Britain Moves To End Economic Crisis

Pension Fund Issue Blamed For Walkout

(By The Associated Press)

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 19 (Monday) — A walkout which threatens to paralyze the nation's coal industry and idle 480,000 United Mine workers began early today.

The miners adopted this slogan: "No pension fund, now work."

John L. Lewis, fiery president of the UMW, didn't issue a strike call. Neither did his lieutenants. The men acted on their own.

From throughout the industry came reports the miners are angry because Lewis, acting as head of the UMW's pension and welfare fund, has had to cut off payments.

Operators Stop Payments

The benefits are topped by $100-a-month pensions to retired miners. Lewis says the fund can't operate because some operators in the south have stopped making the 20-cent-a-ton royalty payments which finance its operation.

The first walkout occurred at the Isabella mine of Weriton Coal company which employs 1,050 men.

Signs saying the mine would operate were posted. But no one was there to read them except a watchman.

A few hours before the walkout began, a top UMW official in Pennsylvania's anthracite (hard coal) region said an order "from headquarters" is being circulated telling the 80,000 hard coal miners to stay off the job today. The official declined use of his name. He also refused to explain what he meant by "headquarters" or where they are located.

Miners Are Angry

"The miners are pretty angry," commented John P. Busarello, president of UMW district five covering the western Pennsylvania bituminous (soft coal) fields. "From what my field workers tell me, there will be very few if any miners on the job tomorrow."

In the heart of Pennsylvania's rich soft coal fields at Johnstown, three UMW locals voted to remain out of the pits "until a contract is signed or the welfare fund payments are resumed." Pennsylvania employs 100,000 bituminous

Chicago Printers End Long Strike

CHICAGO, Sept. 18. (AP)—AFL printers ended their 22-month old strike against five Chicago newspapers today by a vote of 1,287 to 279.

After the vote results were announced the strikers sealed their action by adopting a motion declaring the strike ended.

The unionists who held sessions before and after the balloting, heard reading of a memorandum agreement between the publishers and union officials that strikers would be put back to work as rapidly as possible.

Delay To Be Necessary

The memorandum stated that employes who held priority rights before the strike will keep them if they report for work within 15 days after notice to do so.

It said that some time will be necessary to get type and composing equipment back into operation and stop the present varitype and photoengraving process. The publishers indicated that they expected to have all strikers reemployed within 21 days.

The secret balloting followed a meeting in plasterer's hall on the west side at which leaders of the International Typographical union local, recommended the adoption of a new work contract, covering 1,500 workers.

John J. Pilch, local president, declared the document, already approved by the publishers and the international ITU executive board, is "the best that can be obtained at this time."

Fall Short Of Demands

The settlement proposal's provisions fall short of the demands for which the printers struck Nov. 24, 1947. It calls for a $10-a-week raise. The demand which precipitated the strike was $14.50.

And its provisions for ITU influence in the newspaper composing rooms are less stringent than those insisted upon by the union during a long series of bargaining sessions before and after the strike began.

The publishers maintained that the union sought controls which

Steel Dispute Talks Slated

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18. (AP) — The government will try again tomorrow to stave off a strike of 1,000,000 CIO Steelworkers only a week away.

Steelmen and CIO President Philip Murray will sit down with councilation Chief Cyrus S. Ching who invited them to try to work out a solution to the "debate by telegram" which followed a presidential fact finding report.

The board vetoed a fourth round wage increase but recommended pensions and social insurance at a cost of 10 cents a working hour be paid for by the steel companies.

Murray, spearhead of the CIO's previous postwar wage drive, agreed to accept the board's recommendation. U. S. Steel Corp., leader in the steel industry, agreed to accept it in entirety as Murray had done.

U. S. Steel President Benjamin F. Fairless said the company would pay up to four cents an hour for social insurance, but the cost of that and pensions should be shared by employes.

That touched off a debate between Murray and U. S. Steel which continued all week and threatened to erupt in an industry-wide walkout when the current truce expires next Sunday night.

86 Persons Still Missing In Ship Disaster

Divers Hunt Dead On Fire-Blackened Liner

By FRANK SNYDER
INS Staff Correspondent

TORONTO, Sept. 18. — Divers probing the submerged wreckage of the ill-fated lake steamer Noronic tonight recovered two more bodies, bringing the total known dead to 120 and leaving 86 persons still unaccounted for.

The work of the divers was hampered by the murkiness of the water, discolored by the charred hull of the vacation steamer. An earlier report that nine bodies were found in a stateroom was not verified.

Late in the afternoon a little blaze broke out in the stern of the ship but firemen were able to put it out with a small fire extinguisher.

120 Bodies Recovered

The unofficial tabulation of the tragedy compiled from police, firemen and Red Cross lists showed that 120 bodies had been recovered, 86 persons were still missing and 479 out of the 685 aboard the ship had been accounted for.

One hundred eighty-nine were listed as injured in the maritime disaster. Most of them were treated for burns.

However, the number of missing varied between 50 and 140. Authorities assumed that many presumed missing were safe but had not notified Red Cross disaster headquarters or steamship officials.

Two Hearings Slated

Two formal hearings into the cause of the holocaust have been scheduled to start tomorrow morning and the captain, crew members and survivors of the ill-fated ship will be questioned.

Officials of the Canadian federal department of transport and the police department said they will check all phases of the fiery disaster which struck the 362-foot "queen" of the Great Lakes line.

These include charges of defective fire fighting equipment and of delay in sounding an alarm when the quickly-mushrooming blaze was discovered in the predawn hours Saturday.

Detroit and Cleveland police—the cities most of the American vacationists were from—have been ing the charred remains of the victims.

In most cases, authorities dissuaded mourners from even viewing the remains salvaged from the DOVER, England, Sept. 18. (AP) Greek Maj. Zason A. Ziganos completed swimming the English channel from France to England at 11:45 p.m. (4:45 p.m., CST).

Ziganos stumbled ashore at fan bay, just outside the Dover breakwater, after being in the water five minutes less than 19 hours.

Two Egyptian army men swam the channel in opposite directions earlier today.

Coast guardsmen at nearby St. Margaret's bay reported tonight that Sgt. Marie Hassan landed there from France at 9:12 p. m. (2:12, CST).

Just after midnight this morning Lt. Hassan Abdel Rehim completed a swim from England to France.

A fourth swimmer, Dr. George Brewer, 58, London physician, failed to make it on an attempt to swim from here to France. It was his 13th unsuccessful effort to master the channel.

U. S. Warned To Take Caution In Dealing With Marshal Tito

By MORRIE S. HELITZER
INS Staff Correspondent

VIENNA, Sept. 18.— Sen. Estes Kefauver (D.-Tenn.), declared today the United States should "take caution" in its dealings with Marshal Tito.

The junior senator from Tennessee stated that he favored development of "regular commercial relations" between the two countries but warned that Yugoslavia still is a totalitarian-run country.

Kefauver, in an interview with International News service, explained that while he considered increased western trade with Tito desirable, he did not advocate inclusion of Yugoslavia, as it is presently constituted, in a "western union."

The senator declared he is not an "expert" on Yugoslavia but suggested that we gain as many concessions as possible from Tito in return for the aid being given him.

He admitted, however, that it was not likely that the United States could persuade Tito to establish a constitutional govern-

Demo Leaders Say Economy Of U. S. Sound

(By International News Service)

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18.—Top Democratic leaders today pictured the nation's economy as sound and said the country can look forward to "generally improved economic conditions."

Labor Secretary Tobin, Commerce Secretary Sawyer and Leon Keyserling, vice chairman of the Council of Economic Advisors, made the statements in a panel discussion on "jobs" at the Western States Democratic conference in San Francisco.

Some 2,000 delegates from 11 western states, Hawaii and Alaska gathered in San Francisco for the conference devoted to the problems of the west and to political considerations.

Upturn Is Noted

Sawyer, Tobin and Keyserling joined with Joseph B. Keenan, director of the Labor League for Political Education of the AFL and Jack Kroll, national director of the CIO's Political Action committee in the panel discussion opening the two-day conference.

Tobin asserted:

"After eight months of a slow decline, unmistakable signs of an upturn in employment and business activity have shown up during the last two months.

"Production is rising again, unemployment is beginning to fall off. We have every reason to look forward to generally improved economic conditions for some time to come."

The labor secretary, however, said that the public regards the maintenance of production, employment and income as a "major responsibility of the government." For this reason, he said, steps must be taken to cushion the American people against effects of a possible depression.

He said these must include expansion of unemployment insurance, old age insurance and other aids to the needy, a "backlog of . . . public works" and economic measures recommended by the President, including repeal of taxes on transportation of goods and increased taxes on real estate and gifts.

Two Injured In Levelland Crash

LEVELLAND, Sept. 18 (Special)—Mrs. Ethel Davis, 37, of 2620 North Fifth, Lubbock, and a son Alton, 16, were admitted to Phillips-Dupre hospital here tonight after two cars overturned in an accident near here.

Attendants said Mrs. Davis suffered lacerations and possible fractures of the jawbone and right ankle. Her son suffered bruises and possible injury to his right foot. Full extent of their injuries will not be known until x-rays are completed early Monday morning, they said.

Youths Are Uninjured

The occupants of the other car, Dwayne Young, 16, of Shallowater, and Bobby Vardeman, 16, of near Shallowater, were not injured. Aubrey Lee Davis, 12, second son of Mrs. Davis, also was not injured.

Sheriff Charlie Bullock said the accident happened about 6 p. m. on the highway five miles east of town, when a car driven by Vardeman, attempted to pass the Davis car on the right side.

He said Vardeman's car, a 1946 Ford sedan, swerved back into the right side of the 1942 Chevrolet being driven by Mrs. Davis apparently after hitting soft mud on the shoulder while passing.

Alton Davis said both cars rolled over "two or three" times be-

High American Diplomat Says U. S. To Back Fight On Reds

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 18—A high American diplomat today pledged full United States support through the United Nations to free peoples battling Communism in Asia and Europe. Some UN circles saw this pledge as a partial answer to American policy toward China.

The diplomat was Ambassador Philip C. Jessup. He spoke at a meeting of the American association for the United Nations touching off a month-long UN observance which will end on UN day Oct. 24. He came here as a delegate to the fourth UN assembly from his State Department post, where he has been quietly studying for weeks what to do about China.

The Chinese situation is one of the world's problems not yet in the UN. But many delegates believe it is only a question of time before the Chinese Communists will knock at the UN door and one of the hardest fights ever put up to the infant organization will be on. Quiet preparations for this battle already are in prog-

PHILLIPS YOUTH IS SOUGHT

Search For Missing Youth Is Centered In Lubbock Section

A FOUR-STATE search for a missing 17-year-old Phillips youth centered in Lubbock late Sunday after three women reported seeing him here, two as late as Saturday night.

The missing youth is Linnie Lee Creacy, whose last contact with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Creacy of Phillips, was a postal card mailed July 7 from Sharon Springs, Kan.

The widespread search for the youth had been stepped up over the weekend after the father had expressed the fear that the youth had met with foul play and had expressed the opinion his son's body might be found "in a shallow grave" near Sharon Springs.

The search focused here during the weekend when Mrs. N. D. Morrison of 1608½ Broadway, heard of the youth's disappearance while visiting her parents in Phillips, and remembered having seen a youth she identified as Creacy here Saturday, Sept.

FIGHT ON FUND SLASH SEEN

Senate Battle On Arms Aid Program Will Open Monday

By ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18.—The Senate opens battle Monday on its $1,314,010,000 arms-for-friends bill to implement the North Atlantic security pact and deter a Communist "Pearl Harbor."

Senate minority leader Wherry (R-Neb) said the big fight will be waged on the George amendment to cut weapons-sharing funds for free Europe by 75 per cent.

Wherry told a reporter he will vote for the slash. He predicted that opponents of the arms bill will amass their greatest strength on this "test vote."

Connally Predicts Victory

Senate foreign relations chairman Connally (D-Tex) declared he was confident of beating the George amendment. He added, however:

"The margin will be less than we got on the Atlantic pact (82 to 13). Some senators who favored the pact said then they will vote against the arms bill."

The controversial amendment by Sen. George (D-Ga) who is second only to Connally on the Foreign Relations committee, would slash arms funds for North Atlantic pact countries from $1 billion $300 million.

This would be an even more drastic cut in European rearmament than was made by the House, which voted $580,495,000 for arms-aid to Atlantic pact nations.

Soviets Boost Strength

George declined to predict his amendment would carry. He said merely:

"I think there will be considerable support for it."

The 25-man Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committee, which sent the arms bill to the floor with only three opposing votes, warned in a report that Russia has more than 6,000,000 men under arms.

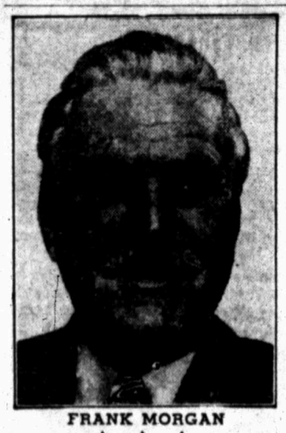

The report disclosed that the Soviet military budget jumped 19 per cent over last year. It said Russia has increased her troop strength in Germany from 70,000 to 100,000.

Administration officials and senators backing the bill declared chances are Russia would not stage an attack if faced by collective might.

Opponents Favor Delay

Sen. Smith (R-Me) said she wished the arms-program had been held up until the capacity of the

Frank Morgan, Film Star, Found Dead

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18 (AP)—Frank Morgan, 59, well-known screen character actor, was found dead in bed at his home today.

His wife and a housekeeper said they had been in his room earlier but thought the actor was sleeping late and did not disturb him.

Later Mrs. Morgan said she went back, found that he was not breathing, and called an inhalator squad. However efforts to revive him were unavailing.

Morgan's latest film appearance was in "The Stratton Story," in the role of a baseball scout. He was one of the veterans of the screen and had appeared in such pictures as "The Great Ziegfeld," "Wizard of Oz," Tortilla Flat," and "White Cargo."

Morgan's real name was Frank Wupperman. He was born in New York City, June 1, 1890, and appeared on the stage in his youth.

The actor started out as a brush salesman; but soon decided to follow in the footsteps of his brother, actor Ralph Morgan.

Friends said the silver-haired actor had not been sick and that his death came unexpectedly. The cause of death was not immediately determined.

Mild Temperatures Forecast For Area

Not too hot, not too cool; that, in brief, is the weather outlook for Lubbock and vicinity, according to the Weatherman.

Maximum temperatures are expected to go no higher than the low 80's this afternoon and again Tuesday afternoon, while early morning lows are expected to be in the middle 60's.

Skies will be cloudy to partly cloudy today, tonight, and Tuesday, but no precipitation is forecast in the area in the immediate future.

The Weather station said a little cold front which moved through this area early Sunday morning has very little movement at the present time. Temperatures behind the front were mild, it was reported.

Sunday's temperatures reflected these mild temperatures: The early morning minimum was 62 degrees, while the high temperature Sunday afternoon climbed to 80 degrees.

Texas skies were clear Sunday except along the Gulf Coast, according to an Associated Press dispatch last night. The weather was pleasantly cool in the Panhandle, but temperatures showed readings in the nineties over most of the rest of the state.

TOUR IS ENDED

GALVESTON, Sept. 18. (AP) — Twenty members of the Texas State Aviation association ended their week-long tour of Texas at 5:40 p. m., today when their fleet of 15 planes landed at Galveston airport. The fliers had encountered bad weather at Conroe, having been delayed by heavy rains for more than an hour. They left Waco in the morning, visited Temple and stopped at Bryan for lunch as guests of the chamber of commerce.

Cripps Orders Slash In Value Of Currency

By TALBOT HOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

LONDON, Sept. 18. — British drastically devalued the pound sterling tonight in a desperate effort to end her dangerous dollar shortage and seven other nations immediately followed suit.

Sir Stafford Cripps, Britain's economic boss, announced a 30 per cent slash in the value of the British pound from a pegged price of $4.03 to a new low $2.80.

Australia, Denmark, India, Norway, South Africa, Egypt and Ireland simultaneously or shortly after announced devaluation of their currency at the same or approximately the same rate.

Financial Trading Halted

Sweden suspended all payments with foreign countries until further notice and Dutch and French officials said their governments are now considering whether or not they will devalue their currencies.

Virtually all financial trading in Europe's great centers was frozen until Tuesday at least as the effects of the harsh and abrupt announcement were felt throughout the world.

Cripps made the announcement only one day after flying back to Britain from talks on the dollar shortage in Washington. Authoritative sources said, however, it was not American pressure that forced the move.

Churchill Reserves Comment

These sources said the decision to devalue the pound was taken before Cripps left for Washington and was made known the first day the talks began last week but it is known that at previous meetings American representatives had pushed the plan.

Winston Churchill, leader of the opposition Conservative party, told International News service he had "no comment" for the moment on the move. He said, however, that he is calling a meeting of party chiefs on Wednesday to discuss the devaluation.

Cripps spoke for 29 minutes on the full facilities of the British Broadcasting corporation to insure that the British commonwealth and the world would learn

British Action Is Hailed In U. S.

By WILLIAM KERWIN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18—U. S. officials today hailed devaluation of the British pound as an important step toward ending England's economic crisis but both Republican and Democratic financial leaders in Congress declared it would "not work miracles."

Led by Treasury Secretary Snyder, officials generally approved the action which they believe will help put western Europe on a sound economic basis.

Snyder Hails Action

Snyder, long-time advocate of devaluation, declared that the British have "taken a constructive economic step in making the adjustment in their foreign exchange rate," he added:

"The British consulted with the international monetary fund. The immediate effect should be an early rise in their dollar resources. The long-range result should be a healthy impetus to world-wide multi-lateral trade."

Sen. George (D-Ga), Senate Finance committee chairman, declared that the devaluation was both "inevitable and proper" but added the step "isn't a permanent solution" to Britain's problems. He declared:

"It will simply form a new basis of trade and within a fortnight will lose its force. I don't think

Radio Starlet Says Pick Your Friends With Care

By VIVIAN BROWN
Associated Press Staff Writer

IF you really want to be a good friend, advises pretty Barbara Whiting, then concentrate on only one friend.

Blue-eyed Barbara, 18, who has been a Hollywood starlet for several years, finds the trouble with most young people is that they try to make too many friends. You've got to be more sincere about it. Says she:

"Pick your friend carefully. Try to discover everything about your pal's moods. Sympathize with her. Then she will have someone to turn to in emergencies, and so will you."

Barbara who plays Judy Graves in the "Junior Miss" radio show (she played Fluffy Adams in the movie version), says she doesn't see any reason why girls can't have lots of acquaintances, but it certainly is a mistake to have more than one bosom pal. Her personal chum is Betty Sullivan, whom she is now visiting on her first trip to New York, and anything Betty does is all right with her—that's the way pals ought to feel, she says.

She thinks boys are fun when they don't try to pin you down to dates for sports events. She enjoys music and would rather have a date with a boy who likes music. She says:

"It's disgraceful the way some boys drag their dates to football or baseball games and just let them sit there beating feet. If girls like sports, fine. But it shouldn't be forced on them."

The trouble with most dates, today, as Barbara ses it, is that boys aren't as mature as girls their own age. You have to go out with boys much older than you—at least five years—to enjoy conversation. Younger boys do not even show proper respect towards girls, much less treat them like ladies, she says. And they never are good listeners.

BARBARA WHITING
Radio Star At 18

Barbara says she doesn't particularly care though, because she doesn't have much time for dates anyhow, with rehearsals, singing lessons and occasional recreation such as bicycling and swimming, which she loves.

She thinks radio is the ideal career although she'd give it up to be a writer, her first love. She insists that any girl who has a hankering for radio or the stage should give herself a fair trial at it. Says she:

"How are you going to get started doing something you like, if you just go to school because your parents want you to? The trouble is too many people send their kids to school to get them off the street, whereas, if they'd let them do something they are genuinely interested in, perhaps they'd amount to something."

Barbara had lots of support in her desire for a theatrical career. Her father, the late Richard Whiting, penned "Sleepytime Gal" and other popular tunes. Her sister is a vocalist.

If you like radio, Barbara's advice is to get acquainted with a small radio station in your town, help plan a program if possible, join a theatre group and do as much public speaking as possible to get stage presence.

Army Engineers Are Claimed Extravagant With Tax Money

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18. Rep. Burdick (R-ND) declared today that a pending lobbyist investigation will show that the Army engineers have been "extremely extravagant" with the taxpayers' money.

Burdick also asserted that the special probe voted by the House will disclose that the engineers exert "pork barrel" pressure on members of Congress.

Concerning the engineers and congressmen, Burdick commented:

"Members of Congress are honest enough but when the time comes for them to vote on their own local projects, they must vote for the projects or face the loss of local support." The engineers approve and plan numerous river and harbor projects.

Burdick is the second member of the House to urge that the probe which may get under way later this month should investigate the role of the engineers in influencing legislation.

Rep. Sabath (D-Ill), chairman of the House Rules committee, asserted earlier this session that they should be "the No. 1 target" of the inquiry.

Bloodstained Murder Car Of New York Man Is Found

NEW YORK, Sept. 18. (INS)—The bloodstained murder car in which Philip (Little Farel) Cohen was taken for his last "ride" was found abandoned beneath a tree in a vacant Queens lot today.

The find was made just as funeral services for the slain ex-mobster were being held on Manhattan's lower East Side.

Though police had hoped the discovery of Cohen's black 1949 Chevrolet sedan would turn up fingerprints possibly leading to the slayers, a preliminary "dusting" of the exterior produced no prints, detectives reported. The auto was towed away to the Mineola police garage, where a more thorough search for clues will be made.

BONHAM, Sept. 18. (AP)—Joseph Haden "Uncle Hade" Whitesett was 102 years old today.

He is one of Texas' few living Confederate veterans.

Uncle Hade celebrated the occasion quietly at his home here where he spends most of his time now.

Whitesett has lived in Texas for the past 96 years, except for a year in the Confederate army.

Western Diplomats Claim Hungary, Soviet Satellites May Cut Diplomatic Ties With Tito

By KINGSBURY SMITH
European General Manager, INS

BUDAPEST, Sept. 18.—Western diplomats in Budapest foresaw tonight the possibility that Hungary and other Soviet satellite states may sever diplomatic relations with Yugoslavia.

This is based on the efforts being made at the trial of Laszlo Rajk to picture Marshal Tito as plotting, with American support, to separate the satellite states from Russia.

Spy Ring Reported

The trial was featured Saturday by the sensational charges that Yugoslavia, acting for the alleged interests of the United States, established an espionage network within the Soviet bloc.

The supposed purpose of the network is to pave the way for the overthrow of the Communist governments and bring the satellite states into the western camp under a new Balkan federation headed by Tito.

Some western diplomats thought these allegations might be used by the satellite states as an excuse to break diplomatic relations with Yugoslavia after the conclusion of the trial.

If the satellites do sever diplomatic ties with Yugoslavia, it is believed Russia would follow suit.

This would, western diplomatic observers pointed out, be in accord with the Soviet government's recent threat to take "more effective measures" against Tito.

One of the outstanding aspects of the fantastic trial is the attempt to create the impression that Tito has been a secret agent of the United States and Britain since the war and never a sincere member of the Communist front.

The little president of the peoples' court keeps prompting the obedient defendants to stress the alleged American support of Tito's purported plot against Hungary and the other satellites.

The testimony apparently is being developed deliberately to inflame public opinion in the Communist countries against America picturing it as encouraging Tito to precipitate a war in the Balkans in order to break up the Soviet bloc.

Boost In Fire Rates For Some Cities Seen

CHICAGO, Sept. 18. (AP)—Residents of 23 U. S. cities soon may get a boost in fire rates. Another 22 cities are in line for a rate cut.

The rates are based on gradings by the National Board of Fire Underwriters and other rating agencies. Most of the gradings were made in 1948.

If a city is ranked below fire protection standards prescribed by underwriters the fire insurance rates charged on property are higher. Further declines in standards bring further rate increases. Improvements promote cities to a higher classification with a corresponding decrease in rates.

The International City Managers' association, which gathered the statistics for its 1949 municipal year book, most cities downgraded in the ratings have had or will have their facilities reviewed before a change in rates, the association said.

These cities included: Dallas, San Antonio, Port Arthur, Abilene, Beaumont, Galveston, Texas, and Wichita Falls, Texas, Anaconda, Mont., and Philadelphia, Pa.

Those cities in line for a rate cut were not named.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 18. (AP)—The woman who wrote a popular book, "How To Be Happy While Single," was married Saturday.

Miss Jean Van Evera, the author, became the bride of John Markle, of Haverford, Pa. She still is wearing a body cast as a result of back injuries suffered in a fall at her parents' home here Aug. 1.

Chicago's Famed Haymarket Theater To Be Demolished

CHICAGO, Sept. 18. (INS)—Chicago's famed old Haymarket theater, for more than 60 years the scene of every kind of entertainment from Shakespeare to slapstick, will be demolished to make way for the city's new superhighway.

Within the next 120 days the city will pay $215,075 to the owners to take possession of the old building and remove it from the route of the wide highway that will connect Chicago's loop district with the sprawling westwide.

The Haymarket theater was famed in every nitch of American entertainment. It opened its doors on Christmas eve, 1887, as a theater of tragedy and serious plays.

In the years that followed, the theater came more and more to reflect the lighter side of life. Ten years after its gala opening it became a first-run vaudeville house. By the end of World War I, however, it was a burlesque theater.

But it was first-run burlesque and the house didn't fall into the second-run class until it took to motion pictures in the entertainment lag of the early thirties.

The Haymarket had seen its day by 1932.

It was a great day that included old Tom Kenne as "Richard III," a solemn bespectacled clarinet player named Benny Goodman in the pit band, and burlesque performers like Bud Abbott and Lou Costello and Joe Yule and his lively son, Mickey Rooney.

WHEELING, W. Va., (U.P.)—Charles Johnston was picking berries when a copperhead sank its poisonous fangs into his leg. Calmly, he killed the serpent and went on with his work. The leg was artificial.

William Weatherford, Former Ennis Cotton Broker, Claimed

ENNIS, Sept. 18. (AP)—William Weatherford, 77, landowner and former banker and cotton broker died of cerebral hemorrhage early today at his home here. His wife the former Mrs. Berlice Perkins of Ennis, whom he married in 1948, survives.

Weatherford came to Ennis from Houstonville, Texas in 1872 when he was 11 years old. He moved to Houston about 1900 and became a partner in Hubbel-Flack & Co., which later became Weatherford-Crump & Co., cotton factors.

He returned to Ennis in 1922 to organize the Farmers State Bank. It later became the Ennis State bank, which he served as president until he sold his interest and retired 10 years ago. He devoted his remaining years to looking after his extensive land holdings.

At one time Weatherford held a seat on the Houston, New York and New Orleans cotton exchange.

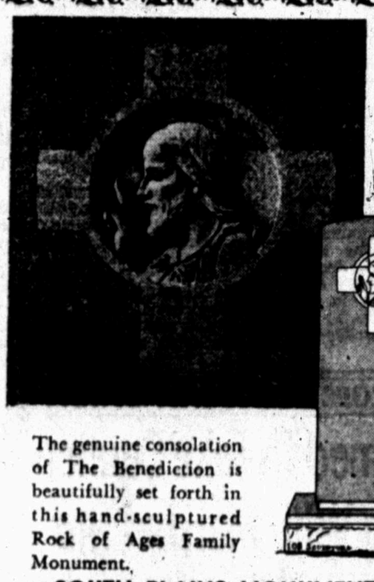

Weatherford married Miss Scott Allen of Ennis 55 years ago. She died in 1940. Surviving this marriage are three daughters—Mrs. Agnes Fulwiler of Raton, N. M.; Mrs. Minter Womack of Garland; and Mrs. R. W. Miller of Austin. An only son, J. W. Weatherford, of Houston, died last December. Several grandchildren and great-grandchildren also survive.

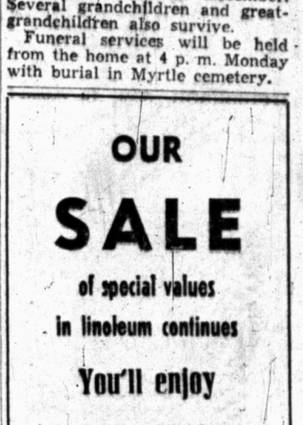

Funeral services will be held from the home at 4 p. m. Monday with burial in Myrtle cemetery.

Voters Believe Communists Will Take Over China; Oppose Aid Now

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
(American Institute of Public Opinion)

PRINCETOWN, N. J., Sept. 17 —Although the man in the street is far removed from the China scene and is not well informed about the intricate and complex situation there, a survey conducted shortly after publication of the government's White Paper on China reveals the following attitudes and impressions of U. S. voters today:

1.—More than one out of three (36 per cent) American voters questioned said they had heard or read about the government's recent report on China. This figure compares with 79 per cent who said they had been following the Civil War in China, as reported in December, 1948.

2.—More than half (53 per cent) of voters who were familiar with the White Paper expressed disapproval of the way the U. S. Government has handled the China situation, while 26 per cent approved. Republicans were considerably more critical of the administration's China policy than were Democrats.

3.—A majority of voters with opinions think the Communists will take over all of China. And among voters familiar with the White Paper, six out of ten expressed the view that the whole of China will ultimately fall to the Communists.

4.—The weight of voter opinion today is against the U. S. doing anything now to stop China from going Communist. However, about one-fifth of the voters questioned said they think the U. S. should still try to find a way to send aid—military and economic—to the Chinese Nationalists in their fight against the Communist forces.

5.—There is widespread belief among voters that Chiang Kai-Shek is not the man to lead China out of her dilemma. A majority of voters with opinions has an unfavorable impression of the Generalissimo today.

6.—Undoubtedly this unfavorable impression of Chiang, together with the belief that the Nationalist Government, though anti-Communist, is inept and corrupt, is the reason a majority of voters with opinions think the U. S. should not try to pull Chiang out from what appears to be an inevitable Communist victory.

These facts are revealed in an extensive Institute survey, which approached the controversial China problem from many different angles by means of a series of questions.

In measuring voter attitudes, the Institute survey first asked a representative crossection of men and women whether they had heard or read about the government's recent report on China and then asked an "open" or 'free answer" question as follows:

"Have you heard or read anything about the U. S. Government's recent report on China?"

Yes	36%
No	64

Two-thirds (67 per cent) of those voters with the greatest amount of education said they had heard or read about the report.

Informed voters, those who said they had heard or read about the report, were then asked:

"What is your opinion of the way the government has handled the China situation?"

	All Voters	Voters Familiar With Report
Disapproval ("Very poor;" "U. S. blundered." "U.S. should have given more help." etc.)	53%
Approval ("Very good;" "U.S. did best it could." etc.)	26
U.S. Should help China	1
U.S. Should stay out of China	2
Don't Know	18
All Informed Voters	100%

All voters, whether they had read about the recent report or not, were then asked:

"Do you think the Communists will take over all of China, or not?"

	Yes	No	Opin.
ALL VOTERS	48%	23%	29%
Voters Familiar with Report	59	27	14

"Is there anything the United States should do, in your opinion, to stop China from going Communist?"

	All Voters	Voters Familiar With Report
Yes:
Send aid in general	8%	11%
Send military aid	7	9
Send economic aid	4	6
Use propoganda	2	3
TOTAL YES	21%	29%
No	36	44
Don't Know	45	30
	102%	103%

The table adds to more than 100 per cent because some voters named more than one thing.

(The trend of sentiment on aid to Nationalist China has been downward since April of last year. At that time, the weight of informed opinion was in favor of greater aid. In December, 1948, opinion was about evenly divided though more opposed than favored a program of aid.)

The questions concerning Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek were also asked of all voters:

"What is your opinion of Chiang Kai-Shek?"

	All Voters	Voters Familiar With Report
Generally unfavorable ("poor," "weak." "incompetent leader," etc.)	35%	56%
Generally favorable ("all right," and qualified—"was all right at one time," etc.)	21	24
No Opinion	44	20

"Do you think the United States should or should not try to help Chiang Kai-Shek?"

	All Voters	Voters Familiar With Report
Should	25%	23%
Should not	44	60

Previous Institute surveys show that the U. S. policy of no diplomatic recognition of the Communist regime in China and no trade with it receives substantial approval from the public. Only two out of every 10 voters favored recognition and one out of every three favored continuing trade.

Senator Claims Trade Pacts 'Invite' Flood Of Unemployment

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18. (INS)—Sen. Malone (R-Nev) declared Saturday that Senate extension of the trade agreements act invites "a flood-tide of unemployment" for the United States.

Malone said the action allows the State department to make a "pawn" of the American worker's future by giving it "blanket authority" to cut tariffs.

The Nevadan said the recent British "dollar crisis" talks in Washington were a "smokescreen" to "obscure and minimize Senate consideration of the tariff problem" and added:

"The net result of the conference and the Senate's extension of the trade agreements act is to give England and her sterling areas empire . . . unlimited access to the American domestic market with goods produced by poorly-paid workers."

Malone predicted Britain soon will devalue the pound from its present $4.03 to "$3 or $3.25" resulting in a "further depression" of British labor costs on export goods.

Dutch And Indonesian Groups Hold Secret Parley In Namur

NAMUR, Belgium, Sept. 18. (AP) —Dutch and Indonesian delegates are meeting here in a hush-hush parley trying to break the deadlock preventing settlement of the Indonesian problem.

Representatives of Holland and her former East Indian colony came to this neutral country to search for a basic solution to the problem of their future relations.

Memorial Services Held In Jerusalem For Bernadotte

JERUSALEM, Sept. 18. (AP)—The first anniversary of the assassination of Count Folke Bernadotte was commemorated at a memorial service in St. Andrew's church in Jerusalem today.

Bernadotte was United Nations mediator for Palestine.

Cotton Belt Rail Line Granted Injunction Against Picketing

BELLEVILLE, Mo., Sept. 18(INS) The Cotton Belt Railroad Saturday obtained a court injunction restraining the MoPac pickets from interfering with their road's operation.

The injunction was granted by circuit Judge Ray Maxwell in Belleville.

The pickets, members of railroad brotherhoods striking against the Missouri Pacific railroad, previously had twice halted the Cotton Belt's operations for a total of 48 hours.

Meanwhile, members of the striking brotherhoods and representatives of the MoPac were reported to have recessed peace talks until Monday.

No progress was reported.

CLAY PIONEER DIES

HENRIETTA, Sept. 18. (AP)— M. Arthur Eaton, 75, pioneer Clay county resident and prominent Henrietta businessman, died today of a heart ailment. Eaton was superintendent of Henrietta's first water works system and had operated a plumbing business here more than 40 years.

FIRST IN PACIFIC — A squadron of these F-9-F Panther jet fighters operated with the Pacific fleet for the first time from the carrier Boxer. This one has just landed in San Diego, Calif. Pilots enthusiastically voiced the Navy view that the Panthers could outfly and outfight the Air Force's B-36. (AP Wirephoto.)

Rossellini May Release Sequence To Film Starring Ingrid Bergman Produced In Italy

BY LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18 — Ingrid Bergman is using every persuasion to get Rossellini to release the sequence of her movie, "Stromboli" which he is holding back from RKO. In the opinion of Art Cohn, who is just back from Rome, both she and Rossellini will eventually release it because they are eager to make this her best picture.

An amusing angle of the sequence is that it introduces two unknown players, and is the key to the story. They are Michael Chinigo, Rome correspondent for International News Service, and Art Cohn, who was on Stromboli from the first day of shooting.

Now the case is in the hands of lawyers, and if it isn't settled there will certainly be a big lawsuit.

Rossellini has chosen an anti-Communist story, "Dark Madonna," for his next movie, to try to refute the gossip that he has Communist sympathies. This story deals with the April, 1948 election in Italy when the right-thinking Italians beat the Communists at the polls. No, Ingrid will not be in it.

Grant May Sign

Lana Turner, who has been in Hollywood for three months waiting for her pitcure to start, won't have to wait much longer. Gary Grant, by the time this is in print, will probably be signed as her co-star.

This was all discussed when Gary went to Lake Arrowhead to see Dore Schary. The fact that he's been on the Metro lot with his agent, Lou Wasserman, doesn't sound like a social call. I must say they'd be some combination — Lana and Cary.

Battled Not Expected

The little daughter of Marjorie and Brain Donlevy, who was the center of one of the bitterest custody fights in Hollywood, has been entered in a Hollywood school. Brain, who goes to Ireland in February to make a picture, is in New York. He will not battle for the child's sole custody aagin, as has been reported.

Brian lives in Malibu, and Marjorie in Hollywood. Since he has signed to make "Midnight" for Leinster films, it would be foolish to take little Judy out of school in mid-term, although it is Brian's turn to have her.

"Midnight," based on a story by Braddon Ryan, is being produced by Desmond Leslie, a cousin of Winston Churchill.

Dahl To Play In Film

"Arlene Dahl will play me in 'The Life of Kalmar and Ruby,'" said Eileen Percy Ruby when I met her while we were both doing the family shopping.

"Are you pleased?" I asked Eileen, who is married to Harry Ruby, the song writer whose life with that of his partner, the late Bert Kalmar, is being filmed.

"I don't care," Eileen said. "I have never seen Miss Dahl. Just as long as Polly Moran doesn't play me."

Eileen, who expects to be a grandmother any day, is slender and still pretty. I first saw her — and I won't tell you how long ago — when she was signed to play Douglas Fairbanks' first leading lady. She had been a Ziegfeld follies beauty.

Name Kept Secret

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Edward Arnold is romancing a young redhaired Los Angeles business woman. But she is in the midst of a divorce action, so let us not mention her name until she's free.

Ethel Barrymore is moving into the heart of Hollywood from Palos Verdes. When asked if she didn't fear the smog, she said: "No, I've had by apartment smog conditioned."

Mickey Zukor Loew, daughter of the Adolph Zukors, and former wife of Arthur Loew sr., is reported about to marry again. Her bridegroom is a New York attorney.

Mae West isn't pining for Steve Cochran. She and her piano player, David Lapin, are very much in tune — but you know Mae.

Elizabeth Taylor has rented a beach house at Malibu for two months and will commute. Said Elizabeth: "It's awfully hard for Bill Pauley and me. I don't like to go to parties alone, but he has his business and I have my career, so we can't be together. If I do go out there's always a lot of talk that I am having another romance."

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Atlanta Man Shoots Himself Twice--And In Self Defense

ATLANTA, Sept. 18. (AP)—James Wesley Taylor, 33, shot himself twice—both times in self-defense.

City Detective W. M. Holland said Taylor, attacked by a bottle-swinging man late Saturday night, pulled his pistol, closed with his opponent and fired.

The bullet penetrated his opponent's arm and hit Taylor's own third finger, left hand.

Once again Taylor fired. The bullet grazed the attacker's chest and lodged in Taylor's left leg.

Holland said Taylor was justified.

Navy Jet Fighters Set New Postwar Shooting Record

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18. (AP)—A squadron of jet fighters based at San Diego, Calif., was credited today with a Navy postwar record for air-to-air gunnery.

The Navy said fighter Squadron 52 made an "outstanding" score in firing on targets towed by plane. "Outstanding" is the Navy's highest percentage classification.

High scorer was Lt. (JG) J. M. McFaddeb, US, of Denton, Texas.

The quinoa plant, which grows in the Andes at altitudes of 12,000 and 15,000 feet, is useful as food, drink and medicine.

Names Of Three Crash Victims Announced

FT. RILEY, Kas., Sept. 18. (INS)—The Army tonight released the names of three airmen killed when their L-17 plane crashed near Mattfield Green, Kas., yesterday.

The dead were identfied as First Lt. Frank Stone, jr., of Route 2, Scurry, Texas; First Lt. Dale R. Brenneman, jr., 34, of Junction City, Kas.; and First Lt. Clark W. Burton, 29, of Potomac, Ill.

Air Force officials said the cause of the crash had not been determined.

The liason plane was found early today and a para-rescue team jumped to the crash scene.

The plane was on a routine training flight from Ft. Riley to Kansas City and return.

Post, Denver City Advance To Oil Belt Finals

Millers Lick Sundown, While Gassers Eliminate Seagraves

(Special To The Avalanche)

POST, Sept. 18—Post's Millers, after dropping the opener of their playoff doubleheader with Sundown, bounced back with an 11-run outburst in the first inning of the nightcap and went on to score a 13-8 victory today to gain a berth in the Oil Belt league finals.

The Denver City Gassers also reached the finals today by splitting a twin bill with Seagraves' Oilers at Seagraves.

Post and Denver City last week had won the opening games of their respective first-round playoff series with Sundown and Seagraves.

Open At Denver City

Denver City will be the site of next Sunday's opener in the two-of-three game finals, with the two teams moving to Post the following Sabbath to wind up the playoffs.

Sundown rallied for five runs in the last three innings of today's first game here to gain a 10-7 verdict, then collapsed completely in the initial frame of the nightcap to bow out of the title picture.

Joiner Gains Win

In the opener, the visitors used four pitchers against the Millers, with Manager Baldy Joiner getting credit for the triumph. The turning point came in the seventh stanza when John Ethridge slammed a three-run homer that put Sundown ahead for keeps. Ethridge also had two other hits to become the game's outstanding batsman.

Lefty Toten opened Sundown's scoring with a bases-empty homer in the second, while Jack McKnight shared in batting honors for the winners with two safeties.

For Post, Jim Boyd and Dale Hester each hit two for three.

Big First For Post

Windell Greer went the route on the mound for Post, giving up 11 hits.

Post's big first frame told the story in the seven-inning finale. The Millers put together seven singles, three doubles, two walks and three Sundown errors for their 11 runs.

Sundown battled back gamely, scoring in each of the first five frames, but was never able to overcome the early deficit, despite two more home runs by Toten.

Altman Winning Pitcher

R. M. Thomas, with two doubles and two singles, Doug Simpson, with two singles and a double, and Walter B. Holland, with two doubles, paced the winners' 11-hit assault.

Ed Altman, the Millers' starting hurler, received credit for the win, although Greer relieved him in the fourth inning.

A crowd of 500 fans saw the twin bill.

The line scores:

SUNDOWN	012	020	302	—10	11	0
POST	000	502	00x	— 7	8	3

Medford, Joiner (6), Wright (8) and Wright, Joiner (8); Greer and Holland.

SECOND GAME

SUNDOWN	111	230	0	—	8	8	4
POST	(11)	00	10x	—	13	11	1

Cadenhead, Wright (1), Huckabee (3) and Joiner; Altman, Greer (4) and Holland.

GASSER SPLIT ENABLES WINNERS TO ADVANCE

SEAGRAVES, Sept. 18. (Spl.)—Denver City's Gassers moved into the Oil Belt league playoff finals today by taking the nightcap of a doubleheader from Seagraves, 5-2, after dropping the first game, 5-4.

The Gassers had held a one-game edge over the Oilers going into today's twin bill, which drew a crowd of 750 fans.

Gasser Fielding Shaky

Little Denny Davidson tossed a four-hitter in the seven-inning afterpiece to give Denver City the deciding game. His mates gave him an early three-run lead that held up despite Davidson's slight wildness and some shaky Gasser fielding.

Hulen Fowler, who arrived by plane today from Dallas, where he is enrolled at SMU, started on the hill for Seagraves, but had rough going and was lifted after retiring only one of the first five men to face him. Lefty Faulkner came in to pitch the remaining six and two-thirds stanzas.

Epperson Loses Game

Spec Simpson, with a double and a single, and Bill Clemens, with two singles, sparked Denver City's nine-hit attack.

Seagraves had won today's opener by coming from the short end of a 4-2 score in the late innings. R. D. Prather was the winning hurler, decisioning Marshall (Hook) Epperson of the Gassers.

For the Oilers, Manager Puttsy Gentry, Prather and Bill Cope had two hits apiece. Gentry and Red Deathrage teamed to pull a neat double steal that produced a run in the seventh in an outstanding offensive maneuver, while Lefty Faulkner came through with a pinch single that drove in the deciding run in the eighth inning.

Catcher Nuel Landreth hammered out a double and two singles to lead Denver City's 10-hit attack. Jackie Cook and Bobbie Joe Lewis had two hits each.

The line scores:

DENVER CITY	300	001	000	—4	10	6
SEAGRAVES	200	000	21x	—5	9	3

Epperson and Williams, Landreth (6); Prather and Deathrage.

College Football Swings Into High

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 — College football swings into high this week with enough top grade games on the program to fill bowl stadia throughout the nation.

Bowl hopes, as a matter of fact, will be riding on a good many of the November-in-September contests. Virtually every big name school breaks into action following the scattered firing of the last, and for some, lost weekend.

TCU Is Standout

California, Stanford, UCLA, Oregon, Villanova, Texas Christian and Wake Forest were the standouts of the first week's gunning.

Pacific Coast fans, getting their usual early peek at their hopefuls, saw California's Rose Bowlers demonstrate their class by whipping tough Santa Clara, 21-7. Stanford's touted Indians bowled over San Jose State, 49-0; UCLA piled up a surprising 35-13 bulge over Oregon State in a Friday tilt and the same day Oregon dumped St. Mary's Gaels, 24-7.

Villanova carried the East's colors aloft with a 35-0 shellacking of Texas A. & M. and Texas Christian smacked down Kansas 28-0. Wake Forest came from behind to thump Duquesne, 22-7.

Washington just squeezed by Utah, 14-7, on a late 80-yard sprint by Henry Tiedemann; William and Mary barely edged Houston, 14-13; and Tulsa was scared silly by McMurry before winning, 27-26.

Weekend Schedules

Other winners in Friday-Saturday games included Texas, Clemson, Kentucky, Washington State, Georgia, Mississippi, Marquette, Nevada, West Virginia, Iowa State, Idaho and Washington State.

Getting back to this coming Friday and Saturday, here are some of the tempting offerings for the customers:

Friday—Oklahoma's Sugar Bowl champs against Boston College at Boston and Auburn against Mississippi.

Saturday: The Midwest, South and Far West dominate the day's schedule with real corkers.

In the Midwest, Michigan, the nation's No. 1 team, opens against rugged Michigan State; Notre Dame, No. 2, takes on Indiana; Northwestern and Purdue battle in a conference number; Ohio State tackles Missouri and Kansas jousts with Colorado.

Clemson Meets Rice

In the South, Tulane and Alabama, Vanderbilt and Georgia Tech, Kentucky and Louisiana State, and Mississippi State and Tennessee, meet in outstanding Southeastern Conference contests.

North Carolina's fine eleven mixes with North Carolina State while the Southern Conference champion Clemson outfit moves to Texas for a crack at Rice. Wake Forest and South Carolina also travel to the Lone Star state. Wake Forest faces Southern Methodist's Cotton Bowl kings, and South Carolina takes on Baylor. TCU goes after its second win against Oklahoma A. and M. while the Texas Aggies aim to recoup against Texas Tech.

The game of the week in the East pits Villanova against Penn State. Temple entertains Texas, and Pittsburgh plays host to William and Mary.

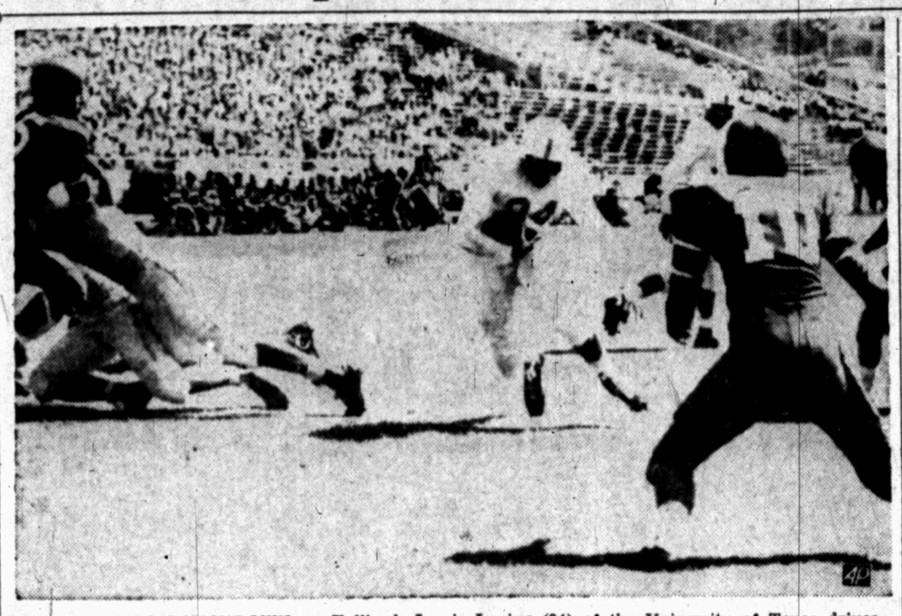

For those who have been busy watching baseball's hot pennant race, other Friday results saw Georgia beat Furman 25-0, Mississippi swamp Memphis State 40-7, Denver trounce Colorado Mines, 48-0, and Drake down South Dakota State, 40-0.

Saturday's other top results included Texas 43, Texas Tech 0; Clemson 69, Presbyterian 7; Kentucky 71, Mississippi Southern 7; Washington State 33, Utah State 7; Marquette 66, North Dakota State 0; Nevada 41, Cincinnati 21; West Virginia 42, Aynesburg 7; Iowa State 64, Dubuque 0; Idaho 79, Williamette 0; College of Pacific 7, San Francisco 6; Washington State 33, Utah State 0; Texas Western 47, Brigham Young 6; Wyoming 57, Idaho State 13; Quantico Marines 33, Virginia Tech 14.

Richmond Rebels Trim Clippers 38-0 Opening APFL Schedule

RICHMOND, Va., Sept. 18. (AP)—The Richmond Rebels moved off to a flying start in their American Professional Football League schedule today by blanking the Wilmington Clippers 38 to 0 before a crowd of about 8,000 in City Stadium.

Byron Gillory, flashy Richmond back, went wide around left end on a pitchout to score at the start of the second quarter.

FIRST TEXAS TOUCHDOWN — Fullback Lewis Levine (34) of the University of Texas drives through a gaping hole in Texas Tech's line to score Texas' first touchdown in its 43-0 rout of the Red Raiders at Austin Saturday. Tech players in the photo are Halfback Tim Hatch (10) and Fullback Bud Conley (15, extreme left). Texas went on to score in every quarter in chalking up the decisive triumph. (AP Wirephoto.)

Conference Games In Area Grid Spotlight

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

South Plains schoolboy football buckles down to serious business this week.

After two weekends of inter-district skirmishing, conference play takes over the spotlight Friday night. Of 25 games on tap, 17 are district affairs—including several tussles that will have important bearing on this fall's championship scrambles.

No conference games are slated for area Class AA clubs, but in Class A there are nine district engagements. Class B offers eight more.

All this week's games are set for Friday night except the Lubbock Pioneers-at-Meadow tilt, which is to be played Thursday night.

Plainview, after losing to Fort Worth's Poly last Saturday, will try to spoil Lamesa's perfect 1949 record at Lamesa this week. Coach Dub Harris' Bulldogs from District 1-AA will be underdogs against the 3-AA Lamesans, who haven't yielded a score in two games against Class A opposition.

Two other area representatives in 3-AA are in action this week. Lubbock, after an impressive debut against Childress, plays host to North Side of Fort Worth. Brownfield, idle last week, journeys to Big Spring.

There will be a full docket of conference competition in District 3-A. The feature battle sends Crosbyton to Lockney for a game that may eventually help decide the district title. Crosbyton opened its season with a 2-1 penetrations triumph over Tulia in a scoreless deadlock last week, while Lockney barely squeezed through to a 20-19 decision over rebounding Sudan.

Other 3-A tilts find unbeaten, untied Floydada at Ralls, Tulia at Spur and Abernathy at Matador. Paducah, the ninth conference member, gets a rest.

Sundown is at Levelland in the only district encounter in 4-A North, and the winner of this one will be favored to scrap it out later with Littlefield and Sudan for conference honors. Littlefield, back in stride after an opening-game loss, is at O'Donnell this week, Sudan goes to Hereford, and Muleshoe is host to Slaton.

District 4-A South also lists one conference game, Seagraves at Post. Post, the defending bi-district champ, has yet to win a game this season, having tied Ralls and lost to Floydada. Seagraves has played only once, drubbing the Big Spring "B" squad, 24-0.

South Plains representatives in District 5-A draw tough assignments this week. Andrews, after losing by 26-13 to Pecos last week, takes on Wink at Andrews. Seminole journeys to Pecos, and Denver City goes to Crane. All these are conference affairs.

Snyder, in District 6-A, has an open date.

Five conference games round out a full slate in 3-B. The feature pits Dimmitt against Springlake at Springlake, with the victor automatically to become a top favorite for the district crown. Other games are Spade at Anton, Olton at Amherst, Friona at Hale Center and Whitharral at Farwell.

New Deal goes to Whiteface for an important 4-B engagement. Other conference tilts in this circuit are Cooper at Idalou and Petersburg at Plains. Meadow, as mentioned earlier, is host to the Lubbock Pioneers on Thursday night, while Ropesville and Frenship have open dates.

Last week's results:

Poly (Fort Worth) 18, Plainview 7; Lubbock 47, Childress 0; Lamesa 20, Seminole 0; Abernathy 13, Slaton 6; Matador 7, Silverton 0; Crosbyton 6, Tulia 0 (3-A conf., Crosbyton won on penetrations, 2-1); Ralls 20, Tahoka 0; Lockney 20, Sudan 19; Floydada 13, Post 6; Crowell 12, Paducah 0; Hamlin 26, Spur 0; Sundown 20, O'Donnell 0; Portales, N. M., 20, Muleshoe 0; Littlefield 39, Morton 6 (4-AN conf.); Hereford 6, Levelland 0; Seagraves 24, Big Spring "B" 0; Wink 48, Denver City 6 (5-A conf.); Pecos 26, Andrews 13 (5-A conf.); Snyder 13, Stamford 6; Olton 28, Spade 0 (3-B conf.); Kress 6, Hale Center 0; Farwell 26, Friona 6 (3-B conf.); Springlake 31, Whitharral 0 (3-B conf.); Meadow 32, Cooper 7 (4-B conf.); Ropesville 14, Petersburg 0 (4-B conf.); Whiteface 12, Levelland "B" 0; Dimmitt 38, Amherst 0 (3-B conf.); New Deal 45, Plains 0 (4-B conf.).

Washington Whips Green Bay Packers

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 18. (INS) — The Washington Redskins whipped the Green Bay Packers 35-24 in a National Football League exhibition today in Milwaukee before 12,873 spectators.

Hurlin' Harry Gilmer substituted for the injured Sammy Baugh and tossed four touchdown passes and gained 84 yards in five running attempts.

Harry Dowda scored Washington's other touchdown on a 19-yard run.

Hugh Taylor, Dick Poillon, Dan Sandifer and Bob Goode were on the receiving end of Gilmer's touchdown tosses. Poillon kicked all five extra points.

Ted Fritsch scored one touchdown, a field goal and three extra points for the Packers. Tony Canadeo's two trips across the goal accounted for Green Bay's other tallies.

49'ers Thump Dons, 42-14

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 18 (INS) —San Francisco's 49'ers marked up their third straight All-America conference victory today with an easy 42-14 win over the Los Angeles Dons.

A crowd of 31,960 saw the Dons score in the first and last periods, the first touchdown coming after six minutes of play when Dick Woodard intercepted a San Francisco pass and went 33 yards for the score.

The other Don touchdown early in the fourth quarter resulted from a seven-yard pass by Glenn Dobbs to End Joe Aguirre. Bob Nelson booted both extra points.

49'ers In Charge

San Francisco dominated play throughout the rest of the game, scoring three touchdowns each in the second and third periods. Here is the way the 49'ers made their six touchdowns:

Quarterback Frankie Albert went eight yards around left end on a "bootleg" play.

Fullback Joe Perry ran 59 yards through the middle of the Los Angeles team for the second score.

Albert tossed a 19 yard pass to Halfback Eddie Carr, who ran 55 more for the third score. The pass and run on the play netted 74 yards.

Standlee Blasts Over

Norm Standlee, going in for Perry at fullback, went 23 yards for the fourth tally, bowling over four Los Angeles tacklers who attempted to bring him down.

The other San Francisco fullback, Verl Lillywhite, who replaced Standlee, went 24 yards through center for the fifth touchdown.

The final San Francisco score came on a 39-yard pass, Albert to Alyn Beals.

Joe Vetrano, who hasn't missed a conversion since last year, booted all of the extra points.

Wolfforth And Ralls Split Doubleheader

RALLS, Sept. 18 (Special)—Wolfforth Wolves and Ralls split a doubleheader here today in exhibition baseball contests. Ralls won the first game, 4-3, in 13 innings and dropped the second, 4-5, in a five-inning game shortened by darkness.

The Wolves, winners of the Cotton Belt league, traveled to Ralls for the games with the Cotton Belt champions.

Wolfforth got off to an early start in the first contest, scoring two runs in the second frame before Ralls bounced back with two in the fifth. A one-run sixth inning put the Wolves ahead, but Ralls rallied with one in the seventh, and the next five innings were scoreless.

In the 13th frame W. Houchin, the winning pitcher, reached first on an error, went to second when Pitcher Jess Collard errored on a bunt, and scored when Collard threw into centerfield on pickoff play.

Collard struckout 12 batters, hit two and gave up no walks. Houchin struckout four and walked one.

The Wolves were the victims of questionable umpiring which caused conflict throughout the first game.

For the Wolves French made three hits, Bill Petree two, Collard two and Spear two.

Darkness cut short the second contest after five innings. French was the winner and struckout nine, issuing three walks, and Blagg was the loser, being relieved by Nicholas.

French tripled twice for the winners, and Walter Bumpass and Damper Weaver singled, with Spear tripling.

Jester had three for three for Ralls, a single and two doubles, and Blair homered in the third with one on base.

SWC Has Full Grid Docket

Two great showings and a terrific disappointment got the Southwest conference football campaign on its way last weekend.

Texas slaughtered Texas Tech, 43-0, and Texas Christian blasted Kansas, 28-0, in a couple of eye-openers.

Texas A & M was as impotent as a faded daisy as it did everything wrong against rough, tough Villanova. The Easterners licked the Aggies all over the field and took advantage of Cadet mistakes to roll up a 35-0 score. It was one of the worst defeats in A & M football history.

Seven Games Slated

With the preliminaries a mixture of strong and poor football, the conference gets at it full blast this week. Seven games, six of them at night and five of them of intersectional flavor, are scheduled.

The Aggie debacle allowed the conference an even break only in intersectional strife last week. This week the circuit will be expected to gain strength.

Texas, a team of speed and bullseye passing, journeys to Philadelphia Saturday to play Temple.

Saturday night Texas Christian and Texas A & M also will be playing their second games. The Christians meet Oklahoma A & M at Fort Worth and the Aggies engage Texas Tech at San Antonio. This probably will be A & M's only chance to win a game this season.

Rice Meets Clemson

Baylor opens the season with South Carolina at Waco, Rice starts off against Clemson at Houston, defending champion Southern Methodist begins the campaign against Wake Forest at Dallas and Arkansas plays tough North Texas State at Little Rock.

Texas raced and passed to 380 yards against a Texas Tech team that not only was outmanned but handicapped greatly by near 95-degree heat. Paul Campbell featured the Longhorn attack with six passes for 106 yards.

Texas Christian didn't give Kansas a chance. The closest the Jayhawks came was the Frog 23-yard line. The passing of Lindy Berry shoved Kansas into a bad defeat. He connected on nine for 129 yards. The Frogs stormed to 219 yards on the ground and 184 in the air—a total of 403.

Aggie Fumbles Costly

The Texas Ags fumbled eight times and Villanova recovered eight of them. Three paved the way for Wildcat touchdowns. Pass intereference set up another and a deflected pass brought the fifth Villanova counter. But the Wildcats justly deserved the win. They whammed the Aggie line for 327 yards with giant Ralph Pasquariello making just 25 yards less than all A & M backs combined. He slashed to 71 yards in 12 carries.

Four of this week's foes played games last week. Wake Forest licked Duquesne, 22-7, Clemson ran over Presbyterian, 69-7, North Texas State lost to Hardin-Simmons, 13-7, and Texas Tech, of course, felt the power of Texas.

A total of 89,000 fans saw the three games Saturday with 32,000 watching TCU and Kansas, 29,000 witnessing the flattening of the Aggies and 28,000 sitting out the Texas Tech thumping.

Jackie Neel Hurls Mercedes Nine To Tournament Victory

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Sept. 18. (AP)—Mercedes, Texas, handed the Clearwater Bombers their first defeat in the softball world series 5 to 1, here today.

Mercedes' Jackie Neel held the strong Bombers to three hits.

Clearwater bounced back to whip Stratford, Conn., 2-0, behind Gerald Overcash's three-hit pitching in a ten inning battle.

Virgil Butler Beats Ray Faust In Duel

Dukes Beat Sox In 13 Innings, 7 To 6

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Sept. 18. (AP)—A line drive single over second base by Pitcher Virgil Butler sent Jim Fiscalini across the plate with a run in the 13th inning to give the Albuquerque Dukes a 7 to 6 victory over the Amarillo Gold Sox tonight.

The victory was the second straight for the Dukes in the championship series with Amarillo. They won Saturday night's game 13-5.

Breisinger Today

Southpaw Tom Breisinger will pitch for the Dukes tomorrow night against Steve Lagomarsino.

The series shifts to Amarillo for three games and if any more are necessary in the best four out of seven, the series returns to Albuquerque for two more games.

Amarillo Pitcher Ray Faust pitched an outstanding game, yielding only four hits until the bottom of the 12th when Manager Hershel Martin got a scratch single off Al Carr's glove. But the Dukes, who scored six unearned runs in the fifth inning, came through with their victory in the 13th when Jim Fiscalini singled through the box. Len Attyd tried to sacrifice but he beat it out for a hit.

Butler Wins Game

Ray Hamrick sacrificed to move Fiscalini to third and Attyd to second.

Butler stepped up to the plate and hit the second pitch into centerfield. The game was a tough one for Faust to lose. He struck out 11 and walked only five.

But three walks in the sixth inning led to his downfall. Amarillo had taken a 2-0 lead. Faust walked Hamrick and Butler in the fifth. Dick Dawson tried to sacrifice, but the ball was booted by Carr and the bases loaded.

Maul Scores Two

Cliff McClain lifted a short fly to Doug Lewis in rightfield, but Lewis dropped it for an error, Hamrick scoring with the bases still loaded. Martin popped to Paul Halter for what would have been the third out, but Allan Maul singled to rightfield to score two runs.

The Dukes added another run on a double steal and Dick Gyselman's walk. A line single by Fiscalini and an outfield fly by Len Attyd produced the last two tallies of the inning.

Faust pitched no-hit ball until Martin's scratch hit in the 12th. The Duke star was Ray Hamrick, shortstop, who handled 20 balls during the evening. He committed two errors.

Amarillo scored its second run in the first on a single by Halter, a forced play and a double steal. A walk, an infield out and an error by Maul gave Amarillo another run in the third.

Three runs crossed the plate for the Sox in the seventh when Clawitter singled and Lyle Christiansen singled. An infield out, a two-base error and a single by Chick Howard produced another. Another came on two singles and another error.

Losing Raiders Given Hero's Welcome

Texas Tech's football team, losers by a 43-0 margin to Texas in Austin Saturday, were given a hero's welcome yesterday when they returned to Lubbock.

The T.N.M. & O. bus carrying the squad was met by a police escort of two cars on the outskirts of Lubbock and taken through the heart of the city to Jones Stadium. There a crowd of over 100 persons, including freshmen, President D. M. Wiggins, Matador club members, and exes, warmly greeted the tired players.

It was in contrast to the gloomy welcome expected and gave the players more determination than ever to gain revenge at the expense of Texas A & M this week in San Antonio.

End Jack Davis of Littlefield, a sophomore, was the only serious Red Raider casualty. Davis wrenched his right ankle badly late in the game, but it was not broken as originally feared. He was taken from the field during the third quarter and an ambulance carried him to Brackenridge hospital during the fourth quarter. X-rays revealed no break and there is a possibility that he will play Saturday.

Raider players were worn out by the heat and the bruising play Saturday and the trip home was relatively quiet. Several had face cuts and bruises, but the biggest worry was the number of players suffering from chest and head colds. Trainer Mason Gorby is attempting to relieve the condition before too much time has elapsed.

Today's practice session is expected to be light, with emphasis given to conditioning after the rough weekend and report on the Villanova-Texas Aggies game by Coaches Polk Robison and Tipp Mooney.

That Man Davis Still Running For Cowboys

ABILENE, Sept 18. (AP)—Wilton (Hook) Davis, Hardin-Simmons backfield wraith, is off to a good start toward reclaiming the National Collegiate Football ground-gaining title.

Davis, as a freshman in 1947, topped the nation with 1,173 yards. Last year he rushed 1,031 despite a knee injury. But he wasn't first.

He had the knee operated on last spring.

Saturday night, as Hardin-Simmons beat North Texas State 13-7, Davis ran 15 times for a total of 137 yards.

Cards, Dodgers Score Victories; Yanks Maintain Lead Over Bosox

Reds Win, Giants Split Twin Bill

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 18. (AP)— Ron Northey, Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter found Robin Roberts an easy mark for a home run apiece and the St. Louis Cardinals swamped the Philadelphia Phillies 15 to 3 today. Northey's blow came in the third inning with the bases full following a rhubarb by the Phils.

The victory kept the Redbirds two and a half games ahead of the Brooklyn Dodgers who defeated the Cubs at Chicago, 7 to 1.

Red Munger gave up four hits and struck out seven before he gave way to a pinch hitter to save him for possible action in the coming series against Brooklyn. He was in trouble in the second when the Phillies took a two-run lead but settled down as the Cardinals came back into the game.

GIANTS AND PIRATES SPLIT DOUBLEHEADER

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 18. (INS) — The New York Giants and Pittsburgh Pirates took turns beating each others brains out today and split a double header. The Giants won the first, 13 to 4, and the Pirates the second, 7 to 2.

The nightcap was called after six innings because of the Sunday curfew in Pennsylvania. Cliff Chambers won his 11th game.

In the opener the Giants pounded five Pittsburgh hurlers for 16 hits with Bobby Thomson hitting his 25th and 26th homeruns and Joe Lafata and Wes Westrum also getting round-trippers. Sheldon Jones coasted to his 13th triumph.

KLUSZEWSKI LEADS REDS IN SPLIT WITH BOSTON

CINCINNATI, Sept. 18. (INS)—The Cincinnati Reds topped the Boston Braves 7 to 6 in the first game of a doubleheader today and then got a 1 to 1 tie in the nightcap. The second contest was halted by darkness after nine innings.

The two clubs will playoff their tie in an afternoon game tomorrow.

Ted Kluszewski almost singlehandedly paced the Redlegs to victory in the opener. He hit a home run with the bases filled in the first inning, doubled in the second and ninth frames and singled in the seventh.

BRANCA HURLS DODGERS TO 7-1 OVER CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Sept. 18. (INS)— Big Ralph Branca won his 13th game of the year today as his Brooklyn teammates made 10 hits to beat the Chicago Cubs 7 to 1.

Branca was relieved in the ninth inning, however, by Don Newcombe when the Chicagoans got their only run.

Carl Furillo blasted a home run for Brooklyn in the second inning with one man on base to give Branca enough runs for the victory.

Gonzales Bests Ted Schroeder

By CHUCK PANAMA
INS Sports Writer

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 18. — Richard (Pancho) Gonzales cemented his position as the top amateur tennis player in the United States today as he whipped Ted Schroeder, 6-3, 9-11, 8-6, 6-4, for the men's singles title in the 23rd annual Pacific Southwest championships.

It was over Schroeder, on Labor day, that Pancho, the Los Angeles Mexican youth with the broad grin and booming serve, won the U. S. singles title at Forest Hills.

Today's match was in a measure a replay of the Forest Hills setto. Both contenders played their serves and baseline shots to perfection.

But Pancho beat Ted at what Schroeder is most noted for —his net game.

Pancho In Command

Gonzales was in command for the first set when he broke Schroeder's service on the sixth game and held on for the win.

He kept it up at the beginning of the marathon second set, breaking Schroeder's serve in the first game and holding it until the tenth.

With the score at 5 games to 4, and Pancho serving, Schroeder roared back with four baseline shots to break the serve and tie the set at five games each.

Both players held service to the twentieth game. Schroeder then broke through a deuce count with two placements for the game and then held his own serve to take the set.

Comes Back Strong

Both players held service until the thirteenth game in the third set. Schroeder overshot the baseline to give Pancho a 7-6 game lead and the popular Mexican lad then held his own service to take the set.

Pancho came back after the intermission with even more confidence and accuracy than he displayed in the first three sets. He broke service in the fifth game with two beautiful net shots.

Gonzales took his own service and Ted took his to set the stage for a brilliantly-fought tenth game that went to deuce seven times before Pancho, with set and match point, scored a perfect service ace.

Mrs. Perez Wins

Mrs. Helen Perez, Los Angeles stroke artist, won the women's singles championship when 18-year-old Beverly Baker was forced to default in the third set of their finals battle.

The ambidextrous Santa Monica youngster suffered a cramp in the thumb of her left hand and was forced to concede the match to Mrs. Perez with the latter leading, 4-1, in the third set.

Mrs. Perez took the first set, 7-5, and was leading in the second, 5-3. However, Miss Baker rallied beautifully and took the second stanza by a score of 7-5.

Whitney Reed, of Alameda, Calif., upset Hamilton Richardson, of Baton Rouge, La., in the junior boys' singles, winning by scores of 6-3, 6-3, 6-2.

Willie Pep Will Defend His Title Tuesday Night At Home

NEW YORK, Sept. 18. (AP)—Willie Pep, the little boxing master from Hartford, Conn., defends his featherweight title in his home state for the first time Tuesday night when he meets Eddie Compo of New Haven in a 15-rounder in Waterbury, Conn.

This twice postponed, all-Connecticut affair will mark Pep's initial defense of the crown he regained from Sandy Saddler last Feb. 11.

Compo isn't given much of a chance against the classy champion.

Ted Lyons was an active Chicago White Sox pitcher for 24 years, although he missed three seasons due to the war.

Tigers Sweep Twin Bill From Senators

NEW YORK, Sept. 18. (INS)—Even the absence of Joe DiMaggio, who took to his bed with a slight attack of grippe, failed to halt the New York Yankees today as they drubbed Cleveland 7 to 3.

The slugging of Hank Bauer and the neat relief twirling of Ralph Buxton, Hugh Casey and Joe Page enabled the Yanks to maintain their 2 1/2 game edge on the Boston Red Sox who also won.

Buxton, Casey and Page, working in relays, stopped the Indians cold after the third inning. The Tribe did all of its scoring off Vic Raschi in a wild first inning.

The Yanks did everything wrong in that three-run Cleveland first, which reached its low point when Larry Doby singled, stole second, was awarded third on interference by New York second baseman Joe Coleman and then stole home.

Riegel Heads West Amateur Entry List

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 18. (INS)—Defending Champion Robert (Skee) Riegel heads a parade of 158 golfers to the tee at St. Louis' Bellerive Country club Monday in the Western Amateur Golf tournament.

Riegel won the championship last year by defeating lanky Jimmy McHale of Philadelphia in Wichita, Kan. A few weeks ago, however, McHale eliminated Riegel from the National Amateur in Rochester, N. Y.

The 1948 titleholder divides his allegiance between Tulsa, Okla., Glendale, Calif., Albuquerque, N. M., and Upper Darby, Pa. This time, he registered from Tulsa.

Other former champions entered are the veteran Chick Evans of Chicago, Frank (Muscles) Stranahan of Toledo, Ohio, and John Lehman of Chicago.

Former U. S. Amateur Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N. C., and Big Bill Campbell, the West Virginia legislator, also are among the favorites.

Only seven kicks were blocked last season in the All-American Conference and the Los Angeles Dons were victimized three times.

Cats Lose, 4-3, In Texas League

SHREVEPORT, La., Sept. 18. (AP)—Jack Kraus won his own ball game today with a three-run homer in the last of the ninth inning to give the Shreveport Sports a 4-3 victory over the Fort Worth Cats.

The Shreveport victory left the Cats leading in the first round of the Texas League playoff series, three games to one.

Kraus was the third Shreveport pitcher in today's game. He hurled the last two frames, giving up only one single to the Cats.

Billy Loes, Fort Worth hurler who went the distance had a shutout until the eighth inning and his mates had given him a three-run lead.

But in the eighth, two singles and a wild pitch gave the Sports their first run before Kraus' payoff clout.

Breckenridge Faces Wichita Falls

Amarillo, Abilene Meet In AA Feature

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Some of the giants that have emerged from Texas' young high school football season tangle this week.

Abilene plays Amarillo, with the winner sure to be on the spot as one of the favorites in the class AA race.

Breckenridge meets Wichita Falls, two double tough teams; Baytown runs into Lufkin, and Texarkana hopes to live up to advance notice against Denison.

Port Arthur, Austin, Kerrville and Lubbock—all strong entries in the AA race—face question mark opposition.

Lamar of Houston, the team that may be the best in the City conference, shouldn't have too much trouble with Crozier Tech of Dallas.

Top games this week include: Highland Park (Dallas)-Paschal (Fort Worth); Arlington Heights (Fort Worth)-Odessa; Milby (Houston)-Port Arthur; North Side (Fort Worth)-Lubbock; San Antonio Tech-McAllen; Breckenridge (San Antonio)-Austin; Las Cruces, N. M.-Ysleta; Bowie (El Paso)-Douglas, Ariz.; Fort Worth Poly-San Angelo; Vernon-Sherman; Longview-Paris; Greenville-Corsicana; Henderson-Palestine; Hillsboro-Denton; Bryan - Waco; South Park (Beaumont)-Brownsville; Waxahachie-Corpus Christi; San Benito-Alice.

Abilene, which tied Breckenridge in its season opener, last week crushed defending City conference champion Arlington Heights, 27-12.

Amarillo, the Panhandle's perennial powerhouse, ran over Denton, 56-13.

Breckenridge kept an unbeaten slate by bumping Paschal of Fort Worth, 27-6, and Wichita Falls opened with a 32-6 victory over Denison.

Baytown battered Conroe, 47-6, and Lufkin bounced back from its scoreless tie with Longview to erase Ennis, 34-13.

Lamar blanked Texarkana, 6-0, while Port Arthur beat a strong New Orleans team, Fortier, 7-0, to stay undefeated after two outings.

Austin knocked off Waco, defending Class AA titlist, 21-7; Kerrville beat San Antonio Tech, 12-0, and Lubbock opened its season with a one-sided 47-0 decision over Childress.

RAMBLERS TAKE TITLE

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 18. (INS) The Phoenix, Ariz., Ramblers won their third Women's Amateur Softball association championship in a row today by squeezing out a 2-1 win over the scrappy Erv Lind Florists before 6,300 fans at Portland. The tying run was on third base when the game ended.

EL TREBOL BEATEN

WESTBURY, L. I., Sept. 18. (INS)—The hard riding Hurricanes retained the National Open Polo championship today by routing the El Trebol club of Argentina, 10 to 4, in the final match at the Meadow Brook club.

Cleveland Pro Gridders Win

CLEVELAND, Sept. 18 (INS)—The New York Yankees out-played the Cleveland Browns in every department except the one that counts and lost 14-3 to the All-America conference football champions here today before 26,312 fans.

Four times the New Yorkers moved within the Browns' 15-yard line but were unable to cross the goal line. Once the Yankees even came within a foot of a touchdown.

They had 15 first downs to Cleveland's five and gained 311 yards to the Browns' 125. The 125 yards gained by the Browns was least they had made in four years of play.

Les Horvath picked up a fumble and raced 84 yards for Cleveland's first touchdown shortly after the opening kickoff. Tommy James tallied the other six points on a 27-yard pass interception just before the final gun. Lou Saban kicked both extra points.

Harvey Johnson's 27-yard field goal accounted for New York's only points.

High Winds Break Up President's Cup Race

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18. (AP)—Everything went wrong with the President's Cup Regatta today.

A wind of up to 35 miles an hour kept all the big speed boats off the Potomac. And when President Truman, who came out to see the show, got ready to go home, his boat wouldn't run.

This was vastly embarrassing, of course, since there was enough Navy braid around to make a hallowe'en costume. But it happened. Another boat had to come up to the President's small cruiser The Margie, and take him in.

Britain Attacks Economic Crisis

of the decision, to which he was long opposed.

U. S. quarters believe that the harsh move was taken only at the insistence of American experts who were convinced it is the only means by which Britain can work herself out of the grave situation in which she now finds herself.

Bread Prices Climb

The first immediate result to the ordinary Briton is a rise in the price of bread from fourpence half penny to sixpence since the wheat in the bread must be purchased with dollars from the United States and Canada.

At the old rate of exchange sixpence would have been about 10 cents (U. S.) and four-pence half-penny a little less than five cents. At the new rate sixpence is about seven cents and fourpence half-penny a little less than half. The price rise is therefore equal to nearly doubling the price of bread.

Cripps ordered all banks and stocks exchanges in Britain closed tomorrow and warned that stern measures will be taken against "anyone' attempting to take advantage of the situation by profiteering."

The chancellor of the exchequer admitted he had hoped he would not have to devalue the pound but said once decided upon it was "essential to fix a rate which would hold."

To Resist Pay Hikes

Cripps reiterated the Labor government's determination to resist any increase in wages or profits in the face of some workers demands for higher wages. He pleaded for keeping present economic rates "until we see how devaluation works." He declared:

"It is a step we cannot repeat. It is a great opportunity. Let us seize it with both hands . . . we must start another stage of the magnificent struggle for our people.

"It is not a time to hold back . . . we have accepted the challenge of the times."

Cripps indicated the Labor government does not intend to halve its nationalization and social welfare program saying devaluation "was the only alternative to attacking the social services . . ."

To "Cheapen" British Goods

The practical effect of the move on Americans will be the British goods which formerly cost $4.03 have been reduced in effect to $2.80.

It is this move that U. S. economic experts have argued will boost British exports to American and other dollar areas enabling the British to build up their all-but-depleted dollar resources.

Shortly after Cripps spoke a report from South Africa said the South African pound is being devalued, indicating the commonwealth nations are joining Britain in her stand. The South African pound has been considered one of the strongest in the sterling area.

Australia, New Zealand and India followed the South African lead, as did Norway and Denmark.

Financial Leaders Shocked

Financial leaders in London were admittedly shocked by the extent of the devaluation although some cut had been virtually certain considering the American backing of it.

They said, however, that apparently Cripps, although disliking the idea, decided once the move was agreed upon only the most desperate devaluation would have any effect.

Economic experts in Britain said they don't believe Belgium, Switzerland and Italy are likely to change the dollar of their currencies. Switzerland, especially is in the best financial state of any European country and its francs considered the "hardest" currency in the world aside from dollars.

France is said to be undecided about her position.

The French cabinet met in Paris to discuss the situation.

Bodies Of Two More Victims Of B-36 Crash Are Recovered

FORT WORTH, Sept 18 (AP)—Lake Worth gave up today the bodies of two more of the five airmen who died in the first fatal crash of a B-36 bomber. A diver located the body of the fifth in the big ship's submerged hull.

The body of M/Sgt. John G. Stanko, relief flight engineer, was found early today. It was floating near the shore opposite the Carswell Air Force base runway the craft traveled in its illfated take-off run Thursday night.

The second body recovered today was that of Capt. Harold Kernodle, relief pilot. Diver M. R. Best reported he had found another body in the wreckage and it was bound to be that of Lt. Herman B. Styles, jr., radarman-navigator-bombardier.

Old Shells Blow Up, Rock Cairo, Egypt; Soldiers Hurt

CAIRO, Sept. 18. (AP) — Three hundred tons of old shells blew up today in an ammunition dump one the outskirts of Canro.

The blast rocked and frightened this city of 2,000,000. Minor explosions were continuing four hours later.

All Cairo's fire and police reserves joined soldiers in fighting a fire still raging late tonight in the Mokkatam hills behind the Citadel, Cairo's 1,000-year-old fortress.

The ministry of defense announced an unspecified number of soldiers had been wounded. It did not mention any dead.

Search Abandoned For Atlantic Fliers

NEW YORK, Sept. 18. (AP)—The search for two Italian fliers, missing on a flight from the Azores to New York, was called off tonight.

The U. S. Coast Guard said orders to abandon the hunt came at 8:30 p. m. (CST), and affected planes and ships of the Coast Guard, Air Force, Navy and the Royal Canadian Air Force.

All hope apparently was abandoned for the missing pair, John M. Brondello and Camillio Barioglio.

Flying a light Beechcraft Bonanza, they took off from the Azores Friday morning.

They were more than half-way to their New York goal when they were last heard from Friday night.

HST Facing New Troubles On Senate Study Of Appointments

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18. (AP)—Fresh appointment troubles piled up for President Truman today in advance of a Senate vote tomorrow on the nomination of John Carson to be a Federal Trade commissioner.

With the outcome of the Carson confirmation fight in doubt, an informal check indicated that the Senate Commerce committee might turn thumbs down on Mr. Truman's reappointment of Leland Olds as Federal Power commissioner.

Olds' nomination last June 8 for a new five year term is being opposed by those who disagree with his espousal of public power proposals in the 10 years he has served as a commissioner.

Five years ago former Senator Moore, Oklahoma Republican, led the fight against Olds. Olds was confirmed then by a voice vote only after his appointment had been held up nearly four months.

Missing Youth Sought In Area

10.

Mrs. Morrison, a former schoolmate of the missing lad, said she saw the youth in the Lindsey theater about 11:45 the night of Sept. 10 shortly before a scheduled midnight preview.

The search was further narrowed late Sunday with the reports of a waitress and a carhop in Lubbock who said they waited on a youth at different times Saturday night who resembled the missing lad.

Mrs. M. L. Creacy, the boy's mother, accompanied by John F. Rust of The Borger News-Herald, arrived in Lubbock Sunday to, give local police complete details of the case. Pictures of the youth were shown the two waitresses and police for identification of the youth. Law enforcement agencies will continue their lookout for the youth.

Rust and young Creacy's father returned to Borger late Saturday from a tour of the Sharon Springs area in Kansas where the youth was supposed to have been working when they last heard from him. Many residents there remembered having seen the boy, but no one had seen him recently nor could any clue to his whereabouts be found.

Officers in the Texas and Oklahoma Panhandles, eastern Colorado, and western Kansas have been alerted, and newspapers and radios have been carrying descriptions of the lad.

After talking with the waitress and the car hop who reported having seen young Creacy here Sunday afternoon, Rust said he wasn't convinced they had the right party.

However, Mrs. Morrison is positive she saw the missing boy, Rust said. She told him she started over to speak to young Creacy, but before she could, a companion with him said, "Come on, Linnie," and they went up to the balcony.

Mrs. Morrison knows young Creacy personally, and is well qualified to make positive identification, Rust said.

Mr. and Mrs. Creacy did not take action in the case until two letters they wrote to him were returned unclaimed. After a fruitless private search, they enlisted the aid of the Borger newspaper and law enforcement officials on Sept. 1.

The Creacys suspected that their son might have been a victim of foul play, and Creacy told reporters only Saturday, "I believe if the boy is found, it probably will be in a shallow grave in some wheat field."

As many as 600 persons, more than half the population of Sharon Springs, had combed the wheat fields in Kansas around the community the past week in an effort to find clues to his disappearance or perhaps his body.

It was only hours after this search was revealed that the hunt suddenly shifted to the Lubbock vicinity.

Coal Strike Begins

miners, 80,000 in the anthracite (hard coal) fields.

Eight thousand diggers in Utah and Wyoming led the way by walking out Friday.

In the eastern Pennsylvania's anthracite fields there were indications the walkout would be fully effective.

The hard coal welfare fund is separate from that in the soft coal industry. Activities of the anthracite fund also have been suspended but not until Sept. 30.

There was one optimistic note. That came from a southern operator who declined the use of his name. He said:

"I'll be very much surprised if the mines are down Monday."

Huge Payment Due

It was the action of southern operators in refusing to continue 20 cents a ton royalty payments to the fund that brought about the crisis. The southern operators contend they don't have to pay because their contract lapsed. Northern operators are scheduled to make a $3,000,000 payment into the fund Tuesday, a day before scheduled resumption of contract talks with Lewis.

The pension and welfare fund, won after several strikes in the coal fields, was set up a little over a year ago. However, for some time its outgo has far outdistanced its income.

Senator Styles Bridges (R-NH) a trustee of the fund, said it had dwindled from $30,000,000 on July 1 to $14,000,000 on Sept. 1. It is probably even lower now.

The fund provides pensions for retired miners 65 or over, disability benefits, death benefits, widows and orphans assistance and medical and hospital service. UMW President John L. Lewis shut off these payments effective today. He emphasized he was acting as a trustee of the fund—not as UMW chief.

would have violated provisions of the Taft-Hartley act against the closed shop. The long strike has been in and out of federal court and National Labor Relations board proceedings.

Woodruff Randolph, ITU president, has told the striking unionists that the agreement offered today is the best he could get for them.

It would raise pay for day shift workers to $95.50 for a 36 1/4 hour work week, for night shift workers to $101 for a 36 1/4-hour week, and for third shift workers to $101 for a 30-hour week.

The local union involved in the strike is Chicago Typographical Union No. 16. The newspapers are the Tribune, Sun-Times, Daily News, Herald-American and the Journal of Commerce.

saying that he has been engaged in a survey of business conditions throughout the U. S., asserted:

"In my opinion business conditions are sound and we enjoy today a prosperity unprecedented except by comparison with 1948."

He said that liquid savings approximate 200 billion dollars and the "total national product is over 250 billion dollars at an annual rate," but added a warning:

"We should be optimistic but not complacent. Many are still unemployed and many businesses are 20 to 30 per cent below last year's activity. We should be concerned, but not panicky.

"It is clear that the maintenance of our economy as it now exists, the ability of business to continue to operate at a profit, the need for a mass purchasing power of the farmer and the working man are essential conditions of our future prosperity."

The Commerce Secretary said that "the one need for the maintenance of our domestic prosperity is a recognition by each of the major groups of our economy of the rights and privileges of the others and a willingness on the part of each group to subject its demands or requests to a searching review of the facts."

Keyserling told the group:

"The weight of opinion for the immediate future is that the recent business downturn has been checked, although we are not yet completely in the clear and must continue to be careful."

He said full prosperity hasn't yet been restored and total unemployment is still too high, but added:

"We are currently on the upgrade in production, unemployment and general confidence."

He said that "hard efforts and firm action" were responsible for the nation's present "reasonable secure position."

He added that "three great problems still confront the nation's economy:

"1. We must maintain over the years a reasonable stable economy free from the ravages of the business cycle.

"2. We must make further progress toward equality of opportunity for all American families and for all sections and regions of the country.

"3. We must maintain continuous and steady growth from year to year in our total production of goods and services."

Keyserling said that through sound and forward-looking government policies the nation can lift its total annual output of goods and services from 262 billion dollars in 1948 to 350 billion dollars by 1958.

As Jessup spoke, delegates to the Assembly opening Tuesday were arriving. At least 18 foreign ministers, including those of the United States, Russia, France and Britain, are slated to attend.

The Soviet group is sending the strongest delegations it has yet put up at any Assembly, indicating that the Russians consider this meeting extremely important.

Jessup blasted Communism as enslavement, which he called the most reactionary form of imperialism. He said orderly advances toward freedom are greatly to be desired over sudden independence which is a prelude to dictatorship of a small group acting under the direction of a foreign power.

The fact that he included Asia specifically was the important part of his talk to UN people. But the U. S. delegation so far had nothing to say on China.

ship. Instead they were asked to try to identify clothing or personal belongings.

The personal possessions were kept in a room separate from the wing of the horticulture building of the Canadian national exhibition which is being used as a temporary morgue.

Dr. Sam Gurber, who was in charge of the grisly task of identifying the 493 victims of the 1942 fire in Boston's Cocoanut Grove night club, was aiding in the identification work.

X-Rays were being taken of the bodies to find if there were any fractures or evidence of broken bones that might help in identifying the victims. A corps of dentists made diagrams of victims' teeth as another clue to identity.

Many of those still missing are believed pinned beneath the hull of the Noronic. A number of persons jumped overboard and are not accounted for. Two decks of the $6,000,000 vessel and still under water, and firemen are pumping out the debris-strewn water so they can search for additional victims below-decks.

Every train and plane arriving in Toronto brought anxious Americans but few found more than agonized uncertainty.

Services Scheduled Sunday

Interdenominational mourning services will be held next Sunday and will be attended by the mayors of Detroit and Cleveland and Lawrence Steinhardt, American ambassador to Canada, in addition to hundreds of relatives and friends of the dead and missing.

Authorities, meanwhile, debated the question of a mass burial for many of the victims burned beyond recognition.

A block away from the twisted, listing wreckage, the Toronto harbor terminal commission building flew the Canadian Union Jack at half staff.

Police said 422 persons survived the fire which turned the Noronic into a raging furnace. Of these, 189 were injured, some critically.

The charges that no organized fire alarm was set off, and that the fire department was summoned only after the blaze raged out of control were denied by the Canada Steamship line — owners of the craft.

Two crew members, who will also be questioned at the hearings Monday, alleged that drunkness among the passengers impeded rescue efforts. The fire broke out aboard the liner after a gay, pre-sailing party.

Its cause has not yet been officially determined.

The captain of the Noronic, William Taylor, a veteran of 41 years on the Great Lakes, remained on the burning bridge of the vessel until almost the last moment before he plunged over the side to safety.

He is expected to be the first witness at the formal hearing.

Arms Program Fight

B-36 superbomber to carry an atom bomb "to any spot on the earth and return in a non-stop flight" had been tested. She suggested that if the superbomber could do this, the arm-aid program might be outmoded from the start.

George indicated that his opposition to the full program was based not on the fact that he was against building up global defenses against Communism, but on the timing involved.

He said the administration was "proceeding so hurriedly it will be a waste of money—it will have to be done all over again when the final program (of the pact's defense council) is submitted."

George noted that Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the joint chiefs of staff, wanted to go ahead immediately with $500 million in arms-aid. The senator said:

"That's building the house from the top down and not even having the plans drawn when putting the shingles on the roof."

Wherry supported George's contention that the arms program should be held up until the Atlantic pact defense committee, set up Saturday in Washington, makes its recommendations.

The joint Senate committee, in sending the bill to the floor, whittled down the administration's arms-aid request.

It left untouched the $239 million President Truman asked for strengthening defenses of the Philippines, Korea, Greece, Turkey and Iran.

But it trimmed the $1,160,990,000 Mr. Truman wanted for Atlantic pact countries to an even $1 billion. It provided, further, that only $100 million of the pact country funds could be made available until the entire arms program is integrated with recommendations of the Atlantic council.

The bill carries $75 million for aid to the "general area of China," which the President did not request. The money would be spent at Mr. Truman's "discretion."

Sen. Knowland (R-Calif), who forced acceptance of the compromise, said he was satisfied administration forces will not attempt to "trade off" this provision when the bill gets to an eventual House-Senate conference.

Under the Japanese system of computing ages—a system which will be discarded the end of 1949—a baby born on December 31 would be two years old the next day.

Two Breakins Are Probed By Police

Police were winding up an exceptionally quiet weekend Sunday with investigation of two minor breakins.

J. A. Chism reported to officials that burglars had entered the Chism bakery at 1216 Ave. Q sometime between 8:30 p.m. Saturday and 5:40 a.m. Sunday. A cash register had been opened and $6.10 taken by the intruders, Chism said. Entry was gained by forcing a rear door, it was believed.

An empty office building in the 700 block Ave. F was entered by prowlers sometime during the night Saturday, W. A. Wilkerson, of 515 Ave. F, notified police.

The sheriff's department Sunday arrested Wayne D. Teague, 21, of 1917 Ave. F, on a charge of willfully burning personal property belonging to another. A complaint sworn by Raymond Waters, Texas Ranger, before Assistant District Attorney A. W. Salyars, alleges that Teague, on or about Aug. 18, set fire to a car belonging to Clarence Reichle, of Lubbock.

R. L. Taylor, of the Apartment Courts cabins on East Broadway, complained to police that two wing window attachments had been taken from his car parked in the 900 block Thirteenth Sunday night. The windows were valued at $15.

British Action

it will work the miracles everybody is talking about. It will immediately increase British exports and will also decrease Britain's capacity to buy imports."

Sen. Millikin (R-Colo), former Finance committee chairman, said that "the action will increase the hurdles for the U. S. exporter and will increase the difficulties to the U. S. businessman."

Sen. Malone (R-Nev), said that the devaluation fails to answer Britain's "so-called dollar shortage since she is still maintaining a fixed, artificial value on the pound, making free exchange with the dollar impossible." Malone said:

"The new valuation means a false and dishonest value measured against the dollar standard."

Pressure Was Increased

Marshall plan officials generally have been in agreement that devaluation was a necessity during the second year of the foreign aid program if America's contribution was to net any concrete results.

Pressure for devaluation reached a new high, however, last week at the annual meetings of the monetary fund and the world bank.

The fund issued a comprehensive study of the question of currency adjustments in which it recommended devaluation in some countries as the only solution to dwindling dollar reserves.

Although it carefully avoided mentioning any country by name, the fund termed the difficulty "an emergency situation" requiring devaluation by some countries and a forceful attempt by all to boost sales to the U. S.

British Chancellor of the Exchequer Sir Stafford Cripps has persistently resisted the move because of the uncertainties as to the outcome of devaluation.

Whether he was effectively persuaded to take the action in view of a number of commitments by the U. S. at the conclusion of recent three-power dollar talks in Washington was not known.

At the conferences, the U. S., with British and Canadian concurrence, agreed to loosen restrictions on where Britain could spend recovery dollars, promised to buy more English goods for stockpiling and said it would encourage greater public and private investments abroad.

Senator Warns U. S.

ment. He said:

"I suppose he would get kicked out if he tried that."

In an amplification of his reference to "western union," Kefauver stated that he considered a "United States of Europe" the continent's "chief hope of salvation."

Boosts Union Proposal

Kefauver, who is in Europe as a member of U. S. Senate subcommittee, investigating alleged mistreatment of captured German SS troopers, added:

"It is ridiculous for the small nations in Europe to maintain separate armies, navies and air forces. If Europe is to survive it must combine its military, economic and political forces."

Kefauver called attention to a resolution that he had presented in the Senate calling for a federation of the North Atlantic pact nations, including the United States and Canada.

He said that the resolution had the backing of 22 senators and the support for the measure was growing.

Federation Praised

He labeled the "council of Europe" at Strasbourg a "first step in the right direction" and added that he considered the work of the council "the most promising sign in Europe today."

But he said that without the eventual participation of the United States and Canada the union lacks "substance and force."

"Such a federation," Kefauver said, "could be an example to eastern Europe. It could convince the Soviet Union of our peaceful intentions and at the same time serve as a warning against aggression."

Answer to Previous Puzzle

East, West Division Is Expected To Block Japanese Treaty Plans

By JAMES D. WHITE
Associated Press Staff Writer

What is the prospect for a Japanese peace treaty?

Such a treaty is needed urgently, it was agreed last week by Britain's Foreign Minister Bevin and America's Secretary of State Acheson.

Does that make it any nearer?

Here's some background on this question, which reflects one of the deepest and most slippery chasms in a divided world.

East, West Divided

East and West are deadlocked over it. America wants a Japanese peace treaty — if for no other reason, because the occupation and aid to a non - sovereign Japan are costing America more than $1,000,000 per day.

Soviet Russia says she too wants an early Japanese peace treaty but wants it written by the "big four" according to the "principles of Potsdam." This means Russia could veto anything she didn't like about the treaty. But Russia signed nothing at Potsdam about Japan because she had not yet declared war on Japan. The Potsdam declaration demanding Japan's surrender was an American-British-Chinese document.

The United States wants the treaty written by all 11 nations that declared war against Japan. This would include Russia but not give anyone a veto. The other nations probably would vote Russia down on most issues. But not necessarily on all of them.

Japan Still Feared

Oriental nations invaded by Japan still fear Japan's potential war strength, regardless of the assurances of Gen. MacArthur and others. They are not willing to see this potential rebuilt just because America wants an anti-Soviet bastion off the coast of East Asia.

For instance, Chiang Kai-shek's Chinese Nationalist government has insisted on keeping the veto handy. It proposed a "compromise" method whereby all 11 nations would write the treaty but the Big Four of the Pacific war would keep their veto power. Obviously this is much closer to Russian than American desires.

Like so many others, this question has been deepened by the profound shift in world power balance implicit in the communization of China. The Chinese Reds may form a national government next month and when they do can be expected to claim the direction of China's foreign affairs, such as helping to write a Japanese peace treaty.

Action Is Indicated On Money Legislation

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18. (AP)—Senate leaders waited impatiently today for House members to return from a month's vacation so they can get together and tackle a pile-up of almost $18,000,000,000 worth of money bills.

It's one of the major tasks ahead of the lawmakers as they begin their final drive for adjournment at an uncertain date.

The appropriations should have been cleaned up before July 1 when the fiscal year began. But the slow-moving Senate just wasn't able to get along with its work as quickly as the House. Agencies awaiting the funds are operating on emergency spending authority until Oct. 1.

The House members are due back Wednesday from the vacation which the Senate refused to approve.

Both the Senate and House have voted on the appropriations. But their knotty differences remain to be untangled in conference.

Approximately 50,000 organizations now use stamp meters for supplying their correspondence with the necessary postage.

Wreck Victims Are Reported Recovering

Several persons who were injured in a two-car collision on the southeast outskirts of Lubbock at 1 a. m. Saturday were reported recovering satisfactorily last night in two local hospitals.

Mrs. Salome Garibay, 50, a widow of Lubbock route 1, and her daughter, Aline, 16, were reported "doing fine" by an attendant at St. Mary's hospital. A son, Alfred Garibay, 18, driver of the car in which the Garibay family was riding, was dismissed Sunday from the hospital.

Wilburn H. Legate, 54, of Slaton, driver of the other automobile involved in the two-car collision, was reported to be in satisfactory condition in Lubbock Memorial hospital. He received a fractured left knee and a six-inch laceration on his forehead. He underwent surgery Saturday morning for the head injury.

Two other members of the Garibay family, Stella, 12, and Sally, 17, were dismissed from St. Mary's hospital Saturday after treatment of facial lacerations.

The automobile mishap occurred near the cemetery curve of the Slaton highway, about two miles southeast of Lubbock.

GOP Undecided Whether To Fight Nomination Of Minton

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18. (AP) — Key Republicans hadn't made up their minds today whether to fight President Truman's appointment of Judge Sherman Minton to the Supreme court.

Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, told a reporter it will be up to Senator Jenner of Indiana to signal whether party members pitch in to oppose a former Indiana senator who took a leading part in President Roosevelt's ill-starred effort to revamp the Supreme court in 1937.

Jenner told a reporter he hasn't decided whether he will fight Minton, who served as senator from 1935 until 1940 when he was defeated for reelection.

Wherry said that since Jenner is a member of judiciary committee and Minton is from the same state, other Republicans were looking to Jenner for directions on the appointment.

In any event, Democrats remained confident they can win approval of the nomination, to fill the vacancy created by the death of Justice Wiley Rutledge.

Devaluation Of British Pound Is Seen As Move To Break Logjam In World Trading

NEW YORK, Sept. 18 (AP)—Devaluation of the British pound sterling should break the log jam of international trade.

The 30½ per cent reduction in the dollar price of the pound is a straight price cut on the goods they have for sale to the United States, Canada and Latin America.

For several months American buyers of British goods have held off expecting devaluation.

The same thing is true of all the other countries in the sterling area who devalued their currencies 30½ per cent along with Britain.

U. S. Goods Higher

But prices on goods moving within that devaluation area remain unaffected. It is only when trade reaches outside to the hard currency countries like the United States, and others who didn't devalue, that the price tag is lower.

At the same time, the prices on United States goods sold within the devaluation area will automatically be higher.

Britain must pay more dollars for certain key American raw materials like wheat and cotton. That means those products sold within Britain must be priced higher in sterling.

Higher prices mean inflation. Demands for higher wages usually follow higher prices. Higher wages in turn mean higher production costs all along the line with consequent higher prices on the goods produced.

Face Foreign Goods Now

In the United States, devaluation means domestic producers must compete with cut-rate foreign goods offered here. At the same time American goods exported to the devaluation area must face the same competition with cheaper foreign products.

To maintain their sales volume, Americans must cut their prices to meet competition of identical foreign products.

Lower prices usually lead to demands for wage cuts, just as inflation causes a clamor for higher wages.

Devaluation abroad doesn't mean deflation is inevitable in this country. Prices can be lowered without wage cuts by increasing worker productivity and raising quality. Export prices can be kept down by government subsidies.

All of these efforts that can be taken to ease the pressure of deflation here and inflation abroad eventually tend to cancel each other out. The world then returns to a more normal monetary and trade basis.

Wallace Charges Gigantic Arms Program Aid To Big Business

CLEVELAND, Sept. 17. (AP)—Henry A. Wallace today said "the cold war and the gigantic arms program which accompanies it has been immensely profitable for big business."

"This," contended the former vice president of the United States, "provides the incentive to big business to take over control of the government itself in order to perpetuate the cold war policy and the profits which are its product."

He added, "The cost of the cold war deprives men and women in this country and everywhere throughout the world of economic and social security without which military security is worthless."

Wallace, Progressive party presidential candidate in 1948, spoke at the opening session of the partys' National Conference on Jobs and the Economic Crisis.

Cotton Spraying Soon May Replace Dusting

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18. (INS)—The Agriculture department predicted Saturday that cotton growers soon may be able to shift from dusting to spraying for control of insects.

The department said that latest tests with new organic insecticides promised to relieve farmers of the laborious and unpleasant task of dusting with calcium arsenate.

Dusting has been standard practice for more than 30 years but often stretches the "cotton day" to 16 or 18 hours.

One of the chief advantages of spraying, the department said, is that it can be combined with cultivation, especially early in the season.

The department said its scientists are experimenting with equipment attached to tractor-driven cultivators that spray young cotton plants with as little as three quarts of insecticide per acre.

The agency reported that the cost is only 30 cents for material and nothing for labor and has the added advantage of starting insect control early.

Meanwhile, a top agriculture official predicted that a near-record number of boll weevils will threaten next year's cotton crop unless farmers take speedy action to destroy them now.

R. W. Harned, head of the department's cotton insect investigations, said many cotton planters report weevil activity to be greater this month than at any time in the last 26 years.

Three Members Of Family Complete 14-Mile Swim

NEW YORK, Sept. 18. (AP)—John Mercer, 53, of Fall River, Mass., his 18-year-old son John, jr., and pretty blonde daughter, Althea, 21, completed a 14-mile swim from lower Manhattan to Coney island in five hours and 32 minutes today.

Two other daughters, 11-year-old twins, and another son dropped out along the way.

Mercer said his family made the swim to "bone up" for a try at the English channel next year.

Dickens, Gaines, Scurry Tests Watched

Busy Oil Activity Continues In Area

South Plains oil news in Dickens, Gaines and Scurry counties held the spotlight over the weekend with a wildcat, several completions and other activity holding interest.

Union Oil Company of California is to start operations at once on an 8,500-foot wildcat to test into the Ellenburger in Southwest Dickens county, five and one-half miles southwest of Spur.

The prospector will be Union No. 1 W. J. Elliott, jr. It is located 1,990 feet from north and 2,052 feet from east lines of section 177, block 1, H&GN survey.

Union owns a block of more than 10,000 acres of leases in that region. The wildcat is near the center of the spread.

Gaines Well Makes Show

The Texas Company No. 1 E. D. Harris, wildcat three miles east of the Clear Fork discovery on the southeast side of the Flanagan field in Central-South Gaines County, swabbed perforations at 5,977 - 5,955 and recovered 162 barrels of load oil and acid residue, after that zone had been treated with 1,000 gallons of acid.

Swabbing into pits is continuing to clean the pay and make the prospector show new oil from the Glorieta of the middle Permian.

This project developed salt water in the Clear Fork and was plugged back to its present total depth. It drilled to 7,520 feet and recovered the salt water.

Drillsite of the venture is 660 feet from north and east lines of section 17, block A-22, psl survey which makes it 12½ miles southeast of Seminole.

Borden Test Fails

Amerada Petroleum Corporation No. 1 Canning, Southeast Borden county wildcat, five miles west of the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field of Southwest Scurry county, showed only salt water, with no shows of oil or gas in a drillstem test in the top of the Canyon reef lime at 7,065-7,105 feet.

The tool was open four hours. Recovery was 5,440 feet of salt water. The venture is to drill deeper. It is contracted to 9,000 feet to try to find and explore the Ellenburger.

Top of the Canyon lime has not been officially reported. However it is understood that the test reported above cover the section of that formation which has been penetrated up to now.

The exploration is 667 feet from north and 653 feet from east lines of section 117, block 97, H&TC survey.

Drilling To Continue

Castleman & O'Neil of Midland, J. R. Hunter of San Antonio, and Walter Duncan of Oklahoma City, No. 1 Huckabee, east flanker to the recently completed one and one-half mile southeast extension to the North Snyder field in North-Central Scurry county, had penetrated below 6,510 feet in the Canyon lime, and was boring deeper.

This venture entered the Canyon reef at 6,160 feet, on an elevation of 2,434 feet. That made it 520 feet high to the W. A. Moncrief, Sr., Bob Hope, Bing Crosby and Paul Teas No. 1 Huckabee, the southeast extender to the field.

It is reported to have flowed

San Saba Man Is Fatally Hurt When Truck Hits Utilities Pole

FORT WORTH, Sept. 18. (AP)—J. E. Shipman, 61, of San Saba was fatally injured last night when the pickup truck in which he was riding struck and broke off a utilities pole.

The accident shut off electricity for about an hour over a wide area of Fort Worth's west side.

The driver of the truck, a 31-year-old Fort Worth man, was arrested on careless collision charges.

Motor Scooter Club To Be Organized In Lubbock Soon

Lubbockites, who have suffered from muffler blasts and roars issuing from the vehicles of the city's motor scooter enthusiasts, will soon enjoy a new era of peace and quiet. That is, of course, if the plans of Des Abbott and Virgil Dees, co-owners and managers of the Cushman Scooter company, materialize.

The two motor scooter dealers have reached near-completion of their plans to organize a motor scooter club in Lubbock. Post cards inviting the owners of machines in the city to join the new organization will be sent through the mail in the next few days, Abbott said.

"The owners of motor scooters here in the city, whether boy, girl or adult, can become a member of this club," Dees said. "If anyone is interested and has been overlooked on our mailing list, they are asked to attend the club's first meeting at 3 p. m. Sunday, Sept. 25, at 2210 Nineteenth."

Lubbock's city officials, police department and safety council have endorsed and approved of the new organization, Abbott stated. "Mayor W. H. Rodgers has approved use of 15 acres of land at Buffalo lakes for the motor scooter club," he said. "We plan to build a club house, picnic grounds and race track there by next summer," he added.

There are more than 1,800 successful motor scooter clubs scattered across the nation from coast to coast, the men said.

Club Rules Are Given

The necessary requirements for club membership are:

(1). A judge's permission to ride a motor scooter. The applicant must be 12 years of age or over.

(2). A Texas state operator's license.

(3). Registration of vehicle.

(4). All machines must have a

Barkley's Romance Approved By Political-Minded Writer

By TOM DAVIS
Avalanche Staff Writer

Vice President Alben Barkley's current romance gets full editorial treatment in The Post Dispatch from Evelyn Boyd in her column "Garza and the World."

"Haven't decided whether all the publicity given to Cousin Alben's romance with the Widow Hadley is political propaganda dreamed up to divert the steam from Truman's collar or whether the Veep is merely taking an advantage of a coincidence to bolster his chances for the Presidential election in 1952," she writes.

"Love is a funny thing," she continues. "If Barkley doesn't make the mistake of marrying Mrs. Hadley before the 1952 election, he will get elected to anything he desires . . . that is, if he will keep this 'sweet romance' before the public."

Mrs. Boyd adds this: "Personally, I'm in favor of Barkley and his romance. Furthermore, I think he is a Kentucky gentleman of the old school—of the type who ordinarily would prefer that his private life be kept apart from his public life. If he wants to court a Missouri widow, that's his business. What amazes me, however, is that he is so willing to make it a public affair. Politics is the only answer that I can come up with."

Pool Hall Closed

Constable H. T. Burger of Spur closed all the pool halls in that town last week, The Texas Spur reports. Burger said the pool halls were not refusing admittance and the right to play to boys of school age. He also contended that the billiard emporiums served as loitering places for farm labor needed in the fields. Operators of the halls immediately made plans for reopening as private clubs requiring a membership card to play.

Use Of Language Hit

E. I. Hill, editor of The Lynn County News at Tahoka, is mildly alarmed over "so much slovenly-written English" coming from high school and college graduates. He recommends the study of Latin to correct the shortcomings.

"We are very sorry that most colleges have just about quit teaching Latin," Hill writes in his "Odds and Ends" column. "Life is too short, many college students will tell you, to waste it in the study of a dead language. We suspect, however, that the main trouble with most of them is that they are far more interested in athletics than they are in linguistics."

ON STATE TAXES:

Budgets Can Be Cut

AN examination of some of the budget requests awaiting the expected special session of the Legislature in January is likely to convince most Texans that expenses can be cut to ease the probable need for increased State taxes next year.

For example, $7,500,000 now is proposed for new buildings for the new Texas State University for Negroes. The State School for Dentistry wants $2,397,000. Another $1,350,000 is asked for the Anderson hospital for Cancer Research, an affiliate of the University of Texas.

All of these are deserving projects. It is entirely probable that most of the expenditures proposed for them are meritorious.

But there has been no shown proof that all the expenditures are necessary next year. On the contrary, logic supports the contentions and conclusions that the costs of many of the expansions and improvements can be spread over several years without harm, thus easing the drain upon taxpayers during 1950.

This statement can be applied specifically to the budget proposed for the University for Negroes. What could be the logic of embarking upon a huge building program until assurance is more definite—and this assurance is lacking now—that sufficient students will be enrolled to make use of them? Why ask the taxpayers to dig up in one year the money for a building program which, if started, could not be finished for probably five years? Why not spread the costs for this and many other State institutional improvements over the several years that a good many would require for completion?

True, it would be nice if the directors of those institutions had all the money needed for long-range programs before they were started. But it would be rough on the taxpayers.

Gov. Allan Shivers has said he is convinced the proposed budgets can be trimmed sufficiently to avoid 1950 tax increases. The most casual scanning of those proposed budgets should be sufficient to convince anyone that the governor is eminently correct.

Area Road Meetings

THE first of four South Plains farm-market road meetings this week of great importance to this area is scheduled tonight in Dimmitt. Others will follow in Littlefield Tuesday night, Tahoka Wednesday night and Levelland Thursday night, according to Lamb County Judge Otha F. Dent, of Littlefield.

The State now is embarking upon a $30,000,000 farm-to-market road building program. But no definite program can be adopted until the State Highway commission has some basis for estimating the roads which are needed most. At best, there isn't enough money now—and probably will not be for years—to build all that are deserving.

The area and counties which can present the best co-ordinated programs and the most convincing arguments in support of their applications are likely to get first attention. The area meetings this week will strive toward that end. The greater the interest shown in the meetings as reflected by the attendance, the better will be the prospects of getting more such roads for South Plains counties without prolonged delays.

The residents of the communities, and especially the farmers, may further their own interests if they attend the meeting which is most convenient to them.

Steps To The Moon

By ADELAIDE HUMPHRIES

(THE STORY: Gaynel Teare has chosen Fritz Freyman, a young newspaper man, in preference to Barry Bainbridge, a young Detroit millionaire, after both have proposed marriage. She tells herself, and Fritz too, that it looks hopeless. Fritz, even with his new job with a syndicate, could hardly do more than support her. And Gaynel is the breadwinner for her family consisting of her mother, brother and sister. But Fritz says they'll work it out. Gaynel's family can get along on less and Gaynel's brother can contribute some to the support of the family, although he seldom has held a job long in the past. Fritz offers to help Gaynel tell her family, but Gaynel says she'll do it herself.)

XXV

NOTHING that's worth having is easy and it was not going to be easy to tell Barry that her answer was no, that she loved someone else. Gaynel would rather have cut off her right hand than hurt him so.

She realized, with a little guilty qualm, that she had not told Fritz how much she owed Barry. In actual cash, besides in so many intangible ways. She had a suspicion that Fritz would not relish the idea of her being in debt to Barry for Pat's illness; he would think she should have managed to meet those obligations in some other manner, as perhaps she should, though she did not see just what other means she could have taken. She was paying Barry back. She must tell him about Fritz at the first opportunity.

The opportunity to present itself was when Barry drove her to Ann Arbor to the football game between Michigan and Ohio State—always the most exciting and hardest-fought battle of the season.

Gaynel sported two big yellow chrysanthemums—from Barry, of course; Barry never forgot flowers. Her cheeks were whipped to a most becoming flush from the wind. It was impossible not to feel terribly happy and light-hearted, though she knew this was the day when she must tell Barry about Fritz.

Time enough after the game was over, when the exaltation of victory, or the acceptance of well-braved defeat, would twilight this radiance to a softer mood. Yes, she would tell Barry on the way home.

* * *

"BY the way," Barry broke the silence, "I found out about Denny's new heart-throb—as a matter of fact I met the lady. Made a point to do so. You'll be pleased to hear that she is really a most acceptable person. Exceptional, might be a better term."

"I'm not sure whether I should be pleased or not," Gaynel considered. "It all depends, I guess, on what you mean by exceptional."

"Madeline Day, this [illegible] lady's name, would be a lady under any circumstances."

"Even in a divorce court—twice?" She supposed she was being catty; but she believed she would have preferred someone not quite so sure of herself for Denny as this lady sounded.

Barry said, "I found out about that, too. The first wasn't a divorce; her husband died. The second was most unfortunate; Clinton Day was a rascal. No one could blame a woman for being unable to live with him."

Gaynel said, "I'm not blaming anyone. Unless Denny really loses his head. Which he shows every sign of doing at present. I never knew him to remain faithful to one love so long. And he's actually sticking to his new job with surprising doggedness—for him."

"You should be pleased with that, at least. You remember I promised I wouldn't place Denny in this job until he had given his word to stick. I felt sure all he needed was the proper incentive."

"I know. I am pleased he's making good. Did you know he got a raise last week? But I'm not sure that I consider Mrs. Day the 'proper incentive.' Certainly I wouldn't be pleased if Denny got it into his handsome head that he'd like to be her third matrimonial experiment." Denny might not be any too pleased when he learned that she was going to marry Fritz, instead of Barry. But of course that was different.

Barry said, "Mrs. Day may have something to say about that. I think you should meet her."

"Good heavens, Barry, anyone would think you had been taken in by this female, too!"

Barry smiled. "You know better than that. But really, my dear, I think you're borrowing trouble. Madeline Day is a good influence for Denny."

"I hope you're right," Gaynel said. He usually was. And, as always, just talking it over with him had made her feel better.

* * *

THEY were nearing the University. Barry turned in toward the bowl. Cars were jammed on all sides in the wide fields that served as parking lots.

"There'll be a nice jam afterwards," Barry observed. "We'd never get out if we'd tried to come closer. May take an hour or so, at that."

Gaynel said all of that was part of the fun. The crowd to her was as thrilling as the game. She always experienced a prickle down her spine at the spectacular sight the big bowl presented, the rainbow of colors surrounding that smooth green carpet it enclosed.

Their seats were on the 40-yard line in the sixth row. By the time they reached them the players had come out, amidst frantic cheers from each side, to begin a few preliminary formations.

The first half was thrilling and its end brought out the bands for their turn at providing a thrill. They spelled out Michigan and then Ohio State; the drum majors were magnificient in pompous dignity, with their antics with their batons.

"Isn't that Denny down there?" Gaynel had been employing Barry's field glasses. "Near the 50-yard line . . . Here, Barry, take a look. No . . . wait . . . it is Denny, speaking of the devil—and is that Mrs. Day with him?"

NEW YORK, Sept. 18.—We're edging up on the 70th anniversary of the invention (or perfection) by Thomas Alva Edison of that miracle we take so much for granted—the incandescent lamp.

To commemorate the event, Charles F. Kettering, who knew the man whose genius had more effect on the people of this country than any other American, has thumbed through the 2,500 notebooks Edison left behind him and gathered together some scarcely known facts about the electric light.

Otherns Introduced Light

Men sought and produced electric light three quarters of a century before Edison began his first experiments at Menlo Park, N. J.

In 1802, Sir Humphry Davy demonstrated that electricity would develop a white heat in thin strips of metal. The metal would last only a few minutes. Seven years later Davy produced the arc light by making a garish spark, powered by 2,000 wet cells, leap between two sticks of charcoal.

In 1820, the French scientist, De La Rue, tinkered with white hot metal strips in what he called a vacuum tube, but made little progress.

In 1840 Sir William R. Grove, after developing a better battery, built a number of electric lights whose hot filament was protected more or less, by inverted glass tumblers resting in tubs of water.

Russian Inserts Gas

FOR a short time he was able to illuminate the London auditorium in which he spoke. Miserators of a century ago stimulated further study in electric lighting.

The first U. S. home electrically lighted was that of Prof. Moses G. Farmer, of Salem, Mass. He hooked up two bulbless lights in July 1859, employing hot strips of platinum.

In 1874 a Russian inventor named Lodyguine had attempted to solve the problem of quick-melting filaments by forcing an inert gas into his bulbs. He built 200 of these and installed them in the Admiralty dockyards, St. Petersburg. But the czar condemned them as too costly.

Other Inventions Included

Edison's notebooks, now preserved in a vault on his laboratory grounds at West Orange, N. J., are a fantastic nest of both greatness and everydayness.

IN HELPING BRITAIN

U. S. Has New Task

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, — Although Snyder-Cripps conversations on a solution of the British dollar crisis have monopolized recent headlines from the Capital, the really important discussions over America's stepping into Britain's shoes as the new world overlord were conducted in the utmost secrecy between Foreign Minister Bevin and Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

TUCKER

Mr. Bevin warned his American opposite, in effect, that the United States must assume heavy and far-flung responsibilities in the most remote sections of the world, or England would have to try to establish more workable and more friendly relations with Moscow.

The Labor Party spokesman did not deliver this alternative in the form of a threat or ultimatum. He simply advanced it as a fact of world politics and diplomacy.

THREAT: He and Sir Stafford Cripps repeatedly emphasized that the two western nations must engage in "combined operations" now in the same way that they pooled their military brains and resources during World War II.

As the United States sent troops or weapons to China, Asia, the Middle East, Australia and Egypt, so this country must now send dollars or their equivalent into these erstwhile dominions and dependencies of the British Empire.

Otherwise, inasmuch as Moscow constitutes a continuing threat to these sterling and trading areas, London has no recourse save to strike a truce or peace with Stalin.

PROBLEM: It is no longer a question of England surviving as a great world power. The British statesmen, sorrowfully but surely, have abandoned any attempt to retain or recover that role.

They are reduced to the problem of finding the means and wherewithal for maintaining a minimum standard of living for the home population on their island.

Messrs. Bevin and Cripps made no attempt to present this aspect of the problem to Treasury Secretary Snyder, for he admittedly lacks the imagination to grasp the broader implications of England's plight. But they laid their woes before the more versatile and pro-British Acheson.

ATTITUDE: The British did not, of course, suggest that the U. S. arm or garrison the countries from which they must withdraw economic, military and diplomatic support. But they did ask that we alter our trading policies to keep these peoples within the democratic orbit through financial and commercial aid—a task England can no longer undertake.

Here is the British attitude toward current international problems as expressed on a 'round-the-world', diplomatic tour which Messrs. Bevin and Cripps took with Secretary Acheson in the stately chambers of the State Department building.

Russia: Britain will remain as our ally in the "cold war," but with the understanding that the United States must do all the fighting. Meanwhile, England must barter agreements with Moscow under which she will receive food and raw materials in return for machinery and manufactured products. London does not want to antagonize or embitter the Kremlin in any way.

HOPES: China: With billions of investments in the region lying between Shanghai and Hong Kong, England prefers to reach a practical understanding with the conquering Communists, Chiang Kai-shek or whatever regime is eventually established here. Unlike Mr. Acheson, it cannot afford to wait "until the dust settles."

Asia: With the Truman Administration, London hopes that India, Burma, Pakistan and Malaya will resist Communist penetration. But they argue that American aid in the form of heavy purchases of rubber, tin, oil and other native products will be necessary to achieve this objective. England can no longer provide a domestic or world market for these goods.

Balkans: The Mediterranean lifeline is no longer as important to Britain as it once was. Therefore, she will let the United States try to build up Tito as an anti-Communist ally, and to stimulate an anti-Moscow revolt in other Balkan states.

MARKET: Western Europe: While the U. S. finances the Marshall Plan and the military alliance, England will use her influence for the formation of a political and economic union in this area. By making clashing currencies convertible, leveling tariff walls and organizing a central parliament to channelize thinking and action, London believes that Western Europe can retake its old position of importance in world affairs.

Germany: With the formation of a Republic in the western zones, Britain will gradually withdraw troops until only a domestic peace force remains. The U. S. will be expected to intervene if an emergency demands large-scale, military action.

The Middle East: With our deep political interest in Palestine and heavy oil investments in Arabia, London expects us to build up Turkey and other states as a buffer to Russian encroachment. Meanwhile, although the tariff on petroleum from here has been reduced by 50 per cent, England would like a further cut to open our market to profitable oil exports from this area.

LEGISLATION: It is extremely significant that, with only a few exceptions, the assumption of these extra responsibilities and further underwriting of the Anglo-American structure throughout the world can be undertaken without asking Congress for new legislation. The necessary moves can be made by executive order or a shift in State Department policy.

Believe It Or Not -

ECONOMY MOVE HITS SOME AREAS

Industry Now Has Job To Do

By SEN. MARGARET SMITH
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON. — The recent cutback on military installations and construction activities is an economic challenge to private enterprise. Unless industrial ingenuity can fill the gaps created by this necessary cutback, many defense towns face economic calamity. Private business must find and finance new industries to replace the terminated defense activities in these towns.

SEN. SMITH

For some time private industry has levelled bitter criticism at the Federal government for making people too dependent upon Federal employment and financial assistance. Now industry has a chance to show that it can do something more than criticize.

Must Take Moves

I know the effect the military cutback can have. Some Maine towns have been directly hit. An air base has been deactivated. A Navy yard has been cut down on its authorized labor force, with thousands getting dismissal slips.

Of course, the military cutback was absolutely essential. And this is only the beginning. It can't be stopped if we are to be realistic. We are at peace — at least technically. The threat of war has decreased so much that we cannot justify continuing many of our military installations.

NOR can we keep these military activities going just to provide work for people. Economy leaves no other choice but to cut even though some towns and people will be hurt.

This is easier said than done. It is easy to economize on the other fellow — to reduce his income. To understand his fight against economy, put yourself in his shoes. What would you do if your income were cut to effect certain economy? After all, one of our hopes from economy is that it will reduce our taxes — taxes which ultimately reduce our individual incomes. It depends upon whether the proposed economy means that you will lose your job or whether it will cut down the taxes that you pay.

Military installations were the salvation of many towns where industries were dying. But they gave such towns merely an artificial and temporary economic lift. Some recognized this and made plans for the eventual end of this bonanza. They worked toward the ultimate shift over to non-military work and are now profiting from their realism.

But some localities had no such foresight and are being hurt now.

Government Has Responsibility

Many of them can't be blamed. Military installations ruled the industries of some towns. Towns expanded their community facilities to accommodate military personnel and war workers brought in by the operations of the military installations. Local businesses spent considerable money for the war-expanded population. Many towns really became Federal, war towns.

There is a Federal responsibility to these towns. Not an obligation to continue the military installations, but rather an obligation to give as much advance notice as possible of cutbacks. The Secretary of Defense must consider the human factor at least in those areas where military services have been the lifeblood.

* * *

NEARLY a year ago a friend of mine in one of the services told me that a certain military establishment in my state of Maine would ultimately be deactivated. I immediately passed the word along because I wanted the people of the particular town to be prepared. Yet the responsible military service denied this. Yet, the installation was ordered deactivated in the recent cutback and the town was left holding the bag.

My point is that the American people and the war-expanded towns can take it — but they are entitled to the earliest possible warning.

CONSUMER GOODS NOT WANTED

Finnish Policy On U. S. Loans May Hurt Cotton Industry Here

Avalanche-Journal Washington Correspondent

HELSINKI — The Bank of Finland has adopted a policy which may well react against the cotton industry of the Southwest as well against importation of other raw materials. It is a policy which the government feels is imperative even though it may keep Finnish citizens from getting the clothes and other consumer's goods which they may want.

Sakari Tuomioja, chief of the Bank of Finland, who is now in the United States for financial talks in Washington, is said to be author of the policy. It is for Finland not to accept any loans from the United States if they are to be earmarked for purchases of materials which would be used to manufacture consumer's goods in Finland. Finland will accept money only for capital goods.

Capital Goods Wanted

The United States has a habit when it is making loans to Finland of saying what the money will be spent for. Up to now, the U. S. has loaned money to Finland for its paper pulp and cellulose mills and to increase electric power production to keep those mills running, also to supply machinery for those mills. The U. S. has also let Finland have $12 million to buy cotton.

Speaker Kekkonen of the Finnish Parliament who is a director of the Bank of Finland endorses this policy. "When you have not the money, you can't buy," he says.

Finland feels that the capital goods are important because they can help the country to build up it factories and thus in turn increase her exports. These exports are needed to pay Finnish reparations to Russia and to get dollars from the United States and also to get goods from the United Kingdom.

More Funds Needed

The Finns do not seem to mind too much when the American loans are earmarked for development of their paper pulp industry since most of their export is in paper, anyway. They are seeking more loans for the paper industry at this moment.

In fact, Finland would like very much to get more substantial funds from the U. S. Finland is in the position of not being able to take part in the Marshall plan because of Russian interference, yet the Finns would like to be considered by the U. S. as a member even though she did not agree to participate. The Finnish Parliament voted to go into the plan, but Russia forced her to stay out.

Finland feels the lack of dollars so badly because of lessening exports to the U. S. that she is virtually in the sterling area. She frequently trades with England more than the U. S. because she can arrange her exchange with Britain more conveniently.

The Finninsh government is determined on economy in so far as possible while her women folk use towels with fine splinters in them, her children wear fabric caps that sometimes mat and come apart in wet weather, her army wears a uniform comparable to U. S. overalls, and her people wear topcoats constantly even in moderate temperature because their clothing is so thin, they will chill easily.

Under these circumstances, the Finns are turning back to the U. S. $10 million of war surplus goods totalling $35 million which the U. S. turned over to Finland after World War II. The Finns say now: "We will not use all this war surplus material because we don't need it." This $35 million in surplus goods is part of the $100 million which the U. S. has loaned to Finland since end of World War II.

The poorly clothed Finns paid their annual interest installment of $259,000 in 1948 just as they have done regularly through the years since the so called Hoover loan of 1923 after World War I. Originally the principal on that was $9 million, but it is now down to $7,963,779. The Finns paid $170,000 on it last year. They are paying off their public debt while at the same time paying reparations on the basis of what the dollar will buy in 1938, not 1949. The total sum of reparations is 300 million USA dollars or $35,500,000 annualy for eight years.

Because the dollar today will buy much less than the dollar in 1938, the term "reparation dollar" is widely used in Finland.

DACHSHUND TO BE SHOWN — The Dachshund pictured above won first place recently in the Chagrin Valley Kennel club show in St. Paul, Minn., and also the Louisville, Kentucky, show, both of which are among the nation's outstanding Dachshund shows. Democratic Group To Seek Legal Interpretation Of Election Law

DALLAS, Sept. 18. (AP)—The legislative committee of Texas' Democratic county chairmen decided Saturday to ask the attorney general to clarify a law which they fear weakens their power to conduct primary elections.

The committee was worried about a new law which says election returns should be made by county clerks. In the past, returns went to county chairmen. They certified the returns to the county clerks.

Dallas county chairman Arthur Stevenson, chairman of the committee, said the state association of Democratic county chairmen will hold its annual convention in Houston Nov. 18-19, with Congressman Sam Rayburn as featured speaker.

On The Line

fection of the first practical electric light he was also devising the first workable electric power station, the telephone receiver we use today, electric railways which now carry millions daily, a process for preserving fruits in a vacuum, electric "mules" for canal towing (still in use at the Panama canal), a helicopter (28 years before Kitty Hawk), an improved telegraph key and several hundred other boons to the broader life to come, including the phonograph.

HE was 30 years old, with 140 patents to his credit.

He also doodled extensively in his notebooks, and frequently wrote in his rounded penmanship, "How do you get that now?" Here and there in the books are grocery lists, homely provisions to be picked up on his way home from the lab.

On Sept. 16, 1878, while the newspapers were still hailing him for his "talking machine," he announced that he had produced an electric light which would bring new and cheaper illumination to the U. S. home. The announcement caused a panic in gas stocks, so great was the public confidence in the young inventor.

As a matter of fact, Edison had not perfected the incandescent, except in his mind. It took him until October, 1879, to make good his anouncement, and money. That he raised through his good friend Grosvenor P. Lowrey, chief counsel for Western Union since 1866.

Lowrey rounded up J. P. Morgan, the elder, Norvin Green, president of Western Union, and even William S. Vanderbilt, the country's largest holder in gas shares.

They formed the Edison Electric Light Co., in October, 1878, and gave Edison half the stock to encourage his making good on his boast. He did. . .and, 70 years later, he stands as the incomparable producer of industry and job opportunities. The worth of public utilities alone, sprung from his mind, is now placed at $20 billion—with more than a quarter of a million workers.

But that figure of twenty billions does not begin to tell the story of a man and a gleaming bulb. Countless new industries have sprung up through the use of light and the power he produced. In the copper industry alone, production has jumped from 50,000 tons a year in Edison's time, to a million, because of its uses in electricity.

Scooter Club

muffler.

All of the club's offices will be held by the members, Abbott said. "We will drop out and become members ourselves after the club is on its feet," he commented.

Monthly meetings are scheduled to be held by the club out at Buffalo lakes in the "scooter park." Until the buildings are under construction, bi-monthly meetings will be held here in the city. The club's officers will be elected at the Sept. 25 meeting.

"The organization has a constitution and bylaws, subject to the member's revision," Abbott stated. A membership fee of $2 will be assessed to defray costs of club activities.

The men feel that the establishment of such an organization would bring about closer co-operation between motor scooter operators and city safety and traffic agencies. "It would also tend to minimize the operation of faulty or improperly equipped machines and would promote safe riding practices," Dees explained.

Lubbock's policemen will give informal lectures on traffic regulations here in Lubbock once the club gets underway, Abbott said. "Competent city mechanics will teach the club members the proper care and methods of repair for their scooters at the club's meetings," he said.

Each club member will be allowed to have one "scooter buddy." "That means that he or she can bring a pal along to all of the organization's official and unofficial affairs," he said.

"The club is essentially designed to cut down on the nuisance rating the motor scooter might have earned with some of the city's residents," Abbott emphasized. "The members will have expert supervision and instruction under club direction."

The men want to get the club on its way as soon as possible so as to permit the members to participate in the Amarillo Motor Scooter Field Meet to be held Oct. 8-9.

Adults are reminded that the club is not just aimed at youngsters. "Don't be a bit bashful about your age when applying for club membership," Abbott repeated. "Just call us at 2-0693 for full details right away."

between 10 and 20 barrels of drilling mud and oil for several hours recently when the total depth was at 6,170 feet. The flow was killed with heavy mud and operators are continuing to make hole.

The exploration is 467 feet from north and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 160, block 3, H&GN survey.

Scurry Well Completed

Hiwatha Oil & Gas company No. 6 L. M. Wilson has been completed as a natural flowing well from the Canyon lime in the Diamond M field of Southwest Scurry county.

The new well made an initial daily production of 431.82 barrels of 44.8-gravity oil, flowing through a 5/32nd-inch tubing choke. There was no formation water. Gas-oil ratio of the new petroleum was 1,271-1.

Production was through perforations in the 7-inch oil string between 6,612-6,670 feet. Total depth of the project was 6,672 feet.

This new source of oil is 330 feet from east and 660 feet from south lines of the lease in section 183, block 97, H&TC survey.

Five Producers Reported

Barnsdall Oil company has completed two new producers from the Canyon lime on the southeast side of the North Snyder field of North-Central Scurry county.

The company's No. 4 A. L. Wren, 467 feet from north and 287.6 west lines of the lease in section 20, block 1, J. P. Smith survey, was completed for a daily potential of 962 barrels of 42.8-gravity oil, flowing natural through a 22/64th-inch tubing choke. Gas-oil ratio of the oil was 962-1. It also made two-tenths per cent water.

The production was from open hole between the five and one-half inch oil string cemented at 6,800 feet and the total depth at 6,896.6 feet.

Barnsdall also completed its No. 7 A. L. Wren as a natural flowing well from the Canyon lime.

It rated a calculated 24-hour potential of 908 barrels of oil, flowing through a 32/64th-inch choke. Gravity of the oil was 42.6 and the gas-oil ratio was 950-1. It made five-tenths per cent water.

Production was from open hole section between the 7-inch oil string set at 6,770 feet and the total depth at 6,906 feet.

The new well is 467 feet from west and south lines of the lease in section 20, block 1, J. P. Smith survey.

The Pure Oil company has staked location on the south side of the North Snyder field of North Central Scurry county for its No. 4 W. H. Adams.

It is slated to drill to 7,000 feet with rotary tools to test the Canyon lime.

The drillsite will be 660 feet from north and 665 feet from west lines of the southeast quarter of section 383, block 97, H&TC survey and six miles north of Snyder. Drilling is to get under way soon.

L. M. Lockhart of Corpus Christi has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting a permit to drill an exploration in unproven area south of the nearest production on the south side of the North Snyder field in North Central Scurry county.

The venture is to be his No. 2 B. M. McHaney and will be located 467 feet from south and west of the east 160 acres of the north 240 acres in section 177, block 3, H&GN survey. That makes it four miles north of Snyder.

Contracted depth of the project is 6,600 feet to explore the Canyon reef. Drilling will be with rotary tools.

Air Transport Group 'Ready' To Conduct Airlift Anywhere

WASHINGTON, Sept. 18. (AP)—The Military Air Transport service said last night that with its experience in "operation vittles" it now is ready to conduct "an intensive strategic airlift effort anywhere in the world" if necessary.

The first annual reports of MATS—the integrated Air Force and Navy transport services—emphasized the experiences gained in a year of flying supplies into beleaguered Berlin. In a war, air transport of supplies and troops is of vital strategic importance.

'Wet' Dust Storms Seen

Clairvoyant A. M. Jackson, editor of The Slaton Slatonite, is resting on his laurels this week after his predictions of heavy September rains came through on schedule, but he had to add just this much:

"Judge Smith threatened my life last week if I made one more prediction about rains, so I'm compelled to say that dust storms are enroute, but folks they're gonna be the wettest dust storms you ever saw."

Crosbyton Plan Praised

Here is a money-raising idea that more than one civic club could use on the South Plains this year. The Crosbyton Review tells about the novel plan to be used by the Home Demonstration club and the Jaycees of Crosbyton to finance renovation of the city park.

"They are going to set up a pen (with permission of the gins) near each gin in the community, into which the cotton growers may throw a forkful or two of cotton before they weigh in at the gins.

"This cotton will be ginned and the money received from the sale of it will be used to replant grass and shrubbery in the park, build some playground equipment, and so forth."

Old Time Party At Sudan

Those good old days aren't gone yet. The County Wide News published at Littlefield in Lamb county, tells about a sock party held at the home of Catherine Foltyn at Sudan. Guests removed their shoes before entering the house, and paid a 25 cent fine if they failed to stay shoeless. Cash raised was for the Sudan senior queen candidate. Where are the old-timers who say people don't have fun anymore unless they spend a lot of money?

Why doesn't Levelland have a population of more than 20,000? According to Forrest Weimhold, publisher of The Hockley County Herald at Levelland, the reason is the shortage of housing facilities.

Mitchum To Devote Time To Improving Prison Problem

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 18. (INS)—Screen star Robert Mitchum, who recently served a term in jail on a narcotics conviction, declared today that he will devote much of his time to improving the nation's prison problem.

Mitchum, in a radio interview with Louella O. Parsons, International News Service motion picture editor, said:

"I have agreed to make four pictures in a row of any money-making type producers choose if they'll let me make a fifth picture concerning society and the prison problem."

Mitchum told the American Broadcasting company audience that his proposed picture would be what "Lost Weekend" was to alcoholics and what "The Snake Pit" was to the insane.

Louisiana Deep Well Fails To Hit Production At 15,754 Feet

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 18. (AP)—Initial attempts to tap what might have been the world's deepest productive oil sand have failed at Shell Oil company's Gall-State No. 1 in the Weeks island field of Iberia parish.

Drillers said the well was bottomed at 15,754-69 feet.

This zone is more than 200 feet deeper than the productive sands of Standard Oil of California's mushroom No. 5, Kern county, Calif., which was announced a week ago as the world's deepest producer.

The possibility of testing the upper portion of the deep-zone Weeks island well is being considered.

In his column, "Forrest Fires," Weimhold points out that part of the more than 2,000 Air force personnel scheduled to arrive at the Lubbock Air Force base will be looking for housing in Levelland, 18 miles east of the base.

"We believe there is a great need for a five or six hundred unit housing project immediately," Weimhold writes. "This is in addition to the many houses being built by individuals and others in an attempt to make homes available."

Just in passing, Buford F. Davenport, editor of The Abernathy Weekly Review, chides Douglas Chapman for going to work one sleepy morning wearing one dress oxford and one work shoe.

"Douglas often chides us because we are not up at the crack of dawn pounding the typewriter," Davenport writes. "Our rebuttal is that we don't have to go home and re-dress once we do get to the office."

Chicago Dedicates Giant New Airfield

CHICAGO, Sept. 18. (INS)—Chicago dedicated its newest international airport today to the memory of congressional Medal of Honor winner Edward H. (Butch) O'Hare.

Thousands of spectators watched Navy planes participate in a three-hour air show to mark the opening of O'Hare field.

O'Hare's mother, Mrs. Selma O'Hare, of St. Louis, was on hand to unveil a placque honoring the memory of her son, who won the nation's highest decoration for saving the aircraft carrier, Lexington.

The young pilot shot down five Japanese planes in one afternoon as they attempted to drop bombs on the giant carrier.

Among the stellar attractions of today's show was an exhibition of precision flying by the "Blue Angel" fighter group from Glenview Naval Air station.

Also featured were exhibitions of jet flying and the Navy's giant Constitution, world's largest transport plane, which was opened for public inspection.

144th Regiment Group Turns Down Proposals For Bonus

FORT WORTH, Sept. 18. (AP)—Veterans of the 144th Regiment's Par Oneri club voted down a resolution advocating a state bonus for ex-servicemen and tabled a call for a proposed national pension at their business meeting here today.

The reunion ended during the afternoon with an address by Joe Spurlock, state commander of the American Legion, in which he urged members to take active part in civic leadership.

Joe M. Loughry of Fort Worth was elected president.
