Arms control talks...

U.S. submits new proposal

GENEVA (AP) — The United States today submitted new proposals at the superpower arms control talks that a U.S. spokesman said would simplify, but not soften, Reagan administration demands for strict verification measures.

Terry Shroeder, a spokesman for the U.S. arms control delegation, said the U.S. proposals were put forth at a meeting today of negotiators on intermediate-range nuclear forces, headed by American Maynard Glitman and Soviet Gen. Vladimir Medvedev.

Shroeder, reading a prepared statement, said the United States had always maintained that verification measures could be simplified under a so-called double zero option. That means elimination of shorter-range missiles and medium-range missiles worldwide, which have ranges between 300 and 3,000 miles.

"Today we are laying out how this simplification could be achieved," Shroeder said. He said the U.S. proposal "although simplified, will still be the most stringent ever proposed in any U.S.-Soviet negotiations and will include on-site inspection."

He declined to provide details of the proposal.

Shroeder said the U.S. delegation "sharply rejected suggestions in U.S. media reports that we are backing off or softening our proposals."

A U.S. official in Washington on Monday told The Associated Press that the new American proposals would soften demands for on-site inspection of nuclear missile facilities, in a move designed to keep Soviet observers out of sensitive areas in the United States. The official demanded anonymity.

U.S.-Soviet negotiators are working to resolve remaining differences before the scheduled meeting next month in Washington.

Ask Us

Q. — Is there anyone we can contact about non-working cars in our neighborhood being parked in the street?

A. — The city has an ordinance against so-called junked vehicles, which can be red tagged and the owners required to move them. The police should be contacted.

In Brief

More talks?

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — Mining executives agreed today to reopen negotiations with striking black mineworkers aimed at ending the costly 16-day-old walkout.

Prices tumble

NEW YORK (AP) — The oil futures market hasn't lost a drop of volatility as prices fell to their lowest level since spring.

After tumbling early in response to reports of overproduction by the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries, prices rebounded later in the session Monday following reports of a minor incident in the Persian Gulf.

Local

Tigers tonight

The annual "Meet the Tigers" night is Tuesday at Towle Park Pavilion at 7:30 p.m.

A meal will be served and those attending are asked to bring a covered dish. The players--freshmen, junior varisty and varsity--will be introduced after the meal.

Donate today

Donors have until 8 p.m. Tuesday to give blood at the Towle Park Barn. Those donating may register for the Pursuit of Happiness Sweepstakes sponsored through United Blood Services of Lubbock.

Other incentives to donors include a range of food offers provided by local restaurants.

Drives here are jointly sponsored by the local UBS advisory board and the Cogdell Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Fun Night

Freshmen at Western Texas College are invited to attend the annual Freshman Picnic and Fun Night starting at 6 p.m. Tuesday on campus.

City budget draws letter opposing employee pay cuts

The only public comment offered during a city budget hearing Monday was in the form of a letter written by a city employee asking the council to reconsider its across the board 4 percent pay cut for city staffers.

The reduction in pay plus increases in both city taxes--the first in more than 10 years--and utility rates were the solutions reached by councilmen in July for a $600,000 income shortfall faced in the current budget year which ends Sept. 30.

This shortfall was linked to an estimated minus 25 percent related to city sales tax income, the loss of federal revenue sharing dollars and a decline in water sales attributed to the unusually wet year.

Asking them to reconsider the pay cut was Shannon Warner. Her letter addressed to the council was read aloud by Councilman Joe Fowler.

In her letter, she wrote she could not "see the justice" in ask-

Teacher schedule is varied

The most varied schedule slated all week will see Snyder teachers spread throughout the system Wednesday as the third day of in-service is held here.

All during the day, secondary teachers--with some specific exceptions--will be at their respective campuses for departmental meetings on "content area teaching and grading practices."

Science teachers will spend their day from 8 a.m. until 4 p.m. at the SHS science lab meeting with Dr. Richard Garner of Hardin-Simmons University, who will be discussing curriculum practices and experiments.

The other varying schedules for secondary teachers Wednesday include:

—1 until 5 p.m.: secondary P.E. and health teachers at Cogdell Memorial Hospital's emergency room area for a CPR training update given by Yvette Sickler, R.N.

—1 until 4 p.m.: secondary social studies teachers at the junior high library for "Bicentennial Constitution teaching ideas" presented by Barbara Adams of Coronado High School.

Water project bids higher than hoped

Bids for a large scale renovation project at the city water treatment plant--the only major capital improvement project now scheduled in the 1987-88 city budget--were temporarily placed on hold Monday after cost estimates came in higher than originally figured.

Initial estimates for the work were guessed at some $205,000, but the lowest bid submitted of five estimated $269,000 for the job.

Since the council has 45 days to act on the bids, the consensus Monday was to table any action for further study. The council has a meeting slated next Tuesday, Sept. 1, and the indication was it might reconsider the project bids at that time.

The low bid submitted Monday was from Decker Construction Co. Inc. of Abilene. Of the other four bids, the high was some $401,000.

The city plans to add a 16 sq. ft. rapid mix basin which will mix treatment chemicals into incoming lake water using motor-driven beaters.

Also to be added is a water screen to remove undissolved solids in the water--to include Asian Clam shells--and a 5,000 gallon pressurized storage tank to allow the addition of ammonia to the water.

The ammonia process is to neutralize levels of the chemical trihalamethane in city drinking water--a level which the city currently exceeds.

The plan includes also a new lime feed and lime feed building at the treatment plant.

The engineering firm of Parkhill, Smith and Cooper of Lubbock has estimated the project will take some seven months to complete.

At Monday's meeting also, the council accepted the high bid of $1,664 to sell used water meters. The bid was submitted by Empire Iron and Metal of Dallas.

The council also accepted a contract with the county tax office for the collection of city taxes. The charge quoted equaled three-tenths of 1 percent on all taxes collected after Oct. 1, down from the old rate of six-tenths of 1 percent.

Jail inmate lawsuit called 'unfounded'

District Attorney Ernie Armstrong said Monday he is preparing an answer to a civil rights lawsuit involving local law enforcement officials which he said will conclude that all of the suit's allegations are unfounded.

The lawsuit was filed by a Scurry County Jail inmate arrested by both police and deputies on drug-related charges.

"Anybody can file a federal lawsuit or any other lawsuit," Armstrong said. "That doesn't mean there is any truth to it, and yet we have to appear, answer and defend."

He referred to a suit filed Aug. 14 by 24-year-old Kenneth Lee Wright Jr., who was arrested along with two women and a man July 29 at a rural residence east of Snyder on charges of manufacturing a controlled substance, amphetamines, and felony possession of marijuana.

Armstrong said he will ask U.S. District Judge Halbert O. Woodward to dismiss the suit on several grounds, including one that one of the four officers named, police Lt. Steve Warren, was on vacation out of town on the day of the arrests.

Armstrong said he has documentation also that, contrary to the allegations of the suit, the defendants were taken before a justice of the peace on the night of their arrests and advised of the charges against them, were given a copy of jail grievance procedures and were quickly given a court-appointed attorney to represent them.

"We have seen these type of suits before, although not to the extent that they do in larger counties, where they have an attorney who deals with them every day," Armstrong said. "So we have to make a special effort to deal with it."

In addition to Warren, arresting officers named were policeman Ed Neeley and deputies Andy Anderson and Darren Jackson.

JOE JACKSON

Joe Jackson named SNB vice president

Joe Jackson, a veteran of 22 years in banking, has been named vice president of Snyder National Bank.

The announcement was made Tuesday by Rex Robinson, president of Snyder National. Jackson will begin his duties on Wednesday.

Jackson returns to Snyder National after three years as executive vice president and director of American State Bank. Prior to joining American State Bank in May of 1984, Jackson had been associated with SNB for 19 years.

A native of Scurry County, Jackson graduated from Hermleigh High School and attended Angelo State University. He is a member of the Snyder Kiwanis Club and the Snyder Gold Coats. He and his wife, Cynthia, have two children.

WTC signup set tomorrow

Registration for the fall term at Western Texas College is slated from 1 until 5 p.m. Wednesday as sophomores are scheduled to signup.

Registration for evening students will then follow from 6:30 until 9 p.m.

The dormitory was to open Tuesday afternoon to freshmen and at 10 a.m. Wednesday for returning sophomores.

A continental breakfast will be served in the Student Center cafeteria for the dorm students at 8 a.m. Wednesday. Freshmen who do not have an ACT, SAT or ASSET test score are to take the ASSET test at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday in the counseling center.

Freshman registration is scheduled from 9 a.m. to noon Thursday, and registration for all students will be from 1 p.m. to

The SDN Column

The feller on Deep Creek says, "A woman's final decision is not necessarily the one she'll make later."

We may have to turn to Judge Wapner on Peoples' Court to have this property dispute settled.

A couple of weeks ago we noticed a healthy watermelon vine growing on the property line between the newspaper and American State Bank.

Right now there is only one melon on the vine. ASB President Eddie Johnson says the melon has to be his since it is growing away from the SDN's parking lot.

We reminded the bank president that our property line in the rear extended past the paved parking area. Johnson countered that the bank's water has nutured the plant along.

To avoid litigation, maybe the youthful plant will produce a second melon. Or perhaps Johnson will call up Wayne Eubank who'll bring in another 70-pounder to slice in the bank lobby for all to enjoy.

If you've taken a commercial flight this summer, you may have had the lost luggage experience which seems common these days.

There's one thing worse than having your luggage lost, it's having it found.

Airlines will pay up to $1,250 per person for lost luggage. For temporarily misplaced bags, however, the airlines will pay only $30 to $50 per day in expenses for four days. Getting the smaller amount takes extra effort.

One passenger reports his family was left with only the clothes they were wearing when their bags didn't arrive in Atlanta. Assured the bags would show up, the family waited four days before buying $200 in clothing. "We were beginning to smell, and we didn't buy anything fancy."

Nine days later, the last day of the family's vacation, the bags showed up. The airline initially refused their claim. The father sued in small claims court, and finally got an out-of-court settlement.

Maybe Johnson will settle the watermelon deal out of court.

Thomas O'Neill writes book

WASHINGTON (AP) — Thomas P. O'Neill, the colorful Boston Irishman who took his share of criticism from Republicans, the media and even some Democrats during his 50 years in public office, is now dishing it out.

The newly retired House speaker talks candidly and bluntly about the leading political figures of the past four decades in his new autobiography, "Man of the House: The Life and Political Memoirs of Tip O'Neill."

O'Neill calls Mikhail Gorbachev dangerous because he is an "appealing guy," Robert Kennedy a "self-important upstart" and Ronald Reagan a terrible president who would have made a great king.

O'Neill takes readers from his first dip into politics, working for Alfred E. Smith's presidential election in 1928 as a high school freshman in Cambridge, Mass., through his 34 years in the House, the last 10 as speaker. He retired in January at age 74.

The Massachusetts Democrat praises Reagan, his longtime adversary, for his wit, sense of humor and communications skills. "He's the best public speaker I've ever seen," O'Neill writes.

But O'Neill attacks Reagan not only on his policies but on his handling of the job.

"Most of the time he was an actor reading lines, who didn't understand his own programs," O'Neill writes. "I hate to say it about such an agreeable man, but it was sinful that Ronald Reagan ever became president. But let me give him his due: he would have made a great king."

He calls Jimmy Carter "the smartest public official I've ever known" on the issues, but one who failed because he refused to learn the ways of Washington.

O'Neill places much of the blame on Carter's staff.

Discussing Soviet leader Gorbachev, O'Neill says: "He's a very appealing guy," which is what makes him so dangerous. The Russian leadership may have affected a new and more sophisticated style, but the Soviet bear remains as aggressive and unpredictable as ever."

O'Neill praises the late John F. Kennedy, whom he replaced in the House in 1952 when JFK won a Senate seat, but reveals a deep rift with Kennedy's brother, Robert.

"We weren't friendly, and to be blunt about it, I never really liked him," O'Neill writes of the late senator. "To me he was a self-important upstart and a know-it-all. To him, I was simply a street-corner pol."

O'Neill says that in the 1950s, Robert Kennedy was considering challenging O'Neill for his House seat, but JFK intervened and later assured O'Neill he would not be challenged.

Discussing the Watergate crisis, O'Neill said he began having "serious doubts" about President Nixon's mental stability.

O'Neill does not save all his barbs for politicians.

He lambasts the news media for "embracing" and "rooting" for Reagan. "They liked him as an individual, and instead of hard questions they should have been asking, they tended to throw creampuffs."

The book, published by Random House, is co-authored by William Novak.

Skinny-dipping citations will be dismissed

AUSTIN (AP) — Citations issued to three nude sunbathers at a popular Lake Travis nude beach will be voided because it's not against the law to do a little skinny-dipping in Texas, a prosecutor says.

The citations were issued Monday to three swimmers, two men and a woman, after an anti-pornography group complained to Travis County authorities.

Travis County Sheriff Doyne Bailey says the citations issued at Hippie Hollow will be voided because he and County Attorney Ken Oden determined that the swimmers committed no crime by skinny dipping in the rock, shrubbed cove.

Nude swimming or sunbathing at Lake Travis is technically illegal, but the sheriff's department receives few complaints about it, Bailey said. Besides, a sign at the beach's entrance warns patrons of possible nude bathers.

"Under this set of circumstances, it is stretching the law to penalize somebody for it," Bailey said.

"The fact is, it is not illegal in Texas to get naked," Oden said. "It is not illegal in Texas even to go skinny-dipping."

"It is only illegal to go skinny-dipping in public, and (to be) reckless in that you realize someone might be present who would be offended or alarmed, and you decided to do it anyway," Oden continued.

The citations were issued by a sheriff's deputy after complaints by members of Citizens Against Pornography, led by Executive Director Mark Weaver.

"This is part of our overall program to clean up our city and county parks of indecent and lewd conduct," Weaver said.

He said the group objected to the sign, which reads: "Nude swimming or sunbathing may be occurring beyond this point. Consult attendant for details of nudity statutes."

Dear Abby

Couple Can't Shut Their Eyes To Neighborhood Peeping Tom

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1987 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: I've never written for advice before, but this issue cannot be resolved by any other means.

About a year ago, my husband and I became aware of a "Peeping Tom" who occasionally looks into our bedroom window at night. Our bedroom is on the first floor, facing a woods, and would be considered very private. We also have blinds, but because I sometimes leave the bedroom windows open, the blinds blow to the side.

I have not called the police because the "Tom" is our next-door neighbor. He is a respected professional man and has always been a friend to my husband and me, and his wife and children are very dear to us. We are angry and frustrated and don't know what to do.

I'm on the verge of confronting him, and if I do, it will forever change our relationship with him. (I'm assuming he will deny it.) I've already told his wife that I'd seen "someone" at our window, and to ask her husband if he'd seen anyone in hopes that it would scare him away, but he keeps at it.

Any ideas? Or should I just be direct and risk the consequences?

UNEASY IN ILLINOIS

DEAR UNEASY: Even respected professional men are not 'exempt from this kind of behavior. Your neighbor needs help. You and/or your husband should confront him and tell him that if he doesn't get professional help, you will be forced to tell his wife. And, if necessary, you will report him to the police. Although most "Peeping Toms" seldom go beyond "looking," their victims feel threatened and their privacy is invaded.

DEAR ABBY: We are an elderly couple who made an expensive mistake. After a light lunch at a family cafe that we've patronized for many years, we left a $10 bill instead of a $1 bill for the waitress. I didn't notice it until after we got home.

We went back for lunch on the following day, hoping the waitress would say something. If she had, we planned on insisting that she keep the $10 because she was honest.

Nothing was said, and she avoided any eye contact. She is a new employee and I felt that perhaps we should inform the owner. My husband said forget it; it was our mistake, and it would be her word against ours.

Now we feel uncomfortable going there. What is your advice?

A COUPLE OF SENIORS

DEAR COUPLE: Inform the owner. Your continued patronage and good will should be worth more than $10 to a family restaurant owner.

DEAR ABBY: Baseball is the only major sport in which the players indulge in the disgusting habit of chewing tobacco, then spitting right on the playing field.

Millions of viewers are "treated" to dozens of close-ups of players spitting gobs of gunk onto the field. This grosses out a lot of people, while greatly impressing many young ball players who then take up the habit. Maybe if you would scold them they would clean up their act. Why must they chew?

DISGUSTED EX-FAN

DEAR DISGUSTED: Baseball players "chew" to keep their mouths moist and to relieve tension. Don't chew out the players — blame the cameramen who bring it into our living rooms. Spitting is not only unsightly, it's a health hazard.

Sensitivity to hair dye

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT — Several questions in your column have concerned problems with hair dyes. I am a cosmetology student, and one of the first things we are taught is to be alert for signs of analine-derivative tint sensitivity in our customers. Symptoms can include swelling, itchy red spots, tiny blisters, headaches and vomiting. Changing brands can sometimes help the problem, but receiving a patch test before the administration of hair dye is the best way to determine sensitivity.

DEAR READER — I am grateful for your comments. I'm glad that analine sensitivity has received the attention it deserves in cosmetology schools. Thank you for writing.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What causes freckles?

DEAR READER — Freckles are genetically determined, hereditary collections of spotty skin pigmentation. They are harmless and do not need treatment. Nonetheless, people who freckle are often sensitive to sunlight; ultraviolet radiation usually makes freckles more prominent by stimulating the further production of skin pigment. Some patients with freckles have a tendency to develop skin cancers, so these people should check with a doctor if freckles enlarge, darken or bleed.

DEAR DR. GOTT — What different information can my doctor obtain from a CAT scan, a PET scan and a bone scan? I have arthritis, advanced osteoporosis and active adult scoliosis.

DEAR READER — A CAT (computed tomography, or CT) scan is a form of X-ray study that can show internal body structures with amazing clarity. It's the clarity that makes the scan superior to traditional X-ray tests.

A PET (positron-emission tomography) scan is also a computerized X-ray technique. It changes gamma rays from injected (or inhaled) radioactive tracers into pictures. To a greater extent than CT scans, PET scans indicate the function of the organ to be examined because, in order to make a picture, the tracer must be absorbed by tissue. To a degree, the traditional bone scan does the same thing. It is simpler, less expensive and does not give the same amount of detail as a PET scan. However, it is more readily available in most small hospitals.

The CT scan will show the structure of bone and whether cracks and fractures are present. The PET scan will indicate whether the bones have a uniform function; that is, whether there are areas of poor metabolism, bone damage or poor circulation to bone. The primary value of bone scans is to show if the bone contains "hot spots," indicating a tumor or an undiagnosed fracture.

Of course, I've given you a very simplified overview. Your doctor, working with a radiologist, is the best judge of what particular type of test you need, depending on what is being looked for and which techniques are available in your community.

If you have questions about MENOPAUSE, you can get answers in Dr. Gott's new Health Report on the subject. Send $1 to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to ask for the Health Report on Menopause.

Seven-year-old case now over

AUSTIN (AP) — For seven years until last week, police were unable to identify a murder victim whose head was found floating in Town Lake.

On Monday, they said they had laid the case to rest with the discovery that the killer died of natural causes last year without ever being suspected of a crime.

"I'm satisfied, and my superiors are satisfied, that the case is over," said Austin police Sgt. James Beck, who investigated the case since the beginning.

The remains of 30-year-old Mahlon Ray Turner, whose head was found in the lake June 29, 1980, were buried in his Oklahoma hometown near the Texas border.

Prepare lasagna, freeze and bake at a later date

TURKEY LASAGNA — Here's a dish you can put together, freeze in individual portions, and then take out and bake. (AP Photo)

By NANCY BYAL
Better Homes and Gardens
Food Editor

With this convenient recipe, you can keep dinner on hand in the freezer — one serving, six servings or anything in between.

TURKEY LASAGNA

4 lasagna noodles
1 pound ground raw turkey
¼ cup chopped onion
1 clove garlic, minced
7½-ounce can tomatoes, cut up
15-ounce can tomato sauce
½ teaspoon dried basil, crushed
¼ teaspoon dried oregano, crushed
4-ounce can mushroom stems and pieces, drained
1 cup ricotta cheese
2 tablespoons snipped parsley
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese
2 tablespoons skim milk
⅛ teaspoon pepper
¾ cup shredded mozzarella cheese

Cook noodles according to package directions; drain. Meanwhile, cook turkey, onion and garlic until meat is brown. Drain off fat, if necessary. Stir in undrained tomatoes, tomato sauce, basil and oregano. Bring to boiling; reduce heat. Simmer, uncovered, 10 minutes. Stir in mushrooms. Stir together ricotta, parsley, Parmesan, milk and pepper.

Arrange half the noodles in bottom of a 10-by 6-by 2-inch baking dish. Spread with half the meat mixture. Layer remaining noodles, all the ricotta mixture and remaining meat mixture. Sprinkle with mozzarella. Cover dish; freeze 1½ to 2 hours or until nearly firm. Remove from freezer. Cut into 6 portions. Transfer each piece to a lightly greased individual casserole. Seal, label and freeze. Makes 6 single-serving entrees.

Conventional oven: Bake frozen casseroles, covered, in 375-degree oven 50 minutes. Uncover; bake 10 minutes or until heated through. Let stand 5 minutes.

Microwave oven: For 1 serving, remove freezer wrapping and cover with microwavesafe vented plastic wrap. Cook, covered, at 70 percent power (medium-high) 8 to 9 minutes, giving dish a half turn after 4 minutes. Cook 2 servings 14 to 16 minutes, giving dishes a half turn after every 4 minutes.

Whale-dolphin hybrid is two years old in Hawaii

HONOLULU (AP) — In some ways, it was a showbiz romance, Hawaiian style.

I'anui Kahei and his girlfriend Punahele were the leads in a popular tourist water show. Unknown to those around them, the two became more than just friends. Punahele bore I'anui Kahei a baby.

The product of their union — all 400 pounds of her — celebrated its second birthday recently.

Four hundred pounds?

You see, I'anui Kahei is a hefty 14-foot, 2,000-pound false killer whale and Punahele a demure 6-foot, 400-pound- Atlantic bottlenose dolphin.

The result of their mating was a rare hybrid born in 1985 at Sea Life Park, outside Honolulu.

The park's staff dubbed the creature a "wholphin," and named it Keikaimalu, which in Hawaiian means "From the Peaceful Ocean."

Keikaimalu is the world's only known wholphin. The only similar birth occurred in 1981 at Sea World in Tokyo, but the hybrid died about 200 days later.

Ingrid Shallenberger, curator of the park's mammals for 21 years, said that the romantic encounter surprised park officials.

Shallenberger said dolphins and false killer whales perform during the day and are left unsupervised in the same tank during the romantic tropical nights.

"It (the cross mating) was something we had talked about half-seriously," she said. "We didn't really think it would happen but we were aware of the possibility.

"When the baby was born, it was very obvious right away to us that that's what had happened," she said.

So far, Keikaimalu looks like a whale with her dark body and face, but acts and swims like a dolphin. Her forehead resembles the false killer whale's while the tip of her snout is rounded like a dolphin's. She also has the dolphin's flipper and dorsal fin design.

Curators are attempting to wean the 2-year-old. Shallenberger says Keikaimalu already equals her mother in size, making it difficult for Punahele to produce enough milk for her baby.

In addition to mother's milk, Keikaimalu eats 15 to 20 pounds of herring and smelt a day.

Shallenberger said officials hope eventually to have father, mother and offspring performing in the park's water show.

Compounded errors

By James Jacoby

After West had made a pre-emptive bid of four spades, he committed a bridge sin. When the opponents bid five diamonds, he bid again. Not only did that ignore the fact that he had a partner, but it also gave the opposition more bidding room. North could now pass five spades, saying to partner, "If you have a fairly good hand, we might even have a slam." So South did bid six clubs, corrected to diamonds by North. It certainly seems OK for East to double that contract, but that too was questionable, since it provided declarer with the information he needed in order to bring in a touch-and-go contract. Here's how.

After winning dummy's spade ace, declarer took a club finesse. Then he led the 10 of diamonds from dummy, covered by East with the jack, and won with the ace. The king of hearts was overtaken with dummy's ace and all of the club tricks were taken with repeated finesses. East had to follow to all four clubs. Next a heart was played to dummy's queen and a heart ruffed. Declarer's second spade was now ruffed small in dummy, and East had to follow. The lead of dummy's last heart left East with the Q-9-7 of trumps. Declarer held the 8-6-4 and dummy the K-5. East was doomed — he could ruff with the queen but would now have to lead away from the 9-7, giving declarer the last two tricks and his contract.

A new book by James Jacoby and his father, the late Oswald Jacoby, is now available at bookstores. It is "Jacoby on Card Games," published by Pharos Books.

Kramer back for 1987 debut; QB used patients as receivers

MANKATO, Minn. (AP) - During the last month, Tommy Kramer was one of the Hazelden Foundation's most popular residents - even if he did give out as many bruises as autographs.

Hazelden's rehabilitation center, which treats people for substance abuse, was the quarterback's home for 28 days after a July 24 arrest for driving while intoxicated.

"I signed a lot of autographs, but I expected that," said Kramer, the NFL's top-rated passer in 1986 who on Monday made his 1987 training camp debut. "But when we had meetings in our unit, I was treated just like everybody else."

Kramer, 32, coming off the best of his 10 NFL seasons, didn't want to lose his edge during the month of treatment for alcohol abuse. So he made receivers out of the other patients at the Center City, Minn., facility.

"Most of the guys in my unit there wanted to catch," he said after a morning workout. "One ran several patterns but never did catch anything. But one of the guys up there since my first day made a marked improvement."

Many of his Hazelden receivers took their shirts off during workouts, Kramer said. And "a lot of the guys ended up with little stars on their chests ... and bruises all over their arms."

Asked what the difference was between the Kramer of a month ago and today's post-treatment version, he said: "There's not anything that you would notice."

But he added that he would probably be a more private person.

"The things I do in my personal life, I'm going to try to make them more personal," he said.

Kramer refused to answer questions about his alcohol problem, saying he doesn't want his personal life aired publicly.

He is scheduled to appear at a pretrial hearing Sept. 21 before Hennepin County District Judge Delores Orey. Last week, Kramer pleaded innocent to the DWI charge and if a settlement can't be reached, he would face a jury trial.

Kramer, whose last game came as the NFC's starter in the Pro Bowl, led the NFL with a passing proficiency rating of 92.6. He completed 208 of 372 passes for 3,000 yards and 24 touchdowns while throwing only 10 interceptions in leading the Vikings to a 9-7 record.

After two practices Monday, he felt "a little behind" but said he is confident that his workouts at Hazelden helped prepare him for the Sept. 13 season opener.

Giants express concern over high cancer rate

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (AP) - The New York Giants, who have had four players stricken by cancer within the past eight years, say they would welcome testing of the stadium area for contaminants.

"We would not be opposed to anything that would make people feel safer," Giants General Manager George Young said Monday.

Reports implying the area was unsafe are "highly irresponsible," said Jon Hanson, chairman of the New Jersey Sports and Exposition Authority, which owns and runs the Meadowlands complex in which Giants Stadium stands.

Meanwhile, Mark Murphy, vice president of the National Football League Players Association, said the union would like its next collective bargaining agreement to include a study of mortality rates at all NFL stadiums.

Murphy expressed concern at the number of cancer cases on the Giants' team.

"Certainly something should be done here," said Murphy, who was at the Giants' training camp at Pleasantville, N.Y. "The numbers indicate that. Who knows what it's from?"

Murphy was in camp to talk with players about negotiations to replace a contract that will expire at the end of the month. The NFLPA brought up the idea of the mortality studies earlier this year.

Giants' tackle Karl Nelson was diagnosed last week as having Hodgkin's disease, a cancer of the lymphatic system. Two other Giants players died of cancer, while one recovered.

Defensive end George Martin, the Giants' player representative and a member of the NFLPA executive committee, also endorsed the plan for testing around all NFL stadiums.

Hanson said in a prepared statement that reports linking the cancer cases to the stadium "are totally without foundation, and are based upon a combination of innuendo, false inference, factual inaccuracy and uninformed speculation."

While the complex is constructed on a former landfill, he said, there is no evidence of toxic materials at the site.

"Toxics, including mercury, have been found in land adjacent to the complex," he said, adding that the tract is separated from the complex by berms constructed of trucked-in fill.

He said personnel records indicate no pattern of unusual cancer incidence among the 100 authority employees who work full-time at Giants Stadium.

Paul Wolcott, an authority spokesman, said a review of the records on Monday showed only that a part-time worker at Brendan Byrne Arena, a building adjacent to the stadium, had contracted cancer.

The team moved into Giants Stadium in 1976, and the first cancer case on the team was diagnosed early in 1980 when linebacker Dan Lloyd was found to have lymphoma. He recovered, but was forced to give up football.

Running back Doug Kotar was diagnosed as having a brain tumor in August 1982. He died 16 months later at age 32.

Running back John Tuggle was found to have a tumor in his shoulder in 1984. It eventually spread to his lungs and he died at age 25 last August.

Another person watching the Giants' situation very carefully was Clark Gaines, an NFLPA staff member.

Two years ago, a benign brain tumor was discovered in Gaines' head. At the time, he was a coach with the New Jersey Generals of the now-defunct United States Football League. The team played at Giants Stadium.

"I never associated my condition with it," he said. "I think studies should be done. Do you have to wait for another possible death?"

Baylor wants third straight bowl game

WACO, Texas (AP) - Baylor Coach Grant Teaff says the 1987 Bears want to become the first team in the school's history to go to three straight bowl games.

Teaff told the media on the Southwest Conference press tour Monday "that would be something very meaningful for us to do."

Two years ago Baylor defeated Louisiana State in the Liberty Bowl and downed Colorado in the Bluebonnet Bowl last year.

"We can't be over anxious this year as many young teams are," Teaff said. "This is not 1986 when we went into the season knowing we could overpower people."

He added "the lack of experience doesn't scare us as much as the lack of experienced leadership. We have a lot of people to replace on defense."

"We only have four players in the entire secondary who have ever stepped on a college football field. We hope all four of them will be our starters. Behind them are a group of four true freshmen who some day will be good players but they have a long way to go," Teaff said.

Teaff said Baylor must control the ball offensively to help the defense.

He said he could shuttle Ed Lovell and Brad Goebel "if we feel it was necessary. We might use some form of the shuttle again. It remains to be seen."

Teaff said Baylor could go to a bowl game if it jells quickly.

"I think this team has what it takes to go to a bowl game," Teaff said. "We need to grow up in a hurry and that will be difficult with two of the first three games on the road."

Teaff picked Arkansas as the SWC favorite "based on the fact that they have so many people coming back and they play us at home. I would pick A&M to win it but they have to play us in Waco. So, I give Arkansas the nod based on that."

Twins home and winning; Texas ties up Kansas City

by The Associated Press

Steve Lombardozzi says none of the Minnesota Twins is Superman. They just seem more powerful than a locomotive and faster than a speeding bullet when playing at home at the Metrodome.

Kent Hrbek's bases-loaded single with one out in the ninth inning Monday night scored Lombardozzi and gave Minnesota a 5-4 victory over Detroit, snapping the Twins' six-game losing streak.

The Twins, first in the American League West by two games over Oakland, had lost all six games on the road in Detroit and Boston. They are now 43-18 at the Metrodome and 24-42 on the road.

"It's a big night just to put an end to the skid," Lombardozzi said. "We had a talk before the game and nobody was going to try to be Superman. We are all in this together."

Reliever Eric King, 6-9, gave up a leadoff single to Lombardozzi. King was relieved by Willie Hernandez, and Randy Bush advanced Lombardozzi to second with a sacrifice. Al Newman followed with a single sending Lombardozzi to third and Kirby Puckett was intentionally walked. Hrbek then lined Hernandez's first pitch to center field to score the winning run.

Jeff Reardon, 6-6, pitched the final inning for the victory.

Elsewhere, Toronto defeated Seattle 7-3, New York edged California 4-3 in 11 innings, Oakland beat Baltimore 7-3, Texas tripped Kansas City 4-2 and Chicago defeated Boston 6-3.

Rangers 4, Royals 2

Bobby Witt limited the Royals to three hits while walking eight batters in 7 1-3 innings and Scott Fletcher drove in two runs for Texas at Kansas City.

Witt, 7-6, was relieved by Mitch Williams after throwing two balls to Lonnie Smith with one out in the eighth.

Blue Jays 7, Mariners 3

Ernie Whitt and Tony Fernandez hit home runs as Toronto defeated Seattle at the Kingdome to move into a virtual tie for first place with Detroit in the AL East. The Tigers have a percentage of .593 and Toronto is at .592.

Toronto starter John Cerutti, 10-3, took a six-hit shutout into the eighth, but Jim Presley hit a run-scoring triple and Dave Valle homered to make it 7-3. Mark Eichhorn got the last out of the inning and finished the game.

Athletics 7, Orioles 3

Terry Steinbach's two-out, two-run single sparked a five-run sixth inning, and Greg Cadaret pitched five innings of hitless relief as Oakland defeated visiting Baltimore.

Mike Boddicker, 9-7, took the loss.

Yankees 3, Angels 2

Mike Pagliarulo's two-out double in the 11th inning scored Claudell Washington from second base and lifted New York over California at Anaheim.

Washington walked leading off against left-hander Gary Lucas, 1-3, and moved to second on Don Mattingly's grounder before scoring on Pagliarulo's drive down the right-field line.

Charles Hudson, 9-3, pitched one-hit ball in four innings after relieving starter Tommy John. After Hudson walked George Hendrick with [illegible] out in the 11th, Dave Righetti came on for his 23rd save.

White Sox 6, Red Sox 3

Carlton Fisk hit his 100th career home run at Fenway Park and Greg Walker added a two-run homer, his 23rd, as Chicago beat Boston.

Jose DeLeon, 7-11, defeated Boston for the second time in a week.

Ladies test CHS tonight

ABILENE -- Snyder's Lady Tigers are scheduled in a three-match volleyball series with Abilene Cooper here this evening.

The action starts at 5 p.m. when freshmen teams take the floor. They will be followed by junior varsity squads at 6:30 p.m. and varsity units at 7:30 p.m.

The contest will be the sixth for Coach Vicki Nelms' Lady Tigers, who are 3-2 on the season. The Tiger JV is 3-1 while Snyder's freshmen are 1-0.

U.S. Amateur a major event notes Palmer

JUPITER, Fla. (AP) - Anyone who doesn't consider the U.S. Amateur as one of golf's major championships better not try to convince Arnold Palmer, who is mighty proud of having won the title in 1954.

"It's one of the most difficult tournaments I've ever played in and won," Palmer said at the PGA Championship in nearby Palm Beach Gardens earlier this month. "Of all the championships, it deserves the category of a major."

A field of 288 golfers culled from 4,084 entries were set for today's opening round of this year's Amateur, at Jupiter Hills Country Club.

Defending champion Buddy Alexander and two-time winner Jay Siegel head the field for the six-day event. Alexander, the golf coach at Louisiana State University, beat Wake Forest golfer Chris Kite last year to win the title at Shoal Creek in Alabama. Kite has since turned pro.

Siegel, of Newton Square, Pa., captured the title in 1984 and 1985.

The field was scheduled to begin 36 holes of medal play today on the two par-72 courses at Jupiter Hills. After each golfer plays one round on the 6,915-yard Hills course and one on the 6,542-yard Village Course, the field will be cut to the top 64 players for the match-play competition.

The field will be cut to 32 players in the first day of match play. The champion will have to survive two rounds Friday and two rounds Saturday before a 36-hole final match-play round for the title.

Most of the field earned spots in the Amateur at 64 qualifying tournaments, although 14 players had exemptions into the event. Among those are 17-year-old Brett Quigley of Barrington, R.I. and 57-year-old Bo Williams of Ocala. Quigley won the United States Golf Association Junior Amateur and Williams won the USGA Senior Amateur.

Other notable players in the field include NCAA champion Brian Watts of Oklahoma State, 1986 Amateur Public Links champion Billy Mayfair of Arizona State and Gary Nicklaus, a son of Jack Nicklaus.

NL races keep close with sharp pitching

by The Associated Press

Welcome, the San Francisco Giants said to Rick Reuschel.

Welcome back, the New York Mets said to Rick Aguilera.

Glad to have you back, the Houston Astros said to Bob Knepper.

All three pitchers had strong outings Monday night to keep the two National League division races close.

San Francisco beat Philadelphia 6-1 as Reuschel allowed five hits in seven innings in his first appearance for the Giants after they acquired him in a trade with Pittsburgh last Friday.

The Giants remained a half-game ahead of Houston in the West as the Astros defeated St. Louis 5-2 behind Knepper's seven-hitter and first complete game of the season. Knepper has a 4-1 record and an earned run average of 3.29 in his last six appearances after a 3-12 start.

The New York Mets moved within 3½ games of the first-place Cardinals in the East with a 1-0 victory over Los Angeles. Aguilera, in his first appearance since May 20, returned from an elbow injury to shut out the Dodgers on four hits for 7 2-3 innings.

In the only other NL game, Pittsburgh defeated Cincinnati 5-4.

The Giants got 12 hits against starter Bruce Ruffin, 10-10, and three relievers.

Reuschel, 9-6 with a 2.69 ERA this season after shoulder surgery nearly ended his career in 1982, struck out a season-high eight batters and walked none as he won his first game since beating the Giants on July 22.

"I'm basically excited just still being in the game when I was almost gone just three years ago," he said. "I'm excited because I have a chance to help out down the stretch."

Astros 5, Cardinals 2

Knepper pitched his first complete game since Aug. 15, 1986 as Houston won for the 10th time in 11 games.

Knepper, 7-13, who beat the Cardinals for the second time in five days, had a 6.35 ERA before his turnaround.

"At the All-Star break, I was just thankful for the three days off," Knepper said. "I worked so hard between starts trying to figure out what was wrong, but nothing seemed to work."

Rookie Joe Magrane, 6-6, was the loser, allowing two runs on five hits in seven innings.

Mets 1, Dodgers 0

New York got the only run it needed against Los Angeles when Keith Hernandez singled in the fourth inning.

Aguilera, 5-2, who sprained a ligament in his right elbow and was placed on the disabled list on May 21, retired 15 consecutive batters from the third inning until the eighth, when Glenn Hoffman singled with two outs.

"My goal was to give seven strong innings, and hope that I was effective," Aguilera said. "The biggest problem I could have now is to worry about the injury reoccurring. I'm just gonna forget about it, and hope it stays sound."

Randy Myers got the last out in the eighth and Roger McDowell pitched the ninth for his 19th save.

Pirates 5, Reds 4

Pittsburgh snapped a four-game losing streak and extended Cincinnati's string of losses to five as Bobby Bonilla hit a three-run homer and Doug Drabek allowed seven hits in seven innings.

Drabek, 6-10, won for the fourth time in his last five decisions as the Pirates won at home against the Reds for the first time in 10 games since Aug. 22, 1985.

The Reds' Tom Browning, 5-11, took the loss.

Makeup physicals scheduled Sept. 1

Makeup physicals for boys and girls needing them will be given on Sept. 1 at 5:30 p.m. in the junior high school.

Each student will need a physical form, available at the high school field house or the high school athletic director's office.

NOTICE OF PROPOSED SETTLEMENT

In November of 1986, two classes, the first defined as all mexican-americans eligible to presently or in the future vote in elections for trustees to the Snyder Independent School District, and the second defined as all blacks eligible to presently or in the future vote in the elecions for trustees to the Snyder Independent School District, were certified by the court in Malone, et al v. Snyder Independent School District, et al, Civil Action No. CA5-85-259, pending in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas, Lubbock Division. After lengthy negotiation, the parties to the above-referenced law suit reached a proposed settlement.

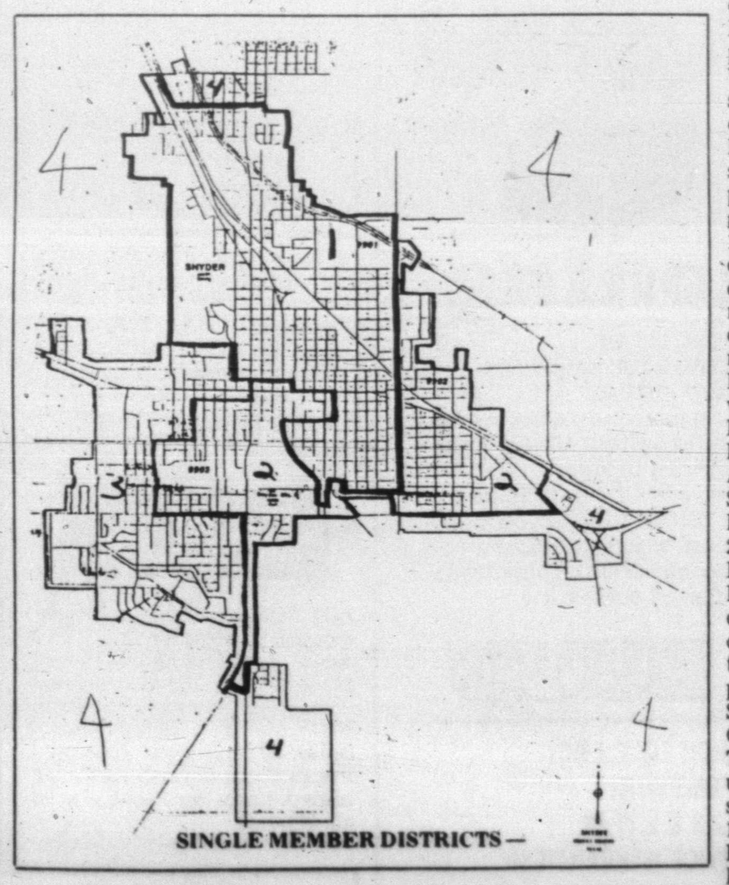

Under the agreement, a new method of electing trustees to the Snyder Independent School District was tentatively adopted. The size of the school district remains at seven members. However, four of the seven members shall be elected from single-member districts, and the remaining three positions shall be elected, simultaneously, at-large and by plurality vote.

All single-member district elections shall be by majority vote. Each registered and qualified voter properly voting in an election for a representative from a single-member district may cast only one ballot for any particular candidate running within that district. With regard to the at-large positions, each registered and qualified voter may cast up to three ballots; however, no more than one ballot may be cast for any one candidate.

The term of the trustees shall remain at three years, except for those who were elected at-large during the April, 1987 elections. Furthermore, each candidate for a trustee position must, at the time of the election and during his or her term of office, live within the Snyder Independent School District. Each candidate seeking to represent a single-member district must, at the time of the election and during his or her term of office, live within his or her respective district and within the Snyder Independent School District. For instance, all candidates seeking to represent District No. 1 must reside within District No. 1 at the time of the election, and, if successfully elected, during his or her term of office. If a trustee occupying a district seat moves out of his district or out of the Snyder Independent School District or if a trustee occupying an at-large position moves out of the Snyder Independent School District, or if any trustee dies in office or resigns then that seat is immediately declared vacant.

An alternate voting plan has also been tentatively adopted. The system, based upon five single-member districts and two at-large, will be implemented depending upon the outcome of that one suit styled Legal of United Latin-American Citizens v. Midland Independent School District; Civil Action. No. MO-85-CA-001 (W.D. Tex.). The Honorable Halbert O. Woodward, Judge, will be asked to consider the alternate as well as the primary plan.

The parties hope to install the new voting plan by the next general trustee elections in 1988. Any member of the above defined class who objects to this plan must file the objection in writing, specifically stating their reason for the objection, with the Honorable Halbert O. Woodward, Judge, United States District Court, Room C210, Federal Building, 1205 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, TX 79401, Mr. Tomas Garza, Attorney for the Classes, 820 Avenue H, Suite 2, Lubbock, Texas 79401, and Mr. Brian P. Quinn, 1722 Broadway, Lubbock, Texas 79401, Attorney for the Snyder Independent School District. All objectons must be received by the Court, Mr. Garza and Mr. Quinn no later than October 7th, 1987. As the Court has scheduled a hearing on the above-referenced settlement agreement for Wednesday, October 14, 1987 at 1:00 p.m. o'clock in the United States District Courthouse, in San Angelo, Texas, and may hold a hearing on any objection filed. Anyone filing a objection must appear at the Federal Courthouse in San Angelo at that time and be prepared to present the objection in open court. If they do not, the objection may be waived.

SINGLE MEMBER DISTRICTS —

AVISO DE ARREGLO PROPUESTO

En noviembre de 1986, dos clases, la primera definida como todos mexico-americanos elegible para votar actualmente o en el futuro en elecciones del Consejo Escolar del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder, y el segundo definido como toda la gente negra elegible para votar actualmente o en el futuro en elecciones del Consejo Escolar del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder, fueron certificadas por el tribunal en Malone, et alii contra Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder, et alii, Causa Civil Num. CA5-85-259, pendiente en el Tribunal Regional de los Estados Unidos Americanos del Distrito Norteno de Texas, Division de Lubbock. Despues de negociaciones extensas, los interesados de la disputa sobredicha llegaron a un arreglo propuesto. Segun el arreglo, un nuevo metodo de elegir miembros para el Consejo Escolar del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder se adopto provisionalmente. El tamano del distrito escolar permanece a siete miembros. Sin embargo, cuatro de los siete miembros se elegiran de distritos unimiembros, and los puestos que sobran se elegiran, simultaneamente, en general y por voto pluralitario.

Todas elecciones de distrito unimiembro se llevaran a cabo por voto mayoritario. Cada votante registrado y calificado votando apropiandamente en una eleccion para representativo de un distrito uni-miembro puede dar solamente una votacion por cualquier candidato en particular que procura ese distrito. Con respecto a los puestos generales, cada votante registrado y calificado puede dar hasta tres votaciones; sin embargo, nada mas que una votacion se le puede dar a cualquier candidato.

El termino de los miembros del consejo escolar permanecera a tres anos, con excepcion de esos quienes se elegieron en general durante las elecciones de abril de 1987. Ademas, cada candidato para un puesto del consejo escolar tendra que, a la hora de la eleccion y durante su mandato del oficio, vivir dentro del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder. Cada candidato que procura representar un distrito uni-miembro tendra que,a la hora de la eleccion y durante su mandato del oficio, vivir dentro de su distrito respectivo y dentro del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder. Por ejemplo, todos los candidatos que procuran representar Distrito Num. 1 tienen que residir dentro del Distrito Num. 1 a la hora de la eleccion, y, si elegido con exito, durante el termino de su oficio. Si un miembro del consejo escolar que ocupa un puesto se mueve fuera de su distrito o fuera del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder o si un miembro que ocupa un puesto en general se mueve fuera del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder, o si cualquier miembro del consejo escolar se muere miemtras ocupa el oficio o renuncia su puesto, entonces ese puesto se inmediatamente declara libre.

Un plan alternativo de votacion tambien se ha adoptado provisionalmente. El sistema, basado en cinco distritos unimiembros y dos en general, se llevara a cabo segun el resultado de ese litigio titulado Liga de Ciudadanos Latino-Americanos Unidos contra el Distrito Escolar Independiente de Midland; Causa Civil Num. MO-85-CA-001 (W.D. Tex.). Se le pedira al Honorable Halbert O. Woodward, Juez, que consiedere el alternativo tanto como el plan primario.

Los interesados esperan instalar el nuevo plan de votacion paara las proximas elecciones generales del consejo escolar en 1988. Cualquier miembro de las definidas clases sobredichas que protesta este plan tiente que registrar la protesta por escrito, declarando especificamente la razon por la protesta, con el Honorable Halbert O. Woodward, Juez, United States District Court, Room C210, Federal Building, 1205 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas 79401, Sr. Tomas Garza, Abogado de las clases, 820 Avenue H., Suite 2, Lubbock, Texas 79401 y el Sr. Brian P. Quinn, 1722 Broadway, Lubbock, Texas 79401, Abogado del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder. Todas protestas tendran que ser recibidas por el Tribunal, el Sr. Garza y el Sr. Quinn no despues del 7th de October, 1987. Asi que el Tribunal ha fijado la hora para una vista acerca del arreglo sobredicho el 14th de October 1987 a la/las 1:00 p.m. en el Palacio Regional de Justicia de los Estados Unidos Americanos, San Angelo, Condado de Tom Green, Texas, y podra escuchar cualquier protesta registrada.

Cualquiera que registra una protesta tene que presentarse en el Palacio Federal de Justicia en San Angelo a la hora fijada y estar preparado para presentar las protesta en pleno tribunal. Si no se cumple con esto, la protesta podra ser renunciada.

Wrecks occur near same time, location

Two noon-time traffic crack-ups within eight minutes of each other in northern Snyder Monday left four people injured, none critically, although a Snyder woman remained hospitalized Tuesday.

Barbara Ann Childs, 27, of Rt. 3, Box A-415, was listed in satisfactory condition at Cogdell Memorial Hospital, where she was taken following a 12:14 p.m. collision in the 2200 Block of Merrill.

Involved vehicles were the 1986 Chevrolet two-door she was driving and a 1979 Ford pickup driven by Ruben S. Olivo of Box 175, Snyder.

Police said Olivo and a passenger in the Childs car had minor injuries but declined medical attention.

In the second mishap, a 1983 Cadillac two-door driven by Arthur Michael Donnelly of Irving was in collision with a southbound Freightliner tractor-trailer rig driven by Thonius Robinson III of Baton Rouge, La., at the intersection of Huffman Ave. and U.S. 84.

Donnelly sustained minor cuts but declined medical attention.

No one was injured when a 1983 GMC Suburban driven by Jackie Wright Womack Jr. of Box 1257, Snyder, was in collision with a parked 1981 Buick Skylark owned by Layva Ramiro of 416 24th St. at 5:01 p.m. Monday at a paint and body shop in the 700 Block of 25th St.

Assault charge prompts arrest

A 19-year-old Snyder man was arrested for unlawfully carrying a weapon and Class C assault after police answered a disturbance call in the 100 Block of Hickory at 11:18 p.m. Monday.

Officers said a woman who was involved in the incident came to the police station and filed an assault charge against the man, who was arrested at 11:30 p.m. in the 1500 Block of Canyon.

Youth escapes wreck injuries

A 16-year-old Snyder youth escaped serious injury when the car he was driving went out of control and rolled 1 ½ times on a county road south of the city, the Department of Public Safety reported Tuesday.

A DPS trooper said John Eric Menges of 3001 Crockett was going north on County Road 473, less than 1 mile south of U.S. 84 and 3.7 miles south of Snyder, at 11 p.m. Saturday. Reports indicate his 1981 Mazda GLC went off the west side of the road and overturned, stopping in a field.

The city of Nome, Alaska, was destroyed by fire in 1934.

Evening classes begin at 6:30 p.m. Thursday and day classes at 8 a.m. Friday.

Students are asked to follow the surname schedule for registration given at the top of the printed fall schedule.

Registration begins in the Learning Resource Center, and students beginning registration are to show a current Texas driver's license or voter registration card as proof of Texas residency. Tuition and fees may be paid wth VISA or Mastercard.

Grass fires noted

City firemen extinguished three grass fires Monday, none of which occupied them for more than a brief time.

The first was a fire in a vacant lot at 10:57 a.m. at 21st St. and Ave. K, and the second was at 12:06 p.m. four miles west of Snyder off U.S. 180 near a storage shed.

Firemen were summoned to a grass fire on the Criswell Ranch in northeastern Scurry County at 4:10 p.m., but ranch employees had it "mostly out" by the time they arrived, a spokesman said.

Private school might become low-risk prison

BRYAN, Texas (AP) — The students may leave, and the convicts may move in to a 31-acre historic private school, officials say.

Earlier this month, federal officials met with Bryan community leaders to discuss converting the Allen Academy to a minimum-security prison camp, the Houston Chronicle reported Monday.

"It's going to be a club-Fed type of facility," said Don Miller, dean of students. "The (federal) folks already said they will go head-to-head with Texas A&M for the prettiest campus in town."

Hance appointed to TRC position

KENT HANCE

LUBBOCK, Texas (AP) — Vowing to "fight for the roughnecks" throughout the state, former U.S. Rep. Kent Hance accepted an appointment to the Texas Railroad Commission.

Hance, twice rejected by voters in bids for statewide office, was appointed by Gov. Bill Clements to replace Democrat Mack Wallace, who is resigning.

"I will fight for the roughnecks and oil field workers throughout the state of Texas," Hance said Monday as he announced his acceptance.

Hance, 44, will become the first Republican on the three-member panel that regulates the trucking and oil and gas industries.

He said he promised Clements he would run for the commission post in 1988 to complete Wallace's unexpired term, which ends in 1990. Hance said he made no commitment about a 1990 race.

"We agreed that 1990 is just too far in the future," Hance said. "So many things can happen in two years."

Hance said his acceptance of the RRC job will force him to give up an earlier appointment from Clements to the Texas College and University Sytstem Coordinating Board. In addition, he said, he will have to sell his interest in the law firm in which he is currently a partner.

Hance said he plans to use his experience as a former congressman in the $70,000-a-year RRC post to exert influence in Washington on behalf of Texas energy producers. He said he plans to work with state and federal officials, as well as with members of the energy industry, to develop a policy to strengthen domestic energy production.

"We just can't afford to let the oil and gas industry go down the drain, considering the national security and economic importance of the industry. We're on the verge of losing the industry if we don't do something, and we just can't let that happen," he said.

Democrats who rapped the appointment said Hance might be using the position to re-ignite a stalled political career. Hance was defeated by Lloyd Doggett of Austin in the 1984 Democratic race for a U.S. Senate nominee. Republican Phil Gramm defeated Doggett for the seat.

In 1986, after jumping to the GOP, Hance ran third in the Republican gubernatorial primary, which was won by Clements.

"Finally, by the grace of the least credible governor in recent history, Kent Hance holds statewide office," said Bob Slagle of Sherman, chairman of the Texas Democratic Party, "even though he has yet to become a statewide elected official."

"Perhaps he will use this office as a stepping stone for higher office in 1990," Slagle said.

Hance said, "Who knows what might be down the road? I learned a long time ago in politics never to say never."

Clements was vacationing in Aspen, Colo., Monday but released a statement in which he called Hance "an experienced legislator, a dedicated public servant, a man of much talent and ability."

Hance operates a law practice with the Dallas-based Boyd, Veigel & Hance law firm and has lobbied on behalf of oil interests, a fact noted Monday by state Rep. Clint Hackney, D-Houston, who is a 1988 candidate for the commission seat that Hance will get.

"It is a typical appointment for the Clements administration, where he chooses someone who has ties to the industry being regulated, which is akin to a fox guarding the henhouse," Hackney said.

He called Hance "a man of no convictions."

City budget passes reading

ing a group of 80 individuals to shoulder some $95,000 in cuts in the budget in addition to requiring them to pay higher utility rates and city taxes.

"The 4 percent cut really hurt my family," she wrote, asking councilmen to "spread the (budget cuts) through the community, not 80 employees."

During budget discussions, council members remarked that the budget shortfall was a "shared problem" and directed that it be addressed in the three areas in an attempt to spread its effects.

The first reading of the $4.4 million budget passed by a 5-1 vote with Ralph Williamson the lone councilman voting against it. The exact figure is $4,454,809.

Williamson said after the meeting he voted against the budget because he disagreed with the 4 percent pay cut. He said he would have preferred the city use a portion of its undesignated funds rather than cut pay for staffers.

Williamson was out of town when council budget decisions related to the pay cuts were made.

Voting in favor of the budget were council members Paul Zeck, Fred Castillo, Mike Post, John Johnson and Fowler. Mayor Troy Williamson, who presided, was not required to vote.

Before the budget is final, it requires a second reading and vote.

In other budget-related matters Monday, the council proposed a city tax rate for the coming year of 29.2 cents per $100 valuation and indicated it would schedule a public hearing related to this rate Sept. 1.

The old city tax rate is 25½ cents per $100 valuation, a level the city has maintained the past three years. The last city tax increase was more than 10 years ago.

Assuming a $50,000 home, the new rate will generate a tax bill of $146 as compared to the $127 bill using the old rate.

The utility rate increase included in the new budget will see service charges for water, sewer and sanitation go up some 20 percent.

The new minimum charge for residences inside the city limits for 2,000 gallons or less of water will be $5.05 and will be $1.25 per 1,000 gallons for amounts above the minimum. The current charges are $4.20 and $1.05 respectively.

For water charges outside the city limits, the charge will be $6.25 for 2,000 gallons or less and $1.40 per 1,000 gallons for amounts above this.

The new sewer rate will be $5.05 cents for a one bath home; $8.85 cents for a two-bath; and $12.65 for a three bath home. The current rates are $4.20, $7.35 and $10.50 respectively.

For sanitation pickups, the expense for a single family dwelling will go from $4.80 to $5.75. For a single business, the rate will go to $7.55 from $6.30.

Clayton Lonetree receives 30 years in spy incident

QUANTICO, Va. (AP) — A military jury sentenced Sgt. Clayton Lonetree to 30 years in prison rather than life, after attorneys for the first Marine charged with spying said he made a dumb mistake for revealing secrets to the Soviets.

Lonetree showed little emotion when the jury announced the sentence Monday after less than three hours of deliberations, said defense attorney William Kunstler, who promised to file an appeal.

New astronaut class interested in space

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The thought of becoming an astronaut first entered the mind of Dr. Mae C. Jemison while she watched the first lunar landing in school.

Her thoughts became a reality Monday. She not only became one of 15 new astronauts named to train at the Johnson Space Center, but also is the first black woman named to the intense one-year program. The class is the first since the Challenger disaster.

"I followed the space program and I was aware of it when I was young. I watched the Gemini and Apollo on TV in school," the 30-year-old Los Angeles physician said during an informal press briefing.

Childhood dreams of being astronauts also holds true for Lt. Cmdr. Bruce E. Melnick and C. Michael Foale.

"I can remember Alan Shepard's first space project," Melnick, 37, the first member of the U. S. Coast Guard chosen for the program, said. "I've always been enchanted with space. That was like in fifth grade and it didn't seem like it could be realistic, but now it is."

Foale, a payload officer at Johnson Space Center, said being an astronaut is something he has dreamed of doing since age 6.

"My American grandmother gave me books on space and ever since then I've been interested," the first native Englishman selected for the shuttle program said. His mother is from Minneapolis and his British father was a member of the Royal Air Force.

"I've had a goal to be an astronaut for a long time," the 30-year-old said.

Both men applied for the program three times.

Jemison does not consider being the first black woman named to the program a big issue.

"What I did, I did for myself," she said. "There wasn't a slot for a black woman. I was just very confident in myself. I was very happy when I was selected. It's something I've wanted to do a long time. I'm looking forward to it as another challenge." Her application for the program was her first.

Others named Monday for pilots were Capt. Andrew M. Allen, U.S. Marine Corps; Lt. Kenneth D. Bowersox, Lt. Cmdr. Kenneth S. Reightler, Jr., both U.S. Navy; Capt. Curtis L. Brown Jr., Maj. Kevin P. Chilton, Maj. Donald R. McMonagle, all U.S. Air Force; and William E. Readdy, an aerospace engineer and pilot at the Johnson Space Center.

Mission specialists include Jemison, Melnick, Foale, Capt. Thomas D. Akers, Air Force; Lt. Cmdr. Mario Runco Jr., Navy; Maj. James S. Voss, Army; Jan Davis, Ph.D., aerospace engineer at Marshall Space Flight Center in Hunstville, Ala.; and Gregory J. Harbaugh, manager, schedules and flow office at the Johnson Space Center.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration received 1,962 applications, from which 117 persons were interviewed and given medical examinations at the Johnson Space Center. The group is not expected to fly in space for another four to five years.

The Challenger disaster disturbed the new candidates, but the consensus said it only pointed out how much of a risk is involved in the space program.

"I didn't have any doubts," Jemison said. "There are things involved in all endeavors. It's something one is concerned about, but problems will be worked out. It didn't change my mind."

Ms. Davis, who has applied three times for the program, said she was aware of the risks involved when she first applied for the program three years ago.

Some enrolled without their knowledge

CORSICANA, Texas (AP) — An 82-year-old woman who made an A in dance class despite being confined to a wheelchair was one of hundreds of elderly persons enrolled at Navarro College without their knowledge, the Corsicana Daily Sun reported.

The junior college may have received up to $1 million in state funds for up to 700 residents of Freestone, Ellis and Navarro county nursing homes who received grades for classes they never attended, according to documents obtained by the newspaper.

Kenneth Ashworth, Texas Commissioner of Higher Education, told the newspaper the institution faces serious repercussions if the charges are true.

"If there is documentation to these allegations, it needs to be turned over to state investigators immediately," Ashworth said.

"I think that would be a question of state law that would have to be turned over to the state auditor and attorney general. If true, this is certainly fraudulent reporting and collecting of state funds."

College president Dr. Kenneth Walker denied any wrongdoing. The courses were designed as a service to the elderly citizens of the community, he said.

"I don't think whether we received funding is the issue," Walker told the newspaper. "I think what's more important is that when we found out about these allegations, we acted with integrity and honesty in putting a stop to the program immediately."

The alleged improprieties first came to light in July of 1985, and the programs were terminated that month, Walker said.

College officials said abuses in the nursing home program occurred only at Waxahachie's Renfro Nursing Home, where two women whose mothers were enrolled in college courses first complained about the program.

Jean Baker, director of special education for the Waxahachie Independent School District, told the Daily Sun her 82-year-old mother received credit for up to 15 hours of college courses she never attended. Her mother, who is confined to a wheelchair, realized she had been enrolled in college courses only after she received a grade report showing she had made straight A's, including a dance class, Mrs. Baker said.

Another woman, who asked that her name not be used, said her mother was also enrolled in classes at Renfro. The 84-year-old was so ill she could not sign her name, which prevented her from enrolling much less taking courses, the daughter said.

Nevertheless, she received straight A's in nine hours of college courses, her daughter said.

Rob Jones, a member of the Navarro College board of trustees who has clashed publicly with Walker over the management of the college, said college administrators were motivated by greed, not public service.

"The numbers said the programs were not just self-supporting, they were profitable, extremely profitable," Jones said. "They made millions of dollars."

Former academic dean Bill Rushing, who left the college after a dispute with Walker, conceded that the nursing home classes were less rigorous than the same courses offered on campus.

"They couldn't be," he said. "People in nursing homes are there for a reason. For the most part they aren't capable of taking college courses. We wouldn't have allowed one of our regular students to take the same courses that were being taught in the nursing homes."

C. Paul Green, Walker's assistant, reported after conducting an internal investigation in 1985 that activity director at Renfro Nursing Home had enrolled the patients there. He said that clock hours of class time probably were not met and that an inordinate amount of high grades were given.

Some of the classes couldn't have been held because the nursing home was undergoing renovation, and the activity room had been closed during the period when the classes were taught, Green said.

Undercover officials respond to criticism

MARLIN, Texas (AP) — Stung by criticism from U.S. Customs officals over a Midland County undercover investigation into international arms smuggling, two agents who set up the sting said the operation was authorized by the federal agency.

Responding to the criticism for the first time, undercover operatives Gary Howard, 39, and Ron Tucker, 40, said for Customs to challenge the legality of the sting and the credibility of Midland County Sheriff Gary Painter is unwarranted because the federal agency has known about the case almost since its inception.

"Customs in Newark, N.J., has known about the operation since last May," Howard said in an interview with the Marlin Daily Democrat Monday.

"Customs told the sheriff to run the operation. We can prove it beyond a doubt," Howard said.

The operation ended last Wednesday with the arrest of Victor Fonseca, 47, of Portugal when he arrived at Midland Airport to inspect what he had been led to believe were radar tools and spare parts for Iran's missile systems.

Fonseca remained in Midland County jail Monday in lieu of bond.

"It doesn't need defending. There's nothing wrong with it," Howard said of the sting, which U.S. Customs officials were quick to assail.

"We've got people involved in an international incident in the illegal traffic of the munitions of war and the Customs Service has a vested service in that," said Charles Conroy, Customs spokesman in Houston.

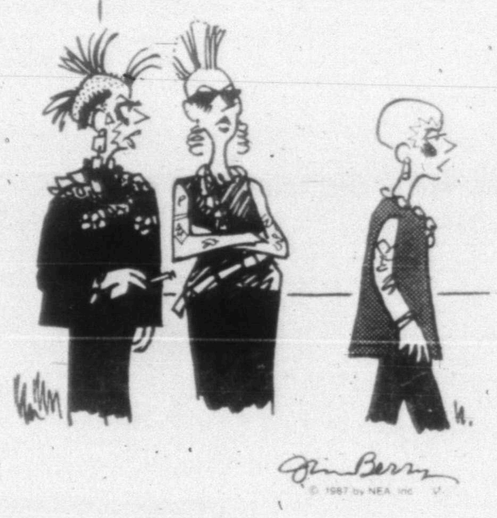

"The whole operation is highly questionable and highly unusual," said Dennis Murphey, a Customs spokesman in Washington. About Howard and Tucker, Murphey said, "Based on what we know now we wouldn't touch them with a 20-foot pole."

"If Customs thinks this was highly questionable and highly unusual maybe Customs ought to look at some of its own operations in Newark, N.J.," Tucker said. He would not elaborate.

As for credibility, Tucker said he is ready to "go toe-to-toe with Customs before an investigative committee." And Howard expressed willingness to take a lie detector test if Customs officials would take one first.

The passenger vessel Noronic was destroyed by fire at a dock in Toronto in 1949, killing 119 people. The fire broke out shortly after midnight when most of those aboard were asleep. The Noronic was the largest Canadian passenger ship ever placed in service on the Great Lakes.
