South Vietnam Objects To Peace Talk Proposals

Hopes Jeopardized For Cease-Fire Plan

SAIGON (UPI) — South Vietnamese objections to sitting at a peace conference table with the Viet Cong jeopardized American hopes Saturday that a cease-fire could spring from a halt in the U.S. bombing of North Vietnam.

U.S. diplomats were described as gloomy, and deepening mistrust of the United States was reported in official Saigon circles. Some South Vietnamese military men said the American bombing halt was "a surrender" to the Communists.

The Saigan regime was suspicious that President Johnson's bombing halt and peace package could be "political tricks" geared to the U.S. presidential election, informed government sources said.

South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu's refusal to send a delegation to Paris talks at which the Viet Cong would have equal status was seen as a move to save this war-torn country from "national suicide," sources close to the Presidential Palace said.

"'I will never betray the nation.' Thieu said in an emotional speech in which he threatened to boycott expanded Paris talks unless his conditions are met. "I will never lead our country into an adventure that might turn me into a traitor...." U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker withheld comment on Thieu's boycott threat. It was believed that Bunker was working behind the scenes to persuade the South Vietnamese chief executive to send a delegation to the expanded Paris talks.

Bunker has been meeting with Thieu almost every day for the past two weeks.

Hanoi Position

North Vietnamese diplomats in Paris, taking the position that South Vietnam was a "stooge of the United States, said it was up to Washington to see to it that Saigon was represented at the expanded Paris talks bginning nxt Wednesday.

Washington dispatches said the State Department was hopeful that all was not lost in U.S. attempts to move the Paris conference into a full-fledged peace meeting with all sides in the war represented.

Thieu was reported sticking to his threat to keep South Vietnam out unless Hanoi meets three conditions.

Thieu's remarks to a wildly applauded speech to a special session of the South Vietnamese congress Saturday morning, were:

—North Vietnam must give South Vietnam "firm and unequivocal assurances" that it is ready to begin "direct and serious" negotiations with the Saigon government.

—The talks must "constitute

Red Forces Slow War

By BERT W. OKULEY

SAIGON (UPI)—Allied communiques Saturday indicated Communist forces may be scaling down the war in response to the end of American bombardment of North Vietnam. U.S. planes were reported stepping up attacks on the Ho Chi Minh supply trail in Laos to compensate for the bombing halt.

U.S. military headquarters said it had received no reports of Communist artillery attacks on South Vietnamese cities or enemy forays across the Demilitarized Zone (DMZ), two conditions implied by President Johnson as the Communist price for the bombing halt.

Communist gunners launched a series of small-scale rocket and mortar attacks in South Vietnam after the last bomb fell on North Vietnam Friday night, but none was on heavily populated areas.

Light Casualties

U.S. spokesmen said 82 rockets and mortar shells fell on seven targets in South Vietnam, causing "very light" casualties and damage.

In his statement announcing the bombing halt Thursday night, Johnson made no mention of a halt in the so-called "armed reconnaissance" missions American pilots have been flying for months against the Ho Chi Minh trail in Laos where it winds from North Vietnam into South Vietnam.

Informed military sources said these raids were now being stepped up sharply to prevent any increase in the flow of troops and supplies into the South during the bombing halt.

These informants said hundreds of U.S. planes, no longer committed to the task of pressing the air war against North Vietnam, were assigned new targets in both Laos and South Vietnam.

New Positions

UPI correspondent Perry Young, reporting from the aircraft carrier USS Constellation, said all U.S. 7th Fleet vessels, including the battleship New Jersey, were leaving the gulf of Tonkin off the North Vietnamese coast to take up new positions near South Vietnamese waters.

Although the war apparently was winding down in South Vietnam, American and South Vietnamese troops were on the alert and did not relax patrol operations in Communist areas of strength.

Men of the U.S. 82nd Airborne Division sweeping eight miles northwest of Saigon discovered a weapons cache Friday which included 34 122MM rockets and 11 107MM rockets. The bigger missiles have a range of 6.5 miles.

Hanoi Advises US To Get Saigon To Conference

By GEORGE SIBERA

PARIS (UPI)—North Vietnam said Saturday it was up to the United States to get the reluctant South Vietnamese to join the expanded Vietnam negotiations in Paris. It said participation of Saigon representatives was the United States' idea.

Hanoi delegation chief Xuan Thuy spoke to a rare Paris news conference even as Saigon's objections to attending a Paris peace conference in which the Viet Cong would have equal representation cast gloom over U.S. hopes for a cease-fire in the Vietnam War.

Thuy said North Vietnamese and U.S. representatives would meet during the weekend to determine whether or not the expanded talks could get underway next Wednesday as had previously been hoped for.

Thuy said Hanoi was preparing for four-way Paris talks despite Saigon's threat to boycott them. He said there would be "four delegations which will be independent and will have the right to speak." Saigon has demanded that the Viet Cong sit only as part of the Hanoi delegation.

The French Foreign Ministry said Saturday night that a five-to-seven-man Viet Cong delegation would arrive in Paris Monday to begin preparations for the negotiations.

Hanoi Hope

Smiling buoyantly, the white-haired Thuy said his government had agreed "with goodwill" to enter into the enlarged talks, in the wake of the U.S. bombing halt, "and we hope we will soon arrive at a peaceful

ADULT LEADER of the Year award was presented last night by Pampa Key Club to Joe Fischer Sr., local businessman. Fischer, right, accepts the award from Edward Moultrie, senior director of the club.

Key Club Names Joe Fischer Adult Leader of the Year

Joe Fischer Sr., local businessman, was honored as Adult Leader of the Year by Pampa Key Club at the annual Leadership banquet last night at Pampa High School cafeteria.

Fischer, owner and manager of Joe Fischer Insurance, was honored for his contributions to the community.

Bob Price, Republican congressman from the 18th congressional district, was the guest speaker for the affair.

Born in Kansas, Fischer came to Pampa as a young man. He has remained here ever since except for short times in Lubbock and California during World War II.

His wife is a biology teacher at Pampa High School. They have three children—Joe Jr., and Joyce, who are attending college, and Jeanie, a student at Lee Junior High.

While in Pampa, Fischer has served as president of the Downtown Kiwanis Club, the Pampa Jaycees, the Real Estate Board and the Pampa Insurance Exchange.

He has served as finance director for the Pampa Chamber of Commerce and is currently a member of the Top O'Texans group of the Chamber.

He has also served as director of the Red Cross drive, a member of the Salvation Army Board, assistant district commissioner of Boy Scouts and member of the Pampa Youth and Comunity Center board of directors.

Edward Moultrie, senior director of Key Club, made the presentation to Fischer.

Price told the audience, "These young men and women are the true face of America.

"In a time when patriotism is shoved aside both by the protestors who use our enemies and by the hectic pace of a modern society, the youth in his audience represent the evidence that this country will remain the greatest, strongest nation on earth." Price said.

"What a better way of proving that patriotism in this country is not a dying element than service to church, school, community and family and active participation in the affairs of government on all levels," he noted.

"Key Club, of course, provides this opportunity," he added.

Joe Daniel, Key Club president, presided over the banquet. John Duggan, junior director, served as master of ceremonies.

Various school and community leaders sitting in the audience were given recogniton durng the banquet.

Jordanians Protest Declaration

By GERRY LOUGHRAN

Amman, Jordan (UPI)—More than 1,000 demonstrators smashed windows of the American embassy Saturday and tore a U.S. flag to shreds. Police broke up the demonstration with gunfire and tear gas.

The assault on the embassy was part of demonstrations throughout the Arab world in protest of the Balfour Declaration 51 years ago.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Balfour on Nov. 2, 1917 put Britain on record favoring a nation for Jewish people.

More than 20,000 persons marched through Amman protesting the Balfour declaration and Arab workers living on the west bank of the Jordan River went on strike in protest of the anniversary.

Along the Jordan, Israeli and Jordanian troops exchanged artillery fire and engaged in small arms and bazooka fire clashes in the Beisan Valley. No casualties were reported.

In Cairo, the influential newspaper Al Ahram threatened retaliation aganist an Israeli commando raid deep inside Egypt.

The military editor of Al Ahram(Cairo newspaper which reflects the thinking of the Egyptian government, sounded the warning.

"Israel has opened a new door in the Egyptian-Israeli confrontation," the newspaper said. "If she can use it, others certainly can."

Al Ahram referred to a commando raid early Friday in which two Nile bridges and a power station were blown up near the town of Nag Hammadi, 280 miles south of Cairo.

Other Demonstrations

Protest demonstrations against the Balfour Declaration also broke out in Bethlehem, Damascus and Beirut.

A jeering crowd of 5,000 persons in Beirut shouted down Premier ABdullah Yafi until he pledged Lebanon's support to the Arab cause.

Morris Wilson, 33, 1157 N. Starkweather, was recently appointed State Director of the Texas Jaycees by State President Bob Buck of San Antonio. Wilson, who has been a member of the Pampa Jaycees for the past five years, is a former president of the local chapter.

Wilson will serve Region 1B, which includes Pampa, Shamrock, Wellington, McLean, Canadian, Perryton, Spearman and Clarendon. He replaces Tom Higley of Amarillo.

In addition to his Jaycee activities, Wilson is active in the First Methodist Church and has coached a Farm League baseball team and a Tiger League football team for the Optimist Club youth program.

to take advantage of the vaccination offer.

He said a survey taken recently through cooperation of school nurses indicates that only two-thirds of the children in Pampa have received the vaccine.

He explained that measles is not just a harmless childhood disease, as was widely believed until recently, but that almost 400 deaths from measles occur each year in the U.S. and one out of six children who have had measles suffers from some type of complication such as pneumonia or ear trouble.

The vaccine is supplied by the State Department of Health and will be administered by medical authorities.

Darrel Morris of the State Health Department, who is here as a coordinator, said that only one dose of the vaccine is necessary and should give lifetime immunity.

"And it doesn't hurt," he emphasized. "It feels sort of like a slight pin prick but it's really harmless."

Other members of the Pampa Medical Society who are on the vaccination committee besides Dr. Williams include Dr. Raymond Laycock and Dr. R. M. Hampton. Members of the Pampa Medical Auxiliary and Club have also assisted in the vaccination drive.

Need a Turkey? Plan to Attend Shoot Today

The Top O' Texans Citizens' Band Radio Club will sponsor a turkey shoot today from 10 a.m. "until it's too dark to see any more," club president Perry Nichols said yesterday.

Proceeds from the shoot will go to the "L.A. '68" project.

The event will be staged at the shooting range of the Pampa Gun and Skeet Club, east of the city near the rodeo grounds. It will be held regardless of weather, Nichols said.

"Actually, it's not a turkey shoot in the sense of shooting at live turkeys," Nichols said. "We'll be shooting at clay pigeons, but we'll be giving away dressed and frozen turkeys, large hams, cans of coffee and special gift boxes."

Prices for the shoot start at 50 cents.

A large tent will be set up for the protection of those attending the event, Nichols said, and free coffee will be dispensed. A concession stand will serve hot dogs, hamburgers, chili and soft drinks. Band candy will also be for sale.

Price Foresees Change To GOP At Polls Tuesday

AMARILLO (Spl) — Congressman Bob Price told a partisan audience in the Colonial Cafeteria here Saturday "the American people are ready for a change in the direction this country is headed and I predict they will make this change next Tuesday."

Price, speaking out in one of his most partisan talks, called for the election of Republicans to office, "from the courthouse to the White House."

"We have, this year, the most qualified people on the ballot we have ever had in the history of Republicanism in the Panhandle. I am proud to be on the ballot.

"This is evident in the regularity with which our opposition has paraded the same tired faces through this neck of the woods since the 1968 Price said.

"This they have done in an atempt to shut off the upsurge of strength Republicans are experiencing," he said.

Price said he believes the American public is fed up with the present Democrat Administration and mistakes of the Democratic party over the past three decades.

"For 34 of the past 36 years, the Democrats have run the Congress of the United States. Their 1968 campaign has been based on the argument that their record establishes them as the party that can save the country from the disaster brought about by the mistakes of the past 36 years of Democratic control. I don't think the American public is going to buy this," the Congressman said.

Price said that from all indications there are no "last minute heroics" strong enough to thwart the upsurge in Republican Party strength in this country this year.

Proposed Amendments for State Constitution

These 14 proposed Constitutional Amendments will be presented to Texas voters on Nov. 5, 1968. The material is taken from a publication of the Texas Legislative Council of the 60th Legislature.

BROADENING THE INVESTMENT AUTHORITY OF TRUSTEES OF THE STATE EMPLOYEES RETIREMENT SYSTEM

Proposition 1

This proposal would establish the employees Retirement System of Texas as a constitutional agency and provide for its operation by a State board of trustees. The agency and its trustees already exist by statute.

The amendment would confirm and broaden the investment authority of the trustees, allowing them to invest in bonds, notes and other evidences of indebtedness of the United States, The State of Texas, their agencies, political subdivisions of the State, or business corporations. They could also invest in corporation common and preferred stocks, provided the corporation was created under the laws of the federal government.

Under the amendment, not more than 1 per cent of the book value of the total assets of the agency could be invested in the stock of any of one corporation, nor could more than 5 per cent of the voting stock of any corporation be owned.

Eligible corporations would be those incorporated within the United States which have paid cash dividends for ten consecutive years or longer immediately prior to the date of purchase. At least 25 per cent of the investments would be restricted to investment in government and municipal securities.

RAISING THE LIMIT ON THE AMOUNT OF STATE FUNDS FOR PUBLIC ASSISTANCE PAYMENTS OF $75,000,000 PER YEAR

Proposition 2

This proposal would increase the amount of State funds which may be used in a fiscal year for Public Assistance Payments from the present $60,000,000 to $75,000,000.

A Constitutional Amendment in 1965 brought together three sections of the Constitution covering assistance for needy aged persons, needy blind persons, needy children, and permanent and totally disabled people. It also provided medical care for all these categories. Prior to that time, medical assistance payments went only to those people who were receiving Old Age Assistance. The limit of assistance remained at $60,000,000, the amount already authorized in the Constitution for all of the programs involved.

The new amendment is proposed to cope with the rising cost of living and an increasing population.

ALLOWING INVESTMENT IN NEW TYPES OF SECURITIES FOR THE PERMANENT UNIVERSITY FUND

Proposition 3

This proposed constitutional amendment would increase the types of securities available for investment to the Permanent University Fund. It is proposed that investments be allowed in securities, bonds, or other obligations issued, insured or guaranteed in any manner by the federal government and its agencies.

A present provision providing that no more than 50 per cent of the funds be invested in corporate stocks and bonds would be eliminated by the new amendment.

As is the case now, investment of the funds would be decided upon by the Board of Regents of the University of Texas, based upon regard for the permanent disposition of the funds rather than speculation.

GIVING DALLAS COUNTY POWER TO ISSUE BONDS FOR ROADS AND TURNPIKES WITHOUT LIMIT

Proposition 4

This amendment would allow Dallas County to issue bonds for roads and turnpikes without a limit on the indebtedness of the county. It would also provide that such bonds may be issued on a simple majority vote of the resident property taxpayers who are qualified electors of Dallas County rather than by a two-thirds majority as is now required by law.

This amendment, while restricted in application to Dallas County, is a move in the direction of removing road bonds from the strict debt limitation and vote requirements which have been in the Constitution since 1904.

INCREASING THE SALARY OF MEMBERS OF THE LEGISLATURE TO $8,400 PER YEAR AND INCREASING THEIR PER DIEM AND TRAVEL EXPENSES

Proposition 5

This proposal would increase the salary of members of the Legislature to $8,400 per year. They are now paid $4,800.

They are also presently paid a per diem of $12 per day for the first 120 days of any regular session and for the full 30-day term of any special session which may be called. The proposed amendment would extend the per diem payment to 140 days, the maximum duration of a regular session.

The proposal would also provide for payment, at the old rate of $2.50 for every 25 miles, for one round trip a month going to and returning from Austin. At the present time Members of the Legislature are entitled to mileage payments for one round trip during the session.

AUTHORIZING EXEMPTION OF SPECIAL EQUIPMENT TO ELIMINATE AIR OR WATER POLLUTION FROM AD VALOREM TAXATION

Proposition 6

This proposition would give the Legislature authority to, by general law, exempt from ad valorem taxation by the State and its political subdivisions any equipment, device, or improvement installed on real property which is designed to eliminate or abate pollution of the air or water of the State.

Under the new amendment, the Legislature could provide for exemption of all or a part of any such equipment or improvement. The exemption would be given to the extent that the capital investment in such property was made to comply with or to exceed air or water quality standards established by law.

PROVIDING FOR GRADUAL ELIMINATION OF THE STATE AD VALOREM PROPERTY TAX

Proposition 7

This proposed amendment would gradually eliminate State ad valorem taxes on property, except the tax which supports building funds for institutions of higher learning.

The total State ad valorem tax on real and personal property is now 47 cents on each $100 valuation. The amendment would eliminate taxes totalling 37 cents and allow the State to continue collecting a 10 cent tax for buildings of certain State colleges and universities.

The gradual elimination of ad valorem property taxes will be completed by 1978 by a "cofer-all" provision that after 1978 no State ad valorem taxes should be levied upon property in the State purposes except for the 10 cent tax levied for building programs at certain colleges and universities.

ELIMINATING APPROVAL BY THE GOVERNOR, SECRETARY OF STATE AND COMPTROLLER OF CERTAIN STATE CONTRACTS FOR MATERIALS AND SERVICES

Proposition 8

The Constitution now provides that the Governor, Secretary of State and Comptroller must all approve contracts concerning State stationery and printing, fuel used by the Legislature and other governmental departments, the repair of furniture and furnishings of halls and rooms used for meetings of the Legislature.

This proposed amendment would eliminate the ceremonial requirement that these three officials approve such contracts. The award and administration of State contracts is generally handled by the Board of Control.

Under this amendment, contracts for fuel, and for repairing and furnishing the legislative halls would be eliminated from this section of the Constitution, and the section would apply only to the State's purchasing of stationary, printing and paper.

PROVIDING FOR TEACHER RETIREMENT SYSTEM CONTRIBUTIONS BASED ON THE FULL SALARY OF MEMBERS

Proposition 9

This proposed amendment would allow contributions by school teachers and other persons employed in the public schools, colleges and universities supported wholly or in part by the State at the rate of 6 percent of their total compensation paid them by the State or their school district. The Constitution now limits contributions to $504 maximum, regardless of the individual's salary. These contributions are matched by the State.

It is estimated that on the basis of present salaries the cost to the State in the next biennium would be an additional $5,000,000 per year.

It is expected that this increase in possible contributions would be helpful in attracting and retaining high quality teachers and operatng personnel.

AUTHORIZING REFUND OF TAX ON CIGARS AND TOBACCO SOLD AT RETAIL IN TEXARKANA

Proposition 10

This amendment would allow the Legislature to provide for a refund of the tax paid on the first sale of cigars and tobacco products in the State which are subsequently sold at retail within the corporate limits of Texarkana, Texas, or any incorporated town in Texas which is contiguous to Texarkana.

The proposed amendment arose from the problem which many border towns have where tax situations arise when a particular tax is levied by one state and not by another. Merchants lose the sales of the specific taxed product and also products which customers would normally purchase while in the store.

While this proposed amendment would only directly affect Texarkana, Texas, its passage or refusal might be taken as a precedent for other such cases in the future.

CONSOLIDATING SOME FUNCTIONS OF GOVERNMENT

Proposition 11

This proposal would authorize the Legislature to enact a statute providing for consolidation of governmental offices and functions of government within El Paso and Tarrant Counties. The statute could provide for such consolidation by any one or more political subdivisions within those counties.

An election would be required within the subdivisions affected with separate approval by a majority of the voters in each of these subdivisions.

The second paragraph of the proposed amendment would also authorize the county's sub-divisions to contract with one another for the performance of governmental functions authorized by the Constitution.

The impact of this amendment, if adopted, would be in a large part dependent on the extent to which the Legislature implemented it with legislation. Broad implementation might produce economies that would set a statewide pattern for the combining of many of the functions of local government either by contract or by actual consolidations.

ALLOW CITIES AND COUNTIES TO ISSUE REVENUE BONDS FOR INDUSTRIAL DEVELOPMENT

Proposition 12

This proposal would give the Legislature power to authorize counties, cities and towns to issue revenue bonds for industrial development purposes or in aid thereof. Property acquired from the proceeds of such bonds would be subject to ad valorem taxes. A county or community issuing such bonds would not be allowed to use any other revenues to supplement the proceeds from the bonds.

The amendment would not set a limit on the total amount of bonds which could be issued, nor would it limit the interest rate on these bonds.

The Legislature has passed a law, the "Texas Industrial Development Act," which will go into effect if the amendment is adopted. It includes a number of restrictions which are not in the amendment. Among these are: the bonds must be approved by the Attorney General; they must be registered with the Comptroller of Public Accounts; a violation of the mortgage on the property might cause foreclosure; the lease on the project must be approved by the Texas Industrial Commission.

Other provisions include the following: No city or county could use this program to relocate a business from an existing facility in the state of Texas. Bonds issued under the provisions of the Act would be legal investments for savings and loan associations, banks and insurance companies authorized under the laws of the State.

PROVIDING AD VALOREM TAX EXEMPTION FOR PROPERTY IN TEMPORARY CUSTODY OF A PUBLIC WAREHOUSEMAN

Proposition 13

This proposal would exempt property from the ad valorem tax if it is in the custody of a public warehouseman not longer than six months and has a pre-determined out-of-state destination at the point of origin.

This exemption would apply at both the State and local levels, and it would recognize that property which moves in interstate commerce is not taxable by the State or local government.

FIXING THE TIME WHEN LEGISLATORS BECOME ELIGIBLE TO HOLD OTHER OFFICES

Proposition 14

This amendment would allow Legislators to assume other political offices possibly beginning earlier than the term of the Legislator ends. This was brought about by the fact that the terms for Members of the Legislature end on the second Tuesday in January of odd numbered years, while a number of offices to which Legislators may aspire begin their terms on January 1.

New Congress to Be More Conservative

By FRANK ELEAZER

WASHINGTON (UPI)—On the basis of the latest forecasts of the probable makeup of the 91st Congress, any or all three of the presidential candidates could be excused for pulling out of the race.

Unless the electorate has been playing jokes on the pollsters, the traditional honeymoon between the new President and the Congress which will be elected with him on Tuesday seems likely to be the shortest on record.

The one safe bet about the 91st Congress is that it will be less open-handed, less venturesome than the 90th, which was considerably more conservative than the 89th. At the same time, most readings of the public pulse indicate that Hous and Senate will remain under nominal Democratic control.

That leaves Hubert Humphrey, in event he is elected, trying to sell new urban programs and other big ticket items to a Congress more interested in finding new places to save money.

Richard M. Nixon, should he be the winner, will be closer to the new Congress philosphically. But he will find it under management of veteran Democratic readers with long memories for old scores against the new Nixon.

As for George C. Wallace, his original idea wasn't to win but to deadlock the electoral college. He still may do so. And he might expect to accomplish more that way than if he actually should win the chance to deal, as President, with the 91st Congress. His party won't even be represented on Capitol Hill. Both Republicans and Democrats would be at his throat.

So barring upsets, acts of God, new crises, and the possibility all the political experts have blown it again, don't look for outstanding productivity on the part of the 91st Congress. No matter what the new President proposes, it will be Congress that dispoes.

Say it is Humphrey, and he offers the multi-billion-dollar "Marshall Plan for cities" which he's talked about. There will be a working majority of Republicans and conservative Democrats in Congress ready to ask: Can we afford it?

Suppose it is Nixon, and he says let's pass out fat tax breaks to business so private enterprise can rebuild the Ghetto. There will still be Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the Ways & Means Committee, to say this is not any cheaper.

There is no telling what Wallace would want. But whatever it might be, beyond endorsement of motherhood and a memorial to J. Edgar Hoover, he would face an uphill struggle to get it.

Then again, maybe when the votes are counted on Tuesday none of the three candidates will have cinched a majority of the electoral votes. And maybe when the electors meet on Dec. 16 Wallace will not have made the "convenant" —i.e., deal—he says he will seek either to win the presidency in the Electoral College or to sew it up for somebody else.

In that case, the House to be elected on Nov. 5 will be called on to choose the new President, starting on Jan. 6. And the Senate will elect a vice president.

Some Republicans accuse Democratic strategists of giving up on the public and pinning their hopes on an electoral deadlock and a House election of Humphrey. But nobody who has looked closely at the probable make up of the House in the 91st Congress will take that charge at face value.

A close-divided House, with a thin Democratic edge, could not be counted on to elect Humphrey. It might not be able to muster a majority of the 50 state delegations for any candidate—Humphrey, Nixon or Wallace.

In that event, the man picked by the Senate as vice president —probably Sen. Edmund S. Muskie—would take office on Jan. 20 as acting President, leaving Humphrey, Nixon and Wallace available for private employment.

Predictions that the Congress will remain Democratic, no matter who wins the White House, are based in part on recent history and in part on the obvious odds.

Except for four years, Democrats have controlled Congress since 1932. Even in electing Dwight D. Eisenhower in 1952 voters came up with only the barest Republican majority in House and Senate. And two years later—despite Ike's popularity—they were voting Democratic again.

In the anti-Goldwater landslide of 1964, Democrats buried Republicans under better than 2-to-1 majorities in both houses. In 1966, after President Johnson cranked up the war that voters had feared Goldwater might, the GOP made a big comeback, picking up 47 seats in the House and 4 in the Senate.

As far as the House was concerned, those were the easy ones. Now the GOP needs 30 more seats to claim a majority of 218 and take formal control of the House. A recent UPI survey points to a net GOP gain, but considerably short of that goal. Other forecasts run along the same line.

In the Senate, with only one-third of its seats at stake, a GOP takeover is possible in theory but highly unlikely in fact. UPI's state-by-state survey indicates Republicans will come out of the election with maybe half of the additional 13 or 14 seats they need for control.

That would leave the Democrats still in charge, but with the balance, as in the House, shifting more to the conservative side.

The door prize for the graduate who traveled the longest distance to get to homecoming was Janice Butcher from Denver, Colo. The prize was a portable radio. The cake for the class who had the most present was the Class of 68.

The Center will have several dances during the month of November with two after-the-game dances on Nov. 8 and 15. There will be a special Thanksgiving dance on Nov. 27. VOLLEYBALL RESULTS — As the men's league was thrown into a tie last week, the women followed suit this week. In the women's league Yellow Cab defeated La Bonita Beauty Salon 15-13, 8-15 and 15-5 to deadlock them for first at records of 5-1. In the other women's match First National took the Coaches Wives 15-9 and 15-3.

In the men's division First Baptist and Bell Pontiac remained tied at 6-1 although both had squeakers. First Baptist tipped Skelly Production 15-10, 11-15 and 15-7 while Bell Pontiac rallied over Furr's 6-15, 15-11 and 15-11. Other action saw the Skelly Oilers over the Jaycees 7-0 and 15-6.

SKELLYTOWN (Spl)— We have our own foliage tour every time we ride pasture on Spring Creek. Right now, it's rusty gold with autumn cotton woods, but late green gold still lingers along the banks of the creek. By next week the skunk-brush will be russet the willows sunshine yellow while the cows faces will be stained with purple from polk salad.

Mary Gray of this community is in Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo pending surgery.

Ennis Jones, who had vascular surgery a couple of weeks ago has been released from the Amarillo hospital. Ennis and his wife Bessie lived here on the old Irving place when I was a child, but now live in Pampa.

Leonard Johnson who runs the Duncan Ranch for Dr. Frank Duncan of Amarillo really doesn't know his own strength. He pulled a shoulder out of place throwing hay to weaner calves down at the ranch. He goes to Amarillo for a little repair job next week.

Death has taken Loulta Sims. She was the daughter of Rob and Allie Harlan, who lived in the White Deer Community north of Skellytown, We watched her grow up to be a talented, artistic woman. She was the wife of Eugen eSims, owner of a parts store in Borger, and is dead at age 43, I have only to glance up to see the lovely western decoupage she did for me last month.

Buel Gray accepted delivery of calves from Rob Harlan only this week. Buel told my boss, Cammie Terry, that I needed to see them, so we all went to look at them. They are smooth and fat and have a lot of quality.

As for me, I have been alternating between home where I just helped the boss leather the north pasture windmill and Amarillo where I have a patient in Northwest Texas Hospital. Sort of a lively patient, Ernie Jones spends most of his time visiting other patients and everyone in the lobby who looks either interesting or lonely.

An odd thing, the roommate he had first was a man named Douglas Northcutt. Mr. Northcutt is a brother to the late Bert Northcutt, for many years our neighbor on White Deer Creek, later of Canyon and Clayton, N. M., where he died not many months ago.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

Publicity stunts of Barnum had nothing on Benjamin Franklin's scheme to promote the first edition of Poor Richard's Almanack in 1732, The World Almanac notes. Because six almanacs were already being published in Philadelphia, Franklin printed a report of the death of Titan Leeds, publisher of a popular competing almanac. The report and Leeds' denials were widely publicized—and so was Poor Richard.

Nixon And The Farmer

Texas farmers and ranchers recognize the necessity for a change in the direction of agricultural policy. This discontent is reflected by farmer polls and general unrest in agriculture. Parity ratios and net income to farmers under the Humphrey-Johnson Freeman administration have dipped to lows equalled only during the depression years of the '30's. The Secretary of Agriculture's low price philosophy and Mr. Humphrey's recent support of market boycotts of farm produce have clearly identified their interest to "use" farmers to collect votes from other segments of the economy.

Dick Nixon is the only presidential candidate who has outlined a program aimed at dealing with the cost-price squeeze and improving net income to farmers.

Mr. Nixon's proposals include:

A Secretary of Agriculture who can deal with farm problems through personal knowledge.

An all-out effort to increase farm exports with a goal of $10 billion annually.

Increased research aimed at utilization of agricultural products.

Programs which strengthen the bargaining positions of farmers so that satisfactory income can be received.

A new economic policy to reduce the present rampant inflation.

BOB PRICE
"Hard-Working freshman"

CONGRESSMAN Bob Price gives the impression of being a young man who is seriously dedicated to the business of government . . . of a conscientious apprentice who is studying hard and doing his homework well and is intent on becoming proficient at the job of being a legislator.

He has come a long way in his freshman term . . . partly we suppose, because of the novelty of his situation. As a Republican elected from a traditionally Democratic district, Bob Price has had more help than a freshman usually gets from his party elders, for the simple and practical political reason that it is to the party's advantage to make this type of rookie look good to the folks back home.

But this rookie hasn't wasted his time. He has one of the best attendance records in Congress, and at the same time he has probably spent as much time on flying trips to his home district to keep in touch with the folks who elected him as any Representative in the House. Congressman Price apparently is taking seriously the implication of his title of office . . . as "representative" . . . and is determined to do just that for the people of the Panhandle.

He has matured in two years in office . . . he has gained much in self-assurance and in understanding of our national government and how it works . . . and if he doesn't find it as easy to produce "answers" to all the problems that plague us as he did two years ago, he manages to answer tough questions without fumbling for words . . . and without mincing them, too, when the occasion demands straight talk.

Without agreeing at all with many of his political decisions, we neverless are developing substantial respect for Bob Price as a conscientious congressman and an able representative of his Panhandle district.

We expect he's going to have a couple more years, at least, in which to continue his education, and if he continues on the path he has started, he may be a senior congressman yet one of these days.

BOB PRICE
18th DISTRICT CONGRESSMAN

On November 5th, You Will Help Select the Political Leaders of this Nation for the Next Four Years. It is a more critical time.

Things are in a mess; Tax money is poured down rat hole after rat hole as government deficits pile up. Inflation is robbing your dollar. Costs are sky-high. Farm Parity is at a depression low. The courts are under attack. Streets are no longer safe. Crime and violence are flaring. Bureaucracy is ballooning. And even our young people are rebelling against the nation's leadership.

Overseas, our prestige is sagging badly. Foreigners don't trust our money anymore. And a third-rate country is allowed to run us ragged through the jungles of Southeast Asia with no end in sight.

If ever this nation needed a new breath of leadership, a new spirit of respectability, and an uplift, it's now. We need to start uphill again.

The Red Cross Water Safety Instructor course is over and we have six new WSI for our Swim program for the summer months. Mrs. Marilyn Williams taught the course and each of the class members praised her highly.

The last two nights were given to a review of the new textbook, "Swimming and Water Safety," and eight instructors took the two nights session. New instructors were Gene Groves, James Coyle, Mrs. Hoyte Phillips, Mrs. Ralph Essonl, Mrs. Wm. L. Stafford and Mrs. Frank Kelly. Mrs Jackie Marlar and Mrs. Robert Dittemeyer took the 15-hour course as a review.

Others from out of town who were in the course were Kenneth Friemel from Groom, Ralph Krug, Miss Pat Long, Monty Jones, Kathy Niles, and Bill Wyatt Jr., all from Borger.

The following Water Safety Instructors from Pampa took the six hour review: Mrs. Carl Williams, Mrs. Jack Hilton, Mrs. Wayne Jones, Mrs. Gerald Marlar, Mrs. Robert Dittemeyer, Jerry Davis, Mike Saunders; Mrs. Edith Breeding, Miami; Mrs. Roberta Adams, Wheeler; Roger S. Arnold, Groom.

The Gray County chapter presented the new instructors with a Water Safety Instructor patch to be worn on their bathing suit and a sweat shirt to work in while teaching a swim course.

Wednesday evening our field representative from Amarillo, Bill Jean, and the Greater Amarillo Chapter manager, Joe Mason, visited the chapter.

There will be a First Aid Instructor class Nov. 11 to 14 in Borger at the Fire Station Basement from 6:30 p.m. to 10 p.m. Bud Bradley, EA Ins.-Trainer will be instructor for the class. This course is open to all FA Instructors who wish to review their course and to those who are 21 years old and who hold a current Advanced Card. Call our Red Cross office if you are interested in attending this course.

Mrs. Laura Converse, president of the Texas L.V.N. Association Division 2 and Gray County chapter nurse instructor for home nursing, will teach a course of L.V.N. students from Highland General Hospital Nov. 4, 5 and 6. This class will be from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. and classes will be held in the classroom at Highland General Hospital.

The next two classes will be held Nov. 7 and 8 at 7 p.m. to 9 p.m., at the hospital also. These classes are required by the State of Texas for the LVN course. There is no charge for this instruction by Mrs. Converse.

Mrs. Converse wears the first LVN pin presented by the Pampa Red Cross in our county and we believe it is the first LVN pin in the State of Texas. An LVN may receive this pin for giving 20 hours of voluntary service to the local chapter.

Families of servicemen are asking us what they can send to their sons in Vietnam for Christmas. High on the list of things they would like to have is Kool-ade and other pre-sweetened drinks — these top the list requested by servicemen. Potato-sticks — 10 cent can and lightweight; bath powder, (sticky climate over there); Band-aids, self help program; Wash and Dry packets (ours is a civilized army); greeting cards (so they can keep in touch with their families); Scotch tape, mailing labels, ball point pens, batteries (to keep their tape recorders and other gadgets going); tomato seeds, punch-and-grow seed box (start a beautification project) and underwear. We hope that this will be a happy Christmas for all of our servicemen.

Miss Mona King, Red Cross Volunteen, has moved to Pawauska, Okla. to live with her family. She returned her uniform before leaving and we will miss Mona with her work at the hospital on Saturday mornings.

Panhandle Water District News

By FELIX RYALS

The public hearing held by the Texas Legislature's Interim Water Committee on Oct 4 in Hereford on the Water Import Plan revealed that West Texans hold strongly to the legally accepted view that the water beneath the land belongs to the landowner.

There are instances where the current surface owner is not the current owner of the water beneath his land. It is possible that the current owner of the surface bought the land minus the water beneath it. There are also instances where the landowner has sold the water rights beneath his land.

Those who own the land and water beneath it guard this very strongly.

Those testifying at the hearing recognized that imported water, in addition to the advantages of having it, would also present some problems tht would have to be worked out.

This column last week carried a portion of the testimony of the Castro County Water Association. This week we are continuing with this testimony This column last week carried a portion of the testimony of the Castro County Water Association. This week we are continuing with this testimony: "We understand that it may be determined acceptable in certain cases, if there is no pollution problem, for individual farmers or landowners, at their option and their own risk, to store water which they have purchased by injection into their own irrigation wells or other contrivances into the underground aquifer beneath their own lands. We believe that private injection should not involve increased public control. According to research studies which are available, this method of injection may be feasible because of the restricted lateral movement of water in the underground formation, this minimizing the chance of privately owned water escaping through underground movement to neighboring lands.

"However, the use of the underground aquifer by some public agency raises several problems and confusing situation.

"First, the public use of the aquifer may involve reservoir storage use only.

"Second, the aquifer may be used for the purpose of transmission.

"And third, the public use of the aquifer may involve the comingling of public imported water with privately owned ground water already in he aquifer.

"The least problematic situation appear to be the first. At some future date, it may be determined through research studies that the advantages of underground storage out-weigh the disadvntages. We are fortunate that out area is blessed with an underground formation. fairly close to the surface, which is capable of holding enormous quanitities of water a various throughout the area, even though not uniformly. We are advised that considerable reservoir space will be needed for imported watr, partially due to the short time span expected to be allowed for pumping surplus water out of the Mississippi River. Any advantages we may obtain in the way of reduced evaporation by incorporating underground storage in the import system certainly are welcome.

"However, let us examine some of the disadvantages of underground storage on a public basis. There is the question of how to contain a large volume of water underground for storage and keeping it from seeping outwards.

"Further research may reveal that nuclear explosives placed underground could solve this problem by causing sufficient compaction to prevent the loss of water in the reservoir. Another matter is that of pollution. We raise the question of whether imported water placed underground at various places in the area might contaminate the aquifer to the degree of rendering hazardous the drinking water used for human consumption.

"Although municipalities treat their water, the problem remains for those who live on farms throughout the area. As a result of these considerations. the cost of injecting he water underground may well prove more expensive than loss through survace evaporations Also, the importance of surface reservoirs a' this time of increasing interest in recreation should be given attention as being extremely valuable in this area of too few water recreational opportunities for the public."

We have two very fine publications that deer hunters would find very interesting: L-634 "Field Dressing a Deer" and B-987 "Wild Game Care & Cooking." The leaflet on how to field dress a deer is a must if you have never dressed a deer. It shows in a step-by-step procedure how to handle this job. The bulletin on cooking wild game is also a fine publication. These are free for the asking.

Cow-Calf Operation

Some very intersting results have just been published on different feeding levels of protein to range cows. The work was done under the supervision of the Spur Experiment Station. The study was based on seven years of results from two different stocking rates described as heavy (1 cow to 13 acres) and moderate (1 cow to 20 acres). There were three levels of protein supplementation, (1) no protein feed, (2) one and one-half lbs. per cow per day feed, (3) three lbs. per head per day.

Conclusion: The two levels of protein had a marked effect on the weight of the cows. However, in most years the supplemental protein did not pay off. Fact is, under conditions of moderate stocking, cows fed one and one half lbs. of cotton seed cake produced calves that weighed six lbs. lighter than those receiving no protein.

Cows fed three lbs. under moderate stocking produced calves weighing sixteen lbs. more. But, the additional 16 pounds cost 75 cents per pound with 90 dollar a ton cotton seed cake. There the extra pounds were produced at a considerable loss.

Heavy Stocking

Under conditions of heavy stocking (1 cow to 13 acres) cows receiving one and one-half pounds of cotton seed cake produced calves weighing 27 pounds more. The additional gain cost 22 cents per pound. Where the cows were fed three pounds under heavy stocking the calves weighed only 11 pounds more than those cows receiving no protein supplement. The additional 11 lbs. cost $1.10 per pound.

Another interesting sidelight to this test had to do with the longevity of the cows. A substantial advantage was shown where the cows received no protein whatsoever. The cows were started on this test when they were three years old.

Under conditions of moderate stocking, 62.5 per cent of those fed no protein supplement were still in the herd at the end of the seven year peroid. This compared to 58.3 percent of thoese cows that recieved 1½ pounds of protein supplement and 56.5 per cent for those receiving three pounds of supplement daily in winter months. Results were similar under heavy stocking conditions of those receiving no supthe test when closed as complement, 57.1 per cent still in the test when closed as compared to 53.8 per cent for cows receiving one and one-half pounds daily and 45 per cent for those receiving three pounds daily.

The supplemental feeding period was for the three months of December, January and February. Although the cattle were fed only three times weekly the figures given represent the average daily feed given for the week.

Previous tests have shown that three times a week feeding will give the same results as daily feeding daily providing same total amount is fed for the week.

We have around 15,000 mother cows in Gray County. If every rancher is over-feeding his cow-calf herd by one pound per head it is costing the producers of this county around $675 dollars a day. Most producers of this area feed over 120 days. Feeding on a by-guess-by-golly basis could be costing the producers of this area well over $100,00 in a season. Many ranchers still think they are capable of looking at a cow and determining her protein needs.

Houston Holds Off Georgia For 10-10 Tie

ATHENS, Ga. (UPI) — Jim McCullough kicked a 38-yard field goal with only 12 seconds left to play Saturday to give the seventh-ranked Georgia bulldogs a come from behind 10-10 tie with the 13th-ranked Houston Cougars and offset a sensational running effort by Houston's Paul Gipson.

Houston, the nation's leading offensive team, scored all of its points in the first period on a 32-yard field goal and a conversion by Terry Leiweke, and an 80 yard touchdown pass from quarterback Ken Bailey to split end Elmo Wright.

With the Cougars gaining more than 500 yards and Gipson personally picking up 230 of those on 37 carries, there appeared no hope that the Bulldogs would be able to continue the unbeaten record.

But suddenly in the final period, Terry Osbolt pounced on a Gipson fumble at the Houston 25 yard line and four plays later, with 11:33 left on the clock, Georgia cut the gap to 10-7.

Sophomore quarterback Mike Cavan hit sophomore end Charles Whitemore with a 19-yard pass and then, after the Bulldogs lost a yard, threw a seven-yard touchdown pass to fullback Brad Johnson and McCullough added the extra point to cut the gap to 10-7.

The Cougars appeared to be putting the game on ice when Gipson led them deep into Georgia territory in the closing minutes but the Bulldogs held for downs at their nine-yard line and took over with two minutes left to play.

Egged on by a record crowd of 59,381, the Bulldogs drove within field goal range on the passing and running of Cavan.

The sophomore field general threw a 21-yard pass to Whittemore, added another 28 yards on a run of his own, flipped a seven yard pass to Kent and then hit Whittemore again for 14 more yards as the Bulldogs raveled 70 yards in less than a minute.

But although Georgia had a first down at the Houston 21, three running plays lost two yards. So, with only 19 seconds left to play, they called on McCullough to save the day.

Houston's actual goal was 533 yards—four more than its nation leading average.

'Hogs Topple Ags, 25-22

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (UPI) —Arkansas' sophomore quarterback Bill Montgomery engineered three second half touchdowns Saturday to keep the Razorbacks' Southwest Conference title hopes alive with a 25-22 victory over Texas A&M.

Defending conference champs A&M, despite quarterback Edd Hurgett setting career SWC records in passing attempts and yardage, fell to 1-3 in league play and out of contention for the title.

Montgomery threw third quarter scoring passes of 14 yards to flanker Chick Discus and 10 yards to end Mike Sigman, and sent tailback Bill Barnett for two yards and the winning touchdown in the fourth quarter.

Hargett, with scoring passes to end Bob Long and tailback Barnye Harris under his belt, hit Long again for an 8-yard touchdown late in the final period to make it 25-20. Hargett found Larry Stegent open for another pass and two extra points.

Hargett, who completed 28 of 55 passes for 319 yards, holds the SWC career passing attempts record with 669 and career passing yardage with 4,445. Both marks were held by Terry Southall of Baylor.

Arkansas, now 3-1 in conference play, trailed until the waning moments of the third quarter, with Burnett's one-yard plunge in the initial period its only score.

Montgomery completed nine straight passes in the third quarter and sent the Razorbacks on touchdown marches of 75 and 87 yards.

Mississippi Stings LSU

BATON ROUGE, La. (UPI)—Archie Manning hit tailback Steve Hindman with a nine-yard tuchdown pass with 55 seconds left in the game Saturday night to give Mississippi a 27-24 victory oper Louisiana State.

It was one of two touchdown passes Manning threw and the talented sophomore also ran for another.

The Hindman grab capped a fabulous fourth quarter show that saw the lead change hands three times. A capacity crowd of 69,337 watched spellbound as Ole Miss went ahead 20-17 with 10:21 remaining in the game on a 25-yard field goal by Van Brown. It was the first time Brown played this year.

Then Don Addison intercepted a Manning pass and LSU fullback Kennep Newfield The through the middle from 12 yards out with 3:37 remaining.

But Manning, who runs and passes with equal deliberation, bounced back with tosses of 21, 23 and 13 yards to set up the game winning score.

Rebels were trailing 17-3 when Manning gave them their first touchdown, with a 55-yard pass to split end Floyd Frank. He came back again in the third period, running over from the two after Glenn Cannon intercepted a Mike Hillman pass.

Mississippi's other score, and the first one of the game, was a 32-yard field goal by Perry King.

LSU scored on a 22-yard field goal by Mark Lumpkin, a one yard jaunt by Tommy "Trigger" Allen, a 30-yard pass from Hillman to Glen Smith and Newfield's run.

Irish Ice Middies

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Notre Dame turned a couple of Navy tricks into early tochdown treats Saturday and rambled easily to its fifth victory with a 45-14 win over the Middies before 63,748 at John F. Kennedy Stadiu.

The impoverished Middies, now 1-6, dipped into its post-Halloween bag with a fourth down and 18 yards to go situation in the first period with a brave but futile gamble on a pass when Notre Dame led 3-0.

Cadets Lose, 28- 4

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI)—End Ted Kwalick returned Army's desperation onside kick 83 yards for the touchdown which sewed up fourth-ranked Penn State's 28-24 victory over the Cadets Saturday.

The deciding score came after Army pulled to 22-17 with less than three minutes to play. The kick was touched by a Lion lineman then grabbed on the bounce by Kwalick who outraced Army's defenders to the goal line.

TCU Flogs Bears, 47-14

By ED FITE
UPI Sports Writer

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Ross "The Hoss" Montgomery slashed Baylor's defenses for 177 yards and three touchdowns Saturday to lead Texas Christian to its first Southwest Conference victory of the season, a 47-14 trompling of the Bears.

Montgomery rambled two, nine and seven yards for his touchdowns.

FORT WORTH (UPI)—Statistics of the Baylor-TCU game:

	Bay	TCU

Return yardage	27	119
Passes	17-42-7	4-70
Punts	436.8	645
Fumbles lost	1	1
Yards penalized	110	60

Quarterback Ted Fay plunged one yard and sneaked nine yards for two more scores, Sammy Rabb rolled six yards for another and Billy Fondren scatted 44 yards with an interception as TCU spoiled what little hopes Baylor had of staying in the wide open scramble for the conference title.

Pinky Palmer plunged one-yard for Baylor's first touchdown and quarterback Steve Stuart passed 22 yards to sophomore flanker Don Huggins for the other, but the Bears could not rise to the heights that saw them upset defending champion Texas A&M 10-9 a week ago.

Montgomery's performance, while not the best of his career, broke a 38-year-old TCU Stadium record of 173 yards which had stood since sprinter-halfback Cy Leland set it in the stadium's first year, 1930.

TCU broke a school record with seven interceptions, but Fondren's payoff theft with 34 seconds left in the game was the only one that went all the way.

However, TCU cashed in on a blocked punt, a fumble recovery and one other interception which set up scoring opportunities.

Trojans Hit Late to Nip Oregon

EUGENE, Ore. (UPI)—Quarterback Steve Sogge's three-yard touchdown pass to end Bob Klein with 1:13 left gave Southern California's desperate top-ranked Trojans a 20-13 football victory over surprising Oregon Saturday.

A 35-yard pass interference penalty call against Oregon's Jim Franklin gave Southern Cal the break it needed to remain unbeaten and untied in the Trojan's first visit ever to Eugene.

Oregon came back to drive to the Southern California eight-yard line where a last gasp pass failed with only 11 seconds to go.

Southern California's great O. J. Simpson was just another player as Oregon held him to 67 yards.

Steers Humble SMU, 38-7

By ROLAND LINDSEY

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Texas' thundering ground game, coupled with a 59-yard touchdown pass by James Street and an 81-yard end around by sophomore Charles Speyrer, Saturday overwhelmed Southern Methodist's top-ranked passing attack 38-7.

The win threw the Southwest Conference lead into a four-way tie between Texas, SMU, Arkansas and Texas Tech at 3-1.

The Texas defense picked up three SMU fumbles and intercepted four passes from Chuck Hixson, the nation's leading passer, to break SMU's four-game winning streak.

The Longhorns struck for two touchdowns in a three-minute span in the first quarter on sneaks of one and three yards by Street and added a second period touchdown on Street's 59-yard scoring toss to end Deryl Comer.

Street's second plunge was set up when Spreyer raced from the Texas 15 to the SMU 4.

Hixson was held without a completion for 14 minutes, but he then put together three quick tosses to move the Mustangs 74 yards in four plays, passing the final three to Ken Fleming. SMU was first in the nation in passing and fourth in total offense going into the game.

The Longhorns offense, which piled up more than 500 yards during the afternoon, continued to roll in the third quarter when Ted Koy broke through the Mustange defense for a 52-yard scamper and Happy Feller booted a 38-yard field goal five minutes later.

The Southwest Conference's all-time leading rusher, Chris Gilbert, scored the final Texas touchdown on a 13-yard burst off right tackle with 6:46 left in the game.

Reserves finished out the game for the Longhorns in the worst shellacking a Texas team had handed SMU since 1941's 34-0 encounter.

Hixson passed for 233 yards, but the Texas defense dumped him for losses eight times and caused him to fumble twice, once on the Texas four-yard line to blunt a Pony threat. Hixson completed 31 of 51 passes.

Red Raiders Ramble Past Helpless Owls

HOUSTON (UPI)—Halfback Roger Freeman scored twice on two-yard plunges and led a powerful Texas Tech running attack Saturday which crushed Rice 38-15.

Quarterback Joe Matulich scored Tech's first touchdown on a 20-yard keeper in the first quarter, reserve fullback Tony Butler scored the second on a one-yard plunge and Larry Hargrave scored the last one on a one-yard dive in the final quarter.

Freeman ripped off 81 yards in 21 carries to lead all rushers and scored in the second and third quarters.

Ken Vinyard kicked a 30-yard field goal in the second quarter and added five conversions, running his string to 29 traight extra points over the last two years.

Larry Davis scored Rice's first touchdown on a 10-yard pass from Dennis Alexander in the third quarter and fullback Tony Conley scored the other one on a two-yard run in the final minute of the game. The second touchdown was set up by a 33-yard pass interception penalty.

Tech rushed for 295 yards.

Robby Shelton ran for the extra points after the second touchdown. Tim Davis converted after Davis' touchdown.

Rice was plagued most of the afternoon by passing problems.

Tech picked off six interceptions, our off Alexander, and two off Shelton.

Linebacker Fred Warren, intercepted two. One of the interception's, by defense back Denton Fox, led to Vinyard's field goal and another interception by guard Carroll Sullivan led to Tech's last touchdown.

Sullivan pounced on a fumble by Alexander on the Rice 32 which led to the other fourth quarter touchdown.

Kansas Steamrolls By Buffaloes, 27-14

By JAMES WIECK

LAWRENCE, Kan. (UPI)—Quarterback Bobby Douglass threw two touchdown passes to trailback Junior Riggins to lead third-ranked Kansas past Colorado 27-14 in a steady fumble forcing rain Saturday before scouts from four major post-season bowls.

The victory, Kansas' seventh straight this season, gave the Jayhawks a 4-0 record in the Big Eight Conference while Colorado fell to 3-2 in the league, 4-3 overall.

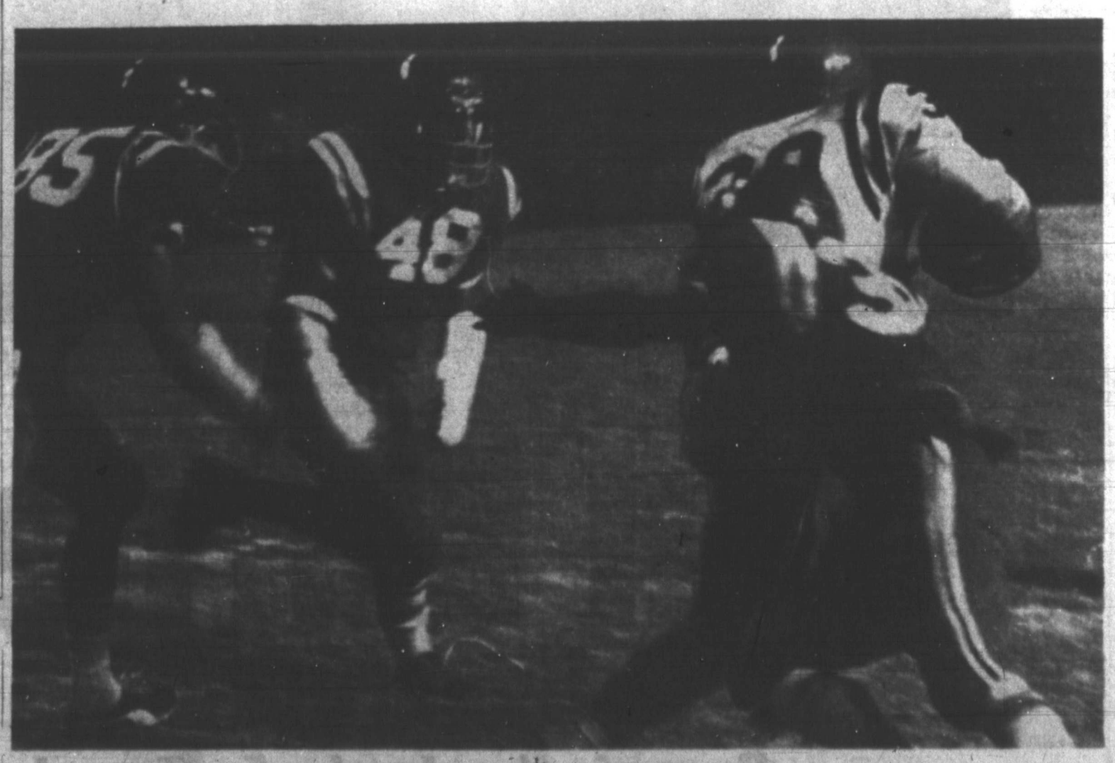

With scouts from the Orange, Sugar, Cotton and Gator Bowls watching, the Jayhawks shrugged off the rain and the loss of two first half fumbles to gain a 17-0 lead and ruin any thought of a Colorado upset.

Kansas gained a 3-0 lead on its first drive with Bill Bell's 20-yard field goal. The Jayhawks had driven to the Colorado two-yard line and with a fourth down situation, Douglass consulted with coach Pepper Rodgers who decided to go for the field goal. Sophomore fullback John Riggins, who piled up 162 yards in rushing, had run 63 yards off tackle to set up the goal-line series.

The Jayhawks continued to be plagued by fumbles until midway through the half when they took a Buffalo punt on their own 27. Tailback Donnie Shanklin carried three times for 24 yards as Kansas moved to the 21 and John Riggins slashed in from right guard for the touchdown.

With only 32 seconds remaining in the half, the Jayhawks scored again with Douglass hitting Junior Riggins with a yarder. Kansas had taken the ball on the Colorado 38 on a rushed punt.

UP, UP AND AWAY — Pampa's Hal Clabaugh (30) starts on a short trek against Coronado Friday night in Pampa's 33-14 loss. The Mustang's Randy Branum (30), Jim Reese (48) and Steve Carpenter (85) are about to make the stop.

Gruver Derails WD Bucks

GRUVER — Unless the Gruver Greyhounds stumble they just might have clinched the District 1-A title Friday night, thanks to some last minute heroics by Ken Jones. The Greyhounds took a 10-0 lead over White Deer, then saw the Bucks come roaring back for a 14-10 lead before Jones won the game with a fourth period touchdown and a 17-14 victory.

The win put Gruver in the driver's seat with a 3-0 record and 6-2 season mark with just two league games remaining.

By losing White Deer fell out of a tie for the lead with a 2-1 mark and 4-4 season reading. The loss also snapped a four game Buck winning streak.

Mike McLain put Gruver out front 3-0 in the first period with a 34-yard field goal. The period ended that way.

Halfback Tommy Henson made it 10-0 midway through the second quarter when he rambled in from 10 yards away and McLain kicked the conversion point.

But the Bucks were far from dead and just before halftime David Guinn got White Deer on the scoreboard by speeding 70 yards with the ensuing kickoff.

Stan Bush's kick made it 10-7 at halftime.

The teams put on a defensive show in the third period and when the quarter ended White Deer found themselves still three points behind.

Midway through the fourth period Bush broke around right end and sped eight yards to the goal. He then kicked the conversion to give the Bucks their first and last lead of the evening.

A fumble recovery actually gave Gruver all the momentum they needed.

Buckeyes Tumble M-State On Fumble Recoveries 25-20

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI)—Second ranked Ohio State recovered four fumbles, turning two into touchdowns, and intercepted three passes, to defeat Michigan State 25-20 here Saturday before a record crowd of 84,859.

The Buckeye defense stopped Michigan State in its attempt for a second straight upset as the Spartans knocked off Notre Dame 21-17 last Saturday.

Ohio State fullback Jim Otis scored two touchdowns on plunges of one and three yards. Starting quarterback Rex Kern passed 14 yards to Bruce Jankowski and reserve quarterback Ron Maciejowski scored the final Buckeye touchdown on a one-yard run.

Michigan State quarterback Bill Triplett passed 13 yards to Frank Foreman for one touchdown and scored another on a one-yard run to pace the upset-minded Spartans. Tommy Love went in from the one in the third period to narrow the winning margin to 25-20.

Although the Spartans continued to threaten in the fourth period, they were thwarted by the alert Buckeye defense. Linebacker Doug Adams recovered a Love fumble to stop one Spartan march on the OSU 46.

McLean Clips Claude, 30-8, To Keep District Deadlocked

McLEAN—Coach Fred Hedgecoke didn't let success spoil his Tigers and McLean rolled to its fourth straight victory Friday night and remained tied with Clarendon for the District 2-A lead.

McLean rolled to a 22 - 0 halftime lead and went on to blast winless Claude, 30-8 to keep its record spotless in district play.

The Tigers now own, along with Clarendon, a 42-0 winner over Silverton,, a 3-0 District 2-A mark and 6-2 season reading.

If Tiger fans were afraid of a McLean letdown after their resounding 26-9 upset of Wheeler a week ago, their fears were quieted in the first quarter.

The Tigers jumped to a 14-0 first period lead. Ernest Smith took over the offensive chores from fullback Thacker Haynes and rambled across the goalline three times.

Smith put McLean on the scoreboard early in the first period when he and quarterback Joel McCarty hooked up on a 23 yard touchdown pass play. The run for the conversion failed and it was 6-0.

Smith gathered in a Claude punt at the Mustang 48 and returned it all the way. Smith then ran in the conversion points for a 14-0 margin.

Smith got the only second quarter score, going in from 11 yards away. He also ran the conversion in for the 22-0 halftime lead.

In the third quarter Clinton Corbin capped a 59, nine play drive by going the last seven lengths for the touchdown. Haynes ran the conversion points across to make the final 30 points for McLean.

David Stephenson got Claude's lone tally with a one yard dive in the fourth period. Roger Johnson got the conversion points on a pass from Stephenson.

Lefors Rips Texline, 41-16, In League Win

TEXLINE — Lefors fell behind briefly but battled back here Friday night to win its first District 1-B game of the season.

The Pirates broke a personal one-game losing streak and blitzed Texline, 41-16 to go to a 1-1 district record and 2-5 season mark.

Coach Jack York didn't spare the manpower but it was Jim Gilbreath and Dale Finney again stealing the show for the Pirates.

The two seniors, grouped together with seven freshmen starters, put the icing on the cake for Lefors, who had their best offensive output of the season.

Texline jumped to a 8-0 lead early in the first period but Gilbreath intercepted a pass and returned it 40 yards for a touchdown. The conversion try failed and the Pirates were behind 8-6 after one quarter.

Richard Harckom put the Pirates ahead to stay in the second period when he went in from the eight. Again the conversion try failed and the Pirates were behind 8-6 after one quarter.

Richard Harckom put the Pirates ahead to stay in the second period when he went in from the eight. Again the conversion failed but it was 12-8.

Just before the half ended Finny scored the first of his touchdowns, a 25 yarder. Gilbreath's kick made it 19-0 at halftime.

Harckom pushed the Pirates to a 25-8 lead when he rambled in from 15 yards away. Minutes later Finner scampered across from 20 lengths out and the quarter ended at 31-8.

Finney scored again in the final stanza, this time on a 30 yard run and Gilbreath kicked the point after to make it 38-8.

With seven seconds to go Gilbreath kicked a 30-yard field goal to ice the contest.

TO GRAY COUNTY VOTERS

To Gray County Voters:

I have been encouraged to make this statement by a group of persons and organizations who believe that the basic and primary solution to problems which lie within the framework of government, is to first encourage and assist each citizen in a community to exercise his rights and exert whatever influence he might possess to maintain an honest and respectable local Government.

In the past twelve years I have talked to many citizens of Gray County concerning the operation which is now considered our local governments, both city and county. The general attitude expressed most often is one of dismay. The question most often is "why" and secondly "How" it may be eliminated and replaced by a proper organization.

We hope this will show some indication of a solution. First, there is no power or force greater than the cliztens themselves if they exercise that right and express their will Nov. 5, 1968 at the polls. The wishes and desires of the majority of citizens is of primary importance in achieving progress in this endeavor.

This group has amassed documented evidence covering a period of the past twelve years. There are few people in Pampa and Gray County who are not familiar to some extent with the incidents and events which have caused disrespect and contempt among citizens for their local government, therefore we feel it unnecessary to list these events or make accusations until the proper moment. This organization, represented by proper legal advisors, will donate their time and effort in seeking prosecution of those involved in any action or incident if it might be warranted.

They will not, however, unless the citizens themselves request this action to betaken In order to sample the will of the people at the polls I will run as an independent candidate for the office of sheriff of Gray County. If you, the voters wish that this information and facilities of this organization be used to "clean house," so to speak, you should express that desire by voting in this manner:

Appearing on the Ballot November 5, 1968 —
Sheriff of Gray County
Mark Out Candidate shown
Write in W. E. (Bill) Whitsell. . .

or write-in any name of any person you desire. The total number of write-in votes will determine the future action of this group. The election of any one person is not important, since the enthusiasm and response to this request will be the factor which will assist in installing a local Government each citizen might respect, be a part of, and be proud of. If the desirable number of Registered voters of Gray County cast write-in votes for this office, the same objective will be reached even with the incumbant, winning, since with the information available and those experienced in similar situations to apply it, the goal of most citizens, as far as local government is concerned, will be reached.

We ask you, the voter, to consider this position, and as most agree something should and must be done, we invite your support.

Thank you,
W. E. Whitsell

OU Stops K-State, 35-20

NORMAN, OKLA. (UPI) — Workhorse Steve Owens battled torrential rain and an aroused Kansas State football team Saturday for 185 yards and two touchdowns, the last a 10-yard burst with only one second to play, to spur Oklahoma to a 35-20 Big Eight conference victory.

Mack Herron, fleet Wildcat wingback, electrified the rain-soaked crowd with a 100-yard runback of the second half kickoff in Kansas State's best effort against the Sooners since 1928.

The game was tied twice.

Herron's long ramble and Max Aerreguin's extra point tied the game briefly at 14-14, but Sooner fullback Mike Harper capped an 80-yard drive with a 15-yard scoring burst for the go-ahead touchdown.

Oklahoma quarterback Bobby Warmack ran 10 yards for Oklahoma's first touchdown and junior tailback Bobby Thompson plunged from the two for the other Sooner tally.

Fullback Cornelius Davis ran two yards for Kansas State's first touchdown, tieing the game 7-7, to culminate an 83-yard drive and middle guard Gary Godfrey lumbered 28 yards for the Wildcat's third touchdown in the fourth quarter after picking up a blocked punt. Nose guard John Stucky blocked Steve Zabel's kick.

Owens' 185 yard effort ran his season's total to 910 yards and was the fifth straight game in which he has piled up more than 100 yards rushing. He carried the ball 47 times Saturday.

Oklahoma wingback Eddie Hinton, playing with a bandaged left hand to protect a broken bone, fielded the rain-slick football for 73 yards and set a new school record of 584 yards interceptions.

Wildcat quarterback Lynn Dickey completed 16 of 26 passes for 167 yards in the first half, but could connect on only two of 13 for 13 yards after intermission.

Oklahoma scored first on the Sooners' third possession of the game. Warmack sprinted in from the 10 on a first down play and Bruce Derr's kick made it 7-0.

Rain started falling about 10 a.m. and became a downpour by halftime.

Oregon State Rips Stanford

STANFORD, Calif. (UPI)—Wingback Bill Main streaked for touchdown runs of 23 and yards Saturday and Oregon State pounced on Stanford fumbles in the mud and rain for a 29-7 victory which fired up the Beavers' Rose Bowl campaign.

The lopsided triumph gave Oregon State a 3-0-0 mark in the Pacific Eight conference as three Stanford bobbles were converted into two touchdowns and a field goal.

The Indians didn't score until there was 7:04 peft in the contest when quarterback Jim Plunkett, who had an otherwise miserable afternoon, hit Gene Washington with a 34-yard TD pass.

Aside from that, Stanford's deepest penetration during the rain-swept contest was to the Beaver 18 in the second period. There Plunkett fumbled the ball away to Oregon State's Jerry Belcher. This put Kent Scott in line for a 27-yard field goal to help the Beavers take a 15-0 halftime advantage.

Missouri Explodes Past Okla. State

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UPI) — Ninth-ranked Missouri, with spunky Garnett Phelps making the most of his first start at quarterback, exploded for three quick first-half touchdowns Saturday and rolled past Oklahoma State 42-7 in Big Eight football.

Phelps, replacing the injured Terry McMillan, threw two touchdown passes.

The win was the Tigers' sixth straight against one loss and kept Missouri unbeaten in four conference games.

A 5-11 junior and the first Negro ever to start a Big Eight game at quarterback, Phelps highlighted the Tigers' first-half scoring spurt with a 46-yard scoring strike to speedster Mel Gray early in the second period.

Sluggish in their first tw opossessions, the Tigers drove 49, 69 and 58 yards for touchdowns in a five-minute span the next three times they had the ball. Fullback Ken McBride got the first on a two-yard dive. Phelps threw to Gray for the second and Jon Staggers' 33-yard halfback pass to right end Chuck Weber gave the Tigers a 21-0 halftime lead.

With Gator Bowl scouts looking on, halfback Greg Cook scored on runs of 10 and four yards and Phelps threw a 12-yard pass to Steve Kenemore for second-half touchdowns.

Oklahoma State, now 1-5 for the season and 0-3 in the Big Eight, got its only touchdown after Staggers fumbled the second-half kickoff and the Cowboys' Benny Goodwin recovered at the 12.

Ronnie Johnson, Cowboy quarterback, scored four plays later on a three-yard run.

Johnson, the Big Eight's leading passer, was continually pressured by a fierce Missouri pass rush led by ends Elmer Benhardt and Bill Schmidt and tackle Rocky Wallace.

Roger Wehrli, the Tigers' ace defensive halfback, intercepted three Johnson passes and Butch Davis picked off a fourth.

Purdue Coasts By Illinois

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (UPI)—Purdue, sticking to a ground game rolled to a 17-point lead in the first half, and coasted to a 35-17 victory over winless Illinois Saturday to remain in the race for the Big Ten football crown.

Before 62,000 fans, the sixth-ranked Boilermarkers scored the first four times they had possession any piled up a 28-8 fought back.

Purdue racked up its sixth win in seven games while Illinois lost for the seventh who scored once and passed for consecutive week. Leroy Keyes, another touchdown, and Perry Williams, rewrote Purdue's career rushing record, set 34 years ago. Williams gained 106 yards and Keyeys, who was hobbled by a lingering knee injury, added 81.

Williams now has a career high of 1,831 and keeys 1,830 The old record of 1,802 was set by Duane Purvis in 1934.

Wheeler Tumbles Happy

HAPPY — Conversion points made all the difference here Friday night and so did Donald Rives as he and a tough Wheeler defense in the final two periods put the stopper on tough Happy.

Wheeler fought back from a 12-0 halftime deficit to get touchdown runs from Rives in the third and fourth periods to post a narrow, 14-12 victory over the Cowboys.

With the win Wheeler shook off the effects of an upset to McLean last week and moved into a three way tie for second place in District 2-A.

The Mustangs are 2-1 in league action and 6-2 for the season.

Zeke Frost put Happy out front 6-0 in the first quarter, going in from two yards away. The run capped a 63-yard drive that took 11 plays.

In the second period Don Maynard went in from the one and again the point after kick was no good and it was Happy, 12-0 at halftime.

Rives, a 170-pound All-State candidate, cut loose on a five yard scoring dash in the third period. The run for the conversion failed and the Mustangs still trailed, 12-6.

Rives put across the winning points in the final stanza by chugging in from the four. He then bolted across for the important two-point conversion.

Mustangs Trip PHS, 33-14

By RON CORSS
Sports Editor

Despite playing probably their best game of the season, most of the time, the Pampa Harvesters did exactly the opposite of what coach Swede Lee said they'd have to do to beat Lubbock Coronado.

And they didn't beat the Mustangs because they didn't stop tailback Jerry Austin who ran four touchdowns and rushed for 220 yards to lead Coronado to a 33-14 non-zone victory over Pampa in Lubbock Friday night.

In losing their seventh game in eight outings the Harvesters did battle the Mustangs to a 14-14 halftime draw.

But Coronado decided to run more and pass less in the final two periods and the Pampa offense bogged down the last half and Coronado outscored the Harvesters, 19-0.

Austin, District 3-4A's leading scorer (18 touchdowns) had 139 yards at halftime and played only the third quarter in the last half.

The Pampa defense rose to the occasion the initial two periods, although they could stop Coronado only when they tried to pass.

The Mustangs ground out 352 yards and had 157 in the first half. They added only 49 through the air connecting only on four of 16 tosses.

But Austin carried the ball 35 times and the bruising runner carried his 185 pounds well, breaking tackle after tackle.

Most of the time Austin could have driven a bus through the holes opened by the Coronado offensive line.

Tailback Scotty King was far short of his season per game rushing average but still led Pampa rushers with 13 yards on seven carries.

The Harvesters were held to only 36 yards rushing by the big and strong Mustang defense but managed 91 lengths through the air.

Gary Parrish started at quarterback for the first time since the Hereford contest and performed well, although he did have his troubles.

Parrish hit only six of 14 tosses and had one aerial intercepted. He also carried six times for a minus two yards.

Coronado scored on its second possession, moving 37 yards in seven plays. Austin carried six times and gained 32 yards, going in from five yards away for the go-ahead touchdown with 5:12 left in the period. Mike Leverton's kick made it 7-0.

Near the end of the period the district's leading punter, Don Grimes got off only a 17 yard boot and Pampa took over on the Mustang 40.

A pass interference call gave the Harvesters a first down at the 35 and two plays later Parrish lateraled to King who tossed a 35 yard scoring strike to tight end Dan Carlton.

With 23 seconds showing on the clock Johnny Stokes booted the point that gave Pampa a 7-7 dead-lock.

Coronado then marched 77 yards on its next possession, taking only eight plays to take the lead again.

Quarterback Connie Cox hit wingback Mark Byrne with an 11 yard pass and Austin chugged out 60 yards on six carries, one a 35 yard run.

Austin went in from one yard away with 9:09 left in the half. Leverton kicked the point to make it 14-7.

The Harvesters were stopped on their next series of downs but so was Coronado.

Grimes went back to punt and Carlton rushed in, blocked the kick and recovered the ball in the end zone for the tying score.

Stokes kick with 6:36 before halftime made it, 14-all.

Pampa stalled one Coronado drive shortly before halftime when King intercepted a pass at his own 44 but Coronado returned the favor.

The Harvesters drove from their own 35 to Lubbock's 10 where they had a first and goal.

Two Parrish passes went incomplete and a third aerial was intercepted to kill the threat.

After forcing Pampa to punt at the start of the third period the Mustangs drove 48 yards in seven plays.

Again it was Austin who worked overtime for Coronado. The bruising runner carried every play and went in from two yards away for the go-ahead score.

Larry Kotara blocked Leverton's attempt at the conversion and Pampa trailed by six, 20-14 with 7:38 remaining.

The Harvesters put up a threat, their last of the game, after the ensuing kickoff but a tardiness penalty on a key third down cost them dearly.

Pampa had moved from their own 27 to the 42. Parrish was nabbed for no gain, then lost two yards back to the 40.

With third and 12 the Harvesters were slapped with a five yard penalty for too much time. Parrish chose to run on third and 17 and picked up only eight yards.

Pampa had to kick and the Mustangs then rolled from their own 25 to the Pampa 16 where they had a first down when the third period ended.

On the fourth play in the final quarter Austin, who carried seven times in this 75 yard drive for 50 yards, dove in from the one with 11:05 left.

Leverton made his kick good for a 27-14 Coronado lead.

The final Mustang tally came and only fumble of the night.

A pitchback to halfback Ricky Givens went astray and Mike Tedden recovered for Coronado on the Pampa 36.

With Austin on the sidelines the Mustangs traveled the distance in 10 plays with newcomer Ronnie Pendelton covering the last 12 yards.

Barnes got things going with a three yard touchdown run and then ran in the conversion to make it 28-15.

Henderson cut loose on a 60 yard punt return and it was 34-15 and Mike Viles got the final Eagle score, going in from six yards away and then Viles ran in the conversion.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

Since praising President Johnson's March 1 decision to limit the bombing of North Vietnam as a "courageous" act, French President Charles de Gaulle largely has refrained from his previous bitter criticism of the United States on the Vietnam issue.

But on his state visit to Turkey he could not resist one more dig.

He described the occupation of Czechoslovakia, the Arab-Israeli conflict and the war in Vietnam as "all tragedies that threaten the peace of the world because the right of the peoples to decide for themselves is violated by force."

He took oblique note of his own withdrawal from the military arm in NATO in his advice to the Turks to maintain sole control of "their soil their sky, their coast, their forces."

Because the United States recently renewed its military aid to Greece and because the Turks have felt the United States favored Greece over Turkey in the Cyprus dispute, De Gaulle may have felt he was on fertile ground to further French influence at U.S. expense.

And had it not been for the Czech invasion he well might have.

The Soviet Union's lightning occupation of Czechoslovakia undermined even de Gaulle's belief he could read the Soviet mind.

But for the Turks, sharing a 400-mile border with the Soviets and against a background of centuries of conflict and suspicion, the action came as a clear warning.

To emphasize the point, Turkish President Cevdet Sunay declared Turkey could continue to strengthen its defensive alliances which include both NATO to the West and CENTO to the East.

In Turkey's 45th anniversary as a republic and with De Gaulle as an onlooker, Sunay put on display Turkey's formidable armed forces, complete with U.S.-supplied tanks and jet fighters.

Backstairs At The Whitehouse

By MERRIMAN SMITH
UPI White House Correspondent

"As this presidential campaign draws to a close, as the cliches cool off and the balloons collapse, as the slogans sink slowly into the sunset ..."

These immortal words came this week from Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, a master of a political speaking technique which involves using cliches about cliches.

Humphrey, in fact, is quite friendly about borrowing idioms even from his worst enemies.

Take the case of "Sock it to em!"

During the closing week of the campaign, Humphrey began crying out this phrase to rallies at the close of his remarks, undeterred by the fact that Republican Richard M. Nixon had been using that same shout since much earlier in th battle for the presidency.

Humphrey added one word to this famous phrase, "Sock it to 'em baby!"

Another Humphrey favorite during the closing stages of the campaign was this intriguing thought:

"When I go to the White House, I will leave the door open—and when it is necessary, I will take the White House on the road and come to you."

When Sen. Eugene McCarthy was attempting to win the Democratic presidential nomination, he too, promised that if he ever reached the White House, he would tear down the black iron fence surrounding 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue to give the executive mansion a friendlier, more accessible air.

Sure enough, in a burst of enthusiasm the other night Humphrey succumbed to the derivative and he too, vowed to bring down the fence.

What is interesting about this sort of promise is that it was made in a campaign in which security measures around each candidate were the tighest in the history of American politics. And regardless of who is elected Tuesday, the fence will stand, all campaign rhetoric to the contrary.

PROTEST BRUTALITY

LISBON (UPI)—More than 300 students demonstrated Thursday to protest what they charged was brutality by the national political police in the death of a student held more than two months. Police used clubs to drive the students away from the Interior Ministry. The students asked for an inquiry into the death of Daniel Texeira, 22, who died last Friday.

Pampa Civic Culture Club Studies Music's Effect on Industry, Theraphy

The Civic Culture Club met in the home of Mrs. Chester Williams, recently. Mrs. Irvin Cole conducted business with reports from Mmes. A.D. Hills, Floyd Pennington and Frank Grantham of the District Board Meeting of Federated Clubs in Clarendon Oct. 15.

Mrs. A. B. Cross introduced the program on the music division of Fine Arts. Mrs. H. W. Waters gave the program on "Better Appreciation of Music- A Pathway to Cultural Advantages."

Albums of music were placed about the room. Music played during the entire meeting included recordings from the Pampa Harvester Band. The recordings played were representative of divisions of her talk on music in industry and therapy.

Mrs. Waters quoted from William Green, American labor leader, "Music is a friend of labor for it lightens the task by refreshing the nerves and spirit of the worker. It tends to make work pleasurable as well as profitable, and adds enjoyment of leisure time."

"Thousands of industrial plants are using recorded music to relieve tension and fatigue and boost production. Employe participation in music programs is even more effective. A "family feeling" is developed when riveter, welder and inspector join together in the plant orchestra to provide entertainment. Many musical industry today to build up employe good will" Mrs. Waters said.

"Music has long played an important part in the treatment of disease. Our first recorded account of music being used for the treatment of mental disorder is recorded in 1 Samuel 16-14-23. And it came to pass, when the evil spirit was upon Saul that David took an harp and played with his hands: So Saul was refreshed and was well, and the evil spirit departed from him, she said.

"Homer, who is the beginning of all good things Greek, accords music a prominent place. He recommends it to avoid negative passions such as anger, sorrow, worry, fear and fatigue, and to promote healthful recreation for elevating soul and body. Pythagoras believed that if one employed music in daily life according to a prescribed manner it would make a salutary contribution to one's health. Plato and Aristotle considered music as a form of therapy to heal the sick heart and the wounded spirit.

"Music is being used as an auxiliary form of treatment in veteran's hospitals and many state hospitals all over the country. A music project in New York tested the curative value of various types of music and classified selections under the heading of tonics, sedatives, stimulants and narcotics.

"Music is an expression of universal beauty and truth. It's range is limitless and its power to soothe, relax and heal is wide and varied. And no doubt, that in the future it will be used effectively in many other fields of medical care," Mrs. Waters said.

Fashion Picture Predicts More Femininity in Styles

NEW YORK (UPI)—Pants for day and evening go marching right on into spring. The trousered look for women is now basic fashion; it is no longer a gimmick, no longer draws stares.

Now that the matter of who wears the pants (both sexes) is settled, let's get on to other things that make news in the new collections of clothes that Seventh Avenue manufacturers are showing the nation's store buyers. The clothes will begin to appear in the stores by December and January.

First, there's a wonderfully feminine look to the new clothes. They're closer to the figure, waistlines hug waists again, and the ruffle of spring will be heard through the land if Oscar de la Renta has his way.

This designer sets forth a gypsy or Spanish theme with more ruffles around than you'll find in a flamenco dancer's wardrobe.

De la Renta skillfully manages to combine pants and ruffes in many of his late day and evening outfits. One of the handsomest is a silk organza print in autumn tones of gold, tan and brown, the pants a mass of ruffles on ankleetees, the top a long, belted tunic.

And if nudity is also femininity (make up your own mind) de la Renta scores high in this department also. Some of his all-black organza evening clothes start out ruffled from neckline to hem. Off come the top ruffles (they were jackets, after all) and beneath are filmy, fitted tops.

Bill Blass of Maurice Rentner has scored highest, highest, however, in the daring division. Blass showed a long-sleeved, high-collared lace dress with three-dimensional flowers attached all over. The dress was slit all the way up one side to under-arm, the front and back joined by latticed ribbon.

The news about hemlines is that there is no change in any collections seen thus far. Not one single midi (midcalf) seen. But the longer skirts aren't spring and summerish, anyway. Daytime hems range three, four and five inches above the knees, depending on the designer.

Every collection thus far has included both day and evening trousers.

Christmas Comes Early in Vietnam For Servicemen

CHICAGO Ill. (Spl) — Bells begin jingling and the red and green of Christmas come early when you send holiday greetings to servicemen overseas.

Cards, letters and packages should be mailed early. And, difficult as it may be, they should be filled with Christmas cheer.

Start with gift packages — which should be mailed to Vietnam by the first of November and to servicemen in Europe by Nov. 15. Be practical, yet a bit frivolous, in your choice of gifts. You know your serviceman's likes and his weaknesses so splurge a little — pamper him! Then add favorite cookies and sweets that travel well.

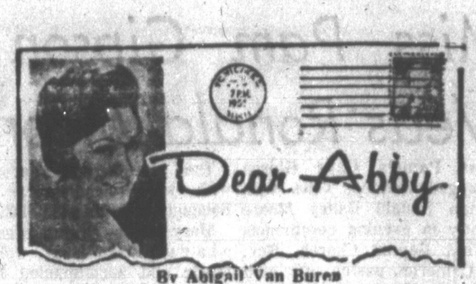

Make the gifts seem more Christmasy and fun to open by gift wrapping each item individually. Be as clever as you like. Write personal Christmas poems to add to the ribbons. Make them red and green with porous point pens.

Just before enclosing the gifts in brown wrapping paper and heavy twine, slip a pen into the bows as extra-special gifts.

You might make your own holiday labels with new green ball point pens. Buy plain labels at any variety store. Then add Santas, snow men, bells and trees. Use both red and green pens which will make a bold solid line around the label, allowing you to write the name and address of your serviceman in the center, complying with post office rules.

Mail early. Christmas should come right on time to our servicemen abroad. And make it red and green, the joyous colors of Christmas!

Two new sun lamp kits from one appliance manufacturer feature good looks as well as function. Clamp-on holders are decorative and the light can be directed at any desired angle. Or, the lamps can be hung from a nail. The deluxe version has a simulated alligator bag for storage or for other carrying tasks.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: There is a girl at school who can't go to any of the dances because it is against her religion. I think that is just about the dumbest thing I have ever heard.

I have told this to some other kids and they agreed that it must be a very stupid religion that won't let their people dance. I can't understand a religion like that. Can you?

DONNA JEAN

DEAR DONNA JEAN: There are some "religions" that disapprove of dancing. It isn't necessary to "understand" the other person's religion. Just respect it.

DEAR ABBY: I have a paper route, and one of my customers went away on a 2-week vacation without telling me, so I kept right on delivering the newspaper as I had no idea how long he was going to be gone.

When the people came home and found 2 weeks' newspapers piled up in front of their door they got very mad at me. I tried to tell the man that since he did not tell me they were going out of town, I thought the best thing to do was to keep leaving the paper. He called me an idiot and threatened to quit taking the paper. If he does, I'll be in trouble with my boss.

Was I wrong to keep leaving the paper when I had no other orders? And what do I do if he reports me?

ALEX

DEAR ALEX: Tell your boss what happened, and ask him what the policy of the newspaper is when a customer leaves town without notice. A collection of newspapers in front of a door is an announcement that nobody is home. This is more helpful to a burglar than a key in the front door. If your customer quits (and I doubt that he will) you are blameless.

DEAR ABBY: Our neighborhood is being downgraded due to one family who own their own home and take no pride in it whatsoever. Why does one family have the right to ruin the looks of a whole neighborhood?

Their carport looks like a junk heap. They never pick up trash or anything else unless it's in the way of their lawn mower, then they just shift it over. I saw a pile of trash that was swept up on their porch 3 months ago, and it's still there.

I hope you publish this so these people will recognize themselves and maybe do something about it. We have tried everything without coming right out and asking them to clean it up. They are good people.

HAD IT

DEAR HAD IT: So why don't you try the most (and probably only effective) course next. Tell them their yard is a disgrace to the neighborhood and to please clean it up.

DEAR ABBY: I am 57 and my wife is 53. We have been married for 25 years. Both our children are grown and away from home. Both the wife and I work at full-time jobs.

After we have a leisurely dinner, I lounge around the house until about 9 o'clock and then I go to bed. My wife drives about 20 miles each way to visit our infant grandson. She comes home and does the supper dishes, tidies up the house, washes a tub of clothes and does a little ironing. She comes to bed about midnight and says she's "too tired." And, boy, am I glad!

"TOO TIRED, TOO"

Infants' Cries Signal Distress

NEW YORK (Spl) — As every experienced mother knows, a baby's cries will differ according to his needs. One kind of howl means 'I'm-starving-to-death,' another 'I'm-sopping-wet-come- change-me.'

Doctors, too, are clued into a newborn's health by his cry. "The character of the cry is of great diagnostic importance," Dr. James M. Toomey, of the University of Rochester School of Medicine, told physicians attending a recent medical meeting here.

Stridor, a harsh whistly sound resulting from partial obstruction of the air passages, may indicate a decrease in the opening of the larynx. Or it may accompany other airway narrowing.

A deep barking sound may indicate problems with the trachea, while a muffled cry may indicate obstruction elsewhere. A weak or absent cry, wheezing, a loud stuttering cry—all these are an infant's way of calling for help, the physician observed. And physicians are alert—as mothers are—to the nuances of crying.

New crop sweet potatoes are brightening the market and can also brighten your fall menu.

Altrusa Members Hear Two Reports On District Nine

Mrs. G. H. Anderson, Altrusa information chairman, directed the Altrusa Club luncheon meeting recently in Coronado Inn.

Mrs. M. Q. Wilson and Mrs. C. C. Fitzgerald reported on District Nine Conference, which was held recently in San Antonio. The 'Mission 68' Conference convened with Miss Aileen Aiken, governor, presiding.

Mrs. Wilson reported one of the conference highlights was a boatride down the river, with a Mexican dinner served during the ride.

She said at the president's luncheon and workshop, they were reminded to project the Altrusa image by keeping a constant check on the community's needs, constantly evaluate Altrusa projects to be sure they fit into the picture and for members to learn what they can do personally for the community and for Altrusa Club.

Mrs. Mary Resh, president of Altrusa International, Inc., of Washington, D. C., was keynote speaker for the governor's banquet. Her subject was "Personality of Altrusa."

Mrs. Joella Terrell Butler, president-elect of Altrusa International, Inc. of Wichita Falls was installing officer when Mrs. Carol Haberman of San Antonio became the new governor for District Nine for the next two years. Mrs. Fitzgerald said. Mrs. Haberman plans to stress "Patriotism" during her administration.

Mrs. Wilson presented certificates to local members, eight receiving the Personal Activity Record, and 15 members perfect attendance.

The Nov. 11 meeting will be a program on American Heritage, by Mrs Frank Heare, the chairman.

Your Horoscope
JEANE DIXON

SUNDAY, NOV. 3

Your birthday today: Adjustment is the keyword for the year. You become conscious of your limitations, which must be dealt with. Older people are disappointing or uncooperative and must be humored. Your awareness of the natural order of the universe will bring patience. Today's natives tend to disregard advice.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): This is not meant to be an active day. Do your share, then enjoy a Sunday of rest. Recreation should be kept on the light side.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Your faith and charity are likely to provide you with quite enough errands to do. Take a rest when you get these essentials attended to.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You have been busy so long that you are lost when a day like this finally comes along and there is no special urgency. Do not let down too sharply. Think where you are in your life; sketch the future.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Today it's time to pamper yourself somewhat. Just take the day off to spend in light recreation with your favorite pastimes.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Religious interests are important, but low-keyed today. Take a break, then prepare for a difficult start this coming week.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Make yourself known quietly in the community, then leave the stage to others. Have a little fun with your favorite hobbies. The evening is good for preliminary planning.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Games are in order. Gather the people whom you care about, and quietly enjoy a sociable day. The evening goes on into an impromptu party.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): For once it looks as though you can have it all your own way. Seize the opportunity to concentrate on the little things that count in your long-term plans. Include contingencies relating to older people.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Let other people alone to take their respite from their regular rounds. Travel is slow today. The main thing: enjoy life just where you are.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Use the calm of the day to find your perspective on life. Let your mind explore the possibilities before you. The evening may find you busily organizing plans for the coming season.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): The temptation is to just loaf. Instead clear out odds and ends around home. Simplification is better than full replacement.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Keep your responsibility alive for communal expressions of faith. Take a day's vacation from physical exertion; spend it in mental activity. Meditation will help you catch your emotional balance.

MONDAY, NOV. 4

Your birthday today: Your problem is how to get up enough energy to make full use of the many opportunities in the coming year. Old habits dull the chance which is within reach. Today's natives tend to be self-reliant in thought.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Your own intuition is better than all the high priced expert advice. Follow your own beliefs (in a conservative move). Squabbles are easy enough to start now.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Use extreme tact, offer explanations. You wish to push right ahead without giving other people time to react. Be flexible.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Anything you propose will be given back to you to attend to. Sometimes it's better to let established habits stand. Work quietly gathering facts.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): If no one pays any attention to you today, you are lucky. You attract criticism so easily now that it is uncanny. Continue quietly on your own course.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Impulsive acts will be regretted later. You will have a diplomacy exercise to work through before the day is out. Do yourself a favor, abstain from arguments over politics.

Take your time, and let things work out by themselves. You have only poor luck in rushing anything.

Businessman Finds Cards Reveal True Personality

NEW YORK (NEA) — If Irving Cohen had not become a successful businessman, he would have made a great fortune teller. "Just by looking at the cards," he says, "I can tell a great deal about people. No pun intended."

Anyway, the kinds of cards Cohen is talking about are not the kind you deal. They are the kind you send to people on birthdays, Valentine's Day, Christmas or, as Cohen suggests, "when you're too lazy to write a letter."

As president of the Association of Greeting Card Retailers, Cohen is in a good position to know what's going on in the $700-million greeting card industry.

"Human beings," he says, "are inherently lazy creatures. We have more and more leisure time but less and less patience to use it on things we don't like to do—like writing letters. This has been very good for the industry. When you consider that the average card sells for 25 cents, you know it takes a lot of quarters to add up to $700 million."

One of Cohen's favorite pastimes is to wander around one of his own stores to see who's buying what.

"People buy cards that represent what they'd like to be," Cohen claims. "That's especially true of Christmas cards."

According to Cohen, the office grouch, the guy who has been

FEMALE FOOTWEAR for this fall promises to keep the square look in toe and heel as in these examples. Boots, top left, take on elegance in shimmering silver with jeweled heels. Patent leather, top right and bottom left, remains popular with designers as does the "brute" look, bottom left, for wear with tweedy skirts and wide, swinging trousers. Glitter-hosed legs, bottom right, lead down to lush pumps in kid and velvet, adorned with jewels.

● Cards

growling at you all year, is very likely to send you a real ho, ho, ho card come Christmas.

"He'll try to prove he's not the kind of guy you've been thinking he was for the last 364 days of the year," Cohen says, "by sending you a jolly Christmas card. Quite probably he wishes he was the happy-go-lucky type and a funny card gives him the perfect opportunity to make believe he's just that. But he won't try to fool his relatives. They know him too well. He'll buy staid cards for them."

Cohen even goes so far as to say that national trends can be predicted through the sale of cards.

"Everybody talks about the permissive society today," he says, "but I saw it coming before it even had a name. I knew something was in the wind a couple of years ago, right around Valentine's Day. First, double-meaning cards started to sell like mad, then both men and women came into the shop and bought two cards—one for their wives or husbands and another for their sweethearts. Not only that, but the cards they bought for their spouses were 25-cent variety while the sweetheart cards were in the $5 class."

Cohen seems to have reservations about some cards, like the ones congratulating someone on getting divorced, but he can't really complain. As long as the cards (not letters) keep going out, nobody will have to send him a sympathy card.

WHEN SCHOOL BELLS RING, mothers sing, especially if their children's wardrobes are easy to care for and inexpensive. The outfits shown have an added bonus. The boy's complete outfit costs just $11.03 and includes sturdy oxfords, stretch socks, chino slacks and a durable press shirt. Included in the girl's wardrobe, at a cost of $10.26, is a durable press cotton dress, stretch knee-hi's, penny loafers and a chain bag.

A LONG CHANEL-TYPE JACKET tops off this three-piece knit suit (left) with long-sleeved, ruffled blouse to provide the drama. Ruffled shirt dress (right) is ideal for almost any daytime or evening occasion. The ruffled bib with ruffled neck and cuffs adds a definite flair to the belted skirt. Rhinestone buttons are the accent. Colors range from red to brown.

Weight Losers' Club Crowns Two Queens

SKELLYTOWN (Spl)—Skellytown Slimmer TOPS Club met in the IOOF Hall recently with Mrs. Sadie Lane presiding. Songs were led by Mrs. Neoma Mercer.

A loss of 6¼ lbs. was reported, as members were weighed in by the weight recorder, Mrs. Ernestine Campbell.

Mrs. Odell Hassler was crowned weekly queen and received the fruit basket. Mrs. Mary McKissick was crowned queen of the month with a loss of 4 lbs.

Game night for club members is Tuesday. Each member is to bring a gift.

The club voted to give a cash gift to Debra Simmons, who is a patient in the Northwest Hospital in Amarillo.

Members attending were Mmes. Ernestine Campbell, Odell Hassler, Mary McKissick, Naomi Fox, Neoma Mercer, Sadie Lane and Fannie Coleman.

For juniors, the key words in the coat market are diver-Multi-sification and fun. Tweeds, checks and plaids are abundant for fall. Leathers are young looking, and often paired with fabrics such as knits. The fall coat shape is fitted, with belts important, worn bust high, hip low or at the waist.

The larger man should avoid bulky tweeds and wear smooth materials, advises the American Institute for Men's and Boys' Wear. As to color and pattern, the big gent looks best in the darker and medium shades. Stripes provide a slimming look while plaids and checks do not. But the small patterns like sharkskins, tiny herringbones and miniature checks in subtle colorings are good.

Income Tax Questions, Answers

EDITORS NOTE— This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the Pampa office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published by The News as a public service to taxpayers.

Q—How do I go about putting in a claim for a refund?

A—Enter your claim on Form 1040-X, Amended U.S. Individual Income Tax Return. Copies of the form and instructions for completing it are available at local IRS offices Copies may also be obtained by writing to your District Director.

Q—What conditions have to be met before you can deduct an educational expense? I'm thinking of signing up for a course that will help in my work.

A—For education to be a deductible item it must either be required to keep your present salary, status or employment or it is taken to maintain or improve the skill required in your present work. Education taken to meet the meminimum education requirements of your present job or that qualifies you for a new job or business is not deductible.

Q—My father died last March. Will a 1968 tax return have to be filed for him?

A —A return will have to be filed if his income was $600 or more for the year ($1,200 or more if he was 65 or over). If a return is required, it should be filed by the executor or administrator of the taxpayer's estate or his legal representative.

Q—My son has a small scholarship that covers part of his college tuition. Will he have to report this as income or will I since he is my dependent?

A—Most scholarships are not taxable, If your son's scholarship happens to be taxable, however, it will be counted as his income not yours. He would report it on his own return. To find out whether your son's scholarship is taxable or not, check with the person or organization granting it.

Q—I just started in business for myself after years with a large company. Would the fact that I'm covered by Social Security prevent me from setting up my own retirement plan?

A—No, a self-employed person covered by Social Security is eligible to set up his own retirement plan.

A—When tips amount to $20 or more a month, they are subject to withholding tax like other income from salaries and wages. Report them to your employer and he will make the necessary adjustment in your paycheck.

The Weekly Message Of Inspiration

GUY V. CASKEY
Church of Christ, Mary Ellen at Harvester

IS CHRISTIANITY RELEVANT TODAY?

King Herod Agrippa II said to Paul: "Almost thou persuadest me to be a Christian." And Paul replied: "I would to God that not only thou, but all of them also who hear me this day were altogether such as I am, except these chains." In our day the Bible is often dismissed as a book unrelated to our lives and needs. It is regarded as largely irrelevant, having little to say to us in these modern times. In actuality the Bible is the most universally understood and comprehensible document that has ever been produced. There is almost an unbelievable demand for the Scriptures and its meaningful message to us. Last year, 1967, there was a total of almost 150 million copies of the Scriptures distributed. But Christianity is relevant. Truth is never obsolete. What could be more pertinent, or applicable, than that people who are entangled in sin can change their relationship by obedience to the gospel and be made free from sin's guilt and loosed from its consequences?

Christianity calls upon men to "set their affections on things above." There are higher values than food and drink. There is a better philosophy than "eat, drink and be merry." And what could be more timely or necessary or up-to-date than: "As ye would that men do to you, do ye even so unto them:" "keep thyself pure;" "provide things honest in the sight of all men;" work with your own hands that you may have to give to them that need." Christianity provides the highest and noblest standard of conduct to be found in the world.

EVER STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

We believe that freedom is a gift from God and not a political grant from government. Freedom is neither license, nor anarchy. It is control and sovereignty of oneself. No more, no less. It is thus consistant with the Human Relations Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

Measles Clinic Open Today

Today will be an important day insofar as the future health and physical well-being of Pampa children are concerned.

Parents of all children from one to ten years old are urged to take them to one of the two free clinics to be held from 1 to 5 o'clock this afternoon at Baker elementary school and Pampa Junior High School.

Competent medical personnel will be on hand to administer the measles shots. They say it should take only one injection for life-time immunization.

The Pampa News has published a registration form for pre-school children. Registration forms for school-age children were sent to their homes during the past week.

Factual Benefits of Fluoridation

At the risk of cluttering up a clear-cut emotional issue with a lot of facts, the Cleveland, Ohio, Public Schools have released the results of a study of the effects of fluoridated water in that city.

Covering 800,000 children from every school in the system, it is said to be one of the most complete studies ever made in the 23-year history of fluoridation of public water supplies.

In 1955, children beginning school in Cleveland had an average of 3.4 decayed, extracted or filled teeth. Fewer than three children in 10 entered school with perfect teeth.

The following year, the city began fluoridating its water. By 1962, kindergarten children were averaging only 1.3 decayed, extracted or filled teeth. Nearly six out of 10 had perfect teeth. That was an impressive 112 per cent increase in children with perfect teeth and a 61.7 per cent reduction in defective teeth.

Similar improvement was found among older children, whose baby teeth had been replaced by the only other set of natural teeth they will have for the rest of their lives.

"The findings," sums up the report, "are even more gratifying than the rosy expectations of the more ardent believers in fluoridation."

Nevertheless, U.S. population is increasing 3½ times faster than the number of dentists, who can't keep up with the demand for their services, especially now that half the population is under 20 or over 65, the age groups most needing dental care.

It is estimated that 97 million people in the United States today have decayed teeth that require treatment. Over 20 million Americans have lost all their teeth.

If the Communists are behind fluoridation, they still have a ways to go before completely sapping the fiber of the nation.

What's 'Half' Private?

A State Department official has recommended that some functions of the Agency for International Development (AID) be handled by a semi-private corporation, Osborne T. Boyd, a high ranking official in AID and an "expert" in housing, told an audience of the National League of Insured Savings Associations that this concept has already been incorporated into the Federal National Mortgage Association (Fanny Mae) and is being considered by the post office. He reasoned that the extension of the idea would be to the benefit of AID functions.

We appreciate Mr. Boyd's efforts to try to return a segment of the authority seized from private enterprise by big government, but we certainly question whether there can be any such thing as a semi-private corporation. It might be said that the firms, colleges, hospitals, and many other institutions of American economic life have been run as half-public and half-private institutions for many years. All we need do to see the ruinous effects of such an unholy alliance is to look at these very institutions today and compare them with the same institutions as they were before the government got into the act as subsidizer and guarantor.

Mr. Boyd is merely recognizing the obvious fact that the American tax payer is fed up with the ever spiraling costs of policing the world and the ever tightening controls. He knows that this solution would merely put the shoe on the other foot in the door and the politicos could still retain control by the power inherent in funding the private sector of these so-called semi-private corporations. The tax payer is in revolt and all of the subtle and not-so-subtle threats by the government (federal, state and local) to withdraw funds for local projects, only adds fuel to the fires of discontent.

A corporation, like a nation, cannot long endure (as a free entity) half slave to the state and half free. Freedom cannot be divided into pieces like a pie without destroying the flavor of the whole pie. The nature of freedom is inherent in the nature of God and who ever heard of a "semi-private" deity?

Crime—Shadow And Substance

A federal court has told the New York Police Department that it may not station uniformed policemen in two 42nd Street bookstores suspected of selling hard-core pornography under the counter.

"The activities of the police here constitute a restraint upon freedom of expression in violation of the First and 14th Amendments," said Judge Frederick van-Peit Bryan, adding that it amounted to "advance censorship."

More interesting than the two cases themselves, however, is the fact that the police told the court that 47 other Times Square bookstores deal in the same material and that it was the intention of the department to station an officer at each of these stores.

New York has a lot of policemen — more than 25,000—but it is still doubtful that it has so many that it can spare 49 of them to stake out shabby bookstores where the criminal element usually consists of grayflannel junior executives browsing away a lunch hour.

Undoubtedly, many New Yorkers could suggest 49 better things they could do—like patrolling 49 streets that people are afraid to walk down, or 49 apartment buildings where locked doors are only minimal protection against prowlers, or 49 areas where no decent citizen in his right mind goes after dark, or tracing 49 missing teen-agers who have disappeared into the hippie world.

Or perhaps New Yorkers, like the rest of the nation, are waiting for the presidential candidate who wins the law-and-order derby to solve the problem of crime for them.

The Golden Rule

The Golden Rule relates to self. It is a rule of conduct governing ones own actions with respect to other individuals. The Golden Rule cannot be imposed by one upon others. Taught, yes. Imposed upon other than self, never. Attempt to impose the rule upon others and you have, in the attempts itself, already violated the rule. The Golden Rule simply means, observing the other individual's right to make and carry out decisions with respect to what belongs to him in the same way you would want him to observe your right to make and carry out decisions with respect to what belongs to you. The Golden Rule is a property concept. It is a moral absolute.

The American Way

By D. R. SEGAL

You doubtless have been wondering why we have not reasoned together on the subject of the Pope's position anent The Pill. It is not, regardless what you might have thought, that I am too chicken to get into this treacherous area. But it has been my idea that the controversy is entirely a parochial one between the head of the Roman Catholic Church and the millions of men and women who, without known physical compulsion, choose to believe that he is the successor to Saint Paul and infallible in matters of faith and morals. It occurs to me that anyone who chooses not to believe these propositions is entirely free to walk into the First Baptist Church next Sunday and address his God from new surroundings.

I suppose I have missed the point, as usual, but what is the point in a noisesome and purposeless attack on the Papal pronouncement from people who still, by virtue of their own voluntary association, accept the system of belief and discipline within which the Pope handed down his pronouncement? One might as well insist upon belonging to the American Legion and refuse to salute the flag.

This is not written in defense or criticism either of the Papal decision or the structure and discipline of the Roman Catholic Church. These, it seems to me, are entirely the concern of Roman Catholics. I should wonder, however, what the "faithful" laity and clergy might wish to accomplish by the controversy. It is entirely unlikely that a reversal will be forced upon Rome. I should think that if the Papal pronouncement on birth control shook the establishment, a reversal by Rome because of the pressure of public opinion would entirely destroy it. The Roman Church cannot be governed by plebiscite for the same reason the 10 Commandments cannot be amended in the ballot box for they are both—if you believe in them—a matter of supernatural expression and entirely removed from the opinion of mankind.

A number of Roman theologians and laymen have sent me tracts recently, some of them completely unintelligible to me for the same reason quadratic equations are not part of my bag: I'm not smart enough to catch on. But I wonder why my good opinion is being solicited. Am I to write Rome or compose an editorial which, in the company of thousands of others, will cause the Pope to say he made a terrible mistake, sorry? I have answered a few of these authors and asked them why they didn't become Presbyterians if they had lost touch. They haven't answered.

There may, to be sure, be one area in which all of us can claim a proprietary interest in birth control. As taxpayers we are obligated to care for the impoverished, the lazy and the shiftless all over the place. If one were assured there would be fewer of these to support if birth control were widely practiced, we might with propriety get into the argument. But it is just as likely that there would be as many charity cases with birth control. It is arguable.

A cruel dilemma presents itself, assuredly. The resolution will come only when government ceases to be an instrument of charity, here and for each religion to undertake abroad. Perhaps the answer is to care for its own charity cases. Then the result of its beliefs and teachings on birth control will be entirely its own concern and responsibility.

When The New Trainer Takes Over.

A LOOK AT THE BOOK

By DR. BOB JONES

Ali too often our perspective is wrong; our sense of values is distorted. We are so occupied with perishable things. We spend precious time on houses and clothes and food and physical comforts. Clothes wear out, and houses fall down, and food is consumed and forgotten. The body we care for and adorn and make comfortable dies and goes back to dust. We neglect our souls. They go unfed and uncared for. We are not concerned about them. Yet, they are the only part of us which lives forever.

The Lord Jesus Christ condemned such an attitude when He commanded those who follow Him to seek first the kingdom of God and His righteousness; and He promised them that all these needful things would be added unto them. He emphasized the stupidity of spending a lifetime in the pursuit of wealth and the accumulation of earthly possessions at the sacrifice of more important things when He asked, "What shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?" (Mark 8:36). There are men who think themselves too clever to sell any piece of property without realizing a profit on their investment but who set a very poor price on their souls. One night of pleasure, one word of approval from godless men, is the pittance for which they sell the immortal part of themselves. There are women who spend hours every week and more money than they can afford on clothes and beauty treatments who never have a moment for the study of God's Word and the contemplation of His love with which to increase the soul's beauty. While they hang in their closets more dresses than they need, they neglect to provide for themselves a robe of righteousness.

The body goes to dust, but the soul lives forever. The residences which men build for themselves on the earth grow old and deteriorate in value. Fire consumes them; age destroys them. Death comes and takes away the ones who dwell in them. Infinitely more important is a "building of God, a house not made with hands, eternal in the heavens" (II Corinthians 5:1).

How much happier we would be if, viewing our lives in the light of eternity, we would obey the Word of the Lord, "Lay not up for yourselves treasures upon earth, where moth and rust doth corrupt, and where thieves break through and steal: but lay up for yourselves treasures in heaven, where neither moth nor rust doth corrupt, and where thieves do not break through nor steal" (Matthew 6:19, 20).

I see where the Shoshones have finally got sick and tired of hunters coming in and killing off all their game. It's about time. I know a lot of people don't understand that game on reservations is all that some of the Injuns have to eat. They figure it's just a sport.

I remember some years back when I was living on the reservation there was some mighty lean times. Too often was it necessary for me to get up in the morning, go out and shoot a duck or pheasant or sage-hen before we could have breakfast. It was the only salvation between hunger and fullness. But it was not too much of a problem, as the game was plentiful.

Then one year the agent opened up the reservation to "hunters". Why, in one season they had practically cleaned out all the birds. They would not just shoot one, they shot all they could find and carry. To them, it was just a pastime. That winter we found it almost impossible to keep from starving.

Do you think the Indians have anything to say about the hunting regulations? Of course not. They are 'pressured' to allow it, and the people suffer because of it.

The only land left to the Indians is the reservation. Let the hunters find their sport on other lands.

I hope the hunters who are headin for the Shoshone reservation have sense enough to get the message. Those people believe in law . . . now they are going to start believing in justice. If the hunters don't get the message then it could get serious. A empty belly knows no conscience . . .

Election Day: SDS Maps 'Destroy Society' Clamor

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Nov. 5, 1968, may be a test of something more than who will be president of the United States.

On that day we may have a chance to observe how far student activists have been able to carry their people against the system.

This will be the first national post-Chicago confrontation attempt. It will thus be a measure of how effective the militants have been able to capitalize on that exercise.

Significantly, the nationwide protests planned for election day — high school and college walkouts, teach-ins, marches and "strikes," mass "militant" confrontations demonstrations in major cities, soldier protests at military bases and perhaps a march on the White House — — dont aim primarily at Vietnam, race rights, poverty arm of that ruling class and theme will be: "We have got to destroy this society...."

The dissidents are out to push the thought that all elections under the present system of U.S. government are fraudulent.

The problem, as seen by some Students for a Democratic Society leaders, is that "most of our people still believe. . . in the electoral process. . . There is not enough disillusionment. . ."

Activist youth leaders connected with the SDS want to direct the protests in such a way "that people will come to understand that our country's problems are a necessary result of our capitalist system and can't be solved by a change in leadership." They want to show, for example, that on Vietnam the main split between the parties is over tactics on "how best to maintain and extend American imperialism" and how to amke an "imperialist peace which would mean the continued exploitation of the Vietnamest people without the overt use of brute force."

As one group of SDSers put it, "We must speak to the fact that this society is controlled by a ruling class, that the electoral process operates as an that, consequently, there is no national electoral solution which can speak to the real needs of the American people."

As another group of SDS men see it, "The relationship between business and government through such agencies as the FBI and CIA, the Ford Foundation, the various advisory boards, AID, OAS, the Peace Corps. . . and any attempt to oppose capitalist interests from within is predestined to failure."

Not many students this reporter has talked to want to "tear the house down." Though many see a great deal in our society they would like to change, few would go so far as these militants say they want to go.

It will be interesting, therefore, to see how many of the demonstrations take the extreme tack the organizers hope for and how many restrict their protests to spe ific sore spots. This will be considerably mop. significant than counting numbers.

Can Newspapers Bridge The Generation Gap?

By PAUL HARVEY

There are two kinds of protests going on among our young: overt and covert. It is a shame that a few spoiled brats with crude, rude and sometimes violent rebellion tend to discredit the behaving young people who have a legitimate beef.

I have much compassion for school-agers, maturing in a society which urges them to be useful—yet rewards the unproductive.

Winless wars are less than inspiring for those who are asked to do the dying.

The inconsistency of fighting Communists in Asia and tolerating them in Cuba constitutes hypocricy.

So does the disparity between the way some suburban parents talk—and the way they act.

You show a youngster piety in church and adultery in suburbia and it quite rightly turns his stomach.

When he sees the love of money harvesting mostly misery, capitalism appears so unattractive he's likely to start looking around for some other ism.

Last year there was an award-winning movie making the rounds called "The Graduate." Everywhere, I am told, parents were urged by their children to see that movie.

Mostly it was a story about a sensitive boy whom a neighbor—a dear friend of the family — sought to seduce. There was more to it, there were other complications, but the high school and college-agers who sought, subtly or otherwise, to get their parents to go and see that movie were trying to close the "generation gap"; they were crying out to their elders:

"We know what's going on; stop lying to us!"

Al Neuharth is general manager of the Rochester, N Y., newspapers. Recently he challenged the "gentlemen of the press" to close the communication gap.

Mr. Neuharth thinks that we of the press can translate the language of younger Americans so their elders can understand, and vice versa.

"Those of us in journalism or communications represent the very best — perhaps the only—real hope for closing the present communication gap and for convincing tomorrow's leaders that TODAY'S SYSTEM AND TODAY'S SOCIETY ARE NOT ALL BAD."

Let me say this about that: teen-agers have been categorized as teen-agers and, as such, mercilessly maligned.

Every school-age American is fed up to his burning ears with carte blanche castigation and criticism of "teen-agers."

They know that lumping all teen-agers because of the delinquency of some is unkind, unfair and stupid.

So it is.

But what they, lashing back, are inclined to forget is that it is similarly unkind, unfair and stupid to lump all adults as phonies and hypocrites.

In our adult ranks—as in yours—the faithless get more "press" than the righteous.

The press, preoccupied with perfidy, distorts your evaluation of us as it tends to distort our appraisal of you.

But until we can correct our perspective and yours, let the record read that the vast, nonvocal, unorganized, imperfect but mostly decent majority of my generation is holding your world together.

Until the vast, nonvocal, unorganized, mostly decent majority of your generation can get a grip on it.

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT

Danger of Plague Outbreaks Still Present

Although much of the panic that once attended outbreaks of plague is gone, the danger is still present. A case was recently reported in a young girl in Denver. Because it was the first case ever reported in that city, the diagnosis was made with difficulty. The unexpected almost always baffles the doctors at first. in this case, the carriers of the causative germ, the Pasteurella pestis, were fleas that in habited the local fox squirrels.

A squirrel that had died of plague was found and was the key to the correct diagnosis. Further search turned up other infected squirrels. The epidemic among the squirrels was brought under control by baiting traps with peanut butter and dusting the trapped rodents with DDT One more girl in the same area became infected but both girls were saved by antibiotics.

Although this outbreak was quickly checked, the problem is not to be taken lightly because fleas have discovered how to stow away in airplane luggage and migrate from state to state and country to country in a few hours. Most rodents are highly susceptible to plague, but authorities believe that the disease is kept going by certain species of mice that can harbor the germs in their blood without getting sick.

Whenever a case of plague is diagnosed in either a rodent or a human being, the local health oficers take emergency health officers take emergency measures to prevent its spread. Although, as in Denver, recognizing that first case may be difficult, it is beter that this be so than that plague ever becomes so common that your great-aunt can diagnose it.

Q—How are staphylococcic infections spread? What is the best treatment?

A—The staphylococcus, or ordinary pus germ, is a common inhabitant of the skin and the nasal passages. It causes no trouble until there is a break in your skin or mucous membranes. The best prevention is bathing with a soap that contains hexachlorophene. When an infected sore, boil or abscess occurs, drainage must be established. The wound must be treated with antiseptics and kept covered, the dressings must be burned and contaminated fingers must be washed promptly. An injection of penicillin often speeds healing.

World population will surpass 3.5 billion in 1968.

It's Up To You

By HOWARD KERSHNER

Inflationary Wage Pact

The United Steelworkers and the Aluminum Company of America have signed a new wage pact providing an increase of twenty cents the second and thirteen cents more the third year. Upgrading in classification of jobs affecting 45 percent of the workers will increase the pay of these men the first year to 30.9 cents an hour or a full 10 percent of the previous wage.

There were also important increases in fringe benefits, including pensions, lowering the age of availability for pensions to sixty years after ten years of service, an increase in survivors pensions and in benefits for already retired workers. Hospital and surgical benefits were increased and provision made for major medical coverage. One additional holiday with pay has been granted. Three days funeral leave and a substantial increase in benefits accruing to workers when they are laid off have been added. From twenty-four hours of pay each week during idleness, the benefit has been increased to twenty-eight hours of pay.

While an unemployed worker is drawing Unemployment Compensation he is now entitled to special benefits amounting to $52.50 a week, increasing to $80 a week after unemployment benefits cease.

Another new provision is a weekly bonus of $30 during each week of vacation to which a worker is entitled. This is in addition to his regular salary which is paid during vacation.

We have seen no estimate of the total value of the fringe benefits, but a rough guess would be something like half of the amount of the wage increase. If that be true, the total package for the first year would approach 15 percent. The normal expectation for increased efficiency is about 2½ percent a year. This new settlement is somewhere between four and six times that figure. This is wage-push inflationary pressure in extreme degree.

Novarro Fought With Ferocity Despite Age

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Ramon Novarro, Latin lover of the silent screen and early talkies, fought whoever killed him with a ferocity that belied his 69 years.

A trail of blood led through overturned furniture in the actor's living room, into the den and past a huge bronze bust of his greatest role, "Ben Hur," and to the bedroom where his nude body was found early Thursday by his secretary.

The body was sprawled face up on a king-size bed. Nearby were his broken glasses. Police said his head was crushed by a heavy instrument during the prolonged struggle that raged through the actor's $150,000 home in the Hollywood Hills.

There was no sign of forced entry—the front door was locked when the body was first found—and detectives said they had no motive for the slaying. The murder weapon was not found.

The only significant clue today was a bundle of discarded clothing found on the outside chain link fence surrounding the one-story, Spanish-style house.

The clothes — blue denim trousers, a jacket, t-shirt and bloodstained shirts—did not belong to Novarro. If they belonged to the murderer, police were puzzled as to why he threw them away so close to the scene and what he were afterwards.

The star of the original versions of "Ben Hur" and "Prisoner of Zenda" lived alone in the rambling, white-brick home. Detectives indicated Novarro may have let his killer into the home voluntarily.

Garbage cans outside the house were filled with empty gin, vodka and scotch bottles. Novarro had drinking problems in the past and was arrested several times for drunken driving. He once fought a conviction all the way to the U. S. Supreme Court—and lost.

Detectives said they did not know if there was a party at the home the night before. Novarro often entertained friends at night.

During a 1962 court appearance, Novarro's attorney told the judge: "He has solved any psychological problems he may have had and has not driven a car or taken a drink for several months."

An actor for more than four decades, Novarro courted many glamor girls and was the idol of millions during his heyday in the 1920s. He starred with Alice Terry in "Scaramouche," "Lovers" and 'Where the Pavement Ends."

His career faded in the 1940s fand 50s, and he began playing character parts such as elderly Latin roles. Born in Durango, Mexico, he never lost a slight Mexican accet.

The man of the slick black hair, flashing eyes and romantic image never married. Besides Miss Terry, his leading ladies included Greta Garbo, Norma Shearer and Myrna Loy.

CLOSE QUARTERS are shared by three singers appearing in the London production of the controversial musical, "Hair." Perhaps putting three girls into one dress makes it easier for them to participate in the strip scene later in the show.

The Almanac

By United Press International

Today is Sunday, Nov. 3, the 308th day of 1968 with 58 to follow.

The moon is between its first quarter and full phase.

The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter.

The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1783 Congress ordered the Continental Army demobolized.

In 1917 the nation learned of the first World War I deaths of U.S. soldiers fighting at Nancy, France.

In 1936 Franklin Delano Roosevelt was reelected President for a second term.

In 1964 a record 67 million Americans went to the polls, electing Lyndon B. Johnson by the largest majority in history.

A thought for the day: Dorothy Canfield Fisher said, "A mother is not a person to lean on but a person to make leaning unnecessary."

Problems Arise in All Types of Voting

By PRESTON MCGRAW

DALLAS (UPI) — There are two ways to spoil a paper ballot in next Tuesday's general election in Texas and they may assume monumental status if the results are close enough to be affected by thrown-out ballots.

Paper ballots are used in most Texas counties, but in the least populous ones, so that slightly less than half of the state's voters use paper ballots.

Eighteen counties use voting machines and two are also using the new punch card voting machines this time. In one of the counties, Dallas, the punch card voting machines have been the subject of a running battle since the idea of using them first came up.

A voting expert in the Texas secretary of state's office says that in "the new positive check method of voting," there is a space beside the name of party for voting a straight party ticket.

Some Extra Marks

Put an "X" in the space and the voter is not supposed to mark the ballot anywhere else. But some voters are expected to mark some individual names after voting a straight party ticket.

Whether the ballot is thrown out or counted then becomes a "question of intent" which election judges must decide.

The other way to spoil a paper ballot is to scratch out the name of S. Marvin Griffin as George Wallace's running mate and write in "Curtis LeMay."

LeMay actually is Wallace's running mate, but Griffin was his stand-in running mate until Wallace settled upon LeMay.

If a Texas voter writes in "LeMay," why he did it again becomes a question of intent and election judges decide er to throw the ballot out or count it.

A Sore Topic

Thrown out ballots became a sore subject in Texas in 1960 when the late John F. Kennedy won 1,167,567 votes (50.5 per cent; to 1,121,310 (48.5 per cent) for Richard M. Nixon.

There is no way to tell exactly how many ballots were thrown out in that election.

The 1960 situation was even more ticklish in Illinois. Kennedy got 2,377,846 votes (50 per cent; and Nixon got 2,368,988 (49.5 per cent). Some extra votes on Chicago's South Side helped save the day for Kennedy.

With an election situation shaping up this year so that some people believe the House of Representatives may have to settle the presidential race, spoiled ballots in a couple of key states could be crucial.

Blocks Other Levers

Voting machines are harder to make an error on, since when a voter pulls the straight party ticket lever, he blocks the other levers.

The new electronic punch card voting machines are something else again. Some persons, including Dallas Dist. Atty. Henry Wade, fear that some ballots may not be properly punched and they will not be eligible for counting.

Opponents contend that voters are not familiar with them.

Atty. Gen. Wade Martin ruled Friday that Dallas County commissioners have the authority to pay "voting machine consultants" $75 a day plus expenses to answer questions about use of the new machines.

Regular election officials get $1.25 an hour.

HOPE Comes to Ceylon

The staff of the hospital ship SS HOPE is now offering the people of Ceylon a wide variety of medical educational-exchange programs. In the hospitals and elsewhere throughout the island nation, the medical professionals of Ceylon and those of HOPE are working hand-in-hand to help make the life of the people healthier and happier. Teaching is HOPE's primary purpose.

Dr. Robert Nixon of Detroit, Mich., examines a patient aboard the SS HOPE. Dr. Nixon, a veteran of two previous HOPE voyages, is one of 160 U.S. physicians, surgeons and dentists who will volunteer two months of their time to serve in Ceylon.

Jubilant youngster is one of thousands to receive fresh milk as part of Project HOPE's demonstration program in nutrition.

Our Side Even Has 'Hostesses' in War

By DICK KLEINER
West Coast Correspondent

LOS ANGELES—(NEA)—Once a week Cookie Severin puts on her pretty pink uniform with the little pom-pom hat and goes off to war.

It's a strange war, this Vietnam thing. Our side even has hostesses.

This came about when the government began chartering commercial aircraft to take troops to Vietnam and bring them back again. The airplanes came fully equipped—including the stewardesses—and they're still there.

Cookie, who flies for Continental Airlines, volunteered for the Vietnam flights.

She takes off with her other crew members from Los ANGELES AND FLIES TO AN Army or Marine base—McChord in Tacoma, Wash., or Travis in Fairfield, Calif., or Norton in San Bernadino or El Toro near San Diego or even as far away as McGuire in New Jersey— and loads up with 165 soldiers or Marines. They fly to Hawaii, lay over, fly on to either Okinawa or the Philippines for refueling, then fly into one of several bases in Vietnam.

On the way back, Cookie and her plane bring 165 returning servicemen home.

"I enjoy it," Cookie says.

"It's a very personal thing with the girls—they either like it or don't like it. I find it a lot nicer than the same domestic route— I used to fly LA-Chicago— because that can become routine.

"With this, no two trips are ever the same. You learn to expect the unexpected."

Some things, though, have become routine. Cookie— her real name is Ellen Marie and she comes from Salem, Ore.— has learned to expect several marriage proposals on the way over. So far, none of the boys coming home has proposed.

more more

She has also learned to look very interested when they show her pictures of their wives or sweethearts or mothers. And to listen avidly when it is night and the lights are out and some of them can't sleep and want to talk.

"I've often had fellows break down and cry," she says. "A lot of them ask me to read to them from their Bibles."

The ones coming home are different. She says they are tired, almost in shock, and they are consequently quiet and subdued. They can't believe they're going home.

They don't make passes at her—"even those who haven't seen what they call a round-eyed girl in months." They stare at her (she's tall and blonde and worth a stare) and they whistle.

"But they keep their speech in check," she says. "They 'Yes, ma'am' me to death. They're so young— mostly 18 or 19."

Once, in Saigon, things were "pretty sticky" because they were expecting a Viet Cong offensive. The girls were told to stay on the plane. Cookie was on duty at the door when five oficial-looking Vietnamese walked over and motioned to her to come down. She was scared, but she climbed down the stairs.

"All they wanted was gum," she says. "So now I always bring a lot of gum with me. They see me coming and they say, 'Here comes the gum lady.'"

The Army gives each girl two identification cards, with the rank of second lieutenant. That's so, if they're captured, they will be treted as officers.

They receive the standard over-water airline pay. Cookie has heard that one airline pays its girls combat pay, but hers doesn't.

Basically, the flights are the same as in the United States. The only real difference is that the food is provided by the Army, and they don't serve alcoholic beverages.
