

Commissioners Stall On Library

Floyd County Commissioners in session last week met with Mrs. Lloyd and several community members to discuss the library. The Q.A. & P. Depot as a site for the library for Floyd County was presented to the court and Smith presented to the court and March from Donald E. Ransom, General Counsel of the St. Francisco Railway Co., stating they would donate the Q.A. & P. Depot to Floyd County. Lloyd, representing "Friends of the Library", stated that it would be to get a government grant of $30,000 to renovate the depot to be a county library. The cost of the project would be $30,000. The "Friends of the Library" she stated, would be able to raise the $30,000 necessary for the renovation of the depot.

She asked the commissioners to approve a budget enlargement for the county library to maintain the building. This would include the heating and cooling for the building, janitorial service and insurance.

Commissioner Jack Lackey brought up the question of land deed; how many years would be included in the lease agreement and at what price. Judge Smith said he thought the lease would be for a number of years and that the price would be nominal.

Mrs. Lloyd said that the Friends of the Library would not be able to get the government grant themselves because it has to be submitted by the Floyd County Historical Commission. She stated that many people are denied access to the county library in the court house because of the stairs and that a small child had fallen down the stairs recently. She also stated that the present site of the library allows no room to expand the library facilities. She said that all her group was asking for was the maintenance funds.

Commissioner Jack Lackey stated flatly that the County does not have the extra funds for the maintenance of the building. The county has loaded themselves down with the remodeling of the jail house, and didn't have any choice in the matter of redoing the jail. Lackey also said that this is one of the few counties that can pay their bills.

Jim Word, representing the Floyd County Historical Commission brought up the fact that the library has to continue to grow and that if it doesn't it will stagnate. The longer library expansion is put off the more it will cost, he said.

Commissioner Aaron Carthel voiced doubts about the run-down condition of the area around the depot.

Mrs. Lloyd said that proper landscaping around the depot would be part of the renovation and that a fence would be built.

Word suggested that if the depot were renovated it might attract other new buildings or remodelings in that area.

Mike Hale, architect, stated that it would be hard to duplicate the structural quality in the depot.

Judge Smith suggested that the matter be put before the public. Let the taxpayers decide about the location and maintenance costs. He asked Mrs. Lloyd to meet with the members of her group. Then if they want, they could come to his office and write up the proposals to put on the ballot.

Commissioner Bob Jarrett also said that in his opinion it should be put on a ballot to see if the majority of the people of Floyd County want to get behind it. No further action was taken.

In other business the court, in a motion by Aaron Carthel and seconded by Bob Jarrett, voted to allow Mrs. Glenna Miller to purchase 3 3/10 acres of land out of the northwest quarter, survey 28 block G, at a cost of $250, the purchase price of the land to Floyd County in 1921. It was stipulated that Mrs. Miller is to pay all the legal costs to close the transaction. The vote was unanimous.

The commissioners unanimously agreed to hire Ricky West as County Trapper for Floyd County upon the recommendation of James Winnat, the District Supervisor of the Texas Animal Damage Program.

The court members supported a motion by Grigsby Milton that $40,000 be transferred from the Road and Bridge fund to the Precinct. Each Precinct is to receive $10,000.

A motion by Aaron Carthel that $10,000 be transferred out of the general fund to the officers salary fund and $10,000 from the general fund transferred to the permanent improvement fund.

Fred Cardinal, Sheriff of Floyd County, met with the Court to present bids from the local appliance dealers of Floyd County for a new stove, ice box and freezer for the Floyd County jail house. A decision was not reached concerning these bids.

Immunizations Required For Students

The state of Texas has a law that requires immunizations for all students enrolled in child caring facilities and institutions; school and institutions of higher learning. This law will effect many Floydada High School students. A minimum of three doses of DPT and/or TD is required with at least one dose having been received on or after the fourth birthday and with a last dose within the past 10 years. This means that many students that have not received a TD booster in the last 10 years will need a booster this year. The High School is asking all students that have not received a booster in the last 10 years to go to their doctor or Health Clinic and get this booster. Immunizaranch land. One is a M44 or cynaide gun, and the other is a live trap or cage. The steel traps are used for skunks only because the coyote is too smart to be trapped in one.

The steel traps are baited with sardines or most any food will attract a skunk. West lays the trap in the path or route the skunk is known to travel all the time.

If there are dogs in the vicinity he does not use the steel traps; he uses a live trap.

The bait used for the coyote is generally dead rabbits put inside the live trap. A cynaide gun is a tube stuck in the ground, then bait is put around it, the coyote bites and pulls on the gun and a dose of cynaide is shot into the animals mouth.

After the animal is destroyed it is left at the site. "We are on salary, and it is considered a conflict of interest for us to sell the hides," West said. West is working out of his home. Anyone having a problem with animals may contact West at 983-3301.

Rocky Mountain Oyster Fry In San Angelo April 25-26

SAN ANGELO: The Original World Championship Rocky Mountain Oyster Fry will be April 25-26 at the old American Cattle Breeders Hall of Fame Park, 20 miles south of San Angelo on the Concho River.

Judges will be Frank X. Tolbert, renowned author and Dallas Morning News columnist; Adjutant General Willie B. Scott of Austin; Alleghany Jani, Chili Cookoff Ladies World Champion, and her husband, Lee McCullough, author and free-lance writer of Stone-wall.

Gates will swing open at noon Friday, April 25, with dances scheduled that evening and Saturday. Both will be in the adjacent Playland Park. The Bill Smallwood Band will provide music, featuring such tunes as "Rocky Mountain Oysters," written by Phil Houseal, bass player, and released on the BS label earlier this year.

Tex Schofield will be Master of Ceremonies for the weekend's festivities; and the Luckenbach Ladies Lynching League--its members clad in long gingham gowns, white aprons and white gloves, will comprise the oyster inspection team.

Oysters must be prepared at the site with no precooking allowed. Two divisions--calf and open--are planned, with entries thus far in the latter division including turkey, goat, deer and kangaroo.

Dr. Charles Overstreet will hold a Rabies Clinic Saturday, April 26 from 9-10 a.m. at Parks Oil Co. in South Plains. Because of the outbreak of rabies last summer and the fact that two rabid skunks have been found in the Dougherty community this spring the public is urged to have their dogs and cats vaccinated.

Judging will take place at 4 p.m. Saturday, April 26, with decisions of the judges final. Trophies will be awarded to first, second, and third-place winners.

Fries will be furnished entrants at cost, but those who desire to purchase them at the site are asked to notify the sponsors in advance.

Entry fee in the oyster fry competition is $20 and in the foot rack $10. There will be no charge for other contests.

Concessions will be operated by San Angelo's Knights of Columbus with proceeds going to KC projects and by the Traveling Kitchen.

RICKY WEST has been appointed for Government Trapper for Floyd County.

West Named Floyd County Trapper

Ricky West has been appointed by the U.S. Department of Fish and Wildlife to the position of Government Trapper for Floyd County. West replaces Mike Eckland who has been promoted to District Trouble Shooter for the San Angelo District.

The control of predators will be West's main duty. In this area, the coyote creates the major damage. West will also destroy skunks when they get under peoples houses and create a nuisance. Skunks and coyotes are the only two animals West is permitted to trap, but he can control other animals that create a problem.

"I've been hunting all my life," West said, "I guess I'm a hunting fanatic, but this will be my first experience with trapping."

The major part of West's work will be on ranch land, controlling the coyotes. "The only time I can kill a skunk is when they are under a house or rabid." West must have written permission, a signed agreement to go on any ones land. West uses two types of traps on

People Key To Allsups Success

People - the more than 1,300 employees and customers from Grants to west of Fort Worth - get the credit for helping write one of New Mexico's biggest retailing success stories.

The first chapter began in October 1956 in Roswell with the opening of Lonnie's Drive-In Grocery at 1500 W. Second St.

Now, Lonnie and Barbara Allsup have put together the 24th largest chain of convenience stores in the nation, with 168 Allsup's Convenience Stores helping form a $50 million business.

Before the final chapter is written Allsup's Convenience Stores Inc. will have some 400 stores selling items ranging from garden hoses to barbecued chicken throughout New Mexico, West Texas and parts of Oklahoma. In conversation, Mr. and Mrs. Allsup speak repeatedly of motivated employees, long-term workers, loyal customers and consumer convenience.

"Anybody can have buildings, fixtures and merchandise, but if they don't have good people to run those stores - all the way up and all the way down - you won't be successful," explained Allsup, president of the corporation which he and his wife started building alone.

"I'd look pretty funny trying to run 168 stores," he added with a chuckle.

"Anyone who gets negative on people won't grow with the business. You really have to be optimistic and you have to think that people are good," Allsup said. "If we decided that people are no good, we'd have to get out of the business."

As chief executive officer of a major chain, Lonnie Allsup looks back nostalgically to the time not so long ago when he was waiting on customers.

"One of the parts I enjoy most about the grocery or convenience store business is meeting the customers, taking care of the customers. I really enjoy that," he said. "I really enjoy that. Now I don't get enough contact with the customers; it's all employee contact now."

"I always enjoyed the customers and the customer was No. 1. That's your business, that's all you've got is the customer," Allsup added.

Barbara Allsup, financial vice president of Allsup's echoed the same thoughts.

She fondly recalls their Roswell customers when they were starting out. "They were really receptive about what we were trying to do. A lot of people were very helpful," Mrs. Allsup added.

In addition to what she describes as "Lonnie's vision," she attributes the chain's success to Allsup employees through the years.

In fact, they opened their second store - also in Roswell - with money borrowed from an employee.

"We've been lucky to get good people and to keep them," Barbara Allsup said, pointing out that some of the current employees of Allsup's Convenience Stores Inc., started with the first stores in Roswell.

"They're very loyal, it's almost like a family relationship," she added.

The Allsups began putting their present chain of 168 stores together shortly after selling their 12 initial stores to Southland Corp. in 1963.

At that time, the couple owned eight stores in Roswell, two in Ruidoso and two in Alamogordo.

These dozen convenience stores had been built up since 1956 when Lonnie Allsup opened Lonnie's Drive-In Grocery after his discharge from the Air Force.

BARBARA ALLSUP

Allsup's infatuation with grocery retailing, however, began many years before that.

"I started out standing on a box, sacking groceries when I was 10 or 11," he recalled.

"It's a fast business," he added, explaining how he "liked the fast part of the grocery store business."

Working in the grocery business, he said, was much faster than working for his father's Chevrolet dealership in his hometown of Morton, Texas.

That was more a work real hard and trade cars, maybe make a sale of one a day or two," he added.

Allsup also recalls working in the maintenance area of his father's automobile dealership, around the oil and grease.

To this day, he insists that all stores chain in the Allsup's chain be virtually spotless.

At the age of 16, Allsup graduated from Morton High School; married Barbara, his school sweetheart, who also was 16 years of age; and moved to Abilene, Texas, so he could attend Hardin Simmons University.

While Lonnie was studying business and medicine at the university, Barbara was finishing high school in Abilene.

She said that when they left Morton she "only lacked one credit for graduation."

But the new school raised requirements and eliminated some credits.

"I ended up going to school all day long," she said. "I was taking more hours than he was. Unbelievable!"

Barbara recalls, with a laugh, that "we never saw each other. It was just a mass of books. It was a hectic year, but we made it."

While in Abilene, Lonnie Allsup's interest in grocery retailing surfaced.

"There was a little grocery store nearby and he'd go down and buy a loaf of bread and he'd come back and say,

"I'd really like to buy that grocery store," Barbara recalled.

But he didn't.

Instead, the couple moved to Lubbock, Texas, where Lonnie enrolled in Texas Tech. Then the Korean war started and he enlisted in the Air Force.

When discharged in Las Cruces in 1956 at the age of 23, Allsup held the rank of staff sergeant.

Barbara Allsup recalled that her husband looked into purchasing land in Las Cruces for a store, but "it was extremely expensive, like it was $200 a front foot even back then."

"We couldn't afford to buy it new and start building a store, so he found, a store for sale in Roswell," she said.

"His father cosigned the note or we wouldn't have been able to borrow the $6,500," Barbara said.

Lonnie Allsup, thinking back to that time, recalled that "my ambition was five stores. If I just had five, I think I could run five."

Today, with a goal of adding 25 stores to the chain this year, Lonnie regards building up to 12 stores in eight years as "pretty slow."

But, he adds, "it was pretty fast for me" at the time.

"After selling the 12 stores to Southland Corp., which operates 7-Eleven Stores, Allsup 'took the week off and went fishing,'" his wife recalled.

LONNIE ALLSUP

"I was still buried in paperwork, trying to close out with Southland, and he called me out with Southland, and he called me from Clovis and told me he'd bought three stores," Barbara said. "I could have killed him I never had had a day off."

Rebuilding the chain went rapidly. "Then he bought one in Portales and then we built the one here," she said, motioning toward an Allsup's Convenience Store near the company's Clovis headquarters. "We started construction right away."

"That gave us seven pretty quickly, within three months of when we sold," Barbara said.

In the convenience store field, Allsup is an innovator, willing to try new ideas in retailing.

And he usually is followed by the larger, national chains.

It was Allsup who started selling cooked foods through convenience stores and he was one of the first operators to sell gasoline - a concept he and other convenience store owners initially had pooh-poohed.

"The first time that a fellow came in here and asked me why didn't I put a set of pumps out in front of my store, I said,

"That won't work, you can't sell gasoline with groceries."

"And now I won't build a store without it," he volunteered.

It's easy to understand why, too. Allsup's Convenience Stores Inc., sells more than two million gallons of gasoline a month, he estimated.

Long hours and hard work are a reality to Lonnie and Barbara Allsup. Lonnie's ultimate goal is to "cover every town in New Mexico and every town between Clovis and Fort Worth, Texas." His short-term goal is 25 new store locations within the next 12 months.

The County Of Caring People

Once upon a time there was a small group of people who cared so much for their county that they decided to give of themselves to improve the county. This handful of concerned citizens included mothers, fathers, homemakers, school teachers, shop keepers, and farmers - young and old together.

Because the parents and grandparents of the town's first citizens had cared about the education of future generations, they filed a petition and had an election to furnish a room with books which could be freely used by all the persons of the town as well as those surrounding it. As more and more people discovered travel, biographies, history, mystery, inspiration, and aids in purchasing and constructing from the books in this room, a lady was hired by the people to guide in selecting the best books for the desired information.

Years passed and the younger people had children who wanted to try their new world of reading books. The parents became grandparents who were old and tired and whose legs could not perform without great pain the task of walking up steep steps to the room of books.

Now the County Bosses who the people had elected to control the money for the room of books had become so involved in the county's delinquents and the roads leading into the town that they no longer had time to know the bliss of relaxing in the pages of a book from the wonderful room. Since they no longer cared about the room of books, they thought others felt the same.

However, once again a small group of people did care - about the small children, the grandparents, the handicapped and others. This time the caring people decided the books should be placed in a room which all persons could visit. They discussed this with the Bosses who said, "Times are hard, and we have no money."

The caring people did not give up, though. They noticed an old building on the edge of town which had once served as a Transportation Center for the community. The Transportation Center had been abandoned for modern methods of travel, but the craftsmanship of the neglected site still stood proud behind cobwebs, weeds, and broken glass.

The caring people became excited! They went to work. The owner of the building agreed to give the building to the whole county and the Bosses of the State agreed to furnish half the money to recycle the old building. The caring people found a group who loved gardens to care for the grounds around the building. Other people in the county donated money to refurbish the building because they wanted the historic area to be preserved.

The children of the county had never used a Transportation Center, but they could go there and look at photographs and films and read of what had once been.

The skeptical County Bosses one day visited the new-old Transportation Center and at last discovered the beauty, history and community cooperation which had been preserved. They were delighted to see that the caring people had the foresight and fortitude to move the room of books.

People from all over the state began hearing about the lovely old Transportation Center with its room full of books.

Beginner Takes To Water

John Eubanks

University Daily Sports Editor
Texas Tech

With the kind of weather we have been experiencing lately, it would take a real land-lover not to want to drench himself into a cool, refreshing pool. Give me the water, anyday.

But there was a time in my life when you couldn't have paid me to get into a pool — precisely, at the age of six, on early Saturday mornings during swim lessons.

They classified the activity under the title, "SWIM LESSONS FOR BEGINNERS," but picking up pennies from the bottom of a grungy pool just wasn't my idea of learning how to swim.

And dunking my head into the water 50 times came nowhere near making my list of Top 10 activities. But I was only six, which made my number of viable options quite a bit less than the number of years of age.

"Try it again, Johnny," came the command from the Mark Spitz-look-alike. "Put your head in one more time."

"No way!" I said, gasping for air, clinging tightly to the edge of the pool, hoping my toes might discover a rock or two on which to plant my size four-and-a-halfs.

Sure, I wanted to learn how to swim, but there had to be an easier way. Like, maybe, at the beach in between the building of sand castles?

Instead of attending swim lessons, I would have rather been with my buddies, playing army, maybe even overtaking Pork Chop Hill "at whatever cost it takes," as eight-year-old Billy used to say.

I still cringe at the time it was suggested I take swim lessons. What a great idea, mom thought, after reading the ad in the paper.

BILL GRAY, Floydada Whirlwind Golfer, captured the District 4-AA Medalist title and will advance to the regional tournament to be played at Meadowbrook Country Club in Lubbock on April 24 - 25.

"The deep part, huh?" I said, as the candy cigarette dangled from the corner of my mouth; the other half of the cig being nervously chewed.

So with fingers pinching nose, I said my last ados and leaped from the poolside. Water rushed into my ears, up my nose and in my eyes. I looked for sharks. There were none.

I glanced at my toy watch. Only a few precious seconds of air remained. I had to find that penny!

"Little Sweet" Dorothy had done the procedure before me and "What a Big Boy" Roy had passed the test before her. I didn't fully understand psychology at that age, but believe me, one's ego is very well developed at age six.

I knew I couldn't come up to the surface without that one center. Suddenly, out of the corner of my right eye I spotted the treasure.

"Eagle two, this is Houston. We have you in sight. Take a 45-degree angle to your right and set her down." My hand reached down for the penny. Time was running out.

"Wait a minute, Eagle Two. We have spotted a school of barracuda off the portside. Headed your way."

I quickly picked up the penny with my thumb and forefinger and grasped it tightly into my hand. I only had one shot on my spear-gun, but I figured to "take one of them (barracuda) with me."

I began frantically swimming toward the surface. I came to the three-foot level, then the two-foot level, eventually the one-foot mark and finally...the top.

After gasping for air, my mouth formed into a huge smile. You might say, I was proud of myself. The instructor said I did okay, but he wanted me to ...

"Try it again." No way, I said and walked off with the penny toward Pork Chop Hill.

WHAT'S NEW

Electric Cart is a four-wheel, electric-powered vehicle that can be built in most home shops for about $200 to $400, says the maker. Because of its auxiliary chain drive, it can be licensed as a moped, maker claims. Top speed is about 15 mph. Plans are available from Lectran Co., Box 1648, Largo, Fla.

It's easy to see where many of our priorities are.

The children of today are looking to us for ways they can prepare for their own style of life . . . families . . . and job opportunities.

To help, we'll need more electricity. It's true, electricity will play a big role toward helping expand the job market to include these adults of tomorrow.

The modern use of electricity has contributed to a better educational system to prepare our young people for the new experiences yet to come.

Almost 10 years ago, the folks at Southwestern Public Service wanted to make sure there was enough electricity to keep today's wage earner working. They decided that the fuel used in their power plants should be coal because, coal would be more abundant and cheaper to use than the conventional fuel . . . natural gas.

Now, Southwestern Public Service has a new coal plant in operation and more on the way. Yes, coal plants will help stabilize fuel costs while providing a long-term, reliable, energy source to provide electricity.

It's good to be able to tell someone what they can depend on.

Removing Traffic Lane, Gum From Carpet

Our carpet has a noticeable traffic lane starting in the entrance hall, also a gob of chewing gum in this otherwise clean carpet. Can you help with an answer to this spring clean-up mess?

Sounds like the old winter boots and over-shoes trail. A spray or granular carpet cleaning product is recommended for the traffic lane. The granular type of cleaner for small areas is preferred.

The chewing gum can be removed by placing ice cubes in a plastic bag and laying them on the gum. After thirty minutes, remove the bag and crush the gum with a pair of pliers. If the gum is cold enough, it will shatter into small pieces. Repeat this process until most of the gum is removed. Soak a cloth with dry cleaning solvent and squeeze the soiled tufts of pile between the cloth, pulling up gently. Repeat until the stain is removed.

Every few years we paint the trim on the outside of our brick home. The front porch is paneled with wood. Before the paint has a chance to dry, gnats and other small insects stick to the surface. Is there anything we can do to repel the insects?

Wet paint has the tendency to attract all the insects in the neighborhood. It is very disturbing when you spend a lot of time in the application of the paint. Add two tablespoons of citronella oil to a gallon of paint and stir well. The scent of the citronella oil will repel most of the insects.

Mrs. Alice Ragsdale tells Bill Cosby how Red Cross helped after the flood receded.

Alice Ragsdale: "When the water came, it was like a dam broke! You can't imagine the total damage, Bill. Possessions washed away—family treasures smashed, covered with mud. It was shocking, devastating."

Bill Cosby: "How'd you know Red Cross could help?"

Alice Ragsdale: "My sister urged us to call Red Cross. We've always stood on our own two feet—asking for help isn't easy for us. But this time we had to—for our two daughters.

Red Cross helped us get emergency supplies—food, clothing, cleaning supplies; showed us how to apply for federal disaster assistance. They gave us moral support, too. That meant a lot.

It's true, Bill... sometimes we don't appreciate what we've got... until we lose it."

Bill Cosby: "That's why it's so important to keep Red Cross alive and well."

Accident Takes Life

Odell Thompson, 53, of Petersburg was killed Wednesday when he was trapped by grain while cleaning out an elevator.

Abertown Justice of the Peace Jean Marr pronounced Thompson dead at the scene and ruled the death accidental. She said the man died of suffocation.

Hale County deputy sheriff Tommy Thompson said that Thompson and several other employees were scooping out grain that had clogged up at the bottom of an elevator, at Heard Elevator, when the accident occurred. Thompson was trapped by hundreds of pounds of grain which suddenly fell on him, the deputy said.

The accident reportedly occurred about 3 p.m., and it took several fellow employees about three hours to dig the victim out.

Services for Thompson were at 2 p.m. Thursday in the First United Methodist Church.

The Rev. Bob Brown, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, officiated and Jim Fullingim of Petersburg assisted.

Burial was in Petersburg Cemetery under the direction of Lemons Funeral Home in Plainview.

He was born in Petersburg, grew up in the Petersburg area and had attended school at Lakeside. Thompson had been employed by Heard Elevator since 1944.

Thompson attended the First United Methodist Church here and was a member of the Petersburg Masonic Lodge.

He married Dorothy Anderson Aug. 4, 1950, in Littlefield.

Survivors include his wife; a daughter, Vanda Collins of Petersburg; a son, Ryan of Lubbock; four brothers, Bud, J.C., Coy and Donald, all of Petersburg; and three sisters, Mrs. H.G. (Lucille) Oden of Earth, Mrs. H.G. (Laura) Smith and Betty Motley, both of Petersburg.

He was the brother-in-law of Floyd, Otis and Louis Anderson, all of Floydada.

Nature Gives Clues

Scientists at the University of Texas' vast cancer research complex here have found inside each cell a "micro-dot" where nature has hidden a secret message that tells when cancer occurs.

Dr. Potu N. Rao, Professor of Cell Biology and Chief of Cellular Pharmacology at M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute, and his colleague, Dr. Frances Davis, have discovered a method of "reading" an antibody message originating in the nucleolus, a little-known speck in the nucleus of every cell.

When the microscopic ovals — measuring about 15 one-thousandths of an inch across — were isolated from cancer cells, they were found to be biochemically different from normal cell nucleoli.

The "micro-dot's" or nucleolus' message was "read" by interpreting a built-in antibody reaction. This testing method was created by injecting the nucleoli from cancer cells into animals to produce antibodies. Their reaction was compared with an antibody reaction produced by normal placenta cells. A technique was used, treating the cells so those giving positive reaction would fluoresce.

So far the investigators have looked at 60 different kinds of tumor cells and all showed reactions, indicating that each nucleolus was different from that of a normal cell. The distinguishing antigen has been called TANA, for "tumor associated nucleolar antigen."

Three goals have emerged from the preliminary discoveries. First is a method of using the TANA test on bone marrow cells of leukemia patients to reveal progress of treatment and perhaps predict relapse.

The second goal, a long term one, is development of a possible blood test for cancer, if present evidence is confirmed that circulating blood cells of patients with early cancer contain altered nucleoli.

A third objective is to discover the genetic control of a changed nucleolus. An ultimate solution to the cancer problem is knowing and manipulating the genes that "order" the malignant change.

CARDS OF THANKS

Words aren't adequate to express our appreciation for all your kindness and sympathy shown to us during the loss of our loved one. The prayers, food, flowers, cards and money were greatly appreciated. A very special thanks to Fr. Joe Bixenman for the beautiful service and to the church choir for the lovely music. Also we would like to thank Edell Moore and Alton Rose for all their help in making our time of sorrow so much easier.
