

ICE COVERS ALL OF TEXAS

North Central Region Gets Some Relief

CHICAGO — AP — Relief from the severe cold weather which has enveloped nearly every section of the country appeared in prospect for some areas today, alleviating in some measure the critical fuel shortage which has crippled production in many industries and brought discomfort to thousands.

The first break in the frigid wave came to the north central region. After three days of temperatures far below zero, readings today generally were above that mark from the Dakotas to Illinois.

The warmer air was expected to move eastward into the Atlantic seaboard. But there was no immediate relief from the unseasonably chilly weather, snow and sleet which has harassed most of the south.

Texas staggered from the impact of the snow, sleet, rain and abnormally low temperatures. Arkansas, covered with from three to six inches of ice, was pelted by new falls of sleet and snow.

There were critical gas shortages in many communities and curtailment of supplies to industries made idle more than 250,000 workers. Business establishments and schools in sections of the South, Southwest and Midwest were closed because of the scarcity of gas.

Made idle by the shutdown of the industrial plants and factories were an estimated 200,000 workers in the Detroit area where auto production was at a virtual standstill, and 15,000 steel workers in the Pittsburgh district.

Service to all industrial users, schools and most commercial establishments in 377 Texas and Oklahoma towns was cut off by two gas companies. In the Kansas City area, schools and business establishments also were shut off from 900 industrial users.

Snow, sleet and rain still fell in parts of Texas and temperatures ranged from near zero in the Panhandle to 20 to 30 in the Southeast. The mercury dropped to six below yesterday in Dallas and San Antonio, and to 10 below in Brownsville, at (See U. S. WEATHER, Page 2)

French Lock Banks to Bar Speculation

PARIS — (AP) — The government proposed today to withdraw all its 5,000-franc notes from circulation as a blow at both inflation and the black market.

Authorized sources said this would grab about $500,000,000 worth of francs away from black marketeers. There are 66,000,000 notes of the denomination, worth about $1,000,000,000 at the free exchange rate.

The government closed all banks to forestall speculation during debate on the measure. Premier Robert Schuman urged the National Assembly to act quickly so that banks, the stock market and other financial agencies might open by Saturday.

Passage of this measure and the government's free gold trade bill seemed assured by a Socialist decision to support them in the Assembly. Schuman had staked his cabinet's life on his monetary program. The cabinet last Sunday decreed devaluation of the franc and the establishment of a free money market.

The 5,000-franc note is worth about $15 on the free market. Its withdrawal is something like the withdrawal of all $20 bills would be in the United States.

Assembly sources said Finance Minister Rene Mayer told them small holders of the bills would be reimbursed Feb. 2 and larger holders by a Feb. 5 decree. He said the bill was aimed directly at smoking out ill-gotten wealth of money changers, restaurateurs and black marketeers.

Top o' Texas Revue Troupers Polish Up Acts for Opening

Ken Bennett again last night ran his trouper through the Top o' Texas Revue which will be presented here Feb. 2-3. Bennett, who wrote and is producing the annual event in sponsorship this year with the Pampa Kiwanis Club, said this morning: "I really do think this is the best show of all of them that we have produced."

This 4-scene extravaganza, having as its general theme "spirit of music," is a round of music, with singing, and well-fired jokes. Jimmie Nimm, who will be master of ceremonies, and he will be aided and abetted by a number of Kiwanis Club jokers.

The four scenes go something like this: 1—"Spirit of Music"; 2—"Music in the Night," featuring the singing of Irma Francis, one of the best scenes in the show; 3—"Music and Models," including 18 of the city's prettiest girls in the style show; 4—"Music at the Carnival," which will feature the "hill-billy seven," variously described as the most any crew that ever broke out of the unlevel country. Clarence Nutting in this scene will give her version of "I Want to Live in the City."

There are over a hundred people, including the A Cappella Choir, that will take part in the show. An old act will be coming back for this two-night occasion (beginning 8 p.m.). Bill Smith will have his tin-can serenade on exhibition both nights. In this serenade Smith renders a distinct melody played on nothing except tin cans. He presented this serenade first back in the show of 1940, and there was such comment that it will be brought back, Bennett said.

The Kiwanis Club benefits from this show will go into the fund to help youth. Each year the club spends a good deal of money for that purpose.

General admission tickets are being sold by members of the club, and reserve seat tickets are on sale at the Combs-Worley lobby and Gretna's for this show at the Junior High School Auditorium.

Roy Kay has been preparing stage properties.

The Corporation Court jury decision on a parking meter case several months ago that was appealed to the County Court has not been dismissed or acted upon, as yet, City Attorney Bob Gordon revealed yesterday.

The city prosecutor explained that when the defendant appealed his case to the County Court the city had to prepare a transcript of the case and file it in the county clerk's office. He added the transcript is now in process of being drawn and has not been filed with the county clerk's office.

NO CASES HEARD
No cases were heard in Corporation Court this morning.

Attendees at Worley Hospital this morning reported a slight improvement in the condition of County and City Juvenile Officer Paul Hill when they stated he "seemed a little better."

Mr. Hill was taken to Worley shortly after midnight Thursday morning suffering from a coronary attack. He remained in a critical condition most of the day and reports of a slight improvement late yesterday afternoon began to circulate.

At noon yesterday Mrs. Hill told The News his condition was "very low" and described his pulse as so low it could "hardly be counted." However, a slight ray of hope was sounded this morning when his attendants noted he was "a little better."

Russo-German Negotiations Bring Queries

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The U. S. State Department's disclosure of details of the Russo-German negotiations, resulting in the non-aggression pact that precipitated the world conflict, has brought this column an inquiry as to what the Anglo-French allies were doing while Hitler was achieving this coup.

The answer is that Britain and France missed the boat. Actually they had a mission in Moscow trying to make a treaty when Stalin signed with the Fuehrer. The tragic Munich Agreement of September, 1938, under which the western allies sold Czechoslovakia down the river to Hitler, was the beginning of the end of appeasement by London and Paris.

Then in the following March when the Nazi dictators marched troops into Czechoslovakia, England was shocked into a realization of the dangers facing Europe. As a result Britain and France decided to meet force with force if necessary, and by April of '39 we find Britain negotiating with Russia for a mutual assistance pact, France already having one with Moscow. From then on, negotiations dragged until brought to a sensational end by the Hitler-Stalin non-aggression pact.

"The British (and French) have justified their failure to conclude a pact with Russia on several grounds," says the Encyclopedia Britannica year book for 1939. It has been said that Poland refused to accept Russian military aid, that the Russian military aid would in fact prove to be a liability, that the allies could not join Russia in domination of the Baltic states, and finally that Russia had no desire to help the allies.

Again, Russia had been excluded in the negotiations at Munich and the Soviet suspected the sincerity of British and French proposals for either diplomatic or military agreements.

And what would have happened if Russia and the western allies had come to terms? You tell me that, and I'll tell you what would have happened if Eve hadn't eaten the apple in the Garden of Eden.

However, it is a safe bet that no agreement of any description would have saved world revolution for the establishment of communism. That's an immutable policy, and we would have had to come up against it in due course.

Moreover, Hitler was bent on conquest, later, no matter what sort of Russo-British-French pact threatened him.

YOUTH ON WAY
Back to Parents
Johnny Martin, who arrived in Pampa night before last broke hungry and thinly clad, telling officers he had started to hitch-hike to California, was on his way back to his home in Wichita, Kans., last night.

He alarmed patrons in a local cafe by his strange actions, and officers said they believed Martin still did not realize what town or state he was in.

Officers in Wichita were contacted by the sheriff's office here. They said the boy's parents, an aged couple in poor circumstances, told them he was not fully competent mentally.

The parents sent $15 for Martin's fare back to Wichita, and Martin was placed aboard a train here last night, although he was reluctant to go back, seeming to want to continue his hitch-hiking trip.

A relative of Deputy Sheriff Lewis Holmes was also making a trip east by train last night, and he agreed to watch out for the boy until he arrived at Wichita.

Martin at first refused food offered him by members of the sheriff's office, and they said he ate very little during his stay here.

Mercury in Pampa Area Is Climbing

Although temperatures came up from one below zero night before last to 14 degrees as the low for last night at Pampa, the slightly warmer weather was responsible for a heavier snowfall last night, continuing through the morning. In spite of hazardous driving conditions no highway accidents have been reported in the Pampa area.

The Dallas Weather Bureau predicted the cold spell would begin to lose its grip by Friday night, but a forecaster warned: "There's still plenty of bang left in the current cold spell."

A new snow, sleet and rain storm sliced southeastward across Texas today from the Panhandle to the Lower Rio Grand Valley, evidently as a final blow from winter's worst attack on Texas in many years, the Associated Press reported.

Sleet fell as far south as the Gulf in the extreme southeast. Orange reported the first serious ice storm in the memory of old residents.

At Austin the State Highway Department said that practically every road in the state was ice-glazed or sleet-covered, but passable "if you use chains and care."

Somewhat warmer weather was forecast for the entire state tomorrow. The center of extreme cold had crept southward today from the Panhandle to El Paso, where the mercury dropped to six degrees below zero this morning.

The natural gas crisis which forced a shutdown of fuel to industries and schools in hundreds of Texas towns yesterday was somewhat improved today. The Lone Star Gas Company said in Dallas today that pressure conditions were improving, but that the industrial and school gas demand remained in effect as long as severe weather continues. Lone Star serves 323 towns in Texas and Southern Oklahoma.

The situation in the area served by the West Texas Gas Company likewise showed improvement today. At Odessa, one of 44 cities where fuel was cut off to industries and schools by West Texas (See MERCURY, Page 2)

Exemptions Are for 1 Year

There are no permanent over-age poll tax exemptions permissible in the state, Deputy Tax Assessor and Collector Jack Beck reported this morning in answer to a direct query on the subject.

Beck explained that all persons over 60 years of age must renew their exemptions each year. In other words it is a man, or woman, has secured an over-age exemption last year and offers to vote this year they must secure an exemption. However, to be eligible for the over-age exemption this year the voter must have attained his 60th birthday before Jan. 1, 1947. Each year thereafter he, or she, must secure another exemption certificate.

The tax office further reported that over 5,000 poll tax receipts have been issued in the County House to date in addition to approximately 500 exemption certificates for over-age, totally blind and crippled and other legal exemptions. Partially crippled or infirm pay only the $1 state charge and are not assessed the added 75 cents.

Only two more days, Friday and Saturday, remain for Gray County voters to pay their poll tax or secure an exemption.

First Aid Course Will Be Given Tonight at 7:30
A course in Red Cross First Aid for Girl Scout adults, and other interested persons is scheduled to begin tonight at 7:30 at the City Commission Room, after it had been necessary to change the meeting date once before.

Mrs. J. M. Fitzgerald will be course instructor. It was a 14. The meeting had originally been set for Tuesday, then changed to Friday night, but has been re-set for tonight instead.

Knutson Asks Dems To Split With HST

WASHINGTON — AP — Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.) today made a direct appeal for Democrats in Congress to split with President Truman on the big election year tax-cutting issue.

He declared his bill to lower income taxes by $6,500,000,000 is needed to help meet the high cost of living and "preserve the American system."

"Do not be misled again," Knutson told the Democrats in a prepared speech leading off debate on the measure.

"If there ever was need to encourage production to combat inflation, it is today."

"If there ever was a need to provide relief to the individual income taxpayer from the oppressive war income taxes which are stifling initiative and preventing business expansion, it is today."

Last year President Truman twice vetoed bills by Knutson, who is chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, to trim taxes $4,000,000,000 a year. Enough Democrats held the party line in Congress to uphold the President.

Before the debate began, Speaker Martin (R-Mass.) said an income tax cut this year is in the bag. He conceded it might not be as much as the $6,500,000,000 provided in the Knutson Bill which came up today.

But in the end, Martin told reporters, the Republican Congress will override a presidential veto "of the tax bill we send to the White House."

This was taken to mean that Senate Republicans will tone down the House measure to attract Democratic support. The GOP will need some 100 votes to override a veto.

The party lineup in the House is 245 Republicans, 185 Democrats. In the Senate it is 51 Republicans to 45 Democrats.

Re. Doughton (D-N.C.), ranking Democrat on the tax-fixing Ways and Means Committee, said the Republicans will have to trim the size of the cut to get anywhere.

Otherwise, he said, Congress will "philly" the "and we will have no tax reduction at all." The debate is scheduled to end with a showdown vote in the House Monday.

These were the main arguments for and against the $6,500,000,000 bill by Rep. Knutson. Republicans—the cut still would leave the government enough revenue for an $11,000,000,000 payment on the public debt in the next two years. It would spur business, increase production and relieve the pinch of high prices on taxpayers.

Democrats — Republicans are figuring wrong. A tax cut as big as $6,500,000,000 will force the government to borrow money, threaten national security, and hamper the European Recovery Plan.

Democratic Leader Rayburn of Texas said his party members were almost unanimous against the bill at a Demo meeting yesterday.

Only One of Three Third Party Candidates in Past Succeeded

by ALEXANDER R. GEORGE

WASHINGTON —(AP)—What chance has third party candidate Henry A. Wallace to upset the presidential election?

Nobody really knows how, but the record shows that of the three most formidable third party candidates in the past—all ex-presidents—only one polled enough votes to influence an election.

Republican Theodore Roosevelt, Progressive Party candidate in 1912, divided the normally Republican vote with President William H. Taft. That insured an election victory for Democrat Woodrow Wilson. Roosevelt received 4,126,420 votes to 3,488,922 for Taft and 6,286,214 for Wilson.

Democrat Martin Van Buren, president from 1837 to 1841, ran as the Free Soilers candidate in 1848, but failed to get any electoral votes. The Free Soil Party was composed of Democrats and Whigs who opposed the extension of slave territory.

Whig Millard Fillmore, who stepped up to the presidency from vice president when Zachary Taylor died in 1850, was the presidential nominee of the American Party in 1856. Fillmore got the electoral vote of only one state, Maryland, in the race with victorious Democrat James Buchanan and Republican John Fremont.

The Know Nothings were a 1850's, electing several congressmen and governors. Their main object was "to secure the government for genuine native Americans" and to resist the alleged political power of aliens and Catholics.

The name Know Nothing derived from the silence of party members concerning the organization. The party, originally a secret association, was organized as "the supreme order of the Star Spangled Banner."

The magnetic Teddy Roosevelt was offered the Progressive Party nomination again in 1916, but refused and returned to the Republican fold. He supported Charles Evans Hughes against President Wilson.

Senator Robert M. La Follette, Sr., left the Republican Party in 1924, to run for the presidency as a Progressive. His platform advocated farm relief, public ownership of railroads, direct nomination and election of the president and a constitutional amendment providing that Congress could re-enact a law and override a Supreme Court ruling that it was unconstitutional.

Senator La Follette captured the 13 electoral votes of his own state, Wisconsin.

A third party movement showed considerable strength in western farm regions during the early 1890's. It was the Populist, or People's Party. It championed the cause of the farmer and the working man.

It demanded free coinage of silver, the direct loan of paper money to farmers on the security of their crops, a graduated income tax and government ownership of railway, telephone and telegraph.

James B. Weaver, of Iowa, Populist presidential nominee in 1892, received more than a million popular votes and 22 electoral votes. Democrat Grover Cleveland was elected president by a substantial electoral majority over Republican Benjamin Harrison.

By 1896 the Democratic Party had adopted so many Populist ideas that the latter endorsed the candidacy of Democratic nominee William Jennings Bryan. The Populists, however, nominated their own candidate for vice president—Thomas E. Watson. By 1900, the Populist presidential vote was only 50,020.

When the silver-tongued Bryan ran against William McKinley in 1896, a number of conservative Democrats who didn't like Bryan's free silver platform bolted the party. Some of them formed a party called the Gold Democrats and nominated Gen. John Palmer of Illinois for president. He didn't receive any electoral votes.

Until Wallace's candidacy this year, the most recent third party race as nominee of the Union movement was William Lemke's Party in 1936. The Late President Roosevelt's lead over Republican nominee Alfred M. Landon was so overwhelming—523 to eight electoral votes—the vote for Lemke, a North Dakota Republican, made no difference.

MERCURY

Gas yesterday, the emergency was declared at an end this morning. Business houses were permitted to reopen, but schools remained closed.

At Laredo, police kept five cars running constantly during the night, carrying hundreds of the city's poor to warm refuges in the court house, schools and other public buildings as the unprecedented cold caused suffering. The mercury fell to 28 degrees this morning after a low of 27 yesterday.

Industries over much of the state were at a standstill today or operating on stand-by power facilities, and schools remained closed to save natural gas for home heating.

El Paso and Wink were the state's coldest spots this morning with a reading of minus six degrees. The cold center had shifted southward from Dalhart, which had a like reading Wednesday morning.

The latest sleet storm cut morning traffic to a snail's pace in Dallas, with street conditions the worst in the week-long attack of snow, rain and sleet. Buses were out of operation this morning and overloading of streetcars slowed that only means of public transportation in a crawl. Power failures were frequent.

Snow was falling this morning in the Panhandle and South Plains and snow and sleet were general in the North Central and Northeast sections.

Freezing rain fell in South Texas. Other low temperatures at 8:30 a. m. included: Amarillo, eight above; Lubbock, Eleven deaths were blamed directly or indirectly on the current cold spell in Texas. Suffering and loss of weight in cattle were reported from various sections. At Houston, County Agent Dan Clinton said Harris County vegetable growers have lost $250,000 in crops because of the storm. Citrus growers in the Lower Rio Grande Valley believed no harm had been done their crops by 12 hours of below-freezing temperatures, but vegetable growers said a few days would be necessary to determine what damage they had suffered.

Sweatt's Case Begins Again

AUSTIN —(AP)—The question of whether or not Texas can constitutionally segregate Negro and white students in its public schools came before the Third Court of Civil Appeals today.

On appeal and set for oral argument was Heman Marion Sweatt's legal battle to force University of Texas officials to admit him as a law school student.

The fight started nearly two years ago, after the Houston Negro mail carrier had been denied admission to the University Law School. He was informed that he qualified as a student in every respect, except that he was a Negro.

Sweatt originally brought suit for a mandamus compelling his admission in a Travis County District Court. It finally denied his plea, and he appealed to the Third Court of Civil Appeals. This case was sent back to District Court for development of new facts after the 50th Legislature established the Texas State University for Negroes at Houston, with a law branch at Austin.

Following the new trial in 126th District Court, at which Judge Roy Archer refused to grant the writ compelling the University of Texas to admit him, Sweatt again appealed to the intermediate court. He said he would carry his fight to the United States Supreme Court if necessary.

Attorneys for Sweatt in their briefs have contended that a racially segregated law school is unconstitutional. The state has contended such segregation is constitutional where equal educational opportunities are offered.

RAISES

have been frozen for years. For example: Since 1874 the pay for collector of customs in New York has been $12,000. The President's pay is $75,000 a year. It's been that since 1909. Pay for members of the Federal Trade Commission has been $10,000 since 1914.

And the pay for members of the President's cabinet has been $15,000 a year since 1909.

In 1946 Congress gave itself a pay boost from $10,000 a year to about $15,000.

Bills are being readied in Congress now to raise those $10,000-and-over people from $15,000 to $25,000 or more a year. But that doesn't mean Congress will ever do anything about the bills.

JESTER

visited the Huntsville headquarters, Wynn, Gore, Ramsey, Rietz, Wynn, Gore, Ramsey, Rietz, Wynn, Gore, Ramsey, Rietz.

He repeatedly referred to Ellis' recommendations as "very sound."

Jester's inspection yesterday centered at Central Farm where he viewed the prison's dwindling food stores where authorities estimated only a three-months' supply of canned foods remain and where meat supplies ran 3,000 pounds under the 25,000-pound weekly average needed to feed the more than 5,000 inmates three times a day.

Ellis estimates that a three-year program based on his recommendations for revamping will be necessary to build the prison's agricultural and industrial production to a near self-sufficient basis.

Jester was accompanied on his entire inspection by Ellis and Prison Board Chairman Windsor of Tyler and on much of the trip by Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton.

U.S. WEATHER

the southern tip, shivered in 28 above.

The death toll in Texas from the inclement weather was 11. Huge losses of livestock were feared in West Texas and along the Gulf Coast and a further drop in temperatures in the Rio Grande Valley was expected to cause heavy crop damages.

A new ice storm struck in parts of Arkansas and western Tennessee. El Dorado, already virtually isolated by the recent storm, and Texarkana were hit by the second storm as repair crews worked in below freezing temperatures to restore communications lines disrupted by Tuesday's sleet and snow. Many school and industrial plants in Arkansas closed because of the heavy demands for gas. Deaths during the recent cold wave mounted to 17 in Arkansas.

Rising temperatures and clearing skies were forecast for New Mexico after Tuesday's heavy snowfall while most of Colorado recovered from the sub-zero readings. The mercury, however, was -28 at Alamosa, Colo., last night but today's low was not expected to equal yesterday's frigid -6.

Unseasonably cold was reported in both northern and southern California. Los Angeles yesterday reported a low of 32 and a high of 50, the coldest in more than a year. San Francisco's minimum was 32 and the high was 53. Southern California vegetable and fruit crops, already hit by unprecedented drought conditions, suffered further damage from the cold. No relief appeared from the drought in agriculturally rich San Joaquin Valley which has had no rain for 40 days.

Southern Florida escaped the chilly weather and Miami's high yesterday was a summery 80 with an overnight minimum of 70. The top at Jacksonville, Fla., was 80 after a night low of 44.

As usual, some hunting accidents happened because both the gun and the hunter were loaded.

Important Americans Point to Increasing Danger of Citizen Control by Government

A 32-page report issued Jan. 25, by Albert Einstein, Ray Lyman Wilbur, ex-secretary of the Interior; Robert Wilson, former president of the Federation of American Scientists; Arthur Morgan, first head of T. V. A.; William J. Millor, S. J., president of the University of Detroit, and sixteen other leading citizens, warns that "one of the important safeguards of American democracy—civilian control—is rapidly disappearing."

"Not only are military men moving into key positions in the State Department, the diplomatic corps, and other government departments, but the Army and Navy are extending their influence into science, education, and industry," the group charged.

More influential it is alleged in the report, is spreading into the high schools and also to the Boy Scouts of America.

The proposal that the United States adopt universal military training and the use of public money by Army propagandists and jobless as a result of this measure, as exposed in the Report of the Subcommittee on Publicity and Propaganda of the House Committee on Expenditures in Executive Departments, is cited as an instance of the pervasive and subtle ways in which military influence seeks to play a decisive role in policy-making.

Not only has the Army made movies in selling their program, the group said, but has employed military men. Our leaders act like soldiers instead of diplomats building good will, the report charges.

The recent report received from Panama is cited as an illustration of the fear and even hatred bred by military control of foreign policy.

A section of the report dealing with the subsidizing of scientific research by the Army and Navy quotes the distinguished physicist and prominent participant in the "Manhattan Project," Dr. Philip Morrison of Cornell University, as writing, "We cannot tie science in with the military and hope to see it used for peace, no matter how ingeniously we write the contracts nor how circumspect the men of good will remain." Science must obtain social aid "in the name and right of research, not masquerading as an arm of war," he said.

At the present time federal support of pure science is almost completely under military control with finances coming from military funds, the report declares, and further states that the direction of research is being changed because the military favors the projects which may be of value in war.

The report reveals plans for Army control over labor and industry. The Army's industrial mobilization plans have already resulted in military units being set up in large and small industrial establishments throughout the nation. These plans would lead to federal control of every phase of business and would in the long run compel employees to work wherever they are told.

The sponsors of the 32-page report state that they "do not necessarily imply that each of us would be opposed to every activity" described in the report, but that "what might be approved or overlooked as an isolated activity cannot be ignored when seen as part of a basically dangerous pattern." The "monstrous" "Tyranny of History" by Arnold J. Toynbee is cited as authority for the statement that militarism "has been by far the commonest cause of the breakdown of civilization" and the warning is given that "it would be fatuous and suicidal for us to assume that we can adopt ways that have corrupted and destroyed other civilizations and ourselves escape the same fate."

Lightning sometimes literally explodes parts of a tree by turning the moisture in wood cells to steam.

In the early days of the industrial revolution, English law forbade machinists to leave the country.

Hatch Egg Shortage, Price Are Problems

DALLAS—(AP)—A Texas authority on poultry problems has announced that a shortage of hatching eggs and continued high prices of feed constitute the chief threats to poultry production in the Southwest.

Chester North, Waxahachie hatchery owner, said the current shortage of hatching eggs likely will mean below normal chick production in the spring. This will mean fewer chickens for food and less egg production during the year, he said.

North said high feed prices had caused hundreds of Texas poultrymen to sell their flocks and quit the business during the past year.

Water constitutes 80 percent of meat, 87 percent of milk, 85 percent of poultry flesh and 65 percent of eggs.

Program Plan for Religion Emphasis Week Is Outlined

AUSTIN — "For the Living of These Days" is theme of the annual Religious Emphasis Week groups—students and faculty—are 8-15.

Protestant, Catholic, and Jewish groups are planning a series of inter-denominational meetings for the week. One general assembly will be held when Dr. Elton Trueblood, professor of philosophy at Earlham College, Richmond, speaks Feb. 8, in Hogg Auditorium.

Visiting lay and clergy leaders will meet with student groups in dormitories and boarding houses, classrooms, and at organization meetings. Helen Black, general chairman and director of the University Development Board, said.

Among leaders scheduled to meet with students are Hines Baker of Houston, Methodist layman; Al M. Heck of San Antonio, Catholic layman and attorney; Dr. James S. Chubb, Nashville, Tenn., secretary of the Methodist Board of Evangelism; Rabbi Robert I. Kahn of Temple Emanuel, Houston; Dr. Charles Clayton Morrison, former editor of the Christian Century; the Rt. Rev. Clinton S. Quinn, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas; the Rev. W. Robert Rankin, secretary of the YMCA at Oberlin College; Roland Hayes, Negro concert tenor who will be heard in concert Feb. 10; Olcott S. Texas area director of the American Friends Service Committee; and Mrs. Augusta Street, Connecticut specialist in youth and family counseling.

Some of the other items were donated to Texas Tech free, while others were made available at a reduction of 95 percent, or more, of an estimated fair price, Cummings said.

Expressing appreciation to the Bureau of Community Facilities, Texas Tech officials point out that the surplus buildings given the college have doubled space available for classrooms and laboratories, thus enabling the college to dispense with night classes this fall even though enrollment has reached unprecedented sizes. Last spring more than 40 night classes were held regularly on the campus.

A farm which required the work of two men in the United States a generation ago is now operated easily by one man.

It's as important that we raise the teacher's pay as it is that we raise our children.

College Gets Surplus Goods

LUBBOCK—War surplus goods, including 31 entire buildings, a quantity of office furniture, equipment for an infirmary and a cafeteria, electronic and other laboratory equipment, and a 33-passenger bus, have been received at Texas Technological College from the Bureau of Community Facilities, Federal Works Agency, during the past year, according to S. T. Cummings, college purchasing agent.

The buildings were delivered to the campus from Camp Berkeley at no cost to the college to meet a pressing need for additional space for classrooms, laboratories and other facilities. The college paid only the cost of plan and site preparation and utility installation.

Officer Sought-at $125 Per Month

BORGER—(P)—Borger court officials are looking for a county juvenile officer who will be willing to work for $125 a month in a job which has paid $250 a month.

County Judge Norman Coffey said yesterday that Mrs. Helen Lane, whose resignation as juvenile officer becomes effective Saturday, would not be replaced unless her successor wants to work for $125.

Dallas Man Buys Texas City Paper

DALLAS—(P)—The Texas City Sun, a daily and Sunday newspaper owned by O. H. Lachenmeyer, of Cushing, Okla., was acquired today by David C. Leavell, vice president and general manager of the New Publishing Co., at Galveston. It was announced in Dallas where the transaction was closed.

A new corporation, the Mainland Publishing Co., with Leavell as president, has obtained its state charter and will publish the Sun. The new publisher of the Sun will continue in its present capacity with the Galveston News and Tribune.

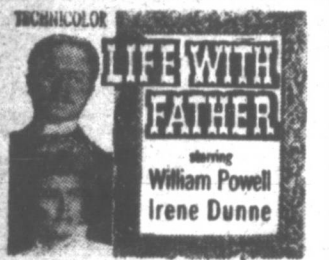

Directors of the company include J. W. Butler, president of the Texas City National Bank; W. H. Sandberg, general manager of the Texas City Terminal Railway Co., and Mr. Leavell.

Pampa's Ray Wins in Amarillo Golden Gloves Tourney, Five Local Boxers to Fight Tonight--Cooper, Stephens Meet

By BILL BEHRMAN

Approximately 3,000 boxing fans jammed the City Auditorium in Amarillo last night to witness the second night of boxing in the Amarillo Globe-News Regional Golden Gloves Boxing Tournament, and in doing so saw Donnie Ray of Shamrock, representing the Pampa district, score a second-round knockout over John Stewart of Amarillo. Ray was the smaller of the two and had lost the first round to the taller and longer armed Amarillo boy.

Tucson Open Starts Today

TUCSON, Ariz., (AP)—Plagued by continuing sub-freezing temperatures a field of 154 golfers from seven countries was to tee off today in the opening round of the 72-hole $10,000 Tucson open.

Thermometers hovered around the 20-degree mark and the weather forecast was for continued cold throughout the day with the high likely to get a few degrees above yesterday's 41.

Jimmy Demaret, Ojai, Calif., and Bobby Locke, Johannesburg, South Africa, started out as favorites but it would be no joy upset if any one of a dozen pros copped first money. This week's cold wave, that yesterday caused cancellation of the pro-amateur event, has had a living effect upon the entire field. No record breaking scores are looked for today.

Demaret was convinced that the 72-hole, 16-under-par record score of 264 he hung up last year will stand intact.

Amateurs are attracting much attention in Tucson. Doug Ford, New York, caused raised eyebrows when he led a field of 97 in the qualifying round with 68, and Frank Stranahan, Toledo, O., is a local favorite.

At the end of today's play the field will be cut to 90 pros and 10 amateurs. The tourney is being played under regular PGA rules.

Mexican League to Renew Peace Talks

MEXICO CITY.—(AP)—A long distance squabble between former Mexican Baseball League President Jorge Pasquel in New York and High Commissioner Alejandro Aguilar Reyes here apparently has cleared the air of some doubts as to who runs the show and the league plans to resume its peace talks with U. S. organized baseball.

Back in School

Buster Nicholas hangs up his high school jacket in the locker room at Valley Stream, N.Y. The 18-year-old pitcher was declared a free agent and the New York Yankees were fined $500 for signing him before he was graduated. The youngster plans to attend college before playing in organized baseball.

The commissioner, appointed last fall for the dual job of pulling the circuit out of piling deficits and making friends north of the border, resigned Sunday on reading newspaper reports here that Pasquel wanted no peace and would continue to raid U. S. diamonds for talent.

Yesterday in a long statement explaining his resignation Aguilar Reyes called Pasquel a "dictator" and warned that Mexican baseball "never has flourished under dictatorship."

Then came a telegram from Pasquel denying the statements attributed to him. The commissioner announced he was withholding his resignation pending a meeting with club presidents to hear Pasquel's story.

The commissioner, often called "the father of Mexican baseball" for his accomplishment of encouraging it from its old sand lot status to an organized league, told the Associated Press he was communicating today with Walter Mulberry of U. S. Baseball.

Mulberry came to Mexico representing Commissioner B. Chandler for preliminary talks on a baseball truce between the countries. Main points at issue are the Latin raids on U. S. teams and the status of U. S. players suspended for jumping their contracts to play south of the border.

The commissioner's temporary resignation cut short talks with Mulberry after a happy beginning, and the latter went to San Jose Purua resort on vacation.

Aguilar Reyes said he would try to reach him there or in Guadalajara, and ask him to continue talks with other club presidents.

Three of them prevented the Longhorns from having the greatest college record in the nation. In late December, Texas lost to Oklahoma A. M. & M 23-31. It meant the championship of the all-college tournament at Oklahoma City.

Ironically, it was Oklahoma A. M. & M that beat the Longhorns for the same title last year—40-39.

A SHOT IN TIME During the recent Hardin-Southern basketball game in Texas, Cecil (Sassy) Crenshaw of Hardin didn't take a shot in the full 40 minutes but he still won the game. The regulation period ended in a tie and the teams still were tied and Sassy hadn't tried a shot with 55 seconds to go in the overtime period. Finally Crenshaw grabbed the ball, dribbled in and flipped a whirling shot that was good to give Hardin a 31-49 decision.

Taylor Named Assistant Coach at Lubbock High LUBBOCK, Texas.—(AP)—Fred Taylor, former Texas Christian University football player, has been named assistant football coach at Lubbock High School. Taylor will begin duties Aug. 1.

In war and peace it's the same old China question—who will wash the dishes?

'Fuzzy' Wants a Home "Fuzzy" is an orphan. Like all orphans, he'd like a home. He can amuse people, too, as he demonstrates on the kiddie car. The pup, of unknown ancestry, is waiting his adoption at the "Chicago animal shelter."

Highway Conference To Be in Capital WASHINGTON.—Washington, D. C., has been selected as the city for the second highway transportation congress of the National Highway Users Conference. It has been announced by Arthur C. Butler, N. H. U. C. director.

The congress, to be held May 6 and 7 at the Mayflower Hotel, will be attended by representatives of many of the 1,000 national and state highway-user groups which are affiliated with the National Conference. Also attending will be officials and leaders in the automotive, petroleum, rubber and other industries.

Tomorrow night at 8 o'clock in the Junior High School Gym Pampa's undefeated Harvester basketball team will meet the Amarillo Golden Sandies in the most important game of the season for both teams, in the closely contested District 1-AA cage race.

The Harvesters, with the impressive record of 20 wins and no losses, which includes titles in both the Spearman and Childress tournaments, will be facing their roughest foe of the season tomorrow night on the local court.

Coach T. G. Hull's Sandies have a season record of 16 wins and four losses. These wins include victories over the 1947 high school champions of the states of Texas and New Mexico.

Comparing scores in each of the teams four conference games, there is not a decided margin in favor of either team, figuring that both Pampa and Amarillo would have a much easier time of it playing at home. Comparing scores: Pampa 35; Lubbock 31; Pampa 49; Borger 48; Amarillo 36; Borger 40.

Led by the sharpshooting Darrell Davis, long and lanky Harvester forward, the Green and Gold squad has racked up a total of 936 points in 20 games for an average of 47 points per game. Davis has scored 298 points from his forward position and his running mate at the other forward slot, "Arkie" Miller, is close on his heels scoring 209 points in the same number of games. Jimmy King, Harvester center, has scored a 152 point total and Raymond Hernandez, the Harvesters' great defensive half player, has racked up 129 points.

Besides Hernandez, Charlie Lafoon and Captain G. W. Gamblin will alternate at the guard spots and it will be up to these three to stop the fast type of scoring play the Sandies use.

The Sandies have averaged 45 points per game in 20 games, while allowing their opponents 41 points per game.

Led by two six-foot Senior lettermen, Bill Bybee and Doyle Watson, the Sandies have proved themselves as a pressure team. Of the six top men on the squad (all lettermen) every one has scored at least 14 points on at least one occasion and only one man, the six has not scored as many as 15 points in at least one game.

Radio Station KPBN will carry a play-by-play account of the game beginning at 8:15.

Punching Pastor Lives Up to Name LUBBOCK.—(AP)—They call him "the punching pastor" and he lives up to his name.

Randall Hinkle, a Baptist minister at 17—youngest in the South Plains country—will be one of the title contenders in the regional Golden Gloves boxing tournament here Feb. 2-5. He is a middleweight.

Hinkle is at Tahoka High School where he also has been a football star. His parents now live in Portland, Ore., but he stayed at Tahoka to finish high school.

Hinkle is a newcomer to Golden Gloves ranks. He appeared in seven bouts last year, winning six by knockouts, and the only youth to decision him continued to the Chicago tournament of champions.

He was ordained a Baptist minister in March, 1946, and has occupied pulpits in Tahoka, and throughout the South Plains.

"I live cleanly," he says. "I don't smoke or drink. I believe a boxing bout can be as beautifully clean as life itself."

Southwestern Champion Getz To Meet LaBelle on Twin Bill

Tonight's March of Dimes double-main event at the Sportatorium will feature four of the top pugilists in the grappling business when Al Getz of Pittsburgh, who at the present holds the 190-lb. Southwestern States title, battles the salty French-Canadian from Portland, Ore., Pierre LaBelle, and on the curtain raiser George Lopez, from Tampico, Mexico, will meet Leon Kirilenko, commonly called "the mad Russian."

Both Getz and LaBelle appeared in the local ring for the first time last week. Getz, in wrestling Johnny Corlin of Tampa, Fla., proved worthy of his title in doing away with the Swedish-born Corlin in a very easy manner. LaBelle outdid the fast and tricky Jack Klier of Oswego, Ore., on Promoter Burnett's curtain raiser last week.

Lopez in many appearances here has established himself as a crowd favorite. The slick Japanese-Mexican suffered his only defeat in the local ring at the hands of Corlin.

The wild and stormy Kirilenko has been acclaimed as one of the best conditioned wrestlers ever to enter a ring in the Southwest. Like many of his rough predecessors, he seems capable of any sort of cave-man tactics in the ring.

Citation, Winter Book Derby Pet, Tractable Colt HIALEAH, Fla.—(NEA)—General manager Ben Jones of Calumet says Citation is probably the most even tempered horse the Jones boys have had in some time. Trainer Jimmy Jones asserts that the Kentucky Derby winter book favorite is even more amenable to training than Armed, always one of the best in that and other respects. ON DISPLAY HERE—New 1948 models of Chevrolet went on display today at Culberson Chevrolet Company on Ballard. The maker of this automobile points to the overall simplicity and massiveness of the Fleetmaster Sport Sedan, shown above. Fenders, hood, body and door panels all blend; and the crease moulding, below the windows, is wider than that used in previous models, it is reported.

Stop Getting Excited and You'll Live Longer Is Advice by Heart Specialist

If you're in a perpetual stew of activity, anxiety, worry, jealousy, or resentment, as millions of Americans are today, stop getting excited!

That's the note of warning a noted heart specialist, Dr. Peter J. Steincrohn of Hartford, Conn., sounds in an article in the January American Magazine. His advice to those who continually fuss and fume is to reform now and learn the art of serene, leisurely living or prepare for the agonizing trouble that goes hand-in-hand with heart trouble.

"The No. 1 killer of adult Americans today is high blood pressure," and the hypertension from which it usually stems is caused primarily by chronic nervous excitement, says Dr. Steincrohn. While hypertension knows no favorites, it has a high incidence among persons who hold a grudge or hate another individual, those who are inclined to worry, brood, be jealous or envious, hard-driving business men, fanatics of race tracks or prize fights, and even among those who place high bets on their golf, bridge, or poker.

Such warring "is all right for the placid, but not for the potential hypertensives," cautions the doctor who states that high blood pressure need not kill nor inconvenience one, if he or she learns how to live with it, and the best way to do this, he relates, is to relieve inner tensions by seeking "relief from the strain of business and social life... more rest and relaxation and vacations... cutting down

Worry of FALSE TEETH

Slipping or Irritating? Don't be embarrassed by loose false teeth slipping, dropping or wobbling when you eat, talk or laugh. Just sprinkle a little FASTENTH on your plates. This pleasant powder gives a remarkable sense of added comfort and security by holding plates more firmly. No gum, no sticky taste or feeling. It's alkaline (non-acid). Get FASTENTH at any drug store.

2 Always keep a fur coat, when not in use, on a well-fitting hanger. It will lose its shape and stretch or tear if hung carelessly on hooks or nails.

3 Always hang furs in a well-ventilated closet. To keep them from peeling and losing their lustre keep a sponge in a bowl of water in the closet. Also, use a moth preventive.

4 Furs that have been in the rain must be dried slowly in a cool place. A hot radiator will singe top hairs, cause pelts to become brittle and crack. Brush, shake, or comb them out carefully after they're dry, but never comb furs of the lamb family.

5 Be sure your furs are stored during the hot summer months with an expert furrier who will inspect them for rips and worn spots. Furs should be properly cleaned before storing, never dipped in cleaning fluid.

fastened to each other by small helical springs or metal ties, they should be sandwiched between insulating pads and covered at the top and at the bottom with filling material. The most commonly used types of filling material are felted cotton layers, curled hair or a combination of both.

The comfort of solid-filled mattresses depends on natural resiliency of filling materials, say the experts. The best cotton-filled mattresses are packed with long-fibered cotton which has been felted into layers. Mattresses filled with short cotton fibers tend to mat down in use.

High quality curled hair makes a very firm mattress. For this, horsetail and cattail hair are usually preferred. Horse mane hair is a good second choice. Hog hair is usually rather stiff and less resilient.

Kapok-filled mattresses are soft and light but the fibers are apt to be perishable. Foam rubber mattresses are soft and resilient but these are still in limited supply.

Two years ago a station wagon with police escort tore through Dallas, over to Fort Worth and on to Weatherford carrying a rare type blood for transfusion to a woman injured in an automobile accident.

The bleeding woman knew she had RH negative blood, found in only 18 percent of the white population, and refused transfusion until the blood could be brought from Dallas.

Her life was saved because the blood got there in time.

Young Texas Girl to Taste Of Southern Hospitality

GREENVILLE, Miss., (AP)—Southern hospitality stretched from this Delta City to Mission, Texas, as plans neared completion for the week-long "Alice in Wonderland" Mississippi tour for fourteen-year-old Ofelia Perez.

Among those invited to attend the huge celebration which Greenville has planned for the Latin American visitor is Dr. Don Antonio Monteros, the Mexican ambassador to the United States. Also in Jackson, where the little guest of Greenville will be taken, the Governor and the State Legislature.

Several weeks ago, when the young Texas school girl wrote to the Washington County Chamber of Commerce, she asked for folders and data on Greenville and Mississippi. Ofelia closed her letter by inviting Greenvilleans to come to the Citrus festival held in Mission each year.

"Perhaps it was that invitation that got us," Chamber of Commerce Manager Bob Peck said, "but anyway, it seemed a shame that this youngster, who so badly wanted to learn about Mississippi, couldn't come up here and see first hand what she wanted to know."

"Anyway, she's coming now."

"Mission plans a big send off for the little girl and the merchants of the town have bought her a complete wardrobe in which to make her trip."

The Mission Chamber of Commerce is sending Ofelia to Houston. She is to fly from Houston to Memphis, via Chicago and Southern Airlines, arriving in the west Tennessee city at 11:30 on the third of February. Plans in Memphis call for a tour of the city and an overnight stay. The next morning, she will be flown to Greenville.

A dramatic entrance into Greenville is slated for the young lady when she lands on Greenville's Lake Ferguson in an amphibious aircraft, piloted by former Navy flyer George Ellis. An enormous crowd will be awaiting her on the Mississippi River levee.

Ofelia will be greeted by the school children of Greenville, the Boy and Girl Scouts, officers of the National Guard, the Naval Reserve unit, the Greenville High School Band, and the civic organizations along with city officials.

Following her meeting with the state officers, Ofelia and her party will be entertained by Governor's Colonel Charles Underwood, a Mississippi industrialist.

SNORING TENANT MUST NOISE-PROOF HOME

VASTERVIK, Sweden (AP)—A landlord in this little town of Vastervik gave a tenant notice because of his terrible snoring. The rent control board refused to allow eviction, but ordered the tenant to install insulating material to deaden the noise.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Are You "Hobby Hoppy?"

Funny thing about hobbies... When Ed Carey started making a model of the "Flying Cloud," it was only to rest his eyes from reading. But now he spends every spare moment ship modeling!

Wasn't long before they were working side by side on Ed's bench, sharing a common interest. Instead of keeping them apart, Ed's hobby brought them more together.

Some wives might have resented a husband suddenly shutting himself in the attic every night. But not Ed's Prudence. When she found him working late, she brought him up some beer and crackers... showed a real interest in his hobby... until finally Ed had her helping with the rigging.

From where I sit, a husband's hobby can often be a wife's as well. In fact, I've got the missus interested in tying trout flies—and, along with that mellow glass of beer, it makes the evenings go by mighty pleasantly.

Ester Club Holds Officer Election

The Ester Club met Monday evening, Jan. 26, in the home of Mrs. O. E. Wylie, 605 E. Gordon.

The president, Mrs. H. M. Cone, and the vice president, Mrs. Walter Clay, were both absent, the former because of illness in her family and the latter because of her own illness. Mrs. Wylie acted as presiding officer.

The following new officers were elected: Mrs. Clay, president; Mrs. Fay Kisham, vice president; Mrs. Leo Braswell, secretary; Mrs. Alva Phillips, treasurer; and Mrs. Wylie, reporter.

During the business session a banquet was planned for all branches of the order to honor the newly elected officers. The banquet will be held in the Palm Room at the City Hall Feb. 5.

Following the business, refreshments of hot chocolate, cookies, nuts, and mints were served. One guest, Mrs. Roy Armstrong was present.

Announcement

The Skelly-Kingsmill Club will meet Friday at 2 p.m. with Mrs. Tom Price at Skelly Camp.

About 39 percent of the tobacco and 44 percent of the cotton grown in the United States is exported.

Theta Rho Girls Club Plans Luncheon

The Theta Rho Girls Club of Pampa is making plans to serve a luncheon in the Palm Room on Saturday, Jan. 31, from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. This is the second affair of this kind the club has given. The luncheon last year was a conspicuous success.

The Theta Rho Girls went to the state meet at Mineral Wells last June and won the gold cup for teamwork, competing with Dallas, Houston and numerous other large cities.

The club plans to attend the meeting this year in Longview and to compete for higher honors. A trip to Canada with all expenses paid is the reward for the winning state team.

Mrs. Hamilton Is Honored at Shower

Mrs. Roy Armstrong, the former Vernal Hamilton, was honored Sunday with a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. O. E. Wylie, 605 E. Gordon. Hostesses were Mrs. M. S. Jenkins and Mrs. Joe Wood.

After the gifts were opened refreshments of hot punch, cookies, mints, and nuts were served. A rolling pin was used as a guest registry.

Miss Stecker Is Shower Honoree

Miss Evelyn Stecker, bride-elect of Eddie Gillbeau, Cisco, Texas, was honored at a shower on Jan. 16 in the home of Mrs. Sug Cobb, 1106 N. Russell. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Cobb were Miss Marion Littlefield and Miss Ruby Johnson.

Upon arrival the honoree was presented with a corsage of white carnations and her mother, Mrs. A. L. Stecker of Clovis, N. M., was presented with a corsage of pink carnations.

The table was covered with a lace cloth and decorated with a centerpiece of white sweetpeas and white candles. Refreshments of individual cakes, nuts and mints were served with coffee. Miss Littlefield presided at the coffee service.

Mrs. Coleman Williams was in charge of the guest registry and Miss Thelma Davidson was in charge of the gift display.

Others than those mentioned who participated in the shower were Misses Sally Mae Cobb, Valrus Dyson, Clara E. Hyde, Beuna Cox and Mesdames Georgia Johnson, Chester Shellhouse, Gloria Chisum, Manuel Powers, Harold Wright, Jim King, A. L. Sharp, Roy Lewler, Kenneth Boehm, R. R. Nation, John Hodge, W. M. Junior High 4-H Club Plans Party
The Junior High School 4-H Club met in the Science Room yesterday afternoon for the first session of the year.

After the members gathered they played a word-scrambling game then repeated the club pledge which is: "I pledge my heart to clearer thinking, my hands to greater loyalty, my health to larger service, my health to better living for my club, my community and my country."

Each member answered roll call by signing her name to a paper and telling what she liked best about Christmas or what present she liked best.

The club voted to have a Valentine party and a committee was appointed to make plans for the party. The committee consists of Beulah McMinn, Shirley Cotham, Sally Cobb, and La Junta Hargis.

Miss Ann Hastings, home demonstration agent, distributed literature of interest to girls in the club.

It was announced that the next meeting will be held in the Science Room Wednesday, Feb. 25.

Former Pampa Man Weds Borger Woman

Miss Maurine Tudor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Esterling became the bride of Milton L. Benham, son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Benham of 822 E. Frederic at 9:30 p. m. Saturday in the First Christian Church of Borger with the Rev. Black performing the double-ring ceremony.

The bride wore a suit of black and white with black accessories and her corsage was of American Beauty roses.

Miss Tommie Tudor, who attended her sister, wore a dusty rose wool dress with black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. Mr. Charles Mokey served as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride couple.

The bride is a graduate of Borger High School and is employed by the Bell Telephone Company.

The bridegroom was graduated from Pampa High School in 1946 and has been employed with the I. A. S. Shoe store of Borger. Mr. and Mrs. Benham are making their home at 623 Harvey St., Borger.

GUARDIAN ANGEL GETS A PAINT JOB
LAZNE BELOHRAD, Czechoslovakia—(AP)—A woman citizen of this little Bohemian town decided that statue of the Guardian Angel on the market square was looking drab and needed some "freshening up."

Without consulting the local authorities, the lady had the statue covered with a coat of bright paint.

The local custodian of historic monuments ruled the job "unsuitable" and ordered the lady to wash off the paint.

Wedding Rings Now Have 'Ear-Mates'

NEW YORK—(Special)—That idea of duplicating wedding rings and making them into earrings "as caught on and the 'ear-mates' are being made bigger and better today, according to O. M. Resen, the designer, who introduced the vogue.

In the newest version, the exact copy of the matrimonial band, made of white palladium, is used as a hoop dangling from a pendant ear attachment upon which a single cabochon ruby gleams. Palladium, one of the platinum metals, was selected because of its light weight. Originally the "ear-mates" were made to be worn close to the lobe.

authorities, the lady had the statue covered with a coat of bright paint.

The local custodian of historic monuments ruled the job "unsuitable" and ordered the lady to wash off the paint.

Most popular design has an orange blossom motif carved in the palladium. The finger rings and their duplicates are quite wide, in keeping with the current fashion trend.

Resen works with his wife, Dorothy, in dreaming up new ideas in wedding rings. They find that modern brides, even though they keep the same husbands, like to change the style of their rings every five years at least.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK — (AP) — I will be in science the day somebody invents a pleasant way to get up in the morning.

Until then all its victories over time and space are mere hollow mockeries, creating new urgencies to force a man out of a warm bed to meet the chaos of the machine age.

For thirty thousand years the most difficult task any human being has had to face is the problem of getting up in the morning.

In the cave days man got up because he was hungry. That is natural and the only real reason ever to crawl out of a bed. The caveman got up, shook the dew off his beard, grabbed up his club and called to his neighbors. Together they went off to the waterhole, washed an antelope or a buffalo over the noggin and dragged it home.

The wives cooked it, and the menfolk were through for the day.

Today a man rises and has to brush his teeth and shave before his wife will agree to serve breakfast. He also has to comb his hair—if the worry of modern life hasn't removed it all—put on a clean shirt and scuff his shoes along the back of his trousers so they'll look freshly shined (this leaves him enough to buy a package of cigarets).

Note that all this effort has to be expended before he sets out for the waterhole where he earns his food—his office or workshop.

Morose and wondering why he ever bothered to get up, he spends eight hours earning his share of the antelope, breathing borrowed air traded back and forth with his neighbors.

When he returns at night, homesick for his lost jungle freedom, he must resolve his family's conflicts with civilization—Junior's troubles with algebra, sister's demand to go to a movie, mama's complaint against the high cost of antelope.

The weary man sags into tired slumber—and wanders in dream the old wind-stirred forest paths where nothing more fearsome than a sabre-toothed tiger could waylay him.

It is significant, I think, that the next morning no pleas of wife or children, no stirring of his own conscience, will get him out of bed. He would rather lie there and starve.

No, years ago it was found something else was needed to make a man rise and face the horror of a mechanical world. The solution was a mechanical contrivance—the alarm clock.

Only to still its terrible jangle will the modern man reluctantly get up, paw the gun out of his eyes, and face the lesser noises of the day. But he is a shakener.

Nominations Are Sent to Senate

WASHINGTON — (AP) — President Truman has sent to the Senate these postmaster nominations for Texas:

William R. Ginnings, Frisco; Ernest A. Geyer, Jr., Hamshire; Herschel F. Gown, Keres; Robert A. White, La Porte; Homer O. Gainer, Melvin; Marvin C. Warneke, Needville; Pearl H. Hardy, Shepherd; Dessie K. Bowden, Whiteface; Richard A. Bowers, Caldwell; Louise L. Littleman, Crosby; Euna C. Kelly, Freer; Sam S. Devall, Hallettsville; Roy E. Hennington, McCaulley.

He fears the alarm clock more than he did the sabre-toothed tiger.

If science really wants to help modern man, it should develop a capsule he can swallow at night, knowing that by some dark chemical magic it will make him leap out of bed at daylight, eager to cope with a world of wheels within wheels within wheels—that never stop turning.

Research but dawdles if it can't produce a "get up" capsule—in at least four pleasant-tasting flavors.

Nine Are Named To FHA Staff

DALLAS — Nine Texas farmers, editors and educators have been named by Secretary of Agriculture Anderson to comprise the state advisory committee of the Farmers Home Administration, the FHA office here announced.

They are Herman H. Bennett, Greenville; Eugene Butler, Dallas; Walter Cardwell, Luling; O. O. Eubanks, Santa Anna; William Oscar Irving, Daingerfield; Ervin B. McLeary, Carizo Springs; Edgar B. Smith, Lampasas; Olin Stark, Quitaque; and Ide P. Trotter, College Station.

Farmers Home Administration is successor to Farm Security Administration, which began 15 years ago this month extending financial loans and technical assistance to American farmers. State Director L. J. Caplan said 123,000 farm families are in the program at present in Texas.

Set Feb. 7 as Annual Meeting Date for Canadian Valley PCA

Directors of the Canadian Valley Production Credit Association have set Saturday, Feb. 7, for the annual stockholders' meeting, according to Director H. H. Keasbey. The meeting will be held in the High School Auditorium at Canadian beginning at 9:30 a. m.

A large number of stockholders and their wives from Gray, Wheeler, Lipscomb, Hemphill, Roberts, and Ochiltree Counties is expected, Keasbey said.

This year is to be a special event in that the association is celebrating paying back all except $5,000 of the original money invested in the association by the government, stated Keasbey.

Directors of the association are: H. H. Keasbey of Gray County; Frank McMorde of Roberts County; E. E. Henderson of Wheeler County; Lloyd G. Bussard of Lipscomb County; and M. H. Smith of Hemphill County.

Nine production credit associations in Texas have voluntarily returned their last dollar of government capital to the U. S. Treasury and the other 27 associations expect to pay out in the next year or two, according to Virgil P. Lee, president of the Production Credit Corporation at Houston.

"During the past four years capital stock held by the government in the associations in Texas has been reduced from $6,500,000 to the nominal figure of $135,000," he said. "They are now 98 percent owned by some 32,000 Texas farmers and ranchmen who own $7,073,285 in capital stock backed by $4,315,144 in surplus."

Lee stated that the government now holds about $4,000,000 more capital stock than is actually required in connection with their loans, about half of which was voluntarily purchased in order to hasten full member ownership of the associations.

The 26 associations loaned more than $100,000,000 to finance Texas farm and ranch production during 1947 and collected approximately the same amount, leaving them with $31,190,865 in loans outstanding at the end of the year.

H. H. Keasbey of White Deer, president of the Canadian Valley Production Credit Association, a Canadian, says that farmers and ranchmen in this area are proud of the progress they have made in retiring their government capital and that they plan to pay off the last dollar in the next year or two. He says the association now has $231,924 paid-in capital and earned surplus. The Canadian Valley Association serves Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Roberts, Gray, Hemphill, and Wheeler Counties.

Services Held for Former Pampan

Funeral services for Dallas Venoy Barger, 26, of Oklahoma City, were held there Jan. 18. Barger, who lived in Pampa for around five years, moving to Oklahoma in 1946, was the father of Billy Marie Barger of Pampa.

Mr. Barger was killed as his car overturned near Mayville, Okla., Jan. 14. He is thought to have lost control of the car after having a heart attack.

He was co-owner of the Barger Wholesale Co. in Oklahoma City. Survivors include his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Barger of Oklahoma City; four brothers, Marion of Oklahoma City, Leroy of Coleman, Okla., Harris of Oklahoma City, and a daughter, Billy Marie Barger of Pampa.

Woman's Club Erects Community Building Against Heavy Odds

The story of how a Delaware woman's club, with little cash but much foresight, built a community meeting house is being read all over the nation this week.

The account telling how members of the Atlanta Home Demonstration Club, in lower Delaware, determined to build the meeting place when they had only $10 in cash and a $25 War Bond, is featured in the February issue of Country Gentleman.

Extensive planning was needed, the article points out, and from the start the energy, perseverance and ingenuity of club members showed themselves. The community turned out enthusiastically at a public meeting called to outline plans.

Several men offered to donate the land. Plans were drawn, and the cost was estimated at $2500 to $3000, excluding any equipment.

Soliciting funds from the surrounding territory which the place would serve, the members of the home demonstration club left no stone unturned to call on everyone in the community.

Before the project was a month old, enough money had been collected to start building. One center was hired, and men of the community agreed to contribute their labor as they could spare the time.

With the building taking shape, the women launched on a series of money-making projects. They found one of the most successful ways of raising money was combining covered-dish suppers with auction sales. The meal was very inexpensive, in order to attract larger numbers of people.

The items auctioned included homemade soap, feed-bag aprons, tea towels, crocheted centerpieces and rugs, as well as piers, flashlights, wrenches and grease guns for the men. These latter items were donated by local storekeepers, and proved good sellers.

One supper and auction increased the fund by $300. Food sales were another money-making scheme, with $100 being cleared in one day. Another of their ingenious schemes was to set up a lunch stand and sell hot dogs, coffee, pies, cake and milk at near-by farm sales.

A community horse race swelled the treasury, and chances sold on a purebred Hampshire pig at the state fair cleared another $280.

When the debt-free community hall was dedicated last May, the women estimated they had raised more than $4000 in 16 months.

State Poultry Shows Slated

CHICAGO — Texas poultry breeders will be able to continue their search for superior meat-type chickens with another state chicken show of tomorrow contest in 1948, it was announced here.

The national committee of poultry leaders supervising the property leaders meeting here, voted unanimously to continue the educational breeding contest through 1948.

The industry-wide program was originally set up on a three-year basis, with two years of state and regional contests culminating in a grand national championship this spring in Delaware. Forty top breeders throughout the nation will send eggs to these finals, where they will be hatched and raised under identical conditions.

Supervised by a sub-committee headed by H. L. Shrader, senior extension poultry husbandman of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, winners will receive $7,000 in prizes awarded by A & F Food Stores, sponsors of the contest.

The continuation of the program on an annual basis was announced by D. D. Slade of Lexington, Ky., secretary-treasurer of the International Baby Chick Association and chairman of the National Chicken of Tomorrow committee.

"Industry leaders are in complete agreement that the program should be continued," Slade said. "Therefore, at the request of the national committee, A & F Food Stores have agreed to continue their sponsorship of the program. Renewal of state contests will afford the poultry industry a golden opportunity to speed up its successful program toward the ultimate goal of finer chickens for consumers and increased returns to producers."

F. Z. Beenhossom, poultry marketing specialist of Texas A. and M. College, is chairman of the Texas Chicken of Tomorrow committee.

It was stated that the importance of the contest to Texas is indicated by latest official reports showing that the poultry industry in Texas produces approximately 54,584,000 chickens and 221,971,000 dozen eggs annually, with a market value of $72,000,000.

Seven of Texas' poultry breeders were awarded certificates of quality for their outstanding performance in 1947. Billy Gibson of Houston captured top honors in the 1947 state contest with his White Plymouth Rocks.

Don't Argue With a Cow; Pamper Her

You cannot argue with a cow, says dairy farmer Walter G. Konirsh, of Ennis, Wash.

Konirsh doesn't try to pamper her instead, he says, he registers her herd of some 75 head ranks with the ten highest-producing herds of its size in the United States.

Admitting that each of his cows has a distinct personality of her own, Konirsh has discovered some individual quirks which he passes on to readers of the February issue of Country Gentleman.

If your cow prefers to drink out of the creek instead of using her drinking cup in the barn, let her. She will show you which she prefers if you check her drinking cup for sediments of grain and hay.

If your cow drags her feet when turned out to pasture, she's bored with the same old field. Switch her pasture.

Is she restless in the barn? Maybe she doesn't get on with her next door neighbor.

Does she leave some of her food? Maybe she's sick, or her feed manger is dirty. Maybe she needs more minerals or salt mixed with her feed, or would like her grain sprinkled with molasses.

Konirsh warns that if a cow wants to be milked from her left side instead of from her right, it's futile to try to convince her that it makes no difference. The only sensible thing to do is swing your milk stool around.

This pampering has paid off on the Konirsh farm, where the herd average went up from 354 pounds of butterfat to around 500 in six years.

About 95 percent of American urban homes have running water.

If your cow drags her feet when turned out to pasture, she's bored with the same old field. Switch her pasture.

Is she restless in the barn? Maybe she doesn't get on with her next door neighbor.

Does she leave some of her food? Maybe she's sick, or her feed manger is dirty. Maybe she needs more minerals or salt mixed with her feed, or would like her grain sprinkled with molasses.

Konirsh warns that if a cow wants to be milked from her left side instead of from her right, it's futile to try to convince her that it makes no difference. The only sensible thing to do is swing your milk stool around.

This pampering has paid off on the Konirsh farm, where the herd average went up from 354 pounds of butterfat to around 500 in six years.

About 95 percent of American urban homes have running water.

Admitting that each of his cows has a distinct personality of her own, Konirsh has discovered some individual quirks which he passes on to readers of the February issue of Country Gentleman.

If your cow prefers to drink out of the creek instead of using her drinking cup in the barn, let her. She will show you which she prefers if you check her drinking cup for sediments of grain and hay.

WHAT'S AHEAD FOR PALESTINE—2 BIG SHOWDOWN DUE IN APRIL

By MAX HARRELSON
AP Newsfeatures

In implementing the plan to partition Palestine, the United Nations may strike the first snag as early as Feb. 1.

That is the date fixed by the General Assembly for Britain to make available a major port and a sizeable hinterland for the Jews to begin large-scale immigration.

PAGE 16 Pampa News, Thursday, January 29, 1948

FALLEN FOE—A member of the Palmach searches the body of an Arab, killed during the Jewish commandos' attack on the village. Young Jews from 17 to 25 are recruited for the Palmach and thoroughly trained in commando tactics. Many of them are former soldiers.

Britain already has informed the U. N. Palestine Partition Commission that she would not comply with this part of the partition plan. The commission was expected to transmit Britain's declaration to the Security Council within the next few days without comment.

British Representative Sir Alexander Cadogan also told the commission Britain would continue the present immigration quota of 1,500 a month until the mandate is terminated, May 15 or possibly earlier.

While it is generally agreed that the immigration question is a vital issue in the partition scheme, most delegates feel that failure of the British to meet the U. N. timetable would not provoke a major crisis.

April 1 is the date expected to bring the first major showdown.

That date is important for two reasons:

1. The security council must act if the commission has not set up provisional governments of the proposed countries by then.

2. The Palestine Commission itself is directed to set up an economic union if the provisional governments have not done so by April 1.

The present Arab attitude makes it possible that the council and the commission may have to try to put these two phases of the partition plan into effect over Arab defiance.

This situation is complicated further by Britain not terminating her mandate until May 15. She does not want the U. N. commission to arrive until shortly before that time.

The U. N. timetable, calling for establishment of the two independent countries by Oct. 1, makes it urgent that provisional governments be ready to function April 1.

This would allow a maximum of four months for the establishment of administrative staffs and security forces in the two countries by Aug. 1, the date Britain has set for the completion of her withdrawal. Most officials say even four months is too short to set up and train the necessary forces.

The big question, however, is how can the U. N. set up either a provisional government, an Arab security force or the proposed economic union if the Arabs refuse to cooperate. These are all specific obligations of the Palestine Commission and the Security Council. Their main task is to find a way to carry them out.

Delete Milk From Budget Cuts

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NRA Staff Writer

No matter what other food budget cuts you must make, do not cut down on milk. Instead, use more milk, vegetables and fruit as you cut down on meat, fowl and eggs. That is a basic rule of family nutrition—particularly for growing children.

Milk does a double duty. It serves as a food and a drink and contributes excellent body-building proteins, calcium, riboflavin, thiamin—all so necessary to growing boys and girls.

Children, like adults, crave variety. On occasion, flavor milk with wholesome sweeteners such as molasses, honey, home-made jam, plain malted milk powder or sugar and vanilla. Have the makings ready and let the youngsters flavor their own glassfuls.

QUICK MILK TRICKS
Honey-milk: To a glass of cold milk add 1 tablespoon molasses, honey or jam. Stir well.

Malted Milk: When using plain malted milk powder, first make a smooth paste of 1 tablespoon malted milk and a little milk. Add enough milk to make 1 cup and mix thoroughly.

Vanilla Milk: A teaspoon of sugar is plenty to flavor 1 cup of milk with just a dash of vanilla.

Old Fashioned Banana Milk

(Serves 6)
Five medium ripe bananas, 1 quart milk, 6 tablespoons molasses or honey, 1-8 teaspoon salt.

Peel bananas. Mash with a fork until smooth and creamy. Add milk, molasses or honey, and salt. Beat thoroughly with wire whisk or rotary egg beater. Pour into glasses and serve with cookies.

TOMORROW'S MENU
BREAKFAST: Stewed dried apricots, fried cornmeal mush, fried sliced-bologna, syrup, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Split pea soup with whole wheat croutons, chopped hard-cooked egg and pickle sandwiches, sliced oranges with shredded coconut, tea, vanilla milk.

DINNER: Tomato juice, creamed tuna and peas, baked potatoes, buttered broccoli, enriched bread, butter or fortified margarine, apple brown Betty with sauce, coffee, milk.

Less meat is predicted for U. S. in 1948. That may be a horse on us!

Although the ancients apparently knew zinc as a separate metal, the knowledge seems to have been lost in the Middle Ages.

The average brass contains about 70 percent copper and 30 percent zinc although other brasses are made with different proportions.

'Farm-Bred'

Caren Marsh, 22-year-old Hollywood starlet, has never been on a farm in her life. Yet she was named most typically farm-bred by producers and given the movie role of a 4-H girl.
