Regular listings of television programs are not going to be worth much between now and November, especially during the political party conventions, the first of which begins Monday at Miami Beach, Fla.

When the Republican Party Convention officially opens the national political season in the misnamed Florida convention center (there really isn't much of a beach there), any program will be subject to interruption for many weeks thereafter. The Democratic Party Convention will follow in Chicago, and then the campaigns, if there is anything left to campaign about in the wake of pollsters reports.

Actually, the conventioning and campaigning during the summer re-run season may be a welcome change of pace for some viewers, but it's a long time till November.

Many of the "issues" appear somewhat fuzzy so far, although crime, and, in turn, gun control, apparenty have cinched a featured spot.

So far, I think Richard Nixon probably has the most practical suggestion concerning the control of crime as related to guns. He advanced a proposal that states pass laws making a penitentiary sentence mandatory upon conviction of any crime in which a firearm is used or displayed to abet the crime. No suspended sentences or probated sentences would be allowed.

So far, the campaigners and platform writers have given little attention to one domestic problem that nearly everybody in the country has become aware of in recent weeks. The postal service, which almost faced some drastic cutbacks, has seen its problems increase steadily. Since it affects directly nearly every citizen, Congress usually is extremely sensitive to any factor which figures in the transportation and distribution of mail.

"Mr. Zip" has been too erratic so far to provide the solution that was promised when he first appeared on the scene, and it has become apparent that regardless of any streamlining, it staill requires a lot of people to transport and distribute mail.

Newcomers in politics often look upon the postal service as a fertile field for new economies, but usually they become acquainted with the facts of postal life before any definite action is taken. Possibly the biggest misconception is the belief of many that the postal service was intended to show a "profit." It never has and never will, but the control of the system has undoubtedly justified itself. Moreover, since the federal government itself is probably the postal service's biggest customer, the country probably gets its money's worth from it. —WACIL McNAIR.

Today In History

Today is Sunday, Aug. 4, the 217th day of 1968. There are 149 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1941, Britain declared war on Germany to begin World War I, and the United States proclaimed its neutrality.

On this date: In 1790, a U.S. naval force that later became the Coast Guard was formed.

In 1916, the United States bought the Virgin Islands from Denmark for $25 million.

In 1944, in World War II, Nazi police captured 14-year-old Anne Frank and seven other Jews in their hiding place in Amsterdam.

In 1955, 11 U.S. Air Force fliers captured during the Korean War reached Hong Kong. They had been freed after 2½ years in prison in Communist China.

In 1964, the bodies of civil rights workers Michael Schwerner, Andrew Goodman and James Chaney were found in a newly built earth dam near Philadelphia, Miss.

Ten years ago: The Greek Cypriot underground on Cyprus declared a truce with Turkish Cypriots and British security forces.

RED LEADERS AGREE

Czechs To Continue On Liberal Course

By HANNS-NEUERBOURG
Associated Press Writer

BRATISLAVA, Czechoslovakia (AP) — Czechoslovakia's liberal leaders and their orthodox Communist critics agreed today on a declaration of principles that will permit the Czechoslovak liberalation to continue, unofficial sources reported.

Leaders of the Communist parties of the Soviet Union, Poland, East Germany, Hungary, Bulgaria and Czechoslovakia agreed on the declaration in a meeting lasting a little more than two hours in this capital of Slovakia.

The sources said the declaration deals with international questions in a general way and makes no specific mention of this country's liberal course.

The party leaders were scheduled to sign it at the City Hall this afternoon.

Following the meeting, the leaders of the six parties placed wreaths on a monument to 7,000 Soviet soldiers who died in the liberation of Slovakia in World War II.

There were no security precautions during the ceremony and the party leaders, including the Leonid I. Brezhnev of the Soviet Union, mingled freely with the crowds.

There were shouts of "Long live friendship with the Soviet Union" and "Long live Dubcek." The latter was a reference to Alexander Dubcek, the reformist chief of the Czechoslovak party.

The final language of the agreement was expected to include a Soviet promise not to interfere with Czechoslovakia's liberalization drive in exchange for Czechoslovak pledges to remain firmly in the Communist camp.

Three members of the Soviet delegation including Soviet Premier Alexaei N. Kosygin made a surprise appearance outside the meeting compound prior to the start of the talks.

They smiled as they were mobbed by camera men and walked down the hill from the meeting place to the Danube River.

They declined to answer newsmen's questions and after about two minutes returned to the compound to begin the meeting.

It included the leaders of the Soviet Union, Czechoslovakia, Poland, East Germany, Hungary and Bulgaria.

A mood of optimism swept the country following statements by Czechoslovak party chief Alexander Dubcek that the liberalization drive would continue.

Czechoslovak and Soviet leaders worked out the basis for the agreement in 3½ days of talks earlier this week at Cierna, a Slovak railroad town near the Soviet frontier.

As the meeting ended, the months-long flow of propaganda against Czechoslovakia's liberalization course from Moscow and other hard-line Communist countries stopped and Prague's news media halted their counterfire.

Although the formal meeting of the East European Communist chiefs was billed for today, the leaders had been holding informal conversations since Friday night.

The heads of the six parties went into seclusion in a trade union recreation hall overlooking the Danube River following their arrival in the Slovak capital Friday.

The welcome for the Soviet leaders was a warm one. Soviet Party chief Leonid Brezhnev hugged and kissed Dubcek and other members of the Czechoslovak Party Presidium. He smiled broadly when posing for photographers. Crowds chanted "Long live comrade Brezhnev. Long live comrade Dubcek."

In a broadcast, Dubcek said the Cierna meeting created good conditions for today's meeting.

In the broadcast Dubcek turned aside speculation that in the new agreement he and other Czechoslovak leaders had agreed to the stationing of Soviet troops in his country.

Following the Bratislava meeting, Dubcek is scheduled to hold talks with Yugoslav President Tito and Romanian party chief Nicoleae Ceausescu, both strong supporters of the liberalization drive.

B52s Pound Red Supplies

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. B52 bombers pounded a major enemy supply area inside the A Shau Valley again today in an effort to stave off expected attacks against Da Nang and the old imperial capital of Hue.

In raids Friday and today, 30 of the big bombers rained an estimated 900 tons of explosives on targets inside the valley, the main enemy supply base in South Vietnam.

A Shau, which snakes 25 miles in length, paralleling the Laotian border, has been the major enemy supply zone since March, 1966. U.S. troops invaded the valley last spring and temporarily drove the enemy out, but after a month the U.S. troops withdrew, leaving the valley in enemy hands again.

In ground action, North Vietnamese troops, spraying tear gas, invaded a small U.S. Marine radio station overlooking the abandoned Khe Sanh combat base and killed six Americans and wounded 11 others, military spokesmen reported today.

It marked the third time in recent days that a small Marine unit suffered heavy losses in the northern provinces. Fourteen Marines were killed and 22 wounded in two engagements south of Da Nang Thursday.

The stepped-up enemy activity has lent support to intelligence predictions of an attack within the next month or two against Da Nang, headquarters of U.S. Marines in South Vietnam.

Marine headquarters announced in a delayed report that a North Vietnamese force of unknown size launched the attack on the Hill 950 radio relay station late Thursday night with mortars and grenades.

Early Friday morning, the enemy seized a landing zone for helicopters supplying the isolated outpost and then went on to penetrate the Marines' perimeter.

Four Dead In Mexico City

MEXICO CITY (AP) — An earthquake struck Mexico City and a wide area of the country Friday, leaving at least four persons dead, scores injured and an estimated $2.4 million in damages.

The 72-second quake was the worst to hit this one-and-a-half mile high city in 11 years.

Hardest hit in the capital was a nine-story office building on Insurgentes Avenue that was left leaning crazily. Police said the structure and nine others would have to be demolished because they might collapse.

The quake also caused heavy damage to 572 small towns in Oaxaca state, south of the capital. Ten persons were reported injured and 80 per cent of the buildings destroyed in the Oaxaca village of Pinotepa Nacional, near the earthquake's epicenter, 400 miles southeast of Mexico City.

In Mexico City, the quake spared installations already built or under construction for this fall's Olympic Games, a spokesman for the Mexican Olympic Organization Committee said. A team of government engineers reported all in order after touring the facilities.

It was the first quake to hit Mexico City since 1957 when 32 persons were killed.

A number of after-shocks were reported later in the day, but none was serious.

New Tremors Shake Manila

MANILA (AP) — Fresh tremors shook Manila today only 39 hours after Friday's predawn quake that collapsed an apartment building and killed at least 109 persons. The toll was expected to rise.

There were no immediate reports of damage or injury from the new tremors that registered four and five on a scale of nine. The Manila Weather Bureau measured the Friday quake at six

Meanwhile rescue workers continued their sifting hand-to-hand through the rubble to find at least 250 persons still believed trapped in the wreckage of the five-story apartment house. Occasional cries could still be heard.

Some officials have estimated the death toll will rise as high as 200. In addition to the dead, 251 injured had been removed.

Gen. Enrique Morales, Manila police chief, said he estimated 10 to 15 per cent of the trapped victims would survive if rescuers could reach them today.

It was expected the rescue operations would not be completed before Sunday.

Eight giant cranes were brought into the rescue operation to help dig at the towering pile of wreckage.

City officials said it was the worst quake in their memory.

In other parts of the Philippines, buildings were damaged, power lines were snapped and radio stations and telephones went dead.

Registration Set Monday At SHS

Senior high school pupils who have moved into the Snyder School District this summer should report Monday for registration, Principal Ben Brock has reminded.

Pupils who attended high school here last term already are registered. However, if any of the pre-registered pupils wish to make schedule changes they should report to the high school Tuesday for that purpose Brock said.

Grand Rapids Fires Said Deliberate

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (AP) —Firemen report that four fires which caused about $15,000 in damage Friday night in Grand Rapids' Inner City were deliberately set.

A spokesman for the Fire Department said the number of arson cases in the Inner City has been above normal in recent weeks.

There was a series of racial disturbances here last weekend, which led Gov. George Romney to declare a state of emergency for two days.

The fires Friday night occurred mainly in vacant homes and buildings. No injuries were reported.

U&F Water Supply Is Nearly Ready

The U&F Water Supply system is about 90 per cent complete and customers who have signed up for service are being advised to prepare to accept service.

An overhead storage facility at Fluvanna has been completed and pump stations are nearing completion. Estimates are that the water will be "turned on" for the customers in the Union and Fluvanna communities on or before Sept. 1.

The U&F Water Supply system will purchase treated water on a contract with the City of Snyder. Water meters will be installed in the last step before service is initiated. Approximately 175 customers are on the rolls for service. However, they must have their own service lines ready to accept the service before they can be tied on.

AT REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Hopefuls Set For Facedown

By JACK BELL
AP Political Writer

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The battle for the Republican presidential nomination is about to shift from arguments over polls and estimates of delegate strength to the personal impact of the two top contenders.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon are ready to present their individual credentials to the politicians and the impact they make could have more to do with the result than everything controversial that has gone before.

Is Nixon who lost by an eyelash in 1960 to John F. Kennedy, sufficiently rehabilitated politically to be trusted with this year's nomination?

Or should the party pick Rockefeller, a sometime renegade, as its standardbearer in a topsy turvy year?

There is almost no serious thought among outlanders in this sweltering convention city that Gov. Ronald Reagan of California could wind up with the nomination.

While the nation awaited the two major candidates' facedown with something less than the excitement attendant to pro football, a great deal of not very effectual politicking was going on behind the scenes here.

Nixon supporters were putting on the pressure to get southern delegates to hold the line against any early ballot break toward Reagan.

In addition the Nixon people were trying to encourage a break away from favorite sons who were displaying a fresh determination to take a good look at the situation before committing themselves.

Among these Gov. James A. Rhodes of Ohio remained an inscrutable holdout. Nobody could forecast where Gov. George Romney might try to lead his Michigan delegation or where Gov. Spiro T. Agnew of Maryland.

Backers of Reagan, who says he isn't yet a candidate, put out a brochure that angled the well-financed efforts in behalf of Rockefeller. If Rockefeller led the field in preconvention spending for the elusive nomination, Reagan's people were not far behind.

Plans Progressing For Scurry Fair

The catalogue for the 1968 Scurry County Fair is now being distributed, according to L. M. Dawson, president of the fair association.

The fair is scheduled for Oct. 3-4-5 in Towle Memorial Park, with the Towle Park Barn, the National Guard Armory and adjacent out-door sites to be used for exhibits.

Dawson said that reservations for some special exhibits are being accepted now. Commercial exhibit space may be arranged by contacting H. W. Cargile at the West Texas State Bank, or by calling Dawson at 573-9797.

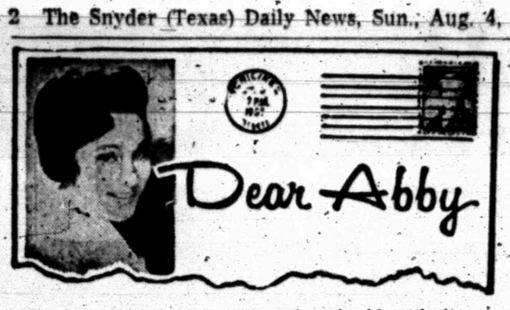

Considerable interest apparently is developing in this year's fair, Dawson said.

Directors of the Scurry County Fair, in addition to Dawson and Cargile, are J. N. Eicke, Carl Williams, Mrs. Jimmy Beck, Mrs. Tommy Pate, M. C. Fowler, Frank Barnes, Mrs. Clyde Collins, Wilson Bright, Mrs. Roy Hanson, Buford Browning, C. C. Sellars.

Also, W. R. Sterling, Mrs. Raymond Robinson, Martin Murphy, Hugh Taylor, Max Wood, Elvis Minton, Delmer Glover and Mrs. Dale Hess.

Technical advisors are county agents and vocational agriculture instructors in the various schools: Miss Ruby Butts, Dennis Alsup, Billy Bob McMullan, Floyd Collins, Franke Barnes, Bill Jennings and Billy Roach.

Monday Is Dollar Day In Snyder - Don't Miss It

By ABIGAIL AVN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a married couple who have their MARRIAGE CERTIFICATE framed and hanging in their living room? They have been married for eight years and have eight kids. (No twins.)

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: They probably want the world to know that they're not practicing without a license.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: An old acquaintance (a man) comes for coffee several times a week while my husband is working.

Since we have been married less than a year, I have mixed emotions. I really don't want to hurt his feelings since he is a former boyfriend, but I want to get rid of him.

I have talked to my minister, and he says there is nothing wrong with being open-minded, but I'm afraid my husband wouldn't like it if he knew. What do you suggest?

MIXED EMOTIONS

DEAR MIXED: There IS nothing wrong with being "open-minded" — as long as you aren't so open-minded that your brains fall out. TELL the old acquaintance that you would prefer that he discontinued the coffee-klatches simply because you feel that your husband would not approve. And that should settle it.

• • •

Dear Abby: I am a 14-year-old, fairly good looking girl and I have a few questions. Why does my mother keep telling me that it is wrong for a girl to call up boys on the telephone? And why is it "not nice" for a girl to go to a boy's house unless she has been invited there for a party or something special?

My best girl friend calls up boys all the time and they seem to like it. And she's dropped in to visit them when she happens to be in the neighborhood. I've been with her when she's done it and I really don't see anything wrong in it. I wouldn't call a boy or go to his house uninvited without my girl friend because I haven't got the nerve.

Don't you think my mother is living in the past with her old fashioned ideas? Most girls would never see a boy outside of school if she didn't go after him a little.

LIKES BOYS

DEAR LIKES: Your mother is right. It is "not nice" to call boys and go to their homes uninvited. Boys like to have girls "run after them," but when a boy wants a special girl, he likes to do the running. Listen to your mother, Honey.

Red Guards Arrested En Masse

HONG KONG (AP) — Travelers from Canton said today more than 10,000 Red Guards in Canton were arrested by the Chinese army and a number of them shot and killed when they resisted arrest.

Other unconfirmed reports said at least 100,000 persons were killed in the factional fighting in Kwangsi and Kwangtung provinces in the past few months.

Canton streets are now filled with Red Guard wallposters accusing the army of suppressing the Cultural Revolution.

The June issue of a Red Guard pamphlet, the "West River Storm Bulletin" said fighting had taken place in all cities and countries in Kwangsi.

The Bulletin said, that half of Wu Chow city, an industrial center in Kwangsi, was burned to the ground and 56 counties were devastated in factional fighting.

The rival Red Guard factions battle each other with all kinds of firearms, including mortars, handgrenades and machine guns. The army and militia are also involved in the fighting, the Bulletin said.

All military shipments for North Vietnam were stopped, after the fighting paralyzed railway transport in Kwangsi, which is the main railway link with North Vietnam.

Fire Claims 3rd Victim

FORT WORTH (AP)—A third victim of a gasoline tank explosion and fire died Saturday.

He was S. C. Copeland, 40, a volunteer fireman at Mansfield, a Fort Worth suburb near Kennedale where the disaster took place Wednesday.

Dying earlier were Steve Pieringer, 28, a Fort Worth newsman and cameraman for KRLD and KRLD-TV in Dallas, and Harry Blissard, 40, Mansfield fire chief.

The chain of disaster began when a spark apparently set fire to gasoline being delivered. The fire spread to the above-ground storage tank, leading to the fiery explosion.

In all, 32 persons were hospitalized for burns from the resulting fireball.

Classes To Be Resumed

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Rector Javier Barros Sierra from the University of Mexico said Friday night classes will be resumed Monday in all of the university's prep schools which were closed last week after a series of riots which forced army and police intervention.

Barros Sierra said that 44,600 prep students will go back to classes, preparing for examinations Aug. 29.

The rector, after heading Thursday a protest demonstration by 75,000 university students protesting Army occupation of the prep schools, had a comparatively quieter day Friday.

The rector said the university now plans only to continue working in peace and order.

Two Injured In Two-Car Crash

Two persons were brought by Snyder Ambulance Service vehicles Friday night to Cogdell Memorial Hospital following a traffic mishap 21 miles north of Snyder on US Highway 84.

Drivers of two vehicles involved in the mishap, which occurred just over the line in Garza County, were treated for injuries. They included Robert Stone, 6732 Overlook Drive, Dallas, and Papas Castillo, 3008 Grinnell, Lubbock. Highway Patrolmen from Snyder investigated. Injuries were not believed to be serious.

Jaycees Are In Session Friday

The Snyder Jaycees met at noon Friday for their regular weekly meeting, with vice president Joe Sentell presiding. The invocation was by Bob Clifton, pledge of allegiance by Gary Stevens and creed by Ken Aldridge.

Guests at the meeting were Joe Bailey and Ken Calloway, visiting Jaycees from Post. Dennis Blagg was introduced as a new member. Howard Limmer reported on the progress of the Jaycee project at the Girl Scout hut. He stated the work should be finished next week.

27th Marines To Return

SAIGON (AP) — The U.S. Command announced today that the 5,000-man strong 27th Marine Regimental Landing Team is returning to the United States in the near future.

It will mark the biggest single American unit to return home in the Vietnam war, but a senior U.S. officer said it did not mean a de-escalation of the war.

He said the 27th Regiment is being replaced by the 1st Brigade of the 5th Mechanized Infantry Division from Ft. Carson, Colo., which arrived in Vietnam earlier this week.

Informants said the 27th Regimental Team is returning to the States because it is needed for the Marine training program and it also will bolster the thinly spread Marine strateric reserves.

Special Guardian For RFK Children

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles Looker, a 59-year-old Manhattan lawyer, has been appointed special guardian of the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy's 10 children.

Surrogate Samuel J. Silverman named Looker, an authority on estate law, during the probate of Kennedy's will Friday. The will was filed last week and estimated his estate here at more than $250,000.

Distant Relatives

SEABROOK, N. H. (AP)—Selectmen Emroy N. Eaton and James S. Eaton recently named Leslie A. Eaton to fill out an unexpired term on the three-man Board of Selectmen for this town of 2,500. The Eatons say that if they are related it is distantly.

Small Plane Falls On Las Vegas Building

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) — A small plane struck a sign above a 28-story building Friday night, then crashed through the roof of the nearby Las Vegas convention center, killing the pilot.

Authorities found a wing lodged in a revolving "L" sign atop the landmark tower, which houses businesses and a casino that hasn't yet opened for business. Wreckage was strewn about the convention center 100 yards away, where the only occupant was a guard.

Nobody was hurt in either building.

Authorities identified the pilot, alone in the plane, as Everett Shaw, 39, of Las Vegas.

First Graduates At James Connally Tech

WACO (AP) — James Connally Technical Institute graduated its first class Friday night, awarding degrees to 153 candidates.

It was announced during the ceremonies that all the graduates had been placed in jobs, mostly in Texas, at salaries ranging from $5,500 to $8,000 annually.

Harry Provence, a member of the Texas Colleges and Universities Coordinating Board and editor-in-chief of Texas Newspapers, Inc., was the principal speaker.

MR. AND MRS. SAMUEL LESLIE ELLEDGE

Miss Brown, Mr. Elledge United In Double Ring Wedding Ceremony

In a double ring ceremony held at Morningside Baptist Church on July 27 at 7 p.m. Miss Glenda Estelle Brown became the bride of Mr. Samuel Leslie Elledge of Denton. Rev. Ronny Travis, minister, officiated.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Brown, 304 Thirty - third Street, and Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Elledge, 1808 Thirty-ninth Street.

White tapers and baskets of white roses and Stephanotis graced the altar setting.

Donna Lester presented traditional wedding music on the organ.

Johnny Elledge, brother of the groom, seated guests.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore an Empire floorlength gown of white peau de soie with bodice and sleeves of reembroidered Chantilly lace, fashioned with a scalloped neck and bell sleeves. Pearl buttons graced the back of the gown. Her waist - length net veil was attached to a headpiece of white satin roses and seed pearls.

Anita Gail Brown attended her sister as maid of honor and D'Ann Alexander was bridesmaid. They wore matching dresses of pale yellow satin with yellow lace coverups. Both carried colonial bouquets of yellow and white carnations.

Dink Foree served as best man and David Elledge, brother of the groom was groomsman.

A reception was held at Snyder Savings & Loan banquet room. The lace covered table was centered with an arrangement of yellow and white carnations. Mrs. Glenn Coy presided at the three - tiered wedding cake. Kathy Woods registered guests.

The bride chose a white double - breasted cotton dress accented with gold buttons for her wedding trip. She is a 1968 graduate of Snyder High School.

The couple will make their home in Denton where the groom will attend North Texas State University.

Out - of - town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Earl Baird of Lamesa; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Neuwirth and Lynn of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Ramsey of Bonham, Tex.; and Mrs. Keith Richards of Oklahoma City, Okla.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED — Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Rutledge, 4107 Avondale, announce the engagement of their daughter, Sharon, to Eldon Tipping Jr., son of Mrs. Johnnie Tipping, Lubbock Highway. The couple have set December 21st for their wedding date at Colonial Hill Baptist Church. Miss Rutledge will graduate in January from Baylor University with a degree in education. Mr. Tipping will graduate from Texas A&M University in January with a B.S. in Architectural Construction. He will enter the Army upon graduation as a 2nd Lt. in the infantry.

SEPTEMBER WEDDING — Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Baker of Wake Village, Texas announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Carol Sue, to Ornal Kelly Fletcher II, son of Mrs. Cleo Fletcher of Texarkana, Texas and Mr. O. K. Fletcher of Snyder. The wedding will be an event of September 10, at the First Methodist Church, Fourth and State Line, Texarkana, with the Rev. Ferd D. Dawson Jr. officiating. The bride-elect and her fiance, both graduates of Texas High School, are attending North Texas State University, Denton.

TO WED—Mr. and Mrs. Olan T. Moore of 1113 Sparks Street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Vickie Rae, to Johnny D. Jackson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Jackson of Odessa. Miss Moore and her fiance attended Odessa College. They will enter college in San Antonio following their marriage on August 30 in Midland. The bride-elect is the granddaughter of Mrs. J. E. Derryberry, 2800 Forty-second Street, Snyder.

Barbara Billingsley Bride Of James McKinney Jr.

MIDLAND — The marriage of Barbara Billingsley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Billingsley, 1801 W. Louisiana St., to James Edward McKinney Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. James E. McKinney, 4606 Versailles St., was solemnized in a ceremony at 8 p.m. July 9 in Oaklawn Baptist Church.

The Rev. Richard Simpson performed the double ring ceremony. Ricky Navarro was the organist.

Decorating the church were candelabra and baskets of greenery, baby's-breath and white carnations.

Linda Moore was the maid of honor and Bobby McKinney, brother of the bridegroom, was best man.

Donny Streun of Mineral Wells ushered the guests and was the candle lighter.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of white peau de soie styled along Empire lines. The bodice was accented with lace, and handcut flowers of lace and pearls were appliqued on the gown, which was made by the bride's mother. A white rose held her fingertip veil. She carried a satin-covered Bible with white carnations and white pompons.

The maid of honor had a yellow A-line dress in lace. She carried a long-stemmed yellow rose.

The reception was held in the church's Fellowship Hall. Sandra Billingsley, sister of the bride, registered guests.

The couple will reside in Yuma, Ariz., where the bridegroom is an airman with the U. S. Navy. The bride is a graduate of Midland High School and was employed by Midland Drug Co. prior to her marriage. She is the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Billingsley Sr. of Snyder.

The tiny holes in saltine crackers are necessary to assure uniform baking of the entire cracker and to prevent "blistering" during the baking process. Without the holes, the center of the cracker would be unbaked while the edges and "blisters" were burned. The holes are made by little pins after the dough sheet is formed.

Decor Says It Is 'Your' Home

Don't copy decors you've seen or read about. Innovate! Think up your own designs and let your personality come through.

Use remodeling and decorating magazines, books and booklets for inspiration and guidance, and your imagination for furning basic ideas into customized motifs.

Carrying out original home decorating schemes will, in most cases, necessitate the use of finishing materials that will not hamper you either estecically or functionally. Such materials are available. Ceramic tile is one. It comes in so many colors, designs, textures, shapes and sizes that it can be used as an integral part of any decor and has no physical restrictions that could limit its uses.

Doing your own decorative scheming will permit you to build in standard or "dreamed up" conveniences. In the kitchen, for example, you may want to provide storage space for portable appliances or special shaped plates, pots and pans; in the dining room it may be a serving counter with infrared lighting above to keep food warm during dinner; or in the rec room a wat bar may facilitate hosting if you do so lot of entertaining.

The most important advantage of the "original approach" to home decorating, however, is the personal satisfaction of emphasizing through the decor the fact that it is "your" home, nobody else's.

SOME FOLKS THINK OUR AUTOMATIC BANK DRAFT PAYMENT PLAN IS GREAT...

Others couldn't care less

Folks who use our Automatic Bank Draft Plan to pay their electric bills seem to like the idea. ❖ They like the convenience of having us draw a draft on their checking account for the amount of the bill. ❖ Then they don't have to bother writing a check, hunting for a stamp and remembering to mail it. ❖ And they don't have any trouble keeping their records straight because we immediately send them the portion of the bill they would normally keep, and it's marked "paid." ❖ Of course, many of our customers aren't interested in the Automatic Bank Draft Plan. They still want to get their bills at home and come in to pay us or send a check in the envelope we enclose each month. ❖ We started the Bank Draft Plan because some of our customers asked for it, and we want all our customers to know it is available. ❖ If you'd like to know more about the Bank Draft Plan, we'll be glad to tell you all about it. Then you'll know whether it makes sense for you. ❖

P.S. Naturally, this plan cannot go into effect on anyone's account until it is requested, and necessary authorization forms are signed.

Caldwell, Crowder Marriage Solemnized In First Baptist Church Of Snyder

The First Baptist Church was the setting for the marriage of Miss Patricia Ann Caldwell of Fort Worth, and George Franklin Crowder of Las Cruces, New Mexico on July 20th at 8 p.m. Dr. A. E. Lightfoot officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Bonnie Carter Caldwell of Fort Worth, and Mr. and Mrs. J. Elmo Crowder of Snyder.

Arched brass candelabras holding cathedral tapers and entwined with boxwood were used on either side of an open Bible. A large basket of Stephanotis and roses were placed on the center stand, completing the setting.

Mrs. Gene Brooks of Dallas, cousin of the groom presented traditional organ music and accompanied Miss Debra Norton who sang "Because," and "Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white peau de soie gown accented with Chantilly lace, fashioned with a scalloped neck, empire waist bell skirt and matching chapel length lace train. The long lace sleeves were closed with tiny satin covered buttons. For something old, a penny minted the year of the groom's birth, something new, a pearl necklace, a gift of the groom, borrowed, satin and lace Bible, and blue, a garter. Her elbow length veil of white illusion was attached to a white rose-petal headpiece and small white flowers.

She carried a cascade arrangement of Frenched carnations and English ivy atop a white Bible.

Ava Caldwell of Fort Worth attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Sandra Palmer of Sweetwater and Gwen Caldwell of Fort Worth, sister of the bride. They were dressed in matching street - length pink organza dresses styled with sleeveless bodices. Their pink tulle veils were attached to pink roses, and they carried single long-stemmed pink carnations.

Deborah Langham of Snyder was flower girl. She wore a floor - length dress of white organza over pink with lace applique and a headdress of tulle and lily of the valley. She carried a white basket with pink and white accessories and a pink French carnation corsage.

The reception was held in the home of the groom's parents at 8:45 p.m. on Thursday.

The bride's mother wore an aqua silk linen suit with matching accessories with a white French carnation corsage. The groom's mother was attired in a light pink all linen dress with white accessories and a pink French carnation corsage.

The rehearsal dinner was held in the home of the groom's parents at 8:45 p.m. on Thursday.

Professor Is Named Panama Consulate

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Dr. Paul Krum, associate professor of library science at North Texas State, was named a consultant for a month to the United States Mission in Antigua in Panama.

The trip was part of an assistance project sponsored by the Southwest Alliance for Latin America under a federal grant.

Some two dozen holidays are celebrated annually in the United States Virgin Islands. They range from Three Kings' Day — marking the end of the two - week - long Christmas Festivities — to Supplication Day, July 2, when residents pray they may be spared tropical storms.

AUGUST WEDDING PLANS — Miss Beth Agnew of 3515 Twenty-seventh Street, Lubbock, and Mr. Dyann Butler of Snyder, announce their engagement. Miss Agnew is a graduate of O'Donnell High School and is employed by South Plains Associated Grocers, Inc. Mr. Butler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Butler, is a graduate of Snyder High School. He is a senior physics major in Texas Tech and will be employed with the U.S. Naval Ordnance Laboratory in White Oaks, Maryland, upon graduation in August. The wedding will be held on August 31 in the Monterey Church of the Nazarene, 4308 Fifty-eighth Street, Lubbock.

FANTASIES OF GOLD. By Frank C. "Pat" Sayles with Joan Ashby Hanley. (University of Arizona Press, $6.50).

You just can't find a better place for treasure hunting than the Southwest. Now and then a big treasure search starts and everyone becomes excited and so one finds anything. But the hunt is fun.

Why this occasional gold fever? A scientist tries to answer.

He is E. B. Sayles, a transplanted Texan from Abilene and a well-known archaeologist.

Sayles estimates he has traveled "three times the distance around the world on foot; on horseback, by wagon, automobile and plane looking for archeological sites in the Southwest."

During his 40 years in field work, he became intrigued by the treasure stories he encountered. Now with Joan Ashby Hanley to talk to, he first-hand examination of these yarns.

How does the conception of a medieval treasure arise? How does it come to be taken for reality? In what way does a man's vision become a legend? Sayles finds his answers from many sources.

He encountered the fabulous Superstition Mines, once a Dallas, Tex., resident, who was so sure he had seen an underground room filled with gold ingots in the Superstition Mountains of Arizona that he convinced the Army Air Corps to conduct a search. Sayles tells of the Army plane which sought to help him rediscover it.

Sayles met another man, just as confident about a dream, who spent a lifetime sifting the rubble of a cave, positive he would find gold.

A partial explanation of such obsessions came to Sayles when he discovered how one of his own archaeological digs gave rise to a treasure legend. Later, he gained a first-hand understanding of man's dreams of hidden wealth, when he found himself constructing his own fantasy of gold.

Sayles, author of dozens of professional papers and some novels has retired as curator of the Arizona State Museum.

"Fantasies of Gold" is good reading for Western buffs, historians, archeologists, folklorists and everyone who dreams of finding treasure.—The AP.

THE APACHE FRONTIER. By Max L. Moorhead (University of Oklahoma Press, $6.95).

The Spaniards who so easily conquered Central and South America and Mexico found a new breed when they sought to tame the Plains Indians.

The tribes farther south had fixed cities and temples to defend. The Plains Indians cared nothing about defending land areas. The Spanish could not pin them down to formal battle and had no way to cope with the Indians' guerrilla tactics.

Max L. Moorhead, a University of Oklahoma professor, details in a new book, "The Apache Frontier," how the Spaniards were stopped by the roving tribes along what is generally the southern boundary of the United States.

The Apaches were the most difficult tribesmen to conquer. It would surprise many Americans of the 1800s to discover that they once were peaceful. Moorhead details how Jacobo Ugarte calmed the Apaches with a relatively enlightened policy.

Bit Ugarte grew old and disappeared and the Mexican revolution took place. The Spanish, still in control of the border, considered the prime authority on Mexican writing—from writing schoolbooks on grammar still in use on to the higher criticism.

The translators are Gusta Barfield Nance of Southern Methodist University and Florence Johnson Dunstan of Agnes Scott College.—The AP.

Katee Thinks Stinker One Of The Family

BURKBURNETT, Tex. (AP) —Katee treats Stinker just like one of the family.

Katee is a cat owned by Mrs. Jene Antee of Burkburnett.

The cat visited the home of Mrs. Donna Baldwin here and met a baby skunk that a friend had given to Mrs. Baldwin. The skunk had been named Stinker.

Katee, who recently had kittens, moved Stinker in with her litter. She feeds the tiny skunk and carries it around by the neck just like the kittens.

Texas' Narcotics Agents Now Must Deal With Kids

Editor's Note: Texas law enforcement officers, like their counterparts all over the nation, have their hands full these days with the marijuana and dangerous drug problem. The situation is especially acute among younger people, many of them students, and the origins of the problem seem as obscure as its resolution.

By TOM JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer

"It works pretty hard on your ulcer," said Austin Police Capt. Harvey Gann, "to see these young boys and girls get felonies slapped on them."

Marijuana possession, not to mention sale, may appear to some young kids nothing more than a minor rap. Many argue marijuana is no worse than alcohol or tobacco. But a conviction on any marijuana charge is a severe blow. It is a felony, the legal term for a major crime.

In case the weed users haven't looked up the law, the penalty is from two years in prison to life. Such sentences are being assessed. And that is just the initial penalty.

When the convict leaves prison, he finds the record is written indelibly on his life. Never can he erase it.

When convicted of a felony, a person loses the right to vote, cannot serve on juries and will find many top jobs barred to him because he will have difficulty obtaining security clearance.

In spite of the stiff penalty, more and more young people in Texas are smoking marijuana—commonly called "pot" or "grass."

The reasons are obscure. It is a new thing.

Many veteran law enforcement officers accustomed to dealing with the so-called criminal element find it disconcerting to file felony charges on high school and college kids, many from families which are pillars of the community.

"It's on the north side (the rich section) as much as on the west, south or east," said A. W. Norton, assistant superintendent of the San Antonio school district.

Police authorities in Dallas and Austin say the number of marijuana cases they file is soaring 200 to 300 per cent per year.

Also increasing, but not quite as much, is the use of dangerous drugs — amphetamines, barbiturates and LSD.

Why?

"It's a big bundle of wax—meaning ill-defined — says Robert N. Hinds, Dallas director of the U. S. Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs.

"Some people say we're a drug-oriented society, with a 'pill for every ill,' " Hinds said. "Kids see their parents taking all kinds of pills and say, 'What the hell?' "

He also cited student unrest, the war in Vietnam and the racial crisis as possible reasons for youngsters taking to drugs.

"Law enforcement is only part of the solution. The long-range cure has to be education," Hinds said.

Federal, state and local law enforcement agencies have intensified an educational program featuring personal appearances before student groups. It's value, however, is yet to be demonstrated.

"Hell, half of them were high when I was talking to them," said one former narcotic addict who gave a police-sponsored talk at a Corpus Christi high school.

A Galveston citizens committee reported that 10 per cent of the pupils at Ball High School used marijuana in the 1967-68 school year. School officials expressed surprise.

"All of this has only happened in the last two or three years," Capt. Gann said. "It sure is a change in the type of people we have to fool with."

He said marijuana and drug arrests in Austin have skyrocketed 300 per cent this year over three years ago.

"It looks like it's just a trend of the times," Gann said. "About all we can do is catch 'em when we can."

The proximity of Mexico has added to the problems of the Texas law enforcement officer.

Henry L. Giordano, U. S. Commissioner of Narcotics, told Congress last year that "most of our marijuana comes from Mexico. It is quite easy to smuggle it across the border and distribute it."

A U. S. customs official said officers seized about 5,000 pounds of marijuana and made 700 arrests in fiscal 1968 along the Texas - Mexico border. The corresponding figures for the pounds and 378 persons.

"I don't guess there's a major college anywhere in the United States that hasn't been represented among the kids we've arrested recently," said William D. Kilman of Houston, staff assistant, U. S. Customs Agency Service.

"We get a lot of them from the East," Kilman said. "It's not hard to catch them, with their beards and long hair."

He added:

"We used to deal with criminals. Now it's kids who have never been in trouble before."

W. E. "Dub" Naylor, agent in charge of narcotics, the Texas Department of Public Safety, said virtually all of the marijuana in Texas comes from Mexico.

"Marijuana is the big problem," Naylor said. "There's quite a bit of pill traffic, but nothing like marijuana."

Naylor said marijuana smokin is widespread on Texas college campuses.

"Last spring, we sent undercover agents to nine colleges in the state at the request of the school administrations to weed out the problem there," he said. "We made sufficient cases at five schools to break the back of the operation.

"A funny thing is that most of the students involved are of the intellectual type, with A and B averages," Naylor said.

Some estimates at state colleges put the number of students usng or who have used drugs and marijuana at one in four. A sociology instructor at North Texas State University at Denton estimated 30 per cent of the student body had used pills or pot.

"It's spreading real fast in the college age group," said Denton Chief of Police Wayne Autrey. "We have some information to indicate that narcotics use is speading to the high school age group, too."

Dr. James Rogers, North Texas U. administrative vice president, says the drug problem on the campus is "virtually impossible to measure."

Arlington school Superintendent James W. Martin says: "We have a problen, there's no question about it."

Herman Perry, assistant police chief at Arlington, said some progress is being made but "we just haven't the manpower to talk to everyone?"

Washington, D. C. has 32 sidewalk cafes. New York City has 82.

Junior Editors Quiz on RECORDINGS

QUESTION: How does sound go into and come out of a record?

* * * *

ANSWER: Sounds travel as vibrations in the air. We symbolize them as lines (2) being pushed away from the mouth of a singer (1). As these travel into a microphone (3), they are converted into electrical signals which can move along a wire. An amplifying tube (4) makes these signals stronger. They move to a small magnet which sets a cutting needle vibrating (5). As a wax disk revolves, the needle cuts grooves into it. The various back-and-forth or up-and-down vibrations which the needle makes are registered. A metal form is then made from the wax disk, and from this thousands of duplicates can be pressed. These are the records you buy. When you start playing one of these records, the needle of your machine (6) vibrates in exactly the way the cutting needle vibrated in (5). These pulsations are turned into electric signals, amplified, (7), and made to vibrate a loud speaker (8). Sound waves resulting from this (9) reach your ears and duplicate the singer's voice.

Farm Loans And Grants Boost Area

Credit programs of the U. S. Farmers Home Administration helped more than 220 people in Scurry and Kent Counties improve their homes, family farms and communities during fiscal year 1968, Supervisor Charles H. Henderson of the agency's county office in Snyder has announced.

Farmers Home administration loans and grants in the counties totaled $728,310 in 1968.

Henderson reported that the Farmers Home Administration, which supplements all other credit available to rural people, has added $600,000 to the county's resources with loans and grants the past two years through a range of programs.

With the turnover of funds invested by borrower families, associations and communities, the agency's work is estimated to have had a $5,098,170 impact on the county's economy during 1967 and 1968.

Henderson said that $251,000 of the 1968 fiscal year lending total through his office was accounted for by Farmers Home Administration insurance of loans funded by private lenders.

An estimated 50 people benefited from loans for construction or improvement of 7 family homes in the counties during the year.

Family farmers who lacked other sources of credit turned to Farmers Home Administraton for $319,310 in operating and emergency loans for operating purposes during 1968.

"Many of the 47 farm families served by FHA might have been forced off the land except for this last - resort source of financing," Henderson said.

Henderson reported that community improvement in Scurry County the past two years has been spurred by $409,000 in Farmers Home Administration loan and grant financing of modern water and sewer systems that reach the homes of 460 people, 5 places of business and 6 institutional buildings. One new project approved in 1968 received $222,000 in loans and $187,000 in grants.

Midwest's Annual Meeting Thursday

ROBY — Annual membership meeting of the Midwest Electric Cooperative, Inc., will be held Thursday, Aug. 8, at the Fisher County Fair and Rodeo Grounds, Johnnie Ammons, manager, has announced.

Registration of Members will begin at 5:30 p.m. and each member will receive a gift as he or she registers. In addition, other prizes will be awarded during the meeting.

A barbecue supper will be served at 6:30 p.m., with reports of officials of the cooperative to follow, and then the business session will be held. Three new directors will be elected.

Nominated for posts of directors are the following:

Place No. 5, H. H. Cary of Ira (re-election), and Joe Falls of Ira.

Place No. 6, Dwight Nowlin of Rotan (re-election), and James Nettleton of Midway.

Place No. 7, Ted Marchant of Sweetwater (re-election), and Donald Coker of Longworth.

Other nominations may be made from the floor by members of the cooperatie if they desire.

Newt Hielscher, "humorist with a message," of Shreveport, La., will be the featured speaker on the program. He has 15 years of experience as a speaker and is noted for his fresh humor blended with common sense designed to hold the attention of listeners of all ages.

Barbara Mitchell of Roby and Joe Dan Wilson of Snyder, winners of a 12-day trip to Washington, D.C., sponsored by Midwest Electric Cooperative, will give short talks on their trip.

A ferris wheel and merry-go-round will be in operation for youngsters.

Approximately 4,000 persons are expected to attend, and all members of the cooperative have been especially urged to be present.

Secrecy Is Criticized

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Secrecy surrounding a recent report on the future of nine Texas Baptist colleges has drawn criticism from the Baptist Standard, a statewide Baptist newspaper.

The report was presented last week to the Christian Education Commission of the Baptist General Convention of Texas. It recommended closing Howard Payne and Wayland colleges and downgrading East Texas Baptist College to a junior college.

The newspaper said in an editorial that a decision to withhold the report from general release is contrary to "our Baptist democracy."

"Why should not every member of every church be entitled to study the report just as are those elected to primary responsibility?" the editorial asks.

Lamu Visit Is Step Back Many Years

Visitors to Lamu — here are very few—find that time seems to have virtually stopped a few hundred years ago.

Lamu's hayday was during the slave trade. As early as 1822 a British ship visited Lamu in efforts to halt the bartering of humanity but it was not until 1907 that the trade was effectively abolished.

Only three years ago, the provincial commissioner felt it necessary to publicly urge the people of Lamu to work hard with their own hands instead of letting other people work for them while they sat back in idleness.

He said some Arabs still had a misconception, dating to the days when the sultan of Zanzibar administered the island as a protectorate within his 10-mile coastal strip, that Arabs were in a privileged position.

Lamu is isolated from the mainland of Kenya by miles of mangrove swamps. Elephants not infrequently knock out telephone service with the mainland.

Contact with the outside world is provided by visitng shows from other Kenya ports, Mogadishu, Somalia, Zanzibar and occasionally from Persia and India.

A Dutch-captained boat, Bonanza, picks up cattle on the nearby mainland and passes Lamu on its frequent trips down the coast.

Tourists, mail, and perishables come via air coach or charter flights. The planes land on Manda Island, now without fresh water, and arrivals walk a quarter of a mile to a boat loading for the 10-minute run across to Lamu.

Whether a visitor be from Nairobi, Khartoum or much further away, Lamu is the ideal spot to unwind and relax after the hectic pace of life in the outside world.

It is 22 hours by cattle boat from Mombasa, or 90 miles by air from Malinde, but many years back in time.

Dr. Hargrove Is Rotary Speaker

Dr. Robert Hargrove presented the program at the Rotary Club luncheon held Thursday. He gave a classification talk, and told of historical discoveries in dentistry and new techniques and advances in the profession.

Guests included L. L. Cox, a visiting Rotarian from Levelland, Dr. Jim Morrow, brought by Si Steinberg, and Paul Gilbert, guest of Mel Gilbert.

Savannah, Ga., with its cobblestoned river front, broad avenues and oak - shaded squares, was one of the first planned cities in North America. The port was founded in 1733 by Gen. James Edward Oglethorpe and a band of English settlers.

Will Oilman's Plea Be Heard?

By MAX B. SKELTON
AP Oil Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — The national platforms of the Republican and Democratic parties normally have very little to say, except by indirection, about the petroleum industry.

The tradition is expected to continue this week as Republicans meet in Miami Beach and four weeks later when the Democrats convene in Chicago.

Both conventions will be asked to endorse oil's controversial 27½ per cent depletion tax allowance, call for stricter oil import controls, and endorse legislation to clarify the authority of the Federal Power Commission to regulate the wellhead prices of natural gas sold into interstate commerce.

Similar pleas were rejected by the Democrats in 1964. The Republicans failed to call for a gas decontrol bill but reaffirmed its 1960 endorsement of reasonable depletion allowances and called for safeguards against "disruptive surges of imports" that might be injurious to a number of domestic products, including petroleum.

The Democrats soothed one bitter pill for oilment with a generalized natural resources section promise "to sustain and promote strong, vigorous domestic minerals, metals, petroleum and fuel industries."

The bitter pill was the use of $600 million in natural gas rate reductions and refunds as an example of how the Kennedy-Johnson administrations had protected consumers through the use of "vigorous regulatory action."

Oil controversies did not become involved in the 1964 presidential campaign. President Lyndon B. Johnson and his Republican opponent, Barry Goldwater, had similar voting records on such problems while serving in the Senate.

It was a different situation in 1960, however, when John F. Kennedy, then a senator, defeated Richard Nixon, then the vice president.

As a senator, Kennedy twice voted for a graduated reduction for oil's depletion allowance. Nixon campaigned for continuation of the full 27½ per cent allowance. Kennedy called for "a new and comprehensive study" to make sure no one was receiving tax breaks. They debated the issue on national television.

The 1960 party platforms reflected the views of the two candidates.

The Republicans pledged continued support of incentives to encourage "exploration for domestic sources of minerals and metals with reasonable depletion allowances."

The Democrats earmarked inequitable depletion allowances as being among the more conspicuous loopholes under which "certain privileged groups legally escape their fair share of taxation."

There later was wide speculation President Kennedy's 1963 state of the union message would ask that oil's depletion allowance be cut about 5 per cent. Instead, he proposed four technical changes for tax provisions affecting the industry. The four would have increased taxes an estimated $280 million but Congress, in approving only one of the proposals, reduced the hike to about $40 million.

A 1968 campaign matching Nixon against Vice President Hubert Humphrey could revive the dispute over the 27½ per cent depletion allowance.

Nixon has given no indication he has changed his position since 1960. Humphrey, as a senator, voted consistently for outright or graduated reductions for the allowance.

Cubs Don't Always Need Home Runs

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Chicago Cubs don't need the bomb. At least not when Ken Holtzman is firing beebees at the opposition.

The Cubs, who had slammed 10 homers in their three previous games didn't hit any Friday night, but Holtzman didn't need any in blanking St. Louis 3-0.

Holtzman allowed just two singles in boosting his record to 8-7 and in posting his third straight shutout. He blanked San Francisco 2-0 on seven hits July 24 and then shut out Los Angeles on four hits July 28.

The Cubs' fourth straight victory moved them to within one percentage point of the third-place Cincinnati Reds in the National League race. The Reds' game at Atlanta was rained out.

Houston edged Philadelphia 4-3, Pittsburgh nipped San Francisco 3-1 and the New York Mets defeated Los Angeles 3-2 in other National League action.

Houston snapped a three-game losing streak and sent Philadelphia to its sixth straight loss when Doug Rader doubled home Jim Wynn with the tying run and then score the winner on John Bateman's single in the eighth inning.

Pittsburgh got only four hits off Gaylord Perry but made a pair of tainted runs count. With two out in the third, Maury Wills walked, advanced on a passed ball and scored on Willie McCovey's error. In the fifth, Jerry May tripled and came home on a wild pitch.

Willie Mays hit his 14th homer and his first since July 12 for San Francisco. Willie Stargell clouted his 20th for Pittsburgh.

The Mets snapped a five-game losing streak when they broke a 1-1 tie in the eighth inning on run-scoring singles by Ron Swoboda and Jerry Grote. Len Gabrielson homered for Los Angeles in the eighth.

Championship Near In NBC Tourney

LUBBOCK (AP)—Fort Worth took on the favored Lubbock Hubbers today to try for a place in the finals of the Texas National Baseball Congress tournament.

The Fort Worth team gained the spot today by whipping Long view 5-0 Friday night. David Yates, named the tournament's most valuable player, pitched for Fort Worth.

It Happens Like That Sometimes

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It just wasn't the Western Division's night in the Texas League. Eastern Division clubs swept all four games Friday.

Eastern leader Arkansas belte San Antonio for the second straight night, this time 11-3. The Travelers exploded for five runs in the second inning and never looked back. Phil Knuckles recorded his 10th pitching victory against five defeats.

Wayne Twitchell, a 20-year-old righthander, of the Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs nade his second appearance in the league and stymied Albuquerque 5-1. He came from the Carolina League last week and in his first appearance shut out Memphis earlier this week.

An unearned Albuquerque run in the fifth denied Twitchell a second shutout.

The Memphis Blues downed Amarillo 4-3. The score was tied in the bottom of the ninth when a sure double play ball was thrown wide by Sonics shortstop Bob Holbert, allowing a Memphis runner to score.

At El Paso, Shreveport won a battle of home runs 6-4. Tom Silverio and Bil Bethea hit homers for the Sun Kings but Shreveport's Clarence Gaston and Walt Hriniak each belted two-run homers in the first inning and Gaston added a solo roundtripper in the seventh.

They're matched the same way again tonight with Amarillo at Memphis, Dallas-Fort Worth at Albuquerque, San Antonio at Arkansas and Shreveport at El Paso.

Softball Tourney In Quarterfinals

DALLAS (AP) — Quarterfinals in the regional preliminary to the National Women's Fast Pitch Softball Tournament were scheduled today.

The winners of four games Friday were matched against four teams that drew byes the first day.

It was the Unique team of San Antonio vs La Rosettes of Houston, Rebels of Fort Worth vs. Carter Lightfoot of Dallas, Trash of Beaumont vs. the Fort Worth Mavericks, and J. H. Rose of Houston vs. Brazosport, last year's champion.

Friday night Unique beat the Scotties of Dallas 6-3; the Rebels beat the Anchorettes of Lake Jackson 5-4 in eight innings, Trash blanked Pepsi of San Antonio 2-0 in 10 innings and East Grand Baptist of Dallas fell 9-3 to J.H. Rose.

Sunday's championship game will decide who represents Texas at the national tournament Aug. 16-23 in Stratford, Conn.

Money Takes Edge Off Of Losing Game

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Happiness for the Chicago White Sox is a home game in Milwaukee. They still lose, but at least they make money doing it.

The Sox took their road show to Wisconsin for the seventh time this season Friday night, drew well again, and lost again.

This time the Washington Senators did the hatchet job, chopping up the Sox 11-6 before a crowd of 20,662 in County Stadium—once the home of the National League Braves.

Elsewhere in the American League Friday night, Detroit nipped Minnesota 6-5, Oakland dropped Cleveland 5-1, Baltimore beat New York 4-1 and California split a twi-night doubleheader with Boston, winning 3-2 before losing 6-1.

Frank Howard drove in three runs for the Senators with a double and his 31st homer of the year while Camilo Pascual coasted to his 10th victory behind the 15-hit Washington attack.

Three of the Senators hits were singles by Tim Cullen, traded to Washington by Chicago for Ron Hansen earlier Friday. Cullen drove in one run and scored another.

Hansen, who made an unassisted triple play and whacked a grand slam homer the week before the Senators unloaded him, had a single and a double, drove in a run and scored one for the White Sox.

Bill Freehan drove in three runs with a double and a single for the front-running Tigers, who beat Minnesota.

Ron Clark and Rich Reese homered for the Twins.

Boog Powell tagged a three-run first inning homer and some strong relief pitching by John Morris earned Baltimore its victory over the Yankees.

Morris allowed just three hits in 6 1-3 innings of relief, the last two with two out in the ninth as he closed in on the victory. Eddie Watt came out of the bullpen to nail it down.

Powell's 19th homer gave the Orioles a three-run edge in the first inning.

Oakland captured its fourth straight and tagged Cleveland with its third straight loss and eighth in the last 11 games.

Dave Duncan's two-out single drove in a pair of runs for the A's in the second and Cleveland never made up the deficit.

Rookie Tom Murphy, just 2½ weeks away from induction into the Army, throttled Boston on six hits and the Angels beat the Red Sox in the first game of their doubleheader. California scored all its runs in the first inning arainst loser Juan Pizarro two of them on Bubba Morton's double.

In the second game, Jim Lonborg went seven innings—his longest stint this season and the Red Sox gained the split. Lonborg, 2-3, gave up seven hits, struck out five and walked two. The 1967 Cy Young Award winner is recuperating from arm trouble after undergoing surgery on his knee during the winter.

Top Briton Tries For Double Win

NEW YORK (AP) — Mike Bonallack of England, four times winner of the British Amateur, will try to score a double by winning the U.S. Amateur Aug. 28-31 at Columbus.

The U.S. Golf Association announced Saturday that the name of the 33-year-old veteran Walker Cup ace is included among the record 2,086 who have entered the National Amateur at the Scioto Country Club.

Only four men have won the British and American Amateur crowns in the same year. They were Englishman Harold Hilton 1911; Bob Jones, 1930, Lawson Little Jr., 1934, and Bob Dickson last year. Dickson since has turned pro.

Bonallack is one of three players exempt from qualifying for a spot in the starting field. The others are Canadian Gary Cowan, the 1966 winner, and Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., who was the last player to win at match play in 1965.

In 1965, the format was changed to 72-hole medal competition.

Bonallack is one of the world's leading amateurs. He has been a member of every British Walker Cup team since 1957 and every Eisenhower Trophy team since 1960. He won the British Amateur in 1961, 1965 and this year.

A record 2,083 players will attempt to win spots in the amateur field in 36-hole sectional qualifying tests at 37 centers Aug. 9, 12 and 13. In the championship proper, 150 will tee off at Scioto Wednesday, Aug. 28.

Do Packers Still Have It?

By JOE MOOSHIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP) — The College All-Stars didn't win Friday night against the Green Bay Packers but they managed to score both against the Packers and for the pro teams for whom they will play.

The final score in the 35th annual midsummer football classic was 34-17 in favor of Green Bay.

It was an unprecedented fifth straight loss for the All-Stars in the series but it left the pros licking their chops waiting for their new draft choices to arrive.

It also produced a chink in the Green Bay armor—you can run against the Packers.

For the first time in three years an All-Star team dented the scoring column agains the Packers.

Larry Csonka, the Syracuse All-American headed for the Miami Dolphins, turned out to be the game's leading ground gainer while the passing duo of Greg Landry and Earl McCullouch, both headed for the Detroit Lions, proved itself ready for pro football.

"You can't take a bunch of kids, no matter how good they are, and teach them pass defense in three weeks against Green Bay," said Coach Norm Van Brocklin.

"We got action out of the boys but couldn't get the execution," said Van Brocklin. "But we prove again that a team can run against the Packers."

The Stars, a 17-point underdog, proved it by gaining 225 yards rushing against the Packers with Csonka netting 95 yards in 18 carries for a 5.3 average.

But in the long run it was Packer passing superiority, spearheaded by Bart Starr and culminated by Boyd Dowler and Carroll Dale that proved the undoing of the Stars before a crowd of 69,917.

Starr completed touchdown passes of 20, 36 and 13 yards to Dale, and in between he used Dowler and Elijah Pitts as receivers in setting up Green Bay's scoring arsenal.

Both All-Star touchdowns came in the second half on fourth-down plays and were passes to McCullouch.

Gary Beban of UCLA headed for the Washington Redskins, clicked to the Southern California speedster with a seven-yard strike in the third quarter. Landry, a Massachusetts product, hit McCullouch with a 24-yard scoring pass in the fourth quarter.

Teenage Tourney Gets To Finals

Colorado City and Sweetwater were scheduled to meet at 7 Saturday night for the championship of the Junior Teenage Tournament being unreeled in Snyder.

Colorado City reached the finals by winning its first two encounters Wednesday and Thursday. Sweetwater lost in the first round of the double elimination tourney Wednesday, but then bounced back with three straight victories. They won over Snyder Thursday night, and then gained back-to-back wins against Kermit and Colorado City Friday night.

Sweetwater eliminated Kermit by an impressive 9-1 victory in the first contest Friday, aod then edged C-City 2-1 in a pitchers' duel. Against Kermit, Sweetwater took the lead with a single run in the 2nd inning on a double by Mike Finley, who went to third on a grounder by Roland Herrera, and then came in on an outfield fly by Wes Romemus.

The winners got 3 more in the 3rd, 2 more in the 6th, and 3 in the 7th. Kermit tallied its one run in the 6th, but was too far behind at that point for it to do much good.

In the nightcap Colorado City went ahead in the first inning with its only run of the contest. Steve Kennedy, who singled, scored it. Sweetwater tied it up in the 4th, and went ahead wih another score in the 6th. C-City outhit the winners 5 o 2, but couldn't get the runners home.

This One Didn't Even Get Away

PORT ISABEL, Tex. (AP) — Randy Farenthold of Corpus Christi landed a Blue Marlin Friday so large the tournament scales couldn't handle it to take the lead in the second day of the 30th annual Texas International Fishing Tournament.

Farenthold caught an 11-foot-3 inch 527 pound Marlin and accumulated 2,108 points.

Farenthold spent only 10 minutes fighting the big fish but more than half a hour watching his boat mates work the fish from under the boat. They put a flying gaff and rope on the fish but it ran under the boat and tangled in the propeller.

Runnerup was Hunter Barrett of Fort Worth with three sailfish, 42, 52 and 37 pounds, and 1,093 points.

Third place was held by Linwood Bland of Houston.

A possible world-record, 44-pound Blackfin Tuna, was hooked by John Walker of Galveston.

Wins Top Honors In Bench Rest

SKIATOOK, Okla. (AP) Jerry Rogers of Irving, Tex., outclassed a field of approximately 100 shooters for top honors in the National Bench Rest Shooting Association championship match at John Zink Ranch range near here Friday.

Rogers parlayed a grand aggregate victory in the light varmint class, a second place in the grand aggregate heavy varmint division and a 14th overall in sporter rifle competition to win the top gun aggregate.

Second place overall went to Bob Hanson of Midland, Tex., and Allan Hall, also of Irving, was third.

L. E. Cornelison of Seminole, Okla., successfully defended the heavy varmint grand aggregate shooting, with a .3903 10-match average. Cornelison was second to Ed Shilen of Irving in the 200-yard heavy varmint, but the Oklahoman topped Rogers in half-course and full course of first in the heavy varmint.

Brownwood Bombards Clippers

BROWNWOOD — The Snyder Clippers suffered a serious setback in their bid for a championship in the District Senior Teenage Tournament here Friday as they fell to Brownwood 14-4.

The Clippers were still in the running, however, and were scheduled to meet Ranger at 10 Saturday morning in a do-or-die contest for both teams. The loser of that game would be eliminated, and the winner was to meet Brownwood at 7:30 Saturday night.

For the Clippers to win the championship, they had to win three in a row, one against Ranger and two against Brownwood.

The Brownwood team, which included some members of last year's state champion football team, showed great power at the plate. They hit for five home runs against Snyder pitching. The Clippers helped them by making 8 errors. Brownwood struck quickly for six runs in the first, and were never headed.

The Clippers scored two in the first, and one each in the 4th and 5th. Ronnie Lewis hit for two singles and scored twice, and Wesley Biship hit a home run and a single, and also scored two runs. Mickey Almond and Steve Moffett hit for singles.

WESTERN OPEN LEADER — Jack Nicklaus lets out a soft whistle after sinking a putt during the opening round of the Western Open golf tournament in Chicago, Ill. Nicklaus fired a 65, matching the course record at Olympia Fields. (AP Wirephoto).

Horse Race Developing In Western

CHICAGO (AP) — The chase for the $26,000 winning jackpot of the Western Open Golf Tournament is becoming a closely packed stampede.

Bobby Nichols, the 1964 PGA champion, and George Archer, this year's fourth leading money winner, swing into today's third round sharing the lead at 136, six strokes under Olympia Fields' battered par.

Only one stroke away at 137 are Miller Barber, Homero Blancas defending champion Jack Nicklaus, veteran Billy Maxwell and a 22-year-old Australian, Bob Stanton.

Only three strokes back at 139 were Bert Yancey and Kermit Zarley. In all, 20 players are within five strokes of the two leaders.

As the going gets hot, here is what some of the pace-setters have to say:

Nichols—"I am playing better than I have for a long time. I'm getting more birdie chances. The greens are fast but if you are a pro you should be able to putt on any type of green."

Archer"I took nine clubs to the factory. I had new grips put on three woods, the grip tightened on my putter and a new longer shaft on my wedge."

Nicklaus—"I made a lot of putts in my opening round of 65 and I didn't in the second round. That sums it up."

Snyder Flames Win In Hamby Tourney

HAMBY — The Snyder Flames defeated Ballinger 5-4 in the first round of the Snyder Softball Tournament Friday. They were scheduled to meet Brownwood at 1:30 Saturday.

Maxine Davis showed power at the plate with a triple and a double. Merlene Nichols was the winning pitcher.

Winning Pattern Set By Bengston

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Phil Bengtson has made a winning debut with the Green Bay Packers. Paul Brown, Jim Dooley and Dick Nolan hope to follow suit today with the Cincinnati Bengals, Chicago Bears and San Francisco 49ers.

The world champion Packers made Bengtson's first game as Vince Lombardi's coaching replacement a success Friday night with a 34-17 rout of the College All-Stars before 69,917 in Chicago.

Bart Starr threw touchdown passes of 30, 36 and 13 yards to Carroll Dale but the All-Stars salvaged their pride by breaking into the scoring column after two years of shutouts at the hands of the Packers.

Four more exhibition games are on tap today.

Brown, who sat out the last five seasons after a glamorous career with the Cleveland Browns, leads his fledgling Bengals, pro football's newest team, in an American Football League exhibition tonight against the Kansas City Chiefs. A full house of 30,000 is expected at the University of Cincinnati's Nippert Stadium, where the Bengals will play until their new stadium is completed.

The collection of rookies and players obtained in the expansion draft will go against Kansas City, with veteran John Stofa, acquired in a trade with Miami, at quarterback. His chief target will be Warren McVea, a rookie from the University of Houston, who has been switched from halfback to end because of his blinding speed.

In other night games, the Baltimore Colts are at Oakland and the 49ers visit San Diego for NFL-AFL tests. The Bears and Dallas Cowboys of the NFL tangle in an afternoon contest, the annual Hall of Fame Game at Canton, Ohio.

Dooley, a player and assistant coach for the Bears since 1952, has taken over from aging owner George Halas, who coached the team off-and-on for 32 seasons.

The following all-time greats will be inducted into the Hall of Fame during weekend ceremonies: Cliff Battles, A t Donovan, Elroy "Crazy Legs" Hirsch, Wayne Millner, Marion Motley, Charlie Trippi and Alex Wojciechowicz.

Quarterbacks Johnny Unitas of the Colts and Daryle Lamonica of the AFL-champion Raiders are expected to put on a show before an expected crowd of 53,000 in Oakland. Nolan, San Francisco's new coach, will look over a quarterbacking trio of John Brodie, George Mira and Steve Spurrier against the Chargers.

Aussie Tennis Stars May Be At Colonial

FORT WORTH (AP) — The 7th Colonial National Invitation Tennis Tournament is expanding its field to include Australia's Mal Anderson and possibly Lew Hoad.

Tournament chairman Dick Osburn said Anderson has accepted an invitation to play in the Aug. 15-18 event.

"There is also a very good possibility that Lew Hoad, one of the outstanding stars of the past decade, will be able to make the tournament," he added.

Bernard "Tut" Bartzen, Colonial's resident pro, may also enter the $20,000 tourney, bringing the men's field to nine. It includes Wimbeldon champion Rod Laver.

Also on hand will be Roy Emerson, Ken Rosewall, Andres Gimeno, Fred Stolle and Pancho Gonzalez.

THE ISLES OF TEXAS — In the I.A.B. oil field of West Texas, near the town of Robert Lee, Humble Oil & Refining Company has placed wellheads on great mounds of earth. The lunarlike mounds — 17 in all and ranging from nine to 58 feet in height — dot a landscape that is soon to become a lake bottom. Formation of the lake, the Robert Lee Reservoir, will begin this fall when the gates of a new dam slide shut and start backing up the Colorado River over ranch land, including part of the I.A.B. field.

'Lunar-Like Mounds' Keep Well-Heads Above Water

EDITOR'S NOTE — An oil field has a big stake in the Colorado River Municipal Water District's Robert Lee Reservoir, and that is the subject of an article in "Petroleum Today," the quarterly magazine of the American Petroleum Institute.

• • •

The pickup truck jounces along the narrow West Texas ranch road, trailing white clouds of caliche dust. Then, down through a draw thick with mesquite and up a hill on the other side.

"We're getting to the place," the driver says. "You should be able to see one pretty soon now." He pushes back his sweat - stained straw hat and reaches to adjust the truck's air conditioner.

Suddenly, there ahead you spot what he's been talking about: a massive mound of earth, higher than two telephone poles, wider than a football field. Lacing the sides of the mound are strength - giving boulders. And perched neatly on top of it is a solitary wellhead (which is the part of an oil well that's above ground).

In the distance, a second mound of earth rises from cleared ranch land, and to its right, another. In all, 17 such mounds, nine to 58 feet in height, dot the area, making it look like a moonscape in a science fiction film.

This, however, is not the moon but an oil field near Robert Lee. In most ways, it resembles other such fields in the state. But in three respects, it is quite different — because of its name, because of those lunarlike mounds, and because of what's going to happen to it within the next year.

First, the name which is all initials. It's called the I.A.B. That stands for I. A. Bird, the rancher on whose land the first successful well in the field was drilled.

The mounds? The future of the area? Well, by this time next year much of the I.A.B. should be flooded under up to 50 feet of water. And those earthen mounds, each with a wellhead atop it, will be islands out in a large lake, the Robert Lee Reservoir.

Formation of the lake will begin this fall when the gates of Robert Lee Dam, now abuilding five miles away, slide shut. Then the Colorado River will start backing up between the mesas and over the ranch land, inundating part of the I.A.B. But the wells — with their "heads" held above the lake by the mounds of earth — will continue producing oil without harming the water.

Oddly enough, the I.A.B. will also be "flooded" in another, less obvious way. Some 17,000 barrels of water a day will be purchased from the Colorado River Municipal Water District and pumped from the new lake into a treatment plant. From there, the water will be injected into the rock formation, 5,500 feet underground, that contains the oil.

This water, advancing through porous limestone, will push the oil ahead of it and up to the surface through production wells. By the use of waterflooding (as this process is called), the ultimate oil recovery may be doubled.

Waterflooding is not new for the I.A.B. It was first undertaken in 1962, five years after the field's discovery, using water from wells drilled near the bank of the Colorado River. These wells, however, will be inundated by the lake.

The I.A.B. project seems likely to attract attention as one of the most unusual oil and water conservation stories of the year. Owen H. Ivie, general manager of he Colorado River Municipal Water District, calls the program "a fine example of cooperation between two great industries — petroleum and water." (In semi-arid West Texas, water is an industry.)

"Revenue derived from the sale of water to the petroleum industry will be used to help pay for the construction of the dam and other district facilities."

Ivie adds, "This same revenue will enable the district to deliver water to communities at a lower cost."

The organization Ivie represents is a conservation district created by the Texas Legislature in 1949 to furnish water to Odessa, Big Spring, Snyder, and other communities in 11 counties. To accomplish this, plans were made for the construction of the Robert Lee Dam and the resultant creation of a reservoir approximately 50 million gallons of water a day will be diverted from the lake to help meet municipal requirements of cities up to 125 miles away.

The lake also holds promise as a recreation haven. Fishing and water - sports facilities will be available to the public, as well as five lakeside picnic and camping areas. One 200-acre park will be located in the center of the I.A.B. oil field within view of the wellhead-crowned islands out in the lake.

The oil company's field employees have long since adjusted to the idea that the I.A.B. — which is in an area with an average annual rainfall of 19 inches — will be operated in many respects like an offshore oil facility. Pumpers, who are the men whose day-to-day job involves checking the operation of each well, will be particularly affected. Twelve of the field's 51 wells will be surrounded by water and will be reachable only by boat. An additional five wells will be connected to shore by causeways.

Onshore duties also will be complicated by the new lake. To move from one side of the oil field to the other will involve a 27-mile drive along the shore as contrasted to the present direct, two - mile ride. Well - servicing vehicles will have to be floated to the islands on barges and moved up earthen ramps specially constructed for this purpose.

Engineers are taking many precautions to prevent water pollution. Sophisticated devices on each oil well will shut down production automatically in case of emergency. Also, a monitoring system will allow continuous onshore observation of the offshore water injection wells.

Crude gathering lines that run from the oil wells have been wrapped on the outside with tarpaper and coated on the inside with concrete. They are buried two feet beneath the future lake bottom to prevent corrosion.

Looking out at the towering earthen mounds, the driver of the pickup truck scratches his head and does some speculating. "I'd say it looks like we've got a new tourist attraction on our hands," he muses.

And he's probably right. For the next few months, there'll be a spectacular "mountains of the moon" landscape. And after that, one of the most unusual lakes in Texas.

Johnson To Watch GOPs From Texas

By FRANK CORMIER
Associated Press Writer

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — With Congress in recess, President Johnson is settling down at his Texas ranch to "sit out" next week's Republican National Convention perhaps the Democratic one, too.

Before leaving Washington Friday, Johnson told a small group of newsmen he would be taking a close look at the steel situation in the next few days and expected "there will be additional action" in government efforts to roll back price hikes that followed this week's labor contract agreement.

Underscoring the point, Johnson brought with him Secretary of Defense Clark Clifford, who has a lot to say about government steel contracts, and Joseph A. Califano Jr., Johnson's special assistant who specialized in past price-hike crisse. With their wives, they were spending the weekend at the LBJ ranch near Johnson City, some 65 miles west of here.

Johnson also told the newsmen he just might stay at the LBJ ranch for the "next few weeks" and possibly through the Lador Day holiday.

As of the moment, Johnson hasn't even promised publicly to attend the Democratic National Convention that opens in Chicago Aug. 26—the day before his 60th birthday.

Just Thursday, according to the White House, he personally told Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley he "has no plans at this juncture."

Completions Reported

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas drillers completed 81 oil and 41 gas wells the past week to bring the year's totals to 2,995 and 1,373, respectively, the Railroad Commission reported Saturday.

Last year's totals by this time were 3,931 oil and 1,652 gas wells.

Wildcat activity yielded six oil and seven gas strikes. Three oil discoveries were in Dist. 8 with one each in Dists. 1, 2 and 9. Six gas discoveries were in Dist. 2 and one was in Dist. 5.

A total of 190 wells were plugged, including 57 dry holes.

Total average calendar day allowable was 3,387,490 barrels of oil per day as of Thursday compared with 3,502,134 on July 15.

WATCH FOR THOSE CABLES

Telephone Co. Goes Underground

The telephone company is going underground.

At least, according to Gary Stevens, local manager for Southwestern Bell, more and more of the company's cable facilities are being buried these days.

"Ten years ago, 20 per cent of the company's telephone cable was placed underground," said Stevens. "Today, 45 per cent of all our cable is buried. Our policy is to place cable underground whenever it's technically and economically feasible — you might say we're working our way down."

Stevens noted that cable placed underground is protected from storm and wind damage but is extremely vulnerable to careless diggers.

"We've had several cases of severed buried cables in Snyder so far in 1968," he said. "We're hopeful we'll finish the year without any more."

Southwestern Bell maintains 32,727 miles of underground telephone cable in Texas.

Last year, the company recorded 2,127 service - affecting breaks in this cable throughout the state.

"We usually restore service in a very short time," notes Stevens, "but most of the cuts could have been avoided in the first place if someone had checked with us before digging."

Stevens explained that Southwestern Bell will provide contractors, drillers and others with the specific locations of telephone cables in the vicinity where digging is planned. The company will also help with cable re-routing and special cable maintenance during major construction projects.

Yellow and black warning markers are used to indicate the presence of buried telephone cable. While such markers do not give the exact location of the cable, they do point out the approximate route and also request that the phone company be contacted prior to digging in the area.

"We try to mark cable routes so they're easily spotted," said Stevens, "but people don't always pay attention to the signs."

He noted that a large cable in West Texas was recently severed when workmen bored a television mast hole exactly 51 feet from one of the yellow and black signs. In another case, a road construction crew cut a cable when they set off dynamite just 40 feet from a warning sign.

"We maintain a special toll-free number that people can call for information on buried cables," said Stevens. "Just call the operator and ask for 'Enterprise 9800.' It's a free call and someone will provide you with the exact location of cables in your area. Of course, once a cable is cut, a call to repair service will bring our people to the scene in a hurry."

Not long ago, a farmer digging a grave for his mule cut through one of the phone company's busiest cables between New York City and Toronto, Canada.

"Which just goes to show," said Stevens, "if you're not sure where the cable is — call the phone company BEFORE you dig."

Oil Import Report Stirs Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP)—A still secret congressional report criticizing administration of the oil import program already has stirred up a controversy.

An informed source said Saturday the criticism is not aimed at imports from Mexico and Venezuela, but at amendments which have aided petrochemical industries in Puerto Rico, the Virgin Islands and on the U.S. mainland.

The report suggests that the interior Department keep a closer watch on imports from Canada which oil men say have exceeded estimates by 70,000 barrels a day.

The Independent Petroleum Association of America, with about 5,000 members engaged in oil production within the United States, issued a statement Saturday praising the report.

It said the report, made by the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, emphasizes that the oil-import program should be administered only to carry out its original purpose: to provide national security as to petroleum supplies.

Some U.S. oil and other firms recently have obtained rights to import petroleum for petrochemical operatins.

Implementation of the report's recommendations, the association said, "would restore confidence in the import program and help arrest a 11-year decline in U.S. oil and gas exploration and development."

The association has consistently opposed amendments to the program for purposes other than national security.

One reason it has objected to special imports for the petrochemical industry, both in this country and in the Virgin Islands and Puerto Rico, is its belief that this industry needs to find a market for by-products from its basic manufacturing processes. Gasoline is among these by-products.

Water System Troubles Apollo 7

By PAUL RECER
AP Aerospace Writer

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — A drinking water system that corrodes its own pipes is causing trouble for space officials racing to get the Apollo 7 spacecraft ready for first U.S. manned space flight in two years, an astronaut said Friday.

Walter Cunningham, who will fly with astronauts Wally Schirra and Donn Eisele aboard Apollo 7 later this year, said the potable water system "is still an open item", but that he still expects the spacecraft to be launched on time.

The three astronauts are to fly a 10-day earth orbital mission aboard Apollo 7 in the last quarter of this year. National Aeronautics and Space Administration sources said if all tests go well the flight may be late in October.

Cunningham said at a press conference, however, that a solution to the drinking water problem has not yet been found. He said the astronauts get much of their drinking supply from the water byproduct of the electric fuel cells. Chlorine was added to this water to insure purity, he said, but the chemical reacts with pipes carrying it.

"Maybe it's a calculated risk one way or another," he said. "would you rather have contamination due to chlorine reacting with the pipes themselves or would rather have the bugs, maybe?"

Despite the water problem, the astronaut said, he is approaching the flight with an attitude of "cautious optimism, but I don't want to stress very much the cautius."

Cunningham made the statements during a news conference in Dover, Del., which was relayed electronically to the Manned Spacecraft Center here.

SHS Class Of 1953 To Meet

Members of the Snyder High School class of 1953 are requested to attend a gathering at the home of Ned Underwood, 3009 Austin Ave., at 7:30 Aug. 5. Anyone unable to attend is asked to call Underwood at 573-2175.

FYF Elects New Slate

FLUVANNA — A new slate of officers was elected Thursday night at the regular August meeting of the Fluvanna Young Farmers Chapter.

Buddy Drum was elected president, while Buster Lemons was named vice president of the chapter. Other officers include Don Jones, secretary; Jeff Martin, treasurer; James Beaver, reporter, and Orville Mathis and Rex Pylant, program chairmen.

Refreshments were served following the chapter's business meeting.

Swindles Reported In Texas

AUSTIN (AP — Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin says anyone attracted to some type of home money-making scheme should consult the Better Business Bureau or a lawyer before buying the necessary materials.

Martin said home work swindles have been reported in Texas.

"Those who can least affort to lose their money are the ones who are most shamefully exploited by this kind of fraudulent scheme," he said.

He said this office and the consumer credit commission can take action against swindlers in the home work racket but there is little redress for those who have already lost their money.

"The pitch is simple, Martin said. "If you need money, take a part time job selling widgets from your home. It's easy, and you can make up to hundreds of dollars a week . . . just fill in the coupon."

After mailing the coupon, he said, people often receive "a batch of literature which sounds exciting — but it also explains that all you need to do to start this exciting part time job selling is to buy the promoter's instruction training booklet or sample kit.

"And that, of course, is the gimmick.

"Because when the sample kit comes, and you start to sell the wonder widget, you find that it is hard to sell and your friends and neighbors don't want to buy it. So the victim ends up by losing not only the money invested, but possibly his friends as well."

Most amateur photographs are of children, family groups and household pets.

Lone Wolf Co-op Meeting Tuesday

COLORADO CITY — More than $1,500 in prizes and one of the best humorous speakers in the business make a tempting invitation to the Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative's Annual Meeting set for 7 p.m. Tuesday in Lone Wolf Electric Cooperatorium.

The Loraine Quartet will provide the entertainment for the evening. The Quartet recorded their first record about a year ago, and they have sung in meetings and singings from Texas to New Mexico, and various other places. Members of the Loraine Quartet are Roscoe Hudgins, Patsy Hudgins, Don Richard and Archie Scarborough, with Mrs. Roscoe Hudgins as pianist.

Also there will be two rides for children. There will be a small enclosed Ferris Wheel and an equally safe merry-go-round.

There will be plenty of doughnuts, cookies, coffee and Cokes for everyone. The Roscoe Future Farmers of America Chapter will be in charge of serving cold drinks.

Many electrical prizes will be given away throughout the meeting and the prizes this year are reported to be the most expensive ever given. Each member registering will receive a prize.

Feature speaker for this year's meeting will be Newt Hielscher from Shreveport, La. He was a school teacher for 18 years, and was in the life insurance business for 15 years.

Following the entertainment and refreshments, R. H. Whorton, Jr. from Roscoe will welcome the delegates from the six - county area served by Lone Wolf Electric, including Mitchell, Nolan, Howard, Scurry, Borden and Fisher counties. Whorton is very active in farming and interested in cooperatives and has received numerous awards for his outstanding work in behalf of both fields.

Following the welcome, Martin Murphy, President of the Board of Directors of Lone Wolf Electric will call the meeting to order and various reports on Cooperative business and other matters.

Approximately 2,000 cooperative members, families, and friends are expected to attend.

Charles Griggs, with the law firm of Nunn, Griggs, and Beall in Sweetwater, will be in charge of the election of the three new directors.

The nominating committee, composed of Fred Bowers, Dunn community, Jake Autry, Cuthbert community, Leon Ashford, Westbrook, R. E. Sauer, Roscoe, Raymond Watlington, Longfellow community, Harold Wade, Dunn community, Tommy Fuller, Payne community, and R. F. Fee, Jr., Landers community, placed six names on the ballot. For Area VI directorship, Martin Murphy was nominated. For Area IV G. C. Strange and T. C. Moore are on the ballot. Linden Solomon and Elmo Dunn are vying for the spot in Area IX.

Approximately 2,000 cooperative members, families, and friends are expected to attend.

DRUNK ROUTINE — Actor Jack Albany (Dick Van Dyke) pulls the too-many-martinis bit when he comes face to face with Ace Williams (Jack Elam) the gangster he has been impersonating, in this scene from Walt Disney's gangster spoof, "Never A Dull Moment" in color by Technicolor. The picture stars Van Dyke, Edward G. Robinson and Dorothy Provine and co-stars Henry Silva, Joanna Moore, Tony Bill, Slim Pickens and Elam. Begins at the Ritz Theatre Sunday, Aug. 11.

Bonanza's Star Enjoying Role

Editor's Note — Television's "Bonanza" is going into its 10th year and is still riding high on the ratings range. Lorne Greene, the patriarch of the "Bonanza" Cartwright family, tells what it's been like to play the same part all these years.

By LORNE GREENE
Written for The Associated Press

Ben Cartwright, like old wine, has mellowed and is a lot easier to live with now that we're starting our 10th year of "Bonanza" on NBC-TV. I have continued to maintain my interest because the character never ceases to surprise me. I don't get tired of him any more than you would of an old friend.

In "Bonanza" the circumstances change, but the characters remain the same. When the circumstances are dull and you've been through them four or five times, then you mine your mind, spirit, heart and and remembrances of the past to bring something new to the scene. It's a constant challenge.

I'm asked if I ever get tired of Ben Cartwright. After all, I know him better than anyone. Yes. Sometimes I say, 'I wish he wasn't such a goody-goody.' I wish they'd let me make a mistake sometimes. Ben Cartwright is always the paragon of everything good. But, I'm still continually finding new facets of his character. Hopefully, I look for the author to help, but if he doesn't, I search myself.

I've changed Ben Cartwright over the years. When we first started in 1959, over 468 episodes ago he was a rather tyrannical patriarch who quoted from the Bible and shot a gun at will—a man who was jealous of his land.

Anytime a stranger arrived he was asked, "What are you doing on the Ponderosa?"

We changed that because it seemed to me in those days the only really outside communication came from visitors. My thought was to ask, "Hey, come on in, stay four or five days, relieve our monotony and tell us what's going on in the world."

So, Ben Cartwright changed and became much more friendly and I think it helped the show.

I'm also stimulated by people with whom I work. You get men like Dan Blocker and Michael Landon, with whom you probably spend more time than we do with our individual families, and you're stimulated.

Sometimes we're stimulated by the fact that the show opposite us may get a good rating and we say, "By gosh, let's do a better job."

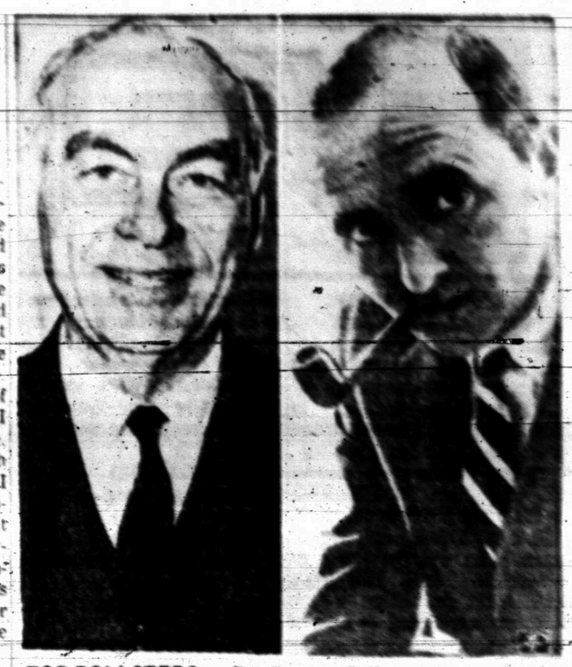

But, I think the thing that captures my interest more than anything else is the people I meet. I travel a great deal. People by the thousands come up and shake my hand and tell me what they think of the show and how, in many cases, it has effected their lives.

We're seen in 79 countries, in 17 foreign languages, by over 400 million people each week.

When I get off the plane in Rome the porter yells, "Signor Bonanza," and in Spain it's "Papa Bonanza."

It's a wonderful thing to know that "Bonanza" is not being shown behind closed doors in a barrel. It's being seen and people like it and that stimulates me and makes me feel alive. We're an accepted member of the community whereever we travel.

A Breton sea captain, Jacques Cartier, landed on the island of Montreal in 1955. The pleasant green island, site of an Indian village called Hochelaga, was dominated by a dead volcano. Cartier climbed it and named it "Mt. Royal."

WITH GOOD WEATHER

Texas Farmers Keep Busy

COLLERE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Another week of good weather with long needed high temperatures kept Texas farmers busy. Coastal areas are still plagued by showers, delaying the grain sorghum harvests and further reducing cotton prospects in several counties, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

There is a growing need for moisture in some areas, he noted, due to the progress of crops and the heat. Ranges are furnishing ample forage for livestock, which are in good condition. Flies and mosquitoes are creating problems in many areas, the director said. Concern is being expressed over the prospect of grass fires, he said.

In midweek reports, district agents gave a mixed picture:

Showers fell over the Panhandle and cotton and sorghum made good progress. Greenbugs are infesting some sorghum fields. Livestock and range conditions are good.

Moisture over the South Plains (Lubbock) should be sufficient for two weeks. Cotton is fruiting well and insects are light. Replanted cotton is making rapid progress. The onion harvest is about over, the potato and cucumber harvests are underway. Soy and castor beans and grain sorghums grew well. Sorghum is heavily infested with greenbugs in some areas. Ranges and livestock are in good condition.

Ctton over the Rolling Plains (Vernon) made good growth and is fruiting well. Insects are causing damage. Sorghum is good and early fields will soon be ready for harvest. Ranges and livestock are in good condition. Moisture is adequate in 17 of the 22 counties.

Light and spotted showers fell over North Central Texas where all crops are making good growth. Cotton insects generally are light and farmers are doing a good job protecting their fields. Livestock and ranges were in good shape.

Showers pelted Northeast Texas and kept moisutre adequate to surplus. Corn was maturing with good prospects. Hay made good growth. Cotton is fruiting but insect damage is reported. Sweet potatoes are making excellent growth and the harvesting of fruit and vegetabies is on. Watermelons are now moving in volume. Pastures and livestock are in good condition.

Showers fell over Far West Texas where some areas need moisture. Cotton was fruiting normally but light insect activity increased. Rust and wilt on cotton was reported in Pecos and Reeves counties. Some sorghum is heading and alfalfa is being cut for the third time in the El Paso valley. Livestock conditions were good. Goat shearing was underway in Sutton and Val Verde counties.

A few showers fell over West Central Texas where hot and dry weahter is rapidly depleting moisture. Cotton is making good progress but needs rain. The second hay cutting is on and yields are good. Powdery mildew is doing extnsive damage to pecans in Llano and San Saba counties. Grass is plentiful but moisture would be welcome since the danger of grass fires is increasing. Livestock are in good condition; lambs and kids are being drenched; and the feeder calf market is active.

Cotton in Central Texas is blooming and growning well but boll weevils and worns are increasing. Sorghum prospects are good and peanuts were making excellent growth. Leafspot disease has been reported in Comanche, Erath and Hill counties. Pecan prospects are still good but a buildup in casebearers is noted and powdery mildew and scab are attacking some varieties. Livestock and pastures are above average. Moisture is adequate generally except in Callahan, Comanche and Mills counties.

Showers damaged hay on the ground in East Texas where moisture is adequate. Corn is maturing. Sorghum looks good and some harvesting is expected within two weeks. Vegetable prices and yields were good. Grazing is plentiful and livestock are in top condition. Pecan prospects are good.

Showers hurt crops and hay making in Southeast Texas. Many farmers in Jackson County have abandoned their cotton because of the rains and insects. Cotton prospects for the district are not good. Some soybeans are blooming but growth has been slow due to the weather. Corn is nearing maturity but drying is a problem. Showers delay the grain sorghum and rice havests and damaged cut hay. Signs of Southern blight and heavy infestations of leaf spot are being noted on peanuts. The watermelon crop in Waller County is only about one-third of normal due to weather. Pastures are good but flies and mosquitoes are a problem.

Harvesting of peanuts and sorghum is active in South Central Texas and the hay harvest is at full swing. Cotton prospects were only fair. Ranges and livestock are in good condition but screwworms are a problem in the south. Walnut caterpillars and webworms are attacking pecans.

Moisture is adequate in the Coastal Bend and Rio Grande Valley but short in the Winter Garden of South Texas. The sorghum harvest is in full swing with prices low. The cotton harvest in the Valley is slow. Some vegetable planting has started. Pastures and livstock are in good condition.

Armed Men Stand Guard At Sign

JENKS, Okla. (AP) — On the east end of the Arkansas River bridge leading to Jenks is a four-by-eight-foot sign, watched over by armed guards.

The sign reads:

"Turn right to Jenks, one of the few towns left in Oklahoma that stills retains the obsolete and unfair occupational tax on its businesses."

The sign is floodlighted. The guards were placed there after a similar sign was torn down.

Sign, guards and lights are the work of Jenks city councilman Warren Helm, who vows he will reopen his fight for repeal of the tax.

The occupational tax assessed on Jenks businesses ranges from $24 to $36 per year, depending on the size and type of business.

It is unpopular with businessmen, and some of them are trying to get rid of it. Supporters of the tax say it is essential to the town's economy.

Helm tried to get the city council to repeal the tax 90 days ago. He was voted down, 3-2.

Now, armed with a petition bearing the names of 43 of the town's 52 businessmen, Helm plans to try again. The issue will come before the council in two or three weeks.

Helm works for an oil company. He is not subject to the tax.

Some authorities say the dolphin has a beak, the porpoise a blunter nose. In the United States most people, including biologists, call all these members of the whale order porpoises.

Nursing Home Accepted By Association

The Snyder Hospital - Nursing Home, 2603 Avenue F, Snyder, was accepted as a member of the Texas Nursing Home Association by the TNHA Executive Board at their August meeting in Austin. Bert W. Dickenson will serve as the representative of the home in TNHA activities.

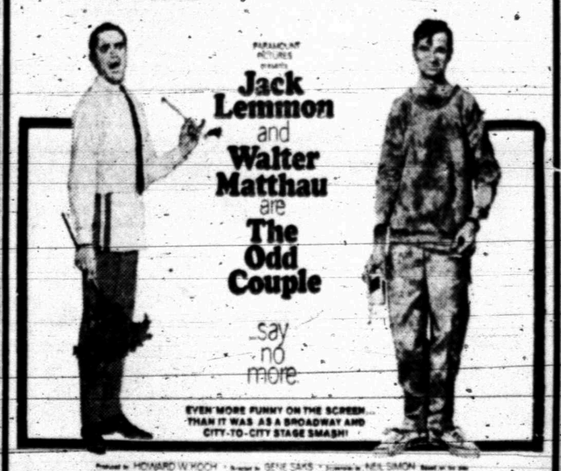

By becoming a member of the Texas Nursing Home Association, the Snyder Hospital-Nursing Home has agreed to abide by the TNHA Code of Ethics and to join with the state organization in its efforts to raise nursing home standards and to improve patient care in Texas.

TNHA is the professional association of licensed nursing and custodial care homes in Texas. Its membership is made up of proprietary and nonprofit homes. All members of TNHA are also affiliated with the American Nursing Home Association.

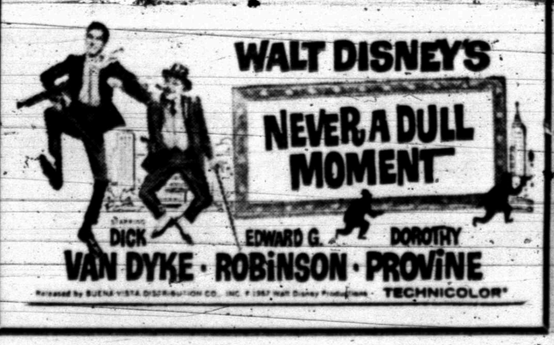

The areas of activities in which TNHA engages include information, education, publications, representation, public relations, and many others. TNHA's prime objective is to work for the professionalism of nursing home personnel with the care of the patient as the ultimate consideration.

CAREER CORNER

By F. J. LAIN

LOOKING FOR A NICE WORK-AT-HOME JOB?

The Memphis Commercial Appeal and Miss Lain award a new Mercury protable, courtesy of the Royal Typewriter Co., to Mrs. George W. Shannon, Memphis, Tenn., for her question:

"Would you devote a column to jobs for WOMEN WHO WOULD LIKE TO WORK, BUT ONLY AT HOME, or during hours when children are in school? Most such jobs you hear about are either very dull or poor-paying — usually both."

A "Dull" and "poor-paying" do sound dreary; don't give up before you start. Remember, one woman's drudgery could be another's dream job. You may consider addressing envelope a monotonous bore, while your neighbor finds it an easy way to pick up extra spending money. And speaking of money, monetary goals vary just as widely. A $500 return for a year's part - time work may be peanuts to one homemaker; to another, it's a new refrigerator, a second car, or a family vacation.

YOUR SPECIAL THING. Almost everyone has a particular talent, skill or ability — what's yours? Don't let a lack of formal training throw you; many a one - time hobby has grown into a homemaker's money - maker.

ARE YOU CRAFTY: One artistically - inclined Denver housewife paints love beads for a costume jewelry wholesaler. Another part - time artist does pastel sketches of children — maybe not good enough for the Metropolitan, but much in demand with proud parents. Other crafty ideas with cash possibilities: painted-to-order kitchen canisters, handmade Christmas tree ornaments and door decorations, doll clothes made to match little girls' favorite dresses.

THEN THERE'S SEW BIZ, which need not demand a dressmaker's long hours of fittings and alterations. A Florida woman supplies customers "swim suits for a beachwear shop. A St. Louis grandmother turns out charming one - of - a - kind children's smocks for the local Women's Exchange.

DO- IT - YOURSELFERS often do well in fields where quality of workmanship and taste command a premium. Do you refinish or reupholster your own furniture? When your friends admire your handiwork, let them know your talents are for hire.

GET HELP AND ADVICE FROM UNCLE SAM — it's available free from the U. S. SMALL BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION (SBA), Washington, D. C. 20416, or any of its field offices. Start by requesting "Bibliography No. 1, Handicrafts and Home Businesses." In the meantime, here are more ideas which may spark others for you.

BORN COOKS have catered their way to tasty profits . . . write for the SBA's free pamphlet, "Counseling Notes on Catering." Are you famous for a special dish which could be packaged and sold? How about cooking lessons?

RANDOM CAREERISTS: A Columbus housewife has developed a thriving business taking baby and pet pictures in her modest home studio . . . One enterprising Californian makes extra money teaching neighborhood children to swim . . . A Texas mother grooms and boards dogs . . . An Arizona woman worked cosmetology school into her schedule and budget, and now operates a beauty shop in her refinished basement.

LBJ, Lady Bird Visit Eisenhowers

WASHINGTON (AP) President Johnson visited former President Eisenhower in Walter Reed Army Hospital Friday and reported that the former chief executive had color in his cheeks and seemed much improved.

While Johnson and Eisenhower chatted, Mrs. Johnson visited with Mrs. Eisenhower.

Johnson said Eisenhower seemed much better than the last time they talked together June 11, shortly before Eisenhower suffered his fifth heart attack. He added that Eisenhower indicated he might be leaving the hospital soon.

Baptists Meet To Preview Budget

DALLAS (AP)—The 1.8 million member Baptist General Convention of Texas will get a preview of the convention's $13.5 million proposed budget at 16 regional meetings between Monday and Sept. 19.

The meetings are being held to familiarize the membership with the budget prior to the annual state convention at Fort Worh in November.

The Courting Swing

. . . adds beauty to your lawn or patio and many hours of leisurely relaxation for everyone in the family.

Sturdily built for years of enjoyment. Soft polyfoam cushions over a contoured seat are upholstered in gay plastics or fabrics. Seat swings on resilient oversized coil springs. Canopy may be adjusted in a second without getting out of swing. Triangular end frames won't sink into the lawn. Electrically welded steel construction. Finished in smooth, hard, baked-on enamel. 49.95
