Boys Take Over City Of Lubbock

CITY OFFICERS GET HOLIDAY AS BOYS DO THE WORK

Lubbock Boy Scouts took over the reins of City government at 9 o'clock this morning as they were sworn in by Miss Lavenia Williams, city secretary.

The chief offices were filled by voting of the scouts. A tie vote left two claimants to the office of City manager, and both boys, Ben Alexander and Eugene Marquart, were allowed to relieve W. H. Rodgers of his job for the day.

Part Of Civic Day

The conducting of office by the scouts is part of Civic day activities in celebration of National Boy Scout week. The purpose of Civic day is to acquaint scouts with the procedure of City government, Earl M. McClure, scout executive said.

After the oath of office was administered, City Manager W. H. Rodgers explained the duties of each office to the boys, told them the importance of such training. Instructions were given each of the office holders for performing the duties assigned him.

Other Appointees

Other appointees were: Marvin McLarty, mayor; Frazer Blackwell, Jack Abbott and Robert Lively, commissioners; Dee Brownfield, police chief; Robert Barrier, fire chief; Carol Claiborne, election judge; Bedford Raley, water superintendent; and Billy Kennedy, Frank Hodges, and Lewis Mills, health inspectors.

The scouts will continue with special programs throughout the week.

THEY STUMBLE OVER OATH OF OFFICE

Boy Scouts stumbled nervously over pronunciation of such words as "impartially" and "incumbent" as they took the oath of office given by Miss Lavenia Williams, City secretary, this morning.

Faces lighted with conscientious honesty, however, as the boys swore that they had fought no duels nor had paid or promised to pay, or promised any public office or employment as a reward to secure "my appointment."

FLOODS SWEEP OVER EUROPE

ENGLAND AND FRANCE ARE BEING HARD HIT BY WATER

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 9—The worst floods in a quarter of a century were predicted today as steadily rising rivers, spurred by unceasing rains, submerged wider sections of England and France.

More heavy rain was forecast in both countries. Swollen rivers drove inhabitants from their homes in lowlands, and, in some places, flood tides rose in city streets to the rooftops of dwellings.

Farm Lands Inundated

Parts of 13 counties in southern England were flooded. Thousands of acres of farming land were inundated and large numbers of house-holders were forced to flee their homes along several stretches of the Thames river.

Flood waters from the Thames, a mile wide at Runnymede, near Windsor, and almost as wide at Eton, continued to spread. Eton college boys fed swans from upper windows in their school buildings.

Northern France and Normandy were hardest hit.

The possibility grew that Paris, where the flood stage of the Seine is 14 feet, might be endangered unless the downpours abated.

Alaskans Get Guns Ready For Coyotes

CORDOVA, Alaska, Feb. 9 (AP)—Alaskans peeped out of their homes on Main street today with their six-shooters cocked to see if any more cold-crazed coyotes were chasing deer through town.

Trappers had reported that coyotes, nearly starved, had been making great inroads among deer around Cordova. But even oldtimers were shocked when a couple of coyotes chased the deer right through town yesterday, killed and ate parts of the carcass and escaped before citizens could kill them.

STATEMENT BY MOTORS FIRM GIVEN OUT

SILENCE OF OFFICIALS IN STRIKE BROKEN MONDAY NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, Feb. 9—General Motors corporation consented today to continue discussions to end the widespread automotive strike after indicating it saw no use in further conferences.

The almost complete silence that has marked six days of conversations between representatives of the corporation and striking union members was broken last night with the issuance of a formal statement by the automobile company of its position.

Statements Are Made

Until then Gov. Frank Murphy, who called the parties together at the behest of President Roosevelt, had made the only public comments upon the proceedings. General Motors' first statement was followed a few hours later by one from John L. Lewis, director-general of the strike.

The corporation assured Gov. Murphy "of our readiness to respond to an early call by him to resume conferences, if in his judgment any good could result therefrom."

Lewis revealed for the first time that a proposal had been under consideration to resume operations in General Motors plants immediately if the corporation would accept the union's demand for recognition as the bargaining agency for employes in 20 plants.

Are Closer Together

Notwithstanding the divergence of opinions expressed in the statements of the opposing sides, Gov. Murphy declared that "I feel the parties are closer together now than at any time."

The governor announced they would reconvene at 8:30 p. m. (EST) tonight.

Last night's "crucial" meeting — which the governor had said would be brief—lasted six hours and there were indications that the deadlock might result in a cessation, at least temporarily, of the consultations.

The situation was electrified by General Motors' announcement that it would make an "important statement" soon after one of its conferees left the meeting while it was in progress. He apparently supervised the preparation of the statement.

As sit-down strikers remained in two Fisher body plants at Flint, Mich., focal point of the strike, the loss in earnings to workers continued to mount.

A reliable source estimated the total payroll loss, including today, was $22,000,000. The loss in business to the company was incalculable as its factory wheels slowed down to the point that not a single passenger car was being completed. The General Motors truck division, however, was running at top speed.

Thousands Are Idle

More than 100,000 General Motors employes were idle. At one

MALAGA TODAY ECHOES WITH LAUGHTER

SOLDIERS AND GIRLS DANCE IN JOYOUS VICTORY FETE

(By The Associated Press)

MALAGA, Feb. 9 — Laughing Malagan girls and victorious fascist soldiers danced in gay abandon today through the sacked and burned districts of this Mediterranean city while armed "clean-up" squads of military police brought order after three weeks of terror.

The city's 400,000 inhabitants quickly recovered from their weeks of tension during the insurgent southern army's victorious advance and the ravages of anarchist bands which the fascist officers said left the city "in a horrible state."

Joyous Fete Day

The entry of the insurgent columns yesterday seemed the signal for a joyous fete day.

Malaga's population staged huge demonstrations in the streets to greet the army which occupied the last important government seaport on the southern coast virtually without resistance from its socialist defenders.

Young girls' dresses made a spectacle as they draped themselves with the insurgent banners of red and gold and whirled before the smiling men at arms.

Socialists Join In

Even the vanquished socialists joined in the celebration, seeking to merge their identity with the celebrating populace to avoid capture.

The only citizen of the United States to see the triumphal entry was a man named Norton who had been in Malaga since the city was

GAY CARNIVAL RULES CITY

CLIMAX OF GALVESTON MARDI GRAS TO BE REACHED TONIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

GALVESTON, Feb. 9—King Frivolous XX, merry monarch of Mardi Gras, was the undisputed ruler of Galveston today, and the populace was looking forward with great anticipation toward tonight's revels at the city auditorium when Frivolous will reign over a court at which the glories of ancient Rome will be reproduced.

A delegation of high state officials, including Lt. Gov. Walter Woodul, Rep. R. W. Calvert, speaker of the house of representatives, and others were scheduled to attend the festivities.

To Reveal Identity

The identity of the king and queen will be revealed tonight. Scores of socially prominent girls from Texas and other states will participate in ceremonies which will be followed by the grand ball masque, final event of the carnival.

Frivolous and his royal party reviewed a spectacular parade of decorated floats last night depicting the "treasures of Galveston." A street frolic was set for this afternoon. Streets were gaily decorated with bunting and illuminated with vari-colored lights at night to accentuate the carnival atmosphere.

Two Believed Lost In Snow Avalanche

FEARS FOR SAFETY OF TWO DENVER MEN ARE EXPRESSED; ALL TRAILS BEING SEARCHED

(By The Associated Press)

DENVER, Feb. 9—A snow avalanche, roaring off the continental divide, may have killed and entombed two Denver businessmen-skiers, lost on an outing, a friend feared today as he led ski-equipped searchers through zero weather over bleak two-mile high country hunting them.

The men, missing since Sunday, at Berthoud pass, 60 miles west of here, are Joseph Oppenheimer, 36, secretary-treasurer of an automobile appliance firm, and John S. Oberdorfer, 22, bookkeeper for the same company.

"Three big snowslides tore down the western side of the mountain after they headed that way," said the friend, Theodore A. Grossman, advertising man, who accompanied them on the trip, but separated from them.

"We've searched all trails without finding any trace of them. Now we're going to 'prod' the slides.

"I'm afraid that's where they are.

"If they were safe, they'd have notified us."

E. P. Heaton, forest supervisor, contended the two might still be alive in some isolated refuge, although all accessible shelters were searched vainly.

LEON TROTZKY TODAY TO OFFER VERSION OF SOVIET TRIAL

(By The Associated Press)

MEXICO CITY, Feb. 9—Fighting threatened today between Leon Trotzky's communist enemies and his university friends as the Russian exile nervously prepared to tell a New York audience his version of the recent anti-Soviet conspiracy trial in Moscow.

Mexican students defied communist organizations striving to keep Trotzky a prisoner in the suburban villa of Diego Rivera, his host and benefactor in Mexico.

Answer Force With Force

They intimated they would answer force with force if communists attempted to prevent the one-time Russian war commissar from appearing publicly or lecturing at the university.

To the local communist party's warning it would use "organized force" if necessary to keep Trotzky from speaking in Mexico, the students answered:

"We have not yet invited Trotzky to lecture, although we are considering it. If we do, the communists will not be permitted to interfere."

FIREMAN OF DALHART VICTIM; ENGINEER BADLY INJURED

(By The Associated Press)

TUCUMCARI, N. M., Feb. 9—One man was killed and three were injured, one critically, in the wreck of a crack passenger train and freight near Logan, N. M., 25 miles east of here early today.

Fireman A. B. Sutton, 40, of Dalhart, Tex., was killed when the Rock Island's Californian "sideswiped" the front end of a freight which had pulled into a siding.

Engineer Badly Hurt

Ron Holmlund, also of Dalhart, engineer on the passenger train, was in a critical condition at a Tucumcari hospital. He was taken from the wreckage, Hal Kerr, New Mexico state patrolman, said, two hours after the collision.

Rock Island workmen were rushed with acetylene torches to free Holmlund who was pinned under the wreckage.

Also in the Tucumcari hospital but less seriously injured were G. O. Warren, engineer on the freight, and his fireman, Emmet Brown. Both were from Dalhart.

Passengers Uninjured

Passengers on the Californian, in service only a month, were uninjured, rail officials here said.

BUT WHERE IS THE PRISONER?

PLAINVIEW OFFICERS ARRIVE IN CITY BUT NO SUSPECT IN MURDER CASE IN SIGHT

"Pris'ner, pris'ner, who's got the pris'ner?"

District Attorney Charles H. Dean and Sheriff J. Kelly Hooper, both of Plainview, did not have the prisoner, suspect in the murder of an elderly Hale county service station operator, when they changed Santa Fe trains here at 1 o'clock this afternoon.

Houston reports had been that the two Plainview officers had left Houston with a 35-year-old suspect in the death of E. P. Hamner, 61.

But when the men reached Lubbock from Houston, no prisoner accompanied them.

"Where is the suspect?" the district attorney was asked.

"We can't tell you now," he replied.

The two officers went to Houston Sunday after the man, formerly held in Lubbock, had been re-arrested in the South Texas city.

The Associated Press in Houston said that the man voluntarily had submitted to truth serum and lie detector tests.

"We who have followed the political meanderings of the president see in this a specific purpose to place the Supreme court under his power," said T. J. Holbrook of Galveston, senate dean.

"This thing would destroy our government and establish a dictatorship equal to that of Hitler or Mussolini. Instead of a government of three departments, we'd have a government of one man.

SPECIAL MESSAGE IS GIVEN LEGISLATURE ON MONEY NEEDS

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Feb. 9—Gov. James V. Allred urged the legislature in a special message today to raise money to pay the state's present debts before voting salary increases or incurring any other obligations.

He said flatly he would not approve salary increases or departmental enlargements of any nature unless the legislature provided the money for them.

Emergency Legislation

The governor submitted the subject of revenue and taxation as emergency legislation in order to remove any question as to whether the legislature could go to work at once on his recommendations.

For the same reason, he also submitted for emergency action his previous recommendation that the state horse race betting law be repealed.

His message said:

"Your attention is again respectfully directed to the fact that the state board of control has made recommendations for increases in the various departments. I am also informed a number of bills for salary increases are now pending; and I respectfully remind you that in my initial message to the legislature I expressly stated I did not join in these recommendations, other than for additional facilities for our insane asylums and eleemosynary institutions. At that time I urged upon you the necessity for the passage of tax bills to raise revenue for the purpose of:

USE OF FINGERPRINTS IN BANKING IS DESCRIBED AS ONE SURE WAY OF BLOCKING OCCUPATION OF FORGERS

Forgeries would become impractical and depositors and merchants would have added protection if John Doe affixed his thumb print, as well as his signature, to the checks he draws.

That is the contention offered he e by C. G. McGraw, chief of the bureau of identification and records of the state department of safety.

Could Compare Prints

Bank clerks and tellers, with two hours of study, could learn to compare prints, McGraw declared. Afterwards, a teller could determine in 20 to 30 seconds whether the thumbprint on a check was made by the man on whom the check was drawn.

"The comparison can be made as quickly as a comparison of signatures, and is infallible," the identifications expert continued.

"Fingerprinting has been so closely associated with criminal identification that some people might have an idea you suspect them of crime if you asked them to place their print on a check," he said.

An Added Protection

Banks, however, could offer fingerprint comparison as added protection for the depositors. The system would not be compulsory, and the man who had scruples against the plan need not comply, McGraw explained.

Fingerprinting has many uses besides its best known purpose — crime detection.

The United States army, navy, and marine units have required fingerprints of members since 1904. Amnesia victims have been restored to their families through fingerprint identification. Unidentified dead persons have been buried in decent graves through fingerprint records, McGraw continued.

"A skilled forger can write another's name so perfectly that it will pass inspection, but the forger cannot put his victim's fingerprint on the check," he said.

Thus forgery would become impractical as a crime instrument and detection virtually certain, it was said.

Don't Sleep When Gas Presses Heart

If you want to really GET RID OF GAS and terrible bloating, don't expect to do it by just doctoring your stomach with harsh, irritating alkalies and "gas tablets." Most GAS is lodged in the stomach and upper intestine and is due to old poisonous matter in the constipated bowels that are loaded with ill-causing bacteria.

If your constipation is of long standing, enormous quantities of dangerous bacteria accumulate. Then your digestion is upset. GAS often presses heart and lungs, making life miserable. You can't eat or sleep. Your head aches. Your back aches. Your complexion is sallow and pimply. Your breath is foul. You are a sick, grouchy, wretched, unhappy person. YOUR SYSTEM IS POISONED.

Thousands of sufferers have found in Adlerika the quick, scientific way to rid their systems of harmful bacteria. Adlerika rids you of gas and clears foul poisons out of BOTH upper and lower bowels. Give your bowels a REAL cleansing with Adlerika. Get rid of GAS. Adlerika does not gripe—is not habit forming.

Farr Again Chosen As School Leader

The Shallowater school board announced yesterday that E. L. Farr had been reelected for a second term as superintendent of schools there.

Mr. Farr came to Shallowater in the summer of 1936 to succeed R. L. Hooten, who resigned. He came to this section from Bellevue.

Shallowater has 22 credits of affiliation with the state department of education, an enrollment of about 400 students and has four buses to bring children to school from their homes. It has an active P.-T. A. and the students have attained many high honors in interscholastic work in the county.

Vocational agriculture, home economics and typing are also taught in the schools in addition to other subjects.

Red or pink coats are worn at fox hunts because when the sport was in its infancy it was found that the color helped to locate a hunting companion who had fallen from his mount.

Bashful Beginners Flock To Nudism As California Camp Approves Shorts

GATEWAY TO NUDISM This electrically-wired approach (left) runs through a narrow canyon and is the only means of entrance to the Elysium nudist colony near Alma, Calif. An adult nudist (right) shows a young member that books, as well as sun, have a place in the camp curriculum.

BY SAM JACKSON

ALMA, Calif., Feb. 9 (AP)—An "off and on" brand of nudism, in which you may wear clothing or not, just as you please, has built up a flourishing colony here.

The concession to modesty or chill winds is in effect at the Elysium foundation, which nestles in a snug little valley at the base of the Santa Cruz mountains. And because Director George Marcellus Spray has made things so easy for bashful beginners, the membership roster exceeds 250 and is constantly growing.

Young Mr. Spray, a former radio continuity writer, who claims to have been an exponent of nudism for 14 years, says he is not compromising with the cult's credo that "sun, light and air are vital conditions of human well-being."

'Mostly Mental'

He considers the nudist way of life, however, to be "90 per cent mental, only 10 per cent physical," and as a result sees no harm in allowing his cohorts to put on shorts if they wish. In fact, when they file into the colony's dining hall he requires them all to wear shorts. And on the frequent occasion of a dance they must wear as many clothes as if going to a church bazaar.

His attitude toward visitors is equally matter-of-fact.

Many nudist colonies strictly exclude visitors and the rare one who gains entry must strip at the gate. Anyone with legitimate business may drive right into Elysium and if he happens to see a couple of nymphs flit through the bushes there is not supposed to be any embarrassment on either side.

No Trouble With Public

Elysium occupies a 109-acre pocket among hills covered with almost impenetrable undergrowth and the only entrance is through a narrow canyon. A gate which automatically rings alarm bells when opened bars the entrance.

The location was chosen, and a two-year law suit fought out to establish its right to jail trespassers, in fear the colony would suffer considerable annoyance from the public. Actually, Spray asserts, it encounters no trouble at all.

Occupying a large tract nearby is an old-established religious cult called the Holy City, with which Elysium enjoys the most cordial relations, although there is no visiting back and forth.

A central lodge, a number of cabins and tents, two swimming pools and equipment for various outdoor games make up the improvements at Elysium. While there are a few resident nudists at all times, the big crowd is on week-ends from San Francisco and Oakland.

Holds Convention

"They represent nearly every vocation you can think of from A to Z," says Spray. "Some come singly, some in families, some as groups of friends. There is only one thing in common to all, that they are people of refined behavior. Every applicant is thoroughly investigated, and the use of liquor or any other offensive conduct on the grounds means immediate expulsion."

Elysium received considerable notice last summer when it was the scene of several week-end "conventions," the guests representing nudist camps from San Diego to Walla Walla, Wash. At that time nearby Los Gatos, the home of a number of celebrities and people of wealth, got a little uneasy, but Spray's cars whisked guests through town so efficiently nobody noticed them. The public partying incidental to many conventions was absent.

Wintry temperatures that close up many nudist colonies never trouble Elysium, where at all seasons nudism marches on—with or without a pair of shorts, just as you prefer.

PROBLEM SOLVER Nudists have no trouble carrying cigarets at the Elysium camp. A container strapped to the ankle takes care of that.

Indigestion, Gas Pains, Dizzy Headaches

"I got relief from 40 years of misery by taking Van-Tage and if it could do all this for me, then I certainly think it should help many others, so I gladly give this statement, endorsing it," said Mrs. Summers. "Yes, for the last 40 years I had been in an awful condition with an upset stomach. I had indigestion nearly all the time, that is, just seemed like nothing that I ate ever digested right, but instead my food would just lay there in my stomach and turn to gas and I had awful gas pains and even had a misery up in my chest and a burning around my heart from this upset, gassy stomach condition. I also had weak kidneys and a sluggish liver and had sick, dizzy headaches that were awful to have to endure. Couldn't sleep at night because of the aching in my head and the gas pains in my stomach, in fact, this misery sometimes got so bad that I felt like I could scream.

Now She Blesses The Day She Found Van-Tage

"Finally I found Van-Tage and it has done so much for me that I am simply Blessing the Day I got this Great Medicine. It was like a Gift from the Heavens Above. It cleared that awful gas and bloat from my stomach organs and I can eat my meals now and not suffer afterward, and I can truthfully say that for the first time in FORTY YEARS I am free of those terrible sick, dizzy headaches. Can go to bed now and sleep soundly all night. Oh! I tell you this medicine is simply wonderful and I gladly endorse it to all who suffer as I did."

Alice Roosevelt Longworth

tells how Senators choose a light smoke... considerate of their throats

"I often lunch in the Senate restaurant at the Capitol. Nearly every Senator and Representative there smokes, and the number I see take out a package of Luckies is quite surprising. Perhaps surprising is not the word. Because off and on, ever since 1917, I myself have used Luckies for this sound reason: They really are a light smoke—kind to the throat. It's simply common sense that these Senators and Representatives, whose voices must meet the continuous strain of public speaking, should also need a cigarette that is considerate of their throats . . . a light smoke."

Alice Roosevelt Longworth

In a recent independent survey, an overwhelming majority of lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc., who said they smoked cigarettes, expressed their personal preference for a light smoke.

Mrs. Longworth's statement verifies the wisdom of this preference and so do leading artists of radio, stage, screen and opera, whose voices are their fortunes, and who choose Luckies, a light smoke. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on your throat.

THE FIRST incident didn't register, except in a vague nostalgic way, but when it happened twice within two blocks and as many minutes, the old pulse quickened and we looked around to see if an umpire was trailing along.

It was in the course of our daily roadwork, and we were jogging between the Southpaw Drug Emporium on lower Broadway, toward Sam Rosenthal's uniform factory.

From Charley Purcell's big jernt at Broadway and K came a gent with a seven-year-old in tow—and the youngster was toting an undersized baseball hat, and seeming very proud of it.

Up on the next block, and across the street there emerged from L. Burnett's dept. in the Sherrod diggings a gent with an urchin alongside. And this urchin also was waggling a junior Louisville Slugger. His dad had a package that looked suspiciously like an outfielder's glove.

There must be a game somewhere, and we started looking at window showcards. "Naw, just gettin' ready for spring trainin'," explained the papa.

IT REMINDED US of a promise we made a couple of other fellows and ourself to bring up a suggestion about baseball.

How's about a schoolboy baseball league this spring for this district?

That was the subject of the debate, only we were all on the same side.

It seems that a lot of boys in high schools over the section play baseball when the basketball season is over. Some of them go out for track, but even after that, there's time for baseball before school is out.

Coach Weldon Chapman of Lubbock High school was the first to suggest that schoolboy baseball be encouraged in this part of the woods. That was a year or so ago, maybe longer. Since then, other coaches have brought the subject up, including our old pal (gr-rrr) Public Enemy Freddie Rich of Anton. Rich is all hotted up for it, and although there's not a baseball in the Anton high school building at present, Rich says his team will surely win the pennant.

With baseball popularity being what it is in the smaller towns, it appears from this angle that the schools could make it a paying proposition, or at least enough to outfit a squad.

The bigger schools, like Lubbock, would find the purchase of equipment and the time of a coach a worthy investment, if the whole project resulted in nothing more than to provide recreation and exercise for students who might find some less profitable way to spend their time.

That would be the underlying purpose of school baseball, anyway, a means of keeping youngsters occupied through the waning months and weeks of the school year. The boys get awfully tired hanging around in April and May.

If two or three schools started, others probably would follow. Schedules could be arranged, and to top it all off there could be a district tournament to settle the championship question. The baseball season could be handled just like the basketball race is conducted.

Baseball uniforms do not grow on trees, but that's the biggest expense. Most of the boys will look after their own gloves and bats.

Biggest possible drawback to a successful season is the weather. Our South Plains springs sometimes are not conducive to good baseball behavior. But there will be sufficient clear and calm days to make playing and watching a pleasure.

We have often wondered why baseball, the most democratic and American of all sporting games, has not been encouraged in high schools. It certainly should be, and we trust that this little outbreak will result in bringing a few letters of criticism or suggestion.

CINCINNATI FOLKS, out for the evening boat ride the other day, must have been quite startled to see the big sign chalked on the fence near the Crosley Field entrance, home of the Reds. At the time, home plate was approximately 20 feet under water. The management denied responsibility for the sign, alleging it was the work of a wag who saw a bit of humor in the heavy dew which handicapped the lives and labors of the vicinity. The management also denied the rumored scheduling of a water polo series.

An appeal was made to the public to stop using the park as a short cut when boating. Boats at the time were sailing serenely over the top of the center field fence. Flood loss to the club will run to $35,000.

The visitors' clubhouse (the story goes), situated behind the third base section of the grandstand, was last seen tipped sideways, ripped from its foundation. The home clubhouse was last seen in several sections. The groundkeeper was last seen chasing a boxoffice down the river in a rowboat, but it is rumored that both the groundkeeper and the boxoffice are safe.

FUN NIGHT IS HELD HERE

GRIDIRON GREATS OF TEXAS TECH ARE GIVEN AWARDS

Texas Tech's athletic department treated about a thousand free customers and honored its gridiron greats of 1936 at the mid-winter "fun night" show last night at the gymnasium.

A complete program of boxing, wrestling, tap dancing, music and comedy numbers preceded the awarding of fifty varsity and freshmen letters and eight special trophies. After four "serious" bouts of boxing and wrestling, featuring victory, then defeat, of Milton Coffey in an attempted "double header;" a victory by Nochlinger over Harris Cheek, and a wrestling victory by Gambill over Hayes, "take-offs" on each sport were presented by student athletes. Dixie White and Pete Owens pulled punches for two rounds in a pseudo-boxing bout, and Bill Holcomb and Allan Plummer had the crowd in the aisles with a comedy take-off on professional wrestling that rivaled anything Sailor Watkins ever did.

Music by the Tech band and by "Highpockets" Overton's Yeso string orchestra, a tap dance number and a couple of jig numbers counted in the entertainment program.

Ed Smith, junior halfback from Del Rio, was introduced as winner of the Standefer-Canon scholarship award, a trophy going annually to the football player with the highest scholastic standing. Drs. Fred Standefer and Bob Canon of West Texas hospital present the award.

Other special awards, offered for outstanding individual accomplishments during the grid season, went to Hershel Ramsey, Red Murphy, Broadway Browning, Jim Neill, Demp Cannon, Jesse Browning, Pete Owens and Charley Duval, the latter two for being the best blockers on the varsity.

Seven seniors, 13 juniors and one sophomore received varsity letters, while 28 freshmen gridders received first year numeral sweaters.

SAILOR TO STRUT FOR LOCAL FANS

Sailor Watkins will strut in the Auditorium ring again tomorrow night, but it may be a more dignified strut than usual because for the second week in a row he is slated to do preliminary work. It rather galls the hardened old tar.

The idea must be to get the Sailor so mad that when he does get on a main event, he'll tear things and people apart. He was unable to get sore enough to win the preliminary last week, against strong little Olaf Hanson, so Promoter Allen gives him another "chance" to make good on the supporting card.

It's a tough assignment the Sailor has been given. He's to fight Andy Tremaine, who had a pretty tough time losing to Rod Fenton on last week's main event. They meet at 8 o'clock tomorrow night to start the three-ring show.

Buck Lawson, the newcomer who wound up hanging on the ropes, along with his opponent, in his debut last week, meets the rugged Indian scrapper, Yaqui Joe, in tomorrow night's special event. Joe, always popular here, will for a change face a wrestler who likes to wrestle.

Jerry Markus, for some reason, has been given a main event chance again. The Brooklyn Jew has looked better of late, in supporting card events, and may give Walter Stratton, the Iowa Strongman, a lively scrap in the top billing at the Auditorium.

Ponies Strengthen Conference Status

HAWK-EYED J. D. NORTON LEADS MUSTANGS TO ANOTHER VICTORY OVER THE TEXAS AGGIES

DALLAS, Feb. 9 (AP)—Lean, hawk-eyed J. D. Norton and his cunning from the foul line, a very necessary unit in the Southern Methodist basketball drive, today was responsible again for a Mustang victory.

Nine times the official handed him the ball for a free throw in the Texas A. and M. game here last night and eight times he delivered as the Methodists strengthened their grip on the Southwest conference chase with a wild, 28-25 triumph.

He Made History

Norton, who recently made conference history by tossing 18 straight free throws, started the Methodists off with three shots in the first two minutes and he was still tossing charity pitches after the game had ended.

In fact, the timer's gun found the score Southern Methodist 23, but the crowd was finally cleared and Norton allowed to take two more gift shots called on the final play. He stood there with hundreds pressing from every side and behind the basket and coolly plunged them in.

Forced To Rally

The Methodists held a 12-6 halftime lead after a tight defensive scrap but were forced to rally in the dying minutes to win when a whirlwind Aggie offensive, headed by Freiberger and Evans, put them back in the game, 23-22.

Billy Dewell, Methodist center, and Capt. Ed Lee, wiry Aggie guard, were standout floor men. They were constantly hustling the ball and both scored well, Dewell bagging eight markers while Lee, the Aggies' best bet, scored ten.

The Methodists marked up their fifth triumph against one loss while the Aggies, in second place until last night, had four wins and three losses.

Light Heavy Champ Victor Over Ettore

AL GOES TO THE MAT TWICE IN BATTLE WITH LEWIS

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 9 (AP)—Hard rights which felled Al Ettore, Philadelphia, for the count of nine twice in the third round won a decision for John Henry Lewis, Phoenix, Ariz., in a 15-round non-title bout.

Lewis, light heavyweight champion, weighed 161, Ettore, 192 1-2.

It was a return bout. The Pennsylvania athletic commission called their first fight a draw after Ettore had been credited with a decision.

Divided Decision

As was the case before, Lewis' victory last night was on a divided decision. Judge Matt Adgie gave Lewis ten rounds to five for Ettore, Judge Spud Murphy called it a draw with six rounds for each and three even. Referee Leo Houck called four even, gave Lewis seven and Ettore four.

Ettore rallied in the fourth. He fell to the floor in the sixth but leaped to his feet at once.

Lewis contented himself with cautious fighting until the closing rounds. With the Philadelphian seemingly tiring rapidly, Lewis battered him with lefts and rights. Ettore, one eye puffed and bleeding, stayed on his feet.

New Mexico Wins Over Texas Mines

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Feb. 9 (AP)—In a fast closing rush after an indifferent start, the University of New Mexico basketball team won a one-sided victory from the Texas School of Mines, 42 to 25, here last night.

Loose floor play by both quintets marked the struggle. The victors got the range of the basket in the last few minutes after the Miners, seeking their first Border conference victory, went into a 17-16 lead shortly after the second period opened.

The two teams meet again here tonight.

GETS ANOTHER CHANCE

NEW YORK, Feb. 9. (AP)—Davey Day of Chicago, who was being groomed as a lightweight title prospect when Barney Ross vacated that title, gets a chance to move back into contending position tomorrow night against Champion Lou Ambers in a ten round no-title bout at the Hippodrome.

WILDCATS BEAT TIGERS

ABILENE, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Abilene Christian college Wildcats defeated St. Edward's Tigers 39 to 21 in a Texas conference basketball game last night. The Wildcats led all the way, holding an 18 to 12 advantage at the half. Johnson paced the Wildcats with 12 points.

WALTER JOHNSON HAS MORE TOUGH LUCK IN HIS CAREER

BY SCOTTIE RESTON

Pinch Hitting For Eddie Brietz

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—Walter Johnson's tough luck still is with him. . . . Great pitcher on a mediocre Washington team for years, his pay scarcely was up to his ability. . . What he did save dwindled in the collapse. . . . But he still has his head up. . . . He'll be 50 next November, and he's dairy farming in Maryland to keep seven kids, two of them his sister's. . . . Chief family worry at the minute is that his son Ed broke his nose playing basketball for the University of Maryland against Navy the other night. . . . Powel Crosley lost plenty in Cincinnati's flood and fire, but he didn't take back any of that $200,000 offer for Dizzy Dean. . . . Mickey Cochrane's going to move to his Michigan farm next summer and commute to Navin field. . . .

Tony Lazzeri's still kidding Babe Ruth about putting tonic in his eyes before going to bat. . . . The Babe used to wash his eyes every time before strolling to the plate. . . When he'd get a hit, he'd come back and say, "boy, that eye wash does it!" . . . Lazzeri got tired of hearing this, so one day while the Babe was raving about it, Tony picked it up, took out the cork and took a long drink of the stuff. . . Ruth almost collapsed. . . . "You'll die," he yelled. . . . He didn't find out till later that Lazzeri had drained the bottle before the Babe used it and filled it with water. . . .

Consensus around the ball meetings was that Dizzy Dean will be offered a $22,500 contract.

Warren Giles tells this one on one of his Cincinnati pitchers, who comes from way back in the hills and has caused the Reds many a headache. . . . He came in to sign his contract and Giles spoke his mind. . . . "Trouble with you is you're just a fool," said Warren. . . .

CHICAGO PARK BOARD MEETS ON PROBLEM

SOLDIER FIELD STILL BEING SOUGHT AS BATTLE SITE

CHICAGO, Feb. 9. (AP)—Reports were current today that Champion James J. Braddock and Challenger Joe Louis would get together next Saturday to sign articles for a 15-round bout June 15 at Soldier field.

But a skeptical hotel chef who had one lavishly planned luncheon fizzle out on him swears he's going to wait until he sees Braddock and Louis in person before he'll prepare another.

Joe Triner, chairman of the Illinois athletic commission, will meet tomorrow with the mayor's centennial celebration committee, which hopes to make a heavyweight bout the big attraction on the city's charter jubilee program next summer.

Park Board Meets

The Chicago park board, which controls Soldier field, met to consider the request of Sheldon Clark, who offered Braddock $500,000 to meet Louis, for a conference on rental terms.

Louis, meanwhile, is doing his bombing on a bag at a Randolph street gym, getting ready for Natie Brown at Kansas City Feb. 17, and exhibitions at Omaha Feb. 19, Wichita Feb. 22, Des Moines Feb. 23 and Denver Feb. 25, but it will be a sad blow for Louis fans at those points if Braddock suddenly decides to come here and sign.

WESLEYAN RAMS WIN

SHERMAN, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Texas Wesleyan Rams defeated the Austin college Kangaroos 33 to 22 last night in a basketball game which saw the score tied four times. Winfrey of Austin was high scorer with 15 points.

On The Record

CHAMPIONS come and go, but Nebraska football teams have a record unique and unparalleled. The Cornhuskers won 84 of 102 games played against Big Six teams since 1907 — almost 9 of every 10 played! Meanwhile, they lost 10 games (one every three years), tied 8. Missouri, which won three, tied three, and lost 11, has the best anti-Nebraska record of any Big Six team!

"I'll admit I was," replied the boy . . . . "Well, I'm glad you used the past tense," added Warren. . . . To which the pitcher, a little confused, replied: "Oh no, Mr. Giles, I may be wild out there but I'm never tense."

Rural Schools Play Their Games Close

SCORES OF 4-3 AND 3-2 ARE CHALKED UP IN TEXAS; SAM BAUGH TO COACH TCU FISH

BY FELIX B. McKNIGHT

DALLAS, Feb. 9 (AP)—Basketball as it is played in the rugged rural sectors: Friday night Cannon stopped Rose Hill, four to three . . . Next night Rose Hill tightened up, held Cannon to a three to two score . . . Both teams file joint nomination for best defensive show of the year . . . They're located in the Van Alstyne sector.

Said D. X. Bible after the executive committee of the Ex-Students association of the University of Texas endorsed his plan to provide employment for athletes: "We want a team of college boys—not professional athletes." His plan provides that all worthy athletes shall be given employment on useful projects, according to the need of each, up to a maximum of $50 monthly. . . . Each employe shall be paid 50 cents an hour, and shall work a full 60 minutes . . . "This plan is fair to all," added Coach Bible. "There will be no discrimination, with a guard on one side of the line working for his money, a tackle on the other side getting his money without working for it."

Sam To Coach Fish

After all his plane trips have been made, Sammy Baugh will settle down and accept the freshman coaching job at Texas Christian, wise ones predict. . . . First blow to Coach Bible was the loss of Glen Jackson, great sophomore center prospect. . . . The six foot, four inch 200-pounder was being counted on to bolster the center of Texas' line. . . . 'Tis said he withdrew to accept a lucrative business offer.

Baseball rookies from the nation over will storm into Stuart stadium at Beaumont March 1 for the start of the annual Beaumont Exporters' school. . . . The Exporters reserve the right "to dismiss the student at any time for a breach of discipline on or off the field," their announcement reads . . . Stars have blossomed from the school.

Houston sportsmen are hustling to raise $1,000 of the $3,000 purse up for the PGA-Houston open golf starting Friday. . . . It would assure them a spot on the annual schedule of the touring pros, they believe. . . . Most of the advance guard of the gold seekers will be hitting practice shots on the River Oaks course by Wednesday. . . . Ted Lyons, the Chicago White Sox mound star, says Babe Ruth is the toughest man he ever faced and that Lou Gehrig, Al Simmons, Charley Gehringer and Tony Lazzeri follow in that order.

LUMBERJACKS IN LEAD

NACOGDOCHES, Feb. 9 (AP)—The Stephen F. Austin Lumberjacks paced the Lone Star conference basketball race today as a result of a 41 to 25 triumph over the North Texas Teachers last night. The win avenged a Lumberjack loss to the Eagles last week. Massey, Lumberjack center, tallied 14 points for scoring honors.

EAST TEXAS COPS

SAN MARCOS, Feb. 9 (AP)—Connor, towering center, scored 13 points last night as he paced the East Texas Teachers to a 39 to 25 victory over the Southwest Texas Teachers in a Lone Star conference basketball game.

PRESSURE OFF OF RED SOX

EDDIE COLLINS SAYS TRADITION FAVORS HIS CLUB TO WIN

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—Eddie Collins, relying completely on the complete unreliability of baseball, figures tradition will be on the side of his Boston Red Sox this season.

Collins

"No favorite has won the American league pennant since we repeated in 1931," began Eddie, explaining the "we" meant the Philadelphia Athletics.

The point Eddie makes is he doesn't expect the Sox to be favored this year, and he'll tell you without much encouragement that this is okay with him.

Really On Spot

"This year we can go into training camp relaxed. Last year we were really on the spot. We bought some great players and somebody figured out that if each of them duplicated his best year, nobody could stop us.

"Well, Foxx did have a great year, but Marcum and McNair didn't. The pressure on them was terrific. But it's off now. The pressure's on the Yankees."

Collins thinks the deal that brought Pinkey Higgins to the Red Sox from Philadelphia for Bill Werber was a great help.

Collins said he believed the success of the Red Sox depended a great deal on the ability of the youngsters on the squad to push the veterans.

P. A. Newman, believed to have built the first monoplane in America, flew it at Brownsville, Texas, the year Louis Bleriot flew the English channel.

PLAINS TEAMS WILL BATTLE THIS WEEK

REAL WAR TO BREAK OUT ON FRIDAY IN TOURNEY

First games in a long series of championship basketball battles are scheduled at the Texas Tech gymnasium tonight, after which there will be a rest until Friday when the real war breaks out.

In the first game, beginning at 7:30, teams of Ralls and Levelland meet in the third and final games of a play-off series to determine the Class B league champion of the northern division of District 5. The game has no bearing on the interscholastic league race of District 3, championship of which is to be determined in a district tournament here Friday and Saturday. Schools which form the District 5, Class B football conference entered a round robin schedule before Christmas. Levelland and Ralls wound up in a tie for the northern half title, and in a three-game play-off have split even.

Winner of tonight's game is to play Lamesa, the southern half champion for the district title.

Whitharral Meets Ropes

The Hockley county championship is to be determined tonight in the second game of the bill at Tech gymnasium, Whitharral and Roosevelle to clash at 8:30 o'clock. The county championship race, also conducted on a round robin basis, resulted in a tie between those teams last Saturday night, and they meet here to play it off. Winner will represent Hockley county in the district interscholastic tournament here this weekend.

WINNERS SELECTED OVER THE SECTION

Winners in most of the District 3 interscholastic league county tournaments were announced yesterday following county tournaments last week.

These champions, together with the two Class A teams of the district, Lubbock and Plainview, congregate at Texas Tech gymnasium Friday for the first round in the district tournament.

Abernathy, the defending champion, repeated its triumph in Hale county, and will meet Post, the Garza county champion, in the first district game at 9 o'clock Friday morning.

The Meadow High team emerged first in a play-off with Brownfield for the Terry county title, and is scheduled to meet Plainview's Bulldogs in the second district tournament game. Plainview was not required to compete in the Hale county tournament.

Defeating Klondike in the final game of the Dawson county tourney Saturday night, Lamesa's Tornadoes are "repeaters" and among the favorites to stay out in front in the district tourney. Lamesa was runner up in the 1936 district meet. The Tornadoes clash with Spade, winners in the Lamb county tourney, in the first round. Spade's Longhorns, regarded a strong threat since the first of the season, are expected to give Lamesa one of its hardest tests.

Spade defeated Littlefield, 40 to 13 in the Lamb county finals, played at Sudan. The Spade girls also won the county championship.

STATE BUDGET IS STUDIED

PROPOSALS FOR STATE INSTITUTIONS ARE MADE PUBLIC

AUSTIN, Feb. 8 (AP)—The board of control recommended Monday a $14,228,289 budget for eleemosynary institutions in the next biennium, including $2,836,700 for buildings, a 23.9 per cent increase over the current budget.

The recommendation was part of the total state budget of $62,187,227, a 5.5 per cent increase over appropriations for the two-year period ending next August 31, but 28.8 per cent less than requested.

Study Suggested

The board suggested that a study be made of the merits of legal sterilization of prevention of insanity, imbecility and idiocy.

"Excluding expensive and permanent institutional segregation," the report said, "this board knows of no other method for the prevention of the several types of insanity."

Also recommended was state cooperation with the U. S. public health service to stamp out syphilis, to which 15 per cent of admissions to public insane hospitals was attributed by the federal government.

Increases In Salary

J. D. Hall, budget officer, said recommended salary increases averaged 10 per cent.

In recent months, he said, one of the largest mental institutions carried only three physicians when eight salaries had been appropriated but were too small to attract physicians.

Additional housing appropriations for the first year, $960,000, were estimated to care for 1,160 new patients, and $1,337,500 for the second year for 1,122 additional.

State hospitals now house 727 insane patients more than the "capacity for good results," and 267 more than "maximum capacity, Hall reported.

The board recommended a new insane hospital in West Texas, centrally located, to serve that section, which has no facilities.

To relieve "tragic conditions existing in private homes" the board recommended eight cottage-type buildings be constructed at institutions.

Other proposals included facilities for 150 additional patients at the Abilene state hospital for epileptics, a new building at the tuberculosis sanitorium, a cottage-type building at the Gainesville girls training school and expansion of child welfare division activities to relieve the strain on orphanages.

Dr. Milda Threlkeld, dean of women at the University of Louisville, says "preparation for and adjustments to a vocation are fundamental aims of education."

Radio police at South Bend, Ind., answered "a child screaming" broadcast and found two cats fighting in a garage.

SPIRIT OF MARDI GRAS IS HAILED AS HEALTHY PRESCRIPTION FOR MAN

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 9 (AP)—The revelry and masking that is Mardi Gras was described today by Dr. John Madison Fletcher, professor of psychology at Tulane university, as a very healthy prescription for people living in present-day high pressure civilization.

"Mardi Gras meets the fundamental requirements of all recreation," Dr. Fletcher said, "in that it lets us drop down from the level of existence to which we have become accustomed.

"Physically man knows that in order to relax and sleep he has to revert to the position he occupied for aeons in the early history of civilization. The period that man has walked upright has been comparatively brief. To sleep he has to revert to his old position of lying down.

Must Drop Back

"The same thing follows mentally, to relax mentally we have to drop back. James Whitcomb Riley expressed it when in one of his poems he wrote 'make me a boy again, just for one night.' In New Orleans we might say 'make me a fool again, just for one day.'

"Masking provides man with the age-old longing for chance," Dr. Fletcher asserted.

"With a mask we can all be something we want to be and get away from something that we have tired of," he said.

"The same urge that makes many men want to put on peculiar regalia of a lodge and be addressed as the most royal keeper of the wine cellar keys is behind the ambition to dress up and ride a float between cheering thousands," Dr. Fletcher said.

Strapping Mountain Hubby Sees Movies

MORRISTOWN, Tenn., Feb. 9 (AP)—Overalled Charlie Johns, 22-year-old mountaineer who married a 9-year-old girl, saw his first moving picture today and intimated he might go into the films himself along with his child bride.

The picture Johns saw was a newsreel in which the Rev. Walter Lamb, 53-year-old preacher, demonstrated with another couple how he married the strapping mountaineer and little Eunice Winstead in the middle of a mountain road for a $1 fee.

"Charlie was very much disgusted," A. T. Drinnon, his personal attorney and agent, said.

"He said he guessed he made a mistake—that he had rather the news reels would have taken his own picture than that one."

When his marriage was revealed last week, Charlie was swamped with money offers for pictures and stories.

FOR those who have trouble deciding in their own minds to be for or against President Roosevelt's plan to revamp the Supreme court, here's a tip:

Just compare our well known men who line up for the plan, with those who line up against it. That'll give you a good basis for decision.

Unless all signs fail, men like Maury Maverick, who have never been considered sound thinkers, will be lined up together behind the move to "stack" the court, while men like Carter Glass, with life-long records for horse sense, will oppose any working of the tribunal. Maverick and Glass were the first officials out with statements—Maverick as author of the House bill to streamline the court, and Glass opposing any such move in his best, outspoken manner.

The Supreme court fight is going to separate the wheat and chaff—or, perhaps the goats and lambs—more sharply than any public question in years.

MAYBE you don't know it, but our newfangled theories of education embody the teaching of all kinds of things in the lower grades.

Whole schoolrooms of young kids are taken through various business houses, industrial plants, etc., and are shown them in operation. Then they are taken back to school and given classwork on the same subjects.

The other day one primary class had just visited a dairy and had seen milk being prepared and used in various products. After the children were seated, the teacher asked:

"Can anyone tell me five things in which milk is found?"

"I can!" shouted Johnny from the back row. "Butter, cheese, ice cream, a milk bottle and a cow!"

In Urbana, O., traffic violators' windshields must carry a sticker reading "This car is dangerous to pedestrians." We've no report yet on whether the foreheads of jaywalkers are branded.

IF you read books at all and especially if you like them "different", you'll enjoy "Steps Going Down", by John T McIntyre, former Philadelphia newspaperman who, by the way, is no kin to O. O. McIntyre, the colyumer.

While "Steps Going Down" was published only last year, it is not one of the so-called "new" books, since its big play has been over for almost a year. But its plot, its material and its treatment is so unusual that it will always be interesting, even in 2037 if there are still copies floating about then.

"Steps Going Down" is emphatically not to be prescribed for youngsters, for people who enjoy books like "Lavender And Old Lace", or for those who dislike chronicles of life's under side as it really is. It's a shade rough in many spots — and rougher than that in others. But aside from its good plot it offers frequent discussions of unusual quality and depth which is so great that the average reader — including The Plainsman—has to grope for hidden meanings.

Doubtless much of the stuff is pure hokum, but that's not the point.

The point is, if it is hokum it is interesting hokum. And, after all, that's what most people like in their literature.

MARK down on your cuff the date of March 10—it comes on a Wednesday—and set aside one dollar for expenditure on that date. Reason: The Texas Tech band of 100 pieces or thereabouts, and under the baton of Director Dewey Wiley, will play that night before one of the largest entertainment crowds in the history of Lubbock. Approximately 2,200 people will be on hand for the event—and perhaps a few more than that.

There's a big drive out on the Tech campus—a ticket sales drive—and before the collegians start their rounds among the town folks they will have sold a ticket to every student and teacher, or will know the reason why they didn't.

The idea behind all this furore is to purchase new—and badly needed—uniforms for the Tech band.

The Plainsman is particularly anxious to see the uniform drive go over with a bang, not only because the cause is a worthy one, but also because the Tech kids, themselves, are getting behind it with their money.

Too often in the past the college, or certain groups representing it, has staged financial drives down town only—forgetting that, after all, the town people are not the only ones who should be interested in and financially support college projects. Too often in the past, students have adopted the policy of declining to give a dime to see the Statue of Liberty turn a flip-flop, yet let the world know they expected something to be handed them on a silver platter.

But this time it is different. The kids themselves are "showering down".

And since the have adopted an attitude different from that sometimes shown, we think they should be encouraged—and believe other down towners will feel the same way.

(Note to Jim Lindsey: First time you're down town drop in and The Plainsman will buy a couple of ducats.)

THE wife of a gentleman who had made a lot of money in a hurry had just hired a new maid and was giving the servant her orders.

"Uhuh," said the maid, "and if I shake my head from side to side, that means I ain't comin'!"

READY MADE WIFE

BY CORALIE STANTON

SYNOPSIS: Laurie and Rex Moore have only pretended to be married, so that Rex may hold down his job with Mark Albery. But now Gavin Drake has cabled Australia, where the wedding was supposed to have taken place, and found there was none. He tries blackmailing Rex, without success. Now he has gone to Rex's employer, who has indicated that he will listen to his story. Albery is in love with Laurie.

* * *

SILENCE BOUGHT

"As I understand you are behind Moore, sor," Drake went on, "and financing him, I feel you ought to know that he is deceiving you and everybody else who has been making such a fuss over him. He is making a fool of all the world. He is not married to that girl he is living with. He never was."

"Indeed!"—Albery showed only faint surprise. "Are you sure of that, Mr. Drake?"

"Positive. I had my doubts all the time, since I came over from Australia. My paper would naturally have welcomed a story about Rex Moore. So I cabled a friend in Sydney to make enquiries, and the answer is that there is no record of any marriage between Rex Moore and any woman, either in Sydney or anywhere in Warrabillo County, where the bride was supposed to have been living."

"Dear me, that is certainly strange. Albery had got the hang of it by now. He knew that the young man had been to Rex Moore and been heavily turned down. His own mind was immediately made up. "I suppose you have evidence that you can give me?"

"Certainly, sir, I consider it a shameful fraud on the public. Moore has dragged this young woman into decent society under false pretences. Why, I am told that she has been working in your own firm for years! It seems a disgraceful business all round. I did not feel it right to leave you in the dark." He handed Albery a bundle of papers. "Here are my friend's statements by cable."

Albery examined them with apparently absorbed interest. But his mind was busy with his own affairs. This might be true, or it might not. It probably was. This unpleasant young man evidently bore a grudge against Moore. He must have gone to great trouble and expense to get these facts.

"Look here, Mr. Drake," he said, after a few moments, with the quick smile that gave such charm to his impassive Eastern face, "I am glad you came to me. I suppose your idea was naturally that you might turn it to you advantage and raise the circulation of your newspaper by sending them a most intriguing story?"

This was not true. The young man's one idea tonight had been to damage Rex Moore in his employer's sight. But Albery's words presented another possibility.

"Well, sir, things have been going badly with me," he stammered. "You see it's not so easy for me to get work." He mentally indicated his empty sleeve. "A really good scoop would be a great thing for me, but, of course, I can't say I'd really thought of that."

"I am glad you came to me," said Albery suavely, "because I am more interested than most people in Rex Moore and his career. For the moment I don't want his activities interfered with. You see, his private life cannot affect his job. As a man, Mr. Drake, you must understand that.

"I am expecting him to do some good work for me and for aviation in general. But I quite see that you could have profited materially by your information in giving it to the Press. Nothing pays like a good scandal nowadays. So that I am prepared—in fact, I feel I owe it to you, Mr. Drake—to make up to you for your loss.

"In return for your promise not to mention these facts about Rex Moore to the press, or to any individual, in print or by word of mouth, I will pay you what you might have expected as remuneration at the moment. How much would that be?"

"Well, I really couldn't say, sir. I'm sure you're very kind. I don't like taking money, but I've had a bad time."

"Shall we say two hundred pounds, Mr. Drake?"

"I'm sure it's very generous, sir."

"And," added Albery very deliberately, "I shall be glad of any further information on the subject. I will make it worth your while. Now, I hope we understand each other. You can ring me up and make an appointment at any time. I expect you would prefer notes to check. I think I have enough in my safe. I will go and fetch it."

A few minutes later the black mailer was gone.

A sorry creature, reflected Albery, but he would have made use of the devil himself in such a cause.

If his story was true, then, Laurie Moore was a liar and a cheat. She had been associated with Rex Moore in Australia, but the rumor of their marriage was untrue, and when she thought he was dead, she had posed as his wife, in order to make as much as she could out of it.

And Moore, when he came back and found her in England, had forgiven her the deception, because it suited him.

That did not make her any less desirable in Albery's eyes. It did not cool the flame of his passion for her.

In fact, it brought her nearer to him, even though he knew that she loved Rex Moore. In spite of his infatuation, he did not want to marry her. If this were true, then it gave him a better chance.

Against Rex Moore his account was piling up. Rex Moore had made a fool of him. Rex Moore had the woman he wanted.

His self-esteem was wounded, and it made him pitiless.

From that moment the idea took root in his mind, and from that moment his whole energies were bent to carry it out. Fixed, inapiacable, merciless; it became an obsession.

Rex Moore must be got out of the way.

Rex Moore answered the telephone in the Chelsea flat about six o'clock in the evening, a few days later.

"Is that you, Rex? Laurie speaking. I shan't be able to get back for dinner. Mr. Albery has to work late."

Moore frowned at the instrument.

Rex gets a difficult assignment, tomorrow.

BLIND LOVE AND CIVIC PRIDE

An amusing news item from the flooded areas dribbled across the wires the other day to remind one and all of the jokes which used to be told about South Plains civic boosters and which recalls the question "Is there a man with soul so dead that he has no civic pride?"

The humorous incident seems to illustrate that the question can be answered only by a ringing "no!"

In one of the flood-endangered towns on the Mississippi, so much water had seeped through levee openings that several acres of the town were flooded to a depth of two or three feet. According to a reporter, however, local residents were busy trying to convince visitors that this water came from melting snow, and drippings from the boots of levee workers.

If humorists are correct, certain west coast residents boast of bathing in golden sunshine even on the foggiest of days; and a Floridan wouldn't mention to an outsider the word "hurricane" even if one had blown him a hundred yards. It has even been alleged that West Texans will defend even their standstorms to the last ditch!

An old maxim has it that love is blind. If so, we are inclined to believe that civic pride is similarly afflicted.

Some of the gossip she may know is that Ginger Rogers and Lew Ayres are talking about a reconciliation.

Also that Jane Wyatt is reading a book called, "So You're Going to Have a Baby!" (Mrs. Edgar B Ward is now finishing a picture, "Wings Over Honolulu," and hasn't any future commitments).

When he isn't busy on the set, Lionel Barrymore stays in his dressing room and plays the piano.

Sylvia Sidney wears a riding habit all over Hollywood. Boots, breeches, and leather jacket. But she seldom gets on a horse.

Beau Arnold

On the subject of clothes, Edward Arnold is complaining that he's just a fashion dummy, or an old-fashion dummy, in "The Toast of New York." Has 22 changes of costume.

Virginia Bruce, in slacks and David Niven, wearing an old tweed suit, left the studio the other evening and dined at the Trocadero. Miss Bruce danced with men wearing white ties and tails, and the dinner cost $17.50. Great fun! Maybe spring has come to Hollywood.

* * *

The colony is hee-hawing over that romance rumor linking Mae West and King Levinsky.

Fans just won't believe that Deanna Durbin is only 14. Her fan mail has brought numerous proposals of marriage.

* * *

Not all of Bobby Breen's mail comes from admirers. He writes for all catalogs and free samples of nearly everything that's advertised.

Pinky Tomlin is building a house in the hills. Thirteen rooms, with pianos in four of them.

Too Stagey

George Tapps, the tap dancer, is having his name changed to George Clayton. "Tapps" was too patently a stage moniker. Lyle Talbot was in the same spot. His real name was Lysle Hollywood.

* * *

After dark: Charles MacArthur and Sylvia Sidney at the Trocadero. Also Earl Carroll and June Lang.

Simone Simon, fairly staggering under the weight of a massive gold bracelet.

Alfred Gwynn Vanderbilt and Ginger Rogers at the Casanova. She certainly isn't spending ALL her time talking about that reconciliation.

At that club the master of ceremonies introduced plumpish, peppy Clara Bow. The customers applaud and tinkle their glasses. Women stare. "Clara Bow — imagine!" . . . "That's Rex Bell—they live on a ranch!" . . . "So that was the It-Girl!" . . . "She does look happy, doesn't she?"

* * *

Miss Bow looks very happy, indeed. She tells the customers that she and Rex haven't been in a night club for more than a year. She says it's nice to be back in Hollywood—for a while.

Believe It Or Not, U. S. Recently Had One More Senator Than Constitution Permits—But He Didn't Do Anything!

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9—It develops that this nation, which constitutionally has 96 senators, recently had 97 and that, while all other states had their customary two senators apiece, Minnesota was having three.

The three were Henrik Shipstead, Guy V. Howard—the obscure Republican who served a two-month term in November and December because no other Minnesotan thought to run for the brief vacancy—and Elmer Benson, whose term as senator technically expired when he was elected governor on November 3, but who kept right on fulfilling the duties of that office until Senator Lundeen took it over on Jan. 4.

Dutcher

The terrible truth emerges in a resolution by Senator Lew Schwellenbach of Washington which proposes to pay salaries of Benson and his staff for that period—the explanation being that "Whereas the then senator from Minnesota, Elmer A. Benson, and his entire staff continued in true public faith, but at their own expense, without any compensation whatsoever, to maintain offices in both Washington and Minnesota, and to perform the full service and functions of the office and duties of United States senator from Nov. 4, 1936, until Jan. 4, 1937—"

Life Of Riley

It appears that while Senator Howard and his family were drawing all the pay and doing none of the work, Senator Benson and his staff were doing vice versa.

Both had offices with their name plates on the door. Entitled to bestow four secretarial jobs for 60 days, Howard kept them carefully in the family and drew Treasury checks totaling $3686.86.

Although a few letters and requests for favors came his way, there wasn't much he could do about them, as a Republican with no shred of influence.

He announced he was "flat broke, with an apple in one hand and a nickel in the other" before he got his pay check. But he enjoyed himself hugely, patronized the free Senate barbershop, collected free government publications, drank free Senate sparkling water, made long distance call's to Minnesota through the Capitol switchboard, and otherwise participated in senatorial privileges.

He gloated over the fact that he could return here whenever he liked and sit in the Senate as an ex-senator; and suggested that his new prestige might enable him to "wiggle a job on WPA when I get home." Of course he never sat on a committee, deliberated on a bill, or sat in what would have been his seat had Congress been in session.

Benson asked Schwellenbach to introduce the compensation bill, but it's doubtful whether the Senate will recognize Benson's last 60 days of service. You probably would have a hard time figuring just how valuable to the nation Benson and his staff really were in those two months.

Tough Experience

Congressman James Buchanan of Texas, who remained in the House so long that he became chairman of the powerful Appropriations committee, is sometimes considered a prosaic old gentleman who thinks only in long, dull columns of figures and dollar marks.

But "Buck" got to talking about the flood the other day, assuring his colleagues that he "did not have sense enough to make a good farmer, but did have sense enough to make a good congressman."

Once he had hold of 3500 acres of Brazos river bottom land and put everything he had into it until he had 2500 acres of "land well watered, well equipped with houses, well tenanted, and well stocked." Then came the floods and after a while "all the houses had gone down the river, as well as the mules I had and my hogs and cattle and crops, with my tenants left starving on the bank."

"I got myself a plank and I got some charcoal," he related. "I nailed that plank at high water mark, and here is what I wrote on that plank. It expressed the way I felt then and the way I feel now:

"Farewell to the Brazos bottom,
I bid you a long adieu;
I might migrate to hell some day
But I will never return to you."

And after this outburst of poesy Buchanan added:

"From that day to this I have been the relentless enemy of flood water anywhere and everywhere, and if I can contribute by my voice or by my vote or by my work to the prevention of floods throughout this Union, I shall make that contribution more cheerfully than I ever made any contribution in my life."

All of which speaks well for chances of big fat flood relief control appropriations.

Relief At Last For Hotel Man

S. L. K. DID THE WORK WHERE OTHER MEDICINES FAILED

Hotel Man Says S. L. K. Gave Him the Only Real Relief He Ever Had.

ORIGINATED during the World War and improved in line with modern scientific advances, WILLIAMS S. L. K. FORMULA is the prescription of a former army doctor. It acts as a stomachic tonic diuretic for the kidneys, and laxative, and you can expect real relief from that dull, achy feeling, those pains in the back, night rising and miseries so common to many men and women. Read the following letters from John T. Dunford, for 10 years a resident of Wichita Falls:

"I have been bothered for some time with kidney distress and have been run down and unable to get a good night's rest. Since commencing to take WILLIAMS S. L. K. FORMULA, however, I notice that my kidney distress has been relieved. Have been able to sleep better, really enjoy my meals, and feel much better generally. Have tried different medicines and sincerely feel that S. L. K. FORMULA is doing what others have failed to do," MR. JOHN T. DUNFORD, Texas Hotel, Wichita Falls, Texas.

Money-Back Guarantee

Here in Lubbock, WILLIAMS S. L. K. FORMULA may be obtained exclusively at the John Halsey Drug Co. Start taking a bottle today, and if you are not completely satisfied with the results from your very first bottle your money will be refunded. You can't lose! (Adv.)

Milbouer said Astaire "is responsible for convincing the American man that a tailcoat is not a comic or sissified, but a correct and good looking garment."

Lucius Beebe, New York newspaper columnist, was included in the list as "the greatest dandy of his time—a perfectionist in dress."

For the first 10 months of 1936 postal receipts at Raleigh, N. C., showed a gain of $54,577 over the same period of 1935, Postmaster Carl Williamson reported.

LUBBOCK CAR OWNERS ARE ASKED TO AID IN WORKING OUT HIGHWAY PLAN

Lubbock county car owners can furnish information which will be used in working out a logical plan for highways, streets and roads, said Ward Robertson, Austin, with the highway planning survey. "The motorist himself is being given the opportunity of helping plan his own road system," he explained.

Tax Assessor-Collector Hurley Carpenter has been given a number of cards which ask for fundamental information that is needed in road planning. These are given to car owners as they pay their registration fee for 1937 and require no postage.

Cards given the county include: 10,500 for passenger automobiles, 2,425 for trucks, 575 for trailers and motorcycles and 185 for owners of five or more vehicles.

"The business of constructing and maintaining highways, streets, and roads has become a tremendous task within recent years and it now affects the well-being of every citizen," said Mr. Robertson. "Obviously, every effort should be made to plan our public road system so that it will serve all car owners in an equitable manner and so that the tax burden for roads will be distributed justly.

"In order to work out a logical plan for taxes, the Texas Highway department and the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads are conducting a state highway planning survey. It is to the advantage of every county to participate in the survey to the greatest possible extent."

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—Light profit selling impeded today's stock market progress, although selected issues tended to work upward.

Buying power was concentrated principally in a few rubbers, motors, steels and specialties. After a fast opening the trading pace turned to a quiet jog and price trends were mixed near the fourth hour.

Wall street inclined to step a bit more carefully on the buying side as efforts to keep the General Motors strike parley alive apparently were encountering fresh obstacles.

Liquidation was of the timid sort, however, in view of a variety of items tending to confirm the forward economic tilt. The Washington court reform battle was watched closely, but observers expressed the opinion this was more or less of a neutral market influence at present.

Bonds and commodities drifted somewhat lower.

Up fractions to around 2 at the best were U. S. Rubber, Goodyear, Goodrich, Firestone, Chrysler, White Motors, Mack Truck, Graham-Paige, Ludlum Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Bethlehem, J. I. Case, Deere, Standard Oils of N. J., and California, Callahan Zinc, Celanese, U. S. Industrial Alcohol and Loew's.

In the backward division were American Telephone, U. S. Steel, General Motors, Western Union, Montgomery Ward, American Can, General Electric, Du Pont, American Zinc, Anaconda, Kennecott, International Nickel, American Smelting, Texas Corp., Pennsylvania and Southern Pacific.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Feb. 9 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, unchanged to 3 higher with lower Liverpool cables offset by trade and foreign buying. March 12.66; May 12.53; July 12.36; Oct. 11.90; Dec. 11.86; Jan. 11.85.

Proposal of the secretary of agriculture for a more stringent farm program made at yesterday's conference of farm leaders at Washington brought in a little more support for the new crop positions. However, fairly active liquidation developed at the initial levels and renewed selling of March appeared, causing it to turn easier after the call.

Reports from southern spot markets of a little response to the offerings of cotton loan stocks at the high differentials asked created some apprehension that the differentials might be changed, although no official information was available.

May eased from 12.53 to 12.51 and prices generally late in the first hour were 4 points net lower to 1 higher.

Liverpool gave ground under scattered liquidation in a quiet market, with demand limited.

March liquidation and further commission house and foreign demand for the new crop positions were the chief trading features later in the morning. Old crop premiums narrowed further and sales in these positions were partly against purchases in later months. Price changes were narrow, however. May at midday was selling at 12.51 with prices generally 2 points net lower to 4 higher.

Tile Work Staged In Hockley County

Six hundred feet of sub-irrigation tile has been made by National Youth administration laborers in Hockley county, said A. V. Bullock, district supervisor, who made an inspection of work in that county yesterday.

An order for 1,000 feet more tile has been received. The work is supervised by the county agricultural agent, D. W. Sherrill.

Persons wanting the tile made furnish the materials and the NYA furnishes the labor.

Some of the tile there has been in use four years and is still in operation, the county agent said. Most of those who have had tile built are pleased with it, it was reported.

Construction of the tile gives the youths employment when weather conditions prevent their working in the open, the supervisor here said.

REBEL VICTORY

taken over by the socialists at the beginning of the conflict seven months ago.

The new city authorities wasted no time in clearing the city of its surplus population, driven into Malaga from the provincial towns before the advancing fascist armies.

City Is Military Camp

The entrance of the fascist soldiers changed the city into a military camp.

"Malaga today! Madrid tomorrow!" was the cry of the troops, but the general staff plans remained a secret.

Most observers expected Generalissimo Francisco Franco to use his crack southern army, with its enthusiasm now at high pitch, to drive northward against Almeria, Cartegena, Murcia and Alicante.

It was thought he would finally unleash a double attack of the northern armies against Madrid and the southern armies against Valencia.

Unusual Task Will Occupy Professor

CHICAGO, Feb. 9, (AP)—Scientist Albert Johannsen of the University of Chicago today set himself to an unusual task.

He's going to compile a bibliography on the dime novel after his retirement, March 31.

For years, Professor Johannsen, now 65, has been collecting the little booklets the Victorian age boys used to smuggle to the hayloft to read how "Deadwood Dick sank gradually into the yielding sand to his horrible doom."

Johannsen, a recognized authority on the science of rocks, said he found the tales of blood and thunder adventure had some praiseworthy points.

"There was no sex immorality in them," he pointed out. "The wicked were always punished and the good characters came out on top."

Perhaps the youngest person in the world to have a painting in a museum is Vera Baker, 9, of New York City, whose "ventas" hangs in the permanent collection of the museum of modern art.

Mrs. Johnson Is To Carry On Work

LOS ANGELES, Calif., Feb. 9 (AP)—Mrs. Martin (Osa) Johnson declared from her hospital bed today she will carry on the exploration and jungle motion picture work in which she and her late husband were partners for 27 years.

ONE OF FDR'S PROPOSED REFORMS IN COURT PROCEDURE IS FAVORED TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9—The house judiciary committee approved today a measure to authorize the attorney general to participate in lower court cases between private parties where a constitutional question is involved.

The bill—sponsored by Chairman Sumners (D-Tex) of the committee—embodies one of the principal proposals in President Roosevelt's broad court reorganization program.

No action was taken today on the other proposals.

Senator Robinson, Democratic leader, advocated a change in the retirement age of judges under the president's program from 70 to 75 years.

Emphasizing he was speaking for himself only, and not the administration, Robinson told newspapermen "I am inclined to think the age had better be 75 than 70."

The measure approved by the house committee was amended to give the attorney general the right to repeal an adverse decision in districts courts directly to the supreme court for immediate hearing.

Sumners said it was possible a previously approved bill setting up a voluntary retirement plan for Supreme court justices might be called up for debate and passage in the house tomorrow.

by these methods. There are no benevolent dictators. This is going too far. It would make of the judiciary mere weather vanes.

"Let's let the president know the people of Texas are opposed to his plan—that we do not want this government to fall into the hands of a dictator. Let's instruct our congressional representatives to that effect."

The house resolution to approve the proposal was offered by Reps. Lonnie Smith of Fort Worth and Charles D. Rutta of Columbus.

"This would simply be an expression that the Texas house of representatives believes in the president's program," said Rutta.

An Endless Process

Rep. Alfred Petsch of Fredericksburg contended if the Supreme court was to be reorganized every time the sentiment of voters shifted it would be an endless process.

Senator Allan Shivers said "the Roosevelt administration has tried to give the people the government they have approved. I don't want to memoralize congress to vote against any legislation that may be proposed there."

Senator Weaver Moore of Houston asked Shivers if he was implying members of the legislature who opposed the president's recommendations were not good Democrats. Shivers replied he did not mean that.

Substitute Adopted

The senate adopted a resolution by Moore as a substitute for a more sharply worded one by Holbrook. The vote was 21 to 3 with one pair.

The resolution noted the president had asked power to appoint "six additional justices to the Supreme court" and concluded "we believe such legislation would not be to the best interest of the people of Texas or the United States." Texas members of congress were requested to "lend their influence and cast their votes against passage of such proposed legislation."

WIFE SLAYING IS REVEALED

Confession made by Fred Parker in Baird jail that he slew his 42-year-old wife was disclosed here Monday night by A. L. Barr, criminal investigator for the state public safety department. Barr obtained the confession.

The 26-year-old, 200-pound man, who had been arrested by Barr and Sam Guines, Abilene state highway patrolman, Wednesday said he had struck his wife with a rail and had explained a horse kicked her to death.

To Be Returned To Brady

The Associated Press said Justice W. B. Douglas Monday held Parker was responsible for the death of the former Fort Worth school teacher. Officials at Brady said Parker would be returned to the Brady jail today.

The woman's body was disinterred the day before her husband's arrest, for an autopsy. The couple had been married 10 months.

Excerpts from the statement obtained by Barr, and which bore Parker's signature:

"On Friday, Jan. 22, I carried a wheelbarrow home that I had borrowed from Mr. Wright Jones. I came back home, we had supper, cleaned up the dishes. My wife had been fussing at me for staying so long while I was gone to Mr. Jones, said she knew I was over there to see another woman. She seemed very angry at me. When we finished the dishes we went into the front room and was playing the radio when I mentioned I had to go to the barn and feed the horses. I think this was about seven thirty p. m. "I went on to feed the horses. I noticed my wife following me. She caught up with me just north of the house before we got to the barn. I knew she was going out there to fuss at me some more as she would never fuss at me around her brother who was in the house. We went on to the barn and put out some feed for the horses. She had fussed at me till we were both mad. We were walking toward the south part of the horse lot just before we got to the fence my wife was still fussing and I was very mad. Before I thought I picked up a piece of rail and hit her on the head with it. As I remember I hit her left handed and she was a little in front of me. After this I don't remember anything that happened but I do remember picking my wife up and speaking to her and at that time called her brother, Tom . . . "S . . . told Tom to go to my brother-in-law's and phone for a doctor . . . After I had hit my wife I decided to claim that a horse had kicked her . . . I went to the horse lot and got the piece of rail that I had hit her with, carried it to the woodpile and chopped it up, carried it into the fireplace where there was a fire and put it on the fire to burn it up. This was all done before anyone got there.

CAVE DWELLERS UNWORRIED BY RENT

The Waddle Family Cave

BIRDSEYE, Ind., Feb. 9 (AP)—Nathan Waddle, tiberman, solved the rent and tax problem by moving his whole family into an old Indian cave in the woods near here. Everyone is quite comfortable, thank you.

Waddle built a wooden front to the cave, put in a window and a couple of doors, partitioned the interior into three rooms and installed an old wood-burning stove with the flue leading out the front. Then his wife and two daughters, Beulah, 11, and Lily, 6, moved in.

Last summer Waddle had a good corn crop despite the drouth and the fact that his only tool was an old hoe.

"We're not complaining," Mrs. Waddle says cheerfully. "One thing we have to be grateful for in the cave is good health."

The children like their home, and Russell Andry, their teacher, says they are doing well in school.

MARRIAGE OF TWO WOMEN IS BROKEN

GALVESTON, Feb. 9 (AP)—Judge Charles G. Dibrell annulled the marriage today of Penora Ingersoll and B. S. Ingersoll on the grounds that both were women.

On the way back, she testified, her "husband" admitted "he" was a woman dressed as a man. She said this was corroborated by a physician.

Judge Dibrell restored the plaintiff's former name of Lenora Hollingsworth.

forty years of constipation and in spite of all I tried I could not find anything to help me. My stomach was soon affected until everything I ate caused distress afterwards. The past ten years my kidneys have added to my discomfort and then lumbago attacked me and the suffering I endured was most unbearable. I would actually be confined to my bed at times so crippled I would have to be turned. Medical authorities seemed to lose their effectiveness when put against my case and medicines failed completely—but not Gly-Cas—once it was given the opportunity to help.

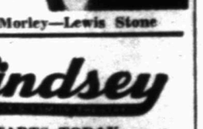

"My entire system has been toned by this new remedy," she continued. "My stomach and bowels are now regulated and functioning properly. My kidneys are fine and lumbago has left me entirely. All those poisons that filled my system and had really "wrecked" my health have been eliminated and I feel better than I have in forty years—think of it—Gly-Cas—did all of this for me—no wonder it is such a popular medicine today."

TELEPHONE MEN STILL WORKING TO REPAIR ICE-WRECKED LINES

January Storm Does More Than $1,500,000 Damage to Telephone System of Southwest.

Telephone men, still at work repairing the damage from the $1,500,000 sleet which swept from the Iowa border to the Gulf in January, can remember no worse ice storm.

Yet they found, as they set about replacing 26,000 poles and 18,000 miles of wire leveled by the blast, that this year's disaster actually did less damage than the smaller 1924 ice storm. The reasons:

Sturdier Poles

First — Most telephone poles today are creosoted yellow pine. They stand under ice that would snap poles used years ago. Fewer broken poles mean that linemen repairing fallen lines can make faster progress at restoring service.

Second — Constructed at heavy cost several years ago, an underground long distance cable through the heart of the storm belt "carried on." It formed a backbone of communication from which emergency lines could quickly be "patched through" to almost 100 isolated towns.

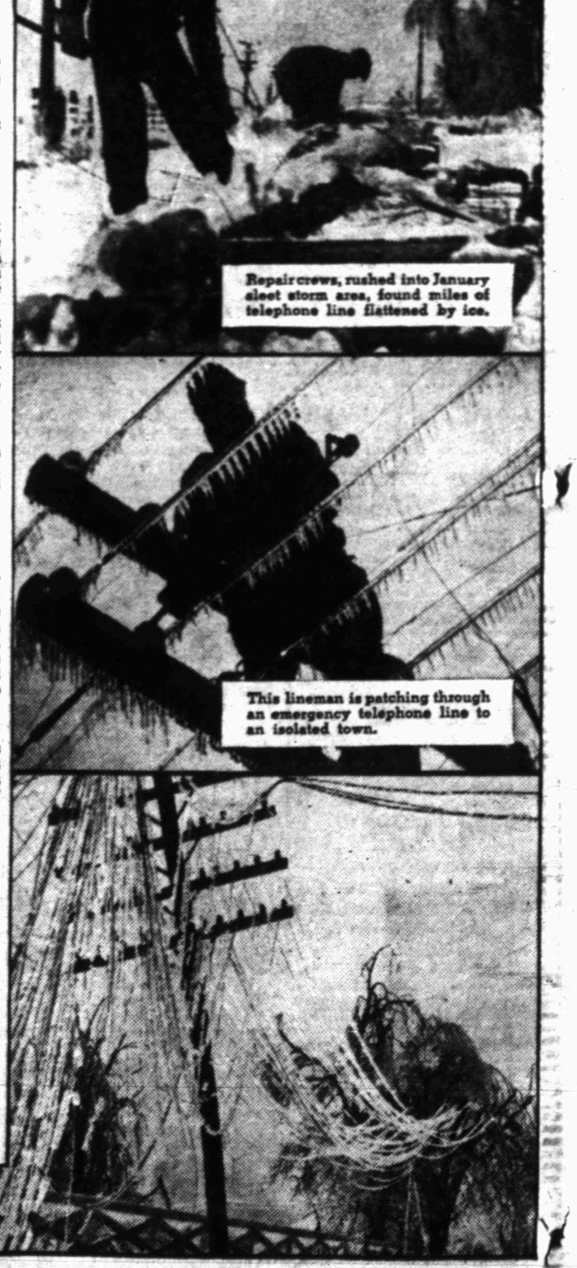

10 Years of Effort

These things . . . improvements of the last 10 years . . . are a part of the Bell System's constant effort to make its lines proof against storm and disaster.

Constantly, too, the Bell System must be ready to go into action when disaster does strike. One advantage of its far-flung organization is that the men, the materials and the financial resources are always available for prompt and adequate repair of the damage.

To those customers who were without service because of the storm, perhaps for several days, the company expresses its appreciation for their patience during a trying period.

Repair crews, rushed into January sleet storm area, found miles of telephone line flattened by ice.

FLASHES OF LIFE

Nick Of Time

PITTSBURGH, Pa. — Constable Daniel Ryan wants to pay for a quart of milk he snatched and he's willing to top the regular 13-cent price.

An automobile caught fire. Ryan grabbed a bottle of milk from the arms of a small boy and extinguished the blaze.

The boy ran.

Too Much Dog

BUFFALO, N. Y. — Councilman Louis Mascari intends to be a zealous guardian of the welfare of Buffalo hot-dog consumers.

A 12-inch hot dog selling for a dime sounds too good to be true, he said, so he promised an investigation.

If the weiners don't conform to the pure food laws, he declared, "I'll take steps to prohibit their sale."

Borrowed Mountains

LOS ANGELES — Chamber of commerce officials viewed a newsreel purportedly put out by the Miami Beach, Fla., publicity department showing four girls riding aquaplanes. They stared — incredulous — then rushed to a telegraph office.

To Mayor Louis F. Spedigar of Miami Beach went this wire: "We are glad to share our beautiful girls, our sun-kissed Pacific ocean. . . . But don't you agree that our lovely mountain-girded shoreline as a background for a Florida picture is surprising if not actually startling."

Why Hounds?

VIRGIL, Ill.—Francis Schramer, 8, baited a home made rat trap with goose meat, hoping to catch a crow, and snared a fox instead. Elated, he dispatched his prize with a bullet.

Judicial Favor

GALESBURG, Ill. — Prospective wedding partners may be relieved of at least the initial cost during Galesburg's centennial celebration, if elected justice of the peace, Paul Vancil had pledged he will do the honors without charge as a centennial boon.
