Bus-Car Crash Fatal To Five, Twenty Injured

HYDRO, Okla., Aug. 6 (UP)—An express Greyhound bus and an automobile collided on a bridge near both plunged 40 feet into a canyon west of here Thursday. Five persons were killed and 20 injured.

Deputy Sheriff E. W. Lewis said at the scene the death toll might climb to "eight or 10."

Oklahoma Highway Patrol Lt. Jack Rollins said the bus landed on its side in knee-deep water in the narrow canyon and "split open." Part of the occupants were swept out onto the banks and others were trapped in the wreckage until freed by axes and backhoes.

Dead Not Identified
The patrol could not immediately identify the dead.

The crash occurred about one mile west of here on U.S. 66 shortly before sunrise. The bus was en route from Los Angeles, Calif., to Oklahoma City. The scene is just two miles west of where another Greyhound bus was caught by a flash flood five years ago in which 11 persons were drowned.

The driver of the automobile was tentatively identified as Manuel E. Wilkey of the Yuma test station, near Yuma, Ariz. He was critically injured.

It was not known whether there were other occupants in the car. Rollins said among the dead were a baby, a man and three women.

Driver Critically Hurt
The bus driver, William Frait, Oklahoma City, was critically hurt and was pinned in the wreckage more than 30 minutes before rescuers could free him. He was unable to talk. He suffered a broken hip, internal injuries and severe cuts.

Wheat Vote Meeting Set
Informational meetings for farmers and wives eligible to vote in the national wheat marketing quota referendum Aug. 14, a r. g. scheduled next week in three communities of Gray County.

A meeting at the Grandview school building will be held at 8 p. m. Monday; at the McLean grade school cafeteria, at 8 p. m. Tuesday; and in the county court room at 8 p. m. Tuesday.

Discussions of the program will be led by Ralph Thomas, county agent, with members of the county committees of the Production and Marketing Administration present to answer questions.

The vote, to be made on a nationwide basis, will determine whether wheat farmers want marketing quotas for 1954.

If 2-3 majority favor the quotas, Thomas pointed out, wheat will be supported at 90 per cent of parity as of May, 1954, for all farmers staying within wheat acreage allotments.

If quotas are rejected, he said, allotments will still be in effect and wheat will be supported at 80 per cent of parity for farmers who stay within allotments.

Nine Texans Are Released

By UNITED PRESS
Nine more Texas families had joyful news Thursday after the second group of Americans was freed by Communists in Korea.

For some it was the first word that the men were still alive. The nine Texans released Wednesday, with their next of kin, are:

Pvt. William H. Hubbard, son of Joe Henry Hubbard, 1507 Austin Highway, San Antonio.
Pfc. Jose Sanchez, son of Luisa Sanchez, 218 Ramon St., Del Rio.
Cpl. Fred Garza Jr., son of Fred Garza Sr., 118 West Clark St., Pharr.

Pfc. Ricardo DeLeon, son of Anita Leal DeLeon 1416 Madero St., Corpus Christi.
Pfc. Alfred G. Ramirez, son of Andrea Guerra Ramirez, 612 Illinois St., Robstown.
El Pasion Listed
Cpl. Jose G. Navarro, son of De-Ciderio Navarro, 800 South Ochoa St., El Paso (the father now lives in Juarez, Mex.).

Pfc. Enrique Pena, son of Benita Avila Pena, 1556 Roosevelt St., Brownsville.
Pvt. Martin C. Guerrero, son of Helena Guerrero, 11 Hedges St., San Antonio.
Cpl. Joe E. Ramirez, son of Isabel Ayala Ramirez, 7219 Ave. L, Houston.

As with the first group, some of the freed men had not been able to contact their families, and some mothers and fathers had heard nothing since the men were reported missing in Korean fighting.

Hadn't Heard From Son
Mrs. DeLeon said at Corpus Christi she hadn't heard from her son since he was captured.

"I've been waiting... sitting by the radio and watching the newspapers for any news," she said. When told by the United Press her son was free, she exclaimed: "I'm very, very happy. I'm so excited, I can't stand it."

DeLeon had been a prisoner since April 22, 1951.

Sheriffs Select Pampa Sweetheart
FORT WORTH — A Panhandle sheriff and a Panhandle sheriff's daughter won top places in the 1953 Texas Sheriff's Association convention here yesterday.

Ann Jordan, daughter of Gray County's Sheriff Rufe Jordan, was named association sweetheart while Hugh Anderson, neighboring Hutchinson County sheriff, was a named president of the organization for the ensuing year.

Clark Claims Reds Holding Out In Switch

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (UP)—Gen. Mark W. Clark, Far Eastern commander, said Thursday the Communists may hold from 2,000 to 3,000 more American prisoners than they have agreed to return as part of the armistice.

"We have certain evidence indicating they (the Communists) have more Americans," Clark told a news conference at the Pentagon.

The Communists have agreed to a news conference at the Pentagon. Clark said the Communist total is "not far from the number of American prisoners we estimated the Communists held for sure."

But, at the same time, he said, the United States has "other information that leads us to believe they have more."

Clark said the evidence in American hands is not so certain that this country could make flat charges that the Communists hold more prisoners than they have admitted.

But he said the United States intends to press the issue at the armistice commission. And if unsuccessful in getting a satisfactory answer there, the United States will turn the question over to the forthcoming political peace conference.

The United States list 2,705 American soldiers as "missing in action" in Korea. The mystery of what happened to them may be partially—and tragically solved in the next few days when the Reds submit a list of prisoners who have died.

Commissioners Work And Watch Parade
County commissioners yesterday took advantage of the annual Top o' Texas Rodeo parade and got together early in the afternoon to work out some final figures for the county budget.

The commissioners met in County Judge J. B. Maguire's office, but quit in time to do what three of them came to Pampa mostly for yesterday—watch the parade.

Locals Await POW News
Relatives of Pampa's two known Korean prisoners of war are still awaiting their first word from the prisoners since the current exchange began.

The last letters from the prisoners, James William Hart, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hart, 1012 E. Twiford, and Eugene Williams, whose family resides at 633 N. Naida, were received July 4 of this year.

Fear Grows Over Missing Captives

PANMUNJOM, Friday, Aug. 7 (UP)—The Communists promised to return 81 more "healthy" Americans at Freedom Gate Friday, but the joy over their return was dimmed by the growing fear that thousands of other captured Americans may never come back.

Three returning Americans now have told of fellow prisoners being sentenced by the Reds on phony charges of endangering the lives of other prisoners or "instigating against peace."

In Washington Thursday, Gen. Mark Clark, Far East commander, said the Reds may hold from 2,000 to 3,000 more American prisoners than they have admitted.

The 81 Americans to be returned Friday will bring to 221 the total released by the Reds in the first three days of "Big Switch."

Seventy Americans came back to freedom Thursday, most of them looking like victims of the Nazi torture camps of Dachau and Buchenwald.

They hobbled on canes or crudely-fashioned crutches to the reception tents for identification and preliminary medical examination. Some left the Communist ambulances on stretchers.

Two Americans were unconscious. They were not identified.

One of the South Koreans was returned dead. Another ROK soldier was a living skeleton who tried to pull his tightened skin over his teeth to smile but couldn't.

Marines are shocked on duty at the reception center were shocked by the appearance of the gaunt, haggard shells of men.

A dazed Negro soldier stood like a robot on the tailgate of his truck and toppled into the arms of medics.

The 45 Americans arriving in the first two Russian truck convoys from Kaesong were in worse condition than the 70 Americans released in the first exchange Wednesday, and more than half of that group had tuberculosis. The remaining 25 seemed in better condition and spirits.

The Communists assured the United Nations all of the 81 Americans to be returned Friday in the third phase of "Operation Big Switch" are "healthy." But that was the description the Reds gave of the limping South Koreans returned Thursday.

There were more tales of Communist atrocities, with specific details of torture.

Chinese Water Torture Reported
Lt. Col. Thomas D. Harrison of 720 Sheldon St., Clovis, N. M., a distant cousin of Chief UN truce negotiator Lt. Gen. William K. Harrison, left a leg in North Korea. The Communists amputated it after he smashed it in a plane crash that led to his capture.

RIDING TIGHT — One of the best saddle bronc rides of the first half of the first go-round was provided by Bill Barton, Abilene, who stuck to his mount for the required eight seconds. He rode tight to the saddle for the full time—just as he's shown here. Barton was one of six who stayed aboard his mount; there were 15 competing Wednesday night in this event. (News Photo)

Second Show Tonight

The hundreds of cowboys entered in the ninth annual Top o' Texas Rodeo today were preparing for the second half of the first go-round tonight and the first day money pay-off Friday morning.

Second performance of this year's rodeo is scheduled to get underway at 8 p. m. today at Recreation Park and first go-round winners will be determined from performances Wednesday night and tonight.

Winners will be able to collect their day-money Friday morning in the city hall's rodeo headquarters, officials said today.

A capacity crowd—"quite a bit more than 6,000 persons"—buffeted by a mild breeze and lit up by a hazy red setting sun were on hand at 8 p. m. Wednesday for the first performance by adult cowboys and cowgirls, some 300 to 400 of them having been registered for the rodeo.

Pampans and Oklahomans were the winners about half the time in the four rodeo events for which there were timed results recorded.

Gene Hayes, Arnett, Okla., took top honors in Wednesday's calf roping contest with a time of 18.3 seconds. But he was closely followed by a Pampa, Buddy Cockrell, with 17.1 Third was Johnny Freeman, Cheyenne, Okla., with 19.8.

Fastest time in the bulldogging was turned in by a McLean waddie, Glenn Green, with 18. Nearest to him were E. J. Freeman, Clyde, with 22.3 and James Jones, Crowell, with 34.4. Green was the last cowboy to perform and came in first.

Top three cowpokes in the double muggin' classic were only 1.7 seconds apart. H. E. Taylor Jr., Pampa, took it with a time of 24.2—and he was the last one to perform. Top Second was Johnny Freeman, Cheyenne, Okla., with 25.5 and Third was Tooter Henry, Pampa, with 25.9.

Fifteen area cowgirls were entered in the Cowgirl Sponsor Contest, but some of those looking on were convinced there was something wrong about No. 15. They were right—it was "Minnie Pearl," (See PAMPANS, Page 2)

Newsomes Tops In Bull Riding
The Newsome family is really taking a ride from those bulls.

Last year Freddie Newsome, Lefors, stole the opening performance with his dogged determination to down a rubber-necked bull. It took him two minutes, 16.1 seconds.

Wednesday night his brother, Bobby, had some more of the Newsome luck—it took him one minute, 44.5 seconds to master his critter.

And he downed it about the same spot that his brother did last year. Down at the north end, near the stands.

"Whether he'll be able to duplicate Freddie's feat of grabbing the money from the Brahms in the 'Gold Rush' remains to be seen."

Shower Puts Rodeo Arena In A-1 Shape

Early morning showers in the eastern Panhandle area ranged from .04 of an inch at the KPDN transmitter to one and one-half inches in Wheeler County, bringing much needed moisture to southern Gray County and just enough to wet down the dust at the Top o' Texas rodeo arena at Recreation Park.

White Deer didn't get a drop while mid-town Pampa cooled off under a 2:30 a. m. shower getting up to .18 of an inch.

Canadian had two light showers, one at 3 a. m. and another about daybreak.

Paul Crouch, president of the Top o' Texas Rodeo Association, said it was a perfect rainfall for the arena.

"If we would have sprinkled it, that is just how much water we would have put on it. It knocked down the dust just enough so it will be perfect for parking and working the show."

The arena is close to the KPDN rain gauge which measured the .09 reading.

There was no damage from the one and one-half inches which pelted Wheeler between 5 and 8 a. m. today despite a considerable bit of thunder and lightning.

McLean took in .89 of an inch of rain in 25 minutes at 4:20 a. m. today. But only one-half inch fell about 10 miles south of McLean. Feed crops and cotton crops are expected to benefit heavily from the showers, sources there said.

Steers Hurt Rodeo Hazer

The life of a rodeo hazer—and his horse—is not an easy one.

Gordon Rutledge, Lefors, was out in the arena Wednesday night trying his hand at steer-wrestling when not one but two steers broke out from their enclosure and headed for the waddies lined up by the fence.

One of them came right out the top of the chute.

As Rutledge completed his run, his hazer succeeded in chasing the steers back in the center runway—only to have someone close the gate on him as he went through.

Injuring his horse, the blow also banged up the cowpoke's left arm and side.

The cowboy rushed over to check his horse, then limped slowly off.

CALL HIM 'BLACK JACK'

By RO ELLISON
Pampa News Staff Writer
"Black Jack" Fletcher who produced laughs 7,000 strong at the opening performance of this week's Top o' Texas Rodeo at Recreation Park, is no ordinary rodeo clown.

His ride as "Minnie Pearl" of Nashville, Tenn., home of radio's Grand Ole Opry, in the cowgirl sponsor contest was just one of his many arena antics that mark him as one of the best clowns Top o' Texas Rodeo fans have seen.

A cowboy and rancher from the day he was born, 45 years ago in Leedy, Okla., this clown knows all about the life of the old cowpuncher and rodeo performer through experience.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 (UP)—President and Mrs. Eisenhower will fly to Denver, Colo., Saturday for an extended vacation, the White House announced Thursday.

Wreck Kills Five

SEMINOLE, Tex., Aug. 6 (UP)—Five persons, including two New Mexico highway patrolmen, were killed in a two-automobile collision on U. S. 150, about 15 miles west of Seminole late Wednesday.

The New Mexico law enforcement officers were driving to Seminole to attend the funeral of Gaines County Sheriff R. L. McReynolds, who was killed Monday in a one-car accident near Cross Plains in Callahan county.

Joe Aven, 33, a highway patrolman from Hobbs, N. M., died at Lea General hospital there at 12:35 a. m. Thursday from injuries received when the automobile he occupied collided with one occupied by a group of Chicagoans.

Four persons, including Sgt. John C. Ramsey, 39, another New Mexico patrolman from Hobbs, died instantly in the crash.

Other dead were identified as Mrs. Antoinette Marovitch, 28; Mrs. Ursula Elizabeth Marovitch, 30; and Joe Kalec Jr., 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kalec, all of Chicago.

Among three other persons injured, Mrs. Mary Marovitch, 35, of Chicago, remained in critical condition Thursday. She and Bill Long, acting Hobbs police chief, were also at Lea General hospital.

Mrs. Ann M. Kalec, 27, mother of the dead child, also was injured. Aven suffered a fractured skull and internal injuries.

Investigating officers said the crash apparently occurred when the Illinois automobile attempted to pass a third car.

relative who negotiated the armistice that set him free, said the Communists beat him "with clubs and sticks" and gave him the ancient, torturous Chinese "water treatment" by dropping water incessantly over a towel wrapped around his face.

Maj. John C. Harlan, 48, of Institute, W. Va., confirmed reports American officers in Red barbed-wire enclosures had been sentenced to prison terms.

Cpl. John W. James Jr., 22, of Jones Creek, Md., said the Reds dragged Americans down a road in his camp and "we could hear them screaming at night."

"Make Way for a Free Man" James said the Reds tried to create racial friction in the camp and succeeded in setting a captive of Mexican descent against other Americans.

Most of the returnees did not want to talk. Others were too weak to speak above a whisper.

The Communists delivered only 392 prisoners Thursday, eight short of the 400 they had promised to release daily until all 12,765 of their captives, including 5,313 Americans, are liberated. Thus far, 140 Americans have returned to freedom.

The men who came back Thursday wore ragged uniforms and rubber-soled sneakers. Some of them were tattooed GI caps.

His family includes his wife and two daughters, Gayle, Oleta, 5, and Lela, 13, and Lola Faye, 11, the whole family accompanied their clowning father on most trips.

This year's show, the clown says, is one of the fastest and best he has ever worked, including the ones in Dallas, Phoenix and Guthrie, Okla. He accredits this to the arena director, Goal Mayo.

Today's acts will feature a quadruple feat with his daughter, Silver, Hundred Dollars and, of course, "Black Jack."

PAMPANS

A Woodward, Okla., cowboy, Helen Harrison, turned in the top time (16.3 seconds) in the barrel race.

Two other Oklahoma girls—Darlene Hall, Leedey, and Ruby Freeman, Cheyenne—led for second place with twin times of 18.7.

Fourth was Phillip Ferguson, Woodward, with 21.5.

The bareback bronc riding event, which was divided into three sections, provided its thrills for riders from a five-state area—plus one cowboy from Walla Walla, Wash.—for only 11 of the 27 cowboys entered in the event managed to stay aboard their mounts the required eight seconds.

Just two-fifths of the 15 cowboys who competed in the saddle bronc riding competition were able to remain atop their mounts for the required eight seconds.

Those Brahmas bulls, as always, really gave the waddies the hard time of all. Only five of the 18 cowboys who competed Wednesday night managed to ride out the full eight seconds.

No results on the bareback bronc riding, saddle bronc riding and bull riding events will be announced until tonight's performances round out the first go-round, rodeo officials emphasized.

In the cutting horse contest—an event always considered "strictly for the boys"—Steele, ridden by Phil Williams, Tokio, compiled 149 points. Second was Daffodil (Tina Williams, Pampa) with 137 and third was Shylow (Bill Gage, Holiday) with 122. No final results can be given until Saturday night when the three finalists compete.

Wednesday night's Grand Entry, colorfully described by Announcer Nat Fleming, included riding groups from Liberal, Kan.; Hedley, Erick, Okla.; McLean and, of course, Pampa. All officials of the rodeo association and visiting clubs were individually introduced and rode out into the arena.

Not a single cowpoke was able to grab the $500 off the wild-Brahma bull in the "Gold Rush." Same stakes — and the same horns — will be on hand tonight.

All the featured performers of this year's rodeo had their moment. They included Hollywood's Buster, Black Jack Fletcher, George and Wayne Phillips' ponies and a buggies and the Vagabonders, trampoline artists.

Pick-up men for the show were Swebbe Swenson and Sonny Mayo, the latter, the son of Goal Mayo, arena director. Judges were George Dillman, Pampa, starting judge; J. D. Croft, Jacksboro, field judge; Roy Mitchell, Stratford, and Jimmie Phippen, Albany, riding judge; Rufus Jordan and John Wilkinson, both of Pampa, timekeepers.

Deadline is 5 p.m. today for buying rodeo tickets in rodeo headquarters for tonight's performance. Remaining tickets will be sold at Recreation Park.

Strictly speaking, only the male of the peafowl should be called a peacock. The female properly is called a peahen.

Feed Regulations To Be Discussed

Members of the Gray County Drouth Relief committee were to meet in the county agent's office this afternoon to discuss with local feed mixers and dealers a new regulation of the federal aid program regarding mixtures of government feed with other types to be offered to farmers at a reduced price.

All points on the program were not clear this morning, Ralph Thomas, county agent and committee member, stated, and regulations were to be discussed before any type of program could be put into effect in Gray County.

Meantime, previous orders for emergency feed were being filled today from two carloads of cottonseed pellets which arrived in Pampa yesterday afternoon.

Feed is coming in right along now, Miss Evelyn Mason, Production manager, stated, but many orders have not yet been filled. Distribution is made according to time orders were placed.

The new feed mixture program will not affect orders made previously by area farmers, but will be set up under a different-type program, Thomas pointed out.

Two Await Action On Driving Charges Here

Two Pampans were in county court late this morning awaiting action on charges of driving while intoxicated.

Both V. R. Billingsley, 35, and Lawrence Forrest, 33, were picked up Wednesday night and lodged in jail overnight.

Rayburn Attacks GOP Leadership

WASHINGTON, Aug. 6 —UP—House Democratic leader Sam Rayburn said Thursday the voters who demanded a change in last November's election "are getting it—with a vengeance."

Attacking the Eisenhower administration and the Republican majority of the 83rd Congress, he charged that taxes have been increased instead of cut under the new regime; prices have gone up instead of down, U. S. defenses have been reduced "to a dangerous low" and "the budget is more unbalanced than they found it."

The Texas Democrat ridiculed the "so-called accomplishments" of the recent congressional session as President Eisenhower prepared to defend the GOP record in a nation-wide broadcast Thursday night. Mr. Eisenhower will speak over all radio networks at 7:30 p. m. CDT.

Rayburn's statement was inserted in the Congressional Record, a traditional repository of partisan post-mortems on the achievements of each session of Congress.

House Republican leader Charles A. Halleck (Ind.) had his say for the record Wednesday, declaring that the GOP majority had "dramatically out a solid record of accomplishment on behalf of a free, strong and prosperous America."

Deriding that claim, Rayburn said Mr. Eisenhower "must be unhappy" with the showing the Republicans made during their first half year in office.

"They have failed to keep their 1952 campaign pledges," he said.

Soviet Council Debates Budget

MOSCOW, Aug. 6 —UP—The Supreme Soviet's council of nationalities convened Thursday to debate Finance Minister Arseni Zverev's 530.5 billion ruble ($132,625,000,000) budget.

Zverev presented the budget report to a joint session of the Supreme Soviet, Russia's parliament, after it convened Wednesday.

He said expenditures would amount to 630.5 billion rubles and estimated income would total 543.3 billion rubles ($135,825,000,000).

Under provisions of the new budget, the Soviet Union expects to cut its defense outlay for the coming year by 2.2 per cent, or 3.6 billion rubles ($900 million) below that for the previous year.

EDSON IN WASHINGTON ***

Cries Of Socialism Follow Niagara Power Discussion

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The three-way battle for authority to develop hydroelectric power resources of the Niagara River, below Niagara Falls, is apparently going to be decided by the U.S. Senate on the basis of how much "socialism" there is in it.

This is the eastern equivalent to the Hell's Canyon fight in the west. How it is settled will play a big part in determining the Eisenhower Administration's electric power policy.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey came to Washington to deny that there was any "socialism" in his proposal to have the New York State Power Authority develop and market the Niagara power.

But New York private power companies have been waging a heavy public relations campaign to argue that there was no difference between federal socialism and state socialism, and that Governor Dewey's proposal was state socialism.

The Committee for Constitutional Government, with headquarters in New York, has also been conducting a heavy mail barrage on Washington to convince Congress that Governor Dewey's program is socialism. Included in this organization's exhibits are leaflets headed, "Denationalize Electric Power," by Prof. O. Glenn Saxon of Yale; and "Federal Socialization of Electric Power," by ex-President Herbert Hoover.

Governor Dewey Declares Curiously enough, in his statement before the Senate Public Works Committee, Governor Dewey declared that before he could be convicted of socialism, it would be necessary to convict Theodore Roosevelt, Charles Evans Hughes and Herbert Hoover, sponsor of the Hoover dam.

Thus an apparent effort was being made to use ex-President Hoover as a witness on both sides of the argument. But Governor Dewey insisted that the argument of socialism was dead.

"Suppose someone called it 'creeping socialism,'" Sen. Albert Gore of Tennessee asked. After the laughter died down, Governor Dewey replied that if it was creeping socialism, it did its creeping 30 years ago and was now old.

"I find that I am now being accused of being a radical," said Governor Dewey, "whereas before, I was always called a conservative. But I still stand exactly where I have always stood."

Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon broke in here to observe wryly, "That's what always happens when you adopt a liberal idea, and everybody laughed again."

All three of the congressional proposals on Niagara power development start out by declaring an intent to preserve the scenic beauty of Niagara Falls. What the fight is about is whether this $600 million, two billion kilowatts of electric energy shall be controlled by the federal government, the state of

New York, or five private power companies.

House Has Made Choice. The House of Representatives has already made its choice—in favor of the private power companies. By a vote of 282 to 120, on July 9, the House passed the Dondero-Miller bill, directing the Federal Power Commission to issue licenses to the private companies.

In so doing, the House passed up Rep. Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr.'s bill to authorize the Army Corps of Engineers to do the work, and Rep. Frank J. Becker's proposal to let the New York State Power Authority do the job.

So now the project lies before the Senate. Here Sen. Herbert Lehman of New York supports federal government development. Sen. Homer Capehart of Indiana supports the House-passed Miller Dondero bill for private enterprise development. And Sen. Irving M. Ives of New York supports his state's Power Authority plans.

The fact that the Congress itself is making this decision, instead of the Federal Power Commission which was created by Congress in 1920 to decide these things, is due to a legislative fluke.

FPC, early in July, announced it would issue a license to develop the St. Lawrence power projects. But in 1950, when the U.S. Senate ratified the treaty with Canada on joint St. Lawrence development, a rider was attached. It specified that "no project for the development of such waters shall be undertaken until it can be specifically authorized by Act of Congress."

If the Senate now passes the House-passed Dondero-Miller bill giving the license for Niagara development to the five companies, Governor Dewey has indicated he will challenge the constitutionality of the act.

Logical Anyway LONG BEACH, Calif., Aug. 5.—UP—Used car dealer Leslie Kaylor, arrested for speeding at 105 miles an hour, offered this excuse: "I was trying to beat my wife home. She's been out of town."

General Tells Why Air Force Fell Short Of Goal In Korea

EDITOR'S NOTE — During most of the 37 months of the Korean war, the Fifth Air Force pounded Communist supply lines. The program of interdiction never succeeded in thoroughly smashing the Red supply lines or cutting off the flow of the tools of war from Russia and Manchuria. In the following dispatch United Press Staff Correspondent Warren Franklin tells why the Air Force fell short of its goal in this "different sort of war."

By WARREN FRANKLIN
SEOUL, Aug. 6.—The commanding general of the Fifth Air Force said Wednesday it was "impossible" for Air Force bombers and strafing to stop the flow of Red supplies from Manchuria to the front during the Korean war. Lt. Gen. Samuel Anderson said in an exclusive interview this was true largely because the Koreans used a "different kind of war," fought under strange rules against an unconventional enemy. The rules: Fifth Air Force planes could not cross the Yalu River front.

Mystery Is Solved
NORMAN, Okla., Aug. 6.—UP—A highway patrol examiner Thursday had solved a mystery. He gave driving tests to 21 teachers who had just finished a driver training course. But he found 23 papers to grade. Then he recalled a man had driven up a little late and went through the required tests and steps without saying a word. Examiner Tony Scaramico decided the test hadn't hurt the man who obviously was not a member of the class. The extra driver lost 36 points on his scorecard for poor driving.

Clairvoyant Shows 'Cured' Customers

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—UP—The rather large lady in the black lace dress looked across the room and said to me: "You are a sick man. You will have an operation within two months." I left from my confusion and let the lady know I never felt better in my life. I did a version of the Charleston to prove it. Trouble Is In Stomach "I feel sorry for you newspapermen," said Gertrude A. Anderson, a Washington clairvoyant, "you chase fires, fight deadlines, and are always broke. But I love you. Some of you are my best customers." The lady appeared before a group of newsmen to plug a new picture ("All I Desire"), which is a story about the complexities of today's married life. "I asked 'Mother' Anderson, as she is known around Capitol Hill, if she could locate the region of my trouble. "Yes," she said, without hesitation, "it will be upon your stomach."

"Officers?" I asked. "You'll find out," she answered, leaving me in complete comfort. Girls Tell of Help Anyhow, at the conference, "Mother" Anderson produced some government girls she had helped. Some with love problems, one a dope addict, another who once had a hankering to do her husband in for infidelity. The girls appeared before us, wearing black masks. Each told her story and how "Mother A." saved her from a horrible fate. Their stories had happy endings. The dope girl doesn't smoke the weed anymore. "Miss B" didn't

Government Worried Over Small Debt It Cannot Pay

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—UP—A little man I know has the biggest budget in the world out of line. To be exact, $12.71 out of kilter. You might say that the federal debt now upwards of $270,000,000,000, is at the moment upwards of $270,000,000,012.71.

The $12.71 is owing to lawyer Robert M. Wolfe, who is only 5 feet 5. He works for the government, which sent him to New York on business early in 1951. Must Have Stub
Government workers on the road are allowed $9 a day to cover hotel rooms and meals—plus transportation tickets. But in order to prove that a man went where he was sent, he must produce the stubs of his train tickets or carbon duplicates of airline tickets. No tickets, no per diem.

The way our man figures it, Uncle Sam owes him the following: The per diem—$9.00. Fines—$11.71. A necessary trip on the Long Island Railroad (to save $4.95 in taxis for the government)—$1.26. Taxes—$12.71. Bought Niece's Scarf
The gum and soft drinks our Wolfe man bought were on him. Also tips and the scarf he picked up for Mona Lou, his little niece, in Macy's basement. Wolfe would like to have the $12.71. He can't get it. Uncle Sam would like to pay off, but under the complicated system of government accounting that is not possible. The way Wolfe figures it, while he was paying for the scarf for little Mona Lou, those parlor car stubs must have slipped to the

Britain, Egypt May Settle Haggling Over Suez Canal

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst
Since 1946, often accompanied by bloodshed, the British and Egyptians have been haggling over the future of the Suez Canal. Thursday they resume negotiations under conditions which all parties seem to agree offer the best chance yet of success. The remaining issues are comparatively simple but settlement has been made difficult by emotions, particularly on the side of the Egyptians. For years under the now-deposed King Farouk and the Wafdist party British occupation of Suez was used as a political football to cover up Egypt's own internal shortcomings.

Britain's Skirts Aren't Clean
Emotions aroused under Farouk and the Wafdist carried over in the regime of Gen. Mohammed Naguib who has proved himself a reasonable negotiator but who cannot afford to overlook Egyptian nationalism. Nor are Britain's skirts entirely clean. The Suez Canal is now nearly 100 years old and has been under British control since they moved into Egypt in 1854.

Eisenhower Sees Pact
WASHINGTON, Aug. 6.—UP—Gen. Mark W. Clark, Far East commander, has shown President Eisenhower the original 18-nation truce document which ended the shooting in Korea. The President posed for photographs in his office with Clark.

Egypt was recognized as an independent state in 1922 but Britain continued to handle her defenses, including defense of the strategic canal. Garrison Size Is Sore Point
In 1936, the two nations negotiated a treaty of alliance which gave Britain the right to maintain 10,000 men and 400 airplanes in the zone for defense of the canal, but which also provided the British troops would get out when "the Egyptian army is in a position to ensure by its own resources the liberty and entire security of navigation of the canal." An increasingly sore point with the Egyptians is the fact that instead of the 10,000 men allowed under the treaty, the British garrison actually is eight times that size. On their side, the British, in effect, accuse the Egyptian nationalists of cutting off their noses to spite their face.

Problem Summarized
They say the Egyptians, in their anxiety to get rid of the British troops, overlook completely Suez's value to the whole world and particularly to a potential enemy. In the words of a British War Office spokesman: "The Middle East offers a glittering prize. The oil resources of the area are almost unlimited. An advance here would put Russian forces on the Mediterranean and the Persian Gulf, and would sever at once Britain's communications with the Far East." There is a nutshell is Britain's problem.

Root Of Trouble

One of the greatest problems of present-day life and society is that of the home.

It is constantly emphasized that at the root of juvenile delinquency is poor home life, with lack of parental guidance and control, and often serious delinquencies in the parents themselves. Nor are such parental delinquencies confined to the poor, illiterate, and underprivileged.

Careless, self-indulgent, and undisciplined parents, rich and poor, must bear their share of responsibility; but one must deprecate a common tendency to blame parents for everything. Among professional and amateur psychologists, who parade their views in public, it is almost a proverbial maxim that parents are always wrong.

But even the wisest, best intentioned, and best disciplined of parents are today faced with conditions that make help and guidance in child training and the direction of youth difficult and uncertain. The finest home has to contend with forces and influences outside of the home that tend to offset all that the home can do. These outside influences have youth for longer periods than the home itself.

A more serious factor, however, is the low standards of conduct that are so widely prevalent. We live in a so-called Christian land, in which the vast number of Christian churches, Protestant and Roman Catholic, and the Jewish synagogues and temples, and institutions of other religions, ought to typify high and wholesome ideals, evidenced in character and conduct.

Unfortunately, without being pessimistic about it, or disregarding the actual wholesome influences of all these institutions of religion, we have to face the fact that a widespread secularism, materialism, and low morality, is all too evident. And this debasement of ideals seems to have increased in recent years.

If youth was surrounded by the example and demands of Christian standards and ideals, outside of the home as well as inside, the problem would not be so acute. Influences for good would be everywhere prevalent.

Thus, the problem of homelife, and the discipline, guidance, and shaping of the generation of tomorrow, comes down to the matter of raising the general level of society. We need a little more of that Puritan conscience if we can have it without the intolerance and hypocrisy which sometimes marred its purity and purpose. At its best the Puritan conscience meant Christianity in action, and its best is badly needed in a world in which distinctions between right and wrong are often sadly blurred.

Tax Dollar Shrinks

There is no such thing as free money from the federal government. Grants-in-aid, subsidies or other such handouts can come only after the necessary wherewithal has been taken from us in taxes. The growing realization of this fact in all parts of the country is the best sign in a long time that government economy, a balanced budget, and lower taxes are possible.

The new trend in thinking is well exemplified in statements made by the Missouri Public Expenditure Survey, which recommends that the national government reduce or relinquish as soon as practicable those taxes and functions which can effectively be administered by state and local government. In Missouri, according to the survey, "not only does the taxpayer pay in taxes to the federal government for the aid the state receives, but finds that in the process of passing from the taxpayer to the federal government and then back to the state the original dollar has undergone considerable shrinkage."

As a matter of fact, $86,000,000 more is collected in federal excise taxes alone in Missouri than is returned through the 45 federal aid and subsidy programs operating in the state. Obviously, if it had some of the tax sources within its borders now utilized by the federal government, Missouri could easily assume responsibility for many of the programs now undertaken in Washington.

The new Commission of Inter-government Relations approved by Congress at the request of President Eisenhower will probably recommend far-reaching changes which may do much to restore to local governments freedoms, rights, and responsibilities they have been relinquishing to the false god of central authority.

The Story Of GM

By anybody's yardstick, General Motors is big business with a capital B. Its 1952 sales amounted to $7,549,154,419. The story of what happened to this money gives a cross section view of America's social and economic life. It demonstrates the malicious inaccuracy of the common charge that big business is necessarily bad.

In the first place, the company provided jobs for 458,680 workers to whom it paid $2,020,536,713 in salaries and wages. Government took a huge chunk of GM income—a total of $1,107,000,000 in taxes, which was over half the amount paid to employees.

Thousands of large and small companies supplying materials of all kinds received 48 1/2 cents of each GM dollar. With 487,624 stockholder-owners, General Motors is in the trust sense a publicly owned enterprise. In return for the use of their savings, which made the business possible, these stockholders received 4 3/4 cents of each income dollar, or a total of $361,969,352; one-third of the government's tax profit.

It would be a sad day for the American people and the United States Treasury if such companies as this were ever forced from the role of free competitive enterprise.

Looking Ahead

President Harding College

AS A MAN THINKETH

There's an old saying in the writing profession that a person will never become a great writer until he cuts loose from a steady income and begins to make a living solely on his own. Recently a promising free lance writer was offered a steady job with permission to continue his outside writing and keep the extra income. He turned it down. "When I'm on my own," he said, "necessity keeps me hard at work on my writing, and my writing improves. With a steady income from another source, the need to keep working hard at my writing is gone, and I quit working hard. Need is my driving force."

Almost the same thing was said more than 100 years ago by one of America's greatest free lance writers, Ralph Waldo Emerson. "Take away from me the feeling that I must depend on myself," he wrote, "and instantly I relax my diligence." Emerson has frequently been called "the wisest of all Americans." He lived his philosophy, making his way writing essays and poetry and giving lectures. Since this is the 150th anniversary of his birth Emerson's wisdom, which shines in his writings, is appropriate for reviewing. It is of special interest at a time when mankind is being beckoned along the road toward collectivism.

MAN ADVANCES

Emerson contended throughout his writings and lectures that if society is to develop and progress the individual and his personality must be emphasized and not the State or the mass. "Society everywhere," he said, "is a conspiracy against the manhood of every one of its members. . . Society never advances; society develops only as man improves. The wise and just man will always feel . . . that he imports strength to the State, not receives security from it."

"The first rule of economy," Emerson said, "is that every man shall maintain himself. The harvest will be better preserved and go farther laid up in each farmer's corn and each woman's basket than if it were kept in national granaries. In like manner an amount of money will go farther if expended by each man or woman for their own wants and in the feeling that this is their all, than if expended by a great steward or National Commissioners of the Treasury."

ROPE OF SAND

"In dealing with the State," Emerson wrote, "we ought to remember that its institutions are not aboriginal, though they existed before we were born; that they are not superior to the citizen; that every one of them was once the act of a single man; every law and usage was a man's expedient to meet a particular case, that they are all imitable, all alterable. We may make as good, we may make better."

"The wise know that foolish legislation is a rope of sand which perishes in the twisting; that the State must follow and not lead the character and progress of the citizen; and that the form of government which prevails is the expression of what cultivation exists in the population which permits it."

ONE DOCTRINE

"The less government we have," again, "the better; the fewer laws and the less confided power. The antidote to this abuse of formal government is the influence of private character, the growth of the individual. The highest end of government is the culture of men. . . In all my lectures, I have taught one doctrine, namely infinitude of the private man."

Emerson was born in Boston May 25, 1803. He graduated from Harvard and became a preacher. He left the pulpit to write. The great essays that have given him a place in the eternal literature of the world. "The one thing in the world, of value," Emerson said, "is the active soul. . . As a man thinketh so is he, and as man chooseth so is he and so is nature. 'My children,' said an old man to his boys scared by a figure in a dark entry, 'my children, you will never see anything worse than yourselves.'"

On social progress Emerson wrote: "Social progress depends on individual progress. A man must be able to cooperate to any advantage."

All these ideas are worth serious consideration in an age when much of the political opinion of the world seeks to enshrine the State and subordinate the individual.

National Whirligig.. Officials Agree To Mark Time On Their Hard-Money Scheme

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — High Treasury and Federal Reserve officials have agreed to mark time on their hard-money and high-interest program pending a definite post-Korean turn toward deflation or inflation, a spotty recession or continued prosperity.

Despite pontifical predictions here, nobody knows how the economic tide will jump in the event of a permanent Korean truce and an over-all settlement with Russia.

Aside from fiscal considerations adverse to the "sound dollar" move, squawks over Secretary George M. Humphrey's first experiment have flooded the White House and Congress. Their extent and variety have shocked the administration's monetary moguls.

Even Wall Street friends have protested. But kicks came also from corporations, country bankers, cities, states, farmers, businessmen, home buyers, who complained rising interest rates were crushing them. They came from World War II and Korean veterans, whose borrowing and financing had become too expensive for them to take advantage of the G. I. Bill of Rights.

"MONEY SQUEEZE" — The Democrats have announced that they will highlight the so-called "money-squeeze in the 1954 Congressional campaign. They believe that they can pick up both House and Senate seats on this issue.

Finally, as Humphrey and William McChesney Martin, Federal Reserve chairman, have informed key members of Senate-House Banking and Currency Committees, they do not intend to be "bull-headed" on this grave question. They plan to pull the money credit levers up or down, depending on general economic conditions.

Meanwhile, official studies indicate that Humphrey's high interest rates — 3 3/4 per cent — on long-term government bonds came too abruptly and prematurely. He applied the brakes when the economic car was already slowing down, jolting unwary passengers.

RESERVE ALSO TO BLAME — Humphrey is not entirely at fault, however. Part of the blame must be borne by the Federal Reserve Board for its March, 1951, decision to withdraw its support of the government bond market. Interest rates have been rising slowly but steadily since. Humphrey simply gave a blessing and a green light.

REPUBLICANS TURNING TO "EASY" MONEY

(The Commercial and Financial Chronicle)

The fact that the Treasury has apparently given up, at least for the present, the plans it earlier professed to have for renovating the maturity schedule of its debt is less disturbing than a good deal of the comment currently heard about the reasons for the change.

The circumstances that the Federal Reserve authorities have winced and relented and refrained is second in importance to the rationalization of their action, frequently expounded apparently with the approval of the System.

Both changes have taken place there can no longer be any doubt. The loose talk about the presence of available funds in the short-term market but none in the long-term is obviously at best but a Piccadilly way of expressing facts less palatable if stated in more direct language.

The fact is that short-term money is relatively available to the Treasury for the simple reason that the banks, particularly the Federal Reserve banks, are creating it for that very purpose. These institutions are, in turn, not adding to their holdings of longer-term issues, and others not endowed with the power to create money are far from clear in their own minds what the future attitude of the Reserve authorities is to be regarding these long issues.

Any surplus funds these latter may have for investment, either as an indirect result of the inflationary policies of the Federal or otherwise, are accordingly attracted more to the short-term than to the long-term market.

Fair Enough... Pegler Jumps AP For Ballyhoo Article About Bernard Baruch

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
(Copyright, 1953, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

On the subject of politico-editorial bias in the Associated Press, let me cite another example.

I refer to a feature story by Clarke Beach, Washington date-line, last Feb. 7, in the paper the head of this story read "Advisor to Seven Presidents; No Statesman Like Bernard Baruch Since Days of Jefferson." The story was ballyhoo, political opinion and myth written by a reporter who had just partaken of Baruch's luxurious hospitality.

"You'd have to go back to Thomas Jefferson to find an elder statesman as indestructible as Bernard Baruch. Jefferson, after leaving the White House, was called on by Presidents Madison and Monroe for advice on practically all important matters that came up. He was a power in the government until he died in 1826."

Although "Indestructible" is the key-word cleverly inserted here as though to frustrate criticism, I decry an intent to equate Baruch with Jefferson.

Six presidents have asked Bernard Baruch's advice and assistance. Even Lenin and Stalin have sought conferences with him. He disclosed this to me during a recent visit to his quiet hunting lodge, Little Hobcaw at Kingstree, S. C. (Our talks were solely about his history. "No interviews," is his rule at this point.)

So here we are taking Baruch's own words to question at his head and board to the effect that his counsel has been sought by the giants of a tumultuous and fateful time. Did he advise Lenin and Stalin? For the historical record the AP should tell us.

Early this month, a seventh presidential pal, Dwight D. Eisenhower, showed up at Baruch's home in New York," Beach wrote. "When Baruch's old friend, Winston Churchill was visiting him, Eisenhower suggested that the proposed meeting between himself and the Prime Minister be held at 'Bernie's place.'"

We have only an AP assumption that Ike was the seventh "presidential pal" in context. And the possibility that Churchill had sinister motives for cultivating "Bernie" and Ike in secret here is absolutely ignored by the AP. The mere facts that "Bernie's" mansion on Fifth Avenue is incomparably more private and comfortable than any hotel in town, and that Baruch has a good cellar, seem not to occur to the AP's Mr. Beach and its editors.

"To realize how remarkable this is," Mr. Beach continues, "you have to remember that Mr. Baruch is 82, a lifelong Democrat and not very rich any more."

Baruch's age is not remarkable, it is just a little unusual and he has babbed himself along with a nurse in attendance for years. The fact that he is a "life-long Democrat" is unimportant even for a man of 82. It is remarkable, indeed ominous, however, that a man elected on the Republican ticket to President of the United States should go to the home of a life-long Democrat and financier with international interests to consult the British Premier on matters vital to our country. But the possibility of any ulterior significance eludes Beach and the AP altogether.

Here also we have the unsupported statement of Mr. Beach and the AP that Baruch is "not very rich any more."

What evidence do they offer? Not a word. Nothing but the opinion of a house-guest of unknown qualifications that Baruch has divested himself of great wealth with intimations that he gave it away in philanthropy. But what about his family? Rich men set up trusts for their children and other relatives which enjoy certain tax-benefits. They also set up "foundations" which enjoy the same immunities. Jesse James once said to "all the rich men have them."

When you tell me a millionaire has cut down his wealth in his closing years, don't play me for fool enough to ignore the knowledge that every informed skeptic has these days. How does Beach know Baruch is "not very rich any more," and how rich is "not very rich"?

Continuing, Beach says: "The public took him to its heart after he proved himself in 1918. He became symbolic as the home-front hero of the war."

Now wait a minute, Beach and the AP! This crescendo is unprovable because of its vagueness, and false according to the recollection of many living Americans. Baruch was not a "hero" except to the extent that unspecific publicity puffed him up. There is no substitute for bravery in the making of a hero and Baruch had no call on his courage.

The Beach piece makes the President of the United States a servile, paltry protege of a stock market gambler who so described himself to a congressional committee in 1917.

Baruch employed two professional counselors, one of whom, at least was a spook. The late Brig. Gen. Hugh S. Johnson often frankly admitted that he ghosted speeches and statements for Baruch. Herbert Bayard Swope, a professional "public relations" operator, has said that he advised Baruch but never was "in his fee." What is a fee? Johnson was at "Bernie's" side for years but whether he advised Baruch or Baruch fed him ideas for his syndicated column, I must guess. I can't fancy Baruch paying anyone to counsel him so I draw a conclusion there, too.

Why didn't the AP mention these relationships to give us an honest estimate of the greatest statesman since Jefferson? There are many in the AP who know the facts.

LOOKING SIDWAYS
By WHITNEY BOLTON

In case there has been any panic in the painters' union because I decided to redecorate an entire room from ceiling to floor without benefit of hired help, I can hasten to headquarters with a reassuring report: relax, boys. It is, as the old song had it, better with a union man.

After moving out children, drapes, furniture and those 1,001 odd, futile, seemingly useless knick-knacks that children collect and treasure, I came upon a naked room. What, three hours earlier, had seemed a reasonably clean, neat, attractive and structurally sound unit was seen to be cracked, untidy, festooned with dog hairs and its paint looked like a 1935 job lying not only fallow but foolishly. It was a sheer mess and why my young ones didn't get hoky colera living in it is a major mystery.

I washed the ceiling and ruined the walls. I sanded the walls and ruined the baseboard. I washed the baseboard with chemical to remove wax that had gotten on it from waxing the linoleum and got down to bare boards. The linoleum had begun to look a little lumpy at the edges. But I left that to the end. Somewhere along the line I had learned that floors come last.

The colors chosen were skyline blue for the ceiling and colony blue for the walls. I did the ceiling and got some blue on the one inch wide moulding. Then I enameled the moulding an inch at a time and managed not to get white on the ceiling. Other than that, when I did the walls and the two blues looked like hungry cats. I did the ceiling over in Wedgwood blue and it went fine with the walls. But here and there some had dripped on the walls. So I did the walls over again.

I re-enameled the narrow moulding, using a tin shield to save the ceiling, but some white dripped on "all the rich men have them."

DUBIOUS CONCLUSIONS
Probably there would be not a great deal of discussion among the matriculate of status such as points as these. There is, however, a fairly general disposition to draw a number of highly dubious conclusions from all this recent experience. One of these is the observation now frequently heard that the market mechanism now available for distributing governments and the machinery available for "making a market" for outstanding governments is grossly inadequate when measured against the size not only of current Treasury needs but against the astronomical volume of government obligations now outstanding.

The reader will doubtless have reservations of his own — as have we — about the philosophy of this business of "making markets" for government securities, but there can be no question that the task of placing huge Treasury issues, whether funding, refunding or for new money, in the hands of investors outside the banks is one which requires very extensive and efficient machinery. The plain fact is, however, that if such machinery is lacking today, the cause is not to be found in lack of individual initiative, and the remedy is not to be found in the arbitrary development of mechanisms by the Government or by means of governmental subsidies.

Experts Say '54 May Be Year Of Economic Slack

Editor's note: The business outlook is analyzed in the following dispatch on homefront questions arising from the Korean truce.

By MAUREEN GOTHLIN
WASHINGTON Aug. 6—UP—The nation's economy is generally healthy, government economic experts say, and shows no signs of being touched this year by any serious ailment induced by the Korean truce.

The overall outlook, they forecast, is that this year will be another record - breaker in production, employment, consumption, and income.

But the economic crystal ball is cloudy for 1954. Business has been running at such high levels for so long that there is likely to be what the economists call a "readjustment"—that is, a downturn. And 1954, they say, is likely to be the year.

Some soft spots have developed already. The automobile, television, and household appliance industries have inventories piling up although demand is still high.

Farmers' income has fallen off. Demand May slacken.

Steel mills, bubbling at the seams for many months, are expected to continue at near-capacity for several months. But demand is likely to slack off late this year and early next.

It is the boom does subside, it won't be because of any direct effect of the Korean truce although there may be long-range psychological factors involved.

Huge federal defense spending has contributed to the boom. The Defense Department is expected to spend around $48 billion in the 12 months that began July 1. Now it figures it will be doing well to save just one billion of that because the shooting has stopped in Korea. The big billions are going into armaments for global defense and for support of 3.5 million men in the U. S. armed forces, which are being reduced only slightly.

Truce Is Hardly Test
So the Korean truce is hardly a test of the much-debated question: Can we have peace and prosperity? Ever since boom times began in 1949 this country has been engaged in a defense program or in war. After next year, the defense programs probably will be slackened or unless Russia becomes more threatening.

American industrial leaders, including those of the key automobile industry, assert their confidence that peace and prosperity should and can go hand in hand.

The automobile industry turned out 3,250,000 cars in the first six months of this year. Use is estimated that production will be about 2.5 million cars in the last six months of this year.

Some smaller manufacturers are cutting production now. It is estimated that production will be about 2.5 million cars in the last six months of this year.

Verge of Decline
"We are right on the verge of an apparent decline in demand," an auto industry spokesman said. "But I think that as soon as the

Cotton Prospects Good At McLean
McLEAN — (Special) — After the first six months of 1953 having been more than 50 per cent deficient in moisture, good rains have completely changed the agricultural outlook for the south end of Gray County.

In an interview with S. R. Jones, manager of the McLean Gin Co., and incidentally the only cotton gin in Gray County, it is revealed that this morning's state highway engineers reported.

Prime coating on the five spots has been underway for several days and the two-course asphalt surface treatment should be finished by next week, the engineers said.

In the meantime, contractors working on the five-mile, four-lane stretch of U.S. Highway 66, west of Alameda are getting down the home stretch on getting base material laid. Hot mix asphalt concrete work was close behind the base laying crews, the engineers said.

Offsetting the signs of an apparent downturn in some business lines next year is the fact that Americans, as of May, were spending at the record rate of $283.5 billion. They were spending at a record rate of $227 billion in the first three months of the year and higher in the second quarter.

Economist forecast business investment in expansion and equipment will total a record of $27 billion this year.

Countering a possible small decline in business at the beginning of next year will be the fact that Americans will get a 10 per cent individual income tax cut beginning Jan. 1. At the same time, the excess profits tax on corporations ends.

Oilers Cop Duke Opener; Doubleheader On Tap Tonight

Henson, Hughes On Mound For Oilers

By RUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

A "southpaw" mound duel is on tap in one of the two games slated tonight at Oiler Park between the league leading Albuquerque Dukes and the Oilers. Eddie Hughes of the Oilers and Joe Hinchman of the Dukes, both pitchers, are expected to face each other in the nightcap of tonight's bargain bill.

In the opener, which will start at 7 p.m., Jake Henson will go for the Oilers with George Socha due to be the Dukes' moundman.

The Oilers took a lead in the three-game series last night with a Frank Merwell finish, scoring two runs in the ninth after two were away to come from behind and triumph, 7-4.

In winning last night's tilt, the Oilers gained only a half-game in their drive for a first division berth. Plainview swept a twinbill from Berger to break a 2-way tie for third and fourth place with the Oilers and Joe Hinchman of the Dukes. The Oilers are now two full games back of the fourth place Oilers.

When the Oilers take the field tonight, they will be bidding for their fifth and sixth victories over the Dukes in games played at Oiler Park. The Dukes have won two of the previous six games and could end the series by winning both games tonight.

The Hughes-Hinchman battle tonight is expected to be a "dilly," Hinchman, ace of the Duke staff, will be seeking victory No. 21 against only four losses. Hughes will carry a 7-7 record into the game. The Oiler lefty has won his only start since being recalled from Baton Rouge of the Evangeline League.

In the other game of the double bill, Henson will take a 5-4 record into the game while Socha boasts a 3-0 record.

The Oilers fought an uphill battle to win last night's series opener. Quincy Barbee smashed a double to deep left center to drive in Doug Lewis with the winning run in the ninth.

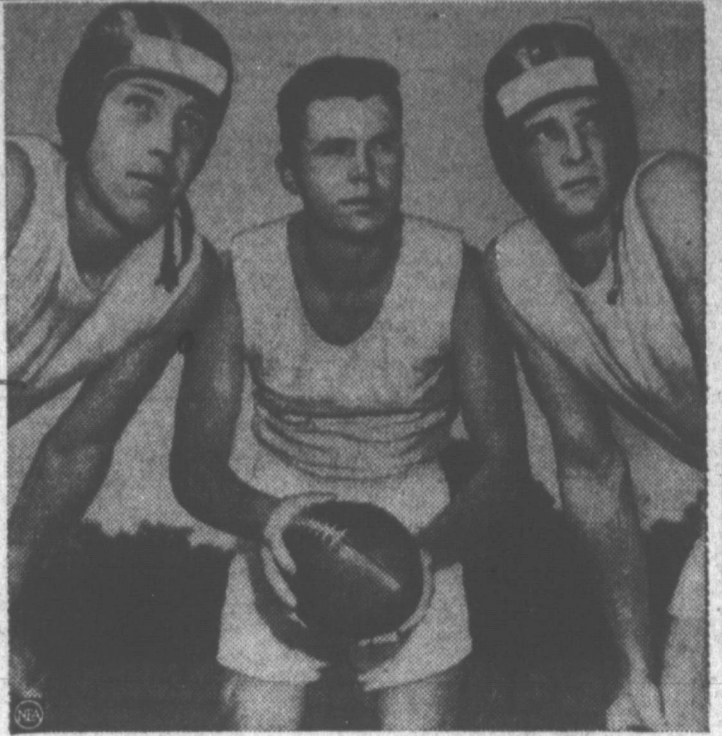

Albuquerque boasted a 5-0 lead after five innings of play but the Oilers battled back to score twice in the sixth, three in the seventh and two in the ninth.

Rolando Rodriguez, who relieved starter Sam Williams in the sixth, was credited with the win, giving him a 4-4 record. Williams, after hurling the first eight innings, gave way to a pinchhitter in the bottom of the eighth.

After the Dukes jumped to a 4-0 lead after five innings, it appeared the league leaders were on their way to a victory as Bud Bauhofer hurled shutout ball through the fifth inning. But Bauhofer weakened in the late innings and was finally relieved in the eighth after walking the bases full with one away.

Grover Blacksher came on but was unable to keep the three Oiler base runners from scoring, as scoring on a wild pitch, another on an error and another on George Lambrinos' single.

In the ninth, Woldt led with a single and was sacrificed to second by Max Molberg. Manny Temes skied out to center and the other victory hopes faded. Lewis then drove a grass-cutter down first base which rolled between Guice's legs and Woldt scampered across with the tying run. Then came Barbee's two-bagger that

Three Champs Crowned In Kiwanis Loop

By RAUL (Rabbit) RAMIREZ

Two more nights remain in the Kiwanis League softball play before the playoffs begin next week.

Holy Souls have already clinched the title in the Senior League with a 9-2 record. The Souls will play the fourth place winner in the Senior race in the first round of the playoffs.

The playoffs will start Monday night. First and fourth place teams in all leagues will play each other with the second and third place teams to meet. Winner of these two games will vie for the playoff championship in a best two-out-of-three game series.

Two other champs have been named. First Baptist in the Junior Boys League No. 1 and Calvary Baptist in the Girls League. In the only league that hasn't determined a champion, Church of the Brethren is leading the Junior Boys No. 2.

Managers are reminded that Saturday is the deadline for submitting choices for the "Outstanding Player" award. An outstanding player will be picked in each league. The managers are asked to vote for two players but are not allowed to vote for his own player.

Stengel Sad Despite Yankee Win; Braves Gain On Brooks

NEW YORK, Aug. 6—UP—Mickey Mantle's failure to hit in key situations put Yankee manager Casey Stengel in a peevish mood Thursday, which was mellowed a little by the fine "spray" batting of Gil McDougald.

Mantle may be the new golden glamour boy of the Yankees with his long distance swinging efforts, but he never will be an all-around star with his boss until he quits "trying to kill the ball."

Stengel was a little unhappy even though the Yankees had pounded out 10 hits in a 5 to 4 victory over Detroit because they wound up leaving 10 men on base.

"Sure we're hitting again, but we're hanging up too many runners," he said. "And that boy (Mantle) is leaving a lot of them on because he won't hit to the opposite field. He thinks he's got to go for the big blast all the time. Well, in this game he left two on in one inning and then he strikes out with the bases full another time."

In the National League the Braves cut Brooklyn's lead to 7 1/2 games again with a 5 to 3 triumph when pinch-hitter Walker Cooper drove in the winning run in the eighth with a single. The Braves scored three runs on successive doubles by Joe Adcock and Del Crandall, three walks and Cooper's smash to come from behind in the big frame. Carl Furillo earlier hit a Dodger homer, as Brooklyn blew a 3 to 0 lead when Milwaukee scored two in the seventh, then clinched it in the eighth.

Pittsburgh also came from behind to defeat Cincinnati 6 to 4, as Hal Rice hit a two-run homer in the fifth inning. The Cubs beat the Giants twice, 9 to 6 and 7 to 6, the second in 10 innings. In a night game, the Phillies dined the Cardinals, 7 to 3.

While Sox Five Behind
The Giants' double loss ran their losing streak to six games. Johnny Kippstein gained his sixth victory for the Cubs in the opener, with late-inning help from Dutch Leonard. Warren Hacker, in relief, won his seventh game in the second.

The White Sox remained five games behind the Yankees by beating the Athletics, 9 to 7 in 14 innings.

In other American League games, Bob Porterfield of the Senators allowed only six hits as he whipped Cleveland 11 to 0, for his second straight shutout and seventh shutout among 13 wins; and the Red Sox blanked the Browns, 5 to 0.

Wednesday's Star: Dick Gemert who pitched five innings with a homer and double in a 5 to 0 triumph for the Red Sox over the Browns.

HOUSTON, Aug. 6—UP—Pat Gerald of Sweetwater Thursday was elected to the presidency of the Texas High School Coaches Association and Ray Mattingly of Bowie was named vice president.

Gerald steps up from the vice president's post. He succeeds Abe Houston of Waco as head of the coaches' group which is holding its 21st annual clinic here this week.

Mattingly won the vice presidency in an election among himself, Dan Stallworth of Baytown and Howard Harris of Harlingen.

Dallas put in a bid Thursday for being host to the 1954 convention, but no decision is expected until the board of directors meets in December.

Woods To Start All-Star Cage Tilt Slated For Tonight

By ED FITE

HOUSTON, Aug. 6—UP—The ninth annual all-star basketball game comes up Thursday night in the Rice Field House with a South team loaded with "too many horses" as the favorite.

Coach Ev Shelton of Wyoming, who had to turn over the actual coaching duties of the North team to Bill Henderson of Baylor because of a Skyline Conference rule, agreed with the experts in making the South the favorite.

"They've got too many horses for us," Shelton told newsmen in discussing the opposition.

Height Advantage
He was referring to the overall height advantage of Coach Buster Brannon's Southerners as well as the high-scoring punch potential the Texas Christian coach's squad has on the basis of last season's records with their respective teams.

Brannon's tall quintet, anchored around 6 foot 9 1/2 inch-Ellis Olmstead of Galveston, averages out at 6-4, while the North team, featuring Dick O'Neal of Fort Worth Poly in the post, averages two inches shorter.

The South's starting five of Olmstead, Jerry Mallett of Beaumont South Park, Jack McCall of Temple, Glenn Fields of Big Sandy and James Swink of Rusk averaged 22.3 points per game last season.

On the other hand, the North starters of O'Neal, Fred Woods of Pampa, Delbert Shofner of Center, Melvin Wright of Amarillo and James Skinner of Irving averaged only 17.3 points per game.

Olmstead tops Southerners
Olmstead, with a 27.9 average, and Swink, with a 26.7 mark, topped the Southerners, while the top average on the North team was owned by Shofner and Skinner, shot hit the net at a 21.1 and 20.9 clip respectively.

Meanwhile, the North and South football teams headed into their fourth, and final day of practice for Friday night's big grid classic at mammoth Rice Stadium.

Both teams were in excellent physical condition except for a case

Deadline Nears For Intra-League Deals In WT-NM League

ABILENE, Aug. 6—(Special)—West Texas-New Mexico league president Hal Sayles announced Wednesday that the deadline for intra-league player deals is Aug. 12. No intra-league deals may be made in the last 30 days of the season.

A player released by one club cannot be signed by another in the league after Aug. 22. That is also the clubs' deadline for adding players eligible for the Shaugnessy Playoffs.

The active player limit is increased from 15 to 16 for the last 15 days of the season, but the additional player allowed in this period must be a rookie and shall not be eligible for participation in the Shaugnessy Playoffs.

270 ER Average
CHICAGO, UP—Warren Hacker, Chicago Cubs pitcher, posted a fine 2.70 earned run average while suffering through an eight-game losing streak early this season.

How To Play Par Golf

Putter Swings Like Pendulum

Twenty-eighth of a series
By JULIUS BOROS
U. S. Open Champion

Take the blade of the putter back low to the ground and keep it there throughout the stroke. The length of the backswing is determined by the length of the putt, how hard you need to stroke the ball.

The putter performs like a pendulum.

Short or long putt, there is not much wrist action.

The follow through is as important as it is in full shots.

The body and head do not move.

Strike the ball firmly. It should be hit on the upswing at the center of or slightly above center, of its axis. This assures overspin, making the ball travel low to the ground, prevents it hopping and throwing the shot off line.

Approach the ball from behind. Study the grain and slope. Practically every green poses a different problem in both respects. Some are fast, others slow. If the green slopes or rolls downward toward the right, aim slightly to the left. The decline will carry the ball. The same, of course, applies in the opposite direction. Hit the ball easier on a downhill putt for the simple reason that the ball will roll faster. You must be a little bolder with the stroke to help the ball uphill.

Putting with the grain, the ball moves along easily. Against the grain, the ball is retarded.

The color of the grass tells you which way the grain grows. Going against the grain, the grass definitely looks darker. Shooting with the grain, the grass appears almost shiny.

FOLLOWS BALL. — The follow through is as important to Julius Boros' putting as it is in full shots. (NEA)

If at first you have trouble reading the green, aim straight for the hole.

You won't miss far that way and should be in position to sink the next putt.

Quotes From Major League Dugouts

By MILTON RICHMAN
NEW YORK, Aug. 6 —UP—They say in the dugouts:

Detroit Manager Freddie Hutchinson insists his rookie shortstop Harvey Kuenn is a better bet to lead the league in hitting sooner than the Yankees' vaunted Mickey Mantle.

Cardinal teammates fear that Eddie Yuzas, their relief ace of 1952, is all through because of arm trouble.

Infielder Connie Berry of the Browns wears the smallest shoes in the majors—size 4 1/2 on his left foot and size 5 on his right.

Need Lunch Falls

Since ball games are growing longer and longer, many relief pitchers now carry sandwiches out with them whenever they are assigned to the bullpen.

Early Wynn of the Indians has come up with a finger-tip infection which he believes was caused by throwing too many knuckle balls.

Cincinnati Redlegs call big Frank Smith "the good humor man" because of his endless store of songs and jokes.

Five Traynor Coaches

Complaint department: National League pitchers are kicking that Richie Ashburn of the Phils leans his head too far over home plate when he's at bat while American League catchers beef that Gil McDougald of the Yankees seldom keeps both feet in the batter's box.

Eddie Mathews of Milwaukee credits his improved defensive play around third base to some tips he asked for and received from Harold (Pie) Traynor, one-time Pittsburgh star.

American League umpires agree that among all the first basemen in the circuit, Mickey Vernon of Washington kicks the least about decisions. Vernon, putting in his 13th season in the big leagues, was ejected from a game only once—by Umpire George Pipgras back in 1947.

Ted Will See Fast Balls

Gus Bell claims there is a big difference between playing center field, as he is doing now for Cincinnati, and playing right field, as he did for Pittsburgh. "I feel like I'm really in the ball game in center field," he says, "but I felt I was left out of things when I was in right."

Figuring that Ted Williams' timing is bound to be off, rival pitchers are planning to throw him plenty of fast balls on the inside as soon as he gets back into the Red Sox lineup.

Minnie Minoza, who hits to all fields, is the most feared man in the White Sox lineup, or so they say in the dugouts.

Herrera Is New Laredo Manager

LAREDO, Tex., Aug. 6 —UP—Procopio Herrera, one of the Laredo Apaches top pitchers on option from San Antonio of the Texas League, Saturday was named manager of the club, replacing Ismael Montalvo.

The announcement was made by Nick and Jesse Canavati, who purchased the Gulf Coast League team a month ago, as the Apaches continued in a slump that saw them drop from second to sixth place by losing 23 of 31 games.

Herrera, who has managed the Laredo Apaches in the past, was named manager of the club, replacing Ismael Montalvo.

The announcement was made by Nick and Jesse Canavati, who purchased the Gulf Coast League team a month ago, as the Apaches continued in a slump that saw them drop from second to sixth place by losing 23 of 31 games.

THE UMPIRE

By BEANS REARDON
24 Years in National League
(Written for NEA Service)

Question: The batter lines the ball back to the pitcher. The ball hits the rubber and bounces straight back over the stands. The batter circles the bases. The team in the field argues that the batter should be called back claiming the ball is foul. The club at bat says it's a home run as the ball hits inside fair ground. What would be your decision?—Bob Sherman.

Answer: This automatically is a home run.

Montalvo said his contract ran to Sept. 7 and that as far as he knew he would draw a salary until then. He said he had not quit voluntarily.

Q. Who was the first President of the United States to throw out the first baseball of the big league season?—Joe Davidson.

A. William Howard Taft, in 1916.

Q. Has there ever been a left-handed catcher in the major leagues?—Harold Johnson.

A. Yes, Joe Wall, with the 1909 Dodgers.

Q. Has there ever been a case of a big leaguer tripping into a triple play?—Stan Collins.

A. Not that can be recalled, but Babe Herman, in 1928, doubled in a double play in Brooklyn, the play driving in the winning run against the Braves!

Sponsors would fly the 27 boys to this country at the expense of the bowl committee. Proceeds from the annual game go to charity.

The team to represent this country will be from Dallas, sponsors said. Date of the game is Dec. 12.

Keep Eyes Open For Honest foe

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service
An honest opponent is sometimes worth his weight in gold.

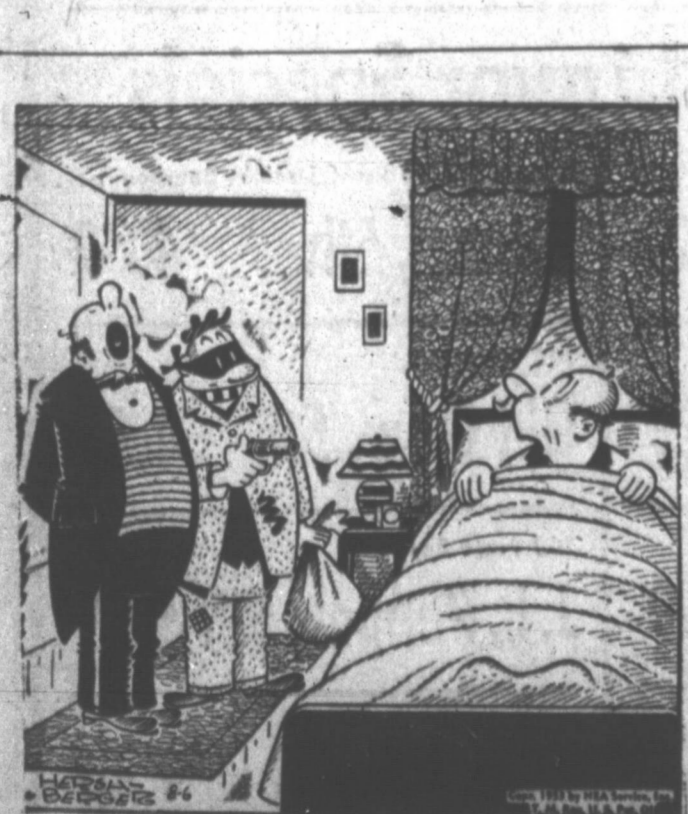

"You haven't missed a day or been late since you've been here, Murdock—just what are you up to, anyway?"

"I TOLD YOU TO HURRY OR YOU WOULD MISS THE BUS. TRUCK-NOW YOU CAN PICK UP THOSE PAPERS THAT BLEW OFF IT."

"Your first grandson, eh, Mr. Smithers? Well, you still haven't caught up to me—I've got three."

"A burglar to see you, sir!"

BETTER GET LUCKY, MOM—"Pachinko," a version of the U. S. pin-ball is the current rage in postwar Japan, where people play the game by the hour with candy and cigars offered as prizes. This Tokyo mother plays on while her youngest sleeps on her back.

Smarty Pants McLemore...
Mac Openly Admits Television
Gives Him A Tremendous Kick

By HENRY McLEMORE
If degrees after a man's name count for much, then in a few years I will be one of the most educated men in the world and have to change my by-line from Henry to Smarty Pants McLemore.

Q. Can the heroine's boy friend fight?
A. Fight? He is good for a whole county without getting a black eye.
Q. Do the heroine and hero ever talk like human beings?
A. No.
Q. What about these answers to an exam leading to a doctorate in quiz panels?
A. No.
Q. Must every panel have some member, usually a woman, who is not as cute as she thinks she is?
A. No.
Q. Would the moderator have any idea of the answers to nine of ten questions if he didn't have them on his desk or table, all type-written out?
A. No.
Q. Must every panel have some member, usually a woman, who is not as cute as she thinks she is?
A. No.
Q. So you can see, few television degrees are out of my reach.

It's Your Deal

By OSWALD JACOBY and
Written for NEA Service
"What happens in a game of gin rummy when a player accidentally turns up a card that he is not entitled to see?" asks a San Francisco correspondent. "It was my turn to draw in a recent game, and I accidentally took two cards instead of one. I noticed the mistake when the cards were halfway towards my hand, but I had already seen the second card—the one that I was not entitled to see. What should be done?"
To make the rule easier to follow, let's identify the two cards that the upper card (the proper card to draw) is the queen of spades and that the lower card (drawn by accident) is the ace of diamonds. Now we can go on. Your first step is to say "Oops," or to indicate in some such way that you've done something wrong. Then you explain to your opponent that you have accidentally drawn two cards instead of only one. Having done that, you carefully take the upper card, the queen of spades, to which you were entitled, without showing it to your opponent. Next, you must turn up the lower card, the ace of diamonds, and place it on the table face up, at the side of the discard pile.
If you can go gin, you are allowed to do so at this turn. You are not allowed to knock at this turn, but you may do so at any later turn.
If you don't go gin, you make your normal play, ending with a discard. Your opponent has three choices: your discard, the top card of the stock, or the turned up ace of diamonds. If he takes your discard, he will still have three choices at his next turn (unless one of you knocks or goes gin in the meantime).
If your opponent then, or at his next turn, draws from the stock, he gives up his right to the ace of diamonds. Only when he has thus given up his right to the exposed card do you have a shot at it. Then you have three choices: your opponent's discard, the top card of the stock, or the ace of diamonds. If you take your opponent's discard, you will have three choices at your next turn (unless one of you knocks or goes gin in the meantime).

A. No.
Q. So you can see, few television degrees are out of my reach.

I am proud to be naive in the presence of such an invention. If it makes me appear stupid to be impressed by such a wonder, then give me a six-point dunes cap and I'll wear it proudly. Does anyone dare tell me that I am wrong not to find any fault with a box of wood, a tangle of wires, and about a windowful of glass, that brings Marilyn Monroe's "re-creates" into my living room from three thousand miles away. Crosby's gentle smile and voice, Hope's buoyant enthusiasm that the world is swell and happy, and hundreds of steers crossing a raging river with only John Wayne to shepherd them?
To me, a man who couldn't, left all alone, make so much as a match, hang a curtain, or boil a decent cup of coffee, television is overwhelming.
I even like women wrestlers, just to show you how far I go. And men wrestlers. And singing commercials. And soap operas. Anything, in fact. Naturally, I like some programs on television better than I do others, but the whole erection gives me a lift, just as the Pacific must have done to Balboa, the zipper to Minsky, and evil to Kefauver.
