OHIO CONTEST

Wallace Gets Help From Supreme Court

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Third party candidate George C. Wallace's attempt to get on the November election ballot in all 50 states has received a boost from the U.S. Supreme Court.

The court has agreed to hear an appeal of a three-judge federal court ruling which denied Wallace a place on the Ohio ballot. Justice Potter Stewert said Tuesday the appeal will be heard on Oct. 7, the first day of the new session.

He also ordered Ohio election officials to program voting machines and prepare ballots to include Wallace's name in case the court rules in favor of the former Alabama governor.

Wallace headquarters savs he has complied with ballot requirements in all states but Ohio and New Hampshire. A petition drive is under way in New Hampshire.

Wallace is expected to announce the site and date of a national convention of his American Independent party today in New Orleans, La., where he addresses the 50th annual convention of the American Legion.

The speech kicks off a 14-state barnstorming tour for the former Alabama governor who had been resting and recuperating from a cold for more than a week.

GLASSCOCK

First Bale In

Glasscock County's first bale of cotton was reported ginned this morning at St. Lawrence Gin.

Delmer Batla, gin manager, said the cotton was brought in by J. W. Hardy, St. Lawrence, and it weighed 511 pounds. It was ginned from 1,500 pounds of 15-17 Acala variety seed cotton, and yielded 840 pounds of seed. The cotton should grade at middling 1⅛ inch, Batla said.

Last Friday St. Lawrence Gin processed a bale from the L. V. and B. L. Braden farm in Midland County.

Okays Sales Tax

LEVELLAND, Tex. (AP) — Residents of Levelland on the South Plains have become the 285th municipality to approve the one per cent city sales tax.

A total of 1,002 persons voted for the levy and 519 against it in a special election Tuesday. It was the highest vote ever recorded in a city election here.

The tax is expected to yield the city about $100,000 a year.

The Texas Municipal League says 42 towns have rejected the local sales tax levy.

Another election, this one at Seagraves, also on the South Plains, will be held Saturday to determine if a one cent tax shall be imposed at that city. Election officials said they expect a light turnout.

$8 MILLION

HemisFair In Red

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — HemisFair, the San Antonio world's fair, was about $8 million in the red on July 5, city councilmen were told Tuesday.

After hearing this, council member Peter Torres asserted that Mayor W. W. McAllister should resign.

A committee of councilmen supplied the deficit figure, adding that the total included $873,000 owed the city government and its water and public service boards.

H. B. Zachry, HemisFair executive officer, was quoted by the committee as saying he would not be ready to discuss any settlement of the debt to the city until the Oct. 6 closing of the exposition.

Wants A Change

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston man who was given a bad conduct discharge from the U.S. Air Force 20 years ago is filing suit for an honorable discharge certificate, retroactive promotion to chief warrant officer and retirement with 30 years service.

J. B. Keys, 40, said he was deprived of his constitutional rights when he was court martialed for allegedly refusing to carry out an order to clean a latrine at Goodfellow Air Force Base, San Angelo.

Key's $2 million damage suit was filed against Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford in a federal court Monday.

Jet Liner Plunges Into Sea, 95 Killed

NICE, France (AP) — An Air France Caravelle jet liner crashed into the Mediterranean Sea today killing all 95 persons aboard, including Gen. Rene Cogny, who commanded French troops in North Vietnam at the time Dien Bien Phu fell, the airline said.

The plane, just recently put into service, was on a flight from Ajaccio, Corsica, to Nice, on the Riviera. Shortly before the crash, the pilot messaged: "Fire aboard!"

The wreckage of the plane was located 12 miles off the Riviera coast.

The pilot of the plane, which was approaching Nice for a landing at its seaside airport, shouted one last message into his radio. "There is still fire aboard. We . . ." and his voice broke off.

Several residents of the Riviera reported seeing a huge black column of smoke rising from the sea off Cap d'Antibes. Others reported a ball of fire shortly before the twin-jet plane disappeared. Fisherman Marius Guis said he heard an explosion.

A search by sea and air was begun in rainy weather. One plane signalled that there appeared to be lifeboats around the wreckage, but this was not confirmed. The first three bodies brought to the mainland by helicopters were badly burned.

There were 89 passengers—apparently mostly French—and six crewmembers aboard the plane. Among the dead there were said to be 13 children.

Cogny, 64, was named commander of French ground forces in North Vietnam in May, 1953, during the French-Indochina war. He watched the fall of the French base at Dien Bien Phu in 1954, under continued assaults of the Viet Minh led by Gen. Nguyen Vo Giap, now North Vietnamese defense minister.

STRONGEST DENUNCIATION OF PEACE TALKS

More Defeats Promised N. Vietnam

PARIS (AP) — Ambassador W. Averell Harriman said today allied forces since Aug. 18 have inflicted "crushing defeats" on the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong despite Hanoi's boasts of "great military victories."

The American diplomat told Ambassador Xuan Thuy at the Paris peace talks that "further defeat, destruction and death" await the Communist command if it persists in pursuing a goal of total military victory.

"Hanoi's spokesmen would have the world believe that your forces are winning victories," he told Thuy. "This propaganda has concealed from the North Vietnamese people the awful truth that the leadership in Hanoi is prepared to bleed its youth endlessly in an attempt to discredit the government in Saigon and to weaken the resistance of the South Vietnamese people to aggression."

Harriman said the battles in the past 24 days had cost the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong 12,000 dead. He charged that the North Vietnamese were playing the leading role in the battles of South Vietnam.

Turning to mortar and rocket attacks on Saigon and other cities, Harriman said the shells have fallen only on "innocent civilians while they slept." He called such attacks "acts of terror and of wanton and random destruction, impossible to defend."

It was one of Harriman's strongest denunciations of the North Vietnamese since the talks began here four months ago.

Thuy replied by calling again on the United States to halt bombing and all other acts of war.

"Otherwise, these conversations in Paris will always remain at a dead end and the American side will have to assume the entire responsibility for it," Thuy said.

The North Vietnamese chief delegate again rejected U.S. demands for reciprocity in return for a bombing halt.

"Only yesterday President Johnson again declared that there will be no total cessation of bombing against the North without reciprocity," Thuy continued. "We repeat: There can be no reciprocity."

Thuy spurned suggestions that Hanoi is waiting for a change in U.S. presidents in the hope of achieving concessions.

"We have already declared that the presidential elections in the United States are the affair of the Americans," he said. "However, any president of the United States who does not move to settle the Vietnamese problem on the basis of fundamental national rights of the Vietnamese people will be condemned to failure."

Hijacker Wins Promise Of Trip To Cuba

MONTREAL (AP) — A passenger armed with a revolver forced an Air Canada Viscount to land here today and the airline agreed to fly him to Cuba after refueling.

The 17 passengers and two stewardesses aboard the plane, bound for Toronto from Saint John, N.B., were allowed to leave.

The gunman stayed aboard with the pilot, Capt. Ronald Hollett, and First Officer Dennis Leach, and demanded to be flown to Cuba.

NO CHOICE

"We had no choice," said an Air Canada spokesman. "He's holding a gun on our crew."

The spokesman said the four-engine turboprop will have to refuel en route to Cuba, probably somewhere in North Carolina.

The gunman, whose nationality was not known, pulled a gun on a stewardess and forced her to accompany him to the cabin, where Hollett and Leach were at the controls.

At first he demanded to be flown directly to Cuba, the airline said. Told that there was insufficient fuel, he consented a refueling stop in Montreal.

The airline spokesman said the gunman told the crew that the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency was after him.

The stewardesses were Beverly Atkinson and Chirs Waud. All four crew members are based in Toronto.

LBJ Warns Soviets Again About Force

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson, urging Moscow for the second time in two weeks not to "unleash the dogs of war," says the only way to peace in Europe is through no-holds-barred negotiations.

While urging the Soviet Union to accept earlier proposals for high-level talks on arms and troop reductions in Europe, Johnson warned that the United States never will tolerate the use or threat of force in areas of "common responsibility like Berlin."

FEARS

"The use of force generates fears and passions whose consequences no man can predict or control," the chief executive told a session of the B'nai B'rith national convention Tuesday night.

"As I said the other day in San Antonio, 'Let no one unleash the dogs of war.' Europe has suffered enough in this century," he added.

Johnson's San Antonio speech Aug. 30 was the strongest he has aimed at Moscow in months and seemed to represent part of a carefully orchestrated U.S. response to the Soviet-led invasion of Czechoslovakia 10 days earlier.

CANCELLATION

The public part of that response has included cancellation of some features of the cultural exchange program with Russia, orders that work proceed on missile development and defense to improve any U.S. negotiating position, and some Johnson comments at a news conference that the United States remains "very concerned" over Soviet actions in Eastern Europe.

The B'nai B'rith speech, his second of the day to dwell on foreign policy and the quest for peace, appeared to be more of the same rather than being prompted by any fresh Soviet actions.

But, Johnson told his enthusiastic audience, the Czech invasion has given rise to "new military and political risks . . . which demand even closer cooperation among Western allies."

PROPOSES

Referring to earlier U.S. proposals for talks with Russia, Johnson said "in the discussion we have proposed for the reduction of tension in Europe no topic would be barred. These proposals represent the only sound approach to the problem of peace and security in Europe."

Johnson drew applause 28 times in the speech that covered unrest in East Europe and tension in the Mideast. Some of the response was mild, but much of it included cheers, whistles and the clanking of silverware on glasses.

Jobless Rate Dips Sharply

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's unemployment rate dropped to 3.5 per cent of the total labor force in August, touching a 17-year low for the third time in 1968, the Labor Department said today.

The number of jobless persons declined 450,000 to 2.8 million, nearly double the expected August drop.

"The unemployment rate once again equaled the Korean war-era low reached in January, April and May of this year," the Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

At the same time, nonfarm payroll employment climbed 200,000 more than usual to an August high of 58.6 million. When farm workers and the self-employed are added, the nation's total of employed in August was 77.4 million.

The August job increases were largely in trade, service jobs and state and local governments.

The drop in unemployment, down from 3.7 per cent in July, largely reflected a drop in the number of women and teenagers seeking jobs, the bureau said.

Fighting Tempo Up, Tay Ninh Assaulted

SAIGON (AP) — Fighting raged northwest of Saigon today as the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese drove deep into the city of Tay Ninh, and American forces killed 95 enemy troops in repelling a night attack on a unit of the 25th Infantry Division.

CAMPS SHELLED

Farther northwest along the Cambodian border, North Vietnamese gunners shelled a dozen allied camps, but casualties and damage were reported light. U.S. intelligence officers foresaw no immediate attack on Saigon.

Moving under cover of a heavy mortar attack, enemy infantrymen charged the 25th Division camp 14 miles southeast of Tay Ninh. They were driven off after nearly three hours by a massive barrage from armored personnel carriers, helicopter gunships and artillery. Six Americans were reported killed and 22 wounded.

Meanwhile, South Vietnamese paratroopers and militiamen skirmished with hundreds of enemy soldiers who invaded Tay Ninh, a key provincial capital 45 miles northwest of Saigon.

In two other battles 15 and 19 miles south of the capital U.S. infantrymen of the 9th Division reported killing 60 enemy and finding a weapons cache containing 90 rifles. American losses were two killed and seven wounded.

AP correspondent John T. Wheeler reported from the U.S. combat center in Tay Ninh that a Communist defector told interrogators there were three regiments—about 7,000—in and around the city.

Wheeler said that by late afternoon firefights were raging on the northwest, southern and southeastern fringes of the city. Casualties on both sides were mounting, but the main battle for the city of 200,000 still appeared yet to come.

BLOCKING

Although some U.S. units outside the city were in blocking positions and U.S. advisers were with the South Vietnamese troops, the ground action was being fought almost entirely by South Vietnamese paratroopers, militiamen and police forces.

The heaviest battle was on the northwestern edge of the city where an enemy battalion held stubbornly to the hamlet of Thanh An despite South Vietnamese counterattacks supported by armored cars and air strikes.

Wheeler said some North Vietnamese troops coming into the city asked directions from local residents, particularly to the big church which is the headquarters of the Cao Dai religious sect.

Some enemy troops entered the cathedral, where hundreds of local people had taken refuge earlier, and a thin string of government militiamen took up positions around the big building.

The Viet Cong and North Vietnamese began pushing into the city about 1:30 a.m. under cover of a 200-round mortar barrage. Militia units put up only light resistance or none at all.

ROAD MINED

Immediately after the first attacks, South Vietnamese airborne troops were dispatched and began reaching Tay Ninh in midmorning, some by helicopter and some by convoy up Route 22, the main road connecting Tay Ninh and Saigon. The Viet Cong mined the road in unsuccessful efforts to keep reinforcements from reaching the city.

Release Hopes Snuffed Out

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hopes for quick release of the USS Pueblo, feeding on widespread rumors for a week, have been shattered by U.S. statements that North Korea is seeking more than just American apologies.

"It is my understanding," said Secretary of State Dean Rusk Tuesday, "they have asked for a good many things including commitments about further action that would involve the high seas in the Sea of Japan."

Rusk commented on leaving a closed session of the House Foreign Affairs Committee. At about the same time the State Department was releasing a carefully worded statement on the U.S. position.

Both the Rusk comments and the statement came after a week of rumors here and in Asia that North Korea might release the captured U.S. intelligence ship and its 82 crewmen in connection with North Korea's celebration of its 20th anniversary as a Communist state.

North Korea has demanded three actions from the United States in return for the ship and its crew, seized Jan. 23.

These have been an admission the vessel violated North Korea's 12-mile territorial limit, an apology and a promise there would be no violations in the future.

Train Derails Injuring 52

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — A slow-moving Penn Central passenger train derailed on elevated tracks here Tuesday, injuring 52 persons. All but five were treated at hospitals and released.

Penn Central officials were investigating the cause of the wreck. One said the train was traveling "very slowly—and we were lucky."

All 26 derailed cars stayed at the edge of the tracks, which run atop an embankment 12 to 15 feet high along the city's East Side.

Four of the injured were train crewmen. The others were among 124 passengers in four coaches on the New York-to-Chicago Pennsylvania Limited, No. 55.

ANXIOUS TO SETTLE

Committee To Vote Tuesday On Fortas

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee agreed unanimously today to vote next Tuesday on President Johnson's nomination of Abe Fortas to succeed Chief Justice Earl Warren.

The committee also, while awaiting word on whether Fortas will return for further questioning, decided to go ahead with further hearings on his nomination.

Secretary of Defense Clark M. Clifford will be invited to testify, committee members reported, and subpoenas will be issued for four other witnesses.

ANXIOUS

Members, both supporters and opponents of elevating Fortas from associate justice to succeed retiring Earl Warren, are reported anxious to settle the matter.

After a day of wrangling Monday, Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said "the feeling did develop that the committee should act within a fixed time."

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who moved to reopen the hearings and invite Fortas to testify again, said that "nobody is trying to prevent a vote as far as I know."

Other members of the committee, in which the controversial nomination has been stalled for over two months, also reported a disposition to act without extended delay.

But breaking the committee logjam would still leave Fortas' nomination threatened by filibuster in the Senate itself.

Fortas was named to be chief justice June 26. At the same time Johnson nominated federal Circuit Court Judge Homer Thornberry to be an associate justice.

The committee has yet to act on Thornberry's appointment, which also has been under fire.

McClellan, in moving to reopen hearings that ended July 23, proposed that Fortas be invited to return for questioning about Supreme Court decisions overturning obscenity convictions since he became an associate justice in 1965.

McClellan's motion was broadened to include asking questions of Fortas on any other relevant matters, including reports that since becoming a member of the court he has helped draft legislation and assisted in writing Johnson's 1966 State-of-the-Union message to Congress.

REPORTS CITED

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., spearheading the fight against confirmation, cited these reports in urging the committee to reopen the hearings.

When Fortas appeared before the committee in July, he generally refused to discuss his votes as a member of the court. He said the Constitution prohibits a Supreme Court justice from explaining his votes to another branch of government.

Office Seekers Chat

EARLY TROOP WITHDRAWALS FROM VIETNAM

HHH Verifies War Prediction

HOUSTON (AP) — Hubert H. Humphrey, answering a questioner's assertion President Johnson had contradicted his prediction of early U.S. troop withdrawals from Vietnam, waved a newspaper at a Texas audience and said, "It verifies what I said."

But the article reporting departure of a Marine regiment also said the unit had been on temporary duty, had been replaced by another and that "the move was not part of a general withdrawal."

FETCH THE PAPER

"One of the Marine divisions is on its way home," Humphrey said Tuesday night in response to the question about Johnson's statement to the American Legion convention in New Orleans that no one could foretell when withdrawals might take place. And he added: "I was just telling my staff they were a bunch of doubting Thomases."

"I have 20 staff members standing around here," the vice president said, asking that one fetch the newspaper.

Within minutes, a member of his Secret Service detail produced the newspaper, Tuesday's Houston Post, and Humphrey read the headline: "Marine Regiment Heads Home From Viet War, Withdrawal is First for U.S."

"I think it verifies what I said I hoped would happen," he said.

The incident took place at the start of a question period as the vice president kicked off his Texas campaign, portraying himself as "the best alternative" to Richard M. Nixon and George C. Wallace and appealing for party unity despite snubs from the state's top leaders.

TEXAS SCOOP

Neither Democratic Gov. John Connally, reported busy at the state capitol in Austin with paper work, nor Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D.-Tex., was on hand to greet the vice president when he landed here after a visit to Los Angeles, snubbed by Mayor Samuel F. Yorty and Assembly Speaker Jesse M. Unruh.

Humphrey told an audience of several hundred at the rally that "The greatest story of all" in this campaign will be the unity of the Texas Democratic party. House Speaker Ben Barnes and state chairman Will Davis of the top party hierarchy met the vice president here.

He drew applause answering a University of Houston student, Rex Erickson, 23, who asked what supporters of Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy should do now. "I think I offer you the best alternative of what you have available," Humphrey said.

In California earlier, he said he remains "confident" of winning McCarthy's backing. "It is inconceivable to me that we wouldn't be together when the choice is Mr. Wallace, Mr. Nixon and myself," he said in a television interview.

After more meetings and interviews here, Humphrey heads for New Orleans to speak to the American Legion convention before hopping north to Michigan for appearances in Flint and Saginaw.

PLAIN TALK

In a speech prepared for the Legion convention, Humphrey called for "plain talk, honest talk and responsible talk" on the crime issue, terming rioting, burning, sniping and mugging, "the advance guard of anarchy."

"They must—and they will—be stopped," he said.

He added that "the time has come to support our local police" but said the support must be "with action — not slogans." He called for better salaries, better training, better equipment and "effective gun control legislation."

"I know of no important political leader or legitimate institution of this country opposing 'law and order'," Humphrey said, adding that "attacks on individual political leaders and our institutions serve to break down confidence in the very rule of law itself in this country."

As Humphrey headed east on his initial campaign swing, his list of appearances for the next week was sharply cut back. After visits to Wilmington, Del., and New Jersey Thursday and to Pittsburgh Friday and Saturday, Humphrey plans to stay in Washington until next Thursday except for a one-day swing to upstate New York on Tuesday.

Deferred until later in the campaign were appearances in Toledo, Ohio, Portland, Maine, Providence, R.I., and Hartford, Conn.

Humphrey's emphasis on question-and-answer formats in what he terms "the politics of confrontation" continued.

Among those he fielded Tuesday night was one asking his view of the proposal to neutralize South Vietnam set forth by U.N. Secretary-General U Thant.

"I think it is a very sensible proposal," he said without elaboration.

NOT CIVIL WAR

He was asked "What right do we have in the first place to send American troops into a civil war in a foreign country?"

"It is not a civil war," Humphrey said. "It is open aggression."

He then went into the history of U.S. involvement, said the elections in South Vietnam have been "a thousand times better than any they've had in North Vietnam and said "this little nation" deserves "something better than harassment" from the United States.

Earlier in the day, at the TRW Systems, Inc., aerospace plant at Redondo Beach, Calif., Humphrey was asked for the first time about the Navy ship Pueblo, held since January by the North Koreans.

He said he opposes "military action" to free it but that, although he would prefer having it released now, "it would be a nice way to start off a new term under my presidency in 1969."

Keep Some 'Mad Money'

DEAR ABBY: I went on a blind date with this fellow who was recommended by a friend. He was very nice looking and his manners were good, but you can't tell anything these days by looking. Well, he took me to a drive-in movie and he was just too fast for me, so I asked him to take me right home after the movie ended, but he had other ideas.

Well, luckily he slowed up for a stop sign and I jumped out of the car. He didn't even try to stop me. He just drove off and left me. I was about 10 miles from home, and I didn't have any money with me so I thumbed a ride with a truck driver who was nice enough to take me to my door.

When I got home my father was raving mad. He said I took a terrible chance thumbing a ride home with a stranger. Yet I couldn't have walked all that way, and I wanted to get away from the guy. Was I wrong?

SEVENTEEN

DEAR SEVENTEEN: No girl should leave the house without at least a dime with which to make a telephone call. If you haven't a mother or father to call in case you need transportation, call a friend or relative. Or even the police department. Young ladies should not "thumb" rides with strangers, neither should they be walking alone at night. Play safe. ALWAYS carry enough money for transportation home.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband is retired now, and most of his cronies are either dead or too sick to be any company to him. He used to be quite the "man about town" and I spent many evenings alone and heavy-hearted, wondering when he would come home.

Now, do you know what? I can't get him out of the house. I actually have to look for things for him to do. "Go to the grocery store! Go to the drug store! Go to the hardware store!"

I can't stand the sight of him anymore. I get nauseated when I hear his key in the door.

After he reads the morning paper, he starts to follow me around like a puppy, supervising the cooking, housekeeping, etc.

If I have an acquaintance in for a cup of tea, he moves right in and monopolizes the conversation.

Dear God, I am so sick of him, death would be a welcome release. SINCERELY, WEARY

DEAR WEARY: Yours or his? The quality of a marriage is only as good as the materials used by the builders. The "lumber of life" is caring, sharing, patience, forgiveness and understanding. One can't expect to spend his twilight years in a cathedral when he's accumulated only enough "lumber" for a shack.

RUSSIANS UNHAPPY?

Appeal For Return Of Czech Refugees

PRAGUE (AP) — Czechoslovak Communist party chief Alexander Dubcek met again today with Moscow's man in Prague amid reports of further Russian complaints that Dubcek's regime is not doing enough to check "counterrevolutionaries."

A small crowd that had waited for hours cheered Dubcek as he entered the meeting with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vasily Kuznetsov, who came to Czechoslovakia Friday.

Premier Oldrich Cernik said Tuesday night he informed Soviet leaders in Moscow that "certain effective measures will be realized in our country which will have a favorable influence on the further development."

PRESS BAN

Apparently he referred to the reimposition of press censorship and a ban on formation of new political organizations. These measures await the certain approval of the National assembly Friday.

The country's reformist liberal leadership has stressed, however, that the measures will be temporary and reassured the population there will be no departure from what one newspaper termed "Dubcek socialism with a human face."

In Communist Romania, whose independent-minded leaders have backed Czechoslovakia, British Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart ended a three-day visit today. He and Romanian President Nicolae Ceausescu urged an East-West detente for the sake of world peace.

DUE PROCESS

Czechoslovak government leaders assured their people Tuesday night that due process of law will be observed despite the Soviet occupation and appealed for the return of refugees from abroad.

There have been rumors of arrests since the Soviet bloc troops invaded Aug. 20, but the leaders' proclamation said: "We reiterate that we shall never allow deformations of violations of our legal code such as we were witness to."

This apparently referred to the nation's 20 years of Stalinist-type rule, which ended in January when Alexander Dubcek became the Communist party chief.

DISTRUST

Dubcek and other top leaders proclaimed Tuesday night: "Personal immunity is guaranteed .... No one can be taken into custody except in cases foreseen by law and following the decision of the court or the prosecutor."

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) If you have to argue with a partner, let reason be your guide or there can be real trouble. Some situation you do not care for should be clarified for some other time. Take it easy and be with friends tonight for fun.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Not a good day to discuss anything with fellow workers or higher-ups, so just get your work done and then off tonight for the social amenities you like. Don't follow that hang-up of yours until p.m. Ruining your day could be very easy.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Get busy with your work without permitting pals or close tie to annoy you in a.m., and then make new and valuable contacts. Personal aims need more work on them before they can be put in operation. Keep busy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Getting busy at duties ahead of you is fine, so that you side-step kin or higher-ups who are in a belligerent mood. One you love will be in a most charming mood tonight, so get your work done with vim and vigor. Be meticulous.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Others may not understand your plans and views now, but associates listen with interest. Get them on the road quickly. Stop taking chances early, though, that could lead into real trouble — stay with the tried and proven.

VOTERS IN NINE STATE PRIMARIES FAVOR INCUMBENTS

Arizona Demos Select Goldwater's Race Opponent

By The Associated Press

Arizona Democrats have selected Barry Goldwater's Senate race opponent and veteran Republican Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont is all but re-elected after nine state primaries that heavily favored incumbents.

Goldwater's November opponent is Roy Elson, longtime aide to Sen. Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., who is retiring after 56 years in Congress.

ELSON CHOSEN

Elson beat two Democratic rivals Tuesday; Goldwater, the 1964 GOP presidential nominee, was unopposed.

Aiken, dean of Senate Republicans and a Vietnam policy critic, won not only the GOP nomination in Vermont to succeed himself, but the Democratic nomination as well on write-in votes.

In Wisconsin, Atty. Gen. Bronson C. La Follette of the politically famous family easily won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination to face incumbent GOP Gov. Warren P. Knowles in November.

The other primaries were in Colorado, Minnesota, Utah, Maryland, Rhode Island and New Hampshire.

Two former Wisconsin Democratic congressmen who were ousted by Republicans in 1966 won nominations for rematches. Lynn E. Stalbaum won a comeback try against incumbent Rep. Henry C. Schadeberg and John Race won one against incumbent Rep. William Steiger.

All 10 Wisconsin congressmen, and Sen. Gaylord Nelson who was unopposed won renominations.

In the Arizona gubernatorial race, former governor Sam Goddard won a three-way Democratic race and now faces incumbent Republican Gov. Jack R. Williams, who was unopposed.

In the Vermont gubernatorial race, Deane C. Davis won the GOP nod, who was unopposed.

Republican nomination to oppose Democratic Lt. Gov. John J. Daley.

Former Colorado Gov. Steve McNichols, in a political comeback, won the Democratic nomination to challenge incumbent Republican Sen. Peter R. Dominick, who was unopposed.

Batch Of Tornadoes Spin From Rio Grande Valley

By The Associated Press

Lightning killed a soldier near El Paso and a batch of tornadoes menaced the Lower Rio Grande Valley before the latest batch of mean weather cleared out of Texas.

By this morning, however, it was calm in all sections. Cloudy to partly cloudy skies overhung southern areas and it was clear elsewhere in the state. Temperatures were comfortably cool at most points.

Troops were engaged in a night exercise during a thunderstorm near Ft. Bliss, at El Paso, when lightning killed Pvt. Peter A. Novak of Houston. Two other soldiers were injured.

Twister funnels kept popping up late in the day as remnants of a dying cool front edged through extreme South Texas, generating locally heavy thunderstorms. Apparently the tornadoes stayed aloft and there was no damage.

Sightings of the writhing funnel clouds were reported between Brownsville and San Benito and in the vicinity of Edinburg, Mission, Harlingen, Havana and Olmito.

Moisture amounts, mostly in the Lower Rio Grande Valley and Far West Texas, included Brownsville .76 inch, Laredo .61, El Paso .46 and Alpine .11.

Fair and a little warmer was forecast nearly everywhere in the state.

Tuesday's top temperatures went only as high as 90 degrees at El Paso and 92 at Del Rio. The coolest spots were Texarkana with a high of 79 and Longview with 80.

Early morning marks today ranged from 54 degrees at Abilene and Fort Worth and 55 at Lubbock up to 71 at Brownsville and McAllen and 75 at Kingsville.

Opening lead: Queen of ♣

In his quest for overtricks on the deal, South failed to provide for the safety of his four heart contract and ended up with a deficit.

North's opening bid of two no trump is well chosen even tho he is a shade short of the required 22 points. The six card diamond suit provides adequate compensation and the slightly unbalanced distribution is no deterrent inasmuch as he has a stopper in every suit. South persisted to four hearts in easy stages, inasmuch as his holding did not lend itself to a no trump contract.

West opened the queen of clubs which was ducked in dummy and ruffed in the closed hand. South led the queen of hearts and finessed it when West did not cover. A trump was continued to the ace, on which East showed out, discarding a club.

South did not dare ruff a club now in order to continue drawing trump, for fear that a third round of clubs by the opposition would fatally shorten his heart holding. He, therefore, began to run North's diamonds.

West trumped the third diamond with the six of hearts and shifted to the king of spades in order to kill dummy's remaining entry. A fourth diamond was led and South discarded a spade as West ruffed with the king of trumps. A spade return thru the jack netted the defense two more tricks.

South was the victim of his own carelessness. While it is true that his plan would have succeeded if trumps had been divided three-two, it would have been wiser to abandon his desire to take every trick in the interests of safeguarding the contract.

When the queen of hearts is led at trick two, if West does not cover, declarer should play dummy's ace. By rejecting the finesse, he is able to continue drawing trump without giving up control. The eight of hearts is overtaken by South's nine. West may take his king whenever he likes, however, declarer can reenter his hand by ruffing the king of clubs, draw the remaining trump and then run dummy's diamonds to score 12 tricks—five hearts, six diamonds, and one spade.

Agnew Is 'Hatchet Man' In Republican Camp

WASHINGTON (AP) — The man with the political hatchet in hand in the Republican presidential campaign camp seems to be Spiro T. Agnew.

As the No. 2 man on the GOP ticket, Maryland Gov. Agnew chopped away at Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the Democratic nominee, with the kind of spirited abandon enemies of Richard M. Nixon have attributed to him in the past.

Nixon, the top GOP candidate, obviously is trying to avoid being tagged as a bare knuckles campaigner. He speaks kindly of Humphrey, while challenging the vice president on the issues and the record of the Johnson administration.

RETALIATES

Agnew, on the other hand, made it perfectly clear he is ready for political fisticuffs when he thinks the other side is inviting it. He characterized himself as a "counter fighter," a belligerent who awaits his opponent's blow and retaliates with one of his own.

What stirred Agnew to political anger was Humphrey's observation that the Nixon-Agnew team seemed to be going for a military, rather than a diplomatic, settlement of the Vietnam war.

To Agnew, Humphrey's assessment that Nixon was taking a hard line on Vietnam added up to "annual and unwarranted attack" on the Republican nominee—to be answered in kind despite all of the lofty promises from both sides that there would be no resort to personalities.

The Maryland governor quickly ticked off a series of indictments against Humphrey. He stumbled once by naming Nixon as the object of his attack but quickly recovered when reporters began laughing.

A Devotional For The Day

Upon this rock I will build my church. (Matthew 16:18)

PRAYER: Help me, O God, to be humble enough to receive and obedient enough to act until I test in my daily life and actions the lordship of Christ. Keep me open to Thee and set me free under Thy lordship this day. In Jesus' name. Amen.

(From the 'Upper Room')

Step In Right Direction

It is undeniable that a successful business enterprise with investment, employes and a program of work must have a single administrator as its head, one responsible and competent by reason of technical training.

This has to apply to Howard County's road system, and we again voice the hope — expressed by many people who want to see our county progress — that the Commissioners Court can find an engineer to head up the roads department.

The court is to be commended in making available a larger salary, now $10,000, to attract such a man, for the qualifications are such that a competitive salary is an essential. The slot still may be difficult to fill, but we feel that there is now the basis of more concentrated searching. Commissioners could serve their county well by putting renewed effort into finding a man to be put in charge of design, planning and operating the road department.

Through a period of years, under various department heads, Howard County has made good progress, but there have been "ups and downs," and we may be currently in one of the "down" cycles.

The county, we believe, can again finance a designated amount of mileage each year for permanent improvement, as it did when there were engineers, until, hopefully, our road system is second to none. This, we repeat, takes administrative planning and execution centered in one man to be responsible.

Commissioners rightfully should not be expected to be highway construction experts, and they have other responsibilities to fulfill — while, of course, still determining general policy of the road program. They themselves would be aided in the employment of an engineer who would be given adequate authority.

Howard countians, in general, have endorsed such a policy, and their expectations ought to be fulfilled. They will not be until unification of the program is brought about.

Overdue Reform

Congress, though keen on efficiency elsewhere in the federal government, is ever slothful about reform in its own operations. This is newly illustrated by word that the congressional reorganization measure, though passed by the Senate a year and a half ago, is just not going to make it through the House at this session.

That means the measure will die with the adjournment of this Congress and the whole tedious process will have to be gone through again when the 91st Congresss convenes. The antiquated machinery of our national lawmaking body, so woefully outmoded by the swift pace of modern government, will creak on without substantial reform for awhile longer.

Sen A S Monroney of Oklahoma, who sponsored the reform bill in the Senate, understandably somewhat bitter about the failure of the House to act. Bitter or not, there is much truth in his recent observation that though Congress does a lot of complaining about its burdens and about growing presidential power, it "then refuses to admit that some of these difficulties lie within its own organizational structure."

No one who has observed Congress in operation can doubt the truth of this. Committee chairmen, named largely on the basis of seniority rather than outstanding capability, frequently exercise too much power. Too many committee sessions are secret, and the privilege of proxy voting in committees is often abused. Congress also lacks the tools that would enable it to handle budget matters and other complexities of the government more efficiently. There is, as Monroney bluntly said, "blind adherence to hidebound traditions and outdated customs and creaky legislative machinery."

The proposed legislation would have taken Congress a long stride out of this morass. But the measure, after being nibbled at for 18 months, remains bottled in committee in the House. Perhaps the 91st Congress will not be so lethargic. Reform is long overdue.

A BIT OF PRACTICAL EDUCATION

Around The Rim

Addendum

By way of review, the first compendium of Pickle's Laws appeared Feb. 19, 1964. It is time to amend the tome which listed these basic discoveries, to wit:

NO. 1— "IF you fool with anything long enough, it will break;" No. 2 — "Whatever it is that you plant, it will not grow;" No. 3 — "The angle of inclination of any stairway increases in diametric proportion to the loss of youth;" No. 4 — "When you make a donation as part of a raffle, it is a donation;" and No. 5 — "When there are two or more lines of people queued for any given service, the line you choose will be the slowest."

BY REASON of long and diligent research, I am now able to offer a sixth, namely: "If two or more shirts are in your closet, the one you put on will be the one with the button off." This law also covers such things as socks and holes, girdles and hose supporters.

THOSE WHO use automobiles, as if who doesn't, will attest to the validity of this inexorable pattern: "The time required for an automobile heater or air conditioner to function effectively in local driving is equal to the time of arrival at the point of destination." Remember this next winter and control your patience. There's nothing you can do about it.

For those who look for things in the kitchen or in the household supply closets, this truth will withstand successful challenge: "No matter what you need, this is what you will be out of." Just you wait and see.

THEN THERE is this little law to which conversationalists will attest: "Whenever an individual says, 'this doesn't have any bearing on what we are discussing,' it doesn't."

Another discovery goes like this: "When a stranger says that a mutual friend asked him to look you up, a ground-floor sales pitch will follow."

For those who tend to get apoplectic at being bottled in, remember that this is inevitable: "When streets are under repair, the one you choose will lead to a dead end of barricades."

AND FINALLY, for this series of amendments to the compendium, I leave you with this immutable formula: "The period of freedom from breakdown of any item or machine is equal to the date of the last payment." — JOE PICKLE

The Threat In Czechoslovakia

WASHINGTON — Neither the United States government nor any of the presidential candidates are making a positive declaration about the events of the last month in Czechoslovakia. Yet this act of aggression constitutes one of the biggest threats to world peace that has arisen since World War II.

FOR, DESPITE the sacrifices made by the Western powers in coming to the rescue of Eastern Europe in 1939, the Moscow government has asserted itself as the imperialist master today not only of Czechoslovakia but of Rumania, Bulgaria, Hungary, Poland, East Germany, Latvia, Estonia and Lithuania. Military strength has been brazenly employed by Russia to tell these small countries that they must obey their conqueror, and that their peoples must submit to censorship of their press and a squelching of their aspirations for liberty and domestic reform.

THE WHOLE WORLD is confronted with the fact that, notwithstanding the treaties and agreements which ended World War II, the Soviet Union took over control of these countries.

The sacrifices in World War II seem wasted today. The United Nations, which was formed to preserve peace or at least to emphasize the rule of law, is inactive and appears helpless. The free nations have not yet awakened to the big threat to world peace. The United States has curtailed its "cultural-exchange program" with the Soviets, but the American government has not spoken out about the violations of World War II agreements.

DID THE Soviets in their invasion of Czechoslovakia take for granted that the United States was militarily paralyzed by the Vietnam war? Was the impression conveyed by the so-called "anti-Vietnam war" sentiment in this country that the government in Washington was out of step with public opinion? This must have seemed an opportune moment for Communist imperialism to assert itself.

SO FAR as Western Europe is concerned, there is uneasiness now that the NATO organization has been allowed virtually to crumble. President de Gaulle of France — who not only pulled out of the Western defense system but asked NATO to remove its troops and headquarters from French territory — may presently see the tragic mistake which he has made. There can be little comfort for him in the fact that the French Communist party has publicly disagreed with the intervention by the Soviet Union in Czechoslovakia's internal affairs. The challenge today is to the free nations, including France, to join together in a dramatic manifestation of support for the preservation of the agreements which ended World War II and an adherence to the provisions of the U.N. charter which have been so flagrantly ignored.

UNLESS THE United States calls a conference of all the Western governments in Europe, as well as other governments in Asia and Latin America, the inevitable result will be further steps of usurpation by the Soviet Union. This doesn't mean that nuclear threats have to be employed or that conventional military power has to be used to rescue the small countries of Europe in whose capitals puppet governments have been established by Moscow. There is a much more powerful weapon available — an economic boycott by the free countries and direct appeals by radio to the peoples of the Soviet Union. Evidences of restlessness against communism are noted not only inside Russia but in the countries in Eastern Europe which, since World War II, have been under the yoke of Soviet imperialism.

THE CZECHOSLOVAKIAN crisis affords the most clear-cut example of armed aggression and interference in the internal affairs of a small nation which the world has witnessed since the Soviet invasion of Hungary in 1956. It was precisely the same kind of indifference in the West to Hitler's acts of aggression in the 1930's which brought on World War II. Certainly experienced officials in international affairs here and abroad will see the danger of another big war unless constructive steps of prevention now are taken by stating the case clearly to the peoples of the Soviet Union.

Money Can't Buy Farming Slowdown

NEW YORK (AP) — Americans have paid farmers many billions of dollars in the past decade to cut back on production, which generally is more than the nation needs, but this year's harvest now seems likely to be the biggest ever.

As a result, still more tax money will be paid to curtail production next year. But will production fall in 1969? Very likely it will not. If it follows the trend, production again will be higher. And worried Washington will spend even more.

IT IS anomolies such as this that cause Americans to refer to the farm "problem." And it is a very complex problem. Farmers as well as bureaucrats are upset about the situation, but nobody seems to have the answers. Only explanations.

American technology, with a support from government agencies, explains in part the failure to curtail production. Subsidies may cut down on acreage planted. But output per acre grows astonishingly.

Fifteen years ago corn output per acre was in the area of 40 bushels. This year it will be more than double that figure. In just one year, wheat production has jumped 11 per cent to 28.7 bushels an acre.

AMERICAN industry, the Agriculture Department, enterprising farmers and sometimes the weather all play a part in aborting the hopes and plans of the production planners. Money seemingly cannot buy a slowdown.

The anomalies do not end here. Price support and crop reduction programs, which many people presume aid the family farmer, may in fact be aiding the corporate farmer. It is the very large, efficient farmers who are responsible for boosting production. And it is they who often receive the subsidies.

THE CHANGING pattern of farm population is seen easily in statistics. Gross farm income continues to rise—it is about $50 billion this year—although the number of farmers declines. There are 10 million people on farms now, with net income of $13 billion to $15 billion.

Even this figure is deceptive, for much of the farm population today does not receive its livelihood from the farm. With mechanization, many members of farm families now work in factories.

The character of farm families also is changing. With the rising density of urban population, some businessmen have moved out beyond the suburbs to farms. Gentlemen farmers, they receive the major part of their livelihood from other activities.

FACTORS SUCH as these distort the farm income picture. Although net income per farm continues to rise or remain near record high levels, around $5,000 a year, most family farmers are caught in a price squeeze. Some are bitter.

Dissatisfaction is widespread with the current relationships of farmer to government and farmer to industry. Attitudes to and analyses of the farm situation obviously need to be reviewed and brought up to date.

Not everyone can be made happy. Perhaps there is no answer. But in studying the American farm we should at least know what the subject is. It isn't what it was 10 years ago.

Dig This Wild Digit Dialing

NEW YORK (AP) — Most people complain that there are too many numbers in their lives these days, but in my case one digit too few caused several complications.

Last week our daughter was spending the night out of town, attending a farewell party given in her honor before she took off for a school year away from home.

One of her friends was due to fly in from Maine the next morning to say goodbye, and we had strict orders to pick the girl up at the airport when she called to say she had arrived.

THE FRIEND CALLED all right, so early in the morning that I wasn't quite sure who she — or I — was. It seems she had flown in the previous evening, was staying with her sister and wanted Gay to call her when she got home.

I wrote down the telephone number and crawled sleepily back into bed.

When Gay returned I gave her the message. But there was a problem. The number I had scrawled had only six digits instead of the required seven.

It didn't take the services of a computer for us to realize that there were thousands of possible combinations, since we didn't know just where the missing number might belong in the series.

GAY WAS SO ANNOYED with me that if she hadn't been planning to leave home anyway, I think she would have decided to at that moment. Her friend had made a long trip for the express purpose of seeing her, and there wasn't much time left for them to be together.

Faced with my departing daughter's reproachful looks I generously offered her the privilege of calling Priscilla's home in Maine to find out the phone number, or at least the name of the sister's husband. She tried, but there was no answer.

Gamely I started in dialing, inserting "0" between every digit in turn. Most weren't working numbers, but I did manage to get a few people off to an irate start on the day.

WHEN MY INDEX FINGER gave out Gay took over, but she, overenthusiastic with her trigger finger, made contact with so many people with far-distant area codes that the search began to get expensive.

Then she called a couple of her out-of-town schoolmates, hoping they might have some clue as to the sister's identity or whereabouts. They didn't.

Every other possibility exhausted, she put in another call to Maine. This ume she got Priscilla's mother—and the right telephone number. The culprit was the first digit.

Relieved and elated, Gay dialed the proper sequence.

"I figured you'd lost my number or something," said Priscilla. "I've been trying to call you back for an hour, but your line has been busy."

Lions At Candidates' Heels

WASHINGTON — Candidates Humphrey and Nixon must run real fast, not just to win the presidential race — but to stay ahead of the ravening lions in pursuit of them.

Hot on the traces of Hubert is a two-headed jungle cat which wears the regal visage of the House of Kennedy and also the reproving physiognomy of Eugene McCarthy, Pied Piper of the New Left.

ROARING AT the heels of Dick is the tawny, tireless carnivore, George Wallace of Alabama, once supposed to be only a regional menace, but now ranging north and west, wherever the vote-gobbling is good.

Neither of the major candidates is quite free to choose the direction and pace of his campaign. Each must go ahead of his lion. Each must, to some extent, match his speed to that of his pursuer. Nixon to make decisions that Wallace has already made, Humphrey to head for goals that the Kennedy-McCarthy groupings have designated.

HUMPHREY'S predicament is mortifying and he may be run to earth before November. The Kennedy clique, once king of the jungle, has never recognized any pretender to that title. The non-recognition of LBJ is not rescinded. It has been extended, by Sen. Ted Kennedy, to Johnson's chosen successor, Hubert Humphrey. The Kennedy interests, aside from Kennedy emotions, call for Humphrey to be defeated this year, and Hubert's only recourse is to scamper as far as he can from Johnson's policies and as close as he can get to Ted Kennedy's edict given at Holy Cross College — "Stop the War —Now" How Hubert can do this, considering the Convention's vote for Johnson's war policy, is something that political agility and desperation must devise.

THE TWO-HEADEDNESS of Hubert's lion enhances the comic aspect of the chase, for the jaws of Gene McCarthy are also nipping at the Vice President's heels. He must go where Gene is driving him, and that is toward some toleration for mobology as well as for pacifism.

Dick Nixon's lion-on-the-trail, George Wallace, is another breed of cat, and it's possible that Nixon may cope with him without serious loss of dignity. But to do so, the GOP candidate must outrace Wallace to reach the millions of white-collared and blue-collared citizens who at this writing are in a mood to vote for Beezelbub rather than endure present conditions.

NIXON'S PROBLEM is one of disprove-and-discredit. He must disprove the Wallace refrain that there isn't "a dime's worth of difference" between the two major parties. He must discredit the Alabaman's neo-Rooseveltian claim to the role of Indispensible Man.

THIS IS THE most vulnerable, yet least assaulted, flank of the Wallace front. His other positions — a stand for the harrassed middle class with its ethnic majority, his opposition to lunatic leftism, his super-patriotism — are certainly not repugnant. The more that Wallace forces Nixon in these directions the better. But the Wallace implication that he, and he alone, self-nominated and self-propelled, can restore America is a familiar dictatorial obsession, altogether alien to American ways.

There is, then, this difference to note. Humphrey is hunted by a man-eater that could leave him gasping and mangled by election day. Nixon, if he had the nerve, can turn around and come to grips with the Indispensible One.

Billy Graham

Will you please explain Matthew 19:30: "But many that are first shall be last; and the last shall be first." M.T.

The previous verse gives us the key. "And everyone that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or land, for my name's sake, shall receive an hundredfold, and shall inherit everlasting life."

In these words our Lord is clarifying life's values. He is saying, many that are first in wealth, in prestige, in honor (in this world) shall not necessarily be "first" in the next. Because we attach such importance to material things, He is telling us, that in the light of eternity, these things will not seem important.

Some time ago I counseled a man of great wealth. He had been twice divorced, had a drinking problem, and was generally mixed up about life's values. Then he said: "My older brother who is what we might call a failure, is a greater success than I." He then went on to tell me that his brother had a happy family, a faithful wife, the respect of his neighbors, and faith in God. Materially, his brother was last, but in real values, he was first. As we look around us, we can see this law working out in everyday life. When the books are balanced in heaven, many successful men will be counted failures, and many failures, as the world reckons, will be first.

The Use Of Powdered Foods For Reducing

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: Do you consider the new instant powdered breakfast foods to have the nutrition value they claim, and would it be safe to use them as a total diet for a week to lose a few pounds? I am 57 with the usual problem of weight control which I never had to think about until the last few years. — Mrs. S.J.A.

Yes, these prepared breakfast foods have approval of the Food and Drug Administration and you can depend on them to contain what they say they do.

Taken for one meal a day, or for three meals a day for a short period, they will give a reduced calorie intake.

That doesn't mean they are ideal for a reducing diet, however. For one thing, they do not provide the bulk you would get from fruit and vegetables, and your bowel cycle will be different. For another, you don't have anything to chew — and your teeth need the exercise of chewing for good health. In addition, for many people, the mere act of chewing, even if it is only low-calorie food, gives some satisfaction.

So I'd suggest that you work out (perhaps with your doctor's help) a diet equally low in calories, but one which you can safely follow for more than a week.

• • •

Dear Dr. Molner: I wonder what good there is in touching your toes. I'm a 22-year-old housewife and the mother of two. I touch my toes 100 times every morning and evening and feel better. It's an exercise I can do without rolling all over the floor. After the two children my tummy has gone to pot—I'm 5 feet 4 and 125 pounds. I guess I just want to know if this will help. — Mrs. J.W.H.

Sure it will help, and you're a pretty good toe-toucher. Toe-touching keeps the back muscles limber and will help the belly muscles a bit.

You can do more to help the abdominal muscles, though, if you lie on your back (no rolling), then raise and flex your legs. Your posture in general also is important in reducing the "pot."

Dear Dr. Molner: Why do I show sugar in the blood and not in the urine? I have heard that if it doesn't show in the urine it is nothing to worry about. — Mrs. M.G.

It's the oversupply of sugar in the blood, not in the urine, that constitutes diabetes.

When the blood sugar level is high, some of it (not all) "spills over" into the urine and you get rid of it. The "spill" level varies greatly from one person to another.

The urine test is a pretty good (and simple) screening test which will detect many, but not all, patients with diabetes. That's why a blood test is necessary. Many older persons will have an elevated blood sugar and a negative urine test. What you have heard is not correct.

Commie Leader Staves Off Challengers

By MARTIN ZUCKER
Associated Press Writer

WARSAW (AP) — The occupation of Czechoslovakia has given Wladyslaw Gomulka a boost against a challenge to his leadership of the Polish Communist party, observers in Warsaw believe.

These observers regard the checking of the liberalization drive in Prague as a personal victory for Gomulka that has strengthened his position in the unresolved power struggle with deputy Politburo member Mieczyslaw Moczar, the former interior minister and secret police chief.

MOCZAR HAS been considered a rival of Gomulka for several years, using his influence as head of an organization of war-time partisans and the police as his platform of operation. One technique has been to replace men in key positions with persons loyal to him.

He is believed to have been one of the prime forces behind the purge campaign last spring, following student demonstrations and rioting, which ousted Jews, intellectuals, liberals and former Stalinists from party ranks and government jobs.

DURING THE summer there was considerable speculation that Gomulka's days in power were numbered. There were those who said the quadrennial party congress in November would depose him although he would retain some figurehead position. Others said he would last six months after the congress or even two years.

BUT GOMULKA'S alignment of Poland with the hard-line stance of the Soviet Union, both ideologically and militarily, against the Czechoslovak reforms has made him a much harder man to budge.

Observers consider him certain of Moscow's support. He has wholeheartedly backed the Soviet campaign for a Communist unity conference. He has backed Soviet condemnation of Israel and now he has committed an estimated 45,000 troops to the joint military occupation in Czechoslovakia.

What Others Say

Campaign songs continue as the country approaches another presidential election. They are part of the American tradition, but they have changed, too. Once they were lively, inventive and unabashedly corny. Nowadays new lyrics are written to existing tunes. It wasn't always as cut and dried as that.

Voters in 1908, for example, were urged to "Get on the Raft with Taft" — no small feat when one considers Taft's great weight. The victory tune that rang in the ears of Herbert Hoover in 1928 was "If He's Good Enough for Lindbergh, He's Good Enough for Me." Four years earlier the country acquiesced to the appeal "Keep Cool and Keep Coolidge." In 1912, Wilson beat Hughes in two-step time. "Wilson, that's all, You'll hear the call, Wilson, Wilson, Woodrow Wilson, Wilson, that's all."

Some of the writers of campaign songs have been a little pushed to deliver the goods, but it didn't keep them from trying. There was "Happy Landin' with Landon," "Where There's a Willkie There's a Way" and "Yankee Dewey Dandy." The names of some candidates are troublesome for rhymsters. Still, solutions were forthcoming as far back as 1844 for problems like this. In the presidential campaign of that year, someone was inspired to write "Hurray, hurray, the sun is risin', for Henry Clay and Frelinghuysen."

Thus far in 1968, Hubert Humphrey seems to be the only sing-along-with candidate. The producer of the musical "How Now, Dow Jones," has assigned the Vice President the rights to one of the show's tunes which asks, "Will everyone here, kindly step to the rear, and let a winner lead the way?" Doesn't seem to rhyme with Humphrey, though.

MRS. MILTON RAY JONES

Diane Smith Is Wed To Milton Ray Jones

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Ray Jones are at home at 106 Eleventh Place following their marriage Sept 3 in the Chapel in the Canyon at Canoga Park, Calif.

The bride is the former Diane Lynn Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Smith of Chatsworth, Calif. Jones, who had been residing in Big Spring, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Jones of Roscoe.

Miss Vicki Smith attended her sister as maid of honor, and Miss Joyce Peterson was a bridesmaid. The bridegroom's brother, Clifford I. Jones, was best man, and the bride's brother, Scott G. Smith served as usher.

The altar scene was enhanced with an arch of white rosebuds as the couple exchanged wedding vows. The traditional song, "Because" was included in the prelude of nuptial music.

The bride was attired in a white ante-bellum tiered lace gown with Mother-of-Pearl sprays embellishing the skirt. The neckline was scalloped, and long sleeves ended in petal points over the hands. Her bouffant veil of illusion was held by a headpiece of tulle petals outlined with seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of white rosebuds, backed with maline and showered with picot.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring Senior High School, and the bridegroom graduated from Highland High School in Roscoe. Both are attending Howard County Junior College, and he is employed by Neel's Transfer and Storage Company.

Following a reception at the church, the couple took a wedding trip to San Diego, Calif.

Corny or no, I'm very glad that Bert Parks got to sing "There She Is, Miss America" to the new Miss America. After all that suspense and anguish those poor girls must go through before that final announcement, old Bert sings convincingly . . . at least he makes me feel that for sure, here's the girl who has what it takes . . . and isn't she lovely!

Compadre Sam Blackburn's Rim Tuesday reminded me of my early school days at South Ward and the 'cloak room' which was also where the noon lunches were stashed. Sam had his molasses bucket, Delbert Downing of Midland likes to tell of his Cottolene bucket . . . but dearie, they're much older than I. We took our lunch in paper sacks, although sometime we were caught short and had to wrap the meal in a newspaper, which isn't the best yet for carting a lunch.

And did you ever go to get your coat in the cloak room only to find that the child who had been sent to the outer reaches for disciplining had proved that an idle mind is the devil's workshop by tying knots in all the coat and sweater sleeves?

MR. and MRS. GLENN SMITH had as their guests the past week their younger son, JIMMY, and his wife who live in Columbus, Ohio. # Big Spring Con Confused

Millard Hassell, who was sent to the state penitentiary from this county in May, 1957, feels he is eligible for a parole and has written Fern Cox, court clerk, for papers he needs in his case.

The only trouble is that Hassell has apparently forgotten what he was convicted of 11 years ago.

He writes in his letter that he was sent up from Howard County on May 6, 1957, for murder and given a life sentence.

The records do not bear this out.

They show that the late Charlie Sullivan, judge of the 118th Disfrict Court, sentenced Hassell to life as a habitual criminal.

He had been found guilty by a jury here of a charge of forgery and it was established he had previously served time as a convict on two or three other occasions for other felonies. This made him a habitual criminal under Texas law and he was given life.

Courthouse observers who remember Hassell are puzzled at his statement he was found guilty of murder.

His "rap" sheet shows numerous clashes with the law but none for homicide nor for assault with intent to kill.

More Bible Funds Are Contributed

More funds for the high school Bible Class continued to come to The Herald, although the period of formal appeal has passed. Among the latest to have a part in this are the Eunice Sunday School class of East Fourth Baptist Church $6.50; the Century Class of the First Presbyterian Church, $30; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Harwell, in memory of Mrs. George Sweatt, $10. This brought to $3,345.42 the amount so far raised, and put the fund within about $150 of its objective.

Record Number Of Frosh Show

What appeared to be a record number of freshmen turned out for orientation at Howard County Junior College today. Dr. W. A. Hunt said the figure was estimated at upward of 450.

Registration of sophomores was to start at 1 p.m. today and evening students at 6:30 p.m. Freshmen registration will begin at 8 a.m. Thursday and other registration Friday. All signs still point to a record enrollment. Among them are the dormitories which are overflowing.

Garbage Strike Chiefs Will Defy Court Order

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy says he will lead Atlanta's striking garbage men in major demonstrations despite a court injunction ordering the men back to work.

Abernathy, successor to the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. as head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said he may call for support from across the country for the 1,000 garbage men in their bid for a $2.50-per-hour minimum pay.

GOOD FRIENDS

"We've got some good friends in this country. We don't have to march by ourselves," Abernathy declared, speaking at a meeting of more than 400 persons held at an Atlanta Negro Baptist church Tuesday night.

Abernathy and union leader Morton Shapiro, negotiator for the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes Union, were among the 80 persons arrested earlier in the day in demonstrations involving the strike. Abernathy and Shapiro were released later on bond.

"No injunction is going to collect garbage in the city of Atlanta," Shapiro said, adding, "we're going to violate the injunction that was handed to me." The injunction was issued Tuesday.

Abernathy called Atlanta a fine city "that has told us a lie all these years. . . This city that has paraded as the city too busy to hate but will not pay the men to collect garbage."

He said all the forces of SCLC will be committed to the garbage strike battle.

SHUN VIOLENCE

"We're going to hear some good speeches, then we're going to have some marches. We might march up and down Peachtree Street, like Sherman marched on down. But you've got to keep these demonstrations nonviolent. For God's sakes, do not turn to violence," Abernathy said.

Union and city officials met until late in the afternoon Tuesday, but both sides said after the session that negotiations are stalled, although further meetings may be held today.

SCLC leader Hosea Williams said that Atlanta city workers in both the construction and the sewage departments are joining the strike by garbage workers.

Miminum pay for Atlanta garbage workers ranges from $1.66 to $2.05 an hour, with five-year tops from $2.05 to $2.53. Most of the 1,000 workers are Negroes, and most have taken part in the strike.

The city has threatened to fire all workers who do not return to work. A city offer of a 13 per cent raise next Jan. 1 has been rejected.

Fiesta Chamizal In The Making

EL PASO — The largest two-nation festival of its kind on an international border anywhere in the world is in the making here Sept. 28-Oct. 6 when this bilingual community of El Paso and Juarez celebrates the first anniversary of the Chamizal Treaty with a Fiesta Chemizal.

The Chamizal Treaty settled by peaceful means a century-old boundary dispute between the U.S. and Mexico. Once a diplomatic headache, the Treaty converted the problem into a monument to man's respect for the rights of his neighbor.

President Lyndon B. Johnson and President Gustavo Diaz Ordaz came here for official ceremonies surrounding the treaty a year ago.

STABBED CON 26 TIMES

Fugitive Clears His Conscience

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—The 58-year-old fugitive from an Alabama prison who escaped 25 years ago while serving a sentence for killing a fellow convict could wait no longer to clear his conscience.

The slightly built, soft-spoken man walked into the office of the Newark Star-Ledger newspaper Tuesday and told his story to an editor.

For most of the past 25 years, Clarence Clark has been living under the name of Calvin Johnson with his wife and his four children, all of whom knew nothing of his secret.

HAD TO TELL

"I just had to tell somebody all about it," he said. "Just call up Kilby Prison in Montgomery and they'll tell you it's true."

A telephone check to the prison by The Associated Press proved the story was true. Yes, authorities said, he had murdered a convict in prison and escaped in 1943 while serving a life sentence. A warrant for his arrest and extradition would be sent today, they added.

Clark said he hopes his good record over the last 25 years will save him from going back to prison, because he said he won't return.

The story he had to "tell somebody" was one of a boy who was orphaned when he was five, befriended by a farm family in Georgia until he was 12, when he ran away after someone told him they would lynch him because he was a Negro.

ALL NIGHT LONG

He said he went to prison a year later for burglary and claims he murdered a fellow convict who had been terrifying convicts and guards with brutal beatings.

"The first night he beat me up all night long," Clark said. "He had a letter opener and when he started out to chow through the cell block, I grabbed it and went for him. The papers said I stabbed him 26 times until he died. I had to. He was hitting me and hitting me and I knew he'd kill me."

Clark lives in Colonia and works as a porter at a South Plainfield plastics plant, where a company spokesman said he has a good record and is well liked.

Mrs. Johnson, who works at a state school for retarded children, learned of her husband's surrender from police. He had never told her of his secret.

"I'm sorry I didn't warn you, but it's for the best," he told his wife by phone after his surrender. "Now I can devote my life to God."

Fort Worth Men Face Theft Raps

Two Fort Worth men are being held by Ballinger authorities in connection with the theft of an auto and $6,000 worth of tools here last March.

Charges have been filed in Jess Slaughter's Justice of the Peace Court against Billy Raymond Brown and F. G. Gilchrest for the theft which took place March 29 at Huck's Automotive, 406 San Jacinto. Bond has not been set.

The car was recovered May 3 on IS 20, near Westbrook.

Arsonists Set Three Flames

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP) — Arsonists touched off three fires in Syracuse Tuesday night and early today. Three more arrests were made as the city underwent its third night of disturbances in predominantly Negro sections.

Fire officials blamed arsonists for three fires, two in empty houses and a third at a grocery store.

Three youths were arrested from a band of some 40 persons who clashed with three Syracuse University students in a brief scuffle on the city's East Side. The arrested youths were aged 15 and 16. Officers said 40 youngsters were dispersed. There were no serious injuries in the scuffle.

Despite the rain, police kept up heavy patrols in the southern section of the city. Officers used tear gas Sunday to disperse a crowd of rowdy youths and groups of young Negroes threw rocks and bottles Monday night in a seven-hour series of incidents.

U.S. 87 Highway Meeting Dates

The 11th annual meeting of the US 87 Highway Improvement Association will be held at Holiday Inn No. 2, San Antonio, Sept. 24-25, according to an announcement made this week by Director Ted Groebl, representing Howard County.

Organized in 1958, the association has worked tirelessly to obtain a four-laned divided highway for US 87 between Raton, N.M., and Port Lavaca, Tex. Several hundred miles of this key highway have been four-laned or otherwise improved during the past 10 years. Approximately 50 miles of the route are identical with Interstate 10. Connecting the Rocky Mountains with the Texas Gulf Coast, US 87 carries hundreds of thousands of tourists to these two major vacation areas of the United States.

US 87 connects the following interstate highways: IH 25 (Raton, N.M.); IH 40 (Amarillo, Tex.); IH 20 (Big Spring, Tex.); IH 10 (Comfort, Tex.); and IH 35 and 37 (San Antonio, Tex.).

Highlighting the program Tuesday evening, Sept. 24, will be a reception and dinner with Don Epperson, executive director, Texas Tourist Council, as the principal speaker for dinner. State Highway Engineer J. C. Dingwall, Texas Highway Department, will speak at the Wednesday morning session.

Sen. McCarthy Delays Support For Nominee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., said today he will delay for at least three weeks any statement on whom he will support for president in the November election.

Defeated by Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for the Democratic nomination, McCarthy said at the close of the party's Chicago convention that he could not support either Humphrey or GOP nominee Richard M. Nixon.

Asked in an interview today if he possibly could back Nixon when he makes up his mind, the Minnesota Senator replied: "I don't think so."

McCarthy conceded in an informal news conference, after he had presided over a closed meeting of the Senate Foreign Relations Subcommittee on African affairs, that he is under "some pressure" to endorse Humphrey despite their disagreement over Vietnam policy.

But he said he is taking off shortly for a two-week vacation in Nice, France, and will have no statement until after his return.

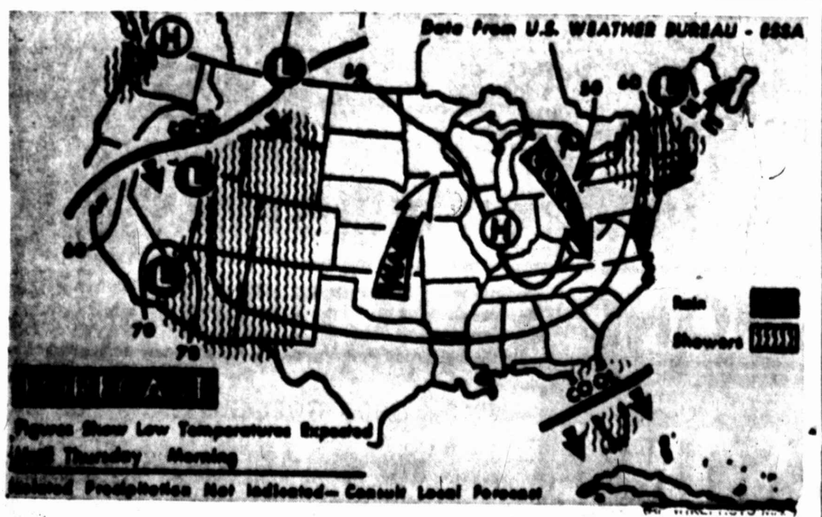

McCarthy disagreed with Maryland Gov. Spiro T. Agnew, the Republican vice presidential nominee, that Humphrey is turning "squishy soft" on Vietnam in an effort to recapture support from Democratic dissidents who, Agnew said, wanted to end the Vietnam war with a U.S. pullout.

"I don't think his (Humphrey's) position has changed," McCarthy said. "He took a pretty hard line at the convention and I don't think there is much of a change in his position."

Board Wants To Sell House

Big Spring Independent School District has a house and wants to get rid of it.

The board Tuesday night authorized Sam Anderson, superintendent, to put the house on the market and if it is not sold within 30 days, the board will accept sealed bids.

The house would go to the highest bidder, but the board would reserve the right to throw out any and all bids if the offers were too low.

The three-bedroom brick home at 2001 Nolan was constructed as a project by the building trades classes at Big Spring High last school year at a cost of $17,600, Anderson said. Several realtors have appraised the house at $19,000, he added.

El Pasoan Quits Democratic Post

EL PASO (AP) — "I'm not leaving the Democratic party—it has left me," Hector Bencomo said Tuesday as he resigned as state Democratic committeeman from El Paso.

The former alderman said he would immediately head up a Democrats-for-Nixon movement in the city.

Speaking further of the Democratic party, he said:

"I hope someday to return but after witnessing the Chicago fiasco and after years of unfulfilled promises, I believe a man like Richard Nixon can put us on the right track."

Bencomo, who said he was the first Mexican-American to serve on the state Democratic Executive Committee, will be replaced at the second party convention Sept. 17.

Progress Noted In CRMWD Work

One project is all but complete and progress is generally good on others of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, according to monthly reports received by O. H. Ivie, general manager.

Panhandle Construction Co., which has laid 33 miles of 36-in. supply line from Big Spring to the Martin County pump station, has now completed 98.9 per cent of the work on the $2,251,822 job. Only testing and cleanup remains to be done.

The largest project, the construction of the dam across the Colorado River above Robert Lee, is now rated at 84.41 per cent of completion with 77.88 per cent of the time elapsed. The contractor has moved 11,250,000 cubic yards of earth and rip rap material. Target date for beginning closure of the dam is in November, and the $9,000,000 job should be finished by March 1969.

Rapid progress is being made by Lyles and Lyles on the off-channel terminal storage reservoir just above Colorado City. This $339,935 project is now 69.34 per cent complete with only 51.76 of the time elapsed. Roland Scherer is running behind time on the construction of a dozen and a half mounds in the Robert Lee lake basin but has 65.31 per cent of the $465,058 job done.

Jones Constructin Co. has completed 41.85 per cent of a $95,200 pump station project for the Humble water facility. Brown and McKee have just started with 2.4 per cent of a $233,125 intake facility for the main pump station at Robert Lee.

Pump Station Bids Sept. 26

Directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District will meet at 10 a.m. Sept. 26 in Big Spring to receive bids on the main pump station for the lake at Robert Lee.

In addition, the district will be receiving proposals for valves, transformers and pumps which it will make available to the contractor.

Also at the meeting, recommendations will be received for awarding a contract for construction of five additional oil well mounds, these to be raised on the Strake Oil and the A. G. Hill leases in the Robert Lee basin. These bids were to be opened Thursday afternoon.

The board will receive from the rate committee a proposal to be submitted to the City of San Angelo for making water available at the Robert Lee dam. The rate committee met in Big Spring Tuesday for initial discussions and will be back in session Sept. 19.

A tentative budget for the 1969 fiscal year, which coincides with the calendar year, will be up for consideration. In this connection, the personnel committee also had a session Tuesday.

Navy Admits DASH Losses

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy has acknowledged the loss of about $25 million worth of unmanned helicopters once given a significant role in antisubmarine warfare.

In response to persistent inquiries, the Navy acknowledged that 233 of the small, radio controlled drone choppers, called DASH, have been lost for various electronic, mechanical and human faults over the past seven years.

The major causes for the losses, which came in fleet operations, resulted from the failure of the DASHes aviation electronics system, the Navy said.

Under consideration now to replace the drones is a new, manned lightweight helicopter.

Four years ago, the Navy issued a "fact sheet" on antisubmarine warfare in which it listed the DASH among "significant achievements" in the field.

At that time, the fact sheet described the drone helicopter as "a precise, deliberate, long range weapon delivery capability" to complement another anti-sub weapon, the ASROC. The ASROC is a antisubmarine missile which can be fired from Navy-surface craft and uses either an acoustic homing torpedo or depth charges.

Navy antisubmarine experts had high hopes for the DASH, which was designed to be sent out from destroyers after a "fix" was made on an enemy sub. The DASH would be ordered by radio to drop a pattern of torpedoes to the quarry.

The helicopter was built to carry 1,000 pounds of payload.

When the Navy was asked early this summer whether it was looking for a replacement for the DASH, it said no.

But now the Navy has changed its position and says a lightweight manned helicopter is being considered to supplant DASH.

The subject is under study and no specifications have been determined, the Navy said.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SEC. B BIG SPRING, TEXAS, WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 11, 1968 SEC. B

Trustees At HCJC To Join Tax Plan

Howard County Junior College trustees voted Tuesday to join in a plan for revaluation of county properties.

The plan was advanced last week by the Howard County Commissioners Court in conjunction with representatives from other local taxing agencies within the county. Total cost would be $18,000 with the county and junior college district carrying major portions, but with the three independent school districts invited to participate.

The board attended to transfers of funds at the end of the fiscal year and approved miscellaneous purchases as well as formally completing the staff.

BOILER BIDS

There was a $6,000 cash carry-over at the end of the fiscal year Aug. 31, but the district has almost $28,000 due from the state for reimbursement for vocational-technical programs, making the approximate real balance $35,000.

Bids for construction of a boiler house were authorized for opening Oct. 3. Previously the board had accepted bids for the boiler and equipment.

A transfer of $1,340 from forfeited dormitory deposits was made to the scholarship fund. This was the accumulation of several years. Another $1,560 to the scholarship fund from property deposits of three or more years duration was approved as was $200 to the special functions fund. A $5,000 loan from the student revenue fund to the student housing bond fund for reserve was ordered transferred to the student housing maintenance reserve fund.

NOTE PAID

A note for $49,628 was paid out of funds supplied by the Dora Roberts Foundation toward the new vocational-technical building. This was advanced to purchase computer and other equipment to be used in the new plant, when constructed, and for half of architect fees so far earned. If state funds are not here in time for payroll purposes, then administrators were authorized to borrow up to $30,000 on a short term loan from the depository.

Mrs. Mary E. Grenier was elected as a faculty member in the music department. Contracts for all secretarial and custodial staff members were approved. There were 23 of these.

CONFERENCE FUNDS

An appropriation of $40 per each faculty member to attend the Texas Association of Junior Colleges conference was approved, along with $20 each for one half of professional dues. Trustees approved the purchase of a larger postage meter for $221 and a heavy duty vacuum for $300. Dr. W. A. Hunt, college president, said that nearly all of the roof repairs had been completed and the protective frames for the green house were almost finished. They and new glass will be installed by sections. The dormitories have been completely renovated, the game room in the SUB refinished, and air conditioning in the library and science buildings overhauled.

Cops Charged With Gunning Black Panther Headquarters

(AP WIREPHOTO)

Picture A Target

Black Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver, candidate for president on the Peace and Freedom Party ticket, stood beside his bullet riddled campaign poster in the window of Black Panther headquarters yesterday.

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Two white policemen charged with shooting up a Black Panther store-front headquarters were fired Tuesday by City Manager Jerome Keithley.

Keithley acted after Police Chief Charles Gain signed complaints against Richard V. Williams, 28, and Robert W. Farrell, 26, both of whom have been members of the force since 1965.

Bullets from a squad car had riddled the black militants' empty headquarters early Tuesday morning.

The patrolmen, jailed and then released on $3,000 bail each, were ordered to appear before Municipal Court Judge Martin Pulich today for arraignment on felony assault charges.

Chief Gain said the men were on duty, in uniform and had been drinking.

The Panther headquarters is in the same west Oakland area where a white policeman was killed, another wounded, and Black Panther leader Huey Newton was shot and arrested last Oct. 28.

His trial, at which the prosecutor asked for a first-degree murder conviction, ended last Sunday night with a verdict of voluntary manslaughter. He was acquitted of trying to murder the second officer.

Rate Is Down

Howard County reduced its tax rate from $1.07 to $1.05, but has boosted the valuation basis on property from 20 to 25 per cent, so that its total property tax take is some $150,000 higher.

Illini Union Protest Fades

URBANA, Ill. (AP) — Some 500 students, including whites and Negroes, gathered at the University of Illinois Student Union Tuesday night to protest a 7 p.m. closing, then left without incident.

A rampage in the Illini union lounges Monday night resulted in the arrest of 300 Negro students on charges of mob action.

Police who made the arrests after the students refused to leave the building at closing time also confiscated such makeshift weapons as screwdrivers, metal rods and pipes, said Chief Harvey Shirley of the Champaign police.

The students and some Negro town youths said their refusal to leave the union Monday night was to protest housing arrangements and scholarship policies for Negroes in a program called Project 500.

Project 500—the special education opportunities program—is financed by the university and recruited disadvantaged youths mainly in Champaign-Urbana and nearby communities, a university spokesman said.

The protesters smashed furniture and chandeliers and mutilated 10 portraits of university presidents during a three-hour occupation of the lounges, police said. None resisted arrest, officers said.

An Illini union official said the lounges would be closed for weeks for repairs. Police estimated damage at $50,000.

Racial Troubled Schools Closed

SUMMIT, Ill. (AP) — All schools remained closed in this suburb southwest of Chicago today following sporadic incidents of racial trouble triggered by a fight between Negro and white high school pupils.

Forty-one persons had been arrested since noon Tuesday.

Mayor George Janchenko imposed a 1 p.m. to 7 a.m. curfew for youths 17 and under after the fist fights Tuesday involving 500 pupils at Argo Community High School. He also ordered an 11 p.m. to dawn curfew for adults.

Thirty youths were arrested and nine suffered minor injuries in the fighting at the high school.

State and Cook County sheriff's police aided local authorities in putting down minor disturbances that included rock-throwing at patrol cars.

About 30 of those arrested, police said, were charged with curfew violations.

A group of 75 whites arrived in 20 cars at the city limits Tuesday night. They attempted a march, carrying "white power" signs, on the predominantly Negro section.

Five persons were arrested for refusing to disperse at a police order and two others were charged with carrying a concealed weapon.

Classes at the high school were canceled Tuesday by the order of Supt. J. W. Lewis, who also ordered that the high school and five elementary schools be closed today.

The disturbance Tuesday erupted after a student assembly at which white and Negro leaders spoke concerning Negro students' demands.

Lewis said statements by a white pupil, which accused Negro pupils of harassing white pupils, apparently caused the outbreak.

The Negroes, who comprise about 10 per cent of the school's 2,000 enrollment, are demanding an Afro-American history course, Negro cheerleaders and a Negro homecoming queen every other year.

Nixon Works To Tighten Alliance With Liberals

NEW YORK (AP) — Richard M. Nixon—cheered by a friendly reception in Nelson Rockefeller's home county—is working to tighten his alliance with the New York Republicans who lead the party's liberal wing.

The Republican presidential candidate meets today with the New York governor and with Mayor John V. Lindsay and Sen. Jacob K. Javits to announce plans for the GOP campaign in the crucial state—holder of the nation's biggest bloc of presidential electors. Both Javits and Lindsay had backed Rockefeller's bid for the Republican nomination.

'NEW LEADERSHIP'

Later today he leaves for North Carolina.

Tuesday night, Rockefeller stood at Nixon's side and gave him his personal blessings in front of a roaring, enthusiastic crowd in a White Plains, N.Y., auditorium, not far from the Rockefeller estate in Tarrytown.

Recalling his campaign for the GOP nomination in which he promised "new leadership," Rockefeller said: "For three months this summer I stumped the country from coast to coast demanding new leadership. Well tonight I am here to welcome, on behalf of all of us in Westchester County, a man who's going to provide that new leadership."

This was the first time since the convention that Rockefeller, who had once said Nixon couldn't give that leadership, appeared with the candidate. He had however, endorsed him, as had Javits and Lindsay.

The Westchester County Center was packed with some 5,500 persons who ignored the heat of the hall as they showered Nixon with confetti, cheered him repeatedly and crowded around trying to shake hands with him and his wife Pat.

Nixon said he has had bigger crowds, but none as enthusiastic. So eager were the people to see the candidate that a good portion of the crowd waited outside after the rally for a final glimpse of him driving away.

In his speech, Nixon brought up a major theme of his campaign—that members of the American middle class have become "the forgotten Americans."

Suburbanites, he said, form a large part of this group. He said they don't engage in demonstrations except to "demonstrate by setting an example of citizenship."

New York Schools Open Their Doors

NEW YORK (AP) — The city's schools opened their doors to 1.1 million pupils and returned to near normal today after a two-day teacher strike sparked by a community control fight.

The opening of the fall term, which was to have started Monday, came after teachers voted overwhelmingly to accept a settlement worked out between the AFL-CIO United Federation of Teachers and the Board of Education.

CHEERING

The vote was 5,515 to 218 in favor of the agreement. But the teacher turnout was only half that which marked the vote to strike last Sunday. The city has 57,000 teachers.

Union President Albert Shanker had predicted a favorable vote telling a cheering UFT delegate assembly, "We have won on every basic issue and shown that we are the strongest organization in this fight."

The precipitating factor in the crisis, which delayed the fall term opening for two days, was the refusal of a locally governed experimental school district in Brooklyn to reinstate 10 white teachers it had dismissed.

Underlying the specific dispute was the union's fear that teachers would not be given adequate job security in the new citywide decentralization plan which is to take effect shortly.

The settlement provided that the 10 teachers could return to their former schools in the predominantly Negro-Puerto Rican Ocean Hill-Brownsville district if they desired. Another 200 teachers who walked out in support of the 10 may also return.

On the larger citywide issue, the union won a three-member arbitration board to which any school employe who is dismissed or disciplined by a local board may appeal.

Bee Bite Kills

NORTH VERNON, Ind. (AP) —Herbert R. Moore, 57, a Butlerville truck driver, was stung fatally by a bee on his left leg Sunday as he and his son worked in their backyard. Coroner Richard Vance said death was due to a reaction to the bee's poison.

Golf Course Clubhouse Plans Ordered Drawn

A new, brick veneer clubhouse for the Municipal Golf Course was given approval by the Big Spring City Commission Tuesday evening. Plans and specifications were ordered drawn by Daryle Hohertz, architect.

In other business, the commission approved a change order on the water treatment plant expansion project; set the tax rate by ordinance; and approved a request to put a retaining wall on city property.

The parks and recreation board Tuesday afternoon put the finishing touches on its recommendation for the golf course clubhouse, which it estimated would cost about $20,300. A metal building of the same size — 1,950 square feet — was estimated to cost $22,800.

Cost of the new facility will be financed through increased green fees, which became effective in April. So far, the increased cost has accumulated $2,012, according to a report by Roy Anderson, assistant city manager.

The city commissioners ordered the plans and specifications drawn so that bids might be taken as soon as possible to expedite construction.

The change order for the reservoir contract at the water treatment plant was approved, which will cost an additional $671 on a $67,316 project. Ernest Lillard, director of public works, explained that the change was needed to pay extra costs for connecting the water lines. The existing lines turned out to be differently located than where plans showed them, he said.

Commissioners asked the administration to contact members, whose terms are expiring on several auxiliary boards and commissions, to see if they desire reappointment. Also, a report on attendance of members during the past 12 months was requested. These include the planning and zoning commission, parks and recreation board, traffic commission, and zoning board of adjustment.

A recommendation of the traffic commission to take down the signal lights at State and Ridgeroad, replacing them with signs, was approved.

On the motion of Commissioner George Zachariah, the commission approved the request of Rev. J. P. Delaney to move a retaining wall on North Aylford Street onto city property. The wall will be moved to within four feet of the curb, a sidewalk will be built, all improving the area considerably, Zachariah said. He pointed out that if the city ever requires the land, the Sacred Heart Catholic Church would relinquish it.

Commissioner Jimmy Morehead suggested that the land be deeded to the church, but Zachariah said it might be needed in the future.

"It is gratifying that we are the only agency reducing its income from the property tax," Mayor Arnold Marshall said, after the commission approved the ordinance setting the tax rate for 1968.

The new rate is $1.40 per $100 valuation, based on 60 per cent of true value. Last year, the city's rate was $1.50 per $100. When residents approved the city sales tax of one per cent, the commission pledged a reduced property tax rate.

The new tax rate will bring in $971,110 on a valuation of $69,365,080, according to Charles Smith, finance director. Before exact figures were known at budget planning time last January, he had estimated income from this source at $973,000.

Larry Crow, city manager, in answer to a question by Zachariah, said the city would receive about $65,000 less in taxes on property this year.

Police Chief Jay Banks said officers were making additional patrols in school zones since the opening, in answer to a question of Morehead.

The mayor told Zachariah that a special commission meeting would probably be held later in the week to discuss the selection of a charter amendment commission.

Morehead asked about reports from Marvin Springer, and Crow said the city planner is due to visit in the next few weeks. No firm timetable for his first report has been established, Crow added.

A lot of junk cars have been moved, Crow replied to a question from Commissioner Garner McAdams, but the demolition of delapidated houses is moving slowly. Morehead pinpointed a number of weed-overgrown lots and unsightly, empty houses that might be checked.

Big Spring Trustees Vote To Share In Revaluation

The Big Spring School Board voted Tuesday night to chip in $2,000 to share the cost of a rural property tax revaluation of the county which is being considered by Howard County, Howard County Junior College and the Big Spring, Coahoma and Forsan school districts.

After hearing a report by board members Jerry Currie and Jimmy Taylor, the board elected to set aside the amount if the revaluation is undertaken.

The tax revaluation is being considered by the five political subdivisions as a way and means of complying with demands of oil and utility firms in the county that a better and more fair evaluation of rural and real property be made in the county.

Currie told the board that at a recent meeting of representatives of the schools, county and junior college the three groups agreed to divide the cost of the project.

Also at the board meeting Tuesday night were members of the Coahoma Independent School District board of trustees. They said they had discussed the revaluation project and would make a decision at the next meeting.

One Coahoma member said approval may hinge on knowing who would be on the proposed committee to revaluate rural property.

In other business, the board amended the 1967-68 school budget, to show a balance of $322,992, based on expenditure of $5,618,897.

The board also elected to incorporate the proposed Head Start budget of $160,541 into the regular budget for 1968-69, which Sam Anderson, superintendent, said will serve 200 students.

The budget showed that $90,191 would be spent for instruction, supplies and travel, while $22,869 would go for health services, and $22,400 for the lunch program.

Title I expenditures of $91,013 also were incorporated into the new budget. The majority of the Title I funds, some $61,000, would be used for instruction, including a supervisor, librarians, counselor and teacher aides.

Anderson also gave a brief report of the recently-released recommendations of the Governor's Committee on Education. He said that the recommendation of revaluation of school taxes and master plans for school district reorganization were among the most important.

After some discussion the board voted to set the air conditioning in the high school at 74 degrees on a one-month trial basis. Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, board member, raised a question about the $2,962.18 electric bill from Texas Electric Service Co., and asked if the temperature in the high school could be regulated to a constant figure to help cut expenses. Don Crockett, business manager, said that the cooling system was operating as efficiently as possible, but that a constant temperature throughout the building might reduce expenses.

Jimmy Taylor also asked Anderson about the newly-required locks for all lockers in the high school. The new policy requires a $1.25 fee from each student. Anderson said that 2,479 combination locks were purchased by the school at $2.65 each, and the fee from the students is to help defray the cost.

"The school is not trying to make money," he said. "But we felt that the locks were needed as a security measure so the students can have a secure place in their locker for possessions."

Building Trades Class To Put Up Another House

The Big Spring School District will go back into the construction business this fall, but officials hope conditions will be better this time and they won't be stuck with a $19,000 house.

Big Spring trustees authorized the continuation of the high school's building trades class project Tuesday night, and instructed Sam Anderson, superintendent to negotiate with the Methodist Mission Church, Tenth and Goliad, subject to approval of the board.

Anderson told the board that the church had approached the administrator on the possibility of the building trades class constructing a parsonage, with church supplying all the material and paying for necessary sub-contracting. About $10,000 in materials would go into the project.

Last year the building trades class undertook the construction of a three-bedroom brick home at 2001 Nolan at a cost of $17,600. However, the house has not been sold. Anderson said that several realtors in Big Spring have appraised the home at $19,000.

As an alternative to the church project, Anderson said the next best project would be to select a lot and construct a house from the blue-print up, and put it on the market.

"That would be the ideal project," he said. "The principle of the class is to teach, and we wouldn't be under obligation to anyone."

The question of the building trades class project came up with the appearance of Ed Shive, vocational training supervisor for the Texas Education Agency.

Shive said it was necessary that the school set a definite project as soon as possible, and suggested the construction of a residence. He explained to the board the aims of the vocational training in high school, and particularly in building construction trades.

He said the program in Big Spring has been good in the past, and is among the best in Texas for the city's size and needs. The building trades class has also constructed two elementary school libraries before taking on the house.

Shive noted that 90 per cent of the students, who participated in the program and available for employment, are employed after graduation, and 80 per cent of those are working in their area of training.

TFU Schedules Big Spring Meet

Doris Blissard, St. Lawrence, has announced that Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman will address the TFU District 8 meeting in Big Spring next Tuesday. The meeting will begin at 9:00 a.m. at the Holiday Inn.

Possible Starters For Coahoma In Rankin Game

Pictured here are 11 boys who Coach Bernie Hagins could use when the Coahoma Bulldogs play host to the Rankin Red Devils in their opening football game Friday night. Up front, they are Gaylon Harrison, Rodney Hill, Gene Snow, David Brady, Ronnie Lepard, Don Richters and Billy King. Backs from the left, are Ricky Evans, Kenny Clanton (about to take ball), Johnny Ted Fowler and Dean Richters. Game time is 8 o'clock.

The tourning pro golfers, although they divvied up all the promised loot, are still a little incensed over the fact that their image might have suffered in the PGA tournament held this year at Pecan Valley in San Antonio.

The gallery was short in the Alamo City—only 50,000 showed up during tournament week. (A lot of people living within the environs of San Antonio still don't even know where Pecan Valley is located).

The manner in which the printed program that goes along with such a meet is assembled could be called a swindle for it's a caution the way the arms of business men are twisted, trying to get advertising dollars out of them.

At San Antonio, the business community wasn't nearly as receptive to the "God and Country" pleas made by the PGA birddogs—the revenue from the program didn't meet 50 per cent of the projected goal.

For a long time now, many people in professional sports think all they have to do is show up for an engagement. Perhaps, they should be reminded that they need to try the "hard sell" from time to time, that the public has every right to be selective about the things it attends.

One of the most pleasant surprises in the Big Spring football camp has to be tackle Clif Cook, who at 6-4¼ and 192 is one of the biggest boys in camp.

There are those friends of the Dallas Cowboys who insisted that the Texas pros should have drafted Ray McDonald when the big back departed Idaho University a couple of years ago.

Hines First, Matson 3rd In Lake Tahoe Trials

SOUTH LAKE TAHOE, Calif. (AP) — The United States, says Jim Hines, will be 1-2-3 in the 100-meter dash at the Olympics next month in Mexico City.

The United States, says Dave Maggard, will be 1-2-3 in the shot put.

Hines, on his 22nd birthday, was buoyed by his victory Tuesday over Charlie Greene in the 100-meter dash at the Olympic track and field trials at the Echo Summit track near here.

He won in 10.0, tying the existing world record, but one-tenth off the mark he shares with Green and Ronnie Ray Smith.

Maggard was optimistic because of his 67-4¼ shot put, enough to give him second place to George Woods, 68¼ and to beat world record holder Randy Matson, who was third with a put of 67-1¼.

Hines, Greene and Army Capt. Mel Pender will make up the U.S. 100-meter Olympic squad, with Smith, who finished just behind Pender, on the team as an alternate and 400-meter relay runner.

Hines said he felt that the trio would sweep the medals in Mexico City and reserved the gold one for himself. The continuing battle between himself and Greene for the title of world's fastest human has yet to be totally resolved, but Hines has now won six of their 11 meetings.

In other activity Tuesday, Geoff Vanderstock of Southern California led the way into today's 400-meter intermediate hurdles finals, by winning his semifinal heat in 49.2, just one-tenth off the world record. Tom Wyatt of Portland, Ore., won the other semi in 49.3.

Al Oerter topped the discus qualifiers with a toss of 201-6 and seven pole vaulters cleared the qualifying height of 16-0.

Tom Farrell and Wade Bell won semifinals heats at 800 meters in 1:49.6 and 1:48.0 respectively, but they will have to fight off Jim Ryun, third in his heat, in the finals today.

George Young led the 3,000-meter steeplechase qualifiers at 9:11.0.

McLain Nears 30-Game Win Campaign

By The Associated Press

Denny McLain's 29th triumph in 1968 probably will be remembered as something less than a pitching masterpiece. But his stickwork never has been sharper.

The Detroit fireballer climbed within a single step of becoming baseball's first 30-game winner in 34 years when he hurled the American League leaders to a 7-2 victory over California Tuesday night.

McLain, 29-5, struck out 12 Angels. But he had to struggle to escape two tight jams and was tagged for nine hits in all, including a pair of sixth inning homers.

His performance with a bat in his hands was something else. The husky right-hander, batting .133 going into the game, banged out two singles and a triple in four trips to the plate.

His fourth inning single drove in two runs in a decisive four-run flurry.

"It's the first time I ever had three hits in a game," he said, "and I was all confused, running the bases."

BOOSTS LEAD

While McLain boosted Detroit's league lead over Baltimore to 8½ games ... with 15 to play ... the New York Yankees continued their late surge with a 2-1, 5-0 doubleheader sweep over Chicago, Oakland trimmed Boston 5-3 and Cleveland beat Minnesota 6-2. Washington and Baltimore were rained out.

The Tigers staked McLain to a 6-0 lead before he faltered momentarily in the middle innings.

The Angels loaded the bases with one out in the fourth, but McLain got Tom Satriano on a pop up and fanned Bobby Knoop.

Ed Kirkpatrick, Vic Davalillo and Jay Johnstone stroked fifth inning singles but Detroit right fielder Jim Northrup nailed Kirkpatrick at the plate on the third hit.

The Angels finally broke the ice in the sixth when Rick Reichardt and Satriano slammed homers, but McLain finished strong as the Tigers' pennant clinching magic number dipped to six.

Charlie Smith's first homer of the season, a two-out blast in the ninth, sent the Yankees past the White Sox in the opener. Right-hander Joe Verbanic tossed a five-hitter in the nightcap for his first major league shutout as the Yanks soared five games over .500.

ON HOT STREAK

New York has won five in a row and 24 of its last 34 starts to move from seventh place into contention for third.

The Athletics kept their first division hopes alive by cuffing Boston's Gary Bell for four runs in the first inning—two of them on Dick Green's double—and then staving off the Red Sox' late comeback.

Winner Lew Krausse allowed five hits until the ninth, when the Sox scored twice and drove him from the mound. Jack Aker protected the edge by getting the first two outs.

Tony Horton knocked in a pair of Cleveland runs with a homer and triple, then bounced into a triple play—the seventh in the majors this year—as the Indians topped the Twins behind Stan Williams.

Third baseman Rich Rollins started the triple killing by gloving Horton's tap with runners on first and second in the fifth. He stepped on third, forcing the front runner, and threw to second for another force. Rod Carew's relay to first baseman Bob Allison retired Horton, completing the bang-bang-bang play.

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech basketball coach Gene Gibson has been named to the All-America selection committee of the Basketball Coaches Association of America.

'BS Unbeaten,' Quips Dykes

"We feel real good about it all," Spike Dykes, head football coach at Big Spring High School told members of the Quarterback Club Tuesday night, "right now, we are undefeated."

The booster organization had gathered for its first formal session of the 1968-69 school year to hear a scouting report on Big Spring's first opponent, Lubbock Monterey, and view films of the recent scrimmage with Sweetwater.

Dykes told his listeners that the Steers looked dull and disorganized at the start of their scrimmage with Sweetwater but got better as the workout progressed.

Big Spring ultimately outscored the Mustangs, seven touchdowns to six.

"I hope we can execute better against Monterey," Dykes said. The coach also attributed the lack of a coordination effort against the Mustangs almost wholly on the fact that the coaches had been concentrating on improving individual performance rather than "trying to put it all together."

"We hope we can give you something of which to be proud," Dykes said. "Our sophomores and juniors looked great against Sweetwater. Our JV team dominated play in its scrimmage against the Sweetwater reserves. We're really looking forward to working with these boys.

"Our kids have made up their minds they are going to be contenders. We're proud of them and you parents should be. They're working very hard.

"We can't play but 11 at a time but we wouldn't be much of a ball team if only 11 suited up. Some of the others know they're not going to get to play as often as the regulars but they're working just as hard and they give us all they've got. We're proud of them."

Coaching aide Garland Braun gave a brief scouting report on Monterey and emphasized the fact that the Plainsmen are big and battle-wise.

Braun said that backs Bobby Lewis, a 150-pound junior quarterback; and a 175-pound tailback Brad Hall are especially fine performers for the Plainsmen.

Up front, Monterey will outweigh the Steers over ten pounds a man from tackle to tackle, Braun said. In corner back Greg Cassel, the Plainsmen have one of the best defensive players in West Texas high school ball, according to Garland.

Coaches of all the teams in the local system were introduced and the QBC members attending were urged to support the junior high, ninth grade, sophomore and JV teams playing in the area this weekend.

Last night's program was in charge of Ike Robb and Jimmy Jones, co-captains of the booster club.

Montreal Signs First Player

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Expos, who will begin play in the National League next season, have their first player under contract.

He's Dave Hartman of Austin, Minn., a 21-year-old, 6-foot-6 left-handed pitcher who played for Iowa State University last season and was one of 16 players picked by Montreal in the college draft. He was signed Tuesday to play with Sarasota in the Class A Florida State League.

U.S. Cup Hopes Given Boost In Open Tourney

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP) — Arthur Ashe finally lost a tennis match Tuesday but the United States' Davis Cup hopes got a boost anyway.

The slender Negro, winner of the first U.S. Open singles championship Monday, went down to defeat in the doubles final after a marathon semifinal match that took three days to complete.

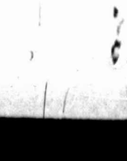

Ashe and Spanish pro Andres Gimeno succumbed 11-9, 6-1, 7-5 to Stan Smith and Bob Lutz, a pair of 21-year-olds from the University of Southern California who figure to be the U.S. doubles team in Davis Cup play.

The Americans play the winner of a series involving India, Japan and West Germany for the right to oppose Australia in the Challenge Round. The dates are Nov. 8-10 with the site to be determined.

Ashe and Gimeno defeated Clark Graebner of New York and Charles Pasarell of Puerto Rico Tuesday in a semifinal match that began Sunday and was halted by darkness Sunday and Monday. The scores were 6-4, 3-6, 4-6, 20-18, 15-13. Then they bowed to Smith and Lutz.

Ashe completed the doubles on legs made rubbery by 162 games of tennis in 24 hours. He beat Tom Okker of The Netherlands in five sets Monday for the singles crown.

Kirkland Hurt In Grid Drill

COMMERCE, Tex. — The injury list has become a problem now for East Texas State football coach Ernest Hawkins.

Only one of those on the injury list, 175-pound split end David Lowrie of Freeport, will be out for the season. The sophomore had knee surgery last spring and, after an injury in two-a-day drills, had another operation Monday.

Assistant coach Wayne "Boley" Crawford said he was "flat worried" when he saw starting quarterback Benny Kirkland go down with a knee injury in Saturday's intrasquad scrimmage. The 179-pound senior starter from Big Spring was not in Monday's workouts but is expected to be ready for the opening game against Abilene Christian in Abilene on Sept. 21.

All-Lone Star Conference split end Tom Black, a senior from Central Islip, N.Y., and honorable mention All-LSC tight end Henry Luman, a senior from Garland, missed Saturday's scrimmage because of muscle pulls. Junior center Mike Conaway of Odessa (Permian) will be out for a couple of weeks because of a knee injury.

Forsan Coaches With Seniors

Bisons Await Rugged Test

FORSAN — Seven-two in the won-lost column—last year, the Central Catholic Chargers of Abilene hope to improve on that record this year.

The Chargers come thundering down the pike here Friday night to oppose the Forsan Buffaloes in the opening football game of the season for both teams. Kickoff time is 8 o'clock.

Coach Wiley Wise of Central Catholic has picked up a fine transfer in tailback Jim Bassford, a 160-pound junior, who was a member of a state finalist team in Maine last year.

Back from last year's Central Catholic club is fullback Larry Berg, a 175-pound senior, leading rusher on last year's team.

Boasting nine seniors, Forsan figures to field a better ball club than it had a year ago. The Buffaloes have had a year to get used to the challenges that 11-man ball offers.

Larry Tolson, who takes over as the Forsan quarterback, and Garry Irwin, big left end, are two of the better boys coach Oscar Boeker has added to his roster. Both were here last year but had to play on the B team because of the transfer rule.

The Bisons appear to have ample size along the line and adequate depth.

Pro Football Loses 3 All-Time Greats

By The Associated Press

Professional football sang a sad September Song Tuesday for three of its all-time greats—Lou Groza, Jimmy Taylor and Tommy McDonald.

All three reached the end of the line as active players, leaving behind scores of (1) memories and (2) lines of type in the record books.

Groza, the 44-year-old pot-bellied placekicker who holds the pro football scoring record and was an outstanding tackle in his younger days, was removed from the Cleveland Browns' roster and hired as a coach.

NON-PLAYER

Taylor, the smashing fullback whose decade of power running made him a legend with the mighty Green Bay Packers, retired after one season with the expansion New Orleans club and took a public relations job with the Saints.

The Atlanta Falcons released McDonald, the acrobatic 34-year-old flanker who caught 488 passes in an 11-year career, fourth best in National Football League history.

"I had said that I didn't want to be the one who would have to say this is the end of the line for Lou Groza," said Blanton Collier, Cleveland coach. "He still thinks that he can kick the football, and I do, too, but we have a fine young kicker in Don Cockroft and we want to examine his potential further. We felt that we could not put Cockroft on waivers and expect to keep him."

Groza was one of the players when the Browns were organized in 1946 as a member of the All-America Conference. He holds the NFL scoring record with 1,273 points and his career total is a whopping 1,532, including those in the AAC.

"Taylor's contributions to the first-year Saints will never be forgotten," said John W. Mecom Jr., owner of the team, who signed the bruising fullback after he played out his option with Green Bay.

"His magnificent efforts with a young, untested team of veterans and rookies were matched only by the leadership and balance he gave the Saints when it was needed the most."

Taylor, who will be 33 later this month, led the Saints in rushing last season with 390, a far cry from the 1960-64 glory years when he became the only man ever to put together five straight 1,000 yards-plus rushing campaigns.

Pats' Antwine Is Named Week's Defensive Star

NEW YORK (AP) — Commenting on Houston Antwine's offseason job as an insurance salesman, former teammate Bob Dee once remarked, "His best customers should be quarterbacks."

After the Boston Patriot finished his sales pitch against Buffalo Sunday, the Bills very likely were ready to take out a policy against Antwine.

The burly defensive tackle plagued the Bills throughout the game, won by Boston 16-7, and for his efforts was named today The Associated Press' first defensive player of the week for the American Football League season.

The most impressive part of Antwine's performance came the second time the Bills had the ball. The first time they had it they scored, and when they started driving again, it looked as if they might be on their way to a runaway.

But Antwine helped spoil any such thoughts by twice catching runners from behind. He went on to make four more unassisted tackles for a game-high of six. The result of his work plus that of the rest of the Patriot defense was a shutout the rest of the way.

Antwine received the weekly honor over a teammate, linebacker Nick Buoniconti, who also made six unassisted tackles; Buffalo safety George Saimes, who recovered two fumbles, and Kansas City defensive tackles Buck Buchanan and Ernie Ladd, who repeatedly harassed Houston's Pete Beathard.

Pardee Eyes New Challenge

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Rams' front defensive four has earned the respect of National League rivals and absolute adulation of Ram fans. But it can hardly be said that others of the defensive troops are unsung heroes.

One is linebacker Jack Pardee, an NFL veteran with all his 11 years with Los Angeles.

Pardee was a four-sport star at Texas A&M. He was the Rams' No. 2 choice in 1957. He backs up the left side of half the Fearsome Four, Merlin Olsen and Deacon Jones.

Last year Los Angeles led the NFL in pass interceptions with 32. Ram linebackers swiped 13 and of those, Pardee hauled in six. He ran back two for touchdowns, one for 40 yards.

Pardee has some ideas on the coming NFL title chase and the Rams' opening game with the Cardinals in St. Louis Monday night.

"I like playing a team we haven't met recently. It's a fresh challenge," he said.

"I don't like playing San Francisco three times a year. It's hard to beat any team three times, even if you're better.

"If they lose early, they're up for you the next time.

"The Cardinals look much improved over last year. I watched them on TV against Minnesota and I was very impressed with their young quarterback, Jim Hart," Pardee said.

Ten victories will be enough to win the Coastal Division title, Pardee thinks, predicting it will be among the Rams, Baltimore and San Francisco.

Wilson Makes Cincy Dance To His Tune

By The Associated Press

"For it's one, two, three strikes you're out . . . ," hums Don Wilson with his fast ball, and he has the Cincinnati Reds swinging right along.

But you can bet the tune is not a hit with the Reds.

Wilson played it for them almost two months ago—July 14—and 18 Reds went down swinging, giving Wilson a share of the major league record.

Wilson had the Reds dancing to his tune again Tuesday night as the Houston right-hander struck out 16 en route to a 3-2 victory in the opener of a twi-night doubleheader.

But with Wilson silent in the dugout during the nightcap, the Reds made a little noise with their bats for a 4-3 triumph and a split.

CARDS IN SLUMP

The St. Louis Cardinals, who have plenty of reason to sing, hit another flat note in their march to the National League pennant as the Los Angeles Dodgers beat them 3-0 for the second night in a row.

Second-place San Francisco, still nursing mini-hopes of pulling a major miracle, trimmed the Cardinals' lead to 10½ games by beating Atlanta 4-2.

The Chicago Cubs, behind Billy Williams' three home runs blasted the New York Mets 8-1 in an afternoon contest, and Philadelphia was rained out at Pittsburgh in the other scheduled contest.

Wilson had not faced the Reds since he equalled the nine-inning strike out mark set by Bob Feller and tied twice by Sandy Koufax.

He had a little trouble getting in tune, giving up John Bench's 15th homer in the second, and after Jose Herrera's two-run double in the fifth put him ahead 3-1, he gave up another run, and had only seven strike outs in six innings. He also needed a strong throw from left fielder Bob Aspromonte in the sixth to catch Vada Binson at the plate.

Then he started coming in loud and clear. He fanned two in the seventh and struck out the side in the eighth and ninth to complete a six-hitter for his 13th victory against 14 losses.

GAME DELAYED

The Astros relied more on their bats in the second game as Jim Wynn, Doug Rader and Norm Miller slammed solo homers, but it wasn't enough in a game delayed 47 minutes by rain. Alex Johnson won it for the Reds with a tie-breaking bases loaded, two-out single in the ninth after two walks and a hit batter by Steve Shea.

The Dodgers handed the Cardinals their sixth loss in seven games and kept the pennant clinching number at six—any combination of St. Louis victories or San Francisco losses totaling six would give the Cardinals the flag.

Bill Singer scattered nine hits and ignited a two-run burst in the third inning off Steve Carlton, 12-11, with a single to raise his record to 11-15.

San Francisco, still playing far in the background, beat the Braves on Willie McCovey's 33rd homer with two on in the third inning, against Al Santorini, making his first major league start.

Bailey Clements Coach Of Runnels 7th Graders

A native of Peacock and a graduate of Pampa High School, Bailey Clements, is helping coach the Runnels Junior High seventh grade here.

In that capacity, Clements is working with Ralph Harris. The two Runnels teams will open their season here a week from Saturday.

Clements won two football letters as a guard at Pampa, playing part of the time there under Babe Curfman. He later enrolled at Henderson County Junior College in Athens, where his coach was Tom Steigleder. He also played football two years there.

He took his degree at North Texas State University in Denton in 1963 and spent one year as an instructor in Elementary PE in the Friona school system before moving to Big Spring in 1964.

Although he has worked informally with athletic programs since moving here, this is his first year as a fulltime coach.

He is president of the local Classroom Teachers Association and was president-elect of the West Texas Regional Council of Social Studies before resigning to devote his time to coaching.

BAILEY CLEMENTS

Clements is married to the former Carol Collier of Athens. One boy, William Collier, age 8 months, has been born to that union.

The family makes its home at 1300 Lincoln.

Bailey teaches five classes of World History before turning to coaching each day.

Vols And Houston Are Given Edge

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The time has come for the everyday housewife to put her dreams away for another day . . . and start trying to hold the line against Saturday's heroes of the homescreen.

College Football 1968 is upon us, bearing promise of unprecedented weekend delights for armchair quarterbacks from Lafayette, Ind., to Los Angeles . . . and headaches for the little women.

Would you mind sharing those aspirin tablets with an itinerant pigskin picker, lady?

The opening kickoff is a week away for most major college teams. But a handful will be taking the plunge Saturday . . . along with this fumble-leery crystal ball-gazer.

The nationally-televised clash between Tennessee's Southeastern Conference champs and Georgia's toothy Bulldogs tops a six-game afternoon card. High-powered Houston entertains the Green Wave of Tulane in the Astrodome in one of 10 arclight openers.

We'll put our perfect 1968 record on the line with the following selections:

SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Tennessee over Georgia: This collision of Dixie dandies was moved up one week to accommodate the television fans . . . and it promises to be a typical SEC free-for-all.

Nebraska over Wyoming: The Huskers are tall, starting with 6-foot-7 quarterback Frank Patrick, and tough they led the nation in defense last year. The starting backfield on Wyoming's Sugar Bowl team is gone . . . and so is All-American kicking specialist Jerry DePoyster.

Wake Forest over North Carolina State. Upset No. 1.

Iowa State over Buffalo.

Utah State over New Mexico State.

Also, Western Michigan over Arkansas State.

SATURDAY NIGHT

Houston over Tulane: Houston's Paul Gipson, who rambled for 1,100 yards to spark the nation's No. 1 offensive machine in 1967, has shifted from fullback to halfback and added ballet lessons to his training schedule. If he doesn't tiptoe through Tulane, it's a good bet that new fullback Carlos Bell, a 6-foot-5, 225-pound gift from the Cougars' great basketball team, will.

Colorado State University over New Mexico.

Xavier over Miami, Ohio.

Toledo over Richmond.

Other picks: Dayton over Kent State; Texas-El Paso over California-Santa Barbara; West Texas State over Lamar Tech; East Carolina over Parsons; Morehead State over Marshall; Furman over Miss College.

Coach Sporting Hirsute Growth

DAVIDSON, N.C. (AP) — Davidson College basketball Coach Lefty Driesell has a goatee these days and says it may help his recruiting.

"You know how these modern athletes are. If I could land some good players I might wear it all season," Driesell said.

The balding coach wants it made clear that he isn't a hippie, however.

"I still take a bath and shave around the goatee," he said.

Gould's Bail Deal Shocks

BELTON, Tex. (AP) — The manager of the Oleo Strut Coffee House in Killeen—an establishment that caters to anti-Vietnam war sentiment at Ft. Hood—has been freed from jail on $2,500 bond.

Josh Gould had been in jail since Aug. 23, when he was arrested and charged with possession of marijuana. He was released Tuesday.

Bond for Gould, 23, was signed by Killeen lawyers Davis Bragg and C. W. Duncan.

Justice of the Peace Floyd Mitchell set bond at $50,000 when Gould was arrested after officers searched his car outside the coffee house. They said they found enough marijuana to make half a cigarette.

Mitchell reduced the bond to $15,000. Then Dist. Judge W. A. Messer further reduced it to $2,500.

The coffee house—named after a helicopter shock absorber—was set up by a group called Summer of Support. It sought to put anti-war sentiment in close touch with enlisted men at nearby Ft. Hood. Similar cafes have been established near other bases.

Cycle Dive Kills

HOUSTON (AP) — Ricky E. Roberts, 14, of Spring, north of here in Harris County, was killed Tuesday night when a motorcycle ran off the road just north of Spring. His vehicle dived into Cypress Creek and young Roberts was hurled 45 feet onto its bank.

We give you less for your money.

You don't get a drive shaft. (Our engine is in the rear to give you better traction.)

And you don't get a radiator. Or a water pump. Or hoses. (Our engine is air-cooled, not water-cooled.)

And since you don't get any of these things, you don't have to get anti-freeze. Or rust inhibitors.

And what you don't get, you don't have to pay for.

So if you like what you don't get, you can get a new Volkswagen

That's the price you pay for getting less.

Dr. Gosnell Bishop In WT

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Dr. Harold C. Gosnell, a social worker turned clergyman, is to be installed today as the new bishop of the 60-county Episcopal Diocese of West Texas.

Elected to the position May 1 in a special diocesan council session, Dr. Gosnell succeeds Bishop Everett [illegible] Jones, who is retiring.

The consecration was scheduled for 10:30 a.m. Wednesday in the San Antonio Convention Center banquet hall. More than 2,500 were expected to attend.

Dr. Gosnell is a former probation officer in an Ohio juvenile court. He says he turned to the ministry because he "wanted to get in on the prevention rather than the cure" of human spiritual ailments.

After graduating from Syracuse University in 1930, he attended the Episcopal Theological School at Harvard. He held pastorates in Lincoln, Neb., Fulton and Marcellus, N.Y., before coming to St. Mark's Episcopal Church here in 1948. This year he retired after 25 years as chaplain in the U.S. Naval Reserve.

Among those to attend the ceremonies Wednesday is the Rt. Rev. John E. Hines, presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church, who told a news conference Tuesday that the bishops being consecrated in these times must in some ways be very different from bishops ordained 25 years ago.

A bishop's main task today, said Bishop Hines, is to be a chief pastor and make his office a focal point for the unifying and uplifting of all people within his pastoral care. Laymen as well as clergymen must be called on to carry out the tasks of the church, he said.

Turning to the papal birth control encyclical, Bishop Hines said it dealt a blow to the ecumenical movement but that it may not prove fatal.

"It seems to dictate to some of us a reversal of some of the trends of Vatican Council II," Dr. Hines said. He cited the controversial document's "emphasis on papal infallibility and magisterium (the teaching authority of the Roman Catholic Church)" as evidence of a possible shift in Roman Catholic thinking.

However, he said he was "quite sure non-Roman churches will do their best to overcome" any disadvantages which may have been caused by the document.

Negro Takes On Sen. Talmadge

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — A Negro attorney is challenging Democratic Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, heir to a political organization that dates back to the 1930s, in the state's first two-party primary today.

Talmadge supporters predict victory in his contest with Maynard Jackson, 30, but acknowledge that a light voter turnout —or even a heavy switchover to Republican ranks—could harm the senator's chances of winning a third consecutive term. The Democratic nominee will face Republican opposition.

The 55-year-old senator is a former governor who inherited a political machine fashioned by his father, the red-suspender-snapping Eugene Talmadge who won the governor's chair four times in the 1930s and 1940s.

His late father was an outspoken advocate of segregation, and when his son became governor two years after his death in 1946, he also became widely known as a proponent of white supremacy and a harsh critic of Supreme Court desegregation decisions.

Talmadge's stance on race has been softened in his speeches and comments during the dozen years in Washington and he appeared occasionally before Negro and integrated groups.

But Jackson's candidacy has revived the issue. As late as the eve of the election, Jackson, a political newcomer charged that an attempt was being made to draw racial lines in the contest.

His charge stemmed from a newspaper advertisement by Talmadge supporters telling voters it was "urgent" for them to vote in the primary to prevent "a minority candidate with a small but organized bloc of voters" from defeating the senator.

Jackson has criss-crossed the state, criticizing Talmadge's voting record in the Senate and repeatedly challenging the senator to debate him.

Talmadge has attempted to discount Jackson's challenge, declining debates and maintaining that he is not campaigning. However, his speeches were numerous and his advertising heavy.

The GOP Senate contest is between two Atlanta businessmen, Jack Sells and Earl Patton Jr.

Republicans have staged primaries in individual Georgia cities before, but this is the first time they have mustered enough interest to hold a statewide primary. In the past, Republicans qualified for the general election by filing petitions of voters with the secretary of state's office.

Mayor Daley's Report Labeled 'Dishonest'

NEW YORK (AP) — Leaders of antiwar demonstrations during the Democratic convention in Chicago have termed "dishonest and incorrect" Mayor Richard J. Daley's account of police action.

David Dellinger, chairman of the National Mobilization Committee to End the War in Vietnam, a coalition of 100 antiwar groups, told newsmen Tuesday: "I think the brutality that took place has not been adequately but partially documented in the press."

Mayor Daley issued a 15,000-word report on the disorders defending police action and contending that "terrorists" deliberately provoked overreaction.

Dellinger said the committee had unsuccessfully sought for two months for permission from the Chicago authorities "for normal and orderly outlets for protests."

A characteristic of a police state, Dellinger said, "is to smear the victims after brutalizing them so its appears justified."

Rennie Davis, project director for the committee, refuted Daley's assertion that only 60 demonstrators were injured.

"Those people who were treated in our own medical units numbered nearly 400," Davis said.

Bullets Verdict

SWEETWATER (AP)—Bullets which struck Robert A. Lightfoot, 58, in the head and his wife, 53, in the chest killed both Tuesday.

Police said Mrs. Lightfoot was dead when officers found the Sweetwater couple and her husband died at a hospital. The inquest verdict was murder and suicide.
