

BRING INDUSTRIAL BLACK SHEEP TO PLAINS

West Texans' Pollution Solution

CHILDRESS, Tex. (AP) — Enterprising West Texans are trying to get some industrial black sheep—those with bad breath for example—to come to live on the plains.

"The concept," said a leader of the group, "is based on the idea that one of the things we've got to sell out here is wide open spaces."

With this in mind, business and civic leaders from four counties joined hands in an effort to lure companies inclined to pollute the air or water.

Or perhaps those who are trapped in an urban squeeze, distressed by labor problems, beset by high taxes or employing a work force disgruntled with big city life.

Should their product be a little smelly, that's okay. Except for a sensitive groundhog or jackrabbit, resistance would be nominal at worst.

"We'll take an industry even if it doesn't smell or pollute," laughed Ross Smith, president of the multi-county group known as the Four Winds Industrial Foundation.

But he figures an operation with such pollution problems would find the vast, sparsely populated area appealing, free from expansion restrictions and irate neighbors.

"We think our location would lend itself to solving pollution problems in a legal manner," said Smith, a car dealer, a Texas A&M graduate and a lifelong resident of Childress.

Agreeing the idea was sound, interested parties from Childress, Hardeman, Foard and Cottle counties formed the Four Winds Foundation.

The largest towns within the four counties are Childress,

Quanah, Crowell and Paducah. Childress, with a little more than 6,000 residents, is the largest.

As envisioned, the industrial site would be designed for easy access to the four towns, as equidistant as possible and far enough away to preclude any complaints about odor unpleasantness.

The combined population of the area is 22,000, "which gives us a little better labor base than if each little town worked separately," Smith pointed out.

"The cooperation between the four counties has been outstanding. We have found that people can work together even if they root for different football teams."

Last month, members and directors of the Four Winds Foundation completed a four-part industrial team training course aimed at "teaching us how to converse and negotiate with an industry."

Smith added, "We've gone through the phase of slapping ourselves on the back; now we've got our nose to the grindstone. We're in the process of actively seeking industrial prospects for the area."

DEMOCRATIC POLICY TALK — Former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, who heads the Democratic Policy Council, talks today with Sen. Fred R. Harris of Oklahoma before the start of a day-long meeting of the council in Washington. Harris is chairman of the Democratic National Committee. The council was summoned into session to act on a series of broad domestic and foreign policy statements, including a call for total U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam within 18 months.

American Party Asks Equal Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Democratic Policy Council was summoned into session today to act on a series of broad domestic and foreign policy statements including a call for total U.S. withdrawal from Vietnam within 18 months.

Rep. Jack Brooks, D-Tex., saying he did not want to undermine President Nixon's efforts to settle the war, suggested in advance of the meeting the 66-member council delete any specific time limit from the proposal drafted by a subcommittee headed by Averell Harriman.

Meanwhile, antiwar factions on the council were considering a bid to strengthen the Harriman statement.

The all-day council meeting came a day after congressional Democrats presented a nationally televised view of the state of the nation, an equal-time reply to Nixon's State of the Union message.

The Democratic version focused on a troubled citizenry and the issues of this congressional election year. It consisted of interviews and discussions between congressional Democrats and citizens in Washington, Los Angeles, Houston and Detroit.

The airing of the Democratic show prompted T. Coleman Andrews Jr. of Richmond, Va., national chairman of the American Party, to ask major television networks Sunday night for equal treatment for his organization of third-party groups that backed George C. Wallace's presidential campaign in 1968.

The Democratic Policy Council, headed by former Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, was urged in the Harriman subcommittee proposal to reject President Nixon's policy of conditioning future U.S. troop withdrawals on the Paris peace talks, the level of violence progress in developing South Vietnamese forces.

The proposal said: "It should depend wholly and exclusively upon the interests and policy of the United States. That interest is that policy require a firm and unequivocal commitment that all the American people that all U.S. forces will be withdrawn from Vietnam. We see no reason why this withdrawal should not be completed within 18 months."

The Democratic state of the nation telecast Sunday—produced at an estimated cost of between $30,000 and $50,000, to be paid by the party's congressional campaign committees—featured incumbents whose seats are up for election this year.

Sen. Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts was a prominent Democrat who was conspicuously absent. A party official said the senator declined an invitation to participate.

Republican response included this from Rep. Bob Wilson of California, chairman of the GOP Congressional Committee: "The Democrats pinpointed many of the problems facing the country on their TV show—residual problems left over from the years of Democratic administration. And they sounded just like a group of disgruntled heirs arguing over their meagre inheritance."

Political Probe Treasurer Jesse James Subpoenaed

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — State Treasurer Jesse James said today he has been subpoenaed to testify before the federal grand jury here in a probe of alleged irregularities involving a political race in North Texas.

James said in Austin he had "just received" the subpoena today and that he was ordered to appear before the grand jury at 1 p.m. Tuesday.

At least two Memphis, Tex., men, one a republican candidate for the legislature in District 80, also have been subpoenaed to testify here Tuesday.

U.S. Atty. Seagal Wheatley declined to say what the investigations involve, except to say that it concerns "alleged irregularities" by a third person in connection with political candidates' efforts to file for state office.

The District 80 seat is held by Rep. W. S. Healy of Paducah, who is seeking his ninth term.

The republican candidate, Zack Fisher of Memphis, confirmed Saturday that he has been called by the grand jury.

Also confirming the receipt of a subpoena was Jack Davis, president of the First National Bank of Memphis. Fisher at one time was connected with Davis' bank but began cutting his ties with it after announcing as candidate.

Healy said from Paducah today that he had not been subpoenaed, that he had never had any contact with the two opponents for his post and that he didn't even know the men.

The Democrat seeking to take the party nomination away from Healy is Leon Williams of Quanah. Williams said Saturday he had not been subpoenaed.

One report Saturday quoted a source as saying Healy had been subpoenaed. But the source later said he had made no such statement.

13,289 Voters Is Not Final

Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, tax collector, said this morning her deputies have processed applications for 13,289 voters in Howard County for 1970. Deadline for application was Jan. 31.

Mrs. LeFevre said this figure is not final and will vary as duplicate registrations are thrown out. She said final registration figures will be released within a week.

2,600 Car Tags Sold

Approximately 2,600 car licenses were sold during the first week they were on sale for a total receipt of $45,047.33, Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, tax collector said. Approximately 25,000 cars are usually registered each year, she said. Car licenses must be on the automobiles by midnight April 1. Prices vary according to the weight of the vehicle.

Republicans Showing Signs Of Viet Unity

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republicans are showing new signs of unity on such controversial issues as Vietnam and President Nixon's latest Supreme Court nomination.

In contrast to some of the strains of 1969, efforts for better relations by leading GOP moderate senators and the White House appear to be paying off.

An accompanying factor, GOP politicians say, is Nixon's high ratings in popularity polls, especially his handling of Vietnam.

As a result, last week's renewal of public hearings on Vietnam by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee saw such GOP doves as Clifford P. Case of New Jersey and John Sherman Cooper of Kentucky take the lead in rejecting suggestions by Democratic Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota that the administration is planning to maintain 250,000 troops in Vietnam indefinitely.

Case indicated McGovern was politically motivated while Cooper stressed he has received personal assurances from the President that the United States is on its way out of Vietnam.

The committee's senior Republican, George D. Aiken of Vermont, commented early last week there would be a lot of political statements on Vietnam as the election approaches. Then, he proceeded to stay away from the sessions except for a couple of brief appearances.

As for the Democrats, only committee Chairman J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., and Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho, did much critical questioning, and, by the last day, even Church didn't show up.

The chief critic of the Nixon administration turned out to be Sen. Charles E. Goodell, the New York Republican who is running hard for the seat to which he was appointed in 1968.

Likewise, Goodell is the only GOP senator openly opposed to the G. Harrold Carswell Supreme Court nomination at this stage.

But his Vietnam proposal, removal of financial support for American forces by Dec. 1 in order to force their withdrawal, drew an attack from an unusual source in an act that only served to underscore the new unity of Republicans.

Road Covered With Dimes

AUBURN, Mass. (AP) — The rear door of an armored truck swung open on the Massachusetts Turnpike early today, spilling $40,000 in dimes onto the highway.

State police said the truck, headed for Boston, contained 40 money bags, each holding $1,000 in dimes.

"Each of the bags broke open," said police, spilling dimes over one eighth of a mile section of the road.

The money was being carried by a rental truck, leased to Armored Motor Rental Transport Co. It was headed to Brink's Inc. in Boston from New Jersey, police said.

A truck following the armored vehicle was disabled when it ran into the flying dimes, police said, and had to be towed away.

The road could not be closed after the incident, police said, and men worked with vacuum cleaners and machines known as "mud suckers" to recover the dimes as cars continued running over the loot.

Israeli, Egyptian Jets Trade Blows

By The Associated Press

Israeli and Egyptian jets traded strikes across the northern Suez Canal today as the little summit meeting of Israel's chief Arab foes drew to a close in Cairo.

Israeli planes made a 75-minute raid against Egyptian military targets in the northern sector of the canal, the military command announced in Tel Aviv, and all planes returned safely.

ATTACK TANKS

Egyptian military spokesmen in Cairo reported that Egyptian fighter-bombers attacked "enemy bunkers and an encampment in the Deversoir area, scoring direct hits." The planes hit a group of moving Israeli vehicles, the spokesmen said, and also attacked Israeli tanks on a main road in Sinai. All planes were reported to have returned safely.

Israeli jets struck on two sides of Cairo Sunday during the second day of the Arab leaders' conference called by President Gamal Nasser. The Israelis claimed they shot down two Egyptian MIG21s, Egypt claimed one Israeli Phantom, and each denied the other's camp.

The Israeli planes attacked an army camp at Inshash, 12 miles northeast of the Egyptian capital, and hit another camp near Helwan, 15 miles south of Cairo.

Just before the Sunday morning meeting of Arab leaders at Nasser's Zahraa palace in suburban Heliopolis, air raid sirens wailed, windows were rattled by an unexplained blast, and residents heard the thud of anti-aircraft guns firing at the Israeli raiders.

FRONT LINES

Egyptian Foreign Minister Mahmud Riad said Sunday night that the leaders of Egypt, Jordan, Syria, Iraq and Sudan—the nations manning the front lines against Israel—had agreed on recommendations submitted to them, their foreign and defense ministers. The leaders were to hold a final discussion today and then issue a communique.

Egyptian fighters engaged the Israeli planes as they attacked the two army camps. Israeli spokesmen said the two MIGs were hit by cannon fire at "medium altitude," and that one exploded in the air and the other crashed in flames. They said one of the Egyptian pilots bailed out.

Cairo spokesmen said the Israeli Phantom was one of four intercepted by Egyptian MIGs near the raided area. It was the third Phantom the Egyptians claim to have destroyed.

MACHINE-GUN FIRE

It was Israel's ninth reported strike over the Nile Valley since Jan. 7 and the first in 11 days. Israeli pilots reported a massive explosion at the target near Helwan. Cairo said 12 civilians were injured.

It was also the first time Egyptian fighters challenged Israeli planes deep inside Egypt.

Both sides said Egyptian jets attacked Israeli positions in the central sector of the Suez Canal. Cairo said its fighter-bombers strafed "enemy encampments, artillery and tank positions," but Israel said the raids caused no casualties or damage.

Israeli jets later struck for 50 minutes at Egyptian targets in the southern sector of the canal, a spokesman in Tel Aviv said.

On the Israeli-Jordanian front, Arab guerrillas in Jordan raked Israeli border patrols with machine-gun fire at three points in the Beisan Valley, but there were no reports of casualties or damage. Israeli units fired back with machine guns and mortars.

HOMES BLASTED

A Jordanian military spokesman said Jordanian and Israeli forces exchanged mortar and machine-gun fire for 30 minutes and there were no Jordanian casualties. He said the Israelis fired first, and four Israeli casualties were seen being evacuated.

The Israeli news agency reported Israeli troops have blown up the homes of five suspected Arab saboteurs in the West Bank town of Jenin. The dispatch said the Arabs were jailed several months ago for suspected subversive activity.

An Arab was wounded today when a hand grenade thrown at an Israeli military vehicle in Gaza City missed its target and exploded in the street.

Pressure from Arab extremist groups was reported to have caused the resignation of the last of 12 East Jerusalem Arabs appointed to serve on municipal committees a week ago. Radio and television broadcasts from Amman also had called on the Arabs to resign.

'Forced Integration' Is Causing Breakdown In Southern States?

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Democrat from the Old South told the Senate today that "forced integration" is causing the nation's educational system to break down.

The statement came from Louisiana's Allen J. Ellender, who led off debate on the first in a series of southern amendments to a $35 billion education bill.

The southerners are seeking to write into the measure provisions that would legalize freedom of choice school desegregation plans, bar busing and other compulsory methods of breaking down school segregation and require that all regions of the country be equally forced to comply with civil rights laws.

A southern complaint is that northern segregation is being left alone, that the South alone is being pushed.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., is advancing one freedom of choice plan which he says is written along the lines of a New York state law.

Although Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana said he hopes the Senate can complete work on the $35 billion education bill by Tuesday, Stennis said he anticipated considerable discussion on the freedom of choice amendment and other proposals offered by Dixie senators.

Thus it is uncertain whether the bill extending major school aid programs for four years can be passed before the traditional Lincoln Day recess gets underway at the close of business Tuesday. The lawmakers' holiday period ends next Monday.

Meanwhile, governors of Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi and Louisiana announced after a meeting Sunday in Mobile, Ala., they plan to meet soon with their congressional delegations.

The governors seek unified action to meet what they term "chaotic conditions" facing their schools because the courts

Family Aid Cut Voted

AUSTIN (AP) — The State Public Welfare Board, citing big increases in welfare rolls, voted today to reduce aid to families with dependent children payments as well as medical assistance, effective April 1.

Welfare Department experts figured the family aid cut would amount to $3 or $4 per recipient. The present average payment is $27.40 a month per recipient.

The board approved staff recommendations that the level of aid to families with dependent children be lowered from 75 per cent to 66 per cent of budgeted needs. These needs are worked out on a case by case basis, according to a complicated formula.

A 20 per cent reduction was ordered in expenditures for medical aid. The primary effect of this will be to reduce payments for nursing home care and insurance premiums paid to Blue Cross-Blue Shield to operate the medical program of hospital and physicians care for everyone on the welfare rolls. A spokesman said the actual effect on medical benefits has not yet been determined.

have rebuffed efforts to block immediate desegregation through busing.

The Stennis amendment provides that, unless the local school board agrees, "no student shall be assigned or compelled to attend any school on account of race, creed, color, or national origin, or for the purpose of achieving equality in attendance, at any school, of persons of one or more particular races, creeds, colors or national origins."

The Supreme Court has held that freedom of choice can be allowed only if it is the best way to achieve an end to dual school systems.

In a speech prepared in opposition to the amendment, New Jersey Republican Sen. Clifford P. Case said:

"I believe there is some justification for feeling that the South is taking the brunt of the desegregation effort. But I disagree with any contention that the situation in the North justifies any diminution of pressure for desegregation in the South."

"In my view, two wrongs do not make a right. We must get at the problem in the North, but not at the expense of our efforts to correct even more severe problems in the South."

RELEASED IN AUSTIN

'Runaway' Girl Claims She's Common-Law Wife

AUSTIN (AP)—A 14-year-old "runaway" girl from Mississippi who claims she is a common-law wife has been released to the custody of her father, juvenile authorities said today.

A petition in juvenile court seeking to have the girl declared delinquent will be dropped, said Bill Anderson, chief juvenile probation officer.

Sandra Darna Sellers and Eugene Franklin Sellers, 18, a boy from nearby Manchaca, filed a "declaration of informal marriage" in the Travis County clerk's office Jan. 23, an action permitted under the new family code passed by the legislature last year.

Sandra's mother was reported en route to Texas to get the girl Friday, but apparently changed her mind.

The girl was released to Elco Walker of Johnson City, her natural father.

Common-law marriages between underage persons whose parents did not consent have been recognized in Texas for generations. The only thing added by the new law is the right to file a declaration, making it easier to prove marriage in disputes over wills and other matters.

Girls 14 to 18 and boys 16 to 19 may join in common-law marriages without parental consent. Older persons need no consent and may join in common-law marriages or get marriage licenses and go through civil or religious ceremonies. Underage persons cannot get marriage licenses.

TEXAS DEATH TOLL CLIMBS TO 21 Crashes No. 1 Killer

By The Associated Press
Motor vehicle crashes and gunfire amid miscellaneous tragedy pushed the Texas violent death toll upward during the weekend.

The death toll climbed to 21 with 14 killed in traffic collisions and five dead in shooting incidents.

The Associated Press began the death tabulation at 6 p.m. Friday and continued it until midnight Sunday.

Virgil Wiatrek, 24, a special sheriff's deputy at Karnes City, was killed Saturday night in a dance hall brawl.

The young deputy was shot three times when an 18-year-old youth grabbed another deputy's gun and turned it on the two officers. The second deputy, Suzano Garcia, 47, was in poor condition late Sunday in a San Antonio hospital.

Leticia Cabrera, 3, of Fort Worth was killed Saturday night when her father's car rolled into a guard rail near New Braunfels. The father and another passenger in the car were injured.

Williams Gates, 39, of Houston was killed Sunday when his truck left Interstate 30 near New Belvieu, hurtled through a fence, and struck a barn.

Five persons died late Saturday in a car-truck collision on U.S. 83 about 25 miles south of Zapata in south Texas.

Dead are Camilo Martinez, 48, of Laredo; his wife, Della Camacho Martinez, 33; their children, Arececi Camacho Martinez, 13; Arturo, 18, and Tomacita, 16.

Al J. Conway, 33, of Houston was killed in a one-car accident on a Houston street Saturday night. Police said Conway lost control of his car on a rain-slick street and crashed into a telephone pole and overturned.

Mrs. Bobbie Jean Minor, 17, was killed and her 22-year-old husband Zelta Minor was critically injured in a shooting incident outside a Houston tavern Friday night. Mrs. Minor died Saturday. Police were looking for a 25-year-old man for questioning.

Gilbert Berry, 56, of Beaumont, was fatally shot in the chest Saturday in a car on a highway between Port Arthur and Beaumont. Authorities said they arrested a woman.

Cornelius Young, 18, was killed Friday night when his small car overturned and crushed him. Jerry Hamrick, a passenger, was reported in fair condition at a hospital.

Mrs. Diane McDaniel Grimes, 22, was killed in a one car accident Friday night. Police said her car overturned on a curve in dense fog.

A head-on collision on a Houston street Friday night killed Donald Lee Wright, 31, of Houston. Police said Freddy Warren Carley, 28, the driver of the other car, was seriously injured.

Charles McClain, 27, of Amarillo was killed early Sunday when his car struck a traffic standard in the Panhandle city. His companion, Mary Lou Walker, 36, died in an Amarillo hospital several hours after the accident.

Janet Lynn Hought, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Don Hought of Amarillo was killed Sunday when she was struck by a car on Farm Road 1318, about a quarter mile west of Tulla.

Harley Heinemeyer, 55, of Cibola was killed Sunday night when the car he was driving swerved off Farm 1103 east of Cibola and struck a bridge abutment.

Two small sisters perished Sunday night when flames engulfed their Houston apartment. They were 11-month-old Genny Moreno and Sandy Moreno, 4, daughters of Mrs. Gloria Moreno.

Five Perish In Flames

HIGHLANDS, N.C. (AP) — Trapped by flames and smoke, four children and their grandmother died in a burning home.

Authorities said the five died of smoke inhalation in two bedrooms.

The victims of Sunday's fire here were identified as Mrs. Julia Shadrach Pate, 64; Renata Marie Tully, 9, Daniel Charles Tully Jr., 6; Jose Luis Munguia Jr., 3; and Daniel Monroe Munguia, 1. All were from Cuthbert, Ga., and were visiting here.

The mother of two of the children and two other adults escaped without injury. The mother of the two other children was working at a local hospital when the fire occurred.

The victims were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Norton, Mrs. Pate's daughter and son-in-law. Firemen said the blaze was believed to have started in an oil furnace.

$1.3 Million In Medicare Paid Docs At Texas Clinic

WASHINGTON (AP)—Doctors at two clinics, one in Texas and one in California, received medicare payments totaling about $1 million for each group in a single year, a Senate report shows.

A top official of the American Medical Association was among the doctors at one of the clinics at Palo Alto, Calif.

The Scott and White Clinic at Temple, Tex., received $1.3 million in medicare payments for its 107 doctors in 1968 for the largest group billing listed under medicare.

The Palo Alto Medical Clinic got $915,000 the same year for 130 doctors. Dr. Richard Wilbur, the AMA's second-highest staff official, was a partner in the Palo Alto clinic at that time.

The AMA was a fierce foe of medicare when it was passed four years ago as the federal health program for the elderly.

The Senate Finance Committee staff's report listed at least six medicare and medicaid payments in the $1 million bracket. The others went to hospital groups of doctors, two of them in New York City.

There was no indication of irregularity in the payments to any of the clinics. Officials said joint payments to medical groups usually are higher because of the number of doctors involved.

The report also said 68 individual doctors were paid at least $100,000 a year by medicare. Florida led with 37, more than all the other states together.

At least 36 other doctors got

Only On Fridays

JOHANNESBURG (AP) — An exchange between a local radio quizmaster and a contestant: "What was the singer Caruso's full name?" "Robinson Caruso." "And what else do you know about him?" He only sang on Fridays."

$100,000 from medicaid, the health program for the poor. New York, California and Michigan topped this list.

The Senate report kept the names secret and listed the doctors and clinic groups only by confidential code numbers, such as "YYY20677Y."

However, the clinics were identified by The Associated Press through government sources and official records.

John Gill, administrator of the Scott and White Clinic, said in a telephone interview that the $1.3 million covered work by 107 physicians who are paid fixed salaries rather than receiving patient fees.

The Texas clinic, founded 70 odd years ago as a frontier railroad hospital center, is now one of the largest in the country.

The Senate report said nearly 4,300 doctors were known to have received at least $25,000 a year from medicaid or medicare.

The report said seven Florida doctors, three Texas physicians and three New York doctors each received more than $150,000 a year from medicare.

These presumably included the two Houston heart surgeons, Drs. Denton Cooley and Michael DeBakey, each of whom got payments of about $200,000 from medicare in 1968.

The payments, disclosed last summer, covered hundreds of difficult heart operations by teams of doctors. Most of the money went into a college medical fund rather than to the doctors personally.

Contracts, Election On School Trustees Agenda

The April 4 election, in which two school trustees will be elected, and several administrative contracts will be discussed Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. when the trustees of the Big Spring Independent School Board meet in a regular session.

Administrative contracts to be reviewed are for Don Crockett, assistant superintendent for business; Don Green, assistant superintendent for instruction; Noel Reed, administrative assistant; Keith Swim, administrative assistant; Mrs. Roscoe Newell, special education coordinator; Ray Lawlis, cafeteria director.

School principals John Smith, high school; S. A. Walker, Goliad; Roscoe Newell, Runnels; George Archer, Gay Hill; Marlon Barber, Moss; James Bean, College Heights; Ernest Boyd, Park Hill; Cleo Carlile, Airport; J. B. Cushing, Washington; William Dawes, Marcy; Tommy Henry, Cedar Crest; Jim Holmes, Kentwood; Harlan Huibregtse, Bauer; Earnest Morgan, Lakeview; Herman Smith, Boydston.

Contracts of the three assistant principals at the high school will also be reviewed. They are Harold Bentley, Ray Pope and John Talmadge.

The two places on the school board to be decided in the election are now held by Roy Watkins and Jack Alexander.

Two items tabled at the last meeting, school discipline policy and the proposed school calendar for 1970-71, are also on the agenda, along with reports from Supt. S. M. Anderson on personnel eligible for retirement, school enrollment, and drugs and narcotics programs.

Green will report to the trustees on the tax collections and the Dean Evaluation Service, which appraises property for tax purposes.

Cool, Dry Air Rules

By The Associated Press
Cool, dry air spilling over the state kept Texas skies mostly clear today.

A few early morning clouds dotted portions of the Lower Rio Grande Valley. Some fog cut visibility at the mouth of the Rio Grande.

Temperatures near dawn ranged from the 20s in the Texas Panhandle up to the 50s in far South Texas.

A high pressure system extended across the state, observers said, and was expected to keep skies fair through Tuesday.

Light showers moistened portions of North Central and Northeast Texas Sunday.

Sunday's maximum readings varied from 73 degrees at San Antonio and Lufkin down to 53 at Wink and Amarillo.

Coffee Honors Miss Hardy

Miss Paula Hardy, bride-elect of H. Guy Talbot, was honored Saturday with an introductory coffee in the Emerald Room of Big Spring Country Club. Calling hours were from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m., and the guest list included 200.

Miss Hardy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hardy of Garden City and her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Guy Talbot, 409 Washington.

The honoree was attired in a sleeveless navy blue dress with Kelly green trim at the neckline. She was presented a corsage of white carnations tied with turquoise ribbon, as were both mothers and the honoree's grandmother, Mrs. Jim Cook of Garden City.

Hostesses were Mrs. Harvey Adams, Mrs. Jack Cook, Mrs. R. E. Dobbins, Mrs. Jack Irons, Mrs. Guilford Jones, Mrs. R. McEwen Jr., Mrs. B. L. McFarland of Midland, Mrs. Wally Slate, Mrs. Tom South, Mrs. Merle Stewart, Mrs. Charles Tompkins, Mrs. R. H. Weaver and Mrs. Odell Womack. Their gift to Miss Hardy was a place setting of sterling silver flatware.

Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white cutwork cloth and accented with a tall brass holder arranged with white chrysanthemums and spider mums interspersed with greenery. Appointments were copper and brass, and turquoise napkins were used in carrying out the bride-elect's chosen colors.

Band Show Cast Party Saturday

A CR 7.0 cast party and dance was given by Mr. and Mrs. Bert Harris at their home Saturday after the final performance of the production.

Attending were nearly 185 cast members, directors and officers of the Band Boosters. Harris president of the boosters and his children, Gay and Corky, performed in the show.

Party decorations carried out the red, white and blue CR 7.0 theme from the colorful tables to the walls and floors of the dance area. Johnny James and his band played for dancing. Centerpiece for the main refreshment table was a large cake with "Campus Revue" 7.0 written across it in red, white and blue.

Take High Tallies At La Gallinas

Four and a half tables were in play for the La Gallinas duplicate bridge games held Friday afternoon at Big Spring Country Club.

Winners were Mrs. Monroe Gafford and Mrs. Kenneth Gafford, first; Mrs. Bill Johnson and Mrs. Granville Hahn, second; Mrs. Don Wiley and Mrs. Paschal Odum, third; and Mrs. Henry Bell and Mrs. Herbert Colmann, fourth.

The games are scheduled again Friday at 10 a.m. at the club.

Former Resident Wed In Lubbock

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ferinza of Bryson, formerly of Coahoma, announce the marriage of their daughter, Judy, to Bill Bledsoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bledsoe, of Lubbock. The ceremony was performed by Tommy Clay, Church of Christ minister, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Barnett of Lubbock, at 7:30 p.m. Feb. 6.

The bride is a senior at Texas Tech and the bridegroom is employed at Western Electric Company. They reside at 1811 6th in Lubbock.

Needlework Club Furnishes Cakes

Cakes were baked by Eager Beaver Sewing Club members for the Chaplain's Coffee Hour held Saturday at the Veterans Administration Hospital. Mrs. H. D. Bruton served.

The sewing club met at 2 p.m. Friday in the home of Mrs. Vernon Brimenter to do handwork and bring the cakes. The club is in charge of supplying cakes every first Saturday of the month for the Chaplain's Coffee.

The next meeting will be Friday at the home of Mrs. W. O. Washington, 2300 Allendale.

Past Matrons Report On Work

Visiting the ill and shut-in has been the work of the Coahoma Past Matron's club during the past month according to reports made during a Saturday meeting at Coker's Restaurant. The invocation was given by Mrs. Melvin Tindol.

Hostesses, Mrs. David Grant and Mrs. Edith Wallace, decorated the breakfast table with a Valentine's Day motif.

The next meeting at 9 a.m. Saturday in Coker's Restaurant will feature a St. Patrick's Day theme. Hostesses will be Mrs. Tindol and Mrs. Elmo Daniels.

Hot Sandwiches

Friends coming over in the evening? Ever think of serving them hot chicken or turkey sandwiches? Men love these! For go-alongs have cranberry relish and pickles, radishes and celery.

QUEEN FOR WEEK — Mrs. Charles Boadle has been chosen local queen for National Beauty Week which will continue through Saturday. The queen was chosen from among five contestants during judging at La Contessa Beauty Salon by members of Affiliate 24, National Hairdressers and Cosmetologists Association. Mrs. Boadle was a model for Mrs. D. Mike Moore, president. The week's theme is "Joy Is A New Hair Style." This is also the 50th anniversary of NHCA, and special plans are being made for the observance at the 1970 convention.

African Violet Club Has Program On New Strain

The Texas Star African Violet Garden Club met Thursday in the home of Mrs. C. B. Sullivan, 1300 Lexington, with Mrs. Herman Taylor as cohostess. Mrs. Paul Guy presided, introducing two guests, Mrs. W. M. Gage and Mrs. T. J. Moore.

A brief talk was given by Mrs. J. W. Trantham who brought a "busy" floral arrangement of both indoor and outdoor plants which she used to illustrate proper arranging. She showed a dried orchid which had retained almost all its color and a "mystery" African violet plant which she grew from a leaf. The plant was solid white, but the name and variety was unknown.

Mrs. Guy detailed programs and projects in store for the club during the coming year, noting that the group will join other garden clubs in attempting to build a garden center or club house.

The violet club has joined the Big Spring Council of Garden Clubs, and Mrs. Trantham was named to be representative to the council.

Mrs. A. C. Moore presented a program on a new strain of African violets called "Rejoice." She gave a leaf to each member. She read a letter from a man in California telling of his experiences with his plants and explaining different methods of producing the best growth.

A letter of appreciation was read from the Muscular Dystrophy Association. Mrs. R. F. Anderson was welcomed as a new member.

A LOVELIER YOU Keep Trim Figure With Sensible Eating

By MARY SUE MILLER (Last in a series of five special columns: "Easy Ways To Lose and Look It.")

A couple of thousand years lie between the fulsome curves of Grecian ladies in the Golden Age and elongated reedy shapes in this bus token age. Yet only a few months were needed to accomplish the latest transformation from thin to skinny. What Malady wants, mildady gets!

Through advanced ideas about diet, exercise and posture — such as outlined in this series — it is quite possible to develop your figure according to a pattern. The average loss is ten pounds and one inch per month.

But, once you've got the shape you are after, you've got to pamper it. Does that mean you must diet forever? No, but you must eat wisely. Nor will you have to do spot exercises. But you will have to take some form of exercise to stay firm and limber. Backsliders only gain, reduce and gain again.

Wordsworth had a phrase for it: "A perfect woman, nobly planned."

Does To Celebrate Founder's Day

The BPOE Does will hold a Founders Day reception Sunday beginning with a receiving line at 1 p.m. in the Elks Hall. All wives, daughters, and sisters of Does are invited to attend with Elks.

A special luncheon will be offered Sunday, as well as other refreshments. Preceding the reception will be a Valentine's dance Saturday night. Out-of-town Elks and Does are invited to attend.

Gerald Butlers Visit O. R. Crows

S. Sgt. and Mrs. Gerald Butler and children, Michael and Debbie, Dunkirk, Md., are visiting Mrs. Butler's parents, the O. R. Crows, Luther, Sgt. Butler has just completed duty in Southeast Asia and is en route with his family to California where he will be stationed with the 86th Military Airlift Squadron at Travis AFB.

Hyperion Club Sees Zodiac Constellations

"Constellations of the Zodiac" were shown at the high school planetarium by Gary Carlson, astronomy teacher, to members of the 1930 Hyperion Club at 3 p.m. Saturday.

The visit to the planetarium was the first part of a program on astrology and astronomy. After the planetarium tour, Hyperions gathered at Cosden Country Club where Mrs. Marvin Miller told the horoscope of each member. Hostesses were Mrs. Charles Weeg and Mrs. Hubert Stipp.

Mrs. Toots Mansfield was elected president and Mrs. Miller elected vice president. The secretary-treasurer will be elected later. The new slate will take office in September.

Hostesses at the March 7 meeting will be Mrs. Malcolm Patterson and Mrs. M. R. Koger. The program will cover "Customs of Eastern Women — Fashion, Food, Marriage and Education."

Minor Blazes Are Snuffed

Firemen doused three minor fires during the weekend, none of which caused serious damage. A car was reported on fire at 510 Goliad by an unknown caller around 1:30 p.m. Sunday and the blaze was extinguished immediately after firemen arrived. A grass fire along the T&P railway was put out around 3:30 p.m. Sunday after being reported by another unidentified caller.

Around 7 p.m. Saturday a grass fire was reported near a vacant house belonging to Donald Sparks, 1503 E. 3rd. Firemen doused the fire before any damage was done.

Chamber Budget To Be Considered

The Chamber of Commerce board of directors scheduled a meeting for noon today to hear the 1970 budget requirements as outlined by John Currie, budget committee chairman. This year's budget will increase expenditures some $8,000 to $42,138 because of increased chamber activity. Chamber Manager Tom Eastland said this morning. Also set for consideration was a report on the annual banquet to be presented by banquet committee chairman, Mrs. O. S. Womack.

Crop Forms Are Delayed

The notice of allotment, marketing quota, conserving base, yield and payment rates (Form ASC-378) will not be mailed for a few days, according to J. G. Hammack Jr., county executive director for the Howard County ASC office.

The reason for the delay is that the 1970 upland cotton appeals have not been approved by the state committee. Obviously, the sign-up date could not begin last week as announced originally.

Transfer of cotton allotments cannot be calculated or approved by the county committee until the yields are established and approved, said Hammack. He added, that the office will send out the notice of allotments as soon as possible, and this will be the signal for the sign-up in this county.

"We urge all operators who have not filed an appeal to bring in production records for 1966, 1967 and 1968," he said. "We ask all producers to bring 1969 production records so we will have it on file for future use."

The final date to release cotton allotment or request acreage from released cotton is March 8, 1970. The 1970 feed grain program sign-up is underway. Hammack said sweet sorghum (Cane), forage sorghum, and their hybrids will not be an eligible cover for the 1970 diverted acres.

Tires Slashed

Forrest Curtis, 704 Johnson, reported Saturday that his car's tires were slashed while it was parked outside the Silver Star Restaurant, 803 E. 3rd, around midnight.

Mail Opened

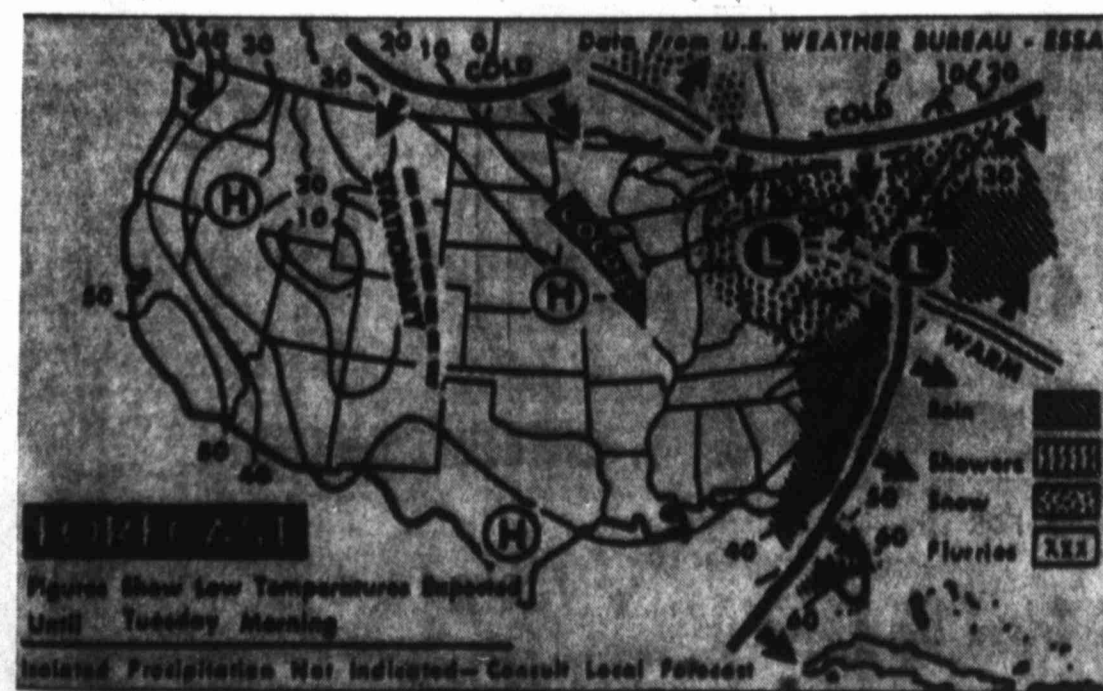

Walter Stroup, 700 Scott, told police around 10 p.m. Saturday that the mailbox in front of his residence had been tampered with and five pieces of mail opened sometime that day.

Minor Hurts

Ruth P. Pikyavit, 804 Douglas, was treated for minor injuries and released from Webb AFB Hospital Sunday after the automobile she was driving hit a railway crossing sign in the 3200 block of Airport Road around 4:30 a.m.

AMERICAN LEGIONNAIRES (left to right) Larry Phillips, Grady Kilgore, his son, Oran, Post Commander Dr. J. Gale Kilgore and Ollie Branson finish their volunteer clean-up job along a three-quarter mile stretch of Westover Road Saturday afternoon. The local post voted Thursday night that each member would spend one hour per month to help clean the city's scenic areas.

Legion Votes To Begin A Clean-up Drive

The local post of the American Legion voted last week to begin a clean-up campaign in the city and four of its members decided this weekend that there is no time like the present to start.

Post Commander Dr. J. Gale Kilgore, Larry Phillips, Grady Kilgore, his son Oran, and Ollie Branson picked up beer cans, liquor bottles, paper and anything else that littered a three-quarter mile length of Westover Road, near Scenic Mountain Saturday afternoon.

Phillips said the Legion hopes to encourage other civic groups and citizens to start their own clean-up campaigns in the areas of town where trash seems to build up. He said the local post voted last Thursday to devote one hour of its members' time per month to picking up the worst of the litter in order to make the city a prettier place to live.

Commission Makes No Policy For Candidate

County Commissioners this morning told Deputy Sheriff A. G. Mitchell, candidate for county judge, that they have no authority to set a policy for a county employee campaigning for political office.

"I personally don't favor it, I think you should take a leave of absence," Commissioner Bill Crocker told Mitchell, who appeared at this morning's commission meeting as a result of an item on last week's agenda concerning setting a policy for county employees seeking political office.

"We have no objection as long as the sheriff takes full responsibility," County Judge Lee Porter said. Judge Porter is not seeking re-election.

"We're working on some cases we need to clear up," Mitchell said. "I'll certainly take a leave of absence if and when I can. I'm not going to be using my job to elect myself," he said. "I assure you I'll take care of my job."

Commissioners ordered the installation of a new Xerox machine in the county clerk's office after discussing the machine with County Clerk Mrs. Pauline Petty, and three representatives of the Xerox Corp., Midland.

Dennis Kuempel told commissioners the new machine is larger and operates about twice as fast as the present machine and is considered more reliable. The county pays approximately $160 a month on the present machine, and Kuempel said rent on the larger machine will be $175 a month. The county is charged a $25 rental fee and 4 1/2 cents per copy with a minimum charge per month for copies.

"The larger machine requires about $15 to $18 more per month for the minimum number of copies," Kuempel said. Commissioners also spoke with representatives of two companies concerning voting machines. Commissioners have been considering installing the machines for several months.

Joe Perry, representing DataMedia, Dallas, and Bill McCloud, with Vot-A-Maker, produced by Steck-Warlick, Austin, answered questions about the machines. Parry has spoken with commissioners previously, but today is the first time Steck-Warlick has been represented.

The only item on the agenda which commissioners had not discussed shortly before noon was specifications for county vehicles as written by the New Car Dealers Association.

Commissioners several weeks ago asked the association members to draw up specifications for a light-weight car and a heavy-duty car which would enable all to bid fairly for county business.

Office Machine Needs High On City Agenda

A request to accept bids for a new city accounting equipment tops a crowded agenda for the regular meeting of the City Commission Tuesday at 7 p.m. In a memorandum to the commission Friday City Manager Larry Crow said concerning the present accounting machines, "Our equipment simply is not big enough to handle the job, even though we are now operating an average of 90 hours per week."

The machines are used to maintain the city's general ledger, water and payroll accounts. In all three areas, Crow said the finance office is having trouble with the equipment it now uses and offers three alternatives to the present situation: add to the present equipment; secure equipment with a larger capacity; institute service center or Dataphone-type operations. His recommendation, after consulting with Auditor George Thornburn and Finance Director Charles Smith is to take bids for presentation at the March 10 commission meeting for additional or larger equipment.

Smith said today the continuing problems with the machines are resulting from their inadequate capacity for dealing with the growing complexity of the city's financial structure. The present machines are rented at the rate of $1,100 per month, Smith said, but he could not estimate the additional cost of increasing the machine operations. He said the three leading companies in the computer field, IBM, National Cash Register and Burroughs all offer several types of computers which would meet the city's needs. The commissioners will take up consideration of a proposal to establish a Police Reserve Officer's Fund which would provide for compensation to police reserves injured in the line of duty up to $1,000 or 70 per cent of the total fund for any one incident. Crow said this morning, "The city has been concerned for a long time that we were getting aid and assistance from these officers, but no form of protection to cover injuries was provided. This ordinance sets up a formalized procedure giving the coverage of workman's compensation while these men are serving as police officers."

The proposed ordinance would establish the fund with $1,000 from the returned premium fund of the city with supplemental payments of $50 per month to be appropriated as a part of the operating funds of Big Spring High School will have 27 students attending the 21st annual convention of the Texas Future Teachers of America this weekend in Fort Worth.

The youngsters will leave at noon Thursday and return Sunday afternoon. William Martin and Mrs. Lynn Carr will sponsor the trip.

Susan Boyd, District 18 chaplain, will be the voting delegate for BSHS. Other delegates include Ellen Gossett, Jennifer Jones, Luanne Lowery, Deborah Coffee, Pam White, Phyllis Faulkner, Ruth Payne, Debbie Addy, Susan Dean, Phyllis Jones, Kathy Wright, Mary Ellen Hedges.

Deborah Tate, Teresa Johnson, Joe McMillan, Karen Tindol, Barbara Boardman, Dell Hollingsworth, Barbara McAllister, LaShara Shanks, Debbie Dunlap, Walter Campbell, Andy Nieland, Robert Wilbanks, David Draper and Clay Thompson.

Fort Texas high school students — 20 girls and 20 boys — will compete for the titles "Miss FTA" and "Mr. FTA" of 1970. The top winner in each category will receive a $1,000 college scholarship from the Texas State Teachers Association who sponsors FTA along with the National Education Association.

W. C. Newberry, Southwest Texas State University professor, will deliver the keynote address. He is a humorist-philosopher who has won plaudits for more than 300 speeches in 41 of the 50 states.

Water Will Soon Be Running Uphill

BAKERSFIELD, Calif. (AP) — Water will soon be running uphill here—in fact, 1,926 feet straight up.

It's part of the $2.8 billion California water project which will ship water 450 miles from the Sacramento-San Joaquin river delta to parched Southern California areas beginning in 1971.

When completed this year, the Edmonston pumping plant will pump 31,000 gallons of water per second 1,926 feet from the floor of the San Joaquin Valley over the Tehachapi Mountains.

Ash Wednesday Holy Communion services will be held at 10 a.m. and 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Stubbendieck's Paper To Be Read At Meeting

Two papers written by James Stubbendieck, range scientist at the Big Spring Field Station (U.S. Experiment Farm) in collaboration with D. F. Curdaff of the department of agronomy at the University of Nebraska, will be read Wednesday at the 23rd annual meeting of the American Society of Range Management.

Stubbendieck received his BS in agronomy (conservation) from the University of Nebraska in 1966 and his MS in agronomy (range management) in 1968. He moved to Big Spring in July, 1968, when he became a member of the staff of the Texas A&M range science department. Presently he is conducting research related to grassland improvement. A portion of this will be used as partial requirement for his Ph.D. which he is seeking in range science from Texas A&M University.

Stubbendieck was a recipient of the University of Nebraska Rodeo Association scholarship. He is affiliated with Alpha Zeta honorary fraternity and Gamma Sigma Delta honorary society of agriculture. He belongs to the American Society of Range Management and to the Soil Conservation Society of America.

Another personality from the station here will figure in the ASRM meeting opening today in Denver, Colo. He is Dr. Paul T. Koshi, research soil scientist, who will be discussion leader.

Spacing Has Same Crop

LAMESA — Narrow-row cotton may do as well as that on wider spacing, County Agent Lee Roy Colgan said today on the basis of a demonstration conducted last year by Norris Barron. However, he cautioned that it will take a couple of years more testing before valid conclusions can be reached.

Last year Barron used two 10-acre test plots. He seeded one on 40-inch rows with 60 pounds per acre with a what drill. The other was seeded in normal rows at 20 pounds per acre. Both were planned May 12, and both were given a pair of three-inch waterings. The narrow row was harvested Nov. 21 and made 4,184 pounds for the plot, and the 40-inch row plot was harvested Dec. 12 and made 4,080. The narrow row was sand-holed twice and hoed out in half a day. The wider-spacing plot had normal cultivation practices. Colgan pointed out that a significant consideration was the cost of production.

DEATHS

Mrs. LaNelle Bartlett Frazier Lamesa; one daughter, Mrs. Diane Frazier Robinson, Odessa; one sister, Mrs. Carl Crumb, DeLand, Fla.; a nephew, Dr. Norman W. Staker, Lamesa; and two grandchildren.

Mrs. Adkins' Brother Dies

A. H. (Jack) Petty, 81, brother of Mrs. A. D. Adkins, 2103 Johnson, died Sunday morning at Red Top, near Graham. Services and burial will be held there Tuesday.

Mrs. Shuffler, Funeral Today

Funeral was held for Mrs. John (Elaine) Shuffler, 23, at 11 a.m. today in Nalley-Pickel Rosewood Chapel. Rev. C. O. Hitt officiated with the assistance of Rev. Lee Butler, Big Spring State Hospital chaplain. Burial was in Mt. Olive Cemetery.

Mrs. Shuffler is survived by her husband, her mother, a sister, a brother and a grand-mother. Pallbearers were Jackie Dixon, Ray Martin, Lynn Webb, Jimmie Shuffler, Reggie Cranford and Johnny Moore.

Might Take Steps To Heat Up Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Paul W. McCracken, chairman of President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers, says the administration probably will act to ease the tight monetary policies established to cool down the economy.

"Clearly, a continuation through 1970 of the rather restrictive policies that we had in 1969 would not be consistent with the outlook that we indicated" in the President's economic report, McCracken said Sunday.

McCracken joined other government economists over the weekend in declaring the administration has succeeded in slowing down the inflation spiral and, with the proper safeguards, without serious threat of a recession.

Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy, along with McCracken and Budget Director Robert P. Mayo and Federal Reserve Board Chairman Arthur F. Burns, indicated the economy will continue to coast down for the next few months.

"Then," Kennedy said, "we will level out sometime this year to a more sustainable rate and then there will be an increase in activity on a more sustainable basis."

Kennedy, McCracken and Mayo appeared on NBC's Sunday interview program "Meet the Press."

McCracken didn't say it but to carry out monetary policy changes will require the cooperation of the independent Federal Reserve Board and Burns.

The Fed, as the board is called, operates on its own to control credit in the nation and therefore the flow of money in the economy, affected only by the President through suggestions and public appeals.

Burns, who served as a top Nixon adviser before being appointed as Fed chairman, indicated to Congress Saturday he may not agree entirely with McCracken's assessment of the need for less restrictive monetary controls.

Tight rein on government spending and adherence to the current program of monetary restraint are among the most important factors in fighting inflation, he said.

Increased productivity, he said, is the way to a restored economy not a general increase in the money supply. That "could lead to a disastrous inflation," Burns told the House Banking and Currency Committee.

Burns also said the slowdown in business and employment is not a recession, but a "readjustment" which will continue in the next few months with a decline in housing and jobs.

"But I think it is a healthy thing and I think it will lay the foundation for stable growth in the future," he said.

Bombs Cause Slight Damage To GE Facilities In NYC

By The Associated Press

Bombs caused slight damage to two General Electric Co. facilities in New York City Sunday night not long after an anonymous caller claimed credit for vandalizing a GE office in Washington, D.C., as a protest of the company's war production. No one was hurt by the blasts.

New York police discovered and defused a third bomb early today in front of the GE headquarters building in midtown Manhattan.

The FBI was investigating the incidents. Police offered no speculation on whether they were related.

"We have taken this action to disrupt functioning of the machine of death and oppression," the caller said Sunday to The Associated Press. He said GE was the "second leading producer of armament for the United States government."

He made no mention of the subsequent New York bombs, but said "we are the same group of people" who vandalized three Selective Service centers in Philadelphia Saturday. Two persons were arrested in that incident.

After the telephone tip Washington police and GE officials discovered that papers had been strewn about the floors of GE's 11th floor offices, center of most of its Washington operations. A spokesman said sensitive materials were not disturbed and apparently nothing was stolen.

The caller said his group had "liberated and destroyed" GE files.

Late Sunday night a bomb exploded in a two-story, block-long GE warehouse and appliance repair and service center in the Queens section of New York City. Police reported slight damage and no injuries.

Another bomb went off 45 minutes later in a GE appliance repair store in Brooklyn, breaking four panes of glass and damaging a window casing but causing no injuries. Police said the 18-inch-long pipe bomb ap-

Spy Case Bond Set At $1,000

SEATTLE Wash. (AP) — A Soviet employe of the United Nations refuses to comment on charges of espionage against him. The State Department, the FBI in Washington and the Soviet mission to the United Nations also are keeping quiet on the case.

Aleksandr Vassilyevich Tikhomirov, 37, remained in city jail on an FBI complaint which said he had conspired with Russian agents and "other persons unknown" since Jan. 4, 1969, to obtain information about U.S. defenses.

An unidentified official of the Soviet Embassy in Washington, D.C., visited Tikhomirov in his cell for about 30 minutes Sunday, but made no attempt to post bail.

Bail of $100,000 was set Saturday by U.S. Commissioner Walter J. Reeseburg Jr., who scheduled a hearing Wednesday.

As an employe of the U.N. Secretariat, Tikhomirov had unlimited freedom to travel in the United States.

An agreement between the United States and the United Nations gives Secretariat employes immunity from prosecution only for actions connected with U.N. duties.

The FBI said Tikhomirov was arrested Saturday on a downtown Seattle street about one hour after a scheduled meeting with an unidentified technical sergeant in the U.S. Air Force.

The agency said the sergeant, who had clearance for access to secret material, met Tikhomirov Dec. 6 in Seattle and was asked to obtain secret information, particularly "concerning the national defense of the Northwest United States, such as anti-aircraft, missiles, etc."

Third Week Of Scamardo Trial

EDINBURG, Tex. (AP) — The third week of jury selection for the murder trial of Pete Thomas Scamardo gets underway in 92nd district court today.

A new panel of 150 prospective jurors reported to Dist. Judge J. R. Alamia. Defense and prosecution lawyers picked ten jurors in the last two weeks while using up earlier panels of 500 and 250 prospective jurors.

Scamardo, 31, is accused of offering Charles V. Harrelson of Houston $2,000 to kill Sam Degelia Jr., also of Hearne. Degelia, a former business partner and longtime friend of Scamardo, was found shot to death July 11, 1968, near McAllen.

A settlement was reached Thursday, but the workers decided not to return until today, when their new contract went into effect.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I notice that you did not comment on that letter from "YOUNG at 37." You were smart.

She seemed so pleased with herself because she did all her own housework, cooking, laundry, raised four children and even laid tile and painted her house. I wonder when she found time to write that letter?

She bragged that after 20 years of marriage, she still weighed the same — 102 pounds — and she stood 4 feet 11 inches. Then she had the gall to suggest that other women could be "slim," too — if they would get off their fat fannies.

Well, I have news for her. She is from 12 to 17 pounds OVERWEIGHT for her height. Maybe she should get a good look at herself in a rear view mirror.

Me? I am her age, also stand 4 feet 11 inches, and I weigh 85 pounds.

SIGN ME "PERFECT" IN SIOUX CITY

DEAR ABBY: This is for that cute little 102 pound, 37-year-old lady:

At 8 a.m. I have already fed a family of six. Three of my children are in school and my "baby" (age 4) is on the way back home with me because I have driven a 55 capacity bus 6 1/2 miles and picked up the children for school.

When I get home I must take care of my home and meals and laundry because at 2:30 p.m. I am on my way back to school to take the children home.

I also sew, garden and even repair my upholstered furniture when necessary. I am president of the PTA for the second consecutive year. I also teach the primary class in my church school and take an active part in church activities.

Yes, you guessed it. My fanny is fat, but I don't get to sit on it much.

Riot Trial Arguments

CHICAGO (AP) — Ten women and two men who have witnessed nearly five months of voluminous testimony, bizarre behavior and angry exchanges between the defense and prosecution must decide soon the fate of seven political activists.

The next few days are crucial for the seven defendants, who are charged with conspiring to incite rioting at the time of the 1968 Democratic National Convention. After last week's rebuttal case by the government following testimony by nearly 200 defense witnesses, the defense said it would call only two witnesses to answer.

Then there will be some legal routine to dispense with and a probable motion by the defense for a directed verdict of acquittal. Judge Julius J. Hoffman, 74 the object of hurled epithets such as "a liar... a runt... a Hitler," will decide on the motion. If he denies it, both sides will deliver closing arguments.

The trial then will be in the jury's hands.

Helps Shrink Swollen, Inflamed Hemorrhoid Tissues As It Relieves Pain And Itching

Gives Prompt, Temporary Relief From Painful Distress In Hemorrhoid Tissues and Actually Helps Reduce Swelling—Caused By Inflammation.

New York, N.Y. Doctors have found a medication that gives prompt relief from pain and burning itch of piles for hours. Then it actually helps shrink the swelling of the inflamed tissues.

Tests by doctors on hundreds of patients showed this to be true. The medication used was Preparation H®. And no prescription is needed. Get Preparation H without fail. Ointment or Suppositories.

Charges For Adequate Health Insurance Soar

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress will face great pressure to turn medicare and medicaid into some form of national health insurance unless the rapid increase in medical costs is halted, a Senate staff report says.

In a report released Sunday after a year of work, the Finance Committee staff recommends establishing maximum fees for doctors under the two big government programs as one way of slowing health expenses.

BEYOND CAPACITY "The charges for adequate nongovernment health insurance are rising to levels beyond the financial capacity of millions of hardworking Americans," the report said.

If these are not slowed, the staff said, "Congress may reasonably anticipate increased pressures upon it to extend the medicare and medicaid programs to encompass large segments of the population not now covered"—in other words, some kind of national health insurance.

The committee has not endorsed the report specifically. However, it was praised by Chairman Russell B. Long,

D-La., and Sen. John J. Williams of Delaware, senior Republican member.

NURSING HOMES Both said they were confident at least some of the recommendations would be adopted by Congress this year.

The staff proposals included suggestions for reducing charges by physicians, hospitals and nursing homes, and for instituting far more effective controls by the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

The staff said medicare, which covers all persons over 65, now costs $8.3 billion a year. Medicaid, designed to aid those on welfare and other poor persons, costs $5.5 billion yearly.

Both exceed original estimates, the report said. Many overpayments and other types of abuses on the part of doctors were found, the staff said.

It said maximum doctors' fees could be based on revenue obtainable from present monthly payments of $4 each by subscribers to medicare part B and by the government.

The Nixon administration has said these will be raised to $5.30 effective July 1.

The staff plan would keep the $4 rate and eliminate the $50 a year deductible which each subscriber must now pay.

TOUCHY QUESTION The report skirts the touchy question of how many doctors might join such a plan. Now each physician can set his own fee but he is supposed to be reimbursed only on the basis of a reasonable charge.

The report charged insurance firms have not followed the intent of Congress that they pay doctors no more than they would pay for their own subscribers.

Other criticisms included: The government and the insurance companies do not have the procedures to check on physicians who might be abusing the programs.

Nursing homes have been classified as skilled care facilities even though they are below standard.

Blue Cross, the major intermediary under the Medicare hospital program, has poor administrative capacity in too many local areas.

There have been "serious and costly deficiencies in the operation, administration and supervision" of medicaid by HEW,

A Devotion For Today . . .

Take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? (Matthew 5:31)

Easier Way Needed For Removal

There should be a clearer, fairer, quicker way than cumbersome, little-used congressional impeachment to remove federal judges from office for misconduct or compel their retirement for disability. This has been demonstrated by the five-year-old controversy over Federal District Judge Stephen S. Chandler of Oklahoma.

Judge Chandler was temporarily relieved of all cases by the Tenth Circuit Judicial Council. Such councils, under the U.S. Judicial Conference, are responsible for efficient administration in their jurisdictions.

Judge Chandler appealed the council order to the U.S. Supreme Court which has yet to rule. The House Judiciary Committee found the council exceeded its statutory authority because it said the order was equivalent to removal and it found no grounds for impeachment. This specific case now seems beyond satisfactory resolution from a public interest viewpoint.

Federal judges hold office constitutionally for life or "during good behavior." Only Congress has impeachment power. One view is that it would take a federal constitutional amendment, which is difficult to get, to provide any other means of removal or compulsory retirement. Another, and we believe stronger, opinion is that Congress has the authority to provide by statute the due-process means within the judicial administration to do that.

It is much easier to get state constitutional amendments. So Texas in 1985 by constitutional amendment provided for removal of state judges for misconduct, or mandatory retirement for disability, on recommendation of a nine-member State Judicial Qualifications Commission for a final decision by the Texas Supreme Court. Something like this is needed in federal law to get rid of incompetent, disabled or misbehaving judges.

Preview Of The Grand Tour

For some time now we have been hearing about the possibility of a "grand tour" of the outer planets — Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune, Pluto — when they come into rare alignment during the period 1976 to 1980. Basically, the technique would be to use the gravitational pull of successive planets on the route to give a spacecraft new impetus toward the next one in line. This is sometimes referred to as a "slingshot" effect.

It has now been announced at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, Calif., that an initial test of this method will be made in 1973 involving the relatively nearby planets of Venus and Mercury. The plan is to use the gravity and orbital speed of Venus to augment a Mariner-type spacecraft's power and send it on a course past Mercury.

Mercury is the smallest of the nine planets, and the closest one to the sun. It never gets within about 50 million miles of the earth, however — roughly twice as far away as Venus. To send a vehicle directly to Mercury would require the enormous thrust of a Titan-Centaur rocket. By making use of Venus the feat can be accomplished with a smaller — and far less costly — Atlas-Centaur booster.

Know-how in utilizing the energies of planetary mass and movement to enhance the power of spacecraft is not all that will be gained by the Venus-Mercury mission. Astronomers expect to learn much about a planet whose closeness to the sun makes it very hard to study. For this reason, and as a preview of the grand tour, it is a mission well worth undertaking.

Andrew Tully Culture Gets Into Booze Ads

WASHINGTON — Time was — and it was not a bad time — when the average whiskey advertisement was succinct and to the point. It carried a picture of a bottle of the stuff, a few superlatives about its taste and character-building qualities, and the price in big type.

Any citizen craving a dram against the vapors could look at that advertisement, count the dough in his pocket, and make up his mind. It was not required that he be a student of Chaucer or that he look well in white tie and tails.

from a swank airliner. Frequently he has just dismounted from a polo pony. He seems familiar with yachts and mansions with porticoes. On occasion, he sits with a folio of Shakespeare clutched in his hot little hand.

The guy is selling booze, but he's not honest enough to admit it except by indirection. It is his wont to go on for five or six paragraphs discussing taste in art and first editions and how you can always tell a gentleman by his club or his devotion to Bach. Frequently, he will favor his readers with a quote from Goethe or Shelley.

BUT OVER the years, the purveyors of popular popskul have gone gentle on us. They seem to be trying to conceal the fact that they are in the hooch business. Their advertising is dignified in appearance and courtly in tone. It easily could be mistaken for the discreet come-hither of a bank, or the League of Women Voters. Some ads urge the citizenry to get out and vote, or desist from littering the landscape with scrap paper.

ONLY AT the very end does this elegant coxcomb deliver his pitch. Then you discover that what he wants you to do is dash out and get a bottle of Old Lockjaw Instantner, lest you die of thirst, or shame.

As he lolls against a Rolls Royce, the pitchman makes it clear that you are the only creature in the civilized world, you clod, who hasn't experienced the delight and social status afforded by a couple of belts of his equalizer. The import is that you'd better hock your watch and invest in this aristocratic ambrosia, lest you be dropped from your club and maybe even come down with acne.

USUALLY, the pitch is made by some aristocratic-looking cuss, often equipped with a beard and/or a monocle. Sometimes he is adoring

Billy Graham

Has our trip to the moon changed our ideas of God? The Russian cosmonaut, Titov, reported that he saw no God nor angels out in space. Can all this mean that our image of God is undergoing a change? A.D.

The flight of Apollo 11, far from weakening our faith in God, has strengthened it. Neil Armstrong said that it is difficult to think of the vastness of the universe without thoughts of a supreme intelligence. Dr. Werner Von Braun, the technical genius behind our space program said: "Through a closer look at creation, we ought to gain a better knowledge of the Creator, and a greater sense of man's responsibility to God."

Titov didn't see God because his eyes were closed to any concept of Him. One sees, and one believes, what one wants to see and believe. The Bible says, "He that cometh to God must believe that he is, and that he is a rewarder of them that diligently seek him."

God doesn't go around imposing himself, visibly, on those who have elected not to believe on Him. But, those who believe "know in whom they have believed," and their lives are the better for it.

Our flight to the moon, as great as it was, was no more than a slight puncturing of the skin of the expansive universe. We have just begun to learn about the immensity of space and God.

I SUGGEST that such come-ons are not advertisements but editorials. Despite the elegance of their prose, they are essentially a put-down by ad writers who cannot resist the temptation to view the great unwashed public with something close to contempt. They are delivered down, from the nose. They lecture the would-be customer by telling him to stop being such a lout and join the Beautiful People.

WELL, SIR and madame, I am a customer of the distilled spirits industry on a moderate scale. But I am sick of being patronized. I do not want to live in a world where my social status is suspect if I don't drink a certain brand of firewater. I do not wish to discuss Keats or Rembrandt, or even Eldridge Cleaver, with any hooch company.

All I ask, gentlemen, is a return to the bad old days. Tell me the name of the stuff, what's in it, and how much it costs. I'll try to get my culture elsewhere.

That's Hard Job

LONDON (AP) — Any Briton who wants an income of 100,000 pounds a year ($240,000) after taxes has to make 11 times that much or 1.1 million pounds ($2.64 million) in gross income a year, the British Treasury reports.

John Cunniff Campus Recruiting Slowing A Bit

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite the apparent value gap between college students and business, early reports indicate that campus recruiting this spring is expected to be vigorous, and starting salaries may rise a bit.

The Northwestern study also indicates that while most companies expressed a general feeling of restrained confidence in the future, 30 per cent of 206 companies studied indicated they were cutting back on campus visits.

Among the reasons listed for doing so, the most common were: decline in profits, unfavorable economic conditions, reduced government contracts, need to cut costs, and a need for more experienced personnel.

While not ignoring the widely publicized disaffection of some students, corporate recruiters seemingly are working on the theory that business careers continue to be first or second choice of most male students.

A study reported by the National Industrial Conference Board suggests that while some slowdown in demand for bachelor level graduates might develop, there appears to be a quickening of demand at the master level.

The biggest increase in demand for master's degree candidates, according to the study, may be in technical, engineering and accounting fields, with liberal arts graduates far down the list.

Greatest demand among all master's candidates, according to the study made by the Northwestern University placement department, may be for accountants, reflecting the increasing complexity and demands of that occupation.

Accounting methods have come under considerable professional scrutiny in recent years, primarily because of the changing nature of corporate structures and the demands by stockholders and regulators for disclosure of more information.

In addition, computer technology has permitted business to change many of their record keeping functions, provided they can obtain properly trained professional workers, such as accountants.

Beer guzzlers may soon be encouraged to throw their empties alongside the road.

Science has developed a new plastic, made from straw, that decomposes when exposed to the weather and become a beneficial mulch.

The containers will hold up under beverage pressures and have a shelf-life estimated at up to three years, if not exposed to the elements. Once thrown into the weather, however, they disintegrate within 18 months.

Manufacturers say the straw cans can be produced cheaper than those made from ordinary materials.

Burleson Reports New Drive On Peddlers Of Smut

WASHINGTON — Numerous letters and samples of smut through the mails continue to be received. There is considerable encouragement that there will be less of this offensive, unsolicited type of stuff in the future.

From the Supreme Court to local police, peddlers of filth are beginning to have a tougher time.

The new chief inspector of the Post Office Department, William J. Cotter, a former FBI Agent, calls attention to these recent developments:

(1) TWO SUPREME Court decisions — one refusing to disturb the conviction of eight Boston sellers of pornography and the other voiding a Federal Court order which would have allowed the movie "I Am Curious (Yellow)" to be shown in Boston theaters despite a State Court ban.

(2) Two Federal convictions of mail order dealers in obscenity.

(3) Several recent indictments of other smut dealers, making a total of 17 defendants awaiting trial on charges of sending offensive materials through the mail.

(4) The cases of five more dealers pending before Federal Grand Juries.

IN CITY AFTER city, local police are reacting to court actions and changes in local laws to crack down on newsstands handling objectionable reading matter and pictures.

In one city, police found the city's "adult" bookstores got the word that the Supreme Court refused to overturn convictions of eight sellers of obscenity.

Immediately after the decision, detectives were dispatched to 14 stores only to find them all closed. Those open cleared their shelves of books and material which might fall under the Court's ruling.

IN LOS ANGELES, one of the main centers, trash producers were getting a double whammy. Both Federal prosecutors and Los Angeles police made numerous arrests and three convictions of 15 months in prison have already been had.

Los Angeles police have launched a city-wide drive, which is calculated to dry up a main source of objectionable mail coming into our state of Texas. More than 80 arrests have already been made.

In view of some tougher actions by the higher courts, most of those convicted in lower courts are not even appealing. Inspector Cotter said a few days ago "We feel that the Federal Government has now moved into the second phase in its fight against the intrusiveness that brings unwanted and unsolicited material into the mail box."

THE FACT REMAINS that the authority of the Federal Government begins when the mails are used to transmit and advertise films, pictures and material of pornography or when they are placed in shipment across state lines. The sellers of dirty material from local bookstores and newsstands must still be handled by local authorities but they are now encouraged to believe that the courts have gotten the word that the people of this country will no longer tolerate the invasion of decency. There remains the responsibility of citizens to report to local authorities indecent literature and photographs on the newsstands.

NATION WIDE, two per cent return on advertising is a break-even point for the sellers of such materials. This leaves 98 per cent who do not want what these dealers are selling. They are the source of a quarter of a million complaints which have come into the Post Office Department during the last year.

This has had its effect and a few more stiff convictions should soon put the big operators either behind bars or out of business.

David Lawrence Business Mechanism Beyond Control?

WASHINGTON — Uncertainty and fear of a downturn in business — the forerunners of many a recession in the past due to a lack of public confidence in the future — are causing uneasiness in many quarters. The stock market grabs eagerly a hint that interest rates might be eased. But this could be a symptom of merely another temporary boom.

The truth is that the American business mechanism, which now has reached a gross national product of more than $50 billion, has gotten beyond anybody's control. There is no single remedy. Wage and price regulation could have had a beneficial effect if it had been imposed after the Vietnam war had expanded. But once the cycle of rising wages and prices begins, it is hard to produce stability.

THE COUNTRY today faces more strikes and work stoppages that could cause severe damage to business as well as to the public. Congress has been well aware of this defect in our economic system but is politically afraid to enact laws requiring mandatory arbitration by impartial tribunals early enough to prevent crippling strikes.

ALREADY BUSINESSMEN are hesitant about planning for the future. Even if interest rates are eased, does this mean that construction will be resumed on a wide scale, or will there be a tendency to wait another year until the interest rates have gone down even further? Past experience has shown that stability is not attained quickly when there is an economic upset, and it takes time for all factors in the business mechanism of the country to become readjusted.

NOWHERE ELSE in the world has any economy reached as high a gross national output in a single year as in the United States, and no other system of control has been applied to a free economy. The Communist government in Moscow, of course, regulates everything, and state socialism deprives both labor and management of individual freedom. But the exponents of the free-enterprise system have always insisted that there are ways to preserve its versatility, though some restraints, especially in times of economic crisis, are recognized as necessary. Such an occasion now seems to have arisen.

It is difficult at the moment to determine whether this country is in a state of steadily rising inflation. Usually statistics on wages and prices do not become available until a month or six weeks after the period for which they are compiled, and the full effect of the wage increases that have just been granted will not be felt for a few months.

PRESIDENT NIXON seems to think that the time has come for an easing of interest rates, which is only another way of saying that he believes more money should be poured into the economy in the form of business loans which can be used for construction and other purposes. The Federal Reserve Board, which is independent of the executive, may or may not be ready to go along with the President's ideas. Certainly if the board indicates a willingness to reduce interest rates, the entire borrowing apparatus will be affected, and this, in turn, will influence the market price of many securities which have already been issued at higher rates.

POLITICALLY, the Nixon administration has a big gamble ahead. For if there is an economic recession going on in the autumn of this year, it could affect adversely the election of Republican candidates for Congress. If, on the other hand, economic conditions are distinctly improved, this could help the President win the majority he is so anxious to have, in both the Senate and the House. Business conditions have always been a paramount influence in American politics.

To Your Good Health Letter From A Marijuana User

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
 Dear Sir: It's obvious your knowledge of marijuana is very limited. Before you slander and implant your ideas into the many readers of your column, I suggest that you do further research and observation on the subject.

He has tried several private physicians but they won't do anything except tell him to go to General Hospital.

This means, of course, that the authorities will be called in. My friend has a job, but I'm afraid that unless he gets some help soon, he'll lose it.

Where can he go to get this methadone treatment? — R.G.
 I don't think I said methadone was a "cure."

Rather, it is a drug which can be given to heroin addicts to suppress their craving for heroin. On methadone, such individuals no longer have the uncontrollable urge that forces them into crime to pay for $100 worth of heroin per day. Instead, these people can work at ordinary jobs, live ordinary lives — except that they have to keep on taking methadone.

Certainly remaining on methadone treatment is a vast improvement over the ruinous heroin habit. Addiction, that is.

However, every private physician doesn't have the know-how and facilities to give this treatment.

Your friend refuses to do as they say, and go to General Hospital. Well, isn't there a Svaanon organization in your city, which is devoted to helping drug addicts? Or has your friend called the Board of Health to ask where he can go for help? Has he even phoned General Hospital, to inquire whether he can be treated without having "the authorities called in?"

Tell your "hooked" friend that getting methadone treatment isn't as simple as getting a flu shot once a year. He'll probably have to report (briefly, though) a couple of times a week at a treatment center.

If he really wants to break loose from heroin, he'll have to do something about it himself, and make arrangements with a suitable treatment center. He can't expect to walk into a general physician's office and demand a treatment which, I assure you, is not as simple as giving a pill. It requires tests and considerable knowledge of how to use the treatment effectively. Centers for methadone treatment are appearing in many large cities.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Do you have a list of all your booklets? How can I get one? — Mrs. J.S.
 Yes, I have such a list and will gladly send it to you if you'll send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

All of the problems that pediatricians encounter in children, pinworm is the commonest. To learn the newest methods of treatment, write for the booklet, "The Commonest Pest, Pinworm," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

Devlin Wins Hope Classic But Agnew Scores 'Hit'

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Australian Bruce Devlin tucked away a fat $25,000 today and the 11th annual $125,000 Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic goes into the books as the Agnew Year.

The 32-year-old Devlin closed the 9-hole, five-day marathon as hot as the 85 degree weather, shooting a six-under par 66 to better previous rounds of 67-68-68-70, all for a total of 339.

It was 21 strokes under par for the distance and eclipsed Larry Ziegler, who led or shared the lead from the outset, as the blond better from Terre Du Lac, Mo., finished with a 72 for a 343.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew presented the winner's check to Devlin and in good humor took a gentle ribbing about the "hit" of the tournament—the ball he shanked that hit the most unlikely target around, Doug Sanders, the vice president's own playing professional, Saturday.

Sanders emphasized it had been a pleasure and an honor to play with Agnew and complimented him for his composure under adverse circumstances and lack of time to play regularly.

Back to golf, Ziegler began the round two strokes in front of Devlin, three over young Larry Hinson, with Lee Trevino, Arnold Palmer, defending champion Billy Casper and U.S. Open champion Orville Moody further back.

The struggle quickly became a two-man issue. Hinson had a 73 for 347, Palmer 70 for 348, and Casper 70 for 351. And Moody 72 for 355.

Ziegler opened with a 15-foot putt for a birdie three on the 11th hole to lead by three. But Devlin, whose last tournament triumph was in the Byron Nelson Classic last year, birdied the third and fourth greens to narrow the gap.

The two made the turn through the 81st hole all even as Ziegler three-putted for a bogey. Devlin went ahead when Larry hit over the green on the 84th and took a bogey four. Two more Devlin birdies and a Ziegler bogey clinched the matter.

Ziegler, with previous rounds of 67-65-68-71, collected $14,300. Devlin returns to his home in Coral Gables, Fla., and will play next in the Doral Open. Ziegler and touring pros play this week in the Tucson Open.

A confidential poll conducted by Dallas Times Herald Sports writer Bob Galt, indicates that as many as 12 of the state's top 20 blue-chip prospects may become Longhorns when the signing starts Tuesday, the first day under SWC rules athletes can be signed.

A check of some of the state's top prospects revealed that Texas A&M and Texas Tech could possibly sign as many as four blue chippers each.

The University of Houston, an independent, is not restricted by the SWC signing rule, and already has signed one member of the top 20, Aldine tackle Phil Haun.

The prize plum of all, Brownwood quarterback Jimmy Carmichael, said he wouldn't be signing on the opening day.

Carmichael, the only blue chipper picked by all eight SWC head coaches in the Times Herald poll, has been playing basketball and hasn't visited any schools yet. But Texas Tech, where his brother graduated at mid-term, and Oklahoma are in the running with Tech holding an edge.

Horns To Get Most Of The 'Blue Chips'

By The Associated Press
The national champion of Texas, which played its card right all last football season, is SWC Recruiting.

The wnational champion of Texas, which played its card right all last football season, is expected to rake in the most blue chips Tuesday when Southwest Conference teams begin signing high school athletes to football letters of intent.

A check of some of the state's top prospects revealed that Texas A&M and Texas Tech could possibly sign as many as four blue chippers each.

Laver Easily Puts Down Tony Roche

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—How long can Rod Laver keep playing the best tennis in the world? "You'll have to ask my legs," said the soft spoken Australian after winning the $60,000 International Tennis Players Association tournament at the Spectrum Sunday.

Laver experienced a minimum of trouble in disposing of fellow Australian Tony Roche in Straight sets, 6-3, 7-6, 6-2. He earned the $10,000 first prize as he sailed through Roche for the second straight year in the final here. Roche, the No. 2 ranking player, collected $4,200 for second.

On the subject of how long he felt he could continue to play the tennis that has earned him the ranking of No. 1 in the world, Laver said he feels stronger now than he's ever been. "This is the time when a tennis player reaches his peak," said the 31-year-old Laver.

Laver said he hoped to play on the professional tennis tour at least another two years before tapering off to spot appearances.

Laver doesn't play like a guy who needs an easy chair and slippers just yet. Some of the shots he made Sunday had Roche staring in disbelief. The only problem he had came in the second set, when Roche held service to carry him to 6-6. Then they played one of those unique tie-breaking games in which the first player to reach seven points takes the set. After falling behind 2-6, Laver came on to win the game seven points to five.

Mrs. Margaret Smith Court of Australia, the No. 1 ranking women's player, won the distaff title, 6-3, 7-6 over Mrs. Billie King of Santa Monica, Calif. Mrs. Court earned $3,000 and Mrs. King $1,000. Mrs. Court had to win a tie breaking game, 14 points to 12, before claiming her prize.

In the doubles, the Rumanian Davis Cup duo of Ilie Nastase and Ion Tiriac, defeated Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., and Arthur Ashe of Richmond, Va., 6-4, 6-3, earning $1,000 each. The losers got $750 apiece.

Norm Wintermeyer came off the bench to lead a blistering second half surge by TCU and ended up with 21 points. The Frogs trailed by one point at intermission.

TCU outshot the Aggies 48.4 to 38.8 per cent from the field and the Aggies held the edge in rebounding, 54-51.

Phillips' long set shot with one second left gave him 32 points in SMU's victory over Arkansas. Phillips now has 1,002 career points, becoming the ninth player in SMU history to do so.

Gene Knolle scored 20 points and grabbed 18 rebounds to pace Texas Tech to its second SWC victory over the week Wayne Doyal and Lynn Howden led Texas with 19 points each.

Rice's Steve Wendel came off the bench to lead a blistering second half surge by TCU and ended up with 21 points. The Frogs trailed by one point at intermission.

HOT, HOT ROD — The racer of Cliff Cockrum, Benton, Ill., sends up plume of smoke and flames as it burns on the middle of the race track in front of the grandstand during the national Winter Sprints at the Florida State Fair Sunday. Cockrum was treated for leg burns and taken to a hospital where his condition was listed as fair.

Yarborough Bounces Back For Pole Position Spot

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "When you are flat on your back from a bad spill, you wonder if your attitude toward racing will change. Daytona is a good place to find out."

Cale Yarborough was speaking in a crash at Texas International Speedway 2.5-mile Daytona International Speedway Sunday to claim the pole position for the Feb. 22 Daytona 500, richest of all stock car racing events.

Yarborough's record lap — his official clocking was 46.388 seconds — was more than four miles faster than the old track record of 190.706 m.p.h. which he set in qualifying for the Firecracker 400 last July.

Albert Smith On All-Stars

Albert Smith, Big Spring Runnels, was named to the all-star squad in the eighth grade division of the San Angelo Junior High School Basketball tournament Saturday night.

Two Big Spring Toro players, Alan Davis and Ronnie Steen, gained places on the ninth grade all-tournament team.

Goliad of Big Spring won seventh place in the eighth grade division by defeating San Angelo Lee, 42-32. Earlier, Goliad had lost a 33-31 verdict to Abilene Lincoln in consolation semifinals.

Big Spring Runnels lost in consolation finals of the eighth grade class to Lincoln, 55-46, after beating San Angelo Lee earlier in the day, 51-33.

John Glenn of San Angelo beat Coleman, 56-43, in the championship finals of the eighth grade division.

Forsan, Coahoma Play At 7 P.M.

FORSAN — Two district winners in girls basketball square off in a practice round this evening in preparation for bi-district play.

Coahoma, winner of its Class A district, comes here for a game with Forsan, winners of 11-B, at 7 p.m. in the Forsan gym. A similar practice round will be played Thursday with Stanton, a district winner.

Forsan will play its bi-district joust at 7:30 p.m. Monday, Feb. 16, at Robert Lee against Paint Rock. Don Stevens, coach, met Friday evening with Paint Rock officials to arrange the game after his girls had sacked up with the title with a 59-36 victory over Garden City.

Volleyballers Win Second

The Big Spring High School B team took second place in its division in the Odessa girls' volleyball tournament Saturday, losing in the final round to Andrews 13-15, 11-15, 7-15.

Raene Oliver made all-tournament set and Mary Alice Terrazas all-tourney spike. In the A division, Patty Spier was an all-tourney choice for set.

The girls played also last Thursday at Crane. The A girls won their match 15-10, 11-15 and 15-10 with Patty Spier leading with 11 points. Judy Bair was second. The B team also won 12-15, 15-10 and 15-7, led by Cynthia Cook with 12. Lottie Ellison led in one of the games.

In the tournament, the A team lost to Midland Lee in the opener 14-16 and 6-15. Mary Lou Brown was high server with seven. In the second round they nipped Andrews 9-15, 15-9, 15-3, led by Mary Lou Brown with 17. Anne Brown tied as third game server. The team lost out 8-15, 7-15 to Odessa, Anne Brown setting the pace with six points. Patty Spier and Judy Bair tied her in each game.

Hawks, Bulls Split Bill In Unique Doubleheader

The Atlanta Hawks met something about collective bargaining. They only worked 5 minutes and 1 second Sunday and got overtime while the Chicago Bulls had to struggle 48 minutes of straight time.

It was a unique doubleheader at the Chicago Stadium. First, the Hawks won a 142-137 overtime decision, completing a game started last Nov. 6 and ordered resumed by NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy with one second left in regulation time. Then, the Bulls stamped to a 117-107 triumph in the regularly scheduled game.

Chicago had protested the Nov. 6 game after referee Bob Rakel disallowed a last-second basket by Tom Bierwinkle that would have tied the score at 124. The timekeeper said the buzzer never sounded, although Rakel said he heard it.

When play resumed, Atlanta's Gary Gregor missed a desperation shot. Lou Hudson then took charge with nine overtime points. In the regularly scheduled contest, Bob Love scored 18 of his 36 points in the fourth period, including six straight at the start of the quarter after the Bulls had blown most of an 18-point lead.

Queens Lose Consolations

The HCJC Queens lost to Weatherford in the fourth quarter Saturday in the Hardin Simmons University tournament, 51-46. They return home to meet the same team here Friday evening.

The box scores: HCJC (31) — Lane 2-15; Russell 2-24; Stephenson 3-8; Gross 1-2; Conrad 0-4; Cozart 3-6. Totals 143-31. TABLETON (40) — Young 1-12; White 2-15; Perkins 0-1; Connor 1-3; McCarty 2-7; Peterson 1-2. Totals 10-42.

Uclans At Conference Top; Cats Can't Shake Georgia

No. 1-ranked UCLA is finally first in the Pacific-8, as well, but Kentucky, which fell from the top several weeks ago, is now having trouble shaking unheralded Georgia in the Southeastern Conference.

The 17-0 Bruins, shooting for their fourth consecutive national championship, continued as the only major unbeaten team Saturday with a hard-fought 66-65 triumph over Washington. But 11th-ranked Southern California, which had been tied for the Pac-8 lead, lost to Washington State 89-72 and dropped a game behind UCLA.

Second-ranked South Carolina and No. 5 North Carolina State, both 17-1, continued to run 1-2 in the Atlantic Coast conference. The Gamecocks boosted their ACC mark to 8-0 by routing Clemson 99-52.

N.C. State won for the seventh time in eight ACC starts, routing Vann Williford's 25 points and tie-breaking layup with 91 seconds left to a 71-66 decision over Virginia.

Bob Lanier, St. Bonaventure's 6-foot-11 center, scored 34 points and held 7-foot Doug Hess to eight points and a like number of rebounds as the fourth-ranked Bonnies downed Toledo 77-71 for a 15-1 record.

Sixth-ranked New Mexico State, 18-2, trailed Utah State for 23 minutes before pulling out a 95-90 triumph over the Aggies. Austin Carr, who scored 38 points and set a Notre Dame season record of 675, tied Vanderbilt 49.00.

overtime buzzer sounded and the Irish went on to beat ninth-ranked Marquette, 14-3, in the second extra session 96-95.

Sophomores Bob Morse and Corky Calhoun combined for 40 points and 10th-ranked Penn State 53 per cent in defeating Dartmouth 96-68. The Quakers maintained their one-game Ivy League lead over No. 17 Columbia, which crushed Yale 96-69 as Jim McMilliam hit 14 of 19 shots for 28 points.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Take no thought, saying, What shall we eat? or What shall we drink? or, Wherewithal shall we be clothed? (Matthew 5:31)
PRAYER: Heavenly Father, help us to seek Thee first, assured that when we have found Thee, all else in our life will fall into its rightful place. In the name of Thy Son, who taught us to pray, "Our Father who art in heaven . . . Amen."
(From the "Upper Room")

Easier Way Needed For Removal

There should be a clearer, fairer, quicker way than cumbersome, little-used congressional impeachment to remove federal judges from office for misconduct or compel their retirement for disability. This has been demonstrated by the five-year-old controversy over Federal District Judge Stephen S. Chandler of Oklahoma.

Judge Chandler was temporarily relieved of all cases by the Tenth Circuit Judicial Council. Such councils, under the U.S. Judicial Conference, are responsible for efficient administration in their jurisdictions.

Judge Chandler appealed the council order to the U.S. Supreme Court which has yet to rule. The House Judiciary Committee found the council exceeded its statutory authority because it said the order was equivalent to removal and it found no grounds for impeachment. This specific case now seems beyond satisfactory resolution from a public-interest viewpoint.

Federal judges hold office constitutionally for life or "during good behavior." Only Congress has impeachment power. One view is that it would take a federal constitutional amendment, which is difficult to get, to provide any other means of removal or compulsory retirement. Another, and we believe stronger, opinion is that Congress has the authority to provide by statute the due-process means within the judicial administration to do that.

It is much easier to get state constitutional amendments. So Texas in 1965 by constitutional amendment provided for removal of state judges for misconduct, or mandatory retirement for disability, on recommendation of a nine-member State Judicial Qualifications Commission for a final decision by the Texas Supreme Court. Something like this is needed in federal law to get rid of incompetent, disabled or misbehaving judges.

Preview Of The Grand Tour

For some time now we have been hearing about the possibility of a "grand tour" of the outer planets — Jupiter, Saturn, Uranus, Neptune, Pluto — when they come into rare alignment during the period 1976 to 1980. Basically, the technique would be to use the gravitational pull of successive planets on the route to give a spacecraft new impetus toward the next one in line. This is sometimes referred to as a "slingshot" effect.

It has now been announced at the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, Calif., that an initial test of this method will be made in 1973 involving the relatively nearby planets of Venus and Mercury. The plan is to use the gravity and orbital speed of Venus to augment a Mariner-type spacecraft's power and send it on to a course past Mercury.

Mercury is the smallest of the nine planets, and the closest one to the sun. It never gets within about 50 million miles of the earth, however — roughly twice as far away as Venus. To send a vehicle directly to Mercury would require the enormous thrust of a Titan-Centaur rocket. By making use of Venus the feat can be accomplished with a smaller — and far less costly — Atlas-Centaur booster.

Know-how in utilizing the energies of planetary mass and movement to enhance the power of spacecraft is not all that will be gained by the Venus-Mercury mission. Astronomers expect to learn much about a planet whose closeness to the sun makes it very hard to study. For this reason, and as a preview of the grand tour, it is a mission well worth undertaking.

Andrew Tully Culture Gets Into Booze Ads

WASHINGTON — Time was — and it was not a bad time — when the average whiskey advertisement was succinct and to the point. It carried a picture of a bottle of the stuff, a few superlatives about its taste and character-building qualities, and the price in big type.

Any citizen craving a dram against the vapors could look at that advertisement, count the dough in his pocket, and make up his mind. It was not required that he be a student of Chaucer or that he look well in white tie and tails.

BUT OVER the years, the purveyors of popular popskull have gone gentler on us. They seem to be trying to conceal the fact that they are in the hooch business. Their advertising is dignified in appearance and courtly in tone. It easily could be mistaken for the discreet come-hither of a bank, or the League of Women Voters. Some ads urge the citizenry to get out and vote, or desist from littering the landscape with scrap paper.

USUALLY, the pitch is made by some aristocratic-looking cuss, often equipped with a beard and/or a monocle. Sometimes he is debarking from a swank airliner. Frequently he has just dismounted from a polo pony. He seems familiar with yachts and mansions with porticoes. On occasion, he sits with a folio of Shakespeare clutched in his hot little hand.

The guy is selling booze, but he's not honest enough to admit it except by indirection. It is his wont to go on for five or six paragraphs discussing taste in art and first editions and how you can always tell a gentleman by his club or his devotion to Bach. Frequently, he will favor his readers with a quote from Goethe or Shelley.

ONLY AT the very end does this elegant coxcomb deliver his pitch. Then you discover that what he wants you to do is dash out and get a bottle of Old Lockjaw instantier, lest you die of thirst, or shame.

As he lolls against a Rolls Royce, the pitchman makes it clear that you are the only creature in the civilized world, you clod, who hasn't experienced the delight and social status afforded by a couple of belts of his equalizer. The import is that you'd better hock your watch and invest in this aristocratic ambrosia, lest you be dropped from your club and maybe even come down with acne.

I SUGGEST that such come-ons are not advertisements but editorials. Despite the elegance of their prose, they are essentially a put-down by ad writers who cannot resist the temptation to view the great unwashed public with something close to contempt. They are delivered down, from the nose. They lecture the would-be customer by telling him to stop being such a lout and join the Beautiful People.

WELL, SIR and madame, I am a customer of the distilled spirits industry on a moderate scale. But I am sick of being patronized. I do not want to live in a world where my social status is suspect if I don't drink a certain brand of firewater. I do not wish to discuss Keats or Rembrandt, or even Eldridge Cleaver, with any hooch company.

All I ask, gentlemen, is a return to the bad old days. Tell me the name of the stuff, what's in it, and how much it costs. I'll try to get my culture elsewhere.

'COUGH! COUGH! COUGH!'

John Cunniff Campus Recruiting Slowing A Bit

NEW YORK (AP) — Despite the apparent value gap between college students and business, early reports indicate that campus recruiting this spring is expected to be vigorous, and starting salaries may rise a bit.

While not ignoring the widely publicized disaffection of some students, corporate recruiters seemingly are working on the theory that business careers continue to be first or second choice of most male students.

A study reported by the National Industrial Conference Board suggests that while some slowdown in demand for bachelor level graduates might develop, there appears to be a quickening of demand at the master level.

The biggest increase in demand for master's degree candidates, according to the study, may be in technical, engineering and accounting fields, with liberal arts graduates far down the list.

Greatest demand among all master's candidates, according to the study made by the Northwestern University placement department, may be for accountants, reflecting the increasing complexity and demands of that occupation.

Accounting methods have come under considerable professional scrutiny in recent years, primarily because of the changing nature of corporate structures and the demands by stockholders and regulators for disclosure of more information.

In addition, computer technology has permitted business to change many of their record keeping functions, provided they can obtain properly trained professional workers, such as accountants.

The Northwestern study also indicates that while most companies expressed a general feeling of restrained confidence in the future, 30 per cent of 206 companies studied indicated they were cutting back on campus visits.

Among the reasons listed for doing so, the most common were: decline in profits, unfavorable economic conditions, reduced government contracts, need to cut costs, and a need for more experienced personnel.

Hal Boyle Enjoy Your Job And Live

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

To Your Good Health Letter From A Marijuana User

By G. C. THOSTESON, M.D.
Dear Sir: It's obvious your knowledge of marijuana is very limited. Before you slander and implant your ideas into the many readers of your column, research and observation on the subject.

If you are writing on the subject of marijuana, you should not take such a slanted view; it necessitates "pros" and "cons." Many confused readers will advocate your view simply because they are looking for a side to take, so you feed them propaganda.

You will benefit from self-experiments actually using marijuana: you will be astonished at the results and perhaps you will change your idea on the subject.

Get stoned — your column reeks with one-sidedness. Sincerely, A USER OF FIVE YEARS.

The above anonymous letter, printed verbatim, is most persuasive.

It persuades me that, if that's the best argument in favor of marijuana, there's no reason to change my mind.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: In a recent article you discuss the possible cure of heroin by use of a drug called methadone. I have a friend who is "hooked" on heroin and he wants very much to get off it.

He has tried several private physicians but they won't do anything except tell him to go to General Hospital.

This means, of course, that the authorities will be called in. My friend has a job, but I'm afraid that unless he gets some help soon, he'll lose it.

Where can he go to get this methadone treatment? — R.G. I don't think I said methadone was a "cure."

Rather, it is a drug which can be given to heroin addicts to suppress their craving for heroin. On methadone, such individuals no longer have the uncontrollable urge that forces them into crime to pay for $100 worth of heroin per day. Instead, these people can work at ordinary jobs, live ordinary lives — except that they have to keep on taking methadone.

Certainly remaining on methadone treatment is a vast improvement over the ruinous heroin habit. Addiction, that is. However, every private physician doesn't have the know-how and facilities to give this treatment.

Your friend refuses to do as they say, and go to General Hospital. Well, isn't there a Synanon organization in your city, which is devoted to helping drug addicts? Or has your friend called the Board of Health to ask where he can go for help? Has he even phoned General Hospital, to inquire whether he can be treated without having "the authorities called in?"

Tell your "hooked" friend that getting methadone treatment isn't as simple as getting a flu shot once a year. He'll probably have to report (briefly, though) a couple of times a week at a treatment center.

If he really wants to break loose from heroin, he'll have to do something about it himself, and make arrangements with a suitable treatment center. He can't expect to walk into a general physician's office and demand a treatment which, I assure you, is not as simple as giving a pill. It requires tests and considerable knowledge of how to use the treatment effectively. Centers for methadone treatment are appearing in many large cities.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Do you have a list of all your booklets? How can I get one? — Mrs. J.S.

Yes, I have such a list and will gladly send it to you if you'll send me a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Of all the problems that pediatricians encounter in children, pinworm is the commonest. To learn the newest methods of treatment, write for the booklet, "The Commonest Pest, Pinworm," enclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 25 cents in coin to cover printing and handling.

One thing and another: Perhaps there is yet hope for us all.

Beer guzzlers may soon be encouraged to pitch their empties alongside the road.

Science has developed a new plastic, made from straw, that decomposes when exposed to the weather and become a beneficial mulch.

The containers will hold up under beverage pressures and have a shelf-life estimated at up to three years, if not exposed to the elements. Once thrown into the weather, however, they disintegrate within 18 months.

Manufacturers say the straw cans can be produced cheaper than those made from ordinary materials.

EVANGELIST Billy Graham gets 8,000 invitations to preach in an average year, but never accepts an invitation to speak in metropolitan areas less than 100,000.

THINGS AND PEOPLE I can do without:

automatic pilots, but which won't start on cold mornings and which start leaking oil after 15,000 miles.

Modern poetry, or the doggeral submitted to newspapers by some readers who think they have a message for the world but who can't communicate with their wives at the breakfast table.

People who call you on the phone and say, "I bet you can't guess who this is."

Christmas cards which arrive without return addresses.

Door-to-door campaigns conducted by self-styled charitable organizations which are supposed to be in on the largesse distributed by the United Fund.

THOSE WHO HAVE lent study to the thing say dogs don't rate among the ten most intelligent animals.

Among animals which rank ahead of the canine are the chimpanzee, baboon, dolphin, elephant, crow, rat, coyote, wolverine, Galapagos-woodpecker-finch and raccoon.

The dog, however, is smart enough to be supported by the so-called brainiest animal of them all, the human.

Burleson Reports New Drive On Peddlers Of Smut

WASHINGTON — Numerous letters and samples of smut through the mails continue to be received. There is considerable encouragement that there will be less of this offensive, unsolicited type of stuff in the future.

From the Supreme Court to local police, peddlers of filth are beginning to have a tougher time.

The new chief inspector of the Post Office Department, William J. Cotter, a former FBI Agent, calls attention to these recent developments:

(1) TWO SUPREME Court decisions — one refusing to disturb the conviction of eight Boston sellers of pornography and the other voiding a Federal Court order which would have allowed the movie "I Am Curious (Yellow)" to be shown in Boston theaters despite a State Court ban.

(2) Two Federal convictions of mail order dealers in obscenity.

(3) Several recent indictments of other smut dealers, making a total of 17 defendants awaiting trial on charges of sending offensive materials through the mail.

(4) The cases of five more dealers pending before Federal Grand Juries.

IN CITY AFTER city, local police are reacting to court actions and changes in local laws to crack down on newsstands handling objectionable reading matter and pictures.

In one city, police found the city's "adult" bookstores got the word that the Supreme Court refused to overturn convictions of eight sellers of obscenity.

Immediately after the decision, detectives were dispatched to 14 stores only to find them all closed. Those open cleared their shelves of books and material which might fall under the Court's ruling.

IN LOS ANGELES, one of the main centers, trash producers were getting a double whammy. Both Federal prosecutors and Los Angeles police made numerous arrests and three convictions of 15 months in prison have already been had.

Los Angeles police have launched a city-wide drive that is calculated to dry up a main source of objectionable mail coming into our state of Texas. More than 80 arrests have already been made.

In view of some tougher actions by the higher courts, most of those convicted in lower courts are not even appealing. Inspector Cotter said a few days ago "We feel that the Federal Government has now moved into the second phase in its fight against the intrusiveness that brings unwanted and unsolicited material into the mail box."

THE FACT REMAINS that the authority of the Federal Government begins when the mails are used to transmit and advertise films, pictures and material of pornography or when they are placed in shipment across state lines. The sellers of dirty material from local bookstores and newsstands must still be handled by local authorities but they are now encouraged to believe that the people have gotten the word that the courts have invaded decency. There remains the responsibility of citizens to report to local authorities indecent literature and photographs on the newsstands.

NATION WIDE, two per cent return on advertising is a break-even point for the sellers of such materials. This leaves 98 per cent who do not want what these dealers are selling. They are the source of a quarter of a million complaints which have come into the Post Office Department during the last year.

This has had its effect and a few more stiff convictions should soon put the big operators either behind bars or out of business.

David Lawrence Business Mechanism Beyond Control?

WASHINGTON — Uncertainty and fear of a downturn in business — the forerunners of many a recession in the past due to a lack of public confidence in the future — are causing uneasiness in many quarters. The stock market grabs eagerly a hint that interest rates might be eased. But this could be a symptom of merely another temporary boom.

The truth is that the American business mechanism, which now has reached a gross national product of more than $950 billion, has gotten beyond anybody's control. There is no single remedy. Wage and price regulation could have had a beneficial effect if it had been imposed after the Vietnam war had expanded. But once the cycle of rising wages and prices begins, it is hard to produce stability.

THE COUNTRY today faces more strikes and work stoppages that could cause severe damage to business as well as to the public. Congress has been well aware of this defect in our economic system but is politically afraid to enact laws requiring mandatory arbitration by impartial tribunals early enough to prevent crippling strikes.

ALREADY BUSINESSMEN are hesitant about planning for the future. Even if interest rates are eased, does this mean that construction will be resumed on a wide scale, or will there be a tendency to wait another year until the interest rates have gone down even further? Past experience has shown that stability is not attained quickly when there is an economic upset, and it takes time for all factors in the business mechanism of the country to become readjusted.

NOWHERE ELSE in the world has any economy reached as high a gross national output in a single year as in the United States, and no other system of control has been applied to a free economy. The Communist government in Moscow, of course, regulates everything, and state socialism deprives both labor and management of individual freedom. But the exponents of the free-enterprise system have always insisted that there are ways to preserve its versatility, though some restraints, especially in times of economic crisis, are recognized as necessary. Such an occasion now seems to have arisen.

It is difficult at the moment to determine whether this country is in a state of steadily rising inflation. Usually statistics on wages and prices do not become available until a month or six weeks after the period for which they are compiled, and the full effect of the wage increases that have just been granted will not be felt for a few months.

PRESIDENT NIXON seems to think that the time has come for an easing of interest rates, which is only another way of saying that he believes more money should be poured into the economy in the form of business loans which can be used for construction and other purposes. The Federal Reserve Board, which is independent of the executive, may or may not be ready to go along with the President's ideas. Certainly if the board indicates a willingness to reduce interest rates, the entire borrowing apparatus will be affected, and this, in turn, will influence the market price of many securities which have already been issued at higher rates.

POLITICALLY, THE Nixon administration has a big gamble ahead. For if there is an economic recession going on in the autumn of this year, it could affect adversely the election of Republican candidates for Congress. If, on the other hand, economic conditions are distinctly improved, this could help the President win the majority he is so anxious to have in both the Senate and the House. Business conditions have always been a paramount influence in American politics.

Devlin Wins Hope Classic But Agnew Scores 'Hit'

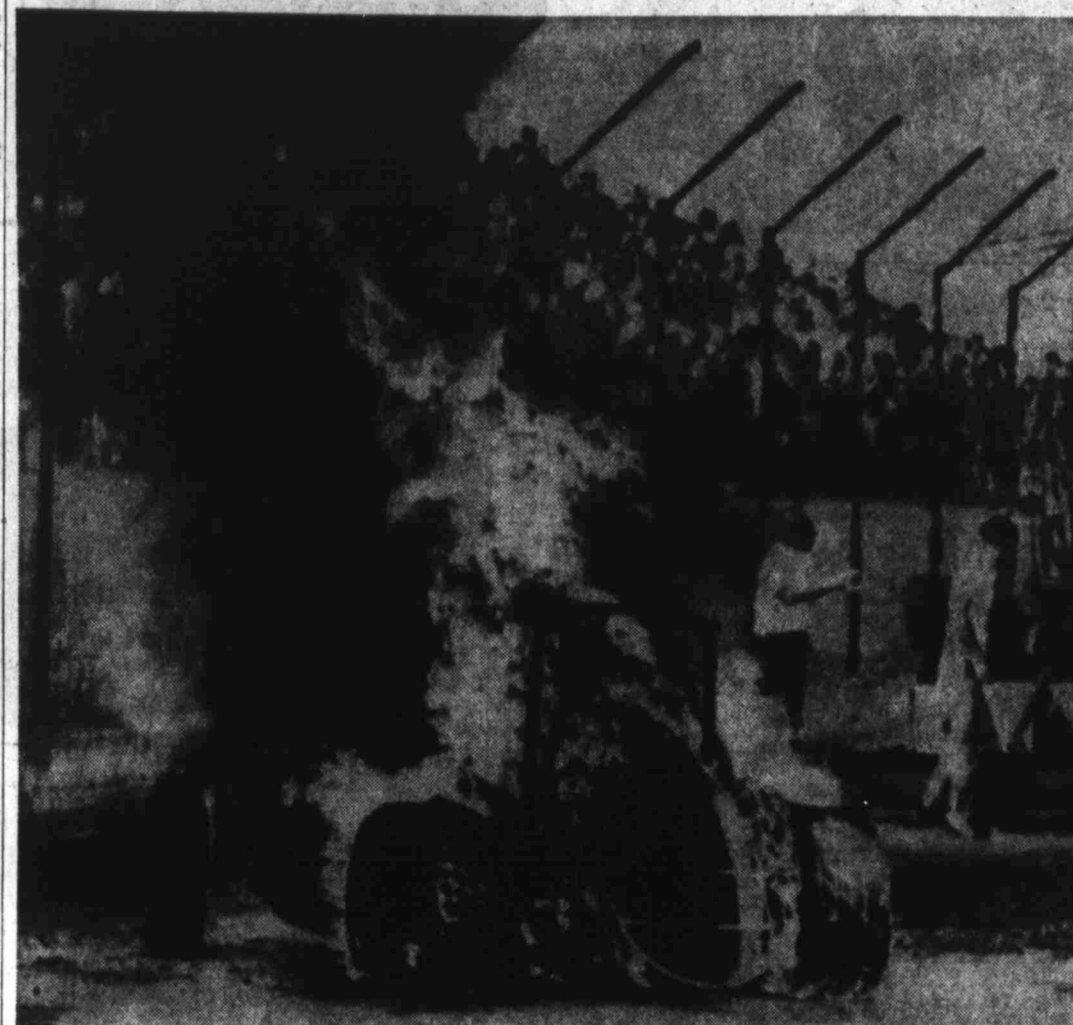

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Australian Bruce Devlin tucked away a fat $25,000 today and the 11th annual $125,000 Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic goes into the books as the Agnew Year.

The 32-year-old Devlin closed the 9-hole, five-day marathon as hot as the 85 degree weather, shooting a six-under par 66 to better previous rounds of 67-68-70, all for a total of 339.

It was 21 strokes under par for the distance and eclipsed Larry Ziegler, who led or shared the lead from the outset, as the blond better from Terre Du Lac, Mo., finished with a 72 for a 343.

Vice President Spiro T. Agnew presented the winner's check to Devlin and in good humor took a gentle ribbing about the "hit" of the tournament—the ball he shanked that hit the most unlikely target around, Doug Sanders, the vice president's own playing professional, Saturday.

Sanders emphasized it had been a pleasure and an honor to play with Agnew and complimented him for his composure under adverse circumstances and lack of time to play regularly.

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — "When you are flat on your back from a bad slip, you wonder if your attitude toward racing will change. Daytona is a good place to find out."

Cale Yarborough was speaking. He had just posted a record 194.015 miles per hour over the 2.5-mile Daytona International Speedway Sunday to claim the pole position for the Feb. 22 Daytona 500, richest of all stock car racing events.

Horns To Get Most Of The 'Blue Chips'

The national champion of Texas, which played its card right all last football season, is SWC Recruiting.

The wnational champion of Texas, which played its card right all last football season, is expected to rake in the most blue chips Tuesday when Southwest Conference teams begin signing high school athletes to football letters of intent.

A check of some of the state's top prospects revealed that Texas A&M and Texas Tech could possibly sign as many as four blue chippers each.

The University of Houston, an independent, is not restricted by the SWC signing rule, and already has signed one member of the top 20, Aldine tackle Phil Hawn.

Other prime targets for the recruiters include: quarterback Joe Barnes, Big Lake; end Steve Cumley, Houston Lee; quarterback Tim Trimmier, San Antonio Lee and running back Cleveland Vann, Seguin. Each received six votes from the SWC coaches.

Roundout the coaches list of top 20 prospects are: linebacker Charles Banno, Dallas Woodrow; running back Larry Dozier, Grand Prairie; running back Dickey Morton, Dallas Kimball; running back Delvin Williams, Houston Kashmere; end James Cain, Houston Washington; linebacker Greg Dahlberg, San Antonio Lee; running back Cole Fraley, Borger; end Doug Geldert, Lake Highlands; quarterback Pat Kelly, Lubbock; running back Dennis Ladd, Dallas Carter; quarterback Mike McCulloch, Deer Park; linebacker Danny Rhodes, Brazosport; tackle Sid Riley, Henderson; center Bill Wyman, Spring Branch.

Hawks, Bulls Split Bill In Unique Doubleheader

The Atlanta Hawks must know something about collective bargaining. They only worked 5 minutes and 1 second Sunday and got overtime while the Chicago Bulls had to struggle 48 minutes of straight time for the same prize—a National Basketball Association victory.

It was a unique doubleheader at the Chicago Stadium. First, the Hawks won a 142-137 overtime decision, completing a game started last Nov. 6 and ordered resumed by NBA Commissioner Walter Kennedy with one second left in regulation time. Then, the Bulls stamped to a 117-107 triumph in the regularly scheduled game.

CAN'T EXPLAIN TCU Remains Atop SWC Race

One way or another, Texas Christian basketball coach Johnny Swaim has been trying to explain his surprising Horned Frogs all season long.

TCU takes on another up-and-comer Tuesday night to head a full card when the Frogs travel to Texas Tech, which is 4-3 in SWC games but has the second best over-all standing in the league at 10-7.

Laver said he hoped to play on the professional tennis tour at least another two years before tapering off to spot appearances.

Gene Knolle scored 20 points and grabbed 18 rebounds to pace Texas Tech to its second SWC victory over the week. Wayne Doyal and Lynn Howden led Texas with 19 points each.

Uclans At Conference Top; Cats Can't Shake Georgia

No. 1-ranked UCLA is finally first in the Pacific-8, as well, but Kentucky, which fell from the top several weeks ago, is now having trouble shaking unheralded Georgia in the South-eastern Conference.

The 17-0 Bruins, shooting for their fourth consecutive national championship, continued as the only major unbeaten team Saturday with a hard-fought 66-65 triumph over Washington. But 11th-ranked Southern California, which had been tied for the Pac-8 lead, lost to Washington State 89-72 and dropped a game behind UCLA.

Second-ranked South Carolina and No. 5 North Carolina State, both 17-1, continued to run 1-2 in the Atlantic Coast conference. The Gamecocks boosted their ACC mark to 8-0 by routing Clemson 99-82.

N.C. State won for the seventh time in eight ACC starts, riding Vann Williford's 25 points and tie-breaking layup with 91 seconds left to a 71-66 decision over Virginia.

Bob Lanier, St. Bonaventure's 6-foot-11 center, scored 34 points and held 7-foot Doug Hess to eight points as the fourth-ranked Bonnies downed Toledo 77-71 for a 15-1 record.

Sixth-ranked New Mexico State, 18-2, trailed Utah State for 23 minutes before pulling out a 95-90 triumph over the Aggies. Austin Carr, who scored 35 points and set a Notre Dame season record of 675, tied Vanderbilt 49-0.

Sophomores Bob Morse and Corky Calhoun combined for 40 points and 10th-ranked Penn State 53 per cent in defeating Dartmouth 96-68. The Quakers maintained their one-game Ivy League lead over No. 17 Columbia, which crushed Yale 96-69 as Jim McMilliam hit 14 of 19 shots for 28 points.

The No. 7 and No. 8 teams, North Carolina and Jacksonville, were idle.

In the top individual effort of the weekend, Louisiana State's Pete Maravich, already the all-time career scoring leader, exploded for 69 points, third highest in major college history, but couldn't prevent a 106-104 loss to Alabama. The game wound up with a fight between LSU players and Alabama fans.

Allied Units Kill At Least 117 Commies

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese spokesmen said today that U.S. and government forces have killed at least 117 North Vietnamese and captured six in a four-day battle still going on in the western Mekong Delta's Plain of Reeds.

The battle in the savanna land—dry at this time of year—was the only sustained major fighting reported during the Viet Cong's four-day Tet cease-fire which ended at 7 a.m. today—6 p.m. EST Sunday.

The fighting began when an American helicopter was fired on Friday. Government mercenaries led by U.S. Special Forces made a helicopter assault into the area, about eight miles southwest of Moc Hoa and 60 miles west of Saigon, and touched off a succession of running fights.

Field reports said about 10 government troops had been killed and a dozen wounded. The mercenaries and their Green Beret officers are being supported by American helicopter gunships and fighter-bombers.

In a clash this morning, government spokesmen said, two mercenaries were killed and one wounded and 16 enemy were killed. Twenty-six North Vietnamese were killed Sunday, government spokesmen said. No American casualties were reported.

The enemy troops are reported to be from the North Vietnamese 88th Regiment, one of four North Vietnamese regiments in the delta. It has operated near Chau Doc, 100 miles west of Saigon along the Cambodian border. Kien Tuong Province, where the current battle is being fought, is the farthest east that the unit has been sighted.

The U.S. Command reported that an American river patrol boat with five U.S. Navy men aboard strayed across the Cambodian border Thursday night and is being detained by the Cambodian government. A spokesman said Washington has asked the Cambodians to release the boat and its crew.

The incident occurred 100 miles west of Saigon, where the Mekong River crosses the border. The command said the crew "apparently became disoriented in the dark when returning to their station" 15 miles downstream from the border.

LED TO MURDER CHARGES AGAINST CALLEY

Orders From Headquarters

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — The chief legal officer for this infantry center testified today that information leading to murder charges against Lt. William L. Calley Jr. came from higher headquarters in Washington.

Col. Robert M. Lathrop told a pretrial hearing on defense motions that a sworn statement pertaining to the case was forwarded to him by the Army inspector general's office.

However, Lathrop said he never received any instructions in preparing charges against Calley. Calley, 26, is charged with murdering 102 Vietnamese civilians at My Lai March 16, 1968. Lathrop was called as a witness on a defense motion which alleges that command influence was brought to bear in the decision to try Calley on the charges. Lathrop said he discussed the case with the Judge Advocate General's office in Washington and was told "do nothing until you hear from us." He added that he later was told the case was "all yours."

Lathrop said he received a telephone call from a Col. William Chilcoat of the Judge Advocate General's office and that Chilcoat said, "Do nothing until you hear from us." He said this was in late August or early September, 1969.

"On the 4th of September, I received a call from Col. Chilcoat stating 'it's all yours,'" Lathrop continued. Lathrop said he passed that information on to Col. Lon C. Marlow, Calley's commanding officer at the time and now retired. Calley was charged the day before his scheduled release from the Army Sept. 5, 1969.

Lathrop contended the Army has no jurisdiction over the Miami, Fla., native because he is being held on active duty past his release date.

The hearing today revolves around pretrial defense motions that command influence from President Nixon on down was brought to bear in the decision to try Calley and that Calley can get a fair trial because of pretrial news coverage.

The prosecution is a continuation of one held Jan. 20 when the prosecution was ordered to be more specific in the charges against Calley. The charges do not identify any of the alleged victims and only a few of the specifications identify the victims by sex or age.

The prosecution has sought further hearings on the wording of the charges, but the request has been denied by Judge Lt. Col. Reid W. Kennedy.

On Friday, the Army announced it was dropping a charge against Calley that he murdered a Vietnamese male approximately six weeks before the My Lai incident.

The post commander, Maj. Gen. Orwin C. Talbot, made the decision after receiving a recommendation from an investigation officer. The nature of the recommendation was not announced.

Kennedy ruled in January that he would hear testimony concerning command influence from Ft. Benning commanders before he decided on a defense request to call Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, Secretary of the Army Stanley R. Resor or Army Chief of Staff Gen. William C. Westmoreland.

RAINY DEPARTURE — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird and Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, make parting remarks today at Andrews Air Force Base before departing for Vietnam. An umbrella shields them from the rain. They will visit the war zone to check the prospects for further American troop withdrawals.

Defense Chief Will Check Prospects For Withdrawals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird and his top military officer left for Vietnam today to check the prospects for further American troop withdrawals.

Laird, taking off from Andrews Air Force Base in suburban Maryland, declined to say in advance whether the Nixon administration is ready to go beyond its latest announced 50,000 man pullout to be completed April 15.

The defense chief seemed to indicate, however, that the conditions may be right for additional cuts. He said the "Vietnamization" plan to turn over more combat responsibility to the South Vietnamese is "going forward at a very adequate pace."

It will be the defense chief's second visit to South Vietnam since becoming secretary of defense. Following Laird's first trip last March, President Nixon made a decision to order the first withdrawals from South Vietnam.

The troop ceiling has since been lowered from 549,500 to 434,000. While noncommittal on most questions about the future of the war, Laird did use the occasion before a few reporters who saw him off at the airport to warn that the defense budget he recently submitted to Congress cannot stand cuts.

"This is a rock bottom, bare bones budget," Laird said. The $71.8 billion spending proposal for the fiscal year beginning next July has already been reduced $10 billion below the budget which had been projected by the Johnson administration, Laird said.

Laird, accompanied by Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Warren Nutter, assistant secretary for international security affairs, will be in Vietnam during a period when the enemy is expected to step up offensive activities.

Before taking off, Laird and Wheeler held last-minute talks with President Nixon.

Little Theatre Ducats On Sale For 'Barefoot'

Tickets went on sale this week for "Barefoot in the Park," the next Little Theatre of Big Spring presentation, Feb. 26-27-28, and again March 5-6-7, at the Cosden Country Club. Adult tickets are $2; airmen and students, $1 and may be purchased from any member of the Little Theatre, Webb AFB Credit Union, Modesta's, the speech department at Howard County Junior College, or at the door of the Cosden Club. Persons wishing to have dinner at the club prior to the performances may call in advance for reservations.

Featured in the cast are Kay Denny and Gina Portello, who will alternate in the lead roles. Mrs. Denny will appear the first three nights of the show and Miss Portello will play "Cory" on the second three evenings.

Gary McCrummen will return to the stage as the male lead of Paul Bratter. He was last seen in "A Thousand Clowns." Arlys Scott was chosen for the role of the mother, "Mrs. Banks," her first LTBS stage appearance. Al Scott plays the role of the eccentric bohemian neighbor, Victor Valasco. Scott has appeared as "Mark Twain," and was in "Little Mary Sunshine," "The Drunkard," and "The Male Animal."

Bob Ammons, who attends Big Spring High School, will play the part of the wisecracking telephone repairman. "Barefoot in the Park" is directed by Jon Howard, a Webb AFB airman.

Cultural Affairs Panel Will Meet

Mrs. Vonna Lee Cederberg, chairman of the Chamber of Commerce Cultural Affairs Committee, has announced that her committee will meet to discuss the Faculty Recital, Let Freedom Ring program, and Starlight Specials for this year at 5 p.m. Feb. 18 in the chamber conference room.

Grand Jury To Study 26 Cases, Begins Tuesday

The Howard County Grand Jury will have 26 cases, including one murder case, to consider when jurors meet at 9 a.m. Tuesday for the January term.

Twelve jurors will be selected from a panel of 20 persons selected two weeks ago by a three-member jury commission. The jury panel includes Mrs. Ross Boykin, Mrs. E. L. Powell, Mrs. Merrill Creighton, Mrs. W. A. Hunt, Mrs. Joe Moss, Mrs. O. L. Nabors, Mrs. Jack Y. Smith, Charles Harwell, Wendell Shive, Charlie Wolf, Dub Coates, Dwayne Clawson, G. B. Harding, Billy Carlisle, Grover Wiley, James W. Shaw, M. H. Boatler, M. A. Dunagan, R. D. Kiser, and Willis Le Vier.

The murder charge against Abraham Flores Lopez, 38, in the shooting death of Severo Arispe, 34, Feb. 1, has been added to the list of cases to be considered by the Grand Jury for the January term in 118th District Court which begins Feb. 16 and ends April 6.

Errors Cause Refund Delay

Early federal income tax returns indicate that many taxpayers are making errors in claiming adjustments to their income which may delay their refunds, the Internal Revenue Service said today.

The term "adjustments," as used on the tax form, refers only to sick pay, moving expenses, employee business expenses, and payments to self-employment retirement plans. The total of these items is entered on line 15B of the Form 1040, the IRS said.

Some taxpayers are incorrectly reporting on line 15B, the total of their itemized deductions such as interest expense, state and local taxes, contributions, medical, or miscellaneous expenses. These deductions should be computed and entered on the appropriate schedules as provided in the instructions.

The IRS also said that taxpayers are making mistakes by including as adjustments the exemption allowances for themselves, husbands or wives, children or other dependents. For taxpayers who use the table to compute their tax, the exemption allowance is already figured into the table. Taxpayers who use the tax rate schedules should make their computation on Schedule T, which is included in the regular tax packet.

To avoid errors in claiming adjustments, the IRS suggested that taxpayers carefully read the instructions and make sure they have attached the proper supporting documents.

Police Seize Drugs In Raid

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Police seized $5,000 worth of drugs and arrested 20 persons in a raid on an apartment in the midtown area about midnight Saturday.

"It looks like somebody was doing a heck of a big business," said Don C. Grasher, detective. Acting on a tip, police broke down the third-floor apartment door after it was slammed in their faces. They said 12 men and seven girls between 17 and 24 years old were frantically throwing bags of drugs out the windows. Another youth arrived later and was arrested.

Grasher said there were about 8,000 pills, mostly barbiturates and other depressants; more than 100 small LSD tablets; 20 packets of amphetamine; and a small quantity of hashish; 15 syringes and injection needles, a pistol and a revolver.

Police said the apartment was dirty and uncared for. There was no furniture—only mattresses and cushions on the floor. A Christmas tree stood in the living room.

Oil Slick Mystery

EDGERTOWN, Mass. (AP) — Officials still had no explanation today for the source of an oil slick which killed hundreds of birds as it washed ashore on 20-mile-long South Beach of Martha's Vineyard.

Scores of persons joined Sunday in an effort to rescue the oil-soaked birds—ducks, loons and other species. Clergymen's appeals from the pulpits of several Edgartown churches brought many volunteers to the beach.

About 300 birds were taken to a shelter at the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals where they were washed in detergent in an effort to remove the oil. Then they were released.

But for every bird taken to the shelter, at least two were left dead on the beach, a volunteer said.

Oil on the birds' wings prevented flight. It also kept the birds from secreting protective oils with the result that many died of exposure, a conservationist said.

A second slick spotted off neighboring Nantucket Island late Sunday was reported about 150 yards long, and Coast Guard officials said it did not appear likely to pose a threat to the shoreline.

Plan To Block Nuclear Tests

VICTORIA, B.C. (AP) — A Canadian conservationist group says it will stage a floating "blockade" of future underground nuclear tests in Alaska's Aleutian Chain in an effort to "stop the Americans from their ecological vandalism."

James Bohlen, education officer of the Sierra Club of British Columbia, said his group would charter an ocean-going vessel and send it to the immediate vicinity of the next blast on Amchitka Island.

If the Americans want to go ahead with the test, Bohlen said, "they'll have to tow us out."

Bridge Test

—CHARLES H. GOREN

BY CHARLES H. GOREN (© 1970 by The Chicago Tribune) ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
Q. 1—North-South vulnerable. As South you hold:
♠10 4 ♥K10 2 ♦AK10 4 2 ♣7 5 2
The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♣ Pass 2 ♣ 3 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—We recommend carrying on to four spades. Your 10 high card points are readily usable by partner who has shown a very fine opening bid by rebidding freely at the level of three. His hand should surely be worth 18 points at spades, so that the necessary 26 points for a game should be available.

Q. 2—Both vulnerable. As South you hold:
♠A10 8 4 3 ♥AS 7 2 ♦AK 4 3
The bidding has proceeded: South West North East Pass 1 ♣ Pass 2 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Two spades. A jump bid is in order, so that partner will recognize that the hand has game potentialities. Any hand containing a five card major suit and two ace opposite a partner who has doubled, presents bright prospects for game.

Q. 3—Neither vulnerable. As South you hold:
♠AK 5 3 ♥Q 6 ♦AK 7 4 3 2 ♣10 4 3
The bidding has proceeded: West North East South 1 ♣ 1 ♥ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—The partner has made a mere overcall we would not be content with any final contract of less than game. To assure reaching such a contract, you must make a jump shift, and the suggested call is two spades, intending to support hearts if they are rebid, or to abide by a no trump contract if partner's rebid is in that form.

Q. 4—East-West vulnerable. As South you hold:
♠A 9 2 ♠AQ ♠A 8 4 ♠AK 7 5 3
The bidding has proceeded: South West North East 1 ♣ Pass 1 ♥ 1 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—With this powerful hand an immediate slam signal is in order and the recommended call is a one bid of two spades, forcing to game. Whether or not further vigorous action will be taken will depend in part upon partner's response. Incidentally, we would have preferred to open the bidding with two no trump, for which you hold the required 22 points.

Q. 5—Neither side vulnerable. As South you hold:
♠AKQ 8 7 5 ♥K 7 5 ♠10 6 2
The bidding has proceeded: East South West North 1 ♦ 1 ♣ Pass 2 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—This hand is somewhat better than what your partner might expect it to be on the basis of a mere nonvulnerable overcall at the level of one. He has responded freely, asking you to proceed. You should cooperate by going on to three spades at least.

Q. 6—Both vulnerable. Both sides have 60 part score. You are South and hold:
♠K J 8 6 5 ♥A K 7 4 2 ♠10 9 3
The bidding has proceeded: East South West North 1 ♦ ? 1 ♣ Pass 2 ♣ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—Since a fight may be anticipated, you should arrange to mention both suits if it becomes expedient to do so and the proper way to plan this is by a mere overcall of one spade. Something is bound to happen around the table on the first round and you should have a chance to mention the heart suit at a reasonably low level.

Q. 7—Both vulnerable. As South you hold:
♠AQ 9 6 4 ♥7 ♦AK 9 8 4 2 ♣6
The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♥ Pass 2 ♥ Pass 3 ♥ Pass ?
What do you bid now?
A.—With this highly unbalanced hand you do not want to play no trump and partner should be made to prefer one of your suits. The proper rebid is four spades, describing a five card suit. This will by inference indicate your diamonds are six cards long inasmuch as you bid that suit first.

Q. 8—Neither vulnerable. As South you hold:
♠9 7 4 3 ♥Q 8 2 ♦A 10 ♠AQ J 10
The bidding has proceeded: North East South West 1 ♣ 1 ♣ ?
What do you bid now?
A.—A jump to three clubs is our choice. Inasmuch as this hand is the equivalent of an opening bid, a mere free raise to two clubs, the it designates a good hand, would be quite inadequate.

FLAG MEN—Police in more than a thousand cities and towns from sea to sea have added the American flag to their uniforms, giving reasons ranging from pride to protest. There are approximately 18,300 uniformed police departments in the nation. Shown with flags on their uniforms are Muskegon Heights, Mich., police Lt. John R. Thompson, left, and Ptl. Samuel McMurray.

Student Protest At Bishop College Enters Fourth Day

DALLAS (AP) — Amid a charge of lack of academic freedom, dissident students remained in the Bishop College chapel today as a protest against college policies entered its fourth day.

The students, who entered the chapel Friday, spent much of Sunday calling alumni and friends to seek support. The group numbered about 200, and police reported no incidents.

The American Association of University Professors (AAUP), in its current winter publication, strongly criticized the college.

An investigating team headed by Dr. John Rath of Rice University in Houston said "the academic freedom of students and faculty... has been seriously infringed at Bishop College."

Criticism of a college or university by the AAUP generally is regarded as serious in academic circles.

Conferences between the administration and the dissidents collapsed Saturday when the students insisted on amnesty for the protesters who had been disciplined.

The students remained in the chapel after a Friday morning assembly and issued a list of 19 demands. They vowed to remain inside until their demands were met.

Dr. Milton Curry, school president, met Saturday with five student leaders. The meeting broke up after an hour and a half.

Curry was absent Sunday from the college, which has an enrollment of about 1,800. He said 24 students were expelled for their actions in the chapel.

The demands included amnesty for students disciplined in previous demonstrations, improved cafeteria conditions, milk at all meals, presence of a doctor, nurse and ambulance at all hours for the approximately 900 students who live on campus, and end of curfew for men and radical changes in curfew for women.

The AAUP article said an "atmosphere of fear and frustration among both students and faculty members" existed at the college.

"Very strict regulations on student conduct seriously interfere with the rights and freedoms of students," the article said.

"Constructive criticism appears to be regarded by the administration as an indication of lack of loyalty to the aims and purposes of Bishop College," the AAUP said.

Witnesses said that when the two officers tried to break up the brawl in which the man was stabbed, a teenage youth grabbed Garcia's sidarm.

As the two officers tried to retrieve the weapon, witnesses said, the youth shot both men three times, killing Wiatrek and sending Garcia to Bexar County Hospital in San Antonio with three slugs in the abdomen.

Police jailed a youth, 18. An examining trail was set here for Monday.

Also taken to the San Antonio hospital was Abelardo Gallvan, 31, of San Antonio, suffering from stab wounds. Hospital attendants said he refused medical treatment and left against medical advice.

Haley had an average of 25.5 seconds on three steers that earned him $2,676.55.

Dance Hall Brawl Leaves Deputy Dead

KARNES CITY, Tex. (AP) — A dance hall brawl left a special deputy sheriff dead of gunshot wounds Saturday night, another in poor condition from gunfire and a third man suffering from stab wounds.

Killed was special deputy Virgil Wiatrek, 24, of Karnes City, who was working the dance with another special deputy from here, Suzano Garcia, 47, officers said.

Witnesses said that when the two officers tried to break up the brawl in which the man was stabbed, a teenage youth grabbed Garcia's sidarm.

Fender Benders Blamed On Fog

VANCOUVER, B.C. (AP) — Police closed the Trans-Canada highway east of here for 1½ hours Sunday after a series of at least 100 minor collisions, involving 50 to 75 vehicles, in fog on the Port Mann Bridge.

The series of rear-end bumps and fender-bending sideswipes was the worst reported as fog hit several areas of the British Columbia lower Mainland. No serious injuries were reported.

Fort Worth Cowboy Wins Bareback Bronc Riding

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Five cowboys were named top winners Sunday night in the final round of the Fort Worth Fat Stock Show rodeo.

Finishing with the highest averages were Rusty Riddle, Fort Worth, bareback bronc riding; Kenny Call, Pipe Creek, Tex., calf roping; Nathan Haley, Hanna, Okla., steer wrestling; Larry Kane, Big Sandy, Mont., saddle bronc riding, and Dallas Chartier, Benkelman, Neb., bull riding.

A record 554 cowboys entered the ten-day rodeo to compete for $84,225 in prize money.

The cowboys entered represented 34 states, Canada, British Columbia and Australia.

Riddle won $1,241.96 for scoring 276 points, three more than his nearest competitor, Clyde Vamvoras of Devol, Okla., in winning the bareback average. During the final short go-round, riddle placed fourth with 72 points.

Call took first place in the night's calf roping event with a 10-second clocking and then went on to win the average of three calves with 38.3 seconds and earned $3,395.18. Call also won $196 for placing highest in the finals.

Haley had an average of 25.5 seconds on three steers that earned him $2,676.55.

Mahan won $196 for the final round and $589.47 in the average and an additional $122.50 for placing second behind Mahan in the finals.

Chartier averaged 222 points on three eight-second bull rides and got $1,543.82 for the best average score. Randy Magers of Fort Worth had a 76 and earned $196 for having the best score in the finals.

Glenda K. Froman of Archer City won the invitational ranch girls barrel race.

Larry Mahan of Brooks, Ore., won the night's saddle bronc finals with 76 points. He was fourth in the average standings, 23 points behind the 363 scored by Kane.

Actor Burr Reigns As King Of Bacchus

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — his crown almost touched the cables of the St. Charles Avenue street car.

Bacchus was one of six Sunday parades. There is one more Monday. And Tuesday a p a s the month-long Carnival season with the parades and coronation balls of Comus and Rex.

More than half a million people are expected along the heart of the parade route — Canal Street and the French Quarter.

Many will wear costumes and masks for the public revelry and promenading; some natives spend thousands of dollars to have professional designers prepare sparkling sequin outfits.

There may be a surplus of gorillas. Rodney Fertel, an unsuccessful mayor candidate who ran a platform of "Get A Gorilla for the Zoo", is sponsoring a contest with prizes for the best ape costume.
