MAN HELD IN ROBY CASE VAULTS AWAY FROM SHERIFF O'BAR

(By Associated Press)
ABILENE, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Sheppard, alias Bill Smith, alleged slayer of Sheriff Bob Smith and Deputy Jake Owens of Fisher county, failed in a daring dash for liberty here tonight.

He was caught after a chase of several blocks, during which he received a severe wound from the gun of Sheriff O'Bar of Taylor county.

Sheppard had been taken to the courthouse from jail to talk with Doc Davis of Rule, his former employer, and Davis' son, Gasser. As the party was leaving the court house Smith jumped down the steps and ran. O'Bar fired at him several times. The chase led through yards, over fences and down alleys before young Gasser caught Sheppard.

Sheppard had asked to talk with his former employer. The Davis brought him a automobile meal prepared by "Mother" Davis, well known hotel keeper. Sheriff O'Bar allowed him to eat the food after Sheppard had again been locked up.

LITTLEFIELD, Oct. 14.—(AP)—The firm of Sims & Tolbat, who are drilling an oil well in Section 14, T. A. Thompson survey on the Elwood ranch, has just given notice that oil has been struck in the well.

They are setting the casing at about 600 feet and will test the well as soon as the water is shut off. It is estimated that this well may be good for as much as 50 barrels a day. The well is located in Lamb county, about 15 miles northeast from Littlefield.

Dan Freel is to start the drilling of another well about three miles west of that one within the next few days. The prospects are very bright for the opening up of a shallow oil field in Lamb county tributary to the town of Littlefield. A great deal of interest is being manifested.

Her Marriage Is Of Interest Here

(By Associated Press)
PERNAMBUCO, Brazil, Oct. 14.—(AP)—The first leg of their flight to Saint Louis, Senegal, where they landed Tuesday morning was the longest of the 2,700 miles. The successful performance of their plane during this grueling flight gave the fliers an added confidence that their venture would succeed. They plan to fly from Port Natal to Rio Janeiro.

Costes brought his plane the "Nungesser-Coll" down in a beautiful landing on the field prepared for him twelve miles from the city and the wild cheers of a great crowd. He and his companion, who have been the hero of the hour since the passage of the Volstead Act that such a resolution ever has been adopted any place in the country by a similar convention.

The nomination of Judge White, who is a former chief justice of the Colorado supreme court, and who has been of active leadership in civil affairs of the state for more than thirty years, came by acclamation immediately following an address in which he declared:

"These fanatical prohibitionists of the United States have made it their aim to deprive the people of the right of self-determination. I declare to you that I am a believer in the principles of Jefferson, Jackson, Wilson and Bryan and still in favor of this fanatical, hypocritical prohibition law."

ALBANIAN ENVOY IS ASSASSINATED

STUDENT SURRENDERS AND DECLARES ACT WAS DUE TO TERROR FEAR

(By Associated Press)
PRAGUE, Czechoslovakia, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Toma Bey, newly appointed Albanian minister to Czechoslovakia, was assassinated here tonight by an Albanian student, Agush Bab, while he was dining at his home.

Bey was arrested immediately. He calmly admitted his intention to kill Toma because he said the student was to be a minister to Czechoslovakia. He had been withdrawn as Albanian minister to Jugoslavia when Albania and Jugoslavia severed diplomatic relations last June.

The severance of relations followed upon the arrest of an embassy of the Jugoslav legation in Tirana on a charge of espionage. The dispute was settled in July when Jugoslavia withdrew its legation from Tirana and Albania released the legation employee.

CHINESE ARMY ROUTED

Force Driving On Peking Is Crushed But Scattered Bands Still Harassing Capital

PEKING, China, Oct. 14.—(AP)—The main Shensi armies which have been driving on Peking have been crushed but scattered bands are still in the field—some within 20 miles of Peking—4 with northern forces close at their heels, a spokesman for the northern alliance stated today.

This spokesman declared that the northern forces deliberately drew the main Shensi army of 50,000 men at most to Peking, 35 miles south-west of Peking, and then sent the northern army by way of Anchow toward Tientsin to cut off their retreat. Most of the Shensi force was forced to abandon the Peking-Hankow railway and flee south-westward toward their active province of Shensi.

VOTE OF 805 TO 262 IS CAST TO INSTRUCT NOMINEE "WET"

(By Associated Press)
DENVER, Oct. 14.—(AP)—The democratic party of Denver, comprising the first congressional district, tonight stands pledged for modification of the Volstead Act.

In a convention of 1,112 delegates 615 of whom were women voters of the city, a resolution pledging the support of the convention as a condition for congress to fill the unexpired term of the late Congressman William N. Vance, to vote for the modification of the dry law, was adopted by a vote of 805 to 262.

This action of the congressional convention according to speakers of the "wet" resolutions, was the first since the passage of the Volstead Act that such a resolution ever has been adopted any place in the country by a similar convention.

The nomination of Judge White, who is a former chief justice of the Colorado supreme court, and who has been of active leadership in civil affairs of the state for more than thirty years, came by acclamation immediately following an address in which he declared:

SEIZE KLAN RECORD IN FLOGGING PROBE

ORDER COMES WHEN LEADERS REFUSE TO RESPOND IN GRAND JURY QUERY

(By Associated Press)
LIVINGS, Alabama, Oct. 14.—(AP)—Records and paraphernalia of the Ku Klux Klan were seized today in behalf of the special grand jury inquiring into wholesale floggings, and James E. Dale of Birmingham grand dragon of the Klan in Alabama, was questioned as to its activities.

Records of the local Klan records at the home and office of Ira B. Thompson, reputed local Klan head, were understood to have been ordered because local Klan officers refused to testify regarding its membership. Cecil Davis, of Birmingham, said to be former grand dragon of the Southern province of the Klan, today serving a five day sentence for refusal to answer questions when called before the grand jury.

Attorney General McCall, who has taken personal charge of the inquiry and local officials, declined to comment on the seizure of the Klan records.

Mr. McCall had indicated previously that the grand jury would make its report possibly today, but late today he said no report could be made until tomorrow night at the earliest. He had stated at the start of the inquiry Monday that he expected to obtain more than 100 indictments and at least 100 convictions.

All the federal soldiers who were with Gomez have surrendered. General Alvarez said. They have either been made prisoners or killed and wounded in battle.

'Dawn' Plane Is Ready To Start Today

OLD ORCHARD, Maine, Oct. 14.—(AP)—The party which has waited on the Sikorsky plane, the Dawn, through days and weeks, tonight took on a livelier spirit with the almost certainty that Mrs. Frances W. Grayson and her companions would hop off tomorrow morning for Europe. As if to change the atmosphere engineered by wearisome postponements, the group of 40 who monopolized the Hotel Brunswick tonight made merry at a farewell dinner.

It was the idea of Mrs. Grayson, who has been most eager of the fliers. In the course of the celebration she presented each newspaper man and the guests with an autographed photograph, taken today in Portland, while groups of fliers, writers and cameramen, presented to Mrs. Grayson all thought of tomorrow's ordeal. The weather reports of the evening were promising. Unless a disturbance develops on the trans-Atlantic route before morning, they were confident that at least they would be on their way.

MISS ELDER AND PILOT TO REACH AZORES TODAY

PARIS PREPARES GREAT WELCOME FOR PLUCKY DIXIE AVIATRIX

GERMAN PLANE OFF

JUNKERS REACHES THE AZORES AND WAITS ON WEATHER

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Oct. 14.—Ruth Elder and George Haldeman, rescued from the sea by the Dutch tanker, Barendrecht, yesterday, will set their feet on land tomorrow at Horta, the Azores, for the first time since they hopped off Tuesday afternoon from Roosevelt field, New York, in their ill-fated plane "The American Girl."

It is understood here that Paris which was their goal when they climbed into the plane is still their destination and they will continue their journey there by the more ordinary means of transportation.

It is likely that the two fliers will land without even a landing gear. It is believed that all their belongings, were destroyed when their plane took fire as an effort was being made to lift it aboard the Barendrecht. The plane lies beneath the waves of the Atlantic, a mass of charred wreckage.

No definite word.

Although no definite news was received from the fliers themselves, it was known from wireless messages sent by Captain Gope of the Barendrecht that the fliers were tired and Paris assumes that they are also happy.

The fear of all the comment in the Paris newspapers is that the fliers had a miraculous escape, that they ought to be congratulated, but at the same time told not to do it again. It is likely that Miss Elder will get quiet a welcome for the French have shown great admiration for her spunk although they doubt the wisdom of the course she tried to pursue.

For the moment, however, understanding that she is safe, Paris is turning its thoughts to other things and the voyage which Dedonne Costes began across the South Atlantic this morning has taken the place of Miss Elder's odyssey on the front pages of the Paris newspapers.

The crew of the junkers plane D-1239, which crossed from Portugal to Horta today, are expected to be among the first to welcome the American fliers to the Azores.

The committee of American aviation enthusiasts who waited all yesterday at Le Bourget will welcome Miss Elder and Haldeman and their delayed arrival in Paris at some railway station some day next week.

MATADORS PRIMED FOR STARTING WHISTLE

LUBBOCK-AMARILLO TILT TOPS SCHOOL CARD; OWLS CRUSHED

COLORFUL TILT EXPECTED HERE

This afternoon at 2:30 o'clock the Simmons Cowhands and Tech Mustangs will renew rivalry, as the Texas Hands ride on the gridiron to clash with the Bullfighters in what is expected to be a colorful exhibition. For the first time this season, the fans will be privileged to witness a football game from the new steel and concrete stands. The new stands will seat some 4,000 fans.

The Matador trio of handlers are expected to run into plenty of trouble this afternoon as they buck against Crawford and Anderson's angry Cowboys. Last season the Matadors held the Simmons crew to a scoreless tie game and three times during the year-ago game did the Range Riders threaten to score. Indications are that the Matadors will not escape the fire and fury of the Cowboys this afternoon should the ranchers reach in striking distance.

Simmons Backs Powerful

The Simmons backfield can not be denied as being powerful as they demonstrated a well balanced machine in their conference game with the Pirates of Southwestern University last week. To carry on the heavy duty in the backfield, Crawford has Davenport and Walker, who are both excellent ball-tossers. Sanders is a great kicker, and Walters passing is equally as flashy. Then too, the defense that held the Pirates from down Austin way, must be considered in the Simmons University club.

Hyde Is Out

With the exception of Rufus Hyde, flashy pilot of the Cowboys' brilliant generalship will be on hand to check the flailing jerseys this afternoon. Hyde accompanied the staff to Lubbock but journeyed on to Canyon where he will act as scout for his club. Hyde's brilliant generalship will be missed by the Cowboys this afternoon but to Skinny Walter, Crawford is turning over the reins to be attempted against Crawford's lanky line and defense.

Two sets of backs will possibly be used by the range horses against the Matadors today. They will probably use the speedy Hicks, signing the nearest and block war-torn first; this set of backs consists of Walters, Sanders, Lynch and McCollum; should the speed be checked, the Cowboys handlers will replace the speed with power in Davenport and Walker, two churning backs.

Matadors Best To Start

Cowboys Grady Higginbotham and Vic Payne are looking for a battle.

McMurry Too Much For John Tarleton

ABILENE, Oct. 14. (P.)—Offense and defense again divided honors in a McMurry victory this afternoon when the Abilene College defeated John Tarleton, 14 to 6. A pass, Paul in Park, counted the first touchdown in the third quarter, and McCandless' splendid guard blocked up a blocked punt and ran 75 yards for the second score to the last period. The two other points came on a safety, preceded by Holder who stepped behind his own end zone to kick near the close of the game.

Cowboy Medley started the McMurry second string but sent in six regulars in the second quarter when it appeared that his reserves were weak-kneed.

The game is believed to exist for three-quarters of a year without water in the North Kanabai desert.

In two states of the United States south Carolina and Mississippi, the water population is larger than the white.

SIX TEAMS OF 'A' DIVISION TO BATTLE

Six Class A high school teams of the Panhandle Conference clash this week-end in the first games of their conference card. Vernon meets with the Plainview club in Plainview today. The Lubbock high school club meets with the Amarillo high school in Amarillo, and the Quanah high school comes offensively with the Electric high school this afternoon. Wichita Falls is the only side of the Class A loop of the panhandle.

The Vernon machine miraculously escaped the clutches of the Plainview club in its last game of experience. Although the Lions lost the first game of the season to Lawton, Oklahoma 13 to 6, they have made tremendous showings in later games, defeating Pecos high school easily 20-0 last week, and Memphis the previous week, 29-6. Last year the Lions defeated the Plainview club, 7-0. The Vernon Lions this season apparently are stronger than last season in the backfield, but the new and green line has failed to be impressive in the exhibition of early season.

The work of the Bulldogs in early season games has not been impressive. The Lions eleven beat them 6 to 0 in the first game, apparently is no stronger than last year. If as strong they have one advantage over the Lions Saturday, as the latter will be playing the first game this season on a foreign field. This may be an important factor in the outcome of the game, as the Lions' line is the Lions' strength.

Amarillo Strong

Results of early season practice games indicate that Amarillo is the favored team in the Plains section of the district. Lubbock has made a mediocre showing in early season games, having lost to Floydada, Texas 13 to 15, in a hard-fought game. Amarillo has been getting up impressive scores against all opponents, defeating Tucuman and Clovis, N. M., eleven, 22-6 and 24-6 respectively. Amarillo's goal line was crossed the first time last week, when the Texas eleven have been defeated decisively. Open Butler has almost a record eleven and he is whipping the squad into great form.

The Quanah Indians, who have never become a formidable machine in the class A race, have displayed unusual strength in defeating Childress 18-6, and beating other class B teams night after night the past week.

The Electric team, always a strong contender, apparently will be out of the game.

Pirates' Share Of Pot Divided

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (P.)—The Pittsburgh Pirates $11,542.25 dividend from the World Series, was divided tonight by Kansas City, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Philadelphia, and New York. Each of the six Pirates, including Hamer, $1,000. Butler received a check for $1,955.48. Adam Comorosky, outfielder who joined the club from Wichita, Western League team, in the last fortnight of the season, was given $150. S. E. Walters, traveling secretary, received a half share of $1,955.48. Three scouts, Chick Frazier, Bill Hutchinson and Joe Devine, were given one-third shares of $1,328.48. A one-fourth share, $92.07, went to the trainer, George Asten, and the grounds keeper and club house boy, John Fogarty, and club boy, John Fogarty, received $495.18 apiece.

MANN'S PASSES STAND OUT IN 34-6 WIN

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 14.—Rice Institute inaugurated an aerial attack in the game with Southern Methodist University at Owenby Stadium today that proved the Owls' own undoing. The Mustangs also resorted to passing tactics to defeat the Owls, 34 to 6, in the first Southwest conference game here this season. Spectacular from the beginning when Rice seemed to have the superior attack, until the long broken field runs and torpedo-like passes of the Mustangs showed that they were a team of unusual strength, the game was sensational. Time and again the five thousand spectators rose to their feet during the exciting aerial plays.

Rice Worn Down

The numerous substitutions of the Mustangs wore down Coach Heismann's Owls, but they fought to the bitter end and even in the last quarter held the line against terrific plunges of the Mustangs, a foot from the goal. Although badly defeated, the Owls have cause to be proud of the offensive and defensive work of Alnoch, Captain Comstock and Brad Ables, who played a fair game, was guilty of a mistake that resulted in S. M. U. scoring a safety. When the ball went over to Rice a foot from the goal, Alnoch attempted to pass, but Hooks downed him in his tracks.

When the game opened and Rice started a march to the goal, Davenport and Math were sent in. But they did not stop the march for Alnoch passed to Schoenfeld, who put the ball on the one yard line, and in a plunge, Alnoch scored.

Thrilling Triple Pass

In the second quarter the Mustangs pulled a thrilling triple lateral pass to start the race for a touchdown, but Rice was stubborn, and it was not until Dawson had received two passes, 25 and 20 yards respectively, and a series of line plays put Hume into striking distance that he was able to score.

Texas Aggies All Primed To Slaughter Schmidt's Porkers In Saturday Invasion

(Special To The Advance)

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 14.—Probably the most spectacular game of the season will be played on Kyle Field Saturday when the Arkansas Razorbacks invade Aggie land for the Aggies' first conference gridiron combat this year.

If the weather conditions permit, it is likely that Coach Bible will permit his charges to open up with the passing attack which has been awaited since the season began. There was no need for using passes in the game with Trinity and the wet and muddy conditions of the fields would not permit such tactics on the other two occasions.

Arkansas Can Pass

The offensive game of Coach Schmidt's Razorbacks has also been built around a superior passing machine according to reports which have been received here, and should both teams open up with aerial games, there will be thrills and excitement for everyone.

Such an attack will also give the Aggies a chance to see how their pass defense is working, something that they have not been able to do before on account of the adverse weather conditions. The Sewanee game was test enough for the line but gave the Farmers little chance to try their aerial defense.

Porkers Lead Conference

The Fayetteville team has won two consecutive games, one of which was a conference tilt against Baylor, and remains in undisputed lead in the race for the conference championship. In both games they have shown a running and bucking attack which equals their passing game, and it is expected that they will present a well rounded attack if it is necessary.

Aside from the slight injury to Conover, who received an injured ankle in the Sewanee game, the Farmers are in perfect physical condition. Conover, is in uniform and is working out every day, which indicates that it is possible that he will be ready to start Saturday.

FIGHT OF LOCAL TEAM COUNTED BIG ASSET

"We have nothing to say, only that the past week has seemed like a year," coaches of the Westerners stated last evening as they took the first workout before the first conference game with the Amarillo Golden Statefighters on this afternoon at the Texas Park.

"We are going into the game with heads up and with the greatest fighting spirit ever displayed by the local high school football players. Nothing but fight will win for us." This represents the opinion of the high school handlers, Henry Frank and Del Morgan.

Captain Barton Missing

One serious handicap was handed to the Western line yesterday afternoon as "Whacker" Barton, who was to have acted captain for the day, was found to be absent from the workout. Barton was slightly injured after Thursday evening and will likely witness the game from the bench this afternoon. Tatum, battling tackle of the Frank line, will replace Barton in the line and Leslie Smith, fullback of the team, will act as captain.

The team will board the special train this morning and immediately upon the arrival of the train in Amarillo the club will go to a down.

RECREATION

There was a time when children were told to run out and play, and that was the end of it. What they played, where they played, or how they played, was immaterial.There was a time, too, when the average man got all the exercise he needed.
Most of the men and women lived a life that was largely outdoors; people walked many miles each day; they did not find it necessary to take up golf to obtain recreation. They lived more simply than they do today, lived more leisurely and, perhaps, more sanely.That time has passed. We are inclined to take things more easily today. The majority of men and women lead sedentary lives. They ride to their offices and back to their homes in automobiles. They spend their leisure hours at theaters, or in playing bridge, or in sitting comfortably in automobiles. Business men sit at a desk all day, walk a block or so to lunch, and go home "tired out." Our brains and our nerves are more active; our bodies become soft and flabby.In the larger cities this condition is being counteracted somewhat by gymnasiums, parks and playgrounds. Children are given a place to play, and supervisors are on hand to see that the proper games are played. They are no longer herded into the streets to amuse themselves as best they may. Business men find it to their advantage to keep fit physically and mentally by following a definite system of exercise. There are classes for business men, adapted to fit their requirements. A trained physical instructor is in charge, for it has been found that exercise, to be most beneficial, must be supervised; that too violent exercise is more harmful than helpful.We are glad to know that Lubbock is making some forward steps along this line in as much as they are undertaking to improve a park and have already made some good investments along that line, and then another fine thing has happened to the people of this city, and that is the decision of the courts recently or rather an agreement reached between contenders for the title to a block of land in the city, that is to be set aside for park purposes, this is to be improved and equipped for recreational purposes, and we hope there will be provisions made for having supervised playgrounds.The recreational center will offer to men and women carefully planned physical instruction. It will offer to the school children, advantages which they lack today. Physical education should be as much a part of the curricula of our public schools as the three R's. A sound, well developed body is an essential to success in life as a well-trained mind. The latter, in fact, is not possible without the former.These parks will be for the good of the whole community, rather than for a few. There will be facilities for competitive games for children and adults, facilities for making systematic exercise enjoyable as well as beneficial.Our city is growing. Facilities for year-round recreation are none too plentiful; there are few playgrounds for the children, and no supervised play.COSTLY LESSON IN VIADUCT CON-STRUCTIONViaducts — constructed at heavy expense primarily to promote public safety — too often are the scenes of serious accidents. This circumstance ironically shows the futility of attempting to eliminate traffic mishaps by engineering methods alone. There will be occasions when a speeding car—whether through the fault of the driver or the mechanism — will plunge through the guard rail to track or street below, generally with fatal consequences to the occupants. Even though the parapet is strong enough to withstand the impact, an equally bad smashup may result. Such an accident—described as one of the worst in the Fort Worth's history happened last Thursday.
In attempting to pass a street car, a heavy automobile—driven at high speed—struck a lamp post. Four men were killed—three instantly—and the other passenger, a young woman, was seriously injured. The driver was E. R. Henry, for several years manager of the Southwestern Exposition and Fair Stock Show. Perhaps what mightbe regarded as a fault in construction contributed to this accident. Apparently there was not room to clear the large automobile between the street car and the curb.
Most viaducts and many bridges designed for combined motor vehicle, trolley and pedestrian traffic are too crowded. As the enterprise is costly at best, designers often feel compelled to economize. Such accidents as that in Fort Worth bring this policy into question. As a general rule these structures should be wider; ample room for the double traffic-stream—streetcar and automobile—should be provided, with space to spare. The added outlay would be a good investment as both a safety measure and relief of traffic congestion. The danger of a motorist's attempting to pass a streetcar or any vehicle when room is lacking, is obvious. On the other hand, if the slow-moving trolley car blocks the traffic, one object of the viaduct is defeated.A SAMPLE OF GOVERNMENT OWNERSHIPRussia and the Government Ownership Boys. Those who are in favor of socialistic and radical rule in America might do well to investigate conditions in the so-called "New Russia." Here is a government ostensibly founded for the downtrodden common people and pledged to every effort for their improvement, education and what-not, under a program of public ownership of industries and utilities.Certainly, if Russia under the Soviet regime had "panned out" even fairly successfully it would be a tremendous and definite boost for paternalistic government. But recent disclosures and facts have proved beyond a doubt that the dream of the government doing everything, instead of the individual, has resulted in one of the most colossal failures ever known. Instead of a super-democracy it has turned out to be the most absolute and tyrannical of autocracies. Freedom of speech and press is unknown. A few politicians have flourished, but the rest of the citizenry have lost in affluence, comfort and the necessities of life. For one Lenin with his honest, if misguided, beliefs and ideals, there are thousands of pettyfogging, wolf-eyed grafters. Emma Goldman, the "celebrated" radical, on returning to England from Russia a year or so ago was reported to have declared it monarchical and "worse than the United States." And unless Miss Goldman's political views have recently undergone peculiar revision, she could not, in her opinion, have damned Russia more forcibly.Yet still the raucous howl, and inter-perse their howling with whimpering, for government ownership of everything greater in scope than the corner grocery.
They have not even profited by the ghastly example of government control of our own railroads during the war; nor even by the records of publicly owned (ironical term) power plants and street car systems over this country.The majority element in the United States has learned wisdom in politics and business. It's about time the monotonous wailing of the public ownership gentry was laughed from the rostrum, if only to do away with the ineffable boredom of their rhetoric.The patriotic temper of the American boy is demonstrated by the fact that 1,000 high school boys are on the waiting list for training in the Chicago R. O. T. C.
That the waiting list is so large is due to a parsimonious appropriation by Congress, which permits the enrollment this year of only 5,722 students, as against last year's 6,178. Such a policy on the part of Congress is short-sighted and verging on the unpatriotic. If the boys and young men of America are virile and endowed with a sense of their full responsibility as citizens they should be encouraged to the utmost, not turned away. The desire to fit themselves to take part in the national defense and to profit physically and mentally through the rigors of military training is a most commendable evidence of a spirit of good citizenship. For Congress to refuse to recognize this desire on the part of American boys is to disillusion them early as the reward good citizenship receives from its government. In the willingness of the American boy to serve his country as these boys in the Chicago R. O. T. C. serve it, lies the best answer to the charges that this country is growing soft and the best defense to the inroads of radicals and the supine type of pacifists who would exploit and nourish softness. Let Congress stand with the boys in their patriotism and not on the side of radicalism and weak-kneed pacifism.If the words which Shakespeare put into the mouth of Marc Antony were said, former Mayor Lew Shank of Indianapolis, who has just died, will be remembered because he was vaudeville actor first of all.
But if, as sometimes happens, the hard of Avon is proved to have generalized too sweepingly, Lew Shank will be honored because he occasionally spoke with naive and charming bluntness about the science of practical politics. A case in point occurred not long ago, while he was addressing some civic organization. When he was running for mayor of his city, he said, he didn't offer anybody money in order to get their support. He didn't have any money, he admitted. So he declared, he just offered anybody a job and found that he got plenty of aid. If someone ever accepts the suggestion of H. L. Mencken and writes a textbook of practical politics, the career and confession of Lew Shank will furnish a lot of useful material.

OUT OUR WAY

SO THINK WE

We think that the more Lubbock people travel over the country roads the more they will appreciate hard surfaced highways.We think that it is rather dangerous to drive into a fox and especially so should it be a mental one.We think that one thing this country is badly in need of is a burglar-proof filling station and cash store.We think that the secret of popularity is always to remember what to forget and when to forget it.We think that women and oportunity are alike—they like to make their calls when you are not at home.We think that the family far is seldom used in preserving family peace.We think that two heads are always better than one with the exception of course, when you have a headache.We think that some people are so industrious that when they have nothing else to do, they worry.We think that the prettier a girl is the more often she desires to be told about it.We think that should a man sow wild oats and mix it with old rye he is sure to cause some disturbance.We think that a woman is never so happy nor so unhappy as she thinks she is.We think just because you have reached the age of fifty and the show is over for you that you should dampen the enthusiasm of the younger men.We think that there is a demand for a spy and a germicide for the bumbling in this old world.We think that which we call confidence in ourselves we usually call conceit in others.We think that to most people borrowing a ten dollar bill is a sign that they are going on a long tour.We think that there is usually no objection to a man's taking up his residence almost anywhere, but when it comes to shoplifting—it's all different.

OPINIONS

POLITICS

The American people are taking their politics in moderation, with caution and sense. The old-time frenzies of prejudice and distortion, abuse and misrepresentation, are well past. The former process of frightening the people, for political effect, has gone into disuse. The people themselves have relegated such methods by refusing to be deceived by them.It is especially pleasing to note that the 1928 national political campaign approaches with no perturbation among the people and with no threat of economic demoralization. The people are too intelligent, too sensible, to believe that either of the great political parties would trouble or put into effect—if in power—any principal or policy essentially hurtful to the country. In campaigning either party would not dare to assert that the other party is trying to injure the country. The old political buncle has been put into disuse by popular enlightenment. And well that it has. Nothing but hurt came from the old political campaigning methods.The means of enlightenment are so abundant today that each and every voter may keep informed and may gather sufficient disinterestedInformation upon which to base intelligent and independent judgment in politics.It is because the masses of the people are so intelligent as to public affairs, and because they refuse, in their enlightened state, to be dampened by attempts to frighten them into voting for one party and against another party, that no panalysis of business industry, on account of the national campaign next year need be feared. No issue looms that should frighten capital into hiding, or that should depress business or hurt industry. There is no reason why next year should not witness a continuation of the prosperous conditions which have prevailed for several years.—Pasadena

YOUR HEALTH

BY DR. MORRIS FISHBEIN
Editor, Journal of the American Medical Association and of Hygiene, the Health MagazineAn investigation made by the United States Public Health Service revealed the fact that lead dust is to be found regularly in the air of many industrial establishments.When lead is absorbed into the human body changes take place in the tissues of the nervous system and also in the blood. Investigations were made to find out to what extent the absorption of lead would affect the human body when it existed in amounts hardly sufficient to produce poisoning but still sufficient to produce changes in the blood.Preventing Absorption Small degrees of lead absorption are not important, but when the blood cells are affected in considerable numbers some means must be taken to prevent further absorption of this poison.Two prominent physicians investigated the amount of lead polluting in a southern enameling plant in Nashville, Tenn. Thirty-nine men were examined and a high degree of lead poisoning was found in 15 cases.Only 15 of the 39 men examined failed to show evidence of lead absorption. One of the men affected was a painter, four were enamel planters and five were sprayers, one was an inspector, one a furnace man, one a foreman, one was a grinder and one was a mixer.This lead apparently affected the men in all parts of the works without reference to the amount of contact with lead, but apparently with relationship to the attention but they paid to their personal hygiene.Twenty-six of the men said that they smoked while at work. Most of them were careless about washing their hands before eating. Indeed, many of them ate in the room where they had been working, thus exposing their food to lead dust.The washroom itself was dark and poorly ventilated, and there were no showers for carrying off the dust, and where a system of spraying could not be removed before the men left for home.Taking Precautions When proper sanitary arrangements were made and the men were cautioned about chewing tobacco at work, when a suitable exhaust system was supplied for carrying
off the dust, and where a system of supervision was installed so that men affected by the poison might be properly advised, the conditions were overcome.Out of the 39 men in the plant concerned, not less could be given an absolutely clean bill of health.
Many of them suffered with physical defects in addition to the disturbances brought about by the lead poisoning. Sanitary control of industry is one of the most important steps in the modern extension of preventive medicine.

What's Going On In Russia Today

Soviet Leaders Admit Communist Party Is Trying To Organize China MillionsBY JEROME DAVIS Member of the Faculty, Yale University Divinity SchoolMOSCOW, Oct. 14.—The Russian government claims it has kept its official hands off the revolution in China.This is not true of the Communist International. It has been working steadily in the Kulescope events within China. The international thinks it has done what it could to help the masses of the Chinese people, with advice, with emulations and probably with money.On March 27 the executive committee of the Internationale published an appeal to the world entitled:"The Horrible Wholesale Murder by the 'Civilized' Barbarians in China: Organize the Defense Against the Imperialist Robbery!"A great and inhuman crime has been committed. The 'civilized' barbarians, headed by the British and American imperialists, have destroyed one of the chief towns of China by a bombardment from long-range guns. The working class quarters have been destroyed and the corpses are piled high in the streets."Christian" diplomacy which pretends to follow the principles of equality does not regard the Chinese as human beings. The people of Asia and Africa must recognize that. The Negroes, the Malays, the Chinese, the hundreds of millions of toilers who groan under the oppression of European and American capitalism must recognize that. The Communist Internationale calls you to the struggle against imperialist violence. Raise the banner of protest against the insanity of the imperialist bankers."You must be with the Chinese revolution with all your forces, with all the means in your power.
Down with the war against China, rightly struggling to be free! Down with the hangman of the Chinese revolution! Long live the organized defense against the imperialist robbery! Long live the victory of the Chinese people!"On April 15, after Chiang Kai-shek had turned against the Communist International, the executive committee of the Communist Internationale sent out a world appeal closing with these lines:Do not believe the lies of the Bourgeois press.Down with Chiang Kai-shek and the other renegades and traitors, the organizers of the shootings.Long live the revolutionary Kanmingtang.Long live the Communist party of China.In an official booklet on "The Tactical Line of the Communist Internationale in China," the executive committee of the Internationale gave definite instructions to the party in China about methods of organization and how to control content with trying to guide and control the Chinese Party. It recently adopted a resolution calling on radical groups throughout the world to act.

A NEIGHBORLY VISIT

It is impossible to visualize the possibilities of the visit of the Vernon good will delegation to Chillicothe this evening. The opportunity for mutual benefit is unlimited. If this visit further cements social and commercial relations between the people of the two small cities, it will result in intercommunitary cooperation that can only lead onward and upward.If the visit is to accomplish a maximum amount of good, it must be regarded as a good will and not merely a trade trip, because the visit is and should be more than a mere trade trip. If the people of Vernon firmly establish friendly relations in the Chillicothe community, the visit will be of far more lasting value to the city of Vernon than would a few additional commodities for the merchants of Vernon. Of course the business men of Vernon are willing and eager to serve, but the Chamber of Commerce which is sponsoring this trip and other similar excursions has as its purpose the building of a greater Vernon.So the trip this evening is a mission of good will planned by an organization that has nothing to sell, but has visions of future greatness and progress for all this section as well as Vernon. If the people of Vernon and Chillicothe keep in mind the real purpose of this visit, as planned by the Chamber of Commerce, it will be just a neighborly visit during which the people of the two communities may become better acquainted and better realize how they may serve each other with mutual benefit.Vernon and Chillicothe have much in common. They both are dependent chiefly upon the agricultural industry. Things which benefit one will tend to benefit both.
A building boom in Chillicothe will be felt to a certain extent in Vernon, and vice versa. With these things true, there certainly is reason why the people of the two communities should work together.
There is ample opportunity for mutual service and mutual benefit.
The sponsoring of these should be purpose enough for the Vernon visit.—Vernon Record.Being friendly is not a very hard job, and there is a great deal to be gained by showing our appreciation, and a desire to be neighborly to other communities. The annual good will trips of many of the cities of the state and the exchange of visits of the South Plains and the North Plains cities all tends to build a friendship, that means better understanding one with the other, and while there is a rivalry it becomes more friendly, and therefore more beneficial.

THE HAZARDOUS LIFE OF A KITTEN

By Edgar A. Guest

Oh, what a life a kitten leads That's loved by one so young and small;
So very fierce the love that feeds
I wonder that it lives at all.
Tis fed a dozen times a day On food no grown-up cat would take,
It's carried in so rough a way
Its little back must fairly ache.
It's grabbed and pulled and tugged
And mauled,
And chased from dawn till time For bed, Strapped in a little cart it's hauled When it would rather walk instead.It's kissed and stroked and squeezed In arms
Which would be tender if they knew,
That sometimes love its bid harms
By what it thinks is good to do.
When love is only five years old
It has no mercy and no mind To understand, though often told That too much love may be unkind.
And so no wiser people say To cats are given nine lives,
And another is 10 times a day And yet somehow that kitten thrives!BOBCA

"DIRECT ACTION"

MUST BE TAKEN TO GET THE BEST PRICES FOR YOUR OLD STOVE!

"Direct Action" is not a coined expression with us—nor is it used with the idea that you will, particularly, have to hurry in order to sell your old stoves—

BUT IS—

—an especially designed gas burner built into a gas range that is specifically designed, patented and perfected by the American Stove Co., and is "DIRECT ACTION" in operation — and the only gas range made that—

—Requires no pre-heating. The oven is ready for baking the moment it is lighted. Has an elastic oven—is the only gas range in which you can bake perfectly in the broiling oven.

Baking, oven canning and whole-meal cooking can be done on a large scale in a Direct Action Elastic Oven. It will accommodate three or four more loaves of bread, two or more pans of biscuits, six or eight more jars of canning, than can be placed in the ordinary gas range. This feature is exclusive with the "Direct Type" Action Range. It was designed for DIRECT action and can be obtained only with the purchase of one of these remarkable ranges. 1114 Broadway

Use of Natural Gas Growing in Popularity

The real test of merit may be found in the test which time applies, to any commodity or character.

Applying this test to Natural Gas, will be interesting for you to know, that in the decade from 1916-1926, the sales of this commodity increased from 100 billion cubic feet to 1,200 billion cubic feet annually.

A wide field for Natural Gas has developed in Industrial heating; there is a very good reason for this.

Natural Gas is subject to perfect control and simplifies heating operations.

In homes, gas-fired heating units are being installed at the rate of 100,000 annually.

It's adaptability is being daily proved in numberless communities.

What it has done elsewhere, it may be depended upon to do in Lubbock.

Do it with Natural Gas.

15,000 Expected For Vandy Game

DALLAS, Oct. 14 (AP)—More than 15,000 spectators are expected to witness the annual Vanderbilt-Texas football classic here at the State Fair of Texas tomorrow afternoon. Hostilities will begin at 3 p. m.

The Gold and Black of Vanderbilt and the Gold and White of Texas already deck the stands. The Longhorn squad arrives at 5 p. m. three hours after the Commodores cast anchor at their hotel.

Critics already on the grounds have awarded the edge to the Longhorns in line play, but to Vanderbilt in the backfield and in general experience. The Longhorn line averages 185 pounds, three more than that of the Commodores, whose backfield is still lighter and reputedly speedier.

Los Angeles Bids Dempsey Welcome

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14 (AP)—Jack Dempsey was welcomed home today by a large and shouting crowd of admirers, a band that led the parade of welcome and a large group of sporting notables headed by Jerry Lavada, the former heavyweight boxing champion's trainer.

Flares lit the welcome, banners and hundreds of cheering boys along the route of the parade to a hotel where an official welcome was extended him. Dempsey and his wife, Estelle Taylor, actress, proceeded to their home after the welcoming ceremonies, where Jack said they both needed to go for a good rest.

Dempsey declared there was nothing to the report that a reconciliation with Jack Kohn was an day way.

MILLIKEN TRIAL SET

To Take Place On October 20 At Lockhart, Is Rumor Of Court Officials.

AUSTIN, Oct. 14 (AP)—Sanity trial for A. V. Millikin, ordered by the court of criminal appeals and assured by Governor Moody last night only a few hours before Millikin was to go to the electric chair for the slaying of Mrs. Virginia Petty of San Antonio, would be heard October 20 in district court at Lockhart, officials of the court said tonight.

Fred Blundell, district attorney at Lockhart, declared he considered "Millikin as sane as anybody," promising to fight an insanity verdict.

Millikin obtained habeas corpus writ from the criminal appeals court ordering the trial mainly because Dr. J. B. York, Houston, the Rev. Hugh Finigan, Huntsville prison chaplain, and Mrs. L. K. Arrington signed an affidavit of belief that he is unbalanced.

Lubbock Teacher Accorded Honor

CANYON, Oct. 14.—Miss Lillie McKinney, now a teacher of English and history in the Lubbock high school, has been elected to graduate membership in the Lloyd Green Allen chapter of the Scholarship Societies of the Southern States.

She was one of eight members of the 1927 senior class of the West Texas State Teachers college to earn this honor. Two of the others elected to graduate membership in the society are now doing graduate work on scholarships in the Universities of California and Iowa, respectively.

COOLIDGE NOT TO ALTER LOAN POLICY

GOVERNMENT STILL TO GIVE CONSENT OR DISFAVOR ON FOREIGN DEBTS

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14.—President Coolidge contemplates no present change in the state department policy of extending or withholding its consent to loans by American bankers to foreign governments, although he recently had advised abandonment of the practice.

This was stated officially today at the White House in connection with a statement issued yesterday by Senator Glass, democrat, Virginia, assailing the policy as unauthoritative and opening the field both for possible scandal at home and difficulties in the conduct of foreign relations.

The president feels that the advisory contract of the state department with American bankers in such matters should be maintained as a drastic regulator laws passed by congress might prove embarrassing. He also takes the view that the procedure is authorized by the legislation provisions placing the conduct of foreign affairs in the hands of the chief executive.

Coincident with the White House statement of Mr. Coolidge's attitude, the state department made public the form of letters sent to bankers requesting an expression of opinion on loans and Senior Borah, of Idaho, chairman of the senate foreign relations committee, declared his own belief that the administration practice should be terminated.

One paragraph of the form letter sent to bankers of the secretary of state, as made public at the department says:

"I beg that the state in light of information before it the department of state offers no objection to this financing."

As further evidence to support the contention that the department does not actually approve or disapprove loans, this paragraph of form letters was made public:

"You, of course, appreciate that as pointed out in the department's announcement of March 25, 1925, the department of state does not pass upon merits of the foreign loans, as business propositions to assume any responsibility in connection with transactions, also that no reference to the attitude of this government should be made in any prospectus or otherwise."

Mrs. Mamie Vaughn of Dallas, district deputy of the Woman's Benefit association, is in Lubbock for several days in the interest of her association.

NORFLEET

The Manhunter's Own True Story

As told to Gordon Hines

WHAT HAS BEEN TOLD:

Frank Norfleet, a Texas ranchman, is swindled out of $25,000 by a group of swindlers in Dallas. He resolves to follow the crooks and break up their organization. Lacking a better clue, he recalls a little red memo book belonging to one of the men that had a list of names in it. A man he knows, named Cathey, of Corpus Christi, heads the list. Norfleet goes to Corpus Christi, stopping at San Antonio on the way. Here he learns that the leader of the gang had registered at the St. Anthony as J. Harrison. He learns by a peculiar fluke, that Harrison has probably bought a stolen fur coat from a little shoplifter. He lets that clue drop for the time and goes to Corpus Christi, where he learns that Cathey has gone to California. Following a strange hunch his wife has Norfleet goes to California, dropping off at San Bernardino. Here he finds two of his men in jail.

Chapter Six

"So you found it? It was Ward's damned old fox?" It was Ward's heavy voice. His tone was sulky. I turned cold, then hot and the perspiration broke out all over me. I wanted to batter down those bars and strangle the life out of him. In my several subsequent meetings with the crooks, I never again gave away quite as I did then. I was really blood thirsty. Cathey's voice steadied me.

"There's Gerber, too—there in the next cell."

My eyes grew accustomed to the dim light and I looked them over. So here were the varied, almost featureless faces of the Dallas and Fort Worth Stock Exchange. They hardly looked like themselves. I had last seen them as well-dressed, well-to-do men. Here, in the cells, they looked like ordinary criminals and I wondered how I had ever let them deceive me. But that was only the environment. Outside, they would have looked like gentlemen again and would have been able to deceive others as they had me.

"Gerber, who heard Ward speak to me, rushed from his stall to the bars between us and began a pleading, hysterical harangue: 'Norfleet, for God's sake, don't identify us!'

"I was calm by now and, without answering him, I turned and followed the sheriff back to his office.

"How did it happen?" was my first question.

"Why, a man brought me a clipping from a San Francisco paper the other day. It had a detailed account of your swindling and a description of some of the gang who did you. The man said he had run into a bunch of stock brokers right here in San Bernardino and was about to close a big deal with them when he saw this item. He had read it carefully and decided that its descriptions fitted some of the members of the crew that was about to trap him. They had used the same methods that you described; one or two even gave the same names. He wanted them punished so I took a chance and signed a letter to you. I only succeeded in finding these two. The others got away. I wired Sheriff Clark at Fort Worth and he wired back for me to hold them. So here they are."

"I wouldn't have wanted a better Christmas present," I replied. "But I wish I had known you had them. I was thinking of my railroad fare. I sent a wire to you at the ranch, but you must have missed it. Milton Williams, a deputy from Fort Worth, is on his way out here now. He'll take the pair back to Fort Worth for trial."

"Who was the fellow who brought you the newspaper clipping?" I asked, out of curiosity.

"A man named Cathey, from Corpus Christi. Cathey—I believe he said it was. I have a note."

"Cathey?" I exploded, nearly tripping over my chair. "Cathey? Well, he'll be hanged!"

"If it hadn't been for that newspaper story, these birds would have been gone with his money by this time."

I looked Cathey up.

He told me he had been approached in much the same manner as I had. He also had cut out the overtures Mr. Stetson's waiter. They had used the same set of business credentials on him that had won my own downfall. To Cathey, too, they had made a fine impression and gained his full confidence.

Just as the deal was about to be closed, he saw the news story, recognized his "friends" as my swindlers and woke up with a bang! He dashed out bareheaded from the hotel and inquired of the first policeman in the street for the sheriff's office. He was seen asking directions of the policeman by one of the gang. They knew their game was up and the whole lot of them made an instant dash for freedom.

Ward and Gerber rushed for the railroad station. Stetson and Harrison left via the fire escape and disappeared.

Fortunately Cathey got to Sheriff Clark in time for him to head off Ward and Gerber just as they were boarding the train.

In a suit case Ward was carrying, the officers found the original papers and credentials used on both Cathey and myself. The name Stetson was signed to most of them. It is probable that Ward or one of the others was using the name "Stetson" in San Bernardino, as the Stetson I had known was registered at the hotel on Mr. Peck. The authorities at first thought they had captured the master mind was clean as a whistle and my hair was cropped close. I wore a neat, inconspicuous gray business suit, and, in place of the big sombrero, I wore a cap. The outfit seemed foolish to me and I felt very self-conscious.

"I'll thank you to give me my suit case and overcoat," I said to the officer in whose charge I had left them.

"You'll thank me to do what?" he snapped, giving me the up-and-down.

I repeated my request for my belongings.

"Say, how do you get that way? These things belong to a West Texas cowboy. What're you trying to pull off?"

I finally convinced them that I was the rightful owner and their chagrin was amusing; they endeavored to pass the matter off in a careless way, as if they had known who I was from the beginning.

Delays blocked me again. On returning to San Bernardino, I found Sheriff Clark with the papers, but the authorities refused to allow us to remove the men from the state on mere charges. They insisted that we should have grand jury indictments against the men.

We went to San Bernardino, district attorney at Fort Worth, forthwith, and asked him to call a special session of the grand jury. I would turn to Fort Worth to appear before them on the day of my arrival. I left the next day.

I am a sociable soul, which is characteristic of West Texas. When I was addressed by an elderly gentleman sitting across from my section in the Pullman, I was glad to fall into conversation with him. Newspapers had widely circulated the report of the arrest of Ward and Gerber, and the possibility of them being taken back to Fort Worth for trial. So it did not seem out of the way that he should speak of the pair and their capture. He folded his newspaper and looking across at me said:

"My name is Gerber, Perry Gerber. I have just been reading about the capture of those fellows, Ward and Gerber. It looks like they're in for it now doesn't it?"

I told him I was sure they were if I had anything to do with it. I was still suffering from the indignation of the financial string they had given me and my blood pressure was pretty high. Perhaps, at first, I was given to talking a little too freely. Within a few minutes, I had learned better. Now I was over-zealous to pour out the tale of my misadventures. I told Gerber the whole story.

He seemed deeply impressed and to sympathize with me sincerely. In fact, he became so interested that he declared his intention to stop off at Fort Worth to see how the matter turned out.

"I have never been in that town and it will be an opportunity to see it."

He dismissed the matter and leaned back, falling into a doze. As he slept his head slipped into the corner against the window. A strong light played straight into his features. I looked away, outside at the fleeting scenery, but my eyes were drawn back to the man's face by an odd attraction.

TEXAS RAILROADS

TO DEMONSTRATE

RAILROAD COMMISSIONERS OF

OTHER STATES WILL BE

"DOWN" AT MEET

(By Associated Press)

DALLAS, Oct. 14.—Texas railroad commissioners and other states will be "down" at the meeting of the National Association of Railroad and

Utilities Commissioners meet here

October 14-15.

The entertainment feature of the meeting will be a three-day trip to the interesting points of the state.

Show Texas Wonders.

The announcement was made by the Texas railroad commission members, Clarence E. Gilmore, chairman; C. V. Terrell, and Don A. Smith were instrumental in bringing the convention to this state. The Texans are taking the opportunity of showing the "wonders" of the state to a large number of the leading railroad and utility executives of the country.

The Texas commission's announcement of the trip says:

"The trip will be without expense to those taking it, except the small cost of meals when not being entertained. This will not exceed $10 per person for the entire trip.

No Embarrassment.

Those members from states where laws forbid the use of free railroad transportation will not be placed in the slightest embarrassment. The transportation cost of the special train will be borne by the cities and localities visited and not by the railroads—they could not do so under the Texas law.

The trip will include a visit to the famous Rio Grande Valley of Texas on the border of Mexico where there are more than 50,000 acres of irrigated citrus fruit growing and a large portion producing superior fruit. The day's visit and entertainment there will conclude with a dinner in Matamor-ros, Mexico, across the river from Brownsville. The trip will also include a visit to the state capital, Austin, and the state of the United States and such containing much of special interest.

Leave Dallas October 21st.

The special train will leave Dallas on the afternoon of Friday

October 21, after the adjournment of the association, and will return to Dallas Tuesday Morning, October 25. Those coming by New Orleans and Houston railroads will not need to return to Dallas, if they do not care to. Others may desire to go direct from Houston to their homes. Arrangements will be made for them to do so at their own expense. The railroads are to co-operate to the fullest extent, and the special train will be demonstrated what the Texas carriers can do."

Big Spring Plans

Railroad Viaduct

BIG SPRING, Oct. 14.—Big Spring is planning a new viaduct over the T. & P. crossing at Green street. The viaduct is the latest development in Big Spring and the viaduct will pass over the T. & P. viaduct and add several new tracks to the railroad yards making it exceedingly dangerous to travel at this point. Highway No.

2 also passes over these tracks.

The building of this viaduct will add substantially the business firms now located on both sides of the tracks.

HORSES—HORSES—HORSES

A brand new upper-work-end bag for thirty is made of horse hair in either black or brown. It is durable as well as attractive.

DAILY MARKETS

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 14. (AP)—Active export demand for wheat, with buying of wheat futures deliveries against immediate selling of corn, lifted wheat values today, and broke the corn market. Fresh European purchases of North American wheat totaled about 1,000,000 bushels, largely domestic spring. All deliveries of corn touched a new low record for the season.

Closing quotations on wheat were firm 3-8 to 1-2 cent to 3-4 cent net higher, corn 1-1/2 to 1-3/4 cent to 1-1/2 cent down, oats unchanged to 1-1/2 cent off, and provisions at 2 to 5 cents decline to 10 cents advance.

Heavy selling of corn took place, especially in the late dealings. Houses with long connections were aggressive on the hour side, and found the market devoid of support despite killing frost in parts of Illinois and Iowa. Bids were influenced largely by the action of corn.

Provisions likewise reflected the downward trend of the corn market.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 14. (AP)—The cotton market was decidedly reactionary today despite record consumption totals and bullish weekly statistics. Selling induced by the better weather prospects over the belt accounted for the decline which started January contracts down from an early high of 21.24 to 20.87, compared with 21.15 at yesterday's close. The option closed at the low with the general close barely steady at net loss of 24 to 31 points.

Although the cotton bureau's consumption total for September of 57,321 was the largest on record for that month, the market opened 2 points up on near month, but as New York declined later positions moved no change to two points up.

Overhead options were lower than the bid, the high cotton figures for the foreign markets influence. The market moved off right after the start on hedge selling and reaching until January reached 20.86 and March 21.73, 13 to 25 points down from the previous close.

Later in the morning prices rallied moderately on secondary distresses, winter-making the week's fall index 412,600 index. January sold up

COTTONSEED OIL

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (AP)—The cottonseed oil market was less active today. Prices were irregular, closing 18 points lower to 1-1/2 net higher. Sales 15,000 bags. Yellow crude 9.50; prime summer yellow spot 10.30; October closed 10.30; December 11.72; January 11.16; March 11.34; May 11.50.

COTTON GOODS

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (AP)—Cotton goods were steady and quiet today, the best business reported being in warm goods. Blue, purple, slip, and the nine months this year from Calcutta to this continent, averaged 50,000,000 yards, compared with 45,000,000 yards for the past three months. The markets were quiet all day.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 14. (AP)—The cotton market was lower today. Early declines were followed by rallies, but after selling up from 20.78 to 21.04, December eased off to 20.86 in late trading and closed at this figure. The general market choice steady at net declines of 25 to 30 points.

The market opened steady at an advance of 2 points to a decline of 6 points. Buying on a bullish view of the report of the census bureau showing domestic consumption of 27,321 bales for September, against 27,679 last year, was supplied by southern and local selling, prompted by relative easy Liverpool cables and more favorable weather reports, and prices soon weakened.

March sold off to 21.02, active months showing net losses of 20 to 25 points, but trade buying and covering at the decline brought midday rallies, probably encouraged by reports of a steady spot situation in the South. After earlier offerings had been absorbed there was a lull in selling. March rallied to 21.35, active months generally selling a point or two above yesterday's closing quotations, but demand tapered off, and the market weakened under renewed southern selling and liquidation, supposed to include reselling by earlier buyers. The lowest prices of the day were reached in late trading, when March sold at 20.86, compared with 21.15 at the close of the day, with the market correspondingly sensitive to orders either way.

Private cable advices reported hedging combined with Bombay selling in the Egyptian market, and that the turnover in cotton cloth and yarn was unimportant with order book running down.

Exports today 34,500 bales, making 1,609,070 so far this season. Port receipts 77,368. U. S. Port stocks 1,774,424.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Oct. 14. (AP)—Slower business is being reported by a number of large wool houses. A few concerns are still moving a fair quantity of wools, but the market as a whole is spotty and less active than a week ago. The volume of trading is being sustained, a little better on the finer grades of territory than other medium territory. Recent advances in fleece prices are generally an important factor in slowing up of buying.

NATURAL GAS NOW IN USE AT SLATON

NEW FUEL NOW IN GENERAL USE WITH MAINS AND TESTS FINISHED.

SLATON, Oct. 14. — Slaton has natural gas. The distribution system for gas has been completed throughout the city by the construction companies in charge of the project since September 1. The first test was made Tuesday night when gas was turned into the mains.

Other tests this week will determine if the mains are satisfactory and it is expected that by the close of this week or early in the coming week gas service will be available for those having meter connections. This was the announcement made by J. J. Ryan, of American, superintendent of city plants of the West Texas Gas company.

Piping of residences, business buildings and industrial plants is being made rapidly and a large list of consumers will be had within a short time. The gas company officials have said.

Citizens hail the coming of natural gas as a boon to domestic consumers as well as to industry, established and prospective.
