FROM NEW YORK . . .

Wants U.S. Support

Dr. Nguyen Ton Hoan (right) with interpreter, Prof. Luther Allen, told newsmen in New York Saturday he is here to ask President Kennedy to condemn the regime of South Vietnamese President Ngo Dinh Diem. He has led the Buddhist revolt in that country. (AP WIREPHOTO).

FROM PENNSYLVANIA . . .

Grandchildren Waiting

Three grandchildren of Dave Fellin, one of three miners trapped 331 feet underground due to a coal mine cave-in, are among the many relatives sharing the vigil. They are, from left, Gary Kline, 7; his sister, Patsy, 3; and Joseph, 8. (AP WIREPHOTO).

FROM WEST VIRGINIA . . .

Fumigated Restaurant

Negro demonstrators cover their faces when a Huntington, W. Va. restaurant owner released fumes from a metal container to drive them out. Two negroes were arrested on trespass warrants obtained by the restaurant owners. The fumes apparently came from a fumigation device. (AP WIREPHOTO).

FROM DALLAS . . .

Leaves One Dead

This automobile came to rest in a cemetery in Dallas Saturday after a collision with another car, which was driven by Ivy Benjamin Griffin, 63, who was killed. Mrs. Charles Land was driver of this car and she was critically injured, as was Mrs. Griffin. (AP WIREPHOTO).

Herald Joins AP Network Featuring 'Instant Pictures'

The coast-to-coast Associated Press Wirephoto Network—the world's greatest system for picture transmission—is being extended directly into the offices of The Herald by means of a remarkable development in news picture reception—AP Photofax.

The receiving machine for the new picture service was installed at the Herald office Saturday and trial runs and minor adjustments are being made. Although the new service officially begins Sept. 1, pictures on this page and in today's Sports Section were transmitted over the network.

AP Photofax is a facsimile machine which receives pictures, ready for immediate use, directly from any part of the United States and from most nations in the world. The machine eliminates the time lag of developing a negative and making a photographic print. 8 MINUTES TO ANYWHERE This means that The Herald will receive pictures from New York, Washington, Atlanta, Chicago, Los Angeles—or London—in as little as eight minutes. It can have in its offices a picture of baseball action in Yankee Stadium or Forbes Field before an inning is over. Pictures from foreign points, which move on the European Wirephoto network, can also be received at once over a transatlantic photo cable, which extends from London to New York.

Nikita Adds New Twist

SPLIT, Yugoslavia (AP)—Premier Khrushchev endorsed Yugoslavia's independent communism Saturday and gave a new twist to his famous "We will bury you" remark. He said Western workers will do the burying of capitalism.

In a wide-ranging speech, Khrushchev renewed his blasts at the Red Chinese and added insult to injury by endorsing President Tito's brand of communism and praising the limited nuclear test ban treaty. Both are anathema in Peking.

SENATE ASSURANCE

Clear Readiness Program Outlined

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department outlined Saturday a $100-million-a-year nuclear readiness program intended to meet senatorial demands for assurance that U.S. security would be safeguarded under a limited test ban treaty.

Many senators have said they would vote for ratification of the pending agreement to outlaw all except underground tests only if the administration shows in detail how it proposes to protect U.S. weapons superiority and prepare for swift resumption of all-out testing if the pact is breached.

While the Defense Department was seeking to bolster the treaty's position in Washington, the Summer White House in Hyannis Port, Mass., issued a two-way endorsement from a panel of top scientists and a world-famous humanitarian, Dr. Albert Schweitzer.

The 16-member presidential Science Advisory Committee was joined by six consultants-at-large in an across-the-board answer to principal criticisms from the scientific viewpoint.

Hand Woven

Mrs. Annie Simpson, who has charge of the occupational therapy section in which women work, checks work of a patient who is weaving a rug. This patient has already cut material into strips, bound the pieces and folded the strips for the intricate weaving.

Occupational Therapy Is Vital Part Of Treatment

By JOE BEYER

Occupational therapy has been used in treatment of mental patients for more than 100 years. It has not always had such an impressive title, but the effectiveness of work in the daily life of patients was recognized even by predecessors of modern mental institutions.

Then occupational therapy usually amounted to working in a garden under the close supervision of and frequently with the hospital superintendent. But it worked and so it was used, Dr. Preston E. Harrison, superintendent of the Big Spring State Hospital, said.

Then for some unknown reason the profession forgot about occupational therapy and only in the past 15-20 years has that form of treatment been revived extensively.

PEOPLE NEED ACTIVITY
"Almost any kind of work is therapy. People need activity," Dr. Harrison said. "Inactivity is one of the great problems of our time now that persons have more leisure hours."

At the State Hospital here the need for activity is filled in many ways in occupational therapy. But, it is always a planned work to fit into the treatment of each patient and is prescribed just as any medicine. An example was cited by Dr. Harrison.

"A patient may be paranoid or over-aggressive. We put him to work pounding impressions into leather or metal, giving him an outlet for his hostile feelings," he said.

The years during which this therapy, was forgotten took their toll. That lack of activity is one reason why many hospital wards today are filled with chronic patients who may well spend the rest of their lives in an institution, Dr. Harrison said. They were placed on wards years ago with nothing to do. Their bodies and minds deteriorated, and now the illness is irreversible.

NEW FACILITIES
Occupational therapy has received renewed emphasis during the past half decade at the Big Spring State Hospital. Within the

Mrs. Agnell's Sister Dies, Rites Monday

Mrs. W. D. Gentry, only surviving sister of Mrs. Della K. Agnell, died unexpectedly at 7:30 a.m. Friday at Waco.

Services will be held Monday afternoon in San Angelo, where the body will be buried beside the grave of her husband who died in 1960.

Mrs. Gentry had visited here occasionally, most recently in April of this year.

She leaves no children, but is survived by her sister; one brother, William H. Russell, Tyler; four nephews, Charles Sparenburg, Austin, Russell Sparenburg, Houston, W. A. Agnell, Abilene, P. W. Agnell, Washington, D.C.; two nieces, Mrs. W. C. Hornaday, Washington, and Mrs. Arthur Jackson, Killeen. All her adult life, Mrs. Gentry had been an active worker in the Baptist Church.

PENTECOST

What significance does Pentecost have to the Christian? This important subject will be discussed in the sermon this morning at 10:30. Why not lay aside the paper, and come? Come in time for Bible school at 9:30. The adult class meets in the auditorium, and will study John, chapters 20 and 21. Brethren will be on hand to direct your children to their classes. We are putting emphasis on the teaching of God's word; and trying to keep the teaching standards high.

Last week we enjoyed a successful vacation Bible school, with attendance running well over 200 each night.

Tonight we will be privileged to hear a preacher fresh from Perth, Australia, Rudy Wyatt. The congregation had some small part in the support of this able young man when he first went to Australia, and we look forward to his sermon and report on the work, tonight at 7. Be with us.

By E. H. Turbel, preacher, Church of Christ, 200 West Highway 26, where you are always welcome.

New Hobby

A patient in Occupational Therapy may use the time for pure enjoyment, as this woman who wields a brush handily. Looking on is Mrs. Mary C. Schauer.

In the past few months the department was moved into the newly-completed Allred Building. Some 175 women attend occupational therapy classes regularly where they work under the supervision of Mrs. Annie Simpson, Mrs. Clara Jackson and Mrs. Mary Schauer. About 40 men work under Frank Salazar. Dorothea Baldwin is in charge of the overall program.

The work performed takes many forms. For women there are ceramics, needle and thread, looms for weaving, painting, leathercraft and other ways for the patient to express herself creatively. The men have a completely-equipped workshop for woodworking.

"The most important thing is to give the patients something to do with their hands," Dr. Harrison said.

Another reason for the therapy is to give the patients a hobby, something most of them have overlooked previously.

FOR ENJOYMENT

"Too many persons never learn to do something for their own satisfaction," Dr. Harrison said. "They don't know what it feels like to do something strictly for their own enjoyment."

In the occupational therapy shops the men and women can do just that. They can do something creative, often for the first time in their lives. They learn to socialize with others and to accept praise or criticism.

Sometimes, after leaving the hospital, a patient will continue work done in occupational therapy as a vocation, but this is rare, Dr. Harrison said. It is only a byproduct of the therapy and not one of its main purposes.

The therapy was designed to be

Grand Jury Begins Its Work Monday

A charge of murder, another of armed robbery, two involving fondling, are on the list of cases the Howard County grand jury is due to consider when it begins work at 10 a.m. Monday.

The murder case results from the death of Simon Miller, who was injured in a fight at Davis' Place, a northside tavern. He later died and Ramon Quintana was accused of inflicting a beating on Miller.

The armed robbery occurred only last week. Named are Gary Allen Stack, who was wounded in the arm by gunfire, and Bruce Troy Melvin, and they are charged with hijacking Jack Rhoads attendant at the Simmons Fina Station on US 80 west. They were arrested in Martin County soon after the event.

James R. Sims has been charged with rape and fondling, the alleged offenses having occurred on July 20, 1963 and involving his daughter. The other fondling case also involves a father James Kenneth Smith, and his daughter on May 15, 1963.

There are 9 matters in all to be laid before the grand jury. Sixteen individuals are involved.

Judge Ralph Caton has called 16 citizens to report at 10 a.m. Monday to serve as grand jurors. The panel comprises R. E. McKinney, Wesley Yater, Lonnie Wright, Mrs. Jimmie D. Jones, J. T. Anderson Jr., B. G. Miles, C. Roscoe Cone, Manley A. Cook, Omar Jones, Troy Love, Hezzie Read Jr., D. M. Bardwell, Boyce H. Hale, Ray Ebling, Mrs. Andrew Jones and Leoland Edwards.

Other cases include: David Roma, forgery and passing; Bill Thomas, felony worthless check; Rudy Hernandez, felony worthless check; Jess Young and Don McCoy, theft; Gaylon W. Dabbs, Elton Cooper, Jerry Rogers, Robert W. Ezell, burglary; Charles A. Scott, car theft; and Lee Barber, theft.

Three other cases, on which charges have not yet been filed, may be considered by the grand jury. One involves a man for allegedly passing a worthless check in excess of $50; another against a man for disposing of mortgaged property; and a third against two men for reportedly keeping money they had collected for another firm on a construction job. Officers are investigating a possible procurement case, and the sheriff has in custody a 14-year-old Negro

Hand Truck To Get Him To Court

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — A hand truck and two freight elevators were used by deputy U.S. marshals to get a man to the third floor of the Federal Building where he pleaded guilty to a charge of selling pep pills to truck drivers.

The novel means of access to the courtroom was necessary because the defendant weighs 385 pounds.

The plea was made before U.S. Dist. Judge James C. Connell by Charles E. Kinsey, 43, owner of Tiny's Truck Stop at Ocoola, Ohio. Sentence was deferred pending a probation report and Kinsey was released under $500 personal bond. Kinsey told deputy marshals he weighed 800 pounds at one time, but had "managed to reduce a little."

girl sought unsuccessfully in O'Donnell and apprehended here. Three men have been questioned and it is conjectured if they will be invited before the grand jury.

DPS Looking For More Men

Young men of this area, who may be classed by the Texas Department of Public Safety as better than average, have an opportunity of becoming highway patrolmen. The pay scale now is better than it has been in the past, and recruits will be paid $375 per month while attending a 56-week training school. They will receive a base salary of $453 per month upon graduation and assignment.

"The 49-county Midland region, under Maj. Leo Gossett, regional commander, has had applications from several good men, but needs more," said Sgt. J. Ross Kemp, Midland.

The next examinations will be held Sept. 14 at several points, including Midland.

Applicants must be between 21 and 35 years of age, have a high school education or certificate of equivalency from the Texas Education Agency, must be at least five feet, eight inches tall, and not over six feet, four inches. They must weigh at least two pounds, and not over three pounds, per inch of height, Sgt. Kemp said. They must be of good moral character and in perfect physical condition.

"Men accepted for training, and who successfully complete the training, will be assigned posts within 100 miles of their home towns if at all possible," he said. "They will have job benefits including two weeks paid vacation each year, 12 holidays per year, 12 days of sick leave accumulative to 36 days, $10 per month longevity for each five years of service to a maximum of 25 years. The department also has a retirement system where law enforcement officers can retire with 20 years of service at age-50, and provides social security, group hospitalization and life insurance. After certain lengths of service, patrolmen may compete in promotion examinations, fit into specialized branches or apply for the Texas Rangers.

Judge Mahon Mentioned In TESCO Talks

COLORADO CITY—Judge Eldon Mahon, who presides over the 32nd District Court, confirmed Friday that there had been talk between him and Texas Electric Service Company regarding negotiations toward his taking an executive post with Texas Electric Service Company.

"We have been in negotiation," he said. "Nothing definite has been decided one way or the other. At Fort Worth, TESCO officials declined comment beyond saying there had been talks with the judge. There have been rumors he might resign as judge to take a new post."

Mahon, a nephew of Rep. George Mahon and a lifelong resident of Mitchell County, has served as county and district attorney. He was named to the bench three years ago, and he had been appointed district attorney in 1948.

He has been active in civic work and has some business interests including a radio station and a firm making decorative-pieces out of tumbleweeds.

Union Opens Meet Monday

HOUSTON (AP)—The Texas State AFL-CIO opens its convention here Sunday and hopes to emerge as an even more potent force in the social, economic and political life of Texas.

More than 1,000 delegates, representing 200,000 trade unionists, will act on proposals to:

1. Assess each member 5 cents a month for 20 months to help finance a drive to abolish the poll tax, registration of thousands of new voters and get-out-the-vote campaigns in the 1964 primary and general elections.
 2. Expand a public relations program to help improve the lot of 500,000 Latin Americans in South Texas who are said to have one of the lowest living standards in the country.
 3. Endorse a program to eliminate the last vestige of racial discrimination in Texas unions.
 4. Mount a campaign for abolition of the state unemployment compensation program, said to favor the interests of employers over those of workers, and substitute a wholly federal program.
- "We are going to decide whether to put our money where our mouths are and move out aggressively on the goals we have set for ourselves," H. S. (Hank) Brown, state labor president, said.

Clay Opposes Foreign Aid Bill Slash

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gen. Lucius D. Clay, a prominent advocate of less spending for foreign aid, said Saturday the hefty cut voted by the House could badly damage Free World security. Clay joined forces with President Kennedy and Secretary of State Rusk in deploring Friday's surprise House action triggered by Republicans. Kennedy has described the "short-sighted, irresponsible and dangerously partisan" the House decision to hold overseas aid this year to no more than $3.5 billion.

Republican Clay is the retired general who headed a Presidential advisory committee which reported last March that it had found deficiencies in the administration of the aid program. The 10-man group recommended cuts in the scope of the program, saying that "we are indeed attempting to much for too many."

After the committee made its report, Kennedy reduced from $4.9 billion to $4.5 billion his request for money to run the program in the fiscal year which started July 1.

The House Foreign Affairs Committee subsequently cut the figure to $4.1 billion, and the House voted 222 to 188 Friday to trim out another $385 million, bringing the total down to $3.5 billion.

Clay said in a statement issued through the foreign aid agency: "The drastic cut... made in the House of Representatives could badly damage the U.S. position and Free World security if allowed to stand."

The foreign aid bill submitted to the House represented a constructive approach to our foreign aid program, was deserving of broad bipartisan support, and went as far as practical or desirable at this time.

"Severe cuts in this program are not in the best interests of the United States." Rusk has said the House reduction "slices into the very muscle of our foreign policy." Kennedy appealed to the Senate to restore the House cuts, so that the final result would be a compromise figure nearer his request.

The bill concerned is an authorization, which fixes conditions and money ceilings for overseas assistance. The actual money will be voted later in a separate bill. It is subject to further cuts.

Rep. Bob Wilson of California, chairman of the House Republican Campaign Committee, called the House vote "a clear-cut victory for the American taxpayer."

Price Daniel To Be At Ceremony

AUSTIN (AP)—Former Gov. Price Daniel's office said Saturday that Daniel will participate in a ceremony Tuesday in London dedicating a marker on a building which once housed a legation from the Republic of Texas.

The Daniels are on a tour of Europe and the Holy Land. They will return to New York Sept. 11 and fly immediately to their home here.

Daniel will present the bronze plaque as a gift to the Anglo-Texas Society of London in ceremonies at 3 St. James St., London.

The marker, engraved by a San Antonio firm, bears the republic seal and the wording "Texas legation—in this building was the legation from the ministers from the Republic of Texas to the court of St. James, 1842-45."

Yarborough Says Would Help Dallas

FREERPORT, Tex. (AP)—Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., said Saturday night he had hoped to be on the Senate Appropriations Committee "to be able to slow or stop the dismantlement of Dallas now going on."

The senator, in a speech to the Operating Engineers union, referred to the removal of some federal agencies from Dallas and the city's inability to obtain a federal center and more postal facilities.

Yarborough blamed Texans from keeping him off that key committee when two opportunities occurred.

"It happened in each instance after the lackeys and henchmen of a powerful Texas politician had lobbied with other senators against me," Yarborough asserted. He did not name the politician.

Area City Officials Hear Tyler Park Director Speak

Big Spring's Mayor George Zachariah, was elected president; Alpine's Mayor Bill Winter, vice president, and Marshall Pharr, Andrews, secretary, of the Region IV division of the Texas Municipal League here Friday night. The regional meeting, with over 100 in attendance, was held at Cosden Country Club.

Representatives from more cities than half of the 25 or more cities in Region IV were present and heard Bob Shelton, Parks and Recreation Director of Tyler, talk on "Parks Are For People."

"Happiness is the thing most people look for in life, especially in the field of recreation," Shelton told the audience. "When we realize that parks are for people we have to consider everybody, and plan to take care of all ages. Different requirements must be considered in different places, because of the climatic conditions, and because of what different people want."

Shelton showed slides of many activities in Tyler parks and in other parks in Texas and the United States. He showed what could be accomplished with the cooperation of clubs, individual groups, and in the uses made of some properties no longer needed for other purposes.

The newly-organized parks and recreation board members of Big Spring were guests at the meeting to hear Shelton.

The next meeting will be held in Odessa on a date to be set later.

Mayor Preston Parker of Odessa received the red lantern travel trophy, given at each meeting.

Speaker Challenges Graduating Class

"You have to fall in love with the Air Force to be a good officer," Col. Ray W. Whipple told 186 AFROTC cadets at Webb AFB Friday during graduation ceremonies. Three cadets were commissioned as second lieutenants following the exercises. Four were named for achievement honors.

Col. Whipple is commander of the 578th Strategic Missile Squadron, based at Dyess AFB, Abilene, and was graduation speaker.

The colonel spoke of the tremendous challenge which faces graduates today.

"You must have that devotion to duty which knows no bounds; devotion to duty and life are inseparable. It cannot be defined. Who can define love? Many people have described it, but none has ever defined it. It is akin to success... you must want it, before it will come to you," he said.

"It will make you a leader; and drivers are not leaders. To be a leader, you must always be willing to be led," he said.

Remember that you can learn from those under you, just as you can learn from those over you. You can learn from your non-commissioned officers; you can learn from your men; you can learn from your superiors.

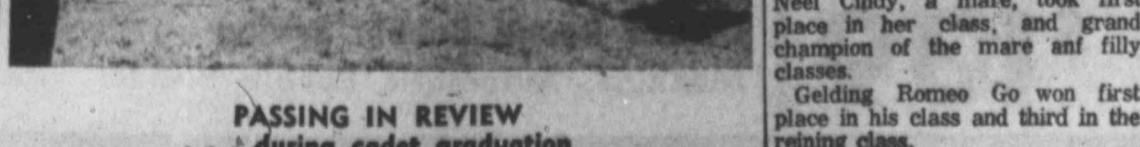

"Although the Air Force offers many advantages to the officer, it also charges him with many responsibilities." Winner of the Commandant's Award—as the outstanding cadet of the Summer Camp—was Cadet Carl E. Franklin. Cadet Russell L. Keeling was presented the AF Times Award, for his contribution to morale and esprit de corps.

William M. Engle won the Athletic Award. Cadet Nathan B. McClain was presented the Marksmanship Award.

Three cadets receiving commissions as second lieutenants were: Frederick J. Hess Jr., St. Louis University; Joseph E. Murphy Jr., also of St. Louis University; and Creighton W. Pendarvis, Washington Washburn University.

Major Flavious F. Drake administered the oath of office to the commissioned cadets. Col. Whipple presented the certificates of commission.

Lt. Col. Bedford R. Underwood, Camp Commander, read the certification of completion for all cadets attending camp.

Railroad Bill May Not Be Ready In Time

WASHINGTON (AP)—In February, 1959, the railroads asked leaders of on-train unions to join them in asking President Dwight D. Eisenhower to name a special commission to study the railroad work rules problem.

What began then could end in a crippling, nationwide strike on virtually all of the major railroads next Thursday.

Standing in the way—and probably the last barrier—is a bill now before Congress to set up machinery for binding arbitration in the four-year long dispute.

Should the bill, which reaches the Senate floor on Monday, be passed in time there will be no strike. Democratic congressional leaders have their hopes, but Republicans their doubts, that the bill will be passed in time.

Another possibility, of course, is that the carriers would call off the dogs to force their new work rules in anticipation that the bill, slowed down only by legislative machinery, definitely would be passed.

A spokesman for the carriers, meanwhile, confirmed that they had posted or were posting job-eliminating work rules changes to go into effect at 12:01 a.m. next Thursday.

The unions have been authorized for some time to walk out as soon as the changes go into effect.

No meetings between the two sides or between their representatives and department of labor officials were scheduled for the weekend.

There was little comment from Congress members who have been fervently hoping a voluntary agreement would spare them a hard choice. Lacking such an agreement it appears they must vote for a compulsory settlement and thereby strike a blow at the right to strike or vote against such a settlement and thereby expose the nation to a strike which President Kennedy and many others regard as economically intolerable.

The five on-train unions added nothing to their statement of Friday denouncing the bill, which calls for binding arbitration by a seven-man board. They called it compulsory arbitration and said it could do great damage to free collective bargaining.

logged into the air by the drilling rigs. STOPPED Just before noon the 26-inch drilling was stopped, at about the point outlined in advance. The plan then called for a conference to either continue at a slightly smaller width—24 inches or (2) go to 17 inches.

The decision was for the smaller hole, but to make it 17 1/2 inches for a little extra margin so that the capsule wouldn't be caught. Everything seemed running right on schedule.

As dusk approached, however, there was no action from the giant drilling rig. Then Dr. H. E. Charnbury, state mines secretary, announced that it had been found necessary to bring in a 30-inch drill. This would take several hours, he said.

He described it as a "very serious setback" but said it did not jeopardize chances for the release of Throne and Fellin. In case of a cave-in, he said, "we'd lose everything we had."

As the work on enlarging the hole went on from above, Throne and Fellin could be heard throughout much of the day pounding and sawing in their 14-foot-by-9-foot cubicle below.

LOWERED Timbers and other materials were lowered to them before the bottom of the 12-inch shaft was closed with their help. The enlarging operation releases tons of debris into the hole.

A 26-inch was stopped at the 38-foot level.

The decision was for a smaller bit—but at a 17 1/2-inch width to provide better clearance for the capsule. Charnbury said the 26-inch bit was wobbling so badly that "we had to stop the drill to prevent it from snapping off."

The escape capsule, which has been here for days, is made of steel and is pointed at both ends, to cut down the possibility of be-

....It Takes Some Doing To Get Ready For Another Year Of School

Judy Jordan, left, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jordan, and a second grader in the Immaculate Heart of Mary School, is busy as a bee stocking up on supplies she will need in school this week. With Gary Mears, second from left, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. J.

Mears and a 10th grade student in Big Spring High School, it was a case of getting his eyes checked before tackling another year's study. Boys always have been rough on shoes, and Johnny Earley, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Earley, tries on a pair he'll need when he starts his fourth grade work at Coahoma Elementary School. At right, Barbara Tubbs gets her booster shot while her sister, Roxie, waits her turn. Actually, there were two others in the family of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tubbs who were on hand for the same immunization chores. Barbara is a ninth grader at Goliad and Roxie is in the fifth grade at Park Hill. (HERALD STAFF PHOTOS)

Teachers Meet Monday, Classes Start Wednesday

School facilities get into full swing this week as teachers start work Monday with orientation and a general faculty meeting and students report for classes Wednesday.

High School Schedules

Schedules will be distributed to high school students Monday and Tuesday, Harold Bentley, assistant principal at senior high announced. Sophomores will report at 11 a.m. Monday to the high school auditorium, and juniors at 5 p.m. The seniors are asked to report at 5 p.m. Tuesday. The late afternoon times for juniors and seniors were set because more of them might be on summer jobs. Bentley urged those who are to see if they can get off just a little early in order to make the meetings.

In addition to distributing the class schedules, there will be orientation and other pre-school instructions.

New teacher orientation begins at 9 a.m. Monday at the Howard County Junior College Student Union Building. Sebron B. Williams, assistant superintendent of the Big Spring Independent School District, will preside.

Williams will also give the teachers a preview of the local school system after they are welcomed into the system by S. M. Anderson, superintendent. Pat Murphy, assistant superintendent of business, will discuss finances and business.

Orientation on the various school levels will be handled in separate group meetings. Elementary teachers will meet in the cafeteria for a discussion by Dr. Len Ainsworth. S. A. Walker will talk to Goliad Junior High teachers in the snack bar and R. T. Newell will address Rannels teachers in Parlor A. John Smith will meet with high school teachers in Parlor B.

During the afternoon, a general faculty meeting begins at 1:30 p.m. in the same building. The first day of classes Wednesday. They are the new wing at Marcy Elementary, which is already completed although it has not been formally accepted by trustees, and the new Kentwood Elementary School.

"I have been given assurance by the contractor and architects that the Kentwood school will be ready for occupancy Wednesday, even though there are minor details which will have to be completed later when school is not in session," Anderson said.

Because the space will not be available until Wednesday, Kentwood students — grades 1-4 — will register Wednesday when they report for classes. Should unexpected trouble delay completion of work, the students may be transported in classroom groups to other facilities. Space is currently available at Marcy, Park Hill, College Heights and South Ward.

Alpine Area Comfortable

By The Associated Press

A weak cool front drifted into the Texas Panhandle and South Plains Saturday, setting off scattered thundershowers that sent temperatures dipping a bit.

But for the most part Texas sweltered again in dry August heat with no end in sight.

Wichita Falls, in North Central Texas, felt the heat the hardest with a 106-degree high. Presidio had 105, Childress 104, Fort Worth 103, Dallas 102, Laredo and Mineral Wells 101 and Lubbock 100.

Probably the most comfortable spot in the state Saturday was Alpine, a Davis Mountain area city. There the mercury got down to an early morning 84 and never reached higher than 89 later in the day.

The Weather Bureau expected the cool front to slip farther southward but with little effect on the state's overall weather picture.

Meanwhile, a few isolated thundershowers continued over portions of extreme Southwest Texas and along the middle and upper Texas coast Saturday evening.

Skies were either clear or partly cloudy.

Texas Retail Sales Take Unexpected July Spurt

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas retail goods sales which rose to an estimated $654.4 million in July, the Bureau of Business Research said Saturday.

The estimated total of $1,132.2 million in retail sales in July was an increase of 2 per cent over June and up 7 per cent from July, 1962. Sales for seven months are up 3 per cent over last year.

"The summer months are ordinarily below average for retail business in Texas, but this July was an exception," the University of Texas agency said. "July gains were reported by almost all kinds of business except auto dealers. Sales of automotive stores have, for many months, provided the main upward force in retail business in the state.

"Because of the decline in sales of automobiles, the estimate of total durable goods sales in Texas declined one per cent in July to $488.8 million. This drop was more than offset by a four per cent increase in total nondurable goods sales which rose to an estimated $654.4 million in July."

Nationwide retail sales in July increased only one per cent over June.

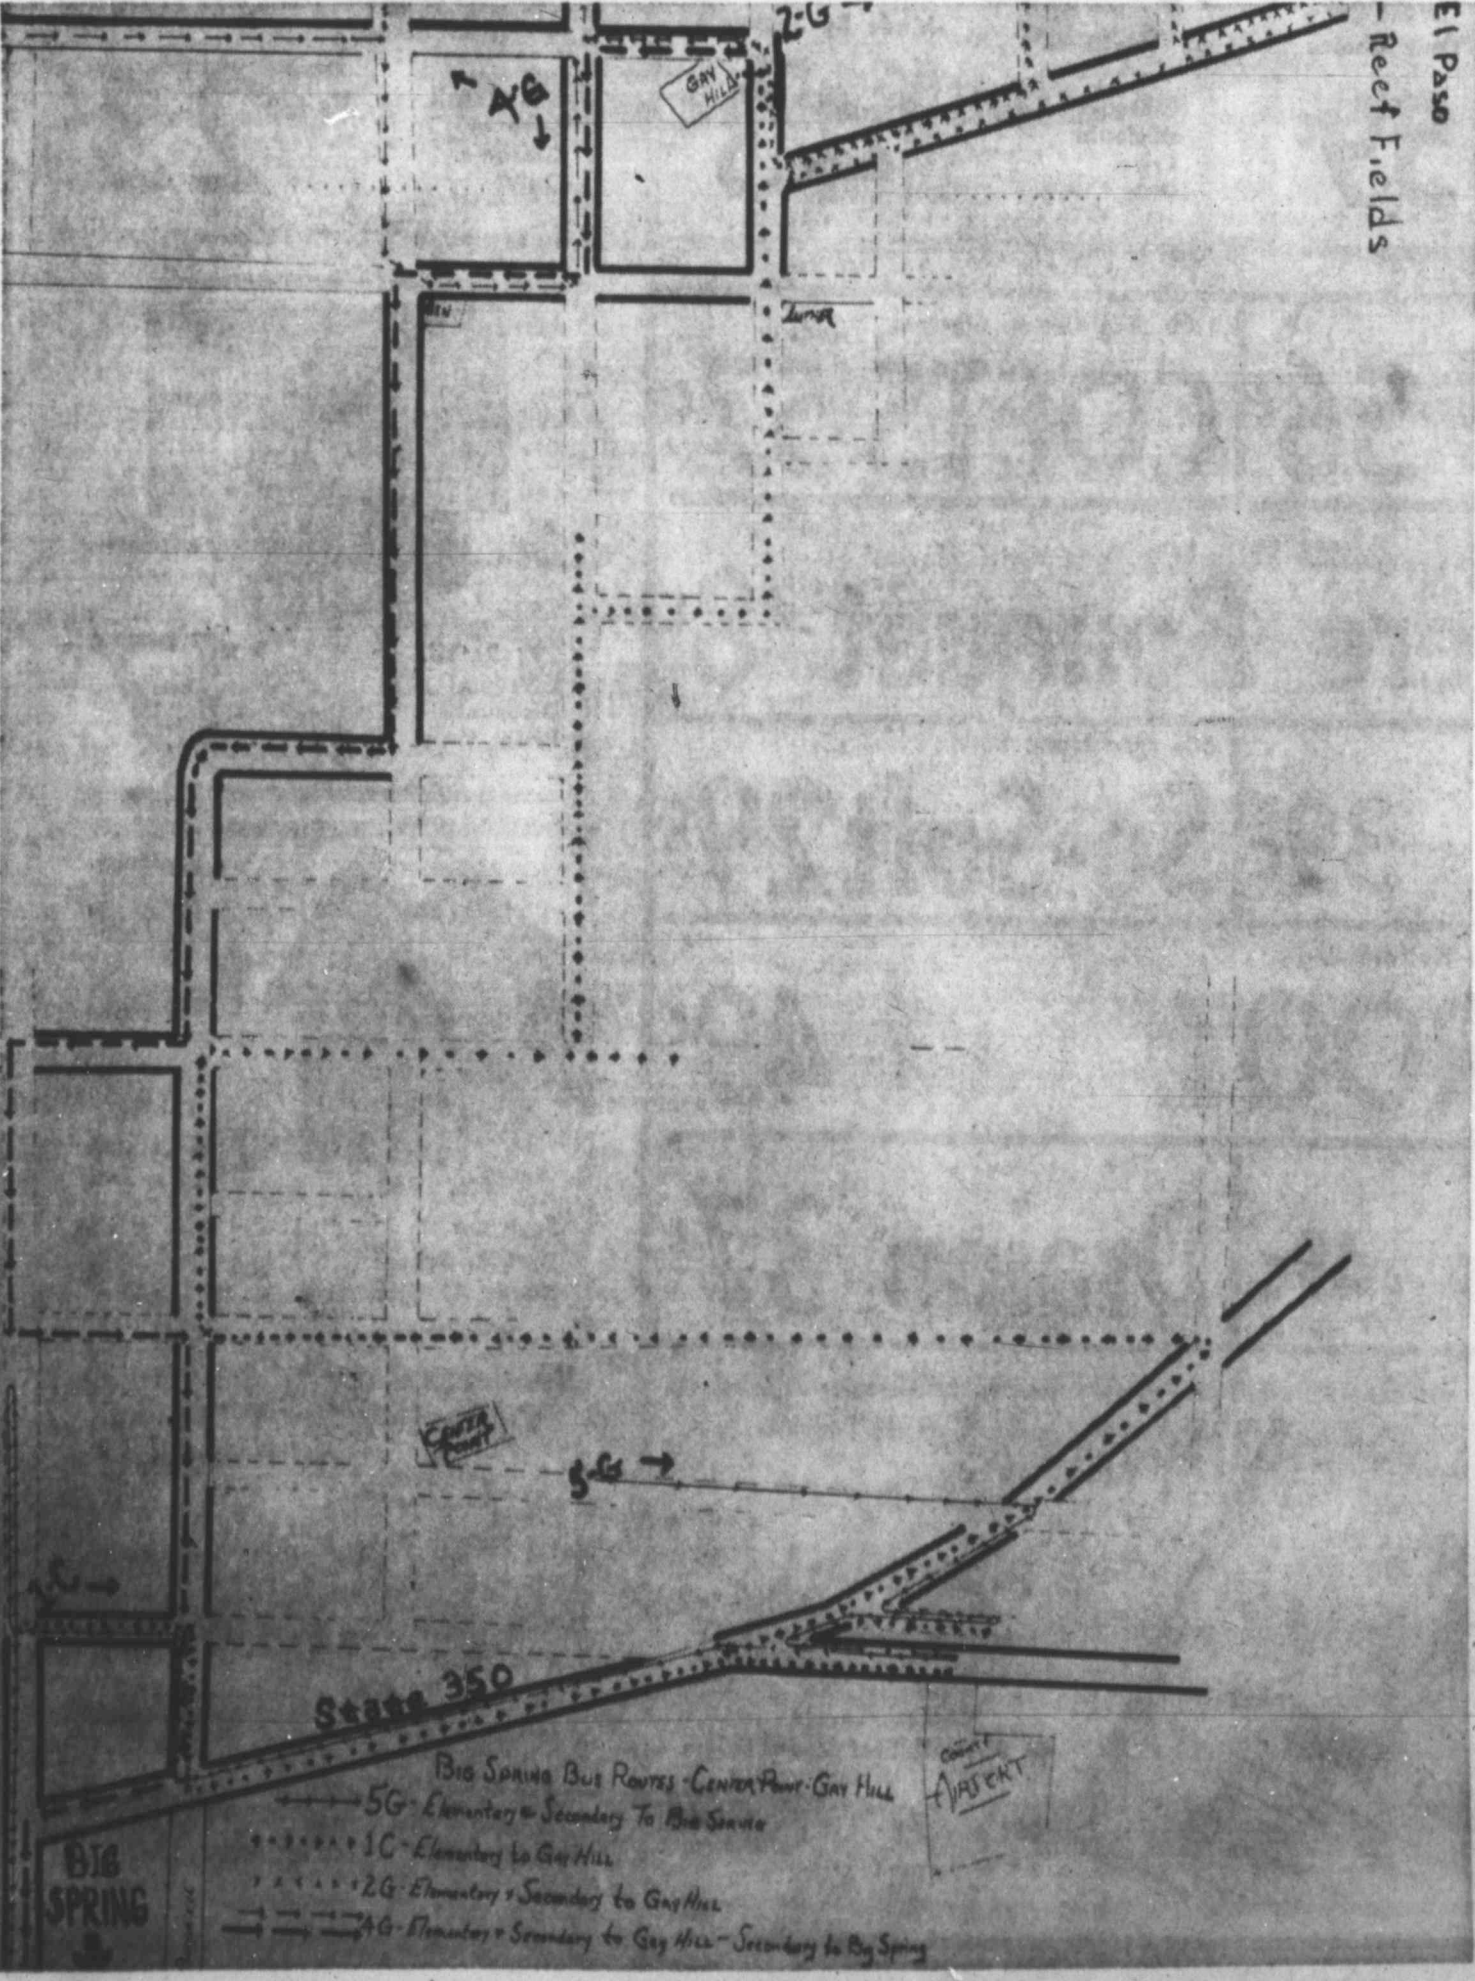

Among the larger cities, Houston and Fort Worth had a five per cent increase in total July retail sales over June. The Fort Worth total was 10 per cent over July, 1962 and the seven month total was up seven per cent from last year. The Houston July total was one per cent over July 1962 and the seven month total appreciably unchanged over last year.

Dallas retail sales in July were 4 per cent over June, 7 per cent over July of 1962 and the seven month total was up 3 per cent.

San Antonio retail sales were down one per cent from June, up two per cent from July of 1962 and the seven month total was unchanged.

Bus Routes Drawn For New Area

Map Shows Routes Of Three Buses

Bus routes, many following uncharted and undesignated roads, prove difficult to describe. In an effort to clarify the routing of buses for the newly-annexed Gay Hill and Center Point areas, administrators of the Big Spring Independent School District have worked out the accompanying map and its explanation.

During the 1963-64 school year elementary students living in the Center Point area south of the Center Point School road will have a choice of schools to attend. The routing for these and other students follows.

Bus 5G—This bus leaves the Center Point School area at 7:30 a.m. and arrives at Big Spring at 8:30 a.m. It travels east past the Ray Walker residence to the Snyder Highway, then travels southerly on the highway serving pupils in adjacent areas along the route. It will serve all secondary students and those pupils in grades 1-6 who choose to attend Boydston Elementary School.

Bus 1C—The bus leaves the point marked 1-C on the map at 7:50 a.m. and arrives at school at 7:50 a.m. It travels essentially the same route as bus 5G, but in an opposite direction along the Snyder Highway to the Coahoma District line, then west to Gail Road, then northerly to Gay Hill as indicated on the map. It will serve all pupils in grades 1-6 who attend Gay Hill School.

Bus 2G—Departure time is 7 a.m. with scheduled 7:50 a.m. arrival at Gay Hill. This bus starts in the Gay Hill area as designated and serves the easterly area to Reef Field and El Paso, returning to Gay Hill. It serves pupils in all grades in that area.

Bus 4G—This bus leaves the designated location at 7 a.m. and arrives at Gay Hill at 7:50 a.m. It serves the westerly area using Gail Road, Vealmoor Road and others as marked, returning to Gay Hill. It also serves all grades. Upon arrival at Gay Hill School, the bus transports all secondary school pupils from the Gay Hill area and south through Center Point to Big Spring as indicated on the map. It leaves Gay Hill at 7:50 a.m. and arrives in Big Spring at 8:30 a.m.

Mr. Jones came to Big Spring from Wickett. He retired in El Paso 10 years ago. He was a member of the Masonic Lodge.

He was born Dec. 1, 1888 in Longton, Kan.

Funeral services will be held in Alamogordo at 10 a.m. Monday, and the remains will be sent to Big Spring. Masonic graveside services will be conducted in the Big Spring City Cemetery at 2 p.m. Tuesday, under the direction of River Funeral Home.

He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Delpha Jones.

Texas Holds Lead In Oil And Gas

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas as usual is the top oil and gas state, a new report shows. The report by the Independent Petroleum Association of America puts the state far in front in estimated value, at the well, of oil and natural gas production in 1962. The figure was $3,951,874,000.

and gas producing state for more than 30 years. In 1925 California held that position. Of the Texas total for 1962, the report showed, $2,800,150,000 came from crude oil. Louisiana was in second place with a value of $2,286,193,000, of which $1,521,768,000 was in crude. Next came California with $884,421,000; Oklahoma, $755,873,000; New Mexico $447,605,000; Kansas, $425,884,000, and Wyoming, $397,493,000.

Tennessee was last among the 33 oil and gas states with an estimated value of $61,000. The IPAA figures for 1961 gave Texas $3,902,285,000. Louisiana also was in second place that year with $1,998,685,000 and California third with $962,145,000.

Nationally, the IPAA said, 1962 oil production was valued at $10.6 billion, nearly 60 per cent of the value of the total U.S. minerals output. The report figured that the average field price of crude oil in 1962 was $2.90 a barrel compared with $2.89 a year earlier.

Sun Completes Holt Strike

Sun Oil Company has completed a lower Holt gas-distillate discovery in the multipay Emperor area of Winkler County at No. 24-B S. M. Halley, six miles south of Kermitt. It is also a gas producer from the upper Yates sand. The lower Holt potential for a daily flow of 2,130,000 cubic feet of gas, on a 19-64-inch choke and from perforations at 4,887-97 feet, with a gas-distillate ratio of 234-500-1.

absolute open flow of 6,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily with a gas-distillate ratio of 100,000-1, from perforations between 5,210 and 5,225 feet, which had been treated with 1,000 gallons of acid. Dual completion as the third Harkey sand oil producer for the field is planned. That section now is flowing back load and residue from perforations between 4,642 and 4,647 feet after a 250-gallon acid wash and a 5,000-gallon fracture.

Original completion in the upper Yates in May was for a calculated, absolute open flow of 835,000 cubic feet daily through perforations at 2,398-2,408 feet, after a 20,000-gallon fracture. Other producing horizons in the area include Yates, Holt and lower Clear Fork oil zones and Wolfcamp, Devonian, Fusselman, McKee, Waddell and Ellenburger gas-distillate pays.

The location is 2,200 feet from north and east lines of C. M. Dunn survey 546, seven miles northeast of Christoval. Burleson & Huff of Midland will drill No. 1 England-Federal as a 1,100-foot San Andres wildcat in Reeves County, New Mexico, 11 miles north of Acme.

M., with an increase of three—from 36 to 39—ranked first in the area.

Gaines County, also showing a gain — up four — from 14 to 18 moved into second position. Ector County, with 16 on the last two counts, was third. The county-by-county survey, with previous totals in parentheses, includes: Andrews 10, (9); BORDEN 1, (1); Chavez 1, (1); Cochran 1, (1); Coke 1, (2); Concho 6, (1); Crane 11, (11); Crockett 5, (6); Crosby 1, (1); Culbertson 1, (1); DAWSON 4, (4); Ector 16, (16); Eddy 7, (1); Fisher 4, (4); Gaines 18, (14); Hockley 1, (1); HOWARD 5, (5); Kent 6, (3); Lea 39, (36); Loving 3, (1); Lubbock 1, (1); MARTIN 2, (1); Midland 1, (2); MITCHELL 1, (2); Nolan 2, (3); Pecos 13, (14); Reagan 2, (1); Reeves 5, (6); Roosevelt 1, (2); Rounsell 3, (3); Santa Fe 1, (0); Schleicher 1, (0); STERLING 2, (2); Stonewall 2, (2); Terrell 3, (2); Tom Green 1, (1); Upton 6, (5); Ward 11, (13); Winkler 6, (5); Yoakum 7, (7). Polystyrene Briefing Is Given ABC Club Thursday

A briefing on the history of the polystyrene industry, together with the aims and ambitions of the visionary men who have made it a marketable product, was given to members of the American Business Club at their noon luncheon Friday at the Settles Hotel by Les Beauvais. Beauvais, superintendent of the polystyrene division of Cosden Oil and Chemical Co., here, said output of the product has now reached 1.2 billion pounds a year in the United States and improved manufacturing techniques practiced locally was helping Cosden command an ever increasing share of the market. The margin of profit on such materials is much smaller now than it was a decade ago, due principally to the fierce competition within the industry, the speaker stated. The polystyrene plant at Cosden was not completed until 1958, Beauvais said, but the local concern has improved its product to the point where it compares favorably with any being manufactured in this country. Beauvais' talk also dealt with other by-products of the petroleum industry and to what use they are being put locally and nationally. He said Big Spring and Howard County was now in a favorable position to bid for plastic fabrication plants, now that the excellence of the polystyrene product — as manufactured locally — had been established. Beauvais was introduced by Bill Bradford, who suggested the polystyrene industry could have a profound effect on the local economy within the next ten years. Johnny Johnson, first vice president of the club, presided in the absence of Bob Hickson.

Association Sets Meet Sept. 23-25

DALLAS—Leaders in Texas' oil and gas industry will gather in Houston Sept. 23-25 for the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association's 44th Annual Meeting for discussions of economic and regulatory issues affecting the nation's Number One producing state. Carl E. Reistle Jr., Houston, president of Humble Oil and Refining Company, will be chairman of the general arrangements committee for the statewide assembly of oil men. The Rice Hotel will be headquarters for the meeting. Various association committee meetings will be held September 23, followed by a special reception that evening. General business sessions are scheduled for the next two mornings. The annual Association golf activity is set for the afternoon of Sept. 24 with a luncheon and style show for the ladies for noon that day. A membership dinner-dance will be held that evening. At the final session two outstanding oil industry figures, one independent and one major company representative, will be presented the Association's Distinguished Service Award. Election of officers, including a successor to President J. Clyde Tomlinson, now closing out his second year in the post, will be held at the Wednesday session.

Conoco Reports Abo Producer

Continental Oil Company has completed No. 14-B M. E. Baish-Federal as a 3/4-mile northeast extension and the third Abo producer in the multipay Maljamar field of Lea County, New Mexico. On the potential test it produced 246 barrels of oil, flowing through a 14-64-inch choke and perforations between 8,928 and 8,964 feet, with gas-oil ratio of 1,602-1. The well is four miles south of Maljamar and 660 feet from north and 1,650 feet from west lines of section 22-175-32e. It is a re-completion of a former Devonian producer from pay at 11,434-460 feet, completed in June, 1960 for a daily flowing production of 272 barrels of 51-gravity oil.

Oil Drilling Rigs In Use Reported In Sharp Decline

By MAX B. SKELTON HOUSTON (AP)—The number of oil drilling rigs in use in the United States is declining sharply. Rigs are being abandoned, junked, sold, and reclaimed by creditors. The weekly average for rotary rigs in use in 1962 was 39 per cent below the all-time peak set in 1956. The 1963 weekly average to date is running 10 per cent behind 1962. Officials of the American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors say, without alarm, the trend will continue at least a while longer. They indicate the continuation will lead eventually to better days for contractors. Warren Baker, association executive vice president, said this week an excessive number of rigs are still contesting for work. "More rigs must pass out of the picture before the intense competition for work shows signs of abating," he said. "Much progress toward achieving a balance between available rigs and rig needs has been made and will continue to be made in coming months." The 46,600 well completions last year represented the fifth decline in the six years since the industry drilled a record 58,259 wells in 1956. Another decline is indicated for 1963. Current estimates of 1963 completions range only from 43,200 to 44,700. Long range forecasts indicate any increase the next several years will be very gradual, barring an international emergency.

Midland Project May Have 3 Pays

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 1 Bertha Kessler and others, Midland County wildcat, one mile southwest of Midland, has shown possibilities of being a three-pay discovery. The important exploration already has proven for flowing gas and oil production in the Fusselman and indicated gas and distillate production in the Devonian. Now the Ellenburger has surfaced gas and recovered oil and some salt water. Operator now is taking a series of electric logs. Then casing will be set at total depth of 12,975 feet and the three zones which have indicated discovery production will be tested through perforations. A five-hour drillstem test was taken on the Ellenburger at 12,944-975 feet. A 1,000-foot water cushion was used. There was a weak blow of air immediately, which increased to a strong blow. The maximum flow, gauged at the end of five hours, was at the daily rate of 25,000 cubic feet. After 10,050 feet of gas-filled drill pipe had been pulled the project unloaded an unestimated amount of gas-cut oil and gas-cut water cushion. That was followed by reversing out 1,430 feet of oil and water cushion. Recovery from below the circulating sub was 450 feet of mud and gas-cut salt water. Initial and final hydrostatic pressure was 6,100 pounds. Initial shut-in bottomhole pressure, in one hour, and final shut-in, after four hours, was 6,110 pounds on both gauges. Flowing pressure was between 194 and 1,130 pounds. No. 1 Kessler developed a significant flow of gas and oil in a 45-minute drillstem test of the Fusselman at 12,462-520 feet. Gas surfaced in three minutes through a 5/8-inch bottomhole and one-inch surface choke. Oil came to the top in 15 minutes. It was flowed to pits six minutes and then turned to the separator and tank for 22 minutes. A gas flow of 16,000,000 cubic feet daily—which still was increasing—was gauged. Fifteen barrels of 50-gravity oil was recovered during the 22 minutes, with an undetermined amount of the petroleum fluid being lost with the gas. A surface flowing pressure of 370 pounds was recorded on a two-inch orifice. An unestimated amount of gas and 15 barrels of oil were recovered. Recovery from below the circulating sub was 60 feet of oil and gas-cut drilling mud. There were no signs of formations of water. Initial hydrostatic pressure was 5,905 pounds and final hydrostatic was 5,773 pounds. One-hour initial shut-in bottomhole pressure was 5,483 pounds. Final shut-in, after 67 minutes, was 5,328 pounds and was increasing when the topi was closed. Earlier the wildcat indicated possible Devonian gas and distillate production in the Devonian on a four-hour and 45-minute drillstem test at 11,794-938 feet. Gas surfaced in seven minutes at the rate of 23,400 cubic feet daily, through a one-eighth-inch choke. The gas flow leveled at 23,000 cubic feet on a three-quarter-inch choke, after four hours. Recovery included scattered pockets of gas throughout the drillstem, plus 340 feet of heavily gas and distillate-cut mud. A second drillstem test in the Devonian at 11,949-12,050 feet was open five and one-half hours. There was a strong blow of air in two minutes and gas surfaced in 85 minutes. The gas gauged 12,900 cubic feet daily at the end of the test, on a five-eighth-inch bottom and one-eighth-inch top choke. Recovery was 90 feet of gas cut-mud and 390 feet of gas and mud-cut salt water. No. 1 Kessler is 990 feet from north and 1,010 feet from west lines of section 8, block 39, T-2-S, T&P survey.

Survey Reports On Waterfloods

A recent oil survey of oil field secondary recovery projects of Jones County showed that prior to 1958 this county had 19 waterfloods involving 4,510 acres affected by water injection. Since 1958 there have been 10 waterfloods started affecting approximately 842 acres. These newly initiated water floods ranged in depth from 1,650 to 2,000 feet. Four of the waterfloods were initiated in solution gas drive oil reservoirs, three were initiated in gas expansion reservoirs and three were a combination of both. Nine of the floods were closed systems and one open system. Paul B. Crawford, assistant director of Texas Petroleum Research Committee, reported that additional information is available from TPRC Bulletin No. 60, "A Survey of Secondary Recovery" available for $3.06 from Texas A&M College.

Offshore Oil, Gas Field Found

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Pan American Petroleum Co. and Texaco have brought in a new oil and gas field off Louisiana. Pan Am and Texaco leased the offshore tract jointly from the government last year for $1,019,000. The wildcat was drilled about 100 miles south of Franklin in the Eugene Island area. Perforations between 7,918-9,712 feet rated a daily potential of 336 barrels at 27 gravity pipeline oil. The gas potential at 7,721-7,731 feet was rated at 2.9 million cubic feet and 24 barrels of 66 gravity condensate.

HOMER L. WILLIFORD

June 23, 1948, was a doubly memorable day for Homer Lee Williford. It was his 21st birthday as well as his first day with Cosden. Behind him were two years in the Navy which had included duty aboard a minesweeper and service in Japan. After a year on the yard, he became a utility man in the laboratory. Today he is a special tester in the chemical lab. Williford was born in Encinal but reared in Austin. His wife, the former Evelyn Frances Hutcheson, is the daughter of J. M. (Red) Hutcheson of Forsan, who is a 33-year veteran of Cosden's pipeline department. The Willifords make their home at 1105 Blackmon, and have two children. Homer Lee Jr., 15, is a ninth grader at Goliad Junior High, with a special interest in hunting. Belinda Susan, 12, is in the seventh grade and has had six years of piano lessons. Bowling appeals to their parents, both of whom are league members. Williford also golfs. The family attends Hillcrest Baptist Church.

MEET JET — TOMATO EATIN' POOCH
Coy Joe McCann and his 10-year-old canine friend

Pooch Likes His Fruits, Vegetables

By SAM BLACKBURN
Jet, 10 years old, has a well merited reputation for courage. He also is noted for his alertness.

In general Jet stacks up better than par as a watchdog and don't let his smallness fool you—Jet knows not the meaning of fear.

So, when Mrs. R. W. McNew, 510 Douglas, found the birds and other varmints making raids on her fruit trees and tomato plants, she was happy to accept a suggestion by young Coy Joe McCann, 12, her grandson.

"I'll bring Jet over," said Coy Joe, "and he'll keep the birds and things away from the peaches and tomatoes."

And Jet has certainly kept the birds and other pests out of the backyard.

THERE'S A CATCH
—But alas, Jet has an insatiable liking for (1) fresh tomatoes, (2) tree-ripened peaches, and, when available, (3) watermelon.

"It might be better," muses Mrs. McNew, "to let the birds alone and have Coy Joe take Jet back home."

Jet, who has "owned" the D. B. McCann family, and Coy Joe in particular, for all but 5 weeks of his life, is a small Chihuahua. He used to be inky black—hence the name—but the years are doing what the years do to everyone. There's a lot of grizzle showing up now.

Jet gathers the little ripe pear tomatoes from Mrs. McNew's vines and piles them neatly on the grass. Then he stretches out in solid comfort and eats the pile.

"If he finds one too green," observes Coy Joe, "he takes it back and places it in the tomato patch."

He's cleaned off all of the peaches on the trees' limbs within his reach.

"He was raised on baby food," observed Mrs. McCann. "Perhaps that's why he likes such un-canine food."

"One thing is certain," said Mrs. McNew, "he has no taste for meat or other food dogs are supposed to like. If I offer him meat, he nibbles at it briefly, and then goes and eats a tomato."

When Jet is home, he lives at 510 Goliad. He has a very dear friend there, a cross-eyed, crooked tailed Siamese cat, name of Sam. They used to sleep together until Coy Joe got a second dog. Sam refuses to share quarters with the newcomer, so a rift in an old friendship has developed.

Sam likes the sort of food cat's like. He hasn't let the somewhat way-out tastes of his friend Jet change his diet.

This doesn't particularly bother Jet. He just goes and gets himself a ripe tomato.

County Board Sets Meeting

Howard County School Board will meet Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. in the office of Walker Bailey, county superintendent.

Bailey said the principal business before the board would be consideration of requests for special transfers.

He said that these transfer applications are those which come in after the normal deadline. They require approval by the county board.

He said he has about 25 such applications on file. The schools, to which the applicant seeks to transfer, may protest if it so desires. There have been instances, he said, where such protests were presented.

INVITATIONAL TOURNAMENT STARTS FRIDAY

Three Muny Players May Land On Team

By TOMMY HART

At least two and perhaps three non-members of the Country Club may wind up on the local Fina-Cosden Cup team, which squares off with Dewey Burkhardt's visiting unit between 12:30 and 1 p.m. here Friday.

The matches, which will be over 18 holes, serves to get the 32nd annual Big Spring Invitational tournament off to a roaring start. The tournament itself extends through Labor Day (Monday, Sept. 2). The 32 players in the championship flight will decide a winner in 72 holes of medal play, 36 of which will take place the final day.

In other flights, matched play will determine the winner until the quarterfinals, after which the survivors will switch to medal play. Bernard Rains and Charley Bailey, whose home course is the Muny, are given excellent chances to rate the local Fina-Cosden team, which will be captained by Eddie Don Harris. Jimmy Newsum, another non-member, is in good shape to rate the ten-man squad.

Rains finished his required 72 holes of play Saturday and is in at 290. He started with a 69, then toured the course in 71, 75 and 75. Bailey has completed three rounds and has a 218. He started with a 78, then came up with a 72 and settled for a sizzling 68 his third time around.

Newsum has completed half his required play, and after having shot rounds of 74 and 75 for a 149. Jimmy Patterson still leads among those who have finished. His aggregate score was 283—one under par. Tommy Wilkerson is through, with a 289. Darryle Hohertz finished with a 290. Weldon Bryant came in with a 309 while Sam Thurman registered a 303 and Gil Jones a 305.

Frank and Son Powell have completed 54 holes, as has Dr. Robert Johnson. Frank has a 221, Son a 223 and Johnson a 222. W. E. Ramsey is making a spirited try for the club. He opened with a 77 and completed his second round in 75 for a 152 aggregate. No qualifying round for the cup matches can be played after Thursday.

A total of 73 players have already registered for the tournament itself. Sam Thurman leads the early qualifiers with a 77. Pro Jerry Green forecast that it might take a 76 or better to rate the championship flight.

Fine representatives in the tournament are expected from Colorado City, Lamesa and Odessa. The course is playing real well. Green said. The greens are tops and the fairways greened up fairly well after the recent heavy rain in the area.

Three top finishers in each flight qualify for awards, as does the medalist. The flight winners get sets of irons, valued at $160 each. Runnersup earn sets of woods and third place winners get golf bags. The medalist, who must shoot his score Friday in order to be eligible for the award, will probably get a wrist watch. The entry fee is $50, down $5 from a year ago—when only 140 players took part. This year's field is expected to exceed 200 and may hit 225.

A buffet dinner will be held at the club for entries after qualifying play is completed Friday. A dance is scheduled for Saturday night, from 9 to 12 midnight. A cocktail party is slated to get under way at 6:30 p.m. Sunday and continue for an hour.

Tommy Knight played the course Saturday and wound up with a 70. The San Angelo youth, champion of the Colorado City tournament earlier this year, has indicated he may play here. Harold Hall is tournament chairman while Gil Barnett of Fort Worth will serve as tournament starter. The rules committee consists of Gil Jones and Hall.

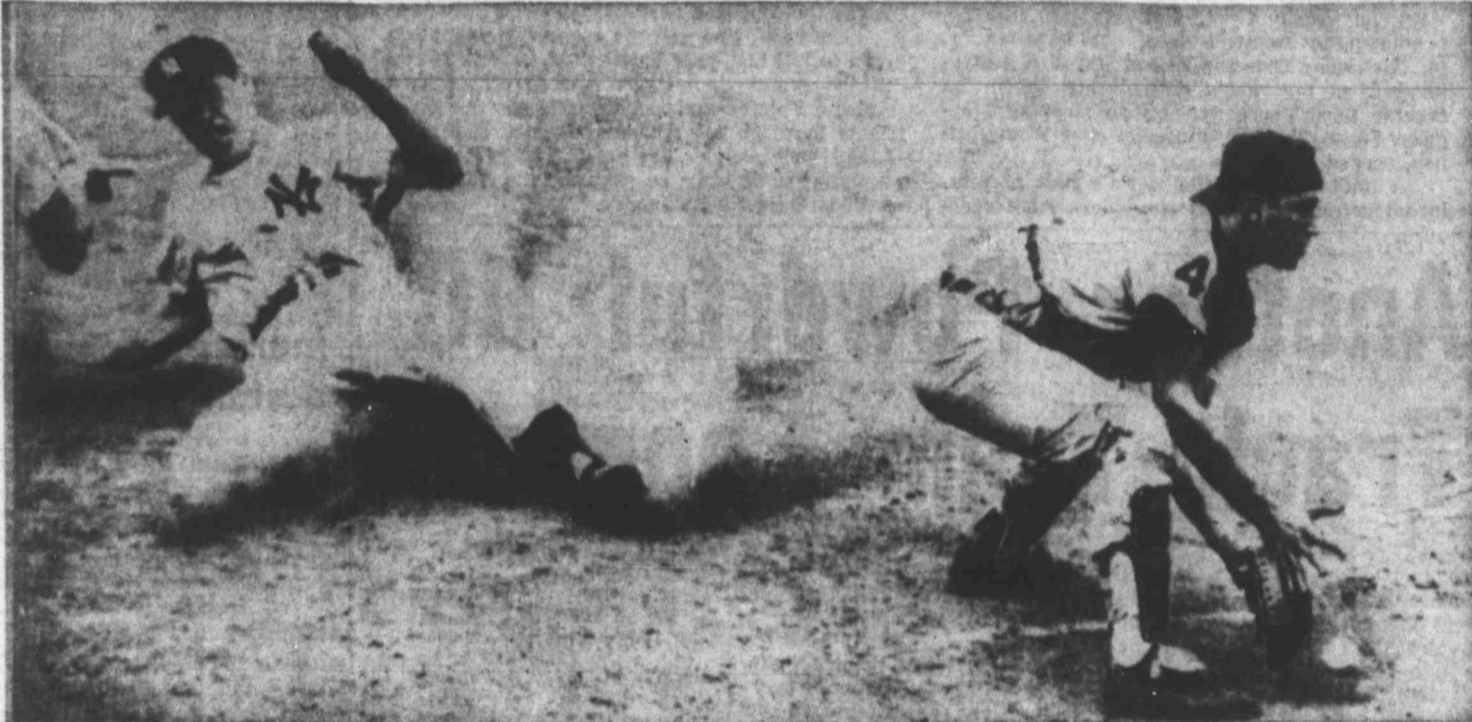

The entire field will play from the yellow markers throughout the tournament, Green stated.

Ford Records 18th Victory

NEW YORK (AP) — Whitely Ford won his 18th game with a six-hit shutout Saturday 3-0 over the Chicago White Sox. It was the second straight for the New York Yankees over the Sox and boosted their American League lead to 11½ games.

Ford struck out eight and yielded only one run.

Ray Herbert matched the Yankee left-hander until the fifth, when Phil Linz singled and went to second on a force out. Tony Kubek doubled Linz home and Bobby Richardson singled Kubek across.

Johnny Blanchard added a run for the Yankees in the eighth with his 13th homer.

John Pennel Shatters 17-Ft. Vault Barrier

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — With one perfect leap, handsome John Pennel made a big dream come true Saturday when he shattered the elusive 17 foot pole vault barrier and made it look easy.

With the bar set at 17 feet, three-fourths inch, the 23-year-old Miamian soared over it with magnificent ease on his first attempt and appeared to clear the bar by several inches.

Thirty minutes later, when he tried to push the world record still higher, his form deserted him and he failed in three attempts at 17 feet, 3/4 inches.

"I wanted that," the Northeast Louisiana State College athlete said with a broad grin as hundreds of yelling hometown admirers, including his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William O. Pennel, surged around him after his record vault at the University of Miami.

"This was a perfect day to wait," Pennel said. "The clouds covered the sun just before the jump and cooled it off. That helped a lot. And there was no wind at all."

Hall's Home Run Sinks Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—Jim Hall's two-out homer in the eighth inning broke up a pitching duel Saturday night and gave Lee Stange of the Minnesota Twins a 1-0 victory over the Baltimore Orioles and Dick Hall.

The result put the Twins in a second-place tie with the Chicago White Sox in the American League 12 games behind the New York Yankees, with Baltimore one percentage point back of the runners-up. The Yanks trimmed Chicago 3-0 in a day game.

Palmer Scorches Course; Johnny Pott Still Leads

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Arnold Palmer put on another fantastic drive to come within one stroke of front-running Johnny Pott Saturday after three rounds of the $50,000 American Golf Classic.

Shooting one of his best rounds of the year, Palmer canned birdie putts of 20-feet on the 17th green and 30 feet on No. 18. Earlier, he scored birdies with three 10-foot putts and one at 15 feet for 34-32-66 and a 54-hole total of 207.

Pott, the only man in the tournament with sub-par rounds the first two days, shot a 36-35-71 for a 206 total. Firestone's par 35-35-70 layout of 7,165-yards played exceptionally long because of heavy early morning rains and an on-and-off drizzle.

Pott started the day five under par and three strokes ahead of Bobby Nichols.

Nichols finished with a 34-36-70 for 208, one stroke behind Palmer in the chase for the top prize of $9,000 to be decided Sunday.

Pott, Palmer and Nichols were the only three to finish 54 holes under par. Julius Boros, the U.S. Open champion, had 37-33-70 and a 210 total for even par, one stroke ahead of Jack Nicklaus, PGA and Masters champion, who had a 37-34-71.

Palmer was one over par and six strokes behind Pott when the day's play began. After the first two holes, Palmer fell eight strokes behind with a bogey on the first hole, while Pott birdied No. 2.

Then came the rush. Palmer picked up three birdies and one bogey on the front nine and then bagged three birdies on the final four holes.

Tied with Nicklaus at 211 were Australian Bruce Crampton, Lionel Hebert and Harold Kneese. Crampton shot a 36-36-72 for his 211 total while Kneese came in with a 35-33-68 and Hebert with a 34-35-69.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Ex-Big Spring Joe Sibley's new boss at Galveston Ball High is Joe Fertitta, who formerly coached at a Catholic high school . . . Sibley replaced Don Smith, who quit to become a coaching aide to Warren Harper at Texas Western College . . . Incidentally, Ball High was picked dead last in the District 12-AAAA football poll . . . Galena Park was tabbed to win it all, with Texas City and Baytown listed as the chief contenders . . . Galena Park has won the conference crown two years running . . . One of the first things Sibley did after he arrived in Galveston was to call back here and ask for films on the Steers' game against Abilene . . . The defensive line the Longhorns did against the Eagles that night was one of the greatest in the school's history . . . Big Spring and Lamesa could set an all-time opening game attendance record here the night of Sept. 13 . . . Interest is reportedly at a peak in Lamesa . . . A record number of season tickets of Lamesa home games is almost sure to be sold . . . The Tornados have coach Don Robbins worried . . . Of Lamesa, he says: "If we don't win that one, we may not win any" . . . One observer said the San Francisco 49ers are probably called that because they rarely get over the 50-yard line . . . The surprise in scribe George Wallace's Fort Worth Star-Telegram District 2-AAAA analysis is not that Big Spring was picked to wind up seventh (writers on the paper have never regarded the Steers very highly) but that Midland Lee was the choice to finish dead last . . . There are those who reason that Lee will be among the conference's saltiest and no one, least of all Big Spring, taking the Rebels lightly . . . Ed (Strangler) Lewis, the former wrestling champion, now completely blind, stays busy lecturing on Christian Science . . . Of his affliction, Lewis says "If God wants me to see, I will see" . . . It is said Strangler made $15 million in the ring back in the days when the tax bite was light and a dollar was a dollar.

filled the bases with one out when he hit Felipe Alou, hit Jose Pagan and walked Norm Larker, pinch-hitting for winning pitcher Don Larsen.

Releiver Al Worthington struck out Harvey Kuenn but then Hiller lined his drive to right field, scoring Alou.

Larsen pitched brilliantly in relief, giving up only two hits in 7-2/3 innings and squaring his record at 5-5. Taitouris is 8-7.

Willie Mays rapped two hits for the Giants and climbed briefly above .300 for the first time since the second day of the season. He finished the game at .299.

HOWARD VAN LOON

Midland (M) - Poker-faced Don Iverson of Lacrosse, Wis., has proved conclusively that he's at his best when the golfing chips are on the stack.

The stocky 17-year-old, who resembles burley Jack Nicklaus trudging down a fairway, carved a three-under-par 69 Friday and won the International Junior Chamber of Commerce Tournament in a breeze. Nicklaus once won it.

Entering the final round deadlocked for the lead, Iverson birdied four of the first five holes and went on to win the championship by seven strokes.

D. Robbins Morose As Workouts Near

By PAT WASHBURN
Back in July when Don Robbins, head coach of the Big Spring Steers, was asked about his chances in the 1963 District 2-AAAA football race he laughed and replied jokingly:

"I'm hoping some of the boys will grow over the summer."

But miracles aren't destined to come true in Big Spring and now that the first day of practice is less than one week off, Robbins isn't laughing any more. A noticeable change has taken place lately, and instead of the usual easy-going, friendly personality he's suddenly become jumpy and irritable.

You can't really blame him when a quick check of the district reveals two of the top ten teams in the state. San Angelo's Bobcats are an all but unanimous choice to win the state crown and Midland High is ranked number 10.

Spier last year but when he left we lost all of our power. The fourth problem is simply that the team lacks good quickness and speed. We also don't have any depth."

Perhaps what speaks loudest, though, is a casual, off-the-cuff comment by a long-time West Texas sports writer: "He's one of the finest coaches in this area. You've always got to watch him—almost every year he's going to come up with a real contender and he's going to surprise you."

Offensively the line will be anchored around hefty tackle Thurman Randle, whose 235-pounds should make him one of the top "outside" men in the district. Randle, who's trimmed down from a herculean 270, shows good effort and should be a sparkplug on drives.

marks him down as "only an ordinary-sized guard. Smith is tough, he likes to play football, and he should live up to the label of 'one of the top hands.'"

Ann Welts Is Fem Champion

By BOB SALMON
Associated Press Sports Writer

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass. (AP)—Steady-playing Anne Quast Welts, a Mt. Vernon, Wash. schoolteacher, won her third Women's National Amateur golf title Saturday, beating spunky little Peggy Conley of Spokane, Wash., 2 and 1.

Mrs. Welts won the first hole of the 36-hole match from her 16-year-old opponent on Taconic Golf Club's 6,195-yard layout, then had to battle through 26 more holes before taking the lead again—this time for keeps.

Two down after 16, she applied the pressure with a sparkling run of par golf midway through the afternoon round. She also won the crown in 1958 and 1961.

Mrs. Welts, who had eliminated defender JoAnne Gunderson on Friday, clinched the title with a birdie 2 on the 165-yard 35th, sinking a 15-footer.

Miss Conley, making a game attempt to become the tournament's youngest winner in its 68-year history, ran into a pair of bogeys and two double bogeys.

from the 26th through the 30th and fell 3-down.

A speck of dirt which lodged under one of Miss Conley's contact lenses in the afternoon may have hastened her downfall.

She was dabbing at her eyes on both the 26th and 27th holes and retired to the clubhouse at the afternoon turn to wash out her eyes.

Mrs. Welts shot a five-over-par 77 in her morning round, was one over for her afternoon front nine, and wound up the day six-over-par.

Steer Tickets Ready Monday

Scotland Yard Gets Tip On Loot Cache

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard received a strong underworld tip Saturday that masterminds of the great mail train robbery have $5 million of the loot cached in London.

The Yard's 100-strong Flying Squad immediately fanned out through the city with orders to raid all likely hiding places. The squad is the elite detective team of the metropolitan police force.

So far police have recovered only $761,367 of the $7,200,000 stolen from a London-Scotland main line postal train Aug. 8.

Police picked up another man making a total of nine either formally charged or detained for questioning.

The man, Robert W. Pelham, 26, was taken to investigation headquarters at Aylesbury with police car from London and charged with receiving $1,542 of the hot money.

Still being questioned was an unnamed 32-year-old London hairdresser picked up in Leicester Friday.

Margaret Perkins, 19, blue-eyed friend of the hairdresser, said the two spent Friday evening celebrating her victory in a beauty contest in Manchester. Then she said police came and searched her home in Leicester.

"They went over the house thoroughly and turned my bedroom upside down," she said.

Three other men charged with taking part in the actual robbery, plus one man and three women accused of receiving part of the booty, were returned to jail after a brief court hearing. They will make another court appearance Sept. 2.

The British police net spread to Italy. Rome police began looking for two English-speaking men noticed by a waiter who served them in a roadside restaurant at Grosseto. The waiter said they resembled photographs of Bruce Reynolds and James White, two men wanted by Scotland Yard.

A Rome police spokesman said the Yard also had asked Italian detectives to be on the lookout for Roy John ("The Weasel") James, an amateur racing driver whose photograph also has been internationally circulated by British detectives.

A barbecue dinner, one of the features of the festival, will be served from 6 to 8 p.m. Andries said, "We are assured of even better barbecue and service this year than at any of the past festivals." Awarding of prizes will climax the festivities.

New games and entertainment have been added, including a food booth, cake walk, country store, fish pond, penny pitch, baseball throw, dart games, soft drink and snow cone stands.

"Games of chance and skill will line the midway, for a carnival air," Andries stated. "We try to make the festival fun for all ages, and we believe this year's will be the best."

Admission to the grounds is free. Barbecue tickets are $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Profits of the festival go to the building fund for payment on the new school cafeteria and auditorium.

FASHIONS FOLLOW TRUE TO THE NATIONS

By KATHLEEN DOZIER

In all parts of the world, fashions vie with international affairs for press prestige. As a result, the international flavor is pronounced in fall and winter designs.

From the lands of the mosques and the Ganges, the River Jordan, the Mediterranean, the River Seine and the dykes of Holland, not to mention the isles of the Pacific and Japan, the couturiers have borrowed details of design. There have been such trends heretofore in singular styles, but never before has there been such an international trend.

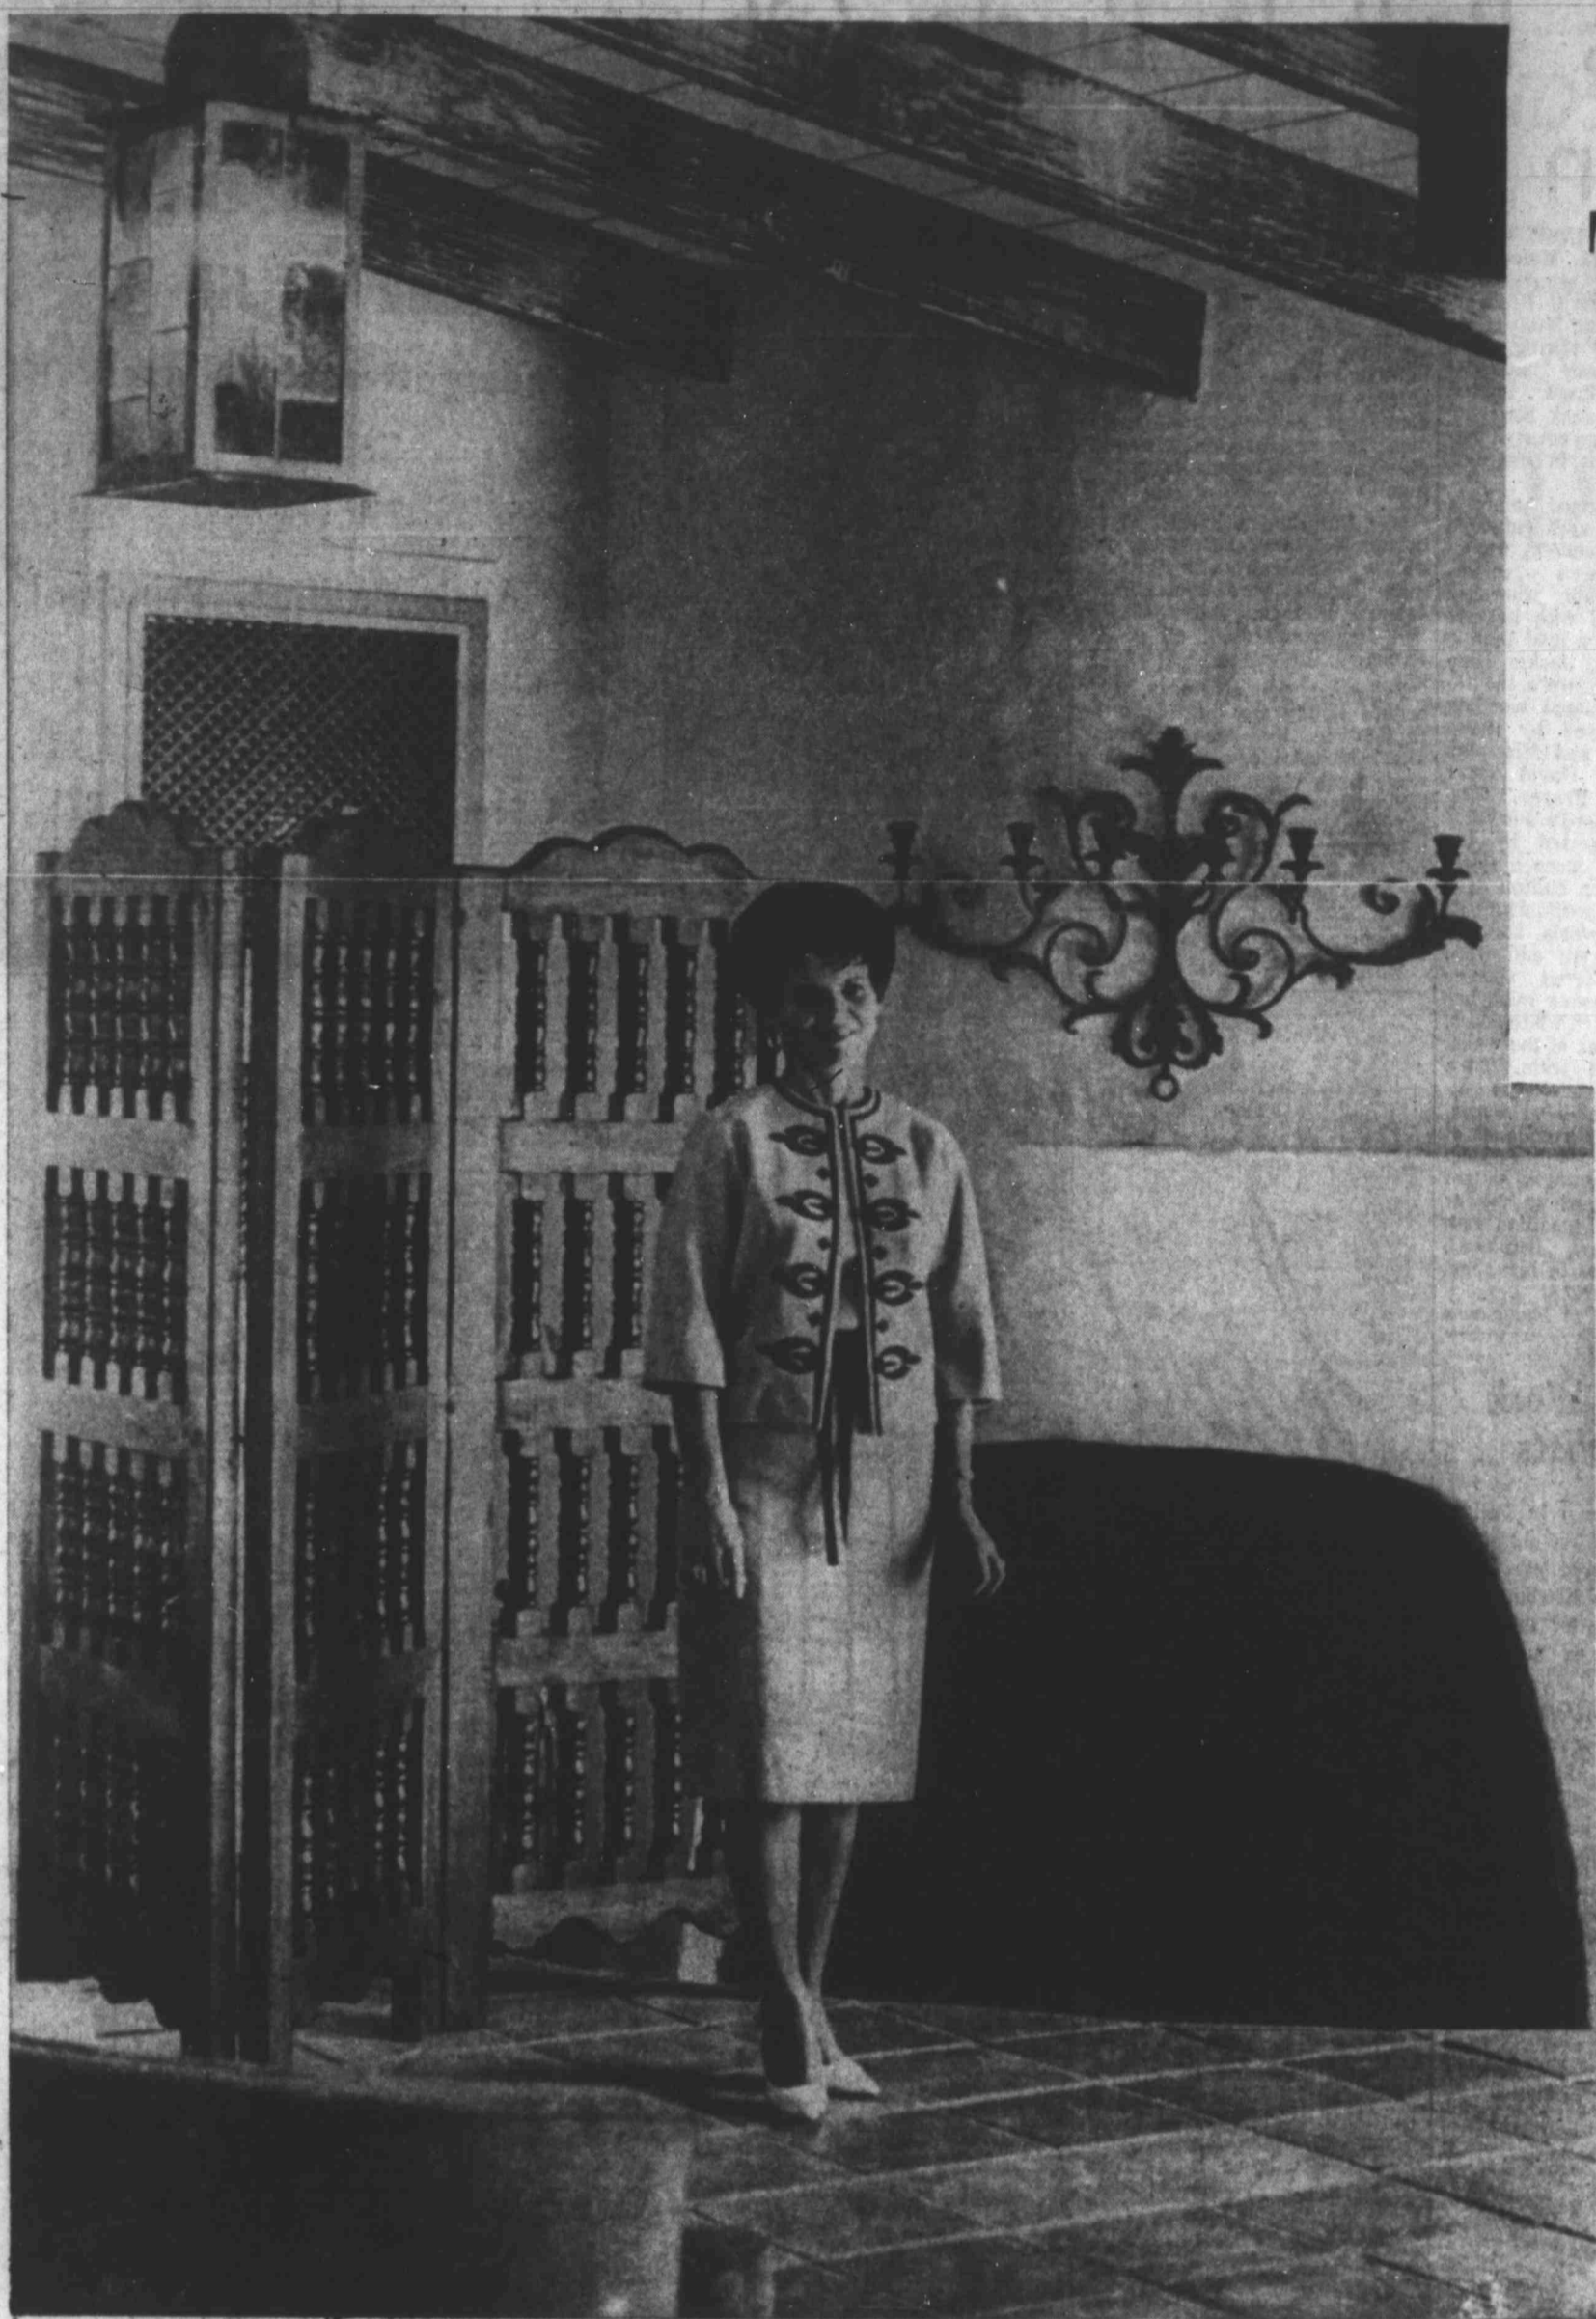

Thus, the individualist, the conformist, the conservative and the radical, each to her pleasure, is catered to this year of '63. In all directions and at all levels, the fashion scene is enhanced for fall and winter.

Fabrics are lush, plush and practical. They are brushed, piled, twisted and haired — bold and beautiful. Furs are extravagant and profuse.

Highlights are giant mufflers that wrap dashingly, plush stoles, trimmed hems, cuffs and gaiters. Oversized gold jewelry takes the lead in ornamentation which includes gypsy earrings and jet, pearl and gold clusters for evening wear. Another bright note is that for exquisite evening wear—three-strand necklaces of pearls and jet used to cap the head in Juliet fashion.

Double knits — the greatest since the invention of sheep and the discovery of cotton bolls — have an unmistakable foothold in the fabric field. Apparently they are here to stay until a finer fabric is found.

Herald Photos By Keith McMillin

MADRID OR MEXICO might have influenced the design of this bone-toned, double knit ensemble worn by Mrs. Delbert Stanley. From Zack's, the dress and jacket portray classic simplicity in design defined with contrasting trim of olive green suede. Flawless grooming with an ornamental touch noted in Mrs. Stanley's golden Gypsy earrings which are stressed in the fashion picture for '63.

THE UN has nebulous representation in the black, middy shift shown for Hemphill - Wells by Miss Robbie Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown of Knott. The double knit, fly-front dress is a nautical fashion with three-quarter, banded sleeves, collar and tie. Red, white and black stripes lend a bit of color at the V-neckline. It is a young-as-you-feel model and comfortably chic.

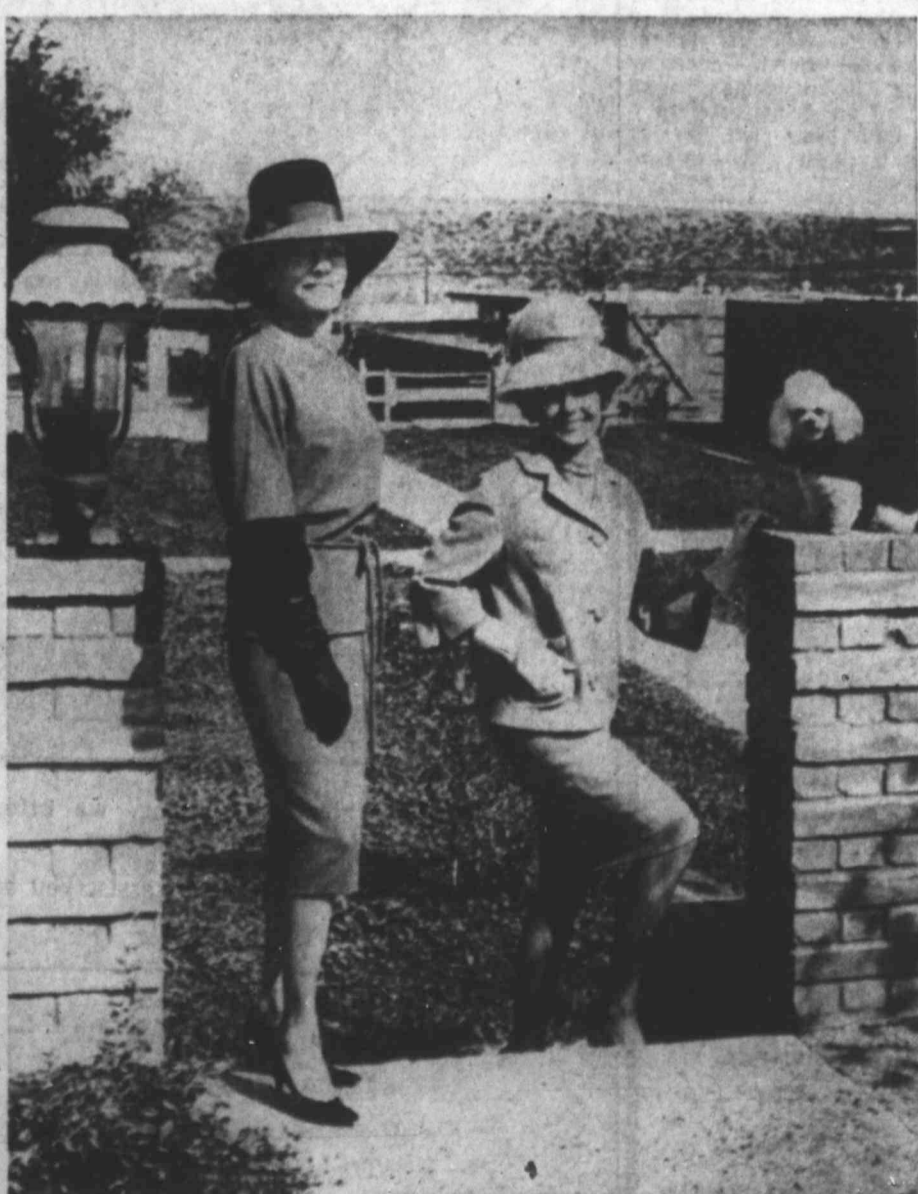

BELLS OF THE NATIONS ring out for the youthful coordinates. Miss Pamela Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Wilson Jr., is prepared for the approaching season with Slavic boots, Scotch plaid and an Alpine vested blouse. Red, blended with Oxford grey and white in the plaid wrap-around from Zack's, is repeated on the reverse side of the skirt and in the buttoned vest. Silver buttons trim the off-white long-sleeved blouse. The crushed calf boots, which zip in the back, are called How Wows.

VERY BRITISH appears Mrs. Rayford Harris in a vivid, red suit of soft wool flannel. Added loveliness is noted in the attached muffler and ornamental gold pin. It is just right with a black, domed hat attached in white, black calf bag and pumps and long, black gloves. Gay color and conservative design are mated in this go-everywhere suit. It is a morale builder and a perky complement to a noonday date, travel or Sunday morning services.

TRUE TEXANS, this mother and daughter team. Mrs. Modesta Simpson and her daughter, Mrs. Ronnie King, are perfectly suited by Swartz. Elegance on the West Texas scene, is marked in Mrs. Simpson's vicuna, split-level, two-piece dress with sleeves banded in natural nutria. With this she wears a Jan Leslie hat which combines a black velour crown and coffee-toned, stitched felt brim. Mrs. King's camel suit has a Chanel type jacket, beneath which she wears a fur blend, turtle-neck sweater. Also a Jan Leslie, her hat is a beige fedora of Mouflon. Poodle wear this year is poodle cloth with pom-poms and pocket for detail.

BIG SPRING, TEXAS, SUNDAY, AUGUST 25, 1963

MRS. ALVIN RANDELL HILTBRUNNER

Miss Britt Is Bride Of Alvin R. Hiltbrunner

Miss Betty Lois Britt, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcom W. Britt, Texarkana, became the bride of Alvin Randall Hiltbrunner, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Hiltbrunner, of Big Spring, in a double-ring ceremony Saturday at East Fourth Street Baptist Church. The Rev. Jack Strickland officiated in the ceremony performed at 8 o'clock in the evening.

Vows were exchanged before a white wrought iron arch entwined with garlands of greenery. On either side of the arch were arrangements of white showshoe gladioli interspersed with baskets of palms. Candelabra held lighted and Johnnie Billings were the taper lighters. Traditional wedding marches were played by Jerry Oliphant, organist, and Miss Jan Curry, pianist. David Vater sang "The Wedding Prayer," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The bride, escorted by the Rev. Haskell Beck, wore a floor-length gown of nylon chiffon over white satin. Lace appliques, outlined with seeded pearls, adorned the front of the dress and were repeated on the fitted sleeves which tapered to points over her hands. From clustered white roses, set lightly at the back of the waist, extended a ruffled train. The bouffant fingertip veil was attached to a pearl studded crown. The bride carried a bouquet of white orchids atop a white Bible. Miniature satin streamers caught in love knots formed a shower effect. She observed tradition with something old, new, borrowed, blue, and a sixpence in her shoe.

ATTENDANTS

The bride's maid of honor was Miss Geneva Whitefield of Dallas, and her bridesmaid was a sister, Miss Alice Britt, also of Dallas. The attendants wore identical street-length dresses of blue tinted satin. Their slippers were of matching shade, and headresses of blue net and satin bows complemented their costumes. The two carried matching bouquets of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Ray Hiltbrunner, brother of the bridegroom, was best man, and Charles Dunagan was groomsmen. Ushers were Jackie Hipp, Johnnie Billings, Barry Clayton and Don Richardson, all of Big Spring.

Following the ceremony, the bride's family was host at a reception in the church parlor. The bride's table, covered with a white linen cloth, contained a varied arrangement of gladioli, chrysanthemums and orchids, with burning white tapers in silver candelabra. The three-tiered wedding cake was decorated with white roses and topped with a miniature bride and groom.

Miss Dorothy Britt of Dallas, sister of the bride, presided at the bride's book. Alternating at the punch bowl were Miss Jo Nell Turner of McLean and Miss Glenna Box. Miss Betty Lichty and Miss Viola Rodriguez, both of Amarillo, served the cake. Others in the house party included Mrs. N. M. Hipp and Mrs. Ernest Box of Big Spring.

WEDDING TRIP

For travel the bride chose a jacket dress of olive green silk shantung. She pinned the orchid from her bridal bouquet at her shoulder.

After a short wedding trip the couple will be at home at 4100 West 8th in Amarillo, where the bride will be teaching and the groom will continue his studies as a senior at West Texas State University.

Out-of-town guests for the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Hinton and Donna Hinton of McLean, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Hiltbrunner of Odessa, Mr. and Mrs. Travis Lively of Midland, Miss Geneva Whitefield of Dallas, Miss Viola Rodriguez of Amarillo, and Miss Betty Lichty of Amarillo.

Vows Are Exchanged In Bowlin-Williams Rites

Marriage vows were exchanged by Miss Janice Margaret Bowlin and Wenzel Martin Williams Saturday evening at 7:30 o'clock in a ceremony performed at the First Methodist Church of Ackerly. The Rev. Albert Cooper, pastor, officiated for the nuptial rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bowlin, Ackerly. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Williams, Shallowater.

The ceremony was performed before an arch of greenery and white gladioli, flanked by spiraled candelabra.

Accompanied by Mrs. Mark Shaffer, pianist, Mike Bowlin, cousin of the bride, sang "Whither Thou Goest" and "O Perfect Love."

Mrs. Shaffer also played the bridal chorus from "Lohengrin" and "The Wedding March" from "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of white peau de soie with Victorian puffed sleeves stirred to the elbow and the belled skirt extended into a chapel train. Applied floral sprays of imported French lace accented the oval neckline, skirt and train. A rosebud head-dress secured her fingertip veil of illusion. A single strand of pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, was her only ornament.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white rosebuds.

Serving her sister as maid of honor was Miss Linda Bowlin. Her dress was of apple green tulle over taffeta, styled with belled skirt, rounded neckline and raglan sleeves. A small green veil was attached to her headband of white flowers and leaves. She carried a nosegay of white carnations.

Bridesmaids were Miss Daria Henderson, Shallowater; Miss Judy Brown, Ackerly; and Miss Junette Williams of Post, the bridegroom's sister. Their dresses and bouquets were identical to that of the maid of honor.

M. J. Williams served his son as best man, Ushers who also lighted the tapers were Jimmy Foerster and Walter Lupton, Shallowater, and Darris Egger Jr., Colorado City.

Fellowship Hall of the church, the bride and bridegroom were joined in the receiving line by their parents.

MR. AND MRS. JOE K. NEFF AND BYRON

He's Going To The Dogs-If They Can't Come To Him

By JO BRIGHT

Once in a while, Joe Neff receives a middle-of-the-night phone call from some fellow. When he quietly tries to slip out of the house, his wife suspects he's going to the dogs. He may be.

Neff is a veterinarian, so it could be dogs, horses or any kind of animal that he is off to care for at odd hours.

Like any other doctor, Neff keeps regular office hours. He is a partner in the operation of the Highland Animal Hospital, located south of town on the San Angelo Highway. However, like people, animals do not choose a time to be sick, so he is available to give medical care at whatever hour it is needed, if the case seems to be an emergency.

Such an emergency could be a Caesarian operation on a valuable cow or surgery for a dog that has been seriously injured by a car. "People now take more pride in and better care of their animals than they used to," explained Neff. "A good animal represents a sizeable investment which needs to be protected."

SERVES RANCHERS

This is particularly true in regard to ranchers and breeders. A cow worth hundreds of dollars may be saved for the herd by an operation to remove a cancerous eye—or a good horse could be cured of pneumonia by prompt medication.

Neff is prepared to handle either case. He does all the large animal surgery for the hospital, carrying his instruments with him in sterile packs at all times. His pickup also holds his medical box, a metal case containing drugs, tranquilizers and anesthetics. He makes "house calls" within a radius of 60 to 70 miles when an animal cannot be brought to the office.

Neff grew up in Colorado City, one of the nine children of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Neff. Following a tour of Army duty and a year of teaching, he attended Howard County Junior College and then went on to Texas A&M, where he graduated with honors from the School of Veterinary Medicine.

MARRIES A GARRETT

Mrs. Neff is the former Sue Garrett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Garrett, Coahoma. She was graduated from Hardin-Simmons University, where she majored in education and business education. While there, she was named University Princess and Circle-K Sweetheart. She was active in student organizations and social clubs, including the Delta and Eastern Star.

While teaching bookkeeping, typing and physical education at Forsan, she served as basketball coach for both the junior and senior high schools.

'ROUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

Some movie shots of all the new growth in Big Spring are going to a family reunion this weekend in San Marcos to show to members of the McNEW family, many of whom haven't been back to their home town in 20 years.

MRS. FLORENCE McNEW and her daughter and family, MRS. EUGENE RUSH, MR. RUSH and JERRY and ANN ISAACKS have been in San Marcos since Friday, where they are guests in the home of DR. and MRS. RALPH HOUSTON (Frances McNew), hosts for the gathering along with their son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. WILLIAM REED. (Dr. Houston taught English in high school here 30 years ago.)

Mrs. Rush has been taking movies for two months to show all the folks how the old home town has expanded. . . she took her projector also. As each of the family was to bring some show of their talents, Mrs. McNew, who is really accomplished as a painter of china, prepared 28 pieces of china to give as mementos of the occasion.

Expected for the first reunion of the family which will continue through Monday are the HOMER McNEWS of New Orleans, La., and their son and his family, the ROBERT H. McNEWS and Meredith Lynn, Karen, Mark and Bruce, all of Baltimore, Md.; MRS. OPAL COFFEE of San Angelo and her son-in-law and daughter, MR. and MRS. GENE MARABLE of Port Stockton and their children, Katie Beth, Penny and Becky; the GLENN H. McNEWS, the GLENN McNEWS JR. and daughter, Beth, of Miami, Fla.; and MICHAEL McKENZIE who joined the local Mrs. McNew at Junction where he has been attending A&M summer sessions. His parents, LT. COL. and MRS. VERNON C. McKENZIE of Ft. Walton Beach, Fla., were not able to attend the reunion. Also not able to attend were LT. COL. and MRS. NORMAN PRIEST who live in Springfield, Va. Both the women are daughters of Mrs. McNew.

That 70-mile speed limit on IS 20 was getting a good workout Friday as we journeyed to Midland. Everyone got to where they were going before I did. . . 60-65 is still my pace and I do hope I don't get stopped for holding up traffic. In Midland we had a brief but pleasant visit in the RALPH STARK home which is at 4511 Aneta.

MISS CORNELIA CHILDS is visiting here with her parents, DR. and MRS. JAMES L. CHILDS, while she is on vacation from her teaching position in Massachusetts. She and her parents are to be the dinner guests of DR. and MRS. FRANK APPEL this evening.

MRS. R. L. COLLINS, who has been in Los Angeles for a week, climaxed the exciting experience with a tour of Paramount Studios. Nellie Manley, famous movie hair stylist, was the hostess for Mrs. Collins and 200 other Studio Girl advisors chosen for the trip. The group had a special preview of "A New Kind of Love," starring Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward, and in seminars heard such personalities as Michael Westmore, makeup artist; Deb Star Ball, costume designer; Penny Sterling, author of "Beautifully Yours."

If you still have some okra you don't know what to do with, here's the recipe for pickling it which I am repeating "by popular demand": 10 or 12 chili peppers, 2 pods garlic, 1 or 2 bay leaves, few dill seed, equal portions vinegar and water. Bring liquid to boil, have placed in pint jar medium length, tender okra with tops on. Put 1 teaspoon salt in jar with spices and pour boiling liquid over. Seal jar.

Guests attended from Hereford, Seagraves, Snyder, Lubbock, Lamesa, Houston, Tucumcari, Hobbs and Albuquerque, N.M. and Kansas City, Mo. For traveling to Colorado Springs, Colo., the bride wore a suit of rose silk, black patent accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will be at home at 208 S. Bryan in Lamesa after Aug. 30. The bride is a graduate of Seminole High School and attended Texas Tech. The bridegroom, a graduate of Seminole High, also attended Texas Tech and Schreiner Institute of Kerrville.

Summer Students Return Home

FORSAN (SC) — Mrs. Roy Stock still is home from Abilene where she attended summer school at Abilene Christian College.

William Conger, who attended summer classes at Sul Ross, is home until fall classes begin.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davidson were in Midland and Littlefield this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Park and Stevie were in Odessa to attend a family gathering. An uncle of Mrs. Parks, Bill Allen of Paramount, Calif., was the honored guest.

Travel Supplies

When you're packing the car for the family vacation trip, include a plastic bottle of water, a "litter bag" and a roll of paper towels. You'll find these supplies handy for cleaning the windshield between service station stops, cleaning sticky hands, and wiping up spills from on-the-road snacks.

Miss Janet Moseley Is Bride Of Pearson

LAMESA (SC) — Miss Janet Faye Moseley of San Antonio and Richard L. Pearson of Lamesa were married Saturday in the Highland Terrace Methodist Church, San Antonio. The Rev. Lawrence Brown of San Angelo officiated in the double ring rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moseley, San Antonio, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John A. Pearson, Lamesa.

The bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. She wore a gown of white Chantilly lace designed with a Sabrina neckline and short sleeves. A rose topped her silk taffeta cummerbund at the back waist, and the fullness of the skirt swept into a chapel train. A single white silk taffeta rose held her bouffant illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis. Mrs. Bruce Tettleton of San Antonio served as matron of honor, and Royce Brown of Marshall, best man.

The couple will reside in Austin after a short wedding trip.

Created For Sports

The newest fashion for the sports-minded woman is a classic shirtwaist dress that converts into culottes.

The sheath style unbottons from waist to hem to form culottes for bowling, golfing or gardening. Made of wash and wear cotton, it features an action back and side pocket.

Mammoth Barbecue

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Workmen digging the San Luis reservoir project have turned up what could be the remains of a truly mammoth barbecue held 10,000 to 20,000 years ago. It looks like men barbecued mammoths.

If so, Francis A. Riddell, State Park archaeologist, said today it's a find of "national importance."

Riddell said the find includes bones of mammoths and prehistoric horses, fragments of what might be charcoal, and polished pieces of bone which resembles a tool for skinning animals.

Some of the mammoth and horse bones were still together in natural position, sealed in blue clay. Riddell said it looks like they were killed on the spot, and the skinning tool and charcoal indicate a prehistoric cookout.

WMS Meets At Knott Church

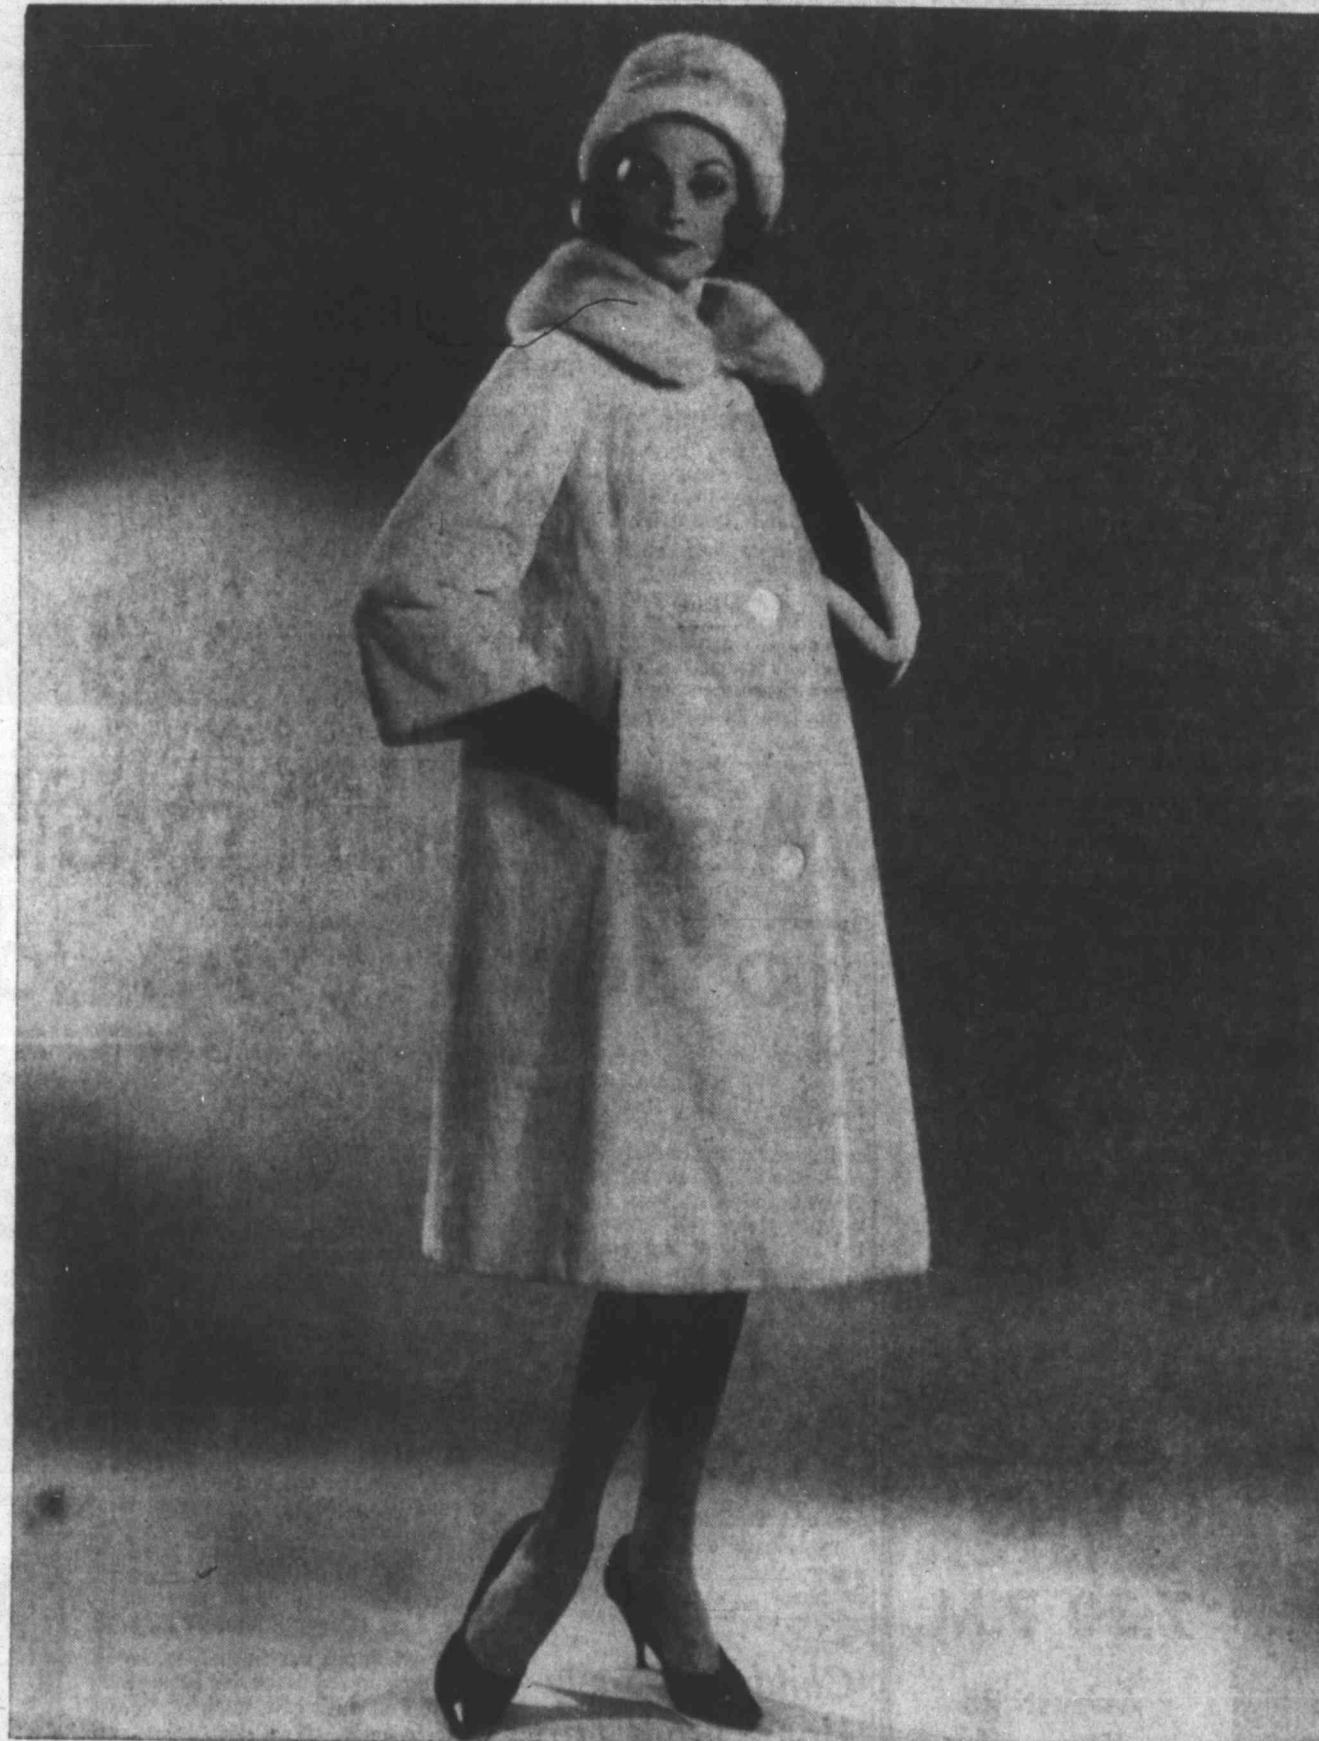

The Knott First Baptist Church was the meeting place for the Women's Missionary Society Tuesday morning. Taken from the Royal Service magazine, the program was entitled "Turning Away from the Truth of God."

Four books, representing world religions, were arranged in a table display. After the call to prayer, given by Mrs. L. O. Free, the program was presented. Mrs. Jack Myers discussed each of the world religions and she used the Bible to show the Christian's answer to each.

Meat Made To Go Further For Crowds

Roasts, ground meat patties and frankfurters are convenient for serving a large group unless facilities for grilling are extensive. Roasts provide more servings per unit of cooking space. Meat patties and franks will cook in a short time.

COAHOMA POST OFFICE SHAPING UP
Workmen push ahead with new $23,488 building.

Coahoma Postmaster Has Eye On Three Post Offices

COAHOMA — Smith Cochran is pretty tired out. For the past week, he has been having to keep a sharp eye on three post office operations.

"It's sort of wearing," observed Cochran, who has been Coahoma's postmaster for 34 years.

Right now, his principal concern is keeping a close watch on the new post office building which is being built for Coahoma. This new building, which will be privately owned, is about a block from the present post office.

He has his regular post office duties at the present office to perform — putting up and sending out the mail; selling stamps, money orders, plus keeping the interminable records all governmental offices require.

In addition, he recently has had to lend a hand getting Vincent Community back in the post office business. A fire swept the W. B. Lansford store at Vincent, wiping out the premises including the Vincent Post Office. Lansford and Cochran have set up a new post office in a residence near the burned out store and postal affairs are about normal.

Ray Dunlap, contractor, is building the new post office adjacent to the Coahoma State Bank. The $23,488 building is taking shape rapidly and will be an attractive addition to the Coahoma street scene. It is designed of brick to match the bank building. The bank owns the new building and is to lease it to the government for postal service.

Bill Read, president of the bank, said that Dunlap and Gary and Hohertz, the architects, have informed him the new building will be completed and ready for occupancy around Oct. 15, the day before the effective date of the lease. Cochran is counting the days.

"I'll probably not be able to get moved in and operating before Oct. 15," he said. "We'll be all ready, though, to move in as quick as the department gives me the go sign."

Local Groups Ask For F-700 Hearing

A local delegation is seeking an audience with the Texas Highway Commission to ask for authorization of FM 700 west from US 87 to US 80.

Larry Crow, city manager, has written on behalf of the city and the county asking to be put on the agenda of a commission meeting in September. The highway committee of the Chamber of Commerce has joined in the request.

Representatives from the three groups conferred here last week and agreed that it is time to press for authorization on this before developments might take place in potential line of routing.

They hope to get the commission to concur in a resolution authorizing the district engineer, Jake Roberts, to stake a permanent route, work out a proposed design and furnish deeds for right of way.

It then would become the local responsibility to secure the roadway for this loop.

If and when this step is taken, FM 700 will be well on its way toward becoming a key traffic belt for the Big Spring area. The first section of this road, with a 200-foot right of way, connects IS 20 east with US 87 south and is laid out to serve as a divided highway eventually. Another section has been staked from IS 20 east to State 350 near the juncture of the Gail Road.

From US 87 to US 80 west, the road now extends on an old route with insufficient roadway. A portion of it might be rerouted.

Judges Named In Saturday
School Consolidation Vote

Mrs. Leoland Edwards, who lives in the Vealmoor community, has been appointed by County Judge Lee Porter as election judge for the Aug. 31 school consolidation election in the Vealmoor district. Mrs. Edwards will select two other workers to assist her.

Ballois and other supplies are being prepared.

The question before voters is a proposal that Vealmoor, last surviving common school district in Howard County, consolidate with Borden County Independent School District. Part of the Vealmoor district overlaps into Borden County.

A petition requesting the election, and signed by 33 patrons of the Vealmoor school whose property is in this county, was filed with Judge Porter.

Another petition, signed by Borden County residents, was filed with C. C. Nunnally, county judge of Borden County. Both districts will vote.

The polls will open at the Vealmoor school in Howard County at 8 a.m. Saturday and close at 7 p.m.

In Borden County, Mrs. Doris Rudd, county clerk, said there would be voting in six boxes. Vol-ers will ballot at No. 1 in the Borden County court house at Gail; No. 4, at the Ralph Miller residence, near Fluvanna; No. 9, Murphy School, north side of Lake J. B. Thomas; No. 11, Willow Valley school, south side of Lake J. B. Thomas; No. 6, Plains School on O'Donnell road and No. 0, a special school election box in the Billy Willis residence, near Ackery.

The election falls on the long Labor Day weekend and this may tend to keep the numbers of voters down.

Sometime ago, an election on this same proposal was held and was defeated by three votes—32 to 29—in Vealmoor school district. Borden County voters heavily favored the consolidation, but it is required that both districts approve.

No absentee votes have been cast in Borden County, according to Mrs. Rudd, although the ballots are on hand at her office. Also, there have been none cast in the office of Pauline Petty, Howard County clerk.

Lot Cleaning Makes Progress

Lot cleaning in the city has gone well so far. City Manager Larry Crow said Friday. Letters to 500 property owners have been sent out and the Thursday afternoon inspection showed that 150 had been cleaned, 50 were being cleaned, and 50 promised.

"Jerry Foresyth, who has been doing the inspecting for the city," he said, "reports that half of the owners notified have responded. Others will be rechecked and, if no move has been made, the city will have the properties mowed and charged to the owners."

Crow added that several residents, adjoining some vacant lots, had called in to complain about weeds. The lots have been inspected, he said, but in many instances were not hazards and they have not been cleaned.

Guest Speaker

Rev. W. R. Ivie, Cisco, will be guest speaker Sunday at 8 p.m. during services at the Settles Baptist Church, according to Rev. Haskell Beck, pastor. Rev. Ivie was in Big Spring earlier this year to conduct a revival.

Coahoma Hi Band
Hard At Work

COAHOMA (SC) — The Coahoma High School band has been hard at work for the past two weeks, under the direction of Felton Carr.

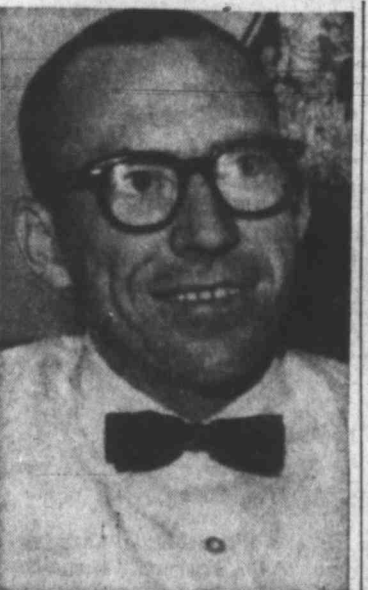

They have followed a six-hour-per-day schedule, the first week of it in review. Last week they put in considerable time marching, in preparation for the football season, and in learning new numbers.

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Mexico has been alerted by Interpol to be on the lookout for participants in Britain's great train robbery, the attorney general's office reported. It said Scotland Yard had relayed confidential information through the international police body.

R PRESCRIPTION COMPOUNDING
REQUIRES PERFECTION

There are more than 3000 different drugs in a prescription laboratory. A pharmacist must dispense the exact one specified on each prescription. Many have similar sounding names and spelling. But, we have to know the right one and will phone the physician if in the least doubt.

We must check dosage and the label must carry the exact directions for use. No error is permissible. Each prescription must be perfect. Your health depends on it.

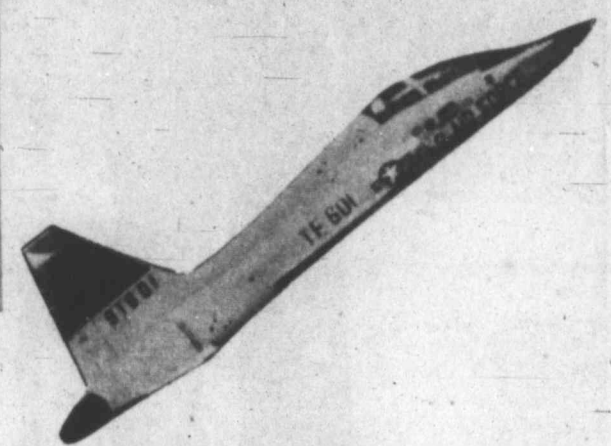

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions. May we compound yours?

Welcome TO BIG SPRING

WEBB PILOT TRAINING CLASS 65-B

Big Spring and all its people extend the friendly hand of a West Texas welcome to the student pilots of Webb's Class 65-B. These young men, here for a complete course of primary and basic jet-flying instruction, become citizens of our city for more than a year, and it is our earnest hope that they will find here a helpful, cheerful and hospitable atmosphere; and that when they must leave, they will do so with a kind feeling in their hearts for Big Spring, its business establishments, and all its population.

May we urge our new student pilots, as time permits them, to become acquainted with our town, to know about the churches and the schools, the facilities for leisure and enjoyment, the shops and the service establishments.

Particularly do we ask them to drop in and see us, just to let us get acquainted, and say in person what we are saying here. There's no obligation to buy at any time . . . we want to be of service, and of assistance if we can.

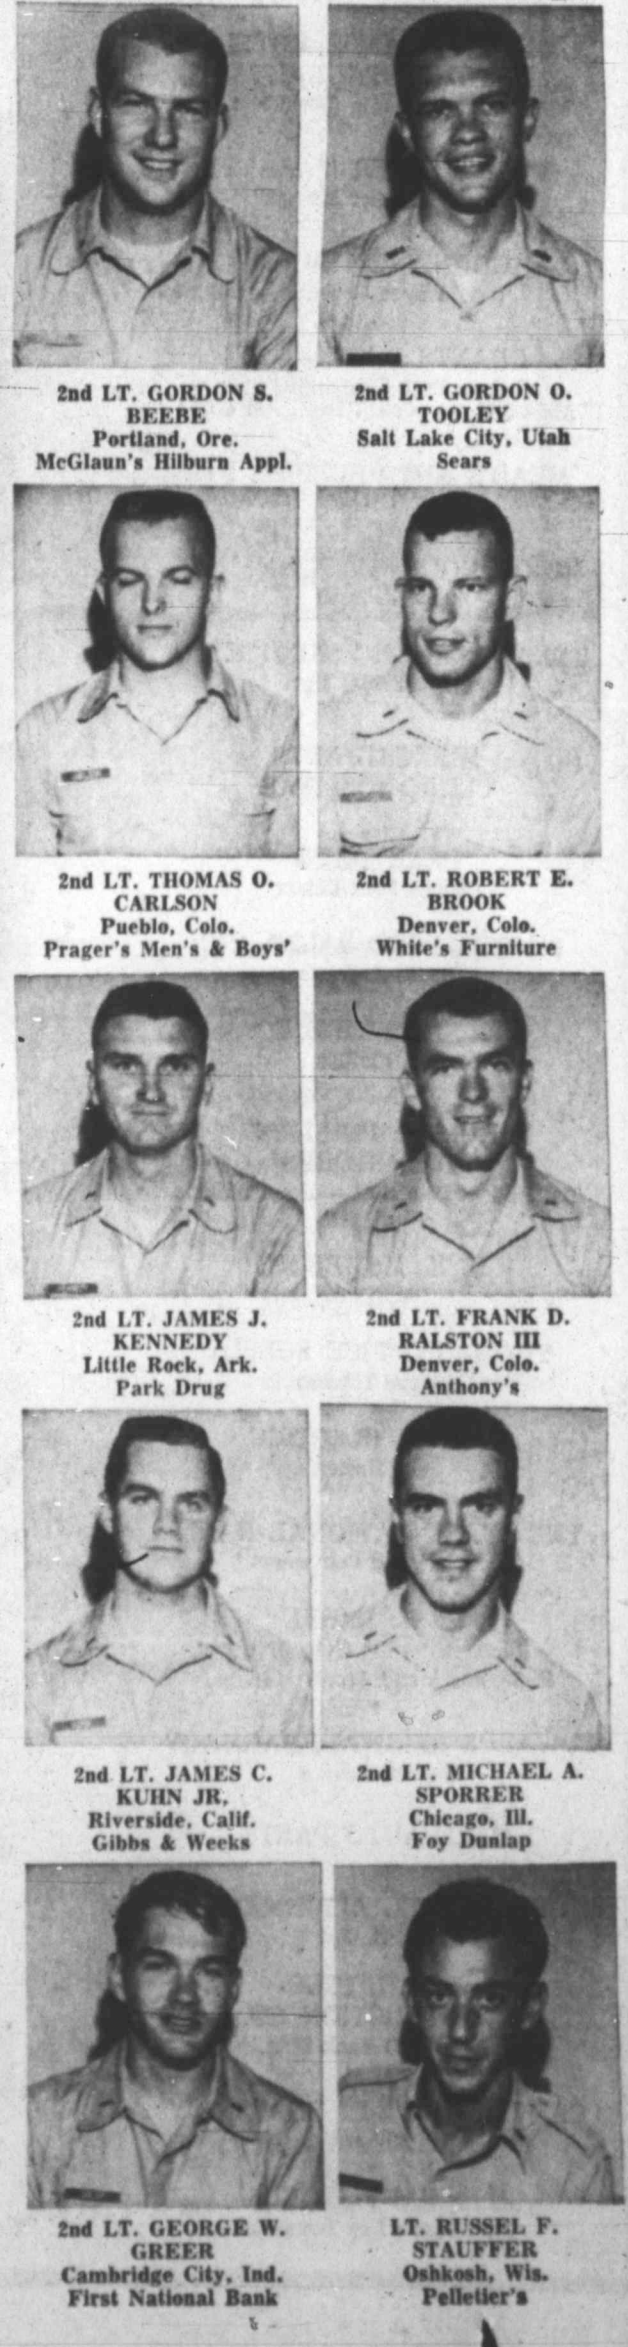

Yes, it's all wrapped up in one wholesome, hearty word . . . "WELCOME!"

"HOSPITALITY GIFT"
For New STUDENT PILOTS

If the Webb student pilot or his wife will call within the next 10 days at the store or service establishment whose name appears with his under his picture (bringing this page with him for identification), he will be given a "welcome gift" by that firm. There is no obligation, and we simply ask that the visit be for getting acquainted. Be our guest!

A MATTER OF LUCK

Jim didn't catch any fish today. Now, on the way home, he can't help casting an envious eye at Tim's haul. It isn't that he begrudges Tim his fish. It's just that, in his heart, he can't help wish that he had been the lucky one.

This is natural, and Jim is young. He's just beginning to learn that you can't always be a winner, but he still finds losing pretty hard to take in stride.

Fortunately, Jim is being given the advantage of Christian training in church during this all-important period in a boy's life when a sense of values is being formed. He is learning lessons which only the Church can give him.

True, Jim is envying a very small item — a string of fish. But envy and greed come to all of us on a larger scale many times throughout life. To meet this challenge squarely, it takes years of self-discipline. That is why religious training can never begin too early.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL • ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

The Herald proudly announces that on Sept. 1 it is joining the world-wide Associated Press

WIREFOTO NETWORK

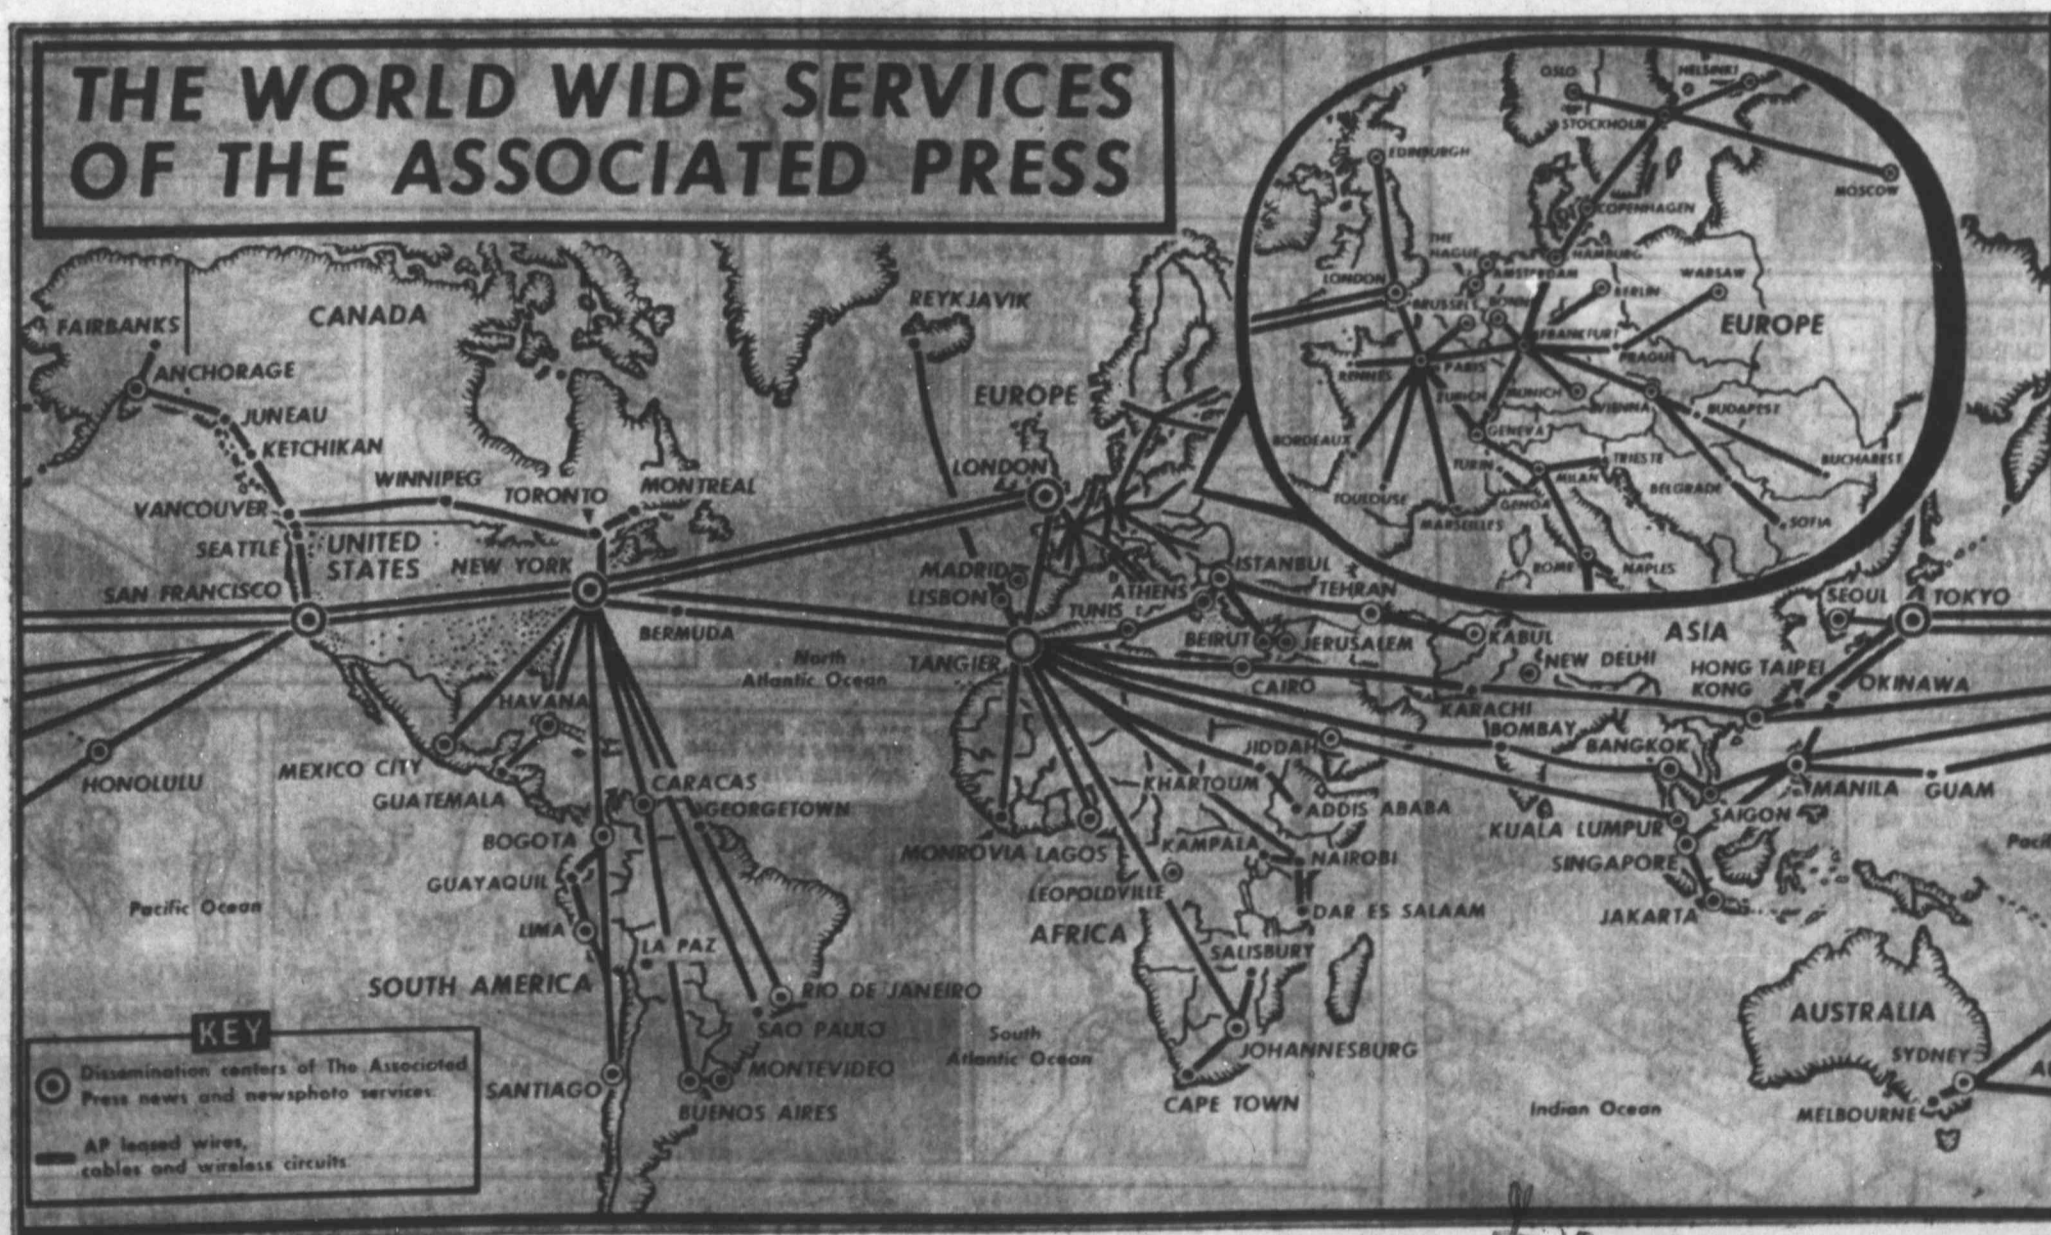

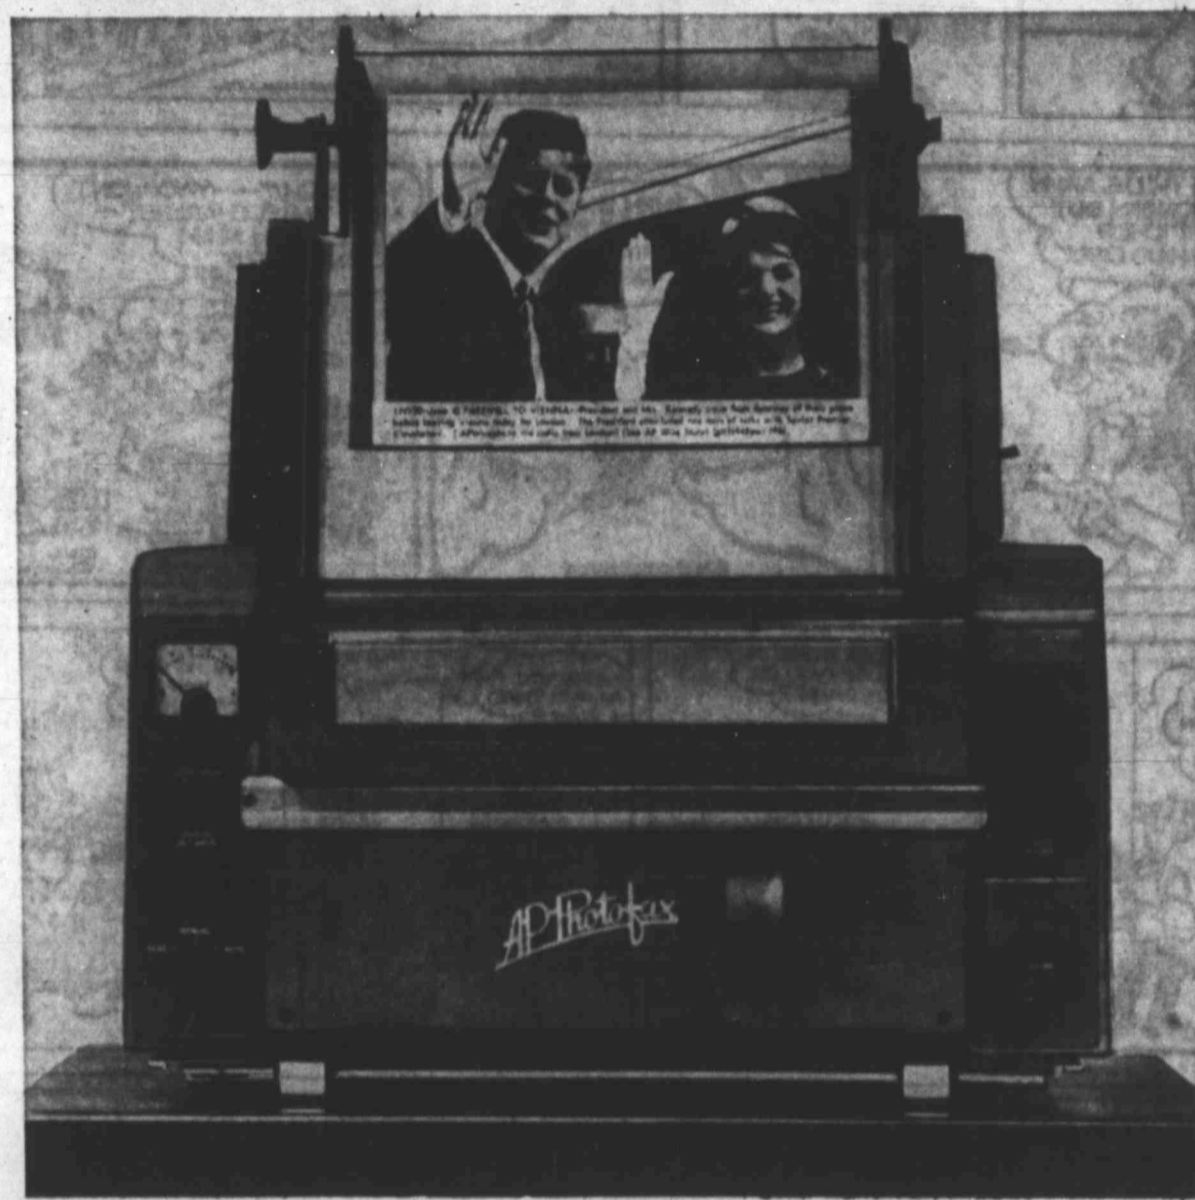

to bring you

"INSTANT PICTURES"

AP PHOTOFAX MACHINE INSTALLED AT THE HERALD

Pictured at right is AP Photofax, a facsimile machine which receives pictures, ready for immediate use, from any part of the United States and from most nations of the world. It is being installed in The Herald as this newspaper becomes a part of the world-wide Associated Press Wirephoto network. Via this machine, The Herald will receive pictures from New York, Washington, Chicago, Los Angeles—or London and Paris—in as little as eight minutes.

This means that The Herald, beginning September 1, will be able to print in its editions each day top news pictures of events that have happened only a short time before. Readers will have illustrations that have moved over the wires as promptly as the news stories. This is another forward step taken by The Herald to bring you a better, more complete newspaper, with a content matching that of any metropolitan publication.

The world-wide services of the Associated Press Wirephoto network—of which The Herald becomes a member on September 1—to bring its readers "Instant Pictures." The AP has more than 400 picture transmitting machines in the U.S. alone, with more than 30 network "splits" to permit fast, flexible handling of state and regional pictures. Now, with the news today, you see the pictures today!

Romance Under Way

Doris Day takes on a new character, that of a housewife who doubles as a national celebrity, in the Universal color production "The Thrill of It All" which plays all this week at the Ritz. Co-starring with Doris is James Garner. Other comedy veterans who add to the film are the late Zasu Pitts, Reginald Owen, Elliott Reid and Robert Strauss.

'Elmer Gantry' Due For Sahara Showing

One of the most controversial novels in American literature ever transferred to the screen returns to Big Spring again Sunday through Tuesday at the Sahara Drive In.

"Elmer Gantry," authored by Sinclair Lewis, the first American ever to win the Nobel Prize for literature, stars Burt Lancaster, Jean Simmons, co-starring Arthur Kennedy, Shirley Jones, Dean Jagger and Patti Page in her debut in a dramatic role.

The publication of "Elmer Gantry," the story of a spellbinding evangelist, led to an immediate storm of protest, some of it extremely virulent in nature. But it also drew cheers. H. L. Mencken, in the latter group, thought the novel was even better than "Babbalanza." Carl Van Doren, in appraisal of the book, which he liked very much, also predicted the nature and extent of the controversy—it would arouse.

Lovely Jean Simmons wears the garb of an evangelist for the second time on the screen in "Elmer Gantry." Jean plays Sister Sharon Falconer in the United Artists release. Her previous evangelistic appearance was in Samuel Goldwyn's "Guys and Dolls," in which she was cast as Sister Rachel Brown. In "Black Narcissus" Jean portrayed a nun.

"Elmer Gantry" was directed and written for the screen by Richard Brooks and produced by Bernard Smith. Dean Jagger, Arthur Kennedy, Shirley Jones and Patti Page are co-starring in the Eastmancolor production.

Doris Day, James Garner Team In Comedy At Ritz

A new Doris Day will be seen by visitors to the Ritz Theater this week during the week-long billing of "The Thrill of It All." Co-starring with her is James Garner as her doctor husband who doesn't quite know what to do with a celebrity for a wife.

On the screen in this performance the frocked, blue-eyed blonde from Cincinnati undergoes a metamorphosis. That "girl-next-door" trademark is whittled away by such un-mundane items as a $200,000 movie wardrobe, high fashion hair styles and $1 million worth of jeweled accessories. Doris this time is cast as a housewife and mother who earns $80,000 a year extra as a national television pitch-woman.

As Beverly Boyer, Doris is a thrifty housewife who even bottles her own catsup. Quite by accident she gets into the field of soap commercials, with a fat contract, and the fun begins. Her husband does not especially relish the idea, but $80,000 extra a year proves difficult to turn down. And the antics which follow provide top comedy entertainment.

Stevens, Fabian Make Film Debut

Dodie Stevens makes her screen debut in a starring role in Jerry Wald's CinemaScope and Deluxe color production of "The Hound Dog Man" which plays Saturday at the Jet Drive In.

The teen-age Miss Stevens was catapulted from the recording studios of New York to the motion picture studios of Hollywood as the result of her million selling record "Pink Shoelaces."

Doris Day to one of the glamor women of the screen for "The Thrill of It All."

Even slapstick comedy, the bread and butter of the movie industry before the "talkies" came in, is used to pinch out an extra laugh in this one.

"The Thrill of It All" is produced by Ross Hunter and Martin Melcher. The Universal release is directed by Norman Jewison.

A special preview showing slated Friday as the late show at the Ritz is "Beach Party," American International's musical comedy

Bob Smith Makes Bid With His Fourth Record Release

Big Spring's Bob C. Smith has released a new record, making his fourth, for CL-ET Records. The titles of the new songs are "There's No Reason For the Baby To Cry," and "One In A Million."

Smith's arranging and technical engineer was Ben Hall, and the company is owned and operated by Smith.

Nine instruments are used in the new releases: Three violins, drums, base, two pianos, guitar, and vibes. Six musicians were included in the recording with some playing two parts. Dena Hall plays base and sings one part of the background voices; Daria Swindell plays drums and sings one part of background voices; Daphne Kirkland handles the vibes and sings a part of the background voices; Charlie O'Bannon plays two parts on the violin, and Don Tolle plays guitar and one violin part.

Smith says one man can play two parts by a dubbing-in process done with two recorders. One part is put on the original recording which is played back on one machine, and is recorded on another machine along with other instruments.

starring Bob Cummings, Dorothy Malone, Frankie Avalon, Annette Funicello and a host of other stars of the younger set.

The Pacific Ocean beach playgrounds form the background for romance, comedy and music in this Panavision production. Amidst gaiety and relaxation, put a madcap college professor and his girlfriend bent upon observing vacationing young people at play to catalogue their morals and sex habits for a book and you have the setting for hilarity.

Frankie Avalon and Annette Funicello are cast as boy and girl who set out for an enjoyable vacation on the beach. Their plans are interrupted by unexpected visitors and the attractive but eccentric professor. It all ends well, however. The professor has his story and the youngsters involved are all a bit wiser.

Les Baxter provides the musical score for this number produced by James H. Nicholson and Lou Rusoff. "Beach Party" is written by Rusoff and directed by William Asher.

Strip Again Is Background For Dramatic Film

In the title role of "The Stripper," Joanne Woodward turns to another demanding dramatic performance like the one which brought her an Academy Award. Joanne plays the part of Lila Green, a beauty contest winner who winds up touring with a sleazy magic act.

The 20th Century-Fox CinemaScope release which opens Sunday at the Jet Drive In is the victory of filmmaker Jerry Wald, who produced such pictures as "Sons and Lovers," "Peyton Place" and "The Long, Hot Summer." He died at age 49, three weeks before photography on the picture was completed. Ironically, the film also marks a beginning—that of director Franklin Schaffner's career in the screen medium after illustrious work in television.

Starring with Joanne Woodward in "The Stripper" are Richard Beymer, Claire Trevor, Carol Lynley, Robert Webber, Gypsy Rose Lee and Louis Nye.

As the film's central figure, Lila Green is a study in frustration. She is an unwitting sex symbol, more blessed with heart than brain and guile, ever on the lookout for a solid man to lean on. In the role of Kenny Baird, the Kansas youth to whom Lila mistakenly gives her heart, producer Wald cast Richard Beymer, whose stature has lately been enhanced by a succession of fine portrayals in films such as Hemingway's "Adventures of a Young Man," "West Side Story" and "The Longest Day."

Claire Trevor plays Kenny's widowed mother, a woman who has never recovered from the loss of her husband. Miss Trevor is also an Academy Award winner, having been honored for her performance in "Key Largo."

The beautiful Carol Lynley plays Miriam Caswell, Beymer's across-the-street girl friend. The role marks her return to film work after an absence occasioned by the arrival of her first child.

Eva Six Is In 'Beach Party'

Sexy Eva Six, an import from Hungary, helps lend "whistle character" to "Beach Party."

In this production the shapely blonde siren appears as a blonde. Previously, in "Operation Bikini," she co-starred with Frankie Avalon as a brunette Filipino guerrilla.

She was born Eva Klein in Budapest, Hungary, the daughter of a Jewish father and a Catholic mother. The Nazis killed her father, so her mother changed the family name to Kennedy (a centuries-old aristocratic name in Hungary) and they never were bothered again.

At the age of 15, she entered a nationwide folk dancing competition and was one of 29 winners chosen from more than 6,000 entrants. This led to her first job in show business, as dancing star of a musical feature film titled "Hungarian Wedding."

Eva soon was established as one of her country's top movie stars and she appeared on the screen and on the stage in other European countries. Just before the bloody Hungarian revolution broke out in 1956 she married architect Roy Schmidt.

At State

Seven-year-old Manuel Padilla and his canine friend, Lobo, star in M-G-M's "The Young and the Brave," drama of a Korean War orphan which starts today at the State Theater. Rory Calhoun and William Bendix head the cast.

DEAR ABBY

A Reason For Telling

DEAR ABBY: I know a practical nurse who is a disgrace to the profession. She was hired to care for an elderly lady who is almost widower who lives alone. She is supposed to be sleeping in the bedroom next to the patient in case she is needed during the night. I am not the kind of person who makes trouble, but I think somebody ought to tell the family of this poor old helpless woman, and I don't know them well enough.

SEEKING IS BELIEVING
DEAR SEEKING: To be aware of this situation and withhold it from the family is, in my opinion, morally wrong. Since you don't know the family well enough to tell them, find someone who does. But see to it that the family learns the truth immediately.

DEAR ABBY: I am married, but for reasons I cannot put in a letter I am unable to keep my baby. Will a home for unwed mothers take me? NIGHTMARE
DEAR NIGHTMARE: Yes, there are SOME homes that will take married girls. Send me your name and address.

DEAR ABBY: About six years ago a nice young couple moved into our neighborhood. I'll call them Mabel and Pete, which are not their real names. My husband and I became very friendly with them. They had two children and so did we. Two years ago, for no reason at all, Pete walked off and left Mabel. She was five months pregnant at the time. We never saw Pete again, but Mabel said they were divorced and she gets alimony and support money regularly. We have been like a family to Mabel. Out of the blue my husband told me he wanted to ADOPT Mabel's youngest child, a sweet boy. I knew my husband was fond of this child, but I can't see why he would want to ADOPT him. He said Mabel would continue to raise him but the boy would be legally his "son." Isn't this rather unusual? What would you do, Abby?
IN A DAZE
DEAR IN: I'd tell my husband to forget it. And if you are like a "family" to Mabel, do her a favor and help her find a nice man to complete her own family.

DEAR ABBY: Last night I took a baby-sitting job in the neighborhood. I had just started to sit for money and it was my first time with these people. I am 14 and my mother won't let me sit anywhere later than midnight. It was agreed with these people that I'd sit from seven until midnight for 50 cents an hour. The children were perfect and gave me no trouble. It got to be 12:30 and the parents were not home yet. My mother called twice and I had to tell her I couldn't leave because the parents were still out. Finally, at 1 a.m., I telephoned the parents (they were at a relative's home) and asked them please to come home. They came right away and apologized for forgetting the time. They tipped me a dollar, too. Now my mother won't let me sit for them any more. It only happened once. Do you think my mother is being fair? SITTER
DEAR SITTER: I would say, give the night owls one more chance.

Tell your troubles to Abby. For a personal, unpublished reply, please send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

STAMP NEWS

Commemoratives To Mark Founding Of Red Cross

By HAROLD C. PERDUE
The Red Cross celebrates its 100th anniversary this year and it is the occasion for many new commemorative issues. Well-known around the world, the Red Cross was organized in 1863 through the efforts of Henri Dunant, a Swiss philanthropist. Today, the League of Red Cross Societies numbers 88 member groups with an adult membership of 168 million persons.

Almost 100 nations of the world will honor the Red Cross (known in some nations as the Red Crescent or the Red Lion and Sun) with commemorative stamp issues. The United States is noticeably absent although stamps have been issued in the past for the Red Cross and its activities. For the first time Great Britain is issuing a Red Cross stamp. She will be joined by 40 of the British Overseas Territories in issuing special stamps for the centenary.

A common design has been approved, featuring the well known symbol plus a lighted lamp. Poland has issued an envelope in 60 cent value and a postcard in 40 cent value with this feature.

Yugoslavia has two multicolored stamps for the occasion. Columbia is issuing a single bi-colored stamp. Luxembourg has released a 2.50 franc stamp. India has a two colored 15 pf issue and Indonesia has a set for four. Korea has a set of two with a souvenir sheet with marginal inscriptions. Japan is represented with a 10 yen stamp. Many other nations are also included.

The 50th anniversary of the Boy Scout Movement in Cyprus has been honored with a special issue of three stamps. The three stamps show a Wolf Cub Scout with a camp in the background. A Sea Scout with harbor in background is the scene for the 20 mils. The third stamp, a 150 mils, shows a Scout with mountain goat. Miniature sheets having all three stamps will also go on sale for 250 mils. The difference between the face value of the stamps the cost of the sheets will cover part of the donation of the Cyprus Government to the Scouts Association.

South Georgia Island, a dependency of Great Britain, has recently released a set of 15 new definitive stamps. As usual the portrait of the Queen and St. Edwards crown is included on each stamp. The set shows scenes and native animals. Penguins, whales, and seals are predominant, but there is also a map of the area and a scene of Shackleton's Cross, erected by an early Antarctic explorer.

While in the Southern hemisphere, the announcement has been made of Operation Deep Freeze's philatelic service for 1963-64. The Navy will again this year cancel covers for collectors in limited quantity. Only one cover per person will be accepted for cancellation at the Byrd and South Pole Stations.

To receive these, enclose two envelopes, self-addressed with five cent stamps, and send to: Deep Freeze Philatelic Mail, U. S. Naval Construction Battalion Center, Davisville East, Greenwich, Rhode

Only three covers per collector will be accepted for ship post offices. Send addressed and stamped covers in this quantity to any or all of the following ships, directed to Deep Freeze Philatelic Mail: USS Atka (AGB-3) Fleet Post Office, N. Y., to be received no later than Oct. 1, 1963.

USS Burton Island (AGB-1), FPO, San Francisco, Calif., no later than Oct. 1.
USS Glacier (AGB-4), FPO, New York, N. Y., no later than Oct. 1.
USCG Eastwind (WAGB-279), FPO, New York, N. Y., no later than Dec. 1.

The serviced covers will be returned when the ships dock again in the U.S., about May 1, 1964.

It was recently announced that Travis L. Land of San Antonio was elected president of the Texas Philatelic Association. Humor was injected into the new issues program when Postmaster General Day announced the rejection of a request for a 19 cent commemorative honoring the American hamburger. The owner of a drive-in in Seattle, Wash., sent his request with a sketch of the proposed design. Pictured in the sketch is a partially eaten
