleming, 25, figures he won't graduate before 1973.

Not surprisingly, the drama course is designed for policemen. "It traces law and order and civil disobedience through drama," said Ben Termine, who heads the drama program. "After all, what is a play but one man's view of social and moral order?

"'Romeo and Juliet,' for instance, is about a politically oriented society. 'West Side Story' is about an economically oriented society."

PLAY BRAVE

Termine, who has directed summer stock and off-Broadway productions, has a critical eye for his policeman-actors. "Part of what makes a good actor is the ability to observe, and policemen are trained to observe. It's an easy transition for them to make."

Acting also has had another fallout effect. Said Dick Ward: "It's taught me to perform in front of an audience—and that's something policemen are called on to do all the time."

When a policeman has to control a crowd or handle an accident he may be as frightened as the next guy, but he can't show it. You may be scared, but you've got to know how to take command of the situation."

Colorado Citian Honored For Work In Vietnam

Airman 2. C. Roy D. Mize, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Mize Sr. of Route 1, Colorado City, has been honored as airman of the month at his base in Vietnam. He received a trophy and letter from his commander, for services rendered for the period from Jan. 1 through March 31. Parts of the letter read:

"The outstanding effort you have put forth during this period has resulted in a substantial increase in the combat capability of this wing. You have therefore made a direct personal contribution to the war effort and in so doing, reflected great credit upon yourself, this wing and all the U.S. forces in Vietnam."

Airman Mize, who is an armament and electronics mechanic, has been in Vietnam since last August. He is due to return home early in August of this year.

Broken-Down Car Sparks Memories

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—It may look like a broken-down 1946 Ford covered with weeds. Actually it's a "romantic conversation piece."

"We're too fond of it," say Mr. and Mrs. Louis Smith of Kattelville, a hamlet north of here. "It was the car in which we made our second honeymoon trip."

The Smiths, aware of the law prohibiting abandoning old automobiles, put the car in their pasture and keep the vines that grow over it well trimmed.

Czech Officials Tour U.S. Farms

MIDDLETOWN, N.Y. (AP)—Prime Minister Jozef Lenart of Czechoslovakia and three other Czech officials toured a poultry farm and lunched at a firehouse Sunday afternoon.

Lenart was accompanied by Foreign Minister Vaclav David; Dr. Karel Duda, ambassador to the United States, and Milan Klusak, ambassador to the United Nations.

They toured three farms under the auspices of the State Department and the Orange County Extension Service.

Lenart commented that if the nations of the world concentrated on the productin of machinery and food, there would be no room for war machinery.

Miss Mosquito Meets Machine

Death is only seconds away for "Miss Mosquito of 1967" when Ernest Lillard, public works director, turns on the newly acquired fogging machine. Dressed in a real mink coat and made from devil's claws, this imitation insect is the creation of Mrs. J. F. Skalicky, 1623 E. 17th Street.

New Sprayer Needs Only Mosquitoes For Workout

Television may have its white tornado and white knight on a white horse, but Big Spring has its own white mosquito machine complete with white spray.

Mounted on a white charger otherwise known around town as a flatbed truck belonging to the public works department, the newly acquired fogging machine has not yet had a chance to prove its worth. Little more than four inches of rainfall have been recorded in the last two months and the drouth provides few opportunities for the machine to be used.

"After each rain we usually get enough complaints to justify the use of the machine," said Ernest Lillard, public works director. He estimated that it takes about five days, at a cost of $500 each time, to spray the entire city, although the route often varies depending on the origin of the complaints.

Bought in May at a cost near $2,000, the new 18-hp Buffalo turbine is described by Lillard as probably the most widely used in operation. Similar units are used in the more humid and swampy areas along the coast where mosquitoes are a more frequent problem. Vaporizing under high pressure to produce a fine white gaseous mist called malathion, the new addition joins an older machine of the same make that operates by heat.

Elm bettle control has become the primary goal of the older model. Lillard explained that problems with these insects started about four years ago and the city began trying to control the situation at that time.

"We do an adequate job if we get to it in time," said Lillard, "but infestation of these beetles usually breaks out all over town about the same time and some areas are far advanced by the time we can get to it."

'Repairmen' Lift Blank Passports

LONDON (AP) — Scotland Yard is trying to track down three men who posed as telephone repairmen and stole seven blank passports from the Foreign Office's passport bureau.

There had been fears the "repairmen" were agents of a foreign power, but Sunday night the Foreign Office downgraded the disappearance of the passports from an apparent security breach to an ordinary theft.

Texas Pilot Joins Raid On Red Bridge

SAIGON (AP)— Capt. Richard L. O'Connor, 34, of Sweeny, Tex., was among the F105 Thunderchief pilots who raided a bridge 21 miles northeast of the Mu Gia Pass in North Vietnam Sunday. Pilots reported they dropped one end of the 180-foot, double-lane metal bridge.

Drug Fails To Save Boy

DALLAS (AP) — Efforts to save Frankie Hayes, 9, from leukemia with a new drug, once pronounced a success, ended in failure.

He died Sunday at Bristol General Hospital, to which the young patient had returned May 18 for further treatment with scarce and costly L-asparaginase.

J. K. Wadley, Texarkana industrialist for whom the Wadley Research Institute and Blood Bank here are named, had announced April 1 a complete remission of the so-called cancer of the blood disease in Frankie. He attributed this to use of L-asparaginase.

REPRIMAND

Dr. Joseph M. Hill, director of the research institute, subsequently drew a reprimand from the Dallas County Medical Society for what it described as a premature disclosure of the possible cure.

The institute reported April 21 that a few leukemia cells had reappeared in the blood of Frankie, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hayes of Dallas. Treatment was resumed.

Dr. Hill said death resulted from leukemia although there were complications.

"Frankie died after battling pneumonia due to an organism resistant to all the antibiotics and sulfas tested against it," the physician said. "Actually he had been responding well again ot the L-asparaginase therapy and making excellent progress in killing the leukemia cells."

Frankie was the third human patient to receive L-asparaginase treatment for leukemia. Two now have died. One was said to have achieved a partial remission.

SHOWS PROMISE

His father said the family still feels L-asparaginase holds promise.

"We believe that we had our son for about four months longer than we would have had him because of the therapy," the father said.

"We don't want to destroy the hope of other parents," Frankie's mother added.

Dr. Hill blamed an organism called E-coli for his patient's pneumonia. He said L-asparaginase is made from "the same family of bugs" but an entirely different strain.

"So far the treatment still shows a great deal of promise," said Dr. Hill. ". . . As a matter of fact, it is encouraging to note that this late in the disease, after one remission, that the disease itself (leukemia) isn't resistant to L-asparaginase."

Besides the parents, Frankie leaves three brothers, David, Robert and Kenneth Hayes; two sisters, Deanna and Cathy Hayes; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Aynesworth of Dallas and Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Concino of Austin.

Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Monday at a Dallas mortuary and requiem mass will be celebrated at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Our Lady of Guadalupe Catholic Church in Austin. Burial will be at Austin.

Reports Theft Of Lawnmower

Report of a missing lawnmower was made Saturday by R. E. Martin, 1403 W. 1st. Martin said the lawnmower had been taken from his business located at 801 W. 3rd some time since Thursday.

Police reported that an arrest connected with two burglaries earlier in the week had been made. A 14-year old boy had been charged with the theft of clothing from Mrs. Joe Sharpnack, 2108 Cecilia St. The boy was released to juvenile authorities.

Bishop Is Served Deportation Order

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Anglican Bishop Edward Crowther has been served with a deportation order but says if South African authorities "want me to go, they will have to send me out."

The order, which was issued without explanation, goes into effect June 30. The 38-year-old bishop was born in Britain but is now a U.S. citizen.

Bishop Crowther said he was being ousted because of "the South African government's refusal to allow dissent and the right of freedom of speech and their intolerance of my efforts to serve the victims of apartheid." He has been an outspoken critic of the government's apartheid policy of racial segregation.

Tour Of Israel

LONDON (AP) — Six Labor party members of Parliament plan to fly to Isael Tuesday for a one-week fact-finding tour under auspices of "The Labor Friends of Israel." They are Ben Whitaker, Paul Rose, David Marquand, Eric Heffer, Ted Rowlands and Hugh Gray.

Free Ports Offer Giant Bargains

NEW YORK (AP)—A fifth of good scotch for $3.50. A hand-tailored suit of fine cloth for $65.

These are just two of many bargains travelers are picking up at free ports around the world.

Free ports—where goods are sold without being taxed—have existed since the Middle Ages. The jet age has made them more accessible and has boosted their popularity as tourist attractions that also stimulate resort and travel businesses.

SCOTCH SAVING

Americans are stepping up their travel to islands in the Caribbean in part, perhaps, because of bargains that abound in free ports there. Pan American World Airways, for instance, now has four flights daily from New York to St. Thomas in the Virgin Islands. Three years ago it had none.

The $3.50 scotch can be bought on St. Thomas and St. Croix. Shippers can save half on watches, china and silver on Aruba and Curacao. Guadalupe and Martinique offer good buys in perfume.

HUGE VOLUME

At Hong Kong is where you can buy for $65 a suit that would cost $150 in the United States. But you will have to be able to spend a few days there while it is being tailored.

The prices for goods in free ports are usually bargains compared with those at home—if the traveler forgets the cost of his trip.

Ireland's Shannon Airport at one time was known as "the king of free ports." When air liners had propellers, all trans-Atlantic flights stopped at Shannon for refueling. The volume of business by merchants operating there was huge.

Now that long-flying jets have taken over the transAtlantic route, only five airlines land at Shannon and its business has declined sharply.

GOODS DELIVERED

Tax-free goods also are available at international airports, but they must be taken out of the country where they are bought. The overseas airlines at New York's Kennedy airport operate what they call "duty free stores." Purchases are delivered to the buyer's airliner prior to takeoff.

KLM Royal Dutch Airlines carries this a step further. Its stewardesses sell champagne, cigars and stockings in flight.

During the Middle Ages certain European cities granted merchants such trading privileges that they were practically engaging in free trade. With the advent of mercantilism and its trade restrictions, certain coast cities were exempted from these rules in order not to kill all international trade.

'FREE ZONE'

Thereupon arose the system of free ports—cities exempt from the ordinary tariff and customs regulations of the country.

Hamburg and Bremen had been free ports from early times. Beginning with the establishment of Leghorn, Italy, as a free port in 1547, Genoa, Naples, Venice, Marseilles, Trieste, Singapore, Hong Kong and other cities were made free ports.

The term "free zone" is frequently used interchangeably with free port and — the term commonly used in the United states—foreign trade zone.

More than 100 free ports and trade zones are now in operation in 35 countries, usually at seaports.

POLICED AREA

The zones are primarily important from an industrial standpoint. A zone is an enclosed and policed area in a seaport, airport or some other inland point where goods of foreign origin may be brought in for re-export by land, water or air without the payment of customs duty. Usually these zones allow foreign traders to store, exhibit, sample, blend, mix, sort, repack and manufacture various commodities within the zone area.

The United States has foreign trade zones in New York, New Orleans, San Francisco, Seattle, Toledo, Honolulu and Mayaguez, Puerto Rico, and special-purpose subzones for manufacturing in San Francisco and Penuelas, Puerto Rico.

Seek Immigrants

BUENOS AIRES (AP) — Argentina is seeking sharp increases in immigration from Europe to populate the sparsely settled hinterland. "We are interested in maximum immigration from Europe," Interior Minister Mario Diaz Colodero told a foreign press luncheon.

A Look At The Law

A Mississippi Highway Patrolman is silhouetted in his car Sunday as he passes James Meredith during the march down US Highway 51. Meredith, wearing white hat, looks toward the highway patrol car. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Meredith Continues 'Walk Against Fear'

BATESVILLE, Miss. (AP) — Civil rights figure James H. Meredith limped onward in his Mississippi "walk against fear" today, but aching feet slowed the pace and may shorten the 200-mile march first planned.

With 37 miles behind him, Meredith started the third day by switching from his yellow hiking boots to a pair of shoes slit along the toes.

NO CHOICE

"I've been pushing it too fast," he said. "I hate to slow down but it doesn't look like I've got any choice."

In Sardis Sunday, as he celebrated his 34th birthday, Meredith said he may stop his walk along US 51 at Canton, 25 miles short of the capitol at Jackson.

A year ago at Canton, Meredith resumed his march toward Jackson after recovering from wounds from an ambush shotgun blast on the second day of his trek. Canton is about 25 miles north of Jackson.

Meredith resumed the march Saturday at the place where he was shot.

HARD STARES

Meredith, whose enrollment at the all-white University of Mississippi nearly five years ago touched off a night of rioting which left two dead and several hundred injured, also said he had another reason for not marching all the way to Jackson this year.

"I don't want to be embarrassed that way again," said Meredith.

Hard stares from white onlookers, a few muttered curse words, a jeering song by a group of white youths in bathing trunks, Confederate flags on radio antennas on passing autos: these are as close to an incident that Meredith has faced.

Tax Hearings Set Wednesday

Howard County Commissioners court was in session Monday morning but Judge Lee Porter said that no matters of importance were scheduled to be considered.

The court will be back in session on Wednesday and Thursday of this week in its role as board of tax equalization for real and personal property on the county tax rolls.

It is anticipated a large number of tax payers will be on hand for the session. The city and the school district will also have their board of equalization on hand at the county courthouse at the same time.

Property owners can thus consult with the three taxing agencies at the same meeting.

Children's Shelter Opens In Freeport

FREEPORT, Tex. (AP)— Directors of Brazoria County Youth Homes, Inc., organized for early help for neglected, wayward and run-away youths have opened a children's shelter in the old Brazosport Memorial Hospital here.

A fund campaign has been conducted, and various individuals and organizations are contributing furnishings. Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Weir have been hired as house parents.

Tom Kenyon, former district attorney, is the principal instigator of the plan as a result of his findings while in office. It didn't look right in many cases, he thought, for boys and girls to be sent to a house of corrections when they might at their tender age be given help in getting started on the right track right in the county.

Death Takes LBJ's Uncle

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — President Johnson's uncle, Huffman Baines, 83, died today.

Death came at 8:55 a.m. in Morningside Manor rest home.

He had been under oxygen since Friday. Attendants would not disclose the nature of his illness.

He was affectionately called "Uncle Huff" by the President.

In 1966, President Johnson visited his uncle here in Nix Hospital after the elderly man broke a hip. The President gave him a presidential medallion and a permanent pass to the gallery of the U.S. Senate.

Youths Train In Safety; Class Offered To Public

Some 2,000 Howard County youths in the past three years have been certified in emergency medical self-help, it was reported Monday by Lige Fox, supervisor of environmental health with the City-County Health Unit.

This report was made as Fox received from Austin certification of 567 young people who took the course— "what to do until the doctor comes" — this past semester. These include students in Howard County Junior College, Coahoma and Big Spring High Schools and both junior high schools.

Fox's department supervised the program, and had the help of members of the Howard County Medical Auxiliary, working under direction of the president, Mrs. Fred Lurting. "These women did a fine job," said Fox.

Fundamentals in first aid are given in the course, with emphasis on the mouth-to-mouth system of resuscitation. Fox said all the youths had practice with the mannequin, "Resusci-Ann," used in demonstrating the mouth-to-mouth system.

Meanwhile, invitation was renewed for any person — or members of an entire family— to get free lectures and demonstrations on the resuscitation method, to be offered Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at Texas Electric Service Company's Redy Room. The series will run continuously for the three days, but in order to schedule classes, it is necessary to call AM 7-6383 and ask for the Safety Coordinator. Arrangements will be made to suit the convenience of those wishing the demonstration. With a film, lecture and opportunity to practice on the mannequin, the program runs about an hour.

Texas Electric Service and The Herald are sponsoring the safety program as a prelude to the July 4th holidays and upcoming summer vacations. Sponsors stress that the knowledge of resuscitation could easily save a life.

No Major Loss In Three Fires

Three small fires, none causing major damage or injury, were reported Sunday.

A house fire at the home of T. V. Swafford, 1006 6th St., caused damage to the floor and walls as well as heavy smoke damage. A hot water heater was named by firemen as the cause.

Edmund Figueroa, Coronado Hills Apartment, reported a stove fire which was put out before the local fire unit arrived. Small damage to the stove and vent hood was reported.

An unknown cause was cited by the fire report for a small grass fire three miles out of town on Garden City Highway.

Little Lyn

This is Patrick Lyndon Nugent, son of Patrick and Luci Nugent, and first grandchild for President and Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson. This picture was made by a White House photographer June 23 at Seton Hospital in Austin and released by the White House today. "Lyn" and his mother are scheduled to leave the hospital today. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Luci, Baby Ready To Leave Hospital

AUSTIN (AP) — Patrick Lyndon Nugent made his debut today in the first public photograph shown by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick J. Nugent.

President Lyndon Johnson's grandchild, wrapped in a receiving blanket and held by an unidentified nurse, has a pugnose, a round, fat face and a fuzz of blond hair.

OFFICIAL PHOTO

His first photo was made public several hours before "Little Lyn" and his mother, Luci Johnson Nugent, 19, were to leave Seton Hospital for home.

The baby is in his sixth day today. The official photo, taking by a White House staff photographer, was taken Friday evening when the baby was three days old.

The parents had refused until today to distribute any of the numerous photos in black and white and color which had been taken of the presidential grandchild.

The one shown today was taken in the baby's private room on the fourth floor maternity wing.

RESEMBLES DAD

The baby appears to resemble his father. Mrs. Johnson has said previously she thinks that's who the baby looks like, too. The father, Patrick, is a tall athletic looking young man with blond hair and blue eyes.

The baby and mother were expected to make their first public appearance leaving Seton Hospital this afternoon to go home.

Photographers were told they could take pictures of Luci, her husband Pat and little Patrick Lyndon as they leave by the emergency room entrance of the hospital, the same spot where President Johnson came and went Saturday when he had his first visit with his grandson.

PICTURES SNAPPED

White House photographers took a number of pictures—in color and black and white—of the President with his daughter and grandson in the hospital on that historic first showing.

There were indications that the young Nugents might release some of those pictures today. Until now they had maintained the photos were for private family use only and there have been no pictures yet of the famous youngster.

Pat and Luci have gotten everything ready for the homecoming of their new baby. They hired a Swiss-born nurse, Mary Gfeller of Washington, D. C., who took care of Luci when she was a baby.

KEEPS IN TOUCH

Miss Gfeller, described as an elderly nurse, a naturalized citizen who has been in this country 30 years, arrived in Austin Friday to get ready for her new charge.

She had kept in touch with the Johnsons since the time 19 years ago when she took care of Luci, whose father then was a young congressman. And she has taken care of the children of a number of prominent Washingtonians, including former presidential aide Jack Valenti. Valenti's little daughter Courtenay long has been a favorite of the President and she often visits in his White House office.

'REAL GOOD BABY'

A White House spokesman here said Miss Gfeller, who got her nursing training in Geneva, Switzerland, is considered a specialist in the care of babies and children and is expected to stay with the President's grandson for several weeks or a month.

She said she remembers Luci as a "real good baby."

It was a quiet Sunday at the hospital for Luci, with Pat her only visitor. This was quite a change of pace from the excitement of Saturday when the President, between summit talks with Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin, paid a call on his grandson.

LBJ HESITANT

Johnson spent 30 minutes in his daughter's hospital room. Later, presidential press secretary George Christian said Luci, sitting in bed, had held the baby, who behaved perfectly and did not utter a cry.

Friends said the President appeared a bit hesitant about holding the baby himself and never did pick up his grandson.

The President had nothing to say publicly about what he thought about his grandson, but his press spokesman told reporters afterward that, as he was leaving, Johnson smiled and said, "Patrick Lyndon doesn't seem to be nearly as concerned with the problems of the world as I am."

Film Publicist Dies

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Veteran motion picture publicist Joe Reddy died Saturday of an apparent heart attack at his home. He was Shirley Temple's personal representative during her years as a movie star.

Jurors Study Heroin Case

HOUSTON (AP)—An 11-man, one-woman jury in the court of U.S. Dist. Judge Ben C. Connally was to resume deliberations today in the conspiracy trial of Joseph Stassi Sr., 60, of New York, who is accused of masterminding a heroin smuggling operation.

After six courtroom days, five of them given to the prosecution, the jury took the case early Saturday evening and deliberated more than three hours being returned to their hotel with orders not to talk about the trial until this morning.

In Saturday's closing arguments Assistant U.S. Atty. Ronald Blask worked to establish the credibility of the government's key witness, Milton Abramson, who testified that he was middleman in heroin deals plotted by Stassi. Abramson is serving a 14-year sentence on the same charge.

Defense lawyer Percy Foreman called another prosecutor in the case, assistant U.S. Atty. William B. Butler, to establish that Abramson had changed his testimony during Stassi's trial last March in Corpus Christi. Stassi was convicted then, but a new trial ordered because a government witness talked with the sequestered jury.

Burglary Case Is Investigated

Separate offenses of burglary and destruction of personal property were checked by detectives this weekend.

A $30 plate glass window on the trailer of E. M. Foster, Burnett Trailer Park, was reported broken some time Sunday afternoon.

Pool Receipts

Swimming pool receipts for the weekend were $142.85, according to the city finance director's office.

Texas Agency Closes Bank

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas Bank Commissioner J. M. Falkner has reported that his office has ordered the Sacul State Bank, in the Nacogdoches County community of that name, closed because of an "insolvent failing condition."

Falkner said Sunday that a regular examination by his department and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation led to the action taken Friday against the bank in the East Texas town of some 170 persons.

"All of the profits and capital of the bank have been wiped out by losses," Falkner said.

A. J. Gordon of Houston, who said he is majority stockholder in the bank, said he knew of no reason for the action, and that as far as he knew, the bank would be open for business today.

The banking department posted the closing notice on the door at the end of Friday's business day.

Grand Jury Will Convene Tuesday

Wayne Burns, district attorney, said it was possible one additional matter not on the list released Friday would be laid before the Howard County Grand Jury which is to be organized Tuesday morning.

This was a charge of DWI second which developed over the weekend, he said, and there was no need to delay action on it until the grand jury which will follow the current body.

The court has instructed grand jury panel members to be in the court room at 9 a.m. Tuesday.

As soon as 12 of the panel is selected for the grand jury the body will begin its work. Burns said that witnesses have been notified to be on hand at that hour to appear before the grand jury.

Red China's Voice At UN Expected To Blast Kosygin

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin prepared to leave the United States today as the U.N. General Assembly debate on the Middle East ground on.

Albania, Communist China's voice at the United Nations, was expected to attack Kosygin for his summit talks with President Johnson.

Kosygin planned to leave Kennedy Airport about noon. It was not known what stops he would make on his way back to Moscow, but his plane crew asked the airport for flight information on both Havana and Gander, Nfld.

The Soviet premier arrived in New York June 17 on his first visit to the United States. He has been attending the emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly, sightseeing in New York City and Niagara Falls, and talking with President Johnson in Glassboro, N.J.

DEMANDS WITHDRAWAL

The Soviet leader made plain at an 80-minute news conference Sunday night that his 10 hours of talks with Johnson had not shifted his public stand on the Arab-Israeli conflict one iota.

He argued once more for the resolution he introduced a week ago to condemn "Israel's aggressive acts" and demand her withdrawal from territory in Egypt, Jordan and Syria occupied in the June 5-10 war. He said delay in the withdrwal "would only enhance the risks of war breaking out again."

In the first week of the assembly session, he said, "the results have been positive" in that "the majority of speakers have condemned the aggression of Israel and called for the withdrawal of troops behind the armistice lines."

SANCTIONS THREAT

He did not go so far as to predict that his resolution would be adopted. But he said that "if the General Assembly could adopt a decision along those lines, it could then entrust the Security Council with implementing that decision, and if that decision were not complied with, then appropriate sanctions could be applied."

Only after Israel's withdrawal, he said, could there be consideration of such questions as limiting arms shipments to the Middle East, guaranteeing the existence of all states there and ensuring freedom of passage through disputed waterways — "questions the solution of which could bring about a stronger peace in the area."

WAR CALLED DISASTER

The United States is sponsoring a resolution calling for negotiations on withdrawal and all related quetions together.

Kosygin said he had met with representatives of almost all Arab countries. He declined to confirm persistent reports that the Soviet Union is sending Egypt and Syria arms to replace those they lost in the fighting. But he said it intended "to go on strengthening" its relations with Arab governments.

In an interview filmed in Amman and televised from New York Sunday, King Hussein of Jordan termed the war a disaster, said Israel scored with its intelligence and air force, and declared that the Arabs made many mistakes — "There wasn't enough coordination, there wasn't enough planning." He called for a uniform Arab positon.

NO PEACE CHANCE

Hussein said there is no chance for peace while Arab territory is occupied. He was vague on whether the Arabs would negotiate with Israel.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban, in another television interview, predicted that the Arabs would negotiate if Israel maintained the occupation because "they can only change that situation by securing our agreement."

In a statement issued Sunday night, Eban denied Kosygin's renewed charge of Israeli aggression and complained that at the news conference, he "failed to say a single word in favor of peace between Arab states and Israel or in favor of abondonment of belligerent practices in the Middle East."

PLEDGE AID

In Jerusalem, Israeli Prime Minister Levi Eshkol told his Cabinet Israel insists upon negotiations with its Arab neighbors as the "only solution to the present crisis in the Middle East." A communique said he "pointed out with satisfaction that a demand for peace was voiced increasingly by international public opinion."

Soviet President Nikolai V. Podgorney returned to Moscow after three days in Cairo. Informants said he promised Soviet military aid to rebuild Egypt's armed forces but insisted that Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser accept Soviet military and economic advisers who would give the Kremlin a voice in the rebuilding process.

Nasser previously had refused to accept Soviet advisers.

The semiofficial Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said a top Russian official, probably Podgorny or another member of the ruling presidium, will visit Syria soon.

For the second time in a week, a Russian correspondent assailed the Egyptian Air Force for its showing in the war against Israel.

Yevgeny Primakov, writing from Cairo for the magazine Ogonyok (Little Flame), cited reports in the Egyptian capital that a week before the war Nasser was shown a "high defense readiness" at one military airport, with pilots leaving ever 15 minutes on air patrols to protect the field.

"However," Primakov said, "on the day of the inflicting of the insidious Israeli blow, there was no patroling over the military airport."

PROPAGANDA VICTORY

A leading editorial writer for the government-controlled weekly magazine Al Musawar issued the first sharply critical Egyptian analysis of Egypt's setback.

"No one in the world, friend and foe alike, wants to annihilate Israel," Ahmed Bahaa Din asserted. "But nevertheless we continued to declare slogans of destroying Israel. This made it easy for Israel to win the propaganda war against us."

"We retained a tendency for inaccuracy and lack of discipline when we badly needed scientific thinking and discipline to achieve cherished progress," he added.

Associated Press correspondent Dennis Neeld, who was in Cairo before and during the war, reported from Athens that even with a massive amount of new Russian arms, the Egyptians won't be ready to face the Israelis again until they can demonstrate a capacity for what they lacked in the Sinai rout—technical knowhow, organization and discipline.

TOUGH TASK

Most Egyptian soldiers are from relatively backward farm areas and are unable to assimilate technical training quickly, he said. Training new tank crews, for example, will be a long undertaking.

Jerusalem's Old City, which holds holy site of Islam, Judaism and Christianity, heard a mingling of Christian church bells with the wailing of mezzins calling the Moslem faithful to prayer.

It was the first time Israeli Christians had free access to the Old City. Before Israel captured it from Jordan, they were permitted to enter only at Christmas and Easter.

Jordanian Christians also joined mass pilgrimages to the Church of the Holy Sepulcher in Jerusalem and the Church of the Nativity is Israeli-occupied Bethlehem.

TOURISTS INVASION

Israel's Tourist Ministry said it expected an invasion of tourists starting in late July. In 1966, 328,000 tourists visited Israel and spent million.

Mayor Teddy Kollek of Jerusalem said Arabs had left the Old City for the east bank of the Jordan River "in hundreds, not in thousands, in the past two weeks."

AP correspondent George Boultwood reported from the Allenby Bridge that, by unofficial estimates, 4,000 to 5,000 Arab refugees left Israeli-held areas of Jordan Sunday.

Apparently in a reversal of previous policy, he added, Israelis let some return to their homes in the occupied sector. More than 100 had crossed westward by midday Sunday to return home or to bring out members of their families, he said.

'ANOTHER LIE'

Egypt complained to the United Nations that Israel has expelled more than 2,000 Palestinian refugees from Sinai. It again asked the U.N. to stop "this Israeli aggression." It called Israelis denials "another lie."

Israeli Defense Minister Moshe Dayan suggested that 300,000 Arab refugees in the Gaza Strip may move to camps in occupied territory west of the Jordan River.

GOSPEL MEETING

DOYLE MAYNARD

In our pressurized modern age in which we are so constantly on the go, an invitation to attend a gospel meeting usually falls on polite, but tired, relatively uninterested ears. The usual response is 'Well, I'd like to attend, but we are so busy this week. Perhaps another time' . . . The result is that often religious meetings are poorly attended . . . But is that the way it ought to be? . . . Do we not still have all the problems of people of other decades, and more? . . . Does not our age need the insights and guidance that only Christ can give? . . . Ours is a day of growing tensions in families, more juvenile delinquency, more emphasis on materialism and sensualism, and rising crime rates. There are more broken homes, more alcoholics, more dope addicts—and a corresponding neglect of spiritual matters. . . . Do we not need to be reminded of the Biblical principles which apply to every situation in life? . . . Do we not need to be reminded of the end of life and of the judgment to follow? . . . A highly-trained, many-talented, deeply consecrated man of God will be bringing God's message of help for the problems of our day at each service of this meeting . . . Shouldn't you make time to attend—for your own sake?

Texas Violent Deaths Hit 32

By The Associated Press

Texas counted 32 violent deaths during the weekend, including 18 fatalities in traffic accidents.

Reflecting efforts to escape summer heat, there also were seven drownings in the toll recorded between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday.

These were among the victims:

ANGELO CRASH

A head-on crash in the north part of San Angelo on US 87 Sunday night killed Lorand Mason, 56, of San Angelo. Police said he was trying to pass another vehicle and collided with Kete K. Adams, 59, and Mrs. Adams, 56, of San Angelo, who suffered serious injuries.

Leo Rodriguez, 22, of Stamford drowned Sunday while swimming with two companions near the Stamford Marina.

Edward McGee, 25, of Hamlin drowned in Anson North Lake Sunday. Officers said McGee jumped in the water after his small child fell from the boat.

Laura Gayle Moseley, 18, of Banquete was killed Sunday when two cars collided at a rural intersection in Nueces County near Corpus Christi.

TEEN DROWNS

Bill Cody, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Cody of Cartwright, Okla., drowned Sunday while swimming in Lake Texoma near the Denison Dam.

Mrs. Eunice Gardner, 50, was fatally injured eight miles north of Huntsville Sunday when her husband's car went out of control and hurtled into a deep ditch on US 75. Her husband, Jay Gardner of Houston, was injured.

BURNS TO DEATH

Charles A. Robinson, 34, of Houston died from loss of blood after he suffered a gunshot wound in the thigh Sunday. Police said the three-time ex-convict was wounded with his own pistol as he grappled with a drug store clerk.

Mrs. Robert Nelson Pittman 59, was burned to death and her husband in critical condition from smoke inhalation after fire broke out in their home at Irving early Sunday.

Therman Ofield of Mesquite drowned at Lake Lavon near Dallas Sunday when he fell from a boat. The 40-year-old man had been standing near the craft's prow when he fell, two companions said.

KNOCKED FROM WAGON

George Thomas Reedy, 15, of Saginaw was killed Sunday when a telephone line knocked him from a perch atop a hay wagon. The accident occurred on a farm road north of Fort Worth.

Harvey Cox, 23, of Mexia suffered fatal burns Saturday while driving a bulldozer which hit a gas line near Fairfield, setting off an explosion. He died Sunday at a Dallas hospital.

Roy Gene Hampton, 16, of Linden was killed early Sunday in a one-car accident three miles south of Douglassville on Texas 8 in Northeast Texas. Three other teenagers were injured.

Karon Hunt, 16, of the Tuleto community died early Sunday as a car and a pickup truck collided eight miles north of Floresville on US 181.

Stokely Urges Negro Control

BOSTON (AP) — Stokely Carmichael led a march through the streets of Boston's heavily Negro Roxbury section Sunday and told Negroes they must take control of the land and stores in their areas.

"We will control things in our communities by any means necessary," he told a rally in Franklin Park.

"If hunky (the white man) gets his store bombed out every Friday or Saturday," Carmichael said, "he's going to have to sell it to us."

He also told the crowd that the only way to stop "racist aggression" by police "is by armed resistance." He did not elaborate but said, "as long as injustice prevails, there will be no peace."

Boston's acting mayor, Barry T. Hynes, had criticized Carmichael's visit, saying he "incites violence wherever he goes" and warned that violence would not be tolerated. Roxbury was the scene of Negro rioting the weekend of June 2-4.

There was only one minor incident Sunday. Police arrested a white man who was carrying a sign reading, "I fight poverty, I work." He scuffled with a small group of Negroes and was charged with breach of the peace.

Police estimated the crowd at Franklin Field at 3,000-4,000. About 400 persons joined in the five-mile march.

Cool Treatment For Burns

By DR. LEONARD REIFFEL

Ever since the discovery of fire, mankind has been searching for better ways to control burn injuries. Many old wives' tales have developed over the years, and some of them have some basis in fact. Treating burns with tea, for example, relies upon the tannic acid in the brew.

Apparently another technique, well thought-of by country-folk, also has some basis in fact. Icelanders have long treated burns by plunging the burned arm, leg, or other member into cool water. The belief is that such treatment with water at 50 degrees Fahrenheit will speed recovery and reduce scarring.

One of the biggest problems with an extensive burn is the massive loss of fluid that takes place. Such losses peak in the first six or eight hours after a burn, but can persist for 48 hours or more. In a severe burn involving half the body area, it is possible for a human being to lose seven or 10 quarts of fluid. This upsets the body's balance and can be very lethal. Apparently, if the burned areas are cooled, the supply of blood to these areas is reduced and this, in turn, can produce a reduction in the amount of fluid loss as well as other remarkable effects.

In one case, a doctor in Iceland has reported the astonishing result of an accidental cool-water treatment of burns to a 40-year-old woman. The woman, as a two-year-old child, had scalded her arm in a pot of boiling water. A bystander thrust her arm into a bucket of cold water which reached up to her elbow. Now, 38 years later, inspection of the arm shows that the hand and forearm which were badly burned originally are normal apart from a very smooth and superficial scar; whereas from the elbow to the shoulder the arm is badly disfigured by scars.

There have now been many controlled and scientific experiments on this idea. For instance, at the University of Glasgow, Anesthetized conscious rats were exposed to water near the boiling point for periods of up to 30 seconds. It was found that immediate post-burn immersion in cold water for from one to 10 minutes greatly increased the chances of survival.

These observations are extremely hopeful because cold water represents a simple first aid technique for burns. There is the obvious risk of introducing infection into the burned area from contaminated water, and over-enthusiasm might lead to cooling too large an area of an injured person's body. Such things have yet to be fully evaluated, but it does appear that cooling as a first aid technique for burns is well worth further investigation, and that's exactly what the scientists are doing.

Blind Queenie Finds New Home

DETROIT (AP)—Little, blind Queenie has found a home and some new friends.

The eyeless Springer Spaniel moved in with the William H. Swank family in suburban Northville Township Sunday.

Her new friends include the Swank's daughter Pat, 11, three cats and a horse named Mr. Allen.

Mrs. Swank said her home on a two-acre lot is the ideal place for Queenie. "There is lots of space for her to run and there is no danger from cars."

Queenie was abandoned a week ago in a Detroit church. Around her neck was a note saying, "I can't see what is going on in this world. Please help me find a home and some children to play with."

Keller Celebrates Her 87th Birthday

EASTON, Conn. (AP) — Helen Keller—who went on to world renown although she is deaf, blind and mute—celebrates her 87th birthday Tuesday.

There will be a birthday cake, visits from friends, and her brother, Philip Brooks Keller of Dallas, Tex., and his wife also will be on hand.

"The advancing years have taken their toll," said her companion, Winifred Crobally, "but she is up and about every day."

Miss Keller was born a normal child in Tuscumbia, Ala. She was stricken at 19 months with an illness that left her deaf, blind and mute.

But she went on to graduate cum laude from Radcliffe College, she wrote books, starred in a silent movie, toured the vaudeville circuit, and traveled throughout the world bringing encouragement to handicapped persons.

Negroes Sound 'Hire Us' Plea

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Employers were besieged today by groups of Negroes with the plea—"hire us."

It was the opening step in "Operation Cool Summer," a pilot program of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The men behind it say the project can end race riots.

It's based on the formula: Jobs mean money, money equals better living conditions, and that clips the fuse of any racial power keg.

When the jobs are found in this city of 25,000, project officials will begin training Negroes to qualify for them.

The training includes a film on employe-employer relations, what employers expect, and how to help management reduce costs. Applicants will be put through mock interviews and hear lectures on personal appearance and hygiene.

Land Mines Kill Four Soldiers

BOLZANO, Italy (AP) — Land mines killed four Italian soldiers Sunday in the most serious terrorist incident yet in the Alto Adige—South Tyrol—region which German-speaking extremists want Italy to return to Austria.

A soldier on patrol was injured fatally when he stepped on an antipersonnel mine a few yards inside the border with Austria. A unit searching the area for mines touched off another explosion a few hours later which killed three soldiers.

Italy annexed the Alto Adige from Austria after World War I. For more than a decade it has been troubled by bombings of monuments, rail lines and power lines.

Rodeo Crowds Are Larger

The attendance of the 34th Annual Big Spring Rodeo was larger than the attendance last year.

"The tabulations of ticket sales have not been completed," E. P. Driver, secretary of Big Spring Rodeo Association, said, "but from all reports, the rodeo drew a larger crowd than last year."

Only two injuries were sustained during the four - night competition. The Kajun Kidd from Teague was injured in the bull - riding contest when a rider was thrown into the clown. He returned home Saturday for treatment.

The other injured was Wanda Rossi, trick rider and roper, in Thursday evening's performance. She was injured when thrown from two horses in a Roman riding exhibition. She returned to show her skill at trick roping but abandoned the Roman riding act.

A Devotional For The Day

Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword. (Matthew 10:34)

PRAYER: O God, our Father, whom we know as a God of love and as a God of justice, help us to be the salt of the earth. Strengthen us by the power of Thy spirit to be bold in the face of evil, to be dependable witnesses for Jesus Christ, in whose name we pray. Amen.

Yawning Pitfall Of Refugee Problem

In the United Nations Middle East debate, Soviet Premier Kosygin's demand for Israeli withdrawal from conquered territory has been countered by President Johnson's appeal for a general negotiated Arab-Israeli peace settlement. The U.S. position is right, but the road to its objective is long and rocky, and on it there is no more yawning pitfall than the refugee problem.

The Palestinian Arab problem, stalemated for two decades, has been greatly aggravated by the Israeli-won war. It has defied all international efforts at solution heretofore, and is now an integral and highly obstructive factor in any general Middle East peace settlement.

After the U.S. - sponsored Palestine partition, and the 1948-49 war, three quarters of a million Arabs fled Israel to settle in neighboring Arab nations. They now number over a million, mostly in the Gaza Strip and west Jordan, from which tens of thousands — in their second generation in U.N. - supported camps — again are in flight.

Israel claims it originally offered the Palestine Arabs secure citizenship which they rejected. Later Israel refused to take the refugees back because they were considered subversive of the Jewish state, which Jewish immigration had already filled up anyway. The Arab nations failed to assimilate the refugees, whom they encouraged to believe would regain their homeland by eradicating Israel. The U.N. has placed blame on both sides for the refugees' miserable plight.

Israel can never be expected now to accept repatriation of the Palestinian Arab refugees — taking in such a huge hostile minority would be national suicide. But it might give up conquered territory, formerly occupied by the refugees, in return for Arab nations' assimilation or resettlement of the refugees and Arab recognition of the Israeli state, in a general peace agreement.

In any event, the refugee problem is the most difficult task the U.N. peace-makers face. Its long-festering bitterness, freshly and acutely pained, darkens a never bright hope for reasonable solution, but inevitably there they stand — the homeless million or more — in the center of the issue-strewn bargaining table.

Legal Maze Of Right Of Privacy

In otherwise laudable zeal for protecting the precious right of privacy, the U.S. Supreme Court seems to have plunged into a legal maze that will require further clarifying rulings to find a way out. Meanwhile the confusion may cause governmental administrations, especially cities, much needless trouble unless citizens are reasonably cooperative.

In 1959 the court held that the Fourth Amendment prohibition against entry into private property without either consent or a specific "probable cause" search warrant applied only to criminal law-enforcement officers. The court now has reversed that decision to apply the restriction to administrative officials, such as health, fire, and building inspectors, and in relation to business establishments as well as residence.

The court's argument is that the citizen has a right to know that inspectors have justifiable authority to invade his privacy, a rather thin argument in application to nonresidential properties. And that is a right that could be abused to obstruct regulations essential to the public health, welfare and safety, as — for a new example — in pollution control.

Furthermore the court opinion seems to approve a class or area type of warrant for administrative inspection entries and searches. As dissenting Justice Clark warns, that apparent double standard for administrative and criminal warrants is incompatible with the Fourth Amendment's requirement that search warrants may be issued only on sworn probable cause particularly describing the place to be searched and what is expected to be found.

Justice Clark's contention is that the court has weakened rather than strengthened the Fourth Amendment as intended, and he may have a point. In any event, this opinion can hardly be taken as the final word on how the right of privacy can be protected without serious disruption of the multiplicity inspections which seem to crop up in a congested urban society.

Stock Exchange Seats Expensive

NEW YORK (AP) — A bull market has been under way in the price of seats on the New York Stock Exchange and some other markets as brokers compete for the big commissioners that result from heavy trading.

Last January a big board seat sold for $220,000. The latest sale, May 31, was at a price of $370,000, an increase in less than six months of $150,000 and the highest price paid since Aug. 7, 1930.

ON THE American Stock Exchange, the nation's second largest, the price of a seat is now up to $165,000.

The market for seats is, in some instances, a lot more bullish than the market for stocks. While there is some upward pressure on stocks, the pressure on seat prices has exceeded most forecasts of a few months ago.

Most of these purchases are being made by brokerage houses which deal with the public and need more men on the floor to handle the rising volume, which so far this year is about 1.2 billion shares versus about 1.02 billion a year ago.

SEVERAL hundred seats are held by other types of brokers, including 39 who deal only for their own accounts and about 360 specialists who concentrate in certain stocks and deal only with their brokers.

This volume is coming as a result not only of an increasing number of stockholders, now estimated at 22 million, but because of heavy trading by the big funds.

Big purchases give great leverage to a broker, who spends little more to execute a 10,000 - share order than he does a transaction one-tenth the size.

FOR EXAMPLE, the minimum commission on a round block — 100 shares — of a 170 stock produces a $46 commission, based on a standard $39 fee plus $7, or one-tenth of one per cent of the total $7,000 transaction.

If the broker sells ten times as much, $70,000 worth, he receives a commission of $109 — the standard $39 plus $70 as a one-tenth percentage of the sale. So, for the same amount of work he collects $63 more.

For this privilege of having a seat, the broker pays a $7,500 initiation fee to the exchange, plus annual dues of $1,500 and one per cent of the net commission on all his sales.

DESPITE these rising prices, the cost of a seat is still far below what it was in 1929, when one sold for $500,000. The transaction included rights to a one-quarter seat additional and so was listed at $625,000.

The reason: The average price of shares is lower today than in 1929, when many companies liked to keep their price over $100 a share instead of splitting; the higher cost of doing business; taxes; salaries.

Billy Graham

I am 22 years old and unmarried. Quite often I engage in sex fantasies about women, and I must confess I feel conscience-stricken about it. However, most psychiatrists say that such feelings of guilt are due to the American Puritanical attitude. Please write on this subject in your newspaper column. S.P.C.

I'm afraid that the "American Puritanical" attitude that "most psychiatrists" speak of, has gone with the wind. I don't see too much evidence of puritanical attitudes dominating our culture today.

Back to your problem, it is perfectly normal for a 22-year-old young man to think about girls. In fact, it would be abnormal if he did not. God himself created this magnetism between the sexes. However, a girl is not just an instrument of sex, and of sexual enjoyment. She is a person, created in the image of God, and should be treated in reality, and in fantasy, as the creature of dignity she is.

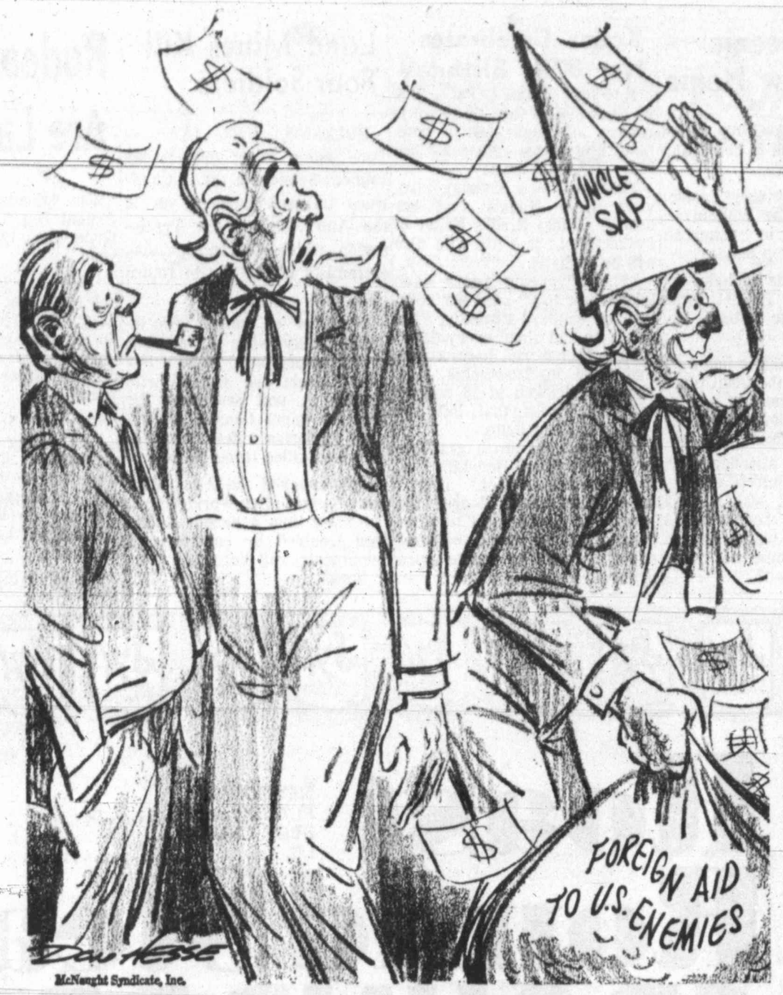

When girl-fantasy is carried to the extreme, and a girl is envisioned as only a sex-object, the Bible says this is sin. Jesus said: "He that looketh upon a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery in his heart." There is nothing wrong in a youth thinking and dreaming of women, but when the image is only lustful, then it becomes wrong.

Talks Set Wheels In Motion?

WASHINGTON (AP) — On the surface the summit conference between President Johnson and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin was a pleasant meeting which didn't settle anything. Neither man made any pretense it did.

But they talked almost 10 hours. So it wasn't chit-chat. A conversation which lasted that long between two men that big could take one of three directions.

—THEY COULD reach agreement decorating the landscape with platitudes about the problems of the world, and through easy give-and-take smooth the way for better U. S.-Soviet relations.

—They could reach agreement on one or more vital issues. But they said they didn't.

—Through mutual interest, or through the insight each gained about the other side's view and knowledge of a problem, they could put the wheels in motion toward various settlements, none to be revealed until the time was ripe.

SINCE THEY both indicated they made progress on the first but didn't accomplish the second, that leaves the third as the big unknown of the conference. No. 3 might explain why it took almost 10 hours to say what was on their minds.

They were both negative on the two biggest issues of the day — the Mideast and the war in Vietnam — in the sense they stuck to the positions they had previously taken and said they had reached no agreement.

BUT THAT doesn't mean they didn't set the wheels in motion on both. And, of course, it didn't mean they did.

On television after the conference Kosygin took what has become the standard Soviet-Arab positon on a Mideast settlement: Israel must pull its troops out of the Arab land it seized before there could be any question of settlement.

And the premier called the United States the aggressor in Vietnam—the typical, standard, expected Communist position—and said it must stop bombing the North and withdraw its troops from Vietnam before there can be peace there.

THIS DOESN'T rule out the possibility that in secret Johnson and Kosygin arranged for the Soviets to put pressure on the North Vietnamese or at least give them special word from Johnson.

If this seems unlikely just remember it was only a few months ago that Johnson secretly exchanged notes with Ho Chi Minh, the North Vietnamese leader, urging direct peace talks. Johnson didn't reveal this. North Vietnam did, and scorned the suggestion.

No matter what Kosygin and Johnson said to each other about the Mideast and Vietnam, the Soviet leader had to take in public the stand he did on television.

Quips From Contemporaries

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Car drivers between the ages of 20 and 25 are twice as likely to get killed in accidents as those between 30 and 50. The death rate is also higher among those who dropped out of high school than among college graduates.

IF YOU'RE one of those relaxed husbands who let the wife do all the summer yard work around the home, be sure your hausfrau drinks planty of water. She can lose two quarts a day through perspiration if it's very hot. But, better her than you—you could lose up to three quarts.

All that glisters: South African mines have produced more than a million tons of gold — enough to pave a fair-sized city.

ONE OF the hardest of all diseases for many a hard-working doctor to cure is his own melancholy. A recent study showed the suicide rate among physicians was twice that of the rest of the white male population, and the rate among psychiatrists four times as high.

Concentrated: The typical American family now buys half its week's groceries on either Friday or Saturday.

WE DON'T know what this proves, but there are only about 1,000 kinds of soup in the world, whereas there are 15,000 kinds of wine.

Take a deep breath: Researchers estimate that 200 million tons of pollutants are poured into the American atmosphere every year.

THE WOOD thrush, one of nature's sweetest singers, has been named as the official bird of Washington, D.C. Some political cynics think the jaybird might have been even more appropriate.

The average American now consumes 23 pounds of sausage meat products a year — and that ain't all bologna.

HEALTH TIP. Be careful how you use insect sprays, particularly in closed areas. A University of Colorado doctor has found that they can dull your mental functions, dim your memory, and take away your pep.

Quips from our contemporaries: Newest fad is the banana and coconut diet, reports Catholic Digest magazine. "You won't lose weight, but after two weeks you can climb any tree in America."

MEDICAL mystery: Doctors don't know why, but red-haired children-and red-fuzzed rabbits — are particularly susceptible to rheumatic fever.

Looking for a good book to read? Try the Library of Congress in the nation's capital. The largest in the world, it has more than 13 million books and 270 miles of shelving.

It was Kathleen Norris who observed, "Life is easier to take than you'd think; all that is necessary is to accept the impossible, do without the indispensable, and bear the intolerable."

Should You Make A Child Clean Up His Plate?

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Do you think parents should make children eat? My son and his wife make their 5-year-old girl eat what would be a good serving for a grownup. I've seen them heap her plate with roast beef, potatoes, green beans and slaw.

She seems as though she can't swallow another bit, but she does because her father has whipped her or not eating and she is afraid not to.

We don't invite them to eat with us because of this. — MRS. D.L.

Oh, the poor kid!

There is no more excuse for making a child eat more than he or she wants than there is for forcing an adult guest to do so. But the adult, if pressed, can always say, "Look, I just don't WANT any more." A child of 5, with a whipping as an alternative, can't.

Such treatment is little short of brutality. In fact, it IS brutality.

Naturally we can't let a child get away with eating no dinner and then filling up on cookies and candy between meals, but that is a quite different matter.

The principal consequences of such forcing are: A child trained to overeat will become fat and logey; digestive disturbances from over - loading; finally, and perhaps worst of all, a resentful child who will rebel, as soon as she is able, not just against eating but at any discipline or instruction. Children remember!

You might invite them over once more for dinner, and put on your son's plate three times what he ordinarily eats. Then insist that he clean up his plate.

Or maybe I shouldn't suggest that. I don't want to disrupt a family relationship. But I do feel sorry for that little girl.

Dear Dr. Molner: Would you do me a favor and write about what causes liver disease. It is important that people understand that it is not alone due to drinking. I have liver disease but drink nothing alcoholic. I used to drink beer every night but it never hampered my appetite. — F.R.

I've said so before. I'll repeat it. Liver disease can result from several things. Alcohol (probably combined with poor nutrition in most cases, since hard drinkers often don't eat properly) is only one.

Sometimes prolonged faulty nutrition is the cause, with no alcohol involved at all. Various poisonous substances can damage the liver greatly. And hepatitis, which is liver disease, is caused by viruses.

Hemorrhoids can be cured! If troubled with fissures, fistulas, itching and other rectal problems, write to Dr. Molner in care of The Herald requesting a copy of the booklet, "The Real Cure For Hemorrhoids," enclosing a long, self - addressed, stamped envelope and 20 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

Dr. Molner welcomes all reader mail, but regrets that due to the tremendous volume received daily, he is unable to answer individual letters. Readers' questions are incorporated in his column whenever possible.

After All, There's More Water—

One thing and another:

I have a friend who dislikes working in his yard but delights in fishing. He argues that God intended for weeds and crabgrass to grow and gave fish underwater equipment so that they could engage in games of chance with people.

And he firms up his argument with this statement:

"The earth's surface is three - quarters water and only one-fourth land. So why shouldn't a man spend three hours fishing for every hour pushing a lawn mower?"

Unfortunately for him, the man's wife loves gardening.

"I don't think there's anything in the world she'd rather see me do," he remarked sadly recently.

ON THE SUBJECT of fishing, they say that old tires chained together make ideal fish havens.

Old tires last a long, long time. They usually can be obtained without charge. At the rate of one tire per square yard, one square nautical mile can accommodate up to four million tires.

ORVILLE FREEMAN, U.S. Secretary of Agriculture, said it recently: "Flooded basements, inoperative septic tanks, cracked walls, collapsed foundations and eroded walls—which cost individuals and communities millions of dollars every year—are not normally the result of unpredictable whims of nature. They are the toll levied by ignorant development and abuse of the land."

New Issues From The Dodd Case

WASHINGTON — The action in the Senate to rebuke Sen. Thomas Dodd of Connecticut, Democrat, settles nothing. It administers a reprimand and admonishes everybody in the upper house not to become a victim of the same indiscretions and mistakes. But it doesn't clarify what is or is not ethical for a member of Congress to do or what is the true significance of a campaign contribution made to help elect someone to public office.

THE UNANSWERED question is: Does a contribution of any kind put the elected official under obligation? Campaign contributions have to be publicly disclosed under federal and state laws. But most important of all is the fact that the winning candidate knows who has contributed money to his campaign fund. If those citizens who give money to campaigns do obtain benefits which are denied other voters, is there any tribunal which could pass judgment on whether favoritism is involved and whether the elected official who accepts money and disburses favors is guilty of having succumbed in some way to money's influence?

IF ADAM CLAYTON Powell, Democrat of New York, former chairman of the House Committee on Education and Labor, had not been in the limelight, there would not have been much attention paid by the Senate to the case of Sen. Dodd. Representative Powell, according to a House investigation, was found to have actually misused government funds. Sen. Dodd, on the other hand, is accused of having used private funds for personal purposes — money that some of his constituents gave him. The Dodd case, therefore, raises a new issue: What are the rules that should regulate the use of contributions, and what are personal and what are political expenses?

THE MORE the subject is studied, the more members of Congress will find themselves influenced now by the public condemnation of money-raising for individual use. Many members of Congress have hitherto used campaign funds to take care of personal expenses, and have been convinced in their own minds that this was correct. Some have reasoned, as has Sen. Dodd, that if an expense was incurred because it was related to duties as a senator or representative, it was proper to spend the funds that way.

Now that so much of a furor has been raised, however, the natural thing is to expect the Senate and the House to draw up regulations covering the conduct of their own members and make it clear what type of expenses of a personal nature, if any, can be paid for out of campaign contributions.

THE IDEAL SYSTEM would be one in which people made campaign contributions to a government agency which would supervise the expenditure of the funds for both parties. Members of Congress incur expenses from time to time which have to be audited. These are reimbursed from funds of the House or Senate only when certain rules are applied. There are always some personal expenses in a campaign for which payment could properly come from political contributions provided these purposes were fully described in advance.

BUT EVEN when all the rules and regulations are explicitly written, it would still be possible for some friend of an elected or defeated candidate to go out among the voters and ask them to make small gifts to cover personal expenses incurred before or during a campaign.

The difficulty in the Dodd case was that the public presumably did not know that the money being raised in "testimonial dinners" would ever be used for personal purposes. Had someone made it clear beforehand that the contributions were in behalf of Sen. Dodd personally, most of the contributors would doubtless have furnished the money just the same. The fact remains that no such warning was given ahead of time, and this more than anything else caused many senators, under the pressure of public opinion, to express their criticism by supporting the motion to censure.

The Department That Runs Itself

WASHINGTON — If you've never heard of R. Smith Simpson, that's because for three decades he hasn't rejoiced under popularized nicknames like "Doughboy," "GI Joe" or caught the attention of Ernie Pyle, Bill Mauldon or the present generation of correspondents and cartoonists.

SMITH SIMPSON, now retired, is a Foreign Service officer of the United States, an employe of the State and Labor Departments on many a mission that is equally as important as bombing a target or taking a hilltop. And although he serves a country that has never lost a war, it is also a country that rarely accomplishes a diplomatic objective or even knows ahead of time what the diplomatic objective is.

Since we're a very powerful nation, we're usually able to bluff, buy or shoot our way out of a tight corner. Sometimes, as with Castro Cuba, we just make a bad bargain and hug it all the tighter. Sometimes, as in the current Mid East fracas, we get lucky —and another nation presents us with a temporary victory.

MR. SIMPSON, a recent visitor to my office when the guns were hot in Sinai, has been watching this headless horsemanship for 30 years in various posts at home and abroad. He has written a well-reviewed book, "Anatomy of the State Department" (Houghton Mifflin), and we talked about its genesis.

BACK IN THE Kennedy era, Mr. Simpson had decided he could best get his warnings across by writing about them. He voluntarily left the State Department, and was soon contributing critical articles to professional journals. During the Johnson Administration, he was sent for by Deputy Under Secretary (for Administration) William Crockett and, in effect, asked to desist. Returning to the State Department as consultant for the purpose of pushing in-House reforms, Mr. Simpson tried for a while and then cut loose with this book.

PUBLISHERS' WEEKLY says (and this reader agrees) that it's "an electrifying book, though it is calmly written, and its argument is sober and reasoned." Mr. Simpson doesn't charge anybody with treason, a no-win policy or a sell-out. His indictment of the State Department is like Dr. Sam Johnson's reply to a lady who'd teased him with making a literary mistake and had demanded to know how-come.

"Ignorance, madam, pure ignorance," said the celebrated dictionary-writer.

IT SOUNDS incredible, but most presidents don't know what's happening in foreign affairs. Most secretaries of state don't know. Most major and minor functionaries at Foggy Bottom or in their overseas assignments don't know. "Regardless of who is at its head," writes Mr. Simpson, "the State Department, like a self-winding clock, largely runs itself." Rather, as Mr. Simpson's narrative unfolds, the stem is twisted, or the weights are pulled, by a "diplomatic fraternity" which is more concerned with internal job-protection than foreign policy, usually finds inaction much safer than action.

THE USA LOSES many a bloodless battle which later has to be resolved in payments of gold or gore. While this book isn't a name-calling expose, it leaves the State Department darned near stark naked to its critics.

Golf Club Lightning

STUTTERHEIM, South Africa (AP) — An African here is looking for a golf caddie who hits with the power of lightning.

The African, Bantu Nboyi, 13, was sitting against a tree when lightning struck it. He fell over unconscious.

Stutterheim golf club secretary Trevor Collett applied artificial respiration and rushed Nboyi to the hospital. He was released after treatment.

Collett returned to the course and told Nboyi's friends: "He wanted to know which fellow African caddie had hit him on the head with a golf club. He will not believe he was struck by lightning."

State National Uses New Computer System

Until they receive statements, customers of State National Bank likely will not be aware that their transactions have been put through a computer. Even then the only apparent difference will be in the new design and texture of the monthly statement.

But this makes a big difference to the bank in its ability to service accounts. It's not farout banking either — just staying abreast of the times and getting on the right track to stay abreast, said John Currie, president of State National.

What is involved on the surface is the bank sending all transactions of the day to the computer center in Lubbock, and then having the materials, together with a battery of reports back in the bank by opening time the next morning.

This is possible through the marvels of electronic data processing. The materials sent from State National—as well as a number of other area banks and businesses—are fed into the National Cash Register 315 Electronic Data Processing system, which represents an outlay of approximately a million dollars. At the rate of about 2,500 per hour, the transactions of the day are fed into the system, balanced, computed, analyzed, and printed.

One product of the processing center is a daily journal showing all accounts active on a given day, the credits and debits, and balances. Should there have been an inadvertent overdraft, this will show, together with the balance were it honored. A second report is a statement of all accounts at the end of any day. Thus, tellers or others at the bank will be able, by thumbing to an account number, to tell a customer quickly what the balance is or if there has been any activity in the account recently.

The bank here starts the ball rolling on EDP by running all checks and deposits through the electronic proof machine. If checks (or deposit slips) do not have the account number in coded electronic ink, this is added, and so is the amount of the check. (If there should be a typing error, another device erases the magnetic ink so that correct information may be retyped in the same space.)

At the center in Lubbock, the checks (and deposits) are fed into the NCR magnetic ink character recorder - sorter, which reads them at the rate of 1,250 per minute, records the information on magnetic tape and prints an audit list. If anything is out of balance, it is pinpointed. Not until the computer balance is reconciled with the bank's balance are the individual accounts put through the computer. If a wrong account number has been used, this is spotted instantly because the sum of the mathematical weight of each of the six digits in the account number must equal the seventh number, which is a proof digit.

The accounts are computed and proofed at amazing speeds. The center units now produce at the rate of about 35,000 characters per minute, and can be stepped up to 120,000 characters per minute. This means that an entire line is produced in a fraction of a second.

Out of the stored information, the computer can instantly figure a monthly service charge, an average balance, or most any other information the bank might wish to know about the account. The bank, by knowing the business habits of the customer, is in a position to give service to the customer.

Ultimately (and this already is being done in a number of places) checks sent out of town but drawn on an account here will not come back to the home bank directly, but will be routed electronically to the computer center where they will be recorded to the account. The check will be sorted and sent back with the banks items sent for processing that day. It just means faster service.

Customers are encouraged—even urged—to use personalized checks which not only have the name printed on them but also the coded account number in magnetic ink. Thd more active accounts will in time be given personalized deposit slips with the coded account numbers on them.

"About 84 per cent of all checks are processed at some time in EDP in their course of clearing," said Currie. "It won't be long until virtually all are handled electronically — all the way. We're just folowing a policy of staying in step with the times. It will help our customers, and help us by being able to know about them and their needs."

Besides the new computer system keeping a better tab on the bank's books, the State National Bank also offers the convenient and easily-accessible all-night depository facility.

Dickinson Breaks Five-Year Drouth

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — It was a long five-year drouth, but Gardner Dickinson figures the first place money of $20,700 was worth waiting for.

"It was a very satisfying victory," the slightly built, 155-pound Florida pro noted after he breezed home in even par 70 Sunday to win the Cleveland Open golf championship. He finished nine-under for the 72 holes with a 271.

It was the first tour title since 1962 for the steady Dickinson who has become a familiar trademark on golf courses everywhere with his white-billed cap.

"I've played very consistently for a good while and haven't missed very many fairways. I've worked hard. But I can't give enough credit to Tony Penna who has worked tirelessly with me to help my game the last six years."

Penna is a pro from Palm Beach, Fla. Dickinson, whose best previous finish this year was a tie for third at Phoenix, Ariz., also credited fabled Ben Hogan for some lessons in 1954 when the Florida golfer got out of the Army.

PRECISION PLAYING

Dickinson, who played the tight 6,611-yard Aurora Country Club course with precision accuracy, wasn't quite as sharp as in earlier rounds when he posted scores of 68, 66 and 67.

Two Texans, Miller Barber and Homero Blancas, finished tied for second with 275s.

Tommy Aaron, who had the day's best round with a 66, closed in a five-way deadlock for fourth place with Jerry Edwards, Allen Henning, Phil Rodgers and Lou Graham. All had 277s.

A stroke back at 278 were Cobie LeGrange, Wayne Yates and Arnold Palmer. Grouped at 279 were Lionel Hebert, Gene Littler, Bert Weaver and Billy Casper.

U.S. Open king Jack Nicklaus and Masters champion Gay Brewer were locked at 282 with four others. Top finishers include:

Hot Cha Cha! He's Hot

Gardner Dickinson seems to be doing a new dance step as he sinks a 22-ft. putt on the 13th hole Sunday. He had the field, dancing his way as he went on to win the Cleveland Open with 271, nine strokes under par and four ahead of the field. This particular putt put Dickinson 10 under par at that point. College Champ Says He Played Terrible Round

SHAWNEE ON DELAWARE, Pa. (AP) — Hale Irwin, the University of Colorado marketing student who won the 70th annual NCAA golf championship is a painfully honest young man.

He had just won college golf's most coveted title, an accomplishment that bypassed such greats as Arnold Palmer, Lawson Little, Charley Coe and Bobby Jones. He had a right to be elated, cocky, ready to lick the world.

Not this 6-foot-6-inch football star who looks more like a golfer. In effect, he said he was terrible and that he almost backed into the title he wanted so badly.

He wasn't sure he belonged in the company of last year' winner, Bob Murphy of Florida, or the 1965 champ, Marty Fleckman, or such previous NCAA kings as Jack Nicklaus, Phil Rodgers, R.H. Sikes and Kermit Zarley.

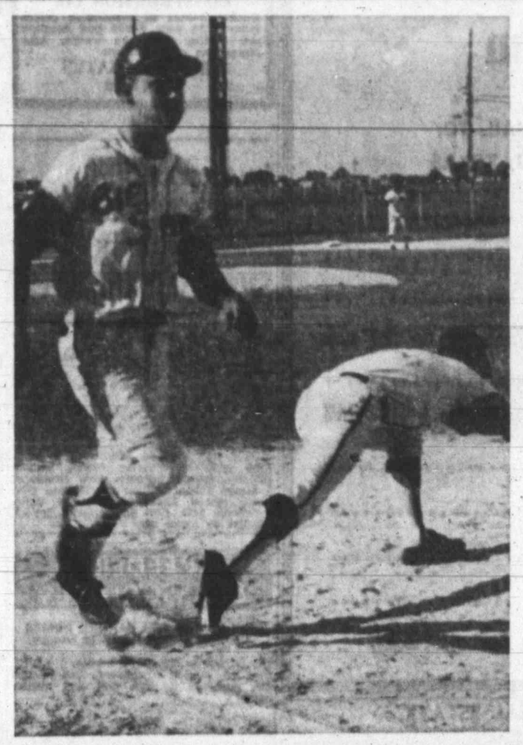

FLY IN OINTMENT

The fly in his championship ointment was a final round seven-over-par 79 Saturday on the 7,025-yard Shawnee Inn Golf Course. "I don't like to end a tournament playing so badly," he said, when he could have said, winning is the thing.

"I don't know how to explain this round" he declared. "I was a combination of fatigue, generally poor play and an element of choke."

He headed home after his four rounds of 70-72-65-79—286, gave him a two stroke win over a trio deadlocked at 288 — Bunky Henry, Georgia Tech placekicker; Ross Randall, San Jose State and Robert Drue Johnson, Arizona State.

Henry shot a final round two-under-par 70, Johnson and Randall each 71 in the fruitless assault on Irwin's five-stroke 54-hole lead.

Throw Is In Time

R. J. Englert, outfielder for the Big Spring American Legion team, is shown being retired at first base in the second inning of the doubleheader played here Saturday with the Midland Elcor club. The two teams split a twin bill, the locals coming back to take the second contest, 2-0, behind Sammy Mims' no-hit pitching after Midland had walked off with the opener, 4-1. First Grand Slam Is Inside Park

By The Associated Press

Rick Reichardt will remember his first grand slam homer as the one that didn't reach the seats.

The Kansas City Athletics will write it off as just another bad hop.

But California's George Brunet will count it as one of the few good bounces he's had all year.

Reichardt's initial bases-loaded homer in the majors—an inside-the-park shot that caromed crazily past right fielder Mike Hershberger in the first inning—carried Brunet and the Angels past the A's 4-3 Sunday.

The victory was only the fourth in 15 decisions for Brunet, a hard-luck southpaw who recently lost nine in a row while the Angels scored a total of 18 runs for him.

In other American League games, Minnesota topped the first place Chicago White Sox 3-1, Baltimore drubbed Washington 8-3, the New York Yankees shaded Detroit 3-2 and Boston whipped Cleveland 8-3.

TWO-OUT RALLY

The Twins rallied for three runs with two out in the eighth, Earl Battey's two-run pinch triple keying the burst, and gave unbeaten Jim Merritt his fifth victory. Merritt allowed only three hits—including a run-scoring single by Don Buford in the third—before being lifted for a hitter during the winning rally.

Singles by Zoilo Versalles and Frank Kostro preceded Battey's triple off loser Tommy John and pinch runner Dave Boswell scored the third Minnesota run on Cesar Tovar's infield hit.

Baltimore's Robinson boys, Frank and Brooks, stroked three hits apiece and scored five runs between them as the Orioles buried Washington under a 15-hit barrage.

Boog Powell, Curt Blefary and Vic Roznovsky each drove in a pair of runs, and rookie Tom Phoebus registered his sixth victory with relief help from Moe Drabowsky.

TRIPLE PLAY

Tom Tresh's two-run single in the fourth inning, a run-scoring single by Mickey Mantle in the fifth and a triple play lifted the Yankees past Detroit, completing a New York sweep of the three-game series.

Singles by Don Wert and Ray Oyler got winner Mel Stottlemyre into a fifth inning jam before second baseman Horace Clarke gloved Jerry Lumpe's liner and started the first AL triple play this season. Clarke flipped to shortstop Ruben Amaro, doubling Wert at second, and Amaro's toss to first baseman Mantle nailed Oyler.

Carl Yastrzemski's two-run homer and bases-empty blasts by Joe Foy and Bob Tillman—who had three hits apiece—powered the Red Sox' attack.

Right-hander Gary Bell posted his 100th major league victory—and his fourth in five decisions since Cleveland traded him to Boston last month.

Amarillo Has Lead Shaved

By The Associated Press

Amarillo's Sonics saw their Texas League lead shaved some by rain and a defeat Sunday

El Paso, the second place club, couldn't play Dallas-Fort Worth because of adverse weather. That nevertheless allowed El Paso to gain half a game when Amarillo took an 8-3 licking from Arkansas.

Austin edged Albuquerque 5-4 in 10 innings to boast a half-game bulge over cellar-dwelling Dallas-Fort Worth although the latter gained half a game on leading Amarillo by virtue of the postponement.

Arkansas scored two runs in the fourth to break out a 3-3 tie with Amarillo and the shock must have been too much for the Sonics. They did nothing notable the rest of the way while Arkansas was adding three more runs against relief pitchers.

Nate Colbert's 18th homer of the season helped Amarillo to its tie in the top of the fourth.

George Kopacz singled in the winning run in the top of the 10th inning as Austin beat Albuquerque. The game was marred by five errors.

Austin pitcher Skip Guinn held Albuquerque hitless until the sixth but left during a three-run Albuquerque seventh. Dick Smith pitched the last two innings and allowed only one hit to get the victory.

There's only one game tonight, Albuquerque moving to El Paso.

Pasarell Has Tough Draw

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — Charlie Pasarell, the Puerto Rican who stands fourth in the U.S. tennis rankings, had a date on the center court at Wimbledon today which could make him the first hero of this year's tournament.

The hard-hitting 23-year-old Davis Cupper from Santurce was drawn to play Spain's Manuel Santana, the reigning champion, in the first round. The champion traditionally leads off the tournament on center court.

Pasarell has had tough luck in the Wimbledon draw in the last couple of years. Last year, too, he had to play the reigning champion—then Roy Emerson of Australia. That was in the third round. Pasarell lost in three straight sets.

EMERSON FAVORED

The bookies have made Emerson the even money favorite to win the title for the third time in four years. Santa is second favorite at 4 to 1.

Last week's London Grass Court championships at Queen's Club did nothing except confuse Wimbledon prospects.

Santana and Emerson were both tumbled out of the tournament by players who are not seeded for Wimbledon. So were two other Wimbledon seeds, Cliff Drysdale of South Africa, No. 5, and Bill Bowrey of Australia, No. 8.

One of those who did the damage was Tom Okker, 22-year-old Dutch soldier who has been given leave from the Netherlands Army. He eliminated Emerson and Bowrey.

Santana was knocked out by Ray Moore of South Africa.

U.S. NOT SEEDED

For the first time ever, the United States did not have one player seeded in the men's singles at Wimbledon.

Davis Cuppers Cliff Richey, of San Angelo, Tex., and Clark Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, were the best bets to restore America's declining reputation. Both played in the disastrous Davis Cup match at Guayaquil last week, when the United States was eliminated by Ecuador.

The two Americans flew to England last week and go into Wimbledon without any tournament practise on grass.

Richey's first round opponent was Ronald Barnes of Brazil. Graebner played Nikola Spear of Yugoslavia.

The tournament lasts two weeks, with the men's singles final on Friday, July 7 and the other finals July 8.

Linda Cathey Cops 2 Firsts

Linda Cathey, competing individually, grabbed off two first places and a second in the Dad's Club swimming meet at Houston Saturday. She also bagged the high-point trophy for individuals in the 15-17-year group.

She did the 200-yard individual medley in 2:22.0, and came back to take the 100-yard breast stroke event in 1:15.0. Her 1:06.0 in the fly was just a hair off the pace.

Linda, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cathey, is due to compete this weekend in the swimming meet at Arlington. She will be racing there against a goal, and those who attain this may qualify for the nationals.

Clay Protects Two Newsmen

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Heavyweight boxer Cassius Clay protected two television newsmen Sunday as a crowd of about 500 Negroes threatened the men, police said.

Harold Keen and Carl Gilman, from San Diego TV station KFMB, were trying to interview the former heavyweight champion.

Keen said the Negroes told the newsmen to leave when they arrived to interview Clay. The men were forced to return to their car by the pressing crowd, Keen said, and were struck in the back of the head by fists as they turned to leave.

At that point, Clay arrived, accompanied by former light heavyweight champion Archie Moore.

"Clay put his arm around us and told the youngsters to control themselves," Keen said. "He said we were not there to do any harm but just to interview him."

In the interview that followed, Clay, recently convicted of refusing induction into the armed forces, said he deplored the crowd's action and said he regularly urges youths not to resort to violence.

Clay and Moore then cleared a way through the crowd so the car could leave, Keen said.

Resurgent Cubs Bewilder Astros

By The Associated Press

"Can Joey Niekro pitch?" yelled Randy Hundley.

"Yes, he can," bellowed Ron Santo.

"Can Ernie Banks hit?" shouted Dick Radatz.

"Yes, he can," answered Banks. "Let's play another one."

It went on and on. The surprising third-place Chicago Cubs were acting like a bunch of kids, having a ball after sweeping a doubleheader from Houston 4-1 and 8-0 Sunday.

It wasn't at all like a team that has not finished in first division since 1946.

The Cubs have blown their balloon so big, they've moved within four games of first place in the National League after front-running St. Louis lost a twinbill to Philadelphia 6-4 and 10-4.

Chicago also pulled within 1½ games of second-place Cincinnati as Pittsburgh beat the Reds 5-4.

Clete Boyer of Atlanta has been having a good time, too. His hot bat boosted the Braves to a 4-2 victory over the New York Mets.

OTHER GAMES

In the other National League game, Los Angeles defeated San Francisco 2-1 on Len Gabrielson's run-scoring pinch hit single in the ninth inning.

Some 31,000 fans, the largest Cub home crowd in two years, whooped it up all day and gave the 36-year-old Banks a standing ovation after each of his pair of two-run homers in the second game he was not supposed to play.

"If it had been a hot day, I wouldn't have played him," said Manager Leo Durocher after his team ran its winning streak to six, longest in four years.

Former relievers Bill Hands and Niekro, who probably would not have been starting at all if Ken Holtzman had not been called into the Army, pitched their first complete games in the major leagues.

Hands yielded only five hits in the opener after failing 27 times in two years to go the distance.

Niekro, a rookie making his fifth start, set the Astros down on three singles in the second game.

Don Lock drove the nail into the Cardinals, knocking in six runs with six hits, including two two-run homers. His first clout capped a three-run fifth inning in the first game for a 5-2 lead. His second gave Philadelphia a 2-0 lead in the nightcap, and the Phils used four of five St. Louis errors to add six unearned runs.

Matt Alou sliced two singles and a home run and Manny Jimenez added a honor as the Pirates dealt the Reds their sixth loss in eight starts and left them 2½ games behind St. Louis.

Boyer, who never drove in more than 68 runs in a season in the majors, knocked in all Atlanta's runs with two singles and a double, raising his RBI total to 46, only one less than teammate Hank Aaron and seven off the league lead.

Carol Follows Golf Adage

CINCINNATI (AP) — Carol Mann says she learned something Sunday in her four-stroke victory in the $21,000 Buckeye Savings Ladies Professional Golf Tournament.

It was that "when a golf tournament breaks open in the closing holes, play it safe."

The tall blonde Miss Mann was on the 16th tee when she learned Clifford Ann Creed, with whom she had been in a neck and neck battle, had taken a double bogey on the 14th and had dropped four strokes behind.

"I've been that far ahead in other tournaments," she said, "but not by having the tournament broken open on the closing holes."

Even though playing it safe, Miss Mann got a birdie four on the par 5 17th and finished with a three under par 69. That gave her a 54-hole total of 207, nine under par and the four strokes ahead of Miss Creed who finished with a 73, one over par for the Clovernook Country Club's layout. Miss Creed's 54-hole total was 211.

Sandra Haynie, the defending Buckeye champion, went three over par Sunday with a 75 and finished with an even par 216 for the 54 holes.

Lions Rally For Sixth Victory

The Lions feasted on fat innings Saturday evening to subdue the Rebels, 11-6, in a Sophomore League game.

The Lions pushed in four runs in the second and added a like number in the bottom of the fourth to salt away the decision. This left the Lions with a 6-1 season, the Rebels 3-4. Ricky Steen got credit for the win; Joe Chavez was the loser. The box score:

Talons Manage To Nose Comets

The Talons started slowly Saturday evening in the International Little League, then clawed to nose out the Comets 12-11. This left the Talons with a 12-3 record and cut the Comets to 11-3.

Frank Houser, after a shaky start, settled down to hold the Comets in check and carry his team to the league leadership. He owed a lot to Raymond Meek, who had three hits in four trips, including a double and a home run. Davis absorbed the loss for the Comets. The box score:

Dr. Fager's Jockey Will Ride In The Grand Prix

By The Associated Press

Braulio Baeza's trip to France this week can hardly be any smoother than the one he took in Chicago.

The Panamanian who will take an airplane to France to ride Assagai in the Grand Prix de St. Cloud next Sunday did his flying at Arlington Park last Saturday aboard Dr. Fager.

The 3-year-old Tartan Stable ace flashed a mile over a sloppy track and won the $106,000 Arlington Classic by 10 lengths over Lightning Orphan in 1:36.

Performing in the slop for the first time, the 2-5 favorite rang up his third victory in four races this year and his seventh in nine career starts in his battle with Damascus for the 3-year-old championship. It was his first start since his disqualification in the Jersey Derby May 30.

While Dr. Fager was demolishing lightning Orphan, third place Diplomat Way and three other colts at Arlington, Furl Sail had more than a little trouble in her attempt to sweep the Triple Crown for 3-year-old Fillies at Aqueduct.

Furl Sail, who had won the Acorn and Mother Goose — the first two legs of the triple — en route to eight victories in 10 starts this year, faded in the stretch as Quillo Queen came roaring home in the $131,740 Coaching Club American Oaks.

Ernie Cardone took Quillo Queen, owned by Martin Anderson, over the 14 miles in 2:03 2-5 for a mutuel payoff $15.60, $5.40 and $4.60.

Muse was seven lengths back in second, with Pepperwood 1½ lengths further back for third. Furl Sail, owned by Mrs. E. K. Thomas hung on for fourth.

Pike's Peak Champ

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (AP) — Wes Vanservoort of Colorado Springs won the championship division Sunday in the annual Pikes Peak Auto Races. He drove his Chevrolet up the 14,110-foot mountain in 12:46.3.

Mario Andretti, of Nazareth, Pa., a pre-race favorite, lost all chance when his car blew a front right tire.

Foyt Blows Tire

NEW BREMEN, Ohio (AP) — A.J. Foyt, the Indianapolis and Le Mans winner, escaped injury Sunday when his car blew a tire and struck a wall. Al Smith, Dayton, Ohio, won the 30-lap U.S. Auto Club sprint race in a Vivian Buick Special at an average speed of 92.44 miles per hour.

Dear Abby

The Truth Is Best

DEAR ABBY: My sister has a son (I'll call him Joey) who was born out of wedlock. He is 6 years old. About four months ago my sister married a man who refuses to take Joey into his home, but he pays for his support. Joey now lives with our parents and he can't understand why his mommy "visits" him at Granny's but she won't take him "home" with her.

My sister hasn't told Joey anything. I feel he should be told something. But what? I think I have a right to ask this question because my mother is in poor health, and now my sister wants me to promise that I will look after Joey in case something happens to our mother.

I am 24, have been self-supporting since I was 16, and plan to be married in June. Please withhold my name.

NAMELESS

DEAR NAMELESS: Joey should be legally adopted by someone who wants him. Ideally you, since you appear to be the only one who is sufficiently concerned about what the boy thinks.

Under the circumstances, the only explanation would be the truth. No one can be forced to raise a child he doesn't want. And if he could, I'd pity the poor child.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Your advice to the father who was worried because his son was smoking pot showed that you don't know what you're talking about.

Marijuana is NOT a drug. It is NOT habit-forming. It is NOT as injurious to the body as alcohol. And it serves a very useful purpose in that it relaxes a person, sharpens his senses and gives him a happy, carefree, all - is - right - with - the - world feeling. So, Dear Abby, what is wrong with that?

SMOKES POT

DEAR SMOKES: Anything, whether it's inhaled, injected, or taken on a cube of sugar to induce a "happy, carefree, all - is - right - with - the - world feeling," when all is NOT right with the world, poses a serious threat. The reason is obvious. It creates a false sense of security and wellbeing.

While marijuana itself may not be habit-forming, the "habit" of fleeing from reality rather than facing it can be as destructive to the human personality as a drug addiction.

Although many authorities on narcotics insist that not all marijuana smokers graduate to heroin or morphine, it would certainly be an easy transition for those who would try anything for kicks. For the same unscrupulous characters who peddle marijuana to kids are not above trying to hook them on the stronger stuff.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Through some fresh arrangements you now make you have a good chance to get those arrangements done that are so important to you with a considerable amount of charm and color. Try to avoid getting irritable about anything at all for such an attitude could take away from your chance to forge ahead quickly.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Whatever is of a confidential nature should remain just that or you could get into serious trouble. Be more devoted to attachment and all is fine. Don't take so much for granted as you have in the past.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Avoid what's overtaxing physically and get into some form of light entertainment that brings relief from worry. Some social function is fine. However, do nothing that will cause you to lose your dignity.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Doing whatever a higher-up expects of you is best manner in which to get ahead today, especially in civic lines. Don't be forceful with one who is in authority. This could cause you to lose out considerably where it counts the most.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Plan what it is you want and just how to go after it in a most positive and precise way. Be sure to carry through with your share of the work in any project with others. Collect your share of the profits.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Show mate that you will forget about that extravagant hobby and you find real understanding that was impossible before this. Out-of-town correspondence can bring an excellent opportunity to advance your way. Or it could be from one of different culture to yours.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Now you know what associates expect from you where backing is concerned and then joint projects become successful. Get into some civic work that adds prestige to what you now enjoy. Be very efficient.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) There is much you have to do to make your surroundings more charming, comfortable so get busy and finish what you start. You have ingenious system for getting cooperation of coworkers.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) First plan what you should do and then carry through in a positive fashion and you get the right results. Be happier than in the past. Join with congenials later and rid yourself of pent-up emotions.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Use methods you used before in getting more harmonious relations established at home. Buy whatever new furniture, etc., is needed for the home. Try to control your temper, no matter what the provocation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get right down to tasks and business at hand and use care in usual routines so that allies are pleased and you come to better understanding. Handle reports wisely. Out with congenials for fun later.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) The planets are with you now and you can increase source of revenue. Conferring with some monetary expert gives you inside information how to really get ahead. Make sure your budgeting is right.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Ideal day to make decisions on what you plan to do in the near future so that you have every possibility of getting results. Then dress nicely and out socially. Make headway via this avenue, also.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN tomorrow . . . he, or she, will be one of those amazing young ones who perceives almost everything that is occurring around him, or her, and cannot be fooled easily. Encouragement and affection is most important, though, if your child is going to mature beautifully and accomplish all the things that are in this fine mind.

ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ

Q. 1 — Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠Q10 3 ♡54 ◇A10 9 4 2 ♣854
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	2 ♡	Pass	Pass
Dble.	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A. — Three spades. An effort should be made to reach game, and a mere return to two spades or a call of three diamonds will sound forced to partner, and he may be reluctant to take further action. A jump bid cannot be considered drastic in light of your failure to bid freely on the previous round.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠Q 10 7 ♡QJ 9 8 7 4 ◇5 ♣532
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ◇	Pass	1 ♡	Pass
2 NT	Pass	3 ♡	Pass
3 NT	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Hearts, it must be with this hand, and you must, therefore, dutifully continue to four. This does not show any additional values, for you bid each time at the lowest level that it was possible for you to do so.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠K 7 6 5 3 ♡AQ 8 ◇AK 8 2 ♣8
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	3 ◇	Pass
3 ♡	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—We would be willing to assume at this time that your major suits were solid and consequently are concerned primarily with the number of aces. We would, therefore, bid four no trump [Blackwood] and, if partner showed two aces, we would risk a grand slam in spades.

Q. 4—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠A 2 ♡K 9 ◇K 9 5 3 2 ♣8543
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	1 ♠	2 ♣	2 ♠
3 ♠	Pass	3 NT	Pass
4 ♣	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Tho you had a very sound raise to start with, we recommend a mere return to five clubs. The bidding has made it clear that your ace of spades is not as impressive a card as you thought it would be from the beginning, inasmuch as it duplicates partner's void.

Q. 5—Neither vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠K6 ♡AQ 7 6 3 ◇AQ 7 3 ♣96
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♡	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ◇	Pass	2 ♠	Pass

What do you bid now?

A. — You have more values than you have previously shown and, since partner has rebid spades, you have normal support for that suit. One more try is recommended in the form of a raise to three spades.

Q. 6 — Both vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠ AJ 9 5 ♡ K5 ◇ 9852 ♣ AQJ
What is your opening bid?

A.—This hand is just a shade light for an opening bid of one no trump, and it might be found convenient to open it with one club. The objection to bidding a spade is that a somewhat awkward rebid situation develops if partner responds with two hearts.

Q. 7—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠982 ♡J ◇AJ6 ♣AK8542
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♣	Pass
2 ♡	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—No very convenient rebid is available at the moment. A mere return to two spades could not be considered on grounds of inadequacy. A jump to three spades is certainly not to be entertained with such a meager trump holding. We would temporize with a bid of three diamonds. If partner proceeds to three no trump, we relax. If he rebids hearts, we return to three spades. If he rebids spades, we take him to four.

Q. 8—As dealer you hold:
♠A 8 5 ♡AQ 10 3 ◇AQ 5 4 2 ♣3
What is your opening bid?

A.—The better strategic call is one heart rather than one diamond. If you open with one diamond and partner responds two clubs, your hand is not quite strong enough for the reverse bid of two hearts. Therefore, it is better to treat those suits as tho they were the same length so that a convenient rebid is provided over partner's expected response.
