PAST DUE LIST TOTALS ABOUT $80,000

School Eyes Big Delinquent Tax Roll

Taxes were again in the spotlight during a regular monthly Slaton School Board meeting Tuesday night, but this time the emphasis was on delinquent taxes.

Trustees tentatively agreed to press for collection of some $80,000 on the delinquent tax rolls. The board will meet with a tax collection firm to discuss the proposal, with the meeting to be set as soon as possible.

Board members agreed that the delinquent roll had reached "out of proportion" and that collection would be in line with the equalization program -- asking each taxpayer to pay his fair share.

In other business Tuesday night, the trustees approved the school calendar for 1968-69, and discussed the tax hearings now underway on the revaluation program.

Noting that delinquent taxes had reached a high amount, trustee Willie Heinrich said "it's not fair for people who pay their taxes. . .it places and extra burden on them when these delinquent taxpayers are not current."

Business manager Buford Duff estimated that 75 percent of the delinquent taxes were "collectible." He said a tax collection firm would probably charge about 15 percent on collections, and they would take cases to court if payment was not made.

He also estimated it would take one to two years to bring in most of the delinquent taxes. The discussion brought out the fact the school district could possibly realize some $50,000 from past due taxes in a two-year period.

Duff also reported on the status of the joint tax revaluation program undertaken by the school and city. He said the equalization board was "practically through" with all city property, and that the school lost some $250,000 in valuations to adjustments. This

Plans Underway For F-M Barbecue

Plans are well underway for the 11th annual Farmer - Merchant Barbecue, sponsored by Slaton Chamber of Commerce and participating merchants.

The event is scheduled Sept. 17 in Slaton Little League Park. Chamber directors in charge of arrangements for the barbecue are Jake Wendel, Glen Akin and Clarence Kitten.

Aside from the fellowship and food, highlights of the program include presentation of the first - bale premium awards --if the first three bales have been ginned--and the announcement of the "Farmer of the Year" award. Numerous gift certificates will also be given lucky farmers at the barbecue.

Cash awards of $150, $100 and $50 are given by the Chamber of Commerce for the first three bales of cotton ginned in the trade territory. First bale last year was Aug. 30, but the next two premium bales didn't arrive until Sept. 21 and 22.

Ed Mosely was recipient of the "Farmer of the Year" plaque last year. The award presentation was initiated by the Chamber in 1966 with Walter Heinrich taking the honor.

Stonewall Jefferson of Southland won the $150 for bringing in the first bale of cotton last year. Howell Sammons and Glen Akin had the second and third bales. Boyd Bryant had the first bale in 1966 on Sept. 24, while C. M. Barton was first in 1965 on Aug. 25.

Farm observers look for this year's first bale anytime soon. Dawson County reported the first bale on the Plains this year, and Lynn County also recorded one this week.

Tickets for the event are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office at $6 each. Free tickets, provided by Slaton and area merchants, will be distributed to farmers through the gins.

A meeting of participating ginners has been set for Friday at 3 p.m. in the Reddy Room of the Southwestern Public Service building. Tickets will be given to ginners at that time for further distribution.

The event usually draws from 700 to 900 farmers and merchants. Special entertainment will be provided for the barbecue.

Topsy-Turvy Weather Pattern Continues Here

Slaton and the area had ideal cotton weather Tuesday when the mercury climbed into the mid 80's, but the topsy-turvy trend continued with a cool front moving in Wednesday.

Weather forecasters see a cool, wet autumn -- a forecast not to the liking of South Plains farmers. Subnormal temperatures and rainfall are expected to continue the unusual weather pattern that has prevailed for much of 1968.

The Slaton area has a bumper crop of cotton and grain in the fields, but the weather has not been cooperating of late so that the "bumper" yields can be harvested.

Slaton had its first load of grain Aug. 20 when V. P. Heinrich brought in 8,320 pounds at Supreme Feed Mills, Grain Division. The grain had really started to arrive this week after moisture content had been too high to cut the grain sorghum.

Wednesday's weather forecast was for partly cloudy and cooler weather, with a high in the low 70's and a 10 percent chance of rain.

The unusual weather pattern has seen cooler weather than normal for seven of the first eight months and wetter than usual more than half of the time.

A report from Lubbock Wednesday indicated August was the coolest since 1920 as temperatures averaged 74.2 degrees last month.

Meteorologists at the South Plains Research and Extension Center near Lubbock point out the cool-wet combination is not a pleasant one for cotton producers. "It's bound to be detrimental to cotton fiber development," said one of the physiologists. Anytime the temperature is below 60 degrees, the boll is just sitting in a dormant stage, he added.

The big factor, of course, is how much more of the cool weather we have in the area. An extended period of hot, dry weather could do wonders for the cotton.

Slaton and the area had another thundershower last Thursday, with about .50 of an inch recorded in Slaton and to the west and northwest of town. Humidity has been high up until the warm weather Tuesday.

Burglary Suspect Caught in House

Capture of a would-be house burglar topped police activity in Slaton the past week.

Lubbock Police, with tear gas and K-9 dogs, got into the act after a suspect was seen Saturday morning breaking into the E. L. Phillips home at 140 S. 5th St. Lubbock officers offered assistance after hearing of the incident on the police radio.

The suspect, finally brought out of the house after 3 1/2 hours work, turned out to be a 15-year-old Latin American youth. Police had called for the suspect to come out and surrender, and officers proceeded with caution since they didn't know if the man was armed and it was reported there were firearms in the house.

Tear gas was fired into the house, and officers finally donned gas masks and went into the house and found the suspect hiding in a closet. A next - door neighbor called police after hearing the prowler.

Sgt. Don Blackerby arrived at the scene and spotted the suspect entering the rear door of the house at about 3 a.m. Saturday morning.

Police also investigated two accident reports, made 29 arrests and issued 33 traffic tickets the past week.

One accident was reported on the US-84 bypass with damage estimated at only $70. Vehicles were driven by Rosa Hanes of Roscoe and Ben Homsher of Houston.

A hit-and-run accident was reported on S. 11th St. Monday when Calvin Roberts was hit by a late - model car while riding his bicycle. Roberts was not injured.

Hobby Enables Slaton Sailor To Call Home

L. E. (Gene) Lewis of Slaton has kept up his hobby as an amateur radio operator while serving in the U. S. Navy, and it has enabled him to talk with his parents several times in recent months.

Mrs. L. W. Lewis reported last week that she and her husband had talked with their son four times recently while he was hospitalized at Trippler General Hospital in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Lewis, a graduate of Slaton High, has been in the Navy for about 13 months. He was hospitalized for seven weeks recently before reporting back to Pearl Harbor.

While recuperating at the hospital, Lewis spent his spare time operating the amateur radio station there. Besides contacting his parents in Slaton, he logged station calls all around the South Pacific, Peru, Australia, Puerto Rico, Korea, the Canal Zone, Mexico, South Africa, Canada, Alaska, and a number of Japanese and Russian stations.

Lewis had a good background for taking up the hobby, as he served as president of the Santa Fe Radio Club here for two years before entering the Navy.

It's a woman's WHIRL

BY LAVON NIEMAN

It's too late this year, but since the Niemans didn't get around to seeing "Texas" until last weekend, I'd like to take this opportunity to recommend it for next year. The last performance for this year was held Monday night. Then, I understand the cast will go to San Antonio for a performance at the HemisFair.

And to think we've lived in Texas all our lives and never had been to Palo Duro Canyon. Having already seen Grand Canyon, our son said "they need to 'cook' this up more". It impressed him more than the Grand Canyon because we could drive around in it. His dad let him know the word is "advertise".

WW

Mama Nieman's apron strings were cut this Tuesday morning when for the first time in eight years, I wasn't "needed" the first day of school. Yes, both are in junior high now and old enough to manage without their mom along. It's kinda hard to take....some of you know what I mean.

WW

WW

A woman has the right to open the monthly bills. That is, if she has the courage.

WW

Several have already brought pictures and news articles by The Slatonite for our special edition saluting Santa Fe, but we still need more. We would certainly appreciate anything you think would be interesting and newsworthy. Does anyone have a picture of the round house??

rights; but when the press is strong, so are your liberties.

To the housewife, the weekly newspaper is the most welcome piece of mail on Thursday (here she learns of current grocery prices; from it she makes up her shopping list; it provides information on sales in clothing and household needs; and through it she learns what entertainment and recreation is available for her family);

To the local office holder, the newspaper may be the most irritating sight that day (in shocking print he sees those off-the-cuff remarks made the evening before; reads of his poor conduct around the conference table; finds a record of his vote at the last session);

To the lawbreaker, it may be a cause for embarrassment (public report is given of a father caught speeding, who just the other day told his son how wrong this was - or a young man is reported charged with speeding, who just the other day was warned by his father about how wrong this was);

To the parent whose child has earned some honor it is a thing to be treasured forever - (have you ever tried to clip a radio story? or paste a TV picture in a scrapbook?)

And, finally, to the wife of the editor of the newspaper, it is the villain behind a long series of cold dinners; to his children, it's the reason a bike stands unrepaired.

Much is expected of a newspaper and yet it is here that it receives most of its criticism.

It is called upon to investigate alleged wrong doings in public office, but is chastened if it is too thorough.

A newspaper never finds itself on safe ground - either side of an issue has friends and a middle-of-the-road position is a lonely one.

If it fails to fully report on City Hall, it is accused of covering up;

If it is too thorough, it is called a trouble-maker;

Let it criticize the opposite political party and it is being partisan;

Should it criticize its own party, it is turn-coat.

Editors are the soul of any newspaper, giving the character and animation to it.

They come in all sizes and shapes and each edition of the newspaper, like a thumb-print, bears his image.

Some editors speak meekly and are mocked; some speak strongly and are scorned; they are cursed or cheered, depending on that week's editorial.

Editors are threatened physically, financially and with hell's fire for every offense from misspelling a reader's name, to stepping on the toes of a social leader - who just happens to have a large circle of relatives on the subscription list.

Editors are expected to fight sin, but heaven help him if a reader is caught thereby - he's gone too far!

He must defend democracy, promote good, inspire youth, and encourage progress; yet

He must not, in so doing, offend, irritate, embarrass or deflate any individual, group or organization.

That he tries to meet these impossible requirements is a sign of his dedication to his profession, love for the people of his community and devotion to ideals of the highest order.

The business manager said the equalization board hoped to close the tax rolls next week. The board is studying depositions on farm properties. These were presented by an attorney representing a farm group. The board hopes to have all depositions and to make decisions by next week.

No Increase in Texas School Student Number

Texas will not show an increase in school population in the next decade, but urban areas will have an increase in students while rural areas will show a decrease, according to a report this week by the Governor's Committee on Public School Education.

Reason for the stabilization, and in some areas a decrease, in number of students is a decrease in number of births in the state since 1960, the committee reports. Since 1960 the number of children born in Texas each year has steadily dropped to a level 50,000 lower in 1966 than the peak year of 1957, when 256,000 children were born in Texas.

Research findings of the governor's committee indicate that the total number of children of school age (6 to 17) will remain relatively constant during the 1969-1978 decade. The Committee projections suggest that the 1970 enrollment of Texas public schools will be 2,683,200 and by 1975 will fall to 2,593,700.

School population projections are part of the results of a prodigious research endeavor announced by the Committee on Public School Education as it readies recommendations for education in Texas to be presented to the Governor by Aug. 31, 1968. The Legislature authorized the establishment of the Committee in 1965 and directed it to make a pervasive study into every aspect of public school education in Texas with the objective of bringing Texas to the position of "national leader in educational aspiration, commitment and achievement."

Leon Jaworski, Houston attorney and chairman of the Govenor's Committee, has hailed the stabilizing of school enrollments as a "genuine opportunity to improve our educational system."

"At the same time of a tapering off in school enrollment, we can anticipate a substantial growth in our overall economy," said Mr. Jaworski. "In other words, we can expect our public school population to stabilize while our tax revenues continue to rise at a rapid rate. We should be able to use this ten-year breathing spell to reach our goal of national leadership in educational achievement -- provided both the State and our local districts are willing to make an all out commitment to that goal."

While the population projections are encouraging for the future of education in Texas, they dramatize again the growing problems of the small schools.

While elementary school enrollments are due to drop during most of the next decade, high school enrollments will continue to rise for another nine years before starting a downward trend.

The drop in the number of births since 1960 is statewide. During the past five years, births in Texas as a whole declined 8.4 per cent below the previous five-year period. However, in the metropolitan areas, the number of births declined only an average of 7.5 per cent. The Dallas metropolitan area provided the only reversal in the general picture with a modest 1.6 per cent increase in number of births. In the nonmetropolitan areas births have dropped even more than the statewide picture -- 10.8 per cent in five years.

In 1940, one-half of the Texas population lived in the areas classified by the Census Bureau as Standard Metropolitan Areas. By 1960 more than two of each three Texans lived in the 23 metropolitan areas, and the Governor's Committee projections indicate that the number will increase to three of four by 1970, four of five by 1980, and five of six by 1985 -- if the present trend continues.

Besides the drop in births in the rural areas, there is a large migration of future parents to the metropolitan areas. About 120,000 women between the ages of 20 and 29 may be expected to migrate from the nonmetropolitan areas of Texas to the 23 metropolitan centers between 1960 and 1970. In addition, 125,000 males of this age have made or are expected to make, the same move.

"This dramatically points up the necessity to provide a quality educational program in rural areas, a program that will equip youngsters to meet the demands of living in large metropolitan areas and to enable them to compete in tomorrow's labor market," says the Committee's research report on population projections.

13,800 Pounds Of Salt Confistated

CHU LAI, Vietnam (AMERICAL 10) A Slaton, Texas lieutenant and his men are driving Viet Cong back to the salt mines.

A patrol, led by Second Lieutenant John L. King, of Slaton, caught the enemy with an unguarded cache and captured 13,800 pounds of salt.

The tipoff to the cache came three days earlier when a forward air controller (FAC) spotted a large number of suspects gathering in an unoccupied hamlet. The same group was spotted for the next two days, but on the third day the 1st Battlion, 52nd Infantry unit, led by King, moved quickly.

"We went into the area and cordoned it off," King said. "Then we began our search and found the seven tons of salt."

Detainees captured in the action reported that the salt was stored in the cache during the day, then moved by night to enemy units hiding in the mountains in the western Americal Division area.

The salt was turned over to the Son Tin District Headquarters for redistribution to the Vietnamese.

Weaver Named Scout Campaign Chairman Here

Ted Weaver of Slaton has been appointed local chairman for the Boy Scout annual Sustaining Membership Enrollment campaign to be launched on Oct. 15, according to Bill Knight, Lubbock, finance chairman for the MaeKenzie Trail District.

The chairman pointed out that this campaign will represent the second year of a new method of securing funds for the operation of the Scout Council. Previously an annual finance campaign was held in the fall of the year. Under the current plan, the financial supporters of the council are enrolled as annual Sustaining Members, and support Scouting in a financial way much the same as others give of their time and effort on behalf of the Scouting program.

Funds raised through the membership effort will be used to underwrite the budget of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, a 20 county area in West Texas.

The South Plains Council uses the funds secured to provide essential services to local Scout groups. Included in the services are the organization of new Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops, and Explorer Posts; the operation of Camps Post and Tres Ritos; training courses for Scout leaders; area wide activities including camporees, courts of honor, Boy Scout Week celebrations; operation of the Scout office as a service center for the 20 county area; and a staff of trained executives who work with local Scout and community leaders as advisors in the operation of the Scouting program.

The local chairman will soon appoint members of a steering committee for the campaign. These people will be responsible for the membership enrollments, publicity, audit, and special memberships.

Church Department Helps African Boy

An 18-year-old African boy has opened the hearts and pocket books of members of the Adult II department of the First Baptist Church. His plight of acquiring an education was relayed by Areta Privett, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Privett, to her parents and to this department.

The boy's name is Bassey Edet and he is a member of the Biafra tribe that is gradually starving out and being killed and run out of an area which used to be part of Nigeria.

Areta said his father died a few years ago. His aunt and uncle took him and entered him in college and later the uncle died. Therefore, his income was cut off and since his mother can neither read nor write, he hasn't been able to get in contact with her. This is his second year of college.

Areta, who went to Nigeria a year ago last month, is teaching in the Niger Baptist College. She plans to come home next June. She teaches music and classes in religion in the college. During her off hours she teaches private organ lessons.

The department has sent him money for three semesters so far.

Following is a letter that Mrs. Ahelen Bivens, superintendent of the department, received from Bassey last week: Dear Mother, (the word "mother" is used for beloved)

O how can I express my words of apology. How most interesting and unforgettable letter arrived some weeks ago. The words so fed by mind that it seems is the cause of delay. I take this time to apoligize for not replying the letter since and I hope you wouldn't mind so much.

If I was told in a dream or visually in 1964 that there will come a time that my tears will start to dry up, I could have not believed such a statement. It seems miraculous, rather God's will, that those tears have started to dry up. Glory be to God. Miss Privett received the information sheets about scholarship about a month ago. Well, some were encouraging while others were otherwise. However, she advised me to write to some universities in the states and maybe I would be lucky. I've done so and I hope, by God's will, all will be well. I thank you for your untiring effort in trying to help and I hope God (as the Africans say) will butter your bread.

At present I haven't decided on the subjects I would like to major in, nevertheless, I'm keenly interested in science, music, math and literature. It seems (probably natural) that I'm prone to sickness one after the other. Though not serious ones. I had a bruise on my finger, caused by an iron which fell off from the window and met me on my finger. It caused great pain but I'm feeling better now.

The school closed on Aug. 13 for the four - week holidays. As it is usual with me, I travel nowhere. I'm now on the compound though lonely at times, but my few friends do contribute to my few - minute happiness. The school opens on Sept. 13th. I hope for a successful semester so that I can move up to the final class next year. I hope the construction of the new building is begun. It is the educational wing of the church for training teachers.

I'm sometimes tempted to say that the world is mad. There is war in Vietnam, war between the Arabs and Israels, war in Nigeria and war in otherplaces. I was told of the tragic event Senator Robert Kennedy was shot in the head at a political rally in California. I heard this news on the radio, too. But soon after a day or two, the radio announced about his death. Mother, the world is bloody. I'm always grieved whenever I sit to think about the present civil war in Nigeria.

The thought always comes to my mind, "Boy, will you ever see your mother again?" This is a point I should shed tears, but what can I do than to pray about it. Miss Privett do help me about his. I left my mother in 1966 December, but I neither hear from her nor see her. Will I ever see my three little sisters again? The Bible says "Hope is the Lord, for the Lord, there is stedfast redemption". May it be so. We pray for peace all over the world, so that we will realize our mistakes and never comit it again.

I hope everyone is fine. Extend my unreserved greetings to the association, to Miss Privett's family and others I do not know. A certain song reads "In times like this, we need a Saviour". I will be praying for you as I need your daily prayers so that I can overcome my problems. Miss Privett is doing fine over here. Thanks.

Your sincere son,
Bassey Edet

God's Will

"Teach me to do thy will; for thou art my God! Let thy good spirit lead me on a level path!"

Find the faith you need to know and live according to God's will. Life is not always an easy adventure. There is adversity. There is temptation. There is defeat.

God's will is that all men walk the straight and level path. There is no guarantee that the road will always be smooth.

But there is assurance of courage, through faith, to meet challenge and to persevere always, all ways.

About 25 boosters attended the Tiger Club meeting Monday night and saw a film of the scrimmage session. Slaton will get another strong test this week when they take on Seagraves, one of the top-rated Class A teams in the state. Davis said there were no serious injuries on the squad, just the customary bumps and bruises.

Tiger gridders were spending much time on pass blocking and pass patterns this week, after the scrimmage showed a weakness in these points of the game. Slaton's first offensive and defensive units fared well against Abernathy. The Tigers chalked up 13 first downs in 40 plays while limiting the Antelopes to 5, and the rushing yardage was one-sided in Slaton's favor.

Slaton scored twice in the scrimmage -- on a 2-yard run by fullback Richard Washington, and a fine 70-yard scamper by quarterback Jimmy Williams. Abernathy scored on defense with an intercepted pass.

The Tiger defense appeared sharp, especially on the first series of 20 plays run by Abernathy. The home team got only one first down, and that came on a scrambling run by the quarterback when he couldn't find a pass receiver.

Slaton's defensive ends were a question mark, but they came through with flying colors in the test. Brent Lamb, Randall Partain and Brice Hill manned the positions with authority.

Tackle Roy King and guards Randall Choate and Ronnie Romines turned in great jobs in the middle of the defensive line. Allen McDonald and Larry Moore are battling for the starting role at the other tackle, and both showed good potential.

Davis stuck with Williams at quarterback in the scrimmage, with Moore, Nicky Farrell and Morris Dixon at the halfbacks. Moore and Farrell started at the halfback spots, and both showed fine promise. Moore picked up 52 yards in 6 trips with the ball, and Farrell got 29 on 5 trips.

Slaton's second unit got a good workout, too, and the third unit had one good session in the practice under game conditions. The Tiger second unit moved the ball over for one score in 30 plays. Hobby Chapple was the signal caller, with Don Smith at fullback, Essie Scott and Morris Dixon at halfbacks. Smith notched the touchdown on a short run.

The Tiger sophomore, or third unit, had Terry Mosser at quarterback, Alan Fondy at fullback, and Glen Akin Jr. and Bruce Schuette at halfbacks. Neither of the team's third units scored on offense.

TAX MAN SAM SEZ:

For various reasons thousands of taxpayers end up receiving a bill from Internal Revenue Service for taxes and interest they owe but have not paid. It is good business to pay your deliquent tax bill promptly.

As a matter of fact it is better business to pay when you file your return or before you receive a bill from Internal Revenue. Unless the tax statement is erroneous, most taxpayers will gain by arranging for the money to pay their tax account.

If, due to an error, Internal Revneue sends you a statement for taxes that you do not owe, you should take immediate action to get the error corrected. In any case, don't try to play the "let - them - wait - a-little-longer game."

The trained professionals follow a system - - the end of this system is usually a levy on your bank account, a levy on your wages or seizure of your property for your delinquent tax account. The Revenue Officer is trained to be completely fair, but the tax law requires him to be very firm.

LCC Completes New Moody Auditorium

Lubbock Christian College's new Mood Auditorium is nearing completion, a move which will bring the college a step closer to the establishment as a four year school.

After eleven years as a fully accrediated two-year college, serving approximately 700 students each term, LCC has launched a massive plan to advance to the senior college level.

Hopefully, the 1968 entering freshman will graduate with a baccalaureate degree as the class of 1972.

Named for William Lewis Moody, the auditorium will seat 1264 persons. It will be used for daily chapel periods, the annual LCC le ureships and public meetings.

The completion date was originally set December, but has been moved up to October first.

The Mood Auditorium is just one of five new buildings scheduled to be built. Also under construction is the music building. In the planning stages are a science building, arts and crafts building, health center, agriculture conference center, welding laboratory, agriculture building, and numerous campus improvements.

These will be added t the seven permanent structures already on the LCC campus.

The Southern Association of Junior College and Schools specifies facilities a junior college must have to advance to the senior college level. So Lubbock Christian College is planning to comply.

Faculty at LCC would also be altered to meet the association's specifications for senior college status. Required are 12 persons with Doctorates, 12 persons with three years beyond the Bachelor's degree, and the remaining 15 with a minimum of a Master's degree.

Once the plan is in operation, LCC will award two degrees; a Bachelor of Arts and a Bachelor of Science, each in four divisions—humanities, science, social sciences and teacher education.

Pass, Punt & Kick Contest Set Again

Boys age 8 through 13 in the Slaton area can begin registering for the eighth annual Punt, Pass & Kick Competition today, with trophies and trips awarded football - minded youths for skills in punting, passing and kicking.

Headquarters for registration in Slaton is Smith Ford, Inc., US-84 bypass, where entries will be accepted through Oct. 4. Entrants must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. There is no charge as the entire competition is absolutely free to all entrants and all equipment such as footballs and kicking tees are provided. No body contact is involved in PP&K competitions.

When they register, boys receive a free booklet of competition tips written by Green Bay's star passer, Bart Starr, the Atlanta Falcon's punting specialist, Billy Lothridge, and St. Louis Cardinal's kicking leader Jim Bakken. The booklet includes exercises for better physical fitness oriented to boys of PP&K's competition ages.

In addition to the booklet each registrant receives an attractive PP&K lapel pin. The basic principle of PP&K underlines fairness in competition to give every boy an equal chance to win, pitting contestants only against those their own age. Points are awarded for each foot of distance the ball travels on the fly, with points subtracted for each foot the ball lands to right or left of a center line.

Eighteen handsome trophies will be awarded locally by Smith Ford. Gold trophies go to first place finishers, silver to second and bronze to third, with first place winners going on for further competition in Zone contests.

Winners of Zone competitions will receive trophies and runners-up are awarded certificates. Zone winners move to District competitions where 216 District champions will be awarded trophies and go on to compete for Area championships. Area champs travel to division events in NFL stadiums in St. Louis or Atlanta where twelve finalists are chosen -- six from the NFL Eastern division and six from the NFL Western division. Winners are accompanied by their fathers to all Area and Division competitions.

The twelve Division winners go, with both parents, to the Orange Bowl in Miami, Florida, for the National Finals during the annual NFL Play-Off Game. Then all 12 National finalists and their parents will go on a "Tour of Champions" to Washington, D.C.

The Punt, Pass and Kick Competition is sponsored nationally by Ford Dealers and the National Football League.

Return To Small Towns

During the past several decades, the growth in this nation has been largely in the cities. The large cities have become larger, the people have moved into metropolitan areas, and while this seemed to be a good thing for a while, it has now come to the point where the cities are not clamoring for more growth as they once were.

It is no longer the mark of progress for a city to be big. While it is still probably true that a city never stands still, it either goes forward or slips backward, this progress is not always measured in terms of population numbers.

In former years, when we were a "town" society, the community governed itself. The community served as its own guardian and it was its own restraint. Small towns still operate this way.

But in a "city" society, a society of mobile strangers, it is a different situation. The city society has become one where the institutions, both academic and religious, often foster a dissent far beyond that of responsible citizenship and self-discipline. Our legal institutions have also gone far down the same road by permitting excessive dissent and by overemphasizing individual liberties at the expense of society's liberties.

In the small town, the community is made of friends and neighbors who have a common stake in law and order. In the new and more mobile society, those old sanctions no longer work. The city dweller doesn't care what his neighbors think of his actions because he doesn't even know his neighbors. He moves about in a sea of strangers, often works amid a swarm of strangers and must sometimes feel that he is insignificant and wants to do something to call attention to himself.

The nation needs to return to small town values if the current trend toward lawlessness and anarchy is to be contained.

Two 'Field Days' Set for Farmers

The week of Sept. 9 on the High Plains could appropriately be called "Agricultural Research Week" this year, according to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

"Field Days" featuring tours of agronomic research projects, many of which receive PCG grants-in-aid, will be held at each of the area's two major agricultural research centers during that week, Johnson noted.

The 59th annual field day at the South Plains Research and Extension Center just north of Lubbock will begin at 1 p.m. on Tuesday, Sept. 10.

The 12th annual field day of the High Plains Research Foundation, Halfway, is set for Thursday, Sept. 12. Research projects and displays will be on exhibit from 1 p.m. to 4:45. The evening portion of the program begins at 5 p.m. and will include an address by an outstanding agricultural speaker.

"Of all our activities, PCG's support for agricultural research at these two facilities has provided some of the most profitable returns," Johnson stated, "but our members could get substantially greater benefits from production research if it weren't for the serious lag between the development of new and improved farming techniques and the field application of those techniques by farmers.

"So we are urging our members to avail themselves of these two excellent opportunities to see and study the latest advances in farm technology."

At SPREC on Sept. 10, tours will show field plots on cotton varieties and diseases, weed control, soil fertility, irrigation flexibility and sorghum midge control. Other attractions include a large machinery exhibit, the new $400,000 ginning laboratory, greenhouse and other laboratory displays.

Field stops at the HPRF on September 12 will cover studies on dates and rates of planting of Soybeans, the use of herbicides, control of volunteer castorbeans and an automated sprinkler irrigation system. There will also be displays of five HPRF Commodity Committees, a 20-saw laboratory gin, wild life conservation and a display by Water, Inc. on plans for water importation to West Texas.

Johnson is co-chairman of the HPRF Cotton Commodity Committee along with L. D. (Don) Anderson, PCG President, of Crosbyton.

Mayor research grants from PCG at SPREC this year went to studies of control of cotton diseases, cotton breeding and genetics, a soil moisture survey and an evaluation of cotton strains and varieties for the High Plains with emphasis on fiber quality.

At HPRF, PCG is supporting weed control studies in cotton, a comparison of water usage and cotton yields on bench leveled and contoured sloping land, a study of planting design and climatic influence on cotton fiber development.

A. L. (Skinny) Higgins, President, has announced that the annual meeting of Plains Ginners Association will be held on September 14 at the Lubbock Country Club. Activities will begin at 9 a.m.

On the program will be Higgins, of Plainview; Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., Lubbock; Tony Price, Executive Officer of the statewide Texas Cotton Ginners Association, Dallas; Roy Davis, Lubbock Manager of Plains Cooperative Oil Mill and President of the National Cotton Council; and Roy Baker, Engineer-in-charge of USDA's new $400,000 ginning laboratory at the South Plains Research and Extension Center.

Also on the program will be a representative of the Texas Exmployment Commission, who will discuss TEC efforts to alleviate the expected shortage of gin labor this fall.

Featured luncheon speaker will be the well known dentist-humorist Dr. Charles Jarvis of San Marcos, Texas.

SOUTHLAND NEWS

MRS. TOMMY WILKE

Scrimmage Game Saturday

Well, today is Labor Day, and the word fits the day just right. The post office is closed, but I sure have been laboring at home! Norman Vincent Peale tells us that regular vitality can best be maintained when you go about your daily activities with a sense of rhythm. The whole universe God created operates in a specific pattern and with a definite rhythm. So, too, does life all about us. If we overexert ourselves, we get out of rhythm and fatigue sets in. If we are lazy and listless, life passes us by. But when we put ourselves in the creative flow of life, and learn to pace ourselves, we achieve what is called relaxed power. ---Well, so much for that!

VISIT 19 STATES

Mr. and Mrs. Max Chaffin and children returned recently from a three week's trip in which they visited 19 states and Canada. They visited with Mrs. Chaffin's father, Col. L. A. Elliott, in New Hampshire and one of her brothers, Lt. Col. James Elliott and family and another brother, Lt. Col. Bruce Elliott and family. Her father and brothers have homes on Lake Winnepasauken, N.H. They spent three days in Van Buren, Mo. and while there they rode the rapids on Current River and visited the National Park.

They visited with Mr. and Mrs. Dave Thompson and Vickie in Washington, D. C. and drove through the skyline drive in Virginia. While in Washington, D. C. they visited the Capitol. They went to New York City, Boston, Mass., Niagra Falls and Ontario, Canada, Detroit and Chicago. They visited many other places of interest before returning home, and they had intended to be gone a week longer, but school was starting early so they had to return home. Mrs. Chaffin is a teacher in the Southland school.

Terri Lester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Lester of Commerce, has been here visiting her grandmother, Mrs. W. P. Lester, and other relatives.

Sgt. and Mrs. Charles Stahl and children from Wyoming, have been here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wartes. Sgt. Stahl will be leaving for Greenland around the first of the year, and Mrs. Stahl and children will move back here to Wolfforth.

Darrell and Sherri Wilke and Kathy Walter from Roosevelt attended a W.A.Y. meeting in Odessa from Friday until Sunday. This is a church workshop for adults and youth and all of the Northwest Conference was represented at the meeting.

Mrs. Jack Myers attended the funeral of her aunt, Mrs. I.D. Rodgers, in Clairemont on Thursday.

Mrs. Paul Winterrowd, Dahlonna, Breonne and Jerry took a trip over the week-end, the same trip that Mrs. Winterrowd took in 1945 when she graduated from high school, and Mrs. Bertha K. Duncan was their sponsor. They went to Cloudcroft, N.M., White Sands, Las Cruces and El Paso. While in El Paso they took a taxi trip over into Juarez, Old Mexico and visited many places of interest including a glass factory. Then they went to Carlsbad Caverns where Dahlonna, Breonne and Jerry took the elevator trip down into the caverns. They returned home late Sunday night.

AT "TEXAS"

A group of people from here went to Palo Duro Canyon Sunday where they attended the show "Texas". Those making the trip were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Dabbs and son, David, and Linda Johnson from Slaton, Mrs. Alice Martin, Mrs. Martha Dabbs and children, Danny, Dale, Debbie and Dana from Slaton, Mr. and Mrs. Hansell Hallman, Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Dunn and Mrs. Audie Martin from Plainview. They had gone to see the show on Thursday night, but it was rained out, so they were given tickets for Sunday night. They all enjoyed the show very much. Mr. and Mrs. Willie Becker from here were also at the show.

Mrs. Opal Pennell was ill this past week and those visiting with her were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Cedarholm and Mr. and Mrs. Arville Ferguson from Post, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Pennell and Kim from Lubbock, Mrs. Karen Callaway, Jay and Stacy from Post, and Mr. and Mrs. Don H. Pennell. Opal, we sure hope you are feeling much better.

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. McMinn from Slaton were guests in our home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don H. Pennell and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Thuett of Post were in El Paso for the weekend.

Our Southland football squad will be meeting the Gail football squad in a scrimmage game here at Southland Saturday morning, Sept. 7 at 9:00 a.m.

Not much news this week, so I will sign off and hope you will give me a call next week and give me your news. My number is still 996-2423. Call me any day after 4:30.

A real estate agent was using the invigorating climate as a selling pitch to unload a piece of lan. "I was born here," he said, "and yesterday was my two - hundredth birthday. You can see for yourself how healthful it is around here."

Later the prospective buyer took the agent's assistant to one side and asked, "Is he really that old?"

"I couldn't say," the assistant said, "I've only known him for 150 years."
