BEAUTY AND THE BEAST — Giant crab, that is, the bikini-clad Jerry Shelden advertise Rockport's first annual SeaFair Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 11 and 12.

A first-ever crab running race will be one of the features of the marine-oriented community celebration. There also will be a gumbo cook-off, street parade and boat parade, ski show and continuous entertainment at the downtown waterfront site of the festival.

Focal point of activity will be a colorful collection of booths where almost every variety of seafood will be prepared and sold. Other booths will house an art show and displays of craft work, as well as the newest in resort and sports equipment.

The street parade will start at 11 a.m. Saturday, and booths will be open both days from noon until 6 p.m. —Photo by Winthrop.

Airport Volume Shows Big Gain

Activities at Aransas County Airport are now three times as great as they were when his organization took over operation and management of the facility last April. Linwood Bland told the Rockport Rotary

Texas Air Tour Here

The 27th annual All Texas Air Tour landed at Aransas County Airport Monday where the fliers were greeted by Chamber members. Bill Janacek, chairman of the Red Carpet Committee, had arranged transportation for the group to the Sea Gun Restaurant where they enjoyed a leisurely lunch.

The Air Tour's annual mass flights are planned to stimulate the community interest and appreciation for their local airport facilities and to help impress upon the citizens the use and potential of air transportation. There were 138 members and 66 planes in this year's tour. The group will visit different airports over Texas through Oct. 11.

The Chamber of Commerce wishes to express its appreciation and thanks to airport manager, Linwood Bland, and his men for their efficient handling of the landings and take-offs; to Sea Gun Restaurant for the delicious meal; and to all who furnished their automobiles. Acting as drivers were Don and Clyda Milks, Doris King, Iris Jenkins, Judy Meyer, Linda Smith, Peggy Block, Cliff Brown, Curtis Goodman, Bill Janacek and Loyce Landrum.

SOCIAL SECURITY REPRESENTATIVE TO VISIT ROCKPORT

A representative of the Social Security Administration will be at the Courthouse in Rockport on Tuesday, Oct. 14, at 9:00 a.m.

club at its luncheon meeting Oct. 1 at Sandollar restaurant. He said further expansion of facilities are planned, including construction of more individual hangars. All available at present are occupied and the large hangar recently completed is more than half full already.

Bland asserted that their repair facilities are so complete that an airplane can be rebuilt from the ground up, including all electronic installations. There are now 11 full-time employees at the airport. Five of them have been local residents and the other six are highly skilled individuals brought here from outside areas. However, all of them are now making their homes here. All mechanics are licensed and are subject to annual re-examinations.

He pointed out that the local

Bicentennial Plans Made

Details of a public ceremony at which this community will be presented a Bicentennial flag and a parchment certificate officially designating Rockport a Bicentennial community were worked out at a meeting of the Rockport Bicentennial Commission Tuesday night at Little Bay Professional Building.

The ceremony, to be staged at the south end of the Ski Basin in Navigation Park, will take place at the conclusion of the SeaFair street parade next Saturday morning, probably shortly after noon.

The flag and certificate, granted by the American Revolution Bicentennial Commission in Washington, will be presented in person by James Phillips, assistant director of the Texas Bicentennial Commission.

Participating in flag-raising ceremony which will follow the presentation will be the Rockport-Fulton High School Band, the Navy Southwest Armada Band, Coast Guard color guard, VFW color guard and local Scouts who will be responsible for raising the flags.

First, the Stars and Stripes will be raised on the center flagpole, followed by the flag of

SeaFair Festival Expected To Attract Thousands Here

Rockport's two-day SeaFair is scheduled to get under way with a parade through downtown streets starting at 11 a.m. next Saturday. There will follow a program of almost continuous entertainment with the main events centered around a collection of almost 100 gaily decorated booths in Navigation Park just south of the Municipal Ski Basin.

Two events which are expected to attract state-wide attention are a Gumbo cook-off all Saturday afternoon and a crab running race at 6 p.m. Saturday. So far as is known never before has there been a crab race. Other entertainment features will be four ski shows by professional skiers, four retriever dog shows, Coast Guard rescue demonstrations, boat parade, sailing regatta on Aransas Bay, street dance Saturday night and almost continuous musical entertainment at the show grounds throughout the festival, including performances by three musical groups from the Corpus Christi Naval Air Station.

All elements of SeaFair are directed toward emphasizing the sea-related nature of this area's economy and recreational activities. Further, SeaFair was deliberately scheduled for that period between the local summer tourist season and the winter season to spread the word about Rockport's many attractions.

Booths and the show grounds will be decorated so as to stress the marine-related nature of the festival. Also, patriotic colors will be used throughout in view of the fact that SeaFair has been designated a major Bicentennial event. Emphasizing this aspect of the civic celebration will be a ceremony at the conclusion of the street parade Saturday when an official Bicentennial flag and certificate will be presented to the community. This is expected to take place about 1 p.m.

The parade will form on Church Street south of the post office at 10:30 a.m. Line of march will be east on Market Street, north on Austin Street

Band Booster Candy Sale

The Band Booster Club and the bands of Rockport Fulton Senior and Junior High Schools began their two week candy sale on Wednesday, October 8.

Band students will be competing for sales prizes and hopefully every family in the area will be contacted to buy candy, thereby supporting our fine students in their band program.

For the first time a larger selection of quality candies will be offered the buyer with individual treats such as chocolate almond bars, mint candy, pecan rolls, almond clusters, and crunch bars.

Stock up on candy treats for Halloween and Christmas giving (and enjoying) and boost these student band members in their activities.

The Band Booster Club will sponsor a float in the SeaFair parade on Saturday morning October 11, at 11 o'clock. The float theme will celebrate our country's bicentennial birthday.

The Band Boosters will also have a band candy booth at the SeaFair grounds. Join in the fun and help preserve the 200 year old tradition of helping our children in their worthwhile activities.

POSTAL SERVICE IMPROVEMENT SET

The U.S. Postal Service first-class mail service improvement program will go into effect at the Rockport Post Office on October 11, Postmaster Maynard Rowan said today.

Under the program, first-class mail will receive service that is equal to airmail.

The new service step will extend to all first-class mail weighing 13 ounces or less. "In practical terms, what this service improvement means is that domestic first-class postage now will purchase the level of service that previously only airmail could buy," said Postmaster Rowan.

"Under the new program, there no longer will be an advantage in purchasing airmail postage for domestic delivery," he said.

Priority mail (now starting at weight in excess of 13 ounces), which includes air parcel service, and international airmail are not affected by the improvement program and these will continue in their present form.

Airmail stamps will be sold for use on priority and international airmail. They can also be used in various combinations with other stamps for first-class mail.

Rowan also said that customers can exchange airmail stamps and stamped envelopes and cards at full postage value for ordinary stamps, stamped envelopes and cards. Stationery bearing airmail indicia will be allowed to be mailed at the first-class rate.

County Commissioners Not To Rehire Computer Operator

County Commissioners on Oct. 1 voted not to rehire M.A. Cage of Corpus Christi who runs the tax rolls on a computer system, after his present contract expires.

The action came after County Judge John D. Wendell told the commissioners that Cage declined to let the county purchase his contract which has a year to run.

Wendell said the county wanted to purchase the contract since commissioners felt they could get the same job done cheaper. The county has been paying Cage 45 cents for each tax listed on a computer printout.

Wendell said a Houston firm has promised to do the same thing for 25 cents.

Cage, according to a letter sent to commissioners, made a counter offer on the contract purchase. He offered to reduce the charge from 45 to 40 cents but wanted a two-year extension on his contract.

He wrote there would be no additional charge if the county and school district consolidate their collection rolls.

Cage argued against the change, saying that it would be a mistake to abandon a new geographical tax roll and coding system after work had gone into it.

Wendell said that an amend-

The film was followed by a question and answer session.

Yard of the Month Award

October "Yard of the Month" was awarded to Dr. and Mrs. J. Martin Shaw of 1607 Sorenson by the Rockport Home and Garden Club.

Mrs. Shaw is the gardener of the family and planned the front yard for easy maintenance and used plants that compliment the Spanish design of the house. The enclosed courtyard creates an inviting entry and is planted with banana trees, natal plum, variegated pittosporum, confederate jasmine, fig leaf ivy, hibiscus and a Don Juan rose. A hanging basket of purple wandering Jew and pots of night blooming jasmine and chrysanthemums add color to this area.

Foundation plantings along the front of the house and garage include soft yucca, pampas grass, bougainvillea, Japanese yew, boxwood, Indian hawthorn and monkey grass. The retama and palm trees and the century plant in the front yard are in keeping with the Spanish design.

A Chinese elm tree with a hanging basket of spengeri fern is growing in the center of the patio in the back yard and is surrounded by a bed of Boston fern. Climbing philodendron, Mexican mock orange, shell ginger, a banana tree, trellised confederate jasmine, a potted hibiscus and a potted South American alameda, Mrs. Shaw's favorite plant, complete the patio plantings.

Landscaping in the backyard was designed for full-time use by the three active Shaw boys with a long grassy area left free of trees and flower beds. Confederate jasmine has been started along the privacy fence across the back. Oleanders and bamboo form a hedge at one end of the yard with a corner bed of buford holly, philodendron, shell ginger and a banana tree.

A bed along the back of the house is planted with canna lilies, liriope, climbing philodendron, ginger lilies, umbrella grass, river fern and an avocado tree.

This yard is well planned for easy care and maximum enjoyment of outdoor areas.

The Rockport Home and Garden Club gives the yard of the month award each month for a well maintained yard. Anyone is eligible to win and nominations may be submitted to Mrs. A.C. Hamon, Box 1093, Rockport.

Realtors Meet Here Oct. 8

Realtors from this area will meet with members of 14 other South Texas boards in Rockport's Sandollar Hotel, Wednesday, Oct. 8, for a Texas Association of Realtors regional session. It was announced this week by Bob Fowler of Brownsville, TAR regional vice president.

Fowler said that the main focus would be on legislation, current and future, which would relate to real estate practices and on new sales techniques as developed by John Grogan. Grogan, who will take up the morning session with his lecture, gives over 200 sales seminars annually and teaches in four states' Realtor Institutes. Julio S. Laguarda of Houston, TAR president, will be there to speak at the luncheon, and Frank Nix of Waco, incoming president, will talk on the Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act, following lunch.

Mrs. Jo Barkley, president of the Aransas-San Patricio Board of Realtors, will join Fowler in welcoming the dignitaries to Rockport.

Decker McKim, past president of the Bay Area Board of Realtors, George Wagner, 1975 president of the Houston board, and Gerhardt Schulle, Jr., TAR director of governmental affairs, will form a legislative panel, answering questions after their brief talks on legislation and political actions.

E.W. Luedtke of Austin, TAR executive vice president, will give a talk, outlining coming TAR Institute events and about the National Association of Realtors convention in November in San Francisco.

TAR's caravan of speakers will be in Brownsville Friday, Oct. 10 for the final regional meeting of 1975. The association designed the regional meetings, 13 in number, in order to bring a convention-type program closer to the hometowns of its 30,000 members. This is the second year of this program, which was doubled this year.

Various civic organizations will operate about a dozen booths where sea food of almost every variety will be sold. Nearby coffee, beer and soft drinks will be sold. Also, there will be a large tent equipped with tables, chairs and many varieties of sauces for sea food. The Rockport Art Association is putting on an art show featuring marine and seashore scenes there. Other booths will be devoted to manufacturing and displaying marine-oriented crafts. Various state and federal agencies will have booths to illustrate activities especially related to this area. In addition, there will be commercial exhibits of the newest in equipment used for fishing and boating and other resort activities.

ment to the state constitution, if approved, would solve the whole problem. Wendell said the amendment would consolidate the tax assessing office of counties under 10,000 population. This would cover Aransas County.

Under the amendment, the state would set statewide market values and a five-man board would be appointed locally as a taxing authority.

Commissioners also voted to discontinue support for the local law library after Jan. 1.

To do this, the commissioners had to rescind an order that tacked a $5 fee on to all district and county court civil cases. The fee is used to buy books for the library.

Wendell said he didn't think it is fair for taxpayers to support a library for lawyers who make $40 to $50 an hour. The commissioners agreed with Wendell but agreed to continue the support to Jan. 1.

The commissioners also voted to increase the pay for persons serving as jurors. The amount was increased from $4 to $5 a day. Commissioners said it still wasn't enough.

Mr. and Mrs. Merv Sours have returned home following a two-week visit with their granddaughter, Mrs. Sue Wolter, and her husband, John, in Osceola, Wis.

Texas and the Bicentennial flag on the two outer halyards. The bands will play "The Star Spangled Banner," "America the Beautiful," and "Texas, My Texas" as the flags are raised.

At the Tuesday night meeting of the Bicentennial Commission, Ardath Rogers, co-chairman of the Commission, reported on local Bicentennial events that have already taken place, including a July 4th Sunfish Sailing Regatta, a Bicentennial tennis tournament the same month and a Bicentennial related flight of planes from all over Texas to Rockport. Also mentioned was the painting of the Chamber of Commerce building, band shell and downtown water hydrants in national colors. She added that the upcoming SeaFair was the biggest Bicentennial event of all.

Because of the number and complexity of Bicentennial events foreseen for the Bicentennial year, Mrs. Rogers has developed a Bicentennial calendar in book form in which it is hoped to register and describe with words and pictures all Bicentennial happenings in this area until the end of the year next July. This will help avoid confusion and conflict of various events. At the same time it will provide a permanent record of the Bicentennial year in the Rockport community, she said.

After leading a discussion of plans for the Bicentennial flag and certificate presentation next Saturday, Dr. Jerry Shaw, chairman of the local Commission, asked for progress reports from representatives of various clubs and other organizations.

From the Woman's Club of Aransas County it was reported that a formal request has been made for a metal marker to be mounted on a large boulder and placed on the site of the first meat tannery in this area. The request was accompanied by the required supporting historical evidence and the required cash to pay for the marker. The site is located to the west of Fulton Harbor where remnants of the building's shell concrete foundation is still visible.

Local Girl Scouts are working on historical skits and plan to present them when they hold open house early next year after rehabilitation of their building has been completed.

The American Association of Retired Persons will sell tickets on a Bicentennial bed quilt at SeaFair. The quilt was made Mrs. Della Scott and presented to the association.

Festival U.S.A. committee has obtained a quantity of American flags and bunting which is available for use at any Bicentennial event. This material will be used this week for decorations at SeaFair. Also available to advertise Bicentennial events is Rotary Club's mobile billboard. The club's growing shelf of books about the early years of the Republic is now in place at Aransas County Library. The books are bought with birthday contributions from club members.

Cone Honored

George S. Cone, Jr., president of Live Oak State Bank, has been appointed to the Lower Rio Grande Valley District Advisory Council of the Small Business Administration. The appointment was made by Thomas S. Kleppe, administrator of the Small Business Administration, Washington, D.C.

airport is one of the finest in the country, much superior to most installations near cities much larger than Rockport.

The airport has three runways, the longest of which is 5,600 feet and lighted for night operations. Also, the airport has two instrument landing systems in operation, all take-offs are radar-controlled through the Houston Air Center. The field is capable of handling almost all types of planes up to DC 6's, according to Bland.

In addition to operating the county-owned airport, Bland's firm operates a flying school, sales agency for Cessna planes, charter service and plane rental service. Planes available for charter vary from those with a three-passenger capacity to pressurized planes that carry six passengers in addition to the pilot.

Bland explained that while the public usually thinks of general aviation as occupied largely with pleasure flying, the facts are that this type of flying accounts for only about 5 per cent of the volume. Most of it is concerned with business and industry. He added that this type of flying is growing rapidly, and contrary to the current trend in the automotive field, the aviation industry is healthy and growing. He explained that general aviation includes all flying not involving scheduled airlines and the military.

Bland said there was a higher proportion of private and pleasure flying in and out of Aransas County Airport than at most such fields. However, he added, there is a large volume of business flying, especially among oil companies that have offshore drilling operations.

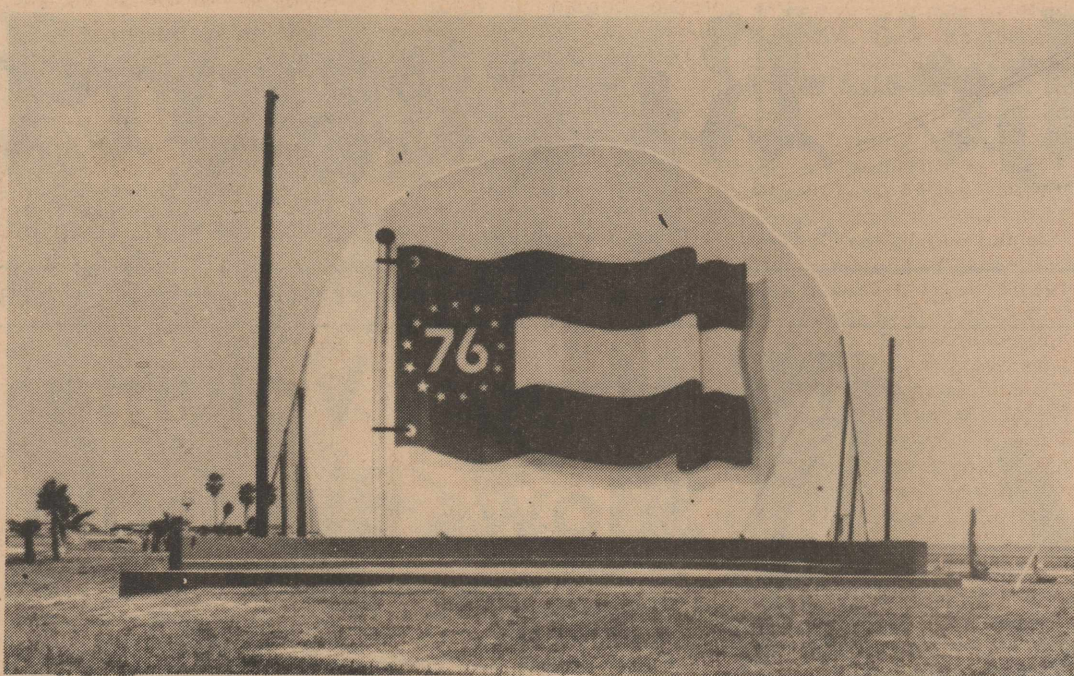

He said Aransas County Airport now is fully self-sustaining if the cost of the land involved is not considered, adding that this was acquired from the federal government after World War II when the airport was an important auxiliary military airport.

Plans and problems of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation, formerly known as the Texas Highway Department, were discussed by James Johnson, the department's resident engineer stationed in Sinton, and James Opiela, resident engineer at Corpus Christi, at a luncheon meeting of Rotary Club Sept. 24.

The department now operates on a budget of $750 million a year of which $180 million comes from federal funds. Of the total, $360 million is designated for maintenance, $14 million for public transportation and $900 thousand for the department's newly assigned responsibility for environmental aspects of the Intracoastal waterway. Johnson said that the last named area of the department's responsibility is so new that little is known of the extent of involvement in the waterway program.

As to public transportation, Johnson said the department has authority from the state legislature to spend 60 per cent of the $14 million in cities of more than 200 thousand and the remainder in cities of 5 thousand to 200 thousand.

He pointed out that adequate funding of highway department projects has become a serious problem because of reduced income from the state's 5 cent gasoline tax, due to reduced speeds and apparent decline in automobile travel as well as possible reduction of funds received from the federal government. These factors, together with inflation, indicate that by 1980 the state will have only enough money to maintain highways with nothing available for new construction, assuming that the income from state and federal sources remain unchanged or are reduced and inflation continues at its present rate.

The proceeds will be used to purchase equipment for the Fulton Volunteer Fire Department. Everyone is invited to come out and enjoy the fun and help the fire department.

Johnson said the administration has proposed that two cents of the federal four cents per gallon tax on gasoline be diverted to the general fund, adding that such action would deprive Texas of some $9 million a year in highway funds.

Opiela, who is in charge of highway construction in this area including Aransas County, reported actual construction on relocating highway 35 is not imminent and that first construction will be on a highway exchange at Gregory. He added that right-of-way has yet to be acquired by the state. This is estimated to cost about $750 thousand.

He also reported that rebuilding of 15 miles of Route 35 north of Rockport is almost finished. He said that highway plans for the distant future include a second causeway across Copano Bay.

Presbyterian Women Meet

Circle 3 served coffee, doughnuts and cookies before the meeting of the Women of the Presbyterian Church on Oct. 2. The meeting was called to order with a prayer by the president, Mrs. Van Morgan.

Alice Morrison gave a devotional taken from "I've Got to Talk to Somebody, God" by Marjoria Holmes. There were 16 members present and two visitors—Rev. John Bradshaw and Mrs. Winnifred Morrison, sister-in-law of Alice.

The new Circle chairmen were introduced—Mrs. Ozella Schleider for Circle #1, Mrs. Marge Hight for Circle #2 and Mrs. Lou Dick for Circle #3. Elizabeth Try will have charge of flower committee for the year and Mrs. Jack Smith and Mrs. Alma Ratliff will have charge of food for bereaved families.

The secretary read the minutes of the last meeting which were approved. Treasurer gave her yearly report.

Committee reports: Alice Morrison, as chairman of personal faith, will be responsible for a devotion for each WOC meeting. Mrs. Loraine Winkler, as chairman of ecumenical missions, reports that about 25 lap robes had been completed, more squares need to be cut and 10 yds. of flannellette had been purchased to back some of the robes. She called for more people to help cut squares and sew on sewing day, the third Thursday of each month. The women will continue collecting stamps (about 720# of food had been purchased from what has been turned in) and Campbell soup labels also will still be collected for audio-visuals.

Projects were discussed—one of them being the combination cooling and heating fans needed for some of the rooms. It was decided to purchase one and try it out. Each circle could contribute towards it. Instead of curtains for the room above the sanctuary, it was decided to put up a ruffle around the windows as the class has put up pictures covering the windows so it won't be necessary to cover them.

Yearly circle reports were read and Least Coin Fellowship money was dedicated by representatives of each circle being led by Mrs. Fannie Atwood giving the dedication.

The budget was discussed and changed and approved. The installation of Women of the Church is to be at the morning worship service on Oct. 19.

The Family Church Night supper this month will be on October 15 and the Senior High Young People are serving a bar-b-q supper for $2.00 a plate to help aid in their work.

Next meeting will be on November 6 at 9:30 a.m. —Dorothy Morrison, Sec.

Sinton Beats RFHS 44-15

The Rockport-Fulton Pirates started out like gangbusters in the opening minutes against Sinton only to fall to the speedy Pirates of Sinton 44-15 before a home crowd last Friday night.

The Pirates of Rockport-Fulton scored first in the game when cornerback Jay Watkins recovered a loose Sinton fumble to give Rockport possession on the Rockport 26-yard line. The R-F Pirates put together an eleven play drive with quarterback sprinting out for the score from two yards out. Dickie Ballou tacked on the extra point to give Rockport a 7-0 lead.

Sinton got on the scoreboard three times in the second quarter via one long drive, one Rockport-Fulton fumble, and a blocked punt. Sinton led 21-7 at the half.

The local Pirates coughed up two more fumbles which resulted in Sinton scores in the third period, and Sinton led 30-7.

Sinton added another TD in the fourth quarter as their second unit clicked for 66 yards and a score in nine plays.

Rockport-Fulton Pirates' offense got on track one last time in the fourth period as Gillis again skirted his right end to score from 8 yards out. Gillis then pitched a two pointer to Watkins to put the score at 37-15. The Pirates got the ball on a recovery by Jerry Hutson. Sinton added their last score late in the fourth period.

Linebacker John Picton was the team leader in tackles for the local Pirates with 13. Reagan Lee and Jay Watkins each added 10 tackles.

We've been thinking of giving navigation lessons to our customers.

Don't laugh. We're that hard to find. Just follow directions and use your eyes. We're behind the big oak tree in Rockport at Highway 35 and Market Street. Not so tough, huh? But just try and find us. Most do. But some don't, then call up and ask, "which oak tree?" We reply, "the big one." They say, "oh." And usually in about five minutes, we have a new customer. "It was tough," most of them say. "We'll make it up to you," we smile back. And we do. Find us and find out for yourself.

LIBRARY RECEIVES BICENTENNIAL BOOKS

A special Bicentennial book shelf has been set up at Aransas County Library to accommodate the new books on American history and events related to the early days of the Republic.

This has been made possible by contributions from members of Rockport Rotary Club on their birthdays. Birthday giving has been in operation with Rotary for a number of years, and the club requested the library to use the money for this special purpose during the Bicentennial year.

Seven such books already have been purchased and it is estimated that more than 30 will be in the Centennial shelf by the end of the nation's birthday year.

Titles of books already purchased include "Swords and Blades of the American Revolution," "Almanac of Liberty," "A Guide to Old American Houses 1700-1900," "Book of the Continental Soldier," "American Castles," "The Minute Men" and "Courage and Candlelight."

Rotarians whose birthday gifts to the library so far during the Bicentennial year are making this special collection possible include Tom Rogers, Joe Hugenberg, John P. Mitchell, Jr., Gerald Ladner, Dr. Jerry Shaw, D.H. Roberts, Dr. Ron Levy, Joe Lister, Fred Bracht, Sr., Ray Cleveland, Dr. Michael Shellenberger and Arlo Hansen.

Also Vernon Kleypas, James H. Sorenson, Jr., Bill Janeczek, Bill Schmidt, Bill Christian, Theil Sparpe, Weldon Cabanis, Fred Brundrett, Raulie Irwin, Steve Mahnke and Don Milks.

Pirate Frosh Win 22-14

With only four seconds remaining on the clock, quarterback Gilbert Flores passed to Charlie McLead for a touchdown to beat Sinton 22-14.

After a scoreless first period, linebacker Joe Brooks pounced on a Sinton fumble to give the Pirates possession on the Sinton 34. Five plays later Algie Simmons bulled over from nine yards out to give the Pirates the lead at 6-0.

Sinton came back to take the lead 7-6 on a pass play, and then scored another time after the Pirates fumbled deep in their own territory. Sinton led 14-6.

At the beginning of the fourth period the Pirates put together a long drive with Simmons bolting for a 22-yard TD, and Simmons added the run after to knot the score at 14-14.

Then the stage was set for the last play of the game. The final TD pass was set up after Flores, subbing for Lawrence Miculka late in the game, passed to Roy Rivera who made an incredible catch on the Sinton 13-yard line - the pass covered 24 yards.

At times the Pirates were sparkling on defense. Brooks was the leading tackler for the day with 13, plus intercepting a pass and recovering the fumble. Dewayne Harrison and Rudy Samora shared the runner-up spot with nine tackles; Harrison made most of his tackles in the Sinton backfield, while Samora was making his in the open field.

This Thursday the Freshmen will play Aransas Pass at home in Pirate stadium.

Sinton Stops JV 20-8

Sinton took advantage of Pirate mistakes to pin a loss on the Rockport-Fulton JV in Sinton last week by a score of 20-8.

Sinton scored twice in the first half to lead at the half 14-0. A high snap on a punt and poor pass defense allowed the Sinton team easy scores.

In the second half the Pirates took the opening possession and marched the ball down the field for a score with fullback Ricky Garcia plunging over for the final yard. Charlie Edler from his quarterback position passed to tight end Doug McKibbin for the two points after to reduce the score to 14-8.

Sinton recovered a fumble and then passed through the leaky defense of the Pirates for their final score.

The Pirates threatened numerous times, but little nagging five-yard penalties or missed blocks kept them from ever crossing the goal line again.

Offensively for the day, Edler led all runners with 123 yards in 19 tries, Garcia added 62 yards in 15 tries, and Danny Brooks contributed 40 yards on six attempts.

On defense Bob Smith collected 15 assists and four unassisted tackles to lead the team. Jeff Janacek, playing his strongest game by far, had 8 individual tackles and 5 assists. Bill Adams, Roland Flores, Gary Heasley and Edler collected eight tackles each.

Prices, it appears, have heard that there's more room at the top.

To encourage wise use of electricity in all-electric homes

CPL offers the ENERGY EFFICIENCY AWARD

A house doesn't use electricity - people do. But unless a home is properly designed and built, unless it is insulated adequately, and unless its major electrical appliances are selected and situated with efficiency in mind, its occupants cannot make the most efficient use of their electric service.

But if you're not an expert, how do you know that all these details have been tended to?

That is the purpose of the Energy Efficiency Award. It tells you that your prospective new all-electric home has been thoroughly checked by a trained technician from CPL and that it meets the rigid EEA standards. It means that if you live in such a home and if you follow CPL's suggestions for using electricity wisely, you are getting the maximum benefit of your electric service.

If you are thinking about buying a newly-constructed home, look for a sign in the yard that says "Energy Efficiency Award." If you are planning to build or remodel, ask your builder, realtor, or designer about it.

For more information on the Energy Efficiency Award and tips on how to make the most efficient use of electricity, drop by your CPL office.

TENNIS TOURNNEY WINNERS NAMED

Tamie Bush and L.D. Crumley won the title in the mixed doubles Hospital Foundation benefit tennis tournament at Key Allegro Tennis Club Sunday afternoon, defeating Betsy Larrey and T.J. Johnson, 6-2 and 7-6. The second set requiring a tie-breaker to determine the winners.

Jackie Riley and Dewey Lingo won the consolation division of the tournament, defeating Anita Dingemary and Bill Janeczek, 6-1 and 6-2 in the final match.

Finals in the two divisions completed a full day of tennis, starting at 8 a.m. with preliminary matches being played at Rockport Racquet Club and Key Allegro Club. Willie Rinche, Key Allegro professional, with the assistance of Jim Wideman, supervised the tournament.

In addition to the winners and runners-up in the two divisions, the following played in the tournament:

Medals were awarded winners and runners-up in both divisions at a barbecue dinner at Key Allegro Community House following the tournament. Rinche presented the awards. Also, tennis merchandise prizes contributed by merchants and individuals were distributed at the dinner.

Money raised by this project also was added to the Hospital Foundation Fund.

Contributions included Winns Variety Store, Western Auto, Hidden Treasures, Sun Fun Shop, George Cone, Net Results Shop and Ron Woods. Food for the dinner was contributed by H.E.B., Super D, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Evers, Mr. and Mrs. Jim White, Sea Gun Restaurant, Corky's Restaurant, were supplied by Betsy Larrey, Edwina Garrison, Pat Kreuger, Jackie Riley, Berdie Cone, Jo Janeczek, Kitty Cleveland and Mae White.

Cone explained that the tennis tournament and the barbecue dinner were planned by the Chamber of Commerce Women's Committee to raise fund for the hospital project. Other money raising plans of the committee include sale of various handicraft items at a SeaFair booth, a Christmas bazaar and a dinner theater.

He asserted the women were determined to obtain some sort of emergency medical facilities for Aransas County, whether a three or four-bed clinic-hospital or an ambulance manned by medical technicians. He added that this type of service was especially essential if this community is to continue to attract retirees. It was announced that a headquarters and workroom for the project has been made available by Clay and Nancy Cook on the first floor of their home at 44 Flamingo. Also, contribution of an interest in an oil lease to raise hospital funds is a possibility, he said.

Ray Cleveland was in charge of the program at the barbecue dinner which attracted approximately 80 tennis players and members of their families.

Repair and rehabilitation is in progress at the Girl Scout Little House on Live Oak Street. Part of the cost will be paid for with funds from the Aransas County Bicentennial United Fund drive which is in progress.

The local Girl Scout group is scheduled to get $500 from the fund and the Paisano Council of Girl Scouts, of which the local Scouts are a participating group, $1,500.

Plumbing at the Rockport building has been repaired, sagging floors are being leveled and reinforced, and wiring repaired. In addition, doors and windows are being repaired and strengthened. Later the Girl Scouts will repair and paint furniture and clean camping equipment.

At present they are assisting in the United Fund campaign by stuffing envelopes with campaign material appealing for funds. This work is underway at the Chamber of Commerce office under the direction of Loyce Landrum, secretary of the Fund organization. The Girl Scouts have assisted with this work for several years.

The Paisano Council provides specialized training courses for local Girl Scout leaders. This year four leaders completed the training course. They are Mrs. Jan Grasso, Mrs. Carol Crawford and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mills.

Mrs. Arlene Munroe, Paisano Council field director, meets regularly with local service team members to assist them with their activities and to help solve problems. Service team director for the Rockport-Fulton area is Miss Elizabeth Whitney who has completed Paisano Council training programs.

At present there are 125 active Girl Scouts in this area, including three Brownie troops of which Mrs. Gladys Tillison, Mrs. Grasso and Mrs. Crawford are leaders. There is one junior troop whose leaders are Mrs. Barbara Jack and Mrs. June Sorenson. In charge of the Cadet troop is Mrs. Mills, while Miss Whitney is Senior troop leader.

In addition to its training and advisory responsibilities, Paisano Council maintains a Girl Scout camp at Green Hill and Scout Houses in several other communities. They are available to all Girl Scouts.

Nursing Home Activities

Monday was begun with our exercises which have become a very nice way to start a day.

Tuesday afternoon the ladies of First Baptist Church of Aransas Pass came out for their big birthday party and game day. These ladies come every month and bring a gift to everyone having a birthday in that month. They serve ice cream and cupcakes to all except the diabetics who are served punch and cookies. This is a great service these ladies render in making our residents

Wednesday morning preceding our exercises the ladies from Central Baptist Church of Ingleside and the Portland Baptist Church were here to present their monthly program of the Bible on Flanagraph board. They also sing hymns and have scripture readings.

Wednesday afternoon Bonnie Fletcher was out for "paint class."

Thursday morning after exercises the Aransas Pass Pentecostal Church ladies, along with their pastor, Bro. Alton Pruitt, were here to present their weekly program in songs and meditations.

Thursday afternoon at 3:00 we started our new program of stereo music in the dining area. I was very pleased that so many of our residents really were looking forward to this type program. They were in the dining room waiting for the records to be put on the stereo. The ladies of First United Methodist Church of Aransas Pass will be very happy to know that their gift of the stereo is really being enjoyed.

Of course, every Thursday, Friday and Saturday are beauty shop days for our ladies. Lois, our faithful beautician, said she might have to come four days a week because we are beginning to have more ladies who want hair done every week.

Saturday afternoon from 3 to 4:30 was again stereo music. I came out and put the albums on and my helpers took care of it for me. I want to thank all my residents who help me so much in making our programs successful.

Sunday morning church services conducted by the Rev. Al Bankert were held.

Sunday afternoon the group from Portland Baptist Church were here for their monthly program. I want to thank Mrs. Mary Crow for the albums she gave to us. Also to the lady who brought us some very nice magazines.

PUBLIC NOTICES

BECAUSE THE PEOPLE MUST KNOW

Editor's Note: Public Notice advertising plays a unique role both in American history and in the process by which this country's democracy is preserved. Its one premise is that people must be informed if they are to govern themselves competently. Public Notice advertising first came into being with the Congress of 1792. That body, recognizing its responsibility to the people, required the Postmaster General to advertise for bids for the construction of new post offices. From that inauspicious beginning to the complex publication requirements of federal, state and local laws today, government officials have come more and more to understand the obligations to inform the public through Public Notice advertising. Newspapers over the years have been the vehicle by which these obligations have been fulfilled. They will continue to be as long as the public demands that it be informed frequently and by the best means possible.

Members attending from Rockport were as follows: Mrs. Margaret Harris, Mrs. Elsie Barton, Mrs. Jane Browning, Mrs. Mamie Ruth Caton, Mrs. Alta Cermin, Mrs. Jane Eller, Mrs. Cepha Jesse, Mrs. Dee Mitchell, Mrs. Sue Randow and Mrs. Maurine Underwood.

36 LOCAL STUDENTS ATTEND S.W.T.S.U.

San Marcos -- Southwest Texas State University's fall, 1975, enrollment is 13,354, up 648 from the previous year's 12,706.

According to computer produced enrollment data, the fall enrollment includes students from 214 Texas counties, 39 states and three foreign countries.

While 60 per cent of the students enrolled come from within a 100-mile radius of the Southwest Texas campus, 27.5 per cent are from three identifiable concentration areas outside the immediate region.

Eighteen per cent (2,455) are from Harris, Galveston, Brazoria, Ford Bend and Montgomery counties. Another 5.5 per cent (735) are from the South Texas counties of San Patricio, Nueces, Hidalgo and Cameron, while 4 per cent (493) are from the Dallas-Tarrant county area.

Bexar County contributes the largest number of SWT students—2,709. Harris County, with 1,974 is second. Travis is third with 1,454.

Statistics indicate that 36 students from Aransas County are attending SWT this fall.

RE-ELECTED DIRECTOR

W.W. Janecek of Rockport was re-elected to the board of directors of the South Texas Chamber of Commerce at the chamber's 49th annual meeting in Laredo Thursday (Oct. 2).

Janecek will continue to have a voice in chamber programs dealing with community and economic development in the 50-county South Texas region.

Gov. Dolph Brisco was the main speaker at the two-day conference, which also heard from Robert V. West, Jr., chairman of the board of Tesoro Petroleum Corp., and Aaron Autry, president of Central Power & Light Co., both on the subject of energy.

During the past year, the South Texas Chamber of Commerce has been active in matters of state government, economic development, community affairs and tourism. This year the chamber published its second "Industrial Guide to South Texas" and the annual "South Texas Vacation Guide."

Interlock Knits Great for Feminine-Looking Fashions

College Station -- Interlock knits—one of today's newest fabrics—help create the popular soft, feminine lightweight fashions, but they require several precautions for success in sewing, Beverly Rhoades, a clothing specialist, says.

"Homeseers can find interlock knits in a wide range of solids and brightly colored heat transfer prints, and they often cost less than similar quality traditional double knits, because the knitting method is mechanically fast, efficient and easy."

Miss Rhoades is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"To identify an interlock knit, look at the cut edge along the width of the fabric. An interlock knit looks the same on both sides, with a back loop opposite each front loop, producing parallel vertical rows of loops," she explained.

"Most pattern styles suitable for soft, lightweight fabrics are appropriate for interlock knits, too. But avoid styles with many small pattern pieces such as yokes or insets," she cautioned.

To sew on interlocks, the specialist recommends using the same general techniques that apply to lightweight double knits—with a few additional safeguards.

"These are necessary because interlocks will run (like nylon hosiery) along the vertical loops in one direction only."

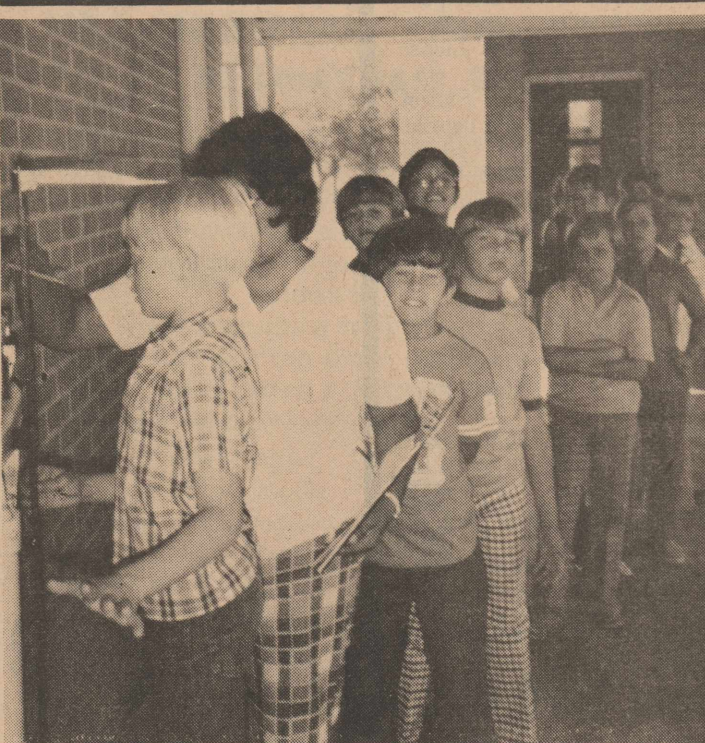

"To identify the direction of the run, gently spread the vertical loops apart at each end, and the problem end will show."

To prevent or check against runs, cut garment pieces—when possible—so that the hem edge is cut along the edge that runs. This way, if a small run starts in the hem allowance, it can be sealed easily with fabric glue or other products designed to prevent fraying.

"When handling the fabric after cutting, do not stretch the fabric along the cut edge that runs. Stay stitch or zig zag to stabilize this cut edge."

"And for best results, use sharp shears and fine, smooth ballpoint pins and machine needles."

The specialist reminded homeseers to handle the fabric gently during construction and when wearing or caring for the garment, because runs may start where yarns of the fabric are broken. But again, fabric sealing products will stop these runs, she said.

The members of the OEA elected a homecoming queen candidate at this meeting. Velma Pina will represent the OEA Club at the homecoming game. Time to Repot House Plants

College Station -- Late summer and early fall is an ideal time to repot house plants, points out a landscape horticulturist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Repotting prepares house plants for the winter season and improves their over-all performance," says Everett Janne.

Use of a good soil mix gets the repotting process off to a good start. Such a mix may be made by mixing two parts each of garden loam and peat moss and one part of sand. Well-rotted manure or shredded leaf mold may be substituted for the peat moss.

"Garden soil alone is seldom suitable for potting plants because it is usually too low in organic matter," notes the Texas A&M University System specialist. "A good soil mixture provides the three things most needed by potted plants—support, good soil aeration, and ability to hold adequate moisture and nutrients."

Janne recommends pasteurizing the soil mixture to kill disease organisms, insects and weed seeds. This can be done by putting the soil mixture in a shallow pan and placing it in a preheated oven at 200 degrees F. for 30 minutes. The soil should be moist but not wet before placing it in the oven.

"As soon as the soil cools, use it to pot new plants or reset old ones. Always use clean tools and new pots or you will infect the soil with harmful organisms. Sterilize used clay pots the same as the soil, and wash plastic pots thoroughly in hot soapy water," advises Janne.

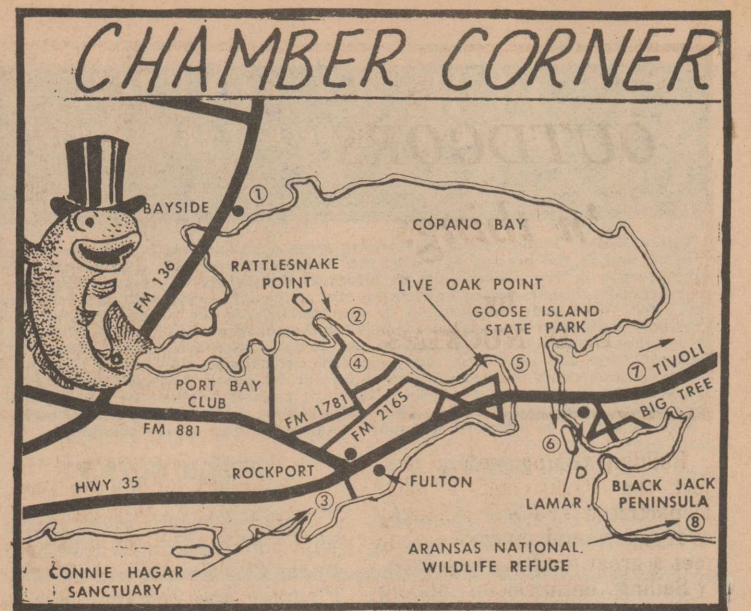

A simpler and much easier way to handle pot plants in the home is to purchase the prepared mixes available in your nursery or garden supply center, he adds.

Good Reason

The mental patient walked up to the new superintendent. "We like you much better than we did the last fellow," he said.

The new official beamed. "Why?" he asked. "Oh, you seem more like one of us."

Trading or home is a good policy; every dollar spent here has a chance to come back to you.

The word SeaFair has shot all over Texas and letters and long distance calls have been received by Chamber personnel regarding this two day celebration. Ads in city newspapers, billboards along the highways, and radio broadcasts have all added to the curiosity and mystery of this event.

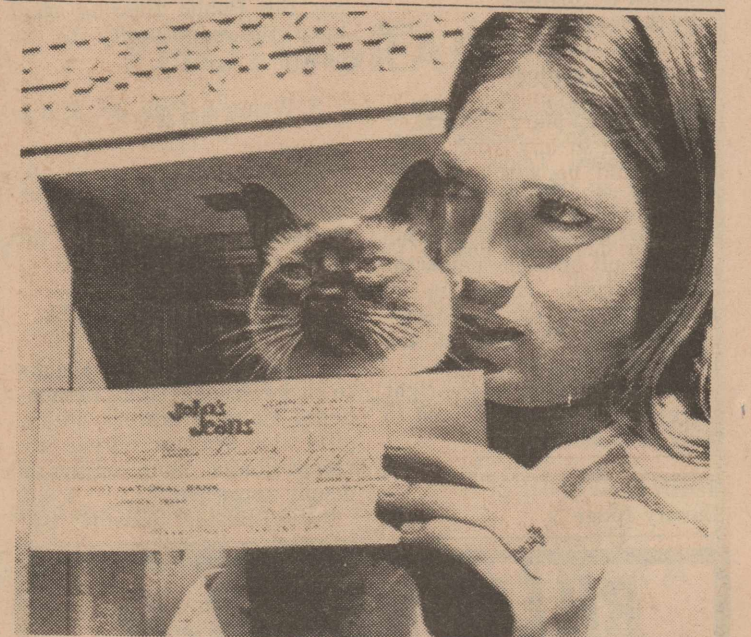

Additional news stories and advertising will run throughout this week. Bill Walraven, writer of human interest stories for the Corpus Christi Caller, was in the office last week getting a story about the gumbo cook-off.

Several Chamber members were at the airport Monday, October 6, to greet the All Texas Air Tour Group, and provide transportation to Sea Gun Restaurant for lunch.

A wonderful time was had by all who played in the tennis tournament Sunday and those who attended the barbecue at Key Allegro Community Building. Chamber Woman's Committee sponsored this tournament and barbecue to raise funds for Hospital Foundation. This group of women are hard workers and have done a bang up job of promoting and working for this cause.

Newest Chamber members are Stevoro's, owned and operated by Steve Rosich; Ellison Yachting Corp., owned by Allen R. Franks; Mr. and Mrs. W.E. Blackshare; and Mr. and Mrs. H.C. Cook.

KURT THE CAT CASHES IN after his owner, Debra Cranford of Lubbock, Texas, sued for prize money the cat had won. Kurt's name was drawn as first place winner in a lottery sponsored by a local clothing store. When the store refused to pay, Miss Cranford took them to court — and Kurt won.

Building fishing reefs, a project the Parks and Wildlife Department (P&WD) thought everyone would approve of, has met a great deal of resistance.

Sailing enthusiasts, all up and down the Texas Coast, have protested a P&WD plan to build fishing reefs in the bays. They claim that this would interfere with the operation of their relatively deep-draft boats.

E.G. Simmons, director of coastal fisheries operations P&WD, said that, in most cases, the protesters didn't understand just exactly what was planned. He said that if they did understand he didn't believe they would have any objections.

Building the fishing reefs is a part of the new coastal fisheries plan that was recently approved by the P&W Commission. Biologists propose to build reefs out of oyster shell and/or old automobile tires in order to concentrate game fish in an area that is easy to reach by the fisherman, especially the fisherman with no boat.

They plan to build reefs near shore, near piers, off state parks, and in any other place that would be within casting distance of a place that was convenient for the fisherman. The plans do not call for reefs to be built in the deep waters of the bays or in any channel or waterway that might be regularly used by boats.

In addition to these reefs, the P&WD plans to mark and identify many of the existing natural reefs. At the present time it is difficult for the fisherman, unless he is thoroughly familiar with the bays, to locate himself on the water, even if he has a good, reliable chart. When the reefs are marked the department plans to distribute such charts free of charge to the fishing public.

In order to mark the reefs with something that will stay in place for long periods of time and still not be a hazard to navigation, the biologists plan to use large flexible plastic pipe. If a boat ran into such a marker it would just bounce off unharmed, but the non-corrosive, weather-resistant pipe would stay in place a long time when "jetted" deep into the bay bottom.

In the past the P&WD has marked reefs with buoys, but had great difficulty keeping them in place. If someone didn't cut the anchor chain and carry the buoy home, the anchor chain would break from corrosion and the buoy would drift away.

Simmons said that lack of understanding by sailing interests would probably cause the department to have to hold a series of public hearings in coastal cities.

Castaways Helps Many

There is a location in Rockport where you may take your cast-off items called the Castaways, located at 1001 Concho, at the corner of Concho and Magnolia Streets, across from the rear of HEB food store. This is sponsored by the Christian Women of Aransas County.

Discarded items such as children and adult clothing, dishes, pots, pans, curtains, drapes, glasses (jelly or drinking ones), small electric appliances, toasters, can openers, fishing equipment and hand tools are sold.

No clothing can be placed on consignment, however, other items such as tools and electrical appliances and miscellaneous items can be sold and you receive 80 per cent and the Castaways will receive 20 per cent when sold.

The workers are volunteers from Rockport and Fulton who give 2 hours of their time each week, from 9 to 11 a.m., to work in the store Monday through Saturday. This is a worthy cause and you will receive the satisfaction of helping those less fortunate.

Worthy organizations are helped by the proceeds of the Castaways. Some of them are Council on Aging of Aransas County, St. Vincent DePaul and the Concern Center.

There is a bulletin board to advertise larger items for sale or give-away. If anyone is interested in giving of their time for this worthy cause please call Mrs. Hall, 729-7808 or Mrs. Huffmeyer, Sr., 729-2822. They will be glad to assign hours at your convenience, so volunteer your time.

Library News

Mrs. A.C. Hamon, librarian, will attend a Bicentennial workshop at the Greenwood Branch Public Library in Corpus Christi, Oct. 10 and the District IV meeting in Beeville on October 11.

"Plant a Tree" by Michael A. Weiner has been added to the book collection. "Plant a Tree" contains practical suggestions for greening America and facts to stimulate your enthusiasm: 1 acre of trees supplies 4 tons of oxygen a year, enough for 18 people; plus numerous other facts.

Mrs. F.N. Smith entertained the children at Story Hour with selections from Uncle Remus: Tar Baby and Brer Fox and the Goober Patch. Some 22 children and 3 adults attended this event. The library thanks Mrs. Smith for this service to the community.

Peter Bruegel—Painter of Peasant Life

Most of the important statistics in the life of Peter Bruegel are unclear, having been put together from bits and pieces of information and records, and a chapter in Schilderboek by Carel van Mander which was published in 1604.

Bruegel was born about 1526, probably in one of the towns whose name he adopted as a surname (a common practice among peasants at the time). The Campine—a region common to Holland and Belgium—has been determined as the general area of his birth and rearing. It is known that he was apprenticed to Mannerist painter Pieter Coeck van Aelst whose daughter, Maryken, he later married and that he was accepted as a free master in the painter's guild in Antwerp in 1551. Bruegel traveled to Italy, as did many Flemish painters who were aware of the Italianate trend in painting, going as far as Sicily and returning to Rome in 1553.

When he returned to his homeland, he worked for the renowned Antwerp publisher Hieronymus Cock, designing for engravings, an experience that seemed to help him achieve a definite style. His first assignments were the Deadly Sins and Seven Virtues. This work trained Bruegel to think in metaphors and greatly influenced his composition, allowing him to paint allegorically during the years of Flemish religious oppression; thereby expressing his political opposition. It was during this later period that Bruegel took such themes from the Scriptures as Procession to Calvary, The Conversion of St. Paul, The Massacre of the Innocents and Numbering at Bethlehem, and painted them, transposing the scenes to the Flemish countryside to draw attention to the brutality visited upon the peasantry by Spanish soldiers and the edicts of the Inquisition. This cycle which included The Magpie on the Gallows, was culminated by the famous Triumph of Death, painted in 1568, one year before his death. The landscape in these paintings, with the exception of Triumph of Death, is the same as his earlier bucolic paintings peopled with the coarse, robust, full-faced, hard-working Flemish peasant he knew so well. These intimate portrayals of the people and the countryside in all their naturalistic detail and vitality, naer het leven (from life), displayed his intense response to nature, a more passionate and creative approach than any of his predecessors or contemporaries, according to critics familiar with the period. As a humanist, Bruegel responded, vehemently, to the outrage of the people when Emperor Charles V sent Spanish soldiers to suppress the Calvinist heresy and Philip II increased the power of the Inquisition. Thousands of Bruegel's countrymen were rounded up, tortured and burned at the stake.

Death came to Bruegel in 1569 when he was in his forties. Despite his political stand, his death was due to natural causes.

Of his work, Edouard Michel says, "Never has an artist rendered with such intensity the elegiac quality and the profound melancholy of the northern landscape in the grip of winter, and Bruegel does it without a trace of sentimentality or any superfluous elaboration."

Short Takes

Naming of Dixie

The South probably received the name "Dixie" from $10 bills printed in New Orleans by the Citizens Bank of Louisiana and used up and down the Mississippi. The bills carried the French word for ten, "Dix." The original lyrics of the popular song were: "I wish I was in the land of the Dixes."

Expect 53 Whooping Cranes At Aransas Refuge Soon

Eight young whooping cranes are preparing to make the trip to Texas for the winter, along with about 45 older birds that have made the trip before. Bird watchers can expect to see the famed whooping cranes back in Texas by Oct. 15 or 17, according to Frank Johnson, manager of the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge.

Word from wildlife officials in Canada, where the "whoopers" spend the summer, is that eight young cranes will make the flight. Last year, only two young birds made the trip, and in 1973 there was only one.

So the 100,000 bird watchers and tourists that visit the Aransas bird refuge each year can again expect to see about 50 birds.

Johnson said the birds, as accurate as a clock, never arrive at the Aransas refuge before Oct. 15. In their 5,000-mile trip to the Texas Gulf Coast, several die or stray.

There were 49 cranes coming to Texas last year, so the flock is not showing much increase. But Johnson would like to give them more acreage, in hopes of increasing their numbers.

Canada offers 11 million acres to the cranes during the six spring and summer months, and Johnson believes that through more acreage in Texas the cranes can have a more successful winter nesting period.

Presently only 7,000 acres at Aransas are used, along with some adjacent territory, to provide a refuge for the cranes. Johnson has recommended that 11,159 acres at nearby Matagorda Island be turned into a refuge to assist the whoopers and other endangered birds in the area.

He envisions 500 acres for each pair of cranes, which would leave additional acreage for such endangered species as the peregrine falcon, southern bald eagle and brown pelican.

The remaining 24,202 acres at Matagorda, Johnson said, could best be turned over to the state for its management by the Parks and Wildlife Department.

At a meeting over the future use of Matagorda Island, state officials criticized Johnson for what they see as a lack of public access to see the whooping cranes.

The state would like to acquire the entire 35,362 acres at Matagorda, with some officials believing the whoopers need nothing more than what they have right now.

"The whooping cranes are big business, whether we want to talk about it or not," Johnson said, claiming the state would lose valuable tourist dollars if something happened to endanger their stay along the Gulf Coast.

He said during the winter nesting period, charter boats from Rockport, Port Aransas and Corpus Christi leave daily with tourists hoping to catch a picture of the cranes. From the Aransas refuge itself, the off-limits area for cranes can be viewed from telescopes atop an observation tower.

Now that the Air Force is vacating its small installation at Matagorda, Johnson hopes the state and federal government will reach a compromise over Matagorda rather than taking "an all or nothing attitude."

He said it's doubtful that Congress would even appropriate enough money for the entire island to be developed as a wildlife refuge. Along the same line, he thinks it is impossible for the state to ever have adequate funds to develop all of the island itself.

The decision of who gets the island, and how it is to be managed, will be made by the General Services administration, possibly by the middle of November.

Terrible!

Jack—I'm smoking a terrible lot of cigars lately.
Jill—You certainly are, if that's one of them.
