By J. W. King, Sr.

Dairying continues to be pushed to the front for this county as more and more farmers are talking about the possibilities of dairying in face of the fact that more feed crops will have to be planted since cotton acreage reduction is with us again.

Dairying, if gone into properly, can be the means of greater prosperity for the county than any other one thing. Other counties in Texas have seen the possibilities and capitalized on dairying as the major income for the county. Only a few days ago someone was telling me of what a certain county in East Texas had done with dairying. The amount of income for the county at present was enormous and the principal part of it came from dairying. This same county, before dairying was started, had a hard time. Cotton was the main crop. The difference in the income of farmers after they turned to dairying is amazing.

We never expect to see cotton discarded as a crop in Mitchell County, nor do we advocate it, but our county offers great possibilities for dairying along with cotton. Farmers who follow dairying along with cotton are making doubly sure they will have an income. There are so many things that can cause a cotton crop failure.

CANASTA PARTY

A canasta party was enjoyed at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Peterson Thursday night. Cookies and cakes were served to Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ray Finch and Mrs. Tharon Henderson. Mr. and Mrs. Forest Faulkenberry, T. J. Green, Jr., and Lamar, Doris and Allen Peterson.

Ex Lorainian Back From Turkey

Mrs. Charles Ronay, known here as Jimmie Ruth Glass, spent Monday afternoon in Loraine visiting two of her former teachers, Mrs. Henri Gay Ison, and Mrs. Doris Martin, and many others who knew her well when she used to sing with so much feeling, "Red Sails In The Sunset". Mrs. Ronay, with her husband, was enroute to El Paso for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Glass. They had just come from a visit with Mr. Ronay's mother who lives in Detroit, Michigan.

The young Ronays arrived by air in Westover, Mass., January 15, having reached New Foundland in a terrible storm with a very low supply of gasoline. They reported many another interesting experience on their way back to America, and during their years of foreign residence.

It was during her two years as nurse and laboratory technician for the American Mission for Aid to Turkey that Jimmie Ruth met Charles, Military attaché to the State Department, and there the jolly "Mission Belle" and the American of French descent were married making their home in Ankara, Turkey, until very recently.

From Ankara, they visited Beirut, Lebanon, Cairo, Egypt, and Athens, Greece. Later they went to Paris, Switzerland, Erding, Frankfurt, Heidelberg, Weisbaden, and numerous other places in Europe.

After graduation from Loraine High School, Jimmie Ruth completed nurses' training at Parkland Hospital in Dallas. Following a period of nursing in El Paso, she returned to school and received the B. S. degree from the School of Mines in El Paso. From there she went East to become the "Mission Belle" in Ankara, as well as Mrs. Charles Ronay.

The present residence of the Ronays is Washington, D. C., but with a far away look in their eyes, they assured their Loraine friends that another foreign assignment would find them ready to go. The young couple are very world-minded, with distant horizons beckoning invitingly.

This is further evidence that the girls and boys of Loraine High School go a long way.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Marth and little son visited over the week end and first of the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hallmark. The Marths are moving from Kansas City, Kansas, to McKinney, Texas.

Ice Storm Reminds Of Year Ago Jan. 31

Although icing conditions nor temperatures did not get as low as last year, the last day of January reminded us of it. The rain was lighter and icing conditions on wires and roads lacked a lot of coming up with the spell on the last day of January a year ago.

Only .30 inch of rain was measured Tuesday and the ice, though it covered wires, and trees with a light coat very little remained on highways to make travel conditions hazardous except that windshields covered over quickly unless a defroster was used. Temperatures were rather mild during the spell, the lowest being about 26.

Firemen Ask Help To Equip New Truck

J. C. Hall, Jr., Fire Chief, has announced that the Loraine Fire Department has purchased a truck chassis to be converted to a fire truck. The Department and City have equipped the truck with fire hose and plan to install a 500 gallon water tank and a pump to give them two complete fire fighting units.

This will give the local fire department the equipment needed to fight fires in the rural area as well as in the city. At present with only one truck it is not advisable to leave the city limits, but with two trucks, one can go to the rural area and the other stay in town for use here.

Several farmers have already contributed money to the fire department to help in equipping the new truck. Others who want to do so may leave their contribution with the fire chief.

A truck equipped with 500 gallons of water and a pump could knock out a fairly large fire and might possibly save other buildings on the farm if the firemen reached the scene too late to save the home, barn, or other building that might be burning. A contribution to the truck fund might prove a wise investment for farmers in this area.

Veterans Asked To Buy Savings Bonds

Dallas—Texas veterans will be asked to "Salt away" part of their national service-life insurance dividends in U. S. Savings Bonds, Nathan Adams of Dallas, state Savings Bonds chairman, announced.

Mr. Adams said that principal veterans organizations of the state will participate in the campaign, beginning Monday, January 16, to urge ex-service men and women to use their dividend money as nest-eggs for the future. This is the date on which the Veterans Administration has announced that it will begin mailing checks. A total of $2.8 billion will be distributed in the next six months, with about $150,000,000 going to the 700,000 veterans in Texas.

"It is not the purpose of this campaign to tell the veteran how to use his dividend money," Mr. Adams said. "It is our purpose, however, to remind him that his NSLI dividend gives him an opportunity to begin, or add to, a sound savings plan to provide future financial security for himself and his family."

Attlee Promises 'Better' Socialism; Amvets Support GI Bonus Proposals; U.S. War Potentials Gains Recited

(EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

This is the Isbrandtsen ship line's "Flying Cloud" as it left its Hoboken pier to run the Chinese Nationalist blockade in Shanghai. It is a sister ship to the "Flying Arrow" which was heavily shelled by Chinese gunboats. The move was being made despite U. S. state department warnings to U. S. ships to stay out of the blockade area. Inset is Captain Nicholas Dervin, skipper of the "Flying Cloud."

GREAT BRITAIN: Attlee Stands Pat

On the surface, at least, there were no qualms over possible results and certainly no promises of reform as the Labor party in England loudly proclaimed that, "socialism if it were returned to power in the February elections."

OBVIOUSLY, the overthrow of the Socialists in Australia and, earlier, in New Zealand, didn't mean a thing to Prime Minister Clement Attlee and his administration.

The party in power in Great Britain laid down its platform in a 6,000-word manifesto. The platform included:

"Wise development" of the administration of government medical services and other welfare services (one of the most hotly-disputed of socialist innovations).

MUTUALIZATION of insurance—that is, ownership by policy-holders.

Jobs for all.

Increase in production, lowering costs and increasing imports. More and cheaper food.

A home for every family.

No shelter for private enterprise "behind price rings and rigged markets."

EFFORTS FOR PEACE in a "realistic" manner, and willingness to cooperate with Russia, as "with any other country that is prepared to work for peace and friendship."

Strengthening of the association of the commonwealths and the Atlantic pact.

An ambitious program surely and one which must command some measure of respect if only for its declining to retreat in the face of what might seem to be a dangerous situation.

WAR POTENTIAL: U. S. Gains Cited

While the national committee for aeronautics reported that "it is logical to assume" Russia is working hard to develop super-speed warplanes to deliver atomic weapons, it also reported continuing American gains in the "race for air leadership." The committee called for efforts to "consolidate these gains and push forward."

THE AGENCY reporting is the government's chief organization for basic aviation research and, consequently, should know what it is talking about.

The committee dropped one not-so-cheering note, however, by pointing out that any nation that wants to make the effort can build "practical military airplanes" able to fly faster than sound.

"Superior-speed," the report continued, "is generally acknowledged to be the most important single element in successful air attack and in defense against attack. Range also is important. The attainment of long range poses a most difficult problem."

AND THEN the report's punch line:

"As in the case of the atomic bomb, America cannot expect to enjoy an exclusive advantage—at best it can only plan for vigorous and timely research to stay ahead of any potential enemy . . ."

SIMMERING DOWN

Little Chance Seen for Major Tax Hike

When a top Democrat in President Truman's administration calls for a three-billion-dollar cut in federal taxes, indications are that Mr. Truman's original plan for a tax hike has been abandoned.

When the President first proposed an increase in taxes, he was in a fighting mood. He had just been elected in his own right as President despite general opinion

GIVEAWAY DUE Potatoes

The government announced it was going to "give away" some of the enormous stocks of potatoes which it bought to keep prices up—but, as usual, there was a catch to it. Not everyone could get the potatoes, and it was not as "free" as it appeared.

THE POTATOES, it appeared, would go only to the school lunch program, the bureau of Indian affairs, public and private welfare agencies in this country and private agencies doing relief abroad. However, that was a move which should elicit no criticism, inasmuch as it savored more of intelligent government in action than most bureaucratic actions.

Here's the catch:

FOR the school lunch, and some private institutions, the "give-away" program means they will have to start paying something to get potatoes they once got without having to pay out a nickel. The reason for that, it was explained, is that for many years the government had a surplus-crop disposal program, for which congress appropriated funds. This meant commodities could be delivered to schools free.

Now, all that's changed, there is no free-delivery fund, so school lunches will have to pay transportation for its "free" commodities.

VETS' BONUS: Added Support

The battle lines for the fight to obtain a bonus for veterans of World War II has been strengthened by support from the Amvets, a World War II organization.

Meanwhile, the Veterans of Foreign Wars renewed its long-standing bonus appeal.

THUS, two major veterans' organizations standing shoulder to shoulder on the proposition that the nation should reward their war services with a bonus.

Harold Russel, Amvets national commander, told the house veterans' affairs committee that "by every standard of equity the bonus is justifiable."

Certainly the GI's of Conflict Two had a precedence in the case of the Doughboys of World War I. And, remembering history, they would not be too disappointed at early delays, inasmuch as it took quite a time for the World War I veterans to obtain passage of a bonus bill.

THE AMVETS and the VFW were agreed that the rate of compensation for veterans should be $3 a day for service in this country, and $4 a day for service overseas. This would mean that a maximum bonus would be $4,500, with an extra bonus for men who were wounded in action.

The question of a bonus for men who have defended their country in time of war is one of the most difficult with which a people may wrestle. There is the vast gratitude and appreciation of service on the one hand, and on the other a conception of patriotism and duty, solidified most often by lack of necessary funds with which to reward the warriors.

TRUMAN: Up & At 'Em!

Apparently eager to accept every rebuff as a challenge, President Truman let it be known that he would "fight all summer," if necessary, to obtain congressional approval of his civil rights program.

THE PRESIDENT made it very plain that he desires every member of congress to be put on record regarding the program. The highly controversial issue for which the President is still battling caused a split in the Democratic party ranks during the 1948 presidential campaign—and promises to do so again.

The President was particularly incensed with the coalition of southern Democrats and northern Republicans which stands ready to oppose the program to the last ditch.

The measure over which there has been such bitter recriminations would establish a federal commission to combat discrimination in the hiring of Negroes and other minority groups.

THE SOUTH, usually rock-ribbed in its stand for the Democrats, doesn't want the measure, and its representatives are prepared to resist it in every way possible, the usual recourse being parliamentary procedure and the rules of the senate.

Precipitation of the row came with the effort by opponents of the program to do away with a house rule which would let the house take away from committees a bill bottled up for as many as 21 days.

Until last year the house rules committee could stifle legislation to a great degree by holding up such bills as it chose. Now, Truman's opponents want that power restored.

Mr. Truman was hoping the maneuver would be defeated.

MINERS: Cash, Please!

In most of the long, involved struggle of the coal miners and their leader, John L. Lewis, vs. the coal operators, the workers were able to continue credit at company stores and thus manage to exist through long strike periods.

In the current phase of the ever-recurring controversy, that was the case until a few weeks ago when rebel miners, backing Lewis' three-day work week order, went on strike. Shutdowns occurred in six coal-producing states as roving bands of pickets flouted Lewis' leadership.

THE UNITED MINE WORKER rebels declared they were tired of working a three-day week and wanted a "showdown" in their dispute with the operators. They were falling back on the old miner slogan: "No contract—no work."

But this time they encountered a move which would have grave effect on their position. Mine owners replied with a policy of their own: "No work—no credit."

Several large companies, including U. S. Steel and most southern operators, told the miners they would get no more credit at company stores while they stayed away from work.

ONE INDUSTRY LEADER estimated that miners had received 60 million dollars in credit since the "no-day-week" and the three-day week went into effect. Others said it was just bad business to keep extending credit under such conditions.

Thus there appeared to be building up a situation rife with dangerous possibilities. If the strike continued and miners and their families faced actual hunger and want, there could be trouble aplenty.

Winnie's Look-alike?

Rep. Dewey Short (R., Mo.) gives a good impression of Britain's Winston Churchill as he rehearses for his part in an amateur radio show being staged in Constitution Hall today February 2. GI BENEFITS: More Refunds?

America's GI's might be in for another refund on service life insurance.

According to an announcement by the veterans' administration, it will take another look at the reserve fund next year and, if a surplus exists, the ex-soldiers may get another refund.

THE ANNOUNCEMENT came as the VA was mailing out checks to millions of veterans.

Art Is Long but Life Is Short, Full of Lumps and Black Eyes

By BILLY ROSE

"If you can come quick," my Aunt Frieda said over the phone, "come quick. Your Uncle Charlie is in trouble."

Half an hour later I was in the flat on the lower East Side where Frieda has been keeping house and hearth for my uncle for the past 30 years.

"What's up?" I asked.

"Charlie is hiding in Brooklyn with his brother," said Frieda.

"Hiding from what?"

"From Herman Schloomp, the butcher, who is telling how he is going to knock out your uncle's eye."

"What did Charlie do to Schloomp?"

"What didn't he do?" said Frieda.

"But better I should tell it to you in sequins."

"So happens last summer your uncle and me, we are one afternoon taking the air on Delancey Street. On the sidewalk, like always, is all kinds of chalk marks and scratches—up from children, which your uncle has been seeing all his life."

"Is very touching," says Charlie. "Is here on the sidewalk the soul of the East Side trying for some kind expression. Some day should be a real painter to draw up the neighborhood."

"WELL, LIKE YOU KNOW, with Charlie to think is to do something crazy. The next night he is going to the settlement house and joining an art class. And in the room is sitting a fat girl in a kimono on a platform, and the scholars are holding out their thumbs and squinting with the eyes."

"Draw exactly what you see," says the teacher.

"Half hour later, when the teacher comes for a to-look-see what your uncle has done, he begins making noises like busting. On Charlie's drawing board is a picture of a thumb nail sitting on top a big pencil."

"This is a class in drawing, not manuring," says the teacher. "Take your business someplace else."

"When Charlie comes home mad, I tell him, 'Let sleeping dogs stay sleeping.' But you know your uncle—next day he is going uptown to the Museum from Modern Art, and when he gets back he is all agog-gle."

"Frieda," he says, "to be a painter, a man don't need perspective. What he needs is guitars. A picture can be a piece of fruit or a chair with one leg—makes no difference so long as in the corner is a guitar."

"So, for the next week he is painting guitars—Moon Over Stanton Street with Guitars, Baby on Pushcart with Guitars, and even a picture, Guitar with Guitars."

"THEN, A FEW WEEKS later as the crow flies, is opening in the Metropolitan for 50 cents a show from a Frenchman—Van Glick, Van Goldberg, something—"

"Van Gogh?" I suggested.

"What's the difference so long as you're healthy," said Aunt Frieda.

"When Charlie is coming from the museum he is saying, 'Today I find out something absolutely hair-raising. This Van Cook is all his life selling one picture for few measly dollars, but now when he's dead and can't eat, his pairings is worth 30 million. No wonder he is cutting off his ear and they got to drag him to a asylum."

"Your uncle mills and mulls for a few days and then he is making a decision. 'Frieda,' he says, 'it doesn't pay a man should be like this Van Cook. Supposing I sell, maybe, one picture for five dollars during my lifetime entire, and then when I'm dead and gone the pictures is worth 30 million. By the time I am dead and gone, you will be likewise dead and gone, so who gets the 30 million? My brother. Why should that loafer get my 30 million? Let him go out and make his own 30 million. From now on, I am strictly a old-stylish realist and making pictures with cash value like Grandma Moses. Which I am signing Grandma Moische."

"Next day Charlie is going to see our butcher. 'I'm going to paint a murel on your wall,' he says, 'a whole panorama all kinds succulent meat. Will be good for the cab register.'"

"Schloomp says, 'What I got to lose, and so Charlie paints him a murel which he calls by name, the Spirit of Meat. When it is finished, Schloomp is saying when he sees your uncle he knocks out his eye.'"

"Was it that bad?" I asked.

"A man could go bankrupt from such a picture," said my Aunt Frieda. "Is Herman's strictly Kosher store, your uncle is painting on the wall nice cuts Rinderbrust, chuck steaks, first-class plucked chickens. But in the middle is the Spirit of Meat holding a 15-pound—" you should excuse the expression—Virginia ham."

EDGAR BERGEN has what many a man longs for, an outlet for a side of his character that otherwise would be buried. Bergen isn't funny; Charlie McCarthy, Mortimer Snerd and the other Bergen-created characters are. Bergen is polite; Charlie is the rudest person on the air. People look forward to tuning in on CBS Sunday nights to hear him say the kind of things they'd like to say. Bergen is kind; the Bergen Foundation lends money to student nurses, without interest, to finish their training. He also maintains 12 scholarships in speech at Northwestern university—the school where he couldn't finish because he had not quite enough money.

For a scene in Goldwyn's "Our Very Own" Ann Blyth was to be licked on the cheek by Rags, a shaggy canine. He did fine until it came time to kiss Ann; heartily disliking the makeup she wore, he refused to have anything to do with her. Trainer Jack Pack solved the problem by rubbing her cheek with a chunk of beef, and Rags' performance was enthusiastic.

Lou Steele was just visiting the Paramount studio when Hal Wallis spotted him. Steele was given a screen test which resulted in a supporting role in "September Affair." Wallis saw the rushes and put him into "The Furies."

The road has been, how weary you have grown, For He who walked the earthly roads alone, Each bogging lowland, and each rugged hill, Can understand, and so He says, "Be still, And know that I am God." Hold up your cup, dear child, for God to fill, He only asks today that you be still.

Next Season's Top Stars

HUDDLING with a group of veteran ballplayers and managers we finally steered the argument in the general direction of headline makers for 1950.

Who would they be? From the American league you start right off with Ted Williams, Joe DiMaggio, Tommy Henrich and such pitchers as Mel Parnell, Ellis Kinder, Joe Page and possibly Rae Scarborough, Bob Lemon and Ed Garcia.

In the national league you had Jackie Robinson, Stan Musial, Ralph Kiner, Enos Slaughter and such pitchers as Don Newcombe, Preacher Roe, Ken Heintzleman, Howie Pollet and one or two others.

"There won't be much change among the top bunch," Frank Frisch said. "Ted Williams still has a few big seasons left. DiMaggio has one or two after 13 years in baseball. In the National league, Jackie Robinson will be hard to head off again. He has shown Musial and Slaughter, who are not getting any younger (who is?), that both will have to have even bigger years to beat him. Some of the fellows out front last season may not repeat. Kinder at 35 or 36 is no kid. Neither is DiMaggio. For that matter Robinson will be 31 in January."

"The younger fellow with the best chance is Don Newcombe," another manager cut in. "This big fellow has had less than a year in big league baseball and yet they are all talking about him. If we are going to have any 30-game winner in 1950 it will be Newcombe. He'll be the best pitcher in either league."

What about Mel Parnell? Parnell is only 27 years old. He is with the best run-making club in either league.

"I'll bet you 10 dollars Parnell finishes above Newcombe," an American leaguer cut in. "I mean that he'll win more ball games." The two shook hands.

"How can you tell?" another said. "Kell has a lifetime big-league average of .297. Ted Williams has one around .354. Yet Kell out-hit Williams last year."

"He won't come within 25 points of Williams this year," a Red Sox entry cut in. That led to another 10-dollar bet.

"And I'd like to bet that Stan Musial gets more M.V.P. votes than Jackie Robinson," some outsider said. "Robinson is good but he isn't any Stan Musial." There are not many Stan Musials lying around loose. After all, Musial is only 29 and he has known only eight big-league seasons. That's little more than a warm-up. Or at least it should be.

Other small bets made: Kiner to beat the 50-home-run mark again; Williams to hit over .350; Robinson not to lead the N.L. at bat; Newcombe to win 25 games. Two bets on Joe DiMaggio to play in 120 games.

Dyer and the Cardinals

Eddie Dyer, the crack blocking back from Rice some years ago, feels that his Cardinals are about due again. Eddie won the pennant his first year out in 1946. He finished second to the Dodgers in 1947. He ran second in 1948 and last year he was beaten on the final day by a lone game.

"We'll have at least four .300 hitters next season," Eddie said. "Who are they? Musial, Slaughter, Jones and Schoendienst. It's true that Jones and Schoendienst hit only .299 and .297 respectively last year but they'll pick up those extra points sure. They are really .310 hitters. As a matter of fact we have another good kid who should hit better than .300. His name is Ed Kazak, our third baseman. Ed hit .304 in 92 games last year before he was hurt. This would give us three infielders and two outfielders in the .300 or better class."

"What's the doubtful side of your outfit?" I asked. "The answer is nearly always the same," he said. "Pitching. Last season we landed Lanier and Martin well into the season."

For Double Platoon

"A year ago I was dead against the double platoon," Wes Fesler of Ohio State said. "Since then I have changed completely. I'm all for it. I believe those coaches who dislike it haven't given it a fair trial. I know I hadn't when I was against it. Since then I've discovered most of the players want it. That's a big reason for liking it. I know it produces faster, better football. I also know it gives many more students a chance to play football."

WOMAN'S WORLD

Simplicity Is Key to Remodeling Clothes

By Ertta Haley

EVERY WOMAN, at one time or another, has decided that she will not accumulate a lot of unwearable clothing in her closet. How's the resolution working out?

Current fashions stimulate clothes remodeling and help you keep the resolution if you'd just put a little thought and effort into the task. Just think, it isn't always that fashions encourage remodeling. Sometimes changes from one season to another are so extreme that old clothes will simply not yield to slight alteration. Use the opportunity while it's here.

Clothes which were purchased during the fall come in for their share of change just about this time of year, so they can take you through to the new clothes in Spring.

They may need only a little sparkle or re-adjustment to add lots of style to the wardrobe. How much simpler it is to take an hour or two for this change instead of poking the dress into the recesses of the closet to collect dust.

A bit of decoration or ornamentation may be all that the dress needs to come to life. How simple to add a brand new button trim to pockets or sleeves or skirt! How little work it is to put a braid or bead trim on your blouse, or how easy it is to insert a bow on a draped skirt! The result is practically a brand new piece of clothing with just a little time and virtually no expense.

Hat and gloves, too, may be refreshed by sewing in new brilliants or sequins to replace those which have lost their luster, or to add new decor to the hat.

Use Good Technique In Remodeling

"Just how do I go about this business of remodeling?" asks many a woman, be she novice or an experienced seamstress. "It seems like I get started, then it takes months to finish, or the work never gets done," say another group.

It's important to map out the work and to know just what you hope to achieve when you're changing a dress, blouse or other piece of clothing. Study the garment and decide upon the simplest procedure for achieving a new effect.

When you undertake too elaborate remodeling job, you lose interest because they may take more

Slim Silhouette

The biggest news of the season is the slim silhouette achieved in this inexpensive dress of green crepe. The back-wrapped skirt loops with a bow on one hip, but a very slender effect throughout the skirt. The double fold collar frames the face as well as giving a slightly rising shoulder line.

time than you have available. If clothes are changed as soon as you tire of them, the adjustments they need are minor and can be made quickly while interest runs high.

Start with a clean garment. This may be washed at home if it can be laundered; otherwise, have it cleaned. You may be surprised how little other than cleanliness and good pressing and perhaps before they're outdated.

mending is necessary to bring clothes back to their original beauty.

Take the garment with you if you want to choose additional material or some ornamentation for it that has to be bought. Colors have a way of not being what they look like when it comes to choosing buttons to fit the original holes, or when it's a matter of getting the thread to match. You can be much more accurate, too, in buying the correct amount of braiding, beading, sequins, veiling or other decor when the hat, dress or blouse is with you.

After the material is purchased and the plan is well in mind, choose a time when you'll be uninterrupted for the length of time it takes to alter the garment. Try to finish the job in one or two sittings, as you'll be inspired enough to do the best work.

Make Worn Dresses Into Separates

The current trend of fashion separates is still much favored and lends itself as inspiration for changing many garments. If you have tired of the bodice on a dress but like the skirt, or if the skirt has worn, but the luxuriousness of the bodice still delights you, then separate the two and work from there.

KATHLEEN NORRIS

No, Chastity Is Not Outmoded

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Because of an unusual number of requests from readers, this column by Kathleen Norris is being reprinted this week.)

IT IS DISTINCTLY disheartening to find, prominently featured in a magazine, an article by no less an authority than Doctor David Mace of Drew university, provocatively entitled "Is Chastity Outmoded?"

Disheartening, because it seems to me dishonest to so title an article that, after flirting about suggestively among alternatives to adolescent and youthful chastity, Doctor Mace comes down to the old code, comes down rigidly and idealistically; sex, he decides, must be lifted to a high level, must wait for maturity and marriage, and he sublimated into true mated love, the highest happiness man and woman can know.

Schools of Thought?

We've been patiently preaching that, to mothers, teachers, guides, so that, in the end, we have no quarrel with Doctor Mace. But we certainly can feel small respect for the man who indicates in his title that chastity is debatable and is careful to remind young and impressionable readers that there are several schools of thought on the subject.

He eliminates those of us whose religious scruples keep us pure. He also eliminates from his analysis—for despite the high moral tone

Be Smart!

Here is an interesting classic, the evening dress that will remain undated for a long time to come. The close-fitting bodice flows into skirt that sweeps out in graceful folds to give the silhouette a pleasing base. Of course, it is a natural for the rich beauty of velvet, particularly when black velvet is the foil for a banding of over-size pearls or of rhinestones. The matching stole is lined with shimmering satin in warm ivory to complement the pearls or in the whitest white as a background for rhinestones.

and a completely reliable contraceptive put at everyone's disposal. Will chastity be outmoded then? Doctor Mace goes on to a "critical question." At what point is it appropriate for a young couple to have sexual relations when their intention is to marry? As soon as they know they are serious in the intention to marry, or not until they actually are wed?

On this point, says the doctor, there is a strong difference of opinion. How can they know that they are sexually well matched unless they test out this side of their relationship in advance?

And anxious to be fair to this argument, he cites the case of a man who could not decide between two women whom he regarded as possible wives. It may be satisfactory to the doctor for them to "test" for compatibility.

Nothing is said of the degradation of the women who submitted to his "process," of the insolent stupidity of the man experimenter, or of the insult offered all decent women who read this article. But in the end, after some confused floundering, Doctor Mace comes gravely and decorously to the conclusion that "the whole trend of expert opinion today is toward regarding sexual harmony as a function of good personal interaction."

This is a scientific way of saying they are humans.

Town's Bank Quits Business As No One Wants Top Jobs

WEEPING WATER, N.E.B.—The First National bank of this city was planning to liquidate because five elderly directors couldn't find younger men to take their jobs. So, the directors told the depositors, in effect, to "come and get" their money.

President H. A. Crozier, 60, said most of the directors wanted to leave the business because of age and illness.

Theft Reveals Child's Hunger

Girl Stole Food Because Little Sister Was Unfed

PLATTSBURG, N. Y.—"My little sister's hungry." That was the tearful explanation a frail seven-year-old girl gave when caught stealing food from her schoolmates' lunch boxes.

County welfare officials decided to investigate Joyce La Fountain's story. What they found was the most shocking case in their memory.

Joyce's little sister, Patricia, WAS hungry. The two-year-old child weighed only 14 pounds, less than half the normal weight for a child of her age. She had not learned to talk. Her sunken eyes were sad and rebellious.

Welfare workers said they never had seen a more emaciated child. They said she resembled pictures of starving children in wartime Europe.

The two little girls and their four little brothers, the eldest aged 9, are the children of a $35-a-week laborer, in jail on a non-support charge, and his 26-year-old wife, Helen, who is expecting another baby.

"Helen wouldn't feed the girls," the father told investigators who questioned him in his cell. He said he wanted them placed in foster homes.

Joyce already has been placed in a foster home, welfare officials said. Patricia is in Champlain Valley hospital. Since she was hospitalized she has gained 14 pounds and is responding to treatment.

THE READER'S COURTROOM

Rude Friend Better Than None

By Will Bernard, LL.B.

Could a Person Be Fined Just For Being Rude?

A youth was working on a construction job one afternoon when he suddenly felt sick. His cousin, who happened to be working with him, started to walk the young man toward his house. When the youth faltered, the cousin grabbed his hand and half-dragged him along the sidewalk until they got home. After the young man recovered, he had his cousin arrested for handling him so rudely. However, the court refused to find the cousin guilty—"even though he was not as gentle as one more humane and tender might have been." The judge said rudeness alone was not a crime—so long as there was no intent-to-injure.

At the set hour, a condemned murderer was strapped into the chair and the current was turned on. To everyone's astonishment, the man survived! It seems that something had gone wrong with the electrical mechanism. When prison officials announced their intention to "try again," the convict appealed to the United States Supreme Court. He claimed that going through the same ordeal twice was a "cruel and unusual punishment"—and was unconstitutional. However, the court refused the man's plea.

men but also from the politician (on the ground that he had "approved" the attack). However, the court ruled that the politician was not liable for anything. Said the judge: "An onlooker isn't responsible for a beating, just because in his heart he is secretly pleased to see it happen. He is only responsible when he incites or aids in its commission."

he develops, it is an analysis—those who consider chastity highly inconvenient and whose policy is to do as they like.

This leaves, he says "the extremely large third group that lies between." Those who "try to add up the arguments on both sides." Doctor Mace states that the traditional point is that unchastity is undesirable because of its effects on the individual, in terms of disease, unwanted children and the damage it may do to the community, making family life and society unstable.

Medical Science

On the other hand, he admits there is the argument that "to suppress sex desires makes people frustrated and bottled up. To express them leads to growth and enlargement of the personality." Later, "while in the past full sexual freedom was impractical because of the danger of venereal disease and illegitimacy, medical science has now changed all that."

"Any intelligent youth," says the doctor in the next sentence, "will tell you that the doctors have got V. D. licked." And later again, "the man at least can take measures to protect himself. For the woman, safeguards are not so easily available. But if protective measures fail, both social diseases can be cured, he observes."

Immunity, however, cannot be guaranteed. "The boy and girl who come together sexually, must face the possibility of pregnancy. If it occurs," says the doctor ungrammatically, "they have three alternatives, a forced marriage, an abortion or an illegitimate child." He admits these are negative arguments for chastity. But he feels that the future may see them weakened, or even entirely neutralized. "Someday," he says, "venereal disease may be stamped out

Hadacol Helps No. Carolina Man Work Long Hours

There is plenty of hard work and long hours in the retail grocery business, and this is especially true for Paul Earnhardt, 816 South Church St., in Salisbury, N. C. Mr. Earnhardt works long hours at the Earnhardt Super Market in Salisbury, one of the largest and most modern grocery stores in that thriving section of North Carolina.

The grind began to tell on Mr. Earnhardt about three months ago and he wondered for a time whether he would be able to carry on at the same rigid pace. But that was before he heard the blessed news about HADACOL.

Mr. Earnhardt

"I have been taking HADACOL for three months," said Mr. Earnhardt. "I was weak, run down, nervous, had difficulty sleeping at night, nervous indigestion, gastric disturbances, headaches, suffered with stomach bloating and gas pains around my heart. After the third bottle, I started gaining weight, was relieved of stomach bloating, had no gastric disturbances, headaches or gas pains. I never felt better and work long hours. I recommend HADACOL."

Mr. Earnhardt, like so many thousands of other suffering people, had tried many preparations without beneficial results before he heard the wonderful news about HADACOL.

Mr. Earnhardt puts in long, hard hours at the Earnhardt Grocery store now, but is again his usual cheerful self, and when his friends comment on his improvement he advises them to give HADACOL a trial.

Mr. Earnhardt was suffering from a lack of B Vitamins and the Minerals which HADACOL contains. HADACOL comes to you in liquid form, easily assimilated in the blood stream so that it can go to work right away.

A lack of only a small amount of B Vitamins and certain Minerals will cause digestive disturbances... Your food will not agree with you... You will have an upset stomach... You will suffer from heartburn, gas pains and your food will sour on your stomach and you will not be able to eat the things you like for fear of being in misery afterwards. Many people also suffer from constipation. And while these symptoms may be the results of other causes, they are surely and certainly the signs of lack of B Vitamins and Minerals which HADACOL contains. And if you suffer from such a deficiency disorder, there is no known cure except the administration of the vitamins and minerals which your system lacks.

It is easy to understand, therefore, why countless thousands have been benefited by this amazing tonic, HADACOL. So it matters not how old you are or who you are... it matters not where you live or if you have tried all the medicines under the sun, give this wonderful preparation HADACOL a trial. Don't go on suffering. Don't continue to lead a miserable life. Many persons who have suffered and waited for 10 to 20 years or even longer, are able now to live happy, comfortable lives because HADACOL supplied their vitamins and minerals which their systems needed. Be fair to yourself. Temporary relief is not enough for you. Give HADACOL a trial! Don't be misled! accept no substitute! Insist on the genuine HADACOL! Sold at all leading drug stores. Trial size only $1.25, but save money; buy the large family and hospital size, only $3.50. If your druggist does not handle HADACOL, order direct from The LeBlanc Corporation, Lafayette, La., and when the postman brings your package just pay the amount plus the c.o.d. and postage. If you remit with the order we will pay the postage. Then, if you don't feel perfectly satisfied after using HADACOL as directed, just return the empty carton and your money will be cheerfully refunded. Nothing could be fairer.—Adv.

10 a. m. with the group singing A Call to Loyal Soldiers, followed by prayer by Mrs. T. R. Bennett.

Mrs. Horton had charge of the morning program and gave the welcome, after which the song, Let the Lower Lights Be Burning was sung in unison. Mrs. Jim Johnson read from First John 1 and talked on Christian Fellowship. The song, I Gave My Life for Thee, was sung, after which Mrs. Horton brought the devotional from Luke 10:25-39, and talked on The Good Samaritan. The morning program was closed with prayer by Mrs. J. L. Pratt.

After the buffet luncheon at 12 o'clock, the group assembled for the afternoon program with Mrs. Blair in charge. Business was discussed and definite plans were made to meet in joint meetings each fifth Monday. The next meeting will be the fifth Monday in May. Ladies of all churches of our town are invited and urged to attend. At this meeting further and definite plans will be made for future work together.

After the business discussion the song, Must Jesus Bear the Cross Alone, was sung in unison. Prayer by Mrs. H. L. Leach. Mrs. G. W. Parish brought the devotional for the afternoon session and led the group in the Lord's Prayer. She read scripture from Acts, talking on The First Christian Fellowship.

Mrs. Wayland Boyd talked on Loving our Church neighbors, and Mrs. Blair gave the closing remarks, with everyone present expressing by raised hands their thanks and enjoyment of the spiritual fellowship of the day together.

Mrs. Dottie Marshall was song leader and Mrs. J. M. Templeton accompanist for the days program. Closing prayer was led by Mrs. J. M. Bruce. 42 ladies were present.

Baptist Brotherhood Enjoys Supper

The Brotherhood of the Baptist Church met Friday evening at the Lions building where a barbecue supper with all the fitting trimmings was prepared and served by Bob Horton, Tom Ray and Wade Preston. Thanks was offered by Dan Butler.

vice president and program chairman, Ben Bowlin; 2nd vice president and activities chairman, Deimar Haralson; 3rd vice president and enlistment chairman, Nolan Barmore; 4th vice president and entertainment chairman, Wade Preston; 5th vice president and evangelistic chairman, Roy Little; secretary-treasurer, David Faulkenberry.

After the business session Rev. Boyd introduced the speaker of the evening, Rev. R. Y. Bradford of Colorado City, who spoke on Practical Christian Living. Rev. Boyd dismissed with prayer.

Guests were Dr. Bruce Johnson, C. D. Chapman and Ed Preston.

WILLING WORKERS

The Willing Workers Sunday School class met Thursday, January 26, at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. Troy Jones.

A very interesting and thought-inspiring summary on the subject of Prayer, a subject this group has studied for several months, was given by Mrs. W. R. Martin.

The business meeting was conducted with the president, Mrs. Willie Taylor, in charge.

It was voted that the class sponsor a project to secure a coffee urn for the church kitchen.

Refreshments of sandwiches, potato chips, olives, broovies and coffee were served to 11 members and 2 guests.

FIRST AID TO THE AILING HOUSE

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Lining Box With Heavy Felt

QUESTION: Can you tell me the best kind of glue to use in fastening heavy wool felt to the inside of a plywood box? I want a glue that will spread easily, set fairly fast, and not soak through the felt.

ANSWER: Shellac generally is used for pasting a lining in a silver chest, the lining usually consisting of either velvet or canton flannel. I believe it would serve your purpose also, and it would be easy to obtain. Allow the shellac to become "tacky" before placing the felt.

THE PEOPLE SPEAK — When Governor Allan Shivers invited the people of Texas to express their views on his program to improve the State Hospitals (termed by one survey group the worst in the nation), his mail picked up sharply. In this picture he is shown reading some of the letters, seeking ideas for the message he delivered to the Special Session of the Legislature this week. Virtually all the letters urged immediate action to improve these rundown institutions, the Governor reported.

Weekly Swing of SOUTHWEST FARM MARKETS

PRODUCTION AND MARKETING ADMINISTRATION, U. S. D. A.

Hogs showed the sharpest advance in the generally steady to strong markets for southwest farm products last week, the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Production and Marketing Administration reports.

Mild weather and prolonged grazing of small grains and stubble were factors making for slow demand in midwest and southwest hay trading last week. Meanwhile, most feeds sagged to lower levels in North Texas trade in the face of liberal offerings.

The general trend on cattle at major southwest and midwest markets last week was steady to strong. Price fluctuations were frequent but net gains or losses were small.

Slaughter lambs ranged from steady to $1 higher at all terminals covered by USDA market news reporters. Replacement lambs and slaughter ewes held firm.

Hogs showed consistent daily upturns at most reporting markets for a net 50 cents to $1 gain over the previous week's close.

Yellow corn and wheat advanced a fraction of a cent this past week as white corn and barley took slight losses from Monday to Monday. Other grains held unchanged. Chief influences in the grain market were smaller offerings, good domestic demand and some export sales of corn.

Cotton advanced 75 cents to $1 a bale last week to reach the highest point since mid-August.

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Tarrt and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Tarrt and Danny spent the week end in the T. W. Tarrt home in Abilene.

Mrs. C. W. Morris is visiting her daughters in Big Spring this week.

Ragain Martin spent Thursday and Thursday night with his mother, Mrs. W. R. Martin, and Mrs. Martin carried him back to Abilene Friday and spent the day visiting in the Bob Martin and Mrs. J. W. Hunt homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Nelson and Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Mayes of Fort Worth spent the week end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Nunn and Mr. and Mrs. Olen Mayes. Other guests in the Mayes home were Mr. and Mrs. Windell Mayes of Colorado City.

Hubert Meadows left Monday for Lubbock, where he will enter Texas Tech.

Nelda Jo Yarbrough of Lubbock spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Rhodes.

Don Narrell of TCU in Fort Worth spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Narrell. Other guests Sunday were Mrs. Virginia Kidd of Coahoma and Betty Kidd and Lou Turlo of Abilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Hagfeld were in Fort Worth last week to attend a ginners convention.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. West and Mrs. W. S. Thomas visited Sunday afternoon with W. R. Shultz who is seriously ill at his home in Snyder.

Mitchell Countians Buy Gov. Bonds

The people of Mitchell County invested $315,074.50 in U. S. Savings Bonds during 1949, according to the annual sales report received today by Senator Pat Bullock, county Savings Bonds chairman, from Nathan Adams of Dallas, state chairman. This compares with sales of $269,961.25 for 1948.

Mr. Adams said that the people of Texas today hold more than $1.5 billion in Savings Bonds, a substantial share of which are owned by citizens of this county. These savings, he added, give the community, as well as the individual owners, a high degree of financial stability.

A. Hospitalization for a service-connected disability is available to you during your entire lifetime under present laws.

Q. I am a World War 2 veteran receiving compensation for a service-connected disability. If I take a part-time job, will my

Like ripe olives, some people love bread pudding, others abhor it. Molasses Bread Pudding, because of its high flavor, will convert the bread pudding-haters in your family. It contains plenty of body-building iron. Arrange 10 slices diced stale bread in a well-greased baking dish. Beat together 2 eggs, 3 tbsps. molasses, 2 tbsps. sugar, 1/4 tsp. salt. Add 2 cups scalded milk, 2 tbsps. melted butter and pour over the bread cubes. Put baking dish in pan of hot water and bake in moderate gas oven of 350°F. for one hour or until firm. Serves 6.

A coarse quarter-inch wire mesh fastened under the register of your gas floor furnace will catch dust particles. Clean it occasionally to keep free passage for hot air.

Added flavor for gravy: Stir in a bouillon cube while the gravy is cooking.

Store meat or poultry unwrapped in your gas refrigerator because contact with the air delays spoiling.

The rusty scale that drops down from the bottom of your automatic gas water heater should be brushed off the burner about twice a year.

While your noodle soup is simmering on the top burner, add chopped green pepper and chopped onion. Or parsley can take the place of the pepper.

Mrs. W. W. Curry and children left Saturday for Cimarron, Kansas, where they will visit her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Williams and son of Tahoka spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. C. E. Elliott.
