Rep. Graham Purcell Brings Campaign Here

Congressman Graham Purcell highlighted an exhausting four county tour with an appearance before an enthusiastic crowd of Democratic supporters in Wellington last Monday evening.

Expressing as his top priority for the continuing development of the Panhandle and Northwest Texas, Congressman Purcell called for area unity to bring water in large quantities to the Panhandle. If we are not successful in securing water in quantities adequate for our growing needs, he declared, we will be unable to guarantee our children the kind of life we would like for them to enjoy. Purcell said: "I wish to assure you that I am making this the foremost goal of my career."

During the evening, Purcell also answered questions on the rising price of beef and expressed his opposition to a freeze on beef prices and his opposition to the increased imports of beef. He also discussed Rural Development Legislation now being considered by the Congress, in which Congressman Purcell played a significant role.

The reception for Congressman Purcell was held in the Heritage Room of the Wellington State Bank. Interest was added to the occasion by the presence of Mrs. Graham Purcell and her youngest daughter, May Lynn, who turned out to be campaigners of great charm and effectiveness. Congressman Purcell was accompanied by three assistants, Bud Harris and Claiborn Crain of the Amarillo office and Geza Kadar of the Washington office.

Hail Destroys Crops from Lone Mound to Quail Area

Hail and high winds brought intensive damage to cotton and maize Saturday July 3 in a strip that ran from Lone Mound through Dozier and Marella to a point near Quail. The width of the damaged area varied up to several miles.

The hail played out around Quail, but to the south, heavy rain, and high wind, with blowing sand that preceded it, ruined both cotton and feed.

This was part of a storm that was damaging both in Wheeler County and around Memphis.

Because of the wind, an accurate measure of rainfall could not be had, but up to 5 inches was estimated.

Property damage was reported. A short distance north of Quail, Ray Alston had a house trailer blown over on his pickup, with damage to both.

Six miles west of Wellington, a small barn belonging to Virgil Patterson was destroyed. Part of the debris was left on Fm 1056 and some was blown farther south.

Wellington received an official 1.44 inch of rain. The fall was lighter to the east, with .40 measured at Sagebrush Feedlot, and only a sprinkle at the Drury Lacy place near the state line.

Some of the heaviest crop loss was sustained northwest of Quail and west of Marella. Most fields were bare and flattened.

Hailstones were small, but the driving wind cut down everything that was hit, Jerol Morris reported.

Crop losses were reported to Fred Bourland, Raymond Ross, Lonnie Neeley, Jerol Morris and Wayne Cummings, N.E. Childers and Frank Coleman, Jr. Most of this was dryland crops, although some irrigated cotton was included.

Morris also said that on a place he and Cummings operate a mile west of Marella so much water was still standing Sunday morning they couldn't get in the fields. "We can replant in feed but that's crowding it," he added.

West of Quail, Delbert White had damage and J.I. Morgan said crops on the J.R. Godbey farm which he operates were a total loss. There was considerable washing of land.

It is estimated from 2.5 to 3 inches fell in this area.

North of Saltfork, crop loss was again heavy. There was some hail damage on the Douglas Coleman farm. Mrs. Coleman said the wind was blowing so hard the 1.5 inch of rain recorded was probably about half of what fell.

J.D. Coleman said he had an inch and a half of rain at his farm at Dozier, with some hail.

Reported as being completely wiped out in the Dozier-Abra-Lone Mound section were Bully Tate, James Martindale, Ed Brown, Worth Shields, E.E. Darrow and J.C. Breeding. Heavy crop loss was reported to James Murry and Miss Pearl Strong. There was damage to an irrigation system at Dozier belonging to Jimmy Thompson and his crop was hailed out.

Two large trees were reported

Screwworm Case Found Here; Caution Urged

There is a confirmed case of screwworms in Collingsworth County, County Agent Don Reeves was notified Saturday, July 8.

Mr. Reeves said he has sent several samples in to the Screwworm Program Laboratory at Mission, and he was not told which of these was in positive case.

Returns of samples are slow, due to the surging number of screwworm cases in the state, he explained.

Around July 1, Childress was one of 7 new counties in which screwworms were found, and Donley had a confirmed case about a month ago.

With the confirmation of the case here, application has been made for sterile flies to be released in the county. These are available under the federal screwworm eradication program only after there is a confirmed case.

Mr. Reeves repeated his urgent request of two weeks ago that cattle owners not work any animals that will cause an open wound, and if an open wound is found, doctor it.

"And if you find any worms in a wound, for goodness sake, bring them in," said the agent.

Cattlemen were also requested to not dehorn during the fly season, and to watch closely any calves that have been worked.

The Sterile Fly Lab at Mission recently had its worst week in the 10-year-history of the program, when Texas was hit with 3,879 cases, nearly 900 more than the previous record of 3,023 established the first

Check With ASCS Before Replanting

Replanting procedures on crop land hailed out Saturday night, July 8, has been explained by Bob Weatherly, ASCS county executive.

Farmers not in B Plan of feed grain can go back to any crop except peanuts on their cotton land that was hailed out. This would include feed grains.

Those farmers who are in B Plan cannot exceed feed grain permitted acres. Therefore they can plant any other crops besides feed grains, such as guar or sweet sorghum, Mr. Weatherly continued.

They will need to make a request for acreage credit to ASCS, as someone from that office will have to look at the field.

Mr. Weatherly, in fact, urged all farmers who are having to replant to check their plans with the ASCS office.

Cubs Have Full Day at Scout Camp M.K. Brown

Wellington Cub Scouts were among those from throughout the Adobe Walls Council who attended Cub Day, July 1, at Camp M.K. Brown near Mobeetie.

After registering at 9:00 a.m. the cubs engaged in six separate activities, and the day ended at 5:00 p.m. with a campfire ceremony. Each boy was awarded a participation badge.

Going first to the rifle range, the youths got to participate in the shooting . . . a first for some. Professional scouters directed each event and Connor Hicks was in charge of this.

The archery range, directed by Sonny Sanders, gave each boy an opportunity to shoot a bow and arrow. Again, it was the first time some of the boys had handled one.

During the nature conservation tour, Bryan Morgan took the youngsters on a hike and pointed out details of nature that are often missed and explained how these can be preserved.

Water front activities and swimming, both directed by Ike Stanley, concluded the day. None of the boys had ever rowed a boat and all of them got to. Most already knew how to swim.

Attending from Wellington were:

Webelos: Kevin Hall.

Den Mothers and assistant Den Mothers going were Mrs. Bill Hall, Mrs. Bill Long, Mrs. Charles Darter and Mrs. Farris Wood.

Four-H Riders Place High at District Contest

Four County 4-H Club members placed in District I competition at Amarillo THursday and Friday, July 6 and 7, but none collected enough points to qualify for the state show later this month.

In the halter division, Kathy Patterson, daughter of Mr.and Mrs. Earl Patterson, was third in the class for grade mares under 5 years.

In the class for grade mares over 5 years, Carl Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tiny Taylor, was fourth and Suzy Lowe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lowe, was seventh. They were competing in a class of about 45.

Pat White, son of Mr. and Mrs. P.J. White, was fourth with his grade gelding over 5 years, one of the largest, if not the largest classes.

In the performance events, Kathy went to the finals in western pleasure riding -- a good showing in itself, said County Agent Don Reeves.

So many youngsters were entered in this class that 5 heats had to be held, with 22 horses in each. The top four or five from each group went to the finals.

Salt Fork Soil Conservation District News

by Bobby Gronewald

The time for sprigging bermuda grass is quickly coming to a close. Areas to be sprigged should have a good, firm seedbed and be free of weeds.

Midland Bermuda sprigs should be used and fertilized with as much as 30 pounds of nitrogen and 40 pounds of phosphates per acre for establishment.

After establishment of the grass, controlling weeds can be obtained by mowing or shredding. The area sprigged to grass should be fenced and water should be provided so the bermuda grass can be managed properly. Two or more pastures are desirable to allow proper rotational grazing.

BERMUDA SPRIGGING SERVICE by Lynn Courtney

Two young Wellington farmers, Yates Parker and Johnny Henard III, recently bought a Bermuda grass sprigger and also a sprig harvester, and are now doing this work on a custom basis.

Much of their work is on water ways, but they are also doing some pasture sprigging. Co-operators with the Salt Fork Soil Consrevation Service are doing this under the Great Plains Conservation Program.

The cost for sprigging runs about $20 per acre.

For the type of work, Midland and Bermuda rather than the common bermuda is used. This does not make seeds that will germinate, therefore sprigging is necessary.

Henard and Parker recently sprigged a 30-acre water way for Henry Wolf, and another water way for George Patterson.

Soil Conservation Service has stressed the use of Midland Bermuda for several years, and now there are some pastures well set enough for sprig harvesting, so that we are using our home grown sprigs.

We estimate that more than 200 acres will be sprigged this year, in addition to at least 500 acres already established.

Is now the time to refinance loans?

Capital for expansion, more money from your equity, debt consolidation, smaller payments—these are important reasons for adjusting your loan structure. It's sound business to analyze credit obligations at least once each year to make sure borrowed money is being used to full advantage. Let's talk it over. Should you decide to rearrange your debts, we would be glad to make a Land Bank refinancing proposal.

Happy Homemaking

By BARBARA BAKER

When hand-washing girdles, hose and other drip-dry items, place them in a colander while changing the water. The water that always accumulates under them drains away, carrying with it some of the suds. This can even cut down on the number of rinsings needed. If you leave them in the colander to drain a bit before hanging, drying time is shorter. They need not be squeezed or twisted, which might possibly damage the fabric.

Questions People Ask About the Catholic Church

Q. Do you approve of proselytising?

A. Definitely not. Very few priests in this world go around banging on doors and trying to convert people. To me, it is very rude and unethical to hammer on some man's door and try to lead him away from his own religion to another not of his choosing. We should respect a man's religious beliefs, no matter what they are; his relationship with God is his own business and God's.

Q. What is the correct way to address a priest in speech and in writing?

A. When speaking to him, simply call him "Father", or Father John", or "Father Smith"; it depends on how well you know him. When writing, address him as "Dear Father", or "Dear Reverend Father". Unless you are a member of his family, or a very intimate friend, it is incorrect to use his first name only.

Canning Kitchen and Gardens Aid 8 Families

Fresh vegetables this summer and home canned food next winter is the answer eight low-income families in Wellington are giving to the problem of the high cost of food.

Several individuals and groups have given a hand, but the work is done by those participating in the self-help project.

Two tracts in North Wellington, vacant lots that had been growing up in weeds, were gotten together, with much of the leg-work being done by County Judge Zook Thomas.

The City of Wellington made water available at the site, and the Community Action Center, through its Emergency Food and Medicine Program pays the water bill, said Mrs. Dee Burba, co-ordinator of the local CAC.

Mrs. Tommy Lou Thompson of the Community Action Staff works with these families in preparing well-balanced meals and in planning what they will preserve.

The gardens are just beginning to bear.

A canning kitchen has been set up at the Community Action Center, and anyone who is enrolled in or participates in the Community Action program is eligible to use it.

At this point, Mrs. Haskell Manuel, a leader in home demonstration club work in the county, stepped in and volunteered her services to help the women with their canning and instructing them in the use of the four pressure cookers that were acquired, Mrs. Burba said.

The women who are using the kitchen think not only of themselves, but also those who are in need. Most canning sessions find jars of food left behind to be used by others.

Mrs. Burba said that garden-produce will be welcomed at the center from anyone who has a surplus.

Another self-help food program is now bearing results, Mrs. Burba added. In February, 10 families received a chicken coop and 100 chickens. Twenty per cent of these are to be kept as layers, which are just now coming into production, and the remainder may be used for food. All care and food for the chickens is provided by the families who received them.

The coops went out on loan, and when the families receiving them are established in the chicken business, the coops, will be passed on to someone else, so that another family may get a start, Mrs. Burba explained.

ASCS Beekeeper Indemnity Told To Producers

A Beekeeper indemnity program has been initiated by the ASCS, Bob Weatherly, county executive, announced this week.

"This is a program that provides for indemnity payments to producers of honey that lose their bees from the use of pesticides," he explained.

"Regulations now require any beekeeper in the county to report to the county office by July 15 each year the number of colonies of bees and queen nuclei in his apiary, and the location of each.

"So, if you are a beekeeper, you should report to the office by July 15 the number of colonies you have. If you do not report this by July 15, and sustain damage to your colonies by pesticide, we can do nothing about your claim.

"Contact us for any additional questions on this," Mr. Weatherly concluded.

Permits Now Needed for Highway Signs

AUSTIN – The Texas Highway Department today announced plans for administration of the State Highway Beautification Act which was passed by the last special session of the Legislature. The Act became effective Thursday, June 29.

The Beautification Act, also known as the Billboard Law, charges the Highway Department with responsibility for regulating outdoor advertising signs along the Interstate and Federal-aid primary highway systems in Texas. There are approximately 18 thousand miles of highways in the two systems in Texas.

The law provides that any person who erects or maintains a sign within 660 feet of the highway must have a license to engage in outdoor advertising and a permit for each sign covered by the Act. Signs advertising the sale or lease of property upon which they are located or relating solely to activities conducted on the property and certain utility marker signs are exempt.

The Highway Department will issue all licenses. Application blanks will be available at the district offices or at the Right of Way Division in Austin. Sign permits will be issued by either the Highway district offices or by those cities which elect to issue their own sign permits. Persons interested should contact the Highway Department district serving the county where their sign is located.

At the present time cities are being contacted by the Highway Department to ascertain whether the cities desire to establish their own permit systems. Once this is decided, the Highway Department district or the cities will start to process sign permit applications for those persons who have obtained licenses.

Plans will be announced later for implementation of sections of the legislation dealing with illegal, abandoned and nonconforming signs and junkyards and auto graveyards.

Cattle Short Course to Stress Reproduction

COLLEGE STATION -- Activities of the 22nd annual Beef Cattle Short Course Aug. 21-22 at Texas A&M University will center on "Improving Reproductive Efficiency," a follow-up of last year's event. County Agent Don Reeves will attend, and possibly several others.

John R. Beverly, Texas Agricultural Extension Service animal reproduction specialist, said the conference is designed to complete the story of management factors which limit breeding performance of beef cattle.

He said reproduction in terms of calf crop percentage is the most important consideration affecting beef production.

"With each 1 percent increase in calf crop, the Texas cattle industry adds $7 to $8 million to agricultural income," Beverly pointed out. "The rancher who maintains a barren cow for an entire year sacrifices the profit on three to five weaned calves. Slow breeding of brood cows can further reduce his income because for each heat period a cow fails to conceive, there is a loss of $12 to $14.

The short course will emphasize genetic factors, death loss and disease. Recent studies on double muscling in beef also will be discussed, and animals with this trait will be on exhibit.

In addition to Texas A&M speakers, program participants will be from the U.S. Range Livestock Experiment Station in Montana, the University of Florida and Colorado State University. They will talk on such topics as artificial insemination, crossbreeding, cow and bull fertility, and use of certain drugs to induce early calving and re-breeding.

Beverly said the conference will be in the Ramada Inn on the edge of the A&M campus.

He said last year's program officially registered 382 persons, although an estimated 500 attended to set a record.

Agricultural Prospects Bright For This Season of the Year

Agriculture prospects have seldom been brighter in the Wellington area as mid-July arrives. The crops are growing rapidly and the grass is seldom so green at this time of the year. Both the cotton and maize crops are better than they have been in five years.

This does not mean that everything is rosy in the agricultural picture. The usual hazards connected with raising crops and livestock still remain and it is a long time until Autumn considering the many things that can happen in a few weeks time. Some cotton has been wiped out completely by hail. The damage was severe and it was limited to small areas. While it is too late to plant cotton those growers who were wiped out are planting other crops that will have time to mature.

There are courses an enterprising agriculturist can take when there is ample moisture in the ground and this is one year in which there is plenty of moisture in most places. In fact some complain of having too much rainfall in too short a time; but it is nothing like the blight that falls when there is subnormal rainfall over a period of years. It may seem a long time until harvest; but the prospects are bright this July.

Footprints: Olduvai's Child

In northern Tanzania a giant rift, Olduvai Gorge, slices deep into the African plain. At its lowest level, hundreds of feet down, anthropologist Dr. Louis Leakey and his wife Dr. Mary Leakey have found fragmentary remains of humans and prehumans of the ancient prehistoric past. The other day Mary Leakey found a footprint.

It was the footprint of a child, and still well preserved, though it appears to be at least a half-million years old. For us, that little print appearing through the mists of time stirs feeling and emotion as no whitened jawbone or skull portion ever could.

"One of the most epochal of all the Olduvai discoveries," declared a professor visiting with the Leakeys, a man considered expert on the anatomy of prehistoric man.

It no doubt is, but it is more than that, too. It brings a youngster to us from beyone history's dawn. Human imagination, not tied to place or period of time, is called back to meet him, to roam a great African gully, to watch a child as he runs and laughs and plays, or cries over childish hurts.

So long a way we have come since his time, and yet we are the same. The little footprint attests to a common humanity that we all must affirm, or pay the penalty.

Gotcha!

STATE Capital NEWS

By Bill Boykin

AUSTIN, Tex. -- The Parks and Wildlife Commission handed one controversial issue back to the Attorney General and was handed another one by the Legislature.

PWC voted four-to-two to ask Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin to review and reconsider a May 26 ruling that a 1970 contract to purchase 3,965 acres of Mustang Island property for park development is a "binding obligation."

Martin's opinion, according to PWC Chairman Jack Stone of Wells, is expected in about a week.

The Mustang Island battle has raged from Austin to Washington and back and through the federal courts and has figured in battles over Senate confirmation of PWC members.

Legislators, in special session, thwarted long-standing plans of the State Highway Department to build a 10-story, $20 million headquarters building on a block near the capitol and governor's mansion.

Instead, the Legislature decreed, the Parks and Wildlife Department would purchase with $1.5 million from its cigarette tax the barren, dusty block in downtown Austin and convert it into a park.

The highway department was directed to consider placing its plush new building elsewhere.

Neither agency, conceded legislative leaders, was deliriously happy with the arrangement.

Under the circumstances, however, neither seemed to have much choice.

GAME LAW FUSS CALMED -- Texas game wardens will no longer enforce state game and fish laws near the mouth and jetties of the Sabine River, an area of disputed ownership with Louisiana last month threatened to appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court Texas officers' attempts at enforcement in the area. Attorney General Martin informed Louisiana Atty. Gen. William J. Guste Jr. Texas will keep its commitments in the disputed areas of the Gulf south of the Sabine River Mouth.

The area was recently found by a Supreme Court-appointed master to belong to Texas, but Louisiana appealed the decision.

INFLATION STILL THREAT -- Inflation is still a strong threat, though Texas is recovering from economic recession, according to a University of Texas Bureau of Business Research study.

Unemployment remains high, says UT BBR, but estimated personal income rose nine percent in the last eyar and bank debits 10 per cent.

The unemployment level, frowned on by the Bureau, was 3.8 per cent in May, which is lower than the 4.1 per cent of a a year ago and considerably below the national 5.9 per cent rate.

Consumer spending and residential construction were seen as strong. The rate of the consumer price index rise slowed somewhat after the presidential price freeze, BBR found.

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

It seems that a new sport has appeared in California since the outlawing of capital punishment has opened the season on people.

Instead of having to go off into the wilds to shoot deer and birds, the Now sportsman can just ride up and down streets in his car and shoot little 4-year-old girls.

And since the judgarchy removed the only sensible penalty for killing humans, it would seem they should at least make some effort to preserve the species by putting a bag limit on us.

Reception for Graham Purcell Held in Wellington Monday July 10

Collingsworth County Citizens attended a reception Monday evening to give personification to the large banner saying "Welcome Congressman Graham Purcell" which spanned the outside of the Heritage Room, Monday July 10.

For the serving table, the appointments were of silver with white accents on a linen cloth of red. A contemporary centerpiece of red, white, and blue stripes was tiered and topped by a photograph of "The Purcell Family." Background for the table was a huge Texas of silver with "13th Congressional District" in ribbon medallions with included counties in royal blue.

Serving punch from the tailored silver urn were Mrs. Bill Spillman, Mrs. Kyle Lindley, and Kelley Coleman. The house party also included Mrs. Bill Owens, Mrs. Ernest Harwell, Miss Rita Lowrie, Mrs. R.C. Patrick, Mrs. Wayne Parker.

Writing the song parody which also welcomed Congressman Purcell was Mrs. Harwell. Singing members of the house party were Mrs. Rufus Sweat, Mrs. Chester White, Mrs. D.C. Lacy, Mrs. Harwell, Mrs. Lindley, Mrs. Spillman, Miss Coleman.

Besides local citizens, there were people from Iowa Park and Childress attending whom Congressman Purcell has represented in the U.S. Congress since 1962. Conversations were of business and pleasure.

Members from the Congressman's staff accompanying him were from both his Amarillo office and Washington office.

Mrs. Coleman Is Abra HD Hostess

Mrs. Wood Coleman was hostess to the Abra Home Demonstration Club, Friday, July 7. They were treated to a tour of the museum at McLean. There the women in charge made the tour very interesting explaining about many of the items housed at the museum.

The club members then went shopping at a dress shop, variety store and Gift Shop. From there they went to the Drug Store where Mrs. Coleman treated them to refreshments.

During the business meeting, which was conducted on the way to McLean, the family picnic was planned for August 4.

Members making the trip were, Mrs. W.M. Laycock, Mrs. Gus Gooch, Mrs. Jim Jones, Mrs. Charlie Bradley, Mrs. Pat Bradley, Mrs. John Groves and the hostess Mrs. Wood Coleman.

Would FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS Tempt You Into Our Office?

We wanted to tell you that we now have FIFTEEN MILLION DOLLARS in assets. But we knew what you'd say:

"SO WHAT?"

So give us a minute to tell you so what.

Having fifteen million dollars in assets means two things. First, it means we're bigger, so we can do more for you. Second, it means that more people save with us, so we must be doing something right.

"LIKE WHAT?"

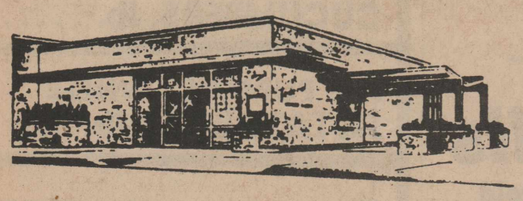

Like having a central location with drive-up facilities. Like offering more savings plans and high interest. And like having part of that fifteen million ready for you when you need a mortgage loan.

"SO WHY TELL ME?"

Very simple. Because that fifteen million dollars didn't fall out of the sky. It came from people like you who wanted to get the most from their savings dollar. So we figured that if you saw what we've done for them, you'd want us to do the same for you.

"WHY NOT?"

Deck's DIDACTICS

—by Deskins Wells

WHAT IS happening at the Democratic convention in Miami is disheartening to people who think the selection of a president should be on a high plane. Since the presidency is the highest office in the land, it is not too far out of line to hope that the manuevering at the convention might be conducted with some semblance of fairness and intellectual honesty. Nothing could be farther from the facts.

BOTH McGovern and Humphrey are honorable, decent men: but from some of the inflamed language you hear on TV it is easy to get the impression that Al Capone was a solid citizen compared to either of these two. It is too bad that men and women will sink so far in slime in their almost mad quest for power. Up until Wednesday about the only calm and reasonable voice that had been heard was that of George Wallace.

THIS FLOOD of vituperation has split the Democratic party wide open for the present. The South is lost, labor has been alienated, Chicago and perhaps Illinois are gone and nobody is happy except a few far to the left extremists. It seems hopeless; but the Democrats have been in that shape before. Few people think they will win in November; but they may bind up their wounds enough to make a race of it.

ACCORDING TO the news stories in the dailies, 40% of the delegates to the Democratic convention are women, 15% are black, 50% are under 40 years of age, etc. That does not leave much per cent for the old politicians over 40.

VISITORS to Wellington are talking about the beautiful scenery. The direction from which they come does not make any difference for it is green everywhere. Elm Valley is as beautiful as I have ever seen it and it is as green as people can remember.

* * *

LAST SUNDAY we drove to Perryton and the pastures and crops were remarkable. The hailed out area south and north of Wheeler was not pleasant to see. It was as bad as the devasted strip from Lone Mound to Quail; but it won't be long until it is green again for the moisture and modern farmers can work wonders when they have ample rainfall.

* * *

DODSON had its own peculiar brand of weather Tuesday afternoon, June 11. It was a cloud that just sat there and poured out water. The rain played out a little east of Dodson and it was not heavy north of town according to J.C. Howell but west and south of Dodson the rain poured down. From Dodson south to the Childress County line the bar ditches and the gullies were full and raging. Two inches fell in Dodson; but it was estimated that twice that amount or more fell south of town.

Hopper Buildup Calls for Close Watch on Cotton

"There are plenty of grasshoppers here, more than the usual number in some places," said County Agent Don Reeves.

There has already been damage to some grass land, he said.

Spraying operations have not yet started here, but Malathion is the recommended insecticide.

Grasshoppers are severely damaging crops and orchards as close as the Hobart, Oklahoma area, and insecticides being used have not yet begun to control the infestation, according to reports.
