

Wendell Boone...
Texan by Choice

NEW YORK 'YANKEE'

Lad Gone 'Texan' Kinda Hates to Quit

Since July 1, 1962, Colorado City has been the temporary home of a lad from Weedsport, New York.

Wendell Boone, now 13, originally intended to just make a stopover visit here in the home of his aunt Mrs. H. P. Ball, 908 Marshall St.

With his father and five brothers he was enroute to California to make his home. (Wendell's mother died in Dec. 1961.)

Colorado City and everything about this state called Texas intrigued Wendell to such an extent that he and his aunt Mrs. Ball persuaded his father to let him stay here and go to school. In one year he's turned typical Texan for sure. The boy from New York experienced a number of

Don't Forget To Write — Zip Codes

Don't forget to write the new ZIP codes.

Monday, July 1, throughout the country, the United States Postoffice Department put the new ZIP code numbers in effect.

Colorado City's ZIP number is 79512. If all goes well, ZIP 79512 will be typed, inked or scribbled right after the town and state destination, to read on the return addresses for all letters mailed here "Colorado City, Texas 79512."

Citizens have been urged by the Postmaster General to address all out going mail with ZIP codes as they are supposed to appear in return addresses for mail arriving here.

ZIP codes, planned to speed cut address reading, to speed mail on its way, and eliminate opportunity for human error, are now in effect, just in time for most vacation postcard mailing.

Write out-going letter addresses just as you did before — but don't forget to add the ZIP after the state where the letter is headed. Be sure to add C-City's ZIP 79512 after the Texas in your return address, the post office asks.

If people remember to ZIP, the Postmaster General has promised, "The United States will have the most modern and efficient mail distribution and delivery in existence."

It will take some cooperation. Remember to ZIP.

PHD CALLED 'TARP'

Kaiser's Dr. Pritchett C-City Boy, at Home

BY RUTH COFFEY

Record News Editor

In Spokane, Washington, where he is Technical Manager of Kaiser's Aluminum & Chemical Corporation's Department of Metallurgical Research Department, he may be addressed as "Dr. Pritchett."

To his closer associates he is "Tex" or "Tom". Here in Colorado City where he is visiting his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. T. (Tom) Pritchett of 704 East 10th St., he is hailed by people who remember the day he was born as "Thomas Ronald."

Boys who knew him best during his boyhood and school days in this West Texas town always used to call him "Ole Tarp," nickname they fastened upon him because of his initials TRP.

To be perfectly candid about his boyhood here there may be a few Epworth League adult leaders who recall him as "the holy terror of the League." Some school teachers could, if they wanted to, cite the fact that with the highest grades in some of his classes he didn't always make the Honor Roll because of a technicality once known as Department.

Ronald Pritchett, enroute to acquiring his PHD in chemistry, had an early bent for a little jolly mischief, certain people recall. He was, in more serious hours, a natural scholar. He was graduated with the CHS class of 1942 as one of the top ten honor students, scholastically.

People in Colorado City who have known him all (or most of) his life have never found anything surprising about his turning out to be "Dr. Pritchett," head of intricately technical research for a big industry and of a chemical-metallurgical department employing 110 research engineers.

After graduation from high school here he was enrolled as a science major in the University of Texas, World War II years interrupted his college education while he served as T-5 Pritchett in the Signal Corps stationed in Alaska and the Aleutians.

In 1947 he received his first degree from the University of Texas. In 1949 he earned his masters degree and in 1951 won his doctorate. For 18 months he was with the Central Research Department for Monsanto, in Dayton, Ohio. For 11 years he has been with the world-famous Kaiser Industries — first as head of the Corrosion Department. In May, 1960, he was named to his present post.

As technical manager of Kaiser's research on aluminum he can answer all questions about what he does now in polished and erudite technical phrases if he chooses. Interviewed by a hometown editor, Dr. Pritchett doesn't choose to take off into the technical stratosphere.

"Well our Research Department is working in all phases of Kaiser aluminum for the building industry — siding, roofing, screening, your kite- See RESEARCH Pg 8

Prospector Gets Second Deepening

A Mitchell County wildcat is to be deepened a second time by Ray Albaugh, Big Spring operator.

The well, No. 1 Elwood Estate is located 900 feet from the south and 467 feet from the west lines of section 18-18 SPRR Survey. It is located about 3½ miles northwest of the Elwood (Missippian) pool.

The prospector in Mitchell County was originally drilled to 2,500 feet. In June, after bottoming in barren foundation, it was set for 3,250 feet in a test for Clear Fork. New bottom is 4,000 feet.

SCS NOTES

Bermuda Grass Use On Irrigated Pasture

"The use of Bermudagrass as an irrigated pasture grass is a current project of a number of farmers in the Mitchell County Soil Conservation District," Allen V. Sheppard, Work Unit Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service said Wednesday.

"Alfred Hackfeld, Willis Cornutt, James F. Kelley, Perry H. Bowles, H. E. Thomas, D. M. Smith, Lloyd Barnes, T. P. Fowler, and Dale Kinman have sprigged 130 acres of coastal Bermudagrass, James Cox, Alfred Hackfeld, H. E. Thomas, and Woodrow Pratt have drilled 35 acres of a specially selected strain of Bermudagrass that can be established by seeding. D. D. (Pete) Myers, Kenneth Butler and Kenneth Merket are planning to sprig about 35 acres this year if they can get their land ready," Sheppard added.

"Coastal Bermudagrass is a hybrid that was developed at the Georgia Coastal Plain Experiment Station, Tifton, Georgia. It has to be established by sprigging because it does not produce seed that will germinate. Coastal Bermudagrass will produce more forage than common Bermudagrass with the same soil moisture, soil fertility and same level of management," Sheppard said.

Also adapted to this area is a strain of Bermudagrass that was selected and a seed source developed for by a commercial seed company. This strain of Bermudagrass can be established by the same methods used to establish common bermudagrass which is used in yard lawns, golf courses, and football fields, the conservationist said.

Alfred Hackfeld has one year of experience on his neighbors. He seeded 7 acres of Bermudagrass in a waterway in 1962. The Bermudagrass grew well in 1962. He has fertilized it twice this year and carried out a good schedule of watering. Hackfeld plans to bale hay off of it next week.

MONEY NEEDED

'Mothers' Fund' For Local Crisis

Within the city limits of Colorado City lives a young mother in urgent need of help.

She is the mother of five young children whose father has deserted the family. Two of the children are mentally retarded two are in need of glasses.

Until recently, the mother has supported her children with her meager earnings as a car hop for a local drive-in. Then she got sick.

Her family physician has discovered after examination and tests that she is suffering from cancer and needs abdominal surgery. The doctor, asked by the Record, verified that diagnosis. He will do the operation "on the credit" so that part is not the immediate problem.

The problem is that the mother needs money to finance her hospitalization, money to feed and house the five children while she is in the hospital and for a six weeks period afterward. Prognosis for her recovery with care is good, the doctor said.

Solution for the rest of her dilemma is up to generous hearts. Money to help a sick, discouraged young woman through a crisis will be accepted by City National Bank for the "Mother's Fund." For obvious reasons the mother's name will not be published. But the details you are reading are facts. Facts thoroughly checked by the Colorado City Record.

Anonymous donors have started a fund to help take care of this family's immediate needs. See MOTHER Pg 1

Come unto Me

The open door of this church is a fitting symbol for the heart of God, for His heart is open always to all men. The Bible records these words, "Behold, I have set before you an open door which no one is able to shut." Yes, literally no one can put any kind of block between God and us. His love surmounts every obstacle. That door is open for you today and every day.

BOYS OUTNUMBER GIRLS

Summer Jobs Beckon To Many CHS Students

BY BRENDA BELL
Record Staff Writer

For Colorado High students, summertime involves much swimming, playing, lying around (not to mention riding around) — and working. Yes, folks, to many an overworked teen-ager somewhere a voice bellows, "Who ever heard of an overworked teen-ager?" Summer means that they must take their nose from one worn, bookish grindstone and place it gently on another, usually softer, and always better paid one — the summer job.

Boys outnumber the girls by far in these vacation-time endeavors, whether because the fairer sex is lazier, or just finds Dad a softer touch for spending money is yet undetermined. Or perhaps the scarcity of summer employment for high-school girls is a factor. At any rate, the number of female high-schoolers to be found out beating the old working woman's path were far and few between. Oren Lipps, maintenance supervisor of Colorado High School, has employed a large hunk of the working population. His boys may be seen every week-day from 7:00 a. m. until late afternoon, chopping weeds, painting, and other wise keeping up the appearance of the stadium and practice football field. The crew includes Reggie Noble, Mike Mundy, Skipper Warren, and Perry Milsap, all juniors. Larry Damborsky, senior, and Lee Schafer, '63 graduate.

Senior Dee Dearen works with the boys in the afternoons, after his morning job with Bodine Bros. Dairy and before putting in a short stint as clean-up man in late afternoon at the ASCS office. So doubling up is Junior Ronald Hillhouse, who works for Mr. Lipps in the morning and before his Village Market grocery-sacking job which is from late afternoon to 8:00 p. m. on weekdays and all day Saturday.

Sacking groceries is also one of the more popular jobs. Employed by Safeway are seniors Wayland Moore, David Taylor, Phil Ball and Mike Burson and Junior David McKay. E-Z Way Superette employs senior Randy Taylor and Junior Jerry Don Geiger in this department.

Root Memorial Hospital employs '63 graduate Sue Ann Welter and senior Connie Dearen as nurses' assistants. Sue Ann works in the mornings while Connie takes the afternoon and evening shift. The number of days the girls get off a week depends on the influx of patients. Junior Sally Wistrand is a Candy Striper at the hospital, which means that she assists nurses and comforts patients on a varied schedule without pay. Juniors Jimmy Galey and Corky McAdams work part-time at Galey's Onyx Service Station and fill in with any odd jobs they can pick up. David Kendrick, junior, also finds his work at a service station, as he puts in 12-hour day seven days a week at the Fina station.

Anthony's and Penney's are two department stores which have hired students for the summer. Senior Betty Cain is newly employed at Penney's and Junior David Sanderson holds down a job at Anthony's as floor boy and salesman. Junior Debbie Hunter is employed by Better Cleaners as a general receptionist in the front office.

Recreational facilities provide a good place for summer jobs. Possum Mann, junior, works at Crown Bowl as an all-around employee with varied duties. Mike Moore works mornings and afternoons as lifeguard at the Baker Hotel swimming pool, and Dickie Shimer is also lifeguard at the Country Club pool in the afternoons. Both boys will be juniors this fall. Shirley Vest, junior, is employed at the soda fountain of Colorado Drug.

Senior Bill McGuire works at Rockwell Brothers Lumber Co. Another senior, Melvin Morgan, is employed by the Texas Highway Dept.

Junior Jana Mahon works four hours a day at KVMC radio station, labeling and sorting records and keeping files in order.

Lynne Witten, senior, will be temporarily employed by Craddock-Witten Insurance Co. for two weeks this summer. Lynne will fill in for the regular secretary-receptionist during her vacation.

For some, a summer job is little more than a diversion from out-of-school boredom, a means of earning spending money, and gradual acclimation to the responsibilities, pluses, minuses that a real job involves. For others, it is a serious undertaking — perhaps whatever its basis and regardless of the labor and sad moments spent as freer friends indulge in luxurious, impossible pleasures, summer jobs will always remain a fixation to the season itself. And, that paycheck sure does lift those tired, low feelings fast!

CONVERSATION CORNER

THERE is simply no accounting for the likes people cherish or the dislikes they nourish in stubborn bosoms.

Preferences and antipathies are as varied and as variable as human nature. That, you've got to admit — is pretty variable.

Likes and dislikes start with the first angry yell at birth and stop when a human being closes his eyes for the last time.

TAKE the matter of the menu. There are people in this world who like ketchup on their eggs. Sugar on rice. Salt and pepper on bananas.

There are people who abhor creamed cauliflower, broccoli and green asparagus. Buttermilk. Corn bread. Hot cakes for breakfast. Oatmeal. Peanut butter. Olives. Avocados.

TAKE clothes. There are women who despise flowered prints — whether they're made up into cotton housecoats or a slim silk sheath for Sunday.

There are people who resent socks on any female. (Usually other women who just don't look very cute in 'em, anyhow.) The same goes double for deep-cut sun dresses. And as for summer shorts, oh my!

THERE are people who snoot "As the World Turns" and other people who would not leave the house without watching it.

There are people who cry "Silly" at any or all TV continued daytime dramas, the ones known as "soap-operas." There are other people who dash home at lunch to see if Lisa Hughes is still fooling her ex-ma-in-law.

TAKE the matter of reading — or of reading matter. On a long bus trip once we offered a pretty, but bored looking, girl across the aisle part of our cherished stock of magazines.

"Whatcha got?" she wanted to know. We showed her. A copy each of Look, Time, Saturday Evening Post, Readers Digest, and a New Yorker presented by our ever-lovin' sister Mary.

The girl across the aisle snorted. "Naw," she said, opening a flight bag she had with her. Then she opened a copy of a magazine of her own and began reading a lurid-looking thing called "My Love Was Strong and I Was Weak, or How I Threw Away My Good Name."

TALK is another index to the widely different tastes of human beings.

How is it that apt summary about conversation goes? "Stupid people talk personalities (that is to say talk about other people.) Average people talk events (what's happening somewhere.) Really intelligent people talk ideas."

That may not be the exact quotation but it's near enough, goodness knows.

ALL of which goes to prove — that people are no more alike in what it takes to please — or displease — them than they are in shape, size, age or color of the eyes.

Any preacher, teacher, beauty operator, politician, public official, or small town newspaper editor could tell you fast, "You can please some of the people some of the time." And that's a fair average in any business you care to name.

MRS. HAROLD K. HENDLEY
formerly Miss Donna Jo Percy

Hendley-Percy Nuptials in Candlelight Ceremony

Double-ring vows were read at 8:00 Friday night in the First Methodist Church of Big Spring solemnizing the marriage of Miss Donna Jo Percy and Harold Kellis Hendley.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Percy, Jr., 1408 Princeton, Big Spring. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil H. Hendley of Robert Lee are parents of the groom.

Rev. Darris L. Egger, Minister of the First Methodist Church, Colorado City, performed the candlelight ceremony before an altar flanked with sunburst arrangements of white gladioli and greenery background.

Accompanied by organist Gary Dunnam, Mrs. Jonnie Downey sang wedding music consisting of "Walk Hand in Hand," "Whither Thou Goest," and "A Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a st-length dress of white linen, designed with boat neckline and full bell skirt. Tiny white bows enhanced the waistline. She carried atop a white Bible a bouquet of feathered white carnations centered around a white orchid and tied with white streamers.

Matron of honor was the bride's sister - in - law, Mrs. Clarence Percy 111, who wore a pale green sheath and held a nosegay of white roses and feathered carnations.

Curtis Wayne Higginbotham of Silver was best man. Ushers were Darris L. Egger, Colorado City, and Mike Cottrell, Midland, who also served as altar taper lights.

A reception after the ceremony was held in the church parlor. Refreshments were served from an all-white table marked with a centerpiece of white gladioli and carnations, a silver punch bowl and silver apertures filled with assorted nuts. A three-tiered cake was decorated with confection flowers and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Mrs. J.W. Brigrance, grandmother of the bride, registered guests. Other members of house party included Mrs. Clarence Percy 111, Mrs. Gary Walder, Mrs. E. M. Watkins, and Mrs. J. H. Percy.

Attending from Colorado City were Mr. and Mrs. John Russell and Marilyn, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Moore, Jr., Mrs. Darris L. Egger, Sr. and Lonnie Robertson. Silver guests were Betsy and Jim Palmer. Guests from Robert Lee were Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Jacobs, John, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith.

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, Mrs. Hendley wore a sheath of yellow-linen and white accessories. The bride, a graduate of Big Spring High School, attended Howard County Junior College for two years where she was a cheerleader, president of the Lasso Club, member of HCJC Choir and Drama Club.

The groom was graduated from Colorado High School and attended Howard County Junior College and McMurry College. Mr. and Mrs. Hendley will live in Robert Lee and will when they will attend San Angelo College.

RESEARCH—

Then, noting a poised pencil and a blank expression, he laughed a little. How to talk about space and science using purely unscientific terms was a human mystery not quite solved, Saturday morning.

"Our function," he said finally, "in research is to help the company make more money, to seek ways to improve aluminum production, develop new aluminum products, new uses, new alloys at the same time we are finding ways of reducing production costs and ultimate consumer cost — by using cheaper and better raw materials to make aluminum."

With that, the reporter changed the subject and refreshed her memory by verifying the date of his marriage to the former Miss Mary Hallenbeck of Monett, Mo. in 1948; the ages of his daughter Rhonda, who is 12, his son Randy, 10, and the little daughter Becky, 8 years old.

Dr. and Mrs. Pritchett and their children drove from Spokane to Colorado City and have also visited friends in South Texas, this trip.

B. GRASS—

"The use of Bermudagrass is limited to irrigated land, waterways, overflow areas and/or seep land. The district cooperates in the establishment of bermudagrass should carefully analyze their operations," Sheppard pointed out.

Sheppard listed these suggestions for establishment of irrigated pasture:

Balance the planned acres of irrigated pasture with the amount of water available during the peak use during the summer. A good rule of thumb is 10 gallons per minute for each acre of land to be irrigated.

Develop your plans to secure a given amount of production. This is a must and each landowner should carefully consider how many pounds of beef or mutton that he plans to produce; then balance your level of management to obtain this production.

Rotation of watering, fertilizing, and grazing is a must in irrigated pastures. Pastures must be divided into 2, 3, or more pastures to allow the grazing of part of the grass, moving the livestock, watering and allowing the pasture to rest to recover from the heavy grazing and trampling of livestock.

Fertilizing is also a must. The rates and dates of fertilizers should be applied according to the needs as shown by a soil analysis and a day by day visual analysis of the vegetative growth of grass.

Assistance is available to landowners and operators to fully consider how many plan and to establish irrigated pastures through the Mitchell County Soil Conservation District, the County Agent, the Agriculture Conservation Program, and the Great Plains Conservation Program.

McMurry's Band & Twirl Class Opens

Colorado City band students from the sixth grade through high-school may still apply for McMurry Summer Band and Twirling School, Colorado High band director Dwight Tomb reports.

Contrary to what is stated in the school's literature, the youngsters need not have their band director's recommendation in order to apply or to be accepted. Since Tomb is to be an instructor and member of the band school's staff, recommendation is unnecessary.

McMurry Band and Twirling School operates for a two-week session from July 14 to July 27 and features recognized, professional instructors.
