Stork Fails In Leap Year Flight

For the first time in three Leap Years — possibly four — the stork failed to show up and as a result, a trove of nice presents which had been assembled for little Miss or Mr. Feb. 29 go unclaimed.

A check of the hospitals in town and at Webb AFB early today revealed not a single birth had occurred in any of them since midnight Feb. 28.

One reported that a prospective mother had checked in last night, but that the baby had not yet been born. Another mother, expecting twins, was slated as a likely contender for the Leap Year handicap, but she did not qualify.

Merchants of the city had posted a number of presents to be given to the baby born on Feb. 29.

The records show that each Leap Year since 1956, from two to four births had been recorded.

No Leap Year baby — no one to benefit from the nice presents which had been posted for it by Gibson's, Penney's, Pragers', J&K Shoe Store, Zale's, Big Spring Savings, Carter Furniture, Howard's Studio, Furr's, Anthony's, and First National Bank.

Now it will be 1972 before a new chance for Feb. 29 babies will be noted again.

Clubbers Place High

Dolores Lankford, Howard County 4-H Club member, Thursday rated second with the best group of three steers shown at the Houston Fat Stock Show by one exhibitor, James Shelton, assistant county agent, reported today.

Her entries in the show placed fifth in the medium-weight open steer class, eighth in the medium-weight junior class, tenth and fourteenth in junior lightweight class.

Mike McClain, also of the Howard County 4-H group, showed a sixteenth place heavyweight junior steer. Terrye Soechting showed a twelfth place and Toby Soechting, a nineteenth place summer junior heifer.

Shelton said that youngsters are selling a number of their steers today and that they should get around 50 cents a pound for their animals.

All of the exhibitors were on hand to personally show their animals.

New Gold Rush

LONDON (AP)—A new gold rush appeared to be building up in Europe today in an atmosphere of nervousness over the future of several major currencies, especially the British pound and the U.S. dollar.

Rumors from Washington, Paris, Tokyo, Ottawa and Johannesburg combined to excite the gold market, always sensitive to scare stories because gold buyers seek security from paper currency when its value seems uncertain.

Grammy Awards

NEW YORK (AP)—The lilting song, "Up, Up and Away," carried off six Grammy awards on Thursday night as the National Academy of Recording Arts and Sciences chose the best recordings of 1967.

"Gentle on My Mind" won four, in folk and country categories, depending on who sang it.

Illinois Sen. Everett Dirksen won the spoken word award for his record of "Gallant Men."

"Up, Up and Away," composed by Jim Webb, won as pop song of the year. As sung by the 5th Dimension, it won as record of the year, best performance by a vocal group, best contemporary single and best contemporary group performance. As sung by the Johnny Mann Singers, it won "best performance by a chorus."

Romanians Walk Out

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — A new rebellion has developed in the Soviet bloc, with Romania accusing the Kremlin of Stalinist tactics and walking out of the meeting of 66 Communist parties being held in Budapest.

The Romanian delegation walked out Thursday night after failing to win acceptance for two demands: repudiation of a Syrian attack on Romania's position on the Arab-Israeli question, and a promise that there would be no more attacks on Red China or any other Communist party during the remainder of the session.

Rowena Bank Burglarized

ROWENA, Tex. (AP)—Justice of the Peace D. W. Turner denied bond Thursday night to one of two men charged with burglary of the First National Bank of Rowena.

Robert C. Talley, 47, was held in the Runnels County jail in lieu of $25,000 bond. Bond was denied Bill Newton, 77.

Testifies She Kissed White, 'That's All'

PALO PINTO, Tex. (AP) — A shapely Abilene blonde nervously testified today she met former state highway patrolman Alfred P. White several times, that he called her repeatedly and gave her gifts.

But, she declared, trembling, "He kissed me. That's all."

Miss Pat Lidia, 21, an employe of the Abilene Reporter-News appeared after strenuous defense objections in White's trial for the slaying last July 14 of his wife, Joyce, 38.

MET HIM

She testified she met White, 37, two or two and a half years ago and that she had last spoken with the former highway patrolman "two or three weeks before all this happened."

What, the prosecution asked, was the subject of that last conversation?

"When he called me, he told me he thought he had been getting on my nerves and wouldn't call as much."

She said she last saw White some time in February, that they talked many times at a drive-in restaurant, and that, by prearrangement, they met on highways around the city.

They first met, she testified, when White stopped a car in which she was riding with friends.

What, the prosecution asked, did he say to you?

"He told me where I worked, what time I got off, where I lived, the color of my car, my license, my phone number."

And you had never talked with him before, she was asked.

"No," she replied.

INTIMACY

Asked about the "intimacy" of their meetings, she replied:

"He kissed me, that's all."

Were the meetings during the day or at night?

"Night."

"We stayed in the car," she said.

She testified that he once gave her a box of Valentine's candy and previously bought her such gifts as perfume and a portable ash tray.

How frequently did White call, she was asked.

"He called me almost every day after I got home from work."

Asked if White ever had discussed his wife with her, Miss Lidia replied:

UNDERSTAND

"The only statement he ever made was that she didn't understand him."

On cross examination, the defense asked if it were not true that she "knew every highway patrolman in Abilene . . . quite well."

"I know a few," she answered, "not quite well."

It was not a love affair, was it?

"No, it was not a love affair."

You were just good friends?

"We were friends, yes."

"The extent of involvement," she was asked, "was that he

Khe Sanh Defenders Drive Off Red Force

Bombers Support Besieged Marines

KHE SANH, Vietnam (AP) — More than 500 North Vietnamese soldiers attacked the Khe Sanh Combat base through the fog before dawn today. They got to the barbed wire ring around the base before they were driven back with at least 70 of their men killed.

The Red infantrymen charged behind three sapper platoons in the attack on the base's eastern perimeter, which is held by a battalion of 500 crack South Vietnamese Rangers.

SUPPORT

A flight of the U.S. Air Force's huge B52 bombers, flying in direct support of ground troops for the first time in the war, dropped tons of explosives only 50 yards in front of the Rangers' lines.

The besieged U.S. Marine base in the northwest corner of South Vietnam was on a Red alert—meaning an attack was believed imminent—when the enemy soldiers came lunging through the darkness and mist.

Some of the Communist sappers succeeded in placing Bagalore torpedoes uder the coils of barbed wire that circle the two-square-mile base, but they were killed before they could trigger the charges.

This afternoon a twin-engine cargo plane crashed and burned as it was attempting to take off from Khe Sanh. The crew and passengers escaped, but some were injured. As firemen rushed out to extinguish the flames, Communist gunners bracketed the wreckage with two mortar rounds, wounding several of the firefighters.

HEAVIEST

The early morning attack was the heaviest ground assault launched so far against the 5,000 U.S. Marines and 500 Rangers holding the Khe Sanh base. An estimated 40,000 Communist troops are believed massed across the northern frontier for an invasion of South Vietnam's two northernmost provinces, with the Khe Sanh base their first objective.

Col. David Lownds of Plantation, Fla., the base commander, said that when the attack came on the heels of a heavy mortar, rocket and artillery bombardment, he thought "this might be the big attack, but it was just another probe."

He said Communist troops also made several other small attacks along the line held by Marines in the northeast and southern sections of the base.

Allied casualties in all the attacks were "very light," U.S. officers said.

The North Vietnamese launched their biggest assault from trenches they had dug to within 50 yards of the Rangers' lines in the past week despite the daily repeated strikes by U.S. warplanes.

The B52 Stratofortresses, which normally bomb no nearer to allied positions than 3,000 yards, cut their sights to within 750 yards of the Rangers to hit what was believed to be the enemy asembling area for the assault.

U.S. and South Vietnamese naval forces meanwhile reported their biggest single bag of the war—the destruction of three 100-ton Communist trawlers loaded with Soviet AK47 assault rifles and ammunition along the coast. Another of the 100-foot vessels fled out to sea and escaped.

The U.S. Command said one of the trawlers was blown up by its crew to escape capture and the other two were shot up in flames by U.S. Navy and Coast Guard boats, infantrymen firing from the beach and planes attacking overhead.

Still No Sign Of Eight Fliers

SABINE PASS, Tex. (AP) — The Coast Guard said today a systematic search of an area where flares were believed sighted late Thursday night turned up no sign of eight fliers of a missing B52 bomber which apparently crashed in the Gulf of Mexico.

The Coast Guard in New Orleans said 31 aircraft and three cutters would concentrate the rest of today's search in the Matagorda Bay area.

A spokesman said the Coast Guard had spotted what appeared to be flares some 35 miles due south of Sabine Pass. The cutter Dorable found no sign of life.

"The flares could possibly have been meteors," the Coast Guard spokesman said at New Orleans. "We will no longer concentrate our search on the Sabine Pass area."

All day Thursday, Air Force, Navy and Coast Guard planes crisscrossed the Gulf without sighting any debris.

HIGH COST PREDICTED

Riot Report Urges Action

WASHINGTON (AP) — A presidential commission demands compassionate, massive and sustained efforts—perhaps costing more money than the Vietnam war—to end the destruction and bitterness wrought by racial disorder in America's cities.

"Our nation is moving toward two societies, one black, one white—separate and unequal," declared the President's Commission on Civil Disorders. It condemned white racism as a central cause and warned:

HEEDLESS

"If we are heedless none of us shall escape the consequences."

Unless immediate action is taken, the commission said, "large-scale and continuing violence could result, followed by white retaliation, and, ultimately, the separation of the two communities into an garrison state."

It reeled off scores of recommendations, including vastly expanded programs to provide two million jobs, six million housing units, drastically improved slum schools and overhaul of the welfare system designed to guarantee all Americans "a minimum standard of decent living."

The commission didn't estimate the cost of its proposals, saying only they "will require unprecedented levels of funding and performance." It seemed obvious, though, that the price tag could exceed even the $25 billion annual outlay for the Vietnam war.

The White House had no immediate reaction to the report. Comment in Congress was sparse—probably because the document was released two days earlier than planned and most congressmen hadn't received a copy.

But even before its release, one major question was being raised.

"Where," asked Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., "are we going to get the money?" He heads the House Appropriations Committee.

So sweeping was the commission's bundle of recommendations that even its members conceded chances of Congress approving all of them were nil.

The commission spent seven months investigating riots in Newark, Detroit and 21 other cities. It concluded: "The urban disorders of the summer of 1967 were not caused by, nor were they the consequence of, any organized plan or conspiracy."

But militant organizations and individual agitators, it added, "helped to create an atmosphere that contributed to the outbreak of disorder." And it warned "that the continuation of disorders and the polarization of the races would provide fertile ground for organized exploitation in the future."

"Time and again, the report hammered away at the growing division in America.

"Segregation and poverty have created in the racial ghetto a destructive environment totally unknown to most white Americans," it said. "What white Americans have never fully understood—but what the Negro can never forget—is that white society is deeply implicated in the ghetto. White institutions created it, white institutions maintain it, and white society condones it."

BEYOND

And the panel went beyond proposing aid only for Negroes in the slums. Now is the time, it said, "to make good the promises of American democracy to all citizens—urban and rural, white and black, Spanish-surname, American Indian, and every minority group."

Teachers' Strikes Affect Thousands Of Students

By The Associated Press

Strikes by militant teachers' unions disrupted classes and forced school closings today which affected thousands of pupils in three states.

The midwinter discontent recalled the wave of similar strikes which swept a score of the nation's school systems last fall forcing almost a million pupils to stay at home.

FRISCO HIT

Latest city to be hit was San Francisco where the 1,400-member American Federation of Teachers, AFL-CIO, voted Thursday to strike the public school system to back its demands for improvements.

Pittsburgh school officials ordered high schools closed today in the face of the crippling teacher's strike which began Thursday but said they would try to keep elementary schools operating.

Florida teacher representatives and the state's top education official agreed Thursday on a compromise proposal to end the nine-day strike by a third of the state's 60,000 teachers. One county board rejected the plan, placing its success in jeopardy.

San Francisco school administrators pledged every effort to keep the schools open in the face of a walkout by the union whose membership comprises roughly one-third of the city's 4,000 teachers.

The rival San Francisco Classroom Teachers Association has about 2,600 members, most of them elementary school teachers. Association President Victor B. Graff said, "The vast majority of San Francisco teachers will honor their contracts."

IRRESPONSIBLE

Graff declared, "Our major concern is that the people of this city will interpret this irresponsible strike as an expression of the attitude of all of the teachers."

The AFT local voted 552-295 in favor of a strike despite pleas by Mayor Joseph Alioto to defer the vote. The federation seeks smaller classes and other improvements in teaching conditions.

In Pittsburgh one school official said he was shocked that the strike by a third of the city's 3,000 teachers was so effective at the secondary schools.

After an emergency session Thursday night the board of education told the 30,000 high school pupils to stay home until Tuesday. Officials said they will regroup forces and draw plans for an orderly reopening then.

The union walked out in a demand for collective bargaining. Its rival, the 1,900 member Pittsburgh Teacher Education Association, did not support the strike.

Rome Paralyzed By Student Riot

ROME (AP) — Central Rome was paralyzed today by rioting university students who clashed with thousands of helmeted police swinging clubs and firing tear gas.

HUNDREDS HURT

Hundreds of persons were injured in the clashes at the University of Rome, including 150 police and scores of passers-by caught in the rioting. More than 150 students were taken into custody.

Downtown bus and taxi service halted. Shopkeepers shuttered their stores. Passers-by and lower grade school children fled to shelter in terror as the disorders spread.

Students screaming, "Revolution! Revolution!" bombarded police with paving stones ripped up from the streets. They overturned and set fire to police cars and buses. Ambulances with sirens screaming raced through the streets.

It was the most violent clash in the city since students began occupying university buildings three weeks ago in a campaign for more say in school administration and more modern teaching methods.

A parade of 3,000 students formed in Piazza di Spagna and marched to the Schools of Architecture where they fought with police guarding the building.

Groups of shouting students surrounded a policeman, disarmed him and set fire to two empty police trucks, a jeep, a police car and a fireman's car.

The rioting came a day after police, summoned by Giovanni D'Avack, university rector, moved onto the main campus and dragged hundreds of students from buildings they had been occuping since early February.

REFORM

Demonstrations originally began as part of a national student move to force a series of reforms. But the movement quickly took on a political tone. Many of the demonstrators were admirers of Red China's Mao Tse-tung, and President Ho Chi Minh of North Vietnam.

Gov. Romney Not Endorsing Rocky

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney said today he is not endorsing New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller or anyone else for the Republican presidential nomination at this time.

Romney, who quit the race for nomination Wednesday, said he hopes to work with Republican governors and others in the party to get behind a candidate all can support.

Romney said he would join in supporting whatever candidate the governors and others agree upon.

Cloture Defeated On Rights Debate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate rocked supporters of a compromise civil rights protection and open housing bill today by refusing to cut off debate on it.

THIRD TIME

A two-thirds majority was required, and for the third time since the debate began six weeks ago a move to apply cloture, or limitation of debate, failed.

The vote was 59 to cut off debate and 35 against, or four short of the needed two-thirds.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., told newsmen in advance of the vote he had not decided whether, if it failed, to move to put the legislation aside. He indicated this was likely to depend on the closeness of the vote.

The vote came amid a new controversy as Senate liberals accused Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of proposing a modified open housing section after agreeing with them on broader legislation.

They also attacked Thursday an open-housing amendment put forward by Dirksen's son-in-law, Sen. Howard H. Baker, R-Tenn. But a Dirksen aide and Baker indicated it never was clear just what was to be in the new compromise open-housing proposal forged by Dirksen and the liberals.

"I regret that anyone has seen the necessity to file amendments that could jeopardize passage of this legislation," said Republican Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, the only Senate's only Negro member.

Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., said, "I think the bargain has been made and ought to be kept."

FAILED

Two previous debate-ending attempts have failed, with Dirksen joining those opposed to a debate cutoff. But the bill's manager, Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., expressed confidence it would succeed this time.

Dirksen, who had hammered out the compromise open-housing section with Brooke, Hart, Mondale and other liberals, came up Thursday with a new version.

Carpeted Playground Is Featured At Private School

Youngsters at the Jack and Jill Kindergarten romp on a playground which is covered with all-weather carpeting. It dries rapidly after showers and is readily cleanable with a vacuum cleaner.

Carpeted Outdoor Grounds Provided At Kindergarten

Jack and Jill Kindergarten and First Grade School, 2009 Main, has added something new, novel and notable to its facilities.

The school has a carpeted playground — an outdoors area, 48 feet by 68 feet, covered with soft, cool appearing, green carpeting. Underneath is a concrete base four inches thick. All of the school's outdoor playground equipment is located on this unusual playground and even if it rains, the area will be dry and ready for the kids within minutes after the clouds have rolled away and the sun emerged.

LAST WEDNESDAY

The carpeting was put in place last Wednesday. The school will have an Open House Sunday from 2 to 4 p.m. The new playground will be featured and the two indoor playrooms will be open for inspection. The staff is hopeful of a record turnout of guests, and refreshments will be served.

Miss Arah Phillips, principal, said that so far as she knew, this is the only school with a carpeted playground.

Miss Phillips said the material, known by the trade name "Everwher" was laid by the Tuftwick Carpet Company of Lubbock. The area to the north of the school plant is fenced. The tract was prepared by grading carefully so that all drainage is concentrated on the northeast corner of the lot.

Miss Phillips said that the same sort of carpeting has been placed in two of the school indoor play areas and is proving satisfactory. The covering is a petroleum product, she was told, but has the appearance and feel of standard indoor floor covering.

The new playground, she said, can be kept clean by an oversized vacuum cleaner and can be rinsed off with a garden hose if so desired. Any liquid or other material spilled on the surface can be wiped away with a damp rag.

The kindergarten and school has more than 170 youngsters in its classes, ranging in age from two years to second graders.

Sponsored by the First Church of God, it is now in its seventh year of operation. There are 17 persons on the staff. It operates year around and in the summer carries on a recreational program which is open to boys and girls older than those who attend the fall and winter sessions.

In order to prepare it for its new use, all water and sewer lines and other utilities had to be moved. Several firms had a part in the project.

Clyde McMahon Concrete Company supplied the concrete. W. N. McClanahan Concrete prepared the site and laid the base. McKinney Plumbing Company relocated the lines and installed needed new facilities. Lane Awning Co. installed the awnings.

New Pastor

New pastor at the Westside Baptist Church is Rev. Frank Radcliffe, who will begin his new duties Sunday. He is from Carlsbad, Tex., and was formerly stationed at Webb AFB. He began his ministry two years ago. He and his wife, Nancy, have three children, Brenda, Belinda and Frankie.

Dear Abby

The Thrill Or The Pain?

DEAR ABBY: I am going to have my first baby in six months, and both my husband and I are excited about it. A friend told me that if I let my doctor give me something to knock me out during the labor and delivery I will miss the greatest thrill a woman can know — hearing her baby's first cry. She said when she had her baby, she knew what was going on every minute and she wouldn't have missed it for the world.

I talked to my doctor about this, and he said he gives his patients something to keep them as comfortable as possible, and for a doctor to deliver babies any other way is brutal and unnecessary. Now I don't know what to do. I hate to change doctors, but I don't want to cheat myself out of a woman's greatest thrill. My husband says it's up to me. Have you (or any of your readers) any experience in this line?

HAVING A BABY

DEAR HAVING: I have had two experiences. For Number One (a daughter), I was "knocked out." For Number Two (a son), I was wide awake. If I had it to do all over again, I'd elect to be knocked out, thank you.

Enjoy the "thrill" of hearing your baby's ninth or tenth cry. It's the same as the first, and it won't take long before the crying loses its charm, and the novelty wears off.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Not long ago a mother wrote to you complaining because a girl who looked to be "not much older" than her 17-year-old son was sent in by the doctor to stand by the table while her son had a lamp treatment for a skin ailment. The mother said the boy was embarrassed and refused to go back for another treatment because of this girl.

Then a registered nurse wrote in saying the girl had to be at least 21 to be a nurse.

Who said she was a nurse? I have worked in doctors' offices, have worn a nurse's uniform and a nurse's cap, and have been called "nurse," but I am not a nurse. And I think if you will inquire, you will find that this is true in many doctors' offices today. And dentists', also. Sincerely, GIRL IN WHITE

DEAR ABBY: When a person is under the influence of liquor does it make him tell the truth? Or does it just help him to lie better. Please hurry up your answer as I have to know before Saturday night. PEGGY

DEAR PEGGY: The effects vary with the individual. But if you remember this rule you can't go wrong: "If you can't believe a man when he's sober, don't believe him when he's drunk."

McNAMARA CUTS OUT EARLY

Clifford Takes Oath Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The huge, ornate desk from which Robert S. McNamara guided the Defense Department for seven years and 39 days was dinner-plate clean at quitting time Thursday for the first time in seven years and 39 days.

DEPARTURE SNAFU

His official departure from the Pentagon turned into a monumental snafu—the GI's word for "situation's normal—all fouled up."

—To begin with, it rained for the first time—in 27 days—driest February on record—throughout the 25-minute outdoor ceremony.

—The elevator taking McNamara, President Johnson and 11 others to the second-floor river-entrance level of the Pentagon became stuck. Elevator No. 13, someone noted, just wasn't used to carrying 13 passengers.

"This is what's wrong with there being 29 days in February," joked McNamara. He and the President had to be boosted to a pried-open door, with Johnson quipping: "I never knew it took so long to get to the top in the Pentagon." They were 15 minutes late to the ceremony.

FLY-OVER CANCELED

—The public address system, intended to carry words of praise for McNamara to several thousand huddling miserably in 30-degree cold, became rain-soaked along with the participants. The spectators heard none of Gen. Earle G. Wheeler's remarks and only snatches of President Johnson's.

—For 10 minutes, the President and the outgoing secretary of defense stood, with remarkable dignity, under one umbrella, until an Army officer commandeered a second one.

—A fly-over of 20 military planes was canceled because of the weather, but 14 noisy commercial airliners managed to take off from nearby National Airport and drown out the few words that squeaked through the water-logged loudspeakers. The roar of one almost eclipsed the 19-gun salute.

Clark M. Clifford, reputedly a hardliner on the Vietnam war, takes the oath today as the nation's ninth secretary of defense.

President Johnson planned to look on as Chief Justice Earl Warren administered the oath to the 61-year-old Washington lawyer at a White House ceremony.

OVERLOOKED

Clifford was overlooked by many of the spectators who stood in the rain Thursday outside the Pentagon to applaud outgoing McNamara.

But today Clifford becomes the Pentagon's kingpin, boss of 3.4 million military men, more than one million civilian employes and a spending budget of about $76 billion.

Crippled Children's Clinic Slated Saturday

No charge will be made for the Crippled Children's Clinic to be held Saturday at the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center, 306 W. 3rd. The clinic, which begins at 9 a.m., is being held by the Rehabilitation Center in cooperation with the Howard County Easter Seal Society.

All crippled children, up to 21 years of age, are eligible to attend and may pre-register by calling the Center, 267-6387, or may register the day of the clinic until 12 noon.

Dr. Thruston Dean, orthopedic surgeon of Midland, will be medical director of the clinic which is under the supervision of the Center's medical advisory committee. Dr. B. Broadrick, Dr. Milton W. Talbot Jr., Dr Nell W. Sanders, Dr. Louise Worthy, and Dr. Lowell Suckow are members of the advisory committee.

The clinics have proven to be of value through the diagnostic and evaluation service to the crippled child through the team approach. An orthopedic surgeon pediatrician, physical therapist, speech therapist, public health nurse and a brace man are members of this team. Local pediatricians will alternate to supply pediatric services for the clinic.

Jim Thompson, director of the Center, says all crippled children are eligible and it is not necessary to live in Big Spring or even in Howard County to attend. It is hoped that children from the surrounding area will take advantage of the clinic, he said.

Horoscope Forecast

FOR TOMORROW

—CARROLL RICHTER

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You find that most everyone is determined to have his, or her, way today for there is a meeting of the planet of war, Mars in the heavens with Saturn, known as the celestial Taskmaster, which indicates that everyone would be wise to be considerate and thoughtful of others and keep tempers under perfect control.

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Putting your time and energy into right directions is the only way you can benefit now. You are highly concerned with own affairs, which is fine. However, don't give others the impression that you are selfish.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) You think that what you are engaged in is now holding you back, but you only need to work at it more effectively to win. Be sure to lend a hand to those who are needy. Avoid making some big error yourself.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You have to show acquaintances that you are loyal and fond of them if you want to gain their good will. Don't be forceful with them. Sociability is fine provided you control your temper and exuberance.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Doing something to annoy a higher-up can bring much trouble and ruin your reputation as well. See what you can do instead that will bring you more prestige with the boss, etc. Be wise.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Those new ideas that occur to you should be studied well instead of just jumping right into them. Be very discriminating with that new acquaintance whose suggestions may be offbeat. Be careful.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Be positive in your thinking and you know exactly how to get rid of all those obligations ahead of you. Be more understanding, happy. Mate may be quite demanding, but not so much as you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Be sure you carry out willingly any obligations you have and don't go making any radical changes. Vital work in the outside world should be handled with alacrity and efficiency. Be happy at work.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Avoid doing that work that is tedious right now and get on with whatever is practical and to your liking. Don't permit cantankerous co-workers to get in your hair. Carry through with what you have to do meticulously.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Being charming with others will get you what you want as well as give you a chance to do for others. Don't feel that others are imposing on you. Take every opportunity to be of service to others. Be blessed.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Don't be so demanding right now at home in your desire to have improved conditions there. Do whatever is necessary yourself and get things started in a nice way. They will get the hint and follow suit.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Stop being so demanding with others and find out just what your true position is with them. You should have more social life in the future, so plan for it now. Postpone business until a better time.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to March 20) Listening to experts in business will ameliorate present financial condition soon, provided you follow ideas and advice to the letter. Plan to make those repairs to home, etc. Get busy, keep happy.

SANITATIONMEN GAIN $400-PLUS

Pay Hike Fuss Flares

NEW YORK (AP) — An arbitrator has given the city's 10,000 sanitationmen a pay increase of $425 a year in a 15-month contract, and Mayor John V. Lindsay and the head of the sanitationmen's union are in dispute over the actual value of the award.

The conflicting interpretations involve comparisons on the basis of 12 months or 15 months. Lindsay spoke of "an over-all average increase of $415 over the 15-month period of the contract."

ROCKY PROMISE

John J. DeLury, president of the Uniformed Sanitationmen's Association, said the award, according to union calculations, amounted to an increase on an annual basis of $429.90.

The arbitration award was announced late Thursday by the State Mediation Board. The city and the union agreed the decision would be binding.

The $425 in the award was the exact amount promised the sanitationmen by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller when he got them to end their strike on Feb. 10 and start to work overtime to clear away an estimated 100,000 tons of garbage and other refuse.

$6,424 TO START

But the arbitration award was on a 15-month basis, whereas Rockefeller's figure—proposed by a mediation panel he appointed—was on a 12-month basis. Also, the arbitration award did not make the entire increase retroactive to July 1, 1967, as the panel had recommended.

Lindsay rejected Rockefeller's $425 formula, and called the figure a "little blackmail" by the union. The union accepted the figure.

During the strike, Lindsay asked Rockefeller to call out the National Guard. The governor refused.

The sanitationmen, whose pay ranged from $6,424 a year to start to $7,956 after three years, originally demanded an increase of $600 a year.

Group Plans Ahead

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The United States Savings and Loan League plans ahead. The group has reserved Miami Beach Convention Hall for Nov. 8-11 of 1993. The league, based in Chicago, has also reserved the hall for conventions in 1968, 1972, 1978, 1981, 1984, 1987 and 1990.

The bidding:

Opening lead: Deuce of ♣

Prospects for defeating South's four heart contract appeared very dim to West since he could not take a single trick on his own. Desperation measures seemed to be in order and, in the hope of obtaining a ruff or two, West opened the singleton deuce of clubs — altho North had bid that suit.

East won the trick with the ace of clubs. However, he resisted the temptation to return the suit, despite the fact that West's lead of the deuce was an obvious singleton. East was aware that his partner could put him in again with the ace of spades, but he wondered how the defense could manage to take another trick to defeat the contract.

Leading a third round of clubs appeared to offer little hope, for South would be out of the suit by that time, and surely he would be able to ruff high enough to shut West out. The only chance was to find West with an honor in spades. If he had the king, then circumstances would take care of themselves. If his honor were the queen, however, an attempt must be made to score a spade trick immediately.

Since East had no objection to letting his opponent make a couple of extra tricks, he was willing to go all out in an attempt to score an upset. He, therefore, returned the six of spades at trick two. Declarer was confronted with a guess and he made the natural play of the jack, hoping that East had led away from the queen.

West won the trick with the queen of spades and returned the suit to his partner's ace. East now gave his partner the club ruff for the setting trick. Observe that, if East leads back a club when he is in the first time, the defense will be limited to three tricks —one spade, one club, and a club ruff.

COPE Slates Endorsements

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — U. S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., is the keynote speaker today at the opening of the two-day Texas AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education (COPE).

The some 1,000 delegates will make endorsements or decide not to endorse in all statewide races. All the candidates for major offices have been invited to the convention.

The candidates were to speak today and the debate and votes will begin Saturday afternoon.

A national AFL-CIO official told the state AFL-CIO's executive Board Thursday that labor's only hope for victory in this year's elections is a coalition with minority groups.

"The best thing labor has going for it in this year's elections is the Republican alternatives as they crystalize," said Roy H. Purdy of Washington, head of the AFL-CIO's national voter registration drive.

Purdy did not mention Republican alternatives by name but he indicated that names would come out of the AFL-CIO's political strategy meeting in Washington March 29. He called this meeting "one of the most significant political meetings in America in 1968."

Proposed Remedies

By The Associated Press

Some of the proposed remedies reported by the President's Commission on Civil Disorders, included these:

—Immediate action to create two million new jobs in the next three years — one million by private industry and one million by local, state and federal governments. In the first year, it urged 250,000 public-sector jobs and 300,000 private-sector jobs.

—Tax incentives and other subsidies for industries that locate in poverty areas, both urban and rural, and which give on-the-job training to hard-core unemployed.

—Vigorous moves to flatten artificial barriers to employment, "including not only racial discrimination but, in certain cases, arrest records or lack of a high school diploma." It said federal funds should be withheld "from activities which discriminate on grounds of color or race."

—Sharply increased efforts to eliminate de facto segregation and racial discrimination in all schools, North and South, by sternly applying civil rights laws.

—Early childhood education for "every disadvantaged child in the country," increased aid for older students who want to attend college and greater federal support for adult basic education.

—Reform of the welfare system to set "uniform national standards of assistance at least as high as the annual 'poverty level' of income—now $3,335 for an urban family of four.

—Development of a "national system of income supplementation" to provide "those who can work or who do work any necessary supplements in such a way as to develop incentives for fuller employment" and to give those who cannot work "a minimum standard of decent living." This is somewhat similar to previous proposals for a guaranteed annual income.

—Require the federal government to pay 90 per cent of total welfare costs, eliminate residence requirements for welfare payments, lift the current freeze on aid to dependent children, and knock out the controversial "man in the house" rule designed to curb illegitimate births among mothers on welfare.

—Enactment of a federal open-housing law covering sale or rental of all housing—including single-family homes—and the placement of more low-income housing outside slum areas.

—Steps to "bring within the reach of low and moderate income families within the next five years six million new and exciting units of decent housing, beginning with 600,000 units in the next year."

—Expansion of rent supplements, model-cities, urban-renewal and public-housing programs, plus enactment of an "ownership supplement program" to help low-income families buy homes.

Woman Burned In Fire

Mrs. Jimmie Yanez, 16, 806 N. Nolan, received second and third degree burns to her face, neck and arms, according to the attending physician at Cowper Hospital, in a fire Thursday about 3:30 p.m. Firemen said she was apparently pouring gasoline into the bathroom commode when the hot water heater, located a short distance away, ignited the gasoline. The house received extensive damage.

Guilty Pleas Slated Today

Judge Ralph Caton was sounding a criminal docket in 118th District Court this afternoon preparatory to a jury session starting on Monday.

A jury panel is to report to the court at 10 a.m. Monday to serve in any of the cases which may be announced ready.

Wayne Burns, district attorney, said Friday morning, he was sure some of the defendants who were slated for arraignment today would enter guilty pleas.

There were 24 cases on the original list before the court. Seven were identified as ready for trial on March 4 and included John Lewis Christmas, burglary; W. C. Hendricks, worthless check; Roy B. Broadwell, burglary; Carol Ann Scaggs, forgery; Rusell Williamson, theft; Herb Werner, embezzlement and James R. Grant, forgery.

Seventeen defendants were being called up for arraignment: Miguel Pineda, failure to stop and render aid; Jose Nunez Lopez, burglary; Carol Ann Scaggs, burglary; Marvin L. Brown, worthless check; Carrol Wayne Follis, burglary; Richard Roland Green, burglary; Charley Oldham, theft; Lavern Norwood, forgery; Joe Edward Barron, DWI second; Roy L. Goswick, robbery by assault; Ronnie G. Fisk, robbery by assault; Jackie Coffman, theft; Norman McNew, theft; Donald Kirkpatrick, theft; Owen Brown, theft and Samuel Dominguez, worthless check and theft.

Presents Certificate

Brig. Gen. Lester F. Miller, chief of staff of Air Training Command, presents Col. George E. Franks his retirement certificate.

Col. Franks Ends Air Force Career

Col. George E. Franks terminated a long career of Air Force service Thursday evening while some 200 friends from the community and the military watched him receive a special citation.

Brig. Gen. Lester F. Miller, chief of staff, Air Training Command, flew here from San Antonio to present Col. Franks with the Legion of Merit as well as his retirement papers.

Flanking Col. Franks at the Webb AFB flagpole, where the ceremonies took place, was Col. Chester Butcher, wing commander, with whom he has served for the past two and a half years.

After the brief, colorful ceremonies at which men in the headquarters and air base group stood in the background, Col. and Mrs. Franks were honored at a reception in the headquarters conference room.

Gen Miller cited Col. Franks for outstanding service to the United States as deputy commander for material and as base commander at Webb AFB from July 18, 1962 to Feb. 29, 1968.

"The leadership, exemplary foresight and ceaseless efforts consistently demonstrated by Col. Franks resulted in significant contributions to the effectiveness and success of the United States Air Force Undergraduate Pilot Training Program," said the citation in part.

Another surprise award, which followed the ceremony, was a certificate of recognition for community service in Snyder, given by C. T. McLaughlin and the Snyder Chamber of Commerce. Mel Z. Gilbert, Henry Clark and John Thomas, members of the Snyder (C-C) Producers club, made the presentation.

Col. Franks entered the Army Air Force in 1940 and has seen service at numerous stations, including two hitches in Korea and one in Japan. He came here in 1962 as M&S commander and his unit was cited as the outstanding one in the ATC. For the past two years he has served as base commander. At Webb, where he served under four commanders, Col. Franks, as well as Mrs. Franks, was extremely active in community affairs.

WHITE

kissed you two or three times, and that was it?"

"Yes," she replied.

Both sides predicted Thursday the state would wind up its case by noon today.

After an earlier failure, the state introduced into testimony Thursday what it called the murder weapon, a 16 inch metal pipe, wrapped at one end with black friction tape to form a handle.

OBJECTIONS

Prosecutors, over strenuous defense objections, also got the go ahead to bring Gladys Billingsley, a store employe to the stand.

The stout, gray-haired Abilene woman testified, first with the jury out of the court room, that White purchased a package of Venetian blind cord four days before the slaying.

In the most dramatic confrontation of the week long trial, the witness, clashing repeatedly with the defense, identified White as the uniformed officer, who on July 10 bought 48 feet of the braided cord.

Previous testimony indicated a similar type cord was used to bind both White and his wife the night of the murder.

The state also produced a mystery notebook which contained the name of Joan White, among scores of others.

Mrs. Joan White, not related to the defendant, was described by Abilene newspapers last summer as a "mystery witness" who testified before the grand jury that indicted White for murder.

Kel Davis, an Abilene highway patrolman, testified he removed the small spiral notebook from the shirt pocket of a uniform he picked up at the home of White's parents.

Asked if he had spoken with White about the notebook, Davis replied, "He asked me to dispose of the book."

Songs Of The West Bring Down House

The Texas Boys Choir established perfect rapport with its audience in the closing performance of the current Big Spring Concert Season at the Municipal Auditorium last evening.

The 26 boys under the deft hand of George Bragg proved to be talented, disciplined young singers who produced delicate, almost fragile tones, yet possessed of the ability to perform with verve and gusto on the lively and saucy contemporary tunes.

Aside from the virtuosity of the troupe, the presentation benefitted from shrewd programming. From favorite European popular songs, the lads moved through a tribute to Walt Disney, probably peaking the program with selections from Mary Poppins, plus "When You Wish Upon a Star," (which included a charming solo), and "It's a Small World."

The series of contemporary religious numbers was Benjamin Britten's "Ceremony of Carols," and it offered an opportunity to demonstrate richer, more somber harmonics, some of them a capella.

For the final passages, the boys shifted to songs of the West, including many all-time favorites and climaxing with "Tumbling Tumbleweeds." This prompted three curtain calls, and the choir obliged with "Skip to My Lou," with a bit of choreography thrown in for good measure. And, naturally, this again brought down the house.

Costuming was striking throughout, with four changes that sometime slowed the concert unduly. The soft backdrops seemed to reduce the resonance at times, so much so that the accompaniment — which, by the way, was expertly and tastefully done — overrode the delicate voices. Those well-scrubbed vivacious boys would have been taken to heart anyhow, but they could sing like birds and that doubled the enjoyment.

Currently the concert board is asking that patrons express their preference for programs next year — Broadway play, Broadway musical, ballet, jazz or pops band, symphony orchestra, opera, outstanding pianist, or whatever the preference might be. These could be communicated to Mrs. E. B. Boulloun Jr. or Mrs. Jerry Mancill.

Three Big Springers Hurt In Two-Car Crash

Three persons were injured in a two-car collision at 8:04 p.m. Thursday at Fifth and Birdwell Lane. Gilbert Flanagan, 1603 Vines, driver of one of the cars, is under observation at Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital. Stella S. Marshall, 3622 Dixon, driver of the other car, was treated at Cowper Hospital and released. A passenger in the car driven by Stella Marshall, Ann Hayworth, 306 W. 17th, is in fair condition, according to the attending physician at Cowper Hospital.

Four minor accidents were also reported to police Thursday. A car which left the scene of the accident, collided with an automobile belonging to Tom Rosson, 108 Lincoln, in the parking lot at Malone and Hogan Foundation Hospital. Flonine Gail Coates, Stanton, and Brandine L. Patt, 2610 Rebecca, were involved in an accident at Fifth and San Jacinto.

Larry Helton, 1208 E. 17th, collided with a utility pole at 1416 E. 6th. Mrs. Robert Faux, 107 E. 21st, was in collision with an automobile that left the scene of the accident in front of the post office.

Legion Dinner Deadline Nears

Legionnaires are reminded that Saturday is the deadline to make reservations for the American Legion ceremonial dinner March 9.

Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Leon Land, 263-6938, or Mrs. H. E. Cleveland, 263-4048, according to George Zachariah, chairman of the Legion's Golden Anniversary Committee.

All World War I veterans or Gold Star mothers who have not received an invitation are urged to call Mrs. Land or Mrs. Cleveland and make reservations, Zachariah said. Some of the Legion's lists are incomplete, he explained; therefore, some veterans may have been inadvertently omitted from the invitations list.

Jack Flynt of Dimmitt, immediate past commander of the Department of Texas, is to be the featured speaker.

UT Dean To Talk At Country Club

Dr. John McKetta, dean of the University of Texas College of Engineering, will be the speaker for the annual Big Spring Club of University of Texas Ex-Students "get-together" Saturday at the Big Spring Country Club.

A big turnout is expected for the event, according to Paul Meek and John Burgess, who have been handling arrangements.

The banquet at 8 p.m. will be preceded by a social hour at 7 p.m.

More Liquor Raids Staged

Three more arrests have been made by the Big Spring Police Department and the Texas Liquor Control Board in connection with their investigation into the illegal sale of liquor and source of liquor to teenagers.

Edward "Sonny" Banks was charged in County Court with illegal sale of liquor and bond of $500 was set by Judge Lee Porter. Banks posted bond and was released.

Nancy Sue Sherrill, 1510 Kentucky Way, and Patty McCarty Hancock, 1108 Scurry, were arrested and charged with operating an open saloon. Justice of Peace Jess Slaughter set bond of $500 for both women, and they were released upon posting bond. Nancy Sherrill was operating the Park Inn on Wasson Road, and Patty Hancock was in charge of the Poco Loco Club, IS 20 west.

Chief of Police Jay Banks stated the investigation into violation of liquor laws would be continued.

Final Death Verdict Due

Department of Public Safety pathologists ran tests on blood samples from the body of Sidney Johnson Moore, found dead in his hotel room here Feb. 9, Sheriff A. N. Standard said.

C. H. Beardsley, DPS chemist, in a letter to the sheriff, said that the check showed Moore's Blood contained .10 per cent alcohol but no trace of barbiturates or other drugs.

Moore, 41, was dead in his bed in his room at the Howard House when a maid entered the room on the afternoon of Feb. 9. A number of prescription bottles were in the room, some of which, Sheriff Standard said, appeared to have contained barbiturates.

Walter Grice, justice of the peace, had tentatively ruled death from natural causes. Now that the report from the chemist has been received, presumably the verdict will be made final. The chemist in his letter said that it "would be presumed the man was intoxicated at the time of his death." This was based on the 10 per cent alcohol shown in his blood.

DEATHS

Harrison Price, Ex-Big Springer

Harrison Price, 60, former resident and father of Jerry Price of Forsan, died Feb. 20 and services were held Feb. 23 in Vernon, Tex., with the Rev. Mack Turner, pastor of Lockett Baptist Church, officiating.

He was born at Rayland, Tex., in 1907. Following graduation from Hardin - Simmons University, he played professional football. While living in Big Spring from 1957 to 1960, he was employed by the El Paso Hotel Supply. He moved to San Antonio, where he lived for several years before moving to Lubbock. He was preceded in death by his wife three years ago.

Survivors, other than his son, include three brothers, Wayne Price, Garland, Chism Price, San Francisco, Calif., and Joe Price, Laverne, Okla.; three sisters, Mrs. Pearl Caldwell, Montrose, Colo., Mrs. Adelia Harrison, Clovis, N.M., and Mrs. Laura Neal Guthrie, Lubbock; and two grandsons.

There will be approximately 50 FFA and 4-H members exhibiting 150 head of livestock.

There will be two classes of steers, seven classes of market barrows and four classes of market lambs.

Trophies, ribbons and prize money will be given as awards in the different divisions.

COMMUNITY SERVICE?

CAPE GIRARDEAU, Mo. (AP) — The Southeast Missourian in Cape Girardeau published the names of 48 eligible bachelors Thursday and told the single women of the area that now it is up to to them 'to run them down by whatever means, fair or foul."

Emily Hughes, women's editor of the afternoon newspaper, compiled the list as "a community service." It includes the single man's name, address, occupation and age. The ages ranged from 20 to 39.

Managing Editor John Blue said the newspaper published a similar list on Feb. 29, 1964. He said a few weeks ago the paper checked on the 1964 bachelors and found that "half had left town, six had married and six remained bachelors."

Plastic Tech Session Held

Informal discussions of how to undergird Howard County Junior College in an application to add plastics technology and on potentials of the plastic fabrication industry were held here Thursday.

Dr. R. B. G. Cowper chaired the session for industry and community leaders at the Ramada Inn. Robert Dyer, member of the Cosden Oil and Chemical staff on research, and Dr. Marshall Box, dean of the HCJC technical and vocational division, explained of steps taken in seeking authorization for plastic technology instruction. It may take major community effort to swing it, they said.

Explanations of processes used in making plastic items, particularly those of heavier types, were made by Paul Sieck, Cosden vice president, and Granville Hahn, head of plastic technology, Harley Henry, Cosden's products representative. R. L. Tollett, Cosden president, touched on new developments in plastic by Cosden.

Vandals Cause $4,500 Damage To Local House

Police are investigating a $4,500 vandalism to a home, a burglary at the Coca-Cola Bottling Co., and a theft at Webb Air Force Base.

Upon returning home Thursday after a four day absence, John Ira Knox, 628 Caylor Drive, found that damage amounting to $4,500 had been done to the inside of his home.

Thirty dollars, five cartons of cigarettes, several packages of potato chips and money from a coin operated machine were taken from the Coca-Cola Bottling Co., US 80 west, Thursday night. Entry was gained through a window in an overhead door located on the north side of the building. The window was broken and a piece of pipe was found outside by the door.

Airman Gary Dwayne Dixon, Webb AFB, reported two rims and two tires belonging to him were stolen from the Auto Hobby Shop at Webb AFB.

GOVERNOR CANDIDATE HERE

John Hill Spells Out Goals For Betterment Of Texas

Campaign Luncheon

Mr. and Mrs. John Burgess (left) were hosts for the get-acquainted luncheon here Thursday for Mr. and Mrs. John Hill, who are pushing his gubernatorial candidacy across the state. Attorney Burgess is the local campaign representative for Hill.

John Hill mounting an energetic campaign in his bid for governor of Texas, gave straight talk about his platform to a Big Spring group Friday.

Some 20 persons met for lunch at the Holiday Inn to get acquainted with the platform of the 44-year-old former Secretary of State.

He has come into the race, Hill said, "with no commitments, no connections, no special relationship with any group. I am beholden to no one —just to all the citizens of Texas."

EDUCATION

Hill discussed what he regarded as some of the major problems before the state. He puts improved education at the top of the list, and said he felt that the state must upgrade its teacher salaries "to train and maintain good teachers." Money spent for this, he said, is an investment in future good citizenship, and it is false economy to do otherwise.

The candidate also said he wants to work for improvement of the statewide water program, so that West Texas will have due consideration in any long-range planning. "This is vital to your section," he said.

MORE JOBS

Hill said he is greatly concerned with creating more jobs in Texas, and pledged to work with the Industrial Development Commission and similar agencies in trying to attract industry. Particularly, he said, is he desirous of working a program for placement of industries and payrolls in the smaller cities of the state.

He felt that the state must strengthen its forces against drug abuse, especially to stop traffic among younger people. He said he favors providing more men for the narcotics division of the Department of Public Safety, and felt that laws should be made stronger against LSD.

LIQUOR-BY-DRINK

He said the penal code should be reviewed, judicial redistricting undertaken to provide better court methods, and better communications system established for law enforcement officers.

Hill, queried about liquor-by-the-drink, said he felt the state faces broader, more important issues; that he do[es] [not] think the Legislature can, [realistical]ly, pass any l[aw] [to] change about. He [favors] constitution for [a] district liquor by the d[rink] Friday more would be up to the [people] of the to change this.

He said [the] day would [pari-mutuel] betting issue [could] be resolved by the state [by] referendum on this, to be held in connection with the May primaries. "I hope there is a solid enough expression so that the Legislature would be guided by what the people want."

OWN PLATFORM

He wants to help the state continue its program of park development and tourist attractions, he said.

Hill aggressively hammered home his independence in the race.

"I have written a complete platform, and I wrote it myself. It is the expression of my conscience on what I believe to be the best for Texas and Texans.

"I am running my race in the open. I have the energy, the enthusiasm, the desire, to serve Texas. I am willing to shoulder the [load] of the governorship, and I'll work at the job."

Hill has been in 141 Texas counties in the past 20 days. He had come here from Abilene, Sweetwater and Colorado City, and went on to Midland and Odessa.

He was accompanied by Mrs. Hill, and also by "Lefty" Morris, a Big Springer who has been on the attorney-general's staff in Austin and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Morris.

'Sub City Halls' Study Proposed

CINCINNATI (AP) — City Manager William Wichman proposed Wednesday that the city study the feasibility of setting up "sub city halls" in some of the suburbs. He said the idea of the plan is to provide the people with more "visible and tangible evidence" of the services they are getting.

Stonecutter's Tools Donated

JACKSBORO, Tex. (AP) — Some stonemason's tools that helped build a good part of Jacksboro have been donated to the museum at Ft. Richardson here.

The tools were used by the late W. M. Shaw, who served his stonecutter's apprenticeship in Scotland before coming to the United States.

Frank and James Shaw and Frances Jean Brownlee donated the equipment.

In other action, the commission:

—Designated a 1.6-mile extension of Farm 60 in College Station, from Texas 6 to the proposed new location of Texas 6.

A LOVELIER YOU

A Look At Foot Sets Pace For Fashions

By MARY SUE MILLER

Shoes now provide the answer to questions about how to keep in step with fashion. The look at the foot sets the pace for the mini, the midi and the in-between.

A higher heel marks the newsiest shoe and it looks marvelous with street clothes of all lengths. For, please note, it has no connection with the spike heel of yesteryear. Height ranges from two to two-and-a-half inches; the heel is solid, rather chunky. Toes round or square off, and are utterly comfortable.

Low heels are not out of the picture. But they are coming to seem more and more causal. In a bright color like slicker yellow and worn with knee-highs and a mini, the low heel is in its rightful element.

Higher heels are interpreted in spring classic and neutral shades. The classics include lively navy and brown, black, deep red, beige and gray. Watch the gray, it's coming on strong.

Neutrals have no relation to any shade you might heretofore have thought of by that term. Candlelight white, limes and mossy greens are the elegants among neutrals.

In making selections, let heel height and color cue your thinking. Work for interesting harmony between footwear and costume. To illustrate: try neon green patent flats with a pale pink print mini; try pebble gray kidskin heels with an elegant gray coatdress.

That brings us to stockings. They should carry the theme of the shoe or of the costume.

If your loveliness problem is thin, shapeless legs, send for my leaflet, "More Curve for the Legline." It shows how to build up contours with spot-increasing exercise. The leaflet also includes your ideal leg measurements, and tips on a graceful stance as well as flattering footwear. HINTS FROM HELOISE

Cover Worn Sofa Cushions

Dear Heloise:

Here is a suggestion that may help those ladies who want to give their living rooms a pick-up but haven't the money for new slip covers.

The cover on our sofa was in pretty bad shape and I couldn't replace it at that time.

The arms and both sides of the seat cushions were worn and faded (as they get the most wear) but the material on the back of the sofa was in perfect condition. Here's what I did:

HELOISE

I used the material on the back of the sofa to replace the tops of the worn cushions. And there was still enough cloth left to put a strip on top of each arm between the piping.

I replaced the material I had used from the back with some sheeting so the cover would retain its shape.

The result was a nice, fresh-looking sofa cover that even the children thought was new and there was no strain at all on our budget. . . Mrs. D. E. B.

* * *

Dear Folks:

I have done this myself. No one but you will ever know the difference since the sofa is pushed up against a wall.

I suggest that as soon as you remove the back, use the removed piece for a pattern and replace it FIRST.

Then when you remove the worn parts of the arms and cushions, press them and use them for patterns! They will fit perfectly.

I have even removed the lining from under the cushions and replaced it with an old sheet. The material there is like new and this never shows.

Best of all, next time you make slipcovers BUY EXTRA material and cut extra pieces for the arms and cushions at the same time you are making your cover. Place these under the slipcover on the seat of the sofa and they will be ready for replacement when needed with no effort on your part.

As much as slipcovers cost today, this sure saves lots of money. . . Love, Heloise

P.S. And did you know if you had them professionally made that they would cut these extra pieces for you at practically the cost of the material itself?

* * *

Dear Heloise:

For the "late" or "late late" readers who wear glasses in bed . . .

Tape a spectacle case to the headboard or side rail of your bed with cellophane tape. Then when you are ready to fall asleep, just slip your glasses into this holder.

Saves getting up to put them away — or, if you keep them on a bedside table, keeps them from being knocked off as you reach for that alarm! . . . N.D.C.

* * *

I tacked mine on the side of my bedside table right up under the "eave" and it doesn't even show. . . Great. . . Heloise

* * *

Dear Heloise:

Here's a hint for people who have a leather dashboard in their automobile that has faded from the sun.

I use boot cream, which can be bought in almost any color, and when it is applied correctly it makes the dash look almost like new.

Just use according to directions on the bottle. . . Mrs. Keith Shonkwiler

A Devotional For The Day

Bear one another's burdens — (Galatians 6:2, RSV)

PRAYER: O God, whose blessed Son took upon Himself the sin and pain and sorrow of all mankind, grant us grace to follow in His footsteps. Teach us and help us to reach out in love and compassion to Thy children in need wherever they may be. We ask it in the name of Thy Son, Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Public Employe Strikes

The American Association of School Administrators may have had Texas in mind when it appealed to all state legislatures to pass laws outlawing teachers' strikes. But could it have been thinking of New York?

The school administrators resolved: "We therefore vehemently reject the use of the strike, work stoppage, walkout, slowdown, and other disruptive practices by teachers while under contract." And that rather well expresses the public majority will.

Texas has a statute prohibiting strikes by all public employes, which of course covers teachers. And so far that law has been generally respected.

New York, however, has an even stricter state law prohibiting strikes by public employes. But it has been violated by several categories of such employes, including the teachers.

The basic weakness in such laws now, particularly in New York, is that the penalty against rank - and - file members is either suspension or dismissal, which of course disrupts vital services as badly as do strikes.

There are numerous obstacles, including overt encouragement by National Education Association officials of teacher strikes (such as the Florida upheaval). Another is the difficulty of drafting a law against public-employe strikes that is consistently enforceable. Because of the contractural arrangements with educators, it should not be too formidable a task to reconcile differences.

Welcome To Tournament Visitors

Big Spring today has the honor of entertaining the teams entered in the Region V basketball tournament of the National Junior College Athletic Association. In addition, the city is hosting the Region VI-B Interscholastic League basketball tournament.

In the instance of the junior college tournament, this is the first time that it has been held in a location other than Amarillo, and naturally host Howard County Junior College, the co-sponsoring American Business Club, and other community agencies such as the Chamber of Commerce, want to justify the decision that sent the tournament here.

In both instances, we hope that our people will be hospitable — nothing artificial because that would be transparent — and above all be good fans and good sports. There are numerous little courtesies which can make the visit here pleasant for teams, coaches and fans. They are our guests; let's make them feel comfortably at home.

DON'T JUST SIT THERE—

Around The Rim

It Takes Two To Leap

Oh, Golly! I did it again. Just sat here on my laurels and let Leap Year Day get by without doing something really constructive about it. Now, why did I do that? No woman wants to spend the rest of her life asking neighbors to zip zippers.

BESIDES, every Leap Year I decide it is time to take unto myself a zipper-upper. I make a note to look longingly at the next man who comes within bifocal range, but fate foils me. It always turns out to be a confidant who makes me giggle — or a stranger who figures I'm not feeling well.

OH, NOW don't think I haven't had my moments that could have been the start of something big. "Why, for a few, brief, wonderous glances, it was plain as a licentious leer that I was driving one senile gentleman out of what was left of his mind — and there was a certain sack boy who seemed certain to give up all his DE program benefits if I just said some small word besides where to put the groceries.

ALAS, WE were ships that passed in the night. While I was hesitating over how to slow my engine, the senior citizen sailed into the sunset with a registered nurse — and the male answer to Lolita found a home port with a teenage temptress who kept him supplied with Clearasil.

And now I notice that the Associated Press says that single men who dream of being pursued and caught by a rich, famous, beautiful and talented woman this Leap Year might just as well stop dreaming. According to AP, those kind of women don't want to get married. However, they do want men, and want them to have masculinity, strength, a sense of humor, respect for women and high intelligence.

WELL, REALLY! Even those of us who are unrich, unfamous and unbeautiful would have trouble turning down an invitation to bill and coo with a pigeon like that!

Beg pardon? What's that? You say we have until the end of the year? Oh. Well. Uh, I'm terribly sorry but would you please excuse me? I guess it wouldn't hurt to set just a few traps —if everybody else is doing it.

New Hampshire Tired Of It All

CONCORD, N. H. — The Masked Marvel — called public apathy — has moved up on the inside rail, and is now a dark horse that could beat all other contenders in the New Hampshire Republican primary race.

There's no doubt about this dusky challenger's sudden spurt in the final two weeks of the contest which ends March 12, and the only question seems to be its pedigree.

SOME SAY the Masked Marvel is by Weary Willie out of a mare called Despair. The prospect that this primary will set up Richard Nixon to run against Lyndon Johnson in a race between two arch-fallen pros is not exhilarating, and it's downright disheartening at a time when the country is famishing for a hero. Others declare that the onset of ennui is a mating of overexposure of this first-in-the-nation primary, and the general belief among New Hampshire voters that it may not prove any more than it did in 1964 when Barry Goldwater was badly beaten but went on to win the GOP anyhow.

THERE WERE 97,000 primary votes cast in '64. The estimate given me by two Republican state officials, both of whom are neutral in this year's contest, is that the turnout may be as little as 75,000 or as high as 85,000, although the aim is to turn out 100,000.

Under different circumstances, even a late-starting and unwilling Nelson Rockefeller could liven the pace and leave the Masked Marvel in the dust. He could hook up in a duel with Nixon that would draw the best effort out of each man, and create wholesome excitement. People love intrigue in politics, much as they mutter against it, and there would be an aroused interest if it turned out that Rocky had intended all the while to snatch the prize from his stablemate, Gov. Romney of Michigan.

BUT THESE ELEMENTS are just not here. The Rocky write-in manager, Professor John A. Beckett of New Hampshire University is short of money and know-how.

In the 1964 primary Henry Cabot Lodge, on duty as ambassador to Vietnam, got 33,000 votes. The best estimate is that Rockefeller may get 10,000 in the contest for his slate, but will do better in the preference voting, or beauty contest. Not all of these votes will come out of the Romney hope chest. A number of diehard find-a-winner Republicans are said to be switching from Nixon who needs an impressive victory if he's to shake off the label of being a loser.

THE MASKED MARVEL will be the winner, and well ahead of inconclusive result to this primary, even if ixon gets home well ahead of Romney—as he undoubtedly will. Apathy arises from discouragement about the Vietnam War, the predicted street riots of next summer, the wobbling economy and the U.S.A.'s dismal decline as a world power.

If either Nixon or Romney could produce any electrifying proposals, or could project the aura of a heroic deliverer, this primary would take shape as a historic event. But Nixon and Romney are getting plenty of sympathy, which they don't want—but not much enthusiasm, which they do.

Failure Of Intelligence In Vietnam

WASHINGTON — Although more than a month has passed since the assault on the cities of South Vietnam, the dispute over the whys and the wherefores still smoulders. Behind the propaganda curtain sharp differences exist on whether there was a massive intelligence failure and where the blame lies.

TO CALL IT a feud is certainly an exaggeration. Nevertheless important elements within the intelligence community were convinced that intelligence had failed to prepare either the American military command or the South Vietnamese for anything like the fury of the attack. This was the conviction, it is believed, of a majority of the United States Intelligence Board.

That is not to say the USIB has put any final conclusions in the form of a paper for the eyes of the President. The assessment still goes on in provincial capitals and hundreds of villages even as the Viet Cong are at last driven out of Hue and threaten new attacks in and around Saigon. The wreckage of the pacification program is a casualty looming large in this reckoning.

SOBER OBSERVERS fear that the propaganda curtain will serve not only its principal purpose—to bolster morale both here and in Vietnam—but will be a convenient cover-up for the errors of the past. In the prolonged analysis emphasis has been put on the failure to appreciate the extent of infiltration by the North Vietnamese into every level of life in South Vietnam. The degree of success achieved would never have been possible without infiltration from top to bottom.

THE ROLE of the Central Intelligence Agency is confused with the controversies of the past and the memory of that grimmest albatross, the Bay of Pigs disaster. The concept of the CIA under a director who has come up through the professional establishment, Richard Helms, is not as policy-maker and surely not in controversy with policy-makers in the government. It is to provide the broad sweep of information based on both open and secret sources gathered through a worldwide intelligence apparatus.

WHAT THE policy-makers do with this information is not for the CIA to say. The hyper-optimism of White House adviser Walt W. Rostow may or may not have a firm base in the secret intelligence reports. But in his position Rostow is privileged to reach his own conclusions with the encouragement of his principal, President Johnson. Others in the administration who are more cautious and far less optimistic look to Rostow as a kind of daring young man on the flying trapeze. They watch his far-out performance with something like awe, wondering how long events, not to mention the private intelligence reports, will sustain his position.

IN THE CONTINUING analysis within the United States Intelligence Board the role of the CIA in Vietnam has been under intensive scrutiny.

In these matters objectivity is a dubious word. Men make fallible human judgments. But those who consider this an absolutely critical point in the Vietnam war, perhaps even more critical than the beginning of massive escalation two years ago, remain hopeful that the errors of the past will not be deliberately obscured and the crisis met merely with bigger and bigger troop commitments in Vietnam.

Hal Boyle

The Poor Man's Philosopher

NEW YORK (AP) — "When will you ever grow up?" exasperated parents sometimes demand of their children.

The answer, if the truth be told, is—perhaps never and, in any case, probably rarely and only now and then.

People have been trying to grow up for centuries, but it is a difficult art. Growing up remains more of a journey than an arrival, a goal rather than an achievement.

INSIDE EVERY adult, no matter how well adjusted he may be, is a child unreconciled to the fate he has found or the destiny he realizes he faces. The child he once was remains the eternal pilgrim and monitor of his being.

There is a curious, ironic and unbridgeable gap in the way different generations look at each other's situation in the world, and both are in error. Each thinks the other has the better of it, and each is wrong.

The adult looks back nostalgically on his childhood and remembers it as the only time in life he knew a careless freedom.

HOW WRONG he is! A child doesn't feel free at all. He feels himself a midget overwhelmed in an oversized universe, the prisoner puppet of bigger and older people who incessantly issue orders—"Wake up! Wash your hands! Eat this! Do that! Study now! Go to bed!"

He wants his way, and he can't have it. So his biggest ambition is to grow up. Then, he dreams, nobody can tell him what to do. He will be his own master and do whatever he wants to.

How wrong he is! It is only as he gets deeper into it that he discovers adulthood, far from being a condition of freedom, is only a bigger prison than he knew before, one with more rules. Whether he is a railroad switchman or president of the United States, there is an endless line of people trying to admonish him what to do.

HE HAS MORE fears than he did as a child because he recognizes more dangers that can assail his safety or imperil his well-being.

The process of growing up is a steady and remorseless assassination of youthful daydreams and a tarnishing of fantasy. And for this the dismayed heart of childhood never quite forgives the world it supposedly matures in. And that is why it can hardly ever quite grow up all the way.

Experience and education are expected to help one mature, and, of course, to a considerable extent they do. But although they can tutor the mind to accept the blows of chance and circumstance, they never quite console the emotional heart to disappointment and frustration.

THE SCARS may not be visible, but they are there, still hurting though hidden.

At birth a child has a dim sense that he is the center of the universe, and age never quite takes that idea away from him. He wants what he wants when he wants it, and if he doesn't get it he throws a noisy tantrum.

AS WE GROW older we tend to throw silent tantrums. If we don't have our way—if we don't get the job we wanted, or manage to marry the ideal mate of our choice—we often strike out at ourselves and others. We may make needless enemies or come down with unnecessary ulcers and other self-inflicted penalties.

ANY DOCTOR can list among his patients men and women who are slowly killing themselves with self-pity simply because they cannot adjust to the pangs of growing up. No medicine can heal the wounds they create in their own souls simply because time and life won't let them have their way in everything.

Perhaps only a god can be so grownup as to know utter serenity of spirit. But for us workaday human beings growing up will always consist of the hard task of making a yearning adjustment to compromised hopes, done with as much fortitude and grace as possible.

McCormack Won't Step Down

WASHINGTON (AP) — As far as most of his Democratic colleagues are concerned, Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts can keep his post as speaker of the House as long as he wants—and as long as the Democrats retain control.

There have been suggestions that McCormack step down in favor of a younger man more closely in touch with modern times.

THE SPEAKER was 76 years old last December but seems in excellent health. Aides claim he has missed only one work day in the last eight years, and that was to attend a school dedication in Boston.

Because he abhors facial makeup and lacks a ruddy complexion, McCormack doesn't always look too robust on the television screen.

He won't publicly discuss suggestions that he step down from the House speakership to which he ascended when Sam Rayburn of Texas died in November, 1961.

But those close to him say he has no intention of yielding the gavel so long as he feels able to handle the job.

AT THE CLOSE of the 1964 session of Congress which enacted much of President Johnson's "Great Society" program, the President described McCormack as one of the outstanding speakers of all time.

If an attempt were to be made to unseat him, McCormack would have two big things in his favor—tradition and a widespread friendship among his colleagues.

Never in the history of Congress as far as is known, and certainly not in the last 100 years for which records are available, has an incumbent speaker been denied re-election when his political party remained in power and he remained a member of the House.

Several speakers have died while in office; others have retired and some have sought other offices.

The Contest Takes Shape

WASHINGTON — The lines now have been drawn for a contest between former Vice President Nixon and Gov. Rockefeller of New York for the Republican nomination for the presidency.

FOR A LONG TIME it has been conjectured in political circles that Gov. Romney's preconvention campaign was made possible largely by the help of Gov. Rockefeller. The Michigan governor may have pictured a Rockefeller-Romney ticket. Mr. Romney himself publicly acknowledged the aid which his campaign received from Mr. Rockefeller.

The strange vicissitudes of preconvention campaigning, however, all but eliminated Gov. Romney several weeks ago when he said he had been "brainwashed" while he was being briefed by American officials in Vietnam. This political blunder weakened his position with many Republican leaders. They felt that, while Mr. Romney was frank and outspoken, he was not politically sophisticated or he would not have used this terminology.

GOV. ROCKEFELLER has for many months now said he is not a candidate, but the pressure to nominate him has been continuing among his friends and supporters. Their theory has been that, if a sufficient demand arose, he would accede to it. It was not surprising, therefore, when a few days ago the New York governor said publicly that, while he did not expect to be "drafted," he would run if the convention nominated him.

IN POLITICS this is tantamount to a launching of his candidacy. The mere fact that there has been an effort in the New Hampshire primary, which is to be held on March 12, to have Gov. Rockefeller's name written in on the ballot—though without his consent—has given rise to widespread speculation that the Rockefeller candidacy could no longer be regarded as inactive or passive. Likewise, the timing of the Romney announcement of withdrawal, made this week while 45 of the nation's governors were here for a conference, is in itself significant. For many of the Republican governors favor Rockefeller for the presidential nomination.

There are many barriers, on the other hand, to the nomination of Gov. Rockefeller. He antagonized a lot of Republican rank and file when he failed to support Sen. Barry Goldwater as the Republican nominee in 1964. He has never repudiated that action, though he has said publicly that he will support the presidential nominee of the Rephblican party this time whoever he happens to be.

ANOTHER BARRIER is the position of Gov. Rockefeller recently in New York City's garbage strike. He took the side of the labor unions in opposition to the stand of Mayor John Lindsay, a fellow Republican. This did considerable harm to Rockefeller's prospects, as many businessmen throughout the country were alienated. They are not likely to be enthusiastic about any Republican nominee who assumes a pro-labor attitude.

THERE IS STILL another handicap from which Gov. Rockefeller suffers. Immaterial as it may be to drag into the campaign the fact that he was divorced and later remarried—as this is a personal matter and really has nothing to do with the choice of a presidential candidate—Republican politicians say that women voters in many parts of the country have expressed themselves emphatically against the nomination of Rockefeller. Any substantial loss of the Republican women's vote would, of course, be a serious factor on election day next November. Indeed, some of the Republican leaders say that they would rather have President and Mrs. Johnson continue in the White House than see Gov. and Mrs. Rockefeller move in there.

THE CANDIDACY of the New York governor, however, will undoubtedly be pressed by his supporters. Coincidentally, the Republican leaders who control many state delegations and want to see former Vice President Nixon nominated will intensify their effort to build up a wide margin of delegate strength.

The biggest single advantage on Mr. Nixon's side is that he was vice president of the United States for eight years with President Eisenhower. The general might even campaign for the man who was his close associate during two presidential terms.

Billy Graham

What do you think of lowering the voting age to eighteen or twenty? Do you really believe that young people of that age are qualified to guide the policies of our nation? N.O.F.

Today, our young people, are the best informed of history. The courses they offer in high school today are comparable to the courses I took when in college. The educational standard has been upped considerably in the past twenty years.

Besides this, young men may enter the Army when they are eighteen; thousands of them are employed at age eighteen; many of them marry at age eighteen. Youth does not mean ignorance, and old age, does not necessarily, mean intelligence. Yes, I am in favor of reducing the voting age to at least twenty.

My experience has taught me that, although many of our youth are of the "beatnik," irresponsible variety, most of them are thoughtful, decent, and concerned for their country, and for its future. Beyond that, nearly fifty per cent of our citizens are under twenty-five, and these young people are going to have to shoulder the responsibility of tomorrow's world, and I think they ought to have something to say about the way it is run.

Responsibility, as a rule, tends to make a person even more responsible, and I favor giving these young people under eighteen the franchise. It might take their minds off some of the more frivolous things they seem to be concerned with.

Pollution, Noise Laws Increased

CHICAGO (AP)—The various states in 1967 enacted more than three times the amount of air pollution control, noise control and solid waste disposal legislation they approved the year before.

Commerce Clearing House said well over 100 laws related to such problems were passed across the country as compared with 34 such enactments in 1966.

Laws provide tax exemptions, license credits and other incentives designed to eliminate air pollution. They authorized the formation of air pollution control commissions, councils, agencies and boards.

State pacts also combined states into regional enforcers of rules on air pollution. Connecticut, New York and New Jersey approved their entrances into the Mid-Atlantic States Air Pact which would also include Delaware and Pennsylvania.

To Your Good Health

She Has 'Very Small Tonsils'

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: I would like information about the throat. The doctor told me I have very small tonsils. Is there any such thing?

Every time it rains or snows I have trouble trying to talk. My throat is not sore but I stay hoarse all the time. —M.A.M.

Yes, there's such a thing as very small tonsils (and adults have tonsils which are smaller than children's, anyway; they tend to shrink with age.)

But even though small, tonsils still may harbor infection and cause throat troubles. Other common possibilities are the irritation from either smoking or chronic discharge from the back of the nose — the common "post-nasal drip." In the latter, smoking may be a factor, or there may be trouble of one kind or another in the nose and sinuses from some other cause.

However, to me the matter of greater importance in your letter is your tendency to remain hoarse. This demands an examination of the larynx, or "voice box."

The larnyx is not usually seen in the average throat examination because it is lower in the throat and requires special facilities, either a laryngoscope or a special mirror so it can be viewed clearly.

There are various conditions which can affect the larynx and cause hoarseness. Chronic swelling of the vocal cords is one — the result of some form of irritation. Or there may be tiny nodes, called "singer's nodes," which sometimes form on the cords of a person who sings or speaks a lot. And, of course, it is always wise to make sure that no tumorous growth is starting. If so, it can be removed if it is done early enough, but most positively should not be allowed to wait.

Therefore I would suggest that you have a further examination, particularly if your hoarseness continues.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: Please send me all you have on stomach and duodenal ulcers. Just been overhauled ($1,700) because of ulcers. Am still at a loss as to whether I should be on a special diet or not. — T.M.

If I sent "all I have" on that subject, the freight bill would probably give you some new ulcers and reading it all would give you a headache.

Did you have both stomach (gastric) and duodenal ulcers? Or just one? What did your doctor tell you about diet? Did you ask him?

Why don't you get my booklet, "How to Heal Peptic Ulcers and Keep Them Healed?" Send 25 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Dr. Molner, in care of this newspaper, for a copy.

"Peptic" includes ulcers of both types, and the booklet will give you an understanding of how both types are treated.

When ulcers require surgery, the usual implication is that the patient is of the highly tense type who ought to take all reasonable precautions to avoid getting a new ulcer. Therefore, at least moderate watchfulness of diet would, in my opinion, be almost automatic. Maybe you're one of the fellows who should have started taking the ulcer seriously sooner. But right now is a good time to start preventing any recurrence.

TODAY'S GENERATION IS 'RESTLESS'

Tots Want Challenges, Sunday School Answers

By JERRY MONSON

She believes that children today have an "air of restlessness" and need to know the Lord early in life and she helps to see that they do.

Nell Brown, born and reared in Big Spring, has been a volunteer Sunday School teacher at the Webb AFB Chapel for over 10 years. In January, she received her second commendation certificate from the base, citing her tenth year of service. She had received another one five years ago.

In that decade, she has seen a gradual change in the type of child she teaches in her third grade, nine-year-old primary class.

"Children today seem more alert than children I taught 10 years ago," she said. "They have lived all over the world, many of them, and are amazingly bright for their age.

"They are restless, but they seem able to concentrate on several things at once and still absorb part of the lesson."

CHALLENGE CHILDREN

Miss Brown believes that if you give children challenges and interests they will come willingly to Sunday School.

"A child can easily tell when time is being wasted on frivolities," she pointed out. "He wants the answers, not a long, drawn-out explanation which beats around the bush."

She said that some children have an amazing spiritual depth and a capacity for great spiritual learning.

"A lot of parents are concerned about the child's physical growth and completely neglect the all-important spiritual need he has," she said. "Children need spiritual guidance not only at church and Sunday School, but at home."

Miss Brown's interest in the Webb Sunday School started when the couple who was in charge of the primary department at the base chapel was sent on temporary duty. The Child Evangelism Fellowship, of which she is now West Texas treasurer, was invited to provide teachers, and Miss Brown volunteered to teach a few Sundays.

"I found that I got a real thrill out of it," she said. "That was 10 years ago, and I've been with it ever since."

SCHOOLS

The daughter of Mrs. G. A. Brown, 411 Bell, and the late Mr. Brown, she finished high school here and went on to graduate from Baylor University. She taught for several years in the local schools and in Crane, but gave that career up to join the state comptroller's district office, where she worked 13½ years.

Miss Brown was affiliated with Welcome Wagon 1½ years and later joined the offices of Ray Albaugh, oil producer, where she has been 16 years.

She has been a charter member of the American Association of University Women but resigned last year when she found she did not have time for all her activities. Until last year, she was secretary-treasurer of the Volunteer Council of the Big Spring State Hospital.

She pointed out that there is always a need for teachers in the Webb Sunday School department, due to the turnover of military personnel. One high school student, Pam Wilson of Luther, comes into Big Spring every Sunday to play the piano for the beginners' Sunday School class.

Tenth Anniversary Marked With Open House On Sunday

Rev. V. Ward Jackson, pastor of the First Church of God, will celebrate his 10th anniversary with the church on Sunday, with a special open house from 2-4 p.m.

The open house is being held in conjunction with remodeling of the Jack and Jill Kindergarten. Latest improvements include a carpeted outside playground.

Although the congregation numbers less than 100 persons, there is an extension department of the Sunday school which includes teachers who take International Sunday school lessons into rest homes, fire stations and the jail.

During 1961, the Jack and Jill Kindergarten was established, with Arah Phillips as principal. The school has an enrollment of 170 at the present time and has grown to include the first and second grades.

During Rev. Jackson's pastorship, the budget of the church has increased from $17,000 to a combined church-school budget of over $70,000.

REV. V. WARD JACKSON

MRS. V. WARD JACKSON

Other improvements have included complete remodeling and rearranging of the church sanctuary, in memory of Coy Thomas who was killed in Vietnam.

Rev. Jackson has a long list of civic activities. He has served on the advancement and achievement committee for the Boy Scouts; is a director of the Halfway House; a member of the United Fund board of trustees; chairman of the board of directors of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center when it was built.

In addition, Rev. Jackson has served as president of the local Kiwanis Club and has just completed a term as lieutenant governor of Division 22, which included nine other clubs.

He is active in the West Texas district of the ministers of the Church of God and is a past president of the Big Spring Pastors Association. For a number of years he has served as acting chaplain at the Veterans Administration Hospital.

Mrs. Jackson is a kindergarten teacher for Jack and Jill Kindergarten.

They have four children: Vernon Jackson, married and stationed with the U.S. Navy at Norfolk, Va.; Darlene Jackson, who plans to be married to Airman I.C. Don Freeman this summer; Herbie Jackson, a fifth grader at College Heights; and Mary Jackson, a second grader at the same school.

Car Club To Stage Display At Berea Revival

The Big Spring Antique Automobile Club will stage a display tonight in conjunction with the revival now in progress at Berea Baptist Church.

Hosts for the display are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Turney, who will wear garb of the 1800's. The revival, which begins at 7:30 p.m., will be an old fashioned service.

Mike McMahon and Jimmy Snelen are leading the revival.

Income Tax To Be Talked

The Better Homes Club will have its monthly meeting Friday at the Downtown Tea Room at 7 p.m. The program will be on income tax, and Billy T. Smith, accountant, will be the guest speaker.

Cost of the meal is $1.25 and child care facilities will be available at Baptist Temple Church, Eleventh Place and Goliad. Everyone who is interested in saving on income tax is invited to attend.

Sermon To Study Judas Iscariot

Judas Iscariot will be portrayed by the Rev. Robert Knutsen, pastor of the Trinity Lutheran Church, in a special "first person" sermon Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the church.

The series of sermons are being held throughout the Lenten season, Rev. Knutsen said, and are being given in costume and makeup as if the person represented were talking to the congregation himself.

Subjects in remaining sermons will be persons involved in the last week of Christ's life.

Mormon Church Has New Elder

New elder at the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-Day Saints is Gordon Clyde Linder, from Magna, Utah, who has been in the ministry 11 months.

He replaces Elder Richard W. Newbold, who transferred to the Amarillo ward, and joins Elder Michael P. McPhie from Washington, D.C.

Elton Wallace is branch president.

LAZARUS' DEATH PROVES CHRIST IS THE RESURRECTION AND LIFE

John 11:35, "I am the Resurrection and the Life," has more meaning than that it is the shortest verse in the Bible. It pictures the love of Christ for His friends and the promise He gives to them.

Christ had known that the sickness of Lazarus "is not unto death" and that He would visit Lazarus that "I may awake him out of sleep."

When Jesus saw Mary and the others crying, "he groaned in the spirit and was troubled." His love and sympathy for the sorrowing ones were involved. He was doing what Paul later recommended: "Rejoice with them that do rejoice, and weep with them that weep" (Rom. 12:15).

It is reassuring and comforting for the Christian to know that Jesus has a tender heart. The believer has every reason to enjoy an honest relationship to Christ, experiencing His comfort.

Hawks, Trojans Meet At 7 In Semifinals

By TOMMY HART

Howard County JC's Jayhawks were hit by a truck crossing the street to Semifinal Lane in the Region V Junior College Basketball tournament here Thursday night but survived the scare to win, 81-77.

(Photo by Danny Valdes)

Hubert Zeroes In

Despite harrassing tactics carried on by Charles Wells (11) of Amarillo, HCJC's Hiron Hubert (12) gets off a shot in Thursday night's Region V tournament bellringer here. The resident Hawks hung on to defeat the Badgers, 81-77, and thereby enter the semifinals of the meet. HCJC tangles with Christian College of the Southwest at 7 o'clock this evening.

The antagonist in this instance was Amarillo College, cactus-tough on defense and a worthy opponent from bell to bell.

A standing-room-only throng which came to celebrate felt for a time it would remain for a wake. The Hawks looked overdrawn and, as a result, were almost quartered.

In other games, favored Ranger College vanquished Odessa, 100-81, after a mid-game scare; Christian College of the Southwest sidelined Weatherford, 95-82; and Clarendon decked Hill County HC, 58-53.

In all instances, the favored teams prevailed and only Howard County had to really work to insulate its seeded position.

Action resumes at 7 o'clock this evening, with Howard County squaring off with CCSW. A 9 o'clock brauhaha between Ranger and Clarendon sets the stage for the Saturday night finals.

Howard County is now 22-11 on the year while Christian College, a Mesquite-based school, will carry a 28-6 record onto the floor tonight.

Calrendon is 19-8 while ominous Ranger will be seeking to improve upon a 29-6 record.

Amarillo never caught the Hawks after the first few minutes but on three occasions in the second half pulled to within a point of the Hawks. Had the Badgers not lost 5-7 Bill Jordan and Bill Godden in the last five minutes, they might be preparing for a semifinal appearance today.

The Linder twins, Larry and Barry, both got in foul trouble early for HCJC and both exited while the situation was still muddled. Larry departed with 1:45 remaining while Barry repaired to the bench with just a minute to go.

Simon Terrazas led the Hawks with 19 points and played most creditably under the basket. Larry Linder banked 18 points before he was banished while Hiron Hubert had 15.

Dennis Falk bagged 22 for Amarillo while Charles Wells had 16 and Mike Wolf ten.

Terrazas was also the leading rebounder with 12 while Terry Fields, Barry Linder and Hubert each captured ten. The Hawks hit only 33 per cent of their shots from the field the first half (15 of 47) but warmed to 44 per cent after the intermission (17 of 39).

The Trojans of CCSW jumped to a 48-38 lead over Weatherford at half time and steamed on in to their 13-point victory. The Mesquite team fed the ball to diminutive Joe Hamilton and the All-American popped the cotton for 40 points. Mike Reid chipped in with 24 while Anthony Wallace and Mike Bannister paced Weatherford with 27 and 24, respectively.

Both Clarendon and Hill County, perhaps bothered by the afternoon sun filtering in through the windows, seemed obsessed by problems on down the road. Hill County, as a result, ran into a dead-end street.

Rick Vidaurri bucketed 27 points for Clarendon while Bill Brewer led Clarendon with 15.

Apparently hopelessly beaten at half time, Odessa came storming back to take a 61-60 lead over Ranger with 13:30 remaining in the final game of the evening but the Rangers quickly took command after that.

Ulric Cobb dropped in 32 points and James McLeod 25 for Ranger, most of them on tipins. Chris Dowell led Odessa with 21.

Odessa tried and tried but simply was fighting a war with hope and a pea-shooter.

Forsan Wins 26th Game

ROSCOE — Mollie Condron, who some time ago broke the all-time scoring record for a Forsan girl, was in fine form again here Thursday night as she led the Buffalo Queens to a resounding 62-48 victory over the 18-B titlist, May.

Mollie tossed in 44 points to run her season's aggregate to 1,155. That averages out to 34 points a game.

Don Stevens' team is now 26-8. May, which plays Sidney in bi-district play, is 23-5.

The Forsan club plays for keeps Tuesday night in Bronte, at which time it catches Mertzon in bi-district action. A victory there would send the Queens to the Region VI-B meet in Big Spring next weekend.

Sands, Bronte Vie In VI-B Encounter

By NATE MITCHELL

The Sands Mustangs bolted at the opening tip-off and galloped to an easy 73-59 victory here Thursday night in the opening round of the Region VI-B basketball tournament in HCJC gymnasium. The defeat eliminated the Socorro Bulldogs from the meet.

Conquerors of Barstow in a bi-district clash earlier, the Ponies earned the right to meet tough Bronte, 67-B champion, at the same site this evening at 7 p.m. Roby, 69-B king, takes on formidable Paint Rock of 65-B at 8:30 p.m. in the second half of the doubleheader.

The action climaxes Saturday, with the third place game slated for 2 p.m., and the championship clash at 3:30 p.m.

A large crowd of partisan fans saw Coach Arlen White's Mustangs lead from wire to wire in the Socorro game — keeping the Bulldogs of 75-B on a leash all evening. Although somewhat close in the first two periods, the game was not much of a test for the hard-hitting Red Hosses.

Seniors Claude Fryar and Alfonso Calvio turned in a fine showing for the Ponies, with the latter displaying the brand of floor artistry which helped the Sands team make it to the State tournament last season.

Fryar, getting tagged with four fouls in the first half, came back after the intermission and dominated the fracas. Ike Lewis, along with Ron Taylor and Kynn Maxwell helped turn what had promised to be a nip and tuck contest into a one-sided rout.

Coach Mel Howard's Bulldogs couldn't stay out of trouble — especially when his tallest boy, senior Mike Quintava, collected his fourth foul prior to the half, and had to walk on water the rest of the way.

Jesus Camarillo became the game's high point man, pouring in 17 points for Socorro. Vic Olivera managed 15, while Alex Hernandez struck for 11 for the Dogs.

Fryar again paced the Ponies, scorching the cotton for 16 tallies, and Kynn Maxwell and Larry Newcomer aided well with 14 each. Lance Hopper deposited 13 for the Mustangs.

Marquette Mentor Boosts His Ace

By The Associated Press

George Thompson of Marquette is one of the most underrated college basketball players in the country in the opinion of his coach, Al McGuire.

"It's a joke that he doesn't get more recognition" McGuire said after his NCAA-tourney bound Warriors whipped Creighton 75-57 at Milwaukee Thursday night.

The 6-foot-2 junior from Brooklyn, N.Y., "who plays 6-8" in McGuire's words, demonstrated it by scoring 20 points to set a single season Marquette record of 581 points. The old mark of 578 was set by Don Kojis in 1961.

Creighton concentrated its defense on Thompson, one of the prime reasons Marquette gained an NCAA berth with a 21-4 record and the No. 8 spot in The Associated Press rankings.

Thompson got only one field goal in the first half, but broke loose after intermission. Bob Portman of Creighton, the nation's fourth highest scorer, managed only 16 points, 14 below his average.

Marquette was the only team in the AP Top Ten to play. Two other tournament teams, Florida State in the NCAA and Fordham in the NIT, each won.

Florida State downed Stetson 72-60 and Fordham whipped NYU 79-73 in the feature of a New York Madison Square Garden twinbill after Manhattan routed Connecticut 83-69.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

The crowds attending the Region V Junior College and Region VI-B (high school) tournaments here this weekend point up the need for a coliseum.

The Scurry County coliseum, which seats slightly more than 3,000, was filled up for the first time the other night by a basketball game in which a Snyder team was not involved (Lamesa and Lubbock Dunbar). The Snyder turnout was estimated at 3,250.

If two out-of-town teams can draw a crowd like that in Snyder, there is no reason why a show like the Region V JC meet wouldn't play to crowds of 5,000 or more here, if it were possible to seat that many.

Nothing would help the city's appearance, to the caller from out-of-town, like a coliseum — and such a facility could be used for so many things.

I have always thought that part of the proceeds from the recent sales tax voted by the citizenry here could and should be used to build a coliseum. That would be a painless way to finance the project.

Of course, city officials might think it is the responsibility of the County and, County officials, in turn, might reason it should be undertaken by the city and/or the schools.

Whatever their line of reasoning, the issue has been too long put off here. Smaller cities like Levelland and Snyder now point with pride to their coliseums. It's time we tackled the problem.

Quarterbacking duties for the 1968 Big Spring High School football team will be adequately handled, in all probability, by studious Johnny Patton, who will be a senior.

Coach Spike Dykes thinks he'll make a good one and will earn his spurs convincingly in spring training.

What about the boys waiting in the wings? From all indications, the talent at the position is deep.

There's little to choose now between Gary Hughes, Gary Hinds, Johnny Rutherford and Lynn Cauley, all of whom piled up experience at the post with the JayVees last fall. All will be juniors this fall.

Three sophomores-to-be are coming on who could be contesting for the job as early as 1969. They are Larry Vasquez, Dave Duncan and Scott McLaughlin. The latter two are quite tall and should be deadly passers.

Incidentally, Coach Dykes is still planning to hold off on spring drills until early May, when most of the other spring sports will be out of the way.

Jimmy Jones, the Stanton cager, now has firm offers from four colleges — Southwest Texas State, South Plains Junior College, Howard Payne and Hardin-Simmons University.

He wants to attend Howard County JC, if possible, and play ball under Buddy Travis.

When Tompkins Oil, the leading team in the YMCA Adult Basketball league here, suffered its first loss the other night, it wound up with only three men on the court.

Dizzy Dean will return to Atlanta this summer to help with telecasts of half a dozen baseball games involving the Atlanta Braves.

* * * *

The Chicago White Sox, who expect to have a payroll exceeding $700,000 this year, will invest heavily on spring training.

The Sox will spend an estimated $100,000 for spring training but likely will get $60,000 of that back through gate revenue.

The city of Sarasota, Fla., which hosts the Sox, has outdone itself in selling advance tickets to contests.

Some Texas sportswriters, disenchanted with Clint Murchison after his announcement that he would move the Dallas Cowboys to Irving, have been referring to his proposed new stadium as the Half-Astrodome.

JACK GALLAGHER, Houston writer, said it:

"Norman Bulaich seems destined to a career of unfulfilled promise. The big, swift, injury-prone TCU halfback recently reburt his knee in a dormitory scuffle."

Hawks Retain Cage Whammy

By The Associated Press

The Boston Celtics? A snap for the New York Knicks. The Philadelphia 76ers? A breeze. But, ah, those St. Louis Hawks.

The Knicks are now 1-6 against the Hawks after Thursday night's 105-102 overtime defeat by St. Louis in a National Basketball Association game at Miami.

New York has won two games each against the Celtics and the 76ers and has two games left against each. Last year, the Knicks could beat Philadelphia only once and Boston not at all.

St. Louis has presented a problem for New York all year. Most of the games have been close, but somehow the Hawks are usually on top when the gun sounds.

A basket by Dick Barnett with 13 seconds left in regulation time tied the game for New York Thursday night, but Joe Caldwell's basket in the first five seconds of the overtime period put the Hawks ahead for good.

HC Makes Track Debut In Fort Worth Meet

HCJC's track and field squad, defending champion in the National Juco meet this year, open their outdoor season today and Saturday in the Southwestern Recreational meet at Fort Worth.

The Hawks will field a 13-man squad. In all, 1,400 athletes from all over the southwest will be present for the huge cinder show.

Thirty-five high schools will have hundreds of runners, jumpers and throwers going through preliminaries in the running events and finals in the field contests.

Dallas Madison will defend its championship.

It will launch the biggest cinder path carnival in the Southwest, boasting seven teams in the university division—the largest entry in years.

Texas Tech defends its title against Southern Methodist, Baylor, Arkansas, North Texas State, Texas Christian and Texas at Arlington, with the first two expected to fight it out for the championship.

At least three records are likely in the class, with Jerry Utecht of Southern Methodist expected to crack his own meet record of 54.4 in the 440-yard hurdles, Robert Nees of Texas Christian and Stan Curry of Baylor aiming at the high jump mark of 6 feet 8¾ inches and Leroy Storbeck of Southern Methodist a possibility to crack the mile mark of 4:12.3.

A good chance of a double record seems to rest with Clyde Glosson of Trinity, who already holds the meet record of 9.2 in the 100 and is within a tenth of a second back of the 220 record of 21.1.

Trinity will compete in the college division along with 10 other schools, including defending champion Texas Southern.

Southern may have trouble repeating with the title this time although it still has Kenneth St. Julian, who set a 440-yard hurdles mark of 52.9 last year, and the versatile Roy Hicks, who is a high jumper as well as hurdler of note.

There will be 17 schools in the junior college-freshman division where Texas Christian is not defending its championship.

A golf meet also opened today with Texas A&M defending its championships in the university and junior college-freshman divisions and Dallas Bryan Adams seeking to repeat in the high school division.

Preliminaries in the college classes are set for Saturday morning and all finals not already held will be run off in the afternoon starting at 12:40 p.m.

Hayes Heads All-America

NEW YORK (AP) — Elvin Hayes, the Big E of the top-ranked University of Houston cougars dominated the 1968 college basketball All-American announced today by The Associated Press.

Lew Alcindor of UCLA, Westley Unseld of Louisville, Pete Maravich of Louisiana State and Larry Miller of North Carolina rounded out the first team picked by the votes of 322 sports writers and broadcasters.

The 6-foot-8 Hayes, the 7-1½ Alcindor and the 6-8 Unseld are repeaters from the 1967 A-A. Maravich, a 6-5 sophomore, is the nation's leading collegiate scorer. Miller, a 6-3 senior, led North Carolina to 20 straight victories. Hayes and Unseld also are seniors while Alcindor is a junior.

Calvin Murphy, a 5-10 soph of Niagara, headed the second team which included Neal Walk of Florida, Bob Lanier if St. Bonaventure, Lucius Allen of UCLA and Don May of Dayton.

Mike Warren of UCLA, Rick Mount of Purdie, Jo Jo White of Kansas, Mike Lewis of Duke and Sam Williams of Iowa were selected as a third team.

Members of each of these teams will receive certificates from The Associated Press.

Bill Hosket of Ohio State, Don Smith of Iowa State, Jim McMillian of Columbia, Joe Allen of Bradley, Mike Casey of Kentucky, Ron Williams of West Virginia, Ron Nelson of New Mexico, Rich Travis of Oklahoma City and Merv Jackson of Utah were foremost of the honorable mentions.

Hayes, who scored 39 points as Houston snapped UCLA's 47-game winning streak in January and on Feb. 24 got 62 against Valparaiso as Houston set a single game record of 158 points, almost had a perfect score in the balloting.

The Big E, the second highest career scorer in college records, was picked on the first team by 320 voters. The other two put him on the second team. He missed a perfect total of 1,610 points by only six with his 1,604 aggregate. Five points were given for a first team nod, two points for a second team vote.

The towering Alcindor, who led in the voting a year ago, polled 311 firsts and 10 seconds for 1,575 points. Maravich, known as Pistol Pete and the first soph to crack the 1,000-point scoring barrier in a single season, finished a surprise third in the voting.

The son of the LS coach, Press Maravich, Pete polled 195 firsts and 75 seconds for 1,125. Unseld, who led Louisville to a second straight Missouri Valley conference championship, had 876 points on 130 firsts and 113 seconds. Miller had 681 on 105 firsts and 78 seconds.

Murphy, with 88 firsts and 114 seconds, polled 668 points, missing the first team by only 13 points. Thereafter the totals fell off. Walk had 452, Lanier 409, Allen 374, May 359, Warren 291, Mount 289, White 231, Lewis 218, Williams 123, Hosket had 112 and Smith 102, the best of the honorable mentions.

IN MATHIS GO

Frazier Eyeing An Early Kayo

RHINEBECK, N.Y. (AP) — If their combat in the ring is as good as their verbal war from the training camps, there should be plenty of fireworks when feuding Joe Frazier and Buster Mathis meet face to face in Madison Square Garden Monday night.

Frazier, a fiery puncher in his workouts as well as regular fights, has been popping off from Kiamesha Lake on how he expects to "take out Buster in six or seven rounds or maybe earlier."

The brawny, 5-foot-11½, 205-pound Philadelphian undoubtedly has been trying to get Buster mad. He has needled his giant foe with remarks that "he runs like a thief", "he's chicken-hearted," and "he can't punch."

When these words were passed on to the 6-3, 245-pounder from Grand Rapids, he replied quickly with a few caustic cracks of his own.

"He's a buffoon," said Mathis, "a nitwit for saying those things. He's talking about ending—it in five, six or seven rounds because that's all he'll be able to go."

"I've never been knocked down or knocked out and it won't happen against him, you can be sure. He knows only one way to fight. He comes at you. He makes plenty of mistakes, and believe me I'm going to take advantage of them. His tongue may be hanging out after the seventh round, if he's around by then, although I'm prepared to go 15."

Mathis was scheduled to wind up his unusually strenuous boxing campaign today. He has boxed nearly 250 rounds, two of them 15-round sessions, in eight weeks at his camp here.

Despite the optimistic talk from the Mathis camp, Frazier held as the 2-1 favorite in the 15-rounder for the world heavyweight title, New York, Massachusetts and Illinois versions. Illinois awarded recognition Thursday.

With all the big talk from the big boys, the middleweight title fight between champion Emile Griffith and Italy's Nino Benvenuti has been almost overlooked.

Griffith is the 7-5 favorite in the third fight between the two, but the odds might go up by fight time. The bull-shouldered champion has been impressive in his workouts, far more so than the rangy Italian who finished his sparring on Tuesday.

The American Business Club not only sponsored the meet but supplied all the personnel to stage it.

From all indications, the service club is going to finish in the black on the meet. Its expenses amounted to about $3,000. Thursday afternoon's session attracted more than 400 and the gym last night couldn't seat all the people. More than 1,800 were in attendance.

The Sam Houston State coach, Bob Williams, is more familiarly known here as Dallas Williams. He set the all-time scoring record at HCJC, which Walter Carter of Gate City, Va., later broke.

Apparently, Big Spring is going to be the only city bidding for the 1969 Regional tournament.

C. W. Myers, Amarillo mentor, said he had not been authorized to ask that the meet be returned there.

Bill McDonald, the Weatherford coach, was asked if his school would be interested but he revealed the school would shortly be moving to a new campus and would not be ready to serve as host next year.

A decision on the 1969 tournament site was to be made at a breakfast on the HCJC campus this morning.

* * *

Tommy Bryant, Amarillo Globe News; Carl Dingler, Odessa American; and Naaman Nickell, San Angelo Standard-Times, were among out-of-town newsmen here. Two local radio stations, KBST and KBYG, were airing the contests as were Odessa and Eastland stations.

* * *

CCSW, which meets HCJC tonight, has lost two games to Ranger and one each to the SMU freshmen, Dallas Baptist, Lon Morris and Murray, Okla., this season.

Longhorns Play Lubbock Today

Baseball season formally gets under way for the Big Spring Steers this weekend.

Oakey Hagood's Longhorns, with a veteran back to man virtually every position, takes on Lubbock High in a 4 p.m. game today and returns to competition at 2 p.m. Saturday in Andrews.

Coach Hagood is planning on starting Junior Mendoza against the Westerners today but will, no doubt, look at all his hurlers before the week is out.

Curtain time for the first annual All-School Sing at Big Spring High School Saturday is 8 p.m., with eight school organizations entered.

Proceeds from the sing will go to the fund to help send Danny Johnson, all-state tenor, to the All-America school choir which plans a tour of Europe this summer.

Tickets are 75 cents for students and $1 for adults.

Entries include the Shorthand Club, "Grasshopper Opera," Drama Club, "No Business Like Show Business"; the Steer Band FHA, "Sweet Dreams"; Latin Club, "Further Adventures of Publius Marcus Caecilius"; Key Club, "There is Nothing Like a Dame"; Student Council and Journalism Club, "Takeoff on Broadway Hits."

Plaques will go to the first three winners. The top ensemble will receive a trophy.

150 Gals Invade All-Male College

DUBUQUE, Iowa (AP) — An estimated 150-200 students from Clarke College, a girls' school, invaded the all-male Loras College campus Thursday night in celebration of Leap Year.

Both colleges are in Dubuque.

One Clarke girl said the demonstration was staged "for two major reasons: 1. We want dates, and 2. To serenade Loras in appreciation for Loras men."

Some of the Loras men tossed water-filled balloons from dormitory windows. Others rushed out to talk to the girls.

Bigger Budget Need Stressed

Dr. Milton Talbot, president of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, told the Big Spring Kiwanis Club some of the things the chamber is doing and plans to do in its efforts to make the city a better place to live and a more prosperous community in which to do business.

The chamber leader spoke at the club luncheon on Thursday and stressed the need the organization has for a bigger budget. He cited that the budget as now set up barely covers operating expenses of the chamber and leaves no margin for other enterprises which could be most helpful.

He suggested that membership in the Chamber of Commerce is an investment for a citizen of a town.

A membership campaign is now under way by the Chamber of Commerce and Roscoe Newell, president of the club recommended the members give membership serious thought if they are not already enrolled in the organization.

A certificate of commendation was presented to Col. George Franks, Webb AFB commander, who retired from the Air Force on Thursday. Franks, a long time and very active member of the Kiwanis Club here, is moving to Austin.

Newell made the presentation

Loading Zones To Be Discussed

Bill Coleman, chairman, has called an organizational meeting of the retail committee of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce for Thursday, March 7, at 5:30 p.m. in the C-C conference room.

Jack V. Smith, co-chairman of the Big Spring Traffic Commission, will meet with the committee to discuss unloading zones in the business areas. Bob Hickson will serve as coordinator between the committee and the Chamber directors.

Key Club Works On 'South Pacific'

A scene from "South Pacific," the rollicking "There's Nothing Like a Dame" will be the Key Club's presentation at the All-School Sing Saturday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium. Left to right, standing, are Mike Alexander, Tommy Polk, Joe Moss and Charles Lacy; kneeling, Bobby Polk and Marshall Horn.

TURNING YOURSELF ON

Two-Sided Insight Helps Bring Out Better Self

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The Big Spring Herald is sponsoring a Dale Carnegie Course as a means of retaining and developing leaders in the community. This article is one in a series written by Warren Quinlan, director of the Dale Carnegie Training Programs in West Texas.)

* * *

Emerson was accurate when he said "Fear defeats more people than any other one thing in the world."

When pain pictures and fear situations fill our mind, as they did in Joe's case, our entire personality usually goes through a violent change for the worse; and we turn ourself off.

At the time Joe was called on to make a simple report and briefly introduce a guest at a meeting. When he stood up, his brains literally sat down, and 32 pair of bulging balls started 'scaring' him down.

On the surface fear, and stage fright appeared to be Joe's problem. Underneath, however, the real villain was one-sided insight, because Joe had given himself a negative pep talk which convinced him that his report, introduction, and himself were inadequate.

Joe couldn't hide like an entertainer who fills a role and the thought of being on public display magnified the various limitations and depreciations he felt about himself. Later when he talked, his words were stilted and his front false.

Fortunately, Joe had the determination to look beyond fear, and understand the first invisible lesson of public speaking which is accurate two-sided insight by understanding our abilities as well as our shortcomings.

Soon Joe became aware that his fears were not unique, and that fear is nature's way of telling us to get busy. As Joe saw himself in the right perspective with two-sided insight, he stopped giving himself negative pep talks, and seeing himself as inadequate.

Last month when he talked his brains didn't sit down, because he was thinking with both sides of his brain — the one that lets him know what he can and cannot do, for better or worse.

Two-sided insight brings out our better self and turns us on.

Bridegroom Gets Giant Bargain

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Bridegroom Philip L. Metzen, 26, says he really got a bargain when he married Diana Zipkin, 20, in a Leap Year Day wedding Thursday. Technically it means he will have to buy an anniversary present only once every four years. Also, the bride paid the $6 for the marriage license.

"I didn't propose actually, but I would have if he hadn't," commented the bride.
