Church of Christ Plans Religious Survey in City

Members of the Church of Christ in Wellington are completing plans for conducting an intensive religious survey of the city.

"It is hoped that such a survey will make it possible for the church to render a more effective service to the community. Plans call for completion of the project early in the new year, with some forty volunteer workers giving their time to call at each home in the city," Min. Grandol Forehand said.

In an effort to stimulate interest in wider Bible reading and study, booklets and brochures will be left with each family. These will offer, free of cost or obligation, special courses in the Bible. These courses, which are completely undenominational, will include a five-lesson color filmstrip Bible survey and an eight-part Bible correspondence course. Residents of the area are urged to request either or both of these services with the understanding that there is no obligation of any kind, according to Grandol Forehand, minister of the church.

"It's simply our means of helping in a small way to encourage more interest in Bible study this new year," Min. Forehand said.

Mrs. Brewer Asks Treasurer Post

Mrs. Yvonne Brewer has authorized The Wellington Leader to announce her candidacy for a first elective term as treasurer of Collingsworth County.

Mrs. Brewer was appointed in September to fill an unexpired term. She said:

"First may I express my sincere appreciation to all of you for the friendly help and the kind cooperation you have given me since I was appointed your county treasurer. This friendship has been extended me every day that I have been in office.

"I feel that I know the duties of the office and I will continue to work as your treasurer to the best of my ability, always seeking to give you efficient and courteous service that is due you.

"Before the First Primary, I hope to see all of you in your home communities and to personally ask for your support and vote."

W. R. Breeding Asks Re-Election

W. R. Breeding has authorized The Wellington Leader to announce his candidacy for re-election to the office of Commissioner of Precinct 4.

"I have enjoyed working with the Commissioners' Court for the last four years. I think we have made some progress. The county has been operated on a cash basis and I will continue to work to operate it on that basis.

I appreciate the co-operation of the people in the past and ask the continuation of your support that we might make Collingsworth County a better place to live.

Your vote and influence will be appreciated.

Praise from New Zealand

"No Strangers Here," Says Wellington Mayor

"I can truly say that I have met no strangers in Wellington," Mayor Frank Kitts of Wellington, New Zealand, told his Texas hosts during the three day visit that took him into homes and business houses and among the people—to show him how a small town lives. This was what he wanted most from this trip to the United States, one of a number that he has made.

If the mayor was overwhelmed by the hospitality of his hosts, they were charmed by his friendliness, his polished diplomacy that showed itself anew with everyone he met, his informality and with the amazing range of knowledge that extended even to this area.

With Mayor Hiram Cudd and members of the City Council as his hosts, Mayor Kitts visited Wellington from Thursday, Dec. 30 until Saturday, Jan. 1.

This was a trip of firsts for the New Zealander, and among these were visits to his first cotton field and his first cotton gin.

Thursday evening he was the honored guest at a barbecue given in the community building by the city officials.

In a brief resume of the history of this area, D. E. Scott reminded that the history of both this area and of New Zealand was the history of a restless people, who in their personal improvement program took what they wanted from the natives.

Full-Time Job

County to Have First Woman Deputy Sheriff

It's going to be Miss Deputy Sheriff or Mrs. Policewoman.

The commissioners' court in its meeting Monday, Jan. 3 approved a plan in co-operation with the City of Wellington for a secretary in the combined offices of the county sheriff and city police departments.

Sheriff John Rainey said the woman to be selected for the place will also be deputized and her duties will include work with female prisoners.

The county and city law enforcement offices will be combined in the courthouse, although Police Chief Donald Nunnelley will also retain an office at City Hall.

All records will be kept in the central office.

The secretary - deputy will keep the office open during the working day, she will serve as radio dispatcher, and she will handle all calls.

It is now necessary to close the office when all officers are on calls.

Under the plan worked out, the county will pay two-thirds of the secretary's salary and the city one third, Sheriff Rainey said.

Maria Torres Is New Year Baby

1966 was three days old before Collingsworth County had its New Year's Baby.

She is Maria Martina Adele Torres, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Torres of Quail.

The baby was born at 12:15 a.m. January 3 in St. Joseph's Hospital. She weighed only three pounds and thirteen ounces, and because of this, her home for a while will be an incubator in the hospital nursery.

Mr. and Mrs. Torres have five other children.

Voters to Elect Two Directors of Water Board January 11

First of the key elections county voters will face this year comes Tuesday, Jan. 11, when two directors are elected to the board of the Collingsworth County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1.

Three candidates are listed on the ballot, Dan Henard and George Roberts, who are running for re-election, and Jerry Nix, young landowner living north of Wellington.

Only three absentee votes had been cast Tuesday evening, and the deadline for voting by this method is 5 p.m. Thursday, Jan. 6, County Clerk Lorene Jenkins reported.

A heavy vote is urged in this election by members of the water board, which besides the two candidates, includes Temple Slay, secretary, Cortez Barnett of Dozier and Louis Patterson of Dodson.

A substantial vote is important from several standpoints. It will have a direct bearing on requests the water board will make to government agencies in connection with the proposed dam on Salt Fork during the months ahead.

This is the crucial year in the county's water development, both water board members and civic and farm leaders point out.

There will be two voting boxes, one at the county courtroom in Wellington and the other at Samnorwood.

The first box will include North and South Wellington, Dodson, Quail and Marella voting precincts, with John Coleman as election judge, C. E. Caldwell and Mrs. Joe Terry as clerks.

The other box will include Lutie, Samnorwood and Dozier voting precincts. W. R. Breeding will be the election judge and Gus Gooch and Ross Taylor clerks. The usual voting hours will be observed.

The requirements for voting are the same as for any general election. A person must have a poll tax or be an over or under, and must fulfill the residence requirements.

The ballots provide space for two write-in candidates, should any voter wish to write the name of some one other than the candidates running.

Thursday through Saturday

Wellington Host to Three-Day Invitational Basketball Tourney

Wellington high school basketball teams will be host to their annual tournament Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Jan. 6, 7 and 8, with 16 teams entered, Coach James Stavenhagen has announced.

The championship finals will be played Saturday night, and at the end, trophies will be awarded the first, second and third and consolation winners in both boys and girls brackets. The all-tournament team of boys and girls will also be chosen.

Playing in the tournament again will be the defending champions in the boys division, Altus, Okla. The girls defending champions, Clarendon, are not entered. Childress boys are new to the tournament this year.

"This should be one of the more evenly matched tournaments of the Panhandle this season. There is not a weak team in the boys bracket," Coach Stavenhagen said.

"All the schools have good clubs and all the games should be close.

"The girls bracket is not as strong as the boys, but the teams are evenly matched and there should be some good games.

"Any team in either bracket could get hot and win," the coach declared.

The first game will be played at 9:20 a.m. Thursday between Hedley and Wellington B girls. The first boys game will be between Childress and Hedley at 10:40. An hour and twenty minutes will be allowed for each game.

Teams entering are boys and girls from Paducah, Memphis, Hedley, Quail, Altus and Dodson. Wellington A boys and girls teams and the girls B team will be entered. Childress boys will participate, but the school does not have girls basketball.

New features to benefit the visitors will be added, free, according to Coach Stavenhagen. There will be free coffee for visiting coaches and others connected with the tournament.

Each team will be furnished with 6 basketballs for the warm-up period as they will not have to bring their own.

"We hope to have one of the best tournaments we have ever had," Coach Stavenhagen commented. "We feel people are beginning to get their minds on basketball and the teams are gettting ready for district play." Regular admission will be 25¢ and 50¢: admission for all finals Saturday will be 35¢ and 75¢.

Officials will be Dub Woolbright of Blair, Okla., and Joe Ford of Elk City. A third official will be chosen to help with the finals.

Here are the games as they are scheduled:

Thursday

(1) Wellington B vs. Hedley girls, 9:20 a.m.

(2) Childress vs Hedley boys,

McKinney Asks Second Term

Claude McKinney has authorized The Wellington Leader to make the following announcement of his candidacy for re-election as Justice of the Peace:

In announcing my candidacy for re-election to the office of Justice of the Peace of Precinct 1, Collingsworth County, I offer my years of work with the courts of this county, and the record of the performance of my duties during the present term, to qualify me for re-election. I will continue to serve you as I have, with a fair application of the law to all.

Rufus Sweat Seriously Hurt

Rufus Sweat, rural mail carrier on Route 6, was seriously injured when his pickup and one driven by Lewis Green collided head-on Wednesday, Jan. 5, between 9:30 and 9:45 a.m.

The accident occurred two miles south and three east of Lutie on a county road, according to Deputy Sheriff Troy Marsh.

Mr. Green apparently was not hurt, the deputy added.

Mr. Sweat was brought to St. Joseph's Hospital by Kelso ambulance, and he was being treated for a broken leg, a possible broken arm and a severe head laceration, the deputy reported.

The collision occurred just under the crest of a small hill and the dense fog in that area was believed to have been a factor, Marsh added.

Sweat's pickup was demolished.

Mrs. Jenkins Asks Re-election

Lorene Jenkins, county and district clerk of Collingsworth County, has authorized The Wellington Leader to announce her candidacy for re-election to that office.

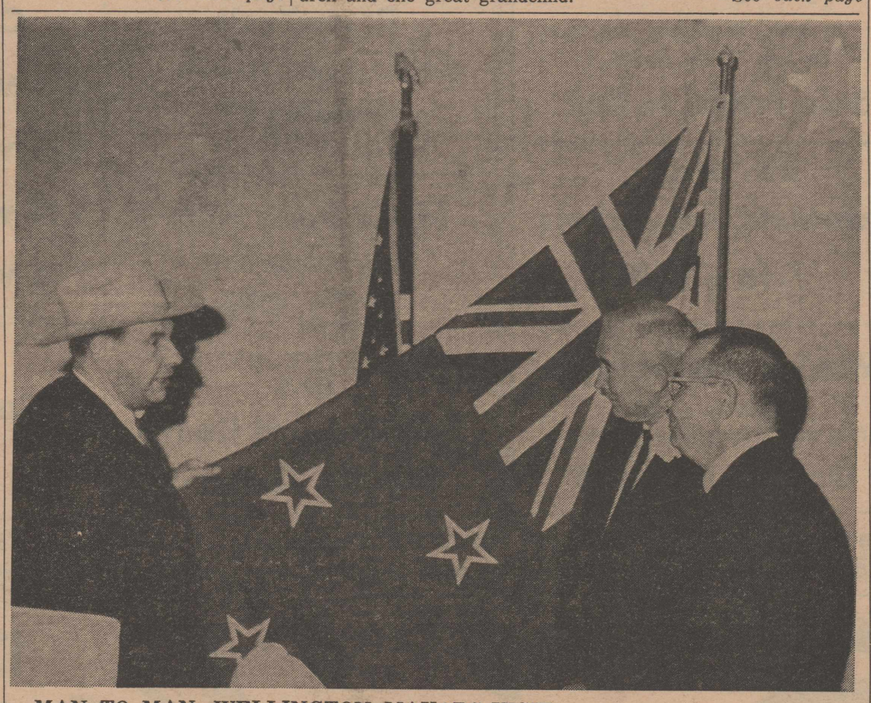

Her statement follows:

I wish to take this opportunity to thank each of you for your co-operation and courtesy to me during my present term as you county-district clerk.

In asking for your support in the coming primary election, I assure you I will continue to give efficient, friendly service to all.

I am asking re-election to this office on the basis of the performance of my duties while I have been your county-district clerk. The records of this office are open, and if you would like to inspect my work, I invite you to do so.

I will appreciate your continued support and vote of confidence and I look forward to seeing all of you before the first Primary election.

Social Security Sets New Rules for Age Proof

The Social Security Administration has established new requirements for proof of age for entitlement to social security monthly benefits.

Claimants must now submit the best proof of age available.

"The very best proof of age," according to Hal Geldon, Amarillo district manager, "would be a church record of birth made before the claimant's fifth birthday. Next best evidence of age would be any other record established before the person's eleventh birthday"

"There will be cases," Geldon explained, "where a person will not be able to present proof of age recorded before his fifth or eleventh birthday. When this is true, he will need to present two documents made after his eleventh birthday."

"Many sources are used for proof of age. They include public school, church and census records. Others that may be considered would include hospital birth records, physicians' or midwife's birth records, insurance policies, delayed birth certificates, marriage records and military records."

Geldon emphasized that his office is ready to advise and assist applicants in obtaining evidence that meet the new requirements.

Here's That Boom

City in Supersonic B-58 Flight Corridor

OFFUTT AFB, Neb.—Supersonic training flights by Strategic Air Command B-58 Hustler bombers will be flown along a route starting from northeast of Perryton, Okla., to a point near San Angelo, Texas, beginning Jan. 1 and ending Mar. 31.

The 40-mile-wide corridor passes near Shattuck and Arnett, Okla., and continues south, passing Canadian, Shamrock and Wellington, Tex., and Erick, Okla. Flying out of the Oklahoma area at Childress, the corridor continues past Paducah, Sweetwater and Ballinger, Tex., and terminates northeast of San Angelo.

An Air Force radar bomb scoring unit will determine the accuracy of simulated bomb drops through the use of radar and radio signals. No bombs are carried by the aircraft on these training missions.

In order to reduce the sonic booms over major cities where scoring equipment is located, target selections are made to by-pass or to allow deceleration to sub-sonic speeds before reaching those cities.

The bombers will make a maximum of two runs daily, flying at supersonic speeds up to mach 2 (1,300 m.p.h.) at altitudes above 35,000 feet. Because of the high altitudes, the booms they create are comparatively weak in strength.

Although sometimes startling or distracting in the suddenness, the booms will in no circumstances cause personal injury or damage to a structurally sound building.

Among pilots the B-58 is known as "the bomber that flies like a fighter."

It can penetrate to targets while flying above 60,000 feet at speeds of more than 1,300 miles per hour—twice the speed of sound.

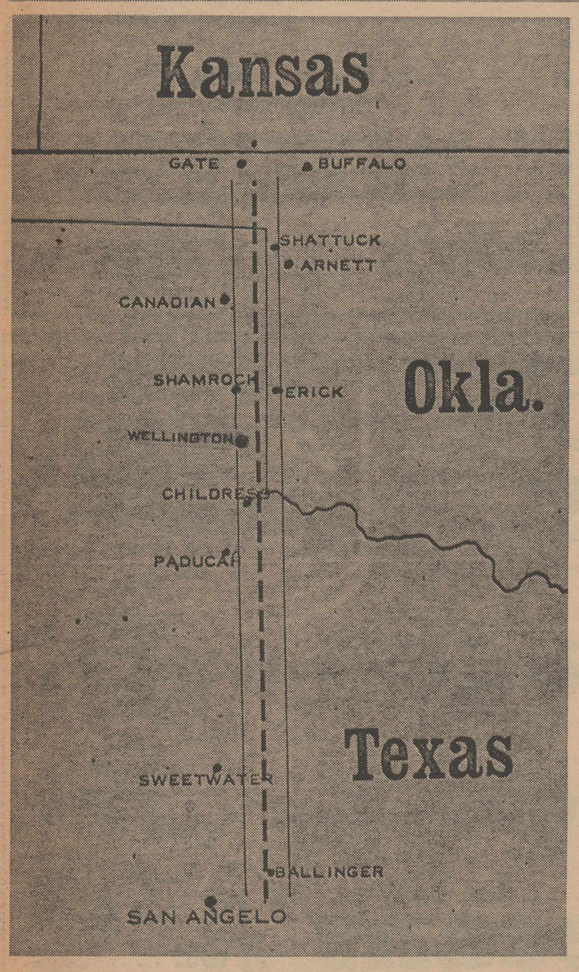

Its triangular wing and slender wasp-waisted fuselage distinguish the B-58 in the air. On the ground, the long-legged landing gear that provides clearance for the underslung detachable armament pod is the eye-catching design feature.

The slender, bomb-shaped pod can be armed with conventional or nuclear weapons, reconnaissance gear or electronic countermeasures equipment, thus assuring a high degree of mission flexibility.

The B-58 is powered by four General Electric J-79 jet engines, carried on forward mounted plyons, each of which produces 15,600 pounds of thrust on take-off with afterburner. Each engine has a "spike" or variable air inlet duct for best performance throughout the wide speed ranges flown by the aircraft.

At twice the speed of sound, the leading edge of the B-58's wing heat up to approximately 260 degrees Fahrenheit, too hot for conventional aluminum aircraft skin. Engineers solved this temperature problem by building a "sandwich" with a tough cellular honeycomb core, bonded to outer coverings of stainless steel. It offers high strength-to-weight ratios, provides aerodynamic smoothness, and is resistant to sonic fatigue failure.

The bomber's fuselage is 97 feet long and the delta wing, 57 feet across, comprises a total area of 1,542 square feet.

BOOMMAKER AND ITS CORRIDOR

Supersonic booms became part of Wellington's daily routine Monday, Jan. 3, as the Strategic Air Command began training flights by the B-58 in a corridor extending along the east side of the Panhandle. In the picture at top, the B-58 deploys its drag chute after touchdown. TThe B-58 is the world's first supersonic bomber with intercontinental capabilities. Below is a map showing the corridor. City Invited to Special Day at Stock Show

FORT WORTH.— The Wellington Chamber of Commerce has been invited to participate in the "Special Day" program of the 1966 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show Jan. 28 through Feb. 6.

Local residents attending the Stock Show Rodeo as part of the "Special Day" delegation will be recognized through a spotlighted introduction.

Included in the Stock Show invitation is a block reservation of rodeo seats to insure the delegation will be sitting together for the spotlighted introduction. A cowgirl sweetheart can be selected to ride in the Grand Entry and be introduced at the "Special Day" Rodeo performance.

W. R. Watt, Fort Worth Stock Show president and manager, reports the emphasis will be on "action" at the 1966 edition of the Fort Worth Rodeo, the world's original indoor rodeo.

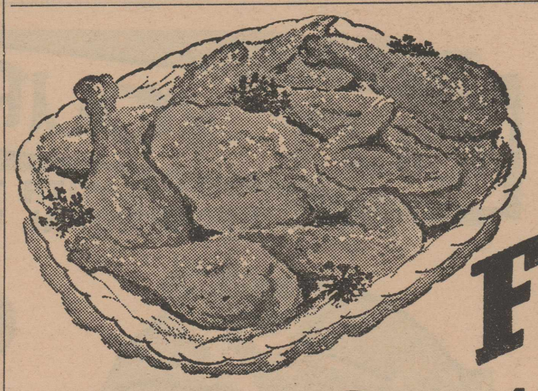

There'll be plenty of rodeo action under the leadership of rodeo producer Tommy Steiner and Associates. In addition to the fast-paced rodeo action, an outstanding group of specialty acts have been signed up for 1966. Watt said, "With increased attention to rodeo excitement and a variety of entertainment features, we plan to have 'the Southwest's Greatest Indoor Spectacle'."

Gates open on the 1966 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show at 4 p.m. Friday, Jan. 28. Entries for cattle, horses, sheep and swine closed Dec. 15. Poultry, rabbit and pigeon entries close Jan. 15.

Locker Plant
Is Now Under New Management & Ownership

The Gilmore Locker Plant is now under the ownership of Elmer Hiett and Lynn Jenkins; but it will continue to operate under the old name GILMORE LOCKER PLANT.

For the past 20 years it has been the aim of this business to provide a distinct and beneficial service to the people of the Wellington area—one that would enable them to realize greater benefits and profits from the BEEF, PORK, POULTRY, FRUITS and VEGETABLES raised here at home.

This is a business that adds to the economy of our community in two ways—First it enables us to make use of our home grown products and store them while they have the most food value without the extra cost of transportation. Second it provides an additional payroll for the town and payrolls help all of us.

It will be our aim to provide the same friendly, efficient service that you have known in the past; but it will also be our purpose to improve the service from month to month and from year to year to the best of our ability.

Come to see us.

DEEP CUT-SALE PRICES ON FAMOUS MAKE BRANDS

A Sale with a Reason . . . and Not Just an Excuse . . .

IT'S A BITTER PILL TO SWALLOW! But Here's the Low-Down. It nearly breaks our hearts to see our stocks of Quality Merchandise GO ON SALE at the ridiculously low prices you see advertised here! . . . But there's not much we can do about it for we have a serious inventory problem. WE'RE OVERSTOCKED with far too much merchandise for a store our size. We're NOT having financial difficulties—NOT TRYING TO RAISE cash—NOR are we in distress. We simply must dump Surplus Stocks at any cost to adjust our inventory. We have altogether too much of everything with a serious overstocked condition that is not healthy for any business. We're an aggressive firm, maintaining an enviable reputation and selling only the top brand name lines. But—like all well-rated firms there comes a time when mistakes occur and adjustments are in order. That's why profit is not the object of this sale. DUMPING STOCKS—REDUCING INVENTORY and stimulating business is OUR ONLY REASON for this sudden and drastic move. We consider it good business to take our losses now—swallow our pride and admit our mistakes. Nothing wrong in that—is there? That's why we have ripped, cut and slashed prices in every department—why you can save 20%, 30%—yes, even 50%. So—come shed a tear with us while we bury our mistakes and take our losses.

→Rex Peeples of the Dumas Schools says that some day the superintendent of that system is going to wake up and find he's been invaded by Wellington. Rex teaches there, but the first of the group is Julia Slough VanBebber, journalism instructor. Jess Davis, who drove a school bus when he was going to WHS, is on the faculty, as are Bill Lackey and Orville Copeland. If there are others, it's us who overlooked them. Rex knows them all.

→Letters from the Danny Garcias during Christmas reported they were still in the Ambassador Hotel in Santo Domingo (the city) during the recent flareup, and not Santiago when the fighting took place. Danny and Joyce and the boys were at the Ambassador Hotel, where the diplomats stay, and it was heavily guarded. Their car, however, was on the waterfront and they didn't know what to expect. When they got to it, only the aerial and one bucket seat were missing. They go out in the field around January 1. This information came from Louis Graham.

Something nice is about to happen to Max, besides the degree he will get from WT at mid-term.

Wellington Rockets Beat Paducah 56 to 43

Wellington High's Rockets over-powered Paducah, 56 to 43 in Rocket Gym on Dec. 30.

The two teams had met twice in earlier games, once at Paducah and again in the Paducah tournament.

Both teams showed the effects of the holidays but the Rockets were more consistent.

The Rockets took an early lead and never gave it up.

James Smith was high for Wellington with 18 points and George Leathers made 12.

The Rockets met Quail at the Quail gym in their homecoming game on January 1. The Quails were victorious by a 53 to 46 score.

There were many mistakes in the game, and it seemed to be a contest of who made the fewest.

Quail was able to hit with their free throws better than Wellington, hitting 21 to the Rockets' 6.

Both teams hustled all the way and it was an exciting game down to the last whistle.

James Smith made 18 points for the Rockets, and Johnny Maxwell 14. Gollihugh was high pointer for Quail with 18 and Morris made 16.

New Management of Locker Plant Announced

Announcement was made this week that the Gilmore Locker Plant is now under new management and ownership.

The owners now are Elmer Hiett and his son-in-law, Lynn Jenkins. Mr. Hiett was a partner in the business with the late L. A. Gilmore during most of the firm's 20 years of service to the Wellington trade area.

Jenkins comes here from Graham, where he was manager of the Young County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. He is married to the former Mary Jane Hiett and they have a two-and-a-half-year-old daughter, Tina Malyn.

Jenkins grew up in Oklahoma and California. He attended California State Polytechnic College at San Luis Obispo, Calif., and received his degree in animal husbandry from Oklahoma State University.

Returning to California, he was with the Bank of America as a real estate appraiser two years in San Francisco and Visalia. For the last six years he has been office manager of the ASCS at Stinnett and Graham.

The family is active in the Church of Christ.

Hiett has lived most of his life here—53 years. He joined Mr. Gilmore in a partnership in the locker plant in January 1948.

He is a veteran of World War II, having served in the Third Army in Europe. He is active in the Church of Christ and a member of the American Legion.

The same courteous, efficient service that customers have known in the past will be continued at the locker plant, the owners said.

Employees of the plant are Jimmy Powell and Simon Garza.

FIRST TEXAUTOIST

First automobile was driven over Texas roads by Col. E. H. R. Green, of Terrell, in 1899.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tarter spent the holidays with their children, Mr. and Mrs. Delmo Riley and Jyll in San Antonio.

Wellington Girls Defeat Paducah in Holiday Game

The Wellington high Rockettes won out 43 to 33 over the Paducah Dragonettes Thursday Dec. 30. This was the second meeting of the two teams, with the Rockettes winning the first game by a wide margin.

The Paducah team had improved since the earlier game, though, and the score was close during the first three quarters.

Both teams made many mistakes, probably due to the lack of workouts over the holidays.

Becky Brewer held high point honors with 18 points, and Vickie Wade made 16.

Quarter scores:

	1st	2nd	3rd	4th
Wellington	11	20	31	43
Paducah	13	19	23	33

On Jan. 1 the Rockettes beat the Quail Bobwhites 52 to 28. The game started out to be slow and low scoring with Quail working the ball for the best possible shot.

The Rockettes' quickness and experience prevailed, however, and Wellington never trailed throughout the game.

All Rockettes saw a good deal of action in this game.

Nancy Holton was high pointer with 21, while Becky Brewer had 18.

Vumore Changes Announced on January 1

Jack Sanders, manager and field engineer of the Wellington Vumore office, is moving to Woodward, Okla., to become field engineer for both Vumore and the North Canadian Microwave System, he announced.

Don Latimer, cable technician in the local office, was promoted to succed Sanders. Herschel Pruitt, who works at Childress for Vumore, will come here as the new cable technician. Both Sanders and Latimer have been here since April 1965.

Sanders began work at Woodward Monday, Jan. 3, and his family will join him about Jan. 15. His new position is considered a distinct advancement in his field of work.

He was district radio maintenance supervisor with the State Highway Department in Childress before joining Vumore three years ago.

He and Mrs. Sanders have four children, a son Darrell 10, and daughters Crystal Dawn 8, and twins, Jeanette and Jeanice 6. He is a member of the Rotary Club and the family belongs to the Baptist Church.

In point of service, Latimer is one of the earlier employees of Vumore, having joined the company in 1958 at Ardmore, Okla. He served in the armed forces then returned to the company at the end of his enlistment. He is a member of the Kiwanis Club.

Pruitt, with Vumore three years, was at Altus a year and a half before coming to Childress. He is married and has a baby daughter five months old.

Rise Above Hoods

Retired Supreme Court Justice Charles E. Whittaker had some unusual things to say—unusual for this day and age—in speaking to a group of high school students in the Midwest the other day.

Justice Whittaker told the students that the rights to own property and manage it in one's own way are fundamental civil rights. Property rights are the soil in which all other civil and human rights grow and mature.

He warned the youths not to be hoodwinked by such phrases as "equality" and "civil rights" when they are used for propaganda purposes. "Don't fall to the bait of the cliche," he warned, "for it the idea is good, it should stand on its own merits." One phrase he warned against as a chliche was "The world owes every man a living." This is utopian and beyond the mortal power of man to convey," he told them.

The phrase, "Production is for use, not profit," the speaker said was coined in Russia and is "high sounding, but phoney." It is profit that has produced our nation, and it is necessary for the well-being of our nation. "Without profit, initiative, progress dies. And with progress, liberty dies."

Justice Whittaker also warned the students against anyone who would preach that it is all right to obey good laws, but not bad laws. "Who will be the umpire?" he asked. "Doesn't this mean that you should obey only the laws you like? Isn't this anarchy? Isn't this treason?" He urged the youths not to encourage "the hoods and creeps," but to rise above them. "Don't go down to that level. All men aren't that equal. Hook your wagon to a star."

When we say all men are created equal, we mean they are equal in the sight of God, Whittaker told them. In a democracy such as exists in the United States, this means the government should give everyone the right to equal learning, treatment, justice and sufferage.

"But that is all," he declared. "Democracy was not meant to be a leveler of man. The gifted, the thrifty, the energetic, the creative must have the right to rise above the masses. Destroy that and you have destroyed all initiative, and then you have chaos, calumny and communism."

The nation was the loser, we believe, when ill health forced Justice Whittaker to leave the Supreme Court and return to private life. His voice and influence are needed.

PUBLIC ADDRESS

The young man was being interviewed for a job. After the usual questions the boss inquired, "Have you ever done any public speaking?"

"Oh, yes," replied the applicant. "I once proposed to a girl over a rural party line."

DOWN TO THE SEA IT SLIPS—This aerial view shows how close several homes are to a massive landslide that roared down to block a highway near Santa Monica, Calif., and smashed into a refreshment stand on the beach. CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Some officially ordained thinkers are still preaching that Disarmament would bring on Peace everywhere.

But my realismal neighbor says in spite of all the sweetness and light generated by the United Nations, there still are some pushy people around, and he figures the only peace we would have if disarmed would be a groveler's peace.

Says peace is not always practical, anyhow. Like if we disarmed our Internal Revenue people by taking away their jailhouse axe, we would have considerable more internal peace, but our government wouldn't have much internal revenue.

I see where unemployment has gone up again, with the White House's French chef and his job getting separated.

My re-re-retrained neighbor says the poverty warriors had ought to be working harder on their program to help people like this famous cook, who get out of work because their jobs change so the skills they've got don't fit any more.

Says it shouldn't have cost more than $30,000 or $40,000, even at poverty program retraining rates, to have helped this Frenchman hold onto his job by teaching him how to make chili and cook black-eyed peas.

Considerable news about blood in the papers here of late, as our men in Viet Nam lose theirs and patriotic college students send theirs to replace some of it.

Also our draft-panicked, and our Vietniks and our Bobby Kennedy have spoken out in favor of bottling up some of their spare personal blood and sending it to the enemy.

My tired blood neighbor says this latter move had ought to be encouraged, because if we could get enough of this beatnik blood into North Vietnamese veins, it would sure ruin them for fighting.

News report says about two years ago there was a factory went broke and Washington set up $780,000 to help 20,000 idled workers get new jobs.

So a high-priced staff got busy making study reports, and after months of consecrated labor, somebody happened to look and the crisis had disappeared.

Turned out that all but a few dozen of the crisisees were non-conformists who had sneaked out and undermined the Great Society by following the old out-dated American custom of finding jobs by themselves.

Soil Conservation Continues Gains During 1965

Soil Conservation continued to be news in 1965, the report of the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District reveals. These accomplishments were listed for the fiscal year, which ended in October, by Doug Lowe, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service.

Forty-two new soil conservation agreements were signed, and 51 new basic plans were drawn up. Sixty-eight plans were revised, and 21 Great Plains contracts were listed.

Lowe listed these practices accomplished during the year: brush control, 11,148 acres; conservation cropping system, 11,868 acres; contour farming, 4,493 acres; cover cropping, 5,127 acres; crop residue use, 5,467 acres; and deferred grazing, 8,295 acres.

Diversions amounted to 4,360 feet; regular terraces to 213,007 feet; and parallel terraces to 63,981 feet.

Thirty-six ponds were built, 12 water storage facilities constructed and six wells dug.

Emergency tillage accounted for 7,071 acres; grassed waterways, 59 acres.

Range seeding, 2,240 acres; range proper use, 8,072 acres; and stubble mulching 7,404 acres.

Rain Delays East Panhandle Cotton Harvest

The Eastern Panhandle cotton harvest last week was again delayed by rain and cold, according to the USDA Consumer and Marketing Service, Memphis.

Sample receipts declined as a result of adverse weather, and grades and micronaire readings also reflected lower quality. K. E. Voelkel, in charge of the Memphis classing office stated that 17,000 samples were classed during the week ending Friday, Dec. 31, bringing the seasonal total to 127,000. This compared with 118,000 last season and 219,000 as of the same date in 1961. It is estimated that about 65 percent of the expected production has been classed in this 12-county area.

The grades of cotton classed during the week were considerably lower than any week this season, with the color group Light Spotted predominant and showing 68 percent. Twenty-four percent of the cotton was in White Standard and 8 percent was graded Spotted. The leading grades were Middling Light Spotted and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted with 30 and 33 percent, respectively. 2.6 and below, 3 percent; 2.7

With the increased harvesting of late cotton by stripping, 3 percent of the cotton classed was reduced in grade because of Bark.

Staple lengths showed some improvement, with a decrease, percentage-wise, of 29/32 inch and shorter and an increase in the length 15/16 inch. The various lengths were as follows: 29/32 inch and shorter, 9 percent; 15/16 inch, 83 percent; 31/32 inch, 7 percent; and 1 inch, 1 percent. Four percent of the cotton was classed as Wasty.

The micronaire readings (for fineness and maturity) were lower this week with 45 percent of the cotton classed in the range 3.6 - 4.8, which is considered desirable or premium range. Other readings were to 2.9, 15 percent; 3.0 to 3.2, 19 percent; and 3.3 to 3.5, 18 percent.

Pressley tests (fiber strength) showed an improvement with 92 percent of the cotton tested reading 80,000 pounds per sq. in. and above. Only 3 percent tested 75,000-79,000 and 5 percent was 70,000 to 74,000. These strong tests are characteristic of Eastern Panhandle cotton.

Cotton prices for the most predominant qualities, based on mike readings 3.6-4.8, mixed lots, uncompressed in warehouses were: Middling, 15/16—27.50; Strict Low Middling, 15/16—26.15; Middling Light spotted, 15/16—26.20; and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted, 15/16—25.30.

Cottonseed price was generally $47 per ton to farmers at gin points.

Star As Dad No Problem, Nancy Found

At least one young actress in Warnes Bros.' new domestic comedy, "Marriage On the Rocks", which opens at the Ritz Theatre Sunday, was not nervous about working with top star Frank Sinatra. The young actress was his daughter, Nancy, who in the film plays—his daughter.

Even without that bit of 'type casting' by director Jack Donahue, Nancy conceivably might have had qualms about appearing opposite her famous father. "Not only because he is my father, but also because he is, after all, a top star," she explains.

But it didn't turn out so. "From our first scene," Nancy reports, "I stopped thinking of him as my father and concentrated on him as an actor. We discussed our scenes before shooting them, and Dad's advice helped me considerably."

In "Marriage On the Rocks" Nancy plays an 18-year-old college student who wants to leave home and share an apartment with a girl friend, a nightclub A-Go-Go dancer. Naturally, her father objects, thus creating an additional domestic crisis since his wife wants to leave him, too.

"Marriage On the Rocks" stars Sinatra, Deborah Kerr, and Dean Martin, and co-stars Nancy Sinatra, Cesar Romero, Hermione Braddeley, Tony Bill, John McGiver, Michel Petit, Davey Davison and Trini Lopez.

Disabled Vets Must Report Income by Jan. 31

Nearly 61,000 veterans and dependents of veterans in the Waco area who receive Veterans Administration monthly pension payments were reminded this week to report their annual income by Jan. 31, 1966 to the VA Regional Office to avoid having their payments stopped.

Jack Coker, manager of the VA Regional Office at Waco, said that income reports have been slow this year in spite of the fact that the VA has mailed to all who receive pensions a simplified punched card on which the income report must be made.

These questionnaire forms must not be folded or otherwise mutilated as they are run through automatic data processing machines.

Dependent parents who receive dependency and indemnity compensation also received these questionnaires as their payments are also regulated by the amount of their income.

Highway Dept. Begins Billboard, Junkyard Count

AUSTIN.—The second phase of Texas' initial plan of compliance with the recently-enacted Federal Highway Beautification Act will get under way this week when field parties from the Texas Highway Department begin the actual count for inventories of billboards and junkyards along Texas highways.

The act, as approved by the Congress and signed into law by the President, envisions the control of billboards and junkyards and scenic enhancement along the nation's federal-aid highway system.

In Texas this will cover more than 3,000 miles of Interstate highway system and more than 14,500 miles of the primary system.

The Texas inventories were ordered last month by State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer.

At that time Greer said information obtained in the inventories will be used in studies that will be made relative to possible state legislation to implement the provision of the act, including the zoning of industrial and commercial areas along the State highway system.

Ahighway department spokesman said May 15, 1966 has been set as a target date for completion of the inventories.

The highway department field parties will travel over every mile of federal-aid highways in Texas gathering information for the inventories.

The number of junkyards in the state is considerably smaller than that of billboards.

On billboards, Highway Department personnel will record such infromation as size, ownership, subject displayed and location.

The signs will be classified as rural, industrial or commercial areas.

Signs directly related to the property on which they are located, such as "for sale" signs will not be surveyed.

The first project in Texas' plan of action under the Federal act was launched earlier in December when the Texas Highway Commission approved plans for the first landscape planting project in Texas under the act.

This project is to be on a section of Interstate Highway 45 adjacent to the downtown business district of Houston.

The Federal act calls for an expanded program of landscaping and scenic enhancement.

Water Line OK Received

Authorization has been received from the Farmers Home Administration for the Samnorwood Water Supply Corporation to construct an additional four and one-half miles of water line.

Jim Chappell, county supervisor of the FHA office here, said that Conklin Brothers of Plainview, which constructed the system, has the contract for this also.

The amount of the loan authorized is $9,000.

The date for construction depends on the receipt of title opinions on some land involved, Chappell said.

Gather Tax Records Now

DALLAS—With the filing season beginning Jan. 1, now is the time to gather financial records to help you prepare your 1965 Federal income tax return.

Ellis Campbell, Jr., District Director of Internal Revenue for northern Texas, said this week that cancelled checks, receipts, records of contributions, and other data are important. They make filing your return easier.

Complete records are especially helpful to Texas taxpayers who intend to itemize their deductions.

A copy of your 1964 tax return also provides a good guide for preparing your 1965 tax return.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

The announcements of the candidates are beginning to blossom in the papers of the Panhandle. It should be remembered that there will be many other issues besides the selection of candidates upon which to vote in 1966. The only way you can be sure of having a voice in these matters is to pay your poll tax. In addition to the county and district officials, we will be electing a Governor, Lieutenant Governor and a whole slate of state officials as well as a U.S. Senator and Congressman. Besides all these candidates and a water election, there will be sixteen amendments to the state constitution upon which you will be asked to vote.

* * *

Those of you who own boats should remember that this is the year you must register your boat under the new Water Safety Act. The fees range from $3 for the smaller boats to $12 for the larger ones and are payable to the Texas Highway Department. The act will be enforced by the state game warden. Equipment required on boats include fire extinguishers and flame arresters, horns, bells, and rear view mirror.

* * *

Congratulations to everyone who had a part in entertaining Mayor Frank Kitts of New Zealand. This was as well planned and executed an event as we have had in Wellington, Texas in some time. The program went off without a bobble and the food and entertainment were excellent.

* * *

New York is not too attractive a place to be during many days of the winter months; but with traffic almost paralyzed by the strike of the transit workers the city must be a dreadful place in which to try to work. On top of this, colder weather is forecast for Saturday for that section of the country.

* * *

R. L. Templeton was in the office Tuesday and he was feeling good for the price of hogs has been unusually high since early in December just as a local grocer was complaining about the price of bacon last week. It follows a pattern. In the past the answer to high hog prices has been to produce a curtailment of finished hogs for market while all the gilts were shunted into the breeding pens. This scarcity of marketable swine causes another raise in the price of pork and pork products; but there has always been the inevitable reaction as the established hog raisers increased the number of their hogs and farmers who had no hogs got into the business.

* * *

The worst time to get into the hog raising business is when they are at peak prices. The only people who make money out of raising hogs, poultry, sheep or cattle are those who stay in the business year in and year out. The jump-in and jump-out jimplicute is lost before he starts. Ben Farmer and Bob Seeds make money out of hogs; but they stay in the business when the price is low as well as high. Of course they speed up output when the price is high; but they already have the proven quality sows, having sent their less productive animals to market.

* * *

Jay Taylor, the famous financier and cattleman of Amarillo, says he believes that in less than ten years we will be feeding all the calves and yearlings raised in Texas and selling them as good or choice beef. If we had been doing that for the past 30 years it would have meant millions and perhaps billions to the Texas economy.

* * *

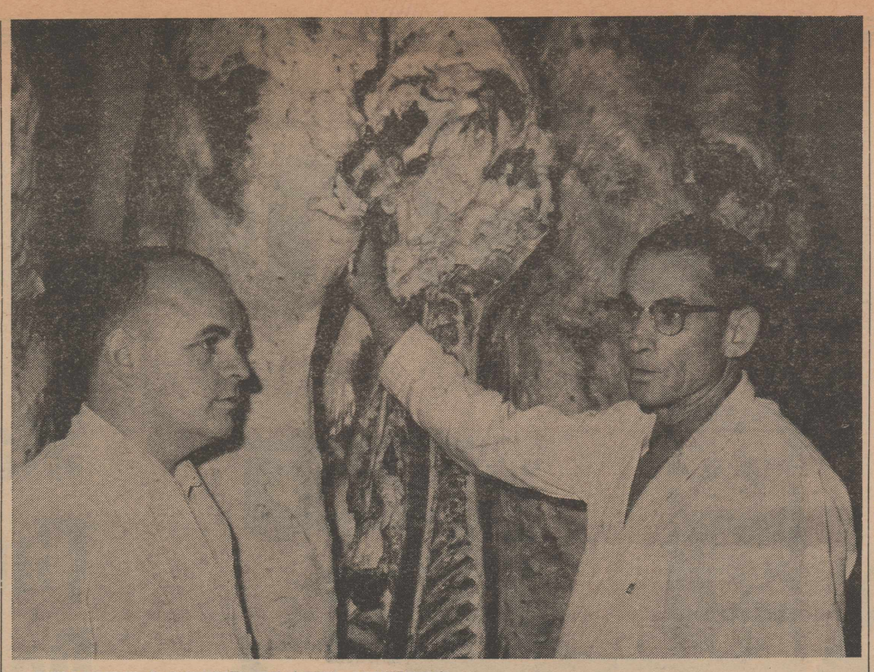

While I am on the subject of hogs, it says here that the Food and Drug Administration is developing a breed of dwarf white hogs to be used in testing the new drugs. It is easy to develop dwarf swine; but the new breed must be white in order to more easily test the skin reaction to the drugs. Dogs were formerly used; but a hog's heart and major blood vessels more closely resemble that of man.

* * *

There will be a full moon on Friday January 7 and this is also a good week to see Venus and Mars at their brightest.

The trouble with life is that by the time you have learned to play the game you are too old to get on the team.

Former County Man on Heart Project

An electronics engineer who as a child lived at Quail is in charge of the research laboratory at Rice University which is working with Baylor Medical School to perfect a mechanical heart.

He is Hardy Bourland, son of Ralph Bourland, who now lives at Lubbock, and a nephew of Fred Bourland.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bourland were in Houston recently and he visited the laboratory with his nephew.

He saw two calves in which small plastic hearts had been attached, and which functioned electronically. One did the work of half the heart, the other of the entire heart.

These were 300 pound calves and they were doing well, Fred Bourland reported. It is necessary to keep them immobilized to prevent the implants from being torn away, he added.

Hardy Bourland is married and has two children.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bourland were in Houston for her medical check-up, which they reported was good.

Mayor

"I feel I am one with you here," Mayor Kitts said a few minutes later, and then in telling of his visit that already had taken him to the Scandanavian countries and both coasts of the United States, he reminded that any more, there is no such thing as a place that is far away.

He spoke of the many similarities—names, thinking, and background—between this area and his own country "down under."

"We were partners with you in Korea; we are partners with you in Viet Nam," he said.

There was praise for Wellington High School's stage band which had just performed.

"We have one too, but not as good," he remarked.

He took note of another tie between his city and Wellington, Texas.

"An Englishman, Lord Majoribanks, a partner with the Earl of Aberdeen in a ranch in your county, also had interests in New Zealand, and in Wellington, we have a street named for him."

Friday, the New Zealand Mayor visited the Doneghy Ranch and the Mill Iron Ranch and Friday evening he was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hughes at the Mill Iron.

He spoke again at a joint luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs at noon Friday.

Saturday, with council members as guides, he visited Tyler Electric to see Weather-Scan manufactured, and other business firms in Wellington.

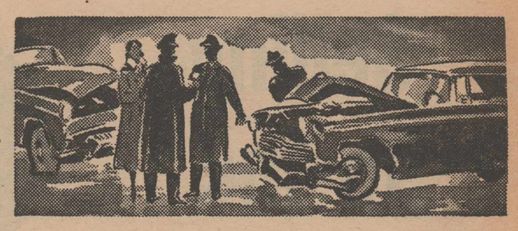

A Roman Catholic, His Worship Mayor Kitts attended Mass at Our Mother of Mercy Catholic Church and told Father Patrick Burke how happy he was to be able to attend Mass so far from home on New Year's Day.

Wellington, New Zealand was one of the stops Father Burke made on a world tour.

This trip was the first in which Mayor Kitts has been able to visit among the people of the United States, to see their small towns and be a guest in their homes, he told friends he made here.

Besides cities acorss the country, he visited Wellington, Kansas, and his next stop after leaving here was to be Denver; then Wellington, Colorado.
