Sales Pass 15 Billion Mark This Morning

Two Days Remain After Extension Of Closing Date

(By The Associated Press)

EVANSVILLE, Ind., Sept. 30.—Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau announced here today the nation's third war loan drive goal of $15,000,000,000 had been met.

The secretary, who came here to participate in the launching of an invasion barge at the Evansville shipyards, made the announcement at the launching ceremonies.

"An hour ago, I had word from the Treasury in Washington that at 11 o'clock this morning we met and passed our national goal of $15,000,000,000," Morgenthau said, "we still have two days to go."

To Measure Patiotism

"What happens tomorrow and Saturday will measure for us the patriotism of the American people and, more than that, will measure for us the nation's understanding of the principles involved in this war," the secretary said.

He described the purchase of war bonds as a means by which every American citizen can play a direct part in the war and said it was "the one great unifying influence of the home front."

The secretary spoke over a nationwide radio hookup.

Total sales reported yesterday reached $14,739,000,000 — only $261,000,000 short of the goal—and subscriptions have been coming in at around a half-billion-dollar-a-day clip.

The original deadline was midnight tonight, but Morgenthau pushed it ahead to midnight Saturday night to make certain the drive would succeed.

May Be Billion Over

Now it appears that by Saturday, the national quota will be over-subscribed by well over $1,000,000,000. Sales to corporations

Draft Delay Is Seen For Dads

Now that October will be here in one more day—which means that the ban against induction of pre-Pearl Harbor fathers into the armed services will be lifted—expressions of selective service boards take on double interest.

How will the problem of inducting such fathers be handled here?

"It is not likely that any pre-Pearl Harbor fathers will be called up in Lubbock this month."

That, in substance, was the announcement from each of the two Lubbock county boards.

Calls Seen In November

"As for November, however, that is different. When we are asked to fill our quotas, it is expected that we will be told to send a certain percentage of men with children.

"Dependency no longer is a barrier to induction; whether the job such a father does is deferable or non-deferable is the sole question."

(Pre-Pearl Harbor fathers for months have been warned by selective service officials to get in jobs that would defer them, or else risk the call to don the uniform.

No Definite Promises

(Manpower authorities have made no definite promises even then, were the "bottom of the manpower barrel to be scraped." But it was suggested that those in deferable jobs likely would be called only after it had been found there was no one else left to induct.)

Several men who had children before the Japs bombed Pearl Harbor have gone, and more will leave late this month; but, in each case, they volunteered, it was explained.

A completely new inventory has been taken by each draft board in the country, and such inventories have gone to selective service headquarters. Reclassification of individual status will result.

There were approximately 150,000 contestants.

RAF Hits Iron Center In Raid On Ruhr Area

Bochum Is Given Its Fifth Heavy Pounding Of Year

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Sept. 30—Returning to Germany's great Ruhr concentration of war industry after an interval of a month, a British bomber fleet last night gave the big iron city of Bochum its fifth heavy pounding of this year, it was announced today.

A communique said eight of the bombers were missing.

Other objectives in the Ruhr valley also were hit in the raid, the RAF's third attack against German war targets in the last eight nights.

Bochum, last attacked on June 25, is the center of Ruhr coke and steel industry.

130 Acres Devasted

A heavy night raid on June 12, devastated 130 acres in the center of the city, which has a population of 320,000. Three large steel works, including branches of the Krupp combine are situated there, as well as many important coke, coal, iron, tin, zinc and chemical works.

The attack represented the third blow this week at the Nazis' great industrial artery, the Dortmund-Ems canal.

Berlin broadcast a Stockholm dispatch reporting that foreign airplanes passed over southern Sweden in the night, flying in a southerly direction. What connection this had with the attack on the Ruhr was problematical, unless the British squadrons followed a circle route to avoid the heavy anti-aircraft defenses concentrated along the channel coasts.

VFW Opposed To U. S. Being "Super-State"

NEW YORK, Sept. 30. (AP)—The Veterans of Foreign Wars placed itself on record today as "unalterably opposed" to any proposal to bring the United States "into a world government or super-state."

The organization's view was made known in a resolution adopted at the last session of the 44th national encampment. The resolution also declared that "any dilution of our national sovereignty" was opposed.

The encampment voted to oppose a proposal it said had been made for a flag with four upright bars against a white background, to represent the four-freedoms. The resolution added that 'we will not forsake the Stars and Stripes."

Yesterday the veterans tabled for a year a proposal to admit to membership women with overseas service in the armed forces.

Rainy Conditions In Area Halt Farm Work

Murky skies and a sprinkling of rain early this afternoon gave indications that long-heralded moisture was in store over the area. A light mist had been falling since early morning.

Dampness of the past two days had practically halted the cotton harvest which was beginning to get into full swing. Additional rainfall is likely to cause untold damage to millions of bushels of grain sorghum seed piled on the ground on farms and at elevators and warehouses over the South Plains.

NO. 23 LAUNCHED

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 30 (AP)—Henry J. Kaiser's Oregon Shipbuilding corporation continued record-breaking liberty ship production today with Mrs. Robert Moses, wife of New York City's park commissioner, christening the S.S. Jean Nicolet, 23rd ship launched by the yard this month.

THE DRINKS ARE ON 'THE LAW'—These negroes were among the many that assembled at Atlanta to salvage some of the 228 gallons of "moonshine" liquor poured into the gutter by officers after it was seized in a raid on a home. As the liquor flowed away some of the by-standers dropped to the ground and lapped it out of the gutter without the aid of utensils.

U. S. War Casualties Reach 115,000 Total

Losses Include 85,000 For Army, 30,162 For Navy; 21,940 Are Listed As Dead

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. (AP)—War casualties of the nation's armed forces have reached approximately 115,000.

Secretary of War Stimson disclosed today that Army casualties to date total about 85,000 while figures announced by the Navy Department placed naval casualties at 30,162.

The Navy total included 11,258 dead, 5,305 wounded, 9,456 missing and 4,143 taken prisoner.

The total, Stimson told a press conference, included the period from December 7, 1941, through casualties at Salerno, and up to and including September 15.

The casualties at Salerno, where the Allied beachhead was established in Italy and now is expanding, totaled 3,500 killed, wounded and missing.

Stimson gave this breakdown for the war casualties, not including Salerno:

Killed 10,682;
Wounded 26,666;
Missing 23,743;
Taken prisoner 20,451.

Mediterranean Total Given

Since the landings in Sicily on July 10 American casualties in the Mediterranean theater of operations up to the Salerno campaign amounted to 1,455 killed, 5,213 wounded and 1,736 missing, Stimson said. Nearly all of these casualties resulted from the Sicilian operation, although some were the result of air action and some included previously unreported figures.

Stimson said that of the 26,666 soldiers wounded in the war to date 10,975 have either returned to duty or been discharged from hospitals.

He said that it was "gratifying to note that the Salerno casualties were less than we feared."

Land Bank Loans To Be At 4 Per Cent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. (AP)—The Farm Credit administration announced today that its 12 federal land banks will place all their autstanding farm loans on a 4 per cent interest rate basis next June 30.

Some of the early land bank loans were made at rates as high as 6 per cent.

However, since 1933, Congress has been voting subsidies to the land banks which enabled them to charge farmer borrowers only 3½ per cent.

By instituting a uniform 4 per cent rate, the land banks would make unnecessary the subsidies, which have amounted to about $20,000,000 a year, unless Congress saw fit to continue the 3½ percent charge.

Attack Laid To Uniformed Pair

Two men dressed in the winter uniform of the U. S. Marine corps were being sought in Lubbock today after E. K. Hufstedler, jr., 32, of 2007 Thirtieth street, so battered about the head several sutures had to be taken at a hospital, had made a report to police at 1:55 o'clock this morning.

This was Hufstedler's story:

He was en route to Lubbock from Plainview in his car. At Fifth street and Columbia in Plainview he stopped at a stop-sign and the two men "thumbed a ride."

"We laughed and talked about this and that, and they told me a story of having been 27 months in actual combat at various fronts, including Bataan, Corregidor, Guadalcanal and China, and, based on my observation of talk of Marines who have been from those sectors, convinced me they were the 'real McCoy.' They said they had been given medical discharges because of wounds, effective Sept. 3, one of them having been wounded 11 times. They said they were en route to Lubbock, where one had a wife and the other a sweetheart.

Solons To Survey Need For Texas Pipeline

AUSTIN, Sept. 30 (U.P.)—U. S. Representatives L. Mendell Rivers, D., South Carolina, and Frank W. Boykin, D., Alabama, will be in Dallas Oct. 7 and in Houston Oct. 8 making a survey of the need of another Texas-Atlantic seaboard pipeline, Texas Railroad Commission Chairman Beauford Jester said today.

Jester said he will appear before the House naval affairs subcommittee on oil, Oct. 4 in Washington at Rivers' request. He said he will try to secure an increase in the price of oil to encourage exploration.

Jester will return in time for the statewide oil and gas proration hearing which was called yesterday to be held in Austin on Oct. 19.

Two From Stamford Air Field Are Killed

STAMFORD, Sept. 30 (U.P.)—Arledge field authorities revealed today the names of two men killed in the crash of an Army plane five miles east of the field Tuesday.

The victims were identified as Delmon Dee Rice, 21, flight instructor of Abilene, and Aviation Cadet James Melvin Godfrey, 23, of Murray, Utah.

British Postwar Plan Already Functioning In Some Countries

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. (AP)—A critical report on British commercial and diplomatic activities may be laid before the Senate in executive session by members of a five-man inspection committee which just returned from a 40,000 mile trip to the world's battlefronts.

While committee members declined to discuss publicly this phase of their extensive inquiries in the war zones, there were indications they feel that American diplomacy and economic activity are falling far behind that of the British.

Plans Already Functioning

The gist of their complaint, it was said authoritatively, is that British postwar policies already are functioning in a practical way while American representatives are at a loss to know what this nation's attitude will be on many important world questions when the fighting is over.

As a result, the committee members were said to have found that the British stand to reap post-

Stiff New Tax Plan Shaping For Congress

Controversy Seen For Program To Be Heard Monday

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. — An administration revenue program embodying stiff tax increases in the $5,000 to $25,000 income brackets and providing for post war rebates of cash or government life and annuity insurance shaped up today for presentation to Congress. Apparently a controversial reception was in prospect there.

The program, reported in preparation last week, was outlined in greater detail to a group of members of the congressional taxing committees yesterday and will be submitted formally to the House ways and means committee Monday.

It proposes a new refundable tax understood to have been suggested by Roosevelt, who was reported to have overruled objections of Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau to this form of compulsory savings.

All Details Not Discussed

Although conferees declined to discuss all details, this tax apparently would be added to the regular income levies, with the present wage and salary withholding rate being increased from 20 per cent to 30 per cent above fixed exemptions. The present 5 per cent victory tax would be abolished.

The effect, it was said, would be to increase the governments' immediate collection from all individuals by $6,400,000,000 yearly, thus furnishing the major share of the $10,000,000,000 revenue the program is geared to raise.

The rebate provision suggested by the President, however, would have the net effect eventually of reducing the tax against net incomes of less than $2,000.

Rebates Provided

Post war rebates would be provided for all individual taxpayers, but the total amount rebated on any one year's tax could not exceed $500. Thus the maximum rebate would be reached on an $11,000 annual net income and those above would receive no more.

Rebates, payable shortly after the war ends, could be taken by taxpayers in the form of cash, if they chose, but that way they would get only 75 per cent of the money credited to them, the Treasury retaining the remainder.

If they elected to take government life insurance or government annuity insurance these benefits would be entered in the full amount.

Coal Situation Said To Be Getting Worse

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (U.P.)—Federal Coal Mines Administrator Harold L. Ickes said today that "the coal situation is getting worse every week and will continue to worsen until the United Mine workers and coal operators sign a wage contract."

Although he defended the miners' production record, Ickes told a press conference that they would not work at maximum efficiency until they had a new agreement.

"The miners are used to working under a contract," he said. "They just don't feel like working at top efficiency because of the uncertainty over hours and wages."

An agreement between the UMW and Illinois coal operators, providing for substantial wage increases, is now before the War Labor board. The agreement, if approved, might result in a blanket nationwide agreement along similar lines.

Dangers Of Juvenile Crime Cited At Meet

HOUSTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—"Thousands of children now attending schools will be criminals unless some substantial improvement is made" to combat juvenile delinquency, Inspector L. D. Morrison, chief of the police crime prevention bureau, told a conference of Texas peace officers from the Gulf coast region.

Speaking at the Federal Bureau of Investigation sponsored meeting, Morrison asserted last night that "juvenile delinquency is not strictly a police problem, but it is a community problem."

Attending were officers from Harris, Austin, Waller, Fort Bend, Montgomery, Liberty, Galveston and Brazoria counties.

Clark's Forces Said Investing Blazing Port

Pompei Captured In Fifth Army Advance; Women And Children Machinegunned In Streets Of Naples By Fleeing Germans

BY ROGER GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

U. S. 5th Army troops drove beyond newly-captured Pompei at the foot of Mt. Vesuvius today and dispatches from Allied headquarters said the Germans had apparently fled into Naples and on to the north after machine-gunning women and children in the streets.

The German-controlled Italian radio said "at this moment the British fleet is bombarding Naples."

Simultaneously, the Cairo radio declared that 5th army forces were swiftly investing the burning, dynamite-wrecked port.

The Germans said harbor installations at Naples had been destroyed and that "very severe measures were taken against communist riots which are flaring up."

Allied warplanes bombed Nazi truck columns northeast of the city—another indication that German evacuation of the big port was in progress.

Overrunning Pompei, the modern town of 4,000 people built on the ashes of its ancient namesake that was destroyed in 79 A. D., troops of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark drove to the southern slopes of 3,900-foot Vesuvius and began the last stages of their approach around the base of the volcano.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's communique announced the capture of both Pompei, 10 miles along the coast from Naples, and Mercato San Severino, 22 miles southeast of the big port which has been shaken and swept for a week by the explosions and fires set by German demolition crews, and ridden by vengeful machine-gun squads reported to have excited a reign of terror among the people.

But it was probable that the troops were much closer than disclosed by the communique which usually contains no information of operations later than 6 p. m. of the preceding day.

Politics Denied In Army Shift

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—Secretary of War Stimson said today that any new assignment given Gen. George C. Marshall would be with the idea of putting him where he could do the most good.

Asked at a news conference if he had anything to say on the subject, Stimson replied by reading a formal statement:

"I am in a position to say with absolute confidence that whatever duties General Marshall may hereafter be called upon to perform will be decided by the president in a spirit of entire confidence in general Marshall and with the sole purpose of placing this supremely able officer of the United States Army in the position where he can render the best service towards a successful conclusion of this war.

"Furthermore, the attitude of President Roosevelt toward the chief of staff is entirely consistent and in keeping with his attitude in other respects towards all of his military advisors in the Army.

"I am in a position to know and to say, as I do say, that any suggestion that the President has sought to influence the appointments or assignments of officers in the Army with any political, personal or other motive than the successful winning of the war is completely untrue. It is more than that. It is a piece of folly aimed at discrediting the American conduct of the war during a most critical period of its course."

General Marshall, now chief of staff, has been reported the likely choice for global commander of all American and British forces.

STETTINIUS APPROVED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. (AP)—The Senate foreign relations committee today unanimously approved the nomination of Edward R. Stettinius, jr., as undersecretary of state, to succeed Sumner Welles, resigned.

Eisenhower, Badoglio Meet

Italian Military Effort Discussed

(By The Associated Press)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 30.—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander-in-chief in the Mediterranean theater, conferred with Italian Marshal Pietro Badoglio on military cooperation aboard a warship at Malta yesterday, an official announcement said today.

Accompanying Eisenhower were Gen. Sir Harold Alexander, Allied ground commander, Admiral Sir Andrew Browne Cunningham, commander of Allied naval forces in the Mediterranean, Air Chief Marshal Sir Arthur Tedder, the Mediterranean air commander, Sir Harold MacMillan, British minister in North Africa, and Robert Murphy, United States minister in North Africa.

ITALIANS FIGHTING NAZIS

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 30 (AP)—Some units of the Italian army, navy and air force have gone into action against their former Allies, the Germans, it was revealed today coincident with the announcement of a meeting of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower and Marshal Pietro Badoglio.

Italian Effort Talked

"The principal topic of discussion was the method for making the most effective Italian military effort against the common enemy, Germany," said the official announcement.

The conference was held aboard the battleship H.M.S. Nelson, the flagship of Vice Admiral A. U. Willis.

The communique said:

"Some units of Italian military, air and naval forces have already been engaged actively against the Germans."

Three British News Men Killed In Italy

LONDON, Sept. 30 (AP)—Three British war correspondents with the American Fifth Army have been killed near Naples, it was announced today. They were listed as A. B. Austin of the London Daily Herald, Stewart G. Sale of Reuters news service and William J. Munday of the Sydney Morning Herald and the London News Chronicle.

The British news men were with the leading units of Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's armor advancing upon Nocera, and it was after they had seen enemy opposition wiped out on the outskirts of the town that they were killed.

Ironically, the news the correspondents had been killed reached London only a few hours after a prophetic story by Austin had appeared in today's Daily Herald under the heading "On the Road to Death."

"Along the road of death we are driving to the plain of Naples," the dispatch began.

THE BRITISH HAVE LOST TEN CORRESPONDENTS

In New York the magazine Editor & Publisher said the deaths announced today raised total British war correspondents deaths to ten since the war began.

Thirteen American war correspondents have been killed on the far-flung fronts, three are missing and presumed to be dead, and 67 have been wounded, the Editor & Publisher compilation showed.

Australians Resent Idea Of Their Men Being Too Reserved

MELBOURNE, Australia, Sept. 30 (AP)—Australians young and old are waxing fluent in the big city newspapers over Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt's statement at San Francisco last Friday that Americans are winning the Australian girls because the Australian men are too reserved.

Readers have flooded editors with letters, some indignant, some defending Australian womanhood and some defending Mrs. Roosevelt as having made in haste an unfortunate choice of words.

As far as the American soldier is concerned, he is enjoying the situation immensely and carrying on as before.

Americans Work Fast

The Australian press last Saturday quoted Mrs. Roosevelt in an interview on her arrival at San Francisco as saying Australian lads have much of the British attitude of aloofness and formality toward women and consequently "they find American boys walking away with their girls, and they hardly know what to make of the Soviet Forces Shelling Kiev From Suburbs

Reds Are Holding Entire Eastern Suburbs Of City

(By The Associated Press)

MOSCOW, Sept. 30.—Red army guns shelled the Germans on the high cliffs of Kiev from numerous positions in the suburbs of the eastern bank of the Dnieper today.

The Russians were in possession of the entire eastern suburbs of the city, some of which lie less than 100 yards across the river. They were at the railway and highway bridges on the eastern side of the villages of Posdnyaky, Predmonstnaya Sloboda and Trukanhov island, all in Kiev's front yard.

These are just across the river and actually are not villages but subdivisions of the city.

Russian troops are so close to the city that in many places they are able to rake the cliffs with machine-guns, and snipers are busy picking off unwary Germans.

HITLER TELLS GENERALS TO HOLD DNIEPER LINE

By HENRY SHAPIRO
United Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Sept. 30.—Red army troops stormed the approaches to Gomel, key White Russian railroad junction, today as their comrades to the south struck out from the east bank of the Dnieper and seized an island midstream under almost point-blank fire from Kiev.

(Adolf Hitler was reported by the Swedish press to have made a dramatic trip to the Russian front, summoned his generals, and announced bluntly to them that the Dnieper river line "must be held" as the "natural frontier between the two armies.")

Gomel already was invested from the south and east and the capture of Zetka, only nine miles to the northeast on the opposite bank of the Sozh river, raised a direct flanking threat.

Nazis Rushing In Aid

Postwar Policy Being Studied

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. (AP)—Possible drafts of a postwar foreign policy declaration were discussed informally by the Senate foreign relations committee today and Senator Nye (R-ND) told reporters that the 15 members present seemed to have "15 different views on the matter."

A subcommittee headed by Chairman Connally (D-Tex) decided yesterday to draft its own version of a resolution in place of the House-approved Fulbright "lasting peace" measure. There were predictions it would be sent to the floor before the Christmas holidays.

Connally said he had not changed his stand that debate might be inopportune at this time. Democratic leader Barkley (Ky) replied negatively when asked whether White House pressure had been exerted on the committee to obtain action.

Delay Is Indicated

Subcommittee action is expected to be delayed until Senator LaFollette (Prog-Wis), who is ill in Madison, Wis., can return to Washington. LaFollette represents on the subcommittee a group of senators who have been opposed to any foreign policy statement until the war is further along.

A possible adjournment of Congress by November 15, understood to be under discussion by leaders, also may complicate any move for early Senate debate. Some legislators have said that if it becomes apparent that the House ways and means committee cannot complete work on a tax bill in time for its consideration before the Christmas holidays, there will be a concerted move for Congress to go home in November.

Scarlet Fever Above Normal Over Texas

AUSTIN, Sept. 30 (AP)—Warning that incidence of scarlet fever is above normal incidence in Texas, Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, urges parents to give serious attention to sore throat in a child.

"A child with any kind of sore throat should be seen by a physician promptly," Cox suggested. "Complications following scarlet fever may cause prolonged disability or death."

The child with scarlet fever or scarlatina, common name for a mild type of the disease, may be far more ill than appearances indicate, Cox added.

Army Encourages Discussions By Soldiers On War's Progress

By JAMES MARLOW AND GEORGE ZIELKE

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—Brig. Gen. F. H. Osborn said today the Army would stick to a policy in practice since Pearl Harbor:

Encouragement of discussion between officers and men on "the progress of the war" but not on political or controversial problems.

This is in contrast with British methods. Every two weeks Britain's army bureau of current affairs provides booklets on current problems of all kinds —controversial or otherwise — which are a source and basis for forum discussions between men and officers.

Soldiers Poorly Informed

The American Army's special service division's research branch reports on our soldiers that despite their high educational level, the great majority of the men are poorly informed about current events."

To correct this, said General Osborn, a tall New York businessman commissioned out of civilian life to head the special service division, the troops are being provided with information on current events in various ways:

News sent out daily by radio and cable; camp newspapers; news digests mailed out weekly with maps of latest military campaigns; books; and orientation courses conducted by officers.

"Mental Preparation" Provided

These orientation courses, the general explained, are intended to give the soldiers "mental preparation" for battle. For instance:

Using the maps and news digests, an officer might point to the Russian front, illustrate the Nazi defeats in the east and explain the military reasons for their being pushed back. He would encourage discussion by the men on these military developments.

And once a week such orientation courses are supposed to be held, junior officers doing the explaining and leading the discussion.

But when discussion not related to military problems arises in the midst of an orientation lecture, the orientation officer must use his own judgment as to whether the troops would benefit from permitting it to continue, according to the general.

Troops React Very Well

General Osborn said 25 per cent of the troops react "very well" to the orientation courses; 40 per cent receive from them "more good than harm," and the remaining 35 per cent obtain little or no benefit.

More than a million copies of magazines — some in specially reduced size — are sent to the troops at home and abroad monthly.

From the news magazines, the general said, the men can obtain information on current subjects which they might wish to discuss in a forum. If they wish a forum discussion, the men can ask their commanding officer to arrange it. He decides whether he will.

The general said that when requests are made by the men for information on a subject not related to military problems, it is forwarded to them if obtainable in the usual form, like magazines.

ST. ALBANS, Vt., Sept. 30 (U.P.) — It's at your house. That was the answer Bess Donnelly, St. Albans Daily Messenger reporter, got when she telephoned the fire department to learn where the fire was.

American trutles range from the four-inch mud turtle to the giant trunkback more than eight feet long.

U. S. Pays Off When Troops Ruin Crops

LEBANON, Tenn., Sept. 30 (U.P.) —It would be some war if the enemy paid landowners for damage to their crops — but that's just what Uncle Sam is doing for farmers in the middle Tennessee maneuver area when trucks and tanks and marching men ruin fields and woodlands.

One of the busiest offices here now is the rents and claims board of the Fourth Service Command, where claims are filed.

"Claims run all the way from a broken tombstone to a ruined cornfield," said Lt. Col. H. B. Cornwell, officer in charge.

When farmers report crop losses or damage, investigators look into the matter. One farm, the scene of a two-day battle, had the following damages:

Four hundred rods of barbed wire damaged; 500 line posts, 20 corner fence posts, five gates and five gateposts destroyed. In addition there were 100 foxholes to be filled, lespedeza, corn, alfalfa, pasture, gardens, chickens and chicken yards a total loss.

Man Proves Age Is No Cause For Idleness

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 30 (AP)—Henry M. Roe was disgusted because people thought there was no place in this war for a man only 95 years old.

But the Civil war veteran got a job as a mail messenger for a glider plane company.

He told his employers, "fifty cents of every dollar I make goes into war bonds."

Blair Will Resume 72nd Court Duties

Duties as judge of the 72nd district court are to be resumed by Judge Daniel A. Blair on Nov. 1, following his rejection for overseas service with the Army's new military government branch when a last-minute examination disclosed a physical disability, he reported Wednesday.

Judge Blair enlisted June 24 and had completed an indoctrination course at Fort Custer, Mich., and an advanced course in the University of Michigan.

To Return November 1

Judge Blair arrived in Lubbock in the early Wednesday morning hours, accompanied by Mrs. Blair, who had met him in Washington, going there from Louisville when she discovered her husband was not to sail for an unnamed European destination. They plan to leave Lubbock today for a vacation trip and will not return to their 2915 Twenty-first street home until Judge Blair again takes charge of his court which covers Lubbock, Crosby, Hockley and Cochran counties.

Judge J. E. Vickers, of 99th District court, will continue until November 1 to serve both courts, as he has done since his recent appointment by Gov. Coke Stevenson to fill out the unexpired term of Judge E. L. Pitts, and during Judge Blair's absence. Return of Judge Blair to the bench will mark the first time since January 1 of this year that both local District court benches have had regular occupants at the identical times. It was on that date that Judge Pitts went to Amarillo to become chief justice of the Seventh District Court of Civil Appeals.

"One Foot On Gangplank"

While disappointed at the fate which racked him back just as he had one foot on the gangplank" of a troopship, Judge Blair was philosophical about the situation. A veteran of World War 1, the judge, past draft age, said "I volunteered for overseas duty and, with my orders in my pocket, it hit me pretty hard—especially since my buddies with whom I trained and with whom I had been ordered East all got to go across."

Judge Blair, in a letter to the governor at the time of his entrance into service, renounced the salary of his judgeship and has drawn no remuneration since leaving his post. He will go back on the state payroll when he again resumes court duties, at which time his official leave will end.

When ordered to proceed East for embarkation, Judge Blair said goodbye to Mrs. Blair, who had been with him in Ann Arbor, and she proceeded to Louisville not expecting to see her husband again until after victory. It was at Fort Lee, Va., while being issued his overseas equipment, that the last-minute physical examination resulted in the judge's failure to qualify for overseas or troop duty.

NLRB Orders Vote For Gulf Employes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—The National Labor Relations board announced today it had directed an election by Oct. 27 among certain employes of the Gulf Oil corporation, Odessa, Tex., to determine whether or not they desire to be represented by International Union of Operating Engineers, local 715, AFL, for the purposes of collective bargaining.

Voting in the bargaining unit will be all employes of the company engaged upon the latter's properties in the McElroy and Sand Hills oil pools, excluding administrative, technical, clerical and supervisory employes.

Axis Flags Boost Army Marksmanship

CAMP ELLIS, Ill., Sept. 30 (U.P.)—The Nazi swastika and the rising sun of Japan fly briefly every day at the Army service forces unit training center, and because they do marksmanship of trainees is improving.

Previously, poor shooting called for a verbal dressing down. Now words aren't wasted. Soldiers on duty in the target pits signify a "miss" by waving a German or Japanese flag over the target.

Aleutians Vets Aid With Crops

FORT LEWIS, Wash., Sept. 30 (AP)—Youthful veterans of the Aleutians campaign, some still carrying Japanese bullets and shrapnel in their bodies, are serving in Western Washington fields and canneries — and professing an eagerness to get back into the shooting.

Some 3,500 men from Fort Lewis have put in more than 100,000 man-hours of labor to save the region's bountiful crops. Many are awaiting discharge or reassignment.

"Most have been injured while in service," explained Capt. H. W. Rimer, formerly of Grants Pass, Ore., their commanding officer. "They can be given only limited service, and they like to get out of the fort for a change. Also, they feel they are helping the war this way."

Don't Want Discharges

Captain Rimer said that not one per cent of the men from fighting fronts wish to be discharged.

"They want to get back," he said, "because they feel they have a score to settle."

Pvt. Eugene Brown of Denison, Tex., an Attu veteran, said that "to anybody who has been up there, a cannery is just a picnic."

Brown nurses a machinegunned arm and carries the memory of one night on Attu when he stumbled onto a Japanese and killed him with his trench knife. He has worked nights for three weeks in a Puyallup valley cannery under a recently modified Army regulation.

Final Settlement On Oil Expropriation Set

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—The State department made public today an agreement whereby Mexico will pay American nationals $20,137,700.84, in addition to the $9,000,000 in cash paid in 1941, in the final settlement for expropriation of oil properties in 1938.

Oil companies had set the value of their properties in hundreds of millions of dollars but the valuation was cut by a commission of experts.

The payments will begin today with a remittance of $3,796,391.04, and the balance will be paid in four annual installments.

The department announced the agreement had been reached through an exchange of notes by Adolf Berle, jr., acting secretary of state, and Rafel De La Colina, Mexican charge d'affaires.

Disposal Of Italian Fleet Is Problem

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 30. (AP) — Disposal of the Italian fleet is developing into one of the knottiest political questions of the war.

So far the Italians have been allowed to keep their warships, which are admitted to be of great value to the Allies, but they have shown little inclination to fight.

The French, on the other hand, have pointed out to the United States and Britain that they have a reserve officer and sailor pool of 25,000 men willing to fight aboard the ships either here or in the Pacific.

This situation frames one of the questions which undoubtedly will be taken up by the Mediterranean commission the Allies are establishing.

Parent-Teacher Associations Plan Reception For Today

We The Women

BY RUTH MILLETT

Three hundred girls who have been acting as hostesses in the service men's centers in Chicago recently were dismissed to make room for that many more girls taken from a waiting list of 10,000.

A group of the girls who were dismissed held mass meetings to protest.

The chairman of the veteran hostesses based their complaint on the fact that they knew better how to handle men than do girls without hostess experience.

The girls on the waiting list have a ready-made answer for that kind of reasoning—if they want it give it. They could point out, and have logic on their side, that there ought to be a turnover in the hostess ranks at specific times.

For instance, a girl might serve as a hostess for six months and then be "retired"—giving her place to a newcomer. If the lingo has to be military, then the centers could call each date or party a "mission," and take the girls off active duty after a certain number of "missions."

That way every girl qualified could get a chance to learn how to get along with all types of men—as the veteran hostesses say they have learned to do.

GOOD EXPERIENCE

That would make the service centers good for the girls as well as for the men. Because learning how to get along with a variety of men is a good experience for any girl. She'll understand her own husband better (maybe too well, from his point of view) if she has had a chance to get acquainted with a number of men.

Also, it probably isn't good for the girls to go on too long as popular, sought-after hostesses. Giving them vacations will remind them that such popularity isn't normal in a girl's life. That it is just a temporary thing, and shouldn't be counted on as a steady diet.

Soft coal supplies industry with more than half the power required to produce weapons of war.

Women Of Country On Buying Spree According To Survey

(By The United Press)

American women, whose pocketbooks are filled with wartime earnings, are on a record-breaking shopping tour for furs, jewels, and the finest clothes, a United Press survey showed today.

While inductions into the armed forces are curtailing men's purchases, women buyers are thronging into stores from coast to coast in search of a variety of luxury items.

Florist shops, theaters, department stores and dressmakers report skyrocketing sales everywhere. Fur and jewelry are being bought at an unprecedented rate.

"Scare" Buying Indicated

War industry wages of women or their husbands and "scare" buying of irreplaceable articles are believed responsible.

Here is the situation at a glance:

Clothing: Women's clothing sales have jumped 60 per cent over the same time last year with the trend toward the more finely woven garments.

Furs: Sales have doubled and tripled since last year with emphasis on mink and other super-luxury pieces. Cheap fur coats and neckpieces have been dropped by most stores to make way for better furs, which are in demand.

Jewelry: Purchases have risen 35 per cent from a year ago on a heavy demand for diamond rings, earrings, brooches and clips. Prices have been boosted by the use of sterling silver and plated gold to replace war-needed metals in brooches and clips.

Flowers and cosmetics: Demand for corsages, plants and cut flowers is up about 25 per cent, while supplies are reduced by lack of manpower and the use of greenhouses for victory gardens. In the Southwest, purchases of orchids and gardenias have more than doubled. Beauty shop business has increased about 20 per cent in major cities.

Theaters and restaurants: Attendance has increased 35 per cent at the big New York motion picture houses, and along Broadway the usual summer theater lull failed to materialize. Restaurants report booming trade throughout the country. Bars and taverns have more customers than liquor, and proprietors report that increasing percentages of the customers are women.

Labor Problem Being Studied

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP) — Top executives of 15 major aircraft companies reported "remarkable progress" today in discussions of how to solve the industry's No. 1 problem—manpower—and said that they hoped to have a program ready by tonight.

Meeting as the national aircraft war production council, they got together for talks on what must be done to fill the War department's order for a 50 per cent increase in airplane output next year.

Suggestions Offered

These sugestions put forward by eastern members of the group:

1. Move work away from areas which have critical manpower problems to localities where manpower still is available. This could be done by subcontracting, or opening branch plants for sub-assembly work.
2. Use every available means to recruit replacements for workers who inevitably will be lost through turnover.
3. Intensify the campaign to cut down turnover and absenteeism.
4. Continue efforts to increase utilization of workers.
5. Attempt to obtain labor priorities for industry comparable to the military priorities of the product being manufactured.

Wealth Source Seen In Gas Pipeline

HOUSTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—Construction by the Tennessee Gas and Transmission company of a $47,000,000 pipeline from Texas gas fields to the Appalachian mountain industrial region will bring wealth to the areas supplying the fuel, Paul Kayser, Houston attorney and a director of the company, asserted today, stating bluntly that objectors to the line "can't do anything about it now."

"Far from hurting Texas, building the pipeline will open up new markets for surplus gas and aid in building up the country from which it is drawn," Kayser declared.

(Opponents of the line, including W. N. Blanton, executive vice president of the Houston Chamber of Commerce, have declared that the project constitutes a menace to Texas' industrial future.

(The federal power commission last week granted TGTC a franchise to build the line from gas fields below Corpus Christi to the Appalachians.)

"Many gas fields in Texas are drugs on the market and the only way for a community to develop is to sell those resources of which it has a surplus," said Kayser.

Five Ferrying Pilots Are Awarded DFC's

DALLAS, Sept. 30. (AP) — Five pilots in the Fifth ferrying group at Love Field have been notified by the War department that they have been awarded Distinguished Flying Crosses for extraordinary achievement on missions for the air transport command in Africa and the Middle East.

They include Major Thomas F. Collins of San Angelo, who is a graduate of Big Spring high school and A. and M. college.

Celebration Of New Year Begun By Jews

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP) — Millions of Jews throughout the world today solemnly celebrated Rosh Hashnah, the new year of 5704.

The 10-day period of penitence began at sundown last night and will be concluded on Oct. 9 with Yom Kippur, the fast day of atonement.

America Is Biggest Nightmare To Nazis

BY EDWIN SHANKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 30 — The Nazi's biggest nightmare is America.

Bit by bit, the Nazi propagandists have been tightening their lips on the subject of America. The Germans still look upon Britain as their No. 1 enemy. Their attitude toward Russia is complicated; strong cross-currents are sweeping among top Nazis for and against a new pact with the Soviet.

These are the conclusions of Swedish Journalist Arvid Fredborg in his book "Behind the Steel Wall." He has just spent two years in Germany as correspondent for the conservative Stockholm newspaper Svenska Dagbladet.

Fredborg maintains that Germany hasn't a single friend among the nations of the world, that the Nazi is hated deeply even by his allies, and that the third Reich is isolated politically because of its utter political unreliability and frequent lack of tact in dealing with smaller states.

Many Sympathize With U. S.

Fredborg says:

The question of the United States strikes a highly sensitive note among the Germans, most of whom sympathize with this democratic nation mainly because it has become the home of millions of German immigrants. They also remember the American share in the last war.

For several years the Nazi propaganda line has been to minimize the power of America, and Berlin is ironical about "the madness of the figures." They claim American industries are not even coming close to figures mentioned by President Roosevelt.

The campaign of Propaganda Minister Goebbels in this connection reached a peak in 1942, but, it seems, his frantic efforts failed to convince his people that the United States is weak and rotten morally.

Feel British Will Win

At the bottom of his heart, the average German feels the British always will win the last battle. Also, he instinctively admires the British. The Nazis know this. They do their best to counteract it with propaganda. The campaign against the British has outdone even that waged against the Jews.

The Germans know little of what is taking place in England. The British seem to be far better informed on conditions in Germany. The British secret service has been known to spin the entire German nation in its web. After the war we may learn how high ranking Nazis had worked for the British for years.

It is to be expected that hearty feelings should exist between the Germans and the Japanese, but no one can stay for long in Germany without discovering the simple truth that the Japanese are not popular. Peculirly enough, the Chinese are popular. The German people still have a feeling that Emperor Wilhelm II was not entirely wrong when he warned against the "yellow" danger.

German irritation over Japan is due to Japan's unwillingness to attack Soviet Russia. The only thing Japan would do was try to make a separate peace between Germany and Russia. The Berlin-Tokyo Axis is a marriage interest in which neither party has the slightest scruple about sacrificing the other, Fredborg concludes.

Southwest Land Boom Discussed

DALLAS, Sept. 30 (AP)—Farmers, governmental agencies, and other groups interested in agriculture are concerned about the possibility of a land boom in the southwest, E. A. Henson of Little Rock, Ark., told a postwar agricultural planning conference today.

Henson, regional agricultural analyst of the bureau of agricultural economics, said: "Even at higher prices, farmland looks good to the investor, but the farm operator and the buyer of land priced too high will be hurt.

"Pressure will be applied to obtain an income based on the higher land price, resulting in the land being used in undesirable ways. The owner-operator who sticks tight is not helped by higher prices on land in his community and may be stampeded into selling."

The meeting heard that prices paid for farmland advanced an estimated 15 to 20 per cent in the southwest during 1942 and that sales were continuing at a high level at comparatively high prices.

Attending the conference, are representatives of agricultural colleges, experiment stations, and of federal and state agencies from Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, and Louisiana.

Japs Are Using New Fighter

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP) — The Japanese have come up with a new fighter plane more formidable than the Zero, Senator Brewster (R-Me) disclosed today, and the United States may have to send more "big league" battlers to cope with them.

Brewster, one of three senators just back from a 42,000 mile swing over the world's battlefronts in an Army plane, told an interviewer that the new "super-Zero" apparently was just getting into production because only a few had been sighted.

But those few, he indicated, had proved tough. He said the ratio of American victories over losses, which ran as high as 4 to 1, has begun to drop.

Until the appearance of the new Japanese model, Brewster said, U. S. fighters in the far Pacific considered quantity more important than quality. Now, however, they are urging stepped-up speed climb and maneuverability in their own ships.

Yugoslav Patriots Claim New Gains

LONDON, Sept. 30. (AP) — A patriot communique broadcast today from somewhere in Yugoslavia said that guerrilla forces had forced German troops to retreat "at many places" near the northeastern Italian city of Gorizia and at Ljubljana, in Yugoslavia.

The war bulletin made no mention of how far the irregulars had swept past Gorizia, 25 miles west of the Yugoslav border and 30 miles northwest of Trieste, but The London Daily Mail, quoting German radio accounts, said the guerrillas had penetrated 100 miles into northern Italy to the Venice area.

This account declared that fighting was in progress along a 125-mile front between Venice and Trieste to the northeast and northward toward the Austrian border in the Dolemite foothills.

The newspaper quoted a Berlin radio spokesman as saying that the entire area was "unsafe" and that German troop movements were possible only in convoys. Roads, bridges and railways were said to have been blasted.

Boy Is Found Dead In Icebox In Attic

WARREN, O., Sept. 30. (AP)—A three - day search for seven-year-old Lewis Davis ended last night when the boy was found dead in a small icebox in the attic of the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank B. Davis.

Coroner J. C. Henshaw reported the boy had removed one shoe and apparently had used it to rap on the door in hope of calling attention to his plight. He said he believed death was accidental.

Compromise Pushed On Drafting Dads

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. (U.P.) — Sen. Robert A. Taft, (R-O) today sought bipartisan support for his proposal to require the drafting of fathers under 30 years of age first.

Taft hoped, to offer his proposal in the Senate this afternoon as substitute for the bill of Sen. Burton K. Wheeler, (D-Mont.) to defer induction of all pre-Pearl Harbor fathers until January 1.

Unless there is such a compromise, Wheeler's bill is destined to defeat, either through a vote on the issue or by recommital to a Senate committee pigeon-hole.

A tentative draft of the substitute which Taft proposed has three major provisions. It would:

1. Forbid induction of pre-war fathers until the entire national pool of single and childless married men was drained.

2. Require the calling of fathers under 30 before any above that are were taken.

3. Forbid occupational deferments for any man under 30 unless he was engaged in essential work having to do with actual production of airplanes, shipping, munitions, mining or some similar task under direct government contract.

Taft said he already had the support of two other Republicans —Sens. Chapman B. Revercomb of West Virginia and Edward V. Robertson of Wyoming. He hoped to enlist the support of Sens. H. Styles Bridges, (R. N. H.); Edwin C. Johnson, D. Colo.) and Bennett C. Clark, (D., Mo.).

DRAFTING OF FATHERS TO BEGIN TOMORROW

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. (U.P.) — With Congress still debating the wisdom of it, the draft of fathers for military service starts tomorrow and an Associated Press survey indicates an overwhelming majority of states will begin inducting family heads almost immediately in order to meet their quotas. Selective service officials contend that 446,000 fathers must be put into uniform between now and the first of the year to meet the demands of the armed forces.

24 States To Begin

Draft officials of 24 states, including most of the South, said they definitely expect to call pre-Pearl Harbor fathers in October. Only ten states reported that they could postpone it until after November 1.

The War department, which has insisted that there should be no blanket deferments for any group such as fathers, indicated a willingness to act on criticisms of lawmakers who have bucked the father draft idea. General staff men, meeting with a group of senators, discussed plans to deny government employment to any able-bodied draft-age non-father unless he is considered indispensable, and to bar from Washington desk any commissioned officer in that same draft category.

Daughter Of Texas Representative Dies

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP) — Mrs. Robert S. Dempsey, daughter of Representative Luther A. Johnson (D-Tex.), and Mrs. Johnson, died here Wednesday of heart complications after a ten-day siege of pneumonia.

Besides her parents, Mrs. Dempsey is survived by her husband, a War Production board official; a daughter, Miss Gail Mackenzie; a sister, Mrs. J. M. McGee, Beaumont, Tex., and a brother, Naval Lieutenant (JG) Luther A. Johnson, jr.

Born in Corsicana, Tex., and christened Turner Read Johnson, Mrs. Dempsey was reared in that Texas city and in Washington.

Balkans Big Thorn In Hitler's Side

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The Balkan thorn is being pressed and dangerously deeper in fuehrer Hitler's side by the business-like progress of the Allies in the conquest of Italy, as marked today by the reported investment of the strategic port of Naples.

One of Hitler's chief reasons for defending Italy is to protect his hold on the explosive Balkans, just across the Adriatic. Each day of success on the Italian peninsula adds to the Allied ability to rake the Balkans from the air, and it also is bound to increase German fears of invasion. The situation in this cockpit of southeastern Europe is indeed a thorn in Hitler's side, for it is a terrible menace to the right flank of his badly manhandled battle-front in Russia.

Must Maintain Army

The fuehrer's fears of invasion of the Balkans doesn't necessarily mean that the Allies have decided on such an operation. They are in the enviable position of being under no pressure at this time to undertake it, whereas the unhappy Nazi chief is compelled to maintain an army in that theater, to guard against invasion and to keep the lid on the unpredictable Balkan peoples.

Not only are all his small satellites—Bulgaria, Rumania and Hungary—trying to break away from him, but the occupied countries are smiting him hip and thigh. Today, for instance, a patriot communique from Yugoslavia records that guerrilla troops have forced the Germans to retreat at many places in the northeastern part of the country. There is heavy fighting on the Dalmatian coast.

Thus all the Balkans, both friend and foe, are serving the Allied cause well, either by design or by circumstance. Actually all the United Nations need do to keep the pot boiling is to continue to support their friends with all aid short of invasion, meantime tossing bombs and moral ferment among the little Axis states. The Balkans will do the rest themselves, until such time as either Russia or the Anglo-American Allies can send armies into the peninsula.

PLENTY ROOM IN AFRICA

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Sept. 30 (U.P.) — Africa, with a population of 150,000,000, can support twice that number, according to Dr. Frank J. Klimberg, professor of history in the University of California. The population is now stationary as against an increase in Asia of 15,000,000 to 20,000,000 annually.

U. S. Officials Ask To See Film On Maize

Marion F. Peters, local manager of West Texas Gas company, has been asked by department of agriculture officials for extra prints of his film, "Maize for Victory," made on the W. P. Martin farm 15 miles south of Lubbock and dealing with combine-milo maize produced there.

The film was previewed last week before the Lubbock Kiwanis club in connection with a classification talk by Martin on how he discovered and produced this special combine-type maize which this year will produce more than $16,000,000 from growers and farmers throughout 29 counties in the South Plains and Panhandle of Texas. Production of four other types, The Plainsman, Caprock, Wheatland and Cunningham maizes, will run total grain sorghum in the area to between $80,000,000 and $100,000,000, agricultural experts have estimated.

Drillers' Deferment Up To Local Boards

AUSTIN, Sept. 30 (AP) — The national selective service office today informed Railroad Commission Chairman Beauford H. Jester that deferment of oil well drillers is up to local boards.

Replying to Jester's telegram of Sept. 12 to the national director, Lt. Col. Geoffrey J. O'Flynn of the manpower division wrote:

"In the local board is vested the discretion to determine the selective service status of any registrant, subject to appeal.

"Therefore, in the oil industry employers should file written requests for occupational deferment with evidence of irreplaceability, for consideration of the local board. If such men are classified in class 1-A the case may be appealed to the board of appeal. If the decision of the local board is affirmed, the state director may be requested to review the matter to determine if an appeal to the President is warranted."

Slayer Of Woman Is Found Insane

DETROIT, Sept. 30 (AP)—Dr. Lowell S. Selling, director of the psychopathic clinic of Detroit recorder's court, said today that his department and a sanity commission had found Emyrs Richards, 51, accused of the butcher-knife slaying of his stepson's pretty wife, insane.

The separate reports of Dr. Selling and of the commission will be submitted today to recorder's Judge John P. Scallen, who received Richards' plea of guilty to a charge of murder, the psychiatrist said.

The body of the dead woman, Mrs. Mary Gallian, 18, wife of an Army lieutenant, was found by her mother-in-law Sept. 20. The young woman's throat had been slashed and a cloth was knotted around her neck.

The first time the U. S. Army made use of gliders in combat was in the invasion of Sicily.

Westerner Defense Shows Improvement

Team Drills Hard For Big Spring

The Lubbock Westerners continued to show improvement Wednesday afternoon as they went through the last tough scrimmage session before the clash with the Big Spring Steers Friday night in Tech Stadium.

The Westerners had another session of headon tackling and blocking and came out battered and bruised, but confident that they will redeem themselves Friday night against the undefeated, untied Steers.

The club will go into the game with the lineup riddled with injuries, but coaches have been finding some promising material cropping up to fill the shoes of missing stars.

The chief loss will be at guard and fullback where Tom Lokey and Roy Grimes had been entrenched. John Pearson and Clinton Benefield were making strong bids for the starting guard post during workouts for the week and Billy Bob Harris and Vance Wright were still ripping the defensive line to shreds Wednesday in bids for the starting fullback job.

The team will taper off Thursday for the battle, Coach Davis said.

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 30—Scribes traveling with the Dodgers report that there's another Brooklyn revolt brewing—and it won't likely be settled as easily as the summer flare-up—the veteran players are squawking that Leo Durocher cost them a chance for second-place money by using too many rookies recently, yanking pitchers without good reasons, etc., and several of them say they'd like to see Burt Of Leo remains . . . Which seems to prove the only difference between a Dodger player and a Dodger fan is that the players say "that bum," instead of "them bums."

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Wesley Thompson, Tampa, Fla. Times: "Taings have reached a pretty pass in the fight business. Time was when the manager would take the only bed in a hotel room and make his fighter sleep on the floor . . . Now the boys are telling it around that in Jacksonville the other night a certain fighter parked his carcass in the linens and made his manager bunk on the boards."

Cardinals—with their pitching staff reduced to essentials, the Cards may have to use their starters as relief men, too, but they can call on Spud Krist, who pitched in three games within 24 hours last July, Rookie George Munger and pint-sized Murry Dickson. There's not an inning of World Series experience in the trio.

Army trainees at Minnesota are squawking about paying a buck a month "dues" to the university athletic dept. After all, it isn't their football team . . . Little Maxie Wilson pitched three winning games for the Norfolk Naval Training station in the recently "World Series" with the Naval Air station nine and then went right over to enter the enlisted men's golf tournament . . . Season Opens On Managers

Rickey Opens Door For Leo Durocher

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The baseball season may be closing, but the open season on managers is just starting.

Branch Rickey, president of the Brooklyn Dodgers has announced that he was giving Leo Durocher his outright release as player-manager although he may later consider him for a bench manager.

Rickey explained to a press conference at Pittsburgh that "I have not thought of hiring anyone other than Durocher, but by giving him his release he will both be free to talk about next year without any feeling of compulsion on either side. If he wants to make a connection elsewhere, either in baseball, or radio, or the movies, he will be free to do so."

The wohle substance of Rickey's remarks seemed to be that he had opened the door for Durocher to leave the Dodger household, either under his own power or otherwise.

Bums Oust Pirates

Before making his announcement Rickey watched the Dodgers score nine runs in the eighth inning to beat the Pirates 14-7 and oust Pittsburgh from third place in the standings.

The St. Louis Cardinals clipped the Boston Braves 3-2 for the Redbirds' 19th triumph in 22 games with the Braves this year but Rookie Alpha Brazle gave nine hits, walked six and fanned only one.

Johnny Vander Meer pitched the Cincinnati Reds to a 3-0 decision over the Phillies with a four-hit performance and the New York Giants batted 14 innings to a 3-3 draw with the Chicago Cubs. All the Bruins' runs were gifts, one on an error and two on walks which forced in runs.

Senators Clinch Second

The Washington Senators clinched second place in the American league by cutting down Cleveland twice in a twilight-night doubleheader 5-2 and 7-4. This will be the first time in seven years the Senators have finished in the first division.

The New York Yankees and Chicago White Sox split a pair of shutouts with Bill Dietrich winning 3-0 for the Sox in the first game in a pitching duel with Lefty Marius Russo, and Charley Wensloff retaliating with a 4-0 whitewashing in the nightcap.

Detroit divided a doubleheader with Philadelphia, the A's taking the first game 8-2 behind the seven-hit hurling of Jesse Flores and the Tigers coming back to win the afterpiece 9-1 with Paul (Dizzy) Trout pitching a six-hitter for his 19th triumph. Rudy York hit his 34th home run and batted in three tallies to help Trout.

Vernon Stephens beat the Boston Red Sox 4-3 in 13 innings for the St. Louis Browns in the first half of a doubleheader, but the second game ended in a 3-3 draw when darkness halted play after nine innings.

Southwestern-NTAC Tilt Set In Austin

ARLINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP) — Austin will get to see the Southwestern university football team in action twice this year.

Saturday, the Pirates play Texas in the capitol city. Oct. 15 Southwestern meets North Texas Agricultural college in House park, Austin, in a night game.

Coach Klepto Holmes of the Aggies said today the Southwestern-NTAC game scheduled for Oct. 16 at Georgetown had been transferred to Austin.

Holmes also announced scheduling of a game with the 15th training regiment of Camp Fannin in the Tyler High school stadium the night of Oct. 9.

NETS BIRD

CAMDEN, S. C., Sept. 30 (UP)—W. J. Moseley had been fishing for hours without even a nibble. In disgust he made a cast at a large bird, skimming along about 15 feet above the water. And he hooked it — on the wing.

Sellout Indicated For LAAF-SPAAF Tussle

'Khaki Classic' Slated Sunday

One of the largest crowds ever to see a football game in Lubbock is expected to jam Tech Stadium at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon for the "khaki classic" between South Plains Army Air field and Lubbock Army Air field.

Tickets, now on sale in the lobby of the Hilton hotel, are selling at a brisk pace and a sellout is indicated.

The game is the first of a two-game series between the two cross town rivals and pits what appears to be two very evenly matched grid machines.

Both At Full Strength

From all indications both clubs will enter the fray at full strength, although the Commandos are still somewhat bruised as a result of their game with the Fort Bliss hospital squad last Sunday. A wide open contest with plenty of passes and free wheeling ground plays is being talked by downtown fans, but "communiques" from both camps indicate each is stressing defense.

The biggest job for LAAF will be to baffle the hard charging Commando line, that for SPAAF to stop Fullback Buster Dixon who steps off the yardage to pay dirt for the Fliers. The former ACC star is the biggest bid for victory the Fliers may have, his playing sparking his mates against Texas Tech.

Tickets for the game are now available, general admission being 25 cents, reserved seats in sections B and C in the west stand and S and T in the east stand 75 cents and box seats 75 cents and $1.10. Enlisted men will be admitted free.

Musical Yanks Adopt New Theme Song

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP)—The New York Yankees have adopted a ditty called "Pistol Packin' Mamma" for a theme song and every time they chime in on a chorus of "Lay that pistol down" people for blocks around want to pick up the gun and start firing.

But besides rendering some very bad music the Yankees are stirring up a bad omen for the St. Louis Cardinals in next week's World Series.

Two years ago the Yankees made a marching song out of the "Beer Barrel Polka" and for weeks before the World Series they would sound off with "Roll out the barrel" without the slightest provocation. In the series they rolled the Dodgers over one.

Last year the song writers neglected to provide the musical-minded Yankees with a lyrical lift and while this oversight was not blamed at the time for their subsequent loss of the world championship to the Cardinals, the New York American League glee club is running no similar risk this fall.

Raiders Brush Up New Plays

Both Defense And Offense Polished

The Texas Tech Red Raiders went through a general workout Wednesday afternoon as they brushed up new plays to be used against the Texas Aggies at San Antonio Saturday night. Both offense and defense formations were given a working over during the afternoon.

Coach Dell Morgan said he would not name the traveling squad for the San Antonio game until after Thursday's workout. The team will leave Lubbock early Friday morning for the site of the game.

The return of Freddie Brown to the Tech squad yesterday proved to be a great boost for the morale of the Red Raiders and their plays began at once to click with more precision.

Coaches Dell Morgan and Polk Robison put in most of the afternoon working over the list of plays to be used against the Texas Aggies and the squad was in top form.

Coaches worked with several possible starting combinations in both the line and the backfield during the dummy scrimmage sessions.

No Tongue-Twisters Found On Pony Club

DALLAS, Sept. 30 (AP)—Southern Methodist University's football team can claim the title of "sports writer's dream."

There's certainly nothing "Fordhamish" about the names of the starting lineup because there are only 58 letters for all eleven players.

So short are the names that the S. M. U. athletic publicity department has not challenged any other senior college to match them.

Only one of the top eleven — blocking back McClintock—has a three-syllable name, and five — tackles Poulos and Holt, guards Hill and B. Sisk and fullback W. Sisk—have four-letter monikers. Three others — Cloud, fullback Allen and end Croft—each contribute five letters, with wingback Redman adding six and end Johnson seven.

Schoolboy Slate Features Interdistrict Games; Vernon-Amarillo Tilt Is Feature

(By The United Press)

A scattering of conference games dot the Texas schoolboy football calendar this weekend, but the spotlight will be centered for the most part on several interdistrict contests slated to pare the field of the state's unbeaten teams considerably.

Headlining this week end's schedule are games sending Vernon up into the Panhandle to contest the mighty Amarillo Sandies; John Reagan of Houston to the state capital against the defending state champion Austin High Maroons; Paris' Wildcats into deep East Texas against the Marshall Mavericks; North Side of Fort Worth to Sherman, and Brackenridge of San Antonio to McAllen.

All of these teams are undefeated and untied so far with the exception of Sherman, which has been tied by Greenville. There are other undefeated teams, of course, but they either are playing lesser foes this week or have not met comparable opponents in compiling their record.

Sandstorm Favored

The Panhandle Sandstorm is a favorite to topple Vernon, but the Austin-John Reagan contest should be a close one with the champions emerging victorious by a narrow margin. Marshall should take Paris, but not without a struggle, while North Side and Brackenridge are slight favorites over Sherman and McAllen.

Feature conference game of the week pits San Angelo's powerful Bobcats against a Midland team that has rolled up 56 points to 6 against Brownfield and El Paso's Austin high. The Bobcats, highly regarded in pre-season dope, should not have too much trouble if they keep up the pace set by their 40-0 shellacking handed Lubbock last week.

Other games that count in the standings will find Odessa at Lamesa; Ysleta at Austin (El Paso); Fort Worth, Tech vs. Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) on Thursday night; Sunset (Dallas) vs. North Dallas, Thursday night; Adamson (Dallas) vs. Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), Friday night; Forest (Dallas) vs. Crozier Tech (Dallas), Saturday; Hillsboro at Mexia; Texarkana at Gladewater; Kilgore at Athens; Laredo at Kerrville; Brownsville at San Benito; Robstown at Edinburg.

Several other interdistrict games of interest are on tap, including Highland Park at Wichita Falls; Greenville at Denison; S. F. Austin (Houston) at Temple; Port Arthur at Lufkin; Galveston at Milby (Houston), and Waco at Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio.)

Cowhands Playing Cooper High Today

"We want revenge" is the battle cry of the Lubbock Cowhands as they invade Cooper this afternoon for a return game with the team that handed the Lubbock youngsters a 12 to 7 licking last week at Chapman Field.

The youngsters have been working hard all week under the supervision of Coach Howard Price. They have improved rapidly since their last game and Wednesday were snapping through their plays with the snap of a veteran team. They were showing a passing attack that would warm the heart of a high school varsity coach.

The game will start at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

CRIPPLE WINS RACE

CAMP EDWARDS, Mass., Sept. 30. (UP)—Two weeks after breaking his leg, Maj. Paul L. Warner, 42, of Nashville, Tenn., defeated 25 fellow officers in an obstacle race. A new type of splint on the fractured limb made the feat possible.

Lubbock Man Recovered from Ear Infection

CASE HISTORY NO. 248

Patient was suffering from pressure on eardrums, he had visited four specialists, and without results. Decided to try chiropractic treatments, and after coming to our clinic an X-ray was made to determine the exact cause, which showed a severe pressure on the nerves leading to the ear drums, causing the drums to swell thereby causing a continuous roaring and pressure discomfort to the entire head.

The first adjustment showed results, and after a few visits to our clinic the condition was relieved and the patient dismissed.

What Readers Of The Evening Journal Say—
The Plainsman Gets Some Mail

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Letters from readers are welcomed at all times and on all subjects. However, no letter of more than 500 words will be considered for publication, and all letters belittling, or impugning the motive of any individual, firm or corporation must include for publication, the true name of the author. The Editor shall be the sole judge of whether or not letters may be published and cannot engage in correspondence concerning them).

ENLISTED MEN WRITE

Dear Plainsman: We are writing this letter as enlisted men of South Plains Army Air Field.

You have probably heard that we, the enlisted men of this field, have been restricted to one 15-day furlough per year. We are writing to you because as a member of this country's press, you stand for fair play and freedom. Most of us have come from all points and parts of this Democracy of ours, and we have been with you for many months.

You have had the opportunity of observing us as soldiers and men. We know that you feel towards us only the spirit of friendliness and brotherhood. Your past actions have proven this.

The men who pass these orders on us may overlook that we also love our mothers, fathers, wives, and children. They are financially able to keep theirs near them. Most of us will not be on this side of the pond very long. Now that we have the opportunity, why can't we have the privilege of seeing our loved ones.

In the past we have been restricted to wearing only G. I. clothes. We were only trying to look well dressed, as we are proud to be fighting men of this great country of ours. Now shoes have been brought into the restriction list. How are we going to be able to attend the fine dances that the good people of Lubbock hold for us? What! Dance with the young ladies with trench shoes?

We are asking for your help, because you are the press, and the people, who are the families.

Respectfully,
Enlisted men of South Plains Army Air Field.

(Dear SPAAF Enlisted Men: Thanks for your letter. To be perfectly honest with you, I had not heard of either order to which you refer: the 15-day furlough limit, or that requiring the wearing of G. I. shoes at all times. Probably there are good reasons for both. My guess is that these orders probably cover all posts, not just SPAAF. However, I'll do this: I'll attempt to get the "lowdown" on both orders from authorities on your station and report back through my column. I happen to have some acquaintance on your post, and among your officers there are several whom I am happy to consider as personal friends. I am intimately acquainted with your C. O., Col. Norman B. Olsen; with your director of training, Lt. Col. E. V. Robnett, jr.; have as a neighbor your executive officer, Maj. George Wray; am well acquainted with Maj. Fred Carson, your commandant of students, and with several others. I sincerely believe your officers—certainly those I know—are always on the lookout for the best interests of the men of their post. I hear them talk "shop," and I know how they feel. So let's reserve judgment until we can find out what these orders are all about. There are many distasteful orders at every station, and in all the services, yet not all of them can be relaxed and most of them are backed by good reasons. I'll find out what I can and report to you. Cordially, The Plainsman.)

There's always a silver lining to be found if you look hard enough for it. For instance, the rationing of meat has made eating hash a downright pleasure.

IT is not infrequent that The Plainsman brings down maledictions upon his thinning—and graying—pate as a result of allegedly humorous remarks directed at the foibles of the fair sex.

So just to afford a change of reading pace—and at least a day's respite from sharp rebukes—let us take time and space here and now to doff the chapeau to the real and earnest home front worker, the American Woman.

Probably because of being irked over the fact that he is either too old, too fat—or both—to fight, the average American home front male isn't doing much in the way of helping win the war.

Oh, he dutifully buys a few bonds now and then; he may even take part in drives to sell them, or sit on a home front committee with a high sounding name and present his ponderous views of what should be done not only at home, but also by Eisenhower, MacArthur, Marshall, etc.

But by and large he contents himself with trying to keep up with the fighting and pounding his friends on the back when the news is good.

But not the ladies, bless 'em!

They're contributing in large numbers and their contributions are more difficult than the mere act of signing a check.

They're doing work, w-o-r-k, work. And they ought to be duly credited for same.

Perhaps The Plainsman doesn't know the right men, but the fact remains that he knows only a few who are actually putting themselves out to do something on the home front—something aside from investing their money in bonds and urging others to do likewise.

George Moore, for instance, who lives just north of town on the extension of Avenue H, has been and still is making scabbards for knives to be given soldiers and sailors brushing up against the Japs in the Pacific. Klaus McCraw, the compress engineer, is making the knives to go into the scabbards. These two men are about the only ones we know who give their spare time doing something entailing labor which, in turn, directly helps the men on the fighting fronts.

Overbalancing these two are literally hundreds, yea, even thousands, of women here-abouts whose busy fingers are enlisted in the home front fight.

IT may have taken a war to do it; but the town is full of ladies who have eschewed what to them are delightful social pastimes in order to fashion knitted articles, bandages, comfort kits, etc., for the men in uniform—men scattered from the frigid zones to the tropics in this global war.

Other women who rarely used their hands for anything more purposeful than shuffling a bridge deck have torn their nails and ripped the skin from their fingers putting up all sorts of fruits and vegetables to make sure that their familes will have something to eat in the days to come when food shipments abroad may possibly denude grocery shelves.

Still other women—and lot of 'em—learned the rudiments of first aid in the days when it looked like American might have emergency need of such knowledge, together with some practical nursing should nearly all the professional nurses be called into service or placed strictly upon the most serious home cases.

The truth is, we could fill up this column with things the ladies have been doing—and which have required personal sacrifice on their part—while their men folks were pursuing "business as usual," and looking wise when the subject of "where will the next front be?" bobs up.

We may be selling our own sex short—and, heaven forbid! —but the fact remains that we don't believe the male has ever sacrificed, or will ever sacrifice, in the little things to anywhere the same degree as the female.

It's different in the fighting end, of course. There the male is, and always will be, (Mrs. Roosevelt to the contrary notwithstanding) predominantly important.

But here at home—far removed from whatever glory and romance there may be connected with war—it is the female gender which counts the most and which is making the real, the big contribution to eventual victory.

So here's to the ladies! They're hard to live with; they're impossible to live without. But God bless 'em!

THE financial cost of the war, while piddling in importance when compared to the loss of only one life, is never-the-less great from an economic standpoint.

Henry Morgenthau, jr., Secretary of the Treasury, is the source of this recent statement:

"This is the costliest conflict in history. In each 10-hour period, your government is spending more than the entire cost of the American revolution. From this point on, it will be even more expensive!"

That Man on Avenue Q says the higher a person climbs, the harder it is for him to keep from slipping.

From a reliable source it is learned that male help has become so scarce in the Midwest the farmers are resorting to the use of female scarecrows.

PICKED UP at Random: Approximately 20 million Victory Gardeners in the U. S. this year will contribute crops worth a billion dollars, according to estimates of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. But these figures do not embrace all the good to come out of the amateur crop-raising campaign. Experts are amazed that V. G.s have been able to produce good foodstuffs on plots that formerly were dumping places for ashes and tin cans and Los Angeles amateur farmers have grown corn taller than any produced by the professionals in Iowa! . . . Now that ammunition is limited, and has been for months, crows are becoming a serious menace in many localities. U. S. now has approximately 150 million crows, or 15 million more crows than there are people. Crows now range from the Arctic Circle south into Mexico; have a habit of gobbling up crops and killing other feathered species. They also are blamed with sneaking into unguarded nests of ducks and geese and breaking and eating eggs laid there. But on the brighter side of the picture, the crow kills and eats numerous insects that are injurious to various crops . . . The recent, and to some extent still current, epidemic of infantile paralysis has resulted in medical scientists learning a wee bit more about the disease and experiments of immediate past weeks bid fair to result in even more knowledge. Two medicos, Drs. Claus Jungeblut and Murry Sanders, have worked out a new vaccine which may not work on humans. But the doctors are hopeful, because it already has been proven to work on mice and monkeys.

Africa Waits

By ACHMED ABDULLAH

(Copyright, 1943, NEA Service, Inc.)

Chapter 1

Two hours earlier, with due pomp and circumstance that had blended chilly, buckram-stiff European politeness, colorful Moslem splendor and motley African savagery, they had done him great honor.

Ivory horns had brayed. Reed pipes had shrilled. Drums had thumped and thundered. Incongruously, almost sardonically, a band composed of recently recruited cannibals had blared out the Marseillaise.

Flags — the flags of the United Nations, Free France, America, Great Britain, Norway, Holland, Brazil and all the decent rest—had fluttered everywhere, defiantly and hopefully. People of many races had lined the dusty streets, cheering themselves hoarse.

From a dozen ceremonial fires, scented smoke had mounted to the tight, lapis-blue sky in feathery streamers and hung there in a blood-red cloud, lighting up this little town of Mounetville — a neat French bourgeois name that, having supplanted the former Arabic appellation of Suq el-Maraghin, sat illy upon its steaming, exotic miasma — and telling all Central Africa that a new lord had come to rule.

For today, by appointment of General de Gaulle, Lincoln C. Elliott, American, was military governor of this last and loneliest French equatorial colony which sweltered and sweated and stewed at the back of the beyond.

Lincoln Elliott sat alone that night on the veranda of his squat little wattle-and-daub house which was so pompously called the "Governor's Palace."

He listened to the far, faint pulse-beat of the Arab tom-toms and the hollow, nasal, sardonic thud of the tall, wooden Negro drums.

He thought of his meeting, a few weeks earlier, in London, with General de Gaulle and Winston Churchill. Thought of the confidential communication locked in his desk: a flattering message from Washington telling him that while, doubtless, given his varied military experiences, the war office would be glad to give him a commission, the United States government considered him irreplaceable in his present position. He smiled as he recalled how, only a little over a decade earlier, he had come to this some colony as a raw recruit in the French army, after a memorable row with his father.

Amos W. Lincoln, manager of an American express company in Paris, had been a stern New Englander — the sort who had dieted his smoldering, natural passions into a bleak, thin-blooded, artificial Puritanism. He had married a Frenchwoman, a widow with a son, who died in giving birth to Lincoln.

Amos had adopted Raoul, who was six years older; had brought up his stepson as well as his son with a iron hand. He had thought himself a good Christian, yet had never learned the sweet virtue of forgiveness. So when Raoul, a rather wild, extravagant youngster who had chosen the army as a career, had gone heavily into debt, he had refused to assist him, had even refused to come to the rescue when the other, driven to despair by hounding creditors, had helped himself to regimental funds.

Raoul had been drummed out of the army with disgrace; and Lincoln — for he had loved his half-brother dearly — had had a terrible scene with his father. Accusations and counter-accusations. Words that should not have been spoken.

Finally, he had flung out of the house.

There had been, as a logical aftermath to the row, too much champagne mixed with too much brandy, and a persuasive recruiting sergeant, gorgeous in his well-fitting, blue uniform and medals clinking on his broad chest.

Since then Lincoln had served in the French Foreign Legion here and there all over Africa, from Algiers to the Tripolitanian border, from Dakar to the Cameroons. He learned to love the land with a love surpassing that of woman.

His steel-blue eyes had become puckered and weary; his curly, brown hair had grown thin in spots; his lips did not smile as readily as formerly; and he had lost flesh until, today, he was as lean as a whiplash. But his love for this land had persisted.

And now, the colony having declared for Free France and the Cross of Lorraine, here he was back after 11 years, entrusted with a great mission: the mightiest where once he had been the least.

He sat there, listening to the far, faint throbbing of the drums.

Rub-rub-rub-rumbeddy-rub — the Morse code of all Africa, the evening chant of all Africa fraught with the news, the rumors and gossip and lies of all Africa.

Rub-rumbeddy-rumbeddy-rub—the sound waves traveling north with words of tribal feud, and west with words of rinderpest striking the long-horned cattle of the Massais, and south with words of a M'pongwe medicine-man brewing dread mysteries, and east with words of a plump bespectacled little German found with a forged Swiss passport in his pocket and two tons of dynamite in the packs of his safari.

Lincoln knew the drums of old. For so long, day and night, he had listened to their chatter. And he sighed as he thought of the dead years; as the dead years came back to him with the droning of the drums; came back to him with the scene, sweet and acrid, strong as the beat of a temple gong, that drifted in from the native quarter.

Ah—the sounds, the scents!

The melancholy realization that —dear Lord God!—once he had not been a great sun, a high-and-mighty governor to be salaamed to, but had known the soul of these drums, the soul of Africa . . . had felt this soul as part and parcel of his own soul.

Rub-rub-rub-rumbeddy-rub—swelling, dwindling, swelling breaking off unexpectedly, on a high note, like a dirge skirled on the bagpipes; awakening old memories, old follies, old desires with a terrible vividness.

This Curious World

Today's Journal Editorial

FRANCO RUNS TRUE TO FORM

Although much less blatant in its expressions of admiration for the Axis than when the Allies appeared doomed to certain defeat, the Franco government in Spain continues to demonstrate that it is a willing mouthpiece for Nazi propaganda when opportunity seems to offer.

This has been proved anew by the manner in which Spanish sources have been "plugging" the rumor of late that Russia is about to make a separate peace with Hitler. The fact that the Spanish government is doing the best to keep the rumor alive and to get the Allies excited about it strengthens the supposition that the whole thing is Nazi propaganda.

Obviously, Franco has a very selfish reason—perhaps a life and death reason—for doing everything he can to obtain favorable peace terms for his fellow dictators. This he proved when, after the Allied conquest of North Africa, he suddenly assumed the role of an over-stuffed dove of peace as he insisted that the war was a stalemate and that the Allies never could successfully invade the European continent.

In trying to save the other dictators, Franco also is trying to save himself. There simply won't be room in this world for dictators after the Allied victory. Therefore, it is inevitable that he would clutch at any straw—the latest being the rumor, almost certainly made in Germany, that Russia is about to drop out of the war.

Today's Thought

The Lord of hosts shall defend them.—Zechariah 9:15.

I have prayed in her fields of poppies,
I have laughed with the men who died—
But in all my ways and through all my days
Like a friend He walked beside.
I have seen a sight under Heaven
That only God understands;
In the battles' glare I have seen Christ there
With Sword of God in His hand.

ON BROADWAY

(Copyright, 1943, For The Journal)

EDITOR'S NOTE: In the absence of the regular Winchell column, Merle Oberon, film star who in real life is Lady Korda, wife of a British peer, offers a substitute).

By MERLE OBERON

IN London there is a 19-year old girl who sits in a wheel chair, paralyzed from the hips down. Her legs are dead but her eyes can dance and her smile is warm with life.

In all the hundred of times bombs rained on London, she has never once allowed her family or neighbors to remove her to an air-raid shelter.

"I am not afraid," she tells them. "You must get yourselves to shelter, and I would only delay you. England cannot risk any more cripples now!"

In another section of the city, in Bruton street, is a small three-corned pub. Some say it is 400 years old. For many decades it was crowded almost into oblivion by the tall modern buildings that rose around it. Now it stands all alone, shabby but proud, in a street flattened by the blitz.

When I think of war, I think of these two, the cripple girl and the shabby pub. She, who has never stood upright in her whole life, gaining a shining stature through courage; the old tavern, recovering its pride as it stands steadfast under a thundering sky. Courage is as young as the one and as old as the other.

Courage can be great—or small. Not every one is called upon to make the supreme sacrifice, sometimes it is only a matter of cheerfully giving up small things:

In England there is absolutely no gas for civilian automobiles. Each person gets th equivalent of 20 cents worth of meat a week—a week, not a day! The milk ration is about half a pint per person, every two days.

Recently when I went on tour to entertain the American boys in England and Ireland, I was asked to speak at a civilian rally, to an audience numbering nearly a thousand British men and women. I entertained them as best I could, and answered hundreds of questions about America. These British men and women were deeply grateful and formed a committee to send me a token of their appreciation.

Next day the gift arrived. It came from their hearts and I unwrapped it tenderly. It was four eggs!

COURAGE may consist only of humor, when humor is hard to find. In London, where every night is pitch black, people sing as they grope along the sidewalks to avoid collision. During the air-raids they sing, too. They have a favorite song for the bombings—it's "Tomorrow is a Lovely Day!"

One of the highlights of our entertainment tour (Al Jolson, Patricia Morrison, Allen Jenkins and Frank McHugh made up the troupe) was seeing the arrival of first American paratroops in England. Strictly volunteers we were told, all kids with fresh, grinning faces.

We gave them a show, of course, but first they insisted on putting on one for us. Twenty-five planes flew over us, with 26 men dropping out of each. A thrill we'll never forget—and not until afterwards did we hear that two of them had been hurt, one fracturing his skull and another his leg.

"Weeks afterward, as I was walking through a ward in Churchill hospital, a youngster wheeled himself up in a chair. It was one of the injured paratroopers.

"If you ever see Gypsy Rose Lee," he grinned, "I wish you'd tell her something for me. Her business and mine are a lot alike —we ain't got a thing if we ain't got that 'string'!"

Courage can come in one glorious burst, or quietly, with no thunder or trumpeting to mark its magnificence. On the Columbia lots there is a young actor, Bill Carter by name, who was in the thick of things at Tobruk. Bill has seen both kinds of bravery.

There was a young sergeant, given the task of destroying a million gallons of petrol before Germans took over the city. He didn't have enough fuse to explode the fuel dump safely. He motioned his fellow soldiers to the shores of the Mediterranean. Then, standing in the middle of the dump, he calmly threw in a hand grenade.

There were the three privates who were all a retreating commander could spare to hold a bridge while the troop got away. He gave them their orders, and they knew it meant to stand till they fell, with no help and no hope of escape. They were quiet for a moment and then, one youngster answered:

"Okay." That was all. Not even a "Sir" on the end, for in that moment he and his officer had achieved equality. A commander can only die for his country—and he, a private, could do as much!

YES, victory will come, we know, and surcease, and forgetfulness. But first MUST come courage!

In sub-infested waters, the R-4 helicopter can hover low over the sea to spot raiders, or take off in a hurry to inspect suspicious oil slicks.

MASONS MIGHT SUFFER

CAMP STONEMAN, Cal., Sept. 30 (U.P.)—Owing to Hitler's hatred of the Masonic order, all soldiers leaving for overseas duty are advised by the Grand Master of the Lodge to remove all rings, pins and cards that would show their membership in the order. As potential prisoners in Hitler's hands, they might be subjected to unusual punishment.

Where-in A Ranch Couple Leave For The City

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is one of Ernie Pyle's favorite columns of past years, being reprinted while he is on vacation.

BY ERNIE PYLE

WASHINGTON — The news of their leaving has just come to me in a letter. They mailed it at Tucson, on their way out of the hills. Their last night must have been sad for them.

There wasn't much packing to do, for they had sold out lock, stock and barrel, and practically everything they had went with the ranch.

It was getting on toward 9 o'clock. Twilight had come and gone, and the little valley below the house was full of the dark —desert stillness.

ERNIE PYLE

There is no silence, anywhere, like the silence of an Arizona night.

They had finished supper, and sat in the swing placed on the bare ground out under the thatched porch, as they always did. You couldn't see Antelope peak from where they sat, for it was on the other side of the house, and it was dark. But in an hour or so the moon would be coming up, and then if you walked around the house you could see the mountain silhouetted big and sharp.

Everything around them was just as it had been for years—everything except a few things.

The car down by the pigeon house was packed full of stuff, for they were leaving at daylight . . . and you couldn't hear the pigeons cooing down there, for the last two had been eaten for supper . . . and old Nap, the great, kind German police dog who was stone deaf but who could smell a coyote for a mile and who was slow and old and lovable, and old Nap wasn't rousing up from his sleep every now and then to come and put his head in their laps, for he had gone to live with a cowboy over the hill. Nap wouldn't know what to do in the city.

The man lit a lantern, and hung it on the side of the house, on the hook up by the big thermometer. He went back in the house and got his two six-shooters, the .38 on the .45 frame, the one with the copper handle he had made himself, and the other .38 with the bone handle, and he wrapped them in soft cloth and put them in a bag.

That was about all there was left to do. The swing they were sitting on, and what little furniture there was, and the saddles on the foot of the iron bed down in the bunkhouse, they all went with the ranch.

And the two horses that he never could find when he wanted them. They were out there on the range somewhere, and the new owner knew their brand, so that was enough. They went with the deal too. And so did the calves, and the few steers.

THEY sat in the swing, and he rolled brown-paper cigarets and smoked them one after another. Finally she said: "We better go to bed."

He smoked a couple more cigarets and they went in. She blew out the light and lay down. He went out onto the little earthen ledge they had built on the other side of the house for a porch.

There was Antelope peak, standing up so still in front of the moon. He had climbed up there so many times. The rattlesnakes were worming around up there now, finding a warm hole for the winter.

Seven years. A long time for a man and a woman to live on the desert. Homesteaders who had stuck it out. Cactus and cat's claw and sand. Miles of it, as far as you could see. And cattle. He had built his house there. A board house, right down on the ground. Could walk around it in 30 steps. One room and kitchen. But it was nice inside, and they had their easy chairs, and their Aladdin lamp, and nice dishes, and books, and it was always clean and warm. And he had drilled a well, and built cement water tanks, and got a gasoline engine. Water is life on the desert. Water had been life to them. They watered cattle for the ranchers, and made a living at it.

But Happiness Was There

Sometimes it had been lonesome, with only Mexicans and cow-people within riding distance, and not many of them. And town 40 miles away, and not much of a town when you got there. But they had been happy, too. You never had to do anything at any certain time, and you could sit and smoke and sandpaper a copper gun-handle all day long if you wanted to. And the country was pretty, in a desert way. Not flat, but hilly, and interesting, and in the spring the cactus was a glory.

SEVEN years. It's a good country to live in, but it's a hard country too. Only the cactus survives, eventually. There was much rain this summer. The country was flooded. Cattle didn't need water out of a well. Just couldn't make it any longer. They got a fair price for their square-mile. . .

Tomorrow at daylight. Little mesquite shadows on the gray sand. Antelope peak and cattle. Open spaces and solitude. Jackrabbits and rattlesnakes . . . Seven years. . . .

He went back into his house and went to bed. The watchful shadows down by the water tanks moved, and spoke. Yip, yip, yipeeeeee . . . tonight and forever, the song of the desert. Coyotes. They'll be hearing them in their dreams, for a long time, in the city.

Ammunition Dump Blasted

(By The Associated Press)

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS in the Southwest Pacific, Sept. 30—A huge store of ammunition which the Japanese painstakingly had transported overseas for use against General MacArthur's advancing New Guinea troops was exploded Tuesday at Wewak by Liberator bombers in the greatest pyrotechnic display ever seen in the Southwest Pacific.

This new blow, following by a day the destruction of more than 60 enemy planes and seven ships at Wewak, was reported today in a communique which also announced that hard fighting Australians have inched through bitter Japanese resistance to within 600 yards of the main jetty at Finschhafen.

The Japanese utilized 40 fighter planes and concentrated batteries of anti-aircraft guns in an effort to prevent further destruction at Wewak, where approximately 500 of their air-craft have been wiped out in little more than a month.

8 Interceptors Downed

But the raiders shot down eight interceptors, added 145 tons of bombs to the 106 tons dropped Monday and departed intact while smoke from the munitions blast covered the whole Wewak peninsula. The fighting caliber of the opposing pilots led returning fliers to believe they were crack navy airmen rushed in from Rabaul.

The resultant flames after the storage depot was hit could be seen for 60 miles. A large fuel dump and several supply dumps also were destroyed.

Nearer the ground fighting at Finschhafen, Liberators caused landslide obstructions with 1,000-pound bombs on the coastal road south of Magang.

Jap Garrison Menaced

The Finschhafen garrison was menaced by a force which crossed the Ilebe creek behind the base and by a force moving along the coast from Lae. The defenders were dive-boombed and shelled by artillery.

In the Solomons, 35 Liberators and Lightnings hit Japan's big Kahili airbase on Bougainville with 60 bombs after which nearly 100 torpedo and divebombers worked over nearby gun positions. One of 30 Zeros which attacked the Liberators was downed and 20 Corsairs and Hellcats got a second in high altitude fights with 30 more Zeros. One United States plane crash-landed but the pilot was saved.

Despite repeated attacks, the Japanese are managing to bring up more anti-aircraft guns to keep Kahili operating.

Australian Men

Americans' fast work."

Young Australians, mostly girls, pounced on the statement with both feet.

Here is a typical example of the letters flooding the editors:

"Admittedly some Australian girls have been temporarily bewildered by the glitter and glamor of the Americans, with a different manner of speech, stories of great cities, and a surplus of money, but we will venture to say that they have only succeeded in sorting the good from the bad for our Australian lads."

Mrs. Roosevelt's statement has been the chief street corner topic, but casual observers among Americans here have yet to find it developing any really heated arguments.

Mrs. Roosevelt recently completed a 20,000-mile tour of the south and southwest Pacific, during which she spent 11 days in Australia.

British Diplomacy

war benefits from many American lend-lease contributions to other countries.

Senator Brewster (R-Me) said the British have had representatives of cabinet rank in intimate touch with their military leaders in North Africa and the Middle East. He said the American diplomatic front is "undergoing some strengthening that is encouraging," but added that the situation in India is "mixed up."

Dutch Farmer Finds Way To Sell Poultry

LONDON, Sept. 30. (AP) — A Dutch farmer has succeeded in evading Nazi restrictions on sale of fowl.

Aneta, the Netherlands news agency, said today the farmer advertised that he had lost a purse containing 100 guilders ($53 when Hitler entered Holland). He offered one goose as a "reward for its return."

Next morning dozens of persons lined up with purses to "return."

BEAUTY—Winner of a beauty contest in New York, Jacqueline Dalya (above) won a part in a Los Angeles stage production and now has been hired for the films.

Jap Exchange Ship Leaves Indo-China

LONDON, Sept. 30. (AP)—The Tokyo radio said today that the Japanese liner Teia Maru, carrying 600 Americans, 50 Canadians and 50 Chileans to be exchanged for Japanese subjects, called yesterday at Saigon, Indo-China, and left today for Marmagoa in Portuguese India, where the exchange will take place.

The Swedish liner Gripsholm is carrying Japanese nationals to the rendezvous at Marmagoa.

TWO-FOOT BEANS

BROWNWOOD, Sept. 30. (U.P.)—Brown County Judge A. E. Nabors has grown super beans, two of which make a meal for one person. The beans, stringless and tender, measured 24 inches in length. Mrs. Nabors has canned six quarts, which, the judge said, wasn't many beans. He got the seeds from Tennessee.

The Liberator, a 28-ton four-engined, twin-tailed, long-range, high-altitude bomber, can carry a bomb load across the Atlantic and return without refueling.

Four Speak At Church Meet

Four speeches on the general theme "Aims for a Better Community" were presented before approximately 200 persons Wednesday night in a meeting in the First Christian church sponsored by the community adult education of the Lubbock County Youth council.

Miss Mayme Alexander, dean of girls at Lubbock High school, encouraged more cooperation between parents and school representatives. Parents need to be acquainted with what the child is doing, where spending his time and what he is thinking, she said.

Speaking on needs of the Spanish element, Mrs. Fred Montero, wife of the Mexican Baptist minister, outlined three needs, for more education among the youth, better recreation facilities and more adequate religious training.

Impartial Enforcement Urged

Impartial law enforcement, improved educational facilities and improved living conditions were three points discussed by J. A. Chapman, negro physician. He suggested a central committee of representatives from all groups, who would freely discuss problems.

Speaking from the juvenile standpoint, Dr. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist church, stressed responsibility of parents and suggested two solutions to the problems of juvenile delinquency. The first is to keep children and school and second, to keep them home at night.

Sam Leifeste, chairman of the Youth council, presided.

All churches cooperated in the meeting, which was one of the events in the observance of Christian Education week.

Severance Tax On Export Gas Possible

AUSTIN, Sept. 30. (AP)—A severance tax on natural gas exported from Texas to other states for industrial use is a distinct possibility, Governor Coke R. Stevenson indicated today.

At a press conference the governor, answering questions, said the tax "might have to be used" in order to encourage retention of gas for expanded industrial use in Texas.

He emphasized he had made no decision in this respect but it was one consideration in his study of the question whether more gas should be piped from Texas fields to areas in the east with big coal reserves.

Legislative action would be required to enact a severance tax and the legislature does not meet in regular session until January, 1945. The governor can order a special session at any time. He was non-committal on whether he was considering an extraordinary session for consideration of the severance tax.

and other large investors already have reached $11,121,000,000 and will go higher. And the Treasury department expects the individual quota of $5,000,000,000 to be attained, though the final count won't be completed till the middle of October.

Minnesota and Utah have now topped their quotas, making seven states over the line with many others just about to join them. Maryland, the first to reach its goal, now has sold 135 per cent of the bonds it was supposed to.

One of the interesting sidelights on the drive is the fact that the White House staff has subscribed 446.8 per cent of its quota of $6,158, beating the record of any other government agency.

INDIVIDUAL BOND SALES ARE LAGGING OVER U. S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30 (AP) — Although the Third War Loan appeared certain to go over its $15,000,000,000 goal today, a treasury tabulation disclosed that not a single state has yet been credited with meeting its quota for individual bond sales—the so-called "small money" sector of the drive.

Total reported sales up to last night amounted to $14,739,000,000, or $261,000,000 short of the goal. Sales over the last several days have average more than $500,000,000 a day.

An official breakdown on sales through Tuesday, latest available, showed that while corporate investments were more than $1,120,000,000 over the $10,000,000,000 big money quota, individual sales amounted to only $3,104,000,000, or 62 per cent of the small money goal.

The same recapitulation placed Georgia as the only state within immediate striking distance of its individual sales objective. It had sold $68,000,000 worth to reach 97 per cent of a $70,000,000 quota. The state was ninth on the list of overall reports with the same per centage for its $137,000,000 full quota.

TEXAS EDGING NEAR ITS WAR BOND QUOTA

(By The Associated Press)

Texas edged closer to its goal today in the third war loan drive with 84 per cent of its quota already in the hands of the Treasury.

The Dallas Federal Reserve bank, depository for Texas war bond funds, reported $353,075,562.75 had been passed on to the Treasury.

Of this amount $154,824,228.75 represents contributions from individuals, or 44 per cent of the total. The national average for the general public is 33 1/3 per cent.

NEW YORK, Sept. 30 (AP)—Stocks generally held to the recovery track in today's market without working up any real speed or covering much distance.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Sept. 30 (AP)—After spurting to new highs since July in early trading on aggressive mill buying, wheat reacted today on profit-taking. Trading enthusiasm diminished as it was felt that the upturn this week might bring more wheat into terminal markets.

A break in oats of more than a cent unsettled wheat. The fact this grain is selling above parity curtailed buying orders and there was some selling on prospects of easing of the right feed grain situation. Corn is preferred by feed manufacturers, and more of the yellow grain is being offered by farmers.

At the close wheat was ⅛-¼ lower, December $1.51-1.51 ⅛, May 1.51 ⅝-¾, oats were off ¾-1 ¼, December 76 ⅛-¾, and rye was down ¾-1 ¼, December $1.08 ⅞-⅝.

War Spending Is 20 Billion

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30.—The government's first quarter of the 1944 fiscal year ends today with war expenditures for the period well over $20,000,000,000 and the public debt now standing at more than $161,000,000,000.

War spending for the same quarter of last year was only a little more than $14,000,000,000 and the public debt at the end of September, 1942, was a little over $90,000,000,000.

At the present rate of spending, the national debt will soar over the $200,000,000,000 mark this year — well over $1,500 for every man, woman and child in the United States.

Third Higher Than 1942

Whereas war expenditures are about one-third higher than a year ago, government revenue receipts for the first quarter of fiscal 1944 will be about 2½ times greater than for the same period of fiscal 1943. Receipts for the first three months this year will be about $10,000,000,000, while a year ago the government had collected only a little less than $4,000,000,000.

War spending in July, the first month of the fiscal year, was a little below $6,500,000,000. In August war spending jumped to $7,200,000,000 and, while indications are that it will not be quite as high in September, it probably will approach $7,000,000,000.

Total government expenditures for the three months will be a little short of $22,000,000,000 indicating that government expenses aside from war for the three months will be something less than $2,000,000,000.

OPA Chief Warns Of Political Activity

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. (U.P.)—Chester Bowles, general manager of the Office of Price administration, today warned local price and rationing officials against political activity endangering the "impartial administration of OPA regulations."

Bowles authorized district directors to determine the circumstances under which their aides may seek election to political office.

Among the 72,000 local board members and the 1,000 more volunteer workers, Bowles said, are many persons occupying a public office.

"These people have been a tremendous help in OPA," he said. "We need them, but we can hardly expect them to give up elected public offices to accept unpaid, temporary war work.

"Yet at the same time we cannot for a moment allow anything to weaken the integrity of the impartiality of local boards."

Hufstedler Attacked

balance and, at the same time, get where I could get loose from them or get help.

"The man in the front seat with me didn't try to molest me, but he braced himself and got his foot on the brake, saying: 'You're gonna wreck this——thing!'

"When the speed of the car was reduced to maybe 10 miles an hour I jumped loose and ran off the road, down the canyon and worked my way over a hill to North Canyon camp. The proprietor called the police, and patrolmen came out. The car was where I left it, they didn't take it, or anything else."

Hufstedler, who is a member of the firm of E. K. Hufstedler, sr., & Sons, implement dealers of Lubbock, Plainview and Levelland, gave the following description of the men:

No. 1 man, who sat in the front seat—dark and heavy-set, about 5 feet 7 or 8 inches tall, about 190 pounds.

No. 2 man, who sat in the rear seat and was called "Red"—5 feet 10 inches to 6 feet, rather slim, 175 to 180 pounds, lightish-red complexion, sandy hair.

Both men said they were 24 years old, Hufstedler said.

Hufstedler returned to the canyon after dawn and found his blood-soaked hat. He had run into several barbed-wire fences and torn his suit "practically off" and lost his fountain pen. He said the hat probably prevented more serious injuries.

Hufstedler is married and has four children.

Reds Imperil Gomel

lages in their advance yesterday.

Capture of Gomel would unhinge the whole German defense system in southeastern White Russia. The northern and central defenses already were threatened by a Russian drive through the Smolensk gate toward Vitebsk, Orsha and Mogilev.

In their first announced thrust beyond the east bank of the Dnieper, the Russians yesterday seized Trukhanov island opposite Kiev following the smashing of the last enemy resistance to the east with the capture of Darnitsa. The Dnieper at this point is only 1,050 feet wide, but the bluffs on which Kiev is built rise 600 feet.

Battle In Decisive Stage

The battle for crossings of the Dnieper entered the decisive stage with the seizure of Trukhanov island and Kremenchug, 160 miles downstream and the largest city on the east bank. Red Star quoted German prisoners that Adolf Hitler had ordered Kremenchug held at all costs as a springboard for counter-attacks to stem the Soviet offensive.

Deprived of their strongest bridgeheads on the east bank, the Germans were reported fighting desperately to extricate the remainder of their battered forces from footholds at Zaporozhe and opposite Dnepropetrovsk.

Thousands of Germans struggling to reach the west bank opposite Kiev and Kremenchug were said to have drowned in the Dnieper or been killed by shells or bullets from pursuing Red air force planes.

News Briefs

J. A. Fortenberry of Levelland highway, who became ill early Wednesday afternoon, will remain in bed several days but is not believed critical in condition, it was reported this morning. Mr. Fortenberry was unconscious about an hour. He has suffered similar illness twice before this year.

America is fast becoming a musical nation and churches must adjust their musical programs to youth's musical appreciation if they are to keep on par with other activities, Dr. I. E. Reynolds of Fort Worth, member of the faculty of the Southwestern Baptist seminary, declared in a talk before the Lubbock Kiwanis club at Lubbock hotel today noon. Dr. Reynolds cited factors in the development of the nation's music appreciation, especially among the younger generation and declared music has a large place in social activities, in politics, in Army morale, in production and health. He cited statistics to show how playing of music in war plants increased production and even how hens laid more eggs and cows gave more milk when listening to certain types of music. He was introduced by Dr. C. E. Hereford, pastor of the First Baptist church. Rayburn Jones played piano selections prior to Dr. Reynolds' talk. Sam Leifeste was program chairman. H. Klaus, local oil man, made a plea for more support from the laymen in the present oil crisis; asking Kiwanians to write their congressman and senators to aid in a proposed increase in the price of crude to aid more exploration. Barrett W. Penney, pioneer resident, was introduced as a new member by Durwood Bradley.

County officials said L. R. Simmons this afternoon was fined $50 and court costs for drunk driving, and that his driver's license was revoked six months. Officials said Simmons is approximately 50 years old.

A Pekingese pup with vacination license 13282 has strayed to 2121 Seventh street and is being held for its owner, police said this afternoon.

Police said R. B. Smith, jr., of 1403 Avenue R had reported a tire stolen from the spare rack of his car, parked at rear of the house.

Firemen at 11 o'clock this morning answered a fire call from Silver Grill cafe, but found grease on the stove was all that was burning.

Police this afternoon investigated a report a man had been beat up and left near Lubbock Boys club, but failed to find the man. Investigation was being continued.

Blue stamps U, V and W expire October 20.

The next series of stamps for processed foods will be in ration book four, which will be distributed through a school house registration the last ten days of October.

Soldier Carries Out Prophecy Of Goering

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, North Africa, Sept. 30 (U.P.)—The Allied intelligence officer asked the German who had been captured on the Salerno front to name his division.

"The Herman Meyer," said the German.

"The what?"

"Did you not hear Goering's broadcast statement, 'my name will be Hermann Meyer if any British bombs fall on Germany'?" replied the German.

Thomas Trial Date Is Set

HOUSTON, Sept. 30. (U.P.) — Trial of R. J. Thomas of Detroit, president of the United Automobile workers, and two other CIO labor leaders on charges of violating the Manford act has been tentatively set for Oct. 15 in Judge Allie Peyton's county court-at-law No. 2, Asst. Dist. Att. Kellis Daniel announced today.

Two Others Charged

Others accused of soliciting union memberships without a state license at an oil workers rally Sept. 23 at Pelly are John E. Crossland, sub-regional director of the CIO, and C. M. Massengale, assistant national director of the oil workers union organizing campaign.

Thomas also must appear at a state supreme court habeas corpus hearing in Austin Oct. 20. He was released on $1,000 bond by Chief Justice J. P. Alexander after being sentenced to three days in jail and assessed a $100 fine for contempt of court by Dist. Judge J. Harris Gardner at Austin.

Tax Collections Will Start Friday Morning

Reminders that collections of new state, county, school district and city taxes will start on schedule Friday morning were given today by tax officials.

State and county taxes are to be paid in the office of the county assessor-collector, H. B. Bryan, in the courthouse. School taxes for Lubbock independent school district are collected at the district business office, 1007 Texas avenue. The office of V. R. Plummer, city assessor-collector, is on the first floor of the city hall.

State and county tax notices already have been mailed, those of the city will be mailed at once, and those for the school district within a few days. Officials reminded, however, that failure to receive a notice does not excuse penalties for non-payment of taxes.

All taxes become delinquent next Feb. 1. A discount of 3 per cent will be allowed on state and county taxes paid during October. The discount drops to 2 per cent in November and 1 per cent in December. State, county and school district taxes may be paid in two equal installments, due not later than Nov. 30 and June 30.

Payments of poll taxes also begin Oct. 1, with Jan. 31 the deadline date, the county assessor-collector reminded.

Indian Uses Lariat To Capture Jap Gun

CORPUS CHRISTI, Sept. 30. (AP) —When an American Indian Marine sergeant went on the warpath at Guadalcanal, he provided a super-surprise for the Japs, says First Lt. Malcolm B. Loughridge, USMCR, of Houston.

Loughridge is stationed with the Marine detachment at the naval air station, after having seen service overseas in combat areas.

The sergeant, identified only as a Cherokee redskin from Oklahoma, was with a patrol creeping up on the Japs. They came upon a small knoll and looking down from the top saw directly below a Japanese fieldpiece emplacement.

Instead of tossing in a grenade, the Indian tossed his lariat, roped the field-piece and quickly drew it away from the startled Japs.

Court Decision Will Be Appealed By OPA

DALLAS, Sept. 30. (AP)—The Office of Price administration will appeal immediately from Federal Judge W. H. Atwell's decision that OPA's suspension system is unconstitutional.

Deputy OPA Regional Administrator C. B. Braun announced this last night a few hours after Judge Atwell held that the OPA had legal authority to ration gasoline and other commodities, but ruled that this authority did not include the power to suspend violators from dealing in the rationed goods.

Deadline Reminder For Christmas Mail Given

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. (U.P.)—The deadline for mailing Christmas packages to overseas soldiers is Oct. 15, the War department reminded today.

Unless the packages are mailed within a fortnight they will not reach men overseas by Christmas, the department said, urging immediate mailing to prevent a last minute jam in Army postoffices.

Yanks Driving Near Naples

army was rapidly investing the city from the south and southeast.

(The German communique, broadcast from Berlin, said that harbor installations had been destroyed in an effort to prevent Allied landings, and that "very severe measures were taken against Communist riots which are flaring up.")

While Clark's army continued its unbroken advance, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Eighth army along the Adriatic continued to consolidate the newly won air bases at Foggia, only 160 miles from Rome, and branched out to reach Manfredonia on the coast in a 20-mile advance from Zapponetto.

Rearguard Beaten Down

General Sherman tanks and other tanks of the Fifth army rumbled past Pompei to the outskirts of Torre Annunziata, beating down rearguard opposition and pressing on despite extensive minefields and demolitions which had ruined roads and bridges.

The bulk of the German defenders apparently had fled into Naples and then on to the north.

The fierce rush of Gen. Clark's troops through the mountain ring had cost dearly, however.

A military spokesman announced that British divisions of the Fifth army suffered 5,211 casualties from Sept. 9, the beginning of the battle of Salerno, to Sept. 20. This was a high proportion of casualties considering the number of troops involved.

Casualties Total 3,497

(The War department announced last Saturday that American casualties at Salerno, up to Sept. 15, totaled 3,497.)

The capture of Torre Annunziata would place the Fifth army nine miles from Naples' city limits along the flat plain bordering the gulf.

Even if the Germans planned a temporary stand on the western slope of Vesuvius, it was probable that the entry into Naples would be within a day or two.

Naples' great harbor is big enough to accommodate a tremendous marshaling of force and may become the main fleet, supply and ground force base for the Italian campaign, as Foggia may become the main air base for a drive up the peninsula or into the Balkans.

Corsican Victory Looms

Meanwhile, the slow pressure against the Germans promised soon to give to the Allies the substantial island base of Corsica. From there and from Sardinia they can threaten the seaward flank of the enemy.

Gen. Montgomery's thrust northward along the Adriatic also poised a flanking threat to the Germans' next possible defense position along the Volturno river, some 20 miles north of Naples. The Eighth army was not encountering any resistance worthy of the name and was expanding rapidly in the plain of Foggia, which was now almost entirely under Allied domination.

The steady and studied development of invasion bases across the Adriatic from the Balkans was illustrated by the capture of Manfredonia on the spur of the boot, a fairly important seaport.

After being grounded several days by bad weather Allied air forces yesterday attacked rail and highway bridges heavily within a 25-mile radius east, northeast and north of Naples.

Demolitions Extensive

On the approaches to Naples the "enemy continues to cover his withdrawal by extensive demolitions," the war bulletin said.

Medium bombers of the North African Air force took to the air and raided Cancello, Benevento, Formia, Piano and Amorosi—all along escape routes that German forces must use in withdrawing before the advancing Allied forces.

The communique said road junctions were hit around Cancello, 13 miles northeast of Naples, near Amorosi, 27 miles to the northeast, and around Piano.

Planes Sweep Battle Area

Fighters and fighter-bombers also swept over the Benevento battle area, 32 miles northeast of Naples toward the center of the peninsula, attacking targets that presented themselves. Fighter bombers shot up a bridge near Apollinare.

A night flight to Formia, along the coast 43 miles northwest of Naples, was the deepest penetration into enemy territory.

One Allied aircraft failed to return during the day. No German planes were encountered, the communique said.

The bulletin made belated announcement of the destruction of three additional enemy aircraft in a dogfight Sept. 25.

Head Of Special House Committee Resigns

WASHINGTON, Sept. 30. (AP)—Rep. Cox (D-Ga), who has been engaged in a bitter feud with members of the Federal Communications commission in his capacity as head of a special committee to investigate the FCC, today resigned the chairmanship of the committee.

Cox announced his resignation to the House after conferring with Speaker Rayburn. His resignation had been remanded in a petition filed on May 13 with Rayburn by Clifford Durr, a member of the FCC, who charged that Cox was unfitted to conduct the investigation because of a connection with an Albany, Ga., radio station which had business pending before the commission.

City Of Pompei Found In Ruins

BY REYNOLDS PACKARD
United Press Staff Writer

POMPEI, Italy, Sept. 30—The fierce battle that finally cracked the German line before Naples left modern Pompei in ruins and crumbled away more of the ancient city that was buried in the eruption of Mt. Vesuvius in the year 79.

I entered Pompei this morning with the first British tommies to march into the city. German tanks still were shelling it from the sides of Mt. Vesuvius and our guns were answering in kind, sending up clouds of dust and smoke to mingle with the feathery, white column over the crater of Vesuvius.

Many Residents Killed

The German defense line had run straight through Pompei and many of the town's inhabitants died in the cross-fire of battle. Some houses disappeared completely under the barrage of shells, bullets and aerial bombs.

Whole walls dangled from the sides of other dwellings, and inside inhabitants could be seen as in open doll houses trying to rearrange their furniture in preparation for returning there.

Historic Pompei suffered considerably from air raids. I toured it while German tank and mortar shells still were crackling overhead. The inevitable tourist guide suddenly popped up from a bomb crater while I was crawling among the ruins. His name was Giuseppe.

Crouching low so as not to present a target against the skyline, we found the amphitheater undamaged, though a block buster had dug a huge pit less than 50 yards away, but the forum, museum and the most recent excavations had been damaged in the fighting.

The houses of prostitution, where guides always conducted men tourists for a small extra charge, escaped damage.

The German Vesuvius line broke yesterday evening after the Nazis had suffered thousands of casualties in a futile attempt to halt the Fifth Army short of the Naples plain.

The Italians donned their best clothes and stood in broken doorways and lopsided windows waving and cheering as the Tommies marched by in a drenching rain and hail storm.

It was a pathetic sight because the Italian girls had only old, torn clothes and their bare legs and arms were bruised. Many used lipstick, which only added to their grotesque appearance, since they had no soap with which to wash the dust of battle from their faces.

The German dead were buried hastily. Crosses made out of ammunition cases marked their graves.

Cafe Head, Waitress Guilty In Conspiracy

BOSTON, Sept. 30 (AP)—A cafe manager and a waitress today awaited sentencing for conspiracy to steal and larceny of a part of a large roll of bills with which Corporal Philip J. McCusker of Denison, Tex., testified he entered the cafe upon his return from Greenland in August.

McCusker contended that he had lost $1,200 of $3,600 he had when he went into the cafe in Boston's west end. Superior Court Judge Walter L. Collins found Manager Louis Gallo and Mrs. Emily Re, the waitress, guilty of conspiracy and, while adding that he was not convinced that McCusker had $1,200 taken from him "I am convinced that Gallo is guilty in a sum exceeding $100." The court found Mrs. Re guilty of larceny of a $100 bill which McCusker testified he had tendered to her for a drink. He said he never received any change.

McCusker said the money was partly his accumulated army pay and partly sums won in gambling with other soldiers during 11 months in Greenland.

People Of Naples Are Punished By Germans

NEW YORK, Sept. 30. (AP) — The German - controlled Italian radio, in a broadcast reported by the Office of War information, declared today the Nazis would take "pitiless" reprisals against the people of Naples if they persisted "in getting in the way in the fight against the Anglo-Americans."

Reports from the Italian battle-front indicate the Germans already have been putting their threat into practice. A dispatch received last night from Don Whitehead, Associated Press war correspondent in Italy, quoted refugees as saying the Germans had turned Naples into a city of horror, burning and looting and shooting civilians right and left.

Officer Given Air Medal For Courage In Handling Of Glider

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 30. (AP) — Glider activity in Gen. Douglas MacArthur's southwest Pacific war theater was disclosed in awards announced today for 15 fliers.

Lt. Gen. George C. Kenney, commander of Allied air forces in the sector, awarded the Air Medal to Flight Officer Francis E. Baker, Bainbridge, Ind., for courage displayed in handling a glider during last August.

Goes Out Of Control

Towed by plane, the glider had left Rockhampton on the east coast of Queensland, Australia, on a flight northward. Near Cape Upstart, the glider began to climb steeply. The towing pilot, failing to remedy the situation, released the glider. The glider went completely out of control.

Flight Officer Baker "recovered control of the aircraft and made a safe landing on a small island where the landing conditions were hazardous and despite the fact that the tail sections of this type of glider were likely to fail," the citation said.

State Is Aiding WAC Campaign

AUSTIN, Sept. 30. (AP) — Cooperation of the state government was pledged today in the WAC drive to obtain 3,409 recruits in Texas by Dec. 7.

Gov. Coke Stevenson issued a proclamation urging qualified Texas women to join the corps, and instructed the Texas defense coordinator to mobilize defense councils in the recruiting campaign.

In his proclamation Stevenson called on every woman to "consider the fact that, unless she is engaged in some other vital war work, her place is with the armed forces of her country. She can serve well and with high honor in the Women's Army corps." Women between the ages of 20 and 50 and otherwise qualified are eligible.

Capt. Winifred L. Stillwell, WAC staff director for the Eighth Service command, explained that under the recruiting plan outlined to the governor, women from Texas will be sworn in as a state unit and will train as a unit with their state flag and wear state insignia on a shoulder patch. The recruits will remain a state unit, she said, until they complete basic training.

Settling Of Refugees Is Postwar Problem

MONTREAL, Sept. 30. (AP) — The international labor office declared today that "one of the most urgent tasks of post-war reconstruction" would be permanent resettlement of between 30,000,000 and 40,000,000 persons torn from their European homes.

A 166-page report, entitled "The Displacement of Population in Europe," said the problem was far "beyond the powers of any single country."

To take care of such persons, the report recommended a system of controlled immigration supervised by "an international organization capable of coordinating the interests of the countries of emigration and immigration, and of making available the capital necessary to enable the labor of the former countries to be used to develop the natural resources of the latter."

The report declared that unless immigration, especially to countries of the western hemisphere, is resumed in an ordered manner "it will not be possible to solve the problem of war and pre-war refugees."

Woman Held In Poison Death

WAYNESBURG, Pa., Sept. 30. (U.P.) — The commonwealth today called additional witnesses to bolster its contention that Nancy Jeannette Holt fed her husband the arsenic which two medical men testified caused his sudden death here last May 27.

Mrs. Holt, 29, of Frederick, Okla., is on trial on a charge of murder in the death of her husband, Jesse, 33, of Ravia, Okla., who worked as a tractor operator on the "Big Inch" oil pipeline when it was built through here. The state seeks the death penalty.

Shudders At Display

The attractive, blonde Oklahoman showed emotion for the first time yesterday when a physician and a pathologist testified that Holt died from arsenic poisoning. She wept quietly. Later she shuddered and turned her eyes away when Holt's vital organs were displayed in a glass jar.

Dr. A. Carl Walker, Waynesburg prysician, and Dr. G. W. Ramsey, Washington pathologist, agreed that arsenic was responsible for the pipeline worker's death. Previously, Taylor Roger, Oklahoma City chemist, testified he found a residue of 1.05 grains of arsenic per pound in Holt's stomach and some in other organs.

Dr. J. F. York, Madill, Okla., physician, identified the contents of the glass jar as being Holt's stomach and other vital organs.
