Unrest Among Danish People Is Spreading

Strikers Being Encouraged By Underground

(By The Associated Press)

STOCKHOLM, July 3—Danish workers's demonstrations and strikes against the Germans were reported spreading today to 20 towns, including Helsingor and Kalunborg in Sjaelland and Aarhus in Jutland, the second largest city.

At Helsingor, gas, electricity and water suddenly cut off, the free Danish press service reported—possibly a Nazi action to force the workers back to their jobs.

Ignore Work Appeals

In Copenhagen, where 15,000 Danes are reported to have clashed with 3,000 Germans, appeals by prominent Danes to the workers and a German offer to restore public utilities service, appeared to have failed to halt the general strike, now in its fourth day.

The Danish free press, on the basis of fragmentary information, said the strike continued and said underground newspapers were distributing leaflets calling upon all workers to continue away from their jobs.

The Stockholm newspaper Aftontigningen reported with reservations that two ships had arrived at Copenhagen harbor, possibly to transport the Danish Nazi Schalburg corps outside the country. Removal of the Danish Nazi has been one of the demands of the strikers.

UNREST SAID SPREADING IN EUROPEAN COUNTRIES

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, July 3. — German troops were reported today to be pressing a large scale drive in southwestern France in an effort to smash underground resistance, described by one French collaborationist source as "a real civil war directed from abroad."

At the same time advices from Stockholm indicated the Germans were making desperate efforts to placate striking Danish patriots who had barricaded themselves in the streets of Copenhagen and threatened to fight to the death in protest against repressive measures.

A new situation, meanwhile, was rising to plague the Germans at home where — according to dispatches from Madrid — some 50,000 foreign prisoners have escaped since the Allied invasion of France and are causing deep concern by their activities.

Reports from the Spanish-French frontier, relayed here by way of Madrid, said the Germans had thrown tanks and bombers as well as infantry into their drive against French patriots in the Dor-

Oil And Travel Centers Lashed

LONDON, July 3 (AP) — From 500 to 750 Flying Fortresses and Liberators, including Eighth Air force units which flew from England in a shuttle flight, bombed Nazi oil storages and refineries and transportation facilities in Romania, Hungary and Yugoslavia today.

The operation from Italian bases left a smoke column 18,000 feet high spiraling from the former Shell oil storage plant just outside Belgarde, Yugoslav capital, Rome dispatches said. The plant is a central distribution point for oil supplies to German Balkan units.

ROCKETS HIT ENGLAND

LONDON, July 3 (AP) — After a lull of several hours which began shortly after midnight, the Germans resumed their rocket bomb attacks on southern England early today and augmented these assaults with scattered raids by regular aircraft.

The German-controlled Paris radio identified Plymouth and Portsmouth as the principal targets of the robot blitz, and said both cities had suffered heavy damage.

Other targets hit were an oil storage port at Giurgiu on the Danube south of Bucharest, Romanian capital, and the Malaxa locomotive works east of Bucharest.

The German radio, reporting an attack on the Budapest area in Hungary for the second straight day, said fierce air battles resulted and that 35 American planes were downed.

But Rome dispatches quoted crewmen as saying the opposition was limited and all targets were well plastered with bombs.

Americans Take Vital Roles In Money Parley

Stabilization Fund, Creation Of World Bank Are Proposed

(By The Associated Press)

BRETTON WOODS, N. H., July 3. — Chairmanships of two vital segments of the United Nations monetary conference went to the United States today — the conference steering committee and the commission to draft plans for a national stabilization fund.

The conference has accepted without a dissenting vote nominations submitted to the second plenary session by Walter Nash, New Zealand delegate.

Great Britain was awarded chairman of the commission to outline a world reconstruction bank, and Mexico took over the group assigned to pursue "other means of international financial cooperation."

Russian Is Vice President

N. S. Stepanov, head of the Russian delegation, was named first vice president of the conference.

The delegates concluded their first working meeting after adopting a resolution expressing admiration for the "heroic efforts" of the Allies "to achieve a quick victory which will make possible a new era of world cooperation for the good of all peoples."

Proposed by the Peruvian delegation, it brought a response from Senator Tobey (R-NH) declaring that success of the conference will pave the way for "a permanent world peace."

The conference moved into its first full working day with its task in the words of one highly-placed official "better than half finished."

He said pre-conference sessions at Atlantic City were so successful the talks here on proposals to create an international stabilization fund and a world reconstruction bank might be concluded in less than the three weeks allotted to the formal conference.

Acceptance Said Formality

Harry D. White, monetary expert for the United States Treasury and a member of the American delegation, told a press conference yesterday that the Atlantic City gathering of financial technicians attempted to reach no agreements because the conference would not be bound by them. However, 16 of the 44 nations participating in the talks here were represented at the seaside sessions and acceptance of their report at today's plenary session was re-

Holiday Death Toll Reaches 205 Today

(By The Associated Press)

The nation's accidental deaths for the Fourth of July holiday period reached 205 today.

Despite wartime restrictions and appeals for reduced travel, at least 88 persons died in traffic mishaps —more than from any other cause. Drownings took 54 lives and miscellaneous accidents claimed 63.

Illinois led all states with 20 deaths. California was second with 17, of which 11 were attributed to traffic.

Last year's toll for the holiday weekend was 298.

Holiday deaths over the weekend in Texas today stood at three.

Bill Raising Pay Of Glider Units Signed

WASHINGTON, July 3. (AP) — Members of Army and Navy glider units won a fifty per cent pay increase today, placing them on an equal pay basis with paratroopers and flight units of the air services.

President Roosevelt signed a bill which grants increases not to exceed $50 monthly for enlisted men or $100 monthly for officers, warrant officers, and nurses assigned to regular glider flights.

Both houses of Congress passed the bill without debate during the last hours before its summer recess.

New Jump In Pacific Seen

Neomfoor Island, Only 800 Miles From Philippines, Is Dealt Three-Ply Blow

By J. B. KRUEGER
Associated Press War Editor

General MacArthur's sector of the Pacific war stirred to new life and significance today with a three-ply blow against Noemfoor island, possibly indicative of a New Allied jump toward the Philippines.

While the still-undecided battles for Saipan and Hengyang mounted in bitterness, the 15-by-12-mile island lying in New Guinea's Geelvink bay caught two weekend bombings and a P-T boat shelling.

MacArthur's headquarters reported the second raid brought 150 aircraft with a 230-ton bomb load over Noemfoor's three airdromes Saturday. The unusual weight of the attack suggested MacArthur could be preparing to leap 50 miles from Biak island to Noemfoor. Or he could be clearing the way for a jump farther west to New Guinea's northwest tip. Noemfoor is 800 miles from the Philippines, 600 from Palau.

JAPS BEYOND HENGYANG

CHUNGKING, July 3 (AP) — Japanese troops which by-passed the encircled rail junction of Hengyang have thrust a spearhead 40 miles below the city in their drive to capture the entire Canton-Hankow railway route, the Chinese high command indicated tonight.

This was accomplished by a sudden thrust at Leiyang, 34 miles south of Hengyang, where a flanking movement cut the railway, and a subsequent smash more than ten miles below the city.

Jap Pocket Narrowed

Elements of two Marine and one infantry division narrowed to approximately 25 square miles the pocket into which Japanese on Saipan are being pushed. The Americans advanced from 500 yards to a mile along the front. On the east coast they were five and a half miles from the island's northern tip, which may become Japanese Bataan. The bitter fighting in the forests and cave-pocked mountains already has cost the Japanese at least 6,015 killed and much cached war material.

The town of Garapan, scene of hard street fighting, came under heavy fire from artillery, naval guns and mortars. One correspondent pictured it as a mass of flame.

The Americans apparently were ready to wipe it off the map to get at the Japanese who had made it a fortress.

Chinese Cling To Hengyang

Hengyang, afire and shuddering under the bombings of two enemy airforces, remained partially in Chinese hands. The key Hunan railroad city, vital to Japan's drive to cleave China along the Hankow-Canton rail line, virtually was cut off from aid, Chungking reports indicated.

A Japanese force apparently swept around the city to Leiyang, 34 airline miles southeast, while other forces farther south worked up from Canton in multiple drives. The objective was complete control of the railroad from Canton 1,000 miles north to Peiping. Firmly held, that line would seal off eastern China from Allied use.

In Burma, Japanese attempting thrust at Allied-held Myitkyina airfield were wiped out by American forces.

Texan Held By FBI On Fugitive Order

SHREVEPORT, La., July 3. (AP) —Assistant U. S. District Attorney John A. Patin said yesterday that Hillary Mayen, 57 year-old Texan arrested here last Wednesday by FBI agents on a fugitive order from Dallas, where he is under indictment on charges of violation of the national stolen properties act, is wanted by the U. S. district attorney's office in New York City in a mail fraud charge involving $2,000,000.

Mayen has waived his rights to a removal hearing and agreed to return to Dallas to face trial on a charge that he and five others fleeced Mrs. D. B. Flagg, Sioux City, Ia., widow out of $62,500 during a transaction involving a proposal to purchase her small Rio Grande valley citrus farm.

NORMAN H. DAVIS

Norman Davis Dies Sunday

ALEXANDRIA, Va., July 3 (AP) —Funeral services will be held Wednesday for Norman H. Davis, chairman of the American Red Cross.

Davis, a native of Tennessee who became a millionaire banker in Cuba by the time he was 35, and later was an American "ambassador at large" in efforts for disarmament and peace, died of a cerebral hemorrhage early yesterday at Hot Springs, Va.

He had gone to the resort to rest from heavy duties connected with the war-expansion of the Red Cross. He would have been 66 next month.

Held Diplomatic Posts

Davis had headed the Red Cross since 1938. Previously he held various diplomatic posts under Presidents Wilson, Hoover and Roosevelt. In 1919, President Wilson appointed him assistant secretary of the treasury, and later undersecretary of state.

In 1931, he became a member of the League of Nations financial commission and subsequently headed the American delegations to the world disarmament conference, and the London naval conferences of 1935 and 1936.

Nelson Dean Jay, of Elmwood, Ill., who has served as a special volunteer assistant to Davis, will assume temporarily the duties of Red Cross chairman.

Davis is survived by eight children. His wife died several years ago.

Ancient Italian City Of Siena Is Occupied

Citizens Stage Big Demonstration For Allied Liberators

(By The Associated Press)

ROME, July 3 — French troops and American artillery and tank forces occupied the medieval metropolis of Siena 31 miles below Florence today after more than a week of heavy fighting through tough German defenses.

The occupation touched off a wild demonstration by the population of 50,000 which cheered and applauded and paraded its famous silk flags for the first time in four years in a belated impromptu celebration of the ancient "palio delle contrade."

The city, whose art treasures are rivalled only by those of Florence, was virtually untouched by war damage except for a few small bombs dropped in the last several nights and demolitions of public utilities carried out by the Germans.

Fifth, Eighth Armies Gain

Fall of the city coincided with a rapid advance by the Eighth army west of Lake Trasimeno in the center and gains up the Adriatic coast which brought the fall of Osimo only nine miles from Ancona.

A few hours earlier Americans on the Italian west coast crushed German resistance at Cecina, after the most vicious fighting since the fall of Rome.

"Exceptionally heavy street fighting occurred which caused us, as well as the enemy, considerable casualties, and we lost a number of armored vehicles in the engagement," an Allied spokesman said.

Nazi Stand Thwarted

German prisoners reported they were ordered to hold Cecina at all costs, and there were indications the Germans intended to make the Cecina river some sort of defense line, but they were thwarted when the Americans forged across the stream on a wide front.

The enemy was reported throwing more reinforcements into the fighting, with elements of ten divisions facing the Fifth army. Some of these were remnants of forces shattered by devastating losses in manpower and equipment earlier in the campaign.

The Allied command announced the capture of an order dated June 21 and signed by Gen. Lemensen, as commander of the German 14th army. An official spokesman said "it appears that Col. Gen. Von Mackensen has been removed from the command of the 14th army, which is not unreasonable, in view of the heavy defeat inflicted on him in which his army was practically destroyed."

Output Of Military Aircraft Declines

WASHINGTON, July 3. (AP) — Production of military aircraft dropped to 8,049 warplanes in June, the lowest record since last September, Charles E. Wilson, executive vice-chairman of the War Production board, reported today.

The June tally, 853 planes short of May output, was explained by Wilson at a press conference as being due to a short work month and the "failure to meet schedules on the part of three companies producing smaller types of planes," caused by difficulties with certain parts.

Production in terms of weight enjoyed by the increasing output of heavy bombers and superbombers, was about 100,000,000 pounds, only 1,500,000 pounds short of the May total.

"One of our B-29 Superfortress plants exceeded its production schedule and the others were just about on schedule," Wilson said. Asked whether performance of the big Japan-bombing plane had proved satisfactory, the WPB chief commented, "satisfactory to every body but the Japs."

Negro Servicemen Charged After Fight

BOSTON, July 3 (AP)—A savage street melee that kept Boston's negro district in a turmoil for three hours had its aftermath in court today with the arraignment of 29 negro soldiers and sailors.

Eight of the servicemen were charged with carrying knives, and the others with disorderly conduct at a court hearing scheduled for later in the day.

Police said more than 200 servicemen were involved in the melee and that 40 patrolmen, 20 detectives from headquarters and military police were called out to halt the disturbance.

The battle began, police said, when Patrolman John P. Heffernan ordered a group of 12 servicemen to move from a doorway in the Ruggles and Washington street section, a district in which negro residents predominate.

SPAAF Open House To Feature Local Observance Of Fourth

Another opportunity to inspect South Plains Army Air field — the nation's only remaining advanced glider pilot training center — will feature Lubbock's observance of the Fourth of July Tuesday.

Opportunities remaining for such an inspection probably will be few, at most. Any such opportunity might be the last one actually to see this one remaining field of its kind in actual wartime operation.

The open house has been approved by Col. James A. DeMarco, commanding officer of SPAAF, as an appreciation for the close cooperation that residents of Lubbock and South Plains have given the post. Everyone is invited.

Two-Hour Program Set

Arrangements are in charge of Majors Chester A. Smith, Richard R. Shoop and James S. Binder. Visitors will be admitted at any time after 8 a. m., but the two-hour program is not scheduled to start until 9:30 a. m. Military police will be on duty along the highways to direct traffic toward the proper entrances to the field.

Reds By-Pass Minsk; Escape Lines Cut For Routed Nazi Troops

Enemy Wall In Front Of Baltic Nations Feeling Pressure Of Soviet Onslaught; Nazi Troops Are Dying By Thousands

BY EDDY GILMORE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, July 3. — Soviet tanks and cavalry struck within 10 miles of Minsk today, and another column carving deep beyond that city hammered within 65 miles of Wilno, which is only 100 miles from East Prussia.

Pounding at the front gates of Minsk, Red army men captured Sloboda, 12½ miles to the northeast, and then pushed within 10 miles of the White Russian capital.

But by-passing columns already were sweeping around the city on the northwest and southwest, cutting the Germans' escape railways to Wilno and to Brest-Litovsk.

Polish City Threatened

The rush on the northwest posed a threat to Wilno, former Polish city just 15 miles from the old Lithuanian border. This drive captured Wilejka, 65 miles due east of Wilno, and 46 miles northwest of Minsk.

The wall erected by the Nazis in front of the Baltic republics and Poland began to feel the pressure of the advancing Red army as German forces reeled backward in White Russia in a retreat which Russian field dispatches described as a wholesale rout.

REDS TAKE MINSK

LONDON, July 3 (AP)—Minsk has been taken by storm, Moscow announced tonight.

By no stretch of the imagination, the Soviet correspondent said, can the collapse of German resistance be called a "planned retreat" or even a systematic withdrawal.

Heavier Fighting Reported

Although the onrush of the Red army has by-passed Minsk and cut it off from all direct air or escape except by air and one small dirt road leading westward to Grodno, unusually heavy fighting was reported in the broad half-moon of steel the Russians have thrown about the city.

Pravda said all German counterattacks in this area had proved futile, and said the Nazis were dying by the thousands.

Immediately east of Minsk Gen. Ivan Chernaikovsky's Third army cavalry and tanks were waging a savage battle down the Warshaw-Moscow highway—Napoleon's old road of disaster—and last reports had Russian tanks pressing on about 20 miles from the city in this quarter.

Rail Line Severed

Across the border in old Poland one Red army column took Krasnoe, 30 miles northwest of Minsk, cutting the railway from Minsk northwest to Wilno. Another severed the rail line running to Brest-Litovsk at Stolpce, Poland, 45 miles northeast of the railway junction of Baranowicze.

Just as fascinating as the Red army's whirlwind offensive was

NAZI GENERALS KILLED

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, July 3—Three more German generals have met sudden death in the battle for White Russia, the Nazi communique said today, raising to 19 the number of general officers killed or captured in less than a month.

The calamitous mortality rate in the enemy command dramatically highlighted the hopeless German manpower situation projected by the outbreak of three-front warfare in the "Black June" for Germany, to say nothing of a fourth front in the air and a fifth front in occupied countries where patriots have become increasingly active.

By official Allied estimates, German casualties since the inception of the three-front offensive beginning with Italy have reached around 294,000 to date. The Russians have announced the death or capture of 219,000. German casualties in Normandy have been estimated at 75,000 and those in Italy were set at 80,000 to 100,000 about ten days ago.

The German communique told of the deaths of Artillery Generals Hoffer and Martinek and of Lt. Gen. Scheuermann. Thus from June 6, no less than 11 enemy generals have been killed and eight captured.

U. S. Spends 90 Billion On War

Total 15 Billion Over Last Year

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, July 3.—The nation spent nearly $90,000,000,000 for war in the fiscal year ended last Saturday, the Treasury reported today.

War spending by the Treasury, the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and RFC subsidiaries increased about $15,000,000,000 over the preceding year. These expenditures, plus interest on the war debt, accounted for 95 per cent of total expenditures during the year.

Expenditures for war purposes increased all along the line. Some of these outlays, compared with the previous year: War department, $49,301,807,558 and $42,317,469,810; Navy department, $26,537,633,877 and $20,888,349,025; Maritime commission, $3,811,704,050 and $2,775,752,113; RFC and subsidiaries, $2,681,633,923 and $2,442,248,130.

The Treasury ended the fiscal year with a deficit of $49,594,587,895.77. This brought the total public debt, including guaranteed obligations, to $202,625,456,521.98.

Receipts, Spending Unprecedented

The Treasury's daily statement for June 30, the end of the fiscal year, showed government receipts and expenditures reached unprecedented peaks.

Receipts for the year, including an appropriation to the federal old-age trust fund, totalled $45,408,442,082, compared with $23,384,645,502.54 in the preceding

GOP Governors To Hold Parley

ALBANY, N. Y., July 3 (AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey indicated today he may travel within the next month to a conference with other Republican governors on presidential campaign plans.

Avoiding comment on national issues, the GOP nominee told a news conference he doubted that he would make any speeches soon.

He said, however, that he had discussed the possibility of a meeting with the other 25 Republican governors, including Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, the vice presidential nominee.

No Definite Plans Made

Dewey said no definite plans for such a meeting had been made but that he talked it over informally with Gov. Earl Warren of California after Dewey's nomination at the Chicago Republican convention last week.

Personally, Dewey said, he would like to stay in Albany for the next two months, spending weekends at his farm near Pawling. He added, however, that "I may have to travel some in the next month.

Republican campaign headquarters will be opened Wednesday in the Roosevelt hotel in New York City, Dewey disclosed, adding that it was the "Theodore Roosevelt hotel."

Dewey said his weekends at Pawling would be devoted largely to study and to writing speeches. He had no plans, he said, to receive political visitors there.

The nominee declined to comment on questions dealing with the possibility of eliminating for-

Wallace May Find Rumblings Of Opposition On Return Home

WASHINGTON, July 3. (AP) — Vice President Wallace's return from China will allow him about two weeks to put in on renomination work to offset suggestions from some that the Democrats choose another man.

Wallace left for home from Lanchow, China, yesterday, following completion of a mission for President Roosevelt.

The vice president will find that, with general agreement on Mr. Roosevelt as a fourth term candidate and the selection of a keynoted and chairman, most of the major preliminaries for the July 19 convention at Chicago are out of the way.

A week-end development was a statement by Sen. Andrews (D-Fla) that "there is considerable demand for an outstanding southern man as Mr. Roosevelt's running mate."

Yanks Advance Two Miles In Savage Attack

Sudden Assault Follows Heavy Artillery Barrage

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Allied Expeditionary Force, July 3. — The American First army struck south along a 40-mile front on Cherbourg peninsula today, smashing forward up to 2½ miles in the opening hours of a savage attack.

Supreme headquarters said the doughboy offensive opened at dawn from St. Lo 'Ourville east to the Carentan area, and then south to St. Lo, road junction near the center of the Normandy front.

In one advance of 2½ miles, the Americans captured St. Jores, eight miles southeast of St. [illegible] veur le Vocomte.

Nazis Given No Rest

The sudden American attack—busting forward after a thunderous artillery barrage — followed quickly the mop-up of Cherbourg and gave the Germans no rest. The speed with which Lt.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley turned his First army about to move south surprised many military men.

The attack took the form of a giant squeeze from all sides to capture all of the Cherbourg peninsula down toward Granville, 30 miles southwest of St. Lo.

On the powerfully held British sector, some 25 miles east of St. Lo, Tommies widened their Odon river bridgehead by occupying Fontaine-Etoupefour, three miles southwest of Caen.

The doughboys were fighting through rain and mud-bogged French battlefields.

Followed Local Advances

The assault opened after local advances which supreme headquarters said had won favorable "jump-off" positions south of St. Lo D'Ourville. The doughboys also had pressed toward La Haye de Puits, six miles southeast of St. Lo D'Ourville.

The American infantrymen were supported by heavy artillery including some of the most powerful guns yet used in the French campaign, but rain and cloudy skies hampered Allied aerial aid.

Even as this assault thrust forward on the Allied right flank, other Americans maintained pressure against the big road town of St. Lo toward the center of the Normandy front, and the British held firm southwest of Caen on the eastern flank. There were indications that Field Marshal Rommel was regrouping his forces there—numbering 11 divisions—after being beaten back in 25 thrusts against the British wedge across the Odon river.

A new offensive came after Lt.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley, commanding the American First army in Normandy, hailed the Cherbourg victory as "an indication to the enemy as to what he can expect from now on to the end."

German salients thrusting into American lines near St. Lo D'Ourville were wiped out, and the Americans advanced short distances toward La Haye du Puits, rail and highway junction, seizing high ground which was described by supreme headquarters as probably "good jump-off spots" for an eventual attack toward the south.

Increases On Textile Goods To Be Given

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP) — The Office of Price administration promised today to inform consumers promptly how much more they can expect to pay for shirts, dresses, sheets, pillow cases, etc., under price advances authorized for cotton textile mills.

About one third of all cotton fabric output will command higher prices at the mill, said OPA Administrator Chester Bowles. These include fabrics widely used for moderately priced house dresses, men's shirts and shorts, work clothes and kint cotton underwear.

Bowles said he does not expect that "the net effect upon the cost of living would be substantial."

"Some of the new increases will undoubtedly have to be passed to the consumers," he said. "It is believed, however, that others can be absorbed in whole or in part at intermediate stages of production and distribution. Final decisions upon these questions will be announced promptly."

OPA officials said today their figures still were incomplete but they hoped less than half of the boost would have to be passed through retail sales.

Demo Campaign

has announced plans for meetings of southern delegates July 17-18 in Chicago to discuss their demands.

RACIAL ISSUES MAY FOMENT STRIFE AMONG DEMOS

WASHINGTON, July 3. (U.P.) — Prominent Democratic senators said today the racial equality planks in the Republican platform were put there "deliberately to embarrass the Democrats" and agreed that the issues may foment serious strife at the Democratic convention.

Sen. Dennis Chavez, (D., N. M.), a leader in the unsuccessful Senate fight for a permanent Fair Employment Practices committee, said he would seek to write an FEPC plank into the Democratic platform. The administration's espousal of the FEPC and its support of anti-poll tax and anti-lynching legislation have been major factors in the anti-Roosevelt revolt in some southern states.

"GOP Beat Us To Punch"

Referring to the Republican stand against racial discrimination and poll taxes and its support of anti-lynch laws, Chavez said:

"The Republicans beat us to the punch. I think they have some strong minority planks. I hope the Democrats have some just as good or better."

"Purely mischievous" was the way Sen. Edwin C. Johnson, anti-fourth term Colorado Democrat, described the Republican platform.

"They deliberately added a permanent FEPC to their platform to embarrass the Democrats," he said. "The Republicans have learned a lot since 1932. I hope the Democrats have not forgotten what they knew in 1932."

Revolt Threatened

Texas, South Carolina and Mississippi Democratic organizations have threatened to choose their own presidential slate in the electoral college if the convention adopts a racial equality platform.

The Democrats, under pressure from Chavez and his colleagues, may take a stand on the question since the Republicans already are on record. If they do, a party-shaking breach by the southerners is not improbable.

Chavez said he also wants a plank advocating continuation of the good neighbor policy in Latin America. He believes that solid Pan-American relationships and a permanent FEPC go hand in hand and are not "partisan, but national policies."

dogne region of Southwestern France.

After two days of fighting, the Nazis were said to have recaptured Bergerac and advanced to St. Cyprien. The retreating Maquis were reported to have transferred their activities 50 miles south of Bergerac.

In Denmark, Stockholm dispatches said, the Germans last night broadcast an appeal to striking Danish patriots to return to work today. The appeal — apparently an effort to solve the troublesome situation in Copenhagen without further bloodshed — was signed by the leaders of Denmark's five dominant political parties and the trade union chairmen, said the broadcast.

The German also announced that gas, water and electric services cut off in Copenhagen since the start of the strike were expected to resume today, but announced no relaxation in the 10 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew which has been a sore point with the Danes.

Earlier Copenhagen had been reported in a virtual state of siege, with the Nazis threatening the patriots with starvation unless they called off their strike.

Madrid advices, quoting travelers arriving there from Germany, estimated 30,000 of the 50,000 escaped war prisoners reported at large in the Reich were Russians —many of whom had been forced into German military units and who are well-armed.

The fugitives, moving in small groups and trying to work their way out of Germany, were said to be keeping rural areas in constant uneasiness.

News Briefs

Wells, secretary of the Lubbock county Agricultural Conservation association. All farmers are urged to bring in their reports as early as possible. Wells added that the AAA office would remain open Tuesday, July 4, for the convenience of farmers who are unable to come in to town at any other time.

Three hit-run incidents were reported to police this morning and Sunday, and a 27-year-old Lubbock Army Air field private was arrested in connection with one of them and released to military police. His car struck a parked vehicles, officials said. None was injured in any of the collisions. A 28-year-old Hurlwood man was arrested in connection with investigation into his draft status. He was listed by police as a "writer?" Another man was held for investigation after his arrest on suspicion he was AWOL from Camp Barkeley. The sheriff's department held a 23-year-old Mexican for investigation in to informal charges of liquor law violation.

Mrs. John B. Slaughter, sr., member of a prominent ranch family of Post, was admitted to the West Texas hospital about 1 o'clock this afternoon for an injury received when she fell while walking in her yard. The attending physician could not be contacted early this afternoon but it is understood that she has a fractured shoulder.

James Insulating company at 1920 Nineteenth street, informed police today of the theft of an electric drill and 50 feet of electric cable.

Texas Production Tax On Oil Hits New Peak

AUSTIN, July 3 (U.P.) — Gross production tax on Texas crude oil during May soared to $3,065,897, the highest amount collected in a single month in the state's history, Comptroller George Sheppard said today.

The tax was paid on production of 62,050,991 barrels of oil, on which there was an additional pipeline tax aggregating $116,371. May production was 34 per cent greater than for May, 1943.

The gross production tax from June, 1943, through May amounted to $32,823,897, which is about $6,000,000 a year more than was paid prior to outbreak of the war, Sheppard said.

Total oil production on which taxes were paid was 664,767,938, and the pipeline tax was $1,243,655.

Hitler On Last Mile, With Knees Shaking

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

When you step back from close analysis of every move in our global war and view it broadly —as I've been doing for the past fortnight—it can't fail to inspire profound confidence that Allied affairs prosper exceedingly.

One may in answer to the common query of whether the European conflict is nearing its end, say that Herr Hitler is indeed on his last mile, and his knees are knocking. However, we must follow this with the caution that the greatest tragedy which could come out of this war would be for the Allied home fronts to slacken in their efforts at this crucial moment on the theory that the battle is won.

Full Knockout Necessary

It won't be won until the fuehrer is out, cold, and the amount of striking power which we must expend to achieve this expeditiously will far exceed anything we've used thus far. The greater and the faster the action, the greater the consumption of materiel. And after Hitler comes Tojo.

The Nazi dictator's weakness has become more apparent now that we have him battling on three land fronts—east, south and west. He hasn't either the reserves in manpower or the equipment with which to meet the onslaught but is depending, as he said at the week-end, on "national fanaticism" to pull him through. And no wonder, for history has recorded nothing to equal the magnitude of either the great Russian offensive or the Allied amphibious invasion of Normandy. Each of these operations is supreme in its class.

Three weeks ago Stalin in a tribute to the assault on western Europe declared that "the history of war does not know any such undertaking so broad in conception, so grandiose in scale and so masterly in execution." Since then he himself has inaugurated a land offensive of such power that much the same thing can be said of it. The operations are different but each represents the peak of military strength.

Mrs. Brownell Is Graduate Of TSCW

GALVESTON, July 3. (AP)—Mrs. Herbert Brownell, jr., wife of the man who will manage the presidential campaign of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, is a Texas girl, just as Mrs Thomas E. Dewey is.

In 1934 she moved to New York and married the young lawyer who became associated with the political career of Gov. Dewey. Her father, Thomas K. McCarter, formerly was engineer of a Galveston cotton compress.

IN CONGRESS
July 4, 1776

THE unanimous Declaration of the thirteen United States of America.

When in the Course of human events it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bands which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the Laws of Nature and of Nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.—We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable Rights, that among these are Life, Liberty and the pursuit of Happiness.—That to secure these rights, Governments are instituted among Men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.—That whenever any Form of Government becomes destructive of these ends, it is the Right of the People to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new Government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their Safety and Happiness. Prudence, indeed, will dictate that Governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shewn that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed.

But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same Object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute Despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such Government, and to provide new Guards for their future security.—Such has been the patient sufferance of these Colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former Systems of Government.

The history of the present King of Great Britain is a history of repeated injuries and usurpations, all having in direct object the establishment of an absolute Tyranny over these States. To prove this, let Facts be submitted to a candid world.

HE has refused his Assent to Laws, the most wholesome and necessary for the public good.—He has forbidden his Governors to pass Laws of immediate and pressing importance, unless suspended in their operation til his Assent should be obtained; and when so suspended, he has utterly neglected to attend to them.—He has refused to pass other Laws for the accommodation of large districts of people, unless those people would relinquish the right of Representation in the Legislature, a right inestimable to them and formidable to tyrants only.—He has called together legislative bodies at places unusual, uncomfortable, and distant from the depository of their Public Records, for the sole purpose of fatiguing them into compliance with his measures.—He has dissolved Representative Houses repeatedly, for opposing with manly firmness his invasions on the rights of the people.—He has refused for a long time, after such dissolutions, to cause others to be elected; whereby the Legislative Powers, incapable of Annihilation, have returned to the People at large for their exercise; the State remaining in the mean time exposed to all the dangers of invasion from without, and convulsions within.—He has endeavoured to prevent the population of these States; for that purpose obstructing the Laws for Naturalization of Foreigners; refusing to pass others to encourage their migrations hither, and raising the conditions of new Appropriations of Lands.—He has obstructed the Administration of Justice, by refusing his Assent to Laws for establishing Judiciary Powers.—He has made Judges dependent on his Will alone, for the tenure of their offices, and the amount and payment of their salaries.—He has erected a multitude of New Offices, and sent hither swarms of Officers to harass our people, and eat out their substance. He has kept among us, in times of peace, Standing Armies without the Consent of our legislatures.—He has affected to render the Military independent of and superior to the Civil Power.—He has combined with others to subject us to a jurisdiction foreign to our constitution, and unacknowledged by our laws; giving his Assent to their Acts of pretended Legislation.—For quartering large bodies of armed troops among us:—For protecting them, by a mock Trial, from punishment for any Murders which they should commit on the Inhabitants of these States:—For cutting off our Trade with all parts of the world:—For imposing Taxes on us without our Consent:—For depriving us in many cases, of the benefits of Trial by Jury:—For transporting us beyond Seas to be tried for pretended offences:—For abolishing the free System of English Laws in a neighbouring Province, establishing therein an Arbitrary government, and enlarging its Boundaries so as to render it at once an example and fit instrument for introducing the same absolute rule into these Colonies:—For taking away our Charters, abolishing our most valuable Laws and altering fundamentally the Forms of our Governments:—For suspending our own Legislatures, and declaring themselves invested with power to legislate for us in all cases whatsoever.—He has abdicated Government here, by declaring us out of his Protection and waging War against us.—He has plundered our seas, ravaged our Coasts, burnt our towns, and destroyed the lives of our people.—He is at this time transporting large Armies of foreign Mercenaries to compleat the works of death, desolation and tyranny, already begun with circumstances of Cruelty & Perfidy scarcely paralleled in the most barbarous ages, and totally unworthy the Head of a civilized nation.—He has constrained our Fellow Citizens taken Captive on the high Seas to bear Arms against their Country, to become the executioners of their friends and Brethren, or to fall themselves by their Hands.—He has excited domestic insurrections amongst us, and has endeavoured to bring on the inhabitants of our frontiers the merciless Indian Savages, whose known rule of warfare, is an undistinguished destruction of all ages, sexes and conditions.

In every stage of these Oppressions We have Petitioned for Redress in the most humble terms: Our repeated Petitions have been answered only by repeated injury. A Prince, whose character is thus marked by every act which may define a Tyrant, is unfit to be the ruler of a free people. Nor have We been wanting in attentions to our British brethren. We have warned them from time to time of attempts by their legislature to extend an unwarrantable jurisdiction over us. We have reminded them of the circumstances of our emigration and settlement here. We have appealed to their native justice and magnanimity, and we have conjured them by the ties of our common kindred to disavow these usurpations, which would inevitably interrupt our connections and correspondence. They too have been deaf to the voice of justice and of consanguinity. We must, therefore, acquiesce in the necessity, which denounces our Separation, and hold them, as we hold the rest of mankind, Enemies in War, in Peace Friends.—

WE, Therefore, the Representatives of the United States of America, in General Congress, Assembled, appealing to the Supreme Judge of the world for the rectitude of our intentions, do, in the Name, and by Authority of the good People of these Colonies, solemnly publish and declare, That these United Colonies are, and of Right ought to be Free and Independent States; that they are Absolved from all Allegiance to the British Crown, and that all political connection between them and the State of Great Britain, is and ought to be totally dissolved; and that as Free and Independent States, they have full Power to levy War, conclude Peace, contract Alliances, establish Commerce, and to do all other Acts and Things which Independent States may of right do.—And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes and our sacred Honor.

BY RUTH MILLETT

"MANY soldiers made a GI line for Roman brothels." So reported a magazine in a cozy little behind-the-scenes account of American soldiers in Rome.

MILLETT

Is it necessary to paint such pictures for American women, mothers, wives, and sweethearts who are waiting, working, and praying for their men's return? Isn't the morale of American women important enough to make such reporting vicious, as well as in bad taste?

Everything possible is being done for the morale of fighting men. It is fully recognized that their morale would hit rock bottom if they were made to doubt the loyalty of their women back home.

And yet the feelings of American women are run over rough shod. Of course they aren't told, "This is your son, your husband, or the man you are waiting to marry."

They don't need to be told that. The generalized picture is enough to make them doubt, when they need to feel secure. They need the feeling of security as much as the men in the foxholes need it.

AGONIZING

WHAT possible good can come of sending such reports to the folks back home? Isn't it essentially as vicious as writing a man overseas that many of the wives and sweethearts of service men are being unfaithful to them?

Morality has had a kick in the teeth at home and abroad. But why play it up to the hurt of the people who are separated, the people to whom a little doubt is a gnawing, agonizing thing?

Such reporting isn't necessary—or even smart.

It isn't easy to be "easy going" and let folks walk all over you.

Today's Journal Editorial

NOT EVEN SUPPORTED BY THEIR MASTERS

"Vichy Minister Assassinated,' read a headline in The Evening Journal the other day. It captioned the story reporting that Philippe Henriot, Vichy minister of information and propaganda, had been brought to the end of his treasonable trail, presumably by French patriots. Few will mourn the traitor, nor will they question the justice of his fate, though they might argue that it would have been better if less violent means could have been employed in dealing with his case.

However, regardless of that, the virtually certain probability is that many headlines similar to the one above are going to be seen during the next few months. They are likely to originate from events not alone in France, but from all the nations which have been ravaged by the Nazis and their Quislings and their Henriots.

Outraged peoples simply are not going to wait for wheels of justice to grind out the proper penalties—the only proper penalties—for those of their own blood who joined their enemies for a price. Wherever and whenever such despicable vermin can be made to answer for their crimes, the world may be sure that they will answer to exactly the same purpose as Henriot—with their lives.

A fate more hopeless than that awaiting such people would be impossible to imagine. Nowhere upon earth does sanctuary await them. In Germany, they could find nothing better than contempt and perhaps a pretense of temporary protection. If they should flee to neutral countries and if official haven should be offered there, they may be sure that avengers will pursue them and eventually will bring them to justice. If they remain among the people they have betrayed, they have constantly before them the Henriot fate.

Without an exception, they are the condemned who are wholly without the hope of pardon or reprieve. And as they await their fate, no voice is raised to beg mercy for them — not even the voice of the "super-men" for whom they betrayed their countries and their people.

Pearson Says Southern Revolt Dangerous Believes South Might Lose Strength Sees Abolition Of Electoral College

WASHINGTON, July 3.—Something has suddenly dawned on Southern anti-Roosevelt Democrats. It was beginning to dawn on them before the Republicans left Capitol Hill for Chicago. And judging from anti-Roosevelt Democrats there, it has now hit them with the conclusive smack of a wet blanket.

What they have suddenly realized is that their Electoral College idea is likely to do to the South what all the Senate filibusters over the poll tax never could do — namely, take away 13 per cent of the South's political power, unless the vote is given to the negro.

PEARSON

What most people don't realize — and anti-Roosevelt leaders are awakening to it —is that, in the Electoral College, the South is able to vote its negro population even though the negroes themselves don't vote.

In other words, the 12 Southern states now have 25.2 per cent of the nation's vote in the Electoral College. But, since negroes don't vote, those same states have only 12 per cent of the popular vote of the nation. Thus, in the last election, the 12 Southern states cast 135 votes in the Electoral College, which was 25.2 per cent of the total. But in the popular vote, they cast only 5,642,000 out of 49,766,000, which was only 12 per cent of the total.

So by changing the age-old practice of the Electoral College following the popular vote, Southern anti-Roosevelt leaders are certain to start a move to abolish the Electoral College with the privileged voting position it gives the South.

SOUTH'S GAIN

PRIOR to the Civil war, the Constitution recognized the fact that negroes did not vote in the South by giving the Southern states a smaller proportional vote in the Electoral College. Since the Civil war, however, the South has got 100 per cent credit for its negro population in the Electoral College, even though they don't vote.

This added political strength which the South has enjoyed ever since the Civil war would evaporate if the Electoral College were abolished. And politicos of both parties agree that its abolition is just as sure as tomorrow if electors refuse to obey the mandate of the people.

NOTE—How the South benefits from the Electoral College is illustrated by the following: In South Carolina, only 100,000 people vote, or one person out of 18. But it has 8 votes in the Electoral College. Texas, with a popular vote of 1,041,000 in 1940, had 23 votes in the College. Meanwhile, California, voting three times as many people — or 3,269,000—had less electoral votes than Texas, or 22. And New York, with six times the popular vote of Texas, or 6,302,000, had only twice as many electoral votes, or 47.

DEWEY STRATAGEM

DEWEY'S friends aren't shouting it from the housetops, but he had a neat stratagem up his sleeve when he ran for governor of New York, and he may use it again during his campaign for President.

It all hinged around smart, shrewd publicity expert Edward L. Bernays, who has handled public relations for some of the biggest firms in New York. The Bernays agency made a thorough study and canvass of New York state, preparing a card-index file of every Republican leader who controlled more than a teaspoonful of votes. What Bernays did was to take old Republican lists and check them over, bringing them up to date, analyzing the importance of each leader.

Each card contained not only first names, but nicknames, pet hobbies, political and financial histories, and every other fact which a candidate needed to know. Thus, Dewey was able to tell, from a glance at a card, precisely whom he was talking to when he stumped the state. He was able to ask political leaders about their families, their business, etc., in typical Jim Farley manner.

Bernays also did an intensive research job on the political writings of about 500 key non-political civic leaders around the state, and dug up, from what they had said, passages parallel to Dewey's talks. Then letters were sent these leaders showing how Dewey's and their minds were running in the same direction.

The Bernays survey is reputed to have cost Dewey's friends $50,000, but it was worth it.

NOTE — Word of the Bernays survey for Dewey leaked when Bernays approached the Democrats recently to suggest that he do a similar job for them. . . . Best U. S. memories for names, dates, and pla s are rated as follows: Jim Farley, Mrs. Henry Wallace, Erwin Holt, retired cotton manufacturer of Burlington, N. C., and Nat Howard, editor of the Cleveland News, formerly U. S. press censor.

CONVENTION CHAFF

OUTSTANDING press conference at Chicago was that of Connecticut's glamorous Congresswoman Clare Luce. She had all the answers. Asked a newsman: "What about the Democratic charge of swapping a horse in midstream for a Shetland pony?" . . . "I'd swap a horse for an elephant any time," shot back Mrs. Luce. "Especially in place of a donkey." . . . After talking about women in politics, Mrs. Luce went on to another subject. Piped up a newsman: "Let's get back to the women." Replied Clare: "The men always do."

Most fascinating hat at Chicago: That of Mrs. Bertha Baur, national committeewoman from Illinois. It featured six white elephants in feathers. Commented a lady reporter: "Doesn't she know that white elephants are a token of absolute uselessness?" . . . Paulina Longworth, daughter of Alice Roosevelt Longworth and the late Speaker, covered the convention for the New York Times. . . . Mayor Ed Kelly, staunch Rooseveltian, invaded GOP stamping ground just once. He dropped in at the Stevens hotel to arrange for some huge blown-up photographs of FDR to be used July 19. . . . Dewey headquarters had its own telephone switchboard. Apparently the Dewey boys, with considerable experience in the wire-tapping business, decided not to take chances.

Mrs. Warren Austin, gracious wife of the senator from Vermont, came to enjoy the convention found herself answering the phone and making beds. . . . Just before Chicago, 2 negro organizations met in New York, decided they would not support Dewey—for the following reasons: Failure to support cloture during the Senate anti-poll tax debate; failure to support the federal soldiers' ballot; his returning of Andrews to Mississippi to face what negroes feared would be an unfair trial. . . . To get quick service in Chicago hotels, GOP delegates had to use an Irish brogue and talk like Democrats.

Anti-Aircraft Guns Protect Allied Beaches

By ERNIE PYLE
Special Correspondent

NORMANDY, (By Wireless) — One of the most vital responsibilities during these opening weeks of our war on the continent of Europe has been the protection of our unloading beaches and ports.

ERNIE PYLE

For over and through them must pass, without interruption, and in great masses, our buildup of men and material in sufficient masses to roll the Germans clear back out of France.

Nothing must be allowed to interfere with that unloading. Everything we can lay our hands on is thrown into the guarding of those beaches and ports. Allied ground troops police them from the land side. Our two navies protect them from sneak attacks by sea. Our great air supremacy makes daytime air assaults rare and costly.

It is only at night that the Germans have a chance. They do keep pecking away at us with night bombers, but their main success in this so far has been in keeping us awake and making us dig our foxholes deeper.

Ack-Ack On Guard

The job of protecting the beaches at night has been given over to the anti-aircraft artillery, or ack-ack. I read recently that we have here on the beachhead the greatest concentration of anti-aircraft guns ever assembled in an equivalent space. After three solid weeks of being kept awake all night long by the guns, and having to snatch your little sleep in odd moments during the daytime, that is not hard to believe.

Here on the beachhead the falling flak becomes a real menace—one of the few times I've known that to happen in this war. Every night for weeks, pieces of exploded shells have come whizzing to earth within 50 yards of my tent. Once an unexploded ack-ack shell buried itself half a stone's throw from my tent.

A good portion of our army on the beachhead now sleeps all night in foxholes, and some of the troops have swung over to the Anzio beachhead custom of building dugouts in order to be safe from falling flax.

FOR a long time I have intended doing a series about the anti-aircraft gunners. I'm glad I never got around to it before, for here on the Normandy beachhead our ack-ack seems to have reached its peak.

Figures are not permissible, but I can say that right now we have many, many ack-ack soldiers on the beachhead and that by the time everything has arrived the number will be much larger.

And that is speaking only of ack-ack men who do nothing else. In addition there are thousands of gunners attached to divisions and other units who double in brass when planes come over and shoot at anything that passes low.

Our ack-ack is commanded by a general officer, which indicates how important it is. His hundreds of gun batteries even intercept planes before they near the beaches. The gun positions are plotted on a big wall map in his command tent, just as the battle lines are plotted by infantry units. A daily score is kept of the planes shot down—confirmed ones and probables. Just as an example of the effectiveness of our ack-ack, one four-gun battery alone shot down 15 planes in the first two weeks.

Germans Are Undecided

Up to the time this is written the Germans don't seem to have made up their minds exactly what they are trying to do in the air. They wander around all night long, usually in singles but sometimes in numbers, but they don't do a great deal of bombing. Most of them turn away at the first near burst from one of our 90-mm. guns. Our ack-ack men say they think the German pilots are yellow, but having seen the quality of German fighting for nearly two years now that is hard for me to believe.

Often they will drop flares that will light up the whole beach area, and then fail to follow through and bomb by the light of their flares. The ack-ack men say that not more than two out of ten planes that approach the beachhead ever make their bomb runs over our shipping. You are liable to get a bomb anywhere along the coastal area, for many of the Germans apparently just salvo their bombs and hightail home.

IT is indeed a spectacle to watch the anti-aircraft fire when the Germans actually get over the beach area. All the machine guns on the ships lying off the beaches cut loose with their red tracer bullets, and those on shore do too. Their bullets arch in all directions and fuse into a sky-filling pattern. The lines of tracers bend and wave and seem like streams of red water from hoses. The whole thing becomes a gigantic, animated fountain of red in the black sky. And above all this are the split-second golden flashes of big-gun shells as they explode high up toward the stars.

The noise is terrific. Sometimes low clouds catch the crack of these many guns and scramble them all into one gigantic roar which rolls and thunders like the blood-curdling approach of a hurricane.

Your tent walls puff from the concussion of the guns and bombs, and the earth trembles and shakes.

If you're sleeping in a foxhole, little clouds of dirt come rolling down upon you.

When the planes are really close and the guns are pounding out a mania of sound, you put on your steel helmet in bed and sometimes you drop off to sleep with it on and wake up with it on in the morning and feel very foolish.

Tech Band Concert To Be Held In Park

Program for the final concert of Texas Technological college summer school band in Mackenzie state park Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock was announced this morning by D. O. Wiley, director.

Regular concerts have been given on the college campus lawn. The final program by the 75-piece band has been transferred to the park by invitation of the city recreation department.

The scene will be an elevated knoll near the swimming pool adjacent to the west entrance to the park at Third street and Avenue D. It is within short walking distance of the bus stop.

Appropriate to the Fourth of July, the program will feature patriotic and American music. R. A. Dhossche, conductor of San Antonio Technical High school band and instructor of flute in the summer school, will assist Wiley in directing.

The program follows:

March, "Miami"; overture, "Horizon"; march, "Chicago Tribune"; a fantasy, "Memories of Stephen Foster"; trombone quartet, "Two Pairs of Slippers"; selection, "The Legend of Sleepy Hollow"; a medley of old-time favorites; M. L. Lake's arrangement of "Spiritual Rivers"; selection, "Pavane"; a fantasy arrangement of American patriotic airs; and the National Anthem.

A special feature of the program, immediately preceding the fantasy of patriotic airs, will be a demonstration by the baton twirling class.

the apparent collapse of the German armies in White Russia.

With units deserting and fleeing in numerous sectors the Germans reported to be hurrying special storm troop units into battle to guard important communications.

Peace Offer Still Open

Meanwhile it appeared that Russia had not closed the door to a peace offer from the Finns, despite their decision to continue the war with German aid. An international review in Pravda, official Communist party organ, said the Finns had the alternative of continuing the fight and sharing the consequences of "a lost war with Germany, or to ask the Soviet union for peace."

A speech broadcast by Finnish Premier Edwin Linkomies, however, declared it is "Finland's duty not to lay down arms without the consent of Germany."

The Russian communique told of continued Soviet advances on the Karelian front between Lakes Onezhskoe (Onega) and Ladoga, with the capture of Spasskaya-Guba, 35 miles northwest of Petrazovorsk, which fell last week.

ed out with similar local attacks with the same object in mind. This sector is roughly 17 air miles southwest of the British Odon river bridgehead.

Nazi Resistance Mopped Up

The last German resistance on Cap de la Hague was mopped up over the weekend. Between 2,000 and 3,000 more prisoners were taken in the process. An Associated Press dispatch from Cherbourg said the American bag of prisoners had reached 40,000, which would indicate the total since D-day had reached more than 55,000.

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's superiority in artillery in the crew fighting smashed every attempt of the Germans to infiltrate into the Odon river bridgehead. The Nazis made 25 attacks in 72 hours, the latest shortly before dawn yesterday. A barrage from British heavy guns broke it up before it even reached infantry positions.

British patrols expanding the Caen salient found Brettevillette, two miles south of Tassel Brettevillle, unoccupied by the Germans, although heavily mined and booby-trapped.

Rain Hampers Allies

Continual heavy rain greatly handicapped the Allies. Clouds hung tree-high over many areas of the battlefront.

Last night the London radio in a broadcast declared "gigantic Allied landing operations" took place Sunday on the coast behind the British forces while armored vehicles, tanks, troops and ammunition also were landed on the southeastern side of the Cherbourg peninsula.)

The German - controlled Paris radio said the British battleships Nelson, Rodney and Warspite were standing off the coast this morning heaving shells into German positions in the Odon river sector.)

Supreme headquarters disclosed yesterday that Bradley's command is the U. S. First army. This army and the British Second army form the 21st army group in Normandy which Montgomery commands under Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower. Bradley's command is parallel to that of Lt. Gen. M. C. Dempsay, commander of the British Second army.

eign policy as a campaign issue and said he had not studied the effect of severance of relations by this government with Finland.

He turned aside a query as to reasons why Governor Warren declined to enter the contest or the vice presidential nomination before Bricker was chosen.

The Dewey planners have taken a leaf from the book of Wendell L. Willkie's 1940 campaign and reversed it. They believe Willkie started too soon after the nomination, talked himself out long before the election.

In contrast, they want to keep Dewey largely under wraps, not only so that anything he may have to say in the heat of the campaign may have a fresh sound, but to keep out of the record statements which might boomerang in the light of war developments.

To Perfect Organization

In the meantime, however, his strategists hope to perfect an organization reaching down into the precincts. J. Russel Sprague, New York national committeeman, is a great believer in organization work and Herbert Brownell, jr., the new Republican national chairman, sides with him.

It was learned that Dewey's strategists had decided to call upon Republican governors for extensive aid in the presidential campaign.

Dewey and Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, the vice presidential candidate, may meet with the other GOP governors in about a month. Gov. Dwight Griswold of Nebraska disclosed plans for the meeting at the Chicago nomination convention.

CHICAGO REPORT
CHICAGO, July 3 (AP) — A greater volume of hedge selling than at any time in the past two weeks and a marked decline in milling demand resulted in sharply lower prices for wheat futures today.

There was some commission house buying of September wheat but anything that approached a rally encouraged heavy offerings. Weakness at other markets and increased receipts of new wheat at southwestern terminals were principal factors in the decline.

Wheat closed 1¾ to 2¼ lower than Saturday's finish, July $1.55⅝-⅞. Oats were off ½ to ⅝, July 77⅛. Rye was ⅝ to 1⅛ lower, July $1.06-1.06⅛. Barley was unchanged to ½ lower, July $1.23¼.

Cotton Meeting Set July 13-14

COLLEGE STATION, July 3 (AP)—Texas farmers and others connected with the cotton industry will preview at the fifth annual cotton research congress here July 13, and 14, the newest mechanical devices which are expected to reduce costs of production.

The equipment, some of which has never before been shown, will be the feature of an exhibit showing cotton's cycle from seed to finished product. Major Burris C. Jackson of Hillsboro, chairman of the statewide cotton committee, sponsor of the congress, said the equipment will be a deciding factor in cotton recovering its preeminince in world economy and in competing successfully with substitutes after the war.

The program, released today by Director A. B. Conner of the Texas agricultural experiment station, chairman of the program committee, will be keyed to the general theme "how cotton can meet today's challenge."

To Cite Responsibilities

The first and third sessions with Acting Director James D. Prewit of the Texas A. and M. college Extension service, and James R. Gill of the Southland Cotton Oil company, Waxahachie, Tex., presiding, will be devoted to phases of the cotton grower's responsibilities and the economic significance of cottonseed products to the Southwest and the nation.

Four out-of-state speakers will deal with possibilities for reductions in costs of distribution, engineering with relation to modern textile machinery, and different phases of research in uses of cotton. This group includes Dr. John W. Wright, chief research and testing division cotton and fiber branch, War Food administration, Washington; Nathaniel M. Mitchell of Boston, Mass., president of Barnes Textile Associates, Inc.; R. J. Cheatham, Southern Regional Research laboratory, New Orleans; and E. C. Gwaltney of Biddeford, Maine, research director of the Saco-Lowell shops. John Leahy of the Texas research committee, College Station, will preside.

Texas A. and M. college; the University of Texas; Texas Tech; Southern Regional Research laboratory; U. S. Department of Agriculture; the National Cotton council; Cotton Textile institute; Texas Cottonseed Crushers association, and other educational and trade associations will be represented at the exhibit.

Soviet Opens Door To Polish Citizenship

MOSCOW, July 3 (AP) — The Supreme Soviet in a decree has granted inhabitants of the western provinces of White Russia and the Ukraine the right to adopt Polish citizenship if they are serving in the Polish army in Russia or "actively helping the army fight against the German occupants."

Soviet citizens of Polish nationality in other Russian provinces also were given the privilege of seeking Polish citizenship if they meet these requirements. Members of their families would be included:

The new decree stipulated that parents must decide about citizenship of children under 14. Children from 14 to 16 are entitled to make their own choice of citizenship.

At the same time, the council of Polish patriots, in the name of all Poles in the Soviet Union, renounced the London Polish government-in-exile as based on "the illegal constitution of 1935."

The council was recognized by the league of Polish patriots as the agency which will lead formation for a provisional government for Poland truly representing the Polish people, in the league's words.

Bill Boosting Pay Of Infantrymen Signed

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP) — President Roosevlet has signed legislation boosting the pay of expert Army infantrymen.

It gives a $5 monthly increase to foot soldiers not in combat areas and $10 to those in combat areas, provided they meet qualifications set up by the War department. In addition, those qualifying will receive a special medal.

Army officials told the House military committee approximately 75 per cent of Army infantrymen would qualify for the increases.

The legislation does not apply to the Navy or the Marine Corps.

Demos Planning To Outdo Republicans

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP) — The Democratic party, rapidly completing arrangements for its July 19 convention at Chicago, appeared determined today to match—or outdo if it can—the accent on youth and feminine beauty that highlighted the Republican convention last week.

Hoping to out-glamor the blonde splendor of the Republican's congresswoman - playwright, Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, the Democrats have in mind a couple of striking brunettes, on whom they will throw their convention spotlight.

One is Mrs. Helen Gahagan Douglas, former screen star. The winner of a California congressional primary, the statuesque brunette will be a delegate to the convention and is slated to make a major address.

The Democrats also have Mrs. Dorothy Vredenburgh, 28-year-old southern beauty who is now serving as the party's national secretary. She will read announcements from the platform, and if elected convention secretary, may call the state roll.

Mesdames Luce, Douglas and Vredenburgh are all very pleasing to the eye and no one in this capital can name the most glamorous without running the risk of being accused of party bias. But on the question of youth of convention officials and party nominees, the facts are there to speak for themselves.

Jackson Is Demo Chairman

The Democrats announced over the weekend that the permanent chairman for their convention would be the freshman Democratic senator from Indiana, 49-year-old Samuel D. Jackson. The Republicans had a 59-year-old permanent chairman in Rep. Joseph W. Martin, jr., Mass.

The Democrats also hold an advantage in youth in their selection of a keynoter. Their speaker, Gov. Robert Kerr of Oklahoma, is 47 while Gov. Earl Warren of California, the GOP keynoter, is 53.

The Republicans, however, seem to hold an insurmountable lead in their presidential candidates when it comes to youth. Their nominee, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York, is 42. President Roosevelt, who still hasn't said he wouldn't run for a fourth term and is therefore regarded as the Democratic nominee, is 20 years Dewey's senior.

Wallace Older Than Bricker

If Vice President Henry A. Wallace is again Mr. Roosevelt's running mate, the Republicans will be able to point out that their No. 2 man, Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, is, at 50, five years Wallace's junior.

At his first press conference in the role of the Democratic convention's permanent chairman, Jackson told reporters he "presumed" that Mr. Roosevelt would be the Democratic nominee" although you must remember he hasn't given any indication yet."

"Whether or not Mr. Roosevelt is the nominee is entirely in his own lap." Jackson said. "I last talked to the President three weeks ago and I did not discuss politics with him at that time."

He predicted the Democrats would carry the Midwest, including his state of Indiana, regardless of who is the nominee. He said he hoped to gear the Chicago convention to a three-day schedule.

U. S. Engineers Take Over French Bases

CHERBURG, July 3 (AP)—The first German airfields captured by Americans in France were taken over by battalions of aviation engineers today.

One field near Maupertus, six miles east of Cherbourg, was seized by the Fourth division, while another in front of Fort de Querqueville, three miles northwest of the city, was captured by Capt. William Gledhill, Phillipsburg, N. J., engineer officer heading ten men. Gledhill's men took 263 prisoners.

Lt. Col. Charles Ackley, Pittsburgh, Pa., deputy engineering officer of the Ninth air force said the Maupertus site is a good one.

It might have been the field from which fighters rose to shoot down the Lisbon-Britain passenger plane on which Leslie Howard perished last year, Ackley said.

The field was an action center in the defense of the Cherbourg peninsula, and probably was used as a last minute air evacuation point for high officers.

Parked inside the Querqueville fort, which surrendered Tuesday, was a large "tank," made entirely of wood. The treads and rivets were painted on. It had a wooden gun. The "tank" may have been placed there to deceive aerial reconnaissance as to the fort's panzer strength.

Balkan Areas Hit

troops in Normandy meanwhile was held to a minimum.

Bad flying weather which limited Allied air units to 700 sorties over the week-end continued for the third straight day and threatened to reduce support of Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's attacking Americans and Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's Odon salient still further.

The only activity overnight consisted of minor patrols over Normandy.

Many Planes Grounded

All Britain-based planes except heavy bombers and their escort were grounded yesterday, but the Allies were able to fly from their Normandy bases and some 400 sorties were made by fighters and fighter-bombers attacking Orne river bridges and transport behind enemy lines.

Assaults against the bomb launching platforms in the Pas de Calais area yesterday were made first by up to 500 U. S. Flying Fortresses and Liberators, escorted by a small force of Mustang fighters, then by RAF Lancasters under British Spitfire escort.

Despite the attacks, the Germans continued to send the bombs against southern England. Some were downed by RAF fighters and ground guns.

21 Nazis Downed

Allied fighters operating from Normandy bases shot down 21 German planes in combat late yesterday at a cost of three of their own craft, while operating in the battle area.

U. S. Liberator crewmen returning to their Italian bases said the Rakos yards in the northeastern section of Budapest, and the Manfred Weiss yards next to the steelworks along the Danube river, were damaged severely. Also attacked were the Vecses airfield 10 miles southeast of Budapest, a factory making twin-engine Messerschmitts, and the Shell Koolaz refinery, largest oil center in Hungary.

Plants Heavily-Damaged

Great damage was caused to industrial plants at Gyor, midway between Budapest and Vienna, by large numbers of American Flying Fortresses. Other forces hit the Almasfuzito oil refineries 30 miles west of Budapest, but due to poor visibility results were obscured. Two rail yards in Yugoslavia on the Zagreb-Belgrade line were bombed.

The Mediterranean air force announced it flew more than 50,800 sorties (individual plane flights) during June, with the heavies dropping 22,600 tons of bombs on targets in Italy, the Balkans, Germany and France. Some 480 enemy planes were shot down against a loss of 176 Allied heavies and 198 other craft.

RAF planes flew more than 77,000 sorties and dropped nearly 64,000 tons of bombs on Europe during June, the British Air ministry said.

Corporations Are Over Quota In Bond Drive

WASHINGTON, July 3 (AP) — With corporations and other non-banking investors already over their quota in the $16,000,000,000 Fifth War Loan drive, emphasis centered today on increasing sales to individuals, still far from reaching their goal.

Sales to corporations and other non-banking investors through Thursday, as announced last night, totaled $10,151,000,000. The quota was $10,000,000,000. Sales to individuals totaled $3,184,000,000, 53 per cent of the quota.

Ohio, West Virginia and Missouri exceeded their quotas, joining Rhode Island, the first over.

Monetary Conference

garded as a formality.

One source said they had disposed of "a number" of thorny problems. The others were narrowed to alternate proposals for conference action.

There was no disclosure of decisions reached at Atlantic City, although White confirmed earlier reports that the silver issue would reach the conference floor. This plan to tie world currencies to a bi-metallic base is known to run counter to American Treasury views, and its acceptance appeared highly improbable.

White promised the more than four-score newsmen assigned to the conference a daily report on all business sessions and inaugurated a new departure in press relations by promising to give the reporters, in strictest confidence, the official working document, prepared for delegates. This is to be released, day by day, as the talks proceed. "We are doing this," he told the press conference, "because we want the public to fully understand what is going on."

Bosox Sweep Twin Bill With Browns

Tex Hughson Wins His 12th Victory

(By The Associated Press)

Cecil (Tex) Hughson, towering Texan twirler of the Boston Red Sox, is travelling at a faster pace than he did in his record-breaking year of 1942 when he won 22 and lost six to lead American league pitchers.

The 6:03 righthanded ace won his 12th victory of the season yesterday, more than any American league hurler, blanking the league leading St. Louis Browns with six hits to give the Red Sox a 1-0 triumph in the opener of a twin-bill. The Red Sox also won the nightcap, 3-2, in 11 innings to climb to within a game and a half of first place. The double defeat was the Browns' fourth loss in six games since they started their eastern swing last Thursday.

Hughson, beaten only three times has pitched 126 innings and has gone the route 12 times in 15 starts. His 62 strikeouts is a better average than his 113 whiffs which led the loop in '42. A sore arm hampered him last year when he won 12 and lost 15.

Cards Win Pair

The St. Louis Cardinals, leaders in the National league, won two games from Brooklyn to extend the Dodgers' losing streak to six straight, their longest of the season. The Cards won the first 2-1 in 14 innings on Johnny Hopp's single with the bases full. The Redbirds also took the second, 4-2.

The Chicago White Sox and the New York Yankees divided their twin-bill. The White Sox won the first 7-3, scoring four runs in the 10th, aided by Oscar Grimes' three errors. A wild throw by Catcher Vince Castino in an attempt to double up Tuck Stainback for the third out allowed Bud Metheny to scamper home with the winning run in the ninth of the finale for a 7-6 Yankee victory.

Cleveland won two games from Washington, 4-3 in 10 innings, and 6-3. Ken Keltner got seven hits in eight at bats, including a homer. His 10th inning single scored Lou Boudreau, with the winning run in the opener. Steve Gromek won his first major league game in the nightcap.

Giants, Reds Split

Johnny Allen pitched a three-hitter for the first Giant shutout of the season 3-0, as New York and Cincinnati split even. Rookie Casimir Konstanty won his third straight for the Reds in the opener, 4-1.

Detroit and Philadelphia swapped shutouts. The Tigers, behind Dizzy Trout's eight-hit pitching, took the first 8-0, and the Athletics the nightcap, 2-0, behind Jesse Flores' four-hit twirling.

The Chicago Cubs and Philadelphia Phillies got an even break in their two games, Chicago winning the first 8-1, with Bob Chipman giving up five hits, and the Phillies taking the second, 4-2, behind Ken Raffensberger.

Nate Andrews pitched the Boston Braves to a 4-1 victory over Pittsburgh in the first game, but the second was halted by Pennsylvania's 6:50 curfew after eight innings, with the score tied at 5-5.

Hogan's Whirlwind Close Ties McSpaden In Victory National

CHICAGO, July 3 (AP) — Lt. Ben Hogan, determined to make a successful comeback in tournament golf after a recess of almost two years, and Jug McSpaden, the leading money winner of the season, meet today in an 18-hole playoff for the Chicago Victory National championship.

In one of the most amazing finishes in golf history, McSpaden yesterday overcame a five-stroke deficit on the last nine holes by shooting five birdies to tie Hogan at the end of the regular 72-hole tournament with 273—11 strokes under par.

Today the winner will draw $3,000 in war bonds plus a certain percentage of the total gate in added cash. The loser will take a second prize of $1,750 in bonds plus some extra folding money.

Hogan, winner of the 1941 Chicago Open and the 1942 Hale America championship.

Hogan Gets Even Par

For the first time in three rounds, Hogan failed to break 70 in yesterday's final 18 holes. He took an even par 35-36—71, but this score appeared safe, for McSpaden needed to shoot a 31, five under par, on the difficult last nine to match it.

But Jug cut loose. He planted his tee shot four feet from the pin on No. 10 for a deuce. He reached the long 14th and 15th holes in two shots for easy birdie 4's. He stuck his tee shot three feet from the cup for another deuce on the 17th.

Then he needed a birdie 3 on the 385-yard 18th for a tie. But his second shot scuffed the green 40 feet short of the cup.

He tapped the ball, it caught the roll and trickled in as a crowd of 10,000 whooped. The putt gave him a 34-31—65 for the round.

In third place with 276 was Nelson, followed at 280 by Johnny Revolta and Sam Byrd. Chuck Kocsis of Detroit had a six-stroke margin over his nearest rivals for amateur honors by posting a 282.

SEVERAL STARS OVERLOOKED IN NATIONAL SELECTION

NEW YORK, July 3 (AP) — Jim "No Hits, No Nothin'" Tobin today qualified as the forgotten man of 1944 as the National league announced its 25-man all-star team to play the pick of the American in Pittsburgh's Forbes field on the night of July 11 but failed to name the veteran Boston knuckle-baller who pitched two no-hit games.

Six members of the league-leading St. Louis Cardinals were selected by the eight National managers who overlooked Tobin along with such brilliant performers as Mort Cooper and Ray Sanders of the Cards, Tommy Holmes of the Braves, Phil Weintraub and Bill Voiselle of the Giants and Frenchy Bordagary of the Dodgers.

Cincinnati placed four men on the squad that Billy Southworth as pennant-winning manager will boss. Pittsburgh, Chicago, Boston and Brooklyn each grabbed three spots, New York two and the Phillies only one.

No Shortstop Worries

With Martin Marion of the Cards and Eddie Miller of the Reds on the list, Southworth will have no shortstop worries and he was Whitey Kurowski of his own club and Bob Elliott of the Pirates for third base. Frank McCormick of the Reds and Phil Cavaretta of the Cubs are his first sackers, with Rookie Don Johnson of the Cubs and Connie Ryan of the Braves available for the keystone spot.

Pitchers George Munger of the Cards and Bucky Walters of the Reds, Rip Sewell of the Pirates, Max Lanier of the Cards and Al Javery of the Braves were selected for duty, with Ken Raffensberger of the Phils and Nate Andrews of the Braves rounding out the mound staff.

Cooper, Owen, Mueller Catchers

Walker Cooper of the Cards and Mickey Owen of the Dodgers will be joined by Cincinnati's Ray Mueller in the catching department.

Dixie Walker of the Dodgers and Stan Musial of the Cards drew two of the seven outfield spots.

Mel Ott of the Giants who missed only 1933, the first year, will become the real veteran of the game by playing for the 12th time and teammate Joe Medwick will play his 10th for the National. Bill Nicholson of the Cubs, Augie Galan of the Dodgers and Vince di Maggio of the Pirates complete the outfield list.

Mike Gonzales of the Cards and Manager Fred Fitzsimmons of the Phils were named coaches.
