POLICE QUELL RIOTS

Mexican Riot Element Dispersed When Demonstration Against Success Execution Made

MEXICO CITY, Mexico, July 5.—(AP)—Premier Calles today announced that he had today when 2,000 laborers of the so-called "red" unions marched upon the building in a demonstration against execution of Nicolás Saucedo and Bartolomé Vazquez in Mazatlan.

No damage was done and the police dispersed the crowd without trouble.

The United States embassy has received several letters and calls from labor leaders protesting against the sentencing of the two men to death and today's demonstration. "Unions' intervention" and "unjust" the execution of Saucedo and Vazquez proceeded, about 150 men on touristic policemen, armed with rifles, rushed to the scene, blocked the street and protected the entrance to the consular. The crowd was then forced to disband and to scatter.

American Consul General Alexander W. Woodell stood on the balcony of the consulate watching the proceedings and later said that the police were most efficient.

The "red" labor unions have given their description by themselves to die through them from Cron, the Mexican, capitalist, consideration of labor which is the most important of Mexican labor organizations.

U. S. FLIERS HONORED

Cross Of Legion Of Honor Will Be Awarded By U. S. Government to Frenchmen in Near Future

PARIS, July 5.—(AP)—The American aviators who flew across the Atlantic in the Columbia and America had another day of receptions from breakfast until dinner in the evening and then they were allowed the night hours to go to bed as they wished. Some of them decided to go to bed without rest, while the others slept privately with friends or joined the tourist trek to Montmartre.

Commander Byrd again was the center of interest in all the public appearances the aviators made. With his medals and decorations, he has captivated the hearts of the French, as well as their admiration.

—Just as Lindbergh did before him, the cross of the Legion of Honor will be conferred upon Commander Byrd, the government having decided today to bestow it in this manner. The same distinction may also be conferred upon Amelia, Nov. 11, and Balthus, the commander's two companions of the trans-Atlantic flight, but this will be definitely determined.

Geneva Parley Reaches Climax With Outcome A Treaty Or Deadlock

(By Associated Press) GENEVA, Switzerland, July 5.—A crucial stage has been reached in the tripartite naval conference. Whether events at this critical turning point pushed the negotiators toward an actual rupture or toward an actual treaty undoubtedly depends chiefly on Great Britain.

The United States today, actually stated, by a conditionalistic desire to understand British cruiser needs and meet them as far as possible, practically told the naval delegates that it would go to the extreme maximum limit of 40,000 tons, which is 100,000 tons more than the maximum for cruisers contained in the original American proposal, but strongly indicated simultaneously that it would exert continued effort to get limitation well under $40,000 tons.

England Denies Aggression The sudden American initiative induced W. C. Bridgeman, first lord of the British admiralty, to advise the press representatives tonight and to them he vigorously denied reports that Great Britain was animated by aggressive designs in asking for a large number of small cruisers. The described Great Britain as a country in constant danger of intervention of food supplies and remarked that during the war 70 cruisers were occupied in chasing the German raider Emden, with 25 of her heels at one time, before she was "run to earth."

M. Hildesley's answer to a question confirmed the impression that the conference now is actually on the border of a precipice. The question was: "Do you consider the chances for the success of the conference better now than on the 25th day?"

Steps For Treaty The answer to the head of the British delegation was: "The prospects on the first day were not as bright as I had hoped, but I will be greatly disappointed if we do not find some way to agree."

The naval delegates as a whole appear to desire to understand British cruiser requirements, but were impatient that the United States should still insist if Great Britain's needs are to be fully recognized. The situation is that the

Revive Middle-aged Behavior For Mothers And Youth's Jazz Age Will Pass

A maid from Hollywood apologizes, as it were, for such a thing as a husband. She admits that most motion picture cuties have husbands who are least concealed from the public. She explains a general belief in her circle that the fans want marriageless stars. In her apologetic for husbands, Miss Del Rio says—"The right kind of a husband one who has a sympathetic understanding, is of infinite help to his wife. He can give her encouragement when she needs it."

"An admirable example of the grace, dignity and usefulness of middle years is Mrs. J. Lester Lewine."

(By NEA Service) NEW YORK, July 5—There may be a crusade launched soon for the just middle years of American womanhood. And again, there may not.

One New York woman, at any rate, has come out flat-footedly to advocate leaving flapping to the flappers and urging middle-aged women in quest of their youth to abandon the chase and return to the age of reason.

Mrs. J. Lester Lewine, lecturer and clubwoman, is the "Knight of the Middle Years." Her dream is a renaissance of middle-aged behavior and middle-aged appearance for women no longer young.

Lecturing before clubwomen, Mrs. Lewine has received some complimentary from the tired, youngish-old woman in her heart of hearts is pining to "settle." But then, there have been stinging criticisms and scathing accusations that she is a traitor to her sex.

"It is all right for Grandma to have her own hatch-her-mom," Mrs. Lewine admits. "But I wish we could trust her to act her age while using it."

It is from a firm conviction that added years have their compensations that her enthusiasm for her cause springs. They have to Mrs. Lewine. She is an admirable example of the grace, dignity and usefulness of those "driving, striving, middle years."

Wonder how the boys like this picture of what is expected of them? And what a titter it gives some of us as we picture the reversal of the duties of the sexes! Time was when wives were taught that it was their duty to smooth his furrowed brow when he came home from that hard day in the office. Now, "would seem," 'tis the husband's part to soothe his harrowed spirits when she comes home from a hard day at the office or studio.

WHIFF FROM PAST

"Gentlemen may not smoke while ladies are in the bus." So read a sign in a downtown bus which I recently rode through banks of sweet, wild clover, buttercups and daisies, an neat sprouting old farm houses manifold in climbing yellow and pink cinnamon-spiced roses. The sign seemed atune with the region through which I rode. It harked back to a day when the "very stoutest" made any truly feminine and delicate lady blush! That was a day when she flinched at the sight of a snake or a mouse and "just died" if her petticoat showed. And yet hard-boiled though we may be, "gentlemen" is this probing chivalry, even though we oft yearn to shout, "I just love the smell of a good cigar!" Long may the pastoral viewpoint wave.

THE W. C. T. U.'ERS! Speaking of smoking, at a recent W. C. T. U. meeting another housewife was fired at smoking ladies. The county president again said that the time had come when all good women, as mothers and citizens, must rise up and protest against the evil of cigar smoking and its influence on born and unborn generations. She asked hotels and restaurants to forbid women smoking in their offices.

THINK IT THROUGH!

Now, lest you misunderstand me I am not advocating wholesale and universal feminine smoking. I have never quite gotten accustomed to the sight of a babyface Miss. 16 smoking anywhere, nor to most any woman puffing vigorously in public. But I do get out of all patience with an organization which tries to foist traditional taboos upon other people just because they are taboos. I am without real information regarding Truth compels me to state that as many physicians and scientists declare that smoking harms no one as declare that it does. When the W. C. T. U. or anyone else will fight with facts and not prejudice, I'll listen to them—but not before!

SAGE TEA DANDY TO DARKEN HAIR

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Back Color and Lustre to Hair. You can turn gray, faded hair beautifully dark and lustrous almost over night if you'll get a bottle of "Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound" at any drug store. Millions of bottles of this old famous Sage Tea Recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, are sold annually, say well-known druggists here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray or becoming faded have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful. This is the age of youth, gray-haired, unattractive folks are wasted around, so get busy with Wyneth's Sage and Sulphur Compound to-night and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days.

10 Commandments of Child Training

TEACH YOUR CHILD THRIFT AND IN YEARS TO COME HE WILL PROFIT BY IT

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON and instantly conscious of his part he will probably save the biggest part of it. An allowance is the A. C. of money situation. Give a child of six school age is young enough to begin to save a dime or a quarter a week. No matter what wealth may be in the family, give him very, very little. Out of this make him pay his Sunday school money, put a little sum in his bank, buy him pencils or ruler, or whatever necessity he decides he must have. Teach him that the money is his very own but that necessities come first. If there is any left over then he may indulge in the luxury of a soda or an ice cream cone or a bit of candy. And don't buy him luxuries for him, and don't give him another cent until allowance day. He will learn to walk past a candy store or balloon man or a movie with money in his pocket. That's the big thing. And he will learn that the pinch means if he has spent his money too quickly or too foolishly. That pinch is the best thing in the world for him. Let him feel it. As he gets older trust him with more money and more responsibility. Let him pay for more things for himself. He will learn the great lesson of doing without this in order to get that. It is very important.

LAUNDRYMEN SOUSE SHYLOCKS UNDER BY COUNT OF 14 TO 3

Judge Hald's pitching staff didn't have a prayer yesterday and the Laundry nine took advantage of the situation by taking a one-sided affair at the Merrill Park by a count of 14 to 3. Tom Arnold, right hander, pitched for the Shylocks, started the affair and was relieved by Moody Smith, veteran fast ball hurler, before the initial frame was completed. Arnold walked three, hit one, and the Washermen cranked out three hits for seven runs before Smith went on the hill. Moody Smith had but little luck in stopping the cleaners as they scored four runs off of him before ending the first inning. The Laundrymen scored a total of eleven runs in the first session.

HIGHER LIVESTOCK MARKET FORECAST

ALPINE July 5.—Cattle growers of the entire Western country are in the strongest strategic position in the history of the industry. James E. Pool of Chicago, one of the best known and best informed writers on livestock in the country, declared at a meeting of cattle raisers and business men of this section held at the Holland hotel, Senator Benjamin F. Berkeley, who presided at the meeting, introduced Mr. W. B. Mitchell of Marfa as one of the leading cattlemen of this section and Mr. Mitchell in turn presented Mr. Pool, who addressed the gathering. Continuing he said that feeders, who have had the advantage of an abundant supply of stock cattle since the war, are realizing that the surplus stocks have disappeared. Margins on the crop of cattle that went into feeders' hands in fall and have since gone to the butcher have ranged from $2 to $2 per hundred a performance that can not be repeated. It is believed the breeder now holds the big end of the stick and will for years to come unless something unforeseen happens, he said. Significant is that the usual protest that comes from beef consumers when cattle advance has not been heard on this occasion; the public has taken the entire package and clamored for more. One reason for this is the high purchasing capacity of the Eastern industrial masses. Another that the price is adapted to consumers' needs. The medium of heavy beef supply now affords no excess actual need, and therefore a $12 to $14 market at Chicago for that type of cattle, which was a drop on the market last fall at $8.50 to $9.50 would be impossible. The supply is still falling to live weights of 700 to 1200 pounds and the long string of fat cattle on the Chicago market has earned $10.50 to $12.75 for weeks past. Most of these steers are on the youngling order, furnishing the kind of beef that moves through distributing channels without obstacles.

LIQUOR LAW VIOLATORS ARE BEING ROUTED TEXAS MAN SAYS

50 STILL SEIZED

WEST TEXAS DISTRICT IN LEAD FOR SEIZURES RECORDS SHOW

By Associated Press. FORT WORTH, July 5.—The prohibition enforcement forces of the country are slowly but surely getting the upper hand in their fight with bootleggers and liquor law violators and the public will be more than ever aware of it in the coming year, Frank Wright, administrator for district 17, which includes Texas and Oklahoma, said today.

He cited the report of his district for the month of May in support of his connections that enforcement agencies were making decided headway in their conflict with bootlegging.

150 Still Seized May. During May, 150 stills of an average capacity of 117 and will be taken care of along with automobiles, 6,212 3-4 gallons of liquor, and 51,161 gallons of mash.

West Texas in Lead. The largest number of stills in this state was seized in West Texas, where 47 were taken.

Factors Aiding Fight. The service regulations of prohibition enforcement forces, and the agitation of the liquor question are other factors which will aid the agents this year, Wright said.

She is a former missionary and the widow of a former Methodist preacher. She had several Bible classes in different parts of the city until Calles, the president, passed a law prohibiting the teaching of the Bible in either Catholic or Protestant schools.

She's a Busy Woman. The former missionary is probably one of the busiest women in the Methodist College, judging from the number of classes she teaches.

Agreement to send the exhibit jointly as a part of the Dairy in Dixie display at the National Dairy Show was reached by officials of the three state regional chambers during the Texas Commercial Exchange convention at Sherman.

Senora Reyes received her education in Colegio Ingles, an English college in Monterrey. "But it was nothing like C. I. A.," she adds.

DAILY MARKETS

COTTON SLOW NEW YORK, July 6 (AP)—The cotton market was quiet today, prices showing moderate declines owing to a favorable view of weather conditions in the south over the holiday. October contracts sold off to 17.02 and 16.17, closing at 17.04. The general market closed steady at a net decline of 7 to 13 points.

The market opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 9 points, and after a 15 1/2 point irregularly sold about 11 to 15 points below Saturday's closing quotations. Selling on the more favorable view of the weather, appeared to be held in check by continued apprehensions of boll weevil damage, and possibility that the report on boll weevil emergence expected from the Department of Agriculture tomorrow, would make a bullish showing with offerings high, prices worked higher after evening off to 16.90 to 16.79 for July, and from 17.29 to 17.21 for October, the market steadied on covering.

of work was done he applauded or turned to Senator Norbeck for an explanation.

Indian Dance Pleases One of the events which seemed to please both the president and Mrs. Coolidge was the Omaha Indian dance in which a hundred redskins participated dressed in their native war paint, blankets and feathers.

The Indians rushed into the runway before the president's box yelling savage cries, waving their arms and shaking their bodies. A single tom-tom beat out the steady rhythm, the redskins moved into their primitive dance, the Indian backs first kicking high and then bending low and the squaws furnished most of the yelling. A single note of the new life that has come to them was detected in the cardboard fans, a few of the squaws raised to shield their eyes from the bright sun which beat down on them.

Greetings For Cal The crowd was in a holiday mood and laughed whenever a cowboy on horse galloped in front of Mr. Coolidge and called "hello, Cal." he presided smiling and also was amused when the roundup announcer specified one of the bucking broncos as "Cal Coolidge."

When "Dakota" Clyde Jones in charge of the Custer state park rangers and the president's favorite, dashed out of the chute astride a wildly bucking broncho and struck to his back both Mr. and Mrs. Coolidge applauded loudly. Tad Lucas, of Fort Worth, Texas, champion cowgirl drew a round of applause when she dashed by on Alkali Gray and the crowd cheered when Fox Hastings, only woman bull dogger subdued a big steer after several minutes of strenuous "bull dogging."

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Barron and family are leaving today for a short visit in Colorado Springs, Colo. While there they will be guests of Mrs. R. G. Holmes, also of Lubbock who are spending the summer there.

LEGIONAIRES HAVE VARIED PROGRAM

CONVENTION SEES BOXING MATCH AND HEARS OF LEGION PROBLEMS

(By Associated Press)

HOUSTON, July 5 (AP)—A boxing match between Pal Moran of New Orleans and Tommy White of Texas City, Texas, tonight and speech-making this afternoon wound up the second day of the Texas American Legion convention. A capacity house at the city auditorium greeted the boxers, many of the participants of White who claims to be welter-weight champion of Mexico.

Resolutions at the morning session covered a wide range from the Mississippi river flood control to a variety of subjects connected directly with the legion and its ramifications. Colonel Alvin M. Owsley, former National Commander, one of the principal speakers, told the legionnaires great gains in membership had been made in the past year in Texas but he hoped for a huge total when the national convention meets in San Antonio next year. Money is in the legion treasury for the first time, he said, and he predicted that you have gotten into trouble before by making raids on the treasury, and advised his auditors to "go slow. Be careful and judicious in its expenditures," he said.

Owsley Gets Ovation Colonel Owsley was given a tremendous ovation. A critic later privately reiterated to newspapermen, in regard to his probable candidacy for the United States senate that this is a very inopportune time to discuss politics. Congressman Tom Connally of Marlin, in an address declared that the United States must have a navy equal to any that floats. Limitation of armaments is desirable but we must not sacrifice the battleship, which the United States is entitled. In closing their three day session Wednesday, the legionnaires will select a new state commander and the meeting place for next year's convention which will be held in Lubbock early in the afternoon. Wichita Falls, Dallas and Texarkana are in the running.

terminate the conversation. When Carpenter left he noticed that the negroes made no move to start talking, but thought nothing of it at the time.

The fact that Mrs. Weatherby had been shot as well as flagged was developed from a superficial examination of her body. It wasn't learned whether the two children had been shot.

Sister Lives Here Miss Bonnie Weatherby of Wichita Falls, sister of Frank Weatherby who with his wife and two children was found dead at his home in Donkey county July 4. Until she read of the tragedy in the papers Miss Weatherby had no known of it and until after noon she had no further word. A brother who had visited Mr. and Mrs. Frank Weatherby about an hour ago, has visited the scene and Miss Weatherby expects word from him soon.

Miss Weatherby has been attending the Technological college and is secretary to Clyde P. Ekins, local attorney.

ORIENT ROAD

Salaries Paid Recently Since the plan for the reorganization has been under approval subject for final settlement, Mr. Kemper and Mr. Histed have been receiving salaries. It was testified Mr. Kemper said his salary as president of the company had been fixed at $50,000 a year, which he had been receiving since January 1, 1927. He said he obtained $40,000 in salary in 1926 and $32,000 expense for labor and work done in connection with the reorganization. That was several years ago, he said.

Mr. Histed is receiving a salary of $1,000 a month as attorney for the tentative company.

When it appeared that reorganization plans would be successful it was testified that Mr. Kemper drew $200,000 and Mr. Histed $100,000 on account for their years of work. Later when it developed that further controversy would follow, Mr. Kemper revealed yesterday that the dream of Arthur E. Hill, promoter of the railroad, was a reality and that the road now is taking its place in the rail world.

The present case is in accordance with the decision of the St. Louis court of appeals, in which the compensation case for the receiver and his associates was sent back to the lower court for determination.

Mr. Kemper, Histed and other Kansas City financiers invested $1,250,000 in the road after it was bought by the tentative company two years ago.

The note-holders, mostly British, protested the sale and reorganization.

REV. WILLIAMS ACCORDED NATIONAL SCOUT HONOR Rev. Luther G. H. Williams, rector of the Episcopal church here, has received a certificate showing he has completed more than ten years service in Boy Scout work from national headquarters. It was announced at district headquarters here yesterday.

GENEVA MEET

United States has raised the figure in cruiser tonnage but the question remains whether Great Britain, manifesting a similar conciliatory attitude, will demand a reduction in her tonnage, which amounts to something under 600,000 tons, and consent to the new maximum of Uncle Sam.

Americans Doubtful According to information in reliable sources, one delegate, no American, used the word "serious" at today's secret session in discussing the cruiser situation. Another significant development was an intimation emanating from American circles that the Americans are not inclined to demand a reduction in tonnage at Geneva merely on destruction and submarines. The United States are singularly weak in cruiser strength, because of numerous antiquated ships, a relatively strong fleet of destroyers and submarines. Hence, it is pointed out, if the accord is confined to the latter categories it would merely be detrimental to United States interests and leave wide open the question of a reduction in tonnage even that of battleships—the problem of swift, powerful cruisers, which themselves decide the supremacy of the seas.

Want Limit Set Apparently the Americans have no objection to Great Britain possessing as many as 75 cruisers, but want some definite understanding that the tonnage of a considerable number of these will be low enough to prevent the total British cruiser tonnage from exceeding 400,000 tons, at the very last limit. This new limit would permit Britain to build two new 10,000 ton cruisers, while adhering to the present distribution of cruiser tonnage.

An agreement has practically been reached by the experts concerning maximum tonnage for destroyers and submarines, and upon the rough figures for total tonnage. The submarine maximum individual tonnage has been fixed at 1,500 tons, but it is understood that this will not involve any scrapping of submarines over 2,000 tons which the United States is now building for overseas communication.

It is reported tonight that the Japanese are disconcerted over the presumed necessity of going upward in cruiser figures to satisfy Great Britain and the impression prevails that they will aid the Americans to keep the cruiser tonnage as low as possible in order to satisfy European public opinion and prevent bigger building programs.
