Reagan may call spending commission

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Reagan administration is increasingly likely to call for a special commission to deal with the sticky problem of the government's red-ink spending, officials said Friday.

President Reagan had not yet made a final decision on the proposal, according to several officials, who would only talk on condition they not be identified.

But, one high-level official said, "I think it is likely" such a commission will be proposed to offer suggestions on trimming back the deficits, now running close to the $200 billion mark.

Said another, "It certainly has a chance."

Specific details on the plan, they said, were still to be worked out.

Reagan has turned to blue-ribbon commissions to resolve other difficult problems in his administration, such as MX missile basing, Social Security solvency and most recently a policy for Central America.

Reagan, speaking at a lunch with Republican women, said he would address the problem of huge deficits in his State of the Union speech.

"We will be talking about our program for the future, and the deficits, and how to control them. And I think the deficits are caused because the government is taking too big a share out of the general — or the gross national product — out of the private economy. And government has got to be cut back to size," he said.

Marlin Fitzwater, a White House spokesman, said the commission idea "is just one of the options. We won't comment on specific decisions until the budget comes out."

The proposal for setting up a special panel has come up in administration discussions on how to fashion the budget plan the president will submit to Congress on Feb. 1.

Some administration officials have urged Reagan to incorporate a major tax plan into the budget package as a way of significantly paring the deficits in future years.

But officials said Reagan appears to be leaning against following that advice.

One said it's likely the budget plan will contain "nothing that'll be identified as a tax package designed to reduce deficits."

Even so, some officials projected that the deficits could fall to the range of $120 billion to $150 billion toward the end of the decade with the spending cuts and tax reform measures the administration was expected to propose in the upcoming budget. The red ink reached a record $195.4 billion in the fiscal year that ended on Sept. 30.

Proposing a commission to deal with the budget problem would let the president sidestep any decisions on the troublesome deficits until after the 1984 elections.

Some in the administration, though, were uncomfortable with that proposal precisely because it would delay actions.

'Land grab' not Midland-Odessa conflict, lawyer says

By HALLYE JORDAN
Staff Writer

AUSTIN — Referred to as a "gigantic land grab," the requested annexation of 4,000 acres of Midland county into Odessa's school district is not another conflict between the two cities, contended an Odessa attorney during a Texas Education Agency hearing here Friday.

Richard Bonner, representing Midland county residents trying to switch school districts, told TEA hearing officer Mark Robinette, "If this is a conflict between anyone, it's between (the Midland county and school district) and their constituents. The petitioners in the case are not Ector County Independent School District trustees or Ector County Commissioners. This is not a case of ECISD against MISD. Any attempts to cast that controversy into that light only stem from an attempt to make the issue more emotional or blurred."

The hearing, which followed a two-year effort begun by a housewife who lives in the far west Midland County Ridgewood Subdivision, is to be ruled on by Robinette. He is expected to make a recommendation to State Commissioner of Education Raymond Bynum in about two weeks.

Jean Berridge's children were among 67 students living in the area who were attending the closer Odessa schools on a transfer basis. When ECISD trustees decided in spring 1982 to charge a $1,260 tuition fee to out-of-district students, she and other residents asked MISD to pay the tuition. MISD trustees refused and the issue began.

"WHAT I THINK this is is only a group of Midland County residents who want their children to go to a different school district," Bonner said, citing most of the residents consider themselves as Odessans because they work and shop in Odessa.

Initially, the 67 students transferred to ECISD while 11 attended Midland schools via district-provided busing. During this year, the number of students attending Odessa schools dropped to 42. ECISD has not charged tuition, pending the outcome of the residents' case.

Following Sec. 19.261 of the Texas Education Code, the residents presented a petition signed by the majority of qualified voters in the area to detach from MISD and annex into ECISD. It was approved by ECISD trustees and Ector County Commissioners last spring, but rejected by Midland County Commissioners in June. It never was formally presented to MISD trustees.

The area being considered for annexation includes the 125 acres of Ridgewood Subdivision and 16 acres of a trailer park. To meet "contiguous" specifications required by Sec. 19.261, some 4,000 acres of uninhabited land — consisting of Odessa Country Club and 2,000 acres of land being developed by HBF Corp. as Mission Dorado Estates — are included in the request.

UNDER QUESTIONING, Bonner admitted the contiguous requirement set in Sec. 19.261 would be met if the 2,000 acres of Mission Dorado were excluded from the request.

Robinette questioned why uninhabited land was included in the annexation request, citing the possibility of recurring requests from residents moving in who perhaps would want to attend Midland schools.

Skeleton of infant found in black box

GRANBURY (AP) — The dismembered skeleton of an infant, locked inside a black box, was transported to Texas by a devil-worshipping teen-ager who believed "the soul of the baby was in him," an investigator said Friday.

Hood County Sheriff Edwin Tomlinson said the baby's body was found Thursday by deputies searching for drugs in a rural house occupied by 19-year-old twins, their father and 29-year-old stepmother.

"The only remains was the top part of the skull with the hair on it, the ribs, one foot, and one hand and a bunch of bones," Tomlinson said.

The sheriff said the family was being held at the Hood County Jail on felony charges of marijuana possession.

Charged are Patricia Marie Newsome, 29, and Timothy and James Newsome, both 19. Bond for each was set at $3,000. Tomlinson said the three are also being held for investigation of homicide and possession of stolen weapons.

Tomlinson said the father, Clyde Newsome, was reportedly in the Fort Worth area "either working at a hospital or in a hospital." He was being sought for questioning and had not been arrested or charged Friday afternoon.

Parents cope with loss of son from AIDS

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Three-year-old Sammy Kushnick had everything a little boy could want: an adoring mother and father, a twin sister named Sara, a sprawling home in the Hollywood Hills and the latest in playthings.

He also had something not mentioned in his parents' child-rearing manuals: the disease AIDS, which killed him last October.

"The hardest part was taking the bunk beds apart...and explaining it all to Sara," said his grieving father, Jerry Kushnick. "We had a life before Sammy and Sara; Sara never had a life without Sam."

As Kushnick and his wife Helen tried to cope with their child's death, they also had to deal with a panicked community, fears of their own that Sara might also have AIDS, and stonewalling by authorities when they tried to find the cause of their son's disease.

AIDS — acquired immune deficiency syndrome — is a disorder that leaves the body prey to infection and has struck at least 3,000 Americans, killing more than 1,200 of them. It has been linked to homosexuals, Haitians, intravenous drug use and blood transfusions.

Because Sammy and Sara were born two months prematurely, both received blood transfusions at Cedars-Sinai Medical Center — something their parents did not know at the time.

For two years, Sammy was fine. Then he started falling behind Sara in height and weight. He seemed constantly to have a cold, a runny nose, an ear infection, a high fever, a distended stomach, diarrhea and other ailments.

Elderly man freezes to death going for help for his friends

WESTFIR, Ore. (AP) — Four friends from a retirement complex got stuck in a snowdrift while taking a drive, and one man who walked for help froze to death while the others spent the night in the car, praying and "talking about old times."

The next morning one of the women, hobbled by arthritis, marched five miles from the stranded car, passing her companion's body, before finding help.

"I just kept praying, 'God send me somebody,' because I knew I would never make it to Westfir alive," said Pauline Treadaway, 63.

Alfred Dirkes, 65, and his brother Norbert, 83, were neighbors to widows Mrs. Treadaway and Emma Chambers, 82. All four lived in a Springfield retirement complex, 40 miles from Westfir. They played pinochle together and went for drives in Alfred Dirkes' Oldsmobile.

On a drive last Sunday afternoon, 32 miles from Westfir, the nearest town, Dirkes' car got stuck in a two-to-three feet drift.

"We worked frantically until about 8 (p.m.) trying to get out, with nothing to dig with but a screwdriver and my cane," Mrs. Treadaway said.

At 8 p.m., Alfred decided to walk for help.

"We begged him not to go," Mrs. Chambers said.

"Told him how impossible it was," Mrs. Treadaway added. "I said, 'If you'll wait until daylight, you'll have all day to walk out.'"

Alfred was adamant. He left, wearing only a light jacket.

"We knew when that man walked off that he would die," Mrs. Treadaway said. "I don't think he realized how far it was."

The temperature dropped below freezing. The remaining three stayed awake, occasionally starting the car's engine to run the heater.

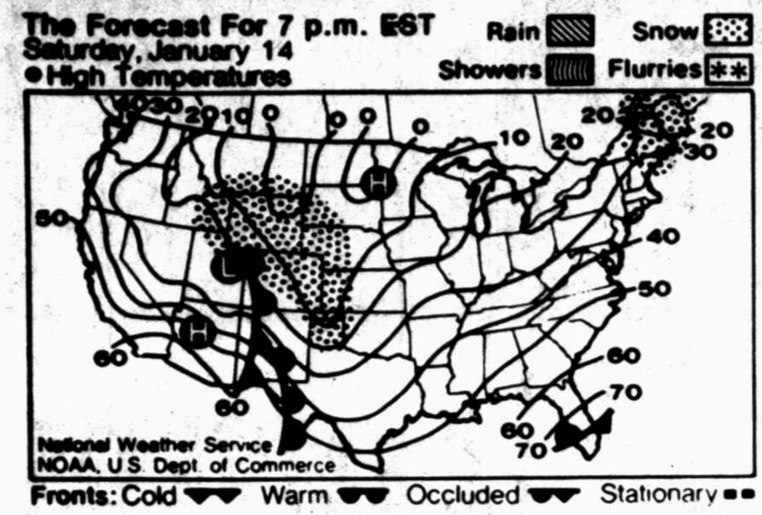
WEATHER SUMMARY



AP Laserphoto Map

The National Weather Service forecasts snow for today for parts of Maine and New Hampshire and from Texas and Oklahoma to Idaho, Montana and South Dakota.

Inch of snow forecast for Midland

Midlanders can expect to see an inch of snow on their lawns today, according to the National Weather Service at Midland Regional Airport.

There is a 40 percent chance of the white fluffy precipitation with accumulations of nearly an inch. Snowmen will be preserved by chilly temperatures through the weekend.

Today should be cold with highs in the low 30s and easterly winds of 5 to 15 mph. Tonight and Sunday are expected to have lows in the upper teens and highs in the low 30s.

Friday's high of 40 was 39 degrees below the record 79 set in 1953. The overnight low of 28 was still 22 degrees warmer than the low of 6 recorded in 1972.

'Land grab' not cities' conflict, lawyer says

"The part that bothers me is the people in the 461 acres want to take 4,000 acres with them," Robinette said. "Don't we run a risk of a ping-pong game?"

"I can't say people won't have an opportunity in the future to do exactly what they want to do," Bonner said of requests to annex back into MISD. "So, yes, there is a latent risk."

According to Charles Tighe, attorney representing MISD, the request involving the uninhabited land is a "gigantic land grab," and an "invasion."

"You can warp and force Sec. 19.261," Tighe said. "There is absolutely no rational relationship between the territory they seek to attain and the residents that live there."

MISD trustees estimated an immediate loss of $17 million from the tax roll with the figure to increase once Mission Dorado is developed. According to HBF Corp. President Larry Bell last May, the property, which was annexed into the Odessa city limits in October 1982, would develop more quickly if the annexation into ECISD is approved.

Because the boundaries of Ector County and ECISD were set forth in House Bill 59 during the 37th Legislature (1921), Tighe maintains an expansion determined by any other court is prohibited. Bonner said he discovered 754 cases of school district boundary changes and argued the code was made so that citizens would have a voice in determining where their children go to school.

BECAUSE THE LAND in question involves two counties, approval must be granted by both counties, Tighe said.

According to Education Commissioner Bynum in April 1983, "Any time there is land involved where the end result goes over the county line, it must be passed by both."

Robinette is not so sure.

According to a decision passed down Sept. 7 by hearing officer Judy Underwood, consent by the county from which land is being taken is not a prerequisite, Robinette said.

Bynum is expected to rule on the case, Comal ISD vs. Bexar County Commissioners Court, within two weeks. Robinette said that ruling probably will effect his decision.

He added, however, he plans to make his decision as soon as transcripts of Friday's hearing are received, whether or not Bynum has made his decision.

Parents coping with loss of son from AIDS

Repeated visits to the doctor led to the same diagnoses: common childhood maladies.

"You can't believe there is anything else wrong," Kushnick, 52, said in an interview published Friday.

"And you certainly don't think a child is going to die," added Mrs. Kushnick, 38.

On Sept. 25, Sammy was hospitalized; 19 days later he died. A lung biopsy confirmed that he was suffering from an unusual pneumonia associated with AIDS.

When the Kushnicks tried to get assurances that the blood given to both Sammy and Sara had been traced and tested, they ran into a dead end.

"The more I think about the way we were stonewalled, first as Sammy lay dying and then afterwards as well, the angrier I get," said Kushnick, an attorney who with his wife runs a theatrical management company in West Hollywood.

Citing obligations of confidentiality, they said, the hospital, the county Department of Health Services, the Red Cross and the national Centers for Disease Control declined to provide them with information.

The hospital declined comment on the case, but Shirley Fanin, associate deputy director of Los Angeles County's communicable diseases control program, said her department traced the 13 donors from whom Sammy received blood.

She said only one, a homosexual, fell into a high-risk category and Sara had not received blood from that donor. The man had been interviewed about the matter and appears healthy, Ms. Fanin said.

As Sammy lay dying, word that he had AIDS spread among parents at Temple Emanuel in Beverly Hills, where Sara had been attending nursery school for about three weeks.

Although the school received assurances from Cedars-Sinai doctors and county health officials that blood tests showed Sara did not carry the disease, the Kushnicks said they were told that if they insisted on sending Sara to school, she would be isolated from other pupils. She now attends another school.

"The community just went berserk," Ms. Fanin said of Sara's treatment.

Rabbi Meyer Heller of Temple Emanuel denied that Sara was asked to leave. He said the Kushnicks were asked to hold her out "until the matter — as to the donors and her vulnerability — was clarified."

He said the temple was in danger of losing its nursery school because fearful parents threatened to withdraw their children.

General buried with full military honors

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Maj. Gen. Robert Ownby was buried with full military honors Friday, across the street from where his body was found hanged Wednesday.

About 3,000 people filled the sanctuary of Trinity Baptist Church to hear the Rev. Buckner Fanning touch on the mystery surrounding the death of the 48-year-old, two-star general whose reserve command covered much of Texas.

The FBI has said suicide has not been ruled out although a note attached to the body said he was executed for "crimes by the U.S. Army."

The body was taken from the church to a small grassy common area in the midst of white markers erected in memory of other fallen soldiers at Fort Sam Houston National Cemetery.

About 750 mourners, including many high-ranking military officers, stood under cold gray skies in a brisk northerly wind as a 13-round salute was fired from a Howitzer, each ear-splitting round eight seconds apart.

Elderly man freezes to death

"We did a lot of praying all night," Mrs. Chambers said. "We talked about old times and everything. We'd encourage one another. We had to keep talking to Norbert to keep him from crying, because he was sure something had happened to Alfred."

None of the three was familiar with the car and they ran down the battery. There was no heat after about 4 a.m.

At 8 a.m. Monday, Mrs. Treadaway decided to walk for help.

"They begged me not to go, but I told 'em there was no choice," she said. "Because we could've set up there for a week — and we couldn't have lived for a week."

Mrs. Chambers didn't have her high blood pressure medicine. Norbert Dirkes is a stroke victim with heart trouble. Mrs. Treadaway has arthritis and diabetes. She had insulin with her, but couldn't take it without food. The group had none.

With a sweater for warmth and a plastic bag tied around her head for protection, Mrs. Treadaway started walking, using her cane.

She found Alfred Dirkes' body about three miles down the road.

"I knew he was going to be dead, because he had been there too long," she said. "I took his pulse, I called to him, I shook him, but his face was blue.

"Then I just kept walking," she said. "I kept praying so hard, 'God send me somebody,' because I knew I would never make it to Westfir alive."

After about five miles, Mrs. Treadaway saw a pickup.

Inside was Gordon Peterson of Eugene, an estimator for Portable Rock Production Co. Inc., which worked on the road last summer. He had been checking on storm damage and found a side road to a rock pit blocked by fallen trees.

Dismembered infant's skeleton found in box

Sheriff's investigator Larry Carter said one of the twins, Timothy, said he took the infant's body after a party at a devil cult's house in Lake Station, Ind.

"He said a friend showed him the body and dared him to take it with him, and he said he took it (the body) with him. It is missing a foot and hand," Carter said. "He said the friend who showed him the body broke a hand and took it with him.

"He said one of the reasons he took it (the body) with him is that he felt like the soul of the baby was in him."

The sheriff said it was difficult to verify whether the youth was telling the truth about being a devil worshipper, and he said the family was given a lie detector test.

Tomlinson said a minister brought to the jail said the boy appeared to be practicing witchcraft while in his cell.

"He stuck a paper clip into one side of his arm and out the back of his arm and then he twisted it around a bunch of times," Tomlinson said. "She (the minister) said 'Don't you know that's witchcraft stuff?' "

Tomlinson said the family had been scattered around the country before moving near Granbury, a community about 40 miles southwest of Fort Worth. He said that last August, one of the twins lived in Missouri and the parents in Wisconsin.

The sheriff said 14 rifles, shotguns and 1.5 pounds of marijuana and pills were found at the house. Tomlinson identified the pills as "uppers and downers" and he said many of the rifles were stolen in Decatur, Texas.

The infant's remains were sent to the Southwest Institute of Forensic Sciences in Dallas for examination.

"We don't know what sex it is. I don't think you can ever find out. There was nothing left of it," said detective Mike Stanley.

Officials estimated that the child was about 2 months old.

"The little skull had been cut evenly all around the head, and the hair — a little redhead — had been cut evenly and then the scalp rested on the skull," said Chief Deputy Doug Johnson said.

The investigation started as a drug raid, Carter said.

"We knew the stuff was there and we knew where to look. After we got it, we saw this little black box just sitting outside," Carter said.

The box was covered with black cloth and fastened with a latch.

Tomlinson said there was no evidence that the body had been buried. He said the guns were found in a two-wheel camper trailer covered with a blanket.

"Their statement was they were fixing to take (the guns) to Mexico to get drugs," he said.

Reagan likely to call on spending commission

"We think it puts the president in a weak position of not demonstrating leadership" in trying to bring government spending under control, said one official.

"We don't think deferring action to a commission would help politically or substantively," he said.

Still, he said participants in the nation's financial markets generally believe there won't be any action to substantially restrain government spending until after the election. As a result, the lack of a major deficit-reduction package wouldn't be considered disruptive on the markets.

With no final decision on the commission itself, questions remained over the possible makeup, timing and direction of any panel.

Questions said to be under discussion were:

—Whether to limit the panel to examining ways to reduce the level of government spending and putting tax hikes out of bounds. That, however, would seem to overlap an 18-month study a group of business executives just completed that suggested government savings of $424.4 billion over three years. The group's blueprint will be formally presented to Reagan on Monday.

—Whether to have a commission with a broad mandate to look at both the tax and spending sides of the budget, although maybe restricted to proposing tax increases no greater than spending reductions. A vague number could also be inserted in the upcoming fiscal package for the assumed amount of savings or revenues that might be proposed by a panel for future years.

—Whether the panel would be bipartisan and include members of Congress or be limited to people outside government.

—When such a panel would be asked to report its conclusions back to the president. Several officials considered a likely date would be December 1984 or sometime in 1985.

The upcoming budget plan is expected to call for a series of spending cuts and tax reform measures that would leave a projected deficit of around $180 billion in the fiscal year that starts on Oct. 1. The deficit for the current fiscal year is projected at $179.7 billion.

The tax reform measures would probably include, according to officials, plans for requiring employees to pay taxes on certain health insurance premiums paid by their employers and for lifting tax benefits from cities and colleges that sell some of their buildings and property and then lease them back.

Some fresh measures to tighten compliance with tax laws also was considered possible for inclusion in the budget package.

Tests for EDB in area wells negative

Austin Bureau

AUSTIN — Tests made by the Texas Department of Health of wells in Monahans and Coyanosa for traces of the fumigant ethylene dibromde (EDB) turned up negative, a department spokesman says.

TDH took water samples from more than 20 wells across the state this week because of growing public concern over the presence of EDB — a chemical linked to cancer in laboratory tests of animals.

The tests were capable of detecting the chemical to levels of one part per billion, which spokesman Bill Cryer said is equivalent to a drop of water in a 10,000-gallon tank.

"We routinely test water to make sure it is safe to drink," said Dr. Robert Bernstein, State Commissioner of Health. "If we find any significant amounts of EDB or any other harmful substance we will take immediate corrective action. We would do so under any circumstance."

The water samples tested this week were from groundwater supplies, since EDB is a volatile chemical and would probably evaporate from surface water, according to the TDH. Tests conducted last year on 100 water samples also showed no trace of EDB.

However, low levels of EDB were found in food samples taken from groceries and food processors in Austin, Houston and Dallas. Of the 81 products tested by TDH, 20 showed trace amounts of EDB. The highest level, 137 parts per billion, was found in Pioneer White Corn Meal.

Additional tests were conducted to determine how baking affects grain products with EDB. One test showed 94.2 percent of the chemical dissipated during baking.

The TDH is continuing tests on food products. "We are investigating the situation and when we determine what the harmful level of EDB is, we will act quickly," Bernstein said.

Temple: State's part of settlement worth less

AUSTIN (AP) — The oil and gas that officials thought would bring the state $100 million as part of an out-of-court settlement with Mobil Oil Corp. appears to be worth much less, Railroad Commissioner Buddy Temple says.

When the settlement was announced last week, Land Commissioner Garry Mauro and Attorney General Jim Mattox said it would mean $100 million for the state and $400 million for South Texas rancher Clinton Manges over the next decade.

When asked to figure the state share of oil and gas production from the deal, Temple told the Austin American-Statesman on Thursday it would be $2.5 million or less a year, based on 1983 production.

However, Mauro insisted that the South Texas land has a minimum of six million barrels of oil and "will produce $165 million at today's prices over the next 30 years."

In the settlement, Mobil relinquished rights to producing wells on a 64,646-acre tract of the Duval County Ranch Co., including 14,720 acres on which the state and Manges split oil royalties. Mobil retained a 1/64th interest in production on Manges' share of the property, but not on the state share.

The settlement among the state, Manges and Mobil was blocked in late December by Exxon Corp. because it had not been consulted on the preservation of its rights. Early this month Exxon agreed to step aside and let Mobil make a deal with the state and Manges, with the stipulation that Exxon could negotiate or litigate its position later.

Jack Giberson, chief clerk of the General Land Office, says, however, Shearson-American Express Inc. has withdrawn the line of credit that was to have guaranteed the state's proceeds in the Mobil settlement.

Lawyer wants trial for drownings settlement

WACO (AP) — An attorney dissatisfied with an out-of-court settlement reached on the drowning deaths of three black teen-agers wants to to go trial, even though a federal judge has denied that request.

U.S. District Judge Lucius Bunton ruled Thursday that a settlement was reached by attorneys for the parents of the three youths, who drowned in 1981 at Juneteenth celebration at Lake Mexia.

Bunton said the agreement was reaced during a closed-door session on Sept. 26, but an attorney said the agreement was never official.

"We reached a tentative agreement, but did not receive the papers or sign the papers, and therefore, we have not reached a (formal) settlement," said Lana Johnson, who represents Belvin Lawrence Baker, father of drowning victim Carl Baker.

"It was the court's clear understanding — and the defendants' as well, to the best of the court's knowledge — that the dispute between the two Baker plaintiffs would have no effect on the settlement of the case in its entirety," Bunton wrote in his order.

Ms. Johnson said she would ask an appeals court to grant a trial between the family and all but one of the original defendants.

"We are entitled to a trial. We have a right to a trial. It's a constitutional guarantee."

Baker, 19, and Anthony Freeman, 18, both of Mexia, and Steve Booker, 19, of Dallas, drowned after they were arrested for alleged marijuana possession and hustled into a Parks & Wildlife boat, which capsized shortly after leaving shore with the youths and three officials.

Attorneys for both sides have said that the three families would split about $200,000 equally under the accord.

The three families originally sought $4 million each from the defendants.

Democratic presidential candidates prepare for debate

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Some relaxed, some faced practice questions from staff members, others studied statistics or sharpened one-liners. In one way or another, all eight Democratic presidential aspirants were getting ready Friday for Sunday's nationally televised debate.

For Walter Mondale and John Glenn, the perceived front-runners, a successful appearance at the Dartmouth College forum may mean simply not making mistakes.

For the others the national spotlight is a chance to make a lasting impression that will elevate them above the pack.

"I think Mondale will be the cautious front-runner, but I think Glenn can't afford to be cautious. He is not that much of a front-runner anymore," said James Bacchus, press secretary for former Florida Gov. Reubin Askew.

"I don't see how we can lose at all from the exposure it will give us," Bacchus said. Askew's campaign thinks that "perhaps the best way to prepare for the debate is not to prepare at all" and just be ready to participate in the discussion, he said.

Glenn's campaign staff said the Ohio senator will spend this evening and Sunday briefing himself in his hotel room.

Ernest Hollings has had a series of briefings this week "trying to think of all of the questions that might come up and trying to anticipate what the other candidates might say," said Michael Hartnett, the South Carolina senator's New Hampshire press secretary.

nation

Ted Koppel, ABC anchorman, and talk show host Phil Donahue are moderating the three-hour session.

Sen. Gary Hart of Colorado is "very up on the issues" so his preparation concentrates on "how best to articulate his message in each of the answers," said Kathy Bushkin, national press secretary.

"He is meeting with small groups of advisers more to talk about the debate...and say 'Here is the way to come at this particular issue, how to crystalize your answer on that."

Vice President Walter Mondale, who accepted the debate invitation late because of concerns about the free-wheeling format, is not approaching the forum wondering "what we have to lose," but thinking his debate and forum experience help him "come out ahead," said deputy national press secretary Dayton Duncan.

John Russonello, Alan Cranston's national press secretary, said, "There is not a whole lot of preparation that goes into this. It's more of a three-hour discussion" which will test "how well these guys think on their feet."

He said Cranston will prepare for a couple of hours Sunday but "the best preparation is campaigning and Cranston has been doing a lot of that."

Jesse Jackson will prepare tonight and Sunday morning, said aide Frank Watkins.

"I don't know anybody who is as good at utilizing TV," he said. "I think he knows more about TV than some of the consultants who are advising the other candidates...Rather than spending our preparation time on coaching for TV, we will be working on substantive issues," he said.

George McGovern is "kind of relaxing tonight and his schedule Sunday is not too strenuous," said Robert Woodland, the former South Dakota senator's state campaign chairman.

Family of man killed by robot to get $15 million

DETROIT (AP) — The family of an auto worker killed by a malfunctioning industrial robot in 1979 will receive $15 million from Litton Industries, the family's attorney said.

The widow, three children, mother and five sisters of Robert Williams, 25, of Dearborn Heights, Mich., will share in the settlement, approved last week by Wayne County Circuit Judge Charles Kaufman, attorney Paul Rosen said Thursday.

Williams died when a protruding arm of an industrial robot built by Unit Handling Systems, a Litton division, struck him in the head while he was working at Ford Motor Co.'s Flat Rock casting plant.

Sandra Williams, the victim's widow, will get $2 million immediately and $10,000 a month up to a total of $2 million or until her death, Rosen said.

Williams' mother and each of his five sisters will get cash payments of between $100,000 and $200,000. His three children — now aged 5 through 8 — will get regular payments ranging from $25,000 and $500,000 while they are between the ages of 18 and 60, Rosen said.

Lottery jackpot $9.6 million U.S.

TORONTO (AP) — Canadians by the millions have succumbed to lottery fever, waiting breathlessly for today draw for the biggest prize ever in North America.

Across the border, Americans have run into legal problems trying to get in on the jackpot. But the winning ticket may unwittingly have gone to Uncle Sam himself.

By Friday morning, nearly 54 million tickets in Canada's national lottery had been sold at $1 each — the equivalent of 80 cents.

At stake is a grand prize estimated at $12 million Canadian — $9.6 million U.S. — which could grow still larger before ticket sales end this afternoon. The drawing will be televised coast-to-coast.

The jackpot is swelling because for six weeks in a row no one has picked the right set of six numbers. Odds against any one ticket winning are 14 million to one.

For a Canadian, there is no tax on the payoff. But if an American citizen wins, the Internal Revenue Service will claim nearly half the bonanza.

Americans looking to get rich quick have run into problems. U.S. customs agents have been confiscating tickets at the border, enforcing a law forbidding importation of any foreign lottery tickets.

The front page of Friday's Toronto Star bemoaned the prospect that the winning ticket "may already have been minced in a United States customs shredder."

Even worse was the prospect that the winning ticket might be seized and not shredded. One customs official was quoted as saying the winnings would then go to the U.S. Treasury.

A columnist in the Star, John Miller, suggested the prize has grown so large that "it would be stepping out of character for a Canadian to be so obvious as to scoop it."

Miller credited what he called a national tendency toward guilt and conformity in explaining why none of the 38 million tickets sold last week was a winner.

"Such a margin of error is unsurpassed in world history, and probably explains why our forebears decided to set up shop here, in a frigid northern climate well off the major airline routes," he wrote.

Feelings are running so high that some government officials are talking about putting a $5 million cap on any future lotteries.

Ontario Recreation Minister Reuben Baetz said the huge payoff was creating "undue frenzy and mania" and said he would propose a lid. The lottery is run by the 10 Canadian provinces.

Less than half the amount wagered in the lottery goes to prizes, with the rest covering administrative expenses and providing comfortable revenues to the provinces. Some earmark their lottery earnings for such special causes as recreation and culture.

Lightening tears through airliner

MOSCOW (AP) — A ball of lightning roared through the passenger lounge of a Soviet airliner and "flew above the heads of the stunned passengers" then disappeared out the tail section, the Soviet news agency Tass said Friday.

No one was injured in the incident, but radar and other equipment aboard the plane was damaged by the "visiting fireball," which left two holes in the plane, Tass said.

The brief account did not say when the lightning struck the aircraft. A spokesman for the news agency told The Associated Press in a telephone interview that the incident took place early this week.

The plane's pilots reported the lightning strike to the Geophysical Observatory of Leningrad.

The Tass statement said the plane took off in good weather from the town of Sochi on the Black Sea. Soon after takeoff, thunderclouds were spotted about 60 miles from the craft's flight path.

"Suddenly, at the height of 1,200 yards, a fireball about four inches in diameter appeared on the fuselage in front of the crew's cockpit. It disappeared with a deafening noise, but reemerged several seconds later in the passenger's lounge, after piercing in an uncanny way through the air-tight metal wall," Tass said.

Your horoscope

By JEANE DIXON

Sunday, January 15, 1984

YOUR BIRTHDAY TODAY: This was the birthdate of slain civil rights leader, the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., Aristotle Onassis and Egyptian leader Gamal Abdel Nasser. Also sharing your birthday: drummer Gene Krupa, actor Lloyd Bridges, Senate Minority Leader Robert Byrd (D-W.Va.) and California Angels second baseman Bobby Grich. Friends are the best channel to a super new job. Be more aggressive in pursuing your goals. A physical fitness program brings wonderful results. Business success comes when you update an old idea for today's market. Protest unequal treatment at work and you receive more money. Romance is back on track again. Your attentiveness keeps mate happy.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): An active day lies ahead. Mate has more things planned than you want to think about. Romance is a mixed blessing. You need to rest up for the coming work week.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): An older individual has valuable information. You would be wise to consider it. An improvement in your finances makes this a relaxing day. Dine with someone special tonight.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Finish what you start today or you will have to deal with a very emotional neighbor. Affection and understanding bring a family member back into the fold. Make whatever concessions you can.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Stand up for your ideas. They are worth fighting for. Your social life improves when you reach out to some newcomers. Entertaining at home appeals to those you want to impress.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Family harmony depends on you listening to more than one point of view. Keep expenses down. Short trips are favored over long ones. A change of scenery revitalizes romance.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Do not lose track of an old friend or neighbor. A phone call brings back wonderful memories. Romance takes on a new dimension. Be subtle. A self-improvement project begins to pay off.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): A special outing boosts your spirits. Resist that urge to splurge. Instant rapport with an attractive stranger makes you stop and think. The romantic possibilities are terrific! Bide your time.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): A good day for visiting friends and relatives. Avoid talking about money lest someone begin sniping. The evening brings news of a romantic nature. Overseas travel is a real possibility.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Newspaper ads reinforce a desire to seek new employment. You notice a lack of stability in some of your personal relationships. Entertaining at home proves very rewarding. Invite a sibling.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You will have to be firmer about the family budget. A low-key approach will bring the best results. A love relationship can be salvaged if you expend more energy.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): A social event introduces you to a charming newcomer of the opposite sex. A communications mix-up could lead to strained relations. Be candid. Honesty helps you straighten things out.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): An excellent time to visit friends in a nearby city. A community project puts you in the spotlight. You receive a special award.

BBC shows scheduled for Mobil

NEW YORK (AP) — Production of "Mountbatten: The Last Viceroy," set in post-World War II India, is scheduled to begin in June, and the six-part, British-made miniseries will be broadcast here on the syndicated Mobil Showcase Network in 1986.

A separate, 15-hour production dramatizing the period of Indian history before the war, "Jewel in the Crown," will premiere in this country in 1985 as part of Mobil Corp.'s "Masterpiece Theater" on public TV.

At the same time, Herbert Schmertz, Mobil's vice president for public affairs, says agreement is near on acquisition of at least 17 hours of British roadcasting Corp. programming a year, for three years.

The negotiations, Schmertz says, involve WGBH, the public TV station in Boston and Mobil's partner in the "Masterpiece Theater" and "Mystery!" series, and Lionheart Television International, the BBC's representative in this country.

SCHMERTZ says he also is talking with trustees of the estate of Dorothy L. Sayers for TV rights to three of the British mystery novelist's stories, "Strong Poison," "Have His Carcass" and "Gaudy Night." Four of Miss Sayers' novels were "Masterpiece Theater" series in the 1970s.

Also in the works, tentatively scheduled for the 1985-86 season, is a 13-part adaptation of the stories of Sherlock Holmes, with Jeremy Brett in the lead role.

Mobil's program inventory, Schmertz says, now includes about 220 hours of shows, and the coming half-year may be one of the most active in the company's history. A sampling:

"REILLY: Ace of Spies" is the leadoff show in the "Mystery!" season starting Jan. 19, with Sir Laurence Olivier in "King Lear" scheduled for the Showcase Network Jan. 25. "Masterpiece Theater," now showing A.J. Cronin's "The Citadel," continues with "Irish R.M." beginning Jan. 29.

Joel Grey stars March 21 in "Yeoman of the Guard," the first of four Gilbert & Sullivan operettas that Mobil will bring to public TV in 1984, with John Mortimer's "A Voyage Round My Father" scheduled for the Showcase Network on April 19.

And Leo McKern will return as Mortimer's "Rumpole of the Bailey" in new episodes for "Mystery!" starting Oct. 11 with a two-hour special, "Rumpole's Return."

"Jewel in the Crown," based on Paul Scott's critically acclaimed "Raj Quartet" novels, is "among the four or five top shows we've ever done," says Schmertz, who is largely responsible for selecting programs for Mobil-sponsored series.

HE LISTS "Nicholas Nickelby," (Showcase Network, January 1983), "Churchill and the Wilderness Years" ("Masterpiece Theater" starting in January 1982), and "Edward the King" (Showcase Network, beginning in January 1979) among his personal favorites.

Mobil has been the major importer of quality British television since the late 1960s ("Masterpiece Theater" premiered in '69), and over the years, many of the most popular programs came from the BBC.

Schmertz, however, frequently goes to other sources in the United Kingdom for shows — "Upstairs, Downstairs," one of the best-known Mobil imports, was from London Weekend Television — and that is the case with the two miniseries on Indian history.

"Jewel in the Crown" is a production of Britain's independent Granada TV, and "Mountbatten" will be shot in England and India by Brent Walker Television Productions, which recently began casting for the show.

INDEED, it appeared not long ago that Mobil's BBC connection had been severed, at least partially, by The Entertainment Channel, the joint RCA-Rockefeller Center pay-TV network which arranged an exclusive option on the entire BBC product.

Self-proclaimed murderer Henry Lucas is escorted to the court Friday.

Attorneys want Lucas' statements suppressed

GEORGETOWN (AP) — Attorneys for Henry Lee Lucas asked State District Judge John Carter Friday to suppress all oral and written statements made by the self-proclaimed mass murderer in the alleged slaying of an unidentified woman found near this Central Texas town.

"All written and oral statements he made in custody should be suppressed because we will show his arrest was illegal," said Parker McCollough, one of Lucas' attorneys.

Lucas has told officers at various times he is responsible for slaying more than 150 women across the country.

First witnesses in the pretrial hearing were Reuben Moore, and his wife, Faye, of Stoneburg in Montague County.

Moore also is a pastor in the House of Prayer religious organization and operated the church camp at Stoneburg where Lucas stayed from time to time for almost a year.

"I enjoyed working with Henry. He was real dependable," said Moore. "I never had a better employee."

The Moores both testified Lucas was arrested by the Montague County sheriff and Texas Rangers after they reported Lucas had given them a pistol to keep for him. Lucas was arrested June 11, 1983 on a complaint that as an ex-prison inmate he could not own a gun.

Later, in the Montague County jail, Lucas made his first statements about a long series of slayings.

"Henry confessed to me as well as to the sheriff," Moore said Friday.

Moore said he first thought the Montague County sheriff was "just trying to put a loser down."

"But the sheriff turned out to be right," Moore said.

Dan Maxfield, a Wichita Falls attorney, says he was appointed by the court to defend Lucas after he was charged with murder in the slaying of Kate Rich, 80, of Ringgold, Montague County.

Maxfield said his first action was to warn Montague County officials that Lucas should not talk to anyone without his attorney being present.

District Attorney Edward Walsh asked Maxfield if he did not tell Texas Rangers once that "I have told him (Lucas) not to talk, but he won't listen to me."

"I don't recall those specific words, but I think I probably said something like that," Maxfield said.

McCollough said the defense also wanted the Lucas trial moved to another city, because of widespread pretrial publicity in the Central Texas area, but that motion will be argued at another pretrial hearing later.

Lucas, 47, is charged with murdering the unidentified woman whose nearly nude body was found near Interstate 35 in the Georgetown area on Halloween 1979.

Lucas's sometime traveling companion, Ottis Toole, 36, who is jailed in Jacksonville, Fla., claims to have killed about 50. Toole is under indictment here on capital murder charges in the killing of Kevin Key, 19, of Austin and the aggravated kidnapping of Rita Salazar, 18, of Georgetown. No trial date has been set.

Lucas was convicted Nov. 7 in Denton and sentenced to life in prison for fatally stabbing and dismembering his 15-year-old common-law wife, Freida "Becky" Powell of Jacksonville, Fla.

Lucas pleaded guilty and was sentenced Sept. 30 to 75 years in prison for the murder of Mrs. Rich.

He has been charged with murder in eight other Texas slayings, including four capital murder charges that carry a possible penalty of death by injection.

Baker says he's leaving post at end of '84

FORT WORTH (AP) — Presidential Chief of Staff James Baker III says he will leave his post at the end of 1984, calling four years in the job "the absolute cutoff," the Fort Worth Star-Telegram reported in a copyright story Friday.

But White House press spokesman Larry Speakes predicted Baker would stay on "as long at the president wishes him to be here."

Baker described his job as "a lightning rod" but told the Star-Telegram that his decision is based on a long-standing timetable to keep the job no longer than four years and is not the result of burnout or White House infighting.

"Staying through the elections will be almost four years, and I think the president would be better served by someone else in this job in a second term," he said.

But Speakes, who said he talked with Baker about the published report, noted that Baker "once said he was leaving at 18 months, again at two years, again at three years."

He added that deputy Chief of Staff Michael K. Deaver said the same thing, and, "Neither of them have left."

"They both serve at the pleasure of the president, and I think Baker will be here as long as the president wishes him to be here," Speakes said.

"When you see him leave, then I'd write it," he said.

Baker, a Houston attorney, has been chief of staff since Reagan took office in January 1981. Baker managed George Bush's 1980 presidential campaign and was selected as chief of staff after Reagan chose Bush for his vice presidential running mate.

Baker has told associates that he would be interested in a second-term job as a senior Cabinet officer in the event of a vacancy, the Star-Telegram reported. He has reportedly expressed an interest in being secretary of state, defense or treasury, or attorney general, the newspaper said.

When he accepted the position, Baker said he told Reagan that "this job is best performed in two-year increments." Baker said he agreed to stay on after the first increment, but he told the president that the final two years of the first term would be Baker's last.

"Sometimes you get an awful lot of heat for things you don't do," Baker said. "Ninety percent of this job is telling people no.

Bulldogs escape Odessa ambush, 65-63

By TERRY WILLIAMSON
Assistant Sports Editor

Odessa High basketball star Joe Terry missed the front end of two one-and-one free throw situations at Chaparral Center Friday night in the last seven seconds of play as Midland High held on for a 65-63 District 4-5A cage victory.

Leading by only two points with seven seconds left, Midland High's Darrell Davis fouled Terry, who had hit five of six previous free throw opportunities and had 19 points on the night. Terry missed his chance to tie the game and send it into overtime, but teammate Boyd Cowan got the rebound and missed the shot.

That's when Terry got another opportunity to force overtime with one second left when he rebounded Cowan's errant layup and was fouled by Kenneth Johnson underneath.

Terry again missed as Midland High climbed to 3-1 in the 4-5A chase, producing its 20th victory of the year.

"We had everything the way we wanted it," said a dejected OHS coach Keith Thompson said. "We had our money man at the line twice and didn't get the shots to fall. I thought our team played well though."

OHS, the defending 4-5A champs, are now licking some serious wounds since they are 1-3 in loop play and without the services of starter Charles Hunter, who played Tuesday but quit the team later this week to concentrate on football.

"Charles wanted to stick with football," said Thompson. "His dream is to play pro football, so he gave up basketball. I don't think we missed him. Our kids played a good game."

Despite the closeness of the score, it was a game in which the Bulldogs never trailed. The score was tied four different times in the game, but MHS held leads of eight points twice and seven points on two other occassions. However, it was also a game the Bulldogs couldn't put under wraps, seeming to lose its concentration every time they built what looked like a big lead.

Midland High coach Jack Stephenson jokingly said after the win, "Shoot, there is nothing to this game. You just go out there and let the other team lose it instead of you winning it.

"I thought we played pretty well. But that Terry is a good player and Odessa got some points from their outside people. You can ask any coach in the district and they will tell you that Odessa High can't shoot from the outside, but they did against us."

It was a strange contest, one in which the feeling was that Midland High was just a step away from breaking things open. In the first quarter, MHS hit an amazing seven of 12 shots from the field while OHS was four of 19, but the Bulldogs led by only a 15-13 margin.

In the second period, OHS got hot and hit eight of 13 from the field while MHS canned only nine of 19, despite controlling the boards. The Bulldogs, however, hit only three of 10 from the free throw line.

Neither team hit well from the field in the second half with OHS hitting 12 of 28 and MHS 10 of 25. But it came down to Terry and this time he couldn't pull it out of the fire. Terry still had a good night. He hit seven of 11 shots from the field and five of eight from the charity line. The last two he missed will be the ones remembered in this one, however.

Midland High's Chris Rooker had his second consecutive hot hand for the Bulldogs, hitting 22 points with a seven of 13 shooting eye from the field and canning eight of nine free throws.

Johnson had 14 points with a seven of 14 night and Fred Franklin added 10 by hitting five of eight shots. Six of Franklin's points came in the third period.

OHS guard Albert Cruz scored 11 points, his first district game in double figures this year.

Odessa Permian still leads MHS by one game after a 53-55 win over Midland Lee Friday night. Permian is 4-0 in league action.

In the junior varsity game, Odessa High won a 65-63 decision over MHS. It was a repeat in the varsity contest, but the Bulldogs had the 65. Charles Lewis led the Broncho JV with 22 points while Gary Powell had 16 and Keith Smith 15. Gil Brassard led the Bullpups with 12 points while Jason Fuller and Anthony Deande each had 10.

MHS travels to San Angelo Tuesday for a key district outing.

Kentucky no match for Tigers

AUBURN, Ala. (AP) — Auburn Coach Sonny Smith could only state the obvious after his Tigers knocked off previously undefeated No. 2 Kentucky Friday night.

"Do you think that this would be an understatement, that this would be our biggest win?" he asked after Auburn beat the Wildcats 82-63. "It was a great victory over a tremendous basketball team," he said.

Auburn was led by Chuck Person with 25 points in the Southeastern Conference matchup that saw the Tigers overcome an early 8-0 deficit to take first place in the SEC with a 4-0 conference record.

Kentucky, 12-1 overall and 4-1 in the SEC, got 22 points from Melvin Turpin and 15 points from Sam Bowie.

JOE HALL, Kentucky's coach, called Auburn, 10-3, "as talented a team as any one we've played.

"They played very spirited as a team and were very unselfish," he said.

Chaps breeze

BIG SPRING—Midland College put the finishing touches on preparations for a return to Western Junior College Conference action next week with a 101-72 victory over Lubbock Christian College JV here Friday night.

Teviin Binns, the 6-11 pivot for the Chaparrals, singed the cords for 31 points while Jackie Phinnessee scored 18 before fouling out as MC tuned up for Monday's game with New Mexico Military Institute at Roswell, N.M.

Brian Essary scored 14 points while Jerald Wrightsil contributed 12 and Lawrence Chumbley 10.

MC led 51-32 at halftime in the romp at Dorothy Garrett Coliseum.

The Chaps had five dunks and outrebounded LCC, 29-13, in the first half and 20-19 in the second.

Binns, in addition to his scoring speed, had six blocked shots.

Midland High's Eric Brunson goes over Odessa High's Joe Rivas for a layup attempt at Chaparral Center Friday night, but didn't make the connection on this effort. Midland High won the game, 65-63, to stay one game behind league leading Odessa Permian, a 55-53 victor over Midland Lee.

Black Cats hex Rebels

By BRUCE CASTLEBERRY
Sports Writer

ODESSA— For the superstitious person, Friday the 13th would be enough reason to stay inside and avoid conflicts.

And if on Friday the 13th there are big, black cats crossing paths at every corner, paranoia might even set in.

Unfortunately, the Lee Rebel basketball team had little choice in the matter. There wasn't anything anyone could do to change the date, and Lee was scheduled to play the black cat, Odessa Permian's Panthers, in a snake pit arena at PHS.

Lee rose to the challenge, shunting aside any fears, but the old Mojo magic came back in the form of Rocky Hendrix. Hendrix is one of several fine Permian shooters, and he saved the best for last, swishing a 22-foot bomb as the clock ran out, allowing Permian to escape a scary battle with Lee, 55-53.

The several hundred people gathered to see the game wound up with quite a show for their efforts. As high school basketball goes, they don't get any better than this. The Panthers, the only District 4-5A unbeaten at 4-0 (13-5 overall), trailed Lee almost the entire night. Lee on the other hand overcame adversity to play their best game of the year, but the youthful Rebs couldn't hang on to victory.

"We played good tonight," said a proud but disappointed Lee coach Paul Stueckler. "I thought it was a great performance, but we just made too many mistakes down the stretch."

Lee lost, certainly, but the Rebs deserved a win. Although three players missed the game, almost every Lee player had a magnificent night. There were too many stars on both sides of the court. A word of advice: when these two get together again Feb. 7 at Chaparral Center, be there. The odds are great that the game won't be as well played as Friday's. But if it is, there shouldn't be an empty seat.

Everybody was into the game from the start. The ingredients were ideal. The crowd was wired, loud and boisterous on both sides. The players had plenty at stake - Permian their district lead, and Lee trying to get back into the thick of the race.

Permian looked tight to start the game, perhaps aware that Lee (and everyone else in the district) knew the secret was out about the Panthers. They are good and they are for real, but Hendrix started the with an airball. The next time Permian got the ball, Hendrix shot an airball.

His moment was fated to come, but in the first quarter Hendrix and Permian stank offensively. Permian gunner Terry Williams was too primed as well, committing two fouls in the first 2:06 and getting his later in the opening period. Williams' foul problems probably served to help Lee, even though he finished the game's high scorer with 16 points.

Brian Marczynski got his first start of the year, and almost stole the show for Lee. "Ski" had scored only 35 points in 19 games entering play Friday, but netted 12 before fouling out in the fourth quarter. Marczynski's fifth foul may have been the biggest turning point in a game with more turning points than total points.

Lee had lead at the end of each quarter, and had their biggest edge of 12 points at 42-30 midway through the third period after Tyrone Thurman had dished to Jim Lee for a layup.

Marczynski picked up his third foul at the 4:25 mark of the third, and got another one 1:41 later. That forced Stueckler to sit Ski, and gave Permian a big break. Marczynski not only had been hurting Permian offensively from outside, but had been a big factor in keeping the Panthers from getting inside.

In fact, Lee's inability to hang on to potential rebounds was a killer. But Ski and Anthony Dickens got some boards.

Marczynski's replacement, Raul Ramirez, got a quick dose of black magic, committing a foul and traveling on Lee's next trip downcourt. By the time the Rebs righted themselves, Permian had ripped off a 9-0 run to cut the gap to 42-39. Derek Westbrook, held to an uncharacteristic seven points, hit a baseline jumper from the right corner to give Lee a 44-39 lead entering the final quarter.

Abilene thumps San Angelo

Abilene High's Eagles kept pace in the District 4-5A basketball race Friday night with an 82-65 thumping of the San Angelo Bobcats.

Abilene High is now 3-1 in the league race, tied with Midland High for second place and one game behind unbeaten Odessa Permian. In another 4-5A game played Friday night, Abilene Cooper (2-2) bombed winless Big Spring (0-4) by a 70-51 margin.

The Eagles had five players score in double figures against the Bobcats, who fell to 2-2 in the league race and have a Tuesday date with Midland High in San Angelo.

Tom Simmons led the way with 15 points while Kirt Robinson had 12. Tim Robinson, Chris Johnson and Greg Lowrey all had 10 points in the victory. San Angelo was led by Zane Hoppe's 15 points and Greg Thomas had 13.

Cooper got 22 points from Joe Melson while Bob Estes, who led all league scorers with 60 points heading into Friday's action, scored 17 along with Derek Turnbul. Big Spring got 15 each from Jimmy Brown and Mike Luescher and the Steers will meet the 1-3 Midland Lee Rebels Tuesday at Chaparral Center.

Midland High defeated Odessa High, 65-63, while league leading Odessa Permian slipped past Lee, 55-53, in the other district games.

Gervin's 40 riddles Rockets

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — George Gervin scored 40 points, including 11 in a second-period San Antonio surge that helped the Spurs roll to a 133-103 NBA victory over the Houston Rockets Friday night.

The Spurs, battling along with Houston to keep out of the cellar of the Midwest Division, continued the running game installed by interim head coach and general manager Bob Bass, who is 4-3 since replacing fired rookie coach Moe McHone.

The game was close, 29-26, at the end of the first quarter. But the Spurs outscored the Rockets 36-18 in the second period.

Gervin scored 11 points of his total during the second quarter and San Antonio led by 65-44 at the half.

The Rockets hit only five of 22 shots from the field in the second period and shot only 33.3 percent from the field for the half.

The Spurs opened the third quarter with a 16-8 run and led 96-78 at the end of the period.

Houston rookie Ralph Sampson, who scored 24 points before he fouled out with 2:08 to play, scored 14 points in the third quarter, including 10 from the foul line.

Caldwell Jones and James Bailey scored 13 points and Robert Reid scored 11 for the Rockets.

Moseley wants winning kick

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mark Moseley has only one Super Bowl wish and it's to kick the winning field goal in the final minute against the Los Angeles Raiders.

"I would probably settle for four or five field goals, but, really, I dream about kicking the winner, just like (Jim) O'Brien did when I was a rookie," the Redskins' placekicker said Friday.

O'Brien, who kicked for the Baltimore Colts, won Super Bowl V in 1971 with a 32-yard field goal to lift his team to a 16-13 victory over Dallas.

Moseley and the Redskins will meet Los Angeles on Jan. 22 in Tampa, Fla., for Super Bowl XVIII.

In last year's Super Bowl, Moseley kicked field goals of 31 and 20 yards as the Redskins beat Miami, 27-17.

"Last year it was a kick just being in the Super Bowl. I'd waited so long to get there I thought it would never come. This time, I guess I'm just a pig — I want it all," said the 12-year National Football League veteran.

Moseley, named The Associated Press Player of the Year in 1982 after setting an NFL record with 23 consecutive field goals, has had and up-and-down season this year.

Despite leading the league in scoring with 161 points and setting a club record with 33 field goals, Moseley took the blame for one of two Redskin losses during the regular season — when he missed a field goal on the final play of 48-47 loss to Green Bay.

He also missed four field goals attempts in last week's NFC championship game with the San Francisco 49ers, a game the Redskins won 24-21 on Moseley's 25-yard field goal in the final seconds.

"It was frustrating last week missing those four field goals, but I have tried to put it out of my mind and will not take it with me when we go to Tampa. I've been around long enough to take each game as it comes," he said.

Tampa, St. Pete battle for majors

From wire reports

BASEBALL—A Tampa group may have signed a contract for building a 46,000-seat domed stadium, but a rival organization with plans to do the same in St. Petersburg vows to join the battle to attract the majors. The Tampa Bay Baseball Group hired a Providence, R.I., firm to build an air-conditioned facility that would cost between $50 million and $60 million for occupancy by April 1986 on land next to the 72,812 seat Tampa Stadium.. Al Lopez Field, a minor-league park and winter home of the Cincinnati Reds, is on the property, which is owned by the Tampa Sports Authority.

"So no matter how you slice it, there are enough fans out there to support both teams." Get ready for dandy

By HAL BOCK
AP Sports Writer

Get ready for a super Super Bowl.

All the elements are there for what may be the most memorable National Football League championship game yet, a heavyweight showdown between two of the league's real powerhouses.

In one corner, we have the world champion Washington Redskins, survivors in the National Conference title game Sunday with San Francisco 24-21 after the 49ers staged a gallant three-touchdown comeback in the fourth quarter.

In the other corner, we have football's dead end kids, the rough and tumble Los Angeles Raiders, who beat up Cinderella Seattle 30-14 for the American Conference crown. They are anything but gallant.

These are a couple of sluggers with arsenals full of knockout punches.

Perhaps the character of the Raiders is best expressed by defensive end Lyle Alzado and linebacker Rod Martin.

AFTER LA'S GRIND-it-out victory over the Seahawks, a game pock-marked by a number of fights up front, Alzado said, "It was a war against Seattle and it will be a war against the Redskins."

In a war, you want foot soldiers and Washington's John Riggins is one of the best around. His rushed for 123 yards and two touchdowns against San Francisco, a playoff record sixth straight 100-yard game.

What did Alzado think about that?

"Without a doubt, John Riggins is a hell of a running back," he said.

Then he paused, thought for a moment, and added, "If we get a chance, we'll tear his head off."

That seemed to be the strategy against Seattle as the Raiders limited Seahawks' running back Curt Warner to 26 yards in a rushing defense that included a number of skirmishes up front.

Martin said, "We wanted to let them know early that they were not going to beat us in the big one. We're not going to change a thing against the Redskins. We're going to go right after them."

Pascual Perez
...charged with possession

Braves' Perez faces sentence

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — John Mullen, vice president and general manager of the Atlanta Braves, was expected in the Dominican Republic Friday to talk to authorities about drug charges against pitcher Pascual Perez.

The 24-year-old right-hander, who won 15 games for the Braves last year, was charged with possessing a half-gram of cocaine Tuesday. Perez had returned home to the Dominican Republic last Sunday after going to Atlanta for contract negotiations. The Braves made him an offer but he did not sign.

Police said he was picked up Monday night in front of a bar in Santiago, the second largest city in the Dominican Republic.

If convicted Perez could face a two-to-five year jail sentence and be fined between $500 and $2,000.

A spokesman for the Cibao Eagles, a Dominican Winter League team, said Mullen will try to talk with Perez, currently in the La Fortaleza jail in Santiago. Perez had compiled a 4-1 record with the Eagles before his arrest.

Torre's troubles bigger than '82

ATLANTA (AP) — Atlanta Braves Manager Joe Torre may be facing greater problems this spring than in 1982, when he took over a team that had finished in the lower half of the National League West standings for seven consecutive seasons.

He subsequently guided the relatively young team to a division title in his first season and just missed winning it again in 1983, finishing a close second to the Los Angeles Dodgers.

But Torre's problems are quite different as spring training approaches next month.

Since the end of the 1983 season, Torre has been instrumental in the Braves' decision to release veteran pitcher Phil Niekro, has seen the club lose a bidding war for free agent reliever Rich Gossage and now has to deal with the possible loss of one of his top pitchers, Pascual Perez, because of a drug arrest.

Also this week were revelations that pitcher Steve Bedrosian and outfielder Claudell Washington were counseled last year about drug abuse, and that Washington then underwent 28 days of treatment for cocaine dependency.

But, Torre said, "We can't sit around and wallow in self pity."

He still believes the Braves will be in the division race because of players such as two-time National League Most Valuable Player Dale Murphy, Bob Horner, Chris Chambliss, Glenn Hubbard and Bruce Benedict.

"I'd call us underdogs again," Torre said. "But this team has learned how to win. I think that's more important."

Perez, a 15-game winner last season, remains jailed in the Dominican Republic on charges of cocaine possession, following his arrest Tuesday. Published reports Friday said authorities indicated the trial could be weeks or months away, owing to customary delays between arrests and trials in Perez's native country.

With Perez's status uncertain, Torre may have to find two pitchers to join Craig McMurtry, Len Barker and Ken Dayley in his starting rotation. He said moving Bedrosian from the bullpen is a possibility.

He said that move would depend on the performances of relief pitchers Gene Garber, who missed much of last season with an injured arm, and Jeff Dedmon, who spent most of last season in the minor leagues.

"We've gotten our share (of bad publicity)," Torre said. "Whether it continues depends on whether the media lets it die or not and whether our players are willing to discuss some of these things. I'm sure now if we don't have a good spring, people will talk even more."

Bugner gains decision

RANDERS, Denmark (AP) -British heavyweight Joe Bugner, a 33-year-old three-time European champion, cleared the first step in his declared comeback Friday with a 10-round decision over 27-year-old Anders Eklund of Sweden.

Eklund dominated the early going but tired in the late rounds as the Briton stepped up his attack.

The decision for the former British champion drew boos at the Randershallen sports complex from Danish fans rooting for Eklund, who fights in Denmark. Pro boxing is banned in Sweden.

Your best choice may be a minor emergency clinic . . .

This recent news article points out the advantages of minor emergency clinics, advantages which are available to you at Midland Minor Emergency Center and Westwood Medical Clinic.

Midland Minor Emergency Center
2310 W. Ohio
9 AM-10 PM Everyday

Westwood Medical Clinic
4334 W. Illinois
9 AM-6 PM Mon.-Fri.

Freestanding emergency centers: Usually located in shopping malls or other busy commercial areas and open for long hours, weekends and holidays — times when most private doctors are not available — these walk-in/walk-out facilities are a combination hospital emergency room and private doctor's office.

Of the 900 centers now open around the country, all treat cuts, sprains, fractures, burns and other minor emergencies. Some also treat flu and childhood diseases and give checkups for school and college. All centers have diagnostic equipment right on the premises.

You don't have to make an appointment at one of these centers, and usually you don't have to wait long.

Costs are comparable to those for an office visit in the communities in which they're located, but they're substantially less than the costs for hospital emergency-room visits (see box).

Bird spurs Celtics win

From wire reports

PHILADELPHIA — Larry Bird's 29 points, 19 rebounds and eight assists paced Boston to a 105-104 win over the Philadelphia 76ers.

Boston needed a pair of free throws by Robert Parish with 18 seconds left to clinch the NBA victory, the Celtics' first over the 76ers in three games this season.

Parish scored 21 points and took 15 rebounds as the Celtics increased their first-place margin over 76ers in the Atlantic Division to 3½ games.

Andrew Toney led the 76ers with 28 points, while Julius Erving scored 22.

The 76ers led from early in the second period — by as many as 10 points twice — until Boston went ahead 97-96 on a field goal by Bird with 5:45 left in the game. Bird increased the Celtics' lead to 99-96 at 5:14.

Pistons throw Bulls

DETROIT — Kelly Tripucka and John Long each scored 23 points as the Detroit Pistons defated the Chicago Bulls, 115-104.

But Detroit used baskets by Isiah Thomas, Tripucka and Bill Laimbeer and a Laimbeer free throw to build a 107-97 lead with three minutes remaining.

Laimbeer scored 22 points, while Thomas had 19 and 15 assists. Woolridge paced the Bulls with 21.

Warriors whip Nets

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. — Mike Bratz scored 13 points in the fourth quarter to lead the Golden State Warriors to a 114-111 victory over the New Jersey Nets.

Purvis Short led the Warriors with 24 points.

New Jersey committed a season-high 31 turnovers and blew a 17-point first period lead. Otis Birdsong was the Nets top scorer with 29 points.

Wilkins paces Atlanta

ATLANTA — Dominique Wilkins scored 32 points as Atlanta whipped Indiana, 117-108, Friday.

The Hawks broke open a 22-22 game by hitting 14 of 17 shots from the field in the second period to outscore Indiana 31-16.

Dan Roundfield scored 19 points for Atlanta. Mike Glenn had 18, Scott Hastings 12 and Eddie Johnson 10. Hastings started in place of Wayne "Tree" Rollins, who missed the game with a sore left knee.

Mavs blister Blazers

DALLAS — Guard Rolando Blackman scored 26 points to lift the Dallas Mavericks to a 113-110 victory over the Portland Trail Blazers Friday.

The Blazers trailed by as many as 14 in the fourth quarter but closed to within 111-108 with 16 seconds left. Dallas guards Brad Davis and Derek Harper hit a free throw apiece before Portland's Clyde Drexler slammed a dunk at the buzzer for the final score.

Dallas got 22 points from Mark Aguirre. The Blazers were led by Jim Paxson's 24 points, Calvin Natt's 23 and Kenny Carr's 19.

Dallas hit 15 of 15 free throws in the first half and led 53-49 at halftime.

Giants' Taylor wants out of NJ Generals

NEW YORK (AP) — New York Giants linebacker Lawrence Taylor offered $750,000 and the return of a $1 million loan to New Jersey Generals owner Donald Trump in an effort to buy out an agreement between the two, according to sources quoted in Saturday's New York Times.

Taylor, the two-time National Football League Defensive Player of the Year, signed an agreement with the United States Football League team on Dec. 14 that gave the linebacker a $1 million, 25-year interest free loan. In return, Trump bought a four-year option on Taylor to begin playing with the Generals in 1988, the season after his contract ran out with the Giants.

Neuheisel to join USFL Gunslingers

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The San Antonio Gunslingers said Friday they have signed former UCLA quarterback Rick Neuheisel, the most valuable player in the Rose Bowl, to a two-year contract.

Neuheisel, from Tempe, Ariz., began his college career as a walk-on and ended as a starting quarterback in the Rose Bowl, guiding UCLA to a 45-9 drubbing of Illinois.

He finished with the best single-season and career percentage passing mark in UCLA history. In his senior year, he completed 163 of 236 passes, a .691 percentage, for 1,947 yards and nine touchdowns.

Permian wins

By now, however, Permian had regained their shooting touch. Williams and Orlando Ontiveroz, the only juniors on the Permian varsity, lead the comeback, and after Ontiveroz hit a short lane jumper, Permian trailed by only three at 48-45.

Marczynski reappeared long enough to take a great feed from Thurman for a layup, and then Westbrook canned a shot to make it 52-45 Lee. Ramirez hit a foul shot at the 4:11 mark, and Lee lead by eight. Marczynski fouled out moments later and the Rebs didn't score again.

"I wanted to take some time off the clock," Stueckler said about his strategy at that point. "But we forced the ball in there and gave them some air. We missed our free throws."

The last few minutes all Lee could do was foul, turn the ball over, and watch as Permian did the things it took to win, namely hit free throws. Until Hendrix' lightning bolt struck, Mojo had gotten all eight points to tie at the charity stripe.

Several Rebs had a chance to nail the lid down, but suddenly the ball wouldn't fall. Thurman missed. Dickens missed. Lee missed, and the Rebs tried to stop the momentum shift and go into overtime.

Enter Hendrix. Exit Lee's biggest upset of the year.

"I told them the truth," said Stueckler when asked what he said to his team afterwards. "We're all disappointed that we lost, but we're happy we played well."

Lee (11-10, 1-3) resumes play Wednesday at Chaparral Center against Big Spring.

Once-critical Evans beams at new contract

BOSTON (AP) — Eleven months after criticizing the way the Boston Red Sox were being run and asking to be traded, a smiling Dwight Evans said Friday his contract extension is the start of a new direction for the club.

The right fielder, who will earn $325,000 in 1984 in the last season of his current five-year pact, signed Thursday the richest contract in team history. It reportedly will pay him more than $3 million for three years, through 1987.

After the 1980 season, contract differences preceded Boston's trading of center fielder Fred Lynn and shortstop Rick Burleson to the California Angels and the departure of catcher Carlton Fisk to the Chicago White Sox.

Evans said at a news conference Friday his signing is a turning point away from that trend.

Buddy LeRoux, one of Boston's three general partners, tried last June 6 to assume greater control over the franchise than Haywood Sullivan and Jean Yawkey, the other general partners. A Superior Court judge ruled against LeRoux and said a majority vote of those three owners is decisive. LeRoux has appealed the decision.

"Things are being straightened out now," Evans said. "A lot of players didn't know what was going to happen. We didn't play together. There were a lot of 'me's' and 'I's.' This year, there'll be a lot of 'us's' and 'we's.'

"Things are settled a little more. The court actions hurt us."

The Red Sox finished sixth in the seven-team American League East last season with their first losing season since 1966.

Miller sets Hope pace

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Johnny Miller, who had a sign pleading "Help" pasted on his putter cover, completed a 7-under-par 65 with birdies on his last two holes and moved into a one-shot lead Friday in the $400,000 Bob Hope Desert Golf Classic.

"I found this sign in a little kit I had. And I figured I'd been putting pretty bad, so I just stuck it on the putter cover," Miller said.

The plea was answered.

He made five birdie putts in the 8-to-10 foot range, did not make a bogey and did not have a 5 on his card after his effort over the rough, tricky greens at Eldorado.

"I was very lucky," said Miller, who won this title twice when he was dominating the desert tournaments in the mid-'70s.

"A lot of those wobbly putts just fell in the side door. But when you shoot 7-under with no bogeys, something has to be going right."

Miller, a winner in his last two starts, finished 54 holes of this five-day, 90-hole event with a 201 total, 15 strokes under par, and said he was bouyant with confidence.

"I came into this tournament really thinking I was going to win. It's a good feeling. After winning two in a row, I'd be a fool not to have that kind of confidence."

Jim Simons, three shots clear of the field after two rounds, had a 70 at Bermuda Dunes and trailed Miller by one stroke.

"I just wasn't as comfortable on the greens," he said. "I missed some of those putts, the 10-and 12-footers, that I made yesterday."

It was another two shots back to Jack Renner, a native of this desert resort area, and Lee Elder, who will join the seniors tour later this year. Elder had a 67 and Renner a 68, both at Indian Wells.

Ronnie Black followed at 205 after a 70 at La Quinta.

Tied at 206 — five strokes back with two rounds to play — were John Mahaffey, Peter Jacobsen and left-hander Russ Cochran. Jacobsen had a 69 and Mahaffey 70, both at Bermuda Dunes. Cochran shot a 69 at Indian Wells.

The 136 professionals play one round on each of the four courses, each day with a different set of amateur partners, before the field is cut to the low 70 scorers for Sunday's pros-only finish at Bermuda Dunes.

Hargrove has no sympathy

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mike Hargrove, player representative for the Cleveland Indians, doesn't have any sympathy for the four major league baseball players suspended for a year because of involvement with cocaine.

The Major League Players Association is expected to file a grievance over Commissioner Bowie Kuhn's suspension of Willie Wilson, Willie Aikens and Jerry Martin, all of whom were with the Kansas City Royals last season, and Steve Howe of the Los Angles Dodgers.

"Personally, I feel they got what was coming to them," Hargrove told the Lake County News-Herald of suburban Willoughby in a telephone interview from his home in Perryton, Texas. "No one put a gun to their head and told them to use cocaine."

"If a player loses a year in his career, he loses a lot," Hargrove said. "But really, I don't have any sympathy for them at all. As a citizen, I thought they were treated leniently if anything."

"THE ASSOCIATION is caught between a rock and a hard place," the Indians' first baseman said. "They've got to protect the player so they're damned if they do and damned if they don't. But really, I don't know of many players who have any sympathy."

Hargrove doesn't go along with the argument that the pressure of being in the big leagues causes some athletes to turn to drugs and alcohol.

"They think it's a different situation just because they're ballplayers," he said. "Well, I don't believe it. There's over 600 other guys in the big leagues who put up with the same kind of pressures and they seem to be doing all right."

WITH THE attention that has been focused on alcohol and drug use by professional athletes, Hargrove can't see why any player allows himself to get involved.

"It amazes me," he said. "The warning signs have been there for two years. First it broke in the National Football League."

Gretzky keeps streak going

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Edmonton's Wayne Gretzky managed to keep his National Hockey League consecutive-game point-scoring streak alive but the Oilers saw their 13-game undefeated string halted as the Buffalo Sabres came away with a 3-1 decision Friday.

Buffalo goaltender Bob Sauve and the Sabre defense frustrated the high-scoring Oilers for 47 minutes before Gretzky set up Pat Hughes for Edmonton's only goal, extending his record streak to 45 games, all the Oilers have played this year.

South to depend on tough defense

MOBILE, Ala. (AP) — The South, relying on a defense featuring All-Americans Wilbur Marshall of Florida and Mossy Cade of Texas, hopes to end the North's recent domination in the 35th Senior Bowl all-star football game Saturday.

A crowd approaching 40,000 is expected in Ladd Memorial Stadium for the noon kickoff on ESPN.

The South retains a 16-15-3 lead, but the North has closed the gap by winning seven of the last 10 meetings, including a 14-6 triumph last year behind the passing of Dan Marino, a rookie sensation in 1983 with the Miami Dolphins.

"I think it'll be a good game," South Coach Don Coryell said. "We think it's a good group. There are several players on our team with a chance to make it in the National Football League."

Coryell and his San Diego Chargers' staff put the South through intense workouts during the week — standard procedure for the Senior Bowl, where the 35 players on each roster are given an opportunity to show professional scouts how they react under pro coaching.

The North squad is being coached by the Buffalo Bills' staff, headed by Kay Stephenson, who took particular note of the South's defense when the coaches had an opportunity to watch the other team in practice Thursday.

Senior Bowl

"I don't know if we'll be able to complete a pass against them with the defensive backs they've got," Stephenson said.

"They were excellent in their running plays," Coryell said of the North. "They looked like they were ready to play a game."

The North's top runner is Ernest Anderson, the Oklahoma State star who led the nation in rushing with 1,877 yards in 1982, but had only 488 yards during his injury-plagued senior campaign. Although he didn't start, Anderson had 143 yards on 27 carries in OSU's Bluebonnet Bowl victory over Baylor last month.

Colorado State's Terry Nugent, who threw for 3,319 yards last season and 7,103 in his career, will open at quarterback for the North. The backup role goes to Frank Seurer of Kansas, the Big Eight Conference career record-holder with 6,410 passing yards.

Despite not being considered an NFL prospect at quarterback, Walter Lewis of Alabama will start for the South. Lewis passed for almost 2,000 yards last season when the Crimson Tide abandoned the Wishbone offense for a multiple set.

The Rebel strength, however, would have to be on the defensive unit led by linebacker Marshall and cornerback Cade.

Storms batter northern Europe killing five people

LONDON (AP) — Storms driven by hurricane-force winds battered northern Europe Friday, killing five people in the British Isles and lashing Denmark with sleet and hail before sweeping across the Netherlands and West Germany.

The Danish ferry Dana Anglia, bound for Esbjerg, Denmark, from Harwich, England, with 153 passengers aboard was riding out the storm in the North Sea. The captain said on ship to shore radio that the craft was withstanding 30-foot waves "very well."

A Norwegian helicopter rescued eight crewmen from the Danish North Sea oil drilling rig Dan Bravo, whipped by 115-mph winds in 50-foot seas.

Winds of 100 mph swept a 154-ton French trawler, the Anne Sophie, onto rocks off the southern Irish coast and a British air force helicopter lifted eight fisherman to safety from the 20-foot waves.

In the British Isles, high winds tore the roofs off buildings, blew buses off roads and drove people from flooded homes.

Swedish officials said three nuclear power plants were taken out of service because of faults in power lines.

The sleet and hailstorms in Denmark halted at least 33 domestic and international ferry routes.

A helicopter and rescue ship took five people to safety from a small boat listing at 40 degrees near the island of Borkum off West Germany's coast, officials said.

The hurricane-force winds swept Britain from England's southwestern tip to northernmost Scotland.

Road accidents caused by the storm killed five people, and four others were injured when the roofs blew off their homes. Friday's deaths brought to eight the number of lives lost in three straight days of storms in Britain.

Scores of roads were blocked by fallen trees. Storms temporarily blacked out between 15,000 to 20,000 electricity customers in central and southern Scotland.

The surging River Cart in Scotland overflowed its banks, leaving Glasgow awash in up to four feet of water. Firemen in boats rescued people stranded in flooded homes, and took them to temporary shelters.

In the northern England county of Yorkshire, two school buses were blown off the road but no one was injured, police said.

York was put under flood warning as the River Ouse rose near danger level.

Police sealed off York Minster, the city's 12th century cathedral, after part of a pinnacle fell from a 200-foot tower to the street. Stonemasons were called in to check for structural damage to the cathedral, one of Europe's finest.

Near Warrington, in northwest England, winds toppled a 375-foot cooling tower at an electric power station, but there were no injuries or damage to surrounding buildings.

In the Great Belt Strait between the main Danish islands of Zealand and Funen, a special chemical ferry, Asathor, reported 15 of 17 tank trailers aboard overturned, three of them spilling hydrochloric acid. Police said the crew donned protective gear and neutralized the chemical.

Royal Air Force Flight Lt. Ian MacFarlane, 27, leader of the four-man helicopter crew that saved eight men from the French trawler Anne Sophie, said, "The winds were so strong that it took us an hour and 50 minutes to get there — more than twice as long as it should have — because we were getting badly thrown around.

Danish radio carried running reports of toppled trees, downed power lines and flooded roads, but only a few storm-related injuries were reported.

Police said a construction worker broke his back and another was slightly hurt when a 26-foot scaffolding fell from a building in Copenhagen, minutes after eight other workers had climbed down to take a coffee break.

West Germany was hit by rain, snow and winds gusting to 75 mph. In the Black Forest area, police said roads were covered with ice and slush, causing many accidents.

London weather bureau spokesman Gerald Copstick said the storm was caused by a strong jetstream and a clash of severely contrasting high and low pressure systems.

"We haven't finished with the storms yet," Copstick said late Friday. "Later tomorrow and Sunday could be very bad."

Teens riot in streets

HONG KONG (AP) — Thousands of teenagers rampaged through the streets of Hong Kong's twin city of Kowloon Friday night, attacking police, burning and overturning cars and looting shops, police reported.

At least 28 people were injured. Three were reported in serious condition.

Police reported arresting about 125 rioters.

The rioting erupted on the second day of a strike by taxi drivers, which ended soon after the riots started. Authorities said the two incidents were not related, and Hong Kong's top policeman blamed "unruly elements" who took advantage of the situation.

MOBS TOTALING about 5,000 rioters pelted police with stones and bottles.

At one stage about 1,000 youths surrounded a police station.

Police in riot gear pushed the mobs back with bursts of tear gas shells.

The rioters left streets looking like battlefields — smoldering fires from cars and garbage cans, smashed buses and broken shop windows.

Witnesses said some of the rioters climbed aboard empty buses, whose drivers and passengers had fled, and drove them into railings or rammed the buses into each other.

POLICE appealed to residents in the area to stay in their houses and see that all doors and gates were locked.

Police Commissioner Roy Henry said in a broadcast statement that the violence in Kowloon on the mainland had nothing to do with the taxi strike, adding that "unruly elements had taken advantage of the situation to commit a series of criminal acts."

He warned rioters that police were out in force and that the "situation...will not be tolerated."

Hong Kong, a British colony with a population of more than 5 million, is on an island, separated by a natural harbor from the peninsula of Kowloon, which is officially part of Hong Kong.

The cabbies had been on strike and had been snarling traffic by forming slow moving motorcades since Thursday, protesting against higher government registration tax and license fees on their vehicles.

BUT THE TAXI drivers ended their strike a few hours after the rioting broke out when they received support from unofficial members of Hong Kong's legislative and executive councils.

The legislators said they would oppose any sharp increase in registration tax and license fees for taxis in a debate on the question to be held in the legislative council next Wednesday.

The government had announced that it would increase the first registration tax from 15 percent of the car value to 90 percent and annual license fees from $205 to $872.

Although the authorities allowed taxi operators to increase fares by 17 percent from 56 cents for the first mile 68 cents, it fell far short of the 33 percent fare hike the cabbies had demanded.

Dentists advised to protect themselves against AIDS

NEW YORK (AP) — The state Health Department is advising dentists to wear gowns, masks, rubber gloves and goggles to avoid infection when treating patients with acquired immune deficiency.

Dentists might be at greater than average risk of contracting AIDS because they have direct contact with the saliva of a patient's mouth, said Dr. Theodore Rebich, director of the department's Bureau of Dental Health. The guidelines were issued Thursday at a conference on AIDS conducted by the bureau.

He noted that dentists have a three times higher than normal incidence of Hepatitis B, which also is transmitted by bodily fluids.

'Human Life Day' proclaimed

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Reagan on Friday proclaimed Jan. 22, the 11th anniversary of the Supreme Court's historic decision striking down state anti-abortion laws, as "National Sanctity of Human Life Day" and called on Americans "to gather on that day in homes and places of worship to give thanks for the gift of life."

Jan. 22, the anniversary of the 1973 Roe v. Wade ruling that upheld the constitutionality of a woman's right to abortion, is usually marked by widespread demonstrations sponsored by anti-abortion groups.

Since the decision was handed down, Reagan said in his proclamation, "more than 15 million unborn children have died in legalized abortions — a tragedy of stunning dimensions that stands in sad contrast to our belief that each life is sacred."

Siamese twins' brains separated

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The brains of Siamese twin boys born New Year's Day have been separated, but surgery to physically separate the infants will not be attempted for several months, doctors say.

"This case is an extreme rarity," Dr. Richard Bucholtz said Thursday, "and we did a lot of research before we attempted it."

The twins, who face in opposite directions, had "two single brains that were joined at two specific points," the doctor said. "Because it is so rare that the brains were together, it's hard to tell the outcome of the operation. We're hoping they'll be normal."

'Breakfast Bandits' arrested

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Police have arrested two men believed to be members of the "Breakfast Bandits," a group of robbers who have struck 26 restaurants in 16 northern California cities.

Investigators said the gang has been active for at least seven months, stealing more than $150,000 and leaving terrified employees locked in refrigerators. Five San Francisco restaurants were among those robbed in the string of crimes.

Police said the two men, Richard Lyons, 46, and John Van Deuketom, 50, are ex-convicts identified by eyewitnesses through police photographs. The name of a third suspect was not released.

Council upholds mayor's veto of pornography law

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — The City Council voted Friday not to override Mayor Donald Fraser's veto of an ordinance defining pornography as a form of discrimination against women.

Only five of 13 council members voted to override Fraser, four short of the number required. The original vote to pass the ordinance had been 7-6.

Fraser rejected pleas of backers of the ordinance and vetoed it on Jan. 5, saying the definition of pornography was so broad as to be unacceptable.

The mayor had said he was in sympathy with the intentions of those who promoted the ordinance, which would have permitted women to sue distributors of certain obscene books, magazines or movies on grounds of discrimination.

Supporters of the ordinance argued that pornography can lead to violence against women. They held vigils outside the mayor's office prior to his decision.

The council sponsor of the proposal, Charlee Hoyt, said the veto "had given all women a setback which we had hoped would not occur. It's a shame that one man decided to do that."

Fraser said the ordinance could be strengthened if it were linked to obscenity laws, permitting women to seek redress under those statutes.

Author left nothing to poor

Famous French author Francois Rabelais, who died in 1553, left this short will: "I have nothing. I owe much. The rest I leave to the poor."

Couple charged for demolition

MONTGOMERY, Ohio (AP) — Olga Sheppard thought it was a mistake when her tax bill included an $8,206 assessment for tearing down her bookstore after an FBI-chartered plane crashed into it.

But city officials say it was no error. They're trying to cover some of the costs from the December 1982 crash that killed six people — including four FBI agents and a man accused of bank embezzlement. They group was en route to Cincinnati to recover stolen money that Carl Henry Johnson said he had buried in the area.

Both Mrs. Sheppard, who says she is about 70, and her 83-year-old husband, J. Kennard Sheppard, were injured when the twin-engine Cessna 411 struck the two-story, 178-year-old building that was their home and business.

Two days after the crash and explosion, officials in this Cincinnati suburb declared the building unsafe and tore it down. Mrs. Sheppard was angered, claiming she wasn't consulted or given time to salvage items from the rubble.

Her property tax bill, including the special $8,206 assessment, arrived this week. Mrs. Sheppard refused to pay and has hired an attorney.

"What would your reaction be?" Mrs. Sheppard said Friday, otherwise declining to discuss the matter in detail.

Richard Dusterberg, Montgomery law director, said he sent Mrs. Sheppard a letter last December explaining why the city was charging her for equipment rental, demolition, cleanup and traffic control expenses.

"We all think kindly of Mrs. Sheppard out here and we had no desire to confront her with an unexpected and irritating event when she received the bill," Dusterberg said.

Mrs. Sheppard has no intention of paying the tax, according to her attorney, Donald Heile. She wanted to sue the city earlier, but Heile said he persuaded her to wait while pursuing a claim for damages against the FBI that is still pending.

Heile said the lawsuit will claim that the city didn't consult the Sheppards before tearing down the building, and failed to protect belongings removed from the structure. Heile said a city official told him the building's contents were buried at a landfill.

School dispute local matter, head of commission says

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP) — State and church officials, and not the federal government, should settle the dispute over unapproved Christian schools, the head of the U.S. Civil Rights Commission recommended Friday.

But Commission Chairman Clarence Pendleton Jr. refused to rule out future federal participation if talks between state officials and church leaders become stalled.

His recommendation came after a two-day inquiry into the Faith Christian School in Louisville, which operates in defiance of a court order and state law requiring certified teachers. His probe also touched on other unapproved church schools in the state.

"Whatever happens here will have an impetus elsewhere," Pendleton said. "There are about 15 states looking to see what happens in Nebraska."

"I don't see the need for any presence by the federal level," he told reporters after meeting with Joe Lutjeharms, Nebraska's education commissioner. "I think the matter can be solved by the state."

Negotiators need to "put down their emotional rhetoric" and discuss the matter more rationally, Pendleton said.

"Better understanding might lead to some resolution," he said. "But if that doesn't happen, then the constitutional question which has not come to the forefront will have to come about."

The long-running controversy at Louisville heated up again in November when seven fathers of Faith Christian pupils were jailed on contempt because they refused to answer a judge's questions about the school.

One of the men was released after testifying, but the other six refused to testify.

Lutjeharms said he was heartened by Pendleton's decision not to seek immediate federal intervention in the matter.

"I share a lot of his opinions on this, particularly that it's a state matter," Lutjeharms said. "The best way to solve this problem is to sit down and just talk it out and find some compromise."

The church's minister, the Rev. David Pieracy, invites the public to attend.

Opus Dei readies for pope's visit

ROME (AP) — Opus Dei, a controversial, conservative and powerful Roman Catholic movement with members in 87 countries, is gearing up for a visit Sunday from its most influential patron, Pope John Paul II.

The pope will tour a huge job-training, sports and social center in Rome run by the 73,000-member organization, whose name means "God's Work" in Latin.

Vatican sources say the trip will show support for the movement, which counts about 1,000 priests among its ranks.

Opus Dei officials say John Paul, who has praised the organization, will be greeting a "social movement that can be said to have succeeded."

The group, founded 55 years ago in Madrid, seeks to promote traditional Christian values and to suppress immorality. In the 1950s and 1960s it was an important political and religious force in Spain under the regime of Gen. Francisco Franco.

Some members strike themselves with short whips as a symbolic flagellation and wear a coarse hair shirt known as a "cilicio." Such practices are the subject of debate in church circles.

Vatican observers draw a parallel between Opus Dei and the Jesuits, an order known for its liberal thinking. While past popes turned to the Jesuits to lead the Counter-Reformation more than 400 years ago, Pope John Paul II, conservative and Polish-born, looks to Opus Dei to help bring back the faithful to church tradition.

"They're doing things that the pope wants done," said one high-ranking Vatican source who asked not to be identified by name.

"Opus Dei doesn't have any doctrine of its own," said a spokesman for Opus Dei, Giuseppe Corigliano. "The central idea is to be attentive to the majesty of the church.

"It is continuing to grow," he added.

Members take revocable vows of chastity, poverty and obedience. They go to Mass daily, meditate, say the rosary and go to confession frequently. A little more than half of them are married, according to officials of Opus Dei.

Corigliano confirmed the practices of self-flagellation and wearing the hair shirt. But he said they are permitted in limited form.

Sermons should be short, quiet

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — The key to effective preaching is to be "neither too loud nor too long," advised the 18th century founder of Methodism, John Wesley.

His view is contained in a handwritten letter of Nov. 18, 1765, presented by the Lewis Mohr family, descendants of a Methodist bishop, to Melrose United Methodist Church here as part of its celebration of American Methodism's bicentennial.

The Blackwood Brothers will perform at the Word of Life Church, 3838 W. Wall Ave., Wednesday at 8 p.m. Winner of eight Grammy awards, the Blackwood Brothers have performed on such television shows as Barbara Mandrell and the Mandrell Sisters, Hee Haw, PTL and the 700 Club.

Permian Basin Church of Nazarene will hold its first service Sunday

The Permian Basin Church of the Nazarene will hold its first service Sunday at 10:50 a.m. at the church's temporary location, 2813 W. Loop 250.

Midland is in the San Antonio District, which has started 13 new churches in the past two years. The district's Home Mission board felt there was a need for a second Church of the Nazarene in Midland, thus Permian Basin Church was created. Additional service times at the new church include 6 p.m. Sundays. The church has not started its Sunday School yet, but when it does, the school will convene at 9:45 a.m.

The Rev. Ron Luthi, his wife, Susan, and their children, Mark and Celeste, were called by the district to begin this new work here. A graduate of Mid America Nazarene College, Luthi earned his master of divinity from Nazarene Theological Seminary, Kansas City, Mo. Luthi has served the Church of the Nazarene as an evangelist for the past seven years.

"People should enjoy their religion, that is the way God meant it to be," Luthi says. "Not just something we are on Sunday out of duty but rather something we live out in our daily lives."

Ron Luthi, his wife, Susan, and their two children, Mark and Celeste

Formed in 1908 when 1,000 delegates gathered at Pilot Point to form a union between three movements, the Church of the Nazarene celebrated its 75th anniversary Oct. 13.

St. Paul United Methodist kicks off winter camp meeting with evangelist

St. Paul United Methodist Church's 1984 annual winter camp meeting is Sunday through Wednesday. Guest speaker is the Rev. Edmund W. Robb Jr.

Session times are Sunday 8:30, 9:40 and 10:50 a.m. and 7 p.m. and Monday through Wednesday 7 p.m. at 4501 Thomason Drive.

Robb is a ministerial member of the Northwest Texas Conference of the United Methodist Church. He has served as a pastor for more than 20 years and has been an evangelist for 14.

Robb has made guest appearances on such television programs as The Today Show, This Week with David Brinkley, 60 Minutes and Ben Wattenberg at Large.

Robb, who has an honorary doctorate of divinity degree from Asbury Theological Seminary, is the author of three books and his association, the Ed Robb Evangelist Association, publishes a quarterly magazine, "Challenge to Evangelism Today."

He has served as chairman of the executive committee of the Institute on Religion and Democracy and is past chairman of Good News, a forum for Scriptural Christianity within the United Methodist Church. Robb is trustee of Asbury Theological Seminary.

The public is invited to attend.

RELIGION

U.S., Vatican relations changeable

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

A zigzag, on-and-off, sometimes halfway course has marked the U.S. government's relationship with the Vatican, sometimes rankled by waves of anti-Catholicism in this country.

That was the case in 1867 when Congress simply banned appropriations for paying the salary of a U.S. minister to the Vatican, says the eminent American Catholic historian, Monsignor John Tracy Ellis.

It was that law against any funds for the mission that Congress repealed only last September, with the ensuing action this week by President Reagan and the Vatican to reopen formal diplomatic ties.

The step, coming in a period of deepened ecumenical friendship between Roman Catholicism and other churches, still was opposed by Protestants, but generally with lessened intensity.

Film about repoter's 'life as man'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Right in front of reporters, NBC Entertainment President Brandon Tartikoff got a great big kiss from someone wearing a beard and a suit.

Behind the beard was actress Robyn Douglass, star of NBC's upcoming TV movie "My Life as a Man," a fact-based story about a reporter who disguised herself as a man for six months.

She appeared at a news conference Thursday when Tartikoff announced the movie will be broadcast March 16.

Miss Douglass, who had been mingling with reporters in her disguise, said her cross-dressing experience was "very frightening. I really do miss my purse. It's a real drag sitting on your wallet."

She said going to public bathrooms posed a major problem. "I didn't know which one."

The film is based on the story of Carol Lynn Mithers, who disguised herself as a male reporter after facing sex discrimination as a woman. She later wrote about her experiences in an article in the Village Voice.

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) — Teen-age royalty gathered Friday for a dinner and a high-decibel late-night disco party at Amalienborg Palace — at the invitation of Denmark's 73-year-old Queen Mother Ingrid, who has a reputation for keeping up with the times.

More than a ton of sound and light equipment was moved into the Queen Mother's wing of the palace for the dance, to be attended by about 90 young people.

Queen Ingrid was throwing the bash for two Danish grandsons, Crown Prince Frederik, 15, and Joachim, 14.

A royal court spokesman said the invited guests included Crown Prince Filipe of Spain, 15, and his sisters Elene, 20, and Christina, 19. They were joined by Prince Paul, 16, Prince Nicolaos, 14, and Princess Alexia, 18, children of exiled King Constantine and Queen Anne-Marie of Greece, who live in Britain.

"Selected grown-ups" invited included Queen Margrethe II and Prince Henrik, Frederik's and Joachim's parents, as well as Queen Sophia of Spain and Constantine and Anne-Marie.

Margrethe liked her mother's idea so well that she asked the disco operators to move the show to her wing of the palace for a repeat performance Saturday night.

C. Reeve

LONDON (AP) — Actor Christopher Reeve, known to moviegoers for his three "Superman" films, will land on the London stage March 8 when he opens in "The Aspern Papers."

Co-starring Vanessa Redgrave and Dame Wendy Hiller, "The Aspern Papers" will mark Reeve's stage debut in Britain. Adapted by Sir Michael Redgrave, Vanessa's father, in 1959, "The Aspern Papers" is based on the Henry James novella and will be directed by Frith Banbury at the Theater Royal, Haymarket.

Reeve also has appeared in Sidney Lumet's "Deathtrap" and Frank Perry's "Monsignor," and performed on Broadway with Katharine Hepburn in "A Matter of Gravity" and in Lanford Wilson's "Fifth of July."

"The Aspern Papers" will reunite Reeve with Miss Redgrave, his leading lady in the recently filmed "The Bostonians," also adapted from Henry James. Co-starring Jessica Tandy and directed by James Ivory, the film will be released in the United States this spring.

Women rather make love

NEW YORK (AP) — If given a few free hours alone with their husbands, one of every three married women under 35 would rather make love than do anything else. But women over 45 would rather watch TV.

Those were the findings of a nationwide survey published in the February issue of Ladies' Home Journal, based on responses of 86,000 of its readers.

The survey found other differences in various age groups of women, such as the admission by more than 41 percent of the women under 25 that they were regular drug users, whereas over 90 percent of women over 40 said they never used drugs.

Most women — young or old — seemed to have a yen for romance, at least the fairy-tale princess variety. Women of all ages said they would pick Princess Diana if they could change places with anyone for a week.

As for romance in their own lives, it was more starry-eyed and passionate among the young.

The Journal said that one third of the women under 35 answered "make love" when asked what they would be most likely to do if they had a few free hours alone with their husbands. The number dropped to 25 percent for women in the 35 to 45 age group and slipped to 10 percent for women over 45, who were most likely to answer "watch TV."

Mother against Harlequins

GLIDE, Ore. (AP) — Harlequin Books romance novels could become an endangered species in the high school library of this southern Oregon town.

School Superintendent Doyle McCaslin said Friday that a seven-member committee formed by the school board is looking at Harlequin books donated by residents of this small logging and farming community.

The action came after Pauline Forrester of Glide filed a complaint with the board asking that the more than 50 Harlequin books be removed from the high school library.

In her complaint to the board, Mrs. Forrester wrote: "Teen-agers already have trouble with their emotions without being stimulated by poorly written books."

She objected to a passage found in "Between Pride and Passion" by Flora Kidd, McCaslin said.

McCaslin said Mrs. Forrester quoted what she called "one of the milder" passages from the book, which read, "...To enjoy more fully the ripples of sensuousness which were flowing..." from the slow caress of his hands.

"I'VE SEEN EVERY APARTMENT COMMUNITY IN MIDLAND."

"My feet hurt and my patience was wearing thin. I'd seen every apartment community in Midland, and none met my standards... until I discovered Oakridge Apartments. Just a little off the beaten trail, Oakridge has the quiet, private location I'd been looking for. Plus all the other extras I'd just about given up on. Like new construction, nice, friendly neighborhood appeal and superior amenities—indoor spa and sauna, clubhouse and pool, to name just a few—Oakridge is the greatest. I should know, I've seen them all."

1- and 2-bedroom and 2-bedroom studio apartment homes are available now. Take Loop 250 to N. Holiday Hill Road and look for the giant American flag.
