Tax Cut May Hike Pay Within Month

US CofC Chief Calls Tax Act 'Political Bribe'

Neilan Says Bill Concentrates On Reduction in Lower Brackets

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Edwin P. Neilan, president of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, asserted Saturday that the administration's $11.6 billion tax cut bill is mostly "political" because it concentrates on the lowest income brackets.

He said the bill passed by the Senate Friday, should have given a bigger break to corporations to encourage business expansion. But he said that killing it at this late stage would be "a terrible letdown in the attitude and actual energies" of the nation, which has been led to expect a tax cut.

Neilan also charged politics and "political bribery" in the administration's urban renewal and housing programs. The Area Redevelopment Administration, President Johnson's proposed war on poverty and the accelerated public works program.

He commended Johnson, however, for cutting expenditures in some parts of the new federal budget. "I think there is some excellent work going on,"

City Schools Open Monday

It was back to class Monday for students in Pampa schools. Superintendent Jack Edmondson said late Saturday night that test runs by buses proved that most rural students could be reached.

He said if weather conditions continue with the present warming trend, classes would be resumed at the regular time on Monday.

Edmondson did urge parents living in areas where there was any doubt about road conditions to attempt to get children to the nearest paved roads where buses pass so they may be picked up.

The school official asked high school students to try and "do without automobiles" around the school for the next day or so. He urged the youngsters to come in car pools and leave as many cars at home as possible.

The area around the school is still pretty bad for parking of cars, he explained.

Classes were dismissed Tuesday when 17 inches of snow fell in Pampa.

Khrushchev Wants Cyprus Trouble To Go Before UN

MOSCOW (UPI) — Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev today appealed to President Johnson and other Western leaders to bring the Cyprus crisis before the United Nations Security Council.

Khrushchev, in a 1,500-word message, warned that the Soviet Union could not "remain indifferent" to events on Cyprus, a strategic island in the Mediterranean on which Britain has a major base.

But he threatened no direct Soviet action.

85 Experts On Panel at Career Clinic

One of Pampa High School's biggest educational events will unfold at 9 a.m. Wednesday as 85 professional men and women conduct the sixth annual Career Clinic.

The consultants will discuss 64 fields during the event, which will open with an assembly program which will be highlighted by an address from Dr. DeWitt Reddick, head of the department of journalism at the University of Texas.

Reddick will also handle the roundtable on journalism which will be attended not only by Pampa students but by Claude students, Robert E. Lee and Pampa Junior high students.

The clinic is being directed this year by co-chairmen, Mrs. Marian Osborne, Duggan Smith, Mrs. Donna Cornutt and Principal Cameron Marsh.

First of the roundtables will be held at 10 a.m. and the second at 11 a.m. with students meeting in homerooms at the end of the fourth period to fill out evaluation sheets, Mrs. Ruby Capps, counselor, announced.

Students received Career Clinic manuals last week which explain the program held each year to allow students "to become acquainted with the many different fields of employment open to today's youth."

A coffee is set between consultants and students leaders in the cafeteria at 7:45 a.m. until 8:30 a.m.

Fields to be discussed range from medicine to bus driving. If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Hdw. (Adv.)

House, Senate in Co-operative Mood

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A co-operative mood in the House and Senate raised hopes Saturday that the biggest individual and corporate tax cut in the nation's history would go into effect in time to fatten Americans' paychecks within a month.

Rep. Martha W. Griffiths, D-Mich., a member of the tax-writing House Ways & Means Committee, told a reporter flatly: "Your pay will be increased by March 1."

Similar predictions were heard in the Senate, as negotiators from both chambers prepared to meet Monday to fashion a compromise bill for President Johnson's signature that would cut the income tax bills of 60 million wage earners by an average 20 per cent and reduce corporation taxes by 4 per cent.

Needs Ironing Out
The House passed a bill last September cutting taxes $11.1 billion. The Senate approved its own $11.6 billion version Friday. Differences in the two bills must be ironed out, with a final vote on the resulting bill in the House and Senate, before the President can sign it into law.

Senate and House negotiators saw no obstacles to speedy agreement. After a week of discussion, the conferees were to start voting on a compromise measure on Feb. 17. The bill's backers hoped all issues could be resolved by Feb. 19.

Wage earners will feel the effects of the bill a week after it is signed into law. Take-home pay will rise when the withholding rate falls from 18 per cent to 14 per cent.

Agreed On Cut
The House and Senate are agreed on the cut in income tax rates, but there are differences over a number of features such as deductions and capital gains taxes.

The House, for example, eliminated deductions for state and local taxes on gasoline, automobile registration plates and drivers licenses, which the Senate retained. The Senate also stuck with the administration and refused to go along with a House-approved liberalization of favored capital gains taxes on profits made from stocks and property held for two years or more.

Income tax bills will drop an average of 20 per cent over a two-year period. Two-thirds of the cut will take effect this year, retroactive to Jan. 1, and the rest on Jan. 1, 1965.

Typical Savings
This means, for example, that a married couple with two children and an income of $10,000 a year, taking typical itemized deductions, will pay $223 a year less in taxes, or a cut of 19 per cent.

The President hailed the Senate vote of 77-21 on Friday as good news for the economy and the taxpayers. He urged Congress to hurry up action on a

'Acting Natural' Kept Secret for Royal Sweethearts

MADRID (UPI) — "Just acting natural" — that is how Prince Carlos of Bourbon-Parma and Holland's Princess Irene concealed the fact they were in love and wanted to marry.

It was the smiling prince himself who told Saturday how "the secret" was kept secret — shortly before he flew off with his green-eyed princess to Holland to "talk things over" with the Dutch royal family.

Prince Carlos, a lean, 33-year-old athlete and French air force pilot and parachutist, was interviewed by the Spanish news agency EFE after he finally was revealed as the mystery man who had stolen Irene's heart and touched off a constitutional crisis in Holland.

"We met for the first time many years ago," he said, "and since then we have met at several places in Europe. But it was not until recently in Spain that we decided to become engaged."

Pampa Living Status Discussed in Volume

(EDITOR'S NOTE: — This is the second in a 13 part series of stories based on sections of the Industrial Facts Book prepared for the Pampa Chamber of Commerce by Texas A&M University. This installment covers general living conditions in Pampa.)
By GLENN MCCASLAND

The term "living conditions" covers many things and for each person involved in a community's life, living conditions could be different for each.

The Industrial Facts Book attempts to offer a general survey of who Pampans are and how they govern their city and life.

The 17-page section devoted to living conditions paints a vivid picture of government, schools, churches, health, recreation, commercial businesses and other things.

The Facts Book points out that the City of Pampa is a home-rule city, operating under the FAMILIAR STOCKINGS, PERHAPS?—If the stockings and costumes Mrs. Jerry Don Hopkins of 809 Bradley is wearing appear slightly familiar, it could well be the fact that for several days Pampa merchants have displayed "red stockings" in their stores. The stockings publicize the fact that chapters of Beta Sigma Phi will present the Red Stocking Revue April 3-4 under direction of Cargill Producers from New York City. The merchants were co-operating with the Beta Sigma Phi officials in promoting the announcement of the revue's dates.

McClellan Creek Watershed Outlined

A proposed watershed protection and flood prevention project for the McClellan Creek area was outlined at Friday's meeting of the Pampa Kiwanis Club by Foster Whaley, county agricultural agent, and Arnel Scott, work unit conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service.

The proposed project, if completed would be similar to the Washita Watershed project in Western Oklahoma and the Eastern Panhandle area, Whaley stated.

The Gray County Soil Conservation Board and the McClellan Soil Conservation Board (Carson County) initiated a request for such a project on the McClellan Creek area in 1958.

In early 1961 the State Soil Conservation Board after a survey party had determined the project to be a feasible one.

In a study made on the big flood that occurred in May, 1951, it was determined that a total damage to roads, bridges and farmland exceeded $100,000. It was further estimated that had the spillway gone out the damage would have been more than $350,000.

The proposed project would have eliminated all such losses according to the study made, according to Scott.

Nine or ten rather large dams and the repair of the spillway at Lake McClellan were included in the project. One of these structures would be in Carson County, just north of Tobogganer Mike Hessel of Eugene, Ore., was acquitted.

NEWS CONFERENCE — Cuban Premier Fidel Castro, left, tells news conference for foreign newsmen at the Presidential Palace that he will give Guantanamo Bay, the U.S. Naval Base, one hour of water a day. The U.S. rejected Cuba's charge that it illegally seized 38 Cuban fishermen off Key West, Fla., which is Castro's reason for cutting off the water supply. Seven of the fishermen will be deported to Cuba because they are under age. Shown with Castro is Cuban President Osvaldo Dorticos, center, and Foreign Minister Raul Roa.

LBJ Resting On Ranch

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (UPI) — President Johnson rested at his ranch Saturday while keeping in touch, through aides, with developments on the thorny Cuba and Cyprus situations.

The Chief Executive also planned a "leisurely discussion" of world problems Saturday night and Sunday with McGeorge Bundy, his special assistant for national security affairs.

Bundy and his wife flew from Washington to be guests at the President's LBJ ranch near Johnson City. Johnson arrived Friday night to attend the funeral Sunday of one of his family's closest friends, Mrs. J. C. Kellam.

Hay Dropped To Cattle In Area Airlift

Seven giant C-119 "Flying Boxcar" transport planes swept across the Top O' Texas area Saturday, dropping 1,000 bales of hay to snowbound cattle.

The U. S. Air Force Reserve planes stationed at Ellington Air Force Base in Houston teamed with members of Company B, 2nd Battalion, 142nd Infantry of the National Guard to deliver the much-needed feed.

Ranchers from Roberts, Gray and Carson Counties served as spotters for the airlift, which is scheduled to drop another 500 bales during the day Sunday, according to Lt. Bill Arrington of the Pampa guard unit.

Some 200 military personnel took part in the airlift program and the feeding by truck of cattle which could be reached.

Arrington reported "a large number of dead cattle" as being seen by air, but did not know if the death loss would be widespread. A large number of cattle were reportedly drifting across ranges, making drops hard.

There were miles and miles of acres where no one has been for five days or so," he said. "No tracks of any kind in the snow."

The airlift came at the request of ranchers who could not get close to their animals during the storm, which dumped 17 to 26 inches of snow on the Panhandle.

Meanwhile, bright sunshine drove the temperatures into the upper 40s Saturday, turning the thick snow into a mushy mess.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said fair skies would continue with warming temperatures.

Pampa Students Schedule Drama

Providing Pampa with a night at the theater, Pampa High School drama students will present Edith Sommer's "A Roomful of Roses" next Thursday and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the High School Auditorium.

Dana Taylor will lead the cast as Bridget MacGowan, supported by other cast members Ann Qualls as Nancy Fallon, Pat Spears as Jay Fallon, Kenneth Baxter as Larry Fallon, Carole Sears as Jane Hewitt, Sam Bryan as Dick Hewitt, Rita Scholl as Grace Hewitt, Billy Hayes as Carl MacGowan, and Jane Heaton as Willamay, the Fallon maid.

Setting the stage for the production, Nancy Fallon is fretting the arrival of a "Very Important Person," a fifteen-year old girl. But Bridget is more than a guest to Mrs. Fallon; she is Nancy's daughter, whom Nancy has not seen for many years.

"I wouldn't worry about anything," reassures Willamay, who is also eager to have everything "just right" for Bridget's arrival. "There's nothing like walking into a roomful of roses."

And walk in Bridget does—with all the flourish her teenage hauteur can manage, as she sets out to convince also teen-age Dick Hewitt that he has the appeal of a snake and the appearance thereof.

Jane, Dick's sister and Bridget's neighbor, has also promised her mother to do her best to entertain Bridget during her three-week stay. But it is not Jane's idea that they sit in two livingroom chairs and twiddle their thumbs because it is so "cozy."

Bridget develops into quite a character, or more correctly, quite a mixed-up personality who finds that like all human beings, life is easier to bear with love. But it takes the combined efforts of a typical little boy and a bitter father, a flutery neighbor and interested friends and family, to finally convince Bridget that the roomful of roses is her favorite room of all.

Tickets for "A Roomful of Roses" are being sold by drama students and Student Council members at $1 for adults and 75 cents for students.

'Shop Pampa First' Special Theme of Washington Event

"Shop Pampa First" will be the theme of the special Washington's Birthday sales specials to be offered in Pampa stores Saturday, Feb. 22.

Duggan Smith, chairman of the Merchants Activities Committee of the Chamber of Commerce, said Saturday many special features are being planned for the one-day birthday celebration.

Merchants are being asked to contact the committee and Chamber of Commerce office for ideas on costumes, posters, flags, giveaways and prizes for sales clerks.

The Washington Birthday event will be the last promotion of the merchants before Easter. "From the looks of things," Smith said, "Pampa's merchants really are going to get behind the Washington's Birthday observance with offerings that will make Pampans want to 'Shop Pampa First'."

Pampan Charged With Shooting In County Court

A Pampa man entered a not guilty plea to charges of aggravated assault with a deadly weapon Friday before County Judge Bill Caig.

Willie Joe Polk was placed under $500 bond after making the plea connection with the shooting of his wife, Ruby Mae, last Saturday night.

County Attorney Don Cain said Polk could not be arraigned sooner because of weather conditions and illness which kept both Cain and Judge Craig away from the courthouse.

A date for hearing the case will be set later, Cain indicated. Mrs. Polk was wounded four times by a .22 calibre pistol during an argument with her husband on South Gray St.

Officers arrested Polk, who lives at 1023 Barnett, about midnight last Saturday at Highland General Hospital when he came to the hospital to inquire of the woman's condition following the incident.

Notes From Wall Street

NEW YORK (UPI)—Shear-Hamill & Co. says that market is not unreasonably priced in relation to current and prospective earnings.
Especially when account is taken of the fact that corporate earnings are stated on a more conservative basis today than had been at any time since World War II.

Thus, the advisory services adds, "there is no reason to expect a serious downturn in market and even if a correction occurs, many stocks are able to show gains."
The firm suggests that some cash reserves be maintained for the case being in investment accounts and that owners of market accounts take appropriate steps to see to it that they have an adequate cushion.

At that time, we look for laggard secondaries to assume greater interest.

The optimistic group has been citing the possibility of a cut in an event that could boost profits, consumption and the whole economy," says Phillips, Noyes & Co. "Opticistic arguments seem well founded but the contrary opinion group has raised an interesting question: 'Will not the proposed reduction in long-term capital gains taxes render profit-taking so much more attractive that many investors hold blue chips that have appreciated manifold in the postwar period be inclined to sell thereby taking profits?'

hus, instead of spurring the economy and the stock market, the contrary opinion group believes that the proposed tax reduction could trigger liquidation of the blue chip stocks."

PREVENT BABY ACCIDENTS.

The saddest tragedy in any home is to have a child suffer a preventable accident. Here are a few authentic suggestions to protect our precious ones.

FROM BIRTH TO FOUR MONTHS.

Never leave baby alone where it is possible to wiggle and fall. Toys should be too large to swallow, no sharp edges and too tough to break. Keep pins out of reach. Watch out for smothering pillows, bed coverings, harnesses and filmy plastics.

FROM FOUR TO SEVEN MONTHS

Baby moves more and reaches for things.
Keep all small objects out of reach. Rounded sturdy plastic or wood toys are safest.
Never leave baby alone in bath.

SEVEN TO TWELVE MONTHS.

Baby can now sit, stand, crawl, perhaps walk and can pull anything down. Medicines, toilet articles, hot foods, liquids, electric cords: all must be out of reach. Place around heaters. Watch out for low hanging table cloths. Fence stairways. Keep screens nailed or locked. Never leave baby alone in tub, wading pool or water.

DEPEND ON US FOR BABY AIDS.

We carry a complete stock of everything that can keep baby healthy and comfortable.
Whether it be an important medicine, vitamins or just a nipple, we have it.

SCD NEWS

The Gray Co. SCD reports that they have Red Cedar and Ponderosa Pine seedlings at Bruce Nursery north of Alanreed. These seedlings are available to farmers and ranchers in Gray Co. for farmstead and feedlot windbreaks. They should be planted during February and March this year.

Range Seeding

There are several acres of land in Gray Co. that has been turned out to pasture without being seeded to native grass.
Undesirable forbs and grasses will cover the ground and provide some early spring grazing;
however the potential is limited.
Seeded grasses will establish in 2 to 5 years and dependable year around grazing can be expected. Harris King, R. D. Williams, Alvin Bell, J. D. & Ray Fish, Truitt Johnson, Roy Mc-Cracken, Cecil Seane, Bill
Crisp, M. C. Burdine, Elmer Balch, L. T. Goldston, Drew Word, George F. Jackson, Lester Bailey, B. J. Immel, Hack McCurley, D. W. Swain, Olin Weldon, and Sailor Bros. are some of the people who plan to do range seeding in Gray Co.
this year. Nearly everyone of these farmers and ranchers can show you good results they have had in grass seeding in the past. Make plans now to establish desirable grasses if you have land that's not paying expenses. Range seeding should not be done later than April 30th of this year.

Livestock Water

Due to droughty conditions during 1964, livestock water was limited. Farmers and ranchers interested in livestock water should make plans to construct ponds or drill wells so they won't be caught short during droughty conditions.

SCD Carryall

Landowners and operators who plan to do small earth moving jobs can get the SCD Carry-all at the Courthouse Annex east of Pampa. Contact Delores
Johnson, Secretary of the SCD, to make arrangements for use of the carryall.

Conservation Aid

If you are interested in doing conservation work contact your local SCD Supervisor: Milton Carpenter, Curtis Schaffer, Stan Friend, James Cllett, W.
C. Epperson or the Soil Conservation Service. We are ready to assist you in developing a conservation plan and program on your farm and ranch.

Plainview Pampa, 79-62

PLAINVIEW (Spl) — Ronnie "Duck" Peret turned in the finest performance of his career last night as he led the Plainview Bulldogs to a 79-62 victory over the Pampa Harvesters and pulled his team into a virtual three-way tie for the district 3-AAAA lead. Plainview is now tied for second with Monterey, each 9-4, while Lubbock is half a game ahead at 10-4.

Peret slammed in 31 points, his high for the season, and completely dominated the boards. Peret personally outrebounded the entire Pampa team, taking 24 of Plainview's 33 board grabs to Pampa's 15, tipping the ball up again and again until he stuffed it in or was fouled.

Peret and company actually wrapped it up at the free throw line, although he was helped by the tremendous outside shooting of Manuel Nagar and Paul Aday. The 6-8 Duck hit 11 of 14 free throws and Plainview totaled 21 of 27 charity chances, while Pampa could get only 15 free chances, making eight. Each team hit tremendously from the floor, the Dogs making 51 per cent and the Harvesters 49.

Danny Heil and Ropes Roper put Pampa into a 5-2 opening lead, but Peret tied the score on free throws and the lead switched back and forth in the opening minutes until Nagar, Peret and Donnie Hollis hit in a row in the final minute, with Hollis hitting another jumper with 12 seconds left for an 18-13 quarter lead.

Plainview held a four-to-six point lead through the opening minutes of the second quarter until Peret hit the bucket and Nagar the free throws to push them into a 35-23 bulge. Kenny Hebert, Charlie Price and Heil hit in succession, but Hollis made both ends of a one-and-one. Price came back with a long jumper at the buzzer to cut the halftime edge to 42-36.

Nagar and Aday opened with long shots and the Big Duck took over. The trio canned seven points in a row and moved the bulge to 56-42. In the final minute, Price rebounded the second half of a one-and-one and the three-point play cut the score to 60-47 but Nagar made two charities for a 62-47 lead going into the final frame.

Peret, with four fouls, was benched at the end of the third canto, and the pressing, fast-breaking Harvesters suddenly closed the gap. With Stewart the chief thief and Roper grabbing the boards and the tip-ins, Pampa suddenly erupted up to within seven points at 65-58 midway in the period.

Peret came back in at this juncture, while Harvesters started hearing the fifth foul whistle. Playing against the reserves, Peret wrapped it up in a hurry as he and Nagar grabbed eight of the next 10 points. Peret kept on piling it up at the free throw line to clinch the game and then went out with one minute left.

The Pampa Shockers clinched the district B team championship coming from 17 points behind to take a 70-65 overtime win over the Bulldogs. Pampa seemed in danger of losing their second game in 26 starts as Plainview roared off to a 20-11 first quarter lead and 39-24 halftime edge. The Pups moved the budge to 17 as the second half started, but the aroused Shockers suddenly exploded as Mike Frasier and Little Butch Crossland led a zone press, stealing the ball time and again to pull up to 55-48 going into the final frame.

Pampa kept pressing and with two minutes to go, Mac McWilliams tied the game at 65-all on a free throw. The Shockers stalled the game into overtime and Roy Harper and Mike Wise then combined for five free throws and the district title.

Warriorettes Clinch Loop Playoff Berth

By MIKE McHONE
News Sports Correspondent

MIAMI — Connie Dodson teamed up with defensive standouts Martha Paris and Cindy Coffee Saturday night and the Miami Warriorettes downed Mobette's Hornets, 76-34.

The victory sends the Miami girls' cage squad into a play-off with Wheeler to determine the district round-robin champion. The contest is slated for play at Shamrock Monday night.

The victory was even sweeter as the Warriorettes removed the Hornets sting and coasted to a 76-44 victory in boys' action.

The double win made the fact the contests were postponed due to bad weather just a mild breeze in the wind of success in Warriortland.

Dodson grabbed off 30 points to pace the offensive unit of Miami while Misses Paris and Coffee nailed down about 30 rebounds as the Warriorettes completely dominated the contest from the opening tip-off.

Only once, and that very early, did Mobette even look like it might contest the Miami crew. The Hornets scored the opening bucket and kept the 2-0 lead for several minutes before Dodson dropped home a goal to tie, then added another to put Miami out front.

The Warriorettes, fired up to make history repeat itself this year, pushed into a 24-8 first period lead and then 39-18 at the half.

Things got worse in the third period when Mobette could hit for only seven points and Miami almost doubled their score, leading 63-25 at the buzzer.

The Miami cagers sank another 13 points while Mobette hit for nine.

Cherly Gill had 14 points and Beverly Weiss sank 13 points to aid Dodson under the bucket. Mary Helen Gudgel had 18 points for Mobette.

Mobette could not control the boards, nor hit from the floor, accounting for their inability to stay in the contest.

The victory handed the Miami girls a 9-1 district mark, having lost to Wheeler once. They are 20-5 in season competition.

The Warriorettes continued to make things warm for the Hornets crew in the second game of the night behind the shooting of Lewis Holland.

The Miami hotshot bucketed 20 shots while Ray Guerrero, Wayne Daugherty and Roy Bean cleared the boards for the victory.

All three youths had a dozen rebounds each during the course of the night.

The Miami varsity turned on steam quickly in the opening period with a 24-10 lead, building it to a 52-18 halftime margin, at which time the varsity sat down for a spell.

The second unit boys scored 19 points to nine for 71-27 third period lead, then eased off in the final quarter, scoring only seven points while Mobette picked up 17, their best effort.

The Hornets were paced by Big Ray Corcoran with 21 points, most of which came in the final period of action.

Bayer Takes Lead In Phoenix Open

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UPI)—Ex-football star George Bayer blasted out of a trap and then rolled in an eight-foot pressure putt for a birdie on the last hole Saturday to take the third-round lead in the Phoenix Open golf tournament with a 54-hole score of 202.

The 240-pound slugger, sticking his approaches tight to the pin on nearly every hole, carded a six-under-par 65 round to take a one-shot lead over South Africa's Gary Player who eagled the final hole to fire a 66 and get a 203.

Longshot Bobby Brue of Milwaukee had a 67 for 204 and Masters and PGA champion Jack Nicklaus a 205 after a 68.

Tony Lema, leader at the halfway mark with a 136 total, continued having the putting miseries and had to settle for a 71 for a 207 score that tied him with Dave Marr, Bob Rosburg and National Open champion Julius Boros.

Bayer, admittedly playing some of the finest golf of his career, was out in 33 and back in 32 on the 6,765-yard Phoenix Country Club course.

He had six birdies and no bogeys on his round with his longest birdie putt coming from 18 feet. The big hitter, so strong that he used six, seven and eight irons for a second shot on the par five holes, was never in trouble.

"I've been playing super golf," said the former University of Washington athlete. "Friday I could have had 18 birdies with putting luck. Today I missed four greens, but one-putted them all for pars."

Bayer has not won a tournament since 1960, although he often has been a major contender.

Player was sitting in the clubhouse with the lead in his lap and watched Bayer explode out of the trap and get his birdie to take the lead.

Gary, playing his first tournament in the United States since last fall, knocked in a 50-foot putt for an eagle on the 18th hole to the cheers of the crowd.

He also had a 25-foot birdie putt on the 12th and two other birds from six feet or less.

He had nines of 35-31. His rounds were 72-65-66.

Pampa Boxers Win Three Gloves Bouts

AMARILLO (Spl) — Pampa boxers picked up three victories, including one technical knockout in preliminary bouts of the Amarillo Golden Gloves tournament Saturday night.

John Garza scored a TKO over Lonny Lane of Skellytown in the 95-pound class bouts.

Gary Howell scored a decision over Pampa teammate Jerry West in the 85-pound class to account for one victory and one of the four defeats Pampa boxers suffered.

In the high school class, 118-pound-division, Voy Eason defeated Maddox Zinneth of Ronny's.

Dennis Sanchez of Pampa lost a close decision to Howard Clements of Ronny's in the other 85-pound class bout.

James Ledford of Skellytown scored a decision over Raymond Moore of Pampa in a 95-pound fill-in bout.

David Kindall of the Amarillo Boxing Club decided Roy Evans of Pampa in another 95-pound class bout.

Plainview's Raymond Caudill decided Jerry Criddle of Ronny's in the first high school class bout.

Opening fights saw Kyle Sunderman of Ronny's decision Hector Mendoza of ABC and Billy Taylor of Perryton down Mike Clements of Ronny's in 75-pound matches.

Ironmonger Dropped From Optimist Team

Johnny Ironmonger, the Pampa "Iron Man," is no longer fighting for the Pampa Optimist Boxing Club.

Optimist boxing commissioner Bo Brown reported that Ironmonger had severed his connection with the Pampa club Friday night before weighing in at the regional Golden Gloves Tournament in Amarillo.

Ironmonger entered unattached, said Brown, but it is expected that he will fight for Tri-City.

Ironmonger was the defending regional featherweight champion, but dropped in weight this year to come in as a bantamweight.

Lonnie Wins Life at 40

HARLINGEN, Tex. (UPI)—Lonnie Wendland of San Antonio defeated Henry Richards of Jacksboro 2-up Saturday to win his second consecutive Life Begins at Forty Golf Tournament championship.

Wendland went one over par on the front side but came in three under par on the back nine to card his second 69 tournament score on the par 71 Harlingen municipal golf course.

The defending champion missed other opportunities to finish with an even lower score when he muffed four putts on the first nine holes.

McMurry Slates All-Texas Foes

ABILENE (UPI)—McMurry College's 1964 football schedule will keep the Indians within the state of Texas for the first time in several years.

The complete schedule:
Sept. 12—San Angelo College here; Sept. 19—Howard Payne at Brownwood; Sept. 26—Sul Ross at Alpine; Oct. 3—Abilene Christian here; Oct. 10—Southwest Texas here; Oct. 24—at Arlington State; Oct. 31—Tarleton State here; Nov. 7—Trinity at San Antonio; Nov. 14—Texas Lutheran at Seguin; Nov. 21—Youngstown (Ohio) here.

61-61-4 By Randy At Ft. Worth Yank Skiers Win Two Olympic Gold Medals

Fort worth (UPI)—Eighteen-year-old Randy Matson of Texas A&M heaved the 16-pound college shot 61 feet 6 1/4 inches for a new Texas indoor record here Saturday night in the fourth annual Will Rogers Indoor Games.

The heave was a Texas indoor record, the best ever by a Texan and easily a meet standard.

The 6-7, 225-pound Aggie freshman, competing unattached, got the record throw on his first try of the night and brought a roar from the crowd of 6,954, which had complimented him with a hushed silence when he stepped into the ring.

On his five other attempts, Matson failed to improve, but got off throws of 60-10 1/4 and 60-1.

The throws broke Matson's Texas indoor mark of 60 and 3/4 inches set last week at Lubbock and the Will Rogers Meet mark of 57-3 1/2 set two years ago by a fellow Aggie, Danny Roberts.

It also moved Matson to fifth place among world indoor performers. Only Gary Gubner, Arthur Rowe of Great Britain, Dave Steen of Canada and Dallas Long have thrown further.

Another expected record bid in the 60-yard dash by SMU junior Billy Foster, failed to develop as Foster finished in 6.1 seconds. Foster ran a 6.0 race last week in Lubbock to grab a share of the world's record. A series of false starts halted him. However, his 6.1 was a new meet record.

In a tense mile run, another young performer, sophomore Richard Romo of Texas outlasted Houston's Laurie Elliott and finished in 4:15.6. It was a new meet and Texas indoor record.

McLean Rolls On Despite Cyclone Stand

MEMPHIS (Spl) — Stubbard Memphis played one of their best ball games of the season Friday night before going under to determined McLean, 54-48.

Triple-teaming giant Derrick Welch and playing slowly and cautiously, the Cyclones led until the closing minute of the first half, and stayed in contention until late in the fourth quarter.

Welch, held to 23 points by three Memphis defenders, was at his defensive best, blocking shots all over the field and taking down 18 rebounds, while George Green took up the shooting slack with a 19-point outburst.

Left alone while the Cyclones ganged up on Welch, Green hit a season high for a Tiger besides Welch, and shared in the rebound fighting in the absence of Eddie J. Windom, out with the mumps.

Memphis took a 16-11 lead on the shooting of James Waites, as the 6-2 center maneuvered on the side of the boards away from Welch and Green, and punched in the rebounds for a 16-11 quarter lead.

Welch broke loose in the second quarter and moved McLean into a 29-28 lead, with Glen Swift canning a shot just before the buzzer for a 31-28 halftime lead.

Memphis never got closer than two points after that, with Green and Welch building the margin up as much as seven points, only to have Waites and his mates slice it back down, to 45-42 going into the final frame.

The Tigers got hot in the opening minutes and moved to a 51-42 lead to sack the game up.

Welch finished with 23 points, Green with 19, Waites with 21.

McLean, now 6-1 in district, hosts Canadian, the only team that beat them in district play, Tuesday. The Bengals close out the regular season at Wellington, also with one loss, Friday. In all likelihood, the district title will have to wait the results of the Lefors-McLean game which was snowed out last Tuesday, and which will probably be rescheduled after the Wellington game.

Red Raiders Top Pony Five 85-83

DALLAS (UPI)—Texas Tech overcame Gene Elmore's 35-point shooting exhibition Saturday to down Southern Methodist 85-83 and stay close on the heels of Southwest Conference basketball leader Texas A&M.

Tech, down 3 points at the half, went ahead 80-79 with 5:18 to play and never again relinquished the lead.

INNSBRUCK, Austria (UPI)—A pair of 20-year-old mighty mites gave the United States its first men's ski medals in Olympic history Saturday when Billy Kidd of Stowe, Vt., rocketed from behind to finish second in the dangerous men's slalom and Jimmie Heuga of Tahoe City, Calif., placed third.

The winner was Austria's intrepid Pepi Stiegler but the veteran who finished second in 1960 had an advantage of only .14 second on ailing silver medal winner Kidd for two twisting runs over different courses and 39 on Heuga, who grabbed the bronze medal. Kidd has been suffering from a heavy chest cold for more than a week.

An eighth place finish by Wallace (Bud) Werner of Steamboat Springs, Colo., further stunned the alpine experts who saw many of their illustrious French, Austrian and Swiss favorites either crash or post slow times.

Smallest skiers on the team, Kidd and Heuga boosted the U.S. medal total to six, and the oft-beaten-Yank-hockey-squad made it America's best day of the games by downing Switzerland in hockey, 7-3, for a three-way tie for fifth place finish in defense of the gold medal won at Squaw Valley, Calif., four years ago.

Also Win Medals

Other medals were won by speed skater Terry McDermott of Essexville, Mich., for a gold victory at 500 meters, a silver and bronze medal by girl skier Jean Saubert of Ogden, Utah, and a bronze medal in figure skating by 14-year-old Scotty Allen of Smoke Rise, N.J.

In the only other ski event Saturday, Sweden came from behind near the finish to win its third championship of the games in the men's 40-kilometer cross-country relay. Finland was second and Russia third as 28-year-old Assar Roennhond of Sweden came through with an astonishing anchor leg in the day's best time. The United States finished 13th in a 15-team field.

Then in hockey Saturday night, Russia won its 11th gold medal and 23th over-all placing of the games by whipping Canada, 3-2.

Quiet Harnsberger Listens and Learns

By GLENN McCASLAND

There are some athletes who attract attention with their mouths — like Cassius Clay. Others do it with their ability in whichever sport in which they participate.

Then there are still more who are quiet and shy, thus fooling most everybody until they get into the game.

Such an athlete is retiring Carl Harnsberger, 16-year-old junior basketball for Pampa's Harvesters. Harnsberger had rather give somebody else the credit or the chance to play if the Harvesters win.

"I just want to do a good job when Coach (Terry) Culley puts me into the game, but if I don't play, then I want the team to make a good showing," he declares.

CARL HARNSEBERGER... quiet man

Harnsberger has a knack for doing things right.

He has shown a steady improvement all season on the basketball court, but one would never really know he was around if it was up to Harns to call attention to himself.

The 6-1 junior finds his lack of conversation coupled with complete attention to instruction has aided his basketball prowess, thus he continues to keep silent and listen. He finds he has learned a great deal this way.

"Coach Culley is a master at instruction and if he's paid attention to, any boy can improve," Harnsberger commented recently.

The youth, who came to Pampa a year ago from Wichita Falls where he attended Rider High School, has varying interests, but his love of sports ranks above most of them. His older brother, Royce, is also a top athlete, at Wayland College.

"I can't sit still without having something to do with sports," he declares. "It's either basketball or baseball for me, all the time. I enjoy just being with the team."

Don't let his attitude fool anybody. Harns, as he's been dubbed by friend and foe in the athletic field, can quickly kill another team's chance on the hardwood floor.

He is one of the more dependable substitutes on the varsity and can be counted on for two things in a tight.

1. Control of the ball when he's got it.

2. Ability to score at the right moments, certainly in the clutch.

The youth, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harnsberger of 1917 N. Christy, finds Pampa High School a friendly place.

"I didn't have trouble getting acquainted at all," he said.

Besides his interest in basketball, Harnsberger is a better than average baseball pitcher. He is looking forward to the hardball season this year.

Carl finds time, between games, to model automobiles and keep up with the major leagues. He finds English his favorite subject and hopes to attend either Texas A&M University or Midwestern University.

His choice of professions surprises many people, but the crew-cut youngster would like to enter the professional baseball ranks and try for the big time.

And he's smart enough to

Harvesters Hold Off Amarillo Sandies, 85-78

By JEFF COMANE
Pampa News Sports Editor

A stall led by Kenny Hebert and two key baskets by David "Sugar" Cain pulled the Pampa Harvesters to an 85-78 win over the Amarillo Sandies Friday night as the Green 'n Gold closed out the home-court season.

A 21-point lead by Pampa vanished like a snowball in Hades as little Sammy Gast led an all-out press, but the Harvesters, despite three starters fouling out in the second half, came through in the clinch as the 6-5 sophomore poked through two baskets in 40 seconds to pull the Pampans away and into their seventh hoop win in 13 outings.

The Harvesters, coming back from a slow start, surged into a 21-point lead and held a 17-point bulge going into the final frame, but in three minutes flat, Gast and company had narrowed the lead to a single point.

Small Field Out for GG

AMARILLO — Pampa boxers came off on the short end of the first night of the regional Golden Gloves Friday, losing seven of 11 fights.

Charles Coberly of Pampa won a 135-pound novice bout over Danny White of Amarillo while Eddy Barnett of Pampa lost in the same class to Mike Hall of Amarillo. Andy Rangel of Amarillo beat teammate Marion Guana in the third 135-novice bout.

Ricky Martinez of Plainview defeated Jody LaFavers of Amarillo in a 126-pound novice bout. Raymond Caudillo of Plainview beat James Atkinson of Amarillo at 118. Johnny Escota of Amarillo downed David Kendall of Amarillo in a 106-pound novice bout.

In the high school class, Edgar Lester of Pampa lost to Avery Thrasher of Amarillo, 126. Larry Taylor of Pampa lost to Jerry Criddle of Amarillo, 118. H. D. LaRue of Pampa lost to Murphy Denzel of Plainview, 118. Dean LaRue of Pampa defeated teammate Tommy Sargent, 105.

Mike Clement of Amarillo defeated Carl Tillman of Pampa. John Cameron of Amarillo defeated Hector Mendoza of Amarillo. Kyle Sunderman of Amarillo defeated Chris Valverde of Amarillo.

Wheeler Wins Four, Awaits Miami Result

By JERRY TUCKER
News Sports Correspondent

WHEELER — Wheeler won four basketball games in the space of a few hours as they took a doubleheader from Mobeetie Friday night and another from Kelton yesterday morning to close out their regular season. The Wheeler Fillies, with a 9-1 record, awaited last night's game between Miami (8-1) and Mobeetie to see if they would have to play off the Warriors tomorrow night at Shamrock for the title, or go straight into tournament play as the round-robin winner.

The Fillies were never headed in either game as they stampered over Mobeetie, 61-23, and rode roughshod over Kelton, 41-20. The Mustangs had a rougher time of it as, minus two starters, they topped Mobeetie, 32-41 and came from behind against Kelton, 63-47.

With Mendall Hunter, their leading scorer, and Neil Rogers, their leading rebounder, both out of the games with minor injuries, the Fillies used the ball-handling of Dunk Porter and Richard Wallace for the Mobeetie win and the shooting and rebounding of Danny Dorman for the Kelton victory.

With Porter leading the shooting, Wheeler opened a 16-8 quarter lead against Mobeetie and held a 25-18 halftime edge. Big Ray Corcoran, backed by the playmaking of Eddie Vowell, led the Hornets as they cut the gap to 36-32 at the three-quarter mark, but Porter and Wallace

Kenny Hebert put on a dribbling and ball-handling exhibition as the Harvesters tried to run out the clock for the last three minutes, and got the Sugarman free under the basket twice against Amarillo's man-to-man press.

Both teams hit well from the floor, shooting over 40 percent each, but the Harvesters' old foul-line bugaboo came through in the whistle-filled game which saw six players benched. Amarillo made 24 of 31 charity shots, the Harvesters could hit only 21 of 35.

Tremendous backboard domination, again headed by Ropes Roper, gave Pampa their lead as the Greenclads pulled down 43 rebounds to the Sandstorm 22. Roper yanked down 16 before fouling out in the third quarter, and Danny Heil had 16, with Davy MacDaniel providing key help with four board grabs in the final frame.

The score switched back and forth in the opening minutes of the game, Amarillo grabbing a lead on free throws and Pampa coming back to tie it up on the shooting of Charlie Price and Rick Stewart. Ronnie Walker got a hot hand midway in the period and made four straight points to lift the Sandies to a 19-12 bulge.

Price, Heil and Stewart cut the margin to one and Carl Harnsburger came in to hit a pair of free throws for a 20-19 lead with 40 seconds left, a lead the Harvesters never lost again. Charlie Snuggs followed with three straight points and Pampa had a 23-19 quarter edge.

Mickey Vaclav hit the opening basket, but Pampa promptly rang up five straight points as Ropes hogged the boards, and with Price feeding Hebert on long passes, the Harvesters fast broke the lead into a 51-36 halftime bulge.

Foul Trouble
Pampa ran into heavy foul trouble in the third quarter with Price and Roper fouling out, but McDaniel and Cain took over and the Harvesters kept moving it up. . . . although Gast got an assist from an official who ran interference while Sammy drove to the basket . . . and the Harvesters moved the lead up to 21 points and had a 72-55 three-quarter margin.

Inside of three minutes, the picture had completely changed. Using a full-court press, Gast and his mates stole the ball away again and again before the Harvesters could get it out of backcourt. Amarillo cut the gap to 72-65 before Lanny Lewis finally broke the scoring ice with a pair of charities. Six-four sophomore David Jackson helped with the boards. Gast made four straight points and Jeff Harp, deadly from the foul line all night long, made two more to slice the edge to 75-74 with five minutes left. Hebert drove for a basket and then led a Pampa slowdown which drew Amarillo fouls, but Heil made the only successful free throw as the Harvesters missed four more chances at the foul line. The Flying Frenchman dribbled in and out of the hawking Sandies for three minutes, and finally fed Cain, all alone to the right of the basket for an 80-76 lead with 1:40 left in the game.

The Sugarman was fouled on the board soon after, missed the charity chance, but McDaniel grabbed the tip and fed it to Cain for another bucket with one minute to go. Hebert stole the ball and added a free throw to clinch the game.

Shockers Win
The Pampa Shockers clinched at least a tie for the district B team title when they took the prelim from the Amarillo Yannigans, 56-47. The Shockers opened a 20-9 lead as Mac McWilliams, Mike Wise, David Frasier and Little Butch Crossland all hit the basket, but Amarillo rallies were held off by the shooting of McWilliams in the second and third quarters, 35-29 and 44-36.

Tall Amarillo cut the edge to four points in the final frame, and the Shockers stalled out

Rockets Explode Over Canadian

NADIAN (Spl) — Invading Wellington was never headed as they swept a twin basketball evening at Canadian Friday night. The Skyrockets winning 49-35 and the Rockettes taking a victory.

Both boys teams showed the signs of a week's layoff in the half as neither could hit the shot from either the floor or free throw line. Layups, close-in shots, all missed, while visitors could garner only seven and the Cats one at the free throw line in the first half.

Wellington scored early in the period and Tony Steinie hit up . . . and from then the ball went everywhere but basket, until Wellington got buckets late in the quarter 4-2 lead.

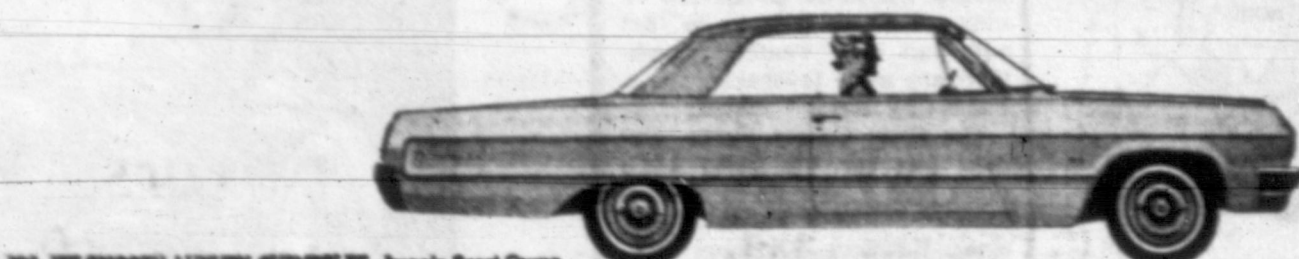

The second quarter was only a little better than the first, Keith Yarnold going down with breaks for the Cats, trailed at the half, 15-9. Afterboy Eckles and Steinie led the gap to two points mid in the third quarter, but Weems and Bill Spillman only found the range late in the third quarter and shot into a 31-19 lead.

In Willis got hot for 10 in the fourth quarter, but was, who got 12 points in second half, and Spillman, got 10, kept on connecting he win.

il, fast and rough Wellington girls wasted no time in upping up the preliminary e, taking a 20-5 quarter building it to 41-15 and at the quarter stops. Tow

56TH YEAR

Agriculturally Speaking

By FOSTER WHALEY
County Agent

Gophers:
Last year we had a representative of the rodent control service from Lubbock to demonstrate a machine that builds artificial burrows and distributes poison grain in alfalfa fields infested with gophers.

These demonstrations were highly successful in the McLean area, giving near 100 per cent control.

Jim Campbell purchased a similar machine last year to be used on his Hemphill County ranch. His results weren't as good as we received at McLean. He hopes to modify his to where it will do a job similar to the demonstrator model as owned by the rodent control service.

PCA Meeting:

James Murphrey, Farm Management Specialist, Extension Service, is due to speak to the monthly membership of the local Canadian Production Credit Association, Monday, February 10 at 7:30 p.m. Murphrey will speak on the necessity for keeping an accurate set of records. All members are urged to attend. Guest are invited. The meeting will be held in the new P.C.A. Building located at 111 South Ballard St., Pampa.

Cattle Feeding:

How much packer feeding is there? Recently released figures show that only about 4 per cent of all the commercial cattle slaughtered in the U.S. were fed by packers themselves.

Snow:

At the time of this writing it is hard to appraise the benefits and damages to such a snow.

In spite of drifting much thawing of snow took place before the drifting set in. As Lloyd Collis, S.W. of Pampa, put it "you can hardly miss making some kind of wheat crop with winter moisture like this".

Although rough on cattle it will be of great benefit to getting grass off to an early spring start.

Beef Cattle:

Bob Andis pinned me down on this question: What kind of gain could a cattle feeder expect to obtain daily on 450 lbs. heifer calves placed on 25 lbs. silage, 4 lbs. rolled milo and 1 lb. cottonseed meal. I, in turn, wrote Paul Marion, Supt. Spur Experiment Station. Here is Marion's reply:

"For the last three years we have been taking the heifers from our drylot and pasture cows off of wheat the last of March or early in April and putting them in the feedlot. Over feeding periods of 100 to 120 days we have been getting 2.0 to 2.4 lbs. daily gain on these heifers. We feed a little more grain in our ration — start with 4.0 lbs. and go up to 8.0 or 10.0 lbs. Also, our heifers average 600 to 650 lbs. when they go into the lot. With your lighter heifers and lower concentrate ration you should expect from 1.5 to 2.0 lbs. daily gain. Your ration is costing about 18 to 21 cents per day, so the gain — even 1.5 lbs. daily — should be paying for the feed plus a little profit. You can also boost those gains with 12 to 15 mg. implants of stilbestrol or Synovex-H. Our implanted heifers gained 2.48 lbs. compared with 2.12 lbs. for the untreated controls."

Weed Control:

From our Agricultural Chemical Clinic we are still receiving many favorable remarks. We have had requests to hold a similar one in the Grandview vicinity. This we plan to do but will wait until weather conditions are more favorable.

Farm-City Week Banquet:

The Gray County Farm Bureau has for the past two years held a banquet in observance of National Farm City Week. Farmers, Ranchers and their wives have invited as their guests businessmen and their wives.

Both banquets were well attended but several conflicting events last Fall hurt the attendance.

Date of the 1964 banquet is November 19th. The Farm Bureau has notified the Chamber of Commerce and other officials asking them not to schedule events for this date.

Mr. Reagan Brown, Rural Sociologist, Texas A&M University Extension Service, will be the speaker.

She is the mother of two sons, David and Karl who are students at Robert E. Lee Junior High. She has served as recording secretary, vice-president and chairman of the ways and means committee of her chapter.

A Beta Sigma Phi member for six years, Ramona lists her hobbies as gardening and reading. She is a charter member of the Pampa Garden Club and has served as secretary and first vice-president of that organization.

She is a member of the First Baptist Church and the Kappa Kappa Iota teachers' sorority.

Beta Sigma Phi was founded by Walter W. Ross in 1931. It is the largest Greek letter organization with 7,000 chapters and 150,000 members throughout the world. Still rapidly growing, Beta Sigma Phi is the chosen instrument for expression of the finest young women in the world — those who find life good by doing something good.

One of the traditions of the sorority is to elect annually by secret ballot, a sweetheart from each chapter. All Valentine Sweethearts' pictures are sent to the International Office, Kansas City, Mo., where they are judged by a popular male movie star.

The Valentine Queen will be honored in the organization's monthly publication, February issue. The winner's chapter receives $50 in her honor and wide acclaim accompanies her title.

The five Valentine Sweethearts of the chapters in Pampa will be so honored during the annual ball to be conducted with Joe Palford acting as master of ceremonies for the event.

Silver pins denoting their titles will be presented each candidate by presidents of the chapters.

Afternoon Social To Mark Club Anniversary

PANHANDLE (Spl) — Instead of exchanging gifts on birthdays, members of the Friendship Circle Home Demonstration Club voted to give the price of the gift to a furnishing's fund for the Garrettson Senior Citizen's Center, when members met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Walter Lill. Mrs. George Hankins, president, presided.

Plans were completed for the observance of the Club's fortieth anniversary today, in the War Memorial Building to which all former members will be invited.

MATURE PARENT

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: Another mother and I have the same problem. We both have teen-agers who tell us not to "yell" at them when they are asked to do something. If I have to interrupt my 16-year-old while she is on the telephone, she will tell her friend, "I have to hang up now because Mother is yelling at me." It irritates us as neither of us are "yelling" females.

ANSWER: I know. I've been accused of "screaming" a mild request to get the mail. And it was irritating until I realized that the accusation had nothing to do with me or the power of my voice.

It has to do with the teenager himself — his susceptibility to our power. He hears our requests as "yelling" because he hears them with the still-impulsive trust of his childhood. And he resents this trust.

To deal with this irritating accusation, we have first to understand that it is directed not at us but at the child's own terrifying impulse to submit to us. Then we know what is needed. We give him reassurance of our respect for him by saying: "I did not interrupt your phone call because I wanted to show you how I can shove you aside whenever I feel like it. I interrupted it because I promised to call Dad at 4 o'clock."

We relieve him of his gnawing, ever-present suspicion of obedience as humiliating and endless obligation to us.

People of this age are so untrusting of themselves that they read disrespect into practically everything you say to them. They still trust us so much more than they trust themselves.

BIRTHDAY HONOREE — Tami Sue Douthit was honored on her sixth birthday with a party held on Jan. 31 in the Cibola Room of Coronado Inn.

This root problem frightens them deeply, knowing as they do that the time is approaching when trust of us must be discarded for their untried, unsafe trust of themselves.

So any request for obedience can explode the big conflict — the terror of obeying us for the rest of their lives against the seductive temptation to do just that — to lapse backward into childhood's unquestioning trust of us.

It is this agonizing conflict which makes the teen-ager so impatient with reason. The more reasonable we try to make ourselves appear to him, the more we scare him.

That is why his discipline must include unending reassurance of our respect. If we can give him some hope that he won't need our controls for the rest of his life, he will stop accusing us of that "yelling."

WRAP IT RIGHT
When you give your teenager her first lipstick, wrap it in some good advice. Point out that cosmetics are meant to be washed off as well as on. A fresh layer of lipstick is not applied over an old layer nor is fresh powder rubbed over an old layer. At this practice, if continued, leads to clog pores and encourage skin problems that are difficult to cure. The harder storms are, the better they last.

Mrs. Picken's Sewing Answers

By MARY BROOKS PICKEN
From my mail — questions frequently asked, questions of interest to all home sewers:
Dear Mrs. Picken: Is it still fashionable to have a stole to match my dress?—M. E.

Dear M. E.: Yes, indeed, stoles are favored by the best designers. They are made of fabric of the dress — of fur, of lace, of chiffon; and are in several lengths — to the waist, to the hip, to the knee — and some even as long as a long skirt. Stoles can be flattering and dramatic, deserving of a place in every smart wardrobe.

Dear Mrs. Picken: I have a beautiful red silk Oriental brocade cape. Can I make a dress of this?—D. F.

Dear D. F.: Lucky you! New brocades are the loveliest of the season's fabrics. Choose the simplest pattern you can find, one with good seam lines flattering to your figure. Avoid a too-cut-up look. Let your fabric and your good sewing make the dress beautiful.

Brocade ravelers. Buy China silk or lightweight nylon, and line the dress throughout. The dress will "set" better on your figure. The lining will protect your fabric and the finishing should be easier. Many of the newest coats for evening wear are of faille or lightweight wool tweed, with beautiful red brocade lining.

Dear Mrs. Picken: How can I stitch elastic into a waistline and have it even?—E. B.

Dear E. B.: Divide the waistline into eighths, using pins or chalk to mark. Stretch the elastic around the waist to a comfortable size. Allow 1/2-inch turnback each end. Take the length of elastic, divide it into eighths, marking with chalk or pins.

Pin marks in your fabric to the marks in the elastic. Stretch the elastic as you stitch so that marks, whether with pins or chalk, meet.

Stitch top and bottom of elastic. Fabric gathers should be even on the elastic, if you keep all marks even and ease the fabric on as you stitch.

Dear Mrs. Picken: In stitching taffeta, my seams are too tight. What do I do wrong?—J. N.

Dear J. N.: Stitch on paper, and stretch the seam as you stitch, so stitching line cannot be shorter than the seam. Practice on a scrap and you will readily see the difference.

Dear Mrs. Picken: A friend of mine says she never presses a dress until it is finished. You say "press every seam before it joins another." Whom — am I to believe?—W. W.

Dear W. W.: If you are in doubt about this, make a garment your friend's way, make one my way, and judge for yourself. Ask any good tailor. Call the sewing teacher in your locality. I feel sure all will agree with me.

It takes such a little time to press, yet the results are so worth-while for both looks and satisfaction.

Give Hearts for Valentine's

By GAYNOR MADDOX
Promise him anything, but give him a box of red candy hearts you made yourself. Nothing could be more personal — nor flatter him so deliciously.
Young men — husbands or boy friends — take pride in their sweethearts' competence. They boast of their girl friends' knowhow in the kitchen and at giving parties. So here's your chance to boost your reputation in a particularly appropriate way —

Candy Hearts for St. Valentine's Day.

CANDY HEARTS
(10 Servings)

1 cup sugar
¼ cup light corn syrup
¼ cup water
¼ teaspoon essence of peppermint

Red food coloring
Combine sugar, light corn syrup and water in a small saucepan. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until sugar is completely dissolved. Boil without stirring until temperature reaches 295 degrees F. or until a small amount of mixture dropped into very cold water separates into threads which are hard and brittle. Stir in coloring. Pour to ¼-inch thickness into greased heart-shaped cutters placed on cookie sheets. Let set and cool, then remove cutters. Decorate with piped frosting made with 1 cup confectioners sugar and 1 tablespoon milk.

Dear Abby.... You Can Ride A Good Horse to Death!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I have just celebrated my 16th birthday, and I would like to tell that 15-year-old what HAPPINESS means to me.

"HAPPINESS is no longer having to roam the streets of Seoul, begging for food, sleeping in doorways and under bridges, or being cold, hungry or dirty. HAPPINESS is having an American believe in me enough to take me in, give me my first real meal in years, buy me my first pair of socks, and leather shoes, and underwear, and give me a bed where I could sleep between sheets, let me see my first TV, and give me the first security I have ever known. HAPPINESS means being adopted, and coming to the United States. HAPPINESS is the opportunity to attend school again for the first time after three years. HAPPINESS is becoming an American citizen and making my parents proud of me."

This is what our son has told us many times, Abby. When we brought him to this country only 32 months ago, he could not speak, read or write English. Today he is a First Class Boy Scout, a De Molay, a straight "A" student, president of his class, and a member of the Honor Society. HAPPINESS for us is having a son like this.

We doubt that this letter is worthy of publication, but we couldn't resist writing it.

Sincerely yours,
MAJOR AND MRS. R. W. M. COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO.
DEAR MAJOR AND MRS. M: Thank you for your wonderful letter. I can't resist publishing it.

DEAR READERS: I hope I shall be forgiven by my esteemed friend, Dr. Earl A. Roadman, for quoting a portion of the letter I received from him this morning. Dr. Roadman was president of Morningside College when I was a student there 25 years ago. Both he and his lovely wife, Irma, will soon be 80 years old.

"Dear Abby,
When Irma and I occupy separate beds, we often call to each other, 'C. Y. K.'—which means 'Consider yourself kissed'.

"May I say across the ether span to you, Dear Abby, 'C. Y. K.' for your emphasis on happiness just as you presented it today? It says more

Proper Application Of Make-Up Is the Secret to Beauty

When applying cake make-up, beware of making two major mistakes that will prevent you from achieving the maximum degree of beauty from this form of foundation make-up. They are: 1) not having the sponge wet enough when smoothing on the make-up, and 2) if face powder is used, applying it while the skin is still moist. According to a beauty authority, if your sponge is not wet enough the make-up will not spread on as evenly and as transparently as it should. In addition, if you apply face powder to a moist surface, it will cake or build up on the damp portions of your face. The correct procedure is to apply pan-cake make-up or medicated cake make-up with a silk sponge that has been saturated in water, then squeezed until it remains wet but does not drip. After smoothing on the initial application, turn the sponge over to the unused side and blend the make-up again. This will insure a softer, more natural looking complexion tone. Then, before applying finishing powder or face powder, if you are using these requisites, fold a few facial tissues, using them as a blotter, and absorb all excess moisture. Having done this, your powder will cover your complexion with a light, delicate texture.

In 1917, the United States broke diplomatic relations with Germany following that country's announcement of unrestricted submarine warfare.

"Home Life" Is Topic of Program For Woman's Club

CANADIAN (Spl) — "Home Life" was the theme of the Woman's Club meeting Tuesday evening. Mrs. Keith Rudy and Mrs. George E. Tubb presented the program.

Mrs. Rudy chose the topic, "Food, Fads, Facts and Fallacies". Mrs. Rudy gave each member present a booklet on the latest food freezing methods.

Mrs. Tubb spoke on the subject, "The Hobby My Family Shares", telling of the pleasure her family receives from rifle firing and with the assistance of her husband and sons, she demonstrated some of the techniques of high-powered rifle shooting which won her a national rifle championship in 1963.

Mrs. Erbin Crowell conducted the business session. The group elected Mrs. G. F. Hoover to represent them in the District Federation Mother of the Year contest.

Winners of the club's Americanism Essay Contest for the senior-class of Canadian High School, Wade Adams, first; Janie Walker, second and Eddie Snyder, third; were announced by Mrs. Morris Bennett.

Mrs. Tubb, assisted by Mrs. Hugh Wilson served a refreshment plate of blackberry jam cake with whipped cream, crackers and cheese, candy, coffee and tea. Each than an entire volume I formerly recommended on the subject."

DEAR ABBY: In reference to "Fifteen and Unhappy": Happiness is knowing that you are loved by God. Jamie in Calhoun, Kentucky

DEAR ABBY: HAPPINESS is being able to walk. HAPPINESS is being able to talk. HAPPINESS is being able to see.

HAPPINESS is being able to hear.

UNHAPPINESS is reading a letter from a 15-year-old girl who can do all these things and she still isn't happy.

I can talk, and I can see and I can hear—but I can't walk.

For a married woman (that one neither divorced nor le-ally separated) to obtain this eduction, she must as a general le be filing a joint return with er husband for 1963. And then, e amount allowed her as a deuction is reduced dollar-for-ollar as the combined adjusted ross income of husband and ife exceeds $4,500. Note this is ross, not taxable, income.
The only exception to this strict rule is where a husband as incapable of self-support ecause he was mentally or hysically defective. For 1963,

Working mothers may take up to $600 child care deduction if deductions are itemized.

however, a husband whose wife was thus incapacitated does not get the same deduction.
One new but relatively limited liberalization in the law aplicable to 1963 is that a gainfully employed wife who has been deserted by her husband may be eligible for the deduc-tion. Also, her deduction (up to the $600 maximum) for 1963 will not be reduced dollar-for-dollar for the excess of their adjusted gross income over $4,500.
For a deserted wife to obtain this new liberalized deduction, however, the wife must not have known of her husband's whereabouts at any time during 1963, and she must have applied to a court to compel him to pay support.

support deductions.)

World Communism Fragmentation Gives Problems

Great Decisions of 1964: No. 1

(EDITOR'S NOTE: The United States faces great decisions in its foreign policy around the globe. This and subsequent dispatches, prepared by veteran United Press International reporters and writers, will deal with eight of these major problems. The opening dispatch examines the overall question: "World Communism — How Great the Danger?")

By PHIL NEWSON

UPI Foreign News Analyst

The fragmentation of world communism has presented new problems to U.S. policy makers, but cannot be said to have eased the Communist threat.

Nikita Khrushchev's policy of co-existence as opposed to Red China's determined support of violent revolution, and the violent propaganda war between the two, could tempt either into new adventures upsetting to the West.

Further, recent events in Zanzibar, taken over by a leftist regime in January, prove that Moscow and Peking can work together when it comes to achieving the ultimate goal of each, which is the victory of world communism.

It even demonstrates that the two can employ their differences to mutual advantage. Where violent revolution fails, then infiltration and economic penetration might do the trick. In either event it would be a victory for world communism, now estimated to have 40 million card-carrying members.

Foot in Africa

Zanzibar provides communism with a valuable bridgehead to East Africa. Fidel Castro's take-over of Cuba on New Year's Day, 1959, was a major Communist victory.

But otherwise it also must be said that in some areas of the world the Communist drive either has been blunted or turned back. No nation ever has voted itself into communism voluntarily, suggesting that even among the poorest and least developed peoples Communist promises of instant riches have not been entirely effective.

A new prosperity practically has eliminated the threat of communism in Western Europe. Castro not yet has been able to export his violent revolution to other nations of Latin America.

American men and money are battling to turn back communism in Southeast Asia, with the outcome admittedly still in the balance.

And among the Communist nations themselves, a rising nationalism seems to guarantee that world communism never can return to the monolithic state that it was in the time of Lenin and Stalin.

Rooted in Economics

Whatever their ideological differences, it is probable that the Sino-Soviet quarrel has its real roots in economics and the differences in the relative development of the two countries.

The relatively highly developed Soviet Union has more to lose in the flames of an atomic war than does Red China. On her side, Red China deeply resents both Soviet refusal to assist her in construction of her own atomic weapons and the fact that Soviet aid has gone to other than Communist nations.

In this way, then, it may be said that the quarrel between the two is real indeed, not even ruling out eventual armed conflict.

NATO Is Formed

In the years immediately following World War II, with Europe still economically weak and the threat of armed Soviet aggression seemingly greater than it is now, Western solidarity against Communist encroachment reached a peak.

The U. S.-led North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO) came into being. The dream of a politically and economically united Western Europe as an anti-Communist bulwark of 300 million people seemed to have a chance of reality.

But as Europe recovered its economic strength and as tensions receded, Western solidarity also declined. Europe, as exemplified by French President Charles de Gaulle, no longer felt obligated to follow U. S. leadership.

Present Problems

And these, too, present problems to U. S. policy planners.

On the one side, these planners must decide to the U. S. advantage how best to deal with the Communist rift, whether it is best to side with one against the other, whether it is best to attempt to widen the rift still further, and the U. S. position toward trade with the Communist nations.

On the other, are the problems such as those posed by De Gaulle and his determination not only to recognize Red China but also to restore French influence in Southeast Asia and to enhance it in Latin America.

Will, for example, a French presence in Peking provide a valuable listening post for the West, or will it negate all U. S. military and financial aid to Southeast Asia and at best produce a questionable neutrality? Will it finally open the doors of the United Nations to Red China?

And if it does, what does the United States' position toward the U. N. become?

Vast changes have swept the world since the close of World War II, and still others are coming. As one of the world's two super powers, the United States is involved in nearly all. Here is a thumbnail rundown:

Latin America

The $30 billion Alliance for Progress program designed to lift the living standards of 200 million Latin Americans has yet to produce any real impact after nearly three years of effort.

Venezuela managed to turn back a Castro-inspired campaign of terrorism, held free elections last December and seems likely to achieve an orderly transfer of government this year.

Elsewhere, strong leftist movements threaten hemispheric stability, notably in Bolivia and Brazil, less so in Chile and Colombia. In the last year military governments have taken over in Ecuador, Guatemala, Honduras and Salvador.

A separate problem is posed by Panama, where U. S. perpetuity rights to the Panama Canal are challenged and the problem complicated by nationalism, an approaching election and Castro-type agitators ready to exploit the differences with violence.

Asia

The war to turn back communism in South Viet Nam is costing the United States an estimated $1 million per day and mounting casualties among American military advisers there. U. S. forces in South Viet Nam total more than 15,000 and the military government which took over from the slain President Ngo Dinh Diem—and its recent successor—so far have failed either to turn the tide or to win the full support of the people.

The problem presented by French recognition of Red China already has been discussed, but also involved is the question of "two Chinas" with the United States strongly supporting the Formosa regime of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, both militarily and in the United Nations where Chiang's representative occupies a place on the Security Council.

Africa

The revolt in Zanzibar increased the Communist threat to East Africa. Scarcely more than a week after the Zanzibar uprising, Communist-abetted violence broke out among the troops of Tanganyika. There were troop mutinies also in Uganda and Kenya. Communist arms soon will reach Somalia which is pressing territorial demands against both Kenya and Ethiopia. Border skirmishes already are daily occurrences.

Communist arms also are reaching African guerrillas fighting Portuguese rule in Mozambique, Angola and Portuguese

Nasser Predicts War For Israel

CAIRO (UPI) — United Arab Republic President Gamal Abdel Nasser said in an interview published Friday that an Arab-Israeli war "appears inevitable" but the Arab nations would not start one.

He said he expected Israel to attack its Arab neighbors "at any moment" in retaliation for Arab opposition to Israel's diversion of the Jordan River waters.

"If Israel attacks us, the Arab defenses will necessarily be put on a total war footing, which might include sanctions not only against Israel but also against her supporters and allies in aggression," Nasser said.

Europe

Despite general prosperity, there are areas of uncertainty which make long-range decisions difficult. Great Britain is approaching a general election. Italy has a left-of-center government based on an uneasy alliance with left-wing socialists who at best are neutral toward NATO. Among the decisions hanging fire is European participation in the multi-national nuclear naval force which has been proposed by the United States. Enthusiastic endorsement so far has come only from West Germany. And there is the continuing problem of a divided Germany in an inheritance from World II and a major continuing threat to world peace.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith, Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

With all the snow falling and blocked streets the center schedule for the past week was thoroughly wrecked. The activities which were scheduled for last week will be rescheduled and a new meeting time will be set.

All of the swim classes for polywogs, beginners and women beginners will just add one week to the length of the classes as we did not meet any last week. Classes will resume on Monday and run as per usual.

The judo class organizational meeting which was to be held last Thursday will be held this coming Thursday night at 7 p.m. Those interested in enrolling should attend this meeting. A. E. Brewer, noted black belt winner, will conduct the classes. Those males who are 16 years of age or older may enroll in the course by becoming a center member. Present members are welcome and there will be no further charge.

The center basketball league which did not play this past week will observe the schedule as it is. Those games missed last week will be rescheduled and a meeting of the coaches and representatives will be called during the week. All coaches will be notified.

With some nine weeks of playing in the basketball leagues

there has been a constant scrambling for top honors. However, one team remains unbeaten and atop the heap, this being Motor Supply of Texas with a 9-0 record. Following closely behind in pursuit is the Pampa Jaycees with an 8-1 record. Their only loss being to Motor Supply. Panhandle Packing with a 6-3 record is in third place and could prove to be spoilers if they should upset Motor Supply. These two meet on Friday night at 7 p.m. Spectators are invited to these contests. You do not have to be a Center member to watch.

The women's league has finished their schedule now with La Bonita and Malcolm-Hinkle settling their unfinished game. La Bonita Beauty Salon won the women's division with an 8-0 record followed by Malcolm Hinkle with a 6-2 record.

The center is sponsoring an invitational grade tournament during the first week in March. Any grade school in the Panhandle area is invited to enter. The tournament will be a single elimination affair until the semi-finals when there will be a play-off for third and fourth places. Trophies will be awarded the first four places. Any team interested in entering need only contact the center. This tournament is for grades 1-6 only.

RADIO TRANSMITTING tubes as big as fire hydrants are going to power a new Voice of America station having almost 5,000,000 watts capacity. Construction by Votator of a special trailer-truck-size Therman tube tester that can deliver continuous power of 1,200,000 watts was required to test the new tubes, which extend beyond the range and power frequencies of previously available equipment.

FEED CHILDREN fewer calories per day, advise Cornell University scientists. If protein and vitamin consumption are kept at accepted levels, the children will grow to be smaller but longer-lived adults. Average life spans of 110 years and more are envisioned.

CELLOPHANE is trying to push cotton out of the top of the pill bottle. About 4,000,000 pounds of cellophane will be stuffed in bottles this year by one leading firm. Adherents claim it protects pills more efficiently against chipping and breaking.

PROPER TURN — Traffic accidents are sometimes caused by an improper turn at an intersection. Section 72 of the Uniform Traffic Code defines the proper left turn at an intersection in the following manner. The driver of a vehicle within an intersection intending to turn to the left shall yield the right-of-way to any vehicle approaching from the opposite direction which is within the intersection or so close as to constitute an immediate hazard, but said driver, having so yielded and having given a signal for a left turn, may make the left turn and the drivers of all other vehicles approaching the intersection from the opposite direction shall yield the right-of-way to the vehicle making the left turn. Police Chief Jim Conner urges Pampa motorists to observe the proper procedure while making a left turn. The cars above show one automobile making a turn while another is approaching. The car making the turn is waiting for the other auto to pass through the intersection.

Beatles Winning Tune Race With Big Smash

CHICAGO (UPI) — The Beatles from Britain, that quartet of raucous voiced youths from Liverpool with the sheep dog hair-dos, are winning all the marbles in the top tunes sweepstakes during their current invasion of the United States.

Their recording of "I Want to Hold Your Hand," which has already broken all British sales records, is the first in this week's United Press International chart of the United States' 20 top tunes.

And the Beatles' record of "She Loves You" climbed 13 places to take over the third spot in this week's rankings. Lesley Gore's disclaimer, "You Don't Own Me," was second. "Java" by jazzman Al Hirt was fourth, up five places in a week, and the Four Seasons' vocal of "Dawn" was fifth, climbing 11 places.

Motor vehicle inspections lag lagging behind in Gray County, according to Police Chief Jim Conner.

Chief Conner said that with the deadline for obtaining inspection stickers drawing near, only 41 per cent of the motor vehicles in Gray County have been inspected.

Capt. Alan Johnson, motor vehicle inspection supervisor for Region 5, which includes Gray County, added his warning to Conner's by stating that the region as a whole was lagging behind with less than 30 per cent inspections.

"Any driver operating a vehicle registered in Texas, that is required to be inspected, on public roads after April 15 without a valid 1964 inspection sticker will be operating in violation of the law," Captain Johnson said.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities. We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself, no more, no less. It is thus consistent with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Being Housewife Isn't 'Living End'

Even if her dainty bonnet gets trampled all over, Margaret Chase Smith's entry into the race for the Republican presidential nomination should do wonders for the morale of an important segment of the population.

Sociologists are both worried and encouraged by the increasing number of women whose lives are "finished" by their 40s or 50s.

Their children are grown and gone from home; the goals they and their husbands set at the beginning of marriage have either been reached or modified to fit what they have actually achieved.

These women are physically healthy and intellectually in their primes, yet they feel superfluous and useless.

This is not to disparage the career of housewife, which is the most important job in the world when a family is young. But it is a job that comes to an end, despite the old saw about women's work.

Some women at this stage just languish. Others go in for social make - work and rounds of teas and card parties. Others take meaningless jobs just for something to do. Still others deteriorate, develop neuroses, begin to drive their husbands away.

But more and more women are recognizing the period as a challenge, a second chance at life. They are going back to college and the career that was interrupted by marriage. Or they are going to college for the first time, or taking specialized training and embarking on careers they never dreamed of.

Not everyone, of course, can venture into politics. Mrs. Smith got a head start by being married to a congressman. She had no children, but she was nearly 42 when she was elected to fill her late husband's unexpired term in 1940. Any children would have been pretty well grown.

No, Margaret Chase Smith is not a special case, just a well-known one. But because of her, the world of politics, if only on the local level (which is perhaps the most important level of all), may come to realize the power of a woman.

More important, many women may come to realize that the statement applies to themselves.

Look at The Facts

The problems presented by increasing automation - where machines of an almost incredible adaptability replace the human hand and do many jobs with a vast increase in efficiency and economy - confronts the nation, and is a source of concern to industry, labor unions and government.

Without minimizing these problems, it is essential that we take a look at a few facts - and draw some conclusions based on facts rather than a frightened and emotional reaction.

The American Economic Foundation says that: "... automation does not unemploy labor, it redeployes labor." According to accepted estimates, it goes on, 18 million jobs were eliminated by machines in the 1950-60 period. Yet, in 1960, there were 7 million more jobs than there had been in 1950. So, automation notwithstanding, 25 million jobs were created during that 10 year period.

Automation, after all, is not new. It is simply an advanced stage of the industrial revolution that began over a century ago with the introduction of the first workable steam engine. And there are many specific examples where mechanization has made room for many more workers than it has eliminated. To take one, it was widely feared that the introduction of the dial telephone would be a source of crucial unemployment within that industry. But the telephone companies employ more people than ever before.

Automation, modern style, will create problems. It will demand difficult readjustments. There is no doubt of that. But the chances are that, in the long run, it will make more jobs, higher - paid jobs - and contribute to a higher standard of living and working for us all.

Dial 'C' for Confusion

Those people who are upset about having to memorize seven numbers just for a local telephone call ought to consider what their children and grandchildren will be up against when around - the world calling becomes commonplace.

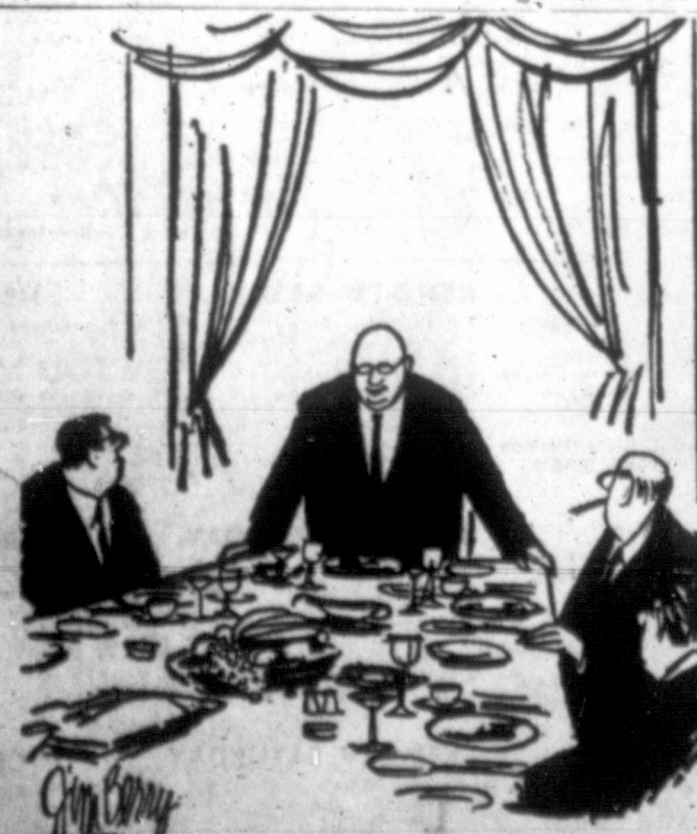

There are more than 140 million telephones in use in the world today (80 million in the U.S.), an increase of 16 per cent in the last three years. As more millions are added, the need for international dialing will begin to be important.

In 1961, representatives from every nation in the world met to form the Consultative Committee on International Telegraph and Telephone. One of the committee's acts was to recommend standardized maximum of 12 digits in a world telephone number. The recommendation will be voted on during the next meeting to be held in Moscow late in 1964.

The dozen - digit figure does not include the dial code giving access to the international network. This could require another three flips of the dial with the calloused forefinger.

And if you call from your office, you may still have to dial "9" to get an outside line.

SENSINGThe NCC and Parental Authority

In the fight to preserve constitutional government and the free enterprise system, nothing is more important than guarding the institution of the family.

In American life, the family is the basic unit in which a child learns the religious, national and personal values by which a person ought to live. Moreover, as a family is a collection of individuals, cooperating freely and relying on traditional truths it is a teaching experience that prepares youths for an ethical existence and for a useful place in our capitalist society.

This is worth mentioning because totalitarians always seek to undermine the family and subject children to outside disciplines and to the thought reform and control that is called "brainwashing." Indeed, it is lamentably true that even in the free United States there are attempts being made to "damage parental authority."

One such effort was made public in mid-January when the Youth Ministry Consultation on Race, sponsored by the Emergency Commission on Religion and Race of the National Council of Churches, was held at the Methodist General Board of Education building in Nashville, Tenn.

In a shocking display of contempt for law and order and for the right of parents to educate their children in their own values, the meeting openly proclaimed ways and means by which parental authority could be subverted. One adult editor of a "youth" magazine said that youths should be "blooded" in demonstrations, that "the kids owe it to the church to march, to picket..." She pointed out that "all over the nation parents have restrictive influences. Summer camp (church) is the first time for the youth to get away, free to do as they like." Another speaker said: "Parents in the North would get as mad at seeing their kids in a labor picket line as in a civil rights line."

We need to get the kids politically involved." Indeed speaker after speaker urged that youths be encouraged to get in conflict with the law.

The Nashville Banner, in a strong comment on this National Council of Churches - sponsored conference, said:

"These are Mr. and Mrs. America, YOUR children this 'Emergency Commission' panel is talking about - and the parental authority it proposes to subvert is yours. The teenager it seeks to attract for its own scuffle is right out of your home, school and church. The ideological manipulators are now picking them young."

Good churchmen undoubtedly are shocked to find that an organization that describes itself as religious in character should be urging youngsters to get out from under parental influence and to join street demonstrators in violation of the law of the communities in which they live.

There are many things that are outrageous about such efforts. But the worst of all is how it violates the precepts of the Christian religion. "Honor thy father and mother," says the commandment. But the NCC's commission would have the youngsters honor a committee to civil disobedience rather than parental injunctions to be law-abiding members of their communities.

Thus the damage done by such adult advice is not simply to the communities that might be plunged into strife but to the children themselves. To urge children to break the law and to engage in what amounts to social revolutionary activity is to damage a child's development. For Christians, this is shocking beyond words, for Jesus Christ specifically condemned anyone who would harm a child in any way. He said it were better that they have a millstone tied around their necks and to be cast into the sea than to harm a little one.

And what kind of citizens would these children be who accepted indoctrination by the NCC Commission instead of heeding the lawful authority of parents and community? Would they be law-abiding adults after having been law-breakers in their youth? What the NCC Commission suggested is that one can choose the laws one wishes to obey. Such a suggestion is unworthy of belief.

In learning of the conference's efforts to get students to join civil disobedience campaigns, one's thoughts go back to the terrible Nazi era and the rise of the Hitler youth movements in which youngsters were encouraged to become militant demonstrators and pay no heed to their parents' counsel. Such attacks on parental authority have no place in the United States of America.

Wayne Hays, D-O, a strong 1960 supporter of President Johnson, is equally vehemently clamoring for a speed-up.

Young's theory is that the longer it takes Glenn to be released, the less time he will have to campaign in the May 5 primary. Hays' motivation is exactly the reverse.

He bluntly served notice on General Greene that "all hell will break loose" if Glenn isn't out of the Marine Corps by March 1.

Young contends it takes an average of 60 days to process the retirement of a regular Marine Corps officer. On that basis, Glenn would not be released until sometime in April - leaving him only about one month to campaign.

That is exactly what Glenn's backers fear. They argue that everywhere the popular and personable astronaut goes, he noticeably gains strength. So they are pressing hard to get him out on the hustings as soon as possible. They maintain he gave the Marine Corps "six weeks' notice," and that should be ample time to process his departure.

Spearheaded by Representative Hays, they have fixed a March 1 deadline and are vigorously putting the heat on General Greene for Glenn's release by then.

The Marine Corps commandant, involuntarily caught in the middle of this furious political crossfire, is warily steering a neutral course. On one hand, he has assured Senator Young that preferential treatment will not be given Glenn; on the other, equally firm word has been given Hays that there will be no delay in processing Glenn's papers.

It remains to be seen just when he does get out.

UNIQUE CANDIDATE—Don't send any campaign funds to Senator Margaret Chase Smith! The lady from Maine, who tossed her bonnet into the New Hampshire Republican presidential primary last week, wants no contributions, and is returning those sent her. She has already sent back a $1,000 check.

Contributions began pouring into her office from all over the country the day after she formally announced. They range from a quarter to the $1,000 check. All are being returned where the addresses are known. Where that's not possible, the money is being deposited in a special account whose disposition will be determined later.

Senator Smith intends to finance her own race for the Republican presidential nomination. That obviously sharply limits her activities, but that's the way she wants it.

Female lobsters appear to be doing the Twist when they shed their young fry, according to John Hughes, culturist in charge of the nation's only lobster hatchery, operated by the Massachusetts Dept. of Natural Resources at Martha's Vineyard. He said they actually prouette when flushing their young from the sacs. Hughes says young lobsters look more like tiny shrimp when they are freed, but quickly assume the shape of little lobsters and sink to the bottom to grow and await a fisherman.

Since the first successful automobile was built in the U.S. in 1893 more than 2700 nameplates have been registered. Today only four U.S. auto firms survive: General Motors, Chrysler, Ford, and American Motors. Between them they turn out the 30 nameplates left. Some of yesterday's cars included: Stevens - Duryea (generally credited with being the first car offered for public sale), Moon, Standard 8, Hupmobile, Reo, Hudson, Essex, Maxwell, Packard, Kelsey, Stanley Steamer, Dort, Franklin, LaSalle, Stutz, Marmon, Nash, Oakland, You're get, Son Ramsey, who heads the department's Land Division, cut his budget by $200,000, while other Justice agencies asked for increases. This caused Representative John Rooney, D-N.Y., chairman, to ask Attorney General Robert Kennedy how young Clark managed that. Replied Kennedy: "He's doing a tremendous job; works 15 and 16 hours a day and knows everything that goes on in his division." Observed Rooney, "Obviously he is an outstanding young man. I wish I could say the same for some of your other division heads."

If and when Congress enacts the pending civil rights bill, the Justice Department will need another $1.5 million to enforce it. That's what Attorney General Kennedy told the House Appropriations Subcommittee handling his budget. The money will be needed for additional lawyers and investigators. The funds were not included in the regular budget, and if the legislation becomes law, a supplementary request will be made. In an unreported speech at a small Democratic meeting in Montgomery County, Md., Lee White, a White House assistant, stated that "early, round-the-clock sessions" are contemplated in the Senate as part of the strategy to counter an anti-civil rights filibuster. White stated the administration lacks the votes to impose closure on this issue, but hopes to break a filibuster by "attrition." He also stated the administration is bracing itself for violent racial disturbances in the North, particularly in major industrial centers.

WASHINGTON:

Atlanta Demonstrations
Blocking Racial Harmony

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The flurry of Negro demonstrations outside restaurants in Atlanta affects the outlook of the contending forces now lining up for the climactic House floor fight on the Kennedy-Johnson civil rights proposals.

Many opponents and some supporters of these measures express vigorous dislike for legislating "under the gun" of recent or current demonstrations.

The Atlanta eruptions can, in fact, puzzle even the most ardent backers of the pending civil rights package.

Until they began in heavy earnest a short time ago, Atlanta was held up as a model of what responsible white and Negro leadership could achieve in a nonviolent, demonstration-free atmosphere.

Suddenly this widely advertised image has developed gaping cracks. The question is why.

The predominant answer, from some of the key Atlantans involved, is pretty astonishing.

If they can be believed, it is a story of white and Negro leaders arrayed together against a small, militant band of Negroes sparked by the so-called Student Non-Violent Co-ordinating Committee.

James Forman, executive secretary of this Atlanta-based group, says the demonstration drive reflects two things:

getting along if you can remember them.

Thoughts while shaving: Never heard of a zoonosis until we learned recently an Illinois survey showed there are at least 100 diseases common to man and animals. These include rabies, tuberculosis and encephalitis. The Bible contains 773,746 words and 31,173 verses in 1189 chapters of 66 books. Recently a New Jersey radio station devoted 102 broadcasting hours, from 6 a.m. to 12 midnight for six consecutive days, to a complete reading of it by 1376 persons chosen at random in 20 states whose voices were recorded on 500 miles of tape.

Uncle Sam now has 80 national monuments, Devil's Tower in Wyoming, an 865-foot column created by an early volcano, was the first, established in 1906. Reported in the Boston (Mass.) RECORD AMERICAN: "He has appeared sluggish in decent games." What else does he play? "The price tag for major sports events is rising so rapidly as to discourage commercial TV sponsors. For example a razor blade firm pays $30,000 a week to televise fights. In the future they'll be viewed by pay-TV or closed-circuit theatre operations. Grocery bags with ads printed on them are the latest thing in large cities. Ad sponsors range from radio stations to gas stations. They measure the ad's impact by printing coupons on the bags which can be redeemed for merchandise. Even a N.Y. theatrical producer is using them to promote interest in a road company of a current Broadway show. "Never knew 'til now that cigar hands came into being when Cuban ladies, who smoked em, started wrapping bands of paper around them so their fingers wouldn't become stained."

Impatience with the foot-dragging of Atlanta restaurant owners who have failed to desegregate their establishments.

Annoyance at the alleged disparity between Atlanta's bright image and the continuing evidence of discrimination in schools, jobs, housing, public accommodations.

A top white civic figure, long identified with Atlanta's efforts at racial harmony, says flatly that "SNCC, commonly called 'Snick,' listens to nobody and represents nobody."

He describes the present campaign as a calculated attempt by a hard core of 200 to 300 Negroes - including some "professional demonstrators" from other cities - to "dust up the town."

This week's top level meeting involving Mayor Ivan Allen, white business leaders and the long-established Negro leadership apparently aims at isolating and ultimately "containing" the militant "Snick" forces.

There has been no negotiation between the demonstrators and either city officials or the wider white power structure. SNCC is still part of the Negroes' "summit group," set up last fall to frame urgent requests for new breakthroughs. But virtually all the many participating Negro organizations oppose the militants' course.

The joint white-Negro leadership plea to the "Impatient ones" is:

"Why wreck the town that has been for you?"

Mayor Allen and other white leaders insist Atlanta is still moving down the path of racial progress. They are pressing hard against the "segregationist holdouts" among restaurant owners.

Nearly every government, business and civic agency has outspokenly urged either voluntary desegregation of public accommodations - or a city ordinance to that end.

Thus far, the demonstrating "Snick" cadre is unyielding. Leaders talk of a possible one-day school boycott in mid-February.

The interest for the nation is whether lawmakers here take the demonstrators as the "new face" of Atlanta, or accept the older, shinier image of a city where moderation on both sides prevails.

City Employees Start Publishing Business

Pampa's City Hall employees are going into the publishing business.

They're going to publish their own newspaper, called the "Horn of Plenty News."

In fact, the first edition is off the press (typewriter).

City Manager Harold Schmitzer said the first issue is a trial run to show employees what the paper will look like. Schmitzer called it an employees' newsletter.

In a foreword in the first issue Schmitzer stated:

"This newsletter, I hope, is the forerunner of many more to be published on a monthly basis. It is a means of employee communication not yet attained by any other means."

The city manager said he has called a meeting of all employees and department heads for Friday, Feb. 21, to organize a permanent staff of editors and reporters.

All city workers will be urged to "contribute news, happenings, and items of interest to the editorial staff."

Apple trees undergo a "June drop," at which time small fruits fall off in large numbers, according to Encyclopaedia Britannica.

The paper will be typed, edited and mimeographed by the city employees.

The first edition contained news of personnel in various city departments even down to the flash that "Fireman Richard Norwood won a $50 bill in a local grocery store," and Water Department employee, Bea Goodnight, "is walking on air." She's going to become a grandmother — not once — but twice. One grandchild will be born in Illinois (son James) and the other may arrive in Oregon (daughter Nancy).
