Investigators try to find out

Taxpayers paid sex bill?

WASHINGTON (AP) — House Speaker Carl Albert said today he will talk with Rep. Wayne Hays but wouldn't disclose whether he will pass along demands that Hays resign as chairman of two committees because he has been named in a congressional sex scandal.

"Give me some time to think about it and to talk to some of the other people involved," Albert told a news conference. Calls for Hays' resignation have come from several members of the House of Representatives.

The speaker said he doesn't believe a report that a Capitol hideaway assigned to him has been used for sex orgies. "If that's true, I've never heard of it, and I don't believe it," Albert said.

He said he has been too busy with a parliamentary delegation from Britain, which is loaning the United States a copy of the Magna Carta for the Bicentennial, to set up a meeting with Hays.

A source close to a federal probe of Elizabeth Ray's allegations that Hays put her on the payroll of one of his committees to be his mistress said investigators are trying to draw a fine line between immorality and illegality in assessing what they find.

The investigators are looking into additional allegations by Miss Ray that a number of congressmen besides Hays were involved in sexual relations with House employees.

"We have to weed out the personal and moral improprieties from those which involve violations of the law," the source said Monday, emphasizing: "We don't care who's sleeping with whom."

Requiring an employee to provide sex as part of her job could violate a law against misuse of federal funds.

"She (Miss Ray) has named other congressmen" involved in sexual activities with female House employees, the source said, "but the question remains: Did the taxpayer foot the bill?"

Albert said he thinks it is proper for the House ethics committee to look into the Hays matter, since Hays himself has asked for an investigation. The committee meets Wednesday to discuss how to proceed. The speaker was asked at a news conference whether the furor over Hays and his relationship with Miss Ray has besmirched the image of Congress. He replied: "Anything any member does — good, bad or indifferent — has an impact on the public image of Congress."

But Albert added: "That sort of affair has been going on ever since the human race began — ever since the House began."

With Congress returning today, there was expected to be new pressure on Hays to resign as chairman of the House Administration Committee and the Democratic Congressional Campaign Committee.

House Democratic Leader Thomas P. O'Neill has said he will tell Hays that some members of Congress think his problems may have a direct impact on their efforts to win re-election.

"The institutional integrity of the Congress is at stake," said Rep. Ken Hechler, D-W.Va. "The presumption of innocence, a fundamental American principle, must not blind us to the fact that serious charges appear to be unanswered and unexplained."

But Rep. James Corman, D-Calif., said simply: "I don't want to see Wayne get hung prematurely."

Meanwhile, it was learned that Rep. Mendel Davis, D-S.C., is being questioned in the investigation. Davis hired Miss Ray last summer on the recommendation of Hays, a Democrat from Ohio. Miss Ray said she did no work and was on the government payroll only as Hays' mistress.

Miss Ray is likely to appear this week before a federal grand jury investigating the matter. She has been granted immunity from prosecution to testify. Hays may be invited to testify voluntarily before the grand jury.

Miss Ray already has told federal investigators she knows of six other women whose congressional jobs involved providing sex to congressmen or their constituents, sources have said.

Prosecutors must determine two things: Whether the stories are true and whether they involve criminal activity.

"That women were passed around among congressmen doesn't necessarily interest us," said the source. "We'd only be interested if it involved violation of federal law, such as misuse of tax dollars."

Fire blackens U.S. forest

KING CITY, Calif. (AP) — Firefighters hacked through dense undergrowth today to try to cut a line around a brush and timber fire that already had charred more than 11,000 acres of the Los Padres National Forest.

The fire started Saturday at a campground about 20 miles southwest of King City and 70 miles south of Monterey. Firefighting officials estimated it would be contained by Wednesday night.

It is the first major brush fire in what officials think could be a disastrous season.

Only a third to half as much rain and snow as normal fell over much of California last winter. Reservoirs are low, creeks are drying up and forestland is dry.

He had earlier kicked out a cement and brick wall in the Johnson City jail last Feb. 6, after which he crawled through "a very small hole." He had been jailed in Johnson City on theft charges after he escaped from the Big Spring jail in November when he took a pointer out of the corporation courtroom, made it into a key, unlocked the jail and walked out.

After Love, who apparently hates jail, had escaped in Big Spring, he cut a swath through Mason, Travis, and Llano Counties, and was facing charges of theft in connection with vehicles, money, arms and food.

He was captured last Nov. 30 as he attempted to drive into Big Spring following a wild chase around FM 700 by an alert city patrolman. The officer was joined in the chase by a highway patrol unit.

reported by one source to be in a car stolen from San Angelo.

In their possession were items taken in burglaries, and Abilene police notified Detective Avery Falkner of the Big Spring police that the pair had admitted to at least one Big Spring burglary. "The burglary which they admitted to occurred here during the third week in May, so Love has apparently been back in Big Spring," according to Falkner.

Falkner was to leave this morning to contact Love for further questioning and also to check the items recovered in Abilene.

Love last escape was March 18 in Fredericksburg when he slipped out an air conditioning unit between 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. He had been jailed there after he was captured while attempting to steal a car.

Love, escape artist, captured in Abilene

By MARJ CARPENTER
Hershel Floyd Love, 21, who escaped from three Texas jails between November and March, was recaptured Saturday in Abilene, relaxing near a swimming pool at a motel.

Love was to be turned over to Sheriff Hugo Klaener of Fredericksburg. The Fredericksburg jail was the last jail from which Love fled during his series of escapades.

A lot of area lawmen thought that at this time Love was out of the country, but he apparently returned to roam around his old stomping grounds in the San Angelo, Big Spring and Abilene areas. There is evidence that he's been back in his old hometown.

Taken into custody with Love was Jackie Allison. Allison attempted to flee and was recaptured. They were

U.S. war dead honored

By The Associated Press
America has honored its war dead — from the Revolution 200 years ago to Vietnam just one year ago — with Memorial Day parades, speeches and flowerbedecked cemeteries.

"Although we thank God that no Americans are dying in battle today, we must renew our resolve to use both our moral leadership and our material strength to keep the peace," President Ford said after placing a red, white and blue wreath at the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier on Monday.

Cloudy skies and rain dampened the holiday in some areas of the nation. Two busloads of Army musicians and soldiers in Seattle refused to march in the rain for fear of soiling their uniforms.

The tone of the holiday ranged from the cemetery visits and the grim traffic death count of the long weekend to Boy Scouts in Davie, Fla., who canceled their parade rather than march with the Ku Klux Klan.

For many it was a time of somber memories. Survivors of the Polar Bears, the only Americans to fight on Russian soil in World War I, held a reunion in Detroit.

"Conditions were very severe... Sometimes it got to 55 degrees below zero," recalled Alfred Larsen, 81, president of the Polar Bears Association. About 300 members of the unit are still alive and all are over 80.

In Frankfort, N.Y., The Great American Horse Race began with a bang as militia men fired their muskets to signal the beginning of the 99-day cross-country chase for 102 riders. It ends in Sacramento, Calif.

Beaches in California were packed for the holiday, but the graveyard of patriots in Boston was mostly deserted. At Old Granary Burial Ground, few visited the graves of Local Chamber of Commerce signs up 70 new members

The annual Chamber of Commerce membership drive was completed the past weekend with a total of 70 new members being enlisted.

Ellis Britton, membership drive chairman, stated, "this year's campaign was one of the most successful in the history of the Chamber and the support that these new members have added will help to insure the continued success of the Chamber of Commerce program."

Thirteen teams, consisting of members of the Chamber's Ambassador Club, competed in the drive. The top team this year consisted of Al Stephens, Richard Atkins and Dub Moore. Twenty-six new members were secured by Stephens' team. Bob Moore was the top salesman with a total of 15 mem-

With the 5 p.m. deadline for absentee voting in the county clerk's office, 20 had voted absentee for the Saturday Democratic primary runoff.

Yet to be returned by mail were 55 ballots, County Clerk Margaret Ray said.

Mailed absentee ballots will be counted if they arrive before 1 p.m. election day. For those voting absentee in the office, today is the last day.

Bombs blast U.S. Army HQ in Germany

FRANKFURT, West Germany (AP) — Two bombs exploded at the headquarters of U.S. Army's V Corps in downtown Frankfurt today, injuring 16 persons, an Army spokesman said.

Most of the injured were American soldiers or dependents. Twelve were hospitalized at the Army's 97th General Hospital in Frankfurt, two of them in serious condition. Four persons were released after treatment, the spokesman said.

German and American authorities took two bombing suspects in custody at the scene, he said.

The bombs went off about 1:20 p.m. One exploded on the ground floor of the huge office building in a section housing a military laundry, post office and other shops for military dependents. The other went off in a stairwell off the lobby of the separate officer's club to the rear.

Witnesses reported windows and light fixtures along the corridors of the buildings were blasted out by the bombs.

Hundreds of occupants were evacuated as authorities searched for more possible bombs.

"I was lifted well off my chair when the explosion occurred, but the windows on our wing of the building remained undamaged," a U.S. Army spokeswoman said. "In fact I noticed no damage on the outside of the building. However, I didn't dare walk right around through all the parked cars."

Focalpoint

Q. Were the no-left turn signs properly put in at Main Street? If so, how does one properly get them removed?

A. They were put in properly. The city traffic engineer discussed it in advance with downtown merchants and chamber groups. It was brought before the traffic commission and approved by the city council. When the signs were first installed, tickets were not issued until drivers could get used to the new method.

To be properly removed, citizens concerned would need to contact Mrs. Susan Thomas, city traffic engineer at city hall and then make their plea to the traffic commission. This group would decide whether to take it back to the council for consideration.

Offbeat: 'Kids learn by example'

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — More than 30 sixth-grade students marched in a ragged picket line in front of Cholla Elementary School demanding a graduation dance teachers have denied them.

"Kids learn by example," Principal LeRoy Daly said Thursday. "They have seen their teachers picketing to solve their problems, and they think this is the way to do it."

Teachers last month picketed in a salary dispute. Cathy Sanchez, a leader of the protesters, said the students turned in a six-page petition last week demanding a dance but were refused.

"It's not fair," she said. "Last year the sixth graders got it. They didn't have to go this far."

One teacher, Jim Dewalt, said sixth-grade teachers decided against a dance this year because "the kids really didn't deserve it — they don't behave well in a large group."

Turnout said light

'Stop Carter' focus of voting

By The Associated Press
Rhode Island, South Dakota and Montana took their turns today in the 1976 presidential primary sweepstakes with the spotlight on the continuing effort to keep Jimmy Carter from the Democratic nomination.

The early voter turnout was light in Rhode Island and South Dakota, election officials said. Polls opened later in Montana.

The Republican race between President Ford and Ronald Reagan also continued in the three states, where the primaries provide a warmup for the big ones next week in California, Ohio and New Jersey.

There were 56 Democratic delegates and 59 on the Republican side at stake today, compared to 540 and 320 next week. Ford and Reagan in particular toned down their campaigns over the Memorial Day weekend in preparation for a bigger effort for next week.

But Sen. Frank Church of Idaho, Gov. Edmund G.

Brown Jr. of California and Rep. Morris K. Udall of Arizona all made substantial efforts to halt Carter, who went into today's contests with 883 of the 1,505 delegates needed for nomination. Udall, who is second, had 301.5.

Church and Brown concentrated on Rhode Island, which had 22 Democratic delegates at stake, although Brown could count only on write-in votes in the popular vote contest and uncommitted states in the separate delegate selection. Udall campaigned in South Dakota, which has 17 votes at the Democratic National Convention.

Church said he hoped to win in Rhode Island and added: "I feel a surge coming my way and I know I'm gaining strength." He said Carter's trip into the state was indicative of that.

But Carter said Monday he came to Rhode Island to see his wife, who was stumping the state, and in what he said was an effort to increase the turnout and thus increase his vote.

"Although the state is small, it's a key state as far as the timing of the primary is concerned," he said.

Udall said much the same thing about the timing of the South Dakota primary, where he hoped to score his first clear-cut victory in a year that has seen him finish second seven times, most often to Carter. Udall was endorsed by both South Dakota senators, George McGovern and James Abourezk, and said: "If I win in South Dakota I'll have the momentum to win in Ohio, and if I win there, we'll have an open Democratic convention."

Church, meanwhile, was expected to do well in Montana, next door to his home state of Idaho, where he won last week with over 80 per cent of the vote.

The Republicans award delegates according to a formula that rewards states that have voted for the party in the past, and smaller and more rural states often get bonuses from it. South Dakota and Montana have 20 delegates each and Rhode Island 19.

Neither Ford nor Reagan campaigned in any of the three, Reagan concentrating on his home state of California and Ford remaining in Washington after a trip to the West Coast last week.

Also on tap was a Senate primary in Mississippi, where Sen. John C. Stennis is seeking nomination to a sixth term. He was a heavy favorite over E. Michael Marks, a political unknown who campaigned in 82 counties.

In other political developments Monday:

—McGovern, the party's 1972 presidential nominee, fired two top staff aides who were identified as leaders of a movement to stop Carter.

McGovern said he wanted no part of such a movement and added: "The fact that I have endorsed Congressman Udall in the Massachusetts, Wisconsin, Michigan and South Dakota primaries does not mean I will permit my office to become involved in an 'Anybody but Carter' movement."

—Thomas B. Curtis, former chairman of the Federal Election Commission, said he is endorsing Reagan for president because of Ford's action in signing new FEC legislation which Curtis found faulty. Curtis said he would work for Reagan in his home state of Missouri, which he once represented in Congress.

—Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., said in Berkeley, Calif., he believes Sen. Edward Kennedy of Massachusetts would accept the presidential nomination "under the right circumstances" and that Kennedy would accept the No. 2 spot on a ticket headed by Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey.

Kennedy has said consistently he would not run for president this year.

—Rep. Tom Steed, D-Okla., a long-time friend and colleague of House Speaker Carl Albert, said Albert may have "had enough" of Washington and forecast he will not run for another term.

Albert was not available for comment, but has said previously he had not decided whether to run for re-election.

Miss West Texas Scholarship

Pageant in Odessa shapes up

ODESSA — The Miss West Texas Scholarship Pageant will climax the 29th annual Independence Day Festival July 13 here. The Odessa Jaycees are sponsoring the event.

Preliminary judging for the pageant will begin July 1 at 8 p.m. at the Ector County Coliseum with the finals to be July 3.

Seven scholarships will be awarded at the pageant, with $1,200 going to the winner. Each contestant will receive a $50 gift certificate.

In order to enter the pageant, the participant must never have been married; be between the ages of 18 and 28 before 1977; be a resident of West Texas for six months prior to July 4, 1976, or attend one of the area colleges; and be able to present a three-minute talent presentation.

Judge hearing pretrial

motions in Ballard case

SAN ANGELO — District Judge Earl Smith today began hearing pretrial motions for the new murder trial of Witmer Jean Ballard, 50.

Ballard was sentenced to death by an Alpine jury for the December 1970 shooting slaying of Steve Currie, a prominent Glasscock County rancher.

The sentence was later commuted to life imprisonment. Then, after first affirming the conviction, the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals ordered a new trial.

The murder case was transferred to San Angelo. Ballard also faces an indictment for robbery of Currie. This indictment was transferred to Lamesa.

R. A. Pachall

R. A. Pachall, 66, died Monday at 12:50 p.m. in a local hospital after a sudden heart attack.

All railroad men are honorary pallbearers.

Services are set for Wednesday at 10 a.m. at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, with the Rev. Carroll C. Kohl officiating.

Pachall was born Aug. 11, 1909 in Howard County, and was a retired engineer for T&P Railroad.

He went to work for T&P in 1944 and retired from there in 1974.

Mr. Pachall was a member of the St. Paul Lutheran Church, and had lived in Big Spring all of his life. He was also a member of the Locomotive Engineer of United Transportation Union.

He married Lily Harris on May 4, 1936 in Stanton.

Survivors include the widow of the home; one son, Richard Pachall, of Big Spring; two daughters, Eloise Wilkes and Mrs. Johnny (Peggy) Claus, both of Sacramento, Calif.; eight grandchildren; and five great-grandchildren.

Other survivors include two sisters, Mrs. Bertha Keune, of Patricia, and Mrs. Ella Wartz, of Alberta, Ala.; three brothers, Walter Pachall and Arthur Pachall, both of Big Spring, and Charlie Pachall of Bryan; and a number of nephews and nieces.

Police beat Bandit escapes with about $50

A bandit thought to have been carrying a gun robbed the 7-11 Store, 902 Willia, early this morning.

"Give me all the money you have in the cash register," demanded the clerk, then thug to the store's clerk around 1:20 a.m. today.

As the clerk emptied the cash register of $50 to $60, the thief's hand rested beneath the flap of his blue jean jacket, according to reports.

"No gun was ever shown, but with his hand under the coat, and because of his gestures there is reason to think the girl's (clerk's) life was in danger," said Big Spring Detective Avery Falkner, who worked through the early morning hours on the case.

After grabbing the money, the bandit ordered the clerk to "go to the storeroom and lie down, and stay there," said reports.

Witnesses claim to have seen him leave in a beige van, going south on Air Base Road.

Police are now looking for a white male, 25 to 30 years old, around six feet tall, weighing about 150 pounds, with ear-length, brown, curly hair, and dark eyes.

"We have contacted all area police to be on the lookout. We are also putting together a composite picture of his face, and are checking some possible fingerprints," said Falkner.

Burglars got away with over $3,000 in merchandise from the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. Store, 507 E. 3rd, over the weekend.

Employees of the store left to go home noon Saturday. At 2:30 a.m. Monday, it was discovered that robbers had entered the store through a broken bay window on its west side. From there, entry into the store showroom was made through a broken plate glass door.

Missing were four black and white televisions, a color television, a console stereo, three clock radios, a CB radio, a portable radio, a five-band radio, two air wrenches, four chrome wheels, and a digital calculator. Total value, including damage to the store, was estimated at $3,119.

In a wave of crime, six Big Spring homes and two autos were broken into over the weekend and Monday.

Burglars prowled through three bedrooms in the home of J. B. Langston, 1311 S. Johnson, taking approximately $280 worth of assorted items. The burglary is thought to have occurred between 2 and 3:45 p.m. Monday.

Barbara Fryar, 4001 Wesson, reported the loss of $52 in assorted coins from her home, 8:45 p.m., Monday. Suspected entry was through a storm door on the northeast side of the residence.

Both back and front doors of the J. B. Hardenean residence, 104 N.E. 9th, were found unlocked Monday afternoon. Further investigation showed that nine $1 bills had been removed from a chest of drawers in the front bedroom of the home. The burglary is thought to have taken place between 2 and 5 p.m., Monday.

Roy Phillips, 401 Pennsylvania, reported $50 damage, but nothing missing, following the entry of his home sometime Monday. According to accounts, robbers removed the air conditioner from its berth in the kitchen window of the home to gain entry. Drawers and desks in the residence had been ransacked.

Winona Mills, 410 Edwards, reported, 11:40 p.m. Monday, that the front door of her home had been pried open by housebreakers to gain entry. Missing were an $80 typewriter and $45 in cash.

At 2:51 p.m., Monday, Freddy Preston, 3621 Connally, reported the loss of a $70 ladies watch, and $20 in coins to burglars. According to reports, a tool was used to pry open the bathroom window on the north side of the home to gain entry.

Elva Biffar, 605 Johnson, lost an eight-track tape player and a cassette tape player, when burglars broke into her car. According to reports made 9:36 a.m. Monday, the tape players were valued at $225.

William H. Eysen Jr., 501 Highland, reported the burglary of a CB radio from his car, sometime between Friday afternoon and Sunday morning. The CB was valued at $330.

Three Big Springers were involved in hit-and-run mishaps Monday.

George B. Willborn, Route 1, collided with an unidentified vehicle, 10:30 a.m. Monday, at 1400 E. 4th.

Robert Eugene Taylor, Barcelona Apartments, collided with an unidentified vehicle, 11:35 a.m. Monday, on the 500 block of Westover.

Peggy Rubio, 204 N.W. 2nd, collided with an unidentified vehicle, 1:48 p.m. Monday, in the parking lot of the Safeway Store on Birdwell.

Both drivers were identified in a mishap on the 600 block of Caylor 7:32 p.m. Monday. Lisa Gautreaux, 406 1/2 Douglas, collided with a parked car belonging to Allen Murphy, 600 Caylor.

National Security Seminar 'frightening,' says Choate

"The National Security Seminar is a frightening thing," Mayor Wade Choate, one of 75 persons in the United States invited to attend, said here today.

Mayor Choate was selected by Webb Air Force Base to represent Big Spring at the seminar at Maxwell AFB in Alabama.

Purpose of the seminar is to increase understanding of national security problems confronting the United States. Each person participating is pledged not to directly quote speakers at the seminar due to national security.

"However," Choate stated here this morning, "everybody there knew that we are putting ourselves in a rather precarious position with our cutbacks in defense."

"One thing that was common knowledge was that our navy is smaller than it was before Pearl Harbor. We also are dragging behind Russia in many other strategic services. It is really frightening."

The seminar is held at the conclusion of a full year's training for selected colonels and lieutenant colonels who learn all about American defenses and decisions which must be made in regard to nuclear defense, decisions in the Pentagon and decisions made by the American military all over the world.

One of the speakers was the Ambassador to Germany. Each workshop had 12 military and three civilian members during the week-long seminar.

Mayor Choate said that the group probed many possibilities in the spectrum of war and defense.

World problems double

VANCOUVER, Canada (AP) — The world's population will double in the next 30 years, intensifying problems from poverty to pollution, United Nations Secretary-General Kurt Waldheim says. Waldheim, at the opening session Monday of Habitat, the U.N. World Conference on Human Settlements, said at least one-third of the urban dwellers in developing countries now live in slums. He said the doubling of population will increase stresses that nations face in poverty, unemployment, housing shortage, lack of sanitation, pollution and municipal financing.

Syrian troops swarm

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Four thousand more Syrian troops have crossed into Lebanon with 85 tanks to rescue three Christian towns besieged by Moslem forces, Beirut newspapers reported today. The reports said a regiment of 2,000 Syrians with 60 Soviet T62 and T54 tanks rolled into the Akkar region of northern Lebanon Monday night to lift the siege on the towns of Qibyat and Andket.

Elderly numbers double

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's elderly population has almost doubled in the last quarter of a century, and all signs indicate that by the early part of the next century, it will nearly double again, the government reports. A new Census Bureau study of the nation's elderly and aging population says there are now 22.4 million persons 65 or over in the country, forming 10.5 per cent of the population. In 1950 there were 12.4 million persons 65 and older, comprising 8.1 per cent of the population.

Hays greeted warmly

BANNOCK, Ohio (AP) — It was a scene repeated in hundreds of small towns across the country on Memorial Day. Speeches from a decorated stand; a congressman there to shake hands with the homefolks. But in this town of 350 in eastern Ohio the congressman was Wayne Hays. The 65-year-old congressman enveloped in scandal was there with his 35-year-old bride, Pat, telling residents how he looks forward each weekend to his return home. The Ohio Democrat got warm greetings from constituents Monday when he returned to dedicate a war memorial.

Paper use reduction

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some government agencies are reducing their public questionnaires in response to White House orders to cut such paperwork but other agencies actually have increased the number of their forms. About 50 departments and agencies are involved in the White House campaign to reduce public paperwork 10 per cent by June 30. Last Oct. 31, these units were regularly circulating 5,133 such forms. The goal by June 30 is to reduce them to 4,637. But a recent White House report said that as of March 31 the reports still totaled 5,012, down only 2.7 per cent from last fall. New reports keep cropping up each month.

Criminal law bill nixed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Bill S1, the massive attempt to overhaul and codify federal criminal law, is dead for this session of Congress because of a deadlock between liberals and conservatives over key issues. This is the conclusion of the bill's chief sponsors, Sens. John McClellan, D-Ark., and Roman Hruska, R-Neb., and others involved in the long fight over the measure.

Federal agencies still discriminate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite a legal mandate to wipe out discrimination in home loans, three of the four federal agencies that regulate mortgage lenders have never even issued antidiscrimination regulations, the Senate Banking Committee says.

And "despite evidence that discrimination is widespread," none of them has ever found a single institution guilty of discrimination, the panel reported Monday.

Committee Chairman William Proxmire, D-Wis., called the agencies' record "a disgrace" and charged them with "eight years of outrageous inaction" since Congress passed the Fair Housing Act in 1968.

Burial Thursday for Martha Mitchell

PINE BLUFF, Ark. (AP) — Martha Mitchell, who died alone and in debt in a New York hospital Monday, will be buried Thursday in this Arkansas River town where she spent her youth as a Southern belle with never enough dances for the boys.

"When I was young you measured a girl's popularity by the number of times boys cut in for the next turn to dance with her," said James W. Leslie of Pine Bluff, a retired writer and historian. "She was no wallflower, if you know what I mean."

But Mrs. Mitchell, the estranged wife of former Atty. Gen. John M. Mitchell, was accompanied only by her doctor when she died of a rare form of bone cancer.

Mitchell and the couple's two children, a son and a daughter, have told the mortuary that they will attend the funeral. They are expected to arrive Wednesday.

"She loved the limelight," said her long-time friend and confidant, S. Ray West Jr. of Pine Bluff.

Mrs. Mitchell, the gadfly who created some of the most turbulent times in recent memory, began her trek to the nation's capital from this southeast Arkansas community where she was born just over 57 years ago.

"She was a Southern belle and was raised with all the protection and benefits a well-to-do family can offer," West said in an interview.

Her family's wealth stemmed from her grandfathers' success in the wholesale grocery business.

Her father was a successful cotton broker and her mother a speech teacher. Her family lived in an impressive two-story white colonial mansion built by her grandfather in 1895 in the wealthy, established section of town.

Leslie said Mrs. Mitchell's outspokenness was not something she developed late in life. "Martha talked a lot, and people (in Pine Bluff) thought when she got to Washington and continued talking that it was just in her nature," Leslie said.

Performing on stage was a life-long desire Mrs. Mitchell never realized, West said. He added that her stay in Washington probably was the closest she ever got to center stage.

"Going to Washington was like being thrown to the wolves," West said. "Every time she sneezed the press printed it. She loved the attention."

general nonenforcement policy, serious patterns of mortgage-loan discrimination still exist. Surveys have shown that minority loan applicants with the same credit-worthiness as other applicants are routinely rejected at much higher rates.

The nonenforcement policy has denied millions of minority Americans "the one clear opportunity to amass wealth available to people of modest means — home ownership," Proxmire said.

The four agencies regulate lending institutions that hold $125 billion worth of mortgages on homes built for one to four families.

The committee said none of the agencies keeps records that would facilitate detection of discriminatory lending practices. None has ever referred a discrimination complaint to the Justice Department, or filed a "cease and desist order" against an offending lender," it said.

Col. Owens ranks with elite

Webb Air Force Base has been lucky enough to have had a number of top flight wing commanders throughout the years.

Among the best of them is Col. Robert A. Owens, who will be leaving Big Spring soon for a new assignment in California.

I know Col. Owens has been among the best to command the 78th Flying Training Wing at Webb because I have heard so many people say so.

ESPECIALLY SIGNIFICANT is the praise of him that I have heard from so many of the men and women who work in his command. When that many employees like the boss, he must be some guy.

Under Col. Owens' guidance, Webb has been at the top or very close to the top in performance for the Air Training Command. The number of flying hours have been the highest in the command, and the cost of training pilots has been the lowest.

As was noted at last week's Century Club reception and dinner honoring Col. Owens and his wife, Carvel, the proclamation presented by Mayor Wade Choate concerning the commander's record here is not only just a testimonial to the man, but it would make a great statement from Big Spring to the Air Force concerning Webb.

The dinner, held last Thursday at the Big Spring Country Club, was very well attended, another indication of how this community appreciates Col. Owens.

Mayor Choate has proclaimed June 8 as "Col. Robert A. Owens Day" in Big Spring. On that day, Col. Owens will step down from the wing's command.

COL. ROBERT OWENS

JIMMY TAYLOR, THE dinner's emcee and co-chairman of the Century Club's hospitality committee, noted that the community is most fortunate in that it already knows and respects Col. Owens' successor, Col. Harry A. Spannaus, who is deputy commander for maintenance and who will assume command of the wing in the June 8 ceremonies.

Taylor added that the community has come to accept the Air Force way of life which brings close friendships and associations while even with the knowledge that every few years these friends will be moving away.

This town wishes the best for Col. Owens and his family in their new tasks. They have contributed far more to this community than it is able to give them in return.

TVA gaffe

Robert Novak

WASHINGTON — Ronald Reagan's astounding descent into the Tennessee Valley Authority (TVA) quagmire was no mindless blunder but the result of careful miscalculations by both candidate and staff — a fact that attaches broad national significance to his disappointing performance in the mid-South Tuesday.

WHEN REAGAN arrived in Knoxville May 21, he was armed with advice from an aide that attacking the no longer popular TVA is good politics in Tennessee today. Thus, when Reagan talked about selling the TVA to private enterprise, he was not merely blurring out a knee-jerk conservative reaction but demonstrating inadequate staff work, political naivete and insufficient candidate discipline.

That is why Reagan's TVA gaffe could be more damaging to him in the long run than in the short run. The short run is bad enough, turning a sure Tennessee win into a cliffhanger and costing him needed delegates there and probably in neighboring Kentucky as well. The long-run consequence: deepened doubt by Republican politicians over Reagan's prospective performance as nominee for President.

What makes this so critical to Reagan is the task awaiting him if he wins the winner-take-all California primary June 8 and then enters a summer-long contest for delegates with President Ford. Reagan strategist John Sears intends to peel away informally committed Ford delegates in New York and Pennsylvania, but arguments from the Ford campaign that Reagan would re-enact the Goldwater debacle of 1964 are given credence by a candidate who follows Barry Goldwater's 12-year-old trail to Knoxville to sell the TVA.

In short, delegates pondering whether Reagan might be a stronger and better nominee than the appointed President cannot be blamed for asking themselves this question: having partially repeated Goldwater's follies on Social Security and the TVA, could Reagan be trusted not to plunge himself into the political abyss by loose talk about nuclear arms?

THE FATAL TVA advice to Reagan stemmed from a staffer's incorrect interpretation of the successful campaign for Congress last November by Democrat Clifford Allen, who launched a venomous attack on TVA's rising utility rates. Here, Reagan was advised, was a happy marriage between his philosophical inclinations and political expediency.

That conclusion was wrong on two counts. First, Allen attacked the TVA's rates without challenging its sacrosanct status as a publicly owned utility, as Reagan did. Second, Allen was campaigning in middle Tennessee — not eastern Tennessee, the TVA heartland. In fact, Reagan ran remarkably well in middle Tennessee. It was East Tennessee, saturated by late paid media attacks on Reagan's TVA stand, that delivered big majorities for Mr. Ford.

The political miscalculation reflects the absence of street-wise political old pros at Reagan's elbow. One seasoned Reagan aide who might have finessed the folly is Lyn Nofziger, who has been in Los Angeles running the California campaign the past two months and will not rejoin the Reagan entourage until June 9.

Lack of form can harm pitcher

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Two years ago my 12-year-old son broke his arm while pitching in baseball. It was called a stress break.

For a while every time he pitched his arm felt sore. It was healed nicely, and now, at 14, he is wondering if he can pitch again. How do you feel about this? — Mrs. J.S.

A fracture in a youngster's arm should be well healed after two years. The soreness he had could have been in the muscles. It didn't have to be related to the bone.

A stress fracture occurs when, as in your son's case, the arm cannot stand the constant strain of vigorous use.

I believe most of these injuries are not so much due to the actual strain of throwing as to improper use of the arm.

Watch the professional pitchers. You will note that the arm is only a part of the total picture in throwing. There is a graceful use of the entire body. Youngsters often do not have enough coordination to accomplish this. As a result the pitching arm bears most of the burden.

If your son is going to return to pitching, he should understand this.

Are you having a gall bladder problem? To find out how the gall bladder works and what kinds of trouble to look for, read Dr. Thosteson's booklet, "You and Your Gall Bladder." Write him in care of WASHINGTON — More than 200 pounds of highly enriched uranium, suitable for manufacturing bombs, disappeared from a Pennsylvania defense plant in the mid-1960s. No one is sure where it went.

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission has admitted only that 50 pounds of uranium disappeared. But secret documents reveal the loss was more than four times that amount.

It has been whispered in nuclear circles that the uranium was smuggled out of the country to help the Chinese or the Israelis detonate their first nuclear bombs. But this is pure speculation.

THE FACT is that no one knows what happened to the missing uranium. This raises some urgent questions about nuclear safeguards. An investigation by Rep. John Dingell, D-Mich., for example, has revealed that the safeguard-reporting system for nuclear facilities is totally inadequate.

The Nuclear Regulatory Commission is supposed to keep track of the plutonium and bomb-grade uranium in this country. But no one monitors the NRC to make sure its figures are right.

NRC officials admit, for example, that they would not disclose the disappearance of plutonium from a nuclear plant — not even to Congress. It would be too risky, they claim. For an extortionist might learn how much plutonium was missing and use the figure in a phony blackmail attempt.

Not only does the NRC withhold nuclear information from Congress, but it cannot be sure the information is correct in the first place. For the Herald, for a copy, enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents.

Uranium disappears

NRC relies wholly on private companies to tell it whether plutonium is missing from their atomic plants.

The companies, not wishing to create trouble for themselves, are not always eager to disclose that they have lost some plutonium. At the Nuclear Fuel Services plant in Tennessee, for example, investigators alleged that the company was juggling its plutonium figures. The company has denied the charges, and the NRC is now investigating.

Even if the top corporate brass recognized the urgency of reporting the disappearance of plutonium at once, their subordinates are prepared, of course, at the lower levels.

On top of all these problems, physical security at many nuclear plants is less than stringent. At the Kerr-McGee plant in Oklahoma, for example, one of the guards turned out to be a convicted felon working under an alias.

The same plant produced the first unknown case of plutonium smuggling. Plutonium was found in the apartment of Karen Silkwood, a Kerr-McGee employee. She was killed in an auto accident while on her way to discuss the lax Kerr-McGee safeguards with a reporter.

It wasn't until Ms. Silkwood's untimely death that Kerr-McGee officials discovered where some of their plutonium had disappeared. Earlier, they had shut down the plant twice because of the large amount of plutonium that had turned up missing. This attitude could lead to a national disaster.

Millions of eyes watered when "Brian's Song" first aired on TV several years ago with good reason, it was a good movie.

In fact, next to "The Diary of Miss Jane Pittman," it is the best made-for-TV movie yet.

But all is not well with the makers of that movie.

JOY PICCOLO O'CONNELL, widow of former Chicago Bear halfback Brian Piccolo, whom the movie is about, is consulting with her attorney about a lawsuit against Screen Gems, producers.

She said the producers promised a $25,000 donation to the Brian Piccolo Cancer Fund, which has never materialized as payment for her husband's story.

The movie was about Piccolo and Gale Sayers, both running backs for the Chicago Bears, who first competed for a starting position then became roommates and friends. The inter-racial friendship continued when Piccolo became too ill to play, and later died of cancer.

In New York City, a 1,100-room hotel has only eight tenants, with a staff of 13.

Why? Because the management wants to close the hotel, but can't move the tenants out because of rent control laws. They can't get lodging anywhere else for the $3 per day fee they are paying.

That rent includes maid service, maintenance and an elevator operator.

She got a job

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — "Hello Mummy, it's Betsy. I just got a job in Washington."

"That's wonderful. What are you going to do?"

"I'm going to work for a congressman on his Oversight Committee."

"What is the Oversight Committee?"

"I'M NOT really sure. It's something hush hush, because the congressman said if I took the job I'd have to keep my eyes shut and my mouth closed."

"That's interesting. What exactly will you be doing for the committee?"

"He said he couldn't tell me in the office, but he'd come over to the apartment tonight and spell out my duties. He said I'd enjoy them every much."

"Did he ask you if you could take shorthand or type?"

"No, Mummy, that's the wonderful thing about the job. He said most of my work would be done outside the office."

"It sounds a little strange."

"It's a dream position, Mummy. I can go to the office when I want to and I can stay home if I wish. And it pays $14,000 a year."

"You're going to make $14,000 a year?"

"Yes, Mummy. The congressman said the Oversight Committee is one of the most important in the House of Representatives, and we have to see that nobody does anything wrong."

"I'M STILL not clear, Betsy, as to what you're expected to do. After all, although you're very pretty, you really aren't too well qualified to work for a congressional committee."

"Don't worry, Mummy, I didn't lie to get the job. I told the congressman the truth. I said I couldn't spell and I couldn't add and I was terrible at filing, but he just laughed and said there were enough girls on his committee to do that sort of thing. What he had in mind for me was something none of the other girls could do."

"And what exactly is that?"

"He said he'd tell me tonight. He's taking me to dinner. Isn't it won-

Secretary of State Henry Kissinger could use some lessons on how to be discrete.

This month, he slipped away from a Norwegian dinner for NATO delegates to visit Norwegian actress Liv Ullmann, according to an Oslo newspaper.

He spent two hours in her apartment, but six security men remained stationed outside the door.

A FEW THOUGHTS while preparing to represent the county Democrats as one of the at-large delegates to the state convention:

The recent infringements on Jimmy Carter's winning ways by Frank Church and Jerry Brown and the constant doggedness of Morris Udall makes the decision of who to back at the convention increasingly hard to make.

Although I'm uncommitted, I leaned toward voting for Carter until I found out that George Wallace may put his delegates in Carter's camp.

Carter's bandwagon just isn't big enough for them and me.

Keep packing off your back

Moving can be a trial, whether its long distance or short, unless adequate preparation is made beforehand. Since your packing will depend heavily on how you move, take time to consider what means will be best. The alternatives include van lines, rental equipment, your own transportation and liquidation. One of the first preparations should be a list of detailing your possessions, especially if the moving is to be done by a commercial van. Lost articles are difficult to recover unless an account is made of them, since they are often not noticed in the confusion for several days. Moving is also a good time for a little spring cleaning and will spare you the added difficulty of moving things that you do not want or need. Also, get a change-of-address card from the post office and fill it out preferably a week in advance if you know where the new address will be. This can save a lot of lost letters and late bills. If children or dogs are involved, it is generally best to put them up with a friend or relative if possible. Both tend to add to the confusion without sharing the load unless you happen to own a well-trained retriever. Your preparation list will come in handy to help you remember the obvious which, for that reason, it often forgotten. According to moving experts, some of the major no-no's are these: Don't pack breakables such as china, glassware, pictures and mirrors in dresser drawers. Don't overload dresser drawers with linens, sheets or bedspreads. Don't remove china, glassware, utensils or tableware from cabinets if the mover is to do the packing. Don't pack flammable articles for shipment in the moving van. Drain power movers and other gasoline powered equipment. Don't plan on including frozen food items or plants in your shipment. One very good way to pack plants is to wrap them in either a plastic or paper bag, water it well and secure it with string or wire. This will serve as a temporary terrarium and will prevent them from being broken off or uprooted.

Personal letter relieves friend

DEAR ABBY: Around this time last year I wrote to you telling you that I was a very unhappy 12-year-old adopted, diabetic girl whose parents and teachers were always on my back. You wrote back with lots of suggestions and told me to try to see things their way. I didn't believe a word you wrote, and I got into big trouble at school. It got harder and harder for me to live with myself anymore, so I went to talk to my best friend's mother, and she helped me see that everything you wrote to me was 100 per cent true. Then I read your letter over and over again, and after a while it sunk in. I changed myself just in time to save my reputation and get back with all my friends, and, Abby, your letter was the cause of it all. Thank you! I couldn't have done it without you. Now I'm a better person and can talk to my parents, which I couldn't do last year. Abby, please put this in your column because I'm sure a lot of teenagers don't realize that you write personal answers to those who send stamped, addressed envelopes.

All my love,

M.L. IN BARSTOW, CALIF.

DEAR M.: I am pleased to know that my letter helped you to get it all together, but you deserve more credit than I do. I only offered suggestions. YOU followed through. God bless you, honey.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently moved into a furnished apartment. We have no children, but we have two small dogs that we love very much.

At first when we went out, we left the dogs alone in the apartment, and they ripped up everything they could get their little paws on. They simply ruined the furniture and rugs!

After we saw the damage our dogs had done, we took to locking them up in the bathroom, but, Abby, this upsets them so much, it just breaks my heart. I can't blame them. I know I wouldn't want to be locked in a tiny bathroom for five hours, would you?

Is there any other solution? We don't have anyone who can watch the dogs when we go out. Please suggest something.

LOVES MY DOGS

DEAR LOVES: If you can't train your dogs to refrain from tearing up their surroundings when left alone, rather than submit them to cruel and unusual confinement, take them with you or find them another home. Dogs have rights, too.

DEAR ABBY: I am not keen on your approving traditional white weddings for non-virgin brides just because it "probably was their heart's desire."

When I hurriedly arranged a church wedding for my 18-year-old daughter who had confessed that she was three-months pregnant, I told her that if she insisted on wearing a wedding veil, I would not attend her wedding. She wore the white wedding gown, carried a bridal bouquet and had her hair done up with flowers and ribbons instead of a veil.

I am not sure how many knew that she was pregnant at her wedding but when the baby arrived six-months later no remarks were made.

RICHMOND MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Under the circumstances, I imagine some would have disapproved of her wearing the white gown. For my part, she could have worn the veil as well.

Rebekah's, Oddfellows

All-day workshop conducted

The Oddfellows and Rebekahs held an all-day workshop, rally and banquet Saturday, May 29 in the Oddfellows Hall here.

Marguerite Gailey, mistress of ceremonies, gave a speech titled "The 'Are Nows' and 'Has Beens'" and introduced special guests to the meetings.

Among the guests introduced were Robert Wilson, chosen as U. N. Tour Director, P. H. McClendon, grand secretary, deputy grand master J. O. Duncan, grand master H. O. Trent, Betty Reed, treasurer, Nettie Morris, secretary, Zora Peddycord, president, Earl Wilson, board of directors and vice president, H. T. Shuster, board of directors, Georgia Ford, board of directors and Jessie Blakney, secretary of L. A. P. M.

A humorous short skit was given by the Odessa Rebekahs, chapter 68.

Rev. Homer Hess, Trinity Baptist Church sang "One Day At A Time", "My God And I" and "It's The Real Thing" while accompanying himself on the accordion.

Prizes were given at the rally for the districts with the most attendance. First place for the Rebekahs attendance was won by the Big Spring district. Lila Holland accepted the cup. The second place cup was presented to Rhodalee Hatten for the Odessa district.

First place for the Oddfellows carried a plaque and was presented to Earl Wilson for the Big Spring district. Amarillo and Odessa tied for second place and were presented plaques. Eight door prizes were also presented.

The regional rally chose five topics to discuss: finances, how to enter the homes, the state of the order and improvements needed, how to promote our youth and expansion and development.

Randy Branaugh of the Pasadena Lodge and grand son of Earl Wilson, and Sandra Booth of Big Spring were chosen at the banquet to accompany the U. N. Tour. The banquet seated approximately 120 people.

Shhhh. We want to get kind of personal. Need a little money? Like maybe to get the kids' teeth fixed, or to pay off a couple of bills, or for one of those it's none-of-our-business-what-I-do-with-the-money things or to sneak off to the islands. Well, we have the money to loan you. As a matter of fact, between now and June 30, we'll loan you money for just about anything. Home loans, home improvement loans, and loans for cars, boats and all kinds of personal things. Before this, you couldn't get all these kinds of loans just anywhere. Now, we've fixed it so you can. There's an idea that's worth a million. Because we're loan specialists, too.

Traffic ups death toll

By The Associated Press

Accidents on streets and highways contributed heavily to a late upsurge in Texas violent deaths during the long Memorial Day weekend.

Reports tabulated by The Associated Press listed 46 fatalities between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday. That figure included 27 in traffic, nine drownings and seven homicides, with miscellaneous causes accounting for the injured.

These were among the latest victims:

Emmett Oliver Carlow, 80, of Douglassville, died Monday afternoon when his car took a broadside hit by a heavy truck on highway 59 just north of Atlanta. The driver of the truck, Charles E. Sneed, 28, of Memphis, Tenn., was injured.

Fernando Ramos, 17, of Laredo died Monday in a head-on collision just south of that city.

Cleo Lewis of Dallas drowned Sunday in Caney Creek as the boat in which he was riding capsized.

Billy Frank Jeffries, 36, of Dallas drowned Sunday while swimming beside a boat in Lake Ray Hubbard.

Israel D. Clay, 24, of Houston drowned Monday in a canal at China, west of Beaumont, while swimming with relatives.

Lovely names spell death

By The Associated Press

Anna, Belle, Candice, Dottie, Emmy, Francis, etc.

Lovely names that could spell misery and even death for Texans if the still unborn hurricanes for which they are designed ever reach the Texas coast between today—the start of the hurricane season—and November.

Texas hurricane trackers, however, do not expect to go through the entire list of alphabetical names already selected for the hurricanes. Only about eight to ten tropical storms develop into hurricanes every year in the Caribbean.

The word hurricane comes from the names the Spaniards heard the Carib Indians use to describe the storms and winds in the area.

The Texas Gulf Coast seems to see its worst storms later in the season, in August and September. The most recent hurricane to hit the Texas Coast was Fern which slammed into the coastal bend area in September, 1971. Three persons were killed and damages were estimated at $30 million.

Last autumn hurricane Caroline brought some rough weather to the lower Texas Coast before hitting a sparsely populated area in northeastern Mexico.

The worst natural disaster in U.S. history was the great hurricane that struck Galveston in September 1900 when at least 6,000 persons were killed as storm tides of 15 feet or more inundated the island.

Disaster experts have warned that in spite of modern warning weather systems, loss of life could be very heavy in Texas should a major hurricane strike.

This, they said, is because of increased coastal population, housing that was not built to withstand such storms and land subsidence in Southeast Texas that has made coastal residents vulnerable to high tides and flooding.

BRIGHTEN THE CORNER... with a lamp from M&E

Lighting can brighten your home; see M&E

M&E Lighting has the very latest in lighting appointments. The lighting center, located at 1009 W. 4th, not only has lighting for a new home or a remodeled home, but also has a beautiful selection of lamps.

A lamp can really answer a lot of lighting problems in a home when correctly placed. Not only is it beautiful but it also adds a real bright spot to an otherwise dull room.

M&E Center has experts on lighting and Travis Brackeen will be glad to assist you in planning the lighting and lighting fixtures in your home. They will help plan for a new house or completely revamp an old one.

However, they also invite you to drop around and discover just how much can be done with lamps. They have lamps for the living room and for the den, the bedroom and the kitchen.

Next time, you are planning to add a few appointments around your home, give some real thought to the lighting. Is there sufficient light for your children to study? Is there sufficient light for the seamstress in your home?

Is there correct light for enjoyment of the family meals? Do you have a subdued light available for party hours?

Lighting does make a difference in a home and M&E Lighting Center will be glad to talk to you about it. Telephone 267-6751 for more information.

Village bitter on Memorial Day

Time hasn't healed wounds

BEALLSVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Time has not been merciful on Earl Pittman. It hasn't healed the emotional wounds of Vietnam.

The bitterness of this picturesque village of 500 in the meadows of southern Ohio brought nationwide attention during the height of the Vietnam War. Seven of its young men, all graduates of the same high school, died during the 10-year conflict. It was a high price for such a small town to pay.

One of those who died was Earl Pittman's son, Jack, 20, his only child.

On Monday, American Legion Post 768 gave a Memorial Day service and hardly anyone came. The service was held at a stone memorial at the face of the graveyard which was built only after the young men began dying in Vietnam.

"Where was it at?" asked the 55-year-old Pittman. "I didn't know about it."

The day before, on Sunday, the 30th of May, the traditional Memorial Day for years, Pittman put flowers on his son's grave.

"That's about all I could do," he said.

It's been 10 years since his son died, and a year since Vietnam fell to the Communists.

"It's hard to forget," he said. "My only child. Yes, I'm bitter. Anybody would be. I feel he lost his life for nothing. We turned around and gave it all back to them. We might as well have given it to them to begin with."

Pittman said he also resents the 130,000 Vietnamese refugees who fled to the United States.

"I don't think they should have come," he said. "There's not enough work now, let alone bringing them here."

Pittman worked at an aluminum plant here. He sold his farm because he couldn't work and take care of it at the same time. But more than a year ago he was laid off.

There are no Vietnamese refugees here. The nearest are 20 miles away and Pittman read in a newspaper that one of them was working at an auto agency in neighboring Barnesville.

"They could give work to our own people instead of them," he said.

Ken Rucker, 50, who has been disabled since 1969, lost his boy, Richard, 21. He was one of those who did attend the service and participated as a member of the post's squad that gave a 21-gun salute.

"I just thought about my son," he said. "He doesn't even have a flag on his grave."

Even Mayor Elmer Howell and Village Council President Ollis Thornberry were unaware there was a Memorial Day service.

Terry Hickman of the American Legion post said there was a breakdown in communications and the notice of the service didn't get into the local newspaper.

"I just think a lot of people really want to forget about Vietnam," Hickman said. "There are still a lot of bitter people. The feeling here was that it was a political war to begin with and they were just glad to get out. A lot of people were fed up."

Midwesterners heavier area

NEW YORK (AP) — Are Midwesterners heavier? They are according to figures compiled by the Diet Workshop, a group weight control program.

New members of sample classes in the Midwest had an average 56.9 pounds to lose, while the averages were 46.2 pounds for the East, 45.8 pounds for the South, and 42.7 pounds for the West.

The survey was based on 944 people with an average of 47.9 pounds to shed.

Hope received an Honorary Fellowship to the college and was the commencement speaker. Ceremony was held at Princeton University Chapel.

Bicentennial event

San Antonio attorney will speak at C City

COLORADO CITY — The Mitchell County Bicentennial Commission has arranged for William Robert Smith, a prominent San Antonio attorney, to deliver the principal address during its Bicentennial celebration in the new, air-conditioned Mitchell County auditorium on Saturday, July 3, at 3 p.m.

The speaker, who was born in Colorado City, is a son of the late W. R. Smith, an eminent Colorado City lawyer, one of our early District Judges, Congressman from this District and later a Federal District Judge at El Paso.

Smith's address will not be the usual flag-waving oration; but, on the contrary, will delve deeply into and feature our rich historical heritage, beginning with the earliest Spanish explorers who crossed or came very near what was to become Mitchell County, down through the infrequent occupancy of portions thereof by the Comanche and Kiowa Indians.

He also will recall battles with the Indians fought on Mitchell County soil, Kiowa Chief Lone Wolf, the era during which Colorado City was known as and commonly called "The Cattleman's Capital," and on down to the end of 1918, which is his shut-off point. During his address, Smith will honor and pay homage to those who, prior to that time, made monumental contributions to the growth and general welfare of our nation, county and city.

Women's hospital to open

HOUSTON (AP) — A 194-bed hospital designed solely for the care of women, one of the first such facilities in the South, will open officially today in Houston.

The hospital, on a 9.7-acre tract near the Texas Medical Center, is owned by 34 Houston physicians who specialize in the medical care of women.

The four-story, 102,000-square-foot building was built at a cost of $5.7 million. James E. Pears, hospital administrator, said the facility will provide a broad range of medical care, including obstetrics, gynecology, endocrine, infertility, female urology and plastic surgery.

Surgery units include four major operating rooms, a minor surgery room, and recovery rooms. All rooms are equipped to monitor patients for vital signs while under anesthetic and during surgery.

The hospital also has eight private labor rooms with individual fetal monitoring systems, three delivery rooms with neonatal intensive care units and a post delivery recovery room.

'The Devil in Miss Jones' 'There's big money in porno' at UT

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Dirty movies are big money on the University of Texas campus and some of it may be for private gain, the Austin American-Statesman said Monday.

After a ruling by District Court Judge Jim Myers last summer cleared the way for showing of pornographic films, various student organizations, some of them of nebulous origin, have cashed in on the hard-core pornography.

UT-Austin may be the only college campus in the state where X-rated movies are allowed, the American-Statesman said.

In recent months campus groups have shown "Deep Throat," "Behind the Green Door," and "The Devil in Miss Jones" to large audiences. Two auditoriums, Batts and Burdine halls, are used largely by the student groups.

"There's big money in porno," Richard Sheir, one of the organizers of University Students for Nixon-Agnew and Now Reagan, a satirical group which was the first to crash in with its "The Best of the Second New York Erotic Film Festival."

Skip Slyfield, student body vice president, told the American-Statesman, said "We need the money to meet costs. None of us like to show that crap."

The American-Statesman said, "There have been some suspicions that some groups are simply loose amalgamations of individuals pocketing the film proceeds instead of directing them to any genuine organizational benefit."

"That's the sort of concern we have," David McClintock, director of student activities, told the newspaper.

However, changes will be made this fall, the American-Statesman said, because of a new UT policy that only the student government and other university agencies will be authorized to show films on campus. Income will not only go to the sponsoring group but to all student organizations, McClintock said.

"In the past, a small number of student organizations have been able to use films to make money," McClintock said. "Some organizations seemed not to have any other purpose."

Some of the organizations that have shown pornographic movies this year included the Donna Reed Fan Club, Students for Nixon-Agnew, My Austin Renaissance Society (MARS), and Students for a Democratic Media, the newspaper said. Admission prices usually range from $1.25 to $2 per person.

Steve Bearden, who manages the student government's film program, told the American-Statesman that when the student government showed the film "Deep Throat" it grossed about $3,400.

A later presentation of "Deep Throat" by MARS reportedly brought as much as $5,000, the newspaper said.

Distributors of the films usually take 50 per cent of the gross and there are advertising and projectionist expenses.

'Old' band to be formed for Starlight Special

"Gone Are the Days" may be one of the selections by the community band, which will play in the second Starlight Special the night of June 12 in the amphitheatre.

A community-type band is being organized for the event with the first rehearsal scheduled at 7 p.m. at Goliad Junior High band hall on Monday, June 7.

Anyone interested in playing should call Bill Bradley between 9 a.m. and 10 p.m. at 267-7136.

The band will not accept members who have graduated after the year 1973. They are really hunting people from the business and housewife community "who used to play."

The band will loan an instrument to anyone desiring to try, according to Bradley.

"NOTICE OF HEARING"

Sam Barron, College Park Center, Big Spring, Howard County, Texas 79720 (TH-FC File Number A576-0112-013) is scheduled to appear at a hearing at 9:30 A.M. on July 21, 1976, in the offices of the Texas Health Facilities Commission, One Highland Center, Suite 430, Austin, Texas, to petition the Commission for a Certificate of Need to establish Best Home Care, a home health agency to serve Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, Martin, Midland, Sterling and Dawson Counties.

A notice of intent to contest the application may be made by filing a sworn affidavit of intent to do so with the Commission no later than 5:00 P.M. on June 21, 1976.

Any person may also file with the Commission a request to become a party to the application. Such request should be in affidavit form and should detail the reasons supporting such request. A request may be accepted for determination by the Chairman of the Commission no later than 5:00 P.M. on July 5, 1976. The Chairman will inform the requesting person within 5 days of the receipt of such request of the acceptance or rejection of the application.

NOTE: If no notice of contest has been timely filed or if no application to become a party has been timely granted, the Commission may, on request of the applicant, proceed without a hearing on an application for Certificate of Need. Such uncontested case request may be considered by the Commission at any date after the expiration for timely filing on the notice of intent to contest and for making application to become a party.

Pettigrew sweeps trio

The wind-reliant Monday for the final round of the City Golf Championship Tournament, but Tom Pettigrew didn't, firing a one-under-par 70 on the Muni Course to sweep low-man honors on all three courses and rack up first prize in the championship flight.

Pettigrew's 70 gave him a three-day total of 212, two under par and eight strokes ahead of runner-up Bobby Menchaca, who had an even-par 71 yesterday.

Menchaca generated some excitement when he made a charge at the leader. Through the first 13 holes he was three under, but he ran into trouble at 14. He knocked his ball out of bounds and had an unplayable.

Foyt skips victory fete

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The purse for the shortest Indianapolis 500 in history was a record $1,037,775, and winner Johnny Rutherford collected more than a quarter-million dollars.

Prizes were handed out Monday night at the annual victory banquet. Rutherford won Sunday's 60th Indianapolis 500, which rain trimmed to 255 miles.

Rutherford, who also won here in 1974, earned $256,121. "I was sorry the race couldn't have gone the full distance, but that first half was the best half," he told the banquet audience.

His share was $17,000 under Al Unser's record haul in 1970. The total purse was more than $2,000 greater than in 1974.

A.J. Foyt and his team received $103,296 for second place. Frustrated a ninth straight year in his bid for a record fourth straight title, Foyt skipped the dinner.

The prize list included $850,500 from the Speedway and $147,275 in accessory awards. Lap prizes totaled $30,000. Only 102 laps were completed before rain stopped the race so the rest of the $150-per-lap awards were prorated among the six drivers who led the race.

Vern Schuppan of South Australia was chosen rookie of the year.

Ranger Grieve — ... Where it lands I know not where CHICAGO (AP) — Manager Frank Lucchesi took matters in stride and refused to complain about the fog which started his Texas Rangers towards a 9-4 loss to the Chicago White Sox when what should have been a third-out fly dropped for a three-run, first-inning triple.

"Both clubs had to play in the fog," said Lucchesi, "but we were the victims of circumstances. When it really came in heavy, we got nailed."

The Rangers had jumped to a 2-0 lead in the first inning of the game Monday night which started in a swirling fog. In the bottom of the first, the Sox loaded the bases on singles by Ralph Garr, Jorge Orta and Jim Spencer with two outs. Then Lucchesi lifted a fly ball towards left into a thickening fog and neither shortstop Toby Harrah nor left fielder Tom Grieve saw the ball, which fell for a three-run triple.

After the inning ended, the umpires announced they would stop play if the fog thickened, and in fact, they did twice before it began to clear in the third inning.

"The only time it was really heavy was the first inning," said umpire Nestor Chylak. "Nobody was really complaining but we took the initiative when we announced play would stop whenever it thickened."

But it was Tanana whose pitching won the game. Tony Oliva, Minnesota's first-base coach and pinch-hitter, said the Angel left-hander can "get the ball wherever he wants it. He's got great stuff and great control, and that's a tough combination to beat."

Perennial batting champion Rod Carew, who went 2-for-4 against Tanana, said, "He's one of the best, if not the best."

Blyleven struck out nine and allowed six hits as his record dropped to 4-5. The Texas Rangers have reached agreement with Blyleven on a contract and are working with Twins President Calvin Griffith on a trade.

The Rangers apparently are willing to give up infielder Roy Smalley, left-hander Steve Barr and minor league pitching prospect Jim Gideon Griffith, however, wants Ranger southpaw Jim Umbarger and that's the hangup.

Blyleven was booed and jeered by the fans Monday night, and when he walked off the mound in the ninth inning he raised his arm in a well known obscene gesture. "I couldn't care less about the fans," he told reporters later.

Angels ruin Blyleven's show

BLOOMINGTON, Minn. (AP) — Minnesota's Bert Blyleven pitched well in what might have been his last game as a Twin, but southpaw wizard Frank Tanana of California pitched even better.

The result of the pitching duel was a 3-2 Angels' victory.

The 22-year-old Tanana struck out 12 Minnesota batters, scattered seven hits and did not issue a single walk as he boosted his record to 7-3.

The Twins got runners at the corners with nobody out in the first inning, but Tanana got Larry Hise to pop out and sent the side down.

He appeared to be in control after that.

"I didn't have control of my curve early in the game," Tanana said. "But I found it in the sixth inning and it was just curve ball, fast ball the rest of the way."

Blyleven struck out nine and allowed six hits as his record dropped to 4-5. The Texas Rangers have reached agreement with Blyleven on a contract and are working with Twins President Calvin Griffith on a trade.

Elite tennis squad includes 4 Texans

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — UCLA's Brian Teacher achieved rare fourth time All-America status and Houston's Ross Walker and UCLA's Ferdi Taygan each picked up the honor for the third time as the 1976 elite team was picked by the Intercollegiate Tennis Coaches Association.

The 27-man squad, announced here Monday, also includes singles champion Bill Scanlon of Trinity and runnerup Peter Fleming of UCLA, making the All-America team a second time are Scanlon, Bruce Manson of USC, Francisco Gonzalez of Ohio State, Joao Soares of Pepperdine and Steve Wedderburn of Oklahoma City.

Other players from among the top 16 seeds in this year's tournament were also named All-Americans. That list includes Billy Brock of North Carolina, Pat DuPre and Bill Maze of Stanford, Chris Lewis of USC, John Lucas of Maryland, Joe Meyers of San Jose State and Jeff Robinson of Alabama.

The balance of the squad has two more Stanford players, Marx and Matt Mitchell; Brigham Young's Bruce Kleege and Mike Nissley; Miami's John Eagleton and Tavo Martinez; singles quarterfinalists Joe Edles of SMU and Tim Garcia of New Mexico; Houston's Ricardo Ycaza; and Utah's Kent Crawford.

Miss Softball America — Belles ring Kittens

The First Federal Belles of the Miss Softball America minor league put the ol' clapper to the Kittens, defeating them 11-9.

Melinda Noble was the winning pitcher, and Vernoda Boothe was charged with the loss. Kelly Bearden and Reneah Rybolt both had home runs, and Angie Morgan and Jonie Avery hit for two each. Debbie Archer also had extra base hits.

Both team records are even now, 4-4.

Supers flatten Patties

The ABC Supers of the Miss Softball America League beat the Price-Pavers Peppermint Patties 25-11 in a flurry of hits.

"Leapin' Laura" Baum was the winning pitcher and "Gutsy Gloria" Bustamante was the losing pitcher.

Little League

Pirates keelhaul Colts

On the strength of a 12-hit flurry in the sixth inning, the Pirates of the American League scuttled the Colts, 18-2, broadsiding them for the second time this season.

Tracy Spence's record remains unsoiled as he brought his season pitching record to 3-0. Ram Challipalli was charged with the loss.

Tracy Vanness, Jamie Phillips, Ram Challipalli, Marty Rodriguez and Pate Denton all hit for extra bases.

Spence struck out 12 batters and only walked two. The Pirates record is now 9-3.

Devils horn Lions

The Anderson Music Devils of the National Little League beat the Lions in a close one, 11-9. Both teams had a total of 11 hits.

Vince Coats was the winning hurler, and Brian Kelly was charged with the loss. Coats also had a triple and two singles. Charlie Corson of the Devil's had two doubles.

Lloyd Long had the only extra base hit for the Lions, a two-bagger.

The Devils are now 5-5, and the Lions 6-4.

Oilers spill Cabots

The Oilers of the American Little League slicked the Cabots 8-1 in league play last Friday night.

Shane Mayhall improved his season record by winning another pitching duel, and Jody Dawdy was charged with the loss.

Mayhall and Pete Crabtree, also of the Oilers, hit for doubles.

Billy Thompson of the Cabots hit for extra base hits as well.

Mayhall swished 13 batters in leading his team to the victory that kept them on top in league action.

NCAA champs Texas, ousted by Sooners

ARLINGTON, Tex. (AP) — Oklahoma earned a berth in the College Baseball World Series Monday night the hard way, whipping the defending champion Texas Longhorns and the winningest pitcher in NCAA history.

Oklahoma, which will play either Washington State or Fullerton State June 12 in Omaha, erupted for three runs in the seventh inning to tie the South Central Regional Playoffs with a 4-1 victory.

Richard Wortham was the loser and finished his career with a 50-7 record. Ironically, Wortham was credited with the victory earlier Monday in an 11-inning suspended game that Texas took from Oklahoma 6-5.

"We felt Wortham had to get tired after going three hard innings in the afternoon with only two days rest," said Oklahoma Coach Enos Semore. "We felt he would have to have some kind of an arm to do that."

Wortham, a senior, was the winning pitcher last year when Texas defeated South Carolina for the NCAA title.

It was sweet revenge for Oklahoma because Texas ousted the Sooners last year in the College World Series.

Oklahoma first baseman Kelly Snider said "Texas has a great ballclub and deserved to be in the World Series. In fact this was a small World Series here. I think both teams were tough."

On the strength of a 10 run second inning, the Sand Dusters of the Webb Women's Softball League blasted the Patriots 13-8.

Bertha McFarland was the winning pitcher and Margie Bell pitched in a losing cause for the Patriots.

For the Patriots, Annette Fecko had a double, and Trudy McCaig and Margie Bell had triples.

For the swirling Dusters, Sue Johnson had a home run, and Bertha McFarland and Chris Solse both had triples.

The highlight of the game came in the second inning, when Sue Solse hit a grand slammer for the Dusters.

Panthers pink Bloods

The Pink Panthers of the Webb Women's Softball League made like Bela Lugosi Sunday night and drained Youngblood and Co., 14-1.

Pitching five-hit ball for the visitors was Jan Harrison, with Deena Bennett being charged with the loss.

"Jabbin' Jeanie" Kelley for the Panthers had an incredible three home runs.

Foster makes May a memorial month

HOUSTON (AP) — George Foster had one of the hottest bats in baseball during May but the Cincinnati Reds outfielder says he doesn't pay much attention to statistics.

Foster's two-run homer climaxed a three-run fifth inning rally Monday night to carry the Reds to a 4-2 come-from-behind victory over the Houston Astros.

Foster's home run was his ninth of the year and his seventh for May. He hit for a .360 average and knocked in 31 runs during the month.

"I don't think about statistics," Foster said. "I don't go over every out in every inning after every game. I just try to help win ball games."

He said he didn't even know what kind of a pitch he hit for his home run.

"Only the guy who pitched it knows that," Foster said.

"I didn't think it was going out, it was so high. It usually takes a line drive to go out in the Astro dome."

J. R. Richard, the Astros' starting pitcher, gave up the homer to Foster and allowed three of the Reds' four runs as he absorbed his fourth straight loss. That made his record 5-5.

Teen-Age League

Tigers drag Mustangs

The Big Spring Hardware Tigers defeated the Bob Brock Ford Mustangs 3-2 in a senior Teenage League game.

Del Posa drove out a single in the last half of the seventh inning to score Mitch Harris with the winning run to break a 2-2 tie. Mike Harris was the winning pitcher and struck out 14 enemy batters.

Charles Vernon pitched well in defeat, as he struck out 12 batters.

Knights fell Orioles

The Knights beat the Orioles 16-6 in 5-2-3rd innings to stay unbeaten at 2-0, early in league play.

The Knights had 16 runs on 20 hits and three errors, and the Orioles had 6 runs on three hits with six errors.

Mark Harris, throwing to catcher Tony Paradez was the winning pitcher, and Kenneth Coffee and David Howell were charged with the loss.

Kenneth Coffee and David Howell beat for the orange and black birds had home runs, and Ben Watson for the Knights hit for a triple.

Freddie Martinez, Ben Watson, Mark Posa, Carlos Mata and Steve Tipton, (all Knights) hit for doubles.

Your HOROSCOPE from the CARROLL RIGTER INSTITUTE

FORECAST FOR WEDNESDAY, JUNE 2, 1976

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Although there could be a surprise problem with which you have to contend early in morning, you have considerable opportunities later to bring your special attitudes to the attention of those who can help you make them a success. Recreation is favored.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) Show true devotion to mate early and plan evening's entertainment together. Put some special talent to work for fine results.

Taurus (Apr. 20 to May 20) Be cool if there is a flare-up at home early, then you can entertain there. Study new project to see if it is right for you.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You want to expand where usual routines are concerned but first you have to hurdle some stumbling blocks in the path of your progress.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Your monetary affairs can be improved tonight, so don't worry about them in the a.m. In early a.m. make plans for trip.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Morning could be frustrating. Later, all straightens itself out and you can do what you please. Attend social functions.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Concentrate on the big issues today and forget detail for the time being if you are to become more successful.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Personal aims may seem difficult to attain early, but p.m. brings fine results. Enjoy social life. Stop being so submissive; be a leader.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Morning may be frustrating but by noon you can accomplish a great deal. Gain support of influential person. Be sure of yourself.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't permit a secret worry to keep you from getting ahead in your career. Make new contacts who can be helpful.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Go through with any promises made and stop procrastinating. Come to a better understanding with your mate and pull ahead together.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Try cooperate with associates more. Add to your present prestige and rest on your laurels in p.m.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Get work done. Improve your wardrobe for important functions coming up. Invite friends into your house in p.m.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will have many great ideas even though the environment may not be ideal early in life. Give as fine an education as you can, then upon maturity there can be much success in this life provided you teach early to stick to right policy and proper principles.

Bill Chrane Recreational Vehicle Center

AUTHORIZED SALES AND SERVICE FOR MIDAS MINI HOMES AND THE COMPLETE LINE OF COACHMEN RECREATIONAL VEHICLES. PH. 263-1043
NOW IS THE TIME TO LOOK OVER OUR SELECTION OF RECREATIONAL VEHICLES. THE LOT IS FULL AND WE ARE READY TO DEAL.

1976 MIDAS MINI — 226-III Dodge chassis, automatic transmission, 360 CID V-8, power steering, power brakes, engine air conditioner, AM-FM-8-track stereo, TV antenna, roof air, power generator and water purifier. Beautiful green interior and much more. Reduced $1000.
1976 MIDAS MINI — 226-II GMC chassis, automatic transmission, 400 CID V-8, power steering, power brakes, engine air conditioner, AM-FM stereo radio, tilt steering & cruise control, roof air and power generator. Burnt orange interior, this unit is ready to go at an $800 savings.
1976 MIDAS MINI — 19 foot. Three in stock — select either a 360 CID V-8 Dodge or a 351 CID Ford, beautiful burnt orange or lime green interior. Sleeps 4 to 6. Vehicle air, dual wheels, roof air, AM-FM stereo radio, marine type toilet & showers, Midas Thermopanneled construction, and many more extras. These units are as easy to drive as a station wagon, priced cheaper than many automobiles.

COACHMEN TRAVEL TRAILERS

1976 COACHMEN HIGHLAND PARK — 35 feet long, a beautiful home away from home, this trailer has a tip-out living room, tilt away bed, Hide-a-Bed sofa, 14 cubic foot refrigerator, zoned heat, 13,500 BTU air conditioner and other accessories too numerous to mention — should be priced much higher.
1976 COACHMEN DELUXE CROWN — 31 feet long, 1 bedroom, 2 doors, sleeps 4, central heat, 12,500 BTU air conditioner, Hide-a-Bed couch, 9 cubic foot refrigerator with separate freezer, a luxury trailer at a bargain price.

1976 COACHMEN CADET 27 FOOT TRAVEL TRAILER — sleeps 8, separate master bedroom, automatic forced air, heat, free standing sofa, 4-burner range with oven, 9.9 cubic foot refrigerator, tub and shower, hot water heater, roof air, ideal for a traveling construction worker with a family.

1976 COACHMEN FIFTH WHEEL TRAILERS — select either a 28 foot Cadet or a 33 foot Quinstar. Both trailers are fully loaded, and priced hundreds of $ below suggested retail.

CAB OVER CAMPERS AND PICKUP TRUCKS

1976 COACHMEN — 11 ft. rear dinette cab over camper, completely self-contained. Sleeps six, roof air, heater, Demand water system, 4-burner range with oven, refrigerator.
1976 COACHMEN — 10 1/2 ft. cab over camper. Completely self-contained, sleeps six, heater, Demand water system, 4-burner range with oven, refrigerator.
1973 DODGE 1/2 TON TRUCK — only 3200 miles, with a practically new, 1976 9 1/2 ft. fully self-contained Coachmen cab over camper, a recent trade-in on one of our fine Midas Mini Motor Homes.
1976 FORD 1/2 TON CAMPER SPECIAL PICKUP — 2 in stock, courtesy of Bob Brock Ford. We can equip these vehicles with a cab over or Coachmen Fifth Wheel trailer with equipment and a price to please anyone.
1973 FIELDS 8 FT. CAB OVER CAMPER — This camper is new, warranty is good for 1 year, come by and make an honest offer.
USED CAB OVER CAMPERS — six in stock. No reasonable offer refused.

Ridin' fence

Some folks will bet on anything and I'm even afraid that if I bet today is finally the first day of June that someone would change the calendar.

Everybody has months that are not special to them, and May has never been a kind month in my life, but I have to admit that this one was much better than the average May for me. But I'm always glad when May is over.

But that old sin called gambling is the subject of this column. A lot of us gamble without thinking of it as gambling. We put money in World Series pots and on Dallas Cowboy games and think very little of it.

However, when it comes down to top gamblers of the world, I found out that nobody really wants to get caught up in the process.

U.S. mercenaries to stand trial

KENSINGTON, Md. (AP) — Daniel Gearhart, a 34-year-old Vietnam veteran, left his wife, four children and a mounting stack of bills last February to fight for pro-Western forces in Angola's civil war.

After less than a week in the war, Gearhart disappeared. His whereabouts

Yep, he's a winner

with Marj Carpenter

Doyle Johnson, 300-pound Texas poker player who just won the world's poker championship in Las Vegas, is a close friend of a Big Springer, but he's almost afraid to recall it.

Brunson was featured on national television Sunday. He won $225,000 first prize and $176,000 in the game itself.

Amarillo Slim, who was beaten out early in the game, served as commentator. He probably picked up a good chunk of cash for that accomplishment.

Back when Brunson was a good friend of the anonymous Big Springer, they both went to Hardin-Simmons. I don't think the Baptist College is going to name him the outstanding ex-student this year, however.

At that time, Brunson was tall as he is now, but not as heavy and he was a basketball star. The poker player was named the most valuable player in the Border Conference his junior year.

The champion gambler was doing some of that manual labor one summer that is always taught to our youth as a fine upstanding thing to be doing.

Sheet rock fell on him and crushed his leg. That slowed down his basketball career, but he still ran track. He ran the mile for two years and ran it well. At that time he was about 6'3" and weighed 170 pounds.

It seems like a good talent for a good poker player to have — to be able to run. However, if he has put on more than 130 additional pounds, he may not be able to run like he used to.

The poker player is from Longworth, north of Sweetwater, and even at Hardin-Simmons, in that Baptist College dormitory, he liked to play cards.

He was particularly fond, in the college years, of the card game of hearts.

The local Big Springer revealing all of this information was a little dubious that his Alma Mater would appreciate it much. He recalls, "Even then, Brunson always won. He won at sports and he won at cards."

So fame and fortune came to the West Texan — in Vegas — around the poker table. And much to my dismay, my information had to all be second hand — this week when I was out ridin' fence.
