TWO DIE IN CRASH

Two 20-year-old men were killed when their light plane crashed in Dallas after a mid-air collision with an American Airlines DC-6. Both planes were trying for a landing at Love Field when they hit. The 54-passenger airliner continued to make a normal landing after the contact which only damaged the big craft's propeller. The lighter plane crashed in a residential street near the field. Killed were Paul Winfield Brower and Don Edward Walker, both of Denton.

Rayburn Says Truman Will Sign Control Bill

Rhee Making Threats Over His Ultimatum

PUSAN, Korea (AP)—South Korea's political crisis neared a climax today as President Syngman Rhee handed the Assembly an ultimatum — adopt his proposed constitutional amendments quickly or he would dissolve the Legislature.

"I will wait only a few more days," Rhee declared, then "I will take decisive action in compliance with the will of the people."

Rhee did not indicate how he would go about dissolving the Assembly. Korea's Constitution makes no provision for such action.

The 77-year-old President and the National Assembly have been feuding bitterly since January. Rhee demands constitutional amendments providing for popular election of a President and a two-house Legislature.

The one-house Assembly elects the President. It was scheduled to do so last week, but Rhee supporters forced postponement of the election.

The President's ultimatum was read by Prime Minister Chang Taek Sang, leader of a compromise faction.

Court Orders Negro Bootlegger To Start Serving Jail Term

A mandate in the conviction of Luther Tucker, Snyder Negro, on a bootlegging charge was received here this morning from the court of criminal appeals in Austin, and the defendant's term of one year in jail was ordered to be started.

Tucker was convicted by jury in county court here Oct. 4 and sentenced to one year in the county jail and assessed a fine of $1,000 plus $28.50 court cost. He appealed the case, but the appellate court upheld the county court's verdict by dismissing the appeal nearly three weeks ago.

Mandates commanding the enforcement of sentences are issued by the court of criminal appeals "on the Friday next following the expiration of 15 days after the upholding of the trial court's judgement," Keith Merrick, county attorney, said. Between the time of the appellate court's rendering of opinion and the issuance of the mandate, a defendant may file motion for rehearing of the appeal. Once the mandate is issued, however, the case is finally ended.

Merrick said he had prepared a capias for the arrest of Tucker, now free on appeal bond. The capias is to be signed by the county clerk and given to the sheriff, Merrick said.

Tucker was convicted on a charge that he illegally possessed liquor last Aug. 26 for the purpose of unlawful sale in a legally dry area. He was tried on a charge containing an enhancement provision by which he could have been given four times the maximum punishment allowed in a first offense. The charge alleged two previous convictions which Tucker admitted on the witness stand. Maximum punishment under such a charge would have been $4,000 fine and four years in jail. Presiding at the trial was Robert R. Patterson, acting as special county judge.

Enhanced punishment was approved last week by the appellate court in the case of another Snyder Negro bootlegger, Anderson Davis, Jr., sentenced to four years and a $1,000 fine. A mandate in the Davis case has not yet been issued, and the defendant is still free on his appeal bond. The appellate court took action last week in two appeals by Davis, the other resulting in reversal of the county court's decision by which he was sentenced to 90 days in jail and fined $550 plus court cost.

An opinion rendered by the court and received here Friday said the case was reversed and remanded for new trial on grounds that evidence was insufficient to show that the defendant was in charge of the premises on which the liquor was found. Merrick said he would file a motion for rehearing of the appeal, stating that evidence in the trial showed that Davis built, owned, and operated the business establishment.

This was the second bootlegging conviction reversed for Davis. Davis's current debt to the county on numerous convictions either upheld or still pending in the appellate court totals five years in the county jail, $2,750 in fines, and $85.50 in court costs.

Price Daniel

Price Daniel To Speak At Luncheon Here

Price Daniel, former state attorney general and now candidate for the U. S. Senate, will be in Snyder July 10.

Daniel will speak to the Rotary Club at the organization's regular meeting. Ralph Geisenhoner, a member of the club, said Daniel's talk will be non-political and that the club is not sponsoring a campaign for Daniel here. He added that members of other civic groups will probably be invited to the meeting.

Haroid Bennett, county Democraic chairman, said that Daniel has not indicated to him whether he will make any political talks in Scurry County while he is here.

Present Law Will Expire At Midnight

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—Administration leaders said today President Truman will sign later in the day a bill extending wage and price controls for 10 months.

Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex) told reporters after a White House conference that the President is "not too well pleased with it" but that signing the measure is "the only thing he can do."

The bill as passed by Congress Saturday bears little resemblance to the controls legislation Truman asked of the House and Senate last year.

He wanted authority to control wages and prices extended for two years, until June 30, 1954, and he asked that the current controls provisions—contained in the Defense Production Act of 1950—be strengthened.

Instead Congress weakened some of the controls authority and placed a 10-month limit on an extension.

The defense production act will expire at midnight tonight unless the President signs the extension.

Rayburn and Sen. McFarland (D-Ariz) Senate majority leader, said after the conference that they see no reason for calling Congress back in special session after the political conventions in July.

With the big military appropriation bill and the mutual security appropriation measure the only major items remaining for action, the two legislators said Congress should be able to quit Saturday night.

Rayburn told questioners the President "didn't seem very enthusiastic" over the legislation even though the final bill was considered a victory for the administration after the House earlier had voted to kill nearly all wage-price controls.

But on the possibility that the President might not sign the measure — even reluctantly — congressional leaders readied an emergency resolution to continue the present law long enough for Congress to tackle a substitute bill.

The controls legislation, finally worked out in a lengthy Senate-House conference, would continue federal authority to regulate wages and prices for 10 months — through April 30, 1953.

But it would make several major changes in the present Defense Production Act. These changes would:

1. End rent controls on Sept. 30 except in localities whose governing bodies vote to extend them to next April 30, and in certified critical defense areas.

2. Toss out controls over credit for consumer goods and for conventional housing loans. The Federal Reserve Board could restrict housing credit again if the annual rate of new houses started passed 1,200,000. The present rate is 1,100,000.

3. Retain the Wage Stabilization Board but with limited power, and to make the appointment of its members subject to Senate confirmation. The board would be deprived of its authority to make recommendations in labor disputes unless the management and union agreed to ask the WSB how much of a wage boost might be granted in a dispute.

A major administration setback was adoption of an amendment to exempt processed fruits and vegetables from price controls. Price control officials said this comprises about 11 per cent of the housewife's grocery purchases and could mean a big hike in food costs.

Murray Blasts 'Big Six' For Holding Up Strike Agreement

YOUNGSTOWN, O. (AP) — The CIO United Steelworkers, their chief says, have talks set for today in their effort to continue to win strike-ending agreetments with part of the industry despite a stalemate with the big producers.

Philip Murray, president of both the CIO and the steelworkers, dealt harshly with the steel industry's "Big Six" in addressing 4,000 persons at a union rally here yesterday.

Near the end of the slowly delivered, 1½-hour speech, Murray said heads of many smaller firms had been seeking him out, trying to bargain to end their plants' shutdown from the nation-wide strike of 650,000 steelworkers 29 days ago.

He declined to name the firms, but quoted managers of some of them as saying they were afraid of being blacklisted by the "Big Six," from whom they bought ore or to whom they sold materials.

Later, at a news conference, Murray said the union would meet with some employers today in Pittsburgh and other cities. He named no companies, but the inference from his speech and conference comment was that the union was at an impasse, for the time being at least, with the major producers.

"The Big Six," Murray said, was "a conspiracy and its work has been dedicated to frustrating agreement."

The "Big Six" to which he referred are U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, Jones and Laughlin, Youngstown Sheet and Tube and Inland, and they have nearly 70 per cent of the nation's steelmaking capacity.

In New York a newspaper said executives of the six firms will meet this week to decide whether to try bargaining again or force President Truman's hand on use of the Taft-Hartley Act.

The New York Times quoted an unidentified steel company spokesman as saying it was a "safe assumption" that representatives of the firms would meet this week to "assess the entire situation."

Murray, in his speech here yesterday, read a full list of smaller steel plants that have made agreements with the steelworkers since the strike started. The settlements cover about 25,000 of the strikers, and together with firms unhit by the walkout, give the nation about 15 per cent of normal steel output.

The latest company to make peace was Pittsburgh Steel, the 14th largest producer which industry figures show turned out over a million tons of ingots last year.

Pittsburgh's agreement to grant the union shop, the union said, strengthened the steelworkers' insistence on that provision.

Murray held the union shop was not the main issue in the strike, but he declined to pinpoint the main issue.

In defending the union shop, he said that when the union wins an election it bargains for all those in the industry. Those who do not pay dues, he declared, are free riding.

Reviewing the day before the strike started, Murray said the president of Republic Steel — Charles M. White — had wanted to reach a satisfactory agreement.

But the next day, he went on, White was silent and John Stevens of U. S. Steel greeted negotiators with a final offer short of what the union sought.

White, asked to comment at his home in Cleveland, said last night: "We wanted to probe the gamut of the union shop and find out just what the steelworkers union wanted. At the end of our conference, I asked particularly that no questions of ours be interpreted as favoring the union shop, because we did not. At no time have I had any leanings toward the union shop. I am opposed to it in principle. It is wrong."

Marriage Of 11-Year-Old To Be Annulled

DURANT, Okla., June 30 (AP)—The mother of an 11-year-old child bride said today she is ready to start proceedings to annul the marriage of her daughter and a Texas airman.

Mary Kendrick, 11, and Airman Sergio Maldonade Tristan, 21, were married last week. Tristan is from San Antonio, and is stationed at Perrin Air Force Base between Sherman and Denison, Tex.

Mrs. Cleo Kendrick, mother of Mary, is keeping close watch over her daughter at home here. She said she will start annulment proceedings at Sherman where the couple was married.

Tristan has been returned to his base and so far has not commented. Air Force officials there said they will take no part in the case.

Mary, who completed the fifth grade this spring, is a large girl, 5 feet 2 inches, and weighs 115. Officials who issued the marriage license and performed the wedding said she looked to be the 17 years she claimed.

Jet Squirting Bugs Making Trees Weep

AUSTIN, Tex., June 30 (AP)—It isn't weeping Mimosas down at Orange. It's jet squirting bugs.

So says an Austin physician who believes he has the answer to the puzzle of the Mimosas and crepe myrtles in the South Texas city that apparently shed tears.

Dr. Robert B. Morrison read about it and said:

"Little bugs. Shy squirrel-like bugs that squirt water. Like little water pistols."

Other Austin nature observers agreed.

They had seen the tiny jet-action insects busily pumping water. Dozens of them at work at once on a grape or other vine give the illusion that the plant itself is weeping.

The bugs seem to be sucking the sap, Dr. Morrison said, but he could observe no damage. He figured the squirting was from excess moisture.

Another explanation of the weeping Mimosas was offered last week by a Texas A. and M college professor who said it was caused by "guttation." A process of moisture shedding when a plant's roots take on more moisture than the plant can evaporate through the leaves.

The bugs Dr. Morris was talking about are about half an inch long. They dart quickly from one side of a stem to the other, and when disturbed will fly away.

Blaze Out Before Fire Department Arrives

A fire was out on arrival of fire men this morning when they answered a call to the Standard of Texas distributor's warehouse at 2200 Avenue P.

Ivan Gatlin, fire marshal, said the fire occurred when a truck was being loaded with gasoline.

Employes smothered the fire out with dry powder before firemen arrived, Gatlin said, adding that the flames caused very little damage.

Stevenson Leaves Door Open For Draft Move At Convention

HOUSTON, June 30 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois said today he will decide later what to do in the "unlikely" event that a move develops to draft him for the Democratic presidential nomination.

The Illinois governor, considered by many in his party as one of the likeliest prospects for nomination at the Chicago convention opening July 21, told a news conference here he still is running only for re-election as governor.

But he left the door open to what he said is an "unlikely" move to draft him, although he said he would not participate either openly or secretly in any such move.

Here for the annual governors conference, Stevenson anticipated questions of reporters about the presidential situation. He read to a news conference a typed statement which concluded:

"I will not participate nor will I participate openly or covertly in any movement to draft me. Without such participation on my part, I do not believe that any such draft can or will develop.

"In the unlikely event that it does, I will decide what to do at that time in the light of conditions that then exist."

When he had finished reading his statement, Stevenson smiled at reporters and added:

"It will do you no good, gentlemen, to ask any further questions."

Stevenson said at the outset that he wanted to make it clear he did not intend to add anything to what he already had said about the presidential situation. He was only summing up, he said.

"Some time ago I said that for many reasons, including prior candidacy for governor of Illinois, I could not be a candidate for any other office," he said.

"I have not been, nor am I now I hope to stay in Illinois as governor. My work there is not finished and it is very important to me.

"I am not being coy nor trying to select my opponent."

Shutin Scurry Well Before Tests Complete

American Trading & Production No. 1-A Elmer Howell in Southeast Scurry County is shutin to move off the drilling run before testing for completion begins.

On a swab completed Friday, operator recovered an average of 10 barrels of new oil per hour. No water was present. The project has not flowed yet and it is believed that the pay section in the Ellenburger is blocked with mud and drilling water.

SCURRY WILDCAT

Superior & Intex No. 1 Eva Laws, Northwest Scurry wildcat, is at total depth of 8,240 feet and running electric logs.

On a drillstem test in open hole from 8,173-186 feet, recovery was 210 feet of oil. The tool was open one hour. Gas surfaced in eight minutes. Open flowing bottomhole pressure was zero, with 15-minute shutin pressure 2,825 feet.

BORDEN FAILURE

Sinclair Oil & Gas has plugged and abandoned the No. 1 Roy Reeder, Borden wildcat, after making only water on a drillstem test in the Ellenburger late last week. The project was one location north of the opener of the Myrtle-Pennsylvanian field in section 410-97-H&TC, about 13 miles northeast of Gail.

DRILLING REPORT

In Nolan County, Houston Oil No. 1 Adrian is preparing to drillstem test from 6,104-132 feet in an unidentified lime after coring from 6,099-117 feet. Recovery on the core was five feet of black shale with one foot of lime stone. Operator drilled to 6,132 feet, in lime all the way.

Sun Oil is testing for completion on the No. 4-C Bilby Wallace in the Clairemont pool. On a 24-hour gauge, the well flowed 121 barels of oil through a one-quarter - inch choke. Flowing tubing pressure was 110 pounds, casing pressure 150 pounds. No water was present.

Hunt Oil No. 1 Hodnett, Northeast Mitchell wildcat, is drilling in sand and shale below 6,268 feet.

Hurndall & Gray No. 1 Gannaway, Southeast Scurry project, is drilling in shale and sand below 5,890 feet.

Suit Is Filed On Hermleigh

A suit for $22.12 was filed in justice of peace court this morning against the Hermleigh city government for R. H. Creech, former police officer there.

The petition, filed by Garland Armstrong, attorney for Creech, alleges the city failed to pay the plaintiff wages for two days work immediately prior to the time he was fired by the city council June 17.

Trial date had not been set by noon today, but W. C. Davidson, justice of peace, said the date would probably be set July 14.

Senate Works On Bill To Boost Air Force Expansion Quickly

WASHINGTON (AP) —Reports of mounting Russian atomic striking power set off a Senate drive today to force the administration to speed up development of American hit-back strength.

Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), piloting the 46-billion-dollar military appropriation bill through the Senate, said the defense program could be advanced a year by adding $3,600,000,000 to the nearly six billions cash the bill would provide to expand the Army, Navy and Air Force.

The bill is up for passage today. O'Mahoney said he would propose an amendment designed to permit the Air Force to spend an extra $3,600,000,000—on credit.

His chief goal, he said, is a 143-wing Air Force by July, 1954, a year ahead of the administration's schedule.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff have told congressional committees they expect Russia will reach a peak of power by mid-1954. They said this will mark the start of "a period of greatest danger" to this country.

Gen. Nathan F. Twining, acting head of the Air Force, said Russia soon may have enough atomic bombs to launch a surprise attack plus "a reserve for succeeding tries if the first should fail." He also said Russia now had at least as many first-rate combat planes as the U.S.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich) said he would fight the O'Mahoney amendment. He told the Senate Saturday he believes the $45,734,750,722 in the bill in its present form would provide all the planes the Air Force can absorb in the next two years, out of Pentagon spending policies.

Sen. Lyndon B.Johnson (D-Tex) said the Joint Chiefs of Staff have informed his preparedness subcommittee they could have 143 air wings ready by mid-1954 if Congress would put up the money.

The huge money bill—the biggest before Congress this year—is about five billions less than President Truman had requested, and nearly a half-billion below the total voted by the House.

It does not include a House-voted 46-billion-dollar ceiling on amounts the armed forces could spend this year. The Pentagon called that a crippling amendment which would block the use of money previously appropriated and hurt the defense effort.

Egypt Must Start New Government

ALEXANDRIA, Egypt (AP)—Turbulent Egypt struggled with her third Cabinet crisis in five months today after the resignation of Prime Minister Ahmed Naguib Hilaly Pasha and the naming of another veteran independent politician, Hussein Sirry Pasha, to form a new government.

The 60-year-old Sirry Pasha, who has been Premier three times before, received King Farouk's mandate to form a Cabinet last night and at once began discussions with political leaders.

His task was made more complex by the usual summertime dispersal of government activity between the court, in residence here for the season, and offices in Cairo. Politicians shuttled back and forth between the two capitals.

No official reason was given for Hilaly Pasha's resignation Saturday, but there was speculation that he had not moved fast enough with his announced program of cleaning up graft in the Egyptian government and winning the nation's chief aims—to oust the British from the Suez Canal zone and to unify Egypt and the neighboring Anglo-Egyptian Sudan.

(Dispatches on the Cabinet crisis were subject to considerbale delay. The cable and wireless office in London said an Associated Press dispatch Saturday, reporting Hilaly's resignation, was held by Egyptian censors for 36 hours).

Hilaly, himself, refused to make any statement to newsmen on his resignation.

An outgoing Cabinet minister, however, said the government "had found several obstacles which have made our job impossible." His only other explanation was that "certain irresponsible persons" had approached the U.S. Embassy in Cairo in an effort to undermine Hilaly.

An embassy spokesman at once asserted that U.S. policy "is not to interfere with the domestic politics of another country, and this policy has been adhered to strictly by this embassy."

The Egyptian press recently had criticized the Premier for the stalemate in talks with the British on the Suez and Sudenese question. The British unofficially have agreed to evacuate the canal zone by stages but still refuse to recognize King Farouk's sovereignty over the Sudan, which Britain now administers.

Farouk's sovereignty over the disputed territory—which Britain and Egypt technically had ruled jointly—was proclaimed last October by the government of then Premier Mustapha el Nahas Pasha and Parliament, which was dominated by Nahas Pasha's intensely nationalistic Wafdist party.

SIGNING CONTRACT

Philip Murray, right, president of United Steelworkers and the CIO, watches in Pittsburgh as Avery C. Adams, left, president of Pittsburgh Steel Company signs a contract that will send 10,500 of his members back to work. The contract signed follows the recommendation of the Wage Stabilization Board.

Texas Republicans Ready For Delegate Battles In Chicago

By The Associated Press

The Republican eyes of Texas turned to Chicago Monday where state backers of Sen. Taft and Gen. Eisenhower were preparing their delegate dispute for the national GOP committee.

The warring factions will meet the committee Tuesday to present evidence in the fight over Texas' 38 delegates. Because of the close race in delegate strength, the Texas ruling may be decisive.

Meanwhile, Texas backers of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio released an 84 page brief Sunday night saying the basic issue is whether or not Democrats should be allowed to take over the Republican Party in Texas.

The Taft Republicans released what they said were stories by witnesses of violence, mob rule intimidation and illegal procedures by backers of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in Texas precinct and county conventions.

Wednesday the Eisenhower forces released a 48-page brief charging illegal action by Taft Republicans.

In Chicago, representatives of both factions met Sunday with National Chairman Guy G. Gabrielson and agreed on rules for settling contested delegates.

The main issues settled were:

1. All contested delegations will be called in alphabetical order.

2. All contest hearings will be open to the press and public.

3. After open committee hearings on the contested delegations the arguments will go to closed executive sessions and be voted on there. Any members of the committee involved in the disputes will not be permitted to vote.

The meeting could not agree on the time allotted for argument. Further conferences were scheduled.

No decision was made on broadcasting and televising the hearings. Top officials of the Columbia Broadcasting System said Sunday that exclusion of radio and television from the delegate hearings would be "discrimination of the bluntest sort."

Adrian Murphy, CBS radio president, and J. L. Van Volkenburg, CBS television president, made a joint plea for coverage of the hearings in a telegram to Gabrielson with copies to Taft and Eisenhower.

Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth, leader of the Taft delegate group from Texas said he would like to have the hearings televised. Eisenhower leaders previously made similar demands.

Eisenhower's national campaign manager, Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, entered the Dallas dispute Sunday with a statement that "the Republican national committee has a chance to catch up with public opinion and repudiate the out-and-out dishonesty in Texas which has endangered the very success of our party at the polls. . .

"While the committee is dominated by Taft supporters, I hope that the members will be bound by the elementary rules of fair play and decency and at least listen to the evidence that we will present to them."

Durocher Grounded, But Will Manage All-stars On July 8

CINCINNATI (AP)—Leo Durocher peppery manager of the New York Giants, may have to sit in the stands for the next few days—but he'll be in full evidence for the major league all-star game July 8.

Durocher, who was handed a four-day suspension by National League chief Warren Giles over the week end, has the job of directing the ballplayers the fans think are the best in the senior loop when they tangle with the American League standouts at Philadelphia. Durocher was grounded for acting up in a game Saturday night.

Five of the National Leaguers will be from Lippy Leo's own Giants, but the Brooklyn Dodgers run off with the 'mostest" honors with seven players. Four St. Louis Cardinals, three players each from the Philadelphia Phillies and Chicago Cubs, and one each from Cincinnati, Boston and Pittsburgh, round out the 25-player group.

Durocher will be manager of the National League all-stars since his Giants copped the pennant last season. Under game rules, he must start the eight players chosen in the fans' nation-wide balloting, and they must play for at least three innings. The choice of pitchers is up to him.

The complete makeup of the National League all-stars, announced through Giles' office here yesterday, follows:

Pitchers—Sal Maglie, New York; Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons, Philadelphia; Preacher Roe, Brooklyn; Bob Rush, Chicago; Warren Spahn, Boston; and Gerry Staley, St. Louis.

Catchers — Roy Campanella, Brooklyn; West Westrum, New York; and Toby Atwell, Chicago.

Infielders—Alvin Dark, Whitey Lockman and Bob Thomson, New York; Gil Hodges, PeeWee Reese and Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn; Red Schoendienst, St. Louis; Granny Hamner, Philadelphia; and Grady Hatton, Cincinnati.

Outfielders — Carl Furillo and Duke Snider, Brooklyn; Ralph Kiner, Pittsburgh; Stan Musial and Enos Slaughter, St. Louis; and Hank Sauer, Chicago.

Starters, as named by the fans, were: Lockman, first base; Robinson, second base; Hamner, shortstop; Thomson, third base; Sauer, left field; Musial, center field; Slaughter, right field; and Campanella, catcher.

Eddie Stanky, manager of the Cards, and Frank Shellenback of the Giants, were named by Durocher as his coaches.

Olympic Team To New York

LOS ANGELES (AP) — America's 1952 Olympic track and field team, labeled the nation's all-time greatest, flies to New York today for a final week of conditioning for the international classic in Finland next month.

With the team went a message from Head Coach Brutus Hamilton of California, obviously in reference to the fact that Russia will participate in the games for the first time in history.

"These games will be different," Hamilton told the athletes at an official breakfast. "They will be dramatic. You may be sure there will be some tenseness, but we will be able to meet any situation that arises.

"Be perfect guests to a perfect host nation. I know all of you will be trying to do a little better than your best at Helsinki."

One-Legged Pitcher Playing For Corpus

CORPUS CHRISTI, June 30 (AP)—A one-legged pitcher, Bert Shepard, will pitch for the Corpus Christi Aes of the Gulf Coast League tonight or tomorrow night, Manager Tom Pullig said yesterday.

Shepard, who once performed for the Washington Senators, was signed an Aces contract last week. Corpus Christi Owner George Shepps said Shepard, fitted with an artificial leg, will be used as a regular if he makes the grade.

Shepard lost his leg when his P-38 fighter plane was shot down over Germany.

His first appearance for the Aces will be against Brownsville tonight, or Harlingen tomorrow night.

Three Yanks In Quarter-finals At Wimbledon

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—The United States sends three players into the quarter-finals of the Wimbledon Men's Singles Championships today in a bid to keep the crown it has held since 1947.

Of the three, Dick Savitt, Orange, N. J., probably has the best chance. The defending champion, he has also held the Australian championship, but Vic Seixas of Philadelphia and Herb Flam, Beverley Hills, Calif., also could make it.

The possibility of an American triumph may depend on which of the three U. S. stars is able to avoid the "bad day" which plagues many of the worlds' top-flight performers during the two-week Wimbledon grind.

Frank Sedgman, top-seeded 24-year-old Australian considered by many to be the world's No. 1 player, had such a day last year when Flam beat him with inspired tennis in a four-set quarter-final match.

One of the Americans is sure to be eliminated today as third-seeded Seixas, the U. S. ranking player, goes against Flam, seeded sixth. Meanwhile, Savitt, ranked fourth, should be able to conquer the eighth seed, Mervyn Rose of Australia.

In other quarter-final tests, Sedgman is pitted against seventh-seeded Eric Sturgess of South Africa, and second-seeded Jaroslav Drobny of Egypt faces Australian titlist Ken McGregor, seeded fifth.

The women's singles resume tomorrow with five Americans, two Britons and one Australian in the quarter-finals.

Fort Worth Man Will Try To Swim From Catalina To Coast

AVALON, Calif., June 30 (AP)—A Fort Worth, Tex., chicken rancher, Roy Sutter, 38, will try tomorrow for the second time to swim the 41 miles from Santa Catalina Island to Santa Monica, on the mainland.

Sutter estimates it will take him 27 hours, averaging 45 strokes a minute. If he completes the distance he will win $2,000 put up by Vic Tanny, gymnasium operator.

Sutter, a veteran fresh water swimmer, attempted the swim last September but gave up after seven miles when he became ill.

A pilot boat will chart the course and his trainer, Jimmy Crowell, will follow him in an 18-foot dory. Sutter expects to lose 16 or 17 pounds.

Texans Win Honors At Trap Shoot Meet

WICHITA, Kas., June 30 (AP)—Texas won top honors yesterday in the Southwest Zone Trap Shoot.

J. O. Morrison of Weatherford, Tex., won the doubles with 98 out of 100. Morrison also won the all around with 588 out of 600 targets shot during the three-day event ending yseterday.

Julius Petty of Stutgart, Ark., was second high in the all around. About 200 shooters competed.

Reds Setting Track 'Records'

LONDON (AP)—Germany and Soviet Russia served notice to the world over this weekend that they intend to garner their quota of honors in Olympic track and field competition at Helsinki in July.

While the U.S. which usually dominates track and field competition, was selecting its 1952 squad, Germany was doing likewise in Berlin and the Soviet Union was telling proudly of the accomplishments of its athletes at Kiev.

Germany, which has not competed in summer Olympics since 1936, is somewhat of an unknown quantity. The Soviet Union, which never has taken part in the Olympic Games, is a strong threat in many events—on paper, at least.

Germany produced a sensational 3:43 world - record - equaling performance yesterday in the 1,500 meters by the youngster Werner Lueg, an 8:50 clocking by Helmut Gude in the 3,000-meter steeplechase, and a 195-foot 1-5-inch heave of the hammer by 39-year-old Karl Storch.

The Soviet results—always treated skeptically in these parts—included an 8:48.6 clocking in the 3,000-meter steeplechase by Vladimir Kasanzev, who has been the "winter book" favorite in this event.

But what was much more startling—unless it was a "command performance" — was Kasanzev's victory over the Czech wonder runner Emil Zatopek in the 5,000-meter race at Kiev in the excellent time of 14:13.2. Zatopek didn't even come in second, trailing Nikifor Popov, who did 14:16. However, reports are that Zatopek intends to run the 10,000 and the marathon, and he may miss the 5,000, for which he has the second best time in the world, 14:03.

Would Let Old Pros Handle Gripes Of Complaining Golfers

NEW YORK (AP) — Loose divots found in forgotten pockets after returning from the golf trail:

Gene Sarazen, the squat squire from Germantown, N.Y., has a formula for eliminating the constant gripes over courses picked for the National Open Championship.

"The USGA should set up a special committee of former well-known golfers, fellows like Francis Ouimet, Bobby Jones and Walter Hagen, and let these men pick the course and help lay it out. They've played all the great courses. They know what constitutes a true and fair test.

"Today we're entrusting this job to a bunch of lawyers who know little or nothing about golf or golf courses."

Ben Hogan, Sam Snead and others were sharply critical of Dallas' Northwood Club after the recent Open. They said the course, less than four years old, wasn't ready for the big tournament, that long hitters were improperly penalized by narrowing the fairways.

"If you have to swing an iron from the tee on a par-4 hole instead of a wood, what does it prove?" caustically asked Snead. "Only that a good putter can win the Open."

Sarazen is returning to the British Isles for the first time in nearly two decades to play in the British Open, beginning July 7.

"I think it's the duty of American golfers to play in England and Scotland, where the game is so revered," he said. "It's a great tragedy that such great American stars as Hogan and Byron Nelson never saw fit to play over there. The British would love 'em."

Nose-thumbing Ted Kroll injected a refreshing new personality into the normally staid, straight-backed links sport. He is the Eddie Stanky of golf.

Mrs. Berwyn Elliott Tate

Miss Logan, Berwyn E. Tate Wed in Afternoon Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Berwyn Elliott Tate are on a wedding trip to Lake Tahoe, Calif., following their marriage yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Church of Christ.

Dr. Max Leach of Abilene Christian College performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the former Miss Lynn L. Logan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Logan. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alvah H. Tate of Knott, Tex.

Backs of greenery and vines formed the background for fern trees and baskets of flowers. Yellow majestic daisies with ribbons and ferns were used to mark the pews. Tall wedding tapers lighted the ceremony.

"No Other Love" and "I Love You Truly" were sung by Mrs. Alfred Leib, Mrs. Jay Rogers, Mrs. Wade Davis and Miss Elois McDow.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white candlelight faille. The dress was fashioned with a fitted bodice paneled with heavy lace and embroidered with tiny seed pearls. The neckline was a scooped "V" and the skirt fell to floor - length in deep unpressed pleats.

The chapel - length veil fell from a double bandeau of faille fashioned with shirred silk bridal illusion and heavy lace embroidered with seed pearls.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white gardenias, love flowers and lily of the Nile tied with white satin ribbon.

Miss Mildred Boren of Post was maid of honor. She wore a maize bouffant organdy dress of ballerina length with draped bodice and stole, and carried large white Majestic daisies. Mrs. Kirby Tatum was matron of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Ann Gough of Temple, Miss Merle Faye Tate of Abilene, cousin of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Barbara Caudle. These attendants wore Nile green dresses fashioned like that of the maid of honor and carried arm sprav of yellow Majestic daisies. Their white lace gloves were hand-crocheted in Lebanon. They wore floral headdresses. The attendants wore gold leaf pinks set with a cultured pearl, gifts of the bride.

Miss Janeene Smith and Miss Jane DeWald lighted the candles. Their dresses were forest green.

Jim Middleton of San Diego was best man. Ushers were Gary Tate of Knott. Cliff McMillan of Big Spring, Don Tarbert of Ackerly and Marion Gardner of Rosewell, N.M.

Mr. and Mrs. Logan were hosts for the reception at their home immediately following the wedding. The table was covered with a madeira linen cloth. Yellow roses in a green container flanked the four-tiered wedding cake. Yellow and white gladioli and white carnations decorated the home. Focal point was a gardenia tree, from which gardenias were picked to be worn by members of the house party.

Guest favors were tiny rice bags tied with the bridal colors. They were passed by Randy Dean Adams of Abilene, cousin of the bride.

Miss Elois McDow cut the cake and Mrs. D. M. Cogdell, Jr., served punch. Others assisting in the houseparty were Miss Shirley Gillum, Miss Ruth Schooling, Miss Mary Sue Boren, Miss Mary Nell Trevey and Miss Mickey Kelly.

When the couple left for California, the bride was wearing a powder blue sheer dress trimmed with a blue rhinestone pin and earrings, gifts of the bridegroom. Her accessories were black.

The bride is a graduate of Snyder High School. She attended Hardin-Simmons University where she was a member of the Cow Girl Band. She also attended North Texas State College at Denton.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Abilene Christian College where he studied for the ministry.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding were from Abilene, Big Spring, Knott, Midland, Hermleigh, San Diego, Post, Lubbock, Plainview, Temple, Sweetwater, Mertzon, Odessa, Roswell, Dallas and Fort Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Adams of Abilene, the bride's uncle and aunt, and Dennis Adams of Los Angeles were hosts for the rehearsal dinner Saturday night at the Manhattan Hotel. Gifts were presented to the bridal party.

I am still trying to put away winter clothing, and I need to wash my little boy's corduroy clothes. Do you have a method for washing corduroy? Mrs. K. L. M.

According to a Columbia University professor, here's how:

Remove spots before washing, use warm water and soap and wash like cotton. Plunge the garment up and down and rinse well. Squeeze through a loose wringer in flat folds or squeeze with hands. Shake well and shape the garment. Place on a padded hanger to dry. Brush when dry with clean soft brush until nap is well fluffed. Rip out hems in colored corduroy garment, because thickness allows color to settle and streak. If you dry the garments in the wind, it lifts the nap.

I need a recipe for barbecue sauce that will do for spaghetti and chicken. I am not sure whether my regular meat sauce would be all right. Ann R.

Here's a sauce especially recommended for spaghetti dishes:

2 tablesppons butter or margarine
1-3 cup chopped onion
1 cup tomato juice
½ cup water
¼ cup catsup
2 tablespoons each of brown sugar, vinegar, Worcestershire sauce, and prepared mustard.
1 teaspoon salt

Melt butter or margarine in saucepan. Add onions and brown lightly. Stir in remaining ingredients and mix well. Simmer about 15 minutes.

• • •

We are using an ice refrigerator temporarily until our furniture is moved here. I've never had one before and thought you might have some information as to get the best service from ice. Mrs. N.B.

First of all, keep the refrigerator dry to save ice. Wash the ice before putting it into refrigerator. Cover broken eggs and strong-smelling foods, just as in any sort of refrigerator. Chill drinking water in a bottle and so avoid chipping ice for the table. Cooling food before putting into refrigerator saves ice. Do not wrap the ice, as some persons think is good, since it increases the temperature of the box and prevents cold from spreading.

TALK OF THE TOWN

By SUE HOLMES

"Mother, you can't go to the store to get a spool of thread without having an adventure," teases the son of Mrs. IRENE S. BOREN, who is here from California to help care for her sick brother, DR. O. A. SCARBOROUGH.

It would seem from Mrs. Boren's stories that her son is right. Few women of grandmother age—no matter how young in heart—would have attempted the trip Mrs. Boren took in 1949 on the "President Jefferson," a freighter. This latest round-the-world cruise followed a trip to Alaska in 1947. Even before that, she toured Europe in 1930 when she went over on a liner with the Women's Overseas League to a convention.

Back to state-side facts for a moment—Mrs. Boren's father was Capt. Ed J. Scarborough, a pioneer of Snyder. She married and moved to California in 1912, but she is still a booster of her native state. Mrs. Boren and her late husband lost one son in World War I during the flu epidemic. Another son, Wallace, recently signed off his column, "Wally's Wagon," and headed for a ranch where he's to write western stories. Another son, E. T. Boren, is in Los Angeles where he's employed by the immigration department. Also in L. A. is Jack Scarborough Boren, an engineer. All the boys were born in Snyder, Mrs. Boren says.

While she lived in Snyder, the silver - haired woman taught in several community schools, including Pleasant Hill and Centerview. Then after moving to California, she attended classes until she'd won her master's degree. Her teaching career continued until 1945 when she went into retirement.

But it's the gayest retirment anybody ever heard of — judging from the sampling of stories about the travels. She loves to tell an incident from her trip to Alaska, during which she flew 10,000 miles over much the same territory traveled by the Nolan von Roeders on their trip last summer: Ketchikan, Point Barrow and other points.

It seems Mrs. Boren was on a conducted tour and sailing up the coast to or by Alaska, when she noticed the storm they were going through had no lightning. She turned to a fellow passenger, a Doctor Lobeck from Columbia University and, naturally enough, observed: "Did you know, Doctor Lobeck that we are going through a storm and there's not a bit of lightning?"

The doctor said he knew it and went on to give a brief explanation that a few places in the world had atmospheric conditions that prevented lightning.

Later Mrs. Boren saw the tour conductor collapsed in laughter. She told him she didn't think her question was so funny, as she'd always thought storms included electrical play.

Replied the man: "Your question wasn't so funny, but the way you asked it was. Did you know that Doctor Lobeck is the only man who has ever written a book about places that have no lightning?"

The tighter the scrape, the better this Snyder-born traveler likes it. During the 1949 tour, her ship docked in India. She wanted to see the Taj Mahal, so she found her way to New Delhi and planned to meet the ship at Bombay. After seeing the sights, she tried to leave for Bombay—only to find out she'd never had permission to enter New Delhi. Many wrangles with the police followed, during which they told her women didn't take unescorted trips through that country.

On this same junket, she roomed by chance with a princess from Afghanistan who had attended religious school in Berkeley, Calif. Mrs. Boren and the royal woman had mutual friends.

The Pakistan visitors to Snyder last week interested Mrs. Boren very much, since she had spent time in Karachi, Pakistan. She regretted not knowing they were here until they'd gone. Sights such as she encountered in Pakistan, where it is said three million persons can be found on the streets of Karachi, made her a more loyal citizen of the U.S., she says.

In Karachi, the inhabitants of the mountain homes surrounding the city all come down to the city at night to seek food and warmth. Then the starving thousands scatter to the hills the next day to try to find a livlihood. This, Mrs. Boren, said, made her impatient with those in this country who complain over high income taxes and exisiting conditions.

Is she ready to settle down in her Long Beach home, just a "stone's throw from the ocean" and think of her trips? No indeed. She's already hoping to go back to India and Ceylon and the other fascinating places.

Four-Year-Old Twins Are Killed In Fire

EASTON, Mass. (AP) — Four-year-old twins — Priscilla and Edward Greenleaf — perished in each others arms last night as they huddled in an attic closet to escape the flames that swept the upper part of their two-family home.

Mrs. David Regan, their mother, said she had put them to bed in their second floor apartment a short time earlier. She said the twins had talked about a toy train that was stored in the unlighted attic and "they must have gone up to the attic to play with their train."

Firemen said a mattress had caught fire in the attic and then spread to two cans of paint, causing them to explode.

POLITICAL BOMBSHELL ABOUT TO GO OFF

Who threw it?

How? Where?

Why?

What'll it mean to you?

Down on the convention floor, a key delegation has gone into a huddle. A whispered message . . . a quick vote . . . here comes the switch that will decide the nomination!

But even though you see it happening . . . hear the excited voices describing the hullabaloo . . . you won't be satisfied.

What really happened? . . . not only in plain sight, but in that Chicago hotel room . . . or on the long distance phone?

Who released what delegates? Who promised what? Who first heard the alluring strains of the bandwagon? What are the "big men" saying, underneath that roar of cheers? What does it mean for next fall . . . for the country . . . for you?

In short, you want your newspaper.

For no other news medium can give you enough reports and sidelights and opinions . . . fast enough . . . when you choose, where you choose, in the order that interests you most.

That's why everybody reads the newspaper . . . on days of supreme excitement . . . and every day.

• • •

If you're selling something that's advertised, make sure it's advertised to all the people in town.

All your customers and prospects read the newspaper — at the time they choose, for as long as they choose — for the advertising as well as for news or for fun.

When you're backed by newspaper advertising, your story has a chance to reach everybody . . . not just comedy fans, or mystery fans, or sports fans . . . but everybody.

That's why advertisers today invest more money in newspapers than in any other form of advertising. Newspapers are first with the most news . . . the most people . . . the most advertisers!

The newspaper is always "first with the most"

COLORED INTERIOR FOR REFRIGERATORS

Firm Featuring Refrigerator With New Defrosting Device

Automatic defrosting, one of the most significant recent advances in domestic refrigeration is a feature of the new 1952 refrigerators now on display at Snyder Truck and Tractor Co., located on the East Highway.

Striking color inside, as well as colored door handle inserts, is another important feature of these new "femineered" refrigerators, built by International Harvester.

"Trimatic" defrosting, as Harvester calls it, is a great improvement in automatic defrosting because it permits the owner to choose any of three defrosting methods," Paul Keaton, owner, said.

"It leaves the homemaker with absolutely nothing to do to defrost her refrigerator—no muss, no fuss, no worry," he said.

To defrost automatically, a person has only to set the control dial and forget it, he said. Automatic defrosting then occurs every morning at 3 o'clock. The refrigerator also may be defrosted electrically at any time merely by changing the control setting.

The electrically - operated defrosting cycle takes only 15 minutes. Frozen food —even ice cream remains brick hard. Defrost water drains into a receptable over the motor compressor and evaporates. It never has to be emptied.

The third alernative is the conventional defrosting method, which the homemaker can employ when she wishes to clean her refrigerator interior.

"Color accents in the door handles introduced in 1951 by International Harvester, will be retained," Keaton said. "In addition, four models are tinted, a soft, "Spring - fresh" green on the inner door panel and breaker strip. Two of these four have all green interiors. Three models have all white interiors, and one has a green chill tray and freezer door."

The top model for 1952 has "Trimatic" defrosting, a fully colored interior, a 50-pound freezer, and cold-to-the floor refrigeration. It has full - width chill tray, two stain-resistant porcelain crispers that hold 23.3 quarts, a 10-8 pound capacity meat drawer, four "Pantry-dor" shelves and a butter compartment with separate temperature control. Its built - in bottle opener is magnetic to hold on to bottle caps. An exclusive "Tightwad" compressor unit has a five-year warranty permanently attached to the refrigerator cabinet.

Improvement Noted In Snyder Polio Victim

Eddie Wilson, 18-month-old Snyder polio victim, was reported as still gradually improving at a Fort Worth hospital yesterday.

The child, who had lost the use of his legs and one arm three weeks ago, was walking last week, and he can use the arm, but doctors said he must remain at the hospital several months before he will be in condition to be returned to Snyder.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Wilson, Roby Highway.

Dallas Jeweler And Religious Leader Dies

DALLAS, June 30 (AP)—Arthur A. Everts, 86, a jeweler and religious leader, died yesterday.

He headed the Arthur A. Everts Co., here since 1897.

Everts, who once ran for president on the Prohibition ticket, gave much of his time to religious work. He organized the East Dallas Christian Church in 1903.

On business trips, he crammed his suitcases with religious booklets. He sponsored newspaper advertisements he hoped would lead people to read in the Bible.

Survivors include his son, Myron Everts, associated with his father's business, and a daughter, Mrs. Harvey M. Harker of Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Shuler of 308 Avenue R, are parents of a daughter, born yesterday at the Snyder Hospital.

Merchants To Meet Tuesday

About 100 Snyder merchants are expected to attend a general merchants meeting at 7:30 o'clock tomorrow night in the district courtroom, Harold Bennett, head of the Chamber of Commerce merchants committee, said today.

Bennett urged all merchants to attend the meeting, which he said will serve as a "gripe session" for merchants who want to discuss trade problems.

Included in tomorrow night's discussion will be a proposed trade promotional day, solicitor and peddler control, store hour regulation for some types of business, and trade tours in the county.

Bennett invited all merchants to meet, but he added that only those who are members of the chamber will be allowed to vote on any issues.

Students Lost In Colorado

BOULDER, Colo., June 30 (AP)—Searching parties early today were scouring rugged country west of Ward, Colo., about 30 miles northwest of here in an attempt to locate two University of Colorado students believed lost following a church picnic.

Missing are Sue Simpson, 19, of Minneapolis, Minn., and Dave Harlan, 19, of Galveston, Tex.

The pair were part of a group of 60 young people on an outing yesterday at Brainerd Lake near Ward.

Miss Simpson is a freshman student at Colorado. Harlan is a summer student. Both are members of the Canterbury Club, an Episcopal young people's group.

Rev. A. Balfour Patterson, University Episcopal chaplain and Boulder preacher, who was in charge of the group, said the missing students were lightly clad. Some snow remains on the ground near the lake which is some 13,000 feet above sea level.

Rev. Patterson said the pair were last seen near the campsite, engaging in a snowball fight.

Boy Who Stole Gift For Father Kills Self

TOLEDO, O. (AP) — A 15-year-old boy, arrested recently because he tried to steal a gift for Father's Day, killed himself to make amends, the sheriff's office said.

A motorist found the body of Fred Greenburg yesterday not far from his home. The boy had shot himself in the head with his dad's .22-caliber pistol, Deputy Coroner Irvin McConnell said.

The boy had left a note to his parents saying he was "paying for my mistake."

Juvenile Court officials had released him to his parents' custody after giving him a lecture.

Actors' Fraternity Honors Judy Garland

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The half-century old, Friars Club, actors' fraternal organization, broke tradition last night at a testimonial dinner honoring Judy Garland and allowed women on the speakers' platform.

Film players Rosalind Russell de Haviland and Marie Wilson took the platform along with the men to pay tribute to Miss Garland as "Miss Show Business."

Toastmaster George Jessel, told a filmland crowd of 750 that Judy "is personally responsible for the rebirth of vaudeville at the Palace Theater in New York."

Miss Garland, long in the movies, has been touring recenty with her own vaudevile act, which she launched at the Palace earlier this year.

BUSINESS MIRROR

Strike Is Assuring Heavy Demand For Steel In Future

NEW YORK, June 30 (AP)—The steel strike—starting its fifth week today—will begin strangling industrial output fast from now on.

Layoffs in industries using steel will come faster. By the middle of next month most big manufacturers would be cutting back. Already hundreds of thousands are being idled —not only in steel fabricating plants, but in coal, railroad, auto and appliance industries.

Even if the strike should end this week, it might be mid-August before all the supply pipelines could be filled again, and all companies have balanced inventories of steel products, industry experts estimate.

And the effect of the strike may be felt next March—in a pinch of iron ore supplies. The big iron ore boats ply the great lakes in summer to bring Minnesota ore to the steel mills to be stockpiled for use in the winter when the lakes are frozen.

These boats are idle now because the iron ore workers also are on strike. Total iron ore shipments for the season have been cut about one-tenth by the strike so far. Steel mill stockpiles of ore may be exhausted next March before the boats can start up their next spring runs.

Most businessmen had thought the strike would be halted by government action before this. Therefore, few made any attempt to build up steel inventories before it started.

By lasting four weeks, the strike has thrown industrial inventories out of balance. A shortage in any one special type of steel used by a manufacturer can halt his production even if his inventories of other types of steel remain adequate.

With steel inventories melting fast, the steel industry is assured now that when the strike ends the steel mills will be running at full capacity well into next year.

Before the strike, steel capacity to produce was overtaking steel demand and most steel executives had felt that by late fall they would be cutting back steel production.

Now the steel industry feels that demand for its products will stay high for months to come.

This means, among other things, that if steel prices are raised after the strike ends, the steel mills aren't likely to run into customer price resistance.

The steel mills now will be in a position to pass along any wage boost in the form of higher prices —if the government permits it.

Before the strike, when steel users were getting cocky because their inventories were ample and the days of the great steel shortage seemed numbered. Some executives had doubts as to the chances of passing all of the costs of wage boosts on to the consumers.

The growing steel pinch will be shared a little next month when many industrial plants start their annual shutdowns for vacations. If the strike is settled soon, these plants might get enough steel during July to be sure of full production when they reopen in August.

But steel won't start flowing from the furnaces immediately after the strike ends.

Furnaces must be fired up—and care must be taken to see that they haven't been damaged during the weeks they were cold. Full steel production might not be achieved until two weeks after the strike ends, the millmen say. And the pipelines to consumers will fill even more slowly—perhaps four weeks after steel production goes full blast again.

So layoffs will spread throughout industry.

And defense production isn't getting the steel supplies it requires. Efforts to move finished steel out of closed plants and warehouses, officials say, have been disappointing.

Motor Coach Workers In San Antonio May Strike For More Pay

SAN ANTONIO, June 30 (AP)—If negotiations for a new transit workers' contract fail today, AFL drivers and mechanics plan to take a strike vote early tomorrow.

Ed Wiemar, president of the local motor coach employees union, announced the strike vote yesterday.

The union has asked a straight 10 cents an hour increase for its 761 drivers and mechanics. They now have an average hourly wage of $1.35.

Wiemar said the company had agreed to the wage increase and the only dispute was over the date when the raise would go into effect.

The union wants the raise effective immediately. The San Antonio Transit Co. wants the increase effective when the company's application for a fare increase is approved by the city.

Houston Man Gets Government Post

WASHINGTON, June 30 (AP)—Secretary of the Interior Chapman yesterday announced appointment of John R. Ridgway, Houston, as one of the two new branch chiefs in the Defense Electric Power Administration.

Ridgway was named Chief of the Major Equipment scheduling branch to succeed Kenneth S. Field, Garden City, N. Y.

Henry Hansjergen, Bellevue, Ky., was named Chief of the Minor Requirements Branch.

Sarah Hughes Says Women Lack Influence

BOSTON, June 30 (AP)—District Judge Sarah T. Hughes of Texas said today "women's lack of real influence in government is demonstrated by the few women holding public office."

She told the 11th biennial convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs that "considering the number of public officials, women can hardly be said to have approached a fair share of public recognition."

Judge Hughes listed the following six points that "women must fight for to gain full citizenship:"

1. All existing legal discriminations must be removed by passage of the equal rights amendment.
2. Women must be willing to accept responsibility and actively participate in politics.
3. Women must be accepted by men as full partners.
4. Full citizenship includes daily practice of democratic principles.
5. Full citizenship requires a realization that this is one world.
6. Women to be effective citizens need faith—a firm belief in themselves and their ability, faith in our country—the principles of liberty and freedom, faith in the attainment of peace.

At yesterday's opening session, Miss Helen Irwin, Des Moines, Iowa, insurance executive, was nominated for the presidency.

REPLACES VACATIONING SECRETARIES

One of the multiplicity of duties performed by Miss June Ritter, above, in her newly formed secretarial service is to take the place of vacationing secretaries. She handles telephone calls, writes and mails letters, and takes dictation—all from her office over the Snyder Drug on the west side of the square. Many small businesses use the secretarial service instead of employing a regular secretary. (Lee Watson photograph.)

Secretary By Phone Offered Businessmen

A new service that will be a boon to many bosses during the vacation periods of their regular secretaries is the newly formed Snyder Secretarial Service.

Miss June Ritter, operator of the Snyder Employment Agency, located over the Snyder Drug on the West side of the Square, has added the secretarial service to her business.

"We offer all the services regularly required of secretaries, and at only about one-fourth the cost of hiring a secretary," Miss Ritter said.

She explained that the firm can handle a number of secretarial jobs at one time because they will all be handed from her office.

"The telephone company has promised any amount of additional extensions and lines necessary to the operation of the business, so that there will be no delays in geting calls to the service," she said.

A wire recorder installed in the office makes dictation of a letter to the service a cinch.

"All a business man has to do is call our number, and dictate the letter to the recording machine, and we do the rest—even to mailing the letter," she said.

Miss Ritter said the new service is not exclusively for the convenience of business men whose secretaries are going on vacations, but is for all businessmen who have a need for fast and efficient secretarial services. Complete details can be had by dialing 3-3936.

Powerful Jet Plane Crashes

LONDON (AP) — Britain's revolutionary new flying triangle — the only plane of its type in operation — crashed in flames yesterday, but officials said another of the supersonic jets will be completed within a few days.

Test pilot Bill Waterton, 36, leaped safely from the plane after he crash-landed it at Boscome Down Air Station. The Canadian-born squadron leader jumped carrying vital movies recording the accident. Seconds later the plane burst into flames.

Fire squads moved in quickly and saved it from complete destruction.

The Air Ministry three weeks ago accepted the delta-shaped Gloster GA5 for mass production. The strength of its triangular wing construction, Waterton said, prevented the test model from blowing up when it hit the runway.

Its two Sapphire jet engines have been considered the world's most powerful. Yesterday, however, Britain released figures on a newer and even more powerful engine.

The new jet engine, the Bristol Olympus, has maximum static thrust of 9,750 pounds as compared to the Sapphire's 8,300 pounds. This means it has some 9,750 horsepower at 300 miles per hour and 17,000 horsepower at 600 miles.

The Olympus was first developed here by the Bristol Aeroplane Company but also is being worked on in the United States by the Wright Aeronautical Corp. under license from Bristol.

Legal Wife Not So Proud Of Triplet's Pop

NEW YORK (AP) — A proud father's new triplets brought him trouble yesterday — he had to admit he wasn't married to their mother but to another woman.

Only two days before, 27-year-old Salvatore Scarnati had been a happy man when a woman listed as Helen Mingey Scarnati, 28, had three girls.

He blithely gave pictures to the newspapers and basked in the public acclaim.

But yesterday Mrs. Mary Cosalazzo Scarnati, 27, showed up at a police station. She had seen his picture in the papers.

The proud papa, she told police, was her husband the father of her 4-year-old daughter.

They were married in 1947 and separated in 1950 — but, she added, they still were legally wed and he is under court order to pay $14 a week for the child's support.

The district attorney's office decided not to take action against Scarnati, a garage attendant.

But it advised Mrs. Scarnati she could apply for a summons charging him with adultery, a misdemeanor.

"I'm going to make him pay for all this," she vowed.

Scarnati told officers he also was the father of another of Helen's two children. And he asked plaintively:

"What did I do wrong? My wife won't give me a divorce and I love this girl. How can you say I did something wrong?"

The he added:

"I knew this would happen, but I didn't expect it so soon."

German Calls For West To Reunite Nation

TRIER, Germany (AP) — The West German minister for all-German affairs, Jakob Kaiser, called last night for a Western policy to "push back the Soviets toward the East" and reunited divided Germany.

He accused the West of having delivered the 18 million Germans in the Soviet zone "to a dictatorial system of terror."

In a speech before a patriotic Rhineland rally here, Kaiser said:

"The government (of West Germany) and the free world should now more than ever concern themselves with the problem of how to return to Germans their lost freedom — and how this can be done soon."

He said the East Germans' power of resistance to communism "is being ever more strained" and "the structure of the Soviet zone is changing more and more from day to day." However, if the Red Army were withdrawn, Kaiser said, the Communist setup there would collapse.

Kaiser called also for the return of the industrial Saar to Germany to show that the right of self-determination is not likewise denied to Germans in the West.

Texan Would Use Lava In Mexico To Produce Cheap Electric Power

MEXICO CITY, (AP) — A Texas chemist says he can harness the heat from Mexico's active 9-year-old volcano, Paricutin, to produce cheap electricity for the country's West Coast.

E. H. Digmowity of Denison, Tex., said he had submitted plans to the Mexican government for a pilot plant to cost $17,200. He said Dr. Francisco Garcia Junto, the University of Mexico's chief physicist, was working with him.

Digmowity said this is his plan: Hot lava from the volcano 250 miles west of Mexico City would be channeled into a big pit to heat coils of cobalt pipe. Water circulating in the pipes would be converted into steam, which would drive electric generators.

The Texan said power could be produced that way "at about 3 per cent of the cost of ordinary power."

Iceland Disease Is Studied In New York

KINGSTON, Ont. (AP) — A disease new to the medical profession hit Northern New York State during the summer and fall of 1950, Dr. D. Naldrett White of Queen's University here reported last night.

Dr. White completed a study of the New York epidemic with the assistance of Dr. Robert Burtch of Alexandria Bay, N. Y. The report of their work said that the ailment, called Iceland disease, was similar land disease, was somewhat similar to poliomyelitis but much less severe, with no crippling and no deaths.

The illness appeared to involve the muscles rather than the nerves, as in polio. The disease was first discovered by a team of Danish medical men studying a virus ailment which hit Iceland in the fall and winter of 1948.

Harriman Says U.S. Willing To Pay For Unity

NEW YORK (AP) — Averell Harriman says he is confident that the American people are prepared to spend the money necessary to finance world unity against Communist aggression.

Harriman, after a nation-wide tour in his campaign for the Democratic presidential nomination, appeared yesterday on a Columbia Broadcasting System network television show, "Harriman Faces the Issues."

It was a two-way broadcast in which Harriman, in New York, answered questions on foreign and domestic policies asked by six family groups gathered in front of the Montgomery County Courthouse in Dayton, O.

Harriman said that the United States, if present anti-Communist policies are continued, need not be afraid of Russia after a couple of years "because we will be able then to deal with Stalin on our terms."

Harriman, former U. S. Ambassador to Moscow, said he foresaw a live-and-let live situation in which the Communists would lose ground and eventually disintegrate because of inherent weaknesses.

Without mentioning other presidential candidates by name, Harriman said voters should be on the lookout against men "who tell you now what should have been done five years ago."

"Look at their voting record for the past five years if they happen to have been in the Congress," he added.

Air Force Man Takes Case Against Federal Government To Court

BOISE, Idaho (AP) — Lt. Orton T. Campbell, who says the government has spent half a million dollars to keep him discharged from a $5,450-a-year job in the Government Printing Office, said yesterday he had appealed his case to the U. S. Supreme Court.

He was notified by the high court, he said, that his brief had been filed for the October term.

Campbell, now stationed here with the Air Force, was employed by the printing office before World War II. After his discharge from the Air Force, he claims, he was rehired as a new employe.

He sued for his former position and was upheld by a U. S. District Court in Washington. At that time, a Justice Department attorney said the litigation had cost the government half a million dollars.

Innoculation To Test Polio Drug Begins

HOUSTON (AP)—Experimental innoculation of 35,000 young children will begin this week in a mass test of a drug to prevent paralysis from polio.

Medical scientists, financed by the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis, will begin giving shots of gamma globulin Wednesday. Half the children will get the harmless blood fraction and the other half will get a neutral innoculation. Only the University of Pittsburg research men will know which children get the gamma globulin.

The tests were planned after Houston and Harris County passed the stage regarded as epidemic by the national foundation.

By last week, Houston had reported 149 city cases and six deaths, 98 county cases and four deaths, and 96 non-resident cases and six deaths.

Meanwhile, Nina Warren, 18, daughter of Gov. Earl Warren of California, came to Houston with a message of hope for polio sufferers.

The pretty blonde looked as if she had never been ill. Yet only 18 months ago "Honeybear" Warren was paralyzed from the waist down.

"The most important thing to remember is that people do recover from polio," she said. "People don't hear so much about complete recovery. That's one reason why they fear the disease so much."

Dr. William Hammon of the University of Pittsburgh will direct the innoculation of the children here.
