Dry Referendum Votes Pass Million Mark

DRYS HOLD LEAD IN LUBBOCK BUT COUNTRY IS WET

TOTAL OF 1,18,048 IS HUNG UP IN POLL ON THE LIQUOR QUESTION

Proponents of the prohibition law of America continue to hold their lead taken in early voting in Lubbock as ballots which had been placed in the mail Saturday continued to come into the Daily Journal office Monday, and the count at noon Monday stood 158 for prohibition, eight for repeal, and 78 for modification of the statute to permit sale of light wine and beer. Reports from balloting over the nation also showed that the dry element is gaining slowly as related votes come in, and the percentage of dries to the other two has grown from 15, shown in Saturday night's report, to 19 per cent Monday. Out of a total of 118,048, however, only 198,233 favored preservation and enforcement of the present law.

Others Remain Steady. Those seeking repeal and those wanting modification continued to retain about the percentage, with modification proponents holding the lead by a considerable majority, leading to the belief that sentiment does not at return of the open saloon. Voters for repeal of the amendment totalled 325,274, and those seeking modification stood at 487,041. The state of Colorado showed the greatest gain, 30 per cent, in the change of Saturday night's poll, modification voters jumped into the lead in Monday's tabulation, while the wets remained about the same. South Carolina dries continued to hold about the same percentage majority over both opponents.

Texas Report. In Texas, the dry element registered approximately half the number polled by the other two, with 10,144, while those seeking repeal of the statute totaled 6,801 and those for modification polled 14,846 votes. The nationwide referendum is being carried on by over 700 daily papers over the United States through NEA feature service, and, although some opposition has been voiced to this manner of balloting with the charge that

Supreme Court Fails To Pass On Question

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15. (AP)—The supreme court today refused to pass upon a case involving the question whether a verdict returned by a jury from which women had been excluded was valid. The case came up from the Southern District of Ohio. Edward Wickett contended that legal proceedings against him were illegal because the names of women were excluded in the drawing of both the grand jury and the trial jury. The lower courts overruled his plea.

Best Store Wrecked By Fire Early Today

SAN ANGELO, Mar. 15. (AP)—The J. O. Hightower merchandise store and stock at Best, Texas, was a complete loss by fire, which early Monday morning started from a defective fuse, which fell across a bed in a room in the building, losses are placed at an excess of $20,000. Glenn Hightower sustained burns about the face and head when he went back into his room to recover receipts from two days' business. The building, dry as tinder, went up in a flash.

Search for Negro Who Assaults Girl

SAPULPA, Okla., Mar. 15. (AP)—Creek county authorities today were bending every effort to locate a negro who last night knocked Clarence Blankenship, 19, unconscious and assaulted his 16-year-old girl companion in an unfrequented lane in the edge of the city. The boy and girl were walking on an outlying street about midnight when the negro, jumping from behind an obstruction, struck Blankenship over the head and dragged the girl into some bushes. A man who passed by found the boy on the sidewalk and called the sheriff. Neither Blankenship nor the girl were seriously injured.

Spanish Flyers to Try New Route to Manila

Three Spanish flyers are preparing to try a new overland route to the Philippines. The aviators are, left to right, Capt. Eduardo Gonzalez, Capt. Rafael Martinez Esteve, and Capt. Don Joaquin Loriga. Their route, as shown by the map, runs from Madrid through Tripoli and Cairo, across Arabia and down the Persian Gulf to Karachi, on to Calcutta and thence in a nearly direct line to Manila.

MAY TRY HAYES FOR TESTIMONY

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15. (AP)—A demand that the Justice Department prosecute for perjury George E. Hayes of New York, the "surprise witness" for the government in the Montana trial of Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Montana, was made today by Senator Walsh, Democrat, Montana. As a spur to the department, he introduced a resolution directing the Attorney General to advise the senate whether it is the purpose to submit Hayes' testimony to a grand jury with a view to obtaining an indictment against him. Declaring that the story of the prosecution of Senator Wheeler "makes a black chapter in the history of American jurisprudence," Senator Walsh said it was of "transcendent importance that the attempt through perjured testimony to silence a member of this body and overwhelm him in ignominy should not pass unnoticed."

Walsh Raps Testimony

Reviewing events at the trial in Montana last year at which Senator Wheeler who was acquitted of the charge of accepting money for prosecuting the oil lease cases of Gordon Campbell, of Montana. The story was that Wheeler had conferred with him in New York and offered to split the fee with him for prosecuting the oil lease cases of Gordon Campbell, of Montana. Recalling that Senator Wheeler himself denied the charge on the stand, Senator Walsh presented an affidavit refutation of an affidavit from Mrs. Wheeler, who asserts that she was with her husband in New York throughout the day Hayes mentioned and that he did not see Hayes. Launching into an attempt of the "surprise" witness himself, the Montana senator said proceedings of disbarment were pending against him before the courts of the state in New York as well as before the Treasury Department.

He also asserted that Hayes had

Doheny Asks Review Of Court Decisions

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15. (AP)—Edward L. Doheny asked the Supreme Court to review the decisions of the lower federal courts cancelling his lease for oil from the Elk Hill naval reservations in California and contracts for the erection of storage tanks at Pearl Harbor.

Eight Bandits In Alabama Get Loot As Town Captured

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Mar. 15.—After tying up six men and holding the town for more than four hours, eight bandits blew open the safe of the bank of Hartselle (Alabama), forty miles from here early today and escaped with between $15,000 and $20,000. The band descended upon the town shortly after midnight and after binding and gagging every man in sight, leisurely proceeded to open the safe. Nitro-glycerine and picks were used in getting into the bank itself. Citizens aroused by explosions attempted to advance on the robbers but were held at bay when the men fired upon them, injuring Dr. J. S. Johnson, dentist.

Flashes Of Life

ST. NAZAIRE—The newest French ship, which will be used in the American passenger trade, has been christened without wine, but presumably Americans may quench their thirst aboard in any manner desired.

HAGERSTOWN, Md.—For talking continually during services at the Church of God, Jesse W. Weaver, Jr., has been fined $14. Other members of the congregation who before proceeding prayed for him in vain, paid the fine.

NEW YORK—All the prohibition agents of the United States could not make Brooklyn dry, in the opinion of the Rev. Ernest F. Johnson. The Reverend John Calahan, chaplain of the Tomb, thinks prohibition is a modern miracle and "old king alcohol isn't dead; he's like the Kaiser; he has abdicated and wants to get his throne back."

WEST PALM BEACH—About the worst thing in shivery Florida at the beginning of the last week of winter was Dr. Stratton's sermon denouncing society for "degrading" Palm Beach, especially booming a "dirty girl show" for charity.

SAN FRANCISCO—The West has considerable material for argument as to where the real sun-kissed shore is. As wintery started its lap, it was 61 at the Riviera, about the same at Miami, lower at Palm Beach 70 in Seattle and 86 in Los Angeles, while New York was below freezing.

PRISONER HERE MAKES ESCAPE

Jack Britt, arrested on charge of adultery, jumps from Courthouse window. Jack Britt, about 27 years of age, made his escape from Lubbock county officers here shortly after noon today when he jumped from a window in the Sheriff's office following his arrest on a charge of adultery and had not been apprehended three hours later despite the fact that officers took up the trail immediately.

The prisoner jumped from the window when left by himself while officers were in a conference in an adjoining room in connection with papers in his case, and had made his way to Main street north of the courthouse before he was missed. He took to an alley near Moore Bros., making his way hastily northward on foot, and as far as could be learned by officers caught a freight train that was leaving the city for the north.

Deputy Sheriff Vernice Ford gave chase to the prisoner in a car after phoning to city police headquarters for assistance, and later gave chase to the freight train in an effort to apprehend the man. Police Chief T. E. May and Motor Patrolman Paul Hardy and 1st Ambrose joined the chase at the City Hall.

Britt sought cover in an out-house of a residence just north of the Lubbock Auto Company, but was rocked from here by the owner of the place, then made his way toward the railroad tracks, where, according to a brakeman on the switch engine, he caught the outgoing freight.

Deputy Ford, who followed the freight in an automobile, had not returned here at 3:30 p. m. A small army of citizens, driven by curiosity on account of the action of the escaping man for they of course did not know the conditions, took up the chase as Britt left the square, and by the time the party reached the city, it had grown to such an extent that the street was almost blocked.

House Passes Radio Control Legislation

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15. (AP)—The White Bill to control all phases of radio was passed today by the house by a vote of 213 to 124. It now goes to the senate. The measure would create federal radio committee to work with Secretary Hoover. An amendment by Representative Blanton, democrat, Texas, to make slander and libel by radio punishable either where the utterance is made or in any state in which it is heard was defeated, 237 to 27, although it had been agreed to Saturday by a standing vote. BERLIN—A committee which is starting a motion picture to be the firststag for local option, says Germany is spending more on alcohol annually than the Dawes plan payments.

93 OTHERS INJURED WHEN COSTA RICA PASSENGER, CARRYING HOST OF EXCURSIONISTS, IS DITCHED

DEATH TOLL MAY MOUNT GREATER WHEN REPORTS ARE FINALLY MADE UP; SPECIAL TRAIN OF RESCUE WORKERS LEAVE FOR SCENE

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Mar. 15.—Two hundred and forty-eight persons were killed and ninety-three injured in Sunday's disastrous train wreck on the Costa Rican railroad. It has thus far been established. Three cars were derailed, one fell to the bottom of the Varilla river from the bridge over the stream, and two others were left hanging from a 100 foot precipice.

Story Of Magic Water

NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—The story of a "magic water" from a New York farm, where the young livestock were mostly males, was told today in the New York World. The story, kept secret for 23 years, might not have been told had not a corroborating anecdote from the German court doctor of that day been brought by a woman farmer with the former Russian imperial family to Edward Hatch, original owner of the "magic water," inducing him to divulge his secret.

Water Came From Farm

The water came from Mr. Hatch's farm near Brewster, N. Y. Mr. Hatch for years was an executive of the firm of Lord and Taylor, New York merchants. In 1902 the New York Sun published an account of a death of female animals on the Hatch farm. It said 85 percent of all the animals born there were males. Bull calves were born with such regularity, Mr. Hatch had to sell blooded stock at low prices. Thirty ewes bore 26 rams in a season. The chicks were all roosters. The house cat had seven kittens, and six were tom cats. Even the corn was male corn. A hired hand and his wife, who had just married when they came to the farm, had five sons in seven years.

Mysterious Stranger Appears

Soon after this story was published, a stranger, who moved to be the Russian consul, called on Mr. Hatch and asked him to explain the situation on the farm. Mr. Hatch said it might be the water, which contained much phosphate and magnesium. The consul would like to have some of the water. What for? He shrugged his shoulders.

A few days later he appeared with uniform attendants and a thirty gallon cask. The consul insisted on pumping the water himself. He sealed the bung of the cask and covered it with wax. Again Mr. Hatch asked why the consul wanted the water. "Oh, just an experiment," was the answer. In 1904 a male heir was born to the Russian throne. The four previous children of the Czarina were girls. On reading the news, Mr. Hatch called on the Russian consul. His questions were evaded.

Freight Conductor Killed At Snyder

NEAL Maloney, Santa Fe freight conductor of Station, was killed Sunday night shortly past midnight at Snyder when in some manner he fell from the caboose of his train, and was ground to death, the Daily Journal was advised Monday by Division officials of the Santa Fe at Station. According to details of the accident given by a brakeman on the train the last time Mr. Maloney was seen alive he was on top of the caboose signaling to the engineer. The brakeman said he felt the caboose hit something, and on looking back could see that it was a man, and upon stopping the train and investigating found the conductor.

Boy Kills Self For Hatred Over School

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Okla., Mar. 15. (AP)—Rather than go to school, Don Kodasett, 14, shot himself 15 days ago as he has loaded with his classmates' hatred him at his father's farm house at Sedan, 10 miles from here. The boy often had objected to school. When the bus drove up today to take him to his studies, the father ordered him to make haste. Instead the boy went into an adjoining room, seized a shotgun and ran into the front yard. There, in sight of the other children, he fired on charge of heavy shot into his body. Death was almost instantaneous.

NEWS and COMEDY

NEW YORK - Miss Viola Centry, cashier in a restaurant, has piloted a plane beneath the Brooklyn and Manhattan bridges, 125 and 150 feet, respectively, above the water line.

White said he was on his way to work Saturday morning when he approached Houston and another man as they were standing on the sidewalk. White said the other man turned his back on him as he approached and that as he drew opposite the two Houston began shooting.

White said he grappled with Houston, after he had been shot twice and died.

White was captain of the local national guard company, and was the ranking captain of his regiment.

The killing is believed to have grown out of political differences of long standing. Houston was defeated for office in the 1924 elections. For months there was considerable tension in the town, but residents generally believed the old animosities had passed when the shooting came as a distinct shock.

Tells of Shooting. In a statement to officers before he died.

Around The Lot In Major Leagues Training Camps In South And West

(By the Associated Press)
Connie Mack Pleased
 PHILADELPHIA, Mar. 15.—"Everything is more than satisfactory," to Manager Connie Mack of the Athletics. At Fort Myers he believes the team is much further along than it was at this time last year.

George Harper, Phillies' star hold-out, faces possibility of being placed on the ineligible list if he does not report for duty soon. At Bradenton, Commissioner Landis and President Baker of the club have discussed the matter. "Butch" Heffline, another hold-out, may be similarly treated.

Messers And Kelly Sign
 NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—Word comes from Saratoga that Emil Messers and George Kelly have signed contracts with the Giants. Emil, after packing and unpacking a couple of times, is said to have gained an increase in salary.

Jacob Ruppert at Saint Petersburg asserts that his Yankees, despite five defeats during the past week, will land in the first division. "Remember the Braves of 1914 and the Reds of 1919," he says. Jim Elliott, 240 pound pitcher, has been sent to Seattle by the Brooklyn officials at Clearwater, and Manager Robinson says that Sterling Stryker, right hander, for a time with the Boston Braves, will be a regular.

Harris Favors Golf
 WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—Bucky Harris, manager of the Washington Senators, has concluded that so far as he is concerned, a little golf now and then won't hurt a player's batting. Hucky let the game alone for a year but upon reviewing his record of two hits in five exhibition games thus far he resurrected his clubs.

The first of five games this week was on schedule at the Senators' Tampa camp today, the regulars taking on the Cuban stars.

Pirate Rookies Shine
 PITTSBURGH, Pa., Mar. 15.—Hal Rhine and Paul Wapner, California recruits at the Pasa Robles training camp of the Pittsburgh Pirates, displayed some of their ability yesterday when the champions defeated the Pasa Robles all-stars 12 to 6. Rhine, besides making the best fielding play, closed for a three-bagger and two singles. Wapner was credited for one triple.

Rookie Uses Old Style
 CLEVELAND, Ohio, Mar. 15.—For the first time since 1924, when he was pitching for the Cleveland Indians in the Three Eye League, Emil (Dutch) Levesen, Cleveland right hander, is able to use his overhand delivery. Levesen used this style of delivery last Friday against the Cincinnati Nationals in an exhibition game at Orlando. That was the first time since he was incapacitated by injury more than a year ago.

Ten of twelve pitchers on the Cleveland roster are said to be in fine condition.

Reds Are Busy
 CINCINNATI, Ohio, Mar. 15.—A two-hour workout in the morning and an exhibition in the afternoon between veterans and colts was the program mapped out for the Cincinnati Reds today. The complete rest-over Sunday at Orlando, Wednesday the team goes to Tampa for a game with the "Reds" club and on Friday the Cleveland Indians and Reds will play the last game to be played by a big league club this year at Orlando.

Nothing has been heard from Eppa Rixey and Hube Bessner, holdouts.

Gobb Joins The Tigers
 DETROIT, Mich., Mar. 15.—With Terry Heston, Cobb at the Detroit Tigers' Augusta, training camp, the battle for regular places on the squad is scheduled to begin this week. Blue and Taverner are regarded as certain of positions at first and short respectively, but places at second, third in the infield and on the battery staff are more uncertain.

Manager Cobb arrived yesterday from Baltimore, where he submitted to an eye operation.

St. Louis Clubs Ready
 ST. LOUIS, Mar. 15.—After three weeks of spring training, Manager George Sisler is satisfied with his club, despite two defeats by the Brooklyn Dodgers. His reasons are that the players are in good condition, the team spirit is fine and the new men, Malillo, Zachary, Navers and Bojen, are showing up good. The Browns will meet Brooklyn in a third exhibition game today at Tarpon Springs.

The Cardinals showed all-around form in blanking the Houston club yesterday, 12 to 6. Effective hurling, hitting and defense featured in the victory. Willis Sherdel, pitched in mid-season form and another team of Cardinals beat San Antonio 8 to 1.

Weather Against Chicago
 CHICAGO, Mar. 15.—Chicagoans, tired of reading local weather forecasts of snow and all more snow, turned to sporting pages today for the fault of the White Sox-Shreveport baseball opener in the proverbial sunny Southland—and learned that the game had been snowed out.

The snow probably was more of an event than the ball game would have been to Shreveporters, but the weather didn't affect the game. The Sox officials, who expected liberal receipts to help pay for the meat and potatoes the boys have been eating.

All in all, it was a tough day for Chicago fans and the returns from the city of Angels, showed the tribe had been blanked, 2 to 6.

Ehmske Wins Post
 BOSTON, Mar. 15.—Howard Ehmske, one of the Red Sox holdouts in the Sox, is proving somewhat of a disappointment. Yesterday when his team was beaten, 7 to 5, at New Orleans by the Pelicans, he yielded the seven runs in five innings.

High Scorer

In St. Petersburg, a rookie twirler of the Braves is distinguishing himself. Henry Wertz looks better every time he steps into action, and the veterans are predicting he will win a dozen or more games this season.

Billy Evans Says

Adolfo Luque Is An Example of What Jinx Can Do To Good Pitching

In baseball certain pitchers are known as tough-luck twirlers. They don't get the breaks.

The breaks are a large part of a pitcher's success. He must have the smiles of Dame Fortune if he is to perch at the top of the heap.

Adolfo Luque of Cincinnati stands out as the jinx performer of the National League, while Stanley Coveleskie has had his share of woe in the American.

In the spring of 1923 I dropped in on the spring training quarters of the Cincinnati club at Orlando, Fla. The genial Jack Hendricks, manager of the Reds, was the first person I met. We started right in fanning.

"What was the matter with Luque last season?" I asked.

"Tough break,"

Always a great admirer of Luque's pitching cunning, I was surprised at the poor showing he had made during the 1922 campaign.

"Not a thing," replied Hendricks, "if he got the breaks he would have been right at the top of the heap."

"When he pitched my club always seemed to be off its stride. If Luque held the opposition to one or two runs, we usually managed to be shut out. The team seemed to go into a batting or fielding slump just as soon as he was announced to pitch."

In 1923 Luque, despite the fact that he ranked fifth in effectiveness as far as earned runs, was twenty-third in the matter of games won and lost. He managed to win 12 games while he lost 22. He led the league in games lost.

"If Luque just gets the breaks he will have a big season," was Hendricks' parting comment on his pitching possibilities.

REAL PROOF

Luque started to win at the outset of the 1923 race and kept it up all season. He got the breaks. His team always delivered behind his usual excellent pitching.

The close of the season found Luque not only leading in earned run effectiveness with the remarkable average of only 1.93 runs per game, but also the champion twirler in the matter of games won, with 27 victories against eight defeats.

"Luque was a great pitcher last season," was the way I greeted Manager Jack Hendricks in the spring of 1924.

"Not a bit better than he was the previous season when he won only half as many games," was Hendricks' reply. Luque simply got the good breaks that have been so long due him."

The season of 1923 was Luque's best of adversity that has pursued him. That year over, he appears to have dropped back into his old ways.

Luque's pitching record, covering his entire career, is the best example that could possibly be offered as to the value of the breaks.

He got them in 1923 and had his greatest year, was the leading pitcher of the National League.

New Mexico Refiners Criticize Railroads

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Mar. 15. (AP)—Alleging the existence of unjust discrimination by the railroads against New Mexico refiners, the new Mexico Oil Men's Association, in session here today voted unanimously to ask the state corporation for relief.

Bruse Sullivan of the Sullivan Refinery at Dayton, N. M., said that under present freight rates it was impossible for New Mexico refiners to compete with those in Texas. He pointed out that rates between the Texas Panhandle and the Gulf were 22 1/2 cents for the hundred for refined products and 47 cents from New Mexico points.

Fire In Rankin Home Does Slight Damage

Fire which broke out from an oil stove in the left home of A. M. Rankin at the corner of 9th street and Avenue N shortly before noon Monday was extinguished by the Lubbock fire department before much damage was done.

The house is in charge of Willie Thomas, who has it leased from Mr. Rankin who is now living in California, and the flames broke out in the east apartment, which had been sub-let to Mr. Thomas by a Mr. Brooks, who moved here recently. Very little damage was done by the flames, but smoke, which emanated from the oil stove in dense volumes, was considerably damaging to paper and the other small portions of the house.

Hackleman Sells Lamesa Stage Line

LAMESA, TEXAS, Mar. 15.—Clyde Hackleman, who for several years has owned and operated the Red Star Stage line from Lamesa to Big Spring and Lamesa to Lubbock, has recently sold this line and has now installed a service car line from Lamesa to Fort Worth.

Nothing but new cars are operated on this line and each car carries the words, "Fort Worth-Snyder-Lamesa." These cars make the trip in about ten hours.

LELA B. DUBOSE
 The announcement yesterday that Miss Lela B. Dubose, who for the past year has served as Lubbock county's home demonstration agent, had resigned was met with more than the usual regret in such cases. Especially is this fact true among the women of the rural sections, who best know Miss Dubose personally and as a public official.

When Miss Mabel Marsh left the same position and Miss DuBose took over the reins of her office people who understand just how important
 the work of a home demonstration agent is said frankly that but one woman in a hundred could fill the place in the same manner as had Miss Marsh. By the time she had been here a month Miss DuBose had shown even the most skeptical that she was the "woman in a hundred" needed.

As Miss DuBose leaves her office here to return to her studies at the University of Texas she leaves behind her a task well done. To her successor, Miss Hazel Hammer, she leaves a heritage which, though difficult to handle, will be one well worth realizing.

Although her stay in Lubbock county has not been as long as most of us would like to have seen it, Miss DuBose's being here has added greatly to the life of the women in the isolated communities. Her time was not wasted and she leaves Lubbock county better than when she found it.

SAFE FROM AIR ATTACKS?

The chairman of the president's air inquiry board told the house committee the other day that America, thanks to its geographical location, is safe
 from air attack.

It sounds like some of the remarks made when the first submarines were built. "America is safe from such craft," it was declared. But the Germans sent across some of their biggest U-boats.

It is within reason to predict that in ten years airplanes will be flying regularly across the Atlantic. It is only a matter of fuel supply now. Before many years somebody will discover a less bulky fuel than gasoline, and then flying across the Atlantic will be just as simple and safe as flying from Lubbock to Fort Worth.

Perhaps the president's board member meant to say that as now constituted the air services of foreign nations constitute no menace to America. But it would be a foolish man who would assert that such a situation was permanent.

EDUCATION

Another university graduate has taken his pen in hand to tell his alma mater that she "done him wrong." He was taught things that were of no earthly value to him, he moans, and calls for a remaking of the entire system of higher education in this country.

Well, our system of education is subject to improvement. Many things that are stressed should not be taught at all, and some things that are not taught at all should be stressed. But on the whole we have a very good system of education in vogue in this country.

The trouble with the young man who quarrels with his alma mater is that he expected too much. Colleges can't fill empty heads; their sole duty is to polish, not stuff. Educate literally means to lead forth, to bring up. It doesn't mean to begot.

STEWART'S WASHINGTON LETTER

COLONEL OWNBEY IS BACK IN WASHINGTON TO BATTLE HARLAN F. STONE

By CHARLES P. STEWART
 NEA Service Writer.
 WASHINGTON — Having dug up
 some more evidence and a little money
 the redoubtable Colonel James A.
 Ownbey, of Colorado, who tried to keep the Senate from confirming President Coolidge's appointment of Harlan F.
 Stone to the federal supreme bench, is back in Washington again, still very much on the warpath.
 In fact, more so. At any rate, he's more formidable, being better healed financially.
 He expects to increase the size of his war, too. Every additional dollar he gets his hands on will be just that much more ammunition for him. "I'll be a millionaire again before I die," he assured me. The colonel's only fight.

Colonel Ownbey was so sore, when the Senate confirmed Stone, that he declared he was going to quit the United States and renounce his citizenship and spend the rest of his life elsewhere.
 But he soon realized that that wasn't what he really wanted to do. He really wanted to stop here and go on fighting.

He was broke, however, and warfare calls for money. So the colonel pitched in and in a year he cleaned up $15,000 as a mining expert, which isn't so bad for a man of his number of summers.
 The colonel's hostility toward Stone is incidental to his sentiments concerning a litigation in which the present supreme justice's then firm of Satterlee, Canfield & Stone appeared as counsel against him for the estate
 of the late J. P. Morgan Sr.

The YELLOW STUB

BEGIN HERE TODAY
 Henry Rand, 25, a business man,
 is found murdered in a cheap hotel in Grafton. Police find a woman's handkerchief and the stub of a yellow theater ticket.
 Janet Rand, his daughter, breaks
 her engagement with Barry Colvin, because of the "disgrace."
 Jimmy Rand, his son, goes to Cleveland, where the theater is.
 The stub is traced to Olga Maynard, a cabaret singer.
 Jimmy meets and falls in love with Mary Lowell. Later he encounters Olga. She faints at hearing police want her for murder.
 Mary, out with Samuel Church, a wealthy lawyer, sees Jimmy lift
 Olga into a taxi and misunderstands.
 Olga tells police the stub might have come into possession of a man who "picks her up" two nights before the murder. Jimmy receives mysterious warnings to leave Cleveland and later is attacked by two men, but escapes.
 With Jimmy and Mary estranged, Church gets Mary's promise to marry him. Jimmy and Olga, out one night, see a man they both recognize—she as the man who got the stub, he as one of his assailants. The man escapes, but they identify him by his police photo as like Jensen.
 Church, motoring with Mary,
 runs over a dog. His heartlessness causes her to break their engagement. Mary writes Jimmy a letter, telling him about it. The office boy sticks it in his pocket and forgets it.
 Barry Colvin, without Jimmy's knowledge, asks out Mary Lowell and tells her who Olga Maynard is. Late that night Jimmy gets a phone call from Olga, saying she has forgiven her. Her voice ends in a gasping cry.
 Then there is silence.

He right down and sleep for two days,
 I'm so tired."
 Mary made no answer; she was too busy cooking.
 "I'm not at all well," Mrs. Lowell continued. "The doctor told me what I needed was a complete rest and a change."
 (Which was not at all what the doctor had told her. What he had said was that she wanted a rest and a change. He hadn't said she needed it.) Mrs. Lowell sighed deeply. "But I suppose I'll never get it. I suppose I'll end my days in drudgery." Her drudgery consisted largely in watching Mary do all the important housework. Occasionally Mrs. Lowell knitted, and dusted, a few pictures, and prepared a salad.
 "Please, mother," Mary begged.
 "I simply never imagined anyone could be so foolish," Mrs. Lowell went on.
 And Mary, her mind too troubled to pay much attention, went on with the preparation of dinner.
 She hardly touched her food, however, and when the dishes were washed and put away she gave the excuse
 of a headache to retire to her room.
 As she sat on her bed, in utter dejection, she wondered if the cutting remarks she had made to Jimmy when last they met had opened a breach that was irreparable.
 "But I wrote him," she said. "I told him everything. I did all I could. Why didn't he answer?"
 She was hurt, deeply hurt.
 "He simply doesn't care any more,"
 she told herself.
 She sat before her mirror and watched her reflected face. "Oh, Jimmy," she cried, "if you only knew how much I loved you. You're—you're breaking my heart."
 Her face dropped slowly down on
 to her arms.
 She sat that way a long time, just how long she did not know, but her

Run across the street to the house opposite this and see what you can find out. You know Jensen's description. See if he has been romping there.
 "Wait a minute. If you don't get anything there, go back. Run—go to every house in the block. Wake 'em all up. If Jensen went into any house on this street we're going to find out about it."
 "That's all." He turned to Jimmy.
 "Now I'm going to look around myself."
 He went first to the telephone, picked it up, then set it back again on the table and stepped back and studied it.
 "Tell me," he said to Jimmy, "how you found this place when you came in. Where was the phone—right where I picked it up?"
 "Yes. The receiver was off the hook.
 I put it back."
 "Any lights on?"
 "No, all the lights were out."
 "This rug here—that's matted up and wrinkled. Was it like that when you came in?"
 Jimmy hadn't noticed the rug. "I don't know, Lieutenant. I suppose so.
 I didn't touch it."
 O'Day quietly stroked his chin; stood with his feet planted wide apart and studied a while in silence.
 "What do you think happened, Lieutenant?" Jimmy had risen from his chair, and stood facing O'Day.
 "Don't bother me now, lad. Let me think." He smiled apologetically at his curtness. "I'm not one of those fancy Sherlock Holmes detectives," he explained. "I'm a little slow at getting my mind to work. I have to have time. I want to see this thing first, just as you saw it when you came in."
 He walked to the door and stood on the threshold, his eyes wandering around the room and then through the hallway.
 "This door was open?" he asked.
 "Yes. I came right in."
 "And all the lights were out, you say?"
 Jimmy nodded.
 "Uh-huh." O'Day turned abruptly away and walked into the next room, exploring. He shook his head slowly.
 "I wonder," he said dubiously, "I wonder if—" and then he broke off
 and resumed his search.
 Quite abruptly he came to a pause
 in front of the mantel above the gas grate. His hand reached up and picked up a picture that was lying, face down, on the shelf.
 He focused as he looked at it. He glanced around at Jimmy, who, quite oblivious of O'Day's movements, was standing behind his back, looking out into the street.
 O'Day turned back to the picture.
 A comprehending light came into his eyes.
 "Mother of heaven!" he breathed.
 Then he unfastened some buttons on his coat and stuck the picture into his breast pocket.
 (To Be Continued)

The receiver was still off the hook. "What's happened to her?" he gasped.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
 CHAPTER XII
 Jimmy grabbed the receiver hook in desperation, but the sound that came to his ears was the tranquil "Number please" of Central.
 "God!" he cried, putting the phone away from him. "What happened to her? What happened?"
 He grabbed the phone again and asked for police headquarters. "And for God's sake hurry!"
 He got hold of O'Day, then, and told him: "Get as fast as you can to Olga Maynard's apartment." He gave O'Day
 the address. "The Jensen's been there, I think he's killed her. I'm starting out right away."
 Then he ran up the stairs, taking three at a time, and maddly grabbed at his hat and overcoat.
 All during that day at the office
 Mary Lowell had sat expectantly at her typewriter, starting eagerly every time the telephone rang. But the call she waited for did not come.
 She was first to greet the letter carrier on each of his frequent rounds.
 But there was no mail for her.
 "Why," she asked herself time and again, "why doesn't he answer?"
 She pondered on the variability of her moods. Yesterday Barry Colvin had been to see her and what he told her had lifted her magically out of the depression into which she had lately settled.
 And today. . . . To come to work so cheerful, so expectant, and to hear nothing. It was more than she could bear.
 Mr. Hilton stopped once in the midst of dictation and looked at her very sharply.
 "You're tired, Miss Lowell," he said gently. "I wish you would take a couple of days off. Do you know?"
 Mary's mother, who since the breaking off with Sam Church wore perpetually a grieved expression, met her at the door with sharp complaints about being late and "dinner will never be ready if you don't hurry."
 In fact, Mary's mother found it very easy to find fault these days.
 There had been many attempts on her part to persuade Mary to reconsider her decision about Church, but they were futile.
 "Oh, dear," Mrs. Lowell sighed as she moved heavily about the kitchen, getting in the way while Mary did all the work, I get so discouraged, I could mother's complaining voice, rising on a note of querulousness, broke into her thoughts.

 "Mary, if you have such a headache,
 why don't you go to bed? Your light is keeping me from going to sleep."
 Without answering, Mary roused herself and put out the light. She undressed in the dark and then got into bed.
 But she lay there sleepless, dampening her pillow with tears. . . .
 Hours passed, but they failed to bring her sleep.
 How was she to know that the letter she had written to Jimmy Rand was at that moment lying in the pocket
 of Paul, the admirable office boy?
 x x x
 At that moment Jimmy Rand was dashing madly up the hall steps leading to Olga Maynard's apartment.
 The door was standing half open;
 the rooms within were in silent darkness.
 He fumbled, then switched on a light, and the telephone met his eyes.
 The receiver was still off the hook.
 "What's happened to her?" he gasped.
 "God! Where is she?"
 He tramped through the small apartment—just two rooms and a kitchenet
 —turning on lights and exploring every corner, every closet.
 But there was no Olga—no trace,
 even, of her.
 A tramp of feet coming up the stairs,
 and then a squad of uniformed men,
 led by Lieutenant O'Day, came into the room.
 "She's gone, Lieutenant." Jimmy held his hand around. "She's gone." He groped for words and found none, and sank despairingly into a chair.
 O'Day's voice was professionally crisp. "They didn't kill her, then. Any sign of a struggle? Any evidence that they hurt her?"
 "Nothing."
 "Well, I'll take a look around. Tell me what you know first. What happened?"
 Jimmy, in a high state of excitement, told him. "She phoned me. She said, 'I've found Jensen. He's in the house across the street.' Then she held, 'Oh!'—as if someone had grabbed her of something. A sort of snooping cry."
 "And that was all?"
 "That was all. I called you up right afterward."
 O'Day turned to the men who had come with him. You men go outside.

With Our Contemporaries

MEXICO VS. AMERICA
 The Mexican government has ordered all religious schools in Mexico closed and has given those connected with the schools instructions to leave the country. The order affects all schools in the southern republic that are in any way maintained by religious organizations—either Protestant or Catholic. Viewing the situation from the enlightened point of view with which the American people are blessed it is indeed difficult to understand the Mexican Government's point of view in taking such action. The liquor traffic and gambling, together with companion vices thrive under the protecting wing of the government down there while Christian education is barred and the youth of the republic is denied the enlightening and elevating influences which accrue to those who enjoy the advantages of Christian education, and on the other hand all the vices known are licensed and permitted to operate unhampered by the sane government.—Monday Times.

VETERANS; ACT

The government announces that only four months remain in which war veterans may convert and reinstate the war risk insurance they took out during the World War.
 Any ex-service man in good health
 may reinstate his policy, no matter how long ago it lapsed, but this offer holds good only for four months. Since the terms offered are extremely lib-

SUGGESTION FOR RAIL MERGER NOT TAKEN

SENATOR'S PLAN TO PUT ALL ROADS IN ONE NOT SMILED ON

(By The Associated Press) NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—Representative railroad executives who have been working toward consolidations of some of the largest rail systems did not react favorably when informed today of the suggestion of Senator Brookhart, of Iowa, that all roads be combined into one great system.

Senator Brookhart suggested that the one big system be managed by a private corporation which would be allowed liberal earnings, but the financing of which would be undertaken by the federal government. To put this plan into operation, all railroads would be ended. He outlined the plan before the Interstate Commerce Commission today. Commenting on the plan, L. F. Loree, president and chairman of the executive committee of the Delaware and Hudson said: "The experience of the country with federal administration of the railways in one system demonstrated that there was no place at all in modern life for an arrangement of that nature."

A. H. Harris, vice-president in charge of corporation relations of the New York Central, said he believed Senator Brookhart's suggestion would be forcing a situation, which if permitted to develop, would take care of itself.

RUBBER MONOPOLY IS DISCUSSED

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15. (AP)—Recommendations for meeting the situation created by foreign monopolies in rubber and other essential commodities were divided into party channels in reports given the house Saturday by its commerce committee. was inquired into foreign control of crude products.

The majority reported conservation and plantations development under the American flag to combat restriction of rubber growing in British territory, with adequate advance prices to American consumers. Four Democratic members of the committee, Representatives Rayburn, Texas, Huddleston, Alabama, Shallenberger, Nebraska, and Parks, Arkansas, attacked the majority report as "indefinite under our existing high tariffs." Recommendations of the majority report admitted by Representative Newton, Republican, Minnesota, also urged "renewed watchfulness" against foreign controls while independent sources of supply were being sought for America. The Philippines were pointed to as an excellent field for rubber growing.

These views were assailed by the Democrats as pointing toward boycott and retaliation. A policy of fair trade methods and friendly relations must be developed through mutual agreements, the minority held.

SEPARATE RETURN OF TAX TALKED

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15. (AP)—The right of wives and husbands to file separate income tax returns in seven states having community property laws may be put up to the court for final decision. Attorney General Clegg has taken such a suggestion from some state representatives under consideration. The Department of Justice is studying the effect of the community property laws at the request of the Treasury Department. Meanwhile, Commissioner Blair of the Internal Revenue bureau, has ruled that separate returns may be filed by husbands and wives on taxes due this quarter, subject to reversal later if the pending investigation develops a contrary view.

The Attorney General and Solicitor General Mitchell have reached the decision that each of the seven states must be treated separately and that the ruling of the Supreme Court in the instance of California, where it was held joint returns must be filed, cannot be applied as a precedent.

Garner Fails To Get Republican Program

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15. (AP)—Representative Garner, Democrat, Texas, cross-questioned Republican Leader Tilson in the house today regarding the administration's legislative program but learned little. Mr. Tilson said "no program" had been decided at yesterday's White House Conference. He declined to indicate the prospects of the public housing bill, the railroad labor bill and other measures, and said if Muscle Shoals was discussed at the White House, it was only "incidentally." Asked what would be done about petition of the Western farmers for agricultural legislation, the majority leader replied that it will be considered.

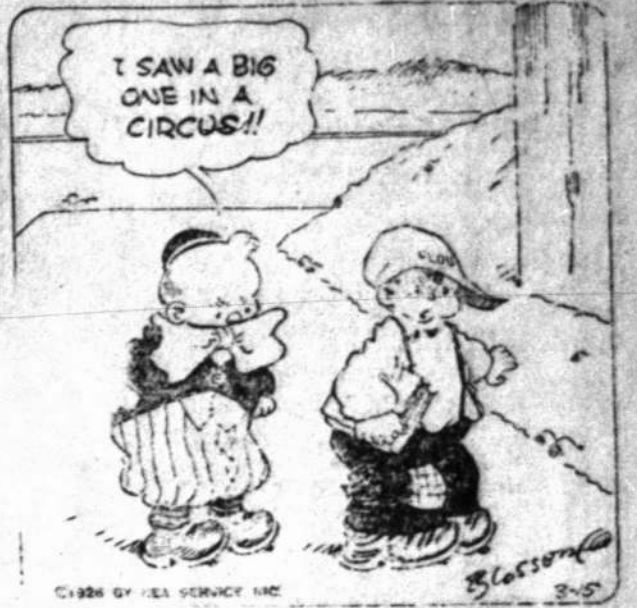

Dry Enforcers Can't Accept Reward, Ruled

SAN ANTONIO, Mar. 15. (AP)—A relation recently promulgated by the Treasury Department forbids prohibition enforcement officers from making a claim for, or accepting, any kind of reward. N. A. Baker, local dry chief, said today. This rule applies to dry officers of every rank, wherever located.

George E. Harrison, who made plans yesterday to present a claim to Congress for the $500 reward she recently offered for conviction of a prohibition violator worth more than $5,000, would drop his claim.

Mrs. Ward Gives Huge Sum To Northwestern

CHICAGO, Mar. 15. (AP)—A new gift of $4,000,000 to Northwestern University from Mrs. Montgomery Ward was announced today.

The money is for use of the medical and dental schools to which Mrs. Ward made a similar donation about two years ago. The Montgomery Ward Memorial Building on the McKinlock Memorial campus in the downtown district is under construction as a result of Mrs. Ward's first gift.

Railroads Fail To Convince I. C. Board

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15. (AP)—Trans-continental railroads failed today for the second time in five years to win approval of reduced freight rates on long hauls without applying the cuts to intermediate movements.

The case decided today was that of the Western Transcontinental carriers who sought reductions of 47 commodities moving from origin territory West of the Indiana state line to Pacific coast terminals in an effort to cope with Eastern manufacturers who can ship through the Panama Canal.

250 Gallon Pump To Be Installed At Slaton Plant

Special to the Journal. SLATON, Mar. 15.—E. Barton, superintendent of the Slaton Water works, has announced that he will install a 250 gallon per minute centrifugal pump on well number two of Slaton's water supply. With the installation of this new pump, Slaton will have a pumping capacity of 500 gallons per minute, as the newly installed pump will be a duplicate of the one now operating on the city's other well. Four storage tanks give a storage capacity of 425,000 gallons. A connection was made between the city mains and the Santa Fe water works, not long since, with a valve inclosed six inch pipe. The two systems combined have a pumping capacity of 570 gallons, and the combined storage facilities are over a million gallons. Slaton is believed to have the greatest abundance of water of any city within this entire section, that is within twice its size.

FORBES CASE NOT TO BE REVIEWED

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—Charles R. Forbes, former director of the Veterans' Bureau and John W. Thompson, Saint Louis contractor, convicted at Chicago of conspiracy in connection with hospital contracts, were today denied a review by the supreme court. Forbes and Thompson were each sentenced to terms of two years in Leavenworth penitentiary, and fines of $10,000. The grounds advanced in support of their petition to the supreme court were substantially those advanced without success in circuit court of appeals. These included the alleged search and seizure of papers, in sufficiency of the evidence, acceptance of the testimony of Elias H. Mortimer, principal government witness, and the attack upon jurisdiction of the federal court at Chicago to try the case. It was asserted that the alleged conspiracy had been formed there and no act had been shown to have been committed there in carrying it into effect.

MOODY MAKES RULING

AUSTIN, Mar. 15.—Free school lands sold under a mineral classification under an old law which has been forfeited may be reappraised and purchased at a price sufficient to cover the entire right to the mineral and cannot be sold under grazing, timber or agricultural classification, the Attorney General ruled today.

TODAY'S MARKETS

Stocks And Money

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—Selling attacks were resumed in the stock market as trading opened today, with speculative offerings based partly on the probability of tighter money conditions in connection with the day's huge turnover of tax and internal payments. Declines of one to three points were recorded by American Smelting, Savage Arms, Jordan Motors and Chesapeake and Ohio. Fractional recessions were general among the motors and other industrials. Short selling increased in volume when the early decline failed to bring in the customary quota of supporting orders. More than a score of representative issues fell back one to three points in the first half hour with prices directed mainly against the motor, public utility and food shares. Allis-Chalmers dropped 3/4 points and early losses of one to 2 1/2 points included American Waterworks, Ward Baking "B", Postum Cereal, Baldwin, International Harvester, United Cigar, Dodge, Chrysler, White and Nash Motors and American Can. Rail stocks also yielded some of last week's recoveries. Atlantic Coast line, Southern Railway, Wabash and Pere Marquis sagging 1 to 3 points. Both the American Agricultural Chemical issues sold at the year's low prices. A sharp break of 47 points in Belgian francs to 49 1/2 cents aroused reports that the forthcoming revision would be around the four cent level. Other foreign exchanges were slightly easier with sterling at $4.85 1/2.

TRADE BALANCE

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—An unfavorable trade balance of $15,000,000 was shown in preliminary estimates of American foreign trade for February, issued today by the Commerce Department. Total exports last month were valued at $23,000,000 as against imports worth $38,000,000. These figures compared with exports worth $27,195,822 in January and imports of $417,767,325.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—Foreign exchanges irregular. Great Britain demand 4.85 1/2; cables 4.86 1/2-1.6; 60-day bills on banks 4.83 1/2. France demand 2.50 1/2; cables 2.50. Italy demand 4.90 1/2; Belgium 4.17; Germany 23.80; Tokio 45 1/2; Montreal 99 2-22.

Cotton Markets

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 15.—The cotton market opened easy, due to lower Liverpool cables than expected and first trades showed losses 9 to 13 points. Prices rallied a few points after the call on the cold weather in the belt, but soon eased off with May trading down to 17.55c, July to 17.40c and October to 16.75c, or 11 to 13 points below Saturday's close. March traded 16 points lower at 18.25c. Toward the end of the first half hour, the market was steadier, supported by low temperatures over the cotton region. The market ruled dull all morning but prices gradually rallied owing to reports of snow in many places in the belt and to the general severity of the weather. May traded up to 17.52c, July to 17.57c and October to 16.85c, or seven to eight points above the lows and three to six points below Saturday's close. Aside from the weather there was no other information to create any interest and around noon trading was almost at a standstill. The market continued quiet during the afternoon but prices gradually improved, all months making new highs with March at 18.25c, May at 17.86c, July at 17.57c and October at 16.85c or 8 to 12 points up from the early lows but still 1 to 5 points under the close of Saturday. The severest cold weather and snows in the belt continued to be the main sustaining influence.

LIVERPOOL SPOTS

LIVERPOOL, Mar. 15.—Cotton spot steady. American strictly good middling 10.95; good middling 10.87; strictly middling 10.42; middling 9.92; strictly low middling 9.27; low middling 8.42; good ordinary 6.87; sales 4,990 bales, 3,990 American. No receipts.

NEW ORLEANS FUTURES

NEW ORLEANS, Mar. 15.—Cotton opened steady. March 18.25c, May 17.86c, July 17.57c, October 16.85c, December 16.82c.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—Cotton futures opened barely steady. May 18.60c, July 18.18c, October 17.50c, December 17.17c, January 17.14c.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—The cotton market opened barely steady at a decline of four to eleven points, apparently influenced by relatively easy Liverpool cables and belief that the covering of last week had left futures in an easier technical position. July sold off to 18.12c and December to 17.10c within the first few minutes, net declines of about 19 to 16 points, but there was some foreign trade buying of new crop months, and while the demand from shorts was much less active, following recent rallies, the market steadied up a few points from the lowest before the end of the first hour. Trading was quiet later in the morning with fluctuations correspondingly minor. At 4:15-day July was holding around 18.10c and October 17.51c.

Grain Markets

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Mar. 15.—Wheat prices here took a sudden early downturn today, influenced chiefly by an expected weakness of quotations at Liverpool. The critical situation in the League of Nations council relative to issues growing out of Germany's entrance, was reported as being largely responsible for the erratic action of the Liverpool market. Chicago opening prices 3/4 to 2c lower. May (new) $1.64 1/2 to $1.65 and July $1.42 to $1.42 1/2 were followed by numerous minor changes and then something of a rally. Corn and oats were affected by the depression of wheat. After opening 3/4 to 1/2c off, May 78 to 78 1/2, corn recovered a little. Oats started 1/2 to 3/4c down, May 40 1/2 to 40 1/2c and held near the initial range. Provisions went lower with hogs and grain.

KANSAS CITY REPORT

KANSAS CITY, Mar. 15.—Wheat number 3 hard 1.64@1.65; number 2 red 1.71@1.72. Corn number 2 white 67 1/2 @ 68 1/2; number 2 yellow 70@70 1/2. Oats number 2 white 41 1/2 @ 42; number 3 white 41 @ 41 1/2.

Ford

Costs More to Build Is Worth More Yet Sells for Less

If any other manufacturer endeavored to produce a car similar to the Ford according to the high standards of quality in material and workmanship used by the Ford Motor Company and with the same tried and proved design it would be impossible to offer it at anything like the present low Ford prices.

Just think! 13,000,000 model T Ford cars have been produced since 1908—almost as many automobiles as were built by all other manufacturers combined. In 1925, almost 2,000,000 Ford cars and trucks were built for the production of even more than 2,000,000.

If, on the other hand, the Ford Motor Company would substitute ordinary design for the basic Ford features, Ford cars could be produced and sold for less than the present Ford prices. Yet by so doing, Ford simplicity, durability and reliability would fall below the standard insisted upon by the Ford Motor Company and established throughout twenty-two years of leadership.

Today, more than ever, the Ford car is the most popular automobile in the world.

It was the superiority of Ford design in 1908 that established Ford leadership. It is this same Ford design, improved but basically unchanged, that is continuing to make the Ford car the outstanding leader among all automobiles.

I. C. C. RULES ON TEXAS RAILROAD

Missouri Pacific Winner in South Texas Argument On New Rail Services

(By the Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—Denial of the application of the San Antonio and Aransas Pass Railroad to construct two new lines of railroad in Texas, was recommended by Commissioner Woodcock in a tentative report today to the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The new lines would extend from Fairburn to the Mexican border and from Edinburg to Harlingen. Their cost has been estimated at $4,500,000. They would extend a distance of 110 miles and would be operated as a part of the Southern Pacific.

Missouri Pacific Wins
The proposed line would lie within an irrigated section of the Lower Rio Grande Valley, and Commissioner Woodcock concluded in his report that this section is now sufficiently and adequately served by the Missouri Pacific.

The latter system, he said, was capable of handling a much heavier volume of traffic from the valley, and was looking ahead to meet the needs of that section as they develop. The entry of another railroad into the valley, the commissioner asserted, not only was not required, but viewed in the light of the broad public interests would be "more apt to prove detrimental than otherwise."

It is not a fair test of public sentiment, it must be admitted that the poll will have a great deal of influence on leaders of the anti-prohibition side, especially coming as it does simultaneously with the prohibition fight now being waged in the national congress. Papers participating in the movement have taken no voice whatever in the movement, except to submit the ballot to the public with explanatory remarks, and each group had the same opportunity to avail themselves of a vote, although it is possibly true that the wet element voted stronger in proportion to their strength than the drys.

Following is the latest tabulation of votes by states, as compiled by NEA service:

Capital Is Agon.

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—Prohibitionists recently and enforcement administration to the District of Columbia, Maryland, Delaware and Kentucky, specifically are attacked in statements issued here opening a week that expects to see congress draw considerable attention to the subject. The statements came from the board of temperance prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church, reporting its contention that prohibition enforcement in many cases rests in unsympathetic hands, and from Representative Phillips, republican, Pennsylvania.

Drys Are Criticized.

The representative charged "that under the rule of the drys the constitution is fast becoming a scrap of paper, the jury system junk, justice a joke and the government, through its agents the greatest lawbreaker." At least one address on prohibition will be delivered during the week in the senate, where Senator Bruce, democrat, Maryland, will reply to Senator McKellar, democrat, Tennessee, who on Saturday declared prohibition a success despite violations by the "moneyed aristocracy" and the law's administration by the "biggest distillers in the country." In addition the senate judiciary sub-committee will meet soon meeting pending modification bills and decide whether it will recommend that public hearings be held.

New Group Helpful.

The board of temperance statement declared that while the recently organized group of men to combat misuse of the alcohol system would prove helpful, when anti-prohibitionists of inefficient men are in position of responsibility, the confidence of the people is shaken. "It is impossible, for instance," it added, "to convince the dry people of Maryland and Delaware that real prohibition enforcement is intended in those states so long as Mr. Budnitz (Edmund Budnitz) prohibition enforcement agent at Baltimore, is still in charge of enforcement. The state also criticized the retention of William O. Mays, administrator of Kentucky and Tennessee, declaring he was appointed for political reasons and that his office was a political machine headquarters.

He Attacks Drys.

Representative Phillips declared that while only a short time ago the term "wet" was appropriate, "six years of unadmitted and almost unchallenged power has rendered the word 'dry' synonymous with intolerance, intolerance, bigotry, arrogance and tyranny." Referring to newspaper polls being taken throughout the country, he said thousands of votes in the wet columns are being cast by persons, who six years ago, would have been classed definitely as "drys." Temperate, law-abiding people, who have protested against the effort to put prohibition "above all else in the legal calendar," he continued, "have been bodily cast over by the prohibitionists into the 'wet' group and so branded. I myself, have been classified as a 'wet' because I have had the temerity to protest, privately and officially, against that very situation."

been guilty of "falsifying his income tax returns and that four judgments have been entered against him for an aggregate sum of $29,544 even before he went to testify against Senator Wheeler. Senator Walsh said the prosecution against Wheeler, which followed his initiation of a senate investigation of the administration of Harry M. Daugherty as attorney general, had few parallels.

"We are led to believe," he said, "that in other countries men in public life who have made themselves obnoxious to the powers that be, run the risk of the treatment before subcommittee courts. Our liberties until now have not been so imperiled."

"I look for no division in this body in reprobation of this assault upon its independence, recalling the days of the Stuarts and the Tudors. The offense against the senate is too flagrant to permit the thought that even partnership should offer any obstacle to the vindication of its dignity and the demands of justice. I am confident that the President of the United States, being apprised of this effort to pollute the administration of justice, will jealously as he must be for the honor of his administration, hasten to inquire into the identity of those responsible for it and to act accordingly."

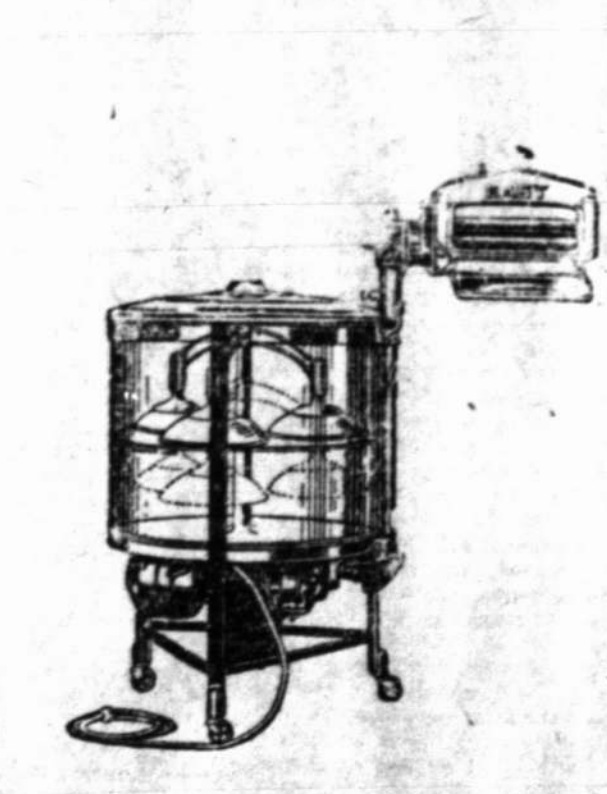

Besides calling on the Attorney General for information as to whether the Justice Department proposes to proceed against Hayes, Senator Walsh's resolution directs him to transmit to the senate an itemized statement of all expenditures in connection with the prosecution of Senator Wheeler.

The Montana senator explained that he did this because much had been made of the expense of the senate investigation into the naval oil leases and the Department of Justice under Daugherty.

Abilene Road Loses I. C. C. Appeal Today

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15. (AP)—The Abilene and Southern Railway lost in the Supreme Court today its fight for reimbursement on account of a deficit in its operating revenues during the first six months of 1915. The lower courts ruled against the first claimant and the Supreme Court today refused an appeal.

Where the "EASY" Gets Its Speed

The secret of the Easy's greater speed in washing is its extra large size tub and its efficient method of washing.

The tub washes 14 pounds of clothes at one time—which means that even a large washing can be done in a very short time. And the washing is done by air pressure and suction—a method insuring thorough cleansing of the clothes, yet requiring very little time to wash a tubful.

When you buy an electric washer, it is well to choose one that you know in advance will do your washing in record time. You will save many an extra hour on washday if you own an EASY.
