Council Takes Over Shattered Germany

Once Haughty Nation Is Virtually Reduced To Status Of Protectorate

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, June 5—An Allied council took formal command of shattered Germany today, slashed the nation down to its pre-1937 size and assumed sweeping responsibility for its military, civilian and economic administration.

Ordered stripped of all arms and Hitlerian conquests, the nation was reduced virtually to the status of a protectorate. Of all Hitler's acquisitions only the Saar basin which Germany won through a plebiscite remains even technically a part of the Reich today. Moreover the way was left open for further territorial revisions.

Assume All Functions

A proclamation issued at supreme headquarters in Paris said the Allied Control council, composed of representatives of the United States, Britain, Russia and France, assumed all governmental functions in Germany effective at 6 p. m., (1 p. m., eastren war time).

The declaration assuming this authority was signed at Berlin by General Eisenhower for the United States, Marshal Zhukov for Russia, Field Marshal Montgomery for Britain and Gen. de Lattre de Tassigny for France, the announcement said.

Earlier, the four Allies had announced agreement on machinery to control and impose humbling terms on the country led to disaster by Adolf Hitler. Nullifying every vestige of authority once wielded by Hitler's Reich, the victors assumed life and death powers over every man, woman and child in Germany.

Joint Control Defined

Final disposition of Germany's territory and determination of her fate await a peace conference. Today's agreement defines the extent of joint Allied military control while Germany "is carrying out the basic requirements of unconditional surrender."

The assuption of authority does not mean the annexation of Germany, a separate statement declared.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower flew to Berlin early today to sign the agreement and was given a rousing welcome by the fallen city's Russian conqueror, Marshal Zhukov.

A third statement issued by the Allied representatives declared their intention to consult with the governments of other United Nations in exercising the supreme authority which they assumed over the wreckage of Germany today.

The declaration set up a joint control council to govern Ger-

Truman Insists On FEPC Funds

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP)—Speaking sharply to Congress for the first time, President Truman went to bat today for the Fair Employment Practice committee, terming its abandonment "unthinkable."

Acting after the House Appropriations committee had deleted FEPC funds from the war agencies appropriation bill on the ground that the war-created agency lacks legislative authority, the President called for immediate passage of FEPC legislation.

Letter To Sabath

His stand was taken in a letter to Chairman Sabath (D-Ill) whose House Rules committee has bottled up a bill creating a permanent FEPC.

The President urged that the committee give the right of way to the measure to permit action in the House, adding:

"Unless it is sent to the floor, the members of the House will have no opportunity to vote upon it. The result will be that on July 1 next the principle of fair employment practices will have been abandoned by the House of Representatives."

The letter raised speculation as to the effect it will have upon southern Democratic members who long have battled against the agency, first set up by former President Roosevelt by executive order to prevent wartime discrimination in employment because of race, color or creed.

Said Unthinkable

"To abandon at this time the fundamental principle upon which the Fair Employment Practice committee was established is unthinkable," President Truman wrote.

"Even if the war were over, or nearly over, the question of fair employment practices during the reconversion period and thereafter would be of paramount importance.

"Discrimination in the matter of employment against probably qualified persons because of their race, creed, or color is not only Unamerican in nature, but will lead eventually to industrial strife and unrest."

The President, in opening his fight for preservation of the

One Hurt When Truck Overturns And Burns

Coy D. Roberts, 25, of 2413 Locust, was seriously injured late Tuesday afternoon when the oil transport truck he was driving overturned, exploded and burned at the south outskirts of O'Donnell.

Roberts was in West Texas hospital with head and back injuries, the full seriousness of which had not been determined late last night.

According to his wife, Roberts was thrown several feet from the truck. He was not burned, hospital attendants said. Roberts told his wife that "something went wrong" with the steering apparatus.

Roberts is a driver for Dryer & Lee Oil company of Lubbock.

Freighters Bring 1,431 Yanks Home

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—Four rusty, salt-encrusted freighters brought home 1,431 liberated American war prisoners today.

Among those aboard were many aviators and members of the 45th, 30th, seventh and the fourth and seventh armored divisions.

The ships were the George McCracy, the William Jackson, the William Blount and the William T. Barry. The William Blount carried 46 negro troops, first to arrive since V-E day.

Rites Set For Nick Speedy, Produce Man

AUSTIN, June 5 (AP)—Funeral services will be held tomorrow for Nick M. Speedy, produce dealer wifely known over Texas, who diet here yesterday after a 10-day illness.

Speedy, who came to Texas 30 years ago from St. Louis and Jefferson City, Mo., operated extensively in the Lower Valley, Winter garden, coastal bend and North and East Texas commercial produce areas.

Church Workers Killed By Japs

By RICHARD BERGHOLZ
Associated Press Staff Writer

ILOILO, Panay (Philippines), June 5.—It now can be disclosed how 16 American citizens, including 11 Baptist missionaries, were beheaded and three American children bayoneted to death by Japanese troops nearly two years ago.

The story was obtained from a Filipino guerrilla who witnessed the atrocities.

The bloody savagery was displayed Oct. 20, 1943, in a peaceful mountain refuge ironically named Hopevale, "The Valley of Hope." It was a mission settlement established by the American Baptist Foreign Missionary society and faculty members of Central Philippine college near village of Topaz in Capiz province. This occurred after the Japanese occupied the Visayan group of the Philippines in May, 1942.

Victims Identified

The victims have been identified as:

Dr. Francis H. Rose, field representative of the American Baptist Foreign Missionary society and professor of zoology, Central Philippine college.

Mrs. Gertrude H. Rose, wife of Dr. Rose and professor of mathematics and foreign languages.

James H. Covell, English professor at the college.

Mrs. Charma Covell, wife of

Parley Looks To Big Three Capitals For Veto Issue Guidance; Denmark Admitted

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5—The United Nations conference looked to Washington, London and Moscow today for guidance toward a solution of the knotty veto issue, on which France made known she would vote with the United States against Russia.

At stake is the right of free discussion of events threatening peace within the security council of a new world league. Russia says the Big Five—herself, France, the United States, Britain and China—must have the right to block such discussion.

Opposition Overwhelming

But the preponderance of opinion and votes in the conference appeared to be against her.

Delegation Chairman Joseph Paul-Boncour definitely put France into the opposition in the event of a showdown, despite her treaty ties with the Soviets. He predicted Russia would lose by a 45 to 5 ballot, with only Ukrainia, White Russia, Czechoslovakia and Yugoslavia backing her.

That line-up presupposed the admission of Denmark to the conference as its fiftieth member, and the executive committee met today to arrange it.

Members of the 14-nation committee said they voted unanimously to seat Denmark at the conference. The Danes already have a three-man delegation here. The action will be reported to a steering committee, but Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk of Czechoslovakia said "Denmark is in."

Unanimous Approval

A few hours later, the secretary general of the conference, Alger Hiss, announced that a poll of all 49 nations resulted in unanimous approval of Denmark's admission.

A defeat of such proportions for the Soviets, Paul-Boncour said in an interview, might endanger the whole conference by causing Russia to walk out.

"We must avoid that at all costs," he said. "We must strive by all means to reach agreement on this point."

Efforts were under way to do that.

Secretary of State Stettinius considered the question so vital that he sought a decision from President Truman on whether the American delegation should push the veto question to a test.

Referred To Capitals

Lord Halifax, the British delegation chief, checked with Prime Minister Churchill. The Russians already had referred the issue back to Moscow, along with word of unrelenting opposition from the rest of the Big Four to the barring of mere discussions of disputes in the security council by the vote of a single big nation.

If President Truman is worried about failure of the Big Five to agree on their veto powers, the White House said he had given no sign of it. There were indications he was waiting to see what would come out of the consultations which his special emissary, Harry L. Hopkins, has been holding in Moscow.

Texas Legislature Adjourns After Second Longest Term In History

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, June 5.—The 49th legislature, notable chiefly for voting submission of numerous constitutional amendments and for killing most of the highly-controversial bills introduced, ended its session today.

The session was the second longest in history, 148 days. Four years ago the legislature was in session for 171 days.

Fears that the House and Senate might come to a deadlock and perhaps even adjourn without action on the rural school aid appropriation bill were dissolved when the House finally voted to accept a conference committee report on the $28,000,000 measure.

Shortly Before Noon

This came a few minutes before noon, the time previously agreed upon for final adjournment, and after a warning by Speaker Claud Gilmer that he had no intention of stopping the clock to permit further consideration of this and other debatable measures.

Clocks in both the House and Senate were stopped, however, but only to give legislative clerks time to finish the final mechanics of the session. The principal business of the session actually came to an end a few minutes before noon in both branches.

Submission of a constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to issue up to $25,000,000 in bonds to finance the purchase of public lands by war veterans was the last piece of legislation enacted. It brought the total of constitutional amendment submissions to eight, four to be voted upon Aug. 25, and four to be voted on at the general election in November, 1946.

The veteran's land amendment cleared the calendar of the Senate with just a minute or two to spare before noon. The House

Grover Hill Due To Be Replaced

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP) — Grover B. Hill, one-time Texas cattle raiser, will be replaced as undersecretary of agriculture, it was learned tonight.

On thin ice since the recent cabinet shakeup announcement, Hill's resignation is expected to be made known tomorrow.

Although Hill is a personal friend of Clinton Anderson, who takes over July 1 as secretary of agriculture, policy reasons are believed in congressional circles to have played a part in the change of undersecretary.

Sided Against OPA

One of the reasons discussed is that Hill has sided with cattle producers against the Office of Price administration too consistently to please high administration officials.

A reason expected to be cited in announcing the change is that Hill, hailing from Amarillo in the Texas Panhandle, and Anderson, from New Mexico, live in the same vicinity. Pressure from congressmen for a change in favor of another section is reported.

Who will succeed Hill was not clear.

In Capital Several Years

Hill became associated with the government during the drouth period of the middle 1930's in connection with the government cattle purchase program in Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico. He has been here in Washington several years, awhile as assistant secretary of agriculture and then as undersecretary.

He has been closely associated with Marvin Jones, former Texas Panhandle congressman, the war food administrator.

Hill told friends at the capitol who expressed apprehension that he might be relieved of his duties that he probably would return to Texas shortly.

Sap-Happy Burglar Enters Dallas Home

LONDON, June 5. — One year ago tonight a picked Army of American and Allied soldiers, scared but determined to do their jobs, pushed off from England to light the fuse for the greatest military explosion in history.

Many of these same men fought their way right on into Germany and are now back in England awaiting transportation home.

Along with all other Allied soldiers they will pause tomorrow to observe the first anniversary of D-day, which Gen. Eisenhower has proclaimed an Army holiday.

At all Army installations only skeleton staffs will operate on a so-called Sunday schedule in order to give the boys a chance to celebrate. There will be no formal celebrations, but wherever American troops gathered tonight there was an unusual show of comradeship.

It was "D-day night" at Red Cross clubs and soldiers who could prove they were D-day veterans got a free meal.

News Blackout Hints Okinawa Cleared; Japs Fear Invasion

Nip Jitters Increase And Homeland Warned Of Intensified Yank Attack

By RAY CRONIN
Associated Press War Editor

A COMPLETE news blackout on the swift American operations on southern Okinawa hinted at important developments today as Japan, losing important ground on manifold war fronts, frankly expressed fears of a homeland invasion.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz strangely omitted all mention of Okinawa ground activity in a delayed communique which told only of scattered aerial blows against Nippon.

Extraordinary Action

This extraordinary omission was taken to indicate a later announcement might be forthcoming on the expected end of organized resistance on the important island. The Japanese at last reports were being compressed into the small southern tip of the island and were losing their grasp of the huge Naha airfield, best in the Ryukyus.

Japanese invasion jitters flared anew as Tokyo radio acknowledged that Nippon's war situation on Okinawa was "most critical." The Japanese news agency Domei reported Tokyo newspapers agreed that "unmistakeable signs point to the enemy's intention to invade the Japanese mainland" in due course of time.

Domei warned loss of Okinawa, only 325 miles south of Japan-proper, would mean intensification of American raids on the homeland.

Mitscher's Warning

American Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher, famous carrier task force commander, said in Washington that the Japanese suicide plane menace around Okinawa was "daily being reduced." Such attacks, he added, are only one per cent effective and will be "further reduced."

As new sections of Kobe, Japan's main port, smoldered from the massed fire bomb attack there by Superfortresses Tuesday, Nippon time, the American air force promised the Rising Sun empire even greater aerial blows this year.

Reports from China told of new Chinese gains along the vital east coast and of Japanese withdrawal from important industrial sections south of Hong Kong. The Chinese were punching hard to snap Japanese retreat lines from southeast China.

Philippines Sector

In the Philippines the American 37th division advanced a half dozen miles in the northeast Luzon sector on the road to the Cagayan valley, last Japanese stronghold in those islands. The Yanks were within 35 miles of the Japanese Bayombong base. Far to the north the 33rd division was hitting for another road to the Cagayan country. These doughboys were almost a score of miles north of Baguio. Opposition was stiff.

Die-hard Japanese forces were fighting hard to hold the crest of Mount Purro, in the Manila watershed area.

On Mindanao island the 24th division registered a five-mile

WACS COME HOME

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP) — The first group of WACs to return to the United States under the Army's redeployment program left Caserta, Italy, today by airplane, the War department announced.

Mitscher Cites Tough Fighting

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP) — One of the Navy's top commanding officers on the scene declared today that all the services involved in the battle for Okinawa are "doing the best that is humanly possible."

Vice Admiral Marc A. Mitscher, commanding fast Carrier Task Force 58 in the Okinawa operation, told a news conference he had heard and read criticisms of strategy there but that his opinion, shared by "everybody out there," applied equally to the Army, Navy and "every other organization."

Up Against Tough Going

"We have simply been up against stiff defenses," he said. "That is to be expected from now on."

Secretary Forrestal, joining in the discussion, took particular note of criticisms directed at the delay in getting land-based aviation into operation.

"You simply can't implement air fields overnight," the secretary said. "Navy air had to remain to cover the intervening time between the arrival and the time when the Army was ready to take over. You cannot avoid that situation when moving in against land-based aviation. It's a physical fact that it takes time to get stuff ashore and land forces deployed and ready to fight. Air fields have to be built. They don't just sprout."

Admiral Mitscher discounted the seriousness of the Japanese suicide plane threat, asserting that not more than one per cent of those sent out by the enemy prove effective. That effectiveness is being reduced daily, he said, and will be further reduced. (See story on page 14.)

Second Front Impression

Mitscher, who returned from the Pacific yesterday for conferences here, reported an "impression" at home that the Pacific war was still a second front.

"Now that the number one front has cleared itself up," he said, "I feel we had better start pushing in order to clean up that little affairs in the west as soon as possible. I know everybody wants a speedy end, but knowing the Japs, I feel there is no danger of them surrendering for a long time. They will surrender only when they are thoroughly whipped."

The character of the Pacific war, he said, is entirely different from that in Europe, and involves acceptance of the fact that in order to win "Japs must be killed. Mass surrender does not seem indicated."

Great Fires Rage In Kobe

By ROBBIN COONS
Associated Press Staff Writer

GUAM, Wednesday, June 6 — Great fires raged in Kobe yesterday hours after approximately 450 Superfortresses struck their heaviest blow at this sixth city and largest port of Japan at a cost of eight bombers.

The bomber losses—less than half the record total of 19 shot down over Tokyo in the big fire raid of May 29—were announced in Washington by the 20th Air force, which said results of the raid were excellent.

Japs Say 56 Downed

The Japanese agency Domei, which had claimed 56 of the B-29s were shot down, was heard admitting six hours after the last bomber turned for home that the fires were only then "gradually being extinguished."

Three thousand tons of fire bombs plummeted into at least a seven square mile area of eastern Kobe, embracing the vast Kobe steel works, near a nine-square-mile area laid in ashes by two other raids in February and March.

The big bombers resolutely pressed home their attacks against the worst that the Japanese and the weather could offer.

Heavy Ack Ack

Heavy and accurate antiaircraft fire greeted the bombers as they sailed out of the banks of thunderheads and fog into the fair skies over Kobe, 250 miles southwest of Tokyo.

At least 40 aggressive Japanese fighter planes came barreling up to meet them, and by enemy account some crashed into the Superforts in suicidal attacks.

But for all the opposition, the heavyweights cruised the skies over Kobe for an hour, dumping their incendiary loads on the steel works, two main railway stations, shipyards and docks.

The weather was too bad for fighter escort to make the trip, and one returning navigator said the storms knocked out all his instruments, forcing him to reach the target by dead reckoning.

Results Excellent

Pilots said the results were excellent. Visibility was good and they could watch their incendiaries go down and flames mushroom out.

"It looked like the smoke was so high that it was pushing the clouds up," one bombardier said.

Bad weather had dogged them much of the way from their bases in the Marianas, but the clouds broke just as the formations thundered across the Japanese coastline.

Produce House Fire Loss Heavy

Damage estimated at approximately $35,000, including a loss of $12,000 in eggs alone, was caused by fire about 3:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at Arthur Lay and company, 104 East Broadway.

The candling room was destroyed and the shop building was a virtual loss, according to Lay. A new brick building was slightly damaged. Valuable shop equipment and innumerable egg crates and large quantities of packing supplies also were lost. A new refrigeration unit was damaged.

Employes All Escape

Sixty employes were engaged in their work when the fire broke out on the front dock and spread quickly through the plant but none was injured, Lay said. The cause was not known.

The office and the cream station escaped damage, he said.

The buildings were partially covered by insurance, Lay said.

Sub Sneaks In And Sinks 5 Jap Ships

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP) — Sneaking into the middle of a Japanese convoy, the U. S. Submarine Parche blasted five enemy vessels in 46 minutes of furious fighting.

The story of the exploit was released by the Navy today under its new policy of disclosing as much as it deems feasible of its hitherto hush-hush submarine operations. Time and place, however, were not disclosed.

Under the command of Commander L. P. Rampage of Lowville, New York, the Parche had stalked the big convoy for several hours on a stormy night. Once, it had closed in for the kill only to be blocked off by escorting war vessels.

On the second run, the Parche maneuvered inside the escort screen. The submarine was running on the surface when it came smack up against the first target.

The submarine swerved off a short distance and loosened torpedoes found their mark. The ship slowed but stayed afloat.

While the convoy's escort frantically sent up flares and opened up with machine guns, the Parche found a new target—a vessel "with a sizeable superstructure."

A bullseye shot amidships broke the vessel in two.

The Parche, under a hail of machine gun fire, turned on her course and again spotted the tanker it had hit earlier. The tanker's small guns laid down a hot barrage. Ramage, who got the Congressional Medal for his work that night, ordered the lookouts be-

Pastor Imprisoned For Anti-Nazi Views Says He Offered To Fight

By ANN STRINGER
United Press Staff Writer

NAPLES, June 5. — Martin Niemoeller, the Berlin Lutheran pastor who was imprisoned for more than seven years for his anti-Nazi opinions, admitted today that he volunteered in 1939 to resume his World war one role as a German U-boat commander.

Niemoeller, who had been hailed throughout the war as a martyred symbol of the "good Germans" in Hitler's Reich, jolted correspondents at a press conference with the blunt admission that he had been ready to fight for Nazi Germany.

Attitude Given

"If there's a war, a German man does not ask the question whether the war is just or unjust, the aim is this or that, but feels instinctively he is bound to serve in some way," he said.

"I was a naval officer for ten years. My elder sons had been called up. I couldn't stand the idea that my sons might be dying while I was doing nothing."

Niemoeller said he wrote from his prison cell at the outbreak of the war to Grand Adm. Erich Raeder, then chief of the Nazi submarine fleet, offering his services as a U-boat skipper or in any capacity.

The offer was refused "with regret."

Then the man who willingly went to jail rather than stop condemning Nazism from his pulpit tossed another verbal bombshell into the press conference.

"The democratic form of government suitable to govern the German people has not yet been discovered," he said.

Discusses Nazism

He launched into a forthright discussion of the reasons for the German people's acceptance of Nazism and expressed the belief that there was little prospect of a workable democratic government for Germany in the near future.

Niemoeller said he personally was like the bulk of the German people in that he wanted nothing to do with politics and was perfectly content to be led.

"The German people long for authority," he said. "That was one of the reasons which gave Hitler such success. They have very few gifts or instincts to govern themselves in democratic fashion. Maybe they can, but they do not like to."

The plain-spoken pastor said frankly that he did not think the German people felt themselves betrayed by Nazism or had learned any lesson from its horrors.

"I think the German people will be a little more cautious, but more than that I cannot promise you," he said.

Niemoeller defended his own offer to fight for Hitler in spite of his condemnation of Nazism as a political creed. In volunteering, he said, he was following the precept of "give unto God the things that are God's and to Caesar the things that are Caesar's."

"I am by the doctrine of my faith obliged to obey the given authority, to give up my life for it, but not my soul," he said.

Questioned about the horrors uncovered in Nazi concentration camps, Niemoeller insisted he had no idea they were being committed.

"I was shocked and shattered when I saw the pictures and heard of the extent these crimes reached," he said.

Niemoeller is one of a group of German political prisoners liberated by Allied troops. He is being held as a displaced person and is expected to be freed after testifying for the Allied War Crimes commission.

Rest Of Liberated Men Due Home Soon

PARIS, June 5. (U.P.)—Fewer than 20,000 liberated American prisoners of war remain to be sent home and all will be enroute before the end of this month, Lt. Col. W. P. Schweitzer, of Elizabeth, N. J., said today.

Schweitzer, chief of the returned Allied military prisoners, said that up to today more than 64,000 American prisoners had been shipped home. He added that virtually all American POW's in the Russian areas now had been returned to American authorities.

Schweitzer said about 80 per cent of the Americans were liberated before the Germans surrendered.

An estimated 25,000 American soldiers listed as missing in action have been recovered as prisoners of war.

Kidd Says Harvest Of Wheat Is Early

According to J. B. Kidd, the Texas wheat harvest is unusually early this year. Kidd is the farm labor field assistant of the cooperative extension service district office at Plainview.

Despite the dry weather and hot winds, five million acres of wheat oats and barley will be harvested in Texas, he said.

Starting about June 11 combine and harvest labor will be needed in the Texas Panhandle. The yield will be considerably lower than last year but 3,000,000 acres of grain will be harvested.

The Childress area will begin harvest this week while the Plainview area will begin harvesting next week.

County agents have received letters containing this information and are requested to clear with the district office the exact location where combines and labor are needed before allowing them to leave the county.

Sufficient combines are available in areas now harvesting, the letter said, althcugh more will probably be needed in the Panhandle beginning next week.

County combine operators and laborers are requested to check with Jason Gordon, Lubbock county agent, before leaving this section for work.

First Aid Class To Meet During School

Mrs. Julian Cane, chairman, announced time of meeting of a first aid class during the Red Cross water safety school to be conducted June 15 to 24 at the Municipal pool in Mackenzie state park.

The class will meet from 10:30 to 11:30 a. m. and will be open to boys and girls 6 to 15 years of age. The first aid instruction will be offered in addition to swimming instruction to be offered in various classes.

Anyone finding it inconvenient to go to the pool to submit the enrollment form may mail it to the Municipal Swimming pool, Mackenzie State park. The enrollment form was published in Tuesday's Morning Avalanche and Evening Journal. Those wishing to attend are to fill in the form and submit it on or before June 12.

Boys and girls wishing to enroll in the first aid class, in addition to one of the swimming classes listed on the form, may write "First Aid" beneath the space for designating the swimming class, Mrs. Cane announced.

...Genuine 1945 Model!

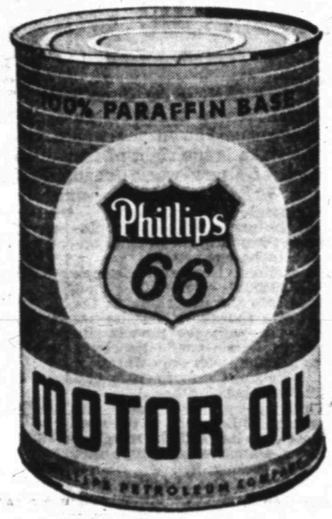

Who wouldn't love to have one! That goes for both the baby... and the brand new car; that beautiful, shiny eight-cylinder job that tops your list of postwar wants.

Yes, if wishes were autos, a lot of us would be riding in brand new models. Unfortunately there are no new cars available. That is the reason why you must do everything possible to keep your ageing car on the job and out of the junk yard. That takes good care and... it certainly takes a good lubricant!

If you have been wondering how to be sure of getting a quality oil, why not ask your Phillips 66 Dealer to help you? He will tell you frankly that Phillips makes a number of different oils, because preferences and pocketbooks vary. He will tell you, if you want our best oil... that the highest grade and finest quality we offer to car-owners like yourself is Phillips 66 Motor Oil.

Now's the time to get rid of that winter-worn, contaminated oil and refill the crankcase with fresh, summer-grade Phillips 66 Motor Oil! And remember that authorities, in view of today's reduced driving, recommend changing oil every two months.

Lindsey Theaters Observe Bond Day

Today is War Bond day at the Lindsey theaters in Lubbock and any person buying a bond of any size will be admitted to the movies free for the day. Another bond day is set for June 21.

Manager Clark Abbott also announced a change in programs at the Lindsey and Palace theaters this week. Starting Friday of this week, pictures will run Friday through Monday and Tuesday through Thursday at the Lindsey and Sunday through Wednesday and Thursday through Saturday at the Palace.

The program change is being made in order to improve seating accommodations for patrons, Abbott said.

Crew Is Installing Airline Equipment

Essair, Inc., quarters at municipal airport are being equipped with teletype equipment by a Southwestern Bell Telephone company crew, it was announced Tuesday.

Essair is making preparations to begin service on two flights daily to Lubbock. A radio crew previously had installed radio equipment.

Trial runs will be made by the airline, before opening of regular service on an Amarillo-Houston route by way of Lubbock, San Angelo, Abilene and Austin.

The British aircraft industry consisted of 17 major factories employing 24,000 workers in 1939, but has expanded to a point where there were more than 15,000 factories employing 1,731,000 workers at the end of 1944.

More Superphosphate Now Available Here

More applications are needed in the local Agriculture Conservation association offices for superphosphate according to Walter Y. Wells, secretary of the Lubbock county group and administrative officer of the Agriculture Adjustment administration.

Another car of superphosphate has been allotted the county, bringing the total to three. Applications have come in to take two carloads but the third has very few names on its list.

This material may be used on alfalfa or any other legume, or on native pasture, ACA reports show that the result of use is to increase yields very much, Wells said.

Wells said the ACA will pay most of the cost for use of this material as a conservation method any any producers who have need for the phosphate should contact the AAA office, in the Agriculture building at 14th and Ave. Q, immediately in order that their name may be placed on the list to receive the material.

Plans For Producing Refrigerators Given

WASHINGTON, June 5. (U.P.)—The War Production board today revoked the order banning production of refrigerators and announced that 265,000 would be produced during July, August and September for military, hospital and other essential users only.

All refrigerators produced under the new allotment will be added to the frozen stockpile of refrigerators produced before the war. A refrigerator may be released from this stockpile only "to meet the most essential demands," WPB said.

Forty-four times as many people between the ages of five and 19 died in the United States in 1942 from accidents as died from infantile paralysis.

UNTIL JAPAN IS WHIPPED telephone factories must still work for war

THERE'S still a vast war to win in the Pacific, and it will be a long time before we can serve the last person on the waiting list for telephones.

Telephone factories must continue hard at work for war

Huge quantities of new telephone and electronic equipment are needed in the Pacific. For instance—in the first five days on Iwo Jima, the marines built a telephone system big enough for a city of 65,000. The bigger the armies in the Pacific war, and the longer they must fight, the more they need telephone equipment, radar, automatic gun directors—all the things that telephone factories are making. That's why, even though the war in Europe is over, the amount of such equipment required in the Pacific theater is greater than anything sent there so far.

Cuts in war demands for telephone equipment will help, but...

...the war load on telephone factories will continue to be heavy. If all war demands ended tomorrow, it would be many months before everyone who wants a telephone could get it without delay.

Telephone factories must switch to making "civilian" equipment again—dial central office equipment, switchboards, cable, wire, telephones—all quite different in many ways from war equipment. And of course, the factories can make the switch only as fast as the war load permits.

It takes time to put new equipment to work

Putting equipment to work can take more time than making it. More than 1,000,000 connections go into dial central office equipment to serve only 10,000 telephones. And 225,000 people are waiting for telephone service right now in the Southwest.

Just to install that many telephones alone would take a long time, despite every effort to speed up the job. Before the first "all-war" year of 1942, our biggest increase in telephones was only 117,000. That was in 1941, when there was still plenty of equipment of all kinds.

These things are sure

Of course, the end of the German war brings us one step closer to the time when we can again serve everyone who wants a telephone without delay. But as long as the Pacific war lasts, the armed forces' needs come first. That's the way we know you want it.

We can promise you this. We'll continue to do our level best to provide telephones as fast as we can, to as many people as possible.

SAFEGUARDING THE EYES OF TEXAS

Glasses alone cannot correct your child's vision

Did you know that an infant must learn how to see? Seeing is a skill, acquired in childhood like the skills of talking and walking. Some children fail to achieve normal skill in seeing. That handicaps them in school, in play, and the normal life of childhood. The condition can usually be corrected—but it is a tragic mistake to think that it can be done merely by "buying a pair of glasses." Only the professional services and the technical skill of one who is trained in problems of eyesight can detect the child's difficulty and correct it safely and accurately. Glasses alone, without professional services, cannot correct a child's faulty vision.

THE FAIRCHILDS

TECHSANS of about 1934-35 will remember a long-legged blond boy with unruly hair, who spent his spare time drawing murals on the engineering building walls and who illustrated the yearbook, La Ventana, in 1935. His name was Everett Fairchild.

Recently friends received unique birth announcements from Doti and Dee Fairchild, the "Dee" being Everett, we presume. In the upper left corner is a sketch of a baby, bow in its hair, drinking from a bottle labelled "Drawing Ink" and sitting on a book titled, "How to Draw." In the center of the page is a clothes line on which hang five square garments commonly associated with babies.

The announcement reads, in part:

"Miss Diedre Lynne Fairchild, though young (her age starts 16 May 1945, 6 p.m.) and small (7-lb. 15-oz.), is highly praised and recommended by her parents.

"We are pleased to picture here a part of Diedre Lynne's first one-woman-show that now hangs at 14 C Crescent Road, Greenbelt, Maryland. Critics say it shows a very strong line and free and easy washes. Many hailed the simplicity of her handiwork."

Readers will note that Everett, pardon us, we mean Dee, has lost none of the originality that marked his drawings and word sketches when he was a Tech student.

PINEAPPLE JELLY

MRS. OTIS JONES was canning pineapple Tuesday when suddenly it occurred to her that she might make jelly from the peelings. She experimented and was so successful she is passing the recipe along to other readers of this column.

Take the peelings and cores, boil them, then take the juice, add pectin and sugar and make jelly much as you would with apple peelings, Mrs. Jones says. She adds it is the nicest jelly she has ever made and she has "been at it a long time," as she puts it.

Mrs. Jones says if your housewife is making jelly for the first time and has any questions she will be glad for her to telephone 4611.

Giant New Seaplane Gives Impression Of Full Incredibility

CULVER CITY, Calif., June 5. (AP)—Gaping at Howard Hughes' giant new all-wood seaplane now in construction, you feel like the fellow who was looking at his first giraffe—there ain't no such animal.

"World's largest plane," Vice-President Charles W. Perelle of the Hughes Aircraft Co. calls it, adding:

It will be able to carry 750 soldiers and their equipment.

The wing is more than 300 feet in length—longer than a football field. By comparison the wing on the B-19, whoppingest land plane, is 212 feet and the Martin Mars, biggest seaplane, has a 299-foot wing.

For its eight 3,000-horsepower engines, the monster will carry 40 tons or 14,000 gallons of gasoline—enough to propel your car around the earth nearly eight and one-half times if there were a highway at the equator.

The giant is nearing completion in a vast special hangar. Entering, the visitor encounters what he assumes to be the wing. He learns it is merely the aileron, the movable control portion that hinges along the rear edge of the wing.

The 220-foot hull, supported on scaffolding several stories high, is, like the wing, fashioned of plywood curved and fitted as neatly as a mandolin.

The plane, with a payload of between 60 and 70 tons, has been designed for intercontinental freight, Perelle said.

Sir Francis Drake was the first Englishman to sail around the world.

Scientific tests reveal the truth about clean-looking DRAINBOARDS!

Scientists, authorities on health, know that clean-looking drainboards and other kitchen and bathroom surfaces are not necessarily sanitary. They know that infection dangers often exist on such surfaces.

Laboratory examinations of specimens taken from clean-looking surfaces reveal, with the aid of the microscope, the presence of dangerous germs, proving the need for greater home sanitation.

The microscope shows infectious germs that may lurk on so-called clean drainboards.

IT CERTAINLY SEEMS SENSIBLE TO MAKE DRAINBOARDS AND OTHER "DANGER ZONES"... SANITARY... CLOROX-CLEAN!

Since dangerous germs can exist unsuspected on visibly clean surfaces... it is a sound precaution to use Clorox in routine cleansing for sanitation... for added health protection.

Health officials throughout the nation endorse the efficiency of the Clorox-type of disinfection. In millions of homes Clorox is providing higher standards of sanitation. For it disinfects... also deodorizes. And, in laundering, Clorox gently bleaches white cottons and linens (brightens fast colors), removes stains, scorch and mildew... lessens rubbing, prolonging life of fabrics. Clorox is ultra-refined... free from caustic, an exclusive patented quality-feature. Use Clorox regularly. Simply follow directions on the label.

Full Value Of Costly Okinawa To Be Learned In Next Few Months

By LOUIS F. KEEMLE
United Press War Analyst

The conquest of Okinawa has been almost completed now, at a heavy cost in American lives, ships and planes.

Viewing the casualties, Americans are concerned over what benefits are to be derived and how far the defeat of Japan has been advanced. The answer will be found only in the results of coming months, when the naval, air and land forces will have carried the war much closer to the heart of the Japanese homeland.

Meanwhile, a preliminary appraisal is possible, on the basis of Okinawa's strategic position and what use can be made of it. Japanese assertions that the battle of Okinawa would decide the fate of Japan seem far fetched, but there is no doubt that the Japanese view its loss with consternation.

Air Base, Naval Anchorage

Okinawa's value is first of all as a major air base, only 330 miles from the home islands and within easy air reach of the China coast and Formosa. It also provides a first class naval anchorage and its possession removes a keystone defense outpost on the approaches to Japan and China.

Okinawa has three good airfields developed by the Japanese, the biggest of the bitter struggle. Others can be developed by American engineering skill.

When these bases are in full operation, not only Superfortresses but large fleets of lesser American and British bombers of other types can be based there. Liberators, Flying Fortresses, medium bombers and fighter-bombers will be within practical range of Japan's southernmost island of Kyushu.

Can Knock Out Airfields

Such a concentration of land-based air power should be able to knock out the Japanese airfields on Kyushu from which suicide and other planes have made Okinawa an expensive operation for the invaders. It is not a task for Superfortresses nor even primarily for carrier planes. The latter can do effective work, but it is difficult for them to maintain it on the sustained basis which is necessary.

When aerial operation from Okinawa are in full blast and Kyushu properly blanketed, the ocean supply line to Okinawa should be reasonably secure. It also can be extended to the China coast with a minimum of Japanese aerial interference. Formosa, which lies athwart the route to China, can be neutralized effectively by two-way action from Okinawa and Luzon, about equally distant.

Supply Route Extension

Extension of the supply route to China, which would involve American landings on that coast would have a double benefit. First, it would infuse new life blood in the Chinese armies, and secondly, permit the operation of new and powerful air bases for use against Japan.

Thus, while the occupation of Okinawa may not "decide the fate of Japan," it drives a nail in the coffin. It means the smothering of the southern approaches to the home islands. With the cutting of the land corridor through China, which the Chinese armies are in the process of accomplishing, it will finally sever Japanese communications to and from the south—French Indo-China, Thailand, Malaya and the Dutch East Indies. Japan's shattered merchant marine and sea power will be unable to penetrate such a blockade.

If the highways in the United States were laid out end to end in a single long line, there would be a filling station for each mile.

Gestapo And Storm Troopers Ought To Pay, Public Avers

PRINCETON, N. J.—Symbol of Nazi cruelty under the Hitler regime were the once-dread-Gestapo agents and the brutal Nazi storm troopers.

Now that the war is over and Germany defeated, many thousands of these arrogant Hitler underlings are in the hands of the Allied military forces, who face the problem of what to do with them.

GALLUP

Only about one person in any 100 among the public in this country want to see lenient treatment for these agents of a regime marked for its cruelty.

Nearly half (45%) among the United States adult population—excluding members of the armed forces—would like to see Gestapo agents and Nazi Storm Troopers quickly destroyed.

"Kill them . . . hang them . . . wipe them off the face of the Earth!" are typical replies in a nation-wide survey asking what should be done with German Gestapo members and storm troopers.

About a fifth of the people would "punish them" without designating just what form the punishment should take. Half of these people would, however, take time out to try the Gestapo and storm troop prisoners, make certain of their guilt before punishing.

One in 10 think in terms of more than death. They want SS troopers and Gestapo men to die, but they want them to die slowly; they want to torture them, some suggesting "hard work and starvation" as the means.

"Imprison them . . . jail them . . . cage them (at least some part of the public always wants to put enemies on public display) . . . exile them . . . isolate them . . . treat them as they treated others. . . . : No punishment is bad enough." These are just a few of the other suggestions.

The over-all impression which one gets from looking at the comments and suggestions is that the American people want no fooling around about punishing Nazi war criminals. The people want no delay in the meteing out of punishment.

There are even signs of impatience with the legal procedures which must precede punishment. This shows itself especially in a survey dealing with what should be done with Hermann Goering.

Two out of every three questioned (67%) say, "Kill him."

Courageous Action Of Submarine In Sinking Jap Ship Is Revealed

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Army, the air forces and the Navy all have their heroes and they are known to the world. But for three years the Navy's submarines have fought alone and what they did was for the most part a secret buried in the Navy's voluminous files. The name of submarine "X" can not even now be made known).

By MURLIN SPENCER
Associated Press Staff Writer

PEARL HARBOR, June 5. (AP)—It was 4:35 p.m. when Commander L. D. McGregor and the men of the submarine "X" opened fire on the big, new Japanese carrier and in 15 minutes they sent her to the bottom of the Pacific.

Destroys Vital Ship

That brief, courageous action broke the hearts of the imperial Nipponese Navy because when McGregor, the daring, sandy-haired submariner from Annapolis, Md., sent the heavily loaded warship down he knocked a vital piece out of the enemy's rapidly weakening naval machine.

The action was swift. McGregor told the story this way:

"Commenced firing (torpedoes).

Torpedo Fires Aft

"First torpedo hit causing the target to stop and to commence burning aft. The target opened fire, just prior to being hit, with all guns on the starboard side.

"Carrier continues to fire all starboard guns, its escorting destroyers are milling about dropping depth charges indiscriminately.

"Reload for another shot at target.

"Carrier still burning.

"Torpedo hit carrier. The sharp crash of the torpedo explosion was followed instantly by thundering explosions, apparently from magazine and gasoline stowage. Huge clouds of smoke, flames and debris burst into the air completely enveloping the carrier. When executive officer looked several seconds later he still could not see the ship due to the smoke."

And nine minutes later when McGregor swept the seas with his periscope he could see only the escorting destroyers. The carrier, her decks loaded with airplanes, and carrying hundreds of men of the Japanese navy, had gone to the bottom.

It sounds easy enough the way McGregor tells the story. His matter-of-fact account leaves much to the imagination.

The submarine was a relatively new one. It already had more than paid for itself by sinking thousands of tons of Japanese shipping.

Her first action was important. She encountered a Japanse convoy and she attacked, sinking one ship. The ship exploded with a roar of flames that shot 500 feet into the air. Few if any of her crew could have survived. Another ship went down with two torpedo holes in her side.

Then The Sub's Turn

Then it was the submarine's turn to take punishment. The vengeful escorting warships of the convoy dumped depth charge after depth charge around her and heavy explosions shook the submerged craft. But she came through.

The officers and crews of the submarine "X" on her great war patrol included: George T. Good, San Antonio, and Ben F. Moeller, jr., Bay City, Tex.

Feeders To Receive Subsidy From Banks

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP)—Cattle feeders will receive recently-announced subsidy payments directly from their local banks.

Announcing details of the program today, the War Food administration said it is the first meat subsidy to be handled in this manner.

The payments of 50 cents a live hundredweight for good and choice cattle averaging 800 pounds or more is designed to encourage farmers to feed more cattle to heavier weights and to improve distribution by directing more cattle to authorized slaughterers.

Eligible feeders, the WFA announced, will receive their payments through sight drafts which may be redeemed immediately at local banks.

As under the dairy production payment program, the drafts will be issued by county Agricultural adjustment agency offices on the account of the Commodity Credit corporation. Forty million dollars has been authorized for the program, announced May 19.

Shipyards Deliver 112 Vessels In May

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP)—Merchant shipyards delivered 112 vessels aggregating 1,120,594 deadweight tons in May, the Maritime commission reported today.

The brought deliveries since January to 586 ships aggregating 5,948,735 deadweight tons. This is almost half of the construction schedule of 12,000,000 tons for the entire year.

Doolittle Back In Capital After Rest

MIAMI, Fla., June 5. (AP)—Lt. Gen. James Doolittle, head of the Eighth Air force, returned to Washington Sunday after more than a week's rest here, the Army revealed today. He was accompanied by Mrs. Doolittle.

Doolittle and Gen. George S. Patton are scheduled to be honor guests this weekend at a celebration in Los Angeles. Doolittle is expected to join his command in the Pacific soon.

Cuts On Costs Of Clothing Planned

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP)—OPA today worked on the last of a series of price-cutting regulations designed to push clothing costs back two years.

A regulation aimed at clothing wholesalers will be issued "very soon," Price Administrator Chester Bowles promised last night, after announcing a new maximum average price, or "map" order imposed on woolen and worsted mills.

The latter will cut costs of wool woven fabrics seven per cent and wool knit fabrics four per cent, Bowles predicted. It is intended to pave the way for lower priced suits, coats, dresses and other civilian garments made of wool.

The wool "map" requires each mill to reduce its weighted average price for all fabrics to the average of 1943, by reducing its output of higher prices lines, or increasing production of lower prices lines, or both. The order is effective June 9, and mills will start operating on new shedules July 1.

Cotton mills will not be subjected to "map" treatment because of the Bankhead amendment to the cotton control act, which requires that ceilings on major groups of cotton textile items must reflect parity to growers of raw cotton.

Jap Sneak Attack On Philippines Followed Reconnaissance Flights

(EDITOR'S NOTE: On the day the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor they also attacked the Philippines and in what became known as the "Little Pearl Harbor" destroyed the bulk of the American Flying Fortress force in the islands. Security prevented revelation of the loss at the time and many rumors circulated as to what had happened. In the accompanying dispatch, Frank H. Bartholomew, United Press vice-president, presents the first full account of the tragedy at Clark Field).

By FRANK H. BARTHOLOMEW
United Press Staff Writer

MANILA, June 5. — On two separate nights before December 8 it may now be revealed, formations of Japanese reconnaissance planes flew down the coast line of Luzon and were picked up by our detecting devices.

The detetcion of the Japanese reconnaissance aircraft was the first definite indication to the American command that hostilities were coming.

Accounts Of Officers

The story of what followed has finally been made available from Army records and accounts of officers who served with Gen. Douglas MacArthur in the defense of the Philipoines.

Lieut. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton, now commanding the First Airborne Army, was then commanding our Far East air force, made up of fighters, medium bombs and 35 B-17 Flying Fortresses.

After the first reconnaissance foray, Brereton, on orders from Gen. Douglas MacArthur, instructed his fighters to intercept any further flights on a shoot-to-kill basis.

When the Japanese approached for the second time Brereton's fighters took to the air but were unable to locate the Japanese planes in the darkness, not having at that time modern night-fighter equipment.

Forts Ordered Moved

At the same time, on MacArthur's direction, orders were issued to remove the 35 B-17's which had only recently arrived at the islands in what was then a record-breaking mass flight. They were ordered to move from Clark Field to a newly prepared field at Delmonte on Mindanao.

Clark Field, it was recognized, was vulnerable to attack from Formosa and it was hoped the Japanese intelligence had not yet learned of the Delmonte base which was not open to attack from Formosa and was likely to be attacked only from Palau.

Desnite these orders, it developed that the planes were not immediately moved. Accounts are uncertain as to why. However, Lieut. Gen. Richard K. Sutherland of MacArthur's staff discovered that B-17's were still at Clark Field and acting in MacArthur's name, re-issued orders for their removal.

Some Finally Moved

Fourteen of the Forts were moved to Delmonte where they were safe for the time being, long enough for Colin Kelly and other legendary heroes to carry out their desperate attacks on the Japanese invasion fleet.

When news of Pearl Harbor was flashed to Manila, on the morning of Dec. 8 (Manila time), Sutherland learned that 21 of the B-17's were still at Clark Field. He instructed Brereton to have the planes gassed and keep them in the air during daylight.

Junior members of the air force were eager to carry out an immediate attack on the Japanese bases in Formosa. However, Brereton was reluctant to issue orders for the attack until photographic reconnaissance had been made of two fields in the southwest and southeast corners of Formosa.

While preparations for taking the reconnaissance photos was underway a mysterious telephone call was received at Clark Field from Manila. The telephoned instructions ordered the bombers not to leave the base or make an attack.

Source Not Determined

The source of this call has not been determined, records show. It definitely did not come from MacArthur's headquarters which issued its orders only directly to Brereton.

In accordance with this message the bomb loads were removed from the Fortresses. However, the fighter forces were active and twice during the morning took to the air to turn back attempted Japanese attacks. At noon, according to reports of those present, the fighters were ordered down and the airmen went to lunch. Some of the anti-aircraft gun crews were also reduced for the lunch period.

At just this moment the Japanese bombers swept in in force with the Fortresses on the ground and in a single blow virtually eliminated Clark Field and the precious B-17 force from the defense of Luzon.

After the disaster Brereton eventually took the remnants of the B-17's to Australia as there were no other fields in the islands suitable for them to operate from.

Loan Of Ships To Russia Disclosed

LONDON, June 5. (U.P.)—Prime Minister Churchill disclosed today that the United States and Britain loaned Russia 14 warships and 40,000 tons of merchant shipping in 1944 after the Soviets had requested that a large part of the Italian fleet be turned over to them.

In response to a question on disposition of the Italian fleet, Churchill told commons the Russians had agreed to forego taking the Italian vessels in return for the temporary loan of American and British units.

Russia still is operating all the Anglo-American shipping, with the exception of two warships lost in battle, and will continue to do so for the time being, the prime minister said.

Gls Have Answers, But Even So, They Are Not Diplomats

By KENNETH L. DIXON
Associated Press Staff Writer
IN OCCUPIED GERMANY

"Why certainly we won the war," said the sergeant somewhat belligerently. "Has some Dopey Joe been implying otherwise?"

We had been sitting around lazily in the sunshine when a corporal raised the question. Here it was V-E day plus 21, and here was a remark about whether we had won the war after all.

Kenneth Dixon

"Why, no," said the corporal, slowly lowering the latest issue of Stars and Stripes. "Why, no. It is just that I have been reading the news and got to wondering."

"Well," said the sergeant, "don't be selfish about it. Read us the news so we can wonder too."

Trieste Situation

"Well, you take this Trieste situation," said the corporal. "It says here that the Yugoslavs would deny Italy any holdings east of Trieste."

"Well, what is wrong with that?" barked the sergeant. "That is Tito, ain't it? He's gotta right to decide about stuff like that after fighting the way he did, doesn't he? What is so troublesome about that?"

"Well, it seems that the Italians do not seem to agree with him. As a matter of fact they are very upset about it and some of them seem to be ready to fight over it and what is more, maybe England is going to get mixed up in it too—maybe against Tito."

But That's Not All

"Well, after what happened down in Greece I am not surprised," said the sergeant, "but I reckon if our government figured that that was all right they will figure this is alright too. Is that all that is worrying you?"

"Not by a long ways," said the corporal, "it seems there is a lot of trouble out in San Francisco. There is the Polish question and the Argentine fuss and the Russian objections to some clause or the other that keeps the big country from changing governments of the little countries or something. Then there is the British government refusing to recognize the new Austrian government and some argument over whether Denmark gets to sit in on the conference and stuff like that."

A Pfc. sat up and yawned.

"I see what you mean," he said. "It reminds me what my draft board chairman told us just before we got on the bus for the induction center. 'You boys win the war,' he said, 'and we will win the peace for you.'"

And The Levant Boils

"And that is not all," said the corporal. "While all of this is going on out in San Francisco it says here that a new war has sprung up in Syria and Lebanon. It says that heavy fighting is in progress in Damascus and throughout Syria between French troops and the Syrians and now Prime Minister Churchill has told Gen. De Gaulle to call off his dogs or the British troops will get into it."

Even the sergeant began to sit up and take notice.

"The French fighting?" he asked. "I thought they were so beat up by the war that they would never pull a trick like that. And Britain too. Say," he said suddenly, "if they wanted to fight so much why didn't they go to the Pacific where there is already a war started—and let me go home —instead of starting a new one."

"Now, now, sergeant," chided the corporal "nobody has started any war. It says here that neither Britain nor France acted until their responsibility was too great to ignore and they just stepped in to save bloodshed."

And Uncle's Reactions

"And what, might I ask," said the Pfc, "is our Uncle Sammy doing to make the boys behave?"

"Ah," said the corporal, "you will be pleased to know that our State department 'views the strife with deep concern and is proceeding actively with consultations with all parties'."

"All I was thinking," said the Pfc, "was how my mom used to tell my kid brother and me that if we started fighting again we did not get any supper. And it worked. I was just wondering why we did not tell all of these countries to quit fighting or no more food."

"Now you leave our diplomats alone," barked the sergeant. "That is their business. You didn't see any diplomats up there around the combat line bothering us when we were still fighting, did you?"

"Nope," agreed the corporal and Pfc in unison, "we didn't."

Truman Calls For Enactment Of Bill

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP) — President Truman called today for enactment of the Bretton Woods monetary agreements as a paramount item "in establishment of a sound economic foundation for lasting peace."

Chairman Spence (D-Ky) of the House banking committee read a letter from the president to the House after Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich), senior Republican on the banking committee, joined him in pressing for ratification of the agreements.

The president's letter, addressed to Spence, said:

"I have already made clear my conviction that the prompt enactment of the Bretton Woods legislation is of paramount importance in the establishment of a sound economic foundation for lasting peace.

Confident of Enactment

"I am confident that this legislation will be enacted. But my interest in its enactment is almost equaled by my interest in seeing that the Bretton Woods legislation continues to have the full bipartisan support so manifest by the action of your committee in reporting the bill."

As the House debate opened, the agreements were described alternately as a plan to secure peace and as an "international swindle."

Rep. Patman (D-Tex) told the House the proposed legislation was "the finest bill ever attempted to secure peace and promote foreign trade."

Communists Oppose Averill Harriman

WASHINGTON, June 5 (U.P.) — American Communists appeared today to be gunning for W. Averell Harriman, the United States ambassador to Moscow.

Harriman inherited a great deal of money including a big block of stock in the Union Pacific railroad. But he was a consistent Roosevelt-for-president man. In 1942 he was sent by the late president to Moscow.

The Communist Daily Worker in a special article has charged that since the defeat of Germany Harriman has disclosed a "profound hostility to the Soviet union."

The Communist organ cited a broadcast last week by Johannes Steel, a radio commentator, in which Harriman was alleged to have said that the "interests of the United States and the Soviet union are irreconcilable."

The Worker remarked that Steel had proposed Harriman's recall.

By implication the paper said Harriman feels that the United States should declare war on Russia or, at least, adopt policies designed to challenge the spread of Communism in Europe and elsewhere.

OCD Is Abolished, Effective June 30

WASHINGTON, June 5 (U.P.) — President Truman today abolished the Office of Civilian Defense effective June 30. It is the first wartime agency to be terminated.

Previously he had asked Congress to cancel a new appropriation for OCD, the agency which organized America's wartime civilian defense personnel.

Asked whether the abolition order meant that the president put no belief in Japanese threats to send suicide balloons against the American mainland, White House Press Secretary Charles G. Ross left reporters to draw their own conclusions, saying that the order spoke for itself.

BUSINESS LEADERS LASHED

NEW YORK, June 5. (AP)—David E. Lillienthal, chairman of the Tennessee Valley authority, today criticized American business leaders who enthuse about developing the resources of foreign countries but object to developing river valley projects in the United States.

Optimist Club Nine Noses Out 14-13 Win Over Kiwanis

The Optimist club baseball nine took an early start, then staved off a late Kiwanis club rally to win a 14 to 13 decision Tuesday afternoon at the Boys club diamond in the American League Junior baseball opener for both teams.

Joe Scales was the star of the day for the Optimist club nine, doing a great catching job, as well as poling out a home run and a triple. His homer came in the second inning with two mates on base, and was a lusty 250 foot wallop that bounced over the fence for the round trip.

Cook Goes Route

Jackie Cook went the route on the hill for the Optimists club nine, and was never in any real danger until Coach Dell Morgan's Kiwanis club rallied in the seventh inning to push over five runs. But Cook managed to smother the rally one run short of a tie score.

Charles Galey started on the hill for the Kiwanis, but gave way to Hulin Fowler, who kept the Optimist club well in check in the late innings.

Optimists Take Lead

The Optimist bounded away to an early lead by scoring six times in the first inning, adding three more in the second on Scales' home run blast, and two more in the third.

The Kiwanis stayed in the ball game with three runs in the first, another three in the second and one more in the third. Both sides scored only one run in the next three innings, then the Optimist pushed over two runs in the top of the seventh, and the Kiwanis rally fell short.

The Rotary club and Lions club teams open the race this afternoon at the Boys club diamond, and complete the first round of openers in the American League race.

Purina Millers Win Over Hunt Oil, 9-3

Manager Finis Vaughn's Purina Millers struck early, then coasted in with a 9 to 3 victory over the Hunt Oilers Tuesday afternoon at Chapman field in a junior baseball exhibition ball game.

The game was ruled an exhibition, and the regular league play will not start until next week.

The Millers did all their scoring in the first nine innings of the ball game, then were held in check by Walter Higginbotham, who blanked the Millers for the last four innings.

Vaughn used both his aces in the ball game, and Charles Pressley and Denny Davidson limited the Oilers to only three hits, while blanking the Oilers for the last five rounds. The Millers pulled a fast triple play in the ninth inning to end the ball game.

Purina Mills will play Dickenson Motor company on Thursday afternoon at Chapman field in another pre-season exhibition game.

All boys on the American Legion team are urged to turn out at 7 o'clock this evening at Chapman field.

Greenbelt Golf Set At Vernon July 2-5

VERNON, June 5 (AP) — The annual Greenbelt golf tournament will be held at Hill Crest Country club here July 2, 3, 4 and 5.

Qualifying rounds are scheduled July 2 with match play opening July 3.

ST. PAUL STAR FINED

COLUMBUS, O., June 5 (AP) — George M. Trautman, president of the American Association baseball league imposed a $50 fine today on Tom Brown, shortstop for St. Paul, for accidentally throwing a bat into the stands during last night's 10-inning game at Louisville.

Blair Cherry Seen As Dana X. Bible's Successor At Texas

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

DALLAS, June 5. (AP)—It's all speculation of course because there has been no official action and the parties in question naturally would not be quoted even if there was an understanding, but from this corner it appears the next football coach at the University of Texas will be Blair Cherry, whose great teams at Amarillo High school brought him national note.

D. X. Bible is now coach at Texas and he certainly has done a fabulous job of bringing Longhorn football fortunes to the top. But indications are that D. X., who has been tutoring grid teams for more than 30 years, will retire from coaching in 1946 when his 10-year contract has run its course. Bible, the signs say, will continue as athletic director of the university.

Cherry On Grounds

Cherry has been at Texas almost a decade, doing a bang-up job of coaching the ends and backs, getting choice athletes to pick the big school and for several years successfully directing the baseball team. When and if Bible retires from coaching to handle the job of athletic director alone, it is our guess that D. X. will recommend Blair as his successor.

Of course all this is contingent upon athletic council-board of regents approval but our prediction would be that such would be forthcoming with a minimum of discussion.

The personable Cherry has declined lucrative offers in order to stay at Texas and certainly his record as a coach would indicate he's a good man for the job of head mentor.

It would certainly be a big boost for Lone Star state football for Blair to step in as director of Longhorn gridiron destinies. It would further accentuate this state's leadership in the game. There have been a number of Texas High school coaches who should have been grabbed off by the colleges.

May Hold School

Speaking of high school coaches in Texas, we find it's pretty certain the annual coaching school will be held at Abilene in August but it's doubtful if there will be an All-Star game despite the fact that the squads now are being selected.

The ODT hasn't looked with favor on holding the school but probably wouldn't object if the football game that annually matches high school stars from the North against the South were dispensed with. Of course, that would take away a source of revenue from the Coaches Association and the school might not pay for itself but the association already has considerable funds stored away.

Other states are going ahead with plans for coaching schools and it seems there's no reason why Texas shouldn't have one.

Watch Golden Sandies

W. C. O. Harris, former coach at Amon Carter-Riverside (Fort Worth) but now at Plainview, advises us not to take any stock in what they're saying around Amarillo—that the Golden Sandies are not the team to beat in next fall's District 1 grid race.

"Amarillo is loaded," warns Harris.

That's what Amarillo's coach, Howard Lynch, said about Plainview.

What are those guys trying to do, confuse me?

Anyway, Harris says he has eight returning lettermen but the team will be light. "We have excellent backfield prospects and a light and inexperienced line," he declares. "We hardly pack enough weight and power for our competition. Hope to have a lot of fun though."

Plainview's schedule for next fall shows only Class AA teams.

Pirates Shatter Reds Win Streak

PITTSBURGH, June 5. (AP) — The Pittsburgh Pirates snapped a nine-game winning streak for the Cincinnati Reds today as they swamped them 9 to 1 to split a doubleheader. The Reds took the first game 4 to 0 when Ed Heusser blanked the Pirates for the second time.

In the second game, Max Butcher broke the Reds' string of wins by scattering seven hits while his mates were hammering Beck and Fox for a comfortable lead with a heavy barrage in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth innings.

Heusser helped his own cause along in the first game by hitting a home run with none on base.

Baseball Scouts To Play Kids At Wichita

WICHITA, Kan., June 5 (U.P) — The National Baseball Congress announced today that an exhibition game will be staged in the 11th annual national championship tournament here Aug. 10, in which all major league scouts, regardless of age, will play the youngest state championship team entered in the tourney.

"For years the scouts have been telling the young players how baseball should be played and what they should and shouldn't be doing to become future big-league stars," Congress President Ray Dumont said. "Now it'll be up to the scouts to show them."

The scouts will comprise the All-American board to name the 16 leading prospects for organized baseball on the annual All-American sandlot team from players entered in the national championship playoff, Dumont said.

Mel Harder Returns To Cleveland Tribe

CLEVELAND, June 5. (AP)—Mel Harder's back.

The man who has contributed much to baseball and the Cleveland Indians in particular for nearly a score of years rejoined the Tribe today to resume his assault on the 300 mark in pitching victories.

Harder left his job as an expeditor with the Ohio Rubber Co. at Willoughby to maintain an unbroken string of 18 campaigns with the Indians. Harder's record is 209 wins against 171 setbacks.

ATHLETICS IS PRAISED

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP) — Senator Fulbright (D-Ark) said today that athletics should play an important part in future international relations under the educational and cultural program outlined at the San Francisco conference.

Senators Get Split With New York Nine

WASHINGTON, June 5 (AP) — Marino Pieretti hurled Washington's Senators to an even break with New York tonight, winning the second game of a twilight-night twin bill, 7-3, after the Yanks had pounded out a 12-3 victory.

The Senators gave little Pieretti a five-run margin in their first turn at bat by staging their biggest rally of the season at the expense of Bill Bevens.

Nick Etten rapped out a single and three doubles, driving in four runs as the Yankees fired a 19-hit attack in the first game.

Blue Bonnet Swamps Edwards Club, 13-1

The Blue Bonnet Laundry softball ten kept up its winning ways Tuesday afternoon by blasting the Edwards Grocery club 13 to 1 behind the three hit pitching of Ray Littrell.

The Blue Hatters had two big innings to salt away the game, scoring six runs in the first inning and five more in the third, then added two in the seventh for good measure. Behind this lead, the battery of Littrell and Thompson were never pressed.

The Blue Bonnet club will play the Lubbock Army Air field civilian team Friday afternoon at the Thirty-Second and Jefferson streets diamond.

Betty Jameson To Become Pro

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—Betty Jameson, twice the Women's National Amateur golf champion, turned professional today.

Twenty-minutes after sighing a contract to represent a sports equipment manufacturers, she was en route to the company's factory in Springfield, Mass., to talk with workmen concerning her ideas about women's golf equipment.

The 26-year-old Texan said that she would spend much of her time in the future in exhibitions and holding golf clinics but that she would continue tournament play wherever possible. She added that she expected to play in the Women's Open at Spokane, Wash., in August.

"In entering this new work I have high expectations of contributing something to golf for it means a new freedom—a great and wonderful new freedom with which to devote to the game. The step into pro golf is indeed a joyful one for me," she said.

She added that her game had suffered in the two-year layoff prior to last January when she earned her livelihood as a reporter and as an insurance salesman.

"Now I'll not only have time to improve my game but I'll have more time for my hobby which is 'federal union.'"

The golfer described 'federal union' as "the union now of the American people with other free peoples in the nucleus of an eventual universal world government with perpetual peace its goal."

Miss Jameson won the National Women's crown in 1939 and retained it a year later. She returned to the links this spring and lost to Mrs. George Zaharias of Los Angeles, the former Babe Didriksen, in a 72-hole match played both in San Antonio and Los Angeles for war charities. The event attracted 8,000 spectators.

Baseball School At Dallas Gets Started

DALLAS, June 5 (AP) — The proper technique and science of batting and pitching will be subjects of discussion tomorrow morning when the second class of the Dallas News' free baseball school and clinic for coaches and players gets underway here.

Al Vincent, Henry L. (Hawk) Severeid and Arthur C. (Pinkey) Whitney will be on hand to take an active part in the discussions and demonstrations.

In the first meeting today Vincent discussed equipment, training and the mechanics of correct throwing, and Severeid went through the art of catching with Vincent and Whitney assisting in giving demonstrations.

Three college coaches present were Bibb Falk of the University of Texas, Lil Dimmitt of Texas A. and M., and Cecil Grigg of Rice Institute.

McMullen Returns To Star Telegram

DALLAS, June 5. (AP)—Capt. Lorin McMullen has returned from duty in the South Pacific and Thursday will resume the sports editorship of the morning Fort Worth Star-Telegram, the position he held three years ago when he enlisted in the service as a private.

Capt. McMullen was in Dallas today visiting friends. He has been back in Texas since May 9 and is on terminal leave. His discharge from the service will be effective July 28.

Chick Stars Hit To Sleep In Soft Bed

MEMPHIS, June 5. (AP)—First Baseman Omar Lane and Shortstop George Morgan of the Memphis Chicks found the housing shortage so acute here that they are sharing a hotel room with one bed and two mattresses.

So, the player with the most hits for the day spends that night in the bed. The other spreads his mattress on the floor.

Chaplain Shows Way In Post Golf Meet

CAMP SWIFT, June 5. (AP)—"Go see the Chaplain" is now the favorite rejoinder here when officers and men begin complaining about their golf game.

For Chaplain James M. Hearn is the post links champion. The fact that he didn't have his own clubs proved no handicap. Borrowing balls and clubs here and there, even from his opponents, he breezed through the post tournament to win the championship flight, 6 and 4.

Just to make the title a little more undisputed, he met Lt. William McChesney, a winner in the first flight, in a play-off. He gave his opponent a 10-stroke handicap and won the event with ease, 4 and 3.

Solons Barely Escape Deficit

also agreed upon the conference committee report on it in the closing moments of the session.

Submission of another amendment also was assured on the last day. This was one designed to prevent diversion of road user tax funds. A conference committee report on it was adopted by the House yesterday, and the Senate made it final by agreeing also to the conference report. Broadly, it writes into the constitution the present statutes allocating road user taxes.

The House adopted the veterans land sale plan by a vote of 119 to 0 and the Senate's final approval was by a vote of 28 to 1. In its final form, the amendment permits the legislature to issue the bonds and gives the permanent school fund, the University of Texas permanent fund and the several teacher retirement funds opportunity to buy the bonds in that order of preference, before they are sold generally. The plan is to buy up land such as that now being used, for Army establishments, and re-sell to war veterans on long-term, low-interest terms.

Rural Aid Fund Bill

The rural aid appropriation bill provided approximately $6,000,000 more in state aid for rural schools for the next biennium than for the current one. Its final enactment brought the total of the seven major appropriation bills to $104,992,101 for the next two years, an increase of $17,886,847 over current appropriations.

These have all been certified by the comptroller under terms of the constitutional amendment designed to keep the state's general fund out of the red. The comptroller informed the House that money was in hand or revenues in sight to pay for these appropriations.

The only tax legislation to emerge from the 49th legislature was a bill requiring the state property tax rate for school purposes to be set at 35 cents per $100 valuation instead of the present rate of 18 cents. All other tax proposals, including various natural resource levies, were killed.

List of Bills Killed

The list of bills that were killed outright or died in committee or for want of attention on the calendars is long. It might be topped by House Bill 12, the proposed anti-closed shop measure that passed the House but died in the Senate, and bills for resolutions which would:

Authorize a $9,000,000 bond issue for permanent improvements at the University of Texas and Texas A. and M.; divide the university permanent fund among all state-owned colleges for building; increase the tax on gasoline from four to five cents a gallon; re-district the state for House and Senate representation; abolish numerous district courts;

Set up a so-called "fair trade" standard; make discrimination against Latin Americans in business places illegal; set up the office of state budget director; regulate chiropractors; change the small loans law; provide for relocation of the University of Texas medical school; lower the voting age to 18;

Call a constitutional convention; repeal primary election laws to get around the United States Supreme court negro vote decision; define and restrict the powers of the governing boards of state colleges; providing for a more secret ballot.

Russians Cite Hostile Press

By MEYER HANDLER
United Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, June 5.—The Russian Army newspaper, Red Star, charged today that a hostile foreign press, including prominent American papers, was trying to prepare public opinion for war between the western powers and the Soviet Union.

The Red Star specified headlines it said had appeared in American newspapers, such as "Red wave threatens to drown Christian civilization" in the N. Y. Journal-American, and "Soviet Union is only aggressor in world" in the Chicago Tribune.

Another Also Cited

The article also cited the N. Y. Daily News for exhorting Americans to be prepared against Russian invasions of Alaska and the Aleutian islands.

Deep concern has been felt here about the anti-Russian press campaign spreading in many countries, especially in the United States. There have been many articles and press reviews lately about the situation. Today's in Red Star was the bluntest yet. It was featured prominently on the foreign news page.

Red Star listed headlines from American, Mexican, and Turkish newspapers asserting among other things, "Red Waves threatening to engulf all Europe."

Demand By Coffee

The article referred to the demand by Rep. John M. Coffee (D., Wash). that steps be taken to halt rumors aimed against the Soviet Union.

Both Red Star and Izvestia published summaries of a recent article by Eleanor Roosevelt and a transcript of principal parts of a radio debate in which Raymond Swing took part.

In recent weeks more and more dispatches and editorial opinions dealing with the anti-Soviet press campaign abroad have been appearing in the Soviet press.

Charges of unilateral actions have been causing some of the most explosive comments and bringing answers from editorial writers.

Court Rules Wife Must Follow Hubby

ATLANTA, June 5. (AP)—The Georgia Supreme court ruled today that a wife must follow her husband even though he decides to move into a cabin.

Mrs. Lillian Viola Carver of Waycross sued Louis J. Carver for $50 monthly alimony. She said he moved into a cabin near her work and she refused to leave their five-room home and go with him.

Dismissing the suit, the tribunal said:

"In this state a husband is the head of the family and as such has the right to fix the matrimonial residence without the consent of his wife, and the wife is bound to follow her husband when he changes his residence with a good reason therefor."

MANILA, June 5 (U.P.)—Troops on Luzon have a new use for dehydrated potatoes. When T/Sgt. Ann Pecarina, Virginia, Minn., married Sgt. Clovis L. West, Dallas, Tex., the bridal couple escaped in a shower of the potatoes instead of rice.

NORTON RESTS WELL

ROCHESTER, Minn., June 5 (AP)—The Mayo clinic surgeon today pronounced the condition of Homer Norton, Texas A. and M. football coach who underwent a major operation, as "continued satisfactory." Mrs. Norton said he had a fairly comfortable night.

A Polish apothecary, Ignacy Lukasiewicz, devised the first oil lamp in 1852 and then distilled the first naptha for use in the lamp from oil. The lamp was constructed for him by a locksmith and then used to light the hospital at Lwow, Poland, on July 31, 1853.

Council Takes Over Germany

many. An interallied authority was established for the "greater Berlin area" which will be jointly occupied. The office of chief commandant will be rotated among the four commandants of the respective victor nations.

Germany was divided into four occupation zones—Russia on the east, France on the west, Britain on the northwest and the United States on the southwest. Provision was made for cooperation among the commanders in chief of the four zones on matters affecting all of Germany. Zone limits were not further described.

The agreement, announced simultaneously in Washington, Moscow, London and Paris, ordered Germany to hand over to the Allies all arms and war materials, including factories and their workers. It said all members of all German armed forces, including the secret police, would be considered prisoners of war. The only armed Germans left in the country are to be policemen with small arms, to maintain order.

Orders To Germans

It directed Germans to turn over charts of mine fields and to get to work at the dangerous business of rendering them safe.

It ordered release of Allied prisoners and inmates of concentration camps. It demanded that war criminals be handed over. It specified the surrender in good conditions of all planes, ships, railways, radio stations and other means of communication.

"All German authorities and the German people shall carry out unconditionally the requirements of the Allied representatives, and shall fully comply with all such proclamations, orders, ordinances and instructions," the agreement read. If the Germans should fail to comply, the agreement placed no strings on whatever action Allied authorities might consider it necessary or appropriate to take.

A final humiliation: The declaration, although drawn up in the English, Russian, French and German languages was to be official only in its non-German forms.

Seat Of Control Council

The control council to govern Germany for the time being presumably will sit in Berlin. Its permanent location, dependent upon its vast authority over every phase of German life and such practical matters as housing facilities and office space, is expected to be one of the first items of business the council takes up.

A permanent coordinating committee will function under the council to insure uniformity throughout the four zones of occupation. The council's staff will be set up into 13 divisions to administer German affairs. The divisions are, military, naval, air, transport, political, economic, finance, reparation, deliveries and restitution, internal affairs and communications, legal, prisoners of war and displaced persons, manpower.

The war time agency has been kept alive by congressional appropriations voted over the opposition of many southern Democratic members in both houses.

Their opposition has blocked administration efforts to get the House Rules committee to report out a permanent FEPC bill for floor action. A companion bill, approved by the Senate Labor committee, faces the threat of a filibuster on the Senate floor when it is called up there.

AIRCRAFT LEAD ADVANCE

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—Aircrafts led a specialized advance in today's stock market although many leaders in virtually all other departments exhibited stumbling tendencies.

The aviation group was in front from the start as talk of big domestic and foreign transport orders coupled with persistent demand for military planes, attracted bidders.

The Associated Press 60-stock average was off 1 of a point at 66.2. Transfers totaled 1,510,000 shares compared with 1,540,000 Monday.

At peaks for 1945 and longer were Douglas Aircraft, up 3⅝ at 84⅛; Delaware and Hudson, up 3 at 53; Grumman, up 2⅝ at 38⅝; Consolidated Vultee, up ⅝; Aviation up ⅛ and Wilson and Co. up 1.

U. S. Steel finished up ⅝, Bethlehem unchanged and Youngstown Sheet ⅛ lower. Modest advances were retained by Standard Oil (NJ), American woolen, International Harvester, Boeing, Lockheed, Houston Oil, Du Pont, Texas Co. and American Telephone.

Bonds and commodities were spotty. At Chicago wheat was unchanged to down 1 cent a bushel. Cotton rose 5 to 25 cents a bale.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, June 5 (AP)—Mill buying against textile orders and local covering steadied the cotton futures market today. Final prices were at or near the best for the day to show gains of 5 to 10 cents a bale. In early dealings the list dipped slightly on tired, long liquidation which met indifferent trade support.

Volume of trading was restricted pending action by the Senate on the extension of price control legislation which includes the Bankhead amendment affecting the cotton support program and textile prices. The general expectation in trade quarters is that the purchase plan will be extended another season. The spot cotton markets were quiet.

Futures closed 5 to 25 cents a bale higher.

equipment, started pulling anchor. They all had been loaded two nights previous between midnight and dawn.

All the ships were blacked out. The only lights visible were occasional signal blinkers and red and green markers laid down by brave little minesweepers breaking a lane for the prize cargo.

I crossed the channel to bloody Omaha beach with the third wave forces and the thing that stands out in my mind as the biggest miracle of all is how the Navy corralled this gigantic fleet of ships and got them across the channel in such orderly fashion.

At airfields throughout Britain bomber crews were in briefing rooms.

At glider and paratrooper bases crews began loading.

Before midnight the earth was trembling with the drone of planes warming up or already queuing up in the sky.

Gen. Eisenhower visited one base just before the take-off and offered a word of encouragement to the men who had the toughest job of all—landing in the darkness behind German lines with only a prayer on their lips that the assault landing forces would reach them before the Germans did.

Daring Sub Raid

low but himself remained on the bridge with the quartermaster.

Soon, the submarine fired another torpedo into the tanker, sending her to the bottom.

The Parche then started for the biggest ship of the group. Suddenly, however, a small enemy ship loomed up on the submarine's starboard bow and raced forward, apparently intending to ram. The Parche swung around almost alongside the Japanese ship but on an opposite course.

"The Japs," Ramage said later, "were screaming like a bunch of wild pigs as we cleared all around by less than 50 feet. Mutual cheers and jeers were exchanged by all hands."

Dead ahead again was the biggest ship of the convoy. The ship's bow presented a narrow target and left, as Ramage put it, only the alternative of firing "down his throat."

The Parche opened fire, however, and hit the huge ship end on, stopping it. Then the Parche swung out and scored a torpedo bullseye from the side. A few minutes later the big ship sank with a rumbling gurgle.

The Japanese escorts, meanwhile, were firing wildly at the Parche and even at each other.

With dawn at hand and a job well done, the Parche sped to safety.

Briton Firm On Levant Trouble

LONDON, June 5 (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill stood firm today for immediate mediation of the Syrian-Lebanese dispute by the United States, Britain and France in the face of formal French request for a Big Five conference on the entire Middle East question, with Russia and China also sitting in.

The action of the French council of ministers in Paris in approving General de Gaulle's proposal for a Big Five meeting will necessitate a formal reply from each of the four nations to be invited, but there appeared to be little doubt of Britain's attitude.

Report To Commons

Giving Commons a first-hand report of the recent fiery exchanges between himself and De Gaulle, Churchill asserted that a five-power conference on the dispute would "certainly cause a great deal of delay and require very careful consideration on many grounds."

What those grounds were the Prime Minister did not say, but the British foreign office has taken the view all along that the immediate concern both of London and Washington was to protect the vital communications line through the Middle East for the war against Japan.

Although so far a neutral in the Pacific war, Moscow has expressed hope that the Levant crisis would be settled quickly. The Kremlin has made no specific suggestions on the form the negotiations should take.

Trouble Charge Denied

With blunt words Churchill denied De Gaulle's allegations of last Saturday that the British had stirred up the Syrians.

"Far from stirring up agitation in the Levant states, our whole influence has been used in precisely the other direction," he declared. "Most strenuous and successful efforts had been made by the British minister in Beyrouth to produce a calmer atmosphere in which negotiations could be conducted for settlement of outstanding questions between France and the Levant states.

"We have done our utmost to preserve calm, to prevent misunderstandings and to bring the two sides together."

Britain has no designs against the French in Syria, he said.

Pilot Heavily Fined For Flying Violation

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 5. (U.P.)—A fighter pilot at the Fort Sumner, N. M., Army Air base, has been sentenced by a second air force general court martial for violation of flying regulations, it was announced today.

First Lt. Dayne Kahle will forfeit $100 for 12 months and be reprimanded. The 23-year-old officer was found guilty of flying at an altitude below minimum AAF regulations in a fighter plane on or about April 12 near Santa Rosa and Cuervo, N. M. At Cuerno his airplane hit an obstruction causing a piece to strike and injure severely a civilian standing some 300 yards away.

Lieutenant Kahle has flown 76 missions overseas and holds the air medal with three Oak Leaf clusters and a distinguished flying cross.

WPB Releases More Passenger Car Tires

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP)—The War Production board today made available an additional 500,000 passenger car tires for June, increasing the month's total to 2,500,000.

This brought to 10,000,000 the number of passenger car tires made available for replacement use during the first half of the year.

Only B and C ration holders are eligible for new tires.

The WPB also released an additional 25,000 medium truck tires for distribution in June.

Informality Features House Adjournment

AUSTIN, June 5 (AP)—Informality was the keynote to the very last in the House of Representatives.

Its committee appointed to notify the governor the House had ended the work of the session was headed by Rep. Sam Hanna of Dallas.

Said Hanna to the governor: "We have hit the bottom of the till. Everybody is busted. We have to go home now."

One of the fastest planes in existence today is the high-flying jet-propelled P-80 or "Shooting Star," which can attain a speed of between 500 and 600 m. p. h.

News Briefs

Mrs. Artie Hill of 1002 Ave. X received a telegram yesterday from her son, Second Lt. Jack W. Rogers, who had been a prisoner of war in Germany for the last 21 months, in which he revealed he is back in the United States and will be home soon. Lt. Rogers was a pilot of the Eighth Air force based in England before he was taken prisoner.

Deputy Sheriff Earl Horton will leave this morning to deliver two boys to the reform institution at Gatesville and a woman to the hospital for the insane at Austin. County Judge Walter Davies revoked the paroles of the two boys Tuesday after they admitted breaking into several business establishments here. Both are under 16.

Burglary of the Magnolia wholesale station at O'Donnell was reported to the Lubbock county sheriff's department Tuesday by Sheriff Sam Floyd of Lynn county. A table-model radio was taken, he said.

Senate Kills School Bill, OKs Pay Hike

AUSTIN, June 5 (AP) — A bill setting up a school to train social service workers at the University of Texas was killed today by the Senate.

The Senate also adopted a conference committee report, thus finally enacting a bill increasing the salaries of district attorneys.

Killed outright in the Senate were proposed constitutional amendments which have permitted unmarried persons to claim homestead tax exemptions, and providing that husbands and wives could make acknowledgements together before a notary in the disposition of a homestead, instead of apart as now provided.

Graves Named Senate President Pro Tem

AUSTIN, June 5 (AP)—In the closing minutes of the 49th session the Senate today unanimously elected W. C. Graves of Dallas as president pro-tempore.

The oath of office was administered by Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith in the presence of the Senate.

Graves' name was placed in nomination by Kyle Vick of Waco and seconded by A. M. Aikin of Paris. R. C. Lanning of Jacksboro, H. L. Winfield of Fort Stockton, Alton York of Bryan, Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo and T. C. Chadwick of Quitman.

Texas Polio Cases Continue To Mount

AUSTIN, June 5. (AP) — Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, reported today that a revised report shows 24 new cases of poliomyelitis over the state from May 26 to June 4 inclusive.

During May there were 50 cases, an incidence four times greater than that reported two years ago, when polio attained epidemic proportions during the latter part of the summer in some parts of the state.

Pasternak, Famous Soviet Painter, Dies

LONDON, June 5 (AP) — The death of Prof. Leonid Pasternak, 73, noted Russian painter and friend of Leo Tolstoy, was announced today in Oxford, where he had been living.

Pasternak illustrated Tolstoy's "Resurrection." Some of his work is in the British museum.

Murder And Suicide Is Ruled In Deaths

SAN DIEGO, Calif., June 5 (AP)—Deputy coroner Lloyd F. Jones said today that Woodrow Wilson Haley, 30, of Dallas, shot his wife, Gladys to death, then killed himself.

The shooting occurred last night in an automobile at La Mesa, a suburban town east of here.

HOUSE BUILDING STARTS

LONDON, June 5 (AP)—Britain's aircraft industry, "beating bombers into bungalows," will launch production this year of 50,000 prefabricated aluminum houses, Duncan Sandys, minister of works, announced today at an exhibition in London of the first full-scale model.

ODESSA GRABS BONDS

ODESSA, June 5 (AP) — Five thousand Odessa citizens purchased $53,000 worth of bonds at "Here's Your Infantry" show last night. The show featured a simulated attack on a Japanese pill box.

The Negro Veteran Needs Help

CONGRESS has passed a bill which gives veterans certain rights, one of which is the partial guarantee of loans for the building, or the purchasing, of homes. Every veteran, who has served ninety days since September, 1940, in the armed forces, and who has an honorable discharge, is entitled, under proper conditions, to a maximum guarantee of $2,000.

There are certain conditions in securing a loan which must be met before the Veterans' administration can approve a loan:

1. The appraised value must be as much, or exceed the purchase price.
2. The veteran must have a job, or the assurance of a job, with sufficient compensation from which to pay his loan.

It is wise to point out that a GI loan is a loan and not a gift from the government. The interest rate, however, is four per cent and the government pays the interest of the guaranteed part for the first year.

These are definite privileges not granted in loans to the average citizen.

The discharged negro GI who returns to Lubbock is having difficulty in securing a home loan.

The principal cause of this difficulty is the appraised value.

The negro residential district of Lubbock has no orderly form of home building. A $100 shack may be built next to a $3,000 or $4,000 home. If the negroes here would establish a restricted residential area, loans could be secured. This area would not necessarily have to be twenty or thirty acres, but two or three blocks would suffice.

The things which definitely affect the appraised value of property are as follows:

1. Restrictions. Uniformity of homes as to price and size.
2. Design and livability.
3. Sufficient lot area to provide landscaping and play area.
4. Encroachment of undesirable industry which would cause annoyance to the neighborhood.
5. Convenience to school, shopping center, churches, play grounds, and bus lines.
6. Availability of utilities.

The loan companies which are asked to make these loans must take a substantial part of the risk. The maximum federal guarantee is $2,000. Of course if the loan is less than $4,000 the guarantee is 50 per cent of that amount.

If a veteran is able to get any loan at all, he can secure enough to purchase the property. The appraisal is the prime factor in determining the approval of a loan. The veteran should understand, therefore, why it is so important that he build his home in a restricted area, meeting the conditions which lend to value, in order to secure a loan.

It is the duty of the appraiser to protect the veteran against unscrupulous contractors or sellers, and to protect the Veterans' administration and the lending institution against over-valuation.

We present this picture of the plight of the discharged negro veteran in Lubbock at the suggestion of Knox Thomas, executive vice-president of the First Federal Building and Loan because we, like Mr. Thomas, believe Lubbock's negro veterans should have the same opportunities their colored comrades have everywhere in the United States.

We suggest that such outstanding negroes as Dr. Joe Chatman, Dr. Clarence Lyons, Ed Struggs and Perry Jackson call other local leaders of their race into conference and begin to take whatever steps necessary to correct the situation. Success in such action would not only be of service to returning negro service men, but also will result in improved living conditions in Carver Heights.

Another Red Cross Service

ANOTHER service offered by the American Red Cross in Lubbock is that of training in water safety to be given during a 10-day school opening June 15 at Municipal pool in Mackenzie State park.

The Lubbock county chapter of the Red Cross will sponsor the school, which offers classes for children in several age groups, nurces, men and women o fall ages. Experienced swimmers, all of whom have received training in Red Cross water safety schools, will be instructors.

Especially is the school expected to appeal to those afraid to go into water, and to children whose parents will not allow them to go into the water except with adults, since supervisors will be present constantly to teach and aid the enrollees. It also will be of benefit to those who wish to improve their swimming technique.

Similar schools in the past have attracted considerable numbers of Lubbock residents, and this year's school is expected to be no exception.

A LETTER FROM THE DEAD
XXIV

There was the ache of tragedy in the house in Louisburg Square.

All the servants had gone but Simms and he hung on with dogged loyalty. There was little for him to do. I think he hated to leave the curious fustiness of the old house. Pat was in bed of nervous collapse, and I heard the discreet rustling of the nurse's uniform as she glided to and from the kitchen with her nourishment trays.

Charley arrived, and as if by mute consent, we gravitated towards Phineas Hudson's study. On a desk that looked like a spinet was a quill pen and beside it in the bronze inkwell an ordinary red pen-holder such as one could purchase in the five and ten-cent store. Beside the pens lay a thick volume with a leather cover and on the cover the simple gold letters: JOURNAL.

Feeling like a ghoul I opened the volume. I turned to the last notation: Execrable weather and me off to The Ledges. The cumulative consequences of one ill-considered act are staggering Not the least of which is the necessity of exposing my vulnerable body and spirit to the rigors of Sardy Point in November.

Something or nothing? There was no telling. What ill-considered act? Whose? Then there was the notation on April 30: Today concluded satisfactory arrangements with W. Typical Hudson embroidery, but a little less clear.

This cryptic entry was anything but clear. W. might be Woolf, but what the embroidery was I could not fathom. But the next notation stopped me. It concerned the death of his wife and after it was a lapse of a month. It simply said:

Beatrice gone. What shall I do? God give me strength.

I closed the journal.

"I'm no detective," I said to Charley, "and I've no stomach for this."

We went into the library and sat through the gray hours of the morning, smoking and waiting for someone to put an end to our uselessness.

It was the post-man who started it all rolling again. Merely by dropping the mail through the slot and ringing the bell. The letter caught my eye at once. A long white envelope and written across the face in clear, bold script was Phineas Hudson's name with the appendage Esquire added as a kind of ironic fillip. And in the lower left hand corner were two words that the writer had written large and underlined for emphasis: Personal — Urgent. I felt a tingling at the roots of my hair. I carried the letter into the study. its thickness teasing my palm, and passed it to Charley.

"You're the legal half of this firm," I said. "What about it?"

Charley looked at me silently then stared up at me. Excitement leaked into his eyes, betraying the dead calm of his voice.

"That's Phineas Hudson's signature."

And his finger was resting on the address on the envelope

"But it can't be," I said. "He's dead."

Charley slit open the long envelope. An insurance policy and a note. Nothing more. Charley glanced at the note, read a line or two, then stopped.

"This seems to be personal," he said. "It's for Pat."

"Pat's asleep," I said. "You'd better read it all."

* * *

The letter was signed by Phineas Hudson—a strangely moving message to his daughter which he had addressed to himself for reasons that came clear in the note.

"Dear Pat,

So many times I've heard of people who have forgotten to say goodbye, and I've seen the heartache that this neglect has caused. The occasion seems to have arrived for me to take my leave of you. If I am wrong, I can intercept this letter myself and avoid feeling incredibly foolish and sentimental. If I am right—God bless you, child, and from the bottom of my heart I wish you all the happiness that the world can hold for its own.

Don't worry about me. If I greatly cared to live, I should not be attempting what I have in mind. The insurance policy is one I had forgotten. It's small enough to help only a little, but not big enough to hurt.

Remember, Pat, no false gods And no stickiness about your 'poor father,' who goes to a better world and, thanks to a little tardy vision, knows it.

With all my love,

Father."

"And he could have told us so much," said Charley as he folded the note

"It was against his policy," I said. "What you're ignorant of, you needn't lie about. Let me see that note a moment."

One sentence interested me: "If I greatly cared to live, I should not be attempting what I have in mind."

I read it aloud.

"What do you suppose he meant by that, Charley?"

Charley shook his head.

"If I didn't know he was murdered, I should say suicide."

"I wonder if he really had the diamonds?"

"If he did," Charley answered darkly, "I hope he took them with him."

But he hadn't. And what we had lived dangerously in the fringes of was now lumped squarely into our laps. I have tried since, desperately but unsuccessfully, to erase the memory of those next 48 hours. They scarcely come under the head of pleasant reminiscences.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

IF you read my column last January and February you may remmeber my complaints about the terrible New England winters; how we were snowbound for days on end; how we were without electricity and telephone service for more than a week and how I wished I had never bought this place and swore that next year come December I'll close up the house and take an apartment in New York.

BRANDEIS

My wife din't like it either, but instead of kicking about winter she kept thinking about spring.

"You'd sell the house for almost anything now," she said, "but wait till June and you won't sell it for anything."

Well, June is here, and, as usual, darn it, my wife was right.

Just yesterday the real estate man whom I had asked to sell my house told me that he had an offer which would bring me a very substantial profit.

I smiled condescendingly and said:

"My dear Mr. Goodfellow, this house is not for sale at any price."

* * *

And do you know why it is not for sale?

For the very reason that other people want to buy it.

It isn't for sale, because the honeysuckle and the vistaria are in bloom

It isn't for sale, because there is a robin's nest in the same tree that was covered with snow only a few months ago.

It is not for sale, because the radishes and the onions and the nasturtiums and the morning glories and the snapdragon and the tomatoes which I planted are beginning to come up.

It isn't for sale, because this house has taught me that you love those things the best for which you have suffered the most.

* * *

EVERYWHERE I look, there are things that I put in, for which I worked.

There are my maple trees and my cherries and my rhubarb and my own roof over my head. Yes, there even is a cesspool which has just cost me more than a hundred dollars of hard-earned money to repair.

Profit? Certainly I like to make a profit.

But I wouldn't sell my wife at a profit or my dog.

Profit isn't money alone.

Profit is happiness and contentment and security.

And there is profit, too, in hardship and in suffering.

It's a little bit like the fellow who hit himself on the head with a hammer, and when he was asked why he did it he replied:

"Because it feels so good when I stop."

I don't know how I'll feel next winter. But this is June, and a million dollars wouldn't pay me for the happiness I get out of this place which I may want to sell you for a nickel next January.

(But please don't make me any offer then — there'll be another June, I hope.)

Veterans Get Bad Break

Rankin's Leadership Assailed

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE most conspicuous example of the evil of the seniority system on Capitol Hill is John Rankin's chairmanship of the House Committee on World War legislation. He has generated so many personal feuds and so much ill feeling within this group that he himself doubts whether hearings on sorely needed reforms can be concluded in the near future.

Although veterans of the present struggle will suffer seriously unless the whole system of handling their difficulties is overhauled, the tousle-haired man from Mississippi resents all efforts at improvement. He has delayed action on many measures designed to ameliorate deplorable conditions. Instead, he devotes most of his energy to denouncing impartial critics, and to enactment of a bonus proposal that will cost many billions of dollars.

TUCKER

He has blocked an effective investigation of hospitals, despite evidence of overcrowding, shortages of personnel and equipment, neglect of the occupants. When an independent inquiry was proposed by advisers of the late President Roosevelt, including Mrs. Roosevelt and Bernard M. Baruch, he instructed congressmen to visit institutions in their districts, thus tipping off the management to the imminence of an inspection.

For years he showed no interest in Rep. Edith Roger's bill creating a separate Bureau of Medicine and Surgery. But when the idea gained popularity on the basis of recent revelations, he assumed the sponsorship of the movement

Unfortunately, the professional soldier organizations — the American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars and Disabled American Veterans — play along with him. He has done them many minor favors during peacetime years, when his committee was a comparatively unimportant unit, and now they are returning the compliment. But unless colleagues destroy his czaristic control by outvoting him on major measures, the plight of millions of former fighting man may become a national scandal.

BROWDER: The re-emergence of Earl Browder threatens to complicate the administration's determined attempt to reach final agreement with Russia on all the international problems which have strained relations between the two Allies in the last few months. He has hinted that he may revive the National Communist party, which was disbanded in May 1944 on orders from Moscow.

His emissaries descended on the San Francisco conference by the hundreds, and they have established headquarters in the capital. As always, they have put Moscow's concerns ahead of Washington's.

The State department entertains grave doubt that Browder has been given the green light by Stalin in the present crisis. Stalin has frequently expressed contempt for the American Communists in conversations with our diplomats and businssmen. But any indication that domestic Communists are again interfering in our foreign policy through propaganda with certain groups, especially radical labor units, will provoke resentment here and make President Truman's task far more difficult.

It was the fear of just such a development that led the House to create another "Dies committee" on a permanent basis. Members recalled that before Russia became involved in the war in June of 1941, the principal enemies of our national defense preparations were the Communists. Not until after Moscow was attacked by Hitler did the Soviet sympathizers abandon their campaign of stirring up disunity among the Allies.

It may be that Harry Hopkins can persuade the Russian dictator to issue a public disavowal of Browder's resurrected movement.

POLITICS: Bob Hannegan has taken full command of the political crew of Harry Truman's ship of state. The end has come to the post-Farley period when the endorsement of a party Democrat was more often a liability than an asset for a partisan patriot seeking a spot on the federal pay roll. The length of a man's service around headquarters and the polling booths will mean more than the length of his hair.

National Chairman Hannegan had won FDR to his viewpoint just before the latter's death, but Mr. Roosevelt's acquiescence was due largely to his desire to slough patronage problems in the postwar era. His successor, however, is a dyed-in-the-wool partisan — a characteristic of most Missouri Democrats. While not subscribing to the spoilsman theory, he believes firmly that the workers should be rewarded, and that members of the dominant regime should accept full responsibility.

And there are going to be plenty of jobs. Many Rooseveltians have quit or are preparing to receive their walking papers. The Treasury has asked authority to name 5,000 new Internal Revenue agents, and that was once the national chairman's bailiwick. Agriculture, which will soon be headed by a good New Mexico Democrat, will expand, and so will OPA under the program which Rep. Clint Anderson has outlined. Surplus Property and other reconversion agencies will need larger personnel.

Rebuilding the political machine is a necessity if — as everybody expects — President Truman seeks re-election. FDR had allowed it to fall apart, trusting to his vast popular following to return him to the White House. Those millions may now go their different political ways, and HST will have to depend on a straight partisan vote in 1948.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

NEW YORK financiers are disturbed because in the past few days leading stocks in the Paris Bourse sank to new lows.

There may be repercussions for American factory owners and workers planning to sell goods to France. Bankers say that the slump indicates that French investors have lost faith in prompt business recovery and are alarmed at the progress of radical reformers in nationalizing industry and controlling credit.

LEMAN

Wave after wave of strikes have discouraged mounfacturers who have been trying since liberation to get started again. At the same time people, especially in the big cities, are suffering from want of food and clothing and are demoralized by the scandals of the black market

At a recent mass meeting assembled to protest against hunger a speaker cried, "The only difference between life under the Nazis and life today is that now we must pay more for our forged ration cards."

Many sober citizens believe that the politicians all over Europe deliberately encourage illicit markets so they can control the public by rationing —using stamps instead of bullets to enforce their will.

IMPATIENCE: Transportation is no longer the chief cause of the food shortage.

Today the National Railway company has 6,000 engines and 11,000 freight cars. The Allies gave France 4,000 trucks and about three thousand more have been turned out by French plants. But the farmers are hoarding their crops or disposing of them through illegal channels.

The clothing crisis is particularly severe in the homes of returning prisoners of war and deportees. The government expected to import 100,000 tons of cotton but to date has received only 34,000 tons. Mills cannot operate because their coal bins are empty.

Discontent born of miseries, and impatience at the delay in purging those who profited by trading with the German enemy, are making leftist converts in the working classes. This is the inevitable result of a depression. The moneyed groups, frightened by the threats of reformers to impose a levy on wealth and institute a planned economy, are holding back, thus helping to make business stagnant.

These Are Critical Times In Washington

No Time To Let Down Our Guard

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—These are critical and trying times in Washington for the interests of the citizen—you and you and you and you.

It is partly a matter of atmosphere.

There has been a manifest letdown—entirely natural of course—as a result of the end of the war in Europe. Every newspaper carries photographs and interviews with generals and privates long identified with the war in Europe. They smile into the camera now that it is over and they are home.

STOKES

There is, for these days, a sort of respite for all of us, even though we know so many of those generals and privates are here only for a few days. Then they will go on to the big war in the Pacific. We are reminded of that war, too, by dispatches about the slow progress on Okinawa and the Japanese suicide squadrons.

We hope that will be over before long.

* * *

Like Boxer With Guard Down

We are, for the moment, like the boxer with his guard down temporarily. That once cost Gentleman Jim Corbett the world championship. He looked backward into the galleries, and Bob Fitzsimmons landed.

This is important for the Japanese war which presumably is still a long and gruelling fight, so that we've still got to keep our guard up.

It is important also for things happening here at home, in Congress.

For this is the hour of danger, with the strong temptation to let down and look away for a moment. This is the time when those will move in who have been waiting for their chance to capitalize on war weariness to break down protections set up for the common interests, to block certain projects, especially in the field of international cooperation.

They are already moving in, and in force.

Scenes Thick With Issues

THE atmosphere of Washington—the relaxation of vigilance, the temper of Congress, and the exploitation of these by selfish interests—is reminiscent of that which followed the last war. This has its norm of "normalcy" even though the war isn't over yet this time. That comes from one who saw "normalcy" begin.

The scene here has suddenly become thick with important issues. They will be important for everybody for a long time to come. As you check them off, you discover an atmosphere of danger that becomes alarming. You can almost hear the whetting of the knives of those who have been cutting where they could during the war years, and with some success, a little here and a little there.

Now they are out for the real business.

Want To "Let Off Brakes"

THE Senate is taking up the bill for continuing the OPA which has successfully held the line, under considerable difficulties, against such inflation as proved so disastrous after the last war. There are those out to kill off or cripple that and "let off the brakes."

The House is beginning to consider the Bretton Woods agreements for an international bank and stabilization fund to re-finance world rehabilitation and there are those — particularly in the Senate — who would kill it through indirection, by amendments and reservations.

Truman Proposes Compromise

President Truman has asked for an adequate unemployment compensation program for those who lose their jobs during reconversion, which already has started. The President proposed a compromise between a federal and a state program. Those who defeated it a year ago, despite the kindness they had shown previously to big business in reconversion, are organizing to stop it gain.

This is no time to let down the guard.

Fighting First Army Has Another "First"

NEW YORK, June 5. (AP)—The U. S. First army, famed for the "firsts" it recorded in its dash from the Normandy beaches into Germany, today had another "first" to its credit — the first fighting group to send home a complete unit for redeployment to the Pacific.

Cramming the deck of the troopship Monticello, 1,453 officers and men of the First army debarked yesterday at a New York harbor pier, to the sound of whistles, sirens and jive-music.

The men were among 10,000 veterans of the European struggle who arrived here aboard three troopships and four liberty ships.

The John B. Hood, one of the Liberty ships, which brought home 250 American soldiers, displayed a gaping 10-foot hole in its bow, the result of a collision involving 14 ships off Grand Banks, Newfoundland, last Sunday when two vessels struck icebergs.

Joseph Sutton, the Hood's chief officer, said the ship was one of 96 vessels, traveling 150 feet apart, which were helpless for almost a week from dense fog.

Reduction In Civil Service Rolls Seen

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP) — The government expects to drop 20,000 employees a month in the next year.

Plans for the reduction were disclosed today by the budget bureau in a letter to the House Civil Service committee.

The bureau estimated an overall decrease of 250,000 federal jobholders "in the next year or so."

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Buses are overburdened as never before. A crisis is near. With more men, tires and gas going to war, present service can barely be maintained. Each day brings greater loads. When you must travel locally, let this be your creed:

1. Do Not Ride in Rush Hours, except to and from your job.
2. Have Exact Fare Ready, saves time and fuss.
3. Move Back When Driver Asks, speeds your ride.

This simple creed will work wonders.

IN BEHALF of our boys in the armed forces, we wish to thank you for the way you responded to our plea for large clean grade A eggs. Because of your patriotic cooperation, we have been able to get their eggs to them much faster than could have been possible otherwise. We still have many more war department orders to fill, and the government is looking to you to help us meet our increased quotas.
If you haven't heard of the way that you can make more money, and still be helping our soldier boys, ask your neighbor, or we will give you the information. Your large clean grade A eggs are still desperately needed. Thanks again.

WOMEN VOTING IS NEWS IN FRANCE—Two nuns take advantage of their new political freedom in the recent Paris elections, when France for the first time in its history permitted women to cast their ballots. Final tabulation showed 14,000,000 women's votes were cast as against 9,000,000 for the men.

Arab States Oppose France On Council

SAN FRANCISCO, June 5. (AP)—The five Arab states at the United Nations conference agreed today to oppose the big power veto authority in the new world organization so long as the present government of France continues.

A spokesman for the group—Egypt, Syria, Lebanon, Saudi Arabia and Iraq—said all will vote against a veto right until France has what he termed "a constitutional, democratic responsible government."

The Arabs and French have been in bitter word conflict at the conference since the French-Syrian troubles that resulted in bloodshed in Syria. As one of the Big Five powers, a permanent seat plus a veto power is contemplated for France on the security council of the world organization.

The Arabs were described as believing that France now "is the complete responsibility of one man, General de Gaulle, and has no constitution, no parliament and no responsible government."

Textbooks On Safe Driving Proposed

AUSTIN, June 5. (AP)—The state board of education in session here today went on record with a motion consider a call for consideration of textbooks on safe driving for high schools.

The board also approved the sale of properties held by the Rocky Mountain rural school near New London to the state board of health for $10,000 and for the sale of 10 acres of land held by the Irving school district for $10,000.

Tito Lays Firm Claim To Austrian Territory

LONDON, June 5. (AP)—Marshal Tito in a speech broadcast by the Belgrade radio insisted today that Carinthia in Austria belonged to Yugoslavia and "we shall fight for her."

Britain and the United States have made clear that the question of Carinthia should be left for the peace table. Yugoslav troops were withdrawn from the territory upon the insistence of London and Washington.

Veterans To Be First To Get Surplus Goods

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP)—Veterans planning to open small businesses will have first crack at surplus war goods.

They may list their needs with regional offices of the smaller war plants corporation, which in turn will buy the requested items as various government agencies declare them surplus and re-sell them to the ex-servicemen.

King Haakon Returns To Norwegian Throne

LONDON, June 5. (AP) — King Haakon left London for Norway tonight, ending five years of rule-in-exile after German occupation of his kingdom.

The monarch will arrive in Oslo aboard a British warship June 7, which is the fifth anniversary of his departure for Britain and the 40th anniversary of Norway's complete break from Sweden.

Accompanying Haakon are his daughter-in-law, the Crown Princess Martha, and her children, the Princesses Ragnhild and Astrid, and Prince Harald.

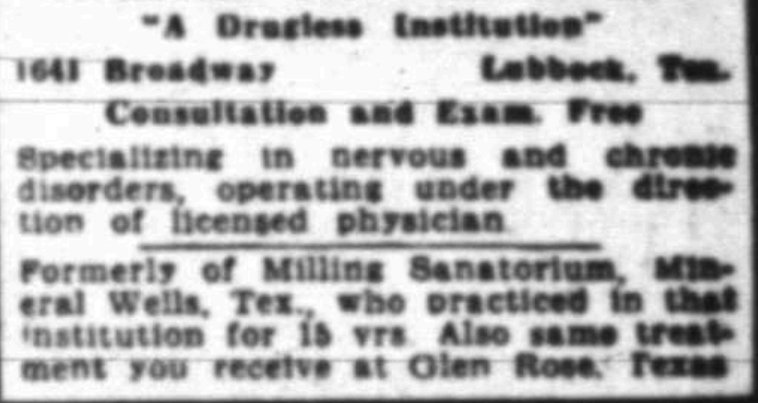

The crown princess and her children lived at Bethesda, Md., during the war. They arrived in London three weeks ago. King Haakon's wartime residence, secret until now, was an estate near Windsor castle in an area to which a number of German buzz bombs penetrated.

Juvenile Girls Held In Death Of Baby

PHILADELPHIA, June 5. (AP)—Two young girls who abducted a three-month-old baby which later was found dead of a broken neck were ordered held today for juvenile court.

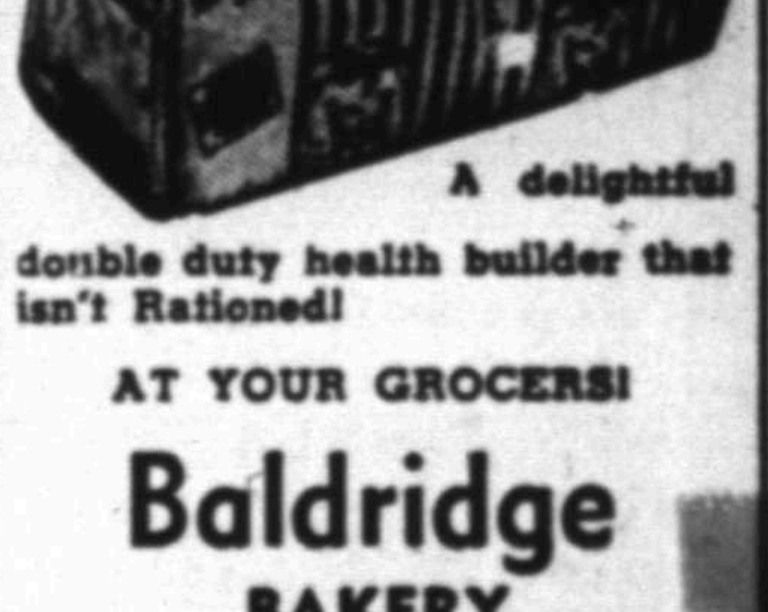

Irene Jones, 15, and her sister, Janet, 11, were arraigned at the house of detention on charges of abduction and theft of a baby carriage in connection with the death last Thursday of Thomas V. Ripley, jr., son of Mrs. Barbara Ripley. Attaches said the juvenile court hearing would be held Thursday or Friday of this week.

Jap Suicide Attacks Said Mostly Unsuccessful; Cause Few Changes

WASHINGTON, June 5. (U.P.)—Vice Adm. Marc A. Mitscher disclosed today that Japanese suicide plane attacks have made it necessary to redesign some equipment aboard U. S. naval ships.

He added at a press conference, however, that the suicide plane menace "isn't too serious" and that "we are not particularly concerned about it."

Few Reach Targets

The commander of hard-hitting task force 58, here for conferences, went on to say that only one per cent of Japanese planes which attack U. S. naval craft ever get through to their targets.

Meanwhile, observers here believed reports from the Pacific of a superior new Japanese fighter, manned by highly competent pilots, indicated the enemy was drawing on his last air resources.

Mitscher said of the reports that "we have never encountered any Japanese plane that out-performed our modern carrier fighters." He said the Japanese have highly improved fighter types, but asserted that the Corsair (F4J) outperforms any plane the Japanese can bring against us.

Mitscher said that more than 1,600 Japanese planes have been shot down over Okinawa alone. On the subject of suicide bombing he added:

"It is daily being reduced, and indications are that it will be further reduced. It is just a different form of dive-bombing . . . It is something that we have been expecting to encounter all along. I have been on two ships that have been hit. We have taken a good many casualties on smaller ships."

He added, however, that no large combatant ships have been lost to suicide attack in the entire Okinawa campaign, and that no ship of task force 58 has been lost to any kind of enemy action in the Okinawa operation.

Questioned as to whether any defense has been perfected against suicide planes, he said:

"I think we can practically eliminate it, as far as the Japanese are concerned. It will require some redesign of equipment aboard ships, but we are not particularly concerned about it.'

FALLS OFF BENCH

PUEBLO, Colo., June 5. (AP)—Overseas three years, Cpl. John L. Stitinich of Gary, Ind., went through 50 combat flying missions without a nick. On his way home, he stopped in Pueblo, missed his train and went to police headquarters to spend the night. Snoozing on a bench in municipal court, Stitinich fell off and fractured his elbow.

Bronze Star Given To James A. Duncan

Announcement has been received by Mrs. O. R. Warren of New Home community that her brother, Pfc. James A. Duncan, has been awarded the Bronze Star for "exceptional gallantry in action" in Belgium during action against the Germans Jan. 30 of this year.

A member of the 740th tank battalion, Duncan was "directly responsible" for his platoon breaking up German counterattacks.

The platoon had destroyed an enemy column, the citation received by his sister read, and had run low on ammunition when the Nazis launched their counterattacks. Pfc. Duncan drove a truck loaded with the needed supplies through intense artillery and mortar fire and aided tank men in loading their guns, thus breaking up the counterblows of the enemy.

Duncan attended high school at Wolfe City, Hunt county. His wife Gwen Duncan, lives in Lubbock.

Arrangements Made For Airport Work

Arrangements were completed Monday with John Glover, contractor, for remodeling of office space in the Municipal airport.

The office space on the south side of the hangar will be remodeled to provide space for Essair, Inc., Braniff, and Continental airlines, which have Civil Aeronautics board permits to operate routes through Lubbock. All three airlines were represented at a meeting here recently and made suggestions regarding office space.

Remodeling is to be completed in about three weeks, said Marlin R. Smith, city manager.

Farmers Are Given Preference Rating

WASHINGTON, June 5. (AP)—The WPB today gave farmers an AA-2 preference rating for obtaining necessary farm supplies.

The action, the agency said, places farmers on the same level of performance in buying as other war-supporting industries and gives farmers first call on hundreds of items ranging from hoses, pails and axes to air compressors.

A farmer no longer need obtain approval of the county farm ration committee for purchases in excess of $50.

He merely will certify to his retailer that he needs certain supplies for farm use. The retailer then will send the certificate to his wholesaler, who in turn will send it to the manufacturer.

Alligators are known to live to be several hundreds of years old.
