Keeping tab on our neighbors:

There's probably more food prepared or processed in more different ways on the market now than ever before, which gives mankind a better opportunity to find morsels that tickle his tastebuds. But there a also is the chance that more of them will be found unpalatable.

Nevertheless, we are admonished from time to time to, "Try it, you'll like it."

Kim Pease of the Rotan Advance says he was given a formula for eating broiled liver, a dish which he indicated he doesn't relish.

"Lucille Eades and I were talking last week and she conveyed the secret to eating liver," says Pease in his column, Kim's Korner. "She has been on the Weight Watchers program for several months now and is required to eat liver once a week. She said that if you douse the liver with A-1 sauce, hot sauce, pepper sauce, or nearly anything to help kill the taste of broiled liver, then start reading a good book that you can really get engrossed in.....you'll never know you ate the liver."

Sweetwater's United Fund Drive is ahead of ours, but of course they got an earlier start. However, it looks as if they could make their goal.

The Sweetwater Reporter reports:

"New figures have been reached for the Nolan County United Fund Drive with the total nearly 75 per cent complete now. The goal is $36,255."

From The Big Spring Herald:

"When most Americans decry the high rate of crime, they're talking about burglaries and car thefts and rapes and murders—the catalog of violent or at least threatening criminal acts.

"Far less is said about 'white collar crime,' the acts of embezzlement or fraud or influence peddling committed by citizens of 'respectable' standing in the community in which they live.

"And perhaps it is because of this that the courts seem to treat the white-collar criminal by a different and more lenient standard. We should all be ashamed of ourselves."

And this, just in from the Southwest Conference office: If you keep up with college football at all, you probably know that Oklahoma University has the No. 1 rushing offense in the country. But do you know who is No. 2 in rushing? It is Oklahoma State Univeristy, just up the road a piece from Norman, at Stillwater.

Kissinger Thieu Meet Third Time

SAIGON (AP) — Henry A. Kissinger and President Nguyen Van Thieu conferred for nearly four hours today amid reports that a partial cease-fire was being discussed.

It was the third meeting in two days between President Nixon's chief foreign policy adviser and the leader of the Saigon government.

There was no immediate word on Kissinger's next move, but some sources indicated he would remain in Saigon at least through Saturday and most likely would see Thieu again.

Kissinger was accompanied to the meeting today by U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker, Deputy Ambassador Charles S. Whitehouse and Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, the U.S. Army chief of staff.

South Vietnamese sources who reported that a cease-fire proposal was figuring in the talks said it probably called for only a partial truce as a "good will" gesture that could lead to further agreements.

"It is impossible to have any cease-fire that could be enforced, even by international body," said one South Vietnamese official. "It might mean an end to bombing and mining of the North and perhaps an exchange of prisoners, but it would be impossible to guarantee any kind of a cease-fire in the South where the fighting is going on."

The chief stumbling block to a cease-fire agreement has been Thieu's rejection of the Communist condition that he resign and give way to a three-faction coalition government including the Communists.

There has been widespread speculation that Kissinger is trying to persuade Thieu to step down, and the South Vietnamese information ministry in a communique Thursday said the president had renewed his vow "never to accept" a coalition regime.

A number of Thieu's political opponents refused an invitation to meet with him Thursday night to discuss the current status of the peace effort.

Nixon To Philadelphia

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon flew to Philadelphia today to sign a revolutionary $30.2 billion revenue-sharing bill in the nation's birthplace.

The chief executive left the White House South Lawn by helicopter at 11:21 a.m. EDT for the ceremony to place into effect the legislation he proposed two years ago.

Meanwhile, in Philadelphia before Nixon left Washington, 18 antiwar protesters were arrested as they set up an early protest of Nixon's planned visit. The demonstrators had gathered Thursay night and those arrested refused to move their demonstration into a designated area.

Britain, France Okay Dialogue

By CARL HARTMAN
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — Britain and France agreed today that the enlarged Common Market should keep close relations with the United States but without setting up a new link.

On Thursday, Chancellor Willy Brandt of West Germany proposed that the European summit conference initiate an "organized dialogue."

A French spokesman said everyone wants the relations to be "flexible, continuous and confident."

Prime Minister Edward Heath of Britain was reported as saying that the community should keep the closest possible dialogue with the United States on a broad front as at present.

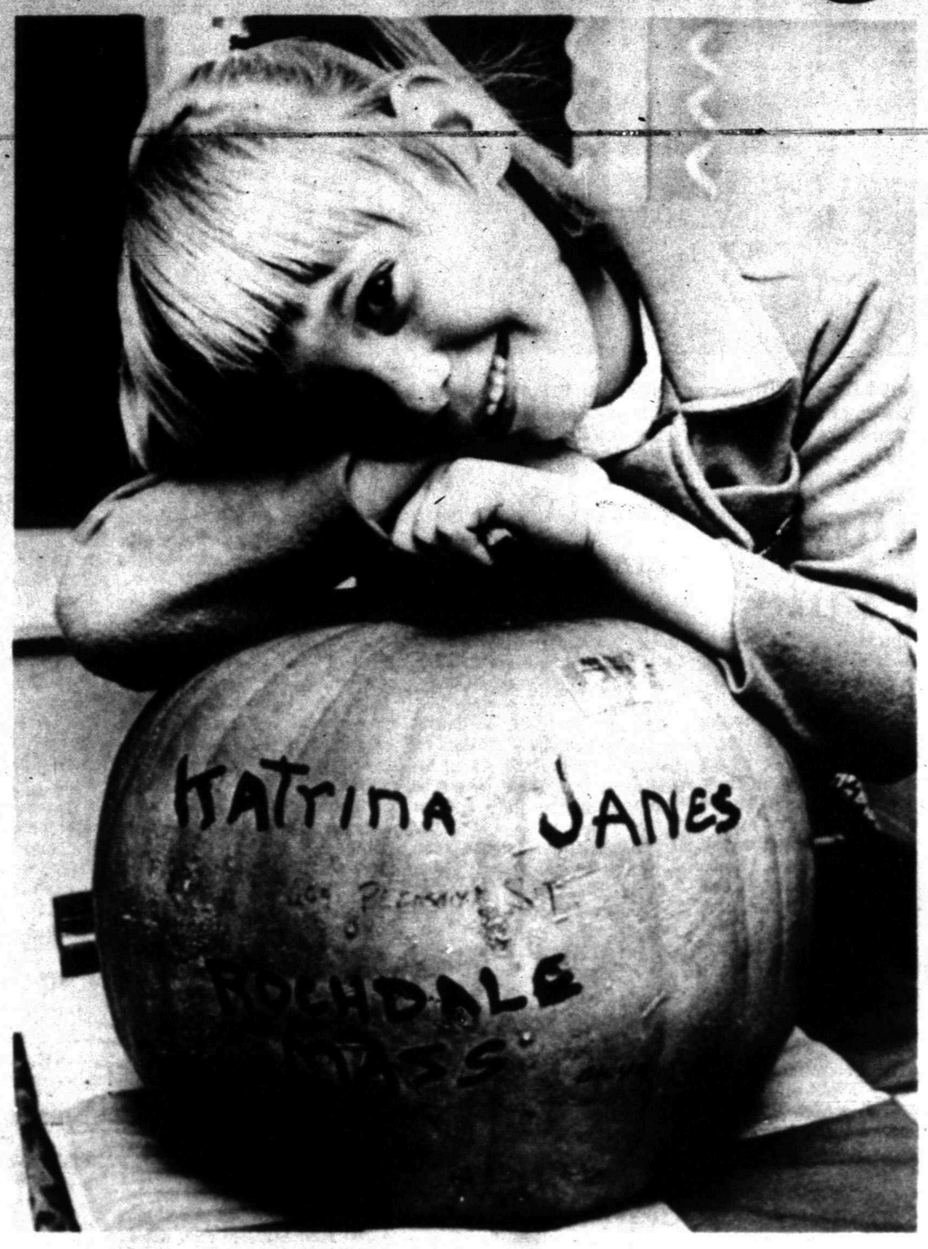

Heath suggested that an advantage could come to the community from having nine countries with different backgrounds to carry out an agreed policy. It would give a choice of instruments, he said.

In his view, the whole range of instruments should be used where the United States is concerned.

Heath proposed that the nine countries try planning their foreign policy together over the medium and long term. He said foreign ministers should not forget that their economic decisions could have foreign policy effects, and vice versa.

The members were also looking for ways to impress their citizens that the Common Market is looking after their interests.

The leaders of the nine governments that will make up the new, enlarged European Economic Community were shocked by Norway's vote last month against joining them.

Americans Sweep Prizes In Physics And Chemistry

STOCKHOLM (AP) — American scientists made a clean sweep today of the 1972 Nobel Prizes for Physics and Chemistry, one of them scoring a unique double in Physics.

Three Americans, Dr. Christian B. Anfinsen of the National Institutes of Health at Bethesda, Md., and Drs. Stanford Moore and William H. Stein of Rockefeller University in New York capped an earlier triumph by a trio of U.S. physicists by winning the 1972 chemistry prize.

John Bardeen, Leon Cooper and John Robert Schrieffer won the prize for physics with their theory of superconductivity, the Royal Swedish Academy of Sciences announced.

It was the second Nobel Prize for 64-year-old Dr. Bardeen of the University of Illinois. He shared the 1956 prize with two other Americans for the development of the transistor.

Anfinsen received half of the $98,100 prize for "his work on ribonuclease, especially concerning the connection between the amino acid sequence and the biologically active conformation," the academy said.

Moore and Stein share the other half of the prize money "for their contribution to the understanding of the connection between chemical structure and catalytic activity of the active center of the ribonuclease molecule," the academy stated.

The academy said the chemistry prize "has been awarded to three scientists who have made fundamental contributions to enzyme chemistry. They have worked with the same enzyme, gibonuclease."

The researchers had traced the complicated network of coupled chemical reactions which constitute the basis for the very concept of life and living organisms, such as reproductive ability, growth, mobility and reaction to external stimuli, the academy said.

The Nobel awarding body concluded that "in summary it may be said that Anfinsen, Moore and Stein in pioneering studies have illuminated some of the most important principles describing the chemical structure and catalytic activity of an enzyme."

Afinsen, born in Pennsylvania in 1916 and graduated from Harvard in 1943, has been working on biochemistry at the Bethesda medical laboratories since 1950.

The two Rockefeller University professors have done parallel research supplementing the investigations of Anfinsen's basic discovery, which answered an important question concerning the way in which an active enzyme is formed in living cells.

US Takes Blame

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States today admitted responsibility for the bombing of the French mission in Hanoi, saying it "was inadvertently struck by a U.S. bomb."

The Pentagon issued a brief statement calling the Oct. 11 attack an accident caused either by mechanical failure or a hung bomb.

The head of the mission, Delegate-General Pierre Susini, died of burns in a Paris hospital Thursday night. Five Indochinese employes in the mission also were killed.

Pentagon spokesman Jerry W. Friedheim said it was likely that the damage was caused by a 500-pound bomb that had fallen from one of two dozen Navy planes from the carrier Midway which were attacking military targets about three miles from the French Legation.

He said the bomb apparently dropped as one of the planes was heading to or coming from its assigned target.

"Obviously this was an accident and not a planned strike," he told reporters.

A hung bomb would mean that one of the 500 or 1,000-pound bombs used in the raid failed to drop on the intended target when it was supposed to; instead, after the supersonic jet pulled up and away, the bomb slipped off on a wild course.

Friedheim said because it was an accident no reprimand, recriminations or punishment are planned.

At the outset, Hanoi maintained that it was an American bomb that hit the French mission. While the U.S. Command did not deny this, it also raised the possibility that the damage could have been caused by one of more than a half dozen North Vietnamese surface-to-air missiles fired at the American jets. The Command said it did not know and was investigating the cause.

Clothing Ups Living Costs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cost of living, led by higher prices for clothing, accelerated in September and pushed the rate of inflation to 3.5 per cent since President Nixon's Phase 2 price controls began, the government said today.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics said that the Consumer Price Index rose four-tenths of one per cent last month, with higher prices for clothing causing almost half of the increase. The price of gasoline and eggs also contributed heavily to the advance.

On a seasonally adjusted basis, the rate of increase was five-tenths of one per cent, the highest since February, when the economy was going through a post-freeze bulge in the rate of inflation.

The bureau said the effects of clothing, gasoline and egg price increases were moderated by lower prices for beef, fresh fruits and vegetables and new cars.

The price of food rose six-tenths of one per cent on a seasonally adjusted basis, about the same rate as in July and August. But on an unadjusted basis, the increase in food prices was two-tenths of one per cent.

While the index accelerated, the bureau said that the average weekly earnings of American workers rose seven-tenths of one per cent in September, making real spendable earnings 3.7 per cent higher than a year ago. This was the largest one-year increase in real earnings for any September since records have been kept.

The Consumer Price Index showed that in the 10 months since Nixon's price controls have been in effect, consumer prices have gone up 3.5 per cent compared with 3.8 per cent in the eight months before Nixon froze wages and prices in August 1971.

The administration says it wants to reduce the rate of inflation to the range of 2 to 3 per cent by the end of the year. On a seasonally adjusted basis, the September rise amounted to 6 per cent. On an unadjusted basis it was 4.8 per cent.

The bureau said that the sharp rise in clothing prices came partly because of the end of summer clearance sales on some items and the introduction of fall and winter clothing.

Used car prices went up and gasoline prices continued to go up sharply, while new car prices failed to decline as much as they usually do when the model year comes to an end.

Cool, Damp Weather Continues

Cool, damp weather continued over the Snyder area today as a drizzly cold spell lingered over most of Texas.

The official rain gauge at the city water plant had logged .72 inch of rain during the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. today, making a two-day total of 1.62 inches. Showers varied over the county, with some communities reporting over two inches. Mostly it was drizzle with intermittent heavier showers that produced the moisture.

It was warmer than Thursday as the reading at 7 a.m. today was 40 degrees compared to 35 degrees at the same hour Thursday.

Wet roads were blamed for at least two traffic deaths in the State.

Intermittent rain, drizzle and fog covered most of the western half of the state from the Texas Panhandle into New Mexico and Old Mexico. A few showers also fell in Central Texas. Fog lowered visibility to one mile in some areas.

A collision which occurred Thursday evening as one car skidded sidewise on rain-slick U.S. 82 about one mile west of Plains in Yoakum County killed Troy Lee Black, 19, of Denver City and Jearl Wayne Dawson, 22, of Brownfield. Three other persons suffered injuries.

Temperatures near dawn slipped to 33 degrees at Amarillo, in a foggy section of the Panhandle, and Seminole in West Texas. Readings at other points ranged from the middle 30s into the 60s, staying as warm as 73 at Brownsville on the south tip of the state.

There was some icing around Amarillo during the night and frost nipped several areas in the Panhandle.

Mostly cloudy skies and more rain or drizzle were expected across the state with a little warming by Saturday.

Says Grain Spy Used CIA Data

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Midwest congressman says secret Central Intelligence Agency reports may have been used by a so-called international grain spy who fed inside tips to a Kansas City trade magazine about huge U.S. wheat sales to the Russians.

Rep. Roman C. Pucinski, D-Ill., told The Associated Press that the CIA earlier this year furnished the Agriculture Department with a detailed account of Soviet crop failures which led to the $1 billion sale of U.S. wheat and other grain to Moscow.

Further, Pucinski said, telephone calls purportedly made from London in July and August to Milling & Baking News, Kansas City, probably placed by a USDA employe who had access to the CIA information.

The magazine's subscribers largely are grain dealers, exporters, flour millers and bakers.

The grain sales, including more than 400 million bushels of wheat, or one-fourth of the U.S. crop, have prompted allegations by Sen. George McGovern and others that private American grain companies were able to reap windfall profits because of inside information fed to them by Nixon administration farm officials.

A detailed account of a month-long series of phone calls to Kansas City by the mysterious tipster was published Oct. 3 by the magazine's editor, Morton Sosland.

The caller, at first identifying himself as "Mr. Smith" of the London Financial Times, provided Sosland with details—later proved to be accurate—on the timing and volume of the Soviet wheat purchases.

The calls began July 17, weeks before the public or the grain industry was fully aware of the size of the Russian sales. Sosland later found the London newspaper employed no Mr. Smith as a grain expert.

Sosland said his magazine delayed reports based on the calls because the informant's story seemed fantastic, but carried the stories later.

Pucinski, who is campaigning for the Senate seat held by Charles Percy, R-Ill., said he is certain the CIA gave the Agriculture Department a full report on the Russian crop situation, information which Pucinski said the department suppressed.

"It's a correct statement and I am satisfied that my sources of information are reliable, and that the report was never released by the Department of Agriculture," he said in a telephone interview from Chicago. The department acknowledges using CIA reports in analyzing the Soviet farm situation.

Discussing the telephone calls described by Sosland, the Illinois congressman said that of the conceivable possibilities it seemed most likely that the information was passed by a USDA employe.

Oil Pours Into Lake Powell

GLEN CANYON, Utah (AP) — Thousands of gallons of oil and tons of debris have poured into Lake Powell on the crest of a flood.

Environmental Protection Agency spokesman Rich Lathrop at EPA headquarters in Kayenta, Ariz., said Thursday, "It was no longer felt prudent or safe to personnel involved to attempt to contain the oil spill."

Heavy rains in the area brought the San Juan River to flood level early Thursday. The crest was expected to pass Copper Canyon, where four booms were holding back the oil, Thursday night.

The National Weather Service put out flash flood warnings for the Four Corners area, and predicted heavier rain today.

"The oil got past the booms and it was decided to let the oil go into the lake," Lathrop said. "Dr. George Rice, EPA on-site coordinator, has decided it would be better to attack the oil when it gets to the smoother waters of the lake."

"The prevaling opinion is that the lake is large enough that little damage will occur," he said.

The bureau of Reclamation chief for Glen Canyon National Recreation Area, Howell Gnau, said the bureau disagreed with the action.

He said efforts were being made Thursday night to replace the main log boom at Nokai Canyon, six miles downstream from Copper Canyon.

More than 100 men have been trying to remove the oil and debris from the water since a Texas-New Mexico Pipeline Co. line broke in northwestern New Mexico Oct. 10, dumping the oil into the San Juan River. The oil moved more than 100 miles through isolated country before being blocked at the mouth of the lake.

New Mexico's State Corporation Commission called for a federal investigation of the pipeline break Thursday.

Forest resources are the concern and responsibility of all Texans even though most of the commercial forest land is in East Texas on about one-fourth of the land area of the State.

Search Continues For Boggs' Plane

By JOHN MORRISON
Associated Press Writer

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP) — Search officials awaited data today from electronic sensing devices as the hunt for a missing light plane carrying House Democratic Leader Hale Boggs and three others entered its fourth day.

Rescue crews refused Thursday night to give up hope that the four would be found alive.

Corinne Boggs said she and members of her family who arrived here two days ago would return tonight to Washington, D.C., to wait for further word of the search for her husband and his companions.

The Air Force reported that a 2,000-mile-an-hour SR71 reconnaissance plane capable of electronically surveying more than 60,000 square miles in an hour had been pressed into the search on Thursday.

Data gathered by the plane's infrared sensors and cameras was being processed at Beale Air Force Base, Calif., and will be turned over to military authorities here late today, a spokesman said.

With the 58-year-old Boggs on the Cessna 310 which disappeared Monday on a 560-mile flight from Anchorage to Juneau were Rep. Nick Begich of Alaska, 40; Russell Brown, 37, a Begich aide; and the pilot, Don E. Jonz, 38, of Fairbanks. Boggs was in Alaska to help Begich in his bid for a second term.

Weather in the search area cleared Thursday after two days of fog, rain and snow. But more rain, snow and fog were predicted for today, with the cloud level expected to drop to 500 feet.

More than 70 airplanes scoured the Cessna's flight path along the rugged coastline between Anchorage and the Alaska capital on Thursday.

In the Portage Pass area some 50 miles southeast of here, a crack, 11-man Army mountain rescue team combed the glaciered valleys and steep mountainsides, but it found nothing.

Meanwhile, at a briefing of family and aides of the missing men in Anchorage, the possibility surfaced that the Boggs' airplane did not carry an emergency locator beacon as required by state law.

William Moore, Alaska field office chief for the National Transportation Safety Board, said he had been informed that employes of Pan-Alaska Airways, which Jonz headed, had found a portable beacon on Jonz' desk in Fairbanks.

Moore said no one knows whether Jonz took another one with him, bought one prior to the flight or borrowed one.

However, FAA officials in Anchorage reported that when Jonz filed his flight plan by radio after taking off for Juneau he was asked: "Do you have emergency gear and a locator beacon on board?" They said Jonz replied, "Affirmative."

All aircraft also are required to carry survival gear sufficient to last each passenger for two weeks.

Arlington GM Employes Strike

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Employes of General Motors' Arlington plant between Fort Worth and Dallas struck today over the work load. Pickets were set up.

The plant employes 3,700 persons.

Negotiators met during the night but were unable to reach agreement. The workers voted gave union leaders the authority to call a walkout several days ago over the issue that has been in the talk stage for several weeks.

The United Auto Workers members contend they are required to assemble the same number of 1973 cars as the 1972 models but that the 1973 cars require more work.

Doing something to protect and improve our forests is more important than mourning about what the past has done to them.

Board Okays Junior College

AUSTIN (AP) — The Texas College Coordinating Board voted 9-3 today to allow an election to establish a community college in Travis County (Austin).

The junior college district would not require a decision on bonds to finance the school because its operation would be paid for by the state and for tuition and fees.

It was estimated that such a school would have just under 2,000 students in its first year of operation and budget of $621,000 The enrollment and budget would just about double in the second year, it was estimated.

The junior college would be administered by the Austin Independent School District trustees. School board chairman Will Davis said the college would be housed, primarily in Facilities at Austin High School, which is being phased out by proposed new high schools.

Forests contribute to the regularity of stream flow by reducing the rate and amount of runoff and allowing water to soak into the ground.

More Plastic Pipe Used

HOUSTON (AP) — A Dallas engineer says the use of plastic pipe is increasing in the United States.

C. T. Kutschke said plastics do not enjoy "universal acceptance" by gas industry at present but "regulatory requirements and existing economical climate will create pressures which even the most skeptical of the plastics opponents will not be able to ignore entirely."

Kutschke, manager of engineering and technical services for Nipak, Inc., of Dallas, addressed the Interpipe '72 conference recently.

He said the fact that "greater usages are yet to com is confirmed by the midyear predicted installation of 63.7 million feet of plastic pipe during 1972.

He said about 55.1 million feet of plastic pipe was installed in the United States last year.

Few Gains Recorded For Working Women

STATELINE, Nev. (AP) — The status of women in employment has degenerated during the past decade, the past president of the Interstate Association of Commissions on the Status of Women says.

Dr. Kathryn Clarenbach of Wisconsin told the Interstate Conference of Employment Security Agencies that between 1968 and 1971 women increased their share of managerial and professional technical jobs by less than two per cent.

Dr. Clarenbach told the delegates from state agencies and private industry that women now make up about 38 per cent of the labor force in the United States but still fill about 75 per cent of the clerical jobs and only 14 per cent of managerial positions.

She said unemployment rates in all groups and races are higher for women than men.

Dr. Clarenbach also said the income gap between men and women is widening. "Today the average female worker earns 59 per cent of what the average male worker earns while 15 years ago it was 64 per cent," she said.

The United States is the only industrialized nation without maternity leave benefits, she added, and pregnancy in most cases is "no more voluntary than a broken leg from skiing. But the broken leg merits disability benefits."

Tale By Bach Is Never Dull

STRANGER TO THE GROUND. By Richard Bach. Harper. 178 Pages. $5.95.

This is the same Richard Bach who wrote "Jonathan Livingston Seagull." The books are a world apart in some respects, yet each of them demonstrates the author's sensitivity, empathy and a writing skill marked by vivid descriptions, concise exposition and zest.

Written 10 years ago and first issued in 1963, the narrative had this structure:

Bach, a member of the Air National Guard, has been called to active duty in the Air Force, taking part in war games and flying those Cold War missions, just as Russian pilots are flying patrol over the border.

Assigned to pick up some important intelligence material from an English base and get it back to home quarters in southern France, Bach has to make the return trip by flying a long route around a severe weather system. His account records the perils of that trip, with many flashbacks to his recent training, his earlier training and his experiences as a special breed of lone flier in a plane, the F-8F, designed as a ground support weapon.

The story is immensely detailed, but never dull. It is the tale of a flier proud to be part of a man-machine combination that conquers an element man never was intended to inhabit, the upper air.

"Seagull"—call it fable, parable or whatever—and this book have in common one basic feeling, the love and joy of flight. Jonathan was a seagull who aspired to the ultimate in flight. Pilot Bach feels the same exhilaration, the same aspiration.

The "Seagull" has just been issued in a deluxe, illustrated edition. If you missed the original edition, it might be a good idea to read this book first, then cross over to the other one and sense how Bach's imaginative mind expanded into those upper reaches of the world below the stars.

FOR HALLOWEEN--Follow an old Irish custom and serve Boxty-in-the-Pan.

Create Boxty-In-The-Pan For Halloween Spooks

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

There's a charming Halloween custom in Ireland. We came upon a description of it in "Feasting Galore—Recipes and Food Lore from Ireland" by Maura Laverty (Holt, Rinehart and Winston). Here is what the author says:

"In the North and West of Ireland, boxty sometimes takes the place of the Halloween barmbrack as a prognosticator of the year's weddings. A ring wrapped in wax paper is mixed in with the batter. And the girls are warned:

"Boxty-on-the-griddle, boxty-in-the-pan,
If you don't eat boxty, you'll never get your man."

But Boxty-in-the-Pan is too good to serve only on Halloween. If you try the following recipe, we think you'll agree. We find it tastes wonderful with roast beef and makes a fine substitute for Yorkshire Pudding.

BOXTY-IN-THE-PAN

1¼ cups water
3 medium-small potatoes
1½ cups sifted flour
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
3 eggs
1 cup milk
¼ cup butter, melted
1 tablespoon bacon fat

In a 1½-quart saucepan bring water to a boil. Peel 2 of the potatoes; cut into 8ths; add to boiling water. Cover and boil over medium heat until potatoes are soft and water has cooked away—12 to 15 minutes; check often to avoid scorching. Mash potatoes through food mill; measure ¾ cup firmly packed. (If there is any leftover, use in another dish.)

On wax paper sift together the flour, baking powder and salt; set aside. Beat eggs well; add milk and butter.

Peel remaining potato and finely shred; squeeze to remove water. There should be about ¼ cup shredded potato after squeezing.

In a large mixing bowl, thoroughly mix shredded potato with mashed potato. With a pastry blender mix in sifted flour mixture until fine crumbs are formed. Stir in milk mixture until flour is completely dampened.

Spoon bacon fat into a 9-inch cast-iron skillet. Place in a preheated 425-degree oven for about 5 minutes to heat bacon fat and pan. Remove pan from oven and swirl bacon fat over bottom of pan. Add batter. Return pan to oven and bake until top is browned and edges are crisp and browned—35 to 40 minutes. Serve from pan; or turn out of pan, turn right side up. Cut into wedges. Serve hot with butter. Makes 6 servings.

Big Appears Beautiful In Industrial World

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — It seems that the advantages of being No. 1 in the industrial world clearly outweigh the drawbacks. Otherwise, why the battles and claims and charges? And when the spot is lost, why the desperate fight to regain it?

Whether the position is desired because of the assumption that the biggest is also the best and thus should deserve the customer's order or whether it is mainly a matter of pride is debatable. But big appears to be beautiful.

U.S. Steel certainly treasures the label that so often identifies it as "the nation's No. 1 steel producer," and you may be sure heads would roll if the tag were lost to Bethlehem, the No. 2 producer.

In the vehicle-rental business, Hertz is still in the lead and racing hard to stay there. But Avis, fussing in second place with about 110,000 vehicles to Hertz' 155,000, has been saying lately that it will be No. 1. When, it doesn't say.

In food retailing, the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Company, the top food chain since records were kept, now is carrying on what smaller retailers claim is the most savage price war they've ever seen.

For several years, A&P has been losing its share of the market, and its profits have been skimpy. Still, it didn't go on a price-cutting rampage until Safeway Stores began telling people it had taken over the top spot.

That claim is still open to dispute, but there is no question that Safeway sales were growing while A&P's, until recent weeks, were slipping. A&P closed 1971 with volume of $5.48 billion; Safeway, with $5.36 billion.

As the gap narrowed early this year, A&P furiously accelerated a program of converting more than 4,000 outlets to discount status, fully anticipating the losses that followed. Since February, those losses total more than $40 million.

In the opinion of the Justice Department, and many other critics as well, big is often bad. International Business Machines, which in some years has had as much as 70 per cent of the electronic computer industry, learned this.

Government lawyers announced this week their intention of breaking IBM into a number of separate companies, the idea being to promote price and product competition. IBM will fight back, of course, and with an intriguing argument.

The big computer maker, while conceding the obvious, that it is No. 1, is expected to argue that it isn't so solidly entrenched there as to monopolize the industry. We're No. 1, they are prepared to say, but not so No. 1-ish as we were.

Quiet Returns To Campuses

BERKELEY, Calif. (AP) — The University of California Sproul Plaza, spawning ground of the student revolt of the '60s, is as peaceful and serene as any parent, regent or person intent on studying could wish.

Tranquility settled over the huge Berkeley campus in the fall of 1970 like a blanket of cooling fog, and remains unchanged as this fall's quarter gets underway.

Across the nation, campuses such as Columbia, Yale, Chicago, Kansas and Wisconsin were much the same.

On the 28,000-student Berkeley campus, a spokesman said that for the first time in years there was a waiting list for on-campus dormitories and an increased interest in fraternities and sororities.

Even the Berkeley Barb, the underground newspaper, commented that many of the popular communes "have gone sour," becoming snobbish, and students might as well join fraternities.

As school was nearing the summer break last spring, amazed professors reported that students were more serious and studying harder. Allen Dyson, head of the UC Moffitt undergraduate library, reports that patronage is up 35 per cent from a year ago.

Without much success, radicals are searching for an issue that will weld broad student support.

It is hard now to visualize the plaza as a violent battleground.

But it was here that Mario Savio in 1964 exhorted the crowds of milling students to the Free Speech Movement, which was followed by many other large-scale violent protests in behalf of civil rights and against the Vietnam war, ROTC and recruitment by the military and defense-related industries. Violence spread across the nation's campuses like a prairie fire.

Stanford University, across the bay and 30 miles south of San Francisco, early this year had pockets of dissent over firing of a revolutionary professor and defense-related recruitment, but neither won broad student support. Stanford officials estimated no more than 50 to 100 students had been involved in what they call "millins," disruption of a class or administrative office.

The lack of broad student support for any action that could lead to violence was vividly demonstrated on the Berkeley campus in mid-March.

Junior Editors' Quiz on KIWIS

QUESTION: What is a kiwi?

* * *

ANSWER: Kiwi is the common name of a flightless bird found only in New Zealand. Its real name is Apteryx, a word of Greek origin, meaning "without wings." The natives call it the kiwi because of its peculiar cry.

The kiwi lives in the forests of New Zealand. It is a shy bird and is rarely seen. It hunts at night for its food which consists of worms, insects and berries. It is about the size of a domestic hen. The bill is long and nostrils open near the end. The wings are concealed and useless for flight. There is evidence that there was once a tail. The body is covered with grayish-brown plumage which is loose and hair-like. The female lays one or two large white, oval shaped eggs in a burrow. The long bill is used to probe out a nest in the ground. The bird multiplies slowly. Its meat is considered a delicacy. For this reason it is necessary to have game laws to protect it. New Zealanders are proud of this bird and have made it the national emblem.

Things That Make Life Worthwhile

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things that make life worth living:

The relieved smile of a tearful child after you pluck a splinter from its foot without pain. Pulling cockleburrs out of a dog's coat. Breaking snap beans for a big family Thanksgiving dinner.

The opening of a bud. The soft closing of a door after you kiss goodnight the one you love.

Seeing your face get back to normal after the mumps. Holding a milk bottle to your ear to see if it will echo the sea's murmur as a seashell does.

Watching a Handy Andy wife wallpaper a room all by herself.

The elation of learning that you're going to be a father for the first time, and then the slight deflation of realizing that probably 20 billion other men have had that feeling before you. Well, so hurrah for them, too — each man in his time.

Squishing cool river bottom mud between your toes on a hot July day. Urging your best girl to go wading in a cold mountain stream.

Falling asleep to the timeless feathered thunder of the surf. Waking in the night drowsily when rain spatters on the roof of a cabin in the woods.

Pinning a baby's diaper without pinning either the baby or one of your fingers.

The wet summons of a waterfall.

Learning to make your knuckles pop. Learning to make a fire without matches. Learning how to whistle through your front teeth. Learning the alphabet backward. Learning that Rome wasn't built in a day. Learning that love has many lessons, not just one, and sometimes makes you want to cry.

An unseen jet plane scarring the sky with vapor trails — the eerie signature of the invisible machine.

Holding up your arm in a new class when the teacher finally asks a question you can answer. Holding up a piece of smoked glass so you can stare at an eclipse. Holding on to a rope successfully in a tug-of-war contest. Holding hands with a girl on the way home from church. Holding up your baby sister to look at a store window full of playing puppies. Holding on to a job you can't afford to lose.

The sight of a great white snowfall covering the ugliness of a great grimy city.

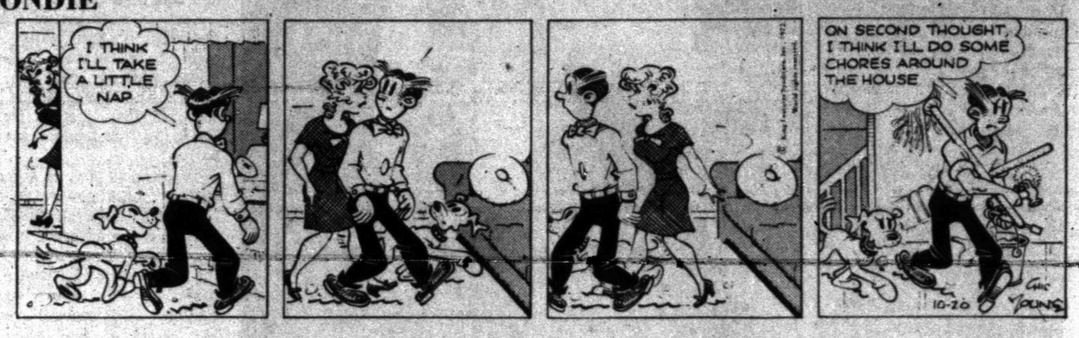

The song of an unknown bird, half-heard all alone at twilight in a dim and darkening forest.

For these and other benisons of being, we thank Thee, Amen.

Kirkpatrick Is Smith's Third Choice To SBI

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Preston Smith, who has been rebuffed twice by the Texas Senate on appointments to the State Board of Insurance, has made Ray Kirkpatrick, Austin lawyer and former legislator, his third choice.

In the same statement, Smith Thursday called on Kirkpatrick, who was made chairman of the powerful board that regulates Texas' insurance companies, to hold "an immediate public hearing" on possible reduction of rates for property and casualty insurance.

Kirkpatrick, 50, a former legislator from Fannin county, was reported out of town and not available for comment. He presently is assistant director of research for the board.

Smith's appointment of Kirkpatrick will be subject to confirmation by the Senate of the next legislative session, probably the regular biennial session beginning in January.

Kirkpatrick will replace Larry Teaver, Smith's aide who was appointed chairman and served almost a year before the Senate last July 7 refused to confirm his appointment. Smith then named Secretary of State Bob Bullock to the influential job but the special session meeting Sept. 17 refused to confirm him before he had taken on the duties.

"Ray Kirkpatrick has the experience and expertise in the operation of state government, in the regulation of insurance, in budgetary matters and in the law," Smith said. " ... I am completely confident that he will be an effective consumer advocate on the State Board of Insurance."

Smith said that he had asked Kirkpatrick "to do everything possible to reduce rates for property and casualty insurance in Texas."

The governor said that prior to calling the recent 30-day special session "we did extensive research on insurance rates and the feasibility of reducing them in some categories. Although we felt that competitive rates would achieve substantial premium reductions in at least some categories of insurance, our research indicates that some rates could and should be reduced at the earliest possible opportunity even under the present system."

Smith said that no annual rate adjustments for 1972-73 have been made for fire and extended insurance coverage. "It is our belief that by reducing expense factors by 14 per cent and economic trend factors by 6 per cent, consistent with all available statistics, a statewide premium reduction of approximately $84 million could be obtained. In addition there could be further decreases in rates on certain classes of insurance in certain rating territories because of the reduction in the loss experience for the past year.

"Therefore, I am asking that Ray Kirkpatrick, as new chairman of the board, set an immediate public hearing to consider and adopt rate reductions on these lines of insurance," Smith said.

If confirmed by the Senate, Kirkpatrick would serve until Jan. 31, 1975. He is a native of Trenton, southwest of Bonham in Fannin County. He is a graduate of the University of Texas and Baylor University School of Law. He served three terms from Fannin County in 1947-53. He was chairman of the House Appropriations Committee his second term. After voluntarily retiring from the Legislature he was in private law practice in Austin from 1957 to 1969. He was general counsel to the Senate Interim Insurance Study Committee in 1970. In 1971 he served as counsel to the Senate Environmental Committee.

LETTER TO EDITOR

To The Daily News:

As we are hearing another presidential election, I would like to comment a little on it. Our present president is doing a good job as I see things.

Now, as for stopping this Democratic war we have going on, it is a bigger task than starting it was. Throwing our hands up and everything away without any agreement seems very foolish to me.

But I can understand the people that are trying to put him out. Their knowledge comes from ghost writers and I mean ghosts because living humans couldn't think up such far-flung ideas.

For the good of the country, I will vote for Nixon, Agnew, Grover and Tower and I am a Democrat, or at least I used to be one.

Susini Dies Of Injuries

PARIS (AP) — Pierre Susini, the French diplomat injured during the American bombing raid on Hanoi Oct. 11, died in a Paris hospital Thursday night.

Susini, who suffered extensive severe burns, arrived back in Paris on Tuesday. He headed France's diplomatic mission in Hanoi as delegate-general.

Five Indochinese employes of the mission were killed in the raid, one was wounded and the mission headquarters was destroyed.

President Georges Pompidou called the bombing a "deplorable act," and the French government protested to Washington. President Nixon sent a letter of regret to Pompidou.

Hanoi's diplomatic quarter in the center of the city was hit during an American attack on a railroad yard several miles to the northeast. U.S. officials said at first that the French mission might have been hit by a North Vietnamese antiaircraft missile that crashed back to the ground, and on Sunday Secretary of State William P. Rogers said it had not been determined whether an American bomb was to blame. But he conceded that "faulty bomb drops do occur on occasion."

Susini, 50, had been a member of the French diplomatic corps since 1944.

LBJ, Warren To Address Symposium

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Former President Lyndon Johnson and former Supreme Court Chief Justice Earl Warren will speak to a national symposium on civil rights Dec. 11-12 in connection with the opening of Johnson's papers on civil rights.

The symposium, at the LBJ Library, was announced Thursday by University of Texas at Austin President Stephen Spurr and LBJ Library Director Harry Middleton.

"We are very happy to join forces with the library in sponsoring this symposium where those who played such a great part in the civil rights events of the 1960s will discuss what the nation should do in the decades ahead," Spurr said.

Among the 500 invited guests for the two days of speeches and seminars will be Sen. Hubert Humphrey; Georgia state legislator Julian Bond; Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People; Vernon E. Jordan Jr., executive director of the National Urgan League: Mrs. Patricia R. Harris of Washington, D.C., former ambassador to Luxembourg; Mayor Richard Hatcher of Gary, Ind.; U.S. District Court Judge Reynaldo Garza of Brownsville; and U.S. Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez of San Antonio.

Boll Will Accept Prize

COLOGNE, Germany (AP) — Heinrich Boll says the Nobel Prize for literature he has received is a tribute both to the nation to which the recipient belongs and to the language with which he works.

Interviewed on German television after he was announced Thursday as the winner of the 1972 Nobel literature award, Boll was asked whether he would accept the prize.

"I do not belong to a nation that is spoiled internally or externally," he replied. "I will accept it."

Boll repeated that he would give some of the $98,100 he will receive to the P.E.N. Club fund for imprisoned writers and their families. As for the rest of it, he said, "I can use it."

Achieves Fame

WELLINGTON, N.Z. (AP) — A baby girl with a European father and a Maori mother has achieved fame by being formally registered as a half-caste European.

Deidre Hemingway's Maori grandfather, Tom Waiwai, insisted on the move because he said, he was "fed-up with the term half-caste Maori."

Deidre's parents agreed to the move.

Dear Abby

What's in a name? To Viola, everything

By Abigail Van Buren

(© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.)

DEAR ABBY: I was in the same boat with "Nameless," whose husband of 20 years refused to call her by her name.

This nut I was married to for 13 years would never call me "Viola," which was my name. [It was always, "Tell your mother, etc."]

I once asked him why he never called me "Viola," and he said there was a little town by that name he hated.

I quit asking him to call me "Viola."

I'm glad we aren't married anymore. VIOLA

DEAR ABBY: This is in behalf of the man who has not called his wife by her first name in 20 years.

I, too, am such a man. I love my wife dearly, and altho she has a beautiful first name, I have avoided calling her by her name during the almost 50 years of our happy marriage.

Why? Because there is an old Danish superstition that love for one's dear wife should be kept well hidden so the devil doesn't hear about it and do her harm out of sheer wickedness. Consequently a husband will refer to his beloved wife as "The Old Lady" or "The Old Woman" or something slightly degrading, should the devil be listening and identify her.

I realize it's only a silly superstition, but I've never been able to shake it. SUPERSTITIOUS DANE

DEAR DANE: Keeping quiet about one's good fortune, lest the devil "hear" you and reverse your luck is not only a Danish superstition—it's Jewish, too.

DEAR ABBY: I married a girl named "Anita" which happened to be my mother's name. I couldn't bring myself to call my bride "Anita." Worse yet, that's not all I couldn't do, so 100 hours on the couch and $3,500 later I overcame the Mother thing—but what a drag!

BETTER SHRUNK THAN SUNK

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I never call each other by our given names and for a good reason. I am his sixth wife and he is my fourth husband. He slipped just once and called me "Sally." [My name is Bertha.] I was married to two different Bobs and I came close to calling him "Bob" on more than one occasion. We made a deal. He calls me "Baby" and I call him "Pops." A 55-YEAR-OLD "BABY"

DEAR ABBY: About the man who couldn't [or wouldn't] call his wife by her name. I know exactly how he feels because I had the same problem.

I'm a widow now, but I was married for many years to a man I just adored, but I couldn't call him "Charlie" to save my life.

One time, some relatives got a hold of me and insisted that I call my husband "Charlie"—and I could hardly say it. It just didn't sound right. I could call him "Darling," "Sweetheart" or "Daddy" [we had six kids], but I couldn't call him "Charlie" to his dying day, and how I loved that man, and he loved me. CHARLIE'S LOVING WIDOW

Thurmonds Name Son Junior

GREENWOOD, S.C. (AP) — Nancy Thurmond says she and her husband, Sen. J. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., are naming their new-born son J. Strom Thurmond Jr.

"While he is little," Mrs. Thurmond said Thursday at the Self Memorial Hospital, "We will call him J. Strom, and then when he grows up, he can drop the J."

The boy, born Wednesday, is the second child for the Thurmonds. Their first, now 1½, is Nancy Moore Thurmond.

WE'RE BEHIND YOU MIGHTY TIGERS—LET'S WIN THIS DISTRICT!

SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Snyder, Lubbock Meet In First District Clash

Snyder's Tigers and Lubbock's Westerners will collide at 2 p.m. Saturday in Lowrey Field in Lubbock in an important District 4-AAAA football contest. This will be the first time the two teams have met since 1935 when the Westerners took a 75-0 decision.

This will be the first district game for both teams who have similar records. Both teams appear to be about equal in ability. Snyder is 2-3 for the season and Lubbock is 1-4. Against common opponents, the Tigers bested Lubbock Dunbar 3-0, but the Panthers beat the Westerners 17-7. Midland Lee beat both teams, derailing the Tigers 16-0 and triumphing over Lubbock 16-7. Snyder has scored 39 points compared with 66 for the opposition. Lubbock has tallied 53 points while yielding 70.

"This is the most physical team we'll meet this year," declared Tiger head coach Maurice (Mo) Hodges. "They have good size and they're tough," he added.

Asked if inclement weather could affect the game, Coach Hodges said:

"Rain would affect the game, but you never know how. They depend on the forward pass more than we do, but we would still have to stop them."

The Tigers operate from a variety of T sets, but primarily use the Winged T and the I formations. Lubbock will go with a Slot I.

Hodges said the Tigers will try several different offensive sets and then stay with the one that proves to be most effective.

"We'll just have to see which one works the best. Different teams adjust differently to different sets," the coach observed.

Snyder never has really reached its potential this season. Potentially, the Tigers have an explosive offense with halfbacks Hubert Crayton and Welton Cobb in the lineup. Crayton, a 173-pound junior, broke for an 80 yard touchdown run against Andrews and he's capable of doing it against any opponent. Cobb, a 193-pound sophomore, was an outstanding offensive player in junior high school. The company is a lot rougher on the high school varsity, but Cobb has 9.7 speed in the century and has to be considered as a serious threat.

Coach Hodges said he would go with Tim Jones at quarterback again. Jones, a 150-pound junior, started his first game against Lamesa a couple of weeks ago. He only threw the ball eight times, but he connected on three of them for 98 yards.

Tim Holder, 163-pound senior, will be waiting in the wings to take over if Jones has difficulty. Holder, however, is slated for a starting role on defense as a cornerback.

Rounding out the backfield for the Tigers will be Richard Gorman, a 178-pound junior, who will be starting his first game as a fullback. He will be spelled by Tommy Welsh, 208 pound junior, who has been out with an ankle injury since the season began. Welsh's ankle is coming around and he could be a big help Saturday.

Coach Tommy Stone will go with Donnie Combs, 145-pound senior, at quarterback, Steve Welch, 165-pound senior, at fullback; Gary Greenlee, 192-pound senior, at tailback; and, Eric Felton, 158-pound junior, at slotback. Greenlee has power and Welch has speed. Felton is a good receiver and Combs is an adequate passer.

Defensively, the Tigers employ an Oklahoma 5 alignment. Lubbock uses a 5-4-2 system.

Leading the Tiger defense will be Welton Cobb at linebacker. The top Westerner defender is Ricky Garcia, a 230-pound junior tackle.

Other starters for the Tigers on offense are ends, Charles Cain and Ralph Lewis, tackles Chris Covey and Grant Knipe, guards Paul Davis and Jerry Webb, and center Joe Dale Price.

Holder and Cobb will be joined on defense by ends Wilbert Thompson and David Yearwood, tackles Micky Gonzales and Grant Knipe, middle guard Willie Smith, linebacker Eddie Bane, rover John Boren, halfback Charles Cain and safety Jackie Hartsfield.

Others ready to answer Coach Hodges' call are swing man Charles Anderson, halfback Kerry Smith, tailback-safety V.T. Roberson, centers Rickey Berry, and John Wilson, tackles Paul Hayes, Jal Dennis and Robert Braziel, guard Nicky Neves and ends Regis Harper, Layne Collins and Greg Godair.

Lamar 9th Rips Toros

BIG SPRING—The Lamar 9th grade football team whacked the Big Spring Toros 28-6 here Thursday night.

Coach Tommy Echols said the offensive line did their best blocking of the season. Also the backs looked good with lead blocks. The offensive line includes Gary Greenlee, Moses Rodriguez, Mike Freeman, Bill Jennings, Joel McCommon, James Smiley, Richard Sullenger and Roy Gill.

Tim Flynn, Phil Robinson and Larry Gee all did a good job of carrying the ball. Lamar moved 40 yards in six plays for its first touchdown with Gee carrying over from the four. Lamar also drove 40 yards for its second touchdown with Gee carrying over from the three. Phil Robinson ran for the two bonus points.

Late in the initial period, Gee crashed over from the three to climax a 45 yard drive as Lamar took a 20-0 lead.

Big Spring drove 55 yards for its touchdown in the second quarter.

Gee romped 25 yards on a fullback power play for the last touchdown in the third quarter, and Flynn added the two extra points on a sweep around right end.

Two touchdowns were called back–one 40 yard run by Gee in the third quarter and the other one a 65 yard gambol by Flynn in the fourth frame.

Moses Rodriguez, Bill Jennings and Gary Greenlee all recovered Toro fumbles, and Roy Gill and Carl Guynes intercepted passes.

Coach Echols said Robinson, Flynn, Rodriguez, McCommon, Gee and Richard Huddleston all were outstanding on offense.

Lamar 9th is undefeated after five games.

Junior Varsity Trips C. City

COLORADO CITY--The Snyder Junior varisty blanked Colorado City 35-0 here Thursday night on a cold, rain-swept field.

The visitors took the opening kickoff and drove 70 yards for a touchdown. Fullback Doak Witherspoon carried it over from seven yards out. The run for extra points failed

In the second period Witherspoon scored on a 10 yard run to cap a 40 yard drive, and Jimmy Price collected the two bonus points.

Witherspoon scored again in the third quarter, going five yards to climax a drive from midfield. Witherspoon also kicked extra point to make it 21-0.

Still in the third quarter, Oscar Vargas tallied on a 12 yard end sweep, and Buddy Mayes added the two extra points.

With 17 seconds remaining in the last quarter, quarterback Widgeon Emerson tossed a screen pass to Jim Price who traveled 20 yards to the Colorado City 40. Then, with three seconds remaining, Emerson connected with Mayes on a 40 yard pass and run play for the last touchdown.

The JV will be at Sweetwater next Saturday.

Catfish Hunter of the Oakland Athletics beat the Detroit Tigers 5-1 for his 16th victory of the season. Hunter received ninth-inning help from Rollie Fingers, making his 15th save.

Sophs Sock Plainview

Scoring in every period, the Snyder sophomore varsity whipped Plainview's sophomores 40-27 in Tiger Stadium Thursday night.

Dennis Young swept left end from the seven for the first touchdown. In the second period, Plainview scored on a 5-yard pass and kicked the extra point to go ahead 7-6. Later in the second period, the visitors connected on a 70-yard pass and run play to go ahead 13-6. The extra point kick was blocked. Snyder pulled within one point with 4:10 remaining in the half on an eight yard scamper by Young. A pass for bonus points failed to click.

Young returned the kickoff opening the second half to the 15 yard line and Snyder drove in from that point with Win Bunch getting the TD on a 4 yard left end sweep. The run for points failed.

Plainview took the lead later in the third stanza on a 9 yard run by the fullback up the middle. The run for extra points was good.

Snyder recovered a fumble at the 30 yard line late in the third quarter and scored in the fourth frame with Rickey Howell getting the last yard on a plunge. Win Bunch added two points on a keeper to give the hosts a 26-21 lead.

Plainview recovered a fumble on the Snyder 30 and drove in from there with the TD coming from one yard out. A pass for extra points missed but the visitors were ahead 27-26 with 6:25 remaining.

The sophs took the lead for good on a 50 yard pass and run play, Bunch to Roy Lee Carter with 4:43 remaining. Rickey Howell took a screen pass from Bunch for the two extra points. With 38 seconds remaining in the game, Howell plunged over ffrom the one to cap a 59 yard drive.

Goliad Blanks Lamar 8th 22-0

BIG SPRING–Goliad blanked Lamar 8th grade 22-0 here Thursday night.

Lamar moved the ball well, gaining over 300 yards total offense, but the Snyder team just couldn't get the ball across the goal line.

Lamar drove 62 yards for a touchdown in the initial period and added two bonus points on a run. Lamar drove 65 yards to the 11 yard line and lost the ball on a field.

Goliad spanned 48 yards in the second quarter for its second score and collected two bonus points.

Lamar drove to the four yard line in the third period to set up a first down, but a 15 yard penalty set them back and they weren't able to score.

Goliad drove 56 yards for its last touchdown in the fourth quarter. Late in the game, Lamar drove to the two yard line but the clocked haltred the score.

Kuhn To Check Umps

BALTIMORE (AP) — Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn has confirmed his office is investigating reports that the names, addresses and telephone numbers of 11 major league umpires were contained in a book seized in a recent raid on the home of a well-known Baltimore area gambler.

Contacted at the World Series in Oakland Thursday, Kuhn told the Associated Press, "We know about it. We are looking into it. That is all I can say."

The report in Thursday's Baltimore News American quoted a "confidential, reliable source," as saying the umpires were from both the American and National leagues and included "some of the best-known umpires in professional baseball."

The reporter, Richard Irwin of the newspaper's Baltimore County bureau, wrote, "It was not known immediately what connection the convicted gambler had with the umpires."

The story identified neither the subject of the raid nor the umpires and did not give the date and location of the raid.

Former PGA champions Doug Ford and Dave Marr missed the cut in the 1972 PGA golf championship in Detroit. They shot 154 and 159, respectively, for the first two rounds.

A's Take Commanding 3-0 World Series Lead

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

OAKLAND (AP) — "Get a good pitch you can drive," said Oakland Manager Dick Williams. "Try to get the ball some place."

Pinch-hitter Angel Mangual got the pitch he wanted and put it in the right place—a single to right field that scored the winning run for the A's Thursday night.

The dramatic base hit through a drawn-in infield capped a two-run rally in the last of the ninth inning as Oakland beat the Cincinnati Reds 3-2 and took a solid 3-1 lead in the 1972 World Series.

"I prayed that the ball would go through," said Mangual after driving in Gene Tenace from third base with the winning run.

Three pinch-hitters came through for Williams in that emotion-charged ninth after the A's appeared to be finished.

Pedro Borbon, who had pitched in the eighth in relief of Cincinnati starter Don Gullett, was sitting on a 2-1 lead when the A's came up in the last inning. The Reds' right-hander got the first out of the inning, a harmless grounder by Mike Hegan.

Then Gonzalo Marquez hit for center fielder George Hendrick and singled up the middle, stirring the 49,410 partisan fans at the Oakland Coliseum.

When Borbon went to a 2-1 count on Tenace, Cincinnati Manager Sparky Anderson thought it was time for his best reliever, Clay Carroll.

Carroll threw one of his sinker balls to Tenace and the Oakland catcher hit it through the infield to left, just beyond the reach of shortstop Dave Concepcion for a single that sent pinch-runner Allan Lewis to second.

"He threw a good sinker to Tenace," said Anderson. "It was just a routine ground ball that got through."

Williams next called on Don Mincher to pinch-hit, telling the veteran first baseman:

"Go up swinging."

He did—and promptly brought the crowd to its feet with a single to right field that scored Lewis with the tying run.

Oakland pennants sprouted in the stands and wriggled furiously as the noise from the crowd became ear-splitting.

The stage was set for Mangual with runners on first and third and one out. He jumped on Carroll's first offering—a "fastball right over the plate"—and hit it to the right side of the infield. Second baseman Joe Morgan stretched for it, but it was a couple of feet beyond his reach. Tenace came in with the winning run to the wild cheers and an exploding scoreboard in center field. Fireworks went off as the Oakland catcher jumped on home plate and headed for a knot of happy teammates erupting from the dugout.

"The man upstairs has been good to me in this Series," said Tenace, who also hit a home run in the fifth inning to break a 20-inning Oakland scoring drought.

Tenace's third home run of the Series gave the A's a 1-0 lead off Cincinnati's Don Gullett. That small margin lasted until the Reds rallied for two runs in the eighth inning.

Dave Concepcion singled off starter Ken Holtzman and went to second on Julian Javier's sacrifice. A bouncer by Pete Rose moved Concepcion to third and at this juncture, Williams brought in Vida Blue to pitch to Joe Morgan.

It turned out to be a mistake. Morgan walked on a 3-2 count, then Bobby Tolan ripped a line-drive double into the right field corner to give the National League champions a 2-1 lead over the American league title-winners.

That hit kept the hometown crowd subdued until the wild, ninth-inning finish. Rollie Fingers finished up and got his first World Series victory, providing the A's with the type of airtight pitching that has muffled Cincinnati's tough hitters.

The Reds, who rode to the National League flag on speed and brute power, didn't hit a home run in the first four games—all decided by one run.

Their usually-lethal first three batters—Rose, Morgan and Tolan—have collected a meager four hits in 44 appearances. And the Reds' top sluggers, Johnny Bench and Tony Perez, haven't hit a run nor driven in a run between them.

The A's tried to nail down the series with Jim "Catfish" Hunter against Cincinnati's Jim McGlothlin today.

Rich Anderson is sure the two-party system can do better.

Rich Anderson knows the two-party system can provide checks and balances in state government. One reason we've had "crisis-to-crisis government" in Texas is that one party has been calling all the shots for nearly a century.

Lots of folks around here plan to give President Nixon and Senator Tower another chance. It would certainly be worth giving state government a boost by giving the two-party system a chance.

You can have a strong, effective, independent representative in this district if you'll elect a man who doesn't spend all his time worrying about pleasing his party leaders, the lobbies or special interest groups.

Rich Anderson is making just one campaign promise. He'll be a representative you'll be proud of.

McGovern Shares Top Billing With Agnew

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For the first time in the 1972 presidential campaign, Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern and Vice President Spiro T. Agnew have shared a speaking platform.

But neither got down to serious political speechmaking at the 27th annual Alfred E. Smith dinner in New York Thursday night, a traditional forum for White House campaigners. President Nixon appeared at the dinner during his 1960 and 1968 campaigns but begged off this year.

McGovern took cognizance of Nixon's absence from the charity dinner at the Waldorf Astoria ballroom.

"I'm sorry that President Nixon can't be with us tonight," the Democratic nominee said. "But I'm sure that somewhere, somehow he's listening in."

Earlier in the day, the White House said Nixon plans to motorcade through 14 towns in the industrial heartland of northern Ohio on Oct. 28.

Press Secretary Ronald L. Ziegler also disclosed the President will make two paid political broadcasts on network radio this weekend. On Saturday, the first address will focus on "his point of view of leadership in democracy," and on Sunday, the other will center on Veterans Day.

The President was flying to Philadelphia today to sign the $30.2-billion revenue-sharing bill, which will send federal funds to states, cities and other communities over the next five years.

The Philadelphia trip, Ziegler said, is nonpolitical. The White House invited about 200 guests—governors, mayors and congressmen—to attend the signing in Independence Hall.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Nixon campaigned in Detroit. She attended the dedication of the Michigan Cancer Foundation's new $5-million research center Thursday and said "the present administration in Washington has launched an all-out war on cancer."

On another front, Republicans claimed that Democrats were behind some of the political espionage and sabotage that the Nixon campaign has beef accused of working among Democratic presidential contenders.

Nixon campaign manager Clark MacGregor claimed that McGovern had agents in Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey's pre-convention campaign and in Nixon's re-election committee.

Kirby Jones, McGovern's deputy press secretary, said MacGregor's statement was "yet another attempt to construct a smokescreen to hide the serious assault he and his hirelings have made on the American political system."

In another development, the Democratic vice-presidential candidate, Sargent Shriver, said that the Democratic presidential campaign is in the black financially and will be that way until election day.

Shriver said in Chicago that "a miracle in modern campaign financing" was achieved largely through the help of 850,000 contributors giving less than $100 each.

More than $22 million will have been contributed by Nov. 7, Shriver said.

Health Disputes Left To New Congress

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — In a multibillion-dollar crusade to protect America's health, the old Congress marched off to fight mankind's greatest killers—leaving it to the new Congress to settle disputes over long-range planning problems.

The most feared and most common causes of death and illness—cancer; heart, lung and blood diseases; syphilis and gonorrhea—lured the 92nd Congress into an unprecedented comprehensive campaign against the elusive enemies of health.

But unsolved disputes remain for the 93rd Congress—various national health-care plans and ideas for governmental reorganization to meet modern demands for medical help, for example, are awaiting new looks by new legislators.

The 92nd Congress authorized $1.6 billion to battle cancer; $1.4 billion to fight heart, lung and blood diseases; and $322.5 million to combat venereal diseases, tuberculosis, measles and other communicable ailments.

But President Nixon's national health-protection plan and his proposal to reorganize the Health, Education and Welfare Department into an expanded agency—as part of streamlining the executive branch—died in the just-ended legislative session. Likewise, Congress failed to accept the idea of a separate health department.

A chief advocate of a separate Cabinet-level health department, Rep. Paul G. Rogers, D-Fla., head of the House public health subcommittee, says such an agency will be a top-priority matter on his list for action next year, along with plans for reviewing the Hill-Burton hospital-construction-grant program.

Rogers, author of the new laws to battle cancer and heart, lung, blood and communicable diseases, says HEW must be broken up.

"I think one of the problems of HEW was that they had so many problems with welfare and education that it was difficult for them to get to the health problems," Rogers said in an interview. "Then, there was a difficulty in trying to decide which way they wanted to go."

Another issue awaiting action in the new Congress—after being unresolved in the old one—involves the concept of health-maintenance organizations which provide a subscriber with prepaid basic medical care instead of the traditional fee-for-service method.

Congress did agree to take new steps in the fight against drug abuse and in the development of more medical manpower throughout the nation. But legislation for safe drinking water and for improving the Food and Drug Administration was left for action next year.

Contractor Is Chronic Violater

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — State Assemblyman Jim Keysor says one of the contractors working on the Foothill Freeway bridge which collapsed killing six workers is a "chronic violater of state safety laws."

Keysor, a Granada Hillls Democrat, issued his statement Thursday as union officials ordered workers off projects under contract to Polich-Benedict Construction Co., Inc., one of three firms building the bridge which fell Tuesday.

"According to my information, the records of the state Division of Industrial Safety indicate that the firm of Polich-Benedict is a chronic violator of state safety laws and the records indicate numerous violations on their part," Keysor said.

While he didn't give any specifics, Keysor said he had evidence to back up his statement.

"I'm not denying we've been written up for safety orders," said Ty Polich, president of the construction firm, "but so has every other contractor in California.

Polich said his firm had been cited on numerous occasions but added that most of the infractions had been minor.

State Department of Public Works records show seven bridge failures during construction in the past five years, three of them involving Polich-Benedict.

The state Division of Highways and state Division of Industrial Safety are investigating the collapse that left 21 other workers injured, six critically. Spokesmen for both agencies said the public will not be told why the bridge fell.

The bridge span gave way as concrete was being poured. Metal supports and scaffolding known as falsework apparently collapsed under the weight.

Higher Tuition In Pennsylvania

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Pennsylvania's public college students who have money of their own may be forced to pay higher tuitions in 1973-74, State Secretary of Education John C. Pittenger says.

Pittenger, speaking at a conference on education at Temple University Friday, said his department would develop a plan to base tuition on student income and submit it to Gov. Milton J. Shapp in January.

At present, the taxpayers subsidize Temple, Penn State and University of Pittsburgh $1,200 to $1,500 a year per student. For the 13 state-owned colleges, the figure is $1,000 to $1,200.

Man Charged In Station Shootout

DALLAS (AP) — An Oklahoma City man, L. D. Sutton, 62, was charged on two counts of attempted murder and held under $10,000 bond today following the wounding of two men in the lobby of the downtown Continental Trailways bus station Wednesday night.

The victims—Clint Fox, 27, of Dallas, and Alfred Donley, 27, of Terrell—were both in serious condition in Parkland Hospital.

Be still

"Have mercy upon me, O Lord, for I am weak." Psalm 6:2.

All men are weak, but none are so frail as we ourselves it seems,
For we thrive only on intentions, as we build our lives on dreams.
We dodge responsibility; we hedge on duty too,
While discipline is an awful word for other men to do.
We are the grasshoppers of every spring--or the crickets on the hearth;
Oh God have mercy on us; we're so numerous here on earth!

Wright became the new presiding overseer of the local congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses Sept. 1, when the elders in the congregation rotated duties.

"A rotation of ministerial duties was carried out in more than 27,000 congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses in over 200 countries where sufficient local overseers were available," according to Wright. "These 'older men', spiritually speaking, have had much to do with the spiritual growth of the 434,906 new ministers ordained in the last three years."

The Sweetwater circuit assembly will be held in the large, new Sweetwater High School Auditorium. Delegates will be attending from 21 congregations in West Texas. The program is designed to strengthen faith in the Bible and encourage an ever-closer relationship with Jehovah God. Home visits will be made to spiritually build up and invite area residents to the assembly sessions, all of which are held free.

Texas District Overseer J.P. Sutherland will be the featured speaker Sunday at 2 p.m., delivering the public address, "Is This Life All There Is?"

Briscoe Addresses Rotarians

HOUSTON (AP) — Democratic candidate for governor Dolph Briscoe says the citizens of Texas are going to be a watchdog for government.

"We have opportunities that we have never had before because we have a public which is concerned and impatient for progress," Briscoe said in a speech to the Houston Rotary Club Thursday. "We have a public which is going to be a watchdog as never before. And this is good."

Briscoe said that in private industry and in government "we can expect an abundance of new ideas and developments. We can look forward to a time of excitement and a rebirth of the Texas spirit of concrete accomplishment."

Briscoe said he has proposed that the state join with metropolitan areas to issue revenue bonds guaranteed up to 30 per cent by the state to help finance development of rapid mass transit systems. "I am convinced that this could be done without even costing the state one penny," he said.

UN Headquarters Benefits US

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Cuba says having the U.N. headquarters in New York earns for the United States nearly eight times the U.S. contribution to the world organization.

Cuban delegate Hector Rodriguez Cruz told the U.N. finance committee Tuesday the U.N. presence produces $600 million in earnings for the United States while the U.S. contribution to the U.N. budget is $80 million.

He opposed an American proposal to reduce the U.S. contribution from 31½ to 25 per cent of the regular U.N. budget. Based on ability to pay, the U.S. share should be 40 per cent, he argued.

Oil Industry Is Staging A Big Show In Odessa

By MIKE COCHRAN
Associated Press Writer

ODESSA, Tex. (AP) — The petroleum industry is visiting West Texas this week.

The occasion is the Permian Basin Oil Show, a kind of world's fair without a midway, a carnival without dancing girls.

For four days every even-numbered year, the Ector County Coliseum grounds serve as the showcase for the latest in oil technology and equipment.

Equipment worth millions of dollars is put on display and hundreds of thousands of people, mostly oilmen, come to see it.

This year, says general manager Jay Alvey, attendance may top 400,000 despite a cruel twist or two by Mother Nature.

On opening day Wednesday exhibitors were confronted by a heat wave, a cold front, a sandstorm, rain and frisky winds. Thursday was cold, windy and rainy.

But the show went on.

"We must have had more than 50 per cent more visitors from out of town," said Ed Durrett, an oil show director, of the opening day's attendance. "And I am not talking just about the immediate area, I mean from all over the country."

"I think oil companies are using their own airlines to get top officials in here to see the show, and I think this will keep up all week."

Hotel rooms are not to be found in Odessa or its nearby sister city Midland, and showgoers in some instances secured lodging as far away as Big Spring, 60 miles to the east.

The show itself has come quite a way since 1940, when the Chamber of Commerce launched the project as a vehicle to pinpoint Odessa as an oil supply center. Officials named it the "little international oil exposition," which gave way to the Permian Basin Oil Show in 1950.

The first exposition attracted 38 exhibitors and a few thousand curious people. They financed the project with a dance at $1 a head, including barbecue. Dance has been discarded, but the famed "Chuck Wagon Gang" will dish out barbecue Saturday for an estimated 15,000 persons.

The show's operating budget is now $150,000. The list of exhibitors has grown in 32 years to 425, the maximum for the available space both indoors and out.

Exhibits range from pumping jacks and automatic reactors to remote controlled firefighting trucks.

Exhibitors come from Alabama, Wisconsin, Kansas, New Jersey, New York and elsewhere, including the major oil producing states such as Louisiana, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

The Louisiana delegation arrived here in ten planes, and included 46 "goodwill ambassadors" from the Louisiana Gulf Coast Oil Exposition, a similar but smaller show held on alternate years.

The Permian Basin project, a non-profit enterprise, is run by 130 directors representing every conceivable phase of the industry.

The Permian Basin itself encompasses an area roughly 100 miles wide and 200 miles long and produces 20 per cent of the nation's oil and gas supply.

The oil show traditionally honors one of its own. The 1972 honoree is Paul Kayser of El Paso, founder of El Paso Natural Gas Co. and a pioneer Texas oil figure.

New Trade Regulation

WASHINGTON (AP) — A new Federal Trade Commission rule gives persons who buy goods from door-to-door salesmen a three-day cooling-off period to decide whether they want to keep the merchandise.

If the customer decides to return the product, he can do so without penalty or fee, according to the new trade regulation announced Thursday.

The new regulation is designed to counter such door-to-door sales tactics as high-pressure sales pitches, misrepresentations of the nature and price of the product, false-savings claims and the nuisance created by the uninvited salesman in the home who refuses to leave until a sale is made, the FTC said.

The new rule applies only to door-to-door sales costing more than $25, the FTC said. It said the rule is based on the theory that during the three days the customer considers the wisdom of his purchase and then decides whether to keep the item.

Among the provisions of the rule are:

—The sellers must furnish the buyer with a contract and an explanation of the cancellation right in the same language as that used in the sales presentation, such as Spanish.

—At the time of the sale, the seller must provide the buyer with both a separate written notice and oral explanation of the right to cancel the sale.

—Upon cancellation, the buyer must make available at his residence any goods which have been delivered. If they are not picked up within 20 business days after the sale has been canceled, the buyer may keep them. The seller must pay all expenses associated with the return shipment of the goods.

Miss McNair Says Charge Without Cause

NEW YORK (AP) — Entertainer Barbara McNair's attorney says government agents knowingly arrested her on a drug charge without probable cause.

Miss McNair and her husband, Rich Manzie, were arrested at a club at McAfee, N.J., Tuesday night after a package containing heroin was delivered to her dressing room and she signed for it.

"It was delivered by U.S. agents who urged her to sign for it," attorney Marvin Mitchelson of Los Angeles said Thursday. "She never touched it, opened it or had it in her possession. We believe government agents knowingly arrested her without probable cause."

Miss McNair, 38, said, "I do not use narcotics of any kind. I mean, I hardly drink."

Mitchelson said he would seek court dismissal of the charges against Miss McNair and the 32-year-old Manzie and would file a false arrest suit against the government.

Soap Makers Agree On Label

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three major detergent manufacturers have agreed to adopt uniform labeling practices identifying the phosphorus content of household detergents.

The Federal Trade Commission announced Thursday that Lever Brothers Co., Colgate-Palmolive and Procter and Gamble voluntarily agreed to the procedure. The three produce 89 per cent of household detergents.

The FTC has shelved a proposed rule governing the labeling and advertising of detergents, said Robert Pitofsky, director of the commission's Bureau of Consumer Protection.
