Thant Calls In Big 4 To Avert UN Crisis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant today called in representatives of the four big powers and other key delegations in an effort to head off a U.S.-Soviet confrontation on U.N. finances in the General Assembly.

Thant's move came amid reports that the inaugural session of the 112-nation assembly might either be postponed temporarily or adjourned quickly after its scheduled opening at 3 p.m.

Behind - the - scenes diplomatic activity was intense as the opening hour approached without a solution of the deadlock which created one of the gravest crises ever faced by the world organization.

Key figures in a noon conference in the secretary-general's office were U.S. Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson, Soviet Delegate Nikolai T. Fedorenko, British Prime Minister of State Lord Caradon and French Delegate Roger Seydoux. Others were the retiring assembly president, Carlos Sosa-Rodriguez of Venezuela, and Ambassador Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana, who is slated to be elected president of the assembly's 19th session.

Thant was understood to be trying to pin down an agreement on just what could be done to forestall a confrontation later in the day on the Soviet Union's refusal to pay for U.N. peacekeeping operations.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko proposed that the opening meeting of the assembly's 1964 session this afternoon confine itself to routine actions by acclamation. These would include election of Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana as president and perhaps of the 13 vice presidents, and the admission of Malwai, Malta and Zambia to U.N. membership. Then the assembly would recess for a day or two to allow more time for negotiations on the financial issue.

This would forestall a formal vote on which the United States could invoke Article 19 of the U.N. Charter. It provides that a U.N. member more than two years in arrears on its dues shall lose its vote in the assembly. The Soviet Union's refusal to pay peacekeeping assessments has put it in that category.

Informed sources doubted the United States would agree to the brief postponement. They said the United States wants a longer deferral of the matter and also a Soviet commitment to negotiate on future peacekeeping arrangements.

Ft. Hood Soldiers Killed In Crash

TEMPLE (AP) — Three 2nd Armored Division sergeants from Ft. Hood, all in their 30s, died early today when their car and a tractor-trailer truck collided here.

The men were Floyd Ledford, 37; Charles Waters, 34; and Joe Huffman, 36.

Truck driver Billy Hale, 37, of Irving escaped serious injury.

New Try Made In Rail Dispute

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz tries again today to narrow the difference between three shop craft unions and the railroad industry — a difference that he says amounts to less than 10 cents an hour on a proposed three-year contract.

If the talks fail, the threat of a nationwide rail strike will loom large once again. There is no such threat pressing at the moment for the unions last week postponed the strike deadline pending the outcome of Wirtz' efforts.

After a similar session Monday — earlier negotiations were held in Chicago — Wirtz said the only issue in dispute is money.

Railroad representatives have offered an increase in wages and fringe benefits that amounts to 27 cents an hour over three years — as recom- [illegible] gency board.

The unions — the International Association of Machinists, International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the Sheet Metal Workers' International Association, all AFL-CIO — are demanding about three cents an hour a year more than that.

Band Parents Slate Annual Pecan-Picking

The Snyder High School Band Parents Club has scheduled its annual pecan-picking project for Saturday, Dec. 5.

Ask Prayers For Success Of Venture

By GERALD MILLER

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The world's half-billion Roman Catholics were asked today to pray for the success of Pope Paul VI's trip to India.

The Pope leaves before dawn Wednesday for the International Eucharistic Congress in Bombay. Plans were made for a special program of prayers in the Vatican and in Rome during the four days of his absence.

It will be the longest absence from Italy of any Pope since Pius VII returned in 1814 after five years in France as a prisoner of Napoleon.

The Vatican newspaper L'Osservatore Romano said Catholics everywhere were asked to pray that the Pope's mission to India may be realized.

The Eucharistic Congress is a gathering of Roman Catholic Church representatives from around the world. The Pope's trip is a personal gesture of friendship by its spiritual ruler to all the non-Christian peoples of Asia.

As such it underlines the modernization and renewal occupying the Church since the start of the Vatican Ecumenical Council two years ago.

The papal visit continued to generate controversy in predominantly Hindu India, where militant Hindus viewed it as the start of new Catholic conversion efforts.

Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri was asked in Parliament Monday if he was aware of reports that the Catholic Church would use the visit and the Eucharistic Congress to increase its Indian membership, now about 6.5 million.

The prime minister said he did not think the two events were intended to increase conversions and he hoped that would not be the result.

The Pope, in announcing the trip, said he was going to India as a pilgrim who wanted to meet the Indian people.

King Plans Meet With Edgar Hoover

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — The Rev. Martin Luther King says he plans to ask FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover today to meet with him to discuss their differences.

Hoover had called the Negro civil rights leader "the most notorious liar in the country" at a recent Washington news conference.

Germany Offers Grain Price Drop

By NEL SLIS

BRUSSELS, Belgium (AP)—West Germany offered today to lower its wheat price from $3.20 to $2.99 a bushel, effective in July 1967, if the Common Market will pay West German farmers $525 million over a three-year period to compensate for their losses.

Reaction was cool at a meeting of the six-nation bloc, which is trying to standardize grain prices and farm policies among the members. But Agriculture Minister Edgar Pisani of France, which has been forcing the issue, said "we now can start the discussions."

The offer by the West German government, whose subsidized grain prices are the highest among the six, fell considerably short of meeting the terms of a suggestion by the Common Market's executive commission.

The commission had proposed a price of $2.91 a bushel, with compensation to West German farmers on falling scale beginning at $140 million for the first year.

West Germany's agriculture minister, Werner Schwarz, asked for the payment of $175 million a year for three years.

Ministers from other nations made plain they considered the cost of such an arrangement would be prohibitive. [illegible] man economic minister, Kurt Schmuecker, made their proposal at a meeting of the foreign and agriculture ministers of the six nations — France, Italy, Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg and West Germany.

They agreed to hold a full-dress debate on grain prices on Dec. 14.

France threatened last month to pull out of the market unless West Germany aligned its grain prices with the other partners. Failure to agree on grain prices is blocking formulation of a market agricultural policy, needed before the West European bloc can enter negotiations to cut agricultural tariffs in the Kennedy Round talks in Geneva.

VIET CLAIMS

Cambodians Join Attack

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The South Vietnamese Defense Ministry charged today that Cambodian troops and gunboats supported Viet Cong guerrillas in two attacks Monday on Vietnamese units near the Cambodian border.

A patrol moving within 100 yards of the border in Chau Doc Province was hit by Communist guerrillas supported by 100 Cambodian soldiers, the ministry charged.

Mortar fire zeroed in on the government patrol from across the border, killing three men and wounding one, the ministry said. The Viet Cong and Cambodians withdrew after 20 minutes when Vietnamese reinforcements arrived, the ministry added.

Two hours later, four Cambodian patrol boats moved up a canal and blasted an outpost in the area killing one Vietnamese soldier, the ministry said.

In Phnom Penh, the Cambodian capital, the Cambodian chief of state, Prince Norodom Sihanouk, said the talks his government will open Dec. 7 in New Delhi, India, with the United States would deal essentially with the halting of "aggression" against Cambodia from South Viet Nam.

Sihanouk said the question of Cambodia's frontiers and resumption of American aid to Cambodia would not be discussed. He added that even if the talks yield positive results, Cambodia will break relations with the United States immediately if it is attacked again.

A single-engine fighter crashed or was shot down 33 miles northeast of Saigon today, but its U.S. Air Force pilot parachuted to safety. A Vietnamese observer who was in the plane was missing and feared dead.

On the political front, a source close to South Viet Nam's Buddhist leadership said Buddhists might turn again to suicide by fire in their campaign to overthrow Premier Tran Van Huong's government.

Stanleyville Under Fire

By KENNETH L. WHITING

LEOPOLDVILLE, Congo (AP) — Mercenaries have rescued from 155 to 160 rebel hostages in a cotton-growing region about 260 miles north of Stanleyville a Belgian Embassy spokesman said today.

The report came as the rebels fought back in Stanleyville, the fallen insurgent capital seized a week ago. The airport was closed by rebel fire and most of the city was reported in rebel hands.

A fourth American missionary was reported slain by the rebels William McChesney, 28, Phoenix, Ariz. His parents in Phoenix said they had received reports from his organization, the World Wide Evangelical Crusade, that he was killed at Wamba.

The report of the latest rescue operation said most of those rescued were Belgian.

There was no word from a fifth U.S. missionary who remained in rebel territory at Bopepe. She is Mary Baker of Richmond, Va., whose unevangelized field mission is at Bala Cynwyd, Pa.

The hostages were freed at Dingila and Bambili in the northeastern Congo.

Some of the hostages have already been flown to Leopoldville.

Bambili and Dingila are in the heart of a cotton-growing region about 110 miles northeast of Buta, the mercenaries' operational base.

The embassy spokesmen said that the rescue reduced the number of Belgians still trapped by the rebels to about 250, although previous reports had said 500 to 1,000 whites remained after the Belgian paratroop rescue mission ended last week. Most of these were said to be Belgians.

Congolese government troops, led by 30 white mercenaries, captured the town of Bunia Monday, north of Stanleyville, where several hundred white hostages were believed held. None was found. It was believed they had been taken farther north by the rebels.

About 680 Belgian paratroopers who jumped into Stanleyville and Paulis last week and rescued between 1,500 and 1,700 whites returned to Brussels today. Their commander, Col. Charles Laurent, said the decision to terminate the rescue operation "appeared wise."

Laurent and other officers of his force agreed that the missing whites were scattered over too large an area for them to reach.

"The area held by the rebels is so big," said Laurent. "We operated where there was the largest number of whites."

But Antoine Saintraint, a member of the Belgian Parliament who returned to Brussels today from Leopoldville and Stanleyville, accused the United States of ordering a premature end to the rescue operation.

The Belgian government said there was absolutely no pressure from the United States to end the operation. U.S. planes ferried the Belgians to and from Stanleyville. The Belgian government said it and the U.S. government had agreed the rescue operation could not be extended effectively beyond Stanleyville and Paulis.

Seven Perish In Blaze; Father Held

BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Seven brothers and sisters perished today in a fire which destroyed their East Baltimore home.

Police arrested the husband of the family about five hours later and obtained a warrant charging him with arson in connection with the fire.

Police said the husband, Kenneth A. Smith, 38-year-old truck driver, was booked for investigation of arson after he was arrested at a bar.

Court records showed that Smith's wife, Marian, had sworn out a warrant last week charging him with assault by threatening.

Police said they found a gasoline can in the house, and were told by a 15-year-old survivor that he had been pushed back into the burning house as he tried to escape. The boy escaped from another exit.

Mrs. Smith and four children survived. Deputy Fire Chief Roland Wett identified the dead as Janet, 1; Gary, 2; Kevon, 4; Annette, 6; Timothy, 7; Darlene, 8; and Vivian, 13.

Police said they were told by a neighbor of being awakened by the sound of breaking glass. The neighbor saw the fire and a man standing in front of the house, watching. Officers quoted the neighbor as saying the man just stood there as the children screamed.

Senate Reopens Hearings In Bobby Baker's Dealings

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Rules Committee reopens its Bobby Baker investigation today to take testimony on an alleged $25,000 political payoff.

After a brief closed strategy meeting late in the morning, the committee planned to launch public hearings immediately with Don B. Reynolds, a local insurance man, on the witness stand.

Reynolds has said Baker, a former secretary to the Senate Democrats, and Matthew H. McCloskey, a veteran Democratic fund raiser, were linked in an illegal diversion of $25,000 to the 1960 Kennedy-Johnson campaign fund.

McCloskey, ambassador to Ireland in the Kennedy administration, [illegible] knowledge of any payoff. Baker, in earlier hearings, invoked his constitutional privilege under the Fifth Amendment to refuse to testify on matters that might incriminate him.

The new round of hearings stems from a speech Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., made to the Senate Sept. 1. He charged that the alleged payoff came from the government contract a McCloskey corporation held for construction of the Washington, D.C., Stadium.

Quoting Reynolds, Williams said McCloskey paid the Silver Spring, Md., insurance man $35,000 too much for a performance bond on the project, with Reynolds to keep $10,000 and the remaining $25,000 of the overpayment to be funneled through Baker into the Kennedy-Johnson fund. Federal law forbids corporations [illegible] political campaigns.

Republican committee members tried unsuccessfully to have the politically explosive investigation conducted during the presidential campaign. They were overruled by the Democratic majority.

Baker, who quit his $19,600-a-year government job in October 1963, served directly under President Johnson when Johnson was the Democratic leader of the Senate.

Reynolds has said he is eager to testify and there were indications he may attempt to spring some surprises from the witness stand.

Lennox P. McLendon, the committee's special counsel, told a news conference Monday he interviewed Reynolds Friday about the alleged payoff but that Reynolds refused to answer [illegible] was present.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I received a clipping from your column in this morning's mail. It was about a neighbor who had a houseful of cats. The house smelled to high heaven, there were cat hairs all over the furniture and the place was filthy, and for that reason nobody wanted to visit her.

Well, I must be that person because I do have a houseful of cats, but I would like to say something:

Half of these cats are not mine! It seems that when anyone in this town wants to get rid of a cat, or some new-born kittens, they drop them off in my yard because they know I love cats and I will give them a good home. I called the Humane Society once to come and pick up some cats that weren't mine. They came out, but were unable to catch them. Now, if you can tell me how to get rid of the cats that are not mine, I will be glad to do so. I will not destroy them.

CAT LOVER IN PHOENIX

DEAR ABBY: There are worse people than cat - lovers, you know. I am referring to people who tear something out of a newspaper and mail it to someone without signing their name.

Someone mailed me your column. In it was a letter about a neighbor who lived alone except for a houseful of cats. They said the house stank, the furniture was filthy, there were cat hairs all over the place and that was the reason nobody ever wanted to visit the woman. They went on to say that the woman herself was a very nice person and they didn't want to hurt her feelings by telling her. Well, Abby, in the first place, I do not have a "houseful" of cats, I have only 16. In the second place, if I wanted company I would invite them. I do not miss people. My cats are better friends to me than any of my neighbors.

LOVE CATS IN CHARLOTTE, N. C.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Somebody wanted to be sure I didn't miss that letter in your column about the lady who kept a lot of cats, so they tore it out of the CHICAGO'S AMERICAN and mailed it to me. I wasn't fooled for a minute. I know who sent it. She's a neighbor of mine who loves birds. Tell her to sweep her own doorstep first. At least my cats know what a sandbox is for. She lets her birds out of their cages and they fly all over her house! Then she burns incense to cover up the odor. Whew!

TO THE BIRD LADY FROM THE CAT LADY

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Please put this in your column for the neighbor who complained about my cats, but didn't want to "hurt my feelings." My house is as clean as any house in this neighborhood, and my cats do not smell! Of all the house pets, the cat is by far the cleanest. If my neighbors were as clean as my cats, I'd be satisfied. If you think you can get me to move, you are sadly mistaken. I was here first, and if you don't like having me for a neighbor, YOU can move!

MINDING MY OWN BUSINESS IN MADISON

DEAR ABBY: I read about that woman who collected cats and the neighbors complained. She sounds like my mother. Did that letter come from Victoria, Texas?

The Christmas issue of "The War Cry" will be available to the citizens of Snyder according to R. C. Patton, chairman of the local Salvation Army Service Unit. "The War Cry" is the official magazine of the Salvation Army. Members of the Abilene Salvation Arm Corp will be here in December to offer this publication for sale to the public.

According to Major Alfred C. Parker, head of the Abilene Corp, this special issue of "The War Cry" is beautifully printed in four colors. Inspiring articles, stories, poems, and pictures carry out the Christmas message. The Major stated that the Christmas messages in the magazine of hope, faith, love, and charity will be inspiring to every home during the holiday season.

The Local Service Unit of the Salvation Army serves the people in need of emergency assistance in the city and area.

New Jersey's House Speaker Thankful For Family Of Men

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Marion West Higgins, the first woman ever elected speaker of the New Jersey Assembly, is glad she never had a daughter.

"If I ever had a daughter, I'd have had to learn to sew," Mrs. Higgins said during an interview Monday after she was selected by her Republican colleagues to preside over the 60-member assembly in 1965.

She and her husband William F. Higgins, have two sons who are both football players.

"So I'm a football fiend," she said. "I go to as many football games as I can."

Her son, William, 20, a junior at the U.S. Naval Academy at Annapolis, is an end on Navy's junior varsity football squad. Her younger son, Robert, 18, played fullback on Rutgers University's freshman football team this seaon.

As New Jersey's first woman speaker Mrs. Higgins said she expects to rely more on friendly persuasion than on the toughness usually associated with her male counterparts.

Nevertheless, she expects the job to be challenging and a bit trying at times. "It might be a little rough. It always is," she said, "but I'm not afraid of a good fight."

As Republican leader this year, she kept her GOP colleagues in line on most key votes. The Republicans hold a slim voting edge over the Democrats.

Monday, she delivered 33 votes, two more than required for passage, on a measure to set up a 12-member commission to come up with an interim reapportionment plan by February.

With the recent U.S. and New Jersey Supreme Court "one man, one vote" reapportionment decisions, she expects a hectic, action-packed year. She also expects the Democrats to apply a little more pressure than usual because there will be a gubernatorial election next November.

But Mrs. Higgins, an assemblywoman since 1960, believes she'll be able to keep the lower house in order. "They're always gentlemen," she said. There are two other women members of the assembly.

Mrs. Higgins has been active in Bergen County politics and civic affairs for the past 10 years.

ON VIET NAM WAR

LBJ Talks With Advisers Today

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson met today with his top military and diplomatic advisers, including Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor, to decide whether new steps should be taken to intensify the war against Communist guerrilla forces in South Viet Nam.

The long-debated issue of whether air strikes should be ordered against Communist supply lines through Laos or supply bases in North Viet Nam was reported up for discussion and possible decision.

Taylor, U.S. envoy to Saigon, has been conferring with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and other policy makers since Thanksgiving and these officials presumably had recommendations ready for the President in advance of the White House session.

For several days, however, administration leaders have been cautioning against speculation that radical changes in U.S. policy were in the offing. The President himself declared at a news conference last Saturday that he did not expect any "dramatic announcement" to follow today's meeting.

Informants said any decisions affecting the conduct of the war undoubtedly would be kept secret until they could be put into action.

Taylor said in advance of his return to Washington last Thursday that air strikes against the Red supply lines, which run from North Viet Nam through the jungles of Laos, and against infiltration bases in North Viet Nam could help overcome the Viet Cong drive for control of South Viet Nam. He cautioned that there were arguments for and against such courses.

On reaching Washington, Taylor said that there were so many "variables" in the Vietnumese situation that no one program would provide the answer.

Officials said privately that the struggle has not been going well for the U.S.-supported South Vietnamese government, but they emphasized that in their view the problems are not primarily military but political. Even as Taylor returned here the new civilian regime of Premier Tran Van Huong was under heavy pressure from dissident political elements, students and Buddhists, and was struggling for survival.

The United States has more than 20,000 military advisers in South Viet Nam and gives the country about $500 million a year in military and economic assistance. Whether aid should be increased or used in other ways are among the questions understood to be under review in the current round of conferences.

The major issue of whether to broaden the war presents the President with a complex problem. A major consideration is the possibility of increased counteraction from Communist North Viet Nam, backed by Red China, if Washington should order air strikes. The Soviet Union has warned it would not "remain indifferent to the fate of a fraternal Socialist country and is ready to render the necessary assistance."

Former Area Resident Dies In Colo. City

Funeral services were to be held today in Colorado City for Mrs. Almer Prescott Stewart, 75, who died Sunday in Root Memorial Hospital there Sunday.

Mrs. Stewart, who lived on a farm north of Loraine, was a native of Dodd City, and had lived in Scurry County for a time, marrying the late Thomas Prescott in Ira in 1908. Mr. Prescott died in 1935. Mrs. Stewart married J. W. Stewart in 1944. He died in 1950.

Mrs. Stewart is survived by eight sons; four daughters, including Mrs. E. L. Chitsey of Hermleigh and formerly of Snyder; one brother, 33 grandchildren and 34 great - grandchildren.

The first natural gas well was drilled in the United States in 1821 by William A. Hart at Fredonia, N.Y. The well was only 27 feet deep but it supplied the people of the town with enough gas to light their homes and businesses.

Census To Update Farm Facts Here

The 1964 Census of Agriculture, now being conducted by the Bureau of the Census, U. S. Department of Commerce, in Scurry County, will bring up to date the farm and ranch statistics last collected in 1959.

Here are a few of the many facts recorded in the 1959 agriculture census for this County:

There were 742 farms and ranches in 1959, compared with 945 in 1954. The average size of farm and ranch was 766.5 acres in 1959, compared with 651.3 acres in 1954.

The value of products sold by the County's farmers and ranchers in 1959 was $7,406,895. The value of all crops sold was $5,005,011. The value of all livestock and livestock products sold was $2,401,884.

The 1964 national Census of Agriculture is the 18th in a series which began in 1840. Because of the rapid changes American agriculture has been undergoing in recent years, Census Bureau officials regard the current census as one of the most significant ever taken. They ask every farmer and rancher to cooperate in compiling an accurate record of these changes by filling out the census form he receives in the mail and holding the completed questionnaire until a census taker calls for it.

Guilty Pleas Heard

Two pleas of guilty to DWI charges were heard this morning in county court. Both cases had been filed by Snyder city police.

Leonard Thomas Horn of Odessa, and Woodrow W. McDaniel Jr. of Snyder were each fined $100 plus court costs of $26.35 and were sentenced to three days in jail.

Santa Best Reconsider

MOSCOW, Idaho (AP) — Santa Claus ran afoul of his own good intentions here last week when he tried to apply a formula he normally uses to keep parents in the good graces of their children.

When a child asks for a specific gift, Santa usually answers, "I'll do the best I can."

But one tot dropped a bombshell Saturday when she asked Santa for a baby sister.

"I'll do the. . ." started Santa. But he was drowned out by the hearty laughter of several parents standing by.

Police Issue Monthly Report

The City police monthly report shows that during the month of November a total of $5,099 was assessed in fines in the corporation court.

Of this amount, $4,788 was collected, and $311 was credited for time spent in jail. Non - traffic fines amounted to $1,705 of the total with $1,474 of that amount being collected and the balance being served out in jail.

Seven city police cases were transferred to the county authorities for prosecution. These were two DWI cases; two cases of minors in possession of alcohol; two prohibited weapons charges; and one assault with intent to murder case.

Citations for speeding led the list of traffic violations during the month with 144 citations being issued.

During the month 26 traffic mishaps were reported, two of which involved injuries. No traffic deaths were recorded in the city during November.

Police department vehicles traveled 24,066 miles in performance of their duties during the month.

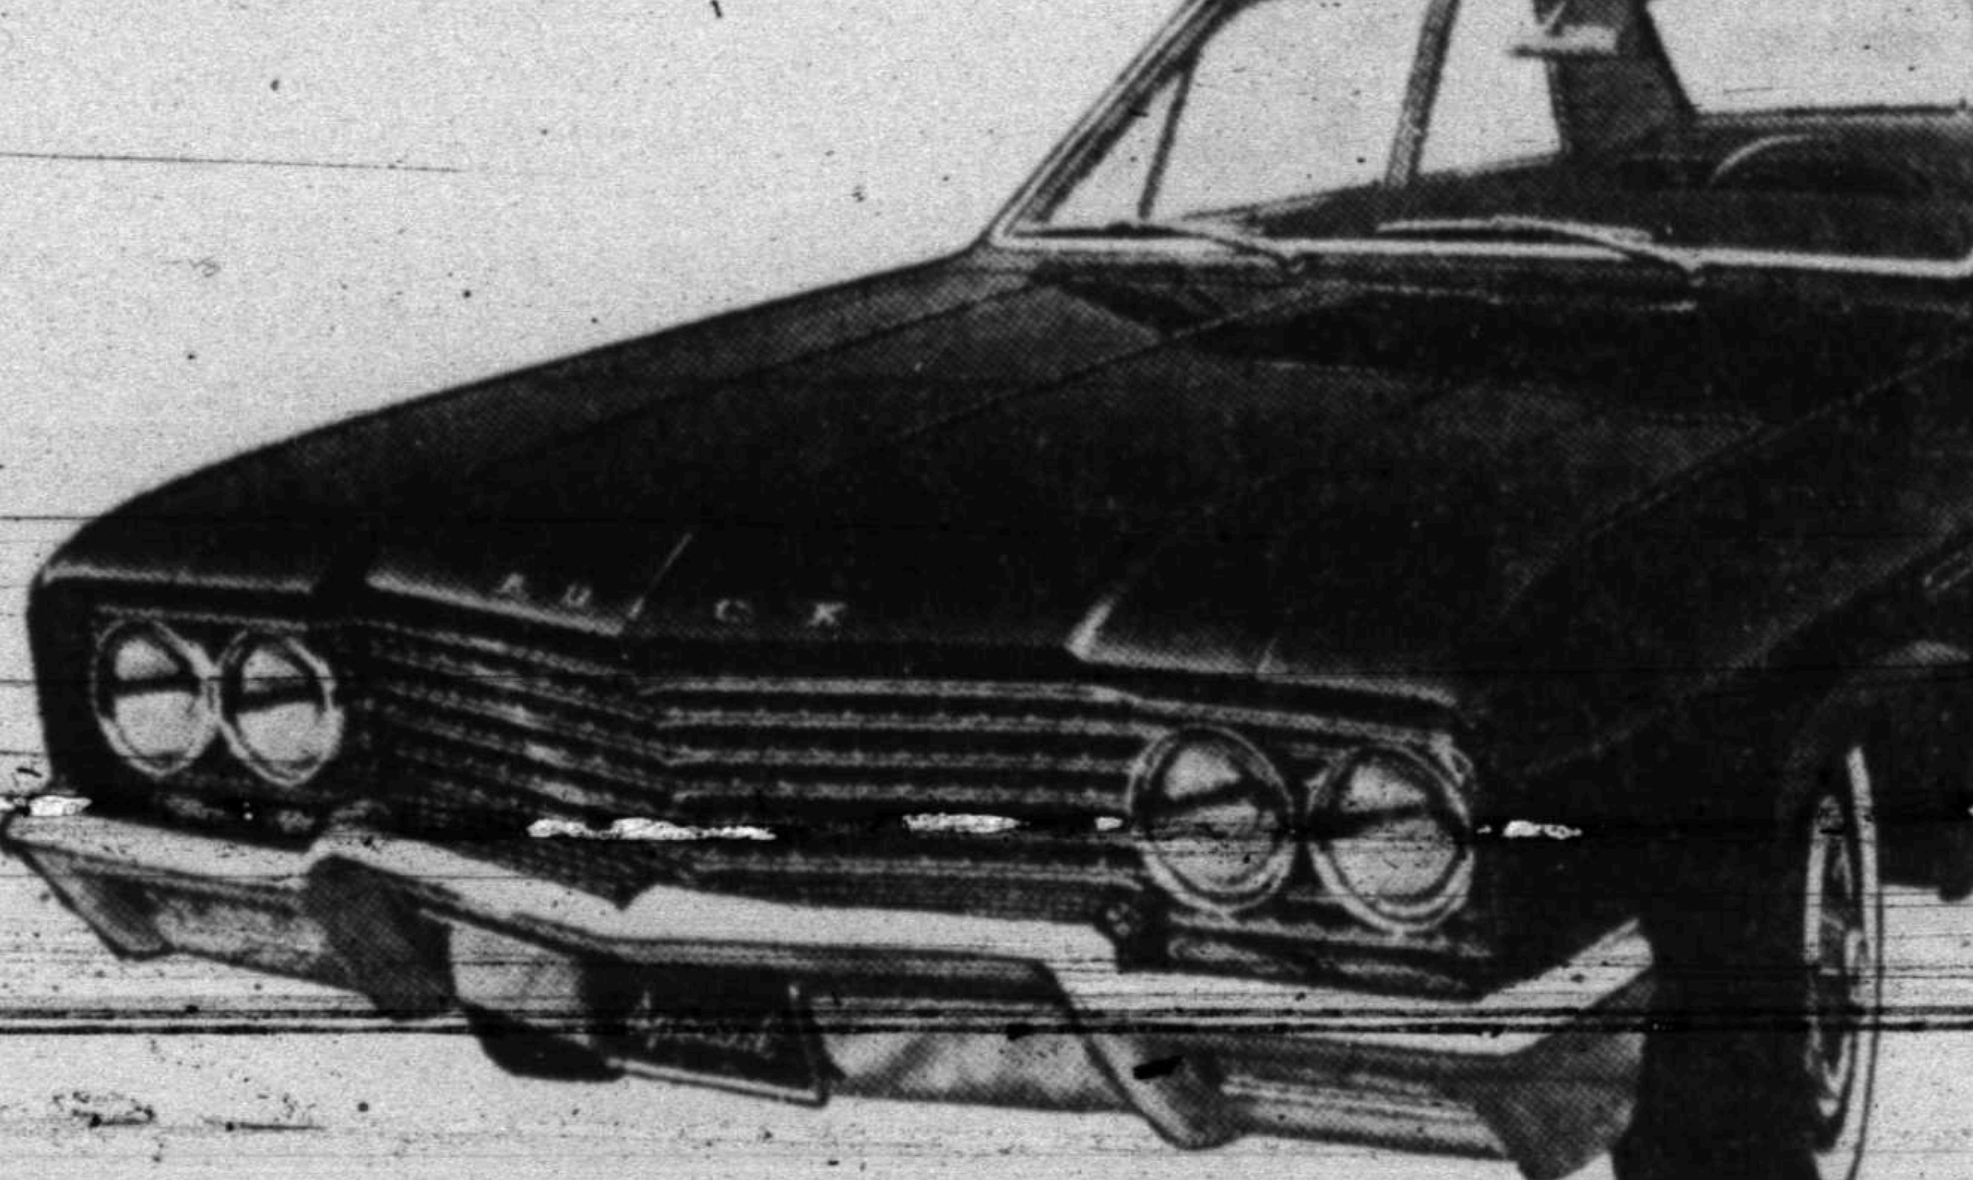
The Buicks



are coming.

(Specials, Skylarks, LeSabres, Wildcats, Electra 225's and sleek Rivieras. The Buicks are rolling again.)

All those Buicks are back in town. Why not drop in for a test drive?

Let us show you how great the new Buicks feel. And look. And how great you'll feel. And look.

Consider them all. Give yourself plenty of time to soak in the beauty of it all. Note the style, the comfort, the dash. Consider the prices—and the fact that owning a Buick costs a lot less than you expected.

Then pick the car you want, and give it to yourself as a reward for waiting. (We're sorry about that.) Aren't you glad you did?

Wouldn't you really rather have a Buick?

Mariner's Course Perfect; Red's Orb Follows Closely

By DIAL TORGERSON

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — U.S. spacecraft Mariner 4 sped at 7,226 miles an hour today toward distant Mars — two days ahead of a Soviet rival in history's first interplanetary race.

Mariner is due on the outskirts of Mars July 14.

Somewhere behind it — perhaps even in the same trajectory — is the Zond 2 cosmic rocket the Russians fired Monday.

Mariner's builders at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory here admit Zond 2 might get there first.

Mariner is cruising now, its speed pre-set, moving in a perfect position for the next crucial stop in its 350-million-mile flight: a midcourse maneuver to refine its trajectory. It probably will come later this week.

The midcourse maneuver may increase Mariner's speed slightly, enough to cut a few hours on a 229-day journey.

Soviet scientists, aware of Mariner's schedule, could rig Zond 2 to pass it, if simple speed is their goal, JPL experts said.

Robert J. Parks, JPL's assistant director for lunar and planetary projects, said, "it depends on whether the Soviets are attempting to minimize the flight time or maximize the payload."

The Russians' last attempt to shoot a probe to Mars was in 1962. Its radio failed 3½ months out. It was programmed for a 259-day trip, 30 days more than Mariner's current expedition.

Scientists were inclined to doubt that Soviet scientists fired Zond 2 to pass Mariner 4 as a cold war gambit.

The reasoning is that this is the optimum period — because of the positions of earth and Mars — for such a probe. Zond's following Mariner may be mere coincidence.

Also, it takes up to two years to plan a flight like those now being flown by the two unmanned craft. Last-minute changes just aren't made.

The 575-pound Mariner rocketed aloft Saturday from Cape Kennedy, Fla. Its mission is to take television pictures of Mars from a distance of about 8,000 miles.

The Russians haven't said what they hope to achieve with Zond 2. They haven't released details of its speed, either, or its weight. Their 1962 Mars probe weighed 1,965 pounds.

Youth, Race Distinguish UN Candidate

By WILLIAM N. OATIS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Alex Quaison-Sackey of Ghana, slated for election today as president of the U.N. General Assembly, will have two distinctions in the office.

He will be the youngest president and the first African Negro in the post in the 19 years the assembly has been holding annual sessions.

Quaison-Sackey is only 40. The youngest previous president was Paul-Henri Spaak, now foreign minister of Belgium, who was 47 when he presided over the first session in 1946.

Quaison-Sackey has been head of Ghana's U.N. delegation since mid-1959. He is a broad-faced, broad-bodied man of something more than medium height whose ways reflect the two cultures, African and European, that produced him.

He studied at Oxford and read law at Lincoln's Inn in London. His English is good. He wears tailored Western clothes by day, but he sometimes puts on a toga of brightly checked West African kente cloth for Ghanaian receptions at night.

He habitually carries a leather-thronged, brilliantly painted stick, an African symbol of authority. Though not a tribal chief, he is related to tribal chiefs.

His official biographical sketch lists his hobbies as golf, fishing and reading detective stories. But he is also an expert on African drums. He once performed on them at a New York night club.

Quaison-Sackey was born Aug. 9, 1924, in Winneba, 40 miles west of Accra on the Gulf of Guinea. His homeland was then the British colony of the Gold Coast.

After the Gold Coast became independent Ghana on March 6, 1957, he as assigned to the Ghana high commissioner's office in London. He was on Ghana's delegation to the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade in Geneva that same year and remained with the office until 1959, when he was sent to the United Nations. In 1961 he was named a vice president of the General Assembly. He represented Ghana on the Security Council in 1962-63.

He lives with his wife and five children in a commodious house with a large garden in suburban New Rochelle.

The Yankees have won 99 World Series games and lost 65. They have lost 8 of the last 11 games.

Icy Air Mass Spreads Across East

By The Associated Press

A large mass of icy air spread across most of the eastern half of the nation today and the season's coldest weather chilled much of the Southland.

Freezing temperatures covered areas as far south as northern Florida and along the Gulf Coast. Below-zero marks again were reported in northern Midwest areas but not as low as Monday morning.

A warming trend was indicated for much of the Midwest. The mercury failed to move much above zero in some parts of the northern Midwest Monday after early-morning readings as low as 31 below zero in Valley City, N.D.

Clear skies covered most of the southern half of the nation. The mercury dropped to 29 in Mobile, Ala., and Shreveport, La., 28 in Jackson, Miss., and 32 in Pensacola, Fla. It was 22 in Atlanta and 15 in Louisville. Miami's low was 54.

Snow flurries flecked scattered sections along the western slope of the Appalachians and along the southeastern shores of the Great Lakes. Snow flurries also fell in the northern Rockies and light snow spread across the northern Plains.

In the West, heavy rains doused areas in the northern half of the Pacific Coast. Strong winds hit some areas.

East Carolina College joined the Southern Conference last May.

Hearings Slated On Bracero Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department will resume hearings in Miami, Fla., Wednesday on whether the government should halt or restrict importation of foreign farm workers.

At a one-day hearing Monday in Washington, spokesmen for farm organizations said closing the borders to foreign workers would create a labor shortage in many areas. Representatives of labor, religious and political organizations testified in favor of restrictions on admitting such workers.

The hearings were called to consider proposed new standards for importing foreign farm labor after two special federal programs expire Dec. 31.

After that date, any such workers could enter this country only under the Immigration Act and only if the secretary of labor certified they would not hurt wage levels and working conditions of U.S. workers.

Chiefly affected are workers from Mexico—called braceros—and the British West Indies.

After hearings in Miami, in Dallas Friday and in San Francisco next Monday, the transcripts will be sent to Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz for consideration when labor standards and other regulations for importing workers under the Immigration Act are formulated.

At Monday's session, continuation of the import program in some form was urged by representatives of the American Farm Bureau Federation, the National Council of Agricultural Employers representing growers in 36 states and the National Potato Council.

Joseph Garofalo of Vineland, N.J., speaking for a New Jersey growers group, said farmers in New Jersey, Delaware and Pennsylvania have found it necessary late in the season to employ some foreign workers from the West Indies.

He said repeated efforts to recruit U.S. workers "have been almost total failures" because most of them don't stay on the job long enough to justify the expense of importing them.

Doyle Burns, executive director of the potato council, said many U.S. agricultural areas would have a shortage of labor if foreign workers cannot be brought in.

Groups whose spokesmen urged restrictions on or an end to the importation of foreign workers include the National Catholic Rural Life Conference, the Catholic Council of the Spanish Speaking, Americans for Democratic Action, Council of Christian Social Action, Americans Veterans Committee, National Council on the Education of Migrant Children, the AFL-CIO Amalgamated Meat Cutters Union and the industrial union department of the AFL-CIO.

The Rev. James Vizzard, chairman of the National Catholic Rural Life Conference, said it would be "an outrageous violation of the clear intent of Congress" to permit continued importation of braceros and other foreign workers.

"In case anyone has forgotten," he said, "Congress halted the bracero program so that the poorest of America's poor, our own migrant farm workers, would have some chance to get better jobs and better wages and working conditions without the competition of hordes of destitute aliens."

Necessity Begets Invention; And This One Is A Dandy!

By JOE MCKNIGHT

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — If necessity is the mother of invention, Dist. Court Judge William C. Kandt has one of the neatest necessities ever to adorn a court room.

She is Mrs. Robert A. (Sylvia) Steele, 30, a statuesque former fashion model, who took over Monday as court bailiff, a job generally thought to be only for strong-armed men.

Kandt, a veteran of the state court bench, said hiring the attractive brunette is a practical solution to his growing need for a secretary and receptionist.

State law permits him to hire only a court reporter and bailiff.

"The court reporter is not always available for office work, so the thought developed to merge the office of bailiff into two or three jobs," he explained.

Mrs. Steele, legal secretary, will serve the judge as bailiff, secretary, receptionist, probation officer, domestic relations investigator, deputy sheriff and clerk. She also will take charge of the courtroom and of any jury in Kandt's court.

The Steeles moved here recently from Dallas, Tex. He is an industrial water-treatment specialist.

"The judge called me about the job," she said. "I think he learned of me through mutual friends. I think there's a need for the woman's touch in a judge's chambers."

She worked as a secretary to a chemistry professor while studying business law at Southern Methodist University. Between classes, on weekends and between office jobs, she worked as a fashion model.

Mrs. Steele joked about taking judo lessons and noted that her height helps in demanding respect.

"I'm 5-feet, 10½ inches barefoot," she said. "Sometimes high heels make me about 6 feet, 1-inch."

Kandt assured her she won't need any judo.

"The availability of deputies and police officers make it unnecessary for her to escort people to and from jail," he said. "She may, on occasion, have charge of people waiting to come into court."

Americans last year devoured 13.6 billion hot dogs, or 71 per capita. And Nathan's in Coney Island claims to sell more hot dogs at one stand than any other in the world.

Lion Stays, For Present

WILLOW GROVE, Pa. (AP) — Howard Sautter has won the first round in his battle to keep his pet lion, Leo.

But the war isn't over.

The Department of Public Safety in Abington Township, a Philadelphia suburb, decided at a meeting Monday night that the 300-pound lion can stay in Sautter's backyard.

However, the board told the township solicitor to work up an ordinance forbidding the keeping of wild animals.

Sautter, a filling station owner, appeared at the board meeting and defended Leo as "the most docile lion in the United States, a harmless cripple that never hurt anybody."

Some 50 neighbors recently signed a petition asking the township supervisors to force Sautter to find another home for Leo. They complained its roar was disturbing — and frightening.

Time Is Ripe For Johnson To Assert His Leadership

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, far more wrapped up in home problems than foreign ones, has had a year to prepare himself for asserting world leadership.

He has asserted very little of it yet in any truly visible way. Just because his foreign experience is limited, it remains to be seen how good he is in this field, or if he is good at all.

At this moment American foreign leadership is beginning to look a little beat up and tattered. Two good examples: the disintegrating war in Viet Nam and this country's rickety NATO alliance with the West Europeans.

But he must prove himself soon, for time is running out on him.

Today two of his biggest immediate problems were in his lap, seeking solution: What to do about the Soviet Union in the United Nations and how to win the Vietnamese war or at least not lose it in total disaster.

Perhaps in his first year, when he had simply inherited the presidency, Johnson was reluctant to be pushy in foreign affairs, wondering if he could claim the full endorsement of the nation.

He can have no such reluctance now after the approval he got in his landslide election victory.

He has provided none of the sense of life and movement that distinguished President John F. Kennedy in foreign affairs, even when he accomplished little or blundered, as he did in the Cuban invasion disaster of 1961.

In time the action and goodwill Kennedy put into foreign affairs may be considered his greatest contribution to the presidency. At the same time, he was no match for Johnson in getting programs through Congress.

Johnson, as President since Kennedy's death, necessarily has had final say in this country's foreign decisions. But they have had none of Kennedy's shine if only for the reason that while Kennedy acted in full view of the nation and the world with his decisions and his programs, Johnson has called the shots most of the time from offstage and out of view, using aides as emissaries.

Since that fatal Nov. 22, 1963, in Dallas, Johnson seems to have had three main occupations, all of them domestic: getting programs through Congress, running for election, and in the weeks since then at his Texas ranch getting his 1965 budget and programs ready for the Congress returning in January.

In his first year Kennedy put the Peace Corps in motion, stepped up the Vietnamese war, ordered the resumption of nuclear tests after the Soviet Union broke the test-ban moratorium, met with the then Soviet premier, Nikita Khrushchev, in Vienna, with French President Charles de Gaulle in Paris and with then British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan in London.

Johnson inherited a bad situation in Viet Nam, but it has steadily been getting worse. Just a few weeks before he took office, President Ngo Dinh Diem was assassinated and a new government took over. Since then, one regime after another has been toppled.

Meanwhile, the Communist guerrillas of North Viet Nam have been making hash of the resistance put up by the American-backed South Vietnamese, who at this minute seem to be falling apart.

Now the American ambassador to Saigon, Maxwell D. Taylor, is home to confer with Johnson today on how to win or at least escape disaster. Defeat may mean the loss of all of Southeast Asia to Red China.

The decisions Johnson makes now will be fateful.

Today at the United Nations, this country faced a showdown, unless an escape or some other solution is found. The reason: the Soviet Union's refusal to pay its share, $52.6 million, of the world organization's peace-keeping costs.

But For Mail Boyle Might Never Know:

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

Embezzling now is a billion-dollar industry in America. The typical embezzler is 36, has two children and has about a $150 a week salary.

Can you name four U.S. presidents who married women older than themselves? They were George Washington, Millard Fillmore, Benjamin Harrison and Warren G. Harding.

No wonder your car breaks down now and then. It contains approximately 15,000 individual parts.

At an altitude of 30,000 feet, it is just as cold over the equator as over the North Pole. One of the lowest temperatures ever recorded — 130 degrees below zero — was taken at 55,000 feet over Java in the East Indies.

Professional football now is big business. It cost about $1½ million a year to operate a team. This includes a lump sum of $600,000 in pay for the lumos a 45-man squad takes during the season.

Quotable notables: "You've got to love what's lovable, and hate what's hateable. It takes brains to see the difference" — Robert Frost.

Nobody knows for certain the actual date of Christ's birth. In 354 A.D. the bishop of Rome chose Dec. 25. During Colonial days the children of Dutch families in New York celebrated St. Nicholas' eve on Dec. 5. St. Nick, astride a big white horse, left cookies and cakes at the homes of good children, birch rods at those of bad children.

America's 42 million amateur gardeners spend an estimated $4 billion annually pursuing their hobby, not including the cost of liniment for their backaches.

Birds that have well-developed flight muscles usually have more dark meat. So, if you want all white meat, does this mean you should order an ostrich?

Although schoolchildren have been tested for more than half a century to determine their intelligence quotient, psychologists still haven't reached agreement on just what "intelligence" really is.

Folklore: Cut a child's fingernails before its first birthday, and it will wind up a thief. If you fall going upstairs, that's a sign your credit is getting better. See a white horse, then spit over your little finger, and you'll find money soon. Any bridegroom who wears out the suit he was married in will never become wealthy.

If you are 65 or over, the odds are 2 to 1 that you don't have any of your upper teeth left.

It was Dr. Theodore Reik who observed, "Even the wisest men make fools of themselves about women, and even the most foolish women are wise about men."

Junior Editors Quiz on MAGNETS

NORTH MAGNETIC POLE
THE EARTH IS A MAGNET
MEET A MIGHTY FORCE: MAGNETISM

QUESTION: What makes a magnet pick up things?

* * *

ANSWER: Magnetism is a wonderful force which man has learned to use in many ways, from generating electricity to operating compasses. Scientists do not know all of magnetism's secrets, but most think it has to do with the way molecules are arranged. Think of an iron bar. Its tiny molecules (symbolized by the two diagrams at upper right) each have a negative electrical pole on one end and a positive one on the other (symbolized in black and white). In an unmagnetized metal bar, the molecules are all jumbled together. When magnetized, the molecules straighten out in orderly rows like soldiers at attention. Their positive and negative poles each point the same way, making a strong pull as they attract all together. This attraction can reach out beyond the metal, making the almost magical force which enables Joe's magnet to pick up bits of metal as shown in the picture. The magnetized mineral, loadstone or lodestone, first introduced mankind to magnetism. The earth itself is one huge magnet with two centers of attraction, the North and South Magnetic Poles. When a bit of loadstone was hung from a cord, it would point north or south attracted to one of these poles. This led to the development of the compass.

* * *

FOR YOU TO DO: If you wrap an electric wire a number of times around a soft iron bar, and send a current through the wire, the bar will become an electromagnet as long as the current flows. Electromagnets are essential to our modern way of living. Find out why.

House Republicans Debate Changes In Party's Image

By GEOFFREY GOULD

WASHINGTON (AP) — Much phone calling, letter writing and huddling is going on among younger House Republicans. The subject: Can they and should they try to change the image of their party's congressional leadership?

The latest bubble to surface from this inner ferment is a call by a group of so-called "Young Turk" Republicans for a party caucus in mid-December.

House Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana had set the meeting for the morning of Jan. 4, the day Congress reopens. This presumably would leave time for only the usual routine party matters, not for a major discussion of party policy.

Halleck is the main projector in the House of the "Old Guard" image which some younger Republicans object to and want to change.

Halleck, vacationing in the South, doesn't appear to be worried. He relayed word through a spokesman Monday that "if the members want to meet earlier, it's all right with me."

Pushing the December meeting is a group led by Reps. Charles E. Goodell of New York and Robert P. Griffin of Michigan. This is the same group that staged a minor revolt against Halleck's wishes two years ago.

At that time they slipped Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan onto the House leadership ladder by ousting an Old Guardsman, Rep. Charles B. Hoeven of Iowa, from the chairmanship of the caucus.

Ford, 49, a trim and personable former football star, regards himself as about as conservative as Halleck politically. But some of the "Young Turks" believe he might furnish the new image they desire.

At any rate, Ford appears to be just about the only House Republican in sight who could possibly attract a large enough following conceivably to oust Halleck. The current objective of the younger members is not to try to depose Halleck as floor leader, however, but to widen the base of party policymaking in Congress.

Rabies Quarantine In Fort Worth

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — An outbreak of rabies has caused the city health department to place two areas in south Fort Worth under 60-day quarantine.

It quarantined the first section after a dog bit a man Friday and the animal was found to be rabid. The next day a rabid skunk bit an 11-year-old boy.

Dr. V. W. Bradshaw, city health director, warned residents not to touch wild animals or pets acting abnormally.

Meningitis Death Prompts Injections

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Hundreds of students at Sam Houston State College are being given penicillin injections because a coed died Sunday of meningitis.

Dr. Eugene Addison, head of the college health clinic, said today that Rebecca Layne Thompson, 18, of Houston died of the contagious disease Sunday in Houston.

"We have no evidence of any other cases at this time," he said, but as a precaution all students who came in contact with the girl were asked to take the injections.

The clinic was opened early Sunday. Students continued to receive injections Monday.

Addison said a laboratory diagnosis is awaited to determine what type of meningitis was involved.

"This was a pretty fast type of infection," he said.

Miss Thompson became ill Friday night and died about 4 a.m. Sunday while en route to a Houston hospital. She left the campus here Tuesday for the Thanksgiving holiday.

Medical authorities said the incubation period for meningitis is two to four days.

Students who were associated with her were encouraged — but not required — to accept the injections and penicillin tablets, Addison said.

Elliott Bowers, vice president of the college, said "all medical precautions are being taken."

The enrollment at Sam Houston is about 5,000. Addison could not say how many students had received injections but the total was in the hundreds.

A "Tennessee Walking Horse National Celebration" is held the first week of September each year at Shelbyville, Tenn.

Execution Date Is Postponed

AUSTIN (AP) — Eugene Welch, convicted of murder in the Grayson County slaying of Robert Ballou, 22, in 1962, won another stay of execution Monday.

Gov. John Connally set the date for Welch's scheduled execution back from today to Jan. 30, 1965.

Welch is under indefinite stay of execution granted by a federal court while the conviction is being appealed. The Texas Board of Pardons and Paroles recommended a stay to provide a definite execution date pending completion of the appeal.

Weather Aids Harvesting In Texas

AUSTIN (AP)—Recent mild weather has been good for Texas crops, the U.S. Department of Agriculture said Monday.

Cotton and peanut harvests advanced rapidly last week and some vegetables moved at peak volume from the Rio Grande Valley, the department said in its weekly crop and weather report.

Cotton harvest "will soon surpass gin capacity," it said. The harvest is 52 per cent complete, compared with 61 per cent at this time last year.

Peanut harvest has reached 72 per cent completion, compared to 87 per cent a year ago.

Sorghum combining is nearing an end with approximately 98 per cent of the crop cut, about the same as last year.

Wheat planting also is nearly complete as 99 per cent of the intended acreage has been seeded, compared with 97 per cent at this time in 1963. Oat planting reached 98 per cent completion, eight per cent above last year.

The department said soybean and sugar beet harvesting is active on the high plains.

In the Valley, fall peppers and cucumbers are moving at peak volume and tomatoes are available in limited supply. Moderate volume of winter cabbage, carrots and lettuce is expected until late December.

Cucumbers and tomatoes are moving from the Laredo area, and fall peppers and cucumbers are being harvested in the Winter Garden.

Carrots continue in good volume from the High Plains.

Pecan harvest is about two-thirds complete for the state.

Livestock are in fair to good condition over the state, with good grazing provided by wheat, oats and other small grains.

Economy Clouded In Recent Weeks

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the month that should allay a lot of doubts — or confirm them. October and November have piled up uncertainties at home and abroad and many are still so clouded they could offer further surprises. In December they should come under a stronger and more revealing light.

The economy has been given a setback by the auto strikes. December should spell out how much of a setback, or how temporary a one. Even more basic is the question hanging fire as to how the new car models will sell. They haven't had a convincing chance yet.

The industry still has to prove it can pull off an unprecedented fourth straight year of high sales. And how the auto industry goes has a big effect on how the rest of the economy goes in its try also for an unprecedented four years of peacetime upswing.

This is the month that the steel unions may spell out their demands for wage and fringe benefit increases. And the public may get a better idea of how much this will cost, of the likelihood of the companies going along with the demands, of the chances of a general boost in steel prices.

Many economists have tagged this cliffhanger in steel as the important one in the question of whether another round of inflation can be expected sometime in 1965.

In December the administration hammers out the federal budget that affects everyone. It won't be presented to Congress until January. But in December the nation usually gets a pretty good idea of how high government spending will be — and which industries will gain, which suffer.

And before the month is over it should be clearer too what will be done about taxes — what ones may be cut, what ones might rise. From all this will come an idea of how much of a Treasury deficit lies ahead — that there will be one is sure. How much of one tells how big a boost government will be giving the economy next year.

Whether interest rates will work higher in coming weeks may also be clearer before New Year's Eve. And what effect this will have on business is still debated despite the government assurances that the effect will be minor.

The confusion is increased just now by the uncertainties growing out of the crisis in the British pound sterling, the continuing imbalance of the British economy that brought on the crisis, and the moves to protect the pound — and also the dollar — from renewed raids by speculators.

One thing most people are counting on is that the American consumer will brush all this aside and spend with confidence if not abandon this month. The biggest December retail sales ever are widely expected — some estimating they will top last year's by 6 per cent.

Rebel Leader Is Suave College Grad

By ANDREW BOROWIEC

NAIROBI, Kenya (AP) — In the safety of the Kenyan capital, the Congo's first college graduate is developing a widespread campaign against Western influence in his turbulent homeland.

Thomas Kanza, polite, suave "foreign minister" of the rebel regime of Christophe Gbenye, appears to have won the first round of his battle.

The special commission on the Congo of the Organization of African Unity has condemned American and Belgian intervention to save white hostages in rebel areas.

It called for a summit meeting of African chiefs of state on the Congo and proposed a series of steps which ultimately would limit the power of the Leopoldville government of Premier Moise Tshombe.

At this stage, Kanza is the only leader of the left-leaning nationalist revolt whose voice can be heard outside the war-swept jungle of the northeast Congo.

He has utilized it fully, playing on Africa's distrust of Tshombe, frequently described here as a "lackey of imperialism" and "tool of colonialists."

Against Tshombe's theory that order in the Congo can be restored only with the help of whites, Kanza presented his own — that African nationalism with Communist backing will sooner or later triumph.

Informed sources say his arguments fell on fertile ground among restive politicians of Africa.

Failure by the West to win any decisive victories in Africa has strengthened Kanza's arguments. Africa's susceptibility for extremism, its feeling of inferiority toward the former colonizers and desire to "get even" with them have further played into Kanza's hands.

What remains to be seen is whether the meeting of Africa's leaders can launch an effective campaign against Tshombe's regime which is backed by the United States and Belgium.

Hitherto, this backing has seldom been total. The recent history of Africa has shown that half measures seldom succeeded on this continent.

"If the Belgians and Americans want to win the war in the Congo, why don't they throw thousands of troops into the battle?" asked a Kenyan official. "In the eyes of independent Africa they would be just as guilty as for launching 600 paratroopers who have not won anything."

Most Africans fail to see the humanitarian aspect of the paratroop rescue operation. To them it was a case of "Western aggression" with the resulting blow to U.S. prestige.

Reports from the Congo's battle regions speak of continuing fighting between Tshombe's forces and rebel "simbas" — lions.

Any loss of ground by the central government's task force spearheaded by white mercenaries is bound to strengthen Kanza's position.

A graduate of Louvain University in Belgium in 1956, Kanza was the first Congolese to obtain a university degree. Later he studied at Bruges and Harvard universities.

An associate of the late Patrice Lamumba, the Congo's first premier, Kanza served the Cyrille Adoula regime as an ambassador to London and to the United Nations.

After a bitter quarrel with Tshombe over the use of white mercenaries and advisers, Kanza joined the Stanleyville rebels and became their spokesman abroad.

Dallas Negro Baby Killed By Bullet

DALLAS (AP) — A bullet killed Ramus Matlock Jr., 2, a Negro at his home Monday.

Detective Verland Monaghen said the weapon apparently fired as four other children, 3 to 5, scuffled over it.

Bengals 'Upstaged' But Win By 96-56

By WACIL McNAIR

COLORADO CITY — What it was wasn't exactly basketball. It was more like a comedy, and the "star" didn't play. He blew a whistle.

Although upstaged all evening by the star (Boyce Hale, they said his name was) the Snyder Tigers actually had little trouble in romping to a 96-56 decision over the resident Wolves of Colorado City. The Tigers merely took up where their B team had left off in whacking the C-City Bees, 58-35.

But the varsity Tigers finished with a tremendous handicap — employing just three men against C-City's five during the last minute and 12 seconds of play. They had four men from the 3:30 mark in the final period until a fifth Tiger got the heave ho leaving the Three B Trio (Bullard, Brown and Blum) to keep the Black and Gold colors flying.

But, lo and behold, the Bengals discovered they didn't particularly need five men anyway. The score was 80-41 when the fourth Tiger exited, which means they gained a point while an abbreviated corps was performing.

Drew Bullard sacked 27 points to pace the Tigers. However, he was only one of five locals in double figures. Leslie Anderson had 22, Jerry Vestal 14 and Steve Crowell and Leslie Brown had 10 apiece.

Colorado City's Ron Hillhouse roped 15 for the Wolves.

Both teams had their moments, or warm streaks. C-City fell behind early, but pulled up to 19-24 early in the second period. But about that time C-City Coach Caddo Matthews was slapped with a couple of technical fouls. In fact, the star's best act apparently was to blow the whistle, gaze intently toward the bench of the team with the offending player to see if a technical was lurking about the premises. Snyder B Team Coach Bill Hartsfield got a couple in the B game. But Varsity Coach Ned Underwood caught on quickly. He simply turned his head the other way when the eagle eye was focused in his direction.

It has to go down in history as one of the most pathetic attempts to "run" a ball game.

The paying customers were somewhat bewildered for a time, but they finally got into the spirit of the evening and cheered the proceedings, even if they didn't always understand exactly what was going on.

The deportment of the two basketball teams was excellent throughout, and both schools can take pride in their behavior under amazing playing conditions.

Coach Underwood had a ninth man on the Tiger bench (Bobby Clardy) but he had played some in the B game and if he had seen action in both games last night he would have been ineligible to perform for either team tonight at Hamlin. He would have gone in of course, if the game had been close.

Last night's engagement was the season opener, but Underwood has a feeling that he will get a much better idea about the strength of his troops tonight at Hamlin.

Snyder outshot and outrebounded the Wolves. The Tigers hit 18 of 32 from the field for 56 per cent in the first half, while C-City got of 22 for 23 per cent. In the second half, Snyder hit 19 of 44 shots from the field for 45 per cent, while C-City had 7 of 26 for 27 per cent.

Brown pulled in 9 rebounds and Bullard 8 as the Bengals led in ball-hawking with 44 rebounds to 33 for the Wolves.

Lamar Wins Cage Openers

Lamar Junior High took victories in two basketball games over Colorado City Junior high last night in the Lamar gym.

The 9th grade Texans walloped C-City's 9th graders, 56-30, while Lamar 8th captured a 42-17 decision.

Tommy Bullard paced the Lamar 9th attack with 15 points. Joining him in double figures were Frank Grimmett with 12 and Mickey Allmand with 11. O. L. Cooper and Dwayne Boydstun had 5 each, Jerry Hardwick 3, Drake Snyder and Craig Bell 2 each and Steve Moffett 1.

Mike McAdams and Sam Parham were high for C-City with 5 each. Lamar 9th led at half-time, 27-15.

Mitch Rambin and Doyle Gallman had 9 points each to pace Lamar 8th. Steve Holder had 7 points, David Smith, Richie Thompson and Leland Herod 4 each, Jodi Williamson 3 and Joe Bass 2. Parker was high for C-City 8th with 10 points.

Rambin pulled in 14 rebounds and Gallman 6.

Fluvanna JH Divides Pair

FLUVANNA — Fluvanna and Loraine divided junior high basketball games here Monday night, with Fluvanna winning the girls game, 21-12, and Loraine taking the boys game, 26-22.

Nannette Bruner paced the Fluvanna girls with 13 points, while Charlotte Toombs had 4 and Paula Turner and June Stansell 2 each.

In the boys game, Johnny Stansell scored 16 points for Fluvanna, while Joe Turner, Louis Contreras and Randy Gill had 2 each. For Loraine boys, Brewer had 8, Terry, Walker and Hamilton 6 each.

Monday's games were the first in district competition. Fluvanna Junior High plays Ira at Ira next Monday night.

SPORTSCUTTLE

Denver City's Mustangs and Stamford's Bulldogs both have enjoyed considerable success on the Snyder gridiron, but the Bulldogs actually have the better record here in recent years.

Denver City has won its last two playoff games played in Tiger Stadium — including that 40-0 trouncing of Olney here in 1960 and last Thursday's 28-8 decision over Iowa Park.

Not only has Stamford defeated the resident Tigers twice on the local field in the last four years, but in 1959 took a 14-0 decision from Denver City itself in a playoff game. The Bulldogs were en route to the state title, but later had the laurels taken away on a University Interscholastic League eligibility ruling.

This year's edition of the Bulldogs defeated the local Tigers here, 8-6, in an early-season game this year, and they also won over the Tigers by 10-7 here in 1962.

Although it went through five games without scoring a point, Lamesa High's varsity football team grabbed off more victories than any other team in the Lamesa School System during the past season. The Varsity Tors wound up with three victories, five losses and two ties. The junior varsity won two and tied one in eight starts, while both the 7th and 8th grade Lamesa teams had season records of one victory and eight losses. The Lamesa 9th grade team didn't win a game, losing nine and playing to a tie in another. That gave the entire system at Lamesa seven victories, 35 defeats and four ties for the season.

That pass reception for a two-point conversion against Rice last Saturday was of extreme personal importance to Baylor's Lawrence Elkins. Before the Rice-Baylor game, Elkins ranked sixth in Southwest Conference individual scoring. The pass for the two points enabled him to win the scoring title for this year with 50 points, just two points ahead of Texas' Ernie Koy. Elkins had caught an eight-yard pass for a touchdown earlier in the game, giving him eight points for the day.

Speaking of Rice, they tell this one on Curley Hayes and Shorty Lawson, the incident allegedly occuring at a recent game in Rice Stadium during which Hayes was serving as referee and Lawson as head linesman. Hayes, well-known for his zeal in speeding up play in ball games had his left arm making like a windmill repeatedly as he always does when he wants the clock to resume operations after play has been halted. In this particular game, time had been called for a measurement to determine whether a first down had been made. As soon as the measurement was completed, Lawson took his "chain gang" back to the sideline, stationed them in current position and turned around only to learn that a play already had been run while his back was turned. Lawson immediately called time out on his own and approached the lefthanded arbiter.

"Listen, Hayes, if you don't need me out here I can get a lot better view of the overall game from up in the stands," Lawson protested.

"Aw, come on, Shorty," said Hayes. "If you'd keep your eyes off those cheerleaders when you go over to spot the chain you could keep up with this ball game," as he gave the left arm more exercise.

Without their two Dons (Meredith and Perkins) the Dallas Cowboys undoubtedly have the most feeble offense in professional football. One Dallas writer referred to the Dallas offensive troops as being "without visible means of support" in Sunday's game with the Packers. On the other hand, it would be interesting to see what the Cowboys could do against the best in the league with a physically sound Meredith and a physically sound Perkins operating simultaneously. It hasn't happened this year.

Blue Devils Divide Pair

Travis Junior High's 9th grade Blue Devils opened their basketball season on their home court last night by taking a 51-45 decision over Lamesa's 9th grade.

The Lamesa 8th graders took a 31-25 victory over the Travis 8th grade in the first game of the doubleheader.

Travis 9th had three men in double figures, with Jimmy Ramage roping 14 points, Gomez Rivas 13 and Benny Garrett 10. John Brinner had 8, Albert Rodriguez 6 and Ted Winter 3. Fees was high point man for Lamesa with 16 points.

The 9th grade Blue Devils were behind 12-9 at the end of the first quarter, but pulled up to a 26-21 advantage at half-time.

In the 8th grade game Kenny Sehested had 14 points for Travis, while Benny Ward had 7, Tommy Hollis 3 and George Kay 1. Lamesa led at the half by 12-9.

Baylor, which hasn't won a title in 40 seasons, was the Southwest Conference champion three times in the conference's first ten years.

Lincoln Wins 2 Of Three

HAMLIN — Lincoln High's Trojans of Snyder won two of three basketball games over Hamlin teams here Monday night. The Lincoln girls won by 21-14 and Lincoln boys B team took a 27-8 decision, while Hamlin boys A team edged the Trojans by 37-34.

In the boys A game, Brady Cobbs and M. C. Powell got 10 points each, Billy Cobbs 8 and L. J. Brooks and Billy McClain 3 each. The Trojans managed only 4 points in the first quarter and 6 in the second to fall behind 20-10 at half-time.

Mary Goosby had 9 points for Lincoln girls, Ronnie Cobbs 6, Pearlie Scott 4 and Emma Garrett 2. Evelyn Brazzel had 9 rebounds.

Billy McClain scored 7 points for Lincoln B, Leon Riggins and Sylvester McKnight 4 each, Calvin Barnes, C. B. Sanders and Herman Malone 2 each. Riggins grabbed off 10 rebounds.

The Lincoln teams begin district play tonight when they meet teams from Slaton in the Lincoln gym.

Giant tackle Jim Norton at the University of Washington is a senior with two varsity letters. He is also the Huskies' kicking specialist.

Crimson Tide Is Named Champion

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Alabama's all-conqueroring Crimson Tide was named the national collegiate football champion today, edging out unbeaten Arkansas by a paper-thin margin in the balloting by a nationwide panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

Mighty 'Bama, which was supposed to be in a building year, gained 34½ first-place votes and 515½ points on the basis of 10 points for a first-place vote, nine for second, eight for third and so on.

Arkansas received 11½ first-place votes and 486½ points — it was second on practically all the other ballots—with one selector splitting his first-place vote between the two contenders on this last of the weekly Associated Press polls.

Notre Dame, the leader for the last few weeks and deprived of a storybook finish by last week's 20-17 upset by Southern California, was third with 422 points and six first-place votes. Big Ten champion and Rose Bowl-bound Michigan got the other three first-place votes and finished in fourth place with 400 points.

Paul (Bear) Bryant, the Alabama coach, had maintained all along that 'Bama deserved the top spot.

"We've beat the best when they were at their best," Bryant said when the Tide finished their season Thanksgiving, completing a 10-0 season against capable, upset-minded Auburn.

And then, last Saturday, after then top-ranked Notre Dame suffered the upset of the year at the hands of Southern Cal and No. 2 Alabama appeared to be the heir apparent, he commented:

"Our kids have earned the No. 1 ranking. It would be a shame to lose out now."

Alabama, which had 45 sophomores in its 76-man spring-training squad and was experimenting with the three-platoon system for the first time, faced the toughest Southeastern Conference schedule of any team in a decade.

The Tide, with quarterback Joe Namath doing the job when he was available and a variety of players picking up the slack when he wasn't, entrenched behind their usual rock-hard defense and stormed through a 10-game season undefeated.

In order, they beat Georgia 31-3, Tulane 36-6, Vanderbilt 24-0, North Carolina 21-0, Tennessee 19-8, Florida 17-14, Mississippi State 23-6, Louisiana State 17-9, Georgia Tech 24-7 and Auburn 21-14.

Arkansas, under Coach Frank Broyles, meanwhile, also was going through 10 games unblemished. The Porkers, who have never won a national championship, got by Oklahoma State, Tulsa, Texas Christian and Baylor, then reached their peak with a 14-13 triumph over previously unbeaten, then top-ranked and defending national champion Texas.

Both Alabama and Arkansas have major bowl dates, 'Bama meeting fifth-ranked Texas in the Orange Bowl and the Razorbacks going against sixth-ranked Nebraska in the Cotton Bowl.

The final Top Ten with first-place votes in parentheses, won-lost records and points:

1. Alabama (34½)	10-0	515½
2. Arkansas (11½)	10-0	486½
3. Notre Dame (6)	9-1	442
4. Michigan (3)	8-1	400
5. Texas	9-1	322
6. Nebraska	9-1	235
7. La. State	7-1-1	202
8. Oregon State	8-2	133
9. Ohio State	7-2	97
10. Southern Calif.	7-3	63
