Responsible father teaches children many lessons

By Hope Warren

Mothers always get recognition. People on TV always say "Hi Mom." But fathers are special people too. There are many remarkable fathers in Floyd County. One father who really appreciates his children is Ted Porter.

Porter farms 400 irrigated acres in the McCoy Community. He aids his father on his farm and custom harvests wheat in the summer and cotton in the winter. He enjoys hunting and painting. Porter has lived near Floydada all his life. He and his wife, Mary, lived in Germany for 18 months while he was in the service.

The Porters have four children. The oldest two, Richard or Ritchie, and Paula were adopted. Their other two daughters are Becky and Alycia. These children are stories in themselves.

Ritchie will be in the eighth grade next year. He is involved in the Gifted and Talented program at Floydada Jr. High. At age six weeks, Ritchie was adopted by the Porters. When they brought him home it was a few days before Father's Day. Ritchie enjoys science and computers. During the school year, he attends computer courses at Texas Tech University at their "Super Saturday" sessions for seven consecutive Saturdays. This summer he will attend a two week course in astronomy, dissecting human anatomy and computers.

Paula, the oldest daughter, was adopted by the Porters at age two weeks old. She is eleven now. Paula has cystic fibrosis, a lung disorder. Paula is under treatment at Dallas Presbyterian Hospital. Her doctor is Dr. Prestige. They also use the clinic at Children's Hospital in Dallas. About two weeks ago, Mary took Paula to a cystic fibrosis camp at Lake Tawakoni. There were 82 other kids with C.F. at this camp ranging in age from 3 years to 20.

The Presbyterian Hospital has seven floors and they are working on another building. The kids that stay there may explore the hospital and meet other people. In fact, Paula met Dallas Cowboy Bob Brunick. When J.R. was shot on "Dallas", they used part of the floor Paula stays on but, Paula was not there at the time.

The medicine Paula must take everyday is quite extensive. She takes two pills at every meal to aid her digestion track. If the food is very greasy, she must take three. She also takes one at each snack. In addition to these pills, she takes seven to eight other pills a day. They have finally secured financial aid with the medication expense. An organization, Crippled Children's, help with some of the expenses, including travel to and from Dallas.

Because Paula must be in the hospital 10-14 days about 9 months out of the year, she doesn't attend public schools. Mazie Becker is tutoring Paula at home.

While Mary and Paula make these necessary trips to Dallas Porter stays at home and farms, taking care of the three remaining children.

The next child is Becky. She is the first child the Porters were able to have. She is age 9 and enjoys sports. Porter calls her his "Dr. J." She is very quiet around people until you get to know her. She also enjoys working a "Rubic's Cube." The part she likes most is messing it up.

Alycia is the youngest of the four; she is four. When she was born it took Porter four days to decide how to spell her name. She too, is quiet and like her sister enjoys working a "Rubic's Cube." Alycia, like her father enjoys a good cup of coffee in the morning, only with sugar, milk, and not so hot.

As a family, the Porters enjoy taking trips, hunting, and camping at Palo Duro, in New Mexico and Colorado. Mary also sells Contempo jewelry.

Porter feels the biggest reward for being a father is "Watching part of yourself grow up." He feels his greatest responsibility to his children is "to teach them God's way and to be responsible adults and good citizens."

It is evident his children love and admire him very much. Congratulations and Happy Father's Day.

Board fills all vacancies

In a regular meeting of the school board for Floydada Independent School District held Tuesday night the following board members were present: Harvey Allen, president, Don Hardy, vice-president, Weldon Pruitt, Fred Zimmerman, and Bud Rainey. Also attending were Superintendent Jerry Cannon and business manager Tommy Cathey. Travis Jones was reported to have been greatly improved in the last few days, but remains hospitalized after three weeks in the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock.

In the business manager's report $915,454.97 taxes had been collected through May 26 which was running a little ahead of the average at this time at 92.4%. Total delinquent taxes collected stands at $30,086.12 which exceeds the budgeted amount by $86.12.

The resignation of Matt Clark, junior high coach, was accepted. Clark has accepted a coaching position at Crosbyton.

Mike Bodey, a graduate of West Texas State University, of Spearman was hired. His field is physical education and biology. Renee Tunnel was also hired for special education and early childhood at Della Plains to fill the vacancy created at the resignation of Melony Ross. Cannon reported all positions filled at present, with one of the smallest turnovers this year of any in the recent years.

Behner and Company was approved for the 1982-83 audit by motion made by Zimmerman and seconded by Rainey with all in favor.

Cannon announced to the board that reservations had been mailed for the school board convention to be held in Austin September 17-19 to assure nearby rooms. Cancellations may be sent in if necessary.

Two nominations were named to the equalization board of the Floyd County

Appraisal District. Adrain Helms, currently serving, was nominated for another term. Robert Stovall, also now serving, had indicated he did not desire renomination. Rainey nominated Fred Zimmerman with a second from Weldon Pruitt with all in favor. That term will begin in January.

A preliminary study of the budget for another year was held, but no action was taken until board members could have additional time to review an in-depth 5 year analysis of the school's budget and the proposed budgeted items.

Other items covered in the meeting included the approval of a 5 year annual evaluation and the issuance of copies of a letter from Paul Lyle, attorney, for consideration for possible additions to school policy.

Wilson Bond Scholarship established

The Board of Directors of Floydada Lions Club voted recently to establish the Wilson G. Bond Scholarship Fund in honor of Wilson G. Bond, longtime club member and worker in the Boy Scouts of America.

Lion President Gary Brown announced that the scholarship will be awarded in the Spring to a graduating senior in Scout Troop 355 or to any deserving senior boy. Criteria for awarding the scholarship will be determined in consultation with local school officials.

Bond has been a member of the Floydada Lions Club since 1963 and served as secretary-treasurer for 18 years. He has also been very active in scouting, including serving as scoutmaster for Troop 355 since 1972. Seventeen boys in his troop have earned the Eagle Scout award, the highest award in scouting.

"We hope very much that the scholarship will be awarded on an annual basis," said Brown. "In addition to the gift to the fund made by the Floydada Lions Club, we are accepting donations from any interested persons." Contributions can be made to the "Wilson G. Bond Scholarship Fund" at First National Bank.

Hale opens new office

STEVE HALE

Steve Hale, attorney at law, has opened offices in the Floydada Insurance building. He and his wife Gay moved to Floydada about two weeks ago.

Hale, a former Floydada resident, is the son of Bill and Carolyn Hale. He played football on the Whirlwind team and graduated from Floydada High School in 1973. He met his wife, originally from El Campo near Houston, at the University of Texas in Austin where he received his undergraduate degree. She received a degree there also as an elementary major in general education.

Hale graduated from Texas Tech law school in 1980. He worked in Austin as a legislative aid to Mike Harris of Dallas and a committee attorney for a year. He later worked for a trust company in Odessa for a couple of years.

When asked why he did not choose to remain in Austin, Hale said, "I would have had to stay in state government, and I was ready to get into my own practice."

Hale's office will be one of general practice, handling all kinds of cases. He indicated that he planned to brush up on his criminal skills in order to handle the cases that he might be drawn into by court appointment only.

The Hales plan to move into the old Frizzell house on West Virginia Street as soon as possible. They have been involved in some extensive remodeling the past few weeks. Hale said he really used to enjoy working on houses, having done house painting in the summers to pay some of his college expenses, but after enduring the pains of remodeling a damper has been placed on that hobby.

"We are glad to be here, and start my own practice. We wanted to live in a small town. Everyone has been very supportive and interested. The local bar members have all been so generous with their time."

Gay has taught school 1½ years just outside of Austin, two years in Odessa, and two years in Abilene. She will be interested in teaching in Floydada when something is available.

The Hales enjoy traveling. They honeymooned in the Caribbean five years ago. Since that time they have been to Mexico twice and to Hawaii.

Hale said living here would give him contact with many of his school friends who have filtered back as members of the community.

His twin brother Mike is an architect and resides in Lubbock. Of course, he is particularly glad to have another brother Richard, his parents, and his grandparents here. "I am sure we will attend the Whirlwinds games," he concluded.

Miss Cindy Marble and Shane Bearden, seniors at Floydada High School, have been accepted by People-to-People International and the Educational Travel Institute to participate in the People-to-People High School Ambassador Program this summer. This is the 20th annual People-to-People Program and has involved nearly 17,000 students from around the United States.

The participants will assemble in Washington, D.C. June 20 for briefings by United States State Department officials and members of the Educational Travel Institute on what to expect in the countries they will be visiting. Cindy and Shane will be part of a group of 26 students from this area. Teacher/Leaders Pam Brown, Cooper; Paulette Brownfield, Tahoka; Paul Dobbins, Plainview; and Thelma Maxey, Lorenzo, will escort the Ambassadors on a month long visit to Greece, Italy, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Austria, and West Germany.

The Ambassadors will learn about and see places of historical and cultural interest along the way and will have an opportunity to see schools at work, meet with students their own age and live in homes for three or four days at a time in three countries: Greece, Austria, and West Germany.

Adult leaders for the group, all of whom are teachers, have been recommended by school officials. They have conducted orientation sessions prior to departure. ## Local people perform in Texas

The gates are opened, the flags are flying, the lines are polished, and "Texas" is playing for its eighteenth season in Palo Duro Canyon State Park. Every night except Sunday, eighty singers, actors, and dancers burst upon the stage to the sounds of "Texas Forever", and once more the story of the settling of the Texas Panhandle during the 1880's is unveiled to near-capacity houses.

Indians, horses, thunder, fire, and romance are all parts of the show. "Goose bumps" are frequently apparent when audience members are made to feel a part of the sacrifice, perseverance, and humor of these pioneers.

Company members were selected in auditions that were held throughout Texas and New Mexico in January and February. Those selected have been sharpening and refining their talents in rehearsals that began in May. Eight hours of practice six and 1/2 days a week forms the company into a unified whole that not even wind, heat, cold, or storms can divide.

Hospitality members have dusted off their Texas draws and their "Howdy y'all's". They know how to get the most possible cars onto the parking lot and how to pour hundreds of soft drinks in only a few minutes.

For ticket information write Box 268, Canyon, Texas 79015 or call 806-655-2181.

Come and see your local folks perform at "Texas". They are Kelly Jo McCawley, box office, is the niece of Lynn and Charlotte Campbell, and Calvin Dick, a dancer, is a 1979 graduate of Floydada High School.

KELLY JO McCAULEY, a Canyon resident, joins the hospitality crew for her first season. Originally from Idalou, and a graduate of Lubbock Christian High School, she will be attending her second semester this fall.

KALVIN DICK (Scott Carter, and Eschitz [M.W.F.]) returns to "Texas" for his third season. He is a senior theatre and dance major at West Texas State University.

Dear Parents,

Although the baseball season has already begun, we need to remind ourselves of the real purpose of this program. This is a program for all kids who want to have fun and learn good sportsmanship. In the past, many parents and onlookers have mistaken this program as being based solely on athletic ability and competition. This year we would like to change all of that with your help. We would like to have one rule apply to all adults involved in the baseball program: Only say encouraging remarks to your child's team or opposing team during practices or games.

Each child involved in this program, whether talented or not, deserves the right to all the encouragement and positive remarks you can offer. Let it become the custom for everyone in the crowd to yell encouragement for each child on both teams. If you feel you need to criticize your own child's performance, please wait until you get home. If you feel you need to criticize someone else's child, please don't. Remember this season that each child who is out there trying his or her best is a winner in the truest sense of the word. Let's have a good season.

Thank you for your cooperation.

GREG, EARL and JEAN BLAIR

Blairs are new residents

Earl Blair, pastor of the First United Methodist church, and his wife Jean, moved to Floydada a week ago from Amarillo where he had been pastor of the Kingswood Methodist for about 7 years. She had been employed by Coastal Oil and Gas Company there also.

Blair and his wife both graduated from high school in Sterling City. He worked with the Department of Public Safety for almost four years and taught industrial arts education in Lee High School in Midland for two years before going into the ministry, having received his undergraduate degree from North Texas University. He earned his degree of technology from the Perkins School of Technology at SMU.

Prior to his term in Amarillo, Blair served as associate pastor in Dallas six years and one year at Silverton. While in Dallas, Jean was employed at the SMU law school.

The Blairs have two children. Greg, a son, 22, will be a senior at Texas Tech University this fall. He is employed by Coastal Oil and Gas of Amarillo for the summer. Jean Rambow, a first grade teacher at Big Springs, is the mother of the Blair's only grandchild, Lindsey, who is four months old. Her husband owns and operates a restaurant there.

The Blairs toured in Israel and Rome, Italy for about 14 days two years ago in February. They said they had many "good memories" from that trip. At that season, oranges were growing, grass was green and they experienced ideal weather.

First National cited among top banks

First National Bank of Floydada is one of the nation's top banks in terms of financial performance based on an analysis conducted by Bank Administration Institute (BAI).

First National is one of only 1,300 top-performing banks cited from among those 6,500 in the United States with assets ranging from $25 million to $175 million. In making selections, the Institute uses its Index of Bank Performance as a statistical base, weighing two factors: return on assets and return on equity. Using these criteria, the top 20 percent of banks in each state are selected. (The Index of Bank Performance is based on call reports -- condition and income statements -- required by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.)

"The management practices of these banks are successful and worthy of analysis and examination," said Richard H. Needham, director of the Institute's administrative and management products group.

Bank Administration Institute, founded in 1924, is the banking industry's principal resource in the areas of research and professional development.

Free enterprise is what this country was founded on. This country has survived on small businesses. Keeping this thought in mind five local youths decided to put small business and creative thinking together.

With the water still in the creeks on the golf course at the Floydada Country Club, Tracey Warren and Randell Sims fished out several golf balls. No matter what the condition of the balls, these boys decided to make a profit of them.

The balls were selling for one dollar to six dollars per dozen; ten cents to 50 cents each. The sale started on June 8, at 1:00 p.m. Aiding Warren and Sims were: Donald Hardy, Therese Sims, and Misty Warren.

It was reported it took all week to "fish out" enough balls to start sales.

By the first few hours they had made about $5.00 profit. When asked what the money would be used for, Warren replied, "We'll buy new golf clubs or balls, or just use it for spending money."

Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Don Hardy. Tracey and Misty are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Warren and Randell and Therese are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Sims.

MRS. TODD VICKERS

Miss Boothe becomes bride of Todd Vickers

Tammy Boothe and Todd Vickers of Floydada were united in holy matrimony Sunday, June 12, at 3:00 p.m. at the First United Methodist Church, with the Reverend Jim Smith of Amarillo officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, Virgil Boothe, of Las Cruces, New Mexico, wore a long white gown of silk organza adorned with lace and seed pearls. Her train was of the same material made into rows of ruffles. A sweetheart neckline accented a standing lace collar. Her hat was covered in nylon netting which formed a long veil in the back of her head. An arrangement of white silk flowers graced the side of the hat. White satin slippers were worn with the traditional penny of the birthyear of both bride and groom. She also wore the customary blue garter. A gift of a diamond necklace from the groom completed her attire.

The bridal bouquet consisted of a dozen white roses embedded on a layer of lace, all of which were carried on top of a white Bible. Inside of the Bible was a handkerchief used by her maternal great-grandmother.

Tammy Cochran of Floydada was maid of honor, with Nancy Howle also of Floydada and Kari Wilkes of Lubbock assisting as bridesmaids. They each wore an apricot silk floor length gown with sweetheart necklines and puffed sleeves. Each attendant carried a bouquet of apricot and white carnations.

Music was provided by Penny Bertrand, playing traditional marches on the organ. Linda Marcum of Lubbock played the piano and accompanied Lea Battey as she sang, "Just You and I," "Wedding Song," and "The Rose" during which Tammy and Todd presented a white long stem rose to each of their respective mothers. This was done after the lighting of the unity candle.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length gown of apricot quiana. The groom's mother also wore a floor length gown of lavender quiana.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall with sisters of the bride serving; also assisting were Terri Marquis and Drew Ann Welborn. Lisa Welborn was at the register table.

Frizzell, Dorman repeat vows in Lockney June 11th

The First Baptist Church in Lockney was the site for the 7:30 p.m. wedding ceremony uniting Julie Denise Frizzell and Johnny Dorman on June 11. Bro. Murle Rogers, minister of the First Baptist Church, read the vows.

The couple are the son and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Frizzell of Lockney and Mr. and Mrs. John Dorman, also of Lockney.

Decorations adorning the church included a candle arch and spiral candelabra accented with tropical foliage and gypsophila. This held pink tapers and was tied with lace and satin bows. Formal baskets of pink gladiola and white china mums and the unity candle completed the nuptial area. The bridal aisle was marked by hurricane candles.

Musical selections were presented by Mrs. Bill Race of Lockney, pianist; Mrs. C.L. Record, Lockney, organist; and Terry Keltz, Plainview, soloist.

For her wedding, the bride chose a formal length gown of white silk organza fashioned with Venice lace and seed pearls. Falling from an empire waistline was a full skirt that featured lace extending to the back of the chapel length train. Appliqued motifs of Venice lace were sprinkled over the veil of illusion and framed the bride's headpiece. She carried a cascade bouquet of English ivy and pink roses atop a white Bible.

Following tradition, the bride had a solid gold wedding band belonging to her maternal great-great-grandmother; something new was the Bible carried with her bouquet, given to her by her grandmother, Mrs. Jack Frizzell; something borrowed was her wedding attire, which was also worn by her sister, Mrs. Phil Cotham; and something blue was her garter. For good luck, she wore pennies in her shoe with the couple's birthdates.

Flower girl, Jaime Webster, cousin of the bride of Wichita, Kansas, carried a basket filled with flowers matching the attendants bouquets.

Beverly Barker of Levelland and DeAnn Craft of Garden City, Kansas

Ring bearers were Adam Cummings, nephew of the groom of Lockney and Blake Webster, cousin of the bride of Wichita, Kansas.

Jammie Meachem of Lubbock presided at the register.

A reception followed the ceremony in the Garden Room of the First Baptist Church.

The bride's table was laid with a white eyelet cloth. It held a three-tier wedding cake with nosegays of pink and white carnations and cushion mums. Pink sweetheart bows accented the table which featured an Edwardian arrangement of pink pixie carnations and white poms on a silver candelabra that held pink tapers. Silver appointments were used.

A chocolate roll cake was served at the groom's table, which was covered with a gray cloth and a white lace overlay. This table was decorated with a contemporary arrangement of pink roses and ming fern in a silver compote holding a silver frame of the bride and groom and pink tapers. A silver coffee service completed the setting.

Following a wedding trip to Colorado Springs, Colorado, the couple will reside in Lockney, where the groom is presently engaged in farming.

Hobby Club enjoys "Breakfast at Mamie's"

"Breakfast at Mamie's" is an annual event for the South Plains Hobby Club. This year's breakfast was held on June 8. Guest called on Mamie Wood's home at 8:00. They registered with Carolyn Marble. The name tags were fashioned out of leaves.

After guests received their name tags, they went to the back yard to view the 16 foot and one inch century plant. Each person guessed at the height of the plant. Joyce Williams made the correct guess. For her prize, she received a pepper tree.

Mrs. Wood received her century plant 25 to 30 years ago from Murl

Mayfield. It is reported that century plants grow eighteen inches a day. They do best in hot, sunny weather. After a century plant blooms, they die.

Thirty-four guests were served by hostesses Mamie Wood, Ruby Lee Higginbotham, Dot Cummings and Mildred Ham. These hostesses served chili cheese squares, sausage balls, biscuits and jellie, and breakfast squares. Breakfast was served in Mrs. Wood's backyard.

After breakfast and the prize winning guess of the century plant, Mamie and her guests played games that were nature hunts.

A special decision the Hobby Club had to make was to decide if the date for "Breakfast at Mamie's" be kept the same or changed to the first of July. They decided to keep the date the same.

The guests included: Ruth Smitherman, Syble Teeple, Muri Mayfield, Navolia Kinslow, Jennie Gauntt, Juanita Teeple, Carlene Johnson, Madge West, Bobbie Kinnibrugh, Lennie Abbott, Edythe Clarke, Katharine Ball, Hope Warren, Carolyn Redding, Atha Sue, June McCulley, Kellie Williams, Joyce Williams, Sara Probasco, Gleyenn Earle Cummings, Janet McCaleb, La Faun Young, Pat Wood, Carolyn Marble, Bonnie Julian, Frances Stanforth, Letha Mulder, Bonnie Moore, Joyce Osborne, Annelda Staples, Gertie Smitherman, Margaret Kitchens and Neta Marble.
