THE PROPOSED ROUTE FOR INTERSTATE 20 NORTH OF BIG SPRING

Heavy black line shows loop and tie-ins east and west of city

Plans For Interstate 20 Loop Are Outlined Here

Design and route for Interstate 20 around the northern fringe of Big Spring was detailed at a public hearing here Wednesday afternoon.

Jake Roberts, Abilene, district engineer for the Texas Highway Department, told a group of approximately two score people where the big road will go, where two-way frontage roads will be located, where the traffic interchanges will be, and located the take-off points from the present U. S. 80 east and west.

A dozen citizens made observations at the hearing in the County Courtroom, and afterwards several spent time with Roberts and his staff on individual problems.

A transcript of the hearing will be forwarded to Austin and to Washington before the final green light on the location will be given. Roberts, however, did not indicate possibility of substantial change because the present plans are the fruits of more than two years of study.

"I realize that there will be some people who will have their properwiped entirely out," said Roberts. "But in every case I believe owners will be fairly compensated for their property and for damages."

The route was laid out with two over-lying guides, he said. These were to conform first of all to U. S. Bureau of Public Roads engineering requirements, and then as to the most economical route for right-of-way and construction.

Several motel operators expressed concern about maintaining an opportunity for a traffic flow down existing U. S. 80 where present facilities are located.

Roberts said large signs, in keeping with the interstate marking system, would alert travellers to the exit points where they could obtain lodging, fuel, food, etc.

Cecil Hamilton, who operates Hamilton (airport) Field just northeast of the city, wanted to know why the road from Northeast 12th could not follow a straight diagonal to the T&P crossing and thus avoid taking part of his runway. Roberts said it was a matter of conforming to USBPR engineering minimums for curves. This was, he ventured, an individual case, whereas the hearing was of general community interest.

"I think the matter of an airport is of community interest, too," said Hamilton.

Mrs. P. B. Baldridge, motel operator, asked about markings on Interstate 20 at the approaches of the city. Roberts said he thought they would be an improvement over present markings. In response to another question from Mrs. Baldridge, he said Texas had not (and he did not think it would) adopted a policy which would prevent operators from advertising their accommodations along the interstate route.

S. G. Smart, owner of Triple Gables Motel on U. S. 80, asked about the possibility of more connecting roads with U. S. 80 and Interstate 20 between the T&P overpass and the U. S. 80 juncture. This would depend upon development of the area which would warrant additional connections, said Roberts.

"This is going to put a lot of motel, filling station merchants and other operators on U. S. 80 out of business if there aren't more ways to get off the road (Interstate 20) onto U. S. 80," said Smart.

Dr. Earl Burnett, inquired on behalf of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, why virtually all the additional right-of-way would be taken off the north side of N. 12th street.

This was a matter of economics, said Roberts. He figured utility and residential costs on the south side of the street would run much higher.

Mayor G. W. Dabney praised Roberts as well as Dewitt Greer, State Highway Engineer, for their understanding of problems and consideration for the city and county. He said he hoped individual problems could be worked out in the main but that he recognized some would be hardship cases.

"We must remember," he continued, "that the plans are approved finally in Austin and Washington and that this isn't a state highway, but a part of a national—even international—system."

Among others who spoke briefly or raised questions were Mrs. Marguerite Smith, T. J. Higgins, Mrs. Zora Harrison, M. H. Barnes, and Joe Pickle. The latter affirmed the feeling expressed by County Judge R. H. Weaver that despite some problems connected with location the city was fortunate in having so vital a highway route located in such proximity to the business district.

Had not the city and county entered into long range planning with the State Highway Department five years ago, Interstate 20 would be going halfway between Big Spring and Fairview instead of on the northern edge of town, Judge Weaver declared.

Roberts told the group that Big Spring and Howard County had been the pace-setters for his district and all of West Texas in taking cooperative action to peg the route for Interstate 20 and hold it near to the city.

There will be nine overpasses,

U.S. Traffic Death Toll Is Growing

By The Associated Press

Traffic	47
Miscellaneous	1
Fires	12
Total	60

Fires and traffic accidents took a growing toll of lives today.

Deaths on the highways and streets showed a slow increase since the start of the Thanksgiving holiday period at 6 p.m. (local time) Wednesday.

Two big fires broke out today, a cold day in most of the nation.

A convalescent home for children on the northwest edge of Oklahoma City caught fire about breakfast time.

Officials said four children were missing. Twenty-two other youngsters fled the three-story brick building into 30-degree cold.

A mother and four of her children perished in a fire that destroyed their small frame house in the suburban area of Little Rock, Ark.

The victims were Mrs. Dorothy Sanders, 27; and Sarah Jane, 9; Matt, 7; Robert, 5; and Eddie, 3.

The father, George Sanders, 30, and the family's only surviving child, David, 10, were taken to a hospital with serious burns.

A head-on collision in the Cumberland Mountains near Crossville, Tenn., brought death to four persons and serious injury to two others.

The National Safety Council did not make a preholiday estimate of traffic deaths for Thanksgiving. It said the forecasts are made only for the holiday periods of Christmas, New Year's, Memorial Day, Fourth of July and Labor Day.

Mahon To Be Speaker For Scout Dinner

George Mahon, representative for the 19th Texas congressional district, has accepted an invitation to address the annual Lone Star District Boy Scout leaders meeting here.

The dinner affair will be held on Dec. 12 at the Cosden Country Club, which is being furnished to the Scouters.

Volunteer leaders and friends of Scouting are invited to participate in the affair, which also will be the time for installation of new officers. Sam McComb will turn over the district chairmanship to Jack Alexander.

Rep. Mahon has just recently returned from a tour of Europe and the Middle East where he conferred with military commanders and ambassadors. He is chairman of the appropriations sub-committee on military expenditures. More than half the national budget is funneled through this sub-committee.

The congressman returned to his interim offices in Lubbock over the weekend.

WAF Offers Commissions

The Air Force is offering commissions to young women with high qualifications, according to Col. P. J. John, commander of the 3504th USAF Recruiting Group which conducts all Air Force recruiting activities in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana and New Mexico.

Women with college degrees, who are between the ages of 21 and 33 years inclusive, may apply for direct commissions in the WAF, Col. John said.

Commissions are also open to outstanding high school graduates through Officer Candidate School after enlistment in the WAF. Those selected should be between 20½ and 26½ years of age.

Overseas posts where WAF officers are assigned include areas in England, France, Germany, Hawaii, Okinawa, Japan and Puerto Rico. As Air Force officers, women receive the same pay as their male counterparts and have equal chances for promotion. They have 30 days annual vacation time and other benefits such as medical and dental care and an early retirement pension.

Women given direct commissions attend a three-month orientation and instruction course at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, before being assigned to a base. The course provides background for their performance as an officer, and during this period they are accorded all the privileges and pay of an officer.

Those who seek a commission through Officer Candidate School attend a six-month course, also at Lackland AFB, and on graduation, receive their gold bars as second lieutenants.

3,200 Baptists At Training Union

MINERAL WELLS, Tex. (AP)—More than 3,200 Baptist church members were spending the Thanksgiving holidays attending a two-day, state-wide Training Union convention here.

Principal participants included Dr. C. C. Warren of Charlotte, N.C., director of the Southern Baptist 30,000 Movement; Dr. J. Woodrow Fuller of Dallas, associate executive secretary of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, and Dr. E. S. James of Dallas, editor of the Baptist Standard.

Warren, in the meeting's major address, was to outline the Training Union's part in the southwide 30,000 movement. The goal of the Baptist movement is to build 10,000 new churches and 20,000 mission stations in the United States by 1964.

Texas Traffic Toll Hits 3 As Holiday Begins

By The Associated Press

The Texas violent death toll began its expected climb Thursday as the Thanksgiving holiday got under way.

In late morning, the death total stood at five. Three of the deaths occurred in traffic.

Two Borger residents died Thursday when their automobile crashed into a parked truck at Vernon. They were Byron F. Edelen, 47, and Mrs. W. E. Morrison, 30. Three other persons suffered injuries.

Killed in traffic was James Wesley Stricklan of Spicewood. The accident occurred Wednesday night near Austin.

William Hargis, 66, killed himself with a 12 - gauge shortgun Wednesday night as the climax of a family quarrel at Fort Worth. The elder Hargis earlier wounded his son, W. C. Hargis, 23.

Mrs. Ann Woodard, 23, a Negro, died in Wichita Falls Wednesday night from knife wounds.

Santa Rita 1 Is Dedicated

AUSTIN (AP) — An ancient, oil-soaked rig was dedicated here today as a permanent memorial to the first well which struck oil on University of Texas land in 1923.

The Santa Rita No. 1 blew in on the Ollie Parker Ranch in Reagan County in 1923 and opened up the West Texas oil fields.

While the Longhorn Band formed the outline of a drilling rig, the well was dedicated in a brief ceremony by officials of the University and Texas A&M at pre-game ceremonies of the Texas-A&M battle.

The two schools are served by an endowment fund of more than 300 million dollars which has been built up from rentals and bonuses derived from the more than 4,000 wells which since have been completed on university lands.

During the game ceremony the original manuscript of "The Eyes of Texas," the university's alma mater, will be placed on permanent loan to the university by its owners, Dr. James Johnson of Amarillo and his brother, Lewis Johnson Jr., of Jacksboro.

Ike Family Stages A Familiar Scene

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—A joyous reunion of grandchildren and grandparents—that's the familiar American family setting this Thanksgiving day at the vacation retreat of President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

The four young Eisenhower's flew in from Washington Wednesday night with their parents, Army Maj. John Eisenhower and his wife Barbara. They probably will remain for the weekend.

Soviets Propose 'Open City' Pact

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union today declared void the four-power occupation agreement for West Berlin and offered in its place the creation of a demilitarized "free city" of West Berlin.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andre Gromyko handed U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn E. Thompson Jr. a 24-page note proposing a six-month period for negotiations to arrange the new status for West Berlin.

The Russians suggested that the United Nations act as watchdog of West Berlin's freedom, saying, "The Soviet government does not object to the United Nations participating in observing the status of the free city of West Berlin."

The note said during the six-month period of negotiations there would be no change in control of existing transport links over which the Allied garrisons in West Berlin are supplied.

But if no agreement is reached between the Soviet Union and the West during that period, the Kremlin said it would go ahead with liquidation of the occupation controls. In other words, it will transfer control of the Allied traffic to the East Germans.

NOTE DELIVERED

A Soviet announcement by Tass said the Kremlin had notified the U.S. government it "regards as invalid the Allied (occupation) agreements on Germany." A companion note delivered to the East German government in Berlin said the Soviet government is determined to end its occupation of Berlin and "considers it unfeasible to take any further part in the upholding of the occupation regime in Berlin."

The proposal for creation of a free city applies only to West Berlin. The East German government already has sovereignty over East Berlin, its capital, and Soviet troops are there by a 1957 agreement between the East German regime and Moscow.

The Russians made clear that even if West Berlin becomes a free city, they intend for East Germany — which surrounds it completely — to control traffic to and from.

"It is envisaged that the (East) German Democratic Republic must fully control questions affecting its space, i.e. exercise her sovereignty on land, on water and in the air.

NO MORE CONTACTS

"At the same time there will be an end to all contacts still maintained between representatives of the armed forces and other officials of the Soviet Union in Germany and corresponding representatives of the armed forces and other officials of the United States, Great Britain and France on questions pertaining to Berlin."

The Soviets offered to act as go-betweens in negotiations to secure East German agreement to creation of a free city in what East Germany contends is her territory. The Soviet note said preliminary talks already had been held with the East Germans.

The Russians also suggested that the four occupation powers and West and East Germany agree formally not to tamper with West Berlin's status as a free city.

The Russians put their proposal on a take it or leave it basis.

"If this proposal is not acceptable to the governments of the three Western powers," they said, "the government of the U.S.S.R. emphasizes there is no topic left for discussion of the Berlin issue by the former occupying powers."

The Soviet note denied emphatically that its proposals involved any desire for the Communist annexation of West Berlin.

"NO CONQUESTS"

"The Soviet Union does not aspire to any conquest," said the note. "The only thing it wishes is to put an end to an abnormal and dangerous situation which came into being in Berlin due to the fact that the Western sectors still remain under occupation of the United States, Great Britain and France."

But the note added: "It is evident that the most correct and natural solution of the problem would be a decision under which the Western part of Berlin, now actually alienated from the German Democratic Republic, would reunite with the Eastern part of the city within that state (East Germany) in whose territory it is situated."

Notes covering the Soviet proposal also were handed to the envoys of Britain, France and West Germany.

In view of the possible negotiations between Berlin city authorities and between the two Germanies, the note said "the Soviet government does not intend for six months to introduce any changes into the present order of military transport from West Berlin to West Germany as carried out by the United States, Britain and France."

SUFFICIENT TIME

It added that such a period of time is regarded as sufficient to provide a sound basis for a solution to the question arising from the changed situation in West Berlin.

The Soviet government in its note to the United States said it "wishes the necessary changes in the situation in Berlin to come about in a quiet atmosphere without haste of unnecessary friction and with the maximum possible consideration for the interests of all parties concerned."

Smart Shoppers Have Chance To Exchange Skill For Cash

Smart shoppers will have an opportunity to turn their skill into cash during the Christmas Holidays.

Starting this weekend, the first of three Santa's Smart Shopper contests will begin. If you know real sale values and can judge the price of an item, you may pick up $180 spot cash in any of the three weeks.

Dates for the contest are Nov. 30 through Dec. 4 at 9 p.m.; from Dec. 7 through Dec. 11 at 9 p.m.; and Dec. 14 through Dec. 18 at 9 p.m.

Rules are simple.

During any of the three contest periods, 26 merchants will have on display in their show windows items identified by a "Santa's Smart Shopper" placard. You clip from the Herald during the contest periods; an official blank; then examine the items displayed, enter on your entry blank the price you think each item will be ON SALE after the concluding day of the contest period. Just enter your estimated price for the 26 items and TOTAL your price estimates.

The completed entry blank then can be deposited at any of the participating stores.

The total coming nearest to the actual sale prices posted by all merchants on the item at the conclusion of the contest period will receive a check for $180. The money will be divided evenly in event of ties. Only one entry will be permitted for each person.

Remember, the Smart Shopper items will be displayed through the contest periods and that your blanks must be complete and deposited in the stores by 9 p.m. on the three closing dates mentioned.

Winners will be announced in the Sunday issue of the Herald next after the contest period closes. Employes of participating stores and of the Herald and members of their families are not eligible.

Here are the Merchants taking part in the Smart Shopper contest:

Prager's, Elrod's, Fisher's, Leed's, J. & K. Shoes, Lee Hanson's Men's Store, J. C. Penney Co., Hemphill-Wells Co., Western Auto Store, R. & H. Hardware, Alexander's Jewelry, C. R. Anthony, John Dibrell Sporting Goods, McCrory's, Zale's Jewelry, Montgomery Ward, Good Housekeeping, Big Spring Hardware, Elmo Wasson Men's Store, White's, Brooks Town & Country, Mellinger's Men's Store, Pelletier's Shoes, Gibbs & Weeks Men's Store, Lynn's Jewelry, Thomas Typewriter, Swartz's.

City Orders 29 New Street Signs

Twenty-nine street signs have been ordered by the city for installation in the Douglass Addition, recently annexed to the city.

Roy Anderson, city purchasing agent, said that the signs would be installed in the new addition on the southwest side of town as soon as they arrive. Cost of the signs is approximately $225 including freight.

The city annually purchases about $1,000 worth of signs for new areas as well as replacements for old signs, and this is the first order during this fiscal year.

Gratitude Described As 'Living Our Best'

When we are thankful, we are living at our best, the Rev. Jack, St. Paul Presbyterian minister, told the union Thanksgiving congregation at the First Baptist Church Thursday morning.

Many things happen when people take time to express their thanks to God for His many blessings, he said. Individuals find new joy in the Lord by giving thanks, and they help encourage, inspire and strengthen other people by demonstrating the importance of this spiritual experience in their own lives.

The joint services under the sponsorship of the Big Spring Pastors Assn., was presided over by Dr. P. D. O'Brien, host pastor and president of the association. Leading the two hymns, "We Gather Together" and "Come Ye Thankful People" was Pascal Harris, East Fourth Baptist minister of music and education, who also furnished the special music.

Proceeds from the special offering, which was explained by Thomas Williams, went to aid the financing of the Bible Class in the high school.

Dr. R. Gage Lloyd, First Presbyterian minister, led the responsive reading; the Rev. Royce Womack, Wesley Methodist minister, worded the invocation, and the Rev. V. Ward Jackson, First Church of God pastor, pronounced benediction. Accompanists were Mrs. H. M. Jarratt, organist, and Mrs. W. T. McRee, pianist.

The Rev. Ware based his sermon on the account of Jesus' healing of the 10 lepers, only one of whom turned back to thank Him.

"America's favorite sin is ingratitude," he declared. "We are often ungrateful when in reality we should enumerate the manfole blessings of God."

When men express their thanks, they enjoy restored fellowship through Christ, he continued. They are healed of the sickness of sin just as the lepers were healed. They have restored fellowship with God.

For a happier life, for one with fewer regrets and with more pleasant prospects for the future, individuals need to maintain their contact with God through simple, devout expressions of thanks, declared the Rev. Ware.

Prince Wins Permit To Wed Jap Commoner

TOKYO (AP) — Crown Prince Akihito won today unprecedented permission to wed a wealthy industrialist's beautiful daughter and make her the first commoner empress in the Japanese royal house's 2,600-year tradition.

The Imperial Household Council unanimously approved his choice of Michiko Shoda, a graceful, athletic descendent of warrior stock whose father heads a large flour company.

Akihito will be 25 Dec. 23. Miss Shoda is 10 months younger.

Japanese greeted the news with restrained rejoicing. "Suteki!" — excellent, wonderful—was the almost universal reaction to the announcement, which had been anticipated for weeks.

Akihito and Michiko will become formally engaged early next year and wed next spring or autumn. As supreme Shinto priest of the land, Emperor Hirohito is expected to perform their marriage ceremony.

The engagement represented a major victory for the slender prince. He had stood his ground against stern opposition from the prewar peerage to win the lady he met on a tennis court and wooed mostly by telephone.

Emperors in the past have married of low rank but the title of empress was always withheld. That is no longer considered possible.

BRIDE PRAISED

Premier Nobusuke Kishi presided over the 10-member Council, which by law has to approve the marriages of imperial princes. After the meeting he issued a statement saying in part: "Miss Shoda has great character and personality. It is indeed fitting she should be the bride of the crown prince in the new Japan. There are not adequate words to express our joy."

Some 90 minutes after the announcement, the bride-to-be, composed and beautiful, went with her parents to the imperial palace. Akihito presented her for the first time to the Emperor and Empress Nagako.

Later she told a televised news conference in a palace she thought her future mate "is a clean, sincere man I know I can respect."

Theirs was a storybook romance from start to finish and ended a six-year search for a suitable bride.

Akihito, 5 feet 4, is the prince charming of Japan's bobby soxers, a friendly young man with a ready grin. Michiko, 5 feet 2½, is the prototype of placid Japanese beauty.

WELL EDUCATED

He was the first crown prince to be educated in a regular college atmosphere and still studies with tutors. She graduated first in her class last year at exclusive Sacred Heart Academy, where she was dubbed "The Antelope Girl" for swiftness in tennis and other games.

They met on a tennis court 15 months ago at a summer resort north of Tokyo. For Akihito, it was love at first sight.

He photographed her, sent her prints, and arranged special tennis matches so they could see each other within the confines of imperial protocol which prohibited him dates. And he telephoned her constantly.

At first her family modestly refused his offer of marriage on grounds of unworthiness. Two weeks ago they consented.

"I do love him," an intimate quoted Michiko as saying. . . . "His sincerity won me over."

Imperial chamberlains checked the Samurai background of the Shodas and Michiko's health, intelligence, deportment, popularity and size. They also inquired into her Roman Catholic education. She is not believed to have any professed religion but will have to become more familiar with the Shinto faith which Akihito will someday head.

To traditionalists, the engagement will not become formal until the young couple exchange gifts sometime early next year.

Weather Menu Not Very Tasty

By The Associated Press

The Thanksgiving weather menu featured the season's coldest weather, garnished with brisk winds and topped with white snow flakes.

The traditional holiday turkey dinner was much more appetizing than the offerings off the climactic tray.

Only the ocean-warmed coastal sections escaped the late November cold snap as the mountain of arctic air spread across the country. The stiff winds added to the discomfort of the frosty air.

Most of the northern two thirds of the nation was below freezing. It was colder in Montana, parts of Colorado, the Dakotas, Minnesota and Wisconsin where temperatures dropped to below zero in many areas.

Lowest readings of the season were reported in much of the Midwest. They were near zero in Illinois and a hard freeze was reported south of the Ohio Valley into Missouri and Kentucky. Low marks included —13 at Grand Forks, N. D. and -12 at International Falls, Minn.

The cold air continued to advance south and eastward and during the night the leading edge pushed across the Atlantic Seaboard into extreme northern Florida and into the northern Gulf.

Church Leader Found Working In Gaming Hall

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) —A missing Baptist minister from Kansas, found working as a shill in a gambling casino, says: "I've never been happier. For the first time in my life I have peace of mind."

The Rev. Maurice D. Tulloch, 50, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Sabetha, Kan., vanished there two months ago. Located Wednesday at a downtown rooming house by a reporter, he said he abandoned his church and home to get away from his wife.

The minister said he came here to get a divorce because "I'm tired of my wife after 25 years," he added: "I left because I felt the walls closing in." He said he referred to his wife and the church.

For 18 years he had been a church troubleshooter, a pastor assigned to churches in financial or morale trouble in communities of 1,500 to 2,000.

Last Sept. 29, he said, he walked out in the middle of a church seminar and went to a bus station. He stood in line behind a woman he heard order a ticket to Las Vegas and, on the spur of the moment, ordered the same.

FOUND WORK

Arriving in this desert gambling resort, he had only $20 in his pocket. He asked a waitress if she knew of any work. She advised him to seek work as a shill —a casino employe who poses as a customer to drum up trade.

"I walked into the first casino I passed, told the boss I had never seen gambling and would like to learn, so he put me to work as a shill," he said.

"I'm going to write a book about gambling. It's fascinating, the characters you meet here."

He said he's also writing a book on "Practical Thinking for Christian People," which he described as a common-sense approach to world problems.

Spectacled, with graying, crew-cut hair, the pastor looks closer to 40 than 50. He talked rationally and appeared healthy and in good spirits.

Tulloch said his wife Nellie, had been nervous and under a doctor's care. He has a son, 25, and a daughter, 19.

He said he had talked with his wife by telephone and she had asked him to return and start a new life. He said he told her that was impossible and he's happy now.

Tulloch earns $1 an hour, six or seven days a week. He said he still attends church —the Church of Christ— every Sunday.

He said he doesn't plan to continue working in the casino and has applied for a job with the U.S. Bureau of Reclamation at nearby Hoover Dam.

Words Cut Smoggy Air

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A smog of words filled the air today after the current air-pollution siege was blamed in part on sulphuric acid mist.

The county smog control chief said Tuesday the attack consists in part of an acid mist of the type blamed for smog deaths in Donora, Pa., and London, England.

He said it has him worried although he doesn't think the siege poses an immediate threat to health.

Smith Griswold, head of the county Air Pollution Control District, told the county board of supervisors his chief concern is that no means yet exists for measuring the air's acid content.

The eye-stinging smog attack is in its fourth day and apparently tapering off. Weather forecasters said a sea breeze might carry it away late this afternoon "if we're lucky."

Meanwhile, a visiting congressman called for a nationwide drive on smog. A citizens' committee official demanded refinery closings. A county supervisor lambasted automobile makers, and a state legislator proposed an antismog automobile law.

Rep. Ray J. Madden (D-Ind) was here to get California congressmen's help in a nationwide drive for federal action. Honor guest at a city hall luncheon, he told the mayor and other officials:

"There will never be a solution of the smog problem at the local level. It must come from the federal level. . . . Smog is now a nationwide problem.

"Los Angeles smog is widely publicized, but the smog in Chicago is often just as bad but you never hear about it. In Buffalo, I've seen it so bad you had to light a match to see. It is a problem in Detroit, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Seattle, San Francisco — and just about every other major city."

$30,000 Asked As Wreck Damages

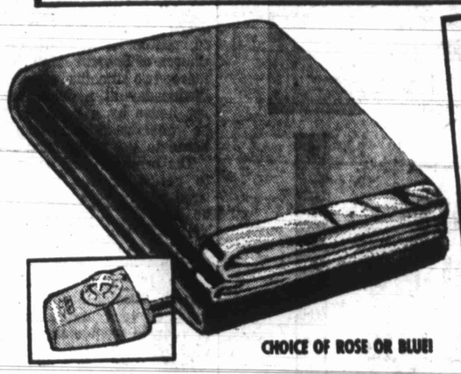

Harvey Coffman, acting for his two minor daughters, Sue Coffman and Twilla Coffman, has filed a damage suit in 118th District Court against Klaus Lehnert for $30,000.

Coffman alleges in his petition that his two young daughters were riding in his car on Nov. 8. The car was being driven along 16th Street by Clara Nall. At the intersection of 16th and Scurry, it was involved in a collision with the car driven by the defendant.

Coffman claims that Sue suffered injuries for which she should receive $18,000 damages and that Twilla's injuries were such that she should be paid $12,000.

Legislative Pay Raise Isn't A Dead Issue Yet

By GARTH JONES

AUSTIN (AP)—Putting lawmakers on an annual salary basis apparently will be another featured squabble of the Legislature.

A pre-session poll of senators and representatives by The Associated Press shows that new proposals for annual legislative salaries will be submitted in both houses.

A good percentage of those replying to the AP questionnaire indicated they wanted at least one more chance at raising their own salaries.

The proposition of changing the state Constitution to give legislators $7,500 a year and to have legislative sessions each year was defeated more than 2-1 in the Nov. 4 election. Legislators now receive $25 a day for each day the Legislature actually is in session, plus limited traveling and office expenses.

Present pay averages out to about $3,000 for each two-years' service.

REALISTIC APPROACH

"I hope that a more realistic and conservative approach can be made in the submission of an amendment by the next Legislature," said Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo, who led a fight to defeat the November proposal. "I intend to try to prepare one for introduction. I think the various issues ought not to be submitted in one resoluion."

Rep. Howard Green of Fort Worth plans an attempt to raise the pay to $50 a day, giving in effect a $3,000 annual salary plus expenses.

"This would not be tied to an annual session," Green promised. "After discussing the question with numerous people from all parts of the state, I am convinced that this is the approach that most Texans prefer. I believe that such an amendment would have passed overwhelmingly Nov. 4.

"There was too much in the ill-fated amendment No. 1 which was misunderstood. I feel that the people want something explicit and to the point and that's what I plan to offer."

Shortly after the general election the state AFL-CIO said it would back another drive to give legislators $7,500 annually. No mention was made of labor support for an annual legislative session.

Rep. B. H. Dewey Jr. of Bryan, influential House leader, predicted that the third most important issue to face the Legislature would be "adoption of a resolution for annual sessions and annual salaries that the public will adopt."

ELECTION COSTS

Sanford Schmid, a new representative from Fayetteville, predicted that "An amendment proposal must again be brought before the voters to correct the situation." He noted that the average legislator "probably spends $1,000 every other year to be elected" and receives travel expense money for only one round trip for each legislative session.

"Do you suggest that a legislator solicit campaign funds and ask for special jobs to earn money to make ends meet?" he said.

"Lobby control and a new bill for annual sessions and salaries are badly needed but it will be a fight to get it through past the special lobbyists," said Franklin Spears of San Antonio, another new representative.

"Looks like we have a mandate from the people on our pay said Rep. H.J. Blanchard of Lubbock.

Rep. J. E. Winfree of Houston, who has been in the House longer than any of the present members, didn't comment on the present pay question but he recalled the old days.

"I first was elected to the Legislature of this state from Harris County in 1922," he said. "Because of the low wages—$5 a day for 60 days and $2 thereafter—I couldn't run for a second term and take care of my wife and three boys."

A number of last session's legislators who did not run for re-election said they are still having the same trouble that Winfree experienced 38 years ago.

'Boss Kett' Is Still Here

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Charles F. Kettering is dead. But when an auto starter whines and turns over the motor, that's "Boss Kett" giving a helping hand.

The 82-year-old inventor, who died in his home here Tuesday of a stroke, amassed a fortune through his genius in the automotive and other fields.

He was mostly widely acclaimed for his perfection of the self-starter in automobiles. The 140 patents he held, on his own inventions and improvements on the inventions of others, helped revolutionize a dozen industries.

When electric cash registers ring up sales throughout the world today, they'll be ringing in tribute to Kettering. He invented them.

He had a hand in developing anti-knock gasoline.

The incubators that give many a tiny infant a push down the road of life; the refrigeration unit that keeps your food from spoiling; the pilotless airplane, aerial torpedo, deisel locomotives, accounting machines — Kettering helped develop all of these.

In 1947 he retired as head of the research division of General Motors Corp. He remained active, including his work in the Kettering Foundation, which he founded in 1925 at Antioch College in Ohio.

A humanitarian as well as a multimillionaire, he used his money to further the advancement of science. In 1945, he joined with Alfred P. Sloan, retired board chairman of General Motors, in establishing the Sloan-Kettering Foundation.

Jasper Man Held For Postal Theft

BEAUMONT (AP)—John Emmons, 31, of Jasper, Tex., is being held here on charges of stealing two registered letters containing cash and money orders totaling $1,772.50.

Postal inspectors said Emmons is on parole from the State Prison where he served time on conviction of forgery from Lufkin and that he made a written statement and waived a preliminary hearing before U. S. Commissioner Jack Brookshire.

Holiday Travelers Killed In Crash

SOMERSET, Pa (AP)—An elderly couple en route to Maryland to spend Thanksgiving with a son were killed Wednesday in a flaming traffic crash inside the Allegheny Tunnel of the Pennsylvania Turnpike.

Killed were George W. Petrie Jr., 70 and his wife Mabel, 67, Oakmont, Pa.

Two other collisions occurred in the tunnel after the fatal crash, but no one was seriously injured.

79 Polio Cases

HOUSTON (AP)—The number of polio cases during 1958 in Houston reached 79 yesterday. Two deaths have been reported this year. There were 83 cases and one death during the same period last year.

BOWL PROSPECTS MAY BE FEWER BY NIGHT

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tradition and not much else marked the Thanksgiving Day schedule in major college football, although a couple of games could thin out prospect lists for minor bowl attractions.

Only one club, up-and-down Pitt, has even an outside chance for a major bowl bid among the teams in action today. But it would take a healthy romp against Penn State to gain the Panthers serious consideration.

The big game as far as tradition is concerned is the Penn-Cornell tussel in Philadelphia, with both clubs shooting for a share of second place in the Ivy League.

Other traditional games included:

Virginia-VMI—Playing for second place in the Southern Conference, with VMI also on the list of Tangerine Bowl prospects.

Brown-Colgate—No league position, no bowl at stake, and probably no competition for Brown and passer Frank Finney.

Texas-Texas A&M — Both are three-time losers, but this has always been a grudge affair in the Southwest Conference. It will be telecast nationally.

South Carolina-Wake Forest — South Carolina can pad its second-place spot in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

Wichita-Tulsa — Wichita could gain a first-place tie; Tulsa might nail a bowl bid, either to the Tangerine or Blue Grass.

Cincinnati-Miami (Ohio) — Both are on bowl lists.

Richmond - William & Mary, Utah-Utah State and Denver-Colorado State also played from habit.

Pitt (6-2-1) might be able to lure a bid from the Blue Grass or the Gator Bowl. The Gator is the only major bowl without even one club picked.

Mississippi Southern (8-0), another Tangerine Bowl prospect, is the last of the unbeaten, untied teams still in business and winds up its regular season against Chattanooga. Thirteen other perfect-record clubs already have closed up shop.

Today's games are overshadowed by Saturday's specials — Air Force-Colorado, with the Air Cadets expected to fill the Cotton Bowl berth opposite Texas Christian; and Clemson-Furman, which is expected to ticket the Tigers for the Sugar Bowl opposite Louisiana State.

Other major games Saturday included Southern California-Notre Dame, Southern Methodist-TCU, Baylor-Rice, Houston-Texas Tech, Oklahoma-Oklahoma State, Ala-Auburn, Georgia - Georgia Tech, ami and Mississippi-Mississippi State.

La Vega Back Nears Record

LUBBOCK (SC)—Texas Tech's Red Raiders, having put one school aerial record into the books, may wind up with another one in their season finale with University of Houston there Saturday.

Floyd Dellinger of La Vega, the Red Raiders' back of all trades, needs only one catch Saturday to establish a school pass reception record. His five catches in Tech's 14-8 loss to Arkansas last week sent his total to 14 for the season, a mark held jointly also by halfback Jimmy Knox of Graham (in 1957) and end Ken Vakey of San Antonio (in 1956).

Vakey, incidentally, is now an assistant coach at Victoria Junior College, where Dellinger played his first two years.

Placed in the school record books last week was a new record for passes caught in one game. End Bob Witucki of Tulsa snagged six to surpass the mark of five made by end Gerald Seemann of Fort Worth against Hardin-Simmons last year. Witucki has 10 catches for the season.

Dellinger is a pretty handy man with the forward pass any way you view the play. Besides connecting with 7 of 14 for the Raiders, he also leads his team in interceptions of foes' passes, stealing three for 73 yards of runback. His goal line interception against Arkansas on second down probably saved a score.

As a runner, Dellinger is doing right well, too. His rushing total of 232 yards ranks him second just nine behind halfback Ronnie Rice of Lefors, and in total offense, he trails Rice by only two yards—307 to 305.

Tech's leading passer is quarterback Jerry Bell of Ballinger, who has completed 25 of 57 throws for 236 yards, a 44 per cent accuracy figure. Bell was sidelined in practice all week after suffering a concussion in the Tulsa game but gained a doctor's clearance and completed 10 of 14 tries against the Razorbacks. Bell's touchdown and conversion sent him to the top among Raider scorers, with 20.

Tech is now 3-6, having beaten Texas A&M, West Texas, and Arizona, and lost to Texas, Texas Christian, Baylor, Tulane, Tulsa and Arkansas.

Casey Still Tops In Monday League

In the Blue Monday bowling league this week, Casey stomped Smith and Coleman, 3-1; Lloyd's Beauty Walk nipped Suggs, 3-1; and Moose Lodge shared a series with Gordon's, 2-2.

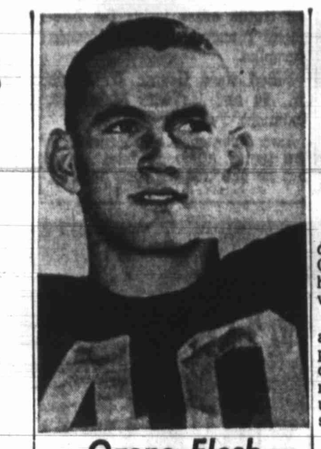

Lolita Grice came through with a 170 game, trailed by Virginia Puckett and 161. Puckett had also a 432 series total.

Danne Harris had 408. Casey was high team with 1439 series.

Splits were picked up by Joanna Boyd 5-10, LaVerne Casey 4-5, and Virginia Puckett 3-10.

Standings:

Team	W	L
Casey	30½	13½
Suggs	29	22
Lloyd's	29	22
Smith & Coleman	21½	22½
Moose Lodge	19	32

Ozona Flash

Bobby Sutton (above), who will be seen in action here Friday night against Plains, is Ozona's leading candidate for all-state honors. The four-year letterman plays halfback, has scored 133 points in 11 games this season.

Rutgers Star Back Of Week

By SID MOODY

FANWOOD, N. J. (AP) — "Hello," said the voice on the other end of the line. "This is Billy Austin. You wanted me?"

"Yup," said a newsman. "Just wanted to tell you you're the Associated Press Back of the Week."

"Wow!" exploded Rutgers' star tailback. "That's wonderful. I'm thrilled. I'm deeply honored. That's swell. Wow!"

The words came almost as fast as the 34 points the slender senior scored Saturday in his farewell game as Rutgers swamped Columbia 61-0.

"But you know, I don't think it was my best game," he said. The 170-pound speedster, who played only about 20 minutes against Columbia because of a broken left hand, thought he was better in leading Rutgers to victories over Princeton and Lehigh earlier in the season.

Austin scored five touchdowns against Columbia and two conversions to win the nod of the Associated Press sports writers and broadcasters over Billy Cannon of Louisiana State, Dick Bass of College of the Pacific and Don Meredith of Southern Methodist.

"I was worried about my hand," Austin said in explaining his fumble on his first play. "But Sam Crosby, our quarterback, told me to forget the hand and think of the ball. 'Good idea,' I said, and forgot about it."

McMahen Sizzles With 232-581

B&B Construction waylaid Turner Drilling 3-0, Standard Sales popped Campbell Construction 2-1, Webb AFB overcame Jones' Shell 2-1, and Cosden dumped Madewell Humble 2-1, this week in Men's Classic bowling league play.

Ray McMahen rallied for a 232 high individual game to pace the keglers, and had the best three games, 176-173-232 for 581. Webb AFB scored team high series with 903-922-853—2677.

In a roll-off game Saturday night, B&B Construction took Madewell Humble 2-1.

Standings:

Team	W	L
Standard Sales	20	13
Webb AFB	19	14
Jimmie Jones Shell	18	15
B&B Construction	18	15
Madewell Humble	15½	17½
Cosden	15½	17½

Campbell Construction	14	19

Plains Is Favorite But Odds May Swing

Continued cold weather may reduce the odds in the Ozona-Plains Class A playoff football game here Friday evening but Plains will remain the solid favorite.

Plains, champion of District 5-A and a team long on desire, is primarily a passing team and quarterback Cordell Huddleston may be slow to warm to the task, unless the weather moderates somewhat.

Ozona, on the other hand, leans heavily upon its ground game to make it go. With boys like Bobby Sutton and Billy Hutton to lug the mail, the Lions have carved out much of their yardage in scrimmage plays, although they can take to the air, of the need arises.

Both teams boast great speed. In Jimmy Williams, a pass-catching demon, the Plains club has one of the fastest halfbacks in West Texas. Joe Don Marrow and Don Williams are both Cowboy backs who can get up and move, too.

Sutton and Holden have run Ozona's foes ragged all year with their power plays down the middle and their outside razzle-dazzle, too.

Plains qualified for the second round of the playoffs by drubbing Rotan here last week, 36-14. At the same time, Ozona was hurdling Fabens, 15-8, in a game played at Ozona.

Close observers of the Ozona team say the Lions were favored to beat Fabens by a greater margin but the Lions probably were overlooking the engaging for this week's contest with Plains.

Kickoff time tomorrow evening is 7:30 p.m. Admission prices have been set at $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for students.

Plains served as the 'home club' last time but Ozona won that right this week and will sit on the west side of the field, as will their fans.

Each school was sent 750 tickets. A larger crowd is expected for this game than was present for the Plains-Rotan bout, since Ozona is about three times as large as Rotan and has always supported its athletic teams well.

Plains will again use the HCJC gym to dress for the game while the high school gym will be made available to the Ozona team.

Both teams arrive here Friday afternoon for the all-important contest.

Thoroughbreds Run Today In Dixie

By The Associated Press

The thoroughbreds start running in the South today with the opening of Tropical Park at Coral Gables, Fla., and Fair Grounds at New Orleans.

Tropical's feature, the Hurricane, drew a record field of 32 sprinters. The 5½-furlong dash was split into two divisions with each worth $10,000 added. The Fair Grounds opens its 85-day meeting with the $7,500 Thanksgiving Day Handicap.

Bahama Defeated By Rudell Stitch

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Louisville welterweight Rudell Stitch decisioned Yama Bahama in a 10-round bout Wednesday night.

It was the 16th victory for Stitch, who has lost four.

Bahama weighed in at 150, Stitch 145¾ for the nationally televised (ABC) fight.

The loss was the ninth for the West Indies fighter, who has 51 wins and two draws.

Bahama suffered a deep cut over his left eye in the sixth round. There were no knockdowns.

A crowd of 4,000 saw Stitch, a comparative newcomer in the fight game, score a surprise victory. He made a lot of wild swings, but rocked the veteran Bahama when he connected. This was especially true in the sixth round when Stitch had Bahama in trouble in a corner.

Bahama got out of that jam and landed several solid punches in the eighth round when Stitch slipped to the canvas. It was not ruled a knockdown.

Sales Talk Easy

Mrs. Maude Jackson goes for one of Jim Lewis' sales talks in a big way, because the bargain Jim is offering is big. Jim is one of the American Business Club committeemen selling season tickets for HCJC home basketball games. The ducats, good for ten games, sell for $2 each. That means purchasers will be gaining admittance to Hawk games for 20 cents a contest. Regular admission price is 75 cents. The ABClub hopes to sell 500 of the ducats. Student season tickets can be had for $1 each.

SCHOOLBOY GRIDDERS OPEN DECISIVE WEEK

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Schoolboy football opens its most decisive weekend of the season Thursday with 32 games spread over three days that will establish quarter - finalists in all four divisions.

Four of five defending state champions are in the field and each is expected to come through this week. The other one — co-state Class A champion White Oak—is on the sidelines through ineligibility.

White Oak was ruled to have used a boy over the 18-year age limit and its games were forefeited — even its bi-district 70-12 victory over Edgewood last week. Edgewood was reinstated in the race and will play Talco in this week's second round.

Highland Park of Dallas, the Class AAAA state champion, meets Texarkana a team it mauled in early season.

Nederland, defeated titlist of Class AAA, has Alvin as its foe.

Terrell, undefeated, untied king of Class AA, rolls against another team with a perfect record—Bowie.

Mart, the other co-champion of Class A, plays Leverett's Chapel and will be expected to come through without serious trouble.

The headline game, however, sends Breckenridge to Sweetwater in Class AAA. This one matches the schools that have been rated 1-2 all season and from it should come the eventual champion.

Abilene, the team that's generally ranked above Highland Park in Class AAAA, goes to Ysleta. The Eagles are prohibitive favorites.

The only game in the upper division bringing undefeated, untied teams together comes in Class AAA where San Marcos swipes at San Antonio Sam Houston.

The record last week was 24 correct predictions in 32 games. They look this way this week:

CLASS AAAA

Thursday — Wichita Falls over Borger at Borger, Dallas Jefferson over Fort Worth Carter Riverside at Dallas; Friday — Highland Park over Texarkana at Dallas (night), Houston Lamar over Houston Reagan at Houston (night), Pasadena over Port Arthur at Pasadena (night), San Antonio Jefferson over Laredo at San Antonio (night); Saturday — Waco over Corpus Christi Miller at Waco (night), Abilene over Ysleta at Ysleta.

CLASS AAA

Levelland over Andrews at Levelland, and McKinney over Handley at Fort Worth (night), San Marcos over San Antonio Sam Houston at San Antonio (night); Friday — Carthage over Athens at Tyler (night), Nederland over Alvin at Alvin (night), Kingsville over Falfurrias at Kingsville (night); Saturday — Cleburne over Aldine at Cleburne, Sweetwater over Breckenridge at Sweetwater (night).

CLASS AA

Thursday — Abernathy over Spur at Plainview; Friday — Terrell over Bowie at Denton (night), Marlin over Gilmer at Gladewater (night), Brady over Schulenburg at Georgetown (night), Liberty over Port Acres at Liberty (night), Angleton over Gonzales at Wharton (night), Taft over Pearsall at Taft (night); Saturday — Stamford over Cisco at Abilene.

CLASS A

Thursday — White Deer over Farwell at Canyon; Friday — Plains over Ozona at Big Spring (night), Crowell over Mason at Coleman (night), Talco over Edgewood at Sulphur Springs (night), Mart over Leverett's Chapel at Mart (night), Elgin over Warren at Navasota (night), Poteet over East Bernard at Cuero, Bishop over George West at Alice (night.

HERD DRAWS DIMMITT 5

Big Spring has drawn Dimmitt as a first round foe in the Plainview Basketball Tournament, which will be held Dec. 5-6.

The two quintets tangle at 2:45 p.m. Dec. 5. If they win their opener, the Steers will return to action at 1 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 6. Should they lose, they start consolation round play at 9 a.m. on Dec. 6.

The Longhorns make their 1958-59 debut here Saturday night, at which time they challenge Plainview in an 8 o'clock game. Plainview drubbed the Steers twice last year and has a strong team returning.

Vernon Harton will be making his first coaching appearance here. He succeeded Johnny Johnson shortly before school began.

Promoter Taking Fight To Court

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Athletic Commission was to decide today whether it will grant a permit for the world light-heavyweight title bout scheduled here Dec. 10 between champion Archie Moore and Canadian hope Yvon Durelle.

The commission is at loggerheads with fight promoter Eddie Quinn on a claim that it is entitled to five per cent of television receipts from the bout to be carried on a national network in the United States.

Marty Marion Head Houston Baseball Drive

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Marty Marion and his business partner hope to bring major league baseball to Houston as an outgrowth of their deal to buy the Houston Texas League franchise from the St. Louis Cardinals.

The deal will be carried out only if Houston is elevated to triple-A baseball under a proposed realignment of the American Assn. and the Texas League, which could materialize next week at the major-minor league meeting in Washington. If Houston isn't elevated to triple-A, the cards retain ownership.

Marion, a former major league manager and known as "Mr. Shortstop" in his playing days with the Cardinals, expressed hope the transition from triple-A to the majors could be made "within the next couple of years."

But he added "I have no idea how long it would take."

Houston, Fort Worth and Dallas, all Texas League cities, are rumored ready to enter the now seven-team American Assn. to form a 10-team league.

The price paid by Marion and Milton Fischmann, partners in a St. Louis printing business, for the Houston franchise and 18 players wasn't disclosed, but the Red Bird front office said it would accept $100,000.

The deal doesn't include the Buffs' 10,000-seat stadium, but it will be leased to Marion and Fischmann for three years.

Marion and Fischmann may have competition from a Houston group in trying to bring major league baseball to the city. The Houston Sports Assn., which backed a successful campaign for a 20-million-dollar bond issue for construction of a huge county sports center, decided against buying the franchise.

But the group's executive secretary, George Kirksey, said if the group is able to acquire a major league franchise, it still would be able under baseball law to draft the territory from whatever league Houston might be in at the time.

The Houston Sports Assn. said Marion's action would not handicap them in their efforts.

If Houston, Dallas and Fort Worth join the American Assn., probably Amarillo, Albuquerque and Wichita, Kans., will replace them in the Texas League.

Kirksey explained why his group did not buy the Houston franchise. "Our people wouldn't go for it from the triple A angle," he said. "Our inclination was to purchase the franchise and operate in the Texas League until major league baseball is available. So our decision was negative. Triple A operation poses problems for which we don't feel we have the solution."

Representatives of the Houston group were in St. Louis at the time of the announcement that Marion and Fischmann proposed to buy he franchise. "Our discussions with the Cardinals were most cordial," Kirksey said.

Philly Means Only Trouble For Pete Dawkins Of Army

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Philadelphia — scene of the traditional Army-Navy football game Saturday — means nothing but trouble for polite Pete Dawkins. He's the square-shouldered behemoth who has been called the best Army back since Glenn Davis of 13 years ago.

Dawkins will make his fourth appearance in Municipal Stadium. He still will be looking for his first winning day there.

Pete was on the losing side twice last year. Army lost to Notre Dame 23-21 and to Navy 14-0.

The year before, Dawkins sat on the bench while his teammates fumbled eight times and settled for a 7-7 tie against the Midshipmen.

He hardly can be blamed for any of the Army disasters here since 1956

He wasn't state in 1956. He didn't even get into the Army-Navy game that year But Coach Earl Blaik had used him as a Navy back during practice that week.

Last year, Pete scored one of the three Army touchdowns against Notre Dame. Against Navy, he was the game's best runner, picking up 63 yards in 18 carries

If Army finally makes the grade for Dawkins, he'll doubtlessly be among the men most responsible for the victory.

Montreal Having A Rugged Time

By The Associated Press

The Montreal Canadiens, overwhelming choices to win the National Hockey League title, are not having the easy time they expected despite the usual excellence of Maurice (The Rocket) Richard.

Richard scored his 600th big league goal Wednesday night. But the Canucks blew 2-0 and 3-2 leads and dropped a 5-3 decision to the New York Rangers in Madison Square Garden.

The Montreal setback, coupled with Detroit's 5-2 victory over Toronto, enabled the Red Wings to move into a first place deadlock with the Canadiens. The leaders have 23 points, one more than the Rangers and Boston Bruins.

NOTES ON JAYHAWKS

Carver Once Hit 34 Points While Performing At Bowie

By BOBBY HORTON

A timeout with several of HCJC's basketball players:

One of the most amazing comebacks ever witnessed by Benny Carver while in his high school days, came during a Bowie-Poly Technical of Dallas contest in the NTSC High School Invitational tournament. Carver was a freshman at the time, during which the great Temple Tucker was closing his fabulous high school career at the AA school.

Poly Tech was favored to win the championship game from the Jackrabbits, and in the first quarter they grabbed command with a 34-3 lead, Carver recalls. But Bowie returned in the second quarter to hold the Parrots scoreless and take a two-point lead at halftime. Bowie went on to win and later in the season copped the state crown.

The most points Carver scored in high school was 34, 19 of which came in the first period of play from long set shots. That came in a final district game which Bowie won in gaining third place in AA in 1957. Carver, incidentally, says he would still eye the possibility of attending Baylor, if given the chance he received last year as a freshman.

Bobby Davis, 6-6 sophomore of whom great things are expected at HCJC this year, started in only two or three games during high school at Sunset of Dallas. Even so, he maintained a 12-point average. The situation was practically the same at Kilgore last year. One of the players on the Kilgore national JC championship club was Don Stanley, twin brother to Pat, both of whom played for dynamic Buna, which ran up more than 60 straight high school wins and won two AA crowns. (That win streak was snapped by the 1957 Class B champion, Big Sandy, last season in an early game.)

Davis, who has the build of a college football end, believes the Jayhawks have better spirit than Kilgore had, and have the potential to beat several teams of the caliber which appeared in the national playoffs last season.

Delbert Shirey has a younger brother, Bobby, who as a freshman this season at Eastern New Mexico University is being rated about seventh among varsity boys. What is more surprising, says Shirey, is that he suffered a broken arm last year as a high school senior, and played only a few games.

Shirey has had no better favor with Lady Luck either, it appears. A recent knee operation to heal a torn ligament worked like a charm. Now, however, a similar ailment in the same joint has kept the Lovington graduate from recent drills, and it's all too likely the knee will hold him back all season — and could force him to drop out.

Playing in the high school all-star game in Albuquerque in '57, Shirey was a starter with Ray Clay, stellar guard also at HCJC. Three Negroes filled starting berths for the south. Shirey's team, which won.

Big Gilbert Bell, Harold Henson, and this writer, all of Meadow, a one-horse school south of Lubbock, will long remember an early season, nightmarish game with AA Slaton in 1957. The undefeated Meadow team looked up at the scoreboard at the end of the first quarter and saw a 14-34 deficit previewing a potential upset. In what could be called a comeback of no small measurement, the club came back to win an 86-81 decision. Even more surprising, however, was an incident that took place within the final two minutes.

An opposing player practically had the game in his hands when he stepped to the free throw line for six consecutive free tosses. Here is how the situation came about: With Meadow leading 76-73, a foul was called against a Meadow player, and an opponent began walking toward the toss line for a couple of shots.

The coach lamented a little too much; a technical foul was proclaimed—another utterance was issued, another technical was assessed. By this time the crowd was getting unruly, and a shouting fan made clear his stand, whereby a technical foul followed. Someone else gave a weak cat call, and—you guessed it—a FT resulted.

Well, to make a long story short, the boy toeing the mark made just one of them. The officials, it was later revealed, belonged to no basketball officiating association at all.

Cougar Fans Peeved Because Of Edict

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP) —"The $160,000 Sugar Bowl veto by USCLA and Southern California rankled Washington State football fans today in perhaps a final ironic chapter of the bitter north-south feud that killed the Pacific Coast Conference.

The two Los Angeles schools invoked a seldom used article in the PCC constitution to block a vote on WSC's request for a waiver of a conference rule against any postseason game but the Rose Bowl.

The Cougars, with a 7-3 record, were nosed out for the roses by California but were being considered by both the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans and the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla.

Dr. C. Clement French, WSC president, said he was shocked at the USC and UCLA action. He said seven of the nine conference schools were in favor of giving the Cougars permission for a postseason game.

It took only a simple majority. Thus, if USC and UCLA had merely voted against the proposal, it would have passed 7-2. Instead, they blocked the vote altogether.

The two Southern California schools, often at odds in the PCC with WSC, brought up Article 4-G of the constitution which holds that petitions such as Washington State presented can be voted upon only at a regular meeting unless all agree otherwise. WSC asked for a telegraphic vote. The next conference meeting is scheduled for Dec. 7.

Athletic Director Stan Bates of WSC said there are no provisions for a special meeting and that the Dec. 7 agenda has already been made up. He said the USC and UCLA action shocked him too, "but the real losers are our players who deserved a bowl game."

In deference to the PCC rules, bowl sponsors hadn't tendered any direct feelers to WSC. But a highly placed source here said the Cougars were certain to get a Sugar Bowl bid to meet Louisiana State, the nation's No. 1 team, if the PCC approved.

The Sugar Bowl, already a sellout, could have brought the Cougars $160,000. Bates said WSC offered to split up any bowl money among PCC member schools if the Cougars went to a bowl.

Hugh C. Willet, USC faculty representative, said the Rose Bowl-only rule was passed for the protection of the PCC, the Big Ten, the National Broadcasting Co. and the Tournament of Roses, all parties to the contract. He said the university doesn't feel any vote should have been taken unless all agreed.

Dr. Bradford Booth, UCLA representative, said his school was "sentimentally disposed" to support the WSC petition but has "regretfully come to the conclusion that it cannot do so in view of our obligations to the Tournament of Roses and NBC."

AT SMU

Robison Listed Among Injured

By The Associated Press

The Texas - Texas A&M clash at Austin Thursday gets the last weekend of Southwest Conference football on its way. Three games Saturday, featuring the clash of champion TCU with bowl - ambitious SMU, will close it out.

The Aggies and Texas were both in top condition for their traditional Thanksgiving Day Battle. Each held a light workout in Austin Wednesday.

Elsewhere the teams were finishing up final drills and looking toward Saturday's season - ending clashes.

TCU, which plays SMU at Dallas with a crowd of better than 50,000 expected in the Cotton Bowl, went through dummy drills, concentraded on extra points and worked some at field goal kicking. The Horned Frogs will watch part of the Texas Aggie game, which is being nationally televised, before practicing Thursday afternoon.

SMU, which knows it will have a chance at a Sugar Bowl bid if it can beat the Horned Frogs, was more concerned with ailing players although the Methodists paid some attention to the TCU passing attack on advise of the scouts.

Guards Tom Koenig, Bobby Hunt and Charley Terrell, end Frosty Robison and tackle Lee Yokum all were favoring injuries but are expected to be ready for at least part-time action.

Baylor and Rice play at Waco in a game meaning nothing except pride.

Rice worked on its pass defense, recalling that Baylor's Buddy Humphrey is the Southwest Conference's leading thrower. Coach Jess Neely said his squad would be in top condition and that was the same report from Coach Sam Boyd of Baylor.

Baylor worked at pass defense but also put out a lot of effort on its own offense, with fullback Larry Hickman running in great style.

Texas Tech closes the season at Houston against Houston. The Cougars reported in poor condition with a half - dozen first stringers on the injury list but Texas Tech appeared to be in the best of shape for its final effort.

Tom McAdams Impressive In Final Football Game

ABILENE (SC)—A three-touchdown parade in his final college game hiked Ernie Davis' season aggregate to 104 points, which probably assured him of a spot among the top 10 scorers in the country.

Davis, who led the McMurry Indians' ground attack with 594 yards in 125 trips, scored three times against the Eastern New Mexico University Greyhounds last week. He hit the cash register on runs of four, two and 17 yards

A brother to the Indians' Little All-American guard Charlie Davis, Ernie Davis has been one of the top scorers in small college circles all season.

The former Stamford High School athlete also caught two passes against ENMU to boost his total to 11 for 325 yards and four TD's. Teammate Dalton Hicks, left end, finished a step behind with 13 catches good for 317 yards and one touchdown.

Quarterback Tommy McAdams put on a dazzling display of aerial artistry to close out his career. The cool fireman tossed 25, completed 12 for 237 yards and a pair of TD strikes. Although he missed one game, McAdams still came back to connect on 37 of 81 for 753 yards and eight payoff pitches.

McAdams, from Big Spring, emerged as the Tribe's total offense leader with 912 yards. He gained 159 rushing, and his punting average also was tops for the Braves. In 30 punts, McAdams booted for 1,117 yards, good enough for a 37.3 average.

Against ENMU, McAdams kicked six consecutive extra point attempts to wind up the leader here. He completed the year with 14 successful EP attempts.

Druze Resigns At Marquette

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Coach Johnny Druze has called it quits after three years of trying to return Marquette University to the status of a major independent football power.

The resignation was accepted Wednesday night by the school's Athletic Board of Control, The Associated Press learned.

"There's no remorse," Druze said. "I did the best I could."

His three years were plagued by loss of players and injuries which almost never permitted him to field his best players at the same time.

However, he declined to blame his coaching trouble on injuries, saying, "I refuse to alibi.

"If Marquette can find a better man to do a better job, I'm for it—100 per cent."

During his three years, Marquette has won 2 games, lost 25 and tied 1.

The Warriors finish their current season Saturday night against Arizona State at Tempe. Ironically, a victory this weekend would give them a 3-6-1 record, their best since 1953 when Lisle Blackbourn coached them to a 6-3-1 slate.

There were reports this fall that Blackbourn now at little Carroll College, might be offered the Marquette post if Druze decided to quit.

Druze, 43, indicated that he reached his decision to resign just recently.

"I just reached the saturation point," he said. "This is the end of it, so far as I am concerned."

A native of Irvington, N. J., he plans to return to the East.

There is reason to believe he has been offered a job outside of the coaching field.

Y Church League Is Being Formed

Efforts are being made to have a YMCA Church basketball league again this year, said Everett Taylor, and any church interested in fielding a team is asked to contact him.

Taylor said the Y would try to get the league organized within the next few weeks. The number of churches which contact the Y will probably determine whether the league will be held, he said.

Earl Buchholz Attains Finals

SYDNEY (AP)—America's latest hope to regain the Davis Cup, 18-year-old Earl Buchholz of St. Louis, battled his way into the final of the New South Wales tennis championships today.

The first junior unseeded player ever to reach the final in this 67-year-old tourney, he overcame Roy Emerson, 22-year-old Australian, in a gruelling 2½-hour struggle 5-7, 6-3, 6-2, 5-7, 6-4.

Buchholz now will play Ashley Cooper, the defending champion, in Saturday's final. Cooper whipped Andres Gimeno of Spain in today's other semi 8-6, 6-0, 3-6, 6-4.

Buchholz later was withdrawn from the finals of the junior tourney by Perry Jones, captain of the U. S. Davis Cup team.

"Buchholz is overplayed right now," Jones said. "We want him in good shape for Cooper Saturday. It will be hard enough for him as it is to recover by Saturday from today's two matches."

Jones referred to the junior doubles match Buchholz played after finishing with Emerson. He and his Spanish partner, Jose Arilla, were beaten by Frank Gorman and Ken Fletcher 6-3, 3-6, 6-3.

Cooper and Rod Laver finally beat Americans Ham Richardson and Alex Olmedo 3-6, 10-8, 11-9, 14-16, 8-6 in the doubles semifinal that was started Wednesday.

The score was two sets-all with the Australians leading 5-4 in the fifth when darkness halted play Wednesday night.

Renee Schurman, South Africa, and Jan Lehane, Australian junior, advanced to the women's final. Miss Schurman beat Mrs. Mary Reitano, the former Mary Carter, 6-3, 6-4 and Miss Lehane defeated Beverly Rae 6-1, 6-3 in today's semifinal matches.

Wayland's Girls Shaded, 42-38

MEXICO CITY (AP)— The Mexican National Women's Basketball Team defeated Wayland Baptist College of Plainview, Tex., 42-38 last night.

The two teams will meet again tonight. Wayland Tuesday night defeated a Navy Department squad. Their opponents last night were selected to represent Mexico in the Central American and Caribbean games in January.

The halftime score was 22-17 in favor of Wayland. High scorer for Wayland was Carla Lowry with 9 points.

Four Honor Graduates

Col. James A. Johnson, executive officer at Webb AFB, congratulates the four honor graduates of Pilot Class 59-D during ceremonies in the base chapel Wednesday night. Left to right are 2nd Lt. Phillip W. Offhill, also the outstanding student, 2nd Lt. Bruce Williams, 2nd Lt. Gary R. Merrihew and 1st Lt. Edward L. Nichols.

Outstanding Student

Mrs. Robin Offill pins pilot's wings on the tunic of her husband, 2nd Lt. Phillip W. Offill, who was honored as the outstanding student of Pilot Training Class 59-D at Webb AFB last night. Lt. Offill holds the engraved silver cup, symbolic of his leadership.

4 Believed Burned At Children's Home

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Four children were believed burned to death today when a fire swept a convalescent home in the northwest section of Oklahoma City. Eighteen other children escaped into the sub-freezing outdoors.

Dr. David Fried, who rushed to the scene, said he knew of two dead and that two others were believed to have died in hospitals.

The fire broke out in the top of the brick house which was converted to a children's convalescent home. Most of the children were in the attic wing. Some were invalids.

Three others were in the home. They were Mary Flake and Margaret Prince, who operate the home, and Mrs. Flake's daughter Caroline, 14. The three escaped but the two women were in a state of shock.

No identification of the dead could be made immediately.

The children mostly were 4 and 5 years old.

The toll could have been far higher except for the quick action of a next door neighbor, W. L. Brown, 50, his wife, and 12-year-old daughter, Becky.

Brown smelled smoke shortly after the fire broke out and ran to the home. He found the operators frantically trying to carry the children to safety on the sun deck.

Brown, a Civil Aeronautics Administration engineer, carried out three children and led two others who were able to walk. However, one of the two strayed away from him and was believed one of those dead.

Mrs. Brown rushed to her husband's side and passed several of the children over the fence to their daughter.

An unidentified man and woman who were driving by the home at the time stopped and went into the burning structure to aid in the rescue.

The temperature was 30 degrees when the blaze broke out.

Car Hits Pole, Driver Injured

Buddy Herndon, 17, 204 Mobile, entered Cowper Hospital with minor injuries after his car hit an electric pole on Gregg Wednesday night.

Herndon's car, a 1951 Ford, was the only vehicle involved. The police said his car hit a pole in the 2400 block of Gregg. He was rushed to Cowper Hospital by a River ambulance and officials there today said he sustained cuts about the head.

Six other accidents occurred in Big Spring Wednesday.

Bettie Dozier of Fort Smith, Ark., and Major McCasland, 306 W. 5th, were involved in an accident at 5th and Lancaster. McCasland was driving a city water truck.

At 611 E. 3rd, A. R. Eckler, 621 State, and John B. Smith, 1607 E. 3rd, were driving cars in an accident. Joseph Myers of Ackerly and John Cusehier, Snyder, were in collision in the 1400 block of E. 4th.

Lloyd Head of Abilene and Joe Miller of Duncan, Okla., were in an accident in the 500 block of W. 3rd. Larry Smith of San Angelo, and A. A. Glaser, 1504 Vines, collided at 400 Main. Elaine Blackwell, 1002 Runnels, and Jackie Thomas, 1607 Virginia, collided at 16th and Settles.

Wheelbarrow, Two Hubcaps Are Stolen

Two hubcaps and a wheelbarrow were reported stolen Wednesday.

G. W. Daniel, 106 Mobile, reported that the wheelbarrow was taken from 1217 E. 18th. Walter Speaker, 203 Benton, told the police that two hubcaps were stolen from his car while it was parked at the Clover Bowl. The car was there from 9 p.m. Wednesday to 1 a.m. today.

42 Pilots Get Wings At Webb, O'Brien Speaks

"We are going to have to develop men to efficiently operate our machines, or those machines are going to turn around and manage us. . .they are going to destroy the men who created them."

Those were the words of Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Big Spring, as he spoke during the graduation ceremonies of Pilot Training Class 59-D last night at the Webb Air Force Base Chapel.

The class, which numbered 42 new jet pilots, had among its graduates three members of the German Air Force and two members of the Spanish Air Force.

"We are very grateful for what you are doing to safeguard our country and the rest of the peace-loving world. I'm not going to discuss the things you learned in class or while streaking across the sky in jets, but on the other side of life," said Dr. O'Brien.

"Tomorrow is Thanksgiving, and we all have a great deal to be thankful for. The airplane is a wonderful machine. It has saved lives, but, during World War II, it destroyed lives. That is why we must manage it and not let it manage us," O'Brien said.

Col. James A. Johnson, base executive officer, introduced the speaker and presented the outstanding student, 2nd Lt. Phillip W. Offill, a letter of commendation signed by the ATC Commander and an engraved silver cup. Also receiving letters as distinguished students were 1st Lt. Edward L. Nichols, 2nd Lt. Gary R. Merrihew and 2nd Lt. Bruce Williams.

Diplomas were given by Col. Charles H. Pierce, commander of the 3560th Pilot Training Group, and Lt. Col. Philip G. Cardin, commander of the 3561st Pilot Training Squadron. The students received their wings from their respective flight instructors.

Chaplain (Capt.) Eugene M. Clemens gave the invocation and pronounced the benediction.

A reception was held at the Webb Officers' Club immediately after the ceremonies.

Penney Employes Due Yule Awards

NEW YORK—J. C. Penney Co. announced Wednesday that its directors have authorized a special Christmas payment for more than 50,000 associates in the company's 1,700 stores and offices throughout the United States.

The payment will include all regular associates and part-time associates employed on or before Oct. 1, 1958.

All eligible Penney associates will share in the payment except management staff members whose earnings are determined largely by the company's long-standing profit-sharing plan. The payment will be made in all stores, offices and warehouses on Dec. 2.

The payment is in addition to regular company provisions for associates' benefits including sick benefit, hospital and surgical insurance plan, noncontributory group life insurance, Penco Profit-Sharing Retirement Plan, discounts on purchases and others.

Crash Damages Auto, Pickup

A pickup truck and a passenger car were damaged but neither driver was hurt in a traffic mishap 13 miles northeast of Big Spring on the Snyder highway at 7:30 a.m. today.

Highway Patrol officers who investigated the crash said it was caused when one of the drivers, Joseph A. Lopes, Webb Air Force Base, who had been driving all night, momentarily fell asleep at the wheel.

The patrol reported that the pickup was driven by Oscar Dewey Engle, Knott Rt. He saw the 1957 Chevrolet driven by Lopes bearing down on him and left the slab in an unsuccessful effort to avert the collision.

Patrol estimated the damage to the truck and the car at around $150 each. Officers said that traffic on the highways on Wednesday night was extremely heavy but that slow speed was general—largely enforced by the volume of cars on the road.

The traffic had thinned down somewhat Thursday morning but the holiday travel was still brisk.

Released On Bond

L. E. Thomasson, arrested here on a warrant out of Wichita County accusing him of embezzlement, was released from county jail last night. His brother went to Wichita Falls and posted $1,000 bond for Thomasson's appearance there when his case is called for hearing.

Mrs. Loving Dies Today At Age 69

Mrs. Ella Bell Loving, 69, died in a hospital here at 7:30 a.m. Thursday from a heart involvement.

Mrs. Loving, wife of Harry Loving, 1005 E. 16th, became ill Wednesday evening and was rushed to the hospital. She had been in failing health for the past four years.

Services will be held at 3 p.m. Friday in the Fifth and Elm Church of Christ in Colorado City, where Mrs. Loving had been a member, and with the minister, W. E. Burkham, officiating. Burial will be in the Colorado Cemetery beside the grave of a daughter, Dorothy, who died in 1927.

Local arrangements are in charge of Nalley-Pickle Funeral Home.

Mrs. Loving was born Ella Waller in San Saba on Dec. 27, 1888. She was married to Harry Loving on Aug. 16, 1908 in Loraine, and three months ago they celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary here. Until 1942, when he became associated with Cosden, they made their home in Colorado City.

Surviving Mrs. Loving are her husband; three sons, Bud Loving, Colorado City, Coy Loving and Bill Loving, Big Spring; seven grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

She also leaves one brother, John Waller, Mansfield; five sisters, Mrs. Pearl Hart, Lubbock, Mrs. Leon Jenkins, Colorado City, Mrs. Annie Swafford, Arlington, Mrs. N. A. Greer, McLean, and Mrs. Mary Altizer, Fort Worth.

Parolee Arrested

Earl D. Green, cited by the state prison system as a parole violator, was in the Howard County jail on Thursday morning waiting arrival of penitentiary officials to take him in custody. He was arrested by deputies Wednesday on orders from Huntsville.

New Well Completed, 3 Sites Staked In Howard-Glasscock

Three new locations have been staked in the Howard-Glasscock field and one new well completed in the same area of Howard County.

The new sites are Basin No. 1 Fuglaar, C. L. Wann No. 10 Chalk, and Continental No. 17-E Clay. Basin completed the No. 2-B Bowen for 11 barrels of oil.

In Sterling, Boykin Bros. & Roche staked the No. 7-A Bade in the Parochial Bade (Clear Fork) pool about 10 miles west of Sterling City in Sterling County.

Dawson

The Texas Co. located the No. 4 4 J. O. Goodson in the Jo-Mill (Spraberry) field about 18 miles southeast of Lamesa on a 699-acre lease. Drillsite is 660 from south and 1,980 from west lines, 44-33-5n, T&P Survey, and it will penetrate to 7,575 feet.

Boykin Bros. & Roche No. 7-A Bade is located 1,248 from south and 439 from east lines, 22-22 H&TC Survey, and 10 miles west of Sterling City. Drilling depth is 2,500 feet.

Tennessee Officers Seek Escaped Killer

LEBANON, Tenn. (AP)—An escaped Georgia murderer commandeered a highway patrol car and left the patrolman and a wounded kidnap victim bound to a tree Wednesday night, setting off a manhunt throughout middle Tennessee.

Roadblocks were set up today in the search for Spence Edwards, 35, who broke away from a prison work detail near Dalton, Ga., Tuesday.

Authorities had said he might try to free his brother from a Tennessee jail where he, too, is held on a murder charge.

Chill Continues Grip On Area

A chill, grey day with temperatures hovering in the upper 30's marked Thanksgiving for Big Spring.

A low of 34 degrees which was set up soon after midnight stuck steadily through 9 a.m. A light shower classified as a "trace" was reported during the night.

Cloudy skies, a sharp wind and a biting chill greeted early risers. At 10:30 a.m. the sun was desperately fighting to take over and the clouds had thinned slightly.

Forecast for the remainder of the day and Friday calls for a continuation of the same with a prospect of occasional light rains. Low tonight is estimated at 34 and high for today around 47 degrees.

and several traffic interchanges between where the route will take off east of Birdwell Lane on U. S. 80 east, Roberts explained, and where it re-enters U. S. 80 west at about the northwest edge of Webb AFB.

The highway department and bureau of public roads have earmarked $5,658,000 for the project which is approximately five and half miles long. It is set up for the 1959-60 program, which means that right-of-way purchases have been scheduled for completion possibly by the end of 1959. George O'Brien, J. W. Purser and R. L. Cook have been approved as right-of-way appraisers, Roberts announced.

How long will the project require for construction? Roberts wouldn't be pinned down, but he said it would take quite a while for even large contractors to earn $5 million dollars for construction.

"Let's put it this way," he said, "I don't know of any place we're in more of a hurry."

OF THE

Howard County Junior College Board Of Trustees

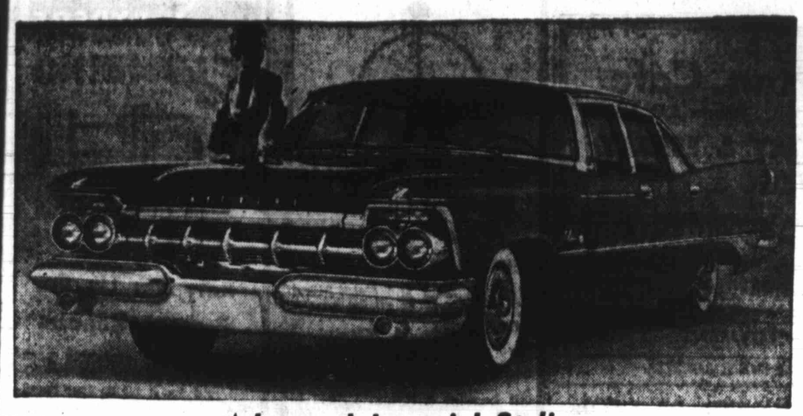

Whether it's a called or regular meeting, every time notices go out on a Howard County Junior College board meeting, one goes to Joe Pickle, member of the Big Spring Herald staff.

You'll find him there at every meeting, serving as your eyes and ears while the Board of Trustees conducts its business.

The Big Spring Herald believes that what the board of the college does is of vital importance to the people of this area. It believes that how the college funds are expended concerns you; how the curriculum is shaped; what new buildings are needed or planned; what special problems are posed for faculty and facilities are all tremendously important business — because they are your business.

Advanced Imperial Styling

The 1959 Imperial sedan is one of four body styles produced in the new Imperial plant in Detroit. It has a new 350-horsepower engine, increased interior room, and many new optional comfort features including front swivel seats. Imperial also builds four-door and two-door hardtops and convertibles.

1959 Imperial Features Space, Power, Economy Of Operation

The 1959 Imperial, featuring more room for passengers and a new, more powerful engine with traditional fuel economy, goes on display in Big Spring Friday at Lone Star Motor Co., 600 E. 3rd.

The 1959 model is the first to be built in the corporation's new Imperial plant. C. E. Briggs, vice president of Chrysler Corp., said the new plant marks a further step in setting the Imperial apart from other cars.

"The Imperial has been completely different in sculpture and engineering since 1957," he said. "Now it has a home of its own where men with specialized skills are giving their attention to it exclusively.

New and optional features include: A stainless steel roof creation for hardtop models, swivel front seats for convenience in entering or leaving the car, rear air suspension for maintaining level chassis under all load condition, rear view mirror that electronically adjusts itself to avoid headlight glare, new push-button controlled heater-air conditioning unit, electronically controlled headlight beam changer.

Briggs said new Imperial standard features include new super enamel paint finishes which require no polishing up to three years, 18 new exterior paint color creations, new interior fabric and upholstery designs in leather, wool broadcloth, nylon and nylon metallic fabric and vinyl; newly designed instrument panel and new stronger body frame using heavier gauge steel.

Briggs said renewed emphasis is being placed in Auto-Pilot, the turnpike cruise-control system which Imperial introduced in 1958.

"Auto-Pilot has won outstanding public support," Briggs said. "We expect to install Auto-Pilot on at least 35 per cent of all Imperials."

In an actual turnpike run between Detroit and New York by identical 1958 production cars, the Auto-Pilot equipped car enjoyed a 15 per cent gas saving over the car without Auto-Pilot. Auto-Pilot, which is engaged by simply pushing a button, maintains a constant speed over all roads, level or hilly, and allows a driver to remove his foot from the accelerator for long periods of time.

More room and greater riding comfort for 1959 Imperial passengers have been provided by a new frame, a lower floor and greater seat height in both front and rear. This improvement is especially appealing to rear seat passengers, giving them considerably greater leg room, Briggs said.

The new frame besides permitting greater leg room is much stronger. Steel gauge has been nearly doubled in certain areas of the frame while other areas have been structurally thickened.

The interior has a new look as a result of styling changes in the instrument panel, upholstery fabric patterns, arm rest designs and other appointments.

Imperial "living room" interiors feature advanced design upholstering and door-to-door deep pile carpeting in all models.

A striking white pearlescent, all-leather interior is offered in the Imperial Crown for the first time. Blue, beige and red all-leather interiors are also available. Paris inspired "LeHavre" Jacquard cloth materials in a choice of colors are offered in the Crown sedan. Crown hardtops and convertibles feature, in combination aith genuine leather, textured "Balmoral" upholstery—the cloth with the hand-loomed look.

Custom Imperial sedans employ "Crusader" fabric in blue, green, brown and gray, while hardtops offer in addition to these colors, turquoise and ruby.

The aristocrat of Imperial automobiles, the LeBaron, features the "tailored" look. Fine, smooth, soft-to-the-touch wool broadcloths in rich subtle tones create a feeling of warmth and tranquillity.

A bold new front-end appearance is dominated by a massive horizontal chrome bar with five dart-shaped vertical cross pieces. Twin dual headlamps are placed lower in the front-end, while the low-styled front bumper gives a feeling of forward thrust.

From the rear the new Imperial has an uncluttered oval appearance which blends in effectively with dramatic twin fin lines.

Imperial has a new, more powerful engine for 1959. Weighing approximately 100 pounds less than the famous Imperial version of the Firepower engine it replaces, it delivers more push where the driver can best use it—at low and medium engine speeds, according to Imperial engineers.

Retaining its push-button controlled automatic transmission which it first introduced in 1956 models, Imperial now employs push-button controls for its combination heater-air conditioning unit. Five easily reached buttons placed vertically along the right-hand edge of the instrument panel shroud provide full-range finger-tip climate control.

An electronic self-dimming rear-view mirror is optional. Called Mirro-Matic, the device automatically deflects from drivers' eyes beams of glaring light thrown by cars approaching from the rear. A switch on the mirror permits sensitivity adjustment of the electric cell so that both "city" and "country" driving situations are automatically handled by the device.

Another electronic feature available this year is a headlight-dimming device which adjusts high and low beam to oncoming headlights. The mechanism is so light-sensitive it also reacts to red taillights of a car being followed by adjusting high-low headlight beam accordingly.

In 1959 the Custom Imperial series is offered in a four-door sedan, two-door and four-door hardtop.

The Imperial-Crown series is offered in a foor-door sedan, two-door and four-door hardtop.

The Imperial-Crown series is available in a four-door sedan, two-door and four-door hardtop, and convertible coupe.

The Imperial LeBaron series offers a four-door sedan and a four-door hardtop.

Cubs, Scouts Get Awards At Grady

LENORAH—Grady Boy Scouts and Cubs held a joint meeting Tuesday evening for a court of honor and the start of a financial drive for support of the Buffalo Trial Council.

Speaker for the program was Bill McRee of Big Spring, district Scout executive, and Judge Jim McCoy of Stanton. Merit badges in canoeing and rowing were presented to Jimmy Barber, Steve Springer, Jimmy Robertson, Dennis Walker, Lee and Mike Roman. The boys also received pioneering awards for work at Camp Ed Murphy.

Six Cubs, Jack Madison, Lance Hopper, Dale Robertson, Bob Baron, Ronnie Graves and Jimmy Walker, received their Bobcat pins.

Jail Inmates Eat Thanksgiving Meal

Twenty-one inmates of the Howard County jail ate baked hen with all the traditional trimmings Thursday afternoon—guests of the sheriff at the annual Thanksgiving Day special dinner.

George Bogard, jailer, said the dinner was being prepared on Thursday morning and would be eaten in midafternoon.

It is a long followed practice to provide the prisoners with a holiday meal on Thanksgiving and on Christmas.

Thanksgiving Drive

These are some of the cans of food contributed by high school students for distribution to underprivileged families on Thanksgiving. Some 1,200 cans were collected, and about 20 Thanksgiving baskets, each also containing a chicken, were distributed. The food was contributed as part of a contest sponsored by the student council. Mrs. Betty Green's shorthand class won the $7.50 first prize with a participation record of 901 per cent.

Former Martin Resident Dies

STANTON (SC)—Mrs. Arrilla Johnson Nichols, 76, of Midland, formerly of Martin County, died at noon Wednesday in the Midland Memorial Hospital.

Funeral was to be held at 3:30 p.m. today in the First Methodist Church of Stanton with the Rev. J. W. Rosenburg, pastor of Asbury Methodist Church of Midland, officiating. The Rev. Wallace Kirby, pastor of the Stanton church, was to assist. Interment was to be in Evergreen Cemetery with Arrington Funeral Home in charge.

Mrs. Nichols was a member of the Asbury church. She had lived in Midland for the past seven years, and previously lived in Martin County for 26 years. Her husband, James R. Nichols, died March 17, 1940.

She was born Feb. 27, 1882, in Eureka Springs, Ark., and she and Mr. Nichols were married at Dudley in 1901.

Survivors include three sons, Clarence Nichols of Fresno, Calif., Oran Nichols of Midland and Elmo Nichols of Stanton; three daughters, Mrs. James Jones of Stanton, Mrs. Bill Clements of Franklin and Mrs. Harrison Bickley of Midland; five brothers, six sisters, 19 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren. Mrs. R. S. Anderson of Big Spring is a sister.

Twister Demolishes House

Ralph Randel surveys the damage done to his house in Denver, Colo., by a high wind and twister. The house, occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Randel and their three children, was heavily damaged but fortunately the only injury that resulted was a scratched ear when a two-by-four fell on David, 5, as he slept in his bed.

Dakota Congressman Is Paid Back For His Aid To Texan

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Special Service

WASHINGTON, Nov. 27 (AP)—The other day the elderly Rep. Usher L. Burdick (R-ND) opened a letter and out fell four $5 money orders—sent to him from Texas by a man whom he had befriended 21 years ago.

Signed by Louis M. Wood, who identified himself as a member of the Masonic Lodge in Dallas, the letter was penned in neat hand printing.

"I wish to thank you for aid you extended me in 1937 when I was in Washington, D. C., looking for employment opportunities," Wood wrote.

As Burdick recalls the incident, Wood, a complete stranger, wandered into his office in 1937 saying he didn't know what he was going to do, that he didn't have a cent.

"I just took him out to my (Maryland) farm for six weeks and fed him," Burdick said. "I hadn't heard from him since."

After telling Burdick that he was a Dallas Mason, Wood added:

"I have been a supporter of our President who is a Mason himself. President Eisenhower came to San Francisco and appealed for aid for his party so I am sending you $5 to aid the Republican party which you so ably represent.

"I am also sending $5 for any North Dakota charities that you find use for. Five dollars also is enclosed for Masonic Educational Fund for North Kakota State. . .

"Enclosed is $5 for any veterans activity in North Dakota that you may find use for."

LYNDON CHOICE

Burdick, who is retiring after 20 years in the House, guesses Texas' Sen. Lyndon Johnson will be the Democratic presidential nominee in 1960 and will be opposed by Nelson Rockefeller, recently elected governor of New York, as the Republican nominee.

Lyndon Johnson is the only fellow who would get the Democratic vote in both the North and the South," Burdick said. "His attitude on segregation is perfect. He says it has to come, but it should be step by step. The South is not likely to fight him and the North won't."

BRIGHT PICTURE

The Agriculture Department has issued a report on the financial outlook of farmers over the country, and in discussing the Southwest, paints a bright picture.

"This will be a memorable year for farmers and ranchers in Texas and Oklahoma," it said, "particularly in the western halves of these states.

"After five or more years of drought, production of wheat, grain sorghums, and cotton is excellent in 1958 in most sections. Range and pasture conditions are the best in years."

The report noted disasters in some local areas, such as flood stricken sections along the middle Rio Grande. It said farmers repayments on loans have been exceptionally heavy.

"To obtain local information on the extent of recovery from the severe drought," the report continued, "a survey was made in Carson County in the Panhandle of Texas."

"Here wheat and grain sorghum are the predominant crops and stocker cattle are usually grazed on wheat for four or five winter months.

"The good yields and sustained prices have permitted farmers to pay overdue accounts, buy some long-needed equipment, make repairs that were neglected during the dry years, and bolster cash reserves that had been seriously depleted."

After further discussion of the situation in West Texas, the report moved eastward.

"The credit and financial condition of farmers in the Blackland area of Texas was better in 1958 than in 1957, but the improvement was not as outstanding as it was in the western sections of the Southwest," the report stated.

"Interviews in Ellis County in this cotton producing area reveal that 1958 income will be up, although fall rains may have caused some damage to the quality of cotton."

Former West Texas Congressman Clyde L. Garrett, 72, back in town with his wife to sell their Washington home, returned to Texas abruptly when he suffered a heart disorder.

A member of the House in the late 1930s, Garrett later held a government position in Washington, then for years was with the Veterans Administration in Dallas and Waco. Retiring in 1956, he moved back to his home in Eastland.

Coming back to Washington recently, the Garretts moved into their property here so they could show it to prospective buyers. Before it could be disposed of the Judge, as Garrett is widely known, suffered a slight recurrence of a heart condition.

Mrs. Garrett, who remained here to settle their affairs, said:

"He took the first plane to Fort Worth, so he could be there with our daughter and see his personal physician. He didn't call a doctor here for fear he wouldn't be permitted to fly. On the way, the hostess gave him some oxygen."

She said her husband is getting along fine now, after a few days in a hospital. The daughter with him whom he is staying is Mrs. John Seelig, whose husband is educational minister at Travis Avenue Baptist Church.

Going Steady Moves To Higher Bracket

AUSTIN, Nov. 27 (AP)—Stags and wall flowers are a relic of the past at the University of Texas.

Where they've gone no one knows. Perhaps they've joined forces. But it's strictly couples only at Texas dances these days.

"In our day we counted ourselves fortunate to have a a date that everybody cut in on, who every body wanted to dance with," said Jitter Nolen, director of the Texas Student Union. "That's all changed now."

"Our day" wasn't long ago. Nolen is 35.

The present attitude, said Nolen, is "I got her. You leave her alone."

It isn't that the couple is going steady—just going steady for that dance.

"Used to be, each member of a Greek organization would send one date bid and two or three stag bids," said Nolen. Now they have quit sending stag bids.

Stags still show up at the union get-acquainted dances when school begins in September. But by the time of the Texas-Oklahoma game in early October the newcomers are in step with the times at Texas and else get a date or don't come.

"After the Oklahoma game the stags are gone every fall. After that the girls won't attend dances alone and their dates won't tolerate cutting in," he continued.

A girl who dances with someone other than her date is as out of place as an Okie at a Texas homecoming. The stag line is gone—perhaps to a dreary security that leaves a girl dancing with one partner all night—but dancing!

Cotton No Help To Jail Inmate

OROVILLE, Calif. (AP)—Some of the prisoners sang "Power in the Blood" but not Donald Smith.

He sat in the Butte County jail, his ears stuffed with cotton, playing cards.

Smith, awaiting trial on a forgery charge, had protested his constitutional rights were being violated by having to listen to sermons and hymns each Tuesday night.

The jailer provided Smith, 25, with the cotton.

It didn't work.

"We can't sing very well," said the leader of the services.

"You can't sing at all," Smith shouted from his cell.

He finally threw down his cards, shouted, "I should have played the jack," and retired to a corner where he held his hands over his cotton-plugged ears.

The 1959 Imperial LeBaron Silvercrest hardtop . . . from Imperial's new plant to host the Imperial Ball.

PRESENTING...EXCELLENCE WITHOUT EQUAL...
THE IMPERIAL OF 1959

Today, America has a new measurement for excellence in motoring.

IMPERIAL FOR 1959 . . . a car whose great dignity is matched by an eagerness of spirit.

A car whose new Royal Coach Body gives passengers more space . . . a car which makes available new front seats which swivel doorward to make entry and exit easy and graceful.

IMPERIAL FOR 1959 . . . a car which combines spectacular handling ease with a firm sense of absolute control . . . whose newly designed engine develops enormous power with fewer engine revolutions . . . so it need never race or raise its voice.

A car which can be equipped with Auto-Pilot to remind you of speed limits, and to maintain a steady turnpike pace, up hill and down, without so much as a touch of the accelerator.

A car that comes to you in all its carefully crafted excellence from America's newest automotive plant.

IMPERIAL FOR 1959 . . . excellence without equal. A boastful statement? See it. Drive it. And then decide.

New State Of Alaska Places Itself Solidly In Demo Ranks

JUNEAU, Alaska (AP) — The new state of Alaska had its tent pitched solidly in the Democratic camp today as the ballot counting from Tuesday's general election took a Thanksgiving Day recess.

The Democrats, turning the election into a landslide with the exception of the race for one major office, picked up both of Alaska's U.S. Senate seats, the state's lone seat in the U.S. House of Representatives and the governor's mansion. They won absolute control of Alaska's first State Legislature.

Leading the Democratic parade was Alaska's long-time, nonvoting delegate to Congress, E. L. (Bob) Bartlett, 54, who was a runaway winner over Republican R. E. Robertson and independent Keith Capper.

Bartlett, who has represented Alaska in Congress for the past 14 years, was figured to be a shoo-in. Neither Robertson nor Capper waged anything more than a token campaign. Bartlett won U.S. Senate Term A.

Ernest Gruening, a Democrat, was locked in a tight vote battle with Republican Mike Stepovich for Senate Term B. Both men are former appointed governors of the territory.

Gruening trailed Stepovich in the early counting Tuesday night, then picked up steam as returns from the traditionally Democratic Fairbanks-Anchorage area started coming in and moved out into a 1,000 to 1,500 lead he did not relinquish.

Stepovich refused to concede election to Gruening, 71, a native of New York City who was appointed governor in 1939. He stepped down in 1953. Stepovich was appointed governor by President Eisenhower in June 1957.

The lone seat in the House delegated to Alaska will be occupied by Ralph Rivers, 55, a former territorial attorney general who beat back the challenge of Republican Henry Benson, Alaska's commissioner of labor.

William Egan, the president of Alaska's constitutional convention, was chosen to become the 49th state's first elected governor.

A Valdez merchant, Egan, 44, whipped Republican John Butrovich Jr. and carried with him into office as Alaska's secretary of state Hugh J. Wade, 57.

Egan, like Gruening, was elected as an unofficial "senator" to promote statehood in the nation's capital. During the past two years they engineered the final drive to make the 49th star on the nation's flag Alaska's star.

The Democratic victory had been expected with the exception of Gruening's decision over the young and popular Stepovich, who at the age of 38 became the territory's first native-born governor.

The length of the terms Gruening and Bartlett will serve in the Senate will be determined by the Senate itself when it convenes in January. One will be assigned a six-year term, the other a two-year term.

The sweep in Alaska boosted the Democrats' majority in the Senate to 64-34 and gave them solid control of the House at 283-153.

Boydstun Area Gets Temporary Pavement

Work has been completed by the city on a temporary pavement in front of Boydstun Elementary School.

The city started the work after school last week and finished it the early part of this week. Only the area immediately in front of the building was surfaced. The city laid the temporary paving only to last until it can be permanently surfaced as part of an assessment program in the near future.

Safety Poster Contest

Mrs. J. W. Forrester, left, president of the T&P Ladies Safety Council, and Mrs. H. M. Doan, corresponding secretary, look over entries in the poster contest sponsored by the organization. There were some 100 entries in the three elementary school divisions, the first through third and fourth through sixth grades and special education. They are being judged by Hyperion members. Also conducted was an essay contest in high school and junior high divisions. About 50 essays were entered.

Girl Slips Into Navy Cadet Quarters; High Brass Swoons

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP)—A 17-year-old high school girl upset Navy discipline by pulling on a uniform and spending several hours inside the Naval Academy.

Navy brass—when they recovered—pulled the stripes from the sleeves of three middies and ordered two others to face disciplinary action.

"The unauthorized presence of a young lady in Bancroft Hall at an unauthorized time" was, said the academy, "an immature prank."

The academy, in a statement, said the incident occurred "about two weeks ago."

The girl, Susan Johnson, a senior at Annapolis High School and daughter of a well-known Baltimore surgeon, Dr. Marius P. Johnson, stood evening meal formation in a middies uniform, then marched into the dining room and ate with the 3,500-man brigade.

Her mother termed the incident "just a prank."

The Navy took a sterner view.

Cmdr. Marcy Dupre, academy public information officer, said the three demoted midshipmen officers were not directly involved but "had positive knowledge of the incident and failed to take proper corrective action."

Involved in the incident, he said, were William R. Evans of Trenton, N. J., and Michael J. Brown, of Guymon, Okla., both seniors. They face disciplinary action.

Demoted were James P. Wilson of Philadelphia, the brigade commander; Robert L. Vogt of Norfolk, Va., a battalion commander; and Douglas Volgenau of Clarence, N. Y., a company commander.

Academy officials had announced changes in midshipmen officers last Monday but at that time said only that they were for "administrative reasons."

Dupre's statement said "the incident is deeply regretted but these young men are being trained to assume command responsibilities in the fleet and they must learn these lessons now rather than later."

Meanwhile, Johnson said he, as "parental commander," has forbidden his daughter to go to the academy again.

"We have a very lovely daughter who has done a number of wonderful things in her short life of 17 years. . . . This was a prank. It was foolish. But we are standing 100 per cent behind her," he said.

In Philadelphia, the father of ex-brigade commander Wilson also backed his son.

"If I had been in the same situation, I would have done the same thing Jimmy did; that's all I can tell you," James Wilson Sr. said.

Moisture, Cold Holiday Features

By The Associated Press

There wasn't much cause for thanksgiving Thursday as far as the weather was concerned in Texas.

Skies were cloudy with light rain at Alice, Kingsville, Laredo, Cotulla, Abilene and Midland. Freezing rain fell at Lubbock.

The cold front had pushed on out into the Gulf and a bitter chill lay over nearly all of Texas. Amarillo had 27 degrees early Thursday, Dalhart 30 and Lubbock 31. Brownsville was the warmest with 55.

Drizzle fell at Amarillo, Beaumont, El Paso, Laredo and Kingsville Wednesday.

Cloud-Seeding Injunction Upheld

EL PASO (AP)—Part of an injunction keeping cloud - seeding planes from tampering with the weather over the land of ranchers was upheld yesterday by the Eighth Court of Civil Appeals.

The court modified a district court ruling of last August in Jeff Davis County which had banned cloud seeding entirely in four counties.

The West Texas cloud seeding case was without precedent, the court noted. It involved a conflict between ranchers and farmers in Culberson, Terrell, Winkler and Loving counties.

Farmers claimed the seeding was necessary to prevent hail from damaging crops. Ranchers claimed the normal rainfall was being stopped by the seeding and was harming grazing lands.

For Tuberculosis Fund

The work of Mrs. Garner McAdams as chairman of bangle sales for the TB Assn., includes many angles. Here, she is receiving a check from the benefit basketball games played in Knott and Gay Hill Tuesday evening. "Assisting" each other in presenting the checks are Weldon Snodgrass, principal at Knott, and Doyle Fenn, Gal Hill principal. Another side of the work is the showing of films to pupils in the county; more than 1,000 have viewed the film, "Goodbye, Mr. Germ," in Big Spring, Mrs. McAdams said, with about 80 viewing it Tuesday evening in Knott. Adults at Gay Hill saw "The Story of Tuberculosis" between games at the school Tuesday. Proceeds from the two benefits amounted to $86.05 from Gay Hill and $48.70 from Knott.

Few Wall Streeters Scared By Shakeout In Stock Market

By SAM DAWSON
Associated Press News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The shakeout in the stock market the first of the week has frightened few Wall Streeters. Even those who hastened to sell before prices slipped too far from their peak acted today as if they had been waiting for it rather than showing any surprise.

None pretends to know how far the deflation will carry or when a fresh vigorous upturn will come. But many call the shakeout at this time healthy.

Rapidly rising stock prices had—by most standards—discounted the general business recovery for some time to come. That is, record high stock prices could be justified, in conservative minds, only by a boom in production, sales, in profits and in dividends that most people considered many months away.

The big upswing in prices also had discounted the inflation fears that many held. These had grown after the size of the federal deficit became known, and later when many felt the election of a liberal spending Congress would aggravate it.

But inflation would have to carry much farther and in a much shorter period of time than now seems likely to catch up with the fast rise in stock prices soon.

These two big supports of the rampant bull market—confidence in a strong business recovery and fear of big inflation — have carried prices pretty high.

They had risen so high, in fact, that many traders doubtless were ready to sell at the first sign of a tumble. This could account for the big volume of selling Monday after last Friday's price weakness.

There were worrisome conditions too. Labor strife seemed to be growing. While this could lead to more inflation, through the wage-price spiral—it also meant that many companies were losing chances for a quick return to better profits.

Earnings, although improving, were still disquietingly below their peak. And profit margins were still squeezed by rising costs — threatening to hold down dividends for some time to come.

Foreign news in recent days had been upsetting. Stock traders dislike uncertainties.

Confidence which bloomed so brightly in the early days of the recovery tended to shrivel a bit when the fast rate turned to a slower pace—although this is common to most business recoveries.

All of this had been building up at a time when what professional traders call technical factors were against further steady rises in stock prices.

The market was at a point where many speculators were ready to take their profits and cut their risks.

The short interest had dropped. That is, the number of those who had sold borrowed stocks and must support the market later by buying them for replacement was less than in the booming bullish days, thus shrinking one cushion under the fall.

Also, this is the period when traders readjust their portfolios for tax purposes.

The market was thin. That is, stocks were in the hands of investors, institutional or individual, who had bought them at much lower prices than today's but weren't putting them on the market, either because they thought them good long-term investments or because they didn't want to pay capital gains taxes.

With few stocks available for trading, big swings up or down in prices are common.

And for some time now, top-grade bonds have produced a better yield at ther deflated prices than have blue chip common stocks at their record prices. Thus there was an incentive to sell stocks and buy bonds.

All of this may be why the market tumbled badly the first of the week.

None of it necessarily proves that the market will be greatly depressed, nor that it won't go to still greater heights in the future.

Stormy Life Of Fair Weather

ORANGE, Mass. (AP)—This is the story of the rather stormy life of Fair Weather, an English bulldog.

Like New England weather, he is inclined to be unpredictable.

He ran away from his owner, Ernest Johnson of Springfield.

He wandered to a restaurant near the Massachusetts Turnpike and for three days lived off handouts.

On the fourth day, the Rev. Decatur Butler stopped to eat and took a liking to the dog.

The feeling apparently was mutual, because Fair Weather consented to go home with the Rev. Mr. Butler. Soon the pooch was a real buddy to the three Butler children.

Not long afterward the dog wandered away and did not return. The Butlers put an ad in the paper.

As it turned out, Fair Weather wandered into the yard of Mrs. Robert Brown, in another part of Orange.

Mrs. Brown took one look and called a relative — Ernest Johnson of Springfield, the original owner.

Johnson went over to Mrs. Brown's and brought Fair Weather back home with him.

But the dog apparently was not too happy. He wouldn't eat and appeared to be pining.

Johnson confided in Mrs. Brown and the latter recalled that she had read in the paper the Butlers had reported the dog missing.

So, to make the dog happy—not to mention the Butler children—Johnson returned the dog to the Rev. Mr. Butler and his family.

Guard Plane Crashes, 2 Die

NEW YORK (AP)—An Air National Guard plane crashed into Jamaica Bay Wednesday while heading in to Floyd Bennett Field in Brooklyn. Two men died, one is missing, and a fourth was rescued.

The twin-engine C119, called a "Flying Boxcar," was attempting a radar-directed landing in rain and fog

Recovered from the bay shortly after the crash were the bodies of Capt. Ramon Duke, 28, of Brooklyn, and 2nd Lt David B. Hall, 29, of the Bronx.

The missing man was identified as Sgt. Ferdinand Roessner, 29, of Elmhurst, Queens.

Rescued by a police helicopter was Lt. Richard H. Westerberg, 22, of Brooklyn. Westerberg was picked up by a police helicopter rushed to the crash area. He was taken to St. Albans Naval Hospital Queens, where his condition was described as good.

The cause of the crash was not immediately determined.

Elder Medic Dies

POPLAR BLUFF, Mo. (AP) — Dr. John Dudley Hullinger, 97, one of the country's oldest practicing physicians until his recent retirement in Clinton, Iowa, died Tuesday. In 1953 his wife and nurse, then 32, gave birth to his first son. He delivered the baby with only a nurse in attendance.

Negro Pleads Guilty To Attempted Rape

DALLAS (AP)—Sammy Louis, 17, a Denison Negro, pleaded guilty here yesterday to a charge of assault with attempt to rape and was assessed a 15-year prison term.

Louis was accused of attempting to rape an 18-year-old white girl in Denison on April 17, 1957.

Coya May Or May Not Come Home, But Husband Drops Slander Suit Against Aide

WASHINGTON (AP)—The male secretary of blonde Rep. Coya Knutson (D-Minn) says his boss's husband is dropping a $200,000 suit against him charging alienation of affections and slander.

William Kjeldahl, 30, made public a letter he said he got from Andy Knutson, the husband.

"Understand that I have nothing against you and the idea of suing you was not my idea in the first place," the letter said.

". . . Please understand that people who wanted Coya to be beat started this whole thing."

The 45-year-old Minnesota congresswoman, defeated for re-election, could not be reached for comment. Neither could her 50-year-old husband, operator of a small hotel in Oklee, Minn.

Kjeldahl, executive secretary to Rep. Knutson, also showed newsmen a copy of another letter he said was sent by Andy Knutson to a federal judge. That letter said, "I've fired my lawyer, Benedict F. Fitzgerald, and I don't want to sue Kjeldahl any more. . . ."

Fitzgerald said later that as far as he knew he hadn't been fired and that he has not asked that the suit be withdrawn.

Kjeldahl, who said he met with Knutson Monday, told a news conference the dropping of the suit against him "is fully justified since there was never any evidence whatsoever to support the fantastic charges made."

The congressional secretary said there had been no settlement out of court.

The suit, filed in U.S. District Court here Nov. 5, said Kjeldahl interfered with Knutson's marital rights. It also charged that Kjeldahl slandered Knutson as "an impotent old alcoholic. . . ."

The row started last May when Knutson demanded publicly that Mrs. Knutson get out of politics and come home. She refused to do so, went on to win renomination, but lost in the Nov. 4 election to Republican Odin Langen.

Kjeldahl said Mrs. Knutson had arranged his meeting with Knutson. But he said he did not know whether there would be a reconciliation between the Knutsons, married 18 years.

Beauty Nominees

Susan Landers, at left, was one of the nominees for All-School Beauty at Southwestern University, where she is a freshman student. With her is another of the nominees, Lydia Kit Mun Wang of Kowloon, China. Miss Landers is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Landers, Route 2. Both girls were nominated by the Independent Association to compete with nominees from five other social organizations at the university. Winner in the competition was Mildred Marian Lawler, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Marion Lawler of Mercedes.

Thanksgiving Program Is Given For Altrusans

Mrs. Norman Read presented a program, dealing with Thanksgiving, Wednesday at the Altrusa Club luncheon, held at the Howard House.

An article showing the development of the Thanksgiving observance from Biblical times was read by Mrs. Read, who also brought a story on "Bringing in the Sheaves." Listed as some of the "sheaves" that we should bear to the Thanksgiving season, the speaker told members, are gratitude, love, trust, bravery, laughter and courage.

During a business meeting, announcement was made that the club's Christmas party will be given Dec. 8 at 7 p.m. at the Howard House.

Mrs. Homer Petty, chairman of the international affairs committee, told the group that the women have completed the pledge of $125 which has been made for the donation to the YMCA. Three other committees are to raise the same amount.

Guests were seated at tables decorated with arrangements of fall fruit and flowers in trays and in cornucopias.

Attends Funeral

Mrs. W. D. McDonald, 1603 Eleventh Place, has returned from Paducah, where she attended funeral services for her sister, Mrs. D. K. Pinkston, who passed away Sunday. Mrs. Pinkston, who had been ill quite a long time, was an old-time resident of Paducah, having lived there 50 years.

Guests Are Expected

Mrs. W. C. Henley is expecting her son, Hudson Henley, and her granddaughter, Candace Henley, both of Garland, during the holidays.

Abilenians Visit

Mrs. Leon Churchill, LeAnne and Kent of Abilene are guests in the home of her sister, Mrs. B. L. LeFever, 1710 Johnson. The visitors arrived Wednesday evening.

Garden Folk Co-Sponsors Of Contest

The Council of Big Spring Garden Clubs will cooperate with the Chamber of Commerce in the Christmas Decoration Contest, it was decided Wednesday morning at a meeting of the group.

Mrs. Swindell was hostess for the council when it was announced that a flower show school will be given in Odessa. School No. One is scheduled for some time in January, 1959, with the dates and location to be told later. Members from Big Spring who take the course may take the examination locally, it was stated.

Date of judging in the decoration contest is to be decided later; divisions of the contest will be decorations for the door, window, yard and trimming for the overall scene.

A report was heard from the flower show sponsored recently at Howard County Junior College by the council.

There will not be a meeting of the group in December, it was announced Wednesday.

Prepare For Unexpected

Pretty Nina Shipman, who is under contract to 20th Century-Fox, believes that it pays to be well-groomed and prepared for the unexpected. She'll soon be seen in "In Love and War."

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Her Motto Is Same As That Of Boy Scouts

By LYDIA LANE

HOLLYWOOD — The star whom I had planned to interview was called in for retakes for her current picture, so Nina Shipman was sent as a last minute replacement. When I picked her up at the studio, where she was scheduled for a singing lesson, she was so perfectly groomed that I remarked about this.

"Not many girls could go from class to a personal interview without warning," I told her, as we drove to the veteran's hospital in Long Beach.

"I have had 'be prepared' drilled into me ever since I can remember," Nina replied with a smile. "No matter when you leave the house, be prepared to meet anyone without apologies,' my mother always told me. And she felt the same thing applies around the house—be prepared for an unexpected visitor. This has become a habit with me now. I've been very glad that I've followed her advice on many occasions."

Nina has just finished a small part in "In Love and War" for 20th Century-Fox.

"Ever since I can remember I knew that someday I would be in show business," she revealed. "My grandmother, Nell Shipman, was a silent-movie star, and my family is a theatrical one.

"I'm taking four dramatic lessons a week, four dancing lessons a week, one piano and one voice lesson."

Nina has been told she looks like Grace Kelly, Ingrid Bergman and Martha Hyer, but she doesn't mind resembling so many other actresses.

"It depends on the way I'm wearing my hair. I like to change my style. Sometimes I wear it in a page boy, pony tail, chignon, side-sweep, shaggy pouf or a French twist. And I've learned how to do each style myself. It takes practice, but I watch what the hairdresser at the studio does and then try to copy it."

As we neared the veteran's hospital there had obviously been an accident because the freeway was covered with hundreds of squashed tomatoes.

"What a pity!" Nina exclaimed. "I hate waste of anything—food, energy, talent, money. That's why I try to be well-organized. If I have a plan I can make the best use of everything."

Frances Earp Bride Of Tommy Roberts

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Earp, 118 Harding, are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Frances Lee, to Tommy Roberts. The couple was married Friday evening in the home of Justice of the Peace A. M. Sullivan, who read the wedding vows.

The bridegroom is the son of Thomas Roberts, Lamesa Highway, and Mrs. Paul Kuykendall, Andrews Highway, in whose home will continue her studies in high school and Roberts will attend Howard County Junior College.

Forsaners At Game In Austin

FORSAN—In Austin to attend the Texas University A&M College football game today are Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Bailey. Their son, Murl, is a freshman at A&M.

S. C. Cowley and his son, Kenneth of Big Spring, have returned with one deer after a hunt near Mason.

Sammy Childress, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. James Childress., is ill in a Big Spring hospital.

Mrs. Mary Chalk is in Malone Hogan Hospital after a fall, which caused a broken pelvis. She will be confined to her bed for about 10 weeks, it is reported.

After a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Snelling, Mrs. A. P. Morris of Snyder has returned to her home. She is the mother of Mrs. Snelling.

Mrs. John Kubecka has been dismissed from Medical Arts Hospital after a two weeks stay following surgery.

Here from Uvalde for several days are Mrs. W. L. Harkrider, Gerry and Terry.

Guests in the Bob Wash home have been her grandmother, Mrs. Martha Archer, and her uncle, Sam Archer of Lamesa.

Dr. Lloyd Leads Bible Study For Women

Nineteen Women of the First Presbyterian Church were present at the church Monday afternoon for Bible study. Dr. R. Gage Lloyd brought the lesson from the book, Meet Dr. Luke, using as text Luke 15.

The session opened with prayer by Mrs. C. E. McStravick. Mrs. Arthur Pickle worded the benediction.

Plan Weekend Trip

Planning a weekend trip to Waco are Mr. and Mrs. Bob Clark and daughters, Jacie and Barbara. They will leave Saturday to be guests of Mrs. Clark's sister and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Roche.

Nalleys Have Guest

A guest for Thanksgiving in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Coy Nalley, 908 Gregg, is her sister, Miss Curtiss Gregory of Ballinger.

DEAR ABBY

A THANKFUL WOMAN

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have been married 24 years and loved every minute of it. We have had bad times, strikes, lay-offs and illness but we have come through all right. If one has a complaint, we air it out and talk it over. We never go to bed mad at each other. We have one son who recently married. His wife is a doll. A little older than him—but so what? They are happy. I had been married before but that is never brought up. My husband lived with another woman before he married me but that is never brought up, either. We get along with our in-laws like eggs and bacon. We trust each other. I just thought you might like to get a letter like this for a change. Isn't it a relief from the crazy mixed-up world? MRS. J. MAC N.

DEAR MRS. MAC N: You bet! And what an appropriate letter to print on Thanksgiving!

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a sophomore in college. Last night I went out with a girl and she tried to get fresh with me. I am not square, Abby, but I believe that some things are sacred. I don't object to a good-night kiss or a few affectionate hugs along with hand-holding at the proper time, but I don't think advances on the part of the girl are right. Is there something the matter with the way I was raised, or is this the accepted mode of courtship these days? DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: Nothing has changed. There will always be girls who think "a gentleman is a patient wolf." Stick to your principles!

* * *

DEAR ABBY: We are two working girls who share a one-bedroom apartment. We have to get up at 6:30 every morning to go to work and we need our sleep. An old bachelor, who has a very active social life, moved into the apartment next to ours and he keeps very irregular hours, but our biggest problem is this: We can hear him gargling at all hours of the morning and night. Two nights last week he gargled between three and four in the morning. This morning he was gargling at 5:30. You can't call a man up and tell him to stop gargling, but it is very annoying just the same. Any suggestion? ANNOYED

DEAR ANNOYED: Ask your landlord to either silence the gargler, move him—or "cough up" a more quiet apartment for you. (P. S. Last resort—ear plugs.)

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Will you please settle this argument between me and my husband? My husband refuses to wear a wedding ring. He says wedding rings are for women not men. I told him that if he doesn't have to wear one, neither do I. What do you think?

LITTLE GOLD BAND

DEAR LITTLE: Silence IS golden, but the little gold band is far from silent. It speaks volumes. If your husband refuses to advertise his marital status he is wrong. Two wrongs don't make a right. Wears yours.

* * *

CONFIDENTIAL TO P. T. A. "V. P.": No one can keep a chip on her shoulder very long if you allow her to take a bow.

Britons Get Good Look At Nixons

By DENNIS NEELD

LONDON (AP) — Britons have had their first good look at Vice President Nixon and found he measures up 100 per cent to their idea of the all-American boy.

They're just as delighted with "Nattie Patty," as the London press has dubbed Mrs. Nixon.

In the first 12 hours of their visit, the vice presidential couple impressed everyone by being smiling, courteous, deferential and so eager to please.

The Nixons' four-day stay in Britain began Tuesday in chaos. Because of fog, their plane had to land at the wrong airport and the red carpet welcome went haywire.

The Nixons smiled through it all. Being from Los Angeles, he said, the fog made them feel at home. Before he was through, everyone felt he would have been disappointed had it been a bright, clear day.

At a 500-place luncheon at London's swank Savoy Hotel, Nixon took traditional British pomp and ceremony in his American stride. The minute he finished his peaches, he popped a mint into his mouth, laughed easily and joked with his companions as the party broke up.

Lunch for Mrs. Nixon was just as informal, although most of the 25 guests at the American ambassador's residence were from Debrett's peerage. "Just all the girls together," Pat reported. "We didn't toast anybody. Not even the queen."

Wearing a sleek coat of black Persian lamb and a hat of flaming pink ostrich feathers, she dashed away to dingy Paddington suburb to see a charity organization at work.

Down dark Back of the Buildings Alley she called on 75-year-old Tom Fallon, sitting beside his iron bedstead, under the gas jet, in the one room that is his world.

"Why, you've got a lovely, homey little place here," she said, stooping at his feet. She whipped a cover off a dish she carried and beamed, "Here's your tea — lovely meat pie."

After she had gone, leaving a breath of perfume behind, Tom said:

"A very nice lady. . . . I hope she has a good holiday. That's what she's come for, isn't it?"

The Nixon smile captured the admiration of the British press. From the time the vice president and his wife left their plane until they headed for bed late Tuesday night after a reception, they were ready with what one newspaper called "the all-American smile."

Previously, most Britons had been unimpressed by Nixon, considering him a shrewd, even ruthless, political go-getter.

But the feeling of many after first-hand acquaintance probably was summed up by the Daily Sketch columnist who wrote: "They seem so much like two friendly small town people who got there — but stayed soft inside.

"It's what you'd like to think. "Because that would be the perfect all-American success story."

Tech Team Wins Grain Judging Test

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Texas Tech swept the top team and individual awards in the national collegiate grain judging contest here Tuesday. Ten schools competed.

Oklahoma State was second and Kansas State third in the team division.

Texas Tech's Ed Clark of Crowley, Tex., was the high individual and his teammate, Dick Hardee, Snyder, Tex., was second. Jim Strityke, Oklahoma State, was third.

Teams from Texas Tech have placed first in seven of the last eight years.

Texas U., A&M Ask Funds Support

AUSTIN (AP) — University of Texas and Texas A&M presidents yesterday asked local civic leaders to support requests for additional money for higher education in Texas.

President M. T. Harrington of A&M said a recent survey of 13 large industrial concerns show "we are supplying the bulk of $10,000-and-under men while the top salaried positions are going to persons schooled outside of Texas."

He said more money was needed to improve the quality of the students from tax - supported schools.

President Logan Wilson of the University of Texas said the people will have to decide whether the education system is to provide this quality.

Even Costs Money To Go For Broke

HOUSTON (AP)—It costs money to go for broke, the president of one of Houston's oldest business colleges discovered yesterday.

Charles Caraway, seeking to file federal bankruptcy proceedings for the defunct school, was told that the filing fee was $45.

"I can't even pay my house rent that's due," he said. "I'm beginning to think you have to be pretty well off to go bankrupt."

To complicate matters, he learned that there is no provision in the law for a corporation to go bankrupt if it is flat broke, with no assets at all.

Truck Victim

GALVESTON (AP) — One person was killed yesterday when an ice cream truck went out of control, struck an automobile, carooned into a pickup truck and then crashed into a cafe. Mrs. Lucille Hungerford, about 60 of Alta Loma, was killed. She was alone in the car.

A Devotional For Today

When he came to himself, he said . . . I will arise and go to my father. (Luke 15:15, 18.)

PRAYER: O God, who didst come to seek and to save the lost, forgive us for turning aside and wilfully seeking to go our own way. Help us to see clearly that Christ is the way, and lead us into that way. In Jesus' name we pray. Amen.

Day Of Thanks

THREE HUNDRED AND THIRTY-SEVEN years have passed since the Pilgrims, grateful for a bountiful harvest, celebrated the first Thanksgiving Day.

HARDLY A FAMILY in this entire nation, rich or poor, but what will commemorate that first Thanksgiving Day on Thursday. The rich will have tables groaning with wide variety of delicious foods; the less fortunate will mark the occasion with some augmentation of their simpler diet.

AMERICANS TRADITIONALLY observe this day with feasts — just as it was first observed by the Pilgrims that fall day in 1621. Intertwined in the feasting is the expression of gratitude to a kindly Providence for the blessings the year has wrought.

NOT ALL THANKSGIVING DAYS in American history have been as peaceful and prosperous as the one we celebrate Thursday. And there was a long lapse between that first Thanksgiving in 1621 and the time when the holiday was established across the nation as an annual celebration.

KNOWLEDGE BROUGHT by suffering in the dark days of the Civil War of the need for a people to voice their thanks for the abundant blessings bestowed by the Almighty impelled Abraham Lincoln to proclaim such a day in 1863.

SINCE THEN PRESIDENTS who have succeeded Lincoln have called upon the people each fall to set aside a day to give thanks to God for His protection and mercy.

GENEROUS INDIVIDUALS, deeply conscious of their own good fortune often utilize the spirit of the day to help their less fortunate brethren.

INSPIRED BY THEIR OWN good luck, they take from their own abundance and share it with their fellows. When they have done this, they have somehow come closer to the essence of the day itself.

VERY FEW OF the holidays we observe are so firmly rooted in the basic principle taught by the Man of Galilee than Thanksgiving Day.

INHERENTLY, MOST MEN are kind; too often they suppress this natural impulse of generosity for fear their actions may be misinterpreted.

NOTHING A MAN MAY do is so inspiring and helpful to himself than sharing what he may have with those who have so much less.

GIVING FOR THE simple reason that it is the humane and kindly thing to do; demanding no reward other than the warmth it brings to the giver's heart — there is nothing finer mere mortal may achieve.

DESPAIR AND DESOLATION stalk many men the world over. Hunger is the lot of countless millions. It is not within the power of a single individual to alleviate all of this suffering; it is within his power, if he chooses, to remove the spectre of want from the hearthside of someone near to him.

ANYWHERE YOU MAY go there is always poverty and want. Even in this great land where so many things abound, there are those who lack the necessities of life itself.

YOU CAN MAKE your own Thanksgiving Day happier and you can celebrate it best if you will share that which you have with others.

David Lawrence

Could Warren Be GOP's Best Bet?

WASHINGTON—Lots of things can happen in two years—and one may be that Vice President Nixon and Nelson Rockefeller will not remain the only personalities prominent in the discussion of prospective Republican nominees for the presidency. For there is always the possibility that the name of Chief Justice Warren will also be tossed into the ring.

Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers union, told a television audience the other day that, among others, Chief Justice Warren would make a good presidential nominee in 1960. This is a significant endorsement from the man who is being hailed as having a powerful voice in the American electorate. In view of the signal success of the labor unions recently in electing to Congress a majority of Democrats, the importance of such a tribute cannot be minimized.

Mr. Warren has himself denied any presidential ambitions and has made his disclaimer about as positive as anyone can. But it will be recalled that Associate Justice Charles Evans Hughes said virtually the same thing several times before he was nominated by the Republican party in 1916. Mr. Hughes told this correspondent in no uncertain terms just a few days before the Republican National Convention that he couldn't conceive of his being nominated. He pointed out that he had not encouraged anyone to get delegates for him—indeed, had disavowed them—and had publicly refused to allow his name to go on the ballot in any primary elections. But he was drafted just the same.

Chief Justice Warren won the governorship in California in 1946 as the nominee of both parties. He is known as an outstanding vote-getter. Noting that Messrs. Knowland and Nixon were unsuccessful in their efforts in the last California campaign, many Californians say Mr. Warren could have won if he had been a candidate this time. He made a speech in San Francisco last month on federal-state relationships which was considered by some observers as having political overtones, since it was delivered during the campaign.

It is true that Mr. Warren would not attract any Southern states because of the views he expressed in the desegregation case in 1954, but the Republican party can write off the possibility of winning any electoral votes in the South no matter who the Republican nominee may be. The sending of federal troops to Little Rock ended for years to come any chance for the Republican party in the South.

But Chief Justice Warren is the type of political personality who it would be urged, could get the so-called "liberal" vote and the labor vote and, of course, the Negro vote overwhelmingly in the North. If the criterion is what kind of showing a nominee could make among minority groups generally, then, politically speaking, there are potent reasons for considering Earl Warren.

It is even possible for Mr. Warren to become the Democratic party nominee—if his record on so-called "liberal" issues is matched against that of any other governor or former governor whose name has been offered thus far on the Democratic side. There was a time not so long ago—1948 and 1951—when in the preconvention talk Dwight Eisenhower was often mentioned for both tickets, and indeed he was endorsed for the Democratic presidential nomination in 1948 by prominent Democratic leaders, including some from the ranks of labor. Since Mr. Warren has been so popular in the Democratic party in California, his name is one the Democrats might toss about, just as they did that of General Eisenhower only a few years ago.

The one drawback for the Democrats in considering any Warren - for - president movement is that the "Solid South" would truly rebel at the polls if he were named. But judging by the strategy of some of the northern leaders in Congress who are pressing for "cloture" and drastic legislation on "civil rights," those same leaders must feel that the electoral votes of the South are not at all necessary and that the victory in 1960 will be a landslide for the Democratic presidential nominee without the South's votes.

Earl Warren is a man for whose rise the Republican party is largely responsible. For he owes his appointment on the high court to the recommendations received by President Eisenhower from influential members of the Republican party. Also, the desegregation decision of 1954 is in conformity with the Republican party's protestations on "civil rights" over a long period. Certainly Mr. Nixon's reference in a public speech to "a great Republican Chief Justice Earl Warren" now will be recalled, even if, as the vice president spoke, there was some doubt whether he intended to put a vocal comma after the word "Republican."

If the Republicans really feel they must go "modern" to win next time, they have in Mr. Warren, as a presidential nominee, the incarnation of "modernism" in American politics.

Delayed Delivery

LINCOLN Neb. (AP) — It took 31 years for a letter mailed in Omaha to reach Lincoln, 60 miles away.

When first mailed, the letter needed only two cents postage. By the time it was delivered, the rate had climbed to four cents.

The letter from James M. Johnson, mailed in 1927, was addressed to George G. Zellers, then an employe of the Nebraska Supreme Court. After it turned up at the statehouse recently, the letter was forwarded to Zellers at Columbus, Neb., where he now is a district court reporter.

Circulation

ELGIN, Ill. (AP)—Despite television and radio, newspaper reach most citizens.

The local newspaper reports that the Audit Bureau of Circulation announced that an average 57 million copies of daily newspapers were sold every day last year.

Its survey shows that 84 per cent of U. S. families buy at least one newspaper every day, and that 82 per cent of all persons 12 years and older read their paper.

The Thanksgiving Scene

Holiday Has All The Usual Trimmings

By The Associated Press

Prayers, feasting, parades and sports events take over as usual on this Thanksgiving Day.

Hot turkey supplants the cold war as citizens throughout the land dine with their loved ones and remember too the needy with holiday platters and all the fixings.

For many of those trying to get home, or to some vacation spot, however, strikes on two of the nation's major airlines presented a headache. Thousands of persons with holiday air bookings were forced to turn to already crowded bus and train facilities.

At Augusta, Ga., a vacationing President Eisenhower celebrates the day with his family gathered about him.

Traditional high school and college football games are being played from coast to coast. A bus strike in Lowell, Mass., had posed the problem of how to get the local high school gridiron squad to Lawrence, Mass., for the big game. Funeral directors solved the dilemma by donating seven limousines to transport the players.

From the smallest of our churches to stately cathedrals Americans throng to their houses of worship to give thanks for their blessings of the past year.

San Diego arranged nonsectarian Thanksgiving services in a city park.

At Plymouth, Mass., where the holiday was originated more than 300 years ago, special church services were to be followed by a pageant.

At Long Beach Memorial Hospital on Long Island, N. Y., patients will be served turkey dinners by hospital personnel attired in Pilgrim dress.

Gay parades in cities and towns take place for adults and children. Detroit puts on a huge parade, as does New York City and Pittsburgh, Pa.

Pittsburgh, marking the opening of the city's 14-month bicentennial celebration, whooped it up with bagpipers, a band concert and cannon fire.

Even the prisoners of a Howard, R. I., correctional institution found something to be thankful for. A holiday editorial in a magazine put out by the inmates read in part:

"We don't have freedom of movement . . . but we do enjoy more freedom than do many subjugated people who literally don't know the meaning of the word."

At Johnson Creek, N. Y., farm hand Burton Brier marked his 104th birthday Wednesday. But the official celebration was put over until today to give him and his friends a double reason for giving thanks.

The Perfect Thanksgiving

NEW YORK (AP)—A Thanksgiving fable:

Everything went right from the start. It was almost too perfect.

When Marybelle suggested, "I'd like to have my brothers and their families over for Thanksgiving," Jim, her husband, didn't argue at all. He said right away, "Why, honey, what a splendid idea."

And when Jim brought home the turkey it turned out to be, for the first time in their wedded life, just the right size for the oven.

"And not even a pinfeather left to pick," marveled Marybelle.

And when her folks arrived, Roscoe, the older stingy brother, brought a big bouquet. Russell, the younger brother who had learned from Roscoe how to be a tightwad and then gone on to improve the art himself, showed up with two bottles of fine wine.

And while the dinner was cooking, Roscoe and Russell asked Jim his political views instead of giving theirs.

And Marybelle's nine nephews and nieces all played contentedly together in the den, and none cried, and none broke anything.

And when everybody sat down at the table and the wives of Roscoe and Russell saw the new silverware Jim had bought Marybelle as an anniversary present, they admired the pattern and weren't the least bit jealous.

And when Marybelle brought in the turkey it was done to a perfect golden brown—not a burned spot anywhere.

And Jim didn't grumble or feel the least bit nervous about carving. The knife was sharp as a razor. The turkey didn't crumble like a tired cookie, but peeled off in one magnificent slice after another.

And everybody got just the kind of meat he wanted. The stuffing was a mottled delight, the gravy a brown ecstasy, the cranberry sauce a crimson thrill, and the pumpkin pie a tawny delight.

And, oh, the wine shed a rosy glow over all, and it was wonderful, wonderful all the way.

And Roscoe and Russell, protesting it had been a perfect day, waddled home.

Jim took off his shoes, and sank down happily in the sofa.

Marybelle brought him his slippers, lit his cigar for him and murmured happily, "It sure was a lucky day for me when I first saw you."

And Jim murmured, "I must be dreaming all this. Maybe we'd better pinch each other."

And they did pinch each other—and sure enough, they were dreaming.

It was 6 a.m., on Thanksgiving morning, and the day hadn't even begun.

Tallulah Tries, But Her Show Is A 'Turkey'

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This is not a very chivalrous day to consider Tallulah Bankhead's new play, but it seems inescapable.

No play with the fascinating Talloo could be an absolute turkey. But "Crazy October," which opened at the Huntington Hartford, risks comparison with today's honored bird.

The show encountered trouble on the road and canceled plans for an immediate invasion of Broadway. Judging from the efforts displayed here, that was a wise decision. The show is a formless exercise for a trio of talented actresses, who do what they can to save it. Their efforts are not enough.

Miss Bankhead, eschewing glamor to wear smocks, plays the hardbitten operator of a West Virginia roadhouse. She's a charmer with a heart of lead and tries to impose her will on everyone about her. She succeeds only with her loutish son. Playing with not quite her usual gusto, she nevertheless calls on her radio-TV tricks—the outrageous laughter, the punctuated insult — to milk laughs from straight lines.

Joan Blondell has better luck with her role. She rolls her eyes, flounces, bounces and bluffs her way through scenes that might otherwise have been deadly. Estelle Winwood has less to do, but manages to score with her offbeat style.

The backers apparently intend to keep the show on the road until it is in shape for the big town. It may be a long tour. . . .

At last somebody else besides Walt Disney has come up with entertainment for the whole family. George Pal's "Tom Thumb" is a solid hit for the holiday season and should be revived again and again in future years.

Pal, who made science fiction too early (and too factually) for the movie market, went to England to make "Tom Thumb" with trick photography and the puppetoon technique he used years ago. With a light-hearted script and a troupe of zestful players, he produced a minor classic of fantasy.

Do-It-Yourself

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—W. S. Graves was bothered with wasps in his home.

He took a vacuum cleaner out to their nest, sucked them into the tank of the cleaner and went to his garage.

There he plugged the vacuum cleaner into the exhaust of his auto and started the motor.

A little carbon monoxide quickly halted the buzzing inside the tank.

Around The Rim

Highway Are Hectic Ways

Highways are happy ways.

That's a pound of bologna.

Even if that highway leads to Grandma's house, it's still a lot of bologna; I'm here to tell you it isn't a bed of roses when you take the youngsters.

Mother, worn to a frazzle getting the kids cleaned and ready to leave, isn't in a mood for jokes when dad comes home in a rush and asks why dinner isn't ready.

Getting this out of the way with only cross words, you try to take the kids to the bathroom just before leaving, but they say they don't want to go. Of course, it isn't three miles out of town before they have to go.

You stall them off for about 50 miles so you can buy a little gas and have an excuse to use the bath, and you feel that you're ready to hit the road at a swift pace toward Grandma's.

Later, having eaten a pack of cookies—complete with crumbs all over the car and mother—the youngsters finally take a nap, but only after crying for about 10 minutes.

They have just settled down to sleep when you have to hit the brakes to keep from hitting a farmer crossing the highway. This sudden stop throws one of the kids into the floor board, hurting his ear. He lets out a yelp which wakes up the others, and the bedlam is on for a good 30 minutes.

This can only be stopped by a stop at a filling station for a pop and candy bar.

These uncalled-for stops have naturally cut into the time schedule you had worked out, so you step on the gas a little in an attempt to make a little time. Then you pass a patrol car.

More time—and money—is lost.

This problem out of the way, you check the highway sign to find that it is 53 miles from Beetown to Springview—your destination. You plan to be there in an hour, counting towns, patrol cars, and all. An hour and 10 minutes and 60 miles later, you are still five miles from home. That highway sign must have pertained to airline miles.

Finally you reach Grandma's house, turn the kids over to Grandma and Grandpa, and hit the sack—for the remainder of the visit. This is okay since G&G do't care to see anyone except the kids anyway.

With all that extra travel on the old car, you find the generator is on the blink, just as you start home, so you lose a couple of hours at a garage without even leaving town.

But with this done, the first trip to the bath room passed, and the kids stuffed with home-made candy, you hit the "happy" highway toward home. There is probably something you are forgetting, but you can't figure out what. You'll remember it when you get home, though.

Two stops for relief, one stop for pop, two for gas, and four crying spells later, you get within 10 miles of home.

You breathe easier because if you have trouble now you can get on home without too much bother. The homeward trip has seemed so much easier than the trip up, but you can't figure out why. You still can't remember what you forgot; there must be something.

Then home. As you unpack it hits you—now I know what I forgot. And why the trip was so easy.

Clan Robb Roughs It Again

IGUACU, Brazil—The modern tourist, so coddled and pampered wherever he goes, is ill-equipped to take the bitter with the better. For the past 24 hours, the Head of Clan Robb has been slyly adjuring me to remember my pioneer ancestors, of whom I am prone to boast, to take the bitter and grin and bear it.

We have been literally stuck in the mud at Iguacu, a village some 20 miles from the mammoth and gorgeous falls of the mighty Iguacu River, which we came here to see.

I guess you can call Iguacu the Tombstone of Brazil without fear of being sued by anyone except Arizona. Hacked out of the jungle between Brazil and Argentina, Iguacu is so far back of beyond that it has neither railroad, telephone nor telegraph communication with the outside. The last carrier pigeon left town several years ago. If you must get in touch with the outside world, the local military post, equipped with a radio station, will wigwag a message for you.

The Robbs and another American couple, Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Sonneborn and their two small children of Dhahran, Saudi Arabia (where Mr. Sonneborn works for Aramco), have been bogged down in Iguacu by a thundering tropical storm that has turned this village, which boasts not a single foot of pavement or an inch of sidewalk, into a sea of soupy red clay gumbo six to 10 inches deep.

The storm prevented the plane, which was to have picked us up yesterday, from landing on Iguacu's grass strip. But this we did not learn until six hours after plane time and until long after we had left the government's new and de luxe hotel at the falls. By car and by shanks' mare, in mud ankle deep and carrying our baggage, we managed to make the airport.

But the airport proved the point of no return. By the time we learned that the plane would be unable to land in the storm, we were as isolated as a case of smallpox. There was no telephone to reach the government hotel and summon its station wagon. The only available taxi was a 1923 four-door Ford sedan, wasted away with rust and anemia, and totally without glass.

The Messrs. Sonneborn and Robb declared that the women and children would catch pneumonia if not drown in this vehicle in a tropical storm. So the search was on for a place to stay the night in town.

What passed for the local hotel was jammed. The only place in the village, with citizens slogging through the gumbo either in barefeet or in boots, where we could find rooms was a ramshackle wooden bar and grill with rooms to rent above. It would have taken a shovel to clean out the mud in the lower floor.

When I saw the rough room, with what passed for clean linen, I remembered the Alamo, the Maine and Pearl Harbor, and sat down gingerly on the bed. Not till sunset did we discover that only a narrow alley separated us from the local movie house, with the sound track obviously located in our room.

The picture over, I settled into a doze around midnight, only to be awakened by the patter of little feet on the stairs, light giggles and heavy guffaws.

I woke up my husband. "Are you sure this is a hotel?" I cried.

"No," he said, "and what you don't know won't hurt you."

"It's what I do know that's killing me," I insisted.

"Go to sleep," he said crossly.

Anyway, we are again at the airport and a rescue plane is on the way. But I would do it all over again, storm, giggles and all, so extraordinarily noble and beautiful are the Falls of Iguacu.

Allies Prepared For Berlin Blockade

WASHINGTON—If the showdown over Berlin fails to materialize, American military planners will almost certainly claim that it was because preparations to meet it were so thorough and so complete.

The plan long in readiness calls for an air lift to supply American, British and French military outposts in Berlin. The estimated 600 to 700 planes required would be readily available. They have been designated in detailed planning for an attempt by the Communists to force the Western allies out of Berlin.

If the transport planes should be attacked as they fly between Frankfurt and Berlin in the air corridors provided under the four-power agreement, Communist attackers will be knocked down by American fighter planes. But the belief here is that the East German Communists will not go that far even if they are given full authority by the Russians when—and if—they carry out their promised withdrawal from the city. At the first sign of resistance the transport planes will be provided with a fighter escort.

The cost of supplying the military outposts with a 600-to-700-plane airlift is put at about one-tenth that of the Berlin lift of 1948-49. Then the entire city was supplied by air. Today Berlin's civilian population, under the agreement signed last week between East and West Germany, will get normal supplies by surface transporation. The conviction here is that such an airlift for the military garrison only could go on indefinitely.

The Communist powers in Moscow and their puppets in East Berlin unquestionably know in detail the carefully worked out plan to insure that the Western allies are not forced out of the city. They have been waiting for any show of irresolution which might indicate that the will to put that plan into effect is lacking.

Those signs have not been forthcoming. There have been hints that the Kremlin might be testing the Berlin situation in the light of the American election returns on Nov. 4 when overwhelming Democratic majorities were elected in Senate and House. Several prominent Democrats have in recent days affirmed the right of the West to remain in Berlin.

While it may be premature, the conviction is growing that a firm stand, together with a carefully detailed plan to be put into effect at the first indication of a blockade, has caused a change of plans in Moscow. The Russians may go through with the ending of their share in the four-power occupation, but they will keep the East Germans on a tight leash to insure that nothing is done which could seriously endanger the peace.

It is quite possible, of course, that this supposition will be proved wrong day after tomorrow. Moscow may merely be working out a new tactic to keep the Berlin crisis boiling.

But while that earlier airlift occurred a decade ago the tremendous impression it made is still strong. In a year and a half British and American planes arriving at Templehoff Airfield at Berlin on the average of one every three minutes carried 2,343,315 tons of food and coal in 277,264 flights. The blockade ended with the arrival of a C-54 carrying two and a half tons of coal on September 30, 1949.

But while the military measures prepared to defeat a blockade may have forestalled a showdown, the position of the two Germanys appears to have been altered in this latest crisis. By signing an agreement with East Germany the Bonn government has taken at least one short, tentative step toaard an arrangement with the Communist regime in East Berlin that could eventually mean reunification on terms quite unacceptable to the West.

This may, in fact, be Moscow's real goal, just as Communist China's goal in pressing the issue of the offshore islands is to bring the two Chinas together by a combined assault of fear and persuasion. In the instance of both of the two Germanys and the two Chinas the West must take into account powerful forces of attraction and repulsion that work for the long pull, regardless of the ups and downs of periodic crisis.

TURKEY RING—GLAMOROUS LEFTOVER DISH

Delicious 'Turkey Encores' Will Be Focal Point Of Many Meals

Almost as good, if not better, than the holiday dinner itself is the turkey meat left over. And, as they say in the old nursery rhyme, "Some like it hot, some like it cold, and some like it in the pot nine days old."

Whether you like it cold for sandwiches or baked in a casserole, you do want to preserve all the juiciness and flavor of the meat. Best way to keep the turkey from drying out—and incidentally save storage space in your refrigerator—is to slice it off the bird as soon as it has cooled.

Wrapped and sealed in aluminum foil or plastic film, turkey will stay fresh and sweet in the refrigerator about a week—in the freezer for six to nine months. In dividing the leftovers into meal-size packages, earmark the nice, white slices for sandwiches, bits and pieces for creaming or baking in a casserole or turkey pie.

There are many good recipes for leftover turkey, but here are a few for your consideration. The Turkey Ring Bake, for instance, will vie for gustatory honors with the bird and dressing itself.

TURKEY RING BAKE

1 chicken bouillon cube
½ cup hot water
1 pkg. hot roll mix
2 unbeaten eggs
½ tsp. poultry seasoning
½ tsp. sage
⅛ tsp. pepper
1 cup diced turkey
¼ cup chopped onion
⅛ cup chopped celery
2 tbsps. chopped pimiento

Dissolve bouillon cube in water in large mixing bowl. Cool to lukewarm. Sprinkle yeast from mix over lukewarm bouillon. Stir to dissolve. Blend in eggs. Add mix and remaining ingredients. Stir to blend; beat hard with wooden spoon 50 strokes.

Spread batter in well-greased 9-inch ring mold, or 9-inch square pan. Let rise in warm place (85 degrees to 90 degrees F.) until light and doubled in size, about 1 hour. Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 30 to 35 minutes until deep golden brown. Turn out of pan immediately. Serve warm with creamed vegetables or your choice of sauce.

CHICKEN - MUSHROOM SAUCE

1 can condensed cream of chicken soup or 1 can condensed cream of mushroom soup
1 cup commercial sour cream

Combine soup with sour cream. Heat just to boiling.

BAKED TURKEY HASH

¼ cup butter or margarine
1 small onion (cut into thin strips)
¼ lb. mushrooms (thinly sliced through caps and stems)
2 cups diced cooked peeled potatoes
2 cups diced cooked turkey
2-3 to 1 cup homogenized milk or light cream
Salt
Pepper
½ cup buttered crumbs
Paprika

Melt butter over low heat in medium-sized skillet; add onion and mushrooms. Cook gently, stirring often, until softened but not browned. Mix with potatoes and turkey; add enough of the milk to moisten well. Add salt and pepper to taste.

Turn into a shallow 1-quart baking dish; sprinkle with buttered crumbs; dust lightly with paprika. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven 25 to 30 minutes or until hot through and topping is browned. Makes 4 servings.

HASH-WICHES

Cook ½ cup minced onion in 2 tablespoons butter until tender; blend in 1 can undiluted cream of celery soup with ¼ cup milk. Add 2 cups diced turkey (white and dark meat) and season to taste with black pepper.

Heat to serving temperature and portion onto hot buttered toast, broiled English muffin halves, hot biscuits or cornbread. Garnish with a colorful cranberry relish.

Spanish Beef Hash

The Spanish add a touch of sublimity to hash, or escovechi as they call it, by using sherry in the sauce. First, chop fine 1 medium onion, 1 or 2 garlic cloves and a green pepper (or 1 canned sweet red pepper) and saute in 2 tablespoons butter or olive oil. Add 2 cups diced leftover beef, 1 cup of finely-diced potatoes and a tablespoon of minced parsley. After vegetables and beef are lightly browned, add ½ cup each of tomato juice, water and sherry, either a fino or an amontillado. Season to taste with salt and pepper; simmer half an hour. Makes 3 or 4 servings.

Tuna Measure

You'll get a cup of flaked tuna fish from a 6½- or 7-ounce can.

SPICE VOCABULARY

CARDAMOM is a seed, obtainable either whole or in ground form. The pod is cream colored, the seeds dark brown. Cardamom imparts a bitter-sweet, distinctive flavor.

Cardamom is compatible with sweet potato dishes, pumpkin pie, cookies, frozen ice cream puddings, Danish pastry, buns, coffee cake; grape jelly; custards; baked apple; fruit cup, sprinkled on chilled melon.

Cranberry Marmalade Accompanies Meats

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

It's a funny thing, but recipes aren't always where you expect to find them.

Wouldn't you think that rules for making jellies, jams and conserves from the fresh red cranberry—gathered so plentifully in New England since Pilgrim times — would abound in early cook books from that part of the country?

Not to be found! To be sure, a boiled cranberry pudding and a one-crust cranberry pie are in an 1830 compilation of recipes from Massachusetts, but not a hint is there of the sweetmeats — as preserved fruits were once called. It took a lady from Philadelphia, writing in the same period, to give recipes for making cranberry jelly and preserved cranberries. And this culinary writer warned, in modern fashion, "If sweetmeats are boiled too long, they lose their flavour and become a dark color."

A friend of ours convinced us of the worth of making cranberry marmalade and storing it away. After she had generously stocked our shelves with small jars of her own cranberry conserve, we found so many uses for it that we thought you, too, might like to prepare this sweetmeat to have on hand.

It's so easy to open a jar of the marmalade to serve with meat for a family or company meal. Our college-age nephew insists that the marmalade is a "must" with baked ham. Other tasters enjoy it with fresh roast ham or pork loin; for serving with these meats, spoon a circle of the marmalade around a bowl of freshly-made applesauce. It's a delightful combination.

Or fill the cavities of pear halves with the cranberry marmalade for good taste and color contrast and use as a garnish for pork chops. The pears may be fresh ones that are broiled, skillet-cooked in a light syrup or oven-baked; or they may be heated canned pear halves. In either case be sure to add lemon juice and grated lemon rind to the pears because they benefit greatly from both.

CRANBERRY MARMALADE

Ingredients:

1 orange
1 lemon
4 cups (1 pound) fresh cranberries
2½ cups sugar
2 cups water
1 cinnamon stick
6 whole cloves

Method:

Wash orange and lemon; cut into halves or quarters; discard seeds. With a very sharp knife slice wafer-thin; reserve. Mix cranberries, sugar and water in a large saucepan or kettle; stir over moderate heat until sugar dissolves; bring rapidly to a boil.

Continue to cook rapidly until cranberries' skins pop open — about 5 to 8 minutes. Stir in reserved sliced orange and lemon, cinnamon and cloves. Reduce heat and simmer, stirring often, until thickened—about 10 minutes. Skim off foam as it rises.

Pour into hot sterilized jars; seal at once. Makes about 1½ quarts.

CRANBERRIES MAKE FINE MARMALADE

Spanish Gingerbread

Make gingerbread a glamour dessert: while it is still warm, sprinkle the gingerbread with Spanish sherry, preferably an oloroso (cream) type. Serve it topped with this hot sauce: blend 1 tablespoon cornstarch with ½ cup sugar, add 1 tablespoon each lemon juice and oloroso sherry and 1 cup water. Bring to a boil; simmer until smooth and thickened. Take from stove and slowly beat into 1 cup sour cream. If sauce is made in advance, reheat just before serving, taking care not to let it come to the boil.

Eggs Can Be Bought In Four Grades, Six Sizes

Do you know egg values? Eggs differ considerably aside from being either good or bad. And the most obvious difference—shell color—actually makes no difference at all in food value.

Size and grade are most significant. For example: If extra large U. S. Grade A eggs cost 64 cents a dozen, small eggs of the same grade are a better buy if you can get them for less than 41 cents. Similarly, large grade A eggs would be worth 56 cents; medium, 49 cents.

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has just released Leaflet No. 442, "How to Buy Eggs by USDA Grades and Weight Classes." It describes the four official egg grades and six recognized egg sizes, marked plainly on the carton.

U. S. Grade A eggs are good to fry, poach and shell-cook. The white spreads out more than the AA's, but less than U. S. Grade B. However, even a U. S. Grade C egg is good for scrambling and general cooking. Choose the grade that suits your needs.

Size is a different matter. Jumbo eggs will weigh at least 30 ounces per dozen. That's the biggest. Peewees, the smallest, weigh 15 ounces, just half as much. Other sizes are extra large, 27 ounces; large, 24; medium, 21; and small, 18 ounces. Right now, small and medium eggs have the price advantage because they are extra plentiful.

Shoulder Likes Glaze In Pineapple

Good enough for a company meal is that smoked pork shoulder butt, spiced with whole cloves and glazed with pineapple juice.

Here are the directions:

BONELESS SMOKED PORK SHOULDER BUTT WITH PINEAPPLE

Ingredients:

1 (2½ lbs) boneless smoked pork shoulder butt
Whole cloves
1 can (1 lb. 4 oz.) sliced pineapple in extra heavy syrup
1 tbsp. butter

Method:

Remove stockinette wrapping from butt; insert whole cloves, at 1-inch intervals, over entire surface. Place in baking pan—a 9-inch square cake pan is fine. Drain pineapple; pour syrup over butt.

Bake in slow (325 degrees) oven 1¾ hours, basting butt with syrup in pan every 15 minutes. Ham will be browned on top when it has finished baking.

Just before serving, melt the butter in a 12-inch skillet until very hot; dry pineapple slices on paper toweling and add to skillet. Turn to brown pineapple on both sides; serve with sliced butt. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Quick Cake Weds Favorite Flavors

Stir up the new strawberry angelfood cake mix. Then frost it with a delightful concoction that teams three flavors—vanilla, orange and chocolate.

FROSTED STRAWBERRY ANGELFOOD CAKE

Ingredients:

1 package (16 ounces) strawberry angel food cake mix
6 tblsps. butter or margarine
3 cups sifted confectioners sugar
2 tsps. grated orange rind
3 tblsps. orange juice
1 tsp. vanilla, chocolate sprinkles.

Method:

Make up cake according to package directions in 10-inch tube pan; cool and turn out.

Cream butter with 2 cups of the sugar; mix in remaining 1 cup sugar and grated rind. Beat in orange juice and vanilla. Frost top and sides of cake; cover with chocolate sprinkles.

Is Cake Done?

There are three ways of knowing whether a cake is well baked. The top surface should spring back, without leaving a dent, after being touched lightly. The cake should pull slightly away from the sides of the pan. A cake tester, inserted in the center, should come out clean.

Indians Lose More Land

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. Court of Appeals today upheld the government's right to flood lands of the Seneca Nation of Indians in connection with a flood control project.

The three - judge court ruled unanimously that Congress had authorized the taking of the Indian lands for a reservoir.

A dam will be built at Kinzua, Pa., but the reservoir will extend into New York state and inundate a large portion of the Seneca reservation.

The Seneca Nation had sought an injunction to halt construction of the 111-million-dollar flood control project, contending they had permanent rights to the land under a 1794 treaty signed by President George Washington.

The court said it is undisputed that the proposed flooding will infringe rights acquired by the treaty, but said Congress can authorize taking of the land despite the treaty.

The court said the question before it was whether Congress had, in a clear and specific way, shown an intention to do so. The ruling was that Congress had done so.

The Senecas did not fare as well before the Court of Appeals as the Tuscarora Indians did in a similar case two weeks ago.

In that case the court blocked, for the time being at least, the flooding of more than 1,000 acres of the Tuscarora reservation in western New York for a storage reservoir for the 625-million-dollar Niagara Falls Hydro-Electric Development.

Stays At Home, Gets First Deer

BOERNE (AP)—Phil Crumpton, 14, the stay-at-home hunter, has beat his father and brother to the first deer again.

Three years ago he shot the first deer in his family from a treetop in the back yard of his home.

This week he did it with less effort.

While his father, Hallie Crumpton and older brother, Larry, drove 80 miles to a deer lease from which they came back empty-handed, Phil went to school.

He came home at noon, and as he thought sadly of the hunting trip he missed, he looked out of the kitchen window. There was a large buck.

With no more time and effort than to put a cartridge into a .257 rifle, he shot the deer from the window, and, returned to school.

Hallie and Larry are still looking for deer.

S. Africa TB Stamps Arouse Religious Fuss

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—With Christmas coming as usual in the middle of South Africa's summer, the National Tuberculosis Assn. decided to abandon the usual scenes of reindeer and snowmen on its "fight T.B." stamps.

It produced a stamp with a religious theme and expected it to sell out as usual, raising money for undernourished white children who show signs of T.B.

The powerful, sternly Calvinist Dutch Reformed Church took one look at the stamp and decreed: "Protestants must not buy this stamp — it is disguised Roman Catholic propaganda."

The stamp pictures the Virgin Mary with a halo and the infant Jesus in her arms.

For 25 years post offices have sold the stamps and South Africans have stuck them on packages. But the post office banned the Madonna and Child stamp. A number of mayors who had promised to sell them backed out. Some Afrikaans schools decided to boycott them.

A bit bewildered, the Tuberculosis Assn. appealed for help. "The stamps are our only source of income," it said. "Children will suffer if critics influence their sale." The association pointed out that the committee which selected the stamp design had had a Protestant majority and lacked any ulterior motive.

A Dutch Reformed Church minister then said Protestants should buy the stamps to help the association but should not use them.

Post offices still won't sell the stamps, but sales by private dealers now are booming. One Johannesburg businessman's syndicate has offered to buy complete stocks of the stamps and resell them "to create a healthy rivalry with the official stamps" issued by the government.

The official stamps carry the traditional Father Christmas, the South African Santa Claus.

Court Rejects Washburn Appeal

AUSTIN (AP) —The Court of Criminal Appeals refused again Wednesday a motion for rehearing on Harry Washburn, twice convicted of the 1955 car-bomb slaying of his mother-in-law, a wealthy San Angelo social leader.

Glenn Haynes, clerk for the court, said a mandate would be issued Friday, ordering Washburn to begin serving his 99-year sentence, unless the case is appealed to higher courts.

"We're through with it now, so far as the record goes," he said. "I don't know whether they will appeal to the Supreme Court or not."

Washburn was first convicted in Waco and assessed the death penalty for killing Mrs. Harry Weaver. The second conviction which brought a 99-year sentence was first affirmed by the Court of Criminal Appeals June 25.

Reich Challenge May Take To Air

BONN, Germany (AP) —The Western Allies are likely to challenge any East German effort to control their traffic to Berlin by taking to the air, not by trying to force through a ground convoy.

That is the opinion of informed Western sources here. They say any idea of attempting to push an armed convoy through East Germany has been abandoned.

It would be easy for the Communists to thwart a convoy attempt without resorting to arms, the Allies reason. The East Germans would only have to throw some switches, tear up some rails or blow up a few bridges to stop Allied trains or trucks.

But to stop an airlift, the Communists would have to shoot down the planes. And Western officials do not think the Russians want to run that risk of starting World War III.
