Traxler and 2 Aides Drive into Town and Pick Up Woman

SEARCH STARTED

Intensive Manhunt Is Organized After Appearance

VERDEN, Okla. July 20. (P) — Roy "Pete" Traxler and two companion escapees from the Eastham Texas prison farm drove boldly into Verden at dawn, today, picked up Mrs. Traxler, some heavy luggage and fled in her car while officers and acquaintances looked on.

Constable Fred Drossis of Verden spread the alarm after he said he saw Traxler and his companions meet the wife, then go to a nearby filling station for gasoline.

He said he decided he had no chance with the armed gunmen; attempting vainly to telephone the sheriff at Chickasha; then drove there to spread the alarm.

The delay gave the felons an hour start.

Sheriff Jim Barnes said that FBI agents, state and county officers are concentrating for an intensive manhunt.

A justice of peace returned a murder, suicide verdict at an inquest held this morning.

MACHINERY BEING MOVED TO NO. 158 FOR 'HOT TOPPING'

Surfacing of 12.3 Miles Will Be Made

Machinery was being moved Monday by the Public Service Co. to state highway No. 158, running northwest from Midland, to lay "hot topping" where the state highway department had prepared the caliche base within Midland county.

The present project calls for the surfacing of 12.3 miles and was expected to be completed in approximately ten days, county officials said.

State highway crews were at work making final preparations for the surface coat.

Work was expected to start from Midland, continuing to the Midland-Ector county line. From there, work has been under way by the highway department, laying the caliche base as was done previously in Midland county, the present project extending about eight miles to connect with the Odessa-Andrews paved road.

This segment, probably to be included in state highway projects in the near future, will provide a speedy and all-weather cut-off from Midland to oil fields northwest and to points north on highway No. 51.

State Owned Jacks, Stallions "Rented"

Registered stallions and jacks, owned by the state and distributed to farmers and ranchers over the state by the department of agriculture by means of revenue received from proceeds of pari-mutuel wagering, will be rented to their caretakers at $30 per year, according to information sent S. O. Golladay of Midland. Golladay has one of the registered jacks at his place south-east of Midland.

The state owns 258 of these blooded animals, a recent report showed, and they are valued at $107,000. Giant Belgians and Percherons, mammoth jacks and handsome gaited saddle horses are included in the animals owned by the department of agriculture. Many ranchers and farmers bought brood mares because of the availability of the blooded sires, resulting in the breeding up of horse and mule stock in Texas.

From the $30 a year rental from the sires, the state must employ inspectors to make monthly trips to farms and ranches where the animals are kept. The rancher or farmer, in turn, must make his service fees from neighbors pay the $30 a year rental, as well as the cost of keeping each jack or stallion.

New Compromise Court Bill Will Be Offered

WASHINGTON, July 20. (P)—An administration spokesman said today that a new compromise court bill will possibly be offered to win the support of opponents of the measure now before the senate.

The official, who would not be quoted by name, added there was a very decided belief that the all around bitter contest over the court bill "will work out surprisingly satisfactorily for all concerned."

The opinion was expressed after Vice-President Garner spent more than an hour in the White House with the President.

Foes of the President's court bill jubilantly declared today that the opposition of Gov. Herbert H. Lehman of New York would prove a "complete and final" death blow to the legislation.

Speeding back to the legislative battle-ground from the Arkansas funeral of Senator Robinson (D-Ark) they said Lehman's message would result in defeat of the court bill before the week-end.

Lehman, long a co-worker of President Roosevelt, asked Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.) to oppose the court-revamping proposal. He said orderly processes of government "should not be sacrificed merely meet an immediate situation."

CARMICHAEL IN BLANTON CASE

Safety Department Head To Investigate the Mystery

AUSTIN, July 20. (P) — Col. H. H. Carmichael, director of the state public safety department, disclosed plans to go to the lower Rio Grande valley for a first-hand investigation today of recent developments in the Blanton disappearance mystery.

He conferred informally Monday with two of the three members of the public safety commission.

The Willacy county commissioners court telegraphed a request for commissions for two special investigators in the Blanton case. Carmichael said he would talk to members of the court while in Raymondville.

Albert Sidney Johnson, commission chairman, voiced the opinion that "what is needed is not more persons with authority to make arrests but someone who can solve the crime." He said the area already had sufficient officers to arrest the guilty persons if it was known "who the guilty persons are."

Carmichael hoped to obtain additional details concerning recent actions of Power Fenner, suspended ranger.

Five placards, one warning "this is what happens to all negroes who harm white people," were found at the scene of the lynching. The victims were shot.

SHEK IN CHARGE

Generalissimo Back At Home After Vacation

PEIPING, July 20. (P) — Fighting between Chinese and Japanese troops broke out west of here again today after an ultimatum demanding Chinese evacuation of the area had expired; and the Chinese arsenal and barracks at Wangpinhsien were reported burning from punitive shelling by Japanese artillery.

Nanking dispatches said that Gen. Chiang Kai-Shek had returned there from his summer residence ready to take full charge or plans to offset what the Chinese consider a Japanese incursion into North China.

The United States embassy here announced it was calling attention of Japanese authorities to a story by two American women that they were shoved and kicked by Japanese sentries guarding the Japanese embassy.

Japanese sources declared that China had replied to the virtual ultimatum to withdraw her troops from the Peiping battle area with a reiteration that no settlement would be acceptable unless the Japanese troops also were withdrawn.

In Tokyo, officials declared that the movement of troops belonging to the central Chinese government into Hopeh province had violated the Ho-Umezu North China agreement of 1935 and constituted "aggression" against Japan. The Japanese contend that the agreement binds the Nanking government not to send any land or air forces into Hopeh.

Behind the Scenes in Washington

WASHINGTON, July 20. — President William Green's assurance that rank and file members of A. F. of L. unions will be permitted to support C. I. O. strikes if they so desire is interpreted by C. I. O. leaders as a big break for the Lewis group.

Some of the C. I. O. people optimistically predict that a by-product of the pronouncement will be an acceleration of the disintegration of A. F. of L., which they fondly expect.

Green has been receiving heavy criticism from some of his own locals. There was an especially bad reaction to his public statement which gloated over the failure of the strike against four independent steel companies.

Lewis also has promised to support A. F. of L. strikes. But most big strikes have been C. I. O. strikes in newly organized territory, and if the Green statement means added support from A. F. of L. affiliates, as C. I. O. anticipates, the Lewis organization will be the chief beneficiary.

Writing Letters to Editor Life Job; Idahoan Authors 78,000 Missives

COEUR D'ALENE, Ida. (U.P.) — Charles Hooper of this city is believed to hold the world's record for "letters to the editor," and also for getting them printed.

To date he has written no less than 78,000 such missives.

These have been sent not only to newspaper editors in the United States, but also to France, Germany, Italy and Spain, all written in the language of each of those countries, as well as thousands of letters in English to the English language papers of China, Japan and the Far East generally.

Hooper's penchant for writing letters to the editor is not merely an offspring of the English tradition which causes many an Englishman, when he sees, hears or thinks something, to write to the London Times, but is prompted by a sincere desire to help a bit in the way of reforming. A modest fortune enables him to adopt this method of trying to get his ideas before the public.

Hooper is a native of New York and was trained for the ministry, but later became convinced that with his typewriter and the "letters to the editor" columns of most of the newspapers of the world open to him, he could reach a larger public and do more good.

"Whenever I see a wrong I want to right it," said Hooper, "and I have found that the columns of newspapers are a mighty factor in such work."

"Most of my letters have been on subjects of religion and morality, trying to correct errors and abuses in both fields. But I have also written extensively on literature, art, education, game preservation and medicine."

"In fact, I was once offered the privilege of joining the Society of Medical Authors. They believed I was a physician, though I have never studied medicine. I also prefer not to turn what writing ability I have to profit as I feel freer and believe that I accomplish more results simply by letters to the editor."

Hooper said that a few of the goals he has campaigned for were the re-election of Woodrow Wilson and against prohibition at a time when such a stand was not popular.

A new law concerning insanity was passed by the legislature during the regular session and approved by the governor on June 8. The law provides that if a jury finds a killer insane at the time of the homicide, but is sane at the time of hearing, he shall be discharged—a free man. Under this law a man subject to attacks of homicidal mania is protected from punishment but the sane members of the population cannot be protected from him. Like headaches, such attacks come and go, says the El Paso Herald-Post, and, therefore, no telling when he will kill someone.

Plane Factories Called 5 Years Behind in Work

PASADENA, Cal. (U.P.) — Aviation is bounding ahead at such a pace that California plane manufacturers are five years behind in their orders, according to A. T. Hay, Jr., aviation instructor.

Hay declared that Southern California manufacturers now have unfilled contracts to the amount of $60,000,000. He said that a person, even if he had the cash, would not be able to get a plane built within two to four years.

Hay is of the opinion that Soviet Russia today leads the world in aviation with the United States a close second.

Household Hints

For those who love bright spots of color outside apartment windows, the worry of falling or upsetting can be eliminated. A long rail, driven into the window sill, will hold the potted flower by the train hole in the bottom.

Cut thread diagonally when sewing by hand—it is easier to thread the needle. When sewing on fine material that might pull, place tissue paper under the cloth and sew through fabric and paper. Tear off paper when finished and material will remain flat.

A coat of natural color finger nail polish will restore the glossy finish of buttons which have become dull and unattractive.

By setting individual custard cups into a muffin tin, they can be handled all at one time—no upset dishes or burned fingers.

Just before papering a room, apply a thin coat of white shellac to any grease spots that may be on the wall. Then no grease will penetrate.

THERE'S ONLY ONE WAY TO STOP CONSTIPATION

You have to correct the cause. Simply taking a pill now and then is just temporary—and often harmful.

Most constipation is due to meals low in "bulk." Put enough "bulk" in your diet and you can really correct common constipation.

That's why millions of people eat Kellogg's ALL-BRAN every day. This cereal furnishes "bulk" which does not "break down" in the body. ALL-BRAN absorbs twice its weight in water, gently sponges and cleanses the system.

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN is a food—not a medicine. You buy it at the grocery store. Besides "bulk," it has vitamin B to tone up the intestines, and iron for the blood. Eat two tablespoons daily with milk or cream. Three times daily in severe cases. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

B. and P. W. Club to Study General Topic Of 'Town's Business'

With "Our Town's Business" as the general topic for the year's program, the Business and Professional Women's Clubs of Midland has arranged to have two programs each month on subjects bearing on the industries and enterprises which support the town. Details of the program to be included in the club's yearbook will be completed before August 31, it was decided at a meeting of the program committee Monday night.

During the Fall months the programs will center around the basic industries, cattle, oil and agriculture. Furnishing the theme for at least two of the programs, will be the Romance of the West, both the old and new, which has enriched the story of the development of these basic industries of Texas.

Miss Maria Spencer, committee chairman, said that a thirty minute period for discussion will be allowed at each meeting, and that she anticipates some lively discussions following the talks on local government, schools, rentals, consumer protection through government supervision of manufacture and sale of foods, drugs and cosmetics, and other topics vital to the business and professional woman.

Bathe Before Swim And After as Well

Whether you go down to sea in a ship or in the old family bus—and even if the sea is only a neighborhood stream or lake or swimming pool—there's no pleasanter indulgence on summer days than a dip in the deep. It is well to remember, however, that the benefits of this indulgence are recreation and exercise rather than cleanliness, and that swimming does not reduce the obligation of ordinary soap-and-water bathing.

On the contrary, that obligation is even increased. A cleansing shower or tub is the logical prelude to a day of swimming. At swimming pools, especially, a vigorous soaping is an essential precaution before plunging in. And no matter where you swim, by the time you are ready to pack up and go home your skin has a sticky feeling and there's probably sand or gravel between your toes.

A good soap-and-water scrub is therefore the sensible windup to a good swim. No matter how long you may float astride the waves, a swim is not a bath; in fact, it is likely to leave on the body sediment that needs to be removed. Most seaside resorts nowadays have first-rate equipment for washing. At other places it may be necessary to do the bathing at home. Wherever you do it, you'll need plenty of warm water and a liberal application of soap to remove the itching particles of sand and the increased perspiration brought on by unusual exertion. Scrub yourself well, rinse off the soap, and finish with a clean, cool splash. Dry your skin thoroughly, then slip into fresh strate the new wall paper.

Wet corn meal is an excellent cleanser and softener of the skin. Baking soda or plain salt are fine, yet cheap, denitrifiers. Lemon juice is a good skin bleach and freckle lotion. Peanut oil is an effective skin food.

A Book A Day

"Green Gravel" for girl's ham-mock reading.

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

A good book for the girl's ham-mock-reading this vacation is "Green Gravel" by Dora Aydelotte (Appleton Century: $2). Judy Clement, the hoyden heroine, goes from one scrape to another in the small midwestern town where she lives. Even her "good deeds" turn to trouble. The quiet little village is quiet except for Judy—the life of the church, church suppers, medicine shows and old-fashioned Thanksgivings, and all the characters from the hired girl's beau to the spoiled visiting cousin, are pictured by the author from her own childhood recollections.

The girls will like it enormously.

For younger boys who love animals (and don't all boys?), there is "Down Comes the Wilderness" by Margaret Evans Price (Harpers: $1.75).

"The Wilderness is coming down," wrote Don David's grandfather from New York State. "Animals—all sorts of them are coming back from the mountains. You must come up and see."

So Don David packs his bags and spends the summer on his grandfather's farm where, with his cousin Lucy, he makes a bird and game refuge. They re-route a stream through their woods, set a raccoon's broken leg, rear a bear cub, and befriend many other creatures.

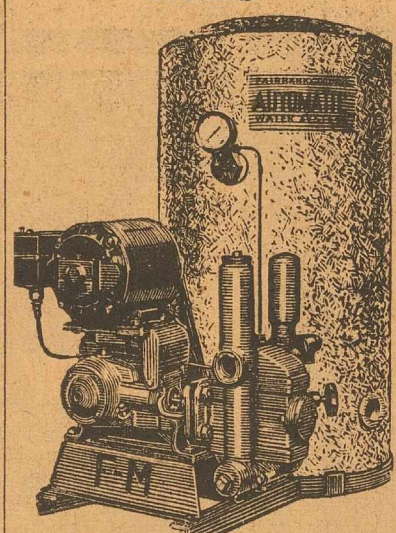

It is an interesting book, full of practical information and especially timely for the outdoor days of summer.

Other worthwhile books for vacation reading are "Swords and Statues" by Clarence Stratton (Winston: $2), an exciting story of a boy in 16th century Italy; "Big Loop and Little" by Alice G. Hager (Macmillan: $2), a complete history of the American cowboy from early days to the modern dude ranch; "Legends of Hawaii," by Padraic Colum (Yale: $2.50), beautiful translation of the islands' old legends and folk tales; and "Marcos, a Mountain Boy of Mexico," by Mellicent Humason Lee (Whitman: $2), a picturesque book for the 10-year-old.

Albert Bailey has been in business 46 years. Never in all those years has his bellows missed a puff.

His grandfather also was a blacksmith. Jefferson was for many years known as the "Little Kentucky" of Ohio. Hundreds of work-horses were sired here, as well as light-harness stock.

The Fight for Power in Washington

This is the second of six stories by Rodney Dutcher, interpreting the bewildering economic and political events of the day in terms of a gigantic fight for power.

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
The Midland Reporter-Telegram
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 20. — The congressional phase of the fight for power in America turns on whether Roosevelt can "purge" the Democratic party of certain conservative opponents, or whether those opponents can purge away his power over legislation and thwart his ambition to control the party in the presidential year of 1940.

The immediate issue is the latest chapter of the Roosevelt reform program—the Supreme Court plan compromise, the wage-hour bill, government reorganization, the dream of "seven more TVA's" to blanket the country, more effective crop control, and tax legislation to get at rich men who have managed to evade the soaking the administration wants them to have.

Remaking The Party
Some critics of Roosevelt here believe he will seek a 1940 nomination. Most of them do not. But they all know that he hopes to name his successor and that he has expressed belief that the Democratic party can get along without certain prominent senators just as easily as it got by without Al Smith, John W. Davis, Jim Reed, Bainbridge Colby, and others in 1936.

Furthermore Roosevelt has hinted that he will be glad to horn into the 1938 and 1940 primaries at any point where his leadership has been made an issue.

The situation has the makings of a major party split and an acceleration of the political realignment which actually has been in progress for years. The extent of collaboration between the Republican party machinery here and certain Democratic senators fighting the court plan has amazed insiders who are aware of it but are pledged to secrecy. There has been close co-operation on other issues. And plenty of conversation, at least, about Republican aid for anti-Roosevelt Democrats in next year's primaries and elections.

"Coalition" Possible
Sooner or later you will begin to hear calls for a "coalition government." It is impossible to tell now how far into the Democratic party such a move could go, since that depends on results of the current intra-party fight over power.

Roosevelt's Democratic opposition is most significant in the Senate. One may, by generalizing, divide the Senate into three groups:

1. Outspoken foes who are intent on breaking his power and diminishing his influence.
2. A middle group whose members have no great zeal for reform, prefer to stand by the President generally but sometimes may desert him on certain issues and would at the moment be glad to close up Congress and go home.
3. The thick-and-thin Roosevelt group which for one reason and another is willing to support Roosevelt on every issue, including that of the court.

Three Diverse Groups
The first group includes congenial conservatives and others who believe the power and policies of Roosevelt and his ally, John L. Lewis, are a national menace, presidential aspirants who know they can expect no Roosevelt support, proud and jealous men who resent Roosevelt's success or arrogance, and men who owe allegiance to special interests antagonistic to Roosevelt.

The second group also contains some men who worry more or less about expansion of executive power, independence of the judiciary, sit-down strikes and labor violence and New Deal social economic schemes. But its members often can be swayed by partisan appeals, patronage bait or political prudence.

The third group includes the rump leadership — senators like Black, Barkley, Minton, and Schwellenbach, usually working with the Progressive LaFollette—which overrode Majority Leader Joe Robinson in the relief bill fight. It includes most of the progressives and many who maintain allegiance to Roosevelt for purely political reasons.

Congress' "Sitdown"
There may prove to be more bark than bite in the so-called congressional revolt. Nevertheless, it's amazing that nothing but routine and appropriation legislation has been passed after six months of a Congress which began with only 88 Republicans among its 435 representatives and 17 Republicans among its 96 senators.

Congress hasn't rubber stamped for Roosevelt since 1933 and he has had to fight most of the way. He has lost some important fights such as those on the World Court, the food and drugs bill, and AAA amendments. The Senate was killing NRA for him when the Supreme Court stepped in. He was soundly spanked on Passamaquoddy and the Florida Ship Canal.

He has been able to get through few important measures the way he wanted them. Most discretionary and administrative powers delegated to him have been given because Congress obviously couldn't practically exert such powers itself.

South Not "Solid"
The southern element in Congress is the strongest segment of the Democratic party's right wing and it is far from solid on share-the-wealth theories. C. I. O., sit-down strikes, generous relief policies, and large federal spending. Exception to the conservative rule are Senators Black of Alabama and Pepper of Florida and Congressman Maury Maverick of Texas.

The south provides the titular leadership, however. Speaker Bankhead and Majority Leader Rayburn have given Roosevelt small trouble in the House, but the Senate leadership and committee chairmen in both houses often have been apathetic or hostile at this session. These are the oldest Democrats in point of service.

Wants Progressive Party
Hence the emergence of an aggressive, liberal pro-Roosevelt rump leadership. Roosevelt has been ambitious for many years to make the Democratic party a progressive party and swears it won't again be such a party as nominated a Morgan lawyer for president in 1924.

Who does Roosevelt want to succeed him? Barkley? LaFollette? Wallace? Ickes? Hopkins? Earle? Farley? Probably he doesn't know yet, but don't ignore the order in which those names are placed. If you want to pick a presidential aspirant from his senatorial opposition you can begin with Clark, Boyd, Wheeler, Copeland, and Burke and keep on going for quite a while.

Judging from past quirks of history it's only a guess whether the Roosevelt endorsement in 1940 will be an asset or a liability.

NEXT: Roosevelt and the Supreme Court.

KRLH-Gulf Win First Soft Ball Games As They Outlast Foes in a Couple of

The KRLH and Gulf softball clubs won their first practice games last night when they managed to outlast the Hotel Scharbauer and the Midland Hardware teams in a couple of games that were full of errors, home runs and general inability of pitchers to handle the batters.

The Hardware and Gulf clubs played the first game and for four innings the teams played like they had "had weeks of practice." But Sherrod, Hardware pitcher, tired and in the fifth inning the Gulfers made at least a dozen runs. Straughan took over the hurling duties for the Gulf, relieving Adamson, and took no chance of hurting his arm as he lobbed them over. The game ended, finally, with the Gulf leading by an estimated 17-15 count.

The KRLH-Scharbauer game was called at the end of the third inning when the hotel crew yelled "calf rope." The players of both clubs were completely tired out, the broadcasters from running out their hits and the "bell hops" from chasing the ball.

The hotel club batted in the first half of the first and managed to make one tally—then the parade was on. Before the radio boys could be retired in their half the score keeper had pulled off both shoes and socks so he could count up to 20, finally giving up in disgust and giving the KRLH crew 17 runs. They did their best to keep from making any more for the rest of the game but the inn keepers made so many errors that they were forced to take something like another half-dozen during the evening.

The lights were not focused, a couple were out altogether and outfielders tried as much as possible to get out of the way of the ball when they saw it start out in their direction. Home runs were so frequent that no attempt was made after the first few frames to even keep count of them.

A couple of more practice games are carded for tonight with the Sinclair and the Baptist church clubs due to tangle in the first game, the Hardware and KRLH in the last.

Smugglers Worry Australia

CANBERRA (U.P.)—The government has found it necessary to increase its fleet of sea-going launches for the suppression of poachers and especially narcotic smugglers. A new craft has been ordered constructed at a cost of $80,000 which will aid in the patrol off the Northern Australian waters.

Army Too Fascinating
HONOLULU (U.P.)—Henry Nunes, municipal employee, couldn't keep away from the army. He was sentenced to 60 days imprisonment for visiting Schofield Barracks without permission after admitting that he had previously made an unauthorized call on the army.

J. C. Walker spent the week-end in Abilene visiting his wife and family.

Leave it to them to get the fast-rolling brand that's also mild and tasty

THERE ARE MORE good roll-your-owners in this town than you can shake a stick at. They roll 'em fast, firm, and handsome. But they don't take all the credit for themselves. They praise Prince Albert's "crimp cut" for easy, neat rolling. Lays right — doesn't spill out. Draws right. And that P. A. "no-bite" process routs harshness — lets the rich taste come through. (P. A. means new joy in pipes too!)

JUST THE IDEA of a Prince Albert "makin's" cigarette gets Harold Steed (above) feelin' good. He's frank to say: "I'm thankful for Prince Albert. It's got what I want in a 'makin's' tobacco — real body and taste with mellow mildness."

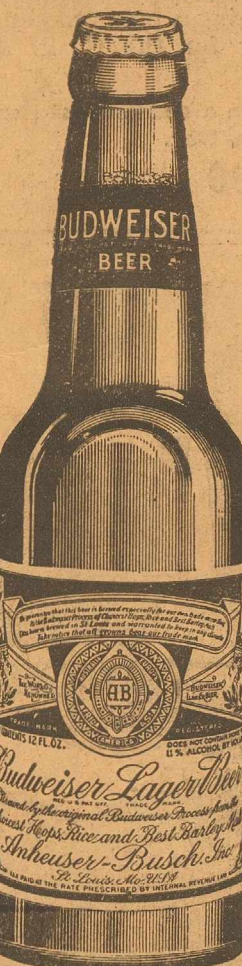

Grover Adams (extreme right) checks: "For fifteen years," says he, "P. A. has given me real smoking joy — rich taste without 'bite'!"

Static Problem Solved
On San Francisco Spans

SAN FRANCISCO (U.P.)—Engineers of San Francisco's two great bridges, across the Golden Gate and across San Francisco Bay to Oakland, have been obliged to find means for diverting the static electricity that is developed by many automobiles when in motion.

The necessity for something being done to remedy the situation developed when it was found that often when a car stopped to pay toll, the accumulated electricity in the car would run down the driver's arm into the coin he was tendering the toll collector and give the latter something of a jump.

The situation was remedied by the installation of "cat's whiskers" of slender metal rods which contact the frames of incoming cars and ground the static electricity before the toll collector gets it via the 50-cent fare.

Moore, Broderick
Get Many Laughs
In Noodle Contest

When the Happy Noodle Corporation organized a nation-wide contest to select a "Missus America," a woman who represents the country's perfect housewife, it picked itself a peck of trouble.

It chose some twenty winners from various parts of the nation to compete at Atlantic City for the title and the grand prize of ten thousand dollars. But somehow the representative from the middle-West was probably the worst housewife in the country, and what she and her protesting husband do to that convention forms the basis of mirth in RKO Radio's "Meet The Missus."

Victor Moore and Helen Broderick, who are swiftly attaining recognition as America's leading funsters, are co-starred in this hilarious offering, and with Anne Shirley as their daughter and a notable supporting cast, they turn in a side-splitting piece of screen entertainment.

With its settings in an Ohio town and in a big hotel at the New Jersey beach city, and with sparkling dialogue that takes full advantage of the many comedy situations, "Meet the Missus," starting tomorrow at the Yucca, is the second of the Moore-Broderick vehicles presented this season, the other being, "We're On the Jury."

and from 10 to 12 barrels of water daily. Total depth is 3,983 feet. The failure is located 2,310 feet from the south and 990 feet from the east line of section 24, block 56, township 1, T. & P. survey.
