Glass Launches Fight Against Bank Holding Companies

Veteran Leader Drafting Plan To Ban Firms

Federal Officials Will Hold Meeting This Week To Seek Agreement On Legislation

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. — The movement for the abolition of bank holding companies gained momentum today when Senator Glass (D-Va) disclosed he was drafting legislation to do away with them and Secretary Morgenthau announced a conference on legislation in this field.

Morgenthau told reporters he was in complete accord with Glass on the principle such holding companies ought to be abolished, but declined to predict the attitude of other federal officials concerned with banking. He said a group of them would meet the latter part of this week to seek an agreement on legislation to regulate or prohibit bank holding firms.

Criticism From FDR

President Roosevelt recently criticized holding companies in the banking field, declaring some community banks were controlled in large financial centers and that the little banker was passing.

Glass, one-time secretary of the treasury and author of much federal banking legislation, said he was considering a five-year period for purpose of liquidation of bank holding companies.

The inter-departmental banking committee, a sub-committee of which will attend the conference late this week, includes Morgenthau, Chairman Marriner S. Eccles of the federal reserve board; Chairman Leo Crowley of the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation; Chairman Jesse H. Jones of the Reconstruction finance corporation and J. F. T. O'Connor, comptroller of the currency.

Glass, a frequent and caustic critic of many administration policies, said his measure was not an

Annual Banquet Of Scout Area To Be Tonight

Every thing was pronounced in readiness last night for the annual banquet of South Plains Boy Scout council at 7 o'clock tonight at Lubbock hotel.

Earl M. McClure, council executive, said that attendance records for such events are certain to be broken unless weather conditions should turn extremely unfavorable.

Paxton Principal Speaker

Charles E. Paxton of Sweetwater, who has been president of Buffalo Trails council for eight years, is scheduled to arrive about noon today and will be the principal speaker. His subpect is to be of his own choosing.

Other features of the banquet program will be the introduction of 1938 council officers, nearly all of whom have been reelected; the presentation of the Beaver award to the scouter whose work has been most outstanding through the past year; and the adoption of the annual budget.

Meetings Are Scheduled

Scheduled ahead of the banquet are a meeting of the council executive board at 4 p. m. and three group meetings at 5 p. m.

Dr. F. B. Malone heads the list of 1938 officers, having been reelected president recently. Others are Jack M. Randal of Lubbock, J. Edd McLaughlin of Ralls, Clyde C. Coleman

Collie Is Bitter In Attack Upon Coleman Man

Eastland Senator Asks That Woodward Keep Quiet And Let Him Do Own Talking

(By The Associated Press)

EASTLAND, Jan. 24.—Admittedly surprised at former State Sen. Walter Woodward's announcement for lieutenant-governor, State Sen. Wilbourne B. Collie of Eastland today scored the Coleman attorney's week-end statement of candidacy.

"I would prefer that he allow me to do my own talking," Senator Collie said.

Takes Sharp Exception

He took sharp exception to Woodward's saying that he (Collie) was not being considered as a candidate for lieutenant-governor.

Collie, who had returned to Eastland from Austin after spending the week with a senate committee inquiring into departmental practices, said:

"The immortal Will Rogers said that all he knew was what he read in the papers, but I don't even know that, for I learn to my surprise that Senator Woodward has been quoted as saying that my name is not being considered among those of candidates for the office.

Assumption Is Incorrect

"In his statement, Senator Woodward said he was entering the race for lieutenant-governor and that he would not announce if he were not sure that no former colleague of his in the senate was going to make the race.

"I served in the senate with Senator Woodward. Therefore, I would qualify as a former colleague of his. Consequently, Senator Woodward's statement implies that I do not intend to make the race for lieutenant-governor.

"Such an assumption on the part of Senator Woodward is incorrect and unauthorized, and I would prefer that he allow me to do my own

Father, Daughter United After 20 Years

Charles F. Williams locked his box of carpenter's tools one day 20 years ago and went home. When he arrived he found his wife and two daughters gone. He hunted them for 20 years and by tracing a telephone number in an aged Omaha directory, he recently found one of his daughters. Here she is with him in Kansas City, Kan., his home. She had thought her father dead.

Funds Shortage Is Reported In Clerk's Office

Balance Of $2,617.06 Will Be Sought From Floyd Jackson's Sureties; Books Audited AUTHORIZATION of the county attorney to communicate with a bonding company as surety of Floyd Jackson, until his recent resignation district clerk, and seek $2,617.06 net balance assertedly due Lubbock county was made Monday by county commissioners.

The court thus took official cognizance of an audit of Jackson's books, which was submitted Jan. 15 and filed for recording Wednesday in the office of Ed D. Allen, county clerk.

Steps To Collect Shortage

The audit, made by Joe Y. Boyd, county auditor, listed ". . . the amount or amounts of shortage as best we could find and we recommend that steps be taken to collect the shortage shown."

Boyd's letter, fastened into a 20-page sheaf of tabulations, was addressed to the judges of the 72nd and the 99th district courts and to the county commissioners court.

In Monday's commission session, court members read where Boyd had listed in his audit total debits of $3,550.72, less credits aggregating $921.46, less $12.20 later paid.

Difficult To Determine

"It has been very difficult to determine the exact amount of shortage that exists," Boyd wrote into the document filed last week.

"We endeavored to retax the cost in each case by the papers filed and found that some of the papers were missing, and the exact cost could not be determined in this way.

"Certified copies of judgments were issued and never charged to the accounts, and unless these were filed in the county clerk's office there would be no other record except a credit on the fee books or file dockets of the district clerk, and if not shown there it would be impossible to determine the amount of such fees."

Numbers Are Listed

Under nine classifications, listed as exhibits A through I, the auditor lists what he terms "amount or amounts of shortage." He lists under each exhibit case numbers. The nine classifications stretch through a total of 863 entries.

Exhibit A lists totals through clerk's fees, jury fees, and steno fees for $2,088.14; exhibit B totals through Charles Metcalfe fees (former clerk) $378.56; exhibit C lists a total of $370.97 for sheriff's fees; exhibit D total certified copy

Torrents Of Death Lick Hungrily At Fleeing Refugees

(By The Associated Press)

ROCKFORD, Ill., Jan. 24—A sudden upsurge of icy waters forced more than 600 families from their homes in three states today.

One life was lost. Highway and railroad traffic was seriously impeded by rivers and creeks which swelled out of their channels in northwest Illinois, Southern Wisconsin and Eastern Iowa.

More than two inches of rain fell over most of the area. A sharp drop in temperature turned the rain to snow, however, and key cities in the harassed areas reported the streams had begun to recede.

The weather outlook was for much lower temperatures and clear skies by morning.

The death victim was Eddie Proctor, 6, caught as he attempted to ford a run en route to school at Amboy, Ill.

Rockford was the hardest hit city in the distressed region.

The situation was not alarming in the neighboring states, however. Police rescued some 50 families from flood menaced homes at Beloit, Wis., where two inches of rain hiked the Rock river and Turtle creek.

Four families received assistance at Janesville, Wis., where some streets were four feet under water.

Occupants Are Rescued

Water surged about a cabin near Clinton, Iowa. Four occupants were rescued.

Protracted rains over Arkansas were halted by falling temperatures and threats of serious flood damage appeared ended. The worst danger was in south Arkansas, where the Ouachita river rose four feet over its 26-foot flood stage.

Four Sections Flooded

Four major sections of Rockford were under water. Police removed more than 500 families from beleaguered homes.

Factories were closed, some trains were rerouted; engineers dynamited an ice jam in the Rock river.

The main business street of Galena, Ill., was covered with water but no one was made homeless.

A score of families fled from homes at Edwards, Ill., as the Kickapoo creek ran wild.

Eight persons, including an 88 year old woman and a seven-months old child, were rescued from two islands in the Fox river at Aurora, Ill.

The government weather station at Chicago predicted temperatures around 10 degrees above zero by

Arkansas Given Relief As Cold Wave Sets In

(By The Associated Press)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Jan. 24.—Arkansas rivers, creeks and bayous poured muddy flood waters across wide lowlands today while overcast skies continued threats of more rain.

Temporary relief came tonight with a cold wave that sent the mercury in the northern part of the state below freezing. The Little Rock weather bureau predicted a low of 32 degrees here and almost as cold weather in the southern sections of Arkansas.

Crest Expected Friday

Most serious damage was expected on the Ouachita river where a crest of 41 feet—15 feet above flood stage—was predicted by Friday. Back waters of this stream swept through bottom lands near Camden today, forcing families from their homes and endangering livestock.

Fourche bayou at Little Rock continued to back into the city limits and many families remained homeless.

The White and Cache rivers in eastern Arkansas were on the rise. Approximately 150 families, most of them white tenant farmers, were forced from their homes east of Biscoe.

The Red river in the extreme southwestern portion of the state neared flood stage at Index and

Golden-Haired Stage Star, Clad In Riches Of Silver And Ermine, Finds Death

(By The Associated Press)

OYSTER BAY, N. Y., Jan. 14.—Tall, golden-haired Rosamond Pinchot, who attained stage fame when she was a girl of 17 as the nun in the Biblical spectacle, "The Miracle," was found dead today, clad in a shimmering white evening gown, silver slippers, and an ermine wrap.

Her death was listed officially by Medical Examiner Lewis F. Ellmore of Nassau county as suicide from carbon Monoxide poisoning.

Boby Found In Car

The body of the 32-year-old stage and screen actress was found seated in her closed motor car in the garage on the grounds of an old Brookville, Long Island estate she had leased.

Miss Pinchot was the daughter of the socially prominent Amos Pinchot, and a niece of former Governor Gifford Pinchot of Perinsylvania. She was the wife of William Gaston, but they were estranged.

Close friends said their marital life might have worried her.

Two Notes Are Found

Two notes were found, the police said, but their contents were not divulged. A piece of garden hose extended from the exhaust pipe into the door, partly open because of the hose, was sealed with a lap-robe.

The actress's two children, William, 9, and James, 6, were in the

Cruel Killer Is Mute As Court Demands Plea

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 24.—John Henry Seadlund stood mute today while a plea of innocent was entered for him in the kidnaping of Charles S. Ross.

Although handcuffed to two federal agents, the prisoner kicked one photographer in the face and launched a kick at another before he was arraigned before U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker.

Declines To Speak

Seadlund declined to speak when Walker asked him if he would plead guilty or not guilty.

"Since the prisoner stands mute, I will enter a plea of not guilty for him," stated Walker.

Seadlund, branded the "most cold-blooded killer" ever encountered by federal agents, was held without bail.

Confessed To Grand Jury

Although the case was set for Feb. 2, prosecutors planned to present his confession to the grand jury Friday as the next step in a program designed to speed him to the electric chair under the Lindbergh kidnap law.

Walker read the formal complaint charging Seadlund snatched Ross near Chicago on Sept. 25, carried him to a hideout near Emily, Minn.; collected $50,000 in ransom, moved

Long Filibuster Is Kept Alive

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Southern santors, openly announcing a "solemn covenant" to block the anti-lynching bill, talked tirelessly tonight through the senate's first evening session of the year.

Administration leaders held the chamber in session late in an effort to break the legislative jam caused by the filibuster against the lynching bill.

Session Finally Ends

The night session finally ended late in the evening in a parliamentary wrangle about whether Senator Pepper (D-Fla) would be making his first or his second speech when he resumed tomorrow. He already had spoken six hours when he quit tonight.

The burden of today's speech making was carried on by Pepper.

He said the bill was a slap at the south, a violation of the constitution, contrary to Democratic principles, out of harmony with the spirit of the New Deal, contrary to the principles of true liberalism and "a tragic prostitution of the processes of government."

Only a handful of senators were present.

The Florida senator said his father was a sheriff and chief of police, and vividly described watching his parent risk his life to save the negro from a mob. But he contended the proposed legislation was unfair to local peace officers.

Three Charged In Mail Fraud Cases Are Freed On Bond

DALLAS, Jan. 24. (AP)—Three men charged with mail fraud in connection with land sales in Brewster county pleaded not guilty before U. S. Commissioner John Davis and were released on bonds of $1,000 each today.

The three were C. E. Edwards, W. O. Sweeton and L. G. Thigpin. Two others are at liberty under similar bonds in connection with the case which will be tried during the February term of court.

Long Prison Sentences Given Pair After Pleas Of Guilty

GILMER, Jan. 24. (AP)—Sam Dugan, charged in connection with East Texas robberies and abductions, pleaded guilty today to robbing Hubert Bullard and was sentenced to 99 years in prison.

Roy Henley, Dugan's companion, pleaded guilty in a similar case and was sentenced to 35 years. He had signed a statement admitting participation in East Texas crimes.

Food Poisoning Fatal For Two

(By The Associated Press)

CARLSBAD, N. M., Jan. 24.—Two deaths, diagnosed as the result of botulism by Dr. O. W. Puckett, district health officer, sent New Mexico state health authorities searching for the source of poison chili, believed to have been the cause.

Botulism—food poisoning—from home-canned chili caused a dozen deaths and endangered nearly a score of lives at Tucumcari several months ago.

Larders Are Investigated

Dr. Puckett said the deaths here and at Hobbs of Patton Mayes, 23, Central City, N. M., and William Mente of Santa Fe were caused by botulism.

Santa Fe health authorities, at Dr. Puckett's request, investigated the larders of the Mente family, but found no evidence of tainted food.

The health officer said he thought it may have been given to the men by some ranch family or friends near Santa Fe, since both victims advised him they had eaten nothing but chili and crackers brought with them from Santa Fe last Monday on a job hunting tour.

Roper Claims Government Is Always Partner Of Business

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Jan. 24. (AP)—Daniel C. Roper declared tonight government "is definitely in partnership with business as its servant and protector and will remain so," in sounding a plea for co-operation in the partnership to enable corporate business to "function for the good of all."

"It is recognized," the secretary of commerce said, "that the limits of government should be extended only as the failure of industrial leadership makes the extensions seem imperative for safeguarding the capitalistic system and the public good . . . When and where business proves incapable of adequate self-discipline, government must respond with constructive legislation."

Judge E. L. Pitts Will Speak At Slaton Session Tonight

SLATON, Jan. 24. (Special) — Judge E. L. Pitts of the 99th judicial district of Lubbock will be principal speaker at a banquet and election of officers for the Slaton Board of City Development at 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night.

Officers and five directors will be selected. A. J. Payne recently was elected secretary-manager for his eighth year. A committee composed of Claud F. Anderson, David Lemon, and C. W. Taylor will be in charge of the program.

Music will be furnished by the Kitten orchestra. Misses Donna Maude Sanner and Mary Francis Landreth will sing, accompanied by Bettie Lou Turner on the piano. Women of the Catholic church will serve.

Japan Is Guarding Extent Of Her Naval Building Plans

TOKYO, Jan. 24. (AP)—Japan guarded the extent of her naval building program today with a brief denial the navy was building or planning "such big battleships" as have been reported.

The foreign office spokesman, who made the denial, declined to mention the tonnage of battleships now under construction.

Short Sales In Market Taboo

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24.—Short selling in a falling stock market will be virtually taboo under regulations issued by the securities commission today.

A short must sell stock at a price at least 1-8 of a point above the price of the last sale, say the regulations, which go into effect on February 8.

Most Cases Outlawed

This was the effect of outlawing all except rare cases of short selling in a declining market, because when prices are going down, shorts will find it impossible to sell at figures higher than the previous sale.

It will not affect short selling on a rising market, however.

SEC officials explained informally that shorts have a desirable, stabilizing effect on a rising market, tending to prevent harmful booms.

The aim of the new regulations, it was indicated, was to prevent short selling from converting a falling market into a demoralized rout.

Interstate Action To Control Oil Production Being Sought

HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Jan. 24. (AP)—Representatives of eight states and the federal government launched at a governors' conference here today conversations aimed at interstate action to control oil production.

Gov. E. W. Marland of Oklahoma, sponsor of the meeting, told conferees the annual consumption was out of balance with the rate of discovery and warned even a temporary shortage of oil in the United States would be "disastrous."

John Milton Is Sworn In As Senator; Charge Is Hurled

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. (AP) — John Milton, a Jersey City lawyer, became the junior senator from New Jersey today in the face of a labor charge that he was "unfit" to hold public office.

Milton, associate for many years of Jersey City's Mayor Frank Hague, was sworn in by Vice-President Garner, who immediately thereafter referred to the elections committee a protest filed by labor's Non-Partisan League.

Damaging Air Attacks Claimed By Both Sides In China War

SHANGHAI, Jan. 25. (Tuesday) (AP)—Both Chinese and Japanese reported a series of damaging air attacks in widely-separated areas today as the war was stalemated on the ground.

The Japanese reported raids in northern, central and southern sectors, while the Chinese said their planes were active principally along the Yangtze river above Nanking.

Explorer Believes That Six Airmen Are Alive In Arctic

SEATTLE, Jan. 24. (AP)—Explorer Vilhjalmur Stefansson said today he believed the six Soviet airmen lost in the Arctic since last August 13, still may be alive.

"It is a 50-50 chance they landed without being killed," he added. "And, if they landed without being killed, it is a 50-50 chance that they still survive the Arctic."

Two Students Are Killed As Boulder Strikes Building

WELCH, W. Va., Jan. 24. (AP)—A ten-ton boulder rolled down a mountain and tore through two stories of the Elkhorn negro high school today, killing two students.

Three other students and a teacher were injured.

Three Jurors Are Accepted In Murder Trial At Panhandle

PANHANDLE, Jan. 24. (AP)—Three jurors had been accepted tonight in the murder case against Ben Chapman, former Borger policeman, charged with slaying Constable Lee Hudson of Borger.

Attorneys for Chapman, who pleaded not guilty, indicated the defense would hinge its case on the contention of insanity.

Funeral For L. J. Ballard Is Held At Hale Center Monday

Fantastic Story Of Abduction As Related By Oklahoma Man Is Declared Mistake

(By The Associated Press)

HOLDENVILLE, Okla., Jan. 24.—A spokesman for the Clay Patterson family, who declined to permit use of his name, said here tonight the Wewoka and Holdenville business man was not kidnaped and taken on a 2,000-mile ride by two men, as Patterson had related after a four-day disappearance last week.

A highway patrolman picked him up near Fanshawe, 46 miles east of McAlester, last Wednesday.

In a prepared statement, the spokesman said Patterson "made a mistake when he told the fantastic story of his abduction, but his condition was such that he was not held responsible."

The statement said Patterson, 42-year-old motor car dealer, was weak from a recent illness and "disturbed by a financial strain that had become magnified in his mind," and that Patterson "temporarily lost his equilibrium and

Man Lands Himself In Local Jail After Inquiry Is Made About Stolen Trailer

An elderly merchant and a "friend" were dining, so a story goes.

"Say, did you ever find out anything about that money that was stolen from you about 15 years ago?" the friend queried.

"Not till just now," was the merchant's reply, "I had never told a soul about it."

Monday a 24-year-old man walked into the sheriff's office and inquired about a trailer, giving a detailed description to Sheriff Tom Abel.

The sheriff remembered the trailer had been found abandoned in a cotton field "two or three months" ago near Idalou and had been loaded with a bale of unginned cotton stolen from the farmer living there.

Sheriff Abel questioned the man more closely, then searched him. The sheriff found on the man's person a copy of a grand-jury indictment alleging he stole the trailer. The indictment was returned at Bonham.

He told officers he had been served with a copy of the indictment. Authorities theorized

The Woman's Angle

by Margaret Turner

HOW much do you spend annually beautifying yourself? The average man spends $21.65 and 201 hours annually on his face and hair. Women average $29.60, according to statistics compiled by L. J. Ray, Chicago scalp specialist.

"The essential differences in their viewpoints lie in the fact that men refer to the process as "keeping fit," or by saying that "one must be presentable." Women admit that it's for beauty's sake that they must join the program," declares the specialist.

To determine how many women spend to become prettier is an impossibility. Mr. Ray estimates, however, they spend three to four times as much time as men.

We think statistics such as these are silly. How can Mr. Ray determine the average man in America and if he determined him how could he count his brothers? However, keep account of your beauty cost, it might surprise you at the end of the year.

IN THE MAIL

PLEASE make the following corrections for the Monroe Home Demonstration club. I did not say the women quilted five (5) quilts on Thursday, January 20, at Mrs. Milams. I said we quilted one (1) quilt January 20. The club had previously quilted four (4) quilts which made a total of (5) quilted for her home.

I also said the next meeting would meet at 2 o'clock January 25, and you printed it at 3 o'clock. I am sure you did not do this intentionally, but since the women of the club know both statements are wrong, I wish you would please correct both. I thank you. Sincerely yours, Mrs. A. L. Faubion, reporter.

Dear Mrs. Faubion: Thanks for writing. Mrs. Boyd knows enough about sewing to mend her hose if the needle is large and the room is well lighted, but she admitted after a few minutes thought that quilting five quilts in one afternoon would be a gigantic task, however not too great for the Monroe club. We're sorry about the mistakes; they were unintentional. Write again some time when we please you.

DEAR Miss Turner: Put my name next to that of the Tech professor who enjoys your unique column (although I am still stunned by the score I failed to make in your recent spelling test.) Were it not for your and The Plainsman I should be tempted to return to my home town paper, even at the cost of news twelve hours late.

Will it be of any interest to your readers to learn that the Junior High Choral club, forty-five voices, directed by Mrs. M. E. Ware, will broadcast from KFYO Thursday afternoon at 5:15 o'clock? Mrs. Ware is proud of the group and we would like to have as many appreciative listeners as possible realize what excellent work she and her co-workers are doing. Talent from this and other Lubbock schools will be presented during the winter.

Mr. Young's enthusiasm and confidence in the progress and business stability of the South Plains equals that of The Plainsman, hence the removal of his family from Dallas to the Hub of activities and the transfer of a son who has been matriculating at Austin, quite successfully, to Tech where he can benefit by the excellent opportunity it offers to embryo engineers.

Much success to you in your efforts to please and to enlighten your readers including an admiring newcomer, Mrs. George J. Young.

MRS. Young, after reading your nice letter we walked to the window and watched sand clouds piling in the north and wondered if Monday's weather has caused you to wish you hadn't moved to Lubbock. We like your spirit. Newcomers like you and your family are responsible in a large masure for the phenomenal growth that our city has experienced in the last few years. We'd like to hear from you again.

DEAR Miss Turner: I am glad of this opportunity of saying a few words of praise of your "corner" in the Avalanche. I think I enjoy The Woman's Angle as much if not more than any other part of the paper. Your ever witty criticisms seem to hurt no one, at the same time are both entertaining and instructive. I even watch for your recipes from time to time. Sincerely, Mrs. D. B. Thompson, Slaton, route one.

Weddings, Parties Being Announced

Announcements of weddings and parties for brides-elect are of interest here.

Miss Eugenia Smith of Plainview, bride-elect of L. J. (Lefty) Sollis of Lubbock is being honored daily with parties in Plainview. Several of her former classmates at Texas Technological college are planning courtesies here but are waiting until after examination week to announce definite arrangements.

Mrs. B. F. Jarvis entertained with a gift tea Saturday afternoon in her home honoring Miss Smith. Mesdames Elmer Sansom and Herbert Dysart were other hostesses.

Saturday morning Misses Ruth Cunningham and Hazel Havis entertained with a coffee in the home of Mrs. F. W. Vanderpoel in Plainview.

The wedding is to take place in Plainview February 6.

Gideon—Whigham

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Juanita Whigham, formerly of Lubbock, to George W. Gideon of San Angelo that took place December 28 in Winters.

Mrs. Gideon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Whigham of Winters, made her home with an uncle and when they lived in Lubbock.

Childers—Day

Word has been received here of the marriage of Miss Lela Day, a former resident and student at Texas Technological college, to Young Childers of Odessa. Mrs. Childers is a teacher in the Odessa schools. The marriage, which took place in Breckenridge December 27, was announced last week.

The couple is at home in Odessa where Mr. Childers is employed by an oil company.

Christian Circles Meet On Monday

Circles of the First Christian Woman's council, in separate meetings Monday afternoon, studied Romans 10:14-21.

Eleven women, including a new member, Mrs. H. E. Harrington, attended a meeting of Circle 1 in the home of Mrs. Paul Morris, 2006 Main street. Mrs. K. M. Renner presided for business and Mrs. Roxie Crausbay taught the lesson.

Mrs. H. D. Phillips, 1626 Sixteenth street, was hostess to 18 members of Circle 2 and two guests, Mrs. H. G. Gantz, wife of the new pastor of the church, and Mrs. T. Teal, council president. The group met at 1 p. m. for lunch, disbanding in time for the women to attend meetings of other circles if they wished. There was no lesson.

Mesdames Gantaz and Teal and Mrs. N. L. Benson were guests at a meeting of Circle 3 in the home of Mrs. Jim Williams, 1801 Twentieth street. Mrs. R. V. Williams taught the lesson. Nineteen members attended.

Circle 4 met in the home of Mrs. Charles Files, 3315 Twenty-first street, with 15 women present. Mrs. E. L. Pitts was lesson chairman. Refreshments were served.

Executive Luncheon Is Given For Baptists

A monthly business meeting of the First Baptist Women's Missionary society at the church Monday afternoon was preceded by a luncheon at the activity center attended by 30 members of the executive committee.

Mrs. C. E. Hereford led in prayer at the luncheon. The committee planned a social. Various committees within the group held business meetings before going to the church for the general meeting.

Baby Recovers From Operation Performed When 3 Days Old

PORTLAND, Ore., Jan. 24. (AP) — Jerry Lee Wiley, 10 days old today, was recovering from an appendectomy performed when he was only three days old.

The operation, believed by doctors here to be the earliest surgical removal of an appendix on record, was performed on the infant by Dr. W. H. Bueerman last Monday while Portlnd newspapers were closed by a printers' strike.

The patient was apparently well on the road to recovery and had been taking nourishment for three days when the case was made public Sunday.

Jerry Lee, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Wiley, was born Jan. 14. The next day he became violently ill, and invesigation disclosed a pulpy mass in the region of the appendix.

Dust Storms Sweep Oklahoma As Cold Wave Hits Monday

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 24. (AP)—Dust storms from the north swept across Oklahoma's Panhandle today in a cold wave that followed heavy rains which flooded parts of eastern and southeastern Oklahoma.

A duster worse than one which struck yesterday raked Forgan, cutting visibility to 150 feet at times. By noon, the dust had drifted in high over Oklahoma City.

While rains ceased and flood waters began to fall, traffic on some state and federal roads was at a standstill.

CATHARTICS GOT YOU DOWN?

If you have common constipation, due to lack of bulk in the diet, harsh purgatives don't get at the cause of the trouble. Often they leave you weakened.

It is better to eat a natural laxative food. Try regular breakfasts of Kellogg's All-Bran. It contains vitamin B1—the intestinal tract's great tonic. And All-Bran provides "bulk." It absorbs moisture, softens like a sponge, and forms a mass that aids elimination.

Eat this crunchy cereal every day, drink plenty of water and join the "regulars." Made by Kellogg at Battle Creek.

"I AM ONE OF THE MILLIONS WHO PREFER CAMELS" SAYS RALPH GREENLEAF
WORLD'S CHAMPION IN POCKET BILLIARDS

"HEALTHY NERVES ARE A MUST WITH ME!"

FOURTEEN different times the news headlines have flashed: RALPH GREENLEAF WINS WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP.

In a special interview during his recent championship play in Philadelphia, Ralph said: "I'd say the most important rule in this game is to have healthy nerves. And on that score, I think, Camels have a lot extra to offer. One of the main reasons why I've stuck to Camel cigarettes for twenty years is—they don't ruffle my nerves."

And America as a nation shows the same preference for finer tobaccos that Ralph Greenleaf does! Camels are the largest-selling cigarette in America

Fencing experts, too, appreciate Camel's finer tobaccos. As BELA DE TUSCAN, the famous instructor, says: "Fencing is very tiring, and I welcome the quick 'lift' I get with a Camel."

"The way these light boats bounce around knocks the daylights out of my digestion! Camels help my digestion to keep on an even keel," says MULFORD SCULL, outboard motorboat racer.

JAMES L. CLARK, famous scientist and explorer, says: "I always carry plenty of Camels with me into the wilderness. 'I'd walk a mile for a Camel!' Many's the time I've done it."

HELEN HOWARD, top-flight spring-board diver, of Miami, Florida, says: "Camels don't irritate my throat—not even when I'm sitting around in a wet suit, a target for irritation."

DO PEOPLE APPRECIATE THE COSTLIER TOBACCOS IN CAMELS?

● A matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic.

HE IS COUNTED THE GREATEST POCKET-BILLIARD PLAYER OF ALL TIME. Here Greenleaf executes a difficult massé shot, requiring split-hair accuracy, faultless stroking, and healthy nerves. And the world's two famous masters of the cue—champion Ralph Greenleaf and the 18.1 balkline billiard champion, Willie Hoppe—are both Camel smokers.

Terry Fugitive Nabbed Sunday

(Special To The Avalanche)

BROWNFIELD, Jan. 24.—Howard Atchinson, 32, who escaped from Terry county jail Wednesday and had escaped from an Oklahoma prison farm Oct. 25, was captured near Anadarko Sunday apparently on pick-up order issued by Sheriff C. D. Gore of Brownfield.

Sheriff Gore had broadcast descriptions of the man and the car he was thought to be driving from Duncan, Okla., Saturday night, and from Oklahoma City Sunday.

Returned To Prison

Atchinson was arrested with three other persons when highway patrolmen halted him on a reckless driving charge, the Associated Press reported from McAlester, Okla. According to the dispatch, he was returned to McAlester penitentiary early today. He had escaped from a prison road camp near Antlers in October.

Sheriff Gore, called back here Sunday on business, will leave this afternoon for McAlester. He will determine whether the car occupied by the convict at the time of capture was that stolen in Brownfield the afternoon of the escape and owned by Rex Headstream. If he cannot arrange for transfer of the prisoner back to Brownfield from the Oklahoma prison, he will ask for his custody after his sentence there has been served, the sheriff said.

The convict is serving five years' sentence in Oklahoma and has 46 years stacked against him in Texas, said Sheriff Gore, who was holding the convict in custody in Brownfield on three forgery indictments.

The escape from Brownfield jail was made while carpenters were working on the jail building. The door had been left open and Atchinson apparently bided his time and walked out when no person was watching. He walked from the building and entered the Headstream car.

A car later was reported stolen from Scoggin-Dickey Motor company in Lubbock and officials considered it likely Atchinson had abandoned the Headstream car and stolen another there, but failed to find an abandoned car.

South Plains Debaters Will Stage Meet Here Saturday

Lubbock high school debaters will be hosts to other South Plains high school debaters Saturday in a one-day meet opening at 9 o'clock in the high school. J. W. Reid, debate coach, will be in charge and Kline Nail, debate teacher, will assist.

All high schools of the area are invited to send as many teams as they wish, provided they notify Reid of the number they are sending by Friday. Each team will debate three times. Teams will alternate in debating and judging. Several teams of the Lubbock school will debate.

First Application Is Received For Fair

First applicant for space in the Merchant's building for the 1938 Panhandle-South Plains Fair in the early fall, was received Monday, officials of the association announced.

Waples-Platter Grovery Co., in a letter, explained they wanted "to get in on the ground floor," in the proposed new building; hence their application nearly nine months ahead of the fair.

Officials recalled that many more applications for space in the Merchants building were received than could be filled.

While plans for a new building to replace the Merchants structure, still are tentative, it is the expressed opinion of association officials that it will be erected.

The type and size of the building, however, are matters yet to be decided, although the first of a series of meetings leading to detailed plans probably will be held this week. The size will be determined by the indicated demand for space. The present frame Merchants building will be razed and the materials salvaged probably will be put into a new home for the ground caretaker.

January Building Figure Is Showing A Steady Incline

The last week in January started its building program Monday with authorization by City Building Inspector Jim Reid of construction and repairs estimated to cost $2,484. The January figure, steadily climbing toward the $100,000 mark, was boosted to $88,747.50.

Four permits were to: W. E. Foster, owner, and W. E. Allen, contractor, to construct a one-story frame residence at 112 Thirty-third street, $850; G. L. Sutton, owner, and Lydick Roofing company, contractor, to reroof residence at 2308 Eighth street, $295; O. J. Aycock to construct a one-story boxed residence at 1918 Fifth street, $225; and Economy Mills, owner, and L. W. Squyres, contractor, to construct a one-story circle top warehouse at 1403 Avenue B, $1114.

Gulf States Life Insurance Company

Dallas, Texas

January 22, 1938

TO OUR ESTEEMED STOCKHOLDERS:

The year 1937 was the most successful ever enjoyed by the Gulf States Life Insurance Company. More premiums were received, more interest earned, and more rents collected than for any other year in the decade of history of the Company. We have ended 1937 with the greatest volume of insurance ever in force on our books.

Our gains expressed in percentage figures are indeed remarkable. The Admitted Assets, every invested dollar of which has admirably accounted for itself in earning power, have increased 21.8%. Our Reserves for the Protection of Policyholders have gained by 24.1%. The Capital and Surplus account, actually an additional reserve for the protection of policyholders, has increased to $685,384.96, or a gain of 8.4%. Our gross premium income has increased 13.2% over that for the previous year. Our insurance in force has increased 6.09% over the total in force at the close of the year 1936. The income from interest, dividends and rents reveals the astounding gain of 44.4%.

Notwithstanding our gratification due to the excellent gains above set forth, we are equally as proud of our saving in operating expenses. Our budget for the year, consisting of all expense items within the control of the management, reflects a saving of 4.3%, a fact which I consider quite an accomplishment, especially when such a feat has been attained with no sacrifice in the efficiency of the "nerve center" departments of the Company.

The investment of our funds in Grade A assets without the surrender of considerable yield continues to require the employment of every resource afforded by the judgment of your management. I am proud to say, however, that the Gulf States Life Insurance Company does not have in its investment account a single bond in default as to principal or interest. With reference to our mortgage loans, the majority of those completed during the year have been insured as to repayment by the Federal Housing Administration, and we consider these loans of quality as excellent as any obtainable.

In our Real Estate account is found our Home Office Building, located at Main and Akard Streets, and consisting of sixteen floors, every one of which, excepting the ground floor, is completely equipped with both summer and winter air conditioning apparatus. This building is a beautiful part of the inspiring skyline of the City of Dallas, and is one of our more excellent investments. The net yield for 1937, even after deducting depreciation, is more than sufficient to maintain the rate of 3½% required in our policy valuation by the laws of the State of Texas for the maintenance of the reserve for the protection of policyholders.

One of our greatest assets is an intangible one, and which is valued at not a single dollar in our financial statement, - our very remarkable agency organization, perfected after the expenditure of considerable time and money and of which our management is justly proud. Only the more fit of our agents have survived our rather severe process of elimination, and you are assured that every Gulf States Representative is not only a producer of an enviable volume of business but also of insurance of good quality as well. In fact, for one recent month which I recall, of the one hundred sixty-eight representatives under contract, forty-four revealed a renewal ratio of 100%, nine, a ratio of 99%, and six, a figure of 98%. This very tangible evidence of the efforts of our field force to not only produce excellent new business but also to keep such insurance in force is the prime factor in the procedure which has resulted in our unusual gain in this respect.

The year 1937 has, then, been one of Progress. A progress without the sacrifice of the financial resources of the Company. A progress without the purchase of investments of assailable value and with consequent high yields. A progress unaccompanied by a frenzied desire to place in force new insurance of questionable merit with apparent disregard of renewal possibilities. A progress, in fact, supported solely by Confidence, - the confidence of the public in the Board of Directors which you elected and in the resultant management; the confidence of the Board and the management of your support, many times demonstrated, of our program of expansion; and the mutual confidence existing between field man and management. Such faith can only result in notable achievement for our Company, and I earnestly bespeak its continuance.

Yours very sincerely,

A. Morgan Duke

Requests For More Road Construction Pour Into State Highway Department

Plans Hinge On Federal Funds

AUSTIN, Jan. 24. (AP)—Requests for more road construction poured into highway the department today although the extent of federal aid hung in the balance.

At a public hearing, Chairman R. L. Bobbitt said the status of federal assistance for the next two years was "dubious" and hinged on congressional action. Funds have been earmarked for the states but President Roosevelt has recommended a 50 per cent reduction.

Would Revamp Program

Should congress follow the president's recommendation the department would have to revamp its program for the next two years, Bobbitt said.

He cautioned county delegations against acquiring more rights of way, pointing out that at one time the amount exceeded by 2,000 miles the construction for which funds were available.

Requests requiring relatively small expenditures were granted by the commission but no commitments were made on others.

Survey Is Ordered

It ordered a survey made for an alternate route over South Main street in Fort Worth to highway 2 and took over maintenance of county road south of Grapevine which connects highways 114 and 121.

Also ordered was a survey looking to possible extension of highway 151 from Menard to Eldorado, sought by Mason-Menard-Schleicher counties group. Spokesmen assured the commission the necessary right of way could be obtained without difficulty.

The commission filed for further study a plea for an improved road connecting Britton in Ellis county with highway 34 and also for completion of improvements on highway 34 east of Ennis, a portion of which has been drained and graded.

New Bridge Sought

A Trinity county group sought construction of a new bridge over the Trinity river at Riverside on a new location of highway 119 right of way for which, spokesmen said, would be guaranteed.

Surveys ordered included one for extending highway 151 from Menard to Eldorado in Menard and Schleicher counties, another for extending highway 77 from Naples to Commerce through Morris, Titus, Franklin and Hunt counties and a third for widening and modernizing highway 27 through Wilson and Gonsales counties.

The commission made no commitment on topping unsurfaced portions of highway 151 in Menard county, sought as an all-weather outlet to East Texas.

Whatley Funeral Services Are Conducted Here On Monday

Funeral services for Ruby Fern Whatley, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Whatley of Woodrow community, south of town, were held yesterday afternoon in Rix Funeral chapel at 2 o'clock. Elder Lift Sanders was in charge and burial was in Lubbock cemetery.

Death came Sunday about noon. The girl had been ill with typhoid fever and had been in a sanitarium here about two weeks.

Other than her parents, the child was survived by three brothers, Earnest of Shallowater, and Hubert and Raymond of Woodrow; and four sisters, Mrs. Adolphus McCoy of Ropesville, Mrs. Houston Mullins and Mrs. Fay Collins of Slide, and Miss Maggie Whatley of Woodrow.

Cooper school at Woodrow, which she attended, was closed Monday afternoon for students to attend the funeral. School trustees acted as pallbearers.

SHOT TO DEATH

McALLEN, Jan. 24. (AP) — Mrs. Narcisa Cantu, member of a prominent pioneer family here, was found shot dead in the kitchen of her home last night. Bullets in her head and chest caused death, District Attorney Rogers Kelley said. No weapon was found near the body, he said.

Looks Like FDR Will Cut Down On Talks And Do More Writing Next Year; Boost In Laundry Bill Also Being Expected

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. (AP) — Folks who like statistics can do a lot of speculating about what's going to happen to White House life next year, on the basis of budget recommendations already approved by the house of representatives.

Based on comparisons between past expenditures and the proposed figures, it looks, for instance, as if President Roosevelt is going to:

Make Fewer Speeches

Make fewer speeches.
Write more letters.
And increase the laundry bill by $27.

The estimated expense for letterheads and envelopes in the current fiscal year ending next June 30 was $1,400. For the coming year it's $1,700. That's $300 worth of additional letters, unless the president is going to write longer ones.

Funds for "speeches and documents," however, shows a 50 per cent decrease—or $500 against $1,000 for the current year. Either Mr. President isn't planning to speak as many times or intends to make his addresses shorter.

As for the executive mansion laundry, the actual cost last year was $5,373. The new estimate is $5,400.

The fund for traveling and entertaining—fixed by law—remains at $25,000, as does the president's $75,000 salary, payable on the first and fifteenth of every month.

EXCHANGE CLOSED

BOMBAY, Jan. 24. (AP) — The bombay stock exchange, closed abruptly Saturday because of a swift decline in prices, remained shut today and directors were understood to favor suspension until the end of February.

Local Officers Are Kept Busy

Burglars and hijackers were busy in Lubbock over the week-end and Monday law enforcement officers and investigators were busier.

Investigating and questioning into the night had failed to uncover any tangible leads into the two hijackings and half-dozen burglaries, one by knob knockers, reported Monday morning to police.

Two Are Held Up

J. L. Lehr of Arkansas and a female companion Sunday night were held up by a man near the Lubbock Municipal airport and Lehr's automobile, pistol, money, camera, and a quantity of tools taken, police were told.

The gun used by the bandit in the holdup was described only as "big" by victims of the hijacker.

The man sped away toward Plainview, but Sheriff Kelly Hooper of Hale county reported no trace of the missing automobile, a 1933 (Ford) V-8 coupe, Arkansas license "unknown," first three digits of Texas license 108 . . ., flag on rear.

The man sought was described as being about 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighing approximately 155 pounds and as wearing a large, light hat, brown leather jacket and gloves.

Burglar Gets Boots

Louis Michaelson, proprietor of the Bargain house, at 815 Broadway, told police a burglar broke a plate glass display window of his shop early this morning, reached in and took a pair of $20 boots.

A residence occupied at 1512 Fourteenth street by Misses Ione Loper and Myrta McCrummen was broken and entered by an intruder who took money and a wrist watch. Bill Mabray, police identifications officer, harassed by numerous calls Monday, said a front window had been entered when the women were at church.

Wood Wrecking yard, at 1605 Avenue H, was entered through a side door Sunday night, but inspection failed to reveal any valuables or other property missing.

Money Is Missing

Shamburger Lumber company, at 719 Thirteenth street, missed $9 from a safe which had been blown by safecrackers a year ago. Entrance Sunday night was through a back roller door, which had been prized open from the bottom. A padlock was broken, as well.

Efforts to open a safe of Cicero Smith Lumber company at 1020 Seventh street, after a knob had been knocked failed, said Mabray, who said the "job was done sometime Saturday night." Entrance was through a back window.

Leger Mill company, at 707 Avenue H, was entered Saturday night, but nothing of value was taken, said Mabray. A back door was pushed open enough for removal of a bar, investigation showed.

Negro Is In Jail

A 29-year-old negro was in county jail, where he had been transferred early Sunday by police who had arrested him for asserted hijacking in the negro quarters.

Scott Funeral Rites Are To Be Held At Lorenzo Today

LORENZO, Jan. 24.(Special) Last rites for G. F. Scott, 63, longtime resident of Lorenzo, will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon at the First Methodist church here with Rev. Aubrey Ashley officiating.

Scott died in a hospital at Lubbock at 6:15 o'clock this morning of heart complications. He had been admitted Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott, married 51 years, moved to Lorenzo in 1927.

He is survived by his wife; three sons, Earl C. Scott of Hobbs, N. M., H. T. Scott of Midland, and W. C. Scott of Miami, Texas; and three daughters, Mrs. Roy R. Abell of Ralls, Mrs. J. L. Wartes of Petersburg, and Mrs. W. T. Nicholson of Enochs.

Highway Patrol Chief To Speak

L. G. Phares, chief of the Texas state highway patrol, accepted an invitation Monday afternoon to address a safety meeting sponsored by Lubbock Safety council here the night of Feb. 2, according to information given by O. B. Conley, council president.

The invitation to appear here was extended on behalf of the safety council by Capt. W. W. Legge, Lubbock district head of the highway patrol.

Plans Are Speeded

Plans for the meeting were hastened, Conley said, because of the large number of accidents which have occurred recently in the vicinity of Lubbock. More than 20 persons injured in such accidents have been treated at Lubbock hospitals within less than a week.

Invitations to interested citizens through the South Plains region to be present and hear Phares' suggestions as to how acidents may be reduced will be extended, Conley said. Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college and state educational chairman for the state safety council, will be invited to preside. The meeting probably will be held at Senior High school auditorium.

Details of plans, however, will be worked out at a meeting of local council committees called by Conley for 7 o'clock Friday night at the American Legion hall.

A volcanic eruption hundreds of miles away may be heard by listening at the ground.

Plainview Bulldogs Invade Lubbock High Court For Important Game Tonight

Grid Letters To Be Presented After Game

Defeated in their last three starts but still with a chance to get back in the running, the Lubbock High school Westerners continue defense of their Big Five Basketball league championship tonight in a game here with the second place Plainview Bulldogs.

Game time is 8 o'clock, the Lubbock high school gymnasium is the place.

As an added attraction, and one calculated to draw upon the football as well as basketball interest, the high school will present letter sweaters and awards to outstanding performers during the 1937 gridiron race. The presentation of awards, by Head Coach Weldon Chapman, will take place immediately after the basketball game.

Cagers Believed Improved

Members of the Westerner squad of last fall's football campaign will march across the court and be introduced at they receive the awards. As a rule, the sweaters are presented during student convocation, with but few outside fans in on the proceedings. Tonight's presentation will be open to the public.

The Westerner cagers, probably none the worse off for valuable experience gained in last week's hard grind in the north Panhandle, will be the underdogs again tonight, but Coach Goober Keyes believes they will show more goal shooting and defensive ability than they have displayed so far this season. After sweeping the opening series with the Amarillo Sandies, the Westerners went to Borger and divided a series with the Bulldogs there last Wednesday and Thursday nights, dropping the second game. They moved into Pampa and dropped both ends of a two-game series to the league leading Harvesters, who have lost but one game in eight starts.

One Loss For Bulldogs

Plainview also has lost but one game, while winning five. Lubbock's three victories and three defeats place the Westerners in third place right now, with Borger fourth with 2 victories in seven games, and Amarillo last with no victories in seven starts.

The Plainview Bulldogs, as a result of their Big Five campaigning, loom as a strong favorite in the district interscholastic league race. The team is made up of tall boys, adept at flipping baskets.

Lubbock's starting lineup probably will consist of L. D. Venable and Robert Allen, forwards; H. P. Ford, center, Dutchy Cawthon and Rusty Johnston, guards. This quintet extended the Pampa Harvesters last Saturday night, losing a bitter 32-31 contest. Ford, with 13 points, led all individual scorers.

To Plainview Wednesday

While Lubbock was dropping two games at Pampa, Plainview was defeating Borger twice by scores of 26 to 24 and 27 to 25. Miller and Hutson were Plainview powers in both victories.

As another added attraction tonight, about 6 rounds of boxing will be presented by Coach Ross Ayer's leather pushers between halves of the ball game.

The Westerners play at Plainview Wednesday night.

Idalou Cage Tournaments To Be Held Friday, Saturday

IDALOU, Jan. 24— (Special) — Eighteen clubs already have sent in entries for the annual Idalou High school invitation basketball tournament scheduled for Friday and Saturday of this week.

Both boys and girls teams will compete.

Towns which have entered one or more teams are Roaring Springs, Crosbyton, Jayton, Robertson, Anton, Spade, Dickens, Roosevelt, Cooper, Ralls, and Tahoka. Other entries are expected up to 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Idalou has one of the best equipped modern gymnasiums in this section, including a public address system and radio broadcasting system, and an electric score board.

G. A. Lowrey, superintendent of Idalou High school, is accepting the tournament entries.

Redskins "Lose" To 12-Man Ft. Worth Cop Team

FORT WORTH, Jan. 24. (AP)—No matter the locale, members of the Washington Redskins, professional football champions, are ready for all comers, they showed in an impromptu "game" at 3 a. m. today against a 12-man team of policemen.

Some of the Redskins last night decided to celebrate the victory they won yesterday over the Chicago Bears in Dallas. They went to a downtown night spot, and there the whistle blew, opening the game, when the management decided the celebration had grown into a disturbance.

On the first play Radio Patrolmen Howard and Brewer, sent to quiet the grid warriors, bounced back through the swinging doors.

Time out! Two radio cars, and four more policemen rush in, but to no avail.

Time out again! Three more squad cars rush onto the field.

Signals! One-two-hike! And over the coppers go for a touchdown. Their 12-man line was too much for the battling gridsters.

Four of the celebrators went to police station to discuss the strategy of the post post-season game. It was there that Ray Flaherty, coach of the Redskins, found them, talked to the blue-uniformed "team" of coppers and got things ironed out.

Damage to the cafe was slight. No complaints were made.

Ralls Enters Cage Play-Off As Cubs Forfeit Contest

RALLS, Jan. 24. (Special)—Ralls, temporarily nudged from the basketball picture in the northern 5-B loop, will be back on the maple wood Tuesday night, when a playoff to decide the north half representative is begun at Littlefield.

Conceded ineligibility of Lloyd Grider, guard on the Brownfield High school team, caused Supt. M. L. H. Baze of the Brownfield system to forfeit to Ralls a Jan. 7 game wherein Brownfield beat Ralls at Brownfield.

That action, based on a certified photostatic copy of Grider's birth certificate showing him over age, restored Ralls to a status of six games played and one lost and dictated the playoff with Littlefield, which also had lost but one game.

At Ralls Wednesday

The second game will be played Wednesday night in the Ralls gym, the third, if a third is required, on a "neutral" floor.

Ralls and Littlefield have lost, under terms of the decision, only to each other. Based on comparative scores, Ralls should go into the series to determine winners of the south loop, Lamesa's Tornadoes, with somewhat an edge. Ralls won Wednesday night over Littlefield 32 to 16, after losing to Littlefield earlier, 25 to 24, said Jimmie Rankin, Ralls superintendent.

Parallel with last year's race in the district was seen. Ralls fell into a tie with Levelland, won a two-out-of-three playoff series and buffeted Lamesa in the district meeting of zone exponents.

In the northern loop are Levelland, Littlefield, Ralls, and Brownfield, in the southern loop Lamesa, Slaton, Post, and Tahoka.

NEW ICE HOUSE

ABERNATHY, (Special) — Construction of a new ice house for Peoples Ice Co., Lubbock, is under way. The building will be of brick, 23x23 feet and 18 feet high. It has a capacity of 120 cakes or 36,000 pounds of ice.

Picard Clips 8 Off Par For Pasadena Cup

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 24. (AP)—Henry Picard, clipping eight strokes off par for the 72 hole distance, won the $3,000 Pasadena open golf tournament today with a score of 276.

Outshooting Jimmy Hines, Garden City, N. Y., his nearest rival, by two strokes, the "chocolate soldier" from Hershey, Pa., marched through today's final 18 holes with a 69 for for a par 71 course.

It was good enough to outstrip Jimmy Thomson, Shawnee-On-The-Delaware, Pa., pro, who kicked away a one-stroke advantage held going into the last round, and win $700 first prize money.

Break Wood's Record

Picard's rounds of 70-66-71-69—276 set a new record for the Pasadena event, formerly held at 278 by Craig Wood.

Hines closed with a rush, and his 67 today, the lowest of the field, moved him from the also-ran class to runner-up to Picard and a purse of $450.

Byron Nelson, who carded a 64 along with Thomson yesterday, finished with a 71 and third place money of $350. Thomson had to be content with $280.

Picard, second high money man in the pro ranks last year and winner of the Argentine open last October, passed Thomson at the turn coming home this afternoon as he shaved two strokes off par 36 going out.

Texan In Money

Horton Smith, of Chicago, winner of the last Pasadena open two years ago with a score of 279, wound up badly today with 73 for 282.

Ben Hogan, Waco, had a score of 284, winning $66.66. Jimmy Demaret, Houston, withdrew.

"Slim Jimmy" McHale of nearby San Gabriel won low amateur honors with 289, turning in a 69 last round and promptly announcing he had turned professional. McHale, one of the best amateurs in Southern California, signed up as assistant to Craig Wood, Rumson, N. J., Country club pro.

Braddock Sets Example For Old Timers

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 24. (AP)—Putting two and two together—and getting four:

REVIVALS—News that aged Jim Braddock licked young Tommy Farr threatens to empty the old folks homes of worn-out fighters. Reports are Jim Jeffries and Battling Nelson are ready to announce comeback campaigns. It's so catchy the ancient Cy Young is convinced he's got his fast one back and is ready to report to a baseball camp.

Meanwhile, Joe Louis is going around town claiming he won't reach his peak until 1962.

Believes Can Repeat

Though many ring smarts believe Farr won and was merely the victim of sentiment Friday night, Braddock gets more amazing with the years. A few hours before he climbed into the ring with Tony Pandy Tommy, Jim was ready to quit to become matchmaker of the Chicago Stadium. Now he's actually convinced he can become the first ex-heavyweight champion in history to regain his title.

But a greater wonder is Mr. Farr. He is getting a great reputation without winning a fight over here. He doesn't even have a manager in a day and age when most boxers have at least two plus a lawyer.

DOUGH AND JOE—Probably the most popular ball player in the game today is Joe DiMaggio. Yet his demand for $40,000 to hit home runs in 1938 fails to get much sympathy from the fans and experts, who think he's taking Colonel Jake Ruppert at too fast a pace.

PICKUP—Sam Snead, ex-West Virginia hill-billy, is being censored because he exercised a golf duffer's prerogative. Slammin' Sam, seven shots over par for his first 11 holes in the Pasadena open, got so sore when he banged his tee shot out of bounds on the 12th that he paid off his caddy and quit the tournament. Everybody's hollering—and the P. G. A. is reported to be framing a severe note of censure.

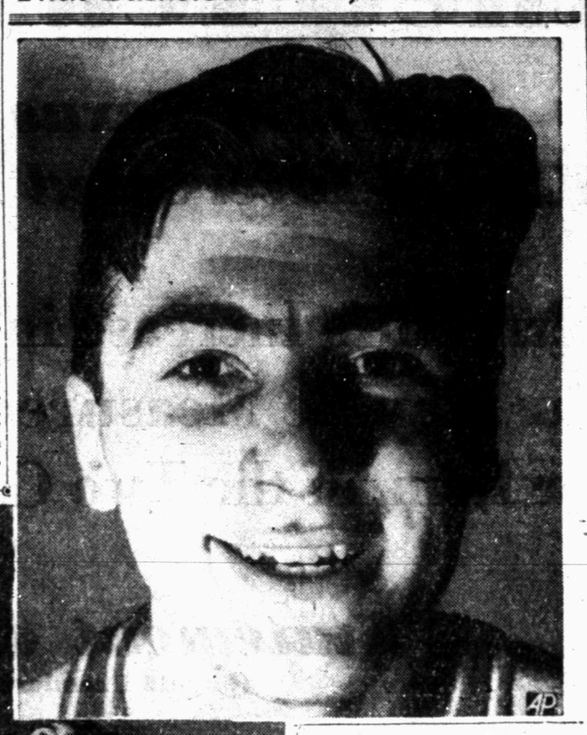

Since when can't a player, star of duffer, pick up?

Double Pays Off $1,804

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 24. (AP)—There was an $1,804 daily double at the Fair Grounds race track here today. Chauvenet, once scratched and then reinserted as an entry, won the second race at a straight mutuel of $18.60 for $2. Spanish Witch, a five-year-old bay mare making the second start of her life, won the third race, paying a straight mutuel price of $67.00. The winners of the second and third races constitute the daily double horses.

Spanish Witch was quoted at 20 to 1 in the Fair Grounds track's bookmaking while in the mixup over whether Chauvenet was an entry no bookmaking price was quoted against him. The track bookmaking department paid off on the second, third and fourth races, The Millay, Sadie F., and Merrily On, as if they had run one, two, three, although the mutuels paid off on Chauvenet, The Millay and Sadie F.

That Basketball Man, Luisetti!

AS BOBBY GRAYSON was to Stanford football—and football in general—so is Hank Luisetti to Stanford basketball—and basketball in general—if not more so. That Luisetti man, for whom basketball laurels as well as scoring points are piling up, is pictured above in typical poses. At the top, perspiring freely, Hankus shows his favorite grin. Below, the six-foot-three forward is in the act of canning a basket. He has scored an average of more than 400 points during the last two seasons. His brilliant 1937-38 record includes 50 points against Duquesne in game won by Stanford, 92-27, and 28 points in U.S.C. game won by Stanford, 65-54. The good-natured Luisetti is winding up his collegiate career with one of his best seasons, and "out west" they talk and write of old Hank like they did, and do, of Sammy Baugh in the Southwest.

Six Convicts Are Sentenced To Die After Futile Break

COLUMBIA, S. C., Jn. 24. (AP) — Judge C. C. Featherstone today sentenced six convicts to die in the electric chair March 25 for the slaying of a prison guard in a futile escape attempt here December 12.

The sentence was mandatory under a jury verdict of murder returned Saturday.

Turkish Grappler On Local Card

Local wrestling gets a new face tomorrow night when Dairam Bey, the Terrible Turk of the middleweights, makes his debut at Sled Allen's Auditorium. Bey, said to be quite a brute at grunt and groan business, takes on Tex Hager, the dumpy Portland, Ore., thresher in the preliminary go.

Also on the supporting card this week is Benny Wilson, the ex-cowboy of Fort Worth, who makes one of his periodical appearances and takes on Otto Ludwig, the big middleweight from Germany.

The main event is just about "tops" for this district—Sailor Moran vs. Otis Clingham. These two veterans of West Texas grappling, who never got along so well with each other, should put on "one of them things" in the main tussle.

Rice Owls Delay Spring Grid Training Until April 18

HOUSTON, Jan. 24. (AP)—The latest spring football training season in the history of Rice institute will be staged by the Owls this year, according to plans announced by Coach Jimmie Kitts.

The spring training season will get under way on April 18, and will last until May 17, limited to 30 days by Southwest conference rules.

"We're facing a lot of work and know it," Kitts said today. "This talk about us having all of our material back and a cinch for a repeat in the title chase is hooey."

Lateness of the training session was due mostly to the fact that the Cotton Bowl game extended the football season this year until New Year's, and the boys need the rest and an opportunity to dig in heavily in classwork.

Shreveport Waits On Galveston

SHREVEPORT, La., Jan. 24. (AP)—Shreveport representatives tonight declined to make an official report on the verbal option the city is said to hold for the purchase of the Galveston baseball franchise of the Texas league, and said the next move in the matter will have to be made by the present owners of the team.

The Shreveport committee met this forenoon with the idea of canvassing merchants in the drive to raise $55,000 but held up all details owing to announcement Galveston fans had a prior right to take over the Bucs.

$20,000 Is Pledged

If the local committee is informed Galveston is officially out of the picture the local drive will be resumed.

Shreveport has $20,000 pledged toward the goal of $55,000. The sale price of the Bucs has been placed at $23,000. It will be necessary to build a grandstand on the site of the present park, and install lights for night games.

Informed that Galveston had failed to exercise its option to take over the team, Henry A. O'Neal, president of the chamber of commerce, said he will call another meeting tomorrow if officially notified of these conditions.

Galveston About Ready To Give Up Texas League

GALVESTON, Jan. 24. (AP)—Inability to raise $35,000 to keep Texas League baseball here was admitted today by a chamber of commerce committee which headed the drive to buy the Buccaneer franchise from the Shearn Moody estate.

The estate asked $20,000 for the franchise, but leaders refused to consider the purchase unless an additional $15,000 could be secured to assure a strong team. The amount raised was $22,500.

A. A. Horne, representative of the Moody estate, said negotiations will be resumed tomorrow with Shreveport through J. Alvin Gardner, league president, who was instrumental in arousing interest at Shreveport to buy the club.

Four Men Are Burned During Explosion At Coal Mine

BECKEMEYER, Ill., Jan. 24. (AP)—Four men were burned, two of them seriously, in an explosion in the Beckemeyer Coal company mine today.

More than 80 men had entered the mine for work shortly before the blast, but officials said all had been accounted for. The explosion, which officials said they believed was due to gas, apparently was of a minor nature.

Written Answer To Protests From U. S. Being Expected

TOKYO, Jan. 24. (AP)—The Japanese foreign office spokesman said today a written answer was expected in a few days to United States protests against Japanese soldiers entering American property in Nanking.

The spokesman said "some necessary steps already have been taken by Japanese authorities on the spot, on instructions from the Japanese government."

Braddock, Farr May Clash In Return Bout

BY EDDIE BRIETZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 24—A return 12-round bout between James J. Braddock, former heavyweight champion and the Welshman, Tommy Farr, in Madison Square Garden April 1, was all but signed today.

Promoter Mike Jacobs said he hopes to have the bout in the bag by Friday when Braddock is expected to decide to accept 35 per cent as his share of the gate instead of the 37 1-2 per cent he is demanding.

Farr also held out for 27 1-2 per cent—just what he got for last Friday's fight—instead of the 20 per cent Jacobs offered, but Tommy who still feels he was the victim of a raw decision last week is so anxious for a return crack at Jimmy, it is not likely he'll let this difference stand in the way of the meeting.

Wasn't Snubbing Braddock

Before going into conference with Jacobs, Farr and Braddock posed for photographers and Tommy apologized to Braddock for not shaking hands with him in the ring after Friday's fight.

Later Farr explained the affair: "I can't see why the people should expect me to kiss Braddock after getting what I thought was a raw decision, but I humbly apologize to Braddock if I hurt his feelings. I didn't see him when he came across the ring and the films will bear me out. I didn't know what the booing was about when I left the ring. If I had known Braddock was up there to shake hands I'd have run back up those steps to meet him."

Tommy plans a short rest in Miami before beginning training for his next bout. Braddock also plans a short trip to Florida with his wife if he agrees to fight Tommy again.

Man Identified As R. H. Vaill Dies Of Injuries In Crash

NEW BRAUNFELS, Jan. 24. (AP)—A man identified from a letter as R. H. Vaill of Astoria, Ill., died today of injuries he received in a highway crash this morning.

He suffered a fractured skull and a broken leg. A letter addressed to Vaill was signed by a daughter, Ethel Mae, and was mailed Jan. 19 from Astoria.

Frank Martinez, 25, Austin truck driver, suffered minor injuries when his vehicle and that of Vaill collided.

Royal Defenders re Driven Out

PERPIGNAN, France, At The anish Frontier, Jan. 24. (AP) — uel, center of a month-long tle, tonight was reported to have n evacuated completely by the ernment in the face of unceasing llery fire.

Insurgent advices said Generalis- o Francisco Franco's troops held ong positions on three sides of abandoned city.

Fight For Heights

The desperate battle resolved it- f into a fight for the surrounding ghts, complete possession of which uld bring automatic control of city.

Bitter fighting for one such ght—El Muleton, southwest of city—was led by American vol- teer troops Saturday. Govern- nt dispatches said the Americans the Washington and Lincoln bat- ions wiped out two squadrons of urgent Moorish cavalry.

An official insurgent dispatch m Salamanca, however, said the erican volunteer units were de- oyed and a third international it — the Walter Brigade — was cimated."

Work on placements along the vir- lly unfortified border were rushed d the number of batteries in- ased as the government protested the insurgents.

No Signs Of Life

n insurgent communique said ervers had reported no signs of in Teruel since Gen. Miguel anda's troops drove down the hambria valley, north of the city, king the provincial capital un- able.

Government troops, however, still e holding two strong positions to northwest, making it impossible the insurgents to enter the city. The air raids which excited the nch concern continued, bringing total within the last few weeks 7 on government cities. A Barce- a communique announced 273 sons were killed and 456 wounded the raids.

At least 80 persons were killed in ek-end raids of reprisal and nter-reprisal and hundreds were unded.

Young Woman Leaves Crutches, Falls And Breaks Leg Again

Miss Virginia Lee Barr left her crutches Monday morning for the first time since she was injured in an automobile accident last August and fell in Sawyer's cafe, 1218 Texas avenue, breaking her left leg above the knee.

The break was in the same place as the fracture received in the automobile accident. She was taken to West Texas hospital in a Rix ambulance.

Miss Barr is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. I. E. Barr, 2112 Fifteenth street, and the sister of Mrs. Lucile Barr Smith, national advertising manager for Avalanche-Journal Publications.

Fifteen Years Of Dabbling With Music May Pay Dividends To Local Resident

Fifteen years of "dabbling with music" may pay dividends to a Lubbock young man.

A standard contract for the latest of his approximately 15 musical compositions, Shadows of Love, has been executed between Morris Scrogin of 2103 Ninth street and Master Music Makers, song publishers of Portland, Ore.

Santa Fe Operator

Scrogin, operator several years with the Panhandle & Santa Fe railroad at Lubbock, wrote the piece and lyrics for it after the publishers had declined to accept his others, the latest being My Sweet Sweetheart.

He sits in the living room of his home, saws on an old violin labeled Stradivarius, 1727, then scribbles funny-looking (to the uninitiated) cymbols on a score sheet before him.

He wrote Shadows of Love after an European tour in 1935 through England, Scotland, Germany, France, and Austria, but only recently attempted to "sell" it.

Piece Is Fox Trot

The melody, a fox trot, probably will be especially adaptive to the wailing strings of dance bands, in opinion of those who have heard Scrogin play it.

Despite his having begun a study of the violin 15 years ago, at Topeka, Kas., music to Scrogin is "just a hobby." He admits "it would be nice if I made something out of it," but professes to believe "those fellows who grind out tunes for a living have sort of a monopoly on the racket."

In his room may be seen physical evidences of his love for music, handed down through his father, who was a violinist. There are racks for music, half-completed songs, scribbling to indicate ideas for lyrics, and books.

The old violin, of course—patched with glue and mellowed with the years—has the prime spot. It "came down" to him as a "bequest of the generations gone."

You may hear it, Shadows of Love—or so Scrogin hopes.

Three Persons Are Still In Hospitals

Only three of five persons injured in an automobile wreck nine miles north of Lubbock near Shallowater about 9 o'clock Sunday night remained in hospitals and sanitarium Monday night.

Mrs. R. J. Swayder, 29, of 1301-A Twenty-third street, most seriously injured in the head-on collision, remained at West Texas hospital and was resting "as well as could be expected." She suffered fracture of the right arm above the elbow, comminuted fracture of the right thigh and compound fracture of the left leg above the knee.

Condition Is Serious

E. C. Finley, 33, of 38 miles west of Hereford, driver of the machine in collision with that occupied by Mrs. Swayder and three other persons, was taken to Lubbock sanitarium and remained in a serious but not critical condition. He suffered comminuted fracture of the right forearm, two scalp lacerations about two inches long, fracture and laceration of the nose and dislocation of the right collarbone.

R. J. Swayder, 38, was showing improvement in his condition, said attaches at the hospital where he remained. A brother, Jerry, 26, was released about noon Monday. A small son of Mr. and Mrs. Swayder was released from the hospital after emergency treatment for minor injuries.

Investigators said they were told Finley was blinded either by lights of the approaching car or by dust.

The engine of the Finley car, a 1929 Ford roadster, was torn off and and the car driven by R. J. Swayder, a 1937 Ford, was damaged considerably. The Swayder car was being driven toward Lubbock.

J. H. Jackson and B. L. Woodell, Texas Highway patrolmen, investigated.

Fatal Blast Is Causing Probe

DEEP WATER, N. J., Jan. 24. (AP) —Company investigators searched through twisted metal and blackened bricks today for the cause of an explosion that shattered a four-story unit of the DuPont dye works and killed at least one workman yesterday.

Another worker was missing and the company said today it had abandoned hope of finding him alive in the wreckage.

To Describe Oder

Four survivors were asked to describe the odor of acetylene gas which they said caused three fellow workmen to remain in the plant during the early-morning lunch period.

While the there were tracing the leak, the first explosion cut loose. Seven or eight other blasts followed.

Charles Forshay, of Central Park, died of burns in a hospital at Wilmington, Del. Raymond Hale, night shift foreman, of Carney's Point, was taken there in a critical condition, and Earl Hale, of Central Park, could not immediately be found in the plant wreckage.

One Man Is Killed When 15 Cars Pile Up In Collision

LEXINGTON, Mass., Jan. 24. (AP) Alfred C. Coughlin, former tax collector for the town of Lincoln, was killed today as 15 motor vehicles piled up in collision on the icy, fog-shrouded Concord turnpike.

State police said Coughlin was killed as he stepped from his car to inspect damage caused by an automobile which had skidded into the rear of his machine. A third vehicle cut him down.

In rapid succession, one car after another then came crashing into line behind the first two stalled machines, until 15 automobiles had been involved.

Two hours after the accident the police did not know how many persons had been injured, or how seriously.

Allotment Of $25,000 On Texas Waterway Is Given Approval

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. (AP) — Secretary Woodring approved today allotments including:

Maintenance of the Louisiana and Texas intra-coastal waterway, $25,000. The funds are to be spent on the section between the Mississippi at New Orleans to Corpus Christi, Tex., and for maintenance of the nine-foot channel between Sabine river and the Galveston-Brazoria county line, about 18 miles southwest from Galveston.

TILLYER LENSES
Can help you to see BETTER

The secret of Tillyer superiority — clear, undistorted vision to the very edge.

EVEN if you merely suspect you need glasses, by all means arrange for an appointment with your oculist (the medical man who examines your eyes). Because eyes that need glasses have a way of resulting in headaches—in that tired feeling—and in a touchy disposition. If an examination shows that you do need glasses, be sure that you are fitted to a pair of genuine Tillyer Lenses.

TILLYER Lenses can help you to see better. They are correct right to the very edge. Unlike ordinary lenses which are accurate only in the centers—Tillyer Lenses give you a true, clear image no matter whether you look left, right, up or down. That's why your eyes are less likely to tire . . . that's why you cansee better when you wear Tillyer Lenses.

Pursuit Of A Likely Policy

LUBBOCK Safety council seems to be pursuing the policy likely to be most effective in its persistent and repeated reminders of dangers on the highways.

Particularly gratifying is the fact that the council, in furtherance of its general policy, has persuaded L. G. Phares, chief of the Texas State Highway patrol, to become principal speaker at a traffic safety meeting here Feb. 2 to be attended by interested citizens from Lubbock and this territory. Phares is an outstanding authority on the subject of highway safety and doubtless will offer suggestions which, if put into practice, will mean fewer motor accidents.

It seems ridiculous that any motorist should require constant reminder of the danger he faces every time he gets behind the wheel of his automobile. He knows without being told that the number of such accidents is appalling. He knows, even as he speeds along the highway, that a thousand different things could happen within a split second which might mean his injury or death, yet he travels blithely along. His psychology is that natural to man. His feeling, and failing, is that tragedy might select anyone else as a victim, but not him.

Safety authorities are agreed that until the average motorist can be made to realize keenly that he also can be the victim of accident, there is likely to be little reduction in the number of dead and injured. Perhaps the most effective means of bringing that realization is constant reminder until caution becomes second nature with the driver. That must come from within the motorist himself, through education. Perhaps even more important in the accomplishment of purposes of the safety campaign would be vigorous enforcement of adequate laws. If that should be done, violations would be discouraged through the motorist's fear of fine or imprisonment. In actual practice, that fear is apt to be more effective in building for highway safety. In theory, the acute realization by the driver of the dangers to himself would be the stronger force.

The safety council, of course, cannot be expected to attempt actual enforcement of traffic laws, although it can work for more stringent regulations and can become a strong moral force in demanding that violators be arrested and punished. The greater work of the council would be to cause every motorist to realize every time he starts his car that he may be embarking on a journey from which he may not return.

There Is Another Side

ONE might be inclined to suppose there can be no "other side" to suggestions in increasing numbers recently that it is a part of loyalty to buy American-made goods whenever possible in preference to those of foreign manufacture.

But a little reflection quickly will demonstrate that there is another side to that question as well as to almost all others.

The Morning Avalanche agrees that where prices and quality are comparable, the American citizen should buy American-made goods. It believes also the nation correctly provides certain safeguards designed to protect the American standard of living from being undermined by foreign competition.

It does not believe, however, that the West Texas "white-collar" man, the small business man, the laboring man, the farmer, or the cattleman should be expected to pay an excessive price for what he buys so that an unreasonably high wage scale can be maintained in Eastern industrial centers for organizations which number a considerable percentage of foreign-born with communistic leaning in their membership.

Maintain the American standard of living, we say. But do not expect the typical American middleman to pay a premium from his own meager earnings so that the already liberal pay envelopes of small groups may be further fattened.

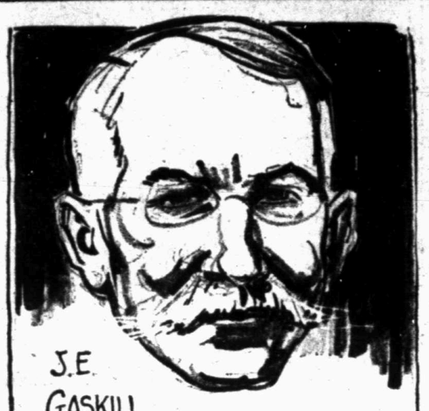

The One-Minute Sermon

Thus saith the Lord God: In the day when he went down to the grave I caused a mourning: I covered the deep for him, and I restrained the floods thereof, and the great waters were stayed: and I caused Lebanon to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him.

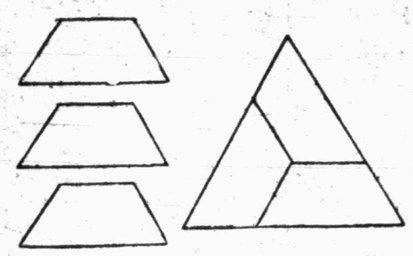

I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to hell with them that descend into the pit: and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, shall be comforted in the nether parts of the earth.

They also went down into hell with them that be slain with the sword; and they that were in his arms, that dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the heathen.—Ezekiel 31, 15 through 17.

LINDA BENTON—Heroine, daughter of a famous singer.

CAPT. BARRYMORE TRENT—Hero, flying "daredevil."

MIRANDA TRENT—Barrymore's grandmother; a "strong woman."

Yesterday: Captain Trent is reported well along on the last leg of his rescue flight. It is feared, however, a tropical storm in his path might prove disastrous.

CHAPTER X

As Linda came downstairs next morning, Jefferson entered the dining room with the morning mail.

"Telegram for you, Miss Linda," he said, beaming broadly.

The message read simply, "Be sure to see that the Duchess behaves herself. Barry."

Old Miranda had one, too. She read it aloud. "Don't forget the Christmas tree. And how about chestnuts for stuffing."

Then she picked up the morning paper. As she scanned the headlines, her fingers tightened on the sheet. Linda, standing just behind her, shamelessly read the lines over her shoulder:

CAPTAIN TRENT THOUGHT FORCED DOWN, RADIO SILENT

As Linda stood there, the back of her hand tight against her quivering lips, the old lady looked up, and for a moment their glances clung together in mute question.

Then Mrs. Trent said briskly, "You may bring the coffee, Jefferson."

Presently she stirred from her silent thoughts to say again, "You're not eating your breakfast, Miss Benton. We shall have a full day. Among other things, I should like you to see that the Christmas tree is properly placed."

"The Christmas tree?" echoed Linda blankly.

Then she remembered . . . Barry had said he would be back to trim the Christmas tree.

"And over my dead body," his grandmother's eyes said now, "let any one suggest that he may not."

Nevertheless, when they rose from the table, Linda did venture to suggest, "Shall I —would you like me to call the airport? Perhaps they may—have some news!"

"Certainly not!" snapped Miranda Trent. "Don't you suppose they have anything to do but answer foolish questions?"

An instant later she added more kindly, "You see, my dear Miss Benton, I have become somewhat inured to this kind of crisis. My husband went through the Spanish-American War; my son, Barry's father, was in France. As for Captain Trent, he has been reported lost more times than I can recall!"

Yet, although the old lady made a brisk show of going about her daily business, Linda noticed that each time the telephone rang, she stiffened, and her eyes closed for a moment.

All that day and the next reports continued to come in—conflicting, confusing, agonizing. The information was all the more vague because the storm that had ravaged the Caribbean had cut off the usual sources of information, sent coast-wise ships to shelter, and grounded air traffic.

Linda went around in a walking nightmare—too numb and dazed to cry . . . Her nights were hideous with dreams—Barry in a storm-tossed plane, flying blindly; Barry crashing, his ship bursting into flames; Barry's dead white face floating on a black sea.

It was not until the morning of the third day that the airport called with something definite. Linda answered the telephone. When she suggested summoning Mrs. Trent, the man at the other end of the line broke in hastily:

"Wait! You said you were Mrs. Trent's companion, didn't you? Well, why don't we give you the message and let you use your own judgment about the best way to tell her?"

When the man had told her what he had to tell, Linda hung up the receiver as carefully as if it had been made of fragile glass.

Sooner or later, old Miranda had said, a last time comes to the best of them.

Slowly she made her way upstairs and entered the old woman's room. Then, leaning against the closed door, her face paper white, her nails digging into her palms, she delivered her message parrotwise, like a stiff-lipped, frightened child reciting a verse.

"The airport called . . . They wanted me to tell you . . . they've found his plane — in the surf — somewhere on the coast of Central America . . . They said—tell you they—had given up hope."

"Ah, indeed!" said old Miranda slowly, after a moment.

Perhaps she was remembering other scenes in which she, herself, had said to other waiting women, "But they haven't given up hope yet."

For a moment she sat silent, her eyes closed; then she said "You may tell George I shall not want the car this afternoon . . . And do go out for some fresh air, Miss Benton. You are looking rather pale. I—I think I shall go to my room."

Linda must have walked miles that afternoon, but she was not conscious of being tired — only numb, and somewhat apart in a gray empty, dead world of her own. . . . The dead do not weep. Linda did not.

When she dragged herself home through the little park, the Christmas tree was gayly lighted — all silver and blue. Candles were glowing in the windows, and people were hurrying along with brightly wrapped parcels, laughing and calling out gay greetings to one another. At the edge of the park she met the little dark man with the puckered, wistful smile who had spoken to her that day when she had paused outside the church to sing with the choir the Christmas carols they were rehearsing. He called, "Merry Christmas, Miss Benton!" And she heard her own voice answering, "Merry Christmas!"

Those few hours alone in her room that afternoon were old Miranda's one concession to the frailty of the flesh. She came down to dinner, a little haggard, but very quiet.

Later radio reports only confirmed the news they had had.

The wrecked plane was undoubtedly that in which Captain Trent had set out. It had evidently been tossed for hours by heavy seas before washing ashore. . . . Several experienced flyers were quoted as saying that it was impossible that the pilot could have survived such a beating. And there was no apparent possibility of his having been picked up.

Old Miranda heard it all with dry eyes; Linda with that numbed passivity that had held her since the airport had called this morning.

Notes of sympathy, even flowers, had been pouring in all day, and callers had begun to come. At the first arrival Linda rose and would have left the room, but Mrs. Trent said swiftly, "Please do not go, Miss Benton. I may want you."

So Linda sat down again.

Old Miranda received her callers with stately calm, answering their questions courteously. But something in her bearing froze on their lips all but the most formal expressions of sympathy.

The Trent women, Linda gathered, did not permit others the liberty of being sorry for them.

Through it all, Linda was conscious of furtive glances cast in her own direction. From her experience on the ice the other day, she had gathered that rumors about Barry and herself had traveled swiftly.

So people were sorry for her.

Well, if the Trent women did not welcome pity, neither did Geoffry Benton's daughter. . . . Old Miranda seemed aware of something more than casual in the glances cast at the slim girl who sat with such quiet dignity in her tall, high-backed chair.

When one of the women turned and said to Linda, "This news about Captain Trent must be a great shock to you, too, Miss Benton," the old lady's shrewd eyes swept the covertly listening faces about her with attentive curiosity.

And when Linda turned grave, steady young eyes upon her questioner, lifted her head, and answered briefly and quietly in her clear, lovely voice that naturally it must be a great shock to all who knew Captain Trent. Miranda Trent's eyes again traveled over the listening faces, with a look that almost said, "All right! Now what do you make of that?"

At last they all went. Miranda Trent had just picked up her cane and said a little wearily that it was bedtime, when the telephone suddenly shrilled.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE idea for a nationwide and concerted counter-attack on the forces of depression was formally proposed by John L. Lewis, Owen D. Young and Thomas W. Lamont at their recent presidential powwow.

The three visitors insisted that it would be utterly unwise for P.D.R. to promulgate a general program without the support and sympathy of all interested parties—industry, finance, business, agriculture, labor, government. Any scheme advanced by Mr. Roosevelt himself or sponsored by a limited set of advisers, in their opinion, would encounter resistance. Only a general and representative committee, they warned, would command universal confidence on a truly "popular front."

They recommended figures so influential and well thought of that there would be comparatively little dissent. Provided they could come to terms with the President, he would then proclaim the program on which he would stand hitched pending complete recovery. Without a "planned government," they said they could not assure planned production, planned wages, planned prices—or planned employment.

BOUNDARIES: The imminent approach of negotiations between Big Steel and C.I.O. for renewal of their contract accounts for the presence of three such contrasting figures as Mr. Lewis, Mr. Young, Mr. Lamont. The first test on the future trend of wages and prices —purchasing power—will come then.

Discarding discussion of details—taxes, government competition, budget balancing — Mr. Lewis (C.I.O.), Mr. Lamont (Morgan & Co.) and Mr. Young (General Electric) united on the sole proposition that purchasing power must be maintained. Secondly, they agreed that any sharp slash in wages or prices would choke the channels of production and plunge the nation into a depression as deep as 1929's. Unless the C.I.O.-Big Steel contract can be renewed on existing terms when it expires February 28 (preliminary negotiations start February 7) it will be the signal for a nationwide downward movement.

The steel corporations, however, cannot pay present wages without some assurance of peace between government and business—of policies which will enable them to produce and pay and hire with some expectation of profits. Mr. Roosevelt's recent pronouncements shocked them. So they want an understanding with him before they assemble around a table with Mr. Lewis and Phil Murray.

ENDED: The President's disclosure of his big-navy program awed even the stars-and-stripes-forever bloc when he confided his plans at a secret White House conference. He raised the Navy General board's ante, especially on airplanes.

Though new naval construction will cost between $500,000,000 and a billion dollars, Mr. Roosevelt emphasized that his purpose is entirely defensive. He disclaimed any desire to police the world in conjunction with the league, Great Britain or any concert of nations. "I am thinking only about preservation of peace for the United States," he told them. Operations Admiral Leahy reported that, not counting the ships which may be asked of Congress today, F.D.R. had built or was building 211 vessels for the fleet.

The unprecedented expansion is definitely linked with German, Italian and Japanese aggression in Spain, Ethiopia, China. Mr. Roosevelt frequently referred to other nations' warlike purposes and behaviour. His acceptance of their challenge definitely marks the end of the era when American statesmen dreamed that peace might be assured by treaties and disarmament pacts.

INSTRUCTOR: Fiorello LaGuardia and Herbert Hoover recently shook hands beneath the Hudson river at the opening of the new subway tube. The two political sailors had a deep under-water exchange.

For a moment there ensued an awkward pause. Then Mr. Hoover, gazing at the damp flooring, said: "Mister Mayor, I understand that you are being mentioned for higher office"—obviously a reference to William Allen White's presidential boost for the Little Flower. "Shucks," replied LaGuardia, "when I quit City hall, I want to teach." Then a bright idea struck him. "Say, Mr. Hoover," he continued, "you're a trustee of Stanford university. How about giving me a job?"

"Mister Mayor," said the former President with a slow smile, "maybe that can be arranged." Mr. Hoover's alacrity in embracing the suggestion amused the Tammany tiger killer.

NURSING: In view of Louis Glavis' admission of wiretapping activities, the administration's strange solicitude for him has aroused senatorial suspicion that the full tale of official espionage has not been unrolled.

When the Interior department sleuth quit, he was summoned to the White House for a conference with the President. Few hours later Mr. Ickes arrived, but the details of the conversation were never disclosed under an agreement that nobody should talk. Subsequently, and at the request of the President, Mr. Glavis was named chief investigator for the Senate Campaign Expenditures committee headed by Senator Lonergan of Connecticut. He was retained for many months, though the committee was damned by New Dealers and G.O.P.-ers for not digging up any scandal.

The Glavis and Ickes versions of wiretapping do not agree. The secretary says he halted it as soon as he discovered it, the sleuth insists he listened in with specific instructions from the cabinet member. The report persists that Mr. Glavis stands in line for another federal job if and when the Burlew excitement subsides.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

THE administration is playing a powerful backstage role in the maneuvers to terminate organized labor's civil war.

When David Dubinsky, Max Zaritsky and other C.I.O. chiefs assail John Lewis for blocking peace negotiations, they are doing so with strong sub-rosa support from high political quarters. The rift between Lewis and the White House is deep and permanent. It will be all to the good from the President's viewpoint if Lewis can be discredited—and displaced. Dubinsky, Sidney Hillman and other staunch advocates of peace remain friendly to the New Deal. If they can be pushed into the saddle, the old rapprochement between the White House and organized labor will be restored.

Bill Green of the A. F. of L. may not know it, but insiders understand that he is marked for slaughter along with his arch-rival if the administration has its way. His old-fashioned notions don't fit at all with specifications for the streamlined labor movement coordinated with New Deal political leadership in a sort of mutual benefit alliance.

EMBARGO: A group of independent steel companies appears to have done a sweet job of crossing themselves up.

Last year, when exports of scrap iron and steel were reaching record heights and the price of scrap iron was soaring, these concerns (which use large quantities of scrap for raw material) got all excited. They hired a publicity firm to get out a handsome booklet to show the urgency of conserving the American supply of scrap for national defense purposes instead of allowing it to be sold to foreign nations. They also engaged ex-governor Brann of Maine as a lobbyist to sell Congress the idea of embargoing scrap exports.

The campaign had quite an effect. A number of legislators became concerned about the conservation of an essential war material. Moreover, peace societies became actively interested on the basis that such an embargo would at least slow up the mad armament races in other countries. Anti-Japanese sentiment was a factor, although the Japanese had already brought up practically all the scrap they wanted and Britain was currently our biggest customer for old iron and steel.

"I'm afraid we can't go after all. The baby won't let us

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says a real friend is one who loves us just the same—even if we do disagree with him over the New Deal.

* * *

A lady timidly approached the big-hatted, booted man who had been pointed out to her.

"I beg your pardon, but are you the game warden?"

"Yes, madam," was the reply, "what can I do for you?"

"Well, I'm planning a birthday party for my six-year old son and I thought maybe you could suggest some games!"

* * *

MAYBE The Plainsman is goofy. A lot of people think so. But whatever be the cause, the writer has a very different conception of the duties of our government than those of many of his countrymen

For instance, some guy suggested —in all seriousness—the other day that the government go into the junk business.

He really meant it.

He pointed out that seven million used cars were so clogging the sale of new models that they had put the automobile business slightly on the bum.

He pointed out that the government is going to spend a lot of money on new armaments; would need iron and steel for the purpose; and would need more shrapnel and shell of all kinds.

Presto! Why shouldn't the government buy up those seven million old cars, scrap them and use the metal?

Then the automobile industry would start humming again!

* * *

AT first glance, the idea might look all right to some people —especially to those who delight to see Uncle Sam getting mixed up in everything under the sun.

But:

Uncle Sam does not build his own guns, his own naval vessels, or his own shells.

They are contracted for.

So why expect Uncle Sam to buy the used cars?

If the deal would be good for Uncle Sam, why shouldn't it be good for the private manufacturers who make Uncle Sam's ships, guns and shells?

And if it isn't good for the private manufacturer, why expect Uncle Sam to play Santa Claus to the automobile industry—or to any industry?

Too many people forget where the government gets its money.

It gets it out of the pockets of all of us—whether we realize it, or not.

What we need most at this time is to curtail public spending wherever possible—not increase it.

And we need government out of business, instead of up to its neck in it.

THE Plainsman realizes, probably better than some readers, that the automobile industry is the nation's No. 1 industry and that every tenth worker among us gets his living—and that of his dependents—directly or indirectly from the automobile business.

But start putting Uncle Sam into the automobile business, albeit in a round-about way, and soon other bright boys will get him into the stove manufacturing business, the newspaper business, the radio manufacturing business—and we'll all be riding the good, old tax wagon!

It just won't work, that's all!

The Plainsman is cheered over the news that practically every member of Congress now owns a tuxedo, a dress suit, or both. Boiled shirts, you know, are best for stuffing!

That Man on Avenue Q says there are other ways to make money than by hard work—but you've gotta work hard to learn 'em.

* * *

Some people are worried over the possibility that the President will continue to the left.

Others are just as worried that he will turn more to the right.

But what worries us is that he will keep on going in circles!

* * *

THE newspaper error is the most insidious of all mishaps. No matter how much care is taken and how hard the army of any newspaper works to avoid them, they will crop out.

And the worst thing about them is that they're rarely visible to the editor or members of his staff until the entire edition is run and on its way to the customers.

Along with everybody else in the business, The Plainsman hates errors; they hurt his soul; they ache but slay him.

But the other day he ran across some statistics which make him feel a little better about newspaper "busts."

Mr. Tex DeWeese, of the Pampa Daily News, is the source of the item in "The Panhandle Publisher," official organ of the Panhandle Press association. In the item Editor DeWeese is quoted as follows:

"When you see an error in the paper, remember the newspaper man has a perfect alibi. A statistician has worked out the number of chances for mistakes in one column of newsprint and the number is 70,000 to 1.

"In an ordinary news column there are 10,000 letters; there are seven wrong positions that a letter may be put in; (speaking of errors, wouldn't it sound better, Editor DeWeese, to say "in which letter may be put?") Thus there are 70,000 chances to make an error and millions of chances for transpositions. In the short sentence, "To be, or not to be," the transposition alone it is possible to make 2,758,009 errors. So there!"

By golly, when you stop to think about it, it's wonder we don't all make more "busts" than we do!

A friend of ours went up to the hospital the other day to visit another friend who had been hurt in an automobile accident and, to his dismay, found the victim giggling through his bandages.

The injured fellow explained that as he had returned to consciousness on the operating table, he asked the nurse what had happened.

She replied, coolly:

"You saved three minutes getting to town—and you'll be here six weeks!"

* * *

HERE AND THERE: Want to buy a buffalo? If so, you kindly, old Uncle Sam will sell you one, crated and delivered to the nearest railroad shipping point, for $80 . . . Or if you prefer, you can get a 1,100-pound buffalo bull killed, butchered, dressed and shipped for only $50 . . . Rat population of the nation is estimated at 123,000,000, most of them on farms . . . They cause an annual damage of about $1.50 per rat . . . Prof. Ellsworth Huntington—hot The Plainsman—says that babies born in late February or March live an average of four years longer than these born in other months and that their chances for success are better . . . July, August and September he terms the most "unfavorable" months.

...exas Receives ...ederal Funds

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. (AP) — Representatives of the American Association of State Highway Officials estimated Texas received $1,562,000 more from the federal government for road purposes in 1936 than it paid into the government coffers in the form of gasoline and similar taxes.

They reported Texas gasoline taxes brought the government $10,532,000 in 1936 and oil and other excise taxes in connection with motor vehicle operation $7,230,000, or a total of $17,762,000.

Spend Huge Sum

This compared with $24,324,000 which federal agencies spent for road purposes in the state, they reported. This is represented, they explained, the regular federal aid for highway purposes plus a much larger amount for "emergency" funds used for road construction.

Bureau of public roads officials said they had no figures against which the association's compilations could be checked, as gasoline tax collections are computed by districts. Regular federal aid allocations to Texas for the 1937 fiscal year amounted to $7,771,317. For the 1939 fiscal year the allocation was announced as $12,019,330, including $4,787,739 federal aid, $1,857,548 for secondary and feeder roads, and $674,043 for grade crossing elimination.

...exas Dental Law ...pheld By Court

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 24. (AP) — Texas' new law governing dental practices and advertising was held constitutional by District Judge John F. Onion here today as he denied a group of local dentists an injunction which would have restrained enforcement of the law.

The dentists were headed by Drs. E. K. and J. E. Mayor of San Antonio.

A temporary restraining order, which had previously been issued by the judge against the state board of dental examiners, the sheriff and the district attorney of Bexar county, was ordered dissolved.

The state attorney general's office, attending the dental board, had cited decisions of the U. S. supreme court on the question.

The dentists gave notice of appeal.

...ivate Ship Operators Are ...laving Building Program

WASHINGTON, Jan. 24. (AP)—The maritime commission reported to congress today that private ship operators, despite the urgent need for new vessels, "hesitate in the face of the present labor situation.

"Chaotic labor conditions, signalized by demands of the crews, 'sit-down' and 'quickie' strikes, and slipshod performance of duties are characteristic of the industry," the commission said in a report reviewing its work for the year ending last Oct. 25.

"No lasting cure will be effected until the jurisdictional strife now prevalent in maritime labor is terminated and a more cooperative working arrangement is reached by the unions and the ship operators."

TARZAN THE MAGNIFICENT No. 8

Wood had no desire to kill, but he wanted to fire a warning shot. As he tried to lift his gun he recalled the legend of the friendly blacks that no hostile hand could be raised against the mystery people. And, in truth, his arm became like lead—immovable.

"The power of Malka is with us; you cannot kill us," one of the Amazons said, laughing scornfully. That unbelievable power must have affected Wood's companions, too, for all four were disarmed without an attempt to resist. And now sharp spears herded them forward.

As the party climbed higher into the mountains, the women seemed gay and very well pleased with their captives, whom they discussed as if they were prize cattle or work horses. The prisoners listened, for they were familiar with the dialect spoken.

More and more, as they approached their goal, Wood felt that vague power of evil pressing in upon him. Finally, he blurted out: "What do you intend to do with us?" The leader of the Amazons shrieked with devilish laughter. "Soon enough you will know!"

MADAME LEAADA—$1.00 readings, 50c, few days only. 1912 16th.

Ask The Master Psychologist
Dr. La Rose, Ps. D.

How to obtain Love, Happiness, Success, being loved and admired for yourself alone, capturing the hearts and friendship of all about you, can bring you more happiness than all the jewels and fine clothes you could wear than all the wealth you could spend in a lifetime. Without friendship and love, life would not be worth living, for admiration and affection are the breath and heart beat of all human happiness. Within you is a power that controls your destiny. It is in every woman and man, but few discover it. Those who do are blessed with the key to Life's Happiness. With all my heart I urge you to bring forth this innate charm that is yours Develop it, and you will attract to yourself those things that make life worth while You are helpless in the hands of women who have learned how to use their hidden powers of attraction. You have these powers You can discover and develop them and swiftly make yourself irresistible to men . . . even in competition with women far more attractive-looking. You can win and hold the love of the one you want. So if in doubt, ask the man who knows.

Large Crowd Present At Legion Session

Approximately 140 members attended the meeting of the American Legion at the lodge hall Monday night. Members from Lorenzo, Ralls, Idalou, Slaton, Shallowater, Abernathy, and Woodrow were recognized.

Glen Hess was in charge of entertainment. W. B. Irvin, superintendent of the Lubbock public schools and an ex-service man, spoke briefly.

A group of negroes were presented in a tap dance. James I. Kilpatrick, chairman of the entertainment committee to work with a similar committee from the auxiliary to make arrangements for a joint meeting January 31, made a report of the committees' work and announced program plans would be completed soon.

Wesley H. Waln and Dr. H. H. Bidwell were recognized as being 20-year and 15-year members, respectively. It was reported that congressmen and representatives from this area had pledged support of the legion's recent resolution relative to its stand toward the nation's foreign policy.

H. D. Woods, chairman of the committee in charge of the membership drive, said the Allen Bros. post had boosted its membership to 206 members.

Ten ex-post commanders attended the meeting.

Stage Star

15-room white frame house to which she had gone for the week-end.

A cook employed by Miss Pinchot found the body.

Miss Pinchot for about five years had been living apart from her husband, a socially-prominent Bostonian. They met while she was appearing at a summer theater in Provincetown and were married in 1928.

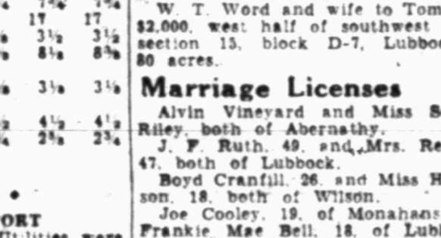

Dropped By Social Register

She spent most of her time during the week in her New York town apartment. She liked to try her hand at writing; she liked music, and horseback riding; seldom went to cocktail parties; said she was "glad" when the social register dropped her name several years ago after she went to Hollywood to try a career in the movies.

After six months there, she found she was too tall to be cast in the roles she liked—she was 5 feet 9 and so she returned to the stage, her first love.

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 24. (AP)—Utilities were moderately ahead and a few gold mines, coppers and specialties did better in today's stock market, but a mild rally in the final hour failed to hold and closing prices were somewhat uneven.

It was the slowest 5-hour session since August 31, last. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was the same as Saturday's finish at 45.9.

Steels enjoyed a temporary run-up when current mill operations were estimated at 32.7 per cent of capacity, an increase of 2.9 points from the preceding week. Most stocks in this group emerged with slight declines. Among these were U. S. Steel at 58⅞, Bethlehem 62, Youngstown 39⅝, and Crucible 39⅞.

Selected coppers revived when the export price of the metal was cut to just under the 10-cent level, thus renewing hopes consumers will come into this market to fill postponed demands if the domestic rate is further reduced.

Utilities apparently reflected the belief these may have been oversold. Motors were listless as it was disclosed December sales of new cars were under those of November and well below the aggregate for the previous December. Rails did little either way.

Stocks up as much as a point or so included American Telephone at 146¼, Western Union 36⅝, North American 20, American Water Works 11¼, Anaconda 32⅞, Kennecott 39, Homestake 62, J. I. Case 94¼, Macy 31½, American Can 81 and Purity Bakeries 10⅝.

On the downside were Allied Chemical 169½, Union Carbide 75⅝, General Refractories 25, DuPont 115 and Deere 22¾.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 24. (AP)—Trade price fixing, lack of selling pressure and favorably-construed Washington reports brought gains of 4 to 6 points in the cotton market here today. Continued good spot demand in the interior was a bullish factor.

Ginnings to Jan. 16. of 17,645,756 bales were about in line with expectations and served to hold the undertone steady in morning trading.

Favorable advices from textile centers served to off-set the bearish implications of lower foreign markets. Manchester cabled that inquiry there had broadened and that considerable business was done in some constructions. Worth street reported steady prices and moderate activity.

The best prices of the day were reached in final trading but last minute realizing shaded the maximum gains. March closed at 8.62, May at 8.69, July at 8.74-75, Oct. at 8.33-bid and Dec. at 8.87.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 24. (AP)—Cotton slowly advanced today on trade buying and covering while contracts were scarce. May sold up from 8.51 to 8.57 and closed at 8.55, with final prices 5 to 8 points net higher.

Initial hesitancy was attributed to easiness at Bombay but when offerings generally proved light a small demand, principally in the form of trade price-fixing, local and New Orleans buying, caused prices to tend upward. Spot cotton and textiles were quiet.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Jan. 24. (AP)—Climbing steadily after a slight transient setback, Chicago wheat values scored 1¼ cents a bushel maximum gain today.

Forecasts of a cold wave tonight threatening to cause domestic crop damage west and southwest acted as a stimulus for the wheat market rise, and so too did reports of dust storms together with nearly 3,000,000 bushels decrease of the United States visible supply total. The dust storms reached from western Nebraska through western sections of Kansas, Oklahoma and the Texas Panhandle.

Upturns of wheat values were in the face of correct predictions a United States government report on wheat stocks held by interior mills, elevators and warehouses would be larger than for any of three comparable previous years.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ½-⅞ cents above Saturday's finish, May 95⅞-96, July 90⅞-91, corn unchanged to ¼ higher, oats unchanged, rye unchanged to ½ up, and provisions showing to 2 cents to 10 cents bulge.

FORT WORTH REPORT

threatened overflow at Fulton. Texarkana was almost cut off with water running over main highways leading into the city. Dequeen, north of there, had only one highway open and rural mail service was suspended in the section.

The Petit Jean river in western Arkansas was running bankful at Havana, threatening to inundate several thousand acres.

New Dust Storm Rages Into Texas Panhandle Monday

(By The Associated Press)

Anew dust storm raged into the Panhandle late yesterday while a chilling north wind drove an earlier haze across Texas to the gulf.

Borger reported a "black duster," which followed an earlier worst storm of the winter, had limited visibility to one block.

Amarillo At Edge

Amarillo appeared to be near the western edge of the storm which aviators said extended east into Oklahoma and Kansas. Wind velocity there was about 20 miles an hour with visibility ranging from one quarter to half a mile. A temperature of 22 degrees before morning was forecast.

West Texas points reported the duster was blowing rapidly south. A light haze, growing worse in some sections, was reported from gulf coast points.

Meanwhile, immediate flood threats were waning. The Trinity river at Dallas receded after a crest of 36.5 feet had passed at Palestine fear was expressed that the rising Trinity would flood the Long Lake area west of there in a few days.

Missionary To Mexican Baptist Church Dies At Home In City

Rev. J. A. Lopez, 51, missionary to the Mexican Baptist church of Lubbock, died at his home on North Avenue U at 9 o'clock Monday night.

Funeral services will be conducted at First Baptist church at 3 o'clock this afternoon. Arrangements had not been completed late last night. Burial will be in charge of Sanders Funeral home at Lubbock cemetery.

Mr. Lopez came here September 1. He had been pastor at Pearsall for 14 years previous to coming to Lubbock. Surviving are his wife, one son, and three daughters.

Cruel Killer

his victim from Emily to the woods near Spooner, Wis., and there killed him Oct. 10.

District Attorney Michael L. Igoe asked continuance to permit him to seek an indictment.

Seadlund was taken to a cell in the building to spend the night.

He was closely guarded to prevent an attempt at suicide after U. S. Marshal W. H. McDonnell remarked the prisoner was "so nervous I can't take any chances."

The warrant named no accomplices although federal agents have disclosed he was aided by James Atwood Gray, who was slain in the Spooner hideout.

"I killed Gray," Seadlund told reporters in his first interview, "because we got into a fight and it was either me or Gray."

He announced he did not intend to retain a lawyer, adding:

"I'll plead guilty to kidnaping but not to a murder charge. I think Ross was dead before I shot him. I'll get just as much punishment for kidnaping, anyway."

Seadlund claimed Ross was not "fingered" by a confederate and that he had meant only to rob him. He continued:

"When I pulled him from the auto Ross said 'I've always figured I'd be kidnaped.' Then I said 'then you've got some money'."

wandered about for three days."

When found by the highway patrolman, Patterson's feet were blistered from walking without shoes in the rugged mountain country where he said he was kidnaped by two hitch-hikers he had picked up at a bridge between Holdenville and Atwood.

He told officers he was forced to ride with them in his car to Dallas, Tex., and then to New Orleans, La., and back, and that his abductors removed his shoes and sox when they put him out in southeastern Oklahoma.

"When he regained control of himself, he revealed the truth to his brother, Moss Patterson, and some close friends, whereupon all agencies of authority were requested of terminate their search for the abductors," the spokesman's statement said.

Holding Firms

administration bill, but that he had discussed it with Secretary Morgenthau.

He added it would not affect branch banking. Reporters recalled immediately President Roosevelt had disavowed last week his remarks against holding companies generally meant he was opposed to branch banking.

A bank holding company is one which holds enough stock in one or more banks to control the latter. Branch banks are merely branch offices of a bank.

Little Banker Going

At a press conference January 14 at which Mr. Roosevelt criticized holding companies, in banking as well as industry, the president said certain community banks are controlled in large financial centers. He said the little banker was going and that was a bad thing.

A recent survey by the Federal Deposit Insurance corporation showed an eighth of the nation's bank deposits were in banks controlled by bank holding companies.

Officials said Transamerica corporation, headed by A. P. Giannini and interested chiefly in west coast banks, was the largest bank holding company, on an asset basis. Not counting branches, the holding companies having the largest number of individual banks were the Northwest Bank corporation and the First Bank Stock corporation, both of Minneapolis, the officials said.

Confined To One State

The survey also showed that of major bank holding companies, 14 confined their activities to one state.

The Glass bill is expected to apply to all bank holding companies, both those confined to one state and those extending across state lines.

Short Sales

regulations forbid selling stock short at a price less than the last previous sale. Thus the government regulations are somewhat stricter.

Short selling, according to the SEC definition, is the sale of "a security which the seller does not own, or any sale which is consummated by the delivery of a borrowed security."

A short seller is actuated by the hope that before he has to deliver the goods, he can buy them at lower prices and thus reap a profit.

The SEC made public figures to show short selling of leading stocks last fall tended to drive the prices of the whole list down.

Man Who Spent Fortune Seeking Formula For Race Of "Super Men" Death Victim

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 24. (AP)—Eugene Arnett, 62, who reputedly spent two decades and part of a million-dollar insurance fortune seeking a formula for a race of "super men," died yesterday.

Arnett once termed himself "years ahead of time."

"I have no hope that the work I'm doing now will be accepted during my lifetime," he said, "but it will benefit future generations."

Much Time In Work

His second wife testified during trial of her divorce suit in 1934 that he spent most of his time seeking a clue, chiefly through diet and gland control, to the secret of a race of super beings. She said he worked 100 hours a week, read a book a day and wouldn't eat more than one normal meal weekly.

Owner of a library of 60,000 volumes, Arnett had never been to college.

He had outlined a book "The New Deal vs. The New World," a treatise containing a world defense plan and world drainage system program.

Home An Office Building

Arnett's home was a large, stone office building, originally constructed to house the state capitol.

In the last few years, Arnett had not remained completely in seclusion. He traveled and visited Colorado and Louisiana where he had large land holdings.

Dust Storms And Floods Hit Various Sectors Of Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 24. (AP)—Dust storms darkened western Oklahoma today while floods caused damage in eastern and southeastern sectors of the state.

The dust, forerunner of a cold wave expected to drive the mercury below freezing overnight throughout the state, spread with a stiff northwest wind from the Panhandle southward to Oklahoma City and Ardmore.

Snow Flurries Fall

Snow flurries fell at Enid, where visibility for a time dropped to 100 yards, and sleet fell at Miami, at the state's northeastern frontier.

In the dust-harried Panhandle visibility dropped to as low as 150 feet at times at Forgan, and to a similar distance at Guymon.

The thin green cover of wheat was reported withstanding the blasts around Guymon, but rain was needed as badly as it was not needed in southeastern Oklahoma.

Idabel Is Isolated

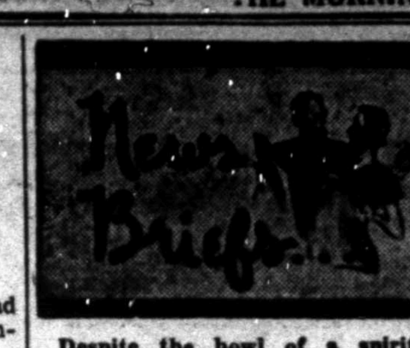

In the area, Idabel was isolated except for one road leading west to Hugo. The flooded mountain fork backed 12 feet of water over a highway at Eagletown's port of entry.

Bus schedules were cancelled. Trains moved slowly over flood-damaged tracks. Few automobiles ventured out.

On a three-acre island near the confluence of mountain fork and Little river approximately 400 head of cattle, hogs and mules were marooned.

The floods came when 11.07 inches of rain fell in the mountainous area in thrity-six hours.

Heavy rains around Poteau sent the Poteau river out of its banks, halting traffic.

Despite the howl of a spirited northwest wind and a slumping of the mercury, Homer E. Thompson, assistant county agricultural agent, Monday ran terrace lines on 80 acres of a lakesite near New Deal, on the Edgar Abney farm. The work, approximately half completed, will be finished this week, he said.

Architects of New Mexico and West Texas will meet tonight in the Hilton hotel at 8 o'clock for a banquet and annual election of officers. About 25 or 30 out of town men are expected to attend. O. R. Walker is secretary.

Railroad Commission of Texas is to hold a two-day hearing on bus and truck applications at the Lubbock hotel starting this morning. Jess C. Levens, former Lubbock man, is scheduled to conduct the hearing. H. L. Smith, Austin, will represent railroads.

T. A. Johnson, well known Posey farmer, was at the county agent's office yesterday afternoon completing his farm records. He is one of three farmers who are in an all-farm contest for the county. Johnson is from precinct 2.

Final checking of bids submitted last week for construction of high lines for South Plains Electric Cooperative, Inc., was to have been made yesterday in Fort Worth. Bids then will be forwarded to Washington for final check and approval in REA headquarters.

Lamesa and Dawson county had a good rain Saturday afternoon and night, said Miss Mary Cooper, of the county agent's office. She visited her parents at Lamesa over the week-end.

A number of farmers who called at the county agent's office yesterday signed 1937 work sheets, Walter F. Johnson, assistant county agent in charge of agricultural conservation, said. Johnson is attempting to get work sheets signed for all farms in the county, a part of a state-wide program.

Because of bad weather and impassable roads, Harold Gaulrapp, national Grange representative, will be unable to come here this week for a series of meetings with South Plains Grange chapters, Ray L. Chappelle, head professor of agricultural education at Texas Technological college, said Monday. He will attend meetings of the chapters with the state Grange master from February 10-25.

The non-jury civil action of M. O. Owens and Lona Owens against American National Life Insurance company, suit on debt, is subject for trial before County Judge J. J. Dillard today, according to attaches of his office.

Approximately 20 members of the BPOE organization of the Draughon's Business college met in formal business session Monday night at the home of Mrs. Joe Kennedy at 1916 Avenue N. Miss Jeweldean Fields was elected secretary and treasurer. An informal dance furnished entertainment.

Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college, was to be principal speaker at the annual Clarendon Chamber of Commerce Monday night. He was accompanied to Clarendon by O. T. Ryan, vocational agriculture supervisor of the area, and C. W. Ratliff, news editor of The Morning Avalanche, who were to attend the banquet.

A man who late Monday night had not been reported arrested was charged by complaints filed in justice courts of both S. E. McMillan and Walter Davies with forgery of two checks aggregating $24. C. D. Shaw, Lubbock barber, swore to the complaint filed with McMillan and Morgan Dickinson to the one filed with Davies. Both complaints alleged forgery of the name of L. B. Rainey to checks for $12. Hugh Anderson, assistant county attorney, prepared the complaints.

Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th district court Monday afternoon dismissed a jury for the week and said only non-jury matters, most of them non-contested, would be disposed of this week. He called his docket at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

Archie Wagoner, 19, Osby James, 19, and Elmer Dean, 17, charged with burglary in two indictments in the 99th district court of Judge E. L. Pitts Monday formally were sentenced to two years in the penitentiary in each case, the terms to run concurrently. Penalties were assessed on pleas of guilty entered by the boys last week, but formal pronunciation of the sentences was withheld until Monday.

Congratulations Are Received Upon Lubbock's Cleanup Drive

A. W. May, chairman of the chamber of commerce's committee in charge of the 1937 cleanup and paintup campaign, Monday received the scrap book and official report which had been sent to National Clean Up and Paint Up bureau headquarters at Washington, D. C., and with it the remark "We always get a real thrill in going through this report for it reflects a virility of good citizenship of which your city may well be proud."

The scrapbook is at offices of the chamber of commerce and may be seen upon request, attaches of that office said.

Other congratulations have been received in connection with Lubbock's winning the campaign for the eighth consecutive time.

INSURANCE HIKED

NEW YORK, Jan. 24. (AP)—New life insurance in 1937 was 3.9 per cent higher than in 1936, the Association of Life Insurance Presidents reported today.

Chinese Leader Called Traitor

HANKOW, China, Jan. 24. (AP)—General Han Fu-Chu, who failed to prevent the Japanese armies from conquering most of Shantung province, today was found guilty of treason and shot.

General Han had been governor and military commander of Shantung since 1930. Shortly after he abandoned his capital, Tsinan, to the Japanese invaders last month he was arrested on orders of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek.

Convicted On Charges

His execution followed almost immediately his conviction by court martial which tried him on charges of high treason and "other crimes of extreme gravity."

He was accused of disobeying orders from his superiors, retreating from Shantung on his own initiative, misappropriating public funds, forcing the sale of opium.

General Han was 48 years old and for ten years had been one of China's outstanding military leaders.

fees, $175.50; exhibit E, tax suits, $82.80; exhibit F, criminal fees, sheriff, $22.20, and criminal fees, clerk, $18.10, for a total criminal fees of $40.30; exhibit G, clerk certificate fees, $52.50; exhibit H, transcript fees, $349.75; exhibit I, trust fund, $12.20 (later paid).

Individual amounts of the asserted shortage ran through the 863 entries anywhere from 5 cents to $83.15.

Exhibit J listed 36 entries of clerk's credits—fees overpaid, $67.30; cash paid No. 9, 1937, $500, and salary for November, 1937, $354.16, for a total of credits in clerk's fees $921.46.

Motion to authorize the county attorney to enter negotiations with the bonding company was made by T. L. Holt and seconded by P. B. Penney, respectively of precincts 3 and 1.

Jackson's bond was executed Jan. 1, 1937, by the county and New Amsterdam Casualty company, and recorded the same date. It was for $5,000.

Commissioners Holt and Penney were authorized to arrange for maintaining two feeder roads, or farm-to-market highways, after the state has surfaced them. In precinct 1 is the Slide road from highway 9 west 6.087 miles, project FAS 877-A; in precint 3 is the Acuff road from highway 24 south towards Acuff, project FAS 10-A, and 4.687 miles long. Caliche base has been laid.

Purchase of a typewriter for the county attorney's office was authorized. All accounts were ordered paid. A board bill for city prisoners held in county jail was approved and the court voted to charge the city 50 cents a day for city prisoners held there.

Judge Dillard was authorized to execute a right of way easement to the South Plains Electric Cooperative in front of the county farm. County employes, especially those engaged in precinct highway work, will not have to pay for chauffeur's licenses, the court voting to buy them for men hauling materials. Four or five men in each precinct are involved, it was said.

All warrants not heretofore ordered canceled were so ordered.

talking. Some of my friends, like Priscilla of old, are inquiring: 'Why don't you talk for yourself, John?'

"For many months it has been generally known that I have been planning to make the race for lieutenant-governor, whereas the announcement of Senator Woodward that he is a candidate comes out of a clear sky. He states that he would not run against a former colleague, but being one, I am not authorized to announce his withdrawal from the race and to be so unkind as he was to proclaim for me that I would not run.

"There have been a lot of ring-around-the-rosy statements in Texas lately—first one and then another saying he would not be a candidate if some particular individual ran, so that affairs have almost reached the 'after you, my dear Gaston' stage.

"I will issue a statement in the near future, and I will discuss matters in which the public is interested, including opposition to hand-picked candidates."

Green Still Hopes For Truce With CIO Groups

Winter Session Of AFL Opened

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 24. (AP)—President William Green of the American Federation of Labor indicated today he still is hopeful for a truce with the Committee for Industrial Organization.

He let it be known it is far from being a foregone conclusion that the AFL executive council, which opened its mid-winter meeting today, will oust the CIO unions.

Council Not Beligerent

"The council is not meeting in a belligerent frame of mind," he remarked in connection with the possibility the United Mine Workers, the Amalgamated Clothing Workers and other groups whose charters are suspended might be expelled outright and their fields opened for organization by AFL units.

Green said the council wants a united movement, and in his opinion will proceed judiciously and carefully in dealing with the situation between the AFL and the CIO.

Referring to the recent New York speech of David Dubinsky, president of the CIO's International Ladies Garment Workers union, in which he blamed other CIO leaders for the collapse of the Washington peace negotiations last month, Green said:

Hope They Will Yield

"I still hope that since Dubinsky and others have taken a position in favor of peace, that ultimately those who stood in the way must yield."

No time was set at the brief preliminary meeting today for consideration of the CIO situation. Tomorrow the council will hear an appeal from the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor against Green's edict that all CIO affiliates be ousted from the state group.

Green said he expected the Pennsylvania federation's delegates to maintain that a CIO purge would be inadvisable at present in view of prospects for a truce between the AFL and CIO.

Lubbock Insurance Workers Smile After Viewing 1937 Report

During 1937, the Southwestern Life Insurance company made the largest gain in assets in its 35 years' history, according to C. F. O'Donnell, president, who has just released for publication his company's annual financial statement.

The increase during 1937 was $5,309,250, bringing the company's total assets to $55,422,572, the report says.

The company also gained insurance in force of $19,836,617, bringing the total insurance in force to $323,052,091, largest gain recorded since 1929.

Commenting on Southwestern Life's investment policy, Mr. O'Donnell said his company invested more than $6,000,000 in government and Texas municipal bonds during 1937, continuing its record of never having bought a bond on which there has been a default in either interest or principal. He said the 1937 mortality rate among policyholders was about equal to that in 1936, and that it has varied less than 2 per cent during the past four years.

Institute Of Agriculture Is To Be Conducted At College

An institute of Agriculture will be opened at 8 o'clock Friday night and monthly meetings are to be held thereafter.

The meeting will be in the agricultural building of Texas Technological college and Dean A. H. Leidigh of the division of agriculture and a member of the state planning board will discuss The Tax Situation of Texas.

On Different Basis

Officers of the Institute of Agriculture in the past have tried to schedule meetings that did not conflict with other meetings and hence have had "fewer meetings" than deemed required.

"It is our hope to begin on a different basis and schedule monthly meetings with an interesting speaker discussing some agricultural topic. In this way we hope to make the program interesting enough to make a definite drawing card," said a letter from L. M. Hargrave, presiding officer of the institute.

Speakers for February and March will include Harry L. Kent, former president of New Mexico A. & M. college, now director of administrative research at Tech, and Prof. M. E. Heard of the textile engineering department of Tech.

Paul Whiteman Will Pay Visit To Fort Worth Stock Show

FORT WORTH, Jan. 24. Paul Whiteman, whose orchestra played in the Casa Manana revue at Fort Worth during the past two summers, has accepted an invitation from Manager John B. Davis to attend the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock show, March 11 to 20.

He will arrive on March 14 and return to New York in time for his weekly radio broadcast on March 18. Whiteman developed a reputation as a horseman during his stay in Fort Worth the last two years. Recently he ordered a $2,000 saddle from a Fort Worth firm, it being one of the most expensive ones ever built here. It is trimmed in silver. A likeness of "Mr. P. W." was engraved in the stirrup leathers. Whiteman was expected to ride his horse into the coliseum arena during a performance of the world championship rodeo and horse show.

Tear Gas Knob On Bank Vault Foils Trent Robbery Attempt

ABILENE, Jan. 24. (AP)—A tear gas knob on a Trent, Tex., bank vault foiled robbers early today. Nightwatchman J. H. Bishop saw the flash of the gas bomb and emptied his pistol at a man who fled from the Home State bank in the little town 25 miles from here.

Bishop said he believed two men attempted to loot the bank.

Kansas City Banker Is Named As Social Security Head

JEFFERSON CITY, Jan. 24. (AP)—James M. Kemper, Kansas City banker, was named today by Governor Lloyd C. Stark to succeed his father, W. T. Kemper, sr., as chairman of the state social security commission.

The elder Kemper, who died last week, had been chairman of the commission since it was created last June.

THAT "CHANT" SPELLS "EXPERT"

Lee Riggs, auctioneer, knows tobacco . . . he explains why experts prefer Luckies 2 to 1

"THIS SEASON," says Mr. Riggs, "I've sold tobacco in Georgia, South Carolina, North Carolina, and Tennessee. More than 7,500,000 pounds, I figure, amounting to about $2,000,000 in money.

"Time after time I've seen Lucky Strike get the prettiest tobacco in the auction. That's one reason I've smoked Luckies ever since I've been an auctioneer.

"Another reason I and so many other tobacco auctioneers prefer Luckies is because we have to watch out for our throats. (Luckies are extra-easy on the throat because the "Toasting" process takes out certain irritants found in even the finest tobacco.)

Mr. Riggs goes on to say that Luckies are the top cigarette with people who know tobacco. And he is talking facts.

Sworn records show that, among independent tobacco experts, Luckies have twice as many—yes, twice as many exclusive smokers as have all other cigarettes put together.
