Rock festival bash nipped early Sunday

By NILAH RODGERS

A rock festival sponsored by a Lubbock radio station and billed as a bicentennial blowout got stopped before it started northeast of Lubbock and made an unscheduled, uninvited appearance at Bull Lake Saturday.

The planned for two-day, two-night event ended abruptly early Sunday morning after one of the festival participants pulled Mrs. Leroy (Ange) Sawyer through a pickup window by her hair and punched her in the face with his fists.

Several officers had been notified of possible trouble prior to the incident after it was reported that hundreds of Lubbock area residents were drinking, smoking marijuana, and swimming nude at the city lake.

Bull Lake attendant Buck Ross said the first he knew of the event was about 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon when eight to 10 car loads of musicians came down the hill to his trailer house and asked him where they were supposed to set up their equipment for the festival.

Ross said he told them if they hadn't made arrangements with the City of Littlefield they weren't getting in to the lake area. Ross said he tried to phone city manager Jim Blagg and learned he was out of town. Ross then phoned James Cox, chief of police, and asked him to come out and help him keep the group under control.

Backers of the rock festival came back to Littlefield to contact Blagg. Meantime the city manager returned to town, and when the promoters of the "Bicentennial Blowout" talked to Blagg on the phone, they told him they were holding a private party and not more than 100 would attend.

Ross said Blagg telephoned him to say he had given the group permission to enter the city owned property, explaining that it was a public place and he didn't think they could keep people out. Blagg said the out of town group agreed to end their party at midnight.

"I argued with him that we couldn't afford to have such a thing," Ross said. "We can't keep people from having a little party, but I maintained that we can keep them from having a concert without permission."

Blagg hadn't been advised of the rock festival nature.

Blagg said, "I gave permission for a private party of up to 100 to gather at the lake. Under no circumstances would I have knowingly allowed several hundred people to gather for a Rock Festival without the City Council first acting upon the matter."

Meantime promoters of the festival had been broadcasting over Lubbock radio stations that the site of the festival had been changed to Bull Lake because of rain. They said their contract for the property northeast of Lubbock contained an agreement with the farmer that if it rained they couldn't use his property. The sponsoring radio gave directions to Bull Lake and made maps available at the station.

A steady line of vehicles started arriving. Ross said he counted 475 who came in with the rock group. "Those were just the ones we actually counted," Ross added. "You couldn't tell how many were in those vans, and persons already at the lake said many of the cars had several people hiding in the car trunk to keep from being charged the 50 cents per head admission charge."

When trouble began to develop about 11:30 Saturday night, Ross said vehicles were still coming in bumper to bumper.

The Sawyer family had taken their little boy and two of his friends to the lake earlier Saturday and planned to spend the weekend camping out. By the time the bands and their crowd starting arriving, the Sawyers had put up two tents and established their camping ground on the north side of the lake.

"We got as far on the north side as we could," Mrs. Sawyer said. "Because the boys had their motorcycles and wanted to shoot fireworks."

"This seedy looking bunch started coming in about sundown. They set up generators and amplifiers and by 11 that night we were really hemmed in. They started making a race track out of our camping ground. They got between us and Buck's trailer and had all the roads cut off up to the entrance."

When cars were still coming one after another about 11 o'clock, Mrs. Sawyer said she decided to go up to Buck's trailer and call Jim Blagg and ask him how much longer the party was going to last.

She and her son got in their pickup and made their way to the entrance where she telephoned the city manager complaining of the vulgar language used on the amplifiers, the skinny dipping, drunkenness and pot smoking.

"I told him I wish he'd bring his tent and come out and see how he liked what was going on," Mrs. Sawyer said.

On the way back to their camping site, cars jammed up because of the narrow passage and everyone came to a halt when somebody parked in the middle of the road. One man told Mrs. Sawyer he thought they could get by if both drove slowly.

"About that time somebody in the second car behind her jumped out and I thought he was heading to the car in front of me," she said. "Then he reached through the window, caught me by my hair, pulled my head through and smashed me in the face with his fist."

"I heard somebody call him a name and tell him he had hit a woman. I started driving on down the road and my face started bleeding where he hit me on the cheek bone."

Mrs. Sawyer said a couple from Whitharral took her back to Buck's house. Ross called James Cox and told him the lake area needed to be cleared out before there was real trouble.

Sheriff E. D. McNeese said Jim Blagg phoned him about 11:40 and wanted the county units to go out to Bull Lake and break up the festival.

Eleven county officers, highway patrolmen and city police officers answered the call. Highway patrolman Ray Cannon said they called the band leader over to a patrol car asked him to help them clear the area.

The emcee told the crowd the band was playing one more song and then

Other than lake, police activity light

Except for the Bull Lake incident Saturday night and early Sunday morning, police activity was relatively light for the July Fourth weekend.

City police received a total of 120 calls through Monday concerning illegal discharging of firecrackers. Several citations were issued for shooting fireworks inside the city limits.

At the city police station over the weekend, one man was charged with simple assault, and two women were jailed on drunk charges.

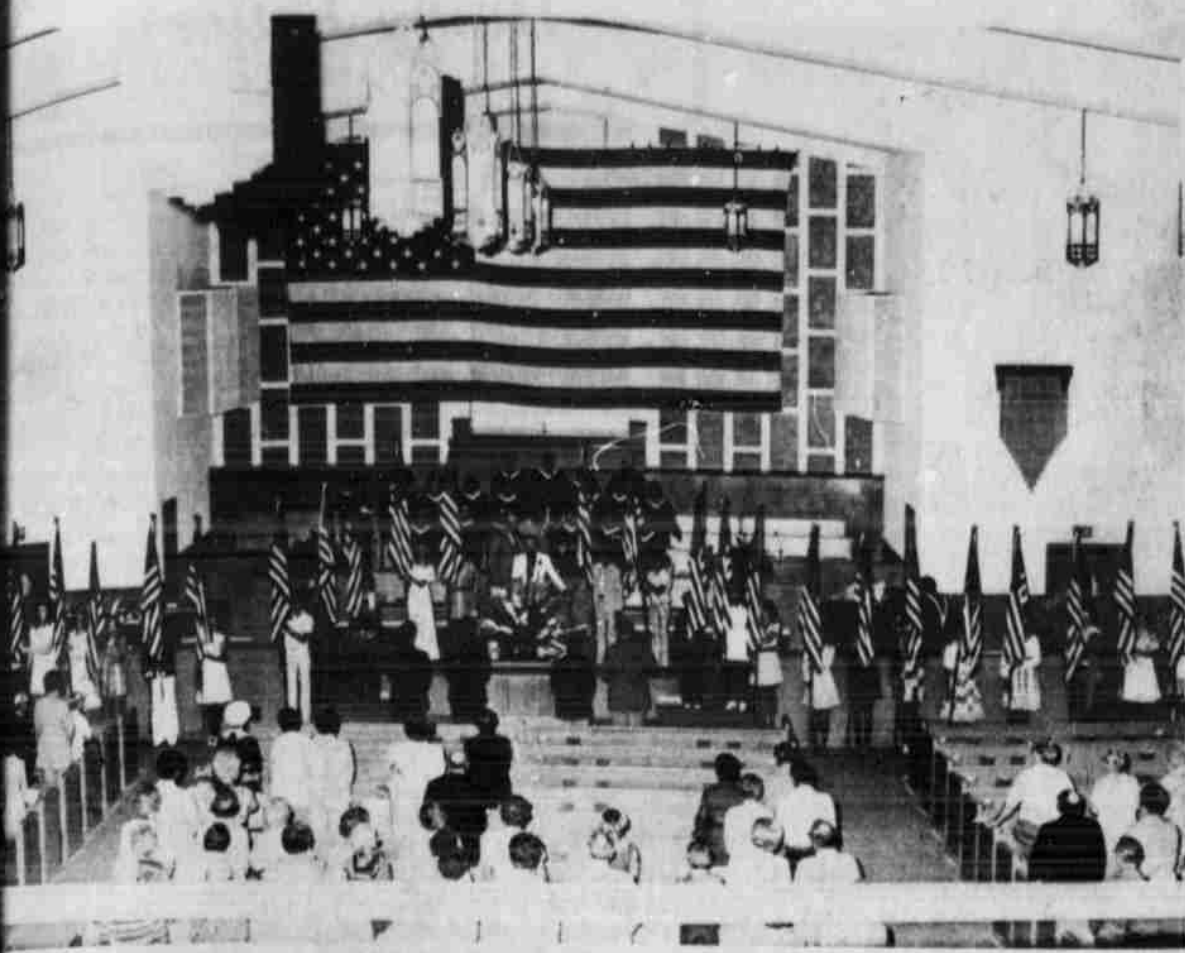

Two burglaries were reported to county authorities. Ramiro Alaniz reported that a window was broken and his television set damaged at his residence northwest of Olton. Charles Carpenter reported the theft of an air conditioner from a farm northwest of Littlefield.

JUST WHAT THE farmers ordered. That's what this week's rains were. Rain sufficient to completely cover cotton is a little too much here in this photo. But the moisture was greatly needed, and area farmers said it was worth a million.

Hundreds may be exposed to Hepatitis at Sudan event

Sudan had one of the biggest celebrations Saturday they've ever had. The big pre-July Fourth festival brought hundreds of people to town to view the restoration of the old Sudan Hotel, join in the contests, buy from the many bazaars, purchase tickets for big give-aways, eat barbecue, and dance in the streets.

Everything should have ended on a happy note.

Unfortunately, everyone of the hundreds of persons who joined the Sudan Lions Club in their big barbecue may have been exposed to infectious hepatitis.

Every person who ate food or drank ice tea served by the Lions Club are advised to contact their personal physician about possible gamma globulin shots to prevent taking hepatitis.

One of the Sudan residents who helped serve food and dipped all the ice for the tea is now hospitalized with hepatitis. It is believed that the hepatitis was in the infectious stage Saturday. The man went into the yellow jaundice stage Sunday.

Doctors in charge of the case said the chances of contracting the disease are remote, but everyone who attended should ask his own doctor about preventative shots.

The Leader-News contacted Dr. Barney Klein Tuesday. Dr. Klein said he would advise anyone eating the food or drinking tea at the Sudan barbecue Saturday to take a shot of gamma globulin this week.

"Taking gamma globulin is not a big deal," Dr. Klein said, "getting hepatitis can cause permanent liver damage."

Dr. Klein said a person can come down with hepatitis from 15 days after exposure to 35 days, or from four to six weeks. Some cases of hepatitis are light and persons never know they have it. Some are dangerous and leave permanent damage.

The first symptoms of hepatitis is nausea. Some think they are taking a virus. "And a lot of times it's hard to tell hepatitis from a virus until a day or two after symptoms start," Dr. Klein said. "Yellowness of the whites of the eyes and skin are the real clue."

One other case of hepatitis has been reported in Sudan.

Persons should get their doctor's opinion on precautions within a week.

Payment dependent on damage evidence

Producers affected by crop damage should not destroy evidence of damage. Disaster program eligibility for wheat, feed grains, or cotton is dependent on evidence of crop damage.

Bill Farris, ASCS county executive director, reminded farmers again this week that producers who believe they may be eligible or may later become eligible for disaster payments should

It takes a shock to bring us to our senses, and perhaps the sex scandals in Washington cause the American people to realize how wasteful our elected representatives have been in Washington.

--SS--

One writer recently asked, "Why $14,000 per year for someone who can't file and can't talk on the telephone. We thought that was the norm for Washington."

We can fully understand how a man could succumb to such a life-style in Washington. They are so catered to and pampered, they run the risk of feeling but human.

Some of us foul up the worst when we start to think more highly of ourselves than we should. We've all learned that, yet never seem to learn the lesson.

When we understand why a congressman feels somewhat superhuman, we understand why the American people have such indifference to the rituals of Washington.

In April, the Senate passed the new budget for the coming year and amidst of all the campaigning, no one paid any attention to it.

The budget calls for the expenditure of $60,000,000. In English that's four hundred twelve billion, six hundred million dollars.

Another way of putting it is a billion and a half million dollars a day, plus an additional thousand million for petty cash on Monday.

Better still, it's $47 million per day and $13,083 every second of every minute every day, all year.

Senator Review has pointed out that the new federal tax imposes a $6,000 per household... to ensure the welfare and well-being of every American family if they would just keep what they earn.

Congressmen probably are not at all for their inflated opinions of themselves. Look what we taxpayers tolerated in the form of fringe benefits for our so-called representa-

To The EDITOR

Dear Editor,

I am seeking information concerning my father, Bert Autry, or any member of his family. It would be greatly appreciated by his son, who last heard from him in 1964.

Dear Sirs,

On a recent trip to your town we had an act of kindness shown my family that you don't hear of any more.

My husband had gotten something in his eye and had to go to the doctor there. He went to the Littlefield Clinic and a Dr. Klein removed an object from his eyeball and when my husband went to pay his bill, he said "no charge" since we were visiting in your town.

I felt your townspeople should know of the good deed and it was so greatly appreciated. Since these days you usually think if you're a stranger, you get ripped off. Our hats are off to the doctors in your town and your whole town.

Thank you for letting us share this.

HEART ATTACK:

It's no gambling matter

With heart attack, there's no time for second guessing. And there's no such thing as a "safe" gamble— you could be dead wrong.

It's crucial to recognize heart attack immediately and get the victim to a hospital emergency room at once. Minutes count, and delay can be deadly.

When heart attack strikes, too many of its victims believe they're suffering from indigestion or heartburn, even after the symptoms and the pain persist for as long as six hours. That's when it can become a fatal mistake.

More than 680,000 die from heart attack each year. The average heart attack victim waits three hours before seeking help. As a result, more than half of all heart attack victims die before they reach the hospital. Thousands of lives could have been saved if they had known and heeded the early warning signs of heart attack.

What are the early warning signs? Prolonged, oppressive pain or unusual discomfort in the center of the chest; pain may radiate to the shoulder, arm, neck or jaw; pain or discomfort is often accompanied by sweating; nausea, vomiting and shortness of breath may also occur. Sometimes these symptoms subside and then return.

Recognition of these symptoms is one key to survival. Getting under emergency care at a hospital Coronary Care Unit is another.

Two-thirds of the country's 7,000 general hospitals have special intensive or coronary care facilities to treat emergency cases and the complications of heart attack.

Most heart attack victims who survive return to productive lives. Having a heart attack doesn't mean a person will be disabled for life. Normal work, exercise and sexual activity are possible, based upon the doctors' advice.

Although it's possible to survive a heart attack by knowing the early warning signs and getting immediate emergency care, it's better to do everything possible to prevent it from happening in the first place.

We taxpayers subsidize their cocktail parties and dinners on Capitol Hill, their restaurants, their medical insurance and their hospital stays at military hospitals, their basement food store and their richly endowed retirement programs.

In the last 18 months the congressmen have raised their district office allowances by 43 per cent, their special air mail and special delivery stamp allowances by 25 per cent and their stationary allowance by $1,250. They recently hiked their salaries $1,700 and voted themselves an automatic cost of living escalator during a time of high inflation. They also raised from $10,000 to $25,000 the amount congressmen can earn annually on the lecture circuit.

Congressmen can now add two additional staff members, thereby increasing their staff allowances by $34,000 a year.

During the past 18 months, the cost of each congressman has risen $110,000 per member. And over the past 20 years, when the cost of living has risen 82 per cent, the price of Congress has risen 560 per cent.

We've provided everything else—no wonder they assumed their night-life as part of the package.

CLIPS & TIPS

By JOELLA LOVVORN

TALK WITH SOMEONE about typical American dishes and odds are you'll find yourself discussing beef. Beef is an important element in American cuisine and has been since America's birth 200 years ago...and even before that.

Cattle first came to the American Southwest with the Spanish in the 1500's and in 1624 with English settlers in New England.

For early Americans, cattle were an important food source; but in the chain of uses for cattle, meat was last. Cattle were, first, work animals; second, a source of milk; third, a source of hides; and lastly, meat.

Today, by-products are still valued, but beef cattle are first a source of nutritious, versatile and tasty beef. The beef industry has improved cattle breeds, production methods, handling and transportation to the point where today's cook is guaranteed of the finest beef in the world.

American beef is the world's standard for taste and tenderness. No wonder beef is America's favorite meat.

Beef recipes were originally passed from cook to cook, generation to generation, by word of mouth.

The first cookbook to appear in America was published in 1742. Called "The Compleat Housewife" it was edited from an earlier English work by E. Smith. The first truly American cookbook, called "American Cookery," was written and published in Connecticut in 1796 by Amerlia Simmons. It was designed by the writer, herself an orphan, to help guide fellow orphans who had no one to teach them the skills of cooking.

Then, as now, beef was an important part of any cookbook. And recipes such as Colonial Steak and Kidney Pie or Beef Wellington have been preserved and improved upon for generations.

"The Bicentennial Beef Cookbook" published by the Beef Industry Council of the Meat Board features 100 of the best beef recipes from America's first 100 years.

Colonial kitchen favorites to the early West's chuckwagon greats, Pilgrim's Pot Roast to Planked Porterhouse Steak and Beef Jerky to High-Rise Hamburgers, America's rich heritage of beef cookery is captured in this 128-page book. It also includes fascinating historical information and helpful sections on cookery methods, storing of beef, carving and much, much more.

The cookbook is available by mail only. Send $2 (check or money order) to Bicentennial Beef Cookbook, Beef Industry Council, Dept. 76, 444 N. Michigan Ave., Chicago, Illinois, 60611.

COLONIAL STEAK AND KIDNEY PIE

- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 1/4 cup chopped pimiento
- 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce
- 1/4 teaspoon thyme

THE ABUNDANT LIFE

Doing better

MOST OF US are "doing better" than we think we are, and most of us could be "doing better" than we are doing. Unfortunately, we seem to magnify our weaknesses and our failures, and, at the same time, underestimate our potentials.

Perhaps our materialistic, competitive society causes this partial and lop-sided evaluation of ourselves; and, it may be that our misconceived notions of humility and self-approval contribute to the unfortunate condition.

IT IS NOT COMMENDABLE for us to think more highly of ourselves than we ought to think; nor is it commendable for us to think less highly of ourselves than we ought to think.

In most lives, in some areas, there is likely to be some egotism; but even this will decrease, when we realize that we are actually "doing better" than we think we are. This does not mean that we ignore existing need for change and improvement, but, again, in realizing that we are "doing better" than we usually think we are, we will find some of the encouragement we need for a sensible and continuing program of self-improvement.

MANY PERSONS who think of themselves as failures are not failures. Their accomplishments may not measure up to the maximum levels of some standards (often these are faulty standards, and artificial, too), but this is not life failure.

All of us probably fail in some things, but such happening does not mean that we are failures. We have shortcomings which may be or may not be correctable, but we must not measure ourselves from this standard. Of course, the possible correction may be made; but we are "doing better" than we admit to be.

WE CAN BECOME discouraged with ourselves, and without realizing it is possible that this is the deterrent to effective living. We can handle all other negative emotions better than discouragement.

All of us know the depressing, lingering discouragement, which can hide the positive, energizing elements of life.

Even when there may be no justification for pessimism, never any justification for pessimism to take over and dominate us, we realize this is happening. We should counteract the discouragement consciously and persistently ourselves that we are "doing better" than it seems.

THIS ATTITUDE does not mean the way of making unrealistic, or blind us to the fact that we can and should be "doing better."

This attitude of fairness toward ourselves will make us more useful, and much more persons. We will be able to express and apply the wonderful, admirable traits of our character personality.

THIS ATTITUDE enables the way open for the best possible style, both from the standpoint of personal well-being and from interactions with our fellowmen.

New Influenza virus a threat to Texas

A new strain of influenza virus appeared in February at Fort Dix, N.J.

This newly-identified virus has antigenic properties (or antibody producing characteristics) similar to a flu virus that occurs in swine. This small outbreak in New Jersey was the first instance of the swine-like influenza virus being transmitted from man to man.

Because of the implications of this new flu outbreak, health officials in Texas are now gearing up for the largest mass immunization campaign in the state's history. Part of a nationwide effort to protect the American people from an expected epidemic of New Jersey A flu (sometimes called "Swine flu"), the Texas campaign will attempt to provide the protective vaccine to at least 10 million Texans.

The goal is to immunize the population in a three-month period running from September through November of 1976. The nation has never attempted an immunization program of such scope and intensity. It will require a major effort by both the public and private sectors of health care.

Essentially, the plan relies on the Federal government for its purchasing power to obtain the quantities of vaccine necessary, and for technical leadership and coordination through the national Center for Disease Control.

State health agencies will be called on to translate the plans into action, using their manpower and experience in conducting systematic immunization programs. The private health care sector has joined in to offer its support and its extensive medical and other health related resources.

The Texas Medical Association unanimously passed a resolution supporting the mass flu immunization campaign at their recent meeting.

The strategy is to tailor the approach to the opportunity need—using mass immunization clinics where appropriate, using delivery points already in place such as physicians' offices, department clinics, and health centers. The use of volunteer organizations to be a very important part of the campaign.

Actually, the first stages of immunization campaign will begin about mid-July. A special vaccine for older people and people with illness will be made available. "bivalent" vaccine protection from both the New Jersey A and the 1968 Hong Kong influenza virus (Swine Flu) will be available to this target population considered to be at risk. The immunization of the general population against the New Jersey A will begin about the first of September.

One can imagine the complexity of trying to immunize almost the entire population of the nation in such a period of time. Fortunately, health authorities and private citizens in Texas have had a wealth of experience in mass immunization.

Since the passage of the "school immunization law" several million Texas school children have been immunized against diseases. It was accomplished through the Texas Department of Health's public health regional health departments across the state and by physicians in private practice.

—rock festival—

everyone would have to leave. Participants booed, yelled insults, and threw firecrackers. One jumped up and announced that no one could force them to go.

The band leader reminded the crowd that the officers had asked in a nice way, and that there hadn't been any head bashing.

McNeese said it took all the officers an hour and a half to get the solid trail of spectators out. "You could smell the dope a quarter of a mile off," he said. "They were a salty bunch, some naked as jay birds," the sheriff added.

Highway patrolmen said officers allowed the band to stay overnight so they could remove their generators and other equipment the following day. Approximately 60 to 70 who were too drunk or drugged to rouse were allowed to stay until morning. Officers said they theorized that there would be less trouble and danger in leaving them alone than trying to get them out.

Ross praised all the police, deputies and patrolmen for their cool heads and the way they handled the crowd without setting off a riot.

"If a riot had started, we wouldn't have an officer left," he added. Officers observed one group trying to break out chains. One van tried to break through the rocks on the way out.

Ross said they found lead clubs and all types of weapons in the morning.

"If Mrs. Sawyer hadn't been there, there's no telling what would have happened out there," Ross said. "That incident brought all the attention determined to clear the area that hadn't happened, that planned to stay all night Saturday Sunday, through Sunday and all day Monday. That was the original 'blowout' was what we called it."

No charges were filed against the man who hit Mrs. Sawyer. She was scared to get the license number, she said he looked like all the long haired, bearded men there. Only four arrests were made. Those were made after the band left the area.

At 2:15 a.m. highway patrolmen arrested three. A Lubbock man, Smyer man were charged with driving while intoxicated, and a Lubbock man was held for city police on a charge.

Some summer wages may not be taxed

Any student or summer employee who expects to make $2,350 or less during the year need not pay any federal income tax, says Buddy Logsdon, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "If a student or summer employee expects to earn $2,350 or less and does not want income tax deductions taken out during the year, he can file a W-4E Form with his employer certifying that there is to be no tax deduction during the year," Logsdon says. "However, if at any time after this form is filed, an employee earns more than $2,350, he must file a regular tax withholding form and standard deductions will begin."

An employee who is eligible to file a W-4E Form may prefer to have income tax deductions made during the year and then file for a tax refund after January 1, adds Logsdon.

An employee who earns more than $2,350, has earned more than $750 in unearned income such as tips or dividends, or is being claimed as a dependent by his parents must file a standard income tax return, notes Logsdon.

The Anne Jones lead campaign

More than a decade ago the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation was working to keep C/F alive long enough to go to school. Now we are helping some of these children, who have survived into young adulthood, find jobs.

Encouraging words from Mrs. Jane Anne Jones, who accepted the leadership of the 1976 Baby Campaign, "The Foundation has increased its efforts because of earlier diagnosis and progress on a cure," said our "it is efforts such as we support by giving for and contributing to the Kiss A Baby Campaign."

"The treatments that prolong the lives of children with cystic fibrosis also alleviate, and often cure, children with other lung-damaging diseases," she added.

Cystic Fibrosis, the number one genetic killer of children affects one out of every 1,500 babies born each year and occurs when a child inherits two genes for the disease, one from each parent.

"The parents don't have cystic fibrosis, but they are among the 10 million carriers of the gene in the United States," she said and added "that one goal of Foundation-supported research is a test to detect these carriers."

"We don't need more reasons that these to actively support the Kiss A Baby Campaign."

20 YEARS AGO
VOTERS OF THE Sudan Independent School District favored the bond issue of $425,000 when a heavy voter turnout said yes, two to one for the issue.

Money from the sale of the bonds will construct a new elementary building, home economics cottage, and renovate the high school auditorium, according to Supt. C. O. Gregory.

AMONG THE GIRLS entered in the Queen of Cotton Contest are Leta Merie Roberts, Betty Lou Purdy, Gay Minyard, Brenda Chisholm, Sue Haynes, Martha Williams, Karlyn Hulse, Roxene Bingham and Jo Ann Parrack.

O. E. LUMSDEN, superintendent of Springlake Schools for the past three years, resigned his position. He made the announcement as members of the Springlake board reorganized for the coming year. President is Pat McCord; H. W. Lewis is vice president; Beedie Welch, secretary; and Guy F. Kelley, assistant secretary. Other board members are J. J. Coker, Oliver Tunnell Jr., and A. E. Wheatley.

ABOUT 30 Littlefield youngsters will get to play on a Little League team this year because of the tears in one lad's eyes. There were only five sponsors for teams until two or three days before the bidding tools place.

Bud Lowe was in L. V. Pierce's station when a couple of little fellows came in to bring their birth certificates so they could be in the pool from which the managers would "buy" their players.

L. V. told them he wasn't sure they would get to play because there were only five team sponsors. That would mean only about 80 of the 135 boys who wanted to play could be accommodated. Bud saw the tears well up in one boy's eyes and made up his mind they'd all get to play if he had to sponsor three more teams himself.

But of course he didn't have to. He called E. J. Foust and Merlin Yarbrough, and in 30 minutes there were three more teams in the league, enough to take care of all the boys who wanted to play. It cost them $200 apiece to sponsor a team.

MR. AND MRS. Junior Nicholas, Gay and Kerry, were honored with housewarming at their new residence a mile and a quarter north of Littlefield on the Springlake Highway.

JOE WALDEN was presented with a trophy for Most Valuable Player on the Buffalo squad during the 1955 season, and also received the first annual Dr. James P. Cornette President's Award at the annual athletic banquet at West Texas State College.

MUTT HOUK and Eddie Houk have purchased the Pierce Grocery and Market on the Levelland Highway. They will operate the store as Houk Bros. Grocery and Market.

This is the newest grocery store in Littlefield, and has only been open a few months.

POLLY LOU POTTER and Sue Watkins are attending a girls camp at Kerville this summer.

MR. AND MRS. R. W. Badger, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Martin, and Mrs. Lavelle Taylor fished at Paint Rock last week.

THE J. C. PENNY Store opens today. The new brick and tile building on Phelps Ave. originally was planned for 1941. The outbreak of the war and shortage of materials postponed plans five years.

JOE HUTCHINSON has been named new superintendent of Littlefield Schools, effective July 1.

Wayne Brown is first vice president; L. H. Adams, second vice president; Duane Bull, secretary; J. D. Smith, treasurer; and directors, J. E. Chisholm, Emil Onstott, Nelson Naylor, E. E. Wesley and Woodson Lindsey.

The drought was broken June 23, finally, and many farmers, who haven't a cotton crop growing are busying this week planting feed. Sudan-Amherst farmers received over three inches. Oklahoma Flats received at least five inches. Running Water Draw is reported filled almost to the banks.

52 YEARS AGO
DURING THE past week more than 20 sales, aggregating some 4,000 acres, were made by one company.

CENSUS ENUMERATOR E. C. Cundiff reports the Littlefield scholastic enrollment to be 442 children between the ages of 7 and 18 years of age. This means state aid for Littlefield School will amount to over $5,000.

W. P. PILLIANS, M. D., County Health officer, has ordered a county clean-up day.

A REWARD of $100 will be paid to any person (officer one half that amount) for the arrest and conviction of anyone caught stealing in Littlefield or adjacent community. Apply at Littlefield State Bank.

PROCLAIM HIS LAW OF LOVE TO ALL THE WORLD

Our Nation's birthday is a fitting occasion to try to determine what God had in mind when He established America.

The tiny 67th Psalm led me to thinking. Already every nation on earth was being governed by God's moral law, indirectly at the very least. But God was not satisfied with that. He wanted a nation that would proclaim His law of love to all the world.

Israel was His first choice—and Israel failed. America is His second—perhaps His last.

The 67th Psalm says "That thy way may be known upon earth, thy saving health among all nations."

America, with all her faults, is the only nation in history that has sent her sons and daughters as Christian ministers to the veritable ends of the earth to make His salvation known.

If we are to have "one world" on this earth, it will only be the oneness men find in Jesus Christ in whom there is no north or south, no east or west. It will be a oneness which will come from recognition and acceptance of the one true and only God.

That is America's great achievement! Our greatest gift to all the world.

—Paul M. Stevens

Woodmen pace All-star squad

Major league runner-up WOW placed five players on the 1976 Littlefield Little League All-star roster to lead all teams.

The All-stars were selected by the six major league coaches Saturday night following the last game of the season.

The Littlefield group will host the four-team district tourney at the Little League Park July 19-20. Littlefield will meet Plainview-American at 8 p.m. July 19, following the Sudan-Amherst versus Anton contest slated for 6 p.m.

The winners of the two games will play at 8 p.m. July 20 and will advance to the next rung in the state playoffs.

The All-stars are coached by Paul Yarbrough and Bill Healy, who led WOW to an 11-4 record last season. The team will have workouts today.

The squad consists of Birkelbach — Bobby Martinez, Mike Williams and Butler;

Plainview slaps Littlefield 12-0 with fourth inning explosion

To the Littlefield Jr. Babe Ruth All-stars, their Plainview opponents resembled a firecracker with a long fuse. After three innings of sizzle, Plainview exploded with a nine-run display Monday night that burned up Littlefield on the way to a 12-0 win.

The game was a first-round outing in the West Texas District 2 tourney held in Plainview. The bracket showed Littlefield playing Muleshoe in the first round, but when the team arrived in Plainview Monday afternoon they found the host squad waiting for them.

"We were real surprised that we played Plainview instead of Muleshoe," said Littlefield coach John Clayton. "Plainview is the favorite to win, and I'm sure Muleshoe is weaker. We could've used a bit more preparation if we'd known we'd be playing Plainview."

Of course, Littlefield would have had to get by Plainview sometime during the double-elimination tournament anyway to win it, but the first round loss puts the All-stars in a dangerous position. One more loss and Littlefield is out.

They were to play Dimmitt Tuesday at 6 p.m. If they won, they will still have to play every night until Saturday to win the tourney and advance to the regional meet.

Dimmitt lost to Olton in the other Monday night game 20-19 when Olton rallied for 13 runs in the sixth inning.

"We were playing real good ball against Plainview until the third inning," Clayton said. "Then the roof just fell in."

Tim Burge got the winners going in the fourth with a long two-run homer, the first hit of the night off Littlefield's Joe Rodriguez. Then everyone started hitting. Pablo Trevino finally came in to retire the last Plainview batter, but not before nine runs poured across.

"It wasn't all Joe's fault in that inning," Clayton said. "We made something like five errors. Then we played real well against the rest of the game. It was just that one inning."

Plainview's Boni Garcia had the Littlefield bats silenced all night. He registered 16 strikeouts, many with men on base as the locals stranded nine runners.

Alvin Contreras clipped a long triple against the fence for Littlefield, but was left at third. Jr. Sierra, Rodriguez and Jimmy Clayton each added singles.

Safe trailer towing won't mar vacation

This summer's vacation can turn into a disaster if that trailer you are pulling comes loose or is not handled properly.

For safety's sake, make sure you have a good sturdy trailer hitch, hook it up properly and take precautions when driving. points out Buddy Logsdon, county agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"First of all, use a trailer hitch that is strong enough for the amount of weight you plan to tow. You may need heavy duty springs and shock absorbers for extra weight.

"Make sure the trailer hitch is properly attached to the car or truck with safety chain in place and lights hooked up," Logsdon adds.

Load the trailer with 60 per cent of the weight in front of the trailer axle. This makes both the car and trailer more stable.

"Before going anywhere, check to see that the turn signals and brake lights are working and that you can see on both sides of the trailer with the outside mirrors," cautions Logsdon.

When passing other vehicles, allow twice the space and time you would normally take to pass. Also, keep the proper distance between your car and the vehicle in front of you. A good rule to follow is to keep one car length for every 10 miles per hour you are traveling between you and the other car.

"Above all, keep alert and remember you're towing a trailer," emphasizes Logsdon.

The feature event of the first Olympic Games in 776 B.C. was a boxing-wrestling competition called the pankration, meaning "all-strength." The winner won everlasting fame when, throttled by a fatal stranglehold, he broke his opponent's foot with a last wrench. His foe surrendered — just in time for the dying man to win the olive wreath.
