MISS NICKERSON BEGINS SCHOOL-WIDE HEALTH PROGRAM

CRANE ENROLLED IN STATE I. L. P. C.

Will Compete With Schools In Class B

Copies of The Crane have been sent to De Witt Rhedick, director of the Interscholastic League Press Conference, for entrance in the league contests which will be held at Austin in May.

The state for the purposes of this contest has been divided into four sections by the intersection of the 98th meridian with the 31st parallel of latitude, and the sections made are designated as northwest, northeast, southwest, and southeast sections respectively. Schools which happen to be on the line may be in either section at the option of the judges of the contest.

The papers in each section are divided into three classes; namely, Class A, Class B, and Class C. The Crane will compete in the Class B group, which is composed of schools having less than 500 enrollment.

Winners Announced in April.

The first and second ranking papers in each division of the four sections will be announced not earlier than April 10 and not later than April 20. First and second place ranking papers will each be eligible to select two members of their staffs to compete in the State meet. Lodgings for the contestants will be furnished provided they make reservations.

Five Events in Contest.

The contests in journalism consist of five events: news reporting, editorial writing, copy reading, headline writing, and proof reading. The nature of the contest in each of these events will be discussed in detail in the High-School Press column of the Interscholastic Leagueur from time to time. Coordinated with these contests at the State meet will be a series of discussions of the problems of high school journalism.

Awards to Be Given.

To the school whose contestant wins first place in the contests will be given a silver shield; a smaller shield will be given to the school whose contestant is awarded second place. A gold medal will be given to the first place winner; a silver medal will be given to the second place winner; and a bronze medal will be given to the third place winner.

Mrs. J. L. Heydon has been chosen room mother for the senior class to succeed Mrs. M. G. Darnon, who is now room mother for the fourth grade.

YANKI SAN IS PRESENTED TO BIG AUDIENCE

Yanki San, a three act operetta, was presented to a large audience in the high school auditorium last Thursday, February 20.

The operetta was under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Marshall, instructor of music. Character parts were taken by the following: Yanki San, Dorothea Cox; San Fan, Virginia McIntyre; Seven Maids, Mildred McLaurey, Viola Mullins, Carol Kidd, Charlene Wakefield, Doris Mullins, Esaleta Lowery, Juanita Saunders, and Beulah Weatherford; seven roses of Japan, Mildred Nuttall, La Stell Collum, Clemmie Lafferty, Caudine Trice, Anna Reimerstein, Johnny Mae, Freeman, Julia Breland; Chorus, seventh grade girls; ambassadors, Jimmie Garner, Bobbie Blodgett, and Freddie Patton; Prince Toto, Morris Garner; Princess Toto, Carol Kidd; Prince Oto, the Good, Milton Boyd; and Prince Ton Ton, John Perry.

The setting of the operetta is laid in Japan. The story centers around Prince Toto, who was banished to the island of No Man, and his daughter, Yanki San, who was born on the island. She is beloved by the court but hated by her seven sisters, the seven roses of Japan. The sisters bribe the Wolf Witch of the island to cast its evil spell over Yanki San.

Rumors of Yanki San's beauty are carried by the fisher lads to the court of Mikado, and the Mikado sends ambassadors to the island to negotiate for the hand of Yanki San. The Prince refuses to let them see Yanki San and suggests that they take one of the seven, but they depart in anger.

Finally all cures being of no avail to awaken the princess from the spell of the Wolf Witch, and break its charm, Prince Oto, the Good, son of Mikado, slays the Wolf Witch and carries Yanki San back to old Japan as his bride.

The operetta was one of the musical treats of the year.

GET NEW BOOKS

New anthologies for use in the second year English class, arrived last week. The class is studying literature this semester.

The anthology chosen is Literature and Life, Book 2. It is a collection of that which is best in English and American literature. The book is edited by Greenlaw and Stratton and published by Scott - Foresman and company.

Mr. and Mrs. Bankston and Mr. and Mrs. Carothers visited in McCamey Saturday afternoon.

School Attendance Record Ranks High

Attendance for the entire school, with three exceptions, has ranked above ninety for the past twenty days, according to P. V. Patrick, principal of schools. The three exceptions occurred in the first three grades. Mr. Patrick says that there are relatively few unexcused absences in school.

The averages for the various classes were: seniors 95 per cent; juniors 95½ per cent; sophomores 97¼ per cent; freshmen 94¼ per cent; seventh grade 91¼ per cent; sixth grade 91 per cent; fifth grade 98 per cent; fourth grade (Mrs. Patrick) 94 per cent; third and fourth grade (Miss Sewell) 97½ per cent; third grade (Miss Eula Smith) 92 per cent; second grade (Mrs. Miller) 91 per cent; second grade (Miss Cox) 92 per cent; first grade (Miss Harris) 89 per cent; first grade (Miss Anderson) 87 per cent; first grade (Miss Mabel Smith) 87 per cent.

Number Pupils Seek to Enter 1-Act Play

A number of high school students have made application for parts in the one-act play which is to be entered in the Interscholastic League contest, according to Mrs. J. O. Head, director of the play. Two plays, "Flying," and "The Call of the Campus," have been ordered and one of these will be selected. Each requires five characters.

Before the play is presented at the district meet, it will be presented locally, sponsored by the P.-T. A.

Books are expected to arrive at an early date and work will begin immediately. Characters will be selected and announced this week.

Those who have applied for parts are: Dorothea Cox, Marcelle Griffin, Charlene Wakefield, Tom Boone, Milton Boyd, Jimmie Hollis, Gilbert Griffin, and John Perry.

CLASS GETS DIGEST

Copies of the Literary Digest are now received weekly by the members of Mr. Carothers' American History class, and are used in connection with the regular class work. Current events reviewed in the Digest are discussed in class each Monday.

The class chose the Literary Digest for work in current events, because it seemed to review more interesting events than any other magazine.

Mr. and Mrs. Patrick were weekend visitors in Iraan.

STATE HEALTH NURSE IS HERE ALL THIS WEEK

Begins Examinations of Pupils; Many Are Defective

A school-wide health program was inaugurated by Miss Sue Nickerson, state itinerant nurse, when she began her work here on Wednesday, February 19. Miss Nickerson will be in Crane through Friday of this week.

Of three hundred twenty-five grade school children examined, two hundred twenty-three were found to be defective in some respects. A total of three hundred seventy-two defects were recorded.

Many Have Bad Throats.

Bad throats led the list of defects with one hundred-forty recorded in the grade school. One hundred twenty children had bad teeth, and thirty-six had bad vision. Seventy-one children were ten per cent below standard weight and sixty-five had bad posture.

Records Made.

A record card for each child has been filled out and will be kept on file. This card indicates the child's age, weight, and height, and records his defects. These defects will be corrected in so far as is possible by a health program in the schools for the remainder of the year.

P.-T. A. Sponsors Work.

Miss Nickerson comes to Crane largely through the efforts of Superintendent Bankston and the local P.-T. A., who will continue to sponsor the health program in the schools. Drs. W. D. Lanning and W. W. Agnew, Crane County representatives of the Tri-County Medical Association, were also instrumental in bringing Miss Nickerson here.

FIFTH GRADE HAS PICNIC

The Reading club held its last meeting under the trees at twin windmills. The club was called to order by president Barbara Cox, business was attended to and a Washington program was given by members of the club. Miss Nickerson, health nurse, was the club's guest and she gave a very interesting health talk.

Weiners and marshmallows were roasted, and all members romped over the woods for a while. A delightful luncheon was then spread. Mrs. Dahl, Mrs. Howry, Mrs. Darnon, and Mrs. Head, sponsor, accompanied the youngsters on this happy outing.

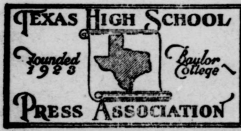

Julia Breland visited in Odessa Sunday.

VALUE OF HEALTH EDUCATION

Health does not mean just absence of disease, but a condition where every part of the body functions abundantly. It is in our schools, through physical education and work in the gymnasium, that good posture is developed. Good posture is conducive to a healthful condition of the heart and lungs. Through the school health work the child learns emotional control and self control in eating, drinking, work, and play. Learning to practice health habits and self control in physical matters is one of the most valuable lessons of life.

Health largely determines interest and endurance; interest and endurance largely determine efficiency. Efficiency in studies and games in youth, and in the serious tasks during maturity, determines happiness. Happiness, a good disposition, and proper attitudes towards living is life's greatest blessing and should be the goal of all.

A TIDY BUILDING

Pupils are becoming careless again about throwing waste paper, chiefly chewing gum wrappers, in the halls, classrooms and patio. Such carelessness does not make for a tidy building, and it seems natural to suppose that since we spend the greater part of the time in school that we should want a neat building.

Start today to try to keep the building cleaner. You will enjoy the time spent here more if you will. Adopt as your slogan, "A neater and cleaner building."

RESPECT FOR AUTHORITY

Recent reports have been made to the effect that high school students are not submitting as graciously as they should to reproofs offered by grade school teachers. It would be well for all high school pupils to remember that grade school teachers have as much authority over pupils on the grounds as do the high school teachers. To say the least of it, it is a mark of impoliteness for a high school pupil to offer any objection when he is asked to do any reasonable thing by any teacher. It is not at all respectful, and no one admires a disrespectful student.

The teachers are thinking only of our good and the good of the group when they correct us, so it would behoove each of us to be respectful of their authority.

How very nice to see the green grass on the patio.

No doubt Carol will be invited to all senior functions.

Wonder why weiner roasts and hikes are so popular now?

For lessons in "How to Become Popular Overnight," see Lawrence Smalley.

Did you see the one lone jon-quil blooming all alone in the patio?

We are all enjoying this beautiful weather, except on the days that the sand blows.

That Mr. Miller should arrive earlier to see Virginia and that Mildred doesn't like to run errands for him.

Have you entered any of the Inter-scholastic League events yet? If not, why not?

Have you seen that little loving cup that you are going to get if you win?

Have you noticed that even in our high school they're wearing them longer?

And more than anything else—Make the Crane School Bigger and Better.

EXCHANGES

Miss Josephine Grisham, 14 year old Abilene High School student, is the only person in the United States under 15 years of age who can play from memory the fifteen two-part inventions by Bach, according to the officials of the Musical American and Musical Courier of New York.

Miss Anna Lewis Morris, a student of Brackenridge High School, San Antonio, is the winner of a loving cup offered by Miss Lawrence for the best short story written in her English IV classes. Miss Morris' story was "His First Crime." The cup is inscribed with the name of the winner and the date.

Miss Angelina Pagliotti, a student in the Santa Barbara, California, High School led the honor roll for the past semester. Miss Pagliotti made a perfect score of A's.

Miss Mattie Mae Kannenbey of Fort Worth and Mrs. Roberta Fleming of New York, former sponsors of The Cotton Boll, Taylor High School, wrote congratulatory letters upon the winning of the T. H. P. A. banner by The Cotton Boll again this year.

"The Nifty Shop," an operetta, was presented by the Girls' Glee club of the Seguin High School recently. The story of the operetta was based upon a woman's love for beautiful clothes. Miss Williams is sponsor for the club.

In Foolish Mood

Little Jack Horner, Sat in a corner, Taking his exam, He looked at his neighbor, Copied his paper, And said, "What a bright boy I am." (apologies to The Abilene High Battery).

Marcele: You may not believe it, but I said "No" to six different men this summer.

Dorothea: I don't doubt it; what were they selling?

Freshman may come And freshmen may go, But the dumber they are The quicker they go.

Miss Hambricht (reading): "The two burglars entered the house as the clock struck one..."

Carol (interrupting): Which one?

John: The baby just laughed when I shook my head.

Johnnie Mae: No wonder, he was always fond of rattles.

Lawrence: Beulah seems like a good sensible girl.

Billy: Yeh, and she won't pay any attention to me either.

Mrs. Carothers: Mr. Carothers is so obstinate.

Mrs. Head: How's that?

Mrs. Carothers: Why it's the hardest thing in the world to make him admit I'm right when he knows I'm wrong.

Sophomores Win in Attendance Contest

By maintaining an average of ninety-seven per cent for the past twenty days, the sophomores won the attendance contest which has been conducted for the high school. As a reward for their victory, the class was given a half-holiday on Friday afternoon, February 21.

The occasion was celebrated by the sophomores with a picnic at the twin windmills on Friday afternoon. They were accompanied by their sponsor, Miss Dudley Ben Hambricht.

Patio Prattle

Dorothea was set on going to a weiner roast Thursday night, and her mother was determined she wasn't, so they compromised. Dorothea stayed at home.

It is best to look behind before you sit down in assembly. For further information see Mrs. O. W. Carothers and Orville Cohn.

If interested in learning the latest slight of hand with thimbles, see Tom Boone.

N. B. Tom says he "learnt" his tricks from the famous Von Heydon.

Ellison Allison has been observed trying to date senior and junior girls for Yanki San. He has good taste but should stick to freshmen.

See "Woman Racket," an all-talking picture. Could it be otherwise?

The grass is really and truly (no foolin') up in the patio. Don't take my word for it. Look at it, but for goodness sake refrain from putting your number elevens on the tender young sprouts.

J. L. says that to say the least Yanki San was very colorful, as he has never seen so many differently colored pajamas before in his life.

Julia Breland, the hardest-boiled egg in the Crane High School, surprised everyone by weeping bitter tears when she was sharply rebuked by Mrs. Carothers.

It used to be the juniors, but now we suppose we will have to put up with it while the sophomores lord over us all for awhile, since they won the holiday.

Judging from appearances, Johnnie Lee Mason is unable to tell whether persons are standing or sitting from looking at them.

In the Spring a young woman's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of clothes, and evidently Spring must be here, since all the girls are blooming out in their new Spring frocks.

SOCIETY

SOPHS HAVE PICNIC

The sophomores celebrated their well earned holiday by a picnic at Salt Lake. Members of the class, accompanied by Miss Hambricht, their sponsor, left the school building at one o'clock and returned in time for those who live in the camps to ride the bus home.

A picnic lunch was spread soon after the arrival at the lake. The lunch consisted of sandwiches, pies, soda pop, cakes, candy and fruit. Needless to say, it was eaten with much "gusto" by the hungry sophs. After the lunch, games were enjoyed.

Faculty Enjoys

Weiner Roast

The faculty club enjoyed a weiner roast at the twin windmills, Wednesday, Feb. 12. The hostesses were Miss Sewell, Miss Snell, and Miss Anderson. The guests enjoyed a picnic supper of weiners, pickles, cheese, onions, garlic and marshmallows.

Those present were: Miss Hambricht, Miss Eula Smith, Mrs. Marshall, Miss Harris, Miss Cox, Miss Deedie Mae Smith, Miss Mable Smith, Mrs. Murley, Mr. and Mrs. Carothers, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick, Mr. Bankston and the hostesses.

Yellow Jackets

to Have Supper

Members of the Yellow Jacket organization plan to give a buffet dinner one evening this week. Each member will be allowed to invite one guest. Miss Dudley Ben Hambricht, sponsor of the organization, will plan the menu and entertainment.

The Yellow Jackets are: Dorothea Cox, Marcelle Griffin, Julia Breland, Vera Morris, Ernestine Hales, Viola Mullins, Virginia McIntyre, Beulah Weatherford, Mildred McLaury, Esaleta Lowery, Carol Kidd, and Johnnie Mae Freeman.

Mrs. Kidd Speaks

in P.-T. A. Meeting

"The Relations of Lungs, Stomach, Heart, and Brain to the Best in Body and Mind," was the subject of a paper read by Mrs. R. W. Kidd at the regular meeting of the Parent - Teachers Association, Monday afternoon, February 17.

That children should be allowed to play in the open air, and that they should be provided the proper foods were among the points stressed by the paper. The fact that barbarian children who wear little or no clothing never have the good health enjoyed by children who wear the proper clothing during their lives was brought out. Much stress was put upon the development of the physical as well as the mental body.

"And a Little Child Shall Lead Them," national P.-T. A. song, was beautifully rendered by Mrs. W. W. Boyd, vice president of the local P.-T. A.

NEW CLASS ORGANIZED

A new class in algebra 1 has recently been organized under the direction of Mr. Patrick, mathematics teacher and principal. The purpose of this class is to help those pupils who need and want help in their work. The class meets at the sixth period and there are about seven pupils reporting for work now.

Home Ec Girls

Make Curtains

Members of the high school home economics class have been busy for the past week making curtains for the dining room and kitchen.

Side drapes for the dining room curtains are made of chintz of floral pattern with tan background and reddish brown flowers predominating. Centers for the curtains are of sand colored French marquisette.

Curtains for the kitchen are of green and orchid printed percale, and are trimmed with borders of orchid.

Portieres of green tapestry hung on poles of dark oak with rings are being made for the door between the dining room and the kitchen.

H. E. Classes

Study Foods

Composition and preparation of foods is to be the subject for study in the high school home economics class this semester, according to Miss Dudley Ben Hambricht, home economics instructor.

The first six weeks will be devoted to the study of the three types of breakfasts: light, medium and heavy, with stress on the application of the facts learned to the home life of the pupils. The girls will learn in connection with their study what a high school girl should eat for breakfast. No formal service will be practiced; only family service is to be studied.

Work for the second six weeks consists of a study of luncheons, and that of the third six weeks will concern child care and guidance.

TESTS GIVEN IN GEOMETRY

Hart's Standard Tests in Geometry were given to the plane geometry class last week. Mr. Patrick says that the results of the test show that the class as a whole has made much improvement in their work.

The two highest averages were made by Leroy Hardaway and Bobby Blodgett.

GRADE SCHOOL PERSONALS

Clara Nichols of Wink spent Valentine afternoon with Miss Eula Smith and pupils.

Nathan Green from Fairview, Texas, entered Mrs. Miller's second grade Tuesday.

Mrs. Miller's second grade room had perfect attendance two days this week.

Mrs. Miller reports that her reading contest is being led by Wayne Allison who has read eight library books. Sixteen pupils out of thirty pupils have reported on at least one book since the contest was begun.

"Los Gringos"

Club Organized

Students of the first year Spanish class met Friday morning to organize a club. "Los Gringos" was selected as the name. "Libro Sacado no hace Letrado" as the motto, and "amarillo y rojo" the colors.

The officers are: President, Ernestine Hales; secretary, Lawrence Smalley; reporter, Esaleta Lowery.

Regular meeting dates will be at ten o'clock a. m., at first and third Fridays of each month.

Boys' Glee Club

to Get Uniforms

Uniforms for the members of the Boys' Glee Club will be ordered this week, according to Gilbert Griffin, president of the club.

White sailor trousers, black sailor ties, white sailor hats, and black shoes have been chosen for the uniforms. These suits will be purchased by the boys.

The personnel of the club is: Billy Potter, Earl Tripp, Orville Cohn, Jimmie Garner, Sidney Goldstein, Bobby Blodgett, Ray Kendrick, Gilbert Griffin, Charles Passur, J. L. Mason, Freddie Patton, Milton Boyd, Casey Dunn, Leroy Hardaway, John Perry, Ellison Allison, Jack Boyd, Morris Garner, and Jimmie Hollis.

The club made its first public appearance when it sang between acts of the operetta "Yanki San," on Thursday, February 20.

Juniors Have

Cactus Hunt

Members of the junior class, accompanied by Mrs. Carothers, class sponsor, and Mrs. McIntyre, room mother, enjoyed a cactus hunt Sunday afternoon, February 16. Those attending the hunt were: Charline Wakefield, Beulah Weatherford, Viola Mullins, Juanita Rylee, Virginia McIntyre, Miss Snell, Lawrence Smalley, Billie Potter, and Mr. Carothers.

Grade School News

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN IN FOURTH GRADE CLUB

Under the able leadership of President Hersel Boyd, renewed interest is being shown in the fourth grade English club, whereby they hope to make some really worthwhile improvements.

At the beginning of this semester, a list of "things to work for" was made. Then it was decided to divide the room and let the girls and boys have charge of the programs alternately. Hersel Boyd was chosen captain for the boys and Helen Passur for the girls. Each captain chose a helper to work with the chairman of the program committee, Lee Padgett.

The boys had charge of the first program; then the girls gave the boys a real treat on Valentine day. Besides some songs, readings and a Valentine play, they sponsored a Valentine box.

For the next meeting the boys planned a surprise for the girls in the form of a "picture show." The scenes were of New York in its earliest days; everybody was interested in them because the class had just finished a study of that city.

There's no telling what is in store for the boys next meeting day, which is Friday, Feb. 28.

FIRST GRADE PUPILS HAVE HEALTH PROJECT

The pupils of Miss Anderson's first grade are interested in health projects, and at present they are having a milk drinking contest. Each child had a little cup and every time he drinks three cups of milk, he puts a ticket in his cup. At the end of a month each child will count his own tickets. The children who have twenty tickets will be allowed to put a gold star on the outside of their cups.

The pupils are also making a health booklet which they call a "Keep Well Book." In the book they paste appropriate foods for healthy children, and daily rules in cleanliness for children.

B HONOR ROLL

FIRST GRADE:

Everett McDoughal, Laura Bell Scott, Jack Hickie, Vernelle Brannon, Mildred Fleming, June Myers, Hester Ryan, Faye Nuttall, Margie Trice, Billie Hartwell, Terry Brunette.

SECOND GRADE:

Hilda Jean Carson, Delphine Owen, Lois Ingram, Ruby Thacker, Frances Miller, June Sweeney.

THIRD GRADE:

Ruby Herron, Ruth Parchman.

FIFTH GRADE:

SIXTH GRADE:

Joy Wilcoxson.

SEVENTH GRADE:

La Stel Collum, Rosebud Riley, Wynona La Rue.

FOURTH GRADE WAGES

WAR ON BAD HABITS

The pupils of Mrs. Patrick's fourth grade have been waging war on their bad habits.

At the beginning of this semester, the children made lists of the good points they should have learned from each chapter studied in the health text. After a discussion of these points, which served as a splendid review, each child made a score pad on which he wrote his very own bad habits. Thereafter a daily check was made to determine whether the pupil or the bad habit had won the day.

At the final check-up it was found that a total of one hundred twenty-five good habits had replaced as many bad habits of the fourth graders.

Fourth grade pupils plan to overcome other bad habits soon.

JUNIOR HI HAS EXHIBIT

The junior high geography and history classes had charge of the exhibit window last week. The work in the window was done under the direction of Miss Snell and represents projects done in and out of class. Materials used in the window included Lincoln booklets, posters, log cabins, and themes; colonial articles, such as beds, harpsicords, stocks and stage coaches; Dutch posters and windmills.

SIXTH GRADERS

STUDY HOLLAND

To transplant Holland and her people in America would seem impossible, but that has been done by Miss Snell's sixth grade geography class. The class has been studying Holland and the sand table in their room has been transformed into a miniature Holland.

Pupils have made Dutch windmills, houses, trees, and people. Posters to show the industries, customs, and means of travel in Holland have also been made.

Modern inventions, chiefly electricity, are making the Dutch windmill and old Dutch conveyances obscure, which is all the more reason that the children should cherish these old things and put forth their best efforts to preserve them. That perhaps is the reason that you can see Holland at its best in the sixth grade room.

GRADES PRESENT PATRIOTIC PROGRAM IN ASSEMBLY

The first four grades presented a patriotic program in assembly on Feb. 22. The program was as follows:

Song—First grade.
Coo Coo—Elizabeth Harris.
Washington Acrostic—Miss Anderson's room.
Hatchet Drill—8 boys of Miss Smith's first grade.

Blacksmith Song—Second grade.
Formation of American Flag—Mrs. Miller's room.

Group of songs—Third and 4th grades.

Piano solo—Clarice Kidd.

Reading—Stanley Armstrong.

Flag Drill—Four boys from fourth grade.

Who?—Ten children from 3rd grade.

Washington reading—Thomas Townsend.

Piano solo—Lena B. Steed.

As a special favor to the visitors Mrs. Marshall gave a demonstration music lesson using third and fourth grade pupils. At the conclusion Mr. Bankston presented Mrs. Marshall with a music portfolio which was given by the music department of the grades, junior and senior high school. The gift was a token of appreciation for the untiring work Mrs. Marshall has done on recent music programs, and especially the operetta, Yanki San, which was rendered to a large audience on Feb. 21.

The grade school will have a separate assembly in the future, and will meet on Tuesdays at nine o'clock. Parents are invited at all times.
