Rounds of Tests Follow Rounds of Earth for Hero

PHS Graduation Ceremonies Set Monday, May 27

Graduation exercises at Pampa High School will be held at 8 p.m. Monday, May 27, in the Harvester field house, principal Cameron Marsh announced today. Vesper services will be held the preceding day, Sunday, at 5 p.m., also at the field house.

Edwin Albers III has been named 1963 Valedictorian and Phyllis Dalsing the Salutatorian, Marsh said.

There are 253 students in the senior class expected to graduate with nine slated to graduate with honors depending on the results of final examinations, he explained.

The vesper service will open with a procession of the senior class to the field house with the high school band playing. Invocation and circumstance." The a cappella choir will sing "If God Be For Us" and "The Battle Hymn of the Republic" accompanied by the band on the latter song.

Four ministers will preside at the service. The Rev. [illegible] Church of the Nazarene, the Rev. [illegible] Church of Christ, the Rev. [illegible] Assembly of God, the Rev. [illegible] Baptist Church and the Rev. Cameron Marsh, the pastor of the First Christian Church will participate in the program. Dr. Douglas Cravens, minister of the First Christian Church, will deliver the invocation and the benediction.

Musical entertainment will feature "Trio in E" played by Lorene Jackson on the clarinet, Gordon Barnes on the bassoon and Marjorie Hickman on the flute accompanied by the band.

Miss Dalsing will make the salutatorian address, class president Gordon R. Balch will speak, and Albers will make the valedictorian speech.

Presentation of diplomas and conferring of honors will be made by Superintendent of Schools Jack Edmondson, Marsh and assistant principal Billy C. Cooper.

The graduating class will sing "Dear Old Pampa High School" followed by the benediction given by L. O. Upshaw, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

The commencement exercises will close with the "recessional "Tannhauser March" by the band.

Harvester Band Is Honored at Banquet, Dance

Members of Pampa High School's Harvester Band were honored at a banquet and dance last night in the school cafeteria.

Some 270 parents of band members and members of the Band Boosters Club were in attendance as more than a half hundred medal awards and honors were conferred on band students.

Top honors of the evening went to Marjorie Hickman, senior, who was presented with the John Philip Sousa award and a $100 scholarship from the Band Boosters.

The Sousa award was presented to Miss Hickman by Fred Stockdale, band director, for "service and dedication to the band and leadership among band members."

Stockdale himself was honored by the band with a gift presented by Rickey Stewart.

Colin Whaley, outgoing Band Boosters president and banquet master of ceremonies, made presentations to Stockdale, Joe Di Cosmo, Robert E. Lee Junior high band director, Homer Krueger, Pampa Junior High director and Charles Meech, elementary school band director.

In a short business session, the following couples were elected to fill Band Boosters offices for the coming year: Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Henderson, president; Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Salzman, first vice president; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Lemmon, second vice president; Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Mercer, secretary, and Mrs. Dona Cornutt, treasurer.

Members of the band were introduced individually by Director Stockdale who also presented medals to members of the band who had won group and individual honors.

Dr. Hubert Bratcher, pastor of First Methodist Church, gave the invocation at the banquet and dinner organ music was played by James Chenoweth.

It was announced at the business session that the Band Boosters Club will conduct a rummage sale next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday at 121 W. Foster (2 doors west of the Coney Island Cafe.

Reds Fire on US 'Copter in North Korea

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UPI) — Communist forces fired on a United Nations command helicopter carrying two American Army officers and forced it to land in Red North Korean territory today.

The incident took place near the demilitarized zone between Communist forces and United Nations command troops.

They were identified as Capts. Ben Weakley Stotts and Charles W. Voltz. Their home address were not immediately available.

U. S. Marine Corps Maj. Gen. George H. Cloud, senior UNC delegate to the military armistice commission, immediately protested the Communist complaint part of the incident during the lunch meeting of the commission held in this truce village in the demilitarized zone between North and South Korea.

Cloud also could immediately learn of the helicopter and the pilots and said they had been fired on by Communist troops while on a "peaceful routine mission."

The Communist chief delegate did not reply to the request or mention the fate of the pilots. He charged, however, that the helicopter had "intruded" into Communist territory illegally and said North Korean forces took "defensive" action.

A UNC spokesman in Seoul said the helicopter was making a routine check of boundary markers along the southern side of the 155-mile-long demilitarized zone which is two and a one-half miles wide.

Joan Kennedy Has Miscarriage

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Mrs. Joan Kennedy, wife of Sen. Edward M. (Ted) Kennedy, D-Mass., has suffered a miscarriage.

Informed sources said Mrs. Kennedy, who was expecting her third child in August, suffered a miscarriage on Tuesday. She was reported resting at home in good condition. However, the sources said she may have to enter a hospital in a couple of weeks.

Textbook Display Slated Tonight

Mrs. Mel Gabler of Hawkins will speak at 7:30 p.m. today in Lovett Memorial Library and discuss textbooks now in use in Texas schools.

Mrs. Gabler also will have on display during the evening a number of textbooks marked for what she describes as "marked for error and omission of historical facts."

The speaker and her husband have conducted an exhaustive study of textbooks used in the schools for the past several years. The books on display have been marked by sentences and paragraphs as required by the State Board of Education for persons who wish to oppose selection of a textbook.

Mrs. Gabler spoke in Amarillo Wednesday, in Hereford and Borger yesterday and last night and comes to Pampa tonight.

"We want parents of Texas to look these books over," Mrs. Gabler said.

Tonight's meeting will be open to the public.

Hello Africa

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper, in a historic "hello Africa" message from space, wished success to African leaders at their Addis Ababa summit conference and "good luck" to all Africans.

Cooper relayed the message to the Zanzibar tracking station a few minutes after passing over Addis Ababa, the capital of the ancient kingom of Ethiopia and site of a unity conference for leaders of 31 idependent African nations.

Astronaut 'Seems Fine' After Bulls-Eye Splash

By ROBERT C. MILLER
United Press International

ABOARD USS KEARSARGE (UPI) — Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper, back to earth from a "magnificent" space flight, today underwent intensive medical tests and questioning to reveal what a 575,000-mile trip through space does to a man.

The tests were scheduled to continue through Saturday aboard the Navy carrier USS Kearsarge, which picked Cooper and his Faith-7 space capsule up Thursday after a bull's-eye landing in the Pacific.

Preliminary medical examinations indicated the peppery, 36-year-old little Air Force major was in fine shape after experiencing a day and a half of weightlessness on America's longest space flight to date. He flew a distance equivalent to a round-trip to the moon.

The medical examinations and technical questioning of Cooper were expected to concentrate primarily on man's ability to withstand the rigors of a flight to the moon and back.

Saturday, Cooper will be flown to Honolulu for a reunion with his wife and two daughters—and the start of a round of celebrations honoring his feat. Among the celebrations will be a reception at the White House on Tuesday.

The 22.9 orbit, 34 hour and 20 minute flight in his Faith 7 capsule carried Cooper a distance of about 575,000 miles. A round trip to the moon would be less than 500,000 miles.

Space officials viewed Cooper's feat as another step, perhaps a giant one, toward putting an American on the moon.

The space officials heaped praise on the astronaut for bringing his space capsule back from space in the pioneer tradition of airmen—by the seat of his pants.

Bullseye Landing

They hailed his flight as "magnificent" and a great feat of science.

Cooper, who made a bullseye landing in the Pacific by manual control after his automatic control system failed, offered his praise to all who took part in the project.

In a special message to Carl Huss of the National Aeronautics and Space Agency's flight dynamics office, he said:

"Looks like you did a fine job on calculation for retro weight. You must have even figured in that one second."

Cooper will be flown to Honolulu Saturday where he will join his wife, Trudy and their daughters, Camala, 14, and Janita, 13. Sunday he returns to Cape Canaveral for a news conference, and Tuesday, accompanied by his family, he will be honored at the White House.

Cooper lost seven pounds but apparently suffered no ill effects from the prolonged period of weightlessness while whirling around and around the world at 17,544 miles per hour, according to Dr. Richard Pollard, space agency physician.

Had Dizzy Spell

"Gordon is in good spirits but tired," Pollard said. "He had a dizzy spell when he first set foot on the deck and this was exactly as we expected. His first words to me were 'Dick, I don't feel too good.'"

OAS Delegates Ignore Warning Not to 'Meddle'

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (UPI)—Investigators from the Organization of American States flew here today despite a government warning against "meddling."

The fact-finding team left Santo Domingo for Port au Prince by commercial air transportation this morning after two days in the Dominican capital conferring with officials there on tensions with Haiti. One OAS team member, Gonzalo Escudero of Ecuador, remained in Santo Domingo.

Haitian officials have indicated they welcome the arrival of the OAS mission and do not plan to hamper its work.

But President Francois Duvalier, asked if he would approve an investigation of alleged government repressions, told newsmen Wednesday that Haiti "cannot permit any meddling . . . in its internal affairs."

Duvalier has twice rejected permission for the OAS Human Rights Commission to send a team to study internal conditions.

The committee arriving today has powers to conciliate the dispute between Haiti and the Dominican Republic. The dispute touches on internal questions, however, since it involves Haitian political refugees in the Dominican Embassy in Port au Prince and the presence of relatives of late Dominican dictator Rafael Trujilo in Haiti.

Pampa to Mark Armed Forces Day May 25

Armed Forces Day in Pampa will be held on Saturday, May 25, and the program has been completed under the guidance of Wesley L. Langham, co-ordinator for the Chamber of Commerce Military Affairs Committee.

The program will begin with a flag raising ceremony at 9 a.m., an exhibit of armed forces equipment in downtown Pampa and a concert by the Amarillo Air Force Band from 11 until 11:45 a.m.

The day's activities will be climaxed with a luncheon in the Starlight Room of the Coronado Inn at 12:15 p.m. featuring an address by Major Edwin L. Miller of the U.S. Air Force Base in Amarillo. Major Miller is a member of the Air Force public speaking team.

Entertainment will be provided by Hubert Carson, music director of the First Methodist Church, and Mrs. Carson.

Dr. Joe R. Donaldson, president of the chamber will preside at the luncheon meeting. Special recognition will be paid to all units of the armed services in operation here.

The luncheon is open to the public and reservations may be made by calling the Chamber of Commerce office, MO 4-3241.

It was announced by the Pampa Key Club that it became necessary to postpone the celebrations from tomorrow until May 25 when vital equipment and personnel were not available for tomorrow.

Truce Shadowed by Racial Leaders' Disagreement

By United Press International

Disagreement over a desegregation pact between Negro leaders and white businessmen today cast a shadow over Birmingham's racial truce.

Integration strategist Martin Luther King Jr. indicated that demonstrations would be resumed in the Alabama steel city unless the "misunderstanding" was ironed out.

There were demonstrations in Greensboro, N.C., and Richmond, Va., Thursday night and rumblings of further racial discontent at Jackson, Miss. Human relations committees were formed at Nashville, Tenn., and Anniston, Ala., to consider racial problems and Knoxville, Tenn., began a program which would eventually ban official segregation.

King told a news conference Thursday the version of the agreement announced by a group of white businessmen did not go as far as Negroes understood it would. The announcement said one Negro clerk would be hired by a downtown department store and that some lunch counters would be desegregated 90 days after the state Supreme Court untangles Birmingham's city government controversy.

Deficits Worsen in Spite Of Economy Boost Signs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's economy showed signs of kicking up its heels today but the good news was partially blunted by word that the balance of payments deficit worsened during the first three months of 1963.

The optimistic economic report came from the Federal Reserve Board which announced Thursday that industrial production in April recorded its highest percentage point increase in 22 months.

A few hours later, the Commerce Department reported that the payments deficit rose to an annual rate of $3.3 billion during the first quarter of the year—about one billion higher than last year's rate.

The industrial production index measures the output in the nation's factories, mines and utilities. It is considered a primary indicator of how the economy is getting along.

The April advance encouraged those economists who feel that business is ready to start a healthy upward surge. The economy has been going up for the past year but at a rate too slow to satisfy the chart-watchers.

The reserve board reported that industrial production in April rose to a record 122.4 per cent of the 1957-59 average. This was 1.8 percentage points higher than in March, and the biggest advance since June, 1961.

The Commerce Department said the seasonally adjusted balance of payments dollar deficit for the first quarter was $820 million compared to $791 million during the last three months of 1962.

The balance of payments deficit is the difference between the dollars spent by U.S. citizens abroad and those spent by foreigners in this country.

The department said the deficit increase was caused mainly by the absence of two factors that helped keep it down in 1962. These were advance repayments of debt obligations by foreign countries and receipt of large commitments of foreign funds for military purchases.

Insurance To Be Hiked on Car Liability

AUSTIN (UPI)—A bill to double the required auto insurance liability in Texas went to Gov. John Connally today for signature.

The bill, which would jack present minimums of $5,000 and $10,000 injury liability to $10,000 and $20,000, was sponsored by Rep. Bob Fairchild of Center and Sen. Martin Dies Jr. of Lufkin.

They estimated it would cost auto owners an additional $4.50 to $6 a year.

The bill would not change current requirements for $5,000 property damage liability.

Voting on the bill was close in the House, where Speaker Byron Tunnell broke a 67-67 tie to gain approval. Twelve senators asked to be recorded as against the measure in a voice-vote.

Reps. Eligio de la Garza of McAllen and John Allen of Longview attempted to block passage of the bill in the House.

Administration officials viewed it as a good omen for Tuesday's nationwide farmer referendum on the wheat control proposal. The wheat plan has become a hot issue in farm areas, rivaling some major political contests in intensity.

Republicans Lose Fight

The feed grain bill, which had passed the House earlier, was driven through the Senate without a single change despite a four-day Republican fight to amend or defeat it.

Democratic success in smashing all amendments averted possible delay in a Senate-House conference, which otherwise would have been necessary to iron out differences in the Senate and House bills.

Kennedy, who is expected to sign the bill into law without delay, hailed the Senate action as "an impressive victory for farmers."

Feed Bill Passage Hailed as Omen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate passage of a feed grain bill boosted administration hopes today for farmer approval of President Kennedy's controversial wheat control program.

The Senate handed the President a major legislative victory Thursday night by passing his measure designed to reduce the feed grain surplus. The vote was 44 to 38.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The 45-35 vote by which the Senate Thursday passed the administration feed grain bill showed Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex., voting for the measure and Sen. John Tower, R-Tex., against.

300 Expected at CoC Membership Meeting Monday

Approximately 300 persons are expected to attend the monthly membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce which will be held at 7 p.m. Monday in the Pam-Tex Corporation's new building on the Borger Highway.

The meeting will honor new members of the chamber secured in the recent membership roundup.

The three winning teams in the membership campaign have donated their prizes to provide the meat for the Barbecue. Reservations are now being made at the Chamber office at $1 per plate.

The program following the barbecue dinner will consist of a film on the aims and objectives of a chamber of commerce, a brief address by the president of the organization, and other entertainment features.

The new Pam-Tex Building which is being completed this week will house Pampa's newest industrial concern in manufacturing steel buildings for the Top o' Texas area.

MORE FLOOD DEATHS

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI)—Another 21 persons have been killed by floods on Iran's frontier with Russia, reports reaching here Thursday said.

The new deaths raised Iran's flood toll in the past week to nearly 100.

Space Triumph as the World Sees It

LONDON (UPI)—The world today cheered L. Gordon Cooper's safe landing in the Pacific, but the Communists made a point of stressing the technical troubles he had to overcome.

The space-age communications brought television scenes of Cooper's flight to an audience estimated at 40 million in Britain and Europe, and Asians followed developments by radio and by films rushed from the United States.

Within hours of Cooper's recovery, world leaders were cabling congratulations to President Kennedy.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev offered his "cordial congratulations on the occasion of cosmonaut G. Cooper's successful flight in the cosmic ship 'Faith 7' which has made a new contribution to the exploration of outer space."

"The Soviet people send the courageous American cosmonaut Gordon Cooper their congratulations and best wishes," he added.

His Family

TAYLOR LAKE VILLAGE, Tex. (UPI) — Mrs. L. Gordon Cooper, who remained calm during her husband's nearly 23 orbits in space, flies with her two daughters to Honolulu today for a reunion with the astronaut.

Trudy Cooper and her daughters, Janita, 13, and Camela, 14, expect to see Cooper Saturday. The family flies to Cape Canaveral for a news conference Sunday. They accepted President Kennedy's invitation to visit the White House Monday.

Mrs. Cooper, a trim, attractive brunette, said she never got worried while Cooper was orbiting the earth.

"I wasn't tense at any time," she said, "I knew he could do it."

The worst part of the whole thing, she said, was the news conference after her husband landed safely in the Pacific within sight of the carrier USS Kearsarge.

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—It only takes these 12 words to spell danger: "In the last five hours, we used every page in the book."

This statement by Walter Williams, operations director of Project Mercury, summarized the perilous descent of astronaut L. Gordon Cooper at the end of America's longest and most successful but most harrowing space shot.

Cooper's space age skill brought from Williams the tribute that the mission had proved that the man aboard a space capsule was "absolutely essential."

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The men in Mercury control whooped with joy and fired up victory cigars when astronaut L. Gordon Cooper splashed safely down in the Pacific.

The same sort of explosive relief affected many beach watchers and residents of this space community who stood by Thursday in the dramatic last moments of the 22.9 - orbit journey of Faith 7.

Two shifts of Mercury officials handled the flight, and both were on hand in the crowded control center for the splashdown.

Lt. Col. John (Shorty) Powers, spokesman for the astronauts and "voice" of Project Mercury during most of the flight, broke out the cigars before the capsule actually hit the water.

Integration strategist Martin Luther King Jr. indicated that demonstrations would be resumed in the Alabama steel city unless the "misunderstanding" was ironed out.

There were demonstrations in Greensboro, N.C., and Richmond, Va., Thursday night and rumblings of further racial discontent at Jackson, Miss. Human relations committees were formed at Nashville, Tenn., and Anniston, Ala., to consider racial problems and Knoxville, Tenn., began a program which would eventually ban official segregation.

King told a news conference Thursday the version of the agreement announced by a group of white businessmen did not go as far as Negroes understood it would. The announcement said one Negro clerk would be hired by a downtown department store and that some lunch counters would be desegregated 90 days after the state Supreme Court untangles Birmingham's city government controversy.

Deficits Worsen in Spite Of Economy Boost Signs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's economy showed signs of kicking up its heels today but the good news was partially blunted by word that the balance of payments deficit worsened during the first three months of 1963.

The optimistic economic report came from the Federal Reserve Board which announced Thursday that industrial production in April recorded its highest percentage point increase in 22 months.

A few hours later, the Commerce Department reported that the payments deficit rose to an annual rate of $3.3 billion during the first quarter of the year—about one billion higher than last year's rate.

The industrial production index measures the output in the nation's factories, mines and utilities. It is considered a primary indicator of how the economy is getting along.

The April advance encouraged those economists who feel that business is ready to start a healthy upward surge. The economy has been going up for the past year but at a rate too slow to satisfy the chairwatchers.

The reserve board reported that industrial production in April rose to a record 122.4 per cent of the 1957-59 average. This was 1.8 percentage points higher than in March, and the biggest advance since June, 1961.

The Commerce Department said the seasonally adjusted balance of payments dollar deficit for the first quarter was $820 million compared to $791 million during the last three months of 1962.

The balance of payments deficit is the difference between the dollars spent by U.S. citizens abroad and those spent by foreigners in this country.

The department said the deficit increase was caused mainly by the absence of two factors that helped keep it down in 1962. These were advance repayments of debt obligations by foreign countries and receipt of large commitments of foreign funds for military purchases.

Insurance To Be Hiked on Car Liability

AUSTIN (UPI)—A bill to double the required auto insurance liability in Texas went to Gov. John Connally today for signature.

The bill, which would jack present minimums of $5,000 and $10,000 injury liability to $10,000 and $20,000, was sponsored by Rep. Bob Fairchild of Center and Sen. Martin Dies Jr. of Lufkin.

They estimated it would cost auto owners an additional $4.50 to $6 a year.

The bill would not change current requirements for $5,000 property damage liability.

Voting on the bill was close in the House, where Speaker Byron Tunnell broke a 67-67 tie to gain approval. Twelve senators asked to be recorded as against the measure in a voice vote.

Reps. Eligio de la Garza of McAllen and John Allen of Long view attempted to block passage of the bill in the House.

Feed Bill Passage Hailed as Omen

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Senate passage of a feed grain bill boosted administration hopes today for farmer approval of President Kennedy's controversial wheat control program.

The Senate handed the President a major legislative victory Thursday night by passing his measure designed to reduce the feed grain surplus. The vote was 44 to 35.

Administration officials viewed it as a good omen for Tuesday's nationwide farmer referendum on the wheat control proposal. The wheat plan has become a hot issue in farm areas, rivaling some major political contests in intensity.

Republicans Lose Fight

The feed grain bill, which had passed the House earlier, was driven through the Senate without a single change despite a four-day Republican fight to amend or defeat it.

Democratic success in smashing all amendments averted possible delay in a Senate-House conference which otherwise would have been necessary to iron out differences in the Senate and House bills.

Kennedy, who is expected to sign the bill into law without delay, hailed the Senate action as "an impressive victory for farmers."

300 Expected at CoC Membership Meeting Monday

Approximately 300 persons are expected to attend the monthly membership meeting of the Chamber of Commerce which will be held at 7 p.m. Monday in the Pam-Tex Corporation's new building on the Borger Highway.

The meeting will honor new members of the chamber secured in the recent membership roundup.

The three winning teams in the membership campaign have donated their prizes to provide the meat for the Barbecue. Reservations are now being made at the Chamber office at $1 per plate.

The program following the barbecue dinner will consist of a film on the aims and objectives of a chamber of commerce, a brief address by the president of the organization, and other entertainment features.

The new Pam-Tex Building which is being completed this week will house Pampa's newest industrial concern in manufacturing steel buildings for the Top o' Texas area.

MORE FLOOD DEATHS

TEHRAN, Iran (UPI)—Another 21 persons have been killed by floods on Iran's frontier with Russia, reports reaching here Thursday said.

The new deaths raised Iran's flood toll in the past week to nearly 100.

Textbook Display Slated Tonight

Mrs. Mel Gabler of Hawkins will speak at 7:30 p.m. today in Lovett Memorial Library and discuss textbooks now in use in Texas schools.

Mrs. Gabler also will have on display during the evening a number of textbooks marked for what she describes as "inaccuracy, error and omission of historical facts."

The speaker and her husband have conducted an exhaustive study of textbooks used in the school for the past several years. The books on display have been marked by sentences and pages as required by the State Board of Education for purchase with a view to approve selection of a textbook.

Mrs. Gabler spoke on Amarillo Wednesday, in Henrietta and Borger yesterday and last night and comes to Pampa tonight.

"We want parents of Texas to look these books over," Mrs. Gabler said.

Tonight's meeting will be open to the public.

Hello Africa

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — Astronaut L. Gordon Cooper in a historic "Hello Africa" message from space, wished success to African leaders in their Addis Ababa summit conference and "good luck" to all Africans.

Cooper relayed the message to the Zanzibar tracking station a few minutes after passing over Addis Ababa, the capital of the ancient kingdom of Ethiopia and site of a unity conference of leaders of 31 independent African nations.

Space Triumph as the World Sees It

LONDON (UPI)—The world today cheered L. Gordon Cooper's safe landing in the Pacific, but the Communists made a point of stressing the technical troubles he had to overcome.

The space age communications brought television scenes of Cooper's flight to an audience estimated at 40 million in Britain and Europe, and Asians followed developments by radio and by lights flashed from the United States.

Within hours of Cooper's recovery, world leaders were calling congratulations to President Kennedy.

Soviet Premier Nikita Khrush chev offered his "cordial congratulations on the occasion of cosmonaut G. Cooper's successful flight in the cosmic ship 'Faith 7' which has made a new contribution to the exploration of outer space."

"The Soviet people send the courageous American cosmonaut Gordon Cooper their congratulations and best wishes," he added.

His Family

TAYLOR LAKE VILLAGE, Tex. (UPI) — Mrs. L. Gordon Cooper, who remained calm during her husband's nearly 23 orbits in space, flies with her two daughters to Honolulu today for a reunion with the astronaut.

Trudy Cooper and her daughters, Janita, 13, and Camela, 14, expect to see Cooper Saturday. The family flies to Cape Canaveral for a news conference Sunday. They accepted President Kennedy's invitation to visit the White House Monday.

Mrs. Cooper, a trim, attractive brunette, said she never got worried while Cooper was orbiting the earth.

"I wasn't tense at any time," she said, "I knew he could do it."

The worst part of the whole thing, she said, was the news conference after her husband landed safely in the Pacific with in sight of the carrier USS Kearsarge.

The Experts

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—It only takes these 12 words to spell danger. "In the last five hours we used every page in the book."

This statement by Walter Williams, operations director of Project Mercury, summarized the perilous descent of astronaut L. Gordon Cooper at the end of America's longest and most successful but most harrowing space shot.

Cooper's space age drill brought from Williams the tribute that the mission had proved that the man aboard a space capsule was "absolutely essential."

At The Controls

CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The men in Mercury control whooped with joy and lifted up victory cigars when astronaut L. Gordon Cooper splashed safely down in the Pacific.

The same sort of explosive relief affected many beach watchers and residents of this space community who stood by Thursday in the dramatic last moments of the 22.8 - orbit journey of Faith 7.

Two shifts of Mercury officials handled the flight, and both were on hand in the crowded control center for the splashdown.

Lt. Col. John (Shorty) Powers, spokesman for the astronauts and "voice" of Project Mercury during most of the flight, broke out the cigars before the capsule actually hit the water.

"This room is somewhat crowded," Powers reported over the public address system. "The cigars are already out. We have

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
United Press International

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The quiet man, astronaut Gordon Cooper, came back from space Thursday, and ad-libbed a sock ending to a sagging day-and-a-half-long television spectacular.

The tension began when Cooper suddenly had trouble with his automatic control system and it became clear he would guide his craft down from orbit by hand. From a television viewpoint, the space landings, though compelling, are usually disappointing because the networks are still unable to provide live pictures of them; the result is that the live voice of the pool reporter at the scene might as well be on radio.

But Thursday, the sudden drama plus the image of laconic confidence built up by Cooper in his 34 hours aloft made it impossible to turn away from the home set, even though all one got was a photograph of the recovery ship and the voice of pool reporter Joe Campbell.

Things had been perfect thus far. Everyone on the air assured us there wasn't much danger now, but it smacked a little of the old saying that a minor operation is an operation on someone else. Then Campbell, who was excellent despite sound trouble, announced jubilantly that Cooper's capsule all at once was in view to the naked eye as it descended from the sky, swinging underneath its parachute. "When he first broke through the clouds," he added, "a mighty cheer went up" on the recovery ship, the aircraft carrier USS Kearsarge.

It was genuinely pulsating, all right. Yet at the same time Campbell's admirable word painting also was a reminder of the magnificence that live coverage is not yet able to bring us pictorially. As an example, the best spot films after Campbell's announcemnet of the sighting were of the crowd cheering in Grand Central Station in New York, where CBS-TV had its cameras. But can you imagine how it would have been to actually see the parachute bursting through the clouds?

Thus, after Wednesday's blastoff, there was little visual action to keep the networks' notable coverage from sagging at time. Yet, almost accidentally, from their scattered views of Cooper's character, there incredibly grew a 34-hour legend: A fascinating build by his background and words from space, of a remarkable human being. The least outwardly sophisticated and glib of the astronauts we have seen in action, he yet became immense in stature, hour by hour, as an utter perfectionist at his job, who could sleep more than seven hours in space and possessed stunningly unaffected self-confidence.

Pampa Area Men Receive Honors

Fifteen Pampa-area employees of Cities Service Oil Company were honored here last night for their service careers with the company.

Those honored locally were among the 1,040 other company employees who are receiving service awards this year at ceremonies throughout the United States and Canada.

Cities Service annually presents awards to its employees who have completed five years of service or any multiple thereof. This year, the total number of recipients represent more than 18,700 man-years of service to the company, with a per-award average of almost 18 years.

Gathering with the local honorees at last night's dinner were company representatives from district, division and headquarters offices. Attending from the Bartlesville, Okla., office were Bill Osborne, general superintendent Gasolene Division; Frank Allen, area superintendent Gasolene Division; Bob Erickson, supervisor field crews Exploration Division; P. E. Barnhart, chief development geologist Exploration Division; Jack Straight, general superintendent Oil Production Division; and J. C. McClure, assistant general superintendent Oil Production Division.

Receiving the ranking awards at the Pampa presentation were O. V. Batson, James L. Brown, Millard L. Cox, L. C. Isom, Marvin Sillyman and R. H. Walker, who all received their 30-year emblems.

Twenty-year awards were given to H. O. Hightower, F. O. Tucker and Earl H. Wallin.

The 15-year award recipients were Eugene D. Bentley and Robert Fonda.

The year service recognition was given to Noel E. Southern, Will A. Sterling William P. Fleck and Bob Lee Thompson.

Five-year award recipient was Robert E. Bishop.

Priest's Jubilee To Be Marked

The silver jubilee of the Rev. Richard W. Lang, C.M., will be celebrated Monday with a Solemn Mass of Thanksgiving at 6 p.m., offered by Father Lang. Monsignor Francis Smyer, pastor of St. Joseph's Church in Amarillo, will deliver the sermon.

The adult choir of St. Vincent's parish will sing a special Mass for the occasion. After the Mass, at 7:30 p.m. a dinner and reception for the clergy and parishoners will be held.

A native of Long Beach, Miss., Father Lang entered the minor seminary of the Congregation of the Mission in Cape Giradeau, Mo. in 1926. Having entered the Novitiate of the Vincentian community in 1930, he made his perpetual vows in 1932. After completing his study of philosophy and theology at St. Mary of the Barrens seminary, Perryville, Mo., he was ordained a priest there on June 5, 1938.

Since 1957, Father Lang has been an assistant at St. Vincent's church here, with care of the Sacred Heart church in Canadian.

Talent Show Scheduled Tomorrow

"Sounds of Broadway," the Pampa High School Student Council talent show for this year, will be presented at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the high school field house.

M. C. for the program will be Don Sears, PHS senior. Susie Fillman and Sheri Walker, also seniors, are student directors.

Proceeds from the show are to go to the American Field Service program to sponsor a foreign exchange student to come to Pampa next year.

About 35 students are planning to participate in the variety show, including the Pampa High twirlers and the Coronados, a dance combo.

A ticket drive is planned for tomorrow at 9 a.m. in front of the old La Nora theatre on North Cuyler. The person selling the most tickets will receive a $25 cash prize.

D. Drainerd Holmes, director of manned space flight for NASA, told reporters at a post-landing news briefing that personnel "let out a whoop in Mercury control when Cooper's main parachute opened."

Powers had to apologize for rasing his voice in excitement at one point after word came from the U.S.S. Kearsarge that Cooper had passed safely through the critical re-entry stage and was floating seaward beneath the capsule's huge parachute.

Similar excitement swept through the residents of this space city, which has watched six U.S. astronauts rocketed into space, three on orbital trips prior to Cooper's flight. The other two were suborbital launches performed early in the manned space program.

CoC Fully Installed in New Quarters

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce now is completely installed in its new quarters in the Hughes Bldg., E. O. Wedgeworth, chamber manager, announced today.

The offices are on the ground floor with the main entrance on N. Somerville St.

Wedgeworth said open house ceremonies for the general membership and the public will be held during the first week of June.

The chamber headquarters also are shared by the Top O' Texas Rodeo Association, the Hereford Breeders Association, and the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce. All three organizations will share office expenses.

The new chamber offices consist of a reception and general business area, the manager's office, a work room, directors conference room, and storage. The front office is finished with white textone walls with walnut wainscoting, with furniture refinished to match. The manager's office is finished with walnut paneling, light milan green carpeting, and gold and green drapes, which were furnished through the courtesy of Celanese Corporation of America.

The directors room is finished with walnut paneling with dark red carpeting. Carpeting for the offices was furnished by R. G. Hughes and was installed by the Citizens Bank & Trust Company.

All of the old office furniture has been completely refinished in walnut shades to match the building decorations by members of the chamber staff. All work inside the building has been completed. Signs and work on the north wall and court yard remain to be finished next week.

Grease Fire

The Pampa Fire Department was called out last night at 6:37 to 1500 N. Williston, the home of Benny Wilson. The fire was caused by grease flaring up on the stove. Firemen reported smoke damage throughout the entire house.

ride, the astronaut had no other choice than to grab the controls and steer it in safely, Williams told a news conference.

Williams said that during the tense five hours after the malfunction occurred, engineers set up and automatic pilot system in a hangar here and worked feverishly to diagram the difficulty.

"All this went on in the time period using up a few pages in the book, so to speak," he said.

Williams said that if the trouble had developed one orbit later, "We would have had to think quite a bit faster."

Future Nurses' Club Allows Members To Determine Fitness For Profession

Today, May 17, the Future Nurses Club of Pampa High School is taking part in nationwide observances of the first national Future Nurses Club Day. Designation of a day in honor of these clubs is a reminder of the problems this city, in common with many other localities, faces through the shortage of nurses, doctors, and other health workers to meet the needs of the ill and handicapped.

The Future Nurses Club of Pampa High School encourages qualified members to enter careers in nursing and health. It is in high school that lifetime careers must be chosen, and it is through such career clubs that high scool students are give then opportunity to discover whether a specified field is or is not appropriate for them.

Part of this exploration helps the community as well, as is seen in the volunteer hospital work done by our Future Nurses, known as the Candy Strippers, in the Highland General Hospital, and their volunteer work in Community Health Projects. At the hospital their schedule is set up under the supervision of Miss Vermell Meador, the Director of Nurses. This year for the first time, their hospital schedule will include the summer months.

At the bi-monthly meetings of the Future Nurses Club, held in the Pampa High School September through April, programs are given and field trips are taken, acquainting the members with the different phases of nursing and related para-medical fields. This club is sponsored by the Gray County Medical Auxiliary, with Mrs. William Ledbetter as faculty advisor.

Dear Abby....

It Takes One To Sue One

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How do you go about suing a lawyer? He is trying to sue me for legal fees which he claims I owe him. I owe him nothing. Now I wish to sue him for damaging my reputation.

REPUTATION RUINED

DEAR RUINED: You go about suing a lawyer the same way you go about suing anyone else. Hire a lawyer.

DEAR ABBY: A friend of mine (and close neighbor) is running around with a married man. She is married, too. I want to know how much I should stick by her. Should I completely turn my back on her and let her know that I don't go along with what she is doing? Another neighbor and close friend (we all have coffee together) is having the same mixed feelings about her. We have always thought a lot of this person until she started confiding in us about her love affair. They are getting real careless about seeing each other and are sure to get caught. There are young children involved. We aren't busy bodies. We just don't know what to do.

CONCERNED FRIENDS

DEAR FRIENDS: Attempt to get your wayward friend back on the straight and narrow. If she isn't interested in changing her ways, end your friendship with her. And tell her why.

DEAR ABBY: Will you please settle an argument? WHO should answer the door when a date comes? I have always thought that the girl NEVER answers the door for a date unless her parents aren't home. Shouldn't one of the parents answer the door and CALL the girl to tell her her date has arrived? Some of my friends say it's the girl's place to answer the door. I think it makes her look too anxious. What do you say?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: It may be more dramatic an entrance for the girl to be "called"—but it's more considerate for the girl to answer the door herself.

DEAR ABBY: I would like some information. I have lived in our neighborhood five years and would like to join the Women's Club. I have never been asked. Does one ask to join? Or wait to be asked?

CURIOUS

DEAR CURIOUS: If you know a woman who is a member, ask her what their policy is. If you do not know a member, telephone the headquarters, and inquire about the "qualifications."

Yes, Abby will send you a personal reply if you send her a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your problem.

For Abby's booklet, "How To Have A Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to ABBY, Box 3565, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Religious Writer Discusses 'Religion In America'

Religion In America
By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

A pastor once startled his congregation by asking:

"How many of you would like to receive a personal message from God to guide you in dealing with your problems and help you make sense out of life?"

After some hesitation, nearly every hand was raised.

"Very well," said the pastor. "I'll tell you where you can find such a message."

He reached into the pulpit and held up a Bible.

"You may have to read this book fairly extensively before you encounter the message that is addressed especially to you," he said.

"But I can guarantee that if you read it faithfully, God will speak to you through it, just as genuinely and personaliy as if He had sent you a telegram."

Basic Fact

That pastor was neither a fanatic nor a fundamentalist. He was trying to communicate a basic fact of Christian experience, on which there is a striking degree of agreement among liberals and conservatives, Protestants and Catholics, ancient church fathers and modern theologians.

"The Bible not only tells us how God sought His people in the past; it is also a means by which He seeks us out today," says Prof. Robert McAfee Brown of Stanford University. "Not only are God's demands and promises brought home to us, but God Himself speaks to us as we take the Bible seriously. It is for this reason that we speak of the Bible as 'the word of God'."

Have No Answer

Why God the Holy Spirit should choose to communicate with men through the pages of an ancient book which contains a little bit of everything, from authentic history to folk myths and from sublime hymns of praise to passionately erotic love poems, is a question that Christians cannot answer. They can only affirm that it happens, and invite skeptics to try for themselves whether it be so.

Some people unfortunately try to reduce the great mystery to an absurd kind of magic. They open the Bible at random, stab their fingers at a verse, and expect therein to find God's instant "answer" to whatever is troubling them at that moment. The notion that divine guidance is dispensed in such a mechanical, penny-in-the-slot manner is a insult to God and puts the Bible on a par with a ouija board.

Less blasphemous, but equally ineffective, is the casual kind of "Scripture nibbling" in which the reader jumps around from one part of the Bible to another, without plan or purpose, reading perhaps a psalm tonight, a chapter from one of the Gospels tomorrow night, and one of St. Paul's letters next week—or next month.

Must Be Studied

Dr. Frederick C. Grant, a leading Biblical scholar of the Episcopal Church, says that those who would hear "the voice of the Lord speaking through the Scriptures" must be willing not merely to read the Bible, but to study it, seriously and systematically.

"We are frequently advised to read the Bible with our own personal needs in mind, and to look for answers to our private questions," says Dr. Grant. "This is good as far as it goes. . .but better still is the advice to study the Bible objectively, and write down what it teaches, summarizing the thought in our own language but without regard — first of all — to our own subjective needs.

"Let the great passages fix themselves in our memory. Let them stay there permanently like bright beacons, launching their powerful shafts of light upon life's problems — our own and everyone's — as they illumine now one, now another dark area of human life.

Dr. Carver Will Speak on 'The Crime of Cowardice'

Dr. Douglas Carver, Pastor of the First Baptist Church, Pampa, will be in the pulpit for both services of worship Sunday. He will speak from the topic, "The Crime of Cowardice" at the 11 a.m. morning worship.

The Church Choir, under the direction of Joe Whitten, will sing 'Salvation Is Created" and Miss Eloise Lane, organist will play "Lento Expressivo" by Ketelbey for the offertory number.

The ordinance of Baptism will be observed at the beginning of the 5 p.m. worship. All awaiting candidates are asked to meet the Pastor in his study at 4:45 p.m. preceding the evening worship. "Disappointment, His Appointment" will be the 5 p.m. sermon subject the Pastor has chosen. The Chapel Choir will sing "Finlandia" by Sibelius and "Sonatina" by Tchaikovsky will be the organ offertory.

Joe Boyd, chairman of the deacons, has called a meeting of the deacons for Monday at 6:30 p.m. in the 'Court House Cafe.

The Church will be host to the Palo Duro Worker's Conference next Tuesday at 6:45 p.m. The emphasis will be on Training Union with a group conference for every age.

The Brotherhood of the church is plannig an unusual meeting for Tuesday, June 4, in the dining hall of the Church. Frank Boggs and Angel Martinez will present the program. Each member of the Brotherhood attending the meeting is urged to bring a prospective church member.

Emphasis is now centered around the coming revival, June 2 through 9, with Angel Martinez and Frank Boggs. Plans for city-wide visitation have been planned, and a class in Soul Winning will be taught on Wednesday, May 22, at 9:30 a.m. in the Church parlor, by Mrs. W. C. Erwin. Interest in the revival is evident in all phases of the work and in all organizations.

Soil Stewardship Week Is Planned For May 19-26

Soil Stewardship Week, a nation-wide observance which places emphasis on man's obligations to God as stewards of the soil, water and other related resources, will be celebrated locally May 19-26, according to James Cliett, chairman of the Gray County Soil Conservation District. The district has a film entitled "The Earth is the Lord's" available for use by churches and organizations.

This year's observance, with the theme, "We Turn Our Eyes to the Future," Cliett said, underscores the responsibility which each citizen has in meeting the responsibilities of soil stewardship. The Gray County Soil Conservation District and some 2,930 companion districts throughout the nation and Puerto Rico, through their state and national associations, are sponsoring the event for the ninth consecutive years.

The Gray County Soil Conservation District, Cliett stated, will distribute, upon request to churches of all faiths, programs, bulletin inserts, posters, and booklets created particularly for this year's observance. The materals were prepared by the National Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts, in cooperation with a Soil Stewardship Advisory Committee composed of leading churchmen in the nation.

Rev. Carson Snow Will Be In Pulpit At Nazarene

Rev. Carson N. Snow Jr., pastor of the Church of the Nazarene, announced this week that he would be preaching in the morning worship service a sermon entitled "The Holy Ghost Is the Answer." It is to be pointed out that today's so-called "post - Christian" man is looking to everything but God and His Holy Spirit for the solution to his problems. Educators, scientists, economists, politicians and many religionists point to what they believe will furnish man's needs, but these have no ultimate answer. Only as the Holy Spirit indwells and purges man can there be the manifestation of God's love which is man's only answer to his present dilemma.

In the evening service Rev. Snow will be preaching from 2 Corinthians 4:4 a sermon entitled "Blinded by the Passing Scene."

The Church of the Nazarene in Pampa has just completed an Assembly Year that is one of the best in the organization's history. Average gains of 20 per cent were shown in attendance and finance. The church is making plans for the construction of a new building and is launching a building fund drive among the membership Sunday.

Episcopal Day School Award Is Given To Mrs. John B. Hessey

The Annual Family Night Dinner was held in the Parish Hall for the children and parents of St. Matthew's Episcopal Day School. The guest of honor was Mrs. John B. Hessey who has retired from the teaching profession. She was presented with a gift from The Rev. William E. West, on behalf of the Day School.

It was announced that an Irene Hessey Library will be started, and those interested in donating books in her name may do so.

Rev. West suggested that those applying for admission to the school do so now. Enrollments are now being taken in the church office for Kindergarten, First, Second, and Third grades.

Those parents interested in applying for admission in the grades should contact the office and request both application for enrollment and application to take the entrance tests which will be given on Monday, May 27, beginning at 9 a.m.

St. Matthew's Episcopal Day School will begin its 10th year of operation in the Fall. It is accredited by the Texas Episcopal School Association and the National Episcopal School Association.

A monthly fee of $21 per child is charged for Kindergarten and $26 per child for the grades. There is a $10 enrollment fee per semester. This fee provides all supplies, books, and equipment and insurance. A discount is given when more than one child per family is enrolled. The Board of Trustees is headed by Rev. West. Mrs. Clem Followell is the business manager and treasurer. The other members of the board are Mrs. W. L. Arrington, Jack Cooper, G. W. Dingus, W. L. Ellis, Lance Kenner, Albert Knox, Dr. Carl Lang, Mrs. J. R. Reeve, E. C. Sidwell, Dr. S. B. Sypert, and Mrs. F. J. Vendrell.

The teachers for the coming year are: Mrs. Glyn Adsit, Mrs. C. D. Anderson, Miss Lelia Clifford, Mrs. James Fitzgerald, and Miss Rosemary Lawlor.

Mrs. Addie Callan Named 'Mother of Year' Sunday

Mrs. Addie Callan, 711 N. Sloan was elected Mother of the Year at the Church of God Sunday morning. There were 36 mothers eligible to win.

She was presented a rubber plant, in a plastic planter, by the pastor.

Mrs. Callan, a native Texan, has lived in Pampa for the past 15 years, moving here from Wheeler in 1947. She has two daughters, Mrs. Robert Douthit, of Pampa, Mrs. L. D. Bryan of Sunray, and four granddaughters.

The contest began on Easter Sunday. To vote for ones mother or grandmother one was required to bring a visitor to Sunday School that had not been in a year. Mrs. Callan received 23 votes. Second, with 22, was Mrs. G. R. Pfiel, and third with 21 was Mrs. Shelby J. Ruff. There were 105 new people who attended between Easter and Mother's Day.

Three years ago Mrs. Callan won a one hundred dollar gift certificate, given by the Shelby J. Ruff Furniture, for bringing over one hundred new people to Sunday School. Mr. Callan is employed by the city of Pampa.

The Church Of God is proud to salute Mrs. Addie Callan as its Mother Of The Year.

Rev. Williams Will Speak Sunday

The sermon topic to be presente by Rev. Loren E. Williams on Sunday morning is "Like Children In The Market Place."

Miss Linda Hubbard, organist, and Mike Scott, assistant director will assist the choir in presenting their special message in music.

The evening service will be at 7 p.m. with a board meeting at 8 p.m.

Plans are underway for the launching of the annual Every Member Commitment Program, under the direction of Price T. Smith. This program is designed to create a greater interest among our people and for the extension of the church program.

The Fidelity group of the Lamar Christian Women's Fellowship will meet Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Dick Sierman, 1032 Prairie Dr. Mrs. B. F. Smith will be in charge of the program on "We Share In Korea and Taiwan."

Rev. Hauck To Deliver Sermon

"And the Lord Sat Down," a sermon from the 1st chapter of Hebrews will be the sermon topic at the First Presbyterian Church. The Reverend Donald S. Hauck will preach at the 11 a.m. worship hour.

The third in a series of inquirers classes will meet at 9:45 a.m. in the Scout room with Rev. Hauck leading a discussion on the Presbyterian doctrines of the Church.

Evening prayer at 7:45 p.m. follows the regular Youth Fellowship meetings at 5:00 p.m. for the Junior Highs and 6:30 p.m. for the Senior Highs.

On Monday evening in a series of pre-teaching classes on "The Lord of Christian Faith and Life" will be conducted by the Pastor in the new Educational Building. These classes are designed to preview the curriculum theme for 1964-65 and to acquaint potential teachers with the church school curriculum of the United Presbyterian Church.

The Decameron is a collection of 100 short stories by the Italian author, Giovanni Boccaccio, published in 1353.

BIOGRAPHY OF A WASTED LIFE

Text: "Remember now thy Creator in the days of thy youth . . ." Proverbs 12;1.

I am fascinated by old worn out things. I see an old car body, placed in a ditch to stop erosion, and I think, "That was once a shiny new car." It seems I see it going proudly down the street in all its glory.

It may have been a honeymoon car for some happy couple or it might have been the proud possession of a poor family that had never before owned a NEW CAR. It could have belonged to a doctor, or lawyer. Maybe it served as a "get-away" car for bandits. At any rate it is now a piece of junk, doing its final duty; awaiting its transition back into mother earth.

I pass an old house, its windows broken out; its roof full of holes; its paint washed away; a few toys scattered over the yard, and I think, if the old house could talk it could tell many things. It could tell of happiness and triumph; of sorrow and frustration. Of birth and life; of death and decay. Of hope and comfort; of disappointment and despair.

But sadest of all is to see an old worn out wasted life, that could have been useful in the hands of God.

I met an old man in a mission once who was an alcoholic. His willpower was gone; he was a slave to strong drink. He asked to speak to me in private. As we walked to the back of the building I tried to picture his life, and the cause of his downfall. He was once some mothers pride and joy; he was now a derelict. Was it bad company? Bad environment? Bad supervision? Or was it some great sorrow in his life? He told me his story:

He was once an ordained deacon in a large church; he lived close to the Lord. He had played the piano — he sat down to the one in the mission and played beautifully. He sang a song that God had given him, and begged me to get it published. It was beautiful: not the writings of a drink-shattered mind; but that of one, gifted in thought and speech. The cause of his downfall?

He had stood and watched as his wife and three lovely children were burned to death in their trailer-home, and had turned to the bottle for comfort. He had turned to the wrong source. God could have helped him. I prayed with him but he kept saying, "IT's too late, too late." The Text, "Remember now thy Creator . . ." Don't let your life story be the BIOGRAPHY OF A WASTED LIFE.

The Pampa Daily News

AN INDEPENDENT FREEDOM NEWSPAPER

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by any government, with the gift of freedom, and that it is every man's duty to God to preserve his own liberty and respect the liberty of others. Freedom is self-control, no more, no less.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guides expressed in the Ten Commandments, the Golden Rule and the Declaration of Independence.

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands Freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities in harmony with the above moral principles.

The Uses Of Slander

What is that element in the human equation that drives normally civilized and decent men to indulge in lies and slander?

Christian theology gives the explanation that man is innately sinful, i.e., he has an immemorial tendency to do the wrong thing when he knows the right thing. Some moralists, on the other hand, contend that it is a reversion to the promptings of the lower animals, an absence of humanity.

We have all known of instances when incidents have been enlarged upon, when words have been tortured as well as manufactured in order to serve the purpose of an individual or organization. The whole thing starts on some valid and honest point but in order to dramatize and sensationalize, the story ends in a series of lies in order to lend "interest" to an otherwise average subject.

The motive behind such actions? They help "sell". . . at least in the short run.

We have also all had the experience of knowing individuals who take a perverse delight in repeating slander, feeling immunity for the action because an "authority" is used as a source. But, as Rose Wilder Lane has pointed out, it is just as damaging to repeat a lie as to originate it.

The refutation of slander is rather difficult because denials and discussion of the subject tend to dignify and give credence. However, the slanderer in the long run damages himself for it is contrary to man's nature that he can, with impunity, set himself apart from the workings of the natural order that dictate a violence to the spirit in the act of bearing false witness.

Hence, the uses of slander are reduced to the same category of human actions that prompt all base men, desperate to accomplish an end by whatever means at hand.

The Single View

Egotism is the art of accepting your own view of your own virtues without the amelioration of your neighbor's views of your vices.

Russian See, Russian Do

News pictures of Cuba's Fidel Castro parading through chilly Moscow recently stirred many thoughts.

It must have been a comfort to Fidel to ride in a car for which spare parts and tires with tread could be had. On his somewhat tattered island, the predominantly American vehicles are in generally sad shape.

One wonders if The Beard bothered to notice how close a copy of the modern U.S. car was his shiny Russan conveyance. It is all there—the stainless steel trim, the extra banks of lights, even the V-shaped monogram which in one form or another has become a U.S. status symbol.

If Castro will dig a little, he will learn, in fact, that the Russians have become the great copyists in the postwar era. Once it was the Japanese. Now Moscow's designers, if that is the term, get out their tracing paper and give the Kremlin close reproductions of many American and western products.

Russia's imitations are a form of flattery we would be happy to do without, but evidently we have no choice but to accept this unwelcome praise.

The American Way

SHOCKING WHITEWASH
By Rosalie M. Gordon
Editor, America's Future

If Americans have not grown completely shockproof, it is the opinion of many close observers of national affairs that people should be shocked beyond measure at a recent action of a government bureau. They refer to the granting of its highest honor and a $50,000 tax-free prize by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission to Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer. The formal presentation of the award will take place later this year, probably by the President of the United States. So there is still time to consider the enormity of this action by a bureau of the American government, with taxpayers' funds, to rehabilitate the reputation of Dr. Oppenheimer.

Security Risk

Dr. Oppenheimer is an acknowledged genius in the field of nuclear physics. But in 1954 the Atomic Energy Commission (its personnel has changed completely since then) denied to him access to secret material because, by a 4 to 1 vote and after a long and exhaustive hearing by a specially appointed and impartial board, they found he was a security risk. Dr. Oppenheimer's own counsel attested to the fairness of the hearing. The evidence showed that among other things Dr. Oppenheimer had close and intimate associations with known communists, some of whom were engaged in espionage, that he contributed money to the Communist Party, that he was not truthful in his testimony before the board, etc.

Whitewash

Ever since then, a group of left-wing, scientists, plus the usual fuzzy-minded liberals some of whom are now in high posts in the New Frontier, have been trying to whitewash Dr. Oppenheimer of the security-risk charge which he brought on himself. However, most of these were private efforts. But now every patriotic American should be deeply concerned about several aspects of what has become an official effort to "clear Dr. Oppenheimer's name" as it is called.

First, the Atomic Energy Commission is an official agency of the U. S. Government. Thus it is acting in the name, and with the money, of the American people — without so much as a by-your-leave —to whitewash Dr. Oppenheimer.

Second, the only one who can really clear his name is Dr. Oppenheimer himself. All he need do is ask for another hearing, tell the full story truthfully and frankly—which he did not do nine years ago — and purge himself of the associations and actions that made him a risk to the security of his country. But when Dr. Oppenheimer was asked last year — at a White House dinner, no less — if he would like another hearing, according to the New York Times he was reported to have replied, in effect, "Not on your life."

Third, and perhaps most important, the award to Dr. Oppenheimer is notice to every budding young scientist in America that they need not be too concerned about how careless they are in their associations or to what extent they may endanger the security of their country.

Perjury

Last but not least, it is perhaps forgotten that Dr. Oppenheimer adamantly opposed our development of the hydrogen bomb. He is believed to have done so from sincere motives. Nevertheless he withheld a letter he received from an Atomic Advisory Commissioner who did not agree with his position. The letter came to light only years later at his security-risk hearings, where he falsely told the inquiry-board that he had had no communication with that commissioner.

Had Dr. Oppenheimer's views on the H-bomb prevailed, it is quite possible that neither he, nor the New Frontier, nor the American people would be around today to witness this strange whitewash.

PRICE-WAGE SELECTIVITY

In asserting that he won't do battle with the steel industry over recent selective price increases, President Kennedy indicates that he may have learned something in the last year.

When the steel industry sought to raise prices in 1962, Mr. Kennedy used all the big artillery of Big Government to force steelmakers to surrender. It was a display of government pressure such as alarmed Americans. Reporters were awakened in the middle of the night to be questioned by government agents. Teams of agents invaded steel company offices in fishing expeditions for data indicating anti-trust violations. And the industry was given to understand that the full range of federal pressure would be employed.

Mr. Kennedy apparently has learned that the U.S. economy cannot be handled in this manner. As a matter of fact, in a competitive economy, there always are selective changes in prices and wages. This results from the normal working of a free market. He has also perhaps learned that a repetition of the economic upheaval he brought about last year would cost him many votes next year.

At any rate, it would not be possible to bar selective price increases so long as selective wage increases are taking place throughout the country. Indeed more selectivity is needed. If the President will uphold selectivity in principle, it will be a very good thing. It is doubtful, however, that the Steelworkers Union will go along with such a system. The custom for the Steel-Workers Union is to make across-the-board — or, more accurately, across-the-industry — demands. Thus the union's wage demands are not selective but are overall. Such demands have a national impact.

Selective price increases make sense because progress in the steel industry is selective. Each company has its own pattern of progress. There is no single plan for automation or for developing new steelmaking processes. As a true free enterprise industry, steel - making is highly competitive. Each steel - making organization decides its lines of progress in the future — what types of steel it will make and where company research should be concentrated. Each company, therefore, has its special price need.

The market should be allowed to work freely in this situation. Obviously, if a company's prices get out of line, it will lose business to its competitors. On the other hand, the company that invests in new machinery or processes, or that engages in costly research for future steel products, should have an undisputed right to set a price level that will enable it to remain in good financial health. For the federal government to force a company into a price straight-jacket would jeopardize the health of the company involved. Thus, it is only reasonable that maximum fluidity in prices should exist.

It is equally reasonable that wages, which are a major item in the cost of steel making, likewise should be worked out on a selective basis. This means that Company A should be free to arrive at one wage scale while Company B arrives at another scale. This is the ideal situation for our economy — a true market determination of prices and wages. But the unions bitterly oppose such a system. They want one overall wage scale in an industry, irrespective of the different financial situations of the companies involved. They want the same wage scale in a company with problems as that in the company that has licked all its problems. The union bosses have no concern for the company operations that give their members a livelihood — and the union bosses aren't about to seek such understanding.

Yet the industrial health of the country demands that the steel industry — and all other industries as well - get away from industry-wide bargaining and return to individual plant settlements of wages. This would promote greater competition in the American economy and a stronger ability on the part of American firms to compete in foreign markets. As a result, U.S. firms would regain business presently lost to foreign competitors. This, in turn, would mean more jobs for American working men.

The industrial unions have not yet realized that they are part of a competitive national economy, facing fierce opposition from other countries, and that wages must be selective — and geared companies are to hold and expand markets in this country and overseas.

HOW TO REFUTE SOCIALIST PROPAGANDA

The interest shown in the subject of freedom during the past two years has been truly unprecedented. Probably never before—in any country — have so many individuals concerned themselves with studies of the blessings of liberty and the need for less government. For many, it has replaced golf or bridge as the number one interest outside of occupation or family.

Such a development is, of course, greatly to be encouraged. For anytime so many people become so interested in freedom, good things are in store for the nation. But the part-time scholar's interest can never be too deep—and it leaves him vulnerable to semantic traps set along the way by the advocates of socialism.

How would you, for example, answer such arguments as: "The more complex the society, the more government control we need;" or "The size of the national debt doesn't matter because we owe it to ourselves;" or "The welfare state is the best security against communism"? Each would require a little thinking wouldn't it?

Answers Provided

Fortunately, someone is way ahead of us. The Foundation For Economic Education has published a new book, "Cliches Of Socialism," in which 32 of the most common socialist remarks are answered logically and persuasively. Copies may be obtained from the Foundation at Irvington - on - Hudson, N.Y., for $1 (cardcover).

You will find the book to be stimulating — as it refutes the cliches stated above, along with 28 others. Included are "I prefer security to freedom;" "Too much government? Just what would you cut out?" and "The Constitution was designed for an agrarian society.'

Fallacy Exposed

The latter fallacy, of course, is circulated widely today — as socialists claim that the President is "hobbled" in his job by the Constitution. To that cliche comes this reply, in part:

"The Constitution was definitely and specifically designed to hobble all people who are so foolish as to think themselves capable of leading others by compulsion. It so functions today to an extent exasperating to the authoritarians—which is why they want to get rid of it. Blessings on the agrarians who designed it. Let us hope we have sense enough, not only to keep what we have left of it, but to restore to it the restrictions against incompetence which already have been taken from it."

The 32 cliches are handled by 10 different authors—including Leonard Read, President of the Foundation; the noted economists Dr. Hans Sennholz and Dr. Murray Rothbard; and Foundation staff members Dr. Paul Poirot and the Rev. Edmund Opitz.

For only one dollar, you'll probably learn more about the weaknesses of socialist propaganda from this book than from any other source.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper functions of government which will not injure anyone.)

Question: "Is the statement 'I do not agree with you' a logical approach to a problem?"

The answer is that it certainly is not a logical approach, because it leaves the impression that the individual making that statement is a standard of right and wrong, that he is an authority, that he is not a seeker after truth, that he doesn't want his assumptions or hypotheses analyzed.

Of course, if the man says "I do not agree with you" and then tells you the reason why he believes you violate the eternal principles or the universal law of Nature, then that is a logical approach, but simply to say "I do not agree with you" without giving a reason is a waste of human energy in making the statement. And it shows that the man or woman making that statement is not particularly interested in learning more and more about human relations and the laws of the universe.

The Doctor Says

PUZZLER FOR MEDICINE—SUBJECT OF BREAST CANCER
By DR. WAYNE BRANDSTADT

In spite of progress made in many fields, breast cancer is still something of an enigma. It is the leading cause of death from cancer in women.

It is estimated that one woman in 18 will develop breast cancer at some time in her life. One fact that has assumed great importance is that there are at least two types of breast cancer, one that depends on the hormonal balance in the body, and one that does not. The chances for effective treatment are a little better in the hormone-dependent type than in the other.

The only lead we have to the cause is that the prevalence appears to be greater in those women who are late in starting to have the menopause. Some observers have stated that the prevalence is greater in women who have not nursed their babies, but the evidence is not convincing.

Unfortunately, the number of mothers who do not nurse their babies has increased in the last 25 years. But the general prevalence rates for breast cancer have not appreciably changed.

Breast cancer rarely occurs on both sides, but women who have had one breast removed for this cause have a 10-times greater chance of getting cancer in the remaining breast than have the general run of women. It is a waste of time to try to tie a breast cancer up with a bump or bruise received in the near or distant past. A recent bump may be merely the thing that brought the tumor to a woman's attention. It is in no way causative.

One hopeful aspect of the problem is the fact that about 95 per cent of breast cancers are now first discovered by the victims themselves.

This is a result of a nationwide campaign to teach women the technique of self-examination, in addition to having periodic check-ups by their doctors.

In case of doubt, your doctor can easily determine the nature of a breast tumor by getting an X-ray examination, using a special method. Such an examination may reveal a tumor that is too small to be felt. The final clincher is the microscopic examination of tissue removed for biopsy.

Many a lump in the breast turns out to be a benign cyst. When so proved, it should not be considered a forerunner of cancer. On the other hand, pain of recent origin that is present on only one side and does not disappear in two or three weeks should be reason enough for a thorough examination by your doctor.

After a great deal of controversy, authorities now agree that once the diagnosis is made, the only safe treatment is a radical removal of the breast. This means removing in one mass not only the breast but also as much of its lymphatic drainage field as possible. This field extends into the armpit. The removal of anything less is almost sure to be followed by an early return of the disease, either near the original site or in the lungs, bones, or liver.

When the operative incision is healed, the treatment is not over by any means. Most doctors now advise intensive X-ray of the region of the removed breast to kill any remnant of cancer that may be present. Failures of this procedure in the past may, among other things, have been due to not using large enough doses of X-ray.

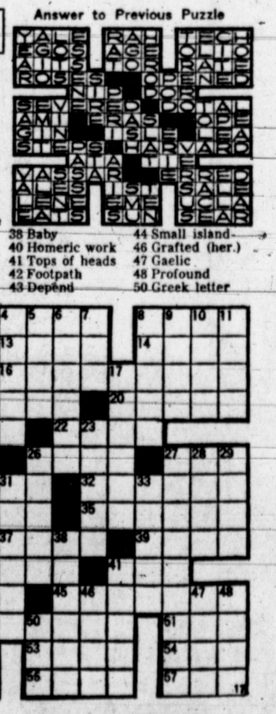

Should the tumor return in spite of expert care, some benefit may be obtained by surgical removal of the ovaries, the adrenals, or both. The fact that some women live 20 years or more after removal of a breast cancer and others only a few months indicates that there is still a lot we don't know about this disease.

NO RELIEF IN SIGHT

Pottery Business Also Hit By Tax Squeeze

By GEORGE BOARDMAN, Ph. D.

At least once a week we receive news connected with the troubles of small business enterprises. Let's look at the commercial pottery business. This is a specialized field. Men and women engaged in this business have spent some time and money learning what to do and how. For a few years, following the end of the last declared war, the pottery business in California enjoyed a little boom. No one made a huge furtune but business was good and improving even though the double squeeze had been put into motion.

Thru the Marshall Plan and a succession of thefts called foreign aid, Americans were being taxed for the support of foreign governments which, in turn, subsidized various business activities. Obviously the increasing taxes piled on Americans steadily reduced profits unless business people continually increased prices for their products. The foreign producers, selling their products at lower prices in American markets, made it next to impossible for American pottery manufacturers to stay in business. With their own taxes being constantly increased, the taxes of employes being increased and low priced foreign made merchandise being imported and distributed around the country, the manufacturers of pottery face a dilemma which plagues an increasingly large segment of American small business. And there's no relief in sight. At least one politician has taken cognizance of this situation but his conversation about it indicates a total inability to separate fact from fancy or cause from effect. He would increase taxes, to spend more tax money to subsidize American business which has been all but killed by confiscatory taxation and the normal stupidity of government.

I hope the people who are fighting to stay in business, find ways and means to survive because a lot of Americans are going to need pots before this mess is over. As a matter of fact, they'll need the pots sooner and should buy them now while their credit cards hold out.

Speaking of credit cards, I've been reading a report which states that some 40,000 credit cards have been voided in just two western states and one southwestern state. This means 40,000 bad risks which were considered good risks just a few months ago and I suppose a good many of the people involved still believe they've never had it so good. The number of personal and company bankruptcies in these three states continues to climb. A bankruptcy means headaches for many people. It creates a chain reaction—a couple of small business firms do not get paid for merchandise sold on credit; a car dealer has another car on his hands and a physician or a dentist or both have another bad debt. Bankruptcies and all forms of business failure are not reflected in the various business reporting pages except as bankruptcies. The sales of products and services involved in the failures are not deleted from the lists and a true perspective may not be available for several weeks or many months. Sales continue to climb but the vitally important factor in every business is missing — profit.

From Switzerland, a correspondent writes to tell me that the American dollar is in a state of disrepair, that most foreigners recognize the fact that our government has lived beyond its means for too long and that the day of reckoning is sneaking up on us. Bankers in Switzerland and informed citizens in Europe generally, are realists and they know that the United States is the only non-communist country which prohibits its citizens from dealing in or owning gold. The present drive to remove the silver backing from currency will not be viewed by intelligent economists and financial experts not connected with the socialist conglomerate, as a confidence inspiring action.

I hope the pottery manufacturers can weather the storm, as well as grocery and hardware and drug stores and retailers in every field of endeavor because in my book, Main Street merchants are the backbone of our economy and that means you and me, also.

Good luck and good health to you, in Freedom.

Pull Up A Chair

By Frank J. Markey

A medical passport that could now available and we recommend save your life in an emergency is if to all travelers, especially those going to foreign countries. It's pocket-sized, costs $1.10 and may be obtained from the Medical Passport Foundation, 35 East 69th Street, New York, N. Y. Your doctor fills in all the details regarding your health, blood type, allergies and any medication he may have have prescribed. Then, if taken ill away from home, any physician can review your medical history at a glance. This brilliant idea came from Dr. C. E. Forkner of the New York Hospital, Cornell Medical Centre.

Some surprising statistics: California produces ten times as much Port as Portugal and three times as much Sherry as Spain. . . . Americans drink 12 times the amount of California wines as they do those of the imported varieties. In a certain district of the Santa Clara Valley, one producer (Almaden) sells half as much wine in the United States as all the French producers put together and more wine than Germany ships to this country.

Country Editor speaking: "The ability to inspire is the key to greatness. All great men of history had this virtue and the New York Yankees always seem to play better baseball when Mickey Mantle is in the lineup." . . .No one ever refers to "Old Ike," "Old Douglas," or "Old Herbert," but if your name is Joseph its a cinch you will be tagged "Old Joe" if you are prominent. Examples: Stalin, the President's father and Speaker Cannon, who ruled Congress a few generations ago. . . Some good advice from Mark Twain: "Don't go around saying the world owes you a living. The world owes you nothing. It was here first."

The monthly index on the cost of living always gives us a smile because it usually reports only a slight fractional drop or advance. A corned beef sandwich in the average New York restaurant sells for $1.00, limes are 11 cents apiece in the supermarket and five new potatoes we picked up today cost 35 cents. New Yorkers must pay $9.90 plus $1.50 to a ticket broker to see a Broadway musical, so we believe the index men must be missing our neighborhood.

The New York Police Department will tell you that our taxi drivers are honest and brave men and hundreds of them have citations attesting to these virtues. Many times we have left valuables in cabs and they have always been recovered at the nearest police station. The cabbies are also required to keep written records of all their operations day and night . . .Wonder if dreams and nightmares are mentally or physically exhausting to those who have them? Or do even the most horrendous visions and fancies ripple through the unconscious mind without causing the slightest trace of wear and tear? . . .Do you remember when one of the playful fancies of your early days was to hold a bright yellow flower beneath the chin — and if the skin reflected the yellow light, it was supposed to indicate you liked butter? . . .Today's smile: "You shouldn't keep telling her that you are not worthy of her." "No? Why not?" "Let it come as a surprise to her."

Yugoslavs Stun U.S. In World Basketball

RIO DE JANEIRO (UPI) — The United States, slightly mortified by its upset loss to Yugoslavia, will attempt to bounce back against twice-beaten France tonight in the world amateur basketball tournament.

The Yugoslavs surprised the previously unbeaten Yanks 75-73 Thursday night when the final round-robin series got under way at Maracana Stadium.

The Soviet Union, which had matched the Yanks' 3-0 record in the preliminary round, remained unbeaten by overpowering France 58-48 and Brazil opened its defense of the world crown with a 61-55 triumph over Puerto Rico. The Brazilians had drawn a bye into the finals.

In tonight's other game, Yugoslavia plays Puerto Rico and Brazil meets Italy. The Russians are idle until Saturday night when they face the United States in a crucial game for both teams.

The Yanks won the recent Pan-American Games championship without losing a game and had hoped to complete another sweep in this tournament. However, the Yugoslavs ruined that Thursday night with a strong second-half comeback.

After trailing by 14 points early in the game, the Yugoslavs reduced their deficit to 32-30 at intermission. They went ahead for the first time at 52-51 midway in the second half and then outfought the favored Yanks the rest of the way.

Babe Ruth League

The pitching finally caught up to the hitting in the Babe Ruth League last night as Bobby Everson of the Bankers won an 8-5 pitching duel from Domingo Velasquez of the Lions in the opening game, and Gary Molberg of Hardware pitched the first shutout of the season, a two-hit 17-0 whitewashing of Enco in the nightcap.

Kist vs. Furr and Cree against Ideal are the twin bill for tonight.

First Game

Lions	0	0	1	0	1	1	0	—	3 4
Bankers	0	2	0	3	0	0	x	—	5 8

Batteries — Domingo Velasquez and Corky Dodd; Bobby Everson and Jim Cornutt: winning pitcher — Everson, so 6, bb 4, hits 4: losing pitcher — Velasquez, so 10, bb 7, hits 8: leading batters — Bank - Chuck Cauthorn, 2 triples; Jim Cornutt and Lin Engle, 2 singles each.

Comments — Everson pitched a fine game -scattered 4 hits, gave only 2 earned runs. Velasquez also pitched well except for second inning when he gave up 3 walks and 2 hits and fourth inning when he was reached for 4 hits and 2 walks.

Second Game

Hardware	0	6	0	0	0	0	11	—	17 14

Batteries — Gary Molberg and Gary Craig; Nick Albus and L. D. Rowden, Chris Kelly (7): winning pitcher — Molberg, so 12, bb 3, hits 2: losing pitcher — Albus, so 7, bb 5, hits 14: leading batters — Hardware -Ronnie Sanders, double and single; Molberg, Davis, Johnson, 2 hits each.

Comments — Molberg gave up only a single in the 3rd and double in the 7th inning while his mates only made one error. Albus pitched good ball (except for 2nd inning when he gave up 4 hits with 3 errors behind him), until the 7th when he gave up 7 hits, walked 3, allowed 5 stolen bases.

Vernon Glass New Cardinal Grid Mentor

BEAUMONT (UPI)— Vernon Glass, 34, backfield coach at Baylor the past two years, has been named head football coach at Lamar Tech, replacing James B. Higgins, who retired to give more time to his job as athletic director and head of the physical education department.

Lamar Tech President Dr. F. L. McDonald announced the hiring Thursday.

Glass will take office June 1.

An all-Southwest Conference quarterback at Rice in 1950, Glass coached four years at Del Mar Junior College in Corpus Christi before moving to Baylor when the Corpus Christi school gave up football.

He was all-state quarterback at Corpus Christi High School in 1946 and holds one Rice record, 217 yards gained passing in a single game against Santa Clara in 1950.

Jeannie Butler To Quarterfinals

MCALLEN (UPI)— Medalist Jeannie Butler of Harlingen and defending champion Mrs. Helen Nash of Galveston advanced as expected Thursday in the quarterfinal round of the 30th annual Texas Women's Public Links golf tournament.

Miss Butler defeated Mrs. Le Beckley, 7-and-5, and Mrs. Nash downed Betty Hanson of Austin, 5-and-3.

Stone Leads Sooner Open

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—Handsome Bob Stone, overcoming a shaky start, carried a one-stroke margin into today's second round of the $35,000 Oklahoma City Open.

Stone, a parttime touring professional from Junction City, Kan., shot a four-under-par 68 on the tough, windswept Quail Creek course to grab the lead.

Right on his heels came defending champion Doug Sanders, host pro Ernie Vossler, Ken Still and George Bayer, all with 69s.

LINE-SMASHERS — Fullback Clive Seymour cuts in behind the blocking of "Big Phil" Klearner as the two got set for today's Green-Gold spring football game at Harvester Stadium. (Daily News Photo)

ANOTHER CHANCE — Coach Norm Phillips points out the national high school records that Randy Matson will get another chance to break tomorrow. The mighty Matson, who has the second best shot put throw in high school history and lost the discus record on a technicality, will have another chance to break the marks at the Abilene Christian College track meet Saturday. Dodger Dissension? Bosox First

LA Takes Eighth Win In 11 Games

By United Press International

What ever happened to all that dissension among the Los Angeles Dodgers?

Manager Walt Alston says everytime he picks up a newspaper he reads about dissension on his ball club.

He probably isn't doing much reading lately or he would have noticed a conspicuous absence of such stories.

Eight victories in 11 games will do it all the time and that's been the Dodgers' pace since May 5 when they began climbing from seventh place. They're second now and have apparent designs of moving even higher.

Southpaw Johnny Podres scored his first victory in more than three weeks Thursday night when he went the distance for the first time since April 24 in beating the Pittsburgh Pirates 1-0.

Podres scattered seven hits, struck out five and walked only one as he took only an hour and 50 minutes to record his second victory of the season.

Loser Don Schwall also gave up seven hits, including two in the ninth inning that did him in.

Gilliam Scores Winner

Jim Gilliam opened the ninth with a single, moved up on a sacrifice and went to third on an infield out. Wally Moon was purposely passed and John Roseboro followed with a single to center that scored the only run of the game.

The league-leading San Francisco Giants kept pace by edging the New York Mets 6-5, the Chicago Cubs clipped the Cincinnati Reds 2-0, the Milwaukee Braves completed a three-game sweep against the St. Louis Cardinals 5-2, and the Philadelphia Phillies continued their mastery over the Houston Colts 5-2.

Willie Mays and Willie McCovey each connected for his sixth homer of the season with one on in the Giants' victory over the Mets. Southpaw Billy O'Dell ran his record to 5-0 although Gaylord Perry had to rescue him when the Mets rallied for four runs in the sixth.

Shuts Out Reds

Larry Jackson whitewashed the Reds on six hits to register his fifth victory in nine decisions for the Cubs.

Pesky Is Candidate For Manager of Year

By United Press International

Some kids hope to grow up and become president, but one former shoeshine boy would much rather be named the American League's manager of the year.

And at the rate he's going, freshman manager Johnny Pesky of the first-place Boston Red Sox might make it.

Pesky delights in telling about his teen-age days in the early '30s when he worked as a clubhouse boy for the Portland club of the Pacific Coast League.

"I used to polish the shoes and sharpen the spikes for guys like Joe DiMaggio, Ted Williams, Mike Higgins and Frank Crosetti," the dark-eyed, 43-year-old Red Sox skipper laughs.

That's all behind him now and so is the rest of the American League.

Pesky's red-hot Red Sox won their fifth straight game and took over the league lead Thursday by blanking the Los Angeles Angels 3-0 on Earl Wilson's two-hitter.

Gets Two Hits

Wilson even contributed a 379-foot triple and a single in Boston's 10-hit attack against Dan Osinski, who usually relieves for the Angels but made his first major league start.

The Red Sox got to Osinski for all their runs in the first inning.

The Cleveland Indians knocked the Chicago White Sox out of first place with a 5-4 victory and the Baltimore Orioles battered the Washington Senators 9-1 in the only other AL games scheduled.

Alvin Beats Brosnan

Max Alvis' homer off Jim Brosnan in the ninth inning gave the Indians their victory over the White Sox. John Buzhardt started for Chicago and had a 2-1 lead until Joe Adcock's three-run double put the Tribe ahead 4-2, in the eighth. Dave Nicholson's two-run double in the top of the ninth tied the score and set the stage for Alvis' fourth homer. Pedro Ramos, Cleveland's third pitcher, was credited with his first victory.

Brooks Robinson drove in four runs for the Orioles and Jackie Brandt three more to tag Washington's Dick Rudolph with his fourth defeat. Baltimore starter Chuck Estrada, who limited the losers to two hits before departing in the sixth with a stiff elbow, won his second game.

Boat & Ski Meet Sunday

The Pampa Boat & Ski Club will hold their first tournament of the season this Sunday at Lake McClellan. There will be an entry fee of $1.50 which will entitle a contestant to enter any one event or all three-slalom, tricks, and jumping.

Providing there are the regulation entrys, there will be eight divisions in each event, senior mem-senior women, men, women, boys, girls, junior boys, and junior girls.

This will be an open ribbon tournament with novice and open classes in each division, novice contestants to be run first Registration will close at 7:00 a.m. Sunday and the tournament will begin at 7:30 a.m.

The Pampa Boat & Ski Club is expecting contestants from clubs all over the Panhandle getting in shape for the club's first sanctioned (American Water Ski Association) tournament to be held in June.

Candy Spots, Never Bend, Chateaugay Pimlico Picks

BALTIMORE (UPI)—Optimism ran high at Pimlico today, with the trainers of Candy Spots, Never Bend and Chateaugay each confident that his horse was ready for the race of his life Saturday in the 87th running of the $180,000 Preakness Stakes.

Eight 3-year olds are scheduled to start in the second of the Triple Crown classics. Candy Spots once again is the favorite, just as he was in the Kentucky Derby two weeks ago.

But Candy Spots failed at Churchill Downs, suffering the only defeat of his career when he finished third behind Darby Dan Farm's Chateaugay and Cain Hoy Stable's Never Bend.

"He looks a little harder than he did for the Derby," said Mesh Tenney, who trains Candy Spots for Rex C. Ellsworth, indicating he believed the son of Nigromante was sharper now than he was at Louisville.

Satisfied With Chateaugay

Jim Conway, who trains Derby winner Chateaugay, was undaunted. Earlier in the week he was worried after Chateaugay turned in a faster mile workout than the trainer desired. But the colt has shown no ill effects and appears to be in high fettle and Conway promises Chateaugay "will run as good or better than he did in Louisville."

Woody Stephens, who trains Never Bend, second in the Derby, said he was completely satisfied with the way that colt has come up to the race after a workout Thursday. He said, "I thought it was as smooth and easy a workout as I've ever seen Never Bend put in."

The same jockeys who rode in the Derby again handle the "big three," with Willie Shoemaker on Candy Spots, Manny Ycaza on Never Bend and Braulio Baeza on Cateaugay.

The Preakness is a crossroads for Chateaugay, who can move a little closer to a clean sweep of the Triple Crown classics by adding the Preakness to his Derby triumph. The Belmont Stakes on June 8 completes the golden series.

Eight Win Triple

Throughout racing history only eight horses have won all three races—Sir Barton, Gallant Fox, Omaha, War Admiral, Whirlaway, Count Fleet, Assault and Citation.

Three other horses had the chance Chateaugay seeks in Saturday's mile and three-sixteenth Preakness. But Carry Back, Tim Tam and Pensive blew the opportunity by failing in the Belmont Stakes after winning the first two.

Ivy Crying Blues At Bronc Banquet

EDINBURG, Tex. (UPI)—Houston Oiler Coach Frank (Pop) Ivy said Thursday night the American Football League's method of drafting created an "impossible situation" in which high payers get the best players.

Ivy, speaking to Pan American College's All-Sports Banquet, made comments on an AFL-NFL championship game, halfback Billy Cannon, and the football betting scandal.

Ivy said Oiler owner Fred Adams has spent "lots of money on the Oilers and does not know if he will recover it.

The coach said if the Oilers filled the stadium in Houston every game they would just break even.

The new domed stadium, the world's first air conditioned sports arena now under construction, will be a help to the Oilers, Ivy said.

Ivy said the annual Oiler budget compares with the $1,200,000 required to operate Pan American College.

"He'll Be Back"

Concerning Oiler halfback Billy Cannon, who it was recently rumored would not come back to the Oilers next season, Ivy said Cannon recently signed a contract for $30,000. "He'll be back for that kind of money."

Ivy predicted there would be an AFL-NFL game in about three or four years. He said things were getting "more friendly" between the two leagues.

On the betting scandal, Ivy said "I am quire sure that (Alex) Karras and (Paul) Hornung will be back the year after next."

Canyon Schools Name Former Superintendent

Huelyn Laycock, director of public information at West Texas State University and former Gray County school superintendent, has been named superintendent of schools at Canyon, effective July 1.

Laycock was the choice of the Canyon school board from among a half dozen applicants to fill the post vacated by the board's refusal to renew the contract of Supt. Joseph Gibson.

Laycock has been a Canyon resident for three years, going from White Deer where he served as superintendent of schools. Prior to that he was Gray county superintendent here in Pampa.

Ladies Night Planned By Engineer Group

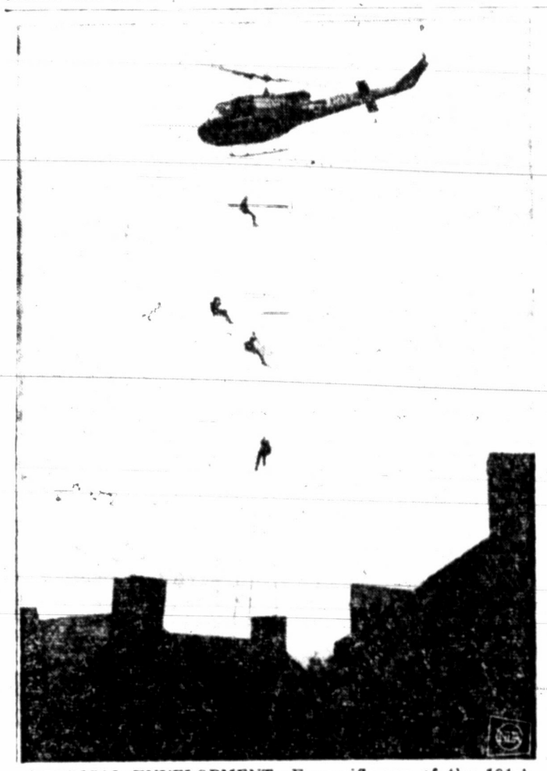

The American Institute of Chemical Engineers will hold their Ladies Night dinner next Tuesday at Sutphens Barbeque in Phillips. The dinner is to begin at 7:15 p.m.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Dan True, Amarillo television announcer. His subject will be "Weather Phenomena."

Reservations for the affair may be made by calling John Davenport, Cabot Corp., MO 4-2596.

The anableps, or four-eye fish, has eyes so constructed it can see above and below water at the same time.

The Panama Canal cuts through the S-shaped isthmus in such a manner that the Atlantic entrance is northwest of the Pacific end.

VERTICAL ENVELOPMENT—Four riflemen of the 101st Airborne Division attack a mock enemy village at Fort Campbell, Ky. The soldiers drop from a UH-1 Iroquois helicopter using the technique of rapelling, which the Army borrowed from Alpine mountain climbers. The attack on the village was filmed for nationwide showing on television in June.

Expense Accounts Due Discussion in Amarillo Meeting

AMARILLO (Spl) — Information on how to meet the new internal revenue service regulations on travel and entertainment expenses will be up for discussion here Saturday by lawyers from 38 area counties.

Other topics will concern changes in the Texas rules of civil procedure, and various aspects of proceedings to collect unsecured judgments.

The all-day legal institute, sponsored jointly by the state bar of Texas and the Amarillo bar association, will be held in the Shamrock oil and gas corporation auditorium, First National Bank building.

Opening remarks will be delivered by S. Tom Morris, Amarillo bar president. Lecturers will include attorneys Jay Ungerman and Joe J. French, Jr., both of Dallas; L. Hamilton Lowe, Austin; and Gus M. Hodges, University of Texas law professor, Austin.

The institute luncheon will be at the Amarillo Club, and wives of the visiting lawyers and local bar members will be entertained with a luncheon and style show at the Amarillo Country Club.

The legal profession's social highlight of the year, a reception and the annual banquet of the Amarillo Bar Association, will be held Saturday beginning at 6 p.m. at the Amarillo Country Club. The program will feature installation of officers, and widely known humorist W. T. Oliver will be the speaker.

President Kennedy is setting an eye-popping record this month of which Democrats won't do any bragging because this is not a record to stoke the maker's pride.

Today or tomorrow or next day, perhaps, Kennedy will set up a spending record that should stand for some time. Soon, anyway, the Kennedy administration can report it has spent more than $100 billion in the first 10 months of the current '63 fiscal year. The latest published spending figure for the fiscal year was as of March 31. Expenditures as of that date were $99.4 billion. Receipts were $90 billion.

These figures are published once a month. To be published in late May are the treasury receipts and expenditures for the period ended April 30. Considering the level of spending as of last March 31, it is obvious that government spending in this fiscal year already has exceeded $100 billion but that the official figures will not show it until publication of the next monthly account.

Spending Compared

The numbers representing government spending and tax collection are incomprehensible for all but the mathematically inclined. Kennedy's 10-month spending achievement may be brought somewhat into focus, however, by comparing it to government expenditures during the first 150 years the United States was in business, 1789-1939. In those 150 years, government spending totalled $132 billion.

The U.S. taxpayer is a goose of solid gold. His provision of tax revenue for the politicians to spend is prodigious. But it rarely is enough. The higher the tax revenue, the higher the spending. For example: In 1955 the treasury collected $60 billion and spent $64 billion for a deficit of about $4 billion. In fiscal 1962, tax revenue had zoomed to more than $81 billion but spending soared to nearly $88 billion and the treasury was in the red for more than $6 billion.

That's the way it goes and it is enough to discourage even the most stupid goose. But the word seems never to get around and the U.S. taxpayer continues to work many weeks or months each year not for the support of himself and his family but for the support of the government. On a single day last week, May 9, U.S. taxpayers poured into the treasury $345,736.90. That was no record, either. On April 30 internal revenue collections were nearly $576 million.

With that kind of money rolling into the treasury the taxpayer might expect the politicians to keep government costs within income. But the taxpayer doesn't expect that at all because he has been too often disappointed or, more likely, because he doesn't realize that endless government spending beyond government income will wreck the United States just as it has ruined other nations.
