Ford Reduces Quotations On Three Models

Move By Chrysler Corp. Awaited By Other Car Makers

(By The Associated Press)

DETROIT, April 4 — The nation's automobile industry focused its attention today on Chrysler Corp. to see if the third member of the "big three" would follow the example set by General Motors and Ford and trim its prices.

Meanwhile, the Ford Motor Co. put into effect new reductions of $12 to $120 on its Ford, Mercury and Lincoln models.

That move, announced yesterday, carried out a company policy to "keep prices just as low as costs will allow," a statement said. It also brought Ford into line with GM, Kaiser-Frazer and Willys-Overland, all of which have put lower price tags on their cars during the last six weeks.

New Schedule Given

Under the new price schedule, Ford cars will cost from $12 to $30 less than before, Mercurys will be down $80 to $120, and Lincoln and Lincoln Cosmopolitan models are reduced by $100. In addition, the company cut the prices of certain truck models from $10 to $40.

Ford's reduction figures were well below the level of the Kaiser-Frazer Corp. cuts by far the greatest in the industry's post-war annals.

On March 29, K-F said it was moving toward a "broader mass market," and slashed $198 to $333 from its models. Less than two weeks earlier, Willys-Overland had announced cuts ranging from $25 to $270.

The General Motors Corp. reductions came Feb. 25 and amounted to $10 to $40 on cars and $150 on some trucks. At that time Chrysler said it had no immediate plans for a similar step.

Rosy Picture Painted

Ford — which put into effect the first postwar price cuts in January of 1947 and then wiped them out with three subsequent boosts —painted a rosy production picture in taking its latest move yesterday.

It pointed out that the action was made possible because of "added production through increased availability of materials and the small decrease in prices of some materials."

"There is still a current heavy demand for Ford and Mercury automobiles," the company statement added. "Firm production schedules have been set for the

State Weather Wet And Chilly

(By The Associated Press)

Spring turned its back on Texas temporarily today. There was light snow in far West Texas, freezing weather in the Panhandle, and cold, rainy weather over much of the rest of the state.

There may be a rise in temperatures tomorrow.

Both Guadalupe Pass and Marfa reported light snow early this morning. Yesterday there was light snow at Abilene.

Rains Are Not Heavy

Though widespread, the rains were not heavy. Heaviest total for the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a. m. was .99 at Midland. Other totals: Wink .78, Marfa .32, Bryan .19, Alice .23, Victoria .52, Laredo .25, Corpus Christi .21, San Antonio .35, Houston .20, Brownsville .55, Big Spring .25, Austin .23 and Abilene .02.

Precipitation at Lubbock during the weekend was .18.

Natural Gas Levy Sought To Aid Roads

Amendment Okayed To Exempt Royalty Owners From Tax

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 4.—Tax forces in the House won the opening round in a battle today over a proposal to place a new levy on natural gas to pay for additional country roads.

They defeated a move that would have postponed consideration of the session's first major tax bill 79 to 50, then voted 69 to 62 to recess until this afternoon and continue debate.

The 69 to 62 vote was regarded as a fairly good indication that the House of Representatives is in the mood to levy additional taxes —at least for rural roads.

Opponents of the measure by Rep. C. S. McLellan of Eagle Lake, putting a tax of one per cent per 1,000 cubic feet on production of natural gas, attempted to adjourn until 10:30 a. m. tomorrow.

Proponents Winners

As this would have had the effect of putting off action until next month on the McLellan bill, proponents wanted to recess and they won handily.

The House earlier had voted 77 to 48 to suspend the rules and advance the McLellan bill for immediate consideration.

McLellan has estimated the levy would net between 22 and 23 million dollars a year. One-fourth of the money would go to the schools, the balance to construction of feeder rural roads.

The legislature has already enacted a bill providing for 15 million dollars a year for rural road building. McLellans bill specifies hard-surface roads built of such materials as gravel, caliche and shell. The 15 million dollar bill would be for paved roads meeting federal specifications.

Amendment Adopted

The House adopted one committee amendment to McLellan's bill exempting royalty owners

Damage Is Slight In Weekend Fires

City firemen answered five alarms over the weekend, B. Black, fire marshal, said, but damage was slight.

The well house at the O. C. Ewing residence at Cain Terrace, on the Levelland road, caused a run at 4:27 a. m. today. Less than an hour later, an electric motor overheated at Acme Feed and Seed company, 508 Broadway.

Sunday fires were: Clothing caught over a gas stove in the Avinger addition east of Lubbock; filter powder caught fire from a welding torch at the rear of Modern cleaners, 1629 Broadway.

The other alarm answered was "false," Black said. It asked firemen to go to 1600-block Ave. B.

IMPORTANT LEGISLATION LAGGING
Senate Leader May Ask For Special Session Of Congress

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, April 4—Senate Democratic leader Scott W. Lucas said today he may ask President Truman to call a special session of Congress late this summer unless legislators speed up work on important legislation.

"There is no question that the Senate is behind in its legislative program," Lucas said.

A speed-up is needed at once if the congressional "streamlining" act provision for summer adjustment by July 31 is to be met, he said.

If by that date there is important legislation still awaiting action, Lucas said he would ask:

1. A joint resolution recessing the Senate from late July until a return-to-work date later in the summer, or:

2. Request President Truman to call a special session.

It was the first admission by an administration leader that action on the "must" program is lagging.

Lucas keyed his remarks to the current log jam over the $5,580,000,000 Marshall plan extension. In 10 days of debate, he said, the Senate has voted on only two amendments. He ordered a night session tomorrow night to speed up the work.

Bridges Elected By Legion; Brownfield To Be Host In '50

By BILL CLARK
Journal Staff Writer

W. T. Bridges of Levelland's post No. 417 was elected commander of the 19th district, American Legion, during final sessions of the annual district convention in Lubbock Sunday afternoon.

By unanimous vote of the convention Brownfield was selected as the 1950 convention host.

Samuel R. Hurd of post 187 at Petersburg was elected vice commander of the district. All other officials will be appointed by Bridges.

Auxiliary Names Officers

Meeting concurrently, the American Legion auxiliary elected Mrs. L. B. Elliott of Colorado City, president of the 19th district, and Mrs. Riley Duff of Lubbock vice president. The two posts were the only elective offices to be filled.

More than 600 Legionnaires representing 43 American Legion Legion posts of the 19th Congressional district attended Sunday sessions of the convention.

Principal speaker was William (Bill) McCraw, of Dallas, former attorney general of Texas and currently the Legion department commander.

Speaks Sunday Morning

McCraw, speaking at a meeting Sunday morning in the Legion post home, 910 Texas avenue, emphasized the importance of strong Legion membership and its direct bearing on legislation, pensions, hospitalization, the Veterans administration and its authority and limitations as granted and controlled by Congress.

Mrs. Albert Morrow of Morton, outgoing district president of the Legion auxiliary, introduced the auxiliary department president of Texas, Mrs. O. E. Duey of Graham.

Mrs. Duey presented a picture of the auxiliary activities during the past year.

The convention went on record with 10 resolutions. Seven of

MOST DIE IN TRAFFIC MISHAPS
Weekend Violence Claims 11 In State

(By The Associated Press)

Highway crashes accounted for most of the 11 violent deaths in Texas this weekend.

The count, which began at 6 p. m. Friday, started slowly, but as weekend travel increased it mounted rapidly. Two highway accidents took two lives each.

The dead included two women killed in a two-car collision near Dallas Saturday night in which eight persons were injured. Four of the injured were enroute to a wedding.

Victims Named

The dead women were Mrs. R. A. McClendon, 71, and Mrs. T. G. McClendon, 27, her daughter-in-law.

Jack Hudspeth, 27, who escaped from the Texas penitentiary in 1945, was shot and killed Saturday night near Panhandle, 25 miles east of Amarillo. The inquest verdict said "justifiable homicide." Patrolman Joe Cantrell fired at Hudspeth when he failed to heed orders to halt, the officer said.

Fernando Torrez, 58, a deaf mute, was killed Saturday night when struck by a train while walking along railroad tracks near Mathis.

Wesley F. Smith, 18, of Kingsville was fatally injured in an automobile-truck accident near Corpus Christi Saturday night.

Killed In Mishap

Wesley, L. Taylor, about 38, and W. T. (Troy) Walker, about 35, both of Dallas, were killed when their car overturned Saturday night near Roby.

Rebecca Gordon, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gordon of Cactus, near Dumas, was killed

$4,500 Taken By Bandit In Navy Uniform

Several Customers Unaware Of Holdup As Robber Escapes

(By The United Press)

HOUSTON, April 4.—A clever, loud-talking bandit, believed to be using a Navy uniform as a ruse, held up the suburban Almeda State bank here today and escaped with some $4,500 in currency.

The robber, nervous but swaggering in his uniform of chief petty officer, entered the small bank at 10:45 a. m., while half a dozen customers were transacting business.

He approached Teller Bob Schmitt, 24, and demanded in loud tones, "who is the head cashier?"

Pulled .45 Pistol

Schmitt motioned to Vice President William P. Traylor, and the man strode over to him. On the pretense of inquiring about a confidential loan, the robber leaned toward Traylor, pulling a .45 caliber pistol from underneath a brown trench coat.

"I want all the money in $100 bills, and you'd better give it to me," he warned Traylor. Then he produced a wrinkled brown paper sack.

When the bank executive moved slowly, trying to catch the eye of Schmitt or some other employe, the unshaven bandit swore loudly, threatening, "I'll blow your . . . . . head off. I want money. Fill that sack up."

Traylor complied and the man left the bank casually. The customers and eight employes did not know of the holdup until Traylor spread the alarm.

A check at the U. S. naval hospital here brought a report from commanding officer Capt. C. W. Brunson that no prisoners or patients or clothing were missing.

Police believed the bandit used the uniform as a cover-up, and that he quickly disposed of it on a side street or in an automobile.

Traylor described the man as white, middle-aged, weighing

Four Burglary Cases Probed

Peace officers this morning were investigating four reported buglaries, theft of three automobiles, two cuttings and several lesser offenses.

J. D. Hufstedler of 3008 Ave. H said approximately $250 worth of properties were taken in a burglary of his bedroom Sunday. Taken were a .22 caliber pistol, seven shirts, three hats, a jacket, a suit, a pen and pencil set and cufflinks, police were told.

Suspect Observed

City Detective L. W. Forrester and city patrolmen said they sought to determine whether certificates of title were taken in burglaries of two used car lots, operated in 500-block Broadway. Keys to ignition locks of cars also may have been removed, they said.

Jack and Joe Used Car lot at 518 Broadway also reported two checks taken, one for $250 and the other for $117. Payment on both was ordered stopped.

From the 517 Broadway Aubra Cromer lot it was reported that a 1941 light automobile was driven away before the office was ransacked. The car was abandoned in an underpass and Moore's Bonded patrol described a man who ran from it.

Quarters of Clara Anderson, a negro living at rear of 2014 Tenth, were ransacked, but nothing was

SLAYER SHOOTS, BEATS VICTIM
Prosperous Texan Is Robbed, Killed On Lawn Of His Home

(By The United Press)

GALVESTON, April 4—Marvin L. Clark, prosperous 31-year-old grocer, was robbed and shot to death early today as he stood on the lawn of his new shoreside home here.

The assailant felled Clark in a hail of bullets, and then apparently used the butt-end of a gun to beat him severely about the head and face, detectives said.

Missing was some $400 from a cash box, found beside the dead man. Also nearby was Clark's own pistol, smashed into three pieces.

The slaying was discovered when Clark's mother heard three shots at 1:30 a. m. She found her son slumped near the front entrance, and called police immediately.

Chief of Detectives Willie Burns believed Clark was fired upon at close range, because a wound on the right wrist was surrounded by large powder burns. He was also wounded in the chest, in the left side, the right shoulder, right and left groin, and in both forearms.

The victim's face was battered, burns said, with a deep gash on the right forehead and numerous other abrasions.

A neighbor told police she heard

Senator Fears U. S. Soldiers May Be Asked

Concern Expressed Over Obligation Of New Security Pact

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 4—Senator George (D-Ga) said today he feared American troops may be asked to garrison western Europe's frontiers as an outgrowth of the North Atlantic security treaty being signed today.

While George said he favors the principle of the mutual assistance pact, he does not think the United States should be asked to furnish any except surplus military supplies to European signatories in the first year of the treaty's operation.

Burdens Tremendous

"Our financial burdens are going to be tremendous," he told a reporter. "We are going to increase our military aid to Greece and Turkey. Congress is going to have to provide some kind of program to help non-Communist China. We may increase our own military expenditures over budget estimates.

"But what I am really afraid of," he said, "is that if we start out to develop a full-scale program of military aid for western Europe these countries will want us to garrison their frontiers with American troops."

George, who heads the Senate finance committee and is a member of the foreign relations group, said he feels that it might be better for all concerned to let the treaty operate 15 months without much stress on efforts to re-arm Europe.

Help Dispel Charge

He said such a course would help dispel the Russian charge that there is any aggressive intent to the security pact.

There are signs that when the treaty reaches the Senate a reservation will be offered which would bar any advance commitment to re-arm Europe.

Senator Baldwin (R-Conn), a treaty supporter, said that if such a proposal is made, it might be acceptable as an "interpretive"

Some Bricklayers In Houston Stop Work

HOUSTON, April 4. (U.P.)—Construction in booming Houston was apparently left in the lurch today as union bricklayers on several jobs decided to stop work until final settlement of a wage contract.

Spokesmen for the union's AFL local declined comment, but contractors at one new $2,000,000 building said some of the masons didn't show up Friday.

The old contract expired April 1, but meetings with contractors last week failed to produce an agreement on the workers' demand for a 62½ cent hourly pay boost. Current wages are $2.50 per hour.

Treaty Hailed By Acheson As Grim Warning

12 Allied Powers Pool Their Will For World Peace

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 4. — In solemn assembly, 12 nations today polled their will for peace in the Atlantic treaty—hailed by Secretary of State Acheson as a powerful warning to any aggressor.

Acheson so described it in an address opening the signing ceremony of the historic treaty linking the United States, Great Britain, France and nine other non-Communist nations into a pact of mutual security.

Drawing on the Bible, Acheson said to the peace loving the treaty is "a guide to refuge and strength" and to the agressor a warning of "woe unto them by whom the offense cometh."

Others Are Heard

One by one after Acheson the foreign ministers of the other nations arose to speak for their countries before the actual signing of the document.

Through their brief addresses ran a double theme: first, that the Atlantic pact nations want only peace, and second, that they will st nd united against any aggression.

Indirectly, they were replying once again to Russia's protest that the treaty is an aggressive move, aimed at the Soviets. And they were saying to Russia: We want only peace, but if you move against one of us you must face us all.

Will Not Shrink

Britain's bulky Ernest Bevin said "the Atlantic pact peoples do not glorify war but they will not shrink from it if aggression is threatened."

To him, he said, the treaty means "At last Democracy is no longer a series of isolated units. It has become a cohesive organism determined to fulfill its great purpose."

The Netherlands' Dirk U. Stikker said: "Its opponents are clamoring that this treaty aims at war. That it a lie. Its aim is peace—peace, not after a new war, but peace now, and from now on."

The scene of the signing was the government's high-valued department auditorium on Constitution avenue. Its whitish stone walls and gold leaf tossed back the glare from floodlights on the ceremony.

In the assembly were cabinet members and their wives, other government officials, diplomats, members of Congress and news men from the world press and ra-

Rodeo Champs Are Revealed

Winners of events in Texas Tech's fourth annual all college rodeo were announced this morning by Woodrow Allen, publicity chairman for the all-school event.

Bad weather which delayed the first scheduled performance from Friday to Saturday necessitated holding of final contests Sunday.

Attendance at the event totaled 3,500, Allen said.

Leon Jones, senior from Enochs, and Jack Buchanan, junior from Snyder, tied for the best all-round cowboy award. Janet Hightower, sophomore from Garden City and Tibba McMullan, freshman from Big Lake, were tied for the best all-round cowgirl award.

Riding Champs Named

Other winners by contests were:

Saddle bronc riding: Jack Buchanan, first; Paul Read, sophomore from Lubbock, second; Tommy Taylor, sophomore from Olton, third; Bill Tilton, junior from Denison, fourth.

Bareback bronc riding: Leon Jones, first; Buchanan and Raymond Haby, junior from Uvalde, tied for second and third; Harry Middleton, sophomore from Big Spring, third.

Various Soil-Saving Methods Explained By Conservationist

By EDWARD WELSH
Journal Staff Writer

"The solutions to soil saving problems are as many and varied as the types of soils and terrains," Marshall Howard, soil conservationist for the USDA in the Lubbock area, states.

Some of the operations such as terracing and leveling require the use of considerable machinery. In some instances special machines are required to get the job done, Howard points out. On the other hand, he says, there are a great many fields that can be handled without machines and without any special effort on the part of the landowner.

The land that falls in this category includes the level or near level field that is unprotected from the winds. Fields of this kind are subject to wind erosion and blowing sand and dust. Recently studies have been made which show that fields in which stubble and stalks have been allowed to stand have a minimum of dust and not noticeable erosion. This method requires no effort at all. In fact, it is achieved by NOT doing something.

Trash An Aid

A few years ago, Howard said, no farmer would think of leaving trash in his fields. But experience here on the South Plains has proved that the benefit is twofold. First, it serves a sa binder to prevent drifting and blowing; secondly, the trash helps to retain precious moisture in the surface soil. The so-called trash includes combined sorghum and wheat fields, natural grasses growing in the cotton rows and other volunteer binders.

Other methods of solving the problem include planting of adaptable grasses, winter peas, vetch, clover or wheat. These plantings, in addition to retaining erosion, serve as forage for stock. While they can not be expected to provide a money crop, they so increase the value and productivity of the land that they return their costs, Howard point sout.

Rain Run-Off Reduced

Fields that have such cover will utilize rain and irrigation water to receive the maximum benefit. On the J. E. Hancock farm, seven miles north of Lubbock, 33 acres of land were recently bench terraced. Austrian winter peas were planted to served as binder for terrace walls, provide legumes and increase the nitrogen content in the soil and also serve for stock grazing.

Where grasses and legumes are used for binder on sloping terrain they not only help to eliminate wind erosion but slow up the rainfall run-off and reduce water erosion.

Last week a planting of grass was made on 150 acres of the Howard Hampton ranch in southwest Crosby county. Most of these 150 acres were sandy and shallow soil. Though nearly level, extensive wind erosion was noticed. This year combine and drilled sorghum stubble was left on the fields and the grass was planted between the rows of stubble. The mixture of sideoats grama, bluestem and lovegrass with several of their variations was planted at the rate of ten pounds per acre with a seven box seed drill.

Windbreak Urged

Another highly recommended protection against erosion and blowing sand and dust is the windbreak for use around farm and rural dwellings. The windbreak serves as a protection for shrubs, flowers and landscaping. Sadie Hatfield, extension landscape gardening specialist of A. and M. college, believes every farm home in Texas should have this type of protection.

Some of the trees and shrubs that have proven satisfactory for windbreaks are the Chinese elm, because of its rapid growth black walnut, cedar elm ,red cedar and Chinese pistacia. A variety of these is preferable to single type, the A. and M. specialist says. Desert willow, tamarix and salt cedars can also be used successfully.

Experts claim that a windbreak of trees and shrubs not only serve to lessen the damage and force of the wind but modifys the temperature around the home.

SEEDING TO SAVE SOIL—The seven box seed drill shown above is operating on the ranch of Howard Hampton in Crosby county. A mixture of range grasses is being planted on 150 acres of land used previously for grain sorghums. The acreage will be returned to profitable grazing and will be saved from further wind erosion to which its sandy, shallow soil has been subject. (Staff photo.)

New Cruiser Is Added To Navy

PHILADELPHIA, April 4 (AP) — The U. S. S. Roanoke, mightiest light cruiser in the world, joins Uncle Sam's fleet today.

And the most prominent native of Roanoke, Va., Louis Johnson, was slated to keynote the commissioning ceremonies at the Philadelphia naval base.

It is to be Johnson's first public address since he was sworn in as secretary of defense last Monday.

The Navy says the 17,000-ton cruiser Roanoke, sister ship of the Worcester, cost $30,000,000 and took four years to build.

The 680-foot ship has a beam of 70 feet and has a designed speed of 33 knots.

Unit Self-Sufficient

The third naval vessel to bear the name of the Virginia city, the Roanoke was launched two years ago by Julia Ann Henebry, Rollins college student and a daughter of the former mayor of Roanoke.

The Roanoke's keel was laid on May 15, 1945. The Navy says she is a self-sufficient unit and contains all the services offered by any modern community. Her power plant can supply enough electricity for a city of 40,000.

The ship carries a complement of 51 officers and 922 enlisted men and is commanded by Capt. John D. Kelsey of Silver Springs, Md.

Besides her main battery, the Roanoke carried a secondary battery of 20 rapid fire three-inch guns in twin mounts and six twin 20mm guns.

Swerving Car Hurls Woman To Her Death

EL PASO, April 4 (AP)—Mrs. Pauline T. Jeleski, 26, El Paso, was hurled to her death from a car near Las Cruces, N. M.

She was riding with her husband when their car was struck from behind by another car. The impact made the cars, which locked, swerve. She was thrown from the vehicle.

Mrs. Jeleski is survived by her husband, a daughter, Billie Frances, and her mother, Mrs. Effie Thompson, Wichita Falls.

The body will be taken to Wichita Falls for burial.

Rooster With Head Lopped Off Two Days Ago Is Still Kept Alive

LOS ANGELES, April 4, (AP) — A rooster which lost its head two days ago is still alive today.

A veterinarian says it should live as long as its windpipe and throat remain open.

Dr. Alan Ross examined the phenomenon yesterday and found a small part of the rooster's brain, which controls respiration and circulation, was still left in the severed neck. Its movements, he explained, are controlled by its spinal cord.

The bird was purchased, with head missing, on Saturday by Mrs. Martha Green. She had a Sunday chicken dinner on her Mind.

She placed it in the sink to pluck the feathers when the bird stood up and began walking around. It made a strange noise. It wasn't a crow, but the normal sound a chicken would make with its head off.

Mrs. Green is feeding her new found pet with milk and egg yolk by insertin an eye-dropper in its throat.

Mule Day In Tennessee Gives Long-Eared Sons Of Jackass Their Moment Of Glory

COLUMBIA, Tenn., April 4, (AP) The long-eared sons of the jackass get their moment of glory today. It's mule day in Columbia.

Mule day is an annual spring festival in this Tennessee farming community which calls itself "the dimple of the universe."

To muledom, Columbia's mule day is what Atlantic City's beauty pageant is to the gals with the curves and contours.

Perhaps you've never seen anything beautiful in a mule.

Huge Crowds Expected

But any one of the hundreds of exhibitors who came to town today will tell you a good mule is a thing of beauty and a joy to own. Then they'll point to today's king, Brown's Sunshine. He's a three-year-old sorrel, flaxen-maned "sugar" mule owned by Willis Brown of the Sawdust community. A "sugar" mule weighs from 1,200 pounds up, and as far as beauty goes, he's tops.

Brays from stockyard and stable signal the opening of mule day. Festivities continue long after the mules have hit the hay. The activities pack the streets of this city of about 10,000 with three or four times that number.

The mile-long motorless parade, marking the formal opening of the affair, features Gov. Gordon Browning astride a mule and Gen. Jonathan Wainwright, survivor of the Bataan "death march," riding in a mule-drawn surrey.

Greenland is looking forward to becoming a tourist attraction.

NO ENERGY— NO PEP— NO DATES

*Maybe Audrey can blame a Borderline Anemia

When a girl acts listless and half-alive, she's apt to be lonesome, too! A pale, tired face and a colorless personality can be a bar to romance.

True—and quite often it's just faded red blood cells that sap enthusiasm and pep. Quite often, it's a Borderline Anemia, due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency. Medical studies show that up to 68% of women—many men and children—have this tiring blood condition.

Weariness and pallor have many causes—always consult your doctor regularly. But if you have this Borderline Anemia, remember: Ironized Yeast Tablets can help you reclaim your vitality and healthy good looks. They are specially formulated to help build up faded and fagged-out blood cells. To feel better—look better—act alert and alive—try IRONIZED YEAST TABLETS.

*Due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency, a condition for which Ironized Yeast is especially formulated.

New Home Of UN Is Beginning To Rise Along New York River

NEW YORK, April 4 (U.P.) — Seventeen hundred piles are being driven through the coarse quartz-mica strata of New York's East River front to support the $65,000,000, 39-story permanent home of the United Nations.

Work on the driving of the piles, expected to take six to eight months, was started early this month under a $25,000,000 contract. The contract calls for construction of the first unit of the UN center, the secretariat building, and the foundations for the General Assembly and the meeting hall area containing the council chambers and conference rooms.

The huge structure, whose grounds will extend from 44th to 48th Street along Franklin D. Roosevelt Drive, skirting the river, is expected to accommodate approximately 5,000 persons in the offices of the UN when it is completed some two years from now.

To Lay Cornerstone

President Truman will lay the cornerstone of the building on April 10.

The UN buildings are being constructed on ground where the shore line once formed a small, rockbound cove called Turtle Bay. Old Manhattan records show that creek draining the southerly end of Central Park once emptied into this bay.

The cove now is filled in behind a rock-filled timber crib and this crib may have to be dug out and replaced with earth before the piles can be sunk there.

Partly on Bedrock

The secretariat building, tallest of the ground, will rest partly on bedrock and partly on concrete piers. Where bedrock is deeper than 20 feet, steel piles are used instead of concrete piers.

A 100-ton rig with an 80-foot boom is being used to drive 50,000 feet of 14-inch steel piling. A smaller rig will sink 20,000 feet of eight and twelve-inch piling. The piles are the conventional H-shaped beams.

The piles are 50 to 90 feet each in long and are driven in clusters of five to 20. Each cluster is capped by concrete to form the base on which a column of the building will rest.

Theft Of $434,000 In Jewels Enough

LOS ANGELES, April 4 (AP) —Thefts of jewels she valued at $434,000 has convinced wealthy Mrs. Eugenia Clair Smith that Los Angeles is not a healthy place for her.

"I'm getting out of here," the Reno, Nev., widow of coffee magnate William Edgar Smith told police.

"I'm afraid the burglars might come back and I fear for our safety." She said she still has jewels valued at more than $1,500,000.

She said that her 14-year-old son and a maid returned to another son's mansion Saturday to find it thoroughly ransacked and the gems missing.

The burglars had badly beaten her shepherd dog. They had missed, however, a small fortune in other jewels and furs and $4,000 in cash.

Mrs. Smith said the loot taken included a pearl necklace with a diamond pendant which she said was worth $150,000.

Rural Abortion Ring In Texas Is Broken

SAN ANTONIO, April 4 (AP)— Bexar county deputy sheriffs Saturday smashed a thriving rural abortion mill when they caught two women in the act of operating on a 29-year-old married woman. They also found the decapitated body of a well-developed child in the yard of the abortion headquarters, ten miles south of San Antonio on the old Losoya road.

The two women, 40 and 25 were arrested, as was the older woman's 20-year-old son, who was found outside the house when the operation was interrupted by Deputies Jay Higdon and Sam Sanders Saturday.

The patient was taken to Santa Rosa hospital under technical arrest. It was believed she would recover. The woman made a complete statement to Dist. Atty. William N. Hensley.

The arrests came when the deputies answered a call from neighbors who reported mysterious activity going on around the small house during the past month.

The neighbors told of women's screams, babies crying, and cars going back and forth by day and night. They also told of seeing an infant buried in the yard Thursday.

MEET THE MANAGER—Jack J. Boydston, Lubbock manager for Pioneer Air Lines, was born at Hereford July 12, 1920. He was educated in Hereford public schools and was graduated from Hereford High school in 1938. After graduation he worked in Hereford and was manager of Wilson and company purchasing station there when he went into the Army Air corps for four years. He served a year in China, India, Guam and Okinawa as a B-29 pilot. Upon discharge he came to Lubbock in December, 1945, as manager for Pioneer here. In his spare time he likes to fish and fly with the 707th Bomb Squadron, reserve air unit of which he is a member. Olivia De Havilland Is Reported Very Ill

HOLLYWOOD, April 4 (AP) — Olivia De Havilland is seriously ill today, her studio disclosed, and every effort is being made by her doctor to save a baby she expects in August.

The academy award-winning actress has been confined to her bed for the past two months. Her physician said he doubted if she would be up again before the infant's arrival.

Miss De Havilland, wife of novelist Marcus Goodrich, was reported greatly improved on Friday. However, her condition became serious over the week-end.

Yugoslavs Put On Full Dress Parade For Marshal Tito

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, April 4 (AP) — Yugoslavs proclaimed their loyalty to Premier Marshal Tito yesterday with a full dress parade through the streets of Belgrade.

The demonstration followed publication Saturday of a speech by Tito in which he accused both the Cominform — the association of eastern Communist nations — and the Western "capitalistic" countries of lies and slander against Yugoslavia.

Tito has been denounced by the Soviet-dominated Cominform for allegedly deviating from the Marxist-Leninist brand of Communism.

The premier declared he was "laughing" at the campaign against his government.

"The anti-Yugoslav propaganda will not bother us," he said, "nor will it make us digress from the road which we are following."

"You have probably heard," he said, "various lies on the terrible 'plots' which are being made in Brioni (where Tito is vacationing) that I have had talks here with English and Americans. . . . Naturally I will not even need to tell you that this is not true, since it is the most ordinary nonsense."

Yesterday's demonstration was preliminary to a meeting Saturday of the people's front congress, which approves the government's laws.

Pensioner Will Get Fortune From Estate

REED CITY, Mich., April 4. (AP) An 84-year-old recipient of old age assistance pondered today on how to use the $16,200 fortune he should inherit soon from the estate of his recluse brother.

The money was found yesterday in the junk-littered home of Charles Dahlberg, who died Saturday at the age of 87. Dahlberg, a bachelor, left no will, and his brother, Alex, is his only known heir.

There are two oil wells on the farm of the elder Dahlberg. These are believed to have been the source of the money discovered in his two-room frame house by Sheriff Ray Wooster and Coroner W. A. Livingston.

Sheriff Wooster said the home was "filthy" with accumulated trash and discarded clothing. The money itself was in 31 different envelopes that had been stowed away in bureau drawers and a dish cupboard.

Boy Walks Half Mile With Stomach Wound

SPIRIT LAKE, Ia., April 4 (AP) —A 15-year-old boy, staunching with his hands a critical gunshot wound in his abdomen, walked a half mile to his home today to get help.

The boy, Kermit Lundquist, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Lundquist of Lake Park, Ia., was taken to the Spirit Lake hospital. Dr. Don Rodawig said the boy's condition was "very critical."

Dr. Rodawig said the boy suffered the wound while he was out in the fields alone shooting a .22 rifle with a sawed off barrel.

Note Sent To Wrong Man With Right Name Ends In Marriage

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., April 4 (AP) — The Army delivered a letter to the wrong sergeant with the right name and it all ended in a wedding.

That's the story Staff Sgt. and Mrs. Richard A. Schuler of Duncannon, Pa., told here today with smiling honeymoon faces.

Dark-haired, pretty 19-year-old Mrs. Schuler, the former Mary Goran of Detroit, Mich., said she started it by writing to her brother-in-law, Sgt. Richard Schuler in Guam in December, 1946.

The Army delivered the letter instead to Staff Sgt. Richard A. Schuler in Tokyo.

Apologized For Act

The Tokyo Schuler realized on reading the letter that it was for someone else and hastily resent it to the proper Schuler.

And he wrote a note to Mary, apologizing for reading her mail. That started a long distance correspondence between the two—and romance.

When blond Staff Sgt. Richard A. Schuler, 20, arrived at Harrisburg, Pa., airport last March 6 on a 60-day furlough, Mary was there to meet him.

"We met for the first time when his plane came in at 9 p. m. and were engaged at 11 p. m. the same night," Mary recalled.

They were married March 26 in Detroit and have been on their honeymoon since.

Local Pilot Club Is Chartered At Dinner

Lubbock's newest service organization, the Pilot club of Lubbock, was chartered in a formal banquet Saturday night at Hilton hotel.

Composed of business and professional women, the club is affiliated with Pilot International, which has organizations in 29 states, the District of Columbia, Canada, Mexico, Hawaii and France.

Miss Lois Alexander, president of the local club, received the charter from Mrs. Marguerite Dimerling of Beaumont, district governor, who said the club is 20th in the district and 265th in the international organization.

Dr. Fred W. Sparks, president of Kiwanis club, was principal speaker at the banquet, discussing "What the Service Club Means To Me." The club button, he said, is "a bond of fellowship all over the nation and all over the world." He spoke of the importance of the service club to a member and of its service to the city. The city of Lubbock, he said, is gaining another of the civic clubs which have been assets and will continue to be.

Miss Alexander introduced guest, who included representatives of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, 20-30 club, Business and Professional Women's club and Altrusa club.

Here From Amarillo

Despite snow Saturday, 13 members of the Amarillo Pilot club attended the dinner. Greetings from that club were presented by Mrs. Lenis Beyer, extension chairman. Others from Amarillo present were Miss Esther Boulware, Miss Shirley Dobbs, Mrs. Salome Hales, Miss Eva Blakemore, Miss Adele Barnes, Miss Reta Lemons, Dr. Frances Ruth Benson, Mrs. Lucille Jennings, Miss Eunice Best, Mrs. Virginia Schroeder, Mrs. Loretta King and Mrs. Ann Hastings.

The program opened with singing of invocation and closed with singing of "Sail on International."

Mrs. Dimerling said the first Pilot club was organized 28 years ago in Macon, Ga. The club here is being organized with purpose of service to the community, state and nation, exchange of ideas, creation of good will and promotion of talent, she said.

Floral decorations were in the club colors of green and yellow. Place cards and corsages for guests were based on the club emblem, the wheel.

Leaders To Attend Badge Workshop

A badge workshop for fly-up and intermediate leaders will be held at the Girl Scout Little House, 2600 Ave. P, Tuesday and Thursday mornings from 9:30 until 11:30 o'clock.

Miss Peggy Hess and Mrs. Galen Carr are to discuss with the leaders such subjects as badge progression, curved bar, court of awards and planning badges.

PLASTIC PUDDLERS

Smart looking overshoes for children now are plastic combinations of white with red, green or blue plastic. They are water and mildew-proof, fade-resistant and easy to wash.

Eubank-Gee Vows Read

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Gee of 2107 Eighth are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Miss Clydene Gee, to James H. Eubank, son of Mrs. Clovis Honeycutt of Tahoka, which took place Thursday in the home of the bridegroom's grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Ben Hardy, in Tahoka. The ceremony was read by Dr. Hardy.

The bride wore a dusty pink crepe dress with white accessories and a rhinestone necklace, a gift from the bridegroom.

Mrs. Eubank attended Lubbock High school and Mr. Eubank is a former student of Texas Technological college.

Wedding and reception guests were family members.

Mrs. L. N. Lipscomb Honored On Birthday

Mrs. L. N. Lipscomb was honored on her birthday last week when members of Kongenial Klan gave her a surprise party in her home at 1721 Twenty-third.

The hostesses, Mesdames George R. Bean, Erle Thompson and Pearl Lovelace, served refreshments.

Large Crowds Visit New Floral Plant

An estimated 15,000 persons visited the Texas Floral company, 2107 Twenty-first, Friday, Saturday and Sunday during open house for the company's remodeled plant, J. C. Davis, owner, said today.

Sunday afternoon saw the largest crowd when traffic was snarled for several blocks by parked cars as people sought to visit the flower shop and greenhouses. Ninety-five different towns and 16 states were represented in Sunday's visitors who registered, Davis said.

During this month, an estimated 250 florists from Northwest Texas and eastern New Mexico will visit the plant, Davis said.

Most cotton farmers in North China now are receiving rotenone insecticide to combat the aphis, against which it appears to be very effective.

Jaycees Report On State Convention; Group Awards Cited

Reports on last weekend's state Junior Chamber of Commerce convention in Galveston highlighted today's weekly Jaycee luncheon in the Hilton hotel.

Local Jaycees who attended the convention termed it the most successful in the organization's history. Giving reports today on the Galveston activities were Harold Chapman, R. S. Wilkinson, Asher Thompson, Arvol Hays, Barney Stagner and Horace Gearhart.

Thompson introduced committee chairmen whose groups won awards at the state meet. Chairmen of first place winners included Ralph Krebbs and Gordon Sanders, extension; Rolan Simpson, Americanism; Allen Todd, inter-club relations; Arles Graham and Rufus Rush, agriculture; and Gene Quest, safety. Chairmen of second place committees were Reagan Howell, aviation; Rod MacDougall, public relations; and Homer Roper and Hoyse McMurtry, membership and personnel.

Winners Recognized

The winning chairmen were introduced and recognized by club members for their outstanding records during the last year.

Asher Thompson, who was chosen as the outstanding state director, and L. D. Whiteley, who was selected as the outstanding state officer and also elected to a national director's post, were also recognized by the club for their work.

Clifton Haynie presided at the luncheon, with invocation by Rufus Rush.

Haynie reminded all members of the Texas Tech sports carnival Saturday night at Jones stadium, for which tickets are now on sale.

News Briefs

An Army Day parade in which 567 student members of the Texas Technological ROTC will participate will be Thursday afternoon at 3:45 o'clock, although Army Day is Wednesday, Col. L. C. Adams, professor of military science and tactics, said this morning. The military science department at the college will be open to public inspection both Wednesday and Thursday. Sunday's Avalanche-Journal announced the parade for Wednesday afternoon. The parade is being conducted at the ROTC's regular drill period, Thursday afternoon.

Funeral services for James M. Reid, 61, of Lubbock, were to be held at 2:30 p. m. today in Rix Funeral Home chapel. Burial was to be in Lubbock cemetery.

Mrs. Harlon W. Redwine, of 3519 Twenty-ninth, returned Sunday to her home from Lubbock Memorial hospital, where she had been a patient since March 30.

Members of the Lubbock Lions club will move over to Hotel Lubbock for their luncheon program Tuesday, meeting with the Optimist club in a joint luncheon. The change was necessary because of the Women's Federated Clubs convention now in session at the Hilton, President Wayne Henly of the Lions club said.

Ben Weaver, of Belvidere, N. J., suffered three fractured lumbar vertabrae at about 9:50 a. m. today when a hammer fell on his back while he was working on the Producers Grain elevator construction job on Slaton highway. Weaver, who is employed by McDonald Engineering company, was taken to West Texas hospital by Rix Funeral home ambulance.

The Young Peoples Guild of the First Methodist church will meet for dinner at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the 50-50 classroom of the church.

Word was received today by Mrs. Ray Chapman, of 2610 Twenty-sixth, that her mother, Mrs. W. E. Matthews, sr., of Tuscaumbia, Ala., had died of a heart attack this morning in her home in Tuscumbia. Mrs. Chapman, her husband, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Chapman, were to leave by auto this afternoon for Alabama to attend funeral services there.

Delegates Arriving

Delegates and guests who are to attend the convention of Seventh district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, will begin arriving this afternoon and tonight. The first event of the meeting, which will be concluded at a Wednesday luncheon, is a tea honoring the state federation president, Mrs. John J. Perry of Sweetwater, Seventh district officers and state and district board members which is being given this afternoon at Hilton hotel by the federated clubs of Littlefield.

At 7:30 o'clock tonight a board dinner will be given at Hilton hotel. Mesdames A. T. Cocanougher, T. E. Buckner, Carroll Smyers, F. A. Kleinschmidt, Bryan Edwards, George Lemon and Miss Mae Murfee, local members of the state and district boards, are to be dinner hostesses.

District officers attending the convention are Mrs. D. L. C. Kinard of Memphis, president; Mrs. E. J. Stone of Sudan, first vice president; Mrs. O. M. McGinty of Spur, second vice president; and Mrs. J. M. Crews of Childress, trustee.

Senate Sets Bills For Consideration

AUSTIN, April 4 (AP)— The Senate today set seven bills for special consideration. They were:

April 6—A House bill to raise bar association membership fees from $4 to $5 annually. Also, a House bill to raise salaries of tax assessors-collectors in counties over 100,000 to 150,000 population to $7,200 a year.

April 7—A House bill to create a Sabine river authority and separate it from the Neches river authority.

April 8—A Senate bill to authorize university regents to lease lands for development of minerals other than gas and oil.

April 11—A Senate bill to create a state budget board. Also, a Senate bill to standardize salaries of sheriffs and deputies.

For April 12—A Senate bill to create a legislative council to study legislative matters between sessions.

Oil Output Allowance Cut In New Mexico

SANTA FE, N. M., April 4 (AP)— A cut of more than 5 per cent has been made in the production to be allowed for New Mexico oil wells this month.

The state oil conservation commission announced this reduction was in line with production changes in neighboring states.

Top wells which were allowed 43 barrels of crude production a day in March were cut to 42 barrels. The state's average daily production was cut from 148,000 barrels to 138,000.

Breakfast Is Compliment

Complimenting Miss Sylvia Whitacre who will marry John Hampton April 14, Mrs. Arnold Maeker and Mrs. Spurlock Rogers gave a Sunday breakfast in Mrs. Maeker's home at 1811-A Sixteenth.

Table decorations were in a green and white color scheme. Bouquets of ranunculi were arranged in green containers and a corsage of the same flowers was presented to the honoree. A gift of pottery was given to her, also.

Guests were Miss Whitacre, her mother, Mrs. Charles Whitacre, the bridegroom-elect's mother, Mrs. W. L. Hampton, Miss Bobbie Hampton, Mrs. Buddy Hughes, Miss Barbara Jackson and Miss Louise Elliott.

Mary Haworth's Mail...

Young Girl Is In Love With Bachelor Who Wants Only To Keep His Freedom

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: In six months' steady companionship with Dick, a bachelor in his early thirties, I have given him much kindness, comfort and understanding, and now I find myself in love.

Dick is aware of my feeling and he, too, possesses a very deep feeling for me, which he has proved in many ways, in devoted acts and sincere faithfulness.

However, the idea of settling down, of having a home and family, has never appealed to him. He isn't the marrying type, in that he likes his freedom, his stag parties, and doesn't want to be confined to any one situation. And never before has he been constant to any one girl.

GIRL IS FENDING WITH DOUBLE-TALK

DICK SAYS he is happy with me, and knows that he never will find another like me; but very recently we have discussed breaking up. This, we know, will hurt both of us; but even so, I feel that it will hurt worse, the longer the break is postponed, if he continues with the idea that he is never going to marry. Don't you agree?

At times my heart pleads with me to give him more time in which to find himself, with the possibility in mind that he may realize how much he needs me, and that it's time he settled down. Dick doesn't like the idea of breaking up any more than I do.

We have found so much companionship and understanding in each other, and he says he never will hurt me intentionally and tries so hard to make me happy. So, should I give him more time: or should I make the break now? If there was someone else in his life I would be more willing to give him up; but I am positive there is nobody else. Your advice will be greatly appreciated. Signed—B. C.

MAN IS TALKING LIKE ANY WOLF

DEAR B. C.: To get down to cases, you are having an affair with Dick, and thus far he has been faithful to you, also gallant in expression of gratitude for your favors, and pretty smug about his record of constancy in this instance — something new in his case history of playing around, he seems to say. Isn't that the story in a nutshell?

Now there's talk of breaking up, which probably developed when you began to bid for love-security in relation to him; in short, when you began to ask wistfully for marriage — a social "discipline" he isn't willing to accept in relation to any girl.

With typical wolf-finesse, Dick evades the question by batting it back in another form — which leaves him in the clear, by sophist thinking. Instead of meeting the real question — namely, will he marry you?—he cagily talks as if the question were: Do you wish to break with him or not? Or, shall the break be now or later? And with phony air of steadfast devotion and "consideration" he leaves the question to you to decide!

DRIFT IS DAMAGING TO HER PERSONALITY

THIS is the wolf's classic technique in dealing with a conquest who begins campaigning for marriage, after her first fine feeling of independence has been lost in consequence of giving too much to him. It is his way of getting across that she has no strings on him and he claims none on her. Ergo, that a "break" is the only final solution of the impasse created by her hopes and his defensiveness.

Of course it may be that you initiated talk of a break, hoping thereby to challenge him into a proposal, to save the companionship. Even so, all the implications are the same. He knows you are asking for marriage and would grabe at it, and he is fending craftily as aforesaid — selfishly willing to drift "as is" indefinitely, but essentially indifferent to your predicament.

So, for advice: If you have the strength to take a hint, you ought to break with him now. The longer you drift in the present arrangement, the greater the damage to your personality; and the more time lost that should be invested in promoting bonafide companionship with a reliable man, which Dick is not.—M. H.

EAT PLENTY AND TAKE OFF UGLY FAT

When you buy Barcentrate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for any printed diet or for vitamins to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while taking this preparation. Barcentrate is the original grapefruit juice recipe for weight reduction.

Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. That's all there is to it.

If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Lost 56 pounds

Here is what Mrs. L. J. Bryant, P. O. Box 86, Whitewright, Texas, wrote us: "I want to tell you what Barcentrate has done for me. I weighed 249 pounds when I started taking it. I now weigh 213.

"I have taken my dress size down from size 50 to 44 and never felt better in my life and everybody tells me how much nicer I look than I did.

"I am still taking Barcentrate as I want to get my weight down to 165 or 170 pounds."

SYRIA REMAINS AS SINGLE ACTIVE COMBATANT

War In Middle East Comes To Virtual End As Trans-Jordan And Israel Armistice Is Signed

RHODES, April 4. (AP)—Trans-Jordan has signed an armistice with Israel, virtually ending the Palestine war.

The agreement — valid for one year and renewable — was the third concluded by Israel with an Arab state. Egypt signed an armistice Feb. 24, Lebanon on March 23.

An Israeli foreign office spokesman expressed hope in Tel Aviv last night that the armistice with Trans-Jordan marks the beginning "of fruitful cooperation and peaceful relations between the two states."

The spokesman indicated that concessions on both sides resulted in completion of the agreement at an earlier date than was anticipated when the talks began more than a month ago.

It was disclosed after last night's signing that Trans-Jordan was empowered on March 20 to negotiate in behalf of Iraq and will take over Iraq-held armistice lines in northern Palestine.

This leaves only Syria as an active combatant with whom the Jewish state has yet to negotiate.

In Damascus Lt. Col. Fawzi Helo, chief of the Syrian delegation in the projected negotiations with Israel, said armistice talks with the Jewish state probably will begin Wednesday.

Lebanese dispatches said delegates of the Arab states were meeting in Beirut to discuss the military coup which changed governments in Syria this week and to talk over a projected Arab-Jewish congress, which presumably would take up the question of a permanent Palestine peace.

The new armistice with Trans-Jordan permits Israel to maintain strong forces in the disputed Aqaba area at the northern tip of the Red Sea. The agreement provides for a reduction of forces on both sides of an armistice line to a depth of six miles, except in Aqaba.

One Marriage For Every Four Trips To Altar Ended With Divorce During 1948

WASHINGTON, April 4 (U.P.)—One marriage went on the rocks last year just about every time four other couples set out to show that two people can live cheaper than one.

The public health service estimates today there were 1,815,000 marriages in 1948 and 415,000 divorces. That's a decline in both marriages and divorces for the second straight year.

Divorces are taking the sharp drop. In 1947 there were 1,991,978 marriages and 474,000 divorces. In 1946, the peak year, there were more than 2,000,000 marriages compared to 610,000 divorces.

Both the marriage and divorce rates are tumbling. The divorce rate in 1948 was 2.6 per 1,000 population, compared to 3.3 in 1947, and 4.3 per 1,000 in 1946.

The marriage rate in 1947 was 12.4 per 1,000, compared to 13.9 per 1,000 in 1947, and 16.4 per 1,000 in 1946.

Area Resident Buys Registered Jersey

E. R. Slater of Rt. No. 6, has purchased the registered Jersey female Lady Remus Pansy. The animal comes from the herd owned by D. W. Gill of Lubbock.

The purchase adds to the steadily growing number in this area. Dairymen have been buying Jerseys to increase the quality of the milk they produce.

Purebred Jerseys are registered by The American Jersey Cattle club which has its national headquarters in Columbus, O. Several programs are available through The American Jersey Cattle club to help breeders get the most profit from their Jerseys.

Welch Farmer Dies After Heart Attack

BROWNFIELD, April 4. (Special)—W. H. Ray, 62, a farmer of Welch community, Dawson county, died of a heart attack at approximately 12:30 p. m. Sunday, shortly after he had returned home from church.

Funeral services will be held at 2 p. m. Tuesday in the Welch High school auditorium with O'Dell Purdy, minister of Seagraves Church of Christ, officiating.

Interment will be in Terry County Memorial cemetery, under direction of Brownfield Funeral home.

The body will lie in state at the Ray home until services Tuesday.

Ray was well known in this area, having resided in Welch community 26 years. He had been in ill health the last two years.

He is survived by the widow; two daughters, Mrs. M. C. Sweatt of Denver City and Mrs. W. S. Coor of Brownfield; three sisters, Mrs. John Shoaf of Gatesville, Mrs. Zelma Box of Fort Worth, and Mrs. Minnie Harlan of Corpus Christi; one brother, Frank Ray of Gatesville; and eight grandchildren.

Progress Seen In Cab Strike

NEW YORK, April 4 (AP)—A mediator reported "some progress" today in efforts to settle the city-wide taxicab strike as more cars rolled and violence decreased.

Forty-eight arrests have been made in outbreaks of violence and in squabbles since the walkout started at 4:30 a. m. (EST) Friday.

The striking union, which claims the strike is "from 93 to 94 per cent effective," ordered picketing demonstrations today at the 435 cab garages in an effort to make the walkout 100 per cent.

Police estimated that 1,374 of the city's 11,000-odd taxicabs were operating at 6 p. m. last night—the largest number since the strike began.

Taxi company spokesman said 5,000 cabs would be normal for Sunday.

A spokesman for the employers said 1,034 fleet-owned cabs and between 950 and 1,000 owner-operated cabs were rolling yesterday. A league claiming to represent 1,800 independent owner-drivers said "the backbone of the strike is broken."

TRANSIT FACILITIES ARE CLOSED OFF

SCRANTON, Pa., April 4 (AP)—The 400,000 resident of Pennsylvania's Lackawanna valley cast about today for detours to work as a strike of 400 bus and trolley workers choked off their principal transit facilities.

The walkout began shortly after midnight yesterday but did not take full effect until the move-to-work began this morning.

Normally, 80,000 persons ride daily over the 25-mile network of bus and trolley routes operated by the Scranton Transit company.

Industrial and business firms began mobilized car pools in advance of the morning rush hour.

The workers, members of local 168, AFL Amalgamated Association of Street, Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes, are demanding a wage boost of 29 cents hourly for operators and 35 cents for mechanics.

Slugging Giants, Champion Indians Clash Here Tomorrow

Thrills, Big League Stars Are Offered

Tomorrow is the big day in Lubbock for the kids and grown-ups alike. No, it isn't the circus, but it has the thrills that even a circus cannot offer—baseball thrills and big league stars.

When the World Champion Cleveland Indians and New York Giants move into Rosenthal Field for the game at 3 p. m., the stands will probably be full to the 8,000 capacity with baseball-minded sports fans. Advance ticket sales have speeded up sharply in the last few days, and what tickets remain will be sold at the gates Tuesday.

Last year the home-run thumping Giants were on top of a 10-2 victory over the Indians. Four base wallops were made by Joe Gordon, Jackie Loerke, and Walter Cooper. Both teams were impressed by the good crowd and playing field and asked to return this year.

At the helm of the Indians is their shortstop-manager, Lou Boudreau, who last year piloted Cleveland to a league pennant and World Series victory.

Opposite him will be Lippy Leo Durocher, baseball's bad boy, who spent a year on suspension. Durocher left the Brooklyn Dodgers near the end of last season to take over the Giants, and he reportedly set up a new regime in the New York camp.

Heading the list of sluggers for the Giants is Jimmy Mize, who has tied for the lead in home runs the past two years in the National league, at the first base position. Catching will be Walker Cooper. At second is Sid Gordon, and at third will be Jack Loerke or Buddy Kerr. Billy Rigney will be at shortstop.

Hitters Feared

In the outfield for the Giants is a feared group of hitters. There is Williard Marshall, Bob Thompson, Whitney Lockman, and Rookies Les Layton and Don Mueller.

Heading the Cleveland line-up is a battery of pitchers led by Bob Feller. Don Black, Gene Beardon, Bob Lemon, Early Wynn, Sam Zoldak, and Ageless Satchel Paige are also headliners. Others are Russ Christopher, Mike Garcia, Steve Gromek, Will Hafey, Lyman Linde, Frank Papish, and Dick Rozek.

At catcher is the familiar Jim Hegan. On first is Mickey Vernon, former American League batting champion with the Washington Senators, who was obtained in a trade and at the keystone sack is Joe Gordon, one of the all-time greats at second base. Ken Keltner holds down the hot corner at third base, and Boudreau completes the infield. In the outfield are such stars as Allie Clark, Hank Edwards, Dale Mitchell, Bob Kennedy, Thurman Tucker, and Larry Doby, first negro to play in the American league.

Have Good Pitchers

The Giant hurlers are staffed with good pitchers which include Larry Jansen, Dave Koslo, Ray Poat, Montia Kennedy, Clint Hartung, a Hondo product, Sam Webb, George Spencer, Mario Picone, Andrew Hansen, Bill Ayers, and Ossie Kolwe.

Tickets will be on sale at Hub Clothiers today at $1.20 each, and plenty of tickets are still available. There will be no reserved seats, and the seating will be on the first come basis.

The two teams open their series at El Paso Monday and will play 10 games on their swing eastward to their home towns.

Date Set For Women's Golf

June 14-19 was selected Sunday as the date for the 1949 West Texas Women's Golf association tournament at Lubbock Country club.

The date was decided upon by association directors in a called meeting here.

The directors also made slight revisions in the association's constitution and by-laws. No major changes were made, but the wording of several passages was simplified.

Approximately 30 to 40 out-of-town entrants are expected for this year's tourney.

Mrs. Sam O'Neal, of Odessa, has won the annual event for the last three years.

Attending Sunday's meeting here were Mrs. Howard Edmiston, Brownwood, president; Mrs. H. H. Lockaby, San Angelo, vice-president; Mrs. J. Hooper Stiles, Lubbock, secretary; and Directors Mrs. Giles Day of Fort Worth, Mrs. Hezzie Carson of San Angelo, Mrs. Vic Williams of Plainview, Mrs. Hugh Pull of Amarillo, Mrs. Hubert Ingraham of Abilene, Mrs. Frank Flournoy of Midland, Miss Rita Kassner of Sweetwater, and Mrs. T. E. Patterson and Mrs. Fenner Tubs, both of Lubbock.

Feller Gets Hot As Tribe Beats Pirates

EL PASO, April 14. (AP)—As the world Champion Cleveland Indians start eastward today on a 12-game jaunt with the New York Giants, Pitcher Bob Feller still has the inside to hurl the opener for the Tribe in St. Louis two weeks from tomorrow.

Manager Lou Boudreau said Saturday Feller's failure to round into form was the big disappointment of the training season. He said Feller would have to show considerably more stuff to be sure of the opening-day assignment.

Well, rapid Robert had that stuff yesterday. In the final game at their Tucson, Ariz., camp, the Tribe blanked the Pittsburgh Pirates 3-0. Feller gave only three hits and one walk and fanned three in six scoreless innings.

Commented Boudreau afterward:

"I'm through making predictions about Feller. Maybe, though, that was just what he needed."

San Antonio Woman Leads Bowling Play

EL PASO, April 4. (AP)—Grace Baskin, San Antonio, was the star performer at the Texas women's bowling tournament here.

She took the class A singles lead with 606 and shared the class A doubles top with Iris Peters for a combined total of 1,072.

Baskin's doubles score of 599 and her team total of 529 Saturday night, gave her the all-events lead with a near-record 1,734.

Other leaders at the end of play yesterday included:

Singles—Class B, Rhoda Del Curto, Austin, 566; class C, Ethel Culmer, Houston, 526; class D, Robbie Evans, El Paso, 484.

Doubles—Class B, Lena Sudbury and Ida Bousefield, El Paso, 969; class C, Ann Brister and Edna Drennan, Monahans, 941; class D, Billie Thurman and Nadine Griffin, Lamesa, 893.

RED SOX PLAY CARDS

SARASOTA, Fla., April 4 (AP)—Although the Boston Red Sox do not break camp until Thursday, they will play their last Payne field game of the season today against the St. Louis Cardinals. Manager Joe McCarthy planned to start Bonus Pitcher Chuck Stobbs and use Veteran Denny Galehouse in relief.

Jim Leonard, Villanova's new head football coach, also is an asparagus farmer. He has a large farm in New Jersey.

Players Hospitalized After Vaccinations

ABILENE, April 4. (AP)—Seven Cuban baseball players trying out for the Abilene Blue Sox were hospitalized following smallpox vaccinations.

Their illness didn't handicap the Blue Sox yesterday in pounding out a 3 to 2 victory over Goodfellow air force base.

Physicians said condition of the Cubans was "nothing serious." They were vaccinated before they entered this country.

Those who had fever and were hospitalized included Infielders Ernie Klein and Art Bosch, Outfielders Rene Escalero and Hector Bonet and Pitchers Mike Martin, Mannie Rodriquez and Alfred Padron.

Abilene is in the class C West Texas-New Mexico league.

During the first half of the Basketball Association of America schedule, the teams in the circuit had a 32 per cent average on shots taken from the floor.

Longhorns' Track Fortunes At Low Ebb Due To Pulled Muscles

AUSTIN, April 4. (AP)—University of Texas track fortunes were at a pretty low ebb today with both of the team's major point-makers on the shelf with leg hurts.

Loss of Charley Parker and John Robertson, ace sprinters, cost the Longhorns first place in the Texas relays Saturday. Oklahoma A. and M. came through with 26 points to 23 for Texas to lead the way in the university-college division of the big track and field carnival.

Because Robertson pulled a muscle, Texas couldn't even compete in its specialty, the 440-yard relay, in Saturday's finals.

Coach Clyde Littlefield said Robertson might be back with the team in two or three weeks but that was doubtful. Anyway, he hardly will be available next Saturday when Texas meets its arch rival, Texas A. and M., in a dual meet at College Station. Texas has bested A. and M. three times this season but can't hope to do it again without Robertson and Parker, who missed the Texas relays, because of a pulled muscle suffered at Fort Worth. Parker possibly will be able to return to the team Saturday against A. and M.

Relays Draw Crowd

The relays drew a crowd of 10,500 paid and probably 3,000 more who came in free. Littlefield said that the entry this year was not a record but that there were more actual competitors.

Despite cold, wind and rain the relays put three records into the books and brought the fastest mile ever run in the southwest. George Rasmussen of Oregon broke the pole vault record of 14 feet 3⅜ inches by soaring 14 feet 2¼ inches. He barely missed 14 feet 6.

This was the only record in the university class although Vern McGrew of Rice, who won the high jump with 6 feet 4 inches, almost made 6 feet 8 in a try at the record of 6 feet 7⅞ inches.

East Texas State Teachers set a new record in the college division sprint medley with a time of 3:27.9. The old mark was 3:28.2 hung up by Loyola of Chicago in 1941.

Darrow Hooper of North Side (Fort Worth) shoved the shot 59 feet 5½ inches to bring a new record in the high school class. It bettered theold mark by 4 inches.

Jerry Thompson of Texas, running unattached, won the open mile with a time of 4:12.3, beating Javier Montes, the brilliant Texas Mines freshman, by 50 yards. In view of the cold, strong wind Thompson had to face, the time was remarkable.

Sports In Brief

(By The Associated Press)

HORSE RACING

NEW YORK. — Olympia won the 20th running of the $20,000 added six furlong experimental handicap No. 1, feature race at Jamaica.

ALBANY, Calif. — Pretal won the $10,000 mile and sixteenth San Franciscan handicap at Golden Gate fields.

BOWIE, Md. — Nearway captured the $10,000 mile and 70 yards Bowie handicap.

LINCOLN, R. I.—Lawless Miss the favorite got home first in the seven furlong Woonsocket purse at Lincoln Downs.

MIAMI—Count-A-Bit took Gulfstream's mile and sixteenth $5,000 fountain of youth handicap.

BASKETBALL

NEW YORK—The Eastern college all-stars defeated the Western all-stars, 65-64, in the Herald Tribune's charity game.

TRACK

AUSTIN—Jerry Thompson ran the mile in 4:12.3 to chalk up the fastest time for the distance in the history of the Texas relays.

State Bowling Tourney Ends

BEAUMONT, April 4. (AP)—The eighteenth annual Texas State Bowling association tourney ended here early today with new champions in all events of all three classes.

Posting one of the highest scores in class A doubles in the history of the TSBA, Bill Zimmer and C. Kaiser of Austin took top honors with a total of 1313, placing ahead of B. Welton and A. Tessman, of San Antonio, who turned in a 1225 mark. In third place were Wally Petch and Boyd Como, Beaumont, with a score of 1201.

R. R. Gartner, Houston, finished first in the class A all-events with 1805 pins, and Wilbur Young of Fort Worth was a close second with 1797, 11 pins better than Don Pettit, also of Fort Worth, with 1786.

The class A singles title was taken by Ed Hands of Fort Worth with 662 pins. Barely edging into the runnerup spot was R. Stephenson of Houston who totaled 648, one pin more than Frank Keister, also of Houston.

Houston Team Wins

The class A five-man team championship was won Saturday night by the Alamo Linen service of Houston with 2788 pins. Second place in the team event went to Holt's Sporting Goods five of Houston with 2777, and in the third spot was Kilpatrick Mfg. Co., of Austin, 2774.

In class B singles, Sam Schaefer, San Antonio, took top place with 632, beating Charles Petch, Beaumont, by four pins. Another Beaumonter, F. T. Varni, ended in third place with 625.

A Baytown pair, B. Casey and L. B. Jerkeng, landed on top of the class B doubles with a mark of 1151, nipping J. C. Davis and E. Richmond, Weslaco, who totaled 1144. Paul Deteau and I. Esserman, Waco, finished a close third with 1142.

Vaults To Front

W. C. Richardson, Dallas, vaulted to the front in class B all-events by slamming 1777 pins, an easy winner over Deteau who had 1694. Frank Latta, Waco, was third with 1677.

In class CC all-events, Bill Spencer of Tyler was tops with 1687: G. W. Ford, Beaumont, was runnerup with 1678,and Tom Brooks with 1640.

J. Peake and C. R. Holoman, Corpus Christi, walked off with the class C doubles title, rolling 1114, four pins more than the total score by C. H. Sheets and R. C. Allen of Port Arthur who finished second. Third spot went to D. Head and D. Funk, Arlington, with 1105.

In the class C singles, Tom Brooks of Garland won the championship with a series of 607. Lloyd Smith was second with a score of 580, and C. Moy, Houston, was third with 574.

The class C five-man team honors went to Simmons Hide-A-Bed, Dallas, with 2586. Texas Terminix five of Beaumont ranked second with 2527 while another Beaumont team, the Sun Oil company five, took third with 2508.

Basketball Season Matter Of Record

NEW YORK, April 4 (AP)—The hectic 1948-49 college basketball season was a matter of record today. In fact, quite a few records.

Every team that played a full schedule lost at least once.

Six of the 10 major conferences crowned new champions. So did two of the three big post-season tournaments.

An all-time individual four-year scoring record was set as well as a single game individual mark. Tournament scoring records were tossed into the discard by the bushel.

The University of Kentucky was acclaimed generally as the nation's top team. The Wildcats repeated as NCAA champions. Kentucky lost two of 34 games—to St. Louis, 42-40, in the Sugar Bowl, and to Loyola of Chicago, 67-56, in the quarterfinal round of the national invitation tournament.

Unofficial Champ

Rhode Island state won the unofficial offensive championship among major schools with an average of 71.6 points in 22 games. Oklahoma A. and M., the NCAA runnerup, won the defensive title, limiting its opponents to an average of 35.2 points in 28 games. Kentucky won its games by a greater margin than any other team—25.5 points.

Jim Lacy of Loyola of Baltimore ended his college career with 2,199 points in 123 games over a four year span. This bettered the 2,161 recorded for Brooms Abramovic of Salem (W. Va.) college who finished in 1943.

Sets New Record

Paul Arizin, a junior at Villanova set a new individual single-game point total with 85.

The University of San Francisco, a comparative newcomer to big time basketball, won the upset-riddled national invitation tournament in New York. Hamline, captured the NAIB tournament at Kansas City.

The new conference champions were Yale in the Ivy league, Illinois in the Big Nine, Nebraska and Oklahoma, a tie, in the Big Seven; Wyoming in the Big Six, Oregon State in the Pacific coast, and Arkansas, Rice and Baylor, a three-way tie in the Southwest. North Carolina State repeated in the Southern conference as did Kentucky in the Southeastern, Arizona in the Border and Oklahoma A. and M. in the Missouri Valley.

New Umpires Join WT-NM League For 1949 Baseball Play

DALLAS, April 4 (AP) — Seven new umpires are on the staff for the West Texas-New Mexico league season.

President Milton Price of Dallas announces that Bob Fisher, Harold Gatlin and Jimmy Welch will return.

Added to the staff will be Henry Binz, Gilbert Biondi and Kermit Cran, graduates of Lefty Craig's professional umpire school; Casper M. Simon, purchased from the Coastal Plain league; William H. Frank and Stephen F. Sadowski, obtained from the Longhorn league, and Charles Crain, who has served in the Sooner state, Carolina and Three-I leagues.

BRAVES BREAK CAMP

BRADENTON, Fla., April 4 (AP)—The Boston Braves break camp today and head for Jacksonville and a two-game series with the Cincinnati Reds. Manager Billy Southworth did not appear disturbed because his Tribesmen have won only seven of their first 20 Grapefruit league starts. He pointed out that he has had ample opportunity to study all the youngsters the National league champions had in camp.

National AAU Fights Start

BOSTON, April 4 (U.P.)—Race, color and creed forgotten, courage and skill held sway today as the nation's biggest amateur boxing carnival got under way at Boston garden with a record entry list.

From over the sea and across the land they had come—grinning brown men from Hawaii, red Injuns from Oklahoma, city-bred schoolboys, negroes from the deep south bayous and a socialite "White Hope."

Now, nearly 190-strong, they were ready to join battle in the three-day national AAU ring roundup which since bare knuckle days 61 years ago has annually determined the amateur champions of the world.

Full Teams Listed

For the first time in years, full teams from Wisconsin, Oklahoma, and Seattle, Wash., were listed among the 25 competing AAU divisions.

Burly Pete Fuller, socialite son of a former Massachusetts governor and a Harvard college student, was the hope of the New England team in the reavyweight ranks. Yet stiff competition was expected from Joseph Sanchez of Baltimore, a semi-finalist last year, and Melvin Modesti, a San Francisco butcher boy.

The tournament runs from 1 p. m. EST to midnight today and tomorrow with 32 boxers battling in the semi-finals and finals that start at 7 p. m. Wednesday.

Morocco is capping its oil wells for lack of modern refining equipment.

Between The Lines. . .

By Joe Kelly

AUSTIN—It doesn't take a group of sports writers long, once they arrive in the same town, to get together. And when they do, anything is liable to happen—and usually does. The pattern is unmistakable. It starts with one calling or visiting the host paper. From the men there he learns that ol' Joe Doakes of the Semantha Cimian is staying at the Hotel Bilgewater and Tom Trumpet of the Bellow Daily Bugle probably was with him.

So you head for the Bilgewater, find Doakes and Trumpet and usually six or seven other guys. The pattern then becomes even more familiar. There is always the character who's had one to many and comes in on everything a half beat too late. There's always the guy with the ready wisecrack. There's the man who's always serious. And there's a small group who just have a good time, keep their eyes and ears open and keep the conversation going. In addition, it is customary to have somebody present who is recognized as outstanding in some field of sports.

Thursday night's session took place in the room of Bill Rives, the genial sports editor of The Dallas News. Collected around him were quite a group that included, as the authority, Emmett Brunson, track coach at Rice Institute. Brunson was well worth listening to. He's a nationally known cinder expert and has taken teams to Europe. Indeed, he was one of the track coaches for the American Olympic team in the '30's. Emmett was sociable and informative, an open target for attacks on the sport, as well as a good question and answer man.

Two things stoodout from what he had to say. First, he definitely thinks that somebody will run the long talked of four minute mile. Who it will be he doesn't know, but he is convinced that it will be an American. He declared that the American track man potentially is the greatest in the world, with finer natural ability than the European. The reason that such runners as the Swedes and Finns have dominated the distance races is because they train their legs. Brunson says that an American will run the four minute mile when he learns one thing.

The one thing is simple: train the legs. Brunson said that American trackmen don't start early enough in life to train for the distance events. He believes that the long dreamed of goal in the mile will be run by the man who starts early enough to build up his legs. When he has them strong and sturdy, his body too will be conditioned. It then will become a matter of continued training and pacing to lower the mile to the four minute mark shot at so long. And how soon that will be, he doesn't dare predict. He admits that the war set back track and that track athletes are just now getting back to pre-war standards.

Brunson also was asked about the 16-foot pole vault and he doesn't believe that it will ever come, although he does grant you that it is a possibility. Recently Cornelius "Dutch" Wammerdam predicted that some pole vaulter would exceed his world record of 15 feet, 8½ inches. Brunson disagrees. He maintains that if it is broken, it will be by some man continuing his training long after he leaves college. And he thinks someone standing about seven feet or better, with extraordinary strength and a lean body, is the only one who could do it.

Brunson agrees with the theory that it takes a pendulum type of push to go over the great heights. He stated that too many college pole vaulters take a low grip on the pole and let it slide past their ear as they begin ascension. He says it must be done with a pulling motion from in front, bending the pole vaulter on the pole and flipping, more or less, the body across the bar.

The Rice coach points to Wammerdam as a college man who could not hit 13 feet. He eventually, after college, reached the height that he did by sliding his hands down on the pole another foot and using the pendulum action. Brunson tells, as background about Dutch, the reason he didn't win the Olympics one year. Seems the temperamental vaulter refused to compete until other vaulters had done 13 feet. No one did and he lost out without even showing. After the event was over, Wammerdam made one vault and cleared 13 feet, six inches.

Now you see why sports writers get an outside authority for their meetings. Left to themselves, the writers would only bandy libel back and forth, along with derogatory remarks about the colleges each supported. Which explains why we may be stuck with a bet taking Texas Tech and 14 points come Sept. 17 this year.

Steers Have Good Chance To Lead SWC Baseball Standings

(By The Associated Press)

The University of Texas Longhorns have a good chance to come out of a four-game schedule this week on top of the Southwest conference baseball standings by a comfortable margin.

The Steers catch last place Rice at Austin today and tomorrow and meet Texas Christian university at Fort Worth Friday and Saturday.

Texas A. and M., currently tied for first place with Texas, tunes up for its series with Baylor Friday and Saturday by meeting Bryan of the Class S professional East Texas league today.

Regarded As Strongest

Baylor is regarded as one of the three strongest teams in the league. The others being Texas and Texas A. and M.

Texas polished off the Bears last week, 10-4. A. and M. won its only conference game by dumping Rice, 7-0.

Baylor won one conference game last week, beating Southern Methodist, 9-10, then bounced back to nose out the Frogs, 6-5.

Baylor has the best season record to date, ten victories against two defeats.

Rice and Southern Methodist open a two-game series at Dallas Friday.

Season standings:

Team—	W	L	R	Or	Pct.
Baylor	10	2	99	40	.833
Texas A. & M.	5	2	43	23	.714
Texas Christian	4	2	42	40	.667
Texas	7	4	45	37	.636
Southern Methodist	3	4	50	68	.429
Rice	1	4	13	27	.200

Conference standings:

Texas	1	0	10	4	1.000
Texas A. & M.	1	0	7	0	1.000
Baylor	1	1	18	13	.500
Texas Christian	1	1	15	15	.500
Southern Methodist	1	2	18	29	.333
Rice	0	1	0	7	.000

Baseball Club Head At San Antonio Dies

SAN ANTONIO, April 4 (U.P.) — W. L. (Bill) Osley, 51, president of the San Antonio Missions baseball club, dropped dead of a heart attack in the emergency room at Santa Rosa hospital at 12:15 a. m. today.

Osley was returning home from dinner downtown last night with his wife and another couple when he suddenly became ill. He drove directly to the hospital and upon walking in collapsed and died.

Osley took over as president of the Texas League Missions in the fall of 1945, but had lived in San Antonio since 1926. He was associated with the Youngstown, O., baseball club in 1939-40 and with the Corpus Christi, club in 1938.

Thirty Begin Practice Rounds In Masters Golf Tournament

AUGUSTA, Ga., April 4 (AP) — Thirty performers rehearsed today for one of the great American sports acts, the Masters golf tournament, and some of them played good parts on their long, wide stage.

Vic Ghezzi, the tall former PGA champion from Kansas City, has covered the 6,900-yard Augusta national course twice with the best average of the rehearsal season.

Ghezzi had a four below par 68, the lowest shooting of the session, plus a 71 yesterday. Clayton Haefner of Charlotte, N. C., is second low with a 69 and 71.

Rounds To Continue

Practice rounds will continue tomorrow and the dress rehearsal will be held Wednesday. The 72-hole medal play tournament begins Thursday with rounds of 18 to be played each day through Sunday.

Frank Stranahan, the Toledo strongboy, has rounds of 71 and 70. So has Herman Barron. Stranahan and Skee Riegel of Philadelphia are considered the choice of the amateurs.

The pre-Ben Hogan era champion of golf — Bryon Nelson — keeps the largest gallery of practice rounds and pays off that loyalty with consistency. The twice winners of the Masters (1942 and 1947) has shot three straight rounds of 71.

The 1941 Masters champion, Craig Wood, has been in Augusta for two weeks.

Defending Champion Claud. Harmon played a round yesterday at the Augusta country club course where his brother, Charley, is professional.

The entire cast will pose for a photograph Wednesday to be flown to Ben Hogan in Fort Worth, Texas, where the bantam king is recuperating after his automobile wreck.

New Cut In Truman's Housing Program Predicted By Senator

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 4. — A Democratic senator predicted privately today that President Truman's program for construction of 1,050,000 public housing units in seven years faces a new cut in Congress.

The Senate banking committee already has approved a bill which whittles the program to 810,000 units to be built over a six-year period.

When the bill comes up soon for Senate debate there will be a drive to trim the figure to 60,000 units for construction over six years.

Sponsor Optimistic

The Senate Democrat who predicted that the drive will succeed asked that his name not be used because he is a sponsor of the bill providing for 810,000 units and expects to fight for it.

"I know for sure from a sampling of the opinion around here," the senator said, "that we haven't got a chance of getting the 810,000-unit bill through as it stands. That means the President's figure of 1,050,000 units is just out."

On the other hand, Senator Ellender (D-La), chief sponsor of the bill calling for 810,000 dwellings, told a reporter he believes the chances are better than fair that a program of that size will clear both the Senate and the House.

Research Provided

The prospect now is that the bill will be called up for action in the Senate after it disposes of the European aid bill, a supplemental appropriation measure and the reciprocal trade bill. There has been some talk, however, of putting housing ahead of reciprocal trade. In that case, the housing bill might come up next week.

Besides public housing, the bill provides for slum clearance, a housing research program designed to cut building costs and spur construction, and a four-year farm home program.

The bill is sponsored in the Senate by 11 Democrats and 11 Republicans. The 810,000 public housing units agreed upon is a compromise between the administration's 1,050,000 figure and 600,000 in a bill which was backed by a group of Republicans.

However, there are indications that the move to restore the 600,000 figure will have the support of both Democratic and GOP senators.

The committee bill authorizes construction of 135,000 units a year under normal circumstances, but the President could step that up to 250,000 annually if he felt economic conditions warranted it. He also could slow the program down to 50,000 dwellings a year.

The Senate twice has passed a similar housing bill, but the measure died in the House in both the 79th and 80th Congresses. In both cases the stumbling block in the House was the controversial public housing program.

Legion Meet

them thanked Mayor W. H. Rodgers, Lubbock business firms, newspapers, the 40 & 8 organization, the American Legion auxiliary, post commanders and members of the Legion and Robert W. Sisson, regional VA office manager and his staff, for their parts in making the convention one of the most successful in history.

One resolution expressed the convention's opposition to a proposal to remove veterans' outpatient treatment from regional offices to VA-hospitals.

Extension Is Favored

Another favored extension of the veterans' readjustment allowance through Juluy 25, 1954, as proposed by House Resolution 1374. The resolution mentioned that 880,000 veterans in Texas were entitled to this allowance and that approximately half of them have taken advantage of it, although veterans entering the labor market from colleges and universities will need to take advantage of the extension.

The tenth resolution protested a proposal that the Veterans Readjustment allowance agent for each state be eliminated and agents for several states combined for economy purposes. The resolution urged that the Texas agent be retained.

Registration for the convention opened at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. A "40 & 8" wreck re-establishing Lubbock voiture No. 332 of the 40 & 8 was the principal event of Saturday's program. The auxiliary had a tea in the Hilton hotel Saturday afternoon, and a funfest and dance was conducted there Saturday night.

Breakfasts Are Held

A breakfast for commanders, adjutants and service officers under direction of Chester Hubbard of Lubbock, and a simultaneous breakfast for auxiliary members opened Sunday's program.

T. A. Thigpen of Big Spring, outgoing district commander, presided at a joint session of the Legion and auxiliary at the post home Sunday morning. George Berry extended a welcome, responded to by Bob Weaver of Spur. J. R. Eagan, commander of Allen Bros. post here, introduced guests.

Al Dillon of Big Spring spoke briefly.

A memorial service Sunday morning began with lighting of candles. A prayer was said by Dr Lewis B. Cooper. Robert Dennis of Lubbock sang a solo and Fred Young of Lubbock spoke briefly. A quartet composed of Jim Black, Dick Richards, J. Ray Dickey and "Tiny" Jones sang a spiritual, "Goin' Home," at the conclusion of the service.

A barbecue lunch, "Army and Navy style,' was held at noon, and Thigpen again presided at the joint afternoon business session.

OIL SHARES AHEAD

NEW YORK, April 4 (AP) — Oil shares moved forward today as the rest of the stock market turned in a mixed performance.

The volume of trading was around 900,000 shares for the entire day.

Oils were up fractions to as much as 4 pouints. The upward climb started early in the day. Around the midway point prices faltered a bit before starting forward again toward the close.

Industry reports indicated generally higher prices for gasoline on the movement started by Socony-Vacuum which raised the price ½ cent a gallon.

Steels were generally lower. The American Iron & Steel Institute estimated production this week at 98.8 per cent of capacity, off a point from last week. The reduction was credited to shutdowns for repairs after the recent record production pace.

Gold mines took the downside in early trading and stayed there by fractions to around a point, under the pressure of profit-taking following the rise of last week.

A number of individual issues made corporate developments.

Higher were Texas & Pacific Land Trust, Pure Oil, Standard Oil, (NJ), Mission Corp., Plymouth Oil, Superior Oil of California, Nickel Plate, Pan American Airways, Paramount, Consolidated Natural Gas, Westinghouse, Dupont, Pullman, Montgomery Ward, Pittston Co., Douglas Aircraft, and Caterpillar Tractor.

On the downside were U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Santa Fe, Sears Roebuck, International Harvester, United Aircraft, Aircraft, Allied Chemical, and Union Pacific.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 4 (AP) — Cotton futures were irregular in active dealings today. Old crop deliveries were firm, with particular strength in the July, 1949 delivery. Traders believed that the delay in action by Congress on ECA funds meant that the full impact of the new cotton export program will be felt in the July delivery rather than nearby May, where first notice day comes up April 26. New crop deliveries, which were strong Saturday, reacted on profit taking, but later firmed in sympathy with the old crop months.

Futures closed $1.10 a bale higher to 30 cents lower than the previous close.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 4 (AP) — Grain prices hardly changed on the board of trade today. When there was a movement it was mainly on the downside, but not enough to cause any alarm.

Smaller receipts offset more moisture in the Southwest as a price making influence in the bread cereal. Cash corn prices held steady and bookings were limited to 30,000 bushels.

Wheat closed ¼-¾ lower, May $2.14⅞-2.13; corn was ¼-¾ lower, May $1.33½-¾; oats were ¼-½ lower, May 89; rye was unchanged to ¼ lower, May $1.28; soybeans were ¼ lower to ¼ higher, May $2.20½-2.20; and lard was 7 to 10 cents a hundred pounds lower, May $11.60.

FORT WORTH REPORT

FORT WORTH, April 4 (AP) — Wheat No. 1 hard 2.41¾-42¾.

Grand Jury Probe Of 80 Cases Scheduled

A 99th district grand jury that voted 17 bills of indictment when it reported Jan. 3 was reassembled this morning to investigate approximately 80 cases that had been filed the last 90 days with county justices of peace. George Langford is foreman.

Judge G. V. Pardue and District Attorney Lloyd Croslin said approximately 80 complaints were referred to the 12 men. Most of them were described as run-of-the-mill charges.

Croslin said it was likely that "two full days" will be required for completion of work by the jury.

believed removed.

Police said there would be no charges in one of the cutting cases, in which a woman was reported only scratched. But a 27-year-old negro who admitted stabbing his wife was held by police in the other case. The woman's condition was not considered serious.

T. W. Hodges of Jayton reported to the police that his light blue 1940 Ford coach had been stolen here. It contained a brown leather suit case packed with men's clothing, he said. License number was listed as AS 3593.

A 1936 tan Ford sedan, license AS 8017, was reported stolen Saturday night from the car lot of Cocanougher-Teal company, at 2418 Texas Ave.

Two Mexicans, 21 of Abernathy and 19 of Lubbock, were held for investigation into forgery of a $10 check passed to Dub Lawson service station.

They were charged later, under the names of Emerjildo DeLeon and Rosendo Costillo, the sheriff's office said. Bond of $1,000 each was set by C. E. Lynn, Justice of Peace.

Several other charges, including some growing out of traffic offenses, probably will be filed, officials indicated.

$75 Reported Lost

Pete Casias, address not listed, reported to the sheriff's department he had lost approximately $75 in a theft from the person case in a small hotel here. An investigation was commenced.

Mrs. Jack Dale of 1509 Ave. M told police someone had entered the residence she and her husband occupied at 1509 Ave. M and had taken an electric portable sewing machine they had rented.

Police said they had fined one man for violation of liquor curfew laws. Another, 22, of Earth was fined $40 after he had been run down by a police cruiser when allegedly driving 70 miles an hour.

Fines Are Assessed

County court officials said R. L. Johnson, 23, of Petersburg and Loyd David Stack, 29, of Lubbock had been fined $75 and costs each on pleas of guilty of drunk driving. Their drivers licenses were revoked six months, as well.

Jack Davis of 2110 Eighteenth reported his bike stolen. A hub cap was taken from the car of Dale Clubb of 2206 Broadway.

Texas Weather

morning included Amarillo 27, Guadalupe Pass 28, Marfa 31, Wink 32, Midland 32, and Clarendon 32.

The weather bureau said this morning's rain was general from Bryan to the east and Laredo to the west, and north to Abilene and south to the Gulf coast.

Slightly higher temperatures were predicted for the northwest portion of East Texas tomorrow. West Texas temperatures, rising today, were expected to continue on the upgrade tomorrow.

DAWSON COUNTY CROP PROSPECTS BRIGHTENED

LAMESA, April 4, (Special) — Dawson county crop prospects were considerably brighter today, after a county-wide rain Sunday.

Total precipitation for the day ranged from an official report of .31 inch for Lamesa to as high as an unofficial .63 inch figure from the southwest section of the county.

One-half inch was reported from Sand community, 15 miles west of Lamesa, and from Sparenberg, in the southern part of the county.

In Lamesa, snow and light rain fell steadily through most of the day Sunday and early Sunday evening.

Car Prices

summer months of June, July and August at the highest monthly production rate since April, 1947. This should permit us to maintain our high employment level."

Prices Were Boosted

The first of Ford's three price boosts in the past three years came in August, 1947, when the firm settled with the CIO United Auto Workers for a wage increase. The third of the increases — last July —also followed signing of a new UAW contract providing more pay. In between was a boost occasioned by Ford's introduction of 1949 models.

Since on two previous occasions Ford wage increases and price raises have gone hand in hand, there was some speculation on whether the UAW's coming wage talks with Ford would affect the new price schedule.

The auto worker's union — in negotiations starting May 15—is expected to ask Ford for more pay, $100-a-month pensions and medical care pensions. Any settlement with Ford probably will set the UAW's pattern for the entire car industry.

Man Who Killed Daughter, Two Grandchildren, Dies Of Wound

DETROIT, April 4 (AP)—Isaac Lublin, whose domestic troubles drove him into a tragic shooting spree Saturday, died yesterday of injuries police said he inflicted on himself after killing his daughter and two grandchildren.

But a young man also wounded by the 62-year-old grandfather appeared to be on the road to recovery.

Officers said Lublin apparently went berserk because he thought his daughter, Mrs. Ruth Einstandig, 31, was siding with his estranged wife in a family quarrel. He killed Mrs. Einstandig, her eight-year-old son Marck and her three-year-old daughter Marcia with a .25 caliber pistol, police reported.

Awaited Court Hearing

Then, evidently in search of his wife, Rose, Lublin hurried to the home of William Crane, 23. When Crane opened the door a pistol shot seriously wounded him in the neck. Lublin then put a bullet in his own head.

Physicians at a Detroit hospital said Crane probably would recover.

Lublin was awaiting a court appearance on a charge of assault against his wife. Newton F. Einstandig, the slain woman's husband, said his father-in-law told him:

"If I go to jail, everybody is going with me."

Yugoslavia Charges Seven With Spying

BELGRADE, April 4 (U.P.)—Six Hungarians and a Yugoslav were charged today with spying on Yugoslavia in the first trial of alleged Cominform agents in Yugoslavia.

The trial opened at Novi Sad, capital of the automomous province of Vojvodina, which has a large Hungarian minority and was occupied by Hungarian troops during World War II.

All newspapers carried an official announcement that the six Hungarians were seized after "infiltrating into Yugoslavia by illegal means."

about 150 pounds and five feet five inches tall.

Police spread a county-wide alarm and sent patrol cars swarming over southeast Houston, the direction in which the man disappeared after sauntering from the bank.

Big Flour Mill Burns Following Explosion

DODGE CITY, Kan., April 4 (U.P.)—The big Dodge City flour mill burst into flames early today following an explosion of wheat and flour dust on the fourth floor of the structure.

Firemen, battling to save wheat stored in an adjoining structure, protected by an 18-inch concrete retaining wall, estimates the loss to the mill would be about $500,000. Officials estimated the value of stored wheat at an additional $400,000.

Houston Tug Sinks In Mississippi River

NEW ORLEANS, April 4 (AP)—A Houston, Tex., tugboat, the Mercury, rested in 60 feet of water at the bottom of the Mississippi river here today.

The 97-foot tug, valued at $250,000, went down yesterday after crushing a crewman, Paul J. Dozier, 40, of Morgan City, La., between the vessel and a barge. Dozier's left foot was amputated.

The tug's skipper, Capt. Leo Broussard, 52, of Berwick, La., said the crew of seven escaped drowning when it was found that the tug, tied up alongside two grain barges, was flooded.

Senate Okays Aid To Free Chinese Areas

WASHINGTON, April 4 (AP)—The Senate today voted to let non-Communist China have $54,000,000 left over from a former aid fund for that country.

The money was appropriated last year but never used. Authority to spend it had ended Saturday night.

The Senate's unanimous action restoring the fund came as an amendment to a bill authorizing continuance of the European recovery program.

A separate bill with the same purpose is due for action soon in the House.

Unions Are Subject To Anti-Trust Laws

WASHINGTON, April 4. (U.P.)—The Supreme court today unanimously ruled that labor unions may be prosecuted under state anti-trust laws.

The decision was handed down in the case of a picketing injunction issued against some union ice peddlers operating solely inside of Kansas City, Mo.

When Mr. and Mrs. Daniel M'Dowell bought a bedroom carpet at auction from the estate of the late Miss M. Scott, at Whitehead, England, and found $700 rolled up in the felt under the carpet, they promptly sent it to the next-of-kin.

IT'S THE SILLY SEASON IN PAREE—Spring feverish Paris fashion models turned the tables on NEA-Acme staff correspondent Rene Henry when he showed up to cover their beauty contest. The models thought him "tres beau" and made him an entry. They gave him the full treatment, measuring him lengthwise and sidewise and observing his form. Henry didn't win though.

Disease Hits Cattle Herds

WASHINGTON, April 4. (AP)—A new cattle disease—called "X" for want of a better name — is threatening herds in this country.

B. T. Simms, chief of the Agriculture department's Bureau of Animal Industry discussed it in recent testimony before a House agriculture department appropriations subcommittee. The testmony was released tdoday.

Dr. Simms said the disease has appeared in 30-odd states. So far, scientists have not found a way to combat it.

Situation Is Serious

"It is not attacking a large number of animals but it is widespread as far as the affected states are concerned, and it seems to be becoming more prevalent. We are definitely concerned. I do not want to be an alarmist but it is serious," he said.

Dr. Simms said symptoms include a thickening of the skin, a discharge from the eyes, drolling from the mouth, and a wartlike growth on the tongue.

He said a high percentage of the affected animals die. There have been cases, he said, where entire herds have been wiped out.

Tax Session

from payment of the tax.

Earlier today, Gov. Beauford H. Jester asked the legislature to back a plan which he said would save property taxpayers a million dollars a year. He asked that the Confederate pension levy be reduced to zero until Jan. 1, 1953, noting there is enough money in the pension fund now to pay increased grants in full for five years.

After Jan. 1, 1953, the automatic tax board would be empowered to levy as much of the 2 cent rate per $100 valuation "as may be required to pay generous pensions" to Confederate veterans and their widows, under Jester's suggestion.

The balance in the pension fund was nearly three million dollars last Aug. 31. There are now only six remaining Confederate veterans and 891 widows drawing the pension.

Big City Solons Lose

Big city representatives in the House lost to the country boys when a proposed constitutional amendment to limit representatives from any one county to six was resurrected. The House voted 75-52 to send the proposal to the committee on highways and roads. Its author, Rep. Alford Flanagan of Talco, said the committee on constitutional amendments had buried it in a "deep-freeze subcommittee."

Rep. Miller Walker of Beaumont also indicated he thought his proposed veterans loans amendment had been buried in a subcommittee of the committee on constitutional amendments. He withdrew his motion to re-refer, however, after Rep. Callan Graham of Junction said the subcommittee planned to make a report Wednesday.

Walker's amendment would provide $300,000,000 for loans to veterans setting up small businesses.

Atlantic Pact

dio.

The signing is the last-step but one- to final fulfillment of the genera lidea that the anti-Communist western nations should ally themselves for peace and in a one-for-all defense against any attacker.

The final step is ratification of the treaty by the home governments of the nations signing it. In the United States, ratification means approval by a two-thirds vote of the Senate. With the signing, the administration will send the treaty on to the Senate. A vote there may be months off.

This is the second time in less than two years that the American government has joined in signing such a many-sided alliance. The first occasion came in September 1947 at Rio De Janeiro, Brazil, when the Inter-American nations made a western hemisphere pact.

Neither that treaty, nor the European alliance drawn along similar lines, would cause the United States "automatically" to to go to war in event of an attack on one of the other member nations.

But the extent to which this nation would be "morally" committed to fight in a European war, started by an attack on a member of the proposed new alliance, will provide one of the big issues in Senate debate on the North Atlantic treaty.

Another Major Issue

The other major issue expected to come up in the Senate is whether the treaty would pledge the United States to help rearm western Europe. Some senators who have indicated they might vote for the treaty have declared against administration plans for a military assistance program, estimated to cost around $1,250,000,000 the first year.

President Truman is expected to send the treaty to the Senate within a few days. He will present it as an instrument to preserve peace and a defensive arrangement entirely in accord with the United Nations charter.

Ratification is the last step needed to make the pact effective. It will come into force as soon as it is ratified by Belgium, Canada, France, Luxembourg, the Netherlands, the United Kingdom and the United States. Those are the seven nations which negotiated the pact in conferences which began here last July and continued into mid-March.

Others Accepted Bid

The seven nations subsequently invited Norway, Denmark, Iceland, Portugal and Italy to join in signing and they accepted. The seven original negotiating nations and the five invited participated thus make up the 12 sharing in today's ceremony.

Only three nations holding strategis positions in the North Atlantic area are out of the picture. They are the republic of Ireland, which declined to have any part in an alliance with Britain; Spain, with which the other western states are not on good terms; and Sweden, which chose to remain "neutral."

Article 10 provides that other nations may be invited to become a party to the pact if the nations already members unanimously agree. The conditions are that nations invited must be "in a position to further the prineiples of this treaty and to contribute to the security of the North Atlantic area."

reservation.

"I don't think the pact itself commits us to arm Europe," Baldwin said in an interview. "The decision on that question must remain open to Congress. But I'm perfectly aware that the proposal will be made as a natural outgrowth of the treaty."

No Promise Is Made

As discussed by some senators, the proposed reservation would say that in ratifying the treaty the Senate is not promising automatically to back it up with military supplies.

This would be offered as a compromise between those who are dead set against sending any arms to Europe and those who believe that the treaty must be implemented by military help at once.

Discussion of the treaty—most of it critical—is expected to be resumed in the Senate with its signing.

Auto Stealing Rings Probed

NEW YORK, April 4. (AP)—Police and FBI agents delved into the interstate operations of auto stealing rings today seeking clues in the slaying of a convicted car theft who had been sought by the FBI.

The bullet-riddled body of Joseph Frank Mirenda, sr., 35, of New York and Mt. Bethel, Pa., was found yesterday in a stolen car parked in Astoria, Queens.

FBI Special Agent Edward Schedit issued a statement last night saying news reports that Mirenda "was in the process of being contacted by federal agents are absolutely untrue."

Published reports speculated that Mirenda might have been slain to prevent him from making revelations to the FBI. Discounting this, Scheidt said the FBI had been "actively seeking" the victim.

Mirenda was listed as being under $1,000 bail in Louisville, Ky., the FBI said, and it had instructions to arrest him here if sighted. The arrest orders did not say whether he was considered to have jumped bail or was wanted for some other reason, the FBI said.

Twelve arrests and six convictions, including auto thefts, were on Mirenda's record, police said.

The FBI said a bench warrant for Merenda's arrest, issued March 16 by the U. S. District court of the western district of Kentucky, charged him with interstate transportation of a stolen car from New York City to Louisville.

Up-to-date records of the case at Louisville were not immediately available.

Mirenda's body, with four bullet holes in the head and one in the chest, was found slumped in the seat of the stolen car. The car, reported stolen from a parking lot in Philadelphia last week, is owned by Abe Goldman, of Laurel Springs, N. J.

Mandalay Retaken From Rebel Forces

RANGOON, Burma, April 4 (AP) —The government announced today it has retaken Mandalay from rebel Karen forces.

The picturesque temple city 500 miles north of Rangoon was occupied by the Karens and their Communist allies March 13.

The government announcement said the city was taken yesterday after a series of swift attacks. The rebels were said to have lost 90 killed. Government casualties were not announced.

Physicians Finding Cure For Nation's No. 1 Cause Of Death

LOS ANGELES, April 4 (AP) — Medical researchers are on the verge of finding a cure for hardening of the arteries — the nation's No. 1 cause of death — so says a physician.

Dr. Lester Morrison, who heads a research staff at General hospital here, made the assertion before more than 200 physicians and other experts who closed a two-day conference yesterday.

Dr. Morrison reported that a new treatment for arteriosclerosis had been used sucessfully on 100 patients. Experiments were conducted for two years on rabbits.

The project is supported financially by General hospital and the American Medical association, he said.

Fat Thickens Blood

Arteriosclerosis sufferers were treated with choline, a substance found in the B-complex vitamins. The disease is caused when the liver deposits too much fat in the bloodstream. Dr. Morrison explained. The fat thickens the blood vessels, he said. "That means you get a hemorrhage of the heart or brain — coronary thrombosis or cerebral thrombosis — a heart attack or stroke."

The researchers separated 200 patients into two groups. Only one group was treated with choline. Dr. Morrison said that 35 per cent of the patients who received no choline died within two years. Of the group that did get it, only five per cent died.

"We showed that by using choline in the animal we could restore sclerotic arteries to normal," Dr. Morrison declared. "That means we could make old animals young again."

Africa Chief Against North Atlantic Pact

CAIRO, April 4. (AP)—Abd El Krim, Riff chieftain who gave the French and Spaniards a hard time of it back in the 1920's, has come out against the Atlantic pact.

The old warrior has sent notes to British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, U. S. Secretary of State Dean Acheson and United Nations Secretary General Trygve Lie protesting "on behalf of the North African peoples" against Algiers' participation in the Atlantic alliance.

Speaking as president of the North African liberation committee, Abd El Krim declared the people of Algiers and North Africa "will not cooperate under any circumstances as long as their national interests are ignored and aspiration for complete freedom denied."

Algiers, as a French department (state), is included in the Atlantic alliance.

U.S. Seamen Saved After 14 Days At Sea

TAMPICO, Mexico, April 4. (AP) Six American seamen who existed for two weeks in a drifting lifeboat on six bottles of tomato juice and a few quarts of water were rescued yesterday by a Mexican fishing boat.

The men were the crew of the Caicos Trader of Miami. They are Capt. Thomas J. McCrory; chief engineer Ellsworth Totu, navigator Homer L. Johnson, engineer Richard A. Williams, cook C. G. Smith and seaman William H. Norton, jr., all of Miami.

The men left their ship when the engines broke down and the vessel began flooding. They took to the nine-foot lifeboat, but were forced to throw the engine overboard to prevent overloading. A sail made of sheets was useless because there was little or no wind and they drifted for 14 days.

They were rescued by the fishing boat Mesones of Tampico and taken to the U. S. consulate here.

Prosperity's Peak For American Farmer Believed Ended

No Disastrous Breaks Likely

WASHINGTON, April 4 (U.P.)—Farmers can look ahead to another good financial year—perhaps several good years—but "the peak of prosperity for farmers seems definitely to have passed," according to Agriculture Secretary Charles F. Brannan.

Brannan and Chief Agriculture Economist O. V. Wells also told the House appropriations committee that while farm income this year probably will be somewhat less than in 1948 "we look for no disastrous breaks (or) another long, drawn-out depression any time soon."

Price Support Credited

In testimony made public today, they credited the price support program with preventing a serious nose-dive in farm prices last year.

Testifying on the department's fiscal 1950 spending bill, Brannan said many persons thought a depression had hit when farm prices broke sharply from their unprecedented peaks early in 1948.

"But the price support system proved its worth as a stabilizer of the American economy," he said.

Wells said the February, 1948, price break would have been much greater but for the price support program.

Brannan, who will unveil his new price support recommendations to Congress this week, said the problem is what percentage of parity the support price should be. In the case of potatoes, he agreed that the 90 per cent parity figure forced the consumer last year to pay a price that was out of line. He said the mark-up started at the parity level. Next year, he said, the price may have to start at the 60 per cent level.

Compromise Expected

His recommendations are expected to represent a compromise between demands for 100 per cent price supports and flexible supports based on the supply situation.

Discussing the outlook for this year, Wells told the committee:

"We expect farm costs to stay up. We expect that farm income will be somewhat less than it was in 1948, but we look for no disastrous breaks."

He said this was based partly on continuation of the Marshall plan, national defense needs and continued high consumer incomes.

"The Bureau of Agriculture Economics, in the long-range field, has said that we do not expect another long, drawn-out depression any time soon," Wells added.

Took In More Money

Brannan said farmers took in more money last year than in 1947, but their net income was less because of continued high prices paid by farmers.

Hundreds Of Bills Pending As Legislature Nears Final Days

AUSTIN, April 4 (AP)—A fight for survival faced more than 1,200 pending bills and proposed constitutional amendments as the 51st legislature moved toward its closing days.

The session today started its 13th week and shortness of time remaining in the 120 days suggested by the constitution doomed most pending legislation. If this session ends on the 120th day, adjournment would come May 10.

As a rule, general sessions enact about one-third of the proposed bills and constitutional changes.

Only 52 Acted On

Only 52 bills have been finally acted on by both houses. Of those that remain, many are local or uncontested measures that will be disposed of in big batches of a score or more in special meetings set aside for such matters.

From now until the end of the session it will be a struggle between individuals and blocs seeking to bring up pet measures out of regular order for immediate consideration.

Bills on civil service for firemen and policemen, jury service for women and poll tax repeal were special business on the Senate calendar today.

Of the three controversial issues, the proposed constitutional amendment to do away with the poll tax as a requirement for voting apparently held the best chance of being approved.

Pay Raise Sought

Senator Kyle Vick's civil service measure would give firemen and policemen in cities of 40,000 and over a 10 per cent pay raise. The increase would be optional in cities of 10,000 to 40,000.

When the amended version of his bill was approved by committee nearly a month ago, Vick said the substitute made all the provisions permissive instead of mandatory. However, Senate opponents still seeking defeat of the proposal continued to argue it would take away cities' home rule rights.

There was a possibility Rep. C. S. McLellan's natural gas tax bill might be brought up for floor debate in the House. McLellan asked for the bill to be set as a special order of business a week ago but was refused by Speaker

Shooting Accidental, Salesman Claims

Man Kills Unwed Mother Of Two Of His Eight Children

CHICAGO, April 4 (AP)—An insurance salesman was quoted by police last night as saying he shot and killed a young unwed office secretary who was mother of two of his eight children.

The woman, Miss Joan Vestal, 24, was found dead in her apartment early yesterday. Police Capt. John Walsh said the salesman, Harvey McDonald, 34, married and father of six children by his wife, told him the woman was shot accidentally as he struggled with her for possession of the gun.

Incident Related

Walsh said McDonald related that the shooting occurred after the two had gone to her apartment from a cocktail lounge. The detective said McDonald told him that upon their arrival in the apartment, Miss Vestal immediately got the gun and that as they struggled, it "went off accidentally."

McDonald was quoted as saying Miss Vestal had become jealous because a waitress at the lounge had flirted with him.

Walsh said the salesman told him he had known Miss Vestal for seven years and that they have a five-year-old son and a two-year-old daughter. The boy, McDonald said, is living with Miss Vestal's mother, Mrs. R. L. Vestal, at Bevier, Mo. The girl, he added, was given out to adoption.

McDonald was held without charge for further investigation.

Six-Year-Old Now Is Celebrity In His Neighborhood

HARTFORD, Conn., April 3. (AP)—Allen Mitchell, jr., now is a neighborhood celebrity at the age of six.

It all stems from his first trip to New York City last Friday. He played the drums in Tommy Dorsey's band and had his picture taken with Winston Churchill.

It all started when, said his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen L. Mitchell, they took Allen to New York to see two cousins off on the Queen Mary. The Mitchells went to a hotel for dinner and young Allen struck up a conversation with some men at the next table.

Had A Fine Time

The men turned out to be Dorsey and some members of his band, who invited Allen to the bandstand to help play the drums. Allen accepted and had a fine time banging out an accompaniment to the music. As a souvenir of the occasion, Dorsey presented Allen with a pair of drumsticks.

That should have been enough excitement for any six-year-old, but Allen's adventures were just beginning. The following day, aboard the ship, He was told that they were there to see the former prime minister off.

Inquired About Health

A Photographer overheard him and brought him over to Churchill for an introduction. Allen calmly inquired about Churchill's health as Churchill shook hanks with him. Churchill asked Allen

Red Delegates Off For Home

NEW YORK, April 4. (AP)—Composer Dmitri Shostakovich, carrying a bundle of phonograph records, left by plane last night for Russia with a single comment that he was "glad to be returning home."

Cartons of cigarets were among the luggage of six other Russian delegates who started home after attending the recent "world peace" conference here.

Newsmen got little from the departing Russians at LaGuardia field. Among the fruits of a news conference were:

Gives Out With Smile

Alexander A. Fadeyev, secretary-general of the union of Soviet writers and chief of the Soviet delegation to the Cultural and Scientific Conference for World Peace—a smile.

Piotr Pavlenko, the novelist—"America is a wonderful country, a strong country."

Sergei Gerasimov, motion picture writer, director and producer—"We have hotels in Moscow just as good as the Waldorf-Astoria—but not as tall," in answer to a question whether he would like to remain in America.

Alexander I. Oparin, biologist—"Really, we do not consider ourselves unfriendly to the American press."

Mikhail E. Chiaurely, film director—A Smile.

Ivan D. Rujansky, delegation interpreter—Refusal to interpret.

Refuse To Comment

None of the delegates wanted to discuss the Conference, which the U. S. department sold was a sounding board for Communist propaganda.

The board of directors of Freedom House made public a farewell message to the Soviet spokesmen which said the "so-called peace conference was intended as a propaganda weapon against the North Atlantic security pact."

"Their conference boomeranged and their hopes were not realized because the American people were alerted in time to the true purpose of this meeting," the Freedom House message said.

The directors of Freedom House, which was host to a rival rally sponsored by American for Intellectual Freedom, also declared:

"If it were possible to stage the same demonstration in reverse on Soviet soil, we contend it would mean the end of the cold war and the beginning of understanding among the peoples of the world."

The National Council of Arts, Sciences and Professions, which sponsored the conference, has denied the conference was a weapon for Red propaganda.

THE QUESTION

Do you have a hobby? If so, what is it and what do you think is the value of a hobby?

THE ANSWER

W. E. TWITTY, 1722 Twenty-fifth, fire chief:

"Developing new gadgets for fire department is the principal hobby on which I put my time. It's developing new fire department equipment in the way of small tools and different performance that help to operate a fire department. Hobby as a usual thing, you might say, is playing, but you can have a hobby that is of interest to various trades. When I have time, I like to rebuild guns and make them over to suit myself."

MISS ZORA JOY GIFFORD, 1809 Ave. G, supervisor of playgrounds and Community Centers of City Recreation department: "As a matter of fact, I guess people are sort of my hobby. I like people. If I didn't like people, I wouldn't work with them. In some jobs, you work with figures and books and inanimate thinks and in some jobs you work with people. If I had the time to pursue them, I would have several hobbies and knitting and nature study would be among them."

JACK ROGERS, 1212 Eighteenth, field party member of State Highway department: "Collecting advertising pencils is my hobby. It's interesting and you meet different people. I have a little over 700. I have a big board on which I have them mounted. When I was in school, I took them to hobby shows. It's a good pastime. That's about all I can see in it."

JAMES W. TAYLOR, 2207 Twenty-second, assistant parks superintendent: "Yes, I do. I have several hobbies. Some of them are photography, art and music, but the hobby that I consider the most right now is the home—decoration and improvement and planning for the future. You get a great deal of relaxation out of a hobby. It can be a profitable way to spend your time, but the main thing is just for relaxation."

C. W. REASONOVER, 1501 Twenty-eighth, farm store salesman at Sears Roebuck & Co.: "My hobby is my yard. I think a hobby is one of the most essential things for a person to have in order to relax away from business affairs. You hardly ever see a person with a hobby who doesn't take life as it comes. They don't take things so seriously if they have something to keep them busy when they're away from regular work."

JOHN LEE SMITH, 3007 Thirty-first, attorney, partner in Boling, Smith and Allen:

"Yes I do. It is collection of ancient coins. The value of this particular hobby to me is that it enables me to appreciate the art work of the ancients as expressed in their coins and also to understand the early systems of money, which is the lifeblood of all economies."

Second Revolt Said Crushed

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, April 4 (AP)—Costa Rica's second revolt in four months has been crushed by Jose Figueres, head of the military junta governing the tiny republic.

The rebellion broke out late Saturday and was all over yesterday morning.

Figueres' war minister, Edgar Cardona, seized two army barracks and demanded the cancellation of laws nationalizing banks and imposing a 10 per cent tax on capital. He also demanded the resignations of the ministers of finance and labor.

Many Killed, Wounded

Cardona surrendered the artillery barracks when his revolt was only a few hours old. The other rebel stronghold, the Bellavista barracks, were given up shortly after dawn Sunday when government mortars registered seven direct hits on the rebels.

Many killed and wounded were carried from Bellavista.

The Figueres group said the entire country was quiet and that the people had rallied to the support of Figueres and Otilio Ulate Blanco, the president-elect.

Figueres has been head of the military junta running Costa Rica since May 8, 1948 when he successfully overthrew the government of President Teodoro Picado Michalski. The revolt was caused when a lame-duck Congress voided the election of Ulate.

A revolt last December againsa Figueres also was unsuccessful. The constituent assembly last Jan. 16 declared Ulate president-elect but said Figueres would act as chief executive until the country became settled politically.

Iran Sees Need Of Aid In Case Of War

TEHRAN, Iran, April 4. (AP)—Iran's chief of staff says the country's 113,000-man army is enough for internal security, but she would need help from some big nation "such as the United States" to stave off a foreign attack.

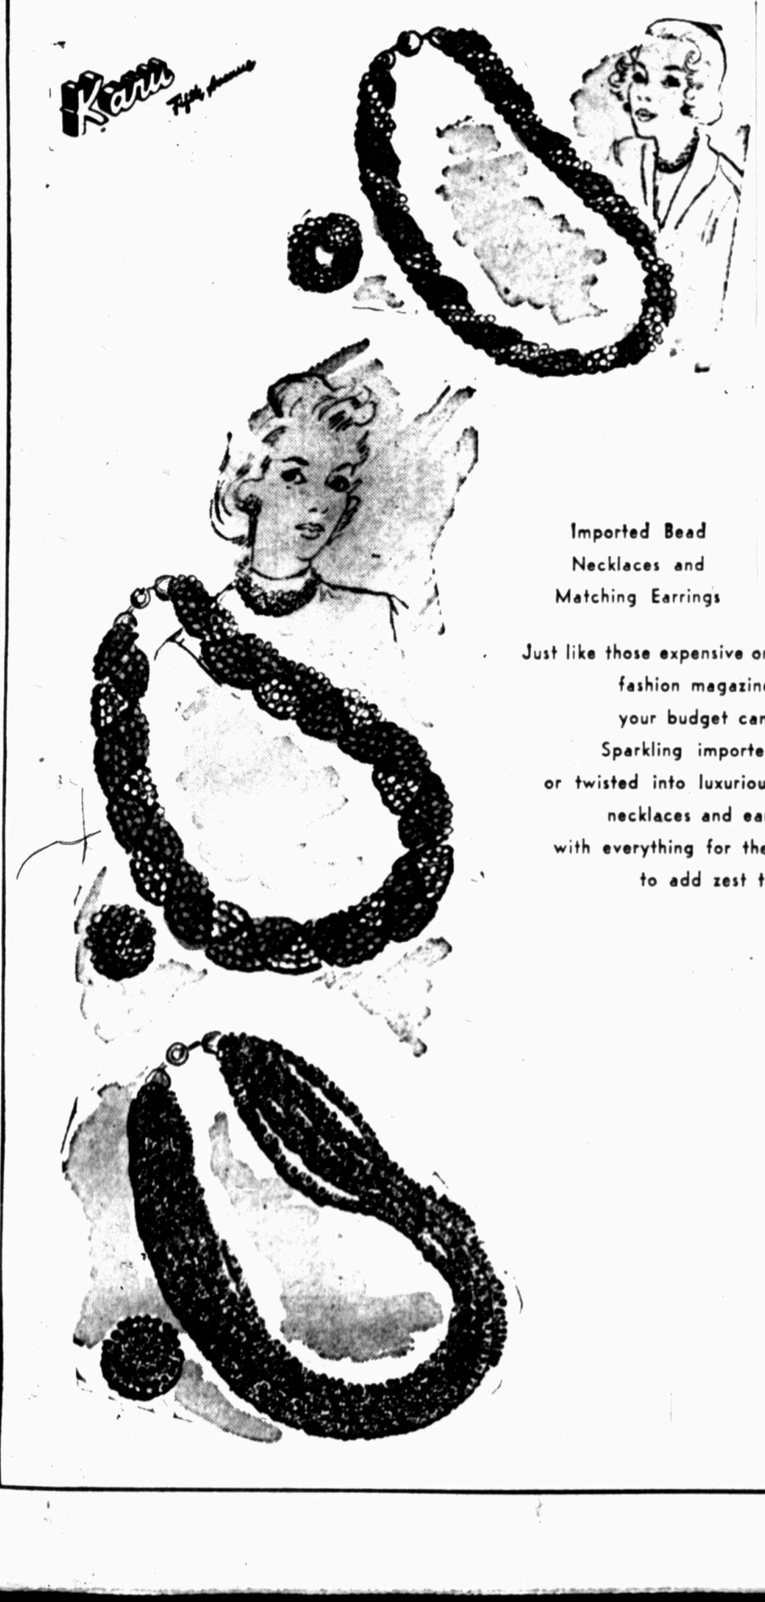

Field Marshal Hajir Ali Khan Razmara told newsmen the present $10,000,000 American arms loan is adequate for the moment, but should Iran have to call up its reserves more money would be needed.

In case of need, Razmara said, Iran could draw on 400,000 reserves and from 700,000 to 1,000,000 tribesmen.

He added that Iran can call up 10 classes of trained conscriptees with 40,000 men in each. These men have had two years training.

EL PASO, April 4.—Things are up-and-doing in this colorful old City of Two Nations.

Gangs of men are working, great machines are rumbling on making a 40-odd-year-old dream come true: that of depressing the multiple railroad tracks which run slam-bang through the middle of town. Other gangs are working on a new super-truck highway, called Paisano Drive, which will divert the city's extremely heavy through motor traffic from midtown streets.

In addition, El Paso, like all other Southwestern cities, is building new homes and business structures and remodeling old ones.

Over all, it is doubtful if any other period in El Paso's 289-year history has seen so much concentrated progress as that era in which the city finds itself today.

Aside from the two great public works programs—depressing the railroad tracks and construction of Paisano Drive—El Paso isn't building as much or as rapidly as Lubbock.

In total building permits, we've outclassed the Border City in recent years—running as much as two to three million dollars ahead in both 1947 and 1948.

But for a city as old and as settled as El Paso, this old town is booming along remarkably and the local empire builders insist that its 1950 population figure will run around 125,000.

THE CLAIM of the chamber of commerce, newspapers and radio stations that El Paso today sits in the center of a metropolitan area of some 250,000 souls probably can be pretty well upheld.

Up and down the fertile valley—to the Northwest and Southeast—many El Pasoans have built their homes.

Juarez, the largest Mexican city on the U.S.-Mexico border, also has become the finest and most modern with a population pushing 80,000, or maybe 90,000.

Then, adjoining El Paso on the Northeast are Fort Bliss, a teeming military installation, and Biggs Field, a large and important link in the Air Forces layout.

If Fort Bliss isn't the largest of the nation's military posts today, it soon will be, with a great expansion program already assured.

Yes, El Paso, which showed a few less than 100,000 people in 1940—a loss of a few thousand compared with the 1930 count—is definitely in the metropolitan class today.

Down here to huddle with our compadres of The El Paso Times, The Plainsman finds El Pasoans, in general, all pepped up over promise of early fruition of another great dream—a dream which, when a reality, can mean a lot to Lubbock, too.

We refer to indications that another year will find El Paso linked, by paved highway, to Mexico City—a circumstance which will make this city an even greater tourist point than it already is and has been for many years.

Mexican authorities have been making great strides, recently, in their El Paso-Mexico City paving project. When that highway is completed, literally thousands of North-South tourists per month will be added to the steady flow pouring through here from East to West and vice versa.

IT IS not too early—definitely not too early—for chambers of commerce in Lubbock and other affected cities to start "getting on the ball" in connection with this soon-to-be new paved link from the border to the Mexican capital.

Those who know what the Laredo-Mexico City highway has meant to many cities on the Texas side of that route know that the El Paso-Mexico City highway will be a great thing, economically, for cities this side of the border on highways leading to El Paso.

Our advice to the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce is that it stop being so stubborn about refusing to support the Carlsbad Caverns route from Oklahoma City by way of Lawton and Frederick, Okla., Vernon, Matador, Floydada and Ralls. We of Lubbock should put our shoulder to the wheel in helping further promote that already valuable route.

It's all right for us to help promote the Great Alaska-to-South America highway—which is many years in the future. But it would be a lot smarter if our civic leaders would throw in with the Carlsbad Caverns route in a whole-hearted way NOW, looking to even added traffic when the El Paso-Mexico City highway is completed.

Literally tens of thousands of tourists can be persuaded to travel the Carlsbad Caverns route through Lubbock—one way or another—on the trip from the states to Mexico City by way of the new El Paso link.

What are we waiting for? Are we going to let Highway 66 take the business by default?

Something new, something different for Texas is in the political picture here and everybody seems to be pretty happy about it.

We refer to the election, as mayor, of Dan Duke.

Dan Duke is a railroad man. He carries a union card. Yet he wasn't elected mayor by the unions. Instead, he was elected by a fusion of unions and business interests, thus wiping out the defeat he suffered two years ago when Dan Ponder, a construction company executive, defeated him.

Both Dan Duke and Dan Ponder are good men. Peculiarly, they are good friends, and their friendship has lived through Ponder's defeat of Duke in 1947 and Duke's defeat of Ponder last month.

AS RANKING member of the El Paso City council, big, burly Dan Duke was acting mayor of El Paso in 1946-47, during the long illness and following the death of Mayor J. E. Anderson.

During his tenure as acting mayor, Mr. Duke was called upon to arbitrate two serious strikes—one, of city bus drivers, which was especially touchy. Although Dan Duke showed himself to be meticulously fair in his handling of the city's labor troubles, the sting of the strikes was still felt in the 1947 elections. Dan Ponder and a collection of ambitious young business men calling themselves "The Ponder team," defeated Duke and his slate.

But during the past two years, one or two of the energetic Ponder team-mates "carried El Paso a little fast." Duke came back into the picture from the cab of his locomotive and not only won for himself but carried in with him three council candidates, at least one of whom—a college boy—was of unknown and dubious political talent.

Where Duke lost in '47 principally with union support, he won in '49 because of added support from some of the city's most powerful business men and a great many independent voters whose usual reaction to a labor candidate is unfriendly.

There is more union labor in El Paso than in any other Southwestern city.

In addition to railroad and AFL unions, there are several CIO affiliates, one or two of them extremely leftwing.

Whether Dan Duke successfully can ride, Roman fashion, the two horses of El Paso politics, remains to be seen.

But those who know him best believe he can—and if he can El Paso will have gone farther than any Texas city in welding union and non-union factions into one working, muicipal force.

FOR OUR part, we're pulling for Dan Duke. If we'd been a citizen of El Paso, we'd have voted for him in 1947 and again in 1949, because we like his rugged honesty and because he's as fair to the non-unionists as he is to the unionists.

Fact is, we wish Dan Duke were a few years younger than he is.

If he were, a couple of good terms as mayor of El Paso might jockey him into a position from which he could be elected governor, with union and non-union support.

Rugged, honest Dan Duke would make a good governor, if for no other reason than he has demonstrated that to him a public office is a public trust.

BY DREW PEARSON: PRESIDENT ADVISED THAT DEPRESSION IS THREAT IN 1950-51

Experts Agree On General Remedies For Economy

WASHINGTON.—There's been a lot of petty bickering between the President's council of economic advisers, but there's one unpleasant fact they all agree on. They foresee definite depression in 1950 or 1951 — unless immediate steps are taken to head it off.

PEARSON

The council, it will be recalled, was created by Congress in 1946 to advise the White House on how to ward off depression. And although the three members differ on a 'ot of things, they feel that depression can be stopped — though only by the concerted cooperation of the administration, Congress, business, farmers and labor.

To understand the background of the economic council's vitally important business diagnosis, it should be recalled that for the past 100 years American economy has been riding a roller-coaster of ups and downs, inflation and deflation, of booms and busts. In the past 50 years these ups and downs have become more severe—so severe that the politburo in Moscow is known to have based its global strategy on the theory that one more economic depression would wreck the entire American system.

History's Greatest Boom

Since V-J day most Americans have been enjoying the greatest wave of prosperity in history—for two reasons: 1, the public's unsatisfied demand for goods they could not buy during the war; 2, the cold war, which has caused the government to pour billions into the world's economic stream.

However, the council estimates that the long pent-up demand for automobiles, refrigerators and other consumers' goods is now just about filled, while the vast expenditures to Europe in another year will begin to taper off, so that depression will come in 1950-51.

Another factor is the psychological effect of swiftly rising prices followed by dropping prices. If OPA and inflation controls had not been thrown overboard by Congress and prices had not shot up so high, business dislocation might not be so bad now.

For, while falling prices at the moment may be healthy, yet a lot of business—especially small business—always gets hurt by falling prices. And the psychological effect of falling prices encourages depression; for people, waiting for lower prices, don't buy.

THE three members of the President's council of economic advisers are:

Chairman Dr. Edwin Nourse, a New Yorker, long-time member of the Brookings institute, and generally considered the most conservative counselor.

Leon Keyserling, a native of South Carolina, former secretary to Senator Wagner, and who has had a long experience in the government, chiefly in the U. S. housing authority. A liberal, Keyserling frequently disagrees with more conservative chairman Nourse.

John D. Clark, a native of Colorado and former economics professor at the University of Nebraska and the University of Denver. Clark usually lines up with liberal Keyserling.

However, the council has composed its differences to recommend a program to President Truman which it regards as absolutely essential to block depression. While all three agree, Dr. Nourse considers the voluntary phase of the program more important, but Keyserling and Clark, though not disagreeing, would place more emphasis on the government phase. The program which Nourse considers most important is:

Farmers—convince farmers to grow bigger crops and accept somewhat lower support prices, thereby reducing the consumers' food bill, but continuing a reasonable return for farmers.

Business—sell businessmen on lower profits per item, thereby getting greater volume and continued reasonable profits.

Labor—persuade labor leaders not to seek wage increases that will throw the economy out of gear.

Government Remedies

The Clark-Keyserling group, while agreeing with the above, gravely doubts the government's ability to "persuade" business, farmers and labor. Therefore, they put more emphasis on hand-and-fast government incentives which would prop up the economy regardless of persuasion. They propose:

1. Increased social security benefits to take care of unemployed and the aged. Present old-age pensions are woefully low and unemployment benefits last only a brief interval after unemployment starts.

2. Increase minimum wages to 75 cents. This is aimed at increasing buying power in the lower brackets. At present, union labor's constant round of wage demands has put organized labor far ahead of the great mass of unskilled and unorganized labor. One sure way to prevent depression is to promote buying power by lower income groups.

3. Low-cost housing, built through government subsidies. This also helps to provide work.

4. Aid to education. This would increase teachers' salaries and provide new schoolhouse construction.

5. Stockpiling critical materials. This is not only an essential safeguard in case of war, but the buying of raw materials helps to bolster sagging economy.

Dr. Nourse agrees that this phase of the program also is essential to prevent otherwise inevitable depression in 1950 or 1951.

J. QUIGG NEWTON, live-wire mayor of Denver, Colo., is lobbying to get his father-in-law, Morrison Shafroth, appointed to the U. S. court of appeals. The Justice department isn't enthusiastic, however. For, when Shafroth was chief counsel of the bureau of internal revenue, FDR wanted him to testify before Congress regarding the yachting income-tax deductions of Roy Howard. Shafroth refused . . . Lobbyists for the big potash companies have been calling on Senator Clinton Anderson of New Mexico. They are fearful of increased taxes in his state . . . Congressmen Klein and Keogh, both New Yorkers, will sparkplug a congressional investigation of illegal wire tapping. They'll try to get legislation requiring manufacturers of wire-tapping equipment to number and register every unit of their eavesdropping devices just as revolvers are numbered.

Italian Actress Played Most Dramatic Role In Real Life

STARS IN YOUR EYES—Duse played her most dramatic role in real life. In the twilight of her career the great Italian star was ill and financially hard-pressed . . . During the initial World War she donated her savings to aid wounded soldiers and refugees . . . Nevertheless, she rejected a pension offered by Mussolini's gov't and decided on another tour of the United States. Although her health was impaired, Duse's artistry still glowed. The swing around the nation was a financial success, but its rigors proved too much for her ebbing strength.

WINCHELL

Before the tour was completed she passed away in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Fiske was a fanatic animal lover. The actress refused to include in her wardrobe any furs or feathers.

After a critic had pelted her play, Mrs. Fiske wrote to him: "It is well known that I love animals. That is why I am not writing anything nasty to you now!"

SARAH BERNHARDT'S most cherished tribute came from an unknown admirer. During Bernhardt's heyday there were many imitators of her acting style . . . A devotee of her art sent Bernhardt's an unsigned missive reading: "I agree with Gothe who said there are many echoes but few voices."

Performing the same role night after night after night can be an ordeal that verges on drudgery. After her 900th performance in "Victoria Regina" Helen Hayes sighed: "I feel as though I were playing it under water!"

EDWIN BOOTH'S most difficult acting assignment was trying to satisfy a director who wanted him to walk on the stage "looking like he had just drunk a cup of tea!"

Nora Bayes concocted a unique method of squelching audience coughers. When the hacking and barking irked her she would suddenly fake a coughing fit on the stage.

Then Nora would remark to the audience with obvious sarcasm: "Please excuse my very rude behavior."

EDMUND KEAN was one of Britain's great troupers. He was playing leading Shakesperian roles when only 14 years old. . . . But one thoughtless act shattered his career in the USA. Kean refused to perform in a Boston theater because it wasn't filled. This incident incited a public uproar that forced Kean to scoot back to England.

Theatergoers never forgot the insult. When he returned here several years later—there were riots where Kean appeared. Not even a public apology could soothe the aroused Yankee Doodlers.

ONE of the acting profession's strange quirks is that anecdotes about sparklers are remembered long after their most thrilling performances are forgotten. Theatrical historians have devoted more space to Mrs. Patrick Campbell's rapier retorts than her grease-paint skill . . . A thespian once accused her of quietly laughing at him on the stage while he was performing in a serious episode.

Mrs. Campbell intoned: "I never laugh at you on the stage. I always wait till I get home!"

Junius Booth (Edwin's father) became so wrapped up in a role he almost committed murder: While playing "Othello" he took the part so seriously that the actress playing Desdemona was almost throttled. She was rescued from suffocation in the murder episode by the other actors, who rushed on the stage to save her.

By the way, that incident is practically the plot of a recent film, "A Double Life."

THE most accurate size-up of Cohan's genius was made by colleague Wm. Collier. To wit: "He's not the best actor or author or composer or dancer or playwright. "They Won't Settle For Just Anti-Communism"

BY ROBERT C. RUARK

Picket Lines Become Nuisance With Zing Removed From Act

NEW YORK.—If you will pardon the expression, I got a bellyful of pickets. All kinds of pickets. Pro pickets and con pickets, good pickets and bad pickets. Pickets give me rickets of the disposition.

Seems like you couldn't go anywhere in town this past week without tripping over a picket line. We had pickets picketing the pickets who were picketing the pickets. Maybe the business carried some weight as a gesture of disapproval once upon a time, but you can work any gimmick to death.

RUARK

The formal picket has progressed a fur piece from the silent walkers whose placards offered the minority side of an argument. We have come to the point now where the picket is a skilled rabble rouser, an inciter to riot, a shouter of dirty epithet—and too often, totally unconnected with or interested in the cause he espouses.

No So Any More

There was a time in my memory when the sight of a picket-line automatically sponsored a sympathy for the picketer. I don't think that's so any more. There has been so much picketing—so much cynical and unjust, as well as righteous and warranted strolling up and down—that my personal reaction is merely annoyance at the noise they make and the clutter they cause.

A good example of what I mean was a raucous wardance in front of a sports-goods store called Modell's here in New York. The pickets' signs said they had been locked out. A sign on the store's window said the scrap was purely a jurisdictional dispute in the union.

I WOULDN'T know. Didn't ask, on purpose. All I know was that the pickets were leaping and screaming like Comanches, and fouling up the city sidewalk and heaping individual abuse on anybody who walked in the door. One poor guy headed for the entrance. He might have been a bill-collector or a process-server or a tax investigator.

But the horde of pickets swarmed him like ducks on a junebug, yelling and threatening and menacing. It seemed to me a trespass on the city streets, a condoned riot, and the invasion of individual privacy by intimidation.

I have seen—but rarely—pickets arrested for disturbing the peace and shouting anti-semitic remarks at potential customers of an open shop, where the help was happy and the working conditions good. I have talked to paid pickets who didn't know exactly what they were picketing or why.

Churchill Greeted

Mr. Churchill was greeted on t'other day's arrival by a horde of picketers, who seemed to be laboring under the delusion that he had declared war on somebody in our behalf. When the Russian culture kids held forth over the weekend, we picketed them and then the Commie pickets picketed the non-Commie pickets until — to paraphrase an old actress—everybody was up to his caboose in pickets.

You have seen strip-tease pickets in a Hollywood war between a bit-piece actress and her studio. Militant mamas picket, and draft-dodgers picket. Anybody who can scrawl a slogan or an epithet on a sheet of butcher-paper can be a picket in good standing.

The thing's got all out of hand. It's come down to the nuisance point now, with civil rights pretty well obscured and the potency drained from the act. The screwballs and the hirelings have invaded a field which once rated sympathetic attention. As a gesture of defiance it has lost its zing.

The dictionary gives a variety of meanings to the word "picket," one of them, archaic but apt, I like. It means: "to compel to stand with one foot on a spike as a form of torture." It's a technique I'd like to see inflicted on the next picket who hollers in my face and bumps me into the gutter for the sin of strolling down a public sidewalk.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

"IT was just one of those days," said the housewife in summing up a day in which everything went wrong.

Probably every housewife has days that start off badly, don't get any better as the day wears on, and end up worse than when they started.

MILLETT

But how many housewives ever stopped to realize that the days that go wrong from start to finish don't always just happen, that often they are brought on by the housewife herself?

Maybe she is trying to rush things too fast, because she is in a hurry to get things done and get out of the house for a social engagement.

MIND IN TWO PLACES

OR maybe half of her mind is on some unsolved problem, while the other half tries to cope with the day's emergencies.

Or maybe she is just feeling down and needs either a day off or to start planning something exciting for the future to give her a lift.

One of the best things about a housewife's job is that she is pretty much her own boss, and can usually schedule her work to suit her own convenience.

So, when "one of those days" comes along, instead of blaming it on fate she might do better to examine her own state of mind to see if she can't find out why things are not running smoothly. Then she can try to correct whatever is wrong, before things get worse as the day wears on.

Today's Thought

But I trust in the Lord that I also myself shall come shortly.—Philippians 2:24.

I would sooner walk in the dark, and hold hard to a promise of my God, than trust in the light of the brightest day that ever dawned.—C. H. Spurgeon.

"Try And Stop Me"

WHEN Lauritz Melchoir first secured a leave of absence from the Metropolitan to sing in a film, he rendered a few numbers at a party hosted by Norma Shearer. An agent drew him aside later and said, "Say, feller, you got a fine pair of pipes. Sign with me and I'll guarantee you a future in the flickers."

Melchoir eyed him coldly and said, "My name happens to be Lauritz Melchoir." "So what?" answered the agent unabashed. "We can change that easily enough."

AN ENGLISH wit (maybe it was Joe Miller) once declared that he could make a spontaneous pun about any subject the company present could offer. "All right," spoke up one gentleman. "Let us have a pun about the king." Without hesitation, the wit pointed out, "The king is not a subject."

Today's Journal Editorial

SPECIAL SESSION-ITIS

The present session of the Texas Legislature probably is well past the halfway mark. It is supposed to end late in April, after 120 days. But practically all regular sessions during the past 20 years have extended beyond that limit—some very far beyond it.

Yet, with session far from complete, some legislators already are talking "special session" to attend to jobs which should be finished before they adjourn this time. Most of those who are talking are the ones who started yelling for a special session, using any excuse which came to mind, immediately after the 1947 Legislature came to a close.

It may be that events further down the line will necessitate a special assembly. But this stage of a regular session is no time to talk about it. What better excuse for idleness during the remainder of this session could be imagined than the assurance of special meeting a little later on?

If the legislators attend to the jobs at hand and then can show a reasonable need for a special session, most Texans probably will approve it. But it is a cinch bet, if they were asked for an expression on the proposal now, their, "No!" would cause aching eardrums in Austin.

PERSONAL INTERVIEWS NEXT WEEK!

SALESMEN, HERE IT IS

We have been ordered to expand our Texas operations. Two weeks ago we advertised for 5 men and today these men who were hired are on their way to financial independence. The Chicago Office says, by wire today, to open much more territory and put on 5 men at once. Car necessary; must be aggressive and not afraid of work. We will prove to you in the field that your earnings will far surpass $1,000 per month. If we do not prove these earnings to you within a 10-day period then we suggest you find some other position. Never say these earnings are impossible because many of our men are earning much more. Excellent opportunity for advancement for those who will honestly work and like organization work. Get going now. Own your own home and the nice things in life. Act now. You may be one of the 5 accepted. For appointment call Mr. Tuttle at the Hilton hotel, Lubbock, Texas.

ORDINANCE NO. 903

AN ORDINANCE AMENDING SECTION 23 OF ORDINANCE NO. 564 READING "AN ORDINANCE CREATING AND DEFINING PARKING METER ZONES IN THE CITY OF LUBBOCK, TEXAS PROVIDING FOR THE INSTALLATION, OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE OF MECHANICAL DEVICES TO REGULATE PARKING IN SAID PARKING METER ZONES, PROVIDING FOR THE COLLECTION OF REGULATORY AND INSPECTION FEES FOR THE USE OF SUCH DEVICES, PROVIDING FOR THE DEPOSIT OF SUCH FEES OF THE CITY TREASURER IN A SPECIAL FUND, PROVIDING FOR THE METHOD AND PURPOSE OF DISBURSEMENT OF SAID FUND, MAKING IT UNLAWFUL TO USE THE STREETS OR PORTIONS OF THE STREETS SO DESIGNATED FOR PARKING, EXCEPT THROUGH USE OF PARKING METERS, DEFINING WHAT ACTS SHALL BE UNLAWFUL, AND FIXING PENALTIES FOR VIOLATION OF THE PROVISION OF THIS ORDINANCE, AND REPEALING ORDINANCE NO. 588 AND ALL ORDINANCES AND PARTS OF ORDINANCES IN CONFLICT HEREWITH" SO THAT AN ADDITIONAL PARKING METER ZONE IS BY THIS AMENDMENT HEREBY DESIGNATED AND ESTABLISHED TO EMBRACE THE WEST SIDE OF AVENUE H FROM 9TH STREET TO 10TH STREET, FIXING PENALTIES FOR THE VIOLATION OF THIS ORDINANCE, AND DIRECTING PUBLICATION.

WHEREAS, changed traffic conditions requires extension of the parking meter zones in the City of Lubbock to include parts of certain Avenues named in the body of this Ordinance and the Governing Body being of the opinion and finds that the stated conditions in Ordinance No. 564 are applicable to, and that the public interest requires that the provision of said Ordinance should be made applicable to that part of Avenue H herein named, and Section 23 of Ordinance No. 564 amended for such purposes. THEREFORE

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE CITY COMMISSION OF THE CITY OF LUBBOCK, TEXAS:

SECTION 1. That an additional parking meter zone be and the same is hereby designated and established in the City of Lubbock, Texas, said parking meter zone shall embrace the following portion of Avenue H in the City of Lubbock, Texas, described as follows, to-wit:

The West side of Avenue H from 9th Street to 10th Street.

SECTION 2. That the said portion of Avenue H referred to herein and set out in Section 1 above, is shown and outlined on the map and plat of the Original Town of Lubbock, Lubbock County, Texas, which map and plat is of record in the Deed Records of Lubbock County, Texas, and reference is here made to the map and plat for all purposes.

SECTION 3. All Ordinances and parts of Ordinances in conflict herewith and applying to that portion of Avenue H named in Section 1 of this Ordinance are hereby repealed.

SECTION 4. It is not intended by this amendment to change or amend Ordinance No. 564 except as herein expressly provided as to establishing and creating an additional parking meter zone under Section 23, and all of the provisions of Ordinance No. 564 including penalties, shall apply to this amendment.

SECTION 5. That any person, firm or corporation who shall violate or aid or abet another to violate any of the provisions of this Ordinance, shall upon conviction, be deemed guilty of an offense and shall be fined in any sum not to exceed ONE HUNDRED ($100.00) DOLLARS.

SECTION 6. The City Secretary is hereby directed to cause publication of the descriptive caption of this Ordinance together with penalty set out in Section 5, aforesaid, as an alternative provided by Chapter 10, Page 112, Acts 1939 of the 46th Legislature as amended by Chapter 264, Page 463, Acts 1947 of the 50th Legislature.

AND IT IS SO ORDERED.

Passed and approved by unanimous vote of the City Commission this 16th day of March, A. D., 1949.

Durwood Manford. McLellan said he would try again.

His bill would place a 1-cent levy on each 1,000 feet of gas gathered in Texas. A majority of the revenue would be used to build country "feeder" roads in addition to the regular farm-to-market road program.

reached an all-time high in January, 1948, he said, but dropped 13 per cent by the end of the year. Crops were down 20 per cent and livestock seven per cent.

Brannan asked Congress to give special attention to agricultural stabilization in considering general economic stabilization legislation.

"From experience we know that farm families are likely to be the first victims of the bust that tends to follow the boom," Brannan said.

Red Delegates

the "peace" conference also left for home yesterday.

One of them, Jiri Hironek, secretary general of the International Union of Journalists, said at La Guardia field: "I wouldn't live in this country even if invited."

He told newsmen that Czechoslovakia has "a better and more genuine democracy than the United States."

Hronek was accompanied by Ladislaw Stoll, dean of the Academy of Political and Social Science at Prague, who said he agreed with him.

Klansmen Take Seven Negroes From Officers And Flog Them

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., April 4. (AP)—Masked Ku Klux Klansmen took seven negroes from law enforcement officers in north Georgia Saturday night and gave them a flogging.

Sheriff John Lynch of rural Dade county, Georgia, said the Ku Kluxers seized the negroes after he and three deputies had taken them into custody during a raid at a negro woman's house where "wild parties" had been reported.

The seven negroes live in Chattanooga. One of the group, William West, a porter at a hotel, described the beating.

West said a "big man wearing something red on his mask" told the group:

"You are supposed to be good people, but we have had a lot of bad reports about you."

Beating Described

Then, related West, "they took us up into the woods nearby and whipped us one at a time. I was the sixth to be whipped. They had me pull down my pants. One man took a leather strap and two men had switches. They beat us 12 or 15 licks and told us to run across the hill. We finally got away and came back to Chattanooga."

Sheriff Lynch said the Klansmen ordered the officers to leave.

"There wasn't anything else left for us to do but leave," the sheriff said. "What would you do if there were 50 to 100 men around and ordered you to leave?"

New Journalism Courses Planned

Sports writing and radio news and continuity writing will be added to the journalism curriculum at Texas Technological college for the school year 1949-50.

The sports writing course, to be offered in the spring for three hours credit, is designed to give persons interested in athletics a basis for preparing printable stories on sports events and provide practice in writing. This objective will make the course recommendable to physical education majors who expect to become coaches as well as journalism students who desire to write sports.

Prerequisite for the six-hour radio course is junior standing, and completion of a sophomore journalism course. The first term emphasizes training in radio news writing and practice in preparation of copy for both wire and local news reports, interviews and commentaries. The second term is devoted to advertising and continuity writing with practice in writing commercials and sustaining continuity.

Fire Destroys Most Of Officers' Club

SAN ANTONIO, April 4. (U.P.)—A flash fire destroyed all but one wing of the Lackland Air Force base officers' club late yesterday afternoon, but 100 guests escaped without injury.

The blaze broke out in the kitchen of the luxurious structure while a tea dance was being held. However, Air Force officials had not announced the exact cause today.

Fire departments of both Kelley and Lackland bases fought the blaze, fanned by a strong breeze, for one hour. But $50,000 damage occurred before the fire was brought under control.

Hal MacIntyre's band was playing for the dance. The musicians managed to save their instruments.

Texas Cowboys Will Cross Ropes Again

PECOS, April 4. (AP)—Toots Mansfield and John D. Holleyman will cross their calf-tying ropes again here May 22.

Yesterday they came out even in a $2,000 match. Each roped and tied 10 calves in a total time of 155.5 seconds.

Mansfield, of Big Spring, is the world's champion calf roper. Holleyman is from Ozona.

Publisher Terms To End Strike Rejected

CHICAGO, April 4. (AP)—The latest publisher terms for settlement of the 16-months-old printer strike against Chicago's five major daily newspapers were rejected yesterday.

John J. Pilch, president of local 16, AFL typographical union, said the printers voted 1,266 to 93 against accepting the contract proposal submitted by the publishers several weeks ago.
