Soldiers of the tribal group of Meo, loyal to the Laos government, carry supplies unloaded from American helicopters, background, at Pa Dong, some 19 miles from Pathet Lao-held Xieng Khouang. Lyndon Flies Home After Tour Of Asia

EN ROUTE BY AIR WITH VICE PRESIDENT JOHNSON (AP)—Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson flew homeward today, closing his tour of reassurance to America's Communist menaced South Asian allies.

Before taking off from Athens, Greece, after an overnight stay, Johnson said he had been "strengthened and encouraged" on the six-nation journey that took him from Formosa to Pakistan.

The vice president's jet transport made a surprise stop at Wheelus Air Force Base on the fringe of the Libyan desert, after a flight of an hour and a half from Athens.

Johnson used the 78-minute refueling stop to shake hands with dozens of GIs and chat with U.S. Ambassador J. Wesley Jones.

He also was greeted by Libya's acting Foreign Minister Fuad.

Johnson's host on the stop was Col. Stepins W. Griffith, Larkspur Calif., post commander.

Taking off from Wheelus, Johnson's plane took a northerly course over Spain and Portugal.

Estimated arrival time at the Azores for another refueling halt was 2:50 p.m. EST. From there the plane was scheduled to go on to Bermuda.

In Bermuda, the vice president will wind up his report and recommendations to President Kennedy. He flies to Washington on Wednesday.

Before taking off, Johnson had a 45-minute meeting with Greek Premier Constantine Karamanlis. The two leaders exchanged assurances of unity and support in meeting any threat to Greece's freedom.

Odessa Woman Dies Of Injuries

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Mrs. Bobby Gene Parks, 21, of Odessa, Tex., died Friday of injuries suffered last week in a two-car collision on rainswept U. S. 70 about 15 miles east of Crossville.

Mrs. Parks, formerly of Newport, Tenn., never regained consciousness after the car driven by her husband collided with an auto driven by Lester Edwards, 50, of Weaversville, N. C.

Parks underwent surgery Friday for knee injuries. The Parks' 7½-month-old daughter, who was asleep on the back seat, was unhurt.

Couple On Trial In Murder Case

NACOGDOCHES (AP)—Edward Otho Hagans and his young wife were called to trial today for murder in the brutal beating deaths of two elderly and prominent sisters.

The victims were Mrs. M. D. Gibson, 68, of Houston and Mrs. C. B. Hagans, 71, of this East Texas city. Both were aunts of state Sen. Wardlow Lane of Center and sisters of former Mayor R. H. Fonville of Houston. Mrs. Hagans also was an aunt of the accused man.

Welch Denies Charges Aimed At Ultra-Rightists

WASHINGTON (AP) — The founder and president of the John Birch Society has denied his organization refuses to make an accounting of its funds, desires an authoritarian U.S. government or is semisecret.

Robert Welch, retired Belmont, Mass., candy manufacturer, said Saturday night the aims of the militantly conservative organization were well known and that auditors now are preparing a complete report on its finances.

In a rare session with the press, Welch was asked about accusations his group was authoritarian and monolithic and whether he wanted this type of government in the United States.

"No," he replied, "I have said the best form of government is a republic and the worst is a democracy . . . Our purpose is to inform our fellow citizens so they do the right things politically."

He told a television news panel (NBC—"Meet the Press") that the accounting of society finances would be made to the organization's governing council, not to individual members.

And Welch refused to say how many members the society had, commenting only that it is growing "very rapidly in strength and numbers."

He said such precautions were necessary to prevent giving the Communists too much information.

However, Rep. Edgar W. Hiestand, R-Calif., said the society had about 40,000 men and 20,000 women members. Hiestand, a society member, asked the House Rules Committee for an investigation of the society.

The society is named after a former missionary in China who became a U.S. Army captain and was killed by the Chinese Communists shortly after the end of World War II.

Taylor will succeed Maj. Gen. K. L. Berry, who will retire after 14 years as adjutant general. The new adjutant general, who will command the Texas National Guard, will take a leave of absence from the directorship of the Texas Motor Transportation Association to accept the governor's appointment.

Court Rules DuPont Must Sell GM Stock

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today ruled that E.I. du Pont de Nemours & Co. must give up its huge stock holdings in General Motors Corp.

The court ruled on a Justice Department appeal from a decision by U.S. Dist. Judge Walter J. La Buy in Chicago. La Buy found Du Pont's surrender of its voting power in GM would be sufficient to meet the antitrust laws.

The Justice Department appeal insisted Du Pont should be required to dispose outright of its 63 million shares of stock in GM. The shares are valued at more than $2.5 billion.

Justice Brennan delivered the court's majority opinion. Justice Frankfurther wrote a dissenting opinion which Justices Whittaker and Stewart joined.

Justices Clark and Harlan took no part in the case. Thus the vote was 4-3.

Justice Brennan's opinion said that the court's majority thought "the public is entitled to the surer cleaner remedy of divestiture.

"The same result would follow even if we were in doubt. For it is well-settled that once the government has successfully borne the considerable burden of establishing a violation of law, all doubts as to the remedy are to be resolved in its (the government's) favor," he added.

Brennan said the court majority felt that "this already protracted litigation should be concluded as soon as possible."

"To that end," he said, "we direct the District Court (in Chicago) on receipt of our mandate to enter an order requiring Du Pont to file within 60 days a proposed judgment providing for complete divestiture of its General Motors stock, to commence within 90 days, and to be completed within not to exceed 10 years, of the effective date of the District Court's judgement."

Frankfurter said in his 44-page dissent opinion that Judge La Buy "has fashioned a closely knit network of provisions to prevent preferential dealings between General Motors and Du Pont."

He noted that La Buy was certain divestitute of the GM stock by Du Pont would work great and unjustifiable loss on wholly innocent investors.

The prices of both Du Pont and General Motors dropped sharply on the New York Stock Exchange on the news. Du Pont, which had been up $9.50 at $229.50 at one point as Wall Street anticipated a favorable ruling, plunged below last Friday's close of $220 and kept going. Within minutes after the news reached the trading floor, it sold at $212. General Motors, up 75 cents at $49.50 at one point, slipped to $47.50, off $1.25 from Friday.

Hospital Board Suspends 8 Of Abilene Staff

AUSTIN (AP)—The State Hospital Board voted unanimously today to suspend permanently eight employes of the Abilene State School accused of mistreating inmates.

The full board took action after hearing a report backing the board's executive committee, which suspended the employes.

The report, signed by Dr. Raleigh White, chairman of the Hospital Board's personnel committee, backed up the action of the board's executive committee temporarily suspending the employes involved in the alleged mistreatment of patients.

The executive committee said April 22 "Some things have happened at the Abilene State School that could not be condoned as humane treatment."

The board announcement said the employes were suspended for "either mistreatment of patients, misconduct or violation of board policies."

The personnel committee approved the action of the executive committee in suspending certain employes of the Abilene State School, recommended that the board make the suspensions final, except for those who have resigned.

Chairman French Robertson of Abilene said Friday he would present the report to the 3-man investigating committee which probed charges of mistreatment at the school.

The school, which trains and cares for the mentally retarded, has 498 employes, including 205 attendants. It has 1,740 patients.

Robertson said the suspended employes "ranged from department heads to ward attendants."

The investigating committee report generally was laudatory of Dr. Charles Cleland, superintendent since Aug. 20, 1959.

U.S. Nazis Send 'Hate' Bus South

ARLINGTON, Va. (AP)—The American Nazi party sent a "hate bus" South today in a protest against Communism and race mixing.

George Lincoln Rockwell, the party head, said eight of his followers were aboard the bus and four others in a command car en route to New Orleans to picket the premier of the movie "Exodus" and the New Orleans office of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The group asked federal protection from "Jew and Negro hoodlums."

The private bus bore signs identifying it as "Lincoln Rockwell's Hate Bus" and proclaiming "We do hate Communism and race mixing."

Rockwell said the bus would pass through Richmond, Va., Raleigh, Charlotte and Greenville N.C., Atlanta, Ga., Birmingham, Montgomery and Mobile, Ala., and Poplarville, Miss. He said John Patler of New York City, in charge of the trip, would speak in public parks in Charlotte, Atlanta, Montgomery and Mobile. Otherwise, he said, the vehicles will stop only for gasoline until reaching New Orleans Tuesday night.

Rockwell plans to fly to New Orleans Tuesday to join the delegation.

The American Nazi party recently was granted a charter by the State of Virginia. The organization's goals, as stated in the charter, include "the gaining of political power in the United States by all legal means and elective processes" and "the education of the American public to suppressed facts concerning the Communist conspiracy to destroy us and the white race."

BULLETIN

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—An official Cuban broadcast warned today that captured invaders would be brought before revolutionary tribunals if the United States "persists in its insults" concerning the prisoners-for-bulldozers proposal.

This introduced the possibility of summary justice for 1,200 captured prisoners from last month's invasion.

An official editorial over Havana's CMQ station quoted Prime Minister Fidel Castro as saying the United States had been insulting in considering his proposal as an exchange rather than indemnification for damage caused by the invaders.

Dixie City Is Quiet After Race Riots

Freedom Rider Beaten

Jim Zwerg, the only white male student among a group of "freedom riders," stands bloody in Montgomery, Ala., after he was beaten at the bus station.

Second Rash Occurs Sunday

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—This historic city was quiet but tense today—a sharp contrast to bloody racial rioting which brought martial rule.

Armed National Guardsmen patrolled the Greyhound bus station and a Negro church where Sunday night's main outbreak of violence took place. Others patrolled the downtown sector and its fringes in jeeps.

Federal deputies sent in over the weekend also were seen on the streets. City and county officers arrested 18 white persons after the disturbance.

Sporadic outbursts of trouble, including two house burning attempts, had continued for hours after steel-helmeted soldiers with fixed bayonets took command.

An estimated 1,000 Negro worshippers returned home quietly in the predawn hours after spending most of the night in a church auditorium in protective custody. A mob had tried to get at them, but by 5 a.m. the church area was deserted except for 25 National Guardsmen left on guard duty.

"We don't anticipate any further trouble here," said a National Guard officer.

Among the churchgoers were 18 of the freedom bus riders whose arrival in Montgomery Saturday touched off repeated attacks by club-swinging white men and women. The so-called "freedom riders" were testing Alabama's bus segregation laws.

Only Negroes remained in the bus-riding group after the lone white man among them was savagely beaten and sent to a hospital and two white girls, also mauled by the surging mob Saturday morning, were sent home by train.

20 VICTIMS

In all, some 20 victims were clubbed and smashed to the ground with fists in two hours of rioting near the Greyhound bus station.

After 18 hours of a jittery quiet, another screaming, brick-throwing mob struck Sunday night against the Negroes jampacked into a church to greet the "freedom riders" and hear the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. condemn the city for what he called Hitler-like barbarism.

It was the Sunday night uprising which provoked Gov. John M. Patterson to proclaim "qualified martial rule" and give troops under Adj. Gen. Henry V. Graham sweeping powers to take whatever action necessary to restore order.

The governor previously had protested bitterly against U. S Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy's order to rush more than 500 armed U. S marshals and deputies to Montgomery to prevent further interference with the bus riders.

TENSE MEETING

In a tense, face-to-face meeting with Kennedy's top assistant, Byron R. White, the state's chief executive threatened to jail federal officers who sought to exert their authority in the absence of a request for federal help.

Patterson in his proclamation of martial law still insisted that the self-styled "freedom riders" — he called them "agitators"—were to blame for the race rioting because of their insistence on testing bus station racial barriers.

But, he decreed, "there now exists . . . a serious emergency, a defiance of the constitution and laws of Alabama, a state of lawlessness . . . which the local officers are unable to subdue."

Despite angry federal - state bickering earlier in the day, U.S. officers worked alongside city and state police and the battle-trained guardsmen after Patterson ordered out the troops.

WON REPRIEVE

Even the bus riders won a reprieve from the threat of arrest on charges of violating a state court injunction which had sought

More Federal Men Ordered Into Alabama

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said today 200 additional U.S. marshals are being sent to strife-torn Montgomery, Ala. This will bring the number there to between 600 and 700.

Kennedy said many of the marshals now there have been up for 48 hours, that Alabama is a large state, and that the Justice Department wants to be sure enough marshals are there.

Kennedy made his announcement to a crowded news conference.

When a reporter asked the specific reason for sending more marshals, Kennedy replied, "Obviously we're not satisfied with the situation or we wouldn't be sending more in."

ANY MEANS

The federal government is reported determined to use any means available — including a move-in of Army regulars if necessary to maintain order in Montgomery.

Alabama Gov. John Patterson has declared martial law in the area.

Kennedy said the new marshals would be immigration service men from across the country who were being deputized.

He added that the marshals would stay in Montgomery "until we receive assurances by action that the situation is under control in the State of Alabama."

He said he hoped the situation would straighten out.

Kennedy also said, in response to a question, that he would think "without any question you would have had a major bloodshed in Montgomery" Sunday night if it hadn't been for the U.S. Marshals there.

ONLY A FEW

He said he had been told that when the trouble started and when a mob started against the church where a Negro mass meeting was taking place, there was only a group of marshals around the church.

He said he talked with Gov. Patterson about that time and also with city officials and told them they better take some action or there would be bloodshed.

A high government source said it was obvious the federal government had to end the racial violence and had embarked on a course in that direction from which there could be no turning back. This, he said, meant the use of troops if it came to that point.

Kennedy Returns From Weekend

WASHINGTON (AP)—After a weekend at his Virginia estate, President Kennedy returned to the White House today to confront the possibility of a showdown on federal-state power over the Alabama race riots.

The President was expected to consult quickly with his brother, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy, about the events in Alabama and their likely consequences.

The two had talked at 7 a.m. by telephone, the same method the attorney general used frequently to keep the President up to date on the situation all day Sunday and Saturday night.

The President and Mrs. Kennedy spent the weekend at their country estate, Glen Ora, in the Virginia hunt country just outside Middleburg.

But bloody race rioting in Montgomery, Ala., intruded on the chief executive's seclusion. His pastor mentioned it at Mass. Kennedy was in touch with the White House. A helicopter apparently flew in a White House aide who could have brought papers or information requiring immediate presidential consideration.

While at Middleburg Saturday, Kennedy in a statement called upon Alabama officials and the mayors of Birmingham and Montgomery to exercise their authority to prevent further race violence.

Obviously with Kennedy's approval, federal marshals and deputized officers were rushed to Alabama. Their dispatch came amidst riots over efforts to crash racial barriers at bus terminals in the Alabama cities.

The influx of federal officers provoked Gov. John Patterson of Alabama to threaten to arrest the marshals if they intervened in the disorders. Patterson's threat raised the possibility of a federal-state showdown.

At Catholic services at the Middleburg Community Center Sunday, Kennedy was outwardly unperturbed.

He showed no change of expression when the Rev. Albert F. Pereira injected into the parish announcements an admonition that "It's not enough to be interested and concerned about our international problems and our racial tensions at home highlighted by the 'freedom riders' in recent days. We must pray daily and offer up sacrifices, such as on these Ember Days this week, the fasting and abstaining for international peace and racial love."

This was the last weekend for Kennedy at his Virginia retreat until at least mid-June. By then he will have returned from Paris, Vienna and London and conferences with President Charles de Gaulle of France, Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Prime Minister Harold Macmillan of Britain.

Cuban Rebels Arrange Talks In U.S. On Ransom Terms

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuban rebels arranged a meeting with their American benefactors today to discuss Fidel Castro's ransom terms for 1,214 men captured in the Cuban invasion failure.

Eleanor Roosevelt, Dr. Milton Eisenhower and union leader Walter Reuther head a drive to raise millions of dollars to purchase 500 American tractors or bulldozers demanded by the Cuban prime minister in exchange for the prisoners.

Mrs. Roosevelt is the widow of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt. Dr. Eisenhower is president of Johns Hopkins University and brother of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Reuther is president of the United Automobile Workers Union.

They were scheduled to meet this afternoon with 10 representatives of the prisoners: Dr. Jose Miro Cardona, chairman of the Revolutionary Council, and council member Antonio de Varona. The 10 representatives were paroled by the Cuban government to work out arrangements to free them and their companions.

The sons of both Miro Cardona and De Varona are among the prisoners held by Castro.

Ulises Carbo, spokesman for the prisoners' representatives, said Castro had specified International Harvester or Caterpillar heavy tractors. He declined comment on a published report Castro also demanded a large supply of spare parts and a five-year guarantee on the tractors.

Carbo explained that although Castro mentioned bulldozers in making the exchange offer, "he really meant tractors."

The State Department had said Saturday the government would give "most sympathetic consideration" to granting export licenses if the tractors are purchased by private funds.

The United States has broken diplomatic relations with Cuba and exports of machinery to Cuba normally are not permitted.

In Havana, the government-controlled newspaper El Mundo said the private fund raising drive was a move "to disfigure the gesture of Cuba's revolutionary government and get the Washington government out of the dilemma in which its illegal and aggressive policy has placed it."

Although Reuther said no funds would be accepted or solicited until after today's meeting, donations and offers of money poured in.

Robert Berrellez, Associated Press correspondent just returned from imprisonment in Cuba, said the offer was "another propaganda trick. It's a form of political blackmail."

Castro ran into sharp criticism from the press in Latin America and scattered Latin American organizations began fund raising drives to help buy the tractors.

Buenos Aires' influential La Prensa said the offer by Castro recalled Nazi proposals in World War II to exchange Jews for trucks.

The 10-man negotiating team arrived in Miami Friday. The Havana radio said they were given a week to arrange for the ransom.

331st Holds Big Car Wash Sunday

Over 250 men of the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron rolled up their sleeves Sunday afternoon and washed just about every car that came down 3rd Street.

And today, the city could boast hundreds of clean cars to greet the first day of Clean-up Week. Also, two persons, who visited the car-washing corner, received free airplane rides.

It was the squadron's bid to add funds to the growing collection for the Crippled Children's Center and get the doors open again.

Lt. Col. Dick M. Crowell's men finished the day wet and tired, but happy as they turned over $741 to the Crippled Children's fund.

With no official reports in, the fund has topped $6,000 with this added boost. And several projects are still pending that will probably raise it even higher.

The ADC pilots and crews estimate they washed a car every five minutes during the afternoon. They set up shop at 3rd and Goliad at Rex Hutcherson's Humble Station. Business was so good, that they used the facilities of the Cosden service station across the street and the Joe Taylor Gulf Station at 4th and Goliad. The GAC Finance Co. parking lot was pressed into service as a drying area.

Although the price was ticketed at $1.50, customers were urged to pay whatever they wished. One patron plunked down $100.

With each wash job, the pilots handed out tickets for a drawing, the two winners to get free airplane rides. Winners were Linda Hall, 14, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward Hall, 1700 Runnels, and C. O. Nalley, 908 Gregg.

Miss Hall, a ninth grader at Goliad Junior High School, took her ride with Lt. Bob Pettit, A&E Section, 331st, Sunday afternoon. Lt. Pettit and S. Sgt. Carl Monosh, a 331st crew chief, made the rides possible in private aircraft.

Following the washing spree, Lt. Col. Crowell handed over the proceeds of the day's work to Bo Bowen, city-county health nurse, who has been instrumental in operation of the Crippled Children's Center.

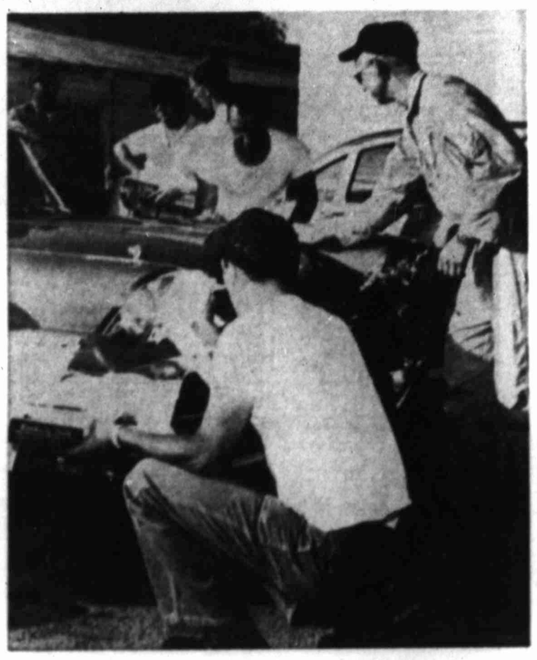

Sgt. B. E. Parther and Robert W. Roe were coordinators for the project.

Other miscellaneous donations to the Center have reported in, including $10.42 taken up by the teen - age Sunday school class taught by Mrs. W. J. Mayberry at Webb AFB; $5 from the fourth grade pupils of Mrs. H. H. Morris at Airport School; and a $10 memorial gift.

Drive On In

Members of the 331st FIS made it clear they were in business Sunday afternoon with signs that all passing motorists could see. Few motorists passed them by at 3rd and Goliad where they set up shop to wash cars for funds to open the Crippled Children's Center.

One Every Five Minutes

It took a lot of elbow grease, water, and the facilities of three service stations to wash a car every five minutes, the record set by men of the 331st FIS Sunday. Two residents, who patronized the gigantic washing spree, won free airplane rides later in the day.

The Day's Proceeds

After it was all over, Lt. Col. Dick M. Crowell turned over $741 to Bo Bowen, city-county health nurse, to go into the fund that will operate the Crippled Children's Center at least a year, and maybe longer. Besides helping the Center's budget, the 331st gave many residents a chance to start off Clean-Up Week with a clean car.

City Officials Journey To Austin For Discussion

Mayor Lee O. Rogers, Big Spring City Commissioners John Taylor, George Zachariah, Paul Kasch, and John Stanley, City Manager A. K. Steinheimer, and City Attorney John Burgess, went to Austin Monday where they will meet with the board for state hospitals and special schools. They were also to meet with Sen. David W. Ratliff and Rep. David Reed, to discuss legislation affecting cities.

The meeting with the hospital group will be to negotiate for a new water rate contract for the state hospital in Big Spring, and discuss steps for providing better water service to the hospital.

The breakfast meeting with Ratliff and Read will be in regard to the Firemen's Pension Act passed last week by the House of Representatives.

"We consider the proposed bill one which will place costly burdens upon the cities, as it is strictly privileged legislation," Steinheimer said Friday. "It will be too costly on the taxpayers because it will require the pension funds set up to become retroactive for several years, with interest added to the back funds."

Ratliff told Steinheimer by telephone that the bill had been tagged for Senate action Wednesday and that it would take work on the part of city administrations and citizens who opposed the extra tax burden.

The group is scheduled to return to Big Spring Tuesday in time for the regular city commission meeting Tuesday night.

Jury Sets New Record

After six hours of deliberation, a hung jury was declared in the trial of Warren S. Christie in County Court on charges of driving while intoxicated.

Christie was arrested and charged Oct. 28, 1960. The jury began deliberation at 2 p.m. Friday and returned shortly after 8 p.m.

"This is perhaps the longest time taken by a county court jury," County Attorney Wayne Burns said. "It is the longest a jury has been out since I've been here."

He said the next longest period was about 4½ hours.

Mrs. A. W. Sparling pleaded guilty on a worthless check charge and was sentenced to serve five days in jail and pay court costs. She was retained in county jail.

Kappelhoff said he had wired Miss Day about the wedding last Friday, but had not heard from her.

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP) — The Bendix Trophy race was postponed again today because weather reports were unfavorable for the route from here to New York.

A spokesman said the four supersonic Navy Phantoms will be ready for take off Tuesday about 6 a.m., weather permitting.

Split Develops Among Korean Regime Over Power Division

SEOUL, South Korea (AP)—A split was reported in South Korea's new military government today over the division of power among the military services.

A competent source said marines and paratroopers who took over Seoul last Tuesday and were the shock troops of the coup refused an order Saturday to withdraw from the Capitol building and return to their camps outside Seoul.

The marines and paratroopers reportedly demanded more places on the 30-member revolutionary council, which except for a marine brigadier general and colonel consists entirely of army officers. There is also a marine colonel in the cabinet of 15 officers that was sworn in Sunday.

U. S. Gen. Carter B. Magruder, under whose U. N. command all South Korean forces are placed, reportedly demanded Saturday that all the 3,600 troops used in the coup return to their original stations.

The order to move out was issued by Lt. Gen. Chang Do-young, the junta chief who also is premier, defense minister and army chief of staff.

Although the marines and paratroopers furnished the troops for the coup, the composition of the revolutionary council and the cabinet reflected the relative strength of South Korea's armed forces. Unofficial estimates put the army at 500,000 men, including 3,000 paratroopers, the marines and air force at 15,000 each and the navy 10,000.

Despite the reported rift, the new military regime pressed ahead vigorously.

Foreign Minister Kim Hong-il, a retired lieutenant general, said Gen. Chang sent a letter to President Kennedy May 17, the day after the uprising against the government of deposed Premier John M. Chang broke out.

Kim said the contents of the letter would not be disclosed until the White House acknowledged its receipt. But Chang presumably asked the President to support the new anti-Communist, pro-Western regime.

U. S. Charge d'Affaires Marshall Green and Gen. Magruder both publicly opposed the overthrow of Chang's elected government, and the embassy has not had direct contact with the junta since the coup.

The junta by proclamation dissolved all political and social organizations. It said nonpolitical religions, charitable and academic organizations could function but would have to register by the end of the month. The military had banned all political activity earlier.

The government announced 2,014 suspected political opponents have been arrested.

Two thousand Seoul citizens who violated the 11 p.m. curfew were detained overnight in the Municipal Theater.

About 5,000 uniformed high school students paraded in downtown Seoul in support of the military revolution. As the parade ended, Gen. Chang went on the radio to order a halt to such demonstrations.

"All students, return to your campuses! Farmers, go back to your farms! Workers return to factories!" Chang said.

Foreign Minister Kim said the military regime has no intention of marching on Communist North Korea.

"If we do our work in the best way we know how," he said, "unification will come by itself."

Squads of military academy cadets and soldiers picked up every scrap of litter on downtown streets in a gesture designed to symbolize the regime's clean-sweep policies.

Senate, House Set Compromise Work

AUSTIN (AP) — The Senate granted today the House request for a compromise committee to work out differences on the $329 million tax package that includes a sales tax.

The request was granted on a voice vote without discussion.

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey named at once the senators who will work with a similar House group in a desperate attempt to solve the state's taxation problems before the May 29 adjournment deadline.

The senators are Wardlow Lane of Center, chairman; Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, Bruce Reagan of Corpus Christi, Jep Fuller of Port Arthur and Tom Creighton of Mineral Wells.

Lane was author and sponsor of the Senate-approved version of the tax bill which the House turned down after a veto threat from Gov. Price Daniel. The other Senate conferees were on the subcommittee that drew up the sales-tax-weighted revenue measure sent to the House by the Senate.

Earlier the Senate voted 17-13, failing to suspend the rules, to take up the municipal annexation limitation bill. It was the second time senators had refused to debate the House-approved measure.

The Senate received formal word that the House had snubbed its $329 million tax bill, which the senators passed as a complete substitute for the so-called "loophole tax bill" (HB334).

"There is now a good chance that the job can be completed without a special session this summer, and I shall cooperate in every way possible," Daniel said in a statement Saturday after the House voted 83-55 against concurring in the Senate revision.

A week from today, May 29, the regular session of the Legislature must adjourn. This places great pressure on the conferees to come up with a tax bill acceptable to the House and Senate and which Daniel can allow to become law without losing face.

Daniel is on record as staunchly against a retail sales tax. He fought the Senate bill mainly because of the $285 million 2 per cent retail sales tax provision around which it was written.

The House members of the conference committee are: Reps. Charles Ballman, Borger, chairman of the House Tax Committee; George Hinson; Mineola; Tony Krioth, Sherman; Menton Murray, Harlingen, and Charles Wilson, Trinity.

Police Probe Minor Rash Over Weekend

Police investigated several thefts, some juvenile troubles, a cutting, and a few minor automobile accidents over the weekend.

Mrs. Jimmy Bowman, 1706 S. Monticello, reported her son's bicycle stolen from the YMCA building late Saturday. A lady called from Stadium street and reported boys taking gas caps from cars and gave a description of the car they were driving. Don McEvans, 508 Johnson, reported his bicycle stolen from the YMCA building. It was later recovered.

Several thefts were reported Monday morning. Jones Motor Co., 101 Gregg, reported the theft of a 1953 car between 6 p.m. Saturday and 8 a.m. Monday. Wooten Transfer reported that gas caps had been stolen from three trucks parked in front of the warehouse. Jack Parrish said two hub caps were taken from his used car lot Saturday night. They were valued at $16. Neel's Transfer and Storage reported theft of an unknown amount of gasoline from trucks Saturday or Sunday.

A Negro male was picked up Sunday afternoon and taken to the VA hospital with a stab wound in his left arm. The hospital kept him overnight. Police reported that charges of assault with a deadly weapon would be filed on the woman assailant Monday.

Accidents, locations, and drivers involved, were 4th and Johnson, Earl D. Morrison, Fort Worth, and Joe Robert Bond Coahoma; Birdwell and 3rd, Jesus Briseno Jr., Tarzan, and Joe Acosta, Lenora.

A man called from HCJC and reported boys trying to steal gas from cars there at 3:58 a.m. Sunday. The boys were gone when officers arrived but left a can of gasoline at the scene.

A report that boys were playing on top of the Cedar Crest School took officers to the scene where they found only one boy on top. He had thrown rocks down on the patio, but cleaned them up and said he would not go up on the building again.

Davis Rites Set Tuesday

Funeral services for Sidney Albert (Sid) Davis, 85, who died at 4 p.m. Sunday at his home northwest of Stanton, will be held at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the Nalley-Pickle Funeral chapel. The Rev. Charles E. Carter, evangelist from Abilene, will officiate, assisted by Rev. R. Gage Lloyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Big Spring. Burial will be in City Cemetery, under the direction of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Davis, a pioneer farmer of Howard and Martin counties, was found hanged in his barn on his farm 21 miles northeast of Stanton. A neighbor, Aaron Chandler, who lives about four miles from the Davis farm, found Davis' body when he stopped by for a visit. M. L. Gibson of Stanton, justice of the peace, ruled death was self-inflicted. He said Davis had been despondent about his health. The death was investigated by Gibson and Sheriff Dan Saunders of Martin County.

Davis was born Aug. 8, 1875, in Texas. He moved to Howard County in 1904 from Rotan, and farmed in Howard County until 1934 when he moved to Martin County. He operated the Martin County farm until his death.

Survivors are the widow, Mrs. Minnie Davis; a daughter, Mrs. Josie Prather, Big Spring; two sons, Dee and Albert Davis, Big Spring; a brother, DeWitt Davis, Big Spring; three sisters, Mrs. Jim Montgomery, Rotan, Mrs. Edna Caldwell, Rotan, and Mrs. Kate Hines, Mineral Wells; three grandchildren, and six great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be A. A. Chandler, M. McKaskle, Roy Phillips, Claud Russell, H. O. Fowler, Garland Sanders, Sam Cauble and M. G. Burchett.

Orme President Of Cosden's 25-Year Club

Members of the Cosden Petroleum Corporation's 25-year-Club had their summer get-together Saturday evening. The group enjoyed a barbecue supper, and a period of informal visiting.

Douglas Orme was named new president of the group, to succeed Marvin Miller. George Grimes was elected vice president. Mrs. Helen Green was retained as secretary, and V. A. Whittington continues as treasurer.

The summer meeting of the Cosden quarter-century club is an informal one. Another meeting is held in December, when new members are announced. There are now more than 40 members, and 10 other Cosden employes are due to become eligible for membership this year.

Stray Dogs Seek Homes

At least 30 dogs face extermination today unless owners, or some sympathetic souls, retrieve them from the city pound prior to night.

Picked up as strays by the city dog wardens, their period of grace has expired. They run the gamut in breeding from cockers to chows to part-dachshunds to plain mutts.

Wardens had 85 dogs in all on hand, and sooner or later something will have to be done about the others, as well as a goat, a pony, a horse. This would have included a donkey, but it showed surprising speed in getting away.

Six dogs were vaccinated for owners who came to the city pound Saturday and Sunday, Leo Hull, assistant chief of police, said Monday morning.

"We didn't have much response to the call for those having dogs impounded to retrieve their pets and have them vaccinated," he said.

Their reports showed that during the period from May 1 to 21 they impounded 132 dogs, had 21 redeemed and 32 were destroyed. In that period 18 dogs were vaccinated, six licenses bought, and $30 in pound fees paid.

Court Hears Salary Report

County Commissioners heard comments from Judge Ralph W. Caton, 118th District Court, and Jerry Spence, court reporter, about a proposed bill to raise the court reporter's salary.

The bill, already through the House of Representatives, would raise the salary from the current $6,600 a year to $8,500 a year. Spence was present to get the court to approve and back the proposal.

The commissioners took the matter under advisement. In the meantime, Judge Caton will investigate the legality of the proposal. With the present reading, the bill would give the district judge authority to set the court reporter's salary.

Commissioners were to go on a road inspection tour this afternoon, according to County Judge Ed J. Carpenter. The group will inspect roads paved during the last month.

to stop them from riding a bus here from Birmingham.

Sheriff's deputies holding contempt of court warrants turned them over to Col. Herman Price, who assumed the military office of sheriff under the martial rule Gen. Graham, entering the Negro church after the National Guardsmen arrived, ordered them there through the night for their protection while troops patrolled the streets.

Outside, scattered pockets of resistance to the law-and-order decree released their pent-up fury. They overturned a parked automobile, tossed a rock at Police Commissioner L. B. Sullivan's car, sent police chasing down reports of shots fired at Negro houses.

Fire bombs were thrown at the home of a Negro and a young white restaurant owner who nearly two years ago killed another white man after a wrangle with the Ku Klux Klan. The admitted slayer, who claimed self-defense, was acquitted by a jury.

SEVERAL HURT

While the rioting raged at the Negro church, the mob surged past federal marshals and city and state police, tossing rocks and bricks. Several persons were injured, but none seriously.

The main force of the crowd had been blunted by tear gas when National Guardsmen rumbled up in Army trucks.

While state authorities held warrants for the arrest of the "freedom riders" on contempt citations, a federal court injunction went into effect over the weekend to protect interstate bus riders from further interference.

U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., who signed the order Saturday night, bluntly put the blame on the Ku Klux Klan for the racial violence here and at Birmingham and Anniston, Ala. eight days ago.

Johnson directed his injunction against three Klan organizations and four individuals, including two of Alabama's most active KKK leaders, Robert M. Shelton of Tuscaloosa and the Rev. Alvin Horn of Talladega.

Club Council Meeting Slated

An organizational meeting of the Big Spring Inter-Club Council was to be held at noon today at the Settles Hotel, according to Horace Garrett, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

The purpose of the council would be to coordinate activities of the clubs, Garrett said. This will eliminate competition between them and make their drives and efforts more successful.

"In the past," he said, "some projects have been failures or near-failures because clubs were in competition or were unknowingly working against each other."

He also pointed out that major programs may require the help of most of the civic organizations. The council would inform each club of the other's activities so help could be received where needed.

The council would meet once a month with a representative present from each civic group.

OIL REPORT

Playa Pool Gets Confirming Well

Martin County gained an extender and a confirmation on today's report.

The Playa (Spraberry) field in Martin County got its second producer in an old well which was worked over. J. E. Jones No. 1 McKaskey was completed in the Spraberry, pumping 228 barrels on potential.

The project was abandoned in December, 1958 after being drilled to 10,972 feet and tested in the Strawn and Spraberry.

The Spraberry Trend area in Martin County gained a half-mile south extension when the John L. Cox No. 1-B Morrison pumped 225 barrels of oil on initial potential. The oiler is about two miles southwest of Stanton.

O. E. Schkade No. 1-C J. T. Johnston is an old well workover set for 1,600 feet by rotary. It is in the Water Valley (San Andres) field in Sterling County.

Dawson

Forest No. 2 Schmidt is making hole in lime below 7,290 feet. The venture is 1,650 feet from the north and 1,980 feet from the east lines of section 3-2, D. L. Cunningham survey.

Glasscock

Shell No. 1 Criesman is still flowing with no gauges reported. The explorer is C SE SE, section 12-36-5s, T&P survey.

Martin

John L. Cox No. 1-B Morrison, a half-mile south outpost to the Spraberry Trend area, pumped 225 barrels of oil and eight per cent water on initial potential. The extender was drilled to 8,015 feet and pay was topped at 7,070 feet. Perforations are between 7,088-970 feet in 5½ inch casing set at 8,015 feet.

The project was fraced with 65,000 gallons. The gravity of the oil was 39 degrees and the gas-oil ratio was 685-1. Location is C SE, section 28-30-1s, T&P survey, on a 160 acre lease two miles southwest of Stanton.

J. E. Jones No. 1 M. McCaskey pumped 228 barrels of 39 gravity oil from perforations between 7,422-557 feet, on initial potential in the Playa (Spraberry) field. This confirmation well is an old well worked over. It was formerly drilled by Humble and was plugged and abandoned Dec. 29, 1956 at 10,972 feet.

The project was plugged back to 7,640 feet and 4½ inch liner was run to 10,011 feet. Pay was topped at 7,422 feet and acidized with 30,000 gallons. The gas-oil ratio was 920-1 and 26 per cent water was produced.

The previous Ellenburger failure was also tested in the Strawn, through perforations between 9,842-78 and 9,700-738 feet, and in the Spraberry, between 6,638-668 feet.

The oiler is C NE NW, section 12-35-1n, T&P survey, on a 480 lease 13 miles west of Big Spring.

Sterling

O. E. Schkade No. 1-C J. T. Johnston is an old well to be worked over in the Water Valley (San Andres) field. It will be drilled by rotary to 1,600 feet and spots C SE SE SE, section 71-5, H&TC survey, nine miles southwest of Water Valley.

Kennedy Shadow Over Bargaining

DETROIT (AP)—A shadow of the White House will loom above the bargaining table when the United Auto Workers Union and the automaker kingpins sit down next month to begin negotiations on new wage contracts.

Labor counts President John F. Kennedy among its friends. UAW President Walter P. Reuther plumped strenuously for his election.

The question is: If the going gets tougher than Reuther likes, can or will he ask the administration to intervene?

Auto industry spokesmen point out the Kennedy administration has stepped into virtually every major strike-producing dispute since it took office.

Time and again, the automakers have opposed bringing outside influences into what they term the processes of free, collective bargaining.

TO PUBLIC

Reuther, on the other hand, has expressed willingness and even eagerness in the past to submit demands for what he terms "economic justice" to public mediation or even arbitration. A case in point was profit-sharing—which he sought and lost in 1958, when the now expiring contracts were written.

While at Reuther's prodding the UAW has adopted a set of flexible, rather than rigid, demands for this year's bargaining, the UAW made a shorter work week its No. 1 objective — to preserve jobs; make more of them.

Kennedy, however, is on record against less than a 40-hour work week. He contends 40-hour production is needed to promote economic growth.

Could Reuther press for government intervention to win his No. 1 goal — to which the President had objected in advance?

FLEXIBLE

Maybe not, a union spokesman says, "but remember we are flexible and willing to go in any one or several directions to increase job security and job opportunity."

The auto contracts expire Aug. 31 at General Motors, Ford and Chrysler. Bargaining talks begin the last week in June.

There is no doubt Reuther expects a tough time at the bargaining table. There are more than 900,000 unsold new cars in dealer lots and showrooms. Unemployment is high in the auto industry.

These are among major reasons for flexible union goals this time. There is no all-out drive for profit-sharing, as in 1958, or a guaranteed annual wage, as in 1955.

While the new car market still is glutted, sales have picked up in recent weeks. Reuther will carry to the talks knowledge that the United Rubber Workers won a 14½-cent hourly wage increase this year; that the Ladies' Garment Workers got 14 cents and Dundee Cement Workers 30 cents over two years.

The automakers can counter these successes with the loss by the International Union of Electrical Workers at General Electric last year of the annual improvement factor, which gives auto workers an automatic 2½ per cent raise yearly. Reuther has served notice the UAW intends to keep this in its contracts.

The last time Washington intervened in auto negotiations was in 1946. Neither side came away with what it wanted.

Scholar Sees Anti-Semitism Roots In Early Christianity

NEW YORK (AP)—Does anti-Semitism have its roots in the Christian faith?

Has Christianity—founded by a Jewish savior in a Jewish land and spread by Jewish apostles—fomented the hatred of Jews?

Yes, says Prof. Jules Isaac, an eminent French-Jewish historian, in a book published this week by the National Conference of Christians and Jews.

Although anti-Semitism is a direct contradiction of Christianity, Isaac holds, the Christian church fostered it in past ages and set into motion forces which culminated in the wholesale murder of Jews by the Nazis.

Isaac makes clear that present-day Christian churches are not anti-Semitic, but he says the trend set in former times has had far-reaching effects.

The professor, who lost nearly his whole family in a German concentration camp during World War II, says it is now the duty of Christianity to reverse this trend by purging itself of anti-Semitic relics in its liturgy and teachings.

Isaac has devoted much of his life to reversing what he feels are Christian misconceptions about Judaism and Jews. He has written two books on the subject and, in 1947, submitted 18 points recommending changes in Christian education about the Jews.

The current work, "Has Anti-Semitism Roots in Christianity?" is a translation of a lecture delivered by Isaac in France. Accompanying it are an introduction by Richard Cardinal Cushing, archbishop of Boston, and a critical analysis by a Protestant theologian, writer and educator, Dr. Bernhard E. Olson.

True anti-Semitism, Isaac contends, began with Christianity and its teaching that the Jews killed Christ, that they had rejected him and continued to reject him and that their sufferings were just punishment for their sins.

Isaac says these teachings are historically unsound.

It was the Romans who crucified Jesus, he states, and they were supported in this not by the Jews at large but by a small oligarchy the Jews themselves detested.

It was not Christ the Jews rejected, Isaac argues, saying they remained faithful to him "up to his last hour."

The Jews rejected Christianity, he says, because "Christianity, directed towards the Gentiles, totally rejected obedience to the Torah, to the law."

Stung by this rejection and forced to answer the competition for the minds of man Judaism presented in the ancient world, the early Christians determined on a "teaching of contempt" for the Jews, Isaac says.

When Christianity became powerful, it extended this teaching of contempt to a "system of degradation" of the Jew, he adds.

Today, Isaac notes, "there is no Christian involvement in such crimes. Christian charity is employed in favor of the persecuted —sometimes it is employed to the point of heroism."

But the "teaching of contempt" has not completely disappeared, he says.

Eichmann Helping State By Filling Gaps In Story

JERUSALEM, Israel (AP) — Adolf Eichmann is helping his Israeli prosecutors by calling their attention to gaps in the parade of documents submitted against him.

The Israeli prosecution, accusing Eichmann with primary responsibility in the Nazi pogrom of Europe's Jews, has presented 800 exhibits so far, some of them containing multiple documents.

Eichmann, bald and saturnine at 55, has kept a running account of them all in his glass-enclosed dock.

But trial sources disclosed the defendant has not been satisfied with the presentation of papers drawn from the Gestapo's files.

"He has been sending his own written notes through his counsel to the prosecution, insisting on having documents we do not have," a prosecution source said.

"We have gotten them lately, almost every day. When we check back, we find he is right and something is missing. Then we check what is missing and most often find a document he would be far better off had it been forgotten. In a curious way he is helping us keep our own files in order."

Eichmann's records were destroyed toward the end of the war in Prague but allied troops salvaged copies of most of the correspondence dealing with "the final solution of the Jewish problem" in other Gestapo offices. The Wuerzburg bureau contained an almost completely intact file of Eichmann's orders to the commandos charged with Jewish affairs.

One Israeli attorney speculated that Eichmann is so devoted to the documents because "he probably still hopes to find documents which will show he was only taking orders."

'Outsiders' Get Blame In Riots

DALLAS (AP)—State Sen. Aubrey Green of Alabama blames outsiders for inciting incidents that led to racial violence in his state.

"It's unfortunate that outside influences came in to get undue publicity and it's unfortunate that he got it," he said Sunday in an interview.

The York, Ala., senator was questioned about the violence involving "freedom riders" at Montgomery during a bus trip through the state.

"I can believe the statements from our state authorities that our law enforcement agencies acted with due haste in the matter," he said after being told that Alabama officers had been accused of failure to act during the incidents.

"I regret that a newsman meets with violence in our state," he continued. "We're a non-violent people. I feel that racial incidents in the South have been overemphasized. Some of the mass media has been slanted in its coverage."

THE ONE BAPTISM

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher
Church of Christ, West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1582

"There is one body, and one Spirit, even as ye are called in one hope of your calling; one Lord, one faith, one baptism, one God and father . . . " Eph. 4:4-6) Let us discover what the one baptism of the Bible is. If it is immersion in water, then everything else that men call baptism is wrong. There is "one baptism".

If the one baptism is water baptism, then Holy Spirit baptism is not for today. The statement in Scripture, "one baptism", no more leaves room for water baptism and Spirit baptism, than the statement, "one God" leaves room for us to worship both the true God and some other god.

We must make up our minds, whether we believe in Spirit baptism for today, or water baptism. There is "one baptism"; not two.

True: there had been two baptisms in the beginning of Christianity: but by the time Paul wrote the Ephesian letter, one of these had served its purpose and had been removed; so that Paul could say, "There is . . . one baptism".

Presbyterian Church Is Scene Of Wedding

The First Presbyterian Church in Sherman was the scene of the wedding of Betty Jean Guthrie and Arnold O. Lee Sunday afternoon at 5 o'clock. Double ring vows were taken before Dr. S. C. Guthrie, uncle of the bride.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn T. Guthrie, 1618 Stadium, and Mrs. Thelma Lee of Dallas.

Palms and baskets of white gladioli with tapers in two candelabra made the background for the wedding party.

"I Love Thee" and "Because" were solos by Geraldine Wilson, who was accompanied by the organist, Mrs. Graham Landrum.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in lace and net alternating in panels to make a skirt extending into a train. Her veil was fingertip length, and the bride carried a purple orchid nestled in stephanotis.

Patti Veatch of Weatherford attended the bride as maid of honor; Barbara Prager of Houston, Tommie Sue Lovelace of Dallas, and Martha Gilliland of Quanah were bridesmaids. All attendants were attired identically in lavendar chiffon frocks with scooped necklines and full skirts.

James Waller of Memphis, Tenn., served as best man; guests were seated by Dick Hudson and Richard Haythorn, both of Houston; Ted Thevenet of Dallas; Larry Cooper of Lovington, N. M., and William Steffy of Sherman.

Cooper and Steffy were taperlighters, and Edward Sims of Pottsboro, cousin of the bride, carried the rings. Loretta Sims, also of Pottsboro, and the bride's cousin, was flower girl.

In the fellowship hall of the church, the couple greeted friends assisted by their parents and the feminine attendants.

On the bride's table, her bouqet formed the centerpiece, and the three-tiered cake was white; a punch bowl and other accessories completed the serving appointments.

Sharon Langston of Denison, cousin of the bridegroom, was at the bride's book; members of the house party were Mrs. Robert Brasel, Raellen Gilbert and Patricia Bitterman.

Graduation Theme Used In Party For Seniors

Decor inspired by the graduation of high school seniors was used by hostesses Mary Locke Crosland and Kay Crownover Sunday afternoon when the two entertained at the Crosland home.

A graduation mobile fashioned of gold covered rings in graduated sizes held a white carnation, silhouettes of a boy and girl, mortar boards and a diploma. Dolls dressed in cap and gown were placed at vantage points about the room and a book was given a scholarly face and a cap for a boy graduate.

A Hall of Fame held pictures of the guests from babyhood through the elementary grades. Beneath it was an illuminated world globe with a smiling face and a cap set at a jaunty angle. He held a rose and a diploma in his wire hands. In a game of identifying the most autograph book and Gary Pickle pictures, Cleo Thomas won an was given the booby prize, a burlap sack for the person who has everything to put it in.

Judy Foster and Janie Harrington presided at the refreshment table which was covered with a white linen cutwork cloth. Centering the table was a large doll dressed as a girl graduate, surrounded by gifts for the girls, and little paper doll favors which held fortunes. The cake was white with the colorful emblem of the school fashioned in black and gold in the center. Punch was served from an etched brass set.

As the guests entered each was given a mortar board to wear during the party hour.

The hostesses, both members of the Class of '61, were assisted by their mothers, Mrs. Ellen Crosland and Mrs. W. R. Crownover.

Controls Dispute To Cool K-K Talks

GENEVA (AP)—The perennial dispute between the West and the Soviet Union on the issue of controls to enforce international agreements is expected to throw its long shadow over the meeting between President Kennedy and Premier Khrushchev.

Western diplomats in Geneva feel that this stumbling block of virtually all East-West negotiations since World War II may well be a central theme of the Kennedy-Khrushchev talks in Vienna next month.

The Western idea that in the absence of mutual confidence, East and West must provide for safeguards to prevent violations of accords, has dominated all attempts to end the cold war.

The issue of controls has prevented progress in 13 years of disarmament negotiations. It has clowed down the three-power test han talks here. It cropped up again at the start of the conference on Laos.

The West feels the policing of any agreement between the two camps is vital to Western security. Communist leaders contend that the Western governments will use international control machinery as a front for legalized spying on the Communist countries.

Arthur H. Dean, the U.S. delegate to the three-power nuclear test ban talks, returned to Washington Sunday to report to President Kennedy on the Soviet intransigeance on the matter of test ban controls.

Before his departure Dean once again criticized the new Soviet demand for a veto over the day-to-day operation of the proposed test ban control system.

Sir Michael Wright, the British delegate, said in a news conference the talks will fail unless Soviet negotiator Semyon K. Tsarapkin withdraws the "totally unacceptable" proposal. It provides that the control organization be run by an administrative council of one Westerner, one Communist and one neutral, directly responsible to their governments and acting only when they can agree unanimously.

In Vienna, Western diplomats believe, Kennedy will seek a clear answer from Premier Khrushchev on the issue of international control and inspection. They expect the President to sound out Khrushchev on whether there is any chance the Kremlin will ever agree to the Western concept of veto-free controls.

Mexico Tourist Drive Launched

LAREDO, Tex. (AP)—A drive is under way to boost Mexico's tourist trade which dropped sharply in April because of anti-American demonstrations.

A Laredo customs broker, Renato Zapat, went to Mexico City on a fact-finding mission and reported Sunday that the "American tourist has no reason to worry about a thing while traveling in Mexico."

Zapata said he was told by Manuel Aguilar, undersecretary of the Federal Tourist Bureau in Mexico, that the agency plans the biggest travel promotion drive in the history of the country this summer.

The Mexican Chamber of Commerce in Laredo is printing thousands of English-Spanish tourist folders to mail to U.S. tourist agencies.

Miss Velia E. Uribe, manager of the American Automobile Association here, said that Laredo, with 7,842 tourist crossings, had the heaviest volume and only a 13 per cent decline from April, 1960.

Laos Legates May Join In Conference

GENEVA (AP)—The East-West conference on Laos resumes this afternoon amid persistent reports the royal government in Vientiane soon may order its delegation in Geneva to join in the parley.

A spokesman for the Vientiane delegation said Sunday night his group had received no instructions yet to end its boycott of the conference. The Vientiane government objected because the delegations from the pro-Communist Pathet Lao rebels and Prince Souvanna Phouma — neither of which represents a legal government—were not given subordinate status to that offered the Vientiane group.

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, the Cambodian chief of state, cabled Laotian King Savang Vathana Friday, asking him to put pressure on Premier Prince Boun Oum to end the boycott of the conference.

There were indications that both the United States and Britain planned to renew their charges that the pro-Communist rebels are repeatedly violating the cease-fire order.

Dispatcnes from Vientiane say that the Pathet Lao is continuing operations, including artillery attacks, against Meo tribesmen in northern Laos who support the Vientiane government.

The start of the conference's third week found the chief foreign ministers on the Western side back in their home capitals and the second string in charge at Geneva. Malcolm MacDonald, the British government's leading authority on Southeast Asia, heads the British group, and Ambassador-at-large W. Averell Harriman had taken over from U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and Communist Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi are still here. Some Western delegates speculated Gromyko might be trying to outstay his Chinese ally.

DEAR ABBY

Who Makes Complaints?

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine lives in a hectic neighborhood. Her neighbors come in for coffee every morning even before she has her children off to school. And they stay until they come home for lunch. She never gets her morning chores done. They don't wait to be offered coffee. They help themselves. (She uses three pounds of coffee a week, and she is the only adult in the family who drinks it.)

I suggested she hang a sign on her door — "SORRY, NO TIME FOR COFFEE! HAVE WORK TO DO"—but she wouldn't do it. Her husband travels and when he is home the neighbor ladies are there having coffee with him at breakfast. How can I help my friend get rid of these pests before she has a nervous breakdown? DEVOTED FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: Many people complain that they are constantly being "imposed upon" by unwelcome guests, but for some strange reason they never DO anything about it. This leads me to suspect that the "victim" not only secretly enjoys these drop-in pests, but enjoys complaining about them. It's HER coffee, HER time and HER nervous system. When SHE complains to ME, I will send her a fool-proof pest-exterminator.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have three sons—10, 11 and 12. They are active, spirited young boys but no worse than any other boys their ages. They play together and frequently get into mischief. One thing I will say for them, they are not tattletales. They stick together. When something is broken or some damage is done, I never know which one did it. I hate to punish the innocent ones, so I have to let it go. How can I get the truth out of the boys so I can punish the guilty one? MOTHER OF BOYS

DEAR MOTHER: I know a mother who had the same problem. When something was damaged and no one confessed, she would punish all of her boys. The next morning the one with the black eye caught the dickens.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am 18, unmarried and pregnant. I know the boy, but I don't know his address. I know what I did was wrong, but there is nothing I can do about it now. Can you recommend a free home for unwed mothers near here? Also I would like a free booklet on hair styles. Thank you. SORRY NOW

DEAR SORRY: Get in touch with your County Welfare Association. They will refer you to one of the many fine homes for unwed mothers in your area. I have no booklet on hair styles, but I think it's time you paid more attention to what is IN your head than what is ON it.

LOOKING 'EM' OVER

By TOMMY HART

The track and field successes of Howard County Junior College last week provided the local school with its most glamorous hour in athletics, and teams representing the college have climbed the heights on more than one occasion.

The victory the Jayhawks achieved also projected their coach, L. L. (Red) Lewis, as a leading candidate for Texas "coach of the year" honors in junior college ranks.

What other JC coach within the state brought a national championship to his school, besides Lewis? Apparently, he stands alone in that respect.

The one-time H-SU center is paid to teach mathematics at HCJC. Track and field is largely a labor of love for him. He gave the job devoted and unceasing attention, however. The results speak for themselves.

• • •

Mike Fulghum, the Coffeyville, Kansas, distance runner who copped both the mile and two-mile races here last year, had turned in a 4:18.7 mile in his home state shortly before coming here.

He had been expected to win both events in a breeze here. However, he had to settle for first place in the mile and second in the 880. He injured himself and had to be withdrawn from the two-mile.

• • •

Don Broadus, the Independence, Kan., javelin thrower who set a national meet record with a toss of 207 feet 4 inches here, had to pay his own way to and from Big Spring.

Independence has a school policy to the effect that a boy must win his event in his own state meet in order to qualify for a trip to the nationals. Don experienced an off-week in the State Meet and didn't qualify, but his parents brought him, anyway. In the light of what happened here, Independence is apt to amend the policy somewhat, or at least reimburse Broadus in part for the expenses he incurred.

• • •

The elements behaved beautifully for the entire meet. It rained the night before the preliminaries and the water helped temper the track. The wind never got above seven miles an hour during the prelims. On Saturday night, there was no wind at all.

• • •

Joe Bailey Cheney's ability as a starter increases with the years. He was never better than he was here during the Nationals.

He's been getting the runners off their starting blocks for 27 years now. He never had a false start during the entire meet here and he says that never happened to him before.

Small boys who have watched Joe Bailey in action like to imitate his manner of bringing the tracksters around to start an event. He'll sing out "up-up-up-up-up-up-up-up" in a manner reminiscent of a motor boat, just before he raises the starting gun for the ready position. The ritual makes a great hit with the small fry.

Joe Bailey, who was once the state's premier sprinter, says he never realized he was repeating himself so often. It's just his method, he adds, to lure the runners "up to" their starting positions.

• • •

A local resident approached Joe Bailey on the street not long after his arrival here the other day and mentioned the fact that Cheney had run in a state meet in which Joe Bailey had been the starter back in the 30's.

The reunion, joyful though it was, made Joe Bailey stop and reflect that he had been at this business a lot longer than he'd thought.

Finish In The 220-Yard Dash

William Argo (far left) of HCJC is shown winning the 220-yard dash in the National JC Track and Field Meet, which was completed here Saturday night. Argo was timed in 21.4 seconds. A teammate, Herman Robinson (third from left) finished second. Al Hurd of Fort Lewis A&M, Colorado, (far right) was third while Dean Cheatham of HCJC (also pictured) finished fourth.

Valdes' 4-Hitter Gets Split For Tigers At Fort Worth

FORT WORTH—On the strength of Danny Valdes' sharp 4-hit pitching stint, the Big Spring Tigers clipped Fort Worth here Sunday 12-3 in the opening game of a double - header. However, matters reversed in the nightcap and Fort Worth clobbered the visitors 19-3.

Except for King's homer in the fourth, Valdes never had any trouble. In the second Zuniga's double had brought in Roscoe with a run, and what with Roscoe aboard, King got his circuit smash. After that Valdes was airtight while the Tigers, paced by Tito Arencibia and Sharpnack, climbed all over a pair of Fort Worth pitchers. Arencibia had three hits, including a pair of doubles, and Sharpnack's three hits drove in as many runs.

The Tigers were without the services of their ace lefthander, Ronnie Moser, in the second game, and from the start the Fort Worth team took a liking to the offerings of Cadenhead. Fierro replaced him, but there was no stopping the clubbing.

Tentative schedule for the Tigers calls for two games at Steer Park in Big Spring on Sunday afternoon. The Tigers now have an 8-4 record for the season.

'Awful Jump' Is More Than Good

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—George Davies says it was a "terrible jump" that earned him a world's record pole vault of 15 feet 10¾ inches here Saturday.

The performance by the 20-year-old Oklahoma State sophomore high-lighted the Big Eight conference meet.

"It was a terrible jump," Davies told his beaming coach, Ralph Higgins. "My form was terrible. Just awful."

But the "awful jump" was good enough to break the 15-foot 9¾ world record of Don Bragg set in last year's United States Olympic trials.

Weber Sacks Up Bowling Purse

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The professional bowling tour moved on to Shreveport, La. today with Dick Weber, the St. Louis thin man, flashing a check for $3,000—the reward for winning the $21,900 All-America Classic.

Weber came from behind in the last games to pass Al Savas, also of St. Louis, and romp home with an average of 231.9 Sunday night. He had a total of 3,711 pins in the 16 games of the finals and wound up with 124.21 points under the Swiss round-robin scoring system that gives one point for winning a game and a point for each 30 pins.

Ray Bluth and Dick Hoover, others of the St. Louis bowling parade, finished second and third respectively, and won $2,200 and $1,600.

They passed Savas in the next to last game, as did Ed Lubanski of Detroit, who was fourth, and Dennis Chappis of Ferguson, Mo., who finished fifth. Lubanski won $1,200 and Chappis $1,000. Savas wound up sixth and took down $1,000.

Sanders Four Under Par To Win At Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — "I'm coming back next year," said Doug Sanders after winning the $20,000 Hot Springs Open Golf Tournament Sunday, "but I hope you have the dogs and whisky boxes off the course."

With that remark he grinned and accepted a check for $2,800, raising his pro winnings to $31,795.56. It was his third tournament victory of the year and his second in a week. He took home $7,000 first money from the Fort Worth Colonial last Sunday.

Sanders, of Ojai, Calif., shot a 4-under-par 68 Sunday to finish at 273, 15 strokes under par. Jerry Steelsmith of Glendale, Calif., and Dave Ragan of Orlando, Fla., who played with Sanders in the final threesome, tied for second place with 274s.

The winner was ired momentarily Saturday when a cocker spaniel, who was scratching flees in a sandtrap, gave a "yip" and caused him to miss a putt. Sunday, Sanders' ball hit an empty whisky case on the 13th fairway and bounced behind a tree, causing him to take a bogey 6.

Ageless Sam Sneed Eyes The U.S. Open

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—Life would begin at 49 for Sam Snead if he could just win the U.S. Open golf tournament.

The West Virginia Slammer, riding the crest of a two-tournament winning streak, stays around home this week to celebrate his 49th birthday on Saturday. Then he heads for San Juan, P.R., and the International Cup matches.

After that he will take a shot at the Open, being held next month at Oakland Hills in Detroit.

"I have to qualify first, though," Snead reminded.

The Slammer plans to try to qualify in Detroit June 6. He shudders when he recalls what happened to him two years ago during the qualifying trial at Washington, D.C. there he just did get under the wire with a 142—and needed to can a 12-foot putt at that to keep from going into a playoff for a berth in the Open.

Oakland Hills holds a special place in Snead's memories. He finished with a 283 in the U.S. Open there in 1937 and was being congratulated for winning it when along came Ralph Guldahl, who got hot on the last 18 holes, with a 281.

That was the beginning of his never-ending chase for the U.S. Open championship—the one major golf title which has eluded Snead.

Snead finished runnerup on the Open on two other occasions. In 1947, he lost to Lew Worsham in a playoff at St. Louis. And in 1938 there was his famous blowup at Philadelphia. Snead needed only a five on the last hole to win. He got in all kinds of trouble and struggled in with an eight to finish fifth in the standings.

"Some people say I've been washed up since 1939," Snead declared.

For a man supposed to have been washed up, Snead has done pretty well. He has won more tournaments and more money in golf than anyone else.

His victory in the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas earlier this month made him the oldest pro to ever win a major golf title. His victory here Sunday in the 14th Sam Snead Festival marked his 109th tournament title.

Snead led all the way during the four-day, 72-hole tournament. He finished with a 266—14 under par—for his sixth Festival victory. One stroke behind was Stan Leonard, the Canadian making his first appearance in the Festival. Third was the veteran Chick Harbert with a 270 while the gold dust twins—Gary Player and Arnold Palmer—tied for fourth with 271s.

Twins Drop Two Games As An Old Hex Holds

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Even a change in uniforms and a switch to another city haven't helped the Minnesota Twins who were the Washington Senators last year. They're still mesmerized by the slants of Cleveland's Jim (Mudcat) Grant.

For the 17th time in 19 decisions in the last four seasons, Cookie Lavagetto's charges were beaten by Grant Sunday. They made only three hits against the Indians' righthander. At that, they got one more hit than they did in the opener, against Wynn Hawkins as Cleveland swept the doubleheader 9-0 and 2-0.

Grant added insult to injury, driving in one of Cleveland's two runs off loser Don Lee with a second inning single for his third victory without a defeat.

The double triumph before 30,999 Minnesotans put the Indians alone in second place, 3½ games behind the American League-leading Detroit Tigers, who defeated Kansas City 5-3 in the first game of a scheduled doubleheader. Rain-washed out the second game which was rescheduled for tonight.

The double loss dropped the Twins into fourth place, behind the New York Yankees who split a doubleheader with Baltimore. The Yankees won the opener 4-2 and the Orioles took the second game 3-2.

Washington's new Senators swept a pair from Los Angeles 6-2 and 7-2. Chicago and Boston divided a pair, the White Sox winning the first game in 10 innings 6-5 and the Red Sox the second 4-1.

Carl Mays, the old Red Sox and Yankee submarine pitcher of four decades ago, once defeated the Philadelphia Athletics 23 times in succession and Pete Donohue, the old Cincinnati right-hander, once whipped the Phillies 20 straight times.

Steve Boros, rookie third baseman, drove in four Detroit runs with a single, double and home run to help Lary win his seventh game in eight decisions. Kansas City southpaw Bud Daley lost his fifth.

Whitey Ford, helped by Roger Maris' fourth home run in as many games, and seventh of the season, won his fifth game for the Yankees in the opener against Baltimore. Steve Barber, Baltimore southpaw, helped win his own game with a two-run single in the seventh after Yankee receiver John Blanchard dropped Gene Stephens' two-out foul pop.

Don Schwall, a 23-year-old, 6-6 right-hander summoned from Seattle, made his major league debut a winning one as he pitched the Red Sox to a 4-1 triumph over the White Sox. Gary Geiger's two-run homer and a couple of sparkling catches featured the Red Sox victory. The White Sox won the opener on Jim Landis' two-run homer in the 10th inning.

Washington jumped from eighth to sixth with its double triumph over Los Angeles. Willie Tasby's two-run double broke a 2-2 tie in the opener and Chuck Hinton drove in four runs in the second game with two singles and his first major league home run. Dale Long, Billy Klaus and Tasby homered for the Senators in the second game. Right-hander Bennie Daniels and left-hander Hal Woodeshick posted the victories.

Smith Splits Double Bill

E. C. Smith Construction softball team split a pair with Don Maxwell in Midland Saturday evening, winning the first 3-2 and dropping the last 5-1.

The score was tied 1-1 in the nightcap going into the bottom of the sixth, when the Midland team seemed suddenly to solve the riddle of Jim Ward's stuff. Before the fire could be put out, the Maxwell batters had slammed across four runs.

Bill Paul Thomas was credited with the victory in the opening game, which went a torrid 11 innings before the Big Spring team won. Oakie Hagood was the batting star, slamming a couple of triples for Smith. N. R. Stephens absorbed the loss. Don Springer was the winner in the second round.

The Trent Baptist Church team of Odessa comes here for a 7:30 p.m. Wednesday tilt at the City Park diamond against the Smith team. Then on Saturday evening, Smith goes to Abilene for a contest against the Abilene A's.

Field Is Fixed For Indianapolis Race

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Thirty-two American auto racing veterans and British road racing champion Jack Bragham will make up the fastest field ever lined up in the 50-year-old 500-mile auto race May 30.

A record qualifying average of 145.302 miles an hour was set in two weekends of qualifying that ended Sunday.

Last year's Memorial Day field set the previous record of 144.070 and 18 of its starters would not have made the program for this year's golden anniversary race.

Eight newcomers, including Bragham, helped boost the average for the 10-mile tests.

Eddie Sachs of Center Valley, Pa., who has failed to finish in four Memorial Day starts, was the fastest qualifier of the two weekends with a 147.251 on opening day, good for $2,200 and the No. 1 starting position a week from Tuesday.

Fighters Resting Before Big Bout

HOUSTON (AP)—Bob Cleroux of Toronto and Roy Harris of Cut and Shoot, Tex., rested today for their 10-round heavyweight fight Tuesday night.

The boxers stopped pre-fight work Sunday after Cleroux sparred three rounds in a Houston gym and Harris did light work at his backwoods home.

Cleroux, ranked No. 10 among heavyweights, knocked out Harris in the fifth round of their only other meeting. The Canadian has won 25 fights, lost two and had one draw.

Harris has a record of 31 sins and four losses.

Brayman Big Winner In ABC Meet

DETROIT (AP) — The last bowler was hardly off the approach Sunday as workmen began to dismantle the 40-lane installation in Cobo Hall which served for 79 days as the setting for the 58th American Bowling Congress championships.

Some $467,000 in prize checks will be mailed to the tournament's 14,000 winners. Over 32,000 bowlers competed during the 11-week marathon.

The biggest prize check in ABC history goes to Bob Brayman of Detroit, who won the Classic Division all-events and finished third in the doubles with Duke Marquardt. Brayman earned $2,500 for his 1963 nine-game total and splits $350 with Marquardt for the pair's 1318 two-man total.

Brentwood Bowl of San Francisco was named Classic Team champion, when competition in that division ended May 5.

Two Games Slated In Church Loop

The schedule in the YMCA Church softball league calls for two games this evening.

The first at 7 o'clock pits the First Baptist against the East Fourth Baptist. In the second game at 8:30 o'clock, West Side Baptist tangles with Baptist Temple.

Dodgers Move Into Tie For First In National

By JOE REICHLER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Los Angeles Dodgers won their third straight from San Francisco Sunday, 3-2, and moved into a virtual first place tie with the Giants in the National League pennant race.

St. Louis, led by Stan Musial, who drove in five runs with a home run, double and single, snapped a six-game losing streak, sweeping a pair from Chicago 6-3 and 3-0.

Pittsburgh watched Philadelphia score nine runs in the third inning, then came back to defeat the Phillies 13-11, as Don Hoak drove in five runs, the last two with a bases-loaded single in the ninth.

Cincinnati nipped Milwaukee 7-6 on pinch hitter Gus Bell's ninth inning double, then lost the second game 3-2 when Vada Pinson was nipped at the plate in the ninth inning.

A home crowd of 41,495 saw the Giants drop their third straight one-run decision to the Dodgers.

Andy Koufax held the Giants to four hits for his fourth victory. Los Angeles got only seven off loser Billy Loes but two of them were home runs—by Johnny Roseboro and Jim Gilliam—accounting for all the runs in the fifth.

Missions Widen Lead In League

By The Associated Press

The San Antonio Missions had more than daylight between them and second place in the Texas League race Monday.

The margin was two full games and the reason was obvious—San Antonio had won six games in a row.

Sunday night the Missions shut out Victoria, 8-0, as Roy Brooks pitched a steady nine-hitter.

Rio Grande Valley was shut out. Tulsa blasted the Giants, 9-0, with Lou Vickery pitching a three-hitter.

Amarillo pulled into a tie for Valley as the Gold Sox edged Austin, 2-1, in 10 innings.

SEN. MANSFIELD
Confident of passage

JFK Reverses Field Over Education Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has reversed his political field and is keeping hands off while the Senate hammers out its version of his federal aid-to-education program.

Confirming this, Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said today he is confident that before the week is over the Senate will pass in a form satisfactory to Kennedy a $2.5-billion measure to provide grants for public school construction and teachers salaries.

Previously Kennedy has been active personally in soliciting support in Congress for the kind of legislation he wants. His efforts and those of his staff were particularly noticeable in connection with the minimum wage and unemployment compensation legislation.

But Mansfield said there has been no such activity in behalf of the school construction measure, one of the most controversial bills in the President's program.

"The advice of the President and his assistants is available at any time we request it," Mansfield said, "but I assume the President believes it is better for him not to become involved in this matter and that's what I think, too.

"The Senate is operating on its own responsibility and we will endeavor to get the bill through in a form as nearly as possible to that he requested."

Most politicians credit Kennedy with smart tactics in not becoming personally involved in a measure around which has blown up a storm over proposals for parochial school loans and grants.

Kennedy has labeled such loans and grants unconstitutional, but the bishops of his own Roman Catholic Church contend aid legally could be furnished for the teaching of non-secular subjects in church and private schools.

Baptist-Scout Issue Looms

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A proposal to establish liaison between the Southern Baptist Convention and the Boy Scouts might become the hottest issue before the annual meeting opening Tuesday night.

More than 15,000 delegates—called messengers—representing 32,000 churches with 9.7 million members will attend the four-day meeting.

The executive committee of the Convention will recommend that it approve the proposal that the Brotherhood Commission in Memphis, an agency of the Convention, act as liaison between the SBC and the Scout organization.

Opposition started forming long ago. Opponents fear an official tie between the SBC and Scouting would promote Scouting and hurt the Baptists own youth work—the Royal Ambassador program, a missionary group for Baptist boys.

The 1953 Southern Baptist Convention at Houston rejected a proposal to connect the church with the God and Country Awards in the Scout movement.

Senate Again Debates Aid To Education

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate resumes debate today on President Kennedy's federal aid to education bill with leaders pushing for passage by mid-week.

This promises to be the major action on the President's program in Congress this week.

However, Senate leaders also hoped to put through the $4.99 billion housing bill approved by the Banking Committee last week. This carries out all of Kennedy's recommendations in the field.

Both the housing and school aid bills are on the "big five" list discussed by the President before he took office.

Two of these, depressed areas and minimum wage, already have been signed by Kennedy. The fifth a health care plan for the aged under the Social Security System, may go over until 1962.

Both House and Senate are stepping up their hours in session and ther committee schedules with the fifth month of the 1961 session almost over.

HARD TO MEET

However, it appears that the Aug. 1 adjournment goal set by congressional leaders will be exceedingly hard to meet.

Much legislation remains. The appropriations bills especially are far behind schedule. Not a single one for fiscal 1962 starting July 1 has cleared the Senate and only three have passed the House out of the 12 to 14 that must be considered. The House has a minor one, carrying funds to run Congress, on its schedule this week.

Senate backers of the school aid bill were able to defeat all five attempts to amend it in four days of debate last week.

Pending as the Senate meets today is a proposal of Sen. Prescott Bush, R-Conn., to bar any federal grants to racially segregated schools.

This is given little chance, however, because even the strong civil rights advocates among the bill's supporters have agreed to fight such amendments. They fear that adoption of such a rider would probably kill the bill.

WELCOMED

In fact, the measure's sponsors welcomed the amendment. They believe its defeat would comfort Southern legislators whose votes are needed for final passage of the legislation, particularly in the House.

In this view, the defeat would be an offset to a 70-25 trouncing of an amendment offered last week by Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., to make segregated schools specifically eligible for federal aid.

The House plans to consider on the floor this week a $12-billion authorization bill for military weapons already passed by the Senate and an authorization measure for the civilian space agency.

The Senate Education subcommittee plans to start its closed-door work on a second school bill, the extension of the National Defense Education Act.

SOME AID

This measure may contain some aid for private schools as consolation for the failure to include any such provision in the general school bill now being debated.

The House Education Committee is to resume its consideration of various school measures during the week, and the Ways and Means Committee will continue to take testimony on Kennedy's controversial tax revision recommendations.

Efforts will be made during the week to work out differences between House and Senate on a $600 million Latin American aid bill and a measure to set up an Office of International Travel to try to attract more tourists to the United States.

Series Of Weather Alerts Expires Without Turbulence

By The Associated Press

A series of severe weather alerts expired in Northeast Texas early Monday without reports of the turbulence that had been forecast.

The most recent severe thunderstorm forecast was for an area along a 120-mile line from 40 miles south of Dallas to 20 miles northwest of Little Rock, Ark. It was in effect until 3 a.m. Monday.

However, the Weather Bureau reported that there were moderate to heavy thunderstorms early in the day in Navarro, Henderson and Freestone counties, in East Central Texas.

A weak cold front was drifting slowly southward from along a line from Ardmore, Okla., to Midland, Tex. The Weather Bureau said it would continue to weaken during the day.

The scattered showers and thunderstorms were moving southeastward from southeast of the Fort Worth-Dallas area.

Patches of clouds were reported over East and South Texas but skies were generally fair elsewhere.

Early morning temperatures were in the middle 50s in the Panhandle, and ranged up to 76 degrees at Brownsville and Corpus Christi.

Trees were uprooted in Gainesville Sunday night by winds up to 70 miles per hour. Hail the size of marbles fell at Archer City while Wichita Falls had up to .42 of an inch of rain with some pea-size hail.

Residents at Horseshoe Lake, west of Wichita Falls, reported high winds and hail with some slight damage.

LETTER

GOP Committee Writes For Tower

To the Editor:

It was with deep regret that we read your editorial "GOP Putting Party Above Texas" in the Thursday Herald. We hope yours is just an honestly misguided opinion and not the deliberate smear that it appeared to be.

We agree that "Texans who cherish their voting independency will want to be sure that they're not being made 'patsies' by the bigwigs of" . . . you say "Republican Party" . . . we say, of either party.

You charge that the Republican Party's upper echelon "has no concern whatever for the welfare of the state" . . . where, in fact, their concern is about our approach to the welfare state.

"Texans shouldn't fall for a lot of the campaign propaganda that is being fed out to them." There is no official party candidate in this special election . . . since neither candidate went through a party primary.

You say "Let's face the facts" and then make the unfounded statement that "John Tower was plucked from obscurity a year ago." The facts are that Tower learned the evils of Fabian Socialism (the creeping kind) at the same school (London School of Economics) as did JFK, only Tower dissented and Kennedy assented. It was the recognization of this tendency to Socialism in our beloved United States, that prompted Mr. Tower to forsake a career in education to enter politics on his own volition.

You are correct in stating that LBJ "built up resentment in Texas." His dual candidacy has cost the taxpayers of Texas hundreds of thousands of dollars. Just because he wasn't man enough to stick by his convictions and cast his lot for one office or the other.

If it is "opportunism" to draft the finest talent we have available, to completely disregard the tired and worn out party cliches and to stand for a government of laws and not of men . . . then we are guilty.

Most importantly, we feel, is the concrete evidence of Mr. Blakley's shameful voting record and horrendous absentee record, both in his first appointment and in the present one. If you are truly concerned with the "propaganda" the voters are being fed . . . why don't you print the truth . . . from the Congressional Record showing Mr. Blakley's voting and absentee record?

Mr. Blakley's absence on May 11 helped the passage—by a narrow margin—of important legislation granting unprecedented powers to the President to spend your money in "aid to Communist satellite countries" — another pipedream to buy us a higher position on the Soviet sucker list.

We'll wager you a ten gallon sombrero that John Tower has attended more Senate sessions as a spectator than Bill Blakley, has as interim senator.

We prefer the "out of state" concern by Goldwater, Morton and other conservatives interested in conserving America . . . to the "out of state" concern of Walter Reuther and other liberals that are so dedicated to spending America into bankruptcy, on an ever increasing tide of "do gooder plans," "welfare programs" and "federal aid to ——."

The facts are that one candidate is a young man who says he will be a full time senator, and the other is an old man that has proven he is not a full time senator. John Tower is no professional politician—nor has Mr. Blakley ever been elected to public office. If the "experience" you clamour for will buy us more Laotian and Cuban fiascos . . . then it may be time that we recruited the "inexperienced."

There Were Compensations

The frontier life may have had some compensations, at least in prices for a thirsty person.

A statement from Sanford & Gwynn, doing business in Gail, dated May 21, 1901, shows how a man might afford to raise a thirst 60 years ago.

It had several entries for half a pint of whisky at 25 cents. One, obviously for an elite brand, was 75 cents for the pint. Drinks. The standard price for drinks appeared to have been 15 cents for a good slug, but in the bulk it was more economical—eight drinks for a dollar in one instance and nine for $1.10 in another. The entire bill for a month amounted to $4.15.

A Devotional For Today

I was in prison, and ye came unto me. (Matthew 25:46.)

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, we would acknowledge that in our own selves we are weak, but in Thy strength we are strong. Grant us always the assurance of the presence of the Holy Spirit to be our faithful guide in all circumstances and for all our needs. For Jesus' sake and in His Holy name. Amen.

Alert Industrial Leadership

West Texans familiar with the operations of the Texas Electric Service and with its official family are happy to learn that Beeman Fisher has been elevated to the presidency succeeding J. B. Thomas. They are, of course, doubly pleased to learn that the genial and genius touch of Mr. Thomas won't be lost to the company and the area, for Mr. Thomas is continuing as chairman of the board. He largely has directed expansion and development of TESCO, building the system almost from scratch. That this company has never dragged its feet on progress, but on the contrary has been one of the boldest and most imaginative leaders in the promotion and great growth of this area, is an enduring tribute to Mr. Thomas.

So is the calibre of men he has assembled around him. One of these is Beeman Fisher, who has served in capacities close to Mr. Thomas, including assistant to the president and vice president. Mr. Fisher is thus thoroughly conversant not only with the needs of the communities in this region but alert to possess the possibilities. He is completely familiar with TESCO in all of its activities, and he is personally friendly to community leaders throughout the area.

Mr. Thomas has reached the point where he has earned a less exacting role in the affairs of TESCO. It is good to step into the president's place and maintain vigorous leadership.

More Needed For Preventive Maintenance

A perennial and increasingly vexatious problem for municipalities is how to obtain ample revenues for all the things that need to be done. Ours is certainly no exception, and the great headache is how to cut up the pie so that the pieces will more nearly represent the share most urgently needed for various functions.

A story concerning city street repairs and outlays illustrates a point of bind between the amount available and the amount needed. An official declared the $14,000 appropriation for street maintenance as an outlay for a "minimum program." This seems a masterpiece of understatement. We doubt that it can be classed as a minimum program except that it is about as low as you can realistically get.

This is not critical, for the commission has applied funds in keeping with urgency. It is to express the hope, however, that somewhere down the line some additional revenues can be found and applied to street maintenance to underwrite a program of preventive maintenance. As the situation now stands, the lion's share of the money likely will go for emergency work, such as clearing and repairing after storms. If the number of such occasions surpasses the average, the entire appropriation may be consumed. Every year we add more and more to our paving total, and thus the demand for maintenance increases. It is here that the modest application of some additional funds would save the taxpayer much, much greater expense later on for replacement.

A Sly Way To Change Interest Rates

At the minute, it's purely academic, but it's also pretty sly.

President Kennedy's Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon, who was drawn from the ranks of Republicans, is prepared to do what his Republican predecessor, Robert B. Anderson, was too forthright to do.

ROBERT V. ROOSA, Under Secretary for Monetary Affairs, has let it be known that he will not hesitate to sell long-term Treasury bonds yielding 4¼ per cent or 4¾ or even 5 per cent. He won't tag them 4¼ per cent, or 4¾, or 5 per cent. He'll label them 4¼ per cent.

For flexibility in financing, Dillon and Roosa have "lawyered" out from under the 44-year old 4¼ per cent interest-rate ceiling which President Eisenhower and Secretary Anderson could not get the 86th Congress to change.

AS AN EXAMPLE, Dillon and Roosa are prepared to sell a 30-year 4¼ per cent bond at 95 cents on the dollar. The return to maturity would be 4.55 per cent, or 0.30 per cent above the ceiling. If the price were 90 cents on the dollar, the return to maturity would be 4.9 per cent, or 0.65 per cent above the ceiling.

Dillon and Roosa have a letter from U. S. Attorney General Robert F. Kennedy saying that the Public Debt Act of 1942 supercedes the Second Liberty Bond Act of 1917.

THE 1942 ACT authorizes the Secretary of the Treasury to issue bonds "on an interest-bearing basis, on a discount basis, or on a combination interest-bearing and discount basis, at such price or prices and with interest computed in such manner and payable at such times as he may prescribe. . . and his decision with respect to such issue shall be final."

Secretary Anderson had a ruling from his general counsel to this same effect. He hesitated to use it because of an ambiguity. The 1942 law was an emergency measure. Congress did not say "at any interest rate." Why had it retained the 4¼ per cent ceiling if complete freedom were intended?

MOREOVER, Anderson was not willing to rule out the chance that bonds sold at an effective interest rate above 4¼ per cent would be open to legal challenge.

Anderson consulted Congressional leaders: Would they pass a resolution saying that the law permitted sale of discount bonds? Or would they repeal the ceiling and give the Treasury authority to issue long-term bonds at any interest rate? The House Ways & Means Committee refused to report out a bill. Debates on the floor of the Senate indicated great opposition.

CONSEQUENTLY, Secretary Anderson was forced to sell short-term issues exclusively, including the so-called magic 5's—a four-year-ten-month Treasury note with a 5 per cent coupon. That's the absurdity of the ceiling. The Treasury can put a 5 per cent rate on a bill, a certificate, or a note—anything less than five years. . . Beyond five years, no.

At the moment, Secretary Dillon and Under Secretary Roosa are in a position, because of the drop in interest rates (influenced in part by the Federal Reserve System's nudge policy), to sell long-term bonds at or below 4¼ per cent. The ceiling is irrelevant.

BUT IF WE have an industrial boom, if credit becomes scarce (as it usually does during periods of high business activity), then effective rates might rise above 4¼ per cent.

Dillon and Roosa are making an end run around recent legislative (or, rather, non-legislative) history, relying on the Attorney General's statement that selling discount bonds yielding more than 4¼ per cent does not "circumvent any Congressional" prohibition. If it doesn't, why did the last Congress refuse to grant it?

THERE'S NO DOUBT that the 4¼ per cent ceiling on interest rates is an anachronism. Secretary Dillon deserves the flexibility Anderson couldn't get. But his way of going about getting it isn't exactly true blue, honor bright, or sparkly-eyed.

A government that demands honesty in business has to be honest, forthright, and direct, itself. Let's get rid of the ceiling—all the way—not by sleight of hand, but by an act of Congress. What the last Congress wouldn't do for a Republican President, it probably will do for a Democrat.

If the Democrats dodge the issue in Congress, the least the Republicans can do is bring it up. It's good politics and good ethics.

Who's To Blame For Cuba?

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Joint Chiefs of Staff, the nation's top military planners, have been blasted since the Cuban invasion disaster.

This writer has been told reliably that President Kennedy is burned up at them and also at Allen Dulles, head of the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA).

It will be no surprise if he removes Dulles and shakes up the chiefs. But there is reluctance in the Defense Department from the top down to see the chiefs get clobbered—for this reason:

Defense Secretary Robert McNamara himself approved the decision to let the invasion be made.

What follows is the story of what happened, made timely once more because of what occurred over the weekend after Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs, testified before a Senate committee behind closed doors. Sen. Albert Gore, Tennessee Democrat, said the chiefs had "blundered incredibly" and should be thrown out. A milder reaction came from Sen. Styles Bridges, New Hampshire Republican.

HE SAID IT'S an American habit to look for goats when things go wrong.

Those taking part in the decision on the invasion to overthrow Fidel Castro were Kennedy, McNamara, Lemnitzer, Dulles, and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, with McGeorge Bundy, Kennedy's special assistant on security, sitting in on all sessions.

These men had numerous meetings, went into all phases of the invasion exhaustively, including the possibility of failure. They not only studied yards of maps endlessly but even went into the problem of invading on various beaches.

Generally speaking, the decision to go ahead with the invasion was unanimous among all those mentioned.

THEY MADE this decision knowing only about 1,200 men would be the invading force and that Castro had 35,000 tons of Soviet-bloc equipment and many thousands of men under arms.

Nevertheless, the White House group thought the odds were in favor of the invaders. Why?

They thought only one-third of the Cuban population was loyal to Castro and that the other two-thirds, once the invasion began, would rise up against him.

In retrospect it seems incredible the decision for the invasion was primarily based on the assumption there would be an uprising, an uprising which never took place. The assumption had to be based on information about the Cuban people.

Dulles' CIA, which would be responsible for information on the mood of the Cuban people, says its information was perfect. If it was, in view of the invasion failure, what went wrong?

Various Uses Of Butter

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

In parts of rural China 50-year-old butter is used as a medicine. The older it is the more it costs. In this country buttering up the other fellow is a social, not a medical, art.

Here's another old superstition: It once was believed you could remove warts by secretly rubbing them with a dishrag or a piece of stolen meat.

No wonder we're facing a national water shortage. The average American uses about 3.5 million gallons of aqua pua in his lifetime.

Old playing cards, like rare stamps and coins, are sometimes worth far more than their weight in gold...example: a collector recently snapped up for $2 in a London antique shop a single playing card from two packs designed for the Duke of Milan in 1425.

Powdered Eggs Should Be Cooked Thoroughly

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Why aren't powdered eggs supposed to be cooked on top of the stove?

"My husband has been out of work, and we are getting government surplus to help out.

"The directions for the powdered eggs were to cook them in the oven. It is quite expensive to use the oven just to cook scrambled eggs, and I have been wondering if this is a matter of them not cooking as well on top of the stove, or if it is a health hazard. —Mrs. G.B."

It's a matter of health. Powdered eggs do (or may) contain an organism which can cause severe diarrhea.

To make sure that this organism will be unable to do any such harm, every particle must be heated thoroughly, all the way through, at a temperature which will absolutely do the job.

In my opinion cooking powdered eggs in the oven is the only rule-of-thumb that will assure complete safety.

I'm quite aware that some people ignore the directions and, for instance, mix the powdered eggs with water and fry them on top of the stove.

They may get away with this successfully. But then, I suppose most of our tried and proved health rules can be ignored with impunity—sometimes.

However, none of them can be ignored indefinitely without paying the consequences, so be sure to follow the directions.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My husband has been forced to go to work on a split shift. He comes in about 4 p.m., eats his big main meal, and then lies down and has an hour nap before he goes back to work.

"I feel he should have his nap first and eat afterward. I don't think it is good for him to lie down on a full stomach. Am I right? — Mrs. F. K."

Darned if I know why you object to a nap after a meal. Your husband comes home hungry — and after he has his dinner, he relaxes. That's entirely normal. In fact, it's a good thing to relax after eating, and let the body devote its energies to digestion. There is nothing wrong with relaxing, or napping, after eating. It's helpful.

"Dear Dr. Molner: My wife has had the change of life for over six months, and always feels hot flashes, weakness and other complaints. Does it take that long, or is she just imagining it?—J.R."

Symptoms of the menopause (or change of life) may last a few months or for two years or so—but she ought to see a doctor because there are medicines which will help her over the period.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I've noticed that my past several bowel movements were black in color. I'm quite concerned.—S.J."

Black stool can mean bleeding, relatively high in the intestinal tract—a bleeding stomach or duodenal ulcer, for example. By the time the blood has traveled through the digestive system, it can turn dark and no longer show any red color. True, a few things you eat can cause this dark color occasionally—but not repeatedly, unless you keep eating them regularly and that's rare. Few if any foods that are ordinarily eaten every day will do this. Inform your doctor at once, and let him find out whether the cause is serious, moderate or trivial.

Let Kids Talk For Themselves

One thing and another:

Small kids can carry on a delightful conversation, even though they speak an austere tongue—or perhaps because of it. Their vocabulary is understandably limited but they 'listen good' and they never hesitate to improvise.

Why then do some cartoonists trying to be funny depict them as individuals with very adult and sophisticated tongues who look on grown-ups as dolts?

The small fry may have a low regard for adults but I don't think it is for an inability to express themselves.

SINCE WORLD WAR II, and probably for quite a while before that time, Big Spring has been known as the medical center of West Texas.

It earned the title th hard way, by providing expert medical care and facilities for residents of other communities who couldn't get the same kind of treatment at home.

Is Big Spring being hamstrung by the lack of a central hospital, however?

Those close to the situation will tell you that Big Spring could use a minimum of 20 more doctors if it had the facilities to take care of them. Such facilities may be possible only in a central hospital.

* * *

MOST DOCTORS residing and working here would welcome that many additions to their profession, because practically all of them have more patients than they can handle and are being over-worked.

Among other specialists, Big Spring could use a pathologist, a neurologist and a psychiatrist.

How much business comes from out of town to confer and be treated by local physicians? A doctor at one of the local hospitals says upwards to 60 per cent of the patients at the institution where he is employed registers from cities other than Big Spring—and an overwhelming amount of that group from Midland, Odessa and points west.

Self Indulging Politicos

WASHINGTON — No American ever looked more deeply and more passionately into the human heart (and, in this instance, into political motivations) than novelist Thomas Wolfe. I have found in the superlative biography by his literary agent, Elizabeth Nowell, a passage where Wolfe, after years of grinding poverty and frustration, finds success and is able to send money to his family in Asheville, N. C., at a time when the community was laid low by the depression. Wolfe wrote to a friend:

"I CAN'T TELL you how good I feel about it. I've got the goods now on all those Big-hearted Boys who do unto others—they're a set of lascivious, self-seeking sensualists; it's really a gratification that we must be careful of."

Nowhere else, I think, has it been so frankly, so unguardedly, confessed that there is a physical pleasure, an indulgence of the fleshly appetites, in performing an act of generosity. The good feeling which comes from being able to bestow a gift or favor upon our loved ones is normal and wholesome. Although no theologian, I venture to say that the glow of pleasure, familiar to us all, is God's way of saying "well done" to us.

BUT PHONY indulgence, and overindulgence, comes to something else. It is the induced or vicarious "gratification" of the lascivious feelings and sensual thrills which Wolfe warns "we must be careful of."

In all the years I have written about politicians, local and national, I haven't found a better divining rod for worth and sincerity than the one Wolfe proffers. There are politicians, of whom Sen. Harry Byrd will provide a current example, who, with honest satisfaction, gives his state and nation the advantages of his experience and wisdom—gifts which are peculiarly his own to bestow.

EARLIER THIS month Byrd made such a bestowal in the form of a warning. He perceived, as I think nobody else did, that Attorney General Robert Kennedy's entrance into the Prince Edward County (Va.) school case would be a dangerous and illiberal venture. Kennedy has asked the Federal Court for a writ to punish the whole state unless the one county ceases to resist school integration. Kennedy wants the federal government to restrain Virginia from ". . . approving, paying or issuing . . . funds for . . . public schools anywhere in Virginia for so long . . . as the publix schools of Prince Edward County are closed . . ."

RACIAL MATTERS are involved here, but they took Byrd to a discussion on the Senate floor of the whole involved matter of federal intervention in the states for whatever reason. It is difficult for a politician to oppose the federal government, bringing money or "rights." Many so-called "conservatives" favor federal intervention when it profits their states and fight it when it does otherwise.

But Byrd's high, unshaken standards down through the decades have consistently protected the liberties and property values of his people—a cumulative gift of incalculable worth.

IN CONTRAST, there are politicians who pleasure their flaccid senses by giving away money and rights which cost the donors nothing—not even the effort of rational thought. Since 1933, we have financed a stream of giveaway, domestic as well as foreign, enjoyed, I daresay, by the givers far more than the getters.

But, in recent years, this indulgence has moved into a special area—the giving of "rights" to supposedly grateful people. A flagrant example at this Congressional session is the proferring of a civil rights package by Sen. Clark (D-Pa) and Rep. Cellar (D-NY).

THE PACKAGE deprives Clark and Cellar of nothing. It causes convulsions in states far from their own. It illustrates just what Wolfe had in mind when he pegged "these Big-hearted Boys . . . a set of lascivious, self-seeking sensualists."

Wolfe was writing for the ages.

Equality At Cocktail Parties

WASHINGTON — An agitation started by spokesmen for the Kennedy administration is stirring up quite a controversy not only over the admission of Negroes to private clubs but their inclusion at cocktail parties and dinners in private homes.

The idea of "token" participation seems to have been rejected as unsatisfactory by many advocates of "integration," the argument being that to select a few is a kind of hypocrisy and that full participation on the basis of the proportion to population is much more equitable.

ABOUT 54 PER cent of the population of the national capital is Negro, so it is being argued that there must be "equality" and that a failure to provide an equal number of Negroes at cocktail parties and at official as well as private dinners is a form of "discrimination."

Two members of the Kennedy Cabinet have spoken out on the subject of admission of Negroes to private clubs, but there has been no indication from them as to the quantitative formula to be used in determining how many should be admitted.

THE PUBLIC discussion was started by Attorney General Robert Kennedy and Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg. Mr. Kennedy in a television interview spoke of private clubs here that do not admit Negroes, and added:

"And, as I say, if we're goint ot practice what we preach we're going to have to take steps forward in all sections of the United States."

Secretary Goldberg, in a public address recently in New York, said:

"I FIND IT difficult to understand why, in the houses I have frequented socially, the dinner parties, the cocktail parties, I have rarely seen Negroes as guests. This is particularly marked among intellectuals and liberals in our large cities, particularly in New York City and Chicago. Are there no Negro writers, composers, artists, academicians with whom one can break bread, with whom one can engage in intellectual discourse?"

THERE ARE, of course, many of us, irrespective of race or creed or color, who are never able to engage in "intellectual discourse" anyway, but, assuming that there are a fortunate few who can do so, the question arises as to what the administration here has to do with it. The Supreme Court of the United States in recent decisions has upheld "freedom of association" for individuals, but this was in a case involving alleged Communists, rather than non-Communist, so perhaps it doesn't apply to everybody.

Maybe the first thing to do is to get the facts. If there be inside the Kennedy administration many officials who are capable of engaging in "intellectual discourse," then indeed it might be asked whether lately they have been inviting any Negro couples to their cocktail parties and dinners.

MANY OFFICIAL functions have been held in Washington recently at which no Negroes were present. In political-campaign years, there are some, of course. Political dinners by the Republicans have for decades included some of the Negro politicians and their wives. Only in more recent times have the Democrats in the North done the same. But, as far as is known, the Kennedy administration has not invited any quotas of Negroes for cocktail parties or dinners, though it could be that no functions have been held as yet at which "Negro writers, conposers, artists, academicians" could find anyone with whom they could engage in "intellectual discourse."

WHAT'S NEEDED around Washington, to be sure, are some standards and formulas to take care of the weighty problem of the invitation lists for dinners and cocktail parties — there doesn't seem to be enough worries to go around besides Laos and Cuba.

2 Candidates Beat Bushes In Last Week

By The Associated Press

Republican John G. Tower and Democrat William A. Blakley were beating the bushes for votes in South and East Texas Monday in the last week of the U.S. senatorial campaign.

Tower will be joined in San Antonio by the Republican National chairman, Thruston Morton, for a dollar-a-plate barbecue. The GOP candidate will go from San Antonio into East Texas.

Morton is a senator from Kentucky.

Bexar County GOP Chairman John Goode Jr. said at least 1,500 persons are expected to attend.

Blakley opens the final week of the campaign in Lufkin. Then he will fly to Bryan, Galveston, LaMarque, Texas City and Houston. He plans to be in the Beaumont-Orange area Wednesday, in the Amarillo-Lubbock region Thursday and in Dallas for a statewide television appearance Friday night.

TO DECIDE

Texas voters will decide next Saturday whether Blakley, the interim senator from Dallas, or Tower, the former Wichita Falls professor, will get the seat vacated by Vice President Lyndon Johnson.

At El Campo, in South Texas, Democratic Congressman Jim Wright and former GOP State Chairman Thad Hutcheson staged a hot debate in 95-degree weather before 5,000 visitors at the annual splash day celebration.

Sponsors said they believed it was the first time in many years that a public Republican-Democratic debate was held in Texas.

Hutcheson traced Republican politics in Texas and said "We are losing a few, winning a few. But we are going to keep running and win a lot more."

The former state GOP chairman referred to Sen. Blakley as "that millionaire of Dallas who took time off from the Senate to sell $13½ million of Braniff stock."

EXPERIENCE

"Texans are not electing a corporation executive. We are electing a man with experience in politics," Hutcheon said.

Wright, who ran third for the Senate post in the April election, replied to Hutcheson that Tower "has not had one single day of experience in public office or public responsibility."

"The U.S. Senate is not a place to send a man to learn the intricacies of government," Wright said.

Referring to Tower, Wright said: "This is the same man who was beaten 3-1 when he ran for state representative in 1956 at Wichita Falls, a man who was defeated by his own neighbors, people who know him best."

Wright said that Texans should consider their choice for senator on the basis of qualification, party represented by the candidate, and which man can best serve the interest of all Texans.

"No one measures up in this race to Sen. Bill Blakley," Wright said.

STAYED OUT

Hutcheson said Vice President Johnson deliberately stayed out of Texas during the campaign "because he sees what is going to happen Saturday."

Meanwhile, State Sen. Henry B. Gonzalez, another loser in the April election, planned to stump South Texas for Blakley. Sen. Gonzalez will address rallys in Refugio, Sinton, Freeport and Brownsville. He also will deliver a television speech Monday night in his home city of San Antonio.

The San Antonio Express and News endorsed Blakley in an editorial with the comment that "too seldom does the public have a man of this caliber offer himself for public service."

The newspaper supported Atty. Gen. Will Wilson in the April special election.

The editorial said of Blakley:

"He insists he is a free man representing a free people.

"His directness convinces that he is, indeed, such a man."

"He is not isolationist and neither is he a soft-headed global do-gooder who thinks a credit card will solve all the problems."

Battle Of The Hemp Bales

From just beyond the Union lines, Confederate troops can be seen in the distance advancing behind the protection of bales of hay during the reenactment of the Battle of Lexington during the Civil War. One hundred years ago Confederate soldiers captured Lexington, Mo., using an innovation in warfare — use of huge bales of hemp to advance.

K-K Talks May Result In Bad News Over Cold War Issues

Editor's Note — What is likely to come from the talks between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev? How will the two men hit it off personally? Is there any prospect for easing of the cold war deadlock? John M. Hightower, who has helped cover all the summit conferences since the end of World War II, probes for the answers in the following interpretive story.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Vienna meeting between President Kennedy and Soviet Premier Khrushchev two weeks from Saturday may very well be followed by bad news rather than good on major cold war issues due for discussion.

On personal relations the news from Vienna, judged in terms of cooling tempers, may turn out to be good.

The prospects for the dramatic confrontation of leaders of the world's two most powerful nations will be surveyed here next week in top-level discussions expected to give final shape to Kennedy's plans for the conference. Secretary of State Dean Rusk flew from Geneva to Washington Saturday and will participate.

But the assessments and policy decision must be based on the hard realities of U.S.-Soviet relationships. These realities, coming into focus at the Vienna meeting, strongly indicate the following results:

1. The deadlock between the United States and Britain on one hand and the Soviet Union on the other over how to set up a nuclear weapons test ban inspection system will almost certainly continue. Hence, Kennedy will probably be faced after Vienna with a need to decide whether to resume tests this summer. Present indications are that he will end the moratorium. In the world at large this would be considered bad news and a blow to disarmament hopes.

2. The once-canceled invitation for a U.S. president to visit the Soviet Union will probably be revived by Khrushchev. Pending a development of detailed plans, Kennedy likely would give tentative acceptance. In most of the world this evidence of easier personal relations at the top level of East-West diplomacy would be acclaimed as good news.

3. In the view of some of the best informed experts here, the real and positive achievements of the Vienna conference may lie in treating as "normal" an informal private talk between the U.S. and Soviet leaders and in opening the way for future such discussions.

Connected with this idea is that in face-to-face discussion Kennedy and Khrushchev may be able to get across to each other impressions about their personal intentions which could not be convincingly communicated in any other way.

Despite deadlocks on certain issues of policy, officials here believe Khrushchev does want to maintain reasonably good relations with the United States where possible.

Hence it is considered entirely logical that while being tough on policy problems Khrushchev might extend an invitation to Kennedy to visit the Soviet Union.

Career Was Born In Martial Law

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Gov. John M. Patterson's political career was born in martial law.

Seven years later, racial violence led him to call on National Guardsmen to help federal and local civilian officers maintain order in the capital of his state.

It was the pistol slaying of his father, a school teacher turned lawyer, that launched the slightly balding ex-artillery officer on the road to the governor's chair.

Patterson and his father, Albert, were law partners in Phenix City when the elderly attorney was shot down in 1954. Albert Patterson had just won the Democratic nomination for state attorney general on a promise to clean up the vice dens which had made Phenix City a wide-open gambling town.

That slaying led then-Gov. Gordon Persons to proclaim limited martial law in Phenix City, with National Guardsmen taking over city and county law enforcement.

Young Patterson succeeded his father as the Democratic nominee and was elected attorney general on the same vice cleanup platform.

Three years ago he ran for governor, led 13 opponents in the first primary, and won by a wide margin in the runoff.

At 37, he was the youngest man ever elected governor of Alabama. As governor he has continued a vigorous assault against organized crime.

Just a few weeks ago he accompanied state and county officers on a midnight raid on a gambling house near Birmingham.

Though often at odds with the federal government on civil rights and other issues, Patterson was an early supporter of President John F. Kennedy.

Married 13 years and with two children, Patterson is tight-lipped about his future political plans.

Only last month he said emphatically that he doesn't plan to run for congress.

"I just don't want to run every two years," he said.

Alabama governors cannot succeed themselves. But what about the 1966 race?

"When you do a good job," he said recently, "the people will know it, and they might reward you again some day."

Spence Returns From Austin Work

E. V. Spence, general manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, has returned from Austin where he joined in working on water legislation.

While there, he also checked on the USGS topographical designations for the year with the view of getting alterations or additions to include work in this area. He will leave Tuesday for Denver, Colo., to meet with USGS regional authorities relative to the mapping program. Part of the mapping given priority in this area by the state mapping advisory board is needed in the studies of the CRMWD in its long-range water supply program.

In Austin, Spence aided others in a successful fight to have an amendment stricken from a bill already passed. The amendment would have required all water districts and similar agencies to bear all expense or replacement cost of utilities, roads and railroads displaced by development projects.

War Dog Dies

Grizzled, battle-scarred Sarge, regarded as the last surviving dog veteran of World War II, died in Hollywood in the arms of his widowed mistress, Mrs. Jeanne Platt, with whom he is pictured. The dog spent 3½ years with the Marines in the South Pacific and returned with wounds in his head, nose and tail.

Scott Claims JFK 'Toying' With Press

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP)— Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., says the Democratic Kennedy administration is "toying with the public's right to know" and giving favored treatment to certain Washington correspondents.

Scott made the charges Sunday night before the Pennsylvania Association of Broadcasters, which filed a formal complaint about the White House press policies.

In Washington, Pierre Salinger, presidential press secretary, asserted that Scott's charges were "totally inaccurate."

Scott said the Kennedy administration was engaging in "the planned release of 'managed news'—news spooned out to whom the White House wants to receive it and in the form that best suits the needs of this administration."

The senator said he had been told that at a private dinner at Palm Beach May 13, Salinger confided "to a few favorite correspondents" that Kennedy would meet with Soviet Premier Khrushchev.

"The lucky correspondents used the story of Sunday (the next day) and for the next several days all other correspondents tried desperately to put the pieces together," said Scott.

"The only official statement statement from Mr. Salinger was that 'There are no plans for any such meeting at present,'" Scott added.

Salinger asserted that Scott's "general and specific accusations are totally inaccurate as he could find out by talking to any reputable Washington reporter."

Informed of Salinger's report, Scott said:

"I talked to one of the reputable Washington reporters referred to. I stand on my statement and Mr. Salinger's reply does not state the situation according to my information which I am satisfied is entirely reliable."

Body Of Buried Farmer Found

NAMPA, Idaho (AP)—Rescuers said it would take many more hours today to remove the body of a farmer buried five days ago at the 160-foot level of a 220-foot deep irrigation well near this southwestern Idaho community.

The body of Herbert A. Tiegs, 55, was found Sunday night after workers had dug through 18 feet of rock, sand and debris. Tiegs was buried in a cave-in last Wednesday as he was plastering the inside of the well.

Workmen had to remove sand from the well by hand after two attempts to blow it out with compressed air failed. They were forced to use a bent shovel and a gallon can in the two-foot wide hole.

TEWKSBURY, Mass. (AP) — Arthur Moran not only flew like a bird but alighted like one. He brought his light plane down on a treetop near Tewksbury Airport Sunday, slid down the trunk and departed unscathed. The plane remained in its precarious berth.

ON THE LANES

By Harold Fischer

Many women tend to roll a "slow" ball. They will also often use a ball of lighter weight than most men use. Both factors have a tendency to cut down on the number of strikes.

That doesn't mean women don't get their share of strikes and very respectable scores. The main thing is to learn how to control that "slow" curve.

Allow for that curve, if you throw one, by starting a few boards to the left, letting the ball roll "out and in," curving into the strike pocket.

More and more women every day are discovering the fun of bowling, on their own or in women's leagues. Mornings and afternoons are good times for the housewives, when our lanes aren't as busy. Why don't you make it a date? Come in and bowl!

Wedded Life Hasn't Changed Durante Much

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie - TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Has marriage changed Jimmy Durante?

No, I'm happy to report. He is still the same suave, lovable, gregarious self.

"I ain't changed none," he commented over breakfast. "I still do the same t'ings I useta. The only difference now is I got me two houses. Two houses! I must be outa my mind!"

When Jimmy married his longtime girlfriend Marge Little last December, he had a house and she had a house. Hers was a spanking modern up in the hills, his was a tile-roof traditional in the heart of Beverly Hills. They still have them: his and hers, each with a swimming pool.

"It's the only t'ing we argue about," Jimmy lamented. "She don't wanna move outa her place. I can't move all my junk up dere. What am I goin' to do with all the plaques, all the photographs I got? I got no place to put 'em."

So far it's a standoff. Every morning, Jimmy leaves the hilltop home for the 10-minute drive to the Beverly Drive house. The maid serves him breakfast and he conducts business from the house. After a day of appointments and rehearsals, he returns to the home on the hill.

"Sometimes I come down here for a shower," Jimmy related. "That makes Marge mad. "Why can't you take one here?' she sez. I happen to like the shower in this house. I'm useta it."

Jimmy was in town briefly before leaving for a date at Harrah's Lake Tahoe. He has been traveling during most of his marriage thus far. He was on a night club tour and went to Italy for a cameo role in an Italian film, "The Last Judgment."

Diane Varsi Weds Again

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Diane Varsi, 23, who turned her back on Hollywood after gaining stardom in her teens, was on a secret wedding trip today with her third husband, a member of a wealthy New York manufacturing family.

Miss Varsi, who won an Oscar nomination for her work in the 1957 film "Peyton Place," married Michael Paul Hausman, 26, of Sausalito, Calif., at the Swedenborgian church here Sunday. Only 20 relatives and friends were allowed in the church. Newsmen were barred.

Hausman is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hausman of Great Neck, Long Island. He is an artist and also works for a San Francisco stock brokerage firm.

Miss Varsi went to Bennington, Vt., with her son by a previous marriage, Shawn Michael, now 5, after leaving Hollywood.

Lady In Distress?

Nope. Pert Mary Erwin of Texas City is merely displaying the colorful flags that are usually flying on the Texas City dike. The bright blue flag means plenty of live bait available while the white flag means that bait camp owners have fresh dead bait. The summer fishing season on the dike, world's longest man-made fishing pier, is now in full swing and the colorful bait flags along with many a cute angler like Mary are in abundance.

Now, TV's Spittin' Image Swallows The Tooth Paste

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—From time to time, there comes a murmur from TV viewers irked by having their living room screens frequently filled by pictures of men, women and children in various stages of undress engaging in vital performances usually conducted in privacy.

It is routine TV to see people taking baths, shaving, gargling, setting their hair and applying various ointments.

We sometimes express our distaste for those functional commercials showing hammers pounding inside heads, sinuses draining, acid dripping in the stomach and corns dropping off.

But spitting is one activity that is too indelicate for demonstration purposes in television.

In a current toothpaste commercial now on network TV, we are shown in great detail the usual pretty girl brushing her teeth. She picks up the brush, squirts out the paste, and starts to brush. And then—she swallows the toothpaste.

Sunday night, at the end of a "Candid Camera" sequence, in which a practical joke had been played on an elderly woman, she was asked rather coyly if she watched "Candid Camera."

"No," she said, making a face showing her distaste. "I don't like it. I watch the Loretta Young Show."

Allen Funt is a brave man for leaving the sequence in.

Television's rare bird, even after all these years of suffrage, remains the woman news commentator, particularly in network broadcasting. NBC's Pauline Frederick, whose specialty is the United Nations, remains dean of the women broadcasters and, far and away, tops in the field.

CBS last summer gave its Nancy Hanschman the unprecedented (for a female) title of correspondent, and occasionally allows her to cover a non-woman's angle story.

Now ABC has also added a full-time woman reporter-talker to its staff. She is Lisa Howard, a former actress.

Norman Brokenshire, whose creamy-fudge voice will be remembered by older members of the public, is back in broadcasting after an absence of some years. He's doing commercials on radio station WMMM in Westport, Conn.

Recommended tonight: "Pete and Gladys," CBS, 8-8:30 (EDT) —a situation comedy in the classic husband-wife mold, but often made most amusing by good performers Harry Morgan and Cara Williams.

No Censorship 'Imperative' Now

DALLAS (AP) — The president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors says "it is the consensus of the organized newspaper groups and wire services that no censorship of any kind is imperative at the moment."

Felix R. McKnight, executive editor of the Dallas Times Herald, made this report to about 100 newspapermen at the spring meeting of the Texas Associated Press Managing Editors Association Sunday.

McKnight, newly elected president of the ASNE, and a group of other leading newspaper executives recently discussed with President Kennedy comments the President had made about publication of what he considered might be classified information.

"Kennedy challenged the American press with the responsibility of protecting the national security. The American press has accepted this challenge and will perform in the best interests of the country," McKnight said.

Then he stated that no censorship of any kind was imperative at the moment and added:

"If and when the times comes for restrictions on the life of the American people, the press will be the first to assume full responsibility. The framework for voluntary censorship of news that worked so superbly in World War II could be instantly reactivated if the President and the Congress declare a national emergency."

Thomas Thompson, editor of the Amarillo Globe-Times, described how his paper became the first one in Texas to win the Pulitzer Prize.

The prize for community service resulted from the newspaper's investigation into corruption in Randall County.

Thompson said the investigation started after one James Chandonnett called and asked Thompson to meet him in a bar.

"He had information that sort of shook us....he came to us in fear—he wanted to trade information for protection—protection from Roy Joe Stevens, former Randall County judge," Thompson continued.

Don Boyette, Amarillo Globe-Times and News managing editor, helped Thompson provide background information on the campaign to expose corruption in the Panhandle area.

The newspaper investigation and expose resulted in Stevens disbarment, the jailing of two gamblers and a life term for a cohort who murdered his wife.

Thompson's suggestions for legislative reforms to prevent further corruption of county officials included: A law to laws permitting district courts to form special grand juries and prescribe their areas of inquiry and another law providing that personal misconduct shall be cause for removal from office of district and county offices.

The editor of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, John Ellis, presided at the luncheon meeting.

Dave Cheavens, head of The Associated Press bureau in Austin, discussed tax and loan shark legislation now before the Texas Legislature.

Played Up

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Racial violence in Alabama was played up throughout Sunday on newscasts of the South African Broadcasting Corp. This radio is controlled by South Africa's white supremacy government.

Flexing Muscle

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—An estimated 5,000 militia and army reservists began reporting today to help crush antigovernment and antisegregation demonstrations South Africa's nonwhite majority has announced will begin next Monday.
